thers, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, from the piron furnace, saying, Obey my voyce, and doe according to all these things, which I commaund you: so shall ye be my people, and I will be your God,

5 That I may confirme the othe, that I have sworne vnto your fathers, to giue them a land, which flourisheth with milke and honny, as appeareth this day. Then answered ^b I and said, So be it, O Lord. Then the Lord saide vnto me, Crie all these words in the cities of Iudah, and in the streets of Ierusalem, saying, Heare ye the wordes of this covenant, and doe them,

7 For I haue protested vnto your fathers, when I brought them vp out of the land of Egypt vnto this day, c rising early and protesting, saying, Obey my voyce,

8 Neuertheless they would not obey, nor encline their eare: but eniey one walked in the stubbornnes of his wicked heart: therefore I will bring vpon them all the wordes of this covenant, which I commaunded them to doe, but they did it not.

9 And the Lord said vnto me, A conspiracy is found among the men of Iudah, and among the inhabitants of Ierusalem,

10 They are turned backe to the iniquities of their forefathers, which refused to heare my wordes: and they went after other gods to serue them: thus the house of Israel, and the house of Iudah haue broken my covenant, which I made with their fathers.

11 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will bring a plague vpon them, which they shall not be able to escape, and though they cry vnto me, & I will not heare them.

12 When shall the cities of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem goe, and cry vnto the gods vnto whom they offer incense, but they shall not be able to help them in time of their trouble.

13 For according to the number of thy cities were thy gods, O Iudah, and according to the number of the streets of Ierusalem haue ye set vp altars of confusion, euen altars to burne incense vnto Baal.

14 Therefore thou shalt not pray for this people, neither lift vp a cry, or prayer for them: for when they cry vnto me in their trouble, I will not heare them.

15 What should my beloved say in mine house, seeing they haue committed abomination with man, and the holy flesh goeth away from thee: yet when thou dost eate, thou reioycst.

16 The Lord called thy name, A Greene olive tree, faire, and of goodly fruit: but with much noise and great tumult he hath set fire vpon it, and the branches of it are broken.

17 For the Lord of hostes that planted thee, hath promised a plague against thee, (for the wickednesse of the house of Israel, and of the house of Iudah) which they haue done against themselves to ppoitoke me to anger in offering incense vnto Baal.

18 And the Lord hath taught me, and I knowe it, euen hath thou shewedst me their practises.

19 But I was like a lambe, or a bullocke, that is brought to the slaughter, and I knewe not that they had deuised thus against me, saying, Let vs destroy the tree with the fruite thereof, & cut him out of the lande of the liuing, that his name may be no more in memorie.

20 But O Lord of hostes, that iudgeth righteously, and triest the reines and the heart, let me see thy vengeance on them: for vnto thee haue I opened my cause.

21 The Lord therefore speaketh thus of the men of a Ninathoth, (that seeke thy life, and say, Prophecie not in the name of the Lord, that thou die not by our hands)

22 Thus therefore saith the Lord of hostes, Scholde, I will visite them: the pong men shall die by the sword: their womes and their daughters shall die by famine,

23 And none of them shall remaine: for I will bring a plague vpon the men of Ninathoth, euen the peere of their visitation.

2 Thou hast planted them, & they haue taken roote: they grow, and bring forth fruit: thou art neere in their mouth, and farre from their reines.

1 Thus saith the Lorde vnto mee, ^a Go, & buye thee a linen girdle, & put it vpon thy lynes, and put it not in water.

2 So I bought the girdle according to the commandement of the Lorde, and put it vpon my lynes.

3 And the word of the Lorde came vnto me the second time, saying,

4 Take the girdle that thou hast bought, which is vpon thy lynes, and arise, go toward ^b Perath, and hide it there in the cleft of the rocke.

5 So I went, and hid it by Perath, as the Lorde had commanded me.

6 And after many dayes, the Lorde said vnto me, Arise, go toward Perath, and take the girdle from thence, which I commanded thee to hide there.

7 Then went I to Perath, and digged, & tooke the girdle from the place where I had hid it, and behold, the girdle was corrupt, & was profitable for nothing.

8 Then the word of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

9 Thus saith the Lorde, After this maner wil I destroy the pride of Iudah, and the great pride of Ierusalem.

10 This wicked people haue refused to heare my words, & walke after the stubbornes of their owne heart, and walke after other gods to serue them, and to worship them: therefore they shall be as this girdle, which is profitable to nothing.

11 For as the girdle cleaueth to ^c the lynes of a man, so haue I tyed to me ^d the whole house of Israel, and the whole house of Iudah, saith the Lorde, that they might be my people: that they might haue a name and praise, and glorie, but they would not heare.

12 Therefore thou shalt say vnto them this word, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Cuery ^e bottel shall be filled with wine, & they shall say vnto thee, Doe we not know that euery bottel shall be filled with wine?

13 Then shalt thou say vnto them, Thus saith the Lorde, Behold, I will fill all the inhabitants of this land, euen ^f Kings that sit vpon the throne of Dauid, and the Priests & the Prophets, and all the inhabitants of Ierusalem with drunkennes.

- 7 The Lord, though our iniquities testifie against vs, deale with vs according to thy name: for our rebellions are many, we sinned against thee.
- 8 O the hope of Israel, the saviour thereof in the time of trouble, why art thou as a stranger in the lande, as one that passeth by to carie for a night?
- 9 Why art thou as a man astonied, and as a strong man that cannot helpe? yet thou, O Lord, art in the midst of vs, and thy name is called vpon vs: forsake vs not.
- 10 Thus saith the Lord vnto this people, Thus haue they delited to wader: they haue not retained their feete, therefore the Lord hath no delight in them: but he will now remember their iniquitie, and visit their finnes.
- 11 Then saide the Lord vnto me, Thou shalt not pray to do this people good.
- 12 When they fast, I will not heare their cry, and when they offer burnt offering, and an oblation, I will not accept them: but I will consume them by the sword, and by the famine & by the pestilence.
- 13 Then answered I, O Lord God, behold, the prophets say vnto them, We shall not see the sword, neither shall famine come vpon you, but I will giue you assured peace in this place.
- 14 Then the Lord said vnto me, The prophets prophesie lies in my name: I haue not sent them, neither did I command them, neither spake I vnto them, but they prophesie vnto you a false vision, and diuination, and banitie, and deceitfulness of their owne heart.

 c That is, should not rent their clothes in signe of mourning.
 d For in these great extremities all consolation and comfort shall be in vaine.
 e Because the wicked are alwayes rebellious & disobedient their owne finnes, and murmure against Gods iudgements as though he had no iust cause to punish them, he sheweth him what to answer.

1 The word of the Lord came also vnto mee, saying,
 2 Thou shalt not take thee a wife, nor haue sones nor daughters in this place.
 3 For thus saith the Lord concerning the sonnes, and concerning the daughters that are borne in this place, and concerning their mothers that beare the, and concerning their fathers, that beget them in this land.
 4 They shall dye of deathes and diseases: they shall not be lamented, neither shall they be buried, but they shall be as dogge vpon the earth, and they shall be consumed by the sword, and by famine, and their carcases shall bee meate for the foules of the heauen, and for the beasts of the earth.
 5 For thus saith the Lord, Enter not into the house of mourning, neyther go to lament, nor be moued for them: for I haue taken my peace from this people, saith the Lord, euen mercie and compassion.
 6 Both the great, and the small shall dye in this land: they shall not be buried, neither shall men lament for them, nor cut themselves, nor make themselves balde for them.
 7 They shall not stretch out the hands for them in the mourning to comfort them for the dead, neither shall they giue the the cuppe of consolation to drinke for their father or for their mother.
 8 Thou shalt not also goe into the house of feasting to sit with them to eate and to drinke.
 9 For thus saith the Lord of hosts, God of Israel, Beholde, I will cause to cease out of this place in your eyes, euen in your daies the voyce of mirth, and the voyce of gladnes, the voyce of the brides grome and the voyce of the bride.
 10 And when thou shalt shewe this people all these wordes, and they shall say vnto thee, * Wherefore hath the Lord pronounced at this great plague against vs? or what is our iniquitie? & what is our sinne that wee haue committed against the Lord our God?

 11 Then shalt thou say vnto the, Because your fathers haue forsaken mee, saith the Lord, and haue walked after other gods, and haue serued them, and whoshipped them, & haue forsaken mee, and haue not kept my law, 12 * And ye haue done worse then your fathers: for beholde, you walke euerie one after the stubbernesse of his wicked heart, and wil not heare me)
 13 Therefore wil I diuie you out of this land into a land that ye knowe not, neither you, nor your fathers, & there shall ye serue other gods day and night: for I wil shew you no grace.
 14 * Beholde therefore, saith the Lord, the dayes come that it shall no moie be said, The Lord lieth, which brought by the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt,
 15 But the Lord lieth, that brought by the children of Israel from the land of the North, & from all the landes where he had scattered them, and I wil bring the againe into their lande that I gaue vnto their fathers.
 16 Behold, saith the Lord, I will send out many fishers, and they shall fish them, & after, wil I sende out many hunters, and they shall hunt them from euery mountaine and from euery hill, and out of the caues of the rocks.
 17 For mine eyes are vpon all their wayes: they are not hid from my face, neither is their iniquitie hid from mine eyes.
 18 And first I will recompense their iniquitie and their sinne double, because they haue despised my land, & haue filled mine inheritance with their filthie caritions and their abominations.
 19 O Lord, thou art my force, and my strength & my refuge in the day of affliction: the Gentiles shall come vnto thee from the endes of the world, and they shall say, Surely our fathers haue inherited lyes, and vanitie, wherem there was no profite.
 20 What a man make gods vnto himself, and they are no gods?
 21 Behold, therefore I wil this once teach them: I wil shew them mine hand and my power, and they shall know that my name is the Lord.

1 The sinne of Iudah is written with a Remembrance of a diamond, and with the pointe of a penne of a diamond, and grauen vpon the table of their heart, and vpon the shall not passe, albeit for a time he deferre the punishment, for it cannot be manifested to men and Angels. b In steade of the Lawe of God, they haue written idolatrie & all abominations in their heart.

4 And thou shalt rest, and in thee shalt be a rest from toine heritage that I gaue thee, & I will cause thee to serue thine enemies in þe lande, which thou knowest not: for þe haue kindled a fire in mine anger, which shall burne foꝛ euer.

5 Thus saith the Lord, Cursed be the man that trusteth in man, and maketh flesh his arme, and withdialweth his heart from the Lord.

6 For he shall be like the heath in the wilderness, and shall not see when any good commeth, but shall inhabit the parched places in the wilderness, in a laite lande, and not inhabited.

7 Blessed be the man, that trusteth in the Lord, and whose hope the Lord is.

8 For he shall be as a tree that is planted by the water, which spreadeth out her rootes by the riuier, and shall not feel when the heat commeth, but her leafe shall be greene, and shall not care for the perie of drought, neither shall cease from peeling fruite.

9 The heart is deceitfull and wicked as boue al things, who can know it?

10 The Lord search the heartes, and trie the reines, euen to giue euery man according to his wayes, and according to the fruite of his workes.

11 As the partriche gathereth the yong, which she hath not brought forth: so he that getteth riches, & not by right, shall leaue them in the middes of his dayes, and at his ende shall be a foole.

12 As a glorious throne exalted from the beginning, so is the place of our Sanctuarie.

13 O Lord, the hope of Israel, all that forsake thee, shall be confounded: they that depart from thee, shall be written in the earth, because they haue forsaken the Loyde, the fountaine of liuing waters.

14 Speake me, O Lord, and I shall be whole: laue me, and I shall be saued: for thou art my people.

15 Scholde, they say vnto me, Where is the woide of the Loyde? let it come now.

16 But I haue not thurst in my self for a pallour after thee, neither haue I desired the day of mulerie, thou knowest: that which came out of my lippes, was right before thee.

17 Be not terrible vnto me: thou art mine hope in the day of aduersitie.

18 Let me be confounded, that persecute me, but let not me be confounded: let them be afraid, but let not me be afraid: being vpon them the day of aduersitie, and destrope them with double destruction.

19 Thus hath þe Loyde said vnto me, Go and stand in the gate of the children of the people, wherby the kings of Iudah come in, and by the which they go out, and in all the gates of Ierusalem.

20 And say vnto them, Heare the woide of the Lord, ye kings of Iudah, and all Iudah, and all the inhabitantes of Ierusalem, that enter in by these gates.

21 Thus saith the Loyde, Take heede to your soules, and beare no burde in the Sabbath daye, nor bring it in by the gates of Ierusalem.

22 Neither carry fourth burdens out of your houses in the Sabbath day: neither do ye any worke, but sanctifie the Sabbath, as I commaunded your fathers, 23 But they obeyed not, neither inclined their eares, but made their neckes stiffe and would not heare, nor receiue correction.

24 Nevertheless if ye will beare me, saith the Lord, and beare no burde through the gates of the city in þe Sabbath day, but sanctifie the Sabbath day, so that ye do no worke therein,

25 Then shall the kings and the princes enter in at the gates of this cite, & shall sit vpon the throne of David, and shall ride vpon charets, and vpon horses, both they and their princes, the men of Iudah, and the inhabitantes of Ierusalem, and this cite shall remaine for euer.

26 And they shall come from the cities of Iudah, & from about Ierusalem, and from the land of Beniamin, & from the plaine, and from the mountaines, and fro the South, which shall bring burnt offerings, and sacrifices, and meate of kinges, and incense, and hial bring sacrifices of people into the house of þe Lord.

27 But if ye wil not heare me to sanctify the Sabbath day, & not to beare a burde, nor to go through the gates of Ierusalem in the Sabbath day, then will I kindle a fire in the gates thereof, and it shall denoure the palaces of Ierusalem, and it shall not be quenched, b When ſcripture attributeth repentance vnto God, it is not ſ^h he doeth contrary to that which he hath ordinated in his ſecret counſell: but when he threateneth, it is a calling to repentance, and when he giueth man grace to repent, the threatening (which euer containeth a condition in it) taketh no place: & this the ſcripture calleth repentance in God, becauſe it ſo appeareth to mans iudgement.

3 Then I went downe into the potters houſe, and behold, he wrought a worke on the wheelies.

4 And the veſſell that he made of clay, was broken in the hande of the potter. ſo he returned, & made it another veſſell, as ſeemed good to the potter to make it.

5 Then the word of the Lord came vnto me, ſaying,

6 O houſe of Iſrael, can not I doe with you as this potter, ſaith the Lord? beſhold, as the clay is in the potters hand, ſo are you in mine hand, O houſe of Iſrael.

7 I will ſpeake ſuddenly againſt a nation againſt a kingdome to plucke it by, and to roote it out and to deſtroy it.

8 But if this nation, againſt whom I haue pronounced, turne fro their wickednes, I wil brepet of the plague that I thought to bring vpon them.

9 And I will ſpeake ſuddenly concerning anation, and concerning a kingdome to bulde it and to plant it.

10 But if it doe euill in my ſight & heare not my voyce, I wil repent of the good that I thought to do for them.

19 Hearken vnto me, O Lord, and heare the voyce of them that contend with me.

20 Shall euill be recompensd for good? for they haue digged a pit for my ſoule: remember that I ſtoode before thee, to ſpeake good for them, & to turne away thy wrath from them.

21 Therefore, I deliuer by their children to famine, and let them dyo away by the force of the ſworde, and let their wiues be robbed of their children, and be widowes: and let their huſbands be put to death, and let their yong men be ſlaine by the ſworde in the battell.

22 Let the crye be hearde from their houſes, when thou ſhalt bring an hoſte ſuddenly vpon them: for they haue digged a pit to take me, and hid ſnares for my ſecrete.

CHAP. XX.

1 Ieremiah is smitten & cast into prison for preaching the word of God. g He prophesieth the captiuitie of Babylon. 7 He complaineth that he is a mocking stocke for the words of God. 9 He is compelled by the spirit to preache the word.

1 When Dabhur, the soime of Am-mer, the Priest, which was appointed gouernour in the House of the Lorde, heard that Ieremiah prophesied these things,

2 Then Dabhur smote Ieremiah the Prophet, and put him in the stocks that were in the gate of Benjamin which was by the House of the Lorde.

3 And on the morning, Dabhur brought Ieremiah out of the stocks. Then said Ieremiah vnto him, The Lorde hath not called thy name Dabhur, but ^h Wagou-missabib.

4 For thus saith the Lorde, Behold, I will make thee to be a terrour to thy selfe, and to all thy friends, and thy shall fall by the sword of their enemies, & thine eyes shall beholde it, and I will give all Judah into the hand of the king of Babel, and he shall carpe them captiue into Babel, and shall haue them with the sword.

5 Whoeuer I will deliuer all the substance of this citie, and all the labours thereof, and all the precious things thereof, and all the treasures of the kinges of Judah will I give into the hands of their enemies, which shall spoyle them, and take them away and carpe them to Babel.

6 And thou Dabhur, and al that dwel in thine house, shall go into captiuitie, and thou shalt come to Babel, & there thou shalt die, and shalt be buried there, thou and all thy friends, to whome thou hast prophesied these.

7 O Lorde, thou hast deceyued me, and I am deceyued: thou art stronger then I, and hast prevailed: I am in derision daiely: euery one mocketh me.

8 For since I spake, I cried out of wisdome, and inuoclayned desolation: therefore the worde of the Lorde was made a reproch vnto me, and in derision daiely.

9 Then I said, I will not make mention of him, nor speake any more in his shame. But his word was in mine heart as a burning fire shut vp in my bones, and I was wearie with forbearing, and I could not stay.

10 For I had hearde the rapping of man-ny, and feare on euery side. I Declare, sayde they, and wer will declare it: all my familiars watched for myne halting, saying, It may be that he is deceyued: so we shall preuaile agaynst him, and we shall execute our vengeance vpon
him.

11 But the Lord is with me like a mighty giant: therefore my persecuters shall be ouerthrowen, & shall not preuaile, and shall be greatly confounded: for they haue done vnwisely, & their euerlasting shame shall neuer be forgotten.

12 * But, O Lorde of hostes, that tryest the righteous, and seekest the repnes and the heart, let mee see thy vengeance on them: for vnto thee haue I opened my caule.

13 Sing vnto the Lorde, praise ye the Lorde:

He prophesied that Zedekiah shall be taken, and the cite burned.

1 The word which came vnto Jeremia^h from the Lord, when king Zedekiah sent vnto him Pachur, & sonne of Balthaiar, and Zephaniah, the sonne of Balthaiar the Priest, saying,

2 Inquire, I pray thee, of the Lord for vs (for Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel maketh warre against vs) if so bee that the Lord will deale with vs according to all his wonderous works, that he may returne vs from vs.

3 Then said Jeremia^h, Thus shall you say to Zedekiah,

4 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Beholde, I will bringe backe the weapons of warre that are in your hands, wherewith ye fight agaynst the king of Babel, and agaynst the Caldeans, which besiege you without the walles, and I will assembe them into the mids of this cite.

5 And I my selfe will fight against you with an outstretched hand, and with a mighty arme, euen in anger & in wrath, and in great indignation.

6 And I will smite the inhabitants of this cite, both man, and beast: they shall dye of a great pestilence.

7 And after this, saith the Lord, I will deliuer Zedekiah the king of Iudah, & his seruantes, and the people, and such as are left in this cite, from pestilence, from the sword, and from the famine into the had of Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, and into the hande of their enemies, and into the hand of those that seeke their liues, and he shall smite them with the edge of the sword: he shall not spare them, neither haue pitie nor compassion.

8 I And vnto this people thou shalt say, Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I set before you the way of life, and the way of death.

9 ¶ He that abideth in this cite, shall dye by the sword and by the famine, and by the pestilence: but he that goeth out, and falleth to the Caldeans, that besiege you, he shall liue, and his life shall be vnto him for a pay.

10 For I haue set my face against this cite, for euill and not for good, saith the Lord: it shall be giuen into the hande of the king of Babel, and he shall burne it with fire.

11 And say vnto the house of the King of Iudah, Heare ye the word of the Lord.

12 O house of Dauid, thus saith the Lord, Execute iudgement in the morning, and deliuer the oppressed out of the hand of the oppressor, lest my wrath go out like fire and burne, that none can quench it, because of the wickednes of your workes.

13 Behold, I come against thee, & I shall be as the hallicke, and rocke of the stone, saith the Lord, which say, Who shall come downe agaynst vs? or who shall enter into our habitations?

14 But I will visite you according to the fruite of your workes, saith the Lord, & I will kinde a fire in the forest thereof, and it shall deuoure round about it.

CHAP. XXII.

He exhorteth the King to iudgement and righteousness. ¶ VVhich Ierusalem is brought into captivity. 11 The death of Shallum the sonne of Iosiah is prophesied.

1 Thus said the Lord, Go down to the house of the king of Iudah, and speake there this thing,

2 And say, Heare the worde of the Lord, O king of Iudah, that sittest vpon the throne of Dauid, thou and thy seruants, and thy people that enter in by these gates.

3 Thus saith the Lord, Execute iudgement and righteousness, and deliuer the oppressed from the hande of the oppressor, and bere not the stranger, the fatherlesse, nor the widow: doe no violence, nor head innocent blood in this place.

4 For if ye doe this thing, then shall the kings sitting vpon the throne of Dauid enter in by the gates of this house, and ride vpon chariots, & vpon horses, both he & his seruants and his people.

5 But if ye will not heare these wordes, I will sweare by my selfe, saith the Lord, that this house shall be waste.

6 For thus hath the Lord spoken vnto the kings house of Iudah, Thou art as a lead vnto me, and the head of Lebanon, yet surely I will make thee a wilderness, and as cities not inhabited.

7 And I will prepare destroyers against thee, euery one with his weapons, and they shall cut downe thy chief cedars, and cast them in the fire.

8 And many nations shall passe by this cite, and they shall slay euery man to his neighbour, Wherefore hath the Lord done thus vnto this great cite?

9 Then shall they answer, Because they haue forsaken the covenant of the Lord their God, and worshipped other gods and serued them.

10 Weepe not for the dead, and be not moued for the, but weepe for him that goeth out: for he shall returne no more, nor for his native countrey.

11 For thus saith the Lord, As touching Shallum the sonne of Iosiah king so to passe, Deut. 32. 24. 1 kin. 9. 8. g Signifying that they should lose their King: for Ichoiachim went forth to meete Nebuchad-nezzar & velded himself & was carried into Babilon, 2 Kin. 24. 12. h Whome some thinke to be Ichoiachim & that Iosiah was his grandfather: but as seemeth, this was Ichoiachim, as vers. 18.

g Meaning Ierusalem, which was builded part on the hill & part in the valley, and was compassed about with mountaines. h That is, in the houses thereof, which stood as thicke as trees in the forest.

Chap. 17. 19. a This was his ordinarie maner of preaching before the Kings fro Iosiah vnto Zedekiah, which was about fortie yeres.

b Shewing that there is none greater hee is, Heb. 6. 13. & that he will most certainly performe his othe. c He compareth Ierusalem to Gilead, which was beyond Iordan, & the beautie of Iudea to Lebanon. d The Ebrewe word significth to sanctifie, because the Lord doth dedicate to his vse and purpose such as he prepareth to execute his worke, Isa. 13. chap. 6. 4 & 12. 3.

of Judah, which reigned for Josiah his father, which went out of this place, he shall not returne thither, 12 But he shall die in the place, whither they haue led him captiue, and shall see this land no more.

i By bribes and extortion.
k Meaning, Josiah, who was not given to ambition and superfluous, but was content with mediocrity, and did onely delight in setting forth Gods glory and to do iustice to all.

13 ¶ I Doe vnto him that buildeth his house by vnrighteousnes, & his chambers without equitie: hee buildeth his neighbour without wages and giueth him rest for his worke.
14 He saith, I will build me a wide house and large chambers: so he will make himselfe large windowes, and sitting with cedar & paint the with veruiclen.
15 Shalt thou reigne, because thou closeth thy selfe in cedar? did not thy father eat and drinke and prosper, when hee created iudgement and iustice?
16 When hee iudged the cause of the afflicted and the poore, he prospered: was not this because he knew me, saith the Lord?

17 But thine eyes & thine heart are but onely for thy couetousnes, and for to shed innocent blood, and for oppression, and for destruction, euen to do this.
18 Therefore thus saith the Lord against Jehoiakim, the sonne of Josiah king of Judah, They shall not lament him, saying, Ah, my brother, or ah, sister: neither shall they mourne for him, saying, Ah, lord, or ah, his glorie.

19 Hee shall be buried as an asse is buried, euen in ierusalem and cast forth without the gates of Ierusalem.
20 ¶ Go vp to Lebanon, & crye: shoute in Babylon and crye by the passages: for all thy towers are destroyed.

21 I spake vnto thee when thou wast in prosperitie: but thou saidst, I will not heare: this hath bene thy manner from thy youth, that thou wouldest not obey my worde.
22 The winde shall feede all thy pastors, & and thy louers shall go into captiuitie: and then shalt thou be ashamed and confounded of all thy wickednes.

23 Thou that dwellest in Lebanon, and makest thy nest in the cedars, howe beautifull shalt thou be when sorowes come vpon thee, as the sorow of a woman in trauaile?
24 As I liue, saith the Lord, though I would haue the sonne of Jehoiakim king of Judah, were the signet of my right hand, yet would I plucke thee thence.

25 And I will giue thee into the hand of them that seeke thy life, and into the hand of them, whose face thou fearest, euen into the hande of Nebuchad-nessar king of Babel, and into the hande of the Caldeans.

26 And I will cause them to carie thee away, & thy mother that bare thee, into another countrey, where ye were not borne, and there shall ye dye.

27 But to the lande, wherewith they desire to returne, they shall not returne thither.

28 Is not this man Coniah as a despised and broken idole: or as a vessell, wherem is no pleasure? wherefore are they caried away, he and his seede, and cast out into a lande that they knowe not?
29 O earth, earth, earth, heare the word of the Lord.

30 ¶ Thus saith the Lord, Write this man destitute of children, a man that shall not prosper in his dayes: for there shall be no man of his seede that shall prosper and sit vpon the throne of Dauid, or beare rule any more in Judah.

CHAP. XXII.

Against false pastors. A Prophecie of the great Pastor Iesus Christ.

1 W I Doe vnto the pastors that destroy and scatter the sheepe of my pasture, saith the Lord.
2 Therefore thus saith the Lord God of Israel vnto the pastors that feede my people, Ye haue scattered my flocke & thrust them out, and haue not visited them: beholde, I will visite you for the wickednes of your workes, saith the Lord.

3 And I will gather the remnant of my sheepe out of all countreys, whither I had driuen them, and will bring them againe to their foldes, and they shall growe and increase.
4 And I will set by shepherdes ouer them, which shall feede them: and they shall dead no more nor be afraid, neither shall anye of them be lacking, saith the Lord.

5 Beholde, The dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will raise vnto Dauid a righteous e branch, and a King shall reigne, and prosper, and shall execute iudgement, and iustice in the earth.

6 In his dayes Iudah shall be saured, and Israel shall dwell safely, and this is the name wherby they shall call him, * The Lord our righteousnes.

7 Therefore beholde, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that they shall no more say, The Lord liueth, which brought vs by the childre of Israel out of the land of Egypt,

8 Wher the Lord liueth, which brought vs and led the feede of the house of Israel out of the South countrey and from all countreys where I had scattered them, and they shall dwell in their owne land,

9 Your heart breaketh within me, because of the e Prophets, all my bones shake: I am like a drunken man, & like a man whome wine hath ouercome: for the presence of the Lord and for his holy wordes.

the people: wherein appeareth his great louetion, reade chap. 14. 13.

f He sheweth that al posteritie shall be witnesses of this iust plague as though i were registred for perpetuall memorie.
r Not that he had no children (for after he begate Salathiel in the captiuitie, Mat. 1. 12.) but that none should reigne after him as King.

a Meaning, the princes, gouernours and false prophets, as Ezek. 34. 2.
b For the which I haue especiall care & haue prepared good pastures for them, c Whose charge is to feede the flocke, but they eate the fruit thereof, Ezek. 34. 3.

d Thus the Prophets euer vie to mixe y promises with the threatenings, lest the godly should be to much beaten downe, & therefore he sheweth howe God will gather his church after this dispersion.

e This prophecie is of the reuincution of y Church in the time of Iesus Christ, who is y true branch, reade Isa. 11. 1. & 45. 8. chap. 33. 15. dan. 9. 24. Dent. 33. 28. Chap. 33. 26. f Read. Chap. 16. 14.

g Meaning, the false prophets which deceiue towards his nation, reade chap. 14. 13.

h They runned long to wickedness, and seeke vaine helpe.

i Or, are hypocrites. i My Temple is full of their idolatrie and superstitions.

k They which should haue profited by my rods against Samaria, are become worse then they. l Though to the world they seeme holy fathers, yet I detest them as I did these abominable crimes. m Read Chap. 8. 14. n Which they haue inuented of their owne braine.

o Reade Chap. 6. 14. & 8. 11. p Thus they did deride Ieremiah as though the worde of God were not reueiled vnto him: so also spake Zidkiah to Michah, 1. King. 22. 24.

q Both that God hath sent me, & that my words shall be true.

r He sheweth difference betwene the true Prophets & the false, betwene the hiring and the true minister.

s Do not I see your falsehode, howe euer you cloake it, and wheresoer you commit it

- 10 For the land is full of adulterers, and because of othes the land mourneth, the pleasant places of the wilderness are dried vp, and their course is euill, and their force is not right.
- 11 For both the prophet and the Priest do wickedly: and their wickednesse haue I founde in mine. Youle, sayth the Lord.
- 12 Wherefore their way shall be vnto them as slippery wayes in the darknes: they shall be diuen forth and fall there in: for I will bring a plague vpon the, euen the peere of their vilitation, sayth the Lord.
- 13 And I haue seene foolishnes in the prophetes of Samaria, that prophesied in Baal and caused my people Israel to erre.
- 14 I haue seene also in the prophetes of Ierusalem filthynes: they commit adulterie and walke in lies: they strengthen also the handes of the wicked that none can returne from his wickednes: they are all vnto me as Sodom, and the inhabitants thereof as Gomorah.
- 15 Therefore thus sayth the Lord of hostes concerning the prophetes, Behoide, I will fede them with wormewood, & make them drinke the water of gall: for from the prophetes of Ierusalem is wickednesse gone forth into all the land.
- 16 Thus sayth the Lord of hostes, Heare not the wordes of the prophetes that prophesie vnto you, and teache you vanitie: they speake the vision of their owne heart, and not out of the mouth of the Lord.
- 17 They lay still vnto them that despise me, The Lord hath said, Ye shall haue peace: & they laye vnto euery one that walketh after d thubbernes of his own heart, No euill shall come vpon you.
- 18 For who hath stand in the counsel of the Lord that he hath percepued and heard his worde? Who hath marked his word and heard it?
- 19 Behoide, the tempest of the Lord goeth forth in his wrath, & a violent whirlewinde shall fall downe vpon the head of the wicked.
- 20 The anger of the Lord shall not returne vntill he haue executed, and till he haue performed the thoughts of his heart: in the latter dayes ye shall vnderstand it plainly.
- 21 I haue not sent these prophets, sayth the Lord, yet they ran: I haue not vsoken to them, and yet they prophesied.
- 22 But if they had stand in my counsell, and had declared my wordes to my people, then they should haue turned them from their euill way, and fro the wickednes of their intentions.
- 23 Min I a God at hande, sayth the Lord, and not a God farre of?
- 24 Can any hide himself in secret places, that I shal not see him, sayth the Lord? Do not I fill heauen and earth, sayth the Lord?

- 25 I haue heard what the prophets said, that prophesie lies in my name, sayth the Lord, I haue dreamed, I haue dreamed.
- 26 How long? Do the prophets delite to prophesie lies, euil prophesying the decree of their owne heart?
- 27 Think they to cause my people to forget my name by their dreames, which they tel euery man to his neighbour, as their forefathers haue forgotten my name for Baal?
- 28 The prophet that hath a dreame, let him tell a dreame, and hee that hath my word, let him speak my word faithfully: what is the chaffe to the wheat, sayth the Lord?
- 29 Is not my word euen like a fire, sayth the Lord? and like an hammer, y breaketh the stone?
- 30 Therefore behoide, I will come against the prophetes, sayth the Lord, that shall steale my worde euery one from his neighbour.
- 31 Behoide, I will come against the prophetes, sayth the Lord, which haue sweet tongues, and say, We sayth.
- 32 Behoide, I will come against them that prophesie false dreames, sayth the Lord, and do tel them, & cause my people to erre by their lies, & by their flatteries, and I sent them not, nor commanded them: therefore they bring no profite vnto this people, sayth the Lord.
- 33 And when this people, or the prophet, or a Priest shall aske thee, saying, What is the burden of the Lord? thou shalt then say vnto them, What burden? I will euen forsake you, sayth the Lord.
- 34 And the prophet, or the Priest, or the people that shall say, The burden of the Lord, I will euen visite euery such one, and his house.
- 35 Thus shall ye laye euery one to his neighbour, and euery one to his brother, What hath the Lord answered? and what hath the Lord spoken?
- 36 And the burden of the Lord shall ye mention no more: for euerye mans word shall be his burden: for ye haue peruerted the words of the liuing God, the Lord of hostes our God.
- 37 Thus shalt thou say to the Prophet, What hath the Lord answered thee? & what hath the Lord spoken?
- 38 And if you saye, The burden of the Lord, then thus sayth the Lord, Because ye say this worde, The burden of the Lord, & I haue sent vnto you, saying, Ye shal not say, The burden of the Lord.
- 39 Therefore behoide, I euen I will utterly forget you, & I will forsake you, and the cite that I gaue you and your fathers, and cast you out of my presence, and I will cause this word Burden to cease, and teache them to aske with reuerence, What saith the Lord? The thing which they mocke and contemne, shall come vpon them. Or take you away.

t I haue reueiled vnto me, as Nom. 12. 6.
 u He sheweth Satan raiseth vp false prophetes to bring the people from God.
 x Let the false prophet declare that it is his own fantastic, and not slander my word as though it were a cloke to couer his lies.
 y Meaning, that it is not sufficient for Gods ministers to abstaine from lies, and to speake the word of God: but that there be iudgement in alleging it, and that it may appere to be applied to the same purpose that it was spoken, Ezech. 3. 17. 1. cor. 2. 13. & 4. 2. 2. tim. 2. 15. 1. pet. 4. 10, 11.
 z Which see forthin my name y which I haue not commanded.
 a Toward, the Lord,
 b The Prophets called their threatenings Gods burden, which sinners were not able to susteine: therefore the wicked in deriding the word, would aske of the Prophets, what was the burden, as though they would say, You seeke nothing els, but to lay burdens on our shoulders: and thus they reiect the word of God, as a grieuous burden.
 c Because this word was brought to contempt and derision, he will teach the another maner of speech, and will cause this word Burden to cease, and teache them to aske with reuerence, What saith the Lord?
 d The thing which they mocke and contemne, shall come vpon them.

40 And will bring * an euertlasting reproche vpon you, and a perpetuall shame which shall neuer be forgotten.

CHAP. XXIIII

The vision of the baskets of figges is Signified that part of the people should be brought againe from captiuitie, & And that Zedekiah and the rest of the people should be carried away.

The Lord shewed me, and beholde, two baskets of figges were set before the Temple of the Lord, after that Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel had caried away captiue Ieremias the sonne of Jehoiakim king of Iudah, and the princes of Iudah with the workemen, and cunning men of Ierusalem, and had brought them to Babel.

2 One basket had verie good figges, even like the figges that are first ripe: and the other basket had verie naughtie figges, which could not be eaten, they were so euill.

3 Then said the Lord vnto me, What see'st thou, Jeremias? And I said, Figge: the good figges be verie good, and þe naughtie verie naughtie, which cannot be eaten, they are so euill.

4 Againe the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

5 Thus saith the Lord, the God of Israel, like these good figges, so will I knowe them that are caried away captiue of Iudah to be good, whom I haue sent out of this place, into the lande of the Caldeans.

6 For I will set mine eyes vpon them for good, and I will bring them againe to this lande, and I will builde them, and not destroy them, and I will plant them, and not rote them out,

7 And I will giue them an heart to knowe me, that I am the Lord, & they shall be my people, and I will be their God: for they shall returne vnto me with their whole heart.

8 And as the naughtie figges which cannot be eaten, they are so euill (surely thus saith the Lord) so will I giue Zedekiah the king of Iudah, and his priuies, and the residue of Ierusalem, that remaine in this lande, and them that dwell in the land of Egypt:

9 I will euen giue them for a terrible plague to all the kingdomes of þe earth, and for a reproche, and for a prouerbe, for a common talke, and for a curse, in all places, where I shall cast them.

10 And I will send the sword, the famine, and the pestilence among them, till they be consumed out of the lande, that I gaue vnto them and to their fathers.

CHAP. XXV.

He prophesieth that they shall be captiue in seuentie yeeres, & And that after the seuentie yeeres the Babylonians should be destroyed. & The destruction of all nations is prophesied.

The worde that came to Jeremias, concerning al the people of Iudah, in the fourth yeere of Jehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah king of Iudah that was in the first yeere of Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel:

2 The which Jeremias the Prophet spake vnto all the people of Iudah, and to all the inhabitants of Ierusalem, saying,

3 From the thirteenth yeere of Iosiah the sonne of Amnon king of Iudah, euen vnto this day (that is the thir and twentieth yeere) the word of the Lord hath come vnto me, and I haue spoken vnto you rising early and speaking, but ye would not heare.

4 And the Lord hath sent vnto you all his seruants the Prophets, rising early and sending them, but ye would not heare, nor encline your eares to obey.

5 They said, Turne againe nowe euery one from his euill way, and from the wickednesse of your inventions, and ye shall dwell in the lande that the Lord hath giuen vnto you, and to your fathers for euer and euer.

6 And godd noe after other gods to serue them and to worship them, and prouoke me not to anger with the workes of your handes, and I will not punish you.

7 Nevertheless ye would not heare me, saith the Lord, but haue prouoked me to anger with the workes of your handes to your owne hurt.

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, Because ye haue not heard my wordes,

9 Beholde, I will send and take to me all the families of the North, saith the Lord, and Nebuchad-nezzar the king of Babel my seruant, and will bring them against this land, and against the inhabitants thereof, and against all these nations round about, and will destroy them, and make them an astonishment and an hissing, and a continual desolation.

10 Whoeuer I will take from them the voyce of mirth and the voyce of gladnes, the voyce of the hydegrome and the voyce of the biide, the noyse of the milstones, and the light of the candle.

11 And this whole lande shall be desolate, and an astonishment, and these nations shall serue the king of Babel seuentie yeeres.

12 And when the seuentie yeeres are accomplished, I will visite the king of Babel and that nation, saith the Lord, for their iniquities, euen the land of the third yeere accomplished, and in the beginning of the fourth: for though Nebuchad-nezzar began to reigne in the end of the third yeere of Ichoiakims reigne, yet that yeere is not here counted, because it was almost expired, Dan. 1. 1. Which was the fifth yeere and the ninth moneth of Ichoiakims reigne.

c That is, I haue spared no diligence or labour, Chap. 7. 13.

d He sheweth the Prophets wholly with one consent did labour to pull the people fro those vices, which then reigned: to wit, from idolatrie, and the vaine confidences of men: for vnder these two all other were contained, 2. King. 17. 13. chap. 18. 12 and 35. 15 Ionah 3. 8.

e The Caldeans, and all their power.

f So the wicked and Satan him selfe are Gods seruants, because he maketh them to serue him by constraint, and turneth that which they do of malice, into his honour and glorie.

g As the Philistines, Ammonites, Egyptians and others,

Chap. 16. 9. Or, destroy. h Meaning, that bread and all things that should serue vnto their feastes, should be taken away.

i This reuelation was for the confirmation of his prophetic, because he tolde them of the time, that they should enter and remaine in captiuitie, 2. Chro. 36. 22. 2. ra. 1. 1. chro. 29. 10. dan. 9. 2.

k For seeing the judgement began at his owne house, the enemies must needs be punished most grieuously, Eze. 9. 6. 1. pet. 4. 17. Caldeans, a The good figges signified them that were gone into captiuitie, and so saved their life, as Chap. 21. 8. and the naughtie figges them that remained, which were yet subiect to the sword, famine and pestilence.

b Whereby he approacheth the yielding of Ieremias, and his companie, because they obeyed the Prophet, who exhorted them thereunto. c Which declareth that man of him selfe can know nothing, till God giue the heart and vnderstanding. Chap. 21. 30. hebr. 1. 10. Chap. 29. 17. d Which fled thither for succour.

Caldeans, and will make it a perpetu
all desolation,

13 And I will bring upon that lande all my wordes which I haue pronounced against it, enen all that is written in this booke, which Iereiah hath prophesied ag. mit all nations.

14 For many nations, and great Kinges shall euen¹ Ierne thein selues of thein:
thus will I recompense them according to their deedes, and according to to the wordes of their owne handes.

15 For thus hath the Lord God of Israel spoken vnto me, ¹⁰ Take the cup of wine of this mine indignat on at mine hand, & carie all the nations, to whom I send thee, to drinke it.

16 And they shall drinke, and be moued and be in id, because of the sword, that I will send among them.

17 Then tooke I the cup at the Lordes hand, and made all people to drinke, vnto whom the Lord had sent me:

18 Euen Ierusalem, and the cities of Judah, and the Kinges thereof, and the princes thereof, to make them desolate, an astonishment, an hissing, and a curse,
¹¹ as appeareth this day.

19 Pharaoh also, King of Egypt, and his seruants, and his princes, and all his people:

20 And all sortes of people, and all the Kinges of the land ^o of Wz: and all the Kinges of the lande of the Philistines, and P Ashkelon, and Gaza, and Ekron, and the remnant of Ashdod:

21 ⁹ Edom, and Moab, and the Ammo-nites,

22 And all the kings of Cyprus, and all the kings of Sidon, & the kings of the ¹ Ples, that are beyond the Sea,

23 And Dedan, and Tema, and Buz, and all that dwell in the vtermost counters,

24 And all the Kinges of Arabia, and all the Kinges of Arabia, that dwell in the ¹ desert,

25 And all the kings of Zimri, and all the kings of¹ Elam, and all the kings of the Medes.

26 And all the kings of the North, farre and nere one to another, and all the kingdomes of the world, which are vpon the earth, and the king of Sushach
th shall drinke after them.

27 Therefore say thou vnto them, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Drinke and be drunken, and speeue and fall, and rise no more, because of the sword, which I will send among you.

28 ¹² But if they refuse to take the cyppe at thine hand to drinke, then tell them, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Ye shall cert. meelp drinke.

29 For loe, ^x I begin to plague the citie, where my Name is called vpon, and should you goe free? Ye shall not goe quite: for I will call for a sword vpon all the inhabitants of the earth, saith the Lord of hostes,

Therefore prophetic thou against them all the wordes, and say vnto them, * The Lord shall roare from a boone, and thrust out his voice from his holie habitation: he shall roare vpon his habitation, and crye aloud, as they that presse the grapes, against all the inhabitants of the earth.

31 The sounde shall come to the endes of the earth: for the Lord hath a controu-to walke in my Lawes, which I haue set befor you,

5 And to heare the wordes of my seruants the Prophets, whom I sent vnto you, both rising by early, and sending them, and will not obey them,

6 The wil I make this Houle like ^dShiloh, and will make this cite a curie to all the nations of the earth.

7 So the Priests, and the prophets, and all the people heard Jeremiah speaking these wordes in the Houle of the Lord.

8 Now when Jeremiah had made an ende of speaking all that the Lorde had commanded him to speake vnto all the people, then the Priests, and the prophets, and all the people took him, and said, Thou shalt die the death.

9 Why hast thou prophesied in the Name of the Lorde, saying, This Houle shall be like Shiloh, & this cite shall be desolate without an inhabitant? and all the people were gathered against Jeremiah in the Houle of the Lord.

10 And when the princes of Judah heard of these things, they came by from the kings house into the Houle of the Lord, and late downe in the e of the new gate of the Lords House.

11 Then spake the Priests, and the prophets vnto the princes, & to all the people, saying, This man is worthy to die: for he hath prophesied against this cite, as ye haue heard with your eares.

12 Then spake Jeremiah vnto all the princes, and to all the people, saying, The Lorde hath sent mee to prophesie against this Houle and against this cite all the things that ye haue heard.

13 Therefore nowe attende your waupes and your woikes, and heare the voyce of the Lorde your God, that the Lorde may repent him of the plague, that he hath pronounced against you.

14 As for me, behold, I am in your hands: do with me as ye thinke good & right.

15 But knowe ye for certaine, that if ye put me to death, ye shall surely bring innocent blood vpon your selues, & vpon this cite, and vpon the inhabitants thereof: for of a truth the Lorde hath sent mee vnto you, to speake all these wordes in your eares.

16 Then said the princes and all the people vnto the Priests, & to the prophets, This man is not worthy to dye: for he hath spoken vnto vs in the Name of the Lord our God.

17 Then rose by certain of the Elders of the lande, and spake to all the assemblie of the people, saying,

18 Michah the Bethlehemite prophesied in the dayes of Iezekiah King of Judah, and spake to all the people of Judah, saying, Thus saith the Lorde of hostes, Zion shall be plowed like a field, and Jerusalem shall be an heay, and the mountaine of the Houle shall be the high places of the forest.

19 Did Iezekiah King of Judah, and all

Judah put him to death? did he not feare the Lorde, and prayed befor the Lorde, and the Lorde repented him of the plague, that he had pronounced against them? thus might we procure great euil against our selues.

20 And there was also a man that prophesied in the Name of the Lorde, one Uriah the sonne of Shemaiah, of Bethriah-areim, who prophesied against this cite, and against this land, according to all the wordes of Jeremiah.

21 Now when Jehoiaquin the King with all his men of power, and all the princes heard his wordes, the King sought to slay him. But when Uriah heard it, he was afrade, & fled, & went into Egypt.

22 Then Jehoiaquin the King sent men into Egypt, euen Shaphan the sonne of Achob, and certaine with him into Egypt.

23 And they fet Uriah out of Egypt, & brought him vnto Jehoiaquin the King, who slew him with the sword, & cast his dead bodie into the graues of the children of the people.

24 But the hande of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan was with Jeremiah that they should not giue him into the hand of the people to put him to death.

CHAP. XXVII.

Jeremiah at the commandment of the Lord sendeth bonds to the King of Iudah, and to the other kings that were neere, whereby they are admonished to be swiethes vnto Nebuchad-nezzar. p He warneth the people and the kings and rulers that they beleeue not false prophets.

1 In the beginning of the reigne of Jehoiaquin the sonne of Josiah King of Judah came this word vnto Jeremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord to me, Make thee bondes, and pokes, and put them vpon thy necke,

3 And send them to the King of Edom, and to the King of Moab, and to the King of the Ammonites, and to the King of Tyrus, and to the King of Zidon, by the hande of the messengers which come to Jerusalem vnto Zedekiah the King of Judah,

4 And command them to say vnto their masters, Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Thus shall ye say vnto your masters,

5 I haue made the earth, the man, & the beast that are vpon the ground, by my great power, and by my outstretched arme, and haue giuen it vnto whom it pleased me.

6 But now I haue giuen all these lands into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar the king. So that when they were not destroyed, but by miracle was deliuered out of the hands of Sancherib.

1 Here is declared the furie of tyrants, who cannot abide to heare Gods word declared, but persecute the ministers thereof, and yet in the end they preuaile nothing, but prooue Gods iudgements so much the more.

m As in the first Hezekiahs example is to be followed, so in this other Jehoiaquims act is to be abhorred: for Gods plague did light on him, and his household. n Which declareth that nothing could haue appeased their furie, if God had not moued this noble man to stand valiantly in his defence.

a As touching the disposition of these prophesies, they that gathered them into a booke, did not altogether obserue the order of times, but did set some afores, which should be after, & contrariwise: which if the reader make wel, it shall auoid many doubts and make y reading much more ealie b By such signes the Prophets vsed sometimes to confirme their prophesies, which not withstanding they could not do of themselves, but 9 Therefore heare not your prophets noz your soothsayers, noz your dreamers, noz your enchanters, noz your soycers, which say vnto you thus, We shal not serue the king of Babel.

10 For they prophesie a lie vnto you to cause you to go farre from your lande, and that I should cast you out, and you should perish.

11 But the nation that put their neckes vnder the yoke of the king of Babel, and serue him, those will I let remaine still in their owne land, saith the Lorde, and they shall occupie it, and dwell therein.

12 ¶ I spake also to Zedekiah king of Iudah according to all these wordes, saying, Put your neckes vnder the yoke of the king of Babel, and serue him and his people, that ye may liue.

13 Why will ye be vpe, thou, and thy people by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, as the Lorde hath spoken against the nation, that will not serue the king of Babel?

14 Therefore heare not the wordes of the prophets, that speake vnto you, saying, We shal not serue the king of Babel: for they prophesie a lie vnto you.

15 For I haue not sent them, saith the Lorde, yet they prophesie a lie in my name, that I might cast you out, & that ye might perish, both you, and the prophets that prophesie vnto you.

16 ¶ Also I spake to the Priests, and to all this people, saying, Thus saith the Lorde, Heare not the wordes of your prophets, that prophesie vnto you, saying, Behold, the vessels of the House of the Lorde shall nowe shortly be brought againe from Babel, for they prophesie a lie vnto you.

17 Heare them not, but serue the king of Babel, that ye may liue: wherefore should this cite be desolate?

18 But if they be Prophets, and if the wordes of the Lorde be with them, let them intreate the Lorde of hostes, that the vessels, which are left in the House of the Lorde, and in the house of the king of Iudah, and at Ierusalem, goe not to Babel.

19 For thus saith the Lorde of hostes, concerning the * pillars, and concerning the sea, and concerning the bases, and concerning the residue of the vessels that remaine in this cite,

20 Which Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel tooke not, when he carped * as wap captiue Iecooniah the sonne of Iehoiakim king of Iudah from Ierusalem to Babel, with al the nobles of Iudah and Ierusalem.

21 For thus saith the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, concerning the vessels that remaine in the House of the Lorde, and in the house of the king of Iudah, and at Ierusalem, 22 They shalbe brought to Babel, and there they shalbe vntill the daye that I visite them, saith the Lorde: then will I bring them by, and restore them vnto this place.

1 The false prophesie of Hananiah. 22 Ieremiah reproveth Hananiah, and prophesieth.

A ND that same yere in the begining of the 2 reigne of Zedekiah king of Iudah in the fourth yere, and in the fifth moneth Hananiah the sonne of Hur the prophet, which was of Gibeon, spake to me in the House of the Lorde in the presence of the Priests, and of all the people, and said,

3 Within two yeres space I will bring into this place all þ vessels of the Lords House, that Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel tooke away from this place, and caried them into Babel.

4 And I will bring againe to this place Iecooniah the sonne of Iehoiakim king of Iudah, with all them that were caried away captiue of Iudah, and went into Babel, saith the Lorde: for I will breake the yoke of the king of Babel.

5 Then the Prophet Ieremiah said vnto the 4 prophet Hananiah in the presence of all the Priests, and in the presence of all the people that stood in the House of the Lorde.

6 Euen the Prophet Ieremiah said, So be it: the Lorde so do, the Lorde confirme thy wordes which thou hast prophesied to restore the vessels of the Lords House, and all that is caried captiue from Babel into this place.

4 Thus hath the Lord of hostes the God of Israel spoken vnto all that are caried away captiues, whom I^d have caused to be caried away captiues from Ierusalem vnto Babel:

5 Would you houses to dwell in, and plant you gardens, and eate the fruites of them.

6 Take you wives, and beget sonnes, and daughters, & take wives for your sonnes, and giue your daughters to husbonds, that they may beate ionics and daughters, that ye may be increased there, and not diminished.

7 And seeke the prosperitie of the citie, whether I haue caused you to be caried away captiues, and pray vnto the Lord for it: for in the peace thereof shall you haue peace.

8 ¶ For thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Let not your prophets, and your soothsayers that be among you, deceiue you, neither giue eare to your dreames, which you dreame.

9 For they prophete vnto a lie in my Name: I haue not sent them, saith the Lord.

10 But thus saith the Lord, That after seuentie yeres be accomplished at Babel, I will visite you, and performe my good promes towards you, and cause you to returne to this place.

11 For I knowe the thoughts, that I haue thought towards you, sayth the Lord, euen the thoughts of peace, and not of trouble, to giue you an ende, and your hope.

22 And all they of the captiuitie of Iudah, that are in Babel, shall take vp this curse against them, and sape, The Lord make thee like Zedekiah and like Nhab, whom the king of Babel burnt in the fire.

23 Because they haue committed a vile- nie in Israel, and haue committed ad- ulterie with their neighbours wives, and haue spoken lying wordes in my name, which I haue not commaunded them, euen I knowe it, and testifie it, saith the Lord.

24 ¶ Thou shalt also speake to SHEMAIAH the Shelamite, saying,

25 Thus speaketh the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, saying, Because thou hast sent letters in thy name vnto all the people, that are at Ierusalem, and to Zephaniah the sonne of Maasiah the Priest, and to all the Priests, say- ing, 26 The Lord hath made thee Priest, for Jehoiada the Priest, that ye shoulde be officers in the House of the Lord, for euery man that raueth and maketh himselfe a Prophet, to put him in pris- ion and in the stocks.

27 Now therefore why hast not thou re- poyued Jeremiah of Anathoth, which prophecieth vnto you?

28 For, for this cause he sent vnto vs in Babel, saying, This captiuitie is long: build houses to dwell in, and plant gar- dens, and eate the fruites of them.

29 And Zephaniah the Priest read this letter in his eares of Jeremiah the Pro- phet.

30 Then came the word of the Lord vnto Jeremiah, saying,

31 Send to all them of the captiuitie, say- ing, Thus saith the Lord of SHEMAIAH the Shelamite, Because that SHEMAIAH hath prophecied vnto you, and I sent him not, and he caused you to trust in a lye, 32 Therefore thus saith the Lorde, Beholde, I will visite SHEMAIAH the Shelamite, and his seede: he shall not haue a man to dwell among this peo- ple, neither shall he beholde the good, that I will doe for my people, saith the Lord, because he hath spoken rebelliously against the Lord.

2 Thus speaketh the Lorde God of Israel, saying, Write thee all the wordes, that I haue spoken vnto thee, in a booke.

3 For loe, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will bring againe the captiuitie of my people Israel and Iudah, saith the Lorde: for I will restore them vnto the lande, that I gaue to their fathers, and they shall possesse it.

4 Againe, these are the wordes that the Lord spake concerning Israel, and concern- ing Iudah.

5 For thus saith the Lord, We haue heard a terrible voyce, of feare and not of peace.

6 Demaund nowe and beholde, if man trauaile with childen: wherefore doe I beholde euery man with his hands on his lonies as a woman in trauaile, and all faces are turned into a palenesse?

7 Alas, for this day is great: none hath bene like it: it is euen the time of Iakob- kobs trouble, yet shall he be deliuered from it.

8 For in that day, saith the Lorde of hostes, I will breake his pole from of thy necke, and breake thy bondes, and strangers shall no more serue them- selues of him.

9 But they shall serue the Lorde their God, and S DAVID their King, whom I will raise vp vnto them.

10 Therefore feare not, O my seruant Iakob, saith the Lorde, neither be as- fraide, O Israel: for loe, I will deliuer thee from a faire countrey, and thy seede from the lande of their captiuitie, and Iakob shall turne againe, and shall be in rest and prosperitie and none shall make him afraide.

11 For I am with thee, saith the Lorde, to saue thee: though I utterly destroy all the nations where I haue scattered thee, yet will I not utterly destroy thee, but I will correct thee by iudgement, and not utterly cut thee of.

12 For thus saith the Lord, Thy bruising is incurable, and thy wound is dolorous.

13 There is none to iudge thy cause, or to lay a plaister: there are no medicines, nor helpe for thee.

14 All thy louers haue forgotten thee: they seeke thee not: for I haue stricken thee with the wound of an enemy, and with a sharpe chastisement for the mul- titude of thine iniquities, because thy finnes were increased.

15 Why criest thou for thine affliction? thy sorowe is incurable, for the multi- tude of thine iniquities: because thy finnes were increased, I haue done these things vnto thee.

16 Therefore all they that denoure thee, doest not destroy them for their finnes, but correct and chastise them, till he haue purged and pardoned them, and so burneth the rodde by the which he did punish them, Isa. 33. 1.

a Because they should be assured & their posteritie confirmed in the hope of this deliuerance promised, b He sheweth that before that this deliuerance shall come, the Chaldeans should be extremely afflicted by their enemies, & that they should be in such perplexitie and sorowe, as a woman in her trauaile, as Isa. 13. 8.

17 For I will restore health vnto thee, and I will heale thee of thy woundes, saith the Lord, because they called thee, The cast away, saying, This is Zion, whome no man seeketh after.

18 Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I will bring againe the captiuitie of Iacobos tents, & haue compassion on his dwelling places: and the cite shal be builded vpon her owne heape, ^o and the palace shal remaine after the maner thereof.

19 And our of them shal proceed ^o thankes giuing, and the voyce of them that are ioyous, and I will multiply them, and they shal not be fewe: I will also glorifie them, and they shal not be diminished.

20 Their children also shal be as afore time, and their congregation shall be established before me: and I will visite all that bere them.

21 And their noble ruler shal be of themselues, and their gouernour shall proceede from the middes of them, and I will cause him to drawe neere, and appointe him to mee: for who is this that directeth his heart to come vnto mee, saith the Lord?

22 And ye shall be my people, and I will be your God.

23 Behold, in the tempest of the Lord goeth forth with wrath: the whole world that haigeth ouer, shall light vpon the head of the wicked.

24 The fierce wrath of the Lord shal not returne, vntill he haue done, and vntill he haue performed the intents of his heart: in the latter dayes ye shall vnderstand it.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 Hee rehearseth Gods benefites after their returne from Babylon, 22 And the spiritual ioye of the faithfull in the Church.

1 AT the same time, saith the Lord, will I be the God of all the families of Israel, & they shal be my people.

2 Thus saith the Lord, The people which escaped the sword, found grace in the wilderness: he walked before Israel to cause him to rest.

3 The Lord hath appeared vnto mee ^o of olde, say they: ^o Behold, I haue loued thee with an euerslasting loue, therefore with mercie I haue diuorced thee.

4 Againe I will build thee, and thou shalt be builded, ^o virgin Israel: thou shalt still be adorned with thy timbels, and shalt go forth in the dance of them that be ioyfull.

Thou shalt yet plant vines vpon the mountaines of Samaria, & the planters that plant them, shal make them common.

6 For the dayes shall come that the watchmen vpon the mount of Ephraim shall cry, Arise, & let vs goe vnto Zion to the Lord our God.

7 For thus saith the Lord, Reioyce with gladnes for Iacob, and shoute for ioy among the chief of the Gentiles: publick praise, & say, ^o Lord, laue thy people, the remanent of Israel.

8 Beholde, I will bring them from the North countrey, & gather them from the coastes of the world, with the blinde and the lame among them, with the woman with child, and her that is deliuered also: a great compaigne shal returne hither.

9 They shall come weeping, and with mercie will I bring them againe: I will leade them by the riuers of water in a straight waye, wherein they shall not stumble: for I am a father to Israel, and Ephraim is my first borne.

10 I heare the worde of the Lord, & I peccate, and declare in the ples as afore of, and say, He that scattered Israel, will gather him and will keepe him, as a shepheard doth his flocke.

11 For the Lord hath redeemed Iacob, and ransomed him from the hande of him, that was stronger then he.

12 Therefore they shall come, and reioyce in the height of Zion, and shal runne to the bountifullnes of the Lord, euen for the wheat and for the wine, & for the oyle, and for the increase of sheepe, and bullockes: and their soule shal be as a watered garden, and they shall haue no more sorowe.

13 Then shall the virgine reioyce in the dance, and the pong men, and the olde men together: for I will turne their mourning into ioy, & will comfort them and giue them ioye for their sorowes.

14 And I will replenish the foule of the wildernes with fannes, and my people shal be satisfied with my goodnes, saith the Lord.

15 Thus saith the Lord, A voyce was heard on a hill, a mourning & bitter weeping: ^o Behold weeping for her children, refused to be comforted for her children, because they were not.

22 How long wilt thou go astray, O thou rebellious daughter? for the Lord hath created a newe thing in the earth: A WOMAN shal compasse a man.

23 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Per shall they say this thing in the land of Iudah, & in the cities thereof, when I shal bringe againe their captiuitie, The Lord blesse thee, O habitacion of iustice and holp mountaine.

24 And Iudah shal dwell in it, & al the cities thereof together, the husbandmen and they that goe forth with the flocke.

25 For I haue satiate the wearie soule, & I haue replenished euery forowfull soul.

26 Therefore I awaked and beheld, and my sleepe was sweete vnto me.

27 Behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will follow the house of Israel, and the house of Iudah with the seede of man and with the seede of beast.

28 And like as I haue watched vpon them, to plucke by & to rote out, and to throwe downe, & to bestrope, & to plague them, so will I watch ouer them, to build and to plant them, saith the Lord.

29 In those dayes shall they say no more, The fathers haue eare a sower grape, and the childrens teeth are set on edge.

30 But euery one shall dye for his owne iniquitie: euery man that eateth the sower grape, his teeth shalbe set on edge.

31 Beholde, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will make a newe covenant with the house of Israel, and with the house of Iudah, 32 Not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers, when I tooke them by the hande to bring them out of the lande of Egypt, the which my covenant they brake, although I was all husband and vnto them, saith the Lord.

33 But this shalbe the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel, After ^o those dayes, saith the Lord, I will put my lawe in their inward partes, and write it in their hearts, and will be their God, and they shalbe my people.

34 And they shal teach no more euery man his neighbour & euery man his brother, saying, know the Lord: for they shal all knowe me from the least of them vnto the greatest of them, saith the Lord: for I will forgive their iniquitie, and will remember their finnes no more.

35 Thus saith the Lord, which girtheth the sunne for a light to the day, & the courses of the moone and of the starres for a light to the night, which breaketh the sea, when the waues thereof roare: his Name is the Lord of hostes.

36 If these ordinance depart out of my sight, saith the Lord, then shal the seede of Israel cease from being a nation before me, for euer.

37 Thus saith the Lord, If the heauens can be measured, or the foundations of the earth be searched out beneath, then will I cast of al the seede of Israel, for all that they haue done, saith the Lord.

38 Beholde, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that the citie shalbe built to the Lord from the tower of Hanaanel, vnto the gate of the corner.

39 And the line of the measure shall goe forth in his presence vpon the hill Sareb, and shall compasse about to South.

40 And the whole valley of the dead bodies, and of the ashes, and all the feldes vnto the brooke of Kidron, and vnto the corner of the horsegate toward the East, shalbe holp vnto the Lord, neither shal it be plucked by nor destroyed any more for euer.

h Though the covenant of redemption made to the fathers, & this which was gine after, seeme diuers, yet they are al one, and grounded on Iesus Christ, saue that this is called new because of the manifestation of Christ, & the abundant graces of the holy Ghost ginen to his Church vnder the Gospel.

l Vnder the kingdom of Christ there shalbe none blinded with ignorance, but I will giue them faith, and knowledge of God for remission of their finnes & daily increase the same: so that it shal not seeme to come fo much by the preaching of my ministers, as by the instruction of my holy spirit, Isa. 54. 13, but the full accomplishing hereof is referred to the kingdom of Christ, when we shalbe ioyned with our head. m If the sunne, moone, & starres cannot but give light according to mine ordinance, so long as this world lasteth, so shall my Church neuer faile, neither shall any thing hinder it: and as sure as I will haue a people, so certaine is it that I will leaue them my worle for euer to gouerne them with. n The one and the other is impossible. o As it was performed, Nehemiah 3. 1. By this description he sheweth that the citie should be as a temple, and beautiful as euer it was: but he alludeth to the spiritual Ierusalem, whose beautie should be incomparable.

 d Because their deliuerance from Babylon was a figure of their deliuerance from sinne, he sheweth how this should be procured, to wit, by Iesus Christ whom a woman should conceiue, and beare in her wombe. Which is a strange thing in earth, because he should be borne of a virgine without man: or, hee meaneeth, that Ierusalem should be like a baren woman in her captiuitie, should be fruitfull as she, that is ioyned in marriage, and whome God blesseth with children.

The word that came vnto Ieremias from the Loide, in the tenth yere of Zedekiah King of Iudah, which was the eighteenth yere of Nebuchad-nessar.
2 For then the king of Babels hoste besieged Ierusalem: and Ieremias the Prophete was shut vp in the court of the prison, which was in the King of Iudahs house.
3 For Zedekiah King of Iudah had shut him vp, saying, Wherefore doest thou propheticke, & say, Thus saith the Loide, Beholde, I wil give this cite into the hands of the King of Babel, and he shal take it?
4 And Zedekiah the King of Iudah shal not escape out of the hand of the Calde-ans, but shall surely bee deliuered into the hands of the king of Babel, & shal speake with him mouth to mouth, and his eyes shal beholde his face, 5 And he shal lead Zedekiah to Babel, & there shal he be, vntill^h I write him, saith the Loide: though ye fight with the Cal-deans, ye shal not prosper.
6 ¶ And Ieremias said, The word of the Loide came vnto me, saying,
7 Behold, Hanameel, the sonne of Shallum thine vncle, shall come vnto thee & say, Wepe vnto thee my felde, that is in Anathoth: for the title by kindeyed ap-pertaineth vnto thee^d to buye it.
8 So Hanameel, mine vncles sone, came to mee in the court of the prison, according to the word of the Loide, & said vnto me, Wepe my^e felde, I pray thee, that is in Anathoth, which is in the countrey of Beniamin: for the right of the possession is thine, & the purchase belongeth vnto thee: buye it for thee. Then I knewe that this was the word of the Loide.
9 And I bought the felde of Hanameel, mine vncles sonne, that was in Anathoth, and weighed him the siluer, euen seuen shekels, and ten pieces of siluer.
10 And I writ it in the booke and signid it, and toke witnesses, & weighed him the siluer in the balances.
11 So I toke the booke of the possession, being sealed according to the Lawe, and custome, with the booke that was open, 12 And I gaue the booke of the possession vnto Baruch the sonne of Neriah, the sonne of Naasiah, in the sight of Hanameel mine vncles sonne, & in the presence of the witnesses, with^h in his booke that saie in the court of the prison.
13 And I charged Baruch before them, saying,
14 Thus saith the Loide of hostes, the God of Israel. Take the writings, euen this booke of the possession, both that is sealed, and this booke that is open, & put them in an earthen^h vessel, that they may continue a long time.

5 For the Loide of hostes, the God of Israel sayth thus, Houses and fields, and vineyards shal be possessed againe in this lande.
16 ¶ Nowe when I had deliuered the booke of the possession vnto Baruch, the sonne of Neriah, I prayed vnto the Loide, saying,
17 Ah Loide God, behold, thou hast made the heauen and the earth by thy great power, and by thy stretched out arme, and there is nothing^g hard vnto thee.
18 ¶ Thou shewest mercy vnto thousandes, and recompenset the iniquite of the fathers into the bosome of theirⁱ chyldren after them: O God the great and mightie, whose name is the Loide of hostes,
19 Great in counsel, and mighty in work, (for thine eyes are open vpon all the wayes of the sonnes of men, to giue to eueryone according to his wayes, and according to the fruite of his works) 20 Which hast set signes and wonders in the land of Egypt vnto this^h day, & in Israel, & among all men, and hast made thee a name, as appeareth this day, 21 And hast brought thy people Israel out of the lande of Egypt with signes, and with wonders, and with a strong hande, with a stretched out arme, and with great terrour.
22 And hast giuen them this^h land, which thou didst sweare to their fathers to giue them, euen a lande, that floweth with milke and home, 23 And they came in, and possessed it, but they obeyed not thy voyce, neither walked in thy Lawe: all that thou com-mandedst them to doe, they haue not done:
therefore thou hast caused this whole plague to come vpon them.
24 Beholde, theⁱ mounts, they are come vnto the cite to take it, & the cite is gi-uen into the hand of the Caldeans, that fight against it by means of the sword, and of the famure, and of the pestilence, and what thou hast spoken, is come to passe, and behold, thou seest it.
25 And thou hast said vnto me, O Loide
God, Wepe vnto thee the felde for siluer, and take witnesses: for the cite shall be giuen into the hand of the Caldeans.
26 ¶ Then came the word of the Loide vnto Ieremias, saying, 27 Behold, I am the LORD GOD of all^m fleshes: is there any thing to harde for me?
28 Therefore thus saith the Loide, Behold,
I wil give this cite into the hand of the Caldeans, and into the hand of Nebuchad-nassar, king of Babel, and he shal
take it.
29 And the Caldeans shal come and fight against this cite, and set fire on this cite and burne it, with the houses, vpon whose roofes they haue offered incense vnto Baal, and poyzed drinke offerings vnto other gods, to prouoke mee vnto anger.

11 From the time that I brought them out of Egypt, and made them my people, and called them my first borne,

30 For the children of Israel, and the children of Iudah haue liuely done euil before me from their pouth: for the children of Israel haue liuely prouoked me to anger with the works of their hands, saith the Lord.

31 Therefore thus saith the Lord: because I haue bene vnto me as a prouocation of mine anger, & of my wrath, from the day, that they built it, euen vnto this day, that I shoulde remoue it out of my sight,

32 Because of all the euill of the children of Israel, and of the children of Iudah, which they haue done to prouoke mee to anger, euen they, their Kinges, their Princes, their Iudges, and their prophets, and the men of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem,

33 And they haue turned vnto mee the back, and not the face: though I taught them, & rising by earely, and instructing them, yet they were not obedient to receive doctrine,

34 But they set their abominations in the house (whereupon my Name was called) to defile it,

35 And they built the hie pylaces of Baal, which are in the valley of Ben-hinnom, to cause their soimes, and their daughters to passe through the fire vnto Molech, which I commanded them not, neither came it into my minde, that they shoulde doe such abomination, to cause Iudah to sinne,

36 And now therefore, thus hath the Lord God of Israel spoken, concerning this cite, wherof ye say, It shalbe deliuered into the hande of the king of Babel by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence,

37 Behold, I wil gather them out of all countreys, wherein I haue scattered them in mine anger, and in my wrath, and in great indignation, & I wil bring them againe vnto this place, and I wil cause them to dwell safely,

38 And they shall be my people, and I wil be their God,

39 And I wil giue them one heart & one way, that they may feare mee for euer for the wealth of them, and of their children after them.

40 And I wil make an euerlasting covenant with them, that I wil neuer turne away from them to doe their god, but I wil put my feare in their hearts, that they shall not depart from me.

41 Yea, I wil beate in them to doe their god, and I wil plant them in this land assuredly with my whole heart, and with all my soule,

42 For thus saith the Lord, like as I haue brought all this great plague vpon this people, so wil I bring vpon them all the good that I haue promised them.

43 And the fields shall be all as fertile in this lande, wherof ye say, It is desolate without man or beast, and I shalbe giuen into the hand of the Caldeans,

44 Then shall ye be as fildes for sheepe, and make writings, and seal them, and take witnesses in the lande of Benjamin, and round about Ierusalem, and in the cities of Iudah, and in the cities of the mountanes, and in the cities of the plaine, & in the cities of the South: for I will cause their captiuitie to resurne, saith the Lord.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 The Prophet is monished of the Lord to praye for the deliuerance of the people, which the Lord promised. 8 God forgiveth sinners, for his owne glorie. 15 Of the birth of Christ. 20 The kingdom of Christ in the Church shall neuer be ended.

1 Moreover, the woide of the Lord, came vnto Jeremiah the seconde time (while he was yet shut vp in the court of the prison) saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord, the maker thereof, of the Lord that founded it, & established it, the Lord is his Name.

3 Call vnto me, and I wil answer thee, and shewe thee the great & mightie things, which thou knowest not.

4 For thus saith the Lord God of Israel, concerning the houses of this cite, and concerning the houses of the Kings of Iudah, which are destroyed by the Countes, and by the sword,

5 They come to fight with the Caldeas, but it is to fill themselves with the dead bodies of men, whom I haue flaine in mine anger & in my wrath: for I haue hid my face from this cite, because of all their wickednes.

6 Behold, I wil giue it health & amendment: for I wil cure them, and will reuele vnto them the abundance of peace, and trusty.

7 And I wil cause the captiuitie of Iudah, and the captiuitie of Israel to resurne, & wil buyde them as at the first.

8 And I will cleanse them from all their iniquitie, wherby they haue sinned against me: yea, I wil pardon all their iniquities, wherby they haue sinned against mee, and wherby they haue rebelled against me.

9 And it shall be to me a Name, a hope, a praise, and an honour before all the nations of the earth, which shall heare all the good that I do vnto them: and they shall feare, and tremble for all the goodnes, and for all the wealth, that I shew vnto this cite.

10 Thus saith the Lord, againe there shall be heard in this place (which yee saye shall be desolate, without man, & without beast, euen in the cities of Iudah, & in the streetes of Ierusalem, that are desolate without man, and without inhabitant, and without beast) of the Lord, for I will cause to returne the captiuitie of the land, as at the first, saith the Lord.

He sheweth that the cure, & the king Zedekiah shall be given into the hands of the king of Babylon. & He rebuketh their cruelty towards their seruaunts.

k Meaning, that all the countrey of Iudah shall be inhabited againe

12 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Againe in this place, which is desolate, without man, and without beast, and in all the cities thereof there shall dwelling for they shepheardes to rest their flockes.

13 In the cities of the mountains, in the cities of the plaine, and in the cities of the South, and in the land of Benjamin, & about Ierusalem, and in the cities of Iudah shall the sheepe passe againe, vnder the hand of him that telleth them, saith the Lord.

14 Behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will performe that good thing, which I haue promised vnto the house of Israel, and to the house of Iudah.

15 In those dayes and at that time, will I cause the branche of righteousness to growe vp vnto Dauid, and hee shall execute iudgement, and righteousness in the lande.

16 In those dayes shall Iudah be saved, and Ierusalem shall dwell safely, and he that shall call my name, shall be righteous.

17 For thus saith the Lord, Dauid shall neuer want a man to sit vpon the throne of the house of Irael.

18 Neither shall the Priests and Leuites want a man before me to offer burnt offerings, and to offer meate offerings, & to do sacrifice continually.

19 And the word of the Lord came vnto Ieremiah, saying,

20 Thus saith the Lord, If you can breake my couenant of the dayes, and my couenant of the night, that there should not be day, and night in their season,

21 Then maye my couenant be broken with Dauid my seruaunt, that he should not haue a soune to reigne vpon his throne, and with the Leuites, & Priests my ministers.

22 As the armie of heauen can not be nombred, neither the sande of the sea measured: so will I multiplie the seede of Dauid my seruaunt, and the Leuites, that minister vnto me.

23 Therefore, the word of the Lord came to Ieremiah, saying,

24 Considerest thou not what this people haue broken, saying, The two families, which the Lord hath chose, he hath euen cast them off: thus they haue despised my people, that they should be no more a nation before them.

25 Thus saith the Lord, If my couenant be not with day & night, and if I haue not appointed the order of heauen and earth,

26 Then will I cast awaye the seede of Iacob, and Dauid my seruaunt, & not sake of his seede to be rulers ouer the seede of Abraham, Izhak, and Iacob: for I will cause their captiuitie to returne, and haue compassion on them,

1 The word which came vnto Ieremah from the Lord (when Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, and all his hoste, and all the kingdomes of the earth, that were vnder the power of his hand, and all people fought against Ierusalem, & against all the cities thereof) saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Goe, and speake to Zedekiah king of Iudah, and tell him, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will giue this cite into the hand of the king of Babel, and he shall burne it with fire,

3 And thou shalt not escape out of his hand, but shalt surely be taken, and be hurred into his hand, & thine eyes shall beholde the face of the king of Babel, and he shall speake with thee mouth to mouth, and thou shalt go to Babel.

4 Yet heare the word of the Lord, O Zedekiah, king of Iudah: thus saith the Lord of thee, Thou shalt not dye by the sword,

5 But thou shalt dye in bypeace: and according to the burning for thy fathers the former kings which were before thee, so shalt they burne odours for thee, & they shall lament thee, saying, Oh lord, for I haue pronounced the worde, saith the Lord.

6 Then Ieremiah the Prophet spake al these wordes vnto Zedekiah king of Iudah in Ierusalem,

7 (When the king of Babylons hoste fought against Ierusalem, and against all the cities of Iudah, that were left, euen as against Lachish, and against Bezek: for these strong cities remained of the cities of Iudah)

8 This is the word that came vnto Ieremah from the Lord, after that the king Zedekiah had made a couenant with all the people, which were at Ierusalem, to proclaime libertie vnto them,

9 That euery man should let his seruant go free, and euery man his handmaid, which was an Ebuie or an Ebnulle, and that none should serue him self of the, to wit, of a Iewe his brother.

10 Now when all the princes, and all the people which had agreed to the couenant, heard that euery one should let his seruaunt goe free, and euery one his handmaid, and that none should serue themselves of them any more, they obeyed and let them go.

11 But afterward they repented & caught the seruants and the handmaides, whom they had let goe free, to returne, and held them in subiection as seruants and handmaides.

12 Therefore the word of the Lord came vnto Ieremah from the Lord, saying,

13 Thus saith the Lord God of Irael, I made

CHAP. XXXV.

He propheseth the obedience of the Rechabites, and thereby confoundeth the pride of the Iewes.

a For y disposition & order of these prophesies read Chap. 27. 1.

I The worde which came vnto Ieremias the sonne of the Lord, in the daies of Jehoiakim the sonne of Josiah King of Iudah, saying,

2 Go vnto the house of the Rechabites, & speake vnto them, and bring them into the house of the Lord into one of the chambers, and giue them wine to drinke.

3 Then tooke I Jaazaniah, the sonne of Ieremias the sonne of Habazimiah, & his brethren, and all his sones, & the whole house of the Rechabites,

4 And I brought them into the house of the Lord, into the chamber of sennes of Banai, the sonne of Jgdaliah a man of God, which was by the chamber of the princes, which was about the chamber of Maalciah the sonne of Shalun, the keeper of the treasure.

5 And I set before the sones of y house of the Rechabites, pottes full of wine, and cypres, and a saide vnto them, Drinke wine.

6 But they said, We will drinke no wine: for Jonabab the sonne of Rechab our father comanded vs, saying, We shall drinke no wine, neither you nor your sones for ever.

7 Neither shall ye build house, nor sowe seede, nor plant vineyard, nor haue any, but all your daies ye shall dwell in tentes, that ye may liue a long time in the lande where ye be strangers,

8 Thus haue we obeyed the voyce of Jonabab the sonne of Rechab our father, in all that he hath charged vs, and we drinke no wine all our daies, neither we, our wiues, our sones, nor our daughters.

9 Neither build we houses for vs to dwell in, neither haue we vineyard, nor ficke, nor seede,

10 But we haue remained in tentes, and haue obeyed, and done according to all that Jonabab our father comanded vs.

11 But when Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel came by into the lande, we said, Come, and let vs go to Ierusalem, froo the hoste of the Caldeans, and from the hoste of Aram: so we dwell at Ierusalem.

12 Then came the worde of the Lord vnto Ieremias, saying,

13 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, y God of Israel, Go, and tell the men of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem, Will ye not receive doctrine to obeye my words, saith the Lord?

14 The commaundement of Jonabab the sonne of Rechab that he commaunded his sones, that they should drinke no wine, is surely kept: for vnto this daie they drinke none, but obey their fathers commaundement: notwithstanding I haue spoken vnto you, rising early, & speaking, but ye would not obey me.

15 I haue sent also vnto you all my seruants the Prophets, rising by early, & these which were the children of an heathen man, obeyed the commaundements of their father. I haue most diligently exhorted and warned you both by my selfe and my Prophets, finding

Who came of the house of Ierusalem, which was in lawe, for then they ought to haue obeyed: but he tendeth to another end: that is, to declare their obedience to man, seeing y Iewes would not obey God him selfe. Which was nowe for the space of three hundred yeres from Iehu to Iehoiakim. Which declared that they were not so bound to their vow, that it could not be broken for any necessitie: for where they were commaunded to dwell in tentes, they dwell nowe at Ierusalem in feare of the warres. Whom I haue chosen to be my children, seeing they obeyed the commaundements of their father. I haue most diligently exhorted and warned you both by my selfe and my Prophets, 16 Surely the sonnes of Jonadab þ sonne or Rechab, haue kept the commandement of their father, which he gaue the, but this people hath not obeyed me.

17 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring vpon Iudah, and vpon all the inhabitants of Ierusalem, all the euill that I haue pronounced against them, because I haue spoken vnto them, but they would not heare, & I haue called vnto them, but they would not answere.

18 And Ieremiah said to the house of the Rechabites, Thus sapech the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, Because ye haue obeyed the commandement of Jonadab your father, and kept al his precepts, and done according vnto all that he hath commanded you.

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Jonadab the sonne of Rechab shall not want a man, to stand before me for euer.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 Baruch writeth, as Ieremiah indicteth, the booke of the curses against Iudah & Israel. 2 He is sent with the booke vnto the people & readeth it before the all. 14 He is called before the rulers & readeth it before them also. 23 The King casteth it in the fire. 28 There is another written as the commandement of the Lord.

1 AS in the fourth yere of Jehoiakim þ sonne of Josiah king of Iudah, came this word vnto Ieremias from the Lord, saying,

2 Take thee a roule or booke, and write therein all the words that I haue spokē to thee against Israel, & against Iudah, and against all the nations, from the day that I spake vnto thee, euen ^b from the dayes of Josiah vnto this day.

3 It may be that the house of Iudah will heare of all the euill, which I determined to do vnto them that they may returne euerp man from his euill waye, that I may forgive their iniquitie and their sinnes.

4 Then Ieremiah called Baruch, the sonne of Neriah, & Baruch wrote ^c at the mouth of Ieremiah all the wordes of the Lorde, which he had spoken vnto him, vpon a roule or booke.

5 And Ieremiah commanded Baruch, saying, I am ^d shut by, & cannot go into the House of the Lord.

6 Therefore go thou, and reade the roule wherein thou hast wriiten at my mouth the wordes of the Lorde in the audience of the people in the Lordes House vpon the ^e fasting daye: also thou shalt reade them in the hearing of all Iudah, that come out of their cities,

7 It may be that they will scape before the Lord, and euerp one returne from his euill way, for great is the anger and the wrath, that the Lord hath declared against this people.

8 So Baruch the sonne of Neriah did according vnto all, that Ieremiah the Prophet commanded him, reading in the booke the wordes of the Lord in the Lordes House.

9 And in the fifth yere of Jehoiakim þ sonne of Josiah king of Iudah, in the ninth moneth, they proclaimed a fast before the Lorde to all the people in Ierusalem, & to all the people that came fro the cities of Iudah vnto Ierusalem.

10 Then read Baruch in the booke the wordes of Ieremiah in the House of the Lorde, in the chamber of Semariah the sonne of Shaphan the secretarie, in the hper court at the entrie of the ^b newe gate of the Lordes House, in the hearing of all the people.

11 When Michaiah the sonne of Semariah, the sonne of Shaphan had heard out of the booke all the wordes of the Lord,

12 Then he wet down to the kings house into the Chancellours chamber, & so, al the princes were there, eue Elishama the Chancellour, and Delaiah the sonne of Shemaiah, and Elnathan the sonne of Achbor, and Elnathan the sonne of Shaphan, and Zedekiah the sonne of Hananiah, and all the princes.

13 Then Michaiah declared vnto them all the words that he had heard when Baruch read in the booke in the audience of the people.

14 Therefore all the princes sent Jehudi the sonne of Rechamiah, the sonne of Shelemiah, the sonne of Chufsi, vnto Baruch, saying, Take in thine hande the roule, wherein thou hast read in the audience of the people, & come. So Baruch the sonne of Neriah, toke the roule in his hand, and came vnto them.

15 And they sayde vnto him, Sit downe now, & reade it, that we may heare. So Baruch read it in their audience.

16 Nowe when they had heard all the wordes, they were ⁱ afraid both one and other, and said vnto Baruch, We will certifie the King of all these wordes.

17 And they examined Baruch, saying, Tell vs nowe, howe diddest thou write all these wordes at his mouth.

18 Then Baruch answered them, He pronounced all these wordes vnto me with his mouth, & I wrote them with ynke in the booke.

19 Then sayde the princes vnto Baruch, Go, hide thee, thou and Ieremiah, and let no man knowe where ye be.

20 And they went in to the King to the court, but they sayde by the roule in the chamber of Elishama the Chancellour and tolde the King all the wordes, that he might heare.

21 So the King sent Jehudi to fet the roule, and hee toke it out of Elishama

f He sheweth that fasting with out prayer & repentance availeth nothing, but is mere hypocritic.

g The fast was the proclaimed, and Baruch red this roule, which was a litle before that Ierusalem was first taken, & then Jehoiakim and Daniel, and his companions were led away captiues, & which is the East gate of the Temple.

i The godly were afraid, seeing God so offended, and the wicked were astonished for the horror of the punishment. k They that were godly among the princes, gaue this counsel, by whose meanes it is like that Ieremias was deliuered: for they knewe the rage of the King & of the wicked to be such, that they could not escape without danger of the l iues, l That is, by his Prophets and ministers: which sheweth that it is as much as though he should speake to vs himselfe, when he sendeth his ministers to speake in his Name. m His posteritie shall continue & be in my favour for euer.

24 Yet they were not afrayde, nor rent write in it all the former wordes that were in the first roule which Jehoiakim the king of Judah hath burnt.

of Judah, Thus saith the Lord, Thou hast burnt this roule, saying, Why hast thou written therein, saying, that the king of Babel shall certainly come and destroy this land, and shall take thence both man and beast?

30 Therefore thus saith the Lorde of Jesand his seruants for their iniquitie, and I will bring vpon them, and vpon the inhabitantes of Jerusalem, and vpon the men of Judah all the euill that I haue pronounced against them: but they would not heare.

32 Then tooke Jeremiah another roule, and gaue it Baruch the scribe the sonne of Neriah, which wrote therein at the mouth of Jeremiah all the wordes of the booke which Jehoiakim king of Judah had burnt in the fire, and there were added besides them manie like wordes.

5 Then Pharaohs hoste was come out of Egypt: and when the Caldeans that besieged Jerusalem, heard tidings of them, they departed from Jerusalem.

6 Then came the worde of the Lord vnto the Prophet Jeremiah, saying,

7 Thus saith the Lorde God of Israel,
Thus shall he say to the king of Judah,

18 Moreover, Jeremiah said vnto king Zedekiah, What haue I offended against thee, or against thy seruantes, or against this people, that ye haue put me in prison?

19 Where are now your prophetes, which prophesied vnto you, saying, The king of Babel shall not come against you, nor against this land?

20 Therefore I saie now, I pray thee, Dimploie the king: let thy prayer be accepted before this, that thou cause me not to returne to the house of Iehonathas the scribe: lest I dye there.

21 Then Zedekiah the king commaunded, that they should put Jeremiah in the court of the prison, and that they should giue him daily a peece of breade out of the bakers street vntill all the bread in the cite were eaten vp. Thus Jeremiah remained in the court of the prison.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

1 By the motion of the rulers Jeremiah is put into a dungeon. 12 At the request of Ebed-melech the King commaundeth Ieremias to be brought forth of the dungeon. 17 Ieremias sheweth the King howe he might escape death.

1 Then Shephatiah the sonne of Matan, and Gedaliah the sonne of Achishur, and Iucal the sonne of Shelemiah, and Dalaihur the sonne of Gaiachiah, heard the wordes that Ieremias had spoken vnto all the people, saying,

2 Thus saith the Loide, He that remaineth in this cite, shall dye by the sword, by the famine and by the pestilence: but he that goeth forth to the Caldeans, shall liue: for he shall haue his life for a praye, and shall liue.

3 Thus saith the Loide, This cite shall surely be giuen into the hand of the king of Babels armie, which shall take it.

4 Therefore the princes saide vnto the king, We beseeche you, let this man be put to death: for this he weakeneth the handes of the men of warre: that remaine in this cite, and the handes of all the people, in speaking such wordes vnto them: for this man seeketh not the wealth of this people, but the hurt.

5 Then Zedekiah the king said, Behold, he is in your handes, for the king can denie you nothing.

6 Then tooke they Ieremias, and cast him into the dungeon of Gaiachiah the sonne of Hammelech, that was in the court of the prison: and they let downe Ieremias with coardes: and in the dungeon there was no water but myre: so Ieremias sticke fast in the myre.

7 Now when Ebed-melech the blacke Moore one of the Euniches, which was in the kings house, heard that they had put Ieremias in the dungeon (then the king sate in the gate of Beniamin)

8 And Ebed-melech went out of the kings house, and spake to the king, saying,

9 Why said the king, These men haue done euill in all that they haue done to Ieremias the Prophet, whom they haue cast into the dungeon, and he dyeth for hunger in the place where hee is: for there is no more bread in the cite.

10 Then the king commaunded Ebed-melech the blacke Moore, saying, Take sixe hence thirtie men with thee, and take Ieremias the Prophet out of the dungeon before he dye.

11 So Ebed-melech tooke the men with him and went to the house of the king vnder the treasure, and tooke there old rotten ragges, and old womes clouts, and let them downe by coardes into the dungeon to Ebed-melech.

12 And Ebed-melech the blacke Moore said vnto Ieremias, Put now these old rotten ragges and womes, vnder thine arme holles, betwixt the coardes, and Ieremias did so.

13 So they drew by Ieremias with coardes and tooke him vp out of the dungeon, and Ieremias remained in the court of the prison.

14 Then Zedekiah the king sent, and tooke Ieremias the Prophet vnto him, into the thirde entre that is in the House of the Loide, and the king saide vnto Ieremias, I will aske thee a thing: hide nothing from me.

15 Then Ieremias said to Zedekiah, If I declare it vnto thee, wilt not thou slay me: and if I giue thee counsell, thou wilt not heare me.

16 So the king sware secretly vnto Ieremias, saying, As the Lord liueth, that made vs these soulles, I will not slay thee, nor giue thee into the handes of those men that seeke thy life.

17 Then said Ieremias vnto Zedekiah, Thus saith the Lord God of hostes, the God of Israel, If thou wilt goe forth vnto the king of Babels princes, then thy soule shall liue, and this cite shall not be burnt with fire, & thou shalt liue, and thine house.

18 But if thou wilt not goe forth to the king of Babels princes, then shall this cite be giuen into the hand of the Caldeans, and they shall burne it with fire, and thou shalt not escape out of their handes.

19 And Zedekiah the king said vnto Ieremias, I am carefull for the Jewes that are led vnto the Caldeans, lest they deliuer me into their handes, and they mocke me.

20 But Ieremias saide, They shall not deliuer thee: hearken vnto the voyce of the Lord, I beseech thee, which I speake vnto thee: so shall it be well vnto thee, and thy soule shall liue.

21 But if thou wilt refuse to goe forth, this is the worde that the Loide hath shewed me,

Hereby is declared, that the Prophet found more fauour at this strangers hand, then he did by all them of his countrey, which was to their great condemnation.

22 And before, all the women that are left in the King of Judahs house, shalbe brought forth to the King of Babels princes: and those women that say, Thy friends have perswaded thee, and haue preuailed against thee: thy fate are fastened in the myre, and they are turned backe.

23 So they shall bring out all thy wiues, and thy children to the Caldeans, and thou shalt not escape out of their hands, but shalt be taken by the hande of the King of Babel: and this cite shall thou cause to be burnt with fire.

24 Then said Zedekiah unto Jeremiah, Let no man knowe of these wordes, & thou shalt not die.

25 But if the princes vnderstand that I haue talked with thee, and they come vnto thee, and sape vnto thee, Declare vnto vs now, what thou hast said vnto the King, hide it not from vs, & we will not slay thee: also what the King said vnto thee,

26 Then shalt thou sape vnto them, I humbly^l besought the King that hee would not cause me to returne to Jehonathans house, to die there.

27 Then came all the princes vnto Jeremiah and asked him. And he told them according to all these wordes that the King had commanded: so they left of speaking with him, for the matter was not perceived.

28 So Jeremiah abode still in the court of the prison, vntill the day that Jerusalem was taken: and he was there, when Jerusalem was taken.

CHAP. XXXIX.

1 Nebuchad-nezzar besiegeth Ierusalem. 4 Zedekiah fleeing is taken of the Caldeans. 6 His sonnes are slaine. 7 His eyes are thrust out. 11 Jeremiah is provided for. 15 Ebed-melech is deliuered from captiuitie.

I In the ninth yeere of Zedekiah King of Iudah in the tenth moneth, came Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel & all his hoste against Ierusalem, and they besieged it.

2 And in the eleuenth yeere of Zedekiah in the fourth moneth, the ninth daye of the moneth, the cite was broken^a vpon.

3 And all the princes of the King of Babel came in, & late in the middle gate, euen Heregai, Sharezzer, Samgar-nebo, Sarlechim, Kab-laris, Heregai, Sharezzer, Kab-mag with all the residue of the princes of the King of Babel.

4 And when Zedekiah the King of Iudah sawe them, & all the men of warre, then they fled, and went out of the cite by night, though the Kings garden, & by the^b gate betwene the two walles, and he went toward the wilderness.

5 But the Caldeans hoste pursued after them, and ouertooke Zedekiah in the desert of Iericho: and when they had taken him, they brought him to Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel vnto^c Kir-blyah in the lande of Hamath, where he gaue iudgement vpon him.

6 Then the King of Babel slewe the sonnes of Zedekiah in Kirblyah before his eyes: also the King of Babel slewe all the nobles of Iudah.

7 Moreover he put out Zedekiahs eyes, and bound him in chaines, to carie him to Babel.

8 And the Caldeans burnt the Kings house, & the houses of the people with fyre, and brake downe the walles of Ierusalem.

9 Then Nabuzar-adan the^d chiefe steward^{Or, captain of the garde.} and carried away captiue into Babel the remnant of the people, that remained in the city, and those that were sicke and fallen vnto him, with the rest of the people that remained.

10 But Nabuzar-adan the chiefe steward left the^e poore that had nothing in the lande of Iudah, and gaue them vineyards and fields at the same time.

11 Now Nabuchad-nezzar King of Babel gaue charge concerning Jeremiah^f vnto Nabuzar-adan the chiefe steward, saying,

12 Take him, and^g looke well to him, & do him no harme, but do vnto him^e as euen as he shall say vnto thee.

13 So Nabuzar-adan the chiefe steward sent and Nabuzhazban, Kablaris, and Heregai, Sharezzer, Kab-mag, and all the King of Babels princes:

14 Euen they sent, and tooke Jeremiah out of the court of the prison, and committed him vnto^h Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan, that he should carie him home: so he dwelt among the people.

15 Nowe the woide of the Loyde came vnto Jeremiah, while he was shut vp in the court of the prison, saying,

16 Go and speake to Ebed-melech the blacke Moye, saying, Thus saithⁱ the Loyd of hostes the God of Israel, Beholde, I will bring my wordes vpon this cite for euill, & not for good, and they shall be accomplished in that day before thee.

17 But I will deliuer thee in that daye, saith the Loyd, and thou shalt not be giuen into the hande of the men whome thou fearest.

18 For I will surely deliuer thee, & thou shalt not fall by the swoorde, but thy life shall be for a praye vnto thee, because thou^k hast put thy trust in me, saith the Loyd.

of Jeruſalem and Iudah, which were carried away captiue vnto Babel.

2 And the chiefe ſeward tooke Ieremiah, and ſaid vnto him, The Lord thy God hath pronounced this plague vpon this place.

3 Now the Lord hath brought it, and done according as he hath ſaid: becauſe ye haue ſinned againſt the Lord, and not obeyed his voyce, therefore this thing is come vpon you.

4 And now beholde, I looſe thee this day from the chaines which were on thine hands, if it pleaſe thee to come with me into Babel, come, and I will looke well vnto thee: but if it pleaſe thee not to come with me into Babel, I ſay ſtill: beholde, all the land is before thee: whether it ſeemeth good, and conuenient for thee to goe, ſuffer hee goe.

5 For yet he was not returned: therefore he ſaid, Returne to Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahikam, the ſonne of Shaphan, whom the king of Babel hath made gouernour ouer all the cities of Iudah, and dwell with him among the people, or goe wherſoeuer it pleaſeth thee to goe. So the chiefe ſeward gaue him vitayles and a reward, and let him goe.

6 Then went Ieremiah vnto Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahikam, ſonne of Shaphan, and dwelt there with him among the people that were left in the land.

7 Nowe when all the captiues of the hoſt, which were in the fields, euen they and their men heard, that the king of Babel had made Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahikam gouernour in the land, and that he had conuicted vnto him, men, and women, and children, and of the poore of the land, that were not carped away captiue to Babel,

8 Then they came to Gedaliah to Whizpah, euen Iſhmael the ſonne of Neethaniah, and Iohanan, and Ionathan the ſonnes of Kareah, and Seraiah the ſonne of Tanemumeth, and the ſonnes of Ephai, the Hierophatite, and Jeſaniah the ſonne of Maachathi, they and their men.

9 And Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahikam, the ſonne of Shaphan ſware vnto them, and to their men, ſaying, Feare not to ſerue the Caldeans: dwell in the land, and ſerue the king of Babel, and it ſhalbe well with you.

10 As for me, beholde, I will dwell at Whizpah to ſerue the Caldeans, which will come vnto vs: but you gather poue wine, and ſommer fruites, and ople, and put them in your veſſels, and dwell in pour cities, that ye haue taken.

11 Likewiſe when all the Iewes that were in Moab, and among the Ammonites, and in Edom, and that were in all the countries, heard that the king of Babel had left a remnant of Iudah, and that he had ſet ouer them Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahikam the ſonne of Shaphan,

12 Euen all the Iewes returned out of all places where they were driven, a came to the land of Iudah to Gedaliah vnto Whizpah, and gathered wine & ſommer fruites, verſe much.

13 Moreover Iohanan the ſonne of Kareah, and all the captiues of the hoſt, that were in the fields, came to Gedaliah to Whizpah, 14 And ſaide vnto him, Knoweſt thou not that ſeas the king of the Ammonites hath ſent Iſhmael the ſonne of Neethaniah to ſlay thee? But Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahikam beleued them not.

15 Then Iohanan the ſonne of Kareah ſpoke to Gedaliah in Whizpah ſecretly, ſaying, Let me goe, I pray thee, and I will ſlay Iſhmael the ſonne of Neethaniah, and no man ſhal know it. Wherefore ſhoulde he kill thee, that all the Iewes, which are gathered vnto thee, ſhould be ſcattered, and the remnant in Iudah periſh?

16 But Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahikam ſaide vnto Iohanan the ſonne of Kareah, Thou ſhalt not doe this thing: for thou ſpeakeſt falſely of Iſhmael.

CHAP. XLI.

Iſhmael killeth Gedaliah guilfully, and many other with him. I Iohanan followeth after Iſhmael.

B In the ſeuenth month came Iſhmael the ſonne of Neethaniah, the ſonne of Elthama of the ſeede ropal, and the princes of the king, and ſerue men with him, vnto Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahikam to Whizpah, and there they did eate bread together in Whizpah.

2 Then aroſe Iſhmael the ſonne of Neethaniah with theſe ten men that were with him, and ſlote Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahikam the ſonne of Shaphan with the ſword, and ſlewe him, whom the king of Babel had made gouernour ouer the land.

3 Iſhmael alſo ſlewe all the Iewes that were with Gedaliah at Whizpah, and all the Caldeans that were founde there, and the men of warre.

4 Nowe the ſeconde day that he had ſlaine Gedaliah, and no man knewe it,

5 There came men from Shechem, from ſhilo, a front ſumaria, euen foure ſcore men, hauing their beards ſhauen, and their clothes rent and cut, with offerings and meene in their hands to offer in the Houſe of the Lord.

6 And Iſhmael the ſonne of Neethaniah went forth from Whizpah to meete the, weeping as he went: and when he met them, he ſaid vnto them, Come with me to Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahikam.

7 And when they came into the middeſ of the cite, Iſhmael the ſonne of Neethaniah thaniah ſeewe them, and caſt them into the middes of the pit, he and the men that were with him.

8 But ten men were found among them, that ſaide unto Iſhmael, Stay vs not: for we haue creatines in the ſeldes, of wheate, and of barley, and of opie, and of hony: ſo he ſtayed, and ſlew them not among their brethren.

9 Nowe the pit wherein Iſhmael had caſt the dead bodies of the men (whom he had ſlaue becauſe of Gedaliah) is it, which Aſa the king had made becauſe of Baſha king of Iſrael, and Iſhmael the ſonne of Nethaniah filled it with them that were ſlaue.

10 Then Iſhmael caried away captiue all the residue of the people that were in Mizpah, euen the kings daughters, and all the people that remained in Mizpah, whom Nebuſar-adan the cheefe ſeward had committed to Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahikay, and Iſhmael the ſonne of Nethaniah caried them away captiue, and departed to goe ouer to the Ammonites.

11 But when Johanan the ſonne of Kareah, and all the ſ captaines of the hoſt that were with him, heard of al the euil that Iſhmael the ſonne of Nethaniah had done,

12 Then they all tooke their men, & went to fight with Iſhmael the ſonne of Nethaniah, and found him by the great waters that are in Gibeon.

13 Nowe when al the people whom Iſhmael caried away captiue, ſawe Johanan the ſonne of Kareah, and all the captaines of the hoſt, that were with him, they were glad.

14 So all the people, that Iſhmael had caried away captiue from Mizpah, returned and came againe, and went vnto Johanan the ſonne of Kareah.

15 But Iſhmael the ſonne of Nethaniah, eſcaped from Johanan with eight men, and went to the Ammonites.

16 Then tooke Johanan the ſonne of Kareah, and all the captaines of the hoſte, that were with him, al the remnant of the people, whom Iſhmael the ſonne of Nethaniah, had caried away captiue from Mizpah, (after that he had ſlayne Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahikay) euen the ſtrong men of warre, and the women, and the chuldren, and euniches, whom he had brought againe from Gibeon:

1 Then all the captaines of the hoſte, and Johanan the ſonne of Kareah, and Iezaniah the ſonne of Joſhariah, and all the people from the leaſt vnto the moſt came,

2 And ſaid vnto Ieremiah the Propheet, Heare our prayer, we beſeech thee, and pray for vs vnto the Lord thy God, eue for al this remnant (for we are left, but a fewe of many, as thine eyes doe beſe holde)

3 That the Lord thy God may ſhewe vs the way wherein we may walke, & the thing that we may doe.

4 Then Ieremiah the Propheet ſaid vnto them, I haue heard you: behold, I will pray vnto the Lord your God according to your wordes, and whatſoeuer thing the Lord ſhall anſwere you, I will declare it vnto you: I will keepe nothing backe from you.

5 Then they ſaid to Ieremiah, The Lord be a witneſſe of truth, and faith betwene vs, if we doe not, euen according to al things for the which the Lord thy God ſhall ſend thee to vs.

6 Whether it be good or euil, we will obey the voyce of the Lord God, to whom we ſend thee that it may be well with vs, when we obey the voyce of the Lord our God.

7 And ſo after ten dayes came the word of the Lord vnto Ieremiah.

8 Then called he Johanan the ſonne of Kareah, and all the captaines of the hoſte, which were with him, and all the people from the leaſt to the moſt,

9 And ſaide vnto them, Thus ſaith the Lord God of Iſrael, vnto whom ye ſent me to preſent your prayers before him,

10 I ſpe will dwell in this lande, then I will build you, and not deſtroy you, and I will plant you, and not roote you out: for I repent me of the euil that I haue done vnto you.

11 Feare not for the king of Babel, of whom ye are afraid: be not afraid of him, ſaith the Lord: for I am with you, to ſaue you, and to deliuer you from his hand,

CHAP. XLIII.

Johan carieth the remnant of the people into Egypt contrary to the minde of Ieremiah. & Ieremiah prophesieth the destruction of Egypt.

1 Now when Ieremiah had made an end of speaking vnto the whole people all the words of the Lorde their God, for the which the Lorde their God had sent him to them, euen all these wordes,

2 Then spake Azariah the sonne of Horeshah, and Iohanan the sonne of Kasreah, and al the proud men, saying vnto Ieremiah, Thou speakest falsly: the Lorde our God hath not sent thee to say, Go not into Egypt to dwel there.

3 But Baruch the sonne of Neriah, prouokedeth thee against vs, for to deliuer vs into the hand of the Caldeans, that they might slay vs, and carie vs away captiues into Babel.

4 So Iohanan the sonne of Kasreah, and all the captiues of the hoste, and all the people obeyed not the voyce of the Lorde, to dwel in the land of Iudah.

5 But Iohanan al the sonne of Kasreah, al the captiues of the hoste took al the remnant of Iudah, & were returned from all nations, whither they had but dwelt, to dwel in the land of Iudah:

6 Euen men and women, & children, and the kings daughters, and euery person, that Nebuzaradan the chiefe steward had left with Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, the sonne of Shaphan, and Jeremiahs the Prophet, and Baruch the sonne of Neriah.

7 So they came into the land of Egypt: for they obeyed not the voyce of the Lorde: thus came they to Tahpanhes.

8 Then came the word of the Lorde vnto Ieremiah in Tahpanhes, saying,

9 Take great stones in thine hand, and hide them in the clay in the bucke kil, which is at the curie of Pharaohs house in Tahpanhes in the sight of the men of Iudah,

10 And saue vnto them, Thus saith the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, Behold, I will send and bring Nebuchadnezzar the King of Babel my seruant, and wil set his throne by these stones that I haue hid, and he shall spread his pawlion ouer them.

11 And when he shall come, he shall smite the land of Egypt: such as are appointed for death, to death, and such as are for captiuitie, to captiuitie, and such as are for the sword, to the sword.

12 And I will kindle a fire in the houses of the gods of Egypt, and he shall burne them and carry them away captiues, and he shall ar himselfe with the land of Egypt, as a shepheard putteth on his garment, & shall depart from thence in peace.

13 Hee shall breake also the images of Beth-hemelch, that is in the land of Egypt, and the houses of the gods of the Egyptians shall he burne with fire.

CHAP. XLIIII.

Here prouoketh the people for their idolatrie. 15 They that set light by the threatening of the Lorde, are chastened. 26 The destruction of Egypt and of the Iewes therein, is prophesied.

1 The word that came to Ieremiah concerning all the Iewes, which dwel in the land of Egypt, and remained at Migdol and at Tahpanhes, and at Memphis, and in the countrey of Pathos, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, We haue seene all the euil that I haue brought vpon Ierusalem, and vpon all the cities of Iudah: and behold, this day they are desolate, and no man dwelleth therein,

3 Because of their wickednesse which they haue committed, to prouoke me to anger in that they went to burrie me to euill, and to serue ot her gods, whom they knewe not, neither they nor their fathers.

ending them, saying, Oh doe not this abominable thing that I hate.

5 But they would not heare noy incline their care to turne from their wickednes, and to burne no moze incense vnto other gods.

6 Wherefore my wrath, and mine anger was powred forth & was kindled in the cities of Iudah, and in the streets of Ierusalem, and they are desolate, and wasted, as appeareth this day.

7 Therefore now thus saith the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, Wherefore continue ye this great euill against your soules, to cut off from you man and woman, child and sucking out of Iudah, and leaue you none to remaine?

8 In that ye prouoke mee vnto wrath with the workes of your handes, burning incense vnto other gods in þe land of Egypt whether ye be come to dwell: that ye might bring destruction vnto your selues & that ye might be a curse and a reproch among all nations of the earth.

9 Haue ye forgotten the wickednes of your fathers, and the wickednes of the kings of Iudah and the wickednes of their wiues and your owne wickednes and þe wickednes of your wiues, which they haue committed in the land of Iudah and in the streets of Ierusalem?

10 They are not humbled vnto this day, neither haue they feared, nor walked in my lawe nor in my statutes, that I set before you and before your fathers.

11 Therefore thus saith the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, Behold, I wil set my face against you * to euil and to destroy all Iudah, 12 And I wil take the remnant of Iudah, that e haue fet their faces to go into the land of Egypt there to dwell, and they shall all be consumed and fall in the lande of Egypt: they shall euen be consumed by the sword and by the famine: they shall die from the least vnto the most, by the sword, and by the famine, and they shall be a desolation and an astonishment and a curse and a reyoche.

13 For I wil visite them that dwell in the land of Egypt, as I haue visited Ierusalem, by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence.

14 So that noye of þe remnant of Iudah, which are gate into the land of Egypt to dwell there, shall escape or remaine, that they should returne into the land of Iudah to the which they haue a desire to returne to dwell there: for none shall returne, but s such as shall escape.

15 Then all the men which knewe that their wiues had burnt incense vnto other gods and all the women that stood by, a great multitude, euen all the people that dwell in the lande of Egypt in Balthos, answered Ieremiah, saying,

16 The word that thou hast spoken vnto vs in the name of the Lorde, we wil not heare it of thee, h This declaration how dangerous a thing it is to decline once from God, & to follow our owne fantasies: for Satan euer solicited such and doeth not leave them til he haue brought them to extreme impudencie and madnes, euen to iustifie their wickednes against God & his Prophets.

17 But we will do whatsoeuer thing goeth out of our owne mouth, as to burne incense vnto þe Queene of heauen, and to poure out drinke offerings vnto her, as we haue done, both we and our fathers, our kings and our princes in the cities of Iudah, & in þe streets of Ierusalem: for then had we plenty of victuals and were wel and felt none euill.

18 But since we left of to burne incense to the Queene of heauen, & to poure out drinke offerings vnto her, we haue had a scarcenesse of all things, and haue bene consumed by the sword and by the famine.

19 And when wee burnt incense to the Queene of heauen & poured out drinke offerings vnto her, did we make her cackles to make her glad, and poure out drinke offerings vnto her without our hyl bands?

20 Then said Ieremiah vnto all the people, to the men, and to the women, and to all the people which had giuen him that answer, saying,

21 Did not þe Lorde remember the incense, that ye burnt in the cities of Iudah, & in the streets of Ierusalem, both you, and your fathers, your kings, and your princes, and the people of the land, and hath he not considered it?

22 So that the Lorde could no longer forbear, because of the wickednes of your inuentions, and because of the abominations, which ye haue committed: therefore is your lande desolate and an astonishment, and a curse and without inhabitant, as appeareth this day.

23 Because ye haue burnt incense and because ye haue sinned against the Lorde, and haue not obeyed the vopre of the Lorde, nor walked in his law, nor in his statutes, nor in his testimonies, therefore this plague is come vpon you, as appeareth this day.

24 Whosoever Ieremiah said vnto all the people and to all the women, Heare the word of the Lorde, all Iudah that are in the land of Egypt.

25 I thus speaketh the Lorde of hostes, the God of Israel, saying, Ye and your wiues haue both spoken with your mouths, and fulfilled with your hands, saying, We wil performe our vowes that we haue vowed, to burne incense to the Queene of heauen, and to poure out drinke offerings to her: ye wil performe your vowes and doe the thinges that ye haue vowed.

26 Therefore heare þe word of þe Lorde, all Iudah that dwell in the land of Egypt. Beholde, I haue swoone by my great name, saith the Lorde, that my name shall not assured by Gods worde: for thereby they take an occasion to iustifie their doings, and their husbands shall giue an account thereof before God, reade Isa. 3. 25. Ebr. it is not come up into his heart? m You haue committed double euil in making wicked vowes, and in performing the same.

e He setteth before their eyes Gods iudgements against Iudah & Ierusalem for their idolatrie, that they might beware by their example, & not with the like wickednes prouoke the Lord: for then they should be double punished.

d He sheweth that we ought to keepe in memorie Gods plagues from þe beginning, that considering them, we might liue in his fear, & know, if he haue not spared our fathers, yea kings, princes, and rulers, and also whole countreies, and nations for their finnes, that we vile wornes cannot looke to escape punishment for ours.

n This declareth an horrible plague toward idolaters, seeing that God will not vouchsafe to haue his Name mentioned by such as haue polluted it, o We see therefore, that God hath a perpetual care ouer his, wherefoeuer they are scattered: for though they be but two or three, yet he will deliuer them when he deliueyeth his enemies. p He sheweth by means where-by they should be destroyed, to assure them of y^e certeinie of the plague, and yet they remaine til in their obstinacie till they perish: for Iosephus lib 10 de Antiq. chap 11. writeth that six yeere after the taking of Ierusalem, Nebuchad-nezzar the yonger, hauing overcome the Moabites and the Ammonites, went against Egypt, and slew the King, and sobrought these Iewes, and other into Babylon.

o shall no more be called by the mouth of any in the land of Egypt, saying, The Lord God liveth.
 27 Beholde, I will watche ouer them for euill, and not for good, and all men of Iudah that are in the lande of Egypt, shall be consumed by the sword, and by the famine, until they be utterly destroyed.
 28 Yet a small number that escape the sword, shall returne out of the lande of Egypt into the lande of Iudah: and all the remnant of Iudah that are gone into the land of Egypt to dwell there, shall knowe whoso wordes shall stand, mine or theirs.
 29 And this shall be a signe vnto you, saith the Lord, when I visite you in this place, that ye may knowe that my wordes shall surely stand against you for euill.
 30 Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I will giue Pharaoh Nophra king of Egypt into the hand of his enemies, and into the hand of them that seeke his life: as I gaue Zedekiah king of Iudah into the hand of Nebuchad nezzar king of Babel his enemy, who also sought his life.

 9 Come vp, ye horses, and rage ye charretts, and let valiant men come forth, the blacke speores, and the Lybians that beare the shield, and the Lydians that handle and bend the bowe.
 10 For this is the day of the Lord God of hostes, and a day of vengeance, that he may avenge him of his enemies: for the sword shall denouere, and it shall facitate, and made drunke with their blood: for the Lord God of hostes hath a sacrifice in the south countrey by the riuier Perath.

35 Howeſouer, I wil cauſe to ceaſe in Moab, ſaith the Lord, him that offered in the high places, and him that burneth incenſe to his gods.

36 Therefore mine heart ſhall ſound for Moab like a ſhaune, and mine heart ſhall ſound like a ſhaune for the men of ſar-heres, becauſe the riches that hee hath gotten, is periſhed.

37 For every head ſhal be balde, and every eare heard plucked vpon all the hands ſhal be cuttings, and vpon the loynes ſacked cloth.

38 And mourning ſhal be vpon all the houſe tops of Moab & in all the ſtreets thereof: for I haue broken Moab like a veſſell wherein is no pleaſure, ſaith the Lord.

39 They ſhal howle, ſaying, How is he deſtroyed: howe hath Moab turned the backe wch ſhaune? ſo ſhal Moab be a deriſion, and a feare to all them about him.

40 For thus ſaith the Lord, Beholde, he ſhal flee as an eagle, and ſhal ſpicae his wings ouer Moab.

41 The cities are taken and the ſtrong holds are wonne, and the mighty mens heartes in Moab at that day ſhal be as the heart of a woman in tranſaie.

42 And Moab ſhal be deſtroyed from being a people, becauſe he hath ſet vpon him ſelfe againſt the Lord.

43 Y feare, & pit & ſnare ſhal be vpon thee, O inhabitant of Moab, ſaith the Lord.

44 He that cleapeth from the ſcare, ſhall fall in the pitte, and he that getteth by out of the pit, ſhal be taken in the ſnare: for I wil bring vpon thee, euen vpon Moab, the peere of their viſitation, ſaith the Lord.

45 They that had, ſtoode vnder the ſhadowe of Heſhbon, becauſe of the ſnare: for the ſnare came out of Heſhbon, and a ſnare from Dibon, and denoured the corner of Moab, and the top of the tedious children.

CHAP. XLIX.

1 The word of the Lord against the Ammonites, 7 Idumea, 23 Damascus, 28 Kedar, 34 and Elam.

a They were separated from y Moabites by the riuer Arnon, and after that the ten tribes were caried away into captiuitie, they inuaded the countrey of Gad.
b To wit, of the Ammonites.
c Meaning, of the Israelites.
d Which was one of the chiefe cities of the Ammonites, as were Hesbon & Ai: there was also a citie called Hesbon among the Moabites.
e In thy plentifull countrey.
f Signifying that power & riches cannot preuaile when as God will execute his iudgements.
g That is, without looking back and as euery one can finde away to escape.
h In the time of Christ when the Gentiles shalbe called.
i Which was a citie of Edom called by the name of Teman Eliphaz sonne who came of Esau.
k The enemies that shal dissemble as though they fled away, shall turne back, and inuade your land, and possesse it.

Vnto the children of a Minnon thus saith the Lord, Hath Israel no sonnes? or hath he none heire? Why then hath thy king possessed Gad? and his people dwelt in his cities?

2 Therefore behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will cause a noyse of warre to be heard in Kabbah of the Ammonites, and it shalbe a desolate heape, and her daughters shalbe burnt with fire: then shall Israel possesse those that possessed him, saith the Lord.

3 Howle, O Heshbon, for it is wasted: crie ye daughters of Kabbah: giue you with sackcloth: mourne and runne to and fro by the hedges: for their king shall go into captiuitie, and his Priests, and his princes likewise.

4 Wherefore glouest thou in helle? thy valley floweth away, & rebellions daughter: she trusted in her treasures, saying, Who shall come vnto me?

5 Behold, I will bring a feare vpon thee, saith the Lord God of hostes, of all those that be about thee, and ye shalbe scattered euery man to his right forth, and none shal gather him thither.

6 And afterward I will bring againe the captiuitie of h children of Ammon.

7 O Edom thus saith the Lord of hostes, Is wisdom no more in Teman? is counsell perished from their children? is their wisdom banished?

8 Flee, ye inhabitants of Dedan (k they are turned backe, and haue consulted to dwell) for I haue brought the destruction of Esau vpon him, & the time of his visitation.

9 If the grave gatherers come to thee, would they not leaue some grapes? if thieues come by night, they wil destroy till they haue enough.

10 For I haue discovered Esau: I haue inuouered his secrets, and he shall not be able to hide himselfe: his seed is wasted, and his brethren and his neighbours, and there shalbe none to say,

11 Leane thy fatherles children, and I wil pferue them alme, and let thy widows trust in me.

12 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, they shall inuade your land, and possesse it. 1 Meaning, that God would vtterly destroy them, and not spare one, though the grape gatherers leaue some grapes, and theeues seeke but till they haue ynough, Obad. 15. M The destruction shalbe so great, that there shalbe none left to take care ouer the widows, and fatherles, n I haue not spared mine owne people, and howe should I pitee thee?

whose iudgement was not to drinke of the cuppe, haue aduredly drunken, and art thou he that shall escape free? thou shalt not goe free, but thou shalt surely drinke of it.

13 For I haue swoyne by my selfe, saith the Lord, that Bozrah shalbe waste, and for a reppoche, & a desolation, and a curse, and all the cities thereof shalbe perpetual desolations.

14 I haue heard a runour from p Lord, and an ambassadour is sent vnto the heathen, saying, Gather you together, and come againt her, and rise vp to the battell.

15 For loe, I will make thee but small among the heathen, and despised among men.

16 Thy feare, & the pride of thine heart hath deceiued thee, thou that dwellest in the clefts of the rocke, and keepst the height of the hill: though thou shouldst make thy nest as hee as the eagle, I will bring thee downe from thence, saith the Lord.

17 I also Edom shalbe desolate: euery one that goeth by it, shalbe astonished, and that hiss at all the plagues thereof,

18 As in the ouerthrowe of Sodom, & of Gomorrah, & the places thereof erre about, saith the Lord: no man shal dwell there, neither shall the sonnes of men remaine in it.

19 Beholde, he shal come by like a Lyon from the swelling of Jordan vnto the strong dwelling place: for I will make Israel to rest, euen I will make him to haste away from her, & who is a chosen man that I may appoyne againt her? for who is like me? & who will appoyne me the time? and who is the Shepheard that will stand before me?

20 Therefore heare the counsel of h Lord that he hath deuised againt Edom, & his purpose that he hath conceived againt the inhabitants of Teman: surely by the least of the flocke that draw them out: surely he shal make their habitations desolate with them.

21 The earth is moued at h noise of their fall: the crie of their voyce is heard in the red Sea.

22 Beholde, he shall come by, and flie as the eagle, & and spred his wings ouer Bozrah, and at that day shall the heart of the strong men of Edom be as the heart of a woman in trauaile.

23 I vnto y Damascus he saith, Hamath is confounded & Arpad, for they haue heard euill tidings, and they are faint hearted as one on the fearefull sea that cannot rest.

24 Damascus is discouraged, & turneth her selfe to flight: and feare hath seled her: anguish and sorowes haue taken her as a woman in trauaile.

 28 I vnto Kebar, and to the kingdoms of Hazor, which Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel shall smite, thus sayth the Lord, the Lord, and go by vnto Kebar, and destroy the men of the East.
 29 Their tents and their flocks shall they take away: pea, they shall take to them lettes their curtains, and all their vessels, & their camels & they shall cree vnto them, Feare is on euery side.
 30 Flee, get you farre of: they haue consulted to dwell in penhabitants of Hazor, sayth the Loide: for Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel hath taken counsell againt pou, and hath deuised a purpose againt pou.
 31 Arise, and get pou by vnto the welsh nation that dwelleth without care, sayth the Loide, which haue neither gates nor barres, but dwell alone.
 32 And their camels shall be a botie, and the multitude of their cattell a spoyle, and I will scatter them into all winds, and to the yemost corners, and I will bring their destruction from al the sides thereof, sayth the Lord.
 33 And Hazor shall be a dwelling for dragons, and desolation for euer: there shall no man dwell there, nor the sonnes of men remaine in it.
 34 The words of the Lord that came to Ieremiah the Propheet, concerning Elam, in the beginning of the reigne of Zedekiah king of Iudah, saying,
 35 Thus sayth the Loide of holles, the Lord, I will breake the bow of Elam, even the chiefe of their strength.
 36 And vpon Elam I will bring foure winds from the foure quarters of heauen, and wil scatter them towards all these windes, and there shall be no nation, whither the fugitiues of Elam shall not come.
 37 For I will cause Elam to be a frayde before their enemies, and before them that seeke their liues, and wil bring vpon them a plague, even the indignation of my wrath, saith the Lord, and I will send the sword after them till I haue consumed them.
 38 And I wil set up i thone in Elam, and I wil destroy both the king & the princes from thence, sayth the Loide: but in the latter dayes I wil bring againe the captiuitie of Elam, sayth the Loide.

C H A P. L.

He prophesieth the destruction of Babylon, and the deliurance of Israel, which was in captiuitie.

The word that the Lord spake, concerning Babel, and concerning the land of the Caldeans by the munisterie of Ieremiah the Propheet.
 2 Declare among the nations, and publish it, and set by a standart, proclaim it and conceale it not: say, Babel is taken, Babel is confounded, Babel is broken downe: her idoles are confounded, and their images are burst in pieces.

 3 For out of the North there cometh by a nation againt her, which shall make her laude waste, and none shall dwell therein: they shall flee, and depart, both in a and beast.
 4 In those dayes, and at that time, sayth the Lord, the children of Israel shall come, they, and the children of Iudah together, going, and weeping shall they go, and seeke the Lord their God.
 5 They shall aske the waie to Zion, with their faces thitherwarde, saying, Come, and let vs cleaue to the Loide in a perpetual covenant that shall not be forgotten.
 6 For people hath bene as lost sheepe: they thep heards haue caused them to go astray, and haue turned them away to the mountaines: they haue gone from s mountaine to hill, and forgotten their resting place.
 7 All that founde them, haue denoured them, and their enemies sayde, We defend not, because they haue sinned againt the Lord, the habitation of iustice, euen the Loide the hope of their fathers.
 8 Flee from the middes of Babel, and depart out of the land of the Caldeans, and be ye as the hee goates before the flocks.
 9 For lo, I will raise, and raise to come by againt Babel a multitude of mighty nations from the South countrey, and they shall set them selues in aray againt her, wherby shee shall be taken: their arrowes shall bee as of a strong man, which is expert, for none shall returne in vaine.
 10 And Caldea shall be a spoyle: all that spoyle her, shall be satisfied, sayth the Lord.
 11 Because pe were gladd and rrioped in destroying mine heritage, & because pe are grolwen fat, as the calves in the graffe, and as uped like strong horses,
 12 Therefore your mother shall be confounded, and she that bare pou, shall be ashamed: beholde, the breemost of the nations shall be a desert, a drie land, and a wilderness.
 13 Because of the wrath of the Loide it shall not be inhabited, but shall be wholly desolate: euen on that gooth by Babel, shall be astonishd, and shall al her plagues.
 14 But your selues in aray againt Babel round about: al pe that bend the bowe, shoot at her, spare no arrowes: for she hath sinned againt the Loide.
 15 Crie againt her round about: she hath giuen her hand: her foundations are fallen, and her walles are destroyed: shee, and to profree themselves, it is here called siare, yielded or made peace.

By hand, for it is the vengeance of the Lord: take vengeance vpon her: as she hath done, doe vnto her.

- 16 Destroy the tower from Babel, and him that handleth the siet in the time of harvest: because of the sword of the oppressour they shall turne every one to his people, and they shall see every one to his owne land.
- 17 Israel is like scattered sheepe: the yrons haue disperfed them: first the King: of Asshur hath denoured him, and last this Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel hath broken his bones.
- 18 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Beholde, I will visite the King of Babel, and his land, as I haue visited the King of Asshur.
- 19 And I will bring Israel againe to his habitation: he shall feede on Carmel and Bashan, and his soule shall be satisfied vpon the mount Ephraim and Gilad.
- 20 In those dayes, and at that time, saith the Lord, the iniquitie of Israel shall be sought for, and there shall be none: and the finnes of Judah, and they shall not be found: for I will be mercifull vnto them, whom I reuerne.
- 21 Go by against the land of the rebels, euen against it, and against the inhabitants of Dekod: destroy, and lape it waste after them, saith the Lord, and do according to all that I haue commanded thee.
- 22 A drie of battell is in the land, & of great destruction.
- 23 Houe is the hammer of the whole world destroyed, and broken! houe is Babel become desolate among the nations!
- 24 I haue sinned thee, and thou art taken, O Babel, & thou wast not aware: thou art founde, and also caught, because thou hast struen against the Lord.
- 25 The Lorde hath opened his treasure, and hath brought forth the weapons of his wrath: for this is the worke of the Lord God of hostes in the lande of the Caldeans.
- 26 Come against her from the utmost border: open her store houses: tread on her as on the heaues, and destroy her utterly: let nothing of her be left.
- 27 Destroy all her bullocks: let them goe downe to the slaughter. Wo vnto them, for their day is come, & the time of their visitation.
- 28 The voyce of them that flee, and escape out of the land of Babel to declare in Zion the vengeance of the Lorde our God, and the vengeance of his Temple.
- 29 Call by the archers against Babel: alpe that bend the bow, besiege it round about: let none thereof escape: * rescompence her according to her worke, and according to all that she hath done, doe vnto her: for she hath bene proude

- against the Lord, euen against the holy one of Israel.
- 30 Therefore shall her pong men fall in the streetes, and all her men of warre shall be destroyed in that day, saith the Lord.
- 31 Beholde, I come vnto thee, O proude man, saith the Lord God of hostes: for thy day is come, euen the time that I will visite thee.
- 32 And the proude shall stumble and fall, and none shall raise him vp: and I will kindle a fire in his cities, and it shall deuoure all round about him.
- 33 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, The children of Israel, and the children of Judah were oppressed together: and all that tooke them captiues, helde them, & would not let them go.
- 34 But their strong redeemer, whose name is the Lorde of hostes, hee shall mainteine their cause, that hee may giue rest to the land, & disquiet the inhabitants of Babel.
- 35 A sword is vpon the Caldeans, saith the Lord, and vpon the inhabitants of Babel, and vpon her princes, and vpon her wise men.
- 36 A sword is vpon the soothsayers, and they shall dote: a sword is vpon her strong men, and they shall be afraid.
- 37 A sword is vpon their horses, and vpon their charcts, and vpon all the multitude that are in the middes of her, & they shall be like women: a sword is vpon her treasures, and they shall be spoiled.
- 38 A drought is vpon her waters, and they shall be dried vp: for it is the lande of grauen images, and they dote vpon their idoles.
- 39 Therefore shall Zims with the Sims shall dwell there, and the striches shall dwell therein: for it shall be no more inhabited, neither shall it bee inhabited from generation vnto generation.
- 40 As God destroyed Sodom and Gomorah with the places thereof neere about, saith the Lord: so shall no man dwell there, neither shall the soume of man remaine therein.
- 41 Beholde, a people shall come from the North, & a great nation, and many kings shall be raised by from the coasts of the earth.
- 42 They shall holde the bowe and the buckler: they are cruel and vniuersal: their voyce shall roare like the sea, and they shall ride vpon horses, and be put in aray like men to the battel against thee, O daughter of Babel.
- 43 The King of Babel hath heard the report of them, and his haubes waxed feeble: for he came vpon him, euen for he came as of a woman in traualle.

By these three nations he meaneth Armenia the hyer, & Armenia the lower, & Scythia: for Cyrus had gathered an armie of diuers nations.

r By turning the course of the riuer, one side was made open, and the reedes that did growe in the water, were destroyed, which Cyrus did by the counsel of Gobia, and Gabatha Belshazzars captaines.
r When the shalbe cut vp and threshed.
e This is spoken in the person of the Iewes, bewailing their state & the crueltie of the Babylonians.
v Thus y^e Lorde esteemeth the iniurie done to his church as done to himselfe, because their cause is his.
x When they are inflamed wth surieting and drinking, I will feast with them, alluding to Belshazzars banquet, Dan. 5. 2.

the kingdoms of Ararat, Armini, & Alichenas against her: appoint the prince against her: cause hoies to come by as the rough caterpillers.
28 Prepare against her the nations with the kings of the Medes, the dukes thereof, and the princes thereof, and all the land of his dominion.
29 And the lande shall tremble and sorrow: for the denice of the Lorde shall be performed against Babel, to make the land of Babel waste without an inhabitant.
30 The strong men of Babel haue ceased to fight: they haue remayned in theyr holdes: their strength hath failed, and they were like women: they haue burnt her dwelling places, and her barres are broken.
31 A polle shall runne to meet the poste, & a messenger to meete the messenger, to shew the king of Babel, that his cite is taken on a suddaine thereof.
32 And that the passages are stopped, & the reedes burnt with fire, and the men of warre troubled.
33 For thus saith y^e Lord of hosts the God of Israel, The daughter of Babel is like a chyrching hore: the time of her chyrching is come: get a litle while, and the time of her hartnest shall come.
34 Menechab-nezar the king of Babel hath denoued me, and destroyed me: he hath made me an empty vessel: he swallowed me vp like a dragon, and filled his belly with my delicates, & hath cast me out.
35 The spoyle of me, and that which was left of me, is brought vnto Babel, I shall the inhabitant of Zion say: a my blood vnto the inhabitants of Caldea, shall Jerusalem say.
36 Therefore thus saith the Lorde, Behold, I will mainteine the cause, and take vengeance for thee, and I will dye by the sea, and dye by yer spunges.
37 And Babel shall be as heapes, a dwelling place for dragons, an astonishment, and an hiding, without an inhabitant.
38 They shall roare together like lions, & yell as the lions whelpes.
39 In their heat I will make the feastes, and I will make them drunken, that they may reioice, and sleepe a perpetual sleepe, and not wake, saith the Lorde.
40 I will bring them downe like lambes to the slaughter, and like rams & goats.
41 How is y^e Shephach taken! and how is the glory of the whole earth taken! how is Babel become an astonishment among the nations!
42 The sea is come by vpon Babel: she is covered with the multitude of the waues thereof.
43 Her cities are desolate: the lande is drie and a wilderness, a land wherein no man dwelleth, neither doeth the sonne of man passe thereby.
44 I will also visite Belim Babel, & I will bring out of his mouth, that which he hath swallowed by, and the nations shall runne no more vnto him, & the wal of Babel shall fall.

45 My people, go out of the mids of her, and deliuer ye euerie man his soule fro the fierce wrath of the Lorde, 46 Least your heart euen faint, & ye feare the rumour, that shall be heard in the land: the rumour shall come this pere, & after that in the other b pere shall come a rumour, and crueltie in the land, and ruler against ruler.
47 Therefore beholde, the dayes come, that I will visite the images of Babel, & the whole land shall be confounded, & all her name shall fall in the mids of her.
48 Then the heauen and the earth, and all that is therein shall reioice for Babel: for the destroyers shall come vnto her from the North, sayth the Lorde.
49 As Babel caused the name of Israel to fall, so by Babel the name of all the earth did fall.
50 Perce that hee hath esayed the worde, go away, stand not still: remember the Lorde a furre of, and let Jerusalem come into your minde.
51 We are confounded because we haue heard reproche: shame hath covered our faces, for strangers are come vnto the Sanctuaries of the Lordes House.
52 Wherefore beholde, the dayes come, saith the Lorde, that I will visite her grauen images, and through all her lande the wounded shall grone.
53 Though Babel should mount by to syes heauen, and though she should defende her strength on hir, yet from mee shall her destroyers come, sayeth the Lorde.
54 A sound of a crie cometh from Babel, and great destruction from the land of the Caldeans.
55 Because the Lorde hath layde Babel waste, and destroyed from her the great voyce, and her waues shall roare like great waters, and a sounde was made by their noise.
56 Because the destroyer is come vpon her, euen vpon Babel, and her strong men are taken, their bowes are broken: for the Lorde God that recompenceth, shall surely recompence.
57 And I will make drunke her princes, and her wise men, her dukes, and her nobles, and her strong men: and they shall sleepe a perpetual sleepe, and not g wake, sayth the King, whose name is the Lorde of hostes.
58 Thus saith the Lorde of hostes, The thicke wall of Babel shall be broken, and her hig gates shall be burnt wth fire, and the people shall labour in vaine, and the folke in the fire, for they shall be wearie.
59 The word which Jeremiah the Prophet commanded Sheraiah the sonne of Neriah, the sonne of Maathiah, when he went with Zedekiah the King of Iudah thicke.

b Meaning, that Babylon should not be destroyed all at once, but by litle and litle should be brought to nothing: for the first yere came the tidings, the next yere the siege, and in the third yere it was taken: yet this is not that horrible destruction which the Prophets threatened in many places: for that was after this, when they rebelled & Darius ouercame them by the policie of Zopyrus & hanged three thousand gentlemen besides the common people.
c All creatures in heauen and earth shall reioyce and praise God for the destruction of Babylon the great enemy of his Church.
d Babylon did not only destroy Israel, but many other nations.
e Ye that are now captiues in Babylon.
f He sheweth how they should remember Jerusalem by lamenting the miserable affliction thereof.
g For the walles were two hundred thote hie.
h I will so astonish them by afflictions that they shall not knowe which way to turne them.
i The thickness of the wall was of fittie foote Iudah thicke.

k This was not in the time of his captiuitie, but seuen yeres before, when he went either to gratulate Nebuchad-nezzar, or to intreat of some matters. l S. Iohn in his reuelation alludeth to this place, when he saith that the Angel tooke a millstone and cast into the sea: signifying thereby the destruction of Babylon, Reue. 18. 21. m They shall not be able to resist, but shall labour in vaine.

Judah into Babel, in the 4th fourth yeere of his reigne: and thus S'heraiah was a peaceable puiuce.
 60 So Jeremiahs wrote in a booke al the euil that should come vpon Babel: euen all these things, that are writen aganist Babel.
 61 And Jeremiahs spake to S'heraiah, When thou comest vnto Babel, and shalt see, and shalt reade all these words, 62 Then shalt thou say, O Lord, thou hast spoken aganist this place, to destroy it, that none should remaine in it, neither man nor beast, but that it should be desolate for euer.
 63 And when thou hast made an ende of reading this booke, thou shalt binde a stone to it, and cast it in the middes of Euphrates, 64 And shalt say, Thus shall Babel be brownd, and shal not rise from the euil, that I will bring vpon her: and they shal be wearie. Thus saue are the wordes of Jeremiahs.

CHAP. LII.

4 Jerusalem is taken, 10 Zedekiahs sonnes are killed before his face, and his eyes put out, 13 The cite is burn'd, 31 Iehoiachin is brought fourth of prison, and sed like a King.

1 Zedekiah was one and twenty yere old when he began to reigne, and he reigned eleuen yeres in Ierusalem, & his mothers name was Hamutal, h daughter of Jeremiahs of Libnah.
 2 And he did euil in the eyes of the Lord, according to all that Iehoiakim had done.
 3 ^a Doubtlesse because the wraoth of the Lord was aganist Ierusalem and Judah, till he had call them out from his presence, therefore Zedekiah rebelled aganist the king of Babel.
 4 ^b But in the ninth yere of his reigne, in the tenth moneth the tenth day of the moneth came Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, he and all his host aganist Ierusalem, and pitched aganist it, & built fortres aganist it round about.
 5 So the cite was besieged vnto the eleuenty yere of the king Zedekiah.

6 Howe in the fourth moneth, the ninth day of the moneth, the famine was soze in the cite, so that there was no moze bread for the people of the land.
 7 Then the cite was broken vp and all the men of warre fled, and went out of the cite by night, by the way of the gate betwene the two walles, which was by the kinges garden: (nowe the Caldeans were by the cite rounde about) and they went by the way of the wilderness.
 8 But the armie of the Caldeans pursued after the king, and tooke Zedekiah in the desert of Tericho, and all his hoste was scattered from him.
 9 Then they tooke the king and caried him vnto the king of Babel to Babilah in the land of Hamath, where he gaue iudgement vpon him.

10 And the king of Babel sawe the sonnes of Zedekiah, before his eyes: he sawe also all the puiuces of Judah in Babilah.
 11 Then he put out the eyes of Zedekiah, and the king of Babel bounde him in chaines, and caried him to Babel, & put him in prison til the day of his death.
 12 Howe in the fift moneth in the 10th tenth day of the moneth (which was the 10th tenth yere of the king Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel) came Nebuzar-adan chiefe steward which was before the king of Babel in Ierusalem, 13 And burnt the House of the Lord, and the kings house, and all the houses of Ierusalem, & al the great houses burnt he with fire.
 14 And all the armie of the Caldeans that were with the chiefe steward, brake downe all the walles of Ierusalem round about.
 15 Then Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward caried away captiue certaine of the poore of the people, and the residue of the people that remained in the cite, and those that were fledde, and fallen to the king of Babel, with the rest of the multitude.

16 But Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward left certaine of the poore of the lande, to bestle the vines, and to til the land.
 17 Also the pillers of brasse that were in the House of the Lord, and the basins, and the basen Sea, that was in the House of the Lord, the Caldeans brake, and caried all the brasse of them to Babel.
 18 The portes also and the besomes, and the instrumens of musike, and the basins, and the incense dishes, and all the vessels of brasse wherewith they ministered, tooke they away.
 19 And the bowles, and the alshpannes, and the basins, and the portes, and the candlesticks, and the incense dishes, and the cypres, and all that was of gold, and that was of siluer, tooke the chiefe steward away.
 20 Also the two pillers, one Sea, and twelue basen bulles, that were vnder the bases, which King Salomon had made in the House of the Loyde: the brasse of all these vessels was without weight.
 21 And concerning the pillers, the height of one piller was eightene cubites, and a third of twelue cubites did compass it, and the thickeesse thereof was foure fingers: it was hollow.
 22 And a chapter of brasse was vpon it, and the height of one chapter was fife cubites with networke, and poinegrates vpon the chapters round about, al of brasse: the second piller also, & the poinegrates were like vnto these.
 23 And there were ninetie and fife poinegrates on a side: and al the poinegrates vpon the nette woike were an hundred round about.

d In the 2. King 25. 8. it is called the seventh day, because the fire began then, and so continued to the tenth.

m Which was the latter end of the seventh yere of his reigne & the beginning of the eight.

n In the latter end also of that yere, and the beginning of the nineteenth.

14 And the chiefe steward tooke Shereisah the chiefe Priest, & Zephaniah the second Priest, & the thre keepers of the doore.

25 He tooke also out of the cite an Eunucho, which had the oversight of the men of warre, & 1 seuen men that were in h Kings presence, which were found in the cite, and Sopher captaine of the host who mustred h people of the land, and thre scoe men of the people of the land, that were found in the middes of the cite.

26 Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward tooke them, & brought them to the King of Babel to Riblah.

27 And the King of Babel snote them, and selwe them in Riblah, in the land of Hamath: thus Judah was caried away captiue out of his owne land.

28 ¶ This is the people, whome Nebuchad-nezzar caried away captiue, in the 7 seuenth yere, euen thre thousande Jewes, and thre and twentie.

29 In the 18 eighteenth yere of Nebuchad-nezzar he caried away captiue from Jerusalem right hundredeth thirtie and two persons.

30 In the thre and twentieth yere of Nebuchad-nezzar, Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward caried away captiue of the Jewes seuen hundredeth fourtie and five persons: all the persons were foure thousand and six hundredeth.

31 And in the seuen and thirtieth yere of the captiuitie of Jehoiachin King of Judah, in the twelfth moneth, in h five and twentieth day of the moneth, Merodach King of Babel, in the first yere of his reigne, lifted by the head of Jehoiachin King of Judah, and brought him out of prison.

32 And spake kindly vnto him, and set his throne aboue h throne of the Kings, that were with him in Babel.

33 And changed his prison garments, and he did continually eat bread before him all the dayes of his life.

34 His porcion was a continual porcion of the King of Babel, euer day a certaine, all the dayes of his life until he dyed.

LAMENTATIONS.

CHAP. I.

1 The Prophet bewaileth the miserable estate of Ierusalem, & sheweth that they are plagued because of their finnes. The first and second chapter begin euery verse according to the letters of the Ebrewe Alphabet. The third hath three verses for euery letter, and the fourth is as the first.

I

2 We doctly the cite remaine solitary that was full of people: she is as a widow: she that was great among h nations and p rincesse among the prouinces, is made tributarie.

2 She weepeth continually in the night, and her teares run downe by her cheeks: among all her louers, she hath none to comfort her: all her friends haue dealt unfaithfully with her, and are her enemies.

3 Judah is caried away captiue, because of affliction, & because of great seruitude: she dwelleth among the heathen, and findeth no rest: all her persecuters tooke her in the straites.

4 The widdes of Zion lament, because no man cometh to the solenne feast: all her gates are desolate: her Priestes sigher their virgins are discomfited, and she is in heauinesse.

5 Her aduersaries are the chief, and her enemies mocke her: for the Lord hath afflicted her, for h multitude of her transgressions, and her children are gone into captiuitie before the enemy.

6 And from the daughter of Zion all her beaurie is departed: her princes are become like hartes that finde no pasture, & they are gone without strength before the pursuer.

7 Ierusalem remembred the daies of her affliction, and of her rebellion, and all her pleasant things, that she had in times past, when her people set into the hand of the enemy, and none did helpe her: the aduersaries saw her, and did mocke at her Sabbaths.

8 Ierusalem hath grievously sinned, therefore she is in derision: all that honour red her, despise her, because they haue seene her filthines: yea, she sigheth and turneth backward.

9 Her filthines is in her skirts: she remembered not her last ende, therefore she came downe woefullly: she had no comforter: O Lord, beholde mine affliction: for the enemy is proud.

10 The enemy hath stretched out his hand vpon all her pleasant things: for she hath seene the heathen enter into her Sanctuarie, whom thou diddest command, that they should not enter into the Church.

11 All her people sigh & seeke their bread: they haue giuen their pleasant things for meat to refresh the soules: O Lord, and consider: for I am become vile.

12 Haue ye no regard, all ye that passe by: his way beholde, and see, if there be any sorrow like vnto my sorow, which is done vnto me, where is the Lord hath afflicted me in h day of his fierce wrath.

14 The y poke of my transgressions is bound vpon his hand: they are wrapped, and come vp vpon my necke: he hath made my strength to fail: the Lord hath deliuered me into their handes, neither am I able to rise vp.

15 The Lord hath troden vnder foote all my valiant men in the middes of mee: he hath called an assemblie against mee to destroy my pong men: the Lord hath troden y the wine presse vpon the virgin the daughter of Iudah.

16 For these things I weep: mine eye, euen mine eye casteth out water, because the comforter y should refresh my soule, is farre from mee: my children are desolate, because the enemy persecuted.

17 Zion stretcheth out her hands, & there is none to comfort her: the Lord hath appointed y enemies of Iacob round about him: Jerusalem is as a menstruous woman in the middes of them.

18 The Lord is righteous: for I haue rebelled against his " commandement: heare, I pray you, all people & beholde my sorrow: my virgins and my pong men are gone into captiuitie.

19 I called for my louers, but they deceyued me: my Priests and mine Elders perished in the cite while they sought their meat to refresh their soules.

20 Behold, O Lord, how I am troubled: my bowels swell; mine heart is turned within me, for I am full of heaumes: the twoyde spopleth abroade, as death doeth at home.

21 They haue heard that I mourne, but there is none to comfort me: all mine enemies haue heard of my trouble, & are glad, that thou hast done it: thou wilt bring the day, that thou hast pronounced, and they shall be like vnto me.

22 Let all their wickednes come before thee: do vnto them, as thou hast done vnto me, for all my transgressions: for my sighes are many, and mine heart is heaume.

CHAP. II.

1 How hath the Loyde y darkened the daughter of Zion in his wrath; and hath cast downe from y heauen vnto the earth the beautie of Israel, and remembered not his y footstoolle in the day of his wrath!

2 The Lord hath destroyed all the habitations of Iacob, and not spared: he hath throwne downe in his wrath the strong holdes of the daughter of Iudah: he hath cast them down to the ground: he hath polluted the kingdome and the princes thereof.

3 He hath cut of in his fierce wrath all the y home of Israel: he hath drawne backe his y right hande from before the enemy, and there was kindred in Iacob like a flame of fire, which deuoured round about.

4 He hath bet his bow like an enemy: his right hand was stretched vp as an aduersarie, & slew at that was pleasant to the eye in y tabernacle of y daughter of Zion: he poured out his wrath like fire.

5 The Lord was as an enemy: he hath deuoured Israel, & consumed at his palaces: he hath destroyed his strong holdes, and hath increased in the daughter of Iudah lamentation and mourning.

6 For he hath destroyed his tabernacle, as a garden, he hath destroyed his congregation: the Lord hath caused y feastes and Sabbathes to be forgotten in Zion, and hath despised in the indignation of his wrath the King and the Priest.

7 The Lord hath forsaken his altar: he hath abhorred his Sanctuarie: he hath giuen into the hande of the enemy the walles of her palaces: they haue made a snople in the House of the Lord, as in the day of Iolemitic.

8 The Lord hath determined to destroy the wal of y daughter of Zion: he stretched out a line: he hath not withdrawn his hand from destroying: therefore he made the rampart y and the wall to lamine: they were destroyed together.

9 Her gates are sunke to the ground: he hath destroyed and broken her barres: her King and her Princes are among the Gentiles: the Law is no more, neither can her Prophets y receiue any vision from the Lord.

10 The elders of the daughter of Zion sit vpon the grounde, & keepe silence: they haue cast vp dust vpo their heads: they haue girded themselves with sackcloth: the virgins of Jerusalem hang downe their heades to the ground.

11 Mine eyes do feele with teares: my bowels swell: my liver is polished vpon the earth, for the destruction of the daughter of my people, because the children and sucklings y twone in the streets of the cite.

12 They haue sayde to their mothers, Where is y bread and drinke: why they swoned as the wounded in the streets of the cite, and when they y gaue by the ghost in their mothers bowome.

13 What thing shall I take to witness for thee? what thing shall I compare to thee, O daughter Jerusalem? what shall I liken to thee, that I may comfort thee, O virgine daughter Zion? for thy breache is great like the sea: who can heale thee?

14 Thy Prophets haue looked out vaine, and foolish things for thee, & they haue not discovered thine iniquitie, to turne away thy captiuitie, but haue looked out for thee false y prophecies, & causes of banishment.

21 The pong and the olde lie on the ground in the ſtreets: my virgins and my pong men are fallen by the ſwoord: thou haſt ſlain them in the day of thy wraath: thou haſt killed and not ſpared.

22 Thou haſt called as in a ſolemne day my terrours round about, ſo that in the day of the Lordes wraath none eſcaped nor remained: thoſe that I haue nourished and brought by, hath mine enemy conſumed.

11 He hath ſtopped my ways, & pulled me in pieces: he hath made me deſolate.

12 He hath bent his bow and made me a marke for the arrow.

13 He cauſed the arrowes of his quiver to enter into my reins.

14 I was a deriſion to all my people, and their ſong all the day.

15 He hath filled me with bitterneſſes, and made me drunken with womne word.

16 He hath alſo broke my teeth to ſtones, and hath covered me with athes.

17 Thus my ſoule was ſarre of froe peace: I forgate proſperitie,

18 And I ſaid, My ſtrength & mine hope is periſhed from the Lord, 19 Remembering mine affliction, and my mourning, the wognt wood & the gall.

20 My ſoule hath them in remembrance, and is humbled in me.

21 I conſider that in mine heart: thereſfore haue I hope.

22 It is the Lordes mercies that wee are not conſumed, becauſe his compaſſions faile not.

23 They are renewed euery morning: great is thy faithfulneſſe.

24 The Lord is my portion, faith my ſoule: therefore will I hope in him.

25 The Lord is good vnto the, that truſt in him, & to the ſoule that ſeeketh him.

29 He putteth his mouth in the duſt, if there may be hope.

30 He queth his cheeke to him þ ſmiteth him: he is filled full with reproches.

31 For the Lord will not forſake for euer.

32 But though he ſend affliction, yet will hee haue compaſſion according to the multitude of his mercies.

33 For he doth not puniſh willingly, nor afflict the children of men,

34 In ſtamping vnder his feet all the priſoners of the earth,

35 In overthrowing the right of a man before the face of the moſt high, a The Prophet complaineth of the puniſhments and afflictions that he endured by the falſe Prophets and hypocrites, when he declared the deſtruction of Ierufalem, as Iere. 20. 2.

b He ſpeaketh this as one that felt Gods heavy judgments, which he greatly feared, & therefore ſeetheth the out with this ſincerity of words.

c This is a great tentation to the godly, when they ſee not the fruit of their prayers, & cauſeth them to thinke that they are not heard, which thing God vſeth to do, that they might pray more earneſtly and the oftner. d And keepeth me in hold, as a priſoner. e He hath no pitie on me.

59 O Lorde, thou hast sene my wrong, iudge thou my cause.
60 Thou hast sene all their vengeance, and all their deuises againt me, 61 Thou hast heard their reproche, O Lorde, and all their imaginations as againt me:
62 The lippes also of those that rose as againt me, & their whispering againt me continually.
63 Beholde, their sitting downe & their rising vp, howe I am their song.

3 Euen the dragons * drawe out the breasts, and giue suck to their young, but the daughter of my people is become cruell like the ^d ostriches in the wilderness.
4 The tongue of the sucking childe cleaueth to the rooffe of his mouth for thirst: the pong children aske bread, but no man breaketh it vnto them.
5 They that did feede delicately, perith in the streets: they that were brought vp in scarlet, embrace the dungue.
6 For the iniquitie of the daughter of my people is become greater then the sinne of Sodome, that was * destroyed as in a moment, and * none pitched camps againt her.
7 Her * Nazarites were purer then the snowe, and whiter then the milke: they were moze riddie in bodie, then the red precious stones: they were like polished sapphir.
8 Nowe their * vilage is blacker then a cole: they can not knowe them in the streetes: their skanne cleaueth to their bones: it is withered, like a stocke.
9 They that be flaine with the sword are better, then they that are killed with hunger: for they fade awaye as they were stricken through for ^f fruites of the field.
10 The handes of the pitifull women haue sodden their owne children, which were their meat in the destruction of the daughter of my people.
11 The Lord hath accomplished his indignation: hee hath powred out his fierre wrath, hee hath kindled a fire in Zion, which hath denoured the foundations thereof.
12 The Kings of the earth, and all the inhabitants of the worlde would not haue beleueed that the aduersarie and the enemy should haue entred into the gates of Ierusalem.
13 For the sinnes of her Prophetes, and the iniquities of her Priestes, that haue shedde the blood of the iust in the middes of her.
14 They haue wandred as blinde men ^h in the streetes, and they were polluted with blood, so that they would not touch their garments.
15 But they cryed vnto them, Depart, yee polluted, depart, depart, touch not: therefore they fled awaye, and wandred red: they haue laid among the heathen, They shall no more dwell there.
16 The * anger of the Lord hath scattered them, he wil no more regard them: ^k they reuerenced not the face of the Priests, nor had compassion of the Elders.

- 19 Our persecuters are swifter then the egles of the heauen: they pursued vs vpon the mountaines, and laped wait for vs in the wildernesses.
- 20 The ^m breath of our nostrils, the ⁿ noimied of the Loyde was taken in their nets, of whome we saide, Under his shadowe we shalbe preserved aliae among the heathen.
- 21 Reioyce and be gladde, ^o daughter Edom, that dwellest in the land of Wz, the cup also shall passe through vnto thee: thou shalt be drunken ^o and vomit.
- 22 Thy punishment is accomplished, ^o daughter Zion: he ^o will no more carry thee away into captiuitie, but he will visite thine iniquitie, ^o daughter Edom, he will discouer thy finnes.
- 6 We haue giuen our hands to the Epyptians, and to Asshur, to be satisfied with bread.
- 7 Our fathers haue sinned, and are not, and we haue borne their ^o iniquities.
- 8 Seruants haue ruled ouer vs, none would deliuer vs out of their hands.
- 9 We gate bur bread with the perill of our liues, because of the swoyde ^o of the wildernesses.
- 10 Our samne was blacke like as an o^uen because of the terrible famine.
- 11 They defiled the women in Zion, and the maides in the cities of Iudah.

THE ARGVMENT.

After that Ichoiachin by the counsell of Ieremiah and Ezekiel had yeelded him selfe to Nebuchadnezzar, and so went into captiuitie with his mother and diuers of his princes and of the people, certaine began to repent and murmure that they had obeyed the Prophets counsell, as though the thing which they had prophesied should not come to passe, and therefore their estate should be still miserable vnder the Caldeans. By reason whereof he confirmeth his former prophesies, declaring by newe visions and reuelations shewed vnto him that the cite should most certainly be destroyed, and the people grieuously tormented by Gods plagues, insomuch that they that remained, should be brought into cruell bondage. And lest the godly should despaire in these great troubles, he assureth them that God will deliuer his Church at his time appointed, and also destroy their enemies which either afflicted them, or reioyced in their miseries. The effect of the one and the other should chiefly be performed vnder Christ, of whome in this booke are many notable promises, and in whome the glory of the newe Temple should perfectly be restored. He prophesied these things in Caldea at the same time that Ieremiah prophesied in Iudah, and there beganne in the fist yeere of Ichoiachins captiuitie.

1 The time wherein Ezekiel prophesied and in what place. 3 His voyred. 5 The vision of the four beasts. 16 The vision of the throne.

I came to passe in the 23rd thirtieth yeere in the fourth month and in the first day of the month (as I was among the captiues by the river Chebar) that the heavens were opened and I sawe visions of God.

2 In the first daye of the month (which was the first yeere of King Zedechius captiuitie)

3 The word of the Lord came vnto Ezekiel the Priest, the sonne of Buzi, in the lande of the Caldeans, by the river Chebar, where the hande of the Lord was vpon him.

4 And I looked, and beholde, a whirles winde came out of the North, a great cloude and a fire wrapped about it, and a brightnesse was about it, and in the middes thereof, to wit, in the middes of the fire came out as the likenes of amber.

5 Also out of the middes thereof came the likenesse of foure^a beasts, & this was their forme: they had the appearance of a man,

6 And euery one had foure faces, and euery one had foure wings.

7 And their feete were straight feete, and the sole of their feete was like the sole of a calves foote, and they sparkled like the appearance of bright brasse.

8 And their hands of a man came out from vnder their wings in the foure parts of them, and they foure had their faces, and their wings.

9 They were ioyned by their wings one to another, and when they went forth, they returned not, but euery one went straight forward.

10 And the similitude of their faces was as the face of man: and they foure had the face of a lyon on the right side, & they foure had the face of a bullocke on the left side: they foure also had the face of an eagle.

11 Thus were their faces: but their wings were spred out about: two wings of euery one were ioyned one to another, and two covered their bodies.

12 And euery one went straight forward: they went whither their spirit led them, and they returned not vnto their went forth.

13 The similitude also of the beasts, and their appearance was like burning coles of fire, & like the appearance of lamps: for the fire ran among the beasts, & the fire gaue a glister, & out of the fire there went lightening.

14 And the beasts ran, and returned like vnto lightening.

15 Now as I beheld the beasts, behold, A wheele appeared vpon the earth by the beasts, hauing foure faces.

16 The facion of the wheeles and their worke was like vnto a chrysolite: and they foure had one forme, and their facion, and their work was as one wheele in another wheele.

17 When they went, they went vpon their foure sides, and they returned not when they went.

18 They had also rings, and height, and were fearefull to behold, and their rings were full of eyes, round about their foure.

19 And when the beasts went, the wheeles went with them: and when the beasts were lift vp from the earth, the wheeles were lift vp.

20 Whither their spirit led them, they went, and thither did the spirit of the wheeles leade them, and the wheeles were lifted vp besides them: for the spirit of the beastes was in the wheeles.

21 When the beas went, they went, and when they stood, they stood, and when they were lifted vp from the earth, the wheeles were lifted vp besides them: for the spirit of the beastes was in the wheeles.

22 And the similitude of the firmament vpon the heads of the beasts was wonderful, like vnto chystal, spred ouer their heads aboue.

23 And vnder the firmament were their wings straight, the one toward the other: euery one had two, which covered them, and euery one had two, which covered their bodies.

24 And when they went forth, I heard the noise of their wings, like the noise of great waters, and as the voyce of the Almighty, when the voyce of speache, as the noise of an hoste: and when they stood, they let downe their wings.

25 And there was a voyce from the firmament, that was ouer their heads, when they stood, and had let downe their wings.

26 And about the firmament that was ouer their heads, was the facion of a throne like vnto a saphire stone, and vpon the similitude of the throne was by appearance, as the similitude of a man about vpon it.

27 And I sawe as the appearance of amber, & as the similitude of fire round about within it to looke to, euen from his lynes vlyward, and to looke to, euen from his lynes downward: I sawe as a likenes of fire, and brightnes round about it.

28 As the likenes of the bowle, that is in the cloude in the day of raine, so was the appearance of the light round about.

29 This was the appearance of the similitude of the glorie of the voyde: and when I sawe it, I fel vpon my face, and I heard a voyce of one that spake, with this roule that I giue thee. Then did I eate it, and it was in my mouth as sweet as honie.

4 And he said vnto me, Sonne of man, go, and enter into the house of Israel, and declare them my wordes.

5 For thou art not sent to a people of an unknown ^b tongue, or of an hard language, but to the house of Israel.

6 Not to manie people of an unknowen tongue, or of an hard language, whose wordes thou canst not vnderstand: yet if I shuld send thee to them, they would obey thee.

7 But the house of Israel wil not obey thee: for they wil not obey me: yea, al the house of Israel are impudent and stiffe hearted.

8 Behold, I haue made thy face ^b strong against their faces, and thy forehead hard against their foreheads.

9 I haue made thy forehead as the adamant, and harder then the flint: feare them not therefore, neither be affaide at their looks: for they are a rebellious house.

10 Ye said moreover vnto me, Some of man, ^c receiue in thine heart all my wordes that I speake vnto thee, & heare them with thine eares.

11 And go and enter to them that are led away captiues, vnto the children of thy people, and speake vnto them, and tell them, Thus saith the Lorde God: but surely they wil not heare, neither wil they in deede cease.

12 Then the Spirit tooke me vp, and I heard behind me a noyse of a great rushing, saying, ^d Blessed be the glorie of the Lord out of his place.

21 Nevertheless, if thou admonish that righteous man, y the righteous minne not, & that he doth not sinne, he shall liue because hee is admonished: also thou shalt deliuered thy soule.

22 And the m hande of the Lord was there vpon me, and he said vnto me, Rise, and go into the field, and I will there talke with thee.

23 So when I had risen vp, and gone forth into the field, behold, the g glory of the Lord stood there, as the glorie which I saw by the ruer Chabar, and I fell downe vpon my face.

24 Then y Spirit entred into me, which o let me vp vpon my feete, and spake vnto me, and said to me, Come, and p that thy selfe withm thine house.

25 But thou, o sinne of man, beholde, they shall put bandes vpon thee, and shall binde thee with them, & thou shalt not go out among them.

26 And I will make thy tongue cleaue to the roofof thy mouth, y thou shalt be dumb, and shalt not be to them as a man that rebuketh: for they are a rebellious house.

27 But when I shall haue spoken vnto thee, I will open thy mouth, and thou shalt lay vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, he that heareth, let him heare, and he that leauech of, * let him leaue: for they are a rebellious house.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The besieging of the citie of Ierusalem is signified.
9 The long continuance of the captiuitie of Israel. 16 An hunger is prophesied to come.

1 Thou also sonne of man, take thee a bucke, and lay it before thee, and pourtray vpon it the citie, euen Ierusalem,

2 And lay siege against it, and buylde a fort against it, and cast a mount against it: let the campe also against it, and lay engines of warre against it round about.

3 Moreover, take an a pion part, and set it for a wall of pion betwene thee and the citie, & direct thy face toward it, and it shall be besieged, and thou shalt lay siege against it: this shall be a signe vnto the house of Israel.

4 Sleepe thou also vpon thy left side, and lay the iniquitie of the b house of Israel vpon it: according to the nber of the dayes, that thou shalt sleepe vpon it, thou shalt bear their iniquite.

a Which signified y stubbornnes and hardnes of their heart.
b Hereby he repretended the idolatrie & sinne of the ten tribes (for Samaria was on his left hand from Babylon) and how they had remained therein three hundredth and ninetie yeres.

5 For I have layed vpon thee the peeres of their iniquitie, according to the number of the dayes, euen three hundredth & ninetie dayes: so that thou beare the iniquite of the house of Israel.

6 And when thou shalt accomplished them, sleepe againe vpon thy e right side, and thou shalt beare the iniquite of the house of Iudah fourty dayes: I haue appointed thee a daye for a peere, euen a day for a peere.

7 Therefore thou shalt direct thy face toward the siege of Ierusalem, & thine earme shall be diuidered, and thou shalt prophesie against it.

8 And beholde, I will lay e bandes vpon thee, and thou shalt not turne thee from one side to another, till thou hast ended the dayes of thy siege.

9 Thou shalt take also vnto thee wheat, and barley, and beanes, and lentils, & mullet, and fitches, and put them in one vessell, and make thee bread thereof: according to the number of the dayes that thou shalt sleepe vpon thy side: euen e three hundredth and ninetie dayes shalt thou eate thereof.

10 And the meat, whereof thou shalt eate, shall be by weight, euen b twentie shekels a day: and from time to time shalt thou eate thereof.

11 Thou shalt drinke also water by measure, euen the six part of an i hin: from time to time shalt thou drinke.

12 And thou shalt eat it as barley cakes, & thou shalt bake it k in the dungue that cometh out of man, in their sight.

13 And the Lord said, So shall the children of Israel eat their desier bread among the Gentiles, whither I wil cast them.

14 The Lord said, O, wh, Lord God, behold, my soule hath not bene polluted: for from my mouth by, euen vnto this houre, I haue not eaten of a thing dead, or of some in pieces, neither came there any l vncleane flesh in my mouth.

15 Then he said vnto me, Lo, I haue giuen thee bullocks m dungue for man's dungue, and thou shalt prepare thy bread thereof.

16 Moreover he said vnto me, Some of man, beholde, I will breake n the staffe of bread in Ierusalem, and they shall eate bread by weight, and with care, and they shall drinke water by measure, and with astonishment.

17 Because that bread and water shall faile, they shall be astounded one with another, and shall consume away for their iniquite.

CHAP. V.

ments into wickednes moze then the nations, and my ſtatutes moze then the countreys, that are rounde about her: for they haue reſuſed my iudgesnot walked in them.

7 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God,
Becauſe your multitude is greater

8 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God,
Beholde, I, euen I come againſt thee, and will execute iudgement in the 9 And I will do in thee, that I neuer

* ſhall eat their ſonnes, and the ſonnes ſhall eat their fathers, and I will execute iudgement in thee, and the whole remnant of thee will I ſcatter into all

11 Wherefore, as I ſaie, ſaith the Lord God, Surely becauſe thou haſt deſiled my Sanctuary with all thy filthines, and with all thine abominations, therefore wil I alſo deſtroy thee, neither ſhal

I haue accompliſhed my wrath in them.

be for their deſtruction, and which I will ſende to deſtroy you: and I will

The end of all the lande of Israel shall suddenly come.

- 1 M^ereouer the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,
- 2 Also thou some of man, thus saith the Lord God, An end is come vnto the lande of Israel: the end is come vpon the foure corners of the land.
- 3 Now is the end come vpon thee, and I wil send my wrath vpon thee, and wil iudge thee according to thy waies, and wil laye vpon thee all thine abominations.
- 4 Neither shall mine eye spare thee, nei- ther wil I haue pitie: but I wil laye thy waies vpon thee: & thine abomination shall be in the middes of thee, and ye shall knowe that I am the Lord.
- 5 Thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, one euil, euen one euil is come.
- 6 An end is come, the end is come, it watched for thee: beholde, it is come.
- 7 The morning is come vnto thee; that dwellest in the lande: the time is come, the daie of trouble is nere, and not the sounding againe of the inno- uentines.
- 8 Nowe I will shortly visite out my wrath vpon thee, and fulfill mine anger vpon thee: I will iudge thee according to thy waies, and wil lay vpon thee all thine abominations.
- 9 Neither shall mine eye spare thee, nei- ther wil I haue pitie, but I wil lay vpon thee according to thy waies, and thine abominations shall be in the middes of thee, and ye shall knowe that I am the Lord that smiteth.
- 10 Behold, the day, beholde, it is come:

- 11 Crueltie is risen vnto a robd of wic- kednes: none of them shall remaine, nor of their riches, nor of any of theirs, neither shall there be lamentation for them.
- 12 The time is come, the daie by which I will visite: let not the buyer reioyce, nor let him that seller, mourn: for by which is vpon all the multitude thereof.
- 13 For he that selleth, shall not returne to that which is sold, although they were yet alive: for the vision was vnto all the multitude thereof, and they returned nor, neither doeth any en- courage him like in the punishment of his life.
- 14 They haue blowne the trumpet, and prepared all, but none goeth to the bat- tle: for my wrath is vpon all the mul- titude thereof.
- 15 The sword is without, & the pestilence, and the famme withur: he that is in the field, shall dye with the sword, & he that is in the cite, famme and pestilence shall deuoure him.
- 16 But they that flee away from them, shall escape, and shall be in the moun- taines, like vnto boues of vnto dulleis: at they shall inuaine, euerye one for his in- quiete.
- 17 All handes shall be weak, & all knees shall fall away as water.
- 18 They that also gird them selues with sackcloth, and feare shall cover them, & shame shall be vpon all faces, & baldnes vpon their heads.
- 19 They shall cast their silver in y^e streets, and their golde shall be cast farre of: their silver and their golde can not deliuer them in y^e day of the wrath of the Lord: they shall not satisfie their soules, neither fill their bowels: for this rume is for their iniquitie.
- 20 Ye had also let the beautie of his orna- ment in maicstie: but they made images of their abominations, and of their idoles therein: therefore haue I set it farre from them.
- 21 And I will give it into the handes of y^e strangers to be spoiled, and to the wicked of the earth to be robbed, & they shall violate it.
- 22 Ye had also let I turne also from them, and they shall pollute my secret place: for the despoilers that enter into it, and defile it.
- 23 I haue a chaine: for the land is full of the yudgement of blood, and the cite is full of crueltie.

1 AND in the sixth yeere, in the sixth moneth, and in the fifth day of the and the Elders of Iudah fate before me, the hand of the Lorde God set there vpon me.

2 Then I beheld, and lo, there was a like-nes, as the appearance of a fire, to looke to, from his loines downwarde, and from his loines upward, as the appearance of brightnes, and like vnto amber.
3 And he stretched out the likeness of an hand, & tooke me by an eare locke of mine head, and the Spirit lift me vp betwene the earth, and the heauen, and brought me by a vision to Ierusalem, into the entry of the inner gate that leth toward the North, where remained the idole of indignation, which prouoked indignation.
4 And beholde, the glorie of the God of Israel was there according to the vision, that I sawe in the field.
5 Then said he vnto me, Some of man, lift vp thine eyes now toward the North. So I lift vp mine eyes toward the North, and beholde, Northward, at the gate of the altar, this idole of indignation was in the entrie.
6 He said furthermore vnto me, Some of man, lest thou not what they do:
euen the great abominations that the house of Israel committeth here to cause me to depart from my Sanctuarie:
but yet turne thee & thou shalt see greater abominations,
7 And he caused me to enter at the gate of the court: & when I looked, beholde, an hole was in the wall.
8 Then said he vnto me, Some of man, dige now in the wal. And when I had dugged in the wall, beholde, there was a rael, and in the middes of them stood Jaazaniah, & some of Shaphan, with euerie man his censour in his hand, and the vapour of the incense went vp like 12 Then said hee vnto me, Some of man, hast thou seene what the Ancients of the house of Israel do in the dark, euerie one in the chamber of his image: for they say, The Lorde seeth vs not, the Lorde hath forsaken the earth.

13 Againe he saide also vnto me, Turne thee againe, and thou shalt see greater abominations than they do.
14 And he caused me to enter into the entrie of the gate of the Lords house, which was toward the North: and they had in behold there fate women mourning for their dead.
15 Then said he vnto me, Hast thou seene this, O some of man? Turne thee againe, & thou shalt see greater abominations than these.
16 And he caused me to enter into the inner court of the Lords house, & beholde, at the doore of the Temple of the Lorde, betwene the porche and the altar were about fise and twentie men with their backs toward the Temple of the Lorde, and their faces toward the East, and they worshipped the sunne, toward the East.
17 Then he said vnto me, Hast thou seene this, O some of man? Is it a final thing to the house of Iudah to commit these abominations which they do here: for they haue filled the lande with crueltie, and haue returned to pouoke me: and so, they haue cast out of stinke before their noles.
18 Therefore will I also execute my wrath:
mine eye shall not spare them, neither will I haue pitie, and though they cry

g Thus in all his plagues y^e Lorde preferueth his small number, which he marketh, as Exo. 12. 21. reue. 7. 3. but the chiefe marke is the Spirit of adoption, wherwith y^e hart is sealed vp to life euerslasting. h Which were the chiefe occasio of all these euils, as Chap. 8. 11. i This declareth, that y^e seruants of God haue a compassion, when they see his judgements executed. k That is, with all kinde of wickednes, reade 1sa. 1. 15.

was gone by from y^e Cherub, whereupon he was and stode on the doore of the house and he called to the man clothed with linnen, which had the waters p^rohome by his side.

4 And the Lorde laide vnto him, Soe through the middes of the citie, euen through the middes of Ierusalem, and set a marke vpon the foreheads of them that mourn, and crye for all the abominations that be done in the middes thereof.

5 And to the other he said, that I might heare, Soe pe after him through the citie, and smite: let pour eye spare none, neither haue pitie.

6 Destrop utterly the olde, and the pong, and the maides, and the chudien, and the women, but touch no man, vpon whome is the s marke, and beginne at my Sanctuarie. Then they began at the Ancient men, which were before the house.

7 And he said vnto them, Defile the house, and fill the courts with the slau, then go forth; and they went out, & slawe them in the citie.

8 Showe when they had slaine them, and I had escaped, I fell downe vpon my face, and cryed, saying, Wh Lorde God, wilt thou destrop all the residue of Israel, in pouing out thy wrath vpon Ierusalem?

9 Then sayd he vnto me, The iniquitie of the house of Israel, and Judah is exceeding great, so that the land is full of blood, and the citie full of couraige iudgement: for they say, the Lorde hath forsaken the earth, and the Lorde seeth vs not.

10 As touching me also, mine eye shal not spare them, neither wil I haue pitie, but wil recompence their waies vpon their heades.

11 And beholde, the man clothed with linnen which had the p^rohome by his side, made report, and said, Lord, I haue done as thou hast commanded me.

CHAP. X.

a Of the man that took hote burning coals out of the middle of the wheeles of the Cherubims. b A rehearfall of the vision of the wheeles, of the beasts, and of the Cherubims.

1 A had as I looked, behold, in the firmament that was above the head of the Cherubims, there appeared vpon them like vnto the similitude of a throne, as it were a saphir stone.

2 And hee spake vnto the man clothed with linnen, & said, Go in betweene the wheeles, euen vnder the Cherub, and fill thine hands with coales of fire from betweene the Cherubims, and scatter them ouer the citie. And he went in in my sight.

3 Showe the Cherubims stode vpon the right side of the house when the man went in, and the cloude filled the inner court.

4 Then the glorie of the Lorde went by from the Cherub, & stood ouer the doore of the house, and the house was filled with the cloud, and the court was filled with the brightnes of the Lords glorie.

5 And the sounde of the Cherubims wings was heard into the vtter court, when he spakech.

6 And when he had commaunded the man clothed with linnen, saying, Take fire from betweene the wheeles, & from betweene the Cherubims, then he went in and stode beside the wheele.

7 And one Cherub stretched forth his hand front betweene the Cherubims vnto the fire, that was betweene the Cherubims, and tooke thereof, & put it into the hands of him that was clothed with linnen: who toke it and went out.

8 And there appeared in the Cherubims, the likenes of a mans hand vnder their wings.

9 And when I looked by, beholde, foure wheeles were beside the Cherubims, one wheele by one Cherub, and another wheele by another Cherub, & the appearance of the wheeles was as the colour of a chrysolite stone.

10 And their appearance (for they were all foure of one facion) was as if one wheele had bene in another wheele.

11 When they went forth, they went by on their foure sides, & they returned not as they went: but to the place whither the first went, they went after it, & they turned not as they went.

12 And their whole body, & their rings, and their hands, and their wings, and the wheeles were full of eyes round about, euen in the same foure wheeles.

13 And the Cherub cried to these wheeles in mine hearing, saying, D wheele.

14 And euery beast had foure faces: the first face was the face of a Cherub, & the second face was the face of a man, and the third the face of a lyon, & the fourth the face of an eagle.

15 And the Cherubims were lifted by: this is the beast that I sawe at the reuer Cherub.

16 And when the Cherubims went, the wheeles went by them: and when the Cherubims lift by their wings to mount vp fro the earth, y^e same wheeles also turned not from beside them.

17 When the Cherubims stode, they stode: and when they were lifted by, they lifted them selves vp also: for the spirit of the beast was in them.

18 Then the glorie of the Lorde departed from above the doore of the house, and stood vpon the Cherubims.

19 And the Cherubims lift by their wings, & mounted vp from the earth in my sight: when they went out, the wheeles also were besides them: and euery one stode at the entrie of the gate

- 1 VVho they were that seduced the people of Israel, 5 Aganst these hee propheseth, 19 shewing them howe they shalbe dispersed abroad, 29 The venting of the heart commeth of God, 32 He threatneth them that leane vnto their owne counsels.
- 1 Moreover, the Spirit lift me vp, and brought me vnto the East gate of the Lords house, which is wth Eastward, and beholde, at the entrie of the gate were fire and twentie men: among whom I sawe Jaasiah the sonne of Azur, and Pelatiah the sonne of Benaiah, the ynnices of the people.
- 2 Then said he vnto me, Sonne of man, these are the men that imagine mischief, and denie wicked counsil in this citie.

- 3 For they say, * It is not nere, let vs build houses: this citie is the^b caldron, and we be the flesh.
- 4 Therefore prophetic aganst them, sonne of man, prophetic.

- 6 Many haue pe murdered in this citie, and ye haue filled the strates thercof with the flaine.
- 7 Therefore thus saith the Lorde God, They that ye haue slaine, and haue layd in the middes of it, they are^c the flesh, and this citie is the caldron, but I will bring you forth of the middes of it.
- 8 We haue feared the sword, and I will bring a sworde vpon you, saith the Lorde God.
- 9 And I will bring you out of the mids thereof, & deliuer you into the^d hands of strangers, & wil execute iudgements among you.
- 10 We shal fall by the sworde, and I will iudge you in the border of^e Israel, and ye shal knowe that I am the Lord.
- 11 This citie shal not be your caldron, neither shall ye bee the flesh in the middes thereof, but I wil iudge you in the border of Israel.
- 12 And ye shal knowe that I am the Lorde: for ye haue not walkt in my statutes, neither erected my iudgements, but haue done after the maners of the hea-

- 13 I And when I prophesied, Pelatiah the sonne of^f Benaiah died: then fel I downe vpon my face, and cried with a loude voyce, and said, My Lord God, wilt thou then utterly destroe all the remnant of Israel?
- 14 Againe the word of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,
- 15 Sonne of man, thy^g brethren, euen thy brethern, the men of thy kindred, and all the house of Israel, wholy are they vnto whom the inhabitants of Jerusalem haue lapde, Depart ye farre from the Lorde: for the land is giuen vs in possession.
- 16 Therefore say, Thus saith the Lorde God, Although I haue cast them farre of among the heathen, and although I haue scattered them among the countreys, yet will I be to them as a little^h Sanctuarie in the countreis where they shal come.
- 17 Therefore say, Thus saith the Lorde God, I wil gather you againe from the people, and assemble you out of the countreis where ye haue bene scattered, and I wil giue you the land of Israel.
- 18 And they shal come thither, and they shal take away all the idoles thereof, and all the abominations thereof from thence.
- 19 * And I wil giue them one heart, and I wil put a newe spirit within their bowels: and I will take theⁱ stoune heart out of their bodies, and will giue them an heart of fleshe,
- 20 That they may walke in my statutes, and keepe my iudgements, and execute them: and they shalbe my people, and I wil be their God.
- 21 But vpon them, whose heart is toward their idoles, and whose affection goeth after their abominations, I wil lay their way vpon their owne heads, saith the Lord God.
- 22 I Then did the Cherubims lift vp their wings, and the wheeles besides them, and the glorie of the God of Israel was vpon them on hie.
- 23 And the glorie of the Lorde went vp from the middes of the citie, and stode vpon the mountaine which is toward the East side of the citie.
- 24 Afterward the Spirit tooke me by, and brought me in a vision by^k Spirit of God into Caldea to them that were led away captiues: so the vision that I had seene, went by from me.
- 25 Then I declared vnto them that were^k led away captiues, all the things that the Lord had shewed me.

 b We shall not be pulled out of Ierusalem, till the houre of our death come, as the flesh is not taken out of the caldron till it be fed.
 c Contrary to their vaine confidence he sheweth in what selfe this citie is the caldron: that is, because of the dead bodies that haue bene murdered therein, & so ye as flesh in the caldron.

f It seemeth that this noble man dyed of some terrible death, & therefore the Prophet feared some strange iudgement of God toward the rest of y^e people.
 g They that remained still at Ierusalem thus reproched them that were gone into captiuitie, as though they were cast of and forsake of God.
 h They shalbe yet a little church shewing that the Lord wil euer haue some to cal vpon his name, whome he wil preferre and restore, though they be for a time afflicted.

"Ere make the vessels to gaine captiuitie."

2 Some of man, thou dwellest in the mids of a rebellious house, which haue eyes to see, and see^a not: they haue eares to heare, and heare not: for they are a rebellious house.

3 Therefore thou soune of man, "prepare thy stufte to go into captiuitie and goe forth by day in their sight: and thou shalt passe from thy place to another place in their sight, if it be possible that they may consider it: for they are a rebellious house.

4 Then shalt thou bring forth thy stufte by day in their sight as the stufte of hum that goeth into captiuitie: and thou shalt goe forth at euen in their sight, as they that goe forth into captiuitie.

5 Dig thou through the wall in their sight, and carie out thereby.

6 In their sight shalt thou beare it vpon thy shoulders, and carie it forth in the darke: thou shalt couer the face that thou see not the earth: for I haue set thee a^a b^b signe vnto d^d house of Israel.

7 And as I was commanded, so I bought forth my stufte by day, as the stufte of one that goeth into captiuitie: and by night I digged through the wall with mine hands, and brought it forth in the darke, and I bare it vpon my shoulder in their sight.

8 And in the morning came the word of the Lord vnto me, saying,

9 Some of man, hath not the house of Israel, the rebellious house, said vnto thee, What doest thou?

10 But say thou vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, This^a burden concerneth the chiefe in Ierusalem, and all the house of Israel that are among them.

11 Say, I am your signe: like as I haue done, so shall it be done vnto them: they shall go into bondage and captiuitie.

12 And the chiefe that is among them, shall beare vpon his shoulder in the darke, and shal goe forth: they shall digge through the wall, to carie out thereby: he shall couer his face, that he see not the ground with his eyes.

13 Apper not also will I spread vpon^d him, and he shall be taken in my net, & I will bring him to Sabel in the land of the Calbeans, yet shall he not see it, though he shall die there.

14 And I will scatter toward euery wind all that are about him to helpe him, and all his garisons, and I will drawe out the sword after them.

15 And they shall knowe that I am the Lord, when I shall scatter them among the nations, and disperse them in the countreys.

16 But I will leaue a^a little number of the from the sword, from the famine, & from the pestilence, that they may declare all these abominations among the heathē, where they come, and they shall know, that I am the Lord,

17 Whoeuer, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

18 Some of man, eat thy bread with troubling, and drinke thy water with trouble, and with carefulnes.

19 And sape vnto the people of the lande, Thus saith the Lord God of the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and of the land of Israel, They shall eat their bread with carefulnes, and drinke their water with desolation: for the land shall be desolate from her abundance because of the crueltie of them that dwell therein.

20 And the cities that are inhabited, shall be left void, & the land shall be desolate, and perchance know that I am the Lord.

21 And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

22 Some of man, what is that y^youerbe that you haue in the land of Israel, saying, The dayes^f are prolonged and all visions^g faile?

23 Tell them therefore, Thus saith the Lord God, I will make this y^youerbe to cease, and they shall no more vie it as a y^youerbe in Israel: but say vnto the, The dayes are at hand and the effect of euery vision.

24 For no vision shall be any more in vain, neither shall there be any flattering denunciation within the house of Israel.

25 For I am the Lord: I will speake, and that thing that I shall speake, shall come to passe: it shall be no more prolonged: for in your dayes, O rebellious house, will I say the thing, and will performe it, saith the Lord God.

26 Again the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

27 Some of man, beholde, they of the house of Israel say, The vision that he seeth, is for many dayes to come, and hee prophecieth of the times that are farre of.

28 Therefore say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, All my wordes shall no longer be delayed, but that thing which I haue spoken, shall be done, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XIII.

^a The wordes of the Lorde against false prophets, which teach the people the counsels of their owne heartes.

1 And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Some of man, prophetic against the prophetes of^a Israel, that prophetic, and say thou vnto them, that prophetic out of their^a owne heartes, Heare the worde of the Lord.

3 Thus saith the Lord God, Do vnto the foolish prophetes that followe their owne spirit, and haue seene nothing.

4 O Israel, thy Prophetes are like the sores^b in the waste places.

5 They haue not risen by in the gappes, neither made by the hedge for the house of Israel, to stand in the battell in the day of the Lord.

6 They haue seene vanitie, and saying denunciation, saying, The Lord hath it, and the Lord hath not sent them: and they haue sited them.

f Because they did not immediately see the prophesies accomplished, they condemned them as though they should neuer be fulfilled.
^g Or, take none effect.

g That is, it shall not come to passe in our daies, and therefore we care not for it: thus the wicked euer abuse Gods patience and benigne.

b That as thou doest, so shall they doe, and therefore in thee they shall see their owne plague and punishment.

c Do not they decide thy doings?
^{Or} prophesie.

d When the King shall thinke to escape by fleeing, I will take him in my net, as Chap. 27. 28. and 32. 3.

e Which should beare his name, and should be his Church, read Cha. 11. 16.

Chap. 14. 9.
a After their owne fantasie, and not ashamed of the reuelation of the Lord, Ier. 23. 16.
b Watching to destroy the vineyarde.
c He speaketh to the gouernours and true ministers that should haue re- haue sited them.

d Ye promised peace to this people, & now ye see their destruction, so that it is manifest that ye are false Prophets.

e That is, in the booke of Iyfe, wherein the true Israelites are written.

f Reade Ier. 6. 14 g Whereas the true Prophets prophesied the destruction of y^e citie to bringe the people to repentance, the false Prophets spake the contrary & flattered them in their vanities, so that what one false Prophet said, (which is here called the building of the wal) an other false Prophet would affirme, though he had neither occasion nor good ground to beare him.

h Whereby is met whatfoeuer man of himselfe settech forth vnder y^e authoritie of Gods worde.

i These superstitious women for lucre would prophesie & tel euery man his fortune, giuing them pillows to leane vpon & kerchevs to cover their heads, so y^e intent they might y^e more allure them and bewitch them.

k Will ye make my worde to serue your bel-lyes?

l These forerers made y^e people beleeue that they could preserue life or destroy it, & that it should come to euery one according as they prophesied, haue made others to hope that they would confirme the worde of their prophetic.

7 Haue ye not seene a laine biffon? & haue ye not spoken a vain dimination? & pe say, The Lord saith it, albeit I haue not spoken.

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because ye haue spoken vanitie, & haue seene lies, therefore beholde, I am against you, sayth the Lord God,

9 And mine hand shall be vpon the Prophets that see vanitie, and dimme lies: they shall not be in the assemble of my people, neither shall they be written in the writing of the house of Israel, neither shall they enter into the land of Israel: and ye shall know that I am the Lord God.

10 And therefore, because they haue deceived my people, saying, Peace, and there was no peace: and one built vp a wall, and behold, the others daubed it with vntempered mortar,

11 Say vnto the which daube it with vntempered mortar, y^e it shall fall: for there shall come a great thowre, & I will send hailestones, which shall caue it to fall, and a stormie winde shall breake it.

12 Lo, when the wall is fallen, shall it not be said vnto you, Where is y^e daubing wherewith ye haue daubed it?

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, I wil cause a stormie winde to breake forth in my wrath, and a great thowre shall be in mine anger, and hailestones in mine indignation to consume it.

14 So I wil destroy the wal that ye haue daubed with vntempered mortar, and bring it down to the ground, so that the foundation thereof shall be discovered, and it shall fall, and ye shall be consumed in the mids thereof, and ye shall know, that I am the Lord.

15 Thus wil I accomplish my wrath vnto the wal, and vpon them that haue daubed it with vntempered mortar, & wil say vnto you, The wal is no more, neither the daubers thereof.

16 To wit, the Prophets of Israel, which prophesie vpon Ierusalem, and see visions of peace for it, & there is no peace, sayth the Lord God.

17 Likewise thou sonne of man, set thy face against the daughters of thy people, which prophesie out of their owne heart: and prophesie thou against them, and say,

18 Thus saith the Lord God, Wo vnto the women that sowe pillows vnder all arme holes, and make bailes vpon the head of euery one that standeth by, to hunt foules: will ye hunt the foules of my people, and will ye giue life to the foules that come vnto you?

19 And wil ye pollute me among my people for handfills of b^e harp, & for pieces of bread to flap the foules of them that should not die, and to giue life to the foules that should be not liue, in lying to my people, that heare your lies?

20 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I wil haue to do with your pillows, wherewith ye hunt the foules to make them to flie, and I wil teare them from your armes, and wil let the foules go, euen the foules that ye hunt to make them to flie.

21 Your vailes also wil I teare, and desluer my people out of your hand, and they shall be no more in your handes to be hunted, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

22 Because with your lies ye haue made the heart of the righteous sad, whomin I haue not made lab, and strengthened the hands of the wicked, that he should not returne from his wicked way, by promising him life,

23 Therefore ye shall see no more banitie, nor dimme diminations: for I will desluer my people out of your hand, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XIII.

4 The Lord sendeth false Prophets for the ingratitude of the people. 22 He reuerfeth a small portion for his Church.

1 Then came certaine of the Elders of Israel vnto me, & saate before me.

2 And the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

3 Some of man, these men haue set vp their idols in their heart, & put the stumbling blocke of their iniquity before their face: should I, being required, answer them?

4 Therefore speake vnto them, & say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, God doth discover maⁿ of the house of Israel that setteth by his idols in his heart, and putteth the stumbling blocke of his iniquity before his face, and commeth to the Prophet, & the Lord wil answer him that commeth, according to the multitude of his idoles:

5 That I may take the house of Israel in their owne heart, because they are departed from mee through their idoles.

6 Therefore say vnto the house of Israel, Thus sayeth the Lord God, Returne, and withdraue your selues, and turne your faces from your idols, and turne your faces from all your abominations.

7 For euery one of the house of Israel, of the drainger that sojourneth in Israel, which departeth from me, and setteth by his idoles in his heart, and putteth the stumbling blocke of his iniquity before his face, and commeth to a Prophete, for to inquire of him, for me, I the Lord wil answer him for my selfe.

8 And I wil set my face against that maⁿ, and wil make him an example & pro-uerbe, and I wil hunt him from the middes of my people, & ye shall knowe that I am the Lord.

m That is, to caue them to perish, and that they should departe from the body.

n By threatening them that were godly, and vpholding the wicked.

a He sheweth y^e hypocricie of y^e idolaters, who wil dissemble to heare the Prophets of God, though in their heart they folowe nothing lesse then their admonitions, & also how by one means or other, God doth discover them.

b They are not only idolaters in their heart, but also worship their filthy idols openly, which lead them cause the to stumble, & cast them out of Gods fauour, so y^e he will not heare them, when they call vnto him, reade Iere. 10. 15.

c To inquire of the Lord, which the Lord hath appointed to come to passe.

d As his abomination hath deserved: that is, he shall be led as lies according as he delited therein.

e That is, conuince them by their owne conscience.

f The Prophet declareth y^e God for mans ingratitude raiseth vp false prophets to seduce the that delight in lyes rather then in the truth of God, & thus he punisheth finne by sin, 1. Kin. 22. 26, 27. and destroyeth awel those Prophets as that People.

g Thus Gods Judgements against the wicked, are admonitions to the godly to cleave vnto the Lord, & not to defile them selues with like abominations, h Reade Chap. 4. 16. & 5. 17. Ia. 3. 1.

i Though Noah & Iob were now alieue, which in their time were most godly men (for at this time Daniel was in captiuitie with Exekiel) and so these three together should pray for this wicked people, yet wold I not heare the, reade Iere. 15. 1.

k Meaning, that a very fewe (which he calleth y^e remnant, vers. 22.) should escape these plagues, whome God hath sanctified and made righteous, so that this righteousness is a signe that they are y^e Church of God, whom he wold preferre for his owne sake.

Chap. 5. 17.

l Reade Cha. 5. 3.

9 And if the Prophet be deceiued, when he hath spoken a thing, & the Lord haue deceiued that Prophet, & I wil stretch out mine hand vpon him, and will destroy him from the muddes of my people of y^e Israel.

10 And they shal beare their punishment: the punishment of the Prophet shalbe euen as the punishment of him that asketh,

11 That the house of y^e Israel may go no more astray from me, neither be polluted any moie with all their transgressions, but that they may be my people, and I may be their God, saith the Lord God.

12 ¶ The woordes of the Lord came againe vnto me, sayng,

13 Some of man, when the land sinneth against me by committing a trespass, then wil I stretch out mine hand vpon it, & will breake the staffe of the bread thereof, and wil send famine vpon it, and I wil destroy man and beast fourth of it.

14 Though these three men i Noah, Daniel, and Iob were among them, they should deliuer but their owne soules by their k righteousness, sayth y^e Lord God.

15 If I bring noisome beastes into the land and they spoyle it, so that it be desolate, that no man may passe through, because of beastes,

16 Though these three men were in the mds thereof, As I liue, saith the Loide God, they shal saue neither sonnes nor daughters: they onely shalbe deliuered, but the land shalbe waste.

17 ¶ If I bring a sword vpon this land, and say, Sword, go through the land, so that I destroy man and beast out of it,

18 Though these three men were in the mds thereof, As I liue, sayth the Lord God, they shal deliuer neither sonnes nor daughters, but they onely shalbe deliuered them selues.

19 ¶ If I send a pestilence into this land, and powre out my wrath vpon it in blood, to destroy out of it man & beast,

20 And though Noah, Daniel and Iob were in the mddes of it, As I liue, sayth the Lord God, they shal deliuer neither sonne nor daughter: they shal but deliuer their owne soules by their righteousness.

21 For thus saith the Lord God, Howe much moie when I send my^r four sone iudgements vpon Jerusalem, euen the sword, and famine, & the noisome beast and pestilence, to destroy man and beast out of it?

22 ¶ Yet behold, therein shalbe left a remnant of them that shall be caried away both sonnes and daughters: beholde, they shal come forth vnto you, & ye shal see their way, & their enterprises: & ye shall be comforted, concerning the euill that I haue brought vpon Jerusalem, euen concerning al that I haue brought vpon it.

23 And they shal comfort you, when ye see their way and their enterprises: and ye shall knowe, that I haue not done without cause al that I haue done in it, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XV.

As the unprofitable wood of the vine tree is cast into the fire, so Ierusalem shall be burnt.

1 And the word of the Lord came vnto me, sayng,

2 Some of man, what cometh of the vine tree aboute al other trees? and of the vine branch, which is among the trees of the forest?

3 Shal wood be taken thereof to doe any worke? or wil man take a yume of it to hang any besell thereon?

4 Beholde, it is cast in the fire to be consumed: the fire consumeth both y^e ends of it, and the mddes of it is burnt. Is it meete for any worke?

5 Beholde, when it was whole, it was meete fo^r no worke: how much lesse shal it be meete for any worke, when the fire hath consumed it, and it is burnt?

6 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, As is the vine tree, that is among the trees of the forest, which I haue giuen to the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

7 And I will set my face against them: they shal go out from one b fire, and another fire shal consume them: and ye shal know, that I am the Lord, when I set my face against them,

8 And when I make the land waste, because they haue greatly offended, sayth the Loide God.

CHAP. XVI.

The Prophet declareth the benefites of God towarde Ierusalem, 25 Their unkindnes. 46 He iustificieth the wickednes of other people in comparison of the finnes of Ierusalem. 49 The cause of the abominations, into which the Sodomites fell. 60 Mercie is promised to the repentant.

1 And the word of the Lord came vnto me, sayng,

2 Some of man, cause Ierusalem to knowe her abominations,

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord God vnto Ierusalem, Thine habitation & thy kinred is of the land of Canaan: thy father was an Amorite, and thy mother an Hittite,

4 And in thy nativitie when thou wast b borne, thy navel was not cutte: thou wast not washed in water to softe thee: thou wast not salted with salt, nor swaddled in cloutes,

5 None eye pitied thee to doe any of these vnto thee, fo^r to haue compassion vpon thee, but thou wast cast out in the open field to the contempt of thy person in the day that thou wast borne.

6 And when I passed by thee, I sawe thee polluted in thine owne blood, and a Thou boastest to be of the seed of Abraham, but thou art degenerate & followest y^e abominations of the wicked Canaanites, as children doe the maners of their fathers, Ia. 1. 4. and 57. 3.

b When I first brought thee out of Egypt, & planted thee in this land to be my Church.

c Being thus in thy filthines and forsaken of all men, Iooke thee and gaue thee life: whereby is meant that before God wash his Church, and giue life, there is nothing but filthines and death.

d These words, as blood, pollution, nakednes & filthines, are oftentimes repeated, to beate down their pride, & to cause them to consider what they were before God received them to mercy, fauoured them and covered their shame.

e That thou shouldst be chaste wife vnto me, and that I should maintaine thee and endue thee with all graces.

f I washed away thy sinnes.

g I sanctified thee with mine holy Spirit.

h Hereby he sheweth how he faued his church enriched it, and gaue it power & dominio to reigne i He declareth wherin the dignitie of Ierusalem stood: to wit, in that that the Lord gaue them of his beauty & excellencie.

k In abusing my gifts, and in putting thy confidence in thine owne wisdom and dignitie, which were the occasiōs of thine idolatric.

l There was none idolatry so vile, wherewith thou didest not pollute thy selfe. m This declareth how y idolaters put their chief delitie in those things, which please y eyes and outward senses, n Thou hast covered my vessels & instruments, which I gaue thee to serue me with, to y vse of thine idoles.

I said vnto thee, when thou wast in thy blood, Thou shalt liue: euen when thou wast in thy blood, I said vnto thee, thou shalt liue.

7 I haue caused thee to multiplie, as the bud of the field, and thou hast increased, and waken great, and thou hast gotten excellent ornaments: thy breasts are fashioned, thine heare is grown, where as thou wast naked and bare.

8 Howe when I passed by thee, and looked vpon thee, behold, thy time was as the time of stone, and I spread my skirts ouer thee, and covered d thy filthines: per, I sware vnto thee, and entred into a covenant with e thee, saith the Lord God, and thou becamest mine.

9 Then washed I thee with water: pea, I washed away thy blood from thee, and I s anointed thee with oyle.

10 I clothed thee also with brodyed work, and shod thee with badgers skin: and I girded thee about with fine linnen, and I covered thee with silke.

11 I decked thee also with ornaments, and I put bracelets vpon thine hands, and a chaine on thy necke.

12 And I put a frontier vpon thy face, and earrings in thine eares, and a beautiful crowne vpon thine head.

13 Thus wast thou deckt with gold and siluer, and thy rayment was of fine linnen, and silke, and brodyed work: thou diddest eat fine floure, and honie & oyle, and thou wast very beautiful, and thou diddest grow by into a kingdome.

14 And thy name was tyed among the heathen for thy beautie: for it was perfect though my beautie which I had set vpon thee, saith the Lord God.

15 Howe thou diddest k trust in thine owne beautie, and playedst the harlot, because of thy renoume, and hast polluted out l thy fornications on euery one that passed by, thy desire was to him.

16 And thou diddest take thy garments, and deckedst thine hie places with diuers colours, m and playedst the harlot thereupon: as the like things shall not come, neither hath any done so.

17 Thou hast also taken thy faire iuwels made of my gold and of my siluer, which I had giuen thee, and n madest to thy selfe images of men, and diddest commit whoredome with them,

18 And tookst thy brodyed garments, and coveredst them: and thou hast set mine oyle & my perfume before them.

19 My meate also, which I gaue thee, as fine floure, oyle, and honie, wherewith I fed thee, thou hast eaten for it before them for a sweete savour: thus it was, saith the Lord God.

20 Moreover thou hast taken thy sonnes and thy daughters, whome thou hast borne vnto me, and these hast thou sacrificed vnto them, to e be deuoured: is this thy whoredome a small matter?

21 That thou hast slaine my children, and deliuered them to cause them to passe through fire for them?

22 And in all thine abominations and whoredomes thou hast not remembered the dayes of thy youth, when thou wast naked and bare, and wast polluted in thy blood.

23 And beside all thy wickednes (wo, wo vnto thee, sayth the Lord God)

24 Thou hast also built vnto thee an hie place, and hast made thee an hie place in euery streete.

25 Thou hast built thine hie place at euery corner of the way, and hast made thy beautie to be abhoyred: thou hast opened thy feete to euery one that passed by, and multiplied thy whores done.

26 Thou hast also committed fornication with the p Egyptians thy neighbours, which haue great members, and hast increased thy whoredome, to promote me.

27 Choide, therefore I did stretch out mine hand ouer thee, and wil diminish the holy ordinance, & driner thee vnto the wil of them that hate thee, euen to the daughters of the Philistines, which are abhoyred of thy wicked way.

28 Thou hast plaid the whore also with the Assirians, because thou wast insatiable: pea, thou hast plaid the harlot with them, and yet couldest not be satisfied.

29 Thou hast moreover multiplied thy fornication from the lande of Canaan vnto Caldea, and yet thou wast not satisfied herewith.

30 Howe awake is thine heart, saith the Lord God, seeing thou doest all these things, euen the worke of a n presumptuous whorish woman?

31 In that thou buildst thine hie place in the corner of euery way, and makest thine hie place in euery streete, and hast not bene as an harlot q that despiseth a reward,

32 But as a wife that playeth the harlot, and taketh otheres for her husband:

33 They giue giftes to all other whores, but thou giuest giftes vnto all thy louers, & rewardest them, that they may come vnto thee on euery side for thy fornication.

34 And the contrary is in thee from other women in thy fornications, neither the like fornication shalbe after thee: for in that thou giust a reward, and no reward is giuen vnto thee, therefore thou art contrary.

35 Wherefore, o harlot, heare the worde of the Lord.

36 Thus saith the Lord God, Because thy shame was polluted out, and thy filthines discovered through thy fornications with thy louers, and with all the idoles of thine abominations and by the blood of thy children, which thou diddest offer vnto them,

^p Or, head.

^q He noteth the great impietie of this people who first falling from God to seeke help at strange nations, did also at length embrace their idolatric, thinking thereby to make their amitie more strong.

^r Or, sister.

^s Or, that wil beare rule.

^t Meaning, that some harlots comen small rewardes, but no louers gaue a reward to Israel, but they gaue to all others: signifying that the idolaters bestow all their substance, which they receive of God for his glorie, to serue their vile abominations.

^u Or, nether parts.

r Egyptians, Assyrians, Caldeans, whom thou cookest to be thy louers, shall come and destroy thee, Chap. 23.9.

f I will iudge thee to death, as the adulterers & murderers.

2. King. 25. 9.

t I will vterly destroy thee, & so my ielousie shall cease.

u I haue punished thy faults, but thou wouldest not repent.

x As were the Canaanites and the Hittites and others your predeceffours, so are you their successours.

y That is, of Samaria & Sodom. z That is, her cities. 6. Cit. thy sister younger then thou. 2 But done farre worse.

b He alledgeth these foue vices, pride, excess, idleness, and contempt of y^e pore, as four principall causes of such abomination, wherefore they were so horribly punished. Gen. 19. 24.

37 Beholde, therefore I will gather all the louers, with whome thou hast taken pleasure, and all them that thou hast loued, with all them that thou hast had: I will euen gather them round about against thee, and will discouer thy filthines vnto them that they may see all thy filthines.

38 And I will iudge thee after the manner of them that are harlots, and of them that head bawle, & I will giue thee the blood of wrath and ielousie.

39 I will also giue thee into their hands, and they shall destroy thine he place, & shall breake downe thine he places: they shall strype thee also out of thy clothes, and shall take thy faire iewels, & leaue thee naked and bare.

40 They shall also bring by a companie against thee, and they shall stone thee with stones, and thrust thee through with their swordes.

41 And they shall burne by thine houses with fire, and execute iudgements vpon thee in the sight of many women: and I will cause thee to cease from playing the harlot, and thou shalt giue no reward any more.

42 So will I make my wrath towards thee to rest, and my ielousie shall depart from thee, and I will cease and bee no more angry.

43 Because thou hast not remembered the dayes of thy youth, but hast prouoked me with all these things, behold, therefore I also haue brought thy wap vpon thy head, sayth the Lord God: yet hast not thou had consideration of all thine abominations.

44 Beholde, al that vse prouerbes, shall vse this prouerbe against thee, saying, As is the mother, so is her daughter.

45 Thou art thy mothers daughter, that hath cast off her husbande and her children, & thou art the sister of thy sisters, which forsooke their husbandes & their children: pour mother is an Hittite, & pour father an Amoitie.

47 Yet hast thou not walked after their wayes, nor done after their abominations: but as it had bene a very litle thing, thou wast corrupted moze then they in all thy wayes.

48 As I ure, saith the Loide God, Sodom thy sister hath not done, neither she nor her daughters, as thou hast done and thy daughters.

49 Beholde, this was the iniquitie of thy sister Sodom, b Pride, fulnesse of bread, and abundance of idleness was in her, & in her daughters: neither did she strengthen the hand of the poore and needie.

50 But thy were hauntie, and committed abomination before mee: therefore I took them away, as pleased me.

51 Neither hath Samaria committed halfe of thy sinnes, but thou hast exceeded them in thine abominations, & hast iudged thy sisters in all thine abominations, which thou hast done.

52 Therefore thou which hast iudged thy sisters, beare thine owne shame for thy sinnes, that thou hast committed more abominable then they which are moze righteous then thou art: be thou therefore confounded also, and beare thy shame, seeing that thou hast iudged thy sisters.

53 Therefore I will bring againe their captiuitie with the captiuitie of Sodom, and her daughters, and with the captiuitie of Samaria, and her daughters: euen the captiuitie of thy captiues in the middes of them,

54 That thou mayest beare thine owne shame, and mayest be confounded in all that thou hast done, in that thou hast comforted them.

55 And thy sister Sodom and her daughters shall returne to their former state: Samaria also and her daughters shall returne to their former state, & when thou and thy daughters shall returne to pour former state.

56 For thy sister Sodom was not heard of by thy report in the day of thy iudge,

57 Before thy wickednes was discouered, as in that same time of the reproch of the daughters of Ham, and of all the daughters of the Phisitims round about her which despise thee on all sides,

58 Thou hast borne therefore thy wickednes and thine abomination, sayth the Lord.

59 For thus saith the Lord God, I might euen deale with thee, as thou hast done: when thou didst despise the oath, in breaking the covenant.

60 Nevertheless, I will remember my covenant made with thee in the dayes of thy youth, and I will confirme vnto thee an everlasting covenant.

61 The thou shalt remember thy wayes, and be ashamed, when thou shalt remember thy sisters, both thy elder and thy ponger, and I will giue them vnto thee for daughters, but not by thy covenant.

62 And I will establish my covenant with thee, and thou shalt knowe that I am the Lord, 63 That thou maist remember, & be ashamed, and neuer open thy mouth any more: because of thy shame when I am pacified toward thee, for all that thou hast done, saith the Lord God.

c Which worshipped y^e calves in Beth-el and Dan.

d Thou art so wicked, that in respect of these Sodom & Samaria were iust.

e This he speake in comparison, saying, he would restore Ierusalem when Sodom should be restored, that is, neuer, & this is ment of the greatest part of the Iewes.

f In that thou hast shewed thy selfe worse then they, and yet thoughtest to escape punishment.

g Meaning, that it shoulde neuer come to passe.

CHAP. XVII.

The parable of the two Egies.

1 And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Some of man, put forth a parable and speake a prouerbe vnto the house of Israel,

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord God, The great eagle with great wings, and long wings, and full of feathers, which had diuerse colours, came vnto Lebanon, and tooke the best branche of the cedar,

4 And brake of the top of his twigge, and carried it into the land of merchants, and let it in a citie of merchants.

5 He tooke also of the seede of the land, and planted it in a fruitfull ground: he placed it by great waters, and set it as a willow tree.

6 And it budded vp, and was like a spreading vine of low stature, whose branches turned toward it, and the roots thereof were vnder it: so it became a vine, and it brought forth branches, and shot forth buds.

7 There was also another great eagle with great wings and many feathers, a behold, this vine did turne her rootes toward it, and layed forth her braches toward it, that the might water it by the trenches of her plantation.

8 It was planted in a good soyle by great waters, that it shoulde bring forth branches, and beare fruit, and bee an excellent vine.

9 Say thou, Thus saith the Lord God, Shall it prosper? shall he not put by the rootes thereof, & destroy the fruit thereof, and cause them to drie: al the leaues of her bud shall wither without great power, or many people, to plucke it by the rootes thereof.

10 Beholde, it was planted: but shall it prosper? shall it not be dried vp, and wither? when the East winde shall touch it it shall wither in the trenches, where it grew.

11 Wherefore, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

12 Say vnto this rebellious house, know ye not, what these things meaneth to thee? Beholde, the king of Babel is come vnto Ierusalem, & hath taken the king thereof, and the princes thereof, & led them with him to Babel,

13 And hath taken one of the kings seed, & made a covenant with him, and hath taken an othe of him: he hath also taken the princes of the land,

14 That the kingdome might bee in subiection, and not lift it selfe vp, but keepe their covenant, and stand to it.

15 But he rebelled against him, & sent his ambassadours into Egypt, that they might giue him horses, and much people: shall he prosper? shall hee escape, that doth such things? shal he breake the covenant, and be deliuered?

16 As I liue, saith the Lord God, he shall die in the middes of Babel, in the place of the king, that had made him king, whose othe he despised, and whose covenant made with him, he brake.

17 Neither shall Pharaoh with his mighty hoste, & great multitude of people, maintaine him in the warre, when they haue cast by mounts, and buided ramparts to destroy many persons.

18 For he hath despised the othe, & broke the covenant (yet so, he had giue his hand) because hee hath done all these things, he shall not escape.

19 Therefore, thus saith the Lord God, As I liue, I will surely bring mine oth that he hath despised, and my covenant that he hath broken, vpon his owne head.

20 And I will spread my net vpon him, and he shall be taken in my net, and I will bring him to Babel, and will enter into iudgement with him there for his trespass that he hath committed against me.

21 And all that see from him with all his hoste, shall fall by the sword, and they that remaine, shall be scattered toward all the windes: and ye shall know that I the Lord haue spoken it.

22 Thus saith the Lord God, I will also take of the toppe of this hie cedar, & will set it, and cut of the toppe of the tender plant thereof, and I will plant it vpon an hie mountaine and great.

23 Euen in the hie mountaine of Israel will I plant it: and it shall bring forth boughes and beare fruit, and bee an excellent cedar, and vnder it shall remaine all byrdes, and euery foule shall dwell in the shadow of the branches thereof.

24 And all the trees of the fielde shall knowe that I the Lord haue brought downe the hie tree, and exalted the low tree, that I haue dried by the Greene tree, and made the drie tree to flourish: I the Lord haue spoken it, and haue done it.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 He sheweth that euery man shall heare his owne sinne. 21 To him that amendeth, is saluation promised. 24 Death is promised to the righteous, which turneth backe from the right way.

1 The word of the Lord came vnto me againe, saying,

2 What meane see that see speake this prouerbe, concerning the lande of Israel, saying, The fathers haue eaten sowe grapes, and the childrens teeth are set on edge?

3 As I liue, saith the Lord God, ye shall vse this prouerbe no more in Israel.

4 Behold, all soules are mine, both the soule of the father, and also the soule of the sonne are mine: the soule that sinneth, it shall die.

5 But if a man be iust, and do that which is lawfull, and right, n This promise is made to the Church which shal be as a small remnant, and as the top of a tree. o I will trimme it and dresse it. p Both the Iewes & Gentiles shall be gathered into it. q All the worlde shal know that I haue pluckt down the proude enemies & set vp my Church which was lowe and contemned.

b Another as a lioness among the lions: she nourished her pong ones among the Lyons whelpes,

3 And she brought up one of her whelpes and it became a lion, and it learned to catch the pray, & it deuoured men.

4 The nations also heard of him, and he was taken in their nets, and they brought him in chaines vnto the land of Egypt.

5 Howe when she sawe, that she had wayped and her hope was lost, she took another of her whelpes, and made him a lion.

6 Which went among the Lyons, and became a lion, and learned to catche the pray, & he deuoured men.

7 And he knewe their widowes, and he destroyed their cities, and the lande was waiped, and all that was therein by the nosse of his roaring.

8 Then the nations set against him on euery side of the countreys, and laped their nets for him: so he was taken in their pit.

9 And they put him in prison and in chaines and brought him to the King of Babel, and they put him in holdes, that his voice should no more be heard vpon the mountaines of Israel.

11 And she had strong rods for the scythes of them that beare rule, and her stature was exalted among the braches, and she appeared in her height with the multitude of her braches.

12 But she was plucked by in wrath: she was cast downe to the ground, and the East winde dyped by her fruit: her braches were broke, and withered: as for the rod of her strenght, the fire consumed it.

13 And now she is planted in the wilddernes in a drye and thurste ground.

14 And fire is gone out of a rod of her braches, which hath deuoured her fruit, so that she hath no strong rodde to be a scepter to rule: this is a lamentation and shall be for a lamentation.

CHAPTER XX.

3 The Lord denieth, that he will answer them when they pray, because of their unkindenesse. 33 He promiseth that his people shall returne from captiuitie. 46 By the forest that should be burnt, is signified the burning of Ierusalem.

1 Ad in the seuenth yere in the fift moneth, the tenth day of the moneth, came certaine of the Elders of Israel to enquire of the Lorde, and saue before me.

2 Then came the word of the Lorde vnto me, saying,

3 Some of man, speake vnto the Elders of Israel, and saue vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Are ye come to enquire of me? as I liue, sayeth the Lord God, when I am asked, I will not answer you.

4 Wilt thou iudge them, some of man? wilt thou iudge them? cause them to understand the abominations of their fathers,

5 And say vnto the, Thus saith the Lord God, In the day when I chose Israel, and I lift by mine hand vnto the seed of the house of Jaakob, & made my selfe knowne vnto them in the lande of Egypt, when I lift by mine hande vnto them, and sayde, I am the Lorde your God,

6 In the day that I lift by mine hande vnto them to bring them forth of the land of Egypt, into a land that I had promised for them, flowing with milke and honny which is pleasant among all lands,

7 Then said I vnto them, Let euery man call away the abominations of his eyes, and defile not your selues with the idoles of Egypt: for I am the Lorde your God.

8 But they rebelled against me, and would not heare me: for none cast away the abominations of their eyes, neither did they forsake the idoles of Egypt: then I thought to powre out mine indignation vpon them, & to accomplish my wrath against them in the middes of the land of Egypt.

9 But I had respect to my Name, that it should not be polluted before the heathen, among whom they were, and in whose sight I made my selfe knowne vnto them in bringing them forth of the land of Egypt.

10 Howe I carped them out of the land of Egypt, and brought them into the wilderness.

11 And I gaue them my statutes, and declared my iudgements vnto them, which if a man do, he shall liue in the.

12 Whereouer I gaue them also my Sabbaths to be a signe betweene me and them, that they might knowe that I am the Lord, that sanctifie them.

13 But the house of Israel rebelled against me in the wilderness: they walked not in my statutes, and they cast away my iudgements, which if a man do, he shall liue in the, & my Sabbaths haue they greatly polluted: then I thought to powre out mine indignation vpon them in the wilderness to consume them,

14 But I had respect to my Name, that it should not be polluted before the heathen, in whose sight I brought them out.

15 Yet neuertheless, I lift by mine hand vnto them in the wilderness that I would not bring them into the lande, which I had giuen the, flowing with milke & honny, which was pleasant about

b This declareth y great lenitie & patience of God, which calleth sinners to repentance before he condemne the.

c I sware that I would be their God, which manner of othe was obserued fro all antiquity, where they vied to lift vp their hands toward the heauen, acknowledging God to be y author of truth, & the defender thereof, & also the iudge of the heart, wishing that he should take vengeance, if they concealed any thing which they knewe to be true.

d God had forbidden them to make mentio of idols, Exo. 23. 13. psal. 16. 4.

e Which thing declareth y wickednes of mans hart which iudge Gods seruice by their eyes and outward senses, f God had cuer this respect to his glory, that he would not haue his name euill spoken of among the Gentiles for the punishment that his people deserued, in confidence whereof the godly euer praised, as Exo. 32. 12. Nom. 14. 13.

Leuit. 18. 5. rom. 10. 5. gal. 3. 12. Exod. 10. 8. & 21. 17. deit. 15. 12. Rom. 14. 28. 29. and 26. 8. 5.

g Who might therby take an occasion to blaspheme my name & to accuse me of lacke of abilitie, or els that I had sought a meanes to destroy them more commodiously.

h That is, my true religion which I had commanded them, & gave themselves to serve me according to their owne fantasies, i Whereby the holy Ghost conuicteth them that say they wil follow the religion and example of their fathers, & not measure their doings by Gods worde, whether they be approuable thereby or no.

k Meaning, that they set their delie vpon them. l Because they would not obey my lawes, I gave them vp to them selues, that they shuld obey their owne fantasies, as verſe. 32. Rom. 1. 21, 24. m I condemned those things, & counted them as abominable which they thought had bin excellent, and to haue declared most zeale, Luk. 16. 15, for that which God required as most excellent, that gaue they to their idols. n Nor onely in the wilderness, when I brought them out of Egypt, but since I placed them in this land: which declareth how prompt mens hearts is to idolatrie, seeing that by no admonitions he can be drawn backe, all lands,

16 Because they cast away my iudgements and walked not in my statutes, but haue polluted my Sabbaths: for their heart went after their idols.
17 Nevertheless, mine eye spared them, that I would not destroy them, neither would I consume them in the wilderness.
18 But I said vnto their children in the wilderness, Walk ye not in the ordinances of your fathers, neither observe their manner, nor desire your selues wch their idoles.
19 I am the Lord your God: I waite in my statutes, and kepe my iudgements and do them, 20 And sanctifie my Sabbaths, & they shall be a signe betwene me & you, that ye may know that I am the Lord your God.
21 Notwithstanding the children rebelled against me: they walked not in my statutes, nor kept my iudgements to do them, which if a man do, he shall liue in them, but they polluted my Sabbaths: then I thought to poure out mine indignation vpon them, & to accomplish my wrath against them in the wilderness.
22 Nevertheless I withheld mine hand and had respect to my Name that it shoulde not be polluted before the heathen, in whose sight I brought them forth.
23 Per I lift my hand vnto them in the wilderness, that I would scatter them among the heathen, and disperse them through the countreys, 24 Because they had not executed my iudgements, but had cast away my statutes and had polluted my Sabbaths, and their eyes were after their fathers idoles.
25 Wherefore I gave them also statutes that were not good, and iudgements, wherein they shoulde not liue.
26 And I polluted them in their owne gifts in that they caused to passe by the fire al that first openeth the wombe, that I might destroy them, & to the ende that they might know that I am the Lord.
27 Therefore, some of man, speake vnto the house of Israel, and say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Per in this your fathers haue blasphemed me, though they had bene grievously transgressed agaynst me.
28 For when I had brought them into the lande, for the which I lifted up mine hand to give it to the, then they saw euery high hill, & al the thick trees, & they offered there their sacrifices, & there they presented their offering of proouocation: there also they made their sweete savour, and polluted out there their drink offerings.
29 Then I said vnto them, What is the high place wherunto ye go? And the name thereof was called Bamah vnto this day.

30 Wherefore, say vnto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God, Keepe ye not polluted after the manner of your fathers: & committe ye not whoredome after their abominations?
31 For when you offer your giftes, and make your loimes to passe through the fire, you pollute your selues with all your idoles vnto this day: shall I answer you when I am asked, & house of Israel: As I live, saith the Lord God, I will not answer you when I am asked.
32 Neither shall that be done that cometh into your minde: for ye saye, We will be as the heathen, and as the families of the countreys, & serue wood, and stone.
33 As I live, saith the Lord God, I will surely rule you with a mighty hand, and with a stretched out arme, and in my wrath polluted out, 34 And wil bring you from the people, & wil gather you out of the countreys, wherein ye are scattered, with a mighty hand, and with a stretched out arme and in my wrath polluted out.
35 And I wil bring you into the wilderness of the people, & there wil I pleade with you face to face.
36 Like as I pleaded with your fathers in the wilderness of the land of Egypt, so wil I plead w you, saith the Lord God.
37 And I wil cause you to pass vnder the rod, and wil bring you into the bonde of the covenant.
38 And I wil chuse out from among you the rebelles, and them that transgresse against me: I wil bring them out of the land where they dwell, & they shall not enter into the land of Israel, and you shal know that I am the Lord.
39 As for you, O house of Israel, thus saith the Lord God, So you, & serue euerie one his idole, seeing that ye will not obey mee, and pollute mine holie Name no more with your giftes and with your idoles.
40 For in mine holy mountaine, even in the high mountaine of Israel, saith the Lord God, there shall all the house of Israel, and all in the lande, serue me: there wil I accept them, and there wil I require your offerings and the first fruits of your oblations, with all your holy things.
41 I wil accept your sweete savour, when I bring you from the people, & gather you out of the countreys, wherein ye haue bene scattered, that I may be sanctified in you before the heathen.
42 And ye shall knowe, that I am the Lord, when I shall bring you into the lande of Israel, into the lande, for the which I lifted up mine hand to give it to your fathers.
43 And there shall ye remember your waies, and all your workes, wherein ye haue

3 He threatneth the sword, and destruction to Ierusalem. 25 He sheweth the fall of King Zedekiah. 28 He is commanded to prophesie the destruction of the children of Ammon. 30 The Lord threatneth to destroy Nebuchad-nezzar.

1 The word of the Lord came to me againe, saying,

2 Some of man, set thy face toward Ierusalem, and droppe thy word towarde the holy places, and prophesie against the land of Israel,

3 And say to the lad of Israel, Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I come against thee, & wil draw my sword out of his sheath, and cut of from thee both y^e righteous and the wicked.

4 Seeing then that I wil cut of fro^e thee both the righteous and wicked, therefore shall my sword go out of his sheath against all flesh from the South to the North,

That all flesh may knowe that I the Lord haue drawne my sword out of his sheath, and it shall not returne any more.

7 And it they sape vnto thee, Wherefore mournest thou: then answer, Because y^e of the brute: for it comneth, & euerie heart shall melt, and all hands shall be weake, and all mindes shall faint, and all knees shall fall away as water: beholde, it comneth, and shall be done, saith the Lord God.

8 Againe, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

9 Some of man, prophesie, I say, Thus saith the Lord God, I saye, A sword, a sword both sharpe, and fourbished.

10 It is sharpened to make a sore slaughter, and it is fourbished that it maye glitter: how shall we reioice? for it containeth the sword of my sonne, as b^e al other trees.

11 And he hath giuen it to bee fourbished, that he may handle it: this sword is sharpe, & is fourbished, that he may giue it into the hand of the slayer.

12 Crie, and howle, sonne of man: for this shall come to my people, and it shall come vnto all the princes of Israel: the terrors of y^e sword shall be vpon my people: k^e smite therefore vpon thy thigh.

13 For it is a trial, and what shall this be, if the sword contemne euen the rod? It shall be no more, saith the Lord God.

14 Thou therefore, sonne of man, prophesie, and smiteⁿ hande to hande, and let the sword bee doubled: let the sword that hath killed, returne the thirde time: it is the sword of the great slaughter entering into their ynnie chambers.

1 Moreouer, the worde of the Loide came vnto me, saying,

 3 Then say, Thus saith the Lord God, The citie sheddeh blood in the middes of it, that her time may come, & makeh her: doles against her selfe to pollute her selfe.
 4 Thou hast offended in thy blood, that thou hast shed, and hast polluted thy selfe in thine idoles, which thou hast

 5 Those that be neere, and those that be farre from thee, shall mocke thee, which are vile in name and foie in affliction.
 6 Beholde, the princes of Israel euerie one in thre was readie to his power, to shedde blood.

 8 Thou hast despised mine holy things, and hast polluted my Sabbaths.
 9 In thee are men that carie tales to shedde blood: in thee are they that eate vpon the mountaines: in the middes of thee they commit abomination.
 10 In thee haue they discovered their fathers shame: in thee haue they vexed her that was polluted in her floures.
 11 And euery one hath committed abomination with his neighbours wyfe, and euery one hath wickedly defiled his daughter in lawe, and in thee hath euerie man forced his owne sister, euen his fathers daughter.
 12 In thee haue they taken gifts to shed blood: thou hast taken vsurie and the encrease, and thou hast defrauded thy neighbours by extortion, and hast gotten me, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XXIII.

Of the idolatrie of Samaria and Ierusalem, vnder the names of Aholah and Aholibah.

1 The word of the Lord came againe unto me, saying,

2 Some of man, there were two women, the daughters of one man: their,

3 And they committed fornication in Egypt, they committed fornication in their youth: there were their beastes pressed, & there they buyied the teates of their virginitee.

4 And the names of them were as holah, the eldee, & Aholibah her sister: and they were mine, and they bare sonnes and daughters: thus were their names, Samaria is Aholah, and Ierusalem Aholibah.

5 And Aholah played the harlot: when she was mine, and she was set on fire with her louers, to wit, with the Assyrians her neighbours,

6 Which were clothed with blew silke, both captaynes and princes: they were all pleasant yong men, and horsemen riding vpon horses.

7 Thus he committed her whoredome with them, even with all them that were the chosen men of Asshur, and with all on whome she doted, & defiled her selfe with all their doles.

8 Neither left she her fornications, learned of the Egyptians: for in her youth they say with her, and they buyied the beates of her virginitee, and powred their whoredome vpon her.

9 Wherefore I deliuered her into the hands of her louers, euen into the hands of the Assyrians, vpon whome she doted.

10 These discovered her shame: they took away her sonnes and her daughters, and slewe her with the sword, and she had an euill name among women: for they had executed iudgement vpon her.

11 And when her sister Aholibah saw this, she married her selfe with inordinate loue, more then she, and with her fornications more then her sister with her fornications.

12 She doted vpon the Assyrians her neighbours, both captaynes and princes clothed with diuers suites, horsemen riding vpon horses: they were all pleasant yong men.

13 Then I sawe that she was defiled, & that they were both after one sort,

14 And that she increased her fornications: for when the sawe men painted vpon the wall, the images of the Caldeans painted with vermillion,

15 And girded with girdles vpon their loynes, & with dyed attyre vpon their heades, (looking all like princes after the manner of the Babylonians in Caldea, the land of their natiuitie)

16 Alasone, I say, as she sawe them, she doted vpon them, and sent messengers unto them into Caldea.

17 Now when the Babylonians came to her into the bed of loue, they defiled her with their fornication, and she was polluted with them, & her lust departed from them.

18 So she discovered her fornication, & disclosed her shame: then mine heart forsake her, like as mine heart had forsaken her sister.

19 Yet he increased her whoredome more, and called to remembrance the dayes of her youth, wherein he had played the harlot in the land of Egypt.

F Meaning, the Assyrians.

This declarereth that no wordes are able sufficiently to expresse the rage of idolaters, and therefore the holy Ghost here compareth them to those which in their raging lusts dote vpon the images and paintings of the after whom they lust.

21 Thou calledst to remembrance þ wisedoms of thy pouch, when thy teates were banysd by the egyptians: theres fore the paypers of thy pouch are thus.

22 Therefore, O Wholohay, thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I wil rate vp thy louers against thee, nom whom thine heart is departed, & I wil bring them aga nst thee on euery side,

23 To wit, the Babylonians, and all the Calbeans, þ Deked, and Shoah, & Koa, and al the Assyrians with them: they were al pleasant young men, captaynes and princes: al they were valiant and renowned, yping upon hozes.

24 Euen these shall come against thee with charers, waggons, and wheeles, and with a multitude of people, which shal set against thee, buckler and shield, and helmet round about: and I wil leaue the punishment vnto them, and they shall iudge thee according to their iudgements.

25 And I wil lay mine indignation vps on thee, and they that deale cruelly with thee: they shal cut of thy nose & thine eares, and thy remnant shal fall by the sword: they shal carie away thy sonnes and thy daughters, and thy residue shal be denoued by the fire.

26 They shall also strypp thee out of thy clothes, and take away thy fayre riewels.

27 Thus will I make thy wickednes to cease from thee and thy fornication out of the land of Egypt: so that thou shalt not lift vp thine eyes vnto them, nor remember Egypt any more.

28 For thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I wil deliuer thee into the hande of them, whom thou hatest: euen into the hands of them from whom thine heart is departed.

29 And they shal handle thee despytfulsly, and shall take away al thy labour, and shal leaue thee naked and bare, and the shame of thy fornications shall be discovered, both thy wickednes, & thy whoyedome.

30 I will do these things vnto thee, because thou hast gone a whoying after þ heathen, & because thou art polluted with thy idoles.

31 Thou hast walked in the waape of thy sister: therefore wil I giue her cup into thine hand.

32 Thus saith the Lorde God, Thou shalt drinke of thy sisters cup, deepe and large: thou shalt be laughed to scorne and had in derision, because it containeth much.

33 Thou shalt be filled with drunkennes & sorrow, euen with the cup of destruction, and desolation, with the cup of thy sister Samaria.

34 Thou shalt euen drinke it, and bying

it into the dregges, & thou shalt bryake the theardes thereof, and reate thine owne breasts: for I haue spoken it, saith the Lord God.

35 Therefore thus saith the Lorde God, Because thou hast forgotten me, & call me behind thy back, therefore thou shalt also beare thy wickednes & thy whoyses done.

36 The Lorde said moreover vnto me, Some of man, wilt thou iudge Wholohay and Wholohay? & wilt thou declare to them their abominations?

37 For they haue played the whoyses, and blood is in their handes, and with their idoles haue they committed adultery, & haue also caused thier sonnes, whom they bare vnto me, to passe by the fire to be their meate.

38 Whoeuer thus haue they done vnto me: they haue defiled my Sanctuarie in the same dape, and haue prophoaned my Sabbaths.

39 For when they had slaine their chilidren to their idoles, they came the same day into my Sanctuarie to defile it: & lo, thus haue they done in the middes of mine house.

40 And howe much moare is it that they sent for men to come from þ sarre, vnto whom a messenger was sent, and lo, they came: for whom thou didst walk thy selfe, and paintedst thine eyes, and deckedst thee with ornaments,

41 And laidst vpon a cosly bed, and a table prepared before it, wherupon thou hast let mine incense and mine ople.

42 And a voyce of a multitude being at ease, was with her: and with the men to make the compaigne great were brought men of þ Saba from the wilderness, which put by acclets vpon their handes, and beautifull crownes vpon their heads.

43 Then I said vnto her, that was osthe in adulteries, Now shall she and her fornications come to an end.

44 And they went in vnto her as they go to a common harlot: so went they to Wholohay and Wholohay the wicked women.

45 And the righteous men they shall iudge them, after the maner of þ harlots, & after the maner of murderers: for they are harlots, & blood is in their handes.

46 Wherefore thus saith the Lorde God, I will bying a multitude vpon them, & will giue them vnto the tumult, and to the people, 47 And the multitude shall stone them with stones, and cut them with their swoydes: they shall slay their sonnes, and their daughters, & burne by thier houses with fire.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 He sheweth the destruction of Ierusalem by a parable of a seething pot. 16 The parable of Eizakiels wife being dead.

Aaine in the 2^d ninth pere, in the tenth moneth, in the tenth day of the 2^d moneth came the worde of the Lord vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, write thee the name of the day, euen of this same day: for the king of Babel set himselfe against Ie-rusalem this same day.

3 Therefore speake a parable vnto the rebellious house, and sape vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Prepare a pot, prepare it, and also powe water into it.

4 Gather the 2^d pieces thereof into it, euen euery good piece, as the thigh and the shoulder, and fill it with the chiefe bones.

5 Take one of the best sheepe, & burne also the 2^d bones vnder it, and make it hope well, and see the bones of it therein.

6 Because the Lord God saith thus, Wo to the bloodie citie, euen to the pot, whose skomme is therein, and whose skomme is not gone out of it: bring it out a piece by piece: let not a lot fall vpon
it.

7 For her blood is in the middes of her:
she set it vpon an high rocke, and powered it not vpon the ground to cover it with dust.

8 That it might cause wrath to arise, and take vengeance: euen I haue set her blood vpon an high rock that it should not bee covered.

9 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Wo to the bloodie citie, for I will make the burning great.

10 Heape on much wood: kindle a fire, consume the felty, and cast in spice, and let the bones be burnt.

11 Then let it empye vpo the coles ther-of, that the brasle of it may be hot, and make burne, and that the filthines of it may be molten in it, & that the skomme of it may be consumed.

12 She hath wearied her selfe with lies, and her great skomme went not out of her: therefore her skomme shall be consumed with fire.

13 Thou remainest in thy filthines & wickednes: because I would haue purged thee, and thou wast not purged, thou shalt not be purged from thy fil-thines, til I haue caused my wrath to light vpon thee.

14 The Lord haue spoken it: it shall come to passe, and I will do it: I will not go backe, neither will I spare, neither will I repent: according to thy wayes, and according to thy workes shall they iudge thee, saith the Lord God.

n That is, the Babylonians.

15 Also the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

16 Sonne of man, beholde, I take away fro thee the pleasure of thine eyes with a plague: per that thou neither mourne nor weepe, neither shall thy teares run downe.

o Meaning, his wife in whom he delired, as verf 18.

17 Cease from sighing: make no mourning for the dead, and bnde the tyre of thine head vpon thee, & put on thy shooes vpon thy feete, and couer not thy lippes, and eate & not the bread of men.

p For in mourning they went bare headed and bare footed, and also covered their lippes.

18 So I spake vnto the people in the morning, and at euen my wife dyed:
and I did in the morning, as I was commanded.

q That is, which sent to them y mourned.

19 And the people saide vnto me, Wilt thou not tell vs what these thinges meane toward vs, that thou doest so?

r Meaning, the morning following.

20 Then I answered them, The word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

21 Speake vnto the house of Israel,
Thus saith the Lord God, Behold,
I will pollute my Sanctuarie, euen the pride of your power, the pleasure of your eyes, and your hearts desire, and your soimes, and your daugh-
the sword.

s By sending the Caldeans to destroy it, as Chap.
7-22.

22 And ye shall do as I haue done: ye shall not couer your lippes, neither shall ye eate the bread of men.

t Wherein you boast and delite.

23 And your tyre shall be vpo your heads, & your shooes vpon your feete: ye shall not mourne nor weepe, but ye shall yme away for your iniquities, & mourne one toward another.

24 Thus Ezekiel is vnto you a signe: according to all that he hath done, ye shall do: and when this cometh, ye shall know that I am the Lord God.

25 Also, thou sonne of man, that it not be in a day when I take from them their power, the hope of their honour, the pleasure of their eyes, and the desire of their heart, their soimes and their daughters?

u Ebr. lifting vp of their soules.

26 That he that escapeth in that day, shall come vnto thee to tell thee that which he hath heard with his eares?

27 In that day shall thy mouth be opened to him which is escaped, and thou shalt speake, and be no more domine, & thou shalt be a signe vnto them, & they shall knowe that I am the Lord.

e So that no power or strength should be able to resist the Babylonians.

3 And say vnto the Ammonites, Heare the word of the Lord God, Thus sayth the Lord God, Because thou saidest, ^a Ya, ha, againt my Dauciuarie, when it was polluted, and againt the laude of Israel, when it was desolate, and againt the house of Iudah, when they went into captiuitie,

4 Beholde, therefore I will deliuer thee to the ^b men of the East for a possession, and they shall let thee ^c palaces in thee, and make thee dwellings in thee: they shall eate thy fruit, and they shall drinke thy milke.

5 And I wil make ^d Kabbah a dwelling place for camels, and the Ammonites a shepccote, and pe shall knowe that I am the Lorde.

6 For thus sayth the Lord God, Because thou hast clapped the handes, & stamped with the feet, and reioyced in heart with all thy despite againt the land of Israel,

7 Beholde, therefore I will stretche out mine hand vpon thee, and will deliuer thee to be spoiled of the heathen, and I will roate thee out from the people, and I will cause thee to be destroyed out of the countreys, and I wil destroy thee, and thou shalt knowe that I am the Lorde.

8 Thus sayth the Lorde God, Because that Moab and Seir do say, Beholde, the house of Iudah is like vnto all the heathen, 9 Therefore, beholde, I wil open the side of Moab, euen of ^b cities of his cities, I say, in his frontiers with the pleasant countrey, Beth-ichunoth, Baal-meon, and Karathaim.

10 I wil call the men of the East againt the Ammonites, and wil giue them in possession, so that the Ammonites shall no more be remembred among the nations, 11 And I wil execute iudgements vpon Moab, and they shall knowe that I am the Lorde.

12 Thus sayth the Lord God, Because that Edom hath done euill by taking vengeance vpon the house of Iudah, & hath committed great offence, and reuenged him selfe vpon them,

13 Therefore thus sayth the Lorde God, I wil also stretch out mine hand vpon Edom, and destroy man and beast out of it, and I will make it desolate from Teman, and they of Dedan shall fall by the sword.

14 And I wil execute my vengeance by vpon Edom by the had of my people Israel, & they shall do in Edom according to mine anger, & according to mine indignation, and they shall know my vengeance, saith the Lord God.

15 Thus sayth the Lorde God, Because the Philistims haue executed vengeance, and reuenged themselves with a despitefull heart, to destroy it for the old hatred, 16 Beholde, I wil stretch out mine hand vpon the Philistims, and I will cut off the Cherethims, and destit of the remnant of the sea coast.

17 And I will execute great vengeance vpon them with rebukes of mine indignation, and they shall knowe that I am the Lorde, when I shall lay my vengeance vpon them.

CHAPTER. XXVI.

1 He prophesieth that Tyrus shall be overthrowen because it remained at the destruction of Ierusalem.

15 The wondrous and astonishment of the merchants for the destruction of Tyrus.

1 Asd in the sixteenth yeere, in ^b first day of the moneth, ^c word of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

2 Some of man, because that Tyrus hath sayd againt Ierusalem, ^a Ya, ha, the ^b gate of the people is broken: it is turned vnto me: for seeing she is desolate, I shall be replenished,

3 Therefore thus sayth the Lorde God, behold, I come againt thee, ^c Tyrus, and I will bring by many nations againt thee, as ^d sea mounteith by with his waues.

4 And they shall destroy the walles of Tyrus and breake downe her towers: I wil also scrape her dust from her, and make her like the toppe of a rocke.

5 Thou shalt be for the spreading of nets in the middes of the sea: for I haue spoken it, sayth the Lord God, and it shall be a people to the nations.

6 And her ^e daughters which are in the field, shall be slaine by the sword, & they shall knowe that I am the Lorde.

7 For thus sayth the Lord God, Behold, I will bring vpon Tyrus Nebuchadnezzar King of Babel, a King of Kings from the North, with horses and with charers, & with horsemen, with multitude and much people.

8 He shall slay with ^f sword thy daughters in the field, & he shall make a forte againt thee, & cast a moit againt thee, and lift vp the buckler againt thee.

9 He shall set engines of warre before him againt thy walles, and with his weapons breake downe thy towers.

10 The dust of his horses shall couer thee, for their multitude: thy wals shall shake at the noise of the horsemen, and of the wheelcs, and of the charers, when he shall enter into thy gates as into ^g a citie of a citie that is broken downe.

11 With the hooues of his horses shall he tread downe all thy streetes: he shall slay thy people by the sword, and the pillars of thy strength shall fall downe to the ground.

12 And they shall robbe thy riches, and spoyle thy marchandise, and they shall breake downe thy walles, and destroy thy pleasant houses, and they shall cast thy stones and thy timber and thy dust into the mids of the water.

d The townes that belonged vnto her.

e For Tyrus was much built by arte, & by labor of men was wone out of the sea. Some referre this vnto ^h images of the noble men, which they had erected vp for their glory and renoume.

13 * Thus will I cause the sound of thy songs to cease, and the sound of thine harpes shall be no more heard.

14 I will lay thee like the top of a rocke: thou shalt be as a breacking of nets: thou shalt be built no more: for I the Lord haue spoken it, sayth the Lord God.

15 Thus saith the Lord God to Tyrus, Shall not the plea tremble at the sound of thy fall: & at the crye of the wounded, when they shall be slaine & murthered in the middes of thee?

16 Then all the princes of the sea shall come downe from their thrones: they shall lay away their robes, and put of their byopdyed garments, & shall clothe them selues with astonishment: they shall sit vpon the ground, and be astonished at euery moment, and be amazed at thee.

17 And they shall take by a lamentation for thee, & say to thee, How art thou destroyed, that wast inhabited ^h of the sea men, ^h renowned cite which was strong in the sea, both she & her inhabitantes, which cause their feare to be on al that haunt therein!

18 Howe shall all the ples be astonished in the day of thy fall: yea, the ples that are in the sea, shall be troubled at thy despayture.

19 For thus saith the Lord God, When I shall make thee a desolate city, like the cities that are not inhabited, and when I shall bring the deepe vpon thee, and great waters shall couer thee,

20 When I shall cast thee downe with them that descend into the pit, with the people ⁱ of olde time, and shall set thee in the lowe parts of the earth, like the old ruines, with the, I say, which go downe to the pit, so that thou shalt not be inhabited, and I shall thewe my glorie in the lande of the ^k living,

21 I will * bing thee to nothing, & thou shalt be no more: though thou be sought for, yet shalt thou neuer be found againe, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XXVII.

The Prophet bewyleth the desolation of Tyrus, shewing what were the riches, power and autoritie thereof in time past.

33 When thy wares went sooth of the seas, thou filledst many people and thou didest enriche the Kinges of the earth with the multitude of thy riches and of thy marchandise.

34 When thou shalt be broken by the seas in the depths of the waters, thy marchandise & all thy multitude, which was in the middes of thee, shall fall.

35 Al the inhabitants of the ples shall be astonished at thee, and all their Kinges shall be sore afraid and troubled in their countenance.

36 The marchantes among the people shall hiss at thee: thou shalt be a terrour, and neuer shall be any more.

CHAP. XXVJII.

2 The words of God against the King of Tyrus for his pride. 21 The word of the Lord against Zidon. 25 The Lord promisifyeth that he will gather together the children of Israel.

1 The word of the Lord came againe vnto me, saying,

2 Some of man, say vnto þ prince of Tyrus, Thus saith the Lorde God, Because thine heart is exalted, & thou hast sayde, I am a god, I sit in the seat of God in the mids of the sea, per thou art but a man and not God, & though thou didest thinke in thine heart, that thou wast equal with God,

3 Beholde, thou art wiser then Daniel: there is no secret, that they can hide from thee.

4 With thy wisdom and thine vnderstanding thou hast gotten thee riches, and hast gotten gold and siluer into thy treasures.

5 By thy great wisdom and by thine occupying hast thou increased thy riches, & thine heart is lifted by because of thy riches.

6 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because thou didest thinke in thine heart, that thou wast equal with God,

7 Beholde, therefore I will bring strangers vpon thee, euen the terrible nations: and they shall drawe their swords against the beautie of thy wisdom, & they shall defile thy brightnes.

8 They shall cast thee downe to the pit, and thou shalt dye the death of them, that are slayne in the middes of the sea.

9 Wilt thou saye then before him, that slaieth thee, I am a god: but thou shalt be a man, and no God, in the hands of him that slapeth thee.

10 Thou shalt dye the death of the vncircumcised by the hands of strangers: for I haue spoken it, saith the Lorde God.

11 Whosoener the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

12 Some of man, take by a lamentation vpon the King of Tyrus, and say vnto him, Thus saith the Lorde God, Thou sealest by the sunne, & art full of wisdom and verite in beautie.

13 Thou hast bene in Eden the garden of God: every precious stone was in thy garment, the rubie, the topaze and the diamond, the chrysolite, the emir, and the iasper, the saphir, emiraud, & the carbuncle and golde: the workmanship of thy timbrels, and of thy pipes was prepared in thee in the daye that thou wast created.

14 Thou art the anointed Cherub, that couereth, and I haue set thee in honour: thou wast vpon the holie mountaine of God: thou hast walked in the middes of the stones of fire.

15 Thou wast verite in thy wapes fro the day that thou wast created, till iniquite was found in thee.

16 By the multitude of thy marchandise, they haue filled the mids of thee with crueltie, and thou hast sinned: therefore I will cast thee as prophane out of the mountaine of God: and I will destroy thee, & concerning Cherub from þ mids of the stones of fire.

17 Thine heart was lifted by because of thy beauty, & thou hast corrupted thy wisdom by reason of thy brightnes:

a I am safe thae none can come to hurt me, as God is in the heauen.

b Though thou see thine heart as the heart of God.

c Thus he speaketh byderision: for Daniel had declared notable signes of his wisdom in Babelon, when Ezelkiel vsote this.

d Like the rest of the heathen and infidels, which are Gods enemies.

e He erideth & vaine opinion & confidence y the Tyrians had in their riches, strength & pleasures.

f Or, iasper.

g Or, carbuncle.

h He meanth the royal state of Tyrus, which for the excellencie and glorie thereof he compareth to the Cherubims which couered the arke: & by this word anointed he signifieth the same, f I did thee this honour to make thee one of the builders of my Temple, which was when Hirā sent vnto Salomon things necessary for the worke.

I will cast thee to the ground: I will lay thee before kings: that they may beseech thee.

k That is, the honour, whereunto I called them.

18 Thou hast defiled thy sanctification by the multitude of thine iniquities, & by the iniquitie of thy merchandise: therefore will I bring forth a fire from the mids of thee, which shall deuoure thee: and I will bring thee to ashes vpon the earth, in the sight of all the that beholde thee.

19 All the that know thee among the people, shall be astonish'd at thee: thou shalt be a terror, & neuer shalt thou be any more.

Or, brought to nothing.

20 I will againe, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

21 Some of man, set thy face agaynst Sidon, and prophesie agaynst it,

22 And say, Thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I come agaynst thee, O Sidon, and I will be glorified in the mids of thee: and the shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall haue executed iudgements in her, & she shall be sanctified in her.

I By executing my iudgements agaynst thy wickednes.

23 For I will send into her pestilence, & blood into her streets, and the slayne shall fall in the mids of her, the enemy shall come agaynst her with the sword on euery side, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

24 And they shall be no more a pricking thorne vnto the house of Israel, nor any grievous thorne of all that are rounde about them, and despised them, and they shall know that I am the Lord God.

25 Thus saith the Lord God, When I shall haue gathered the house of Israel from the people where they are scattered, and shall be sanctified in them in the sight of the heathen, then shall they dwell in the land, that I haue giuen to my seruant Iacob.

n He sheweth for what cause God will assemble his Church, and preferue it still though he destroy his enemies: to wit, that they should praise him, and give thanks for his great mercies.

26 And they shall dwell safely therein, & shall build houses, & plant vineyards: they shall dwell safely, when I haue executed iudgements vpon all rounde about them that despise them, and they shall know that I am the Lord their God.

CHAP. XXIX.

He prophesieth agaynst Pharaoh and Egypt. 13 The Lord promyseth that he will restore Egypt after fourtie yeeres. 18 Egypt is the reward of King Nebuchad-nezzar for the labor, which he tooke agaynst Tyrus.

a To wit, of the captiuitie of Iconiah or of the reigne of Zedekiah, Of the order of these prophesies & how the former sometimes standeth after the latter, read Iere. 2. 1. b He compareth Pharaoh to a dragon which hideth himselfe in the ruer Nilus, as Isa. 51. 9.

1 I will be a tenth peere, and in the tenth month in the twelfth day of the month, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Some of man, set thy face agaynst Pharaoh the king of Egypt, & prophesie agaynst him, and agaynst all Egypt.

3 Speake, I say, Thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I come agaynst thee, Pharaoh king of Egypt, the great dragon, that lyeth in the mids of his riuers, which hath sayde, The ruer is mine, and I haue made it for my selfe.

4 But I will put hookes in thy chawes, and I will cause the fish of the riuers to sticke vnto thy scales, and I will drawe thee out of the mids of thy riuers, and all the fish of thy riuers shall sticke vnto thy scales.

c I will send enemies agaynst thee, which shall plucke thee, and thy people which trust in thee, out of thy sure places.

5 And I will leave thee in the wilderness, both thee and all the fish of thy riuers: thou shalt fall vpon y open field: thou shalt not be brought together, nor gathered: for I haue giue thee for meat to the beasts of the field, and to y fowles of heauen.

6 And all the inhabitants of Egypt shall know that I am the Lord, because they haue bene a staffe of reede to the house of Israel.

d Read 2. King 18. 21. Isa. 36. 6.

7 When theyooke hold of thee in their hand, thou didest breake, & rent at their shoulder: and when they leaned vpon thee, thou brakest and madest all their lopnes to stand vpright.

e Or, shake. f When they felt their hurt, they would stay no more vpon thee, but stoode vpon their feece and put their trust in others.

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will bring a sword vnto thee, and destroy man and beast out of thee,

9 And y land of Egypt shall be desolate, & waste, & they shall know that I am the Lord: because he hath sayde, The ruer is mine, and I haue made it.

10 Beholde, therefore I come vpon thee, and vpon thy riuers, & I will make the land of Egypt vnto waste & desolate from the towne of Seuen, euen vnto the borders of the blacke Moyses.

11 No foote of man shall passe by it, nor foote of beast shall passe by it, neyther shall it be inhabited for euerie peeres.

12 And I will make the lande of Egypt desolate in the mids of the countreys, that are desolate, and her cities shall be desolate among the cities that are desolate, for fourtie peeres: and I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countreys.

f Thus God can not suffer that man should arrogate any thing to him selfe, or put his trust in any thing saue in him alone. * Ebr. Cush, or Ethiopia.

13 Per thus saith the Lord God, * At the end of fourtie peeres will I gather the Egyptians from the people, where they were scattered, Jerem. 46. 26.

14 And I will bring agayne the captiuitie of Egypt, & will cause them to returne into the land of Pathros, into the land of their habitation, & they shall be there a small kingdome.

g Meaning, that they should not haue full dominion, but be vnder the Persians, Grecians & Romanes, and the cause is, that the Israelites should no more put their trust in them, but leame to depend on God.

15 It shall be y smallest of the kingdoines, neyther shall it exalt it selfe any more above the nations: for I will diminish them, that they shall no more rule the nations.

16 And it shall be no more the confidence of the house of Israel, to bring their iniquitie to remembrance by looking after them, so shall they know, that I am the Lord God.

h Least I should by this meanes punish their finnes.

17 In the tenth & twentieth peere also in the first month, and in the first day of the month came the word of the Lord vnto me, saying,

i Counting from the captiuitie of Iconiah.

unto me, saying,
 2 Some of man, speake unto Pharaoh King of Egypt, and to his multitude, Whom art thou like in thy greatness? Beholde, Asshur was like a cedar in Lebanon with faire branches, and with thicke shadowing boughes, and shot by verie hie, and his toppes was among the thicke boughes.
 4 The waters nourished him, and the deepe exalted him on hys with her ryuers running round about hys plants, and sent out her little riuers vnto all the trees of the felde.
 5 Therefore his height was exalted as houe all the trees of the felde, and his boughes were multiplied, & his branches were long, because of his multitude of the waters, which the deepe sent out.
 6 All the foules of the heauen made their nests in his boughs, & vnder his branches did all the beasts of the felde bring forth their young, & vnder his shadowe dwelt all mightie nations.
 7 Thus was he faire in his greatness, & in the length of his branches: for his roote was nere great waters.
 8 The cedars in the garden of God could not hide him: no fire tree was like his branches, & the chestnut trees were not like his boughes: all the trees in the garden of God were not like vnto him in his beautie.
 9 I made him faire by the multitude of his branches: so that all the trees of Eden, that were in the garden of God, envied him.
 10 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because he is lifted vp on hys height, & hath shot by his toppes among the thicke boughes, and his heart is lifted vp in his height,
 11 I haue therefore deliuered him into the hands of the mightiest among the heathen: he shal handle him, for I haue cast him away for his wickednes.
 12 And strangers haue destroyed him, euen the terrible nations, & they haue left him vpon the mountaines, & in all the valleys his branches are fallen, and his boughes are broken by all riuers of the land: all the people of the earth are departed from his shadowe, & haue forsaken him.
 13 Vpon his ruine shal all the foules of heauen remaine, and all the beasts of the field shalbe vpon his branches,
 14 So that none of all the trees by the waters shalbe exalted by their height, neither shall boote by their top among the thicke boughs, neither shal their leaues stande by in their height, which drinke so much water: for they are deliuered vnto death in the nether partes of the earth in the middes of the children of men among them that goe downe to the pit.
 15 Thus saith the Lord God, In the day when he went downe to hell, I caused them to mourne, and I covered the deepe for him, and I did restraine the floods thereof, and the great waters were stayed: I caused Lebanon to mourne for him, and all the trees of the field fainted.

 16 I made the nations to shake at the sound of his fall, when I cast him downe to hell, with them that descend into the pit, and all the excellent trees of Eden, and the best of Lebanon: euen all that are nourished with waters, shall be comforted in the nether partes of the earth.
 17 They also went downe to hell vnto them that be slaine with the sword, and his arine, and they that dwell vnder his shadowe in the middes of the heathen.
 18 To whom art thou thus like in glory and in greatness among the trees of Eden: per thou shalt be cast downe to the trees of Eden vnto the nether partes of the earth: thou shalt sleepe in the middes of the vncircumcised, with them that be slaine by the sword: this is Pharaoh, & all his multitude, saith the Lord God.
 CHAP. XXXII.
 1 The Prophet is commended to be wylle Pharaoh king of Egypt. 12 He propheseth that destruction shall come vnto Egypt through the king of Babylon.
 1 Ad in the twelfth yeere in the twelfth moneth, & in the first daye of the moneth, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,
 2 Some of man, take by a lamentation for Pharaoh King of Egypt, & say vnto him, Thou art like a dragon in the fea: thou caldest out thy riuers, & troubledst the waters with thy fecte, and stampedst in their riuers.
 3 Thus saith the Lord God, I will therefore spread my net ouer thee to a great multitude of people, & they shall make thee come by vnto my net.
 4 Then wil I leave thee vpon the land, & I wil call thee vpon the open felde, & I wil cause all the foules of the heauen to remaine vpon thee, & I wil fill all the beasts of the field with thee.
 5 And I wil lay thy fleshy vpon the mountains, and fill the valleyes with thine height.
 6 I wil also water with thy blood the land wherein thou swimmest, euen to the moittaines, & the riuers shalbe full of thee.
 7 And when I shal put thee out, I wil couer the heauen, and make the starres thereof darke: I wil couer the sunne with a cloude, and the moone shal not giue her light.
 8 All the lights of heauen wil I make darke for thee, and bring darkness vpon thy land, saith the Lord God.
 9 I wil also trouble the hearts of many people, when I shal bring thy destruction among the nations, and vpon thee that shalbe for the slaughter of the king and his people.

To cause this destruction of the King of Assyria to seeme more horrible, he setteth forth other Kings and princes which are dead, as though they reioyced at the fall of such a tyrant. i Meaning, that Pharaohs power was nothing so great as his was. k Read Chap. 28. 10.

countreis which thou hast not knowe.
 10 Pea, I will make many people amazed at thee, and their kings shall be astonished with feare for thee, when I shall make my sword to glitter aganist their faces, and they shall be affraide at every moment: every man for his owne life in the day of thy fall.
 11 For thus saith the Lord God, The sword of the King of Babel shall come vpon thee.
 12 By the swordes of the mightie will I cause thy multitude to fall: they all shall be terrible nations, and they shall destroy the pompe of Egypt, & all the multitude thereof shall be consumed.

13 I will destroy also al the beasts thereof from the great water sides, neither shall foot of man trouble them any more, nor the hooves of beast trouble them.
 14 Then will I make their waters deep, & cause their rivers to runne like oyle, sayth the Lord God.
 15 When I shall make the land of Egypt desolate, & the countrey with al that is therein, shall be layd waste. When I shall smite al them, which dwell therein, then shall they know, that I am the Lord.
 16 This is the mourning wherewith they shall lament her: the daughters of the nations shall lament her: they shall lament for Egypt, & for all her multitude, saith the Lord God.

17 In the twelfth yeere also in the fiftieth day of the month, came the word of the Lord vnto me, saying,
 18 Some of man, lament for the multitude of Egypt, and cast them downe, even them and the daughters of the mightie nations vnto the nether partes of the earth, with them that go downe into the pit.

19 Whom dost thou vasse! in beautie? go downe and sleepe with the vncircumcised.
 20 They shall fall in the middes of them that are slaine by the sword: she is desluered to the sword: drawe her downe, and al her multitude.
 21 The most mightie and strong shall speake to her out of the middes of hell with them that helpe her: they are gone downe and sleepe with the vncircumcised that be slaine by the sword.

22 As thus is there and al his company: their graues are about him: all they are slaine and fallen by the sword.
 23 Whose graues are made in the side of the pit, and his multitude are rounde about his graue: al they are slaine and fallen by the sword, which caused feare to be in the land of the liuing.

24 There is Glan and al his multitude round about his graue: al they are slaine & fallen by the sword which are gone downe with the vncircumcised into the nether partes of the earth, which caused themselves to be feared in the land of the liuing, yet haue they borne their shame with them that are gone downe to the pit.

 25 They haue made his bed in the mids of the slaine with al his multitude: their graues are rounde about him: all they vncircumcised are slaine by the sword: though they haue caused their feare in the lande of the liuing, yet haue they borne their shame with them that go downe to the pit: they are layde in the mids of them, that be slayne.

26 There is Helhech, Tubal, & all their multitude, & their graues are rounde about them: all these vncircumcised were slaine by the sword, though they caused their feare to be in the lande of the liuing.

27 And they shall not spe with the valiant of the vncircumcised, that are fallen, which are gone downe to the graue, with their weapons of warre, and haue layde their swordes vnder their heades, but their iniquitie shall be vpon their bones: because they were the feare of the mightie in the lande of the liuing.

28 Pea, thou shalt be broken in the mids of the vncircumcised, & spe with them that are slaine by the sword.

29 There is Edom, his kings, & all his princes, which with their strength are layde by them that were slaine by the sword: they shall sleepe with the vncircumcised, & with them that go downe to the pit.

30 There be al the princes of Moath, with all the Edomians, which are gone downe with the slaine, with their feare: they are ashamed of their strength, and the vncircumcised sleepe with them that be slaine by the sword, and beare their shame with them that go downe to the pit.

31 Pharaoh shall see them, and he shall be comforted ouer all his multitude: Pharaoh, and al his armie shall be slaine by the sword, sayth the Lord God.

32 For I haue caused my feare to be in the land of the liuing: & he shall layde in the mids of the vncircumcised with them, that are slaine by the sword, euen Pharaoh and all his multitude, sayth the Lord God.

The Kings of Babylon.

As the wicked reioyce when they see others partakers of their miseries, I will make the Egyptians afraid of me, as they caused others to feare them.

Or, of their coasts, he sheweth that the people ought to haue continually gouernours & teachers which may haue a care ouer them, & to warne the cuer of the dangers which are at hand.

This came to passe in lesse the foure yeeres after this prophetic.

trumpet, and wil not be warned, if the sword come, and take him away, his blood shall be upon his owne head.

5 For he heard the sounde of the trumpet, & would not be admonished: therefore his blood shall be upon him: but he that receiveth warning, shall save his life.

6 But if the watchman see the sword come, and blow not the trumpet, & the people be not warned: if the sword come, and take any person from among the, he is taken away for his iniquitie, but his blood will I require at the watchmans hand.

7 So thou, O soune of mā, I have made thee a watchman unto the house of Israel: therefore thou shalt heare the word of the Lord, & admonish them from mine.

8 When I shall say unto the wicked, O wicked man, thou shalt dye the death, if thou dost not speake, and admonish the wicked of his way, that wicked mā shall dye for his iniquitie, but his blood will I require at thine hand.

9 Reuerthelesse, if thou warne the wicked of his waye, to turne from it, if he do not turne from his way, he shall die for his iniquitie, but thou shalt deliuered thy soule.

10 Therefore, O some of man, speake unto the house of Israel, Thus ye speake and say, If our transgressions & our sinnes be unto vs, and we are consumed because of the, shoulde we then liue?

11 Say vnto them, As I liue, sayth the Lord God, I desire not the death of the wicked, but that the wicked turne from his way and liue: turne you, turne you from your euill wayes, for why will ye dye, O ye house of Israel?

12 Therefore thou soune of man, say vnto the childre of thy people, The righteousnes of the righteous shall not deliuer him in the dape of his transgression, nor the wickednesse of the wicked shall cause him to fall therein, in the dape that he returneth from his wickednesse, neither shall the righteous liue for his righteousnesse in the day that he sinneth.

13 When I shall say vnto the righteous, that he shall surely liue, if he trust to his owne righteousnes, & commit iniquitie, al his righteousnesse shall be no more remembered, but for his iniquitie that he hath committed, he shall dye for the same.

14 Againe when I shall say vnto the wicked, Thou shalt dye the death, if he turne from his sinne, & do that which is lawful and right,

15 To wit, if the wicked restore the pledge, and giue againe that he had robbed, & walke in the statutes of life, without committing iniquitie, he shall surely liue, and not dye.

16 None of his sinnes that he hath committed, shall be mentioned vnto him:

because hee hath done that, which is lawful & right, he shall surely liue.

17 Yet the childre of thy people saye, * The way of the Lord is not equal: but their owne way is unequal.

18 When the righteous turneth from his righteousnes, & committeth iniquitie, he shall euen dye thereby.

19 But if the wicked returne from his wickednes, and do that which is lawful, and right, he shall liue thereby.

20 Per te sape, The way of the Lord is not equal, O ye house of Israel, I will iudge you euery one after his wayes.

21 Also in the twelfth pere of our captiuitie, in the tenth moneth, & in the first day of the moneth, one that had escaped out of Jerusalem, came vnto me, and said, The cite is smitten.

22 Now the hand of the Lord had bene vpon mee in the euening afore he that had escaped, came, and had opened my mouth, until he came to me in the morning: & why he had opened my mouth, I was no more dumme.

23 Againe the woide of the Lord came vnto me, and said,

24 Some of man, these that dwell in the desolate places of the lande of Israel, talke & say, O Abraham was but one, and he possessed the land: but we are many, therefore the lande shall be giuen vs in possession.

25 Wherefore say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Ye eat with the blood, & lift vp your eies toward your idols, and shedd blood: should ye then possesse the land?

26 Ye leane vpon your swordes: ye worke abomination, and ye defile cite: one his neighbours wife: should ye then possesse the land?

27 Say thus vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, As I liue, so surely they are in the desolate places, shall fall by the sword: & him that is in the open field, will I giue vnto the beasts to be deuoured: and they that be in the fortres and in the caues, shall dye of the pestilence.

28 For I will lay the land desolate and waste, and the poimpe of her strength shall cease: and the mountaines of Israel shall be desolate, and none shall passe rihough.

29 Then shall they knowe that I am the Lord, when I shall lay the land desolate & waste, because of all their abominations, that they haue committed.

30 Also thou soune of man, the childre of thy people that shall talke of thee by the wayes, and in the doores of houses, & speake one to another, euery one to his brother, saying, Come, I pray you, and heare what is the word that cometh from the Lord.

31 For they come vnto thee, as the people vsch to come: and my people sit before thee, and heare thy wordes, but they will not do them: for with their mouthes

CHAP. XXXIIII.

1 Against the shepherds that despised the flocke of Christ, and seeke their owne gayne. 7 The Lord saith that he will visite him dispersed flocke, & gather them together. 23 He promyseth the true shepherd Christ, and with him peace.

1 And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,
2 Sonne of man, prophetic against the shepherds of Israel, prophetic and saye vnto the, Thus saith the Lord God vnto the shepherdes, * Who be vnto the shepherds of Israel, p feede the iustles: shoulde not the shepherdes feede the flockes?

3 Ye eat the b fat, and ye clothe you with the wool: ye kil them that are fed, but ye feede not the sheepe.

4 The c weake haue ye not strengthened: the sick haue ye not healed, neither haue ye bound by the broken, nor brought againe that which was diuen awaye, neither haue ye sought that which was lost, but with crueltie, and with rigour haue ye ruled them.

5 And they were scattered without a shepherd: and when they were dispersed, they were deuoured of al the beastes of the field.

6 My sheepe wandred through all the mountaines, and vpon euery hie hill: yea, my flocke was scattered through all the earth, and none did seeke or sear: h after them.

7 Therefore ye shepherds, heare the word of the Lord.

8 As I liue, saith the Lord God, surely because my flocke was spoiled, and my sheepe were deuoured of all the beastes of the field, hauing no shepherd, neither did my shepherdes seeke my sheepe, but the shepherdes fed themselves, and sed not my sheepe,

9 Therefore, heare ye the word of the Lord, O ye shepherds.

10 Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I come against the shepherds, and will require my sheepe at their handes, & cause them to cease from feeding the sheepe: neither shall the shepherdes feede themselves any more: for I will deliuer my sheepe from * their monthes, and they shall no more deuoure them.

11 For thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will search my sheepe, & seeke them out,

12 As a shepherd searcheth out his flocke, when hee hath bene among his sheepe that are scattered, so will I seeke out my sheepe and will de'iner them out of all places, where they haue bene scattered in the cloudie and darke dap,

13 And I will bring them out from the people, and gather them from the countreys, and will bring them to their owne lande, and feede them vpon the mountaines of Israel, by the riuers, and in all the inhabited places of the countrey.

14 I will feede them in a good pasture, and vpon the hie mountaines of Israel shall their sojbe be: there shall they lye in a good fode and in fatte pasture shall they feed vpon the mountaines of Israel.

15 I will feede my sheepe, & bring them to their rest, saith the Lord God.

16 I will seeke that which was lost, and bring againe p which was dmiu' away, and will binde by that which was broken, & will strengthen the weake, but I will destroy the fat and the s strong, and I will feede them with b iudgement.

17 Also pou my sheepe, Thus saith the Lord God, behold, I iudge betweene sheepe, and sheepe, betweene the rames and the goates, 18 Seemeth it a small thing vnto you to haue eaten by the good pasture, but ye must treade downe with your feete the residue of your pasture: and to haue dranke of the deep waters, but ye must trouble the residue with your feete?

19 And my sheep eat that which ye haue troden with your feete, and drinke that which ye haue troubled with your feete.

20 Therefore thus saith the Lord God vnto them, Behold, I, euen I will iudge betweene the fatte sheepe and the lean sheepe.

21 Because ye haue thrust with side and with shoulder, and pulst all the weake with your hornes, till ye haue scattered them abroade, 22 Therefore wil I helpe my sheepe, and they shall no more be spoiled, and I will iudge betweene sheepe and sheepe.

23 And I will let by a shepherd ouer them, & he shall feede them, euen my seru'ant b David, he shall feede them, & hee shall be their shepher.

24 And I, euen I will be their God, & my seru'ant David shall be the ynnce among them, I the Lord haue spoken it.

25 And I will make w them a covenant of peace, and will cause the euill beastes to cease out of the land: & they shall dwell safely in the wilderness, and sleepe in b woods.

26 And I will set them, as a blessing, euen round about my mountaine: and I will cause raine to come downe in due season, and there shall be raine of blessing.

27 And the m tree of the field shall reeche her fruite, and the earth shall giue her fruite, and they shall be safe in their land, and shall knowe that I am the Lord, when I haue broken the cordes of their poke, and deliuered them out of the handes of those that serued them selues of them,

1 The desolation that shal come on mount Seir, because they troubled the people of the Lord.

2 Whereouer the woide of the Loide came vnto me, saying,

3 Some of man set thy face against mount Seir, and prophetic against it,

4 And say vnto it, Thus saith the Loide God, Behold, I come against thee, and I will stretch out mine hand against thee, and I will make thee desolate and waste.

5 I will lay thy cities waste, & thou shalt be desolate, and thou shalt knowe that I am the Lord.

6 Because thou hast had a perpetual hatred & hast put the children of Israel to flight by the force of the sward in the time of their calamitie, when their iniquitie had an ende,

7 Therefore as I liue, saith the Loide God, I will prepare thee vnto blood, & blood shall pursue thee: except thou hate blood, euen blood shal pursue thee.

8 Thus wil I make mount Seir desolate and waste, & cut off from it him that passeth out and him that returneth,

9 And I wil fill his mountaines with his slaine men: in thine hills, and in thy valleys and in all thy riuers shall they fall, that are slayne with the sward.

10 I will make thee perpetually desolations, and thy cities shall not returne, & pe shall know that I am the Lord.

11 Because thou hast said, These two nations, and these two countries shall be mine, and we wil possesse them (saying the Lord was there)

12 Therefore as I liue, saith the Lord God, I wil euen do according to thy wrath, & according to thine indignation which thou hast vsed in thine hatred against them: and I will make my self knowne among them when I haue iudged thee.

13 And thou shalt knowe, that I the Lord haue heard all thy blasphemies which thou hast spoken against the mountaines of Israel, saying, They be waste, they are giuen vs to be deuoured.

14 Thus with our mouthes ye haue boasted against me, & haue multiplied your words against me: I haue heard them,

14 Thus saith the Lord God, So shall all the woide reioyce when I shall make thee desolate.

15 As thou diddest reioyce at the inheritance of the house of Israel, because it was desolate, so wil I doe vnto thee: thou shalt be desolate, I mount Seir, & all Idumea wholly, & they shall know, that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 He promisseth to deliuer Israel from the Gentiles.

22 The benefites done vnto the Lewes, are to be ascribed to the mercie of God, and not vnto their desertings.

26 God reneweth our hearts, that wee may walke in his commandments.

1 Alas thou soune of man, prophetic vnto the mountaines of Israel, and say, Ye mountaines of Israel, heare the word of the Lord.

2 Thus saith the Loide God, Because the enemy hath said against you, A ha, euen the places of the woide are ours in possession,

3 Therefore prophetic, and saye, Thus saith the Lord God, Because that they haue made you desolate, & swallowed you vp on euery side, that ye might be a possession vnto the residue of the heathen, & ye are come vnto the lips, & tongues of men, & vnto the reproch of the people,

4 Therefore ye mountaines of Israel, heare the word of the Lord God, Thus saith the Lord God to the mountaines and to the hills, to the riuers, and to the valleys, and to the waste, and desolate places, and to the cities that are forsaken: which are spoiled and had in derision of the residue of the heathen that are round about.

5 Therefore thus saith the Loide God, Surely in the fire of mine indignation haue I spoken against the residue of heathen, & against all Idumea, which haue taken my land for their possession, with the top of al their heart, and with despiteful minds to call it out for a pray.

6 Prophetic therefore vpon the land of Israel, and say vnto the mountaines, & to the hills, to the riuers, and to the valleys, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I haue spoken in mine indignation, and in my wrath, because ye haue suffered the shame of the heathen,

7 Therefore thus saith the Loide God, I haue lifted vp mine haide, surely the heathen that are about you, shall beare their shame.

8 But you, O mountaines of Israel, ye shall s shoot south your branches, and bring south your fruiture to my people of Israel: for they are ready to come.

9 For behold, I come vnto you, and I will turne vnto you, and ye shall be tilled and sown.

10 And I will multiplie the men vpon you, euen all the house of Israel wholly, and the cities shall be inhabited, and the desolate places shall be buildd.

11 And I will multiplie vpon you man and 16 Whoeuer h word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

17 Some of man, when the house of Israel dwelt in their owne lande, they desiled it by their owne wapes, & by theyr dedes: their way was before me as the filthines of the mensurous.

18 Wherefore I powred my wrath vpon them, for the blood that they had shed in the lande, and for their idoles, wherewith they had polluted it.

19 And I scattered them among the heathen, and they were dispersed through the countreys: for according to theyr waies, and according to their dedes, I iudged them.

20 And when they entred vnto the heathen, whither they went, they polluted mine holp name, when they saide of them, These are the people of the Lord, and are gone out of his land.

21 But I fauoured mine holp name which the house of Israel had polluted among the heathen, whither they went.

22 Therefore say vnto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God, I do not this for your sakes, O house of Israel, but for mine holp names sake, which ye polluted among the heathen, whither ye went.

23 And I will sanctifie my great name, which was polluted among the heathen, among whom you haue polluted it, and the heathen shall know that I am the Lord, saith the Lord God, when I shall sanctifie in you before theyr eyes.

24 For I will take you from among the heathen, and gather you out of all countreies, & will bring you into your own land.

25 Then will I poure cleane water vpon you, and ye shall be cleane: yea, from al your filthines, and from al your idols will I cleanse you.

26 A new heart also will I giue you, & a new spirit will I put with you, & I will take away the stonie heart out of your body, and I will giue you an heart of flesh.

27 And I will put my Spirit within you, and cause you to walke in my statutes, and ye shall keep my iudgements and do them.

28 And ye shall dwell in the land, that I giue to your fathers, and ye shall be my people, and I will be your God.

29 I will also deliuer you from all your filthines, and I will call for you to come, and I will increase it, and lay no fenne vpon you.

30 For I will multiply the fruite of the trees, and the increase of the felde, that ye shall beare no more the reproche of fenne among the heathen.

31 Then shall ye remember your owne wicked wapes, and your dedes that were not good, & shall iudge your selues worthy to haue bene destroyed for your iniquities, and for your abominations.

32 Be it known vnto you that I do not thinke for your sakes, saith the Lord God: therefore, O ye house of Israel, be ashamed, and confounded for your owne wapes.

33 Thus saith the Lord God, What time as I shall haue clenched you fro all your iniquities, I will cause you to dwell in the cities and the desolate places shall be builded.

34 And the desolate lande shall be tilled, whereas it lay waste in sight of all that passed by.

35 For they saide, This waste lande was like the garde of Eden, and these waste and desolate and ruinous cities were strong, and were inhabited.

36 Then the residue of the heathen that are left round about you, shall knowe that I the Lord build the ruinous places, and plant the desolate places: I the Lord haue spoken it, and will do it.

37 Thus saith the Lord God, I will yet for this be fought of the house of Israel, to performe it vnto them: I will create them with men like a flocke.

38 As the holy flocke, as the flocke of Ierusalem in their solemn feastes, so shall the desolate cities be filled with flockes of men, & they shall know, that I am the Lord.

can these bones live? And I answered, O Lord God, thou knowest.

4 Again he said unto me, Prophecie vpon these bones & saye vnto them, O ye drie bones, heare the word of the Lord.

5 Thus saith the Lord God vnto these bones, Beholde, I will cause breath to enter into you, and ye shall live.

6 And I will laye sinewes vpon you, & make fleshe growe vpon you, and couer you with skinnie, & put breath in you, that ye maye liue, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

7 So I prophesied, as I was commanded: and as I prophesied, there was a noise, and beholde, there was a shaking, & the bones came together, bone to his bone.

8 And when I beheld, lo, the sinewes, & the fleshe grew vpon them, & aboute, the skinnie covered them, but there was no breath in them.

9 Then said he vnto me, Prophecie vnto the wind: prophecie, some of man, & say to the winde, Thus saith the Lord God, Come from the foure winds, O breath, and breathe vpon these slaine, & they may liue.

10 So I prophesied as he had commanded me: and the breath came into them, and they liued, and it stood by vpon their feete, an exceeding great armie.

11 Then he said vnto me, Sonne of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel. Beholde, they saye, Our bones are dried, and our hope is gone, and we are cleane cut off.

12 Therefore prophecie, and saye vnto them, thus saith the Lord God, Behold, my people, I will open your graues, & cause you to come by out of your sepulchres, and bring you into the lande of Israel.

13 And ye shall know that I am the Lord, when I haue opened your graues, & my people, and brought you by out of your sepulchres,

14 And that ynto my Spirit in you, & ye shall liue, and I shall place you in your owne land: then ye shall knowe that I the Lord haue spoken, & performed it, saith the Lord.

15 The word of the Lord came againe vnto me, saying,

16 Moreover thou sonne of man, take thee a peece of wood, & write vpon it, Vnto Iudah, and to the children of Israel his companions: then take another peece of wood, & write vpon it, Vnto Ioseph the tree of Ephraim, and to all the house of Israel his companions.

17 And thou shalt ioyne them one to another into one tree, and they shall be as one in thine hand.

18 And when the children of thy people shall speake vnto thee, saying, Wilt thou shew vs what thou meaneest by these?

19 Thou shalt answer them, Thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I will take the tree of Ioseph, which is in the hand of Ephraim, and the tribes of Israel his fellowes, and will put them with Ierusalem: with the tree of Iudah, and make them one tree, and they shall be one in mine hand.

20 And the peecees of wood, whereon thou writest, shall be in thine hande, in their sight.

21 And saye vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will take the children of Israel from among þe heathen, whither they be gone, & will gather them on euery side, and bring them into their owne lande.

24 And Dauid my seruant shall be King ouer them, and they all shall haue one shepheard: they shall also walke in my iudgements, and obserue my statutes, and do them.

f Meaning, that the elect by Christ shall dwell in the heavenly Ierusalem, which is ment by the land of Canaan, Psal. 109. 4. and 116. 2.

CHAP. XXXIX.
1 He sheweth the destruction of Gog and Magog. 11 The graves of Gog and his host. 17 They shall be desoured of winds and beasts. 23 Wherefore the house of Israel is captiue. 24 Their bringing againe from captiuitie is promised.

1 Therefore, thou some of man, prophetic against Gog, & saye, Thus saith the Lorde God, beholde, I come against thee, O Gog, the chiefe prince of Meshech and Tubal. 2 And I will destroye theeⁿ and leaue but the best part of thee, and will cause thee to come by from the North parts & will bring thee vpon the mountaines of Israel: 3 And I will smite thy bowe out of thy left hande, and I will cause thine ar^o to fall out of thy right hand. 4 Thou shalt fall vpon the mountaines of Israel, and all thy bands & the people, that is with thee: for I wil give thee vnto the birds, and to euery feathered foule and beast of the field to be deuoured. 5 Thou shalt fall vpon the open field: for I haue spoken it, saith the Lorde God. 6 And I will send a fire on Sagarog, and among them that dwell safe in the^c pies, and they shall knowe that I am the Lorde. 7 So wil I make mine holy name knowne in the middes of my people Israel, & I will not suffer them to pollute mine holy name anye more, and the heathen in Hereby he declareth y none affliction can come to the Church, whereof they haue not bene aduertised aforetime, to teach them to indure all things with more patience when they knowe that God hath so ordeined. n All meanes whereby man should thinke to saue him selfe shall faile, the affliction in those dayes shall be so great & the enemies destruction shall be so terrible. o Against y people of Gog and Magog. Chap. 36. 23. and 37. 28. c That is, among all nations where the enemies of my people dwell, seeme they neuer to farre separate, then then shall I knowe that I am the Lorde, the holy one of Israel.

8 Beholde, it is come, and it is done, saith the Lorde God: this is the day whereof I haue spoken.

9 And they that dwell in the cities of Israel, shall go forth, and shall burne & set fire vpon the weapons, and on the shields, and bucklers, vpon the bowes, and vpon the arrowes, and vpon the staves in their hands, & vpon speares, and they shall burne them with fire seuen peeres.

10 So that they shall bring no wood out of the felde, neither cut downe any out of the forests: for they shall burne the weapons with fire, and they shall robbe those that robbed them, & spoile those that spoiled them, saith the Lorde God.

11 And at the same time wil I giue vnto Egipt a place there for buryall in Israel, euen the valley whereby men goe toward the East part of the Sea: and it shall cause them that passe by, to stoppe their noses, and there shall they burie Egipt with all his multitude: & they shall call it the valley of Hamon-Egipt.

12 And seuen moneths long shall the house of Israel be burping of the, that they may cleanse the land.

13 Yea, al the people of the land shall burie them, and they that haue a name when I shall be glorified, saith the Lorde God.

14 And they that chuse out men to go continually through the land with them that trauaile, to burie those that remaine vpon the ground, and cleanse it: they shall search to the end of seuen moneths.

15 And the traualiers that passe through the land, if any see a mans bone, then shall he let by a signe by it, till the burers haue buried it, in the valley of Hamon-Egipt.

16 And also the name of the citie shall be Hamonah: thus shall they cleanse the land.

17 And thou some of man, thus saith the Lorde God, Speake vnto every feathered fowle, and to al the beastes of the felde, Assemble your selues, and come: gather your selues on euery side to my sacrifice: for I do sacrifice a great sacrifice for you vpon the mountaynes of Israel, that ye may eate fleshe, & drinke blood.

18 Ye shall eat the fleshe of the valiant, and drinke the blood of the princes of the earth, of the weathers, of the lambs, and of the goats, & of bullocks, euen of al fat beastes of Bashan.

19 And ye shall eat fat til you be full, and drinke blood, til ye be drunken of my sacrifice, which I haue sacrificed for you.

20 Thus ye shall be filled at my table with horses and chariots, with valiant men, and with all men of warre, saith the Lorde God.

21 And I will let my glorie among the heathen, and all the heathen shall see my indgement, that I haue executed, and myne hande, which I haue layed vpon them.

22 So the house of Israel shall knowe, that I am the Lorde their God from that day and so forth.

23 And the heathen shall knowe, that the house of Israel went into captiuitie for their iniquitie, because they trespassed against me: therefore hid I my face from them, and gaue them into the hand of their enemies: so fell they all by the sword.

24 According to their uncleauenesse, and according to their transgressions haue I done vnto them, and hid my face from them.

25 Therefore thus saith the Lorde God, Now wil I bring againe the captiuitie of Iacob, and haue compassion vpon the whole house of Israel, and wil be zealous for mine holpe name.

26 After that they haue borne their shame, and all their transgression, whereby they haue transgressed against me, when they dwelt safely in their land, and without feare of any.

27 When I haue brought them againe from the people, and gathered the end of their enemies landes, and am sanctified in them in the sight of many nations,

28 Then shall they know, that I am the Lorde their God, which caused them to be led into captiuitie among the heathen: but I haue gathered them vnto their owne lande, and haue left none of them any more there.

29 Neither wil I hide my face any more from them: for I haue powred out my Spirit vpon the house of Israel, saith the Lorde God.

CHAP. XL.

The restoring of the citie and the Temple.

1 In the five and twentieth yeere of my being in captiuitie in the beginning of the pere, in the tenth day of the moneth, in the fourteenth yeere after that the citie was smitten, in the selfe same day, the hand of the Lorde was vpon me, and brought me thither.

2 Into the land of Israel brought he me by a dunnishe vision, and set me vpon a very hie mountaine, whereupon was as the building of a citie, towarde the South.

3 And he brought me thither, & beholde, there was a man, whose similitude was to looke to, like bryasse, with a line thead in his hande, and a reede to measure with: and he stood at the gate.

4 And the man saide vnto me, Sonne of man, beholde with thine eyes, & heare with thine eares, and let thine heart vpon all that I shall shewe thee: for the intent, that they might be shewed thee, art thou brought thither: declare all that thou seest, vnto the house of Israel.

5 And behold, I saw a wall on the outside of

- 6 Then came he vnto the gate, which looketh toward the Eaſt, and went by the ſtaires thereof, & meafured the poſt of the gate, which was one reede broad, and the other poſt of the gate, which was one reede broad.
- 7 And euey chamber was one reed long, and one reede broad, and betwene the chambers were ſixe cubites: and the poſt of the gate by the porch of þ gate within was one reede.
- 8 He meafured alſo the porche of þ gate within with one reede.
- 9 Then meafured he þ porch of the gate of egypt cubites, and the poſts thereof, of two cubites, and the porch of þ gate was inward.
- 10 And the chambers of the gate Eaſtward, were thre on this ſide, and thre on that ſide: thep thre were of one meafure, and the poſts had one meafure on this ſide, and one on that ſide.
- 11 And he meafured the breadth of the entrie of the gate thre cubites, and the height of the gate thre & thre cubites.
- 12 The ſpace alſo before the chambers was one cubite on this ſide, and the ſpace was one cubite on that ſide, & the chambers were ſixe cubites on this ſide & ſixe cubites on that ſide.
- 13 He meafured then the gate from the rouſe of a chamber to the toppre of the gate: the breadth was ſixe and twentie cubites, doore againſt doore.
- 14 He made alſo poſtes of threſcore cubites, & the poſts of the court, and of the gate had one meafure round about.
- 15 And vpon the forefront of the entrie of the gate wnto the forefront of the porch of the gate within were ſittie cubites.
- 16 And there were narrowe windowes in the chambers, and in their poſtes within the gate round about, and like wiſe to the arches: & the windowes went round about within: and vpon the poſtes were palme trees.
- 17 ¶ Then brought hee me into the outward court, & loe, there were chambers, & a panement made for the court round about and thirte chambers were vpon the panement.
- 18 And the panement was by the ſide of the gates ouer againſt the length of the gates, and the panement was beneath.
- 19 Then hee meafured the breadth from the forefront of the lower gate without, vnto the forefront of the court within, an hundred cubites Eaſtwarde and Northwarde.
- 20 And the gate of the outward court, þ looked towarde the South, meafured he after the length and breadth thereof.
- 21 And the chambers thereof were, thre on this ſide, and thre on that ſide, and

- the poſtes thereof and the arches thereof were after the meafure of the paſt gate: the length thereof was ſittie cubites, and the breadth ſyue and twentie cubites.
- 22 And their windowes, and their arches with their palme trees, were after the meafure of the gate þ looked towarde the Eaſt, and the going by vnto it had ſeuen ſteps, and the arches thereof were before them.
- 23 And the gate of the inner court ſtoode ouer againſt the gate toward þ South, and toward the Eaſt, and he meafured from gate to gate an hundred cubites.
- 24 After that, he brought me towarde the South, and lo, there was a gate towarde the South, and he meafured the poſtes thereof, and the arches thereof according to theſe meafures.
- 25 And there were windowes in it, and in the arches thereof round about, like thoſe windowes: the height was ſittie cubites, and the breadth ſixe & twentie cubites.
- 26 And there were ſeuſ ſteps to go by to it, & the arches thereof were before the: and it had palme trees, one on this ſide, and another on that ſide vpon the poſt thereof.
- 27 ¶ And there was a gate in þ inner court towarde the South, and he meafured from gate to gate towarde the South an hundred cubites.
- 28 And he brought mee into the inner court by the South gate, and he meafured the South gate according to theſe meafures.
- 29 And the chambers thereof, & the poſts thereof, & the arches thereof according to theſe meafures, and there were windowes in it, and in the arches thereof round about, it was ſittie cubites long & ſixe and twentie cubites broad.
- 30 And the arches round about were ſixe and twentie cubites long, and ſixe cubites broad.
- 31 And the arches thereof were towarde the utter court, and palme trees were vpon the poſtes thereof, and the going by to it had eight ſteppes.
- 32 ¶ Againe he brought me into the inner court toward the Eaſt, and he meafured the gate according to theſe meafures.
- 33 And the chambers thereof, and the poſtes thereof, and the arches thereof were according to theſe meafures, and there were windowes therein, and in þ arches thereof round about, it was ſittie cubites long, and ſixe and twentie cubites broad.
- 34 And the arches thereof were towarde the utter court, and palme trees were vpon the poſts thereof, on this ſide and on that ſide, and the going by to it had eight ſteppes.
- 35 ¶ After he brought mee to the North gate, and meafured it, according to theſe meafures,

CHAP. XLI.

36 The chabers thereof, the posts thereof, and the arches thereof, & there were windows therein rounde about: the height was fifty cubites, and the breadth five and twentie cubites.

37 And the postes thereof were toward the utter court, and palme trees were vpon the postes thereof on this side, & on that side, and the going vp to it had eight steppes.

38 And euery chamber, and the entry thereof was vnder the posts of the gates: there they washed the burnt offering.

39 And in the porche of the gate stode two tables on this side, and two tables on that side, vpon the which they stewe the burnt offering, & the sin offering, and the trespass offering.

40 And at the side beyonde the steps, at the entry of the South gate stode two tables, & on the other side, which was at the porche of the gate were two tables.

41 Fourte tables were on this side, and foure tables on that side by the side of the gate, euen eight tables wherevpon they stewe their sacrifice.

42 And the foure tables were of heluen stone for the burnt offering, of a cubite & an halfe long, and a cubite & an halfe broade, and one cubite hie: wherevpon also they laide the instruments wherewith they stewe the burnt offering & the sacrifice.

43 And within were borders an hande broade, fastened round about, and vpon the tables lay the flesh of the offering.

44 And without the inner gate were the chambers of the singers in the inner court, which was at the side of the South gate: and their prospect was toward the South, and one was at the side of the East gate, having the prospect toward the South.

45 And he saide vnto me, This chamber whose prospect is toward the South, is for the Priests, that haue charge to keepe the house.

46 And the chamber whose prospect is toward the North, is for the Priests that haue the charge to keepe the altar: these are the sonnes of Zadok among the sonnes of Leui which may come here to the Aoid to minister vnto him.

47 So he measured the court, an hundred cubites long, and an hundred cubites broad euen foure square: likewise the altar that was before the House.

48 And he brought me to the porche of the house, and measured the posts of the porch, five cubites on this side, and five cubites on that side: and the breadth of the gate was three cubites on this side, and three cubites on that side.

49 The length of the porch was twentie cubites, and the breadth euen cubites, and he brought me by the steps wherewith they wet vp to it, and there were pillars by the postes, one on this side, and another on that side.

1 The disposition and order of the building of the Temple and the other things thereto belonging.

1 Afterwarde, he brought me to the Temple, & measured the posts, five cubites broad on the one side, and five cubites broade on the other side, which was the breadth of the tabernacle.

2 And the breadth of the entrie was ten cubites, and the sides of the entrie were five cubites on the one side, and five cubites on the other side, and he measured the length thereof fourtie cubites, and the breadth twentie cubites.

3 Then went he in, and measured the posts of the entrie two cubits, and the entrie five cubites, and the breadth of the entrie seven cubites.

4 So he measured the length thereof twentie cubites and the breadth twentie cubites before the Temple. And hee saide vnto me, This is the most holy place.

5 After, he measured the wal of the house, five cubites, and the breadth of euery chamber foure cubites rounde about the house, on euery side.

6 And the chambers were chamber by chamber, three and thirrie foot high, and they entred into the wall made for the chambers which was round about the house, that the postes might be fastened therein, and not be fastened in the wal of the house.

7 And it was large and went rounde mounting vpward to the chambers: for the staire of the house was mounting vpward, rounde about the house: therefore the house was larger vpwarde: so they went vp from the lowest chamber to the highest by the middes.

8 I saw also the house hie round about: the foundations of the chambers were a full reed of the great cubites.

9 The thickness of the wall which was for the chamber without, was five cubites, and that which remained, was the place of the chambers that were within.

10 And betwene the chambers was the widenes of twenty cubits round about the House on euery side.

11 And the doores of the chambers were toward the place that remained, one doore toward the North, and another doore toward the South, & the breadth of the place that remained, was five cubits round about.

12 Nowe the building that was before the separate place toward the West corner, was seuentie cubites broade, and the wal of the building was five cubites thicke, round about, & the length ninety cubites.

13 So he measured the house an hundred cubites long, and the separate place & the building with the walles thereof were an hundred cubites long.

14 Also the breadth of the forefront of the house and of the separate place toward the East, was an hundred cubites.

- 15 And he measured the length of the building ouer against the separate place, which was behinde it, & the chambers on the one side and on the other side an hundred cubites with the Temple within, and the arches of the court.
- 16 The postes & the narrowe windowes, & the chambers rounde about, on three sides ouer against the postes, seled with cedar wood rounde about, and from the grounde up to the windowes, and the windowes were seled.
- 17 And from about the doore vnto the inner house & without, and by al the wall rounde about within & without it was seled according to the measure.
- 18 And it was made with Cherubims & palme trees, so that a palme tree was betwene a Cherub and a Cherub: and euery Cherub had two faces.
- 19 So that the face of a man was toward the palme tree on the one side, & the face of a lion toward the palme tree on the other side: thus was it made through all the house round about.
- 20 From the ground vnto about þ doore were Cherubims & palme trees made as in the wall of the Temple.
- 21 The postes of the Temple were square, & thus to looke vnto was the similitude and forme of the Sanctuarie.
- 22 The altar of wood was three cubits hie, and the length thereof two cubites, and the corners thereof & the length thereof and the sides thereof were of wood. And he said vnto mee, This is the table that shall be before the Lord.
- 23 And the Temple and the Sanctuarie had two doores.
- 24 And the doores had two wickets, euen two turning wickets, two wickets for one doore, and two wickets for another doore.
- 25 And vpon the doores of the Temple there were made Cherubims & palme trees, like as was made vpon þ walles, and there were thicke planks vpon the forefront of the porche without.
- 26 And there were narrow windowes and palme trees on the one side, & on the other side, by the sides of the porche, and vpon the sides of the house, and thicke planks.

CHAP. XLII.

Of the chambers of the Temple for the Priests, & the holy things.

- 1 Then brought hee mee into the vtter court by the way towarde þ South, and he brought mee into the chamber that was ouer against the separate place, and which was before the building toward the North.
- 2 Before the length of an hundred cubites was the North doore, and it was five cubites broad.
- 3 Ouer against the twentieth cubites which were for the inner court, & ouer against the pavement, which was for the vtter court, was chamber agaynst chamber in three rowes.
- 4 And before the chambers was a gallery of ten cubites wide, and within was a way of one cubite, and their doores toward the North.
- 5 Nowe for those chambers seemed to eat by these, to wit, the lower, and those that were in the middes of the building.
- 6 For they were in three rowes, but had not pillars as the pillars of the court: therefore there was a difference from them beneath & from the middlemost, euen from the ground.
- 7 And the wall that was without ouer against the chambers, toward the vtter court on the forefront of the chambers, was five cubites long.
- 8 For the length of the chambers that were in the vtter court, was fifty cubites: and so, before the Temple were an hundred cubites.
- 9 And vnder these chambers was the entrie, on the East side, as one goeth into them from the outward court.
- 10 The chambers were in the thickenesse of the wall of the court toward þ East, ouer against the separate place, and ouer against the building.
- 11 And the way before them was after the manner of the chambers, which were toward the North as long as they, & as broad as they: and al their entrie were like, both according to their facions, & according to their doores.
- 12 And according to the doores of the chambers that were toward the South, was a doore in the corner of the wape, euen the way directly before the wal toward the East, as one entree.
- 13 Then said he vnto me, The North chambers & the South chambers which are before the separate place, they be holie chambers, wherein the Priests that appoche vnto the Lord, shall eate the most holy things: there shall they lay the most holy things, and the meate offering, and the sinne offering, & the trespass offering: for the place is holie.
- 14 When the Priests enter therein, they shall not goe out of the holie place into the vtter court, but there they shall laye their garments wherein they minister: for they are holie, and shall put on other garments, and so shall appoche to those things, which are for the people.
- 15 Nowe when he had made an ende of measuring the inner house, he brought me south toward the gate whose prospect is toward the East, and measured it round about.
- 16 He measured the East side with þ measuring rodde, five hundred reedes, euen with the measuring reede round about.
- 17 He measured also the North side, five hundred reedes, euen with the measuring reede round about.
- 18 And he measured the South side five hundred reedes with the measuring reede.
- 19 He turned about also to the West side, and measured five hundredth cubites with the measuring reede.

- 20 He measured it by the foure sides: it had a wall rounde about, five hundredth reedes long, and five hundredth broade to make a separation betwene the Sanctuarie, and the prophane place.

CHAP. XLIII.

1 He seeth the glorie of God going into the Temple, from whence it had before departed. 7 He mentioneth the idolatrie of the children of Israel for the which they were confined & brought to nought. 9 Hee commanded to call them againe to repentance.

1 Afterward he brought mee to the gate, euen the gate that turneth toward the East.

2 And beholde, the glorie of the God of Israel came fro out of the East, whose voyce was like a noise of great waters, and the earth was made light with his glorie.

3 And the vision which I sawe was * like the vision, euen as the vision that I sawe when I came to destroy the cite: & the visions were like þe vision that I sawe by the river Chebar: & I fel vpon my face.

4 And the b^g gloyp of the loyde came into the house by the way of the gate, whole prospect is toward the East.

5 So the Spirit tooke mee vp & brought me into the inner court, and behold, the glorie of the Lord filled the house.

6 And I heard one speaking vnto mee out of the house: and there stood a man by mee,

7 Which sayd vnto me, Sonne of man, this place is my thron, and the place of the soles of my feete, where as I will dwell among the children of Israel for euer, & the house of Israel shall no more defile mine holy Name, neither they, nor their Kinges by their fornication, nor by the carkeises of ^d their Kinges in their high places.

8 Where they set their thresholdes by my thresholdes, and their posts by my posts (for there was but a wall betwene mee & them) yet haue they defiled mynie holie Name with their abominations, that they haue committed: wherefore I haue consumed them in my wrath.

9 Now therefore let them put away their fornication, and the carkeises of their Kinges farre from me, and I will dwell among them for euer.

10 If Thou some of man, shew this House to the house of Israel, that they may be ashamed of their wickednes, & let them measure the paterne.

11 And if they be ashamed of all that they haue done, shewe them the forme of the house, & the paterne thereof, & the going out thereof, & the coming in thereof, and the whole facion thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and all the figures thereof, & all the lawes thereof: & write it in their sight, that they may keepe the whole facion thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and do them.

12 This is the description of the house, It shall be vpon the top of the mount: all the limites thereof round about shall be most holy. Behold, this is the description of the house.

13 And these are the measures of the Altar, after the cubites, the cubite is a cubite, and an hand breadth, euen the bot-tome shall be a cubite, & the breadth a cubite, and the border thereof by the edge thereof round about shall be a pamine: & this shall be the height of the altar.

14 And from the bottome which toucheth the ground to the lower piece shall be two cubites: and the breadth one cubit, and from the litle piece to the great piece shall be foure cubites, and the breadth one cubite.

15 So the altar shall be foure cubites, and from the altar vpwarde shall be foure hoines.

16 And the altar shall be twelue cubits long, and twelue broad, & fouresquare in the foure corners thereof.

17 And the frame shall be fourtene cubites long, and fourtene broade in the fouresquare corners thereof, and the border aboute it shall be halfe a cubite, and the bottome thereof shall be a cubite about, and the steyppes thereof shall be turned toward the East.

18 ¶ And he said vnto me, Sonne of man, thus sayth the Lord God, These are the ordinances of the altar in the day when they shall make it to offer the burnt of- fring thereon, and to sprinkle blood thereon.

19 And thou shalt giue to the Priestes, and to the Leuites, that be of the seed of Zadok, which approche vnto me, to minister vnto me, saith the Lord God, a pong bullocke for a sinne offering.

20 And thou shalt take of the blood thereof, & put it on the foure hoines of it, and on the foure corners of the frame, and vpon the border round about: thus shalt thou cleanse it, and reconcite it.

21 Thou shalt take the bullocke also of the sinne offering, and burne it in the appointed place of the house without the Sanctuary.

22 But the second day thou shalt offer an hee goat without blemish for a sinne offering, and they shall cleanse the altar, as they did cleanse it with the bullocke.

23 When thou hast made an end of cleansing it, thou shalt offer a pong bullocke without blemish, and a ram out of the flocke without blemish.

24 And thou shalt offer them before the Lord, & the Priestes shall cast salt vpon them, & they shall offer them for a burnt offering vnto the Lord.

25 Seven dayes shalt thou prepare eues- ry daye an hee goate for a sinne offering: they shall also prepare a pong bullocke and a ramme out of the flocke, without blemish.

26 Thus shall they seven daies purifie the altar,

1 Then he brought me towarde the

it was shut.

to be in my Sanctuarie, to pollute mine house, when ye offer me bread, euen fat, and blood: and they haue broken my covenant, because of all your abomi-nations.

8 For ye haue not kept the ordinances of mine holy things: but you pour sewers haue set other to take the charge of my Sanctuarie.

9 Thus saith the Lord God, No stranger vncircumcised in heart, nor vncircumcised in flesh shall enter into my Sanctuarie, of any stranger that is among the children of Israel,

10 Neither yet the Leuites that are gone back from me, when Israel went astray, which went astray from me after their idols, but they shall beare their iniquitie.

11 And they shall serue in my Sanctuarie, and heepe the gates of the House, and minister in the House: they shall slay the burnt offering and the sacrifice for the people: and they shall stande before them to serue them.

12 Because they serued before their id-oles, and caused the house of Israel to fall into iniquitie, therefore haue I set my hand against them, saith the Lord God, and they shall beare their iniquitie,

13 And they shall not come neere vnto me, to do the office of the Priest vnto me, neither shall they come neere vnto any of mine holy things in the most holy place, but they shall beare their shame and their abominations, which they haue committed.

14 And I will make them keepers of the watch of the House, for all the seruice thereof, & for all that I shall doye therein.

15 But the Priests of the Leuites, the sonnes of Zadok, that kept the charge of my Sanctuarie, when the children of Israel went astray from me, they shall come neere to me to serue me, & they shall stand before me to offer me the fat and the blood, saith the Lord God.

16 They shall enter into my Sanctuarie, and shall come neere to my table, to serue me, and they shall keepe my charge.

17 And when they shall enter in at the gates of the inner court, they shall be clothed with linnen garments, and no wool: that come vpon them while they serue in the gates of the inner court, & within.

18 They shall haue linnen bonets vpon their heads, & shall haue linnen breeches vpon their loynes: they shall not gird themselues in the sweating places.

19 But when they go forth into the vtter court, euen to the vtter court to the people, they shall put off their garments, wherin they minister, & lay them in the holy chambers, & they shall put on other garments: for they shall not sanc-tifie the people with their garments.

20 They shall not also shaueth their heads, nor suffer their lockes to growe long,
but round their heads.

21 Neither shall any priest drinke wine when they enter into the inner court.

22 Neither shall they take for their wives a widow, or her that is dimor-red: but they shall take maidens of the seede of the house of Israel, or a widow that hath bene the widowe of a Priest.

23 And they shall teache my people the difference betwene the holy and pro-phane, and cause them to discern betweene the cleane and the cleane.

24 And in controuersie they shall stande to iudge, and they shall iudge it according to my iudgements: and they shall keepe my lawes, and my statutes in all mine assemblies, and they shall sanctifie my Sabbaths.

25 And when they shall come at no dead person to defile them selues, except at their father, or mother, or some, or daughter, brother or sister, that hath had no none husbande: in these maye they serue me, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XLVI.

The sacrifices of the Sabbath and of the new moons. & Thorow which doores they must go in, or come out of the Temple, &c.

1 Thus saith the Lord God, The gate of the inner court, that turneth towards the East, shall be shut the six working daies: but on the Sabbath it shall be opened, & in the day of the new moone it shall be opened.

2 And the prince shall enter by the way of the porch of that gate without, and shall stand by the poste of the gate, and the Priests shall make his burnt offering, & his peace offerings, and he shall worship at the threshold of the gate: after, he shall go forth, but the gate shall not be shut till the evening.

3 Likewise the people of the lande shall worship at the entry of this gate before the Lord on the Sabbaths, and in the new moones.

4 And the burnt offering that the prince shall offer unto the Lord on the Sabbath day, shall be five lambs without blemish, and a ramme without blemish.

5 And the meate offering shall be an Ephah for a ramme: and the meate offering for the lambes a gift of his hand, and an Eym of ople to an Ephah.

6 And in the day of the new moone it shall be a young bullocke without blemish, and five lambes and a ramme: they shall be without blemish.

7 And he shall prepare a meate offering, even an Ephah for a bullocke, and an Ephah for a ram, and for the lambes according as his hand shall bring, and an Eym of ople to an Ephah.

8 And when the prince shall enter, he shall goe in by the way of the porch of that gate, and he shall goe forth by the waye thereof.

9 But when the people of the land shall come before the Lord in the solemn feastes, he that entred in by the way of the South gate to worship, shall go out by the way of the South gate: and hee that entred by the way of the South gate, shall goe forth by the way of the South gate: he shall not returne by the way of the gate whereby he came in, but they shall go forth over against it.

10 And the prince shall be in the middes of them: he that goe in when they goe in, and when they goe forth, they shall goe forth together.

11 And in the feastes, & in the solemnities the meate offering shall be an Ephah to a bullocke, and an Ephah to a ram, and to the lambes, the gift of his hand, and an Eym of ople to an Ephah.

12 Nowe when the prince shall make a free burnt offering or peace offerings freely unto the Lord, one shall then open him the gate, that turneth towards the East, and hee shall make his burnt offering and his peace offerings, as hee did on the Sabbath day: after, he shall goe forth, and when he is gone forth, one shall shut the gate.

13 Thou shalt daily make a burnt offering unto the Lord of a lambc of one pere without blemish: thou shalt do it every morning.

14 And thou shalt prepare a meate offering for it every morning, the six part of an Ephah, and the third part of an Eym of ople, to mingle with the fine flour: this meate offering shall be continually by a perpetual ordinance unto the Lord.

15 Thus shall they prepare the lambe, and the meate offering & the ople every morning, for a continual burnt offering.

16 Thus saith the Lord God, If the prince give a gift of his inheritance unto any of his sonnes, it shall be his sonnes, and it shall be their possession by inheritance.

17 But if hee give a gift of his inheritance to one of his seruants, then it shall be his to the pere of libertie: after, it shall returne to the prince, but his inheritance shall remaine to his sonnes for them.

18 Whosoever the prince shall not take of the peoples inheritance, nor thrust them out of their possession: but he shall cause his sonnes to inherit of his own possession, that my people be not scattered every man from his possession.

19 After, hee brought me through the enclosure, which was at the side of the gate, into the holy chambers of the Priests, which stode towards the North: and beholde, there was a place at the West side of them.

20 Then sayde he unto mee, This is the place where the Priests shall seethe the trespass offering and the sinne offering, where they shall bake the meate offering, that they should not beare them unto the better court, to sanctifie the people.

21 Then hee brought mee south into the better court, and caused me to go by the four corners of the court: and beholde, in every corner of the court, there was a court.

The vifion of the waters that came out of the Temple, 13 The coftes of the lande of promes, and the diuifion thereof by tribes.

1 Afterward he brought mee vnto the doore of the houfe: and behold, ^a waters pffued out fro vnder the threfhold of the houfe Eaftward: for the fore-front of the houfe floode toward the Eaft, and the waters ran downe from vnder the right fide of the houfe, at the Southfide of the altar.

2 Then brought he mee out towarde the North gate, and led mee about by the way without vnto the brer gate, by the way that turneth Eaftward: and beholde, there came forth waters on the right fide.

3 And when the man that had the line in his hande, went forth Eaftward, he meafured a thoufande cubites, and hee brought mee through the waters: the waters were to the ancles.

4 Againe he meafured a thoufande, and brought mee through the waters: the waters were to the knees: agayne hee meafured a thoufand, and brought mee through: the waters were to the loynes.

5 Afterward he meafured a thoufand, & it was a river, that I could not paffe ouer: for the waters were rifen, and the waters did floue, as a river that could not be pafsed ouer.

6 And he fayd vnto mee, Some of man, haft thou leene this? Then hee brought mee, and caufed mee to returne to the bank of the river.

7 Now when I returned, beholde, at the bank of the river were very many trees on the one fide, and on the other.

8 Then fayde he vnto me, Thefe waters pffue out towarde the Eaft countrey, and runne downe into the playne, and fhall go into one ^d fea: they fhall runne into another fea, and the ^e waters fhall be wholefome.

9 And euery thing that liueth, which notheth, wherefoener the rivers fhall come, fhall liue, and there fhall be a very great multitude of fifhe, becaufe thefe waters fhall come thither: for thep fhall be wholefome, and euery thing fhall liue whither the river cometh.

10 And then the ^f filters fhall ftand vpon it, and from En-gedi cuen vnto ^g En-glain, they fhall fpread out their nettes: for their filhe fhall be according to their kindes, as the filhe of ^h the mayne fea, exceeding many.

11 But ⁱ the mycic places thereof, and the marifes thereof fhall not be wholefome: they fhall be made falt pittes.

12 And by this river vpon the bank thereof, on this fide, & on that fide fhall grow all fruiteful trees, whose leafe fhall not fade, neither fhall the fruite thereof faile: it fhall bring forth new fruite according to his moneths, becaufe their waters runne out of the Sanctuary: and the fruite thereof fhall be meate, and the leafe thereof fhall be for ^j medicine.

13 Thus faith the Lord God, This fhall be the border, whereby yee fhall inherite the lande according to the twelue tribes ^k of Ifrael: Iofeph fhall haue two portions.

14 And ye fhall inherite it, one as well as another: ^l concerning the which I lift by mine hande to giue it vnto you fathers, and this lande fhall fall vnto you for inheritance.

15 And thus fhall the border ^m of the land toward the North fide, from the maine fea towarde Hethlon as men go to Zedabab:

16 Hamath, Berofthal, Sibiraim, which is betwene the border of Damafcus, & the border of Hamath, & Hamath, Batiscon, which is by the coaft of Hauran.

17 And the border from the fea fhall bee Bazar, Enan, & the border of Damafcus, & the residue of the North, Southward, and the border of Hamath: fo fhall be the North part.

18 But the Eaft fide fhall ye meafure fro Hauran, & from Damafcus, and from Gilead, and from the lande of Ifrael by Iofeb, & from the border vnto the Eaft fea: and fo fhall be the Eaft part.

19 And the Southfide fhall be toward Teman fro Tamar to the waters of ⁿ Heferiboth in Kadeff, and the river to the mayne fea: fo fhall be the South part toward Teman.

20 The Weft part alfo fhall be the great fea from the border, till a man come ouer againft Hamath: this fhall be the Weft part.

21 So fhall ye diuide this land vnto you, according to the tribes of Ifrael.

22 And you fhall diuide it by lot for an inheritance vnto you, and to the strangers that dwell among you, which fhall hee get children among you, and they fhall be vnto you, as borne in the countrey among the children of Ifrael, thep fhall part inheritance with you in the mids of the tribes of Ifrael.

23 And in what tribe the stranger dwelleth, there fhall hee giue him his inheritance, faith the Lord God.

DANIEL.

THE ARGUMENT.

THe great providence of God, and his singular mercie towards his Church are most lively here set forth, who neuer leauech his destitute, but nowe in their great miseryes and afflictions giueth them Prophets, as Ezekiel, and Daniel, whome he adorned with such graces of his holy spirit, y Daniel above all other had most special reuelations of such things as should come to the Church, euen from the time that they were in captiuitie, to the last ende of the worlde, and to the general resurrection, as of the foure Monarchies & empires of all the world, to wit, of the Babylonians, Persians, Grecians, and Romanes. Also of the certeine number of the times euen vnto Christ, when all ceremonies and sacrifices should cease, because he should be the accomplishment thereof: moreover he sheweth Christes office & the cause of his death which was by his sacrifice to take away sinnes, and to bring euerlasting life. And as from the beginning God euer exercised his people vnder the crosse, so he teacheth here, that after that Christ is offered, he will still leaue this exercise to his Church vntil the dead rise againe, and Christ gather his into his kingdome in the heauens.

CHAP. I.

1 The captiuitie of Iehoiakim King of Iudah. 4 The King chuseth certeine young men of the Lewes to learne his lawe. 5 They haue the Kings ordinarie appointed, 8 But they abstaine from it.

IN the thirde yere of the reigne of Iehoiakim King of Iudah, came Iehuchadnassar, king of Babel vnto Jerusalem, and besieged it.

2 And the lord gaue Iehoiakim King of Iudah into his hande, with parte of the vessels of the House of God, which he caried into the land of Shinar, to the house of his god, and he brought the vessels vnto his gods treasure.

3 And the king spake vnto eunuchez, the master of his eunuchez, that he should bring certeine of the children of Israel, of the kings seede, and of the princes:

4 Children in whome was no blemishe, but well fauoured, and instruct in all wisdom, & well scene in knowledge, and able to utter knowledge, and such as were able to stande in the kings palace, and whome they might teache the learning, & the tongue of the Chaldeans.

5 And the king appointed them portions euery day of a portion of the kings meate, & of the wine, which he dranke, so nourishing them: three yere, that at the ende thereof, they might stand before the king.

6 Now among these were certeine of the children of Iudah, Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael and Azariah.

7 Vnto whome the chiefe of the Eunuchez gaue other names: for he called Daniel, Belteshazzar, & Hananiah, Shadrach, and Mishael, Mithach, and Azariah, Abednego.

8 But Daniel had determined in his heart, that he would not defile himselfe with a portion of the kings meate, nor with the wine which he dranke: therefore he required the chiefe of the Eunuchez that hee might not defile himselfe.

9 (Now God had brought Daniel into fauour, and tender loue with the chiefe of the Eunuchez)

ment they might learne to forget the mediocritie of their owne people. i To the intent that in this tyme they might both learne the maners of the Chaldeans, & also their tongue. k Aswel to serue at the table, as in other offices. l That they might altogether forget their religion: for the Lewes gaue their children names, which might euer put them in remembrance of some point of religion: therefore this was a great tentation and a signe of seruitude which they were not able to resist. m Nor that he thought any religion to be in the meate or drinke (for afterward he did eate) but because the king should not entise him by this sweete poyson to forget his religion and accustomed sobriety, and that in his meate and drinke he might daily remember of what people he was: and Daniel bringeth this in to shew how God from the beginning assisted him with his Spirit, and at length called him to be a Prophet.

g That they might forget their owne religion, and countrey factions, to serue him y better to his purpose: yet it is not to be thought that Daniel did learne any knowledge that was not godly: in all points he refused y abuse of things and superstition, in somuch that he would not eate the meate which the King appointed him, but was content to learne y knowledge of natural things. h That by their good entertainb Which was a plaine by Babylon where was the Temple of their great god, & is here taken for Babylon.

c Who was as master of the wardes.
d Hee calleth them Eunuchez whom the king nourished and brought vp to be rulers of their countreis afterward.
e His purpose was to keepe the as hostages, and that he might shew himselfe victorious, and also by their good intreatie and learning of his religion, they might fauour rather him then the Lewes, and so to be able to serue him as gouerners in their land: moreover by this meanes the Lewes might be better kept in subiection, fearing otherwise to procure hurt to these noble men. f The King required three things, that they should be of noble birth, that they should be witty and learned, and that they should be of a strong and conely nature, that they might do him better seruice: this he did for his owne commoditie, therefore it is not to praise his liberality: yet in this hee is worthy praise, that he esteemed learning, and knew that it was a necessary meane to gouerne by.

10 And the chiefe of the Eunuchs s¹id vnto Daniel, ^a If we are ny lord p¹ king, who hath appointed your meate and your drinke: therefore if ye see your faces worse liking then the other children, which are of your sort, then shall you make me loie mine head vnto the king.

11 Then said Daniel to Helzar, whom the chiefe of the Eunuchs had let ouer Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah.

12 ^b Prone thy seruants, I beseeche thee, ten daies, and let them giue vs p¹ pulse to eate, and water to drinke.

13 Then let our countenances be looked vpon before thee, and the countenances of the children that eate of the portion of the kings meate: and as thyon seeest, deale with thy seruants.

14 So he consented to them in this matter, and proued them ten dayes.

15 And at the ende of tenne dayes, their countenances appeared fairer, and m¹ better liking then all the childrens, which did eate the portion of the kings meate.

16 Thus Helzar tooke away the portion of their meate, and the wine that they should drinke, and gaue them pulse.

17 As for these foure children, God gaue them knowledge, and vnderstanding in all learning, and wisdom: also he gaue Daniel vnderstanding of all visions and dreames.

18 Nowe when the time was c¹ expired, that the King had appointed to bring them in, the chiefe of the Eunuchs brought them before Nebuchad-nezzar.

19 And the king communed with them: and among them all was found none like Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah: therefore stood they before the king.

20 And in all matters of wisdom, and vnderstanding that the king enquired of them, he found them ten times better then all the inchanters and astrologians, that were in all his realme.

21 And Daniel was vnto ^a the first peece of king Cyus.

CHAP. II.

1 The dreame of Nebuchad-nezzar. 13 The King commandeth all the wise men of Babylon to be slayne because they could not interpret his dreame. 16 Daniel requesteth tyme to solve the question. 24 Daniel wrought vnto the King & sheweth him his dreame and the interpretation thereof. 22 Of the euill Kingdome of Christ.

And in the second peece of d¹ reigne of Nebuchad-nezzar, Nebuchad-nezzar dreamed ^b dreames where with his spirit was troubled, and his ^c sleepe was vpon him.

2 Then the king commaunded to call the inchanters, and the astrologians and the soothsayers, and the ^c Caldeans for to shewe the king his dreames: so they came and stood before the king.

3 And the king said vnto them, I haue dreamed a dreame, and my spirit was troubled to knowe the dreame.

4 Then spake the Caldeans to the king in the ^c Aramites language, O King, be cause we are: shewe thy seruants thy dreame, and we shall shewe the interpretation.

5 And the king answered and said to the Caldeans, The thing is gone from me, If ye will not make me vnderstand the dreame with the interpretation thereof, ye shall be drayen in peeces, and your houses shall be made a iakes.

6 But if ye declare the dreame and the interpretation thereof, ye shall receiue of me giftes and rewardes, and great honour: therefore shewe me the dreame and the interpretation of it.

7 They answered againe, and saide, Let the king shew ^b his seruants ^d dreame, and we will declare the interpretation thereof.

8 Then the king answered, and saide, I knowe certainly that ye ^e would gaue the time, because ye see the thing is gone from me.

9 But if ye wil not declare me ^d dreame, there is but one iudgement for you: for ye haue prepared lying and corrupt words, to speake before me till the time be changed: therefore tell me ^d dreame, that I may knowe, if ye can declare me the interpretation thereof.

10 Then the Caldeans answered before the king, and said, There is no man vpon earth that can declare the kings matter: yea, there is neither king nor prince nor lord that asked such things at an inchanter or astrologian or Caldean.

11 For it is a rare thing that the king requireth, and there is none other that can declare it before the king, except the gods whose dwelling is not with flesh.

12 For this cause the king was angry and in great furie, and commaunded to destroy all the wise men of Babel.

13 And when sentence was giuen, the wise men were slayne: and they

a The father and the sonne were both called by this name: so that this is meant of the sonne, when he reigned alone: for he reigned also after a fort with his father. b Not that he had many dreames, but because many matters were contained in this dreame. c Because it was so rare and strange a dreame that he had not had the like. d He was so heauie with sleepe that he began to sleepe againe. Some reade, and his sleepe was broken from him. e For all these Astrologers and forerers called themselves by this name of honour as though all the wisdom and knowledge of the country depended vpon them, and that all other countries were ioude of the same. f That is, in the Syrian tongue which differed not much from the Caldeans, saue it seemed to be more eloquent, and therefore the learned vied to speake it as the Iewish writers doe to this day. g This is a iust reward of their arrogance

(which vaunted of themselves that they had the knowledge of all things) that they should be proued fooles, and that to their perpetuall shame and confusion. h Heerein appeared their ignorance that notwithstanding their byes, yet were they not able to tell the dreame, except he gatred them into the matter, and therefore they would pretend knowledge where was but mere ignorance, and so as deluders of the people, they were worthe to die. ^a Ebr. redem: the thre.

i sought Daniel and his fellows to be put to death.
14 Then Daniel answered with counsell and wisdom to Arioch the kinges chiefe steward, which was gone forth to put to death the wise men of Babel,
15 Yea, he answered and said vnto Arioch the kinges captaine, Why is the sentence so haultie from the king? Then Arioch declared the thing to Daniel.
16 So Daniel went and desired the king that he would giue him leisure & that he would shewe the king the interpretation thereof.
17 ¶ Then Daniel went to his house and shewed the matter to Hananiah, Shi-thack, and Ariath his companions, 18 That they should beseech the God of heauen for grace in this secrete, that Daniel and his fellows shoulde not perishe with the rest of the wise men of Babel.
19 Then was the secrete reueiled vnto
Daniel in a vision by night: therefore Daniel praised the God of heauen.
20 And Daniel answered and said, * The Name of God D D be praised for euer and euer: for wisdom and strength are his,
21 And he changeth the times and seasons: he taketh away kings: he setteth by kings: he giueth wisdom vnto the wise, and vnderstanding to those that vnderstand.
22 He discouereth the deepe and secrete things: he knoweth what is in the darkenes, and the light dwelleth with him.
23 I thanke thee and praise thee, O thou God of my fathers, that thou hast giuen me wisdom and strength, and hast shewed me now the thing that we desired of thee: for thou hast declared vnto vs the kings matter.
24 ¶ Therefore Daniel went vnto Ari-och, whom the king had ordeined to destroy the wise men of Babel: he went and said thus vnto him, Destroy not the wise men of Babel, but bring me before the king, and I will declare vnto the king the interpretation.
25 Then Arioch brought Daniel before the king in all haste, and said thus vnto him, I haue found a man of the children of Iudah that were brought cap-tiues, that will declare vnto the king the interpretation.
26 Then answered the king, and said vnto
Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, Art thou able to shewe me the dreame, which I haue seene, and the interpretation thereof?
27 Daniel answered in the presence of the king, and said, The secret which the king hath demanded, can neither the wise, the astrologians, the mchanters, nor the soothsayers declare vnto the king.

28 But there is a God in heauen that reueileth secrets, and sheweth the king Nebuchad-nezzar what shalbe in the latter dayes. Thy dreame, and the things which thou hast seene in thine head vpon thy bed, is this, 29 O king, when thou wast in thy bedde, thoughts came into thy minde, what shoulde come to passe hereafter, and he that reueileth secretes, telleth thee, what shall come.
30 As for me, this secrete is not shewed me for any wisdom that I haue, more then any other liuing, but only to shew the king the interpretation, and that thou mightest knowe the thoughtes of thine heart.
31 O king, thou sawest, and beholde, there was a great image: this great image whose gloyp was so excellent, stode be-foze thee, & the forme thereof was terrible.
32 This images head was of fine gold, his breast and his armes of siluer, his bellye and his thighs of brasle, 33 His legges of pion, and his feete were part of pion, and part of clay.
34 Thou beheldest it till a stone was cut without hands, which smote the image vpon his feete, that were of pion and clay, and brake them to pierces.
35 Then was the pion, the clay, the brasle, the siluer and the golde broken all together, and became like the chaffe of the sawyer scores, and the winde caried them away, that no place was founde for them: and the stone that smote the image, became a great mountaine, and filled the whole earth.
36 This is the dreame, and we will declare before the king the interpretation thereof.
37 ¶ O king, thou art a king of kings: for the God of heauen hath giuen thee a kingdome, power, & strength, & gloie.
38 And in all places where the children of kingdom, which men dwell, the beastes of the fielde, and the foules of the heauen hath he giuen into thine hand, and hath made thee ruler ouer them all: thou art * this head of gold.
39 And after thee shall rise another kingdome, inferior to thee, of siluer, and the another third kingdome shalbe of brasle, last which shall beare rule ouer all the earth, was to assure the Iewes, that their afflictions should not end with the empire of the Caldeans, but that they should patiently abide the com-ming of Messiah, which should be at the end of this fourth monarchie. r Daniel leaueth out the kingdome of the Assyrians which was before the Babylonian, both because it was not a monarchie and general empire, and also because he would declare the things that were to come, to the comming of Christ for the comfort of the elect among these wonderfull alterations: and he calleth the Babylonian kingdome the golden head, because in respect of the other three, it was the best, and yet was of it selfe weakest and cruel. f Meaning, the Persians, which were not inferior in dignitie, power, & riches, but were worse touching ambition, crueltie, and all kind of vice: shewing, that the world should grow worse, and worse, till it was restored by Christ. t That is, of the Macedonians shalbe of br. sle, not alluding to the hardnes thereof, but to the vilenes in respect of siluer.

 also to the whole body of his Church, & to every member thereof, shal be eternal: for y spirit y is in them, is life eternal, Rom. 8. 10.
 b Though this humbling of y King seemed to deserue commendation, yet because he ioyned Gods honour with the Prophets, it is to be reprobud, and Daniel herein erred if he suffred it: but it is credible that Daniel admonished him of his fault, & did not suffer it.
 c This confession was but a sudden motion, as it was also in Pharaoh, Exod. 9. 27. 28. but his heart was not touched, as appeared soone afterward. d Not that the Prophet was desirous of gifts or honour, but because by this meanes he might relieue his poore brethren which were grieuouly oppressed in this their captiuitie, and also he receiued them, lest he should offend this cruel king which willingly gaue them. e He did not this for their priuor profite, but that the whole Church which was then there in affliction, might haue some releafe and ease, by this benefite.

40 And p fourth kingdome shal be strong as piron: for as piron beareth in piesses and subdueth all things, & as piron bru-seth all these things, so that it breake in piesses, and brise all.
 41 Where as thou sawest the sette & toes, part of pottes clape, and part of piron:
 p kingdome shal be deuised, but there shal be in it of the strength of the piron, as thou sawest the piron mixt with the clape, and earth.
 42 And as the toes of the feete were parte of piron, and parte of clape, so shall the kingdome be partly strong, and partly broken.
 43 And where as thou sawest piron mixt with clape and earth, they shal mingle them selues with y seede of men: but they shall not ioyne one with another, as piron can not be mixed with clape.
 44 And in the daies of these kinges, shal
 the God of heauen set vp a kingdome, which shall neuer be destroyed: & this kingdome shall not be giuen to another people, but it shall breake, and destroe all these kingdomes, and it shall stande for euer.
 45 Where as thou sawest, that the stone was cut of p mountaine about handes, and that it brake in piesses the piron, the brasse, the clape, the siluer, and the golde:
 so the great God hath shewed the king, what shal come to passe hereafter, and the dreame is true, and the interpretation thereof is sure.
 46 ¶ Then the king Nebuchad-nezzar fell vpon his face, and bowed himselfe vnto Daniel, & commanded that they should offer meate offerings, and sweete odours vnto him.
 47 Also the king answered vnto Daniel, and said, I knowe of a trueth that poue God is a God of gods, and the lord of kings, and the reueler of secrets, seeing thou couldest open this secret.
 48 So p king made Daniel a great man, and gaue him many and great d gifts.
 He made him gouernour ouer p whole prouince of Babel, and chiefe of the ruslets, and aboue all the wise men of Babel.
 49 Then Daniel made request to the king, and hee set Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego ouer the charge of the prouince of Babel: but Daniel face in the gate of the king.

 had y whole authoritie, so that none could be admitted to the kings presence, but by him.
 CHAP. III.
 1 The King setteth vp a golden image. ¶ Certaine are accused because they despyed the Kings commandement, and are put into a burning oven.
 2 By belife in God they are deliuered from the fire. 3 Nebuchad-nezzar confesseth the power of God after the sight of the miracle.
 4 Eubuchad-nezzar the king made an image of golde, whose heighth was threescore cubits, and p breadth thereof sixe cubits: hee set it by in the plaine of Dura, in the prouince of Bas-bel.
 5 Then Nebuchad-nezzar the king sent forth to gather together the nobles, the princes, and the dukes, the iudges, the receivers, the counsellers, the officers, and all the gouernours of the prouin-ces, that they should come to the dedication of the image, which Nebuchadnezzar the king had set vp.
 6 So the nobles, princes and dukes, the iudges, the receivers, the counsellers, the officers, and all the gouernours of the prouinces were assembled vnto the dedicating of the image, that Nebuchadnezzar the king had set vp: & they stood before the image, which Nebuchadnezzar had set vp.
 7 Then an herald cryed aloude, Wee it knowne to pou, y people, d nations, and languages,
 8 That when ye heare the sounde of the cornet, trumpet, harpe, sackebut, psalteric, dulcimer, & all instruments of mussicke, ye fall downe and worship the golden image, that Nebuchad-nezzar the king hath set vp.
 9 And whosouer falleth not downe and worshippeth, shall p same houre be cast into the middes of an hot fire furnace.
 10 Therefore allsoone as all y people heard the sounde of the cornet, trumpet, harpe, sackebut, psalteric, & all instruments of musicke, all the people, nations, and languages fel downe, and worshipped the golden image, that Nebuchad-nezzar the king had set vp.
 11 ¶ By reason whereof at that same time came men of the Caldeans, and grienously accused the Iewes, a Vnderpretce of religion, & ho-lineffe in making an image to his idole Bel, hee sought his owne ambition and vainglorie: and this declareth, y
 he was not touched with y true feare of God before, but that he confessed him on a sudden motion,
 as the wicked,
 when they are o-uercome with y greatnes of his workes. The Greeke interpreters write, that this was done eightene yeres after the dreame, and as may appeare the king leared left the Iewes by their religion should haue altered the state of his common wealth, and therfore he ment to bring al to one kind of religion, and so rather sought his owne quietnes, then Gods glory.
 b Shewing, that the idole is not known for an idole so long as he is with the workeman: but when the ceremonies and customes are recited and vsed, and the consent of the people is there, then of a blocke they thinke they haue made a god. c This was sufficient with the wicked at all times to approue their religion, if the kings authoritie were alleaged for the establishment thereof, not considering in y meane season what Gods word did peruaite. d These are the two dangerous weapons wherewith y atam vseth to fight against y childre of God, the consent of y multitude and the crucitie of y punishment: for though some feare y God, yet the multitude, which consented to the wickednes, afflicted them: and here the King required not an inward consent, but an outward gesture, y the Iewes might by litle & litle learne to forget their true religion.

e It seemed, y they named not Daniel because he was greatly in the Kings favour, thinking if these three had bene destroyed, they might have had better occasion to accuse Daniel: and this declareth that this policie of erecting this image was invented by the malicious flatterers, which sought nothing but the destruction of the Jewes, whom they accused of rebellion & ingratitude.

7 Signifying, y he would receive them to grace, if they would now at the length obey his decree.

8 For thei should have done injury to God, if thei should have doubted in this holy cause, and therefore they say, that they are resolved to die for Gods cause.

h They ground on two points, and providence of God over the, and secondly on their cause, which was Gods glory, & the testifying of his true religion, with their blood, and so make open confession, that they will not so much as outwardly consent to idolatry.

i This declareth that the more y tyrants rage and the more writie they shew themselves in menacing frage, and cruel punishments, the more y God glorified y his servants to whom he giueth patience & constancy to abide the crueltie of their punishment: for either he deliuereth them fro death, or els for this life giueth them a better,

1 For they spake and said to the king Nebuchad-nessar, O king, lue for eur,

10 Thou, O king, hast made a decree, that every man that shal heare the sound of the cornet, trumpet, harpe, sackbut, pflaeterie, and dulciner, and all instruments of musike, shall fall downe and worship the golden image,

11 And whosoever shall not downe, and worship wyth it, he shold be cast into the middes of an hote fyre fonnace.

12 There are certeyne Jewes whom thou hast set ouer the charge of the pounce of Babel, S hadrach, Meshach, & Abednego: these men, O king, haue not regarded thy commandement, neither will they serue thy gods, nor worship the golden image, that thou hast set by.

13 ¶ Then Nebuchad-nessar in his anger & wrath commanded that they shold bring Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego: to these men were bought before the king.

14 And Nebuchad-nessar spake, and said vnto them, What disorder? will not you, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego serue my god, nor worship the golden image, that I haue set by?

15 ¶ Now therefore are ye ready when ye heare the sounde of the cornet, trumpet, harpe, sackbut, pflaeterie, and dulciner, and all instruments of musike, to fall downe, and worship the image, which I haue made? for if ye worship it not, ye shal be cast immediately into the middes of an hote fyre fonnace: for who is that God, that can deliuer you out of mine handes?

16 Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego answered and said to the king, O Nebuchad-nessar, we are not carefull to answer thee in this matter.

17 Scholde, our God whom we serue, is able to deliue vs from the hote fyre fonnace, & he will deliue vs out of thyne hand, O king.

18 But if not, be it knowne to thee, O king, that wee will not serue thy gods, nor worship the golden image, which thou hast set by.

19 ¶ Then was Nebuchad-nessar full of rage, and the foyrie of his visage was changed against Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego: therefore he charged and commanded that they shold heare the fonnace at once seuen times more then it was wont to be heat.

20 And he charged the most valiant men of warre that were in his armie, to bind Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, & to cast them into the hote fyre fonnace.

21 So these men were bounde in their coats, their hosen, and their cloks, with their other garments, and cast into the middes of the hote fyre fonnace.

22 Therefore, because the kings commaun-deliment was strait, the fonnace should k For the Angels exceeding hote, the flame of the fire flew those men that brought forth Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego:

23 And these three men Shadrach, Meshach & Abednego fell downe bound into the middes of the hote fyre fonnace.

24 ¶ Then Nebuchad-nessar the king was allowed a sleep in halte, & spake, and said vnto his counsellers, Did not we cast three men bound into the middes of the fyre? Who answered and saide vnto the king, It is true, O king.

25 And hee answered, and said, lo, I see foure men looke, walking in the middes of the fyre, and they haue no hurt, and the foyrie of the fourth is like the foyrie of God.

26 Then the king Nebuchad-nessar came neere to the mouth of the hote fyre fonnace, & spake and said, S hadrach, Meshach & Abednego, the seruaunts of the hie God, goe forth and come hither: so Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego, came forth of the middes of the fyre.

27 Then the nobles, princes and dukes, and the kings counsellers came together to see these men, because the fyre had no power ouer their bodies: for not all heare of their head was burnt, neither was their coats changed, nor any smell of fyre came vpon them.

28 Wherefore Nebuchad-nessar spake & said, Blessed be the God of Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego, who hath sent his Angel, and deliuered his seruaunts, that put their trust in him, and hath changed the kings commandement, & rayled their bodies rather then they would serue of worship any god, save their owne God.

29 Therefore I make a decree, that every people, nation, & language, which speake any blasphemie against the God of Shadrach, Meshach & Abednego, shall be drawn in pieces, and their houses shall be made a iakes, because there is no god that can deliuer after this sort.

30 Then the king promoted Shadrach, Meshach & Abednego in the pounce of Babel.

31 Nebuchad-nessar king vnto all people, nations and languages, that dwell in the world, Peace be multiplied vnto you:

32 I thought it good to declare the signes and wonders, that the hie God hath wrought toward me.

33 How great are his signes, and howe mightie are his wonders! In his kings dome is an everlasting kingdome, and his dominion is from generation to generation.

CHAP. IIII.

2 Another dreame of Nebuchad-nessar, which Daniel declareth. 29 The Prophet declareth how a proud king he should become as a beast. 31 After he, he confesseth the power God and is restored to his former dignitie.

a There was no trouble that might cause me to dreame, and therefore it came onely of God.

b This was another dreame besides that which he sawe of the foure empires: for Daniel both declared what that dreame was and what it meant: and here he onely expounded the dreame.

c In that that he sent abroad to others whose ignorance in times past he had experimented, and left Daniel which was ever readie at hand, it declareth the nature of the vngodly, which neuer seeke to the seruans of God, but for very necessitie, and then they spare no flatterings.

d This no doubt was a great grief to Daniel nor onely to haue his name changed, but to be called by the name of a vile idole, which thing Nebuchad-nezzar did to make him forget the true religion of God.

e Which also was a great grief to the Prophet to be nombred among the forcerers and men whose practices were wicked and contrary to Gods word.

f By the tree, is signified the dignitie of a King, whom God ordeineth to be a defence for all kinde of men, and whose state is profitable for mankind. g Meaning, the Angel of God, which neither eareth nor sleepeth, but is cuer ready to doe Gods will and is not infect with mans corruption but is cuer holie: and in that that he commandeth to cut downe this tree, he knewe that it shoulde not be cut downe by man but by God.

1 Nebuchad-nezzar being at rest in mine house, and flourishing in my palace,

2 Sawe a dreame, which made me afraid, and the thoughtes upon my bed, and the visions of mine head troubled me.

3 Therefore made I a decree, that they shoulde bring all the wise men of Babel before me, that they might declare unto me the interpretation of the dreame.

4 So came the enchanters, the astrologians, the Chaldeans and the soothsayers, to whom I tolde the dreame, but they could not shewe me the interpretation thereof,

5 Till at the last Daniel came before me, (whose name was Belteshazzar, according to the name of my god, which hath the spirit of the holie gods in him) and before him I tolde the dreame, saying,

6 O Belteshazzar, chiefe of the enchanters, because I knowe, that the spirit of the holie gods is in thee, and no secret troubleth thee, tell me the visions of my dreame, that I haue seene, and the interpretation thereof.

7 Thus were the visions of mine head in my bed. And beholde, I sawe a tree in the middes of the earth, and the height thereof was great:

8 A great tree and strong, and the height thereof reached unto heauen, and the sight thereof to the endes of all the earth.

9 The boughes thereof were faire and the fruite thereof much, and in it was meate for all: it made a shadowe vnder it for the beastes of the felde, and the foules of the heauen dwelt in the boughes thereof, and all these fedde of it.

10 I sawe in the visions of mine head vpon my bed, and beholde, a watchman and an holie one came down from heauen,

11 And cried aloude, and saide thus, Hewe downe the tree, and breake of his branches: shake of his leaues, and scatter his fruite, that the beastes may flee from vnder it, and the foules from his branches.

12 Nevertheless leaue the stumpe of his roots in the earth, and with a band of yron and brass binde it among the grasse of the felde, and let it be wet with the dewe of heauen, and let his portion be with the beastes among the grasse of the felde,

13 Let his heart be changed from mannes name, and let a beastes heart be giuen vnto him, and let seuen times be passed ouer him.

14 The sentence is according to the decree of the watchmen, and according to the word of the holie ones: the demand was answered, to the intent that living men may knowe, that the most high hath power ouer the kingdome of men, and giueth it to whomsoever he will, and appointeth ouer it the most abiect among men.

15 This is the dreame, that I King Nebuchad-nezzar haue seene: therefore thou, O Belteshazzar, declare the interpretation thereof: for all the wisemen of my kingdome are not able to shewe me the interpretation: but thou art able, for the spirit of the holie gods is in thee.

16 Then Daniel (whose name was Belteshazzar) helde his peace by the space of one houre, and his thoughts troubled him, and the King spake and saide, Belteshazzar, let neither the dreame, nor the interpretation thereof trouble thee. Belteshazzar answered and saide, My lord, the dreame be to them that hate thee, and the interpretation thereof to thine enemies.

17 The tree that thou sawest, which was great and mightie, whose height reached vnto the heauen, and the sight thereof through all the world,

18 Whose leaues were faire and the fruite thereof much, and in it was meate for all, vnder the which the beastes of the felde dwelt, and vpon whose branches the foules of the heauen did sit,

19 It is thou, O King, that art great and mightie: for thy greatness is growen, and reacheth vnto heauen, and thy dominion to the endes of the earth.

20 Where as the King saw a watchman, and an holie one, that came down from heauen, and saide, Hewe downe the tree and destrop it, let leaue the stumpe of the rootes thereof in the earth, and with a band of yron & brass binde it among the grasse of the felde, and let it be wet with the dewe of heauen, and let his portion be with the beastes of the felde, till seuen times passe ouer him,

21 This is the interpretation, O King, and it is the decree of the most high, which is come vpon my lord the king,

22 That they shall diue thee from men, & thy dwelling shall be with the beastes of the felde: they shall make thee to eate grasse as the oxen, and they shall wet thee with the dewe of heauen: and seuen times shall passe ouer thee, till thou knowe, that the most high beareth rule ouer the kingdome of men, and giueth it to whomsoever he will.

23 Where as they saide, that they shoulde leaue the stumpe of the tree rootes, thy and grasse. Daniel sheweth the cause, why God thus punished him.

H hereby he meant that Nebuchad-nezzar should not only for a time lose his kingdome, but be like a beast.

i God had decreed this judgement and the whole armie of heauen haue as it were subscribed vnto it, like as also they desire the execution of his decree against all them that lift vp them selues against God.

k He was troubled for y great judgement of God which he sawe ordeined against the King: and so the Prophets vsed on the one part to denounce Gods iudgements for the zeale they bare to his glory, and on the other part to haue compassion vpon men, and also to consider that they should be subiect to Gods iudgements, if he did not regard them with pitie.

l Whereby he meaneth a long space, as seuen yeeres. Some interpret seuen moneths, and others seuen weekes: but it seemeth he meant of yeeres.

m Not that his shape or forme was changed into a beast, but y he was either stricken mad, and so auoyded mans company, or was cast out for his tyrannie and sowarded among the beasts, and ate herbes and ake herbes.

n Daniel sheweth the cause, why God thus punished him.

kingdome

kingdome shall remaine vnto thee: after that, thou shalt knowe, that the hea-uens haue the rule.

24 Wherefore, O king, let my counsel be acceptable vnto thee, and o' breake of thy finnes by righteousnesse, and thine iniquities by mercie toward the poore:
loe, let there be an p healing of thine er-rour.

25 All these things shall come vpon the king Nebuchad-nezzar.

26 ¶ At the ende of twelue moneths, he walked in the royall palace of Babel.
27 And the king spake and said, Is not this great Babel, that I haue built for the house of the kingdom by the might of my power, and for the honour of my majestie?

28 While the worde was in the kings mouth, a voyce came downe from heauen, saying, O king Nebuchad-nezzar, to thee be it spoken, Thy kingdom is departed from thee.

29 And thep shall drine thee from men, and thep dwelling shall be with the beasts of the fild: thep shall make thee to eate grasse, as the oren, and seuen times shal passe ouer thee, but thou knowest, that the most high beareth rule ouer the kingdome of men, and queth it vnto whomsoeuer he will.

30 The very same houre was this thing fulfilled vpon Nebuchad-nezzar, and he was drinen from men, and did eate grasse as the oren, and his body was tor wiche the verue of heauen, till his beares were growen as eagles feathers, and his nayles like birds claws.

31 And at the ende of these 7 daies I Nebuchad-nezzar lift by mine eyes vnto heauen, and mine vnderstanding was restored vnto me, and I gaue thanks vnto the most high, and I praised and honoured him that liueth for euer, & whose power is an eueraling power, and his kingdom is from generation to generation.

32 And all the inhabitants of the earth are reputed as nothing: and according to his will he worker in the arme of heauen, and in the inhabitants of the earth: and none can stay his hand, nor say vnto him, What doest thou?

33 At the same tyme was mine vnder-standing restored vnto me, and I returned to the honour of my kingdom: my gloyp & my beauty was restored vnto me, & my counsellours: and my princes sought vnto me, and I was established in my kingdom, and my glorie was augmented toward me.

34 Nowe therefore I Nebuchad-nezzar praise, and extoll and magnifie the King of heauen, whose workes are all trueth, and his wayes iudgement, and those that walke in pride, he is able to abate.

CHAP. V.

Belshazzar King of Babylon seeth an hand writing on the wall. 8 The soothsayers called of the King, can not expound the writing. 25 Daniel readeth it, and interpreteth it also. 30 The King vs laine. 31 Dauidus enioyeth the kingdom.

King Belshazzar made a great feast to a thousand of his princes, and drank wine before p thou-

2 And Belshazzar t whiles he tasted the wine, commanded to bring him the golden and siluer vessels, which his father Nebuchad-nezzar had brought from the Temple in Jerusalem, that the king and his princes, his wines, and his concubines might drinke
therein.

3 Then were brought the golden vessels, that were taken out of the Temple of the Lords house at Jerusalem, and the king and his princes, his wines, and his concubines dranke in them.

4 They drinke wine and praised the 4 gods of gold, and of siluer, of brasse, of pyon, of wood and of stone.

5 At the same houre appeared fingers of a mans hand, which wrote ouer: as gainst the candlesticke vpon the plaster of the wall of the kings palace, and the king sawe the palme of the hand that wrote.

6 Then the kings countenance was changed, and his thoughts troubled him, so that the ropnes of his loynes were loosed, and his knees lopue one against the other.

7 Wherefore the king cried loud, that thep should bringe the astrologians, the Cal-deans & the soothsayers. And the king spake, and said to the wife men of Babel, Whosoever can reade this writing, and declare me p interpretation thereof,
I shall be clothed with purple, and shall haue a chaine of golde about his necke, and shall be the third ruler in the kingdome.

8 Then came all the kings wise men, but they could neither reade the writing, nor shew the king the interpretation.

9 Then was king Belshazzar greatly troubled, and his countenance was changed in him, and his princes were astonied.

10 Nowe the h Queene by reason of the talke of the king, and his princes came into the banquet house, and the Queene spake, and said, O king, line for euer: let not thy thoughts trouble thee, nor let thy countenance be changed.

11 There is a man in thy kingdom, in whom is the spirit of the holie gods, and in the dayes of thy father light and vnderstanding and wisdom like the wisdom of the gods, was founde in him: whom the king Nebuchadnezzar thy father the king, I saye, God, was moued by this sight to tremble for feare of Gods iudgement.
g Thus the wicked in their troubles seeke manie means, who drawe them from God, because they seeke not to him who is the onely comfort in all afflictions. h To wit, his grandmother Nebu-

12 Because a more excellent spirite, and knowledge, and vnderstanding (for he did expound dreames, and declare hard sentences, and dissolved doubtles) were found in him, euen in Daniel, whom the king named Belshazzar: now let Das-uel be called, and he wil declare the interpretation.

13 ¶ Then was Daniel brought before the king, and the king spake and saide vnto Daniel, Art thou that Daniel, which art of the children of the captiuitie of Judah, whome my father the king brought out of Babel?

14 Now I haue heard of thee, that the spirit of the holy gods is in thee, & that light and vnderstanding and excellent wisdome is found in thee.

15 Now therefore wisemen, & astrologians haue bene brought before me, that they should read thy writing, & showe me the interpretation thereof: but they could nor declare the interpretation of the thing.

16 Then heard I of thee, that thou couldest shew interpretations, and dissolve doutes: now if thou canst read the writ-ting, and shewe mee the interpretation thereof, thou shalt be clothed with purple, and shalt haue a chaine of gold about thy necke, and shalt be the third ruler in the kingdome.

17 Then Daniel answered, and said before the king, Keepe thy rewards to thy selfe, and giue thy gifts to another: yet
I will read the writing vnto the king, and shewe him the interpretation.

18 O king, heare thou, The most high God gaue vnto Beluchad-nazzar thy fas-ther a kingdome, and maiestie and honour and glorie.

19 And for the maiestie that he gaue him, all people, nations & languages trembled, and feared before him: he put to death whome hee would: hee smote whome hee would: whome hee would he set vp, and whome hee would he put downe.

20 But when his heart was puffed vp, & his mind hardened in pride, he was deposed from his kingdome throne, and they tooke his honour from him.

21 And hee was buyen from the sonnes of men, and his heart was made like the beasts, and his dwelling was with the wilde asses: they fedde him with grasse like oxen, and his body was wet with the dewe of the heauen, till hee knewe, that the most high God bare rule ouer the kingdome of men, and that he appointed ouer it, whom soe-uer he pleased.

22 And thou his sonne, O Belshazzar, hast not humbled thine heart, though thou knewest all these things.

23 But hast left thy selfe vp against the Lord of heauen, and they haue brought the vessels of his house before thee, and thou and thy princes, thy wiuies and thy concubines haue drunke wine in them, and thou hast praised the gods of silver and golde, of brasse, yron, wood and stone, which neither see, neither heare, nor vnderstand: and the God in whose hand thy breath is and all thy wayes, him hast thou not glorified.

24 ¶ Then was the palme of the banne sent from him, and hath written this writing.

25 And this is the writing that he hath written, MENE, MENE, TEHEL, VPHARSIN.

26 This is the interpretation of it thing, MENE, God hath nombred thy kingdome, and hath finished it.

27 TEHEL, thou art wayed in the balance, and art found to light.

28 PERES, thy kingdome is deuised, and giuen to the Medes and Persians.

29 Then at the commandement of Belshazzar they clothed Daniel with purple, and put a chaine of golde about his necke, and made a proclamation concerning him that he should be the third ruler in the kingdome.

30 The same night was Belshazzar the king of the Chaldeans slaine.

31 And Darius of the Medes tooke the kingdome, being threescore and two

1 Daniel is made ruler over the gouernours. 2 An accuse against Daniel. 3 He is put into a denne of lions by the commandement of the King. 4 He is deliuered by faith in God. 5 Daniels accusers are put into the lions. 6 Darius by a decree magnifies the God of Daniel.

I ¶ I pleased Darius to set ouer it kingdome an hundredth and twenitie gouuernours, which should be ouer the whole kingdome.

2 And ouer these, three rulers (of whome Daniel was one) that the gouernours might giue accourts vnto them, and the king should haue no damage.

3 Nowe this Daniel was preferred as before the rulers and gouernours, because the spirite was excellent in him, and the king thought to set him ouer
the whole realme.

4 ¶ Wherefore the rulers and gouer-nours sought an occasion against Daniel concerning the kingdome: but they could find none occasion nor faute: for he was so faithfully that there was no blame nor faute found in him.

5 Then said these men, We shal not finde an occasion against this Daniel, except we finde it against him concerning the lawe of his God.

uernours went together to the king, and said this vnto him, King Darius, how for ruler.

7 All the rulers of thy kingdome, the officers & gouernours, the counsellors, & dukes haue consulted together to make a decree for the king and to establish a statute, that whosoever shall aske a petition of any god or man for thirtie dayes saue of thee, O King, he shall call into the denne of Iyons.

8 Now, O king, confirme the decree, and seale the writing, that it be not changed according to the lawe of the Medes and Persians, which altereth not.

9 Wherefore king Darius sealed the writing and the decree.

10 ¶ Now when Daniel vnderstood that he had sealed the writing, he went into his house, and his window being open in his chamber toward Jerusalem, he kneeled upon his knees thre times a day, and prayed & praised his God, as he did aforetime.

11 Then these men assembled, and found Daniel praying, and making supplication vnto his God.

12 So they came, and spake vnto the king concerning the kings decree, that thou hast not sealed the decree, that euery man that shall make request to any god or man within thirtie dayes, saue to thee, O king, shall call into the denne of Iyons? The king answered, and saide, The thing is true, according to the lawe of the Medes and Persians, which altereth not.

13 Then answered they, and said vnto the king, This Daniel which is of the children of the captiuitie of Iudah, regardeth not thee, O king, nor the decree, that thou hast sealed, but maketh his petition thre times a day.

14 When the king heard these words, he was sore displeased with himselfe, and set his heart on Daniel, to deliuer him: and he laboured till the sunne went downe, to deliuer him.

15 Then these men assembled vnto the king, and said vnto the king, Wnderstand, O king, that the lawe of the Medes and Persians is, that no decree nor statute which the king confirmeth, may be altered.

16 ¶ Then the king commanded, and they brought Daniel, and cast him into the denne of Iyons: nowe the king spake, and said vnto Daniel, Thy God, whome thou alway seruest, euen he wil deliuer thee.

17 And a stone was brought, and layed vpon the mouth of the denne, and the king sealed it with his owne signet, and with the signet of his princes, that the purpose might not be changed, concerning Daniel.

18 Then the king went into his palace, and remained fasting, neither were the instruments of musike brought before him, and his sleepe went from him.

19 ¶ Then the king aroise early in the morning, and went in all haste vnto the denne of Iyons.

20 And when he came to the denne, he cried with a lamentable voyce vnto Daniel: and the king spake, and said to Daniel, O Daniel, the seruant of the liuing God, is not thy God (whom thou alway seruest) able to deliuer thee from the Iyons?

21 Then said Daniel vnto the king, O king, how for ruler.

22 ¶ My God hath sent his Angel & hath shut the lions mouths, that they haue not hurt me: for my iustice was found out before him: and vnto thee, O king, I haue done no hurt.

23 Then was the king exceeding glad for him, and commanded that they should take Daniel out of the denne: so Daniel was brought out of the denne, and no manner of hurt was found vpon him, because he beleued in his God.

24 And by the commandement of the king these men which had accused Daniel, were brought, and were cast into the denne of Iyons, euen they, their children, and their wives: and the Iyons had the mastery of them, and brake all their bones a peeces, or euer they came at the ground of the denne.

25 ¶ Afterward king Darius wrote, vnto all people, nations and languages, that dwell in all the world: Peace be multiplied vnto you.

26 I make a decree that in all the dominion of my kingdome, men tremble and feare before the God of Daniel: for he is the liuing God, and remaineth for euer: and his kingdome shall not perish, and his dominion shall be everlasting.

27 ¶ The reseruct and deliuereth, & he worketh signes and wonders in heauen and in earth, who hath deliuered Daniel from the power of the Iyons.

28 So this Daniel prospered in the reigne of Darius and in the reigne of Cyrus of Persia.

gainst their conscience make cruel lawes to destroy the children of God, and also admoniseth Princes how to punish such, when their wickednes is come to light: though not in every point or with like circumstances, yet to execute true iustice vpon them. m This proneth not that Darius did worship God aright, or els was conuerted: for then he would haue destroyed all superstition and idolatry, and not only giuen God the chiefe place, but also haue set him vp, and caused him to be honoured according to his word: but this was a certaine confession of Gods power, wherunto hee was compelled by this wonderfull miracle. n Which hath not only life in himselfe, but is the onely fountaine of life, and quickeneth all things, so that without him there is no life.

CHAP. VII.

3 A vision of foure beastes is shewed vnto Daniel.

3 The ten hornes of the fourth beast. 27 Of the everlasting kingdome of Christ.

I In the first peere of Belshazzar king of Babel, Daniel sawe a dreame, and there were visions in his head, vpon

g This declareth that Darius was not touched with the true knowledge of God, because he doubted of his power.

h My iust cause and vprightnes in this thing, wherein I was charged, is approved of God.

i For he did disobey the kings wicked commandement to obey God, and so did no iniury to the king, who ought to command nothing, whereby God should be dishonoured.

k Because he committed himselfe wholly vnto God whose cause he did defend, he was assured, that nothing but good could come vnto him:

wherein we see the power of faith, as Hebr. 11. 33.

l This is a terrible example against all the wicked, which do against their conscience make cruel lawes to destroy the children of God, and also admoniseth Princes how to punish such, when their wickednes is come to light: though not in every point or with like circumstances, yet to execute true iustice vpon them.

m This proneth not that Darius did worship God aright, or els was conuerted: for then he would haue destroyed all superstition and idolatry, and not only giuen God the chiefe place, but also haue set him vp, and caused him to be honoured according to his word: but this was a certaine confession of Gods power, wherunto hee was compelled by this wonderfull miracle.

n Which hath not only life in himselfe, but is the onely fountaine of life, and quickeneth all things, so that without him there is no life.

d Herein is condemned the wickednes of the king, who would be set vp as a god, and passed not what wicked lawes he approved for the maintenance of the same. e Because he would not by his silence heuene the which he consented to this wicked decree, he set open his windowes toward Jerusalem, when he prayed: both to stirre vp himselfe with the remembrance of Gods promises to his people wher they should pray toward that Temple, and also that others might see, that he would neither consent in heart nor deede for these fewe dayes to any thing that was contrary to Gods glory. f This the wicked maintained euil lawes by constancie, and authority, which is oft times either lightnes, or stubbornnes when as the innocents thereby perish: & therefore gouernours neither ought to feare nor be ashamed to break such.

1 Whereas the people of Israell looked for a cōtinual quietnes after these seuerall yerres, as Ieremiah had declared, he sheweth that this rest shall not be a deliuerance from all troubles, but a beginning, and therefore encouraged them to looke for a cōtinual affliction til the Messiah be vetered & reuicled, by whome they shoulde haue a spiritual deliuerance, and all the promises fulfilled, whereof they should haue a certaine token in the destructiō of the Babyloni-calling kingdome.

2 Which signifieth that there should be horrible troubles & afflictions in the world in all corners of the world & at sundrie times. e Meaning y Assyrian & Caldean empire, which was most strong & fierce in power, & most soone come to their autoritie as though they had had wings to flye: yet their wings were pulled by the Persians, & they went on their feete, & were made like other men, which is here meane by mans heart. d Meaning, the Persians, which were barbarous & cruel. e They were small in the beginning, & were shut vp in their mountaynes and had no brute. f That is, destroyed many kingdomes, and was insatiable. g To wit, the Angels by Gods cōmandement, who by this meanes punished the ingratitude of the world. h Meaning, Alexander the King of Macedonie. i That is, his four chiefe captaynes, which had the empire amōg them after his death. Seleucus had Asia the great, Antigonus the Iesse, Cassander, and after him Antipater was King of Macedonie, and Ptolemeus had Egypt. k It was not of himselfe nor of his owne power that he gare all these countreys: for his army contained, but thirtie thousand men, & he ouercame in one battel Darius, which had ten hundred thousand, when he was so heauy with sleepe that his eyes were scarce open, as the stories report: therefore this power was giuen him of God. l That is, the Romane empire which was as a monster & could not be compared to any beast, because the nature of none was able to expresse it. m Signifying the tyrannie and greedinesse of the Romanes. n That which the Romanes could not quietly enioy in other countreys, they woulde giue it to other Kings & rulers: that at all times when they woulde, they might take it againe: which liberalitie is here called the stamping of the rest vnder the feete. o That is, sundry & diuers prouinces which were gouerned by the deputies and proconsuls, whereof euery one might be compared to a King. p Which is meane of Iulius Cesar, Augustus, Tiberius, Caligula, Claudius, and Nero, &c. who were as Kings in effect, but because they could not rule, but by the consent of the Senate, their power is copared to a little horse. For Mahomet came not of y Romane empire, & the Pope hath no vocatiō of gouernment: therefore this cannot be applyed vnto them. and also in this prophetic the Prophets purpose is chiefly to comfort the Iewes vnto the reuelation of Christ. Some take it for the whole body of Anachist, before whome there were a thirde of the first homes pluckt away: and behold, in this home were e eyes like the eyes of man, and a mouth speaking presumptuous things.

9 I beheld, till the s thrones were set by, and the e Ancient of daies did sit, whose garment was white as snow, and the haire of his head like the pure wools hy throne was like the fire flame, and his wherles as burning fire.

10 A fire Arcane pflued, and came forth from before him: thousand thousandes numbered vnto him, and ten thousandes a thousandes stood before him: the iudgement was set, and the x bookes opened.

11 Then I beheld, y because of the voyce of the presumptuous words, which the home spake: I beheld, enen til the beast was slaine, and his body destroyed, and giuen to the burning fire.

12 As concerning the other beasts, they had taken away their dominion: yet their liues were p̄tected for a certaine time and season.

13 As I beheld in visions by night, beholde, a one like the forme of man came in the cloudes of heauen, and b approached vnto the Ancient of daies, & they brought him before him.

14 And he gaue him d̄ominion, and honour, and a kingdome, that all people, nations & languages should serue him: his dominion is an euerslasting dominion, which shall neuer bee taken away: and his kingdome shall neuer leede destroyed.

15 I Daniel was troubled in my spirit, in the middes of my body, and the visions of mine head made me afraide.

16 Therefore I came vnto e one of them

q Meaning, a certaine position of the ten homes: that is, a part from the whole estate was pluckt away. For Augustus tooke from the Senate the libertie of choosing the deputies to sende into the prouinces, & tooke the gouernment of certaine countries to himselfe. r These Romane Emperors at the first vsed a certaine humane and gentleness, and were content that others, as the Cōsuls and Senate should beare the name of dignity, so that they might haue the profite, and therefore in elections and counsels would be haue themselves according as did other Senators: yet against their enemies and those that would resist them, they were fierce and cruel.

which is here meant by the proude mouth. f Meaning, the places where God & his Angels should come to iudge these monarchies, which iudgemēt shuld begin at the first cōming of Christ. r That is, God which was before all times, & is here described as mans nature is able to comprehend some portion of his glorie. u That is, an infinite nōber of Angels, which were ready to execute his cōmandement. x This is meane of the first cōming of Christ, whē as the wil of God was plainly reuicled by his Gospel. y Meaning, that he was astonied, when he saw these Emperours in such dignitie, and pride, & so suddenly destroyed at the cōming of Christ, when this fourth Monarchie was subiect to men of other nations. z As the three former Monarchies had an end at the time that God appointed, although they florished for a time, so that this fourth haue, & they that patiently abide Gods appointment, shal enioy the promises. a Which is meane of Christ, who had not yet taken vpon him mans nature, neither was the sonne of Dauid according to the flesh, as he was after wards: but appeared then in a figure, & that in the cloudes: that is, being separate from the cōmon sort of men by manifest signes of his diuinitie. b To wit, when he ascended into the heauens, & his diuine maiestie appeared, & all power was giuen vnto him in respect of that that he was our Mediator. c This is meane of the beginning of Christs kingdome when God the Father gaue vnto him all dominion, as to the Mediator, to the intent that he shoulde gouerne here his Church in earth continually till the time that he brought them to eternal life. d Through the strangenesse of the vision. e Meaning of the Angels, as ver. 10.

that stood by, and asked him the truth of all this: so he tolde me, and shewed mee the interpretation of these things.

17 These great beastes which are four, are four kings, which shall arise out of the earth,

18 And they shall take the kingdome of the Saints of the most high, and posses-se the kingdome for ever, even for ever and ever.

19 After this, I would know the truth of the fourth beast, which was so unlike to all the others, very fearefull, whose teeth were of iron, & his nailes of hyasse: which deuoured, brake in pieces, and stamped the residue vnder his feete.

20 Also to knowe of the ten hornes that were in his head, & of the other which came vp, before whome they fell, and of the horne that had eyes, and of the mouth that spake presumpuous things, whose looke was more stout then his fellowes.

21 I behelde, and the same horne made battel against the Saints, yea, and preuailed against them,

22 Vntill the Ancient of dayes came, & iudgement was giuen to the Saints of the most high: and the time appro-ched, that the Saints possessed the kingdome.

23 Then he sayde, The fourth beast shall bee the fourth kingdome in the earth, which shall bee unlike to all the king-domes, & shall deuoure the whole earth, and shall treade it downe and breake it in pieces.

24 And the ten hornes out of this kingdome are ten kings that shall rise: and another shall rise after them, and he shall bee unlike to the first, and he shall subdue three kings,

25 And shall speake wordes against the most high, & shall consume the Saints of the most high, and thinke that hee may change times and lawes, and they shall be giuen into his hande, vntill a time, and times and the diuiding of tyme. 26 But the iudgement shall sit, and they shall take awaye his dominion, to consume and destroy it vnto the ende.

27 And the kingdome, and dominion, and the greatnesse of the kingdome vnder
the whole heauen shall bee giuen to the holie people of the most high, whose kingdome is an euerlasting kingdome, and all powers shall serue and obey him.

28 Euen this is the ende of the matter, I Daniel had many cogitations which troubled me, and my countenance changed in mee: but I kept the matter in mine heart.

which though they do not fully enioye her, yet they haue it in hope, and by the preaching of the Gospel enioy the beginning thereof, which is meant by these wordes under the heauen: and therefore he here speakech of the beginning of Christes Kingdome in this world, which kingdome the faithfull haue by the participation that they haue with Christ their head. That is, some of euery sorte that beare rule. Though he had many motions in his heart which moued him to and fro to seeke out this matter curiously: yet he was content with that which God reuelled, and kept it in memory and wrote it for the vse of the Church.

CHAP. VII.

A vision of a battell betwene a ramme and a goate.

20 The vnderstanding of the vision.

I In the third yere of the reigne of King Belshazzar, a vision appeared vnto me, euen vnto mee Daniel, after that which appeared vnto me at the first.

2 And I sawe in a vision, and when I sawe it, I was in the palace of Shushan, which is in the prouince of Es-lam, and in a vision me thought I was by the riuier of Blai.

3 Then I looked vp and sawe, and bes-holde, there stood before the riuier a ramme, which had two hornes: and these two hornes were hye: but one was higher then another, and the highest came vp last.

4 I sawe the ramme pushing against the Wett, and against the North, & against the South: so that no beastes myght stande before him, nor could deliuer out of his hande, but he did what he listeth, and became great.

5 And as I considered, beholde, a goate came from the West ouer the whole earth, and touched not the ground: and this goate had an horne that appeared betwene his eyes.

6 And he came vnto the ramme that had the two hornes, whom I had seene standing by the riuier, and ramme vnto him in his fierce rage.

7 And I sawe him come vnto the ramme, & being moued against him, he smote
the ramme, and brake his two hornes:

great speede and expedition. & Though he came in the name of all Grecia, yet he bare the title & dignitie of the general captaine, so that his strength was attributed to him, which is meant by this horne. Alexander ouercame Darius in two sundrie battells, and so had the two kingdomes of the Medes and Persians.

Alexanders great power was broken: for which he had overcome all ^{the} East, he thought to returne towards Grecia to subdue them that there had rebelled, and so dyed by the way.

K That is, which were famous: for almost in the space of fifteene yere there were fifteene diuers successours before this monarchie was deuided to these foure, whereof Cassander had Macedonia, Seleucus Syria, Antigonus Asia the lesse, & Ptolemus Egypt.

I Which was Antiochus Epiphanes, who was of a ferule and sturting nature and also there were other betweene him and the kingdome, and therefore is here called the idle horse, because neyther princely conditions, nor any other thing was in him, why he should obtaine this kingdome.

m That is, towards Egypt. n Whereby hee meaneth Ptolemas. o That is, Iudca. p Antiochus raged against the elect of God, and trode his precious statutes vnder fecte, which are so called, because they are separated from the worlde. q That is, God, who governeth and mayntayneth his Church. r He laboured to abolishe all religion, and therefore cast Gods seruice out of his Temple, which God had chosen as a litle corner from all the rest of the worlde to haue his Name there truly called vpon. s He sheweth that their finnes are the cause of these horrible afflictions: and yet comforteth them, in that hee appointeth this tyrant a time, whome he would not suffer vicerly to abolishe his religion. t This horse shall abolishe for a time the true doctrine and so corrupt Gods seruice. v Meaning, that he heard one of the Angels asking this question of Christ, whom he calleth a certaine one or a secret one, or a maruelous one. x That is, the Iewes finnes, which were cause of this destruction. y That is, which suppresseth Gods religion, and his people. z Christ answered me for the comfort of the Church.

and there was no power in the rain to stande against him, but hee cast him downe to the ground, and stamped vpon him, and there was none that could deliuer the rain out of his power.

8 Therefore the goate waied exceeding great, and when hee was at the strongest, his great home was broken: and for it came vp foure that appeared toward the foure windes of the heauen.

9 And out of one of them came forth a litle home, which waied very great toward the ^{the} South, and towards the ^{the} East, & toward the ^{the} pleasant land.

10 Pea, it grew vp vnto the ^{the} holte of heauen, and it cast downe some of the holte, and of the statutes to the ground, and trode vpon them,

11 And extolled him selfe against the ^{the} prince of the holte from whom the ^{the} dayly sacrifice was take awaye, & the place of his Sanctuary was cast down.

12 And a time shall be given him ouer the dayly sacrifice for the iniquitie: and it shall cast downe the truth to the ground, & thus shall it do, & prosper.

13 Then I hearde one of the ^{the} Sautes speaking, and one of the Sautes spake vnto a certaine one, saying, How long shall endure the vision of the dayly sacrifice, and the iniquitie of the desolation to create both the Sanctuary and the ^{the} armie vnder foote?

14 And he answered me, Vnto the ^{the} evening and the morning, two thousand and thye hundredth: then shall the Sanctuary be defiled.

15 I holde when I Daniel had seene the vision, and sought for the meaning, behold, there stood before me like the similitude of a man.

16 And I hearde a mans voyce betwene the bankes of Dial, which called and said, Gabriel, make this man to vnderstande the vision.

derstande the vision.

17 So he came where I stood: and when he came, I was afraid, and fell vpon my face: but he laid vnto me, vnderstande, I soune of man: for in the last time shall be the vision.

18 Now as he was speaking vnto me, I being a sleepe fell on my face to the ground: but he touched me, and let me vp in my place.

19 And he saide, Beholde, I will shew thee what shall be in the last ^{the} watch: for in the ende of the tyme appointed it shall come.

20 The rain which thou sawest hauing two homes, are the kings of the Medes and Persians.

21 And the goate is the king of Grecia, & the great home that is betwene his eyes, is the first king.

22 And that that is broken, and foure stood by for it, are foure kingdomes, which shall stande vp of that nation, but not in his strength.

23 And in the ende of their kingdome, when the rebellious shall be conuined, a king of fierce countenance, and vnderstanding darke sentences, shall stand vp.

24 And his power shall be mightie, but not in his strength: and he shall destroy wonderfull, and shall prosper, & practise, and shall destroye the ^{the} mightie, & the holy people.

25 And though his policie also, hee shall cause craft to prosper in his hand, and by shall extol him selfe in his heart, and by ^{the} peace shall destroy many: he shall also stand vp against the ^{the} Prince of princes, but he shall be broken down without hande.

26 And the vision of the evening and morning, which is declared, is true: therefore seale thou by the vision, for it shall be after many dayes.

27 And I Daniel was stricken and sicke ^{the} nine certaine dayes: but when I rose vp, I did the kings busines, and I was astonishid at the vision, but none vnderstoode it.

8 O Lorde, vnto vs appertineeth open shame, to our ⁹ kings, to our princes, and to our fathers, because wee haue sinned against thee.

9 Yet compassion and forgiveness is in the Lorde our God, albeit we haue rebelled against him.

10 For we haue not obeyed the ¹¹ voyce of the Lord our God, to walke in his lawes, which he had layde before vs by the vniuersitie of his seruantes the Prophetes.

11 Yea, all Israel haue transgressed thy lawe, and are turned backe, and haue not hearde thy voyce: therefore the ¹² citie is polozed vpon vs, and the oth that is written in the lawe of Moses the seruant of God, because wee haue sinned against him.

12 And he hath confirmed his wordes, which he spake against vs, and against our iudges that iudged vs, by bringing vpon vs a great plague: for vnder the whole heauen hath not bene the like, as hath bene brought vpon Ierusalem.

13 All this plague is come vpon vs, as it is written in the Lawe of Moses: yet made we not our prayer before ¹⁴ the Lord our God, that we might turne fro our iniquities and vnderstand thy truth.

14 Therefore hath the Lord ¹⁵ made reas-son for the plague, and brought it vpon vs: for the Lorde our God is righteous in all his workes which he doeth: for we would not heare his voyce.

15 ¹⁶ And now, O Lorde our God, that hast brought thy people out of ¹⁷ lande of Egypt with a mighty hand, and hast gotten thee remoune, as appeareth this day, we haue sinned, we haue done wickedly,

16 O Lorde, according to all thy ¹⁸ righteousnesse, beseeche thee, let thine anger and thy wrath be turned awaye from thy cite Ierusalem thine holy mountaine: for because of our finnes, and for the iniquities of our fathers, Ierusalem and thy people are a reproche to all that are about vs.

17 Showe therefore, O our God, heare the prayer of thy seruant, and his ¹⁸ supplications, and cause thy face to shine vpon thy ¹⁹ Sanctuary, that lieth waste for the ²⁰ Lordes sake.

18 O my God, encline thine eare & heare: open thine eyes, and beholde our desolations, and the cite whereupon thy name is called: for we do not present our supplications before thee for our owne ²¹ righteousness, but for thy great tender mercies.

19 O Lorde, heare, O Lorde forgive, O Lorde ²² consider, and do it: deferre not, for thine owne sake, O my God: for thy name is called vpon thy cite, and vpon thy people.

20 ²³ And whiles I was speaking and praying, and confessing my sinne, and the sinne of my people Israel, and did present my supplication before ²⁴ the Lord my God, for the holpe Mountayne of my God,

21 Yea, while I was speaking in prayer, euen the man ²⁵ Gabriel, whome I had seene before in the vision, came flying, and touched me about the time of the evening oblation.

22 And he informed me, and talked with me, and sayde, O Daniel, I am now come forth to giue thee knowledge and vnderstanding.

23 At the beginning of thy supplications the commandement came forth, & I am come to shewe thee, for thou art greatly beloved: therefore vnderstande the matter and consider the vision.

24 ²⁶ Seventie ²⁷ weekes are determined vpon thy people, and vpon thine holy cite, to finish the wickednes, and to seale by the ²⁸ finnes, and to reconcile the iniquitie, and to bring in euerlasting righteousnes, and to seale by the vision and prophetic, and to anour the most Holy.

25 Knowe therefore and vnderstande, that from the going forth of the commandement to bring againe the people, and to builde Ierusalem, vnto ²⁶ Messiah the prince, shall be seuen ²⁷ weekes, &

Gospel he confirmed his promes, first, to the Iewes, and after to the Gentiles. b Christ accomplished this by his death and resur

Sanctuarie shoulde be utterly destroyed for their rebellion against God & their idolatry: or as some reade, that the plagues shall be so great, that they shall all be astonyed at them.

C H A P. X.

There appeareth vnto Daniel a man clothed in linen, 11 VVhich sheweth him wherefore he is sent.

1 In the third pere of Cyrus King of Persia, a thing was reueiled vnto Daniel (whose name was called Beltes shazzar) and the worde was true, but the tyme appointed was long, and he was deridde the thing, and had understand ing of the vision.
2 At the same tyme, Daniel was in hea uennel for thre weekes of daies.
3 He ate no pleasant bread, nepper came fleshy nor wine in my mouth, neither did I anoynt my self at all, til thre weekes of daies were fulfilled.
4 And in the four & twentieth day of the first moneth, as I was by the side of that great riuier, ruen Biddelhel, 5 And I lift vp mine eyes, & looked, and beholde, there was a man clothed in li nen, whose loines were girded with fine golde of Bphaz.
6 His bodie also was like the Chrysolite, & his face (to looke vpon) like the lighte ning, & his eyes as lampes of fire, & his armes & his feete were like in colour to polished brasse, & the voice of his wordes was like the voyce of a multitude.
7 And Daniel alone sawe the vision:
for the men that were with mee, sawe not the vision: but a great feare fel vpon them, so that they fled awape and hyd themselues.
8 Therefore I was left alone, and sawe this great vision, and there remained no strength in mee: for I had was turned in me into corruption, and I remained no powder.

9 Yet heard I the voice of his wordes:
when I heard the voice of his wordes,
I slept on my face: and my face was to ward the ground.
10 And behold, an hande touched me, which set me vp vpon my kners and vnto the palmes of mine handes, 11 And he said vnto mee, Daniel, a man greatly beloved, understand the wordes that I speake vnto thee, & stande in thy place: for vnto thee am I now sent. And when he had said this worde vnto me,
I stood trembling.
12 He said he vnto me, Feare not, Daniel:
for fro the first day that thou didst let thine heart to understande, & to humble thy self before thy God, thy wordes were heard, and I am come for thy wordes.
13 But the prince of the kingdome of Persia withstode me one and twentie daies: so, Michael one of the chiefe princes, came to help me, and I remain ed there by the kings of Persia.
14 Now I am come to shewe thee what shal come to thy people in many daies:
for yet the vision is for many daies.
15 And when he spake these wordes vnto me, I set my face toward the grounde, and heide my tongue.
16 And behold, one like the similitude of the soines of man touched my lippes:
then I opened my mouth, & spake, and saide vnto him that stood before me, O my Lorde, = by the vision my cogowes are returned vpon mee, and I haue re teyned no strength.
17 For howe can the seruant of this my Lorde talke with my Lorde being such one: for as for me, straight was there re mained no strength in mee, nepper is there breath left in me, 18 Then there came againe, and touched me one like the appearance of a man, & he strengthened me.
19 And said, O man, greatly beloved, feare not: peace be vnto thee: be strong and of good courage. And when he had sp oken vnto me, I was strengthened, and said, Let my Lorde speake: for thou hast strengthened me.
20 Then said he, knowest thou wherefore
I am come vnto thee? but nowe will I returne to fight with the prince of Per sia: and when I am gone forth, loe, the P prince of Grecia shall come.
21 But I will shewe thee that which is de scribed in the Scripture of truth: I and there is none that holdeth with mee in these things, but Michael your prince.

CHAP. XI.

A prophesie of the kingdomes, which should be enemies to the Church of God, as of Persia, 3 of Greece, 5 of Egypt, 20 Of Syria, 36 And of the Romans.

a The Angel sheweth Daniel that God hath given him power to performe these things, feeling he appeared him to assist Darius, when he overcame the Caldeans. b Wherof Canbyles that nowe reigned, was the first, the seconde Smerdes, the third, Darius the sonne of Hystaspis, & the fourth Xerxes, which all were enemies to the people of God and stood against them. c For he rayed vp all the East countreys to fight against the Grecians: and albeit he had in his armie nine hundred thousand men, yet in foure battels he was discomfited and fled away with shame. d That is, Alexander the great. e For when his estate was most flourishing, he overcame himselfe with drinke, & so fel into a discase: or as some write, was poysoned by Cassander. f For his twelue chiefe princes first deuided his kingdom among themselves. g After this his Monarchie was deuided into foure: for Seleucus had Syria, Antigonus Asia minor, Cassander the kingdom of Macedonia, and Ptolemeus Egypt. h Thus God reuenged Alexander's ambition & crueltye in causing his posteritie to be murdered, partly of the fathers chiefe friends, and partly one of another. i None of these foure shalbe able to be compared to the power of Alexander. k That is, his posteritie hauing no part thereof. l To wit, Ptolemeus King of Egypt. m That is, Antiochus the sonne of Seleucus, and one of Alexanders princes shall be more mightie: for he should haue both Asia & Syria. n That is, Berenice the daughter of Ptolemeus Philadelphus shalbe giue in marriage to Antiochus Theos, thinking by this affinitie that Syria & Egypt shoulde haue a continuall peace together. o That force & strength shall not continue: for soone after Berenice and her yong sonne after her husbands death, was slaine of her stepsonne Seleucus Calinicus the sonne of Laodice, the lawful wife of Antiochus, but put away for this womans sake. p Neither Ptolemeus, nor Antiochus. q Some read, feede, meaning the child be gotten of Berenice. r Some read, the that begate her, & thereby vnderstand her nurse, which brought her vp: to that all they that were occasion of this marriage, were destroyed. s Meaning, that Ptolemeus Euergetes after y death of his father Philadelphus should succede in the kingdom being of the same stocke that Berenice was. t To reuenge his sisters death against Antiochus Calinicus King of Syria.

1 Also I, in the first yeere of Darius of the wydes, when I stood to encourage and to strengthen thee. 2 And now will I shew thee the truth. Behold, these shall stand by yet three kings in Persia, and the fourth shall be farre richer then they all: and by his strength, and by his riches he shall stirre vp all against the realme of Grecia. 3 But a mightie king shall stand up, that shall rule with great dominion, and doe according to his pleasure. 4 And when he shall stande by, his kingdome shall be broken, and shall be diuided towarde the foure wyndes of heauen: and not to his posteritie, nor according to his dominion, which hee ruled: for his kingdome shall be pluckt by, euen to be for others besides those. 5 And the King of the South shall be mightie, and one of his princes, and shall preuaile agaynst him, and beare rule: his dominion shall be a great dominion. 6 And in the ende of yeeres they shall be ioyned together: for the King daughter of the South shall come to the King of the North to make an agreement, but shee shall not receiue the power of the arme, neyther shall he continue, nor his arme: but theye shall be deliuered to death, and they that brought her, and he that begate her, and hee that comforted her in these times. 7 But out of the budde of her rootes shall one stande by in his steade, which shall come with an armie, and shall enter into the fortrese of the King of the North, and doe with him as he list, and shall preuaile. 8 And thal also carry captiues into Egypt their gods with their molten images, & with their precious vessels of silver and of gold, and he shall continue mo peres then the King of the North. 9 So the King of the South shall come into his kingdom, and shall returne us to his owne land. 10 Wherefore his comes shalbe stirred by, & shall assemble a mightie great armie: and one of them shall come, and ouerflow, and passe throught: the shall be returned, and be stirred by at his fortrese. 11 And the King of the South shall be angry, and shall come fourth, and fight with him, euen with the King of the North: for hee shall set fourth a great multitude, and the multitude shall be giuen into his hand. 12 Then the multitude shall be proud, and their heart shall be lifted up: for he shall call downe thousands: but he shall not still preuaile. 13 For the King of the North shall returne, and shall set fourth a greater multitude then afore, and shall come fourth (after certaine peres) with a mightie armie, and great riches. 14 And at the same time there shall many stand up against the King of the South: also the rebellious children of the people shall exalt themselves to citsubthe vision, but they shall fall. 15 So the King of the North shall come, and cast vp a mount, and take the strong citie: and the armie of the South shall not resist, neyther his chosen people, neyther shall there be any strength to withstand. 16 But he that shall come, shall doe vnto him as he list, and none shall stande agaynst him: and hee shall stande in the pleasant land, which by his hande shall be consumed. 17 Again he shall set his face to enter with the power of his whole kingdom, and his confederates with him: thus shall he doe, and hee shall giue him the daughter of women, to bestrow her: but he shall not stande on his side, neyther be for him. 18 After this thal he turne his face vnto

u For this Ptolemeus reigned fixe and fourtie yeeres. x Meaning, Seleucus & Antiochus the Great, the fennes of Calinicus shall make warre against Ptolemeus Philopater the sonne of Philadelphus. y For his elder brother Seleucus died, or was slaine wyles the warres were preparing. z That is, Philopater when hee thal see Antiochus to take great dominions fro him in Syria, & also readie to inuade Egypt. a For Antiochus had fix thousand horsemen and threecore thousand foote men. b After the death of Ptolemeus Philopater, who left Ptolemeus Epiphanes his heire. c For not onely Antiochus came against him, but also Philip King of Macedonia, and these two brought great power with them. d For vnder Odias which falselye alledged that place of Isa. 19. 19. certine of the Jewes retired with him into Egypt to fulfill this prophesie: also the Angel sheweth that all these troubles which are in the Church, are by the prouidence and countell of God. e The Egyptians were not able to resist Stopus Antiochus captaine. f He sheweth that hee shall not only afflicte the Egyptians, but also the Jewes, & thal enter into their countrey, whereof he admonisheth them before, that they may knowe that all these things come by Gods prouidence. g This was the second battell that Antiochus fought against Ptolemeus Epiphanes. h To wit, a beautiful woman, which was Cleopatra Antiochus daughter. i For he regarded not the life of his daughter in respect of the kingdom of Egypt. k Shee shall not agree to his wicked counsell, but shall loue her husband, as her duetie requireth, and not seeke his destruction.

- 1 That is, toward Asia, Grecia and thoe yles which are in y Sea called Mediterraneum: for y Coues called all countreyes yles which were deuided from them by Sea. m For whereas Antiochus was wont to contemne the Romanes, and put their ambassadours to shame in all places, Attilius the Consul, or Lucius Scipio put him to fight and caused his shame to turne on his owne head. n By his wicked life and obeying of foolish counsell. o For feare of the Romanes he shall see to his holdes. p For when as vnder y pretence of pouertie he would haue robbed the Temple of Iupiter Dodoneus, the countrey men slewe him. q That is, Seleucus shall succede his father Antiochus. r Not by foreine enemies, or battell, but by treason. s Which was Antiochus Euphianes, who as is thought, was the occasion of Seleucus his brothers death, and was of a vile, cruel & flattering nature, and defrauded his brothers sonne of the kingdom, and vsurped the kingdom without the consent of the people. t He sheweth that great foreyne powers shall come to helpe the young sonne of Seleucus against his vnkle Antiochus, and yet shalbe ouerthrowne. u Meaning Ptolemeus Philometor Philopatres sonne, who was this childes cousin germaine, and is here called the prince of the covenant, because he was the chiefe, and all other followed his conduite. x For after the battell Philometor and his vnkle Antiochus made a league. y For he came vpon him at vnwares, and when he suspected his vnkle Antiochus nothing. z Meaning, in Egypt. a He will content him selfe with the small holdes for a time, but euer labour by craft to attaine to the chieft. b He shalbe ouercome with treason. c Signifying his princes and the chiefe about him. d Declaring that his souldiers shall braut out and venture their life to slay and to be slayne for the sauegarde of their prince. e The vnkle and the nephewe shall take truce, and banker together, yet in their hearts they shal imagine mischief one against another.
- 1 ples, and shall take many, but a prince shall cause his shame to light vpon him, beside that he shall cause his own shame to turne vpon y him selfe.
- 19 ffor he shall turne his face toward the four corners of his own land: but he shall be ouerthrowne and fall, and be no more founde.
- 20 a Then shall stande by in his place in the gloie of the kingdom, one that shall raise taxes: but after fewe dayes he shall be ouerthrowne, neither in wyath, nor in battell.
- 21 And in his place shall stande by a wise person, to whom they shall not giue the honour of the kingdom: but he shall come in peaceably, and obscure the kingdom by flatteries.
- 22 And the armies shalbe ouerthrowne with a flood before him, and shall be broken: and also the prince of the covenant.
- 23 And after the league made with him, he shall worke deceitfully: for he shall come by, and ouercome with a small people.
- 24 He shall enter into the quiet and plentifull yronce, and hee shall do that which his fathers haue not done, nor his fathers fathers: he shall deuide among them the pray and the spoyle, & the substance, pea, and he shall force all his deuices against the strong holdes, euen for a time.
- 25 Also he shall stirre by his power and his courage against the king of the South with a great armie, & the king of the South shalbe thured vp to battell with a very great and mightie armie: but he shall not stand: for they shall force all and practise against him.
- 26 Pea, that that feede of the portion of his miserie, shall destroy him: and his armie shall overflowe: and many shall fall, and be slaine.
- 27 And both these kings hearts shalbe to do mischief, and they shall talke of decreete at one table: but it shall not as
- uaple: for yet the ende shall be at the time appointed.
- 28 Then shall he returne into his land with great substance: for his hearte shalbe against the holy covenant: so shall he do & returne to his owne land.
- 29 At the time appointed he shall returne, & come toward the South: but the lull shall not be as the first.
- 30 ffor the shippes of Tyrtim shall come against him: therefore he shall be come and returne, and treat against the holy covenant: so shall he doe, he shall euen returne and haue intelligence with them y forsake the holy covenant.
- 31 And armes shall stande on his part, and they shall pollute the Sanctuarie of strength, and shall take awaye the daily sacrifice, and they shall set by the abominable desolation.
- 32 And such as wickedly be against the covenant, shall be cause to sinne by flatterie: but the people that doe knowe their God, shall praye and prosper.
- 33 And they that vnderstande among the people, shall instruct many: y et they shall fall by sword, and by flame, by captiuitie, and by yoye many dayes.
- 34 Show when they shall fall, they shalbe holpen with a little helpe: but manie shall cleaue vnto them y fauorably.
- 35 And some of them of vnderstanding shall fall to trie them, and to purge, and to make the white, all the tyme be out: for there is a time appointed.
- 36 And the king shall do what him list: he shall exalt him selfe, & magnifie himselfe against al, that is God, and shall reache maruelous things against the God of gods, & shall prosper, till the wyath be accomplished: for the determination is made.
- i With the Iewes which shall forsake the covenant of the Lorde: for first he was called against the Iewes by Iason the high priest, & this second time by Menelaus. k A great faction of the wicked Iewes shall holde with Antiochus. l So called, because the power of God was nothing diminished, although this tyrant fet vp in the Temple the image of Iupiter Olympius, and so beganne to corrupt the pure seruice of God. m Meaning such as bare the name of Iewes but in deede were nothing lesse: for they sold their soules, and betrayed their brethren for gaine. n They that remaine constant among the people, shall teache others by their example and edifie many in the true religion. o Whereby he exhortheth the godly to constancie although they should perse a thousand times, and though their miseries endure neuer so long. p As God will not leave his Church desitute, yet will he not deliuer it all at once, but so helpe, as they may liu seeme to fight vnder y crosse, as he did in y time of y Maccabees wherof he here prophecieth. q That is, there shalbe ene of this finall number many hypocrites. r To wit, of them y feare God & willose their life for y defence of true religion, signifying also y the Church must continually be tried & purged & ought to looke for one persecution after another: for God hath appointed y time: therefore we must obey. s Because the Angels purpose is to shew the whole course of y persecutions of y Iewes vnto the coming of Christ, he nowe speaketh of the monarchie of y Romanes which he noteth by y name of a King, who were without al religion & contemned y true God. t So long y tyrants shal preuaile as God hath appointed to punish the his people: but he sheweth y it is but for a time.

37 Neither shall he regard the God of his fathers, nor the desires of women, nor care for any god: for he shall magnifie him selfe above all.

38 But in his place shall he honour the ygod Haaizzim, and the god whom his fathers knew not, shall he honour with golde and with silver, and with precious stones, and with pleasant things.

39 Thus shall he do in yholdings of Haaizzim with a strange god whom he shall acknowledge: he shall increase his glorie, & shall cause them to rule ouer many, and shall diuide the land for gaime.

40 And at the end of time shall the King of the South push at him, & the King of the North shall come against him like a whirlewinde with chariots, and with horsemen, and with many ships, and he shall enter into the countreies, & shall ouerflowe and passe through.

41 He shall enter also into the pleasant land, and many countreies shall be ouertrowen: but these shall escape out of his hand, euen Edom and Moab, & the chief of the children of Ammon.

42 He shall stretch forth his handes also vpon the countreies, and the land of Egypt shall not escape.

43 But hee shall haue power ouer the treasures of golde and of silver, and ouer all the precious things of Egypt, & of the Libyans, and of the black voyces where hee shall passe.

44 But the ridings out of the East and the North shall trouble him: therefore hee shall go forth with great wrath to destroy and roote out many.

a Although in their heartes they had no religion, yet they dyd acknowledge the gods and worshipped them in their temples, least they should haue bene despised as Atheistes: but this was to increase their fame and riches: and when they gate any countrey, they so made others the rulers thereof, that the profiteer came to the Romanes. b That is, both the Egyptians and the Syrians shall at length fight against the Romanes, but they shall be ouercome. c The Angel forwarneth the Iewes that when they should see the Romanes inuade them, and that the wicked should escape their hands, y then they should not thinke but that all this was done by Gods prouidence, for asmuch as he warned them of it so long afore, and therefore hee would still preferre him. d Hearing that Crassus was slaine and Antonius discomfited. e For Augustus ouercame the Parthians, and recovered that which Antonius had lost. f The Romanes after this reigned quietly through all countreies & from sea to sea, & in Iudea: but at length for their crueltie God shall destroy the.

37 Neither shall he regard the God of his fathers, nor the desires of women, nor care for any god: for he shall magnifie him selfe above all.

38 But in his place shall he honour the ygod Haaizzim, and the god whom his fathers knew not, shall he honour with golde and with silver, and with precious stones, and with pleasant things.

39 Thus shall he do in yholdings of Haaizzim with a strange god whom he shall acknowledge: he shall increase his glorie, & shall cause them to rule ouer many, and shall diuide the land for gaime.

40 And at the end of time shall the King of the South push at him, & the King of the North shall come against him like a whirlewinde with chariots, and with horsemen, and with many ships, and he shall enter into the countreies, & shall ouerflowe and passe through.

41 He shall enter also into the pleasant land, and many countreies shall be ouertrowen: but these shall escape out of his hand, euen Edom and Moab, & the chief of the children of Ammon.

42 He shall stretch forth his handes also vpon the countreies, and the land of Egypt shall not escape.

43 But hee shall haue power ouer the treasures of golde and of silver, and ouer all the precious things of Egypt, & of the Libyans, and of the black voyces where hee shall passe.

44 But the ridings out of the East and the North shall trouble him: therefore hee shall go forth with great wrath to destroy and roote out many.

45 And hee shall plant the tabernacles of his palace betweene the seas in the glorious and holy mountaine, yet hee shall come to his ende, and none shall helpe him.

CHAP. XII.

Of the deliuerance of the Church by Christ.

a The Angel here noteth two things: first that the Church shall be in great affliction and trouble at Christes comming, and next that God will send his Angel to deliuer it, whom here he calleth Michael, meaning Christe, which is published by the preaching of the Gospell.

1 And at that time shall Michael stande up, & tne great prince, which standen for the childre of thy people, and there shall be a time of trouble, & in that time shall stande up in thy lot, at the ende of the dayes.

such as neuer was since there began to be a nation vnto that same time: & at that time thy people shall be deliuered, euery one that shall be found written in the booke.

2 And many of them that sleepe in the dust of the earth, shall awake, some to euerlasting life, and some to shame and perpetuall contempt.

3 And they that be wise, shall shine, as the brightnes of the firmament: and they that be turne manie to righteousnes, shall shine as the starrs, for euery & euery.

4 But thou, Daniel, shut vp y words, and seale the booke till the end of the time: many shall runne to and fro, and knowledge shall be increased.

5 Then I Daniel looked, and beholde, there stood other two, the one on this side of the banke of the riuier, and the other on that side of the banke of the riuier.

6 And one said vnto the man clothed in linen, which was vpon the waters of the riuier, When shall be the end of these wonderes?

7 And I heard the man clothed in linen which was vpon the waters of the riuier, when he held vp his right hand, & his left hande vnto heauen, and sware by him that lieth for euery, that it shall tari for a time, two times & an halfe: and when he shall haue accomplished to scatter the power of the holy people, all these things shall be finished.

8 Then I heard it, but I understood it not: then I said I, my lord, what shall be the ende of these things?

9 And he said, Go thy way, Daniel: for the words are closed vp, and sealed, till the daye of the time.

10 I sawe I sawe purified, made white, & tried: but the wicked shall do wickedly, & none of the wicked shall haue understanding: but the wise shall understand.

11 And I sawe the time that the daily sacrifice shall be take away, & the abominable desolation set vp, there shall be a thousand two hundredth and thirtie dayes.

12 Blessed is he that waiteth and cometh to the thousand, three hundredth and thirtie dayes.

13 But go thou thy way till the end be: for thou shalt rest and stande up in thy lot, at the ende of the dayes.

Meaning, all shall rise at the general resurrection, which thing he here nameth, because the faith full should haue euert their respect to that: for in the earth there shall be no sure comfort.

c Who haue kept the true feare of God and his religion.

d He chiefly meaneth the ministers of Gods worde, and next, all the faithfull which instruct the ignorant, and bring them to the true knowledge of God.

e Though the most part despise this prophetic, yet keepe thou it sure and esteeme it as a treasure.

f Till the time that God hath appointed for the full reuelation of these things: and then many shall runne to and fro to searce y knowledge of these mysteries, which things they obtaine now by the light of the Gospell.

g Which was Tygris.

h Which was as it were a double othe and did the more confirme the thing.

i Meaning, a long time, a longer time, and at length a short time: signifying that their troubles should haue an ende. k When the Church shall be scattered and diminished in such sorte as it shall seeme to haue no power. l From the time that Christe by his sacrifice shall take away the sacrifice and ceremonies of the Lawe. m Signifying that the time shall be long of Christes second comming, & yet the children of God ought not to be discouraged, though it be deferred. n In this number he addeth a moneth and an halfe to the former number, signifying that it is not in man to appoynt the time of Christes comming, but that they are blessed that patiently abyde his appearing. o The Angell warneth the Prophet patiently to abyde, till the time appointed come, signifying that hee should depart this life, & rise againe with the elect, when God had sufficiently humbled and purged his Church.

After that the ten tribes had fallen away from God by the wicked and subtle counsel of Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat, and in steade of his true seruice commanded by his worde worshipped him according to their owne fantasies and traditions of men, giuing themselves to most vile idolatrie and superstition, the Lord from time to time sent them Prophets to call them to repentance: but they grewe cuer worse and worse, and still abused Gods benefices. Therefore now when their prosperitie was at the highest vnder Ieroboam the sonne of Ioash, God sent Hosea and Amos to the Israelites (as he did at the same time Iſaiah and Micah to them of Iudah) to condemne them of their ingratitude: and where as they thought themselves to be greatly in the fauour of God, and to be his people, the Prophet calleth them bastards and children borne in adulterie: and therefore sheweth them that God would take away their kingdome, and giue them to the Assyrians to be led away captiues. Thus Hosea faithfully executed his office for the space of seuentie yeeres, though they remained still in their vices and wickednesse, and derided the Prophets, and contemned Gods iudgements. And because they should neither be discouraged with threatnings onely, nor yet flatter themselves by the sweetnesse of Gods promises, he setteth before them the two principall partes of the Lawe, which are the promises of saluation, and the doctrine of life: for the first part he directeth the faithfull to Messiah, by whom onely they should haue true deliuerance: and for the second, he vseth threatnings and menaces to bring them from their wicked maners and vices, and this is the chiefe scope of all the Prophets, either by Gods promises to allure them to be godly, els by threatnings of his iudgements to feare them from vice: and albeit that the whole Lawe containe these two points, yet the Prophets moreouer note peculiarly both the time of Gods iudgements and the maner.

a The people is called to repentance. s He sheweth their idolatrie and threatneth them except they repent.

Say unto your ^a brethren, ^b Minni, and to your sisters, ^c Rubamah, Pleade with your ^b mother: pleade with her: for she is not my wife, neither am I her husband: but let her take away her fornications out of her sight, and her adulteries ^c from between her breasts.

West I strip her naked, and let her as in the day that she was ^c borne, & make her as a wilderness, and leave her like a dyne land, and slay her for thyself.

Wid I wil haue no pittie vpon her children: for they be the ^c children of fornications.

For their mother hath plaid the harlot: she that conceived them, hath done shamefull: for she said, I will goe after my ^c lovers that giue me my bread and my water, my wooll and my flaye, myne oile and my drinke.

Therefore beholde, I will stoppe ^b thy way with thornes, and make an hedge, that she shall not finde her paths.

Though she followe after her lovers, yet shall she not come at them: though she seeke them, yet shall she not finde them: then shall she say, I will goe and returne to my first husband: for at that time was I better then nowe.

Now she did not know that I ^k gaue her corne, and wine, and oyle, and multiplied her siluer and golde, which they bestowed vpon Baal.

Therefore will I returne, and take as way ^l my come in the time thereof, and my wine in the season thereof, and will recouer my wooll and my flaye lent, to recouer her shame.

Wid now will I discover her ^m lewdnes in the sight of her lovers, and no man shall deliuer her out of mine hand.

I will also cause all her mirth to cease, her feast dayes, her newe moones, & her Sabbaths, & all her solemne feastes.

Wid I wil destroy her vines and her figge trees, whereof she hath said, These are my rewards that my lovers haue giuen me: & I will make them as a forest, and the wild beastes shall eat them.

Wid I will visite vpon her ⁿ dayes of Baalim, wherein she burnt incense to them: and she decked her selfe with her ^o earings and her iewels, and the foles of her lovers, and forgate me, saith the Lord.

Therefore beholde, I will ^p allure her, and bring her into the wilderness, and speake friendly vnto her.

Wid I will giue her her vineyards from thence, and the valley ^q of Achor for the doore of hope, and she shall ^r sing there as in the dayes of her youth, and as in the day when she came by out of the land of Egypt.

Wid at that day, saith the Lord, thou shalt call me ^s Iſhi, and shalt call me no more ^t Baalim.

For I will take away the names of Baalim out of her mouth, & they shall be no more remembered by their ^u names.

Wid in that day will I ^v make a covenant for them, with the ^w wilde beasts, and with the foules of the heauen, and with that that creepeth vpon the earth: and I will breake the bowe, and the sword, and the battell out of the earth, into life.

Wid I will marrie thee vnto me for praise God as the euer: yea, I will marrie thee vnto me in rightconnesse, and in iudgement, and in mercie and in compassion.

I will euen marry thee vnto me in ^x faithfulness, and thou shalt know the husband, knowing that I am Ioy.

Wid in that day I will heare, saith the Lord, I will euen heare ^y the heauens, and they shall heare the earth.

Wid the earth shall heare the comie, and the wine, and the oyle, and they shall heare Iſrael.

Wid I will loue her vnto me in the earth, and I wil haue mercie vpon her, that was not pittied, and I will save them into them which were not my people.

Thou art my people, and they shall serue me purely according to my worde.

Meaning, that he wil so blesse them that all creatures shall fauour them.

With a covenant that neuer shall be broken.

Then shall the heauen desire raine for the earth which shall bring forth for the vse of man.

Rom. 9.25. 1. pet. 2. 10.

By my benefites in offering her grace & mercie, euen in that place where she shall thinke her selfe destitute of all helpe and comfort.

q Which was a plentiful valley, & wherein they had great comfort when they came out of the wilderness, as Iosh. 7. 26. and is called the doore of hope, because it was a departing from death, and an entrie into life.

r That is, she did what she was deliuered out of Egypt.

s That is, mine husband, knowing that I am Ioy.

t That is, my matter: which name was applied to them which were not my people, into their mouth.

u No idolatrie shall once come into their mouth.

v That is, I will serue me purely according to

CHAP. III.

The tenes shall be cast of for their idolatrie, s Afterward they shall returne to the Lord.

Then said the Lord to me, ^a Goe pet, and loue a woman (beloued of her husband, and was an harlot) according to the loue of the Lord toward the children of Iſrael: yet they looked to other gods, and ^b loued the wine bottles.

So ^c I bought her to me for siluer pieces of siluer, and for an homer of bartie and an halfe homer of barley.

Wid I said vnto her, Thou shalt abide with ^d me many dayes: thou shalt be thyselfe wholly to pleasures, and could not take vp, as they that are giuen to drunkennes. ^e Yet I loued her and paid a small portion for her, least she perceiuing the greatness of my loue, should haue abused me and not byn vnder duerie: for siluer pieces of siluer were but half the price of a slave, Ex. 21. 32.

I will trie thee a long time as in thy widowhood whether thou wilt be mine or no.

e Meaning, not onely at the time of their captiuitie, but also vnto Christ.

f That is, they should neither haue policie nor religion, & their idoles also wher-in they put their confidence, should be destroyed.

g Thisis ment of Christs kingdome, which was Promised vnto Dauid to be eternal, Psal. 72. 17.

a Because the people would not obey the admonitions of the Prophet, he cite them before the iudgement seat of God, against who they chiefly offended, Isa. 7. 13, Micah 6. 1, 2, Zecha 12. 10. b In euery place appeareth a libertie to most heinous vices, so that one followeth in the necke of another.

c As though he would say, that it were in vaine to rebuke them: for no man can abide it: yea, they will speake against the Prophets and Priests whose office it is chiefly to rebuke them.

d Yeshal perish all together: the one, because he would not obey, & the other because he would not admonish.

not plape the harlot, and thou shalt be to none other man, and I will be so vnto thee.

4 For y children of Israel that remaine in many dapes without a king, and without a prince, and without an offering, and without an image, & without an Ephod and without Teraphim.

5 Afterward shall the children of Israel conuert, and seeke the Lord their God, and Dauid their king, and shall see the Lord, and his goodnes in the latter dapes.

g Thisis ment of Christs kingdome, which was Promised vnto Dauid to be eternal, Psal. 72. 17.

CHAP. III.

A complaint against the people & the Priests of Israel.

1 HEare the word of the Lord, ye children of Israel: for the Lord hath a controversie with the inhabitants of the land, because there is no truth, nor incerp nor knowledg of God in y land.

2 Sp swearing, and lying, and killing, and stealing, and whoring they beake out, and blood toucheth blood.

3 Therefore shall the land mourne, & enery one that dwelleth therein, shall be cut of, with the beasts of the field, and with the foules of the heauen, and also the fishes of the sea shall be taken away.

4 Perce let none rebuke, nor reprove an other: for thy people are as they that rebuke the Duck.

5 Therefore shalt thou fall in the 4 day, and the prophete shall fall with thee in the night, and I will destroy thy mother.

6 My people are destroyed for lacke of knowledge: because thou hast refused knowledge, I will also refuse thee, that thou shalt be no Duck to me: and seeing thou hast forgotten the Law of thy God, I will also forget thy children.

7 As they were increased, so they sinned against me: therefore wil I change their glorie into shame.

8 They eat by the finnes of my people, & lift by their inuides in their iniquite.

9 And there shall be like people, like priest: for I wil visite their wayes vpon them, and reward them their deedes.

10 For they shall eat, & not haue enough: they shall commit adulterie, and shall not increas, because they haue left off to take heede to the Lord.

11 Whoredome, and wine, and newe wine take away their heart.

12 My people aske counsell at their Priests shalbe cast of, because y for lacke of knowledge, they are notable to execute their charge, & instruct others, Deu. 33. 3 Mal.

2 7. g Meaning, y whole body of the people, which were wearie with hearing the word of God. h The more I was beneficial vnto them. i To wit, the Priests seeke to eate y peoples offerings, and flatter them in their sinnes. k Signifying, that as they haue sinned together, so shal they be punished together. l Shewing, that their wickednes shalbe punished on all sortes: for though they thinke by the multitude of wifes to haue many children, yet they shalbe decieued of their hope. m In giuing them selues to pleasures, they become like brute beasts. n Thus he speaketh by derision in calling them his people, which now for their sinnes they were not: for they sought helpe of stocks and suckes.

o They are carryed away with a rage. p Because they take away Gods honour, and giue it to idoles, therefore he will giue them vp to their lusts, that they shall dishonour their owne bodies, Rom. 1. 2. 8. q I will not correct your shame to bring you to amendment, but let you run headlong to your owne damnation. r God complaineth that Iudah is infected, and willecth them to learne by their example to reuerture in time. s For albeit the Lord had honoured this place in time past by his presence, yet because it was abused by their idolatry, he would not that his people should reuerture thither. t He calleth Beth-el, that is, the house of God, Beth-uen, that is, the house of iniquitie, because of their abominations set vp there, signifying, that no place is holy, where God is not purely worshipped. u God wil so disperse them that they shal not remaine in any certaine place. x They are so impudent in receiuing bribes, y they wil commaund men to bring them vnto them. y To carv them suddenly away.

13 Thep sacrifice vpon the toppes of the mountaines, and burne incense vpon the hills vnder the oaks, & the poplar tree, and the chine, because the shadow thereof is good: therefore pour daughters shall be harlots, and pour spouses shall be whores.

14 I wil not visit pour daughters when they are harlots, nor pour spouses when they are whores: for they themselves are separated with harlots, and sacrifice with whores: therefore the people that doeth not vnderstand, shall fall.

15 Though thou, Israel, play the harlot, yet let not Iudah sinne: come not pee vnto Sical, neither go pe by to Beth-auen, nor swear, The Lord Iurth.

16 For Israel is rebellious as an unruly heifer. Now the Lord will seeke them as a lamb in a large place.

17 Ephraim is open to idoles: let him alone.

18 Their drunkennes stinketh: they haue committed whoredome: their rulers loue to say with shame, Winge ye.

19 The wilde hath y bounde them by in her wings, and they shall be ashamed of their sacrifices.

for their idolatry, he would not that his people should reuerture thither. t He calleth Beth-el, that is, the house of God, Beth-uen, that is, the house of iniquitie, because of their abominations set vp there, signifying, that no place is holy, where God is not purely worshipped. u God wil so disperse them that they shal not remaine in any certaine place. x They are so impudent in receiuing bribes, y they wil commaund men to bring them vnto them. y To carv them suddenly away.

CHAP. V.

1 Against the Priests and rulers of Israel. 2 The helpe of man is in vaine.

1 O ye Priests, heare this, & hearken ye, ye house of Israel, and giue pe care, ye house of the king: for iudgement is toward you, because you haue bene a snare on Mizpah, & a net spred vpon Tabor.

2 Perce they were profounde, to decline to slaughter, though I haue bene a rebuker of them all.

3 I know Ephraim, & Israel is not hid from me: for now, Ephraim then art become an harlot, and Israel is defiled.

4 They wil not giue their minds to turne vnto their God: for the spirit of fornication is in the muddes of them, & they haue not knowne the Lord.

5 And the pride of Israel both testifie to his face: therefore shall Israel and Ephraim fall in their iniquite: Iudah also shall fall with them.

6 They shall go with their shepe, & with their bullockes to seeke the Loyde: but

d They boasted themselves not onely to be Israelites, but also Ephraimites. because their king Ieroboam came of that tribe, e Meaning, their contemning of all admonitions,

o They are carryed away with a rage. p Because they take away Gods honour, and giue it to idoles, therefore he will giue them vp to their lusts, that they shall dishonour their owne bodies, Rom. 1. 2. 8. q I will not correct your shame to bring you to amendment, but let you run headlong to your owne damnation. r God complaineth that Iudah is infected, and willecth them to learne by their example to reuerture in time. s For albeit the Lord had honoured this place in time past by his presence, yet because it was abused by their idolatry, he would not that his people should reuerture thither. t He calleth Beth-el, that is, the house of God, Beth-uen, that is, the house of iniquitie, because of their abominations set vp there, signifying, that no place is holy, where God is not purely worshipped. u God wil so disperse them that they shal not remaine in any certaine place. x They are so impudent in receiuing bribes, y they wil commaund men to bring them vnto them. y To carv them suddenly away.

a The Priests and princes caught the poore people in their snares as y fowlers did y birds, in these two high mountaines. b Notwithstanding they seemed to be giuen altogether to holynesse, and to sacrifices, which here he calleth slaughter in contempt. c Though I had admonished them continually by my Prophets.

g Their destruction is not far off. h That is, al Israel comprehended vnder this part, signifying y Lords plagues should pursue them from place to place till they were destroyed. i By the successe they shall know y I haue surely determined this. k They haue turned vpside downe al political order, and all manner of religio. l To wit, after king Ieroboams commandement and did not rather folow God. m In steade of seeking for remedy at Gods hand. n Who was king of the Assyrians.

they shall not find him: for he hath with-drawn himselfe from them.
 7 They haue transgressed against the Loide: for they haue begotten strange children: now shall al a moneth deuoure them with their portions.
 8 Blowe pe the trumpet in Sibraah, and p shame in Ramah: cry out at Bethaen, after the, D^b Benuamin.
 9 Ephraim shall be desolate in the day of rebuke: among p tribes of Israel haue I caused to know the treachy.
 10 The princes of Iudah were like them that remoued the bounder: therefore wil I poure out my wrath vpon them like water.
 11 Ephraim is oppressed, and broken in iudgement, because he willingly walked after the^l commandement.
 12 Therefore wil I be vnto Ephraim as a moth, and to the house of Iudah as a rottennes.
 13 When Ephraim saw his sickness, and Iudah his wounde, then went Ephraim vnto^m Asshur, and sent vnto kingⁿ Iarch: yet could he not heale you, nor cure you of your wounde.
 14 For I wil be vnto Ephraim as a Lyon, and as a Lyons helpe to the house of Iudah: I, euen I wil spoile, & go away: I wil take away, & none shall rescue it.
 15 I will go, and returne to my place, till they acknowledge their fault, and seeke me: in their affliction they wil seeke me diligently.

CHAP. VI.

1 Affliction causeth a man to turne to God. 9 The wickednes of the Priests.
 1 Come, and let vs^a returne to the Loide: for he hath spoiled, & he will heale vs: hee hath wounded vs, and he wil binde vs vp.
 2 After two dayes will^b he reuiue vs, & in the third day he will raise vs vp, and we shall liue in his sight.
 3 Then shall we haue knowledge, and ins deuoure our selues to knowe the Loide: his going forth is prepared as the morning, and he shall come vnto vs as the raine, and as the latter raine vnto the earth.
 4 O Ephraim, what shall I do vnto thee? O Iudah, how shall I increat thee? for^c your goodnes is as a morning cloud, & as the morning dewe it goeth away.
 5 Wherefore haue I^d cut downe by the Wordes: I haue flaine them by the words of my mouth, & thep indgements were as the light that goeth forth.
 6 For I desired^e mercp, and not sacrifice, and the knowledge of G^d D^d more then burnt offerings.
 7 But they like^f men haue transgressed the covenant: there haue they trespassed against me.

 8 Silead is a citie of them that worke iniquite, and is polluted with blood.
 9 And as theenes waite for a man, so the companie of Diuelles murder in the waye by consent: for they worke mischief.
 10 I haue seene vilany in the house of Israel: there is^h no whogedom of Ephraim: Israel is defiled.
 11 Pea, Iudah hath set aⁱ plant for thee, whyles I would returne the captiuitie of my people.

CHAP. VII.

1 Of the vices and wantonnes of the people. 23 Of their punishment.
 1 When I would haue healed Israel, then the iniquite of Ephraim was discovered, and the wickednes of Samaria: for they haue delt fall: and^a the theefe commeth in, and the robber spoileth without.
 2 And they consider not in their hearts, that I remember all their wickednes: now their owne inuentions haue beset them about: they are in my sight.
 3 They make the^b King glad with their wickednes, and the princes with their lies.
 4 They are all adulterers, and as a beyp^c ouen heated by the baker, which ceaseth from rasping vp, & from kneading the dough until it be leauened.
 5 This is the^d daye of our king: the princes haue made him sicke with Ragous of wine: he stretcheth out his hande to scorners.
 6 For they haue made ready their heart like an oven whyles they lie in waite: their baker sleepeth all the night: in the morning it burneth as a flame of fire.
 7 They are all hote as an oven, and hate^e deuoured their indges: all their kings are fallen: there is none among them that calleth vnto me.
 8 Ephraim hath^f murt himselfe among the people. Ephraim is as a cake on the hearth not turned.
 9 Straglers haue deuoured his strength, & he knoweth it not: pea, & gray sheares are here & there vpon him, yet he knoweth it not.
 10 And the pride of Israel testifieth to his face, & they doe not returne to the Loide their God, nor seeke him for all this.
 11 Ephraim also is like a donee deceived, without^h heart: they cal to Egypt: they go to Asshur.
 12 But when they shall go, I wil spread my net vpon them, and deale them downe as the fowles of the heauen: I wil chastice them as theirⁱ congregation hath heard.
 13 Wo vnto them: for they haue fled away

h Which was y place where the Priests dwelt, & which should haue bene best instructed in my word.
 i That is, doeth imitate thine idolatrie, & hath taken graffes of thy trees.

a Meaning, that there was no one kinde of vice among them, but that they were subiect to al wickednes, both secret and open.
 b They esteeme their wicked king Ieroboam aboute God, and seeke but howe to flatter, and please him.
 c He compareth the rage of the people to a burning oven which the baker heareth still tyll his dough be leauened and rayfed.
 d They did all ryot and excesse in their feasts & solenities, where-by their king was overcome with surfeit, & brought into diseases, and delited in flatteries.
 e By their occasion God hath deprived them of al good rulers.
 f That is, he counterfaith y religion of the Gentiles, yet is but as a cake baked on the one side, and raw on y other, that is, neither through hot nor through colde, a He sheweth the people howe they ought to turne to the Lord, that he might call backe his plagues.

 b Though he correct vs from time to time, yet his helpe will not be far off, if we returne to him.
 c You seeme to haue a certaine holines & repentance, but it is vpon the sudden & as a morning cloude.
 d I haue still laboured by my Prophets, and as it were, framed you to bring you to amendment, but al was in vaine: for my word was not meate to feede them, but a sworde to slay them.
 e My doctrine which I taught thee, was most euident.
 f He sheweth to what scope his doctrine tended, y they should joyne the obedience of God, and the loue of their neighbour with sacrifice.
 g That is, like light and weake persons.

but partly a Jew, and partly a Gentile. g Which arsa token of his manifolde afflictions. h That is, without al iudgement, as they that can not tell whether it is better to cleaue only to God, or to seeke the helpe of man. i According to my curses made to the whole congregation of Israel.

k That is, diuers times, redeemed them, and deliuered them from death.
 l When they were in a flitchon and cried out for paine, they fought not vnto me for helpe.
 m They onely seeke their own commodity and wealth, and passe not for me their God.
 n Because they boast of their owne strength, and passe not what they speake from me: destruction shall be vnto them, because they haue transgressed against me: though I haue ^k redeemed them, yet they haue spoken lies against me.

 14 And they haue not cried vnto me with their hearts, ^l when they haue stood upon their beds: ^m they assembled themselves for wine and wine, and they rebell against me.
 15 Though I haue bound, and strengthened their arme, yet doe they imagine mischiefes against me.
 16 They returne, but not to the most high: they are like a deceitfull bowe: their princes shall fall by the sword, for the rage ⁿ of their tongues: this shall be their derision in the land of Egypt, boast of their owne strength, and passe not against me and my seruants, Psal. 73. 9.

CHAP. VIII.

o The destruction of Iudah and Israel, because of their idolatrie.

a God encourageth the Prophet to signifye ^p speedily coming of the enemye against Israel, which was once the people of God.
 b They shall cry like hypocrites, but not from the heart, as their deedes declare.
 c That is, Teroboam, by whom they sought their owne libertie, and not to obey my will.
 d That is, vpright iudgement and godly life.
 e Meaning, the calfe was inuented by theselues, and of their fathers in the wilderness.
 f Shewing that their religion hath but a shew, and in it selfe is but vanitie.
 g They neuer cease but run to and fro to seeke helpe.
 h That is, for the tribute which ^h king and the princes shall lay vpon the: which means the Lord vseth to bring them to repentance. i Thus the idolaters count the worde of God as frange in respect of their owne inuention. k S.aying, that they offer it to the Lord, but he accepteth no seruice, which he himselfe hath not appointed.

1 Shall come as an eagle against ^p the House of the Lord, because they haue transgressed my covenant, and trespassed against my Lawe.
 2 Israel shall ^q cry vnto me, O my God, we know thee.
 3 Israel hath cast of the thing that is good: the enemye shall pursue him.
 4 They haue set vp a ^r king, but not by me: they haue made princes, and I know it not: of their silver and their golde haue they made their idoles: therefore shall they be destroyed.
 5 The calfe, ^s Samaria, hath cast thee off: mine anger is kindled against them: howe long will they be without ^t innocencie!
 6 For it came euen from Israel: the workeman made it, therefore it is not God: but the calfe of Samaria shall be broken in pieces.
 7 For they haue ^u sowne the wind, and they shall reape the whirlwind: it hath no stalk: the budde shall bring forth no meale: if so be it bring forth, the strangers shall breuoure it.
 8 Israel is deuoured, now shall they be among the Gentiles as a vessell wheres in is no pleasure.
 9 For they are gone by to Asshur: they are as a wilde asse alone by himselfe: Ephraim hath hired louers.
 10 Yet though they haue hired among the nations, now will I gather them, and they shall sow a little, for the ^v burden of the king, and the princes.
 11 Because Ephraim hath made many altars to Gimm, his altars shall be to Gimm.
 12 I haue written to them the great things of my Lawe: but they were counted as a ^w strange thing.
 13 They sacrifice flesh for the sacrifices of mine offerings, and ate it: but the ^x Lord

accepteth them not: now will he remember their iniquitie, and visite their sinnes: they shall returne to Egypt.
 14 For Israel hath forgotten his maker, and buildeth Temples, & Iudah hath increased strong cities: but I will sende a fire vpon his cities, and it shall deuoure the palaces thereof.

CHAP. IX.

Of the hunger and captiuitie of Israel.

1 Recorde not, O Israel to toppe ^y as other people: for thou hast gone a whoring from thy God: thou hast loued ^z a rewarde vpon euery comflowe.
 2 The sowe, and the wine presse that not feede them, and the new wine shall faile in her.
 3 They will not dwell in the Lords land, but Ephraim will returne to Egypt, and they will eate vncleane things in Asshur.
 4 They shall not offer ^{aa} wine to the Lord, neither shall their sacrifices be pleasant vnto him: but they shall be vnto them as the bread of mourners: all that eate thereof, shall be polluted: for their bread ^{ab} for their soules shall not come into the House of the Lord.
 5 What will ye doe ^{ac} then in the solemne day, & in the day of ^{ad} feast of the Lord? For loe, they are gone from ^{ae} destruction: but Egypt shall gather them vp, and Memphis shall burie them: the nettle shall possesse the pleasant places of their silver, and the thorne shall be in their tabernacles.
 7 The dapes of visitation are come: the dapes of recompence are come: Israel shall knowe it: ^{af} the Prophet is a scole: the spiritall man is mad, for the multitude of thine iniquitie: therefore the harted is great.
 8 The watchman of Ephraim should be with my God: but the Prophet is the snare of a fouler in all his wapes, and hatred in the House of his God.
 9 They ^{ag} are deeply set: they are corrupt as in the dapes of Gibeah: therefore he will remember their iniquitie, he will visite their sinnes.
 10 I found Israel like ^{ah} grapes in the wilderness: I sawe your fathers as the first ripe in ^{ai} figge tree at her first time: but they went to Baal-Deor, and separated themselves vnto that shame, and their abominations were according to their louers.
 11 Ephraim their glorie shall flee away like a bird: from the birth ^{aj} and from succour.
 12 Then they shall know that they were deluded by them who challenged to themselves to be their Prophets and spiritall men: I The Prophets ductie is to bring men to God, and not to be a snare to pull them from God. k This people is so rooted in their wickednes, that Gibeah which was like to Sodom, was neuer more corrupt, Iudg. 19. 22. l Meaning, that he so effeemed them and delighted in them: M They were so abominable vnto me, as their louers the idoles. n Signifying, that God would destroy their children by these sundry means, and so consume them by litle and litle.

a For though all other people should escape, yet thou shalt be punished.
 b Thou hast committed idolatrie in hope of rewarde, & to haue thy barnes filled, Iere. 44. 17. as an harlot that had rather lye by playing ^c whose then to be intertaine of her owne husband.
 c These outward things that thou seekest, shall be taken from thee.
 d Al their doings both touching policie and religion, shall be reiecte as things polluted.
 e The meate offering which they offered for them selues.
 f When the Lord shall take away all the occasions of seruing him, which shall be the most grieuous point of your captiuitie, when you shall see selues cut of from God.
 g Though they think to escape by fleeing the destruction that is at hand, yet shall they be destroyed in the place whither they flee for succour.
 h Then they shall know that they were deluded by them who challenged to themselves to be their Prophets and spiritall men: I The Prophets ductie is to bring men to God, and not to be a snare to pull them from God. k This people is so rooted in their wickednes, that Gibeah which was like to Sodom, was neuer more corrupt, Iudg. 19. 22. l Meaning, that he so effeemed them and delighted in them: M They were so abominable vnto me, as their louers the idoles. n Signifying, that God would destroy their children by these sundry means, and so consume them by litle and litle.

As they kept tender plants in their houses in Tyrus to preserve them from the cold ayre of y^e Sea, so was Ephraim at y^e first vnto me, but now I will give him to y^e slaughter. p The Prophet seeing the great plagues of God toward Ephraim, praeth to God to make them barren, rather then y^e this great slaughter should come vpon their children. q The chiefe cause of their destruction is that they committe the wombe, and from the conception. 12 Though they bring up their children, yet I will deppeue them from being men: yea, wo to them, when I depart from them. 13 Ephraim, as I saue, is as a tree: in Tyus planted in a cottage: but Ephraim shall bring forth his children to the murderer. 14 O Iode, gne them: what wilt thou gne them: gne them a barren wombe and dry breasts. 15 All their wickednesse is in Gilgal: for they doe I hate them: for the wickednesse of their muentions, I will cast them out of mine House: I will loue them no more: all their princes are rebels. 16 Ephraim is smitten, their roote is dried vp: they can bring no fruite: yea, though they bring forth, yet will I slape ruen the dearest of their body. 17 Wp God will cast them away, because they did not obey him: and they shall wander among the nations. idolatrie, and corrupt my religion in Gilgal.

King. 18. 27. reade 2. king. 23. 5. i This he speaketh in contempt of Beth-el, reade Chap. 4. 15. 1. Saia. 17. Luke 23. 30. reuul. 6. 18. and 9. 6.

1 Israel is a ^a emptye vine, yet hath it brought forth fruite vnto it selfe, and according to the multitude of the fruit thereof he hath increased the altars: according to the ^b goodnesse of their lande they haue made faire images. 2 Their heart is ^c deuided: now he shall they be found faultie: he shall breake downe their altars: he shall destroy their images. 3 For now they shall say, We haue no king because we feared not the Lord: and what should a king doe to vs? 4 They haue spoken wordes, swearing falsly in making ^e a covenant: thus ^f iudgement groweth as wounewood in the furrowes of the felde. 5 The inhabitants of Samaria shall feare because of y^e calfe of Beth-auen: for the people thereof of his inuoue ouer it, and the ^h Chemarims thereof, that reioyced on it for the glory thereof, because it is departed from it. 6 It shall be also brought to Nsthur, for a present vnto king Iared: Ephraim shall receive shame, and Israel shall be ashamed of his owne counsell. 7 Of Samaria, the king thereof is destroyed as the fume vpon the water. 8 The his places also of Men shall be destroyed, euen the sinne of Israel: the thome and the thistle shall grow vpon their altars, and they shall grape to the mountaines, ⁱ Couer vs, and to the hilles, fall vpon vs.

9 O Israel, thou hast ^k sinned from the dapes of Gibeah: there they ^l stood: the battell in Gibeah against the children of iniquitie did not ^m touche them. 10 It is my desire ⁿ that I should chastice them, and the people shall be gathered against them, when they shall gather themselves in their two ^o furrowes. 11 And Ephraim is as a heifer bred to delire ^p in chesling: but I will passe by her ^q face necke: I will make Ephraim to ride: Judah shall plow, and Iasakob shall breake his cloddes. 12 Howe to pour selues in righteousness: reape after the measure of mercie: ^r breake vp your fallowe ground: for it is tyme to secke the Lord, till he come and rane righteouslye vpon you. 13 But you haue plowed wickednesse: ye haue reaped iniquitie: you haue eaten the fruite of lies: because thou didst trust in thine owne wayes, and in the multitude of thy strong men. 14 Therefore shall a tumult arise among thy people, and all thy munitions shall be destroyed, as ^s Shalman destroyed Beth-arbel in the day of battel: the mother with the children was dashed in pieces. 15 So shall Beth-el be vnto you, because of your malicious wickednesse: in a morning shall the king of Israel be destroyed. plowing is labour and paine. q I will lay your face necke. r Reade Ierem. 4. 4. f That is, Shalmanazar in the destruction of that cite spared neither kinde nor age.

CHAP. XI.

The benefites of the Lord toward Israel. 3 Their ingratitude against him.

1 When I loved him, and called my sonne out of Egypt. 2 They called them, but they ^b went thus from them: they sacrificed vnto Baalim, and burnt incense to images. 3 I led Ephraim also, as one should beare them in his armes: but they knew not that I healed them. 4 I led them with cordes ^c of a man, euen with bandes of loue, and I was to them, as he that taketh of the poke from their lawes, and I laid the meate vnto them. 5 Yet shall no more returne into the lande of Egypt: but Nsthur shall be his ^d king, because they refused to conuert. 6 And the sword shall fall on his cities, and shall consume his barres, and deuoure them, because of their owne counsels. 7 And my people are bent to rebellion against me: though ^e they called them to the most hie, yet none at all would exalt him. 8 ^f How shall I give thee vp, Ephraim? how shall I deliuer thee, Israel? howe shall I make thee, as ^g woman: howe shall I set thee, as ^h Zebonim: mine heart is grieved, where two of the cities that were destroyed with Sodom, deut. 29. 23, turned

In those dayes wast thou as wicked as the Gibeonites, as God there partly declared: for thy zeale could not be good in executing Gods iudgements, seeing thine owne deeds were as wicked as theirs. l To wit, to fight, or the Israelites remained in that stubbenesse from that tyme, m The Israelites were not moued by their example to cease from their finnes. n Because they are so desperate, I will delight to destroy them. o That is, when they haue gathered all together their strength together. p Wherein is pleasure, as in mye ioye vpon her face necke. q That is, Shalmanazar in the destruction of that cite spared neither kinde nor age.

a Whiles the Israelites were in Egypt and did not prouoke my wrath by their malice and ingratitude. b They rebelled and went a contrary way when the Prophets called them to repentance. c That is, friendly and not as beastes or slaues. d Seeing they contemne all this kindnesse, they shall be led captiue into Assyria. e To wit, the Prophets. f God considereth with himselfe, & that with a certaine griefe, how to punish how to punish them. g Which were two of the cities that were destroyed with Sodom, deut. 29. 23, turned

h Meaning, what his loue whereby he first loued them, made him betweene doute and assurance what to do: & herein appeareth his fatherly affection, that his mercie towards his shall overcome his iudgements, as he declareth in the next vers.

i To consume thee, but will cause thee to yeeld and to receive thee to mercie: and this is ment of the small number who shall walke after the Lord. k The Egyptians & Assyrians shalbe affraide when the Lorde mainteaineth his people. l Governeth their state according to Gods worde, and doeth not degenerate.

a That is, flattereth himselfe wth vaine confidence. b Meaning, presents to get friendship. c Which in these points was like to Ephraim, but not in idolatries. d Seeing y^e God did this prefer Laakob their father, Iudahs ingratitude was y^e more to be abhorred. e Read Gen. 32. 31.

f God found Laakob as hee laye sleeping in Bethel, Gen 28. 12, & so spake wth him there, that the fruit of y^e speache appertained to the whole bodye of the people, whereof wee are. g As for Ephraim he is more like the wicked Canaanites then godly Abraham or Iaakob. h Thus the wicked measure Gods fauour by outward prosperitie, and like hypocrites cannot abyde that any should reprove their doings. i Seeing thou wilt not acknowledge my benefites, I will bring thee againe to dwell in tents as in the feast of the Tabernacles, which thou doest now contemne. k The people thought that no man durst haue spoken against Gilead that holy place, and yet the Prophet saith, that all their religion was but vanitie.

turned within me: my repentings are round together.

9 I will not execute the fiercenesse of my wrath: I will not returne to destroy Ephraim: for I am God, and not man, hee shall enter into the middes of thee, and I will not enter into the cite.

10 They shall walke after the Lord: he shall roare like a lyon: when he shall roare, then the children of the West shall feare.

11 The Ephraim shall feare as a sparrow out of Egypt, and as a dove out of the land of Asshur, and I will place them in their houses, saith the Lord.

12 Ephraim compasseth me about with lyes, and the house of Israel with deceit: but Iudah yet ruleth ith the Lord, and is faithful with the Saints.

CHAP. XII.

He admonisheth by Laakob: example to trust in God, and not in man.

1 Ephraim is fed wth the wind, and followeth after the East winde: he increaseth duple lyes and destruction, & they doe make a covenant with Asshur, and wth people is carried into Egypt. The Lord hath also a contumelie with Iudah, and will visite Iaakob, according to his wayes: according to his wayes, will he recompense him.

2 Hee took his brother by the heele in the wombe, & by his strength he had power over God.

3 And had power over the Angel, and prevailed: he wept & prayed unto him: he found him in Beth-el, and there he spake with vs.

4 Yea, the Lord God of hostes, the Lorde is himselfe his memoriall.

5 Therefore turne thou to thy God: keepe mercie and iudgement, and hope still in thy God.

7 He is as Canaan: the balances of deceit are in his hand: he loveth to oppresse.

8 And Ephraim said, notwithstanding I am rich, I have found me out riches in all my labours: they shall finde none iniquitie in me, that were wickednes.

9 Though I am the Lord thy God, from the land of Egypt, yet will I make thee to dwell in the tabernacles, as in the dayes of the solemne feast.

10 I have also spoken by the Prophets, and I have multiplied visions, and by sed similitudes by the ministerie of the Prophets.

11 Is there ith iniquitie in Gilead? surely they are vanitie: they sacrifice bullocks in Gilgal, & their altars are as heapes in the furrowes of the field.

12 And Iaakob fled into the countrey of Aram, and Isaac serued for a wife, and for a wife he kept sheepe.

13 And by a Prophet the Lord brought Isaac out of Egypt, and by a Prophet Isaac was he returned.

14 But Ephraim prouoked him with his places: therefore shall his blood be poured vpon him, and his reproch shall his Lord reward him.

CHAP. XIII.

The abomination of Israel, & and cause of their destruction.

1 When Ephraim spake, there was a trembling: he exalted himselfe in Israel, but hee hath sinned in Baal, and is dead.

2 And now they sinne more & more, and haue made them molte unages of their silver, & idoles according to their owne vnderstanding: they were all the worke of the craftsmen: they sape one to another whiles they sacrifice a man, let them kisse the calves.

3 Therefore they shall be as the morning cloude, and as the morning dewe that passeth away, as the chaffe that is diuen away wth a whirlwind out of the floure, and as the smoke that goeth out of the chimney.

4 Yet I am the Lord thy God from the land of Egypt, and thou shalt know me God but mee: for there is no Saviour beside me.

5 I did know thee in the wilderness, in the land of Drought.

6 As in their vallures, so were they filled: they were filled, & their heart was exalted: therefore haue they forgotten me.

7 And I will be vnto them as a beyp leone, and as a leopard in the waye of Asshur.

8 I will inuete them, as a beare that is robbed of her whelps, and I will breake the hall of their heart, and there will I denoue them like a lyon: the wild beast shall tear them.

9 O Israel, one hath destroyed thee, but mine is thine help.

10 I am: where is thy king, that should helpe thee in all thy cities? & thy iudges, of whom thou saydest, Curre me a king, and princes?

11 I gaue thee a king in mine anger, and I tooke him away in my wrath.

12 The iniquitie of Ephraim is bounde vp: his sinne is hid.

13 The soolues of a traauailing woman shall come vpon him: he is as an wilde sonne, els would he not stand still at the time, euen at the breaking forth of the chiddeen.

14 I will robbe them from the power of the graine: I will deliuer them from death: I will be thy death: I will be thy death: I will be thy death: wherein he is, and not tary to be stealed. k Meaning, that no power shall resist God when he wil deliuer his, but euen in death will he giue them life.

1 If you boast of your riche: and nobilitie, ye came to reproch your father who was a poore iugitive & seruant. m Meaning, Moses, whereby appeareth, y^e what-foucer they haue, it cometh of Gods free goodnes.

a He sheweth y^e excellency and authority y^e this tribue had aboue all the rest.

b He made a king of his tribue.

c The Ephraimites are not far from destruction and haue lost their autoritie.

d The false prophets perswaded the idolaters to offer their children after the example of Abraham, & he sheweth howe they would exhort one another to y^e same, & to kisse & worship these calves which were their idoles.

e He calleth thee to repentance & reproveth their ingratitude.

f Thy destruction is certaine, & my benefites toward thee declare y^e cometh not of me: therefore thine owne mallice, idolatry and vaine confidence in men must needes be the cause thereof.

g I am all one, Iam. 1. 27.

h It is surely laid vp to be punished, as Ierem.

i 11.

j But woulde come out of the wombe, that is out of this danger wherein he is, and not tary to be stealed.

k Meaning, that no power shall resist God when he wil deliuer his, but euen in death will he giue them life.

9 That is, in greater abundance and more generally then in time past: and thus was fulfilled vnder Christ, when as Gods graces, and his Spirit vnder the Gospel was abundantly giuen to the Church, Isa. 44. 3. acts 2. 17. iohn. 7. 38. 39. r. As they had visions, and dreames in olde time, so shall they now haue clearer reuelations, f He warneth the faithfull what terrible things should come, to the intent that they should not looke for continuall quietnes in this world, and yet in all these troubles he would preferre them. foz you þ haue, euen the first raine, and the latter raine in the first moeth.

24 And the barnes shal be full of wheat, and the presses shal abound with wine and oyle.

25 And I wil render you the veres that the grasshopper hath eaten, the canker worme and the caterpillar, and the palmer worme, my great host which I sent among you.

26 So you shall eate and be satisfied and praise the name of the Lord your God, that hath delt maruailously with you: and my people shal neuer be ashamed.

27 Ye shal also knowe, that I am in the mids of Israel, and that I am the Lord your God and none other, and my people shal neuer be ashamed.

28 And afterward wil I polue you my Spirit vpon all flesh: and pour out mynes and pour daughters shall prophetic: your olde men shall dreame dreames, and your pong men shall see visions,

29 And also vpon the seruants, and vpon the maides in those dayes wil I polue my Spirit.

30 And I wil shew wonders in the heauiens and in the earth: blood and fire, and pillars of smoke.

31 The sunne shall be turned into darcknes, and the moone into blood, before the great and terrible daye of the Lords come.

32 But whosoener shall call on the name of the Lord, shal be saved: for in mount Zion, and in Ierusalem shall be deliurance, as the Lord hath sayd, and in the remnant, whom the Lord shall call.

CHAP. III.

Of the iudgement of God against the enemies of his people.

1 When I shall deliuer my church, which standeth of the Iewes and of the Gentiles.

2 It appeareth that he alludeth to that great victory of Iehoshaphat, when as God without mans helpe destroyed the enemies, 2. Chro. 20. 26. also he hath respect to this worde Iehoshaphat, which signifeth pleading, or iudgement, because God woulde iudge the enemies of his Church as he did there. c That which the enemye gate for the sale of my people, hee bestowed vpon harlots and drinke.

1 Behold, in those dayes and in that time, when I shall bring againe the captiuitie of Iudah and Ierusalem,

2 I wil also gather all nations, and wil bring them downe into the balley of Iehoshaphat, and wil plead with them there for my people, and for mine heritage Israel, whom they haue scattered among the nations, and parted my land.

3 And they haue cast lottes for my people, and haue giuen the child for the harlot, and solde the girl for wine, that they might drinke,

4 Pea, and what d haue you to doe with me, O Tyus & Zidon and at the coasts of Palestina? wil ye render me a recompence? and wil ye recompence me, swiftly and speedily wil I render your recompence vpon your head:

5 For ye haue taken my siluer and my golde, and haue carped into your temples my goodly and pleasant things.

6 The children also of Iudah and the children of Ierusalem haue you solde vnto the Grecians, that ye might lede them farre from their boyber.

7 Beholde, I wil raise them out of the place where ye haue solde them, and wil render your rewarde vpon your owne head,

8 And I wil sell your sonnes and your daughters into the hand of the children of Iudah, and they shal sell them to the Sabeans, to a people farre of: for the Lord hath spoken it.

9 Publysh this among the Gentiles: prepare warre, wake vp the mightie men: let all the men of warre draue neere & come vp.

10 Break your plowshares into swords, and your spears into speares: let the weak say, I am strong.

11 Assemble your selues, and come all ye heathen and gather your selues together round about: there shal the Lord cast downe the mightie men.

12 Let the heather be wakened, & come by to the balley of Iehoshaphat: for there wil I sit to iudge all the heathen round about.

13 Put in your sheeths, for the harvest is ripe: come, get you downe, for the winepresse is full: pea, the winepresse runne ouer, for their wickednesse is great.

14 A multitude, O multitude, come into the balley of Ierusalem: for the day of the Lord is nere in the balley of Ierusalem.

15 The sunne and moone shalbe darkened, and the starres shal withdraue their light,

16 The Lord also shal roare out of Zion, and utter his voyce from Ierusalem, and the heauens, and the earth shal shake, but the Lord wil be the hope of his people, and the strength of the children of Israel.

17 So shall ye know that I am the Lord your God dwelling in Zion, mine holy mountaine: then shall Ierusalem be holy, and there shall no strangers bee there: for I will see her any more.

18 And in that day shal the mountaines bring downe new wine, and the hills shall flowe with milke, and all the riuers of Iudah shal runne with waters, and a fountaine shal come forth of the house of the Lord, and shal water the balley of Shittim.

d He taketh the cause of his Church in hand against the enemye, as though the iniurie were done to himselfe. e Haue I done you wrong, that ye will render me the like?

f For afterward God solde them by Nebuchadnezzar, and Alexander the great, for the loue he bare to his people, and thereby they were comforted as though the price had bene theirs.

g When I shall execute my iudgements against mine enemies, I wil cause euery one to be readie, and to prepare their weapons to destroy one another, for my Church sake.

h Thus he shall encourage his enemies when their wickednesse is full ripe, to destroy one another, which he calleth the valley of Gods iudgement.

i God assureth his against all troubles, that when he destroyeth his enemies, his children shalbe deliuered.

k The strangers shall no more destroy his Church: which if they do, it is if people which by their finnes make if breack for the enemye.

l He promisseth to his Church abundance of graces, reade Ezek. 47. 1. which should water & comfort the most baren places, Amos 9. 13.

m The malicious enemies shall have no part of this grace.

19 Egypt shall be waste, and Edom shall be a desolate wilderness, for the iniuries of the children of Judah, because they have shedde innocent blood in their land.
20 But Judah shall dwell for ever, & Jerurusalem his generation to generation.

21 For I will cleanse their blood, that I have not cleansed, & the Lord will dwell in Zion, their filchines, but now he promiseth to cleanse them pure vnto him.

AMOS.

THE ARGUMENT.

AMong many other Prophets that God rayed vp to admonish the Israelites of his plagues for their wickednes and idolatrie, he stirred vp Amos, who was an heardean or shepherd of a poore towne, and gaue him both knowledge and constancie to reprove all estates and degrees, and to denounce Gods horrible iudgements agaynst them, except they did in time repent: shewing them, that if God spare not the other nations about them, who had liued as it were in ignorance of God in respect of them, but for their sinnes wil punish them, that they could looke for nothing, but an horrible destruction, except they turned to the Lorde by vnfeined repentance. And finally, he comforteth the godly with hope of the comming of the Messiah, by whom they should have perfite deliuerance and saluation.

CHAP. I.

The time of the prophetic of Amos. 3 The word of the Lord agaynst Damascus, 6 The Philistines, Tyrus, Idumea and Ammon.

a Which was 1 towne six miles from Ierusalem in Iudea, but he prophesied in Israel.

b In his dayes the kingdome of Israel did most flourish.
c Which, as Iosephus writeth, was when Vzriah would haue vsurped the Priests office, & therefore was smitten with the leprosie.
d Whatsoeuer is fruitful & pleasant in Israel shall shortly perish.
e He sheweth first that all the people round about should be destroyed for their manifold sinnes: which are ment by three and foure which make Ieuen, because the Israelites should the more deeply consider Gods iudgements toward them.

The wordes of Amos, who was among the hearden ^a at Tescoa, which he sawe vpon Israel, in the dayes of Vzriah king of Judah, & in the dayes of ^b Jeroboam the fouerth Ioshu king of Israel, two yere before the earthquake.

2 And he said, The Lord shall roare from Zion, and utter his voyce from Ierusalem, and the dwelling places of the shepherds shall perish, and the top of Carmel shall wither.

3 Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Damascus, and for foure I will not turne to it, because they haue threshed Gilcad with threshing instruments of yron.

4 Therefore will I sende a fire into the house of Hazael, and it shall deuoure the palaces of Ben-hadad.

5 I will beake also the barres of Damascus, and cut of the inhabitant of Bikesath-aen: and him that holdeth the scepter out of Beth eden, and the people of Aram shall go into captiuitie vnto Kir, saith the Lord.

6 Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Azzah, and for foure, I will not turne to it, because they carped as wap prisoners the whole captiuitie to shut them vp in Edom.

7 Therefore will I sende a fire vpon the walles of Azzah, and it shall deuoure the palaces thereof.

8 And I will cut of the inhabitant from

Edom, & him that holdeth the scepter from Shkelon, and turne inuie hande to Ekron, and the remnant of the Philistins shall perish, saith the Lord God.

9 I Thus saith the Lorde, For three transgressions of Tyrus, and for foure, I will not turne to it, because they thout the whole captiuitie in Edom, & haue not remembered the ^k brotherly couenant.

10 Therefore will I send a fire vpon the walles of Tyrus, and it shall deuoure the palaces thereof.

11 I Thus saith the Lorde, For three transgressions of Edom, and for foure, I will not turne to it, because hee did pursue his brother with the sword, and did cast of al pitie, and his anger spoiled him curiose, and his wrath watered him alway.

12 Therefore will I send a fire vpon Teman, and it shall deuoure the palaces of Bozrah.

13 I Thus saith the Lorde, For three transgressions of the children of Ammon, and for foure, I will not turne to it, because they haue ript by the wommen with childe of Gilcad, that they might enlarge their border.

14 Therefore will I kindle a fire in the walles of Rabbah, and it shall deuoure the palaces thereof, with shouting in the day of battell, and with a tempest in the day of the whirlewinde.

15 And their king shall go into captiuitie, he and his princes together, saith the Lorde.

CHAP. II.

Agaynst Moab, Iudah, and Israel.

I Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Moab, & for foure I will not turne to it, because it burnt the bones of the king of Edom into lime.

2 Therefore will I send a fire vpon Moab, and it shall deuoure the palaces of Kerioth, and Moab shall die with tumult, with shouting, & with the sound of a trumpet.

3 Seeing they would reuenge them selues k For Esau (of whom came the Edomites) & Iaakob were brethren: therefore they ought to haue admonished the of their brotherly friend ship, and not to haue prouoked them to hatred.

^l Ebr. corrupt his compassions.
l He was a continuall enemy vnto him.
m He noteth the great crueltie of the Ammonites, that spared not the women, but most tyraneously comerted them, and yet the Ammonites came of Lot, who was of the householde of Abraham.

f If the Syrians shall not be spared for comitting this crueltie against one citie, it is not possible that Israel should escape punishment which hath committed so many & grievous sinnes against God and man. g The antiquitie of their buildings shall not auoid my iudgements. read Ier. 49. 37. h Tiglath Pileser led the Syrians captiue, and brought them to Cyrene, which he calleth here Kir. i They ioyned themselves with the Edomites their enemies, which caried them away captiues.

B Seeing the Gentiles that had not so farre knowledge were thus punished, Iudah which was so fully instructed of the Lords will, might not think to escape.

c If he spare not Iudah vnto who his promises were made, much more he will not spare this degenerate Kingdome.

d They esteemed most vile bribes more the mens liues.

e When they haue spoiled him & thrown him to the ground, they gape for his life.

f Thinking by these ceremonies, that is, by sacrificiing, and being nere mine altar, they may excuse all their other wickednes.

g They spolie others; and offer thereof vnto God, thinking that he will dispence wth them when hee is made partaker of their iniquitie.

h The destruction of their enemies and his mercy toward the should haue caused their hearts to melt for loue toward him.

i Ye contemned my benefices and abused my graces and craftily went about to stoppe the mouches of my prophets.

k You haue wearied me with your sinnes, Isa. 1.14. l None shalbe deliuered by any meanes.

3 And I will cut of the iudge out of the mids thereof, & will slay all the princes thereof with him, sayth the Lord.

4 Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Iudah, and for foure, I will not turne to it, because they haue cast away the Law of the Lord, & haue not kept his commandements, & their lies caused them to erre after the which their fathers haue walked.

5 Therefore will I sende a fire vpon Iudah, and it shall deuoure the palaces of Ierusalem.

6 Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Israel, and for foure, I will not turne to it, because they solde the righteous for silver and the poore for shoes.

7 They gape ouer the head of the poore, in the dust of the earth, and peruert the wayes of the necke: and a man & his father will go in to a maid to dishonour mine holy Name.

8 And they lie downe vpon clothes layd to pledge by euery altar: and they drinke the wine of the condemned in the House of their God.

9 Yet destroyed I the Amouite before them, whose height was like the height of the cedars, and he was strong as the oaks: notwithstanding I destroyed his fruit from aboue, and his root from beneath.

10 Also I brought you by from the land of Egypt, and ledde you fourtie peres thorow the wilderness, to possesse the land of the Amouite.

11 And I raped vnder of your sonnes for Prophets, and of your pong men for Nazarites. So it not euen thus, O pe children of Israel, sayth the Lord?

12 But pee gaue the Nazarites wine to drinke, and commaded the Prophets, saying, Prophecie not.

13 Beholde, I am pressed vnder you as a cart is pressed that is full of sheaues.

14 Therefore the sight shall perish from the swift, and the strong shall not strengthen his force, neither shall the mightie saue his life.

15 For he that handeth the bowe, shall stand, and he that is swift of foote, shall not escape, neither shall he that retyeth the horse, saue his life.

16 And he that is of mightie courage among the strong men, shall seee awaie naked in that day, sayth the Lord.

17 I will be against the house of Iudah, euen against the whole familie which I brought by from the land of Egypt, sayng, 18 Thou onely haue I knowne of all the families of the earth: therefore I will visite pou for all your iniquities.

19 Can two walke together except they be agreed?

20 Will a lion roare in the forest, when he hath no pray? or will a lion whelpie crye out of his denne, if he haue taken nothing?

21 Can a birde fall in a snare vpon the earth, where no fowler is? or will hee take by the snare from the earth, and haue taken nothing at all?

22 Shall a trumpet be blowne in the citie, and the people be not afraid? or shall there be euill in a citie, and the Lozde hath not done it?

23 Surely the Lord God will do nothing, but hee^e reuilereth his secret vnto his seruants the Prophets.

24 The lyon hath roared: who will not be afrayde? the Lord God hath spoken: who can but prophetic?

25 Proclaime in the palaces at Aethiopia, & in the palaces in the lande of Egypt, and say, Assemble poue felus vpon the mountaynes of Samaria: so beholde the great tumblis in the mides thereof, of the oppressed in the mids thereof.

26 For they knowe not to do right, sayth the Lord: they stoze by violence, and robbrie in their palaces.

27 Therefore thus sayth the Lord God, An aduersarie shall come euen round about the countrey, & shall bring downe thy strength from thee, and thy palaces shalbe spoiled.

28 Thus sayth the Lozde, As the shepheard taketh out of the mouth of the lyon two legges, or a piece of an eare: so shall the children of Israel bee taken out that dwell in Samaria in the corner of a bed, and in Damascus, as in a couche.

29 Heare, and testifie in the house of Iakob, sayeth the Lozde God, the God of hostes.

30 Surely in the day that I shall visite the transgressions of Israel vpon him, I will also visite the altars of Beth-el, & the hornes of the altar shalbe broken of, and fall to the ground.

31 And I will liute the winter house with the sommer house, and the houses of pnoie shall perithe, and the great houses shall be consumed, sayeth the Lozde.

I haue onely chosen you to be mine among all other people, & yet you haue forsaken me.

Hear this word, ye kinte of Samaria, which oppresse y^e poore, and destroy the needie, and they say to their masters, b^eding, & let vs drinke.

The Lord God hath sworne by his holines, that so, the dayes shall come vpon you, that he will take you away with thornes, and pour posteritie with fish hookes.

And ye shall goe out at the breaches enerp^owe forwarde: and ye shall cast your selues out of the palace, saith the Lord.

Come to Beth-el, and transgresse: to Gilgal, & multiply transgression, and bring your sacrifices in the morning, and pour tithes after thre^e peres.

And offer a thanksgiving: of leauen, and proclaime the fre^e offerings: for this liketh you, O ye chidzen of Israel, saith the Lord God.

And therefore haue I giuen you cleannes of teeth in al your cities, and scarcenes of bread in all your places, yet haue ye not returned vnto me, saith the Lord.

And also I haue withholden the raine from you, when there were yet thre^e moneths to the harvest, and I caused it to raine vpon one citie, and haue not caused it to raine vpon another citie: one piece was rained vpon, and the piece whereupon it rained not, wis thered.

So two or thre^e cities wandred vnto one citie to drinke water, but they were not satisfied: yet haue ye not returned vnto me, saith the Lord.

I haue smitten you with blasting, and middewe: your great gardens and your vineyards, and your figtrees, and your olive trees did the palmer womne despoile: yet haue ye not returned vnto me, saith the Lord.

Pestilence haue I sent among you, after the maner of Egypt: your poung men haue I slaine with the sword, and haue taken away your hostes: and I haue made the stinke of your tentes to come vpon euery into your nostrils: yet haue ye not returned vnto me, saith the Lord.

I haue ouerthrowen you, as God ouerthrew Sodom and Gomorah: and ye were as a fire brand pluckt out of the burning: yet haue ye not returned vnto me, saith the Lord.

Therefore, thus wil I doe vnto thee, O Israel: and because I will doe this vnto thee, prepare to mee^te thy God, O Israel.

Fo^r lo, he that foymeth the mountaines, and createth the winde, and declareth vnto man what is his thought: which maketh the morning darkness, and walketh vpon the hie places of the earth, the Lord God of hostes is his name.

Hear ye this word, which I list vpon you, euen a lamentation of the house of Israel.

The virgine Israel is fallen, and shall no more rise: she is left vpon her lands, and there is none to raise her vp.

Fo^r thus saith the Lord God, The cite which went out by a thousand, shall leaue an hundredeth: and that which went forth by an hundredeth, shall leaue ten to the house of Israel.

Fo^r thus saith the Lord vnto the house of Israel, Seeke ye me, and ye shall liue. But seeke not Beth-el, nor enter into Gilgal, and goe not to Beer-sheba: fo^r Gilgal shall go into captivity, & Beth-el shall come to nought.

Seek the Lord, and ye shall liue, lest he breake out like fire in the house of Joseph and deuoure it, and there be none to queneche it in Beth-el.

They turne iudgement to womes wood, and leaue of righteousnes in the earth.

Ye maketh Pleiades, and Orion, and he turneth the shadow of death into the morning, and he maketh the day darke as night: he collecteth the waters of the sea, and pouerth them out vpon the open earth: the Lord is his name.

He strengtentheth the destrop^{er} against the mightie: and the destrop^{er} shall come against the fortresse.

They haue hated him, that rebuked in the gate: and they abhorred him that spake^t brightlight.

Fo^rasmuch then as your trading is vpon the poore, and ye take from him burdens of wheat, ye haue built houses of hewen stone, but ye shall not dwell in them: ye haue planted pleasant vineyardes, but ye shall not drinke wine of them.

Fo^r I knowe your manifold transgressions, and your mightie times: they afflict the iust, they take rewardes, and they oppresse the poore in the gate.

Therefo^re the prudent shall keepe silence in that time, fo^r it is an euill time.

Seek good and not euil, that ye may liue: and the Lord God of hostes shall be with you, as you haue spoken.

Hate the euil, and loue the good, and establish iudgement in the gate: it may be that the Lord God of hostes will be mercifull vnto the remnant of Joseph.

Therefo^re the Lord God of hostes, the Lord saith thus, Mourning shall be in all streets: and they shall lip in all the hie wayes, alas, alas: and they shall cal the husbandman to lamentation, and such as can moure, to mourning.

a He so collecteth because they so boasted of the felices, or because they were giuen to wantonnes & deuities.

b Meaning, that the tenth part should scarcely be faued.

c In these places they worshipped newe idoles, which aforetime serued for the true honour of God: therefore he saith that these shall not faue them.

d In stead of iudgement and equitie they execute crueltie & oppression.

e He describeth the power of God, Job. 9. 9.

f They hate the Prophets, which reprove them in the open assemblies.

g Ye take both his money and also his foode wherewith he should liue.

Against the princes of Israel living in pleasures.

a The Prophet threatneth the welthy, which regarded not Gods plagues nor menaces by his Prophets.
 b These two cities were famous by their first inhabitants the Canaanites: & seeing before time they did nothing auail them that were there borne, why should you looke that they should saue you which were brought in to dwell in other mens possessions? c If God haue destroyed these excellent cities in three diuers kingdoms, as in Babylon, Syria, and of the Philistines, and hath brought their wide borders into a greater streightnes, then yours yet are, thinke you to bee better or to escape? d Ye that continue still in your wickednes and thinke that Gods plagues are not at hand, but give your selues to all idleness, wantonnes and riot.

 3 So the Loyde c repented for this. It shall sheepe not be, sayth the Loyde.
 4 Thus also hath the Loyde God shewed vnto me, and beholde, the Loyde God d this plague at called my prayer.

e As hee casted diuers kinds of instruments to bee made to serue Gods glorie, so these did contende to inuent as many to serue their wanton affections and lustes. f They pitied not their brethren, whereof none many were slaine and caried away captiue. g Some reade, the ioy of them that stretch the selues, shal depart. h Reade Iere. 51. 14.

i That is, the riches and pompe. k The destruction shalbe so great that none shal haue be left to burie the dead: and therefore they shall burne them at home, to carie out the burnt ashes with more ease. l That is, to some neighbour, that dwelth round about.

d Meaning, that Gods indignation was inflamed against the stubbornes of this people.

e Signifying, that this should be the last measuring of the people, and that he would deferre his judgement no longer.

f That is, when Amos had prophesied that the King should be destroyed: for this wicked Priest more for hatred he bare to the Prophet then for loue towards the King, thought this accusation sufficient to condemn him, where as none other could eake place.

g When this instrument of Sazan was not able to compass his purpose by the King, he assayed by another practise: that was, to feare the Prophet, that he might departe, and not reprove their idolatrie there openly, and so hinder his profite.

h Thus he sheweth by his extraordinary vocation, that God had giuen him a charge which he must needs execute. i Thus God vsed to approve the authoritie of his Prophets by his plagues and judgements against them, which were malicious enemies, Iere. 28. 12. and 29. 21. 25. as this day he doeth against them that persecute the ministers of his Gospel.

called to iudgement by fire. d And it denoured the great deepe, and did eate vpon a part.

5 Then said I, O Lorde God, cease, I beseech thee: who shall raise vpon Iacob? for he is small.

6 So the Lord repented for this. This also shall not be, saith the Lord God.

7 Thus againe he shewed me, & behold, the Lorde stood vpon a wall made vpon line: with a line in his hand.

8 And he Lord said vnto me, Amos, what seest thou? And I said, A line. Then said the Lord, Behold, I will let a line in the middes of my people Israel, and will passe by them no more.

9 And the hie places of Ishak shall be desolate, & the temples of Israel shall be destroyed: & I will rise against the house of Ieroboam with the sword.

10 Then Amaziah the Priest of Beth-el sent to Ieroboam king of Israel, saying, Amos hath conspired against thee in the middes of the house of Israel: the land is not able to beare all his wordes.

11 For thus Amos saith, Ieroboam shall die by the sword, and Israel shall be led away captiue out of their owne land.

12 Also Amaziah saide vnto Amos, O thou the Seer, go, see thou away into the lande of Iudah, and there eate chy bread and pyppie there.

13 But prophecie no more at Beth-el: for it is the Kings chappel, and it is the Kings court.

14 Then answered Amos, and said to Amaziah, I was no Prophet, neyther was I a Prophetes sonne, but I was an herdsman, & a gatherer of wilde figs.

15 And the Lord tooke me as I followed the flocke, & the Lord said vnto me, Go, prophecie vnto my people Israel.

16 Nowe therefore heare thou the worde of the Lord. Thou sayst, Prophecie not against Israel, and speake nothing against the house of Ishak.

17 Therefore thus saith the Lord, i Thy wife shall be an harlot in the citie, & thy sonnes and thy daughters shall fall by the sword, and thy land shall be deuoided by line: and thou shalt die in a polluted land, & Israel shall surely go into captiuitie forth of his lande.

6 That we may by the poore for stuer, & the needie for shoes: pea, and sell the refuse of the wheate.

7 The Lord hath sworn by the excellencie of Iacob, Surely I will neuer forget ainy of their workes.

8 Shall not the lande tremble for this, & euery one mourne, that dwelleth therein? and it shall rise vpon wholp as a flood, and it shall be cast out, and downed as by the flood of Egypt.

9 And in that day, saith the Lord God, I will enuein cause the summe to go downe at noone: and I will darken the earth in the cleare day.

10 And I will turne your festes into mourning, and all your songs into lamentation: and I will bring sackcloth vpon all lynes, and baldnes vpon euery head: and I will make it as mourning of an onely sonne, and the ende thereof as a bitter day.

11 Beholde, the dayes come, saith the Lord God, that I will send a famine in the land, not a famine of bread, nor a thurst for water, but of hearing my wordes of the Lord.

12 And they shall wander from sea to sea, and from the North euen vnto the East shall they runne to and fro to seeke the wordes of the Lorde, and shall not finde it.

13 In that day shall the fayre virgins and the pong men perish for thurst.

14 They that sweare by the sinne of Sannaria, and that say, Thy God, O Dan, lieth, and the manner of Beer-sheba lieth, euen they shall fall, and neuer rise vpon againe.

THE ARGUMENT.

T He Idumeans, which came of Esau, were mortall enemies alway to the Israelites, which came of Jaakob, and therefore did not only vex them continually with sundrie Kindes of crueltye, but also stirred vp others to fight against them. Therefore when they were now in their greatest prosperitie, and did most triumph against Israel, which was in great affliction & miserie, God raised vp his Prophet to comfort the Israelites, forasmuch as God had now determined to destroy their aduerfaries, which did so fore vex them, and to send them such as should deliuer them, and set vp the kingdome of Messiah, which he had promised.

THE ARGUMENT.

When Ionah had long prophesied in Israel, and had little profited, God gaue him express charge to go, and denounce his iudgements against Ninuech the chiefe cite of the Assyrians, because he had appointed, that they which were of the heathen, should conuert by the mighty power of his word, and that within three dayes preaching, that Israel might see howe horribly they had prouoked Gods wrath, which for the space of so many yeeres, had not conuerted to the Lord for so many Prophets and so diligent preaching. He prophesied vnder Ioash, and Ieroboam, as 2. King. 14. 25.

C H A P. I.

3 Ionah fled when he was sent to preache, 4 A tempest ariseth, and he is cast into the sea for his disobedience.

1 The worde of the Lord came also vnto Jonah the sonne of Ammittai, saying,

2 Arise, and goe to Babylonia,

2 After that he had preached a long time in Israel: and so Ezekiel, after that for a time he had prophesied in Juda, he had visions in Babylon, Ezek. 1. 1. b For seeing the great obstination of the Israelites, he sent his Prophet to the Gentiles that they might prooke them to repentance, or at least make them inexcusable: for Ninuech was the chiefe cite of the Assyrians.

that great cite, and crye against it: for their wickednes is come by before me.

3 But Jonah rose by to see into Tarshish from the presence of the Lord, and went downe to Tarshish: and he found a ship going to Tarshish: so he payd the fare thereof, and went downe into it, by ced and triumphed.

m The Edomites shall be utterly destroyed, and yet in despite of all the enemies I will reuerse my Nurch and restore it.

n God attributeth this power, to confound his enemies, to his Church, which power is onely proper to him selfe, as 1sa. 10. 17. deut. 4. 24. heb. 1. 2. 29.

o He describeth howe the church shall be enlarged and haue great possessions, but this chiefly is accomplished vnder Christ when as the faithful are made heires and lordes

f From that vocation wherunto God had called him, and wherein he would haue assisted him.

g As one that would haue cast of this care, and sollicitude by seeking rest and quietnes.

h As they had called on their idoles, which declareth that idolaters haue no stay nor certaintie, but in their troubles seeke, they cannot tell to whom.

i Which declared that the matter was in great extremitie, and doubt, which thing was Gods motion in them for the tryall of the cause: and this may not be done but in matters of great importance.

k This declareth that the very wicked in their necessities flee vnto God for succour, and also that they are touched with a certaine feare to shed mans blood, whereas they knowe no manifest signe of wickednes.

he might go with them vnto Tarshish, from the presence of the Lord.

4 But the Lord sent out a great winde into the sea, and there was a mightie tempest in the sea, so that the ship was like to be broken.

5 Then the mariners were afraid, and cryed euery man vnto his god, and cast the wares that were in the shippe, vnto the sea to lighten it of them: but Jonah was gone downe into the sides of the shippe, and he lay downe, and was fast a sleepe.

6 So the shipmaster came to him, and said vnto him, What meanest thou, O sleeper? Arise, call vpon thy God, if so be that God will thinke vpon vs, that we perish not.

7 And they said euery one to his fellow, Come, and let vs cast lottes, that we may knowe, for whose cause this euill is vpon vs. So they cast lottes, and the lot fell vpon Jonah.

8 Then said they vnto him, Tell vs for whose cause this euill is vpon vs? what is thine occupation? and where comest thou? which is thy country? and of what people art thou?

9 And he answered them, I am an Hebrew, and I feare the Lord God of heauen, which hath made the sea, & the drie land.

10 Then were the men exceedingly afraid, and saide vnto him, Why hast thou done this? (for the men knew, that he fled from the presence of the Lord, because he had tolde them)

11 Then said they vnto him, What shall we doe vnto thee, that the sea may be calme vnto vs? (for the sea wrought was troublesome)

12 And he said vnto them, Take me, and cast me into the sea: so shall the sea be calme vnto you: for I knowe that for my sake this great tempest is vpon you.

13 Nevertheless, the men rowed to bring it to the land, but they could not: for the sea wrought, & was troublesome against them.

14 Wherefore they cryed vnto the Lord, and said, We beseech thee, O Lord, we beseech thee, let vs not perish for this mans life, and lape not vpon vs innocent blood: for thou, O Lord, hast done, as it pleased thee.

15 So they tooke vp Jonah, & cast him into the sea, & the sea ceased from her raging.

16 Then the men feared the Lord exceedingly, and offered a sacrifice vnto the Lord, and made vowes.

17 Now the Lord had prepared a great fishe to swallowe by Jonah: & Jonah

l They were touched with a certaine repentance of their life past, and began to worship the true God, by whom they sawe them selues so wonderfully deliuered: but this was done for feare and not of a pure heart and affection, neither according to Gods word, was in the m^{eb} belly of the fish three daies, and thre nightes.

Prophet with a most terrible spectacle of death, and hereby also confirmed him of his fauour and support in this his charge which was enioyned him.

CHAP. II.

1 Jonah is in the fishes belly. 2 His prayer. 10 He is deliuered.

1 Then Jonah prayed vnto the Lord his God out of the fishes belly,

2 And said, I cryed in mine affliction vnto the Lord, and he heard me: out of the bellie of hell cryed I, and thou heardest my voyce.

3 For thou haddest cast me into the botto me in the mids of the sea, & the floods compassed me about: all thy surges, and all thy waues passed ouer me.

4 Then I said, I am cast away out of thy sight: yet will I looke againe toward thine holy Temple.

5 The waters compassed me about vnto the soule: the depth closed me round about, and the weedes were wraipt about mine head.

6 I went downe to the botto me of the mountains: the earth with her barres was aboute mee for euer, yet hast thou brought vp my life from the pit, O Lord my God.

7 When my soule fainted within me, I remembered the Lord: and my prayer came vnto thee, into thine holy Temple.

8 They that waite vpon lying banities, forsake their owne mercie.

9 But I will sacrifice vnto thee with the voice of thanksgiving, and will pay that which I haue vowed: saluation is of the Lord.

10 And the Lord spake vnto the fishe, & it cast out Jonah vpon the dry land. They that depend vpon any thing saue one God alone. f They refuse their owne felicitie, & that goodnes which they should els receiue of God.

a Being now swallowed vp of death, and seeing no remedie to escape, his faith braut out vnto the Lord, knowing that out of the very hel he was able to deliuer him, b For he was now in the fishes belly as in a graue or place of darknes.

c This declared what his prayer was, and how he laboured betweene hope and despaire, considering the neglect of his vocation and Gods iudgements for the same: but yet in the ende, faith gate the victory.

d Thou hast deliuered me from the bellie of the fish, and all these dangers, as it were raising me from death to life. e They that depend vpon any thing saue one God alone. f They refuse their owne felicitie, & that goodnes which they should els receiue of God.

CHAP. III.

1 Jonah is sent againe to Ninuech. 3 The repentance of the King of Ninuech.

1 And the worde of the Lord came vnto a Jonah the seconde time, saying,

2 Arise, go vnto Ninuech that great citie, and preach vnto it the preaching, which I bid thee.

3 So Jonah arose and went to Ninuech according to the word of the Lord: now Ninuech was a great and excellent citie of thre daies iourne.

4 And Jonah began to enter into the citie a daues iourne, and he cryed, & said, Yet fourty daues, and Ninuech shall be ouerthrowen.

5 So the people of Ninuech beleue

a This is a great declaration of Gods mercie, & he receiuet him againe and sendeth him forth as his Prophet which had before shewed so great infirmities, b Read chap. 1. 2 c He went forward one day in the citie, and preached, and so d For he declared that he was a Prophet sent to them from GOD to denounce his iudgements against them.

he continued till the citie was conuerted, declared that he was a Prophet sent to them from GOD to denounce his iudgements against them.

e Not that the dumme beasts had sinned or could repent, but that by their example man might be astonished, considering that for his sinne the anger of God hangd ouer all creatures. f He willed, that the men should earnestly call vnto God for mercie. g For partly by the threatening of the Prophet, and partly by the motion of his owne conscience, he doubted whether God would shewe them mercie. h That is, the fruites of their repentance, which dyd procede of faith which God had planted by the ministerie of his Prophet. i Reade Ierem. 18. 8.

ued God and proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth from the greatest of them euen to the least of them.
 6 For woide came vnto the King of Ninueh, and he rose from his throne, and he lapde his robe from him, and couered him with sackcloth, and sate in ashes.
 7 And he proclaimed and said through Ninueh, (by the counel of the King and his nobles saying, Let neither man, nor beest, bullock nor sheep taste any thing, neither feede nor drinke water.
 8 But let man and beest put on sackcloth, and crie mightily vnto God: pea, let every man turne from his euil way, and from the wickednes that is in their hands.
 9 Who can tel if God will turne, and repent and turne away from his fierce wrath, that we perish not?
 10 And God sawe their wookes that they turned from their euil wayes: and God repented of the euill that he had sayd that he woude do vnto them, and he did it not.

thee, my life from me: for I is better for me to dye then to liue.
 4 Then sayd the Lord, Dost thou wel to be angry?
 5 So Jonah went out of the citie & late on the wall side of the citie, and there made him a booth, and sate vnder it in the shadowe: till he might see what shoude be done in the citie.
 6 And the Lord God prepared a gourd, and made it to come by ouer Jonah, y it might be a shadowe ouer his head & deliuer him from his griefe. So Jonah was exceeding glad of the gourde.
 7 But God prepared a worme when the morning rose the next day, and it smote the gourde, that it withered.
 8 And wylt thou be sicke and die? and wylt thou be angry vnto the death?
 9 And God said vnto Jonah, Dost thou wel to be angry for the gourd? And he sayd, I doe well to be angry vnto the death.
 10 Then sayd the Lord, Thou hast had pity on the gourd for the which thou hast not labourd, neyther madest it growe, which came vp in a night, and perished in a night,

c Thus he prayed of griefe fearing leit Gods name by this forgiveness might be blasphemed as though he sent his Prophets forth to denounce his iudgements in vaine. d Wilt thou be iudge when I do things for my glory, and when I do not? e For he doubted as yet whether God would shew them mercie or no: and therefore after forty dayes he departed out of y citie, loking what issue God would send. f Which was a further meane to couer him from the heate of the sunne, as he remained in his booth. g This declarereth the great inconueniences wherinto Gods seruants do fall when they place to their owne affections, & do not in all things wilingly submit themselves to God. h Thus God mercifully reproveth him, which would pity himselfe and this gourd, and yet woude restraine God to shew his compassion to so many thousand people. i Meaning, that they were children & infants.

a Because hereby he should be taken as a false Prophet, and so the name of God, which he preached, should be blasphemed. b Reade Chap. 1. 3.

Therefore it displeas'd Jonah exceedingly, and he was angry.
 2 And he prayed vnto the Lord, and sayde, I pray thee, O Lord, was not this my saying, when I was yet in my countrey? therefore I presented mee vnto thee: for I knewe that thou art a gracious God, and merciful, slowe to anger and of great kindenes, & repentest thee of the euil.
 3 Therefore now O Lord, take, I beseeche me, my life from me: for I is better for me to dye then to liue.

 4 Then sayd the Lord, Dost thou wel to be angry?
 5 So Jonah went out of the citie & late on the wall side of the citie, and there made him a booth, and sate vnder it in the shadowe: till he might see what shoude be done in the citie.

MICAH.

THE ARGVMENT.

Michah the Prophet of the tribe of Iudah serued in the worke of the Lorde, concerning Iudah and Israel, at the least thirtie yeeres: at what time Isaiah prophesied. He declarereth the destruction, first of the one kingdome, and then of the other, because of their manifold wickednes, but chiefly for their idolatry. And to this ende he noteth the wickednes of the people, the crueltie of the princes and gouernours, and the permission of the false Prophets, and the deliting in them. Then he setteth forth the comming of Christ, his kingdome, and the felicitie thereof. This Prophet was not that Michah which resisted Ahab, and all his false Prophets, as 1 King. 22. 8. but another of the same name.

CHAP. I.

The destruction of Iudah & Israel because of their idolatry.

The worde of the Lorde, that came vnto Michah the Mozahite in the daies of Iotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah kings of Iudah, which he sawe concerning a Some in Mesesha a citie of Iudah.

Samaria and Jerusalem.
 2 Heare, all ye people: hearken thou, O earth, and all that therein is, and oblet the Lorde God be witness against you, euen the Lorde from his holy Temple, he summoneth them to Gods iudgements, taking all creatures, and God him selfe to witnesse, that the preaching of his Prophets, which they haue abused, shalbe reuenged.

b Because of the malice, and obstinacie of the people whome he had so oft exhorted to repentance, & God him selfe to witnesse, that the preaching of his Prophets, which they haue abused, shalbe reuenged.

3 For beholde, the Lord commeth out of his place, & will come downe, & tread upon the high places of the earth.
4 And the mountaines shall melt under him (so that the valleys cleave) as waye before the fire, and as the waters that are powred downeward.
5 For the wickednes of Iacob is all this, & for the sinnes of the house of Israel: what is the wickednes of Iacob? Is not ^d Samaria; & which are the high places of Iudah? Is not Jerusalem?
6 Therefore I will make Samaria as an heape of the steele, and for the planting of a vineparde, and I will cause the stones thereof to tumble downe into the valley, and I will discover the foundations thereof.
7 And all the graine images thereof shall be broken, and all the ⁱ giftes thereof shall be burnt with the fire, & at the idoles thereof will I destroye: for he gathered it of the hye of an harlot, and they shall returne to the wages of an harlot.
8 Therefore I will mourne and howle: I will go without clothes, and naked: I will make lamentation like ^p dragons, and mourning as the ostriches.

9 For her plagues are grievous: for it is come into Iudah; y^e enemye is come unto the gate of my people, unto Jerusalem.
10 Declare ye it not at ^h Gath, neither weepe ye: for the house of Aphyrah route thy selfe in the dust.
11 Thou shalt dwell at ^k Shaphir, to together naked with thame: the shalt dwell at Zaanan, that not come forth in the mourning of Beth- ezel: the enemye shall receive of you for his standing.
12 For the inhabitant of Maroth waped for good, but evil came from the Lord unto the ^m gate of Jerusalem.
13 O thou inhabitant of Achish, binde the charret to the beasts ⁿ of puce: the ^o is the beginning of the time to the daughter of Zion: for the transgressions of Israel were founde in thee.

14 Therefore shalt thou give presents to Moab: ^p Gath: the houses of Achish shall be as a lye to the Kings of Israel.
15 Yet will I bring an heire unto thee, ^q inhabitant of Maroth, he shall come unto Adullam: the glory of Israel.
16 Make thee balde: and shawe thee for thy delicate children: enlarge thy baldnes as the eagle, for they are gone into captiuitie from thee.

17 These were cities wherby the enemye should passe as he came to Iudah. ^r I He shall not depart before he hath overcome you, & so you shall pay for his taryng. ^s For Rabshakeh had shut vp Ierusalem, that they could not send to succour them. ^t To see away for Saneherib layde siege first to that cite, & remayned therein when he sent his captaynes, and armie against Ierusalem. ^u O thou first receyvedst the idolatrie of Ieroboam, and so didest insee Ierusalem.
18 Thou shalt bibe the Philistins thy neighbours, but they shall deceyue thee, as well as they of Ierusalem. ^v He prophecieth agaynst his owne cite, & because it signified an heritage, he saith y^e God woulde send an heire to possesse it. ^w For so they thought them selves for the strength of their cite,

19 Thou shalt bibe the Philistins thy neighbours, but they shall deceyue thee, as well as they of Ierusalem. ^x He prophecieth agaynst his owne cite, & because it signified an heritage, he saith y^e God woulde send an heire to possesse it. ^y For so they thought them selves for the strength of their cite,

1 Threatninges agaynst the wanaan & denyte people. 2 They woulde teache the Prophetes to preache.

W Dunt o them, that imagine iniquite, and worke wickednes upon their beddes: ^a whye the morning is light they practise it because their hand ^b hath powber.

2 And they couer fields, and take them by violence, and houses, and take them away: so they oppresse a man and his house, euen man and his heritage.

3 Therefore thus saith the Lord. Behold, agaynst this familie haue I deuised a plague, wherout ye shall not pluck your neckes, and ye shall not go so proudly, for this time is euil.

4 In that dape shall they take by a payable agaynt you, & lament with a dolefull lamentation, and say, ^c We be utterly wadded: he hath changed the portion of my people: howe hath he taken it away to restore it vnto me: he hath diuided our fields.

5 Therefore thou shalt haue none that shall cast a corde by lot in ^d the Congregation of the Lord.

6 ^e They that prophesied, Prophecie ye not. ^f They shall not prophesie to them, neither shall they take thame.

7 O thou that art named the house of Iacob, is the Spirit of the Lord shortened? ^g are these his workes: ^h are not my wordes good vnto him: that walke by bright? ⁱ

8 But he that was ^j yester day my people, is risen by on ^k other side, as agaynst an enemye: they spoyle the ^l beautiful garment fro them that passe by peaceably, as though they returned from the warre.

9 The women of my people haue precast out from their pleasant houses, and fro their children haue pee taken away ^m my glory continually.

10 Arise and depart, for this is not your rest: because it is polluted, it shall destrop you, euen with a sore destruction.

11 ⁿ If a man walke in the Spirit, and woude spe falsly, saying, ^o I will prophesie vnto thee of wine, and of strong drinke, he shall euen be the Prophet of this people.

12 I will surely gather ^p thee together, O thou Iacob: I will surely gather ^q thee together, O thou Iacob: I will surely gather ^r thee together, as the sheepe of Bozrah, euen as the flocke he ful of bute of the wren.

13 ^s Theye breaker by shall come by before them: they shall breake out, and passe by the gate, and go out by it, and their King shall go before them, ^t & the Lord Ierusalem shall not bee your safe gard: but ^u y^e cause of your destruction. ^v That is, shewe him selfe to be a Prophet. ^w He sheweth what Prophetes they delite in: that is, in flatterers, which tell them pleasant tales, & speake of their commodities. ^x To destroy them. ^y The enemye shall breake their gates & walles, & lead them into Caldea.

a As soone as they rylse, they execute their wicked deuises of the night, and according to their power hurt others.

b Thus the Jewes lament & say that there is no hope of restitution, seeing their possessions are diuided among the enemyes.

c Ye shall haue no more lands to deuide, as you had in times past and as you vied to measure them in the lubile.

d Thus the people warne the Prophetes that they speake to them no more: for they cannot abide their threatnings.

e God saith, that they shall not prophesie, nor receiue no more of their rebukes nor tants.

f Are these your workes according to his lawe? g Doe not the godly finde my words comfortable? h That is, aforesaid time.

i The poore can haue no commodity by the, but they spoyle them, as though they were enemies.

k That is, their substance and liuing, which is Gods blessing, & asic were, parte of his glory. l Ierusalem shall not bee your safe gard: but m That is, shewe him selfe to be a Prophet. n He sheweth what Prophetes they delite in: that is, in flatterers, which tell them pleasant tales, & speake of their commodities. o To destroy them. p The enemye shall breake their gates & walles, & lead them into Caldea.

a That thing which is iust and lawfull, both to governe my people right, & also to discharge your owne conscience?
b The Prophet condemneth the wicked governers, not onely of couetousnes, theft and murder, but copareth them to wolues, lions, and most cruel beastes.
c That is, when I hal visite their wickednes: for though I heare the godly before they cry, Isa. 65. 24. yet I will not heare these though they cry Iai. 1. 15. ezeck. 8. 18. iam. 2. 13. 1. pet. 3. 17. 12.
d They deuoure all their substaice, and then flatter them, promising that all shall go well: but if one restraine from their bellies, then they inuent all wayes to mischief.
e As you haue loued to walke in darkenesse, & to prophesie lies, so God shall reward you with grosse blindness, and ignorance, so that when all others shall see the bright beames of Gods graces, ye shall as blind men grope as in the night. f When God shall disc ouer them to the world, they shall be afraid to speake: for all shall knowe that they were but false prophets, and did belye the worde of God. g The Prophet being assured of his vocation by the Spirit of God, fetterth himselfe alone against all the wicked, shewing how God both gaue him giftes, habilitie, and knowledge to discern betwene good and euill, and also constancie to reprove the finnes of the people, and not to flatter them. h They build them houses by briberie, which he calleth blood and iniquitie. i They will say, that they are the people of God, and abuse his Name as a preuence to cloke their hypocrisie. k Reade Ieremiah 26. 18.

1 Against the tyrannye of princes and false Prophet.
A As I said, Heare, I pray you, O headaes of Iacob, and ye princes of the house of Israel: should not ye knowe iudgement?
2 But they hate the good, and loue the euill: they plucke of their skinnies from them, and their flesh from their bones.
3 And they eate also the flesh of my people, & flap of their skin from them, and they breake their bones, & choppe them in pieces, as for the pot, and as flesh with in the caldron.
4 Then shall they cry vnto the Lord, but he will not heare them: he will euen hide his face from them at that time, because they haue done wickedly in their works.
5 Thus saith the Lord, Concerning the prophets that deceiue my people, and hide them with their teeth, & say peace, but if a man put not into their mouthes they prepare warre against him,
6 Therefore I might haue be vnto you for a vision, & darkenes shall be vnto you for a diuination, & the sunne shall go downe ouer the Prophets, and the day shall be darke ouer them.
7 Then shall the Seers be ashamed, & the soothsayers confounded: yea, they shall all couer their lippes, for they haue none answer of God.
8 Yet notwithstanding I am full of the power by the Spirit of the Lorde, and of iudgement, & of strength to declare vnto Iacob his transgression, and to I Israel his sinne.
9 Heare this, I pray you, ye headaes of the house of Iacob, and princes of the house of Israel: they abhorre iudgement, and peruert all equitie.
10 They build by Zion with blood, & Jerusalem with iniquitie.
11 The heads thereof iudge for rewards, and the Priestes thereof teach for hire, and the Prophets thereof prophesie for money: yet will they leane vpon the Lord, and say, Is not the Lorde among vs? no euill can come vpon vs.
12 Therefore shall Zion for your sake be plowed as a fiede, and Jerusalem shall be an heape, and the mountaine of the house, as the hie places of the foist.

Of the Kingdome of Christ, & felicitie of his Church.

1 B In the last dayes it shall come to passe, that the mountaine of the house of the Lord shall be prepared in the topp of the mountaines, and it shall be exalted aboue the hilles, and people shall floue vnto it.
2 Yea, many nations shall come and say, Come, and let vs goe by the Mountaine of the Lorde, and to the House of the God of Iacob, and he will teach vs his wayes, and we will walke in his paths: for the Lawe shall go forth of Zion, and the worde of the Lord from Jerusalem.
3 And he shall iudge among many people, and rebuke mightie nations a farre of, and they shall breake their swordes into mattockes, and their speakes into sickles: nation shall not lift by a sword against nation, neither shall they learne to fight any more.
4 But they shall sit euer man vnder his vine, and vnder his figge tree, and none shall make them afraid: for the mouth of the Lorde of hostes hath spoken it.
5 For all people will walke euerp one in the Name of his god, and we will walke in the Name of the Lorde our God, for euer and euer.
6 At the tunc day, saith the Lorde, will I gather her that halted, and I will gather her that is cast out, & her that I haue afflicted.
7 And I will make her that halted, a remnant, and her that was cast farre of, a mightie nation: and the Lord shall reigne ouer them in Mount Zion, fro henceforth euen for euer.
8 And thou, O towne of the stocke, the strong hold of the daughter Zion, vnto thee shall it come, euen the first dominion, & kingdome shall come to the daughter Jerusalem.
9 Now why doest thou crye out with lamentation? is there no King in thee? is thy counsellor perished? for sorrow hath taken thee, as a woman in trauaile.
10 Sorowe and mourne, O daughter Zion, like a woman in trauaile: for now shalt thou go forth of the city, and dwell in the field, and shalt go into Babylon, but there shalt thou be deliuered: there the Lord shall reuenge thee from the hand of thine enemies.
11 Now also many nations are gathered against thee, saying, Zion shall be conuened: & our eye shall looke vpon Zion.

f Reade Iai. 2. 4.
g He sheweth that the people of God ought to remaine constant in their religion, albeit all the world should giue them selues to their superstition and idolatrye.
h I will cause that Israel, which is now as one lame & halting, and so almost destroyed, shall liue againe and growe into a great people.
i Meaning Ierusalem, where the Lords stocke was gathered.
k The flourishing state of the kingdome, as it was vnder Dauid and Salomon, which thing was accomplished to the Church by the coming of Christ. I In the meane season he sheweth that they should endure great troubles and tentations when they sawe them selues neither to haue King nor counsell. m He sheweth that the faithfull ought not to measure Gods iudgements by the brags & threatenings of the wicked, but thereby are admonished to lift vp their hearts to God to call for deliuerance.

ple: and I will consecrate their riches vnto the Lord, and their substance vnto the ruler of the whole worlde.

of Beth-leem.

1 Now assemble thy garisons, ^a laped siege against vs: they shall smite the widge of Israel with a rodd vpon the cheeke.

2 And thou Beth leem Ephrathah of Iudah, yet out of thee shall he come forth vnto me, that shall be the ruler in Israel: whole goings forth haue bene from the beginning & from euerlasting.

their brethren shall returne vnto the children of Israel.

4 And he shall stand, and feede in the strength of the Lord, and in the maiesty of the Name of the Lord his God, and they shall dwell still: for now he shall be magnified vnto the endes of the VWhat manner of sacrifices do please God.*

1 Harken ye now what the Lord saith, Weite thou, & contende before the ^a mountaines, and let the hilles heare thy voyce.

2 Hear ye, ^b mountaines, the Lordes earth: for the Lord hath a quarrell as gainst his people, and he will pleade with Israel.

3 O my people, what haue I done vnto thee? or wherein haue I grieved thee?
testifie against me.

4 Surely I brought thee vp out of the land of Egypt, and redeemed thee out of the house of seruantes, and I haue

Miriam.

5 O my people, remember now what Balak king of Moab had deuised, and what Balaam the sonne of Beor answered him, from Shittim vnto Gilgal, that ye may knowe the ^c rightes oulines of the Lord.

6 Wherewith shall I come before the 7 Will the Lord be pleased with thou-the obstinacie of his people.

b I haue not hurt thee, but bestowed infinite benefites vpon thee.

c That is, remember my benefites from the beginning how I deli-uered you from Balaams curse, & also spared you from Shittim, which was in the plaine of Moab, tyll I brought you into the land promised.

d That is, the truch of his promes & his manifold benefites toward you.

e Thus the people
by hypocricie aske
howe to please God, and are content to offer sacrifices, but will not change their liues.

f There is no-thing so deare to man, but the hypocrites wil offer it vnto God, if they thinke thereby to auoyd his anger: but they will neuer be brought to mortifie their owne affections & to giue them selues willingly rolerie God as he commadeth.

g The Prophet in fewe wordes calleth them to the obseruation of the second table, to knowe if they will obey God aright, or no, saying that God hath prescribed them to doe this.

h Meaning, that when God speaketh to any cite or nation, the godly will acknowledge his maiestie, & consider not the mortal man that bringeth the threatening, but God that sendeth it.

i That is, of Ierusalem.

k Thou shalt be consumed with inward griefe & euils.

l Meaning, that the cite shoulde go about to saue her men, as they that lay hold on that which they would preferue.

m You haue receiued all the corruption & idolatrie, wherewith the ten tribes were infected vnder Omri & Ahab his sonne: and to excuse your doings, you alledge s Kings authority by his statutes, and also wisdom & police in so doing, but you shal not escape punishment, but as I haue shewed you great fauour, & take you for my people, so shal your plagues be accordingly, Luk. 12.47.

C H A P. VII.

1 A complaint for the small number of the righteous. 4 The wickednes of those times. 14 The prosperitie of the Church.

2 The Prophet taketh vpon him the person of the earth, which complaineth that all her fruites are gone, so that none is left: that is, there is no godly man remaining: for all are giuen to crueltye and deceit, so that none spareth his owne brother. b He sheweth that the prince, the iudge and the rich man are linked together, all to doe euill and to cloke the doings one of another.

blood: euery man hurteth his brother with a net.

3 To make good for the euil of their hands, the prince asked, and the iudge iudgeth for a reward: therefore the great man he speaketh out the corruption of his soule: to 4 they wrap it vp.

4 The best of them is as a brier, and the most righteous of them is sharper then a thorne hedge: the day of the watchmen & the visitation cometh: then shall be their confusion.

5 True he not in a friende, neither putte confidence in a counsellor: keepe the doores of thy mouth from her that leeth in the house.

6 For the sonne reuileth the father: the daughter riseth by against her mother: the daughter in law against her mother in law, and a mans enemies are the men of his owne house.

7 Therefore I wil looke vnto the Lord: I wil waite for God my Saviour: my God wil heare me.

8 Keepe not against me, b & mine enemies me: though I fall, I shall arise: when I shall sit in darkness, the Lord shall be a light vnto me.

9 I will beare the wrath of the Lord because I haue sinned against him, vntill he plead my cause, & execute iudgement for me: when will he bring me forth to the light, and I shall see his righteousnes.

10 Then she that is mine enemy, shall looke vpon it, and shame shall couer her, which said vnto me, Where is the Lord thy God: Whence speakest thou beholde her: now she shall be troden downe as the myre of the streets.

11 This is the dape, that thy walles shall be built: this day shal daue farre away the decree.

12 In this day also they shall come vnto thee from the North, and from the strong cities, and from the strong holdes euen vnto the riuier, and from sea to sea, and from mountaine to mountaine.

13 Notwithstanding, the land shall be desolate because of them that dwell therein, and for the fruites of their inuentions.

14 Feede thy people with the rod, the flock of thine heritage (which dwell solitarie in the wood) as in the middes of Carnel: let them feede in Bathan and Gilad, as in olde time.

15 According to the daies of thy coming out of the lande of Egypt, will I shewe vnto him maruelous things.

16 The nations shall feare, and be confounded for all their power: they shall lape grievously the hypocrites themselves shalbe punished, seeing that the earth itselfe, which can not sinne, shalbe made waste because of their wickednes. n The Prophet prayeth to God to be mercifull vnto his Church, when they should be scattered abroad as in solitarie places in Babylon, and to be beneficiall vnto them as in tyme past. o God promiseth to be fauourable to his people as he had bene aforesaid. p They shalbe as dumme men and dare bragge no more.

riche man that is able to giue money, abtaineth from no wickednes nor iniurie.

d These men agree among themselves and conspire with one consent to doe euill.

e They that are of most estimation & are counted most honest among them, are but thomes and briars to prick.

f Meaning, of the Prophetes and gouernours.

g The Prophet sheweth that the onely remedie for the godly in desperate euils is to see vnto God for succour.

h This is spoken in the person of the Church, which calleth the malignant Church her enemy.

i To wit, when God shall shewe him selfe a deliuerer of his Church, and a destroyer of his enemies.

k Meaning, the cruel empire of the Babylonians.

l When the Church shalbe restored, they shall be enemies aforesaid, shall come out of all the corners of the world vnto her, so that neither holies, riuers, seas nor mountaines shal be able to let them.

m Afore this grace appears, he sheweth how they

q They shalbe astonished, and afrayd to heare men speake, lest they should heare of their destruction. r They shall fall flat on y ground for feare. s As though he would not see it, but winke at it.

their hande by their mouth: s their eares shal be deafe, They shall lick the dust like a serpent: they shal mouoe out of their holes like wourmes: they shall be afraid of the loyde our God, and shall feare because of thee. Who is a God like vnto thee, that taketh away iniquitie, and passeth by the transgression of the remnant of his heritage? He receiuen not his wrath for euer, because mercie pleaseth him. He wil turne againe, and haue compassion vpon vs: he wil subdue our iniquities, and cast all their finnes into the bottoome of the sea. Thou wilt performe thy trueth to Jaakob, and mercie to Abraham, as thou hast swoyne vnto our fathers in olde time.

Meaning, of his clef. u The Church is assured, that God wil declare in effect the trueth of his mercifull promise, which he had made of olde to Abraham, and to all that shoulde apprehende the promes by faith.

N A H V M.

THE ARGVMENT.

As they of Nineueh shewed them selues prompt and readie to receiue the worde of God at Ionahs preaching, and so turned to the Lorde by repentance: so after a certaine time rather giuing them selues to worldly meanes to encrease their dominion, then seeking to continue in the feare of God, and trade wherein they had begonne, they cast of the care of religion, and so returned to their vomite, and prouoked Gods iust iudgement against them, in afflicting his people. Therefore their citie Nineueh was destroyed, and Meroch-baladan King of Babel (or as some thinke Nebuchad-nezzar) enjoyed the empire of the Assyrians. But because God hath a continuall care of his Church, he stirreth vp his Prophet to comfort y godly, shewing that the destruction of their enemies shoulde be for their consolation. And as it seemeth, he prophesied about the time of Hezekiah, and not in the time of Manasseh his sonne, as the Iewes write.

 f Thus the wicked would make Gods mercie an occasion to sin, but the Prophet willet them to consider his force and iustice.
 g If all creatures bee at Gods commaundement and none is able to resist his wrath, shall man flatter him selfe and thinke by any meanes to escape when hee prouoketh his God to anger?
 h Left the faithfull should be discouraged by hearing the power of God, hee sheweth them that his mercies appertieue vnto the, and that he hath care ouer them,

I He a burden of Nineueh. b The booke of p vition of Nahum p c El kelhite. God is id ielous, & p loyde reuengeth: the Lord reuengeth: enen the Lorde c of anger, the Lord wil take vengeance on his aduerfaries, and he referueth wrath for his enemies. The d loyde is flow to anger, but he is great in power, & wil not surely cleare the wicked: the Lorde hath his way in the whirle wunde, & in the storme, and the cloudes are the dust of his feete. He rebuketh the sea, and dryeth it, and he drieth by all the riuers: Balhan is wasted and Carmel, and the floure of Lebanon is wasted. The mountaines tremble for him, and the hilles melt, and the earth is burnt at his sight, yea, the woilde, and at that dwel therein. Who can stande before his wrath? or who can abide in the fierceness of his wrath? his wrath is pouered out like fire, and the rockes are broken by him. The Lorde is good: & as a strong holde in the day of trouble, & he knoweth the that trust in him. But passing ouer as with a flood, he

For l he shal come as vnto l thornes sold one in another, and as vnto drunkards in their drunkenness: they shalbe denoured as stubble fully dyed. There m comment one out of thee that imagineth cuill against the Lorde, euen a wicked counsellour. Thus saith the Lorde, Though they be n quiet, and also many, yet thus shall they be cut of when he shall passe by: though I haue afflicted thee, I will afflict thee no more. For olde I wil breake his poke from thee, and wil burst thy bonds in sunder. And the Lorde hath giuen a commaundement concerning thee, that no more of thy name be o souden: out of the house of thy gods wil I cut of the grauen, and the molten image: I will make it thy graue for thee, for thou art vile. Behold vpon p mountaines the feete of him that declareth, and yublieth p peace: q Indah, keepe thy solenne feasts, performe thy bowes: for the wicked that no more passe through thee: he is vtterly cut of. Though the Assyrians think them selues like thornes y prickled on all sides, yet the Lord wil set fyre on them, & as drunken men are not able to stand against any force, so they shalbe nothing able to resist him. m Which may be vnderstand either of Sancherib, or of the whole body of the people of Nineueh. n Though they thinke themselues in most safetic, and of greatest strength, yet when God shall passe by, he wil destroy them: notwithstanding he comforteth his Church, and promiseth to make an ende of punishing them by the Assyrians. o Meaning Sancherib, who should haue no more childre, but be slaine in the house of his gods, 2. a That is, Nebuchad-Nezzar is in a readines to destroy the Assyrians: and the Prophet describeth the enterprises of the Assyrians, which prepared to resist him. b Seeing God hath punished his owne people Iudah & Israel, he wil now punish the enemies by whom he scourged them, reade Isa. 10. 12. c Signifying, that the Israelites were vtterly destroyed. d Both to feare the enemy, and also that they them selues should not so foone espy blood of another to discourage them. e Meaning, their speares should shake & crash together. f Then the Assyrians shall seek by all meanes to gather their power, but all things shall faile them. g The Assyrians will flatter them selues and say, that Nineueh is so ancient that it can neuer perish, and is as a fishpoole, whose waters they that walke on the bankes can not touch, but they shall be scattered, and shal not looke backe though men would call them. h God commandeth the enemies to spoyle Nineueh, and promisceth them infinite riches and treasures. i That is, Nineueh, and the men thereof shalbe after this sort. k Reade Ioe. 2.6. l Meaning, Nineueh, whose inhabitants were cruel like the Lyons, and giuen to all oppression, and spared no violence or tyrannie to prouide for their wiues and children. m That is, as soone as try wrath beginneth to kindle. n Signifying the heraldes, which were accustomed to proclaime warre. HABAKKUK.

THE ARGUMENT.

The Prophet complaineth vnto God, considering the great felicitie of the wicked, and the miserable oppression of the godly, which indure a kind of affliction and crueltie, and yet can see none ende. Therefore he had this reuelation shewed him of God, that the Caldeans should come and take them away captiues, so that they could looke for none end of their troubles as yet, because of their stubbernes and rebellion against the Lord. And left the godly should despaire, seeing this horrible confusion, he comforteth them by this that God will punish the Caldeans their enemies, when their pride and crueltie shall be at height: wherefore he exhorteth the faithful to patience by his owne example, and sheweth them a forme of prayer, wherewith they should comfort their selues.

CHAP. I.

2 A complaint against the wicked that persecute the iust.

1 The burden, which Habakkuk the Prophete did see.

2 Lord, how long shall I cry, and thou wilt not heare: I euen cry out vnto thee: for violence, and thou wilt not helpe!

3 Why doest thou shewe me iniquitie, and cause me to beholde sorowe: for spoyling, and violence are before me: & there are that raise vp strife & contention.

4 Therefore the lawe is dissolved, and iudgement doeth neuer go forth: for the wicked doth b compass about p righteous: therefore vpon iudgement proceedeth.

5 Behold among the heathen, & regard, and wonder, and maruaile: for I will worke a worke in your dayes: d ye will not beleue it, though it be tolde you.

6 For loe, I rapt by the Caldeans, that bitter and furious nation, which shall go vpon the breadth of the land to possess the dwelling places, that are not theirs.

7 They are terrible and fearful: e their iudgement and their dignitie shall procede of themselves.

8 Their horses also are swifter then the leopards, and are more fierce then the wolves in the evening: and their horsesmen are many: and their horsemen shall come from farre: they shall lie as p eagle hasting to meate.

9 They come all to spoyle: before their faces shall be as f Eastwinde, and they shall gather the captiuitie, as the sand.

10 And they shall mocke the Kings, and the princes shall be a skoyne vnto them: they shall deride euery strong hold: for they shall gather b dust, and take it.

11 Then shall they i take a courage, and i transgresse and doe wickedly, imputing this their power vnto their god.

12 Art not thou of olde, d Lord my God, mine holy one? we shall k not die: d Lord, thou hast ordene them for iudgement, and d God, thou hast established them for correction.

13 Thou art of pure eyes, and canst not see euil: thou canst not be hold wickednes: wherefore doest thou looke vpon the transgressors, and holdst thy tongue when p wicked deuour th the man, that is more righteous then he?

14 And maketh men as the fishes of the sea, and as the creeping things, p haue no ruler ouer them.

15 They take vp all with the angle: they catche it in their net, & gather it in their parue, wherof they reioyce and are glad.

16 Therefore they sacrifice vnto they m net, & burne incense vnto their parue, because by them their portion is fat and their meat plenteous.

17 Shall they therefore stretch out they net and not spare continually to slaye n the nations?

the enemies flatter them selues and glorie in their owne force, power, and wit. n Meaning, that they should not.

CHAP. II.

2 A vision, & Against pride, couetousnes, drunkennes and idolatrie.

1 I will stand vpon my a watche, and let mine eye vpon the towre, and will looke and see what he woulde saye vnto me, and what I shall answer to him that re- bukeh me.

2 And the Lord answered me, and said, Write the vision, and make it plaine vpon tables, that he may runne b that readeth it.

all tentations. b Write it in great letters, that he that runneth, may reade it.

a The Prophet complaineth vnto God & bewaileth that among the Iewes is left none equitie nor brotherly loue: but in stead here of reigneeth crueltie, theft, contention & strife. b To suppress him if any should shew him selfe zealous of Gods cause.

c Because the iudges which should redresse this excess, are as euil as y rest.

d As in times past you would not beleue gods word, so shall ye not now beleue strange plagues which are at hand.

e They themselves shall be iudges in this cause, and none shall haue authoritie ouer them to controll them.

f For the Iewes most feared this winde, because it destroyed their fruites.

g They shall be d manie in number. h They shall cast vp mounts against it.

i The Prophet comforteth the faithful y God will also destroy the Babylonians, because they shall abuse this victorie and become proud and insolent, attributing the praise hereof to their idols.

k He assureth y godly of Gods protection, shewing that the enemy can do no more then God hath appointed, & also that their finnes required such a sharp rod. l So that the great deuoureth the final and the Caldeas destroy all the world.

m Meaning, that a I will renounce mine own iudgement, and onely depend on God to be instructed what I shall answer them that abuse my preaching, and to be armed against

c Which containede the destruction of the enemye, and the comfort of the Church: which thing though God execute not according to mans hatie affections, yet the issue of both is certeine at his time appointed, d To trust in himselfe or in any worldly thing, is neuer to be quiet: for the onely rest is to stay vpon God by faith, Rom. 1. 17. galat. 3. 11. hebr. 10. 38.

e He compareth the proud, and couetous man to a drunkard that is without reason and sense, whom God will punish, & make him a laughing stocke to all the world: and this he speaketh for the comfort of the godlie, and against the Caldeans.

f Signifying, that all y^e world shall with the destruction of tyrants, & that by their oppression, and couetousnes they heape but vpon the felues more heaue burdens: for the more they get, the more are they troubled.

g That is, the Medes and Persians, that should destroye the Babylonians: h Signifying that the couetous man is the ruine of his owne house, when as hee thinketh to enrich it by crueltie and oppression. i The stones of the house shall crye, and say that they are buylt of blood, and the wood shall answer and say the same of it selfe. k Meaning, that God will not deferre his vengeance long, but will come, and destroy all their labours, as though they were consumed with fire. l In the destruction of the Babylonians his glory shall appeare through all the worlde. m Hee reprocheth thus the King of Babylon, who as he was drunken with couetousnes and crueltie, so he prouoked others to the same, & inflamed them by his rage, and so in the end brought them to shame. n Whereas thou thoughtest to haue glory of these thy doings, they shall turne to thy shame: for thou shalt drinke of the same cup with others in thy curae.

3 For the bison is yet for an Appoynted time, but at the last it shall speake, and not lie: though it tarie, wait: for it shall surely come, and shall not stay.

4 Beholde, d he that lieth by him selfe, his minde is not vpright in him, but the iust shall iudge by his fact.

5 Prea in deede y^e proud man is as e he that frantically by wine: therefore shall he not endure, because he hath enlarged his desire as the hell, and is as death, and can not be satisfied, but gathereth vnto him all nations, and heapech vnto him all people.

6 That not all these take up a parable against him, and a taunting prouerbe against him, & say, Wo, be that increaseth that which is not his? f howe long? & he that labeth himselfe with thicke clay?

7 Shall s they not rise up suddenly, that shall bite thee? & awake, that shall strike thee? and thou shalt be their praye?

8 Because thou hast spoyled many nations, at the remnant of the people shall spoeke thee, because of mens blood, and for the wrong done in the land, in the cite, and vnto all that dwell therein.

9 Yo, he that coueteth an euil couetousnes to his house, that he may set his nest on hie, to escape from the power of euill.

10 Thou h hast conspited shame to thine owne house, by destroying many people, and hast sinned against thine owne soule.

11 For the i stone shall crye out of the wall, and the beamie out of the timber shall answer it.

12 Wo vnto him that buyldeth a towne with blood, and erecteth a cite by iniurie.

13 Behold, is it not of the k Lord of hosts that the people shall labour in the very fire? the people shall euen wearie themselves for vaine banne.

14 For the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glorie of the Lozde, as the waters couer the sea.

15 Wo vnto him that gneth his neighbour m drinke: thou iopnest thine heate, and makest him drunke also, that thou mayest see their iniuries.

16 Thou art filled with shame n for glorie: drinke thou also, & be made naked: the cup of the Lozdes right hand shall be turned vnto thee, and shall euen spue vnto thee, and shall euen spue vnto thee.

shal be for thy glorie.

17 For the o cruelte of Lebanon shall crye thee: so shall the spoele of the beasts, which made them afraid, because of omens blood, and for the wrong done in the land, in the cite, and vnto all that dwell therein.

18 What profitteth thy image? for the maker thereof hath made it an image, and a teacher of lies, though hee that made it, trust therein, when he maketh dumme idoles.

19 Wo vnto him that saith to the wood, Awake, and to the dumme stone, Rise vp, it shall teach thee: v beholde, it is laid ouer with golde and siluer, and there is no breath in it.

20 But the Lozde is in his holy Temple: let all the earth keepe silence before him.

they were but blocks or stones, read Jerem. 10. 8. q If thou wilt consider what it is, and howe that it hath neither breath nor life, but is a dead thing.

CHAP. III.

A Prayer for the faithfull.

1 A Prayer of Habakkuk the Pious b Lord, I haue heard thy voyce, and was ascribe: d Lord, reuine thy woike in the middes of the people, in the midds of the peres make it knowne: in wrath remember mercie.

2 God commeth from d Teman, and the holy one from mount Paran, Selah. His glorie couereth the heauens, and the earth is full of his prayse,

3 And his brightnes was as y^e light: e he had joyces comming out of his handes, & there was the bidding of his power.

4 Before him went the pestilence, & burning coales went forth before his feete.

5 He stood and measured the earth: he behelde and dislosed the nations and the euertasting mountaynes were broken, and the ancient hillies did bowe: his f vapors are euertasting.

6 For his iniquitie I saw the tentes of Cushan, and the curtaines of the land of Midian did tremble.

7 Was the Lozde angrie against the h rizers? or was thine anger against the floods? or was thy wrath against the sea. y thou didest ride i vpon thine horses? thy chariots brought saluation.

8 Thy k bow was manifestly reuiled, & the lothes of y^e tribes were a lure woide, now as it was then. e Whereby is meant a power, that was ioyned with his brightnes, which was hid to the rest of the world, but was reuiled in mouer Sinai to his people, Psal. 37. 16. f Signifying that God hath wonderful meanes, and euert had a marueilous power when he would deliuer his Church. g The iniquitie of this King of Syria in vexing thy people was made manifest by thy iudgement, to y^e comfort of thy Church, Iudg. 3. 10. and also of the Midianites, which destroyed them felues, Iudg. 7. 22. h Meaning, that God was not angrie wth the waters, but that by this meane he would destroy his enemies and deliuer his Church. i And so diddest vse all the elements as instruments for the destruction of thine enemies, k That is, thy power. l For he had not onely made a couenant with Abraham, but reuened it with his posteritie.

o Because the Babylonians were cruell not onely against other nations, but also against the people of God, which is meant by Lebanon, and the beasts therein, he sheweth that the like crueltie shall be executed against them.

p He sheweth that the Babylonians gods could nothing auayle them: for

q If thou wilt consider what it is, and howe that it hath neither breath nor life, but is a dead thing.

a The Prophet instructeth his people to pray vnto God not onely for their great sinnes, but also for such as they had committed of ignorance.

b Thus the people were afraide when they heard Gods threatenings, & praised.

c That is, the state of thy Church which is now ready to perish, before it come to halfe a perfect age, which should be vnder Christ.

d Teman and Paran were nere Sinai where the Law was giuen: whereby is signified that his deliuerance was as present

m Reade Nom. 20. 11.
 n He alludeth to the red sea & Iorden, which gaue passage to Gods people, & shewed signes of their obedience, as it were by lifting vp of their hands.
 o As appeareth Ioh. 10. 12.
 p According to thy commaundement the sunne was directed by the weapons of thy people, that they fought in thy cause, as though it durst not go forwarde.

10 Selah. thou hast bidest cleare the earth with riuers.
 The mountaines saw thee, and they trembled: the streame of the water passed by: the deepe made a noyse, & lift vp his hand on hie.
 11 The sunne & moone stode still in their habitation: & at the light of thine arrows they went, and at the bright shining of thy speares.
 12 Thou trodest down the land in anger, and bidest thyselfe the heathen in displeasure.
 13 Thou wentest forth for the saluation of thy people, euen for saluation with thine Anointed: thou hast wounded the head of the house of the wicked, and discoveredst the foundations vnto the necke, Selah.
 14 Thou bidest strike thowrwe with his owne staues the heads of his villages: they came out as a whirlewind to scatter them: their reioicing was as to deniour the poore secretly.

 15 Thou diddest walke in the sea with thine hoyles vpon the heape of great waters.
 16 When I heard, my bellie trembled: my kyppes thooke at the voyce: rottennes entered into my bones, and I trembled in my selfe, that I might rest in the day of trouble: for when hee cometh vnto the people, he shall destroy them.
 17 For the figtree shall not flourish, neither shall fruit be in the vines: the laboure of the olive shall faile, & the fieldes shall yeelde no meate: the sheepe shall be cut of from the foldes, & there shall be no bullocke in the stalles.
 18 But I will reioice in the Lord: I will ioye in the God of my saluation.
 19 The Lord God is my strength, he will make my feete like hinds feete, and he will make me to walke vpon mine hie places. To the chief finger on the right hand.
 y He declareth wherein standeth the comfort and ioy of the faithful, though they see neuer so great afflictions prepared.
 z The chief finger vpon the instrumēt of musike shall haue occasion to praise God for this great deliuerance of his Church.

He returneth to that which he spake in the second verse, and sheweth how he was asfayde of Gods iudgements.
 He sheweth that the faithful can neuer haue true rest, except their feele before the weight of Gods iudgements.
 That is, the enemy: but the godly shall be quiet, knowing that all things shall turne to good vnto them.
 That is, the enemy: but the godly shall be quiet, knowing that all things shall turne to good vnto them.

q Signifying that there is no saluation, but by Christ. r From the top to the toe thou hast destroyed the enemies. f God destroyed his enemies both great & small with their own weapons, though they were neuer so fierce against his Church.

ZEPHANIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

Seeing the great rebellion of the people, and that there was now no hope of amendment, he denounceth the great iudgement of God, which was at hand, shewing thei country should be vterly destroyed, and they caried away captiues by the Babylonians. Yet for the comfort of the faithful he prophecied of Gods vengeance against their enemies, as the Philistines, Moabites, Assyrians and others, to assure them that God had a continual care ouer them. And as the wicked should be punished for their finnes and trasgressions: so he exhortheth the godly to patience, and to trust to find mercy by reason of the free promes of God made vnto Abraham: and therefore quietly to abide till God shew them the effect of that grace, whereby in the ende they should be gathered vnto him, and counted as his people and children.

CHAP. I.

4 Threatnings against Iudah and Ierusalem, because of their idolatrie.

1 The worde of the Lord, which came vnto Zephaniah the sonne of Cushi, the sonne of Gedaliah, the sonne of Amariah, the sonne of Hizkiah, in the dayes of Josiah, the sonne of Amnon king of Iudah.
 2 I will surely destrop all things from of the land, sayth the Lord.
 3 I will destrope man and beast: I will destrope the foules of the heauen, and the fishes of the sea, and ruines shall be to the wicked, and I will cut of man from of the land, sayth the Lord.
 4 I will also stretch out mine hand vpon Iudah, and vpon all the inhabitantes of Ierusalem, & I will cut of the remnant of Baal from this place, and the name of the Chemarims with the Priestes.
 5 And them that worship the hoste of heauen vpon the house tops, and them that worship and swear by the Lord, and swear by Malcham,

 6 And them that are turned backe from the Lord, & those that haue not sought the Lord, nor inquired for him.
 7 Be still at the presence of the Lord God: for the day of the Lord is at hande: for the Lord hath prepared a sacrifice, and hath sanctified his guests.
 8 And it shall be in the day of the Lordes sacrifice, that I will visite the princes & the kings children, and all such as are clothed with strange apparel.
 9 In the same day also will I visite all those that dance vpon the theshholde so proudly, which fill their masters houses by crueltie and deceit.
 10 And in that day, sayth the Lord, there shall be a noyse, and crye from the firste gate, and an howling from the seconde gate, and a great destruction from the hills.
 I did imitate the strange apparel of other nations to win their fauour thereby, and to appeare glorious in the eyes of all other, read Eze. 23. 14. e He meaneth the seruants of the rulers which inuade other mens houses, & reioice and leape for ioy whē they can get any pray to please their master without. f Signifying the al the corners of the city of Ierusalem should be full of trouble.

e He alludeth to their idole Molech, which was forbidden, Len. 20. 2. yet they called him their King and made him as a god: therefore he here noteth them that will both say they worship God, and yet will swear by idols, and serue them: which halting is here condemned, as Ezek. 20. 39. 2. He meaneth to returne to God, & Prophecyng destruction against the Philistims, Moabites and others.

Gather your selues, euen gather you, & nation not worthy to be loued.
2 Before tye decree come south, and ye be as chaffe that passeth in a day, and besoye the fierce wyath of the Lorde come vpon you, and before the day of þ Lords anger come vpon you.

7 And that coast shal be for the remnant of the house of Iudah, to fede thereupon: in the houses of Aethiopolon shal they lodge toward night: for the Lorde their God shal visite them, and turne away their captiuitie.
8 I haue heard the reproche of Moab, and the rebukes of the children of Ammon, whereby they vprayed my people, and magnified themselves against their borders.
9 Therefore, as I liue, saith the Lorde of hostes, the God of Israel, surely Moab shal be as Sodom, and the children of Ammon as Gomorrah, euen the breeding of nettles and salt pits, and a perpetual desolation: the residue of my folke shal spoyle them, and the remnant of my people shal possesse them.
10 This shall they haue for their pride, because they haue reproched and magnified themselves against the Lorde of hostes people.

11 The Lorde wil be terrible vnto them: for he wil consume al the gods of the earth, and euery man shal worship him from his place, euen al the ples of the heathen.
12 The Moabians also shal be slaine by my sword with them.
13 And hee will stretch out his hand against the Moorth, and destrop Aethur, and wil make Amenech desolate, and waste like a wilderness.

HAGGAI.

THE ARGUMENT.

When the time of the seuentie yeres captiuitie prophced by Ieremiah, was expired, God rayed vp Haggai, Zechariah, and Malachi to comfort the Iewes and to exhort them to the building of the Temple, which was a figure of the spirituall Temple and Church of God, whose perfection and excellencie stood in Christ. And because that all were giuen to their owne pleasures and commodities, he declareth that that plague of famine, which God sent then among them, was a iust reward of their ingratitude, in that they contemned Gods honour, who had deliuered them. Yet he comforteth them, if they will returne to the Lorde, with the promise of greater felicitie, forasmuch as the Lorde will finish the worke that he hath begonne, & send Christ whome he had promised, & by whom they should at taine to perfit ioye and glorie.

CHAP. I.

The time of the prophesie of Haggai. & An exhortation to builde the Temple againe.

In the second yere of King Darius, in the first moneth, the first day of the moneth, came the worde of the loyde (by the miniserie of the Prophet Haggai) vnto Zerubbabel

Who was the sonne of Hysias, & the third King of the Persians, as some thinke.
b Because the building of the Temple began to cease by reason that the people were discouraged by their enemies: and if these two notable men had neede to be stirred vp & admonished of their duties, what shall we thinke of other gouernours whose doings are either against God, or very colde in his cause?

the sonne of Shealtiel, a prince of Iudas, and to Jehoshua the sonne of Jehozadak the hie Priest, saying,
1 Thus speaketh the loyde of hostes, saying, This people say, The time is not yet come, that the loydes house should be builded.
2 Then came the worde of the loyde by the miniserie of the Prophet Haggai, saying,
3 Is it time for you to dwell in your decayed houses, and this house lye waste?
4 Nowe therefore thus saith the loyde of Gods honour, c Not that they condemned the building thereof, but they preferred policie, and priuate profit to religion, being content with small beginnings.

d Shewing that they sought not only their necessities, but their very pleasures before of Gods honour.

of hostes, Consider your owne waipes in your hearts.

e Consider the plagues of God vpon you for preferring your policies to his religion; & because ye seeke not him first of all.

f Meaning, that they should leaue of their own commodities, & goe forward in the building of Gods Temple, and in the setting forth of his religion.

g That is, I will heare your prayers according to my promises, 1. King. 8. 21, 29.

k This declared that God was the author of the doctrine, & that he was but the minister, as Exo. 14. 31 Iudg 7. 20. Act. 15. 28.

l Which declareth y men are vnapt & dull to serue the Lord, neither can they obeye his worde or his messengers before God reforme their heartes and giue the newe spirits, John. 6. 44.

a For the people, according as Isa. 32. 11. and Ezek. 41. 1. had prophesied, thought this Temple should haue bene more excellent then Salomons Temple, which was destroyed by the Babylonians, but the Prophetes ment the spiritual Temple, the Church of Christ

6 e He haue sown much, and bring in little: pe cate, but pe haue not proung: pe drinke, but pe are not filled: pe clotye you, but pe be not warme: & he that earneth wages, putteth the wages into a broken bagge.

7 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Consider your owne waipes in your hearts.

8 Goe vpon to the mountaine, and bring wood, and build this House, and I will be fauourable vnto it, and I will be glorified, saith the Lord.

9 Pe looked for much, and loe, it came to little: and when ye brought it home, I did blowe vpon it. And whyle, saith the Lord of hostes: Because of mine House that is waste, and pe runne euery man vnto his owne house.

10 Therefore the heauen ouer you staied it selfe from dewe, and the earth stayed her fruit.

11 And I called for a brought vpon the lande, and vpon the mountaines, and vpon the coyne, and vpon the wine, and vpon the oyle, vpon all that the ground bringeth forth: both vpon men and vpon cattell, and vpon all the labour of the hands.

12 When Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel, and Jehoihna the sonne of Jehozadak the hie Priest with all the remnant of the people, heard the voice of the Lord their God, and the wordes of the Prophet Yaggai (as h Lord their God had sent him) then the people did feare before the Lord.

13 Then spake Yaggai the Lordes messenger in the Lordes message vnto the people, saying, I am with you, saith the Lord.

14 And the Lord stirred by the spirit of Zerubbabel, the sonne of Shealtiel a prince of Iudah, and the spirit of Jehoshua the sonne of Jehozadak the hie Priest, and the spirit of all the remnant of the people, and they came, & did the worke in the House of the Lord of hostes their God.

CHAP. II.

He sheweth that the glorie of the second Temple shall exceede the first.

1 In the foure and twentieth day of the first moneth, in the seconde peere of King Darius,

2 In the fourth moneth, in h one & twentieth day of the moneth, came the word of the Lord by the ministry of the Prophet Yaggai, saying,

3 Speake now to Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel prince of Iudah, and to Jehoshua the sonne of Jehozadak the hie Priest, and to the residue of the people, saying,

4 Who is left among you, that saw this House in her first glory, and how doe you see it now? Is it not in your eyes, in comparison of it as nothing?

5 Per now be of good courage, & Zerub-babel, saith the Lord, and be of good comfort, & Jehoshua, sonne of Jehozadak the hie Priest: and be strong, all ye people of the lande, saith the Lord, & do it: for I am with you, saith the Lord of hostes,

6 According to the word that I covenanted with you, when ye came out of Egypt: to my spirit shall remaine among you, feare pe not.

7 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, Yet a little while, and I will shake the heauens and the earth, and the sea, and the drye land:

8 And I will moue all nations, and the desire of all nations shall come, and I will fill this House with glorie, saith the Lord of hostes.

9 The silver is mine, and the golde is mine, saith the Lord of hostes.

10 The glorie of this last House shall be greater then the first, saith the Lord of hostes: and in this place will I giue peace, saith the Lord of hostes.

11 In the foure & twentieth day of the ninth moneth, in the second peere of Darius, came the worde of the Lord vnto the Prophet Yaggai, saying,

12 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Like now the Priests concerning the Lawe, and say,

13 If one beare a holy flesh in the skirt of his garment, & with his skirt do touche the bread, or the potage, or the wine, or oyle, or any meate, shall it be holie? And the Priests answered & said, No.

14 Then said Yaggai, If a polluted person touch any of these, shall it be vnclane? And the Priests answered, and said, It shall be vnclane.

15 Then answered Yaggai, and said, So is this people, and so is this nation before me, saith the Lord: and so are all the workes of their hands, and that which they offer here, is vnclane.

16 And now, I pray you, consider in your mindes: from this day, and afore, euen afore a stone was laide vpon a stone in the Temple of the Lord:

17 Before these things were, when one came to an heape of twentie measures, there were but tenne: when one came to the wine presse for to drawe out fiftie vessels out of the presse, there were but twentie.

18 I smote you with blasting, and with midewe, and with hayle, in all the labours of your handes: yet you turned not to me, saith the Lord.

19 Consider, I pray you, in your mindes, from this day, & afore from the foure &

b That is, go forward in building the Temple.

c He exhorteth them to patience though they see not as yet this Temple so glorious as the prophets had declared: for this should be accomplished in Christ by whom all things should be renewed.

d Meaning, Christ whom all ought to looke for and desire: or by desire, he may signifie all precious things, as riches & such like e Therefore when his time cometh, hee can make al y treasures of y world to serue his purpose: but the glorie of this seconde Temple dooth not stand in material things, neyther can be built.

f Meaning, all spiritual blessings & felicitie purchased by Christ, Phil. 4. 7.

g That is, the sacrifices: whereby he signifieth that y thing, which of it self is good, cannot make an other thing so: and therefore they ought not to iustifie them selues by their sacrifices & ceremonies: but contrary he y

those things and make the detestable vnto God which els are good and godly. h Consider how God did plague you with famine afore you began to build the Temple, i That is, before the building was begonne. k From the time they began to build the Temple, he promifeth that God would blissh them: & albeit as yet the fruite was not come forth, yet in the gathering they should haue plentie.

1 He exhorreth them to patience and to abide till $\text{\textcircled{H}}$ haruick came and then they should see Gods blessings.
 m I will make a change & renew all things in Christ, of whom Zerubbabel here is a figure.

twentieth day of the ninth moneth, euen from the day that the foundation of the Lords Temple was laid: consider it in your mindes.
 20 Is the $\text{\textcircled{H}}$ seede yet in the barne? as yet the vine, and the figtree, and the pomegranate, and the oliue tree hath not brought forth: from this day will I bless you.
 21 And again the word of the Lord came vnto Haggai in the foure and twentieth day of the moneth, saying, 22 Speake to Zerubbabel the prince of Iudah, and say, $\text{\textcircled{H}}$ will shake the hea-uens and the earth,

 23 And I will ouerthrowe the throne of kingdomes, & I will destroy the strength of the $\text{\textcircled{H}}$ kingdomes of the heathen, and I will ouerthrowe the charets, and those that ride in them, and the horse and the riders shall come downe, euerie one by the sword of his brother.
 24 In that day, sayth the Lord of hostes, I will take thee, $\text{\textcircled{H}}$ Zerubbabel my seruant, the sonne of Shealtiel, sayth the Lord, and will make thee as a $\text{\textcircled{H}}$ signet: for I haue chosen thee, sayth the Lord of hostes.

n Hereby he sheweth that there shall be no let or hinderance when God will make this wonderful restitution of his Church.
 o Signifying that his dignitie should be most excellent, which thing was accomplished in christ.

ZECARIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

Two moneths after that Haggai had begonne to prophetic, Zechariah was also sent of the Lord to help him in the labour, and to confirme the same doctrine. First therefore he putteth them in remembrance, for what cause God had so fore punished their fathers: and yet comforteth them, if they will repent vnfeynedly, and not abuse this great benefite of God in their deliuerance, which was a figure of that true deliuerance, that all the faythfull should haue, from death and sinne by Christ. But because they still remayned in their wickednesse, and coldnes to set forth Gods glorie, and were not yet made better by their long banishment, he rebuketh them most sharpely: yet for the comfort of the repentant, he euer mixeth the promise of grace, that they might by this meanes be prepared to receyue Christ, in whome all should be sanctified to the Lorde.

CHAP. I.

2 He exhorreth the people to returne to the Lorde, and to eschue the wickednes of their fathers. 6 He signifieth the restitution of Ierusalem and the Temple.

a Who was the sonne of Hyltapis.
 b This was not that Zechariah, wherof is mention, 2. Chro. 24. 22, but had the same name, & is called the sonne of Berechiah, as he was, because he came of those progenitors, as o Ioiada or Berechiah & Iddo.
 c He speaketh this to feare the with Gods iudgements that they should not pro- uoke him as their fathers had done, whome he so grieuouly punished.
 d Let your fruites declare, that you are Gods people and that he hath wrought in you by his Spirit and mortified you: for els man hath no power to returne to God, but God must conuert him, as Ierem. 31. 18. 1am. 5. 21. ifa. 21. 8, and 21. 6, and 45. 21.
 e Though your fathers be dead, yet Gods iudgements in punishing them ought still to be before your eyes: and though the Prophets be dead, yet their doctrine remaineth for euer, 2. Pet. 1. 15.

In the eight moneth of the second pere of $\text{\textcircled{H}}$ Darus, came the word of the Lord vnto $\text{\textcircled{H}}$ Zechariah, the sonne of Berechiah, $\text{\textcircled{H}}$ sonne of Iddo, the Prophet, saying,
 2 The Lorde hath bene $\text{\textcircled{H}}$ soze displeasid with your fathers.
 3 Therefore say thou vnto them, Thus sayeth the Lorde of hostes, $\text{\textcircled{H}}$ Turne ye vnto me, sayth the Lorde of hostes, and I will turne vnto you, sayth the Lorde of hostes.
 4 Be ye not as your fathers, vnto whom the former $\text{\textcircled{H}}$ Prophets haue cryed, saying, Thus sayth $\text{\textcircled{H}}$ Lord of hostes, Turne you nowe from your euill wayes, and from your wicked wayes: but they would not heare, nor hearken vnto me, sayth the Lord.
 5 Your fathers, where $\text{\textcircled{H}}$ are they? and do the Prophets liue for euer?
 6 But did not my words & my statutes, which I commanded by my seruantes

the Prophets, take holde of $\text{\textcircled{H}}$ your fathers? and s they returned, and sayde, As the Lord of hostes hath determined to do vnto vs, according to our owne wayes, and according to our workes, so hath he delt with vs.
 7 Vpon the foure & twentieth day of the eleuenth moneth, which is the moneth $\text{\textcircled{H}}$ Shebat, in the second pere of Darus, came the worde of the Lorde vnto Zechariah the sonne of Berechiah, the sonne of Iddo the Prophet, saying,
 8 I saw by night, and behold $\text{\textcircled{H}}$ a man riding vpon a red horse, & he stood among the mirre trees, that were in a bottom, and behind him were there $\text{\textcircled{H}}$ red horses speckled and white.
 9 The said $\text{\textcircled{H}}$ my Lord, what are these? And $\text{\textcircled{H}}$ Angel that talked with me, sayd vnto me, I will shew thee what these be.
 10 And the man that stood among the mirre trees, answered and saide, These are they whom the Lord hath sent to go through the world.
 11 And they answered the Angell of the Lord, that stood among the mirre trees, and sayde, We haue gone thowtwe the world: and behold, all the world siteth still, and is at rest.
 12 Then the $\text{\textcircled{H}}$ Angel of the Lord answers

f Seeing ye faue the force of my doctrine in punishing your fathers, why do not ye feare $\text{\textcircled{H}}$ thretinges conteyned in the same and declared by my Prophets?
 g As men astonished with my iudgements, and not that they were touched w true repentance.
 h Which conteyneth part of Ianuarie and part of Februarie.
 i This vision signified the restitution of the Church, but as yet it should not appear to mans eyes, which is here ment by $\text{\textcircled{H}}$ night, by the botome and by the mirre trees, which are blacke, & giue a darke shadowe: yet he compareth God to a King, who hath his posts & messengers abroad, by who he shall wkech his purpose and bringeth his matters to passe.
 k Who was the chief among the rest of the horsemen. These signified the diuers offices of Gods Angels by whom God sometime punisheth and sometime comforteth and bringeth forth his workes in diuers sortes. m That is, Christ the Mediatour prayed for the saluation of his Church, which was now troubled when all the countreys about them were at rest.

n Though for a time God defer his helpe and comfort from his Church, yet this declareth that he loveth them stil most dearly, as a most merciful father his children, or an husband his wife, & when it is expedient for them, his helpe is euer ready.

o In destroying the reprobate I shewed my selfe but a litle angry towards my Church, but the enemy would have destroyed them also, and considered not the ende of my chastisements.

p To measure out the buildings.

q The abundance shalbe so great that the places of store shall not be able to coeine these blessings that God wil sed, but shal euen breake for fulnes.

r Which signified all the enemies of the Church, East, West, North, South.

f These carpenters or smithes are Gods instruments, which with their mallets & hammers breake these hard and strong hornes, which would overthrowe the Church, and declare that none enemies horne is so strong, but God hath an hammer to breake it in pieces.

a That is, the Angel who was Christ: for in respect of his office he is oft times called an Angel: but in respect of his eternall essence, is God and so called.

b Meaning him self Zechariah.

c Signifying the spirituall Ierusalem & Church vnder Christ, which should be extended by the Gospel through all the world, & should neede no material walles, nor trust in any worldly strength, but should be safely preferred, and dwel in peace among all their enemies.

red and said, O Ioye of hostes, howe long wilt thou be unmerciful to Ierusalem, and to the cities of Iudah, with whom thou hast bene displeasid nowe these thre score and ten yeres?

13 And the Lord answered the Angel that talked with me, with good wordes and comfortable wordes.

14 So the Angel that communed with me, said vnto me, Crie thou, and speake, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, I am ierous our Ierusalem and Zion with a great zeale,

15 And an greatly angry against the carelesse heathen: for I was angry but a litle, and they helped forwarde the affliction.

16 Therefore thus saith the Lord, I will returne vnto Ierusalem with tender mercie: mine house Ishalbe builded in it, saith the Lord of hostes, and a line shall be stretched vpon Ierusalem.

17 Crie yet, and speake, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, App cities shall yet be broken with plentie: the Lord shall yet comfort Zion, and shall yet chuse Ierusalem.

18 Then list I by mine eyes and sawe, and beholde, four hornes.

19 And I said vnto the Angel that talked with me, What be these? And he answered me, These are four hornes which haue scattered Iudah, Israel, & Ierusalem.

20 And the Lord shewed me foure carpenters.

21 Then said I, What come these to do? And he answered, and said, These are the hornes, which haue scattered Iudah, so that a man durst not lift vp his head: but these are come to frap them, and to cast out the hornes of the Gentiles, which lift vp their hogne ouer the land of Iudah, to scatter it.

I Lift vp mine eyes againe and looked, and beholde, a man with a measuring line in his hand.

2 Then said I, Whither goest thou? And he said vnto me, To meaire Ierusalem, that I may see what is the breadth thereof, and what is the length thereof.

3 And behold, the Angel that talked with me, went forth: and another Angel went out to meaire him.

4 And said vnto him, Runne, speake to this pong man, and say, Ierusalem shalbe inhabited without walles, for the multitude of men & caret theren.

5 For I, saith the Lord, wil be vnto her a wall of 4 fire round about, and wil be the glorie in the middes of her.

6 Yo, ho, come forth, and see from the Land of the North, saith the Lord: for I haue scattered pou in the foure & winds of the heauen, saith the Lord.

7 Hauie thy selfe, O Zion, that dwellest with the daughter of Iabel.

8 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, After this glorie hath he sent me vnto the nations, which spoiled pou: for ye that toucht pou, toucht the apple of his eye.

9 For beholde, I wil lift by mine hande vpon them: and they shalbe a spoyle to those that serued them, and ye shall knowe, that the Ioye of hostes hath sent me.

10 Reioyce, and be glad, O daughter Zion: for lo, I come and wil dwell in the middes of thee, saith the Lord.

11 And many nations shall be ioynd to the Lord in that day, & shalbe my people: and I wil dwell in the middes of thee, and thou shalt know that the Lord of hostes hath sent me vnto thee.

12 And the Lord Ihal inherke Iudah his portion in the holy land, and Ihal chuse Ierusalem againe.

13 Let all flesh be still before the Lord: for he is raised vp out of his holy place.

i Seeing that God hath begun to shewe his grace among you by deliuering you, he continueth the same stil towards you, and therefore sendeth me his Angel, and his Christ to defende you from your enemies, that they shal not hurt you, neither by the way nor at home.

k Ye are so deare vnto God, that he can no more suffer your enemies to hurt you, then a man can abide to be thrust in the eie, Psalm. 17. 8.

l Vpon the heathen your enemies.

m They shall be your seruants as you have bene theirs.

n This must necessarily be vnderstand of Christ, who being God equal with his Father, was sent as he was Mediatour to dwell in his Church, and to gouerne them, d To defend my Church, to feare the enemies, and to destroy them if they approach neere.

e In me they shall haue their full felicitie and glory.

f He calleth to them, which partly for feare and partly for their owne ease, remained still in captiuitie, and so preferred their owne priuate commodities to the benefits of God promised in his Church.

g Asit was I, that scattered you, so haue I power to restore you.

h By flying from Babylon and coming to the Church.

CHAP. III.

A prophetic of Christ and of his kingdom.

CHAP. II.

The restoring of Ierusalem and Iudah.

1 And he shewed me Iehoshua the Priest, standing before the Angel of the Ioye, and Satan stood at his right hand to resist him.

2 And the Lord said vnto Satan, The Lord reioyce thee, O Satan: euen the Lord that hath chosen Ierusalem, reioyce thee. Is not this a hand taken out of the fire?

3 Nowe Iehoshua was clothed with filthy garments, and stoode before the Angel.

4 And he answered and spake vnto those a He prayed to Christ the Mediatour for the state of the Church.

b Which declareth that the faithfull haue not onely warre with flesh and blood, but with Satan himselfe and spirituall wickednesses, c That is, Christ speaketh to God as the Mediatour of his Church that he would rebuke Satan: and here he sheweth him selfe to be the continuall preferer of his Church.

d Meaning, that Iehoshua was wonderfully preferred in the captiuitie, and now Satan sought to afflict & trouble him when he was doing his office.

e In respect of the glorious garments, and precious stones that the Priests did were before the captiuitie: and by this contemptible state the Prophet signifieth that these small beginnings should be made excellent when Christ shall make the full restitution of his Church. f He sheweth of what apparel he speaketh, which is when our filthy finnes are taken away, and we are clad with Gods mercies, which is ment of the spiritual restitution. g The Prophet prayeth, that besides the raiment the Priest might also haue tire for his head accordingly, that is, that the dignitie of the Priesthood might be perfect: and this was fulfilled in Christ, who was both Priest and King: and here all such are condemned that can content themselves with any meane reformation in religion, seeing the Prophet desireth the perfection, & obeyeth it. h That is, haue rule and government in my Church as thy predecessors haue had. i Whereby he meaneth to haue the whole charge and ministerie of the Church. k That is, the Angels who represented the whole number of the faithful: signifying that all the godly should willingly receiue him. l Because they follow my worde, they are contented in the world, and esteemed as monsters, Isa. 8. 18. m That is, Christ, who did so humble himselfe, that not onely he became the seruant of God, but also the seruant of men: and therefore in him they should haue comfort, although in the world they were contemned, Isa. 11. 1. Jerem. 21. 5. and 33. 14. 15. n He sheweth that the ministers cannot build, before God lay the first stone, which is Christ, who is full of eyes, both because he giueth light vnto all others, and that all ought to seeke light at him, Chap. 4. 10. o That is, I will make it perfect in all poyntes, as a thing wrought by the hand of God. p Though I haue punished this lande for a time, yet I will euen now be pacified, and visite their finnes no more. q Ye shall then liue in peace & quiennes, that is, in the Kingdome of Christ, Isa. 2. 2. micah. 4. 4. hag. 2. 20.

that stood before him, saying, Take away the filthy garments from him. And vnto him he sayd, Behold, I haue caused thine iniquitie to depart from thee, and I will clothe thee with change of raiment. And I saide, Let them set a faire diadem vpon his head. So they set a faire diadem vpon his head, & clothed him with garnets, & the Angel of the Lord stood by. And the Angel of the Lord testified vnto Iehoshua, saying, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, If thou wilt walke in my waies, and keepe my watche, thou shalt also iudge mine House, and shalt also keepe my courts, and I will giue thee place among these that stand by. Heare now, O Iehoshua þ hie Priest, thou and thy fellows that sit before thee: for they are monstrous persons: but behold, I will bring forth the Branch my seruant. For to the stone that I haue laide before Iehoshua: vpon one stone shall be seuen eyes: behold, I will cut out the graving thereof, sayth the Lord of hostes, and I will take away the iniquitie of this land in one day. In that day, saith the Lord of hostes, shall ye call euery man his neighbour vnder the vine, & vnder the figge tree, which conueyed the oyle that dropped from the trees into the lampes, so that the light neuer failed: and this vision was to confirme the faithful that God had sufficient power in him selfe to continue his graces, and to bring his promise to passe, though he had no helpe of a man. Who was a figure of Christ, and therefore this do Grinewas directed to al the Church who are his body and members. He sheweth that Gods power only is sufficient to preserve the his church, though he vse not mans helpe therunto. He compareth the power of the aduersaries to a great mountaine, who thought the Iewes nothing in respect of them, and would haue hindered Zerubbabel, who represented Christ, whom the enemies dayly labour to let in the building of his spirituall Temple, but all in vaine. f Though the enemies thinke to stay this building yet Zerubbabel shall lay the highest stone thereof, and bring it to perfection, so that all the godly shall reioyce, and pray vnto God that he would continue his grace and fauour toward the Temple, g Meaning, the Prophet, that I am Christ sent of my father for the building, & preservation of my spirituall Temple. h Signifying that all were discouraged at the small and poore beginnings of the Temple. i Whereby he signifieth the plummet and line, that is, that Zerubbabel which represented Christ, should go forward with his building to the ioy and comfort of the godly, though the worlde be agaynst him, and though his for a while be discouraged, because they see not things pleasant to the eye. k That is, God hath seuen eyes: meaning a continual presence, so that neyther Satan nor any power in the worlde can goe about or bring any thing to passe to hinder his worcke, Chap. 3. 9. l Which were cunning greene and full of oyle, so that still they powdered forth oyle into the lampes: signifying, that God will continually mainteyne and preserve his Church, and induc it with abundance and perfection of graces.

therin, and seuen pipes to the lampes, which were vpon the top thereof. And two olive trees ouer it, one vpon the right side of the bowle, & the other vpon the left side thereof. So I answered, and spake to the Angel that talked with me, saying, What are these, my Lord? Then the Angel that talked with mee, answered and said vnto me, Knowest thou not what these be? And I sayde, No, my Lord. Then he answered and spake vnto me, saying, This is þ word of the Lord vnto Zerubbabel, saying, Neither by an arme nor strength, but by my Spirit, sayth the Lord of hostes. Who art thou, O great mountaine, before Zerubbabel? thou shalt bee a plaine, and he shall bring forth þ heade stone thereof, with shoutings, crying, Grace, grace vnto it. Moreover, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying, The handes of Zerubbabel haue layd the foundation of this house: his handes shall also finish it, and thou shalt know that the Lord of hostes hath sent me vnto you. For who hath despised the day of the small things: but they shall reioyce, and shall see the stone of Ierme in the hande of Zerubbabel: these seuen are the eyes of the Lord, which go throuow the whole world. Then answered I, and sayd vnto him, What are these two olive trees vpon the right & vpon the left side thereof? And I spake moreover, and said vnto him, What be these two olive branches, which throuolue the two golden pipes empty themselves into the golde? And he answered me & said, Knowest thou not what these be? And I sayde, No, my Lord. Then said he, These are the two olive branches, that stande with the ruler of the whole earth.

CHAP. IIII.

The vision of the golden candlestickes, and the exposition thereof.

And the Angel that talked with mee, came againe and waked me, as a man that is rapted out of his sleepe. And sayde vnto me, What seest thou? and I said, I haue looked, and behold, a candlesticke all of golde with a bowle vpon the top of it, & his seuen lampes

C H A P. V.

1 The vision of the flying booke, signifying the curse of Ierusalem, and such as abuse the Name of God, & by the unjion of the measure is signified the bringing of Iudahs afflictions into Babylon.

1 Then I turned me, and lifted by mine eyes and looked, and beheld, a flying booke.

2 And he sayde unto me, What seest thou? And I answered, I see a flying booke: the length thereof is twenty cubits, and the breadth thereof ten cubits.

3 Then saide he unto me, This is the curie that goeth forth out the whole earth: for every one that ^bstealeth, shall be cut of aswell on this side, as on that: and every one that ^dweareth, shall be cut of aswell on this side, as on that.

4 I will bring it forth, saith the Lorde of hostes, and it shall enter into the house of the thiefe, & into the house of him, ^p falsely sweareth by my name: and it shall remaine in the mids of his house, and shall consume it, with the timber thereof, and stones thereof.

5 Then the Angel that talked with me, went forth, and said unto me, Lift up nowe thine eyes, and see what is this that goeth forth.

6 And I said, What is it? And he said, This is an ^eEphah that goeth forth. He said moreover, This is the ^fsight of them, through all the earth.

7 And behold, there was lift by a talet of lead: and this is a ^hwoman that sitteth in the middes of the ^eEphah.

8 And he sayd, This is ⁱwickednesse, and he cast it into the middes of the Ephah, and he cast the weight of lead vpon the mouth thereof.

9 Then lift I by mine eyes, and looked: and behold, there came out two ^kwomen, and the wind was in their wings (for they had wings like the wings of a stoike) and they lift by the Ephah betwene the earth and the heauen.

10 Then said I to the Angel that talked with me, Whither doethese beare the Ephah?

11 And he sayd unto me, ^lTo build it a house in the lande of Shinar, and it shall be established and set there vpon her owne place.

2 In the first charet were ^a red horses, & in the second charet ^d blacke horses, 3 And in the third charet ^e white horses, and in the fourth charet, horses of diuers colours, and reddish.

4 Then I answered, and said unto the Angel that talked with me, What are these, my Lorde?

5 And the Angel answered, and sayde unto me, These are the ^e foure spirits of the heauen, which go forth from binding with the Lord of all the earth.

6 That with the blacke horse went forth into the land of the North, & the white went out after them, and they of diuers colours went forth toward the ^h South countrey.

7 And the reddish went out, and required to go, and passe through the world, & he said, Go passe through the world. So they went thowout the world.

8 Then cryed he vpon me, and spake unto me, saying, Beholde, these that go toward the North countrey, haue pacified my ^k spirit in the North countrey.

9 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

10 Take of them of the captiuitie, euen of Uedai, and of Toghah, and Jedaiah, which are come from Babel, and come by the fame day, & go vnto ^l house of Iohiah, the sonne of Zephamah.

C H A P. VI.

By the foure charrets he describeth the foure monarchies.

A Same, I turned and lift by mine eyes, and looked: and beholde, there came foure ^a charets out with the swift messengers of God to execute & declare his wil.

a Because the Iewes had provoked Gods plagues by continuing his worde, and casting of all iudgement and equitie, he sheweth that Gods curses written in this booke had iustly light both on them, and their facters: but now if they would repent, God would send the same among the Caldeans their former enemies.

b That is, vseth any iniurie toward his neighbour.

c Meaning, wherefoeuer he be in the world.

d He that transgresseth the first table, and serueth nor God aright, but abuse Gods name.

e Which was a measure in dry things containing about ten pottels.

f That is, all the wickednes of the vngodly is in Gods sight, which he keepeth in a measure, and can shut it or open it at his pleasure.

g To couer the measure.

h Which representeth iniquitie, as in the next verse.

i Signifying that Satan should nor haue such power against the Iewes to tempt them, as he had in time past, but that God would shut vp iniquitie in a measure as in a prison.

k Which declared that GOD would execute his iudgements by the meanes of weak and infirme meanes.

l To remoue the iniquitie and afflictions that came for the same from Iudah, to place it for euer in Babylon.

a By charrets here, as by horses afore, he meane with the swift messengers of God to execute & declare his wil.

e So that their returne shall not be in vaine: for God will accomplish his promise, and their prosperitie shall be sure and stable.

f Let nei ther respect of your private commodities, neither countsell of others, nor feare of enemies discourage you in the going forward with the building of the Temple, but be constant and obey the Prophets, which encourage you thereunto.

g For God cursed your worke, so that neither man nor beast had profite of their labours.

h Reade Ezck. 18. 20. i Which declareth, that man cannot turne to God will hee change mans heart by his Spirit, and so begin to do wel, which is to pardon his finnes, and to giue him his graces.

k Which fast was appointed when the cite was besieged, and was the first fast of these foure: and here the Prophet sheweth, that if the Iewes will repent, & turne wholly to God, they shall haue no more occasion to fast, or to shewe signes of hauiues: for God will lend them ioy and gladnes.

l He declareth the great zeale that God should giue the Gentiles to come to his Church and to ioyne with the Iewes in his true religion, which should be in the kingdome of Christ, nant of this people in these dayes, should it therefore be impossible in my sight, saith the Lord of hostes?

7 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Beseech me. I will deliuer my people from the East countrey, and from the West countrey.

8 And I will bring them, and they shall dwell in the middes of Ierusalem, and they shall be my people, & I will be their God in truely and in righteousnes.

9 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Let your handes be strong, for that heare in these dayes these wordes by the mouth of the Prophets, which were in the day, that the foundation of the House of the Lord of hostes was layed, that the Temple might be builded.

10 For before these dayes there was no hire for a man nor any hire for a beast, neyther was there any peace to him that went out, or came in because of the affliction: for I let all men, euery one against his neighbour.

11 But now, I will not increase the residue of this people as aforesaid, saith the Lord of hostes.

12 For the tree shall be prosperous: the vine shall giue her fruite, & the ground shall giue her increase, and the heauens shall giue their dewe, and I will cause the remnant of this people to possess all these things.

13 And it shall come to passe, that as ye were a curse among people, & house of Iudah, and house of Israel, so will I deliuer you, and ye shall be a blessing: feare not, but let your handes be strong.

14 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, As I thought to punish you, when your fathers provoked mee vnto wrath, saith the Lord of hostes, & repented not, so againe haue I determined in these dayes: to do well vnto Ierusalem, & to the house of Iudah: feare ye not.

15 These are the things that ye shall do. Speake ye euery man the truely vnto his neighbour: execute iudgement truely, and wrightly in your gates.

16 And let none of you imagine euill in your heartes against his neighbour, & loue no false othe: for all these are the things that I hate, saith the Lord.

17 And the wordes of the Lord of hostes came vnto me, saying,

18 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, The fast of the fourth month, and the fast of the fifth, and the fast of the seventh, & the fast of the tenth, shall be to you house of Iudah ioy and gladnes, and prosperous his feastes: therefore loue the truely and peace.

19 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, That they shall get come people, and the inhabitants of great cities,

20 And they that dwell in one cite, shall go to another, saying, Oye, let vs goe and pray before the Lord, and seeke the Lord of hostes: I will go also.

21 For great people and mighty nations shall come to seeke the Lord of hostes in Ierusalem, and to pray before the Lord.

22 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, In those dayes shall ten men take holde out of all languages of the nations, euen take holde of the skirt of him that is a Iewe, and say, We will go with you: for we haue heard, that God is with you.

1 The threatening of the Gentiles. 2 The coming of Christ.

1 The burden of the word of the Lord in the lande of ^a Gad: which Damascus shall be his rest: when the eyes of man, euen of all the tribes of Israel shall be toward the Lord.

2 And Hamath also shall border there by: Tyrus also and Sidon, though they be very wise.

3 For Tyrus did build her selfe a strong holde, and heaped by higher as the dust, and goide as the myre of the strettes.

4 Behold, the Lord will spoyle her, and he will smite her power in the Sea, & shee shall be denoued with fire.

5 Ashkelon shall see it, and feare, and Azzah also shall be very sore full, and Ekron: for her countenance shall be ashamed, and the King shall perish from Uzzah, and Ashkelon shall not be inhabited.

6 And the stranger shall dwell in Ashdod, and I will cut of the pyde of the Philistines.

7 And I will take away his blood out of his mouth, and his abominations from betwene his teeth: but he that remaineth, euen he shall be for our God, and he shall be as a prince in Iudah, but Ekron shall be as a Ierusalem.

8 And I will campe about mine House against the armie, against him that passeth by, and against him that returneth, and no oppressour shall come vpon them any more: for now I haue I scene vpon mine eyes.

9 Reioyce greatly, O daughter Zion: shout for ioy, O daughter Ierusalem: behold, thy King cometh vnto thee:

rounde about, yet they shall not escape Gods iudgements.

g Meaning, that all should be destroyed saue a very fewe, that should remaine as strangers. h He promisseth to deliuer the Iewes when he shall take vengeance on their enemies for their cruelty, and wrongs done to them. i As the Iebusites had bene destroyed, so should Ekron and all the Philistines. k He sheweth that Gods power onely shall be sufficient to defende his Church against all aduersaries, be they neuer so cruell or assemble their power neuer so often. l That is, God hath now scene the great iniuries & afflictions wherewith they haue bene afflicted by their enemies, q That is, from Euphrates.

r Meaning, Ierusalem or the Church, which is saued by the blood of Christ, whereof the blood of the sacrifices was a figure, and is here called the covenant of the Church, because God made it with his Church, and left it with them for the loue that he bare vnto them. s God sheweth that he will deliuer his Church out of all dangers, seeme they neuer so great. t That is, into the holy laude where the citie and the Temple are, where God will defende you. u Meaning, the faithfull, which seemed to bee in danger of their enemies on euery side, and yet liued in hope that God would restore them to libertie. x That is, double benefites, and prosperitie in respect of that which your fathers enioyed from Dauids tyme to the captiuitie. y I will make Iudah and Ephraim, that is, my whole Church, victorious against all enemies, which he here meaneth by the Grecians. z He promisseth that the Iewes shall destroy their enemies and haue abundance, and excess of all things, as there is abundance on the altar when the sacrifice is offered: Which things are not to moue them to intemperancie, butto subrietic, and a thankfull remembrance of Gods great liberalitie. a The faithfull shall be preferred, and reuenced of all, that the very enemies shall be compelled to esteeme them: for Gods glorie shall shine in them, as Iosephus declarereth of Alexander the great when he met Iadi the high Priest.

m he is iust and saued himself, poore and riding vpon an asse, and vpon a colt the foale of an asse.

10 And I will cut of the charcets from Ephraim, & the horse from Ierusalem: the bowe of the battell shall be broken, and he shall speake peace vnto the brethren, & his dominion shalbe from sea vnto sea, and from the Riuer to the ende of the land.

11 Thou also shalt be saued through the blood of thy covenant. I haue loosed thy prisoners out of the pit wherein is no water.

12 Turne you to the strong holde, yee prisoners of hope: euen to day doe I declare, that I will render thee double vnto thee.

13 For Iudah haue I bent as a bowe for mee: Ephraims hande haue I filled, and I haue rapted vnto thy finnes, Zion, agaynst thy finnes, & Grecia, and haue made thee as a grants sword.

14 And the Lorde shall bee seene ouer them, and his arrowe shall goe fourth as the lightning: and the Lorde God shall blowe the trumpet, and shal come fourth with the whirlewindes of the South.

15 The Lord of hostes shal defende them, and they shal denouce them, and subdue them with sling stones, & they shal drinke, and make a noyse as thoroowe wine, and they shalbe filled like bowles, and as the hoynes of the altar.

16 And the Lorde their God shall deliuer them in that daye as the stocke of his people: for they shall be as the stones of the crowne lifted by vpon his land.

17 For howe great is his goodnes: and howe great is his beautie: come shall make the pongme cherefull, and new wine the madders.

1 The vanitie of idolatrie. 2 The Lord promisseth to visite and comfort the house of Israel.

1 Aske you of the Lorde rapne in the time of the latter rapne: so shall the Lorde make white cloudes, and giue you showres of rapne, and to euery one graile in the fielde.

2 Wherein the idoles haue spoken vanitie, and the soothsayers haue seene a lye, and the dreamers haue told a vaine thing: they comfort in vayne: there fore they went away as sheepe: they were troubled, because there was no shepheard.

3 Whereby was kindled agaynst the shepherds, and I did visite the goates: but the Lorde of hostes will visite his flock the house of Iudah, and will make them as his beautifull hoys in the battel.

4 Out of him shal the corner come fourth: out of him the nail, out of him the bow of battel, and out of him euery appoynter of tribute also.

5 And they shall be as the mightie men, which treade downe their enemies in the myde of the streetes in the battel, and they shal fight, because the Lorde is with them, and the riders on hoyses shall be confounded.

6 And I will strengthen the house of Iudah, and I will preferre the house of Ioseph, and I will bring them againe, for I pittie them: and they shall be as though I had not cast them of: for I am the Lorde their God, and will heare them.

7 And they of Ephraim shall be as a ggar, and their heart shal reioyce as thoroow wine: yea, their chidzen shal see it, and be glad: and their heart shal reioyce in the Lord.

8 I will hisse for them, and gather them: for I haue redeemed them: & they shall encrease, as they haue encreased.

9 And I will sowe them among the people, and they shall remember mee in farre countreys: and they shall lpyne with their chidzen and turne againe.

10 I will bring them againe also out of the land of Egypt, and gather them out of Asshur: and I will bring them into the land of Sheba, and Lebanon, and place thal not be found for them.

a The Prophet reprooueth the Iewes because by their owne infidelitie they put backe Gods graces promised, and so fame came by Gods iust judgement: therefore to auoide this plague he wil let them turne to God, and to pray in faith to him, and so he wil giue them abundance. b He calleth to remembrance Gods punishments in times past because they trusted not in him, but in their idoles and forcerers who euer deceiued them.

c That is, the Iewes went into captiuitie. d Meaning, cruel gouernours which did oppresse the poore sheepe. Ezck. 34. 16, 17.

e He will be mercifull to his Church & cherishe them as a King or Prince doeth his best horse which shal be for his owne vse in the warre.

f Out of Iudah shal the chiefe gouernour proceede, who shalbe as a corner to vpholde by buylding & as a nayle to fasten it together. g Ouer their enemies. h That is, the ten tribes, which should be gathered vnder Christ to the rest of the Church. i Whereby he declarereth the power of God, who needeth no great preparation when he will deliuer his for with a becke or hisse he can call them from all places suddenly. k Though they shal yet be scattered and seeme to be lost, yet it shalbe profitable vnto them: for there they shal come to the knowledge of my Name, which was accomplished vnder the Gospell, among whome it was first preached. l Not that they shoulde returne into their countrey, but be gathered and ioyned in one faith by the doctrine of the Gospell.

m He alludeth to the deliucrance of the people out of Egypt where as the Angel sinote the floods and riuers.

11 And he shall go into the sea with affliction, and shall smite the waves in the sea, and all the depthes of the riuer shall drye vp: and the pyde of Misyr shall be cast downe, and the scepter of Egypt shall depart away.

12 And I will strengthen them in the Lord, and they shall walke in his name, sayth the Lord.

CHAP. XI.

1 The destruction of the Temple. 4 The care of the faithfull committed to Christ. 7 A gracious vision against Ierusalem and Iudah.

a Because the Iewes thought them selues to be strong by reason of this mountaine, that no enemye could come to hurt them, the Prophet sheweth y when God sendeth the enemies, it shall shew it selfe ready to receiue them. b Shewing that if the strong me were destroyed, the weaker were not able to resist c Seeing that Lebanon was destroyed which was the strongest munition, the weaker places could not think to holde out. d That is, the renoume of Iudah and Israel should perish. e Which being now destinate to be slaine, were deliuered as out of the lions mouth. f Their gouernours destroy them without any remorse of conscience, or yet thinking that they do euil. g He noteth the hypocrites, which euer haue the Name of God in their mouths, though in their life and doings they deny God, attributing their gaine to Gods blessing, which commeth of the spoyle of their brethren. h I will cause one to destroye another. i Their gouernours shall execute crueltie ouer them. k That is, y final remnant, whom he thought worthy to shew mercy vnto. l God sheweth his great benefites toward his people to conuince the of greater ingratitude, which would neither be ruled by his most beautifull order of gouernement, neither continue in the bands of brotherly vnicie, and therefore he breaketh both the one and the other. Some read for Banded, Destroyers, but in the 14. verse the first reading is confirmed. m Whereby he sheweth his care & diligence y he would suffer the to haue no euil rulers, because they should consider his great loue. n Meaning the people, because they would not acknowledge these great benefites of God.

1 Open thy doores, O Lebanon, and the fire shall denouere thy cedars.

2 Youle, b fire trees: for the cedars are fallen, because all the mightie are destroyed: houle ye, O oaks of Bashan, for the c defended voyce is cut downe.

3 There is the voyce of the howling of the shepherdes: for their d glorie is destroyed: the voyce of the roaring of lions whelpes: for the pyde of Iorden is destroyed.

4 Thus sayth the Lord my God, feede the sheepe of the slaughter.

5 They that possesse them, slaye them f & finne not: and they that sell them, slaye, s Blessed be the Loyde: for I am riche, and their owne shepherdes spare them not.

6 Surely I will no more spare those that dwell n the land, sayth the Lord: but lo, b I will deliuer the men euery one into his neighbours hands, & into the hande of his i King: and they shall smite the lande, and out of their hands I will not deliuer them.

7 For I fed the sheepe of slaughter, euen the k poore of the rocke, and I toke vnto mee i two haues: the one I called Beautie, & the other I called Banded, and I fed the sheepe.

8 These shepherdes also I cut of in one moneth, and my soule lothed a them, & their soule abhorred me.

9 Then sayd I, I will not fede poue: nor that that dyeth, let it dye: and that that perisheth, let it perithe: and let the remnant eate, euery one the flesh of his neighbour.

10 And I toke my staffe, euen Beautie, and brake it, that I might disauill my countraie, which I had made with all people.

and brake it, that I might disauill my countraie, which I had made with all people.

11 And it was broken in that day: and so the o poore of the sheepe that waited vpon me, knewe that it was the word of the Lord.

12 And I sayd vnto them, If ye think it good, giue mee p r: p wages: and if o, leaue of: so they weighed for my wages thurty peeces of siluer.

13 And the Lord said vnto me, Cast it vnto the v potter: a goodly price, that I was valued at of them. And I toke the thurty peeces of siluer, and cast them in the potter in the house of the Lord.

14 Then brake I mine other staffe, euen the Banded, that I might disolue the brotherhood betwene Iudah & Israel.

15 And the Loyde said vnto me, Take to thee yet c the instruments of a foolish shepher.

16 For loe, I will raise vp a shepherde in the lande, which shall not looke for the thing, that is lost, nor seeke the tender lambes, nor heale that that is hurt, nor feede that that standeth vpon: but he shall eate the flesh of the fat, and teare their clawes m peeces.

17 I tole shepher that leaureth the flock: the sword shall be vpon his c arme, and vpon his right eye. His arme shall be cleane dyed vp, and his right eye shall be utterly darkened.

but in effect it should be nothing: for they should beuolues, & deuouring beastes in steade of shepherds. f And is in health & sounde. t By the arme he signifieh strength, as he doeth wisdom and iudgement by the eye: that is, the plague of God shall take away both thy strength and iudgement.

CHAP. XII.

Of the destruction & buylding agayne of Ierusalem.

1 The burden of the word of the Loyde vpon a Israel, sayth the Lord, which sayed the heauens, & layd the foundation of the earth, and formed the spirrit of man within him.

2 Behold, I will make Ierusalem a b city of poposion vnto all the people rounde about: and also with Iudah wil he be, in the siege against Ierusalem.

3 And in that daye will I make Ierusalem an heay stone for al people: at that list it vp, shall be toye, though al the people of the earth be gathered together against it.

4 In that day, sayth the Lord, I will smite euery horse with stonishment, and his rider with madnesse, and I will open myne eyes vpon the house of Iudah, and wil smite euery horse of the people with blindness.

5 And the princes of Iudah shall say in their hearts, The h inhabitants of Ierusalem shall be my strength in the Lord of hostes their God.

o He sheweth that euer profit by Gods iudgements. p Besides their ingratitude God accuseth them of malice and wickednes, which did not onely forget his benefites, but esteemed them as thungs of nought. q Shewing that it was to little to pay his wages, which coulde scarce suffice to make a fewe tiles for to couer the Temple. r Signifying, that they should haue a certaine kinde of regiment, and outwarde shewe of gouernement. s He sheweth, that they should haue a certaine kinde of regiment, and outwarde shewe of gouernement. t By the arme he signifieh strength, as he doeth wisdom and iudgement by the eye: that is, the plague of God shall take away both thy strength and iudgement. a That is, the ten tribes, which neglected Gods benefite in deliucring their brethren, & had rather remaine in captiuitie, the to returne home, when God called them. b Ierusalem shall be defended against all her enemies: so shall God defend all Iudah also, and shall deliucrye the enemies. c Euery captiain, that had many vnder him afore, shall now thinke that the small power of Ierusalem shall be sufficient to defende them against all enemies, because the Lord is among them.

d The people which are now as it were dispersed by the fields, and lye open to their enemies, shalbe no lesse preferred by my power, then if they were vnder their Kings, (which is ment by the house of David) or in their defended cities.

e They shall haue the feeling of my grace by faith, & knowe that I haue compassion on them.

f That is, whom they haue continually vexed with their obstinacie, and grieved my Spirit, Iohn 19. 37. where it is referred to Christs body, which here is referred to the Spirit of God.

g They shall turne to God by true repentance, whome before they had fogriciously offended by their ingratitude.

h They shall lament and repent exceedingly for their offences against God.

i Which was the name of a towne and place nere to Megiddo where Iosiah was slayne, 2 Chro. 35. 22. k That is, in all places where the Iewes shal remaine, l Signifying that this mourning or repentance should not be a vayne ceremony: but euery one touched with his owne griefe shal lament. m Vnder these certayne families he conteyneth all the tribes, and sheweth that both Kings & the Priests had by their finnes perced Christ. n Called also Simeon. o To wit, which were elect by grace, and preferred from the common destruction.

6 In that day wil I make the princes of Iudah like coles of fire among the wood, & like a fire bynd in the sheafe, and they shall deuoure all the people round about on the right hand, and on the left: and Jerusalem shalbe inhabited againe in her owne place, euen in Jerusalem.

7 The Lord also shall preferre the tents of Iudah, as afore time: therefore the glorie of the house of Dauid shall not boast, nor the glorie of the inhabitants of Jerusalem against Iudah.

8 In that day shall the Lorde defend the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and he that is feeble among them; in that day shalbe as Dauid: and the house of Dauid shalbe as Gods house, and as the Angel of the Lorde before them.

9 And in that day wil I seeke to destroy all the nations that come against Jerusalem.

10 And I will powre vpon the house of Dauid, and vpon the inhabitants of Jerusalem the Spirit of grace and of compassion, and they shall looke vpon me, whome they haue perced, and they shall lament for him, as one mourneth for his onely sonne, and be sayd for him as one is sayd for his first borne.

11 In that daye shall there be a great mourning in Ierusalem, as the mourning of Gadadymmon in the valley of Megiddon.

12 And the land shall betwape euerie familie apart, the familie of the house of Dauid apart, and their wiues apart: the familie of the house of Nathan apart, and their wiues apart:

13 The familie of the house of Leui apart, and their wiues apart: the familie of Simeon apart, and their wiues apart:

doles out of the land: and they shall no more be remembered: & I wil cause the prophets, and the vnclene spirit to depart out of the land.

3 And when any shall see prophetic, his father & his mother that begate him, shall say vnto him, Thou shalt not lye: for thou speakest lies in the name of the Lord: and his father & his mother shall say vnto him, that thou shalt not lye, when he hath prophesied.

4 And in that day shall the prophets be ashamed euery one of his vision, when he hath prophesied: neither shall they weare a rough garment to deceiue.

5 But he shall say, I am noe Prophet: I am an husband man: for man taught me to be an heardman from my youth vp.

6 And one shall say vnto him, What are these wounds in thine hands? Then he shall answer, Thus was I wounded in the house of my friends.

7 I will, O sword, vpon my shepheard, and vpon the man, that is my fellowe, saith the Lord of hostes: smite the shepheard, and the sheepe shall be scattered: and I will turne mine hand vpon the little ones.

8 And in all the land, saith the Lord, two parts therein shalbe cut of, and die: but the third shall be left therein.

9 And I wil bring y third part thorow the fire, and will fine them as the siluer is fined, and will trie them as golde is tried: they shall cal on my name, & I wil heare the: I wil say, It is my people, and they shall say, The Lorde is my God.

h Hereby he sheweth that though their parents and friends delt more gently with them, & put them not to death, yet they would so punish their children, that became false prophets, that the markes and signes shoulde remaine for euer. i The Prophet warneth the Iewes, that before this great comfort should come vnder Christ, there should be an horrible dispersion among the people: for their gouernours & pastors should be destroyed, & the people should be as scattered sheepe: and the Euangelist applie this to Christ, because he was the head of all Pastors, Mat. 26. 31. k The greatest part shal haue no porcion of these blessings, & yet they that shal enioy them, shalbe tried with great afflictions, so that it shalbe known that onely Gods power and his mercies do preferre them.

c Meaning, the false Prophets & teachers, who are the corrupters of all religion, whome the Prophet here calleth vnclene spirites.

d That is, when they shall prophesie lyes, & make God, who is the author of truth, a cloke thereunto.

e He sheweth what zeale the godly shall haue vnder the kingdom of Christ, Deut. 32. 6. 9.

f God shall make them ashamed of their errors and lies & bring them to repentance, and they shall no more weare Prophets apparel to make their doctrine seeme more holy.

g They shall fesse their former ignorance and be content to labour for their liuing.

i The Prophet warneth the Iewes, that before this great comfort should come vnder Christ, there should be an horrible dispersion among the people: for their gouernours & pastors should be destroyed, & the people should be as scattered sheepe: and the Euangelist applie this to Christ, because he was the head of all Pastors, Mat. 26. 31. k The greatest part shal haue no porcion of these blessings, & yet they that shal enioy them, shalbe tried with great afflictions, so that it shalbe known that onely Gods power and his mercies do preferre them.

MALACHI.

THE ARGUMENT.

This Prophet was one of the three, which God raised vp for the comfort of his Church after the captiuitie, and after him there was no more vntill Iohn Baptist was sent, which was cyther a token of Gods wrath, or an admonition that they should with more seruent desires looke for the coming of Messiah. He confirmeth the same doctrine, that the two former do, but chiefly he reproveth the Priests for their couetousnes, & for that they serued God after their owne fantasies, & not according to ^y prescript of his word. He also noteth certaine peculiar sinnes, which were then among them, as marrying of idolatrous and many wines.

murmuring against God, impaciencie, and such like. Notwithstanding, for the comfort of the godly, he declareth that God would not forget his promes made vnto their fathers, but would send Christ his messenger, in whom the covenant should be accomplished, whose coming should be terrible to the wicked, and bring all consolation and ioye vnto the godly.

C H A P. I.

A complaint against Israel and chiefly the Priestes.

a Read Isa. 1. 3. 7. I b Which declareth their great ingratitude that did not acknowledge this loue, which was so euident, in that he chose Abraham from out of all the world, and next chose Iaakob the younger brother of whom they came, and left Esau the elder.
 c For besides that 7 signes of mine hatred appeared euē when he was made seruānt vnto his younger brother, being yet in his mothers belly, and also afterward in that he was put from his birthright, yet euē now before your eyes the signes hereof are euident, in that that his country lieth waste, and he shall neuer returne to inhabit it, where as ye my people who the enemye hated more then them, are by my grace and loue toward you deliuered, reade Rom. 9. 13. d Besides the rest of the people he condemneth the Priestes chiefly, because they should haue reproofed others for their hypocisie, and obstinacy against God, and not haue hardened them by their example to greater euils. e He noteth their grosse hypocrisie, which would not see their faultes, but most impudently couered them, and sowerly blinde guides. f Ye receiue all maner offerings for your owne gridencies, and do not examine, whether they be according to my Lawe or no. g Not that they said thus, but by their doings they declared no lesse. h You make it no fault: whereby he condemneth them, that thinke it sufficient to serue God partly, as he hath commanded, and partly after mans fantasie, and so come not to that purenes of religion, which he requieth, and therefore in reproch he sheweth them that a mortall man would not be content to be so serued. i He derideth the Priestes who bare the people in hand, that they prayed for them, and sheweth that they were the occasion, that these euils came vpon the people.

1 A He burdened the word of the Lord to Israel by the ministration of Balaam.
 2 I haue loued you, saith the Lord: yet ye say, Wherein hast thou loued us? Was not Esau Jaakobs brother, saith the Lord? yet I loued Jaakob.
 3 And I hated Esau, and made his mountaines waste, and his heritage a wilderness for dragons.
 4 Though Edom say, We are impouerished, but we will returne and builde the desolate places, yet saith the Lord of hostes, they shall builde, but I will destroy it, and they shall call them, the border of wickednesse, and the people, with who the Lord is angrie for ever.
 5 And your eyes shall see it, and ye shall say, The Lord is magnified vpon the border of Israel.
 6 A soune honoureth his father, and a seruānt his master. If then I be a father, where is mine honour? and if I be a master, where is my feare, saith the Lord of hostes vnto you, O Priestes, that despise my name? and ye say, Wherein haue we despised thy name?
 7 We offer vncleane bread vpon mine altar, and you say, Wherein haue we polluted thee? In that ye say the table of the Lord is not to be regarded.
 8 And if ye offer the blinde for sacrifice, it is not euill: and if ye offer the lame and sicke, it is not euill: offer it nowe vnto thy prince: will he be content with thee: or accept thy person, saith the Lord of hostes?
 9 And nowe, I pray you, pray before God, that he may haue mercie vpon us: this hath bene by your meanes: will he regard your persons, saith the Lord of hostes?

 10 Who is there euen among you, that would shut the doores? and kundle not fire on mine altar in vaine, I haue no pleasure in you, saith the Lord of hostes, neither will I accept an offering at your hand.
 11 For from the rising of the sunne vnto the going down of the same, my name is great among the Gentiles, and in euery place incense shall be offered vnto my name, and a pure offering: for my name is great among the heathen, saith the Lord of hostes.
 12 But ye haue polluted it, in that ye say, The table of the Lord is polluted, and the fruite thereof, euen his meate is not to be regarded.
 13 Ye sayde also, Beholde, it is a wearisome, and ye haue smuffed at it, saith the Lord of hostes, and ye offered that which was toyme, and the lame and the sicke: thus ye offered an offering: should I accept this of your hand, saith the Lord?
 14 What cursed be that deceiver, which hath in his flocke a male, and bolweth, and sacrificeth vnto a Lord a corrupt thing: for I am a great King, saith the Lord of hostes, and my name is terrible among the heathen.

k Will God consider your offence and state, seeing you are so couetous, & wicked? l Because the Leuites who kept the doores, did not try whether the sacrifices that came in, were according to the Lawe, God witheth that they would rather shut the doores, then to receiue such as were not perfect: m God sheweth that their ingratitude, and neglect of his true seruice shall be the cause of the calling of the Gentiles: & here the Prophet y was vnder the Lawe framed his wordes to the capacite of the people, and by the altar and sacrifice he meaneth the spiritual seruice of God, which should be vnder the Gospell, when an end should be made to all these legall ceremonies by Christes onely sacrifice.

 n Both the Priestes, and the people were infected with this error, that they passed not what was offered: for they thought that God was as well content with the leane as with the fatte: but in the meane season they shewed not that obedience to God, which he required, and so committed both impietie, and also shewed their contempt of God, and couetousnesse. o The Priestes and people were both wearie with seruing God, and passed not what maner of sacrifice and seruice they gaue to God, for that which was left profitable, was thought good ynough for the Lorde. p That is, hath habitie to serue the Lord according to his worde, and yet will serue him according to his couetous minde.

C H A P. II.

Threatnings against the Priestes being seducers of the people.

1 And nowe, O ye Priestes, this a commandment is for you.
 2 If ye will not heare it, nor consider it in your heart, to giue glorie vnto my name, saith the Lord of hostes, I will euen send a curse vpon you, and will curse your blessings: yea, I haue cursed them already, because ye do not consider it in your heart.
 3 Beholde, I will corrupt your seede, and cast dung vpon your faces, 4 Your seede sown shall come to no profite.

a He speaketh vnto them chiefly, but vnder them he conceieth the people also. b To serue me according to my worde. c That is, the abundance of Gods benefites, e You boast of your holines, sacrifices & feasts, but they shall turne to your shame, and be as vile as dogue.

f The Priests objected against the Prophet that he could not reprome them, but he must speake against y^e priest-hood, & the office established of God by promise, but he sheweth, that y^e office is nothing slandered, when these vilaines & dogue are called by their owne names.

g He sheweth what were the two conditions of the covenant made with the tribe of Leui, on Gods part, that he would giue them long life & felicitie, and on their part, that they should faithfully serue him according to his word.

h I preferred Leui a certaine law to serue me. i He serued me and set forth my glory with all humilitie and submission.

k He sheweth that the Priest ought to haue knowledge to instruct other in the word of the Lord. l He is as the treasure house of Gods word and ought to giue to euery one according to their necessitie, and not to reserve it for himselfe. m Shewing, that whosoever doeth not declare Gods will, is not his messenger, and Priest. n The Prophet accuseth the ingratitude of the Lewes toward God & mā: for seeing they were all borne of one father Abraham, & God had elected them to be his holy people, they cught neither to offend God nor their brethren. o Whereby they had bounde themselves to God to be an holy people. p They haue ioyned themselves in marriage with them that are of another religion.

q That is, the Priests. r Ye cause the people to lament, because that God doeth not regarde their sacrifices, so that they seeme to sacrifice in vayne. s This is another fault, whereof hee accuseth them, that is, that they brake the lawes of marriage. t As the one halfe of thy selfe. u She that was ioyned to thee by a solemne covenant, & by the inuocation of Gods Name, 15 And did not * he make one? yet had he x abundance of spirite: and wherefore y^e because he sought a godly leede: therefore keepe your selues in pour * spirit: & let none trespass against the wife of his youth.

16 If thou hatest her, b put her awaye, sayeth the Lord God of Israel, yet he couereth * the mire under his garment, sayeth the Lord of hostes: therefore keepe your selues in pour spirit, and transgress not.

17 Ye haue d wearied the Lord with your wordes: yet ye sape, Wherein haue we wearied him? When ye sape, euery one that * doeth euill, is good in the sight of the Lord, and he deliureth in them. W here is the God of iudgement?

your boundes, and be sober in minde, & bridle your affections. b Not that he doeth allow diuorcement, but of the two faults he sheweth, which is the lesse. c He thinketh it sufficient to keepe his wife still, albeit he take others, and so as it were couereth his fault. d Ye murmured against God, because he heard not you as soone as ye called. e In thinking that God fauoured the wicked, & hath no respect to them that serue him. f Thus they blasphemed God in condemning his power and iustice, because he iudged not according to their fantasies.

CHAP. III.

1 Of the messenger of the Lord, Iohn Baptist, and of Christs office.

1 B Choise, I will send my^a messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me: and the^b Lord whom ye seeke, shall speedily come to his Temple: euen the^c messenger of the covenant whom ye desire: behold, he shall come, sayeth the Lord of hostes.

2 But who^d may abide the dape of his coming: and who shall endure, when he appeareth? for hee is like a purging fire, and like fullers soape.

3 And he shall sit downe to trye and fine the siluer: he shall euen fine the sonnes of * Leui, and purifie them as gold and siluer, that they may bring offerings vnto the Lord in righteousnes.

4 Then shall the offerings of Iudah and Jerusalem bee acceptable vnto the Lorde, as in olde time and in the pres afoie.

5 And I will come nere to you to indgement, and I will be a swift witness against the soothsayers, and against the adulterers, and against false swearers, and against those that wrongfullie keepe backe the hirelings wages, and vex the widow and the fatherlesse, and oppresse the stranger, and feare not me, sayeth the Lord of hostes.

6 For I am the Lord: I change not, and ye sonnes of Iacob^e are not consumed.

e He beginneth at y^e Priests that they might be lights & shine vnto others. f They murmured against God, because they saw not his helpe euer present to defend them: and therefore hee accuseth them of ingratitude, and sheweth that in that they are not dayly consumed, it is a token, that hee doeth still defend them: and so his mercy toward them neuer changeth.

g Reade Zeck. 7 From the daies of your fathers, ye are gone away from mine ordinances, and haue not kept them: s returne vnto me, and I will returne vnto you, saith the Lord of hostes: but ye said, Wherem shall we returne?

8 Wil a man spoile his gods? yet haue ye spoiled me: but ye say, Wherem haue we spoiled thee? In i riches, & offerings.

9 Ye are curst with a curse: for ye haue spoiled me, euen this whole nation.

10 Wring ye all the tythes into the storehouse that there may be meat in mine House, & yowen me now herewith, saith the Lord of hostes, if I wil not open the window of heauen vnto you, & poure you out a blessing without measure.

11 And I wil rebuke þe deuourer for your sakes, and he shall not destroy the fruite of your ground, neither shall your vine be bare in the ficke, saith the Lord of hostes.

12 And all nations shall call you blessed: for ye shall be a pleasant lande, saith the Lord of hostes.

13 Pour wordes haue bene stoune against me, saith the Lord: yet ye sape, What haue we spoken against thee?

14 Ye haue saide, It is in vaine to serue God: and what profit is it that we haue kept his commandement, & that we walked humbly before the Lord of hostes?

15 Therefore we count the proud blessed: euen they that worke wickednes, are set by, and they that tempt God, yea, they are deliuered.

16 Then spake they that feared þe Lord, euerie one to his neighbour, & the Lord hearkened and heard it, and a booke of remembrance was written before him for them that feared the Lord, and that thought vpon his Name.

17 And they shall be to me, saith the Lord of hostes, in that daie: that I shall doe this, for a stocke, and I wil spare them, as a man spareth his owne sonne that serueth him.

18 Then shall you returne, & discern betwene the righteous and wicked, & bewene him that serueth God, and him that serueth him not.

CHAP. III.

The day of the Lord, before the which Elishah should come.

1 For behold, the daie cometh that I shall burne as an ouen, and all theye youde, yea, and all that do wickedly, shall be stubble, and the day that cometh, I shall burne them up, saith the Lord of hostes, and shall leaue them, neither roote nor bianche.

2 But vnto you that feare my Name, shall the sunne of righteousnes arise, and health shall be vnder his wings, and ye shall go forth, and growe up as fat calves.

3 And ye shall treade downe the wicked: for theye shall be dust vnder the soles of your feete in the day that I, shall do this, saith the Lord of hostes.

4 Remember the law of Moses my seruant, which I commaunded vnto him in Horeb for al Israel with the statutes and iudgements.

5 Behold, I will send you Eliah the Prophet before the comming of the great and feareful day of the Lord.

6 And he shall turne the heart of the fathers to the chyldren, and the heart of the chyldren to their fathers, lest I come and smite the earth with cursing.

him: whereby he regenerateth vs into righteousnes, clenseth vs from the filch of this world, and reformeth vs to the image of God. c Ye shall be set at liberty and increase in the ioy of the Spirit, 2. Cor. 3. 17. d Because the tyme was come that the Iewes shoulde be defitute of Prophets vntil the tyme of Christ, because they shoulde with more feruent myndes desire his comyng, the Prophet exhorted them to exercise themselves diligently in studying the Lawe of Moses in the meane season, whereby they might continue in the true religion & also be armed against all tentations. e This Christ expoundeth of Iohn Baptist, Matth. 11. 13, 14. who both for his zeale, and restoring of religion is aptly compared to Eliah. f Which as it is true for the wicked, so doth it waken the godly and cal them to repentance. g He sheweth wherin Iohns office should stand: in the turning of men to God and ioyning the father & children in one vnite of faith: so that the father shall turne to the religion of his sonne which is conuerted to Christ, and the sonne shall embrace the faith of the true fathers, Abraham, Izhak & Iaakob. h The second point of his office was to denounce Gods iudgements against them that would not receiue Christ.

The end of the Prophets.

APOCRYPHA.

THE ARGUMENT.

These bookes that follow in order after the Prophetes vnto the New Testament, are called APOCRYPHA, that is, bookes, which were not received by a common consent to be read and expounded publicly in the Church, neither yet serued to proue any point of Christian religion, save in as much as they had the consent of the other Scriptures called Canonicall to confirme the same, or rather whereon they were grounded: but as bookes proceeding from godly men, were received to be read for the advancement and furtherance of the knowledge of the historie, & for the instruction of godly maners: which bookes declare that at all times God had an especiall care of his Church, and left them not vterly destitute of teachers and meanes to confirme them in the hope of the promised Mesiiah, and also witnesseth that those calamities that God sent to his Church, were according to his providence, who had both fore- threatened by his Prophetes, and so brought it to passe for the destruction of their enimies, and for the tryall of his children.

1 AND Iosias kepte the Passouer to his Lord in Ierusalem, and offered the passouer in the fourteenth day of the first moneth,

2 And appointed the Priests according to their daily courses, being clothed with long garmentes in the Temple of the Lord.

3 And he spake to the Leuites the holy ministers of Israel, that they shoulde sanctifie them selues to the Lord, to set the holy Arke of the Lord in the House, which Salomon the sonne of King Dauid had built.

4 And said, We shall no more beare the Arke vpon your shoulders: now therefore serue the Lord your God, and take the charge of his people of Israel, and prepare according to your families & tribes,

5 After the writing of Dauid King of Israel, and according to the maner of Salomon his sonne, and stand in the temple (according to the order of the dignitie of your fathers the Leuites) which were appointed before your brethren the children of Israel.

6 Offer in order the Passouer, & make ready the sacrifices for your brethren, & keepe the Passouer after the Lords commandement given to Moyses.

7 And Iosias gaue to the people that was present, thirtie thousand lambes & kids with thre thousand calues.

8 These were given of the Kings possessions according to the promise, to the people, and to the Priests, and to the Leuites. Then gaue Helkias and Zacharias & Sphelus the gouernours of the Temple, to the Priests for the Passouer two thousand sheepe, & thre hundred calues

9 Furthermoze, Iechonias, and Samaias, and Nathanael his brethren, & Dabias, and Chelus, and Joiam captaines gaue to the Leuites for the Passouer five thousand five hundred sheepe, and seven hundred calues.

10 And when these things were done, the Priests and the Leuites, stode in order, hauing binleuened bread according to the tribes,

11 And after the order of the dignitie of their fathers, before the people to offer to the Lord, as it is written in the books of Moyses: & thus they did in the morning.

12 And they roasted the Passouer with fire as appointed, and they sod their offerings with perfumes in caldrons & pottes.

13 And set it before all them that were of the people, & afterwarde they prepared for them selues, & for the Priests their brethren the sonnes of Aaron.

14 For the Priests offered the fat vnto the evening, & the Leuites did make ready for them selues, and for the Priests their brethren the sonnes of Aaron.

15 And the holy singers, the sonnes of Asaph, were in their orders, according to the appointed ordinance of Dauid, to wit, Asaph, and Asarias, and Eddius, which was of the Kings appointment.

16 And the porters were at euery gate,

So that it was not lawfull, that any shuld passe his ordinarie watch: for their brethen the Leuites made readie for them.

17 And in that day those things which appertained to the sacrifice of the Lord, were accomplished, that they might offer the Passouer,

18 And offer sacrifices vpon the altar of the Lord, according to the commaun-dement of King Josias.

19 So the children of Israel, which were present at that time, kept the Passouer and the feast of vnleavened bread seven dayes.

20 And there was not such a Passouer kept in Israel since the time of Samuell the Prophet.

21 And all the Kinges of Israel did not offer such a Passouer, as did Josias, and the puekies, and the Leuites, and the Jewes, and all Israel, which were found to remaine in Ierusalem.

22 In the eighteenth yeare of the reigne of Josias was this Passouer kept.

23 The workes of Josias were upright before his Lord with a heart full of gods truste.

24 And concerning the things which came to passe in his time, they are written before, to wit, of those that sinned and did wickedly against the Lord, aboute erie nation and kingdome, and grieved him with sensible things, so the wordes of the Lord stode by against Israel.

25 Nowe after all these actes of Josias, it came to passe that when Pharaos King of Egypt came to moue warre at Earchamis vppon Euphrates, Josias went out against him.

26 But the king of Egypt sent to him, saying, What haue I to doe with thee,
O King of Iudea?

27 I am not sent of the Lord God against thee: but my warre is vpon Euphrates, and nowe the Lord is with mee, and the Lord hatheneth me forward: departe from me, and be not against the Lord.

28 But Josias woulde not turne backe his chariot from him, but prepared him selfe to fight with him, not regarding the wordes of Ieremias the Pro-phete by the mouth of the Lord.

29 But he set him selfe in battell aray against him in the fieldes of Megeddo, and the Phinces came downe to King Josias.

30 And the King saide to his seruantes, conuay me out of the battell, for I am verie weake. And by and by his ser-uantes brought him out of the battell.

31 So he gat vppon his seconde chariot, and being come againe to Ierusalem he changed his life, and was buried in his fathers graue.

32 And in all Iudea was Josias he-warled, for, Ieremias the Prophete did lament for Josias, and the gover-nours and other wiues did lament him unto this day: and this was ordeined in all the kindred of Israel, to be done continually.

33 But these things are written in the booke of the stoures of the Kinges of Judea, and euerie one of the actes that Jo-sias did, and his glorie, and his knowledge in the lawe of the Lord, and the things which hee did before, and the things nowe rehearsed are registred in the booke of the Kinges of Israel and Iudea.

34 Then they of the nation tooke * Joaschas the sonne of Josias, and made him king in steade of his father Josias, wher he was thre and twentie yeare olde.

35 And he reigned in Iudea and in Ierusalem thre monethes: for the King of Egypt deposed him from reigning in Ierusalem.

36 He tared also the people of an hundred talents of siluer, and one talent of golde.

37 And the King of Egypt made Joas-chim his brother King of Iudea and Jerusalem,

38 And he bounde Joachaz and his gouernours: but when he had taken Zaraces his brother, he led him away into Egypt.

39 Twentie and five yeare old was Joachim, when he reigned in Iudea and Jerusalem, and he did euill in the sight of the Lord.

40 Wherefore against him came by Na-buchodonosor King of Babylon, who when he had bound him with a chaine of brasse, lead him away into Babylon.

41 Then Nabuchodonosor tooke of the holie vessels of the Lord, and carried them away, and set them in his Temple at Babylon.

42 But all his actes, & his prophanation, and his reproch are written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kinges.

43 And Joachim his sonne reigned for him: and when he was made King, hee was eightene yeare old.

44 And he raigned thre monethes and tenne dayes in Ierusalem, and hee did euill in the sight of the Lord.

45 So a yeare after Nabuchodonosor sent & brought him to Babylon with the holie vessels of the Lord.

46 And he made Sedecias King of Judea and Ierusalem, when he was one and twentie yeare old, and he reigned eleuen yeares.

47 And hee did euill in the sight of the Lord, neither did he feare the wordes spoken by Ieremias the Pro-phete from the mouth of the Lord.

48 For after that he was sworne to King Nabuchodonosor, he forswore him selfe by the name of the Lord and fell as way, and hardened his necke and his hearte, and transgressed the lawes of the Lord God of Israel.

the Priests committed many things against the Lawes, and palled all the pollutions of all nations, and polluted the Temple of the Lord, which was sanctified in Jerusalem.

30 Nevertheless the God of their fathers sent his messengers to call them backe, because he spared them and his owne Tabernacle.

31 But they derided his messengers, and in the day, that the Lord spake unto them, they mocked his prophets.

32 So that he, being moued to anger against his people for their great wickednesse, commaunded the kings of the Chaldeans to invade them.

33 These killed their young men with the sword round about their holie Temple, neither did they spare young man, nor maiden, neither olde man, nor childe among them.

34 But he deliuered them all into their handes, and all the holie vessels of the Lord, both greate and small with the vessels of the Arke of God: and they tooke, and carried away the kings treasures into Babylon.

35 And they set fire in the House of the Lord, and brake downe the wallles of Jerusalem, and burnt their towers with fire.

36 They consumed also all the precious things thereof, and brought them to naught, and those that were left by the sword, he carried away into Babylon.

37 And they were seruantes to him, and to his children till the Persians reigned, to fulfill the worde of the Lord by the mouth of Jeremias, 38 And that the land might inioye her Sabbathes all the time, that it was desolate, till seuentie yeares were accomplished.

Ezra. 1. 10

1 In the first yeare of the reigne of Cyrus king of the Persians, to fulfill the word of the Lord by the mouth of Jeremias,

2 The Lord raised by the spirit of Cyrus king of the Persians, and he made proclamation throughout all his kingdome, euen by euill letters,

3 Saying, Thus saith Cyrus King of the Persians, The Lord of Israel, euen the most high Lord, hath made me king ouer the whole worlde,

4 And he hath commaunded me to build him an house in Jerusalem, which is in Iudaea.

5 If there be any therefore of you of his people, let the Lord, euen his Lord be with him, and let him go by to Jerusalem, which is in Iudaea, and builde the House of the Lord of Israel: he is the Lord which dwelleth in Jerusalem.

6 All they then that dwell in the places round about, those, I say, that are in his place, let them helpe him with gold and siluer,

7 With giftes, with horses and cattell, and other things, which shal be brought, according to the bowes into the Temple of the Lord, which is in Jerusalem.

8 If then arole the cheefe of the families of Iudaea, and of the tribe of Benjamin, and the Priests and Leuites, and all whole munde the Lord had moued to go by, and builde an House to the Lord in Jerusalem,

9 And those that were about them, helpe them in all things with siluer and golde, horses, and cattell, and with diuers bowes of many whole munde were stirred by.

10 Also King Cyrus brought out the holie vessels of the Lord, which Nabuchodonosor had carried out of Jerusalem, & had consecrated them in the Temple of his idols.

11 Now when Cyrus King of the Persians had brought them out, he deliuered them to Mithridates his treasurer, 12 By whome they were giuen to Nabassar the gouernour of Iudaea.

13 Whereof this was the number: a thousand golden cypres, and a thousand siluer cypres, basins of siluer for the sacrifices, nine and twentie vials, of golde thirtie, and of siluer two thousand, foure hundred and ten, and a thousand other vessels.

14 So all the vesselles of golde and siluer, which they carried away, were two thousand, foure hundred, thye scoe and nine.

15 They were brought by Sanabassar with them of the captiuitie of Babylon to Jerusalem.

16 In the time of Artaverres King of the Persians, Belemus, and Mithridates, and Tabellus, and Nathinnus, and Beelrethmus, and Demetrius the secretarie, and others which were appointed to these, dwelling in Samaria and in other places, wrote vnto him this epistle here following against them, that dwelt in Iudaea and Jerusalem, To the King Artaverres

OVER LORDE,

17 Thy seruantes, Nathinnus the writer of things that come to passe, and Demetrius the secretarie, and the rest of their counsell, and the Iudges which are in Coelospria and Idhence.

18 We it now therefore knowen to our Lord the King, that the Jewes which came bype from you, are come to vs into Jerusalem, that rebellous and wicked cite, and builde the Marker places, and make by the wallles thereof, and lay the foundations of the Temple.

19 Therefore if this cite be built, and mus.

the walles be finished, they will not ones ly not indure to pay tribute, but will also resist Kinges.

20 And because the things pertaining to the Temple, go forward, we thought it not meete to passe ouer such a thing.

21 But to declare it to our Lord the King, that if it be thy pleasure, it may be sought out in the booke of thy fathers,

22 And thou shalt finde in the Chronicles the writings concerning these things, and shalt knowe that this cite did alwayes rebell, & did trouble both Kinges and cities,

23 And that the Jewes are rebellious, raising alwayes warres therein: for the which cause also this cite was made desolate.

24 Now therefore, O Lord the King, we declare it, that if this cite be built and the walles thereof repaired, you shall haue no more passage into Coelospria, nor Phenice.

25 ¶ Then the King wrote againe to Rathumus, that wrote the things that came to passe, and to Belsethimus, and to Samellus the secretarie, and to the rest of thye that were ioynd with them, and to the dwellers of Samaria, Syrta and Phenice, these things that followe.

26 I haue read the epistle, which ye sent to me: therefore I commaunded, that it shoud be sought out, and it was found, that this cite hath alwayes practised against Kinges,

27 And that the men thereof were given to rebellion and warres, and how that mightie Kinges and fierce haue reigned in Jerusalem, which tooke tribute of Coelospria, and Phenice.

28 Now therefore I haue commaunded to forbid these men to builde vpon the cite, and that it be taken heede that no more
be done,

29 And that those wicked things, which shoud molest the King, go not forward.

30 Then when Rathumus, and Semellus the secretarie and the rest, which were ioynd with them, had read the things, which King Artareres had written,
then moued their tentes with spede to Jerusalem with hoyses and men in aray,

31 And began to let them which built, so that the building of the Temple in Jerusalem ceased vnto the second yeare of the reigne of Darius King of the Persians.

CHAP. III.

1. The feast of Darius, 16. The three wise sentences.

INOW when Darius reigned, he made a great feast to all his subiects and to all those of his owne house, and to all the Princes of Media and Persia,

2 And to all the gouernours and captaines, and lieutenants that were with him, from India vnto Ethiopia of an hundredth and tenen and twentie prouinces.

3 And when they had eaten and drinke, and were satified, they departed, & King Darius went into his chamber, and slept, till he wakened againe.

4 ¶ In the meane time thre pong men of the garde, keepers of the Kinges body, saide one to another.

5 Let euerie one of vs speake a sentence, and he that shall ouercome, and whose sentence shall appeare wiser then the others, Darius the King shall giue him great giftes, and great things in token of victorie,

6 As to weare purple, and to drinke in golde, and to sleepe in gold, and a chariot with bydles of golde, an head tye of fine linen, and a chame about his necke.

7 And he shall sit next to Darius for his wisdom, and shall be called Darius cousin.

8 Then euery man wrote his sentence and sealed it, and put it vnder the pillow of King Darius,

9 And saide, when the King rose, they would giue him the writing, and whose sentence the King and the thre Princes of Persia should iudge to be wisest, to him shoud the victorie be giuen, as it was appointed.

10 One wrote, The wine is strongest.

11 The other wrote, The King is strong-gest.

12 The other wrote, Women are strong-gest, but trueth ouercommeth all things.

13 And when the King rose, they tooke the writings and gaue them to him, and he read them,

14 And sent and called all the noble men of Persia and of Media, and the gouer-nours and the captaynes, & lieutenants, and the consuls,

15 And sae him downe in the counsel, and the writing was read before them.

16 Then he sayde, Call the pong men, that they may declare their owne sentences. So they called them, and they came in.

17 Then he saide vnto them, Declare vns to vs the writings. So the first began, which had spoke of the strength of wine,

18 And saide on this manner, O ye men, how strong is wine! it deceneth all men that drinke it.

19 It maketh the minde of the King and of the fatherlesse both one, of the bonde man & of the free man, of the poore man and of the riche man.

20 It turneth also euerie thought into ioy and gladnesse, so that one remembereth no maner of sorrow, nor dette.

21 It maketh euerie heare riche, so that one remembereth neither King nor gouer-nour, and causeth to speake all things by talents.

22 When men haue drunke, they haue no minde to loue either friends or brethren, and a little after they drawe out swoides,

*Or, pounds.

23 But when they are from the wine, they doe not remember what they haue done.

24 O pe men, is not wine strongest, which compelleth to doe such thinges: and he held his peace when he had thus spoken.

CHAP. IIII.

Of the strength of a King. 13. Of the strength of a woman. 34. Of the strength of traue, which sentence is approved. 47. And his petition granted.

1 Then the seconde which had spoken of the strength of the king, began to say,

2 O pe men, are not men strongest, which beare rule by lande and by sea, and oener all thinges which are in them?

3 But the king is yet greater: for hee ruleth al thinges, and is Lord of them, so that they doe all thinges which he commaundeth them.

4 If he bid them make warre one against another, they doe it: if he sende them out against the enemies, they goe and breake downe mountaines & walses and towers.

5 They kill and are killed, & do not passe the commandement of the king: if they overcome, they bring all to the king, aswell the spoiles as all other thinges:

6 And those also which goe not to warre and battell, but till the earth: for when they haue sowne it againe, they reape it, and bring it to the king, and compell one another to pay tribute to the king.

7 Yet he is but one man: if he bid, kill, they kill: if he say spare, they spare.

8 If he bid, Dime, they dime: if he bid them, Make desolate, they make desolate: if he bid Build, they build.

9 If he bid, Cut of, they cut of: if he bid, Plant, they plant.

10 Do all his propie and all his armies obey one man: in the meane while hee stretcheth downe, hee eateth, and drinketh and sleepeth.

11 For these keepe him rounde about: neither can anye one goe and do his owne businesse, neither are they disobedient vnto him.

12 O pe men, howe should not the king be strongest, seeing he is thus obeyed! So he held his tongue.

13 ¶ Then the thirde which had spoken of women & of the truth (this was Zerobabel) began to speake.

14 O pe men, neither the mightie king, nor many men nor wine is strongest: who then ruleth them or hath dominion ouer them? are they not women?

15 Women haue borne the king, and all the people which beare rule by sea and by land.

16 Euen of them were they borne, and they nourished them, which planted the vines, of which the wine is made.

17 They also make mens garments and make men honourable, neither can men be without women. 18 And if they haue gathered together gold and siluer, or any goodly thing, doe they not loue a faire and beautifull woman?

19 Doe they not leaue all those thinges & giue the selues wholly vnto her, & gaze vpon her, & al men desire her more the gold or siluer, or any precious thing?

20 A man leaureth his own father which hath nourished him, and his own countrie, and is topned with his wife.

21 And for the woman hee jeopardeth his life, and neither remembereth father nor mother nor countrie.

22 Therefore by this pe map know that the women beare rule ouer you: doe ye not labour and traue, and giue & bring all to the women?

23 Pea, a man raketh his sworde and goeth forth to kill and to steale, and to saile vpon the sea, and vpon riuers,

24 And he seeth a lion and goeth in dareskenesse, and when he hath stolen, razished and spoiled, he bringeth it to his loue.

25 Wherefore a man loneth his own wife more then father or mother.

26 Pea, many haue runne mad for women, and haue bene seruantes for them.

27 Danie also haue perished and haue erred and sined for women.

28 Howe therefore doe you not beloueme: is not the king great in his power? doe not all regions feare to touch him?

29 Yet I saue him & Spaine, the kings concubine, the daughter of the famous Bactacus, sitting on the right hande of the king.

30 And shee tooke the crowne of the Kings heade, and put it vpon her owne, and strooke the king with her left hande.

31 Yet in the meane season the king gaped and gazed on her: and if she laughed at him, he laughed: and if she were angry with him, he did flatter her that he might be reconciled with her.

32 Howe then, O pe men, are not women more strong, seeing they do thus?

33 ¶ Then the king and the Princes looked one vpon another, and hee began to speake of the truth.

34 O pe men, are not women stronger? great is the earth, and the heauen is hee, & the sunne is swift in his course: for he runneth round about heauen in one day, and runneth againe into his own place.

35 Is not hee great that maketh these thinges: therefore the truth is greater and stronger then all.

36 All the earth calleth for truth, and the heauen bleaseth it: and all thinges are shaken and tremble, neither is there anye vniuersall thing with it.

37 The wine is wicked, the king is wicked, women are wicked, and all the children of men are wicked, and all their wicked workes are such, and there is no truth in them, and they perish in their iniquitie.

38 But truth both abide, and is strong for euer, and dureth and reigneth for euer and euer.

39 With her there is no receiving of persons nor difference: but she doeth the things which are iust, and abstaineth from vniuersall and wicked things, and all men fauour her workes.

40 Neither is there any vniuersall thing in her iudgement, and she is the strength and maiestie of all ages. Blessed be the God of truth.

41 So he ceased to speake, and then all the people cried and saide then, Truth is great and strongest.

42 Then the king saide vnto him, What what thou wilt besides that which is appointed, and we will giue it thee, because thou arte found the wisest, & thou shalt haue libertie to sit by me, and shalt be called my cousin.

43 ¶ Then he saide to the king, Remember the vowe that thou hast vowed to builde Jerusalem, in the day that thou tookest the kingdome.

44 And to seide againe all the vessels that were taken out of Jerusalem, whiche Cyrus set aparte when he made a vowe to cut off Babylon, and vowed to send them thither.

45 Thou also hast vowed to builde the Temple, which the Idumeans burnt whē Judea was destroyed by the Chaldeans.

46 And nowe O Lorde the king, this is that which I desire and require of thee, and this is the magnificence, which I require of thee: I require therefore that thou wouldest accomplish the vowe which thou hast vowed with thine owne mouth to doe to the King of Heavens.

47 ¶ The king Darius rising by kissed him, and wrote him letters to all his stewards and lieutenantes, and captaynes, and gouernours, that they shoulde bring on the way both him, and all that were with him, which went by to builde Jerusalem.

48 And he wrote letters to all the lieutenantes in Coelospria and Phoenice, and to them that were in Libanus, that they shoulde bring cedar wood from Libanus to Jerusalem, and builde the citie with them.

49 And he wrote for all the Jewes, which went by out of the kingdome vnto Judea, concerning their libertie, that no prince, nor lieutenant, nor gouernour, nor seruante shoulde enter into their houses.

50 And that all the region which they kepte, shoulde pay no tribute, and that the Idumeans shoulde let go the villages of the Jewes which they helde.

51 And that euery pere there shoulde be giuen for the building of the Temple twentie talents until it were built.

52 And to mainteine the burnt offerings vpon the altar euery day (as they had a continuance to offer sentence) other true talents euery peare.

53 And that all they which went from Babylon to builde the Citie, shoulde haue libertie, as well they as their posteritie, and all the Priestes that went away.

54 He wrote also as touching the charges, and the Priestes garment, wherem they shoulde minister.

55 And he wrote that they shoulde giue the Levites their charges until the house were finished, and Jerusalem builde.

56 Also he wrote that they shoulde giue pensions and wages to them that kept the citie.

57 And he sent away all the vessels whiche Cyrus had set aparte out of Babylon, and what soeuer Cyrus had commaunded to doe, he also commaunded to doe it, and to sende to Jerusalem.

58 And when the going man was gone south, he liue by his face to heauen towards Jerusalem, and gaue thanks to the King of heauen, 59 Saying, O thou is the victorie, and of thee is wisdom, and of thee is glorie, and I am thy seruant.

60 Blessed be thou which hast giuen me wisdom: for vnto thee I acknowledge it, O Lorde of our fathers.

61 So he took the letters and went out and came to Babylon, and telled all his brethren.

62 And they blessed the God of their fathers, because he had giuen them freedom and libertie.

63 To goe by and to builde Jerusalem, and the Temple, where his name is renowned, and they reioiced with instruments of musicke and ioy, seven dayes.

35 All the ministers of the Temple, & the sonnes of the seruantes of Salomon, were three hundredy, seuentie and two.

36 They came by from Thersuleth and Waauij, They Thersas : Saraathalat and Halar leasding them.

37 Neither could they shew their fan-ties nor their stocke how they were of Israel, the sonnes of Laban the sonne of Ban, the sonnes of Laban the sonne of hundred fiftie and two.

38 And of the Priestes those which exercised the office of Priestes, and were not found, the sonnes of Othia, the sonnes of Accos, the sonnes of Addus,* which had taken for wife Augia, one of the daughters of Berselaus.

39 And was called after his name, & whe the description of the hundred of these men had bene sought in the register, and could not be found, they were set apart from the office of Priestes.

40 For Neemias and Artharias saide to them, that they should not be partakers of the holy things, till there arose an he Priest clothed with doctrine and truth.

41 So all they of Israel from them of twelve pere old and litle children, were fourtie thousand besides men seruants & women seruants, two thousand, three hundred and sixtie.

42 Their seruants and handmaids were seuen thousand, three hundred, fourtie & seuen: the singing men and women, two hundred, fourtie and five:

43 Camels, four hundred, thirtie and five: and horses, seuen hundred, thirtie and five: mules, two hundred, fourtie and five: beastes that bare the yoke, five thousand, five hundred, twentie & five.

44 And there were of the gouernours aster their families, which when they were come to the Temple in Jerusalem, bowed to build the house in his owne place
according to their power,

45 And to give to the treasure of works, a thousand pound in golde, and five thousand pound in siluer, and an hundred priestlie garments.

46 And the Priestes and the Leuites and the people dwelt in Jerusalem and in the countrie, and the holie singers and the poeters and all Israel in their villages.

47 ¶ But when the seventh moneth was nere, and when the children of Israel were euerie one at home, they were all gathered together with one accord into the open place of the first gate, which is toward the East.

48 Then Iesus the sonne of Josedec and his brethren the Priestes, with Zozaba-bel the sonne of Salathiel and his bres-thren, rising by, made ready the altar of the God of Israel,

49 To offer burnt offerings vpon it according as it is written in the booke of Moses the man of God.

50 Whither also there were gathered as gainst them of all nations of the land:
but they dressed the altar in his owne place, although all the nations of the land were their enemies and bered them, and they offered sacrifices according to the reason, and burnt offerings to the Lorde, morning and evening.

51 They kept also the feast of tabernacles, as it is ordained in the Law, and offered sacrifices euerie day, as was requisite,

Leui. 23. 34

52 And afterward, the continuall oblatious and offerings of the Sabbathys and of the new moneths & of all holie feastes.

53 ¶ And all they which had made any vow to God, began to offer sacrifice vnto God in the first day of the seventh mo-neth, although the temple of God was not yet built.

Ezra. 3. 8.

54 They gaue also money to the masons and to the workemen, and meate & drinke with gladnesse.

55 And Charcts to the Sidonians and to those of Cyprus to bring cedar wood out of Libanus, which should be brought by flots to the haven of Ioype according to the commandement giuen vnto them by Cyrus King of Persia.

56 And in the second pere and second mo-neth came into the Temple of God in Jerusalem, Zozobabel the sonne of Salathiel, and Iesus the sonne of Josedec, & their brethren, and the priestes and Le-uites, and all they that came out of captivity into Jerusalem.

57 And laide the foundation of the house of God in the first day of the second mo-neth of the second pere after their returne into Iudea, and Jerusalem.

Ecc. 49. 13

58 And they appointed the Leuites from twentie yeare old ouer the workes of the Lorde, and Iesus and his sonne, and his brethren, and his brother Cadmiel, and the sonnes of Jhadiabon with h sonnes of Joda, the sonne of Heliam, with their sonnes, and brethren, euen all the Leuites with one accord did follow aster the worke, calling vpon the workes in the house of God: thus the workes men built the temple of the Lorde.

59 And the Priestes stood clothed with their long garments with muscal instrumentes and trumpets, and the Leuites the sonnes of Asaph with cymbales,

60 Singing & blessing the Lorde, according to the ordinance of Dauid king of Israel.

61 And they sung with lowd voyce songs to the praise of the Lorde, because his mercie and glorie is for euer in all Israel.

62 Then all the people blew trumpets, and cried with lowde voyce, prapping the Lorde for the raising vp of the house of the Lorde.

63 Also some of the Priestes and Leuites, & these men, to wit, the Ancients which had seene the former House,

64 Came to see the building of this with weeping & great crying, & many with trumpets & some cried with lowd voyce,

65 So that the people could not heare the trumpets, because of the weeping of the people: yet there was a great multitude that blew trumpets so that they were heard farre off.

66 ¶ Wherefore when the enemies of the tribes of Juda and Benjamin heard it, they came to know what noise of trumpets

Ezra. 3. 10.

Sebatiar, which is a tower in the region of Media, a place where such things were layde by for memorie.

- 24 In the first yere of the reigne of Cyrus, King Cyrus commanded the house of the Lord at Jerusalem to be builded, where they did sacrifice with the continuall fire.
- 25 Of the which the height should be of three score cubites, the breadth of three score cubites with three rowes of hewen stones, and one rowe of newe wood of that countrey, and that the costs should be payd out of the house of King Cyrus.
- 26 And that the holie vessels of the house of the Lord, as well those of gold as of silver, which Nabuchodonosor had caried out of the house in Jerusalem, and brought into Babylon, should be restored to the house, which is in Jerusalem, and set in the place where they were afore.
- 27 Also he commanded that Sissines, governour of Syria and Phenicie, and Sathrabouzanes, and their companions, & those which were constitute captaynes in Syria & Phenicie, should take heede to refrain from that place, and to suffer Zorobabell the servant of the Lord, and governour of Iudaea, and the elders of the Jewes to build that house of the Lord in that place.
- 28 And I also have commanded to build it cleane by againe, and that they be diligent to helpe therein of the captiuitie of the Jewes, till the house of the Lord be finished,
- 29 And that some part of the tribute of Coelosyria and Phenicie should be diligently given to these men for sacrifice unto the Lord, and to Zorobabel the governour, for bulles, rams, and lambes:
- 30 Also come, and salt, and wine, and oyle continually every yere without faile, as the Priests, which are in Jerusalem shall testifie to be spent every day,
- 31 That offerings may be made to the hie God for the King, & his children, & that they may pray for their liues,
- 32 Furthermore he commanded that whosoever should transgresse any thing afore spoken of written, or derogate any thing thereof, that a tree should be taken out of his possession, and he be hanged thereon, and that his goods should be the Kings.
- 33 And therefore let the Lord whose name is there called vpon, deliuer every King and nation, which stretcheth out his hand to hinder or do euill to that house of the Lord which is in Jerusalem.

Esa. 6. 12.

- 34 * I Darius the King haue ordeined that it should be diligently executed according to these things.

CHAP. VII.

- 1 Sissines and his companions follow the kings commandement, and helpe the Jewes to build the Temple. 5 The time that it was buyld. 10 They keep the Passouers.

- 1 Then Sissines the * gouernour of Coelosyria and Phenicie, & Sathrabouzanes, and their companions, obeying King Darius commandements,
- 2 Assisted diligently the holy works, working with the ancients and gouernours of the Sanctuarie.
- 3 And the holy workes prospered by Haggaius & Zacharias the Prophets which propheticed.
- 4 So they finished all things by the commandement of the Lord God of Israel, & with the consent of Cyrus & Darius, & Artaxerxes kings of the Persians.
- 5 Thus the holy house was finished in the thirte and twentieth day of the moneth Adar in the first yere of Darius King of the Persians.
- 6 And the children of Israel, and the Priests and the Leuites, and the rest, which were of the captiuitie, and had any charge, did according to the things written in the booke of Haggai.
- 7 And they offered for the dedication of the Temple of the Lord, an hundredth bulles, two hundredth rams, four hundredth lambes,
- 8 And twelue goates for the sume of all Israel, according to the number of the chiefe of the tribes of Israel,
- 9 And the Priests and the Leuites stode according to their kindred clothed with long robes in the workes of the Loide God of Israel, according to the booke of Haggai, and also the porters in euery gate.
- 10 And the children of Israel offered the Passouer together with them of the captiuitie, in the fourteenth day of the first moneth after that the Priests and Leuites were sanctified.
- 11 But all the children of the captiuitie were not sanctified together, but all the Leuites were sanctified together.
- 12 And they offered the Passouer for all the children of the captiuitie, and for their brethren the Priests, and for themselves.
- 13 Then all the children of Israel which were of the captiuitie did eat, euen all they that had separated themselves from the abominations of the people of the land, and fought the Lord.
- 14 And they kept the feast of unleavened bread seuen daies, reioyng before the Lord,
- 15 Because he had turned the counsell of the King of the Assyrians towards them to strengthen their handes in the workes of the Lord God of Israel.

41 And I gathered them together to the food called * Theras, and pitched our tents there three dayes, and numbered them.

42 But when I had found there none of the Prieftes nor Leuites, 43 I fent to Eleazar, and beholde, there came 'Maaflinar, and 'Mnathan, and 'Samaias, and 'Jouibon, and 'Mafhan, 'Ematan, 'Zacharian, and 'Mafollamou the chief, and well learned.

44 And I bade them to goe to Daddeus the captaine, which was in the place of the treafurie,

45 With charge to bid Daddeus and his brethren, and the treafurers that were there, to fend to vs them, which fhould offer facrifice in the houfe of our Lord.

46 And they brought vnto vs by 'Mighrie hand of our Lord learned men of the fonnes of 'Moli, thefonne of Ieui, the fonne of 'Ifrael, to wit, 'Cifebebran and his fonnes, and his brethren being eightyene.

47 And 'Alefia, and 'Annon, and 'Ofaian his brethren of the fonnes of 'Cananeus with their fonnes, twentie perfons.

48 And of the minifters of the Temple, which Daud gaue, & thofe which were rulers ouer the worke of the Leuites, to wit, minifters of the Temple, two hundred and twentie, of whom all p names were regiftred.

49 And * there I proclaimed a faft for the pong men before the Lord to afke of him a good iourney both for vs; and for them that were with vs, for our childre, and for our cattel.

50 For I was afhamed to afke the King footmen or hofemen of conduct for falgard againft our enimies, 51 Becauſe we had faide to the King, that the power of our lord fhould be with the p fought him, to direct the in all things.

52 Wherefore we prayed our Lord againe, according to theſe things, whoſe we found favourable.

53 Then I choſe from among the chiefe of the tribes, and of the Prieftes, twelve men, to wit, 'Cefebuas and 'Mataas, and with them tenne of their brethren.

54 And I weighed them the filuer & the gold, & the holie veſſels of h Houſe of our Lord, which the King & his counſellers, and his princes, and all 'Ifrael had giuen.

55 And I weighed them, five hundred & fiftie talents of filuer, and filuer veſſels of an hundred talents, and an hundred talents of gold, 56 And twentie golden baſins, and twelue veſſels of braſſe, of fine braſſe ſhining like gold.

57 And I faide to them, You are alſo hoſie to the Lord, and the veſſels are holie, & the gold, and the filuer is a vowe to the Lord of our fathers.

58 Watch and keepe them, till that you giue them to the heades of the families of the Prieftes, and Leuites, & captaines of the families of 'Ifrael in 'Jeruſalem in the chambers of the houſe of our God, 59 So the Prieftes and Leuites toke the filuer and golde, and the veſſels, and carried them to 'Jeruſalem to the Temple of the Lord.

60 And we departed from the floode Thera, in the twelue day of the firſt moneth, and came to 'Jeruſalem, according to the mightie power of our Lord with vs : and the Lord deliuered vs from the beginning of our iourney from all enimies. So we came to 'Jeruſalem.

61 And three dayes being paſt there, in the fourth dap h filuer that was weighed, and the golde was deliuered into the Houſe of our Loide to 'Marmory the Prieſt, the fonne of Jouri, 62 And with him to Eleazar the fonne of 'Phinias : & there were with them, 'Joſabad the fonne of Ieſus, and 'Mroethy fonne of Sabbanus. Leuites: all was deliuered them by number and weight.

63 And all the weight of them was witten that ſame houre.

64 Afterwardes thoſe that were come out of the captiuitie, offered ſacrifices to the Lorde God of 'Ifrael, euen twelue bulles for all 'Ifrael, rammes foure ſcore and ſixtene,

65 Lambes three ſcore and twelue, twelue goates for ſaluation, all in ſacrifice to the Lord.

66 And they preſented the commandements of p king to the kings ſtewards, & to p governours of Coeloſopia & 'Pheznic who honoured the people, and the Temple of God.

67 I * When theſe things were done, the governours came to me, ſaying, The people of 'Ifrael, the Punces & the Prieftes, and the Leuites haue not ſeparated from them the ſtrange people of the land.

restes, and Jebusites, and Moabites, and Egyptians, and Idumians.

69 For they haue dwelt in their daughters, both they and their sonnes, & the holie seede is mixed with the strainge people of the land, and the gouernours and rulers haue been partakers of this wickednes from the beginning of the thing.

70 And as soone as I had heard these things, I rent my clothes, and the holie garment, & I pulled the heare of my head, & of my beard, and sat mee downe sorrowfull and verie sad.

71 Then also all they that were moued with the wordes of the Lord God of Israel, came to mee whiles I wept for the inquitie, but I sat verie sad til the evening sacrifice.

72 Then I rose from the fast with my clothes toyne, & the holie garment, and bowed my knees & stretched forth mine hands to the Lord, 73 And said, O Lord, I am ashamed, & confounded before thy face.

74 For our finnes are increased aboue our heades, and our ignorances are lifted vp to heauen.

75 Pea, euen from the time of our fathers we are in great sinne vnto this day.

76 For our finnes therfore, and our fathers we with our brethren, with our kings and Priestes haue bene giuen vp to the kings of the earth, to the sworde and to captiuitie, and for a pray with all shame vnto this day.

77 And now how great hath thy mercie bene, O Lord, that there should be left vs a roote, and name in the place of thine holinesse!

78 And that thou shouldest reueale to vs a light in the house of the Lord our God, and giue vs meat in the time of our seruitude!

79 For when we were in bondage, we were not left of our God, but he gaue vs fauour before the kings of the Persians, that they should giue vs meat,

80 And that they should honour the Temple of our Lord, and raise vp Zion that is desolate, and giue vs assurance in Iudea and Jerusalem.

81 And now, O Lord, what shall we say, hauing these things? for we haue transgressed thy commandements, which thou hast giuen by the hands of thy seruants the Prophets, saying,

82 *Because the land, which ye go to inhabit, is a land polluted by the pollutions of the strangers of the land, which haue filled it with their filthinesse,

83 Therefore now ye shall not ioyne their daughters with your sonnes, neither giue your daughters to their sonnes, 84 Neither shall you desire to haue peace with them for euer, that ye may be made strong, & eat the good things of the land, and leaue it for an inheritance to your children for euer.

85 Therefore all that is come to passe, was done for our wicked workes, & for our great finnes: yet, Lord, thou hast forgiven our finnes, 86 And hast giuen vs such a roote: but we againe haue turned backe to transgresse thy Law, and to iure vs with the uncleannes of the people of the land.

87 Mightest thou not be angry with vs to deliuer vs, so that thou shouldest neither leaue vs roote nor seede nor name?

88 But, O Lord of Israel, thou art true: for there is a roote left, euen vnto this day.

89 Beholde, we are now before thee with our iniquities, neither can we iudice before thee for these things.

90 * And as Eshdras prayed & confessed and wept, & lay vpon the ground before the temple, a verie great multitude was gathered vnto him out of Jerusalem of men and women, and pong children: for there was great lamentation among the multitude.

Exa. 10. 3.

91 Then Jerchonias the sonne of Jeiel of the sonnes of Israel, crying out said, O Eshdras, we haue sinned against the Lord God: we haue taken in marriage strange women of the nations of the land.

Or Jeiel,

92 And now all Israel is doubtful: therefore let vs make an othe concerning this to the Lord to put away all our wives, which are strangers, with their children.

93 If it seeme good to thee, and to all them that obey the law of the Lord, rise vp and put it in execution.

94 For to thee doeth it apperteyne, & we are with thee to make thee strong.

95 Then Eshdras arose, and made all the chiefe of the families of the Priestes and Leuites of all Israel to sweare, that they would do thus: and they sware.

CHAP. IX.

7 After Eshdras had read the law for the strange wues, IO They promise to put them away.

1 Then * Eshdras rose from the court of the Temple, and went to the chamber of Joannan the sonne of Chasib,

Exa. 10. 6.

2 And being lodged there, he did ease no bread nor drinke water, but mourned for the great iniquities of the multitude.

3 And there was a proclamation in all Iudea and Jerusalem, to all them that were of the captiuitie, that they shoulde be gathered to Jerusalem,

4 And that all they which should not makee there within two or three dayes, according to the ordinance of the Elders, which bare rule, should haue their cattel confiscate to the Temple, and be cast out from among them of the captiuitie.

5 Then all they which were of the tribe of Iuda and Beniamin, came together within three dayes into Jerusalem: this was the ninth moneth, and twentieth day of the month.

6 And all the multitude sate in the broad place.

Deut. 7. 1.

place of the Temple shaking, because of the extreme winter.

7 Then Eſdras aroſe & ſaid to them, Ye haue ſinned: for ye haue married ſtrange wiues, ſo that ye haue augmented the finnes of Iſrael.

8 Now therefore confeſſe and glory iſſe the Lord God of our fathers,

9 And do his will, and ſeparate your ſelues from the people of the land, and from the ſtrange wiues.

10 Then all the multitude cryed out and ſaid with a ſoude voice, We will do ſo as thou haſt ſaid.

11 But becauſe the multitude is great, & the time is winter, ſo that we can not ſtand without, & the worke is not of one day nor of two, ſeeing that many of vs haue ſinned in this matter,

12 Let the chiefe men of the multitude, & all they which haue ſtrange wiues of our families, tarrye:

13 And let the Prieſtes and iudges come out of all places at the day appointed, till they haue appeared the wraith of the Lord againſt vs for this matter.

14 Then Jonathan Maels ſonne, & Ezeſias ſonne of Thecan were appointed concerning theſe things, & Mollam & Sabbatheus did helpe them.

15 And they which were of the captiuitie, did after all theſe things.

16 Eſdras the Prieſt alſo choſe him certeyn men, chiefe of their families, all by name: and they ſate together in the ſixt day of the tenth moneth to examyn this matter.

17 And they made an ende of the things pertaining to them that had married ſtrange wiues in the ſixt day of the ſixt moneth.

18 And there were found of the Prieſts, which had married ſtrange wiues, 19 Of the ſonnes of Jeſus, the ſonne of Joſedec, and of his brethren, Mathethias, and Eleazar, and Joſibus, and Jonadan.

20 Who alſo gaue their hands to caſt out their wiues, & offered a raiſe for their reconciliation in their purgation.

21 And of the ſonnes of Emmer, Ananias, & Zabbens, & Canes, & Sameus, & Hierel, & Marcias.

22 And of the ſonnes of Phaiſit, Elionas, Maſſias, Eſnaclus, & Nathanael & Geibclus, and Tallas.

23 And of the Leuites, Joſabadus, & Semus, and Colmus, who was called Callitas, and Patheus, and Goudas, and Jonas.

24 Of the holy ſingers, Eliazurus, Bacchurus.

25 Of the porters, Salumus, and Colbanes.

26 Of them of Iſrael, of the ſonnes of Phorus, Hieremias, & Eddias, & Melchias, & Maclus, & Eleazar, and Miſſias, and Banaias.

27 Of the ſonnes of Ela, Nathanias, Zacharias, & Hiericlas, & Hieremoth, and Medias.

28 And of the ſonnes of Zamoſh, Eliasdas, Elminus, Othonias, Jarimoth, & Sabatus, & Bardus.

29 Of the ſonnes of Sebai, Joannes, and Ananias, and Joſabad, and Ematheas.

30 Of the ſonnes of Mani, Olannus, Manuchus, Jedaias, Jahibus, Jaſael, & Jeremoth.

31 And of the ſonnes of Abdi, Naachus, Moolias, Laccimus, and Saibus, and Nathanas, and Beſchel, & Balunus, and Manalleas.

32 And of the ſonnes of Annas, Elionas, and Aleas, & Melchias, & Sabbatheus, & Simon a Cholanite.

33 And of the ſonnes of Alom, Mitaneus, and Marthias, & Banaias, Elphalar, and Manalleas, & Sener.

34 And of the ſonnes of Maani, Jeremias, Mmondis, Omareus, Inel, Maſmat, and Paclias, and Anos, Carabaſion and Euſtibus, and Manumunatanaus, Eliaſias, Danus, Eliali, Samis, Selenias, Nathanas, and of the ſonnes of Goras, Sells, Ceil, Marlus, Samata, Sambus, Joſephus.

35 And of the ſonnes of Eſhna, Maſtizas, Zabadias, Ethes, Inel, Banaias.

36 All theſe married ſtrange wiues, & put them away with their children.

37 And the Prieſts and the Leuites dwelt in Jeruſalem, and in the countrey, the ſixt day of the ſeuenth moneth, and the children of Iſrael in their owne houſes.

38 ¶ Then all the multitude aſſembled together with one conſent into the broad place before the gate of the Temple toward the Eaſt, 39 And ſpake to Eſdras the Prieſt, & reader, that he ſhould bring the Lawe of Moſes, which had bene given by the Lord God of Iſrael.

40 Then brought Eſdras the chief Prieſt the Lawe to all the multitude, both man and woman, and to all the Prieſts, that they might heare the Lawe the ſixt day of the ſeuenth moneth.

41 And he read in the ſixt broad place of the gate of the Temple, from morning to midday, before the men and the women, and all the multitude hearkened to the Lawe.

42 So Eſdras the Prieſt & reader of the Lawe, ſtoode upon a pulpit of wood that was prepared,

43 And there ſtoode by him Margathias, Sammus, Ananias, Azarias, Ouzrias, Ezeſias, Balalanus at his right hand, 44 And at his left had Phalbains, & Bail, Melchias, Werſalaſyphus, Nabarias.

45 Then Eſdrasooke the booke of the Lawe before the multitude (for he ſat honourably before them all)

46 And they all ſtoode upright when he expounded the Lawe, & Eſdras bleſſed the Lord the moſt he God, the moſt mighty God of hoſtes.

 49 And taught the Lawe of the Lozde, and stode also earnestly upon the reading.
 50 Then said Attharates to Esdras the chiefe Drust and reader, and to the Levites, that taught the multitude in all things, This day is holie unto the Lozde, and all haue weyt in hearing of the Lawe.

 51 So therefore and ate the fat meates, and drinke the swete drincks, and send presents to them that haue not.
 52 For this day is holie to the Lozde, and be not foule: for the Lozde God will glorifie you.
 53 So the Levites commanded all these things to the people, saying, This day is holie to the Lozde: be not sad.
 54 Then they departed all to eate, and drinke, and to reioyce, and to giue piesseints to them that had not, and to make good chere.
 55 For they were yet filled with h words wherewith they were instructed, when they were assembled together.

CHAP. I.

8 The people is reprobated for their vnsaiffulnesses.
 30 God will haue an other people, if this will not be reformed.

1 E The second booke of h Drust Esdras, the sonne of Marias, the sonne of Helcias, the sonne of Sadamas, h sonne of Sadoc, the sonne of Helitob,

 2 The sonne of Helcias, the sonne of Phiznees, the sonne of Hel, the sonne of Marias, the sonne of Helic, the sonne of Marimuth, the sonne of Arna, the sonne of Esdras, the sonne of Booth, the sonne of Elisaz,
 3 The sonne of Aaron (of the tribe of Leui) which Esdras was prisoner in h land of Medes, in the reigne of Artaxerxes King of Perlia.
 4 * And the word of the Lozde came unto me, saying,
 5 So, and shewe my people their finnes, & their children their wickednes, which they haue committed against me, that they may tell their childrens children.
 6 For the finnes of their fathers are increased in them, because they haue forgotten me, and haue offered vnto strange gods.
 7 Haue not I brought them out of the land of Egypt from the house of bondage: but they haue prouoked me vnto wrath, and despised my counsels.
 8 Pull thou off then the heare of thine head, and cast all euill vpon them: for they haue not bene obedient vnto my Lawe, but they are a rebellious people.
 9 Howe long shall I forbear them, vnto whome I haue done so much good?
 10 * Many kings haue I destroyed for their sakes: Pharao with his seruants and al his armie haue I smitten downe, 11 All the nations haue I destroyed lesse for them: * I haue destroyed the Call, the people of h two countries Thinis & Sidon, and haue slaine all their enimies.

 12 Speake thou therefore vnto them, saying, Thus saith the Lozde, 13 * I haue led you thowde the Sea, and haue giuen you a sure war, since the beginning: * I gaue you Drustles for a guide, and Aaron for a Drust.
 14 * I gaue you light in a pillar of fire, and great wonders haue I done among you: yet haue ye forgotten me, saith the Lozde.
 15 Thus saith the Almighty Lozde, The quales were a token vnto you: I gaue you tentes for safegard, wherin ye inured:
 16 And ye triumphed not in my name for the destruction of your enimies, but ye yet inure me still.
 17 Where are the benefites that I haue done for you? when ye were hungrie in the wilderness, did ye not cry vnto me? Saying, Why hast thou brought vs into this wilderness to kill vs? I had bene better for vs to haue serued the Egyptians, then to die in this wilderness.
 18 I had pittie vpon your mourninges, & gaue you Manna to eate: * so ye did eate Angels foode.
 19 * When ye were thirstie, did I not cleane the stone, and waters did flowe out to satiffie you: from the heate I covered you with the leaues of the trees,
 20 And I gaue you safe countries: I cast out the Cananites, the Phereesties, and Philistines before you: what shall I do more for you, saith the Lozde?
 21 Thus saith the Almighty Lozde, * When ye were in the wilderness at the bitter waters, being a thirst, and blaspheming my name, 22 I gaue you not see for the blasphemours, but cast a tree into the water, and made the riuers sweete.
 23 What shall I do vnto the, O Jacob: h Yuba

- * Iuda wouldst not obey: I will turne me to other nations, and vnto those will I giue my name, that they may keepe my lawes.
- 25 Seeing ye haue forsaken me, I will also forsake you: when ye aske mercy of me, I will not haue pittie vpon you.
- Isa. 1. 15. 26 * When ye call vpon me, I will not heare you: for ye haue defiled your handes with blood, and your side are clewift to commit murder.
- 27 Although ye haue not forsaken me, but your owne selues, saith the Lord.
- 28 Thus saith the almightie Lord, Haue I not prayed you, as a father his sonnes, and as a mother her daughters, & as a nurce her pong babes,
- 29 That ye would be my people, as I am your God, & that ye would be my children, as I am your father?
- Mat. 23. 37. 30 * I gathered you together as an henne gathereth her chickens vnder her winges: but now what shal I do vnto you? I will cast you out from my sight.
- Isa. 1. 13. 31 * When you bring giftes vnto me, I will turne my face from you: for your solemne feast dapes, your newe moones, and your circumcisions haue I forsake.
- 32 I sent vnto you my seruants the Prophets, whom ye haue taken and slaine, and tome their bodies in pieces, whose blood I will reuenge, saith the Lord.
- 33 Thus saith the almightie Lord, Pour your house shall be desolate: I will cast you out as the winde doth the stubble.
- 34 Pour children shall not haue generation: for they haue despised my commandement, and done the thing that I hate, before me.
- 35 Pour houses will I giue vnto a people to come, who shall beleue me though they heare me not, and they, vnto whom I neuer shewed miracle, shall doe the things that I command them.
- 36 Though they see no Prophets, yet shall they hate their iniquities.
- 37 I will declare thy grace that I will do for þe people to come, whose children reioice in gladnes, and though they haue not seene me with bodily eyes, yet in hart they beleue the things that I say.
- 38 Nowe therefore brother, behold what great glorie, and see the people that come from the East.
- 39 Vnto whome I will giue for leaders, Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, Elias, Amos, Michas, Joel, Abdias, Jonas,
- 40 Naum, Habacuc, Sophonias, Aggeus, Zacharias, and Malachias (which Malach. 3. 1 is called also the messenger of the lord.)
- 2 The mother that bare them, saith vnto them, Go you away, O children: for I am a widow and forsaken.
- 3 I brought you vp with gladnes, but with sorowe and heauines haue I lost you: for ye haue risen against the lord your God, and done the tving that displeaseth him.
- 4 But what shal I now do vnto you? I am a widow and forsaken: go ye, O my children, and aske mercie of the Lord.
- 5 And thou, O father, I call for a witness for the mother of these children, which would not keepe my couenant,
- 6 That thou bring them to confusion, & their mother to a spoyle, that their kindred be not continued.
- 7 Let their names be scattered among the heathen: let them be put out of þe earth, for they haue despised my couenant.
- 8 Woe vnto thee, Assur: for thou hidest the vnrightheous in thee: O wicked people, remember what I did vnto Sodom and Gomorrah.
- 9 Whose land is mired with cloudes of pitch and heapes of ashes: so will I do vnto them, that heave me not, saith the almightie Lord.
- 10 Thus saith the Lord vnto Edras, Tell my people, that I will giue them the kingdome of Ierusalem, which I would haue giuen vnto Irael.
- 11 And I will get me glorie by them, and giue them the euerlasting tabernacles, which I had prepared for thoe.
- 12 They shall haue at will the tree of life, smelling of oynment: they shall neither labour nor be wearie.
- 13 So ye, and ye shall receiue it: pray that the tunc, which is long, may be hastened: the kingdome is already prepared for you: watch.
- 14 Take heauen & earth to witness: for I haue abolished the euill, and created the good: for I liue, saith the Lord.
- 15 Mother, embrace thy children, & bring them vp with gladnes: make their face as fast as a pillar: for I haue chosen thee, saith the Lord.
- 16 And those that be dead, will I raise vp from their places, and bring them out of the graues: for I haue knowne my name in Irael.
- 17 Feare not, thou mother of the children: for I haue chosen thee, saith the Lord.
- 18 I will send thee my seruants Esau and Ieremie to helpe thee, by whose counsell I haue sanctified and prepared for thee twelue trees laden with diuers fruites,
- 19 And as many fountaines, flowing with milke and home, and seven mighty mountaines, wherevpon there grow roses and lilies, wherebv I will fill thy children with ioy.
- 20 Execute iustice for the widow: indge the cause of the fatherlesse: giue to the poore: defend the fatherlesse: clothe the naked.

- 22 Wepe the olde and the yong that are with in thy walles .
- 23* Where soeuer thou findest the deade, take them and burie them, & I wil giue thee the heil parte in my resurrection.
- 24 Abide still, O my people, and rest: for thy quiernesse shall come.
- 25 Flourishe thy children, O thou good nurse: stablish thy secte .
- 26 None of the seruantes that I haue giuen thee, shall perish: for I will seeke them from among thy number .
- 27 We not wearie: for when the day of trouble and dreamesse cometh, other shall wepe and be sorrowfull, but thou shalt benerie and haue aboundaunce .
- 28 The heathen shall enue thee, and shall doe nothing against thee, saye the Lorde.
- 29 Myne hands shall couer thee, so that thy children shall not see hell.
- 30 Be ioyfull, O thou mother, with thy children: for I will deliuer thee, saye the Lord.
- 31 Remember thy children that sleepe: for I will bring them out of the sides of the earth, and will shewe mercie vnto them: for I am mercifull, saye the Lord Almightye.
- 32 Embrace thy children, untill I come and shewe mercie vnto them: for my fountaines rume ouer, and my grace shall not faile.
- 33 I Esdras receiued a charge of the Lorde vppon the mount Hozeb, that I shoulde goe vnto them of Israell, but when I came to them, they cast me of, and despised the commandement of the Lord.

- 34 And therefore I say vnto you, O ye hearthen, that heare and vnderstande, Waite for your shephearde, who shall giue you euerlasting rest: for he is nere at hande, that shall come in the ende of the worlde.
- 35 Be readie to the rewarde of the kings dome: for the euerlasting light shall thine vpon you for euermore.
- 36 Flea the shadowe of this worlde: receiue the ioy of your gloie: I testifie my Sauiour openly.
- 37 Receiue the gifte that is giuen you, and be glad, giuing thanks vnto him, that hath called you to þ heauenly kings dome.
- 38 Arise, and stande by, and beholde the number of those that are sealed for the feast of the Lorde,
- 39 Which are departed from the shadow of the world, and haue receiued glorious garments of the Lord.
- 40 Take thy number, O Sion, and shut vp them that are clothed in white, which haue fulfilled the lawe of the Lord.
- 41 The number of thy children, whom thou longest for, is fulfilled: beseech the power of the Lorde, that thy people which haue bene called from the begins ning, may be sanctified.

Reuel. 7. 9

- 42* I Esdras saue vppon mount Sion on a great people whom I coulde not number, and they all praysed the Lorde with songes.
- 43 And in the middes of them there was a yong man higher in stature then them all, & vpon euery one of their heads hee set crownes, and was higher then the others, which I muche maruailed at.
- 44 So I asked the Angel, and said, Who are these, my Lord?
- 45 Who answered, and saide vnto me, These be they, that haue put of the moztall clothing, and haue put on the immortall, and haue confessed the name of God: now are they crowned, and receiue the palmes.
- 46 Then saide I vnto the Angel, What yong man is it, that seteth crownes on them, & giueth them the palmes in their hands?
- 47 And he answered, and said vnto me, It is the Sonne of God, whom they haue confessed in the worlde. Then began I greatly to commend them, that had stand so strongly for the Name of the Lorde.
- 48 Then the Angel saide vnto me, See thy way, and tell my people, what, and howe great wonders of the Lorde God thou hast seene.

CHAP. III.

4 The wonderous workes, which God did for the people, are recited 31. Esdras maruelleth that God suffereth the Babilonians to haue rule ouer his people, which yet are sinners also.

- 1 In the thirtieth yeare after the fall of the citie, as I was at Babilon, I say troubled vppon my bed, & my thoughtes came vnto mine hearte,
- 2 Because I saue the desolation of Sion, and the wealth of them that dwelte at Babilon.
- 3 So my spirit was sore moued, so that I began to speake fearful wordes to the most high, and saide,
- 4 O Lorde, Lorde, thou spakest at the beginning whe thou alone plantest the earth, and gauest commaundement vnto the people,
- 5 And a bodie vnto Adam, without soule, who was also the workemanship of thine hands, and hast breathed in him the breath of life, so that he liued before thee.
- 6 And leddest him into Paradise, whiche thy right hande had planted, ouer the earth brought forth.
- 7 Then then thou gauest him commaundement to loue thy way: but he transgressed it, and immediately thou appointedst death to him and his generation, of whome came nations, tribes, people, and kinreds out of number.

Gene. 2. 7.

*Or, went forwarde

8 *And euerie people walked after their owne will, and did wonderfull thinges before thes, and despised thy commaundements.

9 *But at the time appointed thou broughtest the flood vpon those that dwelte in the world, and destroyed them.

10 So that by the flood, that came to ouerpe one of them, which came by death vnto Adam.

11 Per thou leuest one, euen* Noe, with his houholde, of whome came all righteous men.

12 And when they that dwelt vpon the earth, began to multiplie, and the number of the children, people, and many nations were increased, they began to be more vngodly then the first.

13 Nowe when they lined wickedly besoye thee,*thou diddest choose thee a man from among them, whose name was *Abraham.

14 Whome thou louedst, and vnto who onely thou heldest thy will,

15 And madest an euerlasting couenant with him, promising him that thou wouldest neuer forsake his seede.

16 And vnto him thou gauest Isaac vnto Isaac also thou gauest Jacob & Esau, and diddest choose Jacob, and cast of Esau, & so Jacob became a great multitude.

17 And when thou leddest his seede out of Egypt,* thou broughtest them vp to mount Sina,

18 And inclinedst the heauens and bowedst downe the earth, and diddest moue the grounde, and cause the depthes to shake, and diddest astonishe the world.

19 And thy glorie went thorow foure gates of fire, with earthquakes, wind and colde, that thou mightest giue the laue vnto the seede of Jacob, and that which the generation of Israel should diligently obserue.

20 Per tookest thou not away from them the wicked hearte, that thy laue might bring forth fruite in them.

21 For *Adam firste hauing a wicked hearte, was ouercome & vanquished, and all they that are borne of him.

22 Thus remained weakeneesse toynd with the laue in the hartes of the people, with h wickednes of the roote: so that i he god be parted away, and the euill as bove sill.

23 So the times passed alwaye, and the peaces were brought to an end,* till thou diddest raise thee by a seruant called Dauid.

24 *Whome thou commaundest to Enslue a Citie vnto thy name, to call vpon thee therein with meuse & sacrifice.

25 When this was done many peaces, the inhabitantes forsooke thee,

26 Following the wapes of Adam and all his generation: so they also had a wicked hearte.

27 Therefore thou gauest thy Citie ouer into the handes of thine enemies.

28 But doe they that dwell at Babylon, any better, that they should haue the dominion of Zion?

29 For when I came thither, and sawe their wicked dedes without number (for this is the thirtieth yeare that I see manpe trespassing) I was discouraged.

30 For I saue, how thou sufferedst them that sinne, and sparedst the wicked doers, whereas thou hast destroyed thine owne people, and preferred thine enemies, and thou hast not helued it.

31 I can not perceiue howe this cometh to passe. Are the dedes of Babylon better then they of Zion?

32 Or is there any other people that knoweth thee besides Israel: or what generation hath so betrayed thy testimonies, as Jacob?

33 And per their reward appeareth not, and their labour hath no fruite: for I haue gone here and there thorow out the heathen, and I see them flourish, and thinke not vpon thy commaundements.

34 Weigh thou therefore our wickednes nowe in the balance, and thyets also that dwell in the world, and no mention of thee shall be found but in Israel.

35 Or when is it that they that dwell on the earth, haue not sinned in thy sight? Or what people hath so kept thy commaundements?

36 Thou shalt surely finde that Israel by name hath kept thy precepts, but not the heathen.

CHAP. IIII.

2 The Angel reponeth Esdras, by cause he seemed to enter into the profound iudgements of God.

1 A N D the Angel that was sent vnto me, whose name was Dnel, answered,

2 And saide, thine hearte hath taken too much vpo it in this world, & thou thinkest to comprehend the wapes of the heu.

3 Then saide I, Pea, my I O G O D. And he answered me, and saide, I am sente to helue thee thre wapes, and to set forth thy similitudes before thee.

4 Where of if thou canst declare me one, I will helue thee also the wape, that thou desirest to see, and I will helue thee from whence the wicked hearte cometh.

5 And I saide, Tell on, my Lord. Then sayde he vnto me, Goe thy way: weigh me the weight of the fire, or measure me the blast of the winde, or callme againe the day that is past.

6 Then answered I, and said, What man is bozne, that can doe that, which thou requirest requirest mee, concerning these things?

7 And he saide vnto me, If I should aske thee how deepe dwellings are in the middes of the sea, or how great springs are in the beginning of the depth, or how great springs are in the stretching out of the heauen, or of which are the borders of Parauie,

8 Whereaduenture thou wouldest say vnto me, I neuer went downe to the deepe, nor yet to h hell, neither did I euer chine vp to heauen.

9 But now haue I asked thee but of fire and wmdes, & of the day, whereby thou hast passed, and from the which things thou canst not be separated, and yet canst thou giue me none answer of them.

10 He said moze ouer vnto me, Thine owne things, and such as are growen vp with thee, canst thou not know?

11 How should thy vessel then be able to comprehend the wapes of the hyst, and now outwardly in the corrupt worlde, to vnderstand the corruption, that is eminent in my sight?

12 Then said I vnto him, It were better that we were not at all, then that we should lue in wickednesse, and to suffer, and not to know wherefoze.

13 And he answered me, and said, * I came to a forest in the plaine where the trees helde a counsell,

14 And said, Come, let vs go fight against the sea, that it may giue place to vs, and that we may make vs moze woodes.

15 Likewise the floudes of the sea toke counsell & said, Come, let vs go by & fight against the trees of the worde, that we may get another countrie for vs.

16 But the purpose of the wood was vain: for the fire came and consumed it.

17 Likewise also the purpose of the floudes of the sea: for the said woode vp and stopped them.

18 If thou were iudge between these two, whome wouldest thou iustifie: or whome wouldest thou condemne?

19 I answered and said, Verily it is a foolish purpose, that they both haue deuised: for the ground is appointed for the woode, & the sea hath his place to beare his floudes.

20 Then answered he me, and said, Thou hast giuen a right iudgement: but why iudgest thou not thy selfe also?

21 For like as the ground is appointed for the woode, and the sea for his floudes, so * they that dwell vpon the earth, can vnderstand nothing, but that which is vpon earth: and they that are in the heauens, the things that are about the height of the heauens.

22 Then answered I, and said, I beseech thee, O lord, let vnderstanding be giuen me.

23 For I did not purpose to inquire of thine hid things, but of suche as we daily meddle with all, namely wherefoze Isaac is made a reproche to the heathen,

& for what cause the people, whom thou hast loued, is giuen ouer to wicked nations, and why the Lawe of our fathers is abolished, and the written ceremonies are come to none effect,

24 Why we are tolled to And so through the world as the grasshoppers, and our life is a verie feare, & we are not thought worthy to obtrude mercie.

25 But what will he doe to his shame, which is called vpon ouer vs? Of these things haue I asked the question.

26 Then answered he me, and saide, The moze thou searchest, the moze thou shalt maruell: for the worlde hasteth fall to passe away,

27 And cannot comprehend the things, that are promised to the righteous in time to come: for this world is full of vnsighteousnesse and weakenesse.

28 But to declare thee the things whereof thou askest, the euill is sowne, but the destruction thereof is not yet come.

29 If the euill now that is sowne, be not turned vpside downe, and if the place where the euill is sowne, passe not away, then cannot the thing come, that is sowne with good.

30 For the corne of euill seede hath bene sowne in the heart of Adam from the beginning, and how much vngodlinesse hath he brought vp vnto this time? And how much shall he bring forth until the harvest come?

31 Wonder with thy selfe, how much fruit of wickednesse the corne of euill seede bringeth forth, 32 And when the stalkes shall be cutte downe, which are without number, how great an harvest must be prepared.

33 Then I answered, and said, How, and when shall these things come to passe? wherefoze are our peares sowe and euill?

34 And he answered me, saying, Hastie not to be about the most High: for thou labourst in vaine to be about him, though thou indeuour neuer so much.

35 Did not the soules also of the righteous aske question of these things in their chambers, saying, How long shall I thus hope? and when commeth the fruite of my barne and my wages?

36 And vppon this Jeronuel the Merchant answered, and saide, When the number of the seedes is filled in pou: for he hath weighed the worlde in the balance.

37 The measure of the times is measured: the ages are counted by number, & they shall not be moued or shaken, til the measure thereof be fulfilled.

38 Then answered I, and saide, O lord, we are all euil full of sinne, 39 And for our sake peraduenture the harvest of the righteous is not fulfilled, because of the sinne of them that dwell vpon earth.

40 So he answered me, and said, So, and aske a woman with child, when she hath fulfilled filled her nine months, if her wombe may keepe the birth any longer without her.

- 41 Then said I, No, Lord, she cannot. And he said vnto me, In the grave the places of soules are like the wombe.
- 42 For as the child is with childe, hasteth to escape the necessitie of the trauel, so do these places haste to deliuer those things that are committed vnto them.
- 43 That which thou desirest to see, shall be shewed thee from the beginning.
- 44 Then answered I, and said, If I haue found grace in thy sight, and if it be possible, and if I be merite therefore,
- 45 Shewe me whether there be more to come then is past, or more things past, then are to come.
- 46 What is past, I know, but what is to come, I know not.
- 47 And he saide vnto me, Stand on the right side, and I will expound thee this by example.
- 48 So I stood, & beholde, a hote burning onen passed before me: & when the flame was gone by, I looked, and beholde, the smoke had the vpper hand.
- 49 After this there passed before me a watric slowde, and sent downe much rapne with a storme: & when the stormie rapne was past, the droppes came after.
- 50 Then said he vnto me, Consider with thy selfe, as the rapne is more then the dropps, and as fire exceedeth the smoke, so the portion that is past, hath the vpper hand, and the dropps and the smoke were much.
- 51 Then I prayed, and said, May I line, thinkest thou vntill that time? Or what shall come to passe in those dayes?
- 52 He answered me, and said, Of the tokens whereof thou hast asked me, I can tell thee a parte: but I am not sent to shewe thee of thy life: for I do not know it.

CHAP. V.

1 In the latter times vnuseth shall be hid, 6 Vnrighteousnesse and all wickednesse shall reigne in the worlde. 23 Israel is reiecte, & God deliuereth them. 35 God doeth all things in season.

N Euertheless concerning the tokens, beholde, the times shall come, that they which dwell vpon earth, shall be taken in a great number, and the way of the truth shall be hid, and the land shall be barren from faith,

- 2 And * iniquitie shall be increased more then thou hast seene now, or hast heard in time past.
- 3 And it shall come to passe, that one shall set in foote, and thou shalt see the land desolate, which now reigneth.
- 4 Yea, if God graunt thee to line, thou shalt see after the thirde trump, that the sunne shall suddenly thine againe in the night, and the M^oone three times a day.
- 5 Blood shall droppe out of the wood, and the stone shall giue his voice, and the peo- ple shall be moued.

- 6 And he shall rule, of whom they hope not that dwell by o^r earth, and the soules shall change place.
- 7 And the sea of Sodom shall cast out fish, and make a noise in the night, which many shall not knowe, but they shall all heare the voyce thereof.
- 8 There shall be a confusion in many places, and the fire shall oft breake forth, and the wilde beastes shall change their places, and menstruous women shall beare monsters.
- 9 And salt waters shall be found in the sweete, and all friendes shall fight one against another: then shall w^r hide it self, and vnderstanding departe into his secrete chamber.
- 10 It shall be fought of many, and yet not be found: then shall vnrighteousnesse and voluptuousnesse haue the vpper hand byon earth.
- 11 One land also shall aske another, and say, Is righteous iustice gone thoro^we thee? And it shall say, No.
- 12 At the same time shall men hope, but not obtaine: they shall labour, but their enterprises shall not prosper.
- 13 To shew thee such tokens I haue leaue, and if thou wilt pray againe and weepe as now, and fast seuen dayes, thou shalt heare yet greater things then these.
- 14 ¶ Then I awaked, and a fearefullnesse went thoro^w all my bodie, & my minde was feeble and faunted.
- 15 But the Angel that was come to talke with me, held me, comforted me, and set me by bypon my feete.
- 16 And in the second night, Salathiel the captaine of the people came vnto me, saying, Where hast thou bene? And why is thy countenance so beaue?
- 17 Knowest thou not that Israel is committed vnto thee in the land of their captiuitie?
- 18 By then and eate, and forsake vs not, as the sheepeheard that leaueh his flock in the handes of the cruell wolues.
- 19 Then saide I vnto him. So thy wayes from me, and come not nere me: & when he heard it, he went from me.
- 20 And I fasted seuen dayes, mourning & weeping, as vntill the Angel had commanded me.
- 21 And after seuen dayes the thoughtes of mine heart were verie gracious vnto me againe.
- 22 And I had a desire to reason againe, and I began to talke with the most high againe,
- 23 And saide, O Lorde, Lorde: of euerie forest of the earth, & of all the trees thers of thou hast chosen thee one such vnesparde.
- 24 And of all landes of the worlde thou hast chosen thee one pitte, and of all the flowers of the ground thou hast chosen thee one lillie.
- 25 And of all the depths of the sea thou hast filled thee one viner, and of all builded bed cities: thou hast sanctified Zion vnto thy selfe.

 26 And of all the foules that are created, thou hast named thee one doue, and of all the cattell that are made, thou hast appointed thee one lhaue.
 27 And among all the multitude of people thou hast gotten thee one people, and vnto this people whome thou lovest, thou gauest a lawe, that is proued of all.
 28 And nowe O Lord, why hast thou giuen this one people ouer vnto many? and vpon one roote thou hast set others, & hast scattered thy onely people among main.
 29 They tread them downe, which haue withstand the promises, and beleue not thy testimonies.
 30 And if thou diddest so much hate thy people, they shoulde haue bene punished with thine owne handes.
 31 O Nowe when I had spoken these wordes, The Angel that came to me the night afore, was sent vnto me.
 32 And saide vnto me, Heare me, and I will teach thee, and hearken that I may instruct thee further.
 33 And I said, Speake on, my Lord. The saide he vnto me, Thou arte sore vered & troubled for Israels sake. Louest thou them better, then he doeth that made them?
 34 And I saide, No Lord: but of verie sorowe haue I spoken: for my raiues paine me euery houre, while I labour to comprehend the wap of the most high, and to seeke out parte of his iudgement.
 35 And he said vnto me, thou canst not. And I saide, Wherefore, Lord, wherefore was I borne? or why was not my mothers wombe then my graue: so had I not seene the trouble of Jacob, & the griefe of the stocke of Israel.
 36 And he saide vnto me, Number vnto me the thinges that are not yet come, or gather me the drops that are scattered, or make me þ withered flowers greene againe.
 37 Open me the places that are closed, and bring me forth the windes that are shut vp therein: shewe me the image of a hopee, and then will I declare thee the thing, that thou askest and labourst to knowe.
 38 And I sayde, O Lord, Lord, who can knowe these thinges, but he that hath not his dwelling with men?
 39 But I that am ignorant, howe can I speake of these thinges, wherof thou askest me?
 40 Then saide he vnto me, Like as thou canst doe none of these thinges, that I haue spoken of, so canst thou not finde out my iudgement, nor the least benefite, that I haue promised vnto my people.
 41 Then I saide, Behold, O Lord, the last thinges are present vnto thee, & what shall they doe that haue bene before me, or we that be nowe, or they that shall come after vs?

 42 And he saide vnto me, I will compare my iudgement vnto a ring: as there is no lackenes of the last, so is there no swiftnesse of the first.
 43 Then I answered, and said, Coudest thou not make at once those that haue bene, those that are nowe, and those that shall come, that thou mightest thew thy iudgement the sooner?
 44 Then answered he me. The creature, saide he, can not preuent the creator, neither can the worlde hold them at once, that shall be created therein.
 45 And I said as thou hast taught thy seruants, that thou, which givest strength to all, hast giuen life at once to all the worke created by thee, and hast suffeined it, so might it nowe also contene all men at once.
 46 And he said, vnto me, Like the wombe of a woman, and say vnto her, Why must thou hate time before thou bringest forth? require her to bring forth time at once, 47 And I saide, Surely she can not, but by distance of time.
 48 Then saide he vnto me, So haue I deuided þ number of the earth by times when seebe is sowne vpon it.
 49 For as a pong child begetteth not that that belongeth to the aged, so haue I ordemed the time which I haue created.
 50 I asked againe, and saide, Seeing thou hast nowe shewed me the way, I will proceede to speake before thee: for our mother whome thou hast told me is pong, draweth the neere vnto age?
 51 He answered mee, and saide, Like a woman that traucteth, and she will tell thee.
 52 Say vnto her, Wherefore are not they (whõ thou hast now brought forth) like those that were before thee, but lesse of nature?
 53 And she shall answer thee, Some were borne in the floure of youth, or others were borne in the tunc of age, why the wombe fayled.
 54 Consider nowe thy selfe, howe that ye are lesse of nature, then those that were before you,
 55 And so are they that come after you, lesse then ye, as the creatures which now beginne to be olde, and haue passed ouer the strength of youth.
 56 Then saide I, Lord I beseech thee, if I haue founde fatiour in thy sight, shew thy seruants, by whome doest thou gouerne thy workemanship?

CHAP. VI.

God hath foreseene all thinges in his secreete counsell, and is author thereof, and hath created them for his children. 25. The felicitie of olde age so come.

- 1 AND he saide vnto me, In the beginning whē the round world was made, and before the boyders of the world were set and before the windes blew one against an other :
- 2 Before the noyse of thunders sounded, before the bright lightening did shine south, before the foundations of Paradise were laped :
- 3 Before the faire flowers did appere, before the moueable powers were stablished, before the innumerable armies of Angels were gathered :
- 4 Before the heights of the aires were lifted vp, before the measures of the heauens were named, before the chunnies in Zion were hote :
- 5 Before the present peares were sought out, and before the affections of them that nowe sinne, were turned away, and they that haue laied by the treasure of faith, were sealed,
- 6 Then I did purpose these thinges, and they were made by me alone, and by none other : by me also they shall be ended, and by none other.
- 7 Then answered I, and saide, What shall be the diuision of times? or when shall be the ende of the first, and the beginning of it that followeth?
- 8 And he saide vnto me, From Abrahā vnto Isaac, when Jacob & Esau were borne of him, * Jacobs hand helde first the hēle of Esau.
- 9 For Esau is the ende of this world, & Jacob is the beginning of it that followeth.
- 10 The hand of man is betwix the hēle and the hand. Other thing, Esayas, aske thou not.
- 11 I answered then, and said, O Lord, loyde, if I haue founde fauour in thy sight,
- 12 I beseech thee, make an end to shewe thy seruant the tokens, whereof thou shewedst me parte the last night.
- 13 So he answered me, and said, Stand by vpon thy feete, and heare a mightie sounding voyce.
- 14 There shall come as an earthquake, but the place where thou standest, shall not be moued.
- 15 And therefore when he speaketh, bee not afraid: for of the ende shall be the word, and of the foundation of the earth shall it be vnderstand.
- 16 Therefore whi' one speaketh of them, it trembleth and is moued: for it knoweth that it muste bee changed at the ende.
- 17 And when I had hearde it, I stood by vpon my feete, & harkened, and behold, there was a voyce that spake, and the sounde of it was like the sounde of many waters.
- 18 And it said, Beholde, the days come, that I will come & inquire of them, that dwell vpon the earth,
- 19 And when I begin to inquire of them who by their vnrightheousnesse haue

- hurte others, and when the affliction of Zion shall be fulfilled,
- 20 And the world that shall vanishe away, shall be sealed, then will I shewe these signes: the bookes shall be opened before the heauen, and they shall see all is together.
- 21 And the children of a peare olde shall speake with their voyces: the women with childe shall bring forth vntinely children of thre or foure monethes old, and they shall liue that are rapsed by.
- 22 Then soudenly shall the lowen places appere as the vnswolen, and the full store-houses shall soudenly bee founde emptye.
- 23 And the trumpete shall sounde, and all they that heare it, shall be soudenly ascafed.
- 24 At that times shall friendes fighte with friendes, as with enemies, & the earth shall feare with them: the springes of the welles shall stand still, and in thre houres they shall not runne.
- 25 Whosoener remaineth from all these thinges that I haue tolde thee, shall be saued and see my saluation, and the end of our worlde.
- 26 And the men that are reiected, shall see it: they that haue not tasted death from their birth, and the heart of the inhabitantes shall be changed, and turned to an other meaning.
- 27 For euill shall be put out, and deceipt shall be quenched,
- 28 But faith shall flourish: corruption shall be ouercome, and the truely which hath bene so long without fruite, shall come forth.
- 29 I And when he talked with me, behold, I looked a little vpon him before whome I stood.
- 30 And these wordes saide he vnto me, I am come to shewe thee the time of the night to come.
- 31 If thou wilt pray againe, and fast seuen days more, I wil tel thee moze thinges, and greater then these, whiche I haue hearde in the day.
- 32 For thy voyce is heard before the highest: surly the mightie hath scene thy righteous dealing: he hath scene also thy chastitie, whiche thou hast kepte since thy youth.
- 33 Therefore hath he sent me to shewe thee all these thinges, and to say vnto thee, Be of good comfort, and feare not,
- 34 And hast not in the balne consideration of the first times, nor make hast to the latter times.
- 35 And after this I wept againe & fasted seuen days in like maner, that I might fulfil the thre weekes, whiche he had appointed me.
- 36 And in the eight night was mine hart bered within me againe, and I began to speake before the most high.
- 37 For my spirit was greatly set on fire, and my soule was in distresse,

Gen. 25. 26.

38 And I saide, O Lord, thou hast created er-rour in the first creation (euen the first day) and commaunded* that the heauen and the earth should be made, and the worke followed thy worde.

39 And then was there the spittle, and the darknes was on euerie side with silence:
there was no mans voyce as yet created of thee.

40 Then commaundedst thou a bright light to come forth out of thy treasures, that it might giue light to thy worke.

41 Vpon the second day thou createdst the heauens aye, and commaundedst it, that going betwene, it should make a diuision betwene the waters, that the one part might remaine above, and the other beneath.

42 Vpon the third day thou commaundedst, that the waters should be gathered together in the seventh parte of the earth:
the partes diddest thou drie, and kept them to the intent p of these there should be that should serue thee, being sowed of God and filled.

43 As soone as thy worke went forth, the worke was incontinently made.

44 For immediately great & innumerable fruite did spring vp, & many diuers pleasures for the tast, and howozes of vnichangeable colour, and odours of a most wonderfull smell, and these things were created the third day.

45 * Vpon the fourth day thou createdst the light of the sunne, and of the Moone, and the order of the starres,

46 And gauest them a charge, to do* seruice euen vnto man that was for to be made.

47 And vpon the fift day thou saydest vnto the seventh part * where the waters were gathered, that it should bring forth beastes, as foules and fishes: and it was so.

48 For of the downe waters, and without life brought forth liuing things at the commaundment of God, that the nations might praise thy woonderous workes.

49 Then diddest thou prepare two lining things: the one thou calledst Behemoth, and the other thou calledst Leviathan,

50 And diddest separate the one from the other: for the seventh part, where the water was gathered, could not hold e them.

51 Vnto Behemoth thou gauest one part, which was dyed vp the thirde day, that he should dwel in the same place, where in are a thousand hills.

52 But vnto Leviathan thou gauest the seuenth parte, that in woe, & hast prepared him to deuoure what thou wilt, and when thou wilt.

53 Vpon the sirt day thou gauest commaundment vnto the earth, that before thee it should bring forth beastes, cattel and creeping things.

54 And besides this Adam, whom thou madest lord ouer all the workes whiche thou hast created, of him come we all, and the people also, whom thou hast chosen.

55 All this haue I spoken before thee, O Lord, because thou hast created the world for our sakes.

56 As for the other people, whiche also come of Adam, thou hast declared them that they are nothing before thee, but he like vnto spittle, and hast compared the riches vnto a droppe that falleth from a vessel.

57 And now, O Lord, behold these heathen, whiche haue bene reputed as nothing, haue begun to be lordes ouer vs, and to deuour vs.

58 And we thy people (whome thou hast called the first borne, the onely begotten, & thy seruant loue) are giuen into the hands.

59 If the world then be created for our sakes, why haue we not the inheritance thereof in possession? or how long shall we suffer these things?

CHAP. VII.

Without tribulation none can come to felictie. 13 God aduertiseth all in time. 28 The comming and death of Christ. 33 The resurrection and last iudgement. 43 After the which all corruption shall ceasse. 48 All fell in Adam. 59 The true life. 62 The mercies and goodnesse of God.

1 And whē I had made an end of these wordes, there was sent vnto me an Angel, which had bene sent downe to me the nightes afore.

2 And he saide vnto me, Wy, Eldyas, and heare the wordes that I am come to tell thee.

3 And I saide, speake on, my God. Then saide he vnto me, The sea is set in a wyde place: that it might be deepe and great,

4 But presuppose that the entrance thereof were narrow, and like the riuers,

5 Who could go into the sea to looke vpon it, and to rule it? If he went not thow the narrow, how could he come into the broad?

6 There is also another thing: a citie is builded and set vpon a broad fildes, and is full of all good things:

7 The entrance thereof is narrow and in a dangerous place to fall, that there is fire at the right hand, and a deepe water at the left,

8 And there is but one path betwixt the, euen betwene the fire and the water, so that there could but one man go there.

9 If this citie were giuen to a man for an inheritance, if he neuer went thow the perill before it, how could he receiue his inheritance?

10 And I saide, It is so, lord. Then saide he, So is the position of Israel.

11 Surely for thy sakes haue I made the world: & when Adam transgressed my statutes, then came this thing to passe.

12 Then were the entrances of the world made narrow, full of sorrow & trouble:
288. 31. the

Or, Enoch.

they are but few and euill, and full of perils, and very painefull.

13 For the entrances of the foze worlde were wide and sure, and brought unmoztall fruite.

14 If then they that are lining, labour not to enter by these straight and brittle things, they cannot ataine to those things that are hid.

15 Why then disquietest thou thy selfe, seeing thou art corruptible? And why art thou moued, seeing thou art mortall?

16 And why hast thou not considered in thy minde the things to come, rather then them that are present?

17 Then said I, O Lord, Lord, seeing thou hast ordeined in thy law, that the righteous should inherite these things, and that the vngodly should perishe, 18 Should the righteous suffer straightnesse in hoping for large things? yet they that haue liued vngodly & suffered straightnesse, shall not see the large things.

19 Then he saide vnto me, There is no iudge more iust then God, and there is none more wise then the most High.

20 For many perishe in this life, because they despise the lawe of God that is appointed.

21 For God hath diligentely admonished such as came, so oft as they came, what they should do to haue life, & what they should obserue, to auoide punishment.

22 Hence theleste, they were not obedient vnto him, but spake against him, & imagined vaine things,

23 And deceiued them selues by their wicked dedes, and denied the power of the moste High, and regarded not his wayes.

24 But they despised his law, and refused his promises: they haue vnfaythfully broken his ordinaunces, & haue not performed his wayes.

25 And therefore, Eforas, vnto the empirie are empirie things, and to the full, full things.

26 Beholde the time shall come, that these tokens which I haue told thee, shall come to passe, and the vyde shall appeare, and she shall come south, and be seene that now is vnder the earth.

27 And whosoener shall escape these euils, he shall see my wonders.

28 For my sonne Iesus shall appeare with those that be with him, and they that remaine, shall reioyce withyn foure hundred yerres.

29 After these same yeares shall my sonne Christ dye, and all men that haue life,

30 And the world shall be turned into the olde silence for seven dayes, as in the foze iudgementes, so that no man shall remaine.

31 But after seven dayes, the worlde that is yet a sleepe, shall be raised vp: and that shall die, that is corrupt.

32 Then the earth shall restore those, that haue slept in her, and so shall the dust those that dwell therein in silence, & the secrete places shall deliuer the soules that were committed vnto them.

33 And the most High shall appeare vpon the seate of iudgement, and iudicis shall vanly away, & long suffering shall haue an end.

34 Justice onely shall continue: the truety shall remaine, and faith shall be strong.

35 The worke that follow, and the reward shall be thewed: the good dedes shall be of force, and vnrighthousnesse shall beare no more rule.

36 Then saide I, * Abraham prayed first for the Sodomitues, and sDopies for the fathers that sinned in the wilderness,

37 And they that came after him, for Israel in the time of Achaz, and Samuell,

38 And * David for the destruction, * and Salomon for them that came into the Sanctuarie,

39 * And Elias for those that receiued raine, and for the dead that he might liue, 40 And * Ezechias for the people in the time of Sennacherib, and diuers others for many.

41 Euen fo now, seeing vice is increased, and wickednes aboundeth, & the righteous haue prayed for the vngodly, wherefoze shall not the same effect followe also now?

42 Then he answered me, and saide, This present life is not the end: oftymes honour is retained in it: therefore haue they prayed for the weake.

43 But the day of iudgement shall be the end of this worlde, & the beginning of the immortalitie to come, wherein all corruption shall cease.

44 Intemperancie shall passe away: infidelitie shall be cured of: righteousness shall growe vp, and the vertue shall spring vp.

45 Then shall no man be able to saue him that is destroyed, nor oppresse him that hath gotten the victorie.

46 I answered then, and saide, this is my first & last saying, that it had bene better not to haue giuen the earth to Adam, or when it was giue him, to haue kept him that he should not haue giuen.

47 For what profite is it for men in this present life to be in heauynesse, and after death to feare punishment?

48 O Adam, what hast thou done? * for in Rom. 5. 18. that that thou hast sinned, thou art not fallen alone, but the fall also redoundeth vnto vs that come of thee.

49 For what profite is it vnto vs, if there be promised an immortal life, when we doe the workes that bring death?

50 And that an euerlasting hope should be promised vs, seeing that we becom our selues to deadly vauitie?

51 And that there should be appointed vs dwellings of health & safetie, if we haue liued wickedly?

52 And that the glorie of the moste High should be kept to defend them which haue lead a patient life, if we haue walked in the wicked wayes?

53 And that an eternal Paradiſe should be thewed, shewed, whose faulte remaineth incorruptible, wherein is safte and health, if we will not enter into it?

54 (For we haue bene conuersant in vnpleasant places)

55 And that the faces of them, which haue absteined, should shine more then starres, if our faces be blacker then darknes?

56 For while we liued, we did not remember when we did unrighteously, that we should suffer after death.

57 Then answered he me, and said, This is the maner of the battel, which man, that is borne in the earth, shall fight, 58 That if he be overcome, he should suffer as thou hast said: but if he get the victory, he should receiue the thing that I said.

Deu. 30. 19

59 For this is the life, whereof Prophets spake vnto the people, while he liued, saying, *Chuse thee life that thou maist liue.

60 Nevertheless, they beloued him not, neither the Prophets after him, nor me also which haue said vnto them,

61 That heauines should not so be to their destruction, as to should come vnto them, to whome saluation is persuaded.

62 I answered then and said, I know, Lord, that the most high is called mercifull, in that he hath mercie vpon them, which are not yet come to that world,

63 And that he hath pitie on those that walke in his Lawe,

Rom. 2. 4.

64 And that *he is pacient: for he long suffereth those that haue sinned as his creatures,

65 And that he is liberall: for he will giue as much as needeth,

66 And that he is of great mercie: for heouercommeth in mercie those that are present, and that are past, & them which are to come.

67 For if he were not abundant in his mercies, the world could not continue, nor they that haue the possession thereof.

68 He pardoneth also: for if he gaue not of his goodnes that they, which haue done euil, might be relieved from their wickednes, the ten thousand part of men should not remaine aliu.

69 And if he, being iudge, forgave not those that be healed with his word, and tooke away the multitude of sinnes, 70 There should peraduenture be verie fewe left in an innumerable multitude.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The number of the godly is small. 6 The workes of God are excellent. 20 Esdras praiser for him and for his people. 39 The promise of saluation to the iust. 55 The destruction of the vniust.

1 And he answered mee, saying, The most high made this world for many, but the world to come for fewe.

2 I will tell thee a similitude, O Esdras,

As when thou askest the earth, it shall say vnto thee that it groweth much earth by matter to make pores, but little dust that gold consisteth of, so is it with the worke of this world.

3 *There be many created, but fewe shall be saued.

Mal. 2. 16

4 Then answered I, & saide, Then shall I low by the wit, O my soule, & deuour vnderstanding.

5 For thou hast promised to heare, & thou wilt prophesie: for thou hast no longer space, but the life giuen thee.

6 O Lord, if thou suffer not thy seruant, that wee may entreat thee, that thou maist giue seeke vnto our heart, & prepare our vnderstanding, that there may come fruite of it, whereby euerp one which is corrupt, may liue, who can see him selfe for man?

7 For thou art alone, and we all are one workmanship of thine hands, as thou hast said.

8 For when the bodie is facioned now in the wombe, & thou hast giuen it members, thy creature is preferred by fire & water, and the worke, created by thee, both suffer nine monethes the creature, which is facioned in it.

9 But the thing that containeth, & that which is contained, shall both be preferred, and when time is come, the wombe, being preferred, deliuereth the things that growe in it.

10 For thou hast commanded the members, euen the breasts to giue milk vnto the fruit appointed to the breasts.

11 That the thing that is created, may be nourished for a time, till thou disposest it to thy mercie.

12 Thou bringest it by with thy righteousnes, nurturest it in thy Lawe, & refozmet it with thy iudgement.

13 Thou slapest it as thy creature, & givest it life as thy worke.

14 Being then that thou destropest him, which with so great labours is facioned, it is an easie thing to appoint by thy commandement, that the thing also which is made, might be preferred.

15 Now therefore, O Lord, I will speake (as touching men in general that shall rather proude) but concerning thy people, for whose sake I am soze.

16 And for thine inheritance for whose cause I mourne: for Israel, for whome I am wofull, and for Iacob, for whose sake I am grieved.

17 For them will I pray before thee, as well for my selfe, as for them: for I see our faultes that dwell in the laud.

18 But I haue heard the sudden coming of the iudge, which is to come.

19 Therefore heare my voice, & vnderstand my words, which I will speake before thee. The beginning of the words of Esdras, before he was taken vp.

20 O Lord, that liuest for euer, which beholdest from aboue that which is aboue and in the ayre, 31 Whose thorne is inextinguishable, and his glorie incomprehensible, before whome the host of the Angels stand with trembling.

32 Whose keeping is turned in winde & fire, whose word is true, & sayings stedfast, whose commandement is strong, & government terrible.

33 Whose looke dieth vpon the depths, and wrath maketh the mountaines to melt away as the thing beareth witness.

34 Heare the prayer of thy seruant, & receiue into thine eares the petition of thy creature.

35 For while I liue, I will speake, and so long as I haue vnderstanding, I will answer.

36 Looke not vpon the firmes of thy people, rather then thy faithfull seruants.

37 Haue not respect vnto þ wicked deeds of men, rather then to them that haue thy testimonies in afflictions.

38 Thinke not vpon those that haue walked fainedly before thee, but remember them that reuerence thy will.

39 Let it not be thy will to destroy them, which haue liued like beasts, but looke vpon them that haue cleaerly taught thy lawe.

40 Take not displeasure with them, which appeare worse then beasts, but lone the, that alway put their trust in thy righteousness and glorie.

41 For we and our fathers haue all the same sickness: but because of vs that are sinners, thou shalt be called mercifull.

42 If therefore thou wilt haue mercie vpon vs, thou shalt be called mercifull towards vs which haue no workes of righteousness.

43 For the righteous, which haue laid by many good workes, let them receive the reward of their owne deedes.

44 But what is man, that thou shouldst take displeasure at him? or what is this mortal generation, that thou shouldst be so grieved towards it?

45 For verily there is no man among them that be boiue, but he hath done wickedly, nor any that doeth confesse thee, which hath not done amisse.

46 For in this, O Lord, thy righteousness & thy goodnes shall be proued, if thou be mercifull vnto them, which haue not the substance of good workes.

47 Then answered he mee, & said, Some things hast thou spoken aright, & accusing vnto thy wordes it shall be.

48 For I wil not verily consider þ workes of them, before the death, before the iudgement, before destruction:

49 But I will reioyce in þ ways of the righteous, & I will remember the pilgrimage, the saluation & the reward that they shall haue.

40 Like as I haue spoken now, so shall it come to passe.

41 For as the husbandman soweth much seede vpon the ground, & planteth many trees, and gett alway the thing that is sown, commeth not by in time, nepther gett both all that is planted, take roote: so nepther shall they all that are brought into the world, be saued.

42 I answered then and said, if I haue found grace, let mee speake.

43 Like as the husbandmans seede perissheth, if it come not by, and receiue not raine in due season, or if it be destroyed with too much raine:

44 So perissheth man, which is created with thine hands, and thou art called his paternie, because he is created to thine image, for whose sake thou hast made all things, and likened him vnto the husbandmans seede.

45 We nor worth with vs, O Lord, but spare thy people, and haue mercie vpon thine inheritance: for thou wilt be mercifull vnto thy creature.

46 Then answered he mee, and said, The things present are for the present, and the things to come for such as bee to come.

47 For thou art farre of that thou shouldst lone thy creature about mee: but I haue oft times drawn mee vnto thee and vnto it, but neuer to the vns righteous.

48 In this also thou art marueilous before the highest,

49 In that thou hast humbled thy selfe, as it becommeth thee, and hast not iudged thy selfe worthy to boast thy selfe greatly among the righteous.

50 For many miseries and calamities remaine for them that shall liue in the latter tyme, because they shall walke in great pride.

51 But learne thou for thy selfe, and seeke out the glorie for such as be like thee.

52 For vnto you is Paradise opened: the tree of life is planted: the tyme to come is prepared, plenteousnesse made ready: the citie is builded, and rest is prepared, perfect goodnes and absolute wisdom.

53 The roote of euil is sealed by fro ones the weakenes and moth is destroyed from you, and into hell fieth corruption to be forgotten.

54 Sorowes are vanisshed away, and in the end is shewed the treasure of immortalitye.

55 Therefore aske thou no more questions concerning the multitude of them that perish.

56 For when they had libertie, they despised the most high: they contemned his lawe & forsooke his wordes.

57 Moreover, they haue troden downe his righteousnes.

58 Saying in their heart, that there was no God, though they knewe that they should dye.

59 For as the thing that I haue spoken of, is made ready for you: so is thirst and paine prepared for them: for God would not that man should perish:

60 But they after they were created, have defiled the name of him that made the, and are unthankfull vnto him, which prepared life for them.

61 Therefore my judgement is nowre at hand.

62 These things haue I not shewed vnto all men, but vnto thee, and to a fewe like thee: then I answered, and saide,

63 Behold nowre, O Lord: thou hast shewed me the many wonders, which thou art determined to do in the last time, but in what time, thou hast not shewed me.

CHAP. IX.

7 All things in the world haue a beginning & an end. 10 Torments for the wicked after this life. 15 The number of the wicked is more then of the good. 29 The Iewes ingratitude. 36 Therefore they perish. 38 The vision of a woman lamenting.

1 H E answered me then, & saide, I assure the time with it selfe, and when thou seest that one part of the towne come to passe, which I haue tolde thee before,

2 Then shalt thou understand, that it is the time wherein the most High will besinne to visite the world which he made.

3 Therefore when there shall be seene * an earthquake in the world, and an vproye of the people,

4 Then shalt thou understand that the most High spake of those things, from the daies that were before thee, euen fro the beginning.

5 For as all that is made in the world, hath a beginning and an end, and the end is manifest,

6 So the times also of the most High haue plaine beginnings in wonders and signes, and end in effect and miracles.

7 And euery one that shall escape safe, and shall be deliuered by his woikes, and by the faith wherewith he haue beleued,

8 Shall be preferred from the said perils and shall see my saluation in my lande, & within my borders: for I haue kept me holy from the world.

9 Then shall they haue pitie of them selues, which now haue abused my wayes: and they that haue cast them out despitiously, shall dwell in paines.

10 For such as in their life haue receiued benefites, and haue not knowne me,

11 But haue abhoyred my Lawe, while they were yet in libertie, and when they had yet leasure of amendment, & would not understand but despised it,

12 They must be caught in a snare death by paine.

13 And therefore be thou no more careful, to knowe howe the vngodly shall be punished, but inquiree howe the righteous shall be saued, and whose the world is, and for whom it is, and when.

14 Then answered I, and saud,

15 I haue also said that which I say now and will speake hereafter, that there be many more of them which perish, then of them that shall be saued,

16 As the flood is greater then a drop.

17 And he answered me, saying, As the field is, so is also the seede: as the flowers be, so are the colours also: such as the workman is, such is the worke: and as the husbandman is, so is his husbandry: for it was the time of the world.

18 Surely when I prepared the world, which was not yet made for them to dwell in that nowre liue, no man spake against me.

19 For then euery one obeyed, but nowre the maners of them that are created in this world, that is made, are corrupted by a perpetuall seede, and by a lawe, whereout they can not rid them selues.

20 So I considered the world, and behold, there was perill, because of the deuils, that were sprung vp into it.

21 Yet when I saue it, I spare it greatly, and haue kept me one grape of the cluster, & a plant out of a great people.

22 Let therefore the multitude perish, which are borne in vaine: and let my grape be kept, & my plant, which I haue deliued with great labour.

23 Iauertheles, if thou wilt cease seuen days mo (but thou shalt not fast in the,

24 But shalt goe into a faire field, where no house is builded, & shalt eate onely of the flowers of the field, and eat no flesh, nor drinke wine, but the flowers only,

25 And pray vnto the most High continually) then will I come, & talke with thee.

26 So I went my way, as he had sōmāded me, into the field, which is called Mesdath, & there I sate among the flowers, & did eate of the hearbs of the field, and the meate of the same satisfied me.

27 And after seuen daies, as I sate vpon the grasse, and mine heart was vexed within me, as afoze,

28 I opened my mouth, and beganne to talke before the most High, and to say,

29 O Lord, when thou wouldst shew thy self vnto vs, thou declaredst thy self vnto our fathers in þ wilderness, in a place where no mā dwelleth, in a barren place, when they came out of Egypt.

30 And expressly spakest vnto them, saying, Heare me, O Israel, and marke my woordes, thou sēde of Jacob.

31 For beholde, I sate my lawe in you, that ye may bring forth fruite in pore, & that ye may be honoured by it for ever.

32 But our fathers, which receiued the lawe, kept it not, neither obserued thine ordinances, neither did the fruit of the lawe appeare, neither could it, for it was thine.

33 * For they that receiued it, perished because they kept not the thing that was sōwen in them.

34 And so, it is a custome when the ground receiueth seede, or the sea a ship, or a desel meate & drinke, if that perill wherewith a thing is sōwen, or wherewith any thing is put,

35 Likewise the thing that is sōwen, or is put therein, and the thinges that are reeued, received, must perish: so the things that are received, doe not remaine with vs: but in vs it commeth not so to passe.

36 For we that haue received the Lawe, perish in sinne, and our heart also which receiued it.

37 But the Lawe perisheth not, but remaineth in his force.

38 ¶ And when I spake these things in mine heart, I looked about me, and by on the right side I sawe a woman, which mourned sore, and lamented with a loude voyce, and was greued in heart, and rent her clothes, and she had ashes vpon her head.

39 Then I left my thoughtes, wherein I was occupied, and turned me vnto her,

40 And saide vnto her, Wherefore weepest thou: why art thou so sone in mind?

41 And she said vnto me, Syr, let me alone, that I may bewaile my self, and increase sorowe: for I am sore vexed in my mind, and brought very lowe.

42 Then I saide vnto her, What aplethly thee: tell me.

43 And she saide vnto me, I thy seruant haue bene barren, and haue had no childe, hauing an husband thirtie yeres.

44 And euery youre, and euery day these thirtie yeres I pray to the most High day and night.

45 And after thirtie yeres, God heard me thine handmaide, and looked vpon my miserie, considered my trouble, and gaue me a sonne, and I was glad of him: so was mine husband also, and all they of my country, and we gaue great honour vnto the Almighty.

46 And I nourished him with great travail.

47 So when he grewe by, and came to take a wife, I made a feall.

CHAP. X.

Est: as and the woman that appeareth vnto him, commune together.

1 But when my sonne went into his chamber, he fell downe, and dyed.

2 Then we all ouerthrew the lightes, and all my neighbours rose vp to comfort me: so I rested vntill the second day at night.

3 And when they had all left of to comfort me, and that I should be quiet, then I rose vp by night, & fled, and am come into this field as thou seest.

4 And am not purposed to returne into the citie, but to remaine here, and neither to eate nor drinke, but continually to mourne and fast, vntill I dye.

5 Then left I my purpose wherein I was, and spake to her angrily, and saide,

6 Thou foolish woman aboute all other, seest thou not our heauines, and what commeth vnto vs?

7 For Sion our mother is all woeful and is sore afflicted, & mourneth extremely.

8 Seeing we be all now in heauines, and make our moone (for we be all sorrowful) art thou sone for one sonne?

9 Demande the earth, and she shall tell thee: it is the which ought to mourne for the fall of so many & grow vpon her.

10 For from the beginning all men are borne of her, & other thal come, & behold, they walke almost all into destruction, & the multitude of them shalbe destroyed.

11 Who should then rather mourne, she that hath lost so great a multitude, or thou which art sone but for one?

12 But if thou wouldest say vnto me, My mourning is not like the mourning of the earth (for I haue lost the fruit of my wombe, which I brought forth with heauines, and bare with sorowes, 13 But the earth is according to the manner of the earth, and the present multitude returneth into her as it came)

14 Then say I vnto thee, As thou hast borne with travail, so the earth also from the beginning queth her fruit vnto man, euen to him that laboured her.

15 Nowe therefore withhold thy sorowe in thy selfe, and beare constantly that which commeth vnto thee:

16 For if thou allowest Gods purpose, and receiuest his counsell in tyme, thou shalt be commended therein.

17 So thy way then into the citie to thine husband.

18 ¶ Then she said vnto me, I will not, I wil not go into y^e citie, but here wil I dy.

19 So I continued to speake more with her, and said,

20 Do not so, but be counselled: for howe many falles hath Sion? Be of god comfort because of the sorowe of Ierusalem.

21 For thou seest that our Sanctuarie is laid waste: our altar is broken downe: our Temple is destroyed:

22 Our psalterion fainteth, and the song ceaseth, & our mirth is vanisshed away, and the light of our candlestick is quenched, and the Ark of our covenant is taken away, and our holy things are desiled, and the flame that is called vpon ouer vs, is almost dishonoured, and our childe are put to shame, and our Priestes are burnt, and our Leuites are carried into captiuitie, and our virgines are defiled, and our womes rauished, and our righteous men spoiled, and our childe destroyed, & our pong men are brought in bondage, and our strong men are become weake,

23 And which is the greatest of all, Sion the seale hath lost her worship: for she is deliuered into the handes of them that hate vs.

24 And therefore shake off thy great heauines, and put away the multitude of sorowes, that the Almighty may be mercifull vnto thee, and that the most High may giue thee rest and ease from thy labour.

25 And when I was talking with her, her face and beautie shined suddainly, and her countenance was bright, so that I was afraide of her and wised what it might be.

26 And behold, immediately the east out a great voice, verie fearfull, so that þ earth shooke at the noise of the woman.

27 And I looked, and beheld, the woman appeared vnto mee no more: but there was a citie builded, & a place was shewed from the ground and foundation. Then was I afraid, and cryed with a loud voice, and said,

Chap. 4. I.

28 Where is Ariel þ Angel *which came to mee at the fall? for he hath caused mee to come into many and deepe considerations, & mine ende is turned into corruption, & my prayer to reinke.

29 And as I was speaking these words, behold, he came vnto mee, and looked vpon mee.

30 And lo, I lay as one dead, and mine vnderstanding was altered, & he tooke mee by the right hand and comforted mee, and set mee vpon my feete, and said vnto mee, 31 What apleth thee? and why is thy vnderstanding bereed? and the vnderstanding of thine heart? and wherefore art thou soyr?

Chap. 5. 20.

32 And I said, Because thou hast forsaken me, and I haue done according vnto thy words: I went into the field, and there haue I seene things, & see that I am not able to expesse.

33 Then said he vnto me, Stand by mansly, and I will giue thee exhortation.

34 Then said I, Speake vnto mee, my Lord, and forsake mee not, lest I dye through rashnesse.

35 For I haue seene that I knowe not, & heare that I do not know.

36 Whis my vnderstanding deceiued, or doth my minde, being hauntie, erre?

37 Now therefore I beseech thee that thou wilt shewe thy seruant of this wonder.

38 Then he answered me, & said, Heare mee, and I will informe thee, & tell thee wherefore thou art afraid: for the most High hath reueiled many secrete things vnto thee.

39 He hath seene thy good purpose, that thou art soyr continually for thy people, and makest great lamentation for Sion.

40 This therefore is the vnderstanding of the vision, which appeared vnto thee a little while ago.

41 Thou sawest a woman mourning, and thou beganest to comfort her:

42 But now seest thou the likeness of the woman no more, but there appeared vnto thee a citie builded.

43 And where as shee tolde thee of þ death of her soune, this is the solution,

44 This woman, which thou sawest, shee is Sion: and where as shee tolde thee (euen thee which thou seest now as a citie builded)

45 And as touching that shee said vnto thee, that shee was barren thirtie yeres, this was concerning that, there was ruen thirtie yeres wherein there was no offering offered in her.

46 But after thirtie yeres, Salomon builded the citie, and offered offerings: then bare the barren a sonne.

47 And where as shee tolde thee, that shee nourished him, with labour, that was þ inhabiting of Jerusalem.

48 But where as shee tolde thee that her sonne, as his chaunce was, dyed when shee came into her chamber, that is the fall that is come to Jerusalem.

49 And when thou sawest her like one that mourned for her soune, thou beganest to comfort her: of these things which haue chanced these are to be opened vnto thee.

50 For now the most high seeth that thou art soyr in thy minde, and because thou suffrest with all thine heart for her, hee shewed thee the clarities of her glorie, & the fairenes of her beaute.

51 And therefore I bad thee remaine in the field where no house was builded.

52 For I knew that the most high would shewe these things vnto thee.

53 Therefore I commanded thee to go into the field, where no foundation nor building is.

54 For the worke of mans building can not stand in that place where the citie of the most High should be shewed.

55 And therefore feare not, neither let thine heart be afraid, but go in, and see the beauntie and greatnesse of the building as much as thou art able to see with thine eyes.

56 And after this shalt thou heare, as much as thine eares may comprehend.

57 For thou art blessed aboue many, and art called with the moste High among the few.

58 But to morowe at night thou shalt remaine here,

59 And the most High shall shewe thee visions of high things, which the most High will do vnto them that dwell vpon earth, in the last dayes. So I slept the same night and another, as he had commanded mee.

CHAP. XI.

1 The vision of an eagle comming forth of the Sea, and of her feathers, 37 Of a lyon comming out of the forest.

1 Then sawe I a dreame, and beholde, there came by from the sea an eagle, which had twelue feathered wings and thre heads.

2 And I sawe, and behold, shee spred her wings ouer all the earth, and all the windes of the ayre blew on her, & gathered them selues.

3 And I beheld, and out of her feathers grew out other contrarie feathers, and they became litle feathers and small.

4 But her heads remained still, & the head in the middes was greater then the other heads, yet rested it with them.

5 Moreover, I sawe that the eagle flew with his feathers & reigned vpon earth, and and ouer them that dwelt therein.

6 And I sawe that all things vnder heauen were subiect vnto her, and no man spake againt her, no nor one creature vpon earth.

7 I sawe also that the eagle stood by vpon her clawes, and spake to her feathers, saying,

8 Watch not altogether: scope euery one in his owne place, & watch by course.

9 But let the heads be preferred for the last.

10 Nevertheless, I sawe that the voice went not out of her heads, but from the middes of her bodie.

11 Then I numbred her contrary feathers, and behold, there were eight of them.

12 And I looked, and behold vpon the right side there arose one feather, & reigned ouer all the earth.

13 And when it had reigned, the ende of it came, and the place thereof appeared no more. So the next stood vp, and reigned: it continued a long time.

14 And when it had reigned, the end of it came also, and as the first, so it appeared no more.

15 Then there came a voyce vnto it, and said,

16 Heare thou that hast kept the earth so long: this I say vnto thee, before thou beginnest to appeare no more,

17 There shall none after thee attaine vnto thy time, neither to the halfe thereof.

18 Then arose the third & reigned as the other afore, & it appeared no more also.

19 So came it to all the others one after another, so that euery one reigned, and then appeared no more.

20 Then I looked, & behold in processe of time the feathers that followed, stood vpon the right side, that they might rule also, and some of them ruled, but without a while they appeared no more.

21 For some of them were set vp, but ruled not.

22 After this I looked and beholde, the twelue feathers appeared no more, nor the two wings.

23 And there was no more vpon the eagles bodie, but two heads that rested, & fixe wings.

24 Then sawe I also that two wings descended them selues from the fixe, and remained vnder the head, that was vpon the right side: for the foure continued in their place.

25 So I looked, & behold, the underwings thought to set vp them selues, & to haue the rule.

26 Then was there one set vp, but shortly it appeared no more.

27 And the second were sooner gone then the first.

28 Then I beheld, and lo, the two that remained, thought also in them selues to reigne.

29 And when they so thought, beholde, there awaked one of the heads that were at rest, which was in the middes:

for that was greater then the two.

30 And then I sawe, that the two heads were topped therewith.

31 And behold, the head was turned with them, that were with it, & did eat by the two underwings & would haue reigned.

32 But this head put the whole earth in feare, & bare rule in it, ouer all those that dwelt vpon earth with much labour, & it had the gouernance of & would, more then all the wings that had bene.

33 After this I looked, & behold, the head that was in the middes, suddenly appeared no more, as did the wings.

34 But the two heads remained, which also ruled likewise vpon earth, and ouer those that dwelt therein.

35 And I beheld, and lo the head vpon the right side deuoured that was vpon the left side.

36 Then I heard a voyce which said vnto mee, looke before thee, and consider the thing that thou seest.

37 So I sawe, & behold as it were a vpon that roareth, running hastily out of the wood: & I sawe that he sent out a mans voyce vnto the eagle, & spake, & said,

38 Heare thou, I will talke with thee, & the most High shall say vnto thee,

39 Art not thou that that of the foure beasts re-nameth, whome I made to reigne in my world, that by them the end of times might come,

40 And the fourth is come, & hath ouercome all the beasts that were past, & hath power ouer the world with great fearfulness, & ouer the whole compasse of the earth with most wicked oppression, and that dwelleth so long time in all the world with deceit?

41 For thou hast not iudged the earth with truely.

42 Seeing thou hast troubled the meeke, thou hast hurt the peaceable, and thou hast loued spars, & destroyed the dwellings of them that brought forth fruite, and hast cast downe the walles of such as did thee no harme,

43 Therefore is thy wrongfull dealing come vp vnto the most High, and thy pride vnto the Mightie.

44 The most High also hath looked vpon the proude times, and behold, they are ended, and their abominations are fulfilled.

45 Therefore appeare no more, thou eagle, nor thine horrible wings, nor thy wicked feathers, nor thy malicious heads, and thy wicked clawes, nor all thy vaine bodie,

46 That all the earth may be refreshed, and come againe, as one deliuered from thy violence, and that they may hope for the iudgement and mercie of him that made her.

CHAP. XII.

The declaration of the former visions.

1 And when the vpon spake these words to the eagle, I sawe,

- 2 And beholde, the head that had the byp-per hand, appeared no more, neither did the foure wings appeare any more, that came to it, and set by them selues to reigne, whose kingdome was small and full of vyces.
- 3 And I sawe, and beholde, they appeared no more, and the whole bodie of the egle was burnt, so that the earth was in great feare. Then I awaked out of the trouble and traunce of my mind, & from the great feare, and saide vnto my spirit,
- 4 Lo, this hast thou done vnto me in that thou searchest out the ways of the most high.
- 5 Lo, yet am I wearie in my minde, and very weake in my spirit, & little strength is there in me, for the great feare that I receiued this night.
- 6 Therefore now I will beseech the most high that he will comfort me vnto the end.
- 7 And I said, O lord, lord, If I haue found grace before thy light, and if I am iustified with thee before many other, and if my prayer in dede be come by before thy face,
- 8 Comfort me, and shewe me thy seruant, the interpretation and difference of this horrible light, that thou maist perfectly comfort my soule,
- 9 Seeing thou hast iudged me worthy to shewe me the last times.
- 10 ¶ Then he saide vnto me, This is the interpretation of this vision,
- 11 The egle, whose thou sawest come by fro the sea, is the * kingdome which was scene in the vision of thy brother Daniel.
- 12 But it was not expounded vnto him :
therefore now I declare it vnto thee.
- 13 Behold, the dapes come, that there shall rise by a kingdome vpon the earth, and it shall be feared aboue all kingdomes that were before it.
- 14 In it shall twelue kings reigne one after another.
- 15 Wherof þ second shall begin to reigne,
and shall haue more time then the twelue.
- 16 And this do the twelue wings signifie, which thou sawest.
- 17 As for the voyce that thou heardest speake, & that thou sawest not go out fro the heabes, but from the middes of the body thereof, this is the interpretation,
- 18 That after the time of that kingdome there shall arise great strife, and it shall be in danger to fall, but it shall not then fall, but shall be rebuked againe to his begunning.
- 19 Concerning the eight vnderwings, which þ sawest hang vnto her wings,
this is the interpretation,
- 20 In him shall arise eight kings, whose time shall be but small, and their peres swift, and two of them shall perish.
- 21 But wch in the middle time cometh, there shall be foure kept a time, whiles his time beginneth to come. þ if may be ended, but two shall be kept vnto þ end.
- 22 And whereas thou sawest three heads

- resting, this is the interpretation,
- 23 In his last dapes shall the moste high raise by three kingdomes, & shall call againe many things into them, and they shall haue the dominion of þ earth,
- 24 And of those that dwell therein, with much grieue aboue al those that were before them : therfore are they called the heads of the egle.
- 25 For they shall accomplysh his wickednes, and shall finish his last end.
- 26 And whereas thou sawest that þ great head appeared no more, it signifieth that one of them shall die vpon his bed, & per with paine.
- 27 For the two that remaine, the sword shall denoure them.
- 28 For the sword of the one shall denoure the other : but at the last shall he fall by the sword him selfe.
- 29 And whereas thou sawest two vnder-wings, that went off toward the head, which was on the right side, this is the interpretation,
- 30 These are they whome the most high hath preferred for their end, whose kingdome is litle, and full of trouble as thou sawest.
- 31 And the yron whom thou sawest rising by out of the wood and roaring, & speaking vnto the egle, and rebuking her for her vnrightrouinesse with all the wordes that thou hast heard,
- 32 This is the wind which the most high hath kept for them, and for their wickednes vnto the end, and he shall reprove them, and cast before them their spoules.
- 33 For he shall set them aloue in the iudge-ment, and shall rebuke them and correct
them.
- 34 For he will deliuer the residue of my people by affliction, which are preferred byon my borders, and he shall make them iorfull, vntill the coming of the day of iudgement, wherof I haue spoken vnto thee from the beginning.
- 35 This is the dicarie that thou sawest, and these are the interpretations.
- 36 Thou onely hast bene meete to knowe this secret of the most high.
- 37 Therefore write all these things that thou hast seene, in a booke & hide them,
- 38 And teach them the wise of the people, whose hearts thou knowest may comprehend and keepe these secrets.
- 39 But waite thou here yet seven dapes more, that it may be shewed thee what so euer it pleaseth the most high to declare vnto thee : and with þ he went his way.
- 40 And when al the people peremied, that the seven dapes were past, & I not come againe vnto the cite, they gathered them altogether, from the least vnto the most,
and came vnto me, and spake vnto me,
saying,
- 41 What haue we offended thee? what evil haue we don against thee, that thou sokkest vs. a littell in this place?
- 42 For of all the people thou only art left vs as a grape of the vine, and as a caule dle in a darke place, and as an haunen of ship presented from the tempest.

43 Are not the euils which are come vnto vs sufficient?

44 If thou then forsake vs, howe much better had it ben for vs, that we had ben burnt also as Sion was burnt?

45 For we are no better then they that dis-ed there: and they wept with a loude voice. Then answered I them, and saide,

46 Be of good comfort, O Israel, and be not heaume, thou house of Jacob.

47 For the most High hath pou in remission, and the Almighty hath not forsaken gotten pou in temptation.

48 As for me I haue not forsaken you, neither am I departed from you, but am come into this place to pray for the dessolatio of Sion, that I might seeke merracie for the low estate of your Sanctuarie.

49 And nowe goe your way home euerie man, and after these dayes will I come vnto you.

50 So the people went their way into the cite, as I commaunded them:

51 But I remained still in the felde seuen dayes, as he had commaunded me, and did eate only of the flowers of the field, and had in meate of the yeards in those dayes,

CHAP. XIII.

*The vision of a winde comming forth of the sea,
3 Which became a man, 5 His proprietie & power against his enemies. 21 The declaration of this vision.*

1 After the seuen dayes I dreamed a dreame by night.

2 And beholde, there arose a winde from the sea, and it moued all the waues thereof.

3 And I looked, and beholde, there was a mightie man with the thousandes of heauen: and when he turned his countenance to looke, all the things trembled that were scene vnder him.

4 And when the voyce went out of his mouth, all they burned that heard his voice, as the earth faileth when it seeth the fire.

5 After these things I sawe, and behold, there was gathered together a multitude of men out of number, from the four winds of heauen, to fight against the man that came out from the sea.

6 And I looked, and beholde, he graued him selfe a great mountaine, and steepe up vpon it.

7 But I would haue scene the countrey or place whereout the hill was grauen, and I could not.

8 I sawe after these things, and behold, al they which came to fight against him,
were soze afraid, & yet they durst fight.

9 Neuertheles, when he sawe the fierces-nes of the multitude that came, he lifted not vp his hand: for he helde no sword nor any instrument of warre,

10 But only as I sawe, he sent out of his mouth, as it had bene a blast of fire, and out of his lips the winde of the flame, & out of his tong he cast out sparkes and flouies.

11 And they were all mixt together, euen this blast of fire, the winde of the flame, and the great flouie, and fell with violence vpon the multitude, which was prepared to fight, and burnt them by al, so that of the innumerable multitude there was nothing scene, but only dust, and smell of smoke. When I sawe this,
I was afraide.

12 I Afterwarde sawe I the same man come downe from the mountaine, and calling vnto him an other peaceable multitude.

13 And there came many vnto him, some with ioyful countenance, and some with sad: some of them were bound, and some brought of them that were offered: and I was sicke through great feare, and as waked, and said,

14 Thou hast shewed thy seruant these wonders from the beginning, and hast coited me worthy to receiue my praer.

15 Shewe me now therefore the interpretation of this dreame.

16 For thus I consider in mine vnder-standing, wo vnto them that shall be left in those dayes, and much more wo vnto them that are not left behinde.

17 For they that were not left, were in heauines.

18 Nowe vnderstand I the things that are laide vp in the latter dayes, which shall come both vnto them, and to those that are left behinde.

19 Therefore are they come into great perils and many necessities, as these dream-es declare.

20 Yet is it easer, that he that is in danger, should fall into these, and forseeke the things to come hereafter, then to passe away as a cloud out of the world.

21 I Then answered he me, and said, The interpretation of the vision will I shew thee, and I will open to thee the thing that thou hast required.

22 Whereas thou hast spoken of them that are left behinde, this is the interpretation.

23 He that shall beare the danger in that time, he shall keepe him selfe. They that be fallen into danger, are such as haue works & faith toward the most mightie.

24 Knowe therefore, that they which be left behinde, are more blessed then they that be dead.

25 These are the meanings of the vision,
Whereas thou sawest a man comming vp from the middes of the sea,

26 The same is he whom the most High hath kept a great season, who by his owne selfe shall deliuer his creature, and he shall order them that are left behinde.

27 I And whereas thou sawest, that out of his mouth there came a blast with fire and flouie,

28 And that he neither helde sword nor weapon, but that by his fierces he destroyed

despoyred the whole multitude, & came to fight against him, this is the interpretation,

- 29 Beholde, the dayes come that the most high will beguine to deliuer them that are vpon the earth:
- 30 And he shall astonishe the heartes of them that dwell vpon the earth.
- 31 And one shall prepare to fight against another, citie against citie, and place against place, * and nation, against nation, and realme against realme.
- 32 When this cometh to passe, then shall the tokens come, that I shewed thee before, and then shall my sonne bee reuealed, whome thou sawest goe by as a man.
- 33 And when all the people heare his voyce, euery man shall in their own land leaue the bartell that they haue ouer against an other.
- 34 And an innumerable multitude shall be gathered as one, as they that be willing to come, and to fight against him.
- 35 But he shall stande vpon the top of mount Sion.
- 36 And Sion shall come, and shall be shewed to all, being prepared & builded, as thou sawest the hill grauen forth with out any handes.
- 37 And this my sonne shall rebuke the wicked inuentions of those nations, which the for their wicked life are fallen into þe tempest.
- 38 And into tormentes like to flame, whereby they shall be tormented: and without any labour will he destroy them, euen by the lawe, which is compared vnto the fire.
- 39 And whereas thou sawest that he gathered an other peaceable people vnto him,

40 Those are þe ten tribes which were carried away captiues out of their owne lande * in the time of Oseas the King, whome Salmanasar the King of the Assyrians toke captiue, and carried them beyond the riuer: so were they brought into an other land.

41 But they toke this counsell to themselves, that they would leaue the multitude of the heathen, and goe forth into a further countrie, where neuer mankinde dwelt,

42 That they might there keepe their statutes, which they neuer kept in their owne lande.

43 And they entred in at the narrow passages of the riuer Euphrates, 44 For the most high then shewed them signes, and staped the springes of the founteyne till they were passed ouer.

45 For thowowe the countrie there was a great iourney, euen of a peare and an halfe, and the same region is called * Ararat.

46 Then dwelt they there vntill the latter time: and when they come forth againe,

47 The most High shall hold still þe spirit of the riuer againe, that they maye goe thowowe: therefore sawest thou the multitude peaceable.

48 But they that bee left behind of thy people, are those that be found with in my borders.

49 Nowe which the despoyred the multitude of the nations that are gathered together, he shall defende the people that remaine,

50 And then shall he shew great wonders vnto them.

51 Then saide I, O Lorde, Lorde, shewe me this, wherefore haue I seene the man coming vpon from the middes of the sea?

52 And he saide vnto me, As thou canst neither seeke out, nor know these things, that are in the depth of the sea, so can no man vpon earth see my Sonne, nor those that be with him, but in the time of that day.

53 This is the interpretation of þe dreame which thou sawest, and whereby thou onely art lightened.

54 For thou hast forsaken thine owne lawe, and applied thy diligence vnto mine, and sought it.

55 Thy life shall thou ordered in wisdom, and hast called vnderstanding thy mother.

56 Therefore haue I shewed thee the rewarde with the most high: and after these other dayes I will speake other things vnto thee, and will declare the great and wonderous things.

57 Then went I forth vnto the felde, glorifying and praying the most High for the wonders which he did in time.

58 Which he governeth, and such things as come in their seasons: and these I saie thee dayes.

3 Howe God appeared to Moyses in the bush. 10. All things decline to age. 15. The latter times worse then the former. 29. The ingratitude of Israel. 35. The resurrection & iudgement.

1 Vpon the thirde day I sat vnder an oke, and beholde, there came forth a voyce vnto me out of the bulke, & said, Elias, Elias.

2 And I saide, Here am I, Lorde, & stood vpon my face.

3 Then saide he vnto me, * In the bush Exod. 3.2,8.

I reueiled my selfe, & spake vnto Moyses, when my people sinned in Egypt:

4 And I sent him, and led my people out of Egypt, and brought him vpon the mount Sinai, and I helde him with me a long season,

5 And I told him many wonders, and shewed him the secretes of the times, & the end, & commaunded him saying,

6 These words shalt thou declare, and these shalt thou hide.

thelwed, and the dreames that thou hast sene, and the interpretations which thou hast hearde.

8 For thou shalt be taken away from all, and thou shalt remaine hence forth with my counsell, and with suche as be like the, untill the times be ended.

9 For the worlde hath lost his youth, and the times beginne to wane olde.

10 For the worlde is diuided into twelue partes, and tenn partes. of it are gone alreadie, and halfe of the tenth parte.

11 And there remaineth that which is after the halfe of the tenth parte.

12 Therefore set thine house in order, and reforme thy people, and comfort such of them as be in trouble, and now renounce the corruption.

13 Let goe from thee mortall thoughtes:
cast away from thee the burdens of me,
and put off now the weake nature,

14 And set aside thy most greuous thou-ghtes, and halt thee to departe from these times.

15 For greater euill then those, whiche thou hast sene now, shall they communte.

16 For the weaker that the worlde is by reason of age, the more shall the euils be increased vpon them that dwell therein.

17 For the trueth is fledde farre away, & lies are at hand: for now halsteth the vision to come, that thou hast sene.

18 ¶ Then answered I, and saide before
the,

19 Behold, O Lord, I will goe as thou hast commaunded me, and reforme the people, which are present: but they that shall be borne afterwarde, who shall admonish the?

20 Thus the worlde is set in darkenesse, and they that dwell therein, are without light.

21 For thy lawe is burnt, therefore no man knoweth the thinges that are done of thee, or the workes that shall be done.

22 But if I haue sounde grace before the, sende the holy Ghost vnto me, and I will write all that hath bene done in the worlde, since the beginning, whiche was written in thy lawe, that men may finde the path, and that they which will liue in the lasteres daies, may liue.

23 And he answered me, saying, Go, and gather the people, and say vnto them, that they seeke thee not for fourtie days,

24 But prepare thee many hore tables, and take with thee these five, Sarea, Dabitha, Selemia, Ecanus, and Nihil, which are ready to write swiftly,

25 And come hither, and I will light a candle of vnderstanding in thine heart, which shall not be put out till the things be performed which thou shalt begin to write.

26 And then shalt thou declare some thinges openly vnto the perfecte men, and some thinges shalt thou shewe se-cretely vnto the wise: to morrow this houre shalt thou beginne to write.

27 Then went I forth, as he commaunded me, and gathered all the people together, and saide,

28 Heare these wordes, O Israel,

29 * Our fathers at the beginning were strangers in Egypt, from whence they were deliuered,

30 And receiued the lawe of life, * whiche they kepte not, which ye also haue transgressed after them.

31 Then was the land, euen the lande of Sion, parted among you by lot: but your fathers and ye also haue done vnrightes-ously, and haue not kepte the wayes which the most high commaunded you.

32 And for so much as he is a righteous
Iudge, he tooke fro you in tyme the thing that he had giuen you.

33 And now are ye here, and your eyes
then among you,

34 Therefore, if so be that ye will subdue your owne vnderstanding, and reforme your hearte, ye shall be kepte alme, and after death shall ye obtene mercie.

35 For after death, shall the iudgement come, when we shall liue againe: and then shall the names of the righteous be manifest, and the workes of the vngods ly shall be declared.

36 Let no man therefore come now vnto me, nor sake me these fourtie daies.

37 So I tooke the five men, as he commaunded me, & we went into the field, and remained there.

38 The next day, beholde, a voyce called me, saying, Elias, * open thy mouth, &
drinke that I giue thee to drinke.

39 Then opened I my mouth, and behold he reached me a full cuppe, which was full as it were with water: but the colour of it was like fire.

40 And I tooke it, and dranke, and when I had dronke it, mine heart had vnder-standing, and wisdom grewe in my breast: for my spirit was strengthened in memoire.

41 And my mouth was opened, & shutte no more.

42 The most high gaue vnderstanding vnto the five men, that they wrote the high thinges of the night, whiche they vnderstood not.

43 But in the night, they did eate bread, but I spake by day, and helde not my tongue by night.

44 In fourtie daies they wrote two hundredeth and foure bookes.

45 And when the fourtie daies were fulfilled, the moste high spake, saying,
The first that thou hast written, publicly openly, that the worthy & vnworthy may reade it.

46 But keepe the seuentie last, that thou maist giue them to the wise among thy people.

47 For in them is the viene of vnderstanding, and the founteine of wisdom, and the ruer of knowledge: and I did so.

Gen. 47.4.

Ab. 7. 11.

Exp. 3. 3.

The prophesie of Ezechias is certaine. 5 The ewls that shall come on the worlde. 9 The Lord will aduenge the innocent blood. 12 Egypt shall lamene. 16 Sedition. 20 Andpaulement vpon the Kings of the earth. 24 Cursefull are they that sinne. 29 Troubles and wars vpon the whole earth. 53 God is the reuenger of his elect.

1 BEhold, speake thou in the eares of my people the words of prophesie, which I will put in thy mouth, saith the Lord,

2 And cause them to be written in a letter: for they are faithfull and true.

3 Feare not the imaginatiōs against thee: let not the unfaithfullnesse of the speakers trouble thee, that I spake against thee.

4 For euerie unfaithfull shall die in his unfaithfullnesse.

5 Beholde, saith the Loide, I will bring plagues vpon all the worlde, the sword, famine, death, and destruction:

6 Because that iniquitie hath fully polluted all the earth, and their wicked works are fulfilled.

7 Therefore, saith the Lord, I will hold my tongue no more for their wickednesse, (they doe vngodlie, neither will I suffer them in the things, þ they do wickedly.

8 Beholde, the innocent and righteous blood crieth vnto me, and the soules of the iust cri continually.

9 I wil surely auenge them, saith the Lord, & receiue vnto me all the innocent blood from among them,

10 Beholde, my people is led as a flocke to the slaughter: I will not suffer them now to dwell in the land of Egypt,

11 But I will bring the out with a mighty hand, and stretched out arme, and smite it with plagues as afore, and will destroy all the land thereof.

12 Egypt shall mourne, and the foundations thereof shall be smitten with the plague and punishment, that God shall bring vpon it.

13 The plowmen that till the ground, shall mourne: for their seedes shall faile thorough the blasting and haile, and by an horrible starre.

14 Woe to the worlde, and to them that dwell therein.

15 For the sword, and their destruction shall stand here, and one people shall stand by to fight against another with swords in their handes.

16 For there shall be sedition among men, & one shall inuade another: they shall not regarde their king, and the Princes shall be asire their doings by their power.

17 A man shall desire to go into a citie, and shall not be able.

18 Because of their pride the citie shall be troubled, the houses shall be afraid, and men shall feare.

19 A man shall haue no pitie vpon his neighbour, but shall destroy their houses with the sword, and their goods shall be spoiled for lacke of bread, and because of great reuible.

20 Behold, saith God. I call together all the Kinges of the earth to reuence me, which are from the East, and from the South, from the East, & from the East, to take vpon them, and to repare the thinges that they haue done to them.

21 As they do yet this day vnto my chosen, so will I do also, and recompense them in their bosome: thus saith the Lord God, 22 My right hand shall not spare the sinners neither shall the sword cease from them, that shed innocent blood vpon earth.

23 The fire is gone out from his wrath, & hat consumed the foundations of the earth, and the sinners like the straw, that is kindled.

24 Woe to them that sinne, and keepe not my commandments, saith the Loide.

25 I will not spare thee: depart, O childe, from the power: defile not my sanctuarie.

26 For the Loide knoweth all them that sinne against him, and therefore deliuereth he them vnto death and destruction.

27 For now are the plagues come vpon the worlde, and ye shall remaine in them: for God will not deliueu you, because ye haue sinned against him.

28 Beholde, an horrible vision cometh from the East,

29 Where generations of dragons of Arabia shall come out with many chariots, and the multitude of them shall be carried as the winde vpon the earth, that all they which heare them, may feare and tremble.

30 Euen the Cannanites raging in wrath shall go forth as the boies of the forest, & shall come with great power, and stand against them in battell, and shall destroy a portion of the land of the Assyrians.

31 But after this shall the dragons haue the upper hand, and remember their nature, and shall turne about, and conspire to consume them with a great power.

32 Then these shall be troubled, & keepe silence by their power, and shall flee.

33 From the land of the Assyrians shall the enimie besiege them, and consume some of them, and in their holde shall be feare and dread, and strife among their Kinges.

34 Beholde cloudes from the East, and from the North, vnto the South, and they are verie horrible to looke vpon, full of wrath and foyne.

35 They shall smite one vpon another: and they shall smite downe a great multitude of starres vpon the earth, euen their own starre, & the blood shall be from the sword vnto the bellie,

36 And the dongue of man vnto the Camels litter.

37 And there shall be great fearefulness, and trembling vpon earth, and they that see the wrath, shall be afraid, and a trembling shall come vpon them.

comes from the South, and from the North, and part from the West.

39 And from the East shall windes arise and shall open it with the cloude, which he raised by in wrath, and the starre, raised to feare the East & West winde, shall be destroyed.

40 And the great and mightie cloudes shall be lift uppe, full of wrath, and the starre, that they may make all the earth affraide, and them that dwel therein, and th at they may powre out ouer euery hie place, and lifted up, an horrible constellation.

41 As fire and hyle, and flying swordes, and many waters, that all fields may be full, & all riuers with the abundance of great waters.

42 And they shall breake downe the cities, and walles, and mountemes, and hilles, and the trees of the wood, and the grasse of the meadowes, and their come.

43 And they shal go with a streight course vnto Babylon, and make it affraide.

44 They shall come to her, and besiege her, and shall powre forth the constellation, and all the wrath against her: then shall the dust and smoke goe by into the heauen, and all they that be about her, shall bewaile her.

45 And they that remaine vnder her, shall be feruice vnto them, that haue put her in feare.

46 And thou Asia, that art partaker of the hope of Babylon, and the glorie of her person, 47 Wo vnto thee, O wretch, because thou hast made thy selfe like vnto her, & hast deckt thy daughters in whoyedom, that they might please & glorie in thy louers, which haue alway desired to committe whoyedome with thee.

48 Thou hast followed her that is hated in all her woikes, and in her inventions: therefore saith God, 49 I will send plagues vpon thee, widow head, pouertie, and famine, & the sword, & pestilence, to waste thine houles with destruction and death.

50 And the glorie of thy powder shall be dried up, as a floure when the heate riseth, that is sent vpon thee.

51 Thou shalt be sicke as a poore wife that is plagued and beaten of woman, so that the mightie & the louers shall not be able to recure thee.

52 Would I thus hate thee, saith y Lord,

53 If thou haddest not alway slauie my chosen, exalting the stroke of thine hands and saide ouer their death, when thou wast drunken,

54 Set forth the beautie of thy countenance?

55 The rewarde of thy whoyedome shall be in thy bosome: therefore shalt thou recure a rewarde.

56 As thou hast done vnto my chosen, saith the Lord, so will God do vnto thee, & will driue thee vnto the plague.

57 And thy children shall die of hunger, &

thou shalt fall by the sword, & thy cities shall be broken downe, & all thy men shall fall by the sword in the field.

58 And they that be in the mountains shall dye of hunger, & eate their owne flesh, and drinke their owne blood for want of bread and thirst of water.

59 And thou, as unhappie, shalt come thorow the sea, and recure plagues againe.

60 In the passage they shall cast downe the same citie, and shall roote out one part of thy lande, and confine the portion of thy glorie, and shall returne to her that was destroyed.

61 When thou shalt be cast downe, thou shalt be to them as stubble, and they shall be to thee as fire.

62 And they shall destroy thee, & thy cities, thy land, and thy mountaines: all thy woodes and all thy fruitfull trees shall they burne with fire.

63 Thy children shall they carrie away captiue, and shall spoyle thy substance, & marre the beautie of thy face.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Against Babylon, Asia, and Egypt and Syria, 18. 38 Of the euils that shall come vpon the worlde, with admonition how to gouerne themselves in afflictions. 54 To acknowledge their finnes, and to commit themselves to the Lord, 55 Whose mightie prouidence and iustice is to be reuerenced.

Wo to thee, Babylon and Asia: woe to thee, Egypt and Syria.

2 Sirde you: selues with sacke & haire clothe, and mourne your children, & be soie for your destruction is at hand.

3 The sword is sent vnto you, and who will turne it backe? a fire is sent among you, and who will quench it?

4 Plagues are sent vnto you, & who can driue them away?

5 May any man driue away an hungrie lyon in the wode? or quench the fire in stubble when it hath once begonne to burne? may one turne againe the arrow that is shot of a strong archer?

6 The mightie Lorde sendeth the plagues, and who can driue them away? the fire is gone forth in his wrath, and who can quench it?

7 He shall cast lightnings, and who shall not feare? he shall thunders, and who shall not be affraide?

8 The Lord shall threaten, and who shall not utterly be broken in pieces at his presence? the earth quakech and the foundation thereof: the seas arisech by with waues from the deepe, and the waters thereof are troubled, and the fishes thereof, before the Lorde and the glorie of his power.

9 For strong is his right hand that bendeth the bow: his arrows that he shooteth, are sharpe, and shall not misse, when they beginne to be shot into the endes of the worlde.

10 Beholde, the plagues are sent, and shall

- not turne againe until they come vpon earth.
- 11 The fire is kindled and shall not be put out, till it consume the foundations of the earth.
- 12 As an arrow, which is shot of a mighty archer, returneth not backward, so the plagues that shall be sent vpon earth, shall not turne againe.
- 13 Who is me: who is me: who will deliuer me in those dayes?
- 14 The beginning of sorowles and greate mourning: the beginning of famine, and greate death: the beginning of warres, & the powers shall feare: the beginning of euils, and all shall tremble. What shall I doe in these things, when the plagues come?
- 15 Behold, famine and plague, and trouble, and anguish are sente as scourges for amendment.
- 16 But for all these things they will not turne from their wickednesse, nor be alwayes myndfull of the scourges.
- 17 Behold, vitauls shall be so good cheape vpon earth, that they shall thinke them selues to be in good case: but then shall the euils bud forth vpon earth, euen the sword, the famine and greate confusion
- 18 For many of them that dwell vpon earth, shall perishe with famine, and the other that escape the famine, shall the sword destroe.
- 19 And the decade shall be cast out as dung, & there shall be no man to count them: for the earth shall be walled, and the cities shall be cast downe.
- 20 There shall be no man left to till the earth, and to sowe it: there shall giue fruit, but who shall gather them?
- 21 The grape shall be ripe, but who shall reade them: for all places shall be deuolate, so that one man shall desire to see another, or heare his voyce.
- 22 For of one Citie there shall be ten left, and two of the feldes, which shall hide themselves in the thicke woodes, and in cleftes of rocks.
- 23 As when there remaine three or foure olmes in the place where olmes growe, or among other trees,
- 24 Or as when a vineyarde is gathered, there are left some grapes of them that diligently soughte the vineyard:
- 25 So in those dayes there shall be three or foure left by them that seare their houles with the sword.
- 26 And the earth shall be left waste, and the feldes thereof shall waxe idle, & her wayes and all her pathes shall growe full of thornes, because no man shall trauell there through.
- 27 The virgines shall mourne, hauing no husbandes: the women shall make lamentation, hauing no husbandes: their daughters shall mourne hauing no husbands.
- 28 In the warres shall their husbandes be destroyed, and their husbandes shall

- perishe with famine.
- 29 But, ye seruantes of the Lord, heare these things and marke them.
- 30 Beholde the worde of the Lord, receiue it: beleeue not the gods of whom the Lord speaketh: beholde the plagues drawe nexe, and are not slacke.
- 31 As a travelling woman which in the ninth moneth bringeth forth her sonne, when the houre of birth is come, two or three houres afore the paines come vpon her bodie, and when the child commeth to the birth, they tariue not a whit.
- 32 So shall not the plagues be slacke to come vpon the earth, & the worde shall mourne, and sorow shall come vpon it on euery side.
- 33 O my people heare my worde: make you ready to the battell, and in the troubles be euen as strangers vpon earth.
- 34 He that selleth, let him be as he that seeth his wap: and he that buyeth, as one that will lose.
- 35 Who so occupieth marchandise, as he that winneth not: and he that buildeth, as he that shall not dwell therein:
- 36 He that soweth as one that shall not reape: he that cutteth the vine, as hee that shall not gather the grapes:
- 37 They that marrie, as they that shall get no children: and they that marrie not, so as the widowes.
- 38 Therefore they that labour, labour in vaine.
- 39 For strangers shall reape their fruits, and spoyle their goods, and ouerthrowe their houles, and take their children captiue: for in captiuitie and famine shall they ge: their children.
- 40 And they that occupie their marchandise with countreulnes, the more they decke their cities, their houles, their possessions, and their owne persons,
- 41 So much more, will I be angrie against them for their sinnes, saith the Lord.
- 42 As a whoze emierly an honest and vertuous woman,
- 43 So shall righteoulnes hate iniquitie, when she decketh her selfe, and shall accuse her openly, when he shall come that shall bidde the author of all sinne vpon earth.
- 44 And therefore be ye not like thereunto, nor the workes thereof, for or cure it be long, iniquitie shall be taken away out of the earth, and righteoulnes shall reigne among you.
- 45 Let not the sinner say, that he hath not sinned: for coles of fire shall burne vpon his head, which saith, I haue not sinned before the Lord God and his glozie.
- 46 Beholde, the Lord knoweth all the workes of men, their imaginations, their thoughts and their heartes. Luk. 16. 15.

blissh, and he knoweth the number of them.

49 He searcheth the depth, and the treasures thereof: he hath measured the sea, and what it containeth.

50 He hath shut the sea in the middes of the waters, and with his word hath he hanged the earth vpon the waters.

51 Hee spreadeth out the heauen like a bawte: vpon the waters hath he founded it.

52 In the deserte hath he made springes of water, and pooles vpon the toppe of the mountaines, to poure out flouds from the high rockes to water the earth.

53 He made man, and put his hearte in the middes of the bodie, and gaue him breath, life, and vnderstanding.

54 And the spirite of the blinghtie God, which made all thynges, and hath searched all the hid thynges, in the secretes of the earth,

55 He knoweth your inuentions, and what ye imagine in your hearte when ye sinne and woulde hide your sinnes.

56 Therefore hath the Lorde searched and sought out all your workes, and wil put you all to shaine.

57 And when your sinnes are brought forth befoe men, ye shal be confounded, and your owne sinnes shal stande as your accusers in the day.

58 What will ye doe, or howe will ye hide your sinnes befoe God and his Angels?

59 Beholde, God him selfe is the Judge: feare him: cease from your sinnes, and forget your iniquities, and meddle no moe from henceforth with them: so shal

God leade you forth, & deliuer you from all trouble.

60 For behold, the heat of a great multitude is kindled against you, and they shall take away certene of you, and shall slay you for inuete to the idols.

61 And they that consent vnto them, shall be had in derision, and in reproch, and troden vnder foote.

62 For in euerie place and Citie that are nere, there shall be grate insurrection against those that feare the Lorde.

63 They shall be like madde men: they shall spare none: they shall spoile, and waste such as yet feare the Lorde.

64 For they then shall waste and spoile their goods, and cast them out of their houses.

65 Then shall the triall of my chosen appeare, as the golde is tried by the fire.

66 Heare, O ye my beloued, saith the Lord, Behold, the dayes of trouble are at hand, but I will deliuer you from them: be not ye afraide: doubt not, for God is your captaine.

67 Whoso keepeth my commandementes and precepts saith the Lorde God, let not your sinnes weigh you downe, & let not your iniquities lixe them selues vnye.

68 Doe vnto them that are bound with their sins & covered with their iniquities as a field is hedged in with bushes, and the path thereof covered with thornes, whereby no man may trauell: it is shut vp, and is appoynted to be deuoured with fire.

CHAP. I.

1 Tobias parentage. 3. His 22 lines 6. His equirie. 8. His charite and pr sperite. 23. He fleeth, & his goods are conff, cate. 25. And after, restored.

I He broke of þ words of Tobit sonnie of Tobiel, the sonne of Anael, the sonne of Sbaael, of the seede of Raael, and of the tribe of Nephtalim.

2 Who in the tyme of Ceneffar king of the Assyrians was ledde away captiue out of Chalde, which is at the right hande of that cite, which is called prosperp Nephtalim, in Galilee about Nere.

3 I Tobit haue walked all my life long in the way of truely and iudice, and I did many thynges liberally to the byesthen, which were of my nation, & came with me to Ra. ue into the land of the Assyrians.

4 And when I was in mine owne countre in the land of Israel, being but yong, all the tribe of Nephtalim my father sell from the house of Jerusalem, whiche was chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, that all the tribes shoulde sacrifice there, where the Temple of the tabernacle of rye most highe was consecrated, and built vp for all ages.

5 Nowe all the tribes, which sell from God, vna, and my father Nephtalims house offered to the heifur called Baal.

6 But I (as it was ordemed to all Israel by an euertasting decree) went alone often to Jerusalem, at the feastes bringyng the first fruits, and þ tenth of be asses, with that whiche was first shone, & offered them at the altar to the Priestes the chyliden of Aaron.

7 The first tenth parte I gaue to þ Priestes the somes of Aaron, which ministered in Jerusalem: the other tenth part I solde, and came and bestowed it euerie peare at Jerusalem.

8 The thirde tenth part I gaue vnto them

Tobit doeth bid to dinner thine which feare Gud.

He marieth to wife Anna, which beareth him Tobiah. Nom. 36. 7 Gen. 43. 32

9 I furthermore when I was come to the age of a man, I married Anna of mine owne kinred, 3 of her I begate Tobias. 10 I But when I was ledde captiue to Sennue, all my brethren and thole which were of my kinred, did care of the bread of the Sennites.

2 And when I saw abundance of meate, I said to my soune, So, and bring what poore man so euer thou shalt find of our biethen which doeth remember God, for I will carrie for the.

3 But he came againe, and saide, father, one of our nation is strangled, and is cast out in the market place.

11 But I kept my selfe from eating, 12 Because I remembered God with all mine heart. 13 Therefore the most high gaue me grace and fauour before Enemessar, so that I was his puruoper.

4 Then before I had tasted any meate, I start vp, & brought him into mine house untill the going downe of the sunne.

14 And I went into Media, and I desired some talents of siluer to Sabacl the brother of Gabrias in the lande of Media.

5 Then I returned and washed, and ate my meate in haumesse,

6 Remembryng that prophesie of Amos, which had saide, Pour solemne scales shalbe turned into iournynge, and pour iopes into waiting.

15 But when Enemessar was dead, Sennacherib his sonne reigned in his steade: whose state, because it was troubled, I could not go into Media.

7 Wherefore I wept, and after the going downe of the sunne I went and made a graue and buried him.

8 But my neighbours mocked me, and said, Woeth he not feare, to dye for this cause, who * fled away and yet, loe, he burrieth the dead againe.

Tobit is rebuked of his neighbours. Chap. 1. 19.

16 I But in the tyme of Enemessar, I gaue many almes to my brethren, & gaue my bread to them which were hungry, 17 And my clothes to the naked: and if I sawe any of my kinred dead, or cast about walles of Sennue, I buried him.

9 The same night also when I returned from the buriall, and slept at the wall of mine house, because I was polluted, and hauing my face vncouered,

18 And if the King Sennacherib had slaine any, when he was come and fledde from Judea, I buried them pryulie (for in his wrath he killed many) but the bodies were not found when they were sought for of the King.

10 And I knew not that sparrowes were in the wall, and as mine eyes were open, the sparowes cast downe warme dongue into mine eyes, and a whetnesse came in mine eyes, and I went to the Physicians, but they helped me not. I doyes ouer Achicharus did nourish me, vntill I went vnto Helemais.

He is made blinde for an example of patience to his posteritie. The wife of Tobit laboureth for her liuing.

19 Therefore when a certeine Sinitite had actued me to the King, because I did burie them, I hid my selfe: and because I knew that I was sought to be slaine, I withdrew my selfe for feare.

11 And my wife Anna did take womens woghes to doe.

20 Then all my goodes were spoiled, neither was there any thing left me besides my wife Anna, and my soune Tobias.

12 And when the had sent them home to the owners, they payed the wages, and gaue a kid.

21 Nevertheless within fyeve and thirtie daies, two of his sonnes killed him, and they fledde into the mountynes of Arrarath, and Darchedonius his sonne reigned in his steade, who appointed our his fathers accompres, and ouer all his domesticall affaires Achicharus my bys ther Anaels soune.

13 Which when it was at mine house, & began to bleat, I saide vnto her. From whence is this kid: is it not stolen: render it to the owners: for it is not lawfull to eate any thing that is stolen.

The innocencie of Tobit. Deut. 22. 1

22 And when Achicharus had made a request for me, I came againe to Sennue: now Achicharus was cupbearer and keeper of the signet, and steward, and ouersawe the accompres: so Darchedonius appointed him next vnto him, and he was my brothers soune.

14 But she saide, It was giuen to a gifte more then the wages: but I did not beleeue, and bade her to render it to the owners, & I did blush because of her. Furthermore she said, * Where are thine almes, and thy righteousnesse? beholde, they all now appeare in thee.

- 3 Remember me, and looke on me, neither punish me according to my finnes, or mine ignorances, or my fathers, which haue sinned before thee.
- 4 For they haue not obeyed thy commaundementes: wherefoze thou hast deliuered vs * for a pople, and unto captiuitie, and to death, and for a prouerbe of re-proche to all them among whom we are dispersed, and now * thou hast many and iust causes,
- 5 To do with me acco ding to my finnes, & my fathers, because we haue not kept thy commandements, neither haue walsked in traeth before thee.
- 6 Show therefore deale with me as seemeth best unto thee, and commaunde thy spirite to be taken from me, that I may be dissolved, and become earth: for it is better for me to bee then to liue, because I haue heard full reproches, and an berie sorrowfull: commaund therefore that I may be dissolved out of this distresse, and go into the enertasting place:
turne not thy face away from me.
- 7 ¶ It came to passe the same day that in Cebatane a cite of Media, Sarra the daughter of Raguel was also reproched by her fathers maides,
- 8 Because she had bene married to seuen hus bandes, whome Abnoeus the euill spirite had killed, before that they had ben with her. West thou not know, said they, that thou hast strangled thine husbandes: thou hast had now seuen husbandes, neither wast thou named after any of them.
- 9 Wherefoze doest thou * beate vs for this:
if they be dead, go thy wayes hence to them, that we may neuer see of thee either soune or daughter.
- 10 When she heard these things, she was berie sorrowfull. So that she thought to haue strangled her selfe. And she saide,
I am the onely daughter of my father,
and if I doe this, I shall flauer him, and shal bring his age to the graue with sorrowe.
- 11 Then she prayed toward the window and said blessed art thou, O Loide my God, and thine holie and glorious name is blessed, and honourable for euer: let all thy workes praise thee for euer.
- 12 And now O Lord, I set mine eyes, and my face towardes thee,
- 13 And say, Take me out of the earth, that I may heare no more any reproche.
- 14 Thou knowest, O Lord, that I am pure from all sin with man,
- 15 And that I haue neuer polluted my name, nor the name of my father in the land of my captiuitie: I am the onely daughter of my father, neither hath he any manchild to be his heire, neither as my nere * kinsman or child boine of him, to whome I may giue my selfe for a wife: my seuen husbands are now dead, and why should I liue? But if it please not thee that I should die, commaund to looke on me, and to pittie me that I do no more heare reproche.

16 So the prayers of the both were heard before the iusticie of the great God.
17 And Raphael was sent to heale them both, that is, to take away the whitenesse of Tobits eyes, and to giue Sarra the daughter of Raguel for a wife to Tobias the soune of Tobit, and to binde Abnoeus the euill spirit, because he belonged to Tobias by right. The selfe sanietime came Tobit home, and entered into his house, & Sarra the daughter of Raguel came downe from her chamber.

The prayers of Tobit, & Sarra are at a time.

silver which he had deliuered to Sabas-ell in Hages a cite of Media,
- 2 And saide with him selfe, I haue withs-ed for death: wherefoze do I not call for my sonne Tobias that I may admonish him before I die?
- 3 And when he had called him, he saide,
My sonne, after that I am dead burie me, and despit not thy mother, but * honour her all the daies of thy life, and do that which shall please her, and anger her not.

to finne or to transgresse the commaundements of God. Do by right all thy life

CHAP. v.

1 Tobias sent to Rages, 5 He meeteth with the Angel Raphael, which did conduct him.

1 Tobias then answered, & said, Father, I will do all things which thou hast commaunded mee.

2 But how can I receive the silver, seeing I know him not?

3 Then he gaue him the handwriting, & said vnto him, Seeke thee a man, which may go with thee, whiles I yet liue, and I will giue him wages, and go and receive the money.

4 Therefore when he was gone to seeke a man, he found Raphael the Angel.

5 But he knewe not, and said vnto him, May I go with thee into the lande of Media? and knowest thou those places well?

Tobias sent by his father to Rages, seeketh a companion, & meeteth with Raphael, whome he bringeth to his father.

6 To whome the Angel said, I will go with thee: for I haue remained with our brother Gabael.

7 Then Tobias said to him, Tarie for me, till I tell my father.

8 Then he said vnto him, So, & tarie not: so he went in and said to his father, Behold, I haue found one which will go with mee. Then he said, Call him vnto mee, that I may knowe of what tribe he is, and whether he be faithfull to go with thee.

9 So he called him, and he came in, & they saluted one another.

10 Then Tobit said vnto him, Brother, helpe mee of what tribe and familie thou art.

11 To whome he said, Doest thou seeke a stocke of familie, or an hired man to go with thy sonne? Then Tobit said vnto him, I would knowe, brother, thy kindred and thy name.

12 Then he said, I am of the kindred of Azarias and Ananias the great, & of thy brethren.

13 Then Tobit said, Thou art welcome brother: be not now angrie with mee, because I haue inquired to knowe thy kindred, and thy familie: for thou art my brother of an honest and good stock: for I knowe Ananias, & Ionathas, sonnes of that great Samaias: for we went together to Ierusalem to worship, and offered the first borne, and the tenthes of the sheutes, and they were not deceiued with the errour of our brethren: my brother, thou art of a great stocke.

14 But tell mee, What wages shall I giue thee? wilt thou a great aduantage and things necessarie, as to mine owne soule?

15 Pea, insoeuer if he returne safe, I will adde something to the wages.

16 So they agreed. Then said he to Tobias, Prepare thy selfe for the iourney, and go you on Gods name. And when his sonne had prepared all things for the iourney, his father said, So thou wilt with this man, and God which dwelleth in heauen, prosper your iourney, & the Angel of God keepe you companie. So they went forth both and departed, and the dogge of the young man with them.

17 But Anna his mother wept, & said to Tobit, Why hast thou sent away our sonne? is he not the staffe of our hand to minister vnto vs?

18 Would to God we had not laid money vpon money, but that it had bene cast away in respect of our sonne.

19 For that which God hath giuen vs to liue with, both suffice vs.

20 Then said Tobit, Be not carefull my sister: he shall returne in safetie, & thine eyes shall see him.

21 For the good Angel doeth keepe him companie, and his iourney shall be prosperous, and he shall returne safe.

22 Then they made an ende of weeping.

Tobias goeth forth, the Angel keeping him company. His mother weepeth. Chap. 10. 4.

9 Tobias deliuered from the fish, 8 Raphael sheweth him certaine medicines, 10 He conuulseth him toward Sarra.

Tobias inuaded of a fish, is deliuered by the Angel.

- 1 AD as they went on their iourney, they came at night to the flood Egrigis, and there abode.
- 2 And when the pong man went to walch him selfe, a fish leaped out of the riuier, & would haue denoued him.
- 3 Then the Angel said vnto him, Take the fish. And the pong man tooke the fish, and diuue it to land.
- 4 To whome the Angel said, Cut the fish, and take the heart, and the liuer, and the gall, and put them by furell.
- 5 So the pong man did as the Angel commaunded him: and when they had roasted the fish, they ate it: then they both went on their way, till they came to Cebataue.
- 6 ¶ Then the pong man said to the Angel, Brother Azarias, what anapleth the heart, and the liuer, and the gall of the fish?
- 7 And he said vnto him, Touching the heart and the liuer, if a diuell or an euill spirite trouble any, we must make a perfume of this before the man or the woman, and he shalbe no more vexed.
- 8 As for the gall, anoint a man that hath whiteness in his eyes, and he shalbe healed.
- 9 ¶ And when they were come nere to Raages,
- 10 The Angel said to the pong man, Brother, to day we shall lodge with Raaguel, who is thy cousin: he also hath one onely daughter named Sarra: I will speake for her, that shee may be giuen thee for a wife.
- 11 For to thee doth * the right of her pertene, seeing thou alone art the remnant of her kinred,
- 12 And the maide is faire and wise: nowe therefore heare mee, and I will speake to her father, that we may make the marriage when we are returned from Raages: for I knowe that Raaguel cannot marrie her to another according to the lawe of Moses: els he should deserue death, because the right doeth rather appertene to thee then to any other mā.
- 13 Then the pong man answered the Angel, I haue heard, brother Azarias, that this maide hath bene giuen to leuuen men, who all dyed in the marriage chamber:
- 14 And I am the onely begotten sonne of my father, and I am afraid, least I go into her, and dye as the other before: for a wicked spirite loueth her, which hurtech no bodie, but those which come in to her: wherefore I also feare, least I dye, and bring my fathers and my mothers life because of mee to the graue with sorrowe: for they haue no other sonne to burie them.
- 15 Then the Angel said vnto him, Doest thou not remember the precept's which thy father gaue thee, that thou shouldst marrie a wife of thine owne kinred? Wherefore heare mee, O my brother: for shee shalbe thy wife, neither be thou carefull of the euill spirite: for this same night shal the be giuen thee in marriage.

- 16 And when thou shalt go into the marriage chamber, thou shalt take of the hote coles for perfumes, and make a perfume of the heart, and of the liuer of the fish,
- 17 Which if the spirite do sinell, he will flee away, and neuer come againe any more: but when thou shalt come to her, rise vp both of you, and pray to God which is mercifull, who will haue pitie on you, and saue you: feare not, for shee is appointed vnto thee from the beginning, and thou shalt keepe her, & shee shall go with thee: moreover I suppose that shee shall beare thee children: nowe when Tobias had heard these things, he loned her, and his heart was effectually ioynd to her.

CHAP. VII.

Tobias marrieth Sarra Raaguel's daughter.

Raphael & Tobias come to Raaguel.

- 1 AD when they were come to Cebataue, they came to the house of Raaguel: and Sarra met them, & after they had saluted one another, shee brought them into the house.
- 2 Then said Raaguel to Tona his wife, How like is this pong man to Tobit my cousin?
- 3 And Raaguel asked, Whence are you my brethren? To whome they said, that they were of the tribe of Nephtalim, & of the captiues that dwelt at Nineue.
- 4 Then he said to them, Do ye knowe Tobit our kinsman? and they said, Wee knowe him. Then said hee, Is hee in good health?
- 5 And they said, He is both a liue, and in good health: and Tobias said, He is my father.
- 6 Then Raaguel leaped, and kissed him, and wept,
- 7 And blessed him, & said vnto him, Thou art the sonne of an honest & good man: but when he had heard that Tobit was blind, he was sorrowfull and wept,
- 8 And likewise Tona his wife, and Sarra his daughter wept. Moreover they receiued them with a readie munde, & after that they had killed a ram of the flocke, they set much meat on the table. Then said Tobias to Raphael, Brother Azarias, put forth those thinges whereof thou spakest in the way, that this busines may be dispatched.
- 9 So hee communicated the matter with Raaguel, & Raaguel said to Tobias, Eat, and drinke, and make merrie.
- 10 For it is meet that thou shouldst marrie my daughter: neuertheless, I will declare vnto thee the truth.
- 11 I haue giuen my daughter in marriage to euil men, who dyed that night which which they came in unto her: neuertheless, be thou of a good courage and meretric. But Tobias said, I will eat nothing here, untill he bring her hither, and bestroth her to me.

12 Raguel said then, Marrie her then according to the custome: for thou art her cousin, and he is thine. God which is mercifull, make this prosperous to you in all good things.

13 Then he called his daughter Sarra, & she came to her father, and heooke her by the hande, and gaue her for wife to Tobias, saying, Beholde, take her after the Lawe of Israelites, and lead her away to thy father: and he blessed them.

14 And called his wife Edna, and he took a booke, and wrote a contract, and sealed it.

15 Then they began to eat.

16 After, Raguel called his wife Edna, & saide vnto her, Sister, prepare another chamber, and bring her in thither.

17 Which when she had done, as he had bidden her she brought her thither: then Sarra wept, and her mother wiped away her daughters teares,

18 And said vnto her, Be of good comfort, my daughter: the Loide of heauen and earth gaue thee ioy for this thy sorowe: be of good comfort, my daughter.

CHAP. VIII.

Tobias driueth away the euil spirit. 4 He prayeth to God with his wife. 11 Raguel prepareth a graue for his sonne in lawe. 16 Raguel blefseth his Lord.

1 AND when they had supped, they brought Tobias in vnto her.

2 And as he went, he remembered the wordes of Raphael, and tooke coles for perfumes, and put the heart and liuer of the fish therevpon, and made a perfume.

3 The which smell when the euil spirit had smelled, he fled into the vnmort partes of Egypt, whom the Angel bound.

4 And after that they were both shut in, Tobias rose out of the bedde, and saide, Sister, arise and let vs pray, that God would haue pittie on vs.

5 Then began Tobias to say, Blessed art thou, O God of our fathers, and blessed is thine holy and glorious Name forever: let the heauens blese thee, and all thy creatures.

6 Thou madest Adam, and gauest him Eua his wife for an helpe, and say: of them came mankinde: thou hast said, It is not good, that a man should be alone: let vs make vnto him an ayde like vnto him selfe.

7 And nowe, O Lord, I take not this my sister for fornicatio, but vprightly: therefore graunt me mercy, that we may become aged together.

8 And she said with him, Amen.

9 So they slept both that night, and Raguel arose, and went and made a graue,

10 Saying, Is not he dead also?

11 But when Raguel was come into his house,

12 He said to his wife Edna, Send one of thy maides, and let them see whether he be alie: if not, that I may burie him, and none knowe it.

13 So the maide opened the doore, and went in, and found them both asleepe.

14 And came forth, and tolde them that he was alie.

15 Then Raguel praised God, and said, O God, thou art worthy to be prayed with all pure, and holy prayse: therefore let thy Saintes prayse thee with all thy creatures, and let all thine Angels and thine elect prayse thee for euer.

16 Thou art to be prayed, O Loide: for thou hast made me ioyfull, and that is not come to me which I suspected: but thou hast deale with vs according to great mercy.

17 Thou art to be prayed, because thou hast had mercy of two that were the onely begotten children of their fathers: graunt them mercy. O Loide, and finish their life in health with ioy and mercie.

18 Then Raguel bade his seruants to fill the graue.

19 And he kept the wedding feast foure seene dayes.

20 For Raguel had saide vnto him by another, that he should not depart, before that the foureteene dayes of the marriage were expired,

21 And then he should take the halfe of his goodes, and returne in safetie to his father, and should haue the rest, when he and his wife were dead.

CHAP. IX.

Raphael leadeth Gabriel to Tobias marriage.

1 THEN Tobias called Raphael, and saide vnto him,

2 Brother Asarias, take with thee a seruant and two camels, and go to Rasges of the Tribes to Sabacl, and bring me the money, and bring him to the wedding.

3 For Raguel hath sworne that I shall not depart.

4 But my father counteth the dayes: and if I tarry long, he will be very sorie.

5 So Raphael went out & came to Sabacl, & gaue him the handwriting, which brought forth bagges which were sealed vp, and gaue them to him.

6 And in the morning they went forth, both together, and came to the wedding. And Tobias begate his wife with child.

CHAP. X.

1 Tobit and his wife thynke long for their sonne. 10 Raguel sendeth away Tobias and Sarra.

1 NOWE Tobit his father counted euery day, and when the dayes of the tourue dead, made a graue for him.

Raguel eiueth half of his goods toward the marriage of his daughter to Tobias.

2 Tobit said, Were they not mocked: or

3 Therefore he was very sorie.

Chap. 5. 17.

4 Then his wife saide vnto him, My sonne is dead, seeing he tarieth: and she began to bewaile him, and said, 5 Howe I care for nothing, my sonne, since I haue lost thee the light of mine eyes.

6 To whom Tobit said, Hold thy peace:
be not carefull, for he is safe.

7 But she said, Hold thy peace, and de-ceiue me not: my sonne is dead: and she went out euery day by the way, which they went, neither did she eate meate on the day time, and did consume whole nights in bewailing her sonne Tobias, vntill the fourteene daies of the wedding were expired, which Raguel had sworne, that she should tarry there. Then Tobias saide to Raguel, Let me goe: for my father and my mother looke no more to see me.

8 But his father in lawe said vnto him, Tarry with me, and I will send to thy father, and they shall declare him thine affaires.

9 But Tobias said, No, but let me go to my father.

Raguel giueth Tobias, and his wife leaue
to depart,

10 The Raguel arose, and gaue him Sara his wife, and halfe his goods, as ser-uants, and cattell, and money,

11 And he blessed them, and sent them away, saying, The God of heauen make you, my children, to prosper before the Lord.

Sarra is instructed by her parents,

12 And he saide to his daughter, Hear thy father, and thy mother in lawe, whiche are nowe thy parents, that I may heare good report of thee, and he killed them. Edna also saide to Tobias, The Lorde of heauen restore thee, my deare brother, and graunt that I may see thy children of my daughter Sarra, that I may reioyce before the Lorde. Beholde nowe, I commit to thee my daughter, as a pledge: do not intreat her euill.

CHAP. XI.

1 The returne of Tobias to his father, 9 Howe he was received, 10 His father hath his sight restored and praiseth the Lord.

2 After these things Tobias went his way, praising God that he had giue him a prosperous iourney, and blessed Raguel and Edna his wife, and went on his way till he drew nere to Aeneue.

3 Then Raphael saide to Tobias, Thou knowest brother, how thou diddest leaue thy father.

The Angels
counsell to Tobias.

4 Let vs halte before thy wife, and prepare the house.

5 And take in thy hand the gall of the fish. So they went their way, and the dogge followed them.

6 Howe Anna saie in the way looking for her sonne,

7 Whome when she sawe coming, she said vnto his father, Behold, thy sonne cometh, and the man that went with him.

8 Then said Raphael, I know, Tobias, that thy father shall receiue his sight.

9 Therefore anoint his eyes with the gall, and being pickt therewith, he shall rub & make the whitenes to fall away, and shall see thee.

10 Then Anna ranne forth, and fell on the neck of her sonne, and said vnto him, Seeing I haue seen thee my sonne, from hence forth I am content to dye, & they wept both.

11 Tobit also went forth toward his doores, and stumbled, but his sonne ranne vnto
him,

12 And tooke hold of his father and sprinkled of the gall on his fathers eyes, saying, Be of good hope, my father.

13 And when his eyes began to pickt, he rubbed them.

14 And the whitenes pilled away from the corners of his eyes, & when he sawe his sonne, he fell vpon his necke,

15 And he wept and said, Blessed art thou, O Lord, and blessed be thy Name for e-uer, & blessed be all thine holy Angels.

16 For thou hast scourged me, & hast had pitie on me: for beholde, I see my sonne Tobias: and his sonne being glad went in, and tolde his father the great things that had come to passe in Media.

17 Then Tobit went out to meete his daughter in lawe, reioycing and pray-sing God to the gate of Aeneue: & they which sawe him, gae, marueled, because he had receiued his sight.

18 But Tobit testified before them al that God had had pitie on him. And when he came nere to Sarra his daughter in lawe, he blessed her, saying, Thou art welcome daughter: God be blessed, whiche hath brought thee vnto vs, and blessed be thy father: and there was great ioy among all his brethren which were at Aeneue.

19 And Achiacharus and Nabas his brothers sonne came.

20 And Tobias marriage was kept seuen daies with great ioy.

CHAP. XII.

1 Tobias declareth to his father the pleasures that Raphael had done him, 5 Then which he would recompense, 11 Raphael declareth that he is an Angel sent from God.

1 Then Tobit called his sonne Tobias, & said vnto him, Prouide, my sonne, wages for the man, which went with thee, and thou shalt giue him more.

2 And he said vnto him, O father, it shall not grieue me to giue him halfe of those things which I haue brought.

3 For he hath brought me againe to thee in safety, and hath made whole my wife, and hath brought me the money, & hath likewise healed thee.

4 Then his old man said, It is due vnto him.
5 So he called the Angel, and saide vnto him, Take halfe of all ye haue brought,
and

And go alway in safetie.

6 But heooke them both apart, and said vnto them, Praise God, & confesse him, and giue him the glorie, and praise him for the things which he hath done vnto you before all them that liue. It is good to praise God, and to exalt his name, & to shewe forth his euident workes with honour: therefore be not wearie to confesse him.

7 It is good to keepe close the secretes of a King, but it is honourable to reuente his workes of God: do that which is good, & no euill shall touch you.

8 Prayer is good with fasting, & almes, and righteousnes. A litle with righteousnes is better then much with vnrighthousnes: it is better to giue almes then to lay by golde.

9 For almes doth deliuer from death, and doth purge all sinne. Those which exercise almes and righteousnes, shall be filled with life.

10 But they that sinne, are enemies to their owne life.

11 Surely I will keepe close nothing from you: neuertheless, I said it was good to keepe close the secretes of a King, but that it was honourable to reuente the workes of God.

12 Now therefore when thou didst pray, and Sarra thy daughter in lawe, I did bring to me more your prayer before the holie one: and when thou didst burie the dead, I was with thee likewise.

13 And when thou wast not grieved to rise by, & leaue thy dinner to burie the dead, thy good deede was not hid from mee: but I was with thee.

14 And now God hath sent mee to heale thee, & Sarra thy daughter in lawe.

15 I am Raphael one of the seuen holie Angels, which present the prayers of the Saints, and which go forth before his holie marche.

16 Then they were both troubled, & fell vpon their face: for they feared.

17 But he said vnto them, Feare not, for it shall go well with you: praise God therefore.

18 For I came not of mine owne pleasure, but by the goodwill of your God: wherefore praise him in all ages.

19 All these dayes I did appeare vnto you, but I did neither eat nor drink, but you sawe it in vision.

20 Now therefore giue God thanks: for I go by to him that sent mee: but write all things which are done in a booke.

21 And when they rose, they laude him no more.

22 Then they confessed the great & wonderfull workes of God, and how the Angel of the Lord had appeared to them.

CHAP. XIII.

5 He hath scourged vs for our iniquities, and will haue mercie againe, & will gather vs out of all nations, among whom we are scattered.

6 If you turne to him with your whole heart, and with your whole mind, and deale vprightly before him, then will hee turne vnto you, and will not hide his face from you, but ye shall see what hee will do with you: therefore confesse him with your whole mouth, and praise the Lord of righteousnes, and extoll the euerlasting King. I will confesse him in the land of my captiuitie, and will declare his power, and greatnesse to a sinfull nation. O ye sinners, turne and do iustice before him: who can tell if hee will receiue you to mercie, and haue pittie on you?

13 Reioyce and be glad for the children of the iust: for they shall gather thee, & shall blesse the Lord of the iust.

14 Blessed are they which loue thee: for they shall reioyce in thy peace. Blessed are they which haue bene sorrowfull for all thy scourges: for they shall reioyce for thee, when they shall see all thy glorie, and shall reioyce for ever.

 be built in it for euer with a glorious building, as the Propheets haue spoken thereof.

their shols.
 7 So shall all nations praise the Lord, and his people shall confesse God, & the Lord shall craite his people, & all those which love the Lord in trueth and iustice, shall reioyce, and those also which shew mercie to our brethren.
 8 And now, my sonne, depart out of Niueue, because that those things which the Propheet Ionas spake, shall surely come to passe.
 9 But keepe thou the Lawe, & the com-mandements, and thewe thy selfe merciful & iust, that it may go well with thee.
 10 And burie mee honestly, and thy mother with mee: but tary us longer at Nineue. Remember, my sonne, howe Aman handled Achicharus: he brought him by, howe out of light he brought him into darknesse, and how he rewarded him againe: yet Achicharus was saved, but the other had his reward:
 for he went downe into darknesse. Ma-nasses gaue almes, and escaped the snare of death, which they had set for him, but Aman fell into the snare and perished.
 11 Wherefore now, my sonne, consider what almes doeth, and how righteousnes doth deliuer. When he had saide these things, he gaue vp the ghost in the bed, being an hundred and eight & fittie yere olde, and he buried him honourably.
 12 And when Anna was dead, he buried her with his father: but Tobias went with his wife and chyldren to Ecbatane to Raguel his father in lawe.
 13 Where he became olde with honour, & he buried his father and mother in law honourably, and he inherited their substance, & Tobias his father.
 14 And he dyed at Ecbatane in Media, being an hundredeth and seuen and ewen-tie yere olde.
 15 But before he dyed, he heard of the destruction of Nineue, which was taken by Nabuchodonosor & Belucrus, & before his death he reioyced for Nineue.

CHAP. I.

2 The building of Ecbatane, 5 Nabuchodo-nosor made warre against Arphaxad, and ouer came him. 11 He threateneth them that would not help him.
 1 In the twelfth yere of the reigne of Nabuchodonosor, who reigned in Nineue the great ci-tie in the dapes of Arphaxad, which reigned ouer the Medes
 in Ecbatane.
 2 And build in Ecbatane the walles round about, of hewen stone, three cu-bites broad, & fixe cubites long, & made h bright of the wall seuentie cubites, & the breadth thereof fittie cubites, 3 And made the towres thereof in the gates of it, of an hundredeth cubites, & the breadth thereof in the foundation threscore cubites,

 4 And made the gates therof, euen gates that were lifted by on high, seuentie cu-bites, and the breadth of them fourtie cubites, for the going forth of his iugh-tie armes, and for the setting in aray of his footemen.)
 5 Euen in thole dapes, King Nabuchodonosor made warre with King Arphax-ad in the great field, which is the field in the coastes of Ragau,

6 Then came into him al they that dwelt in the mountaynes, and all that dwelt by Euphrates, and Tigris, and Libanus, and the countree of Arioch, the king of the Assyrians, and very many nations assembled them selues to the battell of the sonnes of Chelod.

7 And Nabuchodonosor king of the Assyrians sent vnto all that dwelt in Persia, and to all that dwelt in the West, & to those that dwelt in Cilicia, and Damascus, and Libanus, and Antilibanus, and to all that dwelt vpon the sea coast.

8 And to the people, that are in Carmel, and Galaad, and the hieer Galile, and the great field of Esdrain,

9 And to all that were in Samaria, and the cities thereof, and beyond Jordan vnto Ierusalem, and Betane, and Chelcus, and Cades, and the riuier of Egypt, and Caphnes, and Hamesse, and all the land of Seseu,

10 Vnto one come to Canis, and Memphis, and to all the inhabitants of Egypt, & to one come to the mountaynes of Ethiopia.

11 But all the inhabitants of this countrey did not passe for the commaundements of Nabuchodonosor king of the Assyrians, neither would they come to him to the battell: for they did not feare him: for he was before them as one man: therefore they sent away his ambassadours from them without effect, and with dishonour.

12 Therefore Nabuchodonosor was very angrie with all his countrey, and sware by his throne and kingdome that he would surely be auenged vpon all those coastes of Cilicia and Damascus, and Syria, and that he would slay with the sword all the inhabitants of the land of Moab, and the children of Ammon, & all Iudea, and all that were in Egypt, till one come to the borders of the two seas,

13 Then he marched in battell aray with his powre against King Arpharad in the seuenteenth yere, and he prevailed in his battell: for he ouerthrew all the powre of Arpharad, and all his hoysmen, and all his chariots.

14 And he wan his cities, and came vnto Ebatane, and toke the towers, & spoiled the treasures thereof, and turned the beautie thereof into shame.

15 He tooke also Arpharad in the mountaynes of Hagan, & smote him through with his dartes, and destroyed him vnto that day.

16 So he returned afterward to Aincue, both he and all his companie with a very great multitude of men of warre, and there he passed the time, and banqueted, both he and his armie, an hundred and twentie dayes.

3 Nabuchodonosor commended presumpuously that al people shuld be brought in subjection.
6 And to destroy those that disobeyed him, 15

CHAP. II.

The preparation of Olofernes samie. 23 The conquest of his enemies.

1 And in the eighteenth yere, the twenteth day of the first moneth, there was take in the house of Nabuchodonosor king of the Assyrians that he should auenge him self on all the earth, as he had spoken.

2 So he called vnto him all his officers, & all his nobles, and communicated with them his secret counsell, and let serue them with his owne mouth all the manlice of the earth.

3 Then they decreed to destroy all flesh, that had not obeyed the commaundement of his mouth.

4 And whē he had ended his counsell, Nabuchodonosor king of the Assyrians called Olofernes his chiefe captaine, & which was next vnto him and said vnto him,

5 Thus saith the great king, the lord of the whole earth, Behold, thou shalt goe forth from my presence, and take with thee men y trust in their owne strenght, of footemen, an hundred and twentie thousand, & the number of hoyses with their riders, twelue thousand,

6 And thou shalt goe against all the West countree, because they disobeyed my commaundment.

7 And y shalt declare vnto them, y they prepare for me the land and the water: for I will goe forth in my wrath against them, & will coner the whole face of the earth with the feet of mine armie, and I will gire them as a spoyle vnto thee,

8 So that their wounded shall fill their halles, and their riuers, and the flood shall ouerflowe, being filled with their dead.

9 And I will bring their captiuitie to the utmost partes of all the earth.

10 Thou therefore shalt depart hence, and take wy for me all their countree: and if they pelde vnto thee, thou shalt reserue them for me vntil the day that I rebuke them.

11 But concerning them that rebell, let not thine eye spare them, but put them to death, and spoyle them where so euer thou goest.

12 For as I liue, and the powre of my kingdome, what so euer I haue spoken, that will I do by mine hand.

13 And take thou heed that thou transgress not any of the commaundements of thy lord, but accomplish them full, as I haue commaunded thee, and deserue not to be them.

14 Then Olofernes went forth from the presence of his lord, & called all the gouernours, and captaines, and officers of the armie of Assus.

15 And he mulded the chosen men for the battell, as his lord had commaunded him, vnto an hundred and twentie thousand, and twelue thousand archers on horsebacke,

16 And he set them in aray according to the manner of setting a great aray in aray.

17 And

- 17 And he tooke camels and asses for their burdens, a very great number, & sheepe, and oven, and goates without number for their provision,
- 18 And but aile for every man of the army, and very much gold and silver out of the Kings house.
- 19 Then he went forth and al his power, to go before in the voyage of King Nabuchodonosor, and to cover all the face of the earth Westward, with their charrets, and horsemen, and chosen footmen.
- 20 A great multitude also of sundrie sorts came with them like grasshoppers, and like the granel of the earth: for the multitude was without number.
- 21 And they went forth of Samene three dayes journey toward the countrey of Bectieleh, and pitched from Bectieleh nere the mountaine which is at the left hand of the upper Cilicia.
- 22 Then he tooke all his armie, his footmen and horsemen, and charrets, & went from thence into the mountaines,
- 23 And he destroyed Dnyd and Lud, and spoyled al the children of Sasses, and the children of Simael, which were toward the wilbernes at the South of the Chelians.
- 24 Then he went ouer Euphrates, and went throug Mesopotamia, and destroyed all the hie cities that were vpon the riuier of Arbonai, vntill one come to the sea.
- 25 And he tooke the borders of Cilicia, & destroyed all that resisted him, and came to the borders of Japheth, which were toward the South and ouer against Aralia.
- 26 He compassed also all the children of Madian, & burnt vp their tabernacles, and spoyled their lodges.
- 27 Then he went downe into the countrey of Damascus, in the tyme of wheat harvest and burnt vp all their feldes, and destroyed their flocks and their heards: he robbed their cities, and spoyled their countrey, and smore all their pong men with the edge of the sword.
- 28 Therefore feare and trembling fell vpon all the inhabitants of the sea coast, which were in Sidon and Tyrus, and them that dwelt in Sur and Ocina, and all that dwelt in Iennaan: and they that dwelt in Hozorus, and Scalon feared him greatly.

CHAP. III.

The people subiect to Olofernes. 8 He destroyed their gods that Nabuchodonosor might only be worshipped.

- 7 So they sent ambassadoys to him with messages of peace, saying,
- 2 Behoide, we are the seruants of Nabuchodonosor the great King: we lye downe before thee: vse vs as shal be good in thy sight.
- 3 Behold, our houses and all our places, and all our feldes of wheate, and our flockes, and our herds, and all our lodges and tabernacles lye before thy face: vse them as it pleasest thee.

- 4 Behold, euen our cities and the inhabitants thereof are thy seruants: come, and take them, as seemeth good to thee.
- 5 ¶ So the men came to Olofernes, and declared vnto them after this maner.
- 6 Then came he downe toward the sea coast, both he and his armie, and set garrisons in the hie cities, andooke out of them chosen men for the warre.
- 7 So they and all the countrey round about receiued them, with crownes, with dances, and with timbrels.
- 8 Yet he brake downe all their borders, and cut downe their woods: for it was inopined him to destroy all the gods of the land, that all nations should worship Nabuchodonosor only, and that all tongues and tribes should call vpon him as God.
- 9 Also he came against Edraelon, nere vnto Judea, ouer against the great strait of Judea.
- 10 And he pitched betwene Geba, and a citie of the Septhians, and there he taried a moneth, that he might assemble all the baggage of his armie.

CHAP. IIII.

The Israelites were afraide and defended their countrey. 6 Ioacim the Priest writeth to Bethulia, that they should forsike them selues. 9 They cried to the Lord, and humbled them selues before him.

- 1 Nowe the children of Israel that dwelt in Judea, heard all that Olofernes the chiefe captaine of Nabuchodonosor King of the Assyrians had done to the nations, and howe he had spoyled all their temples, and brought them to naught.
- 2 Therefore they feared greatly his presence, and were troubled for Jerusalem, and for the Temple of the loyde their God.
- 3 For they were newly returned from captivity, and of late all the people was assembled in Judea, and the vessels and the altar of the house had bene sanctified because of the pollution.
- 4 Therefore they sent vnto all the coastes of Samaria, and the villages, and to Bethoro, and Belmen, and Jericho, and to Choba, and Esora, and to the valley of Salen,
- 5 Andooke all the tops of the hie mountains, and walled the villages that were in them, and put in battailes for the provision of warre: for their feldes were of late reaped.
- 6 Also Ioacim the hie Priest which was in those dayes in Jerusalem, wrote to them that dwelt in Bethulia and Bethomestham, which is ouer against Edraelon toward the open countrey nere to Dotham,
- 7 Ertyng them to keepe the passages of

of the mountaines: for by them there was an entrie into Iudea, and it was easie to let them that would come by, because the passage was streite for two men at the most.

8 And the children of Israel did as Joshua the hie Prieste had commaunded them with the Ancients of all the people of Israel, which dwelt at Jerusalem.

9 Then cried euerie man of Israel to God with great fecundie, & their soules with greate affection.

10 Both they and their wiues, and their children, and their cattell, and euerie stranger, and hireling, and they bought seruantes put sackcloth vpon their topes.

11 Thus euerie man and woman, & the children, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem fell before the Temple, & spinned althes vpon their braces, and spred out their sackcloth before the face of the Lorde: also they put sackcloth about the altar,

12 And cried to the God of Israel, all with one consent most earnestly, that hee would not giue their children for a pray, and their wiues for a spoyle, and their cities of their inheritance to destruction, and the Sanctuary to pollution and reproche, and vnto derision to the heathen.

13 So God hearde their prayers, and looked vpon their affliction: for the people fasted many dayes in Iudea and Jerusalem before the Sanctuary of the Lorde almightie.

14 And Joacin the hie Priest, and all the Priestes that stode before the Lord, and numbered vnto the Lord, had their loines girt with sackcloth, and offered the continuall burnt offering, with prayers and the free giftes of the people,

15 And had althes on their iuyters, and cried vnto the Lord with all their power for grace, and that he would looke vpon all the house of Israel.

CHAP. V.

As for the Ammonite doe he declare to Olofernes of the manner of the Israelites.

1 Then was it declared to Olofernes the cheefe captaine of the armie of Assur, that the children of Israel had prepared for warre, and had hunte the passages of the mountaines, and had walled all the toppes of the hie hills, & had laped impediments in the champion countrie.

2 Wherewith he was verie angrie, and called all the Princes of Moab, and the captaines of Ammon, and al the gouernours of the Sea coast.

3 And he saide vnto them, Helweme, O ye finnes of Canaan, who is this people that dwelleth in the mountaines? & what are the cities that they inhabit: and what is the multitude of their armie: and wherein is their strength and their power? and what King or captaine is raped among them ouer their armie.

4 And why haue they determined not to come to meete me more then all the inhabitants of the West?

5 Then saide Hichor the captaine of all the forces of Ammon, Let my Lorde heare the voyde of the mouth of his seruant, and I will declare vnto thee the truth concerning this people, that dwel in these mountaines, nere where thou remainest: and there shall no lie come out of the mouth of thy seruant.

6 This people come of the stocke of the Chaldeans.

7 And they dwelt before in Mesopotamia, because they would not folowe the Gods of their fathers, whiche were in the land of Chaldea.

8 But they went out of the way of their ancessers, and worshipped the God of heauen, the God whome they knewe: so they cast them out from the face of their Gods, and they fled into Mesopotamia, and sojourned there many dayes.

9 Then their God commaunded them to depart from the place where they sojourned, and to goe into the land of Chanaan, where they dwelte, and were increased with gold and siluer, and with verie much cattell.

10 But when a famine covered all the lande of Chanaan, they went downe into Egypt, and dwelt there till they returned, and became there a great multitude, so that one could not number their Image.

11 Therefore the King of Egypt rose vpon against them, and bled deceiue against them, and brought them lowe with labouring in bricke, & made them slaves.

12 Then they cried vnto their God, and he smote all the lande of Egypt with incurable plagues: so the Egyptians call them out of their sight.

13 And God dyed the red sea in their presence,

14 And brought them into mount Sina and Cades barne, and cast forth all that dwelt in the wilderness.

15 So they dwelt in the lande of the Ammonites, and they destroyed by their strength al them of Esobon, and passing ouer Jordan, they inherited all the mountaines.

16 And they cast forth before them the Chanaanites, and the Pherezites, and the Jebusites, and them of Sichem, and all the Gerzites, and they dwelke in that countrie many dayes.

17 And whyles they stuned not before their God, they prospered, because the God that hated iniquitie, was with them.

18 But when they departed from the way which hee appointed them, they were destroyed in many battels after a wonderfull sorte, and were ledde capti-times into a land that was not theirs: and the Temple of their God was cast to the ground, and their cities were taken by the enemies.

Exa. 1. 1. 3.

19 But* nowe they are turned to their God, and are come by from the scattering wherem they were scattered and haue possessed Jerusalem, where their Temple is, and dwell in the mountaines whiche were desolate.

20 Nowe therefore, my Lorde and gouernour, if there be any fault in this people, so that they haue sinned against their God, let vs consider that this shall be their ruine, and let vs goe by, and we shall ouercome them.

21 But if there be none iniquitie in this people, let my lorde passe by, leaue their Lorde defende them, and their God be for them, and we become a reproch because of the world.

22 ¶ And when Achioz had finished these sayings, al the people standing round about the tent murmured: and the cheife men of Olofernes, & all they that dwelt by the sea side and in Moab, spake that they shoulde kill him.

23 For, say they, we feare not to meete the children of Israel: for loe it is a people that haue no strength nor power against a mightie arme.

24 Let vs therefore goe by, O lorde Olofernes, and they shall be meate for thy whole arme.

CHAP. VI.

Olofernes blasphemeth God, whom Achioz confessed, 14. Achioz is deliuered into the hands of them of Bethulia, 18 The Bethulians crie vnto the Lorde.

2 AND when the tumult of men that were about the counsell, was ceased, Olofernes, the cheife captaine of the arme of Assur, saide vnto Achioz before al the people of the strangers, & before all the children of Moab, and of them that were hired, of Ephraim,

2 Because thou hast prophesied among vs to daye, and haste saide that the people of Jerusalem is able to fight, because their God will defende them: and who is God that Nabuchodonosor?

3 He will sende his powder, and will destroy them from the face of the earth, & their God shall not deliuer them: but we his seruantes will destroye them as one man: for they are not able to susteine the power of our horses.

4 For we will tread them vnder feete with them, and their mountains shall be dyenken with their bloude, and their fieldes shall be filled with their deade bodies, and their footsteppes shall not bee able to stande before vs: but they shall utterly perish.

5 The King Nabuchodonosor, lorde of all the earth hath saide, euen he hath saide, None of my wordes shall be in vaine.

6 And thou Achioz an hireling of Ammon, because thou hast spoken these words in the day of thine iniquitie thou shalt see my face no more from this day vntill I take vengeance of that people that is come out of Egypt.

7 And then shall the pion of mine arme, and the multitude of them that serue me, passe through thy sides, and thou shalt fall among their saine when I shall put them to flight.

8 And my seruantes shall carrie thee into the mountains, and they shall leaue thee at one of the hie cities: but thou shalt not perish, till thou be destroyed with them.

9 And if thou perswade thy selfe in thy minde, that they shall not be taken, let not thy countenance fall: I haue spoken it, and none of my wordes shall be in vaine.

10 Then commaunded Olofernes them concerning Achioz, that they shoulde bring him to Bethulia, and deliuer him into the hands of the children of Israel.

11 So his seruantes tooke him, and brought him out of the campe into the plaine: and they went out from the middes of the plaine into the mountains, and came into the fountaines that were vnder Bethulia.

12 And when the men of the citie sawe them from the toppes of the mountaine, they tooke their armour, and went forth of the citie vnto the toppes of the mountaine, euen all the throwers with slings, and kept them from coming by, by casting stones against them.

13 But they went priuily vnder the hill, and bound Achioz, and left him lying at the foote of the hill, and returned to their lorde.

14 Then the Israelites came down from their citie, and stood about him, and loosed him and brought him into Bethulia, and presented him to the gouernour of their citie.

15 Which were in those dayes, Ozias the sonne of Micha, of the tribe of Simeon, and Chabus the sonne of Gethoniell, and Charmis the sonne of Melchiel.

16 And they called together all the Ancientes of the citie. and all their youth ranne together, and their women to the assemblie: and they set Achioz in the middes of all the people. Then Ozias asked him of that whiche was done.

17 And he answered and declared vnto them the wordes of the counsell of Olofernes, and all the wordes that he had spoken in the middes of the Princes of Assur, and what seuer Olofernes had spoken proudly againste the house of Israel.

18 Then the people fell downe and worshipped hipped God, & cried vnto God, saying, 19 O Lord God of heauen, beholde their pride, and haue mercie on the basenesse of our people, and beholde this day the face of those that are sanctified vnto thee.

20 Then they comforted Achioz, & praye sed him greatly.

21 And Oziab tooke out of the assembly into his house, and made a feast to the elders, and they called on the God of Is rael all that night for helpe.

CHAP. VII.

1 Olofernes doth besiege Bethulia, 8 The coun sel of the Idumeans and other against the Isra elites. 23 The Bethulians murmur against their gouernours for lacke of water.

THe next day, Olofernes commaun ded all his armie, and all his people, which were come to take his parte, that they should remoue their campes against Bethulia, and that they should take all the streetes of the hill, and to make warre against the children of Is rael.

2 Then their strong men remoued their campes in that day, and the armie of the men of warre was an hundred thousand & seuentie footemen, & twelue thousand horsmen, beside the baggage and other men that were a foote among them, a ve ry great multitude.

3 And they camped in the plaine nere vnto Bethulia, by the founteine, & they sped aboade toward Dothaan vnto Belbaim, and in length from Bethulia vnto Ciaron, which is ouer against Es dracilon.

4 Now the children of Israel, when they saue the multitude, were greatly trou bled, and saide euery one to his neigh bour, Now will they shut vpp all the whole earth: for neither the hie moun taines nor the vallies, nor the hilles are able to abide their burden.

5 Then euery one tooke his weapons of warre, and burning siers in their rowres, they remained & watched all that night.

6 But in the seconde day, Olofernes brought forth all his horsmen in the sight of the childre of Israel, which were in Bethulia,

7 And viewed the passages by to their ci tie, and came to the fountaines of their waters, and tooke them, and set garri sons of men of warre ouer them, and remo ued toward his people.

8 Then came vnto him all the cheefe of the children of Esau, and all the gouernours of the people of J Doab, and all the cap taines of the sea coast, and saide,

9 Let our captiues now heare a word, lea st an inconuenience come in thine armie.

10 For this people of the children of Isra el do not trust in their speares, but in the height of the mountaines, wherein they dwel, because it is not easie to come by to the toppes of their mountaines.

11 Now therefore, my Lord, fight not a gainst them in battell array, and there shall not so much as one man of thy peo ple perishe.

12 Remaine in thy campe, and keepe all the men of thine armie, and let thy men keepe still the water of the countrie, that commeth forth at the footes of the moun taine.

13 For all the inhabitants of Bethulia haue their water thereof: so shall thirst kill them, & they shall gree by their ci tie: and we and our people will goe to the toppes of the mountaines that are nere, and will campe vpon them, and watche, that none goe out of the ciue.

14 So they and their wiues, & their chil dren shalbe consumed with famine, and beside the sword come against them, they shalbe ouerthrowen in the streetes where they dwell.

15 Thus shalt thou render them an euill rewarde, because they rebelled and obeb ed not thy perion peaceably.

16 And these wordes pleased Olofernes and all his souldiers, and he appointed to doe as they had spoken.

17 So the campe of the children of Am mon departed, and with them five thou sand of the Assyrians, and they pitched in the valley, and tooke the waters, and the fountaines of the waters of the chil dren of Israel.

18 Then the children of Esau went by with the children of Ammon, and camp ed in the mountaines ouer against Do thaan, and they sent some of them selues toward the South, & toward the East, ouer against Hebel, which is nere vnto Chusi, that is vpon the riuer J Doab mur: and the rest of the armie of the As syrians camped in the felde, and con uered the whole land: for their tentes and their baggage were pitched in a wonder full great place.

19 Then the children of Israel cried vnto the Lord their God, because their heart saped: for all their enemies had compas sed them about, and there was no way to escape out from among them.

20 Thus all the companie of Assur re mained about them, bothe their footes men, chariots and horsmen, foure and thirtie daies: so that euen all the pla ces of their waters saped all the inha bitants of Bethulia.

21 And the cilenens were emptie, and they had not water enough to drinke for one day: for they gaue them to drinke by measure.

22 Therefore their children swooned, and their wiues & yong men failed for thirst, and fell downe in the streetes of the ciue, and by the passages of the gates, & there was no strength in them.

23 Then all the people assembled to Ozi as, and to the cheefe of the ciue, bothe yong men and women, and children, and cried with a loud voyce, and saide before

All the elders,

Exod. 5. 21.

- 24 The Lord iudge betwene vs and you: for you haue done vs great iniurie, in that ye haue not required in peace of the children of Assur.
- 25 For now we haue no helper: but God hath solde vs into their handes, that we should be thowen downe before them with thirst and great destruction.
- 26 Now therefore call them together, and deliuer the whole citie for a spoile to the people of Glosernes, and to all his armie.
- 27 For it is better for vs to be made a spoile vnto them, then to dye for thirst: for we will be his seruants that we may liue, and not see the death of our infants before our eyes, nor our wiues, nor our children to dye.
- 28 We take to witnesse against you the heauen and the earth, and our God and Lord of our fathers, which punisheth vs, according to our sinnes, and the sinnes of our fathers, y^e he lay not these things to our charge.
- 29 Then there was a great crye of all with one consent in the muddes of the assemble, and they cried vnto the Lord God with a lowde voyce.
- 30 Then saide Ozi^s to them, Brethren, be of good courage: let vs waite yet fve daues, in the whiche space the Lord our God may turne his mercie toward vs: for he will not forsake vs in the end.
- 31 And if these daues passe, and there come not helpe vnto vs, I will do according to your worde.
- 32 So he separated the people, euerie one vnto their charge, and they went vnto the walles and towres of their citie, and sent their wiues and their children into their houses, and they were verie lowe brought in the citie.

CHAP. VIII.

The parentage, life and conuersation of Iudeth.
11 She rebuketh the fainnesse of the gouernours. 12 She sheweth that they should not tempt God, but waite vpon him for succour. 33 Her euersprise against the enimies.

NOW at that time, Iudeth heard thereof, which was the daughter of Merari the sonne of Or, the sonne of Ioseph, the sonne of Giel, the sonne of Elcia, the sonne of Ananias, the sonne of Gedeon, the sonne of Siaphaim, the sonne of Acito, the sonne of Eliu, the sonne of Etiah, the sonne of Nathanael, the sonne of Samael, the sonne of Salasadat, the sonne of Israel.

2 And Manasses was her husband, of her stocke and kindred, who died in the barclp haruell.

3 For as he was diligent ouer them that bound sheaues in the fiede, the heate came vpon his head, and he fell vpon his bed, and dyed in the citie of Bethulia, and they buried him with his fathers in the field betwene Dotham & Balamo,

- 4 So Iudeth was in her house a widowe thre yeares and foure moneths.
- 5 And she made her a tent vpon her house, and put on sackcloth on her lopnes, and and ware her widowes apparell.
- 6 And she fasted all the daues of her widowhood, saue the day before the Sabbath and the Sabbathes, and the day before the newe Moones, and in the feastes and soleinne daues of the house of Israel.
- 7 She was also of a goodly countenance and verie beautifull to beholde: and her husband Manasses had left her golde & silver, and men seruants, and made ser-uants, and cattell, & possessions, where she remained.
- 8 And there was none that could bring an euill repoyte of her: for she feared God greatly.
- 9 Now when she heard the euill wordes of the people againt y^e gouernour, because they faunted for lacke of waters (for Iudeth had heard all the wordes that Ozi^s as had spoken vnto them, and that he had * s^uoome vnto the^e to deliuer the citie vnto the 2 Ispians with in fve daues)
- 10 Then she sent her maide, that had the gouernment of all thinges that he had, to call Ozi^s and Gabris and Charinis the Nycientes of the citie.
- 11 And they came vnto her, and she saide vnto them, Heare me O ye gouernours of the inhabitants of Bethulia: for your wordes that ye haue spoken before the people this day, are not right, touching this oth which ye made and pronounced betwene God and you, and hath promised to deliuer the citie to the enimies, vntesse within these daies the Lord turns to helpe you.
- 12 And nowe who are you that haue tempted God this day, & set your selues in the place of God among the children of men?
- 13 So now you seeke the Lord almighty, but you shall neuer know any thing.
- 14 For you cannot fnde out the deapth of the heart of man, neither can ye perceiue the thinges that he thinketh: then how can you search out God, that hath made all these thinges, and know his minde, or comprehend his purpose? May my brethren, prouoke not the Lord our God to anger.
- 15 For if he will not helpe vs within these fve daues, he hath power to defend vs when he will, euen euerie day, or to destroy vs before our enimies.
- 16 Do not you therefore binde the counsels of the Lord our God: for God is not as man, that he may be threatened, neither as the sonne of man, to be brought to iudgement.
- 17 Therefore let vs waite for saluation of him, and cal vpon him to helpe vs and he will heare our voyce, if it please him.
- 18 For there appeareth none in our age, neither is there any now in these daues, neyther tribe, nor familie, nor people,

Chap. 7. 26.

no3 citie among vs whiche worship the Gods made with handes, as hath bene aforētunc.

19 For the whiche cause our fathers were given to the sword, and for a spople, and had a great fall before our enemies. 20 But we knowe none other God: therefore we trust that he will not despise vs, no3 any of our sinage.

21 Heretoe when we shall be taken, shall Iudea be so famous: for our Sanctuarie shall be spoiled, and he will require the profanation hereof at our mouth, 22 And the feare of our brethren, and the captiuitie of the countrie, and the desolation of our inheritance will he turne vpon our heads among the Gentiles, wheresoeuer we shall be in bondage, and we shal be an offence and a reproch to all them that possesse vs.

23 For our seruitude shall not be directed by fauour, but the Lorde our God shall turne it to dishonour.

24 Showe therefore, O brethren, let vs shewe an example to our brethren, by cause their heartes depende vpon vs, and the Sanctuarie, and the house, and the altar rest vpon vs.

25 Moreover, let vs giue thanks to the Lorde our God, which trieth vs euen as he did our fathers.

26 Remember what thinges he did to Abraham, and howe he tried Isaac, & all y^e he did, to Iacob in Mesopotamia of Syria when he kept the sheepe of Laban his mothers brother.

27 For he hath not tried vs as he tried them to the examination of their heartes, neither doth he take vengeance on vs, but the Lord punisheth vs instruction them that come nere to him.

28 Then saide Oras to her, All that thou hast spoken, hast thou spoken with a good hearte, and there is none that is able to resist thy wordes.

29 For it is not to day that thy wisdom is knowen, but from the beginning of thy life all the people haue knowen thy wisdom: for the deuice of thine hearte is good.

30 But the people were verie thirlye, and compelled vs to doe vnto them, as we haue spoken, and haue brought vs to all othe which we may not reasgresse.

31 Therefore moue pray for vs, because thou arte an holie woman, that the Lord may sende vs raine to fill our cisternes, and that we may faim no more.

32 Then saide Iudeth vnto them, Heare me, and I will doe a thing, which shall be declared in all generacions, to y^e children of our nation.

33 You shall stand this night in the gate, and I will goe forth with mine hande made: and within the dayes that ye haue promised to deliuer y^e citie to our enemies, the Lorde will visite Israel by nunchande.

34 But inquire not pou of mine acte: for I will not declare it vnto pou, till the thinges be finished that I doe.

35 Then saide Oras and the Princes vnto her, Goem peace, and the Lorde God be before thee: to take vengeance on our enemies.

36 So they returned from the tent, and went to their wardes.

CHAP. IX.

1 Iudeth humbleth her selfe before the Lorde, and maketh her prayers for the deliuerance of her people. Against the pride of the Assyrians, 11. God is the helpe of the humble.

1 Then Iudeth fell vpon her face, and put ashes vpon her head, and put off the sackcloth wherewith she was clothed. And about the tyme that the incense of that evening was offered in Ierusalem in the house of the Lorde, Iudeth cried with a lowde voyce, and said,

2 O Lorde God of my father Simeon, to whome thou gauest a word to take vengeance of the strangers which opened the wombe of the maide, and desiled her, and discovered the thigh with shame, and polluted y^e wound to reproch, (for thou haddelt commaunded that it should not be so,

3 Per they did thinges for the which thou gauest their Princes to the slaughter, for they were deceiued and washed their beds with blood) and hast stricken the seruantes with the gouernours, and the gouernours vpon their thrones,

4 And hast giuen their wiuces for a pray, and their daughters for captiues, and all their spoles for a boote to the children that thou loecest: which were moued with thy zeale, and abhorred the pollution of their bloude, and called vpon thee for aide, O God, O my God, heare me also a widowe.

5 For thou hast wrought the things afoze, and these, and the things that shall be after, and thou considerest the things that are present, and the things that are to come.

6 For the thinges which thou doest purpose, are present, and say, Beholde, we are here: for all thy wapes are readie, and thy iudgements are forcknowen.

7 Beholde, the Assyrians are multiplied by their power: they haue crated themselves with horses and horsemen: they glorie in the strength of their footemen: they trust in shelde, speare, and bowe, and sling, and doe not knowe that thou art the Lord that breakest the battels: the Lorde is thy name.

8 Breake thou their strength by thy power, and breake their force by thy wrath: for they haue purposed to desile thy Sanctuarie, and to pollute the Tabernacle where thy glorious Name resteth, and to cast downe with weapons the homes of the altar.

9 Beholde their pride, and sende thy wrath vpon their heates, giue into nunchande, which am a widowe, the

- 11 * For thy power standeth not in the multitude, nor thy might in strong men: but thou, O loide, arte the helpe of the humble and little ones, the defender of the weake, & the protector of them that are forsaken, and the Saviour of them that are without hope.
- 12 Surely, surely thou art the G O D of my father, and the God of the inheritance of Israel, the loide of Heauen and earth, the creator of the waters, the King of all creatures: heare thou my prayer,
- 13 And grantt me words and craft, and a wound, and a stroke against them that enterpryse cruel things against thy seruauit, and against thine hoip House, and against the toppes of Zion, and against the house of the possession of thy children.
- 14 Shew evidently among all thy people, and all thy tribes, that they may knowe that thou arte the G O D of all power and strength, and that there is none other that defendeth the people of Israel, but thou.

CHAP. X.

1 Iudeth decketh her self, and goeth forth of the cite. 11. She is takn of the watch of the Assyrians and brought to Olofernes.

- 1 NOw after she had ceased to crie vnto the God of Israel, and had made an ende of all these wordes,
- 2 She rose where she had fallen downe, and called her maide, and went downe into the house, in the whiche she abode in the Sabbath dayes and in the feast dayes,
- 3 And putting away þ sackcloth wherewith she was clad, & putting off þ garments of her widowhood, she washed her bodie with water, and anoynted it with much oynment, and dressed the haire of her heade, and put attire vppon it, and put on her garners of gladnesse, wherewith she was clad during þ life of Manasses her husband,
- 4 And she put slippers on her feete, and put on bracelets, and sleeves, and rings, & earringes, and all her ornamentes, and she decked her selfe branely to allure the eyes of all men that should see her.
- 5 Then she gaue her maide a bottell of wine, and a portee of oyle, and filled a scruppe with flowre, & with drie figges, and with fine breade: so she lapped vnto all these things to gether and layed them vppon her.
- 6 Thus they went forth to the gate of the cite of Bethulia, and found standing there Chias, and the Ancientes of the cite, Chabris and Charnis.

- 7 And when they salve her, that her face was chaunged, and that her garment was chaunged, they maruelled greatly at her wonderfull beautie, and saide vnto her,
- 8 The God, the God of our fathers giue thee fauour, and accomplishe thine enterpryses to the glorie of the children of Israel, and to the exaltation of Ierusalem. Then they worshipped G O D.
- 9 And she saide vnto them, Commaunde the gates of the Cite to bee opened vnto me, that I may go forth to accomplishe the thinges whiche you haue spoken to me. So they commaunded the young men to open vnto her, as she had spoken.
- 10 And when they had done so, Iudeth went out, she and her maide with her, and the men of the Cite looked after her, vntill shee was gone downe the mountaine, and till shee had passed the valley, and coulde see her no more.
- 11 Thus they went streight forth in the valley, and the first watch of the Assyrians met her,
- 12 And tooke her, and asked her, Of what people arte thou? and whence comest thou? and whither goest thou? And shee saide, I am a woman of the Hebrewes, and am fledde from them, for they shall be giuen you to bee consumed.
- 13 And I come before Olofernes, the chiefe captaine of your armie, to declare him true thinges, and I will shew before him the way wheremy he shall go and winne al the mountaines, without loosing the bodie or life of any of his men.
- 14 Now when the men heard her wordes, and beheld her countenance, they wondred greatly at her beautie, and said vnto her,
- 15 Thou hast saved thy life, in that thou hast hasted to come downe to the presence of our loide: nowe therefore come to his tent, and some of vs shall conduct thee vntill they haue deliuered thee into his handes.
- 16 And when thou standest before him, be not afraid in thine hearte, but shewe vnto him according as thou hast sayd, and he will intreate thee well.
- 17 Then they chose out of them an hundred men, & prepared a chariot for her and her maide, and brought her to the tent of Olofernes.
- 18 Then there was running to and fro, throughout the campe: for her coming was hinted among the tentes: & they came and stood rounde about her: for shee stood without the tent of Olofernes, vntill they had declared vnto him concerning her.
- 19 And they maruelled at her beautie, & wondred at the children of Israel because of her: and euery one said vnto his neigh neighbone, Who would despise this people, that haue among them suche women & surely it is not god that one man of them be left: for if they should remaine, they might deceiue the whole earth.

- 20 Then Olofernes garde went out, and all his seruantes, and they brought her into the tent.
- 21 Now Olofernes rested vpon his bed vnder a canopie, which was wouen with purple and golde and emeraudes, & precious stones.
- 22 So they shewed him of her, & he came forth vnto the entrie of his tent, & they carued lampes of silver before him.
- 23 And when Iudeth was come before him and his seruantes, they all marvelled at the beautie of her countenance, and she fell downe vpon her face, and did reuerence vnto him, and his seruantes tooke her vp.

CHAP. XI.

1 Olofernes comforteth Iudeth, 3 And asketh the cause of her coming, 5 She deceiueth him by her faire wordes,

- 1 Then saide Olofernes vnto her, Woman, be of good comfort: feare not in thine heart: for I neuer hurt any that would serue Nabuchodonosor the King of all the earth.
- 2 Now therefore if thy people that dwelseth in the mountaines, had not despised me, I wold not haue lifted by my speare against them: but they haue procured these things to themselves.
- 3 But now tell me wherefore thou art fled from them, and art come vnto vs: for thou art come for safegarde: be of good comfort, thou shalt liue from this night, and hereafter.
- 4 For none shall hurt thee, but intreate thee well, as they doe the seruants of King Nabuchodonosor my lord.
- 5 Then Iudeth saide vnto him, Receiue the wordes of thy seruant, and suffer thine handmaide to speake in thy presence, and I will declare no lye to my lord this night.
- 6 And if thou wilt followe the words of thine handmaide, God will bring the thing perfectly to passe by thee, and my lord shall not faile of his purpose.
- 7 As Nabuchodonosor King of all the earth liueth, & as his power is of force, who hath sent thee to reforme all persons, not onely men shall be made subiect to him by thee, but also the beastes of the fieldes, & the cattell, and the foules of the heauen shall liue by thy power vnder Nabuchodonosor and all his house.
- 8 For we haue heard of thy wisdom & of thy prudent spirite, & it is declared thorough the whole earth, that thou onely art excellent in all the kingdom, and of a wonderful knowledge, and in feares of waere maruelous.
- 9 Now as concerning the matter which

Achior did speake in thy counsell, we haue hearde his wordes: for the men of Bethulia did take him, and he declared vnto them all that he had spoken vnto thee.

- 10 Therefore, O lord and mercifull, respect not his word, but let it in thine hart, for it is true: for there is no punishment against our people, neither can the sword preuaile against them, except they sinne against their God.
- 11 Now therefore least my lord should be frustrate, and void of his purpose, and that death may fall vpon them, and that they may be taken in their sinne, wyles they promise their God to anger, which is so oft times as they doe that which is not becoming,
- 12 (for because their vitrailes faile, and all their water is wasted, they haue determined to take their cattell, and haue purposed to consume all thinges that God had forbidden them to eate by his lawes:
- 13 Yea, they haue purposed to consume the first frutes of the wheate, and the rithees of the wine, and of the ople, which they had reserued & sanctified for the Priests that serue in Jerusalem before the face of our God: the which thinges it is not lawfull for any of the people to touche with their handes.
- 14 Proieouer they haue sent to Ierusalem, because they also that dwell there, haue done the like, suche as should bring them licence from the Senate)
- 15 Now when they shall bring them word, they will doe it, & they shall be quenched to be destroyed the same day.
- 16 Wherefore I thine handmaide, knowing all this, am fled from their presence, and God hath sent me to worke a thing with thee, wherof all the earth shall wonder, and whosoeuer shall heare it.
- 17 For thy seruant feareth God, and worshippeth the God of heauen day and night, and now let me commaunce with thee, my lord, and let thy seruant go out in the night into the valley, and I will pray vnto God, that he may reueale vnto me when they shall commit their finnes,
- 18 And I will come and shewe it vnto thee: then thou shalt goe forth with all thine armie, and there shall be none of them that shall resist thee.
- 19 And I will leade thee through the middes of Iudea, vntil thou come before Jerusalem, and I will set thy throne in the middes thereof, and thou shalt driue them as sheepe that haue no shepheard, and a dogge shall not barke with his mouth against thee: for these thinges haue bene spoken vnto me, and declared vnto me according to my foresknowledge, and I am sent to shew thee.
- 20 Then her wordes pleased Olofernes, and all his seruantes, and they maruelled at her wisdom, and saide,
- 21 There is not such a woman in all the world, both for beautie of face, and wiledome

Chap. 5. 5.

Or, hath done well.

- 22 Likewise Olofernes saide vnto her, God hath done this, to send thee before the people that strength might be in our handes, and destruction vpon them that despise my lord.
- 23 And now thou art both beautifull in thy countenance, and wirtie in thy wordes: surely if thou do as thou haile spoken, thy God shall be my God, & thou shalt dwell in the house of Nabuchodonosor, and shalt be renowned through out the whole earth.

CHAP. XII.

2 Iudeth would not pollute her selfe with the meate of the Gentiles, 5 She maketh her request that she might go out by night to pray, 11 Olofernes causeth her to come to the banquet.

Then he commanded to bring her in where his treasures were laide, and bade that they should prepare for her of his owne meates, and that she should drinke of his owne wine.

Job. 1. 11.

2 But Iudeth saide, * I may not eate of them, least there should be an offence, but I can suffice my selfe with the things that I haue brought.

3 Then Olofernes saide vnto her, If the things that thou hast, should faile, how should we giue thee the like: for there is none with vs of thy nation.

4 Then saide Iudeth vnto him, As thy soule liueth, my lord, thine handmaide shall not spend those things that I haue, before the Lord worke by mine hand the things that he hath determined.

5 Then the seruants of Olofernes brought her into the tent, and she slept vntill midnight, and rose at the morning watch.

6 And sent to Olofernes, saying, Let my lord commaunde that thine handmaide may go forth vnto prayer.

7 Then Olofernes commaunded his garde that they should not stay her: thus she abode in the campe three daies, and went out in the night into the valley of Bethulia, & washed her selfe in a fontaine, euen in the water by the campe.

8 And when she came out, she prayed vnto the Lord God of Israel, that he would direct her way to the redemption of the children of her people.

9 So she returned, and remained pure in the tent, vntill she ate her meate at evening.

10 ¶ And in the fourth day, Olofernes made a feast to his owne seruants onely, and called none of them to the banquet, that had the affaires in hand.

11 Then saide he to Bagoas the Eunuche who had charge ouer all that he had, Go & persuade this Hebrew woman, which is with thee, that she come vnto vs, & eat, and drinke with vs.

12 For if we were a shame for vs, if we should let such a woman alone, & not talke with her, and if we do not allure her, she will mocke vs.

13 Then went Bagoas from the presence of Olofernes, and came to her, and saide, Let not this faire maide make difficulte to goe in to my lord, and to be honoured in his presence, and to drinke wine with vs ioyfully, and to be increased as one of the daughters of the children of Assur, which remain in the house of Nabuchodonosor.

14 Then saide Iudeth vnto him, Who am I now, that I should game say my lord? Surely whatsoeuer pleasey him, I will doe speedily, and it shall be my ioy vnto the day of my death.

15 So she arose and trimmed her with garmentes, and with all the ornaments of women, and her maide went, and spread forth her skinnes on the ground ouer against Olofernes, which she had receiued of Bagoas for her daily use, that she might sit and eate vpon them.

16 Nowe when Iudeth came and sat downe, Olofernes heart was rauished with her, and his spirit was moued, and he desired greatly her companie: for he had wayted for the time to descue her, from the day that he had seene her.

17 Then saide Olofernes vnto her, Drinke now, and be ierrie with vs.

18 So Iudeth saide, I drinke now, my lord, because my state is exalted this day mogethen euer it was since I was borne.

19 Then sheooke, and ate and dranke before him the things, that her maide had prepared.

20 And Olofernes reioiced because of her, and dranke much more wine then he had drunken at any time in one day since he was boye.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Iudeth prayeth for strength, 8 She smiteth off Olofernes necke, 10 She returneth to Bethulia, and reioyceth her people.

Now when the evening was come, his seruantes made haile to depart, and Bagoas shut his tent without, and dismissed those that were present, from the presence of his lord, and they went to their beddes: for they were all wearie, because the feast had bene long.

Eccle. 32.
20. 15.

2 And Iudeth was left alone in the tent, and Olofernes was stretched along vpon his bedde: for he was filled with wine.

3 ¶ Now Iudeth had commaunded her maide to stand without her chamber, & to wayte for her coming forth, as she did daily: for she said, she would go forth to her prayers, and she spake to Bagoas according to the same purpose.

4 So all went forth of her presence, and none was left in the chamber, neither little nor great: then Iudeth standing by his bed, saide in her heart, O Lord God of all power, behold at this present the woikes works of mine hands for the exaltation of Jerusalem.

- 5 For nowe is the time to helpe thine inheritance, and to execute mine enterprises, to the destruction of the enimies which are risen against vs.
- 6 Then shee came to the post of the bedde which was at Olofernes head, & tooke downe his sauchin from thence,
- 7 And approached to the bed, & tooke holde of the haire of his head, & said. Strengthen mee, O Lorde God of Israel this day.
- 8 And shee smote twice vpon his necke with all her might, and shee tooke away his head from him,
- 9 And rolled his bodie downe from the bed, and pulled downe the canopie from the pillars, and anon after shee went forth, and gaue Olofernes head to her maide,
- 10 And shee put it in her scrippe of meat: so they twaine went together according to their custome vnto priuer, & preasung through the tentes, went about by that valley, and went by the mountaine of Bethuliah, & came to the gates thereof.
- 11 ¶ Then said Iudeth a faire off to the watchmen at the gates. Open now the gate: God, euen our God is with vs to shewe his power yet in Jerusalem, and his force against his enimies, as he hath euen done this day.
- 12 Now when the men of her citie heard her voyce, they made haste to go down to the gate of their citie, and they called the Elders of the citie.
- 13 And they ran all together both small & great: for it was about their expectation, that shee should come. So they opened the gate, and receiued her, and made a fire for a light, and scoode round about them twaine.
- 14 Then shee said to them with a lowde voyce, Praise God, praise God: for he hath not taken away his mercie from the house of Israel, but hath destroyed our enimies by mine hands this night.
- 15 So shee tooke the head out of the scripp & shewed it, & said vnto them, Behold þ head of Olofernes, the chiefe captaine of the armie of Assur, & behold the canopie, wherein he did lie in his drunkenesse, & the Lord hath smitten him by the hand of a woman.
- 16 As the Lord liueth, who hath kept mee in my way that I went, my countenance hath deceiued him to his destruction, & he hath not committed sinne with mee by any pollution or vilanie.
- 17 Then all the people were wonderfully astonished, and bowed them selues, and worshipped God, and said with one accord, Blessed be thou, O our God, which hast this day brought to naught the enimies of thy people.
- 18 Then said Ozias vnto her, O daughter, blessed art thou of the most hie God about all the women of the earth, & blessed be the Lord God, which hath created the heauens & the earth, which hath directed thee to the cutting off of the head of the chiefe of our enimies.

- 19 Surely this thyme hope shall neuer be parte out of the hearts of men: for they shall remember the power of God for euer.
- 20 And God turne these things to thee for a perpetuall praise, and visite thee w good things, because thou hast not spared thy life, because of the affliction of our nation, but thou hast holpen our ruine, walking a streight way before our God. And all the people said, So be it, So be it.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Iudeth causeth to hang vp the head of Olofernes. 10 Achior recogneth him selfe to the people of God. 11 The Israelites go out against the Assyrians.

- 1 ¶ Then said Iudeth vnto them. Heare mee also, my brethren, and take this head, & hang it vpon the highest place of your walles. 2. Mach. 25.
- 2 And so soone as the morning shall appere, & the sunne shal come forth vpon the earth, take you euery one his weapons, and go forth euery valiant man out of the citie, and set you a captaine ouer the, as though you would go down vnto the felde, toward the watche of the Assyrians, but go not downe.
- 3 Then they shall take their armour, and shall go into their campe, and raise vp þ captaines of the armie of Assur, & they shall raine to the tent of Olofernes, but shall not finde him: then feare shall fall vpon them, and they shall flee before your face.
- 4 So you and all that inhabite the coastes of Israel, shal pursue them, & ouerthrow them as they go.
- 5 But before you do these things, call mee Achior the Ammonite, that he may see, and knowe him that despised the house of Israel, and that sent him to vs as to death.
- 6 Then they called Achior out of þ house of Ozias, and when he was come and sawe the head of Olofernes in a certene mans hand in the assemble of the people, he fell downe on his face, & his spirite failed.
- 7 But when they had taken him by, hee fell at Iudeths feete, & reuerenced her, and said, Blessed art thou in all the tabernacle of Iuda, and in all nations, which, hearing thy name, shalbe aduulged.
- 8 Now therefore tell mee all the things, that thou hast done in these days. Then Iudeth declared vnto him in þ middes of the people all that shee had done, from the day that shee went forth, vntill that houre shee spake vnto them.
- 9 And when shee had left off speaking, the people reioiced with a great voyce, and made a noise of gladnesse through their citie.

10 And Achioz, seeing al things that God had done for Israel, beleued in God busynedly, and circumcised the foreskin of his fleshy, and was ioynd vnto þ house of Israel vnto this day.

11 As soon as þ morning arose, they hadged the head of Olofernes out at the wall, & every man tooke his weapons, & they went forth by bandes vnto the straetes of the mounteine.

12 But when the Assyrians sawe them, they sent to their captains, which went to the gouernours and chiefe captains, and so all their rulers.

13 So they came to Olofernes tent, and said to him that had the charge of al his things, Waken our Lord: for the slaues haue bene bolde to come downe against vs to battell, that they may be destroyed for euer.

14 Then went in Sagoas, and knocked at the doore of the tent: for he thought that he had slept with Iudeth.

15 But because none answered, he opened it, and went into the chamber, & founde him cast vpon the floore, and his head was taken from him.

16 Therefore he cryed with a loud voyce, with weeping and mourning, and a nightie cry, and rent his garments.

17 After, he went into the tent of Iudeth wher she vsed to remaine, and found her not: then he leaped out to the people and cryed,

18 These slaues haue committed wickednesse: one woman of the Hebrewes hath brought shame vpon the house of King Nabuchodonosor: for beholde, Olofernes lieth vpon the ground without an head.

19 When the captaynes of the Assyrians armie heard these wordes, they rent their coates, and their heart was wonderfully troubled, and there was a crye, and a very great noise throughout the campe.

CHAP. XV.

1 The Assyrians are afraine and fie. 3 The Israelites pursue them. 8 Iocaim the hie Priest cometh to Bethulia to see Iudeth, and to praise God for her.

1 Ad when they that were in the tents, heard, they were astonishd at the thing that was done.

2 And feare and trembling fell vpon them, so that there was no man that durst abide in the sight of his neighbour: but altogether amazed, they fled by every way of the plaine & of the mounteines.

3 They also that had camped in þ mounteines round about Bethulia, were put to flight: then the children of Israel, esuey one that was a warrior among them, rushed out vpon them.

4 Then sent Oyas to Bethonathem, & to Sebai, and Chobai, and Chola, and to all the coastes of Israel, suche as should declare vnto them the thinges that were done, and that all should rush forth vpon their enemies to destroye them.

5 Now when the childgen of Israel heard it, they all fell vpon them together vnto Chobar: likewise also they that came fro Jerusalem, and from all the mounteines: for men had tolde them what thinges were don in the campe of their enemies, and they that were in Galaad & in Gazile chased them with a great slaughter untill they came to Damaleus, & to the coastes thereof.

6 And the residu that dwelt at Bethulia, fell vpon the campe of Murr and spoyled them, & were greatly enriched.

7 And the childgen of Israel that returned from the slaughter, had the rest: and the villages and the cities that were in the mounteines and in the plaine, had a great bootie: for the abundance was verie great.

8 Then Iocaim the hie Priest, & the ancients of the childre of Israel that dwelt in Jerusalem, came to confirme the benesites that God had shewed to Israel, and to see Iudeth, and to salute her.

9 And when they came vnto her, they blessed her with one accord, and said vnto her, Thou art the exaltation of Jerusalem: thou art the great glorie of Israel: thou art the great reioycing of our nation.

10 Thou hast done all these thinges by thine hand: thou hast done much good to Israel, and God is pleased therwith: blessed be thou of the almightie Lord for euermore: and all the people said, So be it.

11 And the people spoyled the campe the space of thirtie dayes, and they gaue vnto Iudeth Olofernes tent, and all his siluer and beds, and basins, and all his stuffe, and sheeooke it, and laid it on her mules, and made readie her charets, & laid them thereon.

12 Then all the women of Israel came together to see her, and blessed her, and made a daunce among them for her, and sheeooke banches in her hand, and gaue also to the women that were with her.

13 They also crowned her with Oliues, and her that was with her, & shee went before the people in the daunce, leading all the women: and all the men of Israel followed in their armour with crowns, and with songs in their mouthes.

CHAP. XVI.

Iudeth praiseth God with a song. 19 Shee offereth to the Lord Olofernes stuffe. 23 Her continencie, life and death. 25 All Israel lamenteth her.

1 Then Iudeth began this confession in all Israel, and all the people sang this song with a loude voyce.

2 And Iudeth said, Begunne vnto my God with timbets: sing vnto my Lord with with cymbals: tune vnto him a psalme: eralt his praise, and call vpon his name.

3 For God breaketh the battels, & pitched his campe in the middes of the people, and deliuered me out of the hand of the persecuters.

4 After came from the mountaines forth of the North: he came with thousands in his armie, * Whose multitude hath shure vp the ruers, and their horsemen haue covered the valleys.

5 He saide that he would burne by my borders, and kill my yong men with the sword, and dash the sucking children against the ground, and make mine infants as a pray, & my virgins a spople.

6 But the almightie Lorde hath brought them to naught by the hand of a woman.

7 For the mightie did not fall by þ yong men, neither did the somes of Titan smite him, nor the hye grants made him, but Judeth the daughter of Merari did discomfite him by the beautie of her countenance.

8 For he put off the garment of her wisdom, for the exaltation of those that were oppressed in Israel, and amounted her face with ornament, and bound by her haire in a coife, & toke a linnen garment to deceiue him.

9 Her slippers rauelth his eyes: her beautie toke his minde prisoner, and þ fauchin passed through his necke.

10 The Persians were astonishd at her boldnes, and the Medes were troubled with her hardnesse.

11 But mine afflicted reioyced, and my feeble ones shouted: then they feared, they lifted by their voyces, and turned backe.

12 The children of maides perced them, and wounded them as they fled away like children: they perished by the battell of the Lord.

13 I will sing vnto the Lorde a song and playe, O Lord, thou art great and glorious, maruelous & invincible in power.

14 Let all thy creatures serue thee: * for thou hast spoken, and they were made: thou hast sent thy spirite, and he made them by: and there is none that can resist thy voyce.

15 For the mountaines leape by from their foundations with the waters: the rockes melt at thy presence like ware: yet thou art mercifull to them that feare thee.

16 For all sacrifice is too little for a swete sauour, and all the fat is too little for thy burnt offering: but he that feareth the Lord, is great at all times.

17 Who to the nations that rise by against my kinred: the Lord almightie will take vengeance of them in the day of iudgement, in sending fire and vomyes vpon their flesh, and they shall feele them and weep for euer.

18 After, when they went vnto Jerusalem, they worshipped þ lord, & asloone as the people were purified, they offered their burnt offerings, and their free offerings, and their giftes.

19 Judeth also offered at the stufte of Olofernes, which the people had giuen her, and gaue the canopie which he had taken off his bed, for an oblation to the Lord.

20 So the people reioyced in Jerusalem by the Sanctuarie, for the space of thre monethes, and Judeth remained with them.

21 After this time, euery one returned to his owne inheritance, and Judeth went to Bethulia, and remained in her owne possession, and was for her time honourable in all the countrie.

22 And many desired her, but none had her companie all the dayes of her life after that Manasses her husband was dead, and was gathered to his people.

23 But she increased more and more in honour, and ward old in her husbands house, being an hundred and sixe yeere olde, and made her maide free: so she dyed in Bethulia, and they buried her in the graue of her husband Manasses.

24 And * the hoase of Israel lamented her seven dayes, and before she dyed, she did distribute her goods to all them that were necest of kinred to Manasses her husband, and to them that were the necest of her kinred.

25 And there was none that made the children of Israel any more afraid in the dayes of Judeth, nor a long time after her death.

Esther.

Certaine portions of the storie of Esther, which are found in some Greeke and Latine translations.

Which followe the tenth Chapter.

4 When Marдохeus saide, God hath done these things.
5 For I remember a dreame, which I saue concerning these matters, and there was nothing thereof omitted,

6 A little fountaine which became a flood, and was a light, and as the Sunne, and as much water, this flood was Esther whom þ King married, & made Quene.

7 And the two dragons are J & Antai.
8 And the people are they that are assembled to destroy the name of the Jewes.

9 And my people is Israel, which cried to God,

God, and are saved : for the Lorde hath saved his people and the Lorde hath delivered us from all these evils, and God hath wrought signes, and great wonders, which have not bene done among the Gentiles.

- 10 Therefore hath he made two lots. one for the people of God, and an other for all the Gentiles.
- 11 And these two lottes came before God for all nations, at the houre and time appointed, and in the day of iudgement.
- 12 So God remembered his owne people, and iustificed his inheritance.
- 13 Therefore those that shal be vnto them in the moneth Bar the fourteenth, and fiftenth day of the same moneth, with an assenbly and top, and with gladnes before God, according to the generati- ons for ever among his people.

CHAP. XI.

- 1 In the fourth yere of the reigne of Ptolomens and Cleopatra Dolitheus, who said he was a Priest and Leuite, and Ptolomens his sonn, that brought the former letters of Phurax, which they said by smachus the sonne of Ptolomens, which was at Jerusalem interpreted,
- 2 In the second yere of the reigne of great Artaxerxes in the first day of the month Nisan, Mardocheus the sonne of Sazrus, the sonne of Senti, the sonne of Cis of the tribe of Benjamin had a dreame,
- 3 A Jewe dwelling in the cite of Sulis, a noble man, that bare office in the Kings court.
- 4 He was also one of the captivitie which Nabuchodonosor the King of Babylon brought from Jerusalem by Zechonias.
- 5 And this was his dreame, Beholde a noise of a tempest with thunders, and earthquakes, and vppoye in the land.
- 6 Behold two great dragons came forth readie to fight one against an other.
- 7 Their crie was great, whereby all the heathen were ready to fight against the righteous people.
- 8 And the same day was full of darknes and obscuritie, and trouble, and anguish: pea, aduersitie, and great affliction was vpon the earth.
- 9 For then the righteous fearing their afflictions, were amazed, and being ready to die, cryed vnto God.
- 10 And while they were crying, the little well grew into a great river, and flowed ouer with great waters.
- 11 The light and the Sunne rose vp, and the lowly were exalted, and deuoured þ glorious.
- 12 Howe when Mardocheus had seene this dreame, he awoke and rose vp and thought in his heart vntill the night, what God would do, and so he desired to knowe all the matter.

CHAP. XII.

1 At the same time dwelt Mardocheus in the Kings court with Bagathas, and Thara, the Kings Eunuches & keepers of the palace.

- 2 * But when he heard their purpose, & their imaginatiours, he perceiued that they went about to lay their hands vpon the King Artaxerxes, and so he certified the King thereof.
- 3 Then caused the King to examine the two Eunuches with toiments, & when they had confessed it, they were put to death.
- 4 This the King caused to be put in the Chronicles. Mardocheus also wrote the same thing.
- 5 So the King commanded that Mardocheus should remain in the court, and for the aduertisement, he gaue him a reward.
- 6 But Aman the sonne of Amadathus the Agagite, which was in great honou and reputation with the king, went about to hurt Mardocheus and his people, because of the two Eunuches of the king that were put to death.

CHAP. XIII.

- 1 The copie of the letters of Artaxerxes against the Iewes. 8 The prayer of Mardocheus.
- 1 The copie of the letters was this, The great king Artaxerxes wrieth these things to the ynnces and generous that are vnder him from India vnto Ethiopia in an hundredeth and seuen and twentie prouinces.
- 2 When I was made Loide ouer many people, and had subdued the whole earth vnto my dominion, I would not erale my selfe by the reason of my power, but purposed with equite alway and gentleness to gouerne my subiectes, & wholy to let them in a peaceable life, and thereby to bring my kingdome vnto tranquillitie, that men might safely go thowoe on euery side, and to reuie peace againe, which all men desire.
- 3 Howe when I asked my counsellers howe these things might be brought to passe, one that was conuerfant with vs, of excellent wisdom, and constant in good will, and shewed him selfe to be of sure fidelitie, which had the second place in the kingdome, euen Aman,
- 4 Declared vnto vs, that in all nations there was scattered abroad a rebellious people, that had lawes contrarie to all people, and haue alwayes despised the commandements of kings, and so that this generall empire, that we haue be- gonne, can not be gouerned without of- fence.
- 5 Seeing now we perceiue, that this peo- ple alone are altogether contrarie vnto euery man, vnting strange and other man- ner of lawes, and hauing an euill opin- ion of our doings, and goe about to sta- blish wicked matters, that our kingdome should not come to good estate,
- 6 Therefore haue we commanded, that all they that are appointed in writing vnto you by Aman (which is ordeined

- ouer the affaires, and is as our seconde father shall all with their wives & children be destroyed and rooted out with the sword of their enemies without all mercie, and that none be spared þ fourth tenth day of the twelfth moneth Adar of this peere,
- 7 That they which of olde, and now also haue euer bene rebellious, may in one dap with violence be thrust downe into the hel, to the intent that after this tunc our affaires may be without troubles, & well governed in all pointes.
- 8 Then Mardocheus thought vpon all the workes, and of the Loide, and made his prayer vnto him,
- 9 Saying, O Loide, Loide, the King almightie (for al things are in thy power) and if thou hast appointed to saue Israel, there is no man that can withstand thee.
- 10 For thou hast made heauen & earth, and al the wondrous things vnder the heauen.
- 11 Thou art Loide of all things, and there is no man that can resist thee, which art the Loide.
- 12 Thou knowest all things, & thou knowest, Loide, that it was neither of malice, nor presumption, nor for any desire of glorie, that I did this, and not bowe downe to prouide Aman.
- 13 For I would haue bene content with good will for the saluation of Israel, to haue kist the sole of his fete.
- 14 But I did it, because I would not preferre the honour of a man about the glorie of God, & would not worship any but onely thee, my Loide, and this haue I not done of pride.
- 15 And therefore, O Loide God and King, haue mercie vpon thy people: for they imagine hoke they may bring vs to naught, yea, they would destroy the inheritance, that hath bene thine from þ beginning.
- 16 Despise not the position, which thou hast deliuered out of Egypt for thine owne selfe.
- 17 Heare my prayer, and be merciful vnto thy position: turne our sorrowe into ioy, that we may lue, O Loide, & praise thy name: but not þ mouthes of them that praise thee.
- 18 All Israel in like manner cryed moste earnestly vnto the Loide, because þ death was before their eyes.

CHAP. XIII.

The prayer of Esther for the deliuerance of her, and her people.

- 1 Queene Esther also, being in danger of death, resorted vnto the Loide,
- 2 And laid away her glorious apparell, and put on the garmentes of sighing, and mourning. In the steade of precious ornament, she scattered alhes, and dongue vppon her head: and she humbled her bodie greatly with fasting, and all the places of her ioy filled thee

- with the haire that she pluckt of.
- 3 And she prayed vnto the Loide God of Israel, saying, O my ioye, thou onely art our King: help mee desolate woman, which haue no helper but thee.
- 4 For my danger is at hand.
- 5 From my pounch vp I haue heard in þ kinred of my father, that thou, O Loide, tookest Israel from among all people, & our fathers from their predecessours for a perpetuall inheritance, and thou hast performed that which thou didst promise them.
- 6 Now Loide, we haue sinned before thee: therefore hast thou giuen vs into þ hands of our enemies.
- 7 Because we worshipped their gods, O Loide, thou art righteous.
- 8 Heertzelelle it satifery them not, that we are in bitter captiuitie, but they haue stroken hands with their idoles,
- 9 That they will abolish the thing that thou with thy mouth hast ordeined, and destroy thine inheritance, to shut vp the mouth of them that praise thee, and to quench the glorie of thy temple, and of thine altar,
- 10 And to open the mouthes of the heathen, that they may praise the power of the idoles, & to magnifie a fleshy King for euer.
- 11 O Loide, giue not thy Scepter vnto them that be nothing, lest they laugh vs to scorne in our miserie: but turne their deuise vpon them selues, and make him an example, that hath begone the same against vs.
- 12 Thinke vpon vs, O Loide, & shewe thy selfe vnto vs in the time of our distresse, and strengthen mee, O King of gods, & Loide of all power.
- 13 Giue mee an eloquent speech in my mouth before the Lyon: turne his heart to hate our enimie, to destroy him, & all such as consert vnto him.
- 14 But deliuer vs with thine hande, and helpe mee that am solitary, which haue no defence but onely thee.
- 15 Thou knowest all thing, O Loide: thou knowest, that I hate the glorie of the vnrighteous, & that I abhorre the bed of vncircumcised, & of all the heathen.
- 16 Thou knowest my necessitie: for I hate this roke of my presumption, which I beare vpon mine head, what time as I must shewe my selfe, and that I abhorre it as a mensuruous cloth, and that I weare it not when I am alone by my selfe,
- 17 And that I thine handmaid haue not eaten at Mans table, and that I haue had no pleasure in the Kings feast, nor dronke the wine of the drunk offerings,
- 18 And that I thine handmaids haue no ioy sine the dap that I was brought hither: vntill this dap, but in thee, O Loide God of Abraham.
- 19 O thou mightie God aboue all, heare the voice of them, that haue none other hope, and deliuer vs out of the hand of the wicked, and deliuer me out of my feare.

CHAP. XV.

- 1 Mardocheus moueth Esther to go in to the King, and make intercession for her people.
- 2 And shee performeth his request.
- 3 Mardocheus also bade Esther to go in vnto the King, & pray for her people and for her country.
- 4 Remember, saith he, the dayes of thy low estate, how thou wast nourished vnder mine hand: for vnto the King, hath giuen sentence of death against vs.
- 5 Call thou therefore vpon the Lord, and speake for vs vnto the King, and deliuer vs from death.
- 6 And vpon the third day, when shee had ended her prayer, shee layd away the mourning garments, and put on her glorious apparel.
- 7 And deckt her selfe goodly, after that she had called vpon God, which is the best holder and sauour of all things, & tooke two handmaides with her.
- 8 Vpon the one shee leaued her selfe, as one that was tender.
- 9 And the other followed her, & bare the frame of her vesture.
- 10 The shine of her beautie made her face rofe coloured: and her face was cheerefull and amiable, but her heart was sorrowfull for great feare.
- 11 Then she went in thoroowe all the doores, and stode before the King, and the King sat vpon his royal throne, and was clothed in his godly array, all glittering wth gold and precious stones, and he was verie terrible.
- 12 Then he lift vp his face, that shone with maiestie, and looked fiercely vpon her: therefore the Queene fell downe, & was pale and faint, and leaued her selfe vpon the head of the maide, that went with her.
- 13 Herethelesse, God turned the Kings minde, that he was gentle, who being careful, leaped out of his throne, & tooke her in his armes, till shee came to her selfe againe: and comforted her with loving words, and said,
- 14 Esther, what is the matter? I am thy brother, be of good cheare.
- 15 Thou shalt not dye: for our commandment toucheth the commons, and not thee: Come nere.
- 16 And so he held by his golden scepter, & laid it vpon her necke,
- 17 And killed her, and said, Talke with me.
- 18 Then said shee, I sawe thee, O Lord, as an Angel of God, and mine heart was troubled for feare of thy maiestie.
- 19 For wonderfull art thou, O Lord, and thy face is full of grace.
- 20 And as shee was thus speaking vnto him, shee fel downe againe for faintnes.
- 21 Then the King was troubled, and all his seruants comforted her.

CHAP. XVI.

The copie of the letters of Ariarxes, wherea by he reuoketh those which he first sent forth.

- 1 The great King Artaxerxes, which Ioseph. antiq. 11. cba. 6 reigneth from India vnto Ethiopia, ouer an hundred & seuen & twentie prouinces, sendeth vnto the princes and rulers that haue the charge of our affaires, Salutation.
- 2 There be many, that through the goodness of Princes, and honour giuen vnto them, become verie proude.
- 3 And indouour not only to hurt our subiects, but not content to liue in wealth, do also imagine destruction against those that do them good.
- 4 And take not onely all thankfulness away from men, but in pride and presumption, as they that be vnmindfull of benefices, they thinke to escape the vengeance of God, that seeth all things, and is contrarie to euil.
- 5 And oft times many, which be set in office, and vnto whome their friends causes are committed, by vaine entisements do wrapp them in calamities, that can not be remedied: for they make them partakers of innocent blood.
- 6 And deceitfully abuse the simplicitie, and gentleness of Princes with lying tales.
- 7 This may be proued not onely by olde histories, but also by those things that are before our eyes, and are wickedly committed of such pestilences as are not worthe to beare rule.
- 8 Therefore we must take heede hereafter that we may make the kingdome peaceable for all men, what change so euer shal come.
- 9 And discern the things that are before our eyes, to withstand them with gentleness.
- 10 For vnto a Macedonian, the sonne of Anabathus, being in deed a stranger from the Persians blood, and farre from our goodness, was receiued of vs.
- 11 And hath proued the friendship that we beare toward all nations, so that hee was called our father, and was honoured of euery man, as the next person vnto the King.
- 12 But he could not vse him selfe soberly in this great dignitie, but went about to deprive vs of the kingdome, and of our life.
- 13 With manifold deceit also hath hee desired to destroy Mardocheus our preseruer, which hath done vs good in all things, and innocent Esther the partaker of our kingdome, with all her nation.
- 14 For his mind was (when he had taken them out of the way) to lay waite for vs, and by this meanes to translate the kingdome of the Persians vnto them of Macedonia,

- 15 Wht we finde that the Jewes (which were accused of this most wicked man that they might be destroyed) are no evil doers, but vse most iust lawes,
- 16 And that they be the children of the most high and almightie and euermung God, by whom the kingdome hath bene preferred vnto vs, and our progenitors in very good order.
- 17 Wheresofe ye shall doe well, if ye doe not put in execution those letters, that Aman the soune of Amadathus did write vnto you.
- 18 For he that inuented them, hangeth at Sulis befoze the gates with all his familie, and God (which hath all things in his power) hath speedily rewarded him after his deserring.
- 19 Theresofe ye shall publish the copie of this letter in all places, that the Jewes may fraily lue after their owne lawes.

- 20 And ye shall abyde them, that vpon the thirtenth day of the twelfth moneth Nidar they may be auenged of them, whiche in the time of their trouble would haue oppressed them.
- 21 For almightie God hath turned to toy the day, wherem the chosen people shuld haue perished.
- 22 No more, among other solemne days ye shal keepe this day with all gladnes,
- 23 That both now and in time to come, this day may be a remembrance of deuocance for vs, and all such as loie the prosperitie of the Persians, but a remembrance of destruction to those that be sedicious vnto vs.
- 24 Theresofe at cities & countries that do not this, shal horribly be destroyed with sword & fire, and shal not onely not be inhabited of men, but be abhorred also of the wilde beastes and foules for euer.

The Wisedome of Salomon.

CHAP. I.

How we ought to search and inquire after God, 2 Who be those that find him, 5 The holy Ghoste, 8 We ought to flee from backbiting and murmuring, 12 Wheresof death cometh. 15 Righteousnes and vnrighthousnes.

Our * righteousnes, ye that be Iudges of the earth: thinke reuerently of the Lord, and sake him in simplicitie of heart.

- 1 For he will be found of them that tempt him not, and appeareth vnto such as be not unfaithfull vnto him.
- 2 For wicked thoughtes separate from God: and his power, when it is tried, reuoueth the unwise.
- 3 Because wisdome can not enter into a wicked heart, nor dwell in the body that is subiect vnto sinne.
- 4 For the holy * Spirit of discipline fleeth from deceit, and withholdeth him selfe from the thoughtes that are without vnderstanding, and is rebuked when wickednes cometh.
- 5 For the spirit of wisdome * is louing, and will not absoiue him that blasphemeth with his tippes: for God is a witness of his reines, & a true beholder of his heart, & an hearer of the tongue.
- 6 For the Spirit of the Lord filleth all the world: and the same that maintaineth all thinges, hath knowledge of the bowce.
- 7 Theresofe he that speaketh vnrigheteous things, can not be hid: neither shall the iudgement of reproch let him escape.
- 8 For inquisition shall be made for the thoughtes of the vngodly, and the found of his wordes shall come vnto God for the correction of his iniquities.

- 9 For the care of gealouise heareth all things, and the nose of the grudginges shall not be hid.
- 10 Theresofe beware of murmuring, whiche profiteth nothing, and rekeaine your tongue from slander: for there is no word so secret, that shall goe for naught, and the mouth that speaketh lyes, slappeth the soule.
- 11 Secke not death in the error of your life: * destroy not your selues, tho youe the workes of your owne hands.
- 12 For God hath not made death, neither hath he pleasure in the destruction of the liuing.
- 13 For he created all thinges, that they might haue their being: and the generations of the world are preferred, and there is no person of destruction in them, and the kingdome of hell is not vpon earth.
- 14 For righteousnes is innocetall but vnrighthousnes bringeth death.
- 15 And the vngodly call a it vnto them both with hands and words: and while they thinke to haue a friend of it, they come to naught: for they are confederate with it: therefore are they woorthie to be partakers thereof.

CHAP. II.

The imaginations and desires of the wicked, and their counsell against the faithfull.

- 1 For the vngodly say, as they fallie imagine with the selues, * Our life is short and tedious: and in the death of a man there is no reuerencie, neither was any knowie that hath returned from the graue.
- 2 For we are boyne at all adventure, and we shall be hereafter as though we had neuer bene: for the breath is a smoke in our nostrils, and the words as a sparkes refted out of our heart,

4 Our life shall passe away as the trace of a cloud, and come to naught as the mist that is driven away with þe beames of the Sunne, and cast downe with the heat thereof. Our name also shall be forgotten in time, and no man shall haue our workes in remembrance.

5 * For our time is as a shadowe that passeth away, and after our end there is no returning: for it is fast sealed, so that no man commeth againe.

6 * Come therefore, and let vs enjoy the pleasures, that are present, & let vs cherisshfully be the creatures as in youth.

7 Let vs fill our selues with collipe wine and ointments, and let not the floure of life passe by vs.

8 Let vs crown our selues with rose buds afore they be withered.

9 Let vs all be partakers of our wantonnes: let vs leaue some token of our pleasure in every place: for that is our portion, and this is our lot.

10 Let vs oppresse the poore, that is righteous: let vs not spare the widow, nor reuerence the white haire of the aged, that haue lived many yeares.

11 Let our strength be the law of vnrightrousnesse: for the thing that is feeble, is reynoned as vnrprofitable.

12 Therefore let vs defraude the righteous: for he is not for our profite, and he is contrary to our doings: he checketh vs for offending against the lawe, and blameth vs as transgressours of discipline.

13 He maketh his boall to haue the knowledge of God: and he calleth him self the soune of the Lord.

14 He is made to reprove our thoughts.

15 It grieveth vs also to looke vpon him: for his life is not like other mens: his wayes are of an other fashon.

16 He counteth vs as bastardeg, and he withdraueth him selfe from our wayes as from filthines: he commendeth greatly the latter end of the iust, and boasteth that God is his father.

17 Let vs see when if his wordes be true: let vs proue what end he shall haue.

18 For if the righteous man be the * soune of God, he wil help him, and deliuer him from the hands of his enemies.

19 Let vs * examine him with rebukes & tormentes, that we may know his meeknes, and proue his patience.

20 Let vs condemne him vnto a shamefull death: for he shall be preferred as he him selfe saith.

21 Such things do they imagine, and goe astray: for their owne wickednes hath blinded them.

22 And they do not vnderstand the mysteries of God, neither hope for the reward of righteousness, nor can discern the honour of the soules that are faultles.

23 For God created ma without corrupcion, and made him after the * image of his owne likeness.

24 * Auertethes, thorow the enmie of the diuel came death into the world: and they that hold of his side, proue it.

CHAP. III.

1 The conuersation and assurance of the righteous. 7 Thereward of the faithfull. 11 Who are miserable.

1 But the * soules of the righteous are in the hand of God, and no torment shall touch them.

2 * In the sight of the vnwise they appeared to dye, and their end was thought grieuous,

3 And their departing from vs, destruction, but they are in peace.

4 And though they suffer paine before men, yet is * their hope full of immortalitye.

5 They are punished, but in fewe things, yet in many things shall they be rewarded: * for God proueth them, and findeth them meete for him selfe.

6 He trieth them as þe gold in the foynace, and receiveth them as a perfect fruit of sereing.

7 * And in the time of their visitation they shall shine, and rume theyr owe as the sparkes among the stubble.

8 * They shall iudge the nations and haue dominion ouer the people, and their Lord shall reigne for euer.

9 They that trust in him, shall vnderstand the trueth, and the faithfull shall remaine with him in loue: for grace and mercie is among his Saints, and he regardeth his elect.

10 * But the vngodly shall be punished according to their imaginations: for they haue despised the righteous, and forsaken the Lord.

11 Who so despiseth wiledome and discipline, is miserable, & their hope is vaine, and their labours are foolish, and their workes vnrprofitable:

12 Their wiues are vndiscrete, and their children wicked: their offering is curst.

13 Therefore the barren is blessed which is vndefiled, and knoweth not the unfruitfull bed: * she shall haue fruit in the visitation of the soules,

14 And þe Eunuch, which with his hands hath not wrought iniquitie, nor imagined wicked things against God: for vnto him shall be giuen the speciall gift of faith, and an acceptable portion in the Temple of the Lord.

15 For glorious is the fruite of good labours, and the roote of wiledome shall neuer vade away.

16 But the children of adulterers shall not be partakers of the holy things, and the seed of the wicked bed shall be rooted out.

17 And though they liue long, yet shall they be nothing regarded, and their last age shall be without honour.

18 If they die hastily, they haue no hope, neither comfort in the day of trial.

CHAP. IIII.

Of vertue & the commoditie thereof. 10. The death of the righteous, and the condemnation of the vnfaithfull.

1 Better is barrenesse with vertue: for the memoriall thereof is immortall. for it is knowen with God & with men.

2 When it is present, men take example thereat, and if it go away, yet they desire it: it is alway crowned & triumpheth, and winneth the battell and þ vndefiled rewardes.

3 But þ multitude of the vngodly whiche abound in children, is vnpofitable: and the bastarde plantes shall take no deepe roote, nor lay any fast foundation.

4 For though they budde forth in the braunches for a time, * yet they shall be shaken with the winde: for they stande not fast, and though the vehemencie of the winde they shall be rooted out.

5 For the vnperfecte braunches shall be broken, and their fruit shall be vnprofitable & slowe to eare, and meete for nothing.

6 For all the children that are bozne of þ wicked bed, shall be iurmes of the wickednes against their parents when they be asked.

7 But though the righteous be prevented with death, yet shall he be in rest.

8 For þ honorable age is not that which is of long time, neither that which is measured by the number of yeres.

9 But wisdom is the gray haire, and an vndefiled life is the old age.

10 * He pleaseth God, and was beloued of him, so that where as he lined among sinners, he translated him.

11 He was taken away, lest wickednesse shoulde alter his vnderstanding, or deceit beguile his minde.

12 For wickednesse by bewitching obscureth the things that are good, & the vnstedfastnesse of concupiscence peruerteth the simple minde.

13 Though he was soone dead, yet fulfilled he much tyme.

14 For his soule pleased God: therefore hated he to take him away from wickednesse.

15 Yet the people see & vnderstande it not, and consider no such things in their hartes, howe that grace and mercie is by þon his Sauntes, and his prouidence ouer the elect.

16 Thus the righteous that is dead, commendeth the vngodly which are liuing: and the poult that is soone brought to an end, the long life of the vnrightheous.

17 For they see the end of the wise, but they vnderstand not whye God hath de- muned for him, and wherefore the lord hath persecuted him in sufferie.

18 They see him and despise him, but the lord will laugh them to scoone,

19 So that they shall fall hereafter with out honour, and shall haue a shame among the dead for euermore: for without any voyce shall he burst them & cast them downe, and shake them from the foundations, so that they shall be utterly wasted, and they shall be in sorowe, & their memoriall shall perishe.

20 So they being afraid, shall remember their finnes, and their owne wickednesse shall come before them to conuince them.

CHAP. V.

1 The constanmes of the righteous, before their persecuters. 14. The hope of the vnfaithfull is vaine. 15. The blessednes of the Sauntes and godlie.

1 Then shall the righteous stande in great boldnes before the face of such as haue commented him, and taken away his labours.

2 When they see him, they shall be vered with horrible feare, and shall be astaked for his wonderfull delineaunce.

3 And shall change their minds, and sigh for greefe of minde, and say within their selues, This is he whome we sometime had in derision, and in a parable of reproch.

4 * We sooles thought his life madnesse, and his end without honour.

5 How is he counted among the children of God, and his portion is among the Sauntes.

6 Therefore we haue erred from the way of truely, and the light of righteounesse hath not shined vnto vs, and the sunne of vnderstanding rose not vpon vs.

7 We haue wearied our selues in þ way of wickednesse and destruction, and we haue gone through dangerous wayes: but we haue not knowen the way of the lord.

8 What hath ynde profited vs: or what profite hath the poump of riches brought vs?

9 All those things are * passed away like a shadow, and as a post that passeth by:

10 As a thyng that passeth ouer þ waues of the water, which when it is gone by, the trace thereof can not be found, neither the path of it: in the foudes.

11 As * a bird that flieth thorow in the aire, & no man can see any token of her passage, but onely heare the noise of her wings, hearing the light winde, parting the aire thorow the vehemencie of her going, & flieth on shaking her wings, whereas afterwarde no token of her way can be founde:

12 As when an arrow is shot at a mark, it parteth the aire, which immediatly commeth together againe, so that a man can not knowe wher it went thorow.

13 Euen so we, althow as we were borne, we began to dye to our end, and haue shewed no token of vertue, but are consumed in our owne wickednesse.

14 For the hope of þ vngodly is like the dust that is blown away with the wind, & see, and their rewards also is with the Lord, and the most high hath care of them.

- 16 Therefore shall they receive a glorious kingdome, and a beautifull crowne of hande shall he cover them, and with his and shall arme the creatures to berveuged of the enemies.

- 18 He shall put on righteousnesse for a

- 19 He will take holinesse for an invincible shilde.
- 20 He will sharpen his fierce wrath for a him against the unwise.

ter them aboaide. Thus iniquitie shall bring all the earth to a wilderness, and wickednesse shall overthrowe the thrones of the mightie.

The calling of Kinges, Princes, and Iudges, mercie, but the mightie that be mightily tormented.

- 12 Wisdome shyneth and neuer fadeth as way, & is easely seene of them that loue her, and sounde of such as secke her,
- 13 She preuenteth them that desire her,
that they may see her wher she selfe vnto
them.
- 14 Who so awaketh vnto her betimes, shall haue no greate trauell: for he shall finde her sitting at his doores.
- 15 To thinke vpon her then is perfecte understanding: and who so watcheth for her, shall be soone without care.
- 16 For she goeth about, seekinge suche as are meete for her, and she weth her selfe cheerfully vnto them in the waves, and macteth them in euerie thought.
- 17 For the most true desire of discipline is her beginning: and the care of discipline is loue.
- 18 And loue is keepinge of her lawes: and the keepinge of the lawes the assurance of immortalitie.
- 19 And immortalitie maketh vs neere
vnto God.
- 20 Therefore the desire of wisdom leas-deth to the kingdome.
- 21 If your delight be then in thrones, and scepters, O Kinges of the people, honour wisdom, ye may reigne for ever.
- 22 Now I will tell you what wisdom is, and whence it cometh, and will not hide the mysteries from you, but will seeke her out from the beginning of her natiuitie, and bring the knowledge of her into light, and will not keepe backe

Wisdome ought to be preferred aboue all things.

- 5 For there is no King that had any other beginning of birth.
- 6 All men then haue one entrance vnto life, and a like going out.
- 7 Wherefore I prayed, and vnderstanding was giuen me: I called, and the spirit of wisdom came vnto me.
- 8 I preferred her to scepters and thrones, and counted riches nothing in comparison of her.
- 9 * Whether did I compare precious stones vnto her: for all gold is but a little grauell in respect of her, and siluer shall be counted but clay before her.
- 10 I loued her above health and beautie, & purposed to take her for my light: for her light cannot be quenched.
- 11 All good things therefore came to me together with her, & innumerable riches thorow her handes.
- 12 So I was glad in all: for wisdom was the author thereof, and I knew not that she was the mother of these things.
- 13 And I learned vnsigneibly, and communicated without enuie, and I do not hide her riches.
- 14 For there is an infinite treasure vnto men, which who so like, become partakers of the loue of God, and are accepted for the giftes of knowledge.
- 15 God hath graunted me to speake according to my minde, and to iudge worthily of the things, that are giuen me: for he is the leader vnto wisdom, and the director of the wise.
- 16 For in his hand are both we and our words, and all wisdom, and the knowledge of the woordes.
- 17 For he hath giuen me the true knowledge of the things that are, so that I know how the world was made, and the powers of the elements,
- 19 The beginning and the end, and the middes of the times: how the times alter, and the change of the seasons,
- 19 The course of the yeare, the situation of the starres,
- 20 The nature of liuing things, and the fiercousnesse of beastes, the power of the windes, and the imaginations of men, the diuersities of plants, and the vertues of rootes.
- 21 And all things both secrete and known do I know: for wisdom the woorker of all things, hath taught me it.
- 22 For in her is the spirit of vnderstanding, which is hoile, the onely begotten, manifold, subtil, moucable, cleare, vnderstanded, euident, not hurtful, louing the good, sharpe, which can not be letted, doing good,
- 23 Euerous, stable, sure, without care, having all power, circumspect in all things, & passing through all intellectuall, pure and subtil spirits.
- 24 For wisdom is number then all mixible things: she goeth thorow and attaineth to all things, because of her purenes.
- 25 For there is the breath of the power of God, and a pure influence that sloweth

- 26 For the light is the brightnesse of the euerylasting light, the vnderstanded mirrour of the maiestie of God, and the image of his goodnesse.
- 27 And being one, she can do all things, and remaining in her selfe, renueth all, & according to the ages she circeth into the holie soules, and maketh them the friends of God and prophetes.
- 28 For God loneth none, if he dwell not with wisdom.
- 29 For she is more beautiful then the sunne, and is aboue all the order of the starres, and the light is not to be compared vnto her.
- 30 For night counteth vpon it, but wickednesse can not ouercome wisdom.

Hob. 1. 26

CHAP. VIII.
The effectes of wisdom.

- 1 She also reacheth from one end to another mightily, and cometh doth the order of all things.
- 2 I haue loued her, & sought her from my youth: I desired to marie her, such loue had I vnto her beaurie.
- 3 In that she is conuerfant with God, it commendeth her nobilitie: yea, the Lord of all things loneth her.
- 4 For she is the schoolmistres of all knowledge of God, and she chooseth out of his woordes.
- 5 If riches be a possession to be desired in this life, what is richer then wisdom, that woorketh all things?
- 6 For if prudence woorketh, what is it among all things, that woorketh better then she?
- 7 If a man loue righteousnes, her labours are vertuous: for she reacheth sobernes and prudence, righteousnesse & strength, which are the mooste profitable things that men can haue in this life.
- 8 If a man desire great experience, she can tell the things that are past, and discern things to come: she knoweth the subtilties of woordes, and the solutions of dark sentences: she foresheweth the signes and wonders, or euer they come to passe, & the successe of seasons and times.
- 9 Therefore I purposed to take her vnto my coupaime, knowing that she would counsell me good things, and comfort me in cares and griefes.
- 10 For her sake shall I haue glorie among the multitude, and honour among the Elders though I be young.
- 11 I shall be found of sharpe iudgement, so that I shall be maruelous in the sight of great men.
- 12 Will I hold my tongue, they shall abide my pleasure: when I speake, they shall heare diligently, & if I take much, they shall lap their handes vpon their mouth.
- 13 Moreover, by her I shall obtaine immortalitye, and leave an euerlasting memorie all among them that come after me.

- 14 I shall governe the people, and the nations shall be subdued unto me.
- 15 Horrible tyrants shall be afraid when they heare me: among the multitude I shall be counted good, & mightie in battell.
- 16 When I come home, I shall rest with her: for her compaignie hath no bitterness, and her fellowship hath no tediousnesse, but ioy and top.
- 17 Now when I considered these things by my selfe, and pondered them in mine heart, how that to be ioynd vnto wisdom is immortalitie,
- 18 And great pleasure is in her friendship, and that in the workes of her hands are infinite riches, and that in the exercise of talking with her is prudence, and glorie by communing with her, I went about, seeking how I might take her vnto me.
- 19 For I was a wittie childe, and was of a good spirite.
- 20 Yea, rather being good, I came to an undefiled bodie.
- 21 Nevertheless, when I perceived that I could not wino her, except God gaue her (and that was a point of wisdom also, to know whose gift it was) I went vnto the Lord, and besought him, & with my whole heart I saide,
- I may know what is acceptable in thy sight.*
- 11 For the knoweth and understandeth all things, and the shall leade me soberly in my workes, & preserve me by her glorie.
- 12 So shall my workes be acceptable, and then shall I governe thy people rightly, & be made for my fathers throne.
- 13 For what man is he that can knowe the counsell of God? who can thinke what the will of God is?
- 14 For the thoughts of mortall men are fearful, & our forescalles are uncerteine.
- 15 Because a corruptible bodie is heaue vnto the soule, and the earthy mansion keepeth down the mind & is full of cares.
- 16 And hardly can we discern the things that are vpon earth, and with great labour finde we out the things which are before vs: who can then seeke out the things that are in heauen?
- 17 Who can knowe thy counsell, except thou giue him wisdom, & send thine holie Spirit from aboue?
- 18 For so the ways of them which are vpon earth, are reformed, & men are taught the things that are pleasant vnto thee, & are preserved through wisdom.

12 She saved him from the enities, and defended him from them, that laye in waite, & she gaue him p vce in a vighrie battell, that he might knowe that p feare of God is stronger the at things.

13 * When the righteous was sote, shee forsooke him not, but deliuered him from sinne: the went downe with him into the dongeon,

14 And failed him not in the bandes, till she had brought him the scepter of the realme, & power against those that oppressed him, and them that had accused him. she declared to be kers, and gaue him perpetuall glorie.

15 * She deliuered the righteous people and faultles sed from the nations that oppressed them.

16 She entred into the soule of the seruauant of the lorde, and scoode by him in wondrous and signes against the terrible kungs.

17 She gaue the Saintes the reward of their labours, and led them forth a mercieous way: on the day time she was a shadow vnto them, and a light of starres in the night.

18 * She brought the thorow the red sea, & carried them through the great water:

19 But she drowned their enities, and brought the out of the bosome of p deep.

20 So the righteous tooke the spoiles of the vngodly, * and prayed thine holy name, O Lorde, and magnified thy victorious hande with one accord.

1 The miracles done for Israel. 13. The vengeance of sinners. 28. The greates power & mercie of God.

1 He prospered their works in the handes of thine holy Prophet.

2 * They went through the wilderness that was not inhabited, & pitched their tents in places where there lay no way.

3 * They stood against their enemies, and were auenged of their aduersaries.

4 * When they were thirst, they called vpon thee, and water was giuen them out of the hic rocke, and their thirst was quenched out of the hard stone.

5 For by the things whereby their enemies were punished, by the same were the Israeletes helped in their neede.

6 For in steade of a fountaine of running water, the enemies were troubled at the corrupt bloode, which was to rebuke the commaundement of the killing of the children, but thou gaucst vnto thine own aboundance of water vntooked for,

7 Declaring by p thirst that was at that time * how thou haddest punished thine aduersaries.

8 For when they were tried and chastised with merie, they knewe howe the vngodly were iudged & punished in wrath.

9 For these hast thou exhorted as a father, & proued them: but thou hast condemned p other as a righteous King, when thou diddest examine them.

10 Whether they were absent or present, their punishment was alike: for their grieffe was double with mourning, and the remembrance of things past.

11 For why they perceived that through their conuents good came vnto them, they felt the lorde.

12 And seeing the things that came to passe, at the last they wondered at him who a fore they had cast out, denied and decided: for they had another thirst then the mist.

13 Because of the foolish devices of their wickednes wherewith they were deceiued, & worshipped * serpentes, that had not the ble of reason, & vile beastes, thou sendest a multitudo of vnrasonable beastes vpon them for a vengeance, that they might know, that wherewith a man sinneth, by p same also shall he be punished.

14 For vnto thine almightie hande, that made the world of * naught, it was not vnpssible to sende among them a multitudo * of beares, or ferce lions,

15 O furious beastes newly created, and unknowen, which should breath out blasts of fire, and cast out smoke as a tempest, or shote horrible sparkes like lighteninges outof their eyes.

16 Which might not onely deftrope them with hurting, but also kill them with their horrible sight.

17 Yea, without these might they haue bene cast downe with one winde, being persecuted by thy vengeance, and feared abroad through p power of thy spirite: but thou hast ordered all things in measure, number and weight.

18 For thou hast ever had great strength and might, and who can withstand the power of thine armie?

19 For as the small thing that the balance weigheth, so is the worlde before thee, and as a drop of the morning dewe, that falleth downe vpon the earth.

20 But thou hast mercie vpo all: for thou hast power of all things, and maketh as though thou sawest not the sins of men, because they should auent.

21 For thou louest all things that are, & hatest none of them whome thou haste made: for thou wouldest haue created nothing that thou haddest hated.

22 And how might any thing endure, if it were not thy will? or howe could any thing be preserved, except it were called of thee?

23 But thou sparest al: for they are thine, O Lord, which art the loue of soules.

3 *As for those old inhabitantes of the holy lande, thou diddest hate them.

4 For they committed abominable workes, as soceries and wicked sacrifices,

5 And slaying of their own children with out mercie, and eating of the bowels of mans flesh in banqueting, where the raging Diuelles shed abominable bloods.

6 And the fathers were the cheefe murderers of the soules, destitute of all helpe, whome thou wouldest destroy by the handes of our fathers,

7 That the lande whiche thou louest as boue all other, might be a mans dwelling for the children of God.

8 * Neuertheless thou sparedst them also, as men, & sendest þe foreigners of thine hoste, euen hornets to destroy them by little and little,

9 Not that thou wast unable to subdue the vngodly vnto the righteous in battell, or with cruell beastes, or with one rough worde to destroy them together.

10 But in punishing them by little and little, thou gauest them space to repent, knowing well, that it was an vnrightheous nation & wicked of nature, and that their thought could neuer be altered

11 For it was a cursed seede from the beginning: yet hast thou not spared them when they sinned, because thou fearedst any man.

12 For who dare say, * What hast thou done? or who dare stande against thy iudgement? or who dare accuse thee for the nations that perish, whom thou hast made? or who dare stande against thee to reuenge the wicked men?

13 For there is none other God but thou, that carest for all things, that thou maist declare howe that thy iudgement is not vnrigh.

14 There dare neither King nor tyant in thy sight require accounts of them whome thou hast punished.

15 For so much thou as thou art righteous thy selfe, thou orderest all things rightouly, * thinking it not agreeable to thy power to condemne him, þe hath not deserved to be punished.

16 For thy power is the beginning of righteousnes, and because thou art Lord of all things, it causeth thee to spare all things.

17 When men thinke thee not to be of a perfect power, thou declarest thy power, and reponest the boldnes of the wise.

18 But thou ruling the power, iudgest with equitie, & gouernest vs with great fauour: for thou maist shewe thy power when thou wilt.

19 Wp such works now hast thou taught thy people, that a man shoulde bee iust and louing, and hast made thy children to be of a good hope: for thou geuest repentance to sinners.

20 For if thou hast punished the enemies of thy children, that had deserved death with fo great consideration, and requesting vnto them, giuing them time and place that they might change from their wickednesse.

21 With howe great circumspection wilt thou punish thine owne children, vnto whose fathers thou hast sworne & made covenantes of good promises?

22 So when thou dost chasten vs, thou punishest our enemies a thousande times more, to the intente that when we iudge, we shoulde diligently consider thy goodnesse, and when we are subget, we shoulde hope for mercie.

23 Wherefore thou hast reuenged the wicked that haue liued a dissolute life by their owne imaginations.

24 * For they went astray verie farre in the wapes of errour, and esteemed the beastes, which their enemies desired, for gods, being abused after the manner of children, that haue none vnderstanding.

25 Therefore hast thou sent this punishment that they shoulde be in derision as children without reason.

26 But they that will not be reformed by those scoonefull rebukes, shall see the worthie punishment of God.

27 For in those things whiche they suffered, they disdained: but in these whome they counted goddie, when they sawe themselves punished by the, they all acknowledged the true God who afore they had dreamed to knowe: therefore came extreme damnation vpon them.

10 But miserable are they, and among the dead is their hope, that call them gods, which are the woekes of mens handes, gold, and silver, & the thing that is invented by arte, and the similitude of beastes, for any vaine stone that hath bene made by the hand of antiquitie.

11 For the inventing of idols was the beginning of whozdom, and the finding of them is the corruption of life.

12 For they were not from the beginning, neither shall they continue for ever.

13 The vaine glorie of men brought them into the world: therefore shall they come shortly to an end.

14 When a father mourned grievously for his soune þ was taken away suddenly, he made an image for him that was once dead, whom now he worshippeth as a god, and ordeined to his seruants ceremonies and sacrifices.

15 Thus by pices of time this wicked custome prevailed, & was kept as a law, and idols were worshipped by the commandement of tyrants.

16 As for those that were so farre of that men might not worship them presently, they did counterfet the visage that was farre of, and made a gorgeous image of a King, whom they would honour, that they might by all meanes flatter him that was absent, as though he had bene present.

17 Againe the ambition of the craftiman thrust forward the ignorant to increase the superstition.

18 For he peradventure willing to please a noble man, laboured with all his cunning to make the image of the best fashion.

19 And so thosote the beautie of the woeker the multitude was allured, and soooke him now for a god, which a litle afore was but honoured as a man.

27 For epyther they be mad when they be merie, or prophetic lyes, or lye vngodly, or else lightly forswear themselves.

28 For in so much as their trust is in the idoles, which haue no life, though they sweare false, yet they thinke to haue no hurt.

29 Therefore for two causes shall they iustly be punished, because they haue an euill opinion of God, adding themselves vnto idols, & because they sweare vniuilly to deceiue, and desyre holincesse.

30 For it is not the power of them by whom they sweare, but the vengeance of them þ sinne, which punisheth alwayes the offence of the vngodly.

5 Whose sight stirreth vp the desire of the ignorant: so that he coueteth the foyme that hath no life, of a dead unage.

6 They that loue such wicked things, are worthy to haue such things: to trust to, and they that make them, and they that desire them, & they that worship them.

7 The * potter also tempereth soft earth, & fashioneth euery vessel with labour to our vse: but of the same clay he maketh both the vessels, that serue to cleane vses, & the contrarie likewise: but wherto enerie vessel serueth, the potter is the iudge.

8 So by his wicked labour he maketh a vaine god of the same clay: euen he, whiche a little afore was made of earth himselfe, and within a little while after goeth thither againe whence he was taken, * when he shall make account for the loue of his life.

9 Nor withstanding he careth not for the labour he taketh, nor þ his life is short, but he striueth with the goldsmiths, and siluersmiths, & counterfeiteth the copers perlinthes, and taketh it for an honour to make deceivable things.

11 For he knoweth not his owne maker, that gaue him his soule, that had power and breathed in him the breath of life.

12 But they count our life to be but a pastime, and our conuerlation as a market, where there is gaine: for they say we ought to be getting on euery side, though it be by euill meanes.

13 How he that of earth maketh fraile vessels and images, knoweth him selfe to offend aboue all other.

14 All the enuies of thy people, þ holde them in subiection, are most vniuse, and more miserable then the very fooles.

15 For they iudge all the idols of the nations to be gods, which neither haue eyesight to see, nor noses to smell, nor eares to heare, nor fingers of handes to grope, and their feete are slow to go.

16 For man made them, and he that hath but a borrowed spirit, fashioned them: but no man can make a god like vnto himselfe.

17 For seeing he is but mortall himselfe, it is but mortall that he maketh with vni righteous handes: he himselfe is better then they whoime he worshippeth: for he liued, but they neuer liued.

18 Yea, they worshipped beasts also, which are their most enuies, & which are the worst, if they be compared vnto others, because they haue none vnderstanding.

19 Neither haue they any beautie to be desired in respect of other beastes: for they are destitute of Gods praise, and of his blessing.

had suffered perurie for a space, should also seele a newe ralle.

4 For it was requisite, that they which used pyramie, should fall into extreme ponerie, and that to these only it should be shewed, how their enemies were tormentted.

5 For when the cruell fiercenes of the beaſts came vpo them, & they were hurt with the stings of cruel serpents,

6 The wrath indured not perpetually, but they were troubled for a litle season, that they might be reformed, hauing a signe of saluation, to remember & commandement of thy lawe.

7 For he that turned toward it, was not healed by the thing that he sawe, but by thee, O Saviour of all.

8 So in this thou shewest our enemies, that it is thou, which deliuerest from all euill.

9 For the byting of grasshoppers and flies killed them, and there was no remedie found for their life: for they were worthy to be punished by such.

10 But the teath of the venomous dragons could not ouercome thy children: for thy mercie came to helpe them, and healed them.

11 For they were pycked, because they should remember thy wordes, and were speedily healed, least they should fall into so deepe forgetfulness, that they coude not be called back by thy benefite.

12 For neither herbe nor plaster healed them, but thy worde, O Lorde, whiche healeth all things.

13 For thou hast the power of life & death, and leadest down vnto the gates of hel, and bringest vp againe.

14 A man in dede by his wickednesse may slape another: but when the spire is gone forth, it turneth not againe, neither can he call againe the soule that is taken away.

15 But it is not possible to escape thine hand.

16 For the vngodly that would not know thee, were punished by the strength of thine arme, with strange raine and with haile, and were punished with tempest, that they coude not auoide, and were consumed with fire.

17 For it was a wonderous thing that fire might doe more then water, whiche quenchech all things: but the worde is the auenger of the righteous.

18 For sometime was the fire so raine, that the beaſts, whiche were sent against the vngodly, burnt nor: and that, because they should see and know, that they were persecuted with the punishment of God.

19 And sometime burnt the fire in the middes of the water about the power of fire that it might desroy the generation of the vniuil land.

CHAP. XVII.

The iudgements of God against the wicked.

1 For thy iudgements are great, & can not be expulled: therefore men do erre, that will not be reformed.

2 For when the vnrighorous thought to haue thine holy people in subiection, they were bounde with the bandes of darkenesse, and long night, and being shut by vnder the rooffe, did lie there to escape the euerlasting prouidence.

3 And while they thought to bee hid in their darke sinnes, they were scattered as broade in the darke conering of forgetfulness, fearing horribly and troubled with visions.

4 For the demie that hid them, kept them not from feare: but the soundes that were about them, troubled them, and terrible visions & sorrowfull lightes did appeare.

5 No power of the fire might giue light, neither might the cleare flames of the flaxs lighten the horrible night.

6 For there appeared vnto them onely a sudden fire, verie dreadfull: so that being afraide of this vision, which they could not see, they thought the thinges, which they sawe, to be woise.

7 And the illusions of the magickall writes were brought downe, and it was a most shamefull reioyce for the boasting of their knowledge.

8 For they that promised to drine away feare and trouble from the sicke person, were sicke for feare, and worthe to be laughed at.

9 And though no fearefull thing did feare them, yet were they afeaide at the beastes which passed by them, and at the hissing of the serpents: so that they dyed for feare, and saide, they sawe the aire, which by no meanes can be asuapded.

10 For it is a fearefull thing, when mallice is condemned by her owne testimonie: & a conscience that is touched, doth euer forcell cruell things.

11 For feare is nothing else, but a betraying of the succours, which reason offereth.

12 And the lesse that the hope is within, the more doth he esteeme the ignorance of the thing that tormenteth him, great.

13 But they that did endure it might that was intolerable, and that came out of a dungeon of hel, which is insupportable, slept the same sleepe.

14 And sometimes were troubled with monstrous visions, and sometime they swooned, as though their owne soule should betray them: for a sudden feare not looked for, came vpon them.

15 And thus, whosoever fell downe, hee was kept and shut in prison, but without chames.

16 For whether he was an husbandman, or a shepheard, or one that was let to worke alone, if he were taken, hee must suffer this necessitie, that he coulde not auopde:

17 (For with one chaine of darknes were they all bound) whether it were an hissing winde, or a sweete song of birds among the thicke branches of the trees, or the vehemencie of hasty running water,

18 Or a great noise of the falling downe of stones, or the running of skipping beastes, that could not be seene, or the noise of cruell beastes, that roared, or the found that answereth againe in the howle mountaines: these fearefull things made them to swoone.

19 For all the worlde shined with cleare light, and no man was hindered in his labour.

20 Onely vpon them there fell an heauie night, an unage of that darknesse that was to come vpo them: yea, they were vnto them selues more grieuous then darknesse.

CHAP. XVIII.

2 The fyrie pillar that the Israelites had in Egypt, 8 The deliuerance of the faithfull, 10 The Lorde smote the Egyptians, 20 The sinne of the people in the wilderness, 21 Aaron stood betwene the liuing and the dead with his censer.

1 But the Saintes had a very great light, whose dooce because they heard, & sawe not the figure of them, they thought them blessed, because they also had not suffered the like.

2 And because they did not hurt them, which did hurt them afore, they thanked them, and asked pardon for their enmitie.

3 Therefore thou gauest them a burning pillar of fire to leade them in the unknown way, and madest the sunne that it hurted not them in their honourable iourney.

4 But they were worthe to be deppriued of the light, and to be kept in darknesse, which had kept thy children shut vs, by whome the incorrupt light of the lawe should be given to the worlde.

5 Where as they thought to slay the babes of the Saintes, by one child that was cast out, and yelued to reioyce them, thou hast taken away the multitude of their children and destroped them all together in the mightie water.

6 Of that night were our fathers certified afore, that the knowing vnto what othes they had given credite, might be of good chere.

7 Thus thy people receiued the heath of the righteous, but the enimies were destroped.

8 For as thou hast punished the enimies, so hast thou glorified vs whome thou hast called.

9 For the righteous children of the good men offered secretly, and made a lawe of righteounesse by one consent, that the Saintes shoulde receiue good and euil in like maner, and that the fathers shoulde first sing praises.

10 But a disagreeing price was heard of the enimies, and there was a lamentable noise for the children that were bewailed.

11 For the maister and the seruant were punished with like punishment, and the common people suffered alike with the king.

12 So they altogether had innumerable that died with one kinde of death: neyther were the liuing sufficient to burie them: for in the twinkling of an eye a noblest offspring of them was destroped.

13 So they that could beleue nothing, because of the enchantments, confessed this people to be the children of God, in the destruction of the first borne.

14 For while all things were in quiet silence, and the night was in the middes of her swift course,

15 Thine almightie worde leapt downe from heauen out of thy royall throne, as a fierce man of warre in the middes of a land that was destroped,

16 And brought thine vnfeigned commandment as a sharpe sworde, & stode by, and filled all things with death, and being come downe to the earth, it reached vnto the heauens.

- 19 For the visions that bered them, shewed them these things afoze: so that they were not ignorant, wherese they ye-rished.
- 20 Now tentation of death touched the righteous also, and * among the multitude in þe wyrdnes there was a plague, but the wyrdnes indured not long.
- 21 For the blamelesse man made halt, and defended them, and took the weapons of his ministracion, cnen prayer, and the reconciliation by the perfume, & let himselfe against the wyrdnes, and so brought the miserie to an end, declaring that he him that punished him, alleading the othes mentis serue to the will of God.

- 1 AS for the yngodlie, the wyrdnes came vpon them without mercie vnto the end: for he knew wh at should come vnto them,
- 2 That they (when they had consented to let them go, and had sent them out with diligence would repent, & pursue them.
- 3 For while pet sorrow was befoze them, and they lamented by the graues of the dead, they deuised another foolishnes, so that they persecuted them in their fleeing, whom they had cast out afoze with prayer.
- 4 For the destinie, wherof they were worthy, brought them to this end, and caused them to forget the things that had come to passe, that they might accomplish the punishment, which remained by tormentes,
- 5 Both that thys people might trie a martious passage, & that these might finde a strange death.
- 6 For curie creature in his kind was fas-tioned of newe, & serued in their owne offices inopned them, that thys childen might be kept without hurt.

7 For the cloud ouershadowed their tents, and the drie earth appeared, where as foze was water: so that in the red sea there was a way without impediment, and the great deepe became a greene felde.

8 Through the which all the people went that were defended with thine hand, seeing thys wonderous miracule.

9 For they * neyed like hoxses, and leaped like lambs, passing thar, & Lord, which haddest deliuered them.

10 For they were pet mindfull of those things which were done in the lande where they dwelt, how the grounds brought forth spres in steepe of cartell, & how the ruer scrauled with the multitude of frogges in steepe of fishes.

11 * But at the last they sawe a newe generation of birdes, when they were mised with lust, and desired delicate meates.

12 * For the quayles came forth of the sea vnto them for comfort, but punishments came vpo the * sinners not without signes þe were giuen by great thundinges: for they suffred worthily according to their wickednesse, because they shewed a cruell hatred towarde strangers.

13 For the one sorte would not receiue them when they were present, because they knewe them not: the other sorte brought the strangers into bondage, that had done them good.

14 Beside all these things some would not suffer, that any regarde should be had of them: for they handled the strangers despitfull.

15 Others that had receiued them with great banketting, and aduited them to be partakers of the same lawes, did afflict them with great labours.

16 Therfoze they were stricke with blind-nesse, as in old time certene were at the doores of the * righteous, so that curie one being compassed with darkenesse, sought the entrance of his doore.

17 Thus the elementes agreed among them selues in this change, as when one time is changed vpon an instrument of musicke, and the melodie still remaineth, which may easily be perceived by the sight of the things þe are come to passe.

18 For the things of the earth were changed into things of the water, and the thing that did swimme, went vpon the ground.

19 The fire had power in the water contrarie vnto his owne vertue, & the was-ter forgate his owne kinde to quenche.

20 Again, the flame did not hurt the flesh of the corruptible beastes that walked therin, neither melted they that which seemed to be a pec, & was of a nature þe would melt, & pet was an immortal meate.

21 For in all things, & boide, thou hast magnified and glorified thys people, and hast not despised to assist them in euery

THE WISDOME OF IESVS THE sonne of Sirach, called Ecclesiasticus.

This Argument was found in a certaine Greeke copie,

THis Iesus was the sonne of Sirach, and Sirachs father was also called Iesus, and he liued in the latter times, after the people had bene led away captiue, and brought home againe, and almost after all the Prophetes. Nowe his grandfather, as he him selfe witnesseth, was a man of great diligence, and wisdom among the Hebrewes, who did not only gather the graue sentences of wise men, that had bene before him, but he him selfe also spake many full of great knowledge and wisdom. So this first Iesus dyed, and left this which he had gathered, and Sirach afterward left it to Iesus his sonne, who tooke it and put it in order in a booke, and called it WISDOME, intituling it both by his owne name, his fathers name, and his grandfathers: thinking by this title of Wisdom to allure the reader to reade this booke with more great desire, and to consider it more diligently. Therefore this booke conteineth wise sayings, and darke sentences; and similitudes with certaine diuine histories which are notable and ancient, euen of men that were approued of God, and certaine prayers, and songs of the authour him selfe: moreover, what benites the Lorde had bestowed vpon his people, and what plagues he had heaped vpon their enemies. This Iesus did imitate Salomon, and was no lesse famous in wisdom and doctrine, who was therefore called a man of great knowledge, as he was in deede.

The prologue of the wisdom of Iesus the sonne of Sirach.

WHere as many, and great things haue bene giuen vs by the Law, and the Prophetes, & by others that haue followed them. (for the which things Israel ought to be commended by the reason of doctrine and wisdom, whereby the readers ought not onely to become leaured themselves, but also may be able by the diligent studie there of to be profitable vnto strangers both by speaking and writing) after that my grandfather Iesus had giuen himselfe to the reading of the Lawe, and the Prophetes, and other bookes of our fathers, and had gotten therein sufficient iudgement, hee purposed also to write some thing pertaining to learning and wisdom, to þ intent þ they which were desirous to learne, & would giue themselves to these things, might profit much more in liuing according to þ law. Wherefore, I exhort you to receive it louingly, & to reade it with diligence, and to take it in good worth, though we seeme to some in some things not able to attend to þ interpretation of such words as are hard to be exprest: for the things that are spoken in the Hebrew tongue, haue another force in them selues then when they are translated into another tongue, and not onely these things, but other things also, as the Law it selfe, & the Prophetes, and other booke haue no final difference when they are spoken in their own language. Therefore in the eight and thirtieþeere, when I came into Egypt vnder King Energetes, & continued there, I found a copie full of great learning, & I thought it necessarie, to bestowe my diligence, and traualle to interpret this booke. So for a certene time with great watching and studie I gaue my selfe to the finishing of this booke, that it might be published, that they which remaine in banishment, & are desirous to learne, might applie themselves vnto godmaness, and liue according to the lawe.

works, and vpon all felthe, according to his gift, and giueth her abundantly vnto them that loue him.

11 The feare of the Lorde is glorie, and gladnesse, and reioycing and a ioyfull crowne.

12 The feare of the Lorde maketh a meey heart, and giueth gladnesse, and ioy and long life.

13 Who so feareth the Lorde, it shal go well with him at the last, and he shall find fauour in the day of his death.

14 [The loue of God is honourable wise dome, and vnto whom it appeareth in a vision, they loue it for the vision, and for the knowledge of the great works thereof.]

Ps. III. 10. 15 The feare of the Lorde is the beginning of wisdom, and was made with the faithfull in the wombe: [she goeth with the chosen women, and is known with the righteous and faithfull.

16 The feare of the Lorde is an holp know ledge.

17 Holinesse shall preserue, and iustifie the heart, and giueth mirth and gladnesse.

18 Who so feareth the Lorde, shall prosper, and in the day of his ende, hee shall bee blessed.]

19 She hath built her euerlasting foundations with men, and is giuen to be with their seede.

20 To feare God is the fulnesse of wisdom, and filleth men with her fruites.

21 She filleth their whole house with [all] things desirable, and the garners with the things, that she bringeth forth, and both twaine are giftes of God.

22 The feare of the Lorde is the crown of wisdom, and giueth peace and perfect health: he hath seene her and numbrized her.

23 She rayneth downe knowledge, and vnderstanding of wisdom, and hath brought vnto honor, them that possessed her.

24 The feare of the Lorde is the roote of wisdom, & her branches are long life.

25 [In the treasures of wisdom is vnderstanding, & holp knowledge, but wisdom is abhorred of sinners.]

26 The feare of the Lorde diuerceth out sinne: and when thee is present, thee diuerceth away anger.

27 For wicked anger cannot be iustified: for his rashnes in his anger shall be his destruction.

28 A patient man will suffer for a time, & then shall he haue the rewarde of ioy.

29 He will hide his wordes for a time, and many enemies lippes shall speake of his wisdom.

30 In the treasures of wisdom are the secretes of knowledge, but the sinner abhorreth the worship of God.

31 If thou desire wisdom, keepe the commandements, and the Lorde shall giue her vnto thee, [& will fill her treasures.]

32 For the feare of the Lorde is wisdom and meeknes.

33 Be not dishonored to the feare of the Lorde, and come not vnto him with a double heart.

34 Hee not an hypocrite that men should speake of thee, but take heede what thou speakest.

35 Exalt not thy selfe, least thou fall and bring thy soule to dishonour, and so God discouer thy secretes, and cast thee down in the middes of the congregation, because thou wouldest not receiue the true feare of God, and thine heart is full of deceite.

CHAP. II.

I He exhorteth the seruants of God to righteousness, loue, vnderstanding, & patience. II To trust in the Lorde. 13 A curse vpon them that are faint hearted and impatient.

1 M^y some, if thou wilt come into the seruice of God, [stand fast in righteousness and feare, &] prepare thy soule to tentation.

2 Settle thine heart, and be patient: [bow downe thine care, and receiue the wordes of vnderstanding,] and thinke not away when thou art assailed, [but waite vpon God patiently.]

3 Ioyne thy selfe vnto him, and departe not away, that thou mayst be increased at thy last ende.

4 What soeuer cometh vnto thee, receiue it patiently, and be patient in the change of thine affliction.

5 For as gold [and siluer are] tryed in the fire, euen so are men acceptable in patience of aduertitie.

6 Beloue in God, and he will helpe thee: order thy way aright, and trust in him: [holde fast his feare, and growe olde therein.]

7 He that feare the Lorde, waite for his mercie: thinke not away from him, that ye fall not.

8 He that feare the Lorde, beloue him, and your rewarde shall not faile.

9 O ye that feare the Lorde, trust in good things, and in the euerlasting ioy and mercie.

10 [He that feare the Lorde, loue him, and your hearts shall be lightened.]

11 Consider the olde generations [of men, or children,] and marke them well: was there euer any confounded, that put his trust in the Lorde? or who hath continued in his feare, & was forsaken? or whome did he euer despise, that called vpon him?

12 For God is gracious and mercifull, and forgueth sinnes, and saureth in the time of trouble, [and is a defender for all them that seeke him in the truth.]

13 Woe vnto them, that haue a fearfull heart, [and to the wicked lippes] and to the faint hands, and to the sinner that goeth two maner of wayes.

14 Woe vnto him that is faint hearted, for he belaueth not: therefore shall he not be

15 For if good entreatie of thy father shall not be forgotten, but it shall be a fortress for thee against sinne, [and for thy mothers offence thou shalt be recompensed with good, and it shall be founded for thee in righteousnes.]

1 M^any some, defraude not the poore of his lining, and make not the needy eyes to waite long.

2 Make not an hungrie soule sorrowfull, neither bere a man in his necessitie.

3 Trouble not the heart that is grieved, & deferre not the gift of the needie.

4 Refuse not the prayer of one that is in trouble: turne not away thy face from the poore.

5 Turne not thine eyes aside [in anger] from the poore, and gine him none occasion to speake euill of thee.

6 For if he curse thee in the bitterness of his soul, his prayer shall be heard of him that made him.

7 Be courteous vnto the compante [of poore, and humble thy soul vnto the Elder,] and bowe downe thine head to a man of worship.

8 Let it not grieue thee to bowe downe thine eare vnto the poore, [but pay thy dette,] and gine him a friendly answere.

9 Deliuere him from suffere wrong, from the hand of the oppressor, and be not faint hearted when thou iudgest.

10 Be as a father vnto the fatherles, and as an husband vnto their mother: so shalt thou be as the sonne of the most high: and he shall loue thee more then thy mother doth.

11 Wisdom eualteth her children, and receiveth them that seeke her, [and will goe before them in the way of righteousnesse.]

12 He that loueth her, loueth life, & they that seeke life in the morning, shall haue great ioy.

13 He that keepeth her, shall inherite glorie: for vnto whom she entereth, hum the Lord will blesse.

14 They that honour her, shall be the seruants of the Holie one, and them that loue her, the Lord doth loue.

15 Who so giueth eare vnto her, shall iudge the nations, and he that goeth vnto her, shall dwell safely.

16 He that is faithfull vnto her, shall haue her in possession, and his generation shall possesse her.

17 For first she will walke with him by crooked wayes, & bring him vnto feare, and dread, and torment him with her discipline vntill she haue tried his soule, & haue proued him by her iudgements.

18 Then will she returne the strenght vnto him, and comfort him, and shewe him her secretes, [and heape vpon him the treasures of knowledge, and vnderstanding of righteousnesse.]

19 But if he goe wrong, she will forsake him, and gine him ouer into the handes of his destruction.

20 [¶] Many some, make much of time, & eschue the thing that is euill,

21 And be not ashamed to say the trueth for thy life: for there is a shame that bringeth sinne, and ashamed that bringeth worship and fauour.

22 Accept no perion against thine owne conscience, that thou be not confounded to thine owne decay, [and forbear not thy neighbour in his fault.]

23 And keepe not backe counsell when it may do good, neither hide thy wisdom when it may be famous.

24 For by the talke is wisdom knowen, and learning by the words of the tong, [and counsell, wisdom and learning by the talking of the wise, and stedfastnes in the workes of righteousness.]

25 In no wise speake against the worde of truth, but be ashamed of the lyes of thine owne ignorance.

26 Be not ashamed to confesse thy finnes, and resist not the course of the riuier.

27 Submit not thy selfe vnto a foolish man, neither accept the perion of the mightie.

28 Striue for the trueth vnto death, [and defend iustice for thy life,] and the Lorde God shall fight for thee [against thine enemies.]

29 Be not hastie in thy tongue, neither slacke and negligent in thy workes.

Act. 20, 37

Or, to defend him.

denly shall the wrath of the Lord breake forth, & in thy securitie thou shalt be destroyed, and thou shalt perish in time of vengeance.

- 8 Trust not in wicked riches: for they shall not helpe thee in the day of punishment [and vengeance.]
- 9 Be not caried about with euery wind, and go not into euery way: for so doth the sinner that hath a double tongue.
- 10 Stand fast in thy sure vnderstanding [and in the waye and knowledge of the Lord] and haue but one maner of worde, [and followe the worde of peace and righteousnes.]
- 11 Be humble to heare the word of God, that thou maist vnderstand it, and make a true answer with wisdom.
- 12 Be swift to heare good things, and let thy life bee pure, and giue a patient answer.
- 13 If thou hast vnderstanding, answer thy neighbour: if not, lay thy hand vpon thy mouth, [lest thou be trapped in an vndiscreete worde, and so be blamed.]
- 14 Honour and shame is in the talke, and the tongue of a man causeth him to fall.
- 15 Be not counted a talebearer, and he not in waite with thy tongue: for shame [and repentance] followe the thesee, and an euil condemnation is ouer him that is double tongued: [but he that is a backbiter, shall be hated, enuied and confounded.]
- 16 Do not rashly, neither in small things nor in great.

CHAP. VI.

It is the propertie of a sinner to be euill tongue-d. 6 Of friendship. 33 Desire to be taught.

4 For that is against the rule of charitie, whiche ought to loue all, and hate nothing but onely sinne. 6 For as a bull teareth in peeces a yong tree with his hornes: so thou trusting in thine owne conceit, because of thy wit, thy power, or riches, shouldst destroy thy selfe.

- 1 Be not of a friend [thy neighbours] a Benemie: for such shall haue an euill name, shame and reproche, & he shall be in infamie as the wicked that hath a double tongue.
- 2 Be not proude in the deuce of thine owne minde, least thy soule rent thee as a bull.
- 3 And eate by thy leaues, and destroy thy fruite, and thou shalt be left as a drie tree [in the wilderness.]
- 4 For a wicked soule destroyeth him that hath it, and maketh him to be laughed to scoone of his enemies, [and bringeth him to the position of the vngodlie.]
- 5 A sweete talke multiplieth the friends [and pacifieth them that be at variance,] & a sweete tongue increaseth much good talke.
- 6 Holde friendship with many, neuertheless haue but one counseler of a thousand.
- 7 If thou gettest a friend, proue him first, & be not halie to credite him.
- 8 For some man is a friend for his owne occasion, and will not abide in the day of thy trouble.
- 9 And there is some friend that turneth to enimitie, & taketh parte against thee, and in contention he will declare thy shame.

- 10 Again some friend is but a companion on at the table, and in the day of thine affliction he continueth not.
- 11 But in thy prosperitie he wilbe as thou thy selfe, and wil be libertie ouer thy seruants.
- 12 If thou be brought lowe, he will be against thee, and will hide him selfe from thy face.
- 13 Depart from thine enimitie, & beware of thy friends.
- 14 A faithful friend is a strong defence, and he that findeth such one, findeth a treasure.
- 15 A faithful friend ought not to be changed for any thing, and the weight [of gold and siluer] is not to be compared to the goodnesse [of his faith.]
- 16 A faithful friend is the medicine of life [and immortallitie,] & they that feare the Lord, shall finde him.
- 17 Who so feareth the Lord, shall direct his friendship aright, and as his owne selfe, so shall his friend be.
- 18 If thy sonne, receiue doctrine from thy youth by: so shalt thou finde wisdom [which shall indure] all thine olde age.
- 19 Go to her as one that ploweth, and soweth, and waite for her good fruites: for thou shalt haue but litle labour in her worke: but thou shalt eate of her fruites right soone.
- 20 How exceeding sharpe is she to the vnclearned? he that is without iudgement, will not remaine with her.
- 21 Who such one she is as a fine touchestone, and he casteth her from him without delay.
- 22 For they haue the name of wisdom, but there be but few that haue & know ledge of her.
- 23 [For with them that know her, she as hideth vnto the appearing of God.]
- 24 Give care my sonne: receiue my doctrine, and refuse not my counsel.
- 25 And put thy feete into her linkes, and thy necke into her chaine.
- 26 How downe thy shoulder vnto her, & beare her, & be not weary of her bandes.
- 27 Come vnto her with thy whole heart, & keepe her wayes with all thy power.
- 28 Seek after her, and search her, and she shall be shewed thee: and when thou hast gotten her, forsake her not.
- 29 For at the last thou shalt finde rest in her, & that shall be turned to thy ioy.
- 30 Then shall her fetters be a strong defence for thee, [and a sure foundation] and her chaines a glorious raiment.
- 31 For there is a golden gounement in her, and her bandes are the laces of purple colour.
- 32 Thou shalt put her on as a robe of honour, and shalt put her vpon thee, as a crowne of ioy.
- 33 And some, if thou wilt, thou shalt be taught, and if thou wilt apply thy mind, thou shalt be wittie.
- 34 If thou loue to heare, thou shalt receiue doctrine, [& if thou delight in hearing, thou

Thou shalt be wise.

- 35 Stande with the multitude of the elders, which are wise, & tope with him that is wile.
- 36 *Desire to heare al godly talke, and let not tye graue sentences of knowledge escape thee.
- 37 And if thou seest a man of vnderstanding, get thee some vnto him, and let thy foote weare the shoppes of his doores.
- 38 Let thy minde be vpon the ordinances of the Lorde, and be * continually occupied in his commandementes: so shall he stably thine hearte, and giue thee wileboime at thine owne desire.

CHAP. VII.

a We must forsake euill, and yet not iustifie our felicitie. 2. The behaviour of the wise towards his wife, his friends, his children, his seruants, his father and mother.

1 DO no euill: so shall no haue come vnto thee.

2 Depart from the thing that is wicked, & sinne shall turne away from thee.

3 If thy sonne, loue not vpon the fordoes of vnrightheadness, least that thou reape them leuen folde.

4 Aske not of the Lorde preeminence, neither of the King the seate of honour.

5 *Iustitie not thy selfe before the Lorde: [for he knoweth thine heart,] and boast not thy wileboime in the presence of the King.

6 Seeke not to be made a Iudge, least thou be not able to take away iniquitie, and least thou, fearing þ perion of the mightie, shouldest commit an offence against thine vnrightheadness.

7 Offende not against the multitude of a cite, and cast not thy selfe among the people.

8 *Winde not two sinnes together: for in one sinne shalt thou not be unpunished.

9 Say not: God wil looke vpon the multitude of mine oblations, and when I offer to þ most high God, he wil accept it.

10 Be not faint hearted, when thou makest thy prayer, neither slacke in giuing of almes.

11 Laugh no man to scoope in the heaviness of his soule: for [God which seeth all things] is he that can bring down, and set vp againe.

12 Sow not a lie against thy brother, neither doe the same against thy friend.

13 Use not to make any manner of lie: for the custome thereof is not good.

14 Make not many wordes when thou arte among the Elders, neither repeate a thing in thy prayer.

15 Hate not laborious *worke, neither the husbandrie, which the most High hath created.

16 Number not thy selfe in the multitude of the wicked, but remember that vengeance will not slacke.

17 Humble thy minde greatly: for the vengeance of the wicked is fire and women.

18 Sue not ouer thy friend for any good, nor thy true brother for the golde of Q spir.

19 Depart not from a wife and good woman, [that is fallen vnto thee for thy portion in the feare of the Lorde:] for her grace is aboue golde.

20 *Whercoas thy seruant worketh truly, increat him not euill, nor the hireling þ besetwed himselfe wholly for thee.

21 Let thy soule loue a good seruant, and defraude him not of libertie, [neither leaue him a poore man.]

22 *If thou haue cattell, looke well to them, and if they be for thy profite, keepe them with thee.

23 *If thou haue sonnes, instructe them, and holde their necke from their youth.

24 If thou haue daughters, keepe their bodie, and thawe not thy face cheerefull towards them.

25 Marrie thy daughter, & so shalt thou performe a weightie matter: but giue her to a man of vnderstanding.

26 If thou haue a wife after thy minde, forsake her not, but commit not thy selfe to the hatefull.

27 *Honour thy father from thy whole heart, and forget not the forowes of thy mother.

28 Remember that thou walke boyme of them, and how canst thou recompence them the thunges that they haue done for thee?

29 I feare the Lord with all thy soule, and honour his ministers.

30 Lone him that made thee, with all thy strength, *and forsake not his seruants.

31 Feare the Lorde with all thy soule, & honour þ priests, *and giue them their portion, as it is commanded thee, the first frutes, [and purifications] and sacrifices for sinne, and the offerings of the shoulders, and the sacrifices of sanctification, and the first frutes of the ioint thunges.

32 Stretch thine hande vnto the poore that thy *blessing, [and reconciliation] may be accomplished.

33 Liberaltie pleasest all men liuing, and *from the deade restreyn it not.

34 *Let not them that wepe, be without [comforte:] but mourne with such as mourne.

35 *Be not slowe to visite the sicke: for that shall make thee to be beloved.

36 What soeuer thou takest in hande, remember the ende, and thou shalt neuer doe amisse.

CHAP. VIII.

We must take heed with whome we haue to doe.

1 STRIVE not with a mightie man, leaste thou fall in to his handes.

2 *Make not variance with a rich man, least he on þ other side weigh down thy weight: *for golde [and silver] hath destroyed many, & hath subuerted þ hartes

1 A Wife indge will instruct his people with discretion: the gouernance of a prudent man is well ordered.

1. Kin. 12. 1
23. 14. 3 An vnwise king destroyeth his people, but where they that be in authoritie, are men of vnderstanding, there the cite prospereth.
4 The gouernement of the earth is in the hand of the Loide, [and all iniquitie of the nations is to be abhoyred,] and when ruines is, he will set vp a profitable ruler ouer it.
5 In the hand of God is the prosperitie of man, and vpon the scribes will he lay his honour.
Eccle. 10. 17 6 Be not angrie for any wrong, with thy neighbour, and do nothing by vnriuous practises.

Dan. 4. 14. 8 Because of vnrightheous dealing and wronges and riches gotten by deceit, the kingdome is translated from one people to another.
9 There is nothing worse then a courtous man: [why art thou proud, O earth and ashes: there is not a more wicked thing, then to loue money:] for such one would euen sell his soule, and for his life euery one is compelled to pull out his owne bowels.
10 [All tyrannie is of sinall indurance, and the discafe that is hard to heale, is grieuous to the Physitian.]
11 The Physitian cureth off the soye discafe, & he that is to day a king, to morrow is dead.
12 Why is earth and ashes proud, seeing that when a man dieth, he is the hewe of serpents, beastes and wormes?
13 The beginning of mans pryde, is to fall away from God, and to turne away his heart from his maker.
14 For pryde is the originall of sinne, and he that hath it, shall pouye out abominacion, till at last he be ouerthrowne: therefore the Loide bringeth the persuasions [of the wicked] to dishonour, & destroyeth them in the end.

1. Sam. 2. 7. 8 15 The Loide hath cast downe the thrones of the [proude] princes, and set vp the meke in their steede.
16 The Loide plucketh by the rootes of the [proude] nations, and planteth the lowlye with glorie among them.
17 The Loide ouerthroweth the landes of the heathen, & destroyeth them vnto the founda ison of the earth: he causeth them to wither away, and destroyeth them, & maketh their memoriall to cease out of the earth.
18 [God destroyeth the memoriall of the proude, and leauech the remembrance of the humble.]
19 Pryde was not created in men, neither was it in the generation of women,

20 There is a seede of man, which is a honourable seede: the honourable seede are they that feare the Loide: there is a seede of man, which is without honour: the seede without honour, are they þat transgress the commaundementes of the Loide: it is a seede that remaineth which feareth the Loide, and a faire plant, that loue him: but they are a seede without honour, that despise the Lawe, and a vncertaine seede that breake the commaundementes.
21 He that is the chiefe among brethren, is honourable: so are they þat feare the Loide in his sight.
22 The feare of the Loide causeth that the kingdome faileth not, but the kingdome is lost by crueltie and pryde.
23 The feare of the Loide is the glorie aswell of the riche and the noble, as of the poore.
24 It is not meete to despise the poore man that hath vnderstanding, neither is it conuenient to magnifie the riche that is a wicked man.
25 The great man and the indge and the man of authoritie, are honourable, yet is there none of them greater, then he that feareth the Loide.
26 * Vnto the seruant that is wise, shall they þat are free doe seruice: * he that hath knowledge, will not grudge when he is reformed, [& the ignorant shall not come to honour.]
27 Seeke not excuses when thou shouldest do thy worke, neither be ashamed thereof through pryde in the time of aduersitie.
28 * Better is he that laboureth & hath plenty of bread, then he that is gorgeous, and wanteth bread.
29 Why somer, get thy selfe pleased by meekenesse, and esteeme thy selfe as thou deservest.
30 Who will count him iust þat sinneth against himselfe: or honour him, that dishonoureth his owne soule?
31 The poore is honoured for his knowledge [and his feare,] but the riche is had in reputation because of his goodes.
32 He that is honourable in pouertie, hold much more shall he be when he is riche: and he that is vnhonoured being riche, how much more will he be so when he is in pouertie?

ment, * and eralt not thy selfe in the day of honour: for the workes of the Lord are wonderfull, [and glorious,] secrete [and unknowne] are his workes among men.

5 Many tyrants haue sit downe vpon the earth, * and the vnlukely hath woyne the crowne.

6 Many mightie men haue bene brought to dishonour, and the honourable haue bene deliuered into other mens handes.

7 ¶ * Blaine (no man) before thou haue inquired the matter: vnderstand first, and then reforme [righteously.]

8 ¶ * Gue no sentence, before þ þ hast heard the cause, neither interrupt men in the middes of their tales.

9 Striue not for a matter that thou hast not to do with, & sit not in the iudgement of sinners.

10 ¶ Thy some, meddle not w many matters: for if thou game much, thou shalt not be blamelesse, & if thou followe after it, yet shalt þ not attene it, neither shalt thou escape, though thou fle from it.

11 ¶ There is some man that laboureth and taketh paine, and the moze he hasteth, the moze he wanteth.

12 Againe there is some that is slothfull, and hath neede of helpe: for he wanteth strength, and hath great pouertie, yet the eye of the Lord looketh vpon him to good, and setteth him vpon his lowe estate.

13 And he lifteth by his head: so that many men marueile at him, [and gude honour vnto God.]

14 ¶ Prosperitie and aduersitie, life, & death, pouertie and riches come of the Loide.

15 ¶ * Wisdome and knowledg, & vnderstanding of the law are of the Loide: loue and good workes come of him.

16 Erroure & darkenesse are appointed for sinners, and they that eralt themselves in euill, waye elde in euill.

17 The gift of the Loide remaineth for the godlie, and his good will giueth prosperitey for euer.

18 ¶ * Some man is riche by his care and mgardship, and this is the portion of his wages,

19 ¶ In that he saith, * I haue gotten rest, & now wil I eate continually of my goods, yet he considereth not, þ the tunc draweth nere, þ he must leaue all these things vnto other men, and dye himselfe.

20 Stand thou in thy hate, and exercise thy selfe thereon, & remane in thy woike vnto thine age.

21 ¶ Maruele not at the workes of sinners, but truit in the Loide, and abide in thy labour: for it is an ealie thing in the sight of the Loide, suddenly to make a poore man riche.

22 The blessing of the Lord is in the wages of the godlie, & he maketh his prosperitie soone to flourish.

23 ¶ I say not, What profite and pleasure shall I haue? and what good things shall I haue hereafter?

24 ¶ Againe say not, I haue enough, & pos-sele many things, and what euill can come to me hereafter?

25 ¶ In thy good state remeber aduersitie, & in aduersitie forget not prosperitie.

26 For it is an ealie thing vnto the Loide in the day of death to rewarde a man according to his wapes.

27 The aduersitie of an houre maketh one to forget pleasure: and in a mans end, his workes are discouered.

28 Iudge none blessed before his death: for a man shall be known by his children.

29 Bring not euery man into thine house: for the deceptfull haue many traines, [and are like stomackes that belche stinckingly.]

30 As a Darcrich is taken vnder a basket, [& the hunde is taken in the snare,] so is the heart of the proude man, which like a spyte watcheth for thy fall.

31 For he speth in waite and turneth goods vnto euill, & in thinges woorthie praise he will finde some faure.

32 Of one little sparke is made a great fire, [and of one deceptfull man is blood increased:] for a sinfull man layeth waite for blood.

33 Beware of a wicked man: for he imagineth wicked thinges to bring thee into a perpetuall shame.

34 Lodge a stranger, and he will destroy thee with vnguietnes, and dyne thee fro thine owne.

CHAP. XII.

Vnto whom we ought to doe good. 10 Enemies ought not to be trusted.

1 When thou wilt do good, knowe to whome thou doest it, so shalt thou be thanked for thy benefites.

2 ¶ Do good vnto the righteous, and thou shalt finde [great] rewarde, though not of him, yet of the most High. Gala. 6. 10. 1. tim. 5. 8.

3 He can not haue good that continueth in euill, and giueth no almes: [for the most High hateth the sinners, and hath mercie vpon them that repent.]

4 Gue vnto such as feare God, & receiue not a sinner.

5 Do wel vnto him that is lowly, but giue not to the vngodlie: hold back thy bread, & giue it not vnto him, least he ouercome thee thereby: else thou shalt receiue twice as much euill for all the good that thou doest vnto him.

6 For the most High hateth the wicked, & will repay vengeance vnto the vngodly, and keepeth them againt the day of horrible vengeance.

7 Gue vnto the good, and receiue not the sinner.

8 A friend can not be known in prosperitie, neither can an enimie be vnknewen in aduersitie.

9 When a man is in wealth, it greueth his enemies, but in heauinesse & trouble a mans verie friend will depart from him.

10 Trust neuer thine enimie: for like as an yron rusteth, so dooth his wickednesse.

- 18 And though he make much crouching and kneeling, yet abuse thy selfe, and beware of him, and thou shalt be to him, as he that wipeth a glasse, & thou shalt knowe that all his rust hath not bene well wiped away.
- 19 Set him not by thee, least he destrope thee, and stand in thy place.
- 20 Flee rather for him at thy right hand, least he take thy rowme, and thou at the last remember my wordes, and be pricked with my sayings.
- 21 Binde not two sinnes together: for there shall not one be unpunished.
- 22 Who will haue pitie of the charmer, that is stung of the serpent? or of all such as come nere the deastes? so is it with him that keepeth companie with a wicked man, & wv appeth himselfe in his sinnes.
- 23 For a season will he hide with thee: but if thou stumbe, he tarieth not.
- 24 An enemy is swete in his lippes: hee can make many good wordes, and speake many good thinges: yea, he can weep wvch his eyes, but in his heart he unagmeth howe to throwe thee into the pit: and if he may find opportunitie, he will not be satisfied with blood.
- 25 If aduersitie come vpo thee, thou shalt finde him there first, and though he pretend to helpe thee, yet shall he undermine thee: he will shake his head, and clasp his handes, and will make many wordes, and disguise his countenance.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The companies of the proud and of the rich are to be eschewed, 15. The loue of God, 17. Like doe companie with their like.

- 1 HE that toucheth pitch, shall be defiled with it: and he that is familiar with the proud, shall be like vnto him.
- 2 But then nor thy selfe about thy power, whilst thou liuest, and companie not with one that is mightier, and richer the thy selfe: for howe agree the kettle and the earthen pot together? for if the one be smitten against the other, it shall be broken.
- 3 The rich dealeth vnrightheously, and threateneth with all: but the poore being oppelless must increate: if the rich haue done wrong, he must per be wvreated: but if the poore haue done it, he shall straight wapes be threatened.
- 4 If thou be for his profite, he bleth thee: but if thou haue nothing, he will forsake thee.
- 5 If thou haue any thing, he will liue with thee: poore will make thee a bare man, and will not care for it.
- 6 If he haue neede of thee, he will defraud thee, and will laughe at thee, and put thee in hope, and gine thee all good wordes, and say, What wantest thou?
- 7 Thus will he shame thee in his meate, until he haue sapt thee cleane vpon dwis

- on thise, and at the last he will laugh thee to scoome: afterwarde, when hee seeth thee, he will forsake thee, and shake his heade at thee.
- 8 [Subiure thy selfe vnto God, & waite vpon his hand.]
- 9 Beware that thou bee not deceiued in thine owne conceits & brought downe by thy simplices: [be not too humble in thy wisdom.]
- 10 ¶ If thou be called of a mightie man, absent thy selfe: so shall he call thee the more oft.
- 11 Pleaseth not thou vnto him, that thou be not shut out, but goe not thou faue off, least he forget thee.
- 12 Withdraw not thy selfe fro his speech, but beleue not his maie wordes: for with much communication will he tempt thee, and laughingly will he grope thee.
- 13 He is vnrmerciful, and keepeth not promise: he will not spare to doe thee hurte, and to put thee in prison.
- 14 Beware, and take good heede: for thou walkest in perill of thine ouerthrowing: when thou hearest this, awake in thy sleape.
- 15 Loue the worde all thy life, and call vpon him for thy saluation.
- 16 ¶ Cuerie beast loueth his like, and euerie man loueth his neighbour.
- 17 All fleshe will reioyce to their like, and euerie man will keepe companie with such as he is himselfe.
- 18 Howe can the wolfe agree with the lambe? no more can the vngodly with the righteous.
- 19 What fellowshipe hath hyena with a hogge? and what peace is betweene the rich and the poore?
- 20 As the wilde asse is the Lyons pray in the wilderness, so are poore men y meate of the riche.
- 21 As the riche the proude hate humilitie, so doe the riche abhorre the poore.
- 22 If a rich man fall, his friends, sette him vp againe: but when the poore falleth, his friends dyme him away.
- 23 If a riche man offende, he hath many helpers: he speaketh proude wordes, and yet men iustifie him, but if a poore man faile, they rebuke him, and though he speake wisely, yet can it haue no place.
- 24 When the riche man speaketh, cuerie man holdeth his tongue: & loke what he saith, they praye it vnto the cloudes, but if the poore man speake, they say, what fellowe is this? and if he doe amill, they will destrope him.
- 25 Riches are good vnto him that hath no sinne [in his conscience,] and pooretie is cuill in the meuth of the vngodly.
- 26 The hearte of a man changeth his countenance, whether it be in good or cuill.
- 27 A chearefull countenance is a token of a good heart: for it is an hard thing to knowe the secrets of the thought.

Which is a wilde beast that counterserteth the voyce of men, and so entiseth them out of their houses and deuouretch them.

1 The goodnes that followeth him which feareth God. 8. God reiecteth and casteth off the sinner. 11. GOD is not the author of euill.

1 He that feareth the Lorde, will doe good: and he that hath the knowledge of the Lawe, will keep it sure.

2 As an [honourable] mother shall she mete him, and she, as his wife married of a virgin, shall receive him.

2 Trust not thou in their life, neither rest vpon their multitude.

3 For one that is iust, is better thã a thousand such, and better it is to dye without children, then to leaue behinde him vngodlie children.

21 And who vnderstandeth his wayes? & the stronge that no man can see: for the most part of his workes are hid.

22 Who can declare his workes of his righteousness? or who can abide them? for his ordinance is farre of, and the crying out of all things fapleth.

23 He that is humble of heart, will consider these thinges: but an vnwise and erroneous man casteth his mind vpon foolish thinges.

24 My sonne, hearken vnto me, & learne knowledg, and marke my words with thine heart.

25 I will declare the weightie doctrine, and I will instruct thee exactly in knowledg.

26 The Lorde hath set his workes in good order from the beginning, and parte of them hath he sundred frõ the other when he first made them.

27 He hath garnished his works for ever, their beginnings so long as they shall endure, they are not hungrie nor weare in their labours, nor cease from their offices.

28 None of them hindreth another, neither was any of them disobedient vnto his wordes.

29 After this the Lorde looked vpon the earth, and filled it with his good thinges.

19 The knowledge of the commaundments of the Lord is the doctrine of life, and they that obey him, shall receiue the fruite of immortallitie.

20 The feare of the Lord is all wisdome, and the performing of the Lawe is perfect wisdome, and the knowledge of his almightie power.

21 If a seruaunt say vnto his maister, I wil not do as it pleaseth thee, though afterward he do it, he shall displeas him that nourisheth him.

22 The knowledge of wickednesse is not wisdome, neither is there prudence whereas the counsell of sinners is: but it is euen execrable malice: and the foole is vopde of wisdome.

23 Ye that hath small vnderstanding, & feareth God, is better then one that hath much wisdome, and transgresseth the Lawe of the most High.

24 There is a certen subtiltie that is fine, but it is unrighteous: and there is that wexeth the open and manifest Law: yet there is that is wise and iudgeth righteously.

25 There is some that being about wicked purposes, doe bove downe them selues, and are sad, whose inuarde partes burne altogether with deere: he looketh downe with his face, and faueth him selfe deafe: yet before thou perceiue, he will be vpon thee to hurt thee.

26 And though he be so weake that he can do thee no harme, yet when he may find opportunitie, he will do euil.

27 A man may be knowne by his looke, and one that hath vnderstanding, may be perceiued by the marking of his countenance.

Chap. 21. 20

28 * A mans garment, & his excellenc laughes, & going, declare what person he is.

Of correction and repentance. 6. To speake & keepe silence in time. 17 The fall of the wicked. 23 Of lying. 24 The thief and the murderer. 28 Giftes blind the eyes of the wise.

1 There is some rebuke that is not comely: againe, some man holdeth his tongue, and he is wise.

2 It is much better to reprove, then to beare euill will: and he that acknowledgeth his faulte, shall be preferred fro hurt.

3 As * when a gelded man through lust would defile a maide, so is he that useth violence in iudgement.

4 How good a thing is it, when thou art reprovied, to shewe repentance: for so shalt thou escape wilfull sinne.

5 Some man keepeth silence, and is found wise, and some by much babling becometh hatefull.

6 Some man holdeth his tongue, because he hath not to answer: and some keepeth silence, waunting a convenient time.

7 * A wise man will hold his tongue till he see oportunitie: but a triker & a foole will regard no time.

8 He that useth many wordes, shall be abused, and he that taketh authoritie to him selfe, shall be hated.

9 Some man hath oft times prosperitie in wicked things, and some time a thing that is found, beingeth losse.

10 There is some gift that is not profitable for thee, and there is some gift, whose reward is double.

11 Some man humblith him self for glories sake, and some by humblenes lifteth by the head.

12 Some man buyeth much for a little price: for the which he payeth seven times more.

13 * A wise man with his wordes maketh him selfe to be loved, but the merie tales of foolles shall be powred out.

14 The gift receiued of a foole, shall do thee no good, neither yet of the enuious for his importunitie: for he looketh to receiue many things for one: he giueth little, and he vobisapeth much: he openeth his mouth like a towne crier: to day he lendeth, to morowe asketh hee againe, and such one is to be hated of God and man.

15 The foole saith, I haue no friend: I haue no thanke for all my good deedes: and they that eat my bread, speake euill of me.

16 How oft, and of how many shall he be laughed to scozne: for he comprehendeth not by right iudgement that which he hath: and it is all one as though he had it not.

17 The fall on a pavement is very suddē: so shall the fall of þ wicked come hastily.

18 A man without grace is as a foolthe tale which is oft tolde by the mouth of the ignorant.

1 Not to continue in sinne. 5 The prayer of the afflicted. 6 To hate to be reprovued. 17 The mouth of the wise man. 26 The thought of the foole.

- 1 *M*any haue thou sinned? do so no more,* but pray for the foze sinnes [that they may be forgiven thee.]
- 2 Flee from sinne, as from a serpent: for if thou connect too nere it, it will bite thee : the teeth thereof are as the teeth of a vpon, to slay the soules of men.

- 6 Who so hatheth to be reformed, is in the way of sinners : but he that feareth the Lord, connecteth in heart.

- 12 *H*e that is not wise, will not suffer him selfe to be taught : but there is some wit that increaseth bitterness.

- 14 *T*he inner partes of a scole are like a broken vessel: he can keepe no knowledge whyles he liueth. Chap. 33. 9.
- 15 When a man of vnderstanding heareth a wise word, he will commend it, and increase it: but if an ignorant man heare it, he will disallowe it, and cast it beyond his backe.
- 16 The talking of a foole is like a burden in the way, but there is comeliness in the talke of a wise man.
- 17 They inquire at the mouth of the wise man in the congregation, and they shall ponder his wordes in their heart.
- 18 As is an house that is destroyed, so is wisdom vnto a foole, and the knowledge of the vnwise is as wordes without order.

- 23 A foole will peep in at the doore into the house : but he that is well nurtured, will stand without.
- 24 It is the point of a foolishly man to haue ken at the doore : for he that is wise, will be grieved with such dishonour.
- 25 The lips of talkers will be telling such things as pertaine not vnto them, but the wordes of such as haue vnderstanding, are weighed in the balance.

CHAP. XXII.

1 Of the sluggard. 12 Not to speake much to a foole. 16 A good conscience feareth not.

- 4 For like as the idle stone gathereth moss and filth: so doth the slouthfull, both sickness of body, & corruption of minde.
- 5 For as every man doth supyd the filthines of doing, & shakeeth it off: so caught he to avoyd the companie of idle Joyterers, least he be accounted like unto them.
- 1 A Slouthfull man is like a filthy stone, which every man mocketh at for his shame.
- 2 A slouthfull man is to be compared to the b dunge of oren, & every one that taketh it by, will shake it out of his hand.
- 3 An euill nurtured sonne is the dishonour of the father: and the daughter is least to be esteemed.
- 4 A wife daughter is an heritage vnto her husband: but she that lutch dishonourably is her fathers heauinesse.
- 5 She that is bolde, dishonoureth both her father and her husband, [and is not inferiour to the vngodly,] but they both shall despise her.
- 6 A tale out of time is as musike in mourning: but wisdome knoweth the seasons of correction and doctrine.
- 7 Who so teacheth a foole, is as one that gleweth a posthead together, and as he that waketh one that slepeth, from a sound sleepe.
- 8 If children liue honestly, & haue wherewith, they shall put away the shame of their parents.
- 9 But if children be proude, with hautesse and foolishnesse they desie the nobilitie of their kindred.
- 10 Who so telleth a foole of wisdome, is as a man, which speaketh to one that is asleepe: when he hath tolde his tale, he saith, What is the matter?

Eccl. 38. 16

- 11 * Weep for the dead, for he hath lost the light: so weepe for the foole, for he wanteth vnderstanding: make small weeping for the dead, for he is at rest: but the life of the foole is worse then the death.
- 12 Seuen dayes doe men mourne for him that is dead: but the lamentation for the foole, and vngodly [should endure] all the dayes of their life.
- 13 Talke not much with a foole, and goe not to him that hath no vnderstanding: * beware of him, least it turue thee to paine, and least thou be desied when he shaketh him selfe. Depart from him, and thou shalt finde rest, and shalt not receiue sorrowe by his foolishnesse.
- 14 What is heavier then lead? and what other name should a foole haue?

Eccl. 27. 3

- 15 * Sand and salt, and a lumpe of yron is easier to beare, then an vnwise, [foolish & vngodly man.]
- 16 As a frame of wood ioyned together in a building can not be loosed with shaking, so the heart that is stablished by aduised counsell, shall feare at no time.
- 17 The hart that is confirmed by discrete wisdome, is as a faire plaitter on a plaine wall.
- 18 As reedes that are set by on hie, can not abide the winde, so the fearefull heart with foolish imagination can indure no feare.
- 19 He that hurteth the eye, bringeth forth teares, and he that hurteth the heart, bringeth forth the affection.
- 20 Who lo catcheth a stone at the birdes, trapeth them away: and he that vpbay-

- 21 deth his friend, breaketh friendship.
- 22 Though thou drawest a sword at thy friend, yet despaire not: for there may be a returning to fauour.
- 23 If thou haue opened thy mouth as gainst thy friend, feare not: for there may be a reconciliation, so that vpbayding or pride or disclosing of secrets or a treasurous wound doe not let: for by these things every friend will depart.
- 24 Be faithfull vnto thy friend in his pouertie, that thou maest reioyce in his prosperitie. Abide stedfast vnto him in the time of his trouble, that thou maest be hence with him in his heritage: for pouertie is not alwayes to be contented, nor the rich that is colthly, to be had in admiration.
- 25 As the vapour, & smoke of the chymnie goeth before the fire, so euill woordes, [rebukes and threatings] go before bloodshedding.
- 26 I will not be ashamed to defende a friend: neither will I hide my selfe from him, though he should doe me harme: who so euer heareth it, shall beware of him.
- 27 Who shall set a watch before my mouth, & a seale of wisdome before my lips, that I fall not suddenly by them, and that my tongue destroy me not?

- 1 O Lorde, father and gouernour of all my whole life, leaue me not to their counsel, and let me not fall by them.
- 2 Who wil correct my thought, and put the doctrine of wisdome in mine heart, that they may not spare me in mine ignoiance, neither let a thers faults passe?
- 3 Least mine ignoiances increase, and my sinnes abound to my destruction, & least I fall before mine aduersarie, and mine enemies reioyce ouer me, whose hope is sacre from thy mercie.
- 4 O Lorde, father and God of my life, [leaue me not in their imagination] ieiusther giue me a proude looke, but turue away from thy seruants a floute minde.
- 5 Take from me vaine hope, and concea pisenace, and reteine him in obedience, that desireth continually to serue thee.
- 6 Let not the greedinesse of the bellie, nor lust of the flesh hold me, and giue not me thy seruant ouer into an impudent minde.
- 7 Heare, O ye children, the instruction of a mouth that shall speake truth: who so keepeth it, shall not perish through his lijs, [nor be hurt by wicked woordes.]
- 8 The snower shall be taken by his owne lips: for the euill speaker and the proude do offend by them.

of the Yolie one: [for thou shalt not be unpunished for such things.]

10 For as a seruant which is oft punished, cannot be without some sharre, so he that sweareth, and nameth God continually, shall not be faultlesse.

11 A man that vseth much swearing, shall be filled with wickednes, and the plague shall neuer goe from his house: when he shall offend, his fault shall be vpon him, and if he knowledg not his sinne, hee maketh a double offence: & if he sweare in vaine, hee shall not be innocent, but his house shall be full of plagues.

12 There is a woide which is clothed in death: God graunt that it be not found in the heritage of Jacob: but they that feare God, eschewe all such, and are not wrapped in sinne.

13 Use not thy mouth to ignorant rashnes: for therein is the occasion of sinne.

14 Remember thy father and thy mother when thou art set among great men, lest thou be forgotten in their sight, and so through thy custome become a foole, and wist that thou haddest not bene bozne, and curse the day of thy nativity.

15 * The man that is accustomed to vnprouisous wordes, will neuer be reformed all the dayes of his life.

16 There are two sortes [of men] that abound in sinne, and the third bringeth wrath [and destruction:] a minde hote as fire, that cannot be quenched till it be consumed: an adulterous man that gnaweth his bodie no rest, till he haue kindled a fire.

17 [All bread is sweete to a whorehouse: hee will not leaue it till hee perishe.]

18 A man that breaketh wedlock, & thinketh thus in his heart, ' Who seeth mee? I am compassed about with darkenesse: the walles couer mee: no bodie seeth me: whome neede I to feare? the most High will not remember my finnes.]

19 Such a man onely feareth the eyes of men, and knoweth not that the eyes of the Lorde are ten thousand times higher then the Sunne, beholding all the wayes of men, [and the ground of the deepe,] and considereth the most secreete partes.

20 Hee knoweth all things or euer they were made, and after they be brought to passe also hee looketh vpon them all.

21 * The same man shall be punished in the streets of the citie, [and shall be chased like a pong horsefoale,] and when hee thinketh not vpon it, hee shall be taken: [thus shall hee be put to shame of euery man, because hee would not vnderstande the feare of the Lorde.]

22 And thus shall it goe also with euery wife, that leaueh her husband, and getteth inheritance by another.

23 * For first she hath disobeyed the Lawe of the most High, and secondly, shee hath trespassed against her owne husband, & thirdly, shee hath played the whore in abulterie, And gotten her childen by another man.

24 Shee shall be brought out into the congregation, and examination shall be made of her childen.

25 Her childen shall not take roote, and her branches shall bring forth no fruite.

26 A shamefull report shall be the leaue, and her reproch shall not be put out.

27 And they that remaine, shall knowe that there is nothing better then to feare of the Lorde, and that there is nothing sweeter then to take heed vnto the commandments of the Lorde.

28 It is great glorie to follow the Lorde, & to be feared of him is long life.

CHAP. XXIIII.

1 A praise of wisdom proceeding forth of the mouth of God. 6 Of her workes and place where shee resteth. 20 Shee is giuen to the children of God.

1 Wisdom shall praise her selfe, [& be honoured in God,] & reioyce in the muddes of her people.

2 In the congregation of the most High shall shee open her mouth, & triumphe before his power.

3 [In the muddes of her people shall shee be exalted, and wondered at in the holie assemblee.]

4 In the multitude of the chosen shee shall be commended, and among such as be blessed, shee shall be praised, and shall say, [

5 I am come out of the mouth of the most High, [first bozne before all creatures.]

is profounder then the great deepe.
 34 I wisdom (haue cast out floods:) I am as an arie of the riuier: I runne into Barabie as a water conduit.
 35 I said, I will water my faire garden, and will water my pleasaunt ground: & lo, my ditch became a flood, & my flood became a sea.
 36 For I make doctrine to shine as the light of the morning, and I lighten it for euer.
 37 [I will pearce thorough all the lower partes of the earth: I will looke vpon all such as be a sleepe, & lighten all them that trust in the Lord.]
 38 I will yet poure out doctrine, as propheticke, and leaue it vnto all ages for euer.
 39 * Behold that I haue not laboured for my selfe onely, but for all them that seeke wisdom.

CHAP. XXV.

1 Of three things that please God; and of three which he hateth. 7 Of nine things that be not to be suspect. 15 Of the malice of a womā.
 1 These things reioyce mee, & by them
 I am beautified before God & men:
 * the vnitie of brethren, the loue of neighbours, a man and wife that agree together.
 2 These sortes of men my soule hateth, and I utterly abhorre the life of them:
 a poore man that is proude: a rich man that is a liar, and an olde adulterer that doeth.
 3 If thou hast gathered nothing in thy poult, what canst þ finde in thine age?
 4 Oh, how pleasaunt a thing is it when gray headed men minister iudgement, and when the elders can giue good counsell!
 5 Oh, howe comely a thing is wisdom vnto aged men, and vnderstanding and vnderstanding to men of honour!
 6 The crowne of old men is to haue much experiance, & feare of God is their glorie.
 7 There be nine things, which I haue ridded in mine heart to be happie, and the tenth will I pronounce with my tongue: a man that while he liueth, hath ioy of his children, and seeth the fall of his enemies.
 8 Well is him that dwelleth with a wise of vnderstanding, * and þ hath not fallen with his tongue, & that hath not serued such as are vnworthie of him.
 9 Wel is him that findeth vnderstanding, & he that cannot speake in the eares of them that will heare.
 10 Oh, how great is he þ findeth wis-dome: yet is there none aboue him, that seareth the Lord.
 11 The feare of the Lord passeth all things in cleauens.
 12 Blessed is þ mā, vnto whō it is granted to haue þ feare of God. Vnto whom shal he be liened that hath attained it?
 13 The feare of the Lord is the beginning of his loue, and faith is the beginning to be ioyed vnto him.

- 26 Of the woman came the beginning of sinne, and through her we all dye.
- 27 Sme the water no passage, [no not a little,] neither giue a wicked womā libertie to go out.
- 28 If she walke not in thine obedience, [she shal cofound thee in þe sight of thine enemies.] Cut her offe from thy flesh:
- 4 Sme her, and forsake her.

CHAP. XXXVI.

- 1 The praise of a good woman. 5 Of the feare of three things, and of the fourth. 6 Of the zealous and drunken woman. 28 Of two things that cause sorrowe, and of the third which mooueth wrath.
- 1 Blessed is the man that hath a vertuous wife: for the number of his yerres shall be double.
- 2 An honest woman reioyceth her husband, and she shal fill the yerres of his life with peace.
- 3 A vertuous woman is a good portion, which shall be giuen for a gift vnto such as feare the Lorde.
- 4 Whether a man be rich or poore, he hath a good heart toward the Lorde, and they shall at all times haue a chearefull countenance.
- 5 ¶ There be three things that mine hart feareth, and my face is afraid of the fourth: treason in a citie: the assemblie of the people, & false accusation: all these are heauier then death.
- 6 ¶ But the sorrowe & griefe of the hart is a woman that is zealous quer an o

- ther: and she that commureth with all, is a scourge of the tongue.
- 7 An euill wife is as a poke of oren that drawe diuers wapes: he that hath her, is as though he held a scorpion.
- 8 A drunken woman and such as can not be tamed, is a great plague: for she can not couer her owne shame.
- 9 The whoredome of a woman may be knowne in the pryde of her eyes, and eye liddes.
- 10 ¶ * If thy daughter be not shamefast, holde herouer, least she abuse her selfe through ouermuch libertie.
- 11 Take heed of her þe hath an vnshamefast eye: and maruell not if she trespassse againt thee.
- 12 As one that goeth by the way, and is thirstie, so shall she open her mouth, and drinke of euery next water: by euery hedge shall she sit downe, and open her quiver againt euery arrowe.
- 13 The grace of a wife reioyceth her husband, and feedeth his bones with her vnderstanding.
- 14 A peacable woman and of a good hart is a gift of the Lord, and there is nothing so much worth as a woman well instructed.
- 15 A shamefast and faithfull woman is a double grace, and there is no weight to be compared vnto her continent minde.
- 16 As the flame when it ariseth in the hie places of the Lorde, so is the beautie of a good wife the ornament of her house.
- 17 As the cleare light is vpon the holie candlesticke, so is the beautie of the face in a ripe age.
- 18 As the golden pillars are vpon the sockets of siluer: so are faire feete with a constant minde.
- 19 [Perpetuall are the foundations that be laide vpon a strong rocke: so are the commendements of God in the heart of an holy woman.]
- 20 ¶ Ap souer, keepe the strength of thine age stable, and giue not thy strength to strangers.
- 21 When thou hast gotten a fruitfull possession through all the fields, sew it with thine owne seed, trusting in thy nobilitie.
- 22 So thy stocke that shall liue after thee, shall growe, trusting in the great libertie of their nobilitie.
- 23 An harlot is compared to a sowe: but the wife that is married, is counted as a towne against death to her husband.
- 24 A wicked womā is giuen as a reward to a wicked man: but a godly woman is giuen to him that feareth the Lord.
- 25 A shamelesse woman contemmeth shame: but a shamefast woman will reuerence her husband.
- 26 A shamelesse woman is compared to a dogge: but she that is shamefast, reuerenceth the Lord.
- 27 A woman þe honoureth her husbande, shal be iudged wise of al: but the that despiseth him, shall be blased for her pryde.
- 28 A loude ceping woman and a babbler

Chap. 42. 72.

Let her be sought out to baine Alway the eninies : the minde of euery man that lurcheth with such, shall be conuertant among the troubles of warre.

- 29 There be two things that grieue mine heart, and the third maketh me angrie : a man of warre that suffereth pouertie : and men of vnderstanding that are not set by : and when one departeth from righteousnes vnto sinne : the loyde appointeth such to the sword.
- 30 [There be two things, which me think to be hard and perillous.] ¶ An marchant can not lightly be hurt from wounding, and a vitalex is not without sinne.

CHAP. XXVII.

3 Of the poore that would be rich. 5 The probation of the man that feareth God. 13 The ynconstanncesse of a foole. 16 The secretes of friends are not to be videred. 26 The wicked imagineth euill which turneth vpon him selfe.

- 1 Because of pouertie haue many sinned : and * he that seeketh to be rich, turneth his eyes aside.
- 2 As a nagle in the wall sticketh fast betwene the ioynts of the stones, so doeth sin sticke between the selling & buying.
- 3 If he hold him not diligently in the feare of the loyd, his house shall soone be ouerthrowne.
- 4 As when one sitteth, the filthinesse remaineth in the siene, to the filth of man remaineth in his thought.
- 5 The soynace pouerth the potters besell : * so doeth [temptation] repe mens thoughtes.
- 6 * The fenite declareth if the tree haue bene trimmed : so the woorde [declareth] what man hath in his heart.
- 7 Thraile no man except thou haue heard his talke : for this is the triall of men.
- 8 ¶ If thou followest righteousnes, thou shalt get her, and put her on as a faire garment, [and shalt dwell with her, and she shall defend thee for euer : and in the dap of knowledge thou shalt finde stedfastnesse.]
- 9 The birdes resort vnto their like : so doeth the cruethy turne vnto them, that are practised in her.
- 10 As the ypon waptethy for the beast, so doth sinne vpon them that do euill.
- 11 The talking of him that feareth God, is all wisdomone : as for a foole, he changeth as the fadone.
- 12 If thou be among the vndiscrete, obserue the tyme, but hamit still the assenblye of them that are wise.
- 13 The talking of foolis is grieuous, and their spott is in the pleastire of sinne.
- 14 * The talk of him that sweareth much, maketh the haire to stand by : & to strue with such, toppeth the eares.
- 15 The strife of the proude is bloodsheding, and their soundings are grieuous to heare.
- 16 * Who so discouereth secretes, loseth his credite, & subeth no friend after his will. Loue thy friend, and be faithfull vnto him : but if thou bewapest his secretes, thou shalt not get him againe.

- 18 For as a man de tropeth his enimie, so doest thou destroy the friendship of thy neighbour.
- 19 As one that letteth a birde goe out of his hand, so if thou giue ouer thy friend, thou canst not get him againe.
- 20 Follow after him no more : for he is too farre off : he is as a roe cleaped out of the snare : [for his soule is wounded.]
- 21 As for woundes, they may be bound by againe, and an euill word may be reconciled : but who so bewapeth the secretes of a friend, hath lost all his credite.
- 22 * He that winketh with the eyes, imagineth euill : and he that knoweth him, will let him alone.
- 23 When thou art present, he will speake sweetely, and praise thy wordes : but at the last he will curue his tale, and flaunder thy saying.
- 24 Many things haue I hated, but nothing to euill as such one : for the loyde also hateth him.
- 25 Who so casteth a stone on his casteth it vpon his owne head : and he that smureth with guile, maketh a great wound.
- 26 Who so * diggeth a pit, shall fall there : in, [& he that lapeth a stone in his neighbours way, shall stumble thereon,] and he that lapeth a snare for an other, shall be taken in it him selfe.
- 27 He that worketh euill, shall be wrapped in euilles, and shall not knowe from whence they come vnto him.
- 28 Prockerie and reproch followe the yroude, and vengeance lurketh for them as ypon.
- 29 They that reioyce at the fall of the righteous, shall be taken in the snare, and anguush shall consume them before they dye.
- 30 Despise and anger are abhominable things, and the sinfull man is subiect to them both.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 We ought not to desire vengeance, but to forgive the offence. 13 Of the vices of the ioug, and of the dangers thereof.

- 1 He * that seeketh vengeance, shall find vengeance of the loyde, and he will surely keepe his finnes.
- 2 a Forgiue thy neighbour the hurt that he hath done to thee, so shall thy finnes be forgiven thee also, when thou prayest.
- 3 Should a man beare hatred against mā, and * desire forgiveness of the loyd ?
- 4 He will shewe no mercy to a man, which is like him selfe : and will he aske forgiveness of his owne finnes ?
- 5 If he that is but flesh, nourish hatred, [and aske pardon of God,] who will intreat for his finnes ?
- 6 Remember the end, & let enimitie passe : imagine not death and destruction to an other

The tongue. Chap. 21

13 * A boyster the slaunderser, and double tongued: for such haue destroyed many that were at peace.

That is, the tongue which faith and vnfaith, or speaketh one thing, & thinketh another. Or the tongue which speaketh neither out of the newe or old Testament, but of their own braine,

14 The double tongue hath disquieted many, and diuened them from nation to nation: strong cities hath it broke down, and ouerthrowen the houses of great men: [the strength of the people hath it brought downe, and haene the decaye of mightie nations.]

15 The double tongue hath cast out manye vertuous women, and robbed them of their labours.

16 Whoso breakeneth vnto it, shall neuer finde rest, and neuer dwel quietly.

17 The crooke of the rod maketh markes in the flesh, but the stroke of the tongue breaketh the bones.

18 There be many that haue perished by the edge of the woorde, but not so manie as haue fallen by the tongue.

19 Well is him that is kept from an euill tongue, & cometh not in the anger thereof, which hath not drawn in that poke, neither hath bene bounde in the bandes thereof.

20 For the poke therof is a poke of pison, and the bandes of it are bands of death.

21 The death thereof is an euill death: yet, were better then such one.

22 It shall not haue rule ouer them that feare God, neither shall they be burnte with the flame thereof.

23 Such as forsake the Lorde, shall fall thereon: and it shall burne them, and no man shall be able to quench it: it shall fall vpon them as a lyon, and deuour them as a leopard.

5 Till they receiue, they kisse his handes, & for their neighbours good they humblye their dooce: but when they shoulde paye againe, they prolonge the terme, and giue a careles answer, and make excuses by reason of the time.

6 And though he be able yet giueth he scarce the halfe againe, and reckoneth the other as a thing founde: els he deceiveth him of his monie, and maketh him an enemye without a cause: he payeth him with curling and rebuke, & giveth him euill woordes for his good dooce.

7 There be many which refuse to lende because of this inconuenience, fearing to be defrauded without cause.

1 Of the correction of children. 24. Of the com- moditie of heath. 27. Death is better then a sorrowfull life. 22. Of the ioye and sorrowe of the heart.

- 1 He that loueth his sonne, * causeth him oft to seele the rodde, that hee may haue ioye of him in the ende.
- 2 He that chastiseth his sonne, shall haue ioye in him, and shall reioyce of him among his acquaintance.
- 3 He that * teacheth his sonne, greueneth the enemy, and before his friends he shall reioyce of him.
- 4 Though his father dye, yet is he as though he were not deade: for he hath left one behinde him that is like him.
- 5 In his life he sawe him, and had ioy in him, & was not sorie in his death, (neither was he ashamed before his acquaint- ances.)
- 6 He left behinde him an auenger against his enemies, and one that shoulde therewe knowe vnto his friends.

- 7 He that flattereth his sonne, bindeth vp his woundes, and his heart is grie- ued at euerie crye.
- 8 A curamed horse will be stubburne, and a wanton child will be wilfull.
- 9 If thou bring vp thy sonne delicately, he shall makethe afraid, and if thou play with him, he shall bring thee to heauines.
- 10 Laugh not with him, lest thou be sor- riewith him, and lest thou gnashe thy teeth in the end.

- 22 Botwe downe his necke while hee is young, and beate him on the sides while he is a childe, lest he ware stubburne, and be disobedient vnto thee, and so bring sorrowe to thine heart.
- 13 Chastise thy child, & be diligent there- in, lest his shame greue thee.
- 14 || Better is the poore, being whole & strong, then a rich man that is afflicted in his body.
- 15 Health and strength is aboue all gold, and a whole badie aboue infinite trea- sure.
- 16 There is no riches aboue a sound bodie, & no ioye aboue the ioye of the hart.
- 17 Death is better then a bitter life, [and long rest,] then continuall sickness.
- 18 The good things that are powred on a mouth shut vp, are as melles of meate set vpon a graue.
- 19 What good doth the offering vnto an idole? for he can neither eate nor smel: so is he that is persecuted of the loyde, [and beareth the reward of inquite.]
- 20 He seeth with his eyes, and groweth like a gelded man, that lieth with a vir- gin and fighteth.

the proude by drunkennesse. 27 * Wine sobertly drunken, is profitable for the life of man: what is his life that is overcome with wine? Psal. 104. 15 pro 31. 4. 5. 6. 7.

28 Wine was made (from the beginning) to make men glad, (and not for drunkennesse.) Wine meaurably drunken and in time, bringeth gladnesse, and cheerefulness of the minde.

29 But wine drunken with excess, maketh bitternesse of minde with byauntings and scoldunges.

30 Drunkennesse increaseth the courage of a soole, till he offend: it dimmiteth his strenght, and maketh woundes.

- 6 As a wilde horse nepeth vnder euerie one that sitteth vpon him, so is a scoynfull friend.
- 7 Why doeth one day excell another, seeing that the light of the dayes of the yere come of the sunne?
- 8 The knowldege of the Lord hath parted them a sunder, and he hath by them disposed the times and solemne feasts.
- 9 Some of them hath he chosen and sanctified, and some of them hath he put among the dayes to number.
- 10 And all men are of the * ground, and Adam was created out of the earth: but the Loyde hath deuided them by great knowldege, & made their ways diuerse.
- 11 Some of them hath he blessed & exalted, and some of them hath he sanctified, and appropiat to himselfe: but some of them hath he cursed, and brought them lowe,

- 12 * As the clay is in the porters hand, to order it at his pleasure, so are men also in the hand of their creator, so that he may reward them as liketh him best.
- 13 Against euill is good, & against death is life: so is the godly against the sinner, and the vngodly against the faithfull.
- 14 So in all the workes of the most High thou may see that there are euer two, one against another.
- 15 If I am awaked by last of all, as one that gathereth after them in the vintage. In the blessing of the Lord I am increased, & haue filled my wine presse, like a grape gatherer.
- 16 * Beholde, how I haue not laboured onely for my selfe, but for all them that seeke knowldege.
- 17 Heare me, O ye great men of the people, and hearken with your eares, ye rulers of the congregation.
- 18 Giue not thy soune & wife, thy brother and friend, powder ouer the while thou liuest, and giue not away thy substance to another, least it repent thee, and thou increase for the same agane.
- 19 As long as thou liuest, and hast breath, giue not thy selfe ouer to any person.
- 20 For better it is that thy chyldren shold pray vnto thee, then þ thou shouldest looke by to the handes of thy chyldren.
- 21 In al thy workes be excellent, þ thine honour be neuer stained.
- 22 At the time when thou shalt end thy dayes, and finish thy life, distribute thine inheritance.
- 23 The fodder, the whippe & the burden belong vnto the asse: and meate, correction and worke vnto thy seruant.
- 24 If thou set thy seruant to labour, thou shalt finde rest: but if thou let him go idle, he shall seeke libertie.
- 25 The poke and the whippe bow downe the harde necke: so tame thine euill seruant with the whippes, and correction.
- 26 Send him to labour, that he go not idle for idleness byngeth much euill.
- 27 Set him to worke, for that belongeth vnto him: if he be not obedient, put on more heauie fetters.
- 28 But be not excessive toward any, and without discretion do nothing.
- 29 * If thou haue a faithfull seruant, let him be vnto thee as thine owne soule: for in blood hast thou gotten him. If thou haue a seruant, treat him as thy brother: for thou hast receiued of him, as of thy selfe. If thou treat him euill, and he runnes away, wilt thou seeke him?

that will take holde of a shadowe, & followe after the wind,

3 Euen so is it with the appearings of dreames, as the likenesse of a face is be-foze an other face.

4 Who can be clesed by the vncleane?
or what trueth can be spoken of a liar?

5 Southsayings, witchcraft, and dreasming is but vaine, and a mind that is occupied wth fantasies, as a woman that trauellet.

6 Where as such visions come not of the most high to trie thee, let not thine hearte vpon them.

7 For dreames haue deceined many, and they haue failed that put their trust therem.

8 The Law shall be fulfilled without lies, and wisdom is sufficient to a faithfull mouth: what knowledge hath he that is not tried?

9 A man that is instructed, vnderstandeth much, and he that hath good experience, can talke of wisdom.

10 He that hath no experience, knoweth litle, and he that erret, is full of craft.

11 When I wandered to and fro, I sawe many things, and mine vnderstanding is greater then I can expresse.

12 I was oft times in danger of death, yet I was deliuered by these things.

13 The spirit of those that feare the Lorde, shall liue: for their hope is in him that can helpe them.

14 Who shall feareth the Lorde, feareth no man, neither is afraid: for he is his hope.

15 Blessed is the soule of him that feareth
the Lorde: in whom putteth he his trust:
who is his strength?

16 For the eyes of the Lorde haue respect vnto them, & loue him: he is their mightie protection, and strong ground, a defence from the heat, and a shadowe for the noone day, a succour from sunning, and an helpe from falling.

17 He secreteth by the soule, and lighteneth the eyes: he giueth health, life and blessing.

18 He that giueth an offering of vnrighteous goods, offereth a mocking sacrifice, and the giftes of the vnrighteous, please not him.

19 But the Lorde is theirs onely, that patiently abide him in the way of trueth and righteoulnesse.

20 The most high doeth not allowe the offerings of the wicked, neither is he pacified for sinne by the multitude of sacrifice.

21 Whoso bringeth an offering of good of the poore, doth as one that sacrificeth the soune before the fathers eyes

22 The breade of the needfull is the life of the poore: he that defraudeth him thereof, is a murder.

23 He that taketh away his neighbours living, hateth him, and he that defraud-eth the labourer of his pay, is a blood-thead.

24 When one bupludeth, and another breaketh downe, what profite haue they then but labour?

25 When one prayeth, and another cur-seth, whose hope will the Lorde re-sue?

26 He that washeth himselfe because of a deade bodie, and toucheth it againe, what availeth his washing?

27 Do is it with a man that fasteth for his finnes, and committeth them againe:
who will heare his prayer? or what doth his fasting helpe him?

1 Of true sacrifices, 14. The prayer of the father-les, and of the widowe, and him that humbly himselfe.

1 Whoso keepeth the Law, bringeth offerings p^{ro}uough: he that holdeth fast the commaundmentes, offereth an offering of saluation.

2 He that is thankfull to them that haue well deserued, offereth fine flowre:
and he that quietly almes, sacrificeth praise.

3 To depaert from euill is a thankfull thing to the Lorde, and to forsake vnrighteousnes, is a reconciling vnto him.

4 Thou shalt not appeare empty be-foze the Lorde.

5 For all these things are done because of the commaundement.

6 The offering of the righteous maketh the altar fat, & the smell thereof is waete before the most high.

7 The sacrifice of the righteous is accept-table, and remembrance thereof shall neuer be forgotten.

8 Giue the Lorde his honour with a good and liberal epe, and dimynish not the first frutes of thine handes.

9 In all thy gifts shew a ioyfull comrenance, and dedicate thy riches with gladnes.

10 Giue vnto the most high according as he hath enriched thee, and looke what thy hand is able, giue with a cheareful epe.

11 For the Lorde recompenseth, and will giue thee seven times as much.

12 Dimynish nothing of thine offering:
for he will not receiue it, & abstene from wrongfull sacrifices: for the Lorde is the iudge, and regardeth no mans person

13 Hee accepteth not the person of the poore, but he heareth the prayer of the oppressed.

14 He despiseth not the desire of the fatherlesse, nor the widow, when she pouereth out her prayer.

15 Doeth not the teares runne down the widowes cheekes? & her cry is against him that caused them: [for from her cheekes do they goe by vnto heauen, and the Lorde which heareth them, doth accept them.]

1 A prayer to God in the person of all faithfull men, against those that persecute his Church, 22, The praise of a good woman.

1 His mercie vpon vs, O Lord God of all things, and behold vs, & [show vs the light of thy mercies,]

2 And send thy feare among the nations, which seeke not after thee, [& they may nations, that they may see thy power.

4 As thou art sanctified in vs before the, so be thou magnified among the before vs.

5 That they may knowe thee, as wee knowe thee: for there is none other God but onely thou, O Lord.

6 Reuene the signes, & change the wonders: shew the glorie of thine hand and thy right arme, that they may shew forth thy wonderous actes.

7 Raise vp thine indignation, & powre out wrath: take away the aduersarie, & smite the enemye.

8 Make the time shorte: remember thine oyle, that thy wonderous workes may be praised.

9 Let the wrath of the fire consume them that escape, and let them perishe that opa man of experience will resist it.

21 A woman is apt to reuene euerie man yet is one daughter beter then an other.

22 The beautie of a woman chereeth the 23 If there be in her toungue gentlenesse, meekenesse, and wholesome talke, then is not her husbaude like other men.

leth for him selfe.

9 Beware of the counsellor, and be advised afore whereto thou wilt. Use him: for he will counsell for himselfe, least he cast the lot upon thee.

10 And say unto thee, Thy way is good, & afterward he stand against thee, & looke what shall become of thee.

11 [Like no counsell for religion of him, that is without religion, nor of iudice, of him that hath no iudice, nor of a woman touching her of whom she is zealous, nor of a coward in matters of warre, nor of a merchant concerning exchange, nor of a bier for the sale, nor of an enuious man touching thankfulness, nor of the vimerfull touching kindnesse, nor of an vnhonest man of honestie, nor of the flouthfull for any labour, nor of an hys-ling for the faulting of a worke, nor of an idle seruant for much busynesse: hearken not vnto these in any matter of counsell.]

12 But be continuall with a godlie man whome thou knowest to keepe the com-mandmentes of the Lord, whose mind is according to thy mind, and is sozie for thee when thou stumblest.

13 Take counsell of thine owne heart: for there is no man more faithfull vnto thee, then it.

14 For a mans minde is sometime more accustomed to shewe more then seven watchmen þ sit aboute in an high towre.

15 And aboute all this pray to the mozte
High, þ he will direct thy way in truth.

16 Let reason go before euerie enterpryse, & counsell before euerie action.

17 ¶ The [changing] of the countenance is a signe of the chaunging of the heart:
four things appeare good and euill, life and death, but the tongue hath euer more the gouernement ouer them.

18 ¶ Some man is wittie, & hath instructed many, and yet is vnpofitable vnto
himselfe.

19 Some man will be wise in wordes, & is hated, yea, he is destitute of all foode.

20 Because grace is not giuen him of the Lorde: for he is destitute of all wisdom.

21 An other is wise for him selfe, and the fruites of vnderstandinge are faithfull in his mouth.

22 A wife man instructeth his people, and the fruites of his wisdom faile not.

23 A wise man shall be plentifully blessed, and all they that see him, shall thinke him blessed.

24 The life of man standeth in the number of daies: but the daies of Israel are nu-merable.

25 A wife man shall obtaine credite among his people, and his name shall be perpetuall.

26 ¶ By some, proue thy soule in thy life, and see what is euill for it, & preuent it not to do it.

27 For all things are not profitable for all men, neither hath euerie soule pleasure in euerie thing.

28 Be not ¶ grieued in all desires, and be not too hastic vpon all meates.

nesse, and gluttonie commeth into cholles

8 Of such doeth the apothecarie make a

22 Remember his iudgement: thine also shall be likewise, unto me yesterday, and unto thee to day.

23 * Seeing the dead is at rest, let his remembrance rest, and comfort thy selfe as game for him, when his spirit is departed from him.

24 ¶ The wisdom of a learned man cometh by using well his vacant time: and he that ceaseth from his owne matters and labour, may come by wisdom.

25 How can he get wisdom that holdeth the plough, & he that hath pleasure in the goade, and in dunning oven, and is occupied in their labours, and talketh but of the breede of bullockes?

26 He quietly his mind to make fogowes, & is diligent to give the hinc fodder.

27 So is it of enerie carpenter, and workemaster that laboureth night and day: and they that cut, and graue scales, & make sundrie diuersities, and give themselves to counterfet imagerie, and watche to performe the worke.

28 The smith in like maner abideth by his anuill, and doeth his diligence to labour the pyon: the vapour of the fire drieth his flesh, & he must fight with the heate of the fornace: the noyse of the hammer is euer in his eares, and his eyes looke ouer vpon the thing he maketh: he setteth his mind to make by his works: therefore he watcheth to polish it perfectly.

29 So doeth the potter sit by his worke: he turneth the wheele about with his feete: he is careful alway at his worke, & maketh his worke by number.

30 He fashioneth the clay with his arme, and with his feete he tempereth the hardnesse thereof: his heart imagineth how to couer it with lead, and his diligence is to cleane the ouen.

31 All these hope in their handes, and enerie one bestoweth his wisdom in his worke.

32 Without these cannot cities be maintained, nor inhabited, nor occupied.

33 And yet they are not asked their iudgement in the counsell of the people, neither are they he in the congregation, neither sit they vpon the iudgement seates, nor vnderstand the order of iustice: they can not declare matters according to the found of the lawe, and they are not meete for harde matters.

34 But they maintaine the state of the worlde, & their desire is concerning their worke and occupation.

1 A wise man, 16 The workes of God, 24 Vnto the good, good things profit, but vnto the euill, euen good things are euil

¶ One that applyeth his minde to the lawe of the moste high, and is occupied in the meditation thereof, seeketh out the wisdom of all the ancient, and exerciseth himselfe in the prophesies.

2 He keepeth the sayings of famous men, and entrench in also to the secrets of darke sentences.

3 He seeketh out the mysterie of graue sentences, and exerciseth himselfe in darke parables.

4 He shall serue among great men, and appeare before the prince: he shall trauell through strange countries: for he hath tried the good & the euill among men.

5 He will giue his heart to rest early vnto the lord that made him, & to pray before the moste high, and will open his mouth in prayer, & pray for his finnes.

6 When the great lord will, he shall be filled with the spirit of vnderstanding, that he may powze out wise sentences, & give thanks vnto the lord in his prayer.

7 He shall direct his counsell, and knowledge: so shall he meditate in his secrets.

8 He shall shewe forth his science and learning, and reioyce in the law & covenant of the lord.

9 Many shall conuince his vnderstanding, and his memoze shall neuer be put out, nor depart away: but his name shall continue from generation to generation.

10 * The congregation shall declare his wisdom, and shew it.

11 Though he be dead, he shall leaue a greater fame then a thousand: and if he liue still, he shall get the same.

12 Yet will I speake of no things: for I am full as the stone.

13 Hearken vnto me, ye holy children, and bring forth sente, as the rose is plucked by the buokes of the field,

14 And giue ye a sweete smell as incense, & bring forth flowes as the lile: giue a smell, and sing a song of praise: blese the lord in all his workes.

15 Giue honour vnto his name, & shewe forth his praise with the longes of your lippes, and with harpes, and ye shall say after this maner,

16 * All the workes of the lord are excelsing good, and all his commandementes are done in due season.

17 And none may say, What is this? wherefore is that? for at time conuenient they shall all be sought out: at his commandement the water stode as an heape, and at the word of his mouth the waters gathered them selues.

18 His whole fauour appeared by his commandement, and none can diminish that which he will saue.

3. Sum. 12. 20.

- 22 His blessing shall runne oute as the streame, and mopen the earth like a floud.
- 23 As he hath turned the waters into saltnesse, so shall the heathen saie his wraoth.
- 24 As his wayes are plaine & right unto the iust, so are they stumbling blocks to the wicked.
- 25 ¶ For the good, are good things created from the beginning, and euil things for the sinners.
- 26 * The principall things for the whole use of mans life is water, fire, and yron, and salt, & meale, wheat and hony, and milke, the bloud of the grape, & ople, & clothing.
- 27 All these things are for good to þ godsp: but to the sinners they are turned into euil.
- 28 There be spirites that are created for vengeance, which in their rigour lay on fire strokes: in the time of destruction they shewe forth their power, and accomplish the wraoth of him that made them.
- 29 * fyre, and hable, and fannin, & death: all these are created for vengeance.
- 30 The teeth of wilde beastes, & the scorpions, and the serpents, and the swoorde erecte vengeance for the destruction of the wicked.
- 31 They shalbe glad to do his commandments: and when neede is, they shalbe readie vpon earth: and when there hour is come, they shall not ouerpasse the commandement.
- 32 Therefore haue I taken a good courage into mee from the beginning, and haue thought on these things, and haue put them in writing.
- 33 * All the woikes of the Lord are good, & he giueth euery one in due season, and when neede is:
- 34 So that a man neede not to say, This is worse then that: for in due season they are all worthy praise.
- 35 And therefore praise the Lord w whole heart and mouth, and bless the name of the Lord.

CHAP. XL.

- 1 Many miseries in mans life, 14 Of the blessing of the righteous and prerogative of the feare of God.
- 1 Great trauail is created for almen, and an heauie yoke vpon the soules of Adam from the day that they go out of their mothers wombe, til the day that they returne to the mother of all things,
- 2 Namely their thoughtes, and feare of the heart, and their imagination of the things they wait for, and the day of death,
- 3 From him that sitteth vpon the glorious throne, unto him that is beneath in the earth & ashes:
- 4 From him that is clothed in blew silke, and weareth a crowne, euen unto him

- that is clothed in simple linnen.
- 5 Wraoth and enue, trouble, and inquietnes, and feare of death, and rigour, and strife, and in the time of rest the scope in the night bypon his bed, change his knowledge.
- 6 A hile of nothing is his rest, and afterwarde in sleeping he is as in a watchetowle in the day: he is troubled with þ visions of his heart, as one that runneth out of a battell.
- 7 And when all is safe, he awaketh, and marvelleth that the feare was nothing.
- 8 Such things come vnto all fleshy, both man and beast, but seuen fold to the vngodly:
- 9 Doorener, * death and bloud, & strife, & sworde, oppression, famine, destruction, and punishment.
- 10 These things are all created for the wicked, and for their sakes came the floud also.
- 11 * All things that are of the earth, shall turne to earth againe: and they that are of the *waters, shall returne into the fra.
- 12 ¶ All bribes and vnrightheousnes shall be put away: but ¶ faithfulness shall endure for euer.
- 13 The substance of the vngodly shall be dyed by like a riuier, and they that make a found like a great thunder in the raine.
- 14 When he openeth his hand, he reioyceth: but all þ transgressours shall come to naught.
- 15 The children of the vngodly shall not obtaine many brambles: for the vncleane rootes are as vpon the vngodly rocke.
- 16 Their tender stalkes by what water soeuer it be or water bankie, it shalbe pulsed by before all other herbes.
- 17 ¶ Friendlines is as a most plentiful garden of pleasure, and mercie enduerty for euer.
- 18 * To labour & to be content with that a man hath, is a sweet life: but he that findeth a treasure, is aboute them both.
- 19 Children, and the buyding of the citie maketh a perpetual name: but an honest woman is counted aboute them both.
- 20 Wine and musike reioyce the heart: but the loue of wisdom is aboute them both.
- 21 The pipe and the psalterion make a sweete noise: but a pleasant tongue is aboute them both.
- 22 Thine eye desireth fauour and beautie: but a grone said tyme, rather then them both.
- 23 A friend, and companion come together at opportunitie: but aboute them both is a wife with her husband.
- 24 Friends and help are good in the time of trouble, but almes shall deliuer moze then them both.
- 25 Golde and silke fasten the feete: but counsell is esteemed aboute them both.
- 26 Riches are strength lift by the mind:

but the feare of the lord is aboue them both: there is no want in the feare of the lord, and it needeth no helpe.

- 27 The feare of the lord is a pleasant garden of blessing, and there is nothing so beautifull as it is.
- 28 If thy soune, lead not a beggers life: for better it were to die then to begge.
- 29 The life of him that dependeth on another mans table, is not to be counted for a life: for he tormenteth him selfe after others mens meate: but a wise man and well nourished, will beware thereof.
- 30 Begging is sweete in the mouth of the vnhauentfull, and in his belly there burneth a fire.

CHAP. XII.

- 1 Of the remembrance of death. 3. Death is not to be feared. 8 A curse vpon them that forsake the Law of God. 12 Good name and fame. 14 An exhortation to giue heede vnto wisdom. 17 Of what things man ought to be ashamed.

of death,

- 1 O Death, how bitter is the remembrance of thee to a man that lueth at rest in his possessions, vnto the man that hath nothing to bere him, & that hath prosperitie in all things: yea, vnto him that is able to receiue meate.
- 2 O death, how acceptable is thy iudgement vnto the needefull, and vnto him whose strength faileth, and that is now in the last age, and is vered with all things, and to him that despaireth, and hath lost patience!
- 3 Feare not the iudgement of death: remember them that haue bene before thee and that come after: this is the ordinance of the lord ouer all flesh.
- 4 And why wouldst thou bee against the pleasure of the most High? whether it be seen or an hundred, or a thousand peres, there is no defence for life against the graue.
- 5 The children of the vngodlie are abominable children, and so are they that keepe companie with the vngodlie.
- 6 The inheritance of vngodlie children shal perish, and their posterity shal haue a perpetual shame.
- 7 The children complaine of an vngodlie father, because they are reproched for his sake.
- 8 Wo be vnto you, O ye vngodlie, which haue forsaken the law of the most high God: for though you increase, yet shall you perish.
- 9 If ye be bozne, ye shal be bozne to cursing: if ye die, the curse shal be pour vpon you.
- 10 All that is of the earth, shal turne to earth againe: so the vngodlie go from the curse to destruction.
- 11 Though men moyne for their bodie, yet the wicked name of the vngodlie shal be put out.
- 12 Haue regard to thy name: for that shal

chap. 40. 11

continue with thee aboue a thousande treasures of golde.

- 13 A good life hath the dayes numbered: but a good name endureth euer.
- 14 Thy children, keepe wisdom in peace: for wisdom that is hid, and a treasure that is not seene, what profit is in them both?
- 15 A man that hideth his foolishnes, is better then a man that hideth his wisdom.
- 16 Therefore beate reuerence vnto my words: for it is not good in all things to be ashamed: neyther are all things alswed as faithfull in all men.
- 17 Be ashamed of whoredome before father and mother: be ashamed of lies before the prince and men of authoritie.
- 18 Of sinne before the iudge and ruler: of offence before the congregation and people: of vnrigheteousnes before a companion and friend.
- 19 And of theft before the place where thou dwellest, and before the trueth of God and his couenant, & to leane with thine elbows vpon the bread, or to be reproued for giuing or taking.
- 20 And of silence vnto them that salute thee, and to looke vpon an harlot.
- 21 And to turie away thy face from thy kinsman: or to take awaye a portion of a gift, or to be euill minded toward another mans wife.
- 22 Or to sollicite any mans maide, or to stand by her bed, or to reproch thy friends with wordes.
- 23 Or to vphrayde when thou giuest any thing, or to report a matter that thou hast heard, or to reueale secret wordes.
- 24 Thus maist thou well be shamefull, and shalt find fauour with all men.

- 1 O If these things be not thou ashamed, neither haue regarde to offend for any person.
- 2 Of the Lawe of the most High and his couenant, and of iudgement to iustifie the godlie.
- 3 Of the cause of thy companion, and of strangers, or of distributing the heritage among friends.

9 ¶ The daughter maketh the father to watch secretly, and the carefulnesse that he hath for her, taketh away his sleep in the pouth, least she should passe þ flower of her age: & when she hath an husband, least she should be hated :

10 In her virginie, least she should be defiled, or gotten weth childe in her fathers house, and, when she is wth her husband, least she will behaue her selfe: and when she is married, least she continue vnfruitfull.

Chap. 26. 10

11 * If thy daughter be vnshamefast, keep her straitly, least she cause thine enemies to laugh thee to scoyne, and make thee a common talke in the cite, and drifame thee among the people, and bring thee to publike shame.

12 * Beholde not euery bodies beautie, & companie not among women.

Gen. 3. 6.

13 For as the moth cometh out of garments: so doth wickednes of þ woman.

14 The wickednes of a man is better then the good increate of a woman, to wit, of a woman that is in shame, and reioch.

15 ¶ I will remember the workes of the Lord, and declare the thing that I haue seene: by the worde of the Lord are his workes.

16 The Sunne that shineth, looketh vpon all things, and all the worke thereof is full of the glory of the Lord.

17 Hath not the Lord appointed that his Sauntes should declare all his wonderful workes, which the almightie Lord hath stablished to confirme all things by in his marke?

18 We seeketh out the depth, and the hart, and he knoweth their practises: for the Lord knoweth all science, and he beholdeeth the signes of the world.

19 We declareth the things that are past, and for to come, and discloseth the paths of things that are secret.

20 * No thought may escape him, neither may any word be hid from him.

21 He hath garnished the excellent workes of his wiseome, and he is from euerlasting to euerlasting, and for euer: vnto him may nothing be added, neither can he be diminished: he hath no neede of any counseller.

22 Oh, howe delectable are al his workes, & to be considered euen vnto the sparkes of fire!

23 They liue all, and endure for euer: and when so euer neede is, they are all obedient.

24 They are all double, one against another: he hath made nothing that hath any fault.

CHAP. XLIII.

The summe of the creation of the workes of God,

1 The high ornament || the cleare firmament, the beaute of the heauen so glorious to behold,

2 The sunne also, a marvellous instrument when it appeareth, declareth, at his going out, the worke of the mozt high.

3 It is none it burneth the countree, and who may abide for the beate thereof?

4 The sunne burneth þ mountaines threë tunes more then he that keepeth a furnace wth continuall heate: it casteth out the ferie vapours, and wth the shining beanes blindeth the eyes.

5 Great is the Lord that made it, and by his commaundement he causeth it to run hastily.

6 * The moone also hath he made to appeare according to her season, that it should be a declaration of the time, and a signe for the world.

Gen. 1. 6.

7 * The feales are appointed by the moone: the light thereof dimmureth vnto the end.

Exod. 12. 2.

8 The mooneth is called after the name thereof, and groweth wonderously in her changing.

9 It is a campe pitched on high, shining in the firmament of heauen: the beaute of heauen are the glorious starres, and the ornament that shineth in the high places of the Lord.

10 By the commaundement of the holie one they continue in their order, and faile not in their watch.

11 ¶ I looke vpon the rainebowe, & praise him that made it: vey beautifull is it in the brightnesse thereof.

Gene. 9. 13.
14.

12 * It compasseth the heauen about wth a glorious circle, and the handes of the mozt high haue benided it.

IJa. 40. 12.

13 ¶ Though his commaundement he maketh the snowe to haste, and sendeth swiftly the lightening of his iudgement.

14 Therefore he openeth his treasures, & the cloudes flie forth as the soules.

15 In his power hath he strengthened þ clouds, and broken the haille stones.

16 The mountaines leape at the light of him: the South wind bloweth according to his will.

17 The sound of his thunder beatech the earth: so doth the noime of the North: the whirle winde also, as birdes that fly, scattereth the snowe, & the falling downe thereof is as the gralhoppers that light downe.

18 The eye maruellet at the beantie of the whitnesse thereof, and the heart is astonished at the raime of it.

19 He also potureth out the frost vpon the earth like salt, and when it is frozen, it sticketh on the toppes of pales.

20 When the cold North wind bloweth, an pee is frozen of the water, it abideth vpon all the gatherings together of water, and closeth the waters as wth a breastplate.

21 It deuoureth the mountaines, & burneth the wilderuesse, and destropeth that that is greene, like fire.

- 22 The remedie of all these is when a cloude commeth hatching, & when a dewe commeth vpon the heate, it refresheth it.
- 23 [By his word he stilleth þe winde:] by his counsell he appeareth the dæpe, and planteth plands therein.
- 24 They that saile ouer the sea, tell of the perills thereof, & when we heare it with our eares, we maruell thereat.
- 25 For there be strange, & wonderous workes diuers maner of beastes, and the creation of whales.
- 26 Through him are all thinges directed to a good end, and are stablished by his word.
- 27 And when we haue spoken much, we can not attaine vnto them: but this is the summe of all, that he is all.
- 28 What power haue we to praise him: for he is aboue all his workes?
- 29 The Lord is terrible, and very * great, and marvellous is his power.
- 30 Praise the Lord, and magnifie him as much as ye can, yet doth he farre exceed: exalt him with all your power, and be not weaue, yet can ye not attaine vnto it.
- 31 * Who hath seene him, that he might tell vs: and who can magnifie him as he is?
- 32 For there are hid yet greater things then these be, & we haue seene but a fewe of his workes.
- 33 For the Lord hath made all things, and giuen wisdom to such as feare God.

CHAP. XLIIII.

The praise of certaine holy men, Enoch, Noe, Abraham, Isaac and Iacob.

- 1 Let vs nowe commend the famous men, and our fathers, of whome we are begotten.
- 2 The Loide hath gotten great glorie by them, and that through his great power from the beginning.
- 3 They haue boine rule in their kingdoms, and were renowned for their power, and were wise in counsell, and declared propheties.

- 4 * They governed the people by counsell and by the knowledge of learning mete for the people, in whose doctrine were wise sentences.
- 5 They inuented the melodie of musicke, and expounded the verses that were witten.
- 6 They were rich and mightie in power, and liued quietly at home.
- 7 All these were honourable men in their generations, and were well reported of in their times.
- 8 There are of them that haue left a name behind them, so that their praise shall be spoken of.
- 9 There are some also which haue no memoriall, * & are perished, as though they had neuer bene, & are become as though they had neuer ben boine, and their children after them,

- 10 But the former were mercifull men, whose rightcoustnesse hath not bene forgotten.
- 11 For whose posteritie a good inheritance is reserved, and their seede is contained in the covenant.
- 12 Their stocke is contented in the covenant, and their posteritie after them.
- 13 Their seede shall remaine for euer, and their praise shall neuer be taken away.
- 14 Their bodies are buried in peace, but their name liueth for euermore.
- 15 * The people speake of their wisdom, & the congregation talke of their praise.

12 And with a crowne of gold vpon the mitre, bearing the forme and marke of holines, an ornament of honour, a noble worke garnished, and pleasant to looke vpon.

13 Before him were there no such faire ornaments: there might no stranger put them on, but onely his children, and his childrens children perpetually.

14 Their sacrifices were wholly consumed euery day twise continually.

15 * Ioyces filled his handes, & * anointed him with holie oyle: this was appointed vnto him by an euerlasting coneuant, and to his seade, so long as the heauens should remaine that he should minister before him, and also to execute the office of the priesthood, and bleesse his people in his name.

16 Before all men liuing the Lord chose him, that he should present offerings before him, and a sweete sauour for a remembrance to make reconciliation for his people.

17 * He gaue him also his commaundments and authoritie according to the Lawes appointed, that he should teache Jacob the testimonies, & giue light vnto Israel by his Lawe.

18 * Strangers stood by against him, & emred him in the wilderness, euen the men that were Sathans and Abrahams part, and the company of Core in fure and rage.

19 This the Lord sawe, and it displeased him, and in his wrathfull indignation were they consumed: he did wonders vpon them, and consumed them with the fire flame.

20 * But he made Aaron more honourable, & gaue him an heritage, and parted the first frutes of the first borne vnto him: vnto him specially he appointed bread in abundance.

dence of any man, no, not so much as a shoe, &

The praise of Nathan, David and Salomon,

Nathan. 1 2. Sam. 1. 2. 11. A fter him rose vp ¶ Nathan a prophetic in the time of Dauid.

David. 2 For as the far is taken away from the peace offering, so was ¶ Dauid chosen out of the children of Israel.

1. Sam. 17. 3 * He played with the lions, as he kiddes,
34. and with beares, as with lumbes.

1. Sam. 17. 4 * Slew he not a giant when he was yet
49. 50. 51. pong, &ooke away the rebuke fro the people, when he lift up his had with the stone in the sling, to beat downe the pude of Goliath.

5 For he called vpon the most high Lord, which gaue him strength in his right hand, to slay that mightie warrour, & that he might set vp the hoyme of his people againe.

2. Sam. 18. 7. 6 * So he gaue him the praise of ten of the people

thousand and honoured him with great praises, and gaue him a crowne of glorie.

7 * For he destroyed the enemies on euery side, and rooted out the Philistines his aduersaries, & brake their hoyme in sunder vnto this day.

8 In all his workes he praised the High one, and the most high with honourable wordes, and with his whole heart he sung songs, and loued him that made him.

9 * He set fingers also before the altar, and according to their tune he made sweete songs, that they might praise God dayes lp with their songs.

10 He ordeined to keepe the feast dayes comely, and appointed the times perfetly, that they might praise the holy name of God, and make the temple to sounde in the morning.

11 * The Lord toke away his finnes, and erected his hoyme for euer: he gaue him the covenant of the kingdom, and the throne of glorie in Israel.

12 After him rose by a wife soune, who by him dwelt in a large possession.

13 ¶ Salomon reigned in a peaceable time, and was glorious: for God made all quiet round about, that he might build an house in his name, and prepare the Sanctuarie for euer,

14 * Howe wise wast thou in thy youth, & wast filled with vnderstanding as with a flood:

15 Thy minde couered the whole earth, and hath filled it with graue and darke sentences.

16 Thy name went abroad in the ples, & for thy peace thou wast beloued.

17 * The counteris marueled at thee for thy songs, and prouerbes, and similitudes, and interpretations.

18 By the name of the Lord God, which is called the God of Israel, thou hast gathered gold as tinne, and hast had as much silver as lead.

19 * Thou didst bowe thy lynes to wor-men, and wast ouercome by thy bodie.

20 Thou didst stame thine honour, & hast defiled thy posteritie, and hast brought wreath vpon thy children, and hast felt forsowe for thy folle.

21 * So the kingdom was deuided, & Ephraim began to be a rebellious kingdome.

22 * Neuerthelesse the Lord left not off his mercie, neither was he destroyed for his workes, neither did he abolish the pos-teritie of his elect, norooke away the seede of him that loued him, but he left a remnant vnto Jacob, and a roote of him vnto Dauid.

23 Thus reled Salomon with his finners, & of his seede he left behind him ¶ Roboam, euen ¶ the foolishnes of the people, & one that had no vnderstanding, who turned away the people through his counsel, & ¶ Jeroboam the soune of Nabat, which caused Israel to sinne, & followed Ephraim the way of sinne,

1 Then stood vpon * Elias the Prophet as a fire, and his woide burnt like a lampe.
 2 He brought a famine vpon them, and by his zeale he diminished them: [for they might not away with the commaundements of the Lord.]
 3 Upon the woide of the Lord he shut the heauen, * and thre times brought he the fire from heauen.
 4 O Elias, howe honourable art thou by thy wondrous deedes: who may make his boate to be like thee!
 5 * Which hast raised by the dead from death, and by the word of the most high out of the graue:
 6 Which hast brought Kinges vnto destruction, and the honourable from their seate:
 7 Which heardest the rebuke of the Lord in Sina, * and in Horeb the iudgement of the vengeance:
 8 * Which hiddest anoint things that they might not recompense, and Prophets to be thy successours:
 9 * Which wast take vpon in a whirle wind of fire, and in a charret of fire hoises:
 10 Which wast appointed * to reprove in due season, and to pacifie the wrath of the Lordes iudgement before it kindled, & to turne the hearts of the fathers vnto the children, and to set vpon the tribes of Jacob.
 11 Blessed were they that sawe thee, and slept in loue: for we shall liue.
 12 * When Elias was covered with the storne, || Eliseus was filled with his spirit: while he liued, he was not moued for any punice, neither could any bring him into subiection.
 13 Nothing could overcome him, * & after his death his body prophesied.
 14 He did wonders in his life, & in death were his woikes maruellous.
 15 For all this the people repented not, neither departed they from their sinnes: * till they were carried away prisoners out of their lands, & were scattered thorough all the earth, so that there remained but a very few people vnder punice vnto the house of Dauid.
 16 Howbeit some of them did right, and some heaped by sinnes.
 17 || * Ezekias made his citie strong, and conueied water into the middes thereof: he digged thorough the rocke with yron, and made fountaines for waters.
 18 * In his time came Sennacharib by, & sent flatulaces, and lift vpon his hand against Sion, and boasted proudly.
 19 Then trembled their hearts & haundred so that they sorrowed like a woman in trauell.

20 But they called vpon the Lord, which is mercifull, and lift vpon their hands vnto him, and immediately the holie one heard them out of heauen.

21 [He thought no more vpon their sinnes, nor gaue them ouer to their enemies,] but deliuered them by the hande of Cleue.

22 * He smote the hoast of the Assyrians, and his Angel destroyed them.

23 For Ezekias had done the thing that pleased the Lord, and remained stedfast in the wayes of Dauid his father, as || Cleue the great Prophet, and faithfull in his vision had commaunded him.

24 * In his time the Sunne went backward, and he lengthened the kings life.

25 He saue by an excellent spirit what should come to passe at the last, and he comforted them that were sorrowfull in Sion.

26 He shewed what should come to passe for euer, and secreete things, of euer they came to passe.

2 He behaued him selfe bynight in the reformation of the people, and tooke away all abominations of iniquitie:

3 He * directed his heart vnto the Lord, and in the tyme of the bugoddy he established religion.

4 He receypt Dauid and Ezekias, and Iosias, committid wickednesse: for euen Kinges of Iuda forsooke the lawe of the most high, and failed.

5 Therefore he gaue their harte vnto other, and their honor to a strange nation.

7 For they * intreated him euill, which neuertheless was a prophete, sanctified from his mothers womb, that he might roote out, and afflict, and destroy, & that he might also build vpon, and plant.

8 || * Ezekial sawe the glorious vision, which was shewed him vpon the charret of the Cherubims.

9 * For he made mention of the emmyes vnder the hegne of the raine, and directed them that went right.

15 He stretched out his hand to the dunke offering, and powred of the blood of the graye, and he powred at the foote of the altar a perfume of good saour vnto the most high King of all.
16 Then shouted the sonnes of Aaron, & blowed with brazen trumpets, & made a great noise to be heard, for a remembrance before the most high.
17 Then all the people together halted, & fell downe to the earth vpon their faces to worship their Lojde God almightie, & most high.
18 The singers also sang with their voyces, so that the sound was great, and the melody sweete.
19 And the people prayed vnto the Lojde most high with prayer before him that is mercifull, till the honour of the Lojde were performed, and they had accomplished his seruice.
20 Then went he downe, & stretched out his handes ouer the whole congregation of the children of Israel, that they should giue praye with their lippes vnto the Lord, and reioyce in his Name.

CHAP. LI.

A prayer of Iesus the sonne of Sirach.

- 1 I will confesse theſe O Lorde and Kinge, and praife thee. O God my Saviour:
I gine thanks vnto thy Name.
- 2 For thou art my defender and helper, and haſt preferred my bodie from de-ſtruction, and from the ſnare of the ſlan-derous tongue, & from the lippes that are occupied with lies: thou haſt holpen me againſt mine aduerſaries,
- 3 And haſt deliuered me according to the multitude of thy mercie, and for thy names ſake, from the roaring of them that were readie to deuoure me, and out of the handes of ſuch as ſought after my life, and from the manifold afflictions, which I had,
- 4 And from the fire that choked me round about, and from the needles of the fire that I burned nor,
- 5 And from the bottome of the bellie of hel, from an uncleane tongue, from lying voydes, from ſaile accusation to the King, and from the ſlandre of an vnrightrous tongue.
- 6 [My ſoule will praife the Lorde vnto death:] for my ſoule drew nere to death, my life was nere vnto the hell beneath.
- 7 They compaſſed me on euery ſide, and there was no man to helpe me: I looked for help succour of me, but there was none.
- 8 They thought I vpo thy mercie, O lorde, and vpon thine actes of olde, howe thou deliuerelt ſuch as waue for thee, and ſaued them out of the handes of the enemies.
- 9 Then liſted I by my prayer from the earth, and prayed for deliuerance from death.
- 10 I called vpon the Lorde the father of my lorde, that he woude not leaue me in the day of my trouble, and in the time of the proude without helpe.
- 11 I will praife thy name continually, and will ſing praife with thankſgiuing: and my prayer was heard.
- 12 Thou laudeſt me from deſtruction, and deliuerelt me from the euill time:
therefore will I gine thankies, and praife thee, and bleſſe the Name of the Lord.
- 13 When I was yet young, o euer I went abroad, I deſired wiſedome openly in my prayer.

- 14 I prayed for her beſore the Temple, & and ſought after her into far countries, & he was as a grape that waxyeth ripe out of the ſlower.
- 15 Mine heart reioyced in her: my foote walked in the right way, and from my pouch by ſought I after her.
- 16 I bowed ſomewhat down myne eare, and reuered her, and gar me much wiſe-
dome:
- 17 And I profited by her: therefore will I aſcribe the glorie vnto him, & giueth me wiſedome.
- 18 For I am aduiled to doe thereafter:
I will be ielous of that that is good: ſo ſhall I not be confounded.
- 19 My ſoule hath welleted with her, &
I haue examined my woikes: I liſted by myne handes on he, and conſidered the ignoiances thereof.
- 20 I directed my ſoule vnto her, and I ſoude her in purenes: I haue had mine hearte ioyned with her from the beginning: therefore ſhall I not be ſolaken.
- 21 My bowelles are troubled in ſeking her: therefore haue I gotten a good poſſeſſion.
- 22 The Lorde hath giuen me a tongue for my rewarde, wherewith I will praife
him.
- 23 Dwelue nere vnto me, ye vnlearned, and dwell in the houſe of learning.
- 24 Wherefore are ye ſlowe: and what ſay you of theſe things, ſeing you ſoules are verie thirſte?
- 25 I opened my mouth and ſayde, * Wye 1ſay. 55. 1.
her for you without moncy.
- 26 Bowe downe your necke vnder the poke, and pour ſoule ſhal receiue mitigation: the is readie that ye may finde her.
- 27 Beholde with pour eyes, * howe that Chap. 6. 20.
I haue had but little labour, & haue gotten vnto me much reſt. 18.
- 28 Get learning with a great ſumme of money: for by her ye ſhall poſſeſſe muche goide.
- 29 Let pour ſoule reioyce in the mercie of the Lorde, and bee not aſhamed of his praife.
- 30 Doe pour duetie betimes, and he will giue you a rewarde at his time.

10 And they saide, Behoide, we haue sent you money, wherewith ye shal be burnt offerings for sinne, and incense, and prepare a meate offering, and offer vpon the altar of the Loide our God,

11 And pray for the life of Nabuchodonosor King of Babylon, and for the life of Baltasar his sonne, that their dayes maye be vpon earth, as the dayes of heauen,

12 And that God would giue vs strength and lighten our eyes, that we maye liue vnder the shadow of Nabuchodonosor King of Babylon, & vnder the shadowe of Baltasar his sonne, that we maye long doe them seruice, and finde fauour in their sight.

13 Pray for vs also vnto p Lord our God (for we haue sinned against the Loide our God, and vnto this day the furie of the Loide and his wyath is not turned from vs.)

14 And reade this booke (which we haue sent to you to be rehearsed in the Temple of the Loide) vpon the feast dayes and at times conuenient.

Chap. 2. 6.

15 Thus shall ye say, * To the Loide our God belongeth righteouinesse, but vnto vs the confusion of our faces, as it is come to passe this day vnto them of Iuda and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem,

16 And to our Kinges, and to our Pnices, and to our Pnestes, and to our fathers,

17 Because we haue * sinned before the Loide our God,

18 And haue not obeyed him neither hearkened vnto the voyce of the Loide our God, to walke in the commandmentes that he gaue vs openly.

19 From the day that the Loide brought our fathers out of the lande of Egypte, euen vnto this day, we haue bene disobedient vnto the Loide our God, and we haue bene negligent to heare his voyce.

appoynted by Moyses his seruant at the tyme that he brought our fathers out of the lande of Egypte, to giue vs a land that floweth with milke and home, as appeareth this day.

21 Nevertheless we haue not hearkened vnto the voyce of the Loide our God, according to all the wordes of the Prophetes, whome he sent vnto vs.

22 But euery one of vs folowed p wicked imaginations of his owne heart, to serue strange Gods, and to doe euill in the sight of the Loide our God.

3 That some among vs shoulde * eate the flesh of his owne sonne, & some the fleshe of his owne daughter.

4 Moreover, he hath deliuered them to be in subiection to all the kingdomes, p are rounde about vs, to be as a reproche and desolation among all p people round about where the Loide hath scattered them.

5 Thus they are brought beneath and not aboue, because we haue sinned against the Loide our God, and haue not heard his voyce.

6 * To the Loide our God appertaineth righteouinesse, but vnto vs and to our fathers open shame, as appeareth this day.

Chap. 1. 15.

7 For all these plagues are come vpon vs which the Loide hath pronounced against vs.

8 Yet haue wee not prayed before the Loide, that we might turne euerie one from the imaginations of their owne wicked hearte.

9 So the Loide hath watched ouer the plagues, and the Loide hath brought them vpon vs: for the Loide is righteous in all his works, which he hath commanded vs.

10 Yet we haue not hearkened vnto his voyce, to walke in the commandmentes of the Loide that he hath giuen vnto vs.

11 * And now, O Loide God of Israel, that hast brought thy people out of the lande of Egypte with a mighty hand, & an hie arme, and with signes, and wonders, and with greate power, and hast gotten thy selfe a name, as appeareth this day.

Dan. 9. 15.

12 O Lord our God, we have sinned: we have done wickedly: we have offended in all thine ordinances.

13 Let thy wrath turne from vs: for we are but a fewe left among the heathen, where thou hast scattered vs.

14 Weare our prayers, O Lord, and our petitions, and deliuer vs for thine own sake, and giue vs fauour in the sight of them, which haue led vs away.

15 That all the earth may know that thou art the Lord our God, & that thy name is called vpon Israel and vpon their possession.

16 Therefore looke downe from thine holie Temple, & thinke vpon vs: incline thine eare, O Lord, and heare vs.

17 * Open thine eyes, and beholde: for the dead that are in the graues, and whose soules are out of their bodies, * giue vnto the Lord neither prayer, nor righteousness.

18 But the soule is bereft for the greatness of sinne, and he that goeth crookedly, and weake, and the eyes that faile, & the hungrie soule will greeue thee prayse and righteousness, O Lord.

19 For we doe not require mercie in thy sight, O Lord our God, for the righteousness of our fathers, or of our kings.

20 But because thou hast sent out thy wrath and indignation vpon vs, as thou hast spoken by thy seruants the Prophets, saying,

* Thus saith the Lord, Bowe downe your shoulders, & serue the King of Babylon: so shall he remaine in the land, that I gaue vnto your fathers.

21 But if he will not heare the voyce of the Lord, to serue the King of Babylon, 22 I will cause to cease in the cities of Iuda, and in Ierusalem, I will cause to cease the voyce of mirth, and the voyce of ioy, and the voyce of the bridegrome, and the voyce of the bride, and the land shall be desolate of inhabitants.

23 But we would not hearken vnto thy voyce, to serue the King of Babylon: therefore hast thou performed the wordes that thou spakest by thy seruantes the Prophets: namely, that the bones of our kings, & the bones of our fathers should be carried out of their places.

24 And so, they are cast out to the heate of the day, & to the colde of the night, & are dead in great miserie with famine, and with the sword, and in banishment.

25 And the Temple wherem thy name was called vpon, thou hast brought to the state, as appeareth this day, for the wickednesse of the house of Israel, & the house of Iuda.

26 O Lord our God, thou hast intreated vs according to equitie, and according to all thy great mercie.

27 As thou spakest by thy seruant Moses, in the day when thou diddest commaund him to write thy Lawe before the children of Israel, saying,

28 * If ye will not obey my voyce, then shall this great swarime and multitude be turned into a fewe few among the nations where I will scatter them.

30 For I knowe that they will not heare me: for it is a stiffnecked people: but in the land of their captiuitie they shall remember them selues.

31 And knowe that I am the Lord their God: then will I giue them an heart to vnderstand, and eares.

32 And they shall heare, and prayse me in the land of their captiuitie, and thinke vpon my name.

33 Then shall they turne them from their hard backs, and from their owne works, for they shall remember the workes of their fathers, which sinned before the Lord.

34 And I will bring them againe vnto the land, which I promised vnto their fathers, Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, and they shall be lordes of it: and I will increase them, and they shall not be diminished.

35 And I will make an euerlasting covenant with them: I will be their God, & they shall be my people: & I will no more bring my people of Israel out of the land that I haue giuen them.

CHAP. III.

1 The people continueth in their prayer begun for their deliuerance. 9 He prayseth wisdom vnto the people, shewing that so great aduersities came vnto them for the despising thereof. 36 Onely God was the finder of wisdom. 37 Of the incarnation of Christ.

1 O Lord almighty, O God of Israel, the soule that is in trouble, & the spirit that is bereft, crieth vnto thee.

2 Heare, O Lord, & haue mercie: for thou art mercifull, and haue pittie vpon vs, because we haue sinned before thee.

3 For thou endurest for ever, and we vtterly perish.

4 O Lord almighty, O God of Israel, heare now the prayer of the dead Israelites, & of their childre, which haue sinned before thee, and not hearkened vnto the voyce of thee their God, wherefore their plagues hang vpon vs.

5 Remember not the wickednesse of our fathers, but thinke vpon thy power, and thy name at this tunc.

6 For thou art the Lord our God, & thee, O Lord, will we praise.

7 And for this cause hast thou put thy feare in our heartes, that we should call vpon thy name, and praise thee in our captiuitie: for we haue considered in our mindes all the wickednesse of our fathers that sinned before thee.

8 Beholde, we are yet this day in our captiuitie, where thou hast scattered vs, to be a reproch & a curse, and subiect to payments, according to all the iniquities of our fathers, which are departed from the Lord their God.

- 10 What is the cause, O Israel, that thou art in thine enemies land, and art waken vnde in a strange countrie?
- 11 And art desired with the dead? and art counted with them, that go downe to the graues?
- 12 Thou hast forsaken the founteine of wisdomē.
- 13 For if thou hadst walked in the way of God, thou shouldst haue remained safe for euer.
- 14 Learne where is wisdomē, where is strength, where is vnderstanding, & thou mayest know also from whence cometh long continuance, and life, and where the light of the eyes, and peace is.
- 15 Who hath found out her place? or who hath come into her treasures?
- 16 Where are the princes of the heathen, & such as ruled the beastes vpon the earth?
- 17 They that had their pasture with the foules of the heauen, that hoarded by silver, & golde, where men trust, & made none end of their gathering?
- 18 For they that copied silver, and were so carefull of their worke, & whose inuention had none end,
- 19 Are come to naught, and gone downe to hell, & other men are come vp in their steades.
- 20 When they were pong, they saue the light, and dwelt vpon the earth: but they vnderstode not the way of knowledge,
- 21 Neither perceiued the pathes thereof, neither haue their children receiued it: but they were farrē from that way.
- 22 It hath not bene heard of in the land of Chanaan, neither hath it bene seene in Theman,
- 23 Nor the Agarines that sought after wisdomē vpon the earth, nor the marchants of Serran, and of Theman, nor the expounders of fables, nor the searchers out of wisdomē haue knowne the way of wisdomē, neither do they thinke vpon the pathes thereof.
- 24 O Israel, how great is thy house of God! & how large is the place of his possession!
- 25 It is great, and hath none end: it is hig, and vniuersallye.
- 26 There were the gyantes, famous from the beginning, that were of so great stature, and so expert in warre.
- 27 Those did not the Lord choose, neither gaue he the way of knowledge vnto the.
- 28 But they were destroyed, because they had no wisdomē, and perished through their owne foolishnesse.
- 29 Who hath gone by into heauen, to take her, and brought her downe from the cloudes?
- 30 Who hath gone ouer the sea, to finde her, and hath brought her, rather then fine golde?
- 31 No man knoweth her wayes, neither considereth her pathes.
- 32 But he that knoweth all things, knoweth her, and he hath found her out with his vnderstanding: this same is he which hath prepared the earth for curuēre, & hath filled it with foure scored draughts.

33 When he sendeth out the light, it goeth: and when he calleth it againe, it obeyeth him with feare.

34 And the starres shine in their watch, and reioyce. When he calleth them, they say, Here we be: and so with cheerefulnesse they shewe light vnto him & made them.

35 This is our God, and there shall none other be compared vnto him.

36 He hath found out all the way of knowledge, & hath giuen it vnto Jacob his seruant, and to Israel his beloved.

37 Afterward he was seene vpon earth: & dwelt among men.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The reward of them that keepe the law, and the punishment of the that despise it. 12 A comforting of the people being in captiuitie. 19 A complaint of Ierusalem and vnder the figure thereof of the Church. 25 A consolation and comforting of the same.

- 1 This is the booke of the commandements of God, and the law that endureth for euer: all they that keepe it, shall come to life: but such as forsake it, shall dye.
- 2 Turne thee, O Jacob, and take holde of it: walke by this brightnesse before the light thereof.
- 3 Gue not thine honour to another, nor the things that are profitable vnto thee, to a strange nation.
- 4 O Israel, we are blessed: for the things that are acceptable vnto God, are declared vnto vs.
- 5 Be of good comfort, O my people, which art the memorie of Israel.
- 6 Pe are solde to the nations, not for your destruction: but because ye prouoked God to wrath, ye were deliuered vnto the enemies.
- 7 For ye haue displeasēd him that made you, offering vnto diuels and not to God.
- 8 Pe haue forgotten him that created you, euen the euerslasing God, and ye haue grieued Ierusalem, that nourished you.
- 9 When she saue the wrath coming vpon you from God, she saide, Hearken, ye that dwell about Zion: for God hath brought me into great heauinesse.
- 10 I see the captiuitie of my sonnes and daughters, which the euerslasing will bring vpon them.
- 11 With ioy did I nourish them, but I must leaue them with weeping & mourning.
- 12 Let no man reioyce ouer me a widowe, & forsaken of many, which for the times of my children am desolate, because they departed from the law of God.
- 13 They would not know his righteousnes, nor walke in the wayes of his commandments: neither did they enter into paths of discipline, through his righteousness.

14 Come, ye that dwell about Zion, and call to remembrance the captiuitie of yongnes and daughters, which the euerlasting hath brought vpon them.

15 For he hath brought vpon them a nation from farre, an impudent nation and of a strange language.

16 Which neither recurrence the aged nor yitie the yong: these haue carried away the deare beloved of the widowers, leauing me alone, and destitute of my daughters.

17 But what can I helpe you?

18 Surely he that hath brought these plagues vpon you, can deliuer you from the handes of your enemies.

19 Goe your way, O children, goe your way: for I am left desolate.

20 I haue put off the clothing of peace, & put vpon me the sackcloth of praiere, and so long as I liue, I will call vpon the Euerlasting.

21 Be of good comfort O children: crie vnto God and he will deliuer you from the power, and hande of the enemies.

22 For I haue hope of your saluation, through the euerlasting: a ioy is com vpon me from the holy one, because of the mercy, which shall quickly come vnto you from our euerlasting Saviour.

23 For I sent you away with weeping, & mourning: but with ioye and perpetuall gladnes will God bring you againe vnto me.

24 Like as now the neighbours of Zion sawe your captiuitie, so shall they also see shortly your saluation from God. Which shall come vnto you with greate glorie, and brightnesse from the Euerlasting.

25 My children, suffer patiently y^e wrath that is come vpon you from God: for thine enemy hath persecuted thee, but shortly thou shalt see his destruction, and shall treade vpon his necke.

26 My darlings haue gone by rough ways, & were led away as a flocke that is scattered by the enemies.

27 Be of good comforte, my children, and crie vnto God: for he hath led you away hath you in remembrance.

28 And as it came into your mind, to goe astray from your God, so endure your selues tenne times moze, to turne againe and to sake him.

29 For he y^e hath brought these plagues vpon you, will bring you euerlasting ioye againe, with your saluation.

30 Take a good hart, O Jerusalem: for he which gaue thee that name, will comfort thee.

31 They are miserable that afflict thee, & such as reioyce at thy fall.

32 The cities are miserable whome thy children serue: miserable is she that hath taken thy sonnes.

33 For as she reioyced at thy decay, and was glad of thy fall, so shall she be sorre for her owne desolation.

34 For I will take away the reioycing of her great multitude, and her ioye shall be turned into mourning.

35 For a fire shall come vpon her, from the Euerlasting, long to endure, and she shall be inhabited of diuels for a greate season.

36 O Jerusalem looke towards the East, and beholde the ioye that cometh vnto thee from thy God.

37 Lo, thy sonnes (whome thou hast let goe) come gathered together from the East vnto the West, reioycing in the word of the Holy one vnto the honour of God.

CHAP. V.

Ierusalem is moued vnto gladnes for the returne of her people, & vnder the figure thereof of the Church.

1 Put off thy mourning clothes, O Jerusalem, and thine affliction, & decke thee with the worshipp and honour that cometh vnto thee from God for euermore.

2 Put on the garment of righteousnesse, that cometh from God, & let a crown vpon thine head of the glorie of the Euerlasting.

3 For God will declare thy brightnesse to euerie countrey vnder the heauen.

4 And God will name thee by this name for euer. The peace of righteousnesse, and the glorie of the worshipp of God.

5 Arise, O Jerusalem, and stande by on hie, and looke about thee towards the East and beholde thy children gathered from the East vnto the West by y^e word of the Holy one, reioycing in the remembrance of God.

6 For they departed from thee on foote, and were led away of their enemies: but God will bring them againe vnto thee, exalted in glorie as children of the kings dome.

7 For God hath determined to bring downe euerie high mountaine, and the long enduring rockes, and to fill the valleys to make the grounde plaine, that Israel may walke safely vnto the honore of God.

8 The woodes & all swete smelling trees shall overshadowe Israel at the commaundement of God.

9 For God shall bring Israel with ioye in the light of his maiesty, with the mercie and righteousnesse that cometh of him.

CHAP. VI.

A COPIE OF THE EPISTLE
that Ieremias sent vnto them that were led away captiues into Babilon by the King of the Babilonians, to certifie them of the thing that was commaunded him of God.

In this chapter are the makers & maintainers of images mightie confuted.

I Because of the finnes, that he haue committed against God, he shall be led away captiues vnto Babylon by Nabuchodonosor, King of the Babylonians.

2 So when pee come into Babylon, ye shall remaine there many yeares, and a long season, euen a seuen generations, and after that will I bring you away peaceable from thence.

3 * Nowe shall ye see in Babylon gods of siluer, and of gold, and of wood, borne vpon mens shoulders, to cause the people to feare.

4 Beware therefore that pee in no wise be like the strangers, neither be pee afrade of them, when pee see the multitude before them and behind them worshipping them,

5 But say pee in your heartes, O Ioyde, we must worship thee.

6 For mine Angel shall be with you, and shall care for your soules.

7 As for their tongue, it is polished by the carpenter, and they themselues are gilted and lapd ouer with siluer: yet are they but lyes and can not speake.

8 And as they take gold for a maid that loneth to be decke,

9 So make they crownes for the heades of their gods: sometimes also y^e Priestes themselues conuey away the golde, and siluer from their Gods, and bestow it vpon themselues.

10 Pea, they giue of the same vnto the harlotes, that are in their houses, againe they decke the gods of siluer, and gods of golde, and of wodde with garmentes like men.

11 Yet can they not be preferred fro ruste and wormes.

12 Though they haue covered them with clothing of purple, and wipe their faces because of the dust of the Temple, whereof there is muche vpon them.

13 One holdeth a scepter as though he were a certaine iudge of the countrey: yet can he not say such as offende him.

14 An other hath a dagger or an axe in his righte hand: yet is he not able to descende himselfe from battell, nor from theues: so then it is euident, that they be no gods.

15 Therefore feare them not: for as a vessel that a man vseth, is nothing worthy when it is broken,

16 Such are they gods: when they be set vp in their Temples, their eyes bee full of dust by reason of the feete of those that come in:

17 And as the gates that are shutte in rounde about vpon him that hath offended the King: or as one that shoulde be ledde to be put to death, so the Priestes keepe their Temple with doores & with lockes, and with barres, lest their gods shoulde be spoiled by robbers.

18 They light by candles before them: yea, more then for themselues, whereof they can not see one: for they are but as one of the postes of the Temple.

19 They confesse that euen their heartes are gnawen vpon: but when the things, that craepe out of the earth, eate them, and their clothes, they feele it not.

20 Their faces are blache through the smoke that is in the temple.

21 The owles, swallows and birdes slee vpon their bodies & vpon their heades, yea, and the cartes also.

22 By this pee may be sure, that they are not gods: therefore feare them not.

23 Notwithstanding the golde, that is about them to make them beautifull, except one wipe of the rust, they cans not shine: neither when they were molten, did they feele it.

24 The things wherein is no bveath, are bought for a most high price.

25 * They are borne vpon mens shoulders, because they haue no feete, whers by they declare vnto men, that they bee nothing worthy: yea, and they that worshippe them, are ashamed.

26 For if they fall to the grounde at anie time, they can not rise by againe of them selues, neither if one set them vpright, can they moue of them selues, neither if they be bowed down, can they make the selues streight: but they set giftes before them, as vnto dead men.

27 As for the things that are offered vnto them, their Priest sell them, and abuse them: likewise also the women lay vp of the same, but vnto the poore and sicke they giue nothing.

28 The menstruous women, and they that are in childbed, touch their sacrifices: by these things pee may knowe y^e they are no gods: feare them not.

29 From whence commeth it then, that they are called gods: because the womē bring giftes to the gods of siluer of gold, and wood.

30 And the Priestes sit in their temples, hauing their clothes rent, whose beades and beards are as haauen, and being bare headed,

31 They roare, and erie before their gods, as men do at y^e feast of one that is dead.

32 The Priestes also take away of their garmentes, and clothy their wiues and children.

33 Whether it beuill that one doeth vnto them, or good, they are not able to recompence it: they can neither set vpp a King nor put him downe.

34 In like manner they can neither giue riches, nor money, though a man make a row vnto them and keepe it not, they will not require it.

35 They can saue no man from death, neither deliuer the weak from the mightie.

36 They can not restore a blinde man to his sight, nor helpe any man at his neede.

37 They can helpe no mercie to the widow, no: do good to the fatherles.

38 Their gods of wood, golde and siluer, are as stones, that be hewen out of the mount

That is, seuentie yeares.

- mountaine, and they that worship them, shall be confounded.
- 39 How should a man then thinke or say that they are gods?
- 40 Whosoever the Chaldeans themselves dishonour them: for when they see a Dominicke man, that can not speake, they preferre him to Bel,
- 41 And desire that he would make him to speake, as though he had any feeling: per they that vnderstand those things, can not leaue them: for they also haue no sense.
- 42 Furthermore the women, girded wth coardes, sit in the streetes, and burne ^{to} strawe.
- 43 And if one of them be drawen away, & lie with any such as come by, she calleth her neighbour in the teeth, because she was not so worthily reputed, nor her coarde broken.
- 44 Whatsoever is done among them, is lies: how may it then be thought or said that they are gods?
- 45 Carpenters & goldsmithes make them, neither be they any other thing, but euen what the workeman will make them.
- 46 Pea, they that make them, are of no long continuance: how should then the things that are made of them be gods?
- 47 Therefore they leaue y^{es}, and shame for their posteritie.
- 48 For when there cometh any warre or plague vpon them, the Priests imagine with themselves, where they may hide them selves with them.
- 49 How then can men not perceiue, that they be no gods, which can neither defend themselves from warre, nor from plagues?
- 50 For seeing they be but of wood, and of siluer, and of golde, men shall know hereafter that they are but y^{es}, and it shall be manifest to all nations and kinges, that they be no gods, but the workes of wemens handes, & that there is no worke of God in them.
- 51 Whereby it may be knowen, that they are no gods.
- 52 They can set by no king in the land, nor giue raigne vnto men.
- 53 They can giue no sentence of a matter, neither preferre from iniurie: they haue no power, but are as crows be twene the heauen and the earth.
- 54 When there falleth a fire vpon the house of those gods of wood, and of siluer, and of golde, the Priests will escape & saue themselves, but they burne as the barks therein.
- 55 They can not withstand any king or enemies: how can it then be thought or said that they be gods?
- 56 Therefore these gods of wood, of golde, & of siluer can neither defend them selves from theues nor robbers.
- 57 For they that are strongest, take away their gold and siluer, and apparell, wherewith they be clothed: & when they haue it, they get them away: per can they not helpe themselves.
- 58 Therefore it is better to be a King, and so to shewe his power, or else a profitable vessel in an house, wherewith it at once it might haue profit, then such false gods: or to be a doore in an house, to keepe such things safe as be therein, then such false gods: or a pillar of wood in a palace, then such false Gods.
- 59 For the sunne & the moone, & the starres that shine, when they are sent downe for necessarie vses, obey.
- 60 Likewise also the lightning when it shineth, it is euident: and the winde bloweth in euery countrie.
- 61 And when God commandeth his clouds to go about the whole world, they doe as they are bidden.
- 62 When the fire is sent downe from aboue to destroy hills and woods, it doeth that which is commanded: but these are not like any of these things, neither in forme, nor power.
- 63 Wherefore men should not thinke, nor say that they be gods, seeing they can neither giue sentence in iudgement, nor do men good.
- 64 For so much now as ye are sure, they be no gods, feare them not.
- 65 For they can neither curse, nor blesse kinges:
- 66 Neither can they shew signes in the heauen among the heathen, neither shine as the moone.
- 67 The beasts are better then they: for they can get them vnder a couert, & do themselves good.
- 68 So ye may be certified that by no manner of meanes, they are gods: therefore feare them not.
- 69 For as a skarcrowe in a garden, of cumbers keepeth nothing, so are these gods of wood, and of siluer, and of golde:
- 70 And likewise their gods of wood, and golde and siluer are like to a white thorne in an orchard, that euery birde sitteth vpon, & as a dead bodie that is cast in the darke.
- 71 By the purple also & brightness, which fadereth vpon them, ye may vnderstand, that they be no gods: pea, they themselves shall be consumed at the last, & they shall be a shame to the countrie.
- 72 Better therefore is the mit man, that hath none idols: for he shall be free from reproche.

25 The prayer of Azarias, 46 The cruellie of the King. 48 The flame deuoureth the Chaldeans, 49 The Angel of the Lord was in the furnace. 51 The three children praise the Lord and prouoke all creatures to the same.

As they walked in the mids of the flame, praying God, & magnified the Lord.
Then Azarias scoode vp, & prayed on this maner, & opening his mouth in the middes

- of the fire, saide,
26 Blessed be thou, O Lord God of our fathers: thy Name is worthe to be prayed and honoured for euermore.
27 For thou art righteous in al the things, that thou hast done vnto vs, and all thy woorks are true, and thy waies are right, and all thy iudgements certene.
28 In all the things þ thou hast brought vpon vs, & vpon Ierusalem, the holie cite of our fathers, thou hast executed true iudgements: for by right & equite hast thou brought all these things vpon vs, because of our sinnes.
29 For we haue sinned and done wickedly, departing from thee: in all things haue we trespassed, 30 And not obeyed thy commandements, nor kept them, neither done as thou haddest commanded vs, that we might prosper.
31 Wherefore in al that thou hast brought vpon vs, and in euerie thing that thou hast done to vs, thou hast done them in true iudgement:
32 As in deliuering vs into the handes of our wicked enemies, and moste hatefull traitours, and to an vnrightheous King, and the moste wicked in all the world.
33 And now we may not open our mouths: we are become a shame and reprob of vnto thy seruantes, and to them that worship thee.
34 Yet for thy Names sake, we beseeche thee, quite vs not by for euer, neither breake thy covenant,
35 Neither take away thy mercie from vs, for thy deuoted abrahams sake, & for thy servant Isaacs sake, and for thine holie Israels sake,
36 To whom thou hast spoken and promised, that thou wouldest multiply their seede as the starrs of heauen, and as the sand, that is vpon the sea shore.
37 For we, O Lord, are become lesse then any nation, & be kept vnder this day in all the world, because of our sinnes:
38 So that now we haue neither Prince, nor Propheet nor gouernour, nor iust offering nor sacrifice nor oblation, nor misericorde, nor place to offer the first fruits before thee: that we might finde mercie, 39 Mercielesse in a contrite heart, & an humble spirite, let vs be receiued.
40 As in the burnt offering of rams & bul-

- locks, & as in ten thousand of fat lambs, so let our offering be in thy sight this day, þ it may please thee: for there is no confusion vnto them þ put their trust in thee.
41 And now we followe thee with all our heart, and feare thee & seeke thy face.
42 Put vs not to shame, but deale with vs after thy louing kindnesse, & according to the multitude of thy mercies.
43 Deliuer vs also by thy miracles, & giue thy Name the glorie, O Lord, 44 That all they which do thy seruantes euill, may be confounded: euen let them be confounded by thy great force and power, & let their strength be broken,
45 That they may know, that thou onely art the Lord God, and glorious ouer the whole worlde.
46 ¶ Now the kings seruantes þ had cast them in, cealed not to make the ouen hote with naphtha, & with pitch, and with tow, and with fagots, 47 So that the flame went out of the furnace fourtie and nine cubites.
48 And it brake forth, & burnt those Chaldeans, that it found þ in the furnace.
49 But the Angell of the Lord went down into the furnace with them þ were with Azarias, & snote the flame of the fire out of the furnace,
50 And made in the middes of the furnace like a mapt hilling winde, so that the fire touched them not at all, neither graued, nor troubled them.
51 Then these three (as out of one mouth) praised, & glorified, and blessed God in the furnace saying,
52 Blessed be thou, O Lord God of our fathers, and prayed, and exalted aboute all things for euer, & blessed be thy glorious & holie Name, & praised aboute al things, and magnified for euer.
53 Blessed be thou in the temple of thine holie glorie, & praised aboute all things, & exalted for euer.
54 Blessed be þ that beholdest the depths, and sitest vpon the Cherubins, & prayed aboute all things, & exalted for euer.
55 Blessed be thou in the glorious Throne of thy kingdome, and prayed aboute all things, and exalted for euer.
56 Blessed be thou in the firmament of heauen, & praised aboute all things, and glorified for euer.
57 All ye woikes of the Lord, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, and exalt him aboute all things for euer.
58 O heuens, blesse ye the Lorde: praise him, and exalte him aboute all things for euer.

THE HISTORIE OF SVSANNA, WHICH some ioyned to the ende of Daniel, and make it the thirtieth chapter.

3 The two gouernours are taken with the loue of Susanna. 19 They take her alone in the garden. 20 They solicit her to wickednes. 23 She chooses rather to obey God, though it be to the daunger of her life. 34 She is accus-
sed. 45 Daniel doth deliuer her. 62 The gouernours are put to death.

1 Here dwelt a man in Babylon called Joacim.
2 And hee tooke a wife, whose name was Susanna, the daughter of Helcias, a verie faire woman, and one that feared God.
3 Her father and her mother also were godlie people, and taught their daughte-rer according to the Law of Moyses.

4 Now Joacim was a greate riche man, and had a faire garden ioyning vnto his house, & to him resorted the Jewes, because he was more honorable then all others.
5 The same yere were appointed two of the ancients of the people to be iudges, such as the Lord speaketh of, that the iniquitie came from babylon, and from the ancient iudges, which seemed to rule the people.
6 These haunted Joacims house, and all such as had any thing to do in the Law, came thither vnto them.
7 Now when the people departed away at none, Susanna went into her husbands garden to walke.

8 And the two Elders sawe her that she went in daile & walked, so that their lust was inflamed toward her.

9 Therefore they turned away their mind & cast downe their eyes, that they should not see heauen, nor remember iust iudgements.

10 And albeit they bothe were wounded with her loue, yet durst not one shew another his griefe.

11 For they were ashamed to declare their lust, that they desired to haue to do with her.

12 Yet they watched diligently from day to day, to see her.

13 And the one said to the other, Let vs go now home, for it is dinner time.

14 So they went their way, and departed one from another: yet they returned againe, & came into the same place, & after that they had asked one another the cause, they acknowledged their lust: then appointed they a time both together when they might finde her alone.

15 Now when they had spied out a conuenient time, that she was in, as her maner was, with two maids onely, & thought to walke with her selfe in the garden (for it was an hot season)

16 And there was no bodie there, saue the two Elders that had hid themselves, & watched for her:

17 Shee said to her maids, Whilke me oyle & sope, & shut the garden doores, that I may walke me.

18 And they did as shee bade them, & shut the garden doores & went out themselves, at a backe doore, to set the thing that shee had commaunded them: but they sawe not the Elders, because they werchid.

19 Now when the maids were gon forth, the two Elders rose vp & came vnto her saying,

20 Beholde, the garden doores are shut that no man can see vs, & wee burne in loue with thee: therefore consent vnto vs, and be with vs.

21 If thou wilt not, we will beare witness against thee, that a pong man was with thee & therefore thou diddest send away thy maides from thee.

22 Then Susanna sighest, & said, I am in trouble on euery side: for if I doe this thing, it is death vnto me: & if I do it not I can not escape your handes.

23 It is better for mee to fall into your handes, & not to do it, then to sinne in the sight of the Lord.

24 With that Susanna cryed with a loud voyce, & the two Elders cried out against her.

25 Then came the one, & opened the garden doore.

26 So when the seruants of the house heard the crye in the garden, they rushed in at the backe doore, to see what was done vnto her.

27 But when the Elders had declared their matter, the seruants were greatly ashamed: for there was neuer such a report made of Susanna.

28 On the morow after, came the people to Joacim her husband, and the two Elders came also, full of malicious imagination against Susanna, to put her to death, 29 And said before the people, Sende for Susanna the daughter of Helcias Joacims wife. And immediately they sent.

30 So shee came with her father & mother, her children and all her kindred.

31 Now Susanna was very tender, and faire of face.

32 And these wicked men commaunded to vncouer her face (for shee was v. uered) that they might so be satisfied with her beautie.

33 Therefore they that were about her, & all they that knew her, wept.

34 Then the two Elders scoode by in the middes of the people, and layed their handes vpon her head.

35 Which went & looked vp toward heauen: for her heart teared in the Lord.

36 And the Elders said, Wee we walked in the garden alone, shee came in with two maides, whom shee sent away from her & shut the garden doores.

37 Ther a pong man, whiche there was hid, came vnto her, & lay with her.

38 Then wee which scoode in a corner of the garden, seeing this wickednesse, ranne vnto them, & we saw them as they were together.

39 But we could not hold him: for he was stronger then we, & opened the doores and leaped out.

40 Now when we had taken this womā, we asked what pong man this was, but shee would not tel vs: of these things are we witnesses.

41 Then the assemblie beloued them, as those that were the Elders & iudges of the people: so they condemned her to death.

42 Then Susanna cried out with a loud voyce, & saide, O everlasting God, that knowest the secrets, & knowest all things afore they come to passe, 43 Thou knowest, that they haue borne false witness against me, & behold, I must die, whereas I neuer did such things as these men haue maliciouslye inuented against mee.

44 And the Lord heard her voyce.

45 Therefore when shee was led to be put to death, the Lord rayed vp the holy spirit of a ponge childe, whose name was Daniel.

46 Who cried with a loud voyce, I am cleane from the blood of this woman.

47 Then all the people turned their toward him, & saide, What meane these wordes that thou hast spoken?

48 Then Daniel scoode in the middes of them, & said, Are pee such fools, O Iraelites, that without examination, or knowledge

4 To wit, from God.

knowneledge of the truth, he haue condemned a daughter of Israel?

- 49 Returne againe to iudgement: for they haue borne false witness againt her.
- 50 Wherefore the people turned againe in al haste, and the Elders said vnto him, Come, sit downe among vs, and shewe it vs, seeinge God hath giuen vnto the of his of an Eld.
- 51 Then saide Daniel vnto them, Put these two aside, one farr from an other, and I will examine them.
- 52 So when they were put asunder, one from an other, he called one of them and saide vnto him, O thou that art olde in a wicked life, nowe thy times which thou hast committed afore time, are come to light.
- 53 For thou hast pronounced false iudgements, and hast condemned the innocēt, and hast let the guiltie go free, albeit it the Loyde saith, * The innocent and righteous shalt thou not flap.
- 54 Nowe then, if thou hast seene her, tell me, vnder what tree sawest thou them companying together? Who answered, Vnder a lentiske tree.
- 55 Then saide Daniel, Verily thou hast spred againt thine owne head: for so the Angel of God hath receiued the sentence of God to me thee in two.
- 56 So put he him aside, and commanded to bring the other, and said vnto him, O thou seede of Chanaan, and not of Juda, beautie hath deceiued thee, and lust hath

- subuerted thine heart.
- 57 Thus haue ye dealt with the daughters of Israel, and they for feare compassed with you: but the daughter of Iudaba would not abide you wickednesse.
- 58 Nowe therefore tell me, vnder what tree diddest thou take them companying together? Who answered, Vnder a yuine tree. * Or, mixels tree.
- 59 Then saide Daniel vnto him, Verily thou hast also spred againt thine head: for the Angel of God waiteth with the swoorde to cut thee in two, & so to destroy pou both.
- 60 ¶ With that all the whole assemblie cryed with a loude voyce, & praised God, which saucth them that trull in him.
- 61 And they arose againt þ two Elders, (for Daniel had conuicted them of false witness by their owne mouth)
- 62 * And according to the Law of Moyses they dealt with them, as they dealt wickedly againt their neighbour, and put them to death. Thus the innocent blood was sated the same day.
- 63 Therefore Helcias, & his wife praised God for their daughter Susanna, with Ioann her huf band, and all the kured, þ there was no dishonestie found in her.
- 64 From that day forth was Daniel had in great reputation in the sight of the people.
- 65 And king Assyages was laid with his fathers, and Cyus of Persia reigned in his steade.

Exod. 23. 7.
* Or, life.

The Historie of Bel and of the Dragon, which is the fourteenth Chapter of Daniel after the Latine.

1 Now when king Assyages was laide with his fathers, Cyus the Persian receiued his kingdom.

2 And Daniel did eate at the kings table, and was honoured aboue all his friends.

- 3 Nowe the Babylonians had an idole, called Bel, and there were spent vpon him e very day, twelue great measures of fine floure, and fourtie sheepe, and sixe ge: & pots of wine.
- 4 And þa, a g worshipped it & went halp to holite. But Daniel worshipped his owne god. And the king saide vnto him, Why dost not thou worship Bel?
- 5 Who answered, and saide, Because I may not worship idols made with handes, but the living God, which hath created the heauen and the earth, and hath powder vpon all flesh.
- 6 Then said the king vnto him, Thinkest thou not that Bel is a living God? seest thou not how much he exiety and drinketh euery day?
- 7 Then Daniel smiled and saide, O King, be not deceiued: this is but clay with in, and brasse without, and did neuer eat

- any thing.
- 8 So the king was wroth, and called for his Priestes, and said vnto them, I spe tell me not, who this is that eateth by these expences, ye shall dye:
- 9 But if ye can certifie me that Bele eateth them, then Daniel shal dye: for he hath spokt blasphemie againt Bel. And Daniel saide vnto the King, let it be according to thy word.
- 10 (Nowe the Priestes of Bel were thre score and teine, beside their wives and children:) and the king went with Daniel into the temple of Bel.
- 11 So Bels Priestes saide, Beholde, we will go out, and let thou the meate there, O king, and let the wine be filled: then shut the doore fast, and seale it with thine owne signet:
- 12 And to morowe when thou comest in, if thou findest not that Bel hath eaten by all, we wil suffer death, or else Daniel that hath spred byon vs.
- 13 Nowe they thought them selues sure enough: for vnder þ table they had made a yuine entrance, and there went they in euer, and toke aw ay the things.
- 14 So when they were gone forth, the king let meate before Bel. Now Daniel had commanded his seruants to bring altes, 4 Called Arcaba, wherof euetry one contained somewhat more then nine galons, which maketh in al an hundred eight galons at the least.

6 Called Metreta, & euery one of these measures contened about ten galons, which in all make three score.

- ashes, and these they strawed throughout all the Temple, in the presence of the king alone: then went they out, and shut the doore, and sealed it with the kings signer, and so departed.
- 15 Howe in the night came the Priestes, with their wiues and children, (as they were wont to do) and did eate and drinke by all.
- 16 In the morning betimes, the King arose and Daniel with him.
- 17 And the King said, Daniel, are þe scales whole? Who answered, Yea, O King, they be whole.
- 18 And as soone as he had opened the doore, the King looked vpon the table, &
cried with a loud voyce, Great art thou,
O Well, and with thee is no deceit.
- 19 Then laughed Daniel, and helde the King that he should not go in, and saide, Behold nowe the pavement, and marke well whose footesteps are these.
- 20 And the King saide, I see the footesteps of men, women, and children: therefore the King was angrie,
- 21 And tooke the Priestes, with their wiues, and children, and they shewed him the priuite doore, where they came in, and consumed such things as were vpon the table.
- 22 Therefore the King slue them, and delivered Bel into Daniels power, who destroyed him and his Temple.
- 23 I Moreover in that same place there was a great dragon, which the Babylonianians worshipped.
- 24 And the King saide vnto Daniel, Sai-est thou, that this is of brasse also? Ioe, he liueth and eateth & drinketh, so that thou canst not say, that he is no liuing
God: therefore worship him.
- 25 Then said Daniel vnto the king, I wil worship the Lord my God: for he is the liuing God.
- 26 But giue me leave, O King, and I wil slay this drago without sword or staffe.
And the King said, I giue thee leave.
- 27 Then Daniel tooke pitch, and fat, and haxe, and did seth them together, and made lumpes thereof: this he put in the dragons mouth, and so the dragon burst in sunder. And Daniel saide, Behoide, whome ye worship.
- 28 When the Babylonians heard it, they were wonderfull wroth, and gathered

- them together against the King, saying,
The King is become a Jewe: for he hath destroyed Bel, and hath saide the dragon, and put the Priestes to deaht.
- 29 So they came to the King, and saide, Deliver vs Daniel, or else we will destroy thee and thine house.
- 30 Howe when the King saide, that they pleaded soye vpon him, and that neces-sarie constrained him, he deliuered Daniel vnto them:
- 31 Who cast him into the lions denne,
where he was sixe daies.
- 32 In the denne there were seven lions, and they had giuen them euery day two bodies and two haepe, which then were not giuen them, to the intent that they might deuour Daniel.
- 33 I Howe there was in Ieruzalem a Prophet called Abbacuc, which had made portage, and broken bread into a bowle, and was going into the field for to bring it to the reapers.
- 34 But the Angel of the Lorde saide vnto Abbacuc, Go, carrie the meate that thou hast, into Babylon vnto Daniel, which is in the lions denne.
- 35 And Abbacuc saide, Lord, I neuer sawe Babylon, neither do I knowe where the denne is.
- 36 Then þe Angel tooke him by the crown of the head, and bare him by the haire of the head, and through a mightie wind set him in Babylon vnto the denne.
- 37 And Abbacuc cryed, saying, O Daniel, Daniel, take the dinner that God hath sent thee.
- 38 Then saide Daniel, O God, thou hast thought vpon me, and thou neuer failest them that seeke thee and loue thee.
- 39 So Daniel arose, and did eate, and the angel of the Lorde set Abbacuc in his own place againe immediately.
- 40 Vpon the seventh day, the King went to bewaile Daniel: and when he came to the denne, he looked in, and beholde, Daniel sat in the middes of the lions.
- 41 Then cryed the King with a lowde
voyce, saying, Great art thou, O Lorde God of Daniel, and there is none other besides thee.
- 42 And he drewe him out of the denne, and cast them that were the cause of his destruction into the denne, & they were deuoured in a moment be- this face.

Antiochus festereth yf idoles.
- 1 After that Alexander the Macedonian, the sonne of Philippe, went forth of the lande of Chittim, and slue Darius King of þe Persians and Greces, and reigned for him, as he had before in Grecia.

- 2 He tooke great warres in hande, and wonne strong holdes, and slue the kings of the earth.
- 3 So went he throzowe to the endes of the worlde, and tooke spoiles of many strong hoste,

5 And had reigned ouer regions, nations, and kingdomes, they became tributaries vnto him.

6 After these things he fell sicke, & knewe that he should dye.

7 Then he called for the chiefe of his ser-uants, which had been brought by with him of children, and parted his kingdome among them, while he was yet aloue.

8 So Alexander had reigned twelue yeres when he died.

of Syria.

9 And his seruants reigned, euerie one in his roune.

10 And they all caused themselves to be crowned after his death, and so did their children after them manie yeres, and much wickednesse increased in the world.

Or noble.

11 For out of these came the wicked roote, euen Antiochus Epiphanes, the soune of King Antiochus, which had bene an hostage at Rome, and he reigned in the hundredth and seuen and thirtieth yere of the kingdome of the Greeces.

d The begin of the parthians.

12 In those dayes went there out of Je-rael wicked men, which entiled many, saying, Let vs go, and make a couenant with the heathen, that are rounde about vs: for since we departed from them, we haue had much sorow.

13 So this deuice pleased them well.

14 And certaine of the people were ready, and went to the King which gaue them licence to do after the ordinaunces of the heathen.

15 Then set they by a place of exercise at Jerusalem, according to the factions of the heathen,

16 And made themselves f bncircumcised, and so forsooke the holie Couenant, and ioyned themselves to the heathen, and were sold to do mischief.

17 So when Antiochus kingdome was set in order, he went about to reigne ouer Egypt, that he might haue the dominion of two Realmes.

18 Therefore he entred into Egypt with a mightie company, with chariots, & Es-lephants, and with horsemen, and with a great nauie,

19 And g moued warre against Ptolemeus king of Egypt: but Ptolemeus was afraid of him, and fled, and many were wounded to death.

20 Thus Antiochus wanne manie strong cities in the land of Egypt, and tooke away the spoiles of the lande of Eg-gypt.

21 And after that Antiochus had smitten Egypt, he turned againe in the hundredth fourtie and thre yere.

22 And went vp toward Israel & Jerusalem with a mightie people.

23 And entred proudly into the Sanctuarie, and tooke a way the golden altar, and the candlesticke for the light, and all the instruments thereof, & the table of the shewbread, and the poloying vessels, and the bowles, and the golden basins, and the vails, and the crownes, and the gold-den apparell, which was before the Temple, and brake all in peeces.

24 He tooke also the silver & gold, and the precious itewels, and hee tooke the lea-ser treasures that hee founde, and when he had taken a way all, he departed into his owne land,

25 After he had murdered many men, & spoken very proudly.

26 Therefore there was a great lamentation in euerie place of Israel.

27 For the princes and the Elders moue-ned: the pong women, and the pong men were made feeble, and the beauty of the women was changed.

28 Euerie hydegrone tooke him to mouening, and they that fate in the marriage chamber, was in heaumes.

29 The land also was moued for the inhabitants thereof: for all the house of Jacob was covered with confusion.

30 After two yeres the King sent his chief taxe master into the cities of Iuda, which came to Jerusalem with a great multitude.

31 Who spake peaceable words vnto the in deceit, and they gaue credit vnto him.

32 Then he fel suddenly vpon the cite, & smote it with a great plague, & destroyed much people of Israel.

33 And when he had spoiled the cite, hee set fire on it, casting dolone the houles therof, & walles therof on euery side.

34 The women & their children tooke they captiue, and led a way the cattel.

35 Then fortified they the cite of Daauid with a great and thicke wall, & with mightie towres, & made it a strong holde for them.

36 Moreover they set wicked people there, & vngodly persons, & fortified them selues therein.

37 And they stored it with weapons & vis-tails, & gathered the spoile of Jerusalem, and laped it vp there.

38 Thus became they a soye snare & were in ambushment for the Sanctuarie, and were wicked enemies euermore vnto Israel.

39 For they shed innocent blood on euery side of the Sanctuarie, & defiled the Sanctuarie.

40 In so much that the citizens of Jerusalem fled a way because of them, & it became an habitation of strangers, being desolate of them whom they had bozue:
for her owne children did leaue her.

41 Her Sanctuarie was left waste as a wildernes: her holy dayes were turned into mourning, her Sabbaths into reproch, & her honour brought to naught.

42 As her glory had bene great, so was her dishonour, and her excellencie was turned into sorow.

43 Also the king wrote unto 'all his kingdome, that all the people should be as one, and that every man should leave his lawes.

44 And all the heathen agreed to the commandement of the King.

45 Yea, many of the Israelites consented to his religion, offering unto idoles, and defiling the Sabbath.

46 So the King sent letters by the messegers unto Jerusalem, and to the cities of Juda, that they should follow the strange lawes of the countrey,

47 And that they should forbid the burnt offerings and sacrifices, and the ' offerings in the Sanctuary.

48 And that they should defile the Sabbaths and the feasts,

49 And pollute the Sanctuary & the holy men.

50 And to set up altars, and grones, and chappels of idoles, & offer up swines flesh, & vniclear beastes,

51 And that they should leane their children vncircumcised, & defile their soules with vncleannes, & pollute themselves, that they might foiget the Law, & chang
all the ordinances,

52 And that whosoever would not do according to the commandement of the King, should suffer death.

53 In like manner wrote he throughout all his kingdomes, & let ouersers ouer all the people, for to compel them to doe these things.

54 And he commanded the destruction of Juda to do sacrifice, citie by citie.

55 Then went many of the people vnto them by heapes, euery one that forsooke the Law, & so they committed euil in the land.

56 And they dioued the Israelites into secret places, euen wherelouer they could flee for succour.

57 The fiftenth day of Casten, in the hundredth & fouertie pere, they set up the abomination of desolation vpon the altar, & they builded altars throughout the citie of Juda on euery side.

58 And before the doores of the houses, & in the streets they burnt incense.

59 And the bookes of the Law, which they found, they burnt in the fire, and cut in pieces.

60 Whosoever had a booke of the Testament found by him, or whosoever consented vnto the Lawe, the Kings commandement was, that they should put him to death by their authoritie.

61 And they executed these things euery moneth vpon the people of Israel that were found in their cities.

62 And in the five & twentieth day of the moneth, they did sacrifice vpon the altar, which was in the stead of the altar of sacrifices.

63 And according to the commandement they put certen women to death, which had caused their children to be circumcised,

64 And they hangd by the children at their neckes, & they spoiled their houses, & slew the circumcisers of them.

65 Yet were there many in Israel, which were of courage, and determined in their selues, that they would not eate vniclear
things,

66 But chose rather to suffer death, then to be defiled with those meates: so because they would not break the holy covenant, they were put to death.

67 And this ' tyrannie was very sore vps on the people of Israel.

CHAP. II.

x The mourning of Mattathias and his sonnes for the destruction of the holy citie. 19 They refuse to do sacrifice vnto idoles, 24 The zeale of Mattathias for the Law of God, 33 They are slaine and will not fight againe because of the Sabbath day. 49 Mattathias dying commandeth his sonnes to sicke by the word of God after the example of the fathers.

In those daies stood by Mattathias Joseph. An.
the Priest, the soune of Joannes, the 119. 12. ca. 7.
sonne of Simeon, of the sonnes of Joasrih of Jerusalem, & dwelt in Modin.

2 And he had five sonnes, Joanian called Saddis,

3 Simon called Thassi,

4 Judas which was called Maccabeus,

5 Eleazar called ' Abaron, & Jonathan, ' Or, Anas. whose name was Apphus. 119.

6 Now he saw the blasphemies, whiche were committed in Juda & Jerusalem:

7 And he said, Who is me: wherefore was I borne, to see this destruction of my people, & the destruction of the holy citie, & thus to sit still? it is deliuered into the hands of the enemies,

8 And the Sanctuary is in the handes of strangers: her Temple is as a man that hath no renoume.

9 Her glorious vessels are caried away into captiuitie: her infants are slaine in the streets, & her young men are fallen by the sword of the enemies.

10 What people is it, that hath not some possession in her kingdom, or hath not gotten of her peoples?

11 All her glorie is taken away: of a free woman, she is become an handmaid.

12 Behold, our Sanctuary & our beauty, & honour is desolate, & the Gentiles haue defiled it.

13 What helpeth it vs then to liue any longer?

14 And Mattathias rent his clothes, he,
& his sonnes, & put sackcloth vpon them,
& mourned very sore.

15 ¶ Then came men from the King to the citie of Modin to compel them to sollake God, & to sacrifice.

16 So many of the Israelites consented vnto them: but Mattathias & his sonnes assembled together.

17 Then spake the commissioners of the King, & said vnto Mattathias, Thou art the chiefe & an honorable man, and great in this citie, and halte many children

dient. and brethren.

18 Come thou therefore first, and fulfil the Kings commandment, as all the Hea- then have done, and also the men of Jus- da. and such as remaine at Jerusalem: so shalt thou and thy familie be in the Kings fauour, and thou and thy childre shall be enriched with siluer and golde, & with many rewardes.

19 Then Mattathias answered and saide with a loud voice, Though all na- tions that are vnder the Kings domi- nion, obey him, and sal away euery man from the religion of their fathers, and consent to his commandments,

20 a Pet will I and my sonnes, and my brethren, walke in the couenant of our fathers.

21 God be mercifull vnto vs, that we for- sake not the Lawe and the ordinances.

22 We will not hearken vnto the Kings wordes to transgresse our religion, nei- ther on the right side, nor on the left.

23 And when he had left off speaking these wordes, there came one of the Iewes, in the sight of all to sacrifice vpon the altar which was at Modin, according to the Kings commandment.

24 Nowe when Mattathias sawe it, he was so muche inflamed with zeale, that his rapnes stooke and his wrath was kind- led according to the ordinance of the law: therefore he rane vnto him, and killed him by the altar:

25 And at the same time he slue the kings commissioner, that compelled him to doe sacrifice, and despoiled the altar.

26 Thus bare he zeale to the Lawe of God, a doing, as Phinees did vnto Zambri h some of Saloin.

27 Then cried Mattathias with a loud voice in the citie, saying, Who so curis zealous of the Lawe, and will stande by the couenant, let him come forth after me.

28 So he, and his sonnes fled into the mountaynes, and left all that they had in the citie.

29 Then many that sought after iustice and iudgement,

30 Went downe into the wildernesse to dwell there, both they, and their child- ren, and their wiues, and their cattell: for the afflictions increased: soze vpon them.

31 Now when it was told vnto h kings seruants, and to the garisons, which were in Jerusalem in the citie of Dauid, that men had broken the kings comma- dement, and were gone downe into the secret places in the wildernesse,

32 Then many pursued after them: a ha- ving overtaken them, they camped a- gainst them, and set the battell in array against them on the Sabbath day,

33 And saide vnto them, Let this now be sufficient: come forth and do according to the commandment of the king, and ye shall liue.

34 But they answered, we will not goe forth, neither will we doe the kings com- mandment, to desile the Sabbath day.

35 Then they gaue them the battell.

36 But the other answered them nothing, neither cast any one stone at them, nor stopped the ymme places.

37 But saide, We will dye all in our inno- cencie: the heauen and earth shall testifie for vs, that ye despoil vs wrongfully.

38 Thus they gaue them the battell vpon the Sabbath, and slue both men and cats- tell, their wiues and their children to the number of a thousand people.

39 When Mattathias and his friends vnderstoode this, they mourned for them greatly,

40 And saide one to another, If we al do as our brethren haue done, and fight noc against the heathen for our liues, and for our Lawes, then shall they incontinently despoil vs out of the earth.

41 Therefore they concluded at the same time, saying, Who so euer shall come to make battell with vs vpon the Sabbath day, we will fight against him, that we die not all, as our brethren that were murdered in the secret places.

42 Then came vnto them the assemble of the Iudeans, which were of the strongest men of Israel, all such as were wel imbu- ded toward the Lawe.

43 And al they that were fled for persecu- tion, topped them selues vnto them, and were an helpe vnto them.

44 So they gathered a power, and smote the wicked men in their wrath, and the Ingodly in their anger: but the rest fled vnto the heathen, and escaped.

45 Then Mattathias and his friends went about, and despoiled the altars, 46 And circumcised the children by force that were vncircumcised, as many as they found with in the coastes of Israel.

47 And they pursued after the proud me: and this act prospered in their hands.

48 So they recovered the Lawe out of the hand of the Gentiles, & out of the hande of kings, and gaue not place to the wic- ked.

49 Nowe when the time drew nere, that Mattathias should dye, he saide vnto his sonnes, Nowe is pride and persecu- tion increased, and the time of destructi- on, and the wrath of indignation.

50 Nowe therefore, my sonnes, be ye sea- zous of the Lawe, and giue your liues for the couenant of our fathers.

51 Cal to remembrance what acts our fa- thers did in their time: so that ye receive great honour and an euerlasting name.

52 * Was not Abraham found faithfull Ge. 22.9.20 in tentation, and it was imputed vnto rom 4.3. him for righteousness?

made the governour of Israel.
 56 * Caleb, because he bare witness before the congregation, received the heritage of the land.
 57 * David, because of his mercie obtained the throne of the kingdome for evermore.
 58 * Elias, because he was zealous and feruent in the Lawe, was taken up euen into heauen.
 59 * Ananias, Azarias & Misael by their faith were deliuered out of the flame.
 60 * Daniel, because of his innocencie, was deliuered from the mouth of the Lyons.
 61 And thus ye may consider throughout all ages, that who so ener put their trust in him, shall not want strenght.
 62 Feare not ye then the wordes of a sinfull man: for his gloyp is but downe and wormes.
 63 To day is he set by, and to morrowe he shall not be found: for he is turned into his dust, and his purpose perisheth.
 64 Wherefore, my sonnes, take good hearts, and shewe your selues men for the lawe: for by it shall you obtaine gloyp.
 65 And beholde, I knowe that your brother Simon is a man of counsell: giue eare vnto him alway: he shall be a father vnto you.
 66 And Judas Machabeus hath bene mightie and strong, eue from his yongh by: let him be your captaine, and fight you the battell for the people.
 67 Thus shall ye bring vnto you all those that obserue the Lawe, and shall auenge the iniuries of your people.
 68 Accompenie fully the Heathen, and giue your selues to the commandement of the Lawe, 69 So he blessed them, and was laid with his fathers.
 70 And dyed in the hundredeth, fourtie, and sixte yeare, and his sonnes buried him in his fathers sepulchre at Modin, and all Israel made great lamentation for him.

CHAP. III.

1 Judas is made ruler ouer the Iewes. 11 He killeth Apollonius and Seron the princes of Syria. 44 The confidence of Judas toward God. 55 Judas determineth to fight against Lysias, whom Antiochus had made captaine ouer his host.

1 Then Judas his sonne, called Machabeus, rose vp in his place.
 2 And all his brethren helped him, & all they that held with his father, & fought with courage the battell of Israel.
 3 So he gave his people great honour: he put on a brestplate as a giant, and armed him selfe, and set the battell in array, and defended the campe with the sword.
 4 In his actes he was like a lion, and as a Lyons whelp roaring after the pray.
 5 For he pursued the wicked, and sought them out, and burnt by those that vexed his people,

6 So that the wicked fled for feare of him, and al the workers of iniquitie were put to trouble: and saluation prospered in his hande.
 7 And he grieved diuers kings, but Iacob reioiced by his actes, and his memoriall is blessed for ever.
 8 He went also thorow the cities of Iuda, and destroyed the wicked out of them, and turned away þe wrath from Israel.
 9 So was he remoued vnto the ends of the earth, & he assembled together those that were ready to perish.
 10 ¶ But Apollonius gathered the Gentiles, and a great host out of Samaria, to fight against Israel.
 11 Which when Judas perceived, he went forth to meete him, and smote him, and slue him, so that many fell downe slaine, and the rest fled.
 12 So Judas tooke their spoyle, and tooke also Apollonius wood, and fought with it all his life long.
 13 ¶ Nowe when Seron a prince of the arme of Syria, heard that Judas had gathered vnto him the congregation, and Church of the faithfull, and went forth to the warre,
 14 He saide, I will get me a name, & will be glorious in the Realme: for I will goe fight with Judas, & them that are with him, which haue despised the kings commandement.
 15 So he made him ready to go by, & there went with him a mightie host of the vngodly to help him, and to be auenged of the children of Israel.
 16 And when he came nere to the going by of Bethhoron, Judas went forth to meete him with a small companie.
 17 But when they sawe the armie coming against them, they said to Judas, Howe are we able, being so fewe, to fight against so great a multitude, and so strong, seeing we be so wearie, and haue fasted all this day?
 18 Then saide Judas, It is an easie thing for many to be shut vp in the handes of fewe, & there is no difference before the God of heuen, to deliuer by a great multitude, or by a small companie.

4 Who was gouernour of Syria, Ioseph Antiq. 12. chap. 9.

19 For the victorie of the battell standeth not in the multitude of the host, but the strenght cometh from heauen.
 20 They come against vs with a cruell & proud multitude, to destroy vs, and our wiues, and our children, and to rob vs.
 21 But we doe fight for our liues, and for our Lawes,
 22 And God him selfe will destroy them before our face: therefore be not ye afraid of them.
 23 And when he had left of speaking, he leapt suddenly vpon them: so was Seron and his host destroyed before him.
 24 And they pursued them from the going downe of Bethhoron vnto plain: where there were slaine eight hundred men of them, and the residue fled into the land of the Philistines,

25 Then the feare and terroue of Iudas and his brethren fell bypon the nations rounde about,

26 So that his fame came vnto the king:
for all the gentiles could tell of the wars of Iudas.

27 But when king Antiochus hearde these tidings, he was angry in his mind:
wherefore he sent forth, and gathered all the power of his realme a verie strong armie,

28 And opened his treasure, and gaue his host a peares wages in hande, commaunding them to be readie for a peare for all occasions.

29 Heuerthelesse when he sawe that the money of his treasures fayled, and that the tributes in þe countrie were small, because of the dissension and plagues that he had brought bypon the lande, in asking away the lawes which had bene of old time,

30 He feared lest he should not haue now at his seconde time, as at the first, for the charges & gifts that he had giuen with a liberal hande afore: for in liberaltie he sare passed the others kings that were before him.

31 Wherefore he was heauie in his mind, and thought to goe into Persia, for to take tributes of the countreies, and to gather much money.

32 So he left Apollas a noble man and of the kings bloude to ouersce the kings busines, from þe riuer of Euphrates vnto the borders of Egypt.

33 And to bring by his sonne Antiochus till he came againe.

34 Moreover, he gaue him halfe of his host and elephants, and gaue him the charge of all thinges that he woulde haue done,

35 And concerning those which dwelt in Iuda & Ierusalem, that he should sende an armie against them, to destroye and roote out the power of Israel & the remnant of Ierusalem, and to put out their memoriall from that place,

36 And to let straungers for to inhabite all their quarters, and parte their lande among them.

37 And the king tooke the halfe of the hoste that remained, and departed from Antiochia his royall citie, in the peare an hundredth fourtie and seuen, & passed the riuer Euphrates, and went throwhe the he countreies.

38 Then Apollas chose Ptolemy the sonne of Demetrius, and Hicanos, and Gorgias, mightie men, and the kings frendes,

39 And sent with them fourtie thousand footmen, and seuen thousand horsemen, to goe into the lande of Iuda, and to destroye it, as the king commaunded.

40 So they went forth with all their power, and came and ^{were} pitched by Em- maus in the plaine countrie.

41 Nowe when the Merchants of the countrie hearde the rumour of the, they tooke verie much Iudas and gold, and ser-uantes and came into the campe to see the children of Israel for slaues, and the strength of Syria, & of the straunge nations iopned with them.

42 ¶ Nowe when Iudas and his brethren sawe that trouble increased, & that the host drew nere vnto their borders, cosidering the things woordes, whereby he had commaunded to destroye the people, and utterly abolishe them,

43 They said one to an other, Let vs redresse the decap of our peopie, and let vs fight for our people, & for our sanctuarie.

44 Then the congregation were come readie gathered to fight, and to pray, and to desire mercie and compassion.

45 As for Ierusalem, it was not inhabited but was as a wilderness. There went nonethat was bozne in it, in or out at it, and the Sanctuarie was troden downe, and the strangers kept the fortresse, and it was the habitation of the heathen: and the mirth of Jacob was taken away: the pipe & the harpe ceased.

46 So they gathered themselves together, and came to Maspha before Ierusalem: for in Maspha was the place where they prayed afortime in Israel.

47 And they fasted that day, & put sacke-cloth vpon them, and cast ashes bypon their heades, and rent their clothes.

48 And opened the booke of the lawe, wherem the heathen sought to vniu-
the likenes of their doos,

49 And brought the Priestes garments, and the sackes, and the riches, and set there the Sazarites, which accomplished their dapes.

50 And they cried with a loud vopce, to-warde heauen, saying, What shall we do with these? and wherher shall we carrie them away?

51 For the sanctuarie is troden downe & denied, and the Priestes are in heaumes, and brought downe.

52 And beholde the heathen are come against vs to destroye vs: thou knowest what thinges they imagine against vs.

53 How can we stand before them, except thou helpe vs?

54 Then they blew the trumpets, & cried with a loud vopce.

55 And after this Iudas ordeined captaines ouer the people, euen captaines ouer thousandes, & captaines ouer hun-dredes and captaines ouer fifties, and captaines ouer tenne.

56 And they commaunded them that builded houses, or married wives, or planted vinepades, or were fearfull, that they should retorne euery one to his owne house, according to the lawe.

57 So the host remoued, and pitched vpon the South side of Emmaus.

58 And Iudas saide, Come your selues and be valiant men, & be readie against the morning to fight with these nations, which are gathered together against vs,
to destroye vs and our Sanctuarie.

39 For it is better for vs to die in battell, then to see the calamities of our people, and of our Sanctuarie.

CHAP. IIII.

I Judas goeth against Gorgias whiche lieth in wait. 14. He putteth Gorgias and his best to flight. 28. Iylas inuadeth Iudaea. 29. But Iudas driueth him out. 43. Iudas purifieth the Temple and dedicateth the altar.

1 Then tooke Gorgias five thousande foote men, and a thousand of the best horsemen, and departed out of the campe by night.

2 To inuade the campe of the Jewes, & to slay their soudenly, and the men of the fortrell were his guides.

3 Now when Iudas heard it, he remo- ued, and they that were valiant me to smite the Kinges armie which was at Emmaus,

4 Whiles yet the armie was disperled from the campe.

5 In the meane season came Gorgias by night into Iudas campe: and when hee founde no man there, he sought them in the mountaines: for saide he, They fpe from vs.

6 But as soone as it was dawe, Iudas shewed him selfe in the felde with three thousande men, which had neither harnesse nor woodes to their minds.

7 And they saue that the armies of the heathen were strong and well armed, & their horsemen about them, and that these were experete men of warre.

8 Then saide Iudas to the men that were with him, Feare not their multitude, neither bee afraped of their as- faulte, 9 Remember, howe our fathers were des- luered * in the red Sea, when Pharao pursued them with an armie.

10 Therefore now let vs crie vnto hea- ven, and the Lorde will haue mercie vpon vs, and remember the conenant of our fathers, and he will destrope this holte before our face this day:

11 So shall all the heathen knowe, that there is one, which deliuereth and sa- ueth Israel.

12 Then the strangers like by their eyes, and saue them conning against them,

13 And they went out of their tentes in- to the battell, and they that were with Iudas, blew the trumpets.

14 So they toyned together, and the hea- then were discomfited and fled by the playne.

15 But the hynmost of them fell by the sword, & into the purues them vnto * Sa- zeron: & into the plaines of Idumea, and of Azotus, and of Iamnia, so that there were slaine of them about three thousand men.

16 So Iudas turned againe with his host from pursuing them,

17 And said vnto the people, Be not gre- die of the spoils: for there is a battell be- fore vs.

18 And Gorgias and the armie is here by vs in the mountaine: but stand you fast against your enemies, and overcome them: then maye you safely take the spoiles.

19 As Iudas was speaking these wordes, there appeared one parte which looked from the mountaines.

20 But when Gorgias saw that his were fled, and that Iudas souldiers burnt the tentes: for the smoke that was sene declared what was done.

21 When they saw these things, they were soze afraped, and when they saue also that Iudas and his hoste were in fi- elde ready to see them selues in aray.

22 They fled enerie one into the lande of strangers.

23 So Iudas turned again to spolie the tentes, where he gat much golde and sil- uer, and precious stones, and purple of the sea, and great riches.

24 Thus they went home, a song of Psal- mes and prayes towards the heauen: for he is gracious, and his mercie en- dureth for ever.

25 And so Israel had a great victorie in that day.

26 ¶ Nowe all the strangers that esca- ped, came, and told Iylas all the things that were done.

27 Who when he hearde these things, was soze afraped, & discouraged, because such things came not vpon Israel as he would, neither such things as the King had commaunded him, came to passe.

28 Therefore the next yere following cha- thered Iylas three score thousande hos- ten foote men, and five thousand horseme- to fight against Jerusalem.

29 So they came into Idumea, and pic- ched their tentes at Beth-sura, where Iudas came against them with thre thousand men.

30 And when hee saue the mightie ar- mie, hee prayed and said, Blessed be thou O Saviour of Israel, which diddest de- strope the assault of the mightie man by the hande of thy seruant Dauid, * and gauest the holt of the strangers into the hand of Jonathan, the souldier of Saul, and of his armour bearer:

31 Shut by this armie in the hand of thy people of Israel, and let them bee con- founded with their power, & with their horsemen.

32 Make them afrapd & consume their boldnes and strength, that they may bee astonished at their destruction.

33 Cast them down by the sword of them that loue thee: then shall all they know thy name, vnto the end of the world.

34 So they went together, & there were slaine of Iudas hoste five thousand men, and they fell before them.

35 Then Iylas seeing his armie put to flight fight, and the manliness of Judas soldiers, and that they were ready, either to live or die valiantly, he went into Bethulia, and gathered his angers, & when he had furnished his armie, he thought againe (being prepared) to come against Judea.

36 Then said Judas and his brethren, Behold us, our enemies are discomfited: let us now go by to cleanse, and to repair the Sanctuarie.

37 So all the host gathered them together, & went by into the mountaine of Sion.

38 Now when they sawe the Sanctuarie layed waste, and the altar defiled, and the doores burnt by, and the shrubs growing in the courtes, as in a forest, or as on one of the mountaines, & that the priests chambers were broken downe,

39 They rent their clothes, and made great lamentation, and cast ashes vpon their heades,

40 And fell downe to the ground on their faces, and blew an alarme with the trumpets, and cried toward heauen.

41 Then Judas commaunded certeine of the men to fight against those which were in the castel, til he had cleansed the Sanctuarie.

42 So he chose Priestes that were undefiled, such as delited in the law,

43 And theye cleansed the Sanctuarie, and bare out the defiled stones into an vncleane place, 44 And consulted what to do with the altar of burnt offerings, which was polluted.

45 So they thought it was best to destroy it, least it should be a reproche vnto them, because the heathen had defiled it: therefore they destroyed the altar,

46 And laied vpon the stones vpon the mountaine of the Temple in a convenient place, till there should come a Prophet, to shew what should be done with them.

47 So theye tooke whole stones according to the lawe, and builded a new altar according to the former.

48 And made by the Sanctuarie, and the things that were within the Temple, & the courtes, and all things.

49 Theye made also new holy vessels, and brought into the Temple the candlestick, & the altar of burnt offerings, and of incense, and the table.

50 And theye burnt incense vpon the altar, and lighted the lamps which were vpon the candlesticke, that they might burne in the temple.

51 Theye set also the shewbread vpon the table, and hanged by the vailes, and finished all the workes that they had becomme to make.

52 And vpon the five and twentieth day of the ninth moneth, which is called the moneth of Challeu, in the hundred & eight and fortieth yeare they rose by betimes in the morning,

53 And offered sacrifice according to the Law, vpon the new altar of burnt offerings, that they had made.

54 According to the time, & according to the day, that the heathen had defiled it, in the same day was it made new with songs, & harpes, and lutes, and cymbales.

55 And all the people fel vpon their faces, worshipping and praying toward the heauen, that had giuen them good successe.

56 So theye keepe the dedication of the altar eight dayes, offering burnt offerings with gladnesse, and offered sacrifices of deuotion and praye, 57 And deckt the forefront of the Temple with crownes of golde and sheldes, and dedicated the gates & chambers, & hanged doores vpon them.

58 Thus there was verie great gladnesse among the people, and the reproche of the heathen was put away.

59 So Judas and his brethren with the whole congregation of Israel ordeined that the dayes of dedication of the altar should be kept in their season from yeare to yeare, by the space of eight dayes, from the five and twentieth day of the moneth Challeu, with mirth and gladnesse.

60 And at the same time builded theye by mount Sion with his walles and strong towres round about, least the Gentiles should come and tread it downe, as they had done afore.

61 Therefore theye set a garison there to keepe it, and fortified Beth-sura to keepe it, that the people might haue a defence against Iudaea.

CHAP. V.

3 Judas vanquished the heathen that go about to destroy Israel, and is holpen of his brethren Simon, and Ionathan. 50 He ouerthroweth the eirie of Ephron, because they denied him passage thorow it.

I NOW when the nations round about heard that the altar was builded, & the Sanctuarie renewed, as afore, theye were sore grieved.

2 Therefore they thought to destroy the generation of Jacob by was among them, & began to lay and destroy the people.

3 Then Judas sought against the children of Esau in Iudaea at Aracathene, because cause theye besieged the Israelites, and he smote them with a great plague, & dyone them to the straites, & tooke their spoiles.

4 He thought also vpon the malice of the children of Bean, which had bene a fraice and an hinderance vnto the people, when they lay in waite for them in the hie way.

5 Wherefore he shut them by in towres, & besieged them, & destroyed them utterly, & burnt their towres with fire, with all that were in them.

6 Afterward went he against the children of Ammon, where he found a mightie power, & a great multitude with Timotheus thens their captaine.

- 7 So he had many battels with them, but they were destroyed before him, and so he discomfited them.
- 8 And tooke Sazer with the townes thereof, and so turned againe into Iudaea.
- 9 ¶ Then the heathen that were in Galaad, gathered them together against the Itraclites that were in their quarters to slay them: but they fled to the castel of Datheman,
- 10 And sent letters to Judas, & to his brethren, saying, The heathen that are about vs, are gathered against vs, to destroy vs,
- 11 And they make them ready for to come, and to take the towrefse, whereunto we are fled, and Timotheus is captaine of their hoste.
- 12 Come now therefore, & deliuer vs out of their handes: for many of vs are slaine:
- 13 And all our brethren þ were at Tubin, are slaine, & they haue taken away their wyues, and their children, & their goods, and destroyed there almosfe a thousand men.
- 14 While these letters were yet a reading, beholde there came other messengers frõ Galile with their clothes rent, which told the same thinges,
- 15 And saide, that they of Ptolemais, and of Cyprus, and of Sidon, and of all Galile of the Gentiles were gathered against them to destroy them.
- 16 When Judas, & the people heard these wordes, a great congregation came together, to consult what they might do for their brethren, that were in trouble, and whom they besieged.
- 17 Then said Judas to Simon his brother, Chuse thee out men, and go, and deliuer thy brethren in Galile, and I & my brother Jonathan, will go into the countrie of Galaad.
- 18 ¶ So he left Iosephus the sonne of Zacharias, and Azarias to be captaines of the people, and to keepe the remnant of the host in Iudaea,
- 19 And comãded them, saying, Take the oversight of this people, and make no warre against the heathen, vntil we come againe.
- 20 And vnto Simon were giue thre thousand men to go into Galile, and to Judas eight thousand men for the countrie of Galaad.
- 21 Then went Simon into Galile, & gaue diuers battels to the heathen, & the heathen were discomfited by him.
- 22 And he pursued them vnto the gates of Ptolemais: and there were slaine of the heathen almost thre thousand men: so he tooke their spoiles.
- 23 Thus they rescued them that were in Galile & in Arbattis with their wyues, & their children, and all that they had, and brought them vnto Iudaea wth great ioye.
- 24 Judas Maccabeus also, & his brother Jonathan went ouer Jordan, & traueiled thre dayes iourney in the wilderness,
- 25 Where they met with the Nabathites, who recited them louingly, & told them surrie thing þ was done vnto their brethren in the countrie of Galaad.

26 And how that many of them were besieged in Boforra, and Bofoz, in Aleimis, Chalbon, Maged, and Carnaun (all these cities are strong, and great)

^{Or, Chesbor.}

27 And that they were kept in other cities of Galaad, and to morow they are appointed to bring their hoste vnto these fortes, and to take them, and to destroy them all in one day.

28 So Judas & his host turned in all haste by the way of the wilderness towarde Boforra, and waime the cite, and slew all the males with the edge of the sword, and tooke all their spoyle, and set fire vpon the cite.

29 And in þ night he remoued frõ thence, and went toward the forteresse.

30 And betimes in the morning whẽ they looked by, beholde, there was an innumerable people bearing ladders, and instruments of warre, to take the forte, and had assaulted them.

31 When Judas sawe that the battell was begun, and that the crye of the cite went by to heauen with trumpets, & a great sound, 32 Then he said vnto the armie, Fight this day for your brethren.

33 So he went forth behinde them with thre companies, & they blew the trumpets, and cried with prayer.

34 Then the hoste of Timotheus knelwe, þ it was Maccabeus, & they fled frõ him, & he smote them with a great slaughter, so that there was killed of them þ same day, almosfe eight thousand men.

35 ¶ Then departed Judas vnto Masapha and laide siege vnto it, and waime it, and slew all the the males thereof, and spoys led it, and set fire vpon it.

36 From thence went he and tooke Chalbon, Maged, & Bofoz, and the other cities in Galaad.

37 After these thinges gathered Timotheus another host, & he camped before Masaphon beyond the fount.

38 Now Judas had sent to spie the hoste, & they brought him wordes againe, saying, All the heathen that be round about vs, are gathered vnto him, and the hoste is verie great,

39 And he hath hired the Arabians to help them, and they haue pitched their tentes beyond the fount, & are ready to come & fight against the. So Judas went to meete them.

40 Then Timotheus said vnto þ captaines of his host, When Judas & his host come nere the fount, if he passe ouer first vnto vs, we shal not be able to withstand him: for he will be to strong for vs.

41 But if he be afraide, & campe beyond the fount, we will go ouer vnto him, and shal preuaile against him.

42 Now when Judas came nere to the fount, he caused the gouernours of the people to remaine by the fount, and comãded

maunted them, saying, Suffer none to pitch a tent, but let euerie man come to the battell,

- 43 Do he went first ouer toward them, & all the people after him: and all the heathen were discomfited before him, and cast away their weapons, and fled into the Temple that was at Carnaim.
- 44 Whies cite Judas wanne, & burnt the temple with all that were in it: so was Carnaim subdued, and might not withstand Judas.
- 45 Then Judas gathered all the Israelites that were in the countrie of Galaad, from the least unto the most, with their wives and their children, and their baggage, a verie great host, to come into the land of Juda.
- 46 So they came unto Ephron, which was a great cite by the way, and strongly defended: they coude not passe, neither at the right hand nor at the left, but must goe thowen it.
- 47 But they that were in the cite, shut them selues in, and stopped by the gates with stones: and Judas sent unto them with peaceable wordes, saying,
- 48 Let vs passe thowoe your lande, that we may goe into our owne countrie, and none shall hurt you: we will but onely goe thowoe on foot: but they woude not open unto him.
- 49 Wherefore Judas commaunded a proclamation to be made throughout the host, that euerie man should assault it according to his standing.
- 50 So the valiant men set vpon it, and assaulted the cite all that day, and all that night, and the cite was giuen ouer into his handes:
- 51 Who slew all the males with the edge of the swoorde, and dethrowed it, and toke the spoile thereof, and went thowoe the cite ouer them that were slaine.
- 52 Then went they ouer Jordan into the greete plaine before Bethsan.
- 53 And Judas gathered together those that were behinde, and gaue the people good exhortation all the waye thowoe, till they were come into the land of Juda.
- 54 Thus they went by with ioye, and gladnes vnto mount Zion, where they offered burnt offerings, because there were none of them slaine, but came home againe safelie.
- 55 Now whiles Judas and Jonathan were in the land of Galaad, and Simon their brother in Galile before Ptolemas,
- 56 Joseph the sonne of Zacharias, and Arias the captaines hearing of the valiant actes, and battels which they had atchieued, said,
- 57 Let vs get vs a name also, and go fight against the heathen here round about vs.
- 58 So they gaue their host a commaundement and went towarde Tamna.
- 59 But Sogias & his men came out of the cite to fight against them.
- 60 And Joseph and Arias were put to flight, and pursued vnto the borders of

- Juda: & there were slaine that day of the people of Israel about two thousande men: so there was a great ouerthrowe among the people of Israel,
- 61 Because they were not obedient vnto Judas, and his brethren, but thought to do some valiant thing.
- 62 And they came not out of the stocke of of these men, by whose handes deliuerance was giuen to Israel.
- 63 But the man Judas, & his brethren were greatly commended in the sight of all Israel, and of all the heathen, whereloeuer their name was heard of.
- 64 And the people came vnto them, bidding them welcome.
- 65 Afterwarde went Judas south with his brethren, and fought against the children of Esau in the laude towarde the South, where he wanne Hebron, & the townes thereof, and he dethrowed the castell thereof, and burnt the towers thereof round about.
- 66 Then remoued he to go into the land of the strangers, & went thowoe Samaria.
- 67 At the same time were the Phelices of the cite slaine in the battell, which would shewe their valiantnes, and went forth to battell without counsell: & when Judas came to Botus in the strangers land, he brake downe their altars, and burnt with fire the images of their gods, & toke away the spoiles of the cities, and came againe into the laude of Juda.

- 1 Antiochus, willing to take the cite of Elimais, is driuen away of the citizens. He falleth into sickness, and dieth. His sonne Antiochus is made King. 34. The manner to proooke elephants to fight 43. Eleazarus valiant acte. 49. The siege of Sion.
- 1 NOWE when King Antiochus trauelled thowoe the high countrees, he heard that Eunnais in the countrie of Persia was a cite greatly renowned for riches, siluer and golde,
- 2 And that there was in it a verie riche temple, wheras were coverings of gold, cote armours, and harnesse, which Miersander King of Macedonia the sonne of Philippe (that reigned first in Syria) had left there,
- 3 Wherefore he went about to take the cite, and to spoile it, but he was not able for the citizens were warned of the matter,
- 4 And arose by against him in battell, and he fled and departed thence with greete heaumes, & came againe into Babylon.
- 5 Moreover, there came one which brought him tidings in the countrie of Persia, that the armies which went against the land of Juda, were driuen away,
- 6 And the Spas, which went forth firste with a great power, was driuen awaye of the Jewes, and that they were made strong by the armour, & power, & diuerse peoples which they had gotten of the armies whome they had dethrowed,
- 7 And that they had pulled downe the abomination which he had set by vpon þ altar at Ierusalem. & fenced þ Sanctuarie with high walles, as it was afoze, & Beth-sura his citie.

8 So when the king had hearde these words, he was astonied, and soze moued: therefore he lapd him downe vpon his bed, and fell sicke for verie sozow, his cause it was not come to passe, as hee had thought.

9 And there continued he many dayes: for his grieue was cuer more and more, so that he saue he must needs die.

10 Therefore he sent for all his friendes, and said vnto them, The heere is gone from my eyes, and myne heart faileth for verie care.

11 And I thinke wiche my selfe, into what aduersitie am I come? and into what floods of miserie a n I fallen now, wiche as afoze tyme I was in prosperitie, and greatly set by, by reason of my power?

12 And nowe doe I remember the euils that I haue done at Ierusalem: for I rooke all the vessels of gold and of siluer that were in it, and sent to destroy the inhabitantes of Iuda without cause.

13 I knowe that these troubles are come vpon me for the same cause, and because, I must die with great sozow, in a strange land.

14 Then called he for Whillip one of his friendes, whome he made ruler ouer all his realme,

15 And gaue him the crowne and his robe, and the ring, that he shoulde instruct his soune Antiochus, and Iuzg him by, till he might reigne himselfe.

16 So King Antiochus died there in the hundredt, and fourtie and nynth yeare.

17 ¶ When Lysias knewe, that the king was deade, he ordeined Antiochus his soune (whome he had brought by) to reigne in his fathers steade & called him Eupatos, 18 Nowe they that were in the castle at Ierusalem, kept in the Ieracles round about the Sanctuarie, & fought alwayes their hurie, and the strengthening of the heathen.

19 Therefore Judas thought to destroy them, and called all the people together to besiege them, 20 So they came together and besieged them in the hundredt and fiftie yeare, and made instruments to shoot & other engines of warre.

21 But certene of them that were besieged, gat forth, (vnto whome some vngodlie men of Isracl iopned their felices,)

22 And they went vnto the king, saying, Howe long wilt thou cease from executing iudgement, and avenge our wrongs then?

23 We haue bene readie to serue thy father, & to goe forward in those things that he appointed, and to obey his commandementes.

24 Therfore they of our nations fell from vs for this cause, and wheresoener they founde any of vs, they slewe them, and spoyled our inheritance.

25 And they haue not onely laped hand vpon vs, but vpon all aboute their borders.

26 And beholde, this day are they besieging the castle at Ierusalem to take it, and haue fortified the Sanctuarie, and Beth-sura.

27 And if thou doest not preuent them quickly, they will doe greater things then these, and thou shalt not be able to ouercome them.

28 When the king hearde this, hee was verie angrie, and called all his friendes, the captaines of his armie, and his hoyses men,

29 And bandes that were hired came vnto him from the Kinges, that were confederate, and from the ples of the Sea.

30 So the number of his armie was an hundredt thousand footemen, and twentie thousande horsemen, and two and thirtie elephantes exercised in battell.

31 These came through Idumea & drew nere to Beth-sura, and besieged it a long season, and made engines of warre: but they came out and burnt them with fire, and fought valiantly.

32 Then departed Judas from the castle, and removed the host toward Beth-zacarias ouer-against the Kinges campe.

33 So the king arose verie early, and brought the armie and his power toward the way of Beth-zacarias, where the armie set them selues in aray to the battell, and blew the trumpets.

34 And to prouoke the elephantes for to fight, they shewed them the blode of grapes and mulberries,

35 And they set the beastes according to the ranges: so that by euerie elephant stood a thousand men armed with coats of maile and helmets of brass vpon their heades, and vnto euerie beast were ordeined fye hundredt horsemen of the best.

36 Which were readie at all times wheresoener the beast was: and wheresoener the beast went, they went also, & departed not from him.

37 And vpon them were strong towers of wood that covered euerie beast, which were fastened thereon with instruments: and vpon euery one was two and thirtie men, & fought in them, & the Indian that ruled him.

38 They set also the remnant of the horsemen vpon both the sides in two wings of the hoste to strike them by, and to keepe them in the vales.

39 And when the sunne shone vpon the golden shields, the mountaines glistered there with, and gaue light as lamps of fire.

40 Thus part of the Kinges armie was spread vpon the high mountaines, & part beneath: so they marched forwarde wa-risp and in order.

- 41 And all they heard the noise of their multitude, and the marching of the companies, and the rattling of the harness, were astonished: for the armie was verie great and mightie.
- 42 Then Judas and his hoste entred into the battell, and they slew sixe hundredth men of the kings armie.
- 43 ¶ Now when Cleazar, the sonne of Nabaron, sawe one of the elephantes armed with royall harness, and was more excellent than the other beastes, he thought that the king should be upon him.
- 44 Wherefore he regarded him selfe to decrease his people, and to get him a perpetuall name,
- 45 And ranie boldly vnto him through the middes of the hoste, slaping on the right hand, and on the left, so that they departed away on both sides.
- 46 So went he to the elephantes scere, and gate him vnder him, & a flew him: they fel the elephant downe vpon him, and there he dyed.
- 47 But the other, seeing the power of the king and the fiercenesse of his armie, were affraid from them,
- 48 ¶ And the kinges armie went by to meete them toward Ierusalem, and the king pitched his tents in Iudea toward mount Zion.
- 49 Moreover, the kingooke truce with them that were in Beth-sura: but when they came out of the cite, because they had no vituals there, & were shut vpon there in, and the land had rested.
- 50 The kingooke Beth-sura, & set there a garrison to keepe it,
- 51 And besieged the Sanctuarie many dayes, and made instruments to shoot, & other ensignes of warre, and instruments to cast fire and stones, and pieces to cast darts and slunges.
- 52 They also made engines against their engines, and fought a long season.
- 53 But in the garners there were no vituals: for it was the seventh yeare, & then they that were in Iudea, & were deliuered from the Gentiles, had eaten by the residue of the store,
- 54 So that in the Sanctuarie were fewe men left for the famine came so vpon them, that they were scattered euery man to his owne place.
- 55 ¶ Now when Iudas heard that Philip (whome Antiochus the king, whiles he liued, had ordered to bring by Antiochus his sonne, that he might be king)
- 56 Was come againe out of Persia, and Media, and the kinges hoste with him, and thought to take vnto him the rule of thinges,
- 57 He and his hostes, and were stirred forward by them in the castel to go and tell the king, and the captaynes of the hoste, and to others, saying, We decrease daily, and our vitayles are but small: and the place that we lay siege vnto, is strong, and the affairs of the realme depend vpon vs.

Or, Saura.

This example is not to be followed because it is contrary to the commandment.

Or, the Jewes.

- 58 Now therefore let vs be agreed with these men, and take truce with them, & with all their nation,
- 59 And grant them to liue after their law, as they did afore: for they be grieued, and doe all these things, because we haue broken their Lawes.
- 60 So the king and the princes were content, and sent vnto them to make peace, & they receiued it.
- 61 When the king & the princes had made an othe vnto them, they came vpon this out of the fortrese.
- 62 And the king went vnto mount Zion: but when he sawe that the place was well defended, he brake his othe that he had made, and commanded to beake downe the wall round about.
- 63 Then departed he in all hast, and returned vnto Antiochia where he found Philip hauing dominion of the cite: so he fought against him, and tooke the cite by force.

CHAP. VII.

- 1 Demetrius reigned, after he had killed Antiochus and Lysias, 5 He troubleth the children of Israel through the counsell of certaine wicked persons. 37 The prayer of the Priestes against Nicanor, 41 Iudas killeth Nicanor, after he had made his prayer.
- 1 ¶ In the hundredth and one & fiftieth yere, Ioseph Antigonus departed Demetrius the sonne of Seleucus from Rome, and came vnto with a fewe men vnto a cite of the sea coast, and reigned there.
- 2 And when he came into the possession of his fathers kingdome, his souldiers tooke Antiochus & Iudas, and brought them vnto him.
- 3 But when it was told him, he said, Shew me not their faces.
- 4 So they put them to death. Now when Demetrius was set vpon the throne of his kingdome,
- 5 There came vnto him all the wicked and vngodly men of Israel, whose captaine was Alcimus, that would haue bene the hie Priest.
- 6 These men accused the people vnto the king, saying, Iudas, & his brethren haue slaine all thy friends, and diuised vs out of our owne land,
- 7 Wherefore send now some man, whome thou trustest, that he may go and see all the destruction, which he hath done vnto vs, and to the kings land, and let him punish them with all their partakers.
- 8 Then the king chose Bacchides a friend of his, which was a great man in the realme, and ruled beyond the Iord, and was faithfull vnto the king, and sent him,
- 9 And that wicked Alcimus, whome he made hie Priest, and commanded him to be auenged of the children of Israel.
- 10 So they departed and came with a great Army, great great hoste into the land of Iuda, & sent messengers to Judas and his brethren, deceitfully with peaceable wordes.

11 But they beleued not their saying: for they sawe that they were come with a great hoste.

12 Then a companie of the gouernours assembled vnto Alcimus and Bacchides to treatate of reasonable points.

13 And the Alcideans were the first that required peace among the children of Israel.

14 For said they, He that is a Dick of the seede of Aaron, is come with this auenue: therefore he will not hurt vs.

15 Then he spake vnto them peaceably, & sware vnto them, & said, We will do you no harme, neither your friends:

16 And they beleued him: but he tooke of them threescor men, and slew them in one day according to the words that were written.

17 They haue cast the bodies of thy saints, and their blood round about Ierusalem, and there was no man that would burie them.

18 So there came a feare and trembling among all the people: for they said, There is neither truely nor righteousnesse in them: for they haue broken the appointmēt and othe that they made.

19 Then Bacchides removed from Ierusalem, and pitched his tent at Beth-zetha, where he sent forth andooke many of the men that had forsake him, and certē of the people whom he slew and cast into the great pit.

20 Then committed he the countrie vnto Alcimus, and left men of warre with him to helpe him: so Bacchides went vnto the king.

21 Thus Alcimus stroue for the priestshod, 22 And all such as troubled the people resorted vnto him: in so much that they obtained the land of Iuda, & did much hurt in Israel.

23 Now when Judas saw all the mischief that Alcimus and his companion had done among the Israelites more then the heathen,

24 He went forth round about all the borders of Iudaea, & punished those, & were fallen away, so that they came no more aboade in the countrie.

25 But when Alcimus sawe that Judas & his people had gotten the vpper hand, and knewe that he was not able to abide them, he went againe to the king, and accused them of wicked things.

26 Then the king sent Nicanoꝝ one of his chiefe princes, which hated Israel deadly, and commaunded him, that he should destroy the people.

27 Nicanoꝝ came to Ierusalem with a great hoste, and sent vnto Judas, and his brethren deceitfully with friendly words, saying,

28 Let there be no warre betwene me, and you: I will come with fewe men, to see how ye do friendly.

29 So he came vnto Judas, & they saluted one another peaceably: but the enimies were prepared to take away Judas.

30 Nevertheless it was tolde Judas, that he came vnto him vnder deceit: therefore he feared him, and would not see his face no more.

31 When Nicanoꝝ perceiued by his counsell was bewrayed, he went out to fight against Judas, beside Carphalalama.

32 Where there were thame of Nicanoꝝ hoste about fure thousand men: so they fled vnto the cite of David.

33 After this came Nicanoꝝ by vnto mount Zion, and some of the Dutches with the Elders of the people went forth to the Sanctuarie to salute him peaceably, and to shewe him the burnt offering that was offered for the king.

34 But he laughed at them, and mocked them, and counted them prophane, and spake proudly, 35 And sware in his wrath, saying, If Judas & his hoste be not deliuered now into mine handes, if euer I come againe in safetie, I will burne by this house, with that went he out in a great anger.

36 Then the Dutches came in, & stood before the altar in the Temple, weeping, and saying,

37 For so much as thou, O Lord, hast chosen this * House, that thy Name might be called vpon therein, and that it should be an house of prayer, and petition of thy people, 38 Be auenged of this man, & his hoste, & let them be flame by the sword: remember their blasphemies, and suffer them not to continue.

39 When Nicanoꝝ was gone from Ierusalem, he pitched his tent at Beth-hojon, & there an hoste met him out of Syria.

40 And Judas pitched in Adala in thre thousand men where Judas praied, saying,

41 O Lord, * because the messengers of King Sennacherib blasphemed thee, thine Angel went forth, & slew an hundred, foure score, and fure thousand of them.

42 So destroy thou this hoste before vs to day, that al other may know that he hath spoken wickedly against thy sanctuarie, & punish him according to his malice.

43 So the armies toynd together in battell, the thirtiēth day of the moneth Adar: but Nicanoꝝ hoste was discomfited, & he him selfe was first slaine in the battell.

44 Now when his armie sawe that Nicanoꝝ was slaine, they cast away their weapons and fled.

45 But they pursued after them a dayes iourney fro Adala vnto Casfra, blowing an alarme with the trumpets after them.

46 So they came forth of all the toiwnes of Iudaea round about, & rushed vpon them, & threwe them from one to another, so that they all fell by the sword, & there was not one of them left.

47 Then they toke the spoiles, and the pray & snote off Nicanoꝝ head, and his right hand which he held vpon so proudly, and

1 Judas, considering the power and policie of the Romanes, maketh peace with them. 2 The conditions of mutuall friendship sent to the Iewes.

*Joseph. An-
tig. 13. ca. 18*

1 Iudas heard also the fame of the Romames, that they were mightie, & valiant, & agreeable to all things that were required of them, and made peace with all that came vnto them,

2 And that they were men of great power, and they tolde him of their battels, and their worthy actes, which they did among the Galatians whom they had conquered, & made to pay tribute,

*Or, French-
men.*

3 And what they had done in the countreyp of Spayne: howe that they had wonne there the mines of siluer and golde,

4 And that by their counsell, and gentle behaviour they were rulers in euery place, though the place was farre from them, and that they had discomfited, and giuen great ouerthrowes to the Kinges that came against them, from the br-termoste parts of the earth, and that others gaue them tribute euery yere,

5 How they had also discomfited by battell Philip and Peres Kinges of the Macedonians, and others, that arose against them, and howe they ouercame
them,

Or, Cirims.

6 And how great Antiochus King of Asia that came against them in battell, hauing an hundred & twenty Elephants, with horsemen and charets, and a verie great armie, was discomfited by them,

7 And howe they tooke him alme, and ordeyned him, with suche as shoulde reigne after him, to paye agreat trybute, and to giue hostages, & a separate portion,

8 Euen the countrey of India, & Media, & Lydia, and of his best countreys, which they tooke of him & gaue them to King Lumenes.

9 Againe when it was tolde them that the Grecians were comming to destrope
them,

10 They sent against them a captayn, whiche gaue them battell, and slewe many of them, and tooke many prisoners with their wines, and children, and spoiled them, and conquered their land, and destroped their strong holdes, and subdued them to be their bondmen,
vnto this day:

11 Moreover, howe they destroped, and brought into subiection other king-domes and ples, whosoener had withstand them:

12 But that they kept amitie with their owne friends, and those that stayed by on them: finally, that they conquered kingdomes, both farre and nere, in so much that whosoener heard of their re-nouue, was afrayed of them.

13 For whom they would helpe to their kingdomes, those reigned, & whom they would, they put downe: thus were they in most high authoritie.

14 Yet for all this that none of them ware a crowne, neither was clothed in purple, to be magnified thereby,

15 But that they had ordeyned theselues a counsell, wherein three hundred th and twentie men consulted daily, and promised for the common affaires, to gouerne them well,

16 And that they committed their government to one man euery yere, who did rule ouer all their countrey: to whom eu-ery man was obedient: and there was neither hatred nor enuie amonge
them.

17 Then Judas chose Eupolemus the sonne of John, the sonne of Accus, & Jason the sonne of Eleazar, and sente them vnto Rome to make friendship, & mutua-ll fellowship with them,

18 That they might take from them the poke for they saw that the kingdomes of the Grecians woulde keepe Israel in bondage)

19 So they went vnto Rome, which was a verie greate iouney, & came into the Senate where they spake & said,

Or, counsell

20 Judas Maccabens with his brethren, and the people of the Iewes hath sent vs vnto you, to make a bonde of friendship, and peace with you, and poe to register vs as your partakers & friends.

21 And the matter pleased them.

22 And this is the copie of the epistle that they wrote in tables of brasse and sent to Jerusalem, that they might haue by the a memorial of the peace, and mutual fellowship.

23 Godd successe be to the Romaines, & to the people of the Iewes, by sea, & by land for ever, and the sword, and euemie bee from them.

24 If there come first any warre vpon the Romains, or any of their friends through out all their dominion,

25 The people of the Iewes shall helpe them, as the time shalbe appointed, with all their heart.

Or, the Romans.

26 Also they shall giue nothing to them that come to fight for them, nor ferre the with wheat nor weapons, nor among, nor shippes, as if pleached the Romains, but they shal keepe their covenancies with out taking any thing of them.

Or, the Iewes.

27 Likewise also if warre come firste against the nations of the Iewes, the Romans shall helpe them with a good wil ac-

according as the time shall be appointed them.

28 Neither shall wheat be given unto thee, that take their part, nor weapons, nor money, nor shippes, as it pleaseth the Romans, who will keepe these conditions without deceit.

29 According to these articles the Romans maine made the bond with the people of the Jewes.

30 If after these pointes the one partie, or the other will adde of diminuish, they may doe it, at their pleasures, & whatsoever they shall adde, or take away, shall be ratified.

31 And as touching the euill that Demetrius hath don vnto the Jewes, we haue written vnto him, saying, Wherefore layest thou thine heape poile vpon our friends, & confederates the Jewes?

32 If therefore they will complaine any more against thee, we will do them iustice, and fight with thee by sea & by land.

CHAP. IX.

1 After the death of Nicanor Demetrius sendeth his armie against Iudas, 18 Iudas is slaine

31 Jonathan is put in the steade of his brother.

47 The battell between Jonathan, and Bacchides, 55 Alcimus is smitten with the palfie, and dyeth, 68 He commeth vpon Jonathan by the counsell of certaine wicked persons, and is ouercome, 70 The truce of Jonathan with Bacchides.

I In the meane season when Demetrius had heard how Nicanor, and his host had giuen the battell, hee sent Bacchides, & Alcimus againe into Iudea, & his chief strength with them.

2 So they went forth by the way that is toward Galgala, and pitched their tentes before Bethsath which is in Arbelis, and waunte it, and slew much people.

3 And in the first moneth of the hundredeth, fiftie and two yere, they layed their liege against Ierusalem.

4 But they rayded their campe, & came to Betea, with twenty thousand foote men & two thousand horsemen.

5 Nowe Iudas had pitched his tent at Betsefa, and three thousand chosen men with him.

6 And when they saw, that the multitude of the armie was great, they were sore afraid, & many conuened themselves out of the hoste, so that there abode no mo of them, but eight hundred men.

7 When Iudas sawe that his hoste rayled him, and that he must needs fight, he was sore troubled in minde that he had no time to gather them together, & was discouraged.

8 Peruertheless, he saide vnto them that remained, let vs rise, and go vp against our enemies, if peradventure we may be able to fight with them.

9 But they would haue stayed him, saying, We are not able: but let vs rather saue our liues: turne backe nowe, seeing our brethren are departed: for shall we fight against them, that are so fewe?

10 Then Iudas said, God forbid, that we shoulde do this thing, to sife from them: if our time be come, let vs dye manfully for our brethren, and let vs not stain our honour.

11 Then the hoste remoued out of the tentes, and roode against them, who had deuised their horsemen into two troups, & they that threw with slings, & the archers marched in the forewarde, & they that fought in the foreward, were all valiant men.

12 And Bacchides was in the right wing. So the armie dyed nere on both sides, & blew the trumpets.

13 They of Iudas side blew the trumpets also, and the earth shooke at the noise of the armies, & the battell continued from morning to night.

14 And when Iudas sawe that Bacchides and the strength of his armie was on the right side, he took with him all the hardie men,

15 And brake the right wing, & followed vpon them vnto mount Azotus.

16 Nowe when they whiche were of the left wing, saw that the right wing was discomfited, they followed Iudas behind and then that were with him harde at the heels.

17 Then was there a sore battell: for many were slaine of both the parties.

18 Iudas also himselfe was killed, & the remnant fled.

19 So Jonathan and Simon tooke Iudas their brother, and buried him in his fathers sepulchre in the cite of Modon.

20 And all the Iudeaites wept for him, & mourned greatly for him, & launced many dayes, saying,

21 How is the valiant man fallen which deliuered Israel!

22 Concerning the other things of Iudas, both the battels & the valiant actes that hee did, and of his worthines, they are not written: for they were very many.

23 ¶ Nowe after the death of Iudas, wicked men came vp in all the coastes of Israel, and there arose all suche as gaue themselves to iniquitie.

24 In those daies was there a very great famine in the lande, and all the countrey gaue ouer themselves with them.

25 And Bacchides did chuse wicked men, and made them lords in the land.

26 These sought out, & made searche for Iudas friends, & brought them vnto Bacchides, which auenged himselfe vpon them, & mocked them.

27 And there came so great trouble in Israel, as was not since the time that no Prophet was seene among them.

28 Then came all Iudas friends together, & said vnto Jonathan,

29 Being thy brother Iudas is dead, and there is none like him to go forth against our enemies, euen against Bacchides, and ¶ Hee that was wont to praye and ouercome is ouercome when hee trusteth in his strength & omitteth prayer.

And 'gainst them of our nation that are enemies unto vs,

- 30 Therefore, this day we chuse thee that thou maiest be our prince and capitaine in his place to order our battell.
- 31 So Jonathan tooke the gouernance vpon him at the same time, and ruled in stead of his brother Iudas.
- 32 But when Bacchides knewe it, he sought for to slay him.
- 33 Then Jonathan and Simon his brother, perceiuing that, fled into the wilderness of Ieruea with all their companie, and pitched their tentes by the water poole of Alphar.
- 34 Which when Bacchides vnderstoode, he came ouer Iordan with all his host vpon the Sabbath day.
- 35 (Howe had Jonathan sent his brother Iohn, acaptaine of the people, to pray his friends the Nabathites, that they would keepe their baggage which was much.
- 36 But þe children of Amby came out of Iudaba, & toke Iohn, & al that he had, & when they had take it, went their way.
- 37 After this came word vnto Jonathan, & to Simon his brother that the childre of Amby made a great marriage, and brought the wyde from Iudaba with great pompe: for she was daughter to one of the noblest princes of Canaan.
- 38 Therefore they remembered Iohn their brother, and went by, and hid them selues vnder the covert of the mountaine.
- 39 So they lift vp their eyes, and looked, & behold, there was a great noyse, & much preparation: then the bridegrome came fourth, and his friends and his brethren met them with tymbels, and instruments of musicke, and many weapons.
- 40 Then Jonathanus men that lay in ambush, rose by against them, and slue many of them, and the remnant fled into the mountaynes, so that they toke all their spoiles.
- 41 Thus the marriage was turned to mourning, and the noyse of their melodye into lamentation.
- 42 And so when they had auenged the blood of their brother, they turned againe vnto Iorden.
- 43 When Bacchides heard this, he came vnto the border of Iorden with a great power vpon the Sabbath day.)
- 44 Then Jonathan saide vnto his companie, let vs rise nowe, and fight against our enemies: for it is not to day as in time past.
- 45 Wherefore cry nowe vnto heauen, that pe may be deliuered from the power of your enemies: so they toyned battell.
- 47 Then Jonathan stretched out his hand to smite Bacchides: but he turned aside from him and recoiled,

Or, Iambri,
Or, Nadabab.

- 48 Then Jonathan, and they that were with him, leapt into Iorden, and swimmied ouer vnto the further banke: but the other would not passe through Iordens den after them.
- 49 Som that day were slaine of Bacchides side about a thousand men.
- 50 Then he turned againe to Ierusalem, and built by the strong cities in Iuda, as the castell of Jericho, and Emmaus, and Bethhoron, and Bethel, & Chemnatha, Pharathon, and Cepho, with high wals, with gates and with bars,
- 51 And set garisons in them, that they might be their malice vpon Irael.
- 52 He fortified also the cite Bethsur, & Gazara, and the castell, and set a garison in them with promise of viuals.
- 53 Ye toke also the chiefest mens homes in the country for hostages, and put them in the castell at Ierusalem to be kept.
- 54 Afterward in the hundredth, fiftie and thre yeare, in the second moneth, Alcimus commanded, that the walles of the inner court of the Sanctuarie should be destroyed, and he pulled downe the monuments of the Prophetes, and began to destroy them.
- 55 But at the same time Alcimus was plagued, and his enterpises were hindered, and his mouth was stopped: for he was smitten with a palse, and could no more speake, nor giue order concerning his house.
- 56 Thus dyed Alcimus with great toyment at the same time.
- 57 And when Bacchides sawe, that Alcimus was dead, he turned againe to the King, and so the lande of Iuda was at rest two yeares.
- 58 Then all the vngodly men held a counsell, saying, Beholde, Jonathan and his companie dwell at ease, and without care: wherefore let vs bring Bacchides hither, and he will take them all in one night.
- 59 So they went and consulted with him.
- 60 Who arose & came with a great host, and sent letters purily to his adherents which were in Iuda, to take Jonathan and those that were with him: but they could not, for their counsell was knowne vnto them.
- 61 And they toke fiftie men of the countrey, which were the chief workers of this wickednesse, and slue them.
- 62 ¶ Then Jonathan and Simon with their companie departed vnto Bethbain which is in the wilderness, & repaired þe decap thereof, & made it strong.
- 63 When Bacchides knewe this, he gathered all his host, and sent word to the that were of Iuda.
- 64 Then came he and laid siege to Bethbain, and fought against it a long season, and made instruments of warre.
- 65 But Jonathan left his brother Simon in the cite, and went south into the country, & came with a certain number,

Or, Phara.
Or, Thopo.

Or, Ionathas

Or, Bethbessen.

66 And sue 'Odoneras and his brethren and the children of Phaliron in their tents: so he beganne to flap, and increased in power.

67 Sion also and his companie went out of the cite, and burnt vp the instruments of warre,

68 And fought against Bacchides, & discomfited him, and bereft him soze, so that his counsell and iourner was in vaine.

69 Wherefore he was very wroth at the wicked men, b that gaue him counsell to come into the countrey, and sue many of them, and purposed to returne into his owne countrey.

70 Whereof when Jonathan had knowledg, he sent ambassadours vnto him, to intreat of peace with him, and that the prisoners should be deliuered.

71 Which thing he accepted, and did according to his desire, and made an othe, that he would neuer doe him harme all the daies of his life.

72 So he restored vnto him the prisoners that he had taken afoze time out of the land of Iuda, and so returned and went into his owne lande, neither did he come any more into their borders.

73 Thus the wordes cealed from Israel, & Jonathan dwelt at Machmas, and began there to governe the people, and destroyed the vngodly men out of Israel.

CHAP. X.

4 Demetrius desireth to haue peace with Jonathan. 18 Alexander also desireth peace with the Iewes. 48 Alexander maketh warre against Demetrius. 50 Demetrius is slaine. 51 The friendship of Ptolomeus and Alexander.

I N the hundredth and three score yeare came Alexander the sonne of Antiochus Epiphanes, and tooke Ptolomeus, and they receiued him, and there he reigned.

2 Now when Demetrius the king heard it, he gathered an exceeding great hoste, & went forth against him to fight.

3 Also Demetrius sent letters vnto Jonathan, with louing wordes, as though he would preferre him.

4 For he saide, We will first make peace with him, before he ioyne with Alexander againt vs.

5 Else he will remember all the euill that we haue done against him, and against his brethren and his nation.

6 And so he gaue Jonathan leaue to gather an hoste, and to prepare weapons, & to be confederate with him, and commaunded the hostages that were in the castell, to be deliuered vnto him.

7 ¶ Then came Jonathan to Ierusalem, and read the letters in the audience of all the people, and of them that were in the castell.

8 Therefore they were soze afraid, because they heard þ king had giuen him licence to gather an armie.

9 So they that were of the castell, deliue red the hostages vnto Jonathan, who restored them to their parents.

10 Jonathan also dwelt at Ierusalem, & began to build, and repaire the cite.

11 And he commaunded the workmen to build the walles, and the mount Zion round about with hewen stone, to fortifie it: and so they did.

12 Then the strangers that were in the castles which Bacchides had made, fled, 13 So that euery man left his place, and went into his owne countrey.

14 Only at Beth-sura remained certaine which had forsaken the law and the commandements: for it was their refuge.

15 ¶ Nowe when king Alexander had heard of the promises that Demetrius had made vnto Jonathan: & when it was tolde him of the battels and noble actes, which he and his brethren had done, and of the paines that they had indured.

16 He saide, Might we finde such a man? nowe therefore we will make him our friend and confederate.

17 Vpon this he wrote a letter, and sent it vnto him, with these wordes, saying,

18 K J S Alexander to his brother Jonathan sendeth salutation.

19 We haue heard of thee, that thou art a very valiant man, & worthy to be our friend.

20 Wherefore this day we ordaine thee to be the hie Priest of thy nation, and to be called the Kinges friend: (and he sent him a purple robe, and a crowne of golde,) that thou maiest consider what is for our profite, and keepe friendship toward vs.

21 So in the seuenth month of the hundert and three score yere, vpon the feast day of the tabernacles, Jonathan put on the holy garment, and gathered an hoste, and prepared many weapons.

22 ¶ Which when Demetrius heard, he was marvellous soze, and saide,

23 What haue we done, that Alexander hath puenent vs in getting the friendship of the Jewes for his strength?

24 Per will I write and exhort them, and promise them dignities and rewardes, that they may helpe me.

25 Wherevpon he wrote vnto them these wordes, K J S Demetrius vnto the nations of the Jewes sendeth greeting.

26 We haue heard that ye haue kept your covenant toward vs, and continued in our friendship, and haue not ioynd with our enemies, whereof we are glad.

27 Nowe therefore remaine still, and keepe fidelitie toward vs, and we will recompense you for the good thinges that ye haue done for vs.

28 And will release you of many charges, and gue you rewardes.

29 And nowe I discharge you for your sake all the Jewes from tributes, and free you from the customes of salt, and the crowne taxes, and from the third part of the tithes.

30 And from the halfe of the fruite of the trees tree which is mine owne ductie, I release them that from this daie forth, none shall take any thing of the lande of Iuda, or of the three gouernments which are added therunto, as of Samaria & of Galilee, from this day forth for euer more.

And of the writeth.

31 Jerusalem also with all things belonging thereto, shall be holy and free from the tenth & tributes.

32 Also I release the power of the castell which is at Jerusalem, and give it vnto the hie Priest, that he may let in suche men, as he shall chuse to keepe it.

33 Moreover I frely deliuer euery one of the Iewes that were taken away prisoners out of the land of Iuda through out all my realme, & euery one of them shall be free from tributes, pea, euen their

34 cattell,
And all the feastes, & Sabbathes, & new moones, & the dayes appointed and the three dayes before the feast, & the three dayes after the feast, shall be daies of freedom & libertie for all the Iewes in my 35 realme,

So that in them no man shall haue power to do any thing, or to bere any of the in any manner of cause.

36 Also thirtie thousand of the Iewes shall be written vp in the kings holte, & haue their wages payed them as appertayneth to all them that are of the kings armie: and of them shall be ordeyned certaine to keepe the kings strong holdes.

37 And some of them shall be set ouer the kings most secret affaires, and their gouernours & their princes shall be of them selues, & they shall liue after their owne lawes, as the king hath commanded in the land of Iuda.

38 And the three gouernments that are added vnto Iuda from the countrie of Samaria, shall be ioyned vnto Iuda, & they shall be as vnder one, and obey none other power, but the hie Priest.

39 And I give Ptolemis & the borders therof vnto the Sanctuarie at Ierusalem, for the necessarie expenles of the holie things.

40 Moreover, I will give euery pere fiftie thousand sicles of silver of the kings reuenues out of the places appertaining vnto me.

41 And all the ouerplus which they haue not payed for the things due, as they did in the former peres, from heere forth they shall giue it toward the workes of the Temple.

42 And besides this, I sue thousand sicles of silver which they received perly of the account appointed for the intertainment of the Sanctuarie, these peres passed, euen these things shall be released because they appertaine to the Priests that minister.

43 Item, whosoener they be that shall come to the temple at Ierusalem, or within the libertie therof, & are indetted to the king for any maner of thing, they shall be pardoned, and all that they haue in my realme.

44 For the buylding also and repairing of the workes of the Sanctuarie, expenles shall be giuen of the kings reuenues.

45 And for the making of the walles of Jerusalem, & fortifying it round aboute, that the holdes in Iuda may be buylded by, shall also the colles be giuen out of the kings reuenues.

46 ¶ But when Jonathan & the people heard these wordes, they gaue no credit vnto them, neither receiued the, for they remembred the great wickednes that he had done in Israel, and how soe hee had bereed them.

47 Wherefore they agreed vnto Alexander: for he was the first that had recreated of true peace with them, & so were condeuare with him alway.

48 Then gathered king Alexander a great host, and camped ouer againste Demetrius.

49 So the two kings ioyned battell, but Demetrius holte fled, & Alexander pursued him, and preuailed againste them.

50 So that soe battell continued till the sunne went downe, & Demetrius was slaine the same day.

51 ¶ Then Alexander sent ambassadours vnto Ptolemis the king of Egypt with these wordes, saying, Ioseph. Ant.

liq. 3. ca. 50

52 For so muche as I am come againe to my realme, & am set in the throne of my fathers, and haue gotten the dominion, and haue destroyed Demetrius, & enioy my countrey, 53 Seeing that I haue euē giuen him the battell, & hee & his army is discomfited by me, & I sit in the throne of his kingdom.

54 Let vs now make friendship together, & giue me now thy daughter to wife: so shall I be thy souerain law, & giue thee rewards, & vnto her thinges according to thy dignitie.

55 Then Ptolemis the king gaue answer, saying, happy be the day, where in thou art come againe vnto the lande of thy fathers, & sitest in the throne of thy kingdom.

56 Howe therefore will I fulfill thy wpyting: but make me at Ptolemis that we maye see one another: and that I maye make thee my gouerne in lawe, according to thy desire.

57 So Ptolemis went out of Egypt with his daughter Cleopatra, & came vnto Ptolemis in the hundredth thirtieth & two pere, 58 Where king Alexander met him, & hee gaue vnto him his daughter Cleopatra and married them at Ptolemis with greate glorie, as the maner of kings is.

59 ¶ Then wrote king Alexander vnto Jonathan, that he should come & meete him.

60 So he went honourably vnto Ptolemas, and there he met the two kings and gaue them great presentes of siluer and gold, and to their friends, & founde fauour in their sight.

61 And thence assembled certaine pessilent fellowes of Israel, & wicked men to accuse him: but the king woulde not heare them.

62 And the king commaunded that they should take of the garments of Jonathan, and clothe him in purple: and so they did: and the king appoynted him to sit by him.

63 And saide vnto his princes, So with him into the middes of the citie, and make a proclamation, that no man complaine against him of any matter, and that no man trouble him for any manner of cause.

64 So when his accusers sawe his honour according as it was proclaimed, and that he was clothed in purple, they fled all away.

65 And the king preferred him to honour, and wrote him among his chiefe friends, & made him a duke, & partaker of his dominion.

66 Thus Jonathan returned to Ierusalem with peace and gladnes.

67 ¶ In the hundredth, threescore & five peare, came Demetrius the sonne of Demetrius, from Exera into his fathers land.

68 Whercof when king Alexander heard, he was very soye, & returned vnto Antiochia.

69 Then Demetrius appointed Appolonius the gouernour of Celosyria, who gathered a great hoile, and camped in Iamnia, & sent vnto Jonathan the hie Priest, saying,

70 Darest thou, being but alone, lift vpye thy self against vs? & I am laughed at, & reproched, because of thee: now therefore why dost thou vaunte thy self against vs in the mountaines?

71 Now then if thou trust in thine owne strength, come downe to vs into þ plain field, & there let vs trie the matter together: for I haue the strength of cities.

72 Like & learne who I am, & they shall take my part: & they shall tell thee that your foote is not able to stand before our face: for thy fathers haue ben twice chased in their owne land.

73 And now how wilt thou be able to abide so great an host of hoysenmen & footemen in the plaine, where is neither stone, nor rocke, nor place to flee vnto?

74 When Jonathan heard the words of Apolonius, he was moued in his minde: wherfore he chose ten thousand men, & went out of Ierusalem, & Simon his brother met him for to helpe him.

75 And he pitched his tents at Jopppe: but they shut him out of the citie: for Apol-lonius garison was in Jopppe.

76 Then they fought aganist it, and they that were in the citie, for verie feare let him in: so Jonathan waime Jopppe.

77 Apolonius hearing of this, tooke thre thousand hoysenmen with a great host of foote men, and went toward Ptozus, as though he would go forward, & came immediately into the plaine field, because he had so many hoysenmen, & put his trust in them.

78 So Jonathan followed vpon him to Ptozus, and the armie skirmished with his arriere bande.

79 For Apolonius had left a thousand hoysenmen behind them in ambush.

80 And Jonathan knew that there was an ambushment behind him, & though they had compassed in his host, and shot dartes at the people from the moyning to the euening.

81 Yet the people stood still, as Jonathan had commaunded them, till their hoyses were wearie.

82 Then brought Simon forth his host, & set them aganist the band: but the hoyses were wearie, & he discomfited them, and they fled: so the hoysenmen were scattered in the field.

83 And they fled to Ptozus, & came into the temple of Dagon their idole, that they might there saue themselves.

84 But Jonathan let fire vpon Ptozus & all the cities rounde about it, and tooke their spoles, and burnt with fire the temple of Dagon with all them that were fled into it.

85 Thus were slaine & burnt about eight thousand men.

86 So Jonathan remoued the hoste from thence, & camped by Healon, where the men of the citie came forth, & met him with great honour.

87 After this wente Jonathan and his host againe to Ierusalem with great spoils.

88 And when king Alexander heard these thinges, hee began to do Jonathan more honour, 89 And sent him a collar of golde, as the vse is to bee giuen vnto such as are of the kings blood: he gaue him also Accaron with the borders therof in possession.

CHAP. XI.

1 The dissention betwene Ptolomeus and Alexander his sonne in law. 17 The death of Alexander. 19 Demetrius reigneth after the death of Ptolomeus. 22 Ston is besieged of Jonathan. 42 Demetrius seeing that no man resisted him sendeth his armie againe. 54 Tryphon moueth Antiochus against Demetrius.

1 And the king of Egypt gathered a great host, like the sad that hech vpo the sea thore, & many thips, & went about throug dect to obtain þ kingdom of Alexander, & to ioune it vnto his owne Realme.

2 Vpo this he wet into Spria w frendly wordes, and was let into the cities, and men came sooth to meete him: for king Alexander had commaunded them, them to meete him, because he was his father in lawe.

- 3 Howe when he entered into the citie of Ptolemis, he left bands and garisons in euery citie.
- 4 And whē he came nere to Hozus, they shewed him the temple of Dagon that was burnt, and Azorus, & the suburbs thereof that were destroyed, and the bodies cast abroad, and them that he had burnt in the battell: for they had made heapes of them by the way where he should passe.
- 5 And they tolde the King what Jonathan had done, to the intent they might get him euill will: but the King helde his peace.
- 6 And Jonathan met the King with great honour at Zoppe, where they saluted one another, and lay there.
- 7 So when Jonathan had gone with the King vnto the water that was called Eleutherus, he turned againe to Ierusalem.
- 8 So King Ptolemus gate the dominion of the cities by the sea vnto Seleucia vpon the sea coast, imagining wicked counsels against Alexander.
- 9 And sent Ambassadors vnto King Demetrius, saying, Come, let vs make a league betwene vs, and I will giue thee my daughter, which Alexander hath, & I shall reigne in thy fathers kingdom.
- 10 For I repent that I gaue Alexander my daughter: for he goeth about to slay me.
- 11 Thus he slandered Alexander, as one that should desire his Realme.
- 12 And he tooke his daughter from him, and gaue her vnto Demetrius, and forsooke Alexander, so that their hatred was openly knowne.
- 13 Then Ptolemus came to Antiochia, where he let two crowns vpon his owne head, of Asia and of Egypt.
- 14 In the meane season was King Alexander in Cilicia: for they that dwelt in those places, had rebelled against him:
- 15 But when Alexander heard it, he came to warre against him, & Ptolemus brought forth his hoste, and met him with a mightie power, & put him to flight.
- 16 Then fled Alexander vnto Arabia, there to be defended: so Ptolemus was exalted.
- 17 And Zabdiel the Arabian smote off Alexanders head, and sent it vnto Ptolemus.
- 18 But the third day after, King Ptolemus died: and they that were in the holdes, were slaine one of another.
- 19 And Demetrius reigned in the hundredth, thirtieth and seventh yeare.
- 20 And at the same time gathered Jonathan them that were in Iudaea, to laye siege vnto the castell, which was at Ierusalem, and they made many instruments of warre against it.
- 21 Then went there certain vngodly persons, (which hated their owne people) vnto King Demetrius, and tolde him that

- Jonathan besieged the castell.
- 22 So when he heard it, he was angry, & immediately came vnto Ptolemis, and wrote vnto Jonathan, that he should lay no more siege vnto it, but that he should meete him and speak with him at Ptolemis in all haste.
- 23 Hencethelittle, when Jonathan heard this, he commaunded to besiege: he chose also certaine of the Elders of Israel, and the Priests, and put him selfe in daunger,
- 24 And tooke with him silver and gold, & apparel, and diuers presents, and went to Ptolemis vnto the King, and found fauour in his sight.
- 25 And though certaine vngodly men of his owne nation had made complaimes vpon him,
- 26 Yet the King intreated him as his predecessors had done, and promoted him in the sight of all his friends.
- 27 And confirmed him in the his Priests hood with all the honourable thinges, that he had afore, & made him his chiefe friend.
- 28 Jonathan also desired the King, that he would make Iudaea free with the three gouerniments, and the countrey of Samaria, and Jonathan promised him thre hundredth talents.
- 29 Wherevnto the King consented, and gaue Jonathan writing of the same, containing these wordes,
- 30 I Demetrius vnto his brother Jonathan, and to the nation of the Jewes sendeth greeting.
- 31 We send you here a copie of the letter, which we did write vnto our cousin Lathenes concerning you, & ye shall see it.
- 32 King Demetrius vnto Lathenes his father sendeth greeting.
- 33 For the faithfullnesse that our friends the nation of the Jewes keepe vnto vs, and for their good will towards vs, we are determined to do them good.
- 34 Wherefore we assigne to them the coastes of Iudaea with the three gouerniments Apherema, and Lydda, and Ramathe (which are added vnto Iudaea from the countrey of Samaria) & all the appertaining to all them that sacrifice in Ierusalem: both concerning payments which the King tooke yearly afore time, both for the fruites of the earth, and for the fruites of the trees.
- 35 As for the other things appertaining vnto vs of the tenthes & tributes, which were due vnto vs, and the customes of salt, and crowne taxes, which were paid vnto vs, we discharge them of all from henceforth.
- 36 And nothing hereof shall be reuoked from this time forth and for euer.
- 37 Therefore see that ye make a copie of these thinges, and deliuer it vnto Jonathan, that it may be set vp vpon the holy mount in an open place.
- 38 After this when Demetrius the King sawe that his lande was in rest and that no resistance was made against him, he sent away all his host, every man to his owne place, except certaine bandes of strangers, whome he brought from the ples of the heathen: wherefoze all his fathers host hated him.

39 Nowe was there one Tryphon, that had ben of Alexanders part afore, which when he sawe that all the host murmur'd against Demetrius, he went to ^{Or, Emal-} ^{eucl,} Simalcne the Arabian, that brought vp Antiochus the sonne of Alexander,

40 And lay foze vpon him, to deliuer him this pong Antiochus, that he might reigne in his fathers steade: he tolde him also what great euill Demetrius had done, and howe his men of warre hated him, & he remained there a long season.

41 Also Jonathan sent vnto King Demetrius to dyne them out which were in the castell at Jerusalem, and those that were in the fortresses: for they fought against Israel.

42 So Demetrius sent vnto Jonathan, saying, I wil not only do these thinges for thee & thy nation, but if opportunity serue, I wil honour thee and thy nation.

43 Now therfoze thou shalt do me a pleasure, if thou wilt send me men to helpe me: for all mine armie is gone from me:

44 So Jonathan sent him thre thousand strong men vnto Antiochia, & they came vnto the king: wherefoze the king was very glad at their coming.

45 ¶ But they that were of the citie, euen an hundredth and twentie thousand men, gathered them together in the middes of the citie, and would haue slaine the king.

46 But the king fled into the palace, and the citizens kept the streets of the citie, and began to fight.

47 Then the king called to the Jewes for help, which came to him altogether, and went abroad through the citie,

48 And oue the same day an hundredth thousand, and set fire vpon the citie, and tooke many spoiles in that day, and deliuered the king.

49 So whye the citizens sawe that the Jewes had gotten the vpper hande of the citie, and that they themselues were dis-appointed of their purpose, they made their supplication vnto the king, saying,

50 ¶ Graunt vs peace, and let the Jewes cease from vbering vs and the citie.

51 So they call away their weapons, and made peace, and the Jewes were greatly honoured befoze the king, and befoze all that were in his Realme, and they came againe to Jerusalem with greete pray.

52 Then King Demetrius sat in þ throne of his kingdom, & had peace in his land.

53 Neuerthelesse he dissembled in all that euer he spake, and withdrew him selfe from Jonathan, neither did he rewarde him according to the benefites which he had done for him, but troubled him very sore.

54 ¶ After this returned Tryphon with the pong childe Antiochus, which reigned, and was crowned.

55 Then there gathered vnto him all the men of warre, whome Demetrius had scattered, and they fought against him, who fled and turned his backe.

56 So Tryphon tooke the ^{Or, elephanto} beastes, and waime Antiochia.

57 And pong Antiochus wote vnto Jonathan, saying, I appoint thee to be the chiefe Prieste, and make thee ruler ouer the foure gouernements, that thou maiest be a friend of the Kings.

58 Vpon this he sent him golden vessels to be serued in, and gaue him leaue to drinke in gold, and to weare purple, and to haue a collar of gold.

59 He made his brother Simon also captaine from the coasts of Tryfus vnto the borders of Egypt.

60 Then Jonathan went forth, and passed thorow the city beyond the flood, and all the men of warre of Spria gathered vnto him for to helpe him: so he came vnto Scalon, and they of the citie receiued him honourably.

61 And from thence went he vnto Gaza: but they of Gaza shut him out: wherfoze he laid siege vnto it, and burned the suburbs thereof with fire, & spoiled the.

62 Then they of Gaza made supplication vnto Jonathan, and he made peace with them, and tooke of the sounes of the chiefe men for hostages, and sent them to Jerusalem, and went thowowe the countrie vnto Danacus.

63 And when Jonathan heard that Demetrius princes were come into Cades, which is in Galile, with a great holte, purposing to dyne him out of the countrey, 64 He came against them, and left Simon his brother in the countrey.

65 And Simon besieged Beth-sura, and fought against it a long season, and shut it vp.

66 So they desired to haue peace w him, which he graunted them, and afterward put them out from thence, and tooke the citie, and set a garrison in it.

67 Then Jonathan with his host came to the water of Genesar, and betimes in the morning came to þ plaine of Bosor.

68 And beholde the hostes of the ^{Or, heathen} Strangers met him in the plaine, and had laid ambushmentes for him in the moun- taines.

69 So that when they came against them, the ambushmentes rose out of their places and slew them.

70 So that at that were of Jonathan's side, fled: & there was not one of them left, except Mattathias the sonne of ^{Or, Abessalonus,} Abisalon, and Judas the sonne of Calphy the captaines of the holte.

71 Then Jonathan rent his clothes, and cast earth vpon his head, and prayed,

72 And turned againe to them to fight, & put the to flight, so that they fled away.

73 Now when his owne men that were fled, sawe this, they turned againe vnto him, and helped him to follow after all vnto their tentes at Cades, and there they camped.

74 So there were name of the strangers the same day about three thousand men, and Jonathan turned againe to Ierusalem.

CHAP. XII.

Jonathan sendeth ambassadours to Rome, 2. And to the people of Sparta, to renewe their covenant of friendshipp, 20. Jonathan putteth to flight the princes of Demetrius, 40. Tryphon taketh Jonathan by deceit.

1 Jonathan now seeing the time was meete for him, chose certain men, & sent them vnto Rome, to establish and renewe the friendshipp with them.

2 He sent letters also vnto the Spartians and to other places, for the same purpose.

3 So they went vnto Rome, and entred into the Senate, and said, Jonathan the hie Priest and the nation of the Jewes sent vs vnto you, for to renewe friendshipp with you, and the bonde of loue, as in time past.

4 So the Romans gaue the free passports, that men shoulde leade their home into the land of Iuda peaceably.

5 AND THIS is the copie of the letters that Jonathan wrote vnto the Spartians.

6 Jonathan the hie Priest with the Elders of the nation, and the Priestes, and the rest of the people of the Jewes, send greeting vnto the Spartians their brethren.

7 Heretofore were letters sent vnto Onias the hie Priest, from Artaxerxes, which then reigned among you, that ye would be our brethren, as the copie here vnder written specifieth.

8 And Onias intreated the ambassadours honorably, & receiued the letters: where in there was mention made of the bond of loue and friendshipp.

9 But as for vs, we neede no such writings: for we haue the holie bookes in our hands for comfort.

10 Neuertheless we thought it good to sende vnto you, for the renewing of the brotherhode and friendshipp, least we should be strange vnto you: for it is long since the time that ye sent vnto vs.

11 Wherefoe we remember you at all seasons continually, and in the feastes and other days appointed, wher we offer sacrifices and prayers, as it is meete & convenient to thinke vpon our brethren.

12 And we reioyce at your prosperous estate.

13 And though we haue bene environed with great troubles and warres, so that Kinges rounde about vs haue fought against vs,

14 Yet would we not be gracious vnto you, nor to other of our confederats and frendes in these warres.

15 For we haue had helpe from heauen, that hath succoured vs, and we are deliuered from our enemies, and our enemies are subdued.

16 Yet haue we chosen Mithrenius, the sonne of Antiochus, and Antipater the sonne of Jason, and sent them vnto the Romanes, for to renewe that former friendshipp with them, and league.

17 We commaunded them also to goe vnto you, and to salute you, and to deliuer you our letters, concerning the renewing of our brotherhode.

18 And now ye shall doe vs a pleasure to giue vs an answer of these things.

19 And this was the copie of the letters, which Artaxerxes the King of Sparta sente vnto Onias.

20 THE KING of the Spartians vnto Onias the hie Priest sendeth greeting.

21 It is founde in writing, that the Spartians and Jewes are brethren, and come out of the generation of Abraham.

22 And now for so much as this is come to our knowledge, ye shall doe wel to write vnto vs of your prosperitie.

23 As for vs, we haue written vnto you that your cattel and goods are ours, and ours are yours: these things haue we commaunded to be shewed vnto you.

24 Now when Jonathan heard, that Demetrius princes were come to fight against him, with a greater hoste then afore, 25 He went from Ierusalem, and met them in the lande of Hamath: for hee gaue them not space to come into his owne countrey.

26 And he sent spies vnto their tentes, which came againe, and tolde him, that they were appointed to come vpon him in the night.

27 Wherefoe when the sunne was gone downe Jonathan commaunded his men to watche, and to be in armes readie to fight all the night, and set watchmen rounde about the host.

28 But when the aduersaries heard that Jonathan was readie with his men to the battell, they feared and trembled in their heartes, and kindled fire in their tentes, and fled away.

29 Neuertheless Jonathan and his compaigne knewe it not till the morning: for they sawe the fires burning.

30 Then Jonathan followed vpon them but hee coulde not ouertake them: for they were gone ouer the floode Eleutherus.

31 So Jonathan turned to the Arabians, which were called Zabedei, and slew them, and toke their spoyle.

32 He proceeded further also and came vnto Damascus, and went thither all the countrey.

33 But Simon his brother went forth, and came to Bealon and to the next holds holdes, departing vnto Joppe, & waun-

it.

34 For he heard that they would deliuer the holde to them that tooke Demetrius part: wherefoze he set a garison there to keepe it.

35 ¶ After this came Jonathan home, and called the Elders of the people together, and drawed with them foze to build vp the strong holdes in Iudaea.

36 And to make the walles of Ierusalem higher, and to make a great mount betwixt the castell & the citie, foze to separate it from the citie, that it might be alone, and that men should neither be, nor sell in it.

37 So they came together to buyde vp the citie: foze parte of the wall bypon the bycke of the East side was fallen down, and they repaired it, and called it Casphenatha.

38 Simon also set by Abdida in Sephela, and made it strong with gates & barres.

*Joseph. An-
tig. 13. cba. 9*

39 ¶ In the meane time Tryphon pur-posed to reigne in Asia, and to be crowned when he had slaine the King An-tiochus.

40 But he was afrayed that Jonathan would not suffer him, but fight against him: wherefoze he went about to take Jonathan, and to kill him: so he departed and came vnto Bethsau.

41 Then went Jonathan forth againste him to battell with fourtie thousande chosen men, and came vnto Bethsau.

42 But when Tryphon saw that Jonathan came with so greate an hoste, he durst not lay hande vpon him.

43 But receined him honorably, and commended him vnto all his friends, gaue him rewardes, and commaunded his men of warre to be as obedient vnto him as to him selfe.

44 And saide vnto Jonathan, Why hast thou caused this people to take such trauell, seeing there is no warre betwene vs?

45 Therefore nowe sende them home againe, and chuse certaine men to waite bypon thee, and come thou with mee to Ptolemais: foze I will giue it thee, with the other strong holdes, and the other garisons, & all them that haue charge of the common affaires: so will I returne and departe: foze this is the cause of my coming.

46 Jonathan beleued him, and did as he saide, and sent away his hoste, whiche went into the lande of Iuda.

47 And receined but thre thousand with him, whereof he sent two thousande vnto Sahle, and one thousande went with him selfe.

48 Nowe asone as Jonathan entered into Ptolemais, they of Ptolemais shut the gates, and tooke him, and slewe all them with the sword, that came in with him.

49 Then sent Tryphon an host of footmen, & horsemen vnto Sahle, and into þ great playne, to destroye all Jonathans companie.

50 But when they knew that Jonathan was taken and slaine, & those that were with him, they incouraged one another, and came forth against them readie to the battell.

51 But when they which followed vpon them sawe that it was a matter of life, they turned backe againe.

52 By this meane all they came into the land of Iuda peaceably, and bewayled Jonathan, and them that were with him, and feared greatly, and all Israel made great lamentation.

53 For all the heathen that were rounde about them, sought to destroye them.

54 For they saide, Howe haue they no captaine, nor any man to helpe them: ther-foze let vs nowe fight against them, and roote out their memorie from among men.

CHAP. XIII.

1 After Jonathan was taken, Simon is chosen captaine. 17. Tryphon, taking his children, and money for the redemption of Jonathan, killeth him and his children. 31. Tryphon killeth An-tiochus, and possesseth the realme. 36. Demetrius taketh truce with Simon. 43. Simon winneth Gaza. 50. He possesseth the tower of Sion.
53. He maketh his sonne Iohn captaine.

1 Nowe when Simon heard that Tryphon gathered a great host to come into the lande of Iuda, and to destroye it,

*Joseph. An-
tig. 13. cba. 9*

2 And sawe that the people was in great trembling and feare, he came vp to Jerusalem, and gathered the people together,

3 And gaue them exhortation, saying, We knowe what great things I, and my brethren, & my fathers house haue done foze the lawe and the Sanctuarie, and the battels and troubles that we haue seen-4 By reason whereof all my brethren are slaine foze Israels sake, and I am lefte alone.

5 Nowe therefore God fozebid, that I should spare mine owne life in any tyme of trouble: foze I am not better then my brethren.

6 But I will auenge my nation, and the Sanctuarie, and our wiues, & our children: foze all the heathen are gathered together to destroye vs of verie malice.

7 In hearing these wordes the hartes of the people were kindled,

8 So that they cried with a loud voice saying, thou shalt be our captaine in steade of Judas and Jonathan the brethren.

9 Fight thou our battels, and whatsoe-uer thou commaundest vs, wee will doe it.

10 ¶ So he gathered all the men of warre, makinge harte to fush the walles of Jerusalem, and fortified it rounde about.

11 Then sent he Jonathan the son of Absalmus with a great host vnto Joppe, whiche dyone the out that were therein,
and

And remained there him selfe.

12 Tryphon remoued also from Ptolemais with a great armie, to come into the land of Iuda, and Jonathan was with him as prisoner.

Or, Adde. 13 And Simon pitched his tents at Iddis vpon the open plaine.

14 But when Tryphon knew that Simon stood by in stead of his brother Jonathan, and that he would fight against him, he sent messengers vnto him, saying,

15 Where as we haue kept Jonathan thy brother, it is for money that he is owing in the Kings account concerning the bulines that he had in hand.

16 Wherefore send now an hundred talents of silver, and his two sounes for hostages, that when he is letten forth, he will not turne from vs, and we will send him againe.

17 Herethelesse Simon knewe he dissimled in his words, yet commaunded he the money & children to be deliuered vnto him, least he should be in greater hatred of the people of Israel.

18 Whs might haue said, Because he sent him not the money & the children, therefore is Jonathan dead.

19 So he sent the children and an hundred talents: but he dissimled, and would not let Jonathan go.

20 Afterward came Tryphon into the land to destroy it, and went round about by the way that leadeth vnto Iddis: but wheresoeuer they went, thither went Simon and his hoste.

21 Now thep that were in the castel, sent messengers vnto Tryphon, he should make halt to come by the wilderness, and to send them vnto vs.

22 So Tryphon made readie at his horsemen: but the same night fel a verie great snowe, so that he came not, because of the snowe: but he remoued & went into the countrie of Galaad.

23 And when he came nere to Bascama, he slew Jonathan, and he was buried there.

24 So Tryphon returned, and went into his owne land.

25 Then sent Simon to take the bones of Jonathan his brother, and they buried him in Modon his fathers cite.

26 And all Israel beweped him with great lamentation, and mourned for him verie long.

27 And Simon made vpon the sepulchre of his father and his brethren, a building high to looke vnto, of hewen stone behinde and before,

28 And set vpon seven pillars vpon it, one against another, for his father, his mother, & four brethren,

29 And set great pillars round about the, & let armes vpon the pillars for a perpetuall memorie, and carued shippes beside the armes, that they might be seene of men sayling in the sea.

30 This sepulchre which he made at Modon, standeth yet at this day.

31 In Iddis as Tryphon went south with the pong king Antiochus, he slew him traiterously.

Ioseph. Ant. 19. 17. ca. 10

32 And reigned in his stead, and crowned him selfe King of Asia, & brought a great plague vpon the land.

33 Simon also built by the castels of Iudaea, and compassed them about with high towres, & great walles euen with towres, and gates and barres, & laid by vntoiles in the strong holdes.

34 Moreover Simon chose certeine men & sent them to King Demetrius, that he would discharge the land: for all Tryphons doings were robberies.

35 Wherevpon Demetrius the King answered him, and wrote vnto him after this maner, 36 DEMETRIUS the King vnto Simon the high Priest, and the friend of Kings, and to the Elders and to the nation of the Jewes sendeth greeting.

37 The golden crowne, & precious stone, that ye sent vnto vs, haue we receued, and are ready to make a stedfast peace with you, and to write vnto the officers, to release you of the things, wherem we made you free.

Or, collar, or, handrick, in Greeke Baines, or, babeu.

38 So the things ye haue granted you, shalbe stable: the strong holdes which ye haue builded shalbe your owne.

39 Also we forgate the euersightes, and fautes committed vnto this day, & the crowne care that ye ought vs: & where as was any other tribute in Jerusalem, it shalbe now no tribute.

40 And thep that are at maete among you to be wyrtten with our men, let them be wyrtten so, that there may be peace betwene vs.

41 Thus the poke of the heathen was taken from Israel in the hundredeth and seuentie yeare.

42 And the people of Israel began to write in their letters, & publike instruments, IN THE FIRST yeare of Simon, the high and chiefe Priest, gouernour and prince of the Jewes.

43 In those days Simon camped against Gaza & besieged it round about, where he set by an engine of wuarre, and approached nere the cite, and bet a towie and tooke it.

44 So thep that were in the engine, leapt into the cite, & there was a great trouble in the cite.

45 In so much that the people of the cite rent their clothes, and clymed by vpon the walles with their wiuues, and children, and cried with a lowde voyce, beseeching Simon to graunt thein peace, sayng,

46 Deale not with vs according to our wickednes, but according to thy mercie.

47 Then Simon pitied them, and would fight no more against them, but put the out of the cite, and cleansed the houles, wherem the idols were, and so entered therewitha with Palmes and thankes giuing.

48 So when he had cast all the sicknesses out, he set such men in it as kept the Law, and fortified it, and builded there a dwelling place for himselfe.

49 Now, when they in the castell at Jerusalem were kept, that they could not come forth nor go into the countie, neither bpe nor sell, they were verie hungrie, and many of them were famished to death.

50 In so much that they besought Simon to make peace with the which he graunted them, and put them out from thence, and cleansed the castell from filthinesse.

51 And vpon the thre & twentieth day of the second moneth, in the hundredth seventie, and one yeare, they entred into it with thankesgiving, and banches of palm-trees, and with harpes, and with cymbales, and with vioules, and with psalmes, and songs, because the great enemie of Israel was overcome.

52 And he ordered p the same day should be kept euerie yeare with gladnesse.

53 And he fortified the mount of the Temple that was beside the castell where he dwelt himselfe with his companie.

54 Simon also seeing that John his sonne was now a man, he made him capteine of all the hostes, and caused him to dwell in Gazaris.

Or, Gaza.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Demetrius is overcome of Antiochus, 11 Simon being captaine, there is great quietnesse in Israel. 18 The couenant of friendshippe with the Romanes, and with the people of Sparta is renewed.

1 In the hundredth, seventie & two yeare gathered King Demetrius his hostes, & departed vnto Media, to get him help for to fight against Tryphon.

2 But when Antiochus the King of Persia and Media heard, that Demetrius was entred within his borders, he sent one of his princes to take him alive.

3 So he went and overcame the armie of Demetrius, and tooke him, and brought him to Antiochus, which kept him in ward.

4 Thus all the land of Iuda was in rest, so long as Simon liued: for he sought the wealth of his nation: therefore were they glad to haue him for their ruler, and to do him worship alway.

5 Simon also wanne the citie of Ioppe to his great honour to be an haueu towne, and made it an entrance vnto the ples of the sea.

6 He enlarged also the borders of his people, and conquered the countiees.

7 He gathered vpp many of their people that were prisoners, and he had the domination of Gazaris, and Beth-ura, and the castell, which he cleansed from filthinesse, and there was no man that resisted him.

8 So that euerie man tilled his ground in peace, and the land gaue her frutes, and the trees gaue their fruite.

9 The Elders late in the open places and consulted altogether for the common wealth, and the young men were honourable clothed and armed.

10 He provided vituals for the cities, and all kind of munition, so that his glorious fame was renouued vnto the end of the world.

11 He made peace throughout the land, & Israel had perfite mirth and ioy.

12 For euerie man sate vnder his vine, & the fig trees, and there was no man to feare them.

13 There was none in the land to fight against them: for then the Kings were overcome.

14 He helped all those that were in aduersitie among his people: he was diligent to see the Law kept, and he tooke away the vngodly, and wicked.

15 He beautified the Sanctuarie, and increased the vessels of the Temple.

16 When the Romanes heard, and the Spartians had knowledge, that Jonathan was dead, they were verie ioyful.

17 But when they heard that Simon his brother was made high Priest in his stead, and how he had wonne the land againe with the cities in it.

18 They wrote vnto him in tables of brass, to renew the friendship, and bond of loue, which they had made with Iudas and Jonathan his brethren.

19 Which writings were read before the congregation at Jerusalem, and this is the copie of the letters that the Spartians sent,

20 THE SENATORS and citie of Sparta vnto Simon the great Duell, and to the Elders, and to the Priests, and to the residue of the people of the Jewes their brethren send greeting.

21 When your ambassadours that were sent vnto our people, certified vs of your glorie and honour, we were glad of their coming.

22 And haue registred their ambassage in the publike records in this maner, NVMENIVS the sonne of Antiochus, and Antipater the sonne of Jason the Jewes ambassadours came vnto vs to renew as mutie with vs.

23 And it pleased the people that the men should be honourably increased, & that the copie of their ambassage should be registred in the publike records, that it might be for a memorial vnto the people of Sparta: and a copie of the same was sent to Simon the chiefe Duell.

24 After this Simon sent Numenius to Rome, with a great shield of golde of a thousand pound weight, to confirme the friendship with them.

25 Which when the people vnderstode, they saide, What thanks shal we recompence againe vnto Simon and his children?

26 For he and his brethren, and the house of his father haue established Israel, and overcome their enemies, and haue confirmed ned

med the libertie thereof: therefore they wrote this in tables of brasse, and set it vpon pillars in mount Sion.

27 The copie of the writings is this, in the eight and twentieth daie of the moneth Iul in the hundred, seuenie and two yeare, in the thirde yeare of Simon the high Priest.

August.

Or, Ierusalem.

28 In the great congregacion of the Priestes, & of the people, and of the gouernours of the nation, and of the Elders of the countrey, we woulde signifie vnto you, in manie bartels haue bene taught in our countrey.

29 Wherem Simon the sonne of Matathias (come of the children of Iarid) and his brethren put themselves in danger, and resisted the enemies of their nation, that their Sanctuarie, and Lawe might be maintained, and vid their nation great honour.

30 For Jonathan gathered his nation together, and became their highe Priest, and isaid with his people.

31 After that would their enemies haue invaded their countrey, and desloped their land, and lay their handes on their Sanctuarie.

32 Then Simon resisted them & fought for his nation, and spent much of his own substance, & armed the valiant men of his nation, and gaue them wages.

33 He fortified also in cities of Iudaea, and Bethsura that lyeth vpon the borders of Iudaea (where the ordinance of their enemies lay sometime) & set there a garrison of the Iewes.

Or, Gaza, or Gazaris.

34 And he fortified Joppe, which lyeth vpon the sea, and Gazara that bordereth vpon Azorns (where the enemies dwelt afore) and there he placed Iewes, and furnished them with thynges necessarie for the reparation thereof.

35 How when the people sawe the faithfullnesse of Simon, and to what glorie he thought to bring his nation vnto, they made him their gouernour, & the cheefe Priest, because he had done all these thynges, and for the vprightnesse, and fidelitie that he had kept to his nation, and that fought by all meanes to exalt his people.

36 For in his time they prospered well by him, so that the heathen were taken out of their countrey, and they also which were in the cite of Dauid at Ierusalem, where they had made it a castell, out of the which they went and defiled all thynges that were aboute the Sanctuarie, and did great hurt vnto religion.

37 And he set Iewes in it, and fortified it, for the assurance of the land, and cite, & raised vp the walles of Ierusalem.

38 And King Demetrius confirmed him in his high Priesthood for these causes.

39 And made him one of his friendes, & gaue him great honour.

40 For it was reported to the Romanes called the Iewes their friendes, & confederates, and that they honourably recei-ued Simonius and Bassababones, and that the Iewes and Priestes consented, in Simon should be their prince, and high Priest perpetually, all was raised by the true Prophet,

41 And that he should be their captaine, & haue the charge of the Sanctuarie, & so let men ouer the workes, and ouer the countrey, and ouer the weapons, and ouer the fortresses, and that he should make poulition for the holy thynges,

42 And that he should be obedient of every man, and that all the writings in the countrey should be made in his name, and that he should be clothed in purple, and wear golde,

43 And that it should not be lawfull for any of the people of Iudelles to breake any of these thynges, or to withstande his wordes, or to call any congregacion in the countrey without him, or be clothed in purple, or wear a collar of golde:

44 And if any did contrarie to these thynges, or breake any of them, he should be punished.

45 So it pleased all the people to agree that it should be done to Simon accordyng vnto these wordes.

46 Simon also accepted it, and was content to be the high Priest, and the captaine, and the prince of the Iewes, and of the Priestes, & to be the cheefe of all.

47 And they commanded to set by this writing in tables of brasse, and to faite it to the wall that compassed the Sanctuarie in an open place, 48 And that a copie of the same should be layed vp in the treasure, that Simon and his souldiers might haue it.

CHAP. XV.

1 Antiochus maketh a covenant of friendship with Simon, 11. Tryphon is persecuted, 15. The Romanes write letters vnto Kinges and nations in the defence of the Iewes, 27. Antiochus refusing the helpe that Simon sent him, breaketh his covenant.

1 Moreouer King Antiochus the son of Demetrius sent letters from the ples of the Sea vnto Simon the Priest, and Prince of the Iewes, and to all the nation,

2 Concerning these wordes, ANTIOCHVS the King vnto Simon the great Priest, and to the nation of the Iewes sendeth greeting.

3 For so much as certaine Pestilent men haue vsurped the kingdome of our fathers, I am purposed to chalenge the realme again, and to restore it to the old estate: wherefore I haue gathered a great hoste and prepared thynges of warre,

4 That I may goe thorow the countrey, and be auenged of them, which haue desloped our countrey, and waked manie cities in the realme.

5 Howe therefore I doe confirme vnto thee all thy libertie, wherof the Kinges thy progenitors haue discharged thee, and all the paymentes, wherof they haue

6 And I give thee leave to coyne money of thine owne name within thy countrey.
 7 And that Jerusalem, and the Sanctuarie be free, and that all the weapons, that thou hast prepared, and the fortresses, which thou hast builded, and kepest in thine handes, shall be thine.
 8 And all that is due vnto the king, and all that shall be due vnto the king, I forgiue it thee, from this time forth for euermore.
 9 And when we haue obtained our kingdome, we will give thee, and thy nation & the Temple great honour, so that your honour shall bee knowen throughout the worlde.

 23. 13. ch. 11

10 In the hundredth seuentie and foure yeare went Antiochus vnto his fathers lande, and all the bandes came together vnto him, so that fewe were left with Tryphon.
 11 So the king Antiochus pursued him, but he fled and came to Doza, which lyeth by the sea side.
 12 For he saw that troubles were toward him, and that the arme had forsaken
 him.
 13 Then camped Antiochus against Do-za with an hundredth and twentie thousande fighting men, and eight thousande horsemen.
 14 So he compassed the citie about, and the shippes came by the sea. Thus they pressed the citie by land, and by sea, in so much that they suffered no man to goe in nor out.
 15 In the meane season came Ammenius, and his companie from Rome, hauing letters writren vnto the kinges & countries, wherein were contained these wordes,
 16 Lucius the Consul of Rome vnto
 King Ptolemicus tenderth greeting.
 17 The ambassadours of the Jewes are come vnto vs as our friendes and confederate from Simon the high Priest, & from the people of the Jewes to renewe friendship, and the bond of loue.
 18 Who haue bought a shield of golde weping a thousand pound.
 19 Wherefore we thought it good to write vnto the kinges and countries, that they should not goe about to hurt them, nor to fight against them, nor their cities, nor their countrey, neither to maintaine their enemies against them.
 20 And we were content to receiue of the theshelde.
 21 If therefore there be any pestilent fellowes fled from their countrey vnto you deliuer them vnto Simon the high Priest, that he may punishe them according to their owne lawe.
 22 The same things were writren to Demetrius the king, and to Attalus, and to Nearches and to Arctas.
 23 And to all countries, as Samplames, and to them of Sparta, and to Delus,

Or, Samp-lace.
 Or, Delo.

and to Strindus and to Sicion, and to Caria, and to Samos and to Dauphylia, and to Lycia, and to Halicarnalus, and to Rhodes, and to Phaelis, and to Cos, and to Sidon, and to Coryna, and to Gndon, and to Cyprus, and to Cyrene.
 24 And they sent a copie of them to Simon the high Priest.
 25 If So Antiochus the king camped against Doza the seconde time euer readie to take it, and made diuerse engines of warre, & kept Tryphon in, that he could neither goe in nor out.
 26 Then Simon sent him two thousand cholen men to helpe him with siluer and golde, and much furniture.
 27 Heerethelife, he would not receiue them, but brake all the couenaunt, whiche he had made with him afore, and withdrew him selfe from him.
 28 And sent vnto him Athenobius one of his friends to commuue with him, saying, Be withholde Ioyne, and Gazara with the callit that is at Jerusalem, the citie of my realme.
 29 Whose borders ye haue destroyed and done great hurt in the lande, and haue a gouernment of many places of my kingdome.
 30 Wherefore nowe deliuer the cities, which ye haue taken, with the tributes of the places, ye haue rule ouer without the borders of Iudaea.
 31 Else giue me for them five hundredth talents of siluer, and for the harme that ye haue done, and for the tributes of the places other five hundredth talents: if not, wee will come and fight against you.
 32 So Athenobius the kings friend came to Jerusalem, and when he sawe the honour of Simon, and the cupboard of gold and siluer plate, and so great preparation he was astonished, and tolde him the kinges message.
 33 Then answered Simon, and saide vnto him, We haue neither taken other mens lands, nor withholden that which appertaineth to others: but our fathers heritage, which our enemies had unrighteously in possession a certaine time.
 34 But when we had occasion we reco-uered the inheritance of our fathers.
 35 And whereas thou requirest Ioyne & Gazara, they did greate harme to our people, and thoroowe our countrey, yet will we giue an hundredth talents for them. But Athenobius answered him not one worde.
 36 But turned againe angry vnto the king, and tolde him all these wordes, and the dignitie of Simon, with all that he had seene: & the king was verie angry.
 37 In the meane time fled Tryphon by shippe vnto Orthosias.
 38 Then the king made Cendebeus captaine of the sea coast, & gaue him bands of foote men and horsemen, 39 And commaunded him to remoue the host hosse toward Iudea, and to build by Ces-dion, and to forishe the gates, and to warre against the people: but the King pursued Tiphon.

40 So Cendebeus came vnto Iannia, & began to bere the people, and to maade Iudea, and to take the people prisoners, and to slay them.

41 And he built by Cedron, where he set horsemen and garisons, that they might make outrodes by the wapes of Iudea, as the King had commaunded him.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Cendebeus the capteine of Antiochus hosse is put to flight by the sonnes of Simon. 11 Prolemeus the sonne of Abubus killeth Simon & his two sonnes at a banquet, 23 Iohn killeth them that lye in wayte for his life.

Joseph. An- I T Hen came Iohn by from Gazara, &
fig. 13. ca. 11 I tolde Simon his father, what Ceudebeus had done.

2 So Simon called two of his eldest sons, Iudas and Iohn, & laide vnto them, I,
and my brethren, and my fathers houls, had euer from our youth vnto this day fought againt the enimies of Israel, & the matters haue had good successe vnder our handes, and we haue deliuered Israel oftentimes.

3 But I am now olde, & ye by Gods mercie are of a sufficient age: be ye therefore in stead of me, and my brother, and goe forth and fight for our nation, and the helpe of heauen be with you.

4 So he chose twentie thousand fighting men of the countrie with the horsemen, which went forth againt Cendebeus, and rested at Modun.

5 In the morning they arose, and went into the plaine field: & beholde, a mightie great hosse came againt them both of foemen, and horsemen: but there was a riuer betwixt them.

6 And Iohn ranged his armie ouer a-gaint him, & when he saw that the people was afr aide to go ouer the riuer, he went ouer first himselfe, and the men seeing him, passed through after him.

7 Then he diuided his men, & set the horsmen in the middes of the foemen.

8 For their enimies horsemen were verie many: but when they blew p trumpets, Cendebeus fled with his hosse, whereof many were slaine, and the remnant gate them to the fortesse.

9 Then was Iuda Iohns brother wounded: but Iohn followed after them, til he came to Cedion, which Cendebeus had built.

10 Also they fled vnto the towres, that were in the fieldes of Jozus, and those did Iohn burne with fire: thus were ther e slaine two thousand men of them: so he returued peaceably into p land of Iuda.

11 ¶ Now in the field of Jericho was Ptolemeus the sonne of Abubus made cap-tine, and he had abundaunce of siluer and golde.

12 For he had married the daughter of the high Priest.)

13 Therefore he wared proude in his mude, and thought to rule the land, and thought to slay Simon and his sonnes by deceit.

14 Now as Simon went about thoro-we the cities of the countrie, & studied carefully for them, he came downe to Jericho with Mattathias, and Iudas his sonnes in the hundredth, seuentie and les-uen pere, in the eleuenth moneth, which is the moneth Saba.

15 Then the sonne of Abubus received the by treason into a little holde, called Doschus, which he had built, where he made them a great banquet, and had hid men there.

16 So when Simon and his sonnes had made good chere, Ptolemeus stode by with his men, and took their weapons, and entred in to Simon in the banquet houle, & slew him with his two sonnes, and certene of his seruants.

17 Whereby he committed a great vilenie, and recompensed euill for good.

18 Then wrote Ptolemeus these thinges and sent to the King, that he might send him an hosse to helpe him, & to would de-liuer him the countrie with the cities.

19 He sent other men also vnto Gazara, to take Iohn, & sent letters vnto p captiues to come to him, and he would giue them siluer and golde and rewardes.

20 And to Ierusalem he sent other to take it, and the monnteine of the Temple.

21 But one came before, and tolde Iohn in Gazara, that his father and his brethren were slaine, and that Ptolemeus had sent to slay him.

22 When he heard this, he was soze astonished, and laide handes of them p were come to him, & slew them: for he knewe that they went about to kill him.

23 Concerning other thinges of Iohn, both of his warres, & of his noble actes (wherein he behaued himselfe manfully) of the building of walls which he made,
and other of his deedes;

24 Behold, they are writen in the chronicles of his Priesthod, from the time, p he was made high Priest after his father. ¶

CHAP. I.

1 An Epistle of Iobe Iewes that dwelt at Ierusalem, sent vnto them that dwell in Egypt, wher-in they exhorte them to giue thanks for the death of Antiochus. 19 Of the fire that was bid in the pit, The prayer of Neemias.

1 T HE brethren the Iewes, whiche be at Ierusalem, and they that are in the countrie of Iudea, vnto the brethren the Iewes, that are throughout Egypt, sende salutation, and prospérité.

2 God be gracious vnto pon and remember his covenant made with Abraham, &
 Isaac, and Jacob his faithfull seruants, 3 And giue pou all an heart, to worship him, & to do his will with a whole heart and with a willing minde, 4 And open pour hearts in his law, and commandements, and send pou peace, 5 And heare pour prayes, and be reconciled with pou, and neuer forsake pou in tyme of trouble.
 6 Thus now we pray here for you.
 7 When Demetrius reigned, in the hundredth, threescore and ninthe yeare, we Jewes wjote vnto pou in the trouble, & violence þ came vnto vs in those yeares, after that Jason, and his companie departed out of the holie land and king-
 dome,
 8 And burnt the porch, and shed innocent blood. Then we prayed vnto the Lord, And were heard: we offered sacrifices & fine shewe, and lighted the lampes, & set forth the bread.
 9 Now therefore keepe ye the days of the feast of the Tabernacles in the moneth Challeu.
 10 ¶ In the hundredth, fourescore & eight yeare, the people that was at Jerusalem, and in Judea, and the counsell and Judas, vnto Antiochus King Ptolemeus maister, which is of the stocke of the armed Priestes, and to þ Jewes that are in Egypt, lendeth greeting and health,
 11 In so much as God hath deliuered vs frõ great perils, we thanke him highly, as though we had ouercome the king.
 12 For he brought them into Persia by heapes, þ fought against the holie cite.
 13 For albet the captein, & the armie, that was with him, seemed murtherable, yet they were slaine in the temple of Panea, by the deceit of Paneas Priestes.
 14 For Antiochus, as though he would dwell with her, came thither he, and his frendes with him, to receive monie vnder the title of a dowrie.
 15 But when the Priestes of Panea had laid it forth, and he was entred with a small companie within the temple, they shut the temple, when Antiochus was come in,
 16 And by opening a priuie doore of the haute, they cast stones, as it were thunders, vpon the captein and his, and having wounded them in peeces, they cut of their heades and theywe them to those that were with out.
 17 God be blessed in all things, which hath deliuered by the wicked.
 18 Whereas we are now purposed to keepe the purification of the Temple vpon the sine & twentieth day of the moneth Challeu, we thought it necessarie to certifie pou thereof, that ye also might keepe the feast of the Tabernacles, and of the fire which was giuen vs when Aemias offered sacrifice, after that he had built the Temple, and the altar.

19 For when as our fathers were led as way vnto Persia, the Priestes, which sought the honour of God, tooke the fire of the altar priuily, and hid it in an hollow pit, which was drie in the bottome, and therein they kept it, so that the place was vnknown vnto euerie man.
 20 Now after many yeares when it pleased God that Aemias should be sent frõ the king of Persia, he sent of the poste-ritie of those Priestes, which had hid it to fetch the fire, and as they tolde vs, they found no fire, but thicke water.
 21 Then commanded he them to draw it by, & to bring it: & when the things apperteming to the sacrifices were brought Aemias commanded the Priestes to sprinkle the wood, and the thinges laide therevpon with water.
 22 When this was done, & the time came that the sunne shone, which afore was hid in the cloude, there was a great fire kindled, so that euerie man maruelled.
 23 Now the Priestes, and all prayed, while the sacrifice was consuming: Jonathan began, & the other answered therevnto.
 24 And the prayer of Aemias was after this manner. O Lord, Lord God maker of all things, which art fearful, & strong, and righteous, & mercifull, and the onely and gracious King,
 25 Only liberall, onely iust and almighty & euerlasting, thou that deliuerest Israel from all trouble, and hast chosen the sa-thers, and sanctified them, 26 Receive the sacrifice for thy whole people of Israel, & preferre thine owne portion, and sanctifie it.
 27 Gather those together, that are scattered from vs: deliuer them that serue as mong the heathen: looke vpon them which are despised, & aduoyred, that the heathen may know that þ art our God.
 28 Punish them that oppresse vs, & with pride do vs wrong.
 29 Plant thy people againe in thine holie place * as thy Peoples hath spoken.
 30 And the Priestes sang Psalmes therevnto.
 31 Now when the sacrifice was consumed, Aemias commaunded the great stones to be sprinkled with the residue of the water.
 32 Which when it was done, there was kindled a flame, which was consumed by the light that shined from the altar.
 33 ¶ So when this matter was knowne, it was tolde the king of Persia, þ in the place where the Priestes, which were led away, had hid fire, there appeared water, wherewith Aemias & his compa-nie had purified the sacrifices.
 34 The king tried out the thing, & closed the place about, and made it holie.
 35 And to them that the king fauoured, he gaue and bestowed many giftes.
 36 And Aemias called the same place on: but many men call it * Aephtihar.

6 And there came certein of those that followed him, to marke the place: but they could not find it.

7 Which when Ieremias perceined, he reprov'd them, saying, As for that place, it is albe vnknewen, untill the time that God gather his people together againe & that mercie be shewed.

8 Then shall the Lorde shewe them these thinges, & the maner of the Lord shall appere & the cloude also, as it was shewed vnder I Poples, & as when Salomon desired, that the place might be honoared by sanctified.

the purification, we haue writte into you, & ye shall do well, if ye keepe the same daies.

17 We hope also that God, which deliuered all his people, & gaue an heritage to them all, and the kingdome, & the Priesthode, & the Sanctuary, 18 * As he promised in the Law, will shortly haue mercie vpon vs, & gather vs together from vnder the heauen vnto his holpe place: for he hath saued vs fro great perils, & hath clenfed the place.

Deut. 30. 5

19 As concerninge Judas Maccabens, & his brethren, the purification of the great Temple, & the dedication of the altar,

20 And the warres against Antiochus Epiphanes, & Cipator his sonne,

21 And the manifest signes, that came from heauen vnto those, which manfully stood for the Iewes religion: for though they were but few, yet they ran through whole citieis, & pursued the barbarous armies,

22 And repaired the Temple that was renowned throughout all the world, & desiered the citie, & established the Lawes, that were like to be abolished, because the Lord was mercifull vnto them with all lenitie)

23 We will assay to abridge in one booke those thinges, that Iason the Cirenean hath declared in his booke.

24 For consideringe the wonderfull number, & the difficultie that they haue that would be occupied in the rehearsal of stories, because of the diuersitie of the matters,

25 We haue indurend, that they that would read, might haue pleasure, & that they which are studious, might easely keepe them in memorie, & that whosoever read them, might haue profit.

26 Therefore to vs that haue taken in hand this great labour, it was no easie thing to make this abudgement, but required both sweate, and watching.

27 Like as he that maketh a feast, & seeketh other mens commoditie, hath no small labour: so we also for many mens sakes are very well content to undertake this great labour.

28 Leauing to the author the exact diligence of euery particular, we wil labour to go forward according to the prescript order of an abudgement.

29 For as he that wil build a new house, must provide for the whole building, but hee that setteth out the plat or goeth about to paint it, seeketh but only what is comely for the decking thereof.

30 Euen so I thinke for vs that it apperaineth to the first writer of a storie to enter deeply vnto it, & to make mention of all thinges, and to bee curious in euery part.

31 But it is permitted to him that wil shorten it, to vse few words, & to auoyde those things that are curious there in

CHAP. III.

3 Of the honour done vnto the Temple by the Kings of the Gentiles, 6 Simon vstereth what treasure is in the temple, 7 Heliodorus is sent to take them away, 26 He is stricken of God, and bealed at the prayer of Onias.

1 WHat time as the holie citie was inhabited with all peace, & when the lawes were verie well kept, because of the godlines of Onias p high Priest, and hatred of wickednesse,

2 It came to passe that euen the King did honour the place, & garnished the temple with great gifts.

3 In so much that Seleucus King of Asia of his owne rents, bare all the costes belonging to the seruice of the sacrifices.

4 But one Simon of the tribe of Beniamin being appointed ruler of the Temple, contended with the hie Priest concerning the inuquire committed in the citie.

5 And when hee could not ouercome Onias, he gate him to Apollonius the sonne of Thrafeas, which then was gouernour of Coelosyria and Phenice,

6 And told him that the treasure in Jerusalem was full of innumerable money, which did not belong to the prouision of the sacrifices, and that it were possible that these things might come into the kings hands.

7 Now when Apollonius came to the king and had shewed him of the money, as it was told him, the king chose out Heliodorus his treasurer, and sent him with a commaundement, to bring him the foresaid money.

8 Immediately Heliodorus tooke his iourney as though he would visite the cities of Coelosyria and Phenice, but in effect to fulfil the kings purpose.

9 So when he came to Jerusalem, & was courteously receiued of the hie Priest into the citie, he declared what was determined concerning the money, and shewed the cause of his coming, and asked if these things were so in deede.

10 Then the hie Priest told him that there were suche things layde by by the widowes and fatherles,

11 And that a certaine of it belonged vnto Hircanus the sonne of Tobias a noble man, and not as that wicked Simon had reported, & that in all, there were but some hundred, & th talents of siluer, & two hundredth of gold,

12 And that it were altogether vnpossible to do this wrong to them that had committed it of reult to the holmes of the place & Temple, which is honoured thorow the whole worlde for holmes and integritie,

13 But Heliodorus because of the Kings commaundement giuen him, sayde that in any wise it must bee brought into the Kings treasure.

14 So he appointed a day, and went in to take order for these things: then there was no small grieue throughout the whole citie.

15 For the Priestes fell downe before the altar in the Priestes garments & called vnto heauen vpon him which had made a law concerning things giuen to be kept that they shoulde be safely preserved for such as had committed them to be kept.

16 Then they that looked the hie Priest in the face were wounded in their heart: for his countenance, & the changing of his colour declared the sorow of his mind.

17 The man was so wrapped in feare and trembling of the bodie, that it was manifest to them that looked vpon him, what sorow he had in his heart.

18 Others also came out of their houses by heapes vnto the common prayer, because the place was like to come vnto contempt,

19 And the women giue with sackloth vnder their breasts, filled the streets, & the virgins that were kept in, came some to the gates and some to the walles, and others looked out of the windowes.

20 And al held by their hands toward heauen, and made prayer.

21 It was a lamentable thing to see the multitude that fell downe of all sorts, & the expectation of the high Priest being in such anguish,

22 Therfore they called vpon the almighty Lord, that he would keepe safe & sure the things which were layd by for those that had deliuered them.

23 Neuertheless, the thing that Heliodorus was determined to do, that did hee performe.

24 And as he and his souldiers were now there present by the treasury, he that is the Lord of the spirites, & of all power, shewed a great vision, so that all they which presumed to come with him, were astonished at the power of God, and fell into feare, and trembling.

25 For there appeared vnto the an horse with a terrible man sitting vpon him, most richly habed, and he ranne fiercely, and smote at Heliodorus with his fore feete, and it seemed that hee that sat vpon the horse, had harnesse of golde.

26 Moreover, there appeared two pong men, notable in strength, excellent in beautie, & comely in apparell, which stood by him on either side, and scourged him continually, and gaue him manie fore stripes.

27 And Heliodorus fell suddenly vnto the ground, & was covered with great darkness: but they that were with him, tooke him vp, and put him in a letter.

28 Thus he that came with so great com-or, the state and prouisi-on.

panie, and many soldiers into the saide treasure, was borne out: for he could not helpe him selfe with his weapons.

29 So they did knowe the power of God manifestly, but he was donne by the power of God, and lay deliuered of all hope and health.

30 And they prayed the Lorde that had honoured his owne place: for the Temple which a litle afore was full of feare and trouble, when the Almightie Lorde appeared, was filled with ioy and gladnesse.

31 Then straightwayes certaine of Heliodorus friends prayed Onias, that he would cal upon the most High to grant him his life, which lay ready to giue by the gholt.

32 So the hie Priest, considering that the King might suspect that the Jewes had done Heliodorus some euill, he offered a sacrifice for the helpe of the man.

33 Nowe when the hie Priest had made his prayer, the same young men in the same clothing appeared, and stode beside Heliodorus, saying, Gine Onias the hie Priest great thanks: for, for his sake hath the Lord granted thee thy life.

34 And seing that thou hast bene scourged from heauen, declare vnto all men the mightie power of God: and when they had spoken these wordes, they appeared no more.

35 So Heliodorus offered vnto the Lorde sacrifice, & made great bowes vnto him, which had granted him his life, and thanked Onias, and went againe with his hoast to the King.

36 Then testified he vnto every man of the great workes of God that he had seene with his eyes.

37 And when the King asked Heliodorus, who were meete to be sent yet once againe to Jerusalem, he said,

38 If thou hast any enimie or traitour, send him thither, and thou shalt receiue him well scourged, if he escape with his life: for in that place, no doubt, there is a speciall power of God.

39 For he that dwelleth in heauen, hath his eye on that place, and defendeth it, & he beareth and destroperh them that come to hurt it.

40 This came to passe concerning Heliodorus, and the heaping of the treasure.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Simon reporteth euill of Onias, 7 Iason obtaineth the office of the hie Priest by corrupting the King. 27 And was by Menelaus defrauded by like bribing. 34 Onias is slaine traiterously by Andronicus.

1 This Simon nowe, of whome we spake before, being a deuorper of the money and of his owne naturall countrey, reported euill of Onias, as though he had moued Heliodorus vnto this, and had bene the munter of the auill,

2 This was he bolde to call him a traitour that was so beneficiall to the cite, and a defender of his nation, and so zealous of the Lawes.

3 But when his malice increased so farre, that through one that belonged to Simon, murders were committed,

4 Onias considering the danger of this contention, and that Apollonius, as he that was the gouernour of Cœlophonia and Phenice, did rage, and increased Simons malice,

5 He went to the King not as an accuser of the citizens, but as one that intended the common wealth both privately and publickly.

6 For he sawe it was not possible except the King tooke order to quiet the matters, and that Simon would not leaue off his follie.

7 For after the death of Seleucus, when Antiochus, called Epiphanes, tooke the kingdome, Iason the brother of Onias laboured by vnlawfull means to be hie Priest.

8 For he came vnto the King, and promised him three hundred and threescore talents of siluer, and of an other rent, foure score talents.

9 Besides this he promised him an hundred and fiftie, if he might haue licence to set vp a place of exercise, and a place for the youth, & that they would name them of Jerusalem Antiochians.

10 The which thing when the King had graunted, and he had gotten the supererogitie, he begane immediatly to drawe his kinlines to the customes of the Gentiles,

11 And abolished the friendly priuileges of the Kings, that the Jewes had set vp by John, the father of Eupolemus, which he was sent ambassadour vnto Rome, to become friends and confederates: he put downe their lawes and polities, and brought by newe statutes, and contrary to the Lawe.

12 For he presumed to build a place of exercise vnder the castell, and brought the chiefe young men vnder his subiection, & made them weare hattes.

13 So there began a great desire to soloby the maners of the Gentiles, & they tooke by the fashions of strange nations by the exceeding wickednesse of Iason, not the hie Priest, but the vngodly person,

14 So that the Priestes were nowe no more diligent about the seruire of the altar, but despised the Temple, and regarded not the sacrifices, but made haste to be partakers of the wicked expences at the play, & after the casting of the stone.

15 For they did not set by the honour of their fathers, but liked the glory of the Gentiles best of all.

16 By reason whereof great calamitie came vpon them: for they had them to be their enimies and punishers, whose custome they folowe so earnestly, and desired a In working some trecherie or forcerie against him.

desired to be like them in all things.

17 For it is not a light thing to transgresse against the Lawes of God, but the time following they all declare these things.

Or, Olimpian sports, which were games kept every fift yere.

18 ¶ Now when the games that were used euery five yeres, were played at Tyrrus, the King being present,

19 This wicked Jason sent from Ierusalem men to looke vpon them, as thoughe they had bene Antiochians, which brought thre hundredth drachmes of silver for a sacrifice to Hercules: albeit they that carried them, desired they might not be bestowed on the sacrifice (because it was not comely) but to be bestowed for other expences.

20 So he that sent them, sent them for the sacrifice of Hercules: but because of those that brought them, they were giuen to the making of gallees.

21 ¶ Now Apollonius þe sonne of Menelaus was sent into Egypt because of þe coronation of King Ptoleimus Philometor: but when Antiochus perceived þe he was euil affectioned toward his affaires, he sought his own assurance, and departed from thence to Roppe, and so came to Ierusalem.

22 Where he was honourably received of Jason, and of the cite, and was brought in with torchlight, and with great showings, and so he went with his hoast vnto Phenice.

23 These yere afterward Jason sent Menelaus, the foresaid Simons brother, to beare the money vnto the king, and to bring to passe certaine necessarie affaires, whercof he had giuen him a memoriall.

24 But he, being commended to the king, magnified him for the appearance of his power, and turned the Priesthood vnto him selfe: for he gaue thre hundredth talents of silver more then Jason.

Or, roman-dements.

25 So he gate the kings letters patents, albeit he had nothing in him selfe worthy of the Priesthood, but bare the smack of a cruell tyrant, and the wrath of a wild beast.

26 Then Jason, which had deceived his own brother, being deceiued by another, was compelled to flee into the countrey of the Ammonites.

27 So Menelaus gate the dominion: but as for the money that he had promised vnto the king, heooke none order for it, albeit Sostratus the ruler of the castel required it.

28 For vnto him appertained the gathering of the customs: wherof they were both called before the King.

29 Nowe Menelaus left his brother Ipsi-machus in his stead in the Priesthood, and Sostratus left Crates which was gouernour of the Egyptians.

þ That is, of then that measured the corne.

30 ¶ Whiles these things were in doing, the Thartians and they of Mallot made insurrection, because they were giuen to the kinges concubine called Antiochis.

31 Then came the king in all haste, to appease the businesse, leauing Andronicus a man of authoritie to be his lieutenant.

32 Nowe Menelaus supposing that he had gotten a convenient time, stole certaine vessels of golde out of the Temple, and gaue certaine of them to Andronicus: and some he solde at Tyrrus and in the cities there by.

33 Which when Onias knewe of a suretie, he repproued him, and with his owne hande selfe into a Sanctuarie at Daphne by Antiochia.

34 Wherefore Menelaus, taking Andronicus apart, prayed him to slay Onias: so when he came to Onias, he counselled him craftily, giuing him his right hand with an othe: (howbeit he suspected him, and perswaded him to come out of the Sanctuarie) so he slue him incontinently without any regard of rightousnesse.

35 For the which cause not only the Jewes, but many other nations also were grieued, &ooke it heauily for the vniuersal death of this man.

36 ¶ And when the king was come againe from the places about Cilicia, the Jewes that were in the cite, and certain of the Greekes that abhorred the fact also, complained because Onias was slaine without cause.

37 Therefore Antiochus was sorie in his minde, and he had compassion, and wept because of the modestie and great discretion of him that was dead.

38 Wherefore being kindled with anger, heooke away Andronicus garment of purple, and rent his clothes, and commended him to be led throughout the cite, & in the same place where he had committed the wickednesse against Onias, he was slaine as a murderer. Thus the Lord rewarded him his punishment, as he had deserued.

39 ¶ Nowe when Ipsi-machus had done many wicked deedes in the cite through the counsel of Menelaus, and the brute was spread abroad, the multitude gathered them together against Ipsi-machus: for he had carried out nowe much vessel of golde.

40 And when the people arose, and were full of anger, Ipsi-machus armed about thre thousand, and began to vse vniuersal power, a certaine tyrant being their captaine, who was no lesse decayed in wit then in age.

41 But when they vnderstoode the purpose of Ipsi-machus, some gaue stones, some great clubbes, and some cast handfuls of dust, which lay by vpon Ipsi-machus men, and those that invaded them.

42 Whereby many of them were wounded, some were slaine, and all the other chased away: but the wicked Church robber him selfe, they killed beside the treasure.

43 For these causes an accusation was laide against Menelaus.

44 And when the king came to Tyrrus, theye thre men sent from the Senate pleaded the cause before him,

- 45 But Menelaus being now commended, promised to Ptolemius the sonne of Desdemus much money, if he would per-swade the King.
- 46 So Ptolemius went to the King into a court, whereas he was to come him selfe, & turned the Kings mind.
- 47 In so much that hee discharged Me-nelaus from the accusations (notwithstanding he was the cause of all mischief) & condemned those poore men to death, wherof if they had told their cause, pre-sore the Scythians, they shewd haue ben heard as innocent.
- 48 Thus were they soone punished vniust ly, which folowed vpon the matter for the cite, & for the people, & for the holy vessels.
- 49 Wherefore they of Cyprus hated that wickednes, & ministered all things liberally for their buriall.
- 50 And so through the covetousnes of the that were in power, Menelaus remapned in authority, increasing in malice, & declared him selfe a greatic traitor to the citizens.

CHAP. V.

- 2 Of the signes and tokens scene in Ierusalem.
- 6 Of the end and wickednes of Iason. 11 The pursuit of Antiochus against the Iewes. 15 The spoiling of the Temple. 27 Maccabees sleeth into the wilderness.

1 About the same time Antiochus busied to take his second voyage into Egypt.

2 And then were there scene throughout all the cite of Ierusalem, fourtie daies long, horrent running in the ayre, with robes of golde, and as bandes of speares men.

3 And as troups of horsemen set in array, encountering & coursing one against another with shaking of shields & multitude of darts, & drawing of swords, & shooting of arrowes, & the glittering of the golden armour scene, & harnesse of al sortes.

4 Therefore euery man prayed, that those tokens might turne to good.

3 Now when there was gone forth a false rumour, as though Antiochus had bene dead, Iasonooke at the least a thousand men, and came suddenly vpon the cite, and they that were vpon the walles, being put backe and the cite at length taken,

6 Menelaus fled into the castel, but Iaso slew his owne citizens without merce, not considering that to haue the aduan-tage against his kinsmen is greates disadvantage, but thought that hee had gotten the victorie of his enemies & not of his owne nation.

7 Yet he gate not the superiority, but at the last receiued shame for the rewarde of his treason, and wrote againe like a bagabonde into the countrey of the Am-monites.

8 Finally hee had this end of his wicked conuerlation, that he was accused before Areta, the King of the Arabians, & fled from cite to cite, being pursued of euery man, & hated as a forsaker of the lawes & was in abomination, as an e-nemie of his countrey & citizens, & was driven into Egypt.

9 Thus he that had chased many out of their owne countrey, perished as a bam-shed man, after that he was gone to the Lacedemonians, thinking there to haue gotten succour by reason of kinred.

10 And he that had cast many out vnbu-ried, was thowen out him selfe, no man mourning for him, nor putting him in his graue: neither was hee partaker of his fathers sepulchre.

11 Now when these thinges that were done, were declared to the King, he thought that Judea would haue falle from him:
wherefore he came with a furious mind out of Egypt, & toke the cite by violence.

12 Hee commaunded his men of warre also, that they should kill, & not spare suche as they met, & to slay such as went into their houses.

13 Thus was there a slaughter of pong-men, and olde men, and a destruction of men and women, & children, & virgins, & infantes were murdered:

14 So that within thre daies were slaine fourre score thousand, & fourtie thousand taken prisoners, and there were as many sold as were slaine.

15 Yet was he not content with this, but durst go into the most holy Temple of al
the world, hauing Menelaus that traitor to the lawes, & to his owne coun-tre, to be his guide,

16 And with his wicked hands toke the holy vessels, which other Kings had geuen for the garnishing, glorie & honour of that place, & handled them with his wicked hands.

17 So haucie in his mind was Antiochus that hee considered not, that God was not a litle wroth for the sinnes of them that dwell in the cite, for the which such contempt came vpon that place.

18 For if they had not bene wrapped in many sinnes, hee, althow as he had come, had suddenly bene punished, & put backe from his presumption, as Heliodorus was, whom Seleucus the King sent to view the treasure.

19 But God hath not chosen the nation for the places sake but the place, for the nations sake.

20 And therefore is the place become partaker of the peoples trouble, but afterward shall it be partaker of the benefites of the Lorde, & as it is now forsaken in the wrath of the Almightie, so when the great Lorde shall be reconciled, it shall be set vp in great worship againe.

21 So when Antiochus had take eightene hundred talents out of the Temple he

Or. Mat. 27.

he gate him to Antiochia in all haste, thinking in his pride to make men saile vpon the sea land, & to walke vpon the sea: such an hee mind had he.

22 But he left deputies to vexe the people: at Jerusalem Phillipe a Phrygian by birth, in manners more cruell then hee that set him there:

23 And at Sarrim Andronicus, and with them J. Denelaus, which was more grievous to the citizens then the other, & was despitefull against the Jewes his citizens.

24 He sent also Apolonius a cruel prince, with an armie of two and twentie thousand, whom he commanded to slay those that were toward mans age, and to sell the women, and the ponger foze.

23 So when he came to Jerusalem, he famed peace, and kept him still untill the holy day of Sabbath: and then finding the Jewes keeping the feast, he commanded his men to take their weapons.

26 And so he slew all them that wer gone forth to the shewe, and running thorough the cite with his men armed, he murdered a great number.

27 But Judas Maccabeus, being as it were the tenth, fled into the wilderness, & liued there in the mountaines with his company among the beastes, and dwelling there, and eating grasse, least they should be partakers of the filthines.

CHAP. VI

The Jewes are compelled to leaue the Law of God, & The Temple is desiled, 10 The women cruelly punished. 23 The grievous paine of Eleazarus.

1 NOr long after this, sent the King an old man of Athens, for to compell the Jewes, to transgresse the lawes of the fathers, and not to be governed by the Lawe of God,

2 And to desile the Temple that was at Jerusalem, & to cal it the Temple of Iupiter Olympius, and that of Sarrim, according as they did that dwelt at that place, Iupiter, that keepeth hospitalitie.

3 This wicked government was foze and grievous vnto the people.

4 For the Temple was full of dissolution, & gluttony of the Gentiles, which dallied with harlots, and had to do with women within the circuit of the holy places, and brought in such things as were not lawfull.

5 The altar also was full of such things, as were abominable and forbidden by the Law.

6 Neither was it lawfull to keepe the Sabbaths, nor to obserue their auncient feasts, nor plainly to confesse him self to be a Jewe.

7 In the daie of the Kings birch they were grievously compelled payfoze every moneth to banker. and when the feast of Bacchus was kept, they were constrained to go in the procession of Bacchus with garlands of puer.

8 Moreover through the counsel of Ptolemens, there went out a commandment vnto the next cities of the heathen against the Jewes, that the like custome, & banking should be kept.

9 And who so would not conforme them selues to the manners of the Gentiles, should be put to death: then might a man haue seene the present miserie.

10 For there were two women brought forth, that had crucified their sonnes, whom when they had led rounde about the city (the babes hanging at their breasts) they cast them downe headlong over the walles.

11 Some that were runne together into deuines to keepe the Sabbath day secretly, were discovered vnto Phillipe, & were burnt together, because that for the reuerence of the honorable daie they were afraid to helpe their selues.

12 How I beseech those which read this booke, that they be not discouraged for these calamities, but that they iudge these afflictions, not to be for destruction but for a chastening of our nation.

13 For it is a token of his great goodness not to suffer sinners long to continue, but straight waies to punish them.

14 For the Lord doeth not long waite for vs, as for other nations, whom he punisheth when they are come to the fullnes of their sinnes.

15 But thus he dealeth with vs, that our sinnes should not be heaped by to be full, so that afterward he should punish vs.

16 And therefore he neuer withholdeh his mercie from vs: and though he punisheth with aduersitie, yet both he neuer forsake his people.

17 But let this be spoken now for a warning vnto vs: and now will we come to the declaring of the matter in fewe wordes.

18 Eleazar then one of the principall scribes, an aged man, & of a well fauoured countenance, was constrained to open his mouth, & to eat swines flesh.

19 But he desiring rather to dye gloriouslie then to liue with hatred, offered him selfe willingly to the torment, and spit it out.

20 As they ought to go to death whiche suffer punishment for such things, as it is not lawfull to taste of for the desire to liue.

21 But they that had the charge of this wicked banker, for that olde friendship of the man, took him aside priuily, and prayed him, that he would take suche flesh, as was lawfull for him to vie, and as he would prepare for him selfe, and defende as though he had eaten of the things appointed by the King euen the flesh of the sacrifice,

22 That in so doing he might be deliuered from death, & that for the olde friendship that was among them, he would receiue this fauour, the eating of the flesh that was sacrific- ced.

Antiochia.

23 When he began to consider discretely, & as became his age, and the excellencie of his auncient yeares, and the honour of his gray haire, wherunto he was com, & his most honour couerlation from his childhood, but chiefly the holy Lawe made and giuen by God: therefore he answered consequently, and willed them straightwayes to send him to the grate.

24 For it becommeth not our age, said he, to dissemble, wherby many pong persons might thinke, that Cleazar being foure score yeere olde and ten were gone to an other religion,

25 And so though mine hypocritise (for a litle tyme of a transitorie life) they might be deceued by me, and I should procure malediction, and reproche to mine olde age.

26 For though I were nowe deliuered from the tormentes of men, yet could I not escape the hande of the Kinghtie, neither alme nor dead.

27 Wherfore I will nowe chaunge this life manfully, and will shewe my life such as mine age requireth,

28 And so will leaue a notable example for suche as be pong, to dye willingly and courageously for the honourable and honest Lawes. And when he had saide these wordes, immediatly he went to torment.

29 Nowe they that led him, changed the loue which they bare him before, into hatred, because of the wordes that he had spoken: for they thought it had ben a rage.

30 And as he was ready to giue the ghost because of the strokes, he slyed and said, The Lord that hath the holy knowlege, knoweth manifestly, that whereas I might haue bene deliuered from death, I am scourged & suffer these sore paynes of my body: but in my minde I suffer them gladly for his religion.

31 Euen now after this manner ended he his life, leauing his death for an example of a noble courage, and a memoriall of vertue, not onely vnto pong men, but vnto all his nation.

CHAP. VII.

The punishment of the seuen brethren and of their mother.

1 The came to passe also that seuen brethren, with their mother, were taken to be compelled by the King against the Lawe, to rasse swines flesh, and were tormented with scourges and whips.

2 When one of them, which spake first, said thus, What seekst thou? and what wouldest thou knowe of vs? we are ready to die, rather then to transgresse the Lawes of our fathers.

3 Then was the King angry, and commanded to heat paynes and cauldions, which were incontinently made hot.

4 And he commanded the tong of him that spake first, to be cut out, and to flay him and to cut off the vtmost parts of his body in the sight of his other brethren and his mother.

5 Now when he was thus mangled in all his members, he commanded him to be brought alme to the fire and to frye him in the painne: and while the smoke for a long tyme smoked out of the painne, the other brethren with their mother, exhorted one another to dye comagiously, saying in this manner,

6 The Lord God doth regard vs, and in deede taketh pleasure in vs, as Iudithes declared in the song wherem he testifieth openly, saying, That God will take pleasure in his seruants.

7 I So when the first was dead after this maner, they brought the second to make him a mocking stocke, and when they had pulled the skinn with the haire our his head, they asked him, if he would eat, or he were paynted in all the members of the body.

8 But he answered in his own language, and saide, No. Wherfore he was tormented fourthly like the first.

9 And when he was at the last breath, he saide, Thou murtherer takest this present life from vs, but I king of the world wil raise vs by, which die for his Lawes, in the resurrection of euermlasting life.

10 After him was the third had in desision, and when they demanded his tongue, he put it out incontinently, and stretched forth his hands boldly.

11 And spake manfully, These haue I had from the heauen, but nowe for the Lawe of God, I despise them, and trust that I shall erreue them of him againe.

12 In so muche that the King and they which were with him, marvelled at the pong mans courage, as at one that nothing regarded the paynes.

13 And nowe when he was dead also, they bereed and tormented the fourth in like manner.

14 And when he was nowe ready to dye, he said thus, It is better that we should chaunge this which we might hope for of men, and waite for our hope from God, than we may be raised vp againe by him: as for thee, thou shalt haue no resurrection to life.

15 Afterward they brought the fifth also, and tormented him.

16 Who looked vpon the King, and saide, Thou hast power among men, & though thou be a mortall man, thou dost what thou wilt: but thinke not, that God hath forsaken our nation.

17 But abide a while, and thou shalt see his great power, howe he will torment thee and thy brethren.

18 After him also they brought the sixte, who being at the point of death, saide, Because not thy selfe foolishly: for we suffer these things, which are worthy to be wondered at for our owne sakes, because we haue offended our God.

19 But thinke not thou, which undertaketh to fight against God, that I shall be unpunished.

Deut. 32. 36

Or, to another manner of life.

Unpunished.

20 But the mother was marvellous adone all other, and worthe of honour as the memorie: for when she sawe her sonnes soules flaine within the space of one day, she suffered it with a good will, because of the hope that she had in the Lord.

21 Pea, she exhorted every one of them in her own language, and being full of courage and wisdom, stirred by her womanly affections with a manly stomach, and said unto them,

22 I can not tell howe ye came into my wombe: for I neither gave you breath nor life: it is not I that set in order the members of your body,

23 But doubtlesse the Creator of the world, which formed the birth of man, & found out the beginning of all things, will also of his owne mercie give you breath and life againe, as ye now regarde not your owne selues, for his Lawes sake.

24 Nowe Antiochus thinking him selfe despised, and considering the mururous words, while the pongest was yet alive, he did exhorte him not onely with words, but swore also unto him by an othe that he would make him rich and wealthie, if he would forsake the Lawes of his fathers, and that he would take him as a friend, and give him offices.

25 But when the pong man would in no case hearken unto him, the King called his mother, and exhorted that she would counsell the pong man to save his life.

26 And when he had exhorted her with many wordes, she promised him that she would counsell her sonne.

27 So she turned her unto him, laughing the cruell tyrant to scorn, and spake in her owne language, O my sonne, have pitie upon me, that bare thee nine monethes in my wombe, & gave thee sucke thee peaces, and nourished thee, and tooke care for thee unto this age, and brought thee by.

28 I beseech thee, my sonne, looke upon the heaver, and the earth, and all that is therein, and consider that God made them of things that were not, and so was mankinde made likewise.

29 Feare not this hangman, but shew thy selfe worthe such brethren by suffering death, that I may receive thee in mercie with thy brethren.

30 While she was yet speaking these wordes, the pong man saide, Whom wapte ye for: I will not obey the kings commaundment: but I will obey the commaundment of the Lawe that was given unto our fathers by Moses.

31 And thou that imaginest all mischief against the Hebrewes, shalt not escape the hand of God.

32 For we suffer these things, because of our sinnes,

33 But though the living Lord be Angrie with vs a little while for our chaulening and correction, yet will he be reconciled with his owne servants,

34 But thou, O man without religion & most wicked of all men, list not thy selfe by in haine, which art puffed up with uncertaine hope, and listest thine hands against the servants of God.

35 For thou hast not yet escaped the iudgement of Almighty God, which seeth all things.

36 My brethren that haue suffered a litle paine, are nowe under the diuine covenant of euertlasting life: but thou thou rowe the iudgement of God, shalt suffer iust punishments for thy pride.

37 Therefore I, as my brethren haue done, offer my body and life for the Lawes of our fathers, beseeching God, that he will soone be mercifull unto our nation, and that thou by torment and punishment mayest confesse, that he is the onely God,

38 And that in me and my brethren the wrath of the Almighty, which is righteously fallen vpon all our nation, may cease.

39 Then the King being kindled with anger, raged more cruellly against him then the others, and tooke it grieuouly, that he was mocked.

40 So he also dyed holy, and put his whole trust in the Lord.

41 Last of all after the sonnes, was the mother put to death.

42 Let this nowe be p'nough spoken concerning þe bankers, & extreme cruelties, CHAP. VIII.

1 Iudas gathereth together his host. 9 Nicanor is sent against Iudas. 16 Iudas exhorteth his souldiers to constancie. 20 Nicanor is overcome. 27 The Iewes give thanks, after they haue put their enemies to flight, diuiding part of the spoiles vnto the fatherlesse & vnto the widowes. 30 Timotheus and Bacchides are discomfited. 35 Nicanor sleeth vnto Antiochus.

Then Judas Maccabeus, and they that were with him, went priuily into the towines, and called their kinfolkes and friends together, & tooke vnto them al such as continued in þe Iewes religion, and assembled five thousand men.

2 So they called vpon the Lorde, that he would haue an eye vnto his people, which was bereed of euery man, & haue pitie vpon the Temple that was defiled by wicked men,

3 And that he would haue compassion vpon the cite that was destroyed, and almost brought to the ground, and that he would heare the voyce of the blood that cryed vnto him,

4 And that he would remember the wicked slaughter of the innocent children, & the blasphemies committed against his name, and that he would shewe this hatred against the wicked.

5 Nowe when Maccabeus had gathered this multitude, he could not be with stand by the heathen: for the wrath of the Lord was turned into mercie.

6 Therefore he came at Iudars, and burnt by the towncs and cities: yet he took the most commodious places, and slew many of the enemies.

7 But specially he vsed the nightes to make such assaults, inso much that the brute of his manlinesse was spred euery where.

8 ¶ So when Philippe saue that this man increased by little and little, & that things prospered with him for the most parte, he wrote vnto Ptolemius the gouernour of Coelosyria and Phenice, to helpe him in the kings busines.

9 Then sent he Spidyl Hicanoy the sonne of Patroclus, a speciall friende of hys, and gaue him of all the nations of the heathen no lesse then twentie thousande men, to roote out the whole generation of the Jewes, & topped with him Sozias a captain, which in matters of war had great experience.

10 Hicanoy ordeined also a tribute for the king of two thousand talents, whiche the Romaines shoulde haue, to be taken of the Jewes that were taken prisoners.

11 Therefore immediately he sente to the cities on the seacoast, prouoking them to bye Jewes to be their seruautes, promising to sell fourescore and ten for one talent: but he considered not the vengeance of almighty God, that shoulde come vppon him.

12 When Judas then knewe Hicanoy comming, he tolde them that were with him, of the comming of the armie.

13 Nowe were there some of them feares full which trusted not vnto the righte iudgement of God, but fled away & abode not in that place.

14 But the other soule all that they had left, and besought the Loyde together, to deliuer them from that wicked Hicanoy, which had solde them, or euer he came nere them.

15 And though he woulde not doe it for their sakes, yet for the couenaunt made with their fathers, and because they called vppon his hoip and glorious name.

16 And so Maccabeus called his men together, about fixe thousande, exhorting them not to be afrayde of their enemies, neither to feare the greate multitude of the gentiles, which came against them vnrighteously, but to fight manly.

17 Setting before their eyes the iniurie that they had vniuilly done to the holy place, and the crueltie done to the cite by derision, and the destruction of the orders established by their fathers.

18 For they, saide he, trust in their weapons and boldnes: but our confidence is in the almighty God, which at a becke can both destroy them yf come against vs and all the worlde.

19 Moreover he admonished them of the helpe of God shewed vnto their fathers, as when there perished an hundred and fourescore, and fixe thousande under* Benmacherib.

20 And of the battell y they had in Babylon against the Salarians, how they came in all to the battell eight thousand, with foure thousande Macedonians: and when the Macedonians were astonished, the eight thousande slew an hundred and twentie thousande through the helpe that was giuen them from heauen, wherby they receyued many benefices.

21 Thus when he had made them bolde with these wordes, & readie to one for the lawes and the countrie he deuided his armie into foure partes.

22 And made his owne brethren captaynes ouer the armie, to wit, Simon, and Joseph and Jonathian, giuing eche one fiftene hundred men.

23 And when Eleazarus had read the holy booke, and giuen them a token of the helpe of God, Iudas which led the forewarde, topped with Hicanoy,

24 And because the Almighty helped them, they slew about nine thousande men, and wounded and maimed the most part of Hicanoyes hoste, and so put all to flight.

25 And toke the money from those that came to bye them, and pursued the far: but lacking time they returned.

26 For it was the day before the Sabbath, and therefore they woulde no longer pursue them.

27 So they toke their weapons, and spoiled their enemies, and kept y Sabbath, giuing thanks and praying the Loyde wonderfullly, which had deliuered them that day, and powred vpon them the beginning of his mercie.

28 And after the Sabbath,* they distributed the spoiles to the sicke, and to the fatherlesse, and to the widowes, and deuided the residue among their selues and their children.

29 When this was done, & they all had made a generall prayer, they besought the mercifull Loyd to be reconciled at the length with his seruautes.

30 Afterwarde with one consente they fell vppon Timotheus and Bacchides, and slew about twentie thousande, and wanne hie and strong holdes, and deuised great, spoiles, and gaue an euall portion vnto the sicke and to the fatherlesse, and to the widowes and to the aged persons also.

31 Moreover they gathered their weapons together, and laped them by diligently in conuenient places, & brought the remnant of y spoiles to Jerusalem.

32 They slew also Philarches a moite wicked person, which was with Timotheus, & had berey y Jewes many waies.

33 And when they kepte the feast of victorie in their countrey, they burnt Callisthenes that had set fire vpon the holy gares, which was fled into a litle house: so he receiued a reward more for his wickednesse.

- 24 And the most wicked Hicanor, which had brought a thousande marchants to bye the Jewes,
- 25 He was through the helpe of the Lord brought doline of them who he thought as nothing, in foumch that he put off his glorious raiment, and fled ouerwhart the countrie like a fugitive seruaunte, and came alone to Antiochia, with great dishonour through the destruction of his host.
- 26 Thus he that promised to pay tribute to the Romaines, by meanes of the prisoners of Ierusalem, brought newes, that the Jewes had a defendour, and for this cause none coude hurte the Jewes, because they followed the lawes appointed by him.

CHAP. IX.

1 Antiochus willing to spoyle Persepolis is put to flight. 15. As he persecuteth the Jewes, hee is stricken of the Lorde. 13. The feined repentance of Antiochus 28. He dieth miserably.

- 1 AT the same time, came Antiochus againe with dishonour out of the countrie of Persia.
- 2 For when he came to Persepolis, and went about to robbe the Temple, and to subdue the cite, the people ranne in a rage to defende them selues with their weapons, & put them to flight, and Antiochus was put to flight by the inhabitants, and returned with shame.
- 3 Howe when he came to Ecbatane, hee understode the things that had come vnto Hicanor, and Timotheus.
- 4 And then being chased in his flime, he thought to impute to the Jewes their faulte, which had put him to flight, and therefore commanded his charet man to drine continually, and to dispatch the iourney: for Gods iudgement compelled him: for he had sayde thus in his pryde, I will make Ierusalem a common buryng place of the Jewes, when I come thither.
- 5 But the Lord Almighty and God of Israel smote him with an incurable and inuisible plague: for assoone as he had spoken these wordes, a paine of the bowelles, & was remedies, came vpo him, and soe commentes of the inner part.
- 6 And that most iustly: for he had tormented other mens bowels with diuers, and strange commentes.
- 7 Howbeit hee woulde in no wise cease from his arrogancie, but swelled the more with pryde, breathing out fire in his rage against the Jewes, and commanded to halt the iourney: but it came to passe that he fell downe from the charet that ranne wisely, so that all the members of his bodie were bused with the great fall.
- 8 And thus he that a little afore thought he might command the houndes of the sea, so proude was he beyond the condic-

- tion of man) & to weigh the hie mountaynes in the balance, was now cast on the ground, & caried in an horseruler, declaring vnto all the manifest power of God.
- 9 So that the wommes came out of the bodie of this wicked man in aboundance: and whyles he was a true, his sicke fell of for pame and torment, and all his armie was greened at his sinell
- 10 Thus no man coulde beare because of his stincke, but a little afore thought he might reach to the starres of heauen.
- 11 Then he began to leaue of his greete pryde, and selfe will, when he was plagued, & came to the knowledge of himselfe by the scourge of God, & by his pame which increased euery moment.
- 12 And when he himself might not abide his owne stinke, he saide these wordes, It is mete to be subiect vnto God, and that a man which is mortall, should not thinke him selfequall vnto God through pryde.
- 13 This wicked person prayed vnto the Lorde, who woulde haue no mercie on him,
- 14 And saide thus that he woulde set at libertie the holy cite vnto the whiche he made halt to destroy it, and to make it a buryng place.
- 15 And as touching the Jewes whome he had iudged not worthe to be burped, but would haue cast them out with their children to bee deuoured of the foules and wilde bestes, he woulde make them all like the citizens of Athens.
- 16 And whereas he had spoiled the holy Temple afore, he woulde garnishe it with great giftes, and increase the holy vessels, and of his owne rentes beare the charges belonging to the sacrifices.
- 17 Pea, and that he woulde alio become a Jewe himselfe, and goe throuwe all the world that was inhabited, & preach the power of God.
- 18 But for all this his paines would not cease: for the iust iudgement of God was come vpon him: therefore disparing of his health, hee wrote vnto the Jewes this letter vnder written, concerning the forme of a supplication.
- 19 THIS KING and Prince Antiochus vnto the Jewes his louing citizens wisheth much ioye & health and prosperitie.
- 20 If ye and your children fare well, & if all thinges goe after your minde, I giue greate thankes vnto God hauing hope in the heauen.
- 21 Though I be sicke, yet I am mindeful of your honour, and good will for the loue I beare you: therefore when I returned from the countrie of Persia, and fell into a sore disease, I thought it necessarie to care for the common safetie of all.
- 22 Not distrustung mine health, but hauing gret hope to escape this sickness.
- 23 Therefore considering when my father led an host against the high countries he appointed who should succede him.

Act. 12, 23.

- 24 That if any contentionlie happened contrary to his expectation, or if that any tidings were brought that were grievous, they in the land might knowe to whom the affaires were committed, that they should not be troubled.
- 25 Again, when I ponder how þ the governours, that are borderers, & neighbours vnto myn kingdome, waite for all occasions, & looke but for opportunitie, I haue ordered that my sonne Antiochus shalbe King, whõ I oft commended & committed to many of you, whẽ I went vnto þ his p'prouces, & haue written vnto him as followeth hereafter.
- 26 Therefore, I pray you, and require you to remember the benefites that I haue done vnto you generally, and particularly, and that euery man will be faithful vnto me and my sonne.
- 27 For I trust that he will be gentle, and louing vnto you according to my mind.
- 28 ¶ Thus the murderer & blasphemour suffered most grievously, and as he had increated other men, so he died a miserable death in a strange countie among the mounteines.
- 29 And Philip that was brought by with him, carried away his body, who fearing the foine of Antiochus, went into Egypt to Ptolemens Philometor.

CHAP. X.

¶ Judas Maccabeus taketh the cite & the temple. 10 The attes of Eupator. 16 The Iewes fight against the Idumeans. 24 Timotheus inuadeib Iudea, with whom Iudas ioyneth battle. 29 Five men appeare in the aire to the helpe of the Iewes. 37 Timotheus is slaine.

- ¶ Maccabeus now and his companye, though the helpe of the Lorde, wanne the temple and the cite againe,
- 2 And destroyed the altars, and chappels that the heathen had builded in the open places,
- 3 And cleaued the Temple, and made another altar, and burned stones, and tooke sixe of them, and offered sacrifices, and incense two yeeres, and sixe moneths after, and set forth the lampes, and the shewbread.
- 4 When that was done, they fell downe flat vpon the ground, & besought þ Lord that they might come no more into such troubles: but if they sinned any more against him, that he himselfe would chasten them with mercie, and that they might not be deliuered to the blasphemous, and barbarous nations.
- 5 Now vpon the same day, that the strangers polluted the Temple, on the verie same day it was cleansed againe euen the sixe and twentieth day of the same moneth, which is Chaldea.
- 6 They kept eight dayes with gladnesse as in the feast of þ Tabernacles, remembring, that not long agoe, they heide the feast of the Tabernacles when they liued in the mounteines and demies like beastes.

- 7 And for the same cause they bare greene boughes, & faire branches and palmes, & sang psalmes vnto him that had giuen them good successe in cleansing his place.
- 8 They ordeine also by a comon statute, and decree that euery yeare those dayes should be kept of the whole nation of the Jewes.
- 9 And this was the end of Antiochus called Euphanes.
- 10 ¶ Now wil we declare the actes of Antiochus Eupator, which was the soine of this wicked man, gathering briefly þ calamities of the warres that followed.
- 11 For when he had taken the kingdome, he made one Ap'ias, which had ben captiue of the holle in Idemce, and Coelopia, ruler ouer the affaires of the realme.
- 12 For Ptolemens that was called Marcron, purposed to doe iustice vnto the Jewes for the wrong, that had ben done vnto them, and went about to behaue himselfe peaceably with them.
- 13 For the which cause he was accused of his friendes before Eupator, and was called oft times traitour, because he had left Epphanes that Philometor had committed vnto him, & came to Antiochus Euphanes: therefore seeing þ he was no more in estimation, he was discouraged, and possessed himselfe, and dyed.
- 14 ¶ But when Sogias was gouernour of the same places, he entertained strangers, and made warre oft times against the Jewes.
- 15 Moreover the Idumeans that helde the strong holdes, which were more for their purpose, troubled the Jewes, and by receiuing them that were driven frõ Jerusalem, tooke in hand to continue warre.
- 16 Then they þ were with Maccabeus made prayers, & besought God that he would be their helper, & so they fell vpon the strong holdes of the Idumeans,
- 17 And assaulted them sore, that they wane the places, and slew all that fought against them on the wall, and killed all that they met with, & slew no lesse then twentie thousand.
- 18 And because certeine (which were no lesse then nine thousand) were fled into two strong castles, hauing all manner of thinges conuenient to susteine the siege,
- 19 Maccabeus left Simon, and Joseph, and Zachheus also, and those that were with them, which were enough to besiege them, and departed to those places which were more necessarie.
- 25 Now they þ were with Simon, being led with couetousnesse, were intreated for money, through certeine of those that were in the castles, & tooke seuentie thousand & drachmes, and let some of them escape.
- 21 But when it was tolde Maccabeus what was done, he called þ gouernour of

The people together, & accused those men, that they had sold their brethren for money, and let their enemies go.

22 So he slew them when they were convicted of treason, & immediately wau the two castles :

23 And hauing god successe ; as in all the warres that he tooke in hand, he slewe in the two castles mo then twentie thousand.

24 Now Timotheus whom the Jewes had overcome afore, gathered an armie of strangers of all sortes, and brought a great troupe of horsemen out of Asia to winne Jewe by strength.

25 But when he drew nere, Maccabeus, and they that were with him, turned to pray vnto God, and sprinkled earth vpon their heads, and girded their reines with sackcloth,

26 And fell down at the foote of the altar, & besought the Lorde to be mercifull to them, and to be an enimie to their enemies, & to be an aduerfarye from their aduersaries, as the Law declareth.

27 So after the prayer, they tooke their weapons, and went on further from the citie, & when they came nere vnto the enemies, they tooke hede to themselves.

28 And when the morning appeared, they both ioyed together: the one parte had the Lord for their refuge, and pledge of prosperitie, and noble victorie, and the other tooke courage as a guide of the warre.

29 But when the battell ward strong, there appeared vnto the enemies from heauen fire cometh men vpon horses with hydies of golde, and two of them led the Jewes,

30 And tooke Maccabeus betwixt them, and covered him on euerie side with their weapons, and kept him safe, but shot darts, and lightnings againt the enemies, so that they were confounded with blindness, and beaten downe and full of trouble.

31 There were slaine of foote men twentie thousand and five hundred, and six hundred horsemen.

32 As for Timotheus himself, he fled vnto Gazara, which was called a verie strong holde, wherein Thereas was captiue.

33 But Maccabeus & his companie laid siege againt the fortresses with courage for foure dayes.

34 And they that were within, trusting to the height of the place, blasphemed exceedingly, and spake horrible wordes.

35 Heretheleffe vpo the fifth day in the morning, twentie pong men of Maccabeus companie, whose hearts were inflamed, because of the blasphemies, came vnto the wall, and with doibre stones smote downe those that they met.

39 Others also that clined by vpon the engines of warre againt them that were within, set fire vpon the townes, and burnt those blasphemers quicke with the fires that they had made, and others brake by the gates, and received the rest of the armie, and tooke the citie.

37 And hauing found Timotheus, he crept into a cave, they killed him, & Thereas his hother with Apolliphanes.

38 When this was done, they praised the Lord with psalmes, and thanksgiving, which had done so great things for Israel, and giuen them the victorie.

CHAP. XI.

1 Lysias goeth about to ouercome the Iewes, & Succour is sent from beauen vnto the Iewes. 16 The letter of Lysias vnto the Iewes. 20 The letter of King Antiochus vnto Lysias, 27 A letter of the same vnto the Iewes. 34 A letter of the Romanes to the Iewes.

1 Verie shortly after this, Lysias the Kings steward, & a kinsman of his, which had the gouernance of the affaires, took soze displeasure for the things that were done.

2 And when he had gathered about foure score thousand, with all the horsemen he came againt the Jewes, thinking to make the citie an habitation of the Gentiles.

3 And the Temple would he haue to get money by, like the other temples of the heathen: for he would sell the Priestes office euerie peare.

4 And thus being puffed vp in his mind, because of the great number of footmen, and thousands of horsemen, and in his fourefore elephants,

5 He came into Iudea, and drew nere to Beth-sura, which was a castel of defence five furlongs from Jerusalem, & layd sore siege vnto it.

6 But when Maccabeus, & his companie knew he besieged the holdes, they, and all the people made prayers with weeping, and teares before the Lord, that he would send a good Angell to deliuer Israel.

7 And Maccabeus him selfe first of all, tooke weapons, exhorting the other that they would regarde them selues together with him to helpe their brethren: so they went forth together with a courageous minde.

8 And as they were there besides Jerusalem there appeared before them vpon horsebacke a man in white clothing, having his harness of golde.

9 Then they praised the mercifull God altogether, and tooke heart, in so much that they were ready, not only to fight with men, but w the most cruel beasts, and to breake downe walles of iron.

10 Thus they marched forward in aray, hauing an helper from heauen: for the Lord was mercifull vnto them.

11 And running vpon their enemies like lions, they slewe cleuen thousand footemen, and sixe hundred horsemen, & put all the other to flight.

12 Many of them also being wounded, escaped escaped naked, and Lysias hauelle fled away shamed, and he escaped, 13 Why as he was a man of understan- ding, considering what losse he had had, and knowing, that the Hebrewes coude not be overcome by cause the almightie God helped them sent vnto them.

14 And promised that he woulde consent to all things which were reasonable, and perswade the king to be their friende.

15 Jdaccabeus agreed to Lysias requestes hauing respect in all things to the com- mon wealth, and whatsoeuer Jdaccabeus wrote vnto Lysias concerning the Jewes, the king granted it.

16 For there were letters written vnto the Jewes from Lysias contemping these wordes, LYSIAS vnto the people of the Jewes sendeth greeting.

17 John and Abellalon, which were sent from you deliuered me the things that you demaund by writing, and required me to fulfill the things that they had declared.

18 Therefore what things soeuer were mette to bee reported to the king him- self, I haue declared them, and he grant- ed that that was possible.

19 Therefore if ye behaue your selues as friends towards his affaires, hereafter also I will indeuour my selfe to do you good.

20 As concerning these things, I haue given commaundement to these men, & to those whom I sent vnto you, to com- mune with you of the same particularly.

21 Fare ye well, the hundredeth and eight and fourtie yeare, the foure and twen- tieth day of the moneth of Dulois- thus.

22 I shoue the Kinges letter contained the wordes, KING ANTIOCHVS vnto his brother Lysias sendeth greeting.

23 Since our father is translated vnto the gods, our will is, that they whiche are in our realme, lue quietly, that euery man may applie his owne affaires.

24 We understand also that the Jewes woulde not consent to our father, for to be brought vnto the custome of the gen- tiles, but woulde keepe their owne man- ner of liuing; for the which cause they require of vs, that we woulde suffer the to lue after their owne lawdes.

25 Wherefore our mind is that this na- tion shall be in rest, and haue determined to restore them their Temple, that they may be gouerned accordyng to the custome of their fathers.

26 Thou shalt doe well therefore to sende vnto them and graunt them peace, that when they are certified of our minde, they may be of good comforte, and che- rfully goe about their owne affaires.

27 And this was the Kinges letre vnto the nation, KING ANTIOCHVS vnto the Elders of the Jewes, and to the rest of the Jewes sendeth greeting.

28 If ye fare well, we haue our desire: we are also in good health.

29 Jdenelaus declared vnto vs þ your desire was to returne home, and to ap- plye your owne busines.

30 Wherefore, those that will depart, we giue them free libertie, vnto the thirtieth day of the moneth of Panthicus.

31 That the Jewes may vse their owne manner of liuing and lawes, like as afore- none of them by any manner of wayes to haue harme for things done by ig- norance.

32 I haue sent also Jdenelaus to com- fort you.

33 Fare ye well the hundredeth and eighte and fourtie yeare, the fiftenth day of the moneth of Panthicus.

34 I The Romanes also sent a letter con- taining these wordes, QVINTVS MEM- MIVS and Citus Jdanitus ambas- sadours of the Romanes, vnto the peo- ple of the Jewes sende greeting.

35 The things that Lysias the Kinges kinneinan hath graunted you, we grant the same also.

36 But concerning þ which he shall re- port, vnto the king, sende hither some with speede, when ye haue considered the matter diligentl, that wee maye consult therewith as shall be best for you: for we must goe vnto Antiochia.

37 And therefore make hast and sende some men, that wee may knowe your minde.

38 Fare well: this hundredeth and eight, and fourtie yeare, the fiftenth daye of the moneth of Panthicus.

CHAP. XII.

2 Timotheus troubleth the Jewes. 3. The wicked deede of them of Ioppe against the Jewes. 6. Judas is auenged of them. 9. He setteth fire in the haueu of Iamnia. 20. The pursuit of the Jewes against Timotheus. 24. Timotheus is taken and let goe vnhurt. 32. Judas pursueth Gorgias.

1 When these covenants were made, Lysias went vnto the king, and the Jewes stilled their ground.

2 But the gouernours of the places, as Timotheus and apollonius the sonne of Semeus, and Jeronimus, and also Desmophon, and besides them Sicanor the gouernour of Cyprius, woulde not let them lue in rest and peace.

3 I They of Ioppe did also such a vile act: they payed the Jewes that dwelte among them, to goe with their wiuues & children into the shippes, which they had prepared as though they had ought them none euill will.

4 And so by the common aduise of the citie, they obeyed them, and suspecte no- thing: but when they were gone forth into the deepe, they drowned no lesse the two hundredeth of them.

5 Now when Judas knewe of this cru- eltie shewed against his nation, he com- manded those that were with him, to make them readie.

6 And hauing called vpon God the righ- teous Judge, he went forth against the murderers of his brethren, and set fire in the haven by night, & burnt the ships, and those that fled thence he slew.

- 7 And when the citie was shut by, he departed as though he would come againe, & roote out all them of the citie of Joppa.
- 8 But when he perceived that the Jamnites were minded to do in like manner unto the Jewes, which dwelt among the,
- 9 He came upon the Jamnites by night, and set fire in the haven with the nauie, so that the light of the fire was sene at Jerusalem, vpon a two hundredth and forty furlonges.
- 10 Now when they were gone fro thence nine furlonges, in their iourney toward Timotheus, about five thousand men of foote and five hundredth horsemen of the Arabians set vpon him.
- 11 So the battell was sharpe, but it prospered with Judas through the help of God: the a Nomades of Arabia, being overcome, besought Judas to make peace with them, and promised to give him extreme cattell, and to helpe him in other things,
- 12 And Judas thinking that they should in dede be profitable concerning many things, granted them peace: wherevpon they shoote hands, and so they departed to their tentes.
- 13 ¶ Judas also assaulted a citie called Capis, which was strong by reason of a bridge, and fenced round about with walles, and had diuers kindes of people dwelling therein.
- 14 So they that were within it, put such trust in the strength of the walles, and in store of vitales, that they were the slacker in their doings, reuiling them that were with Judas, and reproching them: yea, they blasphemed and spake such wordes as were not lawfull.
- 15 But Baccabeus souldiers, calling vpon the great Prince of the worlde (which without any instrumentes, or engines of warre, did call downe the walles of Jericho, in the tyme of Iesus) gaue a fierce assault against the walles.
- 16 And toke the citie by the will of God, and made an exceeding great slaughter, in so much that a lake of two furlonges broad, which lay thereby, seemed to flow with blood.
- 17 ¶ Then departed they from thence, seven hundredth and fiftie furlonges, & came to Characa unto the Jewes, that are called Tubieni.
- 18 But they found not Timotheus there: so he was departed from thence, & had done nothing, and had left a garrison in a verie strong holde.
- 19 But Dositheus, and Sosipater, which were captiues with Baccabeus, went forth, and slew those that Timotheus had left in the fortresse more then tenne thousand men.
- 20 And Baccabeus prepared, and ranged his armie by bandes, & went courageously against Timotheus, which had

- 21 When Timotheus had knowledge of Judas coming, he sent the women, and children, & the other baggage afoze unto a fortresse called Carnon (so it was hard to besiege, and vneasie to come vnto because of the straites on all sides.)
- 22 But when Judas first band came in sight, the enemies were smitten with feare, & a trembling was among them through the presence of him that seeth all things, in so much that they seeing one here, another there, were oft times hurt by their owne people. & wounded with the pointes of their owne swordes.
- 23 But Judas was verie earnest in pursuing, & slew those wicked men: yea, he slew thirtie thousand men of them.
- 24 Timotheus also himselfe fell into the handes of Dositheus, and Sosipater, who he besought with much craft to let him go with his life, because he had made up of the Jewes parents and the brethren of some of them, which if they put him to deathe, should be despised.
- 25 So when he had assured them with many wordes, & promised that he would restore them without hurt, they let him go for the health of their brethren.
- 26 ¶ He went Baccabeus toward Carnon, and Maragatton, and slew five and twentie thousand persons.
- 27 And after that he had chased away & slaine them, Judas remoued the host toward Ephron a strong citie, wherein was Iphis and a great multitude of all nations, & the strong men kept the walles defending them mightily: there was also great preparation of engines of warre, and darts.
- 28 But when they had called vpon the Loide, which with his power breaketh the strength of the enemies, they wanne the citie, and slew five and twentie thousand of them that were within.
- 29 ¶ From thence went they to Septhopolis, which lieth five hundredth furlonges from Jerusalem.
- 30 But when the Jewes which dwelt there, testified, that the Septhopolitans dealt louingly with them, and intreated them kindly in the tyme of their aduersitie,
- 31 They gaue them thanks, desiring them to be friendly still vnto them, & so they came to Jerusalem, as the feast of the weekes approached.
- 32 ¶ And after the feast called Pentecost, they went forth against Sogias the gouernour of Idumea:
- 33 Who came out with three thousand men of foote and foure hundredth horsemen.
- 34 And when they ioined together, a few of the Jewes were slaine,
- 35 And Dositheus one of the Baccabeus, which was on horsebacke and a mightie man, toke Sogias, and laide holde of his garment, and slew him by force, because he would haue taken the wicked man

36 And when they that were with Etesrin, had foughten long, and were wearie, Judas called vpon the bozde, that hee would shewe him selfe to be there helper, and captaine of the field.

37 And then hee was in his owne language, and singe psalms with a loud doxpe, in so much that straight ways he made them that were about Gorgias, to take their flight.

38 So Judas gathered his host, & came into the cite of Abdolla. And when the seuenth day came, they cleaned their selues (as the custome was) & kept the Sabbath in the same place.

39 And vpon the day following, as neces-sarie required, Judas and his companie came to take vp the bodies of them that were slaine, & to burie them with their kinmen in their fathers graues.

40 Now vnder the coates of euery one, that was slaine, they found iuwels that had bene consecrate to the idols of the Gammites, which thing is forbidden the Jewes by the lawe. Then euery man sawe, that this was the cause wherefore they were slaine.

41 And so euery man gaue thanks vnto the Lord, the righteous Iudge, which had opened the things that were hid.

42 And they gaue their selues to prayer, and besought him that they should not utterly be destroyed for the fault committed. Besides that, noble Judas exhorted the people to keepe them selues from sinne, for so much as they saue before their eyes the things which came to passe by the sinne of these that were slaine.

43 And hauing made a gathering through the companie, sent to Jerusalem about two thousand drachmes of siluer, to offer a sinne offering, doing very wel, and honestly that he thought of the resurrection.

44 For if he had not hoped, that they which were slaine, should rise againe, it had bene superfluous, & vaine, to pray for the dead.

From this uerse to the end of this chapter, the Greke text is corrupt, so that no good sense, much lesse certeine doctrine can be gathered thereby:
also it is euident that this place was not written by the holy Ghost, both because it dissenteth from the rest of the holy Scriptures, and also the author of this booke acknowledging his owne infirmite, desireth pardon, if he haue not attained to that he should, And it seemeth, that this Iason the Cyre-nean, out of whom he tooke this abridgement, is Ioseph Ben Corion, who hath written in Hebrew five books of these matters, & intending this place, maketh no mention of this praier for the dead, lib. 3. chap. 19. for it is contrarie to the cus-tome of the Jewes, euen to this day, to praye for the dead. And though Iudas had so done, yet this particular example is not sufficient to establish a doctrine, no more then Zipporah was to proue that women might minister the Sacraments, Exod. 4. 25. or the example of Razis that one might kill himselfe, whom this autor so muche commendeth, 2. Maccab. 14. 41.

And therefore hee perceived, that there was great fauour laid vp for those that dped godly. (It was an holp, and a good thought.) So hee made a reconciliation for the dead that they might bee deliues red from sinne.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The coming of Eupator into Indea. 4 The death of Menelaus 10. Maccabeus going to fight against Eupator, moueth his soldiers vnto prayer. 15 He killeth fourtene thousand men in the tentes of Antiochus. 21 Rhodocus the betrayer of the Iewes is taken.

1 In the hundredth, fourtie and nine pere
It was told Judas, that Antiochus Eupator was comming with a great power into Iudea,

2 And Lysias the steward and viceroy of his affaires with him, hauing both in their armie an hundredth and ten thousande men of foote of the Grecians, and five thousand holsemen, and two & twentie elephants, and three hundredth chariots set with hookes.

3 Menelaus also ioynd himselfe with them, and with greates decite incurged Antiochus, not for the safegarde of the countrey, but because hee thought to haue bene made the gouernour.

4 But the king of kings moued Antiochus mind against this wicked man, & Lysias inuoynd the king that this man was the cause of all mischief, so the king commaunded to bring him to Bexea to put him vnto death as the manner was in that place.

5 Now there was in that place a towne of fittie cubites high, full of shekes, & it had an instrument that turned rounde, and on euery side it rowled downe into the ashes.

6 And there whosoeuer was condemned of sacriledge, or of any other grieuous crime, was cast of all wien to the death.

7 And so it came to passe that this wicked man should die such a death, and it was a most iust thing that Menelaus should want buriall.

8 For because hee had committed many sinnes by the altar, whose fire and ashes were holp: he himselfe also dyed in p ashes

9 Now the king ragd in his mind, and came to shew him selfe more cruell vnto
the Jewes then his father.

10 Which things when Judas perceived he commaunded the people to cal vpon the Lord might and dape, that if euer hee had holpen the, he would now helpe the,
when they should be put from their law from their countrey and from the holie Temple.

11 And that he would not suffer the people, which a litle afore began to recouery, to be subdued vnto the blaiphemous
nations.

12 So when they had done this all together, & besought the Lord for mercie by weeping, & fasting & falling downe three daies together, Judas exhorted them to make them selues readie.

13 And he being apart with the Elders, took counsel to go forth, afore the King brought his host into Judea, and should take the citie, and commit the matter to the helpe of the Lord.

14 So committing the charge to the Lord of the world, he exhorted his souldiers to fight manfully, euen unto death for the Lawes, the Temple, the citie, their countrey, and the common wealth, and camped by J Rodon.

15 And to giuing his souldiers for a watch word, The will of God, he picked out the manliest young men, and went by night into the Kings campe, and slew of the hoste foureteene thousand men, and the greatest elephant with all that fate vpon him.

16 Thus when they had brought a great feare, and trouble in the campe, and all things went prosperously with them, they departed.

17 This was done in the breake of 8 day, because the protection of the Lord did helpe them.

18 ¶ Nowe when the King had tasted the manlinesse of the Jewes, he went about to take the holdes by policie.

19 And marched toward Bethsura, which was a strong holde of the Jewes: but he was chased away, hurt, & lost of his men.

20 For Judas had sent vnto them that were in it, such things as were necessary.

21 But Siodocus which was in the Jewes hoste, disclosed the secretes to the enemies: therefore he was sought out, and whē they had gotten him, they put him in prison.

22 After this did the King common with them that were in Bethsura, and tooke truce with them, departed, and toynd battell with Judas, who overcame him.

23 But when he understood, that Whittippe (whom he had left to be overseer of his businesse at Antiochia) did rebell against him, he was astonished, so that he repented him selfe to the Jewes, & made them an orbe to do all things that were right, and was appealed toward them, and offered sacrifice and adoynd the Temple, and shewed great gentlenesse to the place.

24 And embraced Maccabens, and made him captaine and gouernour from Ptolemas vnto the Serreaneans.

25 Neuertheless, when he came to Ptolemas, the people of the citie were not content with this agreement: and because they were grieved, they would that he should breake the covenants.

26 Then went Ispias up into the iudgement seat, and excused the fact as well as he could, and persuaded them, and pacified them, and made them well affected, and came againe vnto Antiochia. This is the matter concerning the kings journey, and his returne.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Demetrius moued by Alcimus sendeth Nica-nor to kill the Iewes. 28 Nicanor maketh a compact with the Iewes, 29 Which he yet breaketh through the motion of the King. 37 Nicanor commandeth Rexis to be taken, who slayeth him selfe.

1 After thre peares was Judas enformed that Demetrius the soune of Seleucus was com vp with a great power & nauie by the haen of Tripolis,

2 When he had wonne the countrey, and slane Antiochus and his lieutenant Ispias.

3 Nowe Alcimus, which had bene the hie Prieste, and wilfully desired him selfe in the time that all things were confounded, seeing that by no meanes he could saue him selfe, nor haue any more entrance to the holy altar.

4 He came to king Demetrius in 8 hundredeth, sicke and one yere, presenting vnto him a crowne of golde, and a palme, and of the boughes, which were bid solemnly in the Temple, and that day he helde his tongue.

5 But when he had gotten opportunitie, and occasiō for his rage, Demetrius called him to counsel, & asked him what besides of counsels the Jewes leaned vnto.

6 To the which he answered, the Jewes that be called Maccabens whose captaine is Judas Maccabeus, maintain wars, and make insurrections, and will not let the Realme be in peace.

7 Therefore I, being deprived of my fathers honour (I meane the hie Prieste haue) am nowe come hither,

8 Partly because I was well affectioned vnto the Kings affaires, and secondly because I sought the profite of mine own citizens: for all our people, though we their rashnesse are not a little troubled.

9 Wherefore, O King, seeing thou knowest all these things, make prouision for the countrey, and our nation which is abused, according to thine owne humanity, that is ready to helpe all men.

10 For as long as Judas liueth, it is not possible that the matter should be well.

11 When he had spoken these wordes, othher friendes also hauing euill will at Judas, set Demetrius on fire.

12 Whom immediately called for Nicanor, the ruler of the elephants, and made him captaine ouer Judea,

13 And sent him forth, commanding him to slay Judas, and to scatter them that were with him, and to make Alcimus hie Priest of the great Temple.

14 Then the heathe which fled out of Judea from Judas, came to Nicanor by flockes, thinking the harme and calamities of the Jewes to be their welfare.

15 Nowe whē the Jewes heard of Nicanors coming, and the gathering together of the heathen, they punished them selues with earth, and prayed vnto him which had appointed him selfe a people for euer, and did alwayes defend his own portion with euident tokens.

Or, gave & took the right hand.

16 So at the commandment of the captaine, they renoued straight wayes from thence, and came to the towne of Bethan,

17 When Simon Judas brother had ioynd battell with Nicanor, & was some what aduanced through the sudden silence of the enemies.

18 Neuertheless Nicanor hearing the manlines of them that were wth Judas, and the bold stomacks that they had for their countrey durst not proue the matter with bloodshedding.

19 Wherefore, he sent Polibonius, Theodocius, and Matthias before, to make peace.

20 So when they had taken long aduise ment thereupon, and the captaine shewed it vnto the multitude, they were agreed in one minde, and consented to the covenants.

21 And they appointed a daie when they should particularly come together: so when the day was come, they set for euery man his stole.

22 Neuertheless Judas commanded certeyn men of armes to waite in conuenient places, least there should suddenly arise any euil through the enemies: and so they communed together of þ things wherupon they had agreed.

23 Nicanor, while he abode at Ierusalem, did noie hurt, but sent away the people that were gathered together.

24 He loued Judas, & fauoured him in his heart.

25 He prayed him also to take a wife, & to beget chyldren: so he married, & they liued together.

26 But Alcimus perceiving the loue that was betwene them, and vnderstanding the covenants that were made, came to Demetrius, & tolde him that Nicanor had taken strange matters in hand, and vnderstanded Judas a traitour to the realm, to be his successour.

27 Then the King was displeas'd, and by the reports of this wicked man, he wrote to Nicanor, saying, that he was verie angry for the covenants, commanding him that he should send Maccabeus in all haste prisoner vnto Antiochia.

28 When these things came to Nicanor, he was asshamed and sore grieved, that he should breake the things wherein they had agreed, seeing that that man had committed no wickednes.

29 But because it was not commodious to him to withstand the King, he sought craftily to accomplish it.

30 Notwithstanding when Maccabeus perceived that Nicanor began to be rough vnto him, and that he entreated him more rudely then he was wont, he perceived that suche rigour came not of god, & therefore he gathered a few of his men, & withdrew himselfe from Nicanor.

31 But the other perceiving that he was persecuted by Maccabeus worshipp yolluc came into the great and holpe Temple, and commanded the Priests, which were offering their vsual sacrifices, to deslucit him the man.

32 And when they sawe that they coulde not tell where the man was, whom he sought,

33 He stretched out his right hand toward the Temple, and made an othe in this maner, If ye will not deliuer mee Iudas, as a prisoner, I will make this Temple of God a plaine felde, & will breake downe the altar, & will erect a notable Temple, vnto Bacchus.

34 After these wordes he departed: then the Priests lift by their handes towards heauen, & besought him that was euer the defender of their nation, saying, in this maner.

35 Thou, O Lord of all things whiche haue made of nothing, wouldest that the Temple of thine habitation shoulde be among vs.

36 Therefore now, O most holy Lord, kepe this house euer undefiled, which lately was defiled, & stop all the mouthes of the vnrightheous.

37 Now was there accused vnto Nicanor, Niazis one of the Elders of Ierusalem, a louer of the cite, and a man of very good report, which for his loue was called a father of the Iewes.

38 For this man aduertised when the Iewes were minded to keepe them selues undefiled and pure, being accused to be of the religion of the Iewes, did offer to spende his bodie and life with all constancie for the religion of the Iewes.

39 So Nicanor willing to declare the hatred þ he bare to the Iewes, sent about fife hundred men of warre to take him.

40 For he thought by taking him to do the Iewes much hurt.

41 But when this companie woulde haue taken his castle, & woulde haue broken the gates by violence, & commanded to bring fire to burne the gates, so that he was ready to be taken on euery side, he fell on his sword,

42 Willing rather to dye manfully, then giue himselfe into the handes of wicked men, and to suffer reproch vnworthy for his noble stock.

43 Notwithstanding what time as he mistof his stroke for haste, & the multitude rushed in violently betwene þ doores, he ranne boldly to the wall, & cast himselfe downe manfully among the multitude.

44 Which conuenced themselves lightly awap, & gaue place, so that he fell vpon his bellie.

45 Neuertheless while there was yet breath in him, being kuddled in his mind he rose vp, and though his blood gusheth out like a fountaine, and he was verie sore wounded, yet he ranne thorow the middes of the people,

46 And gate him to the toppe of an hie rock: so wise his blood was vtterly gone

a As this private example ought not to be followed of the godlie, because it is contrary to the word of God, although the author seem here to approve it: so that place as touching prayer, cha. 12. 44. though Iudas had appointed it, yet were it not sufficient to proue a doctrine because it is onely a particular example.

hee tooke out his olme belshels with both his hands, & threw them vpon the people, calling vpon the Lord of life and spirit, that he would restore them againe vnto him, and thus he dyed.

CHAP. XV.

1 Nicanor goeth about to come vpon Iudas on the Sabbath day, 5 The blasphemie of Nicanor. 14 Maccabeus expounding vnto the Iewes the vision, incourageth them. 21 The prayer of Maccabeus, 30 Maccabeus comādeeth Nicanors head & hands to be cut off, & his tongue to be giuen vnto the foules, 39 The autor excuseth himselfe.

1 NOWE when Nicanor knewe that Iudas & his companie were in the countrey of Samaria, hee thoughte with all assurance to come vpon them, vpon the Sabbath day.

2 Nevertheless the Iewes that were compelled to go with him, said, O kill not so cruelly and barbarously, but honour and sanctifie the daye, that is appointed by him that seeth all things,

3 But this most wicked personne demanded, Is there a Lord in heauen, that commaunded the Sabbath daye to be kept?

4 And when they said, There is a living Lord, which ruleth in the heauen, who commaunded the seuenth daye to be kept.

5 Then he said, And I am mightie vpon earth to commaunde them for to arme themselves, and to performe the kings business. Notwithstanding, hee coulde not accomplishe his wicked enterpryse.

6 For Nicanor listed by with pride, purposed to set by a memoriall of the victorie obtained of all them that were with Iudas.

7 But Maccabeus had euer sure confidence and a perfit hope that the Lord would help him.

8 And exhorted his people not to be afraid at the coming of the heathe, but alway to remember the helpe that had been shewed vnto them from heauen, & to trust now also, that they shoulde haue the victorie by the Almightie.

9 Thus he encouraged them by the lawe and Prophets, putting them in remembrance of the battels that they had wonne afore, and so made them more willing,

10 And stirred by their hearts, & shewed them also the deceitfulness of the heathen, and howe they had broken their othes.

11 Thus he armed euery one of them, not with the assurance of helmes & speares, but with wholesome wordes & exhortations, and shewed them a dreame worthy to be believed, and reioiced them greatly.

12 And this was his vision, He thought that he saw Onias (which had bene the high Priest, a vertuous and good man, reuerent in behauiour, and of sober conuersation, wel spoken, and one that had bene exercised in all poyntes of godlines from a child holding by his handes toward heauen, & praying for the whole people of the Iewes.

13 ¶ After this there appeared vnto him another man which was aged, honourable, & of a wonderful dignitie, & excellencie aboue him.

14 And Onias spake, and said, This is a souer of the brethren, who prayeth much for the people, and for the holy cite, to wit, Jeremias the propger of god.

15 He thought also that Jeremias helde out his right hand, and gaue vnto Iudas a sword of goide: and as hee gaue it, he spake thus,

16 Take this holy sword a gift from god, wherewith thou shalt wounde the aduersaires.

17 And so being comforted by the wordes of Iudas, which were verie sweet & able to stirre them by to valiantnes & to encourage the hearts of þ pong men, they determined to pitch no camp, but courageously to set vpon them, and manfully to assaile them, and to trie the matter hand to hand, because the cite and the Sanctuarie & the Temple were in danger.

18 As for their wiues, & children, & brethren and kinsfolkes, they let lesse by their danger: but their greatest and principall feare was for the holy Temple.

19 Againe they that were in the cite, were carefull for the armie that was as broad.

20 Now whiles they all waited for the trial of þ matter, & the enemies now met with them, & the hoste was set in aray, and the beasts were separated into conuenient places, and the hoysenmen were placed in the wings,

21 Maccabeus considering the comming of the multitude & the diuers preparatiōs of weapons, and the fiercenes of the beasts, held by his hands toward heauē, calling vpon the Lord that doeth wonders, & that looked vpon them, knowing that the victorie cometh not by the weapons, but that he gueth victorie to them that are worthy, as seemeth good vnto him.

22 Therefore in his prayer he said after this maner, O Lord, thou that diddest send thine Angel in the time of Szechias King of Iudea, who in the hoste of Sennacherib slewe an hundred, fourescore & sine thousand,

23 Sende nowe also thy good Angel before vs, O Lord of heauens, for a feare & dread vnto them,

24 And let them be discomfited by the strength of thine arme, which come against thine holie people to blaspheme. Thus with these wordes he made an ende.

- 25 Then Picanor & they that were with him, drewe nere with trumpets and shoutings for ioy.
- 26 But Judas and his companie praying and calling vpon God, encountered with the enimies.
- 27 So that with their hands they fought, but with their hearts they prayed vnto God, and slue no lesse then fure and thirtie thousand men: for through the presence of God they were wonderously comforted.
- 28 Now when they left off, and were tuning againe with ioy, they vnderstode that Picanor him selfe was slaine for all his armour.
- 29 Then they made a great shout and a cry, praising the Almightie in their own language.
- 30 Therefore Judas, which was euer the chief defender of his citzens both in body and minde, and which bare euer good affection towards them of his nation, commaunded to smite off Picanors head, with his hande and shoulder, & to bring it to Ierusalem.
- 31 And when he came there, he called all them of his nation, and set the Piests by the altar, and sent for them of the castell,
- 32 And shewed them wicked Picanors head, and the hand of that blasphemour which he had holden by against the holy Temple of the Almightie with proude bragges.
- 33 So euery man praised toward the heauen the glorious Lord, saying, Blessed be he, that hath kept this place vndefiled.
- 34 He hanged also Picanors head vpon the hie castell, for an euident and plaine token vnto all of the helpe of God.
- 35 And so they established all together by a common decree that they would in no case suffer this day without keeping it holy:
- 36 And that the feast should be the thirtenth day of the twelfth moneth, which is called Adar in the Syrius language, the day before Mardocheus day.
- 37 Thus farre as concerning Picanors matters, & from that time the Iebryes had the cite in possession. And here will I also make an end.
- 38 If I haue done well, and as the storie required, it is the thing that I desired: but if I haue spoken slenderly and barely, it is that I could.
- 39 For as it is hurtfull to drinke wine alone, and then againe water: and as wine tempered with water is pleasant and delighteth the taste, so the setting out of the matter delighteth the eares of them that reade the storie. And here shall be the end.

The page is framed by a highly decorative border. At the top, two female figures sit on a scrollwork base, flanking a central coat of arms. The coat of arms features a shield with a cross and four fleurs-de-lis, topped with a crown and surrounded by the motto 'DIEU ET MON DROIT'. Below the coat of arms is a small portrait of a man's head. The border is filled with intricate scrollwork, floral motifs, and various figures, including a lion at the bottom left and a griffin at the bottom right. The text is centered within the frame.

The summe of the whole Scripture of the bookes of the olde and newe Testament, Cod.

The bookes of the olde Testament, doe teache vs that the same God, whom Adam, Noe, Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, Dauid, and the other fathers did worship, is ^a the onely true God, and that he the same is almighty and ^a euerslasting : who of his mere goodnesse hath created by his worde ^b heauen and earth, and all that is in them : From whom all things doe come : without whome there is nothing at all : And that he is iust and mercifull : Who also ^d worketh all in all, ^e after his owne will : ^f To whome it is not lawfull to saye, wherefore he doeth thus or thus.

Creation of man.

Moreouer, these bookes teache vs, that this very God^a almighty, after he created all things, shope also Adam the fyrst man, & to the image & spiritual similitude of him selfe, & that he did constitute him lord ouer all things that he had created in earth. Which Adam, by the enue and fraude of the euill, transgressing the precept of his creator, ^b by this his sinne brought in such and so great sinne into the worlde, that we which be sprong from him by the fleshe, ⁱ be in nature the children of wrath, and thereupon we be made subiect and thrall to death, to damnation, to the yoke, and tyrannie of the deuill, Sinne.

Christ promised.

Furthermore, we are taught by these excellent bookes, that God promised to ^k Adam, ^l Abraham, ^m Isaac, ⁿ Jacob, ^o Dauid, and to other fathers of the olde time, that he would sende that blessed seede, his sonne Iesus Christ our sauour, which should deliuer all those from sinne, and from the ^p tyrannie of the deuill, which by a liuely and working faith should beleue this promise, and put their trust in Iesus Christ, hoping that of him and by him, they should obtaine this deliuerance.

The Lawe.

Also they giue vs to vnderstande, that in the meane season, while those fathers the Israelites look'd for the saluation and deliuerance promised (for that the nature of man is such, so proude and so corrupt, that those would not willingly acknowledge them selues to be sinners, which had neede of the sauour promised) God the creator gaue by Moses his ^q lawe written in two tables of stone : that by it, sinne and the malice of mans heart being ^r knowne, men might more vehemently thirst for the ^s coming of Iesus Christ, who should redeeme and deliuer them from sinne : Which thing, neither the lawe, nor yet the sacrifices and oblations of the lawe did ^t performe. For they were shadowes and figures of the true oblation of the bodie of Christ : by which oblation all ^u sinne should be blotted out, and quite put away.

Christ God our sauour came.

By the bookes of the new Testament we be taught, that Christ so afore promised (^v which is God aboute all things most blessed for euer) euen he, I say, was shadowed in the bookes of the olde Testament, and in sacrifices figured, that he was ^w sent at the last from the Father, the selfe same time which the Father did constitute within him selfe : I say, ^x at that time, when all wickednesse abounded in the world, then he was sent : And this Iesus our sauour, being borne in the fleshe, ^y suffred death, and rose againe from the dead. Which actes of his were not done by him in respect of the ^z good workes of any man (for we were all sinners) but that this God our Father should ^{aa} appeare true, in exhibiting the abundant ^{ab} riches of his grace which he promised, and that ^{ac} through his mercie he might bring vs to saluation.

A lambe.
A sacrifice.
Peace.
Adoption.

Whereupon it is euidently shewed in the ^{ad} newe Testament, that Iesus Christe, being the true ^{ae} lambe, the true ^{af} sacrifice of the world, ^{ag} putting away the finnes of men, came into this world to purchase grace and ^{ah} peace for vs with the Father, ^{ai} washing vs from our finnes in his owne blood, and ^{aj} should deliuer vs from the bondage of the deuill, whom by sinne we did serue: And so we should be ^{ak} adopted by him to be ^{al} sonnes of God, made ^{am} heires with him of that most excellent and euerslasting kingdome.

The holy Ghost.
Faith.

Now, that we should acknowledge this singular and excellent benefite of God towards vs, almighty God ^{an} giueth vs his holy spirit: the ^{ao} fruite and effect of the which is faith in God, and in his Christ. For, without the holy Ghost, by which we are instructed and ^{ap} sealed, neither can we beleue that God the Father sent Messias, nor yet that Iesus is Christ : For ^{aq} no man (saith Paul) can say that Iesus is the Lord, but by the holy Ghost. The ^{ar} same spirit witnesseth to our spirit, that we are the children of God, ^{as} and poweth into our bowels that charitie which Paul describeth to the Corinthians. Furthermore, that holy spirit doeth giue vs ^{at} hope, which is a sure looking for eternal life, whereof he himselfe is the certaine ^{au} token and ^{av} pledge. Also he giueth vs other ^{aw} spirituall giftes, of the which Paul writeth to the Galatians.

Iustification & sanctification.

Good workes.

Christ our master and teacher.

Byshop. Mediatour. Aduocate.

Iudgement.

Eternall life.

Eternall fyre.

To what intent the scriptures were written.

Christ the onely foundation.

Therefore the benefit of faith is not yet to be sepy. For by the means of this trust and faith in Christ, which b worketh by charitie, and sheweth it selfe forth by the workes of charitie, mouing man thereto, we are c iustified and sanctified: that is to say, God and the Father of our Lorde Iesus Christe (which is made our d Father also by him, being our e brother) doeth account vs to be iust and holy through his grace, and through the merite of his sonne Iesus Christ, not f imputing our finnes to vs, so farre forth, that we shoulde suffer the paines of hell for them.

Finally, Christ him selfe came into the world, to the intent that we through him being sanctified and clenfed from our finnes, following his will in good workes, should denie the things pertyning to the fleshe, and freely h serue him in righte cuses and holines all the dayes of our life: and that i by good workes (which God hath prepared for vs to walke in) we should k shew our felues to be called to his grace and gift of faith: which good workes who so hath not, doth shewe him selfe not to haue such a faith in Christ as is required in vs.

To Christ must we come, and l follow him with a cheerefull minde, that he may teache vs: For he is m our master, n lowly & humble of heart: he is to vs an o example, whereby we must learne the rule to liue well.

Moreouer, he is our P bisshop and our q high priest, which did him selfe offer vp for vs his own blood, being the onely r mediatour betweene God and men: Who now sitteth at the right hand of God the Father, being made our s aduocate, making prayer and intercession for vs: who doubtlesse shall obtene for vs t whatsoeuer we shall desire, eyther of him, or else of his Father in his name, if so be that we thus desiring, shall beleue that he will so do: for thus hath he promised. Therefore let vs not doubt, if we sinne at any time, to come with u repentance (to the which he doeth inuite and stirre vs at the very beginning of his preaching) and with sure trust to the x throne of his grace, with this beleife, that we shall obtene mercie: For therefore y came he into the world, that he mought saue sinners by his grace.

This is verily Christ Iesus, which shal come at a * certaine time appoynted by his Father, and shall sit in great maiestie to a iudge all men, & to render to euery man b the workes of his bodie according to that he hath done, whether it be good or euill. And he shall saye to them which shalbe on the right side, which in this worlde did looke for the good thinges to come (that is to say, life euerlasting): c Come ye blessed of my father, enjoy the kingdome that hath bin prepared for you fro the beginning of y world. But to them which d shalbe on the left side, he e shall saye: Depart from me ye cursed into euerlasting fyre prepared for the deuill and his angels. And then f shall the end be, when Christ, hauing vtrerly vanquished all maner of enemies, shal deliuer vp the kingdome to God the Father.

To the intent that we mought vnderstand these things, the * sacred books of the Bible were deliuered to vs by the goodnes of God through his holy spirit, with the preaching of that doctrine which is contained in them, and with his Sacraments, by which the truth of this doctrine is sealed vp to vs: that we f mought vnderstand, I say, and beleue that there is one onely true God, and one sauour Iesus Christ, whom (as he had promised) he hath sent: and that we beleeuing mought haue in his Name life euerlasting g.

Beside this h foundation, no man can laye any other in the Church of Christ: and vpon this i foundation the Church doth stand sure and stedfast. And Paul willeth him to be l accused which shall preach any other faith & saluation, then by Iesus Christ, yea although he were an Angel from heauen.

For k of him, through him, and for him, are all things: To whom with the father and the ho- ly Ghost, be al honour and glory, world without ende, Amen.

Certaine

Certaine questions & answers touching the doctrine of predestination, the vse of Gods worde and Sacraments.

Question.

Why do men so much vaire in matters of religion?

Answer.

Because all haue not the like measure of knowledge, neither do all beleue þe gos-pell of Christ.

Question.

What is the reason thereof?

Answer.

Because they only beleue the gospell and doctrine of Christ, which are ordained vnto eternall life.

Question.

Are not all ordayned vnto eternall life?

Answer.

Some are vessels of wrath ordayned vnto destruction, as others are vessels of mercie prepared to gloie.

Question.

How standeth it with gods iustice, that some are appointed vnto damnation?

Answer.

Verie well: because all men haue in them selues sinne, which deserueth no lesse: and therefore the mercie of God is wonderful in that he vouchsafeth to saue some of that sinfull race, & to bring them to the knowledge of the truth.

Question.

If Gods ordinaunce and determination must of necessitie take effect, then what needes any man to care? for he that liueth well must needes be dayned, if he be thereunto ordayned: and he that liueth ill must needes be saued, if he be thereunto to appoynted.

Answer.

Not so, for it is not possible, that either the elect should alwaies be without care to do well, or that the reprobate should haue any will therunto. For to haue either good will or good worke, is a testi-monie of the Spirit of God, which is gi-uen to the elect onely, whereby faith is so wrought in them, that, being grafte in Christ, they growe in holynes to that glorie, whereunto they are appoynted. Neither are they so vaine as once to thinke that they may do as they list themselves, because they are predestinate vnto saluation: But rather they indeuour to walke in such good works as God in Christ Jesus hath ordained them vnto, & prepared for them to be occupied in, to their owne comfort, stay & assurance, & to his gloie.

Question.

But how shall I knowe my selfe to be one of those whome God hath ordained to life eternall?

Answer.

By the motions of spiritual life, which belongeth onely to the children of God:
by the which that life is perceiued, euen as the life of this body is discerned by the sense and motions thereof.

Question.

What meane you by the motions of spirituall life?

Answer.

I meane remoyse of conscience, toynded with the sorthing of sinne & lone of righte-ousnes, the hand of faith reaching vnto life eternal in Christ, the conscience confoisted in distresse, and rapied by to confidence in God by the work of his Spirit:
a thankfull remembrance of Gods benefites receiued, & the bling of al aduersties as occasion of amendment sent from god.

Question.

Can not such perish as at some tyme or other feele these motions within them selues?

Answer.

It is not possible that they should: for as Gods purpose is not chaungeable, so he repenteth not the giftes and graces of his adoption: neither doth hee cast of those, whome he hath once receiued.

Question.

Why then should we pray by the example of Dauid, that he cast vs not from his face, & that he take not his holy Spirit from vs?

Answer.

In so praying we make protestation of the weaknes of flesh, which moueth vs to dout: yet should not we haue courage to aske, if we were not assured that God wil giue, according to his purpose and promise, that which we require.

Question.

Do the children of God feele the motions aforesayd alwayes alike?

Answer.

No truly: for God sometyne to moue his serueth to leaue them in such sort, that the flesh ouermatcheth the spirit, wherof ariseeth trouble of conscience for the tyme:
yet the spirit of adoption is neuer taken from them, that haue once receiued it:

esse might they perish. But as in many diseases of the bodie, the powers of bodie the life are letted: So in some assaults these motions of spiritual life are not perceived, because they be hidden in our manifold infirmities, as the fire covered with ashes. Yet as after sickness cometh health, and after cloudes the sunne shinieth cleare: so the powers of spiritus all life will more or lesse be felt and perceived in the children of God.

Question.

What if I neuer feele these motions in my selfe, shall I despaire and thinke my selfe a castaway?

Answer.

God sayth: for God calleth his at what tyme he seeth god: and the instruments whereby he usually calleth, haue not the like effect at all tymes. yet it is not good to neglect the meanes whereby God hath determined to worke the saluation of his. For as ware is not melted without heate. nor clay hardened but by meanes therof: so God vseth meanes both to drawe those unto him selfe, whom he hath appointed vnto saluation, and also to bewray the wickednes of them whom he iustly condemneth.

Question.

By what meanes vseth God to drawe men to him selfe that they may be saued?

Answer.

By the preaching of his word and the ministring of his Sacraments thereunto annexed.

Question.

What meane you by the word of God?

Answer.

I meane the doctrine of the Prophets and Apostles which they receiued of the Spirit of God, and haue left written in that booke which we commonly call the olde and newe testament.

Question.

How may I be assured, that it is the word of God, which that booke containeth?

Answer.

By the maiestie of God appearing in that playne and simple doctrine: by the purenes, brightness and holines thereof: by the certaintie of euery thing therein affirmed: by the successe of all things according to it: by perpetuall consent which is to be seene in euery parte thereof: by the excellencie of the matters vttered: But especially by the testimonie of Gods spirit, whereby it was written, who mooueth the hartes of those in whome it releteth, to content vnto the word, and reuertently to embrace it.

Question.

How doth this word of God serue to draw men vnto him?

Answer.

When it is so preached and heard, that men may vnderstand and learne what God teacheth: accept a receiue thankfullly that which is thereby giuen, promised and assured: and be moued with desire and diligence to do that which it commaundeth.

Question.

Do the Sacraments also serue to this end?

Answer.

Yea verely: that by sight, taste and feeling, as well as by hearing, we might be instructed, assured, and brought to obedience.

Question.

How doth our baptisme serue hereto?

Answer.

It teacheth vs to put on Christ, that with his righteousnes our sinfulness may be hidden: it assureth vs, that we are so graft into Christ, that all our finnes by him are washed away: it chargeth vs to dye to sinne, to continue in the profession of Christ, and to loue eche other.

Question.

Yath the Lords supper also this vse?

Answer.

Yea doubtles: for it teacheth, that the bodie and blood of Christ crucified is the only foode of the newe borne children of God: it assureth that Christ is wholy theirs to giue and to continue life spirituall and heauenly to bodie and soule, to nourishe, strengthen, refresh, and to make cheerefull the hartes of the elect: it requireth thankfull remembrance of the death of Christ, vntill among those that do professe him, with a free confession of his truth.

Question.

Why is not this vse of the sacraments commonly knowen?

Answer.

Because they are abused for soyme, for faction, for custome and compaignie, without regard vnto the word, wherein they are so annexed, that they ought not vpon any necessitie by any person be separated from it, which teacheth the right vse of euery thing.

Question.

I perceiue that nothing is more necessary then the word of God: therefore I pray you shew me how I may attaine to some knowledge and profite thereby?

Answer.

Answer.

By diligent hearing of such as preach it, by continual and orderly exercise of reading and praying.

Question.

What orderly exercise thinke you most conuenient to be vsed herein?

Answer.

That as every day, twise at the least, wee most commonly receiue foode to the nourishment of this cozoyall life: so no daye be let passe without some reading in such sort, that occasion thereby may be taken to speake againe vnto God by prayer, as he in his worde speaketh vnto vs:
So that at the least two chapters woult be orderly and aduisedly read euerie daie, all other busines, imysdiments and lets set aparte.

Question.

This seemeth verie easie to be done, what thinke you els requisite?

Answer.

That some speciall places of Scripture be so committed to memorie, that the minde may euer be furnished with some good matter against all temptations. To which end I note these scriptures vnto you, wherunto you may ioyne other at your owne choyse:

Psalmes 139. 37. 50. Chap. 53. Iohn 17.
Rom. 8. 1. Tim. 4.

Question. 3. 1 So 3 7

But the Scriptures are hard and not easie to vnderstand?

Answer.

Discourage not your selfe herewith:
for God maketh them easie to such as in humilitie seeke him: & that hardnes that you finde serueth to moue you to more diligence, and to make inquirie of such as haue knowledge, when any doubt ariseth.
That which you perceiue not at one time,
God shall reucale at another: So that you shall haue your growing in grace, knowledge and godlines, to Gods glorie & your owne comfort in Christ, whose name for euer be prayed. A. B. C. P.

The

a This word signifieth good tidings, and is taken here for the storie, which containeth the joyful message of the coming of the sonne of God promised from the beginning. b That is, written and taught by Matthewe.

IN this historie written by Matthewe, Marke, Luke, and John, the Spirit of God so gouerned their hearts, that although they were foure in number, yet in effect and purpose they so consent, as though the whole had bene composed by any one of them. And albeit in stile and manner of writing they be diuers, and it sometime one writeth more largely than which the other doeth abridge: neuertheless in matter and argument they all tend to one end: which is, to publish to the world the fauour of God towards mankind through Christ Iesus, whom the Father hath giuen as a pledge of his mercie and loue. And for this cause they intitle their storie, Gospel, which signifieth good tidings, for asmuch as God hath performed in deede that which the fathers hoped for. So that hereby we are admonished to forsake the world, and the vanities thereof, and with most affectioned hearts embrace this incomparable treasure freely offered vnto vs: for there is no ioy nor consolation, no peace nor quietness, no felicitie nor saluation, but in Iesus Christ, who is the very substance of this Gospel, and in whom all the promises are Yea, and Amen. And therefore vnder this word is contained the whole Newe testament: but commonly we vse this name for the historie, which the foure Euangelists write, containing Christs coming in the flesh, his death and resurrection, which is the perfect summe of our saluation. Matthewe, Marke, & Luke are more copious in describing his life & death: but Iohn more laboureth to set forth his doctrine, wherein both Christs office, and also the vertue of his death and resurrection more fully appeare: for without this, to knowe that Christ was borne, dead and risen againe, should nothing profite vs. The which thing notwithstanding that the three first touch partly, as he also sometime intermedleth the historical narration, yet Iohn chiefly is occupied herein. And therefore as a most leamed interpreter writeth, they describe, as it were, the body, and Iohn setteth before our eyes the soule. Wherefore the same aptly termeth the Gospel written by Iohn, the key which openeth the doore to the vnderstanding of the others: for who so euer doeth knowe the office, vertue and power of Christ, shall reade that which is written of the Sonne of God come to be y redeemer of the world, with most profit. Now as concerning the writers of this historie, it is euident that Matthewe was a Publicane of custome gatherer, and was thence chosen of Christ to be an Apostle. Marke is thought to haue bene Peters disciple, and to haue planted the first Church at Alexandria, where he died the eighty yere of the reigne of Nero. Luke was a Physician of Antiochia and became Paules disciple, and fellowe in all his trauels: he liued foure score and foure yeeres, and was buried at Constantinople. Iohn was that Apostle whom the Lorde loued, the sonne of Zebedeus, and brother of Iames: he died three score yeeres after Christ, and was buried neere to the cite of Ephesus.

17 So all the generations from Abraham to Dauid, are fourente generations. And from Dauid vntill they were carried away into Babylon, fourente generations: and after they were carried away into Babylon, vntill Christ, fourente generations.

18 Know y^e birth of IESVS Christ was thus, When as his mother Marie was betrothed to Ioseph, before they came together, she was founde with child of the holy Ghost.

19 Then Ioseph her husband, being a iust man, & not willing to make her a publike example, was minded to put her away secretly.

20 But whyles he thought these things, beholde, the Angel of the Lord appeared vnto him in a dreame, saying, Ioseph the sonne of Dauid, feare not to take Marie for thy wyfe: for that which is conceived in her, is of the holie Ghost.

21 And she shall bring forth a sonne, and thou shalt call his name IESVS: for he shall saue his people from their finnes.

22 And all this was done that it might be fulfilled, which was spoken of the Lord by the Prophet, saying,

23 Beholde, a Virgine shall bee with child, and shall beare a sonne, and they shall call his name Emmanuel, which is by interpretation, God with vs.

24 Then Ioseph, being raised fro sleepe, did as the Angel of the Lord had intreated him, and tooke his wyfe.

25 But he knewe her not, till she had brought forth her first borne sonne, and he called his name IESVS.

The time and place of Christs birth. 11 The wise men offer their presents. 14 Christ fleeth into Egypt. 16 The young children are slaine. 23 Ioseph turneth into Galile.

1 When Iesus then was borne at Bethlehem in Iudea, in the dayes of Herode the King, beholde, there came Wisemen from the East to Jerusalem,

2 Saying, Where is the King of the Iewes that is borne? for we haue seene his starre in the East, & are come to worship him.

3 When King Herode heard this, he was troubled, and all Ierusalem with him.

4 And gathering together all the chiefe Priests and Scribes of the people, he asked of them, where Christ should be borne.

5 And they said vnto him, At Bethlehem in Iudea: for so it is written by the Prophet,

6 And thou Bethlehem in the land of Iuda, art not the least among the princes of Iuda: for out of thee shall come the gouernour that shall feede my people Israel.

7 Then Herode priuily called the Wisemen, and diligently inquired of them the time of the starre that appeared,

8 And sent them to Bethlehem, saying, See, and search diligently for the babe, and when ye haue found him, bring me worde againe, that I may come also, and worship him.

9 So when they had heard the King, they departed: and lo, the starre which they had seene in the East, went before them, till it came, and stood ouer the place where the babe was.

10 And when they sawe the starre, they reioiced with an exceding great ioye,

11 And went into the house, and founde the babe with Marie his mother, and fell downe, and worshipped him, and opened their treasures, and presented vnto him gifts, euen golde, & incense, and myrrhe.

12 And after they were warned of God in a dreame, that they should not goe againe to Herode, they returned into their countrey another way.

13 After their departure, beholde the Angel of the Lord appeareth to Ioseph in a dreame, saying, Arise, and take the babe and his mother, and flee into Egypt, and be there till I bring the word: for Herode wil seeke the babe, to destroy him.

14 So he arose and tooke the babe and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt,

15 And was there vntill the death of Herode, that which was most precious in their countrey, whereof euery one of them offered.

15 Then Iesus answering, said to him, Let be now: for thus it becometh vs to fulfill all righteousness. So he suffered him.

16 And Iesus when he was baptized, came straight out of the water. And lo, the heauens were opened vnto him, & Iohn saue y^e Spirit of God descending like a doue, and lighting vpon him.

5 Then the deuill tooke him by into the holie Citie, and set him on a pinnacle of the Temple,

22 And they without taryng, leauing the ship & their father, followed him.
23 So Iesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their Synagogues, and preaching the Gospel of the kingdom, and healing euerie sicknesse and euerie disease among the people.
24 And his fame spread abroad through all Syria: & they brought vnto him all sicke people, that were taken with diuers diseases and gripings, & them that were possessed with deuils, and those which were lunatique, and those that had the palse: and hee healed them.
25 And there followed him great multitudes out of Galilee, and Decapolis, and Ierusalem, and Iudea, and from beyond Jordan.

r We ought to be most ready to followe Christ whē he calleth, leauing all worldly respects apart.
f That is, the blessed tidings of forgiveness of finnes & reconciliation with God.
t So that by healing incurable diseases Christes diuinitie appeared.

3 Christ teacheth who are blessed. 13 The salt of the earth, and light of the world. 16 Good works. 17 Christ came to fulfill the Law. 21 VVhat is meant by killing. 23 Reconciliation. 27 Adulterie. 29 Offences. 31 Diuorcement. 33 Not to sweare. 35 To suffer wrong. 44 To lose our enemies. 48 Perfection.

1 And when hee saw the multitude, hee went by into a mountaine: when he was set, his disciples came to him.
2 And he opened his mouth and taught them, saying,
3 *Blessed are the poore in spirite, for theirs is the kingdom of heauen.
4 *Blessed are they that mourne: for they shall be comforted.
5 *Blessed are the meeke: for they shall inherit the earth.
6 Blessed are they which hunger & thirst for righteousnes: for they shall be filled.
7 Blessed are the mercifull: for they shall obteyne mercie.
8 Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God.
9 Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called the children of God.
10 Blessed are they which suffer persecucion for righteousnes sake: for theirs is the kingdom of heauen.
11 *Blessed are ye when men reuile you, & persecute you, and say all manner of euill against you for my sake, falsly.
12 Reioyce in heauen: for so persecuted they the Prophetes which were before you.
13 *Ye are the salt of the earth: but if the salt haue lost his sauour, wherewith shall hee be salted? It is thence forth good for nothing, but to bee cast out, and to be troden vnder foote of men.

CHAP. VI.

1 Of almes, 5 Prayer, 14 Forgiuing one another, 26 Fasting. 19 He forbiddeth the careful seeking of worldly things, and willet men to put their whole trust in him.

Take heede that ye giue not your almes before men, to be scene of them, or els ye shall haue no reward of your father which is in heauen.

2 * Therefore when thou giuest thine almes, thou shalt not make a trumpet to be blowne before thee, as the hypocrites doe in the Synagogues and in the streets, to be praised of men. Verely I say vnto you, they haue their reward. But when thou doest thine almes, let not thy left hand knowe what thy right hand doeth,

3 That thine almes may be in secret, and thy father that seeth in secret, he will reward thee openly.

4 And when thou prayest, be not as the hypocrites: for they loue to stand, and pray in the Synagogues, & in the corners of the streets, because they would be scene of men. Verely I say vnto you, they haue their reward.

5 But when thou prayest, enter into thy chamber: and when thou hast shut thy doore, pray vnto thy father which is in secret, and thy father which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly.

6 Also when ye pray, vse not vayne repetitions as the heathen: for they think to be heard for their much babbling.

7 Be ye not like them therefore: for your father knoweth whereof ye haue neede, before ye aske of him.

8 After this maner therefore praye ye, ¶ Our father which art in heauen, haue loved be thy name.

9 Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done euen in earth, as it is in heauen.

10 Giue vs this day our dailie bread.

11 And forgive vs our dettes, as we also forgive our debtors.

12 And leade vs not into temptation, but deliuer vs from euil: for thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glorie for euer. Amen.

13 * For if ye doe forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly father will also forgive you.

14 But if ye doe not forgive men their trespasses, no more will your father forgive you your trespasses.

15 ¶ Whereouer, when ye fast, looke not sower as the hypocrites: for they disfigure their faces, that they might seeme vnto men to fast. Verely I say vnto you, that they haue their reward.

16 But when thou fastest, o anoint thine head, & wash thy face, 17 ¶ That when thou fastest, o anoint thine

19 ¶ I say not vnto you that ye faste upon the earth, where the moth and canker corrupt, and where theennes dig through, and steale.

20 * But lay by treasures for your selues in heauen, where neither the moth nor canker corrupteth, and where theennes neither digge through, nor steale.

21 ¶ For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

22 * The light of the body is the eye: if then thine eye be single, thy whole body shall be light.

23 But if thine eye be wicked, then all thy body shall be darke. Wherefore if the light that is in thee, be darkness, howe great is that darkness?

24 * No man can serue two masters: for either he shall hate the one, and loue the other, or els he shall leaue to the one, and despye the other. Ye can not serue God and riches.

25 * Therefore I say vnto you, be not careful for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drinke: nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more worth then meate: and the body then raiment?

26 Beholde the fowles of the heauen: for they sowe not, neither reape, nor carrie into the barnes: yet your heavenly father feedeth them. Are ye not much better then they?

27 Which of you by taking care, is able to adde one cubite vnto his stature?

28 And why care ye for raiment? Learne, howe the lilies of the field doe growe: they labour not, neither spinne:

29 Yet I say vnto you, that euen Solomon in all his glorie was not arrayed like one of these.

30 Wherefore if God so clothe the grasse of the field which is to day, and to morrowe is cast into the ouen, shall he not do much more vnto you, o ye of little faith?

31 Therefore take no thought, saying, What shall we eat? or what shall we drinke: or wherewith shall we be clothed?

32 (For after all these things seeketh the Gentiles) for your heavenly father knoweth, that ye haue neede of all these things.

33 But seeke ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousnes, and all these things shall be ministered vnto you.

34 Care not then for the morowe: for the morowe shall care for it: seife: the day hath ynough with his owne griefe.

9 For what man is there among you, which if his ſonne aſke him bread, wold giue him a ſtone?

10 * If he aſke a fiſhe, wold he giue him a ſerpent?

11 If ſpe then, which are euill, can giue to your children good giſtes, howe much more ſhall your Father which is in heauen, giue good things to them that aſke him?

12 * Therefore what ſoever ye wold that men ſhould do to you, then ſo do ye to them: for this is the Lawe and the Prophets.

13 * Enter in at the ſtraite gate: for it is the wide gate, and broad: wip that leadeth to deſtruction: and many there be which go in thereat,

14 Because the gate is ſtrait, and the way narrowe that leadeth vnto life, and fewe there be that finde it.

15 * Beware of falſe prophets, which come to you in ſheepes clothing, but inwardly they are rauening wolues.

16 Ye ſhall knowe them by their fruites. * Do men gather grapes of thornes? or figges of thistles?

17 So every good tree bringeth forth good fruit, and a corrupt tree bringeth forth euill fruite.

18 A good tree can not bring forth euill fruite: neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruite.

19 * Euerie tree that bringeth not forth good fruite, is hewen downe, and caſt into the fire.

20 Therefore by their fruites ye ſhall knowe them.

21 * Not euerie one that ſapeth vnto me, ſaith, Lord, Lord, ſhall enter into the kingdome of heauen, * but he that doeth my fathers will which is in heauen.

22 Many will ſaye to me in that day,

Lord, Lord, haue we not ſe by thy name prophesied: and by thy name caſt out deuils: and by thy name done many great workes?

23 And then wil I profeſſe to them, * Depart from me, ye that worke iniquitie.

24 Whoſoever then heareth of me theſe wordes, * doeth the ſame, I will liken him to a wife man, which hath builded his houſe on a rocke:

25 And the raine fell, & the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat vpon that houſe, and it fell not: for it was ground on a rocke.

26 But who ſoever heareth theſe my wordes, and doeth them not, ſhalbe likened vnto a ſouliſh man, which hath builded his houſe vpon the ſand:

27 And the raine fell, & the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat vpon that houſe, and it fell, and the fall thereof was great.

10 When Iesus heard that, he marueled, and said to them that followed him, We reioy, I say vnto you, I haue not founde so great fayth, euen in Israel.
 11 But I saue vnto you, that many shal come from the East & West, and shal sit downe with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob in the kingdome of heauen.
 12 And the children of the kingdome shal bee cast out into t vtter: darknesse:
 there shall be weeping and gnauling of teeth.
 13 Then Iesus sayd vnto the Centurion, Go thy way, and as thou hast beleued, so be it vnto thee. And his seruant was healed the same houre.
 14 ¶ And when Iesus came to Peters house, he saue his wifes mother layed downe, and sicke of a feuer.
 15 And he touched her hande, and the feuer left her: so she arose, and ministred
 vnto them.
 16 ¶ When the euen was come, they brought vnto him many that were possessed with devils: & he cast out the spi-rites with his word, and healed all that were sicke.
 17 That it might bee fulfilled, which was spoken by Elias the Prophet, saying, I will take out infirmitie, and bare our sickneses.
 18 ¶ And when Iesus saue great multitudes of people about him, he commaunded them to go ouer the water.
 19 ¶ Then came there a certaine Scribe, & said vnto him, Master, ¶ I will follow thee whithersoener thou goest.
 20 But Iesus said vnto him, The fores haue holes, & the birdes of the heauen haue nests, but the Sonne of man hath not whereon to rest his head.
 21 ¶ And another of his disciples sayde vnto him, Master, suffer me first to go, and burye my father.
 22 But Iesus said vnto him, Follow me, and let the dead burye their dead, 23 ¶ And when he was entred into the ship, his disciples folowed him.
 24 And beholde, there arose a greate tempest in the sea, so that the shippe was covered with waues: but he was a sleepe.
 25 Then his disciples came, & awoke him, saying, Master, saue vs: we perishe.
 26 And he saide vnto them, Why are pee feareful, O ye of little fayth? Then he arose, and rebuked the windes and the sea: and so there was a great calme.
 27 And the men marueiled, saying, What man is this, that both the windes and the sea obey him!
 28 ¶ And when he was come to the other side, into the countrey of the Gergesenes, there met him two possessed with devils, which came out of the graues verie fierce, so that no mā might go by that way.
 29 And beholde, they crept out, saying, to do with thee? But thou come hither to torment vs before the time?

 a great heerd of swine feeding.
 31 And the devils besought him, saying,
 If thou cast vs out, suffer vs to go into the heerd of swine.
 32 And he saide vnto them, Go, so they went out, and departed into the heerd of swine: and behold, the whole heerd of ouer, and came into his owne citie.

 2 And to, they brought to him a mā sicke of the palse, lying on a bed. And Iesus seeing their faith, said to the sicke of the palse, Sonne, be of good comfort:
 thy sinnes are forgiven thee.
 3 And beholde, certaine of the Scribes sayd with themselves, This man blasphemeth.
 4 But when Iesus saw their thoughts, he said, Wherefore thinke ye euil things in your hearts?
 5 For whether is it easier to saye, Thy sinnes are forgiven thee, or to say, Arise, and walke?
 6 And that pe may knowe that the Sonne of man hath authoritie in earth to forgiue sinnes, (then said he vnto the sicke of the palse, Arise, take up thy bed, and go to thine house.)
 7 And he arose, & departed to his owne house.
 8 So when the multitude saue it, they marueiled, & glorified God, which had giuen such authoritie to men.
 9 ¶ And as Iesus passed forth fro thence, he saue a man sitting at the recepce of custome named Matthew, and sayd to him, Follow me. And he arose, and followed him.
 10 And it came to passe, as Iesus sate at meate in his house, behold, many Publicanes and sinners, that came thither, sate downe at the table with Iesus and his disciples.

12 Now when Iesus heard it, he layde vnto them, The whole neede not a physician, but they that are sicke.

13 But go ye and learne what this is, I will haue mercie, and not sacrifice: for I am not come to call the righteous, but the sinnes to repentance.

14 ¶ Then came the disciples of John to him, saying, Why do we and the Pharises fast oft, and thy disciples fast not?

15 And Iesus said vnto them, Can ye children of the marriage chamber inuaine as long as the hydegrome is with the? But the dayes will come when the hydegrome shall be taken from them, and then shall they fast.

16 Moreover no man pieceth an olde garment with a piece of newe cloth: for that that should fill it by, taketh away from the garment, and the breach is worse.

17 Neither do they put new wine into olde vessels: for then the vessels would breake, and the wine would be spilt, and the vessels should perish: but they put new wine into new vessels, & so are both preserved.

18 ¶ While he thus spake vnto them, behold there came a certaine ruler, and worshipping him, saying, My daughter is now deceased, but come and lay thine hand on her, and she shall liue.

19 And Iesus arose and followed him vnto his disciples.

20 And behold a woman which was diseased with an plise of blood twelue yeres, came behind him, and touched the hemme of his garment.

21 For she sayde in her selfe, If I may but touch his garment onely, I shall be whole.

22 Then Iesus turned him about, and seeing her, did say, Daughter, be of good comfort: thy faith hath made thee whole. And the woman was made whole at that houre.)

23 Now when Iesus came into the rulers house, and sawe the minstrels and the multitude making noise,

24 He sayde vnto them, Get you hence: for the maide is not dead, but sleepeth. And they laughed him to skorne.

25 And when the multitude were put forth, he went in and tooke her by the hand, and the maide arose.

26 And this byte went throughout all that lande.

27 And as Iesus departed thence, two blind men followed him, crying, and saying, O sonne of Dauid, haue mercie vpon vs.

28 And when he was come into his house, the blind came to him, and Iesus saide vnto them, Welcoue ye that I am able to do this? And they saide vnto him, Yea, Lord.

29 Then touched he their eyes, saying, According to your faith be it vnto you.

30 And their eyes were opened, & Iesus charged them, saying, See that no man knowe it.

31 But when they were departed, they spied abroad his fame throughout all that land.

32 ¶ And as they went out, behold, they brought to him a donnee man possessed with a deuil.

33 And when the deuil was cast out, the donnee spake: the he the multitude marvelled, saying, The like was neuer seene in Israel.

34 But the Pharises said, He casteth out devils, through the p^unicie of devils.

35 ¶ And Iesus went about all cities and towne, teaching in their Synagogues, & preaching the Gospel of the kingdom, & healing euery sicke, & euery diseale among the people.

36 But when he sawe the multitude, he had compassion vpon them, because they were dispersed, & scattered abroad, as sheepe hauing no shepheard.

37 The said hee to his Disciples, Surely the harvest is great, but the labourers are fewe.

38 Wherefore pray the Lord of the harvest, that he would send forth labourers into his harvest.

1 THe same daie went Iesus out of the house, and sae by the sea side.
 2 And a great multitude resorted vnto him, so that he went into a ship, & sae downe: and the whole multitude stood on the shoare.
 3 Then he spake many things to them in parables, saying, Beholde, a sower went forth to sowe.
 4 And as he sowed, some fell by the wayes side, and the foules came and deuoured them by.
 5 And some fell vpon stony grounde, where they had not much earth, and anon they sprong vp, because they had no depth of earth.
 6 And when the sunne rose by, they were parched, and for lacke of rooting, withered away.
 7 And some fell among thornes, and the thornes sprong vp, and choked them.
 8 Some againe fell in good ground, and brought forth fruite, one corne an hundred fold, some sixtie folde, and another thirtie folde.
 9 He that hath eares to heare, let him heare.
 10 ¶ Then the disciples came, and saide to him, Whyp speakest thou to them in parables?
 11 And he answered & saide vnto them, Because it is giuen vnto you, to know the secrets of the kingdom of heauen, but to them it is not giuen.
 12 ¶ For whosoener hath, to him shall be giuen, and he shall haue abundance: but whosoener hath not, from him shall be taken away, euen that he hath.

 d Christ increaseth in his children his graces.
 e Euen that which he seemeth to haue,

13 Therefore speake I to them in parables, because they seeing, do not see and hearing, they heare not, neither vnderstand.
 14 So in them is fulfilled the prophesie of Esaias, which prophesie saith, * Wyp hearing, ye shall heare, and shall not vnderstand, and wemg ye shall see, and shall not perceiue.
 15 ¶ For this peoples heart is waxed fat, & their eares are dull of hearing, & with their eyes they haue winked, lest they should see with their eyes, & heare with their eares, and should vnderstand with their heartes, and should returne, that I might heale them.
 16 But blessed are your eyes, for they see: and your eares, for they heare.
 17 ¶ For verely I say vnto you, that many Prophets, and righteous men haue desired to see hol. things which ye see, and haue not seene them, and to heare those things which ye heare, and haue not heard them.
 18 ¶ Heare ye therefore the parable of the sower.
 19 Whensoener a man heareth the worde of the kingdom, and vnderstandeth it not, the euil one cometh, & catcheth away that which was sown in his heart: & this is he which hath receiued the seede by the way side.
 20 And he that receiued seede in the stonie ground, is he which heareth the word, and incontinently with ioy receiureth it.
 21 Per hath he no roote in him selfe, and dureth but a season: for asone as tribulation or persecution cometh because of the word, by and by he is offended.
 22 And he that receiureth the seede among thornes, is he that heareth the word: but the care of this worde, and the deceitfulness of riches choke the worde, & he is made unfruitfull.
 23 But he that receiureth the seede in good ground, is he that heareth the word, & vnderstandeth it, which also beareth fruite, & bringeth forth, some an hundred folde, some sixtie folde, and some thirtie folde.
 24 ¶ In another parable put hee forth vnto them saying, The kingdom of heauen is like vnto a man which sowed good seede in his field.
 25 ¶ But while men slept, there came his enemy, and sowed tares among the wheat, and went his way.
 26 And when the blade was sprong vp, and brought forth fruite, the appeared the tares also.
 27 Then came the seruantes of the holder, and said vnto him, Master, sowedst not thou good seede in thy felde? from whence then hath it tares?
 28 And he said to them, The eniuous man hath done this. The seruantes said vnto him, Wilt thou then that we go and gather them by?

h He teacheth that the good & the bad shall be mixt together in the Church, to the end that the faithfull may arme the selues with patience & conlance, 29 But he said, Nay, lest while ye go about to gather the tares, ye plucke up also with them the wheat.

30 Let both growe together until the harvest, and in time of harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather ye first the tares, and binde them in sheaves to burne them: but gather the wheat into my barn.

31 ¶ Another parable he put forth unto them, saying, The kingdom of heauen is like vnto a graine of mustard seede, which a man taketh and soweth in his field:

32 Which in dedde is the least of all seedes: but when it is growen, it is the greatest among herbes, and it is a tree, so that the birdes of heauen come and abide in the branches thereof.

33 ¶ Another parable spake he to the, The kingdom of heauen is like vnto leauen, which a woman taketh and hideth in three pecks of meale, till all be leauened.

34 ¶ All these things spake Iesus vnto the multitude in parables, & without parables spake he not to them,

35 That it might be fulfilled, which was spoken by the Prophet, saying, I will open my mouth in parables, and will utter the things which haue bene kept secret from the foundation of the worlde;

36 Then sent Iesus the multitude away, & went into þ house. And his disciples came vnto him, saying, Declare vnto vs the parable of the tares of the field.

37 Then answered he, and said to them, He that soweth the good seede, is the Sonne of man,

38 And the field is the worlde, and the good seede, they are the children of the kingdom, and the tares are the children of the wicked,

39 And the enemy that soweth them, is the deuill, and the harvest is the end of the worlde, and the reapers be the Angels.

40 As then the tares are gathered and burned in the fire, so shall it be in the end of this worlde.

41 The Sonne of man shall sende forth his Angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdom all things that offend, & them which do iniquity, 42 And shall cast them into a furnace of fire. There shall be wailing & gnashing of teeth.

43 ¶ Then shall the iust men shine as the sunne in the kingdom of their Father. He that hath eares to heare, let him heare.

44 ¶ Againe the kingdom of heauen is like vnto a treasure hid in a field, which when a man hath found, he hideth it, & for ioy thereof departeth and selleth all that he hath, and buyeth that field.

45 ¶ Againe the kingdom of heauen is like to a merchant man, that seeketh good pearles,

46 Who hauing found a pearle of greate

price, went & sold all that he had, and bought it.

47 ¶ Againe the kingdom of heauen is like vnto a drawe net cast into the sea, that gathereth of all kindes of things.

48 Which, when it is full, men drawe to lande, and sit and gather the good into vessels, and call the bad away.

49 So shall it be at the ende of the world. The Angels shall go forth, & leue the bad from among the iust,

50 And shall cast them into a furnace of fire: there shall be wailing, and gnashing of teeth.

51 ¶ Iesus said vnto them, Vnderstand ye all these things? They said vnto him, Yea, Lord.

52 Then saide he vnto them, Therefore curie I scribe which is taught vnto the kingdom of heauen, is like vnto all huntolde, which bringeth forth out of his treasure things both newe and olde.

53 ¶ And it came to passe, that when Iesus had ended theise parables, he departed thence,

54 ¶ And came into his owne country, and taught them in their Synagogue, so that they were astounded, and sayde, Whence cometh this wisdom, and great workes vnto this man?

55 Is not this the carpenters sonne: is not his mother called Marie, and his brethren James & Ioseph, and Simon and Judas?

56 And are not his sisters all with vs? Whence then hath he all these things?

57 And they were offended with him. Then Iesus saide to them, A prophet is not without honour, save in his owne country, and in his owne house.

58 And he did not many great workes there, for their unbeliueuse sake.

1 ¶ At that time Herod the Tetrarche heard of the fame of Iesus, and said vnto his seruants, This is Iohn Baptist: he is risen againe from the dead, and therefore great workes are wrought by him.

2 ¶ For Herode had taken Iohn, & bound him, and put him in prison for Herodias sake, his brother Philipps wife.

3 ¶ For Iohn sayde vnto him, It is not lawfulfull for thee to haue her.

4 And when he would haue put him to death, he feared the multitude, because they counted him as a Prophet.

5 ¶ But when Herodes birth day was kept, Iohn the Baptist came to the feaste, and stood by the table. Herodes saw him, and was glad, and said vnto his waiting maides, Sitte here. And he sate downe with him. And when he had drunk, he said vnto his waiting maides, What desirest thou? And she answered, I desire that thou wouldest giue me here half a peare.

16 Then said Iesus, ¶ We pe pet without vnderstanding?

17 Perceiue ye not yet, that whatsoeuer entereth into the mouth, goeth into the bellie, and is cast out into the draught?

18 But those things which proceede out of the mouth, come from the heart, and they defile the man.

19 For out of the heart * come euill thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, theftes, false testimonies, flanders.

20 These are the things, which defile the man: but to eate with vniuashen hands, defileth not the man.

21 ¶ And Iesus went thence, and departed into the coasts of Cyprus & Sidon.

22 And beholde, a woman a Canaanite came out of the same coastes, and cryed, saying vnto him, Haue mercy on me, O Lord, the sonne of Dauid : my daughter is miserablie vexed with a deuill.

23 But he answered her not a worde. ¶ Then came to him his disciples, and besought him, saying, Send her away, for she crieth after vs.

24 But he answered, & said, I am not sent, but vnto the * lost sheepe of the house of Israel.

25 ¶ Yet she came, and worshipped him, saying, Lord, helpe me.

26 And he answered, and said, It is not good to take the childrens bread, and to cast it to ^h whelpes.

27 But she saide, Cruieth, Lord : yet in deepe the whelpes eat of the crummes, which fall from their masters table.

28 ¶ Then Iesus answered, and said vnto her, O woman, great is thy faith: be it to thee, as thou desirest. And her daughter was made whole at ^h that houre.

29 ¶ So Iesus * went away from thence, and came neere vnto the sea of Galilee, and went by into a mountaine & late downe there.

30 And great multitudes came vnto him, * hauing with them, halte, blinde, donne, maimed, and many other, and cast them downe at Iesus feete, and he healed them.

31 In so much that the multitude wondred, to see the donne speake, the maimed whole, the halte to go, and the blinde to see : and they glorified the God of Israel.

32 * Then Iesus called his disciples vnto him, and said, ¶ I * haue compassion on this multitude, because they haue continued with me already three daies, and haue nothing to eate : and I will not let them departe fasting, least they faint in the way.

33 And his disciples said vnto him, Whence shoulde we get so much bread in the wilderness, as thouid suffice for great a multitude?

34 And Iesus saide vnto them, Howe many loaves haue ye? And they said, Seuen, and a fewe litle fishes.

35 Then he commanded the multitude to sit downe on the ground,

36 And tooke the seuen loaves, and the fishes, and gaue thawkes, and brake them, and gaue to his disciples, & the disciples to the multitude.

37 And they did all eate, and were sufficed: they tooke by of the fragments that remained, seuen baskets full.

38 And they that had eaten, were foure thousand men, beside women, and litle children.

39 ¶ Then Iesus went away the multitude, and tooke shippe, and came into the partes of Magdala.

14 And they said, Some say, John Baptist: and some, Elias: and others, Jeremias, or one of the Prophetes.

15 Ye saide vnto them, But whome sape ye that I am?

16 Then Simon Peter answered, & said, Thou art the Christ, the Sonne of the liuing God.

17 And Iesus answered, and said to him, Blessed art thou, Simon, the sonne of Ionas: for as the stone which he laid vnto thee, and by whose help thou shalt be built in heauen.

18 And I sape also vnto thee, that thou art Peter, and vpon this rock I will bulde my Church: and the gates of hell shall not overcome it.

19 Honour thy father and mother: and thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe.

20 * The yong man saide vnto him, I haue ^l obserued all these things from my youth: what lacke I yet?

21 Iesus saide vnto him, If thou wilt be perfect, go, ^m sell that thou hast, and giue it to the poore, and thou shalt haue treasure in heauen, and come and folow me.

22 And when the yong man heard that saying, he went away sorrowfull: for he had great ⁿ possessions.

23 Then Iesus saide vnto his disciples, Verely I say vnto you, that a rich man shall hardly enter into the kingdome of heauen.

24 And againe I say vnto you, It is easier for a camel to goe through the eye of a needle, then for a rich man to enter into the kingdome of God.

25 And when his disciples heard it, they were exceedingly amazed, saying, Who then can be saved?

26 And Iesus beheld them, and said vnto them, With men this is impossible, but with God ^o all things are possible.

27 ¶ * Then answered Peter, and saide to him, Beholde, we haue forsaken all, and followed thee: what shall we haue?

28 And Iesus saide vnto them, Verely I saye to you, that when the Sonne of man shall sit in the throne of his maiestie, ye which followed me in the regeneration, ^p shall sit also vpon twelue thrones, and iudge the twelue tribes of Israel.

29 And whosoever shall forsake houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my names sake, he shall receiue an hundred fold more, and shall inherite euertlasting life.

30 * But many that are first, shall be last, and the last shall be first.

1 Christ teacheth by a similitude, that God is decter vnto no man, and howe he alway calleth men to his labour. 18 He admonisheth them of his passion. 20 He teacheth his to see ambition. 28 Christ payeth our ranfome. 30 He gueth two blinde men their sight.

1 ¶ ^q The kingdome of heauen is like vnto a certaine housholder, which went out at the dawning of the daye to hyge labourers into his vines parde.

2 And he agreed with the labourers for a penny a day, and sent them into his vineparde.

3 And he went out about the ^b thirde houre, and saue other standing idle in the market place.

4 And saide vnto them, Goe ye also into my vineparde, and whatsoever is right, I will giue you: and they went their way.

5 Againe he went out about the sixt and ninth houre, and did likewise.

6 And he wet about the eleuenth houre, and found other standing idle, and said vnto them, Why stande ye here all the daye idle?

7 Heper saide vnto him, Because no man hath hired vs. He said to them, Goe ye also into my vinepard, and whatsoeuer is right, that shall ye receiue.

8 ¶ ^r And when euen was come, the Master of the vinepard said vnto his stewarde, Call the labourers, and giue them their hire, beginning at the last, till thou come to the first.

9 And they which were hired about the eleuenth houre, came and receiued euery man a penny.

10 Nowe when they first came, they supposed that they should receiue more, but they likewise receiued euery man a penny.

11 And when they had receiued it, they murmured against the master of the house,

12 Saying, These last haue wrought but one houre, and thou hast made them equal vnto vs, which haue borne the burden, and heate of the day.

13 And he answered one of them, saying, Friend, I doe thee no wrong: diddest thou not agree with me for a pennie?

14 Take that which is thine owne, and goe thy way: I will giue vnto this last, as much as to thee.

15 Is it not lawful for me to do as I will with mine owne? Is thine eye ^s enuill because I am good?

22 And Iesus answered and saide, He knowe not what ye aske. Are ye able to dinke of the cup that I shall drinke of,
and to be baptized with the baptisme to him, We are able.

26 But it shall not be so among you: but by the way side, when they hearde that Iesus passed by, cryed saying, O Lord,

31 And the multitude rebuked them, because they should holde their peace:
but they cryed the more, saying, O
Lord, the Sonne of Dauid, haue mercie

32 Then Iesus stode still, & called them, and said, What wil ye that I should do to you?
33 They said to him, Lord, that our eyes may be opened.

touchd their eyes, & immediatly their eyes receiued sight, and they followed him.

scribes sawe the marueils that he did, and the children crying in the Temple, and saying, Hosanna the Sonne of Dauid, they did denie, 16 And said vnto him, Hearest thou what these say? And Iesus saide vnto them, Yea: read perueiler, * By the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast made perfect the papist.

17 ¶ So he left them, and went out of the citie vnto Bethania, and lodged there.

18 And * in the moorning as he returned vnto the citie, he was hungrie,

19 And seeing a figge tree in the waye, he came to it, and found nothing thereon, but leauis onely, and saide to it, Neuer fruite growe on thee henceforwardes. And anon the figge tree withered.

20 And when his disciples sawe it, they marueiled, saying, Howe soone is the fig tree withered!

21 And Iesus answered and saide vnto them, * Verely I saye vnto you, if ye haue faith, and doubt not, ye shall not onely do that, which I haue done to the fig tree, but also if ye say vnto this mooraine, Take thy selfe away, and cast thy selfe into the sea, it shall be done.

22 * And whatsoever ye shall aske in prayer, if ye beleue, ye shall receiue it.

23 ¶ And when he was come into the Temple, the chiefe Priestes, & the Elders of the people came vnto him, as he was teaching, & saide, By what authoritie dost thou these things? and who gaue thee this authoritie?

24 Then Iesus answered and saide vnto them, I also will aske of you a certaine thing, which if ye tell me, I likewise will tell you by what authoritie I doe these things.

25 The baptisme of Iohn whente was it? * from heauen, or of men? Then they reasoned among them selves, saying, If we shal say, from heauē, he will say vnto vs, Why did ye not then beleue him?

26 And if we say, of men, we feare the people: * for all holde Iohn as a Prophet.

27 Then they answered Iesus, and said, We cannot tell. And he said vnto them, Neither tell I you by what authoritie I do these things.

28 ¶ But what thinke ye? A certaine man had two sonnes, and came to the elder, and said, Sonne, goe and worke to daye in my vineyard.

29 But he answered, and said, I will not: yet afterwarde he repented him selfe, & went.

30 Then came he to the second, and saide likewise. And he answered, and saide, I will go: yet he went not.

31 Whether of them twaine did the will of the father? They saide vnto him, The first. Iesus said vnto them, Verely I say vnto you, that the Publicans and the harlottes that go before you into the kingdom of God.

32 For Iohn came vnto you in the way of righteousnes, and ye beleued him not: but the Publicans, and the harlots beleued him, and ye, though ye sawe it, were not moued with repentance afterwarde, that ye might beleue him.

33 ¶ I ceare another parable. There was a vineyarder, which planted a vineyard, and hedged it rounde about, and made a winepresse there in, and built a towre, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a strange countrey.

34 And when the tyme of the fruite drew nere, he sent his seruants to the husbandmen to receiue the frutes thereof.

35 And the husbandmen tooke his seruants and beat one, and killed another, and stoned another.

36 Again he sent other seruantes, moore then the first: and they did the like vnto them.

37 But last of all he sent vnto them his owne sonne, saying, They will reuerence my sonne.

38 But when the husbandmen sawe the sonne, they saide among them selves, * This is his heire: come, let vs kill him, and let vs take his inheritance. So they tooke him, and cast him out of the vineyard, and stowe him.

40 When therefore the Lord of the vineyard shall come, what will he doe to those husbandmen?

41 They saide vnto him, He will cruelly destroy those wicked men, and will let out his vineyard vnto other husbandmen, which shall deliuer him the frutes in their seasons.

42 Iesus saide vnto them, Read ye neuer in the Scriptures, * The stone which the builders refused, this is made the head of the corner? This was the Lords doing, and it is marueilous in our eyes.

43 Therefore say I vnto you, the kingdom of God shall be taken from you, & shall be given to a nation, which shall bring forth the frutes thereof.

44 * And whosoever shall fall on this stone, he shall be broken: but on whonnes soeuer it shall fall, it will grinde him to powder.

45 And when the chiefe Priestes & Pharises had heard his parables, they persecuted him because he spake of them.

46 And they seeking to lay hands on him, feared the people, because they tooke him as a Prophet.

Luke 14. 16.
rom. 19. 9.

1 Then ^a Jesus answered, and spake unto them againe in parables, saying,

2 The kingdome of heauen is like vnto a certaine King which married his sonne,

3 And ^a sent forth his seruantes, to call them that were bid to the wedding, but they would not come.

4 Againe he sent forth other seruantes, saying, Tell them which are biddē, ^b See hold, I haue prepared my dinner: mine oxe and my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready: come vnto the marriage.

5 But they made light of it, & went their wayes, one to his ferme, and another about his marchandise.

6 And the remnant tooke his seruantes, & intreated them harshly, and slew the.

7 But when the King heard it, hee was wroth, and sent forth his warriers, and ^b bestrope those murderers, and burnt by their cite.

8 Then said he to his seruantes, Truly ^d wedding is prepared: but they which were bidden, were not worthy.

9 So hee therefore out into the wayes, and as many as hee finde, bidde them to the marriage.

10 So ^a those seruantes went out into the wayes & gathered together all that euer they founde, both ^d good and bad: so the wedding was furnished with ghestes.

11 Then the King came in, to see ^d ghestes, and sawe there a man which had not on a ^a wedding garment.

12 And hee said vnto him, Friende, howe ^a camest thou in hither, and hast not on a wedding garment? And hee was speechles.

13 Then saide the King to the seruantes, Binde him hand and foote: take him as way, and cast him into vnter darkenes: ^a there shall hee weeping and gnashing of teeth.

14 ^a For many are called, but few chosen.

15 ^a Then went the Pharisees and tooke counsell howe they might tangle him in talke.

16 And they sent vnto him their disciples with the ^b Herodians, saying, Master, we knowe that thou art true, and reaschest the way of God truly, neither carest thou for any man: for thou considerest not the ^d person of men.

17 Tell vs therefore, howe thinkest thou? Is it lawfull to giue tribute vnto Cesar, or not?

18 But Jesus perceived their wickednesse, and said, Why tempt ye me, ye hypocrites?

19 Shewe me the ^a tribute money. And they consented, thinking to intangle Christ, and so eyther to accuse him of treason, or to bring him into the hatred of all his people.

20 ^a As touching the outward qualitie, as whether a man be riche or poore. ^a Or, the coyne of the trilwe.

they brought him a ^a penny.

20 And he said vnto them, Whose is this image and superscription?

21 They saide vnto him, Cæsars. Then saide he vnto them, ^a Giue therefore to Cesar, the things which are Cæsars, and giue vnto God, those things which are Gods.

22 And when they hearde it, they marvelled, and left him, and went they way.

23 ^a The same day the Sadduces came to him (which sape that there is no resurrection) and asked him,

24 Saying, Master, ^a Moses said, If a man die, hauing no ^a children, let his brother ^a marrie his wife, and raise vp seede vnto his brother.

25 Nowe there were with vs seuen brethren, and the first married a wife, & deceased: and hauing no issue, left his wife vnto his brother.

26 Likewise also the second, & the thirde, vnto the seuenth.

27 And last of all the woman died also.

28 Therefore in the resurrection, whose wife shall she be of the euen? for all had her.

29 Then Jesus answered, and saide vnto them, Ye ^a are deceiued, not knowing the Scriptures, nor the power of God.

30 For in the resurrection they neither marry wiuues, nor wiuues are bestowed in marriage, but are as the ^a Angels of God in heauen.

31 And concerning the resurrection of the dead, haue ye not read what is spoken vnto pou of God, saying,

32 ^a I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? God is not the God of the dead, but of the liuing.

33 And when the people hearde it, they were astonied at his doctrine.

34 ^a But when the Pharisees had heard, that he had put the Sadduces to silence, they assembled together.

35 And one of them, which was an errouer of the Lawe, asked him a question, tempting him, and saying,

36 Master, which is the great commandment in the Lawe?

37 Jesus said to him, ^a Thou shalt loue the Lord thy God with all thine heart, with all thy soule, and with all thy minde.

38 This is the first and the great commandment.

39 And the seconde is like vnto this, ^a Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe.

40 On these two commandmentes hangeth the whole Law and the Prophesies.

41 ^a While the Pharisees were gathered together, Jesus asked them, 42 Saying, What thinke ye of Christ? whose ^a sonne is he? They saide vnto him, Dauid.

Verely I say vnto you, there shal not be here left a stone vpon a stone, that shal not be cast downe. 3 And as he saie vpon the mount of Olives, his disciples came vnto him as part, saying, Tel vs when these things shalbe, & what signe shalbe of thy coming, and of the ende of the world. 4 And Iesus answered, and saide vnto them, Take heede that no man deceiue you. 5 For many shal come in my name, saying, I am Christ, & shall deceiue many. 6 And ye shal heare of warres, and rumors of warres: see that ye be not troubled: for al these things must come to passe: but the ende is not yet. 7 For nation shal rise against nation, and realme against realme, and there shalbe pestillence, and famine, & earthquakes in diuers places. 8 All these are but the beginning of sorowes. 9 When shall they deliuer you vp to be afflicted, and shal kill you, and ye shalbe hated of all nations for my names sake. 10 And then shall many be offended, and shal betrap one another, and shal hate one another. 11 And many false Prophets shall arise, and shal deceiue many. 12 And because iniquitie shalbe increased, the loue of many shalbe cold. 13 But he that endureth to the ende, he shalbe saued. 14 And this Gospel of the kingdome shal be preached through the whole world, to a witnesse vnto al nations, and then shal the ende come. 15 When shall ye therefore see the abomination of desolation (spoken of by Daniel the Prophet, standing in the holy place, (let him that readeth, consider it.)) 16 Then let them which be in Judea, flee into the mountaines. 17 Let him which is on the house top, not come downe to fetch any thing out of his house. 18 And he that is in the fiede, let not him returne backe to fetch his clothes. 19 And wo shalbe to them that are with childe, and to them that giue sucke in those dayes. 20 But pray that your flight be not in the winter, neither on þe Sabbath day. 21 For then shalbe great tribulation, such as was not from the beginning of the world to this time, nor shalbe. 22 And except those dayes shoude be shortened, there shoude no flesh be saued: but for the elects sake those daies shal be shortened. 23 When if any shall say vnto you, Lo, here is Christ, or there, believe it not. 24 For there shal arise false Christs, and false Prophets, and shal shewe great signes and wonders, so that if it were possible, they shoude deceiue the very elect. 25 Behold, I haue tolde you before. 26 Wherefore if they shall say vnto you, Beholde, he is in the desert, go not forth: Beholde, he is in the secret places, believe it not. 27 For as the lightning cometh out of the East, and shineth into the West, so shal also the coming of the Sonne of man be. 28 For where soeuer a dead carke is, thither wil the Egles resort. 29 And immediately after the tribulations of those dayes, shall the sunne be darkened, and the moone shal not

CHAP. XXV.

1 By the similitude of the virgins Iesus teacheth euery man to walche. 12 And by the talentes to be diligent. 31 The last iudgement. 32 The sheepe and the goats. 35 The workes of the faithfull.

1 ¶ When the kingdome of heauen shall be likened vnto ten virgins, which tooke their lampes, & went to meete the bridegrome.

2 And five of them were wise, and five foolish.

3 The foolish tooke their lampes, but tooke none oyle with them.

4 But the wise tooke oyle in their vessels with their lampes.

5 Now while the bridegrome taried long, all slumbered and slept.

6 And at midnight there was a cry made, beholde, the bridegrome cometh: goe out to meete him.

7 Then all those virgins arofe, and trimmed their lampes.

8 And the foolish said to the wise, Giue vs of your oyle, for our lampes are out.

9 But the wise answered, saying, We feare lest there will not be enough for vs and you: but goe you rather to them that sel, and bide for your selues.

10 And while they went to bide, the bridegrome came: and they that were ready, went in with him: to the wedding, and the gate was shut.

11 Afterwardes came also the other virgins, saying, Lord, Lord, open to vs.

12 But he answered, and said, Verely I say vnto you, I knowe you not.

13 ¶ Watch therefore, for ye knowe neither the day, nor the houre, when the Sonne of man wil come.

14 ¶ For the kyngdome of heauen is as a man that going into a strange countrey, called his seruantes, and deliuered to them his goodes.

15 And vnto one he gaue five talentes, and to another two, & to another one, to euery man after his owne habilitie, and straightway went from home.

16 ¶ Then he that had receiued the five talentes, went and occupied with them, & gauned other five talentes.

17 Likewise also, he that receiued two, he also gauned other two.

18 But he that receiued that one, went and digged in the earth, and hid his masters money.

19 But after a long season, the master of those seruantes came, and reckoned with them.

20 ¶ Then came he that had receiued five talentes, and brought other five talentes, saying, Master, thou deliuerest vnto me five talentes: behold, I haue gauned with them other five talentes.

a This similitude teacheth vs, that it is not sufficient to haue once giuen our feltes to follow Christ, but that we must continue.

 g Euery talent commonly made three score pound, reade chap. 18. 24.

Or, made.

21 When his master said vnto him, It is well done good seruant and faithfull, Thou hast bene faithful in litle, I will make thee ruler ouer much: ^b enter in into thy masters ioye.

22 Also he that had receiued two talents, came and saide, Master, thou deliues redit vnto me two talents: behold, I haue gained two other talents with them.

23 His master saide vnto him, It is well done good seruant, and faithfull, Thou hast bene faithful in litle, I will make thee ruler ouer much: enter in into thy masters ioye.

24 Then he which had receiued the one talent, came and said, Master, I knewe that thou wast an harde man, which reapest where thou sowedst not, and gatherest where thou strawedst not:

25 I was therefore afraid, and went and hid thy talent in the earth: behold, thou hast thine owne.

26 And his master answered, and saide vnto him, Thou euil seruant and fothfull, thou knowest that I reape where I sowed not, & gather where I strawed not.

27 Thou oughtest therefore to haue put my money to the exchangers, and then at my coming should I haue receyued myrie owne with bantage.

28 Take therefore the talent from him, and giue it vnto him which hath ten talents.

29 * For vnto euery man that hath, it shall be giuen, and he shall haue abundance, and from him that hath not, esuen that he hath, shall be taken away.

30 Cast therefore that vnprofitable seruant into utter * darkness: there shall be weeping, and gnashing of teeth.

31 And when the Sonne of man cometh in his glory, and all the holy Angels with him, then shall he sit vpon the throne of his glory.

32 And before him shall be gathered all nations, and he shall separate them one from another, as a shepheard separateth the sheepe from the goates.

33 And he shall set the sheepe on his right hand, and the goates on the left.

34 Then shall the king say to them on his right: inherit ye the kingdome prepared for you from the foundations of the world.

35 * For I was an hungred, and ye gaue me meate: I thirsted, and ye gaue me drinke: I was a stranger, and ye lodged me:

36 I was naked, and ye clothed me: I was * sicke, and ye visited me: I was in prison, and ye came vnto me.

37 Then shall the righteous answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee an hungred, and fed thee? or a thirst, and gaue thee drinke?

38 And when saw we thee a stranger, and lodged thee? or naked, and clothed thee?

39 And when saw we thee sicke, or in prison, and came vnto thee?
