2 And he cried against the altar by the commandment of the Lorde, and saide, O altar, altar, thus saith the Lorde, Beholde, a childe shall be borne unto the house of David, * Josiah by name, and upon thee shall he sacrifice the Priests of the his places that burne incense upon thee, and they shall burne mens bones upon thee.

3 And he gave a signe the same time, saying, This is the signe, that the Lorde hath spoken, Beholde, the altar shall rent, and the ashes that are upon it, shall fall out.

4 And when the King had heard the saying of the man of God, which he had cried against the altar in Beth-el, Jeroboam stretched out his hand from the altar, saying, Lay hold on him: but his hand which he put forth against him, dried by, and he could not pull it in againe to him.

5 The altar also clave asunder, and the ashes fell out from the altar, according to the signe, which the man of God had given by the commandment of the Lorde.

6 Then the King answered, & said unto a man of God, I beseech thee, pray unto the Lord, that my hand may be restored unto me, and I will give thee silver, as much as thou shalt aske.

7 And the man of God answered, & saide, If I have deceived thee, let a lion kill me: but if I have not deceived thee, let my hand be restored unto me, and I will give thee silver, as much as thou shalt aske.

8 And he prayed for him, and his hand was restored unto him, as he had said.

9 ¶ And Jeroboam was not turned from his sinne: he remained in the same, and he built an altar in Beth-el, and he offered incense upon the altar, as he had done in Dan.

10 ¶ And the man of God stood by the altar, and said, Beholde, the altar shall be rent, and the ashes shall fall out, and thou shalt burne mens bones upon thee.

11 And he gave a signe, that the Lorde hath spoken, Beholde, the altar shall rent, and the ashes that are upon it, shall fall out.

12 And when the King had heard the saying of the man of God, which he had cried against the altar in Beth-el, Jeroboam stretched out his hand from the altar, saying, Lay hold on him: but his hand which he put forth against him, dried by, and he could not pull it in againe to him.

14 Then the King answered, & said unto a man of God, I beseech thee, pray unto the Lord, that my hand may be restored unto me, and I will give thee silver, as much as thou shalt aske.

15 And the man of God answered, & saide, If I have deceived thee, let a lion kill me: but if I have not deceived thee, let my hand be restored unto me, and I will give thee silver, as much as thou shalt aske.

17 ¶ And Jeroboam was not turned from his sinne: he remained in the same, and he built an altar in Beth-el, and he offered incense upon the altar, as he had done in Dan.

18 ¶ And the man of God stood by the altar, and said, Beholde, the altar shall be rent, and the ashes shall fall out, and thou shalt burne mens bones upon thee.

19 And he gave a signe, that the Lorde hath spoken, Beholde, the altar shall rent, and the ashes that are upon it, shall fall out.

20 And when the King had heard the saying of the man of God, which he had cried against the altar in Beth-el, Jeroboam stretched out his hand from the altar, saying, Lay hold on him: but his hand which he put forth against him, dried by, and he could not pull it in againe to him.

21 The altar also clave asunder, and the ashes fell out from the altar, according to the signe, which the man of God had given by the commandment of the Lorde.

22 Then the King answered, & said unto a man of God, I beseech thee, pray unto the Lord, that my hand may be restored unto me, and I will give thee silver, as much as thou shalt aske.

23 And the man of God answered, & saide, If I have deceived thee, let a lion kill me: but if I have not deceived thee, let my hand be restored unto me, and I will give thee silver, as much as thou shalt aske.

25 ¶ And Jeroboam was not turned from his sinne: he remained in the same, and he built an altar in Beth-el, and he offered incense upon the altar, as he had done in Dan.

pray vnto the Lord thy God, and make intercession for me, that mine hand may be restored vnto me. And the man of God besought the Lord, and the kings hand was restored, and became as it was afore.

7 Then the King saide vnto the man of God, Come home with me, that thou maest dine, and I will giue thee a reward.

8 But the man of God saide vnto the King, If thou wouldest giue me halfe thine house, I would not goe in with thee, neither would I eate bread nor drinke water in this place.

9 For so was it charged me by þ word of the Lord, saying, Eat no bread nor drinke water, nor turne againe by the same way that thou camest.

10 So he went another way and returned not by the way that he came to Beth-el.

11 ¶ And an old Prophet dwelt in Beth-el, and his sonnes came, and tolde him all the workes, that the man of God had done that day in Beth-el, and the wordes which he had spoken vnto the King, told they their father.

12 And their father said vnto the, What way went he? and his sonnes shewed him what way the man of God went, which came from Judah.

13 And he saide vnto his sonnes, Saddle me the asse. Who saddled him the asse, and he rode threcon, 14 And went after the man of God, and found him sitting vnder an oke: and he saide vnto him, Art thou the man of God that camest from Judah? And he said, Yea.

15 Then he said vnto him, Come home with me, and eate bread.

16 But he answered, I may not returne with thee, nor goe in with thee, neither wil I eate bread nor drinke water with thee in this place.

17 For it was charged me by the word of the Lord, saying, Thou shalt eate no bread, nor drinke water there, nor turne againe to goe by the way that thou wentest.

18 And he saide vnto him, I am a Prophet also as thou art, and an Angel spake vnto me by the word of the Lord, saying, Bring him againe with thee into thine house, that he may eate bread and drinke water: but he lied vnto him.

19 So he went againe with him, and did eate bread in his house, and dranke water.

20 And as they sat at the table, the word of the Lord came vnto þ Prophet, that brought him againe.

21 And he cried vnto the man of God that came from Judah, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Because thou hast disobeyed the mouth of the Lord, and hast not kept the commandment which the Lord thy God commanded thee,

22 But camest backe againe; and hast eaten bread and drinke water in the place (wherof he did say vnto thee, Thou shalt eate no bread nor drinke as ny water) thy carkeis shall not come vnto the sepulchre of thy fathers.

23 ¶ And when he had eaten bread and drinke, he saddled him the asse, to wit, to the Prophet whom he had brought as gaine.

24 And when he was gone, a lion met him by the way, and slewe him, and his body was cast in the way, and the asse stoode there by: the lion stood by the corps also.

25 And behold, men that passed by, sawe the carkeis cast in þ way, and the lion standing by the corps: and they came and told it in the towne where the olde Prophet dwelt.

26 And when the Prophet, that brought him backe againe from the way, heard thereof, he saide, It is the man of God, who hath bene disobedient vnto the commandment of the Lord: therefore the Lord hath deliuered him vnto the lion, which hath rent him and slaine him, according to the word of the Lord, which he spake vnto him.

27 ¶ And he spake to his sonnes, saying, Saddle me the asse. And they saddled him.

28 And he went and found his body cast in the way, and the asse and the lion stoode by the corps: and the lion had not eaten the body, nor torne the asse.

29 And the Prophet took by the body of the man of God, and laid it vpon the asse, and brought it againe, and the olde Prophet came to the citie, to lament and burie him.

30 And he laid his body in his owne graue, and they lamented ouer him, saying, Alas, my brother.

31 And when he had buried him, he spake to his sonnes, saying, Whe I am dead, burie ye me also in þ sepulchre, wherein þ man of God is buried: lay my bones beside his bones.

32 For that thing which he cried by the word of the Lord against the altar that is in Beth-el, and against all the houles of the hie places, which are in the citie of Samaria, shall surely come to passe.

33 Howbeit, after this, Jeroboam converted not from his wicked way, but turned againe, and made of the lowest of the people Priests of the hie places. Who would, might consecrate him selfe, and be of the Priests of the hie places.

34 And this thing tooke to him vnto the house of Jeroboam, euen to roote it out, and destrop it from the face of the earth.

Abiam reigneth ouer Iudah. 9 Afa succedeth in his reime. 16 The battell betwene Afa and Baasha. 24 Jehoshaphat succedeth Afa. 25 Nabab succedeth Jeroboam. 28 Baasha killeth Nadab.

1 A D in the eightene peece of King Jeroboam the sonne of Nebat, reigned Abiam ouer Iudah. 2 Thrice peece reigned he in Jerusalem, and his mothers name was Maachah the daughter of Abihailom. 3 And he walked in all the finnes of his father, which he had done before him: and his heart was not perfect with the Lord his God as the heart of Dauid his father. 4 But for Dauids sake did the Lorde his God giue him a light in Jerusalem, and set by his sonne after him, & established Jerusalem. 5 Because Dauid did that which was right in the sight of the Lorde, and turned from nothing that he commanded him, all the dayes of his life, I saue only in the matter of Uriah the Hittite. 6 And there was warre betwene Rehoboam & Jeroboam as long as he liued. 7 The rest also of the actes of Abiam, & all that he did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of Kings of Iudah? there was also warre betwene Abiam, and Jeroboam. 8 And Abiam slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the cite of Dauid: and Afa his sonne reigned in his stead. 9 I in the twentie peece of Jeroboam King of Israel reigned Afa ouer Iudah. 10 He reigned in Jerusalem one & fourtie peece, & his mothers name was Maachah the daughter of Abihailom. 11 And Afa did right in the eyes of the Lord, as did Dauid his father. 12 And he tooke away the Sodomites out of the lande, and put away all the idoles that his fathers had made. 13 And he put downe Maachah his mother also from her estate, because she had made an idole in a groue: and Afa destroyed her idoles, and burnt them by the brooke Kidron. 14 But they put not downe the hic places. Nevertheless Afas heart was wright with the Lord all his dayes. 15 Also he brought in the holie vessels of his father, and the thinges that he had dedicated unto the house of the Lorde, silver, and gold and vessels. 16 And there was warre betwene Afa

& Baasha King of Israel at their daies. 17 Then Baasha King of Israel went by againt Iudah, and built Ramah, so that he would let none goe out of into Afa King of Iudah. 18 Then Afa tooke all the silver and the golde that was left in the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the Kings house, and deliuered them into the handes of his seruantes, and King Afa left them to Ben-hadad the sonne of Tabmon, the sonne of Hesi on King of Aram that dwelt at Damascus, saying,

19 There is a couenant betwene me and thee, and betwene my father and thy father: beholde, I haue sent unto thee a present of silver and gold: come, breake the couenant with Baasha King of Israel, that he may depart from me. 20 So Ben-hadad hearkened unto King Afa, & sent the captaines of the hostes, which he had againt the cities of Israel, and smote Jon, and Dan, and Adel-beth-maachah, and all Cinneroth, with all the lande of Naphtali. 21 And when Baasha heard thereof, he left building of Ramah, and dwelt in Tirzah. 22 Then King Afa assembled all Iudah, none excepted, and they tooke stones of Ramah, & the timber thereof, wherewith Baasha had built, and King Afa built with them Geba of Benjamin and Mizpah. 23 And the rest of all the actes of Afa, and all his might and al that he did, and the cities which he built, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iudah? but in his old age he was diseased in his feete. 24 And Afa slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the cite of Dauid his father. And Jehoshaphat his sonne reigned in his stead. 25 And Nabab the sonne of Jeroboam began to reigne ouer Israel the seconde peece of Afa King of Iudah, and reigned ouer Israel two peece. 26 And he did euil in the sight of the Lord, walking in the way of his father, and in his sinne wherewith he made Israel to sinne. 27 And Baasha the sonne of Ahiah of the house of Issachar conspired againt him, and Baasha slew him at Gibbethon, which belinged to the Philistins: for Nabab and al Israel laid siege to Gibbethon. 28 Euen in the third peece of Afa King of Iudah did Baasha slay him, and reigned in his stead. 29 And when he was King, he smote al the house of Jeroboam, he left none as hue to Jeroboam, until he had destroyed him, according to the word of the Lord which he spake by his seruant Ahiah the Shilonite. 30 Because of the finnes of Jeroboam which he committed, and wherewith he made

CHAP. XVI.

1 Of Baasha, 6 Elah, 9 Zimri, 10 Omri. 31 Ahab married Iezabel. 34 Jericho is built againe.

1 Then the word of the Lord came to Jehu the sonne of Hanani against Baasha, saying,

2 \bar{a} Forasmuch as I exalted thee out of the dust, and made thee captaine ouer my people Israel, & thou hast walked in the way of Ieroboam, and hast made my people Israel to sinne, to prouoke me with their sinnes,

3 Beholde, I will take away the posteritie of Baasha, and the posteritie of his house, and will make \bar{b} thine house like the * house of Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat.

4 * Ye that dreth of Baashas stocke in the citie, him shall the dogges eate: and that man of him which dieth in the feldes, shall the foules of the aire eate.

5 And the rest of \bar{h} actes of Baasha and what he did, and his¹ power, are they not written in the booke of the * Chronicles of the kinges of Israel?

6 So Baasha slept with his fathers, and was buried in Tirzah, and Elah his sonne reigned in his steade.

7 And \bar{c} also by the hand of Jehu \bar{h} sonne of Hanani the Prophet, came the word of the Lord to Baasha, \bar{e} to his house, that he should be like the house of Ieroboam, euen for all the wickednesse that he did in the sight of the Lord, in prouoking him with the worke of his hands, and because he killed \bar{d} him.

8 \bar{q} In the five and twentie yeere of Asa king of Iudah began Elah the sonne of Baasha to reigne ouer Israel in Tirzah, and reigned two yeere.

9 And his seruant Zimri, captaine of halfe his charrets, conspired against him, as he was in Tirzah drinking, till he was drunken in the haule of \bar{e} Arza stuarde of his house in Tirzah.

10 And Zimri came and smote him and killed him in the seven & twentie yeere of Asa king of Iudah, and reigned in his steade.

11 \bar{q} And when he was king, and sat on his throne, he slew all the house of Baasha, not leauing thereof one to pisse against a wall, neither of his kinfolkes nor of his friends.

12 So did Zimri destroy all the house of Baasha, according to the word of the Lord, which he spake against Baasha by the hand of Jehu the \bar{f} Prophet.

13 For all the sinnes of Baasha, & sinnes of Elah his sonne, which they smied and made Israel to sinne, and prouoked the Lord \bar{g} D D of Israel with their vanities.

14 And the rest of the actes of Elah, and all that he did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of \bar{h} kinges of Israel?

15 \bar{q} In the seven and twentie yeere of Asa king of Iudah did Zimri reigne seven daies in Tirzah, & the people was then in campe \bar{s} against Gibbethon, which belonged to the \bar{i} Philistines.

16 And the people of the hoste heard say, Zimri hath conspired, and hath also slaine the king. Wherefore all Israel made Omri the captaine of the hoste, king ouer Israel that same day, euen in the hoste.

17 Then Omri went by fr \bar{o} Gibbethon, and all Israel with him, and they besieged \bar{h} Tirzah.

18 And when Zimri sawe, that the citie was taken, he went into the palace of the kinges house, and burnt him selfe, and the kinges house with fire, and so died.

19 For his sinnes which he smied, in doing that which is euil in the sight of the Lord, in walking in the way of Ieroboam, & in his sinnes which he did, causing Israel to sinne.

20 And the rest of the actes of Zimri, and his reason that he wrought, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kinges of Israel?

21 Then were the people of Israel deuided into two partes: for halfe the people followed Tibni the sonne of Omri to make him king, and the other halfe followed Omri.

22 But the people that followed Omri, prevailed against the people that followed Tibni the sonne of Omri: so Tibni died, and Omri reigned.

23 In the one and thirtie yeere of Asa king of Iudah began Omri to reigne ouer Israel, and reigned twelue yeere. Sixe yeere reigned he in Tirzah.

24 And he bought the mountaine \bar{h} Samaria of one Shemer for two talents of siluer, and built in the mountaine, and called the name of the citie, which he built, after the name of Shemer, lord of the mountaine, Samaria.

25 But Omri did euill in the eyes of the Lord, and did \bar{k} worse then all that were before him.

26 For he walked in all the way of Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat, and in his sinnes wherewith he made Israel to sinne in prouoking the Lord God of Israel with their vanities.

 29 Now Abab the sonne of Omri began to reigne ouer Israel, in the eight and thirtieth yeere of Aſa King of Iudah: and Abab the sonne of Omri reigned ouer Israel in Samaria two & twenty yeere.
 30 And Abab his sonne of Omri did worse in the sight of the Lord then all that were before him.
 31 For was it a light thing for him to walke in the finnes of Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat, except he tooke Jezebel also the daughter of Eth-baal King of the Zidonians to his wife, and went and serued Baal, and worshipped him?
 32 Also he reared vp an altar to Baal in the house of Baal, which he had built in Samaria.
 33 And Abab made a groue, and Abab proceeded, and did provoke the Lord God of Israel more then all the Kings of Israel that were before him.

Elijah forewarneth of the famine to come. 4 He is sed of rauens. 9 He is sent to Zarephath, where he refresheth his wife's sonne to life.
 1 AND ELIJAH the Tishbite one of the inhabitants of Gilead saide vnto Abab, * As the Lord God of Israel liueth, before whom I stand, there shall be neither dewe nor raine these yeeres, but according to my word.
 2 ¶ And the word of the Lord came vnto him, saying,
 3 Go hence, and turne thee Eastward, and hide thy selfe in the riuer Cherith, that is ouer against Iorden,
 4 And thou shalt drinke of the riuer: and I haue commanded the rauens to feede thee there.
 5 So he went and did according vnto the worde of the Lord: for he went, and remained by the riuer Cherith that is ouer against Iorden.
 6 And the rauens brought him bread and fleshe in the morning, and bread and fleshe in the evening, and he dranke of the riuer.
 7 And after a while, the riuer dried vp, because there fell no raine vpon the earth.
 8 ¶ And the word of the Lord came vnto him, saying, 9 ¶ Wp, and get thee to Zarephath, which is in Zidon, and remaine there: behold, I haue commanded a widow there to sustaine thee, 10 So he arose, and went to Zarephath: and when he came to the gate of the cite, behold, the widow was there gathering stickes: and he called her, and saide, Bring me, I pray thee, a little water in a vessel, that I may drinke.

 11 And as he was going to fet it, he called to her, and saide, Bring me, I pray thee, a morsell of bread in thine hand.
 12 And she saide, As the Lord thy God liueth, I haue not a cake, but euen an handful of meale in a barrell, and a little ople in a cruse: and behold, I am gathering a fewe stickes for to goe in, and disse it for me and my sonne, that we may eate it, and die.
 13 And Elijah saide vnto her, Feare not, come, doe as thou hast saide, but make me thereof a little cake first of all, and bring it vnto me, and afterward make for thee, and thy sonne.
 14 For thus saith the Lord God of Israel, The meale in the barrell shall not be wasted, neither shall the ople in the cruse be diminished, vnto the tyme that the Loide send raine vpon the earth.
 15 So he went, & did as Elijah said, and she did eate: so did he and her house for a certaine tyme.
 16 The barrell of the meale wasted not, nor the ople was spent out of the cruse, according to the worde of the Loide, which he spake by the hande of Elijah.
 17 ¶ And after these things, the sonne of the wife of the house fell sicke, and his sicknesse was so sore, that there was no breath left in him.
 18 And she laid vnto Elijah, What haue I to do with thee, O thou man of God: art thou come vnto me to call my sinne to remembrance, and to slaye my sonne?
 19 And he saide vnto her, Crie me thy sonne, and he tooke him out of her bosome, and caried him by into a chamber, where he abode, and laid him vpon his bed.
 20 Then he called vnto the Loide, & saide, O Lord my God, hast thou punished also this widow, with whom I is iourne, by killing her sonne?
 21 And he stretched him selfe vpon the childe three times, and called vnto the Loide, and said, O Lord my God, I pray thee, let this childes soule come into him againe.
 22 Then the Loide heard the voyce of Elijah, and the soule of the childe came into him againe, and he reuiued.
 23 And Elijah tooke the childe, and brought him downe out of the chamber into the house, and deliuered him vnto his mother, and Elijah saide, Behold, thy sonne liueth.

a Eliah is sent to Ahab. 13 Obadiah hideth an hundred Prophetes. 40 Eliah killeth all Baals prophetes. 45 He obtayneth raine.

1 After many daies, the word of the Lord came to Eliah, in the thirde yeer, saying, So, thou thy self vnto Ahab, & I will send raine vpon thy earth.

2 And Eliah went to shewe him self vnto Ahab, and there was a great faunne in Samaria.

3 And Ahab called Obadiah the gouernour of his house: (and Obadiah feared God greatly;

4 for when Isebel destroyed the Prophets of the Lozde, Obadiah tooke an hundred Prophetes, and hid them, by fittie in a caue, and he fed them w bread and water.)

5 And Ahab said vnto Obadiah, Go into the land, vnto all the fountaines of water, and vnto all the riuers, if so be that we may finde graffe to saue the horses and the mules aloue, lest we be ynnu the lande of the beastes.

6 And so they deuided the land betweene them to walke through it. Ahab went one way by him selfe, and Obadiah wet another way by him selfe.

7 And as Obadiah was in the way, beholde, Eliah met him: and he knewe him, and fell on his face, and saide, Art not thou my lord Eliah?

8 And he answered him, Yea, go tell thy lord, beholde, Eliah is here.

9 And he said, What haue I sinned, that thou wouldest deliuer thy seruant into the hand of Ahab, to slay me?

10 As the Lozde thy God liueth, there is no nation or kingdome, whither my lord hath not sent to seeke thee: and wher they said, He is not here, he toke an oth of the kingdome and natio, if they had not found thee.

11 And now thou saist, Go, tell thy lozde, beholde, Eliah is here.

12 And when I am gone from thee, the Spirit of the Lozde shall carie thee into some place that I do not knowe: so wher I come and tel Ahab, if he cannot finde thee, then will he kil me: But I thy seruant feare the Lozde from my mouth.

13 Was is not to be my lord, what I did when Isebel slew the Prophets of the Lozde, howe I hid an hundred men of the Lozdes prophets by fitties in a caue, and fed them with bread and water?

14 And nowe thou saiest, Goe, tell thy lozde, beholde, Eliah is here, that he may slay me.

15 And Eliah said vnto him, The Lozde of hostes liueth, before whom I stand, I will shewe my selfe vnto him this dap.

16 So Obadiah went to meeete Ahab, & told him: and Ahab went to meeete Eliah. 17 And when Ahab saue Eliah, Ahab said vnto him, Art thou he that troublest Israel?

18 And he answered, I haue not troubled Israel, but thou, & thy fathers house, in that ye haue forsaken the commandments of the Lozde, and thou hast followed Baalim.

19 Now therefore send, & gather to me all Israel vnto mount Carmel, & the prophets of Baal foure hundred, & fittie, and the prophets of the groues foure hundred, which eat at Isebels table.

20 So Ahab sent vnto all the children of Israel, and gathered the prophets together vnto mount Carmel.

21 And Eliah came vnto all the people, and said, Howe long halt ye betweene two opinions: If the Lozde be God, followe him: but if Baal be he, then goe after him. And the people answered him not a word.

22 Then said Eliah vnto the people, I onely remaine a Prophet of the Lozde: but Baals prophets are foure hundred, and fittie men.

23 Let them therefore giue vs two bullockes, and let them chuse the one, and cut him in pieces, and lape him on the wood, but put no fire vnder, and I will prepare the other bullocke, and lap him on the wood, and wil put no fire vnder.

24 Then calle ye on the name of your god, and I will cal on the name of my Lozde: and then the God that answereth by fire, let him be God. And all the people answered, and said, It is wel spoken.

25 And Eliah said vnto the prophets of Baal, Crie vnto a bullocke, & prepare him selfe, (for ye are manie,) and call on the name of your gods, but put no fire vnder.

26 So they toke the one bullocke, that was giuen them, and they prepared it, and called on the name of Baal, from morning to noone, saying, O Baal, heare vs: but there was no voyce, nor any to answer: and they leapt vpon the altar that was made.

27 And at noone Eliah mocked them, & said, Crie loud: for he is a god: either he talketh, or pursueth his enemies, or is in his iourney, or it may be that he sleepe, and must be awaked.

28 And they cryed loud, and cut themselves as their manner was, w knives and lancetes, till the blood gushed out vpon them.

29 And when midday was passed, and they had prophesied vntill the offering of the evening sacrifice, there was no voyce, nor one to answer, nor any that regarded.

30 And Eliah sayde vnto all the people, Come to me. And al the people came to him. And he repaired the altar of the Lozde that was broken downe.

39 And when all the people sawe it, they fell on their faces, and said, The Lord is God, the Lord is God.

40 And Eliah said vnto them, Take the prophetes of Baal, let not a man of them escape. And they toke them, and Eliah brought them to the brooke Kishon, and slewe them there.

41 And Eliah saide vnto Whab, Set thee vp, eat and drinke, for there is a solid of much raine.

42 So Whab went vp to eate and to drinke, and Eliah went vp to the top of Carmel: and he crouched vnto the earth, and put his face betwene his knees.

43 And said to his seruant, Goe vp nowe and looke toward the way of the Sea. And he went vp, and looked, and sayde, There is nothing. Againe he saide, Go againe seuen times.

44 And at the seuenth time he saide, Behold, there ariseth a litle cloude out of the sea like a mans hand. Then he saide, Wp, and lay vnto Whab, Make ready thy chariot, and get thee downe, that the raine stoppeth not.

45 And in the meane while the heauen was blacke with cloudes and wunde, and there was a great raine. Then Whab went vp and came to Israel.

46 And the hande of the Lorde was on Eliah, and hee giued vp his lynes, and ranne before Whab till he came to Israel.

Eliah fleeing fro Izabel, is nourished by the Angel of God. ¹⁵ He is commaunded to anoint Hazael, Jehu, and Elisha.

1 Nowe Whab tolde Jezebel all that Eliah had done, and howe hee had slaine all the prophetes with the sword.

2 Then Jezebel sent a messenger vnto Eliah, saying, The gods do so to mee and more also, if I make not thy lye like one of their lies by to morow this time.

3 When he sawe that, he arose, and went for his life, and came to Beersheba, which is in Iudah, and left his seruant there.

4 But he went a dayes iourney into the wilderness, and came and sat downe vnder a iuniper tree, and desired that he might die, and said, It is nowe enough: O Lord, take my soule, for I am no better, then my fathers.

5 And as he lay and slept vnder the iuniper tree, behold now, an Angel touched him, and said vnto him, Wp, and eate.

6 And when he looked about, behold, there was a cake baked on the coles, & a pot of water at his head: so he did eate and drinke, and returned and slept.

7 And the Angel of the Lord came againe the second time, and touched him, and saide, Wp, and eate: for thou hast a great iourney.

8 When he arose, and did eate & drinke, & walked in the strength of that meate fourtie dayes and fourtie nights, vnto Horeb the mount of God.

9 And there he entred into a caue, and lodged there: and behold, the Lord spake to him, and said vnto him, What dost thou here, Eliah?

10 And he answered, I haue bene verie ielous for the Lord God of hostes: for the children of Israel haue forsaken thy covenant, broken downe thine altars, & slaine thy Prophets with the sword, & I only am left, and they seeke my life to take it away.

11 And he said, Come out, and stande by the mount before the Lord. And behold, the Lord went by; and a mightie strong winde rent the mountaines, and brake the rockes before the Lord: but the Lord was not in the winde: and after the wind came an earthquake: but the Lord was not in the earthquake.

12 And after the earthquake came fire: but the Lord was not in the fire: and after the fire came a still and soft voyce.

13 And when Eliah heard it, he covered his face with his mantell, and went out, and stood in the entring in of the caue: and beholde, there came a voyce vnto him, and saide, What dost thou here, Eliah?

14 And he answered, I haue bene verie ielous for the Lorde God of hostes, because the children of Israel haue forsaken

16 And Jehu the sonne of Hanani shall thou anoint king ouer Israel: Eliha

Eliha slay.

Eliha the sonne of Shaphat who was plowing with twelue poke of oren before him, and was with the twelue: and Eliha went towards him, and cast his mantel vpon him.

20 And he left the oren, and ran after Eliha, and saide, Let me, I praye thee, kisse my father and my mother, and then I wil follow thee. Who answered him, Goe, returne: for what haue I done to thee?

21 And when he went backe againe from him, he tooke a couple of oren, and slewe them, and sod their flesh with the ³ instruments of the oren, and gaue vnto rose and went after Eliha, and ministered vnto him.

CHAP. XX.

1 Samaria besieged. 12 The Lord promisseth the victory to Ahab by a Prophet. 31 The King of Israel made peace with Ben-hadad, and is repro-ued therefore by the Prophet.

1 Then Ben-hadad the king of ¹ Aram assembled all his armie, and two and thirtie ² kings with him, with horses, & charrets, & went by,
and besieged Samaria, & fought against it.

2 And he sent messengers to Ahab king of Israel into the cite,

3 And said vnto him, Thus saith Ben-hadad thy siluer and thy gold is mine:
also thy women, and thy faire children are mine.

4 And the king of Israel answered, and said, My lord the king, according to thy saying, ³ I am thine, & all that I haue.

5 And when the messengers came againe, they said, Thus commaundeth Ben-hadad, and saith, When I shall send vnto thee, and commaund, thou shalt deliuer me thy siluer and thy gold, and thy women, and thy children,

6 ¶ So els I wil send my seruants vnto thee by to morow this time: and they shall seatch thine house, and the houses of thy seruants: and whatsoener is pleasant in thine eyes, they shall take it in their hands, and bring it away.

7 Then the king of Israel sent for all the Elders of the lande, and saide, Take herde, I pray you, and see howe he seeketh mischief: for he sent vnto me for my women, and for my children, and for my siluer, and for my golde, and I denied him not.

8 And all the Elders, and all the people saide to him, Hearken ⁴ not vnto him, nor consent.

9 Wherefore he said vnto the messengers of Ben-hadad, Tel nip lord the king,
All that thou diddest send for to thy seruant at the first time, that I wil do, but this thing I may not doe. And the messengers departed, and brought him an answer.

10 And Ben-hadad sent vnto him, and said, The gods doe so to me and more also, if the dust of Samaria be enough to all the people that follow me, for eu-ry man an handful.

11 And the king of Israel answered, and said, Tel him, let not him that grideth his harness, boast him selfe, as he that putteth it of.

12 And when he heard that tidings, as he was with the kings drinking in the pavilions, he saide vnto his seruants,

¶ Being scorth your engines, and they let them against the cite.

13 ¶ And behold, there came a Prophet vnto Ahab king of Israel, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Hast thou seen all this great multitude? behold, I wil deliuer it into thine hand this day, that thou mayest know, & that I am the Lord.

14 And Ahab said, Whom? And he said, Thus saith the Lord, By the ser-uants of the princes of the prouinces.
He said againe, Who shall order the bat-tel? And he answered, Thou.

15 ¶ Then he nombred the seruants of the princes of the prouinces, & they were two hundred, two and thirtie: and after them he nombred the whole people of all the children of Israel, euen seuen thousand.

16 And they went out at noone: but Ben-hadad did drinke, till he was drunken, in the tents, both he and the kings:
for two and thirtie ranges helped him.

17 So the seruants of the princes of the prouinces went out first: & Ben-hadad sent out, and they shewed him, saying,
There are men come out of Samaria.

18 And he saide, Whether they be come out for peace, take them alive: or whether they be come out to fight, take them per alive.

19 So they came out of the cite, to wit, the seruants of the princes of the prouin-ces, and the host which followed them.

20 And they slewe euery one his ⁵ enimie: but Ben-hadad & Ahab pursued

21 And the King of Israel went out, and smote the horses and charrets, & with a great slaughter slewe he the Aramites.
 22 For there had come a Prophet to the King of Israel, and had sayd unto him, Goe, be of good courage, and consider, and take heede what thou doest: for when the yere is gone about, the King of Aram will come up against thee.
 23 ¶ Then the servants of the King of Aram saide unto him, Their gods are gods of the mountaines, and therefore they overcome us: but let us fight against them in the plaine, and doubtles we shall overcome them.
 24 And thus doe, Take the Kings away, every one out of his place, & place captives for them.
 25 And number thy selfe an armie, like the armie that thou hast lost, with such horses, and such charrets, and we will fight against them in the plaine, and doubtles we shall overcome them: and he hearkened unto their voyce, and did so.
 26 And after the yere was gone about, Ben-hadad nombred the Aramites, and went by to Wyhek to fight against Israel.
 27 And the children of Israel were nombred, and were all assembled and went against them, and the children of Israel pitched before them, like two little flocks of kiddes: but the Aramites filled the countrey.
 28 And there came a man of God, and spake unto the King of Israel, saying, Thus saeth the Lorde, Because the Aramites have said, The Lorde is the God of the mountaines, and not God of the valleys, therefore will I deliver al this great multitude into thine hande, and ye shall know that I am the Lorde.
 29 And they pitched one ouer against the other seven daies, and in the seventh day the battell was toped: and the children of Israel slewe of the Aramites an hundred thonsande footemen in one day.
 30 But the rest fled to Wyhek into the citie: and there sel a wall upon seven and twentie thousand men that were left: and Ben-hadad fled into the citie, and came into a secret chamber.

31 ¶ Then his servants said unto him, Beshold now, we have heard say, that the Kings of the house of Israel are mercifull Kings: we pray thee, let us put sackcloth about our waies, & ropes about our heads, & goe out to the King of Israel: it may be that he will give thy life.
 32 Then they girded sackcloth about their loynes, & put ropes about their heads, and came to the King of Israel, & sayd, Thy servant Ben-hadad saith, I pray thee, let me live: and he said, Is he yet alive? he is my brother.
 33 Showe the men toke diligent heede, if they could catche any thing of him, and made haste, and sayde, Thy brother

Ben-hadad. And he sayd, Goe, bring him. So Ben-hadad came out unto him, and he caused him to come by him to the charret.
 34 And Ben-hadad said unto him, The cities, which my father toke from thy father, I will restore, & thou shalt make streets for them in Samaria. Then saide Ahab, I will let thee goe with this covenant. So he made a covenant with him, and let him goe.
 35 ¶ Then a certaine man of the children of the Prophets saide unto his neighbour by the commandement of the Lorde, I smite me, I pray thee. But the man refused to smite him.
 36 Then said he unto him, Because thou hast not obeyed the voyce of the Lorde, beholde, as thou art departed from me, a lyon shall slaye thee. So when he was departed from him, a lyon found him and slewe him.
 37 Then he found another man, & sayde, Smite me, I pray thee. And the man smote him, & in smiting wounded him.
 38 So the Prophet departed, and waited for the King by the way, and disguised him selfe with ashes upon his face.
 39 And when the King came by, he cryed unto the King, and said, Thy servant went into the middes of the battel: and behold, there went away a man, whom another man brought unto me, and said, Keepe this man: if he be lost, and want, thy life shall goe for his life, or els thou shalt pay a talent of silver.
 40 And as the servant had here & there to doe, he was gone: and the King of Israel said unto him, So shalt thy iudgement be: thou hast given licence.
 41 And he hested, & toke the ashes away from his face: and the King of Israel knew him that he was of the Prophets:
 42 And he said unto him, Thus saith the Lorde, Because thou hast let goe out of thine hands a man whom I appointed to dye, thy life shall goe for his life, & thy people for his people.
 43 And the King of Israel went to his house heaunte and in displeasure, & came to Samaria.
 CHAP. XXI.
 1 Jezabel commandeth to kill Naboth, for the vineyardes, that he refused to sell Ahab, 19 Elijah reprooveth Ahab, and he repenteth.
 2 After these things Naboth the Jezreelite had a vinegarde in Israel, hard by the palace of Ahab King of Samaria.
 3 And Ahab spake unto Naboth, saying, Give me thy vinegarde, that I may make me a garden of herbes thereof, because it is nere by mine house: and I will give thee for it a better vinegarde then it is: or if it please thee, I will give thee the worth of it in money.
 4 And Naboth said to Ahab, The Lorde keppe me from giving the inheritance of my fathers unto thee.

p Or, and caught it of him.

4 Then Nab came into his house he and in displeasure, because of the word which Naboth the Jezreelite had spoken unto him, for he had said, I will not give thee the inheritance of my fathers, and he lay upon his bed & turned his face and would eate no bread.

5 Then Jezabel his wife came to him & said unto him, Why is thy spirit so sad that thou eatest no bread?

6 And he said unto her, Because I spake unto Naboth the Jezreelite, & said vnto him, Give me thy vineyard for money, or if it please thee, I will give thee another vineyard for it: but he answered, I will not give thee my vineyard.

7 Then Jezabel his wife said unto him, Doest thou now governe the kingdome of Israel? by, eat bread, and be of good cheere, I will give thee the vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite.

8 So she wrote letters in Naboths name, and sealed them with his seale, and sent the letters vnto the Elders, and to the nobles that were in his cite dwelling with Naboth.

9 And she wrote in the letters, saying, Proclaime a fast, and let Naboth among the chiefe of the people,

10 And let two wicked men before him, & let them witness against him, saying, Thou didest blasphemie God and the King: then carie him out, and stone him that he may die.

11 And the men of his cite, euen the Elders and gouernours, which dwelt in his cite, did as Jezabel had sent vnto them: as it was written in the letters, which she had sent vnto them.

12 They proclaimed a fast, and let Naboth among the chiefe of the people,

13 And there came two wicked men, and laid before him: & the wicked men witnessed against Naboth in the presence of the people, saying, Naboth did blaspheme God and the King. Then they caried him away out of the cite, & stoned him with stones, that he died.

14 Then they sent to Jezabel, saying, Naboth is stoned and is dead.

15 And when Jezabel hearde that Naboth was stoned & was dead, Jezabel said to Naboth, By, and take possession of the vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite, which he refused to give thee for money: for Naboth is not aliué, but is dead.

16 And when Naboth hearde that Naboth was dead, he rose to goe downe to the vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite, to take possession of it.

17 And the word of the Lord came vnto Elijah the Tishbite, saying,

18 Rise, goe downe to meete Naboth King of Israel, which is in Samaria, for he is in the vineyard of Naboth, whether he is come downe to take possion of it.

19 Therefore shalt thou sape vnto him, Thus saith the Lord, & what thou killedst, and also gotten possession? And thou shalt speake vnto him, saying, Thus saith the Lord, & In the place where he was buried, I will bring euill vpon thee, and will take away thy possession, & will cut off from Naboth him that purchaseth against the wall, about him that is shut up, as him that is left in Israel.

20 Behold, I will bring euill vpon thee, and will take away thy possession, & will cut off from Naboth him that purchaseth against the wall, about him that is shut up, as him that is left in Israel.

21 I will make thine house like the house of Jeroboan the sonne of Nebat, and like the house of Baasha the sonne of Ahiah, for the pronocation wherewith thou hast pronoked, & made Israel to sinne.

22 And also of Jezabel spake the Lord, saying, The dogs shall eate Jezabel, by the wall of Izeel.

23 The dogges shall eate him of Naboths stocke, that dyeth in the cite: and him that dieth in the fields, shall the foules of the aire eate.

24 But there was none like Naboth, who did set him selfe, to worke wickedness in the sight of the Lord: whome Jezabel his wife pronoked.

25 For he did exceeding abominably in following idoles, according to all that the Amouites did, whom the Lord cast out before the children of Israel.

26 Now when Naboth heard those words, he rent his clothes, and put sackcloth vpon him & fasted, and laye in lackes cloth and went to weep.

27 And the word of the Lord came to Elijah the Tishbite, saying,

28 Seeke thou how Naboth is humbled before me: because he submitted himselfe before me, I will not bring that euill in his dayes, but in his sonnes dayes will I bring euill vpon his house.

5 Then Jehohaphat said vnto the king of Israel, ^e Aske counsaile, I pray thee, of the Lord to day.

6 Then the king of Israel gathered the prophets vpon a foure hundred men, and said vnto them, Shall I goe against Ramoth Gilead to battell, or shall I let it alone? And they said, See by: for the Lord shall deliuer it into the hands of this king.

7 And Jehohaphat saide, Is there here neuer a Prophet of the Lords voice, that we might inquire of him?

8 And the king of Israel saide vnto Jehohaphat, There is yet one man (Michaiah the sonne of Iuiah) by whome we may aske counsell of the Lord, but I hate him: for he doeth not propheticke good vnto me, but euill. And Jehohaphat said, Let not the king say so.

9 Then the king of Israel called an Eumuche, and said, Call quickly Michaiah the sonne of Iuiah.

10 And the king of Israel & Jehohaphat the king of Iudah sate either of them on his thron in their apparell in the void place at the entering in of the gate of Samaria, and all the prophetes prophesied before them.

11 And Achiah the sonne of Chenaanah made him hornes of yron, & saide, Thus saith the Lord, With these shalt thou pulste the Aramites, vntill thou hast consumed them.

12 And all the prophetes prophesied so, saying, Go vp to Ramoth Gilead, and prosper: for the Lord shall deliuer it into the kings hand.

13 And the messenger that was gone to call Michaiah spake vnto him, saying, Behold now, the wordes of the prophetes declare good vnto the king with one accord: let thy word therefore, I praye thee, be like the woide of one of them, and I heare thou good.

14 And Michaiah sayde, As the Lord liueth, whatsoeuer the Lord sayeth vnto me, that will I speake.

15 So he came to the king, & the king said vnto him, Michaiah, shal we goe against Ramoth Gilead to battell, or shal we leaue of? And he answered him, Go vp, and prosper: and the Lord shal deliuer it into the hand of the king.

16 And the king said vnto him, Vowest thou I charge thee, that thou tell me nothing but that which is true in the Name of the Lord? -

17 Then he saide, I sawe al Israel scattered vpon the mountaynes, as sheepe that had no shepheard. And the Lord said, O these haue no maister, let euerie man returne vnto his house in peace. (And the king of Israel saide vnto Jehohaphat, Did I not tell thee, that he woulde propheticke no good vnto me, but euill?)

18 And the king of Israel saide vnto Jehohaphat, Did I not tell thee, that he woulde propheticke no good vnto me, but euill?)

19 Againe he saide, Heare thou therefore the word of the Lord. I sawe the Lord sit on his thron, and all the hostes of heauen stode about him on his right hand and on his left hand.

20 And the Lord saide, Who shall entise what that he may goe and fall at Ramoth Gilead? And one saide on this manner, & another saide on that manner.

21 Then there came forth a spirit, and stood before the Lord, and said, I will entise him. And the Lord said vnto him, Wherewith?

22 And he saide, I will goe out, and be a false spirit in the mouth of all his prophetes. Then he said, Thou shalt entise him, and shalt also preuaile: goe forth, and do so.

23 Now therefore behold, the Lord hath put a lying spirit in the mouth of all these thy prophetes, and the Lord hath appointed euill against thee.

24 Then Achiah the sonne of Chenaanah came nere and smote Michaiah on the cheek, and said, When went the Spirit of the Lord from me, to speake vnto thee?

25 And Michaiah saide, Beholde, I shalt see in that day, when thou shalt goe from chamber to chamber to hide thee.

26 And the king of Israel saide, Take Michaiah, and carie him vnto Ammon the gouernour of the citie, and vnto Joash the kings sonne, 27 And say, Thus saith the king, But this man in the pylon houle, & seeke him wth bread of affliction, and with water of affliction, vntill I returne in peace.

28 And Michaiah saide, If I returne in peace, the Lord hath not spoken by me. And he saide, Hearken al pe people.

29 So the king of Israel aid Jehohaphat the king of Iudah went vp to Ramoth Gilead.

THE SECOND BOOKE OF the Kings.

THE ARGUMENT.

This ſecond booke conteyneth the actes of the Kings of Iudah and Iſrael: to wit, of Iſrael, from the death of Ahab vnto the laſt King Hoſhea, who was imprifoned by the King of Aſſyria, and his cite Samaria taken, and the ten tribes by the juſt plague of God for their idolatrie and diſobedience to God led into captiuitie. And alſo of Iudah, from the reigne of Tchoram ſonne of Jehoſhaphat vnto Zedechia, who for contemning the Lordes commandement by his Prophets, & neglecting his ſundrie admonitions, by famine and other meanes was taken by his enemies, ſawe his ſonnes moſt cruelly ſlayne before his face, and his owne eyes put out, as the Lorde had declared to him before by his Prophet Ieremie: and alſo by the juſt vengeance of God for contempt of his worde Jeruſalem was deſtroyed, the Temple burnt, and he and all his people were ledde away captiues into Babylon. In this booke are notable examples of Gods fauour towards thoſe rulers and people which obey his Prophets & imbrace his word: and contrariwiſe, of his plagues towards thoſe common weales which neglect his miniſters and doe not obey his commandements.

CHAP. I.

1 Ahaziah by a fall falleth sicke & consulteth with Baalzebub. 3 He is reprov'd by Elias. 10 The captaines ouer fyre were sent to Elias, wherof two were burnt with fyre from heauen by his prayer. 17 Ahaziah dyeth, and Iehoram his brother succedeth him.

Then Hoab rebelled against Israel after the death of Ahab:

2 And Ahaziah fell through p lastresse windowe in his upper chamber which was in Samaria: so he was sicke: then he sent messengers, to whom he sayd, Goe, and enquire of Baalzebub the god of Ekron, if I shall recouer of this my disease.

3 Then the Angel of the Lord said to Elias the Tishbite, Arise, and goe vp to meete the messengers of the King of Samaria, & say vnto them, Is it not because there is no God in Israel, that he goe to enquire of Baalzebub the god of Ekron?

4 Wherefore thus saith the Lord, Thou shalt not come downe from the bed on which thou art gone vp, but shalt die the death. So Elias departed.

5 And the messengers returned vnto him, to whom he sayd, Why are ye now returned?

6 And they answered him, There came a man & met vs, and said vnto vs, Goe, & returne vnto the King which sent you, and say vnto him, Thus saith the Lord, Is it not because there is no God in Israel, that thou sendest to enquire of Baalzebub the god of Ekron? Therefore thou shalt not come downe from the bed, on which thou art gone vp, but shalt die the death.

7 And he sayd vnto them, What manner of man was he which came & met you, and tolde you these wordes?

8 And they saide vnto him, He was an hearie man, and girded with a girdle of lether about his loynes. Then saide he, It is Elias the Tishbite.

9 Therefore the King sent vnto him a captaine ouer fyre with his fifty men, who went by vnto him: for beholds, he sat on the top of a mountaine, & he said vnto him, O man of God, the King hath commanded that thou come downe.

10 But Elias answered, and said to the captaine ouer the fyre, If that I be a man of God, let fyre come downe from the heauen, & deuour thee and thy fyre. So fyre came downe from the heauen and deuoured him and his fyre.

11 Againe also he sent vnto him another captaine ouer fyre, with his fyre. Who spake, and sayd vnto him, O man of God, thus the King commandeth, Come downe quicky.

12 But Elias answered, and sayd vnto them, If I be a man of God, let fyre come downe from the heauen, and deuour thee and thy fyre. So fyre came downe from the heauen, and deuoured him and his fyre.

13 I Yet againe he sent the thirde captaine ouer fyre with his fyre. And the thirde captaine ouer fyre went by and came, and fel on his knees before Elias, and besought him, & sayd vnto him, O man of God, I pray thee, let my life and the life of these fyre seruants be precious in thy sight.

14 Behold, there came fyre downe from the heauen and deuoured the two former captaines ouer fyre with their fyres: therefore let my life now be precious in thy sight.

15 And the Angel of the Lord sayde vnto Elias, Goe downe with him, be not afraide of his presence. So he arose, and went downe with him vnto the King.

16 And he said vnto him, Thus saith the Lord, Because I haue sent messengers to inquire of Baalzebub the god of Ekron, (was it not because there was no God in Israel to inquire of his word?) therefore thou shalt not come downe of the bed, on which thou art gone vp, but shalt die the death.

17 So he died according to the worde of the Lord which Elias had spoke. And Jehoram began to reigne in his stead, in the second yere of Jehoram the sonne of Iehoshaphat King of Iudah, because he had no sonne.

18 Concerning the rest of the actes of Ahaziah, that he did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kinges of Israel?

CHAP. II.

1 Elias deuoureth the waters with his cloke. 12 He is taken vp into heauen. 13 Elisha taketh his cloke and deuoureth Iorden. 20 The bitter and venomous waters are healed. 23 The children that mocke Elisha, are rent in pieces with beares.

1 And when the Lord would take by Elias vnto heauen by a whirle winde, Elias went with Elisha from Gilgal.

2 Then Elias saide to Elisha, Tarry here, I pray thee: for the loarde hath sent me to Beth-el. But Elisha sayde, As the Lord liueth, and as thy soule liueth, I will not leaue thee. So they came downe to Beth-el.

3 And the children of the prophets that were at Beth-el, came out to Elisha, and sayd vnto him, Knowest thou that the Lord wil take thy master froe thine head this day? And he saide, Yea, I knowe it: holde ye pour peace.

4 Againe Elias sayde vnto him, Elisha, tarry here, I pray thee: for the Lord hath sent me to Jericho. But he sayde, As the Lord liueth, and as thy soule liueth, I will not leaue thee. So they came to Jericho.

1 Meaning, that God would whether he was a true Prophet or not.

2 Which humble my selfe before God & his seruice. 1 That is, spare my life and let me not die as the other two.

3 Thus the Lord giueth boldnes to his chyldren: not the threatenings of tyrants, which otherwise of them selues are afraid to doe Gods message.

4 Jehoshaphat going to batel against the Syrians, made his sonne Iehoram King in the 17. yere of his reigne: & in the 18. yere, which was the 2. yere of his sonne, Iehoram the sonne of Ahab reigned in Israel: and in the 5. yere of this Iehoram, Iehoshaphat dyed, & the kingdom of Iudah was confirmed to his sonne.

5 Which was that place where the children of Israel were circumcised after they came ouer Iorden and had bene forty yeres in the wilderness, as Iosh. 5. 9.

6 So called because they are begotten as it were anew by the heauenly doctrine. 7 That is, from being any more thine head: for to be y head, is to be y master, as to be at the feete, is to be a scholer.

8 For the Lorde had reuiled it vnto him.

a So that he was punished for his idolatrie after two sorts: for the Moabites, which were wot to pay him tribute, rebelled, and he fel downe at a grate which was vpon his house to giue light beneath.
b The Philistines which dwelt at Ekron, worshipped this idole, which signifieth the god of flies, thinking that he could preserue them fro the biting of flies: or els he was so called, because flies were engendered in great abundance of y blood of the sacrifices that were offered to that idole.
c He sheweth y idolaters haue not y true God, for els they would seeke to none but to him alone.

e Not only at Beth-el, but at Jericho and other places were there Prophets, which had scholars, whom they instructed and brought vp in the true feare of God, f To wit; of Iorden.

g Let thy Spirit haue double force in me, because of these dangerous times: or let me haue twice so much as the rest of the Prophets: or thy Spirit being deuided into three partes, let mee haue two.

h Thus God hath left a testimonie in all ages both before the Law, in the Law, and in the time of the Gospel, of our resurrection.

i The Spirit of prophetic is giuen to him, as it was to Elijah.

k Meaning, Elijah: for they thought his body had bene cast in some mountaine.

l Because of his extraordinarie, they doubted where he was become, but Elijah was assured that he was taken vp to God.

5 And the children of the Prophets that were at Jericho, came to Elisha, and said vnto him, Knowest thou, that the Lorde will take thy master from thine heade this daye? And he said, Yea, I know it: hold ye your peace.

6 Whocomer Elisha had vnto him, Tasie, I pray thee, here: for the Lorde hath sent me to Iorden. But he said, As the Lorde liueth, and as thy soule liueth, I will not leaue thee. So they went both together.

7 And fiftie men of his seruants of the Prophets went and stode on the other side akare of, & then two stode by Iorden.

8 ¶ Then Elisha tooke his cloke, and wrapt it together, and smote the waters, and they were deuided higher and higher, and they twaine went ouer on the dry land.

9 Now when they were passed ouer, Elisha said vnto Elisha, What what I shall do for thee before I be taken from thee. And Elisha said, I pray thee, Let thy Spirit be double vpon me.

10 And he said, Thou hast asked an harde thing: yet if thou see me when I am taken from thee, thou shalt haue it so: and if not, it shall not be.

11 And as they went walking & talking, beholde, there appeared a charret of fire, and hoies of fire, & did separate them twaine. * So Elisha went vp by a whirle wind into heauen.

12 And Elisha sawe it, and he cryed, My father, my father, the charret of Israel, and the hoiesen thereof: and he sawe him no more: and he tooke his owne clothes, and rent them in two pieces.

13 ¶ He tooke by also the cloke of Elisha that fell from him, and returned, and stode by the banke of Iorden.

14 After, he tooke the cloke of Elisha, that fell from him, and smote the waters, and said, Where is the Lord God of Elisha, and he himselfe? Againe also he smote the waters, and they were separated this way and that way: and Elisha went ouer.

15 And when the children of the Prophets, which were at Jericho, saw him on the other side, they said, The Spirit of Elisha doth rest on Elisha: and they came to meete him, & fell to the ground before him.

16 And said vnto him, Behold now, there be with thy seruants fiftie strong men: let them go, we pray thee, and seeke thy master, if so be the Spirit of the Lorde hath taken him vp, and cast him vpon some mountaine, or into some valley. But he said, I shall not send.

17 Yet they were instant vpon him, til he was asly ued: wherefore he said, Send. So they sent fiftie men, which sought three dayes, but found him not.

18 Therefore they returned to him, (for he taried at Jericho) and he said vnto them, Did not I say vnto you, So not?

19 ¶ And the men of the citie said vnto

Elisha, Behold, we pray thee: the situation of this citie is pleasant, as thou, my lord, seest, but the water is naught, and the ground barren.

20 Then he said, bring me a newe cruse, and put salt therein. And they brought it to him.

21 And he went vnto the spring of waters, and cast there the salt, and saide, Thus saith the Lorde, I haue healed this water: death shall no more come there of, neither barenes to the ground.

22 So the waters were healed vntill this day, according to the worde of Elisha which he had spoken.

23 ¶ And he went vp from thence vnto Beth-el. And as he was going by the way, litle children came out of the citie, and mocked him, and saide vnto him, Come vp, thou bald head, come vp, thou bald head.

24 And he turned backe, and looked on them, and b cursed them in the Name of the Lord. And two beares came out of the forest, and tare in pieces two and fourtie children of them.

25 So hee went from thence to mount Carmel, and from thence he returned to Samaria.

CHAP. III.

1 The reignes of Ieronar, 6 He and Iehoshaphat go to warre against Moab, which rebelled. 13 Elisha reprooueth him, 17 And giueth them host water. 24 The Moabites are overcome. 27 Their King sacrificeth his sonne.

1 NOwe Jehoram the sonne of Achab began to reigne ouer Israel in Samaria, the eighteenth yeere of Iehoshaphat King of Iudah, and reigned twelue yeeres.

2 And he wrought euill in the sight of the Lord, but not like his father nor like his mother: for he tooke away the unage of Baal that his father had made.

3 Nevertheless, he cleaued vnto his sinnes of Ieroboam, the sonne of Nebat, which made Israel to sinne, and departed not therefrom.

4 ¶ Then Mesha King of Moab had store of sheepe, and rendered vnto the King of Israel an hundredth thousand lambs, & an hundredth thousand rams with the wooll.

5 But when Mesha was dead, the King of Moab rebelled against the King of Israel.

6 Therefore King Jehoram went out of Samaria the same season, & nombred all Israel.

7 And went, & sent to Iehoshaphat King of Iudah, saying, The King of Moab hath rebelled against me: wilt thou go with me to battel against Moab? And he answered, I will go vp: for I am, as thou art, my people, as thy people, and mine hoies as thine hoies.

10 Therefore the king of Israel said, Elias, that the Lord hath called these three kings, to giue them into the hande of Hoab.

11 But Jehoshaphat said, Is there not here a Prophet of the Lord, that we may inquire of the Lord by him? And one of the king of Israels seruants answered, and said, Here is Elisha the sonne of Shaphat, which powred water on the handes of Elisha.

1 A Dd one of the wines of the sonnes of the Prophets cried vnto Elisha, saying, Thy seruant mine husband is dead, and thou knowest, that thy seruant did feare the Lord: and the creditor is come to take my two sonnes to be his bondmen.

2 Then Elisha said vnto her, What shall I doe for thee? tell me, what hast thou at home? And she said, Thine handmaide hath nothing at home, save a 4 pitcher of oyle.

3 And he said, Doe, & how to three vessels abroad of all thy neighbours, empty vessels, and spare not.

4 And when thou art come in, thou shalt shut the doore vpon thee and vpon thy sonnes, and poure out into all those vessels and let abide those that are full.

5 So she departed from him, and shutte the doore vpon her, & vpon her sonnes, and they brought to her, and the poure red out.

6 And when the vessels were full, she poured vnto her sonne, & bring me yet a vessel. And he said vnto her, There is no more vessels. And the oyle ceased.

7 Then she came & told the man of God. And he said, See, and sell the oyle, and pay them that thou art in det vnto, and lue thou and thy children of the rest.

12 And saide to Gehazi his seruant, Call this Shunammite: and when he called her, she stood before him.

13 Then he saide vnto him, Say vnto her now, Beholde, thou hast had all this great care for vs, what shall we do for thee? Is there any thing to be spoken for thee to the King or to the captain of the hoste? And she answered, I dwel among mine owne people.

14 Againe he saide, What is then to be done for her? Then Gehazi answered, In dooe she hath no sonne, & her husband is old.

15 Then saide he, Call her. And he called her, and she stood in the doore.

16 And he said, At this time appointed, according to the time of life, thou shalt embrace a sonne. And she saide, Oh my lord, thou man of God, doe not lie vnto thine handmaid.

17 So the woman conceived, and bare a sonne at that same season, according to the time of life, that Elisha had said vnto her.

18 ¶ And when the childe was growen, it fell on a day, that he went out to his father, and to the reapers.

19 And he saide to his father, mine head, mine head. Who said to his seruant, Beare him to his mother.

20 And he toke him and brought him to his mother, and he late on her knees till noon, and died.

21 Then she went by, and laid him on the bed of the man of God, and shut the doore vpon him, and went out.

22 ¶ Then she called to her husband, and said, Send with me, I pray thee, one of the pong men and one of the asses: for I will haste to the man of God, & come againe.

23 And he saide, Wherefore wilt thou goe to him to day? it is neither new moone nor Sabbath day. And she answered, All shall be well.

24 Then she sabled an ass, and laid to her seruant, Dine, and goe forward: stape not for me to get vp, except I bid thee.

25 ¶ So she went, & came vnto the man of God to mount Carmel. And when the man of God saw her, he ouer against him, he said to Gehazi his seruant, Beholde, the Shunammite.

26 Kinnie now, I say, to meeet her, & say vnto her, Art thou in health? is thine husband in health? and is the childe in health? And she answered, We are in health.

27 And when she came to þ man of God vnto the mountaine, she caught him by his feete: and Gehazi went to her, to thrust her away: but the man of God saide, Let her alone: for her soule is vexed within her, and the Lord hath hid it from me, and hath not told it me.

28 ¶ Then she saide, Did I desire a sonne of my lord? did I not say? Deceite me not.

29 ¶ Then he saide to Gehazi, Sitte thy loues, and take my staffe in thine hand, and goe thy way: if thou meeet any, salute him not: and if any salute thee, answere him not: and lay my staffe vpon the face of the childe.

30 And the mother of the childe saide, As the Lord liueth, and as thy soule liueth, I wil not leaue thee. Therefore he arose, and followed her.

31 But Gehazi was gone before them, and had laid the staffe vpon the face of the childe, but he neither spake nor heard: wherefore he returned to meeet him and told him, saying, The childe is not waken.

32 ¶ Then came Elisha into the house, and beholde, the childe was dead, and layed vpon his bed.

33 He went in therefore, and shut þ doore vpon them twaine, and prayed vnto the Lord.

34 After he went by, and a lap vpon the childe, & put his mouth on his mouth, and his eyes vpon his eyes, & his hands vpon his hands, and stretched himselfe vpon him, and the fleshe of the childe ward warme.

35 And he went from him, and walked by and dolone in the house, and went by and spied himselfe vpon him: then the childe nosed seuen times, and opened his eyes.

36 ¶ Then he called Gehazi, and saide, Call this Shunammite. So he called her, which came in vnto him. And he saide vnto her, Take thy sonne.

37 And she came, and fell at his feete, and bowed her selfe to the ground, and toke vp her sonne, and went out.

38 Afterward Elisha returned to Gilgal, and a famine was in the land, & the children of the Prophets dwelt with him. And he saide vnto his seruant, Set on the great pot, and seth the portage for the children of the Prophets.

39 And one went out into the field, to gather herbes, and found, as it were, a wild vine, & gathered thereof wild gourdes his garment full, and came and shedd them into the pot of portage: for they knewe it not.

40 So they powdered out for the men to eate: and when they did eate of the portage, they cried out, and sayde, O thou man of God, death is in the pot: and they could not eate thereof.

41 ¶ Then he said, Bring meale. And he cast it into the pot, and saide, Poyse out for the people, that they may eate: & there was none cull in the pot.

42 ¶ Then came a man from Baal-hazor, and brought the man of God bread of þ first frutes, euen twenty loaves of

CHAP. V.

1 Naaman the Syrian is healed of his leprosie. 16 Elisha refuseth his gifts. 27 Gehazi is stricken with leprosie, because he tooke money, and rayment of Naaman.

1 NOWE was there one Naaman captaine of the hoste of the king of Aram, a great man, and honourable in the sight of his lord, because that by him the Lord had deliuered the Aramites. He also was a mightie man and valiant, but a leper.

2 And the Aramites had gone out by hands, and had taken a little maid of the land of Israel, and she serued Naamans wife.

3 And she saide vnto her mistres, Would God my lord were with the Prophet that is in Samaria: he would soone deliuer him of his leprosie.

4 And she went in, and told his lord, saying, Thus and thus saith the maide that is of the land of Israel.

5 And the King of Aram saide, Goe thy way either, and I wil send a letter vnto the King of Israel, And he departed, and tooke with him ten talents of silver, and five thousand pieces of golde, and ten change of raimentes,

6 And brought the letter to the King of Israel to this effect, Howe when this letter is come vnto thee, vnderstand, that I haue sent thee Naaman my seruant, that thou maiest heale him of his leprosie.

7 And when the King of Israel had read the letter, he rent his clothes, and saide, Min I God, to kill and to giue life, that he doth send to me, that I should heale a man from his leprosie: wherefore consider, I pray you, and see howe he seeketh a quarrell against me.

8 But when Elisha the man of God had heard that the King of Israel had rent his clothes, he sent vnto the King, saying, Let whosoere hath thou rent thy clothes, let him come now to me, & he shall knowe, that there is a Prophete in Israel.

9 Then Naaman came with his horses, and with his charrets, and stood at the doore of the house of Elisha.

10 And Elisha sent a messenger vnto him, saying, Goe and wash thee in Jordan seven times, and thy flesh shall come againe to thee, and thou shalt be cleane.

11 But Naaman was wroth and went away, and saide, Beholde, I thought with my selfe, He will surely come out, and stand, and call on the name of the Lord his God, and put his hand on the place, and heale the leprosie.

12 Were not Abanah and Parpar, rivers of Damascus, better then at the waters of Israel: may I not wash me in them, and be cleane? so he turned, and departed in displeasure.

13 But his seruants came, and spake vnto him, and saide, O Father, if the Prophet had comanded thee a great thing, wouldest thou not haue done it? howe much rather then, when he saith to thee, Wash, and be cleane?

14 Then went he downe, and washed himselfe seven times in Jordan, according to the saying of the man of God: and his flesh came againe, like vnto the flesh of a little childe, and he was cleane.

15 And he turned againe to the man of God, he, and all his companie, & came and stood before him and saide, Behold, nowe I knowe that there is no God in all the world, but in Israel: nowe therefore, I pray thee, take a reward of thy seruant.

16 But he saide, As the Lord liueth (before whom I stand) I will not receiue it. And he would haue constrained him to receiue it, but he refused.

17 Whereouer, Naaman saide, Shall there not be giuen to thy seruant two mules loade of this earth: for the seruant will henceforth offer neither burnt sacrifice, nor offering vnto any other god, saue vnto the Lord.

18 Herein the Lord be mercifull vnto thy seruant, that when my master goeth into the house of Rimmon, to worship there, & leaneth on mine hand, & I bow my selfe in the house of Rimmon: when I doe bowe downe, I say, in the house of Rimmon, the Lord be mercifull vnto thy seruant in this point.

19 Vnto whom he said, Go in peace. So he departed from him about halfe a daies iourney of ground.

20 And Gehazi the seruant of Elisha the man of God saide, Beholde, my master hath spared this Aramite Naaman, receiuing not those things at his hand that he brought: as the Lord liueth, I will runne after him, and take some what of him.

21 So Gehazi followed speedily after Naaman. And when Naaman saue him running after him, he light downe from the charret to meete him, and sayd, Is all well?

22 And he answered, All is well: my master hath sent me, saying, Beholde, there be come to me, euen nowe from mount Ephraim two young men of the children of the Prophets: giue them, I pray thee, a talent of silver, and two change of garments.

CHAP. VI.

6 Elisha maketh yron to summe abuse the water. 1 He disloseth the king of Syria counsell to the King of Israell. 13 VVho sending certaine to take him, were kept fast in Samaria. 24 Samaria is besieged and endureth extreme famine.

1 AND the children of the Prophets said vnto Elisha, Behold, we pray thee, the place where we dwell vnto thee, is to little for vs.

2 Let vs now go to Jordan, that we may take thence euery man a beemie, and make vs a place to dwell in. And he answered, So.

3 And one said, Vouchsafe, I pray thee, to go with thy seruantes, and he answered, I will go.

4 So he went with them, and when they came to Jordan, they cut downe wood.

5 And as one was felling of a tree, the pion fel into the water: then he cryed, & said, Was master, it was but boyowed.

6 And the man of God said, Where fell it? And he shewed him the place. Then he cut downe a piece of woode, and cast in thither, and hee caused the pion to wimmin.

7 Then he said, Take it by to thee. And he stretched out his hande, and toke it.

8 ¶ Then þ king of Ara warred against Israell and tooke counsell with his seruantes, and said, In such and such a place shalbe my campe.

9 Therefore the man of God sent vnto the King of Israell, saying, Beware thou goe not ouer to such a place: for there the Aramites are come downe.

10 So the king of Israell went to the place which the man of God tolde him, and waried him of, and saved himselfe from thence, not once, nor twice.

11 And the heart of þ king of Aram was troubled for this thing: therefore he called his seruantes and saide vnto them, Will ye not shewe me, which of vs bewrayeth our counsell to þ King of Israell?

12 Then one of his seruantes said, None, my lord, & king, but Elisha þ Prophet that is in Israell, telleth the King of Israell, euen the wordes that thou speakest in thy priuy chamber.

13 And he said, So and espie where he is, that I may sende and fetch him. And one tolde him, saying, Beholde, he is in Dothan.

14 ¶ So he sent thither hoyses, and charrets, and a mighty host: and they came by night, and compassed the cite.

15 And when the seruant of the man of God arose early to goe out, beholde, an hoste compassed the cite with hoyses & charrets. Then his seruant saide vnto him, Was master, how shal we doe?

16 And he answered, Feare not: for they that be with vs, are moe then they that be with them.

17 Then Elisha prayed, & said, Lord, I beseech thee, open his eyes, that he may see. And the Lord opened the eyes of the seruant, and he beholde, the mountaine was full of hoyses and charrets of fire round about Elisha.

18 So they came downe to him, but Elisha prayed vnto þ Lord, & said, Smite this people, I pray thee, with blindness. And he smote them with blindness, according to the woode of Elisha.

19 And Elisha said vnto them, This is not the way, neither is this the city: follow me, & I will lead you to þ man whoþe secke. And he led them to Samaria.

20 And when they were come to Samaria, Elisha said, IODE, open their eyes that they may see. And the Lord opened their eyes, and they sawe, and beholde, they were in the middes of Samaria.

21 And þ king of Israell said vnto Elisha when he saw them, My father, shall I smite them, shal I smite them?

22 And he answered, Thou shalt not smite them: dost thou not smite them that thou hast taken with thy sworde, & with thy bow? but let bread and water be before them, that they may eat & drinke and goe to their master.

23 And hee made great preparation for them: and when they had eaten & drunk, he sent them away: and they went to their master. So the bands of Aram came no more into the land of Israell.

24 But afterwarde Ben-hadad king of Aram gathered all his hoste, and went by, and besieged Samaria.

25 So there was a great famine in Samaria: for loe, they besieged it untill an asses head was at foure scoze pieces of siluer, and the fourth part of a kab of doves a doung at siue pieces of siluer.

26 And as the king of Israell was going vpon the wal, there cryed a woman vnto him, saying, Helpe, my lord, & king.

a Elisha propheticly plente of vitails and other things to Samaria. b The Syrians vsuane away, and haue no man following them. 17 The prince that would not beleue the wordes of Elisha is traden to death.

1 Then Elisha said, Heare ye the word of the Lord: thus saith þ Lord, 2 To morowe this time a measure of fine flour shalbe sold for a shekel, and two measures of barley for a shekel in the gate of Samaria.

2 Then a prince, on whose hand the king leaned, answered the man of God, and said, Though the Lorde would make windows in the heauen, could this thing come to passe? And he said, Behold, thou shalt see it with thine eyes, but thou shalt not eate thereof.

3 Howe there were foure leygouse men at the entering in of the gate: and they said one to another, Why sitte we here vntil we dye?

4 If we say, We will enter into the citie, the famine is in the citie, and we shall dye there: and if we sit here, we dye also. Howe therefore come, and let vs fall into the campe of the Aramites: if they saue our liues, we shall liue: and if they kil vs, we are but dead.

So they rose vp in the twilight, to goe to the campe of the Aramites: & when they were come to the vtmoste part of the campe of the Aramites, loe, there was no man there.

6 For the Lord had caused the campe of the Aramites to heare a noise of charretts and a noise of hostes, and a noise of a great armie, so that they said one to another, Beholde, the King of Israel hath hired against vs the kings of the Hittites, and the kings of the Egyptians to come vpon vs.

7 Wherefore they arose, and fled in the twilight, and left their tentes and their hostes, and their asses, euen the campe as it was, and s fled for their liues.

8 And when these lepers came to the vtmost part of the campe, they entred into one tent, and did eat and drinke, and caried thence siluer and golde, and raiment, and went and hid it: after they returned, & entred into another tent, and caried thence also, and went, and hid it.

9 Then said one to another, We doe not well: this day is a day of good tidings, and we holde our peace. If we tarp till day light, some mischief will come vpon vs. Howe therefore come, let vs go, and tell the kings householde.

10 So they came, and called vnto the porters of the citie, and tolde them, saying, We came to the campe of þ Aramites, and lo, there was no man there, neither voice of man, but hostes tyed and asses tyed: and the tentes are as they were.

11 And the porters cried and declared to the kings house within.

12 Then the king arose in the night, and said vnto his seruantes, þ I will shewe you now, what þ Aramites haue done vnto vs. They knowe that we are assauesed, therefore they are gone out of the campe to hide themselves in the fields, saying, When they come out of the citie, we shall catch them alyue, and get into the citie.

13 And one of his seruantes answered, & said, Let men take nowe fine of the hostes that remaine, and are left in the citie, (behold, they are euen as all the multitude of Israel that are left therein: behold, I say, they are as the multitude of the Israelites that are consumed) and we will send to see.

14 So they tooke two charrets of hostes, and the king sent after the hoste of the Aramites, saying, Go and see.

15 And they went after them vnto Jordan, & loe, at the way was ful of clothes & vessels which the Aramites had cast from them in their haste: & the messengers returned, and tolde the king.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Elisha prophesieth vnto the Shunamite the death of seven yeres. 11 He prophesieth to Hazael that he shall be King of Syria. 15 He reigneth after Ben-hadad. 16 Jehoram reigneth ouer Iudah. 20 Edom falleth from Iudah. 25 Athaziah succeedeth Iehoram.

1 Then spake Elisha vnto the woman, whose soune he had restored to life, saying, Idd, and goe, thou, and thine house, and sojourn where thou canst sojourn: for the Lord hath called for a famine, and it cometh also vpon the land seven yeres.

2 And the woman arose, and did after the saying of the man of God, and went both she and her household and sojourn-ed in the land of the Philistines seven yeres.

3 ¶ And at the seven yeres end, the woman returned out of the land of the Philistines, and went out to call vpon the King for her house and for her land.

4 And the King talked with Gehazi the seruant of the man of God, saying, Tell me, I pray thee, all the great actes that Elisha hath done.

5 And as he tolde the King, howe he had restored one dead to life, beholde, the woman whose soune he had raised to life, called vpon the King for her house and for her land. Then Gehazi said, My lord, I know, this is the woman, and this is her soune, whom Elisha restored to life.

6 And when the King asked the woman, the tolde him: so the King appointed her an Eunuch, saying, Restore thou all that are hers, and all the fruits of her landes since the day she left the land, euen vntill this time.

7 ¶ Then Elisha came to Damascus, and Ben-hadad King of Aram was sicke, and one tolde him, saying, The man of God is come hither.

8 And the King said vnto Hazael, Take a present in thine hand, and goe nicere the man of God, that thou maiest inquire of the Lord by him, saying, Shall I recover of this disease?

9 ¶ So Hazael went to nicere him, and tooke the present in his hand, and of eue-ry good thing of Damascus, euen the burden of fourty camels, and came and stood before him, and saide, Thy sonne Ben-hadad King of Aram hath sent me to thee, saying, Shall I recover of this disease?

10 And Elisha saide to him, Goe, and say vnto him, Thou shalt recover: howbeit the Lord hath shewed me, that he shall surely dye.

11 And he looked vpon him stedfastly till Hazael was ashamed, and the man of God wept.

12 And Hazael saide, Why weepest thou my lord? And he answered, Because I know the euill that thou shalt doe vnto the children of Israel: for their strong cities shalt thou set on fire, and their young men shalt thou slay with the sword, and shalt dash their infants against the stones, and rent in pieces their women with child.

13 Then Hazael saide, What? is thy seruant a dogge, that I should doe this great thing? And Elisha answered, The Lord hath shewed me, that thou shalt be King of Aram.

14 ¶ So he departed from Elisha, & came to his master, who saide to him, What saide Elisha to thee? And he answered, He tolde me that thou shouldst recover.

15 And on the morowe he took a thicke clay and dypt it in water, and spread ned eight yere in Ierusalem.

18 And he walked in the waies of his fathers, as did the house of Ahab: for the daughter of Ahab was his wife, and he did euill in the sight of the Lord.

19 Yet the Lord would not destroy Iudah, for Dauid his seruants sake, as he had promised vnto dauid him a light and to his children for euer.

20 ¶ In those daies Edom rebelled from vnder the hand of Iudah, & made a King ouer themselves.

21 Therefore Ioram went to Aïr, and all his charretts with him, and he arose by night, & smote the Edomites which were about him with the captaiues of the charretts, and the people fled into their tents.

22 So Edom rebelled from vnder the hand of Iudah vnto this day. Then Izabab rebelled at that same time.

26 ¶ Two and twentie yere olde was Azariah when he began to reigne, and he reigned one yere in Jerusalem, and his mothers name was Athaliah daughter of Omri king of Israel.

27 And he walked in the way of the house of Ahab, and did euill in the sight of the Lorde, like the house of Ahab: for he was the sonne in lawe of the house of Ahab.

28 And he went with Joiam the sonne of Ahab to warre against Hazael king of Aram in Ramoth Gilead, and the Aramites smote Joiam.

29 And king Joiam returned to be healed in Jezreel of the woundes which the Aramites had giuen him at Ramah, when he fought aganist Hazael king of Aram. And Azariah the sonne of Jehozam king of Judah went downe to see Joiam the sonne of Ahab in Jezreel, because he was sicke.

¶ Jehu is made King of Israel, 24 And killeth Iehoram the King thereof, 27 And Abaziah, otherwise called Ochozias, the King of Iudah, 33 And causeth Iezabel to be cast downe out of a window, and the dogges did eat her.

1 ¶ Then Elisha the Prophet called one of the children of the Prophets, and said vnto him, * 2 Cird thy loines & take this hore of oyle in thine hand, and get thee to Ramoth Gilead.

2 And when thou comest thither, looke where is Jehu sonne of Jehohaphath, the sonne of Shimsi, and go, and make him arise vp from among his brethren, and lead him * to a secret chamber.

3 Then take the hore of oyle, and poure it on his head, and say, Thus saith the Lorde, I haue anointed thee for King ouer Israel, then open the doore, & flee without any tarping.

4 So the seruant of the Prophet gate him to Ramoth Gilead.

5 And when he came in, behold, the captaines of the armie were sitting. And he said, I haue a message to thee, O captaine. And Jehu said, Vnto which of al vs? And he answered, To thee, O captaine.

6 And he arose, and went into the house, and he poured the oile on his head, and saide vnto him, Thus saith the Lorde God of Israel, I haue anointed thee for King ouer the people of the Lorde, euen ouer Israel.

7 And thou shalt smite the house of Ahab the blood, that I may avenge the blood of my seruantes the Prophets, and the blood of all the seruantes of the Lorde * of the hand of Jezebel.

8 For the whole house of Ahab that he destroyed: and * I will cut off from Ahab, him that maketh water against his wall, as wel him that is shut vp, as him that is left in Israel.

9 And I will make the house of Ahab like the house * of Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat, and like the house * of Baascha the sonne of Ahiab.

10 And the dogges shall eat Jezebel in the siebe of Jezreel, & there shall be none to burie her. And he opened the doore, and fled.

11 ¶ Then Jehu came out to the seruants of his loide. And one saide vnto him, Is all well? wherefore camest thou mad fellowe to thee? And he said vnto them, Ye knowe the man, and what his talke was.

12 And they said, It is false, tel vs it now. Then he said, Thus and thus spake he to me, saying, Thus saith the Lorde, I haue anointed thee for King ouer Israel.

13 Then they made haste, and tooke euer y man his garment, and put it vnder him on the top of the staires, and blew the trumpet, saying, Jehu is king.

14 So Jehu the sonne of Jehohaphath the sonne of Shimsi conspired against Joiam (Nowe Joiam kept Ramoth Gilead, he and all Israel because of Hazael king of Aram.

18 So there went one on horsebacke to meete him, and saide, Thus saueh the King, Is it peace? And Jehu saide, What hast thou to doe with peace? * turne behinde me. And the watchman tolde, saying, The messenger came to them, but he cometh not againe.

19 Then he sent out another on horsebacke, which came to them, and said, Thus saith the King, Is it peace? And Jehu answered, What hast thou to doe with peace? turne behind me.

20 And the watchman tolde, saying, He came to them also, but cometh not againe, and the marching is like the marching of Jehu the sonne of Shimsi: for he marcheth * furiously.

the house of Ahab: for the Royde hath brought to passe the things that he spake" by his seruant Eliah.

11 So Iehu flew at that remained of the house of Ahab in Izreel, and all that were great with him, & his familiaris and his prietes, so that he let none of his remaine.

12 ¶ And he arose, and departed & came to Samaria. And as Iehu was in the waye by an house where the shephearbes did there, 13 He mette with the biethren of Ahaziah king of Iudah, and said, Who are ye? And they answered, We are the biethren of Ahaziah, and go downe to salute the children of the king and the children of the Queene.

14 And he saide, Take them alint. And theyooke them alint, and snewe them at the well beside the house where the shepe are house, euen two and fourtie men, and he left not one of them.

15 ¶ And when he was departed thence, he mette with Jehonadab the sonne of Rechab comming to mette him, and he blessed him, and sayde to him, Is thine heart upright, as mine heart is towarde thine? And Jehonadab answered, Yea, doublelesse. Then giue mee thine hand. And when he had giue him his hand, heooke him by to him into the charet.

16 And he said, Come with me, and see the zeale that I haue for the worde: so they made him ride in his charet.

17 And when he came to Samaria, hee snewe all that remained vnto Ahab in Samaria, till he had destroped him, according to the worde of the Lord, which he spake to Eliah.

18 Then Iehuu assembled all the people, and said vnto them, Ahab serued Baal a litle, but Iehuu shall serue him much more.

19 Nowe therefore call vnto me all the prophetes of Baal, all his seruantes, & all his prietes, and let not a man be lacking: for I haue a great sacrifice for Baal: whosoer is lacking, he shall not liue. But Iehuu did it by a subtiltie to destrop the seruants of Baal.

20 And Iehuu saide, Proclaime a solemne assemblee for Baal. And they proclaimed it.

21 So Iehuu sent vnto all Izrael, and all the seruants of Baal came, and there was not a man left that came not. And they came into the house of Baal, & the house of Baal was full from end to end.

22 Then he saide vnto him that had the charge of the bestrie, Bring forth bestiments for all the seruants of Baal. And he brought them out bestiments.

23 And when Iehuu went, & Jehonadab the sonne of Rechab into the house of Baal, he said vnto his seruants of Baal, Search diligently, and looke, least there be here with you any of the seruants of the Lord, but the seruants of Baal onely,

24 And when they went in to make sacrifice and burnt offering, Iehuu appointed foure score men without, and sayde, If any of you men whom I haue brought into your handes, escape, his soule shall be for his soule.

25 And when he had made an ende of the burnt offering, Iehuu led to the garde, & to the captaines, Goe in, flaye them, let not a man come out. And they smote them with the edge of the worde. And the garde, and the captaines cast them out, and went vnto the citie, where was the temple of Baal.

26 And they brought out the images of the temple of Baal, and burnt them.

27 And they destroped the image of Baal, and theye downe the house of Baal, and made a iakes of it vnto this day.

28 So Iehuu destroped Baal out of Izrael.

29 But from the times of Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat which made Izrael to sinne, Iehuu departed not from them, neither from the golde calves that were in Beth-el and that were in Dan.

30 ¶ And the Lord said vnto Iehuu, Because thou hast diligently executed that which was right in mine eyes, & hast done vnto the house of Ahab according to all things that were in mine heart, therefore shall thy sonnes vnto the fourth generation sit on the throno of Izrael.

31 But Iehuu regarded not to walke in the lawe of the Lord God of Izrael with all his heart: for he departed not from the times of Ieroboam, which made Izrael to sinne.

32 In those dayes the Lord beganne to lothe Izrael, and Hazael smote them in all the costes of Izrael, 33 From Iorden Eastward, euen all the land of Gilead, the Gadures, & the Iacubites, and them that were of Hamath, from Ieror (which is by the riuer Arnon) and Gilead and Basan.

34 Concerning the rest of the actes of Iehuu, and all that he did, and all his valiant deedes, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Izrael?

35 And Iehuu slept with his fathers, and they buried him in Samaria, and Jehoahaz his sonne reigned in his steade.

36 And the time that Iehuu reigned ouer Izrael in Samaria is eight and twentie yeeres.

8 So the Priests consented to receive no more money of the people, neither to repair the decayed places of the Temple.

9 Then Jehoiada the Priest tooke a chest and bored an hole in the sid of it, and set it beside the altar, on the right side, as every man cometh into the Temple of the Lorde. And the Priests that kept the doore, put therein all the money that was brought into y house of the Lorde.

10 And when they sawe there was much money in the chest, the Kings secretarie came by and the hie Priest, and put it by after that they had tolde the money that was founde in the house of the Lorde.

11 And they gaue the money made ready into the hands of them, s that undertooke the worke, and that had the oversight of the house of the Lorde: and they paid it out to the carpenters and builders that wrought vpon the house of the Lorde,

12 And to the masons and hewers of stone, and to bye timber and hewed stone, to repaire that was decayed in the house of the Lorde, and for all that which was layd out for the reparation of the Temple.

13 Howbeit there was not made for the house of the Lorde bowles of silver, instruments of musike, basons, trumpets, nor any vessels of golde, or vessels of silver of y money that was brought into the house of the Lorde.

14 But they gaue it to the workemen, which repaired therewith the house of the Lorde.

15 Moreover, they reckoned not with the men, into whose hands they delivered that money to be bestowed on workemen: for they dealt faithfully.

16 The money of the freewill offering and the money of the same offerings was not brought into the house of the Lords: for it was the Priests.

17 ¶ Then came by Hazael King of Hamran, and fought against Gath & tooke it, and Hazael let his face to goe by to Jerusalem.

18 And Jehoash King of Judah tooke all the halowed things that Jehoahaphat, and Jehoram, and Ahaziah his fathers kings of Judah had dedicated, and that he him selfe had dedicated, and all the golde that was founde in the treasures of the house of the Lorde, & in the Kings house, and sent it to Hazael King of Hamran, and he departed from Jerusalem.

written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Israel?

13 And Joash slept with his fathers, and Jeroboam sat upon his seat: and Joash was buried in Samaria among the kings of Israel.

14 ¶ When Elisha fell sicke of his sickness whereof he died, Joash the king of Israel came downe unto him, and wept upon his face, and saide, O my father, my father, the charer of Israel, and the hoste-men of the same.

15 Then Elisha laide vnto him, Take a bowe and arrowes. And he tooke vnto him bowe and arrowes.

16 And he laid to the king of Israel, Put thine hand vpon the bowe. And he put his hande vpon it. And Elisha put his hands vpon the kings handes, 17 And said, Open the windowe i Eastward. And when he had opened it, Elisha said, Shoot. And he shot. And he said, Behold the arrowe of the Lordes deliniance and the arrowe of deliniance against Haman: for thou shalt smite the Aramites in Haleb, till thou hast consumed them.

18 Againe he saide, Take the arrowes. And he tooke them. And he laide vnto the king of Israel, Smite the grounde. And he smote thise, and ceased.

19 Then the man of God was angry with him, & saide, Thou shouldest haue smitten five or sixe times, so thou shouldest haue smitten Aram, till thou hadst consumed it, where now thou shalt smite Aram but thise.

20 So Elisha died, & they buried him. And certaine bandes of the Moabites came vnto the land that pere.

21 And as they were burying a man, behold, they saue the souldiers: therefore they cast the man into the sepulchre of Elisha. And when the man was downe, and touched the bones of Elisha, hee revived and stood vpon his feete.

22 ¶ But Hazael king of Aram dyed Israel at the dayes of Jehoahaz.

23 Therefore the voyde had mercie on them, and pitied them, and had respect vnto them because of his covenant with Abraham, Ishak, and Jaahob, & would not destroy them, neither call he them from him as yet.

24 So Hazael the king of Aram dyed: and Ben-hadad his sonne reigned in his stead.

25 Therefore Jehoash the sonne of Jehoahaz returned, and tooke out of the hande of Ben-hadad the sonne of Hazael the cities which he had taken away by warre out of the hand of Jehoahaz his father: for thise times did Joash beate him, and restored the cities vnto Israel.

The seconde pere of Joash sonne of Jehoahaz king of Israel reigned. Amaziah the sonne of Joash king of Judah.

2 He was five and twentie peere olde when he began to reigne, and reigned nme and twentie pere in Jerusalem, & his mothers name was Jehoadan of Jerusalem.

3 And he did vprightly in the sight of the Lord, yet not like Dauid his father, but did according to, all that Joash his father had done.

4 Notwithstanding the hie places were not taken away: for as yet the people did sacrifice and burnt incense in the hie places.

5 ¶ And when the kingdome was confirmed in his hand, he slew his seruants which had killed the king his father.

6 But the children of those that did slay him, he slew not, as coding vnto that that is written in the booke of the Lawe of Moses, wherein the Lord commaunded, saying, The fathers shall not be put to death for the children, nor the children put to death for the fathers: but euerie man shall be put to death for his owne sinne.

7 He slew also of Edom in the balles of salt ten thousand, and tooke the cite of Sela by warre, & called the name thereof Jokbeel vnto this day.

8 ¶ Then Amaziah sent messengers to Jehoash the sonne of Jehoahaz, sonne of Jehu king of Israel, saying, Come, let vs see one another in the face.

9 Then Jehoash the king of Israel sent to Amaziah king of Judah, saying, The thistle that is in Lebanon, sent to the cedar that is in Lebanon, saying, Give thy daughter to my sonne to wife: and the wide brack that was in Lebanon, went and trode downe the thistle.

10 Because thou hast smitten Edom, thine heart hath made thee proude: bragge of glorie, and tarie at home, why dost thou promise to thine hurt, that thou shouldest fall, and Judah with thee?

11 But Amaziah would not heare: therefore Jehoash king of Israel went by: & he and Amaziah king of Judah saue one another in the face at Beth-shean which is in Judah.

12 And Judah was put to the worse before Israel, and they fled euerie man to their rentes.

13 But Jehoash king of Israel tooke Amaziah king of Judah, the sonne of Jehoash the sonne of Jehoahaz, at Beth-shean, and brake downe the wall of Jerusalem from the gate of Ephraim to the corner gate, foure hundredth cubites.

14 And he tooke all the golde and siluer, & all the vessels that were founde in the house of the Lord, & in the treasures of the kings house, and the children were in his hostage, and returned to Samaria.

28 And he did euil in the sight of the Lord: for he departed not from the sinnes of Jeroboam the sonne of Nebat, that made Israel to sinne.

29 In the dayes of Pekah King of Israel came Tiglath Pileser King of Asshur, and tooke Pion, & Abel, Beth-machah, and Janah, & Kedoch, & Hazor, and Gilead, & Galilah, & all the land of Naphtali, and caried their away to Asshur.

30 And Hoshea the sonne of Elah wrought reuolun against Pekah the sonne of Remaliah, and smote him, and slew him, and reigned in his steade in the thirtieth pere of Jotham the sonne of Dabiah.

31 Concerning the rest of the actes of Pekah, and all that he did, behold, they are written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel.

32 ¶ In the seconde pere of Pekah the sonne of Remaliah King of Iudah, began Jotham sonne of Dabiah King of Iudah to reigne.

33 Five and twentie pere olde was he, when he began to reigne, and he reigned sicteene pere in Ierusalem: and his mothers name was Ierusha the daughter of Zadok.

34 And he did vprightly in the sight of the Lord: he did according to all that his father Dabiah had done.

35 But he did vprightly was not put away: for the people per offred and burnt incense in the big places: he built the iust gate of the horse of the Lorde.

37 In those dayes the Lorde began to send against Iudah Rezin the King of Aram, and Pekah the sonne of Remaliah.

38 And Jotham slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the cite of Dauid his father, and Ahaz his sonne reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XVI.

Abaz King of Iudah consecrath his sonne in fire. Jerusalem is besieged. Manasse is taken and Rezin slayne. Idolatrie. The death of Abaz: so Hezekiah succedeth him.

1 The seventeenth pere of Pekah the sonne of Remaliah, Ahaz the sonne of Jotham King of Iudah began to reigne.

2 Twentie pere olde was Ahaz, when he began to reigne, and he reigned sicteene pere in Ierusalem, and did not vprightly in the sight of the Lord his God, like Dauid his father:

3 But walked in the way of the Kings of Israel, and made his sonne to goe through the fire, after the abominations of the heathen, whom the Lord had cast out before the children of Israel.

4 Also he offred, and burnt incense in the big places, and on the hilles, and vnder every greene tree.

5 Then Rezin King of Aram and Pekah the sonne of Remaliah King of Israel came by to Ierusalem to fight: and they besieged Ahaz, but could not overcome him.

6 At the same time Rezin King of Aram restored Elath to Aram, and diene the Jewes from Elath: so the Aramites came to Elath, and dwelt there vnto this day.

7 Then Ahaz sent messengers to Tiglath Pileser King of Asshur, saying, I am thy seruant and thy sonne: come by, and deliuer me out of the hand of the King of Aram, and out of the hand of the King of Israel which rise by against me.

8 And Ahaz tooke the siluer and the gold that dwelt in Samaria, 29 Euerie one worshippeth the god of his nation, 35 Contrarie to the commandment of God. 1 In the twelfth yeere of Whaz King of Iudah began Hoshea the sonne of Beiah to reigne in Samaria ouer Israel, and reigned nine yeeres, 2 And he did euil in the sight of the Lord, but not as the kings of Israel, that were before him. 3 And Shalmaneser king of Asshur came by against him, and Hoshea became his seruant, and gaue him presents. 4 And the king of Asshur found treason in Hoshea: for he had sent messengers to So king of Egypt: and brought no present vnto the king of Asshur, as he had done persep: therefore y king of Asshur shut him by, & put him in prison. 5 Then the king of Asshur came by thoroughout all the land, and went against Samaria, and besieged it three yeere. 6 ¶ In the ninth yeere of Hoshea, the king of Asshurooke Samaria, and caried Israel away vnto Asshur, and put them in Halah, and in Habor by the riuier of Gosan, and in the cities of the Medes. 7 For when the children of Israel sinned against the Lord their God, which had brought them out of the land of Egypt, from vnder the hand of Pharaoh king of Egypt, and feared other gods, 8 And walked according to the facions of the heathen, whom the Lord had cast out before the children of Israel, and after the maners of the kinges of Israel, which they used, 9 And the children of Israel had done secretly things that were not bright before the Lord their God, and through out all their cities had built high places, both from the tower of the watch, to the defended citie, 10 And had made them images & grooves vpon euery hie hill, and vnder euery greene tree, 11 And there burnt incense in all the hie places, as did the heathen, whom the Lord had taken away before them, and wrought wicked things to anger the Lord, 12 And serued idoles: whereof the Lorde had said vnto them, Ye shall do no such thing, 13 Notwithstanding the Lord testified to Israel, and to Iudah by all the Prophets, and by all the Seers, saying, Turne from your euil wayes, & keepe my commandments and my statutes, according to all the Lawe, which I commanded your fathers, and which I sent to pou by my seruants the Prophets.

a Though he intended no newe idolatrie or impietie as others did, yet he sought for helpe at the Egyptians which God had forbidden. b For he had paid tribute for the space of eight yeres. c Chap. 18. 10. d He feared the cause of this great plague & perpetual captiuitie, to adnomish all people & nations to cleaue to the Lorde God, and onely worship him for feare of like iudgement. e Meaning thoroughout all their borders. f Ebr. by the hand of. g Iere. 18. 11. & 25. 5. and 35. 15. h Deut. 31. 27. i So that to gludge y authoritie of our fathers or great antiquitie, except we can prove that they were godly, is but to declare that we are the children of the wicked.

he witnessed unto them) and they followed vauitie, and became vaine, and followed the heathen that were rounde about them: concerning whom, the Lorde had charged the, that they should not do like them.

16 Finally they left all the commandments of the Lorde their God, and made them molten images, * euen two calves, and made a groue, and worshipped all the hoste of heauen, and serued Baal.

17 And they made their sonnes and their daughters ^h passe through the fire, and used witchcraft and uitchments, pea* solde themselves, to do euil in the sight of the Lorde, to anger him.

18 Therefore the Lorde was exceeding wroth with Israel, and put them out of his light, * none was left but the tribe of Iudah * onely.

19 Yet Iudah kept not the commandements of the Lorde their God, but walked according to the facion of Israel, which they used.

20 Therefore the Lorde cast off all the seede of Israel, & afflicted them, & deliuered them into the hands of vsoplers, untill he had cast them out of his sight.

21 ^m For he cut off Israel from the house of Dauid, and they made Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat king: and Ieroboam drew Israel away from following the Lorde, & made them sinne a great sinne.

22 For the children of Israel walked in al
the sinnes of Ieroboam, which he did,
and departed not therefrom,

23 Untill the Lorde put Israel away out of his sight, as he had said ^h by all his ser-uants the ^h vsophets, and caried Israel away out of their land to Asshur unto this day.

24 And the king of Asshur brought folke from Babel, & from ^h Cuthah, & from Aua, and from Hamath, and from Ses-pharaim, and placed them in the cities of Samaria in leade of the children of Israel: so they possessed Samaria, and dwelt in the cities thereof.

25 ^h And at the beginning of their dwelling there, they ^o feared not the Lorde:
therefore the Lorde sent vsions among them, which slew them.

26 Wherefore they spake to the king of Asshur, saying, The nations which thou hast remooued, & placed in the cities of Samaria, knowe not the maner of the God of the land: therefore he hath sent vsions among them, and beholde, they slaye them, because they knowe not the maner of the God of the land.

27 Then the king of Asshur commaunded, saying, Carie thither one of the vsions, whome ye brought thence, & let him go and dwell there, & teache them the maner of the God ^o of the countrey.

28 So one of the vsions, which they had carped from Samaria, came and dwelt in Beth-el, and taught them howe they should feare the Lorde.

29 Howbeit every nation made their gods, and put them in the houses of the hie places, which the Samaritans had made, euery nation in their cities, wher-in they dwelt.

30 For the men of Babel made ^h Suez-coth-Benoth: & the men of Cuth made Pergal, and the man of Hamath made Asshuna.

31 And the Auims made Sibhaz, and Carrak: and the Sepharuims burnt their children in the fire to Azbanne-lech, and Anammelech the gods of Ses-pharaim.

32 Thus they feared the Lorde, & appointed out vsions out of themselves for the hie places, who prepared for them sacrifices in the houses of the hie places.

33 * They ^h feared the Lorde, but serued their gods after the maner of the nations whome they caried thence.

34 Unto this daye they doe after the olde maner: they neither feare God, neither do after their ordinances, nor after their customes, nor after the Lawe, nor after the commaundment, which the Lorde commaunded the children of Jaakob,
* whome he named Israel,

35 And with whome the Lorde had made couenant, and charged them, saying,
* feare none other gods, nor bow your selues to them, nor serue them, nor sacrifice to them:

36 But feare the Lorde which brought you out of the lād of Egypt with great power, and stretched out arme: him feare ye, and worship him, and sacrifice to him.

37 Also keepe ye diligently the statutes & the ordinances, and the Lawe, and the commaundment, which he wrote for you, that ye doe them continually, and feare not other gods.

38 And forget not the couenant that I haue made with you, neyther feare ye other gods,

39 But feare the Lorde your God, and he will deliuer you out of the handes of all prou enemies.

40 Howbeit they obeyed not, but did after their old custome.

41 So these ^h nations feared the Lorde, & serued their images also: so did their children, and their childrens children: as did their fathers, so doe they vnto this day.

e After certain yeres when Hezekiah ceased to send the tribute appointed by the King of the Assyrians, he sent his captaines & armies against him,

3 And see did vnto night in the sight of the loyde, according to all that Dauid his father had done.

4 He tooke away the hie places, & brake the images, & cut downe the grones, & brake in pieces the ^a brazen serpent that Moyses had made: for vnto those daies the children of Israel did burne incense to it, and he called it ^b Nehustan.

5 He trusted in the loyde God of Israel: so that after him was none like him among all the kinges of Iudah, neyther were there any such before him.

6 For he claue to the loyde and departed not from him, but kept his commandments, which the loyde had commaunded Moyses.

7 So the loyde was with him, & he prospered in all things, which he tooke in hand: also he rebelled against the king of Asshur, and serued him not.

8 He smote the Philistines vnto Azah, & the coastes thereof, & from the watche towne vnto the defended cite.

9 ^a And in the fourth yere of king Hezekiah, (which was the seventh yere of Holheai sonne of Etah King of Israel) Salmanser king of Asshur came vp against Samaria, and besieged it.

10 And after thre yeres the rooke it, euen in the sixt yere of Hezekiah: that is, the ninth yere of Holheai king of Israel was Samaria taken.

11 The king of Asshur did carry away Israel vnto Asshur, & put them in Galah and in Habor, by the riuers of Gozan, and in the cities of the Medes.

12 Because they would not obey the voyce of the loyde their God, but transgressed his covenant: that is, all that Moyses the seruant of the loyde had commaunded, and would neyther obey nor doe them.

13 ^a Whereouer, in the fourteenth yere of king Hezekiah, Saneherib king of Asshur came vp against all the strong cities of Iudah, and tooke them.

14 Then Hezekiah king of Iudah sent vnto the king of Asshur to Lachish, saying, ^d I haue offended: depart from me, and what thouapest vpon me, I will beare it. And the king of Asshur appointed vnto Hezekiah king of Iudah thre hundred talents of silver, & thirtie talents of gold.

15 Therefore Hezekiah gaue all the silver that was founde in the house of the loyde, and in the treasures of the kings house.

16 At the same season did Hezekiah pull of the places of the doores of the Temple of the loyde, and the pillars (which the sayde Hezekiah king of Iudah had reuered ouer) and gaue them to the king of Asshur.

17 And the king of Asshur sent Tartan, and Rab-saris, and Rabshakeh from Lachish to king Hezekiah with a great hoste against Ierusalem. And they wet vp, and came to Ierusalem, and when they were come by, they stood by the cunite of the vpper poole, which is by the path of the fullers felde, 18 And called to the king. Then came out to them Eliakim the sonne of Hilkiah, which was steward of the house, and Shebna the chanceller, and Joah the sonne of Maah the recorder.

19 And Rabshakeh sayd vnto them, Tell ye Hezekiah, I praye you, thus saith the great king, euen the great king of Asshur, What confidence is this wher in thou trustest?

20 Thou thinkest, Surely I haue ^a eloquence, ^b but counsel and strength are for the warre. In whome then dost thou trust, that thou rebellest against me?

21 Loe, thou trustest now in this broken staffe of reed, to wit, in Egypt, on which if a man leane, it will go into his hande, and peace it: for is Pharaoh king of Egypt vnto all that trust on him.

22 But if he say vnto me, We trust in the loyde our God, is not that he whole hie places, & whole altars Hezekiah hath taken away, and hath saide to Iudah and Ierusalem, He shal worshipping before this altar in Ierusalem?

23 Howe therefore giue ^c hostages to my lord the king of Asshur, and I will giue thee two thousand horses, if thou be able to fet riders vpon them.

24 For howe canst thou despise any captaine of the least of my masters seraunts, and put thy trust on Egypt for charrets and horsemen?

25 Min I now come vp without ^d the loyde to this place, to destroy it? the loyde said to me, Go vp against this land, and destroy it.

26 Then Eliakim the sonne of Hilkiah, & Shebna, and Joah said vnto Rabshakeh, Speake, I praye thee, to the seruaunts in the Aramites language, for we vnderstand it, and talke not with vs in the Jewes tongue, in the audience of the people that are on the wall.

27 But Rabshakeh said vnto them, Hath my master sent me to thy master and to thee to speake these words, & not to the men which sitte on the wall, that they may eat their owne doving, and drinke ^e their owne piss with you?

28 So Rabshakeh stood and cried with a loud voyce in the Jewes language, and spake, saying, Heare the wordes of the great king of the king of Asshur.

29 Thus saith the king, let not Hezekiah deceiue you: for hee shal not be able to deliuer you out of mine hand.

30 Neither let Hezekiah make you to trust in the loyde, saying, The loyde will surely deliuer vs, and this cite shal not be ginen ouer into the hand of the king of Asshur.

31 Hearken not vnto Hezekiah: for thus saith the king of Asshur, Make ^a appointment with me, & come out to me, that every man may eate of his owne vine, and euery man of his owne figge tree, y This was the iust iudgement of God for his blasphemie, that he shoulde be slain before that idole, whom he preferred to the living God, and by them, by whom he ought by nature to have bene defended.

the Lord, & said, By the multitude of imp charcters I am come vnto the top of the mountains, by the sides of Lebanon, & wil cut downe the be cedars thereof, & the faire fire trees thereof, & I will go into the flodding of his borders, & into the forest of his Carmel.

24 I haue digged, and drunke the waters of others, & with the plant of my feete haue I dried all the floods closed in.

25 Hast thou not heard, howe I haue of old time made it, & haue founde it long ago? & I should I now bring it, that it should be destroyed, and layd on ruinous heapes, as cities defended?

28 And because thou ragest againt me, and thy tumult is come vnto mine eares, I will put mine hookes in thy nostrils, and my byde in thy lippes, & will bring thee backe againe the same way thou camest.

29 And this shall be a signe vnto thee, O Hezekiah, Thou shalt eat this pere such things as growe of them selues, and the next pere such as growe without sowing, and the thirde pere solwe pe and reape, and plant vineyards, and eat the fruites thereof.

30 And the remnant that is escaped of the house of Iudah, shall againe take a roote downewarde, and beare fruite vpwarde.

31 For out of Ierusalem shall go a remnant, and some that shall escape out of mount Zion: the zeale of the Lorde of hostes shall do this.

32 Wherefore thus saith the Lorde, concerning the king of Asshur, He shal not enter into this cite, nor shoote an arrowe there, nor come before it with shield, nor cast a moue againt it:

33 But he shal returne the way he came, & shal not come into this cite, saith the Lorde.

34 For I will defend this cite to saue it for mine owne sake, and for Dauid my seruants sake.

35 And the same night the Angel of the Lord went out and smote in the campe of Asshur an hundred and foure score and five thousand: so when they rose early in the morning, beholde, they were all dead corpses.

36 So Sanherib king of Asshur departed, and went his way, and returned, & dwelt in Babilon.

37 And as he was in the temple worshiping Sissoch his god, Beldanelech and Bazarer his sonnes, & slawe him with the sworde: and they escaped into the lande of Ararat, and Esaraddon his sonne reigned in his stead.

Hezekiah is sicke, and receiveth the signe of his health. 22 Herceques rewards of Berodach, 23 Sheweth his treasures, and is reprehended of I-saiah. 24 He dieth and Manasseh his sonne reig-neth in his stead.

2. Chron. 32. 24. i. 2. 1.

I About that time * was Hezekiah sick unto death: and the Prophet I-saiah the sonne of Amoz came to him, and said vnto him, Thus saith the Lord, Put thine house in an order: for thou shalt die, and not liue.

2 Then he turned his face to the wall, and prayed to the Lord, saying,

3 I beseeche thee, O Lorde, remember now, how I haue walked before thee in truth, and with a pure heart, & haue done that which is good in thy sight: and Hezekiah wept sore.

4 And afoze I-saiah was gone out into the middle of the court, the word of the Lord came to him, saying,

5 Turne againe, and tell Hezekiah the captaine of my people, Thus saith the Lord God of Dauid thy father, I haue heard thy prayer, and seene thy teares: beholde, I haue healed thee, & the third day thou shalt go vnto the house of the Lord.

6 And I will adde vnto thy dayes fiftene yere, and will beuine thee and this cite out of the hande of the King of Asshur, and will defende this cite for mine owne sake, and for Dauid my seruants sake.

7 Then I-saiah saide, Take a lump of drie figges, and they tooke it, and laid it on the boyle, and he recovered.

8 ¶ For Hezekiah had sayde vnto I-saiah, What shall be the signe that the Lord will heale me, & that I shall go vnto the house of the Lord the third day?

9 And I-saiah answered, This signe shalt thou haue of the Lord, that the Lord wil do that he hath spoken, Wilt thou that the shadow go forward ten degrees, or go backe ten degrees?

10 And Hezekiah answered, It is a light thing for the shadow to passe forwarde ten degrees: not so then, but let the shadow go backe ten degrees.

11 And I-saiah the Prophete called vnto the Lord, and he brought againe the shadowe ten degrees backe by the degrees wherewith it had gone downe in the dial of Ahaz.

12 ¶ The same yeare Berodach Baladan the sonne of Baladan King of Babel, sent letters and a present to Hezekiah: for hee had heard howe that Hezekiah was sicke.

13 And Hezekiah heard them, & shewed them all his treasure house, to wit, the siluer and the gold, and the spices, and the precious oylment, and all the house of his armour, and all that was founde in his treasure: there was nothing in his house, and in all his realme, that Hezekiah shewed them not.

king Hezekiah, & saide vnto him, What said these men: and from whence came they to thee? And Hezekiah said, They be come from a farre country, euen from Babel.

15 Then said he, What haue they seene in thine house? And Hezekiah answered, All that is in mine house haue they seene: there is nothing among my treasures, that I haue not shewed them.

16 And Isaiah said vnto Hezekiah, Heare the word of the Lord.

17 Behold, the dayes come, that all that is in thine house, and whatsoever thy fathers haue laped up in store vnto this day, shall be caried into Babel: Nothing shall be left, saith the Lord.

18 And of thy sonnes, that shall procede out of thee, and which thou shalt beget, shall they take away, and they shall be eunuchs in the palace of the king of Babel.

19 Then Hezekiah said vnto Isaiah, The word of the Lord which thou hast spoken, is good: for I sayde he, Shall it not be good, if my peace and truth be in my dayes?

20 Concerning the rest of the acts of Hezekiah, and all his valiant deedes, and how he made a poole and a conduit, and brought water into the citie, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Iudah?

21 And Hezekiah slept with his fathers: and Manasseh his sonne reigned in his steade.

CHAP. XXI.

3 King Manasseh restoreth idolatry, & doeth great crueltie. 18 He dyeth, and Amon his sonne succeedeth, 23 VVho is killed of his owne seruants, 26 After him reigneth Iosiah.

1 Manasseh was twelue yeere olde when he began to reigne, & reigned fiftie & siue yeere in Ierusalem: his mothers name also was Hezhibah.

2 And he did euill in the sight of the Lord after the abomination of the heathen, whome the Lord had cast out before the children of Israel.

3 For he went backe and buylt the hye places, which Hezekiah his father had destroyed: and he erected by altars for Baal: and made a groue, as did Ahab king of Israel, and worshipped all the hoste of heauen and serued them.

4 Also hee buylt altars in the house of the Lord, of the which the Lord said, In Ierusalem will I put my name.

5 And he built altars for al the host of the heauen in the two courtes of the house of the Lord.

6 And hee caused his sonnes to passe through the fire, and gaue him selfe to witchcraft & soecerie, and he vsed them that had familiar spirits & were soothsayers, and did much euill in the sight of the Lord to anger him.

7 And he set the image of the groue, that he had made, in the house, whereof the Lord had sayde to Dauid and to Salomon his sonne, In this house, and in Ierusalem, which I haue chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, will I put my name for euer.

8 Neither wil I make the fate of Israel none any more out of the lande, which I gaue their fathers: so that they will observe and doe all that I haue commanded them, and according to all the Law that my seruants Moses commaunded them.

9 For they obeyed not, but Manasseh led them out of the way, to doe more wickedly then did his heathen people, whom the Lord destroyed before the children of Israel.

10 Therefore the Lord spake by his seruants the Prophets, saying,

11 Because that Manasseh king of Iudah hath done such abominations, and hath wrought more wickedly then all that the Amorites (which were before him) did, and hath made Iudah sinne also with his idoles, 12 Therefore thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Behold, I will bring an euill vpon Ierusalem & Iudah, that who is heareth of it, both his eares shall tingle.

13 And I will stretch ouer Ierusalem the line of Samaria, and the plummet of the house of Ahab: and I will wypp Ierusalem, as a man wyppeth a dilhe, which he wyppeth, and turneth it byside downe.

14 And I will forsake the remnant of the inheritance, and deliuer them into the hande of their enemies, and they shall be robbed and spoyled of all their aduertaries, 15 Because they haue done euill in my sight, and haue prouoked mee to anger, since the tyme the fathers came out of Egypt vntil this day.

16 Whereouer Manasseh shed innocent blood exceeding much, til he replenished Ierusalem from corner to corner, beside his sinne wherewith he made Iudah to sinne, and to doe euill in the sight of the Lord.

17 Concerning the rest of the acts of Manasseh, and all that hee did, and his sinne that hee sinned, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Iudah?

18 And Manasseh slept with his fathers, & was buried in the garden of his own house, euen in the garden of Ozza: and Amon his sonne reigned in his steade.

19 Amon was two and twentie yeere olde, when he began to reigne, and hee reigned two yeere in Ierusalem: his mothers name also was Delhullenneth the daughter of Haruz of Iotbah.

20 And hee did euill in the sight of the Lord, as his father Manasseh did.

21 For he walked in all the way, which his father serued, & worshipped them.

22 And hee forsooke the Lord God of his fathers, and walked not in the way of the Lord.

b Therefore seeing they obeyed not the commandment of God, they were iustly cast forth of that land which they had but on condition.

c Meaning, that whosoever shall heare of this great plague, shall be astonished.

 26 And he buried him in his sepulchre in the garden of Ozza: and Josiah his sonne reigned in his steade.

11 And when the King had hearde the wordes of the booke of the Law, he rent his clothes.
 12 Therefore the king commanded Iilkiah the Priest, & Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan, & Achbor the sonne of Michaiah, and Shaphan the chanceller, and Alasiah the kings seruant, saying,
 13 Go ye and inquire of the Lord for me, and for the people, and for all Judah, concerning the wordes of this booke that is founde: for great is the wrath of the Lord that is kindled againt vs, because our fathers haue not obeyed the wordes of this booke, to doe according vnto al that which is written therein for vs.
 14 So Iilkiah the Priest and Ahikam, and Achbor & Shaphan, and Wahiah went vnto Huldah the Prophetesse the wife of Shallum, the sonne of Tikuah, the sonne of Harhas keeper of the wardrobe: (a she dwelt in Jerusalem in the colledge) & they communed with her.
 15 And shee answered them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Tell the man that sent you to me,

 17 Because they haue forsaken me, & haue burnt incense vnto other gods, to anger me with all the works of their hands: my wrath also shall be kindled againt this place, & shall not be quenched.
 18 But to the king of Judah, who sent you to inquire of the Lord, so shall he say vnto him, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, The wordes that thou hast heard, shall come to passe.
 19 But because thine heart did melt, and thou hast humbled thy selfe before the Lord, where thou heardest what I spake againt this place, & againt the inhabitants of the same, to wit, that it should be destroyed and accursed, and hast rent thy clothes, & wept before mee, I haue also heard it, saith the Lord.
 20 Behold therefore, I will gather thee to thy fathers, & thou shalt be put in thy graue in peace, & thine eyes shall not see all the euill, which I will bring vpon this place. Thus they brought the king word againe.

 2 And he did rightly in the sight of the Lord, and walked in all the wayes of Dauid his father, and bowed neither to the right hand, nor to the left.
 3 And in the eighteenth yere of king Josiah, the King sent Shaphan the sonne of Azzabai the sonne of Belhullam the chanceller to the house of the Lord, saying,
 4 Goe vp to Iilkiah the Priest, that he may summe silver which is brought into the house of the Lord, which the keepers of the door haue gathered of the people.
 5 And let them deliuer it into the hande of them that doe the worke, & haue the oversight of the house of the Lord: let them giue it to them that worke in the house of the Lord, to repaire the decayed places of the house:

 7 Howbeit let no reckoning be made with the money, that is deliuered into their hand: for they deale faithfully.
 8 And Iilkiah the Priest sayde vnto Shaphan the chanceller, I haue found the booke of the Lawe in the house of the Lord: and Iilkiah gaue the booke to Shaphan, and he read it.
 9 So Shaphan the chanceller came to the king, & brought him word againe, & said, Thy seruantes haue gathered the money, that was found in the house, and haue deliuered it vnto the handes of them that do the worke, and haue the oversight of the house of the Lord.
 10 Also Shaphan the chanceller shewed the king, saying, Iilkiah the Priest hath deliuered mee a booke. And Shaphan read it before the king.

14 So Iilkiah the Priest and Ahikam, and Achbor & Shaphan, and Wahiah went vnto Huldah the Prophetesse the wife of Shallum, the sonne of Tikuah, the sonne of Harhas keeper of the wardrobe: (a she dwelt in Jerusalem in the colledge) & they communed with her.

 3 And the king stood by ^b the pillar, and made a ^c covenant before the Lord, that they should walk after the Lord, & keepe his commandements, and his testimonies, & his statutes with all their heart, and with all their soules, that they might accomplish the wordes of this covenant written in this booke. And all the people stood to the covenant.
 4 Then the king commanded Hilkiah the hie Priest and the ^d priests of the second order, and the keepers of the doore, to bring out of the Temple of the Lord all the vessels that were made for Baal, & for the groue, and for all the hoste of heauen, and he burnt them without Ierusalem in the fields of Kedron, and caried ^e the powder of them into Beth-el.
 5 And he put down ^f Chemarims, who the kings of Iudah had souided to burn incense in the hie places, & in the cities of Iudah, & about Ierusalem, & also the that burnt incense vnto Baal, to the sunne & to the moone, & to the planetes, and to all the hoste of heauen.

 9 Heuerthelesse the Priests of the hie places came not by to the altar of the Lord in Ierusalem, saue onely they did rate of the unleaueued breade among their brethren.
 10 He defiled also ^k Topheth, which was in the valley of the children of Hinmon, that no man should make his sonne or his daughter passe through the fire to Moloch.
 11 Yet put downe also the ^l houses that the Kinges of Iudah had giuen to the sunne at the entering in of the house of the Lord, by the chamber of Bethan-melech the eunuche, which was ruler of the suburbs, and burnt the charetes of the sunne with fire.

 17 Then he said, What title is that which I see? And the men of the citie said vnto him, It is the sepulchre of the man of God, which came from Iudah, & tolde these things that thou hast done to the altar of Beth-el.
 18 Then said he, Let him alone: let none remoue his bones. So his bones were saued with the bones of the ^r Prophete that came from Samaria.
 19 Iosiah also tooke away all the houses of the hie places, which were in the cities of Samaria, which the kings of Israel had made to anger the Lord, & did to them according to all the factes that he had done in Beth-el.
 20 And he sacrificed all the Priests of the hie places, that were there vpon the altars, & burnt mens bones vpon them, and returned to Ierusalem.

33 And Pharaoh Nechoh put him in bonds, & akilah in th^e land of Hamath, while he reigned in Jerusalem, & put the land to a tribute of an hundredth talents of silver, and a talent of golde.

34 ¶ And Pharaoh Nechoh made Eliakim the sonne of Josiah king in stead of Josiah his father, & turned his name to Jehoiakim, & tooke Jehoahaz away, which when hee came to Egypt, dyed there.

35 And Jehoiakim gaue the silver and the gold to Pharaoh, and rayed the land to give the money, according to the commandement of Pharaoh: he levied of every man of the people of the land, according to his value, silver and golde to give unto Pharaoh Nechoh.

36 Jehoiakim was five and twentie yeere olde, when he began to reigne, & he reigned eleven yeeres in Jerusalem. His mothers name also was Zebudah the daughter of Bedaiah of Kumah.

37 And hee did evil in the sight of the Lord, according to all that his fathers had done.

1 ¶ In his dayes came Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel by, & Jehoiakim became his servant thre yeere: afterward he turned, and rebelled against him.

2 And the Lord sent against him bandes of the Caldees, and bandes of the Aramites, and bandes of the Moabites, & bandes of the Ammonites, and he sent them against Judah, to destroy it, * according to the worde of the Lord, which he spake by his servants the Prophets.

3 Surely by the commandement of the Lord came this upon Judah, that hee might put them out of his sight for the sinnes of Manasseh, according to all that he did,

4 And that for the innocent blood that he shed, (for he filled Jerusalem with innocent blood) therefore the Lord woulde not pardon it.

5 Concerning the rest of the actes of Jehoiakim, and all that he did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Judah?

6 So Jehoiakim slep with his fathers, and Jehoiachin his sonne reigned in his stead.

7 ¶ And the king of Egypt came no more out of his lande: for the king of Babel had taken from the river of Egypt, unto the river Berath, all that perteyned to the king of Egypt.

8 ¶ Jehoiachin was eightene yeere olde, when he began to reigne, and reigned in Jerusalem thre moneths. His mothers name also was Nehushtra, the daughter of Ethanath of Jerusalem.

9 And he did evil in the sight of the Lord, according to all that his father had done.

10 ¶ In that tyme came the servants of Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel by against Jerusalem: so the cite was besieged.

11 And Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel came against the cite, and his servants did besiege it.

12 Then Jehoiachin the King of Judah came out against th^e king of Babel, he, and his mother, and his servants, and the king of Babel tooke him in the eight pere of his reigne.

 of Babel.

C H A P. XXV.

Jerusalem is besieged of Nebuchad-nezzar, and taken. 7 The somes of Zedekiah are slaine before his eyes, and after are his owne eyes put out.
 21 Judah is brought to Babylon. 23 Gedaliah is slaine. 27 Jehoiachin is exalted.

1 ADd * in the ninth pere of his reigne, the tenth moneth and tenth day of the moneth Jhebuchad-nezzar King of Babel came, he, and all his hoste against Jerusalem, and pitched against it, & they built fortres against it round about it.

2 So the citie was besieged vnto the ele-uenth pere of King Zedekiah.

3 And the ninth day of the moneth the famine was sore in the citie, so that there was no bread for the people of the land.

4 Then the citie was broken vp, and all the men of warre fled by night, by the way of the gate, which is betwene two walles that was by the Kings garden:
 now the Caldees were by the citie round about: and the King went by the way of the wilderness.

5 But the armie of the Caldees pursued after the King, and tooke him in the de-fertes of Jericho, and all his hoste was scattered from him.

6 Then they tooke the King, and carried him vp to the King of Babel to Babilah,

7 And they slew the somes of Zedekiah before his eyes, and put out the eyes of Zedekiah, and bound him in chames, and carried him to Babel.

8 And in the sit moneth, and the nine-tenth pere of King Jhebuchad-nezzar King of Babel, came Jhebusar adan chiefe steward and seruant of the King of Babel, to Jerusalem,

9 And burnt the house of the Lord, and the Kings house, & all the houses of Jerusalem, and al the great houses burnt he with fire.

10 And all the army of the Caldees that were with the chiefe steward, brake down the walles of Jerusalem round about.

11 And the rest of the people that were left in the citie, and those that were fled and s fallen to the King of Babel, with the remnant of the multitude, did Jhe-busar adan chiefe steward carie away captiue.

12 But the chiefe steward left of the poore of the land to dress the vines, and to till the lande.

13 * Also the pillers of brasse that were in the house of the Loide, and the bases, & the brazen Sea that was in the house of the Loide, did the Caldees breake, and caried the brasse of them to Babel.

14 The pottes also and the beynes, and the instruments of musike, and the incense altres, and all the vessels of brasse that they ministered in, tooke they away.

15 And the asse pannes, and the basens, & all that was of gold, and that was of siluer, tooke the chiefe steward away,

16 With the two pillers, one Sea & the bases, which Salomon had made for the house of the Loide: the brasle of all these vessels was without weight.

17 * The height of the one pillar was eightene cubits, & the chapiter thereon was brasle, and the height of the chapiter was with netwoke three cubites, and pomegranates vpon the chapiter round about, al of brasle: and likes wise was the second pillar with the net-woke.

18 And the chiefe steward took Seraiah the chiefe Priest, and Zephaniah the second Priest, and the three keepers of the doore.

19 And out of the citie he tooke an Enunche that had the ouersight of the men of warre, and five men of them that were in the Kings presence, which were found in the citie, and Sopher captaine of the hoste, who ministered the people of the lande, and three hore men of the people of the lande, that were found in the citie.

20 And Jhebusar adan chiefe steward tooke them, and brought them to the King of Babel to Babilah.

21 And the King of Babel smote them, and slew them at Babilah in the land of Yamath.

Yamah. So Judah was carryed as waye captiue out of his owne land.
 22 * Howbeit there remained people in the lande of Judah, whome Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel left, made Sedaliah the sonne of Ahikam þ sonne of Shaphan ruler ouer them.
 23 Then when all the captiues of the hoste and their men hearde, that the king of Babel had made Sedaliah go-uernour, they came to Sedaliah to Whizpah, to wit, Ahmael the sonne of Achamah, and Johanan the sonne of Kareah, & Seraiah the sonne of Tanhumeth the Netophathite, and Jaazaiah the sonne of Baachaihi, they and their men.
 24 And Sedaliah I sware to them, & to their men, and sayd vnto them, Feare not to be the seruants of the Caldees:
 dwell in the land, and serue the king of Babel, and ye shalbe well.
 25 * But in the seventh moneth Ahmael

 Elshama of the kings seede, came, and rennen with him, & smote Sedaliah, and he dyed, and so did he the Jewes, and the Caldees that were with him at Whizpah.

 26 Then all the people both smal & great and the captiues of the armie arose, and came to m Egypt: for they were afraid of the Caldees.
 27 Notwithstanding in the seven & thirtieth pere after * Jehoiachin king of of Judah out of the pylon, 28 And spake kindly to him, and set his throne above the throne of the kinges that were with him in Babel, 29 And changed his pylon garments: &

 he did continually eat bread before him,

THE FIRST BOOKE OF THE "Chronicles," or Paralipomenon.

THE ARGUMENT.

THe Jewes comprehend both these booke in one, which the Grecians because of y length deuide into two: and they are called Chronicles, because they note briefly the histories from Adam to the returne fro their captiuitie in Babylon. But these are not those booke of Chronicles, which are so oft mentioned in y booke of Kings of Iudah & Israel, which dyd at large set forth the storie of both the kingdome, and afterward perished in the captiuitie:
 but an abbridgement of the same, and were gathered by Ezra, as the Iewes write, after their returne from Babylon. This first booke containeth a brieue rehearsal of the children of Adam vnto Abraham, Izhak, Iaakob, and the twelue Patriarches, chiefly of Iudah and of the reigne of Dauid, because Christ came of him according to the flesh. And therefore it setteth forth more amply his actes, both concerning ciuil government, and also the administration, & care of things concerning religion, for the good successe wherof he reioyeth, and giueth thanks to the Lord.

CHAPTER VII.

The genealogie of Issachar, 6 Benjamin, 13 Naphtali, 14 Manasseh, 20 Ephraim, 30 Asher.

- 1 And the sonnes of Issachar were * Tola and * Puay, * Jathub, and * Shimron, four,

* Or, Phuaah, a Who also is called Iob, Gen. 2. And 46. 13.

2 And the sonnes of Cola, Dzzi, and Kes phatah, and Jeriel, and Jahmai, and Abblan, and Shennuel, heades in the householdes of their fathers. Of Cola were valiant men of warre in their generations, ^b whose number was in the dayes of David two and twentie thousand, and five hundredth.

3 And the sonne of Dzzi was Izrahatah, and the sonnes of Izrahatah, Michael, and Obadiah, and Joel, and Alhiah, ^c five men all princes.

4 And with them in their generations after the household of their fathers were bandes of men of warre for battell, five and thirtie thousand: for they had many wives and children.

5 And their ^d brethren among all the families of Machar were valiant men of war, reckoned in al by their genealogies foure score and seuen thousand.

6 ¶ The sonnes of Beniamin were Bela, and Becher, and ^e Jediael, ^e three.

7 And the sonnes of Bela, Esbon, & Dzzi, and Dzziel, and Jerimoth, and Iri five heades of ^f householdes of their fathers, valiant men of warre, & were reckoned by their genealogies, two and twentie thousand and thirtie and foure.

8 And the sonnes of Becher, Zemirah, and Joash, and Etieser, and Etioenai, and Dmti, and Jerimoth, and Abiah, & Matboth, and Alamerth: all these were the sonnes of Becher.

9 And they were nombred by their genealogies according to their generations, and the chiefe of the houles of their fathers, valiant men of warre, twentie thousand and two hundredth.

10 And the sonne of Jediael was Bilhan, and the sonnes of Bilhan, Jenuh, and Beniamin, and Ghud, & Chenadnah, & Zethan, and Charbith, & Alshahar.

11 All these were the sonnes of Jediael, chiefe of the fathers, valiant men of war, seuentene thousand and two hundredth, marching in battell aray to the warre.

12 And Shuppim, and Huppim were the sonnes of Ir, but Hulthim was the sonne ^g of ^h another.

13 ¶ The sonnes of Naphtali, Jahziel, & Guni, and Teser, and ⁱ Shallum of the sonnes of Bilhab.

14 The sonne of Manasseh was Ashuel, whome she bare unto him, but his concubine of Aram bare Machir the ^k father of Gilead.

15 And Machir tooke to wife the sister of Huppim & Shuppim, and the name of their sister was Maachah. And ^l name of the seconde sonne was Zelophehad, & Zelophehad had daughters.

16 And Maachah ^m wife of Machir bare a sonne, & called his name ⁿ Peresh, and the name of his brother was Sheresh: and his sonnes were Blam & Rakem.

17 And the sonne of Manasseh was Bedai. These were the sonnes of Gilead the sonne of Machir, ^o sonne of Manasseh.

18 And ^p his sister Polecheth bare Ishod, and Abiezer, and Mahalah.

19 And the sonnes of Semida were Abian, and Shechem, and Iukhi, and Aman.

20 ¶ The sonnes also of Ephraim were Shuthelah, and Zered his sonne, and Ehatath his sonne, and his sonne Eladab, and Ehatath his sonne.

21 And Zabab his sonne, and Shuthelah his sonne, & Ser, & Elead: and the men of ^q Gath that were borne in the lande, slew them, because they came downe to take away their cattel.

22 Therefore Ephraim their father mourned many dayes, & his ^r brethren came to comfort him.

23 And when he went in to his wife, shee concurred, and bare him a sonne, and he called his name Berehah, because affliction was in his house.

24 And his ^s daughter was Sherah, which ^t buyeth Beth-horon the neyther, and the upper, and Dizen Sherah.

25 And Isephah was his ^u sonne, and Kes sheph, and Telah his sonne, & Echan his sonne.

26 Laadan his sonne, Ammihud his sonne, Elshama his sonne.

27 Ron his sonne, Jehoshua his sonne.

28 And their possessions & their habitations were Beth-el, & the villages thereof, and Eastward Naaran, & Westward Gezer with the villages thereof, Shechem also and the villages thereof, unto ^v Azrah and the villages thereof.

29 And by the places of the children of Manasseh, Beth-shean & her villages, Taanach and her villages, Megiddo & her villages, Doi, and her villages. In those dwelt the children of Joseph the sonne of Israel.

30 ¶ The sonnes of Asher were Imnah, and Inah, and Ishuai, and Beriah, & Serah their sister.

31 And the sonnes of Beriah, Heber, and Balchiel, which is the father of Bizzaith.

32 And Heber begat Japhlet, & Shomer, and Hotham, and Shuah their sister.

33 And the sonnes of Japhlet were Paslach, and Binhal, and Ashuath: these were the children of Japhlet.

34 And the sonnes of Shamer, Ahi, and Kohgah, Ichubbah, and Aram.

35 And the sonnes of his brother Helam were Zophah, and Imna, & Sheleth and Amal.

36 The sonnes of Zophah, Huah, & Hare nepher, & Hiral, and Beri, & Imrah, and Bezer, and Hod, and Shamma, and Shushah, and Ithrar, and Beera.

38 And ^w sonnes of Jether, Jephumeh, and Wipha and Ara.

39 And the sonnes of Dila, Yarah, and Yaniel, and Kiza.

40 All these were the children of Asher, the heades of their fathers houses, noble men, valiant men of war & chiefe princes, & they were reckoned by their genealogies for warre and for battell to the number of fixe & twentie thousand men.

14 ¶ And of the Leuites, Sheaniah the sonne of Hathub, p^r sonne of Kiriam, the sonne of Hathabiah of the sonnes of Merari,

15 And Wakbakkar, Yereth and Galal, & Mattaniah the sonne of Micha, p^r sonne of Rechi, the sonne of Meshay, 16 And Abadiah the sonne of Sheaniah, the sonne of Galal, the sonne of Jeduthun, and Berechiah, the sonne of Ussai, the sonne of Ekanah, that dwelt in the billages of the Bethpachites.

17 ¶ And the porters were Shallum, and Akkub, & Talmon, and Ahiman, & their brethren: Shallum was the chiefe,

18 For they were porters to this time by companies of the children of Leui unto the kings gate Eastward, 19 And Shallum the sonne of Koye the sonne of Ebiasaph the sonne of Koyah, & his brethren the Kohathites (of p^r house of their father) were ouer the woike, and office to keepe the gates of the Tabernacle: so their families were ouer p^r holte of the loyd, keeping the entrie.

20 And Whinehas the sonne of Eleazar was their guide, and the loyd was with him.

21 Zechariah the sonne of Meshelemiah was the porter of the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, 22 All these were chosen for porters of the gates, two hundred and twelue, which were nombred according to their genealogies by their townes. Dauid established these and Samuel p^r Seer* in their perpetual office.

23 So they and their children had the ouersight of the gates of the house of the loyd, euen of the house of the Tabernacle by wardes.

24 The porters were in foure quarters Eastward, Westward, Northward, & Southward.

25 And their brethren, which were in their townes, came at s^e seuen dayes fro time to time with them.

26 For these foure chiefe porters were in perpetual office, & were of the Leuites and had charge of the chambers, & of the treasures in the house of God.

27 And they lay rounde about the house of God, because the charge was theirs, and they caused it to be opened euerie morning.

28 And certaine of them had the rule of the ministring vessels: for they brought them in by tale, and brought them out by tale.

29 Some of them also were appointed ouer the instrumentes, and ouer all the vessels of the Sanctuarie, & of the flour, and the wine, and the oyle, and the in-

31 And Mattithiah one of the Leuites which was p^r eldest sonne of Shallum the Kohathite, had p^r charge of the things that were made in the frying pan.

32 And other of their brethren the sonnes of Kohath had the ouersight of p^r hety- head to prepare it euerie Sabbath.

33 And these are the fingers, the chiefe fathers of the Leuites, which dwelt in the chambers, and had none other charge: for they had to do in that busines daye and night.

34 These were the chiefe fathers of the Leuites according to their generations, and the principall which dwelt at Jerusalem.

35 ¶ And in Gibeon dwelt the father of Gibeon, Feiel, and the name of his wife was Maachah.

36 And his eldest sonne was Abdon, then Zur, and Kish, and Baal, and Her, and Rabab, 37 And Gedoz, and Ahio, and Zechariah, and Mikloth.

38 And Mikloth begate Shimeam: they also dwelt with their brethren at Jerusalem, euen by their brethren.

1 The battell of Saul against the Philistims, 4 In which he dieth, 6 And his sonnes also. 13 The cause of Sauls death.

I THE Philistims fought against Israel: and the men of Israel fled before the Philistims, & fell downe slaine in mount Gilboa. 2 And p^r Philistims pursued after Saul and after his sonnes, & the Philistims smote Jonathan, and Abinadab, and Malchithua the sonnes of Saul.

3 And the battell was loye against Saul, & the archers hit him, & he was wounded of the archers.

4 Then said Saul to his armour bearer, Draw out thy sword, & thrust mee through therewith, lest these vncircumcised come & mock at me: but his armour bearer would not, for he was sore afraid: therfore Saul took p^r sword & fel by it.

1. Sam. 31. 2.

Ebr. found.

5 And when this armour bearer saw that Saul was dead, he fell likewise upon the sword, and died.

6 So Saul died and his three sonnes, & all his house, they died together.

7 And when all the men of Israel that were in the valley, saw howe they fled, and that Saul and his sonnes were dead, they looke their cities, and fled awaie, and the Philistines came, and dwelt in them.

8 And on the morow when the Philistines came to spoyle them that were flaine, they found Saul and his sonnes lying in mount Gilboa.

9 And when they had stript him, they tooke his head and his armour, & sent them into the lande of the Philistines round about, to publish it vnto their idoles, and to the people.

10 And they layde vpon his armour in the house of their god, & set vpon his head in the house of ^a Dagon.

11 ¶ When all they of Iabely Gilead heard al that the Philistines had done to Saul, 12 ¶ Then they arose (all the valiant men) and tooke the bodie of Saul, and the bodies of his sonnes, and brought them to Iabely, & buried the bones of them vnder an oke in Iabely, and fasted seuen dayes.

13 So Saul died for his transgression, that he committed against the Lord, ^a euen against the woide of the Lord, which he kept not, and in that he sought & asked counsell of a ^b familiar spirit, 14 And asked not of the Lord: therefore he slew him, and turned the kingdome vnto Dauid the sonne of Ithai.

CHAP. XL

After the death of Saul, Dauid anointed in Hebron. 1 The Jebusites rebel against Dauid, from whom he taketh the tower of Zion. 6 Joab was made captain. 10 His valiant men.

1 ¶ You^a al Israel gathered themselves vnto Dauid vnto Hebron, saying, Behold, we are thy bones and thy flesh.

2 And in time past, euen when Saul was king, thou leddest Israel out and in: and the Lord thy God sayde vnto thee, Thou shalt feede my people Israel, and thou shalt be captaine ouer my people Israel.

3 So came all the Elders of Israel to the king to Hebron, and Dauid made a covenant with them in Hebron before the Lord. And they anointed Dauid king ouer Israel, ^a according to the woide of the Lord by the hand of Samuel.

4 ¶ And Dauid and all Israel went to Ierusalem, which is Iebus, where were the Jebusites, the inhabitantes of the land.

5 And the inhabitantes of Iebus said to Dauid, Thou shalt not come in hither. ¶ But these Iebusites Dauid tooke the tower of Zion, which is the citie of Dauid.

6 And Dauid said, ^a Whosoever smiteth the Jebusites first, shall be chiefe and captain. So Joab the sonne of Zeruiah went first vpon, and was captaine.

7 And Dauid dwelt in the tower: therefore they called it the citie of Dauid.

8 ¶ And hee built the citie on euerie side, ^a 2. Sam. 5. 9. from Billo enuen round about: & Joab repaired the rest of the citie.

9 And Dauid prospered, and grew: for the Lord of hostes was with him.

10 ¶ These also are the chiefe of the valiant men that were with Dauid, and iopned their force with him in his kingdome with all Israel, to make him king ouer Israel, according to the woide of the Lord.

11 And this is the number of the valiant men whom Dauid had, Iashobeam the sonne of Hachmoni, the ^b chiefe among thirty: hee left by his speare against three hundred, whom he slew at one time.

12 And after him was Eleazar the sonne of ^c Dodo the Ahohite, which was one of the three valiant men.

13 He was with Dauid at Baf-dammim, and there the Philistines were gathered together to battell: and there was a parcel of ground full of sharpes, and the people fled before the Philistines.

14 And they stood in the middes of the field, and slew it, and slew the Philistines: for the Lord gaue a great victorie, 15 ¶ And thre of the ^d thirtie captaines went to a rocke to Dauid, into the caue of ^e Bullam. And the armie of the Philistines camped in the valley of Rephaim.

16 And when Dauid was in the holde, the Philistines garison was at Beth-lehem.

17 And Dauid longed, and said, ^f Oh, that one would giue me ^g a drinke of the water of the well of Beth-lehem that is at the gate.

18 ¶ Then these three brake thorow the hoste of the Philistines, and drew water out of the well of Beth-lehem that was by the gate, and tooke it, and brought it in Dauid: but Dauid would not drinke of it, but poured it for an oblation to the Lord.

19 And said, Verily not God suffer me to do this: should I drinke the ^h blood of these mens lines? for they haue brought it with the iropardie of their lines: therefore hee would not drinke it: these things did these three mightie men.

20 ¶ And Abihai the brother of Joab, he was chiefe of the three, and hee left by his speare against three hundred, and slew them, and had the name among the three.

21 And they helped David againt s that bande: for they were all valiant men and were captaynes in the hoste.

22 For at þe time day by daye there came to David to helpe him, until it was a great hoste, like the hoste of ^h God.

23 And these are the numbers of the captaynes that were armed to battell, and came to David to Hebron to turne the kingdome of Saul to him, according to the word of the Lord.

24 The childre of Judah that bare shield and ^h speare, were sixe thousand & eyght hundred armed to the warre.

25 Of the children of Simeon valiant men of warre, seven thousande and an hundred.

26 Of the children of Levi four thousand and sixe hundred.

27 And Jehoiada was the chief of them of Aaron: and with him three thousand and seven hundred.

28 And Zadok a pong man very valiant, and of his fathers housholde came two and twentie captaynes.

29 And of the children of Benjamin the chiefest of Saul three thousand: for a great part of them unto that time kept the ward of the house of Saul.

30 And of the children of Ephraim twentie thousande, & eight hundred valiant men and famous men in the housholde of their fathers.

31 And of the halfe tribe of Manasse eightene thousande, which were appointed by name to come & make David king.

32 And of the children of Machar which were men that had understanding of the times, to know what Israel ought to do: the heads of them were two hundred, & all their brethren were at their commandement.

33 Of Zebulun that went out to battell, expert in warre, & in all instruments of warre, fiftie thousande which could set the battell in aray: they were not of a double heart.

36 And of Asher that went out to the battell and were trapped in the warres, fourie thousand.

37 And of the other stoc of Jordan of the Kenyettes, and of the Gadites, and of the halfe Tribe of Manasse with all instruments of warre to fight with, an hundred and twentie thousand.

38 All these men of warre that could lead an army, came with bright heart to Hebron to make David king over all Israel: and all the reit of Israel was of one accord to make a king.

39 And there they were with David thre dayes, eating and drynking: for their brethren had prepared for them.

40 Wherofore they that were nere them burnt Iffachar, and Zebulun, & Naphtali brought byade byon asses, and on camels, and on mules, and on oxen, even to eat flour, figges, and resins, & wine and oyle, and becues and sheepe abundantly: for there was hope in Israel.

CHAP. XIII.

7 The Arke is brought againe from Kirith-icarim to Ierusalem. 9 Vz. a dieth because hee touched it.

1 AND David counseled with the captaynes of thousandes & of hundredes, and with all the gournournes.

2 And David said to all the Congregation of Israel, If it seeme good to you, and that it procedeth of the Lord our God, wee will sende to and fro unto our brethren, that are left in all the land of Israel (for with them are the Priests and the Levites in the cities and their suburbs) that they may assembl themselves unto vs.

3 And we will bring againe the Arke of our God to vs: for we sought not unto it in the dayes of Saul.

4 And all the Congregation answered, Let vs do so: for the thing seemed good in the eyes of all the people.

5 So David gathered all Israel together from Shihon in Egypt, even unto the entering of Hamath, to bring the Arke of God from Kirith-icarim.

6 And David went by and all Israel to Balaath, in Kirith-icarim, that was in Judah, to bring by from thence the Arke of God the Lord that dwelleth betwene the Cherubins, where his name is called on.

7 And they caried the Arke of God in a new cart out of the house of Abinadab: and Dizza and Ahio guided the cart.

8 And David and all Israel played before God with all their might, both with songs and with harps, and with viols, and with timbels and with cymbals, and with trumpets.

9 And when they came unto the thershing flooe of Chidon, Dizza put forth his hand to hold the Arke, for the oren did shake it.

10 But the wrath of the Lord was kindled against Dizza, and hee snorechum, because he layed his hand vpon the Arke: so he dyed there before God.

11 And David was angrie, because the Loide had made a breache in Dizza, and he called the name of that place Perez-lyza unto this day.

Hiram sendeth wood and workmen to Dauid, & the names of his children. 1. 14 By the counsell of God hegoeth against the Philistims, and overcometh them. 15 God fighteth for him.

1 Then sent Hiram the king of Tyrus messengers to Dauid, and cedar trees, with maions and carpenters to build him an house.

2 Therefore Dauid knew that the Lord had confirmed him king ouer Israel, & that his kingdom was set vp on his, because of his people Israel.

3 Also Dauid tooke mo wiuues at Jerusalem, and Dauid begate mo sonnes and daughters.

4 And there are the names of the childre which he had at Jerusalem, Shammua, and Shobab, Nathan, and Salomon,

5 And Ithar, & Eshua, and Elpalet,

6 And Nogah, and Nepeg, & Japhia,

7 And Eshbama, and Bechada, & Elphalel.

8 But when the Philistims heard that Dauid was anointed king ouer Israel, all the Philistims came vp to seeke Dauid. And when Dauid heard, he wet out against them.

9 And the Philistims came, & spied them selues in the valley of Rephaim.

10 Then Dauid asked counsel at God, saying, Shall I go by agaynst the Philistims, and wilt thou deliuer them into mine hande? And the Lord sayd vnto him, Go, by: for I will deliuer them into thine hand.

11 So they came by to Baal-perazim, & Dauid smote them there: and Dauid saide, God hath deuident mine enemies with mine had, as waters are deuident: therefore they called the name of that place, Baal-perazim.

12 And there they had left their gods: and Dauid saide, Let them euen bee burnt with fire.

13 Again the Philistims came and spied them selues in the valley.

14 And when Dauid asked again counsel at God, God said to him, Thou shalt not go by after them, but turne away from them, that thou maiest come vpon them ouer agaynst the mulberie trees.

15 And when thou hearest the noise of one going in the tops of the mulberie trees, then go out to battell: for God is gone forth before thee, to smite the host of the Philistims.

16 So Dauid did as God had commanded him: and they smote the host of the Philistims from Gibeon euen to Gazer.

17 And the same of Dauid went out into all lands, & the Lord brought the feare of him vpon all nations.

Dauid prepareth an house for the Arke, & The number and order of the Leuites. 15 The singers are chosens among them. 25 They bring againe the Arke with ioy. 29 Dauid dannceth before it, & despoiseth of his wife Michal.

1 And Dauid made him houses in the citie of Dauid, and prepared a place for the Ark of God, and pitched for it a tent.

2 Then Dauid said, None ought to carrie the Ark of God, but the Leuites: for the Lord hath chosen them to beare the Ark of the Lord, and to minister vnto him for euer.

3 And Dauid gathered all Israel together to Jerusalem to bring by the Ark of the Lord vnto his place, which he had ordeyned for it.

4 And Dauid assembled the sonnes of Naaron, and the Leuites.

5 Of the sonnes of Kohath Briel the chief, and his brethren six score.

6 Of the sonnes of Merari, Alaiah the chief, and his brethren two hundred and twentie.

7 Of the sonnes of Gershon, Joel the chief, and his brethren an hundred and thirtie.

8 Of the sonnes of Elizaphan, Shemaiah the chief, and his brethren two hundred.

9 Of the sonnes of Iebson, Etziel the chief, and his brethren foure score.

10 Of the sonnes of Bizziel, Ammadab the chief, and his brethren an hundred and twelue.

11 And Dauid called Kadok & Abiathar the Priests, and of the Leuites, Briel, Alaiah and Joel, Shemaiah, and Etziel, and Ammadab:

12 And he sayde vnto them, Ye are the chief fathers of the Leuites: sanctifie your selues, and pour brethren, and bring by the Ark of the Loide God of Israel vnto the place that I haue prepared for it.

13 For because ye were not there at the first, the Lord our God made a breach among vs: for we sought him not after due order.

14 So the Priests & the Leuites sanctified themselves to bring by the Ark of the Lord God of Israel.

15 And the sonnes of the Leuites bare the Ark of God vpon their shoulders with the barres, as Moses had commanded, according to the word of the Lord.

16 And Dauid spake to the chief of the Leuites, that they shoulde appoint certayne of their brethren to sing with instruments of musike, with viols and harpes, and cymbales, that they might make a founde, and list by their voyce with ioy.

g These instruments and other ceremonies, which they obserued, were instructions of their infancie, which continued to the coming

17 So the Levites appointed Heman the sonne of Joel, and of his brethren Asaph the sonne of Berechiah, & of the sonnes of Merari their brethren, Ethan the sonne of Kuhlthah, 18 And with them their brethren in the second degree, Zechariah, Ben, and Jaaziel, & Shemiramoth, & Jehiel, and Duni, Eliab, and Benaiah, & Gaaseiah, and Mattithiah, and Eiphelah, and Hikhnah, and Obed Edom, and Jeiel the porters.
 19 So Heman, Asaph and Ethan were singers to make a sound with cymbales of blasse, 20 And Zechariah, and Hziel, and Shemiramoth, and Jehiel, and Duni, and Eliab, and Gaaseiah, & Benaiah with viols on Alamoth, 21 And Mattithiah, and Eiphelah, and Hikhnah, and Obed Edom, and Jeiel, and Asayah, with harpes upon Shemith tenazrah.
 22 But Chenaniah the chiefe of the Levites had the charge, bearing the burden in the charge, for he was able to instruct.
 23 And Berechiah and Elkanah were porters for the Arke.
 24 And Shekanah and Jehoshaphat & Methaneel and Amasai, & Zechariah, and Benaiah, and Giezer the Priestes did blow with trumpets before the Arke of God, and Obed Edom and Jeiah were porters for the Arke.
 25 So David and the Elders of Israel and the captaines of thousands went to bring by the Arke of the covenant of the Lord from the house of Obed Edom with iop.
 26 And because that God helped the Levites that bare the Arke of the covenant of the Lord, they offered seven bullocks and seven rams.
 27 And David had on him a linen garment, as all the Levites that bare the Arke, and the singers & Chenaniah that had the chiefe charge of the singers: and upon David was a linen Ephod.
 28 Thus all Israel brought by the Arke of the Lord's covenant with shouting & sound of coper, and with trumpets, & with cymbales, making a sound with viols and with harpes.
 29 And when the Arke of the covenant of the Lord came into the cite of David, Michal the daughter of Saul looked out at a window, and saw King David dancing and playing, and she despised him in her heart.

CHAP. XVI.

The Arke being placed, they offer sacrifices, David ordereth Asaph and his brethren to minister before the Lord, & He appointeth a notable psalm to be sung in praise of the Lord.

1 So they brought in the Arke of God, and set it in the middes of the Tabernacle that David had pitched for it, and they offered burnt offerings & peace offerings before God.

 2 And when David had made an end of offering the burnt offering and the peace offerings, he blessed the people in the name of the Lord.
 3 And he dealt to euerie one of Israel both man and woman, to euerie one a cake of bread, and a piece of flesh, and a bottell of wine.
 4 And he appointed certaine of the Levites to minister before the Arke of the Lord, & to rehearse and to thanke and to playe the Lord God of Israel,
 5 Asaph the chiefe, & next to him Zechariah, Jeiel, & Shemiramoth, & Jehiel, and Mattithiah, and Eliab, & Benaiah, and Obed Edom, & Jeiel with instruments, viols & harpes, and Asaph to make a sound with cymbales, 6 And Benaiah and Jahasiel Priestes, with trumpets continually before the Arke of the covenant of God.
 7 Then at that time David did appoint at the beginning to give thanks to the Lord by the hande of Asaph and his brethren:
 8 * Wapfe the Lord and call upon his name: declare his works among the people, 33 Let the trees of the wood then reioyce at the presence of the Lord: for he commaunded to iudge the earth.

34 Praise the Lord, for he is good, for his mercie endureth for euer.

35 And say ye, Haue vs, O God, our saluation, & gather vs, & deliuer vs from the heathen, that we may praise thine holy Name, and glorie in thy praise.

36 Blessed be the Lord God of Israel for euer and euer: & let all people say, Do be it, and praise the Lord.

37 Then he left there before the Arke of the Lords covenant (Moyse and his brethren to minister continually before the Arke, that which was to be done euerie day:

38 And Dbed Edom and his brethren, three score and eight: and Dbed Edom the sonne of Jeduthun, and Hofah were porters.

39 And Zadok the Priest and his brethren the Priests were before the Tabernacle of the Lorde, in the hie place that was at Gibeon, 40 To offer burnt offerings vnto the Lord, vpon the burnt offering altar continually, in the morning and in the evening, euen according vnto all that is written in the Law of the Lorde, which he commaunded Israel.

41 And with them were Heman, and Jeduthun, & the rest that were chosen, (which were appointed by names) to praise the Lorde, because his mercie endureth for euer.

42 Euen with them were Heman and Jeduthun, to make a sound with the corners and with the ymbales, with excellent instruments of musike: & the somes of Jeduthun were at the gate.

43 And all the people departed, euerie man to his house: and Dauid returned to blese his house.

Now afterward when David dwelt in his house, he said to Nathan the Prophet, Behold, I have built an house of cedar trees, but the Arke of the Lords covenant remaineth vnder curtains.

2 Then Nathan said to David, Do all that is in thine heart: for God is with thee.

3 And the same night euen the word of God came to Nathan, saying,

4 Go, and tel Dauid my seruant, Thus saith the Lorde, Thou shalt not build me an house to dwell in:

5 For I have dwelt in no house, since the day that I brought out the children of Israel vnto this day, but I have bene from tent to tent, and from habitation to habitation.

6 Where soeuer I haue walked with all Israel, spake I one word to alic of the iudges of Israel (whome I commaunded to feede my people) saying, Why haue ye not build me an house of cedar trees?

7 Now therefore thus shalt thou say vnto my seruant Dauid, Thus saith the Lorde of hostes, I tooke thee from the sheepe cote, & from following the sheepe, that thou shouldest be a prince over my people Israel.

8 And I haue bene with thee whithersoer thou hast walked, and haue destropt all thine enemies out of thy sight, and haue made thee a name, like the name of the great men that are in the earth).

9 (Also I will appoint a place for my people Israel, and I will plant it, that they may dwell in their place, & moue no more: neither shall the wicked people breke their alic more, as at the beginning.

10 And since the time that I commaunded iudges over my people Israel, and I will subdue all thine enemies: therefore I say vnto thee, that the Lord will build thee an house.

11 And when thy dayes shalbe fulfilled to go with thy fathers, then will I raise vp thy seede after thee, which shalbe of thy somes, and wil stablish his kingdom.

12 He shall build me an house, & I will stablish his thronc for euer.

13 I will be his father, and he shalbe my sonne, and I will not take my mercie away from him, as I tooke it from him that was before thee.

14 But I will establish him in mine house, and in my kingdomc for euer, and his thronc shalbe stablished for euer.

15 According to all this vision, so Nathan spake to Dauid.

16 And Dauid the King went in late before the Lord and said, Who am I, O Lord God, & what is mine house, that thou hast brought me hither? For I Pet thou esteeming this a final thing, O God,

3 David is forbidden to build an house vnto the Lord. 11 Christ is promised vnder the figure of Solomon. 18 David giueth thanks, 23 And prayeth vnto God.

3 And the princes of the children of Ammon said to Hanni, Thinkest thou that Dauid doeth honour thy father, that he hath sent coforters vnto thee? Were not his seruants come to thee to search, to seeke & to spie out the land? Wherefore Hanniooke Dauid's seruants, and shamed them, and cut of their garments by the halfe vnto the buttockes, and sent them away.

5 And there went certaine and told Dauid concerning the men: and he sent to meeete the (for the me were exceedingly alshamed) and the king saide, Tarry at Iericho, until your beards be growe: then returne.

6 ¶ When the children of Ammon saue that theye stauke in the sight of Dauid, then sent Hanni and the children of Ammon a thousand talents of silver to hire them charres and horsemen out of Arain Nabarain and out of Arain Baachah, and out of Kobah.

7 And theye hired them two and thirtie thousand charres, & the King of Pharaoh and his people, which came and pitched before Gedebea: and the children of Ammon gathered them self together from their cities, and came to the battell.

8 ¶ And when Dauid heard, he sent Joab and all the hoste of the valiant men.

9 And the children of Ammon came out, and set their battell in aray at the gate of the cite. And the Kings that were come, were by them selues in the fildre.

10 When Joab saue that the front of the battell was against him before and behinde, then he chose out of all the choise of Israel, and set him self in aray to meeete the Ammites.

11 And the rest of the people he deliuered vnto the hand of Abisai his brother, & theye put them selues in aray against the children of Ammon.

12 And he saide, If I were he to strong for me, then thou shalt succour me: and if the children of Ammon preuaile against thee, then I will succour thee.

13 Be strong, and let vs thewe our selues valiant for our e people, and for the cities of our God, & let the worde doe that which is good in his owne sight.

14 So Joab and the people that was with him, came neere before the Ammites vnto the battell, and theye fled before him.

15 And when the children of Ammon sawe that the Ammites fled, theye fled also before Abisai his brother, & entred into the cite: so Joab came to Ierusalem.

16 ¶ And when the Ammites saue that theye were discouered before Israel, theye sent messengers & caused the Ammites to come forth that were berod the risner: and Shohach the captaine of the hoste of Hadarezer went before them.

And when Dauid had put him self in battell aray to meeete the Ammites, theye fought with him.

18 But the Ammites fled before Israel, and Dauid destroyed of the Ammites seuen thousand charres, and fourtie thousand footmen, and killed Shohach the captaine of the hoste.

19 And when the seruants of Hadarezer saue that theye fell before Israel, theye made peace with Dauid, & serued him. And the Ammites would no more succour the children of Ammon.

1 Rabbah destroyed. 2 The Ammonites tormented. 3 The Philistims are thus overcome with their gyants.

1 And when the peere was cryed, and the tyme that Kinges go out a warfare, Joab carried out strength of the armie, and destroyed the countrey of the children of Ammon, & came and besieged Rabbah (but Dauid tarried at Ierusalem) & Joab smote Rabbah and deuiroyed it.

2 ¶ Then Dauidooke perolme of their King from his head, and found it the weight of a talent of gold, with precious stones in it: and it was set on Dauid's head, and he brought away the spoyle of the cite exceeding much.

3 And he carped away the people that were in it, and cut them with sawes, & with harolues of piron, and with axes: euen thus did Dauid with all the cities of the children of Ammon. Then Dauid and all the people came againe to Ierusalem.

4 ¶ And after this also there arose warre at Gesser with the Philistims: then Sibbechai the Gushathite slew Sippai, of the children of Gharaphah, and theye were subdued.

5 And there was yet another battell with the Philistims: and Elhanan the sonne of Jair slew Lahmi, the brother of Goliath the Gittite, whose speare staffe was like a weavers draine.

6 And yet againe there was a battell at Gath, where was a man of a great stature, and his fingers were by sixes, euen foure & twenty, and was also the sonne of Gharaphah.

7 And when he reuiled Israel, Jehonathan the sonne of Shunee Dauid's brother did slay him.

8 These were borne vnto Gharaphah at Gath, and fell by the hand of Dauid, and by the hands of his seruants.

- 3 And Ioab answered, The Lorde create his people an hundred times for many as they be, & my lord ^d king: are they not al my lords seruants? wherefore doth my lord require this thing? why should he be a cause of trespass to Israel?
- 4 Nevertheless the Kings worde prevailed against Ioab. And Ioab departed and went through all Israel, and returned to Ierusalem.
- 5 And Ioab gaue the number & summe of the people vnto Dauid: and all Israel were ^d etween hundredth thousand men that drewe sworde: and Iudah was ^e foure hundredth & seuentie thousand men that drewe sworde.
- 6 But the Leuites and Beniamin counted he not among them: for the kings worde was abominable to Ioab.
- 7 ¶ And God was displeas'd with this thing: therefore he smote Israel.
- 8 Then Dauid said vnto God, I haue sinned greatly, because I haue done this thing: but now, I beseech thee, remove the iniquitie of thy seruant: for I haue done very foolishly.
- 9 And the Lord spake vnto Gad Dauids ^b Seer, saying,
- 10 Goe & tell Dauid, saying, Thus saith the Lord, I offer thee three things: chuse thee one of them, that I may doe it vnto thee.
- 11 So Gad came to Dauid, & said vnto him, Thus saith the Lord, Take to thee
- 12 Either three yeeres famine, or thre moneths to be destroyed before thine aduersaries, and the sworde of thine aduersaries: to take thee, or els the sworde of the Lorde and pestilence in the lande thre dayes, that the Angell of the Lord may destroy throughout all the coasts of Israel: nowe therefore aduise thee, what worde I shall bring againe to him that sent me.
- 13 And Dauid said vnto Gad, I am in a wonderfull strait, let me now fall into the hand of the Lorde: for his mercies are exceeding great, and let me not fall into the hand of man.
- 14 So the Lord sent a pestilence in Israel, and there fell of Israel seuentie thousand men.
- 15 ¶ And God sent the Angell into Ierusalem to destroy it. And ^a as he was destroying, the Lorde behelde, and ^b repented of the euill and said to the Angell that destroyed, It is nowe prouough, let thine hande cease. Then the Angell of the Lord stood by the threshing floore of ^c Oman the Iebusite.
- 16 And Dauid lift vp his eyes, and sawe the Angell of the Lorde stand betwene the earth & the heauen with his sword drawn in his hand, and stretched out toward Ierusalem, Then Dauid and

- the Elders of Israel, which were closethed in sacke, fell vpon their faces.
- 17 And Dauid said vnto God, Is it not I that commanded to number the people? It is euen I that haue sinned & haue committed euill, but these sheepe what haue they done? O Lorde my God, I beseeche thee, let thine hande be on me, and on my fathers house, & not on ^b the people for their destructiō.
- 18 ¶ Then the Angell of the Lorde commanded Gad to say to Dauid, that Dauid should goe vp, and set vp an altar vnto the Lord in the threshing floore of Oman the Iebusite.
- 19 So Dauid went by according to the saying of Gad, which he had spoken in the name of the Lord.
- 20 And Oman turned about, and sawe the Angell, and his foure loines that were with him, hid them selues, and Oman threshed wheate.
- 21 And as Dauid came to Oman, Oman looked and sawe Dauid, and went out of the threshing floore, and bowed him selfe to Dauid with his face to the ground.
- 22 And Dauid said to Oman, Giue me the place of thy threshing floore, that I may build an ^k altar therein vnto the Lord: giue it me for sufficient money, that the plague may be staid from the people.
- 23 Then Oman said vnto Dauid, Take it to thee, and let my lord the King doe that which seemeth him good: lo, I giue thee: bullockes for burnt offerings, and threshing instruments for wood, & wheat for meate offering, I giue it all.
- 24 And King Dauid saide to Oman, Not so: but I will paye it for sufficient money: for I will not take that which is thine for the Lord, nor offer burnt offerings without cost.
- 25 So Dauid gaue to Oman for that place ^m five hundredth shekels of golde by weight.
- 26 And Dauid built there an altar vnto the Lorde, & offered burnt offerings, and peace offerings, & called vpon the Lord, & he ⁿ answered him by fire from heauen vpon the altar of burnt offering.
- 27 And when the Lord had spoken to the Angell, he put by his sworde againe into his sheath.
- 28 At that time when Dauid sawe that the Lorde had heard him in the threshing floore of Oman the Iebusite, the he sacrificed there.
- 29 But the Tabernacle of the Lorde which Moses had made in the wilderness, and the altar of burnt offering were at that season in the hie place at Gibeon.
- 30 And Dauid could not go before it to aske counsel at God: for he was afraid of the sword of the Angell of the Lord)

And David said, This is the house of the Lord God, and this is the altar for the burnt offering of Israel.

2 And David commanded to gather together the strangers that were in the lande of Israel, and he set masons to hew and polish stones to build the house of God.

3 David also prepared much yron for the nailes of the doores & of the gates, and for the topnings, and abundance of brasse passing weight,

4 And cedar trees without number: for the Sidonians & they of Tyrus brought much cedar wood to David.

5 And David saide, Salomon my sonne is yong and tender, and we must build an house for the Lord, magnificent, excellent and of great fame and diguities throughout all countreies. I wil therefore now prepare for him. So David prepared verie much before his death.

6 Then he called Salomon his sonne, & charged him to build an house for the Lord God of Israel.

7 And David saide to Salomon, * My sonne, I purposed with my self to build an house to the name of the Lord my God,

8 But the worde of the Lord came to me, saying, * Thou hast shed much blood, & hast made great battels: thou shalt not build an house vnto my name: for thou hast shed much blood vpon the earth in my sight.

9 Beholde, a sonne is borne to thee, which shall be a man of rest, for I will give him rest fro all his enimies round about: therefore his name is Salomon: and I will send peace and quietnes vpon Israel in his daies.

10 * He shall build an house for my name, and he shall be my sonne, and I wil be his father, and I will establish the throne of his kingdome vpon Israel for ever.

11 Now therefore my sonne, the Lord shall be with thee, and thou shalt prosper, and thou shalt build an house to the Lord thy God, as he hath spoken of thee.

12 Whelpe the Lord give thee wisdom and vnderstanding, & give thee charge ouer Israel, enen to keepe the lawe of the Lord thy God.

13 Then thou shalt prosper, if thou take heed to obserue the statutes & the iudgements which the Lord commanded Moses for Israel: be strong & of good courage: feare not, neither be afraid e.

14 For behold, according to my sweate haue I prepared for the house of the Lord an hundred thousand talents of gold, and a thousand thousand talents of siluer, and of brasse & of yron passing weight: for there was abundance: I

16 Of golde, of siluer, and of brasse, and of yron there is no number. * Be therefore, and be doing, and the Lord wil be with thee.

h That is, go about it quickly.

17 David also commanded all the princes of Israel to helpe Salomon his sonne, saying,

Chap. 18. 1. d This declareth how greatly God detesteth the shedding of blood, seeing Dauid for this cause is staied to build the Temple of the Lord, albeit he enterprised no warre, but by Gods commandement and against his enimies.

2. Sam. 7. 13.

e He heareth that there can be no prosperitie, but when the Lord is with vs. f There are one-ly the means whereby Kings gouerne their subiects aright, and whereby the realmes do prosper and flourish. g For Dauid was poore in respect of salomon.

12 ¶ The sonnes of Kohath were Amram, Ishar, Hebron and Ozziel, foure.

13 * The sonnes of Amram, Aaron and Moyses: and Aaron was separated to sanctifie the most holie place, he & his sonnes for ever to burne incense before the Lozde, to minister to him, & to blisse in his Name for ever.

14 ¶ Moyses also the man of God, & his children were named with the ^b tribe of Leui.

15 The sonnes of Moyses were Gershom, and Elezer,

16 ¶ Of the sonnes of * Gershom was Shebuel the chiefe.

17 And the sonne of Elezer was Kehabiah the ^c chiefe: for Elezer had none other sonnes: but the sonnes of Kehabiah were vertie name.

18 The sonne of Ishar was Shelomith the chiefe.

19 The sonnes of Hebron were Feriah the first, Amariah the second, Jahaziel the third, and Jehamiah the fourth.

20 The sonnes of Ozziel were Michah the first, and Uthiah the second.

21 ¶ The sonnes of Merari were Pahli and Husfi. The sonnes of Pahli, Eleazar and Kisfi.

22 And Eleazar died, and had no sonnes, but daughters, and their ^d byethren the sonnes of Isai tooke them.

23 The sonnes of Husfi were Pahli, and Eder, and Jerimoth, thre.

24 These were the sonnes of Leui according to the house of their fathers, euen ^e ^f chiefe fathers according to their offices, according to the nuber of names & their summe that did the worke for the seruice of the house of the Lozde from the age of ^g twentie yeres and aboue.

25 For Dauid said, The Lord God of Israel hath giuen rest vnto his people, in their map dwell in Jerusalem for ever.

26 And also the Levites shall no more beare the Tabernacle and all the vessels for the seruice thereof.

27 Therefore according to the last words of Dauid, the Levites were nombred from twentie yere and aboue,

28 And their office was vnder the hande of the sonnes of Aaron, for the seruice of the house of the Lozde in the courtes, & chambers, and in the ^h purifying of all holie things, & in the worke of the seruice of the house of God,

29 Both for the shewbread, and for the fine flour, for the meat offering, and for the unleavened cakes, and for the fyled things, and for that which was roasted, and for all measures and use,

30 And for to stand euerie morning, to giue thanks and to praise the Lozde, & likewise at euen,

31 And to offer all burnt offerings vnto ⁱ the Lozde, in the Sabbaths, in the moneths, and at the appointed times, according to the number and according to their custome continually before the Lozde,

32 And that they should keepe the charge of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and the charge of the holie place, & the charge of the sonnes of Aaron their byethren in the seruice of the house of the Lozde.

CHAP. XXIII.

David assigneth offices vnto the sonnes of Aaron.

1 These are also the ^a diuisions of the sonnes of Aaron, The sonnes of Aaron were Nadab, and Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar.

2 But Nadab and Abihu died ^a before their father, and had no children: therefore Eleazar and Ithamar executed the Priestes office.

3 And Dauid distributed them, eue Zadok of ^b the sonnes of Eleazar, & Ahimelech of ^c the sonnes of Ithamar according to their offices in their ministration.

4 And there were found mo of the sonnes of Eleazar by the ^d number of men, and then of the sonnes of Ithamar. and they deuised them, to wit, among the sonnes of Eleazar, sirtene beads, according to the householde of their fathers, and among the sonnes of Ithamar, according to the householde of their fathers, eight.

5 Thus they distributed them by lot the one from the other, & so the rulers of the Sanctuarie and the rulers of the house of God were of the sonnes of Eleazar & of the sonnes of Ithamar.

6 And Sheamaiah the sonne of Netaneel the scribe of the Levites, wrote them before the King and the princes, and Zadok the Priest, and Ahimelech the sonne of Abiathar, & before the chiefe fathers of the Priestes & of the Levites, one familie being referred for Eleazar, & another referred for Ithamar.

7 And the first ^b lot fel to Jehoiarib, and the second to Jedaiah,

CHAP. XXVIII.

3 Because David was forbidden to build the Temple, he willethe Salomon and the people to performe it, 8 Exhorting him to feare the Lord.

1 NOW David assembled all the princes of Israel: the princes of the tribes, and the captaines of the bands that serued the King, & the captaines of thousands and the captaines of hundreths, and the rulers of all the substance & possession of the King, and of his sonnes, with the eunuches, and the mighty, and all the men of power, vnto Ierusalem.

2 And King David stode vp vpon his feete, & said, Yeare ye me, my brethren and my people: I purposed to haue built an house of the Lord for the Arke of the covenant of the vnto, and for a footstool of our God, and haue made ready for the building,

3 But God said vnto me, * Thou shalt not build an house for my Name, because thou hast bene a man of warre, and hast shed blood.

4 Yet as the Lord God of Israel chose me before all the house of my father, to be king over Israel for euer (for in Iudah would he chuse a prince, & of the house of Judah is the house of my father, and among the sonnes of my father he delisted in me to make me King over all Israel)

19 All, said he, by writing sent to me^k by the hande of the Loyde, which made me vnderstand al the workemanship of the paterne,

20 And Dauid said to Salomō his sounne, Be strong, & of a valiant courage and doe it: feare not, nor be afraid: fo: the Loyd God, euen my God is with thee: he wil not leaue thee nor forsake thee till thou hast finished all the worke fo: the seruice of the house of the Loyd.

21 Beholde also, the companies of the Prietes and the Leuites fo: all the seruice of the house of God, euen they shall be free thee fo: the whole worke, I weryer free heart that is skuffall in any manner of seruice. The princes also and al the people will be^l "wholy at thy commaundement.

CHAP. XXX.

1 The offering of Dauid & of the princes for the building of the Temple. 10 Dauid giueth thanks to the Lord. 20 He exhorteth the people to doe the same. 22 Salomon is created King. 25 Dauid dyeth, and Salomon his sounne reigneth in his stead.

1 Moreouer Dauid the King said vnto al the Congregation, God hath chosen Salomon mine only sounne pong and tender, & the worke is great: fo: this house is not fo: man, but fo: the^m Loyd God.

2 Now I haue prepared with al my possessions fo: the house of my God, gold fo: vessels of golde, and siluer fo: them of siluer, and brasse fo: thinges of brasse, yron fo: thinges of yron, and wood fo: thinges of wood, and onir stones, and stones to be set, and carbuncle stones, and of diuers colours, and all yprecious stones, and marble stones in abundance,

3 Moreover, because I haueⁿ desire in the house of my G O D, I haue of mine owne gold and siluer, which I haue giuen to the house of my God, beside all that I haue prepared fo: the house of the Sanctuarie,

4 Euen^o thee thousand talents of golde of the golde of Ephraim, and futen thousand talens of fined siluer, to ouerlap the walles of the houses,

5 The golde fo: the thinges of golde, and the siluer fo: thinges of siluer, and fo: all the worke by the handes of artificers: and who is^p willing^o to fill his hand to dap vnto the Loyd?

6 So the princes of the families, and the princes of the tribes of Israel, and the captaynes of thousandes and of hundredes, with the rulers of the Kings worke, offered willingly,

7 And they gaue fo: the seruice of the house of God fine thousand talents of golde, and ten thousand pices, and ten thousand talents of siluer, & eightene thousand talents of brasse, and one hundred thousand

9 And the people reioiced when they offered willingly: for they offered willingly vnto the Lord with a reioyced heart. And Dauid the King also was reioyced in great hope.

10 Therefore Dauid blessed the Lord before all the Congregation, and Dauid said, Blessed be thou, O Lord God of Israel our father, for ever and ever.
11 Thine, O Lord, is greatness and power, and glory, and victorie and praise: for all that is in heauen and in earth is thine: thine is the kingdom, O Lord, and thou excellest as head ouer all.

12 Both riches and honour come of thee, and thou requestest ouer all, and in thine hand is power & strength, and in thine hand it is to make great, and to giue strength vnto all.

13 Nowe therefore our God, we thanke thee, and praise thy glorious Name.

14 But who am I, and what is my people, that we should be able to offer willingly after this sort: for all things come of thee: and of thine owne hand we haue giuen thee.

perfit heart to keepe thy commandements, thy testimonies, & thy statutes, and to doe all things, and to builde the house which I haue prepared.

20 And Dauid saide to all the Congregation, Nowe bless the Lord our God. And all the Congregation blessed the Lord God of their fathers, and bowed downe their heads, and worshipped the Lord and the King.

21 And they offered sacrifices vnto the Lord, and on the morrow after that day, they offered burnt offerings vnto the Lord, euen a thousand pong bullockes, a thousand rammes, & a thousand sheepe, with their drinke offerings, and sacrifices in abundance for all Israel.

22 And they did eate and drinke before the Lord the same day with great ioy, and they made Salomon the soune of Dauid king the second time, and anointed him prince before the Lord, and Zadok for the hie Priest.

23 So Salomon sat on the throne of the Lord, as King in steade of Dauid his father, and prospered: and all Israel obeyed him.

24 And all the princes & men of power, and all the souldiers of King Dauid submitted themselves vnder King Salomon.

25 And the Lord magnified Salomon in dignitie, in the sight of all Israel, and gaue him so glorious a kingdom, as no King had before him in Israel.

26 Thus Dauid the soune of Ithai reigned ouer all Israel.

27 And the space that he reigned ouer Israel, was fourtie yeere: seuen yeere reigned he in Hebron, and thrie and thirtie yeere reigned he in Ierusalem.

28 And he died in a good age, full of daies, riches and honour, and Salomon his soune reigned in his stead.

29 Concerning the actes of Dauid the King first & last, beholde, they are written in the booke of Samuel the Seer, and in the booke of Nathan the Prophet, and in the booke of Gad the Seer.

THE SECOND BOOKE OF THE CHRONICLES.

THE ARGUMENT.

THIS second booke containeth briefly in effect that, which is comprehended in the two booke of the Kings: that is, from the reigne of Salomon to the destruction of Ierusalem, and the carrying away of the people captiue into Babylon. In this story are certaine things declared & set forth more copiously then in the booke of the Kings, & therefore serue greatly to the vnderstanding of the Prophets. But three things are here chiefly to be considered. First, that the godly Kings, when they sawe the plagues of God prepared against their country for sinne, had recourse to the Lord, and by earnest prayer were heard, and the plagues removed. The second, how it is a thing that greatly offendeth God, that such as feare him and professe his religion, should ioyne in amitie with the wicked. And thirdly, how the good rulers euer loued the Prophets of God, and were very zealous to set forth his religion throughout all their dominions, and contrariwise the wicked hated his ministers, depofed them, and for the true religion and word of God, set vp idolatrie, and serued God according to the fantasie of men. Thus haue we hitherto the chiefe actes from the beginning of the world to the building againe of Ierusalem, which was the two and thirtieth yere of Darius, and containe in the whole, three thousand, six hundred, threescore and eightene yeeres, & six moneths.

CHAP. I.

6 The offering of Salomon at Gibeon. 8 He prayeth unto God to give him wisdom: 11VV which he giveth him and more. 14 The number of his charrets and horses, 15 And of his riches.

1 When Salomon the sonne of Dauid was confirmed in his kingdome: and the Loide his God was with him, and magnified him highly.

2 And Salomon spake unto all Israel, into all Israel, and to the iudges, and to all the governours in all Israel, even the chiefe fathers.

3 So Salomon and all the Congregation with him went to the hie place that was at Gibeon: for there was the Tabernacle of the Congregation of God which Moyses the seruant of the Loide had made in the wilderness.

4 But the Arke of God had Dauid brought by from Kirith-iearim, when Dauid had made preparatiō for it: for he had pitched a tent for it in Ierusalem. 5 Wherever the brazen altar that Bezaleel the sonne of Dauid, the sonne of Iur had made, did he set before the Tabernacle of the Loide: and Salomon and the Congregation sought it.

6 And Salomon offered there before the Loide upon the brazen altar that was in the Tabernacle of the Congregation: such a thousand burnt offerings offered he vpon it.

7 ¶ The same night did God appeare vnto Salomon, & lide vnto him, & ke what I shall giue thee.

8 And Salomon saide vnto God, Thou hast shewed great mercy vnto Dauid my father, and hast made me to reigne in his stead.

9 Now therefore, O Loide God, let thy promise vnto Dauid my father be true: for thou hast made me King ouer a great people, like to the dust of the earth.

10 Give me now wilddome & knowledge, that I may goe out and goe in before this people: for who can iudge this thy great people?

11 And God saide to Salomon, Because this was in thine heart, and thou hast not asked riches, treasures nor honour, nor the silues of thine enemies, neither yet hast asked long life, but hast asked for thee wilddome and knowledge that thou mightest iudge my people, ouer whom I haue made thee King,

12 Wilddome and knowledge is graunted vnto thee, & I will giue thee riches and treasures and honour, so that there hath not bene the like among the kings which were before thee, neither after thee: shall there be the like.

13 Then Salomon came from his hie place, that was at Gibeon, to Ierusalem fro before the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and resigned ouer Israel.

14 And Salomon gathered the charrets and holienen: and he had a thousand and foure hundred charrets, & twelue thousand holienen, whom he placed in the charret cities, and with the King at Ierusalem.

15 And the King gaue siluer and golde at Ierusalem as stones, and gaue cedar trees as the wilde figge trees, that are abundantly in the plaine.

16 Also Salomon had hofes brought out of Egyppt and fine linnen: the Kings marchants receiued the fine linnen for a price.

17 They came by also and brought out of Egyppt some charret, worth sixe hundred shekels of siluer, that is an hofe for a hundred and fiftie: and thus they brought hofes to all the Kinges of the Hittites, and to the Kinges of Aram by their means.

CHAP. II.

1 The number of Salomons workemen to build the temple. 3 Salomon sendeth to Hiram the King of Tyrus for wood and workemen.

1 Then Salomon determined to build an house for the name of the Loide, and an house for his kingdome.

2 And Salomon toid out tenente thousand that bare burdens, and fourecoze thousand men to hewe stones in the mountaine, and thre thousand and sixe hundred to ouersee them.

3 And Salomon sent to Hiram King of Tyus, saying, As thou hast done to Dauid my father, and didst send him cedar trees to build him an house to dwell in, so doe to me.

4 Beholde, I build an house vnto the name of the Loide my God, to sanctifie it vnto him, and to burne swete incense before him, and for the continuall shewth bread, and for the burnt offerings of the morning and evening, on the Sabbath dayes, and in the newe moneths, and in the solenne feastes of the Loide our God: this a perpetuall thing for Israel.

5 And the house which I build, is great: for great is our God aboue all gods.

6 Who is he then that can be able to build him an house, when the heauen, and the heauen of heauens cannot containe him: who am I then if I shoulde build him an house: but I do it to burne incense before him.

7 Sende me now therefore a cunning man that can worke in golde, in siluer, and in brasse, and in iron, and in purple, and in crimosin and blew silke, and that can graue in grauen worke with the cunning men that are with me in Iudah & in Ierusalem, whom Dauid my father hath prepared.

8 Send me also cedar trees, fire trees & Algummin trees from Lebanon: for I knowe that thy seruants can skill to hewe timber in Lebanon: and behold, my seruants shall be with thee.

11 Then Huram king of Tyrus answered in writing which he sent to Salomon, Because the worde hath loued his people, he hath made thee king over them.

12 Huram said moreover, Blessed be the Lord God of Israel which made þe heauen and the earth, and that hath given vnto Dauid þe king a wise sonne, that hath discretion, pudence and vnderstanding to build an house for the Lord, and a palace for his kingdom.

13 Now therefore I haue sent a wise man, and of vnderstanding of my father Hurams,

14 The sonne of a woman of the daughters of Dan: and his father was a man of Tyrus, and he can skill to worke in gold, in silver, in brasse, in yron, in stone, and in timber, in purple, in blew silke, and in fine linnen and in crimosin, and can graue in all grauen workes, and hoper in all hopered workes that shalbe giuen him, with thy cunning men, and with the cunning men of my lord Dauid thy father.

15 Now therefore the wheat and the barley, the oyle & the wine, which my lord hath spoken of, let him sende vnto his seruants.

16 And we will cut wood in Lebanon as much as thou shalt need, and will bring it to thee in raftes by sea to Japho, so thou maiest carie them to Jerusalem.

17 And Salomon nombred all strangers that were in the land of Israel, after the numbering that his father Dauid had nombred them: & they were found an hundred and thre and fittie thousand, and six hundred.

18 And he let seuentie thousand of them to helv stones in the mountaine, & thre thousand and six hundred ouersers to cause the people to worke.

CHAP. III.

1 The Temple of the Lord, and the porche are builded, with other things thereto belonging.

1 Salomon began to build þe house of the Worde in Jerusalem, in mount Zion: which had denie declared vnto Dauid his father, in the place that Dauid prepared in the thyrsing floore of Man the Jebusite.

2 And he began to builde in the second month & the second day, in the fourth yeere of his reigne.

3 And these are the measures, wheron Salomon oundred to builde the house of God: the length of cubites after the first measure was threcore cubites, and the breadth twentie cubites: And the porche, that was before the length in the fronte of the breadth was twentie cubites, and the height was an hundred and twentie, and he overlapped it within with pure gold.

4 And the greater house hee seiled with fire tree which he overlaid with good golde, and graued thereon palmtrees and chaires.

5 And he overlapped the house with precious stone for beautie: and the gold was gold of Paruatiu.

6 The house, I say, the beames, postes, and walles thereof & the boyes thereof overlapped hee with golde, and graued Cherubims vpon the walles.

7 He made also the house of most holy place: the length thereof was in the fronte of the breadth of the house, twentie cubites, & the breadth thereof twentie cubites: and he overlapped it with the best gold, of fire handieth talents.

8 And the wright of the nayles was fittie shekels of gold, & he overlapped the chambers with gold.

9 And in the house of the most holy place hee made two Cherubims wrought like children, and overlapped them with gold.

10 And the longes of the Cherubims were twentie cubites long: the one wing was five cubites, reaching to the wall of the house, and the other wing five cubites, reaching to the wing of the other Cherub.

11 Likewise the wing of the other Cherub was five cubites, reaching to the wall of the house, and the other wing five cubites toying to the wing of the other Cherub.

12 The wings of these Cherubims were spled abroad twentie cubites: they stood on their feete and their faces were toward the house.

13 He made also the baile of blew silke and purple, & crimosin, and fine linnen, and brought Cherubims thereon.

14 He made before the house two pillars of fine and thirtie cubites hie: and the chapter that was vpon the toppe of eche of them, was five cubites.

15 He made also chaires for the oracle, & put them on the heades of the pillars, & made an hundred pomegranates, and put them among the chaires.

16 He let by the pillars before the Temple, one on the right hand and the other on the left, and called that on the right hand Jaachin, and that on the left hand Boaz.

5 And they caried by the Arke & the Tabernacle of the Congregation: and all the holy vessels that were in the Tabernacle, those did the Priests and Leuites bring vp.
6 And King Salomon and all the Congregation of Israel that were assembled vnto him, were before the Arke, offering sheepe and bullockes, which coulde not be told nor nombred for multitude.
7 So the Priests brought the Arke of the covenant of the Lord vnto his place, into the Oracle of the houle, into p most Holy place, euen vnder the wings of the Cherubims.

16 Pottes also and besomes, and fleshy hookees, and all these vessels made Hiram e his father, to King Salomon for the houle of the Lord of shining brasse.
17 In the plaine of Jordan did the King cast them in clay betwene Succoth and Zerodathay.
18 And Salomon made all these vessels in great abundance: for the weight of brasse coulde not be reckoned.
19 And Salomon made all the vessels that were for the houle of God: the golden altar also and the tables, wheron the b shewebread floode.

9 And they drew out the barres, that the endes of the barres might be seene out of the Arke before the Oracle, but they were not seene without: and there they are vnto this day.
10 Nothing was in the Arke, saue d the two Tables, which Moses gaue at Horeb, where the Lorde made a covenant with the children of Israel, when they came out of Egypt.
11 And when the Priests were come out of the Sanctuarie (for all the Priests that were present, were e sanctified and did not waite by course.

thun and of their sonnes and of their brethren, being clad in fine linnen, stood with cymbals, and with violes and harpes at the East end of the altar, and with them an hundred and twentie Priests blowing with trumpets:

trumpets, and singing, and made one king the Lorde, and when they left by their voyce with trumpets and with cymbals, & with instruments of mus-icke, and when they praised the Lorde, singing, ^g For he is good, because his mercie lasteth for ever: then the house, even the house of the Lorde was filled with a cloude,

14 So that the Priests could not stand to minister, because of the cloude: for the glory of the Lorde had filled the house of God.

CHAP. VI.

3 Salomon blesteth the people. 4 He praiseth the Lorde. 14 He praiseth unto God for those that shall pray in the Temple.

1 Then ^a Salomon ^a saide, The Lorde hath said that he would dwell in the darke cloude:

2 And I have built thee an house to dwell in, an habitation for thee to dwell in for ever.

3 And the King turned his face, and blessed all the Congregation of Israel (for all the Congregation of Israel stood there)

4 And he saide, Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, who spake with his mouth vnto Dauid my father, and hath with his ^b hand fulfilled it, saying,

5 Since the day that I brought my people out of the land of Egypt, I chose no cite of all the tribes of Israel to builde an ^c house, that my Name might be there, neither chose I any man to be a ruler ouer my people Israel:

6 But I haue chosen Ierusalem, that my Name might be there, & haue chosen Dauid to be ouer my people Israel.

7 ^d And it was in the heart of Dauid my father to builde an house vnto ^e my Name of the Lord God of Israel,

8 But the Lord said to Dauid my father,
Where as it was in thine heart to build an house vnto my Name, thou didest well, that ^f thou wast to minded.

9 Notwithstanding thou shalt not build the house, but thy some which shall come out of thy loynes, he shall build an house vnto my Name.

10 And the Lorde hath performed his word that he spake: and I am risen up in the roome of Dauid my father, and am set on the throne of Israel as the Lorde promised, and haue built an house to the Name of the Lord God of Israel.

11 And I haue set the ^g Throne there, wheres in is the ^h couenant of the Lorde, that he made with the children of Israel.

12 ⁱ And the King ⁱ stood before the altar of the Lorde, in the presence of all the Congregation of Israel, and stretched out his handes,

13 (For Salomon had made a brazen skalfold and let it in the middes of the court, of five cubites long, and five cu-bites broad, a three cubites of height, and vpon it he stood, & kneeled downe vpon his knees before all the Congregation of Israel, and stretched out his handes toward heauen)

14 And said, O Lord God of Israel, ^k there is no God like thee in heauen nor in earth, which keepst couenant, & mercie thee with all their heart.

15 Thou that hast kept with thy seruant Dauid my father, that thou hast promised him: for thou spakest with thy mouth, and hast fulfilled it with thine ^l hand, as appeareth this day.

16 Therefore nowe Lorde God of Israel, keepe with thy seruant Dauid my father, that thou hast promised him, saying, Thou ^m shalt not want a man in my sight, that shall sit vpon the throne of Israel: so that thy sonnes take hede to their waies, to walke in my Law, as thou hast walked before me.

17 And nowe, O Lord God of Israel, let thy word be verified, which thou spak-kest vnto thy seruant Dauid.

18 (Is it true in deed that God will dwell with man on earth: be holde, the ⁿ hea-uens, and the heauens of heauens are not able to contene thee: howe much more ^o vnable is this house, which I haue built?)

19 But haue thou respect to the prayer of thy seruant, and to his supplication, O Lord my God, to heare the crye & prayer:
which thy seruant prayeth before thee,

20 That thine ^p eyes may be open toward this house day and night, euen toward the place, whereto thou hast saide, that thou wouldest put thy Name there, that thou maist hearken vnto the prayer, which thy seruant prayeth in this place.

21 Heare thou therefore the supplication of thy seruant, and of thy people Israel, which they pray in this place: and heare thou in the place of thine habitation, euen in heauen, and when thou hearest, be mercifull.

ing the wicked to bring his way vpon his head, and in iustifying the righteous, to giue him according to his righte-ousnesse.

The five consumeth the sacrifice. 2 The glorie of the Lorde filleth the Temple. 12 He heareth his prayer, 17 And promisseth to exalt him and his throne.

¶ When Salomon had made an ende of praying, he came downe from heauen, and consumed the burnt offering & the sacrifices: and the glory of the Lord filled the house,

So that the Priestes coulde not enter into the house of the Lorde, because the glory of the Lorde had filled the Lordes house.

And when all the children of Israel sawe the fire, and the glory of the Lorde come downe vpon the house, they bowed themselves with their faces to the earth vpon the pavement, and worshipped & praised the Lord, saying, For he is good, because his mercie lasteth for euer.

And King Salomon offered a sacrifice of two and twentieth thousand bullocks, and an hundred and twentieth thousand sheepe. So the King and all the people dedicated the house of God.

And the Priestes waited on their offices, & the Leuites with instruments of musike of the Lorde, which King Dauid had made to praise the Lorde. Because

7 And sooner Salomon halowed the middle of the court that was before d house of the lord: for there he had prepared burnt offerings, and the fat of the peace offerings, because the brazen altar which Salomon had made, was not able to receive the burnt offering, and the incense offering, and the fat.

8 And Salomon made b a feast at that time of leuen daies, and all Israel with him, a very great Congregation, from the entering in of Hamath, vnto the river of Egypt.

9 And in the eight day they c made a solemn assemble: for they had made the dedication of the altar leuen daies, and the feast leuen daies.

10 And the d thre and twentieth daie of the seventh moneth, he sent the people away into their tentes, iopous & with glad heart, because of the goodnes that the lord had done for Dauid & for Salomon, and for Israel his people.

11 * So Salomon finished the house of the lord, and the kings house, and all that came into Salomons heart to make in the house of the lord: and he prospered in his house.

12 ¶ And the lord * appeared to Salomon by night and sayde to him, I have heard thy prayer, and haue choien this place for my selfe to be an house of sacrifice.

13 If I shut the heauen that there be no raine, or if I command the grasshopper to deuour the land, or if I sende pestilence among my people,

14 If my people, among whom my name is called vpon, doe humble themselves, and pray, and seeke my presence, & turne from their wicked wayes, then will I heare in heaue, and be mercifull to their sinne, and will e heale their land:

15 Then mine eyes shal be open and mine eares attent vnto the prayer made in this place.

16 For I haue now chosen and sanctified this house, by my name may be there for ever: and mine eyes and mine heart shal be there perpetually.

17 And if thou wilt walke before me, as Dauid thy father walked, to doe according vnto all that I haue commanded thee, and shalt obserue my statutes and my iudgements,

18 Then will I stablish the throne of thy kingdome, according as I made the covenant with Dauid thy father, saying, * Thou shalt not want a man to be ruler in Israel.

19 But if pe turne away, & forsake my statutes and my commandements which I haue set before you, and shall goe and serue other gods, and worship them,

20 Then will I plucke them by out of my lande, which I haue giuen them: & this house which I haue sanctified for my name, will I cast out of my sight, and will make it to be a prowerbe and a common talke among all people.

21 And this house which is most hie, shal be an astonishment to euery one that passeth by it, so that he shall saye, Why hath the lord done thus to this lande, and to this house?

22 And they shall answer, Because they forsooke the lord God of their fathers, which brought them out of the land of Egypt, and haue taken holde on other gods, and haue worshipped them, and serued them, therefore hath he brought all this euill vpon them.

8 But of their children which were left after them in the land, whom the children of Israel had not consumed, euen them did Salomon make tributaries vntill this day.

9 But of the children of Israel did Salomon make no seruants for his worke: for they were men of warre, & his chiefe princes, and the captaynes of his charrets and of his horsemen.

10 So these were the chiefe of the officers which Salomon had, eue two hundred: and sicrie that bare rule ouer the people.

11 ¶ Then Salomon brought by the daughter of Pharaoh out of the cite of Dauid, into the house that he had built for her: for he sayde, My wife shall not dwell in the house of Dauid King of Israel: for it is holy, because that the Arke of the lord came vnto it.

4 ¹⁴ The rigour of Rehoboam. ¹⁷ He followeth lewde counsell. ¹⁸ The people rebel.

1 Then ¹ Rehoboam went to Shechem: for to Shechem came all Israel to make him king.

2 And when Jeroboam the sonne of Nebat heard it, (which was in Egypt, whether he had fledde from the prience of Salomon the king) he returned out of Egypt.

3 And they sent and called him: so came Jeroboam and all Israel, and commended with Rehoboam, saying,

4 Thy father ¹ made our pokes grievous: now therefore make thou the grievous seruitude of thy father, & his sore pokes, that he put upon vs, lighter, & we will serue thee.

5 And he saide to them, Depart per three dayes, then come againe vnto me. And the people departed.

6 And king Rehoboam tooke counsell with the old men that had stand before Salomon his father, while hee pet liued, saying, What counsell giue ye that I may answer this people?

7 And they spake vnto him, saying, If thou be kind to this people, and please them, & speake louing words to them, they wil be thy seruants for euer.

8 But he left the counsell of the ancient men that they had giuen him, and tooke counsell of the pong men that were brought by with him, and waited on him.

9 And he sayd vnto them, What counsell giue ye, that we may answer this people, which haue spoken to me, saying, Make the pokes which thy father did put vpon vs, lighter?

10 And the pong men that were brought by with him, spake vnto him, saying, Thus shalt thou answer ¹ people that spake to thee, saying, Thy father made our pokes heauy, but make thou it lighter for vs: thus shalt thou say vnto the, ¹ My ^d least part shall be bigger then my fathers lynes.

13 And the king answered them sharply: and king Rehoboam left the counsell of the ancient men.

14 And he spake to them after the counsell of the pong men, saying, My father made your pokes grieuous, but I will increase it: my father chastised you with rodde, but I wil correct you with scourges.

15 So the king hearken'd not vnto the people: for it was the ordinance of God that the Lord might performe his saying, which he had spoken ¹ by Ahijah the Shilonite to Jeroboam ¹ sonne of Nebat.

16 So when all Israel saw that the king would not heare them, the people answered the king, saying, What portion haue we in Dauid: for we haue none inheritance in the sonne of ¹ Ihuah. ¶ Israel, euery man to our tents: nowe flee to thine owne house, Dauid. So all Israel departed to their tents.

5 And Rehoboam dwelt in Jerusalem, and built strong cities in Judah.

6 He built also Beth-lehem, and Etain, and Tekoa,

7 And Beth-zur, and Shoco, and Adullam,

8 And Gath, and Maresha, and Ziph, and Beeroaim, & Lachish, and Hezekah, 9 And Zorah, and Aialon, and Hebron, which were in Judah and Benjamin, strong cities.

11 And he repaired the strong holdes and put captaines in them, and store of vitails, and oyle and wine.

12 And in all cities hee put shields and speares, & made them exceeding strong: so Judah and Benjamin were his.

13 ¶ And the Priests and the Leuites that were in all Israel, reioyced vnto him out of all their coastes.

14 For the Leuites left their suburbs and their possession, & came to Judah and to Jerusalem: *for Rehoboam and his sonnes had cast them out from ministering in the Priests office vnto the Lord.

15 * And he ordeined him priests for the high places, and for the deuils and for the calves which he had made.

16 And after the Leuites there came to Jerusalem of all the tribes of Israel, such as set their heartes to seeke the Lord God of Israel, to offer vnto the Lord God of their fathers.

17 So they strengthened the kingdom of Judah, and made Rehoboam þe some of Salomon mightie, three yere long: for three yere they walked in the way of Dauid and Salomon.

18 ¶ And Rehoboam tooke him Maachab the daughter of Jeremoth þe sonne of Dauid to wife, & Abihah the daughter of Eliab the sonne of Ithai, 19 Which bare him sonnes Ieusy, and Schemariah, and Zaham.

20 And after her he tooke Maakah the daughter of Abialom which bare him Abihah, and Athai, and Ziza, and Shelomith.

21 And Rehoboam loued Maakah the daughter of Abialom more all his wives and his concubines: for he tooke righteine wives, and three score concubines, & begate eight & twentie sonnes, and three score daughters.

22 And Rehoboam made Abihah the sonne of Maakah the chief ruler among his brethren: for he thought to make him King.

23 And he taught him: and dispersed all his sonnes throughout all the countreies of Judah and Benjamin vnto every strong cite: and he gaue them abundance of vitails, & bested many wines.

1 And when Rehoboam had established the kingdom and made it strong, he forsooke the Lawe of the Lord, and all Israel with him.

2 Therefore in the first yere of King Rehoboam, Shishak the King of Egypt came vp against Jerusalem (because they had transgressed against the Lord)

3 And with twelue hundred chariots, and three score thousand horsemen, and the people were without number, that came with him from Egypt, euen the Libbians, & Sukkims, & the Ethiopians.

4 And he tooke the strong cities which were of Judah, and came vnto Jerusalem.

5 ¶ Then came Schemariah the Prophet to Rehoboam, & to the princes of Judah, that were gathered together in Jerusalem, because of Shishak, and sayde vnto them, Thus saith the Lord, Ye haue forsaken me, therefore haue I also left you in the hands of Shishak.

6 Then the princes of Israel, and the King humbled them selues, and sayde, The Lord is a iust.

7 And when the Lord sawe that they humbled them selues, the words of the Loide came to Schemariah, saying, They haue humbled them selues, therefore I will not destroy them, but I will send them delmerance shortly, and my wrath shall not be poured out vpon Jerusalem by the hand of Shishak.

8 Nevertheless they shalbe his seruants: so that they know my seruice, and the seruice of the kingdomes of the earth.

9 ¶ Then Shishak King of Egypt came vp against Jerusalem, & tooke the treasures of the house of the Loide, and the treasures of the Kings house: he tooke euen all, and he caried away the shields of gold, which Salomon had made.

10 In steade whereof King Rehoboam made shields of brasse, and committed them to the hands of the chiefe of the garde, that waited at the doore of the Kings house.

11 And when the King entred into the house of the Lord, the garde came & bare them and brought them againe vnto the gard chamber.

12 And because he humbled him selfe, the wrath of the Lord turned from him, that he would not destroy all together, and also in Judah the things prospered.

13 * So King Rehoboam was strong in Jerusalem and reigned: for Rehoboam was one and fortie yere olde, when he began to reigne, and reigned & reuained thre yeres in Jerusalem the cite which the Loide had chosen out of all the tribes of Israel to put his Name there.

1 Abiah maketh warre against Jeroboam. 4 Hee sheweth the occasion. 23 He trusteth in the Lord and overcommeth Jeroboam. 21 Of his wives and children.

1 In the eighteenth yeere of King Jeroboam began Abiah to reigne ouer a Iudah.

2 He reigned thre yeere in Ierusalem: (his mothers name also was Michasiah the daughter of: Diel of Sibeia) & there was warre betwene Abiah and Jeroboam.

3 And Abiah set the battell in arap with the armie of valiant men of warre, euen foure hundred thoulande chosen men. Jeroboam also set the battell in arap against him with eight hundred thouland chosen men which were strong and valiant.

4 And Abiah stode by vpon mount Zemeraim, which is in mouit Ephraim, and sayde, O Jeroboam, and all Israel, heare you me.

5 Dought you not to knowle that the Lord God of Israel hath giue the kingdome ouer Israel to e Dauid for cuer, euen to him and to his sonnes by a couenant of salt?

6 And Jeroboam the sonne of Nebat the seruant of Salomon the sonne of Dauid is risen by, and hath rebelled against his lozr:

7 And there are gathered to him s bayne men and wicked, & made themselues strong against Rehoboam the sonne of Salomon: for Rehoboam was h to a childe and tender hearted, and could not resist them.

8 Howe therefore ye thinke that ye be able to resist against the kingdome of the Lord, which is in y hands of the sonnes of Dauid, and ye be a great multitude, & the golden calves are with you which Jeroboam made you for gods.

9 Haue ye not diuen away the Priestes of the Lord the sonnes of Aaron & the Leuites, and haue made you priestes like the people of other countreys: whose soner cometh to consecrate with a pong bullocke and seven rams, h same may be a priest of them & are no gods.

12 And behold, this God is with vs, as a captaine, and his Priestes with the sounding trumpets, to crie an alarme against you. O ye childre of Israel, fight not against the Lord God of your fathers: for ye shall not prosper.

13 O Ieroboam caused an ambushment to compass, and come behinde them, when they were before Iudah, & the ambushment behinde them.

14 Then Iudah looked, and beholde, the battel was before and behid them, and they cried vnto the Lord, & the Priestes blew with the trumpets,

15 And the men of Iudah gaue a shout: and eue as the men of Iudah shouted, God smote Jeroboam and also Israel before Abiah and Iudah.

16 And the childre of Israel fled before Iudah, and God deliuered them into their hande.

17 And Abiah and his people slewe a great slaughter of them, so that there fel doune wounded of Israel sixe hundred thouland chosen men.

18 So the childre of Israel were brought vnder at that time: and the childre of Iudah reucaled, because they stayed vpon the Lord God of their fathers.

19 And Abiah pursued after Jeroboam, and tooke cities from him, euen Bethel, and the villages thereof, and Ielhanah with her villages, & Ephron with her villages.

20 And Jeroboam recovered no strength againe in the daies of Abiah, but the Lord plagued him, and he died.

21 So Abiah wared mightie, & married foureteen wives, & begate two & twenty sonnes, and sixeauen daughters.

22 The rest of the actes of Abiah and his maners and his sayings are written in the storie of the Prophet Iddo.

5 And he took away out of all ^h cities of Judah ^h the places, & the images: thes fore ^h kingdom was ^h quiet before him. 6 He built also strong cities in Judah, because the land was in rest, and he had no warre in those yeeres: for the Lorde had given him rest.

7 Therefore he said to Judah, let vs build these cities and make wailes about, & towres gates, & barres, whiles the land is before vs: because we have fought the Lorde our God, we have fought him, and he hath given vs rest on euery side: so they built and prospered.

8 And Aha had an armie of Judah that bare shields and speares, three hundred thousand, and of Benjamin that bare shields and blew bowes, two hundred and foure score thousand: all these were valiant men.

9 And there came out against them Zerah ^d of Ethiopia in an hoste of ten hundred thousand, & three hundred charrets, and came vnto ^e Marethah.

10 Then Aha went out before him, and they set the battell in aray in the valley of Zephathah beside Marethah.

1 I In the five and thirtieth yere of the reigne of Aſa came Aſa King of Iſrael by againt Judah, & built Ramath to let none paſſe out of go in to Aſa King of Judah.

2 Then Aſa brought out ſilver and gold out of the treaſures of the houſe of the Lord, and of the Kings houſe, and ſent to Benhadad king of Aram that dwelt at Damafcus, ſaying,

3 There is a covenant betwene me and thee, and betwene my father and thy father: beholde, I have ſent thee ſilver and gold: come, breake the league with Baſha King of Iſrael that he may depart from me.

4 And Benhadad hearkened unto King Aſa, and ſent the captaines of the armies which he had, againt the cities of Iſrael. And they ſtoote Tiron, and Dan, and Abelmennu, and all the ſtoye cities of Naphtali.

5 And when Baſha heard it, he left building of Ramah, & let his worke ceaſe.

6 Then Aſa the king tooke all Judah, and carried away the ſtones of Ramah, and ſtumber thereof, wherewith Baſha did builde, and he built therewith Geba and Biſpah.

7 And at that ſame time Hanani the Seer came to Aſa King of Judah, and ſaid unto him, Becauſe thou haſt reſted upon the King of Aram, and not reſted in the Lord thy God, therefore is the hoſte of the King of Aram eſcaped out of thine hand.

8 The Ethiopians & the Lubims, were they not a great hoſte with charrets and horſemen, exceeding many: yet becauſe thou diddeſt reſt upon the Lord, he deliuered them into thine hand.

9 For the eyes of the Lord behold all the earth to ſhewe him ſelſe ſtrong with them that are of perſite heart towards him: thou haſt then done ſoliſhip in this: therefore from henceforth thou ſhalt haue warres.

10 Then Aſa was wroth with the Seer, and put him into a priſon: for he was diſpleaſed with him, becauſe of this thing. And Aſa oppreſſed certaine of the people at the ſame time.

5 Therefore the Lord ſtabliſhed the kingdom in his hand, & all Judah brought preſents to Jehoshaphat, ſo that he had of riches and honour in abundance.

6 And he liſt up his heart unto the wayes of the Lord, and he tooke away moynes, and he took away the groves out of Judah.

 q By this cruelie his ambition and hypocrisie was discovered: thus the hypocrites boate of the Spirit which they haue not, and declare their malice against them, in whom y true Spirit is.
 r Keepe him streightly in prison and let him feele hunger and thirst.
 s Or, Michaiah, f Thus the wicked thinke by their owne subtiltie to escape Gods iudgements which he threat- neth by his word.
 t He cried to y Lord by acknow ledging his fault in going w this wicked king to warre against the word of the Lord by his Prophet, and also by desiring mercy for the same.
 u He stumbled by his hure, that his souldiers might fight more courageously.

22 Now therefore beholde, the Lord hath put a f falle spirit in the mouth of these ship prophets, and the Lorde hath determined euil against thee.
23 Then Azbakhiah the sonne of Chenaanah came nere, and inore Michaiah vpon the 4 cheeke, and said, Wp what way went the Spirit of the Lord from me, to speake with thee?
24 And Michaiah said, Beholde, thou shalt see that day when thou shalt goe from chamber to chamber to hide thee.
25 And the king of Israel said, Take pe Michaiah, and carie him to Anion the gouernour of the cite, and to Joahly the kings soune.
16 And say, Thus saith y king, Put this man in the yulon house, and feede him with bread of affliction and with water of affliction vntill I returne in peace.
27 And Michaiah said, If thou return in peace, the Lord hath not spoken by me. And he said, Heare, all ye people.
28 So the king of Israel and Iehoshaphat the king of Iudah went vnto Ramoth Gilead.
29 And the king of Israel said vnto Iehoshaphat, I wil change my selfe, and enter into the battell: but put thou on thine apparell. So the king of Israel changed himselfe, and they went into the battel.
30 And the king of Aram had commanded the captaynes of the charrets that were with him, saying, Fight you not with small nor great, but against the king of Israel onely.
31 And when the captaynes of the charrets sawe Iehoshaphat, they said, It is the king of Israel: and they compassed about him to fight. But Iehoshaphat cried, and the Lorde helped him and moued them to depart from him.
32 For when y captaynes of the charrets saw that he was not the king of Israel, they turned backe from him.
33 Then a certaine man diuew a bowe mightily, and inore the king of Israel betweene the ioyntes of his bigans: therefore he said to his charreman, Turne thine hande, and carie me out of the posse: for I am hurt.
34 And y battel increasd that day: & the king of Israel y stood stil in his charret against the Aramites vntill euen, & dyed at the tyme of the sunne going downe.

CHAP. XIX.

4 After Iehoshaphat was rebuked by the Prophet, he called agayne the people to the honouring of the Lorde. 5 Hee appointeth iudges and ministers, 9 And exhorteib them to feare God.
 1 Hee declarcth that the wrath of God is ouer all such, that support the wicked, and rather shewe not in dede that they are enemies to al such as hate the Lorde.

4 After Iehoshaphat was rebuked by the Prophet, he called agayne the people to the honouring of the Lorde. 5 Hee appointeth iudges and ministers, 9 And exhorteib them to feare God.
1 And Iehoshaphat the king of Iudah returned safe to his house in Ierusalem.
2 And Jehu the sonne of Hanani y Ser went out to meet him, and said to king Iehoshaphat, y Wouldst thou helpe

the wicked, and loue them that hate the Lord: therefore for this thing the wrath of the Lord is vpon thee.
3 Neuertheles good things are found in thee, because thou hast taken away the grooues out of the land, and hast prepared thine heart to seeke God.
4 ¶ So Iehoshaphat dwelt at Ierusalem, and returned and went b though the people from Beer-sheba to mount Ephraim, & brought them againe vnto the Lord God of their fathers.
5 And he set iudges in the land throughout all the strong cities of Iudah, cite by cite,
6 And said to y iudges, Take heed what ye do: for ye execute not the iudgements of man, but of the Lorde, and hee wilbe wth you in the cause and iudgement.
7 Wherefore now let the feare of the Lord be vpon you: take heed, and doe it: for there is no iniquitie with the Lord our God, neither y respect of persons, nor receiuing of reward.
8 Whereouer in Ierusalem did Iehoshaphat set of the Leuites, & of the Birtles and of y chiefe of the families of Israel, for the iudgement & cause of the Lorde; and they returned to Ierusalem.
9 And he charged them, saying, Thus shall ye do in the feare of the Lord faithfully and with a perfite heart.
10 And in euery cause that shall come to you of your brethren that dwell in their citie, betweene blood & blood, betwene lawe and precept, statutes and iudgements, ye shall iudge them, and aduonish them that they trespass not against the Lord, that y wrath come not vpon you and vpon your brethren. Thus shall ye do and trespass not.
11 And behold, Amariah the Priest shall be the chiefe ouer you in all matters of the Lord, & Zebadiah the sonne of Ishmael, a ruler of the house of Iudah, shall be for all the kinges affaires, & the Leuites shall be before you, be of your courage, and doe it, and the Lord shall be with the y good.
 h Shall be chiefe ouerfeer of the publike affaires of the realme.
 i They shall haue the handling of inferior causes. k God will assist them that do iustice.

3 And Jehoshaphat feared, and let himselfe to seeke the Lord: and proclaimed a fast throughout all Iudah.

4 And Iudah gathered themselves together to alke counsell of the Lord: they came euenuot of al the cities of Iudah to inquire of the Lord.

5 And Jehoshaphat stood in the Congregation of Iudah and Jerusalem in the house of the Lord before the new court,

6 And said, O Lord God of our fathers, art not thou God in heauen? and reignest not thou on all the kingdomes of the heathen? and in thine hande is power and might, & none is able to withstand thee.

7 Diddest not thou our God cast out the inhabitants of this land before thy people Israel, and gauest it to the feede of Abraham thy friend for cuer?

8 And they dwelt therein, and haue built thee a Sanctuary therein for thy name, saying,

9 If will come vpon vs, as the sword of iudgement, or pestilence, or famine, we will stande before this house and in thy presence (for thy name is in this house) and wilcrie vnto thee in our tribulation, and thou wilt heare and help.

10 And now behold, the children of Ammon and Moab, and mount Seir, by whom thou wouldest not let Israel go, when they came out of the launde of Egypt: but they turned aside from them, and destroyed them not:

11 Behold, I say, thy reward vs, in coming to call vs out of thine inheritance, which thou hast caused vs to inherit.

12 O our God, wilt thou not iudge them? for there is no strength in vs to stande before this great multitude that cometh against vs, neither doe we know what to do: but our eyes are toward thee.

13 And all Iudah stood before the Lord with their pong ones, their wiues, and their children.

14 And Jahaziel the sonne of Zechariah the sonne of Benaiiah, the sonne of Jesiel, the sonne of Baranaiah, a Leuite of the sonnes of Asaph, was there, vpon whom came the Spirit of the Lord, in the middes of the Congregation.

15 And he said, Hearken ye, all Iudah, and ye inhabitants of Jerusalem, and thou, King Jehoshaphat: thus saith the Lord vnto you, feare you not, neither be afraid for this great multitude: for the battell is not yours, but Gods.

16 To morow go ye downe against them: behold, they come vp by the cleft of Ziz, and ye shall finde them at the end of the brooke before the wilderness of Ieruel.

17 Be thal not need to fight in this battell: stand still, moue not, & behold the salvation of the Lord toward you: O Iudah, and Jerusalem, feare ye not, neither be afraid: to morow go out against them, and the Lord will be with you.

18 ¶ Then Jehoshaphat bowed downe with his face to the earth, and all Ius dah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem fell downe before the Lord, worshipping the Lord.

19 And the Leuites of the children of the Kohathites and of the children of the Kohites stood vp to praise the Lord God of Israel with a loud voyce on hire.

20 And when they arose early in the morning, they went forth to the wilderness of Tekoa: & as they departed, Jehoshaphat stood and said, Heare ye me, O Iudah, and ye inhabitants of Jerusalem: put your trust in the Lord your God, and ye shall be assured: beleue his Prophets, and ye shal prosper.

21 And when he had consulted with the people, and appointed singers vnto the Lord, and them that should praise him that is in the beautiful Sanctuary, in going forth before the men of armes, and saying, Praise ye the Lord, for his mercie lasteth for ever,

22 And when they began to shoute, and to praise, the Lord laped ambushments against the children of Ammon, Moab, and mount Seir, which were come against Iudah, and they steeue one another.

23 For the children of Ammon and Moab rose against the inhabitants of mount Seir, to slay and to destroy them: and when they had made an ende of the inhabitants of Seir, euery one helped to destroy another.

24 And when Iudah came toward Mizpah in the wilderness, they looked vnto the multitude: and beholde, the carriages were fallen to the earth, and none escaped.

25 And when Jehoshaphat and his people came to take away the spoile of them, they found among them in abundance both of substance and also of bodies laden with precious iewels, which they tooke for themselves, till they coude carie no more: they were three dayes in gathering of the spoile: for it was much.

26 And in the fourth day they assembled themselves in the valley of Berachah: for there they blessed the Lord: therefore they called the name of that place, The valley of Berachah vnto this day.

27 Then euery man of Iudah and Jerusalem returned with Jehoshaphat their head, to goe againe to Jerusalem with ioy: for the Lord had made them to reioyce ouer their enemies.

28 And they came to Jerusalem with vioules, and with harpes, & with trumpets, euenuot to the house of the Lord.

29 And the feare of God was vpon all the kingdomes of the earth, when they had heard that the Lord had fought against the enemies of Israel.

30 So the kingdom of Jehoshaphat was quiet, and his God gaue him rest on euery side.

31 ¶ And Jehoshaphat reigned ouer Iudah, and was fise and thirtie yeere olde, m Gine creding to their wordes and doctrine.

n This was a Psalm of thanksgiuing, which they vsed commonly to sing when they praised the Lorde for his benefits, and was made by David, Psal. 136. o Meaning, the Idumeans, which dwelt in mount Seir.

p Thus the Lorde according to Jehoshaphats prayer declared his power, when he deliuered his by causing their enemies to kill one another.

32 And he walked in the way of Asa his father, and departed not therfrom, doing that which was right in the sight of the Lord.

33 Howbeit the hie places were not taken away: for the people had not yet prepared their heartes vnto the God of their fathers.

34 Concerning the rest of the actes of Iehoshaphat first and last, behold, they are written in the booke of Iehu the sonne of Hanani, which is mentioned in the booke of the kings of Israel.

35 Yet after this did Iehoshaphat king of Iudah ioyne him selfe with Ahaziah king of Israel, who was giuen to doe euill.

36 And he ioynd with him, to make shippes to goe to Tarshish: and they made the shippes in Esion Gaber.

37 Then Eliezer the sonne of Dodanah of Beersheba prophesied againt Iehoshaphat, saying, Because thou hast ioynd thy selfe with Ahaziah, the Lord hath broken thy workes, and the shippes were broken, that they were not able to goe to Tarshish.

CHAP. XXI.

Iehoshaphat dieth. 3 Iehoram succeedeth him, 4 Which killeth his brethren. 6 He was brought to idolatrie, 11 and seduceth the people. 16 He is oppressed of the Philistims. 18 His miserable ende.

1 Iehoshaphat then slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the cite of Dauid: and Iehoram his sonne reigned in his steade.

2 And he had brethren the sonnes of Iehoshaphat, Azariah, and Zehiel, & Zeschariah, and Azariah, and Michael, and Shephatiah. All these were the sonnes of Iehoshaphat king of Israel.

3 And their father gaue them great gifts of siluer and of golde, and of precious things, with strong cities in Iudah, but the kingdom gaue he to Iehoram: for he was the eldest.

4 And Iehoram rose by vpon the kingdom of his father, and made him selfe strong, and slewe all his brethren with the sword, and also of the princes of Israel.

5 Iehoram was two and thirtie yeere olde, when he began to reigne, and he reigned eight yeere in Ierusalem.

6 And he walked in the way of the kings of Israel, as the house of Ahab had done: for he had the daughter of Ahab to wife, and he wrought euill in the eyes of the Lord.

7 Howbeit the Lord would not destroy the house of Dauid, because of the covenants that he had made with Dauid, and because he had promised to giue a light to him, and to his sonnes for euer,

8 In his dayes Edom rebelled from vnder the hand of Iudah, and made a king ouer them.

9 And Iehoram went forth with his princes, and all his chariots with him: and he rose by by night, and smote Edom, which had compassed him in, and the captaiues of the chariots.

10 But Edom rebelled from vnder the hand of Iudah vnto this day. Then did Libnah rebell at the same tyme from vnder his hand, because he had forsaken the Lord God of his fathers.

11 Whereouer he made hie places in the mountaynes of Iudah, and caused the inhabitants of Ierusalem to commit fornication, and compelled Iudah thereto.

12 And there came a writing to him from Eliab the Prophet, saying, Thus saith the Lord God of Dauid thy father, Because thou hast not walked in the wayes of Iehoshaphat thy father, nor in the wayes of Asa king of Iudah,

13 But hast walked in the way of the kings of Israel, and hast made Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem to go a whoring, as the house of Ahab went a whoring, and hast also flamed thy brethren of thy fathers house, which were better then thou,

14 Beholde, with a great plague will the Lord smite thy people, and thy children, and thy wives, and all thy substance,

15 And thou shalt be in great diseases in the disease of thy bowels, vntill thy bowels fall out for the disease, day by day.

16 So the Lord stirred vp againt Iehoram the spirit of the Philistims, and the Arabians that were beside the Ethiopians.

17 And they came by into Iudah, & brake into it, and caried away all the substance that was found in the kings house, and his sonnes also, and his wives, so that there was not a soune left him, saue the Jehoabaz, the youngest of his sonnes.

18 And after all this, the Lord smote him in his bowels with an incurable disease.

19 And in proesse of time, euen after the ende of two yeeres, his guttes fell out with his disease: so he died of diseases: and his people made no burning for him like the burning of his fathers.

20 When he began to reigne, he was two and thirtie yeere old, and reigned in Ierusalem eight yeere, and liued without being desired: yet they buried him in the cite of Dauid, but not among the sepulchres of the kings.

a Meaning the Philistims.

Name all the ebed: therefore Whaziah the sonne of Jehozam king of Judah reigned.

2 And a and b fourtie yeere olde was Whaziah when he began to reigne, and he reigned c one yeere in Jerusalem. and his mothers name was Athaliah the daughter d of Omri.

3 He walked also in the waies of h house of Whab: for his mother counseled him to do wickedly. 4 Wherefore he did euill in the sight of the Lorde, like the house of Whab: for they were his c counsellors after the death of his father, to his destruction. 5 And he walked after their counsell, and went with Jehozam the sonne of Ahab king of Israel to fight against Hazael king of Aram at Ramoth Gilead: and the Aramites inore Zoran.

6 ¶ And he returned to be healed in Israel, because of the woundes wherewith they had wounded him at Ramah, wher he fought with Hazael king of Aram. Nowe Whaziah the sonne of Jehozam king of Judah went downe to see Jehozam the sonne of Whab at Israel, because he was disealed.

7 And the destruction of Whaziah f came of God in that he went to Zoran: for when he was come, he went forth with Jehozam against Jehu the sonne of Hanhi, * whom the Lord had anointed to deltop the house of Whab.

8 Therefore when Jehu executed indgement vpon the house of Whab, & found the princes of Judah and the sonnes of the byethen of Whaziah that waited on Whaziah, he slewe them also.

9 And he sought Whaziah, & they caught him where he was hidde in Samaria, and brought him to Jehu, and slewe him, & buried him. Because, saide they, he is the sonne of Jehohaphat, which sought the Lord with all his heart. So the house of Whaziah was nor able to retene the kingdome.

10 ¶ Therefore when Athaliah the mother of Whaziah sawe that her sonne was dead, she arose and b deltoped all the Kinges seede of the house of Judah.

11 But Jehohabearh the daughter of the King,ooke Ioth h sonne of Whaziah, and scale him from among the Kinges sonnes, that should be slaine, and put him and his nurce in the bed chamber: so Jehohabearh the daughter of King Jehozam the wife of Jehoiada h Priest (for he was the sister of Whaziah) hid him from Athaliah: so she slewe him not.

12 And he was with them hid in h house of God bre peres, whiles Athaliah reigned ouer the k Land.

1 Ad * in the seventh yeere Jehoiada waured bolde, and tooke the cays of Athaliah, or after the death of Abaziah. 2 And they went out in Judah, and gathered the Leuites out of all the cities of Judah, and the chiefe fathers b of Israel: and they came to Jerusalem. 3 And all h Congregation made a covenant with h King in the house of God: and he saide vnto them, Beholde, the Kinges sonne must reigne. * as the Lord hath said of the sonnes of David.

4 This is it that pe shall doe. The thirde part of pou that come on the Sabbath of the Priestes, and the Leuites, shalbe porters of the doores. 5 And another thirde part toward the Kinges house, and another thirde part at the * gate of the c fundation, and all the people shalbe in the courtes of the house of the Lord.

6 But let none come into h house of the Lord, save the Priests, and the Leuites that minister: they shall goe in, for they are holy: but all the people shall keepe the watch of the Lord.

7 And the Leuites shall compass h King round about, and euery man with his weapon in his hand, and he that curveth d into the house, shalbe slaine, and he pou with the King, when he cometh in, and when he goeth out.

8 ¶ So the Leuites and all Judah did according to all things that Jehoiada the Priest had commanded, and tooke euery man his men that came on the Sabbath, with them that c went out on the Sabbath: for Jehoiada h Priest did not discharge the courtes.

9 And Jehoiada the Priest deliuered to the captaines of hundredes speares, and shields, and bucklers which had bene King Davids, & were in the house of God.

10 And he caused all the people to stand (euery man with his weapon in his hand) from the right side of the house, to the left side of the house by the altar and by the e house round about the King.

11 Then they brought out the Kinges sonne, & put vpon him the crowne and gaue him the s testimonie, and made him King. And Jehoiada and his sonnes appointed him, and said, God saue h King.

12 ¶ But whe Athaliah heard h noise of h people running & praising h King, she came to h people into h house of h Lord.

13 And when she l looked, beholde, h King stood by his pillar at the entring in, & the princes & the trumpets by the king, and all h people of the Land rised, & blew the trumpets, & the singers were with instruments of musike: and they that could sing praise: then Athaliah rent her clothes, & said, h Treason, treason.

14 Then Jehoiada the Priest brought out the captaines of hundredes that were gouernours of the hoste, and said vnto them, Haue her forth of the ranges, and he that followeth her, let him dye by the sword: for the Priest had said, Slay her not in the house of the Lord.

15 So they layd hands on her: and when she was come to the entring of the house-gate by the Kings house, they slewe her there.

16 And Jehoiada made a covenant betweene him, and all the people, and the King, that they would be the Lordes people.

17 And all the people went to the house of Baal, and destroyed it, and brake his altars and his images, & slewe Phasur the priest of Baal before the altars.

18 And Jehoiada appointed officers for the house of the Lord, vnder the hands of the Priests and Leuites, whom Dauid had distributed for the house of the Lord, to offer burnt offerings vnto the Lord, as it is written in the Lawe of Moses, with reioicing and singing by the appointment of Dauid.

19 And he set porters by the gates of the house of the Lord, that none that was uncleane in any thing, should enter in.

20 And he tooke the captaines of hundredes, and the noble men, and the gouernours of the people, and all the people of the land, and he caused the King to come downe out of the house of the Lord, and they went throug the hig gate of the Kings house, & set the King vpon the throne of the kingdom.

21 Then all the people of the land reioysced, and the citie was quiet, after that they had slaine Athaliah with the sword.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Joash repaireth the house of the Lord. 17 After the death of Jehoiada he falleth to idolatrie. 21 He cometh to death. 22 Echariah the Prophet. 25 Joash is killed of his owne seruants. 27 After his reigne Amaziah.

1 Dauid was seuen yeere old, when he began to reigne, and he reigned fourtie yeere in Ierusalem: and his mothers name was Zibiah of Beer-sheba.

2 And Joash did brightly in the sight of the Lord, all the daies of Jehoiada the Priest.

3 And Jehoiada tooke him two wiues, and he begate sonnes and daughters.

4 And afterward it came into Joash minde, to renew the house of the Lord.

5 And he assembled the Priests and the Leuites, and said to them, Go out vnto the cities of Iudah, & gather of all Israel money to repaire the house of your God, from peece to peece, and haue the thing: but the Leuites halted not.

6 Therefore the King called Jehoiada

the chiefe, and said vnto him, Why hast thou not required of the Leuites to bring in out of Iudah and Ierusalem the taxe of Moses the seruant of the Lord, and of the Congregation of Israel, for the Tabernacle of the testimony? For wicked Athaliah, and her children brake up the house of God: and all the things that were dedicate for the house of the Lord, did they bestow vpon Baalim.

7 Therefore the King commanded, and they made a chest, and set it at the gate of the house of the Lord without.

8 And they made proclamation throug Iudah and Ierusalem, to bring vnto the Lord the taxe of Moses the seruant of God, & layd vpon Israel in the willettines.

9 And all the princes and all the people reioysced, and brought in, and cast into the chest, vntill they had finished.

10 And when it was time, they brought the chest vnto the Kings officer by the hande of the Leuites: & when they saw that there was much siluer, then the Kings Scribe (and one appointed by the hie Priest) came and emptied the chest, and tooke it, and caried it to his place againe: thus they did day by day, and gathered siluer in abundance.

11 And the King and Jehoiada gaue it to such as did the labour and worke in the house of the Lord, and hired masons and carpenters to repaire the house of the Lord: they gaue it also to workes of iron and brasse, to repaire the house of the Lord.

12 So the workemen wrought, and the worke amended throug their hands: and they restored the house of God to his state, and strengthened it.

13 And when they had finished it, they brought the rest of the siluer before the King and Jehoiada, and he made there of vessels for the house of the Lord, euen vessels to minister, both moyses and incense cuppes, and vessels of golde, and of siluer: and they offered burnt offerings in the house of the Lord continually all the daies of Jehoiada.

14 But Jehoiada wasd old, and was full of daies and dyed. An hundredth and thirtie yeere olde was hee when hee dyed.

15 And they buried him in the cite of Dauid with the Kings, because he had done good in Israel, and toward God and his house.

16 And after the death of Jehoiada, came the princes of Iudah, and did reuerence to the King, and the King hardened vnto them.

17 And they left the house of the Lord God of their fathers, & serued groues and idoles: and wath came vpon Iudah and Ierusalem, because of this their trespass.

18 And God sent Prophets among them, to bring them againe vnto the Lord: to bring them againe vnto the Lord: Aa.iii.

20 And the Spirit of God came vpon Azariah the sonne of Ichoiada the Priest, which stood ^l about the people, and said vnto them, Thus saith God, Why traie vs ye the commandements of the Lord: surely ye shall not prosper: because ye haue forsaken the Lord, he also hath forsaken you.
21 Then they conspired against him and stoned him with stones at the ^m commandement of the King, in the court of the house of the Lord.

24 Though ^p armie of Aram came with a small companie of men, yet the Lord deliuered a very great armie into their hands, because they had forsaken the Lord God of their fathers: and they ^q gaue sentence against Joash.

25 And when they were departed from him, (for they left him in great diseases) his owne seruantes conspired against him for the blood of the ^r children of Ichoiada the Priest, and slew him on his bed, and he dyed, and they buried him in the cite of Dauid: but they buried him not in the sepulchres of the Kings.

26 And these are they that conspired against him, Zabad the sonne of Shimrath an Ammonitisse, and Jezobabab the sonne of Shimrith a Moabitisse.

27 But ^s 4 his sonnes, and the summe of the care gathered by him, and the ^t fundation of the house of God, behold, they are written in the stoop of the booke of the Kinges. And Amaziah his sonne reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XXV.

¹ Amaziah putteth them to death which slew his father. ² He findeth backe them of Israel. ³ He ouercommeth the Edomites. ⁴ He falleth to idolatrie. ⁵ And Joash King of Israel ouercommeth Amaziah. ⁶ He is slaine by a conspiracie.

Amaziah was five and twentie pere old, when he bega to reigne, and he reigned nine and twentie pere in ^{*} Jerusalem: and his mothers name was Ichoadab, of Jerusalem.

2 And he did ^a uprightly in y^e eyes of the Lord, but not with a perfite heart.

3 And when the kinadome was esta- blished vnto him, he slew his seruantes, that had slaine the King his father,

4 But he kelle not their children, but did as it is written in the lawe, and in the booke of Ihesus, where the Loide com- manded, saying, * The fathers shall not die for the ^b children, neither shall the children die for the fathers, but euery man shall die for his owne sinne.

5 ¶ And Amaziah assembled Iudah, and made them captaynes ouer thousands, and captaynes ouer hundredth, accord- ing to the houses of their fathers, as throughout all Iudah and Benjamin: and he nombred them from ^c twentie pere olde, and aboue, and found among them three hundredth thousand chosen men, to goe forth to the warre, and to handle speare and shield.

6 He hired also an hundredth thousande valiant men ^d out of Israel for an hun- dredth talents of siluer.

7 But a man of God came to him, say- ing, O King, let not the armie of Israel go with thee: for the Lord is not ^e with Israel, neither with all the house of Es- raihim.

8 If ^f not, go thou on, do it, make thy self strong to the bartel, but God shall make thee fall before the enemy: for God hath power to help, and to cast downe.

9 And Amaziah said to the man of God, What shal we do then for the hundredth talents, which I haue giuen to the host of Israel? Then the man of God an- swered, The Lord is able to ^g giue thee more then this.

10 So Amaziah separated them, to wit, the armie that was come to him out of Ephraim, to returne to their place: wherefore their wrath was kindled against him, and they returned to their places with great anger.

11 Then Amaziah was encouraged, and led forth his people, & went to the salt valley, & smote of the children of ^h Seir, ten thousand.

12 And other ten thousand did the chil- dren of Iudah take aliue, and carped them to the toppes of a ⁱ rocke, and cast them downe from ^j toppes of the rocke, and they all burst to peeces.

13 But the men of the ^k armie, which A- maziah sent away, that they should not go with his people to battell, fell vpon the cities of Iudah from Samaria vnto Beth-horon, and smote three thou- sand of them, and tooke much spoile.

14 Now after that Amaziah was come from the slaughter of the Edomites, he brought ^l 7 Kings of the children of Seir, and set them vp to be his gods, and ^m worshipped them, and burned incense vnto them.

15 Wherefore the Loide was wroth with Amaziah, & sent vnto him a Prophet, which said vnto him, Why hast thou sought the gods of the people, which were not able to ⁿ deliuer their owne people out of thine hand?

17 ¶ Then Amaziah king of Iudah roole counsell, and sent to Joah the sonne of Jehoahaz, the sonne of Jehu king of Israel, saying, Come, & let vs see one another in the face.

18 But Joah king of Israel sent to Amaziah king of Iudah, saying, The thistle that is in Lebanon, sent to the cedar that is in Lebanon, saying, * Come thy daughter to my sonne to wife: and the wilde beest that was in Lebanon went and trode downe the thistle.

19 Thou thinkest: loe, thou hast siniten Edom, and thine heart listeth thee by to bragge: abide nowt at home: why dost thou provoke to chine hurt, that thou shouldst fall, & Iudah with thee?

20 But Amaziah would not heare: for it was of God, that he might deliuee them into his hand, because they had sought the gods of Edom.

21 So Joah the king of Israel went by: and he, and Amaziah king of Iudah saue one another in the face at Bethshean, which is in Iudah.

22 And Iudah was put to the worse before Israel, and they fled euery man to his tents.

23 But Joah the king of Israel tooke Amaziah king of Iudah, the sonne of Joah, the sonne of Jehoahaz in Bethshean, and brought him to Ierusalem, and brake downe the wall of Ierusalem, from the gate of Ephraim vnto the corner gate, foure hundred cubites.

24 And he tooke all the golde and the siluer, and all the vessels that were found in the house of God with Obed Edom, and in the treasures of the kings house, and the children that were in hostage, and returned to Samaria.

25 ¶ And Amaziah the sonne of Joah king of Iudah lined after the death of Joah sonne of Jehoahaz king of Israel, fiftene yeere.

1 ¶ Ben * all the people of Iudah tooke D' Vzziah, which was sinitene yeere olde, and made him king in the steade of his father Amaziah.

2 He built cloth, and restored it to Iudah after that the king slept with his fathers.

3 ¶ Sixtene yeere olde was D' Vzziah, when he began to reigne, and he reigned two and sinitene yeere in Ierusalem, and his mothers name was Iecoliah of Ierusalem.

4 And he did by right in the sight of the Lorde, according to all that his father Amaziah did.

5 And he sought God in the dayes of Zechariah (which understood the visions of God) and when as he sought the Lorde, God made him to prosper.

6 For he went forth and fought against the Philistines and brake downe the wall of Gath, and the wall of Jabneh, and the wall of Ashdod, and built cities in Ashdod, and among the Philistines.

7 And God helped him against the Philistines, and against the Arabians that dwelt in Gur-baal and Gannerium.

8 And the Ammonites gaue gifts to D' Vzziah, and his name spred to the entering in of Egypt: for he did most valiantly.

9 Moreover D' Vzziah built towres in Ierusalem at the corner gate, and at the balley gate, and at the turning, and made them strong.

10 And he built towres in the wilderness, and digged many cisternes: for he had much cattell both in the valleis and plaines, vpon water, & diuerses of vines in the mountaines, and in Carmel: for he found hulfbandie.

11 D' Vzziah had also an hoste of fighting men that went out to warre by bands, according to the count of their number vnder the hand of Jeiel the scribe, and Shaalathai the ruler, and vnder the hand of Hananiah, one of the kings captaines.

12 The whole number of the chiefe of the families of the valiant men were two thousand and five hundred.

13 And vnder their hand was the armie for warre, three hundred & seven thousand, and five hundred that fought valiantly to helpe the king against the enemies.

14 And D' Vzziah prepared them thought out all the hoste, shields, and speares, and helmets, & brigandines, & bowes, and stones to sling.

15 He made also verie artificiall engines in Ierusalem, to be vpon the rowles & vpon the corners, to shoote arrowes, and great stones: and his name spred faue abroad, because God did helpe him maruelously, till he was mightie.

transgressed against the Lord his God, and went into the Temple of the Lord to burne incense upon the altar of incense.

17 And Azariah the Priest went in after him, and with him foure score Priests of the Lord, valiant men.

18 And they withstood Bzziah the King, and saide vnto him, * It pertaineth not to thee, Bzziah, to burne incense vnto the Lord, but to the Priests the sonnes of Aaron, that are consecrated for to offer incense: * goe forth of the Sanctuarie: for thou hast transgressed, and thou shalt haue none honour of the Lord God.

19 Then Bzziah was wroth, and had incense in his hand to burne it: and while he was wroth with the Priests, the lesprofie rose up in his forehead before the Priests in the house of the Lord beside the incense altar.

20 And when Azariah the chiefe Priest with all the Priests looked vpon him, behold, he was leproous in his forehead, and they caused him hastily to depart thence: and he was euen compelled to go out, because the Lord had smitten him.

21 * And when the King was a Leper vnto the day of his death, and dwelt as a leper in an house apart, because he was cut of from the house of the Lord: and Jotham his sonne ruled ouer the Kings house, and iudged the people of the land.

22 Concerning the rest of the actes of Bzziah, first and last, did Ishaiah the Prophet the sonne of Amos write.

23 So Bzziah slept with his fathers, and they buried him in his fathers in the sicke of the buriall, which pertained to the Kings: for they said, He is a leper. And Jotham his sonne reigned in his steade.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 Iotham reigneth, and ouercommeth the Ammonites. 2 He reigneth and death. 3 Ahaz, his sonne reigneth in his steade.

1 Jotham * was five and twentie yeere old when he began to reigne, and reigned sixtene yeere in Ierusalem, and his mothers name was Ierushah the daughter of Zadok.

2 And he did vprightly in the sight of the Lord according to all that his father Bzziah did, saue that he entred not into the Temple of the Lord, and the people did yet corrupt their waies.

3 He built the hie gate of the house of the Lord, and he built verie much on the wall of the castel.

4 Moreover he built cities in the mountaynes of Iudah, and in the foresayd he built palaces and towres.

5 And he fought with the King of the children of Ammon, and prevailed against them. And the children of Ammon gaue him the same yeere an hundred talents of silver, and ten thousand measures of wheate, and ten thousand of barley: this did the children of Ammon giue him both in the second yeere and the third.

6 So Jotham became mightie because he directed his way before the Lord his God.

7 Concerning the rest of the actes of Jotham, and all his waies & his waies, loe, they are written in the booke of the kings of Israel, and Iudah.

8 He was five & twentie yeere olde when he began to reigne, and reigned sixtene yeere in Ierusalem.

9 And Jotham slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the cite of Dauid: and Ahaz his sonne reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 Ahaz, an idolater is giuen into the hands of the Syrians, and the King of Israel. 2 The Prophet reproveh the Israelites crueltie. 3 Iudah is molished with enemies. 4 Ahaz, increaseth his idolatrie. 5 His death and successour.

1 Ahaz * was twentie yeere olde when he began to reigne, and reigned sixtene yeere in Ierusalem, and did not vprightly in the sight of the Lord, like Dauid his father.

2 But he walked in the waies of the kings of Israel, and made euen molten images for Baalim.

3 Moreover he burnt incense in the balte of Ben-hinnom, and burnt his sonnes with fire, after the abominations of the heathen whom the Lord had cast out before the children of Israel.

4 He sacrificed also and burnt incense in the hie places, and on hills, and vnder euery greene tree.

5 Wherefore the Lord his God deliuered him into the hand of the king of the Ramites, and they smote him, and took of his, manie prisoners, and brought them to Damascus: and he was also deliuered into the hand of the king of Israel, which smote him with a great slaughter.

6 For hezekiah the sonne of Iemaliah, slawe in Iudah five score thousand in one day, all valiant men, because they had forsaken the Lord God of their fathers.

7 And Zichy a mightie man of Ephraim slawe Daaleiah the kinges sonne, and Azrikam the gouernour of the house, and Elkanah the second after the king.

8 And the children of Israel tooke prisoners of their brethren, two hundred thousand of women, sonnes & daughters, and caried away much spoyle of them, and brought the people to Samaria.

9 But there was a Prophete of the Lordes, (whose name was Obed) and he went out before the hoste that came to Samaria, and said vnto them, Behold, because the Lord God of your fathers is wroth with Iudah, he hath deliuered them into your hand, and ye haue slaine them in a rage, that reacheth vnto heauen.

11 Howe therefore heare me, and deliuer the captiues againe, which pe haue taken prisoners of your brethren: for the fierce wrath of the Lorde is toward you.

12 Wherefore certain of the chiefe of the children of Ephraim, Azariah the sonne of Iehohanan, Serchiah the sonne of Meshillemoth, and Iehiskiah the sonne of Shallum, and Amala the sonne of Hadlai, stood up against them that came from the warre, 16 ¶ At that time did king Ahaz send vnto the kings of Asshur, to helpe him.

17 For the Edonites came mozeouer, and slewe of Iudah, and caried awaye captiues.

18 The Philistims also inuaded the cities in the lowe countrey, and towards the South of Iudah, & tooke Bethshemich and Aialon, and Gederoth & Shochoh, with the villages thereof, and Timnah, with her villages, and Gino, with her villages, and they dwelt there.

19 For the Lorde had humbled Iudah, because of Ahaz king of Israel: for he had brought vengeance vpon Iudah & had grieuouly transgressed against the Lorde.

20 And Tilgath Pileeser king of Asshur came vnto him who troubled him and did not strengthen him.

21 For Ahaz took a porcion out of the house of the Lorde and out of the kings house and of the Princes, and gaue vnto the king of Asshur: yet it helped him not.

22 And in the time of his tribulation did he yet trespass more against the Lorde, (this is king Ahaz)

23 For he sacrificed vnto the gods of Damascus, which plagued him, and he said, Because the gods of the kings of Asshur helped them, I will sacrifice vnto them, and they will helpe me: yet they were his cumme, and of all Israel.

24 And Ahaz gathered the vessels of the house of God, and brake the vessels of the house of God, and shut vp the doores of the house of the Lorde, and made him altars in euerie corner of Ierusalem.

25 And in euerie cite of Iudah he made hie places, to burne incense vnto other gods, and vponoked to anger the Lorde God of his fathers.

26 Concerning the rest of his actes, & all his wayes first and last, behold, they are written in the booke of the kings of Iudah, and Israel.

27 And Ahaz slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the cite of Ierusalem, but brought him not vnto the sepulchres of the kings of Israel: & Iehaziah his sonne reigned in his stead.

Or, in Ierusalem.
q They buried him not in the cite of Dauid where were the sepulchres of the Kings.

CHAP. XXIX.

1. 5 Hezekiah reparaeth the Temple & aduertiseth the Leuites of the corruption of religio. 12 The Leuites prepare the Temple. 20 The King and his princes sacrifice in the Tēple. 25 The Leuites sing praises. 32 The oblation of the people.

1 Hezekiah began to rigue, when he was five and twentie yere old, and reigned nine and thentie yere in Ierusalem: and his mothers name was Abiah the daughter of Zechariah.

2 And he did uprightly in the sight of the Lorde, according to all that Dauid his father had done.

3 He opened the doores of the house of the Lorde in the first yere and in the first moneth of his reigie, and repaired them.

4 And he brought in the Priests and the Leuites, and gathered them into the East breete,

5 And saide vnto them, Heare me, ye Leuites: sanctifie nowe your selues, and sanctifie the house of the Lorde God of your fathers, and carie forth the filthines out of the Sanctuarie.

6 For our fathers haue trespassed, and done euill in the eyes of the Lorde our God, and haue forsake him, and turned away their faces from the Tabernacle of the Lorb, and turned their backs.

7 They haue also shut the doores of the porche, and quethed the lampes, & haue neither burnt incense, nor offered burnt offerings in the Sanctuarie vnto the God of Israel.

8 Wherefore the wrath of the Lorde hath bene on Iudah and Ierusalem: and he hath made them a scatering, a desolation, and an hissing, as pe see with your eyes.

9 For lo, our fathers are fallen by the sword, and our sones, and our daughters, and our wiues are in captiuitie for the same cause.

10 Now I purpose to make a covenant with the Lorb God of Israel, h he may turne away his fierce wrath from vs.

12 ¶ Then the Leuites arose, Bahath the sonne of Amasai, and Joel the sonne of Azariah of the sonnes of the Kohathites and of the sones of Merari, Kish the sonne of Abdi, and Azariah the sonne of Jehalelei: and of the Gerzonites, Joah the sonne of Zimmah, and Eden the sonne of Joah:

13 And of the sones of Elizaphan, Shimir, and Jehiel: and of the sonnes of Issachar, Zechariah, and Mattamah:

14 And of the sonnes of Heuman, Jehiel, & Shimef: and of s^r sonnes of Jedahun, Schemajah and Hziel.

15 And they gathered their brethren, and sanctified them selues and came according to the commandement of the king, and by the wordes of the Lorde, to cleanse the house of the Lorde.

16 And the Priestes went into the inner partes of s^r house of the Lorde, to cleanse it, and brought out all the uncleannes that they founde in the Temple of the Lorde, into the court of the house of the Lorde: and the Leuites tooke it, to carie it out into the brooke Kidron.

17 They began the first day of the s^r first month to sanctifie it, and the eight day of the month came they to the porch of the Lorde: so they sanctified the house of the Lorde in the eight dayes, and in the sixteenth day of the first month they made an ende.

18 ¶ Then they went in to Hezekiah the King, and said, We haue cleansed all the house of the Lorde and the altar of burnt offering, with all the vessels thereof, and the s^r shewe bread table, with all the vessels thereof:

19 And all the vessels which King Ahaz had cast aside when he reigned, & transgressed, haue we prepared and sanctified: and behold, they are before the altar of the Lorde.

20 ¶ And Hezekiah the King arose early, and gathered the princes of the citie, & went up to the house of the Lorde.

21 And they brought seven bullockes, & seven rams, and seven lambes, and seven hee goates, for a s^r sinne offering for the Kingdome, and for the sanctuarie, & for Iudah. And he commanded s^r Priestes the sones of Aaron, to offer them on the altar of the Lorde.

22 So they slewe the bullockes, and the Priestes receiued the blood, and sprinkled it vpon the altar: they slewe also the rams and sprinkled the blood vpon the altar, and they slewe the lambes, & they sprinkled the blood vpon the altar.

23 Then they brought the hee goates for the sinne offering before the King & the Congregation, & and they layed their hands vpon them.

24 And the Priestes slewe them, and with the blood of them they cleansed the altar to concile all Israel: for the King had commanded for all Israel the burnt offering and the sinne offering.

25 He appointed also the Leuites in the house of the Lorde with cymbales, with vioules, and with harpes, * according to the commandement of Dauid, and Gad the kings Seer, and Sachan the Prophet: for the commandement was by the hand of the Lorde, and by the hande of his Prophetes.

26 And the Leuites stood with the instruments of Dauid, and the Pipes with the trumpets.

27 And Hezekiah commanded to offer the burnt offering vpon the altar: and when the burnt offering began, the song of the Lorde began with the trumpets, and the instruments of Dauid King of Israel.

28 And all the Congregation worshipped, singing a song, and they blew the trumpets: all this continued until the burnt offering was finished.

29 And when they had made an ende of offering, the King and all that were present with him, bowed themselues, and worshipped.

30 ¶ Then Hezekiah the King and the princes commanded the Leuites to praye the Lorde with the wordes of Dauid, and of Asaph the Seer. So they prayed with joy, and they bowed themselves, and worshipped.

31 And Hezekiah spake, and sayd, Now we haue consecrate your selues to the Lorde: come nere and bring the sacrifices and offerings of prayse into the house of the Lorde. And the Congregation brought sacrifices, & offerings of prayse, and euery man that was willing at heart, offered burnt offerings.

32 And the number of the burnt offerings, which the Congregation brought, was seente bullockes, an hundred rames, and two hundred lambes: all these were for a burnt offering to the Lorde:

33 And for sanctification five hundred bullockes, and three thousand sheepe,

34 But the Priestes were to selue, & were not able to slay all the burnt offerings: therefore their brethren the Leuites did helpe the, till they had ended the worke, and until other Priestes were sanctified: for the Leuites were more bright in hearte to sanctifie them selues, then the Priestes.

35 And also the burnt offerings were many with the fat of the peace offerings & the dunke offerings for the burnt offering. So the seruice of the house of the Lorde was set in order.

36 Then Hezekiah reioyced and all the people, that God had made the people so reade: for the thing was done suddenly.

And Hezekiah ſent to all Iſrael, and Judah, & alſo wrote letters to Ephraim and Manaſſeh, that they ſhould come to the houſe of the Lord at Jeruſalem, to keepe the Paſſouer vnto the Lord God of Iſrael.
 2 And the King and his princes and all the Congregation had taken counſell in Jeruſalem to keepe the Paſſouer in the ſecond moneth.
 3 For they coude not keepe it at this time, becauſe there were not Prieſtes whow were ſanctified, neither was the people gathered to Jeruſalem.
 4 And the thing pleaſed the King, and all the Congregation.
 5 And they decreed to make proclamation throughout all Iſrael from Beerſheba euen to Dan, that they ſhoulde come to keepe the Paſſouer vnto the Loyde God of Iſrael at Jeruſalem: for they had not done it of a great time, as it was written.
 6 ¶ So the poſtes went with letters by the commiſſion of the King, and his princes, throughout all Iſrael and Judah, and w^h the commandement of the King, ſaying, Pee children of Iſrael, turne againe vnto the Loyde God of Abraham, Iſhak, and Iſrael, and he will returne to the remnant that areeſ-caped of you, out of the handes of the Kings of Aſſhur.
 7 And be not ye like your fathers, and like your brethren, which trespaſſed a-gainſt the Loyde God of their fathers: and therefore he made them deſolate, as ye ſee.
 8 Be not ye now ſtified like your fathers, but give the hand to the Loyde, & come into his Sanctuary, which he hath ſanctified for ever, & ſerue the Lord your God, & the fiercenes of his wrath ſhall turne away from you.
 9 For if ye returne vnto the Loyde, your brethren and your children ſhall finde mercie before them that led them captives, and they ſhall returne vnto this land: for the Lord your God is gracious and mercifull, and will not turne away his face from you, if ye covert vnto him.
 10 ¶ So the poſtes went from cite to cite through the lande of Ephraim and Manaſſeh, euen vnto Zebulun: but they laughed them to ſcoyne, and mocked them.
 11 Nevertheless diuers of Aſſer, & Ma-naſſeh, & of Zebulun ſubmitted themſelues, and came to Jeruſalem.
 12 And the hand of God was in Judah, ſo that he gaue them one heart to doe the commandement of the King, and of the rulers, according to the word of the Loyde.
 13 And there aſſembled to Jeruſalem much people, to keepe the feaſt of the vileauened bread in the ſecond moneth, a verie great aſſembly.
 14 ¶ And they aroſe, and tooke away the altars that were in Jeruſalem: and all thoſe for incenſe tooke they away, and caſt them into the brooke Kidron.

 15 Afterwaide they flew the Paſſouer the fourth day of the ſecond moneth:
 and the Prieſtes and Leuites were ſhamed, and ſanctified themſelues, and brought the burnt offerings into the houſe of the Lord.
 16 And they ſtoode in their place after their maner, according to the Lawe of Moſes the man of God: and the Prieſtes ſhinked the blood, received of the hands of the Leuites.
 17 Becauſe there were many in the Congregation that were not ſanctified, therefore the Leuites had the charge of the killing of the Paſſouer: for all that were not cleane, to ſanctifie it to the Loyde.
 18 For a multitude of the people, euen a multitude of Ephraim, and Manaſſeh, Machar, and Zebulun had not cleaſed themſelues, yet did eate the Paſſouer, but not as it was written: wherfore Hezekiah prayed for them, ſaying, The good Lord be mercifull toward him, 19 That prepareth his whole heart to ſeeke the Loyde God, the God of his fathers, though he be not cleaſed, according to y^e purification of the Sactuarie.
 20 And the Lord heard Hezekiah, & healed the people.
 21 And the children of Iſrael that were preſent at Jeruſalem, kept the feaſt of the vileaue ned bread ſeven dayes with great ioye, and the Leuites, and the Prieſtes praied the Lord, day by day, ſinging with lowde instruments vnto
 the Lord.
 22 And Hezekiah ſpake comfortably vnto to all the Leuites that had good knowledge to ſing vnto the Lord: and they did eate in that feaſt ſeven dayes, and offered peace offerings, and praied the Loyde
 God of their fathers.
 23 And the whole aſſembly toke counſell to keepe it other ſeven dayes. So they kept it ſeven dayes with ioye.
 24 For Hezekiah King of Iudah had given to the Congregation a thouſande bullockes, and ſeven thouſande ſhepe.
 And the princes had giuen to the Congregation a thouſand bullockes, and ten thouſande ſhepe: and many Prieſtes were ſanctified.
 25 And all the Congregation of Iudah reioyced with the Prieſtes & the Leuites, and all the Congregation that came out of Iſrael, and the ſtrangers that came out of the land of Iſrael, and that dwelt in Judah.
 26 So there was great ioye in Jeruſalem:
 for ſince the time of Salomon the ſonne of Dauid King of Iſrael there was not the like thing in Jeruſalem.
 27 Then the Prieſtes and the Leuites a-roſe, and a bleſſed the people, and their voyce was hearde, and their prayer came by vnto heauen, to his holy habitation.

CHAP. XXXI.

2 The people destroy idolatry, 2 Hezekiah appointeth Priests and Levites, 4 And provideth for their living, 13 The ordemeth overseers to distribute to every one his portion.

1 And when all these things were finished, all Israel that were founde in the cities of Judah, went out and brake the images, and cut downe the grones, and brake downe the high places, and the altars throughout all Judah and Benjamin, in Ephraim also and Manasse, burnt they had made an ende: afterward all the children of Israel returned every man to his possession, into their owne cities.

2 And Hezekiah appointed the courses of the Priests & Levites by their turnes, every man according to his office, both Priests and Levites, for the burnt offering & peace offerings, to minister and to give thanks, & to praise in the gates of the tentes of the Lord.

3 (And the Kinges portion was of his owne substance for the burnt offerings, even for the burnt offerings of the morning and of the evening, and the burnt offerings for the Sabbaths, and for the newe moones, & for the solemne feastes, as it is written in the Law of the Lord)

4 He commaunded also the people that dwelt in Jerusalem, to give a part to the Priests, & Levites, that they might bee encouraged in the Lawe of the Lord.

5 ¶ When the commandement was spread, the children of Israel brought abundance of first fruits, of corne, wine, and oyle, and hony, and of all the increase of the fieelde, and the riches of all things brought they abundantly.

6 And the children of Israel and Judah that dwelt in the cities of Judah, they also brought the riches of bullocks and sheepe, and the holy riches which were consecrate unto the Lord their God, and layd them on many heapes.

7 In the third moneth they began to lay the foundation of the heapes, & finished them in the seventh moneth.

8 ¶ And when Hezekiah and the princes came, and saw the heapes, they blessed the Lord and his people Israel.

9 And Hezekiah questioned with the Priests and the Levites concerning the heapes.

10 And Azariah the chiefe Priest of the house of Zadok answered him, & sayd, Since the people began to bring the offerings into the house of the Lord, we have eaten and have bene satisfied, and there is left in abundance: for the Lord hath blessed his people, and this abundance that is left.

11 ¶ And Hezekiah commanded to prepare chambers in the house of the Lord: and they prepared them,

12 And carried in the first fruits, and the riches, and the dedicate things faithfully: and over them was Conaniah the Levite the chiefe, and Shimei his brother the second.

13 And Jehiel, and Azariah, & Jathath, and Abiel, and Jerimoth, & Josabab, and Euel, and Jinnachab, & Abath, and Benaiah were overseers by the appointment of Conaniah, and Shimei his brother, and by the commandement of Hezekiah the King, and of Azariah the chiefe of the house of God.

14 And bore the sonne of Innah the Levite porter towards the East, was over the things that were willingly offered unto God, to distribute the oblations of the Loyde, and the holy things that were consecrate.

15 And at his hand were Eben, and Aminaium, and Jeshua, and Shebnaiah, Azmariah, and Shechaniah, in the cities of the Levites, to distribute with fidelitie to their brethren by courses, both to the great and small,

16 Their daply portion: beside their generation being males from three yere olde and above, even to all that entred into the house of the Lord to their office in their charge, according to their courses:

17 Both to the generation of the Priests after the house of their fathers, and to the Levites from twentie yere olde and above, according to their charge in their courses:

18 And to the generation of all their children, their wives, & their somes and their daughters throughout all the Congregation: for by their fidelitie are they partakers of the holy things.

19 Also to the sonnes of Aaron, the Priests, which were in the fields and suburbs of their cities, in every cite the men that were appointed by names, should give portions to all the males of the Priests, and to all the generation of the Levites.

20 And thus did Hezekiah throughout all Judah, and did wel, and uprightly, and truly before the Lord his God.

21 And in all the workes that he began for the service of the house of God, both in the Lawe and in the commandements, to seeke his God, he did it with all his heart, and prospered.

''Ebr. by the hand.

k Who had also a portion and allowance in this distribution.

l Meaning, that either by the faithful distributions of the officers, every one had their part in the things that were offered, or els that their wives and children were relieved, because the Levites were faithfull in their office, and so depended on them.

CHAP. XXXII.

1 Saneherib innadeth Judah, 3 Hezekiah prepareth for the warre, 7 Hezekiah the people to put their trust in the Lord, 9 Saneherib blasphemeth God, 20 Hezekiah praiseth, 22 The Angel' destroyeth the Assyrians, and the King is slaine, 23 Hezekiah is not thankfull toward the Lord, 33 His death.

1 After these things faithfully described, Saneherib King of Asshur came and entred into Judah, and besieged the strong cities, and thought to winne them for him selfe.

h They prayed the Lord, and praised for all prosperitie to his people.

i He sheweth that this plentifulie liberalitie is expedient for the maintenance of the ministers, and that God therefore prospereth his people, & increaseth by his blessing that which is given.

3 Then he tooke counsel with his prince and his nobles, to stoppe the water of the fountaines without the citie: and they did helpe him.

4 So inawp of the people assembled them selves, and stopp all the fountaines, and the ruer that ran through the middes of the countrey, saying, Why should the kings of Asshur come, and finde much water?

5 And he tooke courage, and built all the broken wall, and made up the towers, and another wall without, and repaired a Millo in the ^b citie of David, and made many bartes and shields.

6 And he set captaines of warre over the people and assembled them to him in the byoadde place of the gate of the citie, and spake comfortably vnto them, saying,

7 Be strong and courageous: feare not, neither be afrayed for þe King of Asshur, neither for all þe multitude that is with him: for there be ma with vs, then is with him.

8 With him is an arme of flesh, but with vs is the ^c Lorde our God for to helpe vs, and to fight our battels. Then the people were confirmed by the words of Hezekiah King of Judah.

9 After this, did Saneherib King of Asshur send his seruantes to Jerusalem (while he was against Lachish, and all his dominio with him) vnto Hezekiah King of Judah & vnto all Judah that were at Jerusalem, saying,

10 Thus saith Saneherib the king of Asshur, Wherein do ye trust, that ye will remaine in Jerusalem, during the siege?

11 Doeth not Hezekiah entice you to giue ouer your selues vnto death by famine and by thirst, saying, The Lorde our God shall deliuer vs out of the hande of the king of Asshur?

12 Hath not the same Hezekiah taken away his hie places and his ^e altars, & commanded Judah and Jerusalem, saying, Ye shall worship before one altar, & burne incense vpon it?

13 Know ye not what I and my fathers haue done vnto all the people of other countreies: Were the gods of the nations of other lands able to deliuer theyr land out of mine hand?

14 Why is he of all the ^b gods of those nations (that my fathers haue destroyed) þe could deliuer his people out of mine hand, that your God should be able to deliuer you out of mine hand?

15 Nowe therefore let not Hezekiah deceiue you, nor induce you after this sort, neither beleue þe him: for none of all the gods of any nation or kingdome was able to deliuer his people out of mine hand & out of the hande of my fathers: how much lesse shall your gods deliuer you out of mine hand?

16 And his seruantes spake yet more against the Lorde God, and against his ^b seruant Hezekiah, 17 The word also letters, blaspheming the Lorde God of Israel & speaking against him, saying, As the gods of the nations of other countreies could not deliuer their people out of mine hande, so shall not the God of Hezekiah deliuer his people out of mine hande.

18 Then they cryed vnto a loud voice in the Iewes speech into the people of Jerusalem that were on the wall, to feare them and to afronch them, þe they might take the citie.

19 Thus they spake against the God of Jerusalem, as against the gods of the people of the earth, euen the ^m workes of mans handes, 20 But Hezekiah the King, and the Prophet Isaiah the sonne of Amos ^o prayed against this and cryed to heauen.

21 And the Lorde sent an Angel which destroyed all the valiant men, and the princes and ^o captaines of the hoste of the king of Asshur: so he returned with shame to his owne lande. And when he was come into þe house of his god, they that came forth of his ^o owne bowels, slew him there with the sworde.

22 So the Lorde laued Hezekiah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem fro the hand of Saneherib King of Asshur, and from the hand of all other, and ^m mainteyned them on euery side.

23 And many brought offerings vnto the Lorde to Jerusalem, and presents to Hezekiah King of Judah, so that hee was magnified in the sight of all nations from thenceforth.

24 In thos daies Hezekiah was sicke vnto the death, and prayed vnto the Lorde, who spake vnto him, and gaue him ^a signe.

25 But Hezekiah did not render according to the reward bestowed vpon him: for his heart was lift vp, and wrath came vpon him, and vpon Judah and Jerusalem.

26 Notwithstanding Hezekiah humbled him self (after that his heart was lifted by) he and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and the wrath of the Lorde came not vpon them in the daies of Hezekiah.

27 Hezekiah also had exceeding much riches and honour, and hee gaue him treasures of siluer, and of golde, and of precious stones, and of sweete odours, and of sheldes, and of all pleasaunt beesties:

32 Concerning the rest of the actes of Hesekiah, and his goodnes, behold, they are written in the vision of Itharah the Prophet, the sonne of Amos, in the booke of the Kings of Iudah and Israel.

33 So Hesekiah slept with his fathers, & they buried him in the highest sepulchre of the sonnes of Dauid: and all Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem did him honour at his death: and Manasseh his sonne reigned in his steade.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 Manasseh an idolater, 9 He causeth Iudah to erre. 11 He is led away prisoner into Babylon, 12 He praeth to the Lord, & is deliuered. 14 He abolisheth idolatrie, 16 And setteth vp true religion. 20 He dyeth and Amos his sonne succeedeth, 24 Whom his owne seruants slay.

1 Manasseh was twelue yeere olde, * when he began to reigne, and he reigned fixe and fiftie yeere in Ierusalem:

2 And he did euill in the sight of the Lord, like the abominations of the heathen, * whome the Lord had cast out before the children of Israel.

3 For he went backe and built the hie places, * which Hesekiah his father had broken downe: * and he set vp altars for Baalim, and made groues, & worshipped all the hoste of the heauen, and serued them.

4 Also he built altars in the house of the Lord, wherof the Lord had saide, * In Ierusalem shall my Name be for euer.

5 And he built altars for all the hoste of the heauen in the two courtes of the house of the Lord.

6 And hee caused his sonnes to passe through the fire in the valley of Ben-hinnom: he gaue him selfe to withcraft and to charming, & to sorcerie, and he used them that had familiar spirits, & soothsayers: he did very much euill in the sight of the Lord to anger him.

7 He put also the haruid image, which he had made, in the house of God: wherof God had saide to Dauid and to Salomon his sonne, * In this house and in Ierusalem, which I haue chosen before all the tribes of Israel, will I put my Name for euer.

8 Neither will I make the foote of Israel to remooue any more out of the lande which I haue appointed for your fathers, so that they take heede, and do all that I haue commaunded them, according to the Law and Statutes & iudgements by the hand of Moses.

9 So Manasseh made Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem to erre, and to do worse then the heathen, whome the Lord had destroyed before the children of Israel.

10 And the Lord spake to Manasseh & to his people, but they would not regard.

11 Wherefore the Lord brought upon him the captains of the hoste of the King of Asshur, which tooke Manasseh and put him in fetters, & bound him in chaines, and caried him to Babel.

12 And when he was in tribulation, he prayed to the Lord his God, and hauid him selfe greatly before the God of his fathers.

13 And he prayed vnto him: and God was mercifull vnto him, and heard his prayer, and brought him againe to Ierusalem into his kingdome: then Manasseh knewe that the Lord was God.

14 Nowe after this he built a wall within the cite of Dauid, on the Westside of the Sihon in the valley, euen at the entrie of the silhe gate, and compassed about the temple, and raised it very hie, and put captaines of warre in all the strong cities of Iudah.

15 And he tooke away the strange gods, and the image out of the house of the Lord, and all the altars that he had built in the mount of the house of the Lord, and in Ierusalem, and cast them out of the cite.

16 Also he prepared the altar of the Lord, and sacrificed thereon peace offerings, & of thanks, and commaunded Iudah to serue the Lord God of Israel.

17 Nevertheless the people did sacrifice still in the hie places, but vnto the Lord their God.

18 Concerning the rest of the actes of Manasseh, and his prayer vnto his God, and the words of the Seers, that spake to him in the Name of the Lord God of Israel, behold, they are written in the booke of the Kings of Israel.

19 And his prayer and how God was intreated of him, and all his sinne, & his trespass, & the places wherem he built hie places, and set groues and images (before he was humbled) beholde, they are written in the booke of the Seers.

20 So Manasseh slept with his fathers, & they buried him in his owne house: Amos his sonne reigned in his steade.

21 Amos was two and twentie yeere olde, when he began to reigne, and reigned two yeere in Ierusalem.

22 But he did euill in the sight of the Lord, as did Manasseh his father: for Amos sacrificed to all the images, which Manasseh his father had made, and serued them.

23 And he humbled not him selfe before the Lord, as Manasseh his father had humbled him selfe: but this Amos trespassed more and more.

24 And his seruants conspired against him, and slew him in his owne house.

25 But the people of the lande slew all them that had conspired against King Amos: and the people of the land made Josiah his sonne king in his steade.

1 Ioshiah* was eight yere olde when he began to reigne, and he reigned in Jerusalem one and thirtie yere.

2 And he did brightly in the sight of the Lord, and walked in the wayes of David his father, and bowed neither to the right hand nor to the left.

3 And in the eight yere of his reigne (when he was yet a childe) he began to seeke after the God of David his father: and in the twelfth yere he began to purge Judah, and Jerusalem from the hie places, and the groues, and the karued images, and molten images:

4 And they brake downe in his sight the altars of Baalim, and he caused to cut downe the images that were on hie pyon them: he brake also the groues, and the karued images, & the molten images, and stampd them to powder, and strowed it upon hie graues of them that had sacrificed vnto them.

5 Also he burnt the bones of the priests vpon their altars, and purged Judah and Jerusalem.

6 And in the cities of Manasseh, and Ephraim, and Simeon, euen vnto Naphtali, with their manies they brake all round about.

7 And when he had destroyed the altars and the groues, and had broken and stampd to powder the images, and had cut downe all the idoles throughout all the land of Israel, he returned to Jerusalem.

8 Then in the eighteenth yere of his reigne when he had purged the launde and the Temple, he sent Shaphan the sonne of Azaiiah, and Maaseiah the gouernour of the cite, & Joah the sonne of Joahas the recorder, to repaire the house of the Lord his God.

9 And when they came to Hilkiah the hie Priest, they deliuered the money that was brought into hie house of God, which the Levites that kept the doore, had gathered at the hand of Manasseh, and Ephraim, and of all the residue of Israel, and of all Judah & Benjamin, and of the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

10 And they put it in the hands of them that should doe the worke and had the oversight in the house of the Lorde: and they gaue it to the workemen that wrought in the house of the Lorde, to repaire and amend the house.

11 Euen to the workemen & to the builders gaue they it, to be helued stone and timber for couples and for beames of the houses, which the Kings of Judah had destroyed.

12 And the men did hie worke faithfully, and the ouerscers of them were Zababai and Shabaiiah the Levites, of the children of Aserari, and Zebariah, and 13 And they were ouer the bearers of burdens, and them that set forwarde all the workemen in euery wayke: and of the Levites were scribes, and officers and porters.

14 And when they brought out the money that was brought into the house of the Lord, Hilkiah the Priest found the booke of the Lawe of the Lord given by the hand of Moyses.

15 Therefore Hilkiah answered and said to Shaphan the chauncer, I haue found the booke of the Lawe in hie house of the Lord: and Hilkiah gaue the booke to Shaphan.

16 And Shaphan caried the booke to the King, and brought the King worde as gaue, saying, All that is committed to the hand of thy seruants, that doe they.

17 For they haue gathered the money that was founde in the house of the Lord, & haue deliuered it into the hands of the ouerscers, and to the handes of the workemen.

18 Also Shaphan the chauncer declared to the King, saying, Hilkiah hie Priest hath giuen me a booke, and Shaphan read it before the King.

19 And when the King had heard the wordes of the Law, he tare his clothes.

20 And the King commanded Hilkiah, and Ahikam hie sonne of Shaphan, and Abdon the sonne of Micaiah, and Shaphan the chanceler, and Azaiah the Kings seruant, saying,

21 Goe and enquire of the Lorde for me, and for the rest in Israel and Judah, concerning the wordes of this booke that is found: for great is the wrath of the Lord that is fallen vpon vs, because our fathers haue not kept the word of the Lord, to doe after all that is writen in this booke.

22 Then Hilkiah and they that the King had appointed, went to Hulda the Prophetesse hie wife of Shallum, the sonne of Tokhath, the sonne of Jaiasah keeper of the wardrobe (and she dwelt in Jerusalem within the colledge) and they commended herof with her.

23 And she answered them, Thus sayth the Lord God of Israel, Telle ye the ma that sent pou to me,

24 Thus sayth the Lorde, Beholde, I will bring euil vpon this place, and vpon the inhabitants thereof, euen all the curses, that are writen in the booke which they haue read before the King of Judah:

unto him. Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, The wordes which thou hast heard, shall come to passe.

¶ This declareth what is the ende of Gods threatenings, to cal his to repentance, & to assure the vnrepentat of their destruction.

¶ It may appeare that very fewe were touched w true repentance, seeing that God spared them for a time onely for the Kings sake. ¶ For asmuch as neither yong nor olde could be exempted from the curses cōtēced therein, if they did transgressie, he knewe it appertained to all, and was his duetie to see it read to all forts, that every one might learne to auoide those punishments by seruing God aright. ¶ Because he had charge ouer all & must answere for every one y perished, hee thought it his duty to see that all should make profession to receiue the worde of God.

27 But because thine heart did melt, and thou diddest humble thy selfe before God, when thou heardest his wordes against this place and against the inhabitants thereof, and humbledst thy selfe before me and tardest thy clothes, and weptest before me, I haue also heard it, saith the Lord.

28 Behold, I will gather thee to thy fathers, & thou shalt be put in thy graue in peace, and thine eyes shall not see all the euill, which I will bring vpon this place, and vpon the inhabitants of the same. Thus they brought the King word againe.

29 ¶ Then the King sent and gathered al the elders of Iudah and Jerusalem. 30 And the King went vnto the house of the Lord, & all the men of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and the Priests and the Leuites, and al the people from the greatest to the smallest, and he read in their eares all the wordes of the booke of the covenant that was found in the house of the Lord.

31 And the King stode by his pillar, and made a covenant before the Lord, to walke after the Lord, and to keepe his commandements, & his testimonies, and his statutes, with all his heart, and with all his soule, and that he would accomplish the wordes of the covenant written in the same booke.

32 And he caused all that were founde in Jerusalem, and Beniamin to stand to it: and the inhabitants of Jerusalem did according to the covenant of God, euen the God of their fathers.

33 So Josiah toke away all the abominations out of all the countreys that pertained to the children of Israel, and compelled all that were found in Israel, to serue the Lord their God: so all his dayes they turned not backe from the Lord God of their fathers.

C H A P. XXXV.

¶ Josiah keepeth the Passouer. 2 He setteth fourth Gods seruice. 20 He fighteth against the King of Egypt, and dieth. 22 The people bewaile him.

I M Drouer Josiah kept a Passouer vnto the Lord in Jerusalem, and they slew the Passouer in the fourteenth day of the first moneth.

2 And hee appointed the Priests to their charges, and encouraged them to the seruice of the house of the Lord,

3 And hee saide vnto the Leuites, that he taught all Israel and were sanctified vnto the Lord, But the holy Urke in the house which Salomon the sonne of Dauid King of Israel did build: it shall be no more a burden vpon your shoulders: serue nowe the Lord your God and his people Israel,

¶ Or, the people.

6 So kill the Passouer, & sanctifie your selues, and prepare your brethren that they may doe according to the word of the Lord by the hand of Moses.

d Exhort euery one to examine them selues, that they be not vnmeet to eate of the Passouer. ¶ Ebr. sonnes of the people.

7 Josiah also gaue to the people, sheepe, lambs & kids, all for the Passouer, euen to all that were present, to the number of thirtie thousand, and thre thousand bullocks: these were of the Kings substance.

8 And his princes offered willingly vnto the people, to the Priests and to the Leuites: Bilhiah, and Zechariah, and Jehiel, rulers of the house of God, gaue vnto the Priests for the Passouer, euen two thousand and fixe hundred sheepe, and thre hundred bullocks.

9 ¶ Conaniah also and SHEMAIAH & JESHAHEL his brethren, & Jahabiah and Jezel, & Jozabad, chiefe of the Leuites gaue vnto the Leuites for the Passouer, five thousand sheepe, and five hundred bullocks.

e So that euery one, & of all sorts gaue of that they had a liberall portion to the seruice of God.

10 Thus the seruice was prepared, and the Priests stode in their places, also the Leuites in their orders according to the Kings commandement:

f Meaning of the Lambe, which was called the Passouer: for onely Priests might sprinkle, and in necessitie the Leuites might kill the sacrifice. ¶ They referred for the people y which was not expedient to be offered, that euery man might offer peace offerings, and so haue his portion. Exod. 22. 1.

12 And they toke away from the burnt offering to giue it according to the diuisions of the families of the children of the people, to offer vnto the Lord, as it is written in the booke of Moses, and so of the bullocks.

13 And they roasted the Passouer with fire, according to the custome, but the sanctified things they sod in pots, pannes, and caldrons, and distributed them quickly to all the people.

14 Afterward also they prepared for them selues & for the Priests: for the Priests the sonnes of Aaron were occupied in offering of burnt offerings, and the fat burnt inight: therefore the Leuites prepared for them selues, and for the Priests the sonnes of Aaron.

17 And the children of Israel that were present, kept the Passouer the same tyme, and the feast of the unleavened bread seuen dayes.

18 And there was no Passouer kept like þis in Israel, from the dayes of Samuel the Prophet: neither did all the kings of Israel keep such a Passouer as Josiah kept, & the Priests & the Leuites, & all Judah, and Israel that were present, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

19 This Passouer was kept in the eight tenth yere of the reigne of Josiah.

20 ¶ After all this, whē Josiah had prepared the Temple, Necho king of Egypt came by to fight against Archemus by Pharaoh, and Josiah went out against him.

21 But he sent messengers to him, saying, What haue I to doe with thee, thou king of Iudah? I come not against thee this day, but against the house of mine enemy, and God commanded me to make halte: leaue of to come against god, which is to me, lest he destroy thee.

22 But Josiah would not turne his face from him, but changed his apparel to fight with him, and hearkened not vnto the wordes of Necho, which were of the mouth of God, but came to fight in the balley of Megiddo.

23 And the shooters that at king Josiah: then the king said to his seruants, Carry me away, for I am very sicke.

24 So his seruants tooke him out of that charer, and put him in the second charer which he had, and when they had brought him to Jerusalem, he died, & was buried in the sepulchres of his fathers: and all Judah and Jerusalem mourned for Josiah.

25 And Jeremiaha lamented Josiah, & all singing men and singing womē mourned for Josiah in their lamentations this day, and made the same for an ordinance vnto Israel: and beholde, they be written in the lamentations.

1 After Josiah, reigned Ichoahaz, 8 After Ichoahaz, Ichoiachin, 8 After him Ichoiachin, 11 After him Zedekiah, 14. 17 In whose time all the people were carried away to Babel, for concerning the admonitions of the Prophets, 22 and were restored againe the sixteenth yere after by king Cyrus.

1 Then the people of the land tooke Jehoahaz the sonne of Josiah, and made him king in his fathers stead in Jerusalem.

2 Jehoahaz was thre & twentie yere old when he began to reigne, and he reigned thre monethes in Jerusalem.

3 And the king of Egypt tooke him away at Jerusalem, and condemned the land in an hundred talents of siluer, and a talent of gold.

4 And the king of Egypt made Eliashim his brother king ouer Judah and Jerusalem, & turned his name to Jehoiachim: and Necho tooke Jehoahaz his brother, and carried him to Egypt.

5 Jehoiachim was five and twenty yere olde, when he began to reigne, and he reigned eleuen yere in Jerusalem, and did euill in the sight of the Lord his God.

6 Against him came by Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel, and bound him with chames to carry him to Babel.

11 Zedekiah was one and twentie yere old, when he began to reigne, and reigned eleuen yere in Jerusalem.

12 And he did euill in the sight of the Lord his God, and humbled not himselfe before Jeremiaha the Prophet at the commandement of the Lord.

13 But he rebelled moreover against Nebuchadnezzar, which had caused him to swear by God: and he hardened his neck and made his heart obstinate that he might not returne to the Lord God of Israel.

14 All the chiefe of the Priests also and of the people trespassed wonderfuly, according to all the abominations of the heathen, & polluted the house of the Lord which he had sanctified in Jerusalem.

15 Therefore the Lord God of their fathers sent to them by his messengers, warning early and sending: for he had compassion on his people, and on his habitation.

16 But they mocked the messengers of God and despised his wordes, & mistified his Prophets, untill the wrath of the Lord arose against his people, and till there was no remedie.

The prayer of Manasseh King of the Iewes.

O Lord almighty, God of our fathers, Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, and of their righteous seede, which hast made heauen and earth with all their ornament, which hast bound the sea by the worde of thy commaundement, which hast shut by the deepe and sealed it by thy terrible & glorious name, whom all do feare and tremble before thy power: for the maiestie of thy glory cannot be boine, and thine angry threatning toward sinners is impossible, but thy mercifull promise is un-measurable and unsearchable. For thou art the most high Lord, of great compassion, long suffering, and most mercifull, and repentest for mans mi-series. Thou, O Lord, according to thy great goodness hast promised a repentance and forgiveness to them that sinne against thee, and for thine infinite mercies hast appointed repentance vnto sinners that they may be saued.
Thou therefore, O Lord, that art the God of the iust, hast not appointed repentance to the iust, as to Abraham, & Isaac and Jacob, which haue not sinned against thee, but thou hast appointed repentance vnto me that am a sinner: for I haue sinned above the number of the lande of the sea. My transgressions, O Lord, are multiplied: my transgressions are exceeding many: and I am not worthy to behold and see the height of the heaues for the multitude of mine unrighteousnes. I am bowed downe with many iron bandes, that I cannot lift by mine heab, neither haue any release. For I haue provoked thy wrath and done euil t efoze thee. I did not thy will, neither kept I thy commaundementes. I haue set by abomi-nations and haue multiplied offences.

Now therefore I bow the knee of mine heart, beseeching thee of grace. I haue sinned, O Lord, I haue sinned, & I acknowledge my trasgressions: but I thus bly beseech thee forgive me: O Lord, forgive me, & destroy me not w my transgressions. Be not angry with me for e-uer by referring euill for me, neither condemne me into the lower partes of the earth. For thou art the God, euen the God of them that repent: and in me thou wilt shew all thy goodness: for thou wilt saue me that am unworthy, according to thy great mercy: therefore I will praise thee for ever all the daies of my life. For all the power of y hea-uens praye thee, and thine is the glory for euer and euer, Amen.

THE ARGVMENT.

AS the Lord is euer mercifull vnto his Church, and doth not punish them, but to the intent they should see their owne miseries, and be exercised vnder the crosse, that they might contemne the world and aspire vnto the heaues: so after that he had visited the Iewes & kept them now in bondage seuentie yeres in a strange country among infidels and idolaters, he remembered his tender mercies and their infirmities, and therefore for his owne sake raysted them vp a deliuerer, and moued both the heart of the chiefe ruler to pity them, and also by him punished such, which had kept them in seruitude. Now withstanding left they should grow into a contempt of Gods great beneficite, he kepeth them still in exercise, and raiseth domestical enemies, which endeour as much as they can to hinder their most worthy enterprises: yet by the exhortation of the Prophets they went forward by litle & litle till their workewas finished.

The author of this booke was Ezra, who was Priest, and Scribe of the Law, as chap. 7. 6. He returned to Ierusalem the sixt yere of Darius, who succeeded Cyrus, that is, about fiftie yeres after the returne of the first vnder Zerubbabel, when the Temple was built. He brought with him a great company, and much treasures, with letters to the kings officers for all such things as should be necessary for the Temple: and at his coming he redressed that which was amisse, and set the things in good order.

NOW* in the first yere of Cyrus King of Persia (that the woide of the Lord, spoken by the mouth of Jeremiah, might be accomplished) the Lorde stirred by the Spirit of Cyrus King of Persia, & he made a proclamation through all his kingdom, and also by writing, saying,
2 Thus saith Cyrus King of Persia, The Lord God of heauen hath giuē me all the kingdomes of the earth, and he hath commaunded me to builde him an house in Ierusalem, which is in Iudah.

3 And they set the altar vpon his bases (for feare was among them, because of δ people of those countreies) therfore they offered burnt offerings thereon vnto the Lorde, euen burnt offerings in the morning, and at euen.

4 They kept also the feast of the Tabernacles, as it is written, and the burnt offering daily, by number according to the custome day by day.

5 And afterward the continuall burnt offering, both in the newe moneths and in all the feast dayes that were consecrate vnto the Lorde, and in all β oblationous willingly offered vnto the Lorde.

6 From the first day of the seuenth moneth began they to offer burnt offerings vnto the Lorde: but the foundation of the Temple of the Lorde was not layed.

7 They gaue money also vnto the masons, and to the workemen, and meate and drinke, and oyle vnto them of Zidon and of Cyprus, to bring them cedar wood from Leb and to the sea vnto Tycho, according to the graunt that they had of Cyrus king of Persia.

8 ¶ And in the second pere of their coming vnto the house of God in Jerusalem in the second moneth began Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel, and Ieshua the sonne of Josadak, and the remnant of their brethren the Priestes and the Leuites, and all they that were come out of the captiuitie vnto Jerusalem, and appointed the Leuites from twentie yeere olde & aboue, to set forward the worke of the house of β Lorde.

1 But the aduertaries of Judah and Beniamin heard, that the children of the captiuitie builded the Temple vnto the Lord God of Israel.

2 And they came to Zerubbabel, and to the chiefe fathers, and sayd vnto them, We will builde with you: for we seeke the Lorde your God as ye do: and we haue sacrificed vnto him since the tyme of Esar Haddon king of Asshur, which brought vs by hither.

3 Then Zerubbabel, and Ieshua, and the rest of the chiefe fathers of Israel, sayd vnto them, It is not for you, but for vs to build β house vnto our God: for we our selues together will builde it vnto the Lord God of Israel, as king Cyrus the king of Persia hath commaunded vs.

4 Wherefore the people of the land δ discouraged the people of Judah, & troubled them in building,

5 And they hired counsellors agaynst them, to hinder their deuce, all δ dayes of Cyrus king of Persia, euen vntil the reigne of Darius king of Persia.

6 And in the reigne of δ Achabuerosh (in the beginning of his reigne) wrote they an accusation agaynst the inhabitants of Judah and Jerusalem.

7 And in the dayes of Artahabshate, Bithedath, Tabeel, and δ rest of their companions wrote when it was peace vnto Artahabshate king of Persia, and the writing of the letter was the Aramites writing, and the thing declared was in the language of the Aramites.

8 Rehum the chancelour, and Shimshai the Scribe wrote a letter agaynst Jerusalem to Artahabshate the king, in this sort.

13 Be it knowen now unto the king, that if this cite be built, and the foundations of the walles layde, they will not give tolle, tribute, nor custome: so shalt thou hynder the kings tribute.

14 Now therefore because we haue bin brought by in the Kings palace, it was not meete for vs to see the Kings dishonour: for this cause haue we lent & certified the king.

15 That one way searche in the booke of the Chronicles of thy fathers, and thou shalt finde in the booke of the Chronicles, and perceiue that this cite is rebellious and noisome vnto kings and prouinces, and that they haue moued sedition of old time, for the which cause this cite was destroyed.

16 We certifie the king therefore, that if this cite be builded, and the foundation of the walles layde, by this meane the portion beyond the Riuer shall not be thine.

17 The king sent an answer vnto Rehum the Chancelour, and Shunshai the scribe, and to the rest of their companions that dwelt in Samaria, and vnto the other beyond the Riuer, Sheshbazzar and Chereth.

18 The letter which ye sent vnto vs, hath bene openly read before me, 19 And I haue commaunded & they haue searched, and founde, that this cite of old time hath made insurrection against kings, and hath rebelled, and rebellious hath bene committed therein.

20 There haue bene mightie kings also ouer Jerusalem, which haue ruled ouer all beyond the Riuer, and tolle, tribute, and custome was giuen vnto them.

21 Make ye now a decree, that those men make cease, and that the cite be not built, till I haue giuen another commaundement.

23 When the copie of King Artahasthes letter was read before Rehum and Shishchai the scribe, and their companions, they went by in all the haste to Jerusalem vnto the Jewes, & caused them to cease by force and powder.

24 Then created the worke of the house of God, which was in Jerusalem, and did stay vnto the second pere of Darius king of Persia.

4 Then saide we vnto them after this maner, What are the names of the men that builde this building?

5 But the eye of their God was vpon the Elders of Jewes, that they could not cause them to cease, till the matter came to Darius: and then they answered by letters thieremto.

6 The copie of the letter, that Tatnai captaine beyonde the Riuer, and Shethar-bosnai and his companions Artapharseth, (which were beyonde the Riuer) sent vnto king Darius.

7 They sent a letter vnto him, wherein it was written thus, VNTO DARIUS the King, all peace.

8 Be it knowen vnto the king, that we went into the prouince of Iudea, to the house of the great God, which is builded with great stones, and beames are layde in the walles, and this worke is wrought speedily, and prospereth in their handes.

9 Then asked we those Elders, and sayd vnto them thus, Who hath giuen you commaundement to builde this house, & to lay the foundation of these walles?

10 We asked their names also, that we might certifie the, and that we might write the names of the men that were their rulers.

11 But they answered vs thus, and said, We are the seruants of the God of heauen and earth, and build the house that was built of olde and many peres ago, which a great king of Israel builded, and founded it.

12 But after that our fathers had provoked the God of heauen vnto wrath, he gaue them ouer into the hande of Nebuchadnezar king of Babel the Caldean, and he destroyed this house, and caried the people away captiue vnto Babel.

13 But in the first pere of Cyrus king of Babel, king Cyrus made a decree to build this house of God.

14 And the vessels of golde and siluer of the house of God, which Nebuchadnezar tooke out of the Temple, that was in Jerusalem, and brought them into the Temple of Babel, those did Cyrus the king take out of the Temple of Babel, and they gaue the vnto one Sheshbazzar by his name, whome he had made captaine.

15 And he said vnto him, Take these vessels and go thy way, & put them in the Temple that is in Jerusalem, and let the house of God be built in his place.

16 Then came the same Sheshbazzar & layed

a Which encouraged them to go forward and accused them that they were more careful to builde their own houses, then zealous to builde the Temple of God.

2 And there was found in a^a coffer (in the palace that was in the prouince of the Medes) a volume, and therein was it thus written, as in a memorial,

3 IN THE FIRST pere of King Cymus, king Cymus made a decree for the house of God in Jerusalem, let the house be built, euen the place where they offered sacrifices, and let the walles thereof be ioynd together: let the height thereof be three scoe cubites, and the breadth thereof thre score cubites,

4 Thre^a orders of^a great stones, and one order of tymbre, and let the expenses be giuen of the kings house.

5 And also let them render the vessels of the house of God (of golde and siluer, which Nebuchadnessar tooke out of the Temple, which was in Jerusalem, and brought vnto Babel) and let^b him go into the Temple that is in Jerusalem to his place and put them in the house of God.

6 Therefore Tatnai captaine beyonde the Riuer, and Setherar Bosnai, (and their companions Apharsecane, which are beyonde the Riuer) be ye farre^c fro thence.

7 Suffer ye the worke of this house of God, that the captaine of the Jewes & the Elders of the Jewes may builde this house of God in his place.

8 For I haue giuen a commandment what ye shall do to the Elders of these Jewes, for the building of this house of God, that of the revenues of the king, which is of the tribute beyonde the Riuer, there be incōtinently expenses giuen vnto these men that they^d cease not.

9 And that which they shall haue neede of, let it be giuen vnto them day by day, whether it be yong bullockes, or rams, or lambs for the burnt offerings of the God of heauen, wheate, salt, wine, and oyle, according to the appointment of the Priests that are in Jerusalem, that there be no fault,

10 That they may haue to offer swete odours vnto the God of heauen, and praye for the kings life, and for his somes.

11 And I haue made a decree, that whosoeuer shall alter this sentence, the wood shall be pulled downe from his house, & shall be set vpon, and he shall be hanged thereon, and his house shall be made a dunghill for this.

12 And the God that hath caused his Name^e to dwell there, destrop al kings^e and people that put to their hands to alter, and to destrop this house of God, which is in Jerusalem. I Darius haue made a decree, let it be done with spede.

13 ¶ Then Tatnai the captaine beyonde the Riuer, and Setherar Bosnai and their companions, according to that which Darius had sent, so they did speedily.

14 So the Elders of the Jewes builded, and they prospered by the prophesying of Haggai the Prophet, and Zechariah the sonne of Iddo, and they builded and finished it, by the appointment of the God of Israel, and by the commandment of Cymus and Darius, and Artahshalte king of Persia.

15 And this house was finished the third day of the moneth^f Adar, which was^g the first pere of the reigne of King Darius.

16 ¶ And the childre of Israel, & Priests, and the Leuites, and the residue of the children of the captiuitie kept the dedication of this house of God with ioye, 17 And offered at the dedication of this house of God an hundredth bullockes, two hundredth rammes, four hundredth lambes, & twelue goates, for the sinne of all Israel, according to the number of the tribes of Israel.

By the commandement of the King, Ezra and his companions come to Ierusalem. 27 Hee giueth thanks to God.

1 Now after these things, in the reign of Artahsalste king of Persia, was Ezra the sonne of Seraiah, the sonne of Azariah, the sonne of Bilkaiah, the sonne of Shalum, the sonne of Zasadok, the sonne of Ahitub,

3 The sonne of Amariah, the sonne of Azariah, the sonne of Pheraioth,

4 The sonne of Zeariah, the sonne of Bzai, the sonne of Buzi,

5 The sonne of Abissua, the sonne of Binnehas, the sonne of Beazar, the sonne of Aaron, the chiefe Priest.

6 This Ezra came by from Babel, & was a scribe prompt in the Law of Moses, which the Lord God of Israel had giuen, and the king gaue him all his request according to the hand of the Lord his God which was vpon him.

7 And there went by certaine of the children of Israel, and of the Priests, and the Leuites, and the singers, & the porters, and the Aethiops vnto Ierusalem, in the seuenth yere of King Artahsalste.

8 And he came to Ierusalem in the fifth moneth, which was in the seuenth yere of the king.

9 For vpon the first day of the first moneth began he to go by from Babel, and on the first day of the fift moneth came he to Ierusalem, according to the good had of his God that was vpon him.

10 For Ezra had prepared his hearte to seeke the Law of the Lord, and to doe it, and to teache the preceptes and iudgements in Israel.

11 ¶ And this is the copie of the letter that King Artahsalste gaue vnto Ezra the Priest and scribe, euen a writer of the wordes of the commandements of the Lord, and of his statutes ouer Israel.

12 ARTAHSHASHTE King of kings to Ezra the Priest and persic scribe of the Lawe of the God of heauen, and to the Heeneith.

13 I haue giuen commandement, that euerie one, that is willing in my kingdom of the people of Israel, and of the Priests, and Leuites to goe to Ierusalem with thee, shall go.

14 Therefore art thou sent of the king and his seuen counsellers, to enquire in Iudah and Ierusalem, according to the Law of thy God, which is in thine hande,

15 And to carie the silver and the golde, which the king and his counsellers willingly offer vnto the God of Israel (whose habitation is in Ierusalem)

16 And all the silver and golde that thou canst finde in all the Province of Babel, with the free offering of the people, & that which the Priests offer willingly to the house of their God which is in Ierusalem,

17 That thou maiest buy speeuy with this silver, bullockes, rammes, lambes, with their meat offerings & their drinke offerings: and thou shalt offer them bys on the altar of the house of your God, which is in Ierusalem.

18 And whatsoever it pleaseth thee and thy brethren to do with the rest of the silver, and golde, doe pe it according to the will of your God.

19 And the vessels that are giuen thee for the seruce of the house of thy God, those deliuer thou before God in Ierusalem.

20 And the residue that shall be needefull for the house of thy God, which shall be made for thee to bestowe, thou shalt bestow it out of the kings treasure house.

21 And I King Artahsalste haue giuen commaundement to all the treasurers that whatsoeuer Ezra the Priest and scribe of the Lawe of the God of heauen shall require of you, that it bee done in continually, 22 Vnto an hundred talents of silver, vnto an hundred measures of wheat, & vnto an hundred baths of wine, & vnto an hundred baths of oyle, and salt without witing.

23 Whatsoeuer is by the commandement of the God of heauen, let it be done speedily for the house of the God of heauen: for why should he be wroth against the Realme of the king, and his children?

24 And we certifie you, that by vpon any of the Priests, Leuites, singers, porters, Aethiops, or Ministers in this house of God, there shall no gouernour laye vpon them tolle, tribute nor custome.

25 And thou Ezra (after the wisdom of thy God, that is in thine hande) set iudges and arbiters, which may iudge all the people that is beyond the Riuer, euen all that knowe the Lawe of thy God, & teache pe them that know it not.

26 And who soeuer will not doe the Law of thy God, and the kings Lawe, let him haue iudgement without delape, whether it be vnto death, or to banishment, or to confiscation of goods, or to imprisonment.

27 Blessed be the Lord God of our fathers, which lo hath put in the kings heart, to beaurise the house of the Lord that is in Ierusalem.

28 And hath enclined mercie towarde me, before the king and his counsellers, and before all the kings mighty Princes: and I was comforted by the hande of the Lord my God, which was vpon me, and I gathered the chiefe of Israel to go by with me.

14 And of the sonnes of Biguai, Othai, and Zabud, and with them seuente

15 And I gathered them to the River that goeth towards Ahava, and there abode we thre dapes: then I belved the people, and the Priettes, and found there none of the sonnes of Levi.

16 Therefore sent I to Eliezer, to Ariel, to Shemaiah, and to Elnathan, and to Jarib, and to Elnathan, & to Nathan, and to Zechariah, and to Meshullam the chiefe, and to Joiarib, and to Elnathan, men of vnderstanding,

17 And I gaue them commaundement, to Iddo the chiefe at the place of Cas-sephia, and I tolde them the wordes that they should speake to Iddo, and to his brethren the Methunims at the place of Cassephia, that they should cause the numbers of the house of our God to come vnto vs.

18 So by the good hand of our God which was vpon vs, they brought vs a man of vnderstanding of the sonnes of Phahasi the sonne of Levi, the sonne of Israel, and Sheberiah with his sonnes & his brethren, euertightene.

19 Also Beshabiah, and with him Jeshaiah of the sonnes of Merari, with his brethren, and there sonnes twentie.

20 And of the Methunims, whom Da-uid had set, and the Dunices to the seruice of the Leuites, two hundredth and twentie of the Methunims, which all were named by name.

21 And there at the River, by Ahava, I proclaimed a fast, that we might humble our selues before our God, & seeke of him a right way for vs, and for our children, and for al our substance.

22 For I was ashamed to require of the king an armie & horsemen, to helpe vs against the enemy in the way, because we had spoken to the king, saying, The hand of our God is vpon all them that seeke him in goodnes, but his pouler and his wrath is against al them that forsake him.

23 So we fasted, and besought our God for this: and he was intreated of vs.

24 Then I separated twelue of the chief of the priettes, Sheberiah, and Basha-biah, & ten of their brethren with them,

25 And weighed them the siluer and the golde, and the vessels, euen the offering of the house of our God, which the king & his counsellers, and his princes, and all Israel that were present had offered.

26 And I weighed vnto their hand sixe hundredth and fittie talents of siluer, and in siluer vessel, an hundredth talents,
and in golde, an hundredth talents:

27 And twenty basins of golde, of a thousand dynammes, and two vessels of iu-ning brasse very good, and precious as golde.

28 And I said vnto them, Be are consecrate vnto the Lord, and the vessels are consecrate, and the golde and the siluer are freely offered vnto the Lord God of your fathers.

29 Watch ye, and keepe them vntill ye weigh them before the chiefe priettes & the Leuites, and the chiefe fathers of Israel in Jerusalem in the chambers of the house of the Lord.

30 So the Priettes and the Leuites re-ceined the weight of the siluer and of the golde, & of the vessels to bring them to Jerusalem, vnto the house of our God.

31 Then we departed from the River of Ahava on the twelth day of the first month, to go vnto Jerusalem, and the hand of our God was vpon vs, and deliuered vs from the hand of the ene-mie, and of such as layed waite by the way.

32 And we came to Jerusalem, and abode there thre dapes.

33 And on the fourth day was the siluer weighed, and the golde and the vessel in the house of our God in the hande of Meremoth the sonne of Uriah the priest, and with him was Eleazar the sonne of Phinehas, and with them was Josaf-

When as these things were done, the rulers came to me, saying, The people of Israel, and the Priests and the Leuites are not separated from the people of the landes (as touching their abominations) to wit, of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Jebulites, the Ammonites, the Moabites, the Egyptians, and the Amorites.

a From the time they came home vnder Zerubbabel vntil the coming of Ezra, they had degenerate contrary to the lawe of God, & married where it was not lawful, Deut. 7. 3.

b That is, the gouerners are the chiefe beginners hereof. c As one doubting whether God would continue his benefices towards vs, or els destroye this which he had begun. Exod. 29. 39. mon. 28. 3.

2 For they haue taken their daughters to them selues, and to their sonnes, and they haue mixed the holy seede with the people of the landes, & the hande of the b pnynces and ulers hath bene chiefe in this trespassse.

3 But when I hearde this saying, I rent my clothes & my garment, and pluckt of the heare of mine head, and of my head, and late downe: a stonied.

4 And there assembled vnto me all that feared the wordes of the God of Israel, because of the transgression of them of the captiuitie. And I late downe a stonied vntil the evening sacrifice.

5 And at the evening sacrifice I arose by from mine heauinesse, and when I had rent my clothes and my garment, I fel byon my knees, and spread out mine hands vnto the Lord my God,

6 And said, O my God, I am confounded and ashamed, to lift vp mine eyes vnto thee my God: for our iniquities are increased ouer d our head, & our trespassse is growen by vnto e the heauen.

d That is, we are drowned in sinne. e They so exceeded that they can not growe greater.

7 From the dayes of our fathers haue we bene in a great trespassse vnto this day, and for our iniquities haue we, our kings, and our yppits bene deliuered into the hand of the kings of the landes, vnto the sword, into captiuitie, into a spople, and into confusion of face, as appeareth this day.

8 And now for a litle space grace hath bene shewed from the Lord our God, in causing a remnant to escape, and in giuing vs a f nable in his holy place, that our God may light our eyes, and giue vs a litle reuening in our seruitude.

f In giuing vs a resting place. It is a similitude taken of them that remaine still in a place, which finite nayles to hang things vpon, Ma. 22. 23.

in the sight of the kinges of Persia, to giue vs life, and to erect the house of our God, and to redresse the desolate places thereof, and to giue vs a wall in Iudah and in Ierusalem.

12 Now therefore shall pe not giue your daughters vnto their sonnes, neither shal pe take their daughters vnto your sonnes, nor seeke their e peace nor welth for euer, that pe may be strong and eate the goodnes of the land, and leaue it for an inheritance to your sonnes for euer.

Deut. 23. 6.

13 And after al that is come vpon vs for our euil doedes, 3 for our great trespassses (seeing that thou our God hast spared vs from being beneath e for our iniquities, and hast giuen vs such deliuerance)

g Hast not vtterly cast vs downe and destroyed vs for our sinnes, Deut. 28. 13.

14 Should we returne to breake thy commandements, and ioine in affinitie with the people of such abominations? wouldest not thou be angry toward vs till thou haddest consumed vs, so that there should be no remnant nor any els saying?

h He sheweth that God is iust in punishing his people, and yet merciful in refering a resdieu to whom he sheweth fauour.

15 O Lord God of Israel, thou art iust, for we haue bene prescribed to escape, as appeareth this day: behold, we are before thee in our trespassse: therefore we can not stand before thee because of it.

Whiles *Ezra prayed thus, and confessed him selfe weeping, and falling downe before the house of God, there assembled vnto him of Israel a very great Congregation of men and women and children: for the people wept with a great lamentation.

1. Esdr. 8. 90. a He confessed his sinnes & the finnes of the people.

2 Then Shechaniah the sonne of Iehiel one of the sonnes of Elam, answered, and saide to Ezra, We haue trespassed aganist our God, 3 we haue taken strange wintes of the people of the lande, yet now there is b hope in Israel concerning this.

b Meaning, that God would receiue them to mercy.

3 Now therefore let vs make a covenant with our God, to put away c all the wintes, (and such as are home of them) according to the counsell of the Lord, and of those that feare the commandements of our God, and let it be done according to the lawe.

c Which are strangers & married contrary to the Lawe of God. d Because God hath giuen thee

4 Auctoritie, and this: we also will be with thee: hee of learning to perswade the people herein, & to Priests, command them,

5 Then arose Ezra, & caused the chiefe

Priests, the Levites, and all Israel, to swear that they would doe according to this worde. So they swore.

6. Esdr. 9. 1.

6 * And Ezra rose vp from before the house of God, and went into the chamber of Johanan the sonne of Eliahib: he went euent thither, but he did eate neither bread, nor drinke water: for he mourned, because of the transgression of them of the captiuitie.

20 Ebr. sonnes of the captiuitie.

7 And they caused a proclamation to go throughout Iudah and Jerusalem, vnto all them of the captiuitie, that they should assemble them selues vnto Jerusalem.

Or, condemned.

8 And who soeuer would not come within thre dayes according to the counsell of the Princes and Elders, all his substance should be forsaie, and he should be separat from the Congregation of them of the captiuitie.

Which con- teyned part of Nouember and part of Decem- ber.

9 Then at the men of Iudah & Beniasmin assembled them selues vnto Jerusalem within thre dayes, which was the twentieth day of the ninth moneth, and all the people sate in the streete of the house of God, trembling for this matter, and for the raine.

f For the season was giuen to raine, and so the wether was more sharpe & colde, and also their conscience touched them.

10 And Ezra the priest stood vp, and said vnto them, We haue transgressed, and haue taken strange wines, to increase the trespass of Israel.

g Ye haue layed one sinne vpon another.

11 Now therefore let vs praye vnto the Lord God of our fathers, and doe his wil, and separate our selues from the people of the land, and from the strange wines.

h Reade Iosh. 7. 19.

12 And all the Congregation answered, and said with a loude voyce, So wil we do according to thy wordes vnto vs.

i Let them be appointed to examine this matter.

13 But the people are many, and it is a ramp wether, and we are not able to stand without, neither is it the worke of one day or two: for we are many that haue offended in this thing.

14 Let our rulers stand therefore before al the Congregation, and let all them which haue taken strange wines in our cities, come at the time appoynted, and with them the Elders of euery cite & the Iudges thereof, til the fierce wrath of our God for this matter turn away from vs.

15 Then were appoynted Jonathan the sonne of Hahai-el, and Jahaziah the sonne of Tikuah our this matter, and Peshullam and Shabberthai the Levites helped them.

k They went to the chiefe cities to sit on this matter which was thre moneths in finishing.

16 And they of the captiuitie did so and departed, euen Ezra the priest, and the men that were chiefe fathers to the familie of their fathers by name, and sate downe in the first day of the tenth moneth to examine the matter.

17 And vntil the first day of the first moneth they were finishing the businesse with al the men that had taken strange wines,

18 And of the sonnes of the priestes there were men found, that had taken strange wines, to wit, of the sonnes of Ieshua, the sonne of Jozabak, and of his brethren, Maaseiah, Heliezer, and Jarib, and Gedaliah.

l As a token that they would keepe promise and do it.

19 And they gaue their hands, that they would put away their wines, and they that had trespassed, gaue a raimme for their trespass.

20 And of the sonnes of Immer, Yonasan, and Zebadiah.

21 And of the sonnes of Harim, Maaseiah, and Eliah, and Sheumaiah, and Jehiel, and Uziah.

22 And of the sonnes of Basur, Elieonai, Maaseiah, Ishmael, Bethaneel, Jozabad, and Elalah.

23 And of the Levites, Jozabad & Shimeier and Kelaiah, (which is Keleah) Bethahiah, Iudah, and Cheser.

24 And of the singers, Eliahib. And of the Porters, Shallum, and Telem, and Uri.

m Meaning of the common people: for before he spake of the Priests and Levites.

25 And of Israel: of the sonnes of Daroth, Kaniath, and Iesiah, and Balchiah, and Hiamin, and Eleasar, and Malchijah, and Benaiah.

26 And of the sonnes of Elam, Mattasiah, Zechariah, and Jehiel, and Abdi, and Jeremoth, and Eliah.

27 And of the sonnes of Zattu, Elioenai, Eliahib, Mattaniah, and Jeremoth, & Zabab, and Aziza.

28 And of the sonnes of Zebai, Tehoanai, Hananiah, Zabai, Hethai.

29 And of the sonnes of Bani, Meshullam, Mallick, and Adaiah, Jathub, & Sheal, Jeremoth.

Or, the captiues of Moab.

30 And of the sonnes of Pahath Mosab, Adna, and Chelal, Benaiah, Maaseiah, Mattaniah, Bezalcel, and Binnui, and Manasseh.

31 And of the sonnes of Harim, Eliezer, Issyah, Balchiah, Sheumaiah, Shimeier, Beniamin, Mallick, Shamariah.

32 And of the sonnes of Yalhum, Mattaniah, Mattatah, Zabab, Eliphelet, Jeremiai, Manasseh, Shimeier.

34 Of the sonnes of Bani, Maadai, Minram, and Del.

35 Banaiah, Bediah, Cheluh,

36 Baniah, Meremoth, Eliahib,

37 Mattaniah, Mattenai, Jaasari,

38 And Bani and Benui, Shimeier,

39 And Shelemiah, and Nathan, & Nethai,

40 Machnadebai, Shashai, Sharai,

41 Hareel, & Shelemiah, Sheumaiah,

42 Shallum, Amariah, Ioseph.

43 Of the sonnes of Bebai, Zeiel, Mattithiah, Zabab, Zebua, Jadau, and Joel, Benaiah.

n Which also were made illegitimate because the marriage was vnlawful.

44 All these had taken strange wines: and among them were women that had children.

NEHEMIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

God doeth in al ages and at al tymes set vp worthy persons for the commodity and profite of his Church, as now within the compass of seuentie yeeres he raysed vp diuers excellent men for the preservation of his people, after their returne from Babylon, as Zerubbabel, Ezra, and Nehemiah. Whereof the first was their captayne to bring them home, and provided that the Temple was builded: the second reformed their maners and planted religion: and the third builded vp the walles, deliuered the people from oppression, and provided that the lawe of God was put in execution among them. He was a godly man and in great autoritie with the kyng, so that the kyng fauoured him greatly, and gaue him most ample letters for the accomplishment of all thinges which he could desire. This booke is also called of the Latines the second of Ezra, because he was the writer thereof.

CHAP. I.

Nehemiah bewaileth the calamitie of Ierusalem, & He confesseth the sinnes of the people, and prayeth God for them.

I He wordes of Nehemiah the sonne of Hachaliah, in the moneth^a Chisleu, in the twentieth eth yeere, as I was in the palace of Shulhan, Caine Hanani, one of my^b brethren, he and the men of Judah, and I asked them concerning the Jewes that were deliuered, which were of the residue of the captiuitie, and concerning Ierusalem.

3 And they saide vnto me, The residue that are left of the captiuitie there in the p^{ro}uince, are in great affliction and in reproch, and the wall of Ierusalem is broken downe, and the gates thereof are burnt with fire.

4 And when I heard these wordes, I fate down and wept, and mourned certaine daies, and I fasted and prayed before the God of heauen.

5 And saide, * O Ioyde God of heauen, the great and terrible God, that keepesth covenant and mercie for them that loue him, and obserue his commaundements,

6 I pray thee, let thine eares be attent, and thine eyes open, to heare the prayer of thy seruant, which I pray before thee daily, day and night for the children of Israel thy seruants, and confesse the sinnes of the chyldren of Israel, which we haue sinned agaynst thee, both I & my fathers house haue sinned: We haue^c grievously sinned agaynst thee, and haue not kept the commaundements, nor the statutes, nor the iudgements which thou commaundedst thy seruant Moses.

8 I beseech thee, remember the woide that thou commaundedst thy seruant Moses, saying, We wil transgresse, and I * wil scatter pou abroade among the people.

9 But if pe turne vnto me, and keepe my commaundementes, and doe them, * though your scattering were to the uttermost part of the heauen, yet wil I gather you from thence, and wil bring you vnto the place that I haue chosen, to place my name there.

10 Nowe these are thy seruants and thy people, whom thou hast redeemed by thy great power, and by thy mighty hand.

11 O Ioyde, I beseech thee, let thine eare nowe hearken to the prayer of thy seruants, and to the prayer of thy seruants, who desire to^d feare thy name, and, I pray thee, cause thy seruant to prosper this day, and giue him fauour in the presence of^e this man: for I was the kings butler.

CHAP. II.

1 After Nehemiah had obtained letters of Artaxerxes, 11 He came to Ierusalem, 17 And builded the walles.

1 Now in the moneth^a Nisan in the twentieth yeere of king^b Artaxerxes, I took by the wine, and gaue it vnto the king. Now I was not beforetime sad in his presence.

2 And the king said vnto me, Why is thy countenance sad, seeing thou art not sicke? this is nothing, but sorrowe of heart. Then was I soze afraid.

3 And I saide to the king, God sate the king for euer: why should not my countenance be sad, when the citie and house of the sepulchres of my fathers lyes waste, and the gates thereof are deuoured with fire?

4 And the king said vnto me, For what thing doest thou require? Then I prayed^c to the God of heauen.

5 And saide vnto the king, If it please the king, and if thy seruant haue found fauour in thy sight, I desire that thou wouldest send me to Judah vnto the citie of the sepulchres of my fathers, that I may build it.

6 And the king saide vnto me, (The Queene also sitting by him) How long shall thy iourney be? and when wilt thou come againe? So it pleased the king, & he sent me, & I let him a time.

7 After I said vnto the king, If it please the king, let them giue me letters to the captaynes beyond the^d Riuer, that they may conuey me ouer, till I come into Judah, d As God moued me to aske, and as he gaue me good successe therein.

h These were three chiefe gouerners vnder the king of Persia beyond Euphrates.

i Thus the wicked when they wil burthen the children of God, euer lay treason vnto their charge, both becaue it maketh them most odious to the world, and also stireth the hatred of Princes most agaynst them. k Neither ye are of the number of the children of God (to whom he hath appointed this citie onely) neither did any of your predeceſſours euer feare God.

(which appertained to the house) and for the walles of the citie, and for the house that I shall enter into. And the king gaue me according to the good hand of my God vpon me.

9 The came I to the captaines beyond the river, and gaue them the kings letters. And the king had sent captaines of the armie and hoysmen with me.

10 But Sanballat the Horonite, & Tobiah a seruant an Ammonite heard it, & it grieved them sore, that there was come a man which fought the welth of the children of Israel.

11 So I came to Ierusalem, and was there thre dayes.

12 And I rose in the night, I, & a few me with me: for I told no man, what God had put in mine heart to do at Ierusalem, & there was not a beast with me, save the beaſt whercon I rode.

13 And I went out by night by the gate of the halley, & came before the diaggon wel, and to the dung porte, and bewed the walles of Ierusalem, how they were broken downe, and the portes thereof denoured with the fire.

14 Then I went forth vnto the gate of the fountaine, and to the kings fish-poole, and there was no roume for the beaſt that was vnder me to passe.

15 Then went I by in the night by the brooke, and bewed the wall, and turned backe, and coming backe, I entered by the gate of the halley and returned.

16 And the rulers knewe not whether I was gone, nor what I did, neither did I as yet tell it vnto the Iewes, nor to the priestes, nor to the noble men, nor to the rulers, nor to the rest that laboured in the worke.

17 Afterwarde I saide vnto them, Pe see the miserie that we are in, how Ierusalem lieth waste, and the gates thereof are burnt with fire: come and let vs build the wall of Ierusalem, that we be no more a reproch.

18 Then I tolde them of the hand of my God (which was good ouer me) and also of the kings wordes that he had spoken vnto me. And they said, let vs rise, and build. So they strengthened their hand to good.

19 But when Sanballat the Horonite, & Tobiah the seruant an Ammonite, and Geshem the Arabian heard it, they mocked vs and despised vs, and said, What a thing is this that ye doe? Will ye rebel agaynst the king?

20 Then answered I them, and saide to them, The God of heauen, he wil prosper vs, and we his seruantes wil rise vp and build: but as for you, ye haue no portion nor right, nor kinemorial in Ierusalem.

1 The number of them that builded the walles.

I Then arose Elashub the hie priest with his brethren the priestes, and they built the sheepegate: they repaired it, & set vp the doores thereof: euen vnto the towre of Shephar repaired they it, and vnto the towre of Hananel.

2 And next vnto him builded the men of Jericho, & beside him Zaccar the sonne of Iair.

3 But the fish port did the sonnes of Senaah build, which also layd the beames thereof, and set on the doores thereof, the lockes thereof, and the barres thereof.

4 And next vnto them fortified Meremoth, the sonne of Urijah, the sonne of Hakkoz: and next vnto them fortified Meshullam, the sonne of Berechiah, the sonne of Meshazabel: and next vnto them fortified Zadok, the sonne of Baana:

5 And next vnto them fortified the Tekoites: but the great men of them put not their neckes to the worke of their lordes.

6 And the gate of the old fish-poole fortified Jehoiada the sonne of Baleah, and Meshullam the sonne of Besobayah: they layd the beames thereof, and set on the doores thereof, and the lockes thereof, and the barres thereof.

7 Next vnto them also fortified Melatiah the Sibeonite, and Jadon the Mesopotamite, men of Sibeon, and of Meshaph, vnto the towre of the Duke, which was beyond the river.

8 Next vnto him fortified Buzai the sonne of Harhobiah of gold smithes: next vnto him also fortified Hananiah, the sonne of Harrakkahim, and they repaired Ierusalem vnto the broad wall.

9 Also next vnto the fortified Shephaiah, the sonne of Hur, the ruler of the halfe part of Ierusalem.

10 And next vnto him fortified Jedaiah the sonne of Harumaph, euen ouer agaynst his house: and next vnto him fortified Yacul, the sonne of Yashabniab.

11 Meshubbah the sonne of Harim, and Yashub the sonne of Yabath Judoah fortified the second portion, and the towre of the fornaices.

12 Next vnto him also fortified Shallum, the sonne of Yaloth, the ruler of the halfe part of Ierusalem, he, and his daughters.

13 The halley gate fortified Hanan, and the inhabitants of Zauuah: they built it, & set on the doores thereof, the lockes thereof, and the barres thereof, euen a thousande cubites on the wal vnto the dung port.

14 But the dung port fortified Meshubbah the sonne of Shephai, the ruler of the fourth parte of Beth-baccarem: he built it, & set on the doores thereof, the lockes thereof, & the barres thereof.

15 But the gate of the fountaine fortified

16 After him fortified Shehiah ^h some of Azbuk, the ruler of the halfe part of Beth-zur, until ^h other side ouer against the sepulchres of Dauid, and to the fishpoole that was repayed, and vnto the house of the mighty.

17 After him fortified the Levites, Kehun the sonne of Bani, and next vnto him fortified Hathabiah the ruler of the halfe part of Keilah in his quarter.

18 After him fortified their brethren, Basuai, the sonne of Henadad the ruler of the halfe part of Keilah:

19 And next vnto him fortified Ezer, the sonne of Iehua the ruler of Mizpah, the other portion ouer against the going vp to the ^d corner of the armour.

20 After him was earnest Baruch the sonne of Zacchai, and fortified another portion from the corner vnto the doore of the house of Eliahib the hie priest.

21 After him fortified Herimoth, the sonne of Drayah, the sonne of Yakkoz, another portion from the doore of the house of Eliahib, euen as long as the house of Eliahib extended.

22 After him also fortified the priestes, the men of the plaine.

23 After them fortified Beniamin, and Hathub ouer against their house: after him fortified M^ariah, the sonne of Basaiah, the sonne of Ananiah, by his house.

24 After him fortified Binumi, the sonne of Henadad another portion, from the house of M^ariah vnto the turning and vnto the corner.

25 Dalai, the sonne of Wzai, from ouer against the corner, and the high towre, that lieth out from the kunges house, which is beside the court of the prison. After him, Bedaiah, the sonne of Paroth.

26 And the ^f Sathinims, they dwell in the fortresse vnto the place ouer agaynst the water gate, Eastward, and to the towre that lieth out.

27 After him fortified the Tekoites another portion ouer against the great towre, that lieth out, eue vnto the wall of the fortresse.

28 From aboue the horsegate forth fortified the priestes, euery one ouer against his house.

29 After them fortified Zadok the sonne of Immer ouer against his house: and after him fortified Shemaiah, the sonne of Shechaniah the keeper of the East gate.

30 After him fortified Hananiah, the sonne of Shelenuah, and Hamun, the sonne of Zalaph, the ^s six, another portion: after him fortified Meshullam, the sonne of Berechiah, ouer agaynst his chamber.

31 After him fortified Malchiah the goldsmiths sonne, vntill the house of ^h Bethinims, and of the marchants ouer agaynst the gate ^h Biphkad, and to the chamber in the corner.

32 And betwene the chamber of the corner vnto the shepegate, fortified the goldsmithes and the marchants.

CHAP. IIII.

7 The building of Ierusalem is hindered, 15 But God breaketh their enterprife. 27 The Iewes builde with one hand, and holde their weapons in the other.

1 BUt when Sanballat heard that we builded ^h wall, the was he wroth & soze grieved, & mocked the Jewes.

2 And said before his brethren & the army of Samaria, thus he said, What do these ^b weake Jewes? will they fortifie them selues? will they sacrifice? will they finish it in a day? will they make the stones whole againe out of ^h heaps of dust, seeing they are burnt?

3 And Tobiah the Ammonite was beside him, and said, Although they build, yet if a fore goe up, he shall euen breake downe their stone wall.

4 ^c Yeare, O our God (for we are despised) and turne their shame vpon their owne head, and giue them vnto a pray ^d in the land of their captiuitie.

5 And couer not their ^e iniquitie, neither let their sinne be put out in thy presence: for they haue pouoked vs before the builders.

6 So we built the wall, and all the wall was ioynd vnto the ^h halfe thereof, and the heart of the people was to worke.

7 ^g But when Sanballat, and Tobiah, & the Arabians, and the Ammonites, & the Ashdodims heard that the wailes of Ierusalem were repayed, (for the beaches began to be stopp'd), then they were very wroth,

8 And conspired al together to come & to fight against Ierusalem, and to ^h hinder them.

9 Then we prayed vnto our God, and set watchmen by them, day and night, because of them.

10 And Judah said, The strength of the beaers is weakened, and there is much earth, so that we are not able to builde the wall.

11 Also our aduersaries had saide, They shal not know, neither see, till we come into the middes of them & slaye them, and cause the worke to cease.

12 But when the Jewes (which dwelt beside them) came, they told vs ^f tenne times, & from all places whence we shal returne, they wil be vpon vs.

13 Therefore let I in the lower places besinde the wall vpon the toppes of the stones, and placed the people by their families, with their swordes, their speares and their bowes.

i To ouersee them and to encourage them to their worke.

14 Then I beheld, and rose vp, and saide vnto the Princes, and to the rulers, & to the rest of the people, Be not afraid of them: remember the great Lord, & fearful, and fight for your brethren, your sonnes, & your daughters, your wiues, and your houses.

15 And when our enemies heard that it was known vnto vs, the God brought their counsel to nought, and we turned all againe to the wall, euery one vnto his worke.

16 And from that day, halfe of the young men did the labour, and the other halfe parte of them helde the speares, and shieldes, and bowes, and habergins: and the rulers stood behinde all the house of Iudah.

17 They that builded on the wall, & they that bare burdens, and they that laded, did the worke with one hand, and with the other held the sword.

18 For euery one of the builders had his sworde girded on his loynes, and so builded: and he that blew the trumpet, was beside me.

19 Then said I vnto the Princes, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, The worke is greate and large, and we are separated vpon the wall, one farre from another.

20 In what place therefore ye heare the sound of the trumpet, reioyce ye thither vnto vs: our God shall fight for vs.

21 So we laboured in the worke, & halfe of them helde the speares, from the appearing of the mornynge, till the starres came forth.

22 And at the same time said I vnto the people, Let euery one with his seruauit lodge within Ierusalem, that they may be a watch for vs in the night, and laboꝝ in the day.

23 So neither I, nor my brethren, nor my seruantes, nor the men of the warde, (which folowed me) none of vs did put of our clothes, saue euery one put them of for walking.

CHAP. V.

The people are oppressed and in necessitie. 6 Nehemiah remedieeth it. 14 He tookē not the portion of others that had ruled before, least he should grieue the people.

a Against the rich, which oppressed them.

b This is the complaint of the people, shewing to what extremitie they were brought vnto.

c To pay our tribute to the King of the Persians, which was exacted yerely of vs.

d By nature the rich is no better then the poore.

1 Now there was a great crye of the people, and of their wiues ^a as against their brethren the Jewes.

2 For there were that saide, We, our sonnes and our daughters are many, therefore we take vp ^b coine, that we may eate and liue.

3 And there were that said, We must gouerne our lands, & our vineyards, & our houses, and take vp coine for the famine.

4 There were also that said, We haue borrowed money for the kinges ^c tribute vpon our lands and our vineyards.

5 And now our fishe is as ^d the fishe of our brethren, and our sonnes as their sonnes: and so, we bring into subiection our sonnes, and our daughters, as ser-uantes, and there be of our daughters now in subiection, and there is no power in our handes: for other men haue our landes and our vineyardes.

6 Then was I very angry when I heard their crye and these wordes.

7 And I thought in my mynd, & I rebuked the princes, and the rulers, and said vnto them, You saie ^f burthens euery one vpon his brethren: and I let a great assembly against them,

8 And I said vnto them, We (according to our abilitie) haue redeemed our brethren the Jewes, which were sold vnto the heathen: and will you sel your brethren againe, or that they be ^h sold vnto vs? Then heid they their peace, & could not answer.

9 I said also, That which ye do, is not good. Might ye not to walk in the feare of our God, for the ^k reproch of the heathen our enemies?

10 For euen I, my brethren, and my seruants doe lend them money and coine: I pray you, let vs leaue of this burden.

11 Restore, I pray you, vnto them this day, their landes, their vineyardes, their oliues, and their houses, and remit the hundredth part of the siluer and of the coine, of the wine, and of the oyle that ye exact of them.

12 Then said they, We will restore it, and will not require it of them: we will doe as thou hast saide. Then I called the priests, and caused them to sweare, that they should do according to this promise.

13 So I thooke my lapper, and said, So let God shake out euery man that will not performe this promise from his house, and from his labour: euen thus let him be shake out, and emptied. And all the congregation saide, Amen, and prayed the Lord: and the people did according to this promise.

CHAP. VI.

¹ Nehemiah answereth with great wisdom, and zeale to his aduersarie. ² He is not discouraged by the false Prophetses.

² Then sent Sanballat and Geshem vnto me, saying, Come thou that we may meete together in the villages in the plaine of Ono: and they thought to do me euill.

³ Therefore I sent messengers vnto them, saying, I haue a great worke to do, and I can not come downe: ^b why should the worke cease, whiles I leaue it, and come downe to you?

⁴ Yet they sent vnto me foure times after this sort. And I answered them after the same manner.

⁵ Then sent Sanballat his seruant after this sort vnto me the fift time, with an open letter in his hand,

⁶ Wherin was written, It is reported among the heathen, and ^bSathni hath said it, that thou and the Jewes thinke to rebel, for the which cause thou buildest the wal, and thou wilt be their king according to these ^cwooides.

⁸ Then I sent vnto him, saying, It is not done according to these wooides that thou sayest: for thou segest them of thine owne heart.

⁹ For al they afrayed vs, saying, Their handes shalbe weakened for the worke, and it shal not be done: nowe therefore ^bincourage thou me.

¹⁰ And I came to the house of She-maiah the sonne of Delaiah the sonne of Mehetabel, and he was shut vp, and he saide, Let vs come together into the house of God in the middes of the Temple, and shut the doores of the Temple: for they wil come to slay thee: pea, in the night will they come to kill thee.

¹¹ Then I said, ^bShould such a man as I, be? Who is he, being as I am, that would goe into the Temple to lue? I will not goe in.

¹² And so, I perceiued, that God had not accorded to his, to resist false prophesies, though they seme to haue neuer so great probability sent him, but that he pronounced this prophesie against me: for Tobiah and Sanballat had hyed him.

¹³ Therefore was he hyed, that I might be afraid, and doe thus, and lue, and that they might haue an euill rejoyce that they might reprocie me.

¹⁶ And when al our enemies heard thereof, even al the heathen that were about vs, they were afraid, and their courage failed them: for they knewe, that this worke was wrought by our God.

¹⁷ And in these daies were there many of the princes of Judah, whose ^bletters went vnto Tobiah, and those of Tobiah came vnto them.

¹⁸ For there were many in Judah, that were sworne vnto him: for he was the sonne in lawe of Shechaniah, the sonne of Arah: and his sonne Jehonathan had the daughter of Meshullam, the sonne of Berechiah.

¹⁹ Pea, they spake in his praise before me, and tolde him my wooides, and Tobiah sent letters to put me in feare.

CHAP. VII.

¹ After the wall once builded, is the watch appointed. ⁶ They that returned from the captiuitie are nombred.

¹ NOWE ^awhen the wall was builded, and I had set by the doores, and the porters, and the singers and the Leuites were appointed,

² Then I commaunded my brother Hanani and Hananiah the prince of the palace in Jerusalem (for he was doubtlesse a faithful man, and feared God as boue many)

⁴ Now the cite was large and great, but the people were fewe therein, and the houses were not builded.

⁵ And my God put into mine heart, and I gathered the princes, and the rulers, and the people, to count their genealogies: and I found a booke of the genealogie of them, ^a which came vp at the first, and found written therein,

⁶ These are the ^bsonnes of the prouince that came by from the captiuitie that was caried away (whom Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel had caried away) and they returned to Jerusalem and to Judah, euery one vnto his cite.

g Very grieue caused him to pray against such, which vnder the pretence of being the ministers of God, were aduersaries to his glory, and went about to ouerthrow his church, declaring also hereby that where there is one true minister of God, the deuil hath a great fort of hirings, h Which was the sixt moneth, and conteyned part of August, and part of September.

3 Ezra gathereth together the people, and readeth to them the Law. 12 They reioyce in Israel for the knowledge of the word of God. 15 They keepe the feast of Tabernacles or bootes.

1 And all the people assembled themselues together, in the streete that was before the watergate, and they spake vnto Ezra the scribe, that hee would bring the booke of the Lawe of Moses, which the Lord had commaunded to Israel.

2 And Ezra the Priest brought the Lawe before the Congregation both of men & women, and of all that coude heare & vnderstande it, in the first daie of the seventh moneth.

3 And he read therein in the streete that was before the watergate (from the morning vntill the midday) before men and women, and them that vnderstode it, and the eares of all the people hearkened vnto the booke of the Lawe.

4 And Ezra the scribe stode vpon a pulpit of wood, which he had made for the preaching, and beside him stode Phattiah, and Sheina, and Ananiah, and Orhiah, and Mikiah, and Maasiah on his right hand, & on his left hande Iddayah, and Ghisael, and Malchiah, and Hashum, and Hashbadana, Zechariah, and Meshullam.

5 And Ezra opened the booke before all the people: for he was d above all the people: and when he opened it, all the people stode vp.

6 And Ezra prayed the Lorde the great God, and all the people answered, Amen, Amen, with lifting by their hands: and they bowed themselves, and worshipped the Lorde with their faces toward the ground.

7 Also Ieshua, & Bani, and Sherebiah, Jamin, Akkub, Shabberhai, Hodiah, Maaseiah, Kelita, Masiyah, Izabab, Hanan, Pelaiiah, & the Leuites caused the people to vnderstand the Lawe, and the people stode in their place.

8 And they read in the booke of the Lawe of God distinctly & gaue the sense, and caused them to vnderstand the reading.

9 Then Nehemiah (which is Tirhatha) and Ezra the Priest and scribe, and the Leuites that instructed the people, spake vnto all the people, This daie is holie vnto the Lorde your God: moune not, neither weep: for all the people wept, when they heard the words of the Law.

10 He said also vnto them, Goe, & eate of the fat, and drinke the swete, and sende part vnto them, for whom none is prepared: for this daie is holie vnto our Lorde: be ye not sone therefore: for the soie of the Lord is your strength.

11 And the Leuites made silence throughout all the people, saying, Holde your peace: for the daie is holie, be not sad therefore.

12 Then all the people went to eat and to drinke, & to sende away part, & to make great ioye, because they had vnderstand the words that they had taught them.

13 And on the seconde daie the chiefe fathers of all the people, the Priests & the Leuites were gathered vnto Ezra the scribe, that he also might instruct them in the words of the Lawe.

14 And they found written in the Lawe, (that the Lord had commaunded by Moses) that the children of Israel should dwell in bootes in the feast of the seventh moneth,

15 So the people should cause it to be declared and proclaimed in all their cities, and in Ierusalem, saying, Goe forth vnto the mount, and bring olive branches, and yme branches, and branches of myrtus, and palme branches, & branches of thicke trees, to make bootes, as it is written.

16 So the people went forth and brought them, and made them bootes, eery one vpon the roofe of his house, and in their courtes, and in the courtes of the house of God, and in the streete by the watergate, and in the streete of the gate of Ephraim.

17 And at the Congregation of them that were come againe out of the captiuitie, made bootes, & sate vnder the bootes: for since the tyme of Iehua the sonne of Iam vnto this day, had not the children of Israel done so, and there was very great ioye, e In considering their offences against the Lawe. Therefore the Leuites do not reprove them for mourning, but assure them of Gods mercies forasmuch as they are repentant.

23 And thou diddest multiply their children, like the starrs of the heauen, & broughtest them into the lande, whereof thou hadest spoken vnto their fathers, that they should go, and possesse it.

24 So the children went in, and possessed the land, & thou subuertedst before them the inhabitants of the land, euen the Canaanites, and gauest them into their hands, with their kings and the people of the land, that they might do with the what they would.

25 And they toke their strong cities and fat lande, and poylced houses, full of all goods, cisternes digged out, vineyards, and olives, and trees for foode in abundance, and they did eat, and were filled, and became fatte, and lived in pleasure through thy great goodnes.

26 Yet they were disobedient, and rebelled against thee, and cast thy Lawe behind their backs, and slew thy Prophets (which protested among them to turne them vnto thee) and committed great blasphemies.

27 Therefore thou deliueredst them into the hande of their enemies that vexed them: yet in the time of their affliction, when they cryed vnto thee, thou hearest them from the heauen, and through thy great mercies thou gauest them lawe: moues, who laued them out of the hand of their aduersaries.

28 But when they had rest, they returned to do euill before thee: therefore leitest thou them in the hand of their enemies, so that they had the dominion ouer thee, yet when they conuerted and cryed vnto thee, thou hearest them from heauen, and deliueredst them according to thy great mercies many times.

29 And protestest among them that thou mightest bring them agame vnto thy Law: but they behaued themselves proudly, and hearkened not vnto thy commandements, but sinned agaynst thy iudgements (which a man shoulde do and liue in them) and spyled awaye the shoulder, and were stifnecked, and would not^b heare.

30 Yet thou^c diddest foreake them many peeres, and protestest among them by thy Spirit, euen by the hand of thy Prophets, but they would not heare: therefore gauest thou them into the hande of the people of the landes.

31 Yet for thy great mercies, thou hast not consumed them, neither forsaken them: for thou art a gracious and merciful God.

32 Now therefore our God, *thou great God, mightie and terrible, that keepest covenant and *mercie, let not all the affliction that hath come vnto vs, seeme a litle before thee, that is, to our kings, to our Princes, and to our Priests, and to our Prophets, and to our fathers, and to all thy people since the time of the kings of Asshur vnto this day.

33 Surely thou art iust in all that is come vpon vs: for thou^d hast dealt truly, but we haue done wickedly.

34 And our kings and our princes, our priests and our fathers haue not done thy Law, nor regarded thy commandements nor thy protestations, wherewith thou hast^e protested among them.

35 And they haue not serued thee in thy kingdom, and in thy great goodnesse that thou shewedst vnto them, & in the large & fat land which thou didst let before them, and haue not conuerted from their euill wayes.

36 Behold, we are seruants this day, and the land that thou gauest vnto our fathers, to eat the^f fruit thereof, and the goodnes thereof, behold, we are seruants therein.

37 And it peelbeth much fruite vnto the kunges whome thou hast let ouer vs, because of our innes: and they haue dominio ouer our bodies and ouer our cattell at their pleasure, and we are in great affliction.

The Priests and Levites, which came with Zerubbabel unto Jerusalem, are nombred, 27 And the wall is dedicated.

1 These also are the Priests & the Levites that went with Zerubbabel, the sonne of Shealtiel, & Jeshua: to wit, Seraiah, Jeremiah, Ezra,

 30 And the Priests and Levites were purified, and censled the people, and the gates, and the wall.
 31 And I brought by the princes of Judah upon the wall, and appointed two great companies to give thanks, and the one went on the right hande of the wall toward the dung gate.

35 And of the Priests some with trumpets, Zachariah the sonne of Jonathan, the sonne of Shemaiah, the sonne of Athanai, the sonne of Michaiah, the sonne of Zaccur, the sonne of Alaph.

36 And his brethren, Shemaiah, & Azareel, Bilal, Gilalai, Maai, Nechaneel, and Judah, Hanani, with the musickall instruments of David the man of God: and Ezra the scribe went before them.

37 And to the gate of the fontaine, euen ouer against them went they by the staires of the cite of Dauid, at the going by of the wall beynde the house of Dauid, eue vnto the water gate Eastward.

38 And the second companie of them that haue thaks, went on the other side, and after them, and the halfe of the people was vpon the wal, and vpon the towre of the furnaces euen vnto the broad wall.

39 And vpon the gate of Ephraim, & vpon the old gate, and vpon the fishgate, and the towre of Hananeel, and the towre of Meah, euen vnto the sheepegate: and they stood in the gate of the warde.

40 So stode the two companies (of them that gaue thanks) in the house of God, and I and the halfe of the rulers with me.

41 The Priests also, Eliakim, Maaseiah, Minamin, Michaiah, Elieonai, Zachariah, Hananiah, with trumpets, 42 And Maaseiah, and Shemaiah, and Eleazar, and Bzzi, and Jehohanan, & Galchiah, & Elam, and Ezer: and the singers^m sang loude, hauing Irahiah which was the ouerseeer.

43 And the same day they offered great sacrifices & reioyced: for God had giuen them great ioy, so that both the womē, and the children were ioyfull: and the ioy of Ierusalem was heard farre of.

44 Also at the same time were me appointedⁿ ouer the chambers of the doore for the offerings (for the first fruytes, and for the tithes) to gather into them out of the fields of the cities, the porcions of the Lawe for the Priests & the Leuites: for Iudah reioyced for the Priests and for the Leuites, that serued.

45 And both the singers and the Leuites kept the warde of their God, and the warde of the purification according to the commandement of Dauid, and Salomon his sonne.

46 For in the dayes of Dauid & Alaph, of olde were chief singers, and songs of praise and thanksgiving vnto God.

47 And in the dayes of Nehemiah bid at Israel giue porcions vnto the singers and porters, euerie day his porcion, & they gaue the holy things vnto the Leuites, and the Leuites^o gaue the holy things vnto the sonnes of Aaron.

Ad on that day did they reade in the booke of Moses, in the audience of the people, & it was found written therein, that the Ammonite, and the Moabite should not enter into the Congregation of God,

2 Because they met not the children of Israel with bread and with water, but hired Balak against them, that he should curse them: and our God turned the curse into a blessing.

3 Now when they had heard the Lawe, they separated from Israel all those that were mixed.

4 And before this had the Priest Eleaziah the ouersight of the chamber of the house of our God, being a kinsman to Tobiah:

5 And he had made him a great chamber and there had they afozetime layde the offerings, the incense, and the vessels, and the cures of coine, of wine, and of ople (appointed for the Leuites, and the singers, and the porters) & the offerings of the Priests.

6 But in al this time was not I in Ierusalem: for in the two and thirtieth yere of Artahshalthe king of Babel, came I vnto the king, and after certain dayes I obtened of the king.

7 And when I was come to Ierusalem, I vnderstode the cull that Eleaziah had done for Tobiah, in that he had made him a chamber in the court of the house of God,

8 And it grieved me sore: therefore I cast forth all the vessels of the house of Tobiah out of the chamber.

9 And I commanded them to cleanse the chambers: & thither brought I againe the vessels of the house of God with the meate offering and the incense.

10 And I perceped that the porcions of the Leuites had not bene giuen, and that euerie one was fled to his land, eue the Leuites and singers that executed the worke.

11 The reposed I the rulers & said, Why is the house of God forsaken? And I assembled them, & set them in their place.

12 Then brought all Iudah the tithes of coine and of wine, and of ople vnto the treasures.

13 And I made treasurers ouer the treasures, Shelemiah the Priest, & Zadok the scribe, & of the Leuites, Gedaliah, & vnder their hande Hanan the sonne of Zaccur the sonne of Athanai: for they were counted faithful, and their office was to distribute vnto their brethren.

14 Remember me, O my God, herein, and yet he doth not wipe nor out my kindness that I haue shewed on the house of my God, and on the officers thereof.

15 In those dayes saw I in Iudah them, that trode wine presses on the Sabbath, and that brought in sheaves, and which laded asses also with wine, grapes, and figges, & all burdens, & brought them into Ierusalem vpon the Sabbath day: and I.

CHAPTER XIII. The Law is read. 3 They separate from them all strangers. 15 Nehemiah reproveth the that break the Sabbath. 30 An ordinance to save God.

I declared vnto the, that God would not suffer such transgressors of his Law to be vnpunished.

16 There dwelt men of Tyus also therein, which brought fish and all wares, & soide on the Sabbath vnto the children of Iudah euen in Jerusalem.

17 Then reppoynd I the rulers of Iudal, and sayde vnto them, What euill thing is this that ye do, and breake the Sabbath day?

18 Did not your fathers thus, & our God brought all this plague vpon vs, and vpon this cite: yet ye increase þ' wrath vpon Israel, in breaking the Sabbath?

19 And when the gates of Jerusalem began to be darke before the Sabbath, I commaunded to shut the gates, & charged, that they should not be opened till after the Sabbath, and some of my seruants set I at the gates, þ' they should no burden be brought in on the Sabbath day.

20 So the chapmen and marchants of al marchandise remaind ouce or twice al night without Jerusalem.

21 And I protested among them, and said vnto them, Why tarpe ye al night about the wall? If ye do it once againe, I will lay handes vpon you. From that time came they no more on the Sabbath.

22 And I said vnto þ' Leuites that they should cleanse themselves, and that they should come & keepe the gates, to sanctifie the Sabbath day. Remember me, O my God, concerning this, and pardon me according to thy great mercie.

23 In those dayes also I saue Iewes that married wiues of Ahdod, of Am-non, and of Hoab, 24 And their children spake halfe in the beech of Ahdod, and could not speake in the Iewes language, and according to the language of the one people, and of the other people.

25 The I reppoynd them, & cursed them, and smote certaine of them, and villed of their heare, and tooke an othe of them by God, Ye shall not giue your daughters vnto their sonnes, nepper shall ye take of their daughters vnto your sonnes, nor for your leuites.

THE ARGVMENT.

Because of the diuersitie of names, whereby they vied to name their kings, & the supputatiō of yeres, wherein the Ebreues, and the Grecians do varie, diuers authors write diuersly as touching this Ahasuerosh, but it seemeth Daniel 6. 1 & 9. 1. that he was Darius King of the Medes, and sonne of Astyages, called also Ahasuerosh, which was a name of honour, and signified great and chiefe, as chiefe head. Herein is declared the great mercies of God toward his Church: who neuer faileth them in their greatest dangers, but when al hope of worldly help faileth, he euer stirreth vp some, by whom he fendeth comfort, and deliuerance. Herein also is described the ambition, pride and crueltie of the wicked, when they come to honour, and their sudden fall when they are at highest: and howe God preferueth, and preferreth them which are zealous of his glorie, and haue a care and loue toward their brethren.

2 In those dayes whē the king Ahasuerosh sat on his throne, which was in the palace of Shushan,

3 In þ' third yere of his reigne, he made a feast vnto all his p'inces & his seruants, euen the power of Persia & Media, and to the captaines & gouernours of the p'ouinces which were before him,

4 That he might shew the riches & glory of his kingdome, and the honour of his great maiestie many daies, euen an hundred and foure score dayes.

5 And when these daies were expired, the king made a feast to all the people that were found in þ' palace of Shushan, both vnto great and smal, seven dayes, in the court of the garden of the kings palace,

6 Vnder an hangina of white, greene, and blew clothes, fastened with cordes of fine linnen and purple, in siluer ringes, and pillars of marbie: the beddes were of golde, and of silver vpon a pavement of porphyre, and marbie and alabaster, and blew colour, d Which they vfed in those countreis in stead of tables.

h Was not this a great cause, why God plagued vs in times past? meaning, that if they traigressed now in the same againe, their plague should be greater. i About the time that the sunne went downe: for the Sabbath lasted from the sunne going down of the one day, to the sunne setting of y other. k Meaning, of the Temple, that none, that was vncleane, should enter. l Which was a cite of the Philistims, and they had married wiues thereof, & so had corrupted their speech, and religion.

8 And the drynking was by an order, none might compel: for so the king had appointed vnto al p officers of his house, that they should doe according to euery mans pleasure.

9 The Queene Dalhti made a feast also for the women in the ropall house of King Ahahuerosh.

10 Upon the seuenthy dape when the King was merie with wine, he commanded Behumia, Biztha, Yardon, Biztha, & Abagtha, Zechar, & Carcas, the seuen euniches (that serued in the pence of King Ahahuerosh)

11 To bring Queene Dalhti before the King with the crowne ropall, that he might shew p people & the princes her beautie: for she was faire to looke vpon.

12 But the Queene Dalhti refused to come at the kings word, which he had giuen in charge to the euniches: therefore the King was very angrye, & his wrath kindled in him.

13 Then the King said to the wife men, that knewe the times (for so was the kings maner towards al that knew the lawe and the iudgement:

14 And the next vnto him was Carthena, Shethar, Adnatha, Carthah, Heres, Harena & Demican the leuen princesses of Persia and Media, which saw the kings face, and sate the first in the kingdome)

15 What shall we do vnto the Queene Dalhti according to the lawe, because she did not according to the word of the king Ahahuerosh by the commission of the euniches?

16 Then Demican answered before the King and the princes, The Queene Dalhti hath not onely done euill against the king, but against al the princes, & against all the people that are in al the prouinces of King Ahahuerosh.

17 For the acte of the Queene that come abroad vnto all women, so that they shall despise their husbands in their owne eyes, and shal say, The king Ahahuerosh commanded Dalhti p Queene to be brought in before him, but she came not.

18 So shall the princesses of Persia and Media this day say vnto all the kings Princes, when they heare of the acte of the Queene: thus shal there be much despitefulnesse and wrath.

19 If it please the king, let a ropal decree proceede from him, and let it be written among the statutes of Persia, and Media (and let it not be transgressed) that Dalhti come no more before King Ahahuerosh: and let the king giue her ropal estate vnto her companion that is better then she.

20 And when the decree of p king which shal be made, shal be published through out all his kingdome (though it be great) all the women shall giue their husbandes honour, both great and small.

21 And this saying pleased the king and the princes, and the king did according to the worde of Demican.

22 For he sent letters into al the prouinces of the king, into euery prouince according to the writing thereof, & to euery people after their language, that euery man shoulde p beare rule in his owne house, and that he shoulde publish it in the language of that faire people.

After the Queene y was put away, certeine yong maides are brought to the King. After pleasth the King, and y made Queene. Mordecai dis-closeth vnto the King, those that would betray him.

After these things, when the wrath of King Ahahuerosh was appeased, hee remembered Dalhti, and what she had done, and what was decreed against her.

And the kings seruantes that were stred vnto him, said, Let them seeke for the king beautifull yong virgins.

And let p king appoint officers through all the prouinces of his kingdome, and let them gather all the beautifull yong virgins vnto the palace of Shulhan, vnto the house of the women, vnder the hand of Hege the kings euniche, keeper of the women, to giue them their things for purification.

And the maid that shall please p king, let her reigne in p stead of Dalhti. And this pleased the king, and he did so.

In the citie of Shulhan, there was a certaine Jewe, whose name was Mordecai the sonne of Jair, p sonne of Shimei, the sonne of Aitha an of Jenni,

Which had bene caried away from Jerusalem with the captiuitie that was caried away with Tekoniah king of Iudah (whome Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel had caried away)

And he nourished Hadassah, that is Ester, his vnckes daughter: for he had neither father nor mother, & the maide was faire, and beautifull to looke on: and after the death of her father, and her mother, Mordecai tooke her for his owne daughter.

And when the kings commandment, and his decree was published, & many maides were brought together to the palace of Shulhan, vnder the hande of Hege, Ester was brought also vnto the kings house vnder the hande of Hege the keeper of the women.

And the maid pleased him, and the found fauour in his sight: therefore he caused her things for purification to be giuen her (speedily, and her rate, and seuen comely maides to be giue her out of the kings house, and he gaue charge to her and to her maides of the best in the 10 But Ester shewed not her people and her kindred: for Mordecai had charged her, that she should not tell it.

11 And Mordecai walked every day before the court of the womens house, to know if Ester did well, & what should be done with her.

12 And when the course of every maid came, to go in to king Ahasuerus, after that she had bene twelue monethes according to the manner of the women (for so were the dayes of their purifications accomplished, six monethes with ople of mrythe, and six monethes with sweete odours and in the purifying of the women:

17 And the king loued Ester aboue all the women, and she found grace and fauour in his sight more the all the virgins: so that he let the crowne of the kingdom vpon her head, and made her Queene in stead of Vashti.

18 Then the king made a great feast vnto all his princes, and his seruants, which was the feast of Ester, and gaue rest vnto the princes, and gaue giftes, according to the power of a king.

21 In those dayes when Mordecai late in the kings gate, two of the kings eunuches, Bigthan & Teresh, which kept the doore, were wroth, & sought to lay hand on the king Ahasuerus.

22 And the thing was knowne to Mordecai, & he told it vnto Queene Ester, & Ester certified the king thereof in Mordecais name: and when inquisition was made, it was found so: therefore they were both hanged on a tree: and it was written in the booke of the Chronicles before the king.

CHAP. III

1 Haman, after he was exalted, obtayned of the king, that all the Iewes should be put to death, because Mordecai had not done him worship as other had.

1 After these thinges did king Ahasuerus promote Haman the sonne of Hammedatha the Agagite, and exalted him, and let his seat aboue all the princes that were with him.

2 And at the kings seruantes that were at the kings gate, bowed their knees, and reuerenced Haman: for the king had so commaunded concerning him: but Mordecai bowed not the knee, neither did reuerence.

3 Then the kings seruants which were at the kings gate, said vnto Mordecai, Why transgresses thou the kings commaundement?

4 And albeit they spake daily vnto him, yet he would not heare them: therefore they told Haman, that they might see how Mordecais matters would stand: for he had told them, he was a Jew.

5 And when Haman saue that Mordecai bowed not the knee vnto him, nor did reuerence vnto him, then Haman was full of wrath.

6 Now he thought it litle to lay handes on Mordecai: & because they had shewed him the people of Mordecai, Haman sought to destroy all the Jewes, that were throughout the whole kingdom of Ahasuerus, euen the people of Mordecai.

7 In the first moneth (that is the moneth Nisan) in the twelfth yere of king Ahasuerus, they call Pur (that is a lot) before Haman, from day to day, & from moneth to moneth, vnto the twelfth moneth, that is the moneth Adar.

8 Then Haman sayde vnto king Ahasuerus, There is a people scattered, and dispersed among the people in all the prouinces of thy kingdome, and their lawes are diuers from all people, and they do not obserue the kings lawes: therefore it is not the kings profite to suffer them.

9 If it please the king, let it be written that they may be destroyed, and I will pay ten thousand talens of siluer by the handes of the that haue the charge of this busines to bring it into the kings treasure.

10 Then the king tooke his ring from his hand and gaue it vnto Haman the sonne of Hammedatha the Agagite the Jewes aduersarie.

11 And the king saide vnto Haman, Let the siluer be thine, and the people to do with them as it pleaseth ther.

13 And the letters were sent by postes into all the kings prouinces, to roote out, to kill and to destroy al the Jewes, both yong and olde, children and women, in one day vpon the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth, which is the moneth Adar: to spoyle them as a pray.

14 The contents of the writing was, that there should be giuen a commaundement in all prouinces, & published vnto all people, that they should be ready against the same day.

15 And the postes cōpelled by the kings commaundement went forth, and the commaundement was giuen in the palace at Shulhan: and the king and Haman late drinke, but the citie of Shulhan was in perperitie.

CHAP. 1111.

1 Mardecas giueth the Queene knowledge of the cruell decree of the King against the Jewes. 16 She willet that they pray for her.

1 Now when Mordecai perceived all that was done, Mordecai rent his clothes, and put on sackcloth and ashes, and went out into the mids of the citie, and cryed with a great cry, and a bitter.

2 And he came enen before the kings gate, but he might not enter within the kings gate, being clothed with sackcloth.

3 And in euery prouince, & place, whither the kings charge & his commaund came there was great sorow among the Jewes, and fasting, and weeping & mourning, and many lay in sackcloth & in ashes.

4 Then Esters maydes and her euniches came and tolde it her: theres for the Queene was very heauie, and she sent raiment to clothe Mordecai, & to take away his sackcloth from him, but he receied it not.

5 Then called Ester Hatach one of the kings euniches, whome he had appointed to serue her. and gaue him a commaundement vnto Mordecai, to knowe what it was, and why it was.

6 So Hatach went forth to Mordecai vnto the streete of the citie, which was before the kings gate.

7 And Mordecai tolde him of all that which had come vnto him, and of the summe of the siner that Haman had promised to pay vnto the kings treasures, because of the Jewes, for to destroy them.

8 Also he gaue him the copie of the writing & commision that was giuen at Shulhan, to destroy the people which he wold vtter vnto Ester & declare it vnto her,

& to charge her, that she should go in to the king, & make petition & supplication before him for her people.

9 Do when Hatach came, he tolde Ester the wordes of Mordecai.

10 Then Ester said vnto Hatach, & commaunded him, to say vnto Mordecai, 11 All the kings seruants and the people of the kings prouinces do knowe, that whosoever, man or woman, that commeth to the king into the inner court, which is not called, there is a lawe of his, that he shall dye, except him to whome the king holdeth out the golde rod, that he may liue. Now I haue not bene called to come vnto the king the thirtie dayes.

12 And they certified Mordecai of Esters wordes.

13 And Mordecai said, that they should answere Ester thus, Thinke not with thy selfe that thou shalt escape in the kings house, more then all the Jewes.

14 For if thou holdest thy peace at this time, comfort and deliuerance shall appere to the Jewes out of another place, but thou & thy fathers house shall perish: & who knoweth whether thou art come to the kingdome for such a time?

15 Then Ester commaunded to answere Mordecai,

16 Goe, & assemble all the Jewes that are found in Shulhan, and fast for me, and eate not, nor drinke in thre dayes, day nor night. I also and my maydes will fast likewise, and so will I goe in to the king, which is not according to the lawe: if I perish, I perish.

17 So Mordecai went his way, & did according to all that Ester had commaunded him.

CHAP. V.

1 Ester entresth into the Kings, and biddeth him and Haman to a feast. 11 Haman prepareth a galous for Mordecai.

1 And on the thirde day Ester put on her royall apparell, & stood in the court of the kings palace before the kings house: & the king sat vpon his royall throne in the kings palace ouer against the gate of the house.

2 And when the king sawe Ester the Queene standing in the court, he found fauour in his sight: and the king held out the golden scepter that was in his hand: so Ester drew neere, and touched the toppe of the scepter.

3 Then said the king vnto her, What wilt thou, Queene Ester? and what is thy request? it shall be enen giuen thee to the halfe of the kingdome.

4 Then said Ester, If it please the King, let the king & Haman come this day vnto the banquet, which I haue prepared for him.

5 And the king saide, Cause Haman to make haste, he may do as Ester hath said. So the king and Haman came to the banquet that Ester had prepared.

9 When went Haman forth the same day ioyfull and with a glad heart. But when Haman saue Mordecai in the Kings gate, that he stoode not vp, nor moued for him, then was Haman full of indignation at Mordecai.

10 Nevertheless Haman refrained him selfe: and when he came home, he sent, and called for his friends, and Zeresh his wife.

11 And Haman tolde them of the glorie of his riches, and the multitude of his children, and al the things wherein the King had promoted him, and howe that he had set him aboue the princes and seruants of the King.

12 Haman said moreover, Hea, Ester the Queene did let no man come in with the King to the Baker that he had prepared, saue me: and to morowe am I hidden vnto her also with the King.

13 But al this doeth nothing auaille me, as long as I see Mordecai the Jew sitting at the Kings gate.

14 Then said Zeresh his wife and al his friends vnto him, Let them make a tree of fifties cubits heit, and to morowe speake thou vnto the King, that Mordecai may be hanged thereon: then shalt thou goe ioyfully with the King vnto the banquet. And the thing pleased Haman, and he caused to make the tree.

1 The King turneth ouer the Chronicles, and findeth the fidelitie of Mordecai, so And commēdeth Hamā to cause Mordecai to be had in honor.

1 The same night the King slep not, and he commaunded to bring the booke of the records & the chronicles: & they were read before the King. 2 Then it was found written þ Mordecai had tolde of Bigtana, and Zeresh two of the Kings eunuches, keepers of the doore, who sought to lay hands on the King Ahasuerus.

3 Then the King saide, What honour and dignitie hath bene giuen to Mordecai for this? And the Kinges seruants that ministred vnto him, sayde, There is nothing done for him.

4 And the King saide, Who is in the court? (Nowe Haman was come in to the inner court of the Kings house, that he might speake vnto the King to hang Mordecai on the tree that he had prepared for him.)

5 And the Kings seruants said vnto him,

Behold, Haman standeth in the court. And the King said, Let him come in.

6 And when Haman came in, the King said vnto him, What shalbe done vnto the man, whome the King will honour? Then Hamā thought in his heart, To whome would þ King do honour more then to me?

7 And Haman answered the King, The man whome the King would honour,

8 Let them bring for him ropal apparell, which þ King weth to weare, & þ horse that the King rideth vpon, & that the crowne ropal may be set vpo his head.

9 And let the raiment and the horse be deliuered by the hande of one of the Kings most noble princes, and let them apparell the man (whome the King will honour) and cause him to ride vpon the horse through the streete of the citie, and proclaime before him, Thus shall it be done vnto the man, whome the King will honour.

10 Then the King said to Haman, Make haste, take the raiment and the horse as thou hast said, and doe so vnto Mordecai the Jew, that sitteth at the Kings gate: let nothing faile of all that thou hast spoken.

11 So Haman tooke the raiment and the horse, and araped Mordecai, & brought him on horsebacke through the streete of the citie, and proclaime before him, Thus shall it be done to the man whō the King will honour.

12 And Mordecai came againe to the Kings gate, but Haman halted hoine mourning and his head covered.

13 And Haman tolde Zeresh his wife, and all his friends all that had befallē him. Then said his wife men, and Zeresh his wife vnto him, If Mordecai be of the seed of the Jewes, before whom thou hast become to sal, thou shalt not preuaile against him, but shalt surely fall before him.

14 And while they were yet talking with him, came the Kings eunuches & hasted to bring Haman vnto the banquet that Ester had prepared.

6 And Ester saide, The aduersarie and enemy is this wicked Haman. Then Haman was atraped before the king and the Queene.

7 And the king arose from the banquet of wine in his wyath, and went into the palace garden: but Haman stood vp, to make request for his life to the Queene Ester: for he sawe that there was a ^d mischiefe prepared for him of the king.

8 And when the king came againe out of the palace garden, into the house where they dranke wine, Haman was ^e fallen vpon the bed whereon Ester sat: therefore the king saide, Will he force the Queene also before me in the house? 1 After the death of Haman was Mordecai exalted. 1. A Comfortable letters are sent vnto the Iewes.

1 The same daye did king Xhashuerosh giue the house of Haman the aduersarie of the Iewes vnto the Queene Ester. And Mordecai came before the king: for Ester told what he was ^a vnto her.

2 And the king tooke of his ring, which he had taken fro Haman, & gaue it vnto Mordecai: and Ester set Mordecai ouer the house of Haman.

3 And Ester spake yet more before the king, & fell downe at his feete weeping, & besought him that he would put away the ^b wickednes of Haman the Agagite, and his deuise that he had imagined against the Iewes.

4 And the king held out ^c golden scepter toward Ester. Then arose Ester, & stood before the king,

5 And said, If it please the king, & if I haue found fauour in his sight, and the thing be acceptable before the king, & if please him, let it be written, that the letters of the deuise of Haman the same of Ammedatha ^d Agagite may be called againe, which hee wrote to destroy the Iewes, that are in all the kings prouinces.

6 For how can I suffer and see the euill, that shall come vnto my people? Whow can I suffer & see the destruction of my kindred?

7 And the king Xhashuerosh sayde vnto the Queene Ester, and to Mordecai the Iewe, Beholde, I haue giuen Ester the house of Haman, whom they haue hanged vpon the tree, because he ^e layd hand vpon the Iewes.

10 And he wrote in the king Xhashuerosh name, and sealed it with the kings ring: And he sent letters by postes on horsebacke & ^j rode on beastes of pryce, as dyomedaries & ^k coltes of mares.

11 Wherein the king graited the Iewes (in what cite so euer they were) to gather themselues together, & to stand for ^l their life, & to roote out, to slay and to destroy all the power of the people and of the prouince that deved them, both children & women, and to spoyle their goodes:

kinges commaundement & his decree came, there was ioy and gladnes to the Jewes, a feaft and good day, & many of the people of the lande ^m became Jewes: for the feare of the Jewes fell vpon them.

CHAP. IX.

At the commaundement of the King the Jewes put their aduersaries to death. 14 The ten sonnes of Haman are hanged, 17 The Jewes keep a feaft in remembrance of their deliuerance.

I S In the twelfth moneth, which is the Simoneth Adar, vpon the thirteenth day of the same, when the kinges commaundement and his decree wuld nere to be put in execution, in the day that the enemies of the Jewes hoped to haue power ouer them (but it turned contrary: for the Jewes had rule ouer them that hated them)

2 The Jewes gathered themselves together into their cities throughout all the prouinces of the king Abathuerosh, to lay hands on such as sought their hurt, and no man could withstand them: for the feare of them fell vpon al people.

3 And all the rulers of the prouinces, & the princes and the captaines, & the officers of the king be exalted the Jewes: for the feare of Mordecai fell vpon them.

4 For Mordecai was great in the kings house, & the report of him went through all the prouinces: for this man Mordecai wared greater and greater.

5 Thus the Jewes smote all their enemies with strokes of the sword and slaughter, & destruction, and did what they would vnto those that hated them.

6 And at Shulhan the palace slew the Jewes & destroyed fine hundredth men,

7 And Parschadatha, and Dalphon, and Spatha,

8 And Poratha, and Abalia, and Aridatha,

9 And Darmalhta, & Trifai, & Aidai, and Dairazatha,

10 The ten sonnes of Haman, the sonne of Ammedatha, the aduersary of the Jewes slew they: but they layed not their hands on the people.

11 On the same day came the number of those that were slayne, vnto the palace of Shulhan before the king.

12 And the king laide vnto the Queene Ester. The Jewes haue slayne in Shulhan the palace and destroyed fine hundredth men, and the ten sonnes of Haman: what haue they done in the rest of the kings prouinces? and what is thy petition, that it may be giuen thee? or what is thy request moreover, that it may be performed?

13 Then said Ester, If it please the king, let it be granted also to morowe to the Jewes that are in Shulhan, to do according vnto this daies decree, that they may hang vpon the tree Hamans ten sonnes.

14 And the king charged to do so, and the decree was giuen at Shulhan, and they hanged Hamans ten sonnes.

15 So the Jewes that were in Shulhan, assembled themselves vpon the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar, and slew three hundredth men in Shulhan, but on the people they laied not their hand.

16 And the rest of the Jewes that were in the kings prouinces assembled themselves, and stood for their liues, and had rest from their enemies, and sue of them that hated them, ^h sentence and sue thousand: but they layde not their hand on the people.

17 This they did on the thirteenth day of the moneth Adar, & rested the fourteenth day thereof, and kept it a day of feasting and ioye.

18 But the Jewes that were in Shulhan, assembled themselves on the thirteenth day, and on the fourteenth thereof, and they rested on the fifteenth of the same, & kept it a day of feasting & ioy.

19 Therefore the Jewes of the villages that dwelt in the vniwalled towines, kept the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar with ioy and feasting, euen a ioyfull day, & euerie one sent presents vnto his neighbour.

20 And Mordecai wrote these words, and sent letters vnto all the Jewes that were thorough all the prouinces of the king Abathuerosh, both nere and farr, 21 Inuoyning them that they should keep the fourth day of the moneth Adar, and the fifteenth day of the same, euerie pere.

22 According to the dayes wherein the Jewes relled from their enemies, and the moneth which was turned vnto them from ioyow to ioy, & from mourning into a ioyfull day, to keep them the dayes of feasting, and ioy, and to send presents euerie man to his neighbour, and gifts to the poore.

23 And the Jewes promised to do as they had begun, and as Mordecai had written vnto them.

24 Because Haman the sonne of Hammedatha the Magagite al the Jewes aduersary, had imagined against the Jewes, to destroy them, & had cast Pur (that is a lot) to consume & destroy them.

25 And when he came before the king, he commaunded by letters, Act his wicked p deuice (which he imagined against the Jewes) turne vpon his owne head, and let them hang him and his sonnes on the tree.

26 Therefore they called these dayes Purim, by the name of Pur, & because of all the words of this letter, & of that which they had scene besides this, & of that which had come vnto them.

27 The Jewes also ordained, and promised for them and for their ferde, and for al that ioyned vnto them, that they would not faile to obserue those two dayes euerie pere, according to their writing,

THE ARGUMENT.

In this historie is set before our eyes the example of a singular patience. For this holy man Iob was not onely extremely afflicted in outward things and in his bodie, but also in his minde, and conscience by the sharpe tentations of his wife, and chiefe friends: which by their vehement wordes, and subtill disputations brought him almost to despair: for they set forth God as a feure iudge, and mortall enemy vnto him, which had cast him off, therefore in vaine he should seeke vnto him for succour. These friends came vnto him vnder pretence of consolation and yet they tormented him more then did all his affliction. Notwithstanding he did constantly resist them, and at length had good success. In this story we haue to marke that Iob maintaineth a good cause, but handleth it euill: againe his aduerfaries haue an euill matter, but they defende it craftily. For Iob helde^y God did not alway punish men according to their finnes, but^y he had secret iudgements, wherof man knew not the cause, & therefore man could not reason against God therein, but he should be conuicted. Moreover, he was assured that God had not rejected him, yet through his great torments, & affliction he brauesth forth into many inconueniencies both of wordes & sentenecs, and sheweth himselfe as a desperate man in many things, and as one that would resist God: & this is his good cause which he doth not handle wel. Againe the aduerfaries maintein with many goodly argumets, that God punisheth continually according to the trespass, grounding vpon Gods providence, his iustice, and mans finnes, yet their intention is euill: for they labour to bring Iob into despair, and so they mainteine an euill cause. Ezekiel commendeth Iob as a iust man, Ezek. 14. 14. & James setteth out his pacience for an example, Iam. 5. 11.

1 Because our infirmitie can not comprehend God in his maiestie, he is set forth vnto vs as a King, that our capacite may be able to vnderstand that which is spoken of him, m This declarereth that although Satan be aduerfariē to God, yet he is compelled to obey him, and do him all homage, without whose permission and appointment he can do nothing. n This question is asked for our infirmitie: for God knewe whence he came. o Herein is described the nature of Satan, which is euer ranging for his pray, i. Pet. 5.8. p He feareth thee not for thine own sake, but for the commoditye y he receiuerh by thee. q Meaning, the grace of God, which serued Iob, as a rāpar against all tentations. r This signifieth that Satan is not able to touch vs, but it is God that must do it. s Satan noteth the vice, whereunto men are commonly subiect: that is to hide their rebellion, & to be content with God in the time of prosperitie, which vice is disclosed in y time of their aduersitie. t God giueth not Satan power ouer mā to gratifie him, but to declare y he hath no power ouer mā, but y which God giueth him. u That is, want to execute y which God had permitted him to do: for els he cā neuer go out of Gods presence. x That is, y Arabians. y Which thing was also done by y craft of Satan to tempt Iob the more grievously, forasmuch as he might see, that not only men were his enemies, but y God made warre against him. z This last plague declarerth, that when one plague is past which seemeth hard to be borne, God can send vs another far more grievous, to trie his, and teach the obedience, of God came and stooke before the Lord, Satan came also among them. 7 Then the Lorde saide vnto Satan, Whence comest thou? And Satan answered the Lorde, saying, From compassing the earth to and fro, and from walking in it. 8 And the Lorde said vnto Satan, Hast thou not considered my seruant Job, howe none is like him in the earth? an vpright and iust man, one that feareth God, and escheweth euill?

9 Then Satan answered the Lorde, and said, Dost thou feare God for nought? 10 Hast thou not made an hedge about him and about his house, and about all that he hath on euery side? thou hast blessed the worke of his hands, and his substance is increased in the land.

11 But stretch out now thine hand and touch all that he hath, to see if he will not blasphemeth thee to thy face.

12 Then the Lorde said vnto Satan, Loe, all that he hath is in thine hand: onely vpon him selfe shalt thou not stretch out thine hand. So Satan departed from the presence of the Lorde.

13 And on a day, when his sonnes & his daughters were eating, and drinking wine in their eldest brothers house,

14 There came a messenger vnto Job, & said, The oxen were plowing, and the asses feeding in their places,

15 And the Shebicans came violently, & tooke them: yea, they haue slaine the seruants with the edge of the sword: but I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

16 And whiles he was yet speaking, another came, and said, The fyre of God is fallen from the heauen, & hath burnt vpon the sheepe, and the seruants, and deuoured them: but I onely am escaped alone, to tell thee.

17 And whiles he was yet speaking, another came, & saide, The Caldeans set out threē bāds, & fel vpon the camels, & haue taken them, and haue slaine the seruants with the edge of the sword: but I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

18 And whiles he was yet speaking, came another, & saide, Thy sonnes, & thy daughters were eating, & drinking wine in their eldest brothers house,

19 And behold, there came a great wind from beyonde the wilderness, & smote the foure corners of the house, which fel vpon the children, & they are dead, and

I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

20 Then Iob arose, and rent his garment, and ligned his head, & fel downe vpon the ground, and worshipped, 21 And said, Naked came I out of my mothers wombe, and naked shall I returne thither: the Lorde hath giuen, & the Lorde hath taken it: blessed be the name of the Lorde.

22 In all this did not Iob finne, nor charge God foolishly.

C H A P. II.

6 Satan hath permission to afflict Iob. 9 His wife tempteth him to forsake God. 11 His three friends visite him.

1 AND ON A DAY the children of God came and stood before the Lorde, & Satan came also among them, to stand before the Lorde.

2 Then the Lorde said vnto Satan, Whence comest thou? And Satan answered the Lorde, & said, From compassing the earth to & fro, and from walking in it.

3 And the Lorde said vnto Satan, Hast thou not considered my seruant Job, howe none is like him in the earth? an vpright and iust man, one that feareth God, and escheweth euill? for yet he cotinuerh in his vprightnes, although thou moudest him against him, to desdrop d him without cause.

4 And Satan answered the Lorde, & said, Skin for skin, and all that euer a man hath, will he giue for his life.

5 But stretch now out thine hand, and touch his bones & his flesh, to see if he will not blasphemeth thee to thy face.

6 Then the Lorde said vnto Satan, Loe, he is in thine hand, but saue s his life.

7 ¶ So Satan departed from the presence of the Lorde, and smote Job with foure boyles, from the sole of his foote vnto his crowne.

8 And he rooke a potsharde to scrape his hurt, & he sat downe among the ashes.

9 Then said his wife vnto him, Woe is thou! continue yet in thine vprightnesse? Blasphemeth God, and dye.

limited him. h This fore was most vehement, wherewith also God plagued the Egyptians, Exod. 9.9. and threatneth to punish the rebellious people, Deut. 28.27. so that this tentation was most grievous: for if Iob had measured Gods fauour by the vehemencie of his disease, he might haue thought that God had cast him of. i As destitute of all other helpe and meanes, and wonderfully afflicted with the sorowe of his disease. k Sataa vseth the same instrument against Iob, as he did against Adam. l Meaning, what gaineest thou to serue God, seeing he thus plagueth thee as though he were thine enemy? This is the most grievous tentation of the faithfull, when their faith is assailed, and when Satan goeth about to perwade them, that they trust in God in vaine. m For death was appointed to the blasphemers, & so the ment that he should be soone rid out of his paine.

n That is, to be patient in adversity, as were joyce when he seendeth prosperitie, & so to acknowledge him to be both mercifull and iust. o He fo bridled his affections, that his tongue through impaciencie did not murmur against God. p Which were me of auctoritie, wise & learned, & as the Septuagint write, Kings, & came to comfort him, but when they sawe howe he was visited, they conceived an euill opinion of him, as though he had bene but an hypocrite, & so iustly plagued of God for his finnes. q This was also a ceremonie, which they vsed in those countreys, as the renting of their clothes in signe of sorrow, &c. r And therefore thought that he would not haue hearkened to their counsell.

10 But he saide vnto her, Thou speakest like a foolish woman: what shall we receiue god at the hande of God, & not a reuenge euill? In all this did not Iob sinne with his o lips.

11 How wise Iobas time? friends heard of all this euill that was come vpon him, they came euery one from his owne place, to wit, Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite: for they were agreed together to come to lamēt with him, and to comfort him.

12 So when they lift vp their eyes asafare of, they knew him not: therefore they lift vp their voyces and wept, and euery one of them rent his garment, & spinned a dust vpon their heades towarde the heauen.

13 So they sate by him vpon the ground seuen daies, and seuen nights, & none spake a worde vnto him: for they sawe, that the grieue was verp great.

11 Why died I not in the byrth: or why dyed I not, when I came out of the wombe?

12 Why did the knees vniuent mee? and why did I sucke the breastes?

13 For if shouide I now haue Iren and bene quiet, I should haue slept then, and bene at rest,

14 With the kings and counsellors of the earth, which haue buyded themselves in desolate places:

15 Or with the princes that had gold, and haue filled their houses with siluer.

16 Why was I not hid, as an untimely birth, eather as infants, which haue not seene the light?

17 The wicked I haue there ceased from their tyrannie, and there they that labored valiantly, are at rest.

18 The prisoners rest together, & heare not the voyce of the oppresseur.

19 There are small and great, and the seruauit is free from his master.

20 Wherefore is the light giuen to him that is in miserie? and a life vnto them that haue braue hearts?

21 Which long for death, and if it come not, they would euen leauey it moie the treasures:

22 Which tope for gladnes and reioyce, when they can finde the graue.

23 Why is the light giuen to the man whose wape is hid, and whome God hath hedged in?

24 For my sighing commeth before I eate, and my royings are poured out like the water.

25 For the thing I feare, is come vpon me, and the thing that I was afrayde of, is come vnto me.

26 I had no peace, neyther had I quietnes, neither had I rest, yet trouble is come.

h This and that which foloweth declareth that when mā giueth place to his passions, he is not able to stay nor keepe measure, but runneth headlong into all euill, except God call him backe.

i The vehemencie of his afflictions made him to vter these words, as though death were the end of all miseries, and as if there were no life after this, which he speakech not as though it were so, but the infirmities of his flesh caused him to braut out into this error of the wicked.

k He noteth the ambition of them, which for their pleasure, as it were, change the order of nature, & buyld in most barren places, because they would here by make their names immortal. l That is, by death the crueltie of the tyrants hath ceased. m All they that sustaine any kind of calamitie & miserie in this worlde: which he speaketh after the iudgement of the flesh. n He sheweth that the benefices of God are not comfortable, except the heart be ioyfull, and the conscience quieted. o That seeth not howe to come out of his miseries, because he dependeth not on Gods prouidence. p In my prosperitie I looked euer for a fall, as is come now to passe. q The feare of troubles that should ensue, caused my prosperitie to seme to me as nothing, and yet I am not exempted from trouble.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Iob complaineth and curseth the day of his birth. 11 Hee desireth to die, as though death were the ende of all mans miserie.

1 Afterward Iob opened his mouth, and was cursed his day.

2 And Iob cried out, and said,

3 Let the dape be as the day, wherem I was borne, and the night when it was sayd, There is a man child conceived.

4 Let that day be darkenes, let not God regard it from aboue, neither let the light shine vpon it,

5 But let darkenesse, and the shadowe of death stayne it: let the cloude remaine vpon it, and let them make it fearefull as a bitter day.

6 Let darkenesse possesse that night, let it not be ioynted vnto the daies of the pere, nor let it come into the count of the months.

7 Bea, desolate be that night, and let no top be in it.

8 Let them that curse the dape, (bring f rebp to reuue their mourning curse it.

9 Let the starres of that twilight be dim through darkenesse of it: let it looke for light, but haue none: neither let it see the dawning of the day,

10 Because it shat not vp the doores of my mothers wombe: nor hid sorrow from mine eyes.

11 This and that which foloweth declareth that when mā giueth place to his passions, he is not able to stay nor keepe measure, but runneth headlong into all euill, except God call him backe.

certaine feare ioyned, that the autority thereof might be had in greater reuerence. k When all things were quiet, or when the feare was somewhat swaged, as God appeared to Eliab, 1. King.
19. 12. l He proueth that if God did punish the innocent, the creature shoulde be more iust then the Creator, which were a blasphemie, m If God finde imperfection in his Angels, when they are not maintained by his power, howe much more shall he Iay follice to mans charge, when he would iustifie himselfe against God: n That is, in this mortall bodie, subiect to corruption, 2.
Cor. 5. 1. o They see death continually before their eyes, and dayly approaching toward them. p No man for all this doeth consider it. q That is, before that any of them were so wise as to thinke on death.

art grieved: it toucheth thee, and thou art troubled.
6 Is not this thy feare, thy confidence, thy patience, & y^e waightnes of thy waies?
7 Remember, I pray thee: who euer perished being an innocēt? or where were the waight destroyed?
8 As I haue seene, they that plowe in quarre, & sow wickednes, reape y^e same.
9 With the blast of God they perish, and with the breach of his wrath they are consumed.
10 The roving of the Lion, and the voyce of the yponesse, & the reedy of the ypones whelpes are broken.
11 The yuo perilych for lacke of praye, &
y^e ypones whelpes are scattered aboade.
12 But a thing was brought to mee h secretly, and mine eare hath receiued a wise thereof.
13 In the thoughts of the visions of the night, when sleepe falleth on men, 14 I feare came vpon me, & dreade which made all my bones 1 to tremble.
15 And the wynde passed before mee, and made the heates of my flesh to stand vp.
16 Then stode one, and I knewe not his face: an image was before mine eyes, and m^h silence heard I a voyce, saying, 17 & hal man be more 1 iust then God? or shall a mā be more pure thē his maker?
18 Beholde, he founde no stedfastnesse in his seruants, and lapde felleth vpon his m^h Angels.
19 Howe much more in them that dwell in houses of clay, whose foundation is in the dust, which shall be destroyed before the moeth?
20 They be destroyed from the morning vnto the evening: they perish for euer, p without regard.
21 Doth not their dignitie go away with them? doe they not dye, and that without 4 wisdomē?

2 Doublelesse b anger killeth the foolishse, and enuie slapeth the idioic.
3 I haue seene the e: foote the well rooted, and suddenly I 4 cursed his habitation, saying,
4 His c children shall be farre from saluation, and they shall be destroyed in the f gate, and none shall deliuer them.
5 The hungrie shall eate vp his hartest:
pea, they shall take it from among the n thomes, and the thirsty shall drinke vp their substance.
6 For miserie cometh not forth of the dust, h neither doth affliction spring out of the earth.
7 But man is borne vnto 1 trauaple, as the sparres fle vnto ward.
8 But I would inquire 2 at God, & turne
my talke vnto God:
9 Which 3 doeth great things and un-searchable, & maruelous things without number.
10 He m^h neuerly raine vpon the earth, and poueth water vpon the fireetes, 11 And stretch vp on hpe them that bee lowe, that the sorrowfull may be cralted to iubilacion.
12 He scattereth the deuices of the cra-tie: so that their handes can not accomplish that which they do enterpise.
13 * He taketh the wife in their craftnesse, and the counsell of the wicked is made foolish.
14 They meeete with a darkenesse in the day time, and o grope at noon dape, as in the night.
15 But hee saureth the p poore from the swoide, from their 4 mouth, and from the hand of the violent man, 16 So that the poore hath his hope, but in-quitye shall 1 stop her mouth.
17 Behold, blessed is the man whom God correcteth: therefore refuse not thou the chastising of the Almighty.
18 For he maketh the wounde, and bind-deth it vp: he smiteth, and his handes make whole.
19 He shall deliuer thee f in fire troubles, and in the seventh the euill shall not touch thee.
20 In famine he shall deliuer thee from death: and in battell from the power of the sword.
21 Thou shalt be hid from the scourge of the tongue, and thou shalt not be afraid of destruction when it cometh.

b Murmuring against God in afflictions increaseeth the

reth mans follic.
c That is, the d I was not moued with his

fer the fathers

shall be condemned, and none

in the heages, yet these shall be taken from him.
h That is, the carth is not the cause of barren-nesse and mans

owne sinne.
i Which decla-reth that sinne is euer in our corrupt nature: for before sinne it was not subiect to payne and affliction.
k If I suffred as thou doest, I l He counselleth Job to hible him self vnto God, to whome all creatures are subiect, & whose workes declare that man is inexcusable, except he glorifie God in all his workes.

m He sheweth by particular exaples, what y^e woikes of God are.
n In things playne and euident they shewe themselues fooles in steade of wise men. o This declareth that God punisheth the worldly wise, as hee threatened, Deut 28.
29. p That is, he that humbleth himselfe before God. q He compareth the slaughter of the wicked to sharpe swords. r If the wicked be copelled at Gods workes to stop their mouthes, much more they that profess God. s He will send trouble after trouble, that his children may not for one tyme, but continually trust in him: but they shall haue a comfort, bleisur, euca in the greatest and the last, which is here called the seventh.

CHAP. V.

1, 2 Elphaz sheweth the difference betweene the children of God and the wicked. 3 The fall of the wicked, 4 Gods power who destroyeth the wicked, and deliuereth his.
2 How willett
Job to consider the example of all them that haue liued or do liue godly, whether any of them be like vnto him in raging against God as he doeth.

2 How willett
Job to consider

all them that haue liued or do liue godly, whether any of them

1 Where as the wicked lament in their troubles, thou shalt have occasion to reioyce.

u When we are in Gods fauour, all creatures shal ferue vs.

x God shall so blesse thee, that thou shalt haue occasion to reioyce in all things and not to be offended.

y Though the children of God haue not alwayes this prome performed, yet God doth recompence it otherwise to their aduantage.

z We haue learned these poyntes by experience, that God punisheth not the innocent, that man can not compare in iustice with him, that the hypocrites shall not long prosper, and that the affliction which man suffereth, cometh for his owne sinne.

a To know whether I complain without iust cause.

b My griefe is so great, that I lack wordes to expresse it.

c Which declareth that he was not only afflicted in body, but wounded in conscience, which is the greatest barteil y the faithfull can haue.

d Think you that I cry without cause, being the brute beasts do not complain when they haue what they wold.

e Can a mans taste delight in that that hath no fauour meaning, that no one take pleasure in affliction, seeing they cannot a way wish things that are vsuaie.

f Here in he saith double, both in wishing through impaciencie to dye, and also in desiring of God a thing which was not agreeable to his will. g That is, let me die at once, before I come to distrust in Gods promise through mine impaciencie. h He seareth lest he should be brought to inconueniencies, if his sorowes should continue. i Haue I not ought to helpe my selfe as much as was possible.

22 But thou shalt laugh at destruction and death, and shalt not be afraid of the beate of the earth.

23 For the stones of the field shall be in league with thee, and the beastes of the field shall be at peace with thee.

24 And thou shalt know, that peace shall be in thy tabernacle, and thou shalt visite thine habitation, & shalt not be afraid.

25 Thou shalt perceive also, that thy seed shall be great, and thy posteritie as the graffe of the earth.

26 Thou shalt go to thy graue in y a full age, as a rick of corne cometh in due season into the bame.

27 Io, z thus haue we inquired of it, and so it is, heare this and know it for thy selfe.

CHAP. VI.

1 Iob answered, that his paine is more grieuous then his soule. 2 He wisteth death. 3 He complaineth of his friends.

1 BUt Iob answered, and said, 2 With p my griefe were wel weighed, and my miseries were laied together in the balance. 3 For it would be now heavier then the saide of the sea: therefore my wordes are disallowed by. 4 For the arrowes of the Almighty are in me, the venime whereof doth drinke by my spirite, and the terrours of God fight against me. 5 Which they wold asse brag wher he hath graffe: or loweth the oxe when he hath fodder? 6 That which is vsuaerie, shall it be eaten without salt: or is there any taste in the white of an egge? 7 Such things as my soule refused to touch, as were sowes, are my meate. 8 Which that I might haue my desire, and p God wold graunt me the thing that I long for! 9 That is, that God wold destroy me: p he wold let his hand go, & cut me of. 10 That should I yet haue comfort, (though I burne with sorow, let him not spare) s because I haue not denied p wordes of the Holy one.

11 What power haue I that I should endure? or what is mine ende, if I should prolong my life? 12 Is my strength the strength of stones? or is my flesh of brass? 13 Is it not so, p there is in me no helpe? and that strength is taken from me? 14 He that is in misery, ought to be conuicte to the mouth. f Here in he saith double, both in wishing through impaciencie to dye, and also in desiring of God a thing which was not agreeable to his will. g That is, let me die at once, before I come to distrust in Gods promise through mine impaciencie. h He seareth lest he should be brought to inconueniencies, if his sorowes should continue. i Haue I not ought to helpe my selfe as much as was possible.

15 Why brethren haue deceiued me as a brooke, and as the rising of the riuers they passe away.

16 Which are blackish with yce, & wherein the snow is hid.

17 But in time they are dried by the heate and are conloured: and when it is hote they faile out of their places, 18 Or they depart from their way and course, yea, they vanish and perish.

19 They that goe to Tema, I considered them, and they that goe to Sheba, wailed for them.

20 But they were confounded: when they hoied, they came thither and were ashamed.

21 Surely Iob are pe like vnto it: pe haue seen my fearful plague, and are afraid.

22 Was it because I sayd, Bring vnto me? or giue a rewarde to me of your substance? 23 Which deliuer me from the enemies hande, or ransom me out of the hande of tyrantes? 24 Teach me, & I will hold my tongue: and cause me to understand, wherein I haue erred.

25 How steadfast are the wordes of righteousness? and what can any of you iustly reprove? 26 Do pe imagine to reprove my wordes, that the talke of the afflicted should be as the wind? 27 Pe make your way to fall vpon the fatherles, and dig a pit for your friend.

28 Now therefore be content to looke vpon me: for I will not lie before your face.

29 Turne, I pray you, let there be wone iniquitie: retriue, I say, and ye shall see yet my righteousnes in that behalf. Is there iniquitie in my tongue? doth not my mouth feele sorowes? o Shew me wherein I haue erred, and I will confesse my fault. p He that hath a good conscience, doth not shrinke at the sharpe wordes or reasonings of others, except they be able to perswade him by reason. q Do you cauil at my wordes, because I should be thought to speake foolishly, which am now in misery. r Consider whether I speake as one that is driuen to this impaciencie through very sorow, or as an hypocrite, as you condemne me.

CHAP. VII.

1 Iob sheweth the vortines and misery of mans life.

1 Is there not an appointed time to Iob as he lay vpon earth? & are not his daies as the daies of an hireling? 2 As a seruant longeth for the shadow, and as an hireling looketh for the ende of his worke, 3 So haue I had as an inheritance the monethes of vauitie, and vainefull nightes haue bene appointed vnto me. 4 If I layed me downe, I said, When shall I arise? and in mourning the euening I am euen full with resting, and to sleepe vnto the dawning of the day. 5 My flesh is clothed w vngenes, & filth: this signifieth that his disease was rare and most horrible.

k He compareth those friends which comfort vs not in miserie, to a brooke, which in sommer, when we neede waters, is dry, in winter is hard frozen, and in the tyme of rayne, when we haue no neede, overfloweth with water. l They that passe thereby to go in, to the whote countreys of Arabia, thinke to find water there, to quench their thirst, but they are deceiued. m That is, like to this brooke, which deceiueh the, that thinke to haue water there in their neede, as I looked for consolation at your handes. n He toucheth the worldlings, which for no necessitie wil giue part of their goodes, & much more these men, which would not giue him comforttable words. o Shew me wherein I haue erred, and I will confesse my fault. p He that hath a good conscience, doth not shrinke at the sharpe wordes or reasonings of others, except they be able to perswade him by reason. q Do you cauil at my wordes, because I should be thought to speake foolishly, which am now in misery. r Consider whether I speake as one that is driuen to this impaciencie through very sorow, or as an hypocrite, as you condemne me.

d Thus he speaketh in respect of the breuitie of mans life, which passeth with out hope of returning in consideration wherof, he desireth God to haue compassion on him.
 e If thou beholdest me in thine anger, I shall not be able to stand in thy presence.
 f Shall no more enioy this mortall life.
 g Seeing I can by none other meanes comfort my selfe, I will declare my griefe by wordes, and thus he speaketh as one ouercome with griefe of mynde.
 h Ap not I a poore wretch? what needest thou then to lay so much paine on me?
 i Can I haue no rest, night nor day.
 k He speaketh as one ouercome with sorrow, and nor of iudgement, or of the examination of his faith.
 l Seeing my terme of life is so short, let me haue some rest and ease.
 m Seeing that man of himselfe is so vile, why doest thou giue him that honour to contend against him: Iob vseth all kindes of persuasion with God, that he might stay his hand. n After all tentations faith brasteth forth and leaeth Iob to repentance: yet it was not in such perfection, that he could bridle himselfe from reasoning with God, because that he still tried his faith. o That is, I shall be dead.

thinnesse of the dust: my skine is rent, and become horrible.
 6 My daies are waister then a weauers shritte, & they are spent without hope.
 7 Remember that my life is but a winde, and that mine eye shall not returne to see pleasure.
 8 The eye that hath seene me, shall see me no more: thine eyes are vpon me, and I shall no longer.
 9 As the cloud vauclheth and goeth away, so he that goeth downe to the graue, shall come vp no more.
 10 He shall returne no more to his house, neither shall his place know him any more.
 11 Therefore I will not spare my mouth, but will speake in the trouble of my spirite, and mule in the bitterness of my minde.
 12 Am I a sea bo? a whalefish, that thou keepst me in warde?
 13 When I lay, My couche shall relieue me, and my bed shall bring comfort in my meditation, 14 Then fearest thou me? with dreames, and almostest me with visions.
 15 Therefore my soule^k chuseth rather to be strangled and to die, then to be in my bones.
 16 I abhorre it, I shall not lye alway: I spare me then, for my dayes are but vanitie.
 17 What is man, that thou^m doest magnific him, and that thou settest thine heart vpon him?
 18 And doest visite him euery morning, and triest him euery moment?
 19 How long wilt it be yer thou departe from me? thou wilt not let me alone whiles I may swallow my spittle.
 20 I haueⁿ sinned, what shall I do vnto thee? D thou preseruer of me, why hast thou set me as a marke against thee, so that I am a burden vnto my selfe?
 21 And why doest thou not vardon my trespass: and take away mine iniquity? for now shall I sleepe in the dust, and if thou seekest me in the morning, I shall not be found.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Bildad sheweth that Iob is a sinner, because God punisheth the wicked, and preserueth the good.

1 Then answered Bildad the Shuzite, and said,
 2 How long wilt thou talke of these things? and how long shall the wordes of thy mouth^{be} as a mightie winde?
 3 Both God veruert iudgement: or dost thou the almightie subuert iustice?
 4 If thy sonnes haue sinned against him, and he hath sent them into a place of their iniquitie,

 5 Yet if thou wilt early seeke vnto God, and pray to the Almighty,
 6 If thou be pure & upright, then surely he will awake vp vnto thee, and he will make the habitation of thy righteousnes prosperous.
 7 And though thy beginning^d be small, yet thy latter end shall greatly increase.
 8 Inquire therefore, I pray thee, of the founer age, & prepare thy selfe to search of their fathers.
 9 (For we are but^f of yester day, & are ignorant: for our dayes vpon earth are but a shadow)
 10 Shall not they teach thee and tell thee, and vtter the wordes of their heart?
 11 Can a rush grow without mure? or can the graffe grow without water?
 12 Though it were in graue and not cut downe, yet shall it wither before any other herbe.
 13 So are the paths of all that forget God, and the hypocrites hope shall perishe.
 14 His confidence also shall be cut of: a his trust shall be as the house of a spider.
 15 He shall leane vpon his house, but it shall not stand: he shall hold him fast by it, yet shall it not endure.
 16 The tree is greene before the sunne, & the branches spreade ouer the garden thereof.
 17 The rootes thereof are wrapped about the fountaine, and are folded about the house of stones.
 18 If any plucke it from his place, and it decay, saying, I haue not seene thee, 19 Behold, it will reioice^{by} this meanes, that it may grow in another moide.
 20 Beholde, God will not call away an upright man, neither will he take the wicked by the hand, 21 Till he haue filled thy mouth with laughter, and thy lips with ioy.
 22 They that hate thee, shall be clothed in shame, and the dwelling of the wicked shall not remaine.

h Which is to day, and to morow swept away.
 i He compareth the iust to a tree, which although it be removed out of one place vnto another, yet flourisheth: so the affliction of the godly turneth to their profite. k That is, so that there remaine nothing there to proue whether the tree had grown there or no. l To be planted in another place, where it may growe at pleasure.
 m If thou be godly, he will giue thee occasion to reioyce, and if not, thine affliction shall increase.

CHAP. IX.

1 Iob declareth the mighty power of God, and that mans righteousness is nothing.

1 Then Iob answered, and said,
 2 I know verely that it is so: for how should man compared vnto God, beⁱ iustified?
 3 If he would dispute with him, he could not answer him one thyng of a a Iob here answereth to that point of Eliphaz and Bildads oration, touching the iustice of God and his innocencie, confessing God to be infinite in iustice, and man to bee nothing in respect.

b Of a thousand things, which God could lay to his charge, man cannot answer him one.

c He declareth what is the infirmite of man by the mighty and incomprehensible power that is in God, shewing what he could do, if he would set forth his power.

d These are the names of certaine starres, whereby he meaneth that al starres both known and vnkknown are at his appointmēt.

e I am not able to comprehend his workes, which are common and dayly before mine eyes, much lesse in those things, which are hid and secret.

f He sheweth that when God doth execute his power, he doeth it iustly, far as much as none can controule him.

g God will not be appeased for ought that man can laye for himselfe for his iustification.

h That is, all the reasons that men can laye to approve their cause.

i How should I be able to answer him by eloquence? whereby he noteth his friends, that albeit they were eloquent in talke, yet they felt not in heart, that which they speake.

k Meaning, in his owne opinion, signifying, that man will sometime flatter himselfe to be righteous, which before God is abomination.

l Whiles I am in my pang, I can not but brast forth into many inconueniences, although I knowe still that God is iust.

m I am not able to feele my finnes so great, as I feele the weyght of his plagues: and this he speaketh to condemne his dulnesse, and to iustifie God.

n After he hath accused his owne weakness, he continueth to iustifie God and his power.

o If I would stande in mine owne defence, yet God hath iust cause to condemne me, if he examine mine heart, and conscience.

p If God punish according to his justice, he will destroye aswell them that are counted perfite, as them that are wicked.

q To wit, the wicked.

1 thousand.

2 Yee is wise in heart, and myghtie in strength: who hath bene fierce agaynst him and hath prospered?

3 Ye remoueth the mountaines and they feele not when hee ouerthroweth them in his wrath.

4 Ye remoueth the earth out of her place, that the pillars thereof do shake.

5 Ye commandeth to the sunne, & it reth not: hee closeth vp the starres, as vnder a signet.

6 Yee him selfe alone spreadeth out the heauris, and walketh vpon the heyght of the sea.

7 Ye maketh the starres ^d Arcurus, Dion, and Polarides, and the climates of the South.

8 Ye doth great things, & vnsearchable: pea, maruiculous things without number.

9 Lo, when he goeth ^e by mee, I see him nor: and when he passeth by, I perceiue him not.

10 Behold, when he taketh a pray, I who can make him to restore it: who shall say vnto him, What doest thou?

11 God & will not withdraw his anger, & the most myghtie helpes ^h do stoupe vnder him.

12 How much lesse shall I answer him: or how should I finde out ⁱ my wordes wch him?

13 For though I were iust, yet coulde I ^k not answer, but I would make supplication to my Iudge.

14 If I ^l cry, & he answer me, yet would I not beleue, that he heard my voyce.

15 For he destroyeth me with a tempest, and woundeth me ^m without cause.

16 He wil not suffer me to take my breath, but fillet me with bitternes.

17 If we speake of strength, beholde, he is ⁿ strong: if we speake of iudgement, who shall bring me in to pleade?

18 If I would iustifie my selfe, myne owne mouth shall condemne mee: ^o if I would be perfite, he shall iudge me wicked.

19 Though I were perfite, yet I know not my soule: therefore abhorre I my life.

20 This is one point: therefore I said, He destroyeth the ^p perfite and the wicked.

21 If the scourge should suddenly ^q slaye, should God ^r laugh at the punishmēt of the innocent?

22 The earth is quiet into the hande of app. the wicked: he ^s couereth the faces of the iudges thereof: if not, where ^t is he? or who is he?

23 Ye ^u dapes haue bene more swift then a poise: they haue fled, and haue seene no good thing.

24 They are passed as with the most swift shippes, and as the eagle that flyeth to the pray.

25 If ^v I say, I wil forget my complaint, I will cease from my wrath, and comfort me, 26 Then I am afrayde of all my sorowes, knowing that thou wilt not iudge mee innocent.

27 If ^w I be wicked, why ^x labour I thus in vaine?

28 If I ^y walk my selfe with snowe water, and purge mine hands most cleane, 29 Per shalt thou plunge me in the pit, & mine owne ^z clothes shall make mee filthy.

30 For he is not a man as I am, that I should answer him, if we come together to iudgement.

31 Nepther is there any ^a vmpyre that might lay his hand vpon vs both.

32 Let him take his rod away from me, & let not his feare astonish me:

33 Then wil I speake, and feare him not: ^b but because I am not so, I hold me still pure in mine owne eyes, yet all is but corruption before God.

34 Whatsoeuer I would vie to couer my filthines with, shall disclose me so much more. ^c A Which might make an accorde betwene God and me, speaking of impaciencie, and yet confessing God to be iust in punishing him. ^d Signifying that Gods iudgements keepe him in awe.

CHAP. X.

1 Joh is wearie of his life, and stretcheth out his fragilitie before God. 20 He desireth him to stay his hands. 22 A description of death.

1 MY soule is cut of: though I line: I will leane my ^a complaint vnto my selfe, & will speake in the bitternes of my soule.

2 I will say vnto God, ^b Condemne mee not: heve me, wherefoze thou contentest with me.

3 Thinkest thou it ^c good to oppresse me, & to cast of the labour of thine hands, and to fauour the ^d counsell of the wicked?

4 Hast thou ^e carnall eyes: or dost thou see as man seeth?

5 Are thy dapes as mans ^f dapes: or thy peres, as the time of man?

6 That thou inquirest of mine iniquitie, & searchest out my sinne.

7 Thous. ^g It is agreeable to thy justice to doe mee wrong? ^h Wilt thou be without compassion? ⁱ Wilt thou gransie the wicked and condemne mee? ^j Doest thou this of ignorancie? ^k Art thou in constant and changeable, as the times, to daye a friend, to morowe an enemy?

d Thus he speaketh in respect of the brevity of mans life, I have made man from doing evil, neither can any fet me to afflict me.

k In these eight verses following he describeth the mercie of God in the wonderful creation of man: and thereon groundeth that God should not shewe himselfe rigorous against him.

l As brittle as a pot of clay.

m That is, reason & understanding, and many other gifts whereby man excelleth all earthly creatures.

n That is, thy fatherly care and providence, whereby thou preferrest me, and without the which I should perish straightway.

o Though I be not fully able to comprehend these things, yet I must needs confesse y^e it is so.

p I will always walke in feare & humilitie, knowing that none is iust before thee.

11 you knowest that I can not do wic kedly: for none can deliuer mee out of thine hand.

8 Thine hands haue made me, and fashioned me wholly rounde about, & wilt thou destroy me?

9 Remember, I pray thee, that thou hast made mee as the claye, and wilt thou bring me into dust againe?

10 Hast thou not powred mee out as milke? and turned me to curds like cheefe?

11 Thou hast clothed me with skinne and felles, & topned me together with bones and sinewes.

12 Thou hast giuen me life, & grace: and thy visitatio hath preserved my spirit.

13 Though thou hast hid these things in thine heart, yet I knowe that it is so with thee.

14 If I haue sinned, then thou wilt straightly looke vnto me, and wilt not holde me guiltles of mine iniquitie.

15 If I haue done wickedly, two vnto me: if I haue done righteously, I will not be left by mine head, being full of confusions, because I see mine affliction.

16 But let it increas: hume thou me as a lpon: returne & shewe thy leise mercies vpon me.

17 Thou renewest thy plagues against me, and thou increasest thy wrath against me: changes and armies of sorowes are against me.

18 Wherefore hast thou brought me out of the wombe? Wherewith I had perished, and that none eye had seene me!

19 And that I were as I had not bene, but brought forth the wombe to disgrace.

20 Are not my daies fewe? let him cease, and leaue of from me, that I may take a little comfort,

21 Before I go and shall not returne, euen to the land of darkenes and shadow of death:

22 Vnto a land, I say, darke as darkenes it selfe, & into the shadow of death, where is none order, but the light is there as darkenesse.

q Job being sore assaulted in this battell betweene the fleshe and the spirit, brast ech out into these afflictions, wishing rather short dayes than long paine. r That is, diuersitie of diseases & in great abundance, shewing that God hath infinite meanes to punish the man. s He wiseth that God would leaue of his affliction, considering his great miserie and the brevity of his life. t He speaketh thus in the person of a sinner, that is overcome with passions and with the feeling of Gods iudgements, and therefore cannot apprehend in that state the mercies of God and comfort of the resurrection. u No distinction betweene light and darkenes, but where all is very darkenes it selfe.

CHAP. XI.

1 Job is iustly reprehended of Zophar. 7 God is incomprehensibic. 12 He is mercifull to the repentant. 18 Their assurance that liue godly.

1 Then answered Zophar the Naathathite, and said,

2 Should not the multitude of words be answered? or should a great talker be iustified?

3 Should men holde their peace at thy speeche? & when thou mockest others, shall none make thee ashamed?

4 For thou hast saped, & thy doctrine is pure, and I am cleane in thine eyes.

5 But oh, that God would speake & open his lippes against thee!

6 That he might shew thee the secretes of wisdome, howe thou hast defused double, according to right: know therefore that God hath forgotten thee for thy iniquitie.

7 Canst thou by searching find out God? canst thou finde out the Almighty to his perfection?

8 The heauens are hye, what canst thou doe? it is deeper then the hell, howe canst thou know it?

9 The measure therof is longer then the earth, and it is broader then the sea.

10 If he cut of and ebur thy oyes, gather together, who can turne him backe?

11 For o he knoweth bayne men, and seeth iniquitie, and him that understandeth nothing.

12 Yet vaine man would be wise, though man newe borne is like a wild asse colt.

13 If thou se prepare thine heart, & stretch out thine hands toward him:

14 If iniquitie be in thine hands, put it farre away, and let no wickednes dwell in thy tabernacle.

15 Then truly shalt thou lift by thy face without spot, and shalt be stable, & shalt not feare.

16 But thou shalt forget thy miserie, and remember it as waters that are past.

17 Thine age also shall appeare more cleare then the noone day: thou shalt shine and be as the morning.

18 And thou shalt be bolde, because there is hope: and thou shalt digge pittes, and shalt see downe safely.

19 For when thou takest thy rest, none shall make thee afraid: yea, many shall make lute vnto thee.

20 But the eyes of the wicked shall faile, and their refuge shall perish, and their hope shall be sorow of minde.

he hath afterwarde, come of God, and not of nature. g If thou repent, pray vnto him. h Renounce thine owne euil workes, & see that they offend not God, ouer whome thou hast charge. i He declareth what quietnes of conscience and successe in all things such shal haue, which turne to God by true repentance. Leuit. 26. 6. k He sheweth that contrarie things shal come vnto them that do not repent.

CHAP. XII.

1 Job accuseth his friends of ignorance. 7 He declareth the might, and power of God. 17 And howe he changeth the course of things.

1 Then Job answered, and said,

2 In deed because that ye are the people onely, & wisdome mult dye with you.

3 But I haue vnderstanding as well as standeth in you, & am not inferior vnto you: yea, words, and so flatter your selues as though none knewe anything, or could knowe but you.

b He chargeth Job with this, that he should say, that y^e thing which he spake, was true, & that he was without sinne in the sight of God.

c Which is, not to stand in iustifying of thy selfe he significeth that man wil neuer be overcome, whiles he reasoneth with another, & therefore God must breake of the controuersie, and stop mans mouth.

d That is, this perfection of God, and if man be not able to comprehend the height of the heauen, y^e depth of hell, the length of the earth, the breadth of the sea, which are but creatures: how can he attayne to the perfection of the Creator? e If God shoulderne the state of things, and establish a newe order in nature, who could controule him? f That is, without vnderstanding: so that whatsoeuer gifts

Because you feele not y^e which you speake, you thinke the whole standeth in you, words, and so flatter your selues as though none knewe anything, or could knowe but you.

a Should he persuade by his great talke, that he is iust

Pron. 14. 1.
b He reproveh these his friends of two fautes: f one that they thought they had better knowledge then in dedde they had, and the other that in steade of true consolation they did deride and despise their friend in his adversitie.
c The which neighbour being a mocker, and a wicked man, thinketh that no man is in Gods favour but he, because he hath all things that he desireth.
d As the riche esteeme not a light, or torch that goeth out, so is he despised that falleth from prosperitie to adversitie.
1^o Ebr. 10. whom God hath brought in with his hand.
e He declareth to them that did dispute against him, that their wilddome is common to all, and such as the very brute beastes do daily teach.
2^o Or. flesh.
f He exhortheth them to be wise in judging, and as well to know the right vie why God hath giuen the cares, as he hath done a mouth.
g Though men by age, and continuance of tyme attaine to wilddome, yet it is not comparable to gods wisdom, nor able to comprehend his iudgements, wherein he answereth to that, which was alledged, Chap. 8. 8. h He sheweth that there is nothing done in this world without Gods will, and ordinance: for els he should not be almighty. i He taketh wilddome from them. k He abatech the honour of princes, and bringeth them into the subiection of others. l He causeth that their words haue no credite, which is when he will punish sinne. m In this discourse of Gods wonderfull workes, Job sheweth that what soeuer is done in this worlde, both in the order and change of things, is by Gods will & appointment, wherein he declareth that he thinketh well of God, and is as able to set forth his power in wordes as they that reasoned against, were,

1 Who knoweth not such things?
 2 I am^b as one mocked of his neighbour, who calleth vpon God, & he heareth him: the mist and the wyght is laughed to scoyne.
 3 He that is ready to fall, is as a lampe despised in the opinion of the riche.
 4 The tabernacles of robbers do prosper, and they are in safetie, that vowe toke God, whom God hath enriched with his hand.
 5 Aske now the beastes, and they shall teach thee, and the foules of the heauē, and they shall tell thee:
 6 Or speake to the earth, and it shall shew thee: or the fishes of the sea, and they shall declare vnto thee.
 7 Who is ignorant of all these, but that the hand of the Lord hath made these?
 8 In whose hand is the soule of every liuing thing, and the breath of all^a mannes kinde.
 9 Doerh not the eares discern the wordes? and the mouth taste meate for it else?
 10 Among the ancients is wisdom, and in the length of daies is vnderstanding.
 11 With him is wisdom and strength: he hath counsell and vnderstanding.
 12 Beholde, he will heake downe, and it cannot be built: he smitteth a man by, and he cannot he look'd.
 13 Behold, he with holdeth the waters, & they dry vp: but when he sendeth them out, they destroy the earth.
 14 With him is strength and wisdom: he that is deceiued, and that deceiveth, are his.
 15 He causeth y^e counsellors to go as spoyle, and maketh the iudges fooles.
 16 He toseth the collar of kings, & girdeth their loynes with a girdle.
 17 He leadech away y^e princes as a pray, and overthroweth the mighty.
 18 He taketh away the speach from the faithfull counsellors, and taketh away the iudgement of the ancient.
 19 He pouereth contempt vpon princes, and maketh the strength of the mighty weakle.
 20 He discovereth the deepe places from their darkenes, and bringeth forth the shadow of death to light.
 21 He increaseth the peepel, and destroyeth them: he enlargeth the nations, and bringeth them in againe.

 22 He taketh away the heartes of them that are the chiefes over the peopel of the earth, and maketh them to wander in the wilderness out of the way.
 23 They grope in y^e darke without light: and he maketh them to stagger like a drunken man.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Job compareth his knowledge with the experience of his friends, 16 The penitent shalbe sined, and the hypocrite condemned, 20 He prayeth vnto God that he would not handle him rigorously.

Lord, mine eye hath seene all this: mine eare hath heard, and vnderstand it.
 2 I know alio as much as you know: I am not inferior vnto you.
 3 But I will speake to the Almighty, & I desire^a to dispute with God.
 4 For in dedde y^e foage lies, and all you are b^ophysitions of no valie.
 5 Oh, that you would hold your tongue, that it might be imputed to you for wilddome!
 6 Now heare my disputation, and giue eare to the arguments of my lips.
 7 Will ye speake wickedly for Gods defence, and talke deceitfully for his cause?
 8 Will ye accept his person? or will ye contend for God?
 9 Is it wel that he should seeke of you: will you make a spe for him, as one lieth for a man?
 10 Ye will surely reprove you, if ye do secretly curse any person.
 11 Shall not his corderencie make you afraid? and his feare fall vpon you?
 12 Your memories may be compared vnto ashes, and your bodies to bodies of clar.
 13 Yoide your tongues in my presence, that I may speake, and let come vpon what will.
 14 Wherefore do I take my flesh in my teeth, and put my soule in mine hand?
 15 Lo, though he slay me, yet will I trust in him, and I will reprove my wayes in his sight.
 16 He shall be my saluation also: for the hypocrite shall not come before him.
 17 Ye are diligent my wordes, & marke my talke.
 18 Beholde now: if I prepare me to iudgement, I know that I shalbe iustified.
 19 Who is he, that wil pleade with me? for if I now hold my tongue, I dye.
 20 But do not these two things vnto me: then will I not hide my selfe from thee.
 21 Withdraw thine hand from me, and let not th^e feare make me afraid.
 22 Then call thou, and I will answer: or let me speake, and answer t^hou me.

a For although he knew y^e God had a iustice, which was manifest in his ordinary working, & another in his secret counsell, yet he would venter his affection to God, because he was not able to vnderstand the cause why he did thus punish him.
b You do not well apply your medicine to the disease.
c He condemneth their zeale which had not knowledge, neither regarded they to comfort him, but alway grated on Gods iustice, as though it was not evidently seene in Job, except they had vnder taken the probatioⁿ thereof.
d Your fame shal come to nothing.
e Is not this a manifest signe of mine affliction, and that I do not complain without cause, seing that I am thus tormented as though I should teare mine owne flesh, and put my life in danger?
f Whereby he declareth that he is not an hypocrite as they charged him.
g That is, cleared and not cast of for my finnes, as you reason. h To proue y^e God doth thus punish me for my finnes. i If I defend not my cause, euery man will condemne me. k He sheweth what these two things are.

1 His pangs thus reason him to moue him to God, not denying but that he had sinned: but he desired to vnderstand what were his great finnes that had deserued such rigor, wherein he offended, that he would know a cause of God why he did punish him. m Thou punishest me now for the fautes that I comitted in my youth. n Thou makest me thy prisoner, & doest so presic me that I cannot stirre hand nor foote. "Ebr. roots.

23 How many are mine iniquities and finnes: shew me my rebellion, and my sinne.
24 Wherefore hidest thou thy face, and takest me for thine enemy?
25 Wilt thou breake a leafe diuven to and fro: and wilt thou pursue þy dy stubble?
26 For thou wast bitter things against me, and makest me to possesse the iniquities of my mouth.
27 Thou puttest my feete also in the stocks, and lookest narrowly vnto all my pathes, and makest the print thereof in the holes of my feete.
28 Such one consumeth lyke a rotten thing, and as a garment that is mothy eaten.

CHAP. XIII.

a Job describeth the shortnes and miserie of the life of man. 14 Hope susteineth the godly. 22 The condition of many life.

MAN that is borne of a woman, is of short continuance, and full of trouble.

2 He shooteth forth as a flower, & is cut downe: he vanissheth also as a shadow, and continueth not.
3 And yet thou openest thine eyes vpon such one, and causest me to enter into iudgement with thee.
4 * Who can bring a cleane thing out of filthines? there is not one.
5 Are not his dayes determined? the number of his moneths are with thee: thou hast appointed his bounds, which he cannot passe.
6 Turne from him that he may cease vntill his desired day, as an hireling.
7 For there is hope of a tree, if it be cut downe, that it will yet sproute, and the branches thereof will not cease.
8 Though the roote of it were olde in the earth, and the stocke therof be dead in the grounds, 9 Yet by the sente of water it will bud, & bring forth boughes like a plant.
10 But man is sicke, and dieth, and man perissheth, and where is he?

11 As the waters passe from the sea, and as the floud decapeth and drieth vp,
12 So man sleepech and riseth not: for he shall not wake againe, nor be rapsed from his sleepe till the heauen bee no more.
13 Oh that thou wouldest hide me in the graue, and keepe me secret, vntill thy wrath were past, & wouldest giue me terme, and remember me.
14 If a man die, shall he liue againe? All the dayes of mine appointed time will I waite, till my changing shall come.

e Heure by he declareth that the feare of Gods iudgement was the cause why he desired to die. f That is, release my paines, and take me to mercie. g Meaning, vnto the day of the resurrection when he should be changed, and renewed.

15 Thou shalt call me, and I shall answer thee: thou louest the worke of thine own handes.
16 But now thou *nombrest my steps, & doest not delap my finnes.
17 Mine iniquitie is sealed by, as in a bag, and thou addest vnto my wickednes.
18 And surely as the mountaine þat falleth, cometh to nought, & the rocke that is remoued from his place:
19 As the water breaketh the stones, when thou ouerflowest þ things which grow in the dust of the earth: so thou destrogest the hope of man.
20 Thou preuailest alway against him, so that he passeth away: he changeth his face when thou castest him away.
21 And he knoweth not if his finnes shall be honozable, neither shall he vnderstand concerning them, whether they shall be of low degree, 22 But while his fleshe is vpon him, he shall be sorrowfull, and while his soule is in him, it shall mourne.

h Though I be afflicted in this life, yet in the resurrection I shall see thy mercies & answer when thou callest me. Prou. 1. 27.
i Thou layest the all together and sufficient none of my finnes vnpanished.
k He murmureth through impaciencie of the flesh against God, as though he wies as great seueritie against him as against the hard rockes, or waters that ouerflow, so that hereby all the occasion of his hope is taken away. 1 Yet whiles he liueth, he shalbe in payne and misery.

CHAP. XV.

a Eliphaz, reprehendeth Job, because he ascribeth wisdom, and piety to himselfe. 16 He describeth the curse that falleth on the wicked, reckoning Job to be one of the number.

1 THE answered Eliphaz the Temanite, and said,
2 Shall a wife man speake wordes of the a winde, and fill his belly b with the East winde?
3 Shall he dispute w wordes not comel: or with talke that is not profitable?
4 Surely thou hast cast of feare, and restrainest prayer before God.
5 For thy mouth declareth thine iniquitie, being thou hast choled þ tongue of the craftie.
6 Thine own mouth condemmeth thee, and not I, and thy lips tellc against thee.
7 Wrt thou the first man, þ was borne: and wast thou made before the hils?
8 Hast thou heard the secret counsell of God, and doest thou restraime wisdom f to thee?
9 What knowest thou þ we know not: and vnderstandest that is not in vs?
10 With vs are both ancient and becr aged men, farre older then thy father.
11 Seeme the consolations of God s small vnto thee? is this thing strange vnto thee?
12 Why doth thine heart b take thee as way, and what do thine eyes meane, 13 That thou answerest to God a at thy pleasure, and bringest such wordes out of thy mouth?
14 What is man, that he should be cleane: and he that is borne of woman, that he should i be iust?

a That is, wayne wordes, & without consolation: b Meaning, with matters that are of none importance, which are forgotte asfoone as they are vttered, as the East winde drieth vp the moisture as soone as it falleth. c He chargeth Job as though his talke caused men to cast of the feare of God & praier. d Thou speakest as do the mockers, and contentners of God. e That is, f most ancient, and so by reason the most wise: f Art thou onely wise? h He accuseth Jobs pride, and ingratitude, that will not be comforted by God, nor by their counsel.

h Why doest thou stand in thine owne conceits? "Ebr. in thy spirit. i His purpose is to proue, that Job as an vnjust man & an hypocrite is punished for his finnes, like as he did before, Chap. 4. 18.

k Which hath a desire to sine as he that is thursty to drinke.

l Who by their wisdom for gouerned, that no stranger invaded them, and so the land seemed to be giuen to the alone.

m The cruel mā is euer in danger of death, and is neuer quiet in conscience.

n Out of that miserie whereinto he once falleth.

o God doth not onely impouertish the wicked oft times: but euen in their prosperitie he punisheth them with a greedines euer more to gather: which is as a beggerie.

p He sheweth what weapons God vseth against i wicked which lift vp themselues against him, to wit, terror of conscience, and outward afflictions.

q That is, he was so puffed vp with great prosperitie and abundance of all things, that he forgate God: noting, that lo in his felicitie had not the true feare of God.

r Though he build, and repaire, iunious places to get him fame, yet God shall bring all to nought, and turne his great prosperitie into extreme miserie.

15 Beholde, he found no stedfastnesse in his Sautes: yea, the heauens are not cleane in his sight.

16 How much more is man abominable, and filthy, which^k bunkety iniquitie like water?

17 I will tell thee: heare me, and I will declare that which I haue seene:

18 Which wise men I haue tolde, as they haue heard of their fathers, and haue not kept it secret:

19 To whom alone the land was^l giuen and no stranger passed through them.

20 The wicked man is continually as one that traualleth of childe, and the number^m of peres is hid from the tyrant.

21 A sound of feare is in his eares, and in his prosperitie the destroyer shall come vpon him.

22 He beleueth not to returne out of darkness: for he seeth the wood before him.

23 He wandreth^o to and fro for bread where he may: he knoweth that the day of darknesse is prepared at hand.

24 Affliction and^p anguillie shall make him afraide: they shall preuaile against him as a timar ready to the battell.

25 For he hath stretched out his hand against God, and made him selfe strong against the Almightie.

26 Therefore God shall ruine vpon him, euen vpon his necke, and against the most thicke part of his shielde.

27 Because he hath covered his face with^q his fumes, and hath colloppes in his flankes.

28 Though he dwell^r in desolate cities, and in houses which no man inhabiteth, but are become heapes, 29 He shall not be riche, neither shall his substance continue, neither shall he prolong the^s perfection thereof in the earth.

30 He shall neuer depart out of darkness: the floure shall drie by his branches, and he shall go away with the breath of his mouth.

31 He^t beleueth not that he erreth in vanitie: therefore vanitie shall be his change.

32 His branche shall not be greene, but shall be cut of before his day.

33 God shall destroy him as the vine her fowre^u grapes, and shall cast him of, as the olive doeth her flower.

34 For the congregation of the hypocrite shall be desolate, and his hie all denoure the houses of^v bubbles.

35 For they^w conceiue mischiefe and bring forth vanitie, and their bellie hath prepared deceite.

1 Job moued by the importunacie of his friends, 7 Counteth in what extreme he is, 19 And taketh God witness of his innocencie.

1 But Job answered, and said, 2 By I haue oft times heard such things: miser-able comforters are ye all.

3 Shall there be none ende of wordes of^a wimbe? of what maketh thee bolde so to^b answere?

4 I could also speake as ye do: (but would God pour^c soule were in my soules steade) I could heepe you compaigne in speaking, and could^d shake mine head at you,

5 But I would strengthen you^e with my mouth, and the comfort of my lips should alwaie your forowe.

6 Though I speake, my sorowe^f can not be alwaied: though I cease, what re- lease haue I?

7 But nowe^g he maketh me wearie: O God, thou hast made all my^h congregation desolate,

8 And hast made me full ofⁱ wrinkles which is a witness thereof, and my leannes speth up in me, testifying the same in my face.

9 Khis wraith hath torme me, and he hateth me, and gnaweth vpon me with his teeth: mine enemie hath sharpened his eyes against me.

10 They haue opened their mouths vpon me, and smitten me on the^j cheek in reproche: they gather themselves together against me.

11 God hath deliuered me to the vniust, and hath made me to turne out of the way by the^k handes of the wicked.

12 I was in wealth, but he hath brought me to nought: he hath taken me by the necke, and beaten me, and let me as a marke for himselfe.

13 His^l archers compass me rounde about: he cutteth my remedies, and vpon not spare, and powertie my gall^m to the ground.

14 He hath broken me with one breaking vpon another, and runneth vpon me like a grant.

15 I haue sowed a sackcloth vpon my skinne, and haue abaled mineⁿ hogne vnto the dust.

16 My face is withered with weeping, & the shadowe of death is vpon mine ciris.

17 Though there be no wickednesse in mine hands, and my paper^o be pure.

18 O earth, conceit not thou my^p blood, and let my crying finde no place.

19 For lo, now my^q witness is in the heauen, and my records in his.

20 My friends^r speake eloquently as a Which seruic for vaine ostentation & for no true comfort.

b For Eliphaz did reply against Iobs answere.

c I would you felt that which I doe.

d That is, mocke at your miserie, as you doe at mine.

e If this were in my power, yet would I comfort you, and not doe as ye do to me.

f If they would say, Why doest thou not then comfort thy selfe: he answereth, y the iudgements of God are more heauie, then he is able to alwaie either by wordes or silence.

g Meaning, God. h That is, destroyed most of my familie.

i In token of sorrow & griefe.

k That is, God by his wraith: & in this diuersitie of words and his style he expresseth how grievous the hand of God was vpon him.

l That is, hath handled me most contemptuously: for so smiting on the cheeke signified, m 1. King. 22. 24. mar. 14. 65.

n They haue led me whyther they would.

o His manifold afflictions.

p Meaning, his glorie was brought lowe.

q Signifying, that he is not able to comprehend the cause of this his grievous punishment.

r That is, vnfained, and without hypocrisie.

s Let my fenne be knowne, if I be such a sinner as mine aduersaries accuse me, and let me finde no fauour.

t Though man condemne me, yet God is witness of my cause.

u Vse painted wordes in stead of true consolation.

CHAP. XVIII.

x Thus by his great torments he is carried away, and bracheth out into passions, and speaketh vnadvisedly, as though God should intreate man more gently, seeing he hath but a short time here to liue.

gainst me: but mine eye poyeth out teares vnto God.

21 Wh that a man might x pleade with God, as man with his neighbour!

22 For y peeres accounted come, & I shal goe p way, whence I shall not returne.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Iob sayeth that he consumeth away, and yet doeth patiently abide it. 10 He exhorteth his friends to repent a. e. 13 Shewing that he looketh but for death.

1 My breath is corrupt: my daies are cut of, & the graue is ready for me.

2 There are none but x mockers with me, and mine eye continueth in b their bitternes.

3 C Lap downe nowe and put me in fire: tie for the x who is he, that d wil touche mine hand?

4 For thou hast hid their heart fro e vnderstanding: therefore shalt thou not let them vpon me.

5 I For the eyes of his children shall faile, that speake th flatterie to his friends.

6 He hath also made me a s byword of the people, and I am as a tabret b before them.

7 Mine eye therefore is dimme for grieffe, and all my strength is like a shadowe.

8 The righteous shal be astonied at this, and the innocent shalbe moued against the hypocrite.

9 But the righteous wil hold his k wap, and he whose handes are pure, shall increase his strength.

10 Wl pou therefore turne you, and come now, and I shall not finde one wise among you.

11 My daies are past, mine enterprises are broken, and the thoughtes of mine heart

13 Though I hope, y yet the graue shalbe mine house, and I shall make my bed in the darke.

14 I shal say to corruption, Thou art my o father, and to d woyme, Thou art my mother and my sister.

15 Where is then now mine hope? or who shall consider the thing, that I hoped for?

16 T hen shall goe downe into the bot- tome of the pit: surely it shall lie toge- ther in the dust.

1 Billad rehearseth the paines of the vsfaithfull and wicked.

1 Then answered Sibilad the Shuhite, and saide,

2 When wilt a pe make an ende of your words? b cause vs to vnderstand, and then we will speake.

3 Wherefore are we counted as beastes, and are vile in your sight?

4 Thou art c as one that teareth his soule in his anger. Shall the d earth be forsaken for thy sake? e of the rocke remoued out of his place?

5 Pea, the light of the wicked shalbe quenched, and the sparke of his fire shall not shine.

6 The light shalbe darke in his dwelling, and his candle shalbe put out with him.

7 The steppes of his strength shalbe restrained, and his owne counsel shal cast him downe.

8 For he is taken in the net by his seete, and he f walketh vpon the snares.

9 The greeme shall take him by the heele, and the threes shall come vpon him.

10 A snare is laied for him in the ground, and a trapp for him in the wap.

11 Fearfulnesse shall make him a straide on euery side, and shall driue him to his seete.

12 His strength shalbe s famine: and destruction shalbe readie at his side.

13 It shal deuoure the inner partes of his skinn, and the b first boyne of death shal deuoure his strength.

14 His hope shalbe rooted out of his dwelling, and shall cause him to goe to the l King of feare.

15 Feare shall dwell in his house (because it is not k his) l and blimestone shalbe lacted vpon his habitation.

16 His rootes shalbe dyped by beneath, and aboute shall his banchs be cut downe.

17 His remembrance shall perishe from the earth, and he shall haue no name in the streete.

18 They shall driue him out of the m lig into darkenes, and shall cast him out of the wood.

19 He shal neither haue soune nor nephews among his people, nor anie posteritie in his dwellings.

20 The posteritie shalbe astonied at his n day, and feare shall come vpon the ancient.

21 Surely such are the habitations of the wicked, and this is the place of him that knoweth not God.

CHAP. XIX.

1 Iob reprooeth his friends, 15 And reciteth his miseries and grieuous paines. 25 He assureth him selfe of the generall resurrection.

1 Be Iob answered, and said, B Holue long will pe here my soule, and toyment me with wordes?

3 He haue nowe a ten times reproched me, and are not ashamed: pe are inuident a Which count your selues iusts as Chap. 12.4. b Whom you take to be but beastes, as chap. 12.7. c That is, like a mad man. d Shall God change the order of nature for thy sake, by dealing with thee otherwise then he doeth with all men? e When the wicked is in his prosperitie, then God changeth his state: and this is his ordinarie working for their finnes. f Meaning, that the wicked are in continuall danger. g That which shoulde nourishe him, shalbe consumed by famine. h That is, some strong and violent death shall consume his strength: or as the Ebrew word significth, his members or partes. i That is, with most great feare. k Meaning, not truly come by. l Though all the world should fauour him. m God would destroy him and his. n He shall fall from prosperitie to aduersitie. o When they shall see what came vnto him.

a In steade of comfort, being nowe at deaths doore, he had but them that mocked at him, and discouraged him.

b I see still that they seeke but to vex me. c He reasoneth with God as a man beside him selfe, to the intent that his cause might be brought to light. d And answered for thees. e That these mine afflictions are thy iust iudgements, though man knowe not the cause. f He that flattereth a man, and onely iudgeth him happie in his prosperitie, shal not himselfe onely, but in his posteritie be punished.

g God hath made all the world to speake of me, because of mine afflictions. h That is, as a continuall found in their eares. i To wit, when they see the godly punished: but in the end they shall come to vnderstanding, and knowe what shall be the rewarde of the hypocrite. k That is, will not be discouraged, considering that the godly are punished as well as the wicked. l Iob speaketh to them three, that came to comfort him. m That is, haue brought me fore in steade of comfort. n Though I should hope to come from aduersitie to prosperitie as your discourse pretendeth. o I haue no more hope in father, mother, sister, or any worldly thing: for the dust and wormes shal be to me in steade of them. p All worldly hope, and prosperitie faile, which you say, are onely signes of Gods fauour: but seeing that these things perishe, I set mine hope in God, and in the life euerlasting.

a That is, manie times, as Nehem. 4.12.

b That is, I my selfe shall be punished for it, or you have not confuted it.

c He brasteth out againe into his passions, and declareth still y his affliction cometh of God, though he be not able to feele the cause in him selfe.

d Meaning, out of his afflictions.

e Meaning, his children & what fouer was deare vnto him in this world.

f Which is pluckt vp, and hath no more hope to growe.

g His manifold afflictions.

h Mine household seruants: by all these losses Iob sheweth that touching the flesh he had great occasion to be moued.

i Which were hers and mine.

k Besides these great losses and most cruel vnkindnes, he was touched in his owne person as followeth.

l All my flesh was consumed.

m Seeing I have these iust causes to complaine, condemne me not as an hypocrite, specially ye which should comfort me.

n Is it not ynough that God doeth punish me except you by reproches increase my sorrowe?

o To see my bodie punished, except ye trouble my minde.

p He protesteth that notwithstanding his sore passions, his religion is perfite, and that he is not a blasphemer, as they iudged him. q I do not so iustifie my selfe before the worlde, but I know that I shall come before the great iudge, who shall be my deliuerer and Saviour.

dent toward me.

4 And though I had in deed erred, mine error^b remaineth with me.

5 But in dedde if ye will aduance your selues against mee, and rebuik me for my repproche,

6 I knowe now, that G O D hath^c ouerthrowen me, and hath compassed me with his net.

7 Scholde, I crye out of violence, but I haue none answer: I crye but there is no iudgement.

8 He hath hrdged by my way that I can not^d passe, and he hath set darkenes in my pathes.

9 He hath spoiled mee of mine honour, & taken the^e crowne away from mine head.

10 He hath destroyed mee on euerie side and I am gone: and he hath reuoued mine hope like^f a tree.

11 And he hath kindled his wrath against me, and counteth me as one of his enemies.

12 His^g armies came together, & made their wap vpon me, and camped about my tabernacle.

13 He hath reuoued my brethren farre from me, and also mine acquaintance were strangers vnto me.

14 My neighbours haue forsaken mee, & my familiars haue forgotten me.

15 ^h They that dwell in mine house, and my maidesooke me for a stranger: for I was a stranger in their sight.

16 I called my seruant, but he would not answere, though I prayed him with my mouth.

17 My breath was strange vnto my wife, though I prayed her for the childrens sake of mineⁱ owne bodie.

18 The wicked also despised me, & when I rose, they spake against me.

19 All my secret friends abhorred mee, and they whom I loued, are turned against me.

20 My bone^k cleaueth to my skinne and to my fleshe, and I haue escaped with the^l skin of my teeth.

21 I haue pittie vpon me: haue^m pittie vpon me. (O ye my friends) for the hand of God hath touched me.

22 Why doe ye persecute me, asⁿ God? and are not satisfied with my selfe?

23 Oh that my wordes were now written: oh that they were written euen in a booke!

24 And grauen with rauyn on yenn lead, or in stone for euer.

25 For I am sure, that my^o Redeemer liueth, and he shall stand the last on the earth.

26 And though after my skinne wormes destroy this bodie, yet shall I see God in my fleshe,

27 Whome I my selfe shall see, and mine eyes shall behold, and none other for me, though my reines are consumed with in me.

28 But ye said, Why is he persecuted? And there was^p a deepe matter in me.

29 Be ye afraid of the sword: for y sword will be^q auenged of wickednes, that ye may know that there is a iudgement.

r Herein Iob declareth plainly that hec had a full hope, that both the soule & bodie should enioy the presence of God in the last resurrection.

s Though his friends thought that he was but persecuted of God for his sinnes, yet he declareth that there was a deeper consideration: to wit, the trial of his faith and patience, and so to be an example for others.

t God wilbe reuenged of this hattie iudgement, v hereby you condemne me.

CHAP. XX.

1 Zophar sheweth, that the wicked and the courteous shall haue a short end, 28 Though for a time they flourish.

1 Then answered Zophar the Naamathite and said,

2 Doubtles my thoughts cause me to answere, and therefore I make haste.

3 I haue heard^a the correction of my reproche: therefore the spirit of mine vnderstanding causeth me to answere.

4 Knowest thou not this of old? & since God placed man vpon the earth?

5 That the reuoycing of the wicked is short, and that the top of hypocrites is but a moment?

6 Though^b his excellencie mount by to the heauen, and his head reache vnto the cloudes,

7 Yet shall hee perish for euer, like his dung, and they which haue scene him, shall say, Where is he?

8 He shall see away as a dream, & they shall not finde him, and that passe away as a vision of the night.

9 So that the eye which had scene him, shall see no more, and his place shall see him no more.

10 His children shall^c flatter the poore, & his hands shall^d restore his substance.

11 His bones are full of the sinne of his youth, and^e it shall lie downe with him in the dust.

12 When wickednes^f was sweete in his mouth, and he hid it vnder his tongue,

13 And fauoured it, & would not forsake it, but kept it close in his mouth,

14 Then his meate in his bowels was turned: the gall of Aspes was in the middes of him.

15 He hath deuoured substance, and he shall vomit it: for God shall draw it out of his belly.

16 He shall sucke the^g gall of Aspes, and the bivers tongue shall flap him.

17 He shall not see the^h rivers, nor the a He declareth that two things moued him to speake: to wit, because Iob seemed to touch him, and because he thought he had knowledge sufficient to confute him.

b His purpose is to proue Iob to be a wicked mā, & an hypocrite, because God punished him, and changed his prosperie into aduersitie.

c Where as the father through ambition & tyrannie oppressed the poore, y children through pouerie & miserie shall seeke fauour at y poore.

d So that the thing, which he hath taken away by violence, shall be restored againe by force.

e Meaning, that he shall carie nothing away with him, but his sin.

f As poyson that when it cometh into the body: so a vice at the first is pleasant, but afterward God turneth it to destruction.

g He comparcth euill gotten goods to the venom of aspes, which serpent is most dangerous: noting y Iobs great riches were not truly come by, & therefore God did plague him iustly for y same. h Though God giue to another abundance of his blessings, yet he shall haue no part thereof.

i That is, these raueners & spoylers of the poore shal enjoy their theft but for a time: for after God wil take it from them and cause them to make restitution, so that it is but an exchange.

k He shall leaue nothing to his posteritie.

l The wicked shal neuer be in rest: for one wicked man shall seeke to destroy another.

m Some reade, vpon his flesh, alluding to Iob, whose flesh was smitten wth a scab.

n Some reade, of the quieter.

o Al feare & sorrow shall light vpon him, when he thinketh to escape.

p That is, fire from heauen, or the fire of Gods wrath.

q Meanings, the children of the wicked shall flow away like riuers: and be dispersed in diuers places.

r Thus God wil plague the wicked. s Against God, thinking to excuse himselfe and to escape Gods hand.

floods & streames of honie and butter.

18 He shall reioyce the labour, and shal desire no more: euen according to the substance shalbe his exchange, and he shal enioy it no more.

19 For he hath viduone many: he hath forsaken the poore, & hath spoyled houses which he builded not.

20 Surely he shal feele no quietnes in his bodie, neither shall hee reuerue of that which he desired.

21 There shall none of his meate be left: therefoze none shall hope for his goods.

22 When he shal be filled with his abundance, he shalbe in paine, and the hande of all the wicked shall assaile him.

23 He shalbe about to fill his bely, but God shal lend vpon him his fierce wyath, and shal cause to raue vpon him, euen vpon his meate.

24 He shall see from the mon weapens, and the bowe of Steele shal strike him through.

25 The arrowe is drawen out, & cometh forth of the bodie, and shyneth of his gall, so feare cometh vpon him.

26 All darkenes shalbe hid in his secreete places: the fire that is not blowen, shal deuour him, and that which remaineth in his tabernacle, shalbe destroyed.

27 The heauen shall declare his wickednes, & the earth shal rise vpon against him.

28 The increase of his house shall goe as wax: it shal flow away in the day of his wyath.

29 This is the portion of the wicked man from God, and the heritage that he shal haue of God for his wordes.

CHAP. XXI.

7 Iob declareth how the prosperitie of the wicked maketh them proude, 15 In so much that they blaspheme God, 16 Their destruction is at hand.

23 None ought to be iudged wicked for affliction, neither good for prosperitie.

1 But Iob answered, and said,

2 Heare diligently my words, & this I shalbe in steade of your consolations.

3 Suffer me, that I may speake, & when I haue spoken, mocke on.

4 Doe I direct I may talke to man? If it were so, how should not my spirite be troubled?

5 Marke mee, and be abashed, and laye your hand vpon your mouth.

6 Euen while I remember, I am afraid, and feare taketh hold on my flesh.

7 Wherefoze do the wicked liue, & waxe old, and growe in wealth?

8 Their seede is established in their sight with them, and their generation before their eyes.

9 Their houses are peaceable without fear, and the rod of God is not vpon them.

10 Their bullocke gendereth and faileth not: their cow calueth, and calueth not her calfe.

11 They sende forth their children like sheepe, and their sonnes dance.

12 They take the taber and harpe, and reioyce in the sound of the organs.

13 They spend their dayes in wealth, and sudden^{ly} they goe downe to the graue.

14 They say also vnto God, Depart from vs: for we desire not thy knowledge of thy weapes.

15 Who is the Almighty, that we should serue him: and what profite should we haue, if we should pray vnto him?

16 Io, their wealth is not in their hande: therefore let the counsell of the wicked be farre from me.

17 How oft shal I the candle of the wicked be put out: and their destruction come vpon them? he wil beuilde their liues in his wyath.

18 They shalbe as stubble before the wind, and as chaffe that the storme carpeyth as way.

19 God wil lay vpon the sorrow of the father for his children: when hee rewardeth him, he shal know it.

20 His eyes shal see his destruction, and he shal binke of the wyath of the Almighty.

21 For what pleasure hath hee in his house after him, when the number of his moneths is cut off?

22 Shall any teach God knowledge, who iudgeth the highest things?

23 One speaketh in his full strength, being in all ease and prosperitie.

24 His breastes are full of milke, and his bones runne full of marowe.

25 And another dieth in the bitteries of his soule, & neuer eateth with pleasure.

26 They shal sleepe both in the dust, and the wormes shal couer them.

27 Behold, I know your thoughts, & the enterprises, wherewith ye do me wrong.

28 For ye say, Where is the punice of house: and where is the tabernacle of the wicked dwelling?

29 May ye not aske them that go by the way: and ye cannot denie their signes.

30 But the wicked is kept vnto the day of destruction, and they shal be brought forth to the day of wyath.

31 Who shall declare his way to his face: and who shal reward him for that he hath done?

e They haue store of childre, lusty & healthful, and in these points he answereth to that which Zophar alleaged before.

f Not being comforted with long sickenes.

g They desire nothing more then to be excepte all subiection that they should bear to God: this Iob sheweth his aduerfaries, that if they reason onely by that which is seen by common experience,

the wicked, that hate God,

are better dealt withall, then they that loue him.

h It is not their owne, but God onely lendeth it vnto them. i God keepe me from their prosperitie.

k When God recompenseth his wickednes, he shall knowe that his prosperitie was but vanitie.

l Who sendeth to the wicked prosperitie, and punisheth the godly.

m Meaning, the wicked.

n To wit, the godly.

o As concerning their bodies: and this he speakech according to the common iudgement.

p Thus they called Iobs house in derision, concluding that it was destroyed because he was

c He chargeth them as though they were not able to comprehend this feeling of Gods iudgement, and exhortheth them therefore to silence.

d Iob proueth against his aduerfaries that God punisheth not straight waues the wicked, but oft times giueth them long life, and prosperitie: so that wee must not iudge God iust or iniust by the things that appeare to our eye.

wicked. q Which through long traueling haue experience and tokens hereof to wit, that the wicked doe prosper and the godly liue in affliction.

r Though the wicked flourish here, yet God wil punish him in the last day.

s Though men doe flatter him, and none dare reprove him in this world, yet death is a token, that God will bring him to an account.

He shalbe glad to lie in a flumie pit, which before could not be content with a royall palace. u Saving, that the iust in this world haue prosperie and the wicked aduersitie.

32 Pet shall he be brought to the graue, and remaine in the heape.
33 The e flumie vallep shall swete vnto him, and euery man shall drawe after him, as before him there were inuines rable.
34 Yowe then comfort e pe me in baine, being in your answers there remaine but lies?

18 Pet he filled their houses with good things: but let the countell of the wicked be farre from me.
19 The righteous shall see them, and shall reioyce, and the innocent shall laugh them to scorne.
20 Surelp our substance is hid: but the fire hath deuoured the remnant of them.
21 Therfore acquaint thy selfe, I pray thee, with him, & make peace: thy eyes by thou shalt haue prosperie.

He answereth to that, which Iob had said, Chap. 21. 7. that the wicked haue prosperie in this world: desiring that he might not be partaker of y like. The iust reioyce at the detestacion of the wicked for two causes: first, because God sheweth himselfe iudge of the world, and by this meanes continueth his honor and glory: secondly, because God sheweth that he hath care ouer his in that he punisheth their enemies.

CHAP. XXII.

1 Eliphaz affirmeth that Iob is punished for his sinnes, & he accuseth Iob of unmercifulnesse, 13 And that he denied Gods providence. 21 He exhorteth him to repentance.

1 Then Eliphaz the Temanite answered, and said,
2 Whap a man be profitable vnto God, as he that is wise, may be profitable to himselfe?
3 Is it anye thing vnto the Almighty, that thou art righteous? or is it profitable to him, that thou makest thy wayes bright?
4 Is it for feare of thee that he will accuse thee? or goe with thee into iudgement?
5 Is not thy wickednes great, and thine iniquities innumerable?
6 For thou hast taken the pledge from thy brother for naught, and spoiled the clothes of the naked.
7 To such as were wearie, thou hast not giuen water to drinke, and hast withdrawen bread from the hungrie.
8 But the mighty man had the earth, & he that was in autopitie, dwelt in it.
9 Thou hast cast out widowes enprie, and the armes of the fatherlesse were broken.
10 Therefore inares are round about thee, and feare shall suddenly trouble thee:
11 Darkenesse that thou shouldst not see, and abundance of waters shall couer thee.
12 Is not God on hisie in the heauen? and behold the height of the starres howe heie they are.

22 Keeoue, I pray thee, the laue of his mouth, and lape by his words in thine heart.
23 If thou returne to the Almighty, thou shalt be built vp, and thou shalt put iniquitie farre from thy tabernacle.
24 Thou shalt lay by golde for dust, and the golde of Sphir, as the flutes of the riuers.
25 Yea, the Almightye shall be thy defence, and thou shalt haue plenty of siluer.
26 And thou shalt then desire in the Almightye, and lift vp thy face vnto God.
27 Thou shalt make thy prayer vnto him, and he shall heare thee, and thou shalt render thy vowes.
28 Thou shalt also decree a thing, and he shall establish it vnto thee, and thy light shall shine vpon thy wayes.
29 When others are cast downe, then shalt thou say, I am lifted vp: and God shall saue the humble person.
30 The innocent shall deliuer the plaud, and it shall be persecuted by the purenes of thine hands.

That is, the state and preservation of the godly is hid vnder Gods wings. Meaning, of the wicked. q He exhorteth Iob to repentance and to returne to God. r God will restore vnto thee all thy substance. f Which shalbe in abundance like dust. t That is, the fauour of God. u God will deliuer his when the wicked are destroyed round about them, as in the flood and in Sodom. x God will deliuer a whole countrey from perill, euen for the iust mans sake.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Iob affirmeth that he both knoweth and feareth the power and sentence of the iudge, 10 And that he is not punished onely for his sinnes.

1 But Iob answered and said,
2 Though my talke be this day in bitterness, and my plague greater then my groning,
3 Would God yet I knewe howe to finde him, I would enter vnto his place.
4 I would pleade the cause before him, and fill my mouth with arguments.
5 I would knowe by words, that he would answer me, and would understand what he would say vnto me.
6 Would he plead against me with his great power? No, but he would put strength in me.
7 There the righteous might reason with him, so I should be deliuered for cuer from my iudge.

a He sheweth the iust cause of his complaining, and as touching that Eliphaz had exhorted him to returne to God, Chap. 2. 2. 1. he declareth that he desireth nothing more: but it seemed that God would not be found of him. b Vsing his absolute power, & saying, Because I am God, I may do what I will. c Of his mercie he would giue me power to answer him. d When he of his mercie hath giuen strength to mainteine their cause.

a Though man were iust, yet God could haue no profit of this his iustice: and therefore when he punisheth him, he hath no regard to his iustice, but to his sinne. Chap. 31. 7. b Least thou shoulddest reprove or hurt him. c Thou hast bym cruel and without charitie, and wouldst do nothing for the poore, but for thine owne advantage. d When thou wast in power and autoritie, thou didst not iustice, but wrast. e Thou hast not only not shewed pitie, but oppressed them. f That is, manifold afflictions. g He accuseth Iob of impietie and contempt of God, as though he would say, If thou passe not for men, yet consider the height of Gods maiestie. h That so much the more by that excellent worke thou maiest feare God and reuerence him. i He reprooth Iob as though he denied Gods providence, and that he could not see the things that were done in this world. k How God hath punished them from y beginning. l He proueth Gods providence by the punishment of the wicked, whom he taketh away before they can bring their wicked purposes to passe.

g Besolde,

e Meaning, that if he consider Gods iustice, he is not able to comprehend his iudgements on what he or part fouer he turneth him selfe. f God hath this preeminence about me that he knoweth my way: to wit, that I am innocēt, & I am not able to iudge of his workes: he sheweth also his confidence, that God doeth visite him for his profit. g His word is more precious vnto me, then the meat where-with the bodie is sustained. h Iob confesseth that at this present he felt not Gods fauour, and yet was assured, that he had appointed him to a good ende. i In many points man is not able to attayne to Gods iudgements. k That I should not be without feare. l He sheweth the cause of his feare, which is, that he being in trouble, seeth none ende, neither yet knoweth the cause.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Iob describeth the wickednesse of men, and sheweth what chiefe belongeth to the wicked, 12 How all things are governed by Gods prouidence, 17 And the destruction of the wicked.

How should not the times be hid from the Almighty, seeing that they which know him, see not his daies: 2 Some remove the iude marks, that robbe the flockes and feede thereof. 3 They lead away the alle of the fathers lesse: and take y^e widowes eye to pledge. 4 They make the poore to turne out of the way, so that the poore of the earth hide themselves together. 5 Beholde, others as wilde asses in the wilderness, goe forth to their business, and rife early for a pray: the wilderness giueth him and his children foode. 6 They reape y^e his prouision in the fildes, but they gather the late vntage of the wicked. 7 They cause the naked to lodge without garment, and without couering in the colde. 8 They are wet with the showres of the mountaines, and they imbace the rockes for want of a couering. 9 They plucke the fatherlesse from the e: He and his liue by robbing and murdering. f Meaning the poore mans. g Signifying, that one wicked man will not spoile another, but for necessity. h The poore are driuen by the wicked into rockes and holes, where they can not lye drie for the raine. i That is, they so powle and pille the poore widow, that shee can not haue to sustain her selfe that she may be able to giue her childe sucke.

10 They cause him to goe naked without clothing, and take the glewing from the hungrie. 11 They that make oyle¹ betweene their wailes, and create their waie pestifous, suffer thirt. 12 When² men³ crye out of the citie, and the soules of the flame⁴ crye out: yet God doeth⁵ not charge them with follie. 13 These are they, that abhorre the light: they knowe not the waies thereof, nor continue in the paths thereof. 14 The murderer riseth early and killeth the poore and the needie: and in y^e night he is as a theefe. 15 The eye also of the adulterer waiteth for the twilight, and laeth, none eye shall see me, and disguiseth his face, 16 They digge through houses in y^e darke, which they make⁷ for themselves in the day: they know not the light. 17 But the morning is euen to them as the shadow of death: if one knowe them, they are in the terrours of the shadowe of death. 18 He is swift by in the waters: their portion shalbe cursed in the earth: he will not beholde the way of the unesparde. 19 As the drie ground and heate consume the snow waters, so shall the great sinners. 20 As the pitifull man shall forget him: the woman shall feele his sweetnes: he shalbe no more remembered, and y^e wicked shall be broken like a tree. 21 He doeth euill vnto the barren, that both not beare, neither doth he good to the widowe. 22 He draweth also the y^e mightie by his power, and when he riseth by, none is sure of life. 23 Though men giue him assurance to be in safetie, yet his eyes are vpon their waies. 24 They are exalted for a litle, but they are gone, and are brought low as al others: they are destroyed, and cut of as the top of an eate of croone. 25 But if it be not so, where is he? or who will prouee me a lyar, and make my wordes of no value?

k That is, his garment, where-with he should be couered or clad. l In such places, which are appointed for that purpose: meaning, that those that labour for the wicked, are pined for hunger. m For the great oppression and extortion. n Crye out, and call for vengeance. o God doeth not condemne the wicked, but seemeth to passe ouer it by his long silence. p That is, Gods word, because they are reproued thereby. q By these particular vices, and the piece thereunto, he would proue that God punisheth not the wicked and rewardeth the iust. r He seeth to the waters for his succour. s They thinke that all y^e world is bent against them, and dare not go by the hie way. t As the drie ground is neuer full with waters, so will they neuer cease sinning, till they come to the graue. u Though God suffer the wicked for a time, yet their ende shalbe most vile destruction, and in this point he loo commeth to himselfe and sheweth his confidence. x He sheweth why the wicked shall not be lamented, because he did not pitie others. y He declareth that after that the wicked haue destroyed the weakest, they will doe like to the stronger, and therefore are iustly preyented by Gods iudgements. z That is, that contrary to your reasoning no man can giue a perfite reason of Gods iudgements, let me be reprooued.

CHAP. XXV.

Bilad proueth that no man is cleane nor without sinne before God.

Then answered Bilad the Shuhite, and saide, a His purpose is to proue, that albeit God trie & a 2 Drover & feare is with him, that maketh

 3 Is there any number in his armies? &

 e That is, come, and vnderneath is brimstone or cole, which easily cocēueth fire.
 f He alludeth to the mines and secrets of nature, which are vnder the earth, wherinto neither foules nor beasts can enter.
 g After that he hath declared the wisdom of God in the secrets of nature, he describeth his power.
 h Though Gods power, and wisdom may be vnderstand in earthly things, yet his heavenly wisdom cannot be attained vnto.
 i It is to hie a thing for man to attaine vnto in this world.
 k It can neither be bought for gold, nor precious stones, but is onely the gift of God.
 l Which is thought to be a kinde of precious stone.
 m Meaning, y there is no natural meanes, whereby man might attine to the heavenly wisdom: which he meane by the foules, y sic hie.
 n He maketh God onely the autor of this wisdom, & the giuer thereof.

is molten out of the stone,
 God putteth an ende to darkenesse,
 & he treth the perfection of all things:
 he setteth a bonde of darkenes, and of the shadow of death.
 The flood breaketh out against the inhabitant, and the waters forgotten of the foote, being higher then man, are gone away.
 Out of h lame earth cometh bread, & vnder it, as it were fire is turned vp.
 The stones thereof are a place of sulphur, and the dust of it is gold.
 There is a path which no fowle hath known, neither hath the kites eye seene it.
 The lions whelps haue not walked it, nor the lion passed there by.
 He putteth his hand vpon the rocks, and ouerthroweth the mountaines by the rootes.
 He breaketh riuers in the rockes, and his eye seeth euery precious thing.
 He vnderth the floods, that they do not ouerflow, & the thing that is hid, bringeth he to light.
 But where is wisdom found? h and where is the place of vnderstanding?
 Whan knoweth not i p price thereof: for it is not found in the land of the liuing.
 The depth saith, It is not in me: the sea also saith, It is not with me.
 Gold shall not be giuen for it, neither shall siluer be weighed for the price thereof.
 It shall not be valued with the wedge of gold of spyr, nor with the precious our, nor the saphir.
 The gold nor the chrystall shall be equal vnto it, nor the exchange shall be for plate of fine gold.
 No mention shall be made of coral, nor of the iagabih: for wisdom is more precious then perles.
 The Topaz of Ethiopia shall not be equal vnto it, neither shall it be valued with the wedge of pure gold.
 Whence then cometh wisdom: and where is the place of vnderstanding, & heing it is hid from the eyes of all the liuing, and is hidde from the foules of the heauen?
 Destruction and death say, Wee haue heard the fame thereof with our eares.
 But God vnderstandeth the wap thereof, and he knoweth the place thereof.
 For he beholdeth p ends of the world, and seeth all that is vnder heauen,
 To make the weight of the windes, & to weigh the waters by measure.
 When he made a decree for the raine, and a way for the lightning of the thunders,
 Then did he seet, and counted it: hee prepared it and also considered it.
 And vnto man he said, Beholde, * the feare of the Loide is wisdom, and to depart from euil is vnderstanding.

 CHAP. XXIX.
 Job complaineth of the prosperitie of his time past.
 7. 21 Hu autoritie, 12 Iustice and equitie.
 S Job proceeded and continued his sparable, laping, Oh that I were as in times past,
 when God preferred me!
 When his light shined vpon mine head: and when by his light I walked through the darkenes,
 As I was in the dapes of my pouth: when Gods prouidence was vpon my tabernacle:
 When Almighty was pet with me, and my children round about me:
 When I washed my paths with butter, and when the rocke powdered me out riuers of ople:
 When I went out to p gate, euen to the iudgement seat, & when I caused them to prepare my seat in the streete.
 The pong men saw me, & e hid themselves, and the aged arose, and stood by:
 The princes staped talkie, & laped their hand on their mouth.
 The voyce of princes was hid, and their tongue cleaued to the roote of their mouth.
 And when the s care heard me, it blessed me: & when the eye saw me, it gaue witness to h me.
 For I deliuered the poore that cryed, and the fatherlesse, and him that had none to helpe him.
 The blessing of him that was ready to perish, came vpon me, and I caused the widowes heart to reioyce.
 I put on iustice, & it covered me: my iudgement was as a robe, & a crowne.
 I was the eyes to the blinde, & I was the feete to the lame.
 I was a father vnto the poore, & when I knewe not the cause, I sought it out diligently.
 I brake also the chaires of the birights: tecus man, and pluckt the pray out of his teeth.
 Then I said, I shall die in my nest, & I shall multiply my dayes as the land.
 For my roote is spred out by p water, and the dew shall lye vpon my branch.
 My glory shall reuue toward me, & my bowbe shall be restored in mine hand.
 Vnto me in euery care eate, and waited, and held their tongue at my counsell.
 After my words they replied not, and my talke o dyopped vpon them.
 And they waited for me, as for the raine, & they opened their mouth as for the latter raine.

rockes,

7 They roared among the bushes, & vnder
the thistles they gathered theselues,

8 They were the children of fooles and the children of villaines, which were more vile then the earth,

9 And now am I their ^e song, and I am their talke,

10 They abhorre me, & flee farre from me,
and spare not to spit in my face,

health passeth away as a cloude,

16 Therefore my soule is nowe ^b powdered vnto vpon mee, and the dayes of affliction haue taken holde on me,

17 It pearceth my bones in the nyght,
and my sinewes take no rest,

18 For the great vehemencie is my garment changed, which compasseth me as about as the collar of my coate,

19 He hath cast me into the myre, and I am become like ashes and dust,

20 When I cry vnto thee, thou dost not heare me, neither regardst mee, when I stand by,

mee, and art enemy vnto mee with the strength of thine hand,

22 Thou takest mee by and causest mee to ride vpon the ^b wynde, and makest my ^b strength to faile,

23 Surely I knowe that thou wilt bring me to death, and to the house appoynted for all the luyng,

24 Doubtes none can stretche his hande vnto the graue, though they cry in his destruction,

25 Did not I weepe with him that was in trouble? Was not my soule in heau-nes for the poore?

26 Yet when I looked for good, euil came vnto me: and when I waited for light,
there came darkenes,

27 My bowels did boile without rest: for ^b dapes of affliction are come vpon me,

28 I went mourning without sunne: I stood by vp in the conigregation ^c & crept,

29 I am a brother to the ^b dragons, and a companion to the ostriches,

30 My skynne is blacke vpon me, and my

CHAP. XXXII.

1 Elishu reproveth them of folia. 2 Age maketh not a man wise, but the Spirit of God. 3 These three men ceased to answer Job, because he esteemed himselfe iust. 4 Then the wyath of Elishu the sonne of Barachel the Buzite, of the familie of Ram, was kindled: his wyath, I saye, was kindled against Job, because hee iustified himselfe more then God. 5 Also his anger was kindled against his three friendes, because they coude not finde an answer, and yet condemned Job. 6 (Now Elishu had waited till Job had hokken: for they were more ancient in peres then he) 7 So when Elishu sawe, that there was none answer in the mouth of the three men, his wyath was kindled. 8 Therefore Elishu the sonne of Barachel the Buzite answered, and sayde, I am pong in peres, and ye are ancient: therefore I doubted, and was afraide to shew you mine opinion. 9 For I said, The daies shal speake, & the multitude of peres shal teach wisdom. 10 Surely there is a spirite in man, but the inspiration of the Almighty giueth vnderstanding. 11 Great me are not alway wise, neither do the aged alway vnderstande iudgement. 12 Therefore I say, Heare me, and I will shew also mine opinion. 13 Behold, I did waite vpo your words, and hearkened vnto your knowledg, whyles you sought out your reasons. 14 For, when I had considered you, lo, there was none of you that reprovoued Job, nor answered his wordes: 15 I left ye shoulde sape, We haue founde wisdom: for God hath cast him down, and no man. 16 Yet hath he not directed his wordes to mee, neither toll I answer him by your wordes, 17 Then they fearing, answered no more, but left of their talke. 18 Whye I had waited for they spake not, but stood still and answered no more) 19 Then answered I in my turne, and I shewed mine opinion. 20 For I am full of matter, & the spirite within me compelleth me. 21 Behold, my belly is as the wine, which hath no vent, and like the newe bottels that brast. 22 Therefore will I speake, that I may take bteaty:

d Asthough I had withholden their wages that laboured in it. e Meaning, that he was no briber nor extortioner. f That is, the Which came of Buz the sonne of Nahor Abrahams brother, b Or as the Chal de paraphrast readeth, Abram, c By making himselfe innocent, & by charging God of rigour. d That is, the three mentioned before. e Meaning, the ancient, which haue experiece. f It is a speciall gift of God that man hath vnderstanding, & cometh neither of nature nor by age. g To proue that Iobs affliction came for his sinnes. h And flatter your felices, as though you had ouercome him. i To wit, Iob. k He veth almoste like arguments, but without tainting, and reproches. l I have conceyted in my minde great store of reasons.

m Twil neither have regard to riches, credit, nor authority, but will speake the very truth.

o He sheweth y it is a sure token of Gods mercy toward sinners, when he causeth his word to be preached vnto them.

p That is, the minister shall by the preaching of the word pronounce vnto him the forgiveness of his finnes.

q He shall seele Gods fauour and reioyce: declaring hereby, wherein standeth the true ioy of the faithfull: and that God will restore hym to health of body, which is a token of his blessing.

r God will forgive his finnes and accept him as iust.

s That is, done wickedly.

t But my sinne hath bene the cause of Gods wrath toward me.

8 Let vs seeke b iudgement among vs, & let vs know among our selues what is good.

9 For Iob hath said, I am righteous, & God hath taken away my iudgement.

10 Should I be in my right? my word of p arrow is xerious without my sinne.

11 What man is like Iob, that maketh y scornfulnes like water?

12 Which goeth in the s company of the wicked men?

13 Iob was like to the wicked, because he seemed not to glorifie God, and submit himselfe to his iudgements.

14 And his soule daintie meat.

15 His bones which were not loose, clatter.

16 So his soule boweth to the graue, & his life 1 to the buriers.

17 If there be a messenger with him, or an interpreter, one of a thousande to declare vnto man his righteoulnesse.

18 Then will he haue a mercie vpon him, and will say, y Delinuer him, that he goe not downe into the pit: for I haue repud a reconciliation.

19 Then shall his flesh be as fresh as a childe, and shall retorne as in the days of his youth.

20 He shal pray vnto God, and he will be fauourable vnto him, and he shall see his face with ioy: for he wil render vnto man his righteoulnesse.

21 He loketh vpon vrn, and if one say, I haue sinned, and pverted righteoulnesse, and it did not profit me, 22 He wil delinuer his soule from going into the pit, and his life shall see the light.

23 For, all these things will God worke a twice at thisle with a man,

24 That he may turne backe his soule from the pit, to be illuminate in the light of the living.

25 Marke wel, O Iob, and heare me: keepe silence, and I will speake.

26 If there be y matter, answer me, and speake: for I desire to iustifie thee.

27 If thou hast not, heare me: holde thy tongue, and I wil teach thee wisdom.

28 Gods fauour and reioyce: declaring hereby, wherein standeth the true ioy of the faithfull: and that God will restore hym to health of body, which is a token of his blessing.

29 God will forgive his finnes and accept him as iust.

30 But my sinne hath bene the cause of Gods wrath toward me.

31 God will forgive the penitent sinner.

32 Meaning, oft tymes, euen as oft as a sinner doth repent.

33 If thou doubt of this, or see occasion to speake against it.

34 That is, to shew thee, wherein mans iustification consisteth.

11 For he will render vnto man according to his worke, and cauſe euery one to 12 And certainly God will not do wichaſt ſaid, I am ^a more righteous then God?

3 For thou haſt ſaid, What profiteth it thee and what aualeth it me, to purge me from my ſinne?
4 Therefore will I anſwer thee, and thy ^b companions with thee.
5 Looke vnto y^c heauen, & ſee and behold

6 If thou ſinneſt, what doeth thou ^d a-gainſt him, ſea, whe thy ſinnes be ma-

7 If ^e he be righteous, what queſt ^f vnto ther will the Almighty regard it.

14 Although thou ſayeſt to God, Thou wilt not regard it, & ſet iudgement in b Thou shalt perceiue that I am a faithful instructor, and that I speake to thee in the name of God.

3 I will fetch up knowledge a farre of, & will attribute righteousness vnto my maker.
4 For truly my words shall not be false, and he that is b perfect in knowledge, speaketh with thee.
5 Beholder, the mighty God casteth away now that is c mightie and valiant of countenance.
6 He maintaineth not the wicked, but he giveth iudgement to the afflicted.
7 He withholdeth not his eyes from the righteous, but they are with kings in the throne, where he placeth them for ever: thus they are exalted.

c Strong & constant, & of vnderstanding, for these are the gifts of God, & he loveth them in man: but forasmuch as God punished now Iob, it is a signe that these are not in him.
d Therefore he will not preferre the wicked: but to the humble & afflicted heart he will shew grace.
e He preferreth the godly to honour.
f He will moue their hearts to seele their sinnes, & that they may come to him by repentance as he did Manassch.
g That is, in their follie or obstination, & so shall be cause of their owne destruction.
h Which are maliciously bent against God and flatter themselves in their vices.
i When they are in affliction they seeke not to god for succour, as Asa, 2 Chron. 16. 12. Reuel. 16. 11.
k They dye of some vile death, & y before they come to age.

8 And if they be bounde in fetters & tryed with the cordes of affliction, 9 Then will he shewe them their worke and their sinnes, because they haue bene proude.
10 He openeth also their eare to discipline, & commandeth them that they returne from iniquitie.
11 * If they obey and serue him, they shall end their daies in prosperitie, and their peres in pleasures.
12 But if they will not obey, they shall passe by the worde, and perishe without knowledge.
13 But the hypocrites h of heart increase the wrath: for they call not when hee bindeth them.
14 Their soule dieth in k pouth, and their life among the whoreingers.

15 He deliuereth the poore in his affliction, and openeth their eare in trouble.
16 Euen so would he haue taken thee out of the streight place into a broad place & not shut by b death: & that which resteth vpon thy table, had bene full of fat.
17 But thou art full of the i iudgement of the wicked, though iudgement and es quitie maintaine all things.
18 * For Gods wrath is, least he shoulde take thee away in thine abundance: for no multitude of giftes can deliuer thee.
19 Will he regard thy riches? he regardeth not gold, nor all them that excell in strength.
20 * Be not careles in the night, how he destroyeth the people out of their place.
21 Take thou heed: looke not to p iniquitie: for thou hast chosen it rather then affliction.
22 Beholde, God exalteth by his power: what teacher is like him?
23 Who hath appointed to him his war? or who can save, Thou hast done wickedly?
24 Remember y thou magnific his work, which men behoid.
25 All men see it, and men beholde it come to age.

1 If thou hadst bene obedient to God, he would haue brought thee to libertie & wealth. m Thou art altogether after y manner of y wicked: for thou dost murmur against the iustice of God. n God doth punish thee, least thou shouldest forget God in thy wealth and so perishe. o Be not thou curious in seeking the cause of Gods iudgements, when he destroyeth any. p And so murmur against God through impaciencie.

5 God thundreth maruailously with his voyce: he worketh great things, which we knowe not.
6 For he sapeh to the snow, Be thou vpon the earth: 4 likewise to the small rayne and to the great rayne of his power.
7 With the force thereof be c thur: with euery man, that all men may know his worke.
8 Then the beasts go into the denne, and remaine in their places.

causth men to keepe themselves within their houses. f In Ebrew it is called the scattering winde, because it driueth away the cloudes & purgeth the ayre. g That is, is frozen vp & dryed. h Gather the vapours, & moue to and fro to water the earth. i That is, the cloud that hath lightning in it.

12 And it is turned about by his government, that they may do what soever he commandeth them vpon the whole world: 13 Whether it be for punishment, or for his laude, or of mercie, he causeth it to come. 14 Hearken vnto this, O Job: stande and consider the wonderous workes of God. 15 Didst thou know when God disposed them? or caused the light of his cloude to shine? 16 Hast thou knowne the varietie of the cloude, and the wonderous workes of him, th at is perfit in knowledge? 17 Or how thy clothes are warme, when he maketh the earth quiet through the Southwinde? 18 Hast thou stretched out the heauens, which are strong, & as a molten o glasse? 19 Tell vs what we shall say vnto him: for we cannot dispose our matter because of darkenesse. 20 Shall it be tolde him when I speake? or shall man speake when he shall des trope? 21 And now men see not the light, which shineth in the cloudes, but the winde passeth and cleneth them. 22 The brightnesse cometh out of the South: the waye thereof is to God, which is terrible. 23 It is the Almighty: we cannot finde him out: he is excellent in power and iudgement, and abundant in iustice: he is as secretely not. 24 Let men therefore feare him: for he will not regard any that are wise in their owne conceite.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

God speaketh to Job, and declareth the weakness of man in the consideration of his creatures, by whose excellencie the power, iustice and providence of the Creator is known.

1 Then answered the Lord vnto Job out of the whirlwinde, and saide, Who is this that darkeneth the counsel by words without knowledge? 2 Cried by now thy topnes like a man: I will demande of thee and declare thou vnto me. 3 Where wast thou when I laped the foundations of the earth? declare, if thou hast vnderstanding, 4 Who hath laped the measures thereof, if thou knowest, or who hath stretched the line ouer it: 5 Whereupon are the foundations thereof set: or who laped the corner stone thereof: 6 Where the starres of the morning praise me together, and all the chidren of God reioyce: 7 Who hath shut vp the sea with doores, when it issued and came forth as out of the wombe: 8 When I made the cloude as a covering thereof, & darkenesse as the swabbling bandes thereof: 9 When I stablished my commandment vpon it, and set barres and doores, but not farther, and here that it flap thy pponde waues, 10 Hast thou commanded the morning since thy dapes? hast thou caused the moaning to know his place? 11 That it might take hold of the corners of the earth, and that the wicked might be shaken out of it? 12 It is turned as clay to facion, and all stand by as a garment. 13 And from the wicked their light halbe taken awaie, and the hye arme shall be broken. 14 Hast thou entred into the bottomes of the sea: or hast thou walked to seeke out the depth? 15 Haue the gates of death bene opened vnto thee? or hast thou seene the gates of the shadow of death? 16 Hast thou perceived the breadth of the earth? tell if thou knowest all this. 17 Where is the way where light dwelleth? and where is the place of darkenesse, 18 That thou shouldst receiue it in the boundes thereof, & that thou shouldst know the paths to the house thereof? 19 Knowest thou it, because thou wast the borne, and because the number of thy dapes is great? 20 Hast thou entred into the treasures of the snow? or hast thou seene the treasures of the hable, 21 Which I haue hid against the tyme of trouble, against the day of warr and battell? 22 Wher wast thou when the light parted, which scattereth the Eastwinde vpon the earth? 23 Who hath divided the wolues for the rapnes? or the waue for the lightning of the thunders, 24 To cause it to raine on the earth where no man is, and in the wilderness where there is no man? 25 To fulfill the wilde and waste place, & to cause the bud of the herbe to spring forth? 26 Who is the father of the raine: or who hath begotten the dropes of the dew? 27 Out of whose wombe came the peece? who hath ingendred the frost of the heauen? 28 The waters are hid as with a stone: & the face of the depth is frozen, 29 Canst thou restrain the sweete influences of the Pleiades: or loose the bands of Orion?

- 24 He ^v diggeth in the valley, & reioiceth in his strength: he goeth forth to mee the barnest man.
- 25 He mocketh at feare, & is not afraid, & turneth not backe from the sword,
- 26 Though the quier rattle against him, the glittering speare and shird.
- 27 He ^v swalloweth the ground for fiercenes and rage, and he beleueth not that it is the noise of the trumpet.
- 28 He saith among the trumpeters, Ya, ha: he smelleth the battel afarre of, and the noise of the captains, and the shouting.
- 29 Shall the hauke flie by thy wildome, stretching out his wings toward the ^v South?
- 30 Doth the eagle moue by at thy commandement, or make his nest on hie?
- 31 Shall he abideth ^v remaineth in the rocke, euen vpon the top of the rocke, and the towler.

- 33 His yong ones alle suck by blood: and where the flame are, there is she.
- 34 Whereouer the Lord spake vnto Job, and sayd,
- 35 Is this to ^v learne to strine with ^v might: he that reprooueth God, let him answere to it.
- 36 ^v The Job answered the Lord, saying,
- 37 Behold, I am ^v vile: what shall I answer thee? I will lay mine hand vpon mine mouth.
- 38 Since haue I spoken, but I will answer no more yea twise, but I will p^vocede no farther.

h They write ^v the ostrich co-uereth her egges in the sand, and because ^v country is hote and the sunne kill keepeth them warme, they are hatched.
i If he should take care for them.
k That is, to haue a care, and natural affection toward his yong.
l When the yong ostrich is grown vp, he outrun- neth the horse.
m That is, giuen him courage which is meant by neyng and shaking his mane: for with his breath he co-uereth his neck.

o He fo riddeh the ground that it seemeth nothing vnder him.
p That is, when cold cometh, to flie into the warme countries.

q Is this the way for a man ^v will learne to strue with God: which thing he reprooueth in Job.
r Whereby he sheweth that he repented, and desired pardon for his faultes.

CHAP. XL.

How weak man power is, being compared to the workes of God: so ^v his power appeareth in the creation, and gouerning of the great bestes.

- 1 Asaine the Lord answered Job out of ^v the whirlwinde, and said,
- 2 Girde by now thy loynes like a man: I wil demand of thee, & declare thou vnto me.
- 3 Wilt thou disanul ^v my iudgement? or wilt thou condemne me, ^h thou maist be iustified?
- 4 Or hast ^h an arme like God? or dost thou thunder with a voyce like him?

 CHAP. XLI.

By the greatness of the master Liuathan God sheweth his greatness, and hu power, which nothing can resist.

1 NOne is so fierce that dare stirre him vp. Who is he then that can stand before me?
 2 Who hath persecuted me that I should b make an end? All vnder heauen is mine. Who is able to compare with God the Creator? b Who hath taught me to accomplish my worke?

I will not keepe silence concerning this partes, nor his power, nor his comely proportion.
 4 Who can discouere the face d of his garment: or who shal come to him with a double e hyde?
 5 Who shal open the doores of his face? his teeth are fearefull round about.
 6 The maetie of his scales is like strong shields, and are sure feales.
 7 One is set to another, that no wynde can come betwene them.
 8 One is iynned to another: they sticke together, p they cannot be lundered.
 9 His nickings smake the light to shine, and his eyes are like the eye lids of the morning.
 10 Out of his mouth go lapses, & sparkes of fire leape out.
 11 Out of his nostrrels cometh out smoke, as out of a bopling pot or caldjon.
 12 His breath maketh the coles burne: for a flame goeth out of his mouth.
 13 In his necke remaineth strength, and labour is reiected before his face.
 14 The members of his body are iynned: they are strong in their selues, & cannot be moued.
 15 His heart is as strong as a stone, & as hard as the nether millstone.
 16 The mighty are afraid of his maistie, and for feare they faint in their selues.

The repentance of Job. 9 He praierth for his friends, 12 Hu goods are restored double vnto him. 13 Hu children, age and death.

1 THe Job answered the Lord, & said, I know y thou canst do all thinges, and that there is no a thought hid from thee.
 2 Who is he that hideth counsell without p knowledge? therefore haue I spoken p I understood not, euen thinges to wonderful for me, & which I knew not.

selfe ouer vnto
thee.

you condemned him by his outward afflictions, and not comforted him with my handled it euill.

h When you
haue reconciled your selues to him for y^e fautes that you haue committed against him, he shall pray for you, and I will heare him.

i He deliuered him out of the affliction wherein he was.

5 I hate & heard of thee by the hearing of the eare, but nowe mine eye seeth thee.
6 Therefore I abhorre my selfe, and repent in dust and ashes.

7 ¶ Now after that the Lord had spoken these words vnto Job, the Lord also said vnto Eliphaz the Temanite, Wh^y wrath is kindled against thee, and against thy two friends: for ye haue not spoken of me the thing that is right, like my seruant & Job.

8 Therefore take vnto you nowe seven bullockes, & seven rammes, & goe to my seruant Job, & offer by you four selues a burnt offering, & my seruant Job shall pray for you: for I will accept him, least I should put you to shame, because ye haue not spoken of me the thing, which is right, like my seruant Job.

9 So Eliphaz the Temanite, & Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite went, & did according as the Lord had said vnto them, and the Lord accepted Job.

10 ¶ Then the Lord turned the captiuities of Job, wh^y he prayed for his friends:
also the Lord gaue Job twice so much as he had before.

11 Then came vnto him all his brethren, and all his sisters, and all they that had bene of his acquaintance before, & did raue bread with him in his house, & had compassion of him, & comforted him for al^l his euill, that the Lord had brought vpon him, & euery man gaue him a piece of money, & euery one an earring of golde.

12 So the Lord blessed the last dayes of Job more then the first: for he had fourtene thousand sheepe, & fixe thousand camels, and a thousand yoke of oxen, and a thousand heere asses.

13 He had also seven sottes, and thre daughters.

14 And he called the name of one^m Jemmah, and the name of the secondⁿ Keziah, and the name of the third^o Keren-happuch.

15 In all the land were no women found so faire as the daughters of Job, and their father gaue them inheritance among their brethren.

16 And after this liued Job an hundred and fourtie yeeres, and had four sottes, and his sottes sottes, euen his generations.

17 So Job died, being old, & full of daies.

THE * PSALMES OF DAVID.

THE ARGUMENT.

THIS booke of Psalmes is set forth vnto vs by the holy Ghost to be esteemed as a most precious treasure, wherein all things are conteyned that appertaine to true felicitie: as well in this life present as in the life to come. For the riches of true knowledge, and heauently wisdom are here set open for vs, to take thereof most abundantly. If we would know the great, and his maiestie of God, here we may see the brightnesse thereof shine most cleare-ly. If we would seeke his incomprehensible wisdom, here is the schole of the same profession. If we would comprehend his inestimable bountie, and approche neere thereunto, and fill our handes with that treasure, here we may haue a most liuely, and comfortable taste thereof.
If we would knowe wherein standeth our saluation, and howe to attaine to life euerslating, here is Christ our onely redeemer, and mediator most evidently described. The riche man may leame the true vse of his riches. The poore man may finde full contentation. He that will reioyce, shall knowe the true ioy, and howe to keepe measure therein. They that are afflicted and oppressed, shall see wherein standeth their comfort, and howe they ought to praise God when he sendeth them deliuerance. The wicked and the persecuters of the children of God shall see howe the hand of God is euer against them: and though he suffer them to prosper for a while, yet he bridleth them, in so much as they can not touche an heare of ones head, except he permit them, and howe in the ende their destruction is most miserable. Briefly, here we haue most present remedies against all tentations, and troubles of mind and conscience, so that being well practised herein, we may be assured against all dangers in this life, liue in the true fear, and loue of God, and at length attaine to that incorruptible crowne of glorie, which is laide vp for all them that loue the comming of our Lorde Iesus Christ.

PSALME. I.

Whether it was Esaias, or any other that gathered the Psalmes into a booke, it seemeth he did set this Psalm first in manner of a Preface, to exhort all godly men to studie, and meditate the heavenly wis-doms. For the effect hereof, 1 That they be blef-sed, which giue themselves wholly all their life to the holy Scriptures. 4 And that the wicked con-temners of God, though they seeme for a while happy, yet at length shall come to miserable destructio.

I Blessed is the man that both will not walke in the counsell of the wicked, nor stand in the way of sinners, nor sit in the seate of the scoones full:

a When a man
hath giuen once place to euill counsel, or to his owne concupiscent,
he beginneth to forget himselfe in his sinne, and so falleth into contempt of God, which contempt is called the seate of the scoones.

2 But his delite is in the Lawe of the Lord, and in his Lawe doth he meditate day and night.

3 For he shall be like a tree planted by the riuers of waters, that will bring forth her fruite in due season: whose leafe shall not fade: so whatsoeuer he shall doe shall prosper.

4 The wicked are not so,
but as the chaffe,
which the winde diueth as wape.

5 Therefore the wicked shall not stand in the iudgement, nor sinners in the assessment.

d Though the wicked seeme to beare the fwinge in this world, yet the Lorde diueth them downe that they shall not rise nor stand in the companie of the righteous. e But tremble when they feele Gods wrath.

* Or, praises, according to the Ebrewes: & were chiefly institute to praise, & giue thanks to God
for his benefices.
They are called the Psalmes or Songs of David, because the most part were made by him.

g As touching my behauiour toward Saul and mine enemies.

h Though they pretend a iust cause against me yet God shall iudge their hypocritie.

i He doth continually call the wicked to repentance by some signes of his iudgements.

k Except Saul turne his minde, Idye: for he hath both men and weapons to destroy me. Thus considering his great danger, he magnifieth Gods grace, 1sa. 59. 4. iob. 35. 1 In keeping faithfully his promes with me.

mies, and awake for me according to the iudgement that thou hast appointed.
7 So shall the Congregation of the people compass thee about: for their sakes therefore I returne on hie.
8 The Lord shall iudge the people: iudge thou mee, O Lord, according to my righteousnes, and according to mine innocencie, that is in me.
9 Wh let the malice of the wicked come to an ende: but guide thou the iust: for the righteous God triepeth the heartes and reins.

10 My defence is in God, who preferueth the vpright in heart.
11 God iudgeth the righteous, and him that contemneth God, i every day.
12 Except he turne, he hath whet his sword: he hath bent his bow and made it readie.
13 Hee hath also prepared him deadly weapons: he will ordeine his arrowes for them that persecute me.

14 Behold, he shall traueile with wickednes: for he hath conciued mischief, but he shall bring forth a lye.
15 He hath made a pit and digged it, and is fallen into the pit that he made.
16 His mischief shall returne vpon his owne head, & his crueltie shall fall vpon his owne pate.
17 I will praise the Lord according to his righteousnes, and will sing praise to the name of the Lord most high.

PSAL. VIII.

1 The Prophet considering the excellent liberalitie and fatherly providence of God towards man, whome he made, as it were a god ouer: all his workes, doeth not only giue great thanks, but is astonished with the admiration of the same, as one nothing able to compass such great mercies.

¶ To him that excelleth on [¶] Sittich, [¶] Psalm of Dauid.

O Lord our Lord, how excellent is thy name in all the world! which hast let thy glorie aboue the heauens.
2 Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings hast thou ordeined strength, because of thine enemies, that thou mightest still the enimie and the auenger.
3 When I beholde thine heauens, euen the workes of thy fingers, the moone and the starrs which thou hast ordeined.
4 What is man, say I, that thou art mindful of him? and the sonne of man, that thou visitest him?
5 For thou hast made him a little lower then God, and crowned him with glorie and worship.

¶ Or, kinde of instrument, or vnto.
¶ Or, noble, or maruelous.
a Though the wicked would hide Gods prayes, yet the very babes are sufficient witness of the same.
¶ Or, established.
¶ Or, confound.
b It had bene sufficient for him to haue set forth his glorie by the heauens, though he had not come so low as to man, which is but dust. c Touching his first creation.

6 Thou hast made him to haue dominion in the workes of thine handes: thou hast put all things vnder his feet:
7 All sheepe & oxen: pea, and the beastes of the filde:
8 The foules of the aire, and the fish of the sea, and that which passeth through the paths of the seas.
9 O Lord our Lord, how excellent is thy name in all the world!

PSAL. IX.

1 After he had giuen thanks to God for the sundry victories that hee had sent him against his enemies, & also proved by manifold experience how readie God was at hand in all his troubles: 14 He being now likewise in danger of new enemies, desireth God to helpe him according to his wont, 17 And to destroy the malicious arrogancie of his aduersaries.

¶ To him that excelleth vpon [¶] Gath Labben. [¶] Psalm of Dauid.

I Will praise the Lord with my whole heart: I will speake of all thy maruelous workes.
2 I will be glad, & reioyce in thee: I will sing praise to thy name, O most high,
3 For that mine enemies are turned backe: they shall fall, and perish at thy presence.
4 For thou hast maintained my right and my cause: thou art set in thy throne, and iudgeth right.
5 Thou hast rebuked the heathen: thou hast destroyed the wicked: thou hast put out their name for euer and euer.
6 O enimie, destructions are come to a perpetual ende, and thou hast destroyed the cities: their memoriall is perished with them.
7 But the Lord shall sit for euer: he hath prepared his throne for iudgement.
8 For he shall iudge the world in righteousnes, and shall iudge the people with equitie.
9 The Lord also will be a refuge for the poore, a refuge in due time, euen in affliction.
10 And they that know thy name, will trust in thee: for thou, Lord, hast not failed them that seeke thee.
11 Sing praises to the Lord, which dwel- leth in Zion: shew thy people his workes.
12 For when he maketh inquisition for blood, he remembereth it, and forgetteth not the complaint of the poore.
13 Haue mercie vpon me, O Lord: consider my trouble, which I suffer of them that hate mee, thou that liftest mee vp from the gates of death.
14 That I may shew all thy praises within the gates of the daughter of Zion, and reioyce in thy saluation.
15 The heathen are sunken downe in the pit, that they made: in the net that they hid, is their foote taken.

d By the temporal giftes of mas creation he is led to consider the benefits which he hath by his regeneration through Christ.

¶ Or, kinde of instrument, or vnto or for the death of Labben or Gath. a God is not prayed, except the whole glory be giuen to him alone.

b Howsoeuer enimie seeme for a time to preuaile, yet God preferueth the iust.

c A derision of the enimie, that mindeth nothing but destruction: but the Lord wil deliuer his, and bring him into iudgement.

¶ Or, reigne as Iudex. d Our miseries are meanes to cause vs to feele Gods present care ouer vs.

e Though God reuengeth not suddenly the wrong done to his, yet he suffereth not the wicked unpunished.
f In the open assemblie of the Church
g For God ouerthroweth the wicked in their enterprises.

h The mercie of God toward his Saintes must bee declared, and the fall of the wicked must alwaies be considered.

i Or, thou wast to be noted.

i God promifeth not to helpe vs before we haue felt the crosse.

k Which they can not learne without feare of thy iudgement.

16 The Lorde is known by executing iudgement: the wicked is feared in the worke of his owne hands. o Higgaron. Selah.

17 The wicked shall turne into hell, and all nations that forget God.

18 For the poore shall not be alway forgotten: the hope of the afflicted shall not perishe for euer.

19 W Lord: let not man preuaile: let the heathen be iudged in thy sight.

20 But them in feare, o Lorde, that the heathen may knowe that they are but men. Selah.

PSAL. X.

1 He complaineth of the fraude, rapine, tyrannie, & all kinds of wrong, which worldly men vse, assigning the cause thereof, that wicked men, being as yet drunken with worldly prosperitie, and therefore setting apart all feare & reuerence towards God, thinke they may doe all things without controuling. 15 Therefore he calleth vpon God to send some remedie against these desperate euils, 16 And at length comforteth him selfe with hope of deliuerance.

1 W Lord, standest thou farre of, o Lord, & hidest thee in a due time, euen in affliction?

2 The wicked with pride doeth persecute the poore: let them be taken in þ crafts that they haue imagined.

3 For the wicked hath made boast of his owne hearts desire, and the couetousious blesseth himselfe: he continually the Lord.

4 The wicked is so proud that he seeketh not for God: he thinketh alwaies, There is no God.

5 His waies alway prosper: thy iudgements are he about his sight: theres fore heeth he all his enemies.

6 He saith in his heart, I shall neuer be moued, nor be in danger.

7 His mouth is full of cursing and deceit and fraude: vnder his tongue is mischief and iniquitie.

8 He lieth in waite in the villages: in the secrete places doeth he murder the innocent: his eyes are bent against the poore.

9 He lieth in waite secretly, euen as a lyon in his denne: he lieth in waite to spoile the poore: he doeth spoile the poore, when he draweth him into his net.

10 He croucheth and boweth: therefore heapes of the poore doe fall by his might.

11 He hath said in his heart, God hath forgotten, he hideth awaie his face, and wil neuer see.

12 Arise, o Lord God: lift vp thine hand: and therefore ought more to be feared. c By the hypocrisie of them that haue autoritie, the poore are deuoured. f He calleth to God for helpe, because wickednes is so farre ouer grown that God must now helpe or neuer.

forget not the poore.

13 Therefore doth the wicked contemne God: he laeth in his heart, Thou wilt not regard.

14 Yet thou hast seene it: for thou beholdest mischief and wrong, that thou maest take it into thine handes: the poore committeth himselfe vnto thee: for thou art the helper of the fatherlesse.

15 Breake thou the arme of the wicked and malicious: searche his wickednes, and thou shalt finde none.

16 The Lorde is King for euer and euer: the heathen are destroyed forth of his land.

17 Lorde, thou hast heard the desire of the poore: thou preparest their heart: thou bendest thine eare to them,

18 To iudge the fatherlesse and poore, that earthy man cause to feare no more.

PSAL. XI.

1 This Psalme containeth two partes. In the first Dauid sheweth how hard assaults of sensations he sustained, and in how great anguish of mind he was, when Saul did persecute him. 4 Then next he reioyceth that God sent him succour in his necessitie, declaring his iustice as well in governing the good, and the wicked men, as the whole worlde.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

1 In the Lord put I my trust: how saue ye then to my soule, flee to your mountaine as a bird?

2 For loe, the wicked bend their bowe, and make ready their arrowes vpon the string, that they may secretly shoote at them, which are vpright in heart.

3 For the foundations are cast downe: what hath the righteous done?

4 The Lorde is in his holy palace: the Loides throne is in the heauen: his eyes will consider: his eyes lids will trie the children of men.

5 The Lorde will trie the righteous: but the wicked and him that loueth iniquitie, doth his soule hate.

6 Vpon the wicked he shall raine snares, fire, and brimstone, and storme remoueth: this is the portion of their cup.

7 For the righteous Lord loatheth righteousness: his countenance doeth behold the iust.

destruction of Sodom and Gomorra. fWhich they shall drinke euen to the dregges, Ezek 23.34.

PSAL. XII.

1 The Prophet lamenting the miserable estate of the people, and the decay of all good order, desireth God speedily to send succour to his children. 7 Then comforting him selfe and others with the assurance of Gods helpe, he commendeth the constant veritie that God obserueth in keeping his promises.

Therefore thou must needs punish thine their blasphemie.

h To iudge betwene the right and the wrong.

i For thou halt vterly destroyed him.

¶ A Psalme of David.

- 1 Reuerie me, O God: for in thee do I trust.
- 2 O my soule, thou hast said vnto the Lord, Thou art my Lord: my bowels and my kidneys extendeth not to thee,
- 3 But to the Saints that are in the earth, and to the excellent: all my desire is in them.
- 4 The sorowles of them, that offer to another god, shall be multiplied: their offerings of blood will I not offer, neither make I mention of their names with my lippes.
- 5 The Lord is the portion of mine inheritance, and of my cup: thou shalt maintaine my lot.
- 6 The enemies are fallen vnto me in pleasant places: yea, I have a faire heritage.
- 7 I will praise the Lord, who hath giuen me counsell: my enemies also teache me in the nightes.
- 8 I haue let the Lord alwayes before me: for he is at my right hand: therefore I shall not slide.
- 9 Wherefore is mine heart is glad, and my tongue reioyceth: my flesh also doth rest in hope.
- 10 For thou wilt not leaue my soule in the graue: neither wilt thou suffer thine holie one to see corruption.
- 11 Thou wilt shew me the path of life: in thy presence is the fulnes of ioy: and at thy right hande there are pleasures for euermore.

PSAL. XVII.

- 1 Here he complaineth to God of the cruel pride and arrogancie of Saul, and the rest of his enemies, who thus ragged without any cause giuen on his part. 6 Therefore he desireth God to reuenge his innocencie, and deliuer him.

¶ The prayer of David.

- 1 Heare O the right, O Lord, consider my cry: hearken vnto my prayer of lippes vntained.
- 2 Let my sentence come forth from thy presence, and let thine eyes beholde equite.
- 3 Thou hast proued and bisted mine heart in the night: thou hast tried me, & foundest nothing: for I was purposed that my mouth should not offend.
- 4 Concerning the wordes of men, by the wordes of thine lippes I kept me from the paths of the cruel man.
- 5 Stay my steps in thy paths, that my feete do not slide.
- 6 I haue called vpon thee: surely thou wilt heare me, O God: mine thine care to me, and hearken vnto my wordes.

- 7 Shew thy maruelous mercies, thou that art the Sauour of them that trust in thee, from such as reuolt thy right hande.
- 8 Keepe me as the apple of the eye: hide me vnder the shadow of thy wings,
- 9 From the wicked that oppresse me, from mine enemies, which compass me round about for my soule.
- 10 They are inclosed in their owne fatte, & they haue spoken proudly with their mouth.
- 11 They haue compassed vs now in our steps: they haue set their eyes to bring downe to the ground:
- 12 Like as a ypon that is greedie of pray, and as it were a lions whelpe lurking in secret places.
- 13 O Lord, disappoint him: cast him downe: deliuer my soule from the wicked with thy sword.
- 14 From men by thine hande, O Lord, from men of the world, who haue their portion in this life, whose bellies thou fillest with thine good treasure: their children haue enoughe, & leaue the rest of their substance for their children.
- 15 But I will beholde thy face in righteousnes, and when I awake, I shall be satisfied with thine image.

PSAL. XVIII.

- 1 This Psalme is the first beginning of his gratulation, and thankesgiuing in the entering into his kingdome, wherein he extollet and praiseth most highly the maruelous mercies and grace of God, who hath thus preferred and defended him, 32 Also hee setteth forth the image of Christes kingdome, that the faithfull may be assured that Christ shall alwayes conquer and overcome by the vnspokeable power of his Father, though all the whole world should strive thereagainst.

PSAL. XXIII.

1 Because the Prophet had proued the great mercies of God at diuers tymes, and in ſundry maners, he gathereth a certayne aſſurance, fully perſuading himſelfe that God will continue the very ſame goodnes towards him for ever.

A Psalm of Dauid.

1 The Lord is my shepheard, & I ſhal not want.
 2 He maketh me to reſt in greene paſture, and leadeth me by the ſil waters.
 3 He beſtoreth my ſoule, and leadeth me in the c paths of righteousnes for his Names ſake.
 4 Yea, though I ſhould walke through the valley of the ſhadow of death, I will feare no euil: for thou art with me: thy rod and thy ſtaffe, they comfort me.
 5 Thou doeſt prepare a table before me in the ſight of mine aduerſaries: thou doeſt f anount mine head with oyle, & my cup runneth ouer.
 6 Doubtles kindnes, and mercy ſhal follow me all the dayes of my life, and I ſhal remaine a long ſeaſon in D houſe of the Lord.

e Albeit his enemies fought to deſtroy him, yet God deliuereth him, and dealeth moſt liberally with him in deſpite of them.
 f As was the maner of great feaſts.
 g He ſeareth not his felicitie in the pleaſures of this world, but in the feare & ſeruice of God.

PSAL. XXIII.

1 Albeit the Lord God hath made, and gouerneth all the world, yet towards his choſen people his gracious goodnes doth moſt abundantly appeare, in that among them he will haue his dwelling place. Which though it was appointed among the children of Abraham, yet onely they do enter aright into this Sanctuarie, which are the true worſhippers of God, purged from the full ſilth of this world.
 7 Finally, he magnifieth Gods grace for the building of the Temple, to the ende he might ſtirre up all the faithfull to the true ſeruice of Gods.

A Psalm of Dauid.

PSAL. XXVI.

I Dauid oppressed with many iniuries, finding no help in the world, calleth for aide from God: and assured of his integritie toward Saul, desireth god to be his iudge, and to defend his innocencie. 6 Finally he maketh mention of his sacrifice, which he will offer for his deliuerance, and desireth to be in the company of the saythfull in the Congregation of God, whence he was banished by Saul, promising integritie of life, and open prayes & thanksgiving.

PSAL. XXVII.

I Dauid maketh this Psalm being deliuered from great perils, as appeareth by the praises and thanksgiving annexed: 6 Wherein we may see the constant sayth of Dauid against the assaults of all his enemies, 7 And also the ende wherefore he desireth to liue and to be deliuered, onely to worship God in his Congregation.

A Psalm of Dauid.

I The Lord is my light and my sal-uation, whom shall I feare? the Lord is the strength of my life,
of whom shall I be afraid?
2 When the wicked, euen mine enemies and my foes came vpon me to eate my flesh, they stumbled and fell.
3 Though an host pitched agaynst me, mine heart should not be afraid: thogh warre be raised against me, I will trust in the Lord.
4 One thing haue I desired of the Lord, that I will require, euen that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the dayes of my life, to beholde the beautie of the Lord, and to visite his Temple.
5 For in the time of trouble he shall hide me in his Tabernacle: in the secret place of his paultion shall he hide me, & let me vpon a rocke.

PSAL. XXVIII.

I Being in great feare & heavines of heart ſo ſee God diſhonoured by the wicked, hee deſireth to be rid of them. 4 And cryeth for vengeance againſt them: & at length aſſureth himſelfe, that God hath heard his prayer. 9 Vnto whoſe ruiſion he commendeth all the faithfull.

A Pſalme of Dauid.

Vnto thee, O Lord, do I crye: O my ſtrength, he not drafe towards me, leſt, if thou anſwere mee not, I be like them: that go downe into the pit. 2 Heare the voyce of my petitions, when I cry vnto thee, when I holde vp mine hands toward thee O holy Maſtack. 3 Draw me not away with the wicked, & with the workers of iniquitie: which ſpeake friendſhip to their neyghbouts, when malice is in their hearts. 4 Reward the according to their deeds, and according to the wickednes of their inventions: recompence them after the work of their hands: render them their reward. 5 For they regard not the wordes of the Lord, nor the operation of his handes: therefore breake them downe, & build them not vp. 6 Praiſed be the Lord, for he hath heard the voyce of my petitions. 7 The Lord is my ſtrength and my ſhield: mine heart truſted in him, and I was helpe: therefore mine heart ſhal reioyce, and with my ſong wil I praiſe him. 8 The Lord is: & their ſtrength, and he is the ſtrength of the deliuerances of his anoynted.

9 Save thy people, and bleſſe thine inheritance: feede them alſo, and exalt them for ever.

PSAL. XXIX.

I The Prophet exhortheth the princes and rulers of the world, (which for the moſt part thinke there is no God) 3 At the leſt ſo feare him for the thunders & tempeſts, for feare whereof all creatures tremble. 11 And though thereby God threameth ſinners, yet is he alwaies mercifull to his, & moneth them thereby to praiſe his Name.

A Pſalme of Dauid.

Give vnto the Lord, ye ſonnes of the mightie: give vnto the Lord glorie and ſtrength. 2 Give vnto the Lord glorie due vnto his name: worſhippe the Lord in the glorious Sanctuary. 3 The voice of the Lord is vpon the waters: the Lord of gloyp maketh it to thunder: the Lord is vpon the great waters. 4 The voyce of the Lord is mightie: the voyce of the Lord is glorious. 5 The voyce of the Lord breaketh the cedars: yea, the Lord breaketh the cedars of Lebanon. 6 He maketh the alſo to leape like a calfe: Lebanon alſo and Shiron like a pong unicornie. 7 The voyce of the Lord deuideth the flaines of fire. 8 The voyce of the Lord maketh the wildernes to tremble: the Lord maketh the wildernes of Kadriſh to tremble. 9 The voice of the Lord maketh y handes to be calme, and diſcouereth the foreſts: therefore in his Temple doth euery man ſpeake of his glorie. 10 The Lord ſiteth vpon the flood, & the Lord doth remaine King for ever. 11 The Lord ſhall give ſtrength vnto his people: the Lord ſhall bleſſe his people with peace.

a He exhortheth y proud tyrants to humble them ſelues vnder Gods hand, and not to be inferiour to brute beaſts & dumme creatures. b The thunder clappes, that are heard out of the cloudes, ought to make the wicked to tremble for feare of Gods anger. c That is, the thunderbolt breaketh y moſt ſtrong trees, and ſhall men thinke their power to be able to reſiſt Gods? d Called alſo Hermon. e It cauſeth the lightninges to ſhoote & glide. f In places moſt defolate, whereas ſeemeth there is no preſence of God. g For feare maketh them to caſt their calues. h Maketh the trees bare, or perareth the moſt ſecret places. i Though the wicked are nothing moued with theſe ſignes, yet y faithfull praiſe God. k To moderate the rage of the tempeſt and waters, that they deſtroy not all.

PSAL. XXX.

I When Dauid was deliuered from great danger, he rendred thanks to God, exhorthing others to do the like, and to learne by his example, that God is rather mercifull then ſeuere and rigorous towards his children. 8 And alſo that the fall from proſperitie to aduerſitie is ſudden. 9 This done, he returneth to prayer, promiſing to praiſe God for ever.

A Pſalme or ſong of the dedication of the houſe of Dauid.

I Will magnifie thee, O Lord: for thou haſt exaltd me, and haſt not made my foes to reioyce ouer me. 2 O Lord my God, I cried vnto thee, and thou haſt reſtored me. 3 O Lord, thou haſt brought vp my ſoule o That is, in a place where they shall haue thy comfort, and be hid safely from y^h enemies pride.

PSAL. XXXI.

1 David deliuered from some great danger, first rehearseth what meditation hee had by the power of faith, when death was before his eyes, his enemy beeyng readie to take him. 15 Then he affirmeth that the fauour of God is alwayes readie to those that feare him. 20 Finally he exhorteth all the faithfull to trust in God and to loue him, because he preferueth & strengthneth them, as they may see by this example.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David.

1 I^h let mee neuer be confounded: deliuer me in thy^h righteousnes.
 2 Bowe downe thine eare to mee: make haste to deliuer me: be vnto me a strong rocke, & an house of defence to saue me.
 3 For thou art my rocke & my forte: therefore pray for thy^h Names sake direct me and guide me.
 4 Make me out of the^h nette, that they haue layd privacy for mee: for thou art my strength.
 5 Into thine^h hand I commended my spirit: for thou hast redeemed me, O Lord God of trutheth.
 6 I haue hated them that gite themselves to deceitfull vanities: for I^h trust in the Lord.
 7 I will be glad & reioyce in thy mercie: for thou hast sene my trouble: thou hast gotten y^h hand of y^h enemy, but halt let my feete at e^l large.

 9 Haue mercie vpon mee, O Lord: for I am in trouble: mine e^l eye, my soule & my bellie are continued with griefe.
 10 For my life is walled with brauices, & my peres with mourning: my strength fasteth for my paine, and my bones are continued.
 11 I was a reproch among all mine enemies, but specially among my neyghbours: & a feare to mine acquaintance, h who leeng me in the streete, fled from mee.
 12 I am forgotten, as a dead man out of minde: I am like a broken vessel.
 13 For I haue heard the rapping of great men: feare was on euery side, while they conspired together against me, and consulted to take my life.
 14 But I trusted in thee, O Lord: I said, Thou art my God.
 15 My^h tunes are in thine hande: deliuer me from the hand of mine enemies, and from them that persecute me.
 16 Make thy face to shine vpon thy seruant, & laue me through thy mercie.
 17 Let mee not be confounded, O Lord: for I haue called vpon thee: let the wicked be put to confusion, and m to silence in the graue.
 18 Let the lying lippes be made dumme, which cruelly, proudly and spitefully speake against the righteous.
 19 How great is thy goodnes, which thou^h hast laped by for them, that feare thee: and done to them, that trust in thee, euen before the somes of men!
 20 Thou doest hide them^o privacy in thy presence from the vyde of men: thou keepst them secretly in thy Tabernacle from the strife of tongues.
 21 Blessed be the Lord: for he hath shewed his marueilous kindnes toward me in a strong cite.
 22 Though I saped in mine haste, I am cast out of thy sight, yet thou heardest the voyce of my prayer, when I cryed vnto thee.
 23 Loue ye the Lord at his^h Saints: for the Lord preferueth the faithfull, & rewardeth abundantly the proude doer.
 24 All ye that trust in the Lord, be strong, and he shall establish your heart.
 p Meaning, there was no cite so strong to preferue him, as the defence of Gods fauour. q And so by my rashnes and infidelitie deserued to haue bene forsaken. r Or, ye that feele his mercies. r Be constant in your vocation, & God will confirme you with heauenly strength.

PSAL. XXXII.

1 David punished with grieuous sickness for his finnes, coõteeth them blessed, to whom God doeth not impute their transgressions. 5 And after that he had confessed his finnes and obtained pardon, he Exhorteth the wicked men to line godly, 11 And the good to reioyce.

r. Rom. 23. 14.
 P^{sal.} 71. 1.
 a For then God declareth himself iust, when he preferueth his according as he hath promised.
 b Preferue me from the craftie counsels & subtil practises of mine enemies.
 c He desireth God not only to take care for him in this life, but y^h his soule may be saued after this life.
 d This affection ought to be in all Gods children, to haue whatsoeuer thing is not grounded vpon a sure trust in God, as deceitfull and vaine.

a Concerning the free remission of finnes, which is the chiefest point of our faith.
 b To be iustified by faith, is to haue our finnes freely remitted, & to be reputed iust. Rom. 4. 6.
 c Betwene hope and despaire.
 d Neither by silence nor crying found I ease: signifying, that before the sinner be reconciled to God, he feeleth a perpetual torment.
 e He sheweth that as Gods mercy is the onely cause of forgiveness of finnes so the meanes thereof are repentance and confession, which procede of faith.
 f When necessitie causeth him to seeke to thee for help. Isa. 55. 6.
 g To wit, the waters & great dangers.
 h Dauid promisseth to make the rest of Gods children partakers of the benefits, which he felt, and that he will diligently looke and take care to direct the in the way of saluation. I If men can rule brute beasts, thinke they, that God will not bridle and tame their rage? k He sheweth that peace and ioy of conscience in the holy ghost is the fruite of faith.

A Psalm of Dauid to giue instruction.
 1 Blessed is he whose wickednesse is forgiven, & whose sinne is couered.
 2 Blessed is the man, vnto whom the Lord impureth not iniquitie, & in whose spirit there is no guile.
 3 When I held my tongue, my bones contained, or when I roared all the day,
 4 (For thine hand is heavy vpon me, day and night: and my moisture is turned into the drought of summer. Selah.)
 5 Then I acknowledged my sinne vnto thee, neither hid I mine iniquitie: for I thought, I will confesse against my self my wickednes vnto the Lord, and thou forgaiest the punishment of my sinne. Selah.
 6 Therefore shal every one, that is godly, make his prayer vnto thee in a time, when thou maest be found: surely in the founte of great waters they shall not come nere him.
 7 Thou art my secret place: thou preseruest me from trouble: thou compassedst me about with ioyfull deliuerance. Selah.
 8 I will instruct thee, and teach thee in the way, that thou shalt go, and I will guide thee with mine eye.
 9 We be not like an horse, or like a mule, which understand not: whose mouthes thou dost binde with bit and bitde, lest they come nere thee.
 10 How sorrowes shall come to the wicked: but he, that trusteth in the Lorde, mercy shall compass him.
 11 Be glad ye righteous, and reioyce in the Lord, and be ioyfull all ye, that are vpright in heart.

PSAL. XXXIII.

1 He exhortheth good men to prayse God for that he hath not only created all things and by his prouidence governeeth the same, but also is faithfull in his promises, to He vnderstandeth mans heart, & scattereth the counsell of the wicked, 16 So that no man can be preserued by any creature or mans strength: but they, that put their confidence in his mercy, shall be preserued from all aduersities.

1 Reioyce in the Lord, O ye righteous: for it becommeth vpright men to be thankfull.
 2 Praise the Lord with harpe: sing vnto him with viole and instrument of ten strings.

3 Sing vnto him a new song: sing cherefully with a loud voyce.
 4 For the worde of the Lord is righteous, and all his workes are faithful.
 5 He loveth righteousness and iudgement: the earth is full of the goodnes of the Lord.
 6 The worde of the Lord were the heauen made, and all the host of them by the breath of his mouth.
 7 He gathereth the waters of the sea together as vpon an heape, and lapeth by the depths in his treasures.
 8 Let all the earth feare the Lord: let all them that dwell in the world, feare him.
 9 For he spake, and it was done: he commanded, and it stood.
 10 The Lord breaketh the counsel of the heathen, and bringeth to nought the devices of the people.
 11 The counsel of the Lord shall stand forever, and the thoughtes of his heart throughout all ages.
 12 Blessed is that nation, whose God is the Lord: even the people, that he hath chosen for his inheritance.
 13 The Lord looketh downe from heauen, & beholdeth all the children of me.
 14 From the habitation of his dwelling he beholdeth all them, that dwell in the earth.
 15 He facioneth their heartes every one, and vnderstandeth all their workes.
 16 The King is not saued by the multitude of an hoste, neither is the mighty man deliuered by great strength.
 17 A horse is a vayne helpe, and shall not deliuer any by his great strength.
 18 Beholde, the eie of the Lorde is vpon them that feare him, and vpon the, that trust in his mercy.
 19 To deliuer their soules from death, & to preserue them in famine.
 20 Our soule waiteth for the Lord: for he is our helpe and our shield.
 21 Surely our heart shall reioyce in him, because we trusted in his help. Name.
 22 Let thy mercy, O Lorde, be vpon vs, as we trust in thee.

b To sing on instruments was a part of the ceremonial seruice of the Temple, which doeth no more appertaine vnto vs, then the sacrifices, censings and lights.
 c That is, counsel or continuance in governing the world.
 d That is, the effect and execution.
 e Howfoeuer the world iudgeth of Gods workes, yet he doth all things according to iustice and mercy.
 f By the creation of the heauen and beautiful ornament, with the gathering also of the waters he fettereth forth the power of God, that all creatures might feare him.
 g No counsel can f reuaile against God, but he defeateth it and it shall haue euil success.
 h He sheweth that all our felicitie standeth in this, that God is our God.
 i He proueth that all things are gouerned by Gods prouidence and not by fortune.

k Therefore he knoweth their wicked enterprises. l If Kings and the mighty of this world cannot be saued by worldly means, but only by Gods prouidence, what haue others to trust in, that haue not like meanes? m God sheweth that toward his mercy, which man by no meanes is able to compass. n Thus he speaketh in the name of the whole Church, which onely depend on Gods prouidence.

PSAL. XXXIII.

1 After Dauid had escaped Achish, according as it is written in the 1. Sam. 21. 11, whome in this title he calleth Abimelech (which was a generall name to all the Kings of the Philistines) he praifeth GOD for his deliuerance, 3 Prouoking all others by his example to trust in God, so feare and serue him: Ps. liii. 14 Who a It is the duetie of the godly to set forth the praises of God for his mercy and power shewed toward them, 14 Who defendeth the godly with his Angels, 15 And utterly destroyeth the wicked in their finnes.

¶ A Psalm of Dauid, when he changed his behauiour before Achimelech, who dyone him away, and he departed.

1 I Will ^a alway giue thanks vnto the Lord: his praise shall be in my mouth continually.

2 My soule shall glory in the Lord: the humble shall heare it, and be glad.

3 Praise ye the Lord with me, and let vs magnifie his Name together.

4 I sought the Lord, & he heard me: he deliuered me out of all my feare.

5 They shall looke vnto him, and runne to him: and their faces shall not be ashamed, saying,

6 This poore man cried, and the Lord heard him, and saued him out of all his troubles.

7 The Angel of the Lord pitcheth round about them, that feare him, and deliuereth them.

8 Take pe and see, how gracious the Lord is: blessed is the man that trusteth in him.

9 Feare the Lord, ye his Saintes: for nothing waiteth to them, but feare him.

10 The Lions do lacke and suffer hunger, but they, which seeke the Lord, shall want nothing that is good.

11 Come children, hearken vnto me: I wil teach you the feare of the Lord.

12 * What man is he, that desireth life, & loueth long dayes for to see good?

13 Keepe thy tongue from euil, & thy lips, that they speake no guile.

14 Eschew euil and do good: seeke peace & follow after it.

15 The eyes of the Lord are vpon the righteous, and his eares are open vnto their cry.

16 But the face of the Lord is against them that do euil, to cut of their remembrance from the earth.

17 The righteous cry, and the Lord heareth them, & deliuereth them out of all their troubles.

18 The Lord is neere vnto them that are of a contrite heart, and will saue such as are afflicted in spirit.

19 Great are the troubles of the righteous: but the Lord deliuereth him out of them all.

20 He keepeth all his bones: not one of them is broken.

21 But malice shall slay the wicked: & they that hate the righteous, shall perish.

22 The Lord redeemeth the soules of his seruantes: and none, that trust in him, shall perish.

PSAL. XXXV.

1 So long as Saul was enemy to Dauid, all that had any autoritie vnder him, to flatter their King (as is the cause of the world) did also most cruelly persecute Dauid: against whom he prayeth God to plead and to avenge his cause, & that they may be taken in their nettes and snares, which they laied for him, that his innocencie may be declared, 27 And that the innocent, which taketh part with him, may reioyce and praise the Name of the Lord, that thus deliuereth his seruant. 28 And so he promisseth to speake forth the iustice of the Lord, and to magnifie his Name all the dayes of his life.

¶ A Psalm of Dauid.

1 Plead thou my cause, O Lord, with them that strue with mee: fight thou against the, that fight against me.

2 Lay hand vpon the shield & buckler, and stand by for mine helpe.

3 Bring out also the speare and stop the way against me, that persecute me: lay vnto my soule, I am thy saluation.

4 Let the be confounded & put to shame, that seeke after my soule: let them be turned back and brought to confusion, that imagine mine hurt.

5 Let them be as chaffe before the wind, and let the Angell of the Lord scatter them.

6 Let their way be darke and slipperie: and let the Angel of the Lord persecute them.

7 For without cause they haue hid the pit and their net for me: without cause haue they digged a pit for my soule.

8 Let destruction come vpo him at vnwares, and let his net, that he hath laid principally, take him: let him fall into the same destruction.

9 Then my soule shall be ioyfull in the Lord: it shall reioyce in his saluation.

10 All my bones shall say, Lord, who is like vnto thee, which deliuerest the poore from him, that is strong for him: the poore, and him that is in misery, from him that spoileth him!

11 Cruel witnesses did rise by: they asked of me things that I knew not.

12 They rewarded me euill for good, to haue spoiled my soule.

13 Yet I, when they were sicke, I was clothed with a sacke: I humbled my soule with fasting: and my prayer was turned vpon my bosome.

14 I behaued my selfe as to my friend, or as to my brother: I humbled my selfe, mourning as one that bewapleth his mother.

15 soule & body. That would not suffer me to purge my self. I To haue taken from me all comfort, & brought me into despaire. I I prayed for them inwardly affected, as I would haue done for my selfe, I declared mine affection by bowing down mine head.

a He desireth God to vnder take his cause against them that did persecute him & slander him.

b Albeit God is with his breath destroy all his enemies, yet the holy Ghost attributeth vnto him these outward weapons to assure vs of his present power.

c Assure me against these tentations, that thou art the author of my saluation.

i Pet. 3. 10.

j Seeing all men naturally desire felicitie, he wondereth why they cast themselues willingly into miserie.

k The anger of God doth not onely destroy the wicked, but also abolisheth their name for euer.

l When they seeme to be swallowed vp with afflictions, then God is at hand to deliuer them.

m And as Christ saith, all the heares of his head. n Their wicked enterprises shall come to their owne destruction. o For when they seeme to be overcome with great dangers and death it selfe, when God sheweth himselfe their redeemer.

m When they sawe me ready to slip and as one that halted for infirmities.

r It is the iustice of God to giue to the oppressors affliction & torment, and to the oppressed aide and reliefe.

s. The. l. 6.

t Because we haue y, which we fought for, seeing he is destroyed.

u That is, at once, were they neuer so many or mightie.

v This prayer shall alwaies be verified against them, that persecute the faithfull.

x That at least fauour my right, though they be not able to helpe me.

y He exhorteth the Church to praise God for the deliuerance of his seruantes, & for the destruction of his aduersaries.

15 But in mine ^m aduersitie they reioyced, and gathered them selues together: the abiectes assemblen themselves against me, and I knewe not: they tare ⁿ me and ceased not.

16 With the falle cockers at ^o bankets, gnashing their teeth against me.

17 Lord, how long wilt thou beholde this: deliuer my soule from their tumult, euen my desolate soule from the lions.

18 So will I giue thee thanks in a great Congregation: I wil praise thee among much people.

19 Let not them that are mine enemies, trustly reioyce ouer me, neither let them ^p walke with the eye, that hate me without a cause.

20 For they speake not as friendes: but they vnagine deceitfull wordes against the ^q quiet of the land.

21 And they gaped on me with their mouths, saying, Aha, aha, ^r our eye hath seene.

22 Thou hast seene it, ^s O Lord: keepe not silence: be not farre from me, ^t O Loide.

23 Wile I wake to my iudgement, euen to my cause, ^u my God, and my Lord.

24 Iudge me, ^v O Lord my God, according to thy ^w rightousnes, and let them not reioyce ouer me.

25 Let them not lip in their hearts, ^x O my soule reioyce: neither let them lip, We haue deuoured him.

26 Let them be confounded, and put to shame ^y together, that reioyce at mine hurt: let them be clothed ^z with confusion and shame, that lift up their iudges against me.

27 But let them be ioyfull and glad, ^a that loue my rightousnes: yea, let them say alway, Let ^b y Lord be magnified, which loueth the prosperitie of his seruant.

28 And my tongue shall utter thy righteousnes, and thy praise euer y day.

2 For he ^b flattereth himselfe in his own eyes, while his iniquitie was found worthy to be hated.

3 The wordes of his mouth are iniquitie and ^c deceit: he hath left of to vnderstand and to doe good.

4 He ^d vnagineth mischief upon his bed: he setteth himselfe vpon a way, that is not good and doth not abhorre euill.

5 Thy ^e mercie, O Lord, reacheth vnto the heauens, and thy faithfullnesse vnto the cloudes.

6 Thy rightousnesse is like the ^f mightie mountaines: thy iudgements are like a great ^g baye: thou, O Loide, doest fauour man and beast.

7 How excellent is thy mercie, O God! therefore the children of men trust vnder the shadow of thy wings.

8 They shall be satisfied with the fatnesse of thine house, and thou shalt giue them drinke out of the riuier of thy pleasures.

9 For with thee is the well of life, and in thy light shall we see light.

10 Extend thy louing kindnesse vnto the ^h that know thee, and thy rightousnesse vnto them that are vpright in heart.

PSAL. XXXVII.

1 This Psalme conuinceth exhortation and consolation for the weake that are grieved at the prosperitie of the wicked, and the affliction of the godly.

7 For howe prosperously soeuer the wicked do liue for y time, he doth affirme their felicitie to be vaine and transitorie, because they are not in the fauour of God, but in the end they are destroyed as his enemies.

11 And how miserably that the righteous seemeth to liue in the world, yet his end is peace, and he is in the fauour of God, he is deliuered from the wicked and preserved.

A Psalme of Dauid.

1 Feat not ^a thy selfe because of y wicked men, neither be enuious for the euill doers.

2 For they shall soone be ^b cut downe like grasse, & shall wither as y greene herbe.

3 ^c Trust thou in the Lord and doe good: dwell in the land, and thou shalt be fed assuredly.

4 And deliue thy selfe in the Lord, and he a He admonisheth vs neither to vexe ourselves for the prosperous estate of y wicked, neither to desire to be like them to make our state the better.

PSAL. XXXVI.

1 The Prophet grieuouly vexed by the wicked, doeth complaine of their malicious wickednesse.

6 Then he turneth to consider the unspeakable goodnes of God towards all creatures:

9 But specially towards his children, that by the faith thereof he may be comforted and assured of his deliuerance by this ordinarie course of Gods worke.

13 Who in the end destroyeth the wicked and sauenth the iust.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid, the seruant of the Loide.

and having complained of his enemies, with good courage he calleth for ayde and succour.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalm of Dauid.

a Though God deferred his help yet he patiently abode, till he was heard.
b He hath delivered me from most great dangers.
c That is, a special occasion to praye him for Gods benefites are so many occasions for vs to praise his Name.
d To followe their example, which he must needs do, that trusteth not only in the Lord.
e Dauid kind of Gods fauour to the contemplation of his prouidence ouer all, & confesseth that his counsels towards vs are farre aboue our capacities: we can not so much as tell the in order.
f Thou hast opened mine eares to vnderstand y spiritual meaning of the sacrifices: and here Dauid esteemeth the ceremonies of the Law nothing in respect of the spiritual seruice.
g When thou hadest opened mine eares and heart, I was ready to obey thee, that I was written in the booke of thine elect for this ende.
h In the Church assembled in the Sanctuarie. i Dauid here nombred three degrees of our saluation: Gods mercy, whereby he pitieth vs: his righteousnes, which significeth his continuall protection, and his truth, whereby appeareth his constant fauour, so that hereof proceedeth our saluation. k As touching y iudgement of the flesh, I was viterly destitute of all counsell: yet faith inwardly moued mine heart to pray. l He desireth that Gods mercy may contend for him against the rage of his enemies. m Let the same shame, and confusion light vpon them, which they intended to haue brought vpon me.

1 Waited patiently for the Lord, and he inclined vnto me, & heard my cry.
2 He brought me also out of the horrible pit, out of the mirie clay, and set my feete vpon the rocke, and ordered my goings.

3 And he hath put in my mouth a new song of praise vnto our God: many shall see it and feare, & shall trust in the Lord.
4 Blessed is the man that maketh his Lord his trust, & regardeth not the proude, nor such as turne aside to lyes.

5 O Lord my God, thou hast made thy wonderfull workes so many, that none can count in order to thee thy thoughts toward vs: I would declare, & speake of them; but they are more then I am able to expresse.

6 Sacrifice and offering thou diddest not desire: (for mine eares hast thou prepared) burnt offering and sinne offering hast thou not required.

7 Then saide I, Lo, I come: for in the rolle of the booke it is written of me.

8 I desired to doe thy good will, O my God: pea, thy Lawe is within mine heart.

9 I haue declared thy righteousnes in the great Congregation: loe, I will not reframe my lips: O Lord, thou knowest.

10 I haue not hid thy righteousnes within mine heart, but I haue declared thy truth and thy saluation: I haue not concealed thy mercie & thy truth from the great Congregation.

11 Withdraw not thou thy tender mercie from me, O Lord: let thy mercie and thy truth alway preferre me.

12 For innumerable troubles haue compassed mee: my sinnes haue taken such holde vpon mee, that I am not able to looke vp: yea, they are more in number then the heaues of mine head: therefore mine heart hath failed me.

13 Let it please thee, O Lord, to deliuer me: make haste, O Lord, to helpe me.

14 Let them be confounded and put to shame together, that seeke my soule to destroy it: let them be dzinen backward and put to rebuke, that desire mine hurt.

15 Let them be destroyed for a reward of their shame, which say vnto mee, Aha, aha.

16 Let all them, that seeke thee, reioyce and be glad in thee: and let them, that loue thy saluation, say alway, O The Lord be praised.

17 Though I be poore & needy, the Lord thinketh on mee: thou art mine helper and my deliuerer: my God, make no tarrying.

PSAL. XLI.

1 Dauid being grievously afflicted, blesteth them that pittie his case, & And complaineth of the reason of his owne friends and familiars, as came to passe in Iudas, Ioh. 13. 18. After he feeling the great mercies of God gently chastising him, and not suffering his enemies to triumph against him, 13 Giveth most heauy thankes vnto God.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalm
of Dauid.

1 Blessed is he that indudgeth wisely of the poore: the Lord shall deliuer him in the time of trouble.

2 The Lord will keepe him, and preferre him alme: he shall be blessed vpon the earth, and thou wilt not deliuer him vnto the will of his enemies.

3 The Lord will strengthen him vpon the bed of sorow: thou hast turned all his bed in his sicknesses.

4 Therefore I said, Lord haue mercie vpon me: heale my soule, for I haue sinned against thee.

5 Whine enemies speake euil of me, saying, When shall he dye, and his name perish?

6 And if he come to see mee, he speaketh euil, but his heart heareth inquirie within him, & when he cometh forth, he telleth it.

7 All they that hate me, whisper together against mee: euen against mee doe they imagine mine hurt.

8 Mischiefe is light vpon him, and he that speeth, shall no more rise.

9 Pea, my familiar friend, whome I trusted, which did eate of my breade, hath lifted vp the heele against me.

10 Therefore, O Lord, haue mercie vpon me, and raise me vp: so I shall rewarde them.

11 Why this I knowe that thou fauourest mee, because mine enemy doth not triumph against me.

12 And as for me, thou withholdest me in mine networie, and dost let me befoze thy face for euer.

13 Blessed be the Lord God of Israel world without end. So be it, euen so be it.

As the faithful alwayes praise God for his benefites: so the wicked mocke Gods children in their afflictions.

a Not condemning him as accursed, whome God doeth visit, knowing y there are diuers causes, why God layeth his hand vpon vs: yea, and afterward he restoreth vs.

b When for sorow & griefe of mind he casteth himselfe vpon his bed.

c Thou hast restored him in his sicke bed & sent him comfort.

d That is, curse me, and cannot haue their cruell hate quenched, but with my shamefull death.

e For pretending to comfort me, he conspireth my death in his heart, and braggeth thereof.

h Meaning, either in prosperie of life, or in y true feare of God against all tentations.

i Shewing me euident signes of thy fatherly prouidence. k By this reputation he stirreth vp the faithful to praise God.

I The Prophet grievously complaineth, that being lesed by his persecutors, he could not be present in the Congregation of Gods people, professing that although he was separated in body from them, yet his heart was thitherward affectioned. 7 And last of all he sheweth, that he was not so farre overcome with these sorowes & thoughtes, 8 But that he continually put his confidence in the Lord.

I To him that excelleth. A Psalm to give instruction, committed to the sonnes of Koiah.

A S the hart baweth for the rivers of water, so b panteth my soule after thee, O God.

2 My soule thirsteth for God, euen for the liuing God: when shall I come and appeare before the presence of God?

3 My teares haue bene my meate day and night, while they dayly say vnto me, Where is thy God?

4 When I remembered these things, I poured out my verie heart, because I had gone with the multitude, and ledde them into the House of God with the voyce of singing, and praise, as a multitude that keepeth a feast.

5 Why art thou cast downe, my soule, and banquet within me? e Waite on God: for I will per give him thanks for the helpe of his presence.

6 My God, my soule is cast downe within me, f because I remember thee, from the land of Jordan, and Hermonim, and from the mount Mizar.

7 One e deepe calletth another deepe by the noyle of thy water spoures: all thy waues and thy floodes are gone ouer me.

8 The Lord b wil graunt his louing kindness in the day, and in the night shall I sing of him, euen a praier vnto the God of my life.

9 I will say vnto God, which is my rocke, Why hast thou forgotten me: why goe I mourning, when the enemy oppels seth me?

10 My bones are cut asunder, while mine enemies reproch me, saying daily vnto me, Where is thy God?

11 Why art thou cast downe, my soule? and why art thou diquetered within me? waite on God: for I will per give him thanks: he is my present helpe, and my God.

a As a treasure to be kept of the, which were of the number of the Leuites.

b By these similitudes of thirst and panting he sheweth his feruent desire to serue God in his Temple.

c As others take pleasure in eating and drinking, so he was altogether grieued to weeping.

d That is, how I led the people to serue thee in thy Tabernacle, and nowe seeing my contrarie estate, I die for sorowe.

e Though he sustained grievous assaults of the flesh to cast him into despaire, yet his faith grounded on Gods accustomed mercies, getteth the victorie.

f That is, when I remember thee in this land of my banishment among the mountains.

g Afflictions came to thicke vpon me, that I felt my selfe as ouerwhelmed: whereby he sheweth there is no end of our miserie, till God be pacified, and send remedie. h He assureth himselfe of Gods helpe in time to come. i That is, I am most grievously tormented. k This repetition doth declare that Dauid did not overcome at once: to teache vs to be constant for as much as God will certainly deliuer his.

I He praieeth to be deliuered from them which conspire against him, that he might ioyfully praise God in his holy Congregation.

I Wadge me, O God, and defend my cause against the vniuersall people: deliuer me from the deceitfull and wicked man.

2 For thou art the God of my strength: why hast thou put me away? why goe I so mourning, when the enemy oppels me?

3 Send thy light & thy truth: let them leade me: let them bring me vnto thine holy Mountaine & to thy Tabernacles.

4 Then will I goe vnto the altar of God, euen vnto the God of my ioy and gladnesse: and vpon the harpe will I give thanks vnto thee, O God, my God.

5 Why art thou cast downe, my soule? and why art thou diquetered within me? Waite on God: for I will per give him thanks, he is my present helpe, and my God.

6 Whereby he admonisheth the liuerance. c Whereby he admonisheth the faithfull not to relent, but constantly to waite on the Lorde, though their troubles be long and great.

I The faithfull remember the great mercie of God toward his people. 9 After, they complain, because they seele it no more.

17 Also they alledge the covenant made with Abraham, for the keeping whereof they shewe what grievous things they suffered. 23 Finally they pray vnto God not to conteme their afflictions, seeing the same redoundeth to the contempt of his honour.

I To him that excelleth. A Psalm to give instruction, committed to the sonnes of Koiah.

W E haue heard with our eares, O God: our fathers haue tolde vs the workes, that thou hast done in their dayes, in h old time:

2 How thou hast diuen out the heathen with thine hand, and plantest e them: howe thou hast destroyed the people, and caused e them to growe.

3 For they inherited not l lande by their own sword, neither did they their own arme saue them: but thy right hand, & thine arme and the light of thy countenance, because thou didest f fauour them.

4 Thou art my King, O God: send helpe vnto e Jaakob.

5 Though they haue we thrust backe our aduersaries: by thy name haue we troden downe them that rose vp against vs.

6 For I doe not trust in my bow, neither can I sword saue me.

7 But thou hast saued vs from our aduersaries, and hast put them to confusion that hate vs.

8 Therefore will we praise God continually, and will confesse thy name forever. Selah.

Deut. 4. 37. Because thou art our King, therefore deliuer thy people from their miserie. h Because they and their forefathers made both one Church, they apply that to themselves, which before they did attribute to their fathers.

1 As they confessed before, that their strength came of God, so now they acknowledge that this affliction came by his iudgement.

^{10r}, at their pleasure.

Rom. 8. 34.

k Knowing God to be autor of this calamitie, they murmure not, but seeke remedie at his hands, who woulded them.

l As flaues which are solde for a lowe price, neither lookest thou for him y^e offrech most, but takest the first chapman.

m I dare not lift vp mine head for shame.

n Meaning, the proud and cruell tyrant.

o They boast not of their vertues, but declare that they rest vpon God in the middles of their afflictions: who punished not now their finnes, but by hard afflictions called them to the consideration of the heavenly ioyes.

^{10r}, whales meaning the bottomles seas of tentations. here we see the power of faith, which can be overcome by no perill.

p They shewe that they honoured God aright because they trusted in him alone.

q They take God to witness that they were vpright to himward.

r The faithfull make this their comfort, that the wicked punish them not for their finnes, but for Gods sake, Mat. 5. 10. 1. Pet. 4. 14.

s There is no hope of recouerie, except thou put to thine hand and raise vs vp.

t Which is the onely and sufficient ransom to deliuer both body and soule from all kinde of slauerie and miserie.

9 But now thou art farre of, and putttest vs to confusion, & goest not forth with our armies.

10 Thou makest vs to turne backe from the aduancie, and they which hate vs, spoile¹⁰ for themselves.

11 Thou gnest vs¹¹ as sheepe to be eaten, and dost scatter vs among the nations.

12 Thou sellest thy people without game, and dost not increase their price.

13 Thou makest vs a reproche to our neighbours, a rest and a laughing stocke to them that are round about vs.

14 Thou makest vs a prouerbe among the nations, and a nodding of the head among the people.

15 Thy confusion is daily before me, and the shame of my face hath covered me.

16 For the voyce of the slanderer and rebuker, for the enemy and auenger.

17 All this is come vpon vs, yet doe we not forget thee, neither deale we falsly concerning thy covenant.

18 Our heart is not turned backe: neither our steps gone out of thy paths.

19 Albeit thou hast smitten vs downe into the place of dragons, and covered vs with the thadowe of death.

20 If we haue forgotten y^e name of our God, and holden vp our hands to a strange God, 21 Shall not God searche this out? for he knoweth the secreters of the heart.

22 Surely for thy sake²² are we blame continually, and are counted as sheepe for the slaughter.

23 By why sleepest thou, O Lord? awake, be not farre of for euer.

24 Wherefore hidest thou thy face? and forgettest our miserie & our affliction?

25 For our soule is beaten downe vnto the dust: our belie cleaueth vnto the ground.

26 Rise vp for our succour, and redeeme vs for thy mercies sake.

PSAL. XLV.

1 The maiestie of Salomon, his honour, strength, beautie, riches and power are praised, and also his marriage with the Egyptian being an heathen woman is blessed, 10 If that she can renouance her people and the loue of her countrey, and giue her selfe wholly to her husband. M The heart will utter forth a good matter: I will intreace in my workes of the King: my tongue is as the penne of a living writer.

2 Thou art fairer then the children of men: grace is pouered in thy lippes, because God hath blessed thee for euer.

3 Gird thy sword by in thy thigh, & most mightie, to wit, thy worship & thy glory.

4 And prosper with thy glory: & ride vpon the worde of truth and of meekenes and of righteoulnesse: so thy right hand shall teache thee terrible things.

5 Thy arrows are sharpe to perce the heart of the langes enemies: therefore the people shall fall vnder thee.

6 Thy throne, O God, is for euer and euer: the scepter of thy kingdome is a scepter of righteoulnesse.

7 Thou louest righteoulnesse, and hatest wickednes, because God, euen thy God hath announced thee with the oyle of gladnes about thy fellows.

8 All thy garments smell of myrrhe and aloes, and cassia, when thou comest out of the pudie palaces, & where they haue made thee glad.

9 Kings daughters were among thine honorable wiues: vpon thy right hand did stand the Queene in a vesture of gold of Sphir.

10 Yearken, O daughter, and consider, and incline thine eare: forget also thine owne people and thy fathers house.

11 So shall the King haue pleasure in thy beautie: for he is thy Lord, and reuerence thou him.

12 And the daughter of Cyprus with the riches of the people shall doe homage before thy face with presents.

13 The Kinges daughter is all glorious within: her clothing is of byopied gold.

14 Shee shall be brought vnto the King in rayment of needle worke: the virgins that followe after her, and her companions shall be brought vnto thee.

15 With ioye and gladnesse shall they be brought, and shall enter into the Kings palace.

16 In stead of thy fathers shall thy children be: thou shalt make them princes through all the earth.

17 I will make thy name to be remembered through all generations: therefore shall the people giue thanks vnto thee world without end.

b Of that perfect loue that ought to be betwene the husband and the wife.

c Salomons beautie & eloquence to winne fauour with his people, & his power to ouercome his enemies is here described.

d He alludeth to them that ride in chariots in their triumphes, shewing that the quiet state of a kingdom standeth in truch, meekenes & iustice, not in worldly pompe and vanitie.

e Vnder this figure of this Kingdome of iustice is set forth the euerlasting Kingdome of Christ.

g In the which palace y^e people made thee ioyfull to see them giue thanks and reioyce for thee.

h Though he had many kinges daughters among his wiues, yet he loued Pharaohs daughter best.

i Vnder the figure of Pharaohs daughter he sheweth that the church must cast of all carnal affections to obey Christ only.

k He signifieth y^e diuers of them that be riche, shall be benefactors to the Church, albeit they giue not perfect obedience to the Gospel.

¹⁰. 2. cor. 1 There is nothing fained, nor hypocriticall, but she is glorious both within and without: and howbeit the Church hath not at all times this outward glory, the fault is to be imputed only to their own ingratitude.

PSAL. LI.

I When David was rebuked by the Prophet Nathan, for his great offences, he did not only acknowledge the same to God with protestation of his naturall corruption & iniquitie, but also left a memoriall thereof to his posteritie. 7 Therefore first he desireth God to forgive his finnes, 10 And so renue in him his holy Spirit, 13 With promises that he will not be unmindefull of those great graces. 18 Finally, fearing lest God woulde punish the whole Church for his faulte, he requireth that he woulde rather increase his graces towards the same.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm of David, when the Prophet Nathan came unto him, after he had gone in to Bath-sheba.

Have mercy vpon me, O God, according to thy louing kinde: according to the multitude of thy compassions put away mine iniquities.
 2 Wash mee thoroughly from mine iniquitie, and cleanse me from my sinne.
 3 For I know mine iniquities, and my sinne is euer before me.
 4 Against thee, against thee only haue I sinned, and done euill in thy sight, that thou mayest be iust when thou speakest, and pure when thou iudgest.
 5 Behold, I was borne in iniquitie, & in sinne hath my mother conceiued me.
 6 Verily, I loueth truth in the inward conceits: therefore hast thou taught me wisdom in the secret of mine heart.
 7 Purge me with hyssop, and I shall be cleane: wash mee, and I shall be whiter then snowe.
 8 Make mee to heare, O Ioy and gladnes, that the bones, which thou hast broken, may reioyce.
 9 Hide thy face from my finnes, and put away all mine iniquities.
 10 Create in me a cleane heart, O God, and renue a right spirit within me.
 11 Cast me not away from thy presence, & take not thine holy Spirit from me.
 12 Restore to me the ioy of thy saluation, and stablish my heart with thy free Spirit.
 13 Then shall I teach thy waies vnto the wicked, and sinners shall be conuerted vnto thee.

PSAL. LXII.

This Psalme partly containeth meditations, whereby David encourageth himselfe to trust in God against the assaults of tentations. And because our mindes are easily drawn from God by the allurements of the worlde, he sharply reproveth this vanitie, to the intent hee myght cleave fast to the Lorde.

To the excellent musician * Jeduthun.

A Psalme of David.

YET my soule keepeth silence vnto God: of him cometh my saluation.
2 Pet he is my strength & my saluation, and my defence: therefore I shall not much be moued.
3 Howe long will ye imagine mischief as against a man: ye shall be all flappie: ye shall be as a bowed wall, or as a wall shaken.
4 Pet they consult to cast him downe from his dignitie: their delight is in lies, they blisse with their mouthes, but curse with their hearts. Selah.
5 Pet my soule keepe thou silence vnto God: for mine hope is in him.
6 Pet is he my strength, & my saluation, and my defence: therefore I shall not be moued.
7 In God is my saluation and my glory: the rocke of my strength: in God is my trust.
8 Trust in him alway, ye people: his powre out pour hearts before him, for God is our hope. Selah.
9 Pet the children of men are vanitie, the chiefe men are lyes: to lay them vpon a balance they are altogether lighter then vanitie.

10 Trust not in oppression nor in robbery: he not bayne: if riches increase, set not your heart thereon.

11 God spake once or twice, I haue heard it, that power belongeth vnto God, 12 And to thee, O Lorde, mercie: for thou shalt rewardest euery one according to his worke.

e. Chro. 16. 41.

a Though Satan tempted him to murmur against God, yet he bridled his affections, and resting vpon Gods promises, beareth his crosse patiently.
b It appeareth by the oft repetition of this word, that the prophet abode manifold tentations, but by resting on God and by patience he ouercame them
c He meaneth himselfe, being the man whome god had appointed to the kingdome.
d Though ye seeme to be in honour, yet God will suddenly destroy you.
e David was greatly moued with these troubles: therefore he stirreth vp himselfe to trust in God.
f These vehement and often repetition were necessarie to strengthen his faith against the horrible assaults of Satan.
g He admonisheth vs of our wicked nature, which rather hude our sorowe, and bite on the bridle, then vtter our griefe to God to obtaine remedie.
h Give your selues wholly to God by putting away all things that are contrary to his Lawe. I he hath playnly borne witness of his power, so that none needeth to doubt thereof.
k So that the wicked shall feele thy power, and the godly thy mercie.

PSAL. LXIII.

David after he had bene in great danger by Saul in the desert of Ziph, made this psalme, 3 Wherein he giueth thanks to God for his wonderfull deliuerance, in whose mercies he trusted, euen in the midst of his miseries, 9 Prophecying the destruction of Gods enemies: 11 And contrariwise happinesse to all them that trust in the Lorde.

A Psalme of David, When he was in the wilderness of Iudah.

O God, thou art my God, carely will I seeke thee: my soule b thirsteth for thee: my flesh longeth greatly after thee in a barren and drye land without water.
2 Thus I beholde thee as in the Sanctuary, when I beholde thy power and thy glorie.
3 For thy louing kindeesse is better then life: therefore my lippes shall praise thee.
4 Thus will I magnifie thee all my life, and lift vp mine hands in thy name.
5 My soule shall be satisfied, as with marrow and fatnesse, and my mouth shall praise thee with ioyfull lippes,
6 When I remember thee on my bed, & when I thinke vpon thee in the nyght watches.
7 Because thou hast bene mine helper, therefore vnder thy shadow of thy wings will I reioyce.
8 My soule c cleaueth vnto thee: for thy right hand vpholdeth me.
9 Therefore they that seeke my soule to destroue it, they shall go into the lowest parts of the earth.
10 They shall cast him downe with the edge of the sword, and they shall be a portion for foxes.
11 But the King shall reioyce in God, & all that swear by him shall reioyce in him: for the mouth of them that speake lyes, shall be stopped, whose bodies shall not be buried, but be deuoured with wyld beasts.
g All that swear by God aright, or professe him, shall reioyce in this worthie King.

a To wit, of Ziph, 1. Sam. 23. 14
b Though he was both hungry and in great distress, yet hee made God his sufficiency and aboute all meate and drinke.
c In this miserie I exercise my selfe in the contemplation of thy power and glory, as if I were in thy Sanctuary.
d The remembrance of thy fauour is more sweete vnto me then all the pleasures & deinties of the world.
e He assureth himselfe by the Spirit of God to haue the gift of constancie.
f He prophecieth of the destruction of Saul and them that take his part.
g All that swear by God aright, or professe him, shall reioyce in this worthie King.

d False reportes and slanders. e To be without feare of God & reuerence of man, is a signe of reprobation. f The more that the wicked see Gods children in miserie, y more bold and impudent are they in oppressing the. g There is no way to secret & subtil to do hurt, which they inuented not for his destruction. h To see Gods heavy iudgements against them, and how he hath caught them in their owne snares. i When they shall consider that he will be fauourable to them, as he was to his seruant Dauid.

PSAL. LXV.

1 A praise and thanksgiving vnto God by the faithfull, who are signified by Zion, 4 For the chusing, preservation and gouernance of them, 9 And for the plentiful blessing; poured forth vpon all the earth, but specially toward his Church.

To him that excelleth. A Psalm or song of Dauid.

1 O God, praise waiteth for thee in Zion, and vnto thee shall the bolue be performed. 2 Because thou hearest the prayer, vnto thee shall all b flesh come. 3 Wicked deedes haue prenapled, as gainst me: but thou wilt be merciful vnto our transgressions. 4 Blessed is he, whome thou chusest and causest to come to thee: he shall dwell in thy courtes, & we shall be satisfied with the pleasures of thine house, euen of thine holy Temple. 5 O God of our saluation, thou wilt answer vs in fearful signes in thy righteousnes. O thou the hope of all the endes of the earth, and of them that are farre of in the sea. 6 He establisheth the mountaynes by his power: and is girded about with strength. 7 He appeareth the hope of the seas & the noise of the waues thereof, and the tumults of the people. 8 They also, that dwell in the vbermost partes of the earth, shall be afraid of thy signes: thou shalt make the East and the West to reioyce. 9 Thou hast visited the earth, and watered it: thou makest it very rich: the bauer of God is full of water: thou piercest them come: for so thou appointest it. 10 Thou hast watered abundantly the furrows thereof: thou causest the rayne to descend into the valleys thereof: thou makest it soft with shoures, and blestest the bud thereof. 11 Thou crownest the peere with thy goodnes, and thy steps drop fatnes. 12 They drop vpon the pastures of b wilderness, and the hills shall be compassed with gladnes. 13 The pastures are clad with sheepe: the valleys also shall be covered with come: therefore they shoute for ioy, and sing, causeth all creatures to serue our needfull. dumme creatures shall not onely reioyce for benefites, but shall continually sing.

PSAL. LXVI.

1 He prouoketh all men to praise the Lord, and to consider his workes. 6 He sheweth forth the power of God to affray the rebels, 10 And sheweth how God hath deliuered Israel from great bondage and afflictions. 13 He promiseth to giue sacrifice, 16 And prouoketh all men to heare what God hath done for him & to praise his Name.

To him that excelleth. A song, or Psalm.

1 Reioyce in God, all ye inhabitants of the earth. 2 Sing forth b glory of his name: make his praise glorious. 3 Say vnto God, how terrible art thou in thy workes: through the greatnes of thy power shall thine enemies be b in subiection vnto thee. 4 All the world shall worship thee, and sing vnto thee, euen sing of thy Name. Selah. 5 Come & behold the workes of God: he is terrible in his doing toward the sonnes of men. 6 He hath turned the Sea into dry land: they passe through the riuer on foote: there did we reioyce in him. 7 He ruleth the world with his power: his eyes behold the nations: the rebellious shall not exalt themselves. Selah. 8 Praise our God, ye people, and make the voyce of his praise to be heard. 9 Which holdeth our soules in life, and suffreth not our feete to slip. 10 For thou, O God, hast proued vs, thou hast tried vs as siluer is tried.

a Thou guest daily new occasion to thy church to prayse thee. b Not onely the Iewes, but also Gentiles in the kingdom of Christ. c He imputeth to his finnes and to the finnes of the people, that God, who was accustomed to asist them, withdraweth his succour from them. d Thou wilt declare thy selfe to be the preseruer of thy Church in destroying thine enemies, as thou didst in the red Sea. e As of all barbarous nations and farre of. f He sheweth y there is no part nor creature in the world, which is not gouerned by Gods power and prouidence.

g The condition of the Church is here described, which is to be led by gods providee into troubles, to be subiect vnder tyrants, & to enter into manifold dangers.

h The duetie of the faithfull is here described, which are neuer vniuersall to render God praise for his benefites.

i It is not enough to haue receiued Gods benefites and to be mindfull thereof, but also we are bound to make others to profit thereby, & praise God. k If I deliue in wickednes, God wil not heare me: but if I confesse it, he wil receiue me.

11 Thou hast brought vs into the snare, and laid a trait chaine vpon our tonnes.

12 Thou hast caused me to ride ouer our heads: we went into fire and into water, but thou broughtest vs out into a wealthy place.

13 I wil go into thine house with burnt offerings, and wil pay thee my bowes, 14 Which my lippes haue promised, and my mouth hath spoken in mine affliction.

15 I will offer vnto thee burnt offerings of fat rammes with incense: I wil pise pare bullocks and goates, Selah.

16 Come and hearken, all ye that feare God, and I wil tel you what he hath done to my soule.

17 I called vnto him with my mouth, & he was created with my tongue.

18 If I regard wickednes in mine hart, the Lord wil not heare me.

19 But God hath heard me, and considered the voyce of my prayer.

20 Pleased be God, which hath not put backe my prayer, nor his mercy from me.

21 If I deliue in wickednes, & praise God, k If I deliue in wickednes, he wil receiue me.

PSAL. LXVII.

1 A prayer of the Church to obtaine the fauour of God and to be lightened with his countenance, 2 To the end that his way & iudgements may be knowne throughout the earth. 7 And finally is declared the Kingdom of God, which should be vniuersally erected at the coming of Christ.

To him that exchelety on Regimoth.

A Psalm or song.

1 God be merciful vnto vs, and blesse vs, & cause his face to shine among vs. Selah.

2 That he may keep health thy way vpon earth, and thy way leading health among all nations.

3 Let the people praise thee, O God: let all the people praise thee.

4 Let the people be glad and reioyce: for thou shalt iudge the people righteously, and governe the nations vpon the earth, Selah.

5 Let the people praise thee, O God: let all the people praise thee.

6 Then shall all the earth bring forth her increase, and God, euen our God shall blesse vs.

7 God shall blesse vs, and all the endes of the earth: shall feare him.

8 He sheweth that where God fauouret, there shall be abundance of all other things. e When they feele his great benefites both spirituall and corporall towards them.

PSAL. LXVIII.

1 In this Psalm David setteth forth as in a glasse the wonderfull mercies of God toward his people: 5 Who by all meanes & most strange sores declared himselfe to them. 15 And therefore Gods Church by reason of his promises, graces and victories doth excell without comparison all worldly things. 34 He exhorteth therefore all men to praise God for euer.

To him that exchelety on Regimoth.

1 God be scattered: they also that hate him, shall flee before him.

2 As the smoke vanissheth, so shall thou drive them away: and as ware melteth before the fire, so shall the wicked perish at the presence of God.

3 But the righteous shall be glad, and reioyce before God: yea, they shall leape for ioy.

4 Sing vnto God, and sing praise vnto his name: exalt him, that rideth vpon the heauens, in his Name: Jah, & reioyce before him.

5 He is a father of the fatherles, and a Judge of the widowes, euen God in his holy habitation.

4 They that hate me without a cause, are moe then the heares of mine head: they that would destroy me, and are mine enemies, are mightie, so that I restored that which I tooke not.

5 O God, thou knowest my foolishnes, and my fautes are not hid from thee.

6 Let not them that trust in thee, O Lord God of hostes, be ashamed for me: let not those that seeke thee, be confounded through me, O God of Israel.

7 For thy sake haue I suffred reproose: shame hath couerd my face.

8 I am become a stranger vnto my brethren, euen an aliene vnto my mother's finnes.

9 For the zeale of thine house hath eaten me, and the rebukes of them that rebuked thee, are fallen vpon me.

c No simitie or stableness to fetter my feete.

d Though his senses failed him, yet his faith was constant & encouraged him still to pray.

e Condemning me guiltles.

f They iudged me poore innocent as a thiefe, and gaue my goods to others as though I had stolen them.

g Though I be guiltie to thee-ward, yet am I innocent toward them.

h Let not mine euill intreatie of the enemies be an occasion, that the pride of the mightie may be destroyed, which accus'd to garnish their shoes with silver: and therefore for thy glittering pompe thought themselves aboue all men. b He prophesieth that the Gentiles shall come to the true knowledge and worship of God. c By his terrible thunders he will make him selfe to be knowne the God of all the world.

the faithfull fall from thee. i When I sawe thine enemies pretend thy Name onely in mouth, and in their life denie the same, thine holy Spirit thrust me forward, to reprove them and defend thy glory. k My zeale moued me to liment and pray for my saluation. l The more he sought to winne them to God, the more they were against him both poore and rich.

in Knowing that albeit I suffer now trouble, yet thou hast a time wherein thou hast appointed my deliuerance. n He diuerveth a liuely faith, in that that he assureth himselfe, that God is favorable to him, whie he seemeth to be angry: & at hand, when he seemeth to be faire of. p Not that he feared that God would not heare him, but that care, made him to thinke that God deferred long. q Thou seest that I am beset as a sheepe among manie wolues. q He is weth that it is in vaine to put our trust in men in our great necessities, but that our comfort onely dependeth of God: for man rather increaseth our sorowes, then diminisheth them, Ioh. 19. 29. r He desireth God to execute his iudgements against the reprobate, which cannot by any meanes be turned, Rom 11. 9 f Take boch iudgement and power for them. s Punish not onely them, but their posteritie, which shall be like vnto them. u By their continuance and increasing in their finnes let it be knowne that they be of the reprobate. x They which seemed by their profession to haue bene written in thy booke, yet by their finnes proue the contrary, let them be knowne as reprobate. y There is no sacrifice, which God more esteemeth, then thanksgiving for his benefites. z For as he deliuered his seruant David, so will he doe all that are in distress, and call vpon him, in an acceptable time, even in the multitude of thy mercie: O God, heare me in the truth of thy saluation. 14 Deliuere me out of the nyghe, that I thinke not: let me be deliuered from them that hate me, and out of the deepe waters. 15 Let not the water flood diuine me, neither let the deepe swallowe me by: and let not the pit that her mouth vpon me. 16 Heare me, O Lord, for thy louing kinde- nesse is good: turne vnto me according to the multitude of thy tender mercies. 17 And O hide not thy face from thy seru- ant, for I am in trouble: make haste and heare me. 18 Draw nere vnto my soule and redeme it: deliuer me because of mine enemies. 19 Thou hast knowen my reproofe and my shame, and my dishonour: all mine aduersaries are before thee. 20 Rebuke hath broken mine heart, and I am full of heauinesse, and y I looked for some to haue pittie on me, but there was none: and for comforters, but I found none. 21 For they gaue me gall in my meate, and in my thirst they gaue me vineger to drinke. 22 Let their prosperitie be a snare before them, and in their prosperitie their ruine. 23 Let their eyes be blinded that they see not: and make their loynes alway to tremble. 24 Bowe out thine anger vpon them, and let thy wrathfull displeasure take them. 25 Let their habitation be voide, and let none dwell in their tents. 26 For they persecute him, whom thou hast smitten: and they adde vnto the sorow of them, whom thou hast wound- ed. 27 Lay iniquitie vpon their iniquitie, and let them not come into thy righteous- nesse. 28 Let them be put out of the booke of life, neither let them be written with the righteous. 29 When I am poore and in beautinesse, thine helpe, O God, shall exalt me. 30 I will praise the name of God with a song, and magnifie him with thankes- giving. 31 This also shall please the Lords better then a yong bullock, that hath hoynes and hooves. 32 The humble shall see this, and they that seeke God, shall be glad, and your heart shall lue. 33 For the Lord heareth the poore, and displeaseth not his prisoners. 34 Let heauen and earth praise him: the seas and all that moueth in them.

35 For God will saue Zion, and build the cities of Iudah, that men may dwell there and haue it in possession. 36 The seede also of his seruants shall inherite it: & they that loue his name, shall dwell therein.

O God, make haste to deliuer me: make haste to helpe me, O Lord. 2 Let them be confounded and put to shame, that seeke my soule: let them be turned backward and put to rebuke, that deliue mine hurt. 3 Let them be turned backe for a reward of their shame, which said, Aha, aha. 4 But let all those that seeke thee, be ioyfull and glad in thee, and let all that loue thy saluation, say alwayes, God be praised. 5 Now I am poore & needie: O God, make haste to me: thou art mine helpe, and my deliuerer: O Lord, make no taryng. he the nearer to his deliuerance. d Hereby we are taught not to mocke at others in their miserie, least the same fall on our owne neckes. e Because he had felt Gods helpe before, he groundeth on experience and boldly seeketh vnto him for succour.

1 He praeth in faith, established by word of the promes, 9 And confirmed by the worke of God from his youth. 10 He complaineth of the crueltie of his enemies, 17 And desireth God to continue his graces toward him, 22 Promising to be mindfull and thankefull for the same.

In the Lord, O Lord, I trust: let me neither be ashamed. 2 Rescue me and deliuer me in thy righteousnes: incline thine eare vnto me and saue me. 3 Be thou my strong rocke, wherunto I may alway resort: thou hast giuen commandment to saue me: for thou art my rocke, and my fortresse. 4 Deliuere me, O my God, out of the hand of the wicked: out of the hand of the euill and cruel man. 5 For thou art mine hope, O Lord God, euen my trust from my mouth. 6 Vpon thee haue I bene feared from the wombe: thou art he that tooke me out of my mothers bowels: my praise shall be alwayes of thee.

a Vnder the ten- porall promes of the land of Canaan he compre- hendeth the promes of life ener- lasting to the faithfull and their posteritie. a Which might put him in remembrance of his deliuerance. b He reacheth vs to be earnest in praier, though God seeme to stay: for at his time he will heare vs. c He was assured that more they raged, the nearer they were to destruction, & he the nearer to his deliuerance. d Hereby we are taught not to mocke at others in their miserie, least the same fall on our owne neckes. e Because he had felt Gods helpe before, he groundeth on experience and boldly seeketh vnto him for succour. d That is, from Absalom, Ahithophel and that conspiracie. e He strengtheneth his faith by the experience of Gods benefites, who did not onely preserue him in his mothers belly, but tooke him thence, and euer since hath preferred him.

f All the worlde wondereth at me because of my miseries, as wel they in autoritie, as y common people, yet being assured of thy fauour I remained stedfast
7 I am become as it were a monster unto many: but thou art my sure trust.
8 Let my mouth be filled with thy praise, and with thy glorie euery day.
9 Cast me not out in the time of age: for sake me not when my strength faileth.
10 For mine enemies speake of mee, and they that lape waite for my soule, take their counsel together, 11 Saying, God hath forsaken him: pursue and take him: for there is none to deliuer him.
12 God is not farre from mee, O God: I my God, haue thee to helpe me, 13 Let them be confounded and consumed that are against my soule: let them be couered with reproose and confusion, that seeke mine hurt.
14 But I wil waite continually, and wil praise thee more and more.
15 My mouth shall daiey rehearse thy righteousness, and thy saluation: for I know not the number.
16 I will go forward in þ strength of the Lord God, and will make mention of thy righteousness, euen of thine onely.
17 O God, thou hast taught me from my pouth euen vntill now: therefore will I tell of thy wonderous workes, 18 My head, euen vnto mine olde age & graue head, O God: forsake mee not, vntill I haue declared thine arme vnto this generation, & thy power to all them, that shall come.
19 And thy righteousness, O God, I will exalte on high: for thou hast done great things: O God, who is like vnto thee!
20 Which hath shewed me great troubles and p aduersities, but thou wilt returne and reuue mee, and wilt come againe, and take mee vp from the depth of the earth.
21 Thou wilt increase mine honour, and returne and comfort me.
22 Therefore will I praise thee for thy faithfulness, O God, vpon instrument and viol: vnto thee wil I sing vpon the harpe, O Voice one of Israel.
23 My lips wil reioyce when I sing vnto thee, and my soule, which thou hast deliuered.
24 My tongue also shal talke of thy righteousness daily: for they are confounded and brought vnto shame, that seeke mine hurt.
25 His faith breakeeth through all tentations, and by this exclamation hee prayeth the power of God.
26 As he confesseth that God is the onely autour of his deliuerance: so he acknowledgeth that these euils were sent vnto him by Gods prouidence.
27 He confesseth, that his long tariance was well recompensed, when God performed his promises.
28 For there is no true praising of God, except it come from the heart: & therefore he promisseth to deliue in nothing, but wherein God may be glorified.

1 True thy iudgements to the King, O God, & thy righteousness to the Kings: Ironic.
2 Then shall he iudge thy people in righteousness, and thy poore with equitie.
3 The mountains and the hills shall bring peace to the people by iustice.
4 He shall iudge the poore of the people: he shall saue the children of the needie, and shall subdue the oppressor.
5 They shall feare thee as long as the sunne and moone endureth, from generation to generation.
6 Hee shall come s downe like the rayne vpon the molten grasse, and as the showres that water the earth.
7 In his daies shall the righteous flourish, and abundance of peace shalbe so long as the moone endureth.
8 His dominion shalbe also from sea to sea, and from the Riner vnto the Indies of the land.
9 They that dwel in the wilderness, shall kneele before him, and his enemies shall like the dust.
10 The Kings of Tarshish & of the Isles shal bring presents: the Kings of Sheba and Seba shal bring giftes.
11 Pea, all Kings shall worship him: all Nations shall serue him.
12 For he shall deliuer the poore when he crepeth: the needie also, & him that hath no helper.
13 He shalbe mercifull to the poore and needie, and shall preferue the soules of the poore.
14 He shall rederme their soules from detre and violence, and I deare shall their blood be in his sight.
15 Pea, he shall liue, & vnto him shall they giue of the godde of Sheba: they shall also pray for him continually, and daiey blesse him.
16 An handfull of come shall be sowne in the earth, euen in the tope of þ mountains, and the fruite thereof shall shake like the trees of Lebanon: and the children shall flourish out of the citie like the grasse of the earth.
17 His name shall be for euer: his name shall indure as long as the sunne: all Nations shall blesse him, and be blessed in him.

PSAL. LXXIII.

1 The Prophet teacheth by his example that neither the worldly prosperitie of the vngodly, 14 Nor yet the affliction of the good ought to discourage Gods children: but rather ought to moue vs to consider our Fathers providence, and to cause vs to reuerence Gods iudgements, 19 Forasmuch as the wicked vanish away, 24 And the godly enter into life euermlasting, 28 In hope whereof hee resigneth himselfe into Gods hands.

A Psalm committed to Asaph.

YET God is good to Israel: euen, to the pure in heart.

2 As for me, my feete were almost gone: my steps had welnere slipt.

3 For I feared at the foolish, when I saw the prosperitie of the wicked.

4 For there are bands in their death, but they are lustie and strong.

5 They are not in trouble as other men, neither are they plagued by other men.

6 Therefore pride is as a chayne vnto them, & crucitie couereth them as a garment.

7 Their eyes stand out for fatnes: they haue more then heart can wish.

8 They are licentious, & speake wickedly of their oppression: they talke presumptuously.

9 They curse for their mouth against heauen, and their tongue walketh through the earth.

10 Therefore his people turne hither: for waters of a full cup are wyng out to them.

11 And they say, How doth God know it? or is there knowledge in the most High.

12 Lo, these are the wicked, yet prosper they alway, and increase in riches.

13 Certainely I haue cleuded mine heart in vaine, and washed mine handes in innocencie.

14 For daily haue I bene punished, and chastened euermorning.

15 If I say, I will iudge thus, behold the generation of thy children: I haue reckoned.

16 Not onely the reprobate, but also the people of God offenses fall backe, seeing the prosperous estate of the wicked, and are overwhelmed with sorowes, thinking that God considereth not aright the state of the godly.

f Thus the flesh moueth euen the godly to dispute with God touching their poore estate & the prosperitie of the wicked, g If I giue place to this wicked thought, I offend against thy providence, seeing thou disposest all things most wisely, and preservest thy children in their greatest dangers.

16 Then thought I to know this, but it was to painfull for me.

17 Vntill I went into the Sanctuary of God: then vnderstoode I thy end.

18 Surely thou hast set them in slippery places, and callest them downe into desolation.

19 How suddenly are they destroyed, perished and horribly consumed, 20 As a dreame when one awaketh: & lo, he is like a vaine breath, when thou raisest vs by, thou shalt make their image desipt.

21 Certainely mine heart was vexed, and I was piched in my reines:

22 So foolish was I and ignozant: I was as a beast before thee.

23 Yet I was alway with thee: thou hast holden me by my right hand.

24 Thou wilt guide mee by thy counsell, and afterward receive me to glorie.

25 Whome haue I in heauen but thee? and I haue desired none in the earth with thee.

26 My flesh faileth and mine heart also: but God is the strength of mine heart, and my portion for euer.

27 For lo, they that will dilate themselves from thee, shall perish: thou destroyest all them that are vboying from thee.

28 As for me, it is good for me to distrust to God: therefore I haue put my trust in the Lord God, that I may declare all thy workes.

PSAL LXXVIII.

1 He sheweth howe God of his mercie chose his Church of the posteritie of Abraham, 8 Reproching the stubburne rebellion of their fathers, that the children might not only understand, 11 That God of his free mercie made his covenant with their ancestors, 17 But also seeing them so malicious and peruerse, might be a shamed and so turne wholly to God. In this Psalme the holy Ghost hath comprehended, as it were, the summe of all Gods benefites, so the ignorant and grosse people might see in fewe wordes the effect of the whole histories of the Bible.

A Psalme to giue instruction, committed to Asaph.
 1 Heare my doctrine, O my people: incline your eares vnto the wordes of my mouth.
 2 I will open my mouth in a parable: I will declare high sentences of olde.
 3 Which we haue heard and knowen, and our fathers haue told vs.
 4 We will not hide them from their children, but to the generation to come we will shewe the praises of the Loide, his power also, and his wonderful workes that he hath done:
 5 Howe he establi shed a testimonie in Jaakob, and ordned a Law in Israel, which he commanded our fathers, that they should teach their children:
 6 That the posteritie might knowe it, and the children, which should be borne, should stand by, and declare it to their children:
 7 That they might let their hope on God, and not forget the workes of God but keepe his commandements:

 d By the testimonie and lawe, he meaneth the lawe written, which they were commanded to teach their children; Deut. 6. 7.

e He sheweth wherein the children should be like their fathers, that is, in maintaining Gods pure religion. f He sheweth wherein the vse of this doctrine standeth: in faith, in the meditation of Gods benefites and in obedience.

g Though these fathers were the seed of Abraham & the chosen people, yet he sheweth by their rebellion, pronouciō, falsehood, and hypocrisie, that the children ought not to followe their exam- ples.

h By Ephraim he meaneth also the rest of the tribes, because they were most in number whose punishment declarath that they were vnfaithfull to God, & by their multitude and auidorie had corrupt all others.

1 Cor. 10. 40.
1 K. 17. 4.

k Their wicked malice could be overcome by no benefites, which were great and many.

l Then to require more then is necessary, and to separate Gods power from his wil, is to tempt God.

Nomb. 11. 7.
m Thus when we give place to sinne, we are moued to doubt of Gods power, except hee will alwayes be readie to serue our lust.

n That is, in his Fatherly prouidence, whereby hee careth for his and prouideth insufficiently. o So that they had that, which was necessarie and sufficient: but their lust made them to couet that which they knew God had denied them Iohn 6. 11. 1 cor. 10. 3. p God viwed the meanes of the winde to teache them, that all elements were at his commandement, and that no distance of place could let his working,

8 And not to be as their fathers, a disobedient and rebellious generation: a generation þ set not their heart aright, and whose spirit was not faithful vnto God.

9 The children of Ephraim being armed and shooting with the bowe, turned backe in the day of battel.

10 They kept not the covenant of God, but refused to walke in his lawe, 11 And forgate his statutes, & his wonders full workes that he had shewed them.

12 He did maruicous things in the light of their fathers in the land of Egypt: euen in the field of Zoan.

13 He deuided the Sea, and led them through: hee made also the waters to stand as an heape.

14 In þ day time also he led them with a cloud, and all the night with a light of fire.

15 He clane the rocks in the wilderness, and gaue them drinke as of the great depths.

16 He brought floods also out of the stony rocke, so that he made the waters to descend like the riuers.

17 Yet they sinned still against him, and prouoked the Highest in the wilderness, 18 And tempted God in their heartes in requiring meate for their lust.

19 They spake against God also, saying, Can God prepare a table in the wilderness?

20 Beholde, he smote the rocks, that the water gusheth out, and the streames overflowed: can he giue bread also? or prepare flesh for his people?

21 Therfore the Lord heard and was angry, & the fire was kindled in Jaakob, and also wrath came vpon Israel.

22 Because they beleued not in God, & trusted not in his helpe.

23 Yet he had commanded the cloudes aboue, and had opened the doores of heauen, 24 And had rained downe MAN vpon them for to eate, and had giuen them of the wheat of heauen.

25 Man did eate the bread of Angels: he sent them meate enough.

26 He caused the Eastwinde to passe in the heauen, and through his power he brought in the Southwinde, 27 He rained flesh also vpon them as dust, and feathered soule as the sande of the sea.

28 And hee made it fall in the middes of their campe, euen round about their habitations.

29 So they did eate and were well filled: for he gaue them their desire.

30 They were not turned fro their lust, & the meate was set in their monthes, 31 When the wrath of God came euen vpon them, and slew the strongest of them, & smote downe the chosen men in Israel.

32 For all this, they sinned still, and beleued not his wonderous workes.

33 Therfore their dayes did he consume in vanitie, and their yeres haltp.

34 And when he slew them, they sought him and they returned, & sought God earlie.

35 And they remembered that God was their strenght, and the most high God their redeemer.

36 But they flattered him with their mouth, and dissembled with him with their tongue.

37 For their heart was not bywight with him: neither were they faithfull in his covenant.

38 Yet he being mercifull forgave their iniquitie, and destroyed them not, but oft times called backe his anger, & did not stirre by all his wrath.

39 For he remebied that they were fleshy: yea, a winde that passeth and cometh not againe.

40 How oft did they prouoke him in the wilderness: & grieue him in the desert?

41 Yea, they returned, & tempted God, and tempted the Holy one of Israel.

42 They remembered not his haide, nor the day when he deliuered them from the enemye,

43 Nor him that set his signes in Egypt, and his wonders in the fielde of Zoan, 44 And turned their riuers into blood, & their floods, that they could not drinke.

45 Hee sent þ a swarme of flies among them, which deuoured them, & frogs, which destroyed them.

46 He gaue also their fruits into the caterpillar, & their labour vnto the grasshopper.

47 He destroyed their vines with haile, and their wilde figge trees with the halesstone.

48 He gaue their cattell also to the haile, and their flockes to the thunderboltes.

49 Yee cast vpon them the fiercenes of his anger, indignation and wrath, and beuation by the sending out of cull Angels.

50 He made a way to his anger: he spared not their soule from death, but gaue their life to the pestilence.

51 And smote all the first borne in Egypt, euen the beginning of their strenght

g Such is the nature of concupiscence, that y more it lusteth, the more it hath. r Though other were not spared, yet chiefly they sufficed, which trusted in their strength against God.

s Thus sinne by continuance maketh men insensible, so that by no plagues they can be amended. t Such was their hypocrisie, that they sought vnto God for feare of punishment, though in their heart they loued him not.

u Whatsoeuer cometh not from the pure fountaine of the heart, is hypocrisie.

x Because he would cuer haue some remnant of a Church to praise his Name in earth, he suffered not their finnes to overcome his mercie.

y That is, they tempted him oft times.

z As they all do that measure the power of God by their capacitie.

a The forgetfulness of Gods benefites is the roote of rebellion and all vice.

b This worde signifieth a confused mixture of flies and venomous wormes.

Some take it for all sorts of serpents: some for all wilde beasts. c He repeateth not here all the miracles that God did in Egypt, but certain which might be sufficient to conuince the people of malice and ingratitude. d So called, either of the effect: that is, of punishing the wicked, or els because they were wicked spirits, whom God permitted to vex men. e The first borne are so called, as Genesis 49. 3.

f That is, Egypt: for it was called Mizraim or Egypt of Mizraim, that was the sonne of Ham.

g That is, they had none occasion to feare, for as much as God destroyed their enemies and deliuered them safely.

h Meaning Canaan, which God had consecrate to himselfe, and appointed to his people.

10^{vs. 6. and 19. 6}

i Nothing more displeaseth God in the children, then when they continue in that wickednes, which their fathers had begun. k By feruing God otherwise then he had appointed.

l For their ingratitude he suffered the Philistims to take the Arke, which was the signe of his presence, from among them. m The Arke is called his power and beautie, because thereby he defended his people, and beautifully appeared vnto them.

n They were suddenly destroyed, 1. Sam. 4. 10

n They had no marriage songs: that is, they were not married.

p Either they were slaine before, or taken prisoners of their enemies, and so were forbidden. q Because they were drunken in their finnes, they iudged Gods pience to be a slumbering, as though he were drunken: therefore he auersing their beastly iudgement, saith, he will awake and take sudden vengeance. r Shewing that he feared not altogether the Israelites, though he punished their enemies. s By building the Temple and establishing the Kingdome, he declareth that the signes of his fauour were among them. t He sheweth wherein a Kings charge standeth to wit, to prouide faithfully for his people, to guide them by counsell, and defend them by power.

in the tabernacles of Ham.

52 But he made his people to go out like sheepe, and led them in the wilderness like a flocke.

53 Hea, he caried them out safely, & they feared not, and the Sea covered their enemies.

54 And he brought them vnto the borders of his Sanctuarie: eue to this Mountaine, which his right hande purchased.

55 Hee cast out the heathen also before them, and caused them to fall to the lot of his inheritance, and made the tribes of Israel to dwell in their tabernacles.

56 Per they tempted, and prouoked the most high God, and kept not his testimonties, 57 But turned backe and delt falsely like their fathers: they turned like a decurt full bowe.

58 And they prouoked him to anger with their high places, and moued him to wrath with their grauen images.

59 God heard this and was wroth, and greatly abhorred Israel.

60 So that he forooke the habitation of Shilo, euen the Tabernacle where hee dwelt among men, 61 And deliuered his power into captiuitie, and his beautie into the enemies hande.

62 And he gaue by his people to the sword, and was angrie with his inheritance.

63 The fire deuoured their cholen men, and their maides were not spared.

64 Their Widewes fell by the sword, and their Widewes lamented not.

65 But the Loyde awaked as one out of sleepe, and as a strong man that after his wme crieth out, 66 And smote his enemies in the hinder partes, and put them to a perpetual shame.

67 Per he refused the tabernacle of Joseph, & chose not the tribe of Ephraim:

68 But chose the tribe of Judah, & mount Zion which he loued.

69 And hee built his Sanctuarie as an high palace, like the earth, which hee has blisshed for euer.

70 Hee chose Dauid also his seruant, and took him from the sheepefoldes, 71 Euen from behind sheeps with pong brought he him to feede his people in Iakob, and his inheritance in Israel.

72 So he fed them according to the simplicitie of his heart, and guided them by the discretion of his hands.

PSAL. LXXIX.

1 The Israelites complaine to God for the great calamitie and oppression that they suffered by Gods enemies, 8 And confessing their finnes, flee to Gods mercies with full hope of deliuerance, 10 Because their calamities were ioyned with the contempns of his Name, 13 For the which they promise to be thankfull.

A Psalm committed to David.

1 O God, the heathen are come into thine inheritance: thine holy Temple haue they defiled, and made Ierusalem heapes of stones.

2 The dead bodies of thy seruants haue they giuen to be meate vnto foules of the heauen: and the flesh of thy Saintes vnto the beastes of the earth.

3 Their blood haue they shed like waters round about Ierusalem, and there was none to burie them.

4 We are a reproch to our neighbours, euen a scoffe & derision vnto them: that are round about vs.

5 Lord, how long wilt thou be angrie, for euer? shall thy gelousie burne like fire?

6 Dove out thy wrath vpon the heathen that haue not knownen thee, and vpon the kingdomes that haue not called vpon thy Name.

7 For they haue deuoured Iakob and made his dwelling place desolate.

8 Remember not against vs the former iniquities, but s make haste and let thy tender mercies preuaile vs: for we are in great miserie.

9 Helpe vs, O God of our saluation, for the glorie of thy Name, and deliuer vs, and be mercifull vnto our finnes for thy Names sake.

10 Wherefore should the heathen say, Where is their God? let him be known among the heathen in our sight by the vengeance of the blood of thy seruants: that is shed.

11 Let the slaying of the prisoners come before thee: according to thy mightie arme preserue the children of death, 12 And render to our neighbours seven fold into their bosome their reproche, wherewith they haue reproched thee, O Lord.

13 So we thy people, and sheepe of thy pasture shall praise thee for euer: & from generation to generation we will set forth thy praik.

a The people grie vnto God against the barbarous tyrannie of the Babylonians, who spoyled Gods inheritance, polluted his Temple, destroyed his religion, and murdered his people.

b The Prophet sheweth to what extremities God suffreth sometimes his Church to fall, to exercise their faith before he set to his hand to deliuer them.

c Their friends and kinsfolkes durst not burie them for feare of the enemies.

d Wherof some came of Abraham, but were degenerate: & others were open enemies to thy religion, but they both laughed at our miseries.

¶ To him that excelleth on Shohausim Educh, A Psalm committed to Asaph.

Hear, O thou Shepherde of Israel, thou that ledest Joseph like a shepe: I shewe thy brightnes, thou that sittest betwene the Cherubims.

2 Besoee Ephraim and Benjamin and Manasse streue by thy strength, and come to helpe vs.

3 Turne vs againe, O God, & cause thy face to shine to vs, that we may be saued.

4 O Lord God of hostes, howe long wilt thou bee angry against the prayer of thy people?

5 Thou hast fed them with the bread of reares, and giuen them teares to drinke with great measure.

6 Thou hast made vs a strife vnto our neighbours, and our enemies laugh at vs among themselves.

7 Turne vs againe, O God of hostes: cause thy face to shine, and wee shall be saued.

8 Thou hast brought a vine out of Egypt: thou hast cast out the heathen, & planted it.

9 Thou madest rounne for it, and diddest cause it to take roote, and it filled the lande.

10 The mountains were covered with the shadow of it, & the boughes thereof were like the goodly cedars.

11 She stretched out her braches vnto the Sea, & her boughes vnto the River.

12 Why hast thou then broken downe her hedges, so that all they, which passe by the way, haue plucked her?

13 The wilde boze out of the wood hath destroyed it, and the wilde beasts of the field haue eaten it vp.

14 Returne we beseeche thee, O God of hostes: looke downe from heauen and behold and visite this vine,

15 And the vineyard, that thy right hand hath planted, and the pong vine, which thou madest strong for thy selfe.

16 It is burnt with fire & cut downe: and they perish at the rebuke of thy countenance.

17 Let thine hande be vpon the man of thy right hande, and vpon the some of man, whom thou madest strong for thy owne selfe.

18 So wil not we goe backe from thee: reuine thou vs, and we shall call vpon thy name.

19 Turne vs agayne, O Lord God of hostes: cause thy face to shine and wee shall be saued.

8 Heare, O my people, and I will protest vnto thee: O Israel, if thou wylt hearken vnto me, 9 Let there bee no strange god in thee, neyther worshippe thou any strange god.

10 For I am the Lord thy God, which brought thee out of the lande of Egypt: open thy mouth wide and I will fill it.

11 But my people would not heare my voyce, and Israel would none of me.

PSAL. LXXXIII.

1 The people of Israel pray vnto the Lorde to deliuer them from their enemies both at home & farre of which imagined nothing but their destruction. 9 And they desire that all such wicked people may, according as God was accustomed, be stricken with the stormy tempest of Gods wrath, 18 That they may know that the Lord is most high vpon the earth.

¶ A long or Plalme of * Heman the Ezrahite to giue instruction, committed to the sonnes of Iozab for him that ex-celleth vpon Malath & Amnoth.

1 O Lord God of my saluation, I cry day and night before thee.
2 Let my prayer enter into thy presence: incline thine eare vnto my cry.
3 For my soule is filled with euils, and my life draweth nere to the graue.
4 I am counted among them that goe downe vnto the pitte, and am as a man without strength:
5 I lie among the dead, like the flayne lyfing in the graue, whom thou rememberest no more, and they are cut of from theine hand.
6 Thou hast laid me in the lowest pit, in darkenes, and in the deepe.
7 Thine indignation lynch vpon me, & c
For he that is thou hast vexed me with all thy waues, Delah.
8 Thou hast put away mine acquaintance farre from me, and made me to be abhorred of them: I am shut vp, and was cannot get forth.
9 Mine eie is sorrowfull through mine affliction: Lord, I call daily vnto thee: I stretch out mine hands vnto thee.
10 Wilt thou shew i a miracle to dead?
or shall the dead rise and praise thee?
Delah.
11 Shall thy louing kindenes be declared in the graue? or thy faithfulness in destruction?
12 Shall thy wonderous workes bee known in the darke? and thy rightesdousnes in the land of obliuion?
13 But vnto thee haue I cryed, O Lord, and early shall my prayer come before
thee.
14 Lord, why dost thou reiect my soule, and hidest thy face from me?
15 I am afflicted & at the point of death:
from my mouth I suffer thy terrours, doubting of my life.
16 Thine indignations go ouer me, & thy feare hath cut me of.
17 They came round about me daily like water, and compassed me together.
18 My louers and friends hast thou put away from me, and mine acquaintance hid themselves.
19 Mine eyes and face declare my sorrows. i He sheweth that the time is more conuenient for God to helpe, when men call vnto him in their dangers, then to tary till they be dead & then raise them vp again. k That is, in the graue, where onely the body lieth without all sense & remembrance. l I am euer in great dangers & sorrows, as though my life should vterly be cut of euery moment. ² Ebr. were in darkenes.

plaine of the great ruine, & desolation of the kingdome of Dauid, so that to the ou-wards appeare the promises broken.

¶ A Psalm to giue instruction, of Ethan the Ezrahite.

I Will sing the mercies of y^e Lord for euer:
with my mouth will I declare thy truth from generation to generation.
2 For I haue sayde, Mercie shall be set vp for euer: thy truth shall thou establish in the very heauens.
3 I haue made a covenant with my chosen:
I haue swoyne to Dauid my seruant,
4 Thy seede will I stablish for euer, & set vp thy throne from generation to generation. Selah.
5 O Lord, euen the heauens shall praise thy wonderous waye: yea, thy truth in the Congregation of the Saints.
6 For who is equal to the Lord in the heauen? and who is like the Lord among thee the sonnes of the gods?
7 God is very terrible in the assembly of the Saints, & to be reuerenced aboue all, that are about him.
8 O Lord God of holies, who is like vnto thee, which art a mightie Lord, and thy truth is about thee?
9 Thou rulest the raging of the sea: when the waues thereof arise, thou stillest them.
10 Thou hast beaten downe Rahab as a man slayne: thou hast scattered thine enemies with thy mightie arme.
11 The heauens are thine, the earth also is thine: thou hast layed the foundation of the worlde, and all that therein is.
12 Thou hast created the North and the South: Tabor & Hermon shall reioyce in thy Name.
13 Thou hast a mightie arme: strong is thyne hand, & high is thy right hand.
14 Righteousnes and equitie are the stablishment of thy throne: mercie & truthy go before thy face.
15 Blessed is the people, that can reioyce in thee: they shall walke in the light of thy countenance, O Lord.

dare set him selfe against God? i For as he deliuered y^e Church by the red Sea, and by destroying Rahab, that is, the Egyptians: so will hee effoone deliuer it, when the dangers be great. k Tabor is a mountaine Westward from Ierusalem, & Hermon Eastward:
so the Prophet signifieth that all parts and places of the worlde shall obey Gods power for the deliuerance of his Church. l For hereby he iudgeth the world, & sheweth himselfe a mercifull Father & faithfull protector vnto his. m Feeling in their conscience that God is their father. n They shalbe preferred by thy Fatherly prouidence.

exalted.

layed helpe vpon one that is mightie:
I haue exalted one chosen out of the people.
20 I haue found Dauid my seruant: with mine holp ople haue I anointed him.
21 Therefore mine hand shall be established with him, and mine arme shall strengthen him.
22 The enimie shal not oppresse him, neither shal the wicked hurt him.
23 But I will bestrop his foes before his face, and plague them that hate him.
24 Thy truth also and my mercie shall be with him, and in my Name shall his horne be exalted.
25 I will set his hand also in the sea, and his right hand in the floods.
26 He shall cry vnto mee, Thou art my Father, my God and the rocke of my saluation.
27 Who I will make him my first borne, higher then the Kings of the earth.
28 My mercie will I keepe for him for euermore, and my covenant shall stande fast with him.
29 His seede also will I make to endure for euer, and his throne as the dayes of heauen.
30 But if his children forsake my Law, and walk: not in my iudgements:
31 If they breake my statutes, and keepe not my commandements:
32 Then will I visite their transgression with the rodde, and their iniquitie with strokes.
33 Yet my louing kindenesse will I not take from him, neither wil I falsifie my truthy.
34 My covenant will I not breake, nor alter the thing that is gone out of my lippes.
35 I haue swoyne once by mine holinesse, that I wil not falspe Dauid, saying, 36 His seede shal endure for euer, and his throne shalbe as the sunne before me.
37 He shall be established for euermore as the moone, and as a faithfull witness in the heauen. Selah.

40 Thou hast broke down all his wallles: thou hast laid his fortresses in ruine.

41 All that go by the way, spople him: he is a rebuke vnto his neighbours.

42 Thou hast let up the right hand of his enemies, and made all his aduersaries to reioyce.

43 Thou hast also turned the edge of his sword, and hast not made him to stande in the batell.

44 Thou hast caused his dignitie to decay, and cast his throne to the ground.

45 The daies of his i youth hast thou shortened, & couered him with shame, Selah.

46 e Loyde, howe long wilt thou hyde thy selfe, for euer? shal thy wrath burne like fire?

47 Remember h of what time I am: wherefore thoudest thou create in vaine all the children of men?

48 What man lyueth, and shall not see death: shal he deliuer his soule from the hand of the graue? Selah.

49 Loyde, where are thy former mercies, which thou swarest vnto Dauid in thy trueth?

50 Remember, d Loyde, the rebuke of thy seruantes, which I beare in my bosome of all the mightie people.

51 ffoi k thine enemies haue reproched thee, d Loyde, because they haue reproched the l footsteps of thine Anointed.

PSAL. XCII.

1 This Psalme was made to be sung on the Sabbath, to stirre up the people to acknowledge God and to praise him in his workes: the Prophete reioyceth therein.

6 But the wicked is not able to consider that the vngodly, when he is most flourishing, shall most speedily perish. 12 In the ende is described the felicitie of the iust, planned in the house of God to praise the Lord.

1 A Psalme or song for the Sabbath day.

1 It is a good thing to praise the Lorde, and to sing vnto thy Name, ^a most high,

2 To declare thy louing kindnes in the morning, and thy truth in the night,

3 vpon an instrument of ten stringes, and vpon the viole with the song vpon the harpe.

4 For thou, ^b Lord, hast made me glad by thy workes, and I will reioyce in the c These instruments were then permitted, but at Christes coming abolished. d He sheweth what is the vse of the Sabbath day: to wit, to meditate Gods workes.

PSAL. XCIIII.

1 He prayeth vnto God against the violence and arrogancie of tyrants, 10 Warning them of Gods iudgements. 12 Then doth he comfort the afflicted by the good issue of their afflictions, as he felt in himselfe, and did see in others, as by the ruine of the wicked, 23 Whom the Lord will destroy.

a Whose office it is to take vengeance on the wicked.
 b Shew by effect y thou art Judge of the world to punish the wicked.
 c That is, brag of their crueltie & oppression: or esteeme themselves above all other.
 d Seeing the Church was the so f. re oppressed it ought not to seeme strange to vs, if we see it so now, & therefore we must call to God to take our cause in had.
 e He sheweth y they are desperate in malice, for as much as they feared not God, but gave themselves wholly to do wickedly.
 f He sheweth, that it is impossible, but God should heare, see and understand their wickednes.
 g If God punish whole nations for their finnes, it is meere folly for any one man, or els a fewe to thinke that God will spare them.
 h God hath care ouer his & chastiseth them for their welth, that they should not perish for euer w the wicked.
 i God will restore the state and gouernement of things to their right vs, & then the godly shall follow him cherefully.
 k He complaineth of them, which would not help him to resist the enemies: yet was assured that Gods helpe would not faile.
 l When I thought there was no way but death.
 m In my trouble & distresse I euer found thy present helpe.
 n Though the wicked iudges pretend iustice in oppressing the church, yet they haue not that autoritie of God.
 o It is a great token of Gods iudgement, when the purpose of the wicked is broken, but most when they are destroyed in their owne malice.

1 O Lord God * the auenger, & God the auenger, shew thy selfe b clerely.
2 Exalt thy selfe, & Judge of the world, and render a reward to the proude.
3 Lord, how long shall the wicked, how long shall the wicked triumph?
4 They prate & speake fiercely: all the workers of iniquity vaunt themselves.
5 They d smite downe thy people, & Lord, and trouble thine heritage.
6 They slay the widow & the stranger, and murder the fatherlesse.
7 Yet they say, The lord shall not see: neither wil the God of Jaakob regard it.
8 Understand ye vnwise among p people: and ye fooles, when wil ye be wise?
9 He that p planted the eare, shall he not heare: or he that sowed the eye, shall he not see?
10 Whi he that chastiseth the snations, shall he not correct? he that teacheth man knowledge, shall he not know?
11 The Lord knoweth the thoughtes of man, that they are vanitie.
12 Blessed is the man, whom thou b chastisest, O Lord, and teachest him in thy Law, 13 That thou mayest giue him rest from the dayes of euil, whiles the pit is digged for the wicked.
14 Surely the Lord will not faile his people, neyther will he forsake his inheritance.
15 For i indgement shall returne to iustice, and all the bypight in heart shall follow after it.
16 Who will rise vp with me agaynst the wicked? or who will take my part against the workers of iniquitie?
17 If the Lord had not k holpen me, my soule had almost dwelt in silence.
18 When I said, I w p foote slideth, thy mercy, O Lord, stayed me.
19 In the multitude of my thoughts in mine heart, thy comforts haue reioyced my soule.
20 Hath the throne of iniquitie a fellowship with thee, which forgetteth wrong for a Law?
21 They gather them together against th soule of the righteous, and condemne the innocent bloud.
22 But the Lord is my refuge, & my God is the rocke of mine hope.
23 And he will recompence them their wickednes, and o destroy them in their owne malice: yea, the Lord our God shall destroy them.

PSAL. XCV.

An earnest exhortation to praise God

4 For the gouernement of the world, and the election of his Church. 8 An admonition not to follow the rebellion of the old fathers, that tempted God in the wilderness: 11 For the which they might not enter into the land of promise.
1 Come, let vs reioyce vnto the Lord: let vs sing: & loude vnto the rocke of our saluation.
2 Let vs come before his face with psalme: let vs bring loud vnto him with Psalmes.
3 For the Lord is a great God, & a great King about all b gods.
4 In whose hand are the deepe places of the earth, and the heights of p mountains are his:
5 To whom the Sea belongeth: for he made it, and his handes sowed the dyelane.
6 Come, let vs worship and fall downe, & kneele before the Lord our maker.
7 For he is our God, & we are p people of his pasture, & the sheepe of his hand: to day, if ye wil heare his voyce,
8 I Garden not your heart, as in Meribah, and as in the day of Massah in the wilderness.
9 Where your fathers * tempted me, proued me, though they had seene my woike.
10 For ioure peres haue I contended with this generation, and sayd, They are a people that erre in heart, for they haue not known my wayes.
11 Wherefore I ware in my wrath, saying, Surely they shall not enter into my b rest.
 He sheweth wherein they are Gods flocke: that is, if they heare his voyce. f By the contemning of Gods worde. *Or, in strifes whereof the place was so called. *Or, tentation, read Exod. 17. 7. Exod. 17. 2. num. 14. 22. g They were without iudgement and reason. h That is into the land of Canaan, where he promised them rest.
 PSAL. XCVI.
1 An exhortation both to the Iewes and Gentiles to praise God for his mercy. And this specially ought to be referred to the kingdom of Christ.
1 Sing vnto the Lord a new song: sing vnto the Lord, all the earth.
2 Sing vnto the Lord, and psalme his praise: declare his saluation from day to day.
3 Declare his glory among all nations, and his wonders among all people.
4 For the Lord is b great and much to be praised: he is to be feared aboute all gods.
5 For all the gods of the people are v: idols: but the Lord made the heauens.
6 Strength & glory are before him: power & beautie are in his Sanctuarie.
7 Giue vnto the Lord, ye families of the people: giue vnto the Lord glory contrary to their owne imaginations, and only as he hath appointed. Or, vanities, c Then the Idoles, or whatsoever made not the heauens, are not God. d God cannot be known, but by his strength and glory: the signes whereof appeare in his Sanctuarie.
 a He sheweth that Gods seruice shall dethe not in dead ceremonies, but chiefly in y sacrifice of praise & thanksgiving.
 b Euen the Angels (who in respect of men are thought as gods) are nothing in his sight: much lesse the idols, which mans braine inuentech.
 c All things are governed by his providence.
 d By these three wordes he signifieth one thing: meaning, that they must wholly giue themselves to serue God.
 e That is, the flocke whom he gouerneth with his owne hand.

a He sheweth that Gods seruice shall dethe not in dead ceremonies, but chiefly in y sacrifice of praise & thanksgiving.

 e That is, the flocke whom he gouerneth with his owne hand.

and

e As by experience ye see that it is only due vnto him.
 f By offering vp your selues wholy vnto God, declare if you worship him onely.
 g He prophesieth that the Gentiles shalbe partakers with the Iewes of Gods promes.
 h He shall regenerate them anewe with his Spirit, and restore them to the image of God.
 i If the insensible creatures shall haue cause to reioyce, when God appeareth, much more we, from whom he hath taken malediction and sinne.

a He sheweth where God reigneth, there is all felicitie and spirittuall ioye.
 b For the Gospell shall not be onely preached in Iudea, but throough all yles and countreys.
 c He is thus described to keepe his enemies in feare, which commonly contemne Gods power.
 d This feare bringeth not only wicked to true obedience, but maketh them to run away from God.
 e He signifieth Gods iudgements are in a readines to destroy the idolaters.
 f Let all that which is effected in this world, fall downe before him, g The Iewes shall haue occasion to reioyce that the Gentiles are made partakers with them of Gods fauour, h He requieth two things of his children: the one that they desirest vnc, the other, that they put their trust in God for their deliuerance. i Though Gods deliuerance appeare not suddenly, yet it is sowne and laid vp in store for them, k Be mindfull of his benefites and onely trust in his defence.

and e power.
 8 Come vnto the Lord the glorie of his Name: bring f an offering, and enter in to his courtes.
 9 Worship the Lord in þ glorious Sanctuary: tremble before him all the earth.
 10 Say among the e nations, The Lord reigneth: surely the world shall be stable, and not moue, and he shall iudge the people b in righteouines.
 11 Let the heauens reioyce, and let the earth be glad: let the sea roare, and all that therein is.
 12 Let the field be topful, and all that is in it: let all the t trees of the wood then reioyce 13 Before the Lord: for he commeth, for he commeth to iudge the earth: he will iudge the world with righteouines, and the people in his truth.

PSAL XCVII.

1 The Prophet exhorteth all to reioyce for the comming of the kingdome of Christ, 7 Dreadfull to the rebels and idolaters, 8 And ioyfull to the iust, whom he exhorteth to innocencie, 12 To reioycing & thanksgiving.

1 The Lord reigneth: let the earth reioyce: let the multitude of the ples be glad.
 2 Cloudes and darkenes are rounde about him: righteouines and iudgement are the foundation of his throne.
 3 There shall goe a fire before him, and burne by his enemies round about.
 4 His lightninges gaue light vnto the world: the earth sawe it & was afraid.
 5 The mountaines melted like waxe at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the Lord of the whole earth.
 6 The heauens declare his righteouines, and all the people see his glorie.
 7 Confounded be all they that serue grauen images, & that glorie in idoles: worship him f all ye gods.
 8 Zion heard of it, and was glad: and the e daughters of Iudah reioiced, because of thy iudgements, O Lord.
 9 For thou, Lord, art most high above all the earth: thou art much exalted above all gods.
 10 Be that loue the Lord, hate euill: he preferueth the soules of his Saintes: he will deliuer them from the hand of the wicked.
 11 Light is sowne for the righteous, and top for the vpright in heart.
 12 Reioyce ye righteous in the Lord, and giue thanks for his holy remembrance.

PSAL XCVIII.
 1 An earnest exhortation to all creatures to praise the Lord for his power, mercie & fidelitie in his promes by Christ, 10 By whom he hath communicated his saluation to all nations.

1 Sing vnto the Lord a newe song: for he hath done marvellous things: his right hand, and his holy arme haue gotten him the victory.
 2 The Lord declared his saluation: his righteouines hath he reueiled in þ sight of the nations.
 3 He hath remembered his mercie & his truth toward the house of Israel: at the endes of the earth haue seene the saluation of our God.
 4 All the earth, sing ye loude vnto the Lord: erie out and reioyce, and sing praises.
 5 Sing praise to the Lord vpon þ harpe, euen vnto the harpe with a singing voyce.
 6 With e shalmes and sounde of trumpets sing loud before the Lord the King.
 7 Let the sea roare, and all that therein is, the world, and they that dwell therein.
 8 Let the floods clap their hands, and let the mountaines reioyce together
 9 Before þ Lord: for he is come to iudge the earth: with righteouines shall he iudge the world, and the people with equitie.

PSAL XCIX.

1 He commendeth the power, equitie & excellencie of the kingdome of God by Christ ouer the Iewes and Gentiles, 5 And prouoketh them to magnifie the same & to serue the Lord, 6 Following the example of the ancient Fathers, Moses, Aaron, Samuel, who calling vpon God, were heard in their prayers.

1 The Lord reigneth, let the people tremble: he stretcheth betweene þ Cherubims, let the earth be moued.
 2 The Lord is great in Zion, and he is high above all the people.
 3 They shall praise thy great and fearesfull Name (for it is holy)
 4 And the Kinges power, that toucheth iudgement: for thou hast prepared equitie: thou hast executed iudgement and iustice in Iacob.
 5 Great the Lord our God, and fall downe before his footstool: for he is holy.
 6 Moses and Aaron were among his Priestes, and Samuel among such as call vpon his Name: these called vpon the Lord, and he heard them.
 7 We spake vnto them in the cloudie pillar: they kept his testimonies, and the lawe that he gaue them.

a That is, some fog newly made in token of their wonderfull deliuerance by Christ.
 Isa. 59. 16.
 b He preferueth his Church miraculously.
 c For the deliuerance of his Church.
 d God was moued by none other means to gather his Church of the Iewes and Gentiles, but because he would performe his promes.
 e By this repetition and earnest exhortation to giue praises with instruments, and also of y damme creatures, he signifieth that the world is neuer able to praise God sufficiently for their deliuerance.

a When God deliuereth his Church, al the enemies shall haue cause to reioyce.
 Exod. 15. 22.
 b Though the wicked rage against God, yet the godly shall praise his Name and mightie power.
 c That is, before his Temple or arke, where he promised to heare, when they worshipped him, as now he promised to heare, when they worshipped his Church is assembled.
 d Vnder these three he comprehendeth the whole people of Israel, with whom God made his promes.

e For the more liberally & God dealeth with his people, & more doeth he punish them that abuse
his benefices.

8 Thou hearest them, O Lord our God:
thou wast a favourable God unto the, though thou didst take vengeance for their inventions.
9 Exalt the Lord our God, and fall down before his holy Mountaine: for the Lord our God is holy.

PSAL. C.

1 He exhorteth al to serue the Lord, 3 Who hath chosen vs and preferred vs, 4 And to enter into his assemblies to praise his Name.

A Psalm of praise.

1 Sing ye loude vnto the Lord, all the earth.
2 Serue the Lord with gladnes: come before him with ioyfullnesse.
3 Knowe ye that euen the Loide is God:
he hath made vs, & not we our selues:
we are his people, and the hope of his pasture.
4 Enter into his gates with praise, and into his courtes with reioycing: praise
him and blisse his name.
5 For the Loide is good: his mercie is euertlasting, and his truth is from generation to generation.
6 Enter into his gates with praise, and
into his courtes with reioycing: praise
him and blisse his name.
7 For the Loide is good: his mercie is euertlasting, and his truth is from generation to generation.
8 My mercie is euertlasting, and his truth
is from generation to generation.
9 My mercie is euertlasting, and his truth
is from generation to generation.
10 My mercie is euertlasting, and his truth
is from generation to generation.
11 My mercie is euertlasting, and his truth
is from generation to generation.
12 My mercie is euertlasting, and his truth
is from generation to generation.

1 Dauid describeth what gouernement he will obserue in his house and kingdome. 5
He will punish & correct, by rooting forth the wicked, 6 And cherishing the godly persons.

A Psalm of Dauid.

1 Will I sing mercie and iudgement: vnto thee, O Lord, will I sing.
2 I will doe wisely in the perfitte way till thou comest to me: I will walke in the vprightnes of mine heart in the middles of mine house.
3 I will set no wicked thing before mine eyes: I hate the worke of them that sal away: it shall not cleaue vnto me.
4 A froward heart shall depart from me:
I will knowe none euill.
5 Him, that prouide & slandereth his neighbour, will I destroy: him that hath a proude looke and high heart, I cannot suffer.
6 Mine eyes shall vnto the euertlasting of the land, that they may dwell with me:
he that walketh in a perfitte way, he shall serue me.
7 There shall no deceitfull person dwell within mine house: he that telleth lies, shall not remaine in my sight.
8 Sometimes will I destroy all the wicked of the land, & I may cut off all the workers of iniquitie from the earth of the Lord.

PSAL. C II.
1 It seemeth that this prayer was appointed to the faithfull to pray in the captiuitie of Babylon. 16 A consolation for the building of the Church: 18 Whereof followeth the praise of God to be published vnto all po-steritie. 22 The conuersion of the Gentiles, 28 And the stabilitie of the Church.

1 My prayer of the afflicted, when he shall be in distresse, and poure forth his meditation before the Lord.

1 O Lord, heare my prayer, and let my cry come vnto thee.
2 Hide not thy face from me in the time of my trouble: incline thine eares vnto me: when I call, make haste to heare me.
3 For my daies are consumed like smoke, and my bones are burnt like an herb.
4 Mine heart is smitten and withereth like grasse, because I forgate to eate my bread.
5 For the voice of my groaning my bones do cleaue to my skinne.
6 I am like a pellicane of the wilderness:
I am like an owle of the deserts.
7 I watche and am as a sparowe alone
vpon the house toppe.
8 Mine enemies reuile me daily, and they that rage against me, haue sworn against me.
9 Surely I haue eaten ashes as bread, and mingled my drinke with weeping, 10 Because of thine indignation & thy wrath: for thou hast heaued me vp, and cast me downe.
11 My daies are like a shadowe that fadeth, and I am withered like grasse.
12 But thou, O Lord, dost remaine foreuer, and thy remembrance from generation to generation.
13 Thou wilt arise and haue mercie vpon Zion: for the time to haue mercie thereon, for the appointed time is come.
14 For thy seruants desire in the stones thereof, & haue pitie on the dust thereof.
15 Then the heathen shall feare the name of the Lord, & all the kings of the earth thy glory.
16 When the Loide shall build vp Zion, and shall appeare in his glory, 17 And shall turne vnto the prayer of the desolate, and not despise their prayer.
18 This shall be written for the generation to come: and the people, which shall be created, shall praise the Lord.

a Whereby is signified, that albeit we be in neuer so great miserie, yet there is euer place left for prayer.
b He declareth that in our praier we must liuely feele that, which we desire and stedfastly be-lieue to obtaine.
c These excessive kindes of speech shew how much the affliction of the Church ought to wound the heartes of the godlie.
d My sorowes were so great, that I passed not for mine ordinarie foode.
e Euer mourning, & solitarie, casting out fear-
full cries.
f Haue conspi-red my death.
g I haue not risen out of my mourning to take my refection.
h He sheweth that the afflictions did not onely
thus moue him,
but chiefly the feeling of Gods displeasure.
i Howeouer we be floweier we promises is sure & the remembrance thereof shall con-firme vs for euer.
k That is, the seuentie yeeres, which by the Prophet Ieremie thou didst appoint, Iere. 29. 12.
l The more that the Church is in miserie and desolation, the more ought the faithfull to loue and piety.
m That is, when he shall haue drawn his Church out of the darknes of death.
n The deliue-rance of the Church is a most excellent benefite, and therefore he compareth it to a new creation: for in their banishment the body of the Church seemed to haue bene dead, which by deliue-rance was as it were created anew.

p He sheweth that Gods Name is neuer more praised, then when religio flourisheth and the Church increaseth: which thing is chiefly accomplished vnder the kingdome of Christ.

q The Church Iamēt that they see not the time of Christ, which was promised, but haue but fewe yeres and short dayes.

r If heauen and earth perish, much more man shall perish: but the Church by reason of Gods promes endureth for euer. f Seeing thou hast chosen thy Church out of the world, and loyned it to thee, it cannot but continue for euer: for thou art euerlasting.

19 For he hath looked downe from the height of his Sactuarie: out of the heauen did the Lord behold the earth,

20 That he might heare the mourning of the prisoner, and deliuer the children of death:

21 That they may declare the name of the Lord in Zion, and his praise in Jerusalem, 22 When the people shall be gathered together, and the kingdomes to serue the Lord.

23 Hee abated my strength in the way, and shortened my dayes.

24 And I said, O my God, take me not away in the middes of my dayes: thy peeres endure from generation to generation.

25 Thou hast aforesetime laid the fundat[i]on of the earth, and the heauens are the worke of thine hands.

26 They shall perish, but thou shalt endure: euen they all shall waie olde as doth a garment: as a vesture shalt thou change them, and they shall be changed.

27 But thou art the same, and thy peeres shall not faile.

28 The children of thy seruants shall continue, and their seede shall stand fast in thy sight.

29 Seeing thou hast chosen thy Church out of the world, and loyned it to thee, it cannot but continue for euer: for thou art euerlasting.

PSAL. CIII.

I He prouoketh all to praise the Lord, which hath pardoned his finnes, deliuered him from destruction, and giuen him sufficient of all good things. 10 Then he addeth the tender mercies of God, which he sheweth like a most tender Father towards his children, 14 The frailtie of mans life. 20 An exhortation to man and Angels to praise the Lord.

A Psalm of Dauid.

1 My soule, praise thou the Lord, and all that is within me, praise his holy name.

2 My soule, praise thou the Lord, & forget not all his benefites.

3 Which forgiveth all thine iniquitie, and healeth all thine infirmities.

4 Which redeumeth thy life from the graue, and crowneth thy with mercy and compassions.

5 Which satisfieth thy mouth with good things: and thy pouth is renewed like the eagles.

6 The Lord executeth righteoussesse and iudgement to all that are oppressed.

7 Hee made his waies knowne vnto Moses, and his workes vnto the children of Israel.

8 The Lord is full of compassion and mercie, slow to anger and of great kindnesses.

9 When her beake ouer-groweth, sucketh blood, and so is renewed in strength, euen so God miraculously giueth strength to his Church aboue all mans expectation. e As to his chiefe minister and next to his people.

9 He will not alwaye chide, neither keepe his anger for euer.

10 He hath not dealt with vs after our finnes, nor rewarded vs according to our iniquities.

11 For as high as the heauen is aboue the earth, so great is his mercy toward them that feare him.

12 As farre as the East is fro the West: so farre hath he remooued our finnes from vs.

13 As a father hath compassion on his children, so hath the Lord compassion on them that feare him.

14 For he knoweth whereof we be made: he remembereth that we are but dust.

15 The dayes of man are as grass: as a flower of the field, so flourisheth he.

16 For the winde goeth ouer it, and it is gone, and the place thereof shall knowe it no more.

17 But the louing kindnes of the Lord endureth for euer and euer vpon them that feare him, and his righteoussesse vpon childrens children.

18 Vnto them that keepe his couenant, and thinke vpon his commandements to do them.

19 The Lord hath prepared his throne in heauen, and his kingdome ruleth ouer all.

20 Praise the Lord, ye his Angels, that excell in strength, that do his commandement in obeying the voyce of his worde.

21 Praise the Lord, all ye his hostes, ye his seruants that do his pleasure.

22 Praise the Lord, all ye his workes, in all places of his dominion: my soule, praise thou the Lord.

23 We, which naturally are slow to praise God, exhort the Angels, which willingly doe it, wee stirre vp our selues to consider our duetie, and awake out of our sluggishnes.

PSAL. CIIII.

1 An excellent Psalm to praise God for the creation of the world, & the gouernance of the same by his marueilous providence, 35 Wherein the Prophet prayeth against the wicked, who are occasions that God diminished his blessings.

1 My soule, praise thou the Lord: O Lord my God, thou art exceeding great, thou art clothed with glory and honour.

2 Which couereth himself with light as with a garment, and spreadeth the heauens like a curtaine.

3 Which lapeth vp beames of his charibbers in the waters, and maketh the cloudes his chariot, and walketh vpon the wings of the winde.

4 Which maketh the spirits his messengers, & a flaming fire his ministers.

5 The Prophet here sheweth that all visible powers are ready to serue God: so the Apostle to the Ebr. 1. 7. beholdeth in this glasse, how the verie Angels also are obedient to his commandement.

f He sheweth first his seuer judgement, but so soone as the finner is humbled, he receiueh him to mercy.

g We haue proued by continual experience, that his mercy hath euer preuayled against our offences.

h As great as the world is, so full is it of signes of Gods mercies toward his faithful when he hath removed their finnes.

k His iust and faithfull keeping of his promes.

l To whom he giueth grace to feare him, and to obey his word.

m In that that we, which naturally are slow to praise God, exhort the Angels, which willingly doe it, wee stirre vp our selues to consider our duetie, and awake out of our sluggishnes.

a The Prophet sheweth that we neede not to enter into the heauens to seeke God, forasmuch as all the order of nature, with y proprietic and placing of the elements, are most lively a He wakeneth his dulnes to praise God, shewing y both vnderstanding & affections, minde and heart are to litle to see forth his praise.

b This is the beginning & chiefest of all benefites: remission of sinne.

c For before that we haue remission of our finnes, we are as dead men in the graue.

d As the eagle, when her beake ouer-groweth, sucketh blood, and so is renewed in strength, euen so God miraculously giueth strength to his Church aboue all mans expectation. e As to his chiefe minister and next to his people.

c Thou makest ⁵ sea to be an ornament vnto the earth.
 d If by thy power thou dost not bridle ⁶ y^e rage of the waters, it were not possible, but ⁷ y^e whole world should be destroyed.
 e If God provide for the very beasts, much more will he extend care to man.
 f There is no part of ⁸ y^e world so barren, where most euident signes of Gods blessings appeare not.

 32 He looketh on the earth and it trembleth: he toucheth the mountaynes, and they ¹⁶ smoke.
 33 ¹⁷ He will sing vnto the Lord all my life: I will praise my God, while I liue.
 34 Let my wordes be acceptable vnto him: I will reioyce in the Lord.
 35 Let the sinners be ¹⁸ confum'd out of the earth, and the wicked till there be no more: O my soule, praise thou the Lord, ¹⁹ Whatleue the Lord.

¹ Hee prayeth for the singular grace of God, who hath of all the people of the worlde chosen a peculiar people to himselfe, and having chosen them, neuer ceaseth to doe them good, euen for his promises sake.
 1 Praise the ² Lord, and call upon his name: ³ declare his workes among the people.
 2 Sing vnto him, sing praise vnto him, and talke of all his wonderous workes.

x Which he commeth to the posteritie, in whom after a sorte the dead laie and enioy the promises.
 y When the Egyptians lamented and were destroyed.
 z This is the end, why God preferreth his Church, because they should worship, and call vpon him in this world.
 a The Prophete exhorteth the people to praise God for his benedictes past, that thereby their minds may be strengthened against all present troubles and despaire.
 b He sheweth that it is not ynough to praise God wth mouth, except the whole heart agree therunto, and all our life be therunto framed.
 c Let the good will that thou bearest to thy people, extend vnto me, that thereby I may be receiued into the number of thine.
 d By earnest confession aswell of their owne, as of their fathers sinnes, they shew that they had hope that God according to his promises would p^{ro}uide them.
 e The inestimable goodnes of God appeareth in this, that he woulde change the order of nature, rather then his people should not be deliuered, although they were wicked. Exod. 14. 27.
 f The wonderfull workes of God caused them to beleeue for a time, and to praise him.
 g They would prevent his wisdom & providence.

h The abundance that God gaue them, profited not, but made them pine away, because God curfed it. i By the greatness of the punishment the heinous offence may be considered: for they that rise against Gods ministers, rebell against him. k He sheweth that all idolaters renounce God to be their glorie, when in stead of him they worship any creature, much more wood, stone, metall or calves. l If Moses by his intercession had not obtained Gods fauour against their rebellions. m That is, Canaan, which was as it were an earnest peny of the heavenly inheritance. n That is, he sware. Sometime also it meaneth to punish. o Which was the Idole of the Moabites. p Sacrifices offered to y dead idoles. q Signifying, that whatsoever man inuenteth of himselfe to serue God by, is detestable and prouoketh his anger. r When al other neglected Gods glorie, he in his zeale killed the adulterers and preuented Gods wrath. Nom. 25. 27. f This act declared his liuely faith, & for his faiths sake was accepted. Nom. 20. 23. p. sal. 95. 8. t If notable a Prophet of God escape no punishment though others prouoked him to sinne, how much more shall they be subiect to Gods iudgement, whicheaue Gods childre to sinne: u He sheweth how monstrous a thing idolatrie is, which can winne vs to things abhorring to nature, whereas Gods word cannot obtaine most small things.

15 When he gaue them their desire: but he sent ^b leaues into their soule. 16 They enuied Moses also in the tentes, and Aaron the holy one of the Lord. 17 Therefore the earth opened and ¹ was loked by Dathan, & covered the countenance of Abiram. 18 And the fire was kindled in their assemblie: the flame burnt vp the wicked. 19 They made a calf in Horeb, and worshipped the molten image. 20 Thus they turned their ^k glorie into the similitude of a bullocke, that eateth grasse. 21 They forgoate God their Saviour, which had done great things in Egypt, 22 Wonderous workes in the lande of Ham, and fearefull things by the red Sea. 23 Therefore he minded to destroy them, had ¹ not Moses his chosen stand in the breach before him to turne away his wrath, lest he should destroy them. 24 Also they contemned that ^m pleasant land, and beleened not his word. 25 But murmured in their tentes, and hearkened not vnto the voyce of the Lord. 26 Therefore ⁿ he lifted by his hand against them, to destroy them in the wilderness, 27 And to destroy their seed among the nations, and to scatter them throughout the countries. 28 They ioynd themselves also vnto ^o Baal-peor, and did eate the offerings of the dead. 29 Thus they ^p prouoked him vnto anger with their owne inuentions, and the plague brake in vpon them. 30 But ^q Phinehas stood up, and executed iudgement, and the plague was stayed. 31 ^r And it was ¹ imputed vnto him for righteousness from generation to generation for euer. 32 They angered him also at the waters of ² Meribah, so that ³ Moses was punished for their sakes. 33 Because they vered his spirite, so that he spake vnaduisedly with his lippes. 34 Neither destroyed they the people, as the Lord had commanded them, 35 But were mingled among the heathen, and learned their workes. 36 And serued their idoles, which were their ruine. 37 Yea, they offered their ⁴ sonnes, and their daughters vnto deuils, 38 And shed innocent blood, euen ⁵ blood of their sonnes, and of their daughters, whom they offered vnto the idoles of Canaan, and the land was defiled with blood.

39 Thus were they stoned with their owne workes, and went ^a a whooring with their owne inuentions. 40 Therefore was the wrath of the Lord kindled against his people, and he abhorred his owne inheritance. 41 And he gaue them into the hand of the heathen: and they that hated them, were lordes ouer them. 42 Their enemies also oppressed them, and they were humbled vnder their hand. 43 Panie ^v a time did he deliuer them, but they prouoked him by their counsels: therefore they were brought down by their iniquitie. 44 Yet he save when they were in affliction, and he heard their crye. 45 And he remembered his covenant toward them, and ² repented according to the multitude of his mercies, 46 And gaue them fauour in the sight of all them, that ledde them captiues. 47 Saue vs, ³ Lord our God, and ⁴ gather vs from among the heathen, that we may praise thine holie Name, and glorie in thy praise. 48 Blessed be the Lord God of Israel for euer and euer, and let all the people say, So be it. Praise ye the Lord.

PSAL. CVII.

1 The Prophet exhorteth all those that are redeemed by the Lord, and gathered vnto him, to giue thanks. 9 For this mercifull providence of God, gouerning all things at his good pleasure, 20 Sending good and euill, prosperitie & aduersitie to bring men vnto him. 42 Therefore as the righteous thereat reioyce, so shall the wicked haue their mouthes stopped. 1 Praise ² the Lord, because he is good: for his mercie endureth for euer. 2 Let them, ³ which haue bene redeemed of the Lord, shewe how he hath deliuered them from the hand of the oppressour, 3 And gathered them out of the landes, from the East and from the West, from the North and from the ⁴ South. 4 When they wandered in the desert and wilderness out of the way, and found no citie to dwell in, 5 ⁵ Both hungrie and thirstie, their soules fainted in them. 6 Then they cried vnto the Lord in their trouble, & he deliuered them from their distresse, 7 And led them forth by the right way, that they might goe to a citie of habitation. 8 Let them therefore confesse before the Lord his doing kindnes, and his wonderfull workes before the sonnes of men. 9 For he satisfied the thirstie soule, and filled the hungrie soule with goodnes. 10 They, great a benefite.

x Then true chastitie is to cleaue wholly and onely vnto God. y The Prophet sheweth y neither by menaces, nor promises we can come to God, except we be altogether newly reformed, and that his mercie ouer-couer and hide our malice, z Not that God is changeable in himselfe, but that then he seemeth to vs to repent, when he altereth his punishment, and forgiveness vs. a Gather thy Church, which is dispersed, & giue vs confidence vnder the crosse, that with one consent we may all praise thee. a This notable sentence was in the beginning vied, as y foote or tenor of the song, which was oftentimes repeated. b As this was true in y Iewes, so is there none of Gods elect, that feele not his helpe in their necessitie. ¹⁰ Or, from the sea meaning the red sea, which is on the South part of the land. c He sheweth y there is none affliction so grievous, out of the which God will not deliuer his, and also exhorteth them, that are deliuered, to be mindfull of so great a benefite.

10 Then the true way to obey God, is to follow his expresse commandment: also hereby all are exhorted to defend into themselves, forasmuch as none are punished, but for their finnes, e He sheweth that the cause why God doeth punish vs extremely, is because we can be brought vnto him by none other meanes, f When there seemeth to mans iudgement no recovery, but all things are brought to despair, then God chiefly sheweth his mighty power. They haue no feare of God, by his sharpe rods are brought to call vpon him and to find mercie. h By healing them he declarerh his good will towards them. i Meaning, their diseases, which had almost brought them to the graue and corruption. k Praise and confession of Gods benefites are the true sacrifices of the godly. l He sheweth by the sea what care God hath ouer man, for in that that he deliuereth them from the great dangers of the sea, he deliuereth them, as it were, from a thousand deaths, m Their feare and dang'ris is so great, n When their arte and meanes faile them, they are compelled to confesse that onely Gods providence doeth preserue them o Though before-cruery droppes seemed to fight one against another, yet at his commandment they are as still, as though they were frozen, p This great benefite ought not onely to be considered particularly, but magnified in all places and assemblies.

11 They, that dwell in darknes and in the shadow of death, being bound in miserie and pison, 12 Because they rebelled against the wordes of the Lord, and despised the counsell of the most High,
 13 When hee humbled their heart with heauines, then they sel downe and there was no helper, 14 Then they cryed vnto the Lord in their trouble, & he deliuered them from their distresse, 15 He brought them out of darknes, and out of the shadow of death, and brake their bandes alunder,
 16 Let them therefore confesse before the Lord his louing kindnes, and his wonderful works before the sonnes of men,
 17 For he hath broken the gates of brass, and braut the barres of pison alunder,
 18 For he hath broken the gates of brass, and braut the barres of pison alunder,

 149 And a fruitfull lande into barrennes for the wickednes of them that dwell therein,
 150 And a fruitfull lande into barrennes for the wickednes of them that dwell therein,

7 God hath spoken in his holines: therefore I will reioyce, I shall deuide the them & me assure the valley of Succoth.

8 Cited shall mine, and Hanasseh shall be mine: Ephraim also shall be strengith of mine head: Juda is my lawgiuer.

9 Gad shall be my walhypot: ouer Edom wil I cast out my thoe: vpon Palestina wil I triumph.

10 Who wil leade me into the strong citie? who wil bring me vnto Edom?

11 What not thou, O God, which hadest forsaken vs, and didest not goe forth, O God, with our armies?

12 Come vs help against trouble: for vaine is the helpe of man.

13 Though God we shall doe valiantly: for he shal tread downe our enemies.

PSAL. CIX.

1 David being falsly accused by flatterers vnto Saut, prayeth God to helpe him and to destroy his enemies. 8 And vnder them he speaketh of Iudas the traitor vnto Iesus Christ, and of all the like enemies of the children of God: 27 And desireth so to be deliuered, that his enemies may knowe the worke to be of God. 30 Then doth he promise to giue praises vnto God.

¶ To him that excellet. A Psalm of David.

1 Holde not thy tongue, O God of my praise.

2 For the mouth of the wicked, and the mouth full of deceit are opened vpon me: they haue spoken to me with a lying tongue.

3 They compassed mee, and about also with wordes of hatred, and fought against me without a cause.

4 For my friendship they were mine aduersaries, but I gaue my selfe to euill.

5 And they haue rewarded mee euill for good, and hatred for my friendship.

6 Set thou the wicked ouer him, and let the aduersarie stand at his right hand.

7 When he shall be iudged, let him be condemned, and let his prayer be turned into sinne.

8 Let his dapes be fetwe, and let another take his charge.

9 Let his children be fatherles, and his wyfe a widowe.

10 Let his children be vagabundes and begge & seeke bread, comming out of their places destitute.

11 Let the extortioner catche all that he hath, and let the strangers spoyle his labour.

12 Let there be none to extend mercie vnto him: neither let there be any to shewe mercie vpon his fatherles children.

13 Let his posteritie be destituted, and in the generation followinge let their name be put out.

14 Let the iniquitie of his fathers be had in remembrance with the Lord: and let not the sin of his mother be done away.

15 But let them allway be before the Lord, that he may cut of their memoriall from the earth.

16 Because he remembred not to shewe mercie, but persecuted the afflicted and poore man, and the sorrowful hearted to slay him.

17 As he loued cursing, so shall it come vnto him, and as he loued not blessing, so shall it be farre from him.

18 As hee clothed himselfe with cursing like a rayment, so shall it come into his bowels like water, & like oyle into his bones.

19 Let it be vnto him as a garment to couer him, and for a girdle, wherewith he shall be alway girded.

20 Let this be the reward of mine aduersarie from the Lord, and of them, that speake euil against my soule.

21 But thou, O Lord my God, deale with me according vnto thy name: deliuer me, (for thy mercie is good)

22 Because I am poore and needie, and mine heart is wounded with in me.

23 I depart like a shadow that declineth, and am shaken as of the grasshopper.

24 My knees are weake through fasting, and my flesh hath lost all fatnes.

25 I became also a rebuke vnto them: they that looked vpon me, shaked their heads.

26 Helpe me, O Lord my God: save mee according to thy mercie.

27 And they shall know, that this is thine hand, and that thou, Lord, hadst done it.

28 Though they curse, yet thou wilt bless: they shall arise, and be confounded, but thy seruant shall reioyce.

29 Let mine aduersaries be clothed with shame, and let them couer themselves with their confusion, as with a clothe.

30 I will giue thanks vnto the Lord greatly with my mouth, & praise him among the multitude.

31 For he wil stand at the right hande of the poore, to saue him from them that would condemne his soule.

Satan assailed him, the more earnest and instant was hee in prayer. p They shall gaine nothing by cursing mee. q Not onely in confessing it secretly in my selfe, but also in declaring it before all the Congregation. r Hereby he sheweth that hee had not to do with them, that were of little power, but with the iudges and princes of the world.

PSAL. CX.

1 David prophecyeth of the power and euerlasting kingdome giuen to Christ, and of his Priesthood, which should last an end to the Priesthood of Lewi.

¶ A Psalm of David.

1 The Lord said vnto my Lord, Sitte thou at my right hand, vntill I make thine enemies thy foete stooles.

that this cannot properly be applied vnto Daniell, but to himselfe.

Thus punisheth the Lorde to the third, and fourth generation of the wickednes of the parents in their wicked children. h He sheweth that God accuseth to someth to plague them after a strange sort, that they themselves cruel toward others. i Thus giueth the Lorde to euery man the thing, wherein he delireth, that the reprobate cannot accuse God of wrong, when they are giuen vp to their lusts and reprobate mindes. k For being destitute of mans helpe, hee fully trusted in the Lord, that he would deliuer him. l As thou art named merciful, gracious & long suffering, so shew thy self in effect. m Meaning that he hath no stay nor assurance in this world. n For hunger, that came of sorrow, he was leane, and his natural moisture failed him. o The more grievous was hee in instant was hee in prayer. q They shall gaine nothing by cursing mee. q Not onely in confessing it secretly in my selfe, but also in declaring it before all the Congregation. r Hereby he sheweth that hee had not to do with them, that were of little power, but with the iudges and princes of the world.

a Iesus Christ in the two & twentieth of Matt. vers. 44. giueth interpretation hereof, and sheweth that this cannot properly be applied vnto Daniell, but to himselfe.

2 Though al the world condemne me, yet thou wilt approve mine innocencie, and that is a sufficient praise to me.

b To declare that I had none other refuge, but thee; in whome my conscience was at rest.

c Whether it were Doeg or Saul, or some familiar friende y had betrayed him, he prayeth not of priuate affectio, but moved by gods Spirit, y God would take vengeance vpon him.

d Asto the least all things turne to their profite: so to the reprobate, euen those things, that are good, turne to their damnation.

e This was chiefly accomplished in Iudas, Act. 1. 10. f Hee declareth that the curse of God lyeth vpon the extortioners: who thinking to enriche their children by their vnlawfull gotten goods, are by Gods iust iudgement deprived of all.

b And thence it shall stretch through all the world: & this power chiefly standeth in the preaching of his worde.

c By thy word the people shall be assembled into thy Church, whose increase shall be so abundant and wonderfull, as the drops of y dewe.

d As Melchizedek the figure of Christ was both King and Priest: so the effect cannot be accomplished in any King, save only in Christ, 2. Chro. 26. 21. e No power shall be able to resist him. f Under this similitude of a captaine, that is so greedy to destroye his enemies, that he will not scarce drinke by the way, he sheweth howe God will destroy his enemies.

- 2 The Loide shall sende the robbe of thy power out of ^b Zion: see thou ruler in the middes of thine enemies.
- 3 Thy people shall come willingly at the time of assembling: & thine armie in holie beautie: the poult of thy wombe shall be as the morning dewe.
- 4 The Loide swaure and will not repent, Thou art a ^doyest for euer after the order of ^d Melchizedek.
- 5 The Loide, that is at thy right hande, shall wounde Kings in the dape of his wraoth.
- 6 He shall be Iudge among the heathen: he shall fill all wth dead bodies, & smite the ^e head ouer great countries.
- 7 He shall ^e drinke of the booke in the way: therefore shall he lift vp his head.

PSAL. CXI.

1 Hee giueth thanks to the Lorde for his mercifull works toward his Church, 10 And declaveth wherein true wisdome & right knowledge consisteth.

¶ Verse the Loide.

a The Prophete declareth that he will prayse God both priuately & openly, and that from the heart, as he that consecrath himselfe wholly and onely vnto God.

b He sheweth Gods workes are a sufficient cause, wherefore we should prayse him, but chiefly his benefites toward his Church.

c God hath giue to his people all that was necessarie for them, and will do still euen for his covenants sake, and in this sense the Hebrew worde is taken, Prou. 30. 8. & 31. 15. d Or, pray, and snode. e As God promised to take the care of his Church: so in effect doeth he declare himselfe iust and true in the government of the same. f They onely are wise, that feare God, and none haue vnderstanding, but they that obey his worde. f To wit, his commandments as vers 7.

- 1 I will ^e praise the Loide with my whole heart in the assemble and Congregation of the iust.
- 2 The workes of the Loide are ^b great, and ought to be sought out of all them that loue them.
- 3 His worke is beautiful & glorious, and his righteousness endureth for euer.
- 4 He hath made his wonderfull works to be had in remembrance: the Loide is mercifull and full of compassion.
- 5 He hath giuen ^a portion vnto the that feare him: he will euer be mindful of his covenant.
- 6 He hath shewed to his people ^d power of his workes in giuing vnto them the heritage of the heathen.
- 7 The ^d workes of his handes are truth and iudgement: all his statutes are true.
- 8 They are stablished for euer and euer, & are done in truth and equite.
- 9 He sent redemption vnto his people: he hath commanded his covenant for euer: boie and fearefull is his name.
- 10 ^e The beginning of wisdome is ^d feare of the Loide: all they that obserue them, haue good vnderstanding: his praise endureth for euer.

PSAL. CXII.

1 Hee prayseth the felicitie of them that feare God, 10 And condemneth the cursed state of the consumers of God.

¶ Verse the Loide.

- 1 Blessed is the man, that ^e feareth the Loide, & delieth greatly in his commandments.
- 2 His lede shall be ^d mightie vpon earth: the generation of the righteous shall be blessed.
- 3 Riches & treasures shall be in his house, & his righteousness endureth for euer.
- 4 Vnto the ^e righteous ariseth light in darkness: he is mercifull and full of compassion and righteous.
- 5 A good man is mercifull and ^d lendeth, and will measure his affaires by iudgement.
- 6 Surety he shall neuer be moued: but the righteous shall be in euermlasting remembrance.
- 7 He will not be afraid of euill tidings: for his heart is fixed, & belieuech in the Loide.
- 8 His heart is stablished: therefore he will not feare, vntill he see his desire vpon his enemies.
- 9 He hath ^e distributed and giuen to the poore: his righteousness remaineth for euer: his ^f hoine shall be exalted with glorie.
- 10 The wicked shall see it and be angry: he shall gnashe with his teeth, & consume away: the desire of the wicked shall perish.

a He meaneth that reuerent feare, which is in the children of God, which causeth the to delite only in the word of God.

b The godly shall haue abundance & contentment, because their heart is satisfied in God onely.

c The faithfull in all their adversities know that all shall go well with them: for God will be mercifull and iust. d He sheweth what is the fruite of mercy: to lend freely and not for gaine, and so to measure his doings, that he may be able to help where need requireth, & not to bestowe all on himselfe. e The godly pinche not rigoridly, but distribute liberally, as the necessity of the poore requireth, and as his power is able. f His power and prosperous estate. g The blessings of God vpon his children shall cause the wicked to dye for enuie.

PSAL. CXIII.

1 An exhortation to praise the Loide for his providence, 7 In that contrarye to the course of nature he worketh in his Church.

¶ Verse the Loide.

- 1 Praise ye ^d seruaunts of the Loide, ^e praise the name of the Loide.
- 2 Blessed be the name of the Loide from henceforth and for euer.
- 3 The Loide name is praised from the rising of the sunne vnto ^d going downe of the same.
- 4 The Loide is high above all ^b nations, and his glorie above the heauens.
- 5 Who is like vnto the Loide our God, that hath his dwelling on high?
- 6 Who abaseth himselfe to behold things in the heauen and in the earth.
- 7 He raiseth the neaby out of the dust, and lifteth vp the ^e poore out of the dung.
- 8 That he may set him with the princes, euen with the princes of his people.
- 9 He maketh the barren woman to dwell with a familie, and a topfull mother of children. Praise ye the Loide.

a By this often repetition he stirreth vp our colde dulnes to praise God, seing his workes are so wonderfull, & that we are created for the same cause.

b If Gods glorie shine through all the worlde, and therefore of all ought to be prayed, what great commendation were it to his people, among whome chiefly it shineth, if they should not earnestly extoll his Name? c By preferring the poore to high honour, and giuing the barren children, he sheweth that God worketh not onely in his Church by ordinarie means, but also by miracles.

PSAL. CXIII.

1 Howe the Israelites were deliuered forth of Egypt, & of the wonderfull miracles, that God wrought at that tyme. Which put vs in remembrance of Gods great mercie toward his Church, who, whe the course of nature sayleth, preferueth his miraculously.

1 When ^a Israel went out of Egypt, & the house of Jaakob from the ^a barbarous people,
2 Judah was ^b his sanctification, and ^a Israel his dominion,
3 The Sea sawe it and fled: Jordan was turned backe,
4 The ^c mountaines leaped like rams, & the hills as lambs,
5 What ailed thee, ^d Sea, that ^e thou fleddest? ^d Jordan, why wast thou turned backe?
6 Pee mountaines, why leaped pee like rams, and ye hills as lambs?
7 The ^d earth trembled at the presence of the Lorde, at the presence of the God of Jaakob,
8 Which ^e turneth the rocke into water, poodes, and the flint into a fontayne of water,
9 Which ^e consider it and glorifie him for the same.
10 Ought then his people to be insensible, whe they see his power and maiestie? ^e That is, caused miraculously water to come out of the rocke in most abundance, Exod. 17. 6.

PSAL. CXV.

1 A praier of the faithfull oppressed by idolatrous tyrants, against whom they desire that God would succor them, 9 Trusting most constantly that God wil preferue the in this their neede, seeing that he hath adopted & receiued them to his fauour, 18 Promising finally that they will not be vniuersally of so great a benefite, if it would please God to heare their prayer, & deliuer them by his omnipotens power.

1 Not ^a vnto vs, ^d Lorde, not vnto vs, but vnto thy Name giue the glorie, for thy louing mercie & for thy trueths sake.
2 Wherfore shal the heathen say, ^b Where is now thy God?
3 But our God is in heauen: hee doeth whatsoeuer he ^c will.
4 Their idoles are ^d silver and gold, euen the worke of mens hands.
5 They haue a mouth & speake not: they haue eyes and see not,
6 They haue eares and heare not: they haue noses and smell not.
7 They haue hands and touch not: they haue feete and walke not: neither make they a sound with their throte,

8 They that make them are ^f like vnto them: so are all that trust in them.
9 Irael, trust thou in the Lorde: for he is their helpe and their shield,
10 The house of Aaron, trust ye in ^g the Lorde: for he is their helpe and their shield,
11 Pee that feare the Lorde, trust in the Lorde: for hee is their helper and their shield,
12 The Lorde hath bene mindefull of vs: he will blesse, he ^h will blesse the house of Israel, he will blesse the house of Aaron, 13 He wil blesse them that feare the Lorde, both small and great,
14 The Lorde will increase his graces toward you, euen toward you & toward your children,
15 Pee are blessed of the Lorde, which ⁱ made the heauen and the earth,
16 The ^k heauens, euen the heauens are the Lordes: but hee hath giuen the earth to the sonnes of men,
17 The dead praise not the Lorde, neyther any that ^l go downe into the place of silence, 18 But wee will praise the Lorde from henceforth and for euer. Praise pee the Lorde, here, that they prayse him not in his Church & Congregation.

f As much without sense, as appointed by God as instru-mers & teachers

on for others to h That is, he will continue his graces toward his & Congregation.

PSAL. CXVI.

1 David being in great danger of Saul in the desert of Maon, perceyning the great and inestimable loue of God towards him, magnifieth such great mercies, 13 And protesteth that he will be thankfull for the same.

1 Loued the Lorde, because he hath heard
1 My voyce and my prayers,
2 For hee hath inclined his eare vnto mine, when I did call vpon him ^b in my daves,
3 When the snares of death compassed me,
and the griefes of the graue caught me:
when I found trouble and sorowe,
4 Then I called vpon the Name of the Lorde, saying, I beseech thee, ^d Lorde, deli-uer my soule,
5 The Lorde is ^e mercifull and righteous, and our God is full of compassion, 6 The Lorde preferueth the simple: I was in miserie and he saved me, 7 Returne vnto thy rest, ^d my soule: for the Lorde hath bene beneficiall vnto
thee,
8 Because thou hast deliuered my soule from death, mine eyes from teares, and my feete from falling, 9 I shall ^e walke before the Lorde in the land of the liuing, 10 I believed, therefore did I speake: for and counsell. ^d Which was enquired before, nowe rest vpon the Lorde: for he hath bene beneficiall towardes thee.
e The Lorde will preferue mee, and saue my life. f I felt all these things, and therefore was moued by faith to confesse them,
2. Cor. 4. 13.

a He granteth that no pleasure is so great, as to feele Gods helpe
in our necessitie, neither that any thing more surreth vp our loue toward him.
b That is, in conuenient time to seeke helpe, which was when he was in distresse.
c He sheweth forth the fruit of his loue in calling vpon him, confessing him to be iust
and mercifull, and to helpe them that are deficite of ayde
and counsell.

Exod. 17. 6.
a That is, from them that were of a strange language.
b The whole people were witnesses of his holy maiestie in adopting them, & of his mightie power in deliuering them.
c Seeing that these dead creatures felt Gods gower, and after a sore sawe it, much more his people ought to consider it and glorifie him for the same.
d Ought then his people to be insensible, whe they see his power and maiestie?
e That is, caused miraculously water to come out of the rocke in most abundance,
Exod. 17. 6.

a Because God promised to de-liuer them, not for their sakes,
but for his name,
Ia. 48. 11, therefore they grouide their praier vpon
this promise.
b When the wicked see that god accepteth not his promises,
as they imagine,
they think there is no God,
c No impediments can let his worke, but he vseth euen the impediments to serue his will.
d Seeing that neither the matter,
nor the forme can commend the idoles, it followeth that there is nothing in them, why they should be esteemed.
e He sheweth
what great vanitie it is to aske helpe of them, which not only haue no helpe in them, but lacke sense and reason.

In my great distresse I thought God would not regard man, which is but lies and vanitie, yet I overcame this temptation, and felt the contrary. In the Lawe they vsed to make a banquet, when they gaue solemne thanks to God, and to take the cup and drinke in signe of thanksgiving. I perceiue that God hath a care ouer his, so he both disposeth their death & taketh an account. I wil thanke him for his benefits for that is a iust payment, to confesse that we owe all to God.

I was foare troubled.
 11 I said in my feare, All men are liars.
 12 What shall I render vnto the Lord, for all his benefits toward me?
 13 I wil take the cup of saluation, & call vpon the Name of the Lord.
 14 I wil pay my bowes vnto the Lord, euen now in thy presence of all his prosperie.
 15 Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of his Sauiours.
 16 Behold, Lord: for I am thy seruant, I am thy seruant, and the sonne of thine handmaid: thou hast broken my bondes.
 17 I will offer to thee a sacrifice of praise, and will call vpon the Name of the Lord.
 18 I wil pay my bowes vnto the Lord, euen now in the presence of all his prosperie.
 19 In the courtes of the Lordes house, euen in the middes of thee, O Ierusalem. Praise ye the Lord.

PSAL. CXVII.

I He exhortheth the Gentiles to praise God, because he hath accomplished as well to them as to the Iewes, the promise of life enduring by Iesus Christ.

1 All nations, praise ye the Lord: all ye people, praise him.
 2 For his louing kindenes is great toward vs, and the trueth of the Lord endureth for euer. Praise ye the Lord.

PSAL. CXVIII.

1 David reiecteth of Saul and of the people, as the tyme appointed obtayned the kingdom. 4 For the which he biddeth all the, that feare the Lord, to be thankfull. And vnder his person in all this was Christ liuely set forth, who should be of his people reiected.

1 Praise ye the Lord, because he is good: for his mercy endureth for euer.
 2 Let Israel now say, That his mercy endureth for euer.
 3 Let the house of Aaron now say, That his mercy endureth for euer.
 4 Let them, that feare the Lord, now say, That his mercy endureth for euer.
 5 I called vpon the Lord in trouble, and the Lord heard me, and set me at large.
 6 The Lord is with me: therefore I will not feare what man can do vnto me.
 7 The Lord is with me among the that helpe me: therefore shall I see my desire vpon mine enemies.

Rom. 15. 11. a That is, the most certaine & continual testimonies of his Fatherly grace.
 b Because God by creating David King, shewed his mercy toward his afflicted Church, the Prophet doth not onely him selfe thanke God, but exhortheth all the people to do the same.
 b We are here taught that the more that troubles oppress vs, the more ought we to be instant in prayer. c Being exalted to this estate, he assured himselfe to haue man euer to be his enemy. Yet he doubted not, but God would maintayne him because he had placed him,

8 It is better to trust in the Lord, then to haue confidence in man.
 9 It is better to trust in the Lord, then to haue confidence in princes.
 10 All nations haue compassed me: but in the Name of the Lord shall I destroy them.
 11 They haue compassed me, yea, they haue compassed me: but in the Name of the Lord I shall destroy them.
 12 They came about me like bees, but they were quashed as a fire of thornes: for in the Name of the Lord I shall destroy them.
 13 Thou hast thynk sore at me, that I might fall: but the Lord hath holpen me.
 14 The Lord is my strength and song: for he hath bene my deliuerance.
 15 The voice of Ioy and deliuerance shall be in the tabernacles of the righteous, saying, The right hand of the Lord hath done valiantly.
 16 The right hand of the Lord is exalted: the right hand of the Lord hath done valiantly.
 17 I shall not die, but liue, and declare the workes of the Lord.
 18 The Lord hath chastened me sore, but he hath not deliuered me to death.
 19 Open ye vnto me the gates of righteousness, that I may go into them, and praise the Lord.
 20 This is the gate of the Lord: the righteous shall enter into it.
 21 I will praise thee: for thou hast heard me, and hast bene my deliuerance.
 22 The stone, which the builders refused, is the head of the corner.
 23 This was the Lordes doing, and it is maruelous in our eyes.
 24 This is the day, which the Lord hath made: let vs reioyce and be glad in it.
 25 O Lord, I pray thee, saue now: O Lord, I pray thee now giue prosperitie.
 26 Blessed be he, that cometh in the Name of the Lord: we haue blessed you out of the house of the Lord.
 27 The Lord is mightie, and hath giuen vs light: binde the sacrifice with cordes vnto the hornes of the altar.
 28 Thou art my God, and I will praise thee, euen my God: therefore I will exalt thee.
 29 Praise ye the Lord, because he is good: for his mercy endureth for euer.

d He shewed that he had trusted in vain, if he had put his confidence in man, to haue bene preferred to the kingdom, and therefore he put his trust in God and obeyed.
 e He noeth Saul his chiefe enemy.
 f In that he was deliuered, it came not of him selfe, nor of the power of man, but onely of Gods fauour: therefore he will praise him.
 g He promisseth both to render graces himselfe, and to cause others to doe the same, because that in his person the Church was restored.
 h So that all, that are both faire and neere, may see his mightie power.
 i He willett the dores of the Tabernacle to be opened, that he may declare his thankfull mind.

PSAL. CXIX.

1 The Prophet exhortheth the children of God to frame their lines according to his holy word. 123 Also he sheweth wherein the true seruice of God standeth: that is, I. i. when when we serue him according to his worde, and not after our owne fantasies.

ALEPH.

a Here they are not called blessed, which think themselves wise in their owne iudgement, nor which imagine to themselves a certaine holines,
but they whose conuerlation is without hypo-cricie.

b For they are ruled by Gods Spirit and im-brace no doctrine but his.
c David acknowledgeth his imperfection, desiring God to reforme it, that his life may be conformable to Gods word. d For true religion standeth in seruing God without hypo-cricie. e That is, thy precepts, which containe perfitte righte-ousnes. f He refuseth not to be tried by tentations, but he feareth to faint, if God succour not his infirmitie in tyme.

1 Blessed are ^a those that are vpight in their way, and walke in the law of the Lord.
2 Blessed are they that keepe his testimonies, and seeke him with their whole heart.
3 Surely they worke ^b none iniquite, that walke in his wayes.
4 Thou hast commaunded to keepe thy precepts diligently.
5 ^c Wh that my wayes were directed to keepe thy statutes.
6 Then should I not be confounded, when I haue respect vnto all thy commaundements.
7 I will praise thee with an vpight
^d heart, when I shall learne the iudges-ments of thy righteousness.
8 I will keepe thy statutes: forsake me not ^e ouerlong.

BETH.

a Because youth is most giuen to licentiousnes, he chiefly warneth them to frame their liues bezime to Gods
worde.

b If Gods word be grauen in our hearts, we shall be more able to resist the assaults of Satan: and therefore the Prophet desi-reth God to instruct him daily more and more therein. c The Prophet doth not boast of his ver-ties, but setteth forth an example for others to folow Gods word and leaue worldly vanities.

9 Wherewith shall a ^a yong man redresse his way: in taking heede thereto according to thy worde.
10 Which my whole heart haue I sought thee: let me not wander from thy commaundements.
11 I haue ^b hid thy promise in mine heart, that I might not sinne against thee.
12 Blessed art thou, O Lord: teach me thy statutes.
13 With my lips haue I declared all the iudgements of thy mouth.
14 I haue had as great ^c delight in thy way of thy testimonies, as in all riches.
15 I will meditate in thy precepts, & consider thy wayes.
16 I will desire in thy statutes, and I will not forget thy word.

GIMEL.

a He sheweth
e ought not to desire to liue
but to serue
God, and that we cannot serue him aright, except he open our eyes & minds.
b Seeing mans
life in this world is but a passage, what should become of him, if thy word were not his guide? c In all ages thou hast plagued all such, which maliciously and contemptuously depart from thy truth,

17 Be beneficial vnto thy seruant, that I may ^a liue and keepe thy worde.
18 Ope mine eyes, that I may see ^b wonders of thy Law.
19 I am a ^c stranger vpon earth: hide not thy commaundements from me.
20 Mine heart breaketh for the desire to thy iudgements alway.
21 Thou hast destroyed the proude: cursed are they that do erre from thy commaundements.

22 Remoue from me shame & contempt:
for I haue kept thy testimonies.

23 ^d Wincnes also did sit, & speake against me: but thy seruant did meditate in thy statutes.
24 Also thy testimonies are my delight, and my counsellors.

DALETH.

25 My soule cleaueth to the ^a dust: quicken me according to thy word.
26 I haue ^b declared my wayes, & thou hast heard me: teach me thy statutes.
27 Make me to vnderstand the way of thy precepts, and I will meditate in thy wonderous wayes.
28 My soule melteth for heavines: raffe me by according vnto thy ^c wayde.
29 Take from me the ^d way of lying, and graunt me graciously thy Law.
30 I haue chosen the way of truth, & thy iudgements haue I lapd before me.
31 I haue cleaved to thy testimonies, O
Lord: confound me not.
32 I will runne the way of thy commandements, when thou ^e shalt enlarge mine heart.

by my mind may be purged from vanitie & taught to obey thy
wil. c By this he sheweth y we can neither chule good, cleave to Gods word, nor run forward in his way, except he make our hearts large to receiue his grace, and willing to obey.

HE.

33 Teache ^a me, O Lord, the way of thy statutes, and I will keepe it vnto the ende.
34 Giue me vnderstanding, and I will keepe thy Law: yea, I will keepe it with my whole ^b heart.
35 Direct me in the path of thy commandements: for therein is my delight.
36 Incline mine heart vnto thy testimonies, and not to ^c couetousnes.
37 Turne away mine ^d eyes from regarding banitie, & quicken me in thy way.
38 Stablish thy promise to thy seruant, because he feareth thee.
39 Take away ^e my rebuke that I feare:
for thy iudgements are good.
40 Beholde, I desire thy commaundes mercies: ^f quicken me in thy righteousnes,

his senses. e Let me not fall to thy dishonor, but let mine heart still desire in thy gracious worde. f Giue me strength to continue in thy word euo to the ende.

VAV.

41 And let thy ^a louing kindness come vnto me, O Lord, and thy saluation according to thy promise.
42 So shall I make answer vnto my blasphemers: for I trust in thy word.
43 And take not the word of truth ^b vtterly out of my mouth: for I waite for thy iudgements.
44 So shall I alway keepe thy Law for euer and euer.

d When y powers of the worlde gaue false sentence against me, thy word was a guide & counsel-me.

b I haue confessed mine offences, and now depend wholly on thee.

c If God did not mainteine vs by his word, our life would drop away like water.
d Instruct me in thy word, where-a He sheweth y

he cannot follow
on to the ende, except God teach him of tymes and leade
him forward.
b Not onely in outward couer-sation, but also with inward affection.
c Hereby meaning al other vices, because that couetousnes is the roote of all euill.

d Meaning, all his senses.

a He sheweth
that Gods mercy and loue is the first cause of our saluation.
b By trusting in Gods worde, he assureth himself to be able to confute the slanders of his aduersaries.

c They, that simply walke after Gods word, have no leas to intangle them, where as they, that do cōtrary, are euer in nets and snares.
d He sheweth that the children of God ought not to suffer their Fathers glory to be obscured by the wayne pompe of princes.

45 And I will walke at libertie: for I seeke thy precepts.
46 I will speake al of thy testimonies before Kings, & wil not be ashamed.
47 And my delite shall be in thy commandements, which I haue loued.
48 Mine hands also wil I lift vp vnto thy commandements, which I haue loued, and I will meditate in thy statutes.

48 Thou art good and gracious: teache me thy statutes.
49 The proude haue imagined a lye against me: but I wil keepe thy precepts with my whole heart.
50 Their heart is fat as greafe: but my delite is in thy Lawe.
51 It is a good for mee that I haue bene afflicted: for I may learne thy statutes.
52 The law of thy mouth is better vnto me, then thousandes of golde and siluer, that before that he was chastened, he was rebellious, as man by nature is, c Their hearts indurate and hardened, puffed vp with prosperitie and vayne estimation of themselves.

d He confesseth, that before that he was chastened, he was rebellious, as man by nature is, a Though he feele Gods hand still to lye vpon him, yet he resteth on his promises and comforteth himselfe therein.

Z A I N.

b Meaning the wicked, which contemne Gods word, & treade his religion vnder foote.
c That is, the examples, whereby thou declarest thy selfe to be iudge of the world.
d That is, a vehement zeale to thy glory, & indignation against the wicked.
e In the course of this life and forowfull exile.
f Euen when other sleepe.
g That is, all these benefices.

49 Remember the prouice made to thy seruant, wherein thou hast caused mee to trust.
50 It is my comfort in my trouble: for thy prouice hath quickened me.
51 The proude haue had me exceedingly in derision: yet haue I not declined from thy Lawe.
52 I remembered thy iudgements of old, O Lord, and haue bene comforted.
53 A feare is come vpon me for the wicked, that forsake thy Lawe.
54 Thy statutes haue bene my songs in the house of my pilgrimage.
55 I haue remembered thy Name, O Lord, in thy night, and haue kept thy Lawe.
56 This I had because I kept thy precepts.

73 Thine hands haue made me and fashioned me: gūe me understanding therefore, that I may learne thy commandements.
74 So thet that feare thee, sleeping mee, shall reioyce, because I haue trusted in thy worde.
75 I know, O Lord, that thy iudgements are right, and that thou hast afflicted me: iustly.
76 I praye thee that thy mercy may come for me according to thy prouice vnto thy seruant.
77 Let thy tender mercies come vnto me, that I may liue: for thy Lawe is my delite.
78 Let the proude be ashamed: for they haue dealt wickedly and falsly with me: but I meditate in thy precepts.
79 Let such as feare thee turne vnto me, and they that knowe thy testimonies, let my heart bee vpright in thy statutes, that I be not ashamed.

a Because God leaueh not his worke, that he hath begun, he desireth a newe grace: that is, that he would continue his mercies.
b When God sheweth his grace toward any, he testifieth to others that he sayleth not them that trust in him.
c He declareth, that when he felt not Gods mercies, he was as dead.
d That is, be comforted by mine example.
e He sheweth that there can be no true feare of God without the knowledge of his worde.

C H E T H.

a I am persuaded that to keepe thy Lawe is an heritage & great gaine for me.
b He sheweth that none can embrace the worde of God, except he consider his owne imperfections and wayes.
c They haue gone about to drawe me into their companie.
d Not onely in murrall consent, but also with ayde and succour.
e For the knowledge of Gods worde is a singular token of his fauour.

57 O Lord, that art my portion, I haue determined to keepe thy words.
58 I made my supplicacion in thy presence with my whole heart: be mercifull vnto me according to thy prouice.
59 I haue considered my wayes, & turned my feete into thy testimonies.
60 I made haste and delayed not to keepe thy commandements.
61 The bandes of the wicked haue robbed mee: but I haue not forgotten thy Lawe.
62 At midnight wil I rise to giue thanks vnto thee, because of thy righteous iudgements.
63 I am a companion of all them that feare thee, and keepe thy precepts.
64 The earth, O Lord, is ful of thy mercy: teache mee thy statutes.

80 Let mine heart bee vpright in thy statutes, that I be not ashamed.
81 My soule fasteneth for thy saluation: yet I waite for thy word.
82 Mine eyes saile for thy prouice, saying, When wilt thou comfort me?
83 For I am like a bottle in the smoake: yet do I not forget thy statutes.
84 How many are the dapes of thy seruant? When wilt thou execute iudgement on them that persecute mee?
85 The proude haue digged pits for me, which is not after thy Lawe.
86 All thy commandements are true: they persecute me falsly: helpe me.
87 They had almost consumed me vpon the earth: but I forsooke not thy precepts.
88 Quicken mee according to thy louing kindnes: so shall I keepe the testimonie of thy mouth.

a Though my strength faile me, yet my soule groweth and sigheth, resting in thy worde.
b Like a skinned bottle or bladder y is parched in the smoake.
c How long wilt thou afflict thy seruant.
d They haue not onely oppressed me violently, but also craftily conspired against me.
e He assureth himselfe, that God will deliuer his and destroye such as vniuilly persecute them.
f Finding no help in earth, he lifteth vp his eyes to heauen.

T E T H.

a Having profited by experie that God was true in his promises, he desireth that he would increase in him knowledge and iudgement.
b So Ieremie faith, that before the Lord touched him, he was like a calfe vntrained: so that the use of Gods rods is to call vs home to God.

65 O Lord, thou hast delt graciously with thy seruant according vnto thy worde.
66 Teache me good iudgement & knowledge: for I haue beleued thy commandements.
67 Before I was afflicted, I went astray: but now I keepe thy word.

89 O Lord, thy word endureth for euer in a heart.
90 Thy trueth is from generation to generation: for it abideth in heauen and therefore is immutable.

a Because none should esteeme Gods word according to the changes of things in this world, he sheweth that it abideth in heauen and therefore is immutable.

SAME CH.

b Seeing y earth and all creatures remaine in that estate, wherein thou hast created them, much more thy truth remaineth constant and vntchangeable. c He proueth by effect, that he is Gods child, because he seeketh to vnderstand his word. d There is nothing to perfect in earth, but it hath an ende: onely Gods worde lasteth for euer.

neration: thou hast layd the foundation of the earth, and it abideth. 91 Thy b cōditiōe euē to this day by thine ordinañces: for all are thy seruants. 92 Except thy Lawe had bene my delite, I thould nowe haue perished in mine affliction. 93 I will neuer forget thy precepts: for by them thou hast quickened mee. 94 I am c hyme, saue mee: for I haue sought thy precepts. 95 The wicked haue waited for me to desstop mee: but I will consider thy testimoñies. 96 I haue seene an ende of all perfectiō: but thy commandement is exceeding large.

113 I hate a baine iniuriōnes: but thy Lawe do I loue. 114 Thou art my refuge and shield, & I trust in thy word. 115 b Wap from me, ye wicked: for I will keepe the cōmāndementes of my God. 116 Stābilise my mee according to thy pñomes, that I may lue, and disappoynt me not of mine hope. 117 Stay thou mee, & I shal be safe, and I will delite continually in thy statutes. 118 Thou hast troden downe al them that depart from thy statutes: for their d deserte is baine. 119 Thou hast taken away all the wicked of the earth like a drosse: therfore I loue thy testimoñies. 120 My fleshy trembleth for feare of thee, and I am afrayde of thy iudgements. d The crasie pñactises of them that contemne thy Law, shal be brought to nought. e Which infected thy people, as drosse doeth the metall. f Thy iudgements do not onely teache me obedience, but cause me to feare, cōsidering mine own weakenes, which feare causeth repentance.

a Whoeuer will embrace Gods word a right, must abhorre all fantasies & imaginatiōnes both of himselfe and of others. b And hinder me not to keepe the Lawe of the Lord. c He desireth Gods continuall assistance least he should faynt in this race, which he had begun. d The crasie pñactises of them that contemne thy Law, shal be brought to nought. e Which infected thy people, as drosse doeth the metall. f Thy iudgements do not onely teache me obedience, but cause me to feare, cōsidering mine own weakenes, which feare causeth repentance.

MEM.

a He sheweth that we cannot loue Gods word, except we exercise our felues therein and practise it. b Whoeuer doeth submit himselfe onely to Gods word, shal not onely be safe against the pñactises of his enemies, but also learne more wisdom, then they that professe it, and are men of experience. c So then of our felues we can do nothing, but when God doeth inwardly instruct vs with his Spirit, we feele his graces sweeter then honie.

97 Oh howe loue I thy Lawe! a it is my meditation continually. 98 By thy commandementes thou hast made me wiser then mine enemies: for they are euer with me. 99 I haue had more b vnderstanding then all my teachers: for thy testimoñies are my meditation. 100 I vnderstoode more then the ancient, because I kept thy precepts. 101 I haue refrayned my feete from enies ric euill wape, that I might keepe thy worde. 102 I haue not declined from thy iudgements: for c thou didst teach me. 103 Howe sweete are thy pñomises vnto my mouth! yea, more then honie vnto my mouth. 104 By thy precepts I haue gotten vnderstanding: therfore I hate all the wapes of falshe woode.

AIN. 121 I haue executed iudgement & iustice: leaue me not to mine oppressours. 122 a Answer for thy seruāt in that, which is good, & let not h pñoude oppresse me. 123 Mine eies haue failed in waiting for thy saluation, and for thy iust pñomes. 124 Deale with thy b seruāt according to thy mercie, & teach me thy statutes. 125 I am thy seruāt: grant me therefore vnderstanding, that I may knowe thy testimoñies. 126 It is c time for thee loyde to worke: for thy haue destroyed thy Lawe. 127 Therfore loue I thy cōmāndementes aboue golde, yea, aboue most fine gold. 128 Therfore I esteeme all thy pñcepts most iust, and hate all fals d wapes. brought al things to confusion, & Gods word to vtter cōtempt, then is it Gods time to help & send remedie. d That is, whatsoeuer dissenteth from the puritie of thy word.

a Put thy selfe betwene mine enemies and me, as if thou were my pledge. b He boasteth not that he is Gods seruāt, but hereby putteth god in mind that as he made him his by his grace, so he would continue his fauor toward him. c The Prophet sheweth y when the wicked haue brought al things to confusion, & Gods word to vtter cōtempt, then is it Gods time to help & send remedie. d That is, whatsoeuer dissenteth from the puritie of thy word.

NVN.

a Of our felues we are but darknesse, and can see, except we be lightened with Gods word. b So all the faithfull ought to binde themselves to God by a solemañ othe and promise, to stirre vp their zeale to imbrace Gods word. c That is, my prayers and thankesgiuing, which sacrific Hofea calleth the calues of the lippes, Chap. 14. verse 2. d That is, I am in continuall danger of my life. e I esteemed no worldly things, but made thy word mine inheritance.

105 Thy worde is a a lanterne vnto my feete, and a light vnto my path. 106 I haue b sworne & wil perfoyme it, that I will keepe thy vprighteous iudgements. 107 I am very soze afflicted: O Lord, quicken me according to thy woide. 108 O Loyde, I beseeche thee accept the c free offerings of my mouth, and teach me thy iudgements. 109 My d soule is continually in myne hand: per do I not forget thy Lawe. 110 The wicked haue laped a snare for mee: but I swarued not from thy pñcepts. 111 Thy testimoñies haue I taken as an e heritage for euer: for they are the ioye of mine heart. 112 I haue applyed mine heart to fulfill thy statutes allway, euen vnto the ende.

PE. 129 Thy testimoñies are a wonderfull: therfore doeth my soule keepe them. 130 The entrance into thy b words sheweth light, & giueth vnderstanding to h simple. 131 I opened my mouth and c panted, because I loued thy cōmāndementes. 132 Looke vpon me and be merciful vnto me, as thou vnest to doe vnto those that loue thy Name. 133 Direct my steps in thy woide, and let none iniquitie haue dominion ouer me. 134 Deliuer me frō the oppression of mē, and I will keepe thy pñcepts. 135 Shew h light of thy cōmāñce vpon thy seruāt, & teache me thy statutes. 136 Mine eies gush d out in riuers of water, because they keepe not thy Lawe. was so great. d He sheweth what ought to be the zeale of Gods children, when they see his word contemned.

a Containing high and secrete mysteries, so that I am adored with admiration and reuerence. b The simple idiots, that submit themselves to God, haue their eyes opened, and their minds illuminated, sofoone as they begin to read Gods word. c My zeale toward thy worde be the zeale of Gods children, when they see his word contemned.

TSADDL

137 Righteous art thou, O Lord, and iust are a We cannot confesse God to be righteous, except we liue vp rightly & truly, as he hath commaunded.

Psalms 9. 9. iohn 1. 17.
b Gold hath need to be smited, but thy worde is perfect in itselfe.
c This is the true trial, to praye God in aduersitie.
d So y the life of man without the knowledge of God is death.

a He sheweth that all his affections and whole heart were bent to Godward for to haue helpe in his dangers.
b He was more earnest in the study of Gods worde, then they that kept the watch, were in their charge.
Or, custome.
c He sheweth the nature of the wicked to be to persecute against their conscience.
d His faith is grounded vpon Gods worde, that he would euer be at hand when his children be oppressed.

a For without Gods promise there is no hope of deliuerance.
b According to thy promise made in y Lawe, which because the wicked lack, they can haue no hope of saluation.
c My zeale consumed me, when I saw their malice & contempt of thy glory.
d It is a sure signe of our adoption, whē we loue the Law of God.
e Since thou first professed, euen to the ende all thy sayings are true, are thy iudgements.

138 Thou hast commaunded a iustice by thy testimonies, and truth especially.
139 Thy zeale hath euen consumed me, because mine enemies haue forgotten thy wordes.
140 Thy worde is proued most pure, & thy seruāt loueth it.
141 I am small and despised: yet doe I not forget thy precepts.
142 Thy righteousness is an euerlasting righteousness, and thy Law is truth.
143 Trouble and anguish are come vpon me: yet are thy commaundementes my delite.
144 Thy righteousness of thy testimonies is euerlasting: graunt me vnderstanding, and I shall liue.

K O P H.

145 I haue cried with my whole heart: heare me, O Lord, and I wil keepe thy statutes.
146 I called vpon thee: saue me, and I wil keepe thy testimonies.
147 I quickened the morning light, & cried: for I waited on thy word.
148 Mine eyes present the night watches to meditate in thy word.
149 Heare my voyce according to thy louing kindnes: O Lord, quicken me according to thy iudgement.
150 They draw nere, that follow after malice, & are farre from thy Law.
151 Thou art nere, O Lord: for all thy commaundementes are true.
152 I haue knowen long since by thy testimonies, that thou hast established them for euer.

R E S H.

153 Beholde mine affliction, and deliuer me: for I haue not forgotten thy Law.
154 Bleed my canke, & deliuer me: quicken me according vnto thy word.
155 Saluation is farre from the wicked, because they seeke not thy statutes.
156 Great are thy tender mercies, O Lord: quicken me according to thy iudgements.
157 Thy persecutours & mine oppressors are many: yet do I not swarue fro thy testimonies.
158 I sawe the transgressours and was grieved, because they kept not thy worde.
159 Consider, O Lord, how I loue thy precepts: quicken me according to thy louing kindnes.
160 The beginning of thy word is truth, and all the iudgements of thy righteous outles endure for euer.

S C H I N.

161 Whinces haue persecuted me without cause, but mine heart stood in alow of thy wordes.
162 Thy reioice at thy worde, as one that hideth a great people.
163 I hate falschode and abhoire it, but thy Law do I loue.
164 Seven times a day do I praye thee, because of thy righteousness iudgements.
165 They that loue thy Lawe, shall haue great prosperitie, and they shall haue none hurt.
166 Lord, I haue trusted in thy saluatiō, and haue done thy commaundementes.
167 My soule hath kept thy testimonies: for I loue them exceedingly.
168 I haue kept thy precepts and thy testimonies: for all my wayes are besoyne thee.

a The threatenings & persecutions of princes could not cause me to shrinke to confesse thee, whome I more feare then men.
b That is, often and sundry tymes.
c For their conscience assureth them, that they please thee, whereas they, that loue not thee, haue the contrary.
d He sheweth that we must first haue faith, before we can worke and please God.
e I had no respect of men, but set thee alwayes before mine eyes, as the iudge of my doings.

T A V.

169 Let my complaint come before thee, O Lord, & giue me vnderstanding, according vnto thy worde.
170 Let my supplication come before thee, and deliuer me according to thy promise.
171 Thy lipses shall breake praye, when thou hast taught me thy statutes.
172 Thy tongue shall intreat of thy worde: for all thy commaundementes are righteous.
173 Let thine hand helpe me: for I haue chosen thy precepts.
174 I haue longed for thy saluation, O Lord, and thy Law is my delite.
175 Let my soule liue, and it shall praye thee, and thy iudgements shall helpe me.
176 I haue gone astray like a lost sheepe: seeke thy seruāt, for I do not forget thy commaundementes, and hauing no place to rest in.

a As thou hast promised to be the scholemaster vnto all the, that depend vpo thee.
b The word significth to poure forth continually.
c All his prayer, and delitie is, to profite in the worde of God.
d That is, thy prominent care ouer me, and wherewith thou wilt iudgeme mine enemies.
e Being chased to and fro by mine enemy, and hauing no place to rest in.

P S A L. C X X.

The prayer of Dauid being vexed by the false reportes of Saulls flatterers. 5 And therefore he lamenteth his long abode among those infidels, 7 Who were giuen to al kinde of wickednes and contention.

I I long of a degrees.
1 Called vnto the Lord in my trouble, and he heard me.
2 Deliuer my soule, O Lord, from lying lips, and from a deceitfull tongue.
3 What doeth thy deceitfull tongue bring vnto thee? or what doth it auail thee?

a That is, of lifting vp the voice and rising in singing.
b Albeit y children of God ought to reioyce when they suffer for righteousness sake, yet it is a great grieife to the flesh to heare coul for wel doing.
c He assured himselfe that God would turne their craft to their owne destruction.

d He sheweth that there is nothing so sharpe to pearce, nor so hate to set on fire as a flaunderous tongue.
 e These were people of Arabia, which came of Iaphet, Gen. 10. 2. f That is, of the Ishmaelites. g He declared what he meaneth by Meshech, and Kedar: to wit, the Israclites, which had degenerate from their godly fathers and hated and contended against the faithfull.

4 It is as the ^d sharpe arrowes of a mighty man, and as the coles of iuniper.
 5 Who is to me that I remayne in Meshech, & dwell in the tentes of Kedar.
 6 My soule hath to long dwelt with him that hateth peace.
 7 I seeke peace, and when I speake thereof, they are bent to warre.

5 For there are thrones set for iudgement, euen the thrones of the house of Dauid.
 6 Pray for the peace of Ierusalem: let them prosper that loue thee.
 7 Peace be within thy walles, & prosperitie within thy palaces.
 8 For my brethren & neighbours sake I will wish thee now prosperitie.
 9 Because of the house of the Lord our God, I will procure thy wealthy.

e In whose house God placed the throne of Iustice, and made it a figure of Chriftes kingdom.
 f The fauour of God prosper thee both within and without.

PSAL. CXXI.

1 This Psalm teacheth that the faithfull ought onely to looke for helpe at God, 7 Which onely doth maintaine, preserue & prosper his Church.

A song of degreés.

1 I will lift mine eyes vnto the mountains, from whence mine helpe shall come.
 2 Mine helpe commeth from the Lord, which hath made the heauen and the earth.
 3 He will not suffer thy foote to slippe: for he that keepeth thee, will not be slumber.
 4 Beholde, he that keepeth Israel, will neither slumber nor sleepe.
 5 The Lord is thy keeper: the Lord is thy shadow at thy right hand.
 6 The sunne shall not scinde thee by day, nor the moone by night.
 7 The Lord shall preserue thee from all euill: he shall keepe thy soule.
 8 The Lord shall preserue thy going out, and thy coming in from henceforth and for euer.

^a Or, above the mountaines: meaning, that there is nothing so high in this world, wherein he can trust, but onely in God.
 a He accuseth mans ingratitude, which cannot depend on Gods power.
 b He sheweth that Gods providence not onely watcheth ouer his Church in generall, but also ouer euery member thereof.
 c Neither heate nor colde, nor any incommoditie shall be able to destroy Gods Church: albeit for a tyme they may molest it.
 d Whatsoeuer thou doest enterpryse, shall haue good successe.

PSAL. CXXII.

1 Dauid reioyceth in the name of the faithfull, that God hath accomplished his promise, and placed his Arke in Zion, 5 For the which he giueth shankes, 8 And praiseth for the prosperitie of the Church.

A song of degreés, or Psalmc of Dauid.

1 I ^acried, when they said to me, I will goe into the house of the Lord.
 2 Dur^b feete shall stand in thy gates, O Ierusalem.
 3 Ierusalem is builded as a citie, that is compact together in it selfe:
 4 Whereunto the Tribes, euen the Tribes of the Lord go by according to the testimony to Israel, to praye the Name of the Lord.

^a Chro. 2. 0. 9.
 a He reioyceth that God had appointed a place, where the Arke should still remayne.
 b Which were wont to wander to and fro, as the Arke removed.
 c By the artificial ioyning and beautie of the houses, he meaneth the concord, and loue that was betwene the citizens.
 d All the Tribes according to Gods couenant shall come and pray there.

in and without. g Not onely for mine owne sake, but for all the faithfull.

PSAL. CXXIII.

8 A prayer of the faithfull, which were afflicted either in Babylon or vnder Antiochus by the wicked worldlings and contemners of God.

A song of degreés.

1 I lift vp mine eyes to thee, that dwelst in the heauens.
 2 Beholde, as the eyes of a seruantes looke vnto the hand of their masters, & as the eyes of a mayden vnto the hand of her mistresse: so our eyes wayte vpon the Lord our God until he haue mercy vpon vs.
 3 Haue mercy vpon vs, O Lord, haue mercy vpon vs: for we haue suffered to much contempt.
 4 Our soule is filled to full of the mocking of the wealthy, and of the despites of the proude.

a He comparoth the condition of the godly to seruantes that are destitute of all helpe, assuring that when all other helps faile, God is euer at hand and like himselfe.
 b He declareth that when the faithfull are so full, that they can no more endure the oppressions, and scornings of the wicked, there is alway helpe aboute, if with hungry desires they call for it.

PSAL. CXXIII.

1 The people of God, escaping a great peril, do acknowledge themselves to be deliuered, not by their own force, but by the power of God. 4 They declare the greatnes of the peril, 6 And praise the Name of God.

A song of degreés or Psalmc of Dauid.

1 If the Lord had not bene on our side, (may Israel now say)
 2 If the Lord had not bene on our side, when men rose vp against vs,
 3 When they had swallowed vs vp quick, when their wrath was kindled against vs.
 4 When the waters had drowned vs, and the streame had gone ouer our soule:
 5 When had the swelling waters gone ouer our soule.
 6 Praisd be the Lord, which hath not giuen vs as a pray vnto their teeth.
 7 Our soule is escaped, euen as a bude out of the snare of the fowlers: y^a snare is broken and we are deliuered.
 8 Our helpe is in the Name of the Lord, which hath made heauen and earth, a He sheweth y God was redy to helpe at neede, & that there was none other way to be saued, but by his onely meanes.

 b So vnable were we to resist.
 c He vseth most proper similitudes to expresse the great danger that the church was in, and out of the which God miraculously deliuered them.
 d For the wicked did not onely furiously rage agaynst the faithfull, but craftily imagined to destroy them.

PSAL. CXXV.

1 He describeth the assurance of the faithfull in their afflictions, 4 And desireth their welth, 5 And the destruction of the wicked.

¶ A song of degrees.

1 They that trust in the Lord, shall be as mount Zion, which can not be remoued, but remaineth for euer.

2 As the mountaines are about Ierusalem: so is the Loyde about his people from henceforth and for euer.

3 For the rod of the wicked shall not rest on the lot of the righteous, lest the righteous put forth their hand unto wickednes.

4 Doe well, O Loyde, unto those that be good and true in their hearts.

5 But their ways that turne aside by their crooked waies, them shall the Lord leade with the workers of iniquitie: but peace shall be vpon Israel.

PSAL. CXXVI.

1 This Psalm was made after the returne of the people from Babylon, and sheweth that the meane of their deliuerance was wonderfull after the seuenie yeeres of captiuitie forespoken by Ieremie chap. 25. 12. and 29. 10.

¶ A song of degrees or Psalme of David.

1 When the Lord brought againe the captiuitie of Zion, we were like them that dreame. 2 Then was our mouth filled with laughter, and our tongue with ioy: then said they among themselves, The Lord hath done great things for them.

3 The Lord hath done great things for vs, whereof we reioyce.

4 O Lord, bring againe our captiuitie, as the riuers in the South.

5 They that sowe in teares, shall reape in ioye.

6 They went weeping and caried precious seede: but they shall returne with ioy and bring their sheaues.

PSAL. CXXVII.

1 He sheweth that the whole estate of the world, both domesticall and politicall standeth by Gods mere prouidence and blessing, 3 And that to haue children wel nurrtred is an especiall grace and gift of God.

¶ A song of degrees or Psalme of Salomon.

1 Except the Lord build the house, they labour in vaine that build it: except the Lord keepe the citie, the keeper watcheth in vaine.

a Though the world be subiect to mutations, yet the people of God shall stand sure and be defended by Gods prouidence. b Though God suffer his to be vnder the crosse, least they should imbrace wickednes, yet this crosse shall not so rest vpon them, that it should driue them from hope. c He desireth God to purge his Church from hypocrites and such as haue no zeale of truth.

a Their deliuerance was as a thing incredible, and therefore booke away all excuse of ingratitude. b He sheweth how the godly ought to reioyce, when God gathereth his Church or deliuereth it. c If the Infidels confesse Gods wonderfull worke, faithfull can neuer shew themselves sufficiently thankfull. d It is no more impossible to God to deliuer his people, then to cause the riuers to runne in the wildernes and barren places. e That is, feede which was scarce and deare: meaning, that they which trusted in Gods promes to returne, had their desire.

a That is, gouerne and dispose all things pertaining to the familie. b The publike estate of the common welth.

2 It is in vaine for you to rise early, and to lie downe late, and eate the bread of sorrowe: but he will surely giue rest to his beloued.

3 Beholde, children are the inheritance of the Lord, and the fruite of the wombe his rewarde.

4 As are the arrows in the hand of the strong man: so are the children of youth.

5 Blessed is the man, that hath his quiver full of them: for they shall not be ashamed, when they speake with their enemies in the gate.

6 Making their labours comfortable, and as it were a rest. f That is, indued with strength and vertues from God: for these are signes of Gods blessings, and not the number. g Such children shall be able to stoppe their aduersaries mouths, when their godly life is maliciously accused before iudges.

PSAL. CXXVIII.

1 He sheweth that blessednes appertaineth not to all vniuersally, but to them only that feare the Lord, and walke in his waies.

¶ A song of degrees.

1 Blessed is euery one that feareth the Loyde and walketh in his waies. 2 When thou ratest the labours of thine hands, thou shalt be blessed, and it shall be well with thee.

3 Thy wife shall be as the fruitefull vine on the sides of thine house, & thy children like the oliue plantes round about thy table.

4 As surely thus that the man be blessed, that feareth the Loyde.

5 The Lord out of Zion shall blesse thee, and thou shalt see the wealth of Ierusalem all the dayes of thy life.

6 Pea, thou shalt see thy childrens children, and peace vpon Israel.

a Because Gods fauour appeareth in none outward thing more then in increase of children, he promisseth to enrich the faithfull with this gift. d Because of the spirituall blessing, which God hath made to his Church, these temporall things shall be granted. e For except God blessed his Church publicly, this priuate blessing were nothing.

PSAL. CXXIX.

1 He admonisheth the Church to reioyce though it be afflicted, 4 For by the righteous Loyde shall be deliuered, 6 And the enemies for all their glorious shewe, shall suddenly be destroyed.

¶ A song of degrees.

1 They haue often times afflicted mee from my youth (map Israel nowe sape)

2 They haue oftentimes afflicted me from my youth: but they could not preuaile against me.

3 The plowers plowed vpon my backe, and made long furrowes.

4 But the righteous Loyde hath cut the cordes of the wicked.

5 They that hate Zion, shall be ashamed and turned backward.

b Because God is righteous, he cannot but plague his aduersaries, and deliuer his, as oxen out of the plowe.

a Which watch, and ward, & are also magistrates, and rulers of the citie. d Either that, which is gotten by hard labour, or eaten with griefe of mind. e Not exempting them from labour, but making their labours comfortable, and as it were a rest. f That is, indued with strength and vertues from God: for these are signes of Gods blessings, and not the number. g Such children shall be able to stoppe their aduersaries mouths, when their godly life is maliciously accused before iudges.

a God approoueth not our life except it be reformed, according to his word. b The worlde esteemeth them happie, which liue in wealth, and idleness: but the holy Ghost approoueth them best, that liue of the meane profit of their labours. c Because Gods fauour appeareth in none outward thing more then in increase of children, he promisseth to enrich the faithfull with this gift. d Because of the spirituall blessing, which God hath made to his Church, these temporall things shall be granted. e For except God blessed his Church publicly, this priuate blessing were nothing.

6 They

a The enemies of life themselves most high & as it were approche neere to y sunne, are consumed w the heate of Gods wrath, because they are not grounded in godly humilitie. d That is, y wicked shall perish and none shall passe for them.

6 They shalbe as the grasse on the houle toppes, which withereth afore it cometh forth.
 7 Wherof the mower filleth not his hand, neither the glainer his lap:
 8 Neither they, which go by, say, The blessing of the Lord be vpon you, or, We blesse you in the name of the Lord.

PSAL. CXXX.

1 The people of God from their bottomles miseries doe crie vnto God, and are heard.
3 They confesse their finnes and flee vnto Gods mercie.

A song of degrees.

1 Of the deepe places haue I called vnto thee, O Lord.
2 Lorde, heare my voice: let thine eares attend to p hope of my prayers.
3 If thou, O Lorde, straitly market iniquities, O Lord, who shall stand?
4 But mercie is with thee, that thou maiest be feared.
5 I haue waited on the Lorde: my soule hath waited, and I haue trusted in his word.
6 My soule waiteth on the Lord more then the morning watch watcheth for the morning.
7 Let Israel waite on the Lord: for with the Lord is mercie, and with him is great redemption.
8 And he shall redieme Israel from all his iniquities.

PSAL. CXXXI.

1 David charged with ambition and greedie desire to reigne, protesteth his humilitie and modestie before God, and teacheth all men, what they should doe.

A song of degrees or Psalm of Dauid.

1 Lorde, mine heart is not haughty, neither are mine eyes loftie, neither haue I walked in great matters and hid from me.
2 Surely I haue behaued my selfe, like one waigned from his mother, and kept silence: I am in my selfe as one that is waigned.
3 Let Israel waite on p Lord from henceforth and for euer.

PSAL. CXXXII.

1 The faithfull, grounding on Gods promises made vnto Dauid, desire that he woulde establish the same, both as touching his posteritie and the building of the Temple, so pray there as was forefspoken, Deur. 12. 5.

A song of degrees.

1 Lorde, remember Dauid with all his affliction.
2 Who sware vnto the Lorde, and vowed vnto p mighty God of Jaakob, saying,
3 I will not enter into the tabernacle like brethren and therefore he sheweth by these similitudes the commoditie of brotherly loue. b Because the chiefe charge of the King was to set forth Gods glorie, he sheweth, that he coulde take no rest, neither woulde goe about anie worldly thing, were it neuer so necessaric, before he had executed his office.

of mine house, nor come vpon my pallet or bed,
4 Nor suffer mine eyes to sleepe, nor mine eye lids to slumber,
5 Until I finde out a place for the Lord, an habitation for the mightie God of Jaakob.
6 Lo we heard of it in Ephrathah, and found it in the fieldes of the forest.
7 We will enter into his Tabernacles, and worship before his footestool.
8 Write, O Lorde, to come into thy rest, thou, and the Worke of thy strength.
9 Let thy Priests be clothed with righteousness, and let thy Santes reioyce.
10 For thy seruant Dauids sake refuse not the face of thine Anointed.
11 The Lorde hath sworne in truth vnto Dauid, and he will not shrinke from it, saying, Of the fruite of thy bodie will I set vpon thy throne.
12 If thy sonnes keepe my couenant, and my testimonies, that I shall teach them, their sonnes also shall sit vpon thy throne for euer.

13 For the Lord hath chosen Zion, and loued to dwell in it, saying, 14 This is my rest for euer: here will I dwell, for I haue a delight therein.
15 I will surely blesse her vitales, and will satifise her poore with bread, 16 And will clothe her Priests with k saluation, and her Santes shall shoute for ioye.
17 There will I make the home of Dauid to bud: for I haue ordeined a light for mine Anointed.
18 His enemies wil I clothe with shame, but on him his crowne shall flourish.

h Because this cannot be accomplished but in Christ, it followeth that the promises was spiritual. i Meaning, for his owne sake, and not for the plentifulnesse of the place: for he promisseth to blesse it, declaring before, that it was baren, k That is, with my protection, wherby they shalbe safe. l Though his force for a time seemed to be broken, yet he promisseth to restore it.

PSAL. CXXXIII.

1 This Psalm containeth the commendation of brotherly amitie among the seruants of God.

A song of degrees or Psalm of Dauid.

1 Beholde, how good and howe comely a thing it is, brethren to dwell euery one together.
2 It is like to the precious ointment vpon the head, that runneth downe vpon the beard, euen vnto Arons beard, which went downe on the border of his garmente:
3 And as the dewe of Hermon, which was established vpon the mountaines of Zion: for there the Lord appointed the blessing and life for euer, and therefore he sheweth by these similitudes the commoditie of brotherly loue. b The ointment was a figure of the graces, which come from Christ the head vnto his Church. c By Hermon and Zion he meaneth the plentifull countrey about Ierusalem. d Where there is such concord.

d That is, the Arke, which was a signe of Gods presence.
d The common brute was that the Arke should remaine in Ephrathah: that is, in Beth-lehem a plentifull place: but after we perceived that thou wouldest place it in Ierusalem, which was baren as a forest, and compassed about onely with hilles.
e That is, Ierusalem, because y afterward his Arke should remove to none other place.
f Let the effect of thy grace both appeare in the Priests and in the people.
g As thou first madest promises to Dauid, so continue it to his posteritie, y whatsoever they shall aske for their people, it may be granted.
h Because this cannot be accomplished but in Christ, it followeth that the promises was spiritual. i Meaning, for his owne sake, and not for the plentifulnesse of the place: for he promisseth to blesse it, declaring before, that it was baren, k That is, with my protection, wherby they shalbe safe. l Though his force for a time seemed to be broken, yet he promisseth to restore it.

a He setteth forth his great humilitie, as an example to alrulers and gouernours.
b Which passe the measure and limits of his vocation.
c He was void of ambition and wicked desires.

a That is, with how great difficultie he came to the kingdom, and with howe great zeale and care he went about to builde thy Temple. b Because the chiefe charge of the King was to set forth Gods glorie, he sheweth, that he coulde take no rest, neither woulde goe about anie worldly thing, were it neuer so necessaric, before he had executed his office.

1 He exhorteth the Levites, watching in the Temple, to praise the Lord.

A Song of degrees.

1 Behold, praise ye the Lord, all ye servants of the Lord, ye that by night stand in the house of the Lord.
 2 Lift up your hands to the Sanctuarie, and praise the Lord.
 3 The Lord, that hath made heaven and earth, bleſſe thee out of Zion.

a Ye that are Levites & chiefly appointed to his office.
 b For their charge was not onely to keepe the Temple, but to pray there and to give God thanks. c And therefore hath all power, bleſſe thee with his Fatherly loue declared in Zion. Thus the Levites vsed to praise the Lord, and bleſſe the people.

PSAL. CXXXV.

1 He exhorteth all the faithfull, of what estate soever they be, to praise God for his marvellous works, 12 And specially for his graces towards his people, wherein hee hath declared his maiestie, 15 To the confusion of all idolaters, and their idoles.

A Praise ye the Lord.

1 Praise the name of the Lord: ye servants of the Lord, praise him.
 2 Ye that stand in the House of the Lord, and in the courts of the House of our God,
 3 Praise ye the Lord: for the Lord is good: sing praises unto his name: for it is a recompence thing.

Nomb. 21. 24, 25. e He sheweth what fruit the godly eocieue of Gods power, whereby they see how he destroyeth his enemies, and deliuereth his people. f That is, govern & defende his people. g By shewing what punishment God appointeth for the heathen idolaters, hee warneth his people to beware of like offence, seeing that idoles have neither power nor life, & that their deliuerance came not by idoles, but by the mightie power of God, read Psal. 115. vers. 4.

 21 Praised be the Lord out of Zion, which dwelleth in Jerusalem. Praise ye the Lord.

PSAL. CXXXVI.

1 A most earnest exhortation to give thanks unto God for the creation and governance of all things, which standeth in confessing that hee giveth vs all of his meere liberalitie.

1 Praise ye the Lord, because he is good: for his mercie endureth for ever.
 2 Praise ye the God of gods: for his mercie endureth for ever.
 3 Praise ye the Lord of lords: for his mercie endureth for ever.
 4 Which onely doeth great wonders: for his mercie endureth for ever.
 5 Which by his wisdom made the heavens: for his mercie endureth for ever.

 17 Which smote great kings: for his mercie endureth for ever.
 18 And slew mightie kings: for his mercie

a By this repetition he sheweth that the least of Gods benefites binde vs to thanksgiving: but chiefly his mercie, which is principally declared towards his Church. b This was a common kind of thanksgiving, which the whole people vsed, when they had receiued any benefite of God, as 2. Chro. 7. 6. and 20. 21: meaning that God was not onely merciful to their fathers, but also continued the same to their posteritie. c Gods mercifull providence toward man appeareth in all his creatures, but chiefly in thae that he deliuered his Church from the thraldome of their enemies. d In doing such a worke as was neuer done before, nor that any other coule doe. e Where for the space of fourtie yeeres he shewed infinite and most strange wonders. f Declaring thereby that no power nor autoritie was to be done vnto him, as the loue of his Church. eie endureth

PSAL. CXXXVII.

1 The people of God in their banishment seeing Gods true religion decaye, liued in great anguish & sorrow of heart: the which griefe the Chaldeans did so litle pittie, 3 That they rather increasd the same dayly with taunts, reproches and blasphemies against God. 7 Wherefore the Israelites desire God, first to punish the Edomites, who provoked the Babylonians against the, phetic the destruction of Babylon, where they were handled so tyrannously.

BY the ruers of Babel we sate, and there we wept, when wee remembered Zion.

lows in the middes thereof.
3 Then they that led vs captiues, required of vs songs & mirth, when we had hanged by our harps, saying, Sing vs one of the songs of Zion.
4 How shall we sing, said we, a song of the Lord in a strange land?
5 If I forget thee, O Jerusalem, let my right hand forget to play.
6 If I doe not remember thee, let my tongue cleaue to the rooffe of my mouth:
yea, if I preferre not Jerusalem to my

1 David with great courage praifeth the goodnes of God toward him, the which is so great. 4 That it is knowne to forren princes, who shal praise the Lord together with him. 6 And he is assured to haue like comfort of God in the time following, as he hath had heretofore.

A Psalme of David.

I Will praise thee with my whole heart:
euen before the goddess will I praise
thee.
2 I will worship towarde thine holy Temple & praise thy Name, because of thy louing kindnes & for thy truthy:
for thou hast magnified thy Name as done all things by thy word.
3 When I called, then thou heardest me,
& hast increased strength in my soule.
4 All the Kings of the earth shall praise thee, O Lord: for they haue hearde the words of thy mouth.
5 And they shall sing of the waues of the Lorde, because the glory of the Lorde is great.
6 For the Lorde is high: yet he beholdeth the lowly, but the proude he knoweth afarre of.
7 Though I walke in middes of trouble, yet wilt thou reuue mee: thou wilt stretch forth thine hand vpon w of mine enemies, and thy right hande shall saue me.

ward mee: O Lord, thy mercie endureth for euer: for sake not the workes of thine hands.

PSAL. CXXXIX.

1 David to cleanse his heart from all hypocrisse, sheweth that there is nothing so hid, which God seeth not. 13 Which bee confirmeth by the creation of man. 14 After declaring his zeale and feare of God, he protesteth to be enemye to all them that contemne God.
I To him that excelleth. A Psalme of David.
1 O Lord, thou hast tryed me & known mee.
2 Thou knowest my sitting and my rising: thou understandest my thought afarre of.
3 Thou compassest my pathes, and my lying downe, and art accustomed to all my waues.
4 For there is not a word in my tongue,
but lo, thou knowest it wholly, O Lord.
5 Thou holdest me straite behind and before, and lapst thine hand vpon mee.
6 Thy knowledge is to wonderfull for me:
it is so high that I cannot attaine vnto it.
7 Whi pointest me.

a He confesseth that neither our actions, thoughts or any part of our life can be hid to God,
though he seeme
to be farre of.
b So that they are evidently known to thee.
c Thou knowest
my meaning before I speake.
d Thou so guide
dest me w thine hand, that I canturne no way, but where thou appointest me.

e From thy power and knowledge?

f Thy power doth so fast hold me, that I can escape by no means from thee.

g Though darkness be an hindrance to mans sight, yet it serveth thine eyes as well as the light.

h Thou hast made me in all parts and therefore must needs knowe me.

i Considering thy wonderfull worke in forming me, I can not but praise thee, and feare thy mightie power.

k That is, in my mothers womb; which he compareth to the inward partes of the earth.

l Seeing that thou didst know me before I was composed of either flesh or bone, much more now must thou know me when thou hast facioned me.

m How ought we to esteeme the excellent declaration of thy wisdom in the creation of man!

n I continually see new occasions to meditate in thy wisdom & to praise thee.

o Here teacheth vs boldly to conteme all the hatred of the wicked and friendship of the world, when they would let vs to serve God sincerely. p Or anie heinous way or rebellious: meaning, that though he were subiect to sinne: yet was he not given to wickednesse and to prouoke God by rebellion. q That is, continue thy fauour towards me to the end.

7 Whether shall I goe from thy Spirit: or whether shall I flee from thy presence?

8 If I ascend into heauē, thou art there: if I lie downe in hell, thou art there.

9 Let me take the wings of the morning, and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea:

10 Yet thither shall thine hand leade me, and thy right hand hold me.

11 If I say, Per the darkenes shall hide me, euen the night shall be light about me.

12 Yea, the darkenes hideth not from thee: but the night shineth as the day: the darkenes and light are both alike.

13 For thou hast possessed my reins: thou hast covered me in my mothers wombe.

14 I will praise thee, for I am fearefully and wonderously made: marvellous are thy workes, and my soule knoweth it well.

15 My bones are not hid fro thee, though I was made in a secret place, and facioned* beneath in the earth.

16 Thine eyes did see me, when I was without forme: I fee in thy booke were all things written, which in continuance were facioned, when there was none of them before.

17 How deare therefore are thy thoughts vnto me, O Lord! howe great is the summe of them!

18 If I should count them, they are more then the sand: when I awake, I am still with thee.

19 Oh that thou wouldst slay, O God, the wicked and bloodie men, to whom I say, Depart ye from me:

20 Which speake wicked ly of thee, & besing thine enemies are lifted vp in vaine.

21 Doe not I hate them, O Lord, that hate thee: and doe not I earnestly consende with those that rise vp against thee?

22 I hate them with an vnfaigned hatred, as they were mine vter enemies.

23 Crie me, O God, and knowe mine heart: proue me & know my thoughts, 24 And consider if there be anie way of wickednes in me, & lead me in the way for euer.

PSAL CXL

1 David complaineth of the crueltie, falsehood and iniuries of his enemies. 8 Against the which he praieth vnto the Lord and assureth himselfe of his helpe and succour. 12 Wherefore he prouoketh the iust to praise the Lord, and to assure themselves of his iudiciall.

To him that excelleth, O Psalme of Dauid.

1 O Lord, O Lord, from the cruell man: prouee me from the cruell man:

2 Which imagine euill thinges in their heart, and make warre continually.

3 They haue sharpened their tongues like a serpent: a adders poison is vnder their lippes. Selah.

4 Keepe I me, O Lord, from the handes of the wicked: prouee me from the cruell man, which purposeth to cause my stepps to slioe.

5 The proud haue laid a snare for me and spied a net with cords in my pathway, and set grettness for me. Selah.

6 Therefore I saide vnto the Lord, Thou art my God: heare, O Lord, the voyce of my prayer.

7 O Lord God the strength of my saluation, thou hast covered mine head in the day of battell.

8 Let not the wicked haue his desire, O Lord: I performe not his wicked thought, lest they be proude. Selah.

9 As for the rime of thyem, that compass me about, let the mischiefe of their owne lippes come vpon them.

10 Let coles fall vpon them: let him cast them into the fire, and into deepe pits, that they rise not.

11 For the backbiter shall not be established vpon the earth: euill shall hunt the cruell man to destruction.

12 I know that the Lord will avenge the afflicted, and iudge the poore.

13 Surely the righteous shall praise thy Name, and the iust shall dwell in thy presence.

g It seemeth that he alludeth to Saul, h To wit, God: for Dauid saue that they were reprobate, and that there was no hope of repentance in them. i Gods plagues shall light vpon him in such fort, that he shall not escape. k That is, shall be defended and preserved by thy fatherly prouidence and care.

PSAL CXL

1 David being grieuously persecuted vnder Saul, only fleeth vnto God so haue succour, 3 desiring him to bridle his afflictions, that he may patiently abide till God take vengeance of his enemies.

1 O Lord, I call vpon thee: haste thee vnto me: heare my voice, when I crie vnto thee.

2 Let my prayer be directed in thy sight as incense, and the lifting vp of mine handes as an euening sacrifice.

3 Set a watch, O Lord, before my mouth, and keepe the doore of my lippes.

d He declareth what is the remedie of the godly, when they are oppressed by the worldlings.

e He calleth to God with liuely faith, being assured of his mercies, because he had beforetime proued, that God helped him euer in his dangers.

f For it is in Gods hand to ouerthrowe the counsels and enterprises of the wicked.

g It seemeth that he alludeth to Saul, h To wit, God: for Dauid saue that they were reprobate, and that there was no hope of repentance in them. i Gods plagues shall light vpon him in such fort, that he shall not escape. k That is, shall be defended and preserved by thy fatherly prouidence and care.

a He sheweth that there is none other refuge in our necessities, but only to flee vnto God for comfort of soule.

b He meaneth his earnest zeale and gesture, which he vsed in prayer: alluding to the sacrifices, which were by Gods commandement offered in the olde lawe. c He desireth God to keepe his thoughtes and waies either from thinking or executing vengeance.

 thee: my soule desireth after thee, as the thirstie land. Selah.
 7 Heare me speedily, O Lord, for my spi-rite faileth: hide not thy face from me, else I shall be like vnto them that goe
 downe into the pit.
 8 Let me heare thy louing kindnes in the morning, for in thee is my trust: shew me the way, that I should walke in, for
 I lift vp my soule vnto thee.
 9 Deliuer me, O Lorde, from mine enemies: for I hid me with thee.
 10 Teache me to do thy wil, for thou art my God: let thy good Spirit leade me vnto the land of righteoulines.
 11 Quickne me, O Lord, for thy Names sake, and for thy righteoulines bring my soule out of trouble.
 12 And for thy mercie flap mine ene-

PSAL. CXLII.

The Prophet neuer asonied with feare, nor caried away with anger, nor forced by desperation, would kill Saul, but with a quiet mind directed his earnest prayer to God, who did preferre him.

A Psalm of David, to giue instruction, and a prayer, when he was in the caue.

I cried vnto the Lorde with my voyce:
 with my voice I prayed vnto the Lorde.
 2 I powred out my meditation before him, and declared mine affliction in his presence.
 3 Though my spirit was in perplexitie in me, yet thou knewest my path: in the wap, wherein I walked, haue they my laid a snare for me.
 4 I looked vpon my right hand, and be-helde, but there was none that woulde know me: all refuge failed me, & none cared for my soule.
 Then cried I vnto thee, O Lord, & laide, Thou art mine hope, and my portion in the land of the liuing.
 6 Hearken vnto my crye, for I am brought verie lowe: deliuer me from my persecuters, for they are to strong for me.
 7 Bring my soule out of prison, that I may praise thy Name: then shall the righteous come about me, when thou art beneficiall vnto me.

f To wit, thy great benefices of olde, and the manifold examples of thy fauour toward thine. g That is, speedily and in due season. h Let thine holy Spirit counsell me howe to come forth of these great cares & troubles. i I hid my selfe vnder the shadow of thy wings, that I might be defended by thy power. k He con-fesseth that both the knowledge and obedience of Gods will cometh by the Spirit of God, who teacheth vs by his word, giueth vnderstanding by his Spirit, and frameth our heares by his grace to obey him. l That is, iustly and aright: for so soone as we decline from Gods will, we fall into errour. m Which shall be a signe of thy fatherly kindnes toward me. n Refigning my selfe wholly vnto thee, and trusting in thy protection.

A Psalm

PSAL. CXLIII.

An earnest prayer for remission of finnes, acknowledging that the enemies did thus

¶ A Psalme of Dauid.

a Who of a poore shepheard hath made me a valiant warrior and mightie conquerour.
 b He confesseth that neither by his owne autoritie, power nor policie his kingdome was quiet, but by the secret grace of God.
 c To giue vnto God iust praise, is to confesse our selues to be vnworthie of so excellent benefices, and that he bestoweth them vpon vs of his free mercie.
 d He desireth God to continue his graces and to send helpe for the present necessitie.
 e By these manner of speeches he sheweth that all the lets in the world can not hinder Gods power, which he apprehended by faith.
 f That is, deliuer me from the tumults of them that should be my people, but are corrupt in their judgement and enterprises, as though they were strangers.
 g For though they shake hands, yet they keepe not promises.
 h That is, a rare and excellent song, as thy great benefices deserue.
 i Though wicked kings be called Gods seruants, as Cyrus, Isai 45. 1, forasmuch as hee vseth them to execute his iudgements: yet Dauid because of Gods promises, and they, that rule godly, are properly so called, because they serue not their owne affections, but set forth Gods glorie.
 k He desireth God to continue his benefites toward his people, counting y generation of children and their good education among the chiefest of Gods benefices.
 l That the very corners of our houses may be full of store for the great abundance of thy blessings.
 m He attributed not only the great commodities, but euen the least also to Gods fauour.
 n And if God giue not to all his children all these blessings, yet he recompenseth them with better things.

Blessed be y Lord my strength, which teacheth mine handes to fight, and my fingers to battel.
 He is my goodnes and my fortresse, my towne and my deliuerer, my shield, and in myn I trust, which subdueth my people vnder me.
 Lorde, what is man that thou regardest him! or the sonne of man that thou thinkest vpon him!
 What is like to vanitie: his dapes are like a shadow, that vanishech.
 How thine heauens, O Lord, & come downe: touch the mountains and they shall smoke.
 Cast forth the lightning and scatter them: shoote out thine arrowes, and consume them.
 Send thine hand from aboue: deliuer mee, and take me out of the great waters, and from the hand of strangers, Whose mouth talketh vanitie, & their right hande is a right hande of falshood.
 I will sing a newe song vnto thee, O God, and sing vnto thee vpon a viole, and an instrument of ten strings.
 It is he that giueth deliuerance vnto kings, and rescueth Dauid his seruant from the hurtful sword.
 Rescue mee, and deliuer mee from the hande of strangers, whose mouth talketh vanitie, and their right hande is a right hand of falshood:
 That our sonnes may be as y plants growing vp in their pouth, and our daughters as the corner stones, grauen after the similitude of a palace:
 That our coners may be full, and abounding with diuers sorts, & that our sheepe may bring forth thousands and ten thousand in our streets:
 That our oren may be strong to labour: that there be none inuasion, nor going out, nor no crying in our streets.
 Blessed are the people, that be so, yea, blessed are the people, whose God is the Lord.

describeth the wonderfull prouidence of God, as well in governing man, as in preferring all the rest of his creatures. 17 Hee praifeth God for his iustice and mercie, 18 But specially for his louing kindnes toward those that call vpon him, which feare him, and loue him: 21 For the which he promifeth to praise him for euer.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid of praise.

Opp God and King, I will extoll thee, and will blese thy Name for euer and euer.
 I will blese thee dayly, and praise thy Name for euer and euer.
 Great is the Lord, and most worthy to be praised, and his greatnes is incomprehensible.
 Generation shall praise thy workes vnto generation, and declare thy power.
 I will meditate of the beautie of thy glorious manshie, and thy wonderfull workes.
 And thy shall speake of the power of thy fearful actes, and I will declare thy greatnes.
 Thy shall breake out into the mention of thy great goodnes, and shall sing a loude of thy rightousnes.
 The Lord is gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and of great mercie.
 The Lord is good to all, and his mercies are ouer all his workes.
 All thy workes praise thee, O Lord, and thy Saintes blese thee.
 They shew the glory of thy kingdome and speake of thy power,
 To cause his power to be known to the sonnes of men, and the glorious renowne of his kingdome.
 Thy kingdome is an euerlasting kingdome, & thy dominion endureth through out all ages.
 The Lord vpholdeth all that fall, and lifreth vp all that are ready to fall.
 The eyes of all waite vpon thee, and thou gnest them their meat in due season.
 Thou openest thine hand, and fillest all things lining of thy good pleasure.
 The Lord is righteous in all his wayes, and holp in all his workes.

a He sheweth what sacrifices are pleasant and acceptable vnto God: euen praise and thanksgiving, and seeing that God fill continueth his benefices toward vs, we ought neuer to be wearie in praising him for the same.
 b Herebye he declareth that all power is subiect vnto God, and that no worldly promotio ought to obfure Gods glorie.
 c Forasmuch as the end of mans creation, and of his presentation in this life is to praise God, therefore he requireth y not onely we our selues do this, but cause all other to do the same.
 d Of thy terrible iudgements against the wicked, Exod. 34. 6.
 e He describeth after what sort God sheweth himselfe to all his creatures, though our finnes have provoked his vengeance against all: to wit, mercifull, not only in pardoning the finnes of his elect, but in doing good euen to the reprobate, albeit they cannot seele the sweete comfort of the same. f The praise of thy glorie appeareth in all thy creatures: and though the wicked would obfure the same by their silence, yet the faithfull are euer mindfull of the same. g Hee sheweth that all things are out of order, but onely where God reigneth. Luke 11. 33. dan. 7. 14. h Who being in miserie and affliction would faint and fall away, if God did not vpholde them, and therefore they ought to reuerence him, that reigneth in heauen, & suffer themselves to be gouerned by him. i To wit, as well of man, as of beast. k He praifeth God, not only for y he is beneficial to all his creatures, but also in that y he iustly punisheth y wicked, & mercifully examineth his by the crosse, giuing them strengch & deliuering them.

PSAL. CXLV.

This Psalme was composed, when the kingdome of Dauid flourished, 1 Wherein he

1 Which onely appertaineth to the faithfull: and this vertue is contrary to infidelitie, doubting, impaciencie and murmuring.

18 The Lord is neere vnto all that call vpon him: yea, to all that call vpon him in truth.
 19 He will fulfill the desire of them that feare him: he also will heare their cry, and will saue them.
 20 The Lord preferreth al them that loue him: but he will destroy all the wicked.
 21 By mouth shall speake the praise of the Lord, and all flesh shall blisse his holy Name for euer and euer.

1. Iohn 5. 14. n That is, all men shalbe his wisdom.

PSAL. CXLVI.

4 David declareth his great zeale that he hath to praise God, 3 And teacheth, not to trust in man, but onely in God almightie, 7 Which deliuereth the afflicted, 9 Defendeth the strangers, comforteth the fatherles, and the widowes, 10 And reigneth for euer.

¶ Praise ye the Lord.

1 Praise thou the Lord, O my soule.
 2 I will praise the Lord during my life: as long as I haue any being, I will sing vnto my God.
 3 But not pour trust in princes, nor in the sonne of man, for there is none help in him.
 4 His breath departeth, and he returneth to his earth: then his thoughts perish.
 5 Blessed is he, that hath the God of Jaakob for his helpe, whose hope is in the Lord his God.
 6 Which made heauen and earth, the sea, and all that therein is: which keepeth his felicitie for euer.
 7 Which executeth iustice for the oppressed: which giueth bread to the hungry: the Lord looeth the prisoners.
 8 The Lord giueth sight to the blinde: the Lord raiseth vp the crooked: the Lord looeth the righteous.
 9 The Lord heareth the s strangers: he reliueth the fatherles & widow: but he overthroweth the wap of the wicked.
 10 The Lord shall reigne for euer: O Zion, thy God endureth from generation to generation. Praise ye the Lord.

a He stirreth vp himselfe and all his affections to praise God.
 b That God may haue the whole praise: wherein he forbiddeth al vaine confidence, shewing that of nature we are more inclined to put our trust in creatures, then in God the Creator.
 c As their vaine opinions, whereby they flattered themselves, and so imagined wicked enterprises.
 d He encourageth the godly to trust onely in the Lord, both for his power is able to deliuer them from al danger, and for his promes like his wil is most readie to do it.
 e Whose faith and patience for a while he tryeth, but at length he punisheth the aduersaries, that he may be knowne to be iudge of the world. f Though hee visit them by affliction, hunger, imprisonment & such like, yet his Fatherly loue and pitie neuer faileth them, yea rather, to his these are signes of his loue. g Meaning all them, that are destitute of worldly meanes and succour. h He assureth the Church that God reigneth for euer for the preservation of the fame.

PSAL. CXLVII.

1 The Prophet praiseth the boundlesse wisdom, power, iustice and providence of God vpon all his creatures, 2 But specially vpon his Church, which he gathereth together after their dispersion, 19 Declaring his word & iudgements: so vnsto them, as he hath done to none other people.

1 Praise ye the Lord, for it is good to sing vnto our God: for it is a pleasant thing, and praise is counsell.
 2 The Lord doeth build vp Jerusalem, and gather together the dispersed of Israel.
 3 He healeth those that are broken in heart, and bindeth vp their fores.
 4 He counteth the number of the starres, and calleth them all by their names.
 5 Great is our Lord, & great is his power: his wisdom is infinite.
 6 The Lord reliueth the mecke, and abaseth the wicked to the ground.
 7 Sing vnto the Lord with praise: sing vnto the harpe vnto our God,
 8 Which couereth the heauen with cloudes, and prepareth raine for the earth, and maketh the grasse to grow vpon the mountaines:
 9 Which giueth to beasts their foode, and to the pong rauens that cry.
 10 He hath not pleasure in the strength of an horse, neither delighteth hee in the legs of man.
 11 But the Lord delighteth in them that feare him, and attend vpon his mercie.
 12 Praise the Lord, O Jerusalem: praise thy God, O Zion.
 13 For hee hath made the barres of thy gates strong, and hath blessed thy children within thee.
 14 He setteth peace in thy borders, and satisfieth thee with the flour of wheat.
 15 He sendeth forth his commandement vpon earth, and his word runneth very swift.
 16 He giueth snow like wool, and scattereth the hoare frost like ashes.
 17 Hee casteth forth his pee like moystes: who can abide the cold thereof?
 18 Hee sendeth his word & melteth them: he causeth his winde to blowe, and the waters flowe.
 19 He sheweth his word vnto Jaakob, his statutes and his iudgements vnto Israel.
 20 He hath not delt so with euery nation, neither haue they known his iudgements. Praise ye the Lord.

a He sheweth wherein wee ought to exercise our selues continually, & to take our pastime: to wit, in praising God.
 b Because the Lord is the founder of his Church, it cannot be destroyed, though the members thereof be dispersed, & seeme, as it were, for a time to be cut off.
 c With affliction, or sorrow for sinne.
 d Though it seeme to man incredible, yet God should assemble his Church, being so dispersed, yet nothing can be so harde to him, yet can number and name all the starres.
 e For the more high that wicked clime, the greater is their fall in the end.
 f He sheweth by the examples of Gods mighty power, goodness and wisdom, yet wee can neuer want most iust occasio to praise God.
 g For their crying is as it were a confession of their needs, which can not be relieued, but by God only: then if God shew himselfe mindfull of the most contemptible foules, can he suffer them to die with famine, whom he hath assured of life euer lasting? h Though to vse lawfull meanes is both profitable and pleafeh God, yet to put our trust in them, is to deserre God of his honour. i He doth not onely furnish his Church with all things necessary, but preferueth also the same, & maketh it strong against all outward force. k His secret working in all creatures is as a commandement to keepe them in order, and to giue them mouing and foree. l For immediately and without resisting, al things obey him. m As before he called Gods secret working in all his creatures his word: so he meaneth here, by his word, yet doctrine of life euertlasting, which he hath left to his Church, as a most precious treasure. n The cause of this difference is Gods free mercy, which hath elected his in his sonne Christ Iesus to saluation: and his iust iudgement, whereby he hath appointed yet reprobate to eternal damnation.

PSAL. CXLVIII.

1 He prosoketh all creatures to praise the Lorde in heauen and earth and all places, 14 Specially his Church, for the power that he hath given to the same after that he had chosen them and ioyned them vnto
him.

¶ Praise pe the Lord.

1 Praise pe the Lorde from the heauen: praise pe him in the high plasces.
2 Praise pe him, al pe his Angles: praise him, all his armie.
3 Praise pe him, b sunne & moone: praise pe him all bright starres.
4 Praise pe him, c heauens of heauens, and d waters, that be about the hea-uens.
5 Let them praise the Name of the Lorde:
for he commanded, and they were created.
6 And he hath established them for euer and euer: hee hath made an ordinance, which shall not passe.
7 Praise pe the Lorde from the earth, ye e dragons and all depths:
8 f ffre and hable, snowe and vapours, fogge and raine, which execute his
worde:
9 Mountaines & all hills, fruitfull trees and all cedars:
10 Beasts and all cattel, creeping things and fethered fowles:
11 s Kings of the earth & all people, princes and all iudges of the worlde:
12 Yong men & maydens, also olde men and children:
13 Let them praise the Name of the Lorde:
for his Name onely is to bee exalted, and his praise about the earth and the heauens.
14 For he hath exalted the h home of his people, which is a praise for all his Saintes, euen for the i children of Israel, a people that is iere vnto him. Praise pe the Lorde.

a Because they are members of the same bodie, he seeth them before our eyes, which are most willing hereunto, and by their prompt obedience teache vs to doe our dutie.
b In that Gods glorie shineth in these insensibible creatures, this their beautie is as a continual praying of God.
c Not that there are diuers heaues, but because of the spheres and of the situation of the fixed starres and planets: he comprehendeth by this word the whole heauen.
d That is, the rayne, which is in the middle region of the ayre, which he here comprehendeth vnder the name of the heauens.
e Meaning, the great and monstrous fishes, as whales and such like.
f Which come not by chance or fortune, but by Gods appoynted ordinance.
g For the greater giftes that any hath receyued, and the more high that one is preferred, the more bounde is he to praise God for the same: but neyther high nor lowe condition or degree can be exempted from this dutie.
h That is, the dignitie, power and glorie of his Church.
i By reason of his couenant made with Abraham.

¶ Praise pe the Lorde.
1 Sing pe vnto the Lorde a new song:
let his praise be heard in the Congregation of Saints.
2 Let Israel reioyce in him that b made him, and let the children of Zion reioyce in their c King.
3 Let them praise his Name with d flute:
let them sing praises vnto him with the timbell and harpe.
4 For the Lord hath pleasure in his people: he wil make the meeke glorious by deliuerance.
5 Let the Saintes be ioyfull with glorie:
let them sing loude vpon their d beddes.
6 Let the high Actes of God be in their mouth, and a two edged sword in their handes.
7 e To execute vengeance vpon the heathen, and corrections among the people:
8 To binde f their kings in chaines, and their nobles with fetters of yron, 9 That they may execute vpon them the iudgement that is e written: this hoznour shall be to all his Saintes. Praise
pe the Lorde.
10 To that continual rest, and quietnes, which they shoulde haue, if they would suffer God to rule them.
e This is chiefly accomplished in the kingdome of Christ, when Gods people for iust causes execute Gods iudgements against his enemies: and it giueth no libertie to any to reuenge their priuate iniuries: f Not only the people, but the Kings that were their enemies, shoulde be destroyed.
g Her by God bindeth the hands & mindes of all his to enterprise no farther then he appoynteth.

a For his care and manifolde benefices bestowed on his Church.
b In that that they were preferred before all other nations, it was as a newe creation, and therefore Psal. 95.7, they were called the sheep of Gods hands.
c For God as he is the Creator of the soule and bodie, so will he that both two serue him, and that his people be continually subiect vnto him, as to their most lawfull King.
d He alludeth to that continual rest, and quietnes, which they shoulde haue, if they would suffer God to rule them.
e This is chiefly accomplished in the kingdome of Christ, when Gods people for iust causes execute Gods iudgements against his enemies: and it giueth no libertie to any to reuenge their priuate iniuries: f Not only the people, but the Kings that were their enemies, shoulde be destroyed.
g Her by God bindeth the hands & mindes of all his to enterprise no farther then he appoynteth.

PSAL. CXLIX.

1 An exhortation to praise the Lord without cease by all manner of wayes for all his mightie, and wonderfull workes.

¶ Praise pe the Lord.

1 Praise pee God in his a Sanctuarie: praise pee him in the b firmament of his power.
2 Praise pe him in his mightie Actes:
praise pe him according to his excellent greatnes.
3 Praise pe him in the sound of the c trumpet: praise pee him vpon the viol and the harpe.
4 Praise pe him with timbell and flute:
praise pee him with virginales and organs.
5 Praise pe him with sounding cymbals:
praise pe him with high sounding cyrn-bales.
6 Let euery thing that hath d breath praise the Lord. Praise pe the Lord.

a That is, in the heauen.
b For his wonderfull power
c Appeareth in the firmament, which in Ebrewe is called a stretching out, or spreading abroad, wherein the myghtie worke of God shineth.
d Exhorting the people onely to reioyce in praying God, hee maketh mention of those instruments which by Gods commandement were appoynted in the olde Lawe, but vnder Christ the vse thereof is abolished in the Church.
d He sheweth that all the order of nature is bound to this dutie, & much more Gods children, who ought neuer to cease to praise him, til they be gathered into that kingdome, which he hath prepared for his, where they shall sing euerlasting praye.

PSAL. CXLIX.

1 An exhortation to the Church to praise the Lord for his victorie & conquest that he giueth his Saines agaynst all mans power.

THE *PROVERBS OF Salomon.

THE ARGUMENT.

* This word Proverbe, or parable signifieth a graue & notable sentēce, worthwhile to be kept in memorie: and is sometime taken in y^e euill part for a mock, or scoffe

THe wonderfull loue of God towarde his Church is declared in this booke: forasmuch as the summe and esse^t of the whole Scriptures is here set forth in these brieue sentences, which partly containe doctrine, and partly manners, & also exhortations to both. Whereof the nine first chapters are as a preface full of graue sentences, & deepe mysteries, to allure the hearts of men to the diligent reading of the parables that followe: which are left as a most precious jewel to the Church, of those three thousand parables mentioned 1. King. 4. 32, & were gathered and committed to writing by Salomons seruants, and indited by him.

CHAP. I.

1 The power and vse of the worde of God. 7 Of the feare of God and knowledge of his worde. 10 VVise may not consent to the insinings of sinners. 10 VVise done complayneth that she is contemned. 24 The punishment of them that contemne her.

a That is, what wee ought to know & followe, and what we ought to refuse.
b Meaning, the word of God wherein is y^e only true knowledge.
c To learne to submit our selues to the correction of those that are wise.
d By liuing iustly, and rendering to euery man that which appertaineth vnto him.
e To such as haue not discrecion to rule themselves.
f As he sheweth that these parables containing the effect of religion as touching manners & doctrine do appertaine to the simple people: so doth he declare that the same is also necessarie for them that are wise and learned.
Psal. 111. 101.
eccles. 1. 16.
g He speaketh this in the Name of God, which is the vniuersal Father of al creatures, or in the name of the pastor of y^e church, who is as a father.
h That is, of the Church, wherein the faithfull are begotten by y^e incorruptible seede of Gods word. * Ebr. increase of grace. i To wit, the wicked, which haue not y^e feare of God. k He speaketh not only of the shedding of blood with hand, but of al crafty practices which tend to the detriment of our neighbour. l As the graue is neuer filliate, so the auarice of the wicked & their crueltye hath none end. m He sheweth whereby y^e wicked are allured to ioyne together, because they haue euery one part of the spoyle of the innocent.

The Parables of Salomon the soue of Dauid King of Israel.

- 2 To knowe wise done, and instruction, to vnderstand h words^b of knowledge,
- 3 To receiue instruction to do wisely, by iustice and iudgement and equitie,
- 4 To giue vnto the simple sharpnes of witte, and to the childe knowledge and discrecion.
- 5 A wise man shall heare and increase in learning, and a man of vnderstanding shall attaine vnto wise counsels,
- 6 To vnderstande a parable, and the interpretation, the words of the wise, and their darke sayings.
- 7 ¶ The feare of the Lorde is the beginning of knowledge: but foolles despise wisdom and instruction.
- 8 Wp^e some, heare thy^s fathers instruction, and for^eake not thy^m mothers teaching.
- 9 For they shall be a comely ornament vnto thine head, and as chames for thy necke.
- 10 ¶ Wp^e some, if sinners do intise thee, consent thou not.
- 11 If they say, Come with vs, we will lay waite for^e blood, and we will primy for the innocent without a cause:
- 12 We wil swallowe them up aliuie like a graue euen whole, as those that goe downe into the pit:
- 13 We shall finde all precious riches, & fill our houses with spoyle:
- 14 Cast in thy lot among vs: we will all haue one^m purse:

- 15 Wp^e some, walke not thou in the waye with them: reftaine thy foote from theirⁿ path.
- 16 For their feete runne to euill, & make haste to shedde blood.
- 17 Certainely as without cause the nette is spread befoze the eyes of all that hath wing:
- 18 So they lay waite for blood and lye vniuil for^e their liues.
- 19 Such are the wayes of euery one that is greedy of gaine: he would take awaye the^r life of the owners thereof.
- 20 ¶ A Wisdome crieth without: she uttereth her voyce in the^s streetes.
- 21 She calleth in the hie streete among the people in the entring of the gates, and uttereth her wordes in the citie, saying,
- 22 Wp^e foolish, how long wil ye loue foolishnes: and the scornful take their pleasure in scoping, & the foolles hate knowledge?
- 23 Turne you at my correction: lo, I will poyse out my minde vnto you, & make you vnderstand my wordes)
- 24 Because I haue called, and ye refused: I haue stretched out mine hande, and none would regard.
- 25 But ye haue despised all my counsell, and would none of my correction.
- 26 I wil also laugh at your destruction, and mocke, when your feare cometh,
- 27 When^e your feare cometh like sudden desolation, and your destruction shall come like a whirlewinde: when affliction and anguish shall come vpon you,
- 28 Then shall they call vpon me, but I wil not answere: they shall seeke mee early, but they shall not^e finde me,
- 29 Because they hated knowledge, & did not chule the feare of the Lorn.
- 30 They woulde none of my counsell, but y^e despised all my correction.
- 31 Therefore shall they eate of the^s fruite of their owne waye, & be filled with their owne deuices.
- 32 For^e a rafe slappeth the foolishhe, and the prosperitie of foolles destroyeth them.
- 33 But hee that obeyeth mee, shall dwell safely: and be quiet from feare of euill.

n That is, haue nothing at all to doe with them.
o He sheweth that there is no cause to moue these wicked to spoyle the innocent, but their auarice and crueltye.
p Whereby he concludeth that the couetous man is a murderer.
q This wisdom is the eternall word of God.
r So that none can pretende ignorance.
s Wisdom reproveth three kindes of men: y^e foolish or simple, which erre of ignorance, & the mockers, that canot suffer to be taught, and the foolles which are drowned in worldly lustes, and haue the knowledge of godlines.
t This is spoken according to our capacitie, signifying that y^e wicked, which mocke and jest at Gods word, shall haue the iust rewarde of their mocking.
u That is, your destruction, which thing you fearest.
x Because they sought not with an affection to God, but for ease of their owne griefe.
y Shewing that without faith and obedience we cannot call vpon God aright.
z They shall feele what commoditie their wicked life shall giue them.
a That is, the prosperitie, and sensualitie, wherein they delite.

CHAP. II.

1 Wisdomme exhorteth to obey her. 2 She teacheth the feare of God. 3 She is giuen of God. 4 She preserveth from wickednes.

1 MY sonne, if thou wilt receiue my wordes, and hide my commandements within thee,
 2 And cause thine eares to hearken vnto wisdomme, and encline thine heart to vnderstanding,
 3 (For if thou callest after knowledge, and criest for vnderstanding:
 4 If thou seekest her as silver, and searchest for her as for treasures,
 5 Then shalt thou vnderstand the feare of the Lord, and finde the knowledge of God.
 6 For the Lord giueth wisdomme, out of his mouth commeth knowledge & vnderstanding.
 7 He preferreth the state of the righteous: hee is a shield to them that walke by right.
 8 That they may keepe the wayes of iudgement: and he preferreth the way of his Sauour.
 9 Then shalt thou vnderstand rightnesse, and iudgement, and equitie, & shew good path.
 10 When wisdomme entred into thine heart, & knowledge deliteth thy soule, 11 Then shalt thou counsel preserve thee, & vnderstanding shall keepe thee, 12 And deliuer thee from the euil way, & from the man that speaketh froward things, 13 And from them that leaue the wayes of rightnesse to walke in the wayes of darkenesse:
 14 Which reioyce in doyng euill, and despit in the frowardnes of the wicked, 15 Whose wayes are crooked & they are lewd in their paths.
 16 And it shall deliuer thee from the strange woman, euen from the stranger, which flattereth with her wordes.
 17 Which forsaketh the guide of her mouth, and forgetteth the covenant of her God.
 18 Surely her house tendeth to death, & her pathes vnto the dead.
 19 All they that go vnto her, returne not againe, neither take they holde of the wayes of life.
 20 Therefore walke thou in the way of good men, and keepe the wayes of the righteous.
 21 For the lust shall dwell in the land, and the bright men shall remaine in it.
 22 But the wicked shall be cut off from the earth, and the transgressors shall be rooted out of it.

a That is, keepe them in thine heart.
 b If thou giue thy selfe to the true knowledge of God without hypocricie.
 c Meaning, that we must seeke the knowledge of God with care and diligence.
 d Shewing that no labour must be spared.
 e This (saith he) is the true wisdomme, to know and feare God.
 f Or, hideth the saluation.

f The worde of God shall teach thee and counsel thee how to gouerne thy selfe.
 g That is, the worde of God, which is y only light, to follow their owne fantasies which are darkenes.
 h When they see any giuen to euil as they are.
 i Meaning, that wisdomme, which is the worde of God, shall preserve vs from all vices: naming this vice of whoredome whereunto man is most prone.
 k That is, her husband, which is her heart and guide to gouern her, from whom she ought not to depart, but remaine in his subiection. I Which is, the promise made in marriage. In her acquaintance with her familiars and the that haunt her. n To them that are dead in body and soule. o They shall enjoy the temporal and spirituall promises of God, as the wicked shall be voyde of them.

CHAP. III.

1 The word of God giueth life. 2 Trust in God. 3 Fears him. 4 Honour him. 5 Suffer his correction. 6 To them that follow the worde of God, all things shall succede well.

1 MY sonne, forget not thou my law, but let thine heart keepe my commandements.
 2 For thy shall increas the length of thy dayes and the peeres of life, and thy prosperitie.
 3 Let not binerpey and truth forsake thee: binde them on thy necke, & write them vpon the table of thine heart.
 4 So shalt thou finde fauour and good vnderstanding in the sight of God and man.
 5 Trust in the Lord with all thine heart, and leane not vnto thine owne wisdomme.
 6 In all thy wayes acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy wayes.
 7 Be not wise in thine owne eyes: but feare the Lord, and depart from euill.
 8 So health shall be vnto thy nauell, and marrow vnto thy bones.
 9 Honour the Lord with thy riches, and with the first fruites of all thine increase.
 10 So shall thy barnes be filled with abundance, and thy presses shall burst with new wine.
 11 My sonne, refuse not the chaffening of the Lord, neither be grieued with his correction.
 12 For if the Lord correcteth him, whom he loneth, euen as the father doeth the child in whom he deliteth.
 13 Blessed is the man that findeth wisdomme, and the man that getteth vnderstanding.
 14 For the marchandise thereof is better then the marchandise of silver, and the gaue thereof is better then gold.
 15 It is more precious then pearles: and all thinges that thou canst desire, are not to be compared vnto her.
 16 Length of dayes is in her right hand, and in her left hand riches and glory.
 17 Her wayes are wayes of pleasure, and all her paths prosperitie.
 18 She is a tree of life to them that laye hold on her, and blessed is he that retapneth her.
 19 The Lord by wisdomme hath layed the foundation of the earth, and hath stablished the heauens throug vnderstanding.
 20 By his knowledge the depths are broken by, and the cloudes droppe downe the dewe.
 21 My sonne, let not these thinges depart

Deut. 32. & 30. 14
 a Long life is the blessing of God which he giueth to his, so farre forth as it is expedient for the. b By mercy and truth, he meaneth the commandements of the first & second table: or els y mercy & faithfulness that we ought to vse toward our neighbours. c Keep them as a most precious jewell. d Haue them enter in remembrance.

e By this part he comprehendeth the whole body, as by health he meaneth all the benefites promised in the Lawe both corporall & spiritual.
 f As was commanded in the Law, Exod. 23. 19. Deut. 26. 2. & by this they acknowledged y God was the giuer of all thinges, and y they were ready to bestow all at his commandement.
 g For to y faithfull distributor God giueth in greater abundance. Hebr. 2. 5. reue. 3. 12.
 h Meaning, that he that seeketh wisdomme: that is, suffreth himselfe to be gouerned by the worde of God, shall haue all prosperitie both corporall and spiritual. i Which bringeth forth such fruites that they that eate thereof, haue life: and he alludeth to y tree of life in Paradise. k Hereby he sheweth that this wisdomme, whereof he speaketh, is euerslasting, because it was before all creatures, and that all thinges, euen the whole worlde were made by it.

front thine eyes, but obserue wisdome, and counsel.

22 So they shall be life to thy soule, & grace vnto thy necke.

23 When shalt thou walke safely by thy way: and thy foote shall not stumble.

24 If thou sleepest, thou shalt not be afraid, and when thou sleepest, thy sleepe shall be swete.

25 Thou shalt not feare for any sudder feare, neither for the destruction of the wicked, when it cometh.

26 For the Lorde shall be for thine assistance, and shall preferre thy foote from taking.

27 Withholde not the good from the owners thereof, though there be power in thine hand to do it.

28 Say not vnto thy neighbour, Go and come againe, and to morrow will I giue thee, if thou now haue it.

29 I Intend none hurt against thy neighbour, seeing he doth dwell without feare by thee.

30 Striue not with a man causeles, whē he hath done thee no harme.

31 Be not enuious for the wicked man, neither chuse any of his wayes.

32 For the froward is abomination vnto the Lorde: but his secret is with the righteous.

33 The curse of the Lorde is in the house of the wicked: but he blesteth the habitation of the righteous.

34 With the scornful he scorneth, but he giueth grace vnto the humble.

35 The wise shall inherite glory: but fooles dishonour, though they be exalted.

CHAP. IIII.

1 *VV*isdome and her fruites ought to be searched. 14 The way of the wicked must be refused. 20 By the worde of God the heart, eyes and course of life must be guided.

1 Hear, O ye children, the instruction of a father, and giue eare to learne vnderstanding.

2 For I do giue you a good doctrine: therefore forsake ye not my law.

3 For I was my fathers loue, tender and deare in the sight of my mother.

4 When he taught me, and said vnto me, Let thine hart hold fast my words: keepe my commandements, and thou shalt liue.

5 Get wisdome: get vnderstanding: for get not, neither decline from the wordes of my mouth.

6 Forsake her not, & she shall keepe thee: loue her: and she shall preferre thee.

7 Wisdome is the beginning: get wisdome therefore: and aboute all thy possession get vnderstanding.

8 Cralt her, and she shall cralt thee: she shall bring thee to honour, if thou embrace her.

9 She shall giue a comely ornament vnto to thine head, yea, she shall giue thee a crowne of glory.

10 I Heare, my sonne, and receiue my wordes, and the peres of thy life shall be man.

11 I haue taught thee in the way of wisdome, and led thee in the paths of righteousness.

12 When thou goest, thy gate shall not be strait, & when thou rimest, thou shalt not fall.

13 Take hold of instruction, & leaue not: keepe her, for she is thy life.

14 Enter not into the way of the wicked, & walke not in the way of euill men.

15 Auoid it, & go not by it: turne from it, and passe by.

16 For they can not sleepe, except they haue done euill, and their sleepe departeth, except they cause some to fall.

17 For they eate the bread of wickednes, and drinke the wine of violence.

18 But the way of the righteous shineth as the light, that shineth more & more vnto the perfect day.

19 The way of the wicked is as the darkness: they know not wherein they shall fall.

20 I Heepry sonne, hearken vnto my words, incline thine eare vnto my sayings.

21 Let them not depart from thine eyes, but keepe them in the middes of thine heart.

22 For they are life vnto those that finde them, and health vnto all their flesh.

23 Keepe thine heart with all diligence: for therout cometh life.

24 But away fro thee a froward mouth, and put wicked lips fure from thee.

25 Let thine eyes beholde the right, and let thine eye liddes direct thy way before thee.

26 Wonder the path of thy feete, and let all thy wayes be ordered aright.

27 Turne not to the right hand, nor to the left, but remove thy foote from euill.

CHAP. V.

1 *VV*horedome forbidden. 9 And prodigality. 15 He willeth a man to lue on his labours & to helpe others. 18 To loue his wife. 22 The wicked taken in their owne wickednes.

1 My sonne, hearken vnto my wisdome, & incline thine eare vnto my knowledge.

2 That thou mayest regard counsel, and thy lips obserue knowledge.

3 For the lips of a strange woman drop as an honie combe, and her mouth is more soft then bryere.

4 But the end of her is bitter as wormewood, and sharpe as a two edged sword.

5 Her feete go down to death, and her steps take hold on hell.

6 She weigeth not the way of life: her paths are moueable: thou canst not know them.

7 Heare ye me now therefore, O childre, and depart not from the wordes of my mouth.

e Salomō declarēth what care his father had to bring him vp in the true feare of God: for this was Dauids protestation. f Thou shalt walke at libertie without offence. g Meaning, y so do euil is more proper and naturall to y wicked, then to sleepe, eate or drinke. h Goddē by wicked meanes and cruel oppression. i Signifying that y godly increase daily in knowledge & perfection, til they come to full perfection, which is, when they shall be ioyned to their head in the beaens. k That is, they shall haue health of body, vnder the which all other blessings promised in the law are conteyned. l For as y heart is either pure or corrupt, so is the whole course of mans life. m Keepe a measure in all thy doings.

Or, vnderstanding.
a That is, an hart which giueth her selfe to another then to her husband.
b By oyle & honie he meaneth flattering and crafty incitements.
c All her doings lead to destruction.
d She hath euen new meanes to allure to wickednes.

Or, throte, read Chap. 9.
f For when God destroyeth the wicked, he will saue his, as he did Lot in Sodom.
m Not onely from them to whom the possession belongeth, but also thou shalt not keepe it from the, which haue need of the vsetherof.
n That is, puttesth his trust in thee.
o Desire not to be like vnto him.
p That is, his countenance & fatherly affection which is hid and secret from the world.
q He will shew by his plagues y their scornes shall turne to their owne destruction, as Chap. 1. 26.

a He speaketh this in the person of a preacher & minister, which is as a father vnto the people, read Chap. 1. 8.
b In Ebrew it is Only: for though she had three others by vriaiah, yet Salomon was onely her sonne by Dauid.
c Meaning, Dauid his father.
d He sheweth that we must first begin at Gods word, if so be we will that other things prosper with vs, contrary to the iudgement of the worlde, which make it their last study, or els, care not for it at all.

e That is thy strength & goods to her that will have no pittie vpon thee: as is read of Samfon, & the prodigall senné.

f The goods gotten by thy trauell.

g Although I was faithfully instructed in the truth, yet had I almost fallen to vtter shame and destruction, notwithstanding my good bringing vp in the assemblie of the godly.

h He teacheth vs sobriety, exhorting vs to liue of our owne labours and to be beneficiall to the godly that want.

i Distribute the not to the wicked and infields, but reuente them for thy selfe, thy familie and them that are of the household of faith.

k Thy children which shal come of thee in great abundance, blessing that God blesseth marriage & curseth whoredome. I Which thou didst marrie in thy youth. "Or, go astray with a stranger?"

m He declareth that except man doe ioyne to his wife both in heart and in outward conuerfation, that he shall not escape the iudgements of God.

n Because he will not giue eare to Gods worde and be admonished.

8 keepe thy way farre from her, & come not naxt the core of her house,

9 Least thou giue thine honour vnto others, and thy peres to the cracke:

10 Least the stranger should be filled with thy strength, and thy labours be in the house of a stranger,

11 And thou mourne at thine end, (when thou shalt confound thy selfe and thy bodie)

12 And say, How haue I hated instruction, and mine heart deuised correction!

13 And haue not obeyed the voyce of the that taught me, nor euincid mine eare to them that instructed me!

14 I was almost brought into all euill in the middes of the Congregation and assemblie,

15 I drinke the water of thyr life, and of the riuers out of the middes of thine owne well,

16 Let thy fountaines flow forth, and the riuers of waters in the streetes,

17 But let them be thine, euen thine onely, and not the strangers with thee,

18 Let thy fountaine be blessed, & reioyce with the wife of thy yout,

19 Let her be as the louing hynde and pleasant roe: let her be as the satiffie thee at all times, and delite in her foue continuall, 20 For why shouldest thou delite, my sonne, in a strange woman, or embrace the bosome of a stranger?

21 For the wapes of man are before the eyes of the Lord, and he pondereth all his paths,

22 His own iniquities shal take the wicked himselfe, & he shal be holden with the cordes of his owne sinne,

23 He shall die for fault of instruction, & shal go astray through his great folie,

1 Which thou didst marrie in thy youth. "Or, go astray with a stranger?"

2 He declareth that except man doe ioyne to his wife both in heart and in outward conuerfation, that he shall not escape the iudgements of God.

3 Because he will not giue eare to Gods worde and be admonished.

CHAP. VI.

1 Instruction for Suerities. 2 The foolish & fluggish a stirred to worke. 3 He denieth the nature of the wicked. 4 The things that God hateth. 5 To observe the word of God. 6 To see adulterie.

a He forbiddeth vs not to become sueritie one for another, according to the rule of charitie, but that we consider for whom and after what sort, so that the creditur may not be defrauded.

Man, if thou be sueritie for thy neighbour, & hast taken hands with the stranger,

2 Thou art shared with the wordes of thy mouth: thou art euen taken with the wordes of thy owne mouth,

3 Doth this not hurt thee, and be better thy selfe: seeing thou art come into the hand of thy neighbour, or, a quible thy selfe, and hast taken hands,

4 Mine eyes shall not see thine eyes, nor shall I be troubled with thine delusions,

5 Doth not thy sin come from the hand of the hunter, and as a bird from the hand of the fowler,

6 So to the pitifull, & fluggard: behold her wapes, and be wile,

7 For shee hauing no guide, gouernour, nor ruler,

8 Depareth her meate in the sommer, & gathereth her fode in harvest,

9 How long wilt thou sleepe, & fluggard? when wilt thou arise out of thy sleepe?

10 Yet a litle sleepe, a litle slumber, a litle folding of the hands to sleepe,

11 Therefore thy pouertie cometh as one that tranalyt by the way, & thy needfull like an armed man,

12 The vnbustie man and the wicked man walke together a froward mouth,

13 He maketh a signe with his eyes: he signifieth with his feete: he is instructed with his fingers,

14 He vede things are in his heart: he imagineth euill at all times, and rapeth by contentions,

15 Therefore shall his destruction come speedily: he shall be destroped suddenly without reuerie,

16 These five things doeth the Lord hate: his soule abhorreth seuen:

17 The haucie eyes, a lying tongue, and the hands that shed innocent blood,

18 An heart that imagineth wicked enterpises, feete that be swift in running to mischief,

19 A false witness that speaketh lies, and him that raishly by contentions and bethyren,

20 I My sonne, keepe thy fathers commandement, & forsake not thy mothers instruction,

21 Bind them about thy heart, and thre them alway vpon thy necke,

22 It shal leade thee, when thou walkest: it shal watche for thee, when thou sleepest, and when thou wakest, it shal talke with thee,

23 For the commandement is a lantern, and instruction a light: and corrections for instruction are the wape of life,

24 To keepe thee from the wicked woman, and from the flatterie of the tongue of a strange woman,

25 Desire not her beautie in thine heart, neither let her take thee with her eyes lides,

26 For because of the whoerish woman, a man is brought to a morsell of bread, and a woman wil hunt for the precious life of a man, 27 Can a man take fire in his bosome, and his clothes not be burnt?

28 Can a man go vpon coles, and his feete not be burnt?

29 So be that geth in to his neighbours wife, shal not be innocet, whoso euer toucheth her, b If the worde of God can not instruct thee, yet learne at the lile pifmire to labour for thy selfe and not to burden others.

Chap. 7. 33.

c He expresseth liuely the nature of the fluggards, which though they sleepe neuer so long, yet haue neuer y-nough, but euer seeke occasions thereunto.

d That is, suddenly, and when thou lookest not for it.

e It shal come in such sort as thou art not able to resist.

f He sheweth to what inconuenience the idle persons and fluggards come, by calling them vnchristie or the men of Belial, & slanderous.

"Ebr. speaketh."

g Thus all his gesture tendeth to wickednes.

h Meaning, the raging affections, which cary a man away in such sort that he cannot tell what he doeth.

"Or, neighbours."

i Reade Chap. 3. 3.

k By the commandement he meaneth y word of God: and by the instruction, the preaching & declaration of the same, which is committed to the Church.

l And reprehensions when the worde is preached bring vs to life.

m With her wanton looks and gesture. n Meaning, that shee will neuer cease tyll shee haue brought thee to beggerie, and then seeke thy destruction, o He approueth not this, but sheweth that it is not so abominable as whoredom, forasmuch as theft might be redemed: but adultery was a perpetual infamie, & death by the lawe of God.

 p Meaning, for very necessitie.
 q Ebr. fayleth in heart.
 r That is, death appointed by the Law. r He sheweth that man by nature seekech his death, that hath abused his wife, & so concludeth that neither Gods Law nor the law of nature admitteth any raineform for the adulterie.

30 He do not despise a thiefe, when he stealeth, to satisfie his soule, because he he is hungry.
 31 But if he be found, he shal restoge tenen folde, or he shall giue all the substance of his house.
 32 But he that committeth adultery with a woman, he is destitute of vnderstanding: he y doeth it, destropeth his own soule.
 33 Ifc shall finde a wound & dishonour, & his reproch shall neuer be put away.
 34 For i loue is the rage of a man: therefore he wil not spare in the day of vengeance.
 35 He cannot beare the sight of any raineform: neyther will hee consent, though thou augment the giftes.

aloes, and cynamom.
 18 Come, let vs take our fill of loue vntill the morning: let vs take our pleasure in baliance.
 19 For mine husbande is not at home: he is gone a iourney farre of.
 20 Hee hath taken with him a bagge of siluer, and wil come home at the day appointed.
 21 Thus with her great craft shee caused him to preide, and with her flattering lippes she entised him.
 22 And he followed her straight wayes, as an oxe that goeth to the slaughter, and as a foole to the stocks for correction.
 23 Till a dart strike through his liver, as a birde halleth to the snare, not knowing that he is in danger.
 24 I heare me now therefore, o children, & hearken to the words of my mouth.
 25 Let not thine heart decline to her waies: wander thou not in her paths.
 26 For she hath caused many to fall down wounded, and the strong men are all slayne by her.
 27 Her house is the way vnto the graue, which goeth downe to the chambers of death.

Ebr. in his hande.
 g Which thinking he goeth to pasture, goeth willingly to his own destruction, h Which goeth cheerfully, not knowing that he shalbe chastised.
 i Eneither wit nor strength can deliuer the that fall into the hands of the harlot.
Chap. a. 8.

CHAP. VII.

1 An exhortation to wisdom & to the worde of God, 5 VVhich will preserve vs from the harlots, 6 VVhose maneri are described.

a By this diuersitie of words he meaneth that no thing ought to be so deare vnto vs, as the word of God, nor that we looke on any thing more, nor minde any thing so much.
 b Salomon vseth this parable to declare their folly, y suffer themselves to be abused by harlots.
 c He sheweth that there was al most none so impudent, but they were afraid to be seen, & also their owne consciences did accuse them, which caused the to seeke the night to couer their filthines.
 d Or, garments.
 e Or, hid.
 f He describeth certaine conditions, which are peculiar to harlots.
 g Ebr. she strengthened her face.
 h Because that in peace offerings a portion returned to them that offered, she sheweth him that she hath meate at home to make good cheere y, or els she would vif come cloke of holines til she had gottē him in her snares. f Which declareth y harlots outwardly wil seeme holy & religious: both because they may the better deceiue others, & also thinking by obscuring of ceremonies & offerings, to make satisfaction for their sinnes. Or, earnest worke.

1 M y soule, keepe my wordes, & hide my commandementes with thee.
 2 Keepe my commandementes, and thou shalt liue, and mine instruction as the apple of thine eyes.
 3 Binde them vpon thy fingers, & write them vpon the table of thine heart.
 4 Say vnto wisdom, Thou art my sister: and call vnderstanding thy kintewoman.
 5 That they may keepe thee from the strange woman, euen from the stranger that is smooth in her words.
 6 For as I was in the windowe of myne house, I looked through my windowe.
 7 And I sawe among the foolcs, & considered among the children a pong man destitute of vnderstanding.
 8 Who passed through the streete by her couer, and went toward her house.
 9 In the twilight in the evening, when it might began to be blacke and darke.
 10 And beholde, there met him a woman with an harlots behauiour, & subtil in heart.
 11 She is babbling & loud: whose face cannot abide in her house.
 12 Now she is without, now in y streetes, and hath in waite at euery corner.
 13 So she caught him and kissed him and with an impudent face said vnto him, 14 I haue peace offerings: this day haue I payed my bowes.
 15 Therefore came I forth to meeete thee, that I might seeke thy face: and I haue found thee.
 16 I haue deckt my bed with ornaments, & carpets and laces of Egypt.
 17 I haue perfumed my bed w myrre,

1 VVisdomē declaresh her excellencie, 21 Riches, 25 Power, 22 Eternitie. 32 She exhorteth all to loue and follow her.

CHAP. VIII.

1 D eth is wisdomes crye and vnderstanding better her voyce?
 2 She standeth in the top of y high places by the waye in the place of the paths.
 3 Shee cryeth besides the gates before the citie at the enrie of the doores,
 4 O men, I call vnto you, and vnto my voyce to the children of men.
 5 O ye foolish men, vnderstand wisdomē, and ye, o foolcs, be wise in heart.
 6 Giue eare, for I wil speake of excellent things, & the opening of my lippes shall teach things that be right.
 7 For my mouth shall speake the truth, and my lippes abhorre wickednes.
 8 All the words of my mouth are righteous: there is no lewdnes, nor frowardnes in them.
 9 They are all plapne to him that will vnderstande, and straight to them that would finde knowledge.
 10 Receiue mine instruction, & not siluer, and knowledgee rather then fine golde.
 11 For wisdomē is better then precious stones: and all pleasures are not to be compared vnto her.
 12 I wisdomē dwel with prudence, & I finde forth knowledgee and counsels.
 13 The feare of the Lord is to hate euill: as pride, and arrogance, and the euill way: and a mouth that speakeh lewd things, I do hate.
 14 I haue counsel & wisdomē: I am vnderstanding, and I haue strength.

Chap. 7. 20.
 a Salomon declaresh that man is cause of his owne perdition, and that he can pretend no ignorance, forasmuch as God calleth to all men by his worde, & by his works to follow vertue and to flee from vice.
 b Where the people did most resort, & which was the place of iustice.
 c Meaning, that the word of God is eafie vnto all, that haue a desire vnto it, and which are not blinded by the prince of this worlde.
 d That is, except a man haue wisdomē, which is y true knowledge of God, he can neither be prudent nor good counsellor.
 e So that he that doeth not hate euill, feareth not God.

Whereby he declareth that honors, dignitie or riches come not of mans wil dome or industrie, but by the prouidence of God.

g That is, study the worde of God diligently, and with a desire to profit.

h Signifying, that he chiefly meaneth the spiri- tual treasures and heavenly riches.

i For there can be no true iudice or iudgement, which is not directed by this wisdom.

k He declareth hereby the diuinitie and eternitie of this wisdom, which he magnified and praised through this booke: meaning thereby the eternal Sonne of God Iesus Christ our Saviour, whom Saint Iohn calleth the worde that was in the beginning, Iohn. 1. 1.

l He declareth the eternitie of the Sonne of God, which is met by this worde Wisdom, who was before all tyme and euer present with the Father.

m Some reade a chiefe worken signifying that this Wisdom, euen Christ Iesus, was equall with God his father, & created, preferred and fil worketh with him, as Iohn. 5. 17.

n Whereby is declared that the worke of the creation was no paine, but a solace vnto the wisdom of God. o By earth he meaneth man, which is the worke of God in whom wisdom tooke pleasure in so much as for mans sake the Diuine Wisdom tooke mans nature, and dwelt among vs, and filled vs with vnspokeable treasures: and this is that solace and pastime whereof is here spoken.

15 My me, Kings, freigne, and princes desire iustice.

16 My me, princes rule and the nobles, & all the iudges of the earth.

17 I loue them that loue me: & they that seke me early, shall finde me.

18 Riches and honour are with me: heuen durable riches and righteousness.

19 My fruit is better then gold, euen then fine gold, and my reuenges better then fine silver.

20 I came to walke in the way of righteousness, and in the middes of the paths of iudgement, 21 That I may cause them that loue me, to inherite substance, and I wil sit their treasures.

22 The Lord hath possessed me in the beginning of his way: I was ^k before his woekes of olde.

23 I was set by from euerlasting, fro the beginning and before the earth.

24 When there were no depths, was I begotten, when there were no foundations abounding with water.

25 Before the mountaines were leled: & before the hills, was I begotten.

26 He had not yet made the earth, nor the open places, nor the height of the dust in the world.

27 When he prepared the heauens, I was ^l there, when he set the compassse upon the deepe.

28 When he established ^p clouds above, when he confirmed the fountaines of the deepe.

29 When he gaue his decrees to the sea, ^p the water should not passe his commandments: when he appointed the foundations of the earth,

30 Then ^m was I with him as a nouerisher, and I was daily his delight respicing alway before him, 31 And tooke my ⁿ solace in the compassse of his earth: and my delite is with the children of men.

32 Therefore now hearken, o children, vnto me: for blessed are they that keepe my wordes.

33 Heare instruction, and be ye wise, and refuse it not: blessed is the man that heareth me, watching daily at my gates, and giuing attendance at the postes of my wordes.

34 For he that findeth me, findeth life, & shall obtaine fauour of the Lord.

35 But he that sinneth against me, hurteth his owne soule: and all that hate me, loue death.

CHAP. IX.

1 VVidome calleth all to her feast. 7 The scorner will not be corrected, 10 The feare of GOD, 13 The condicions of the harlot.

1 Widome hath built her house, & heuened out her seven pillars.

2 She hath killed her vntables, & drawn her wine, and ^c prepared her table.

3 She hath sent forth her maidens and crieth vpon the highest places of the citie, saying,

4 Who so is simple, let him come hither, and to him that is desitute of wisdom, the faith,

5 Come, & eate of my ^f meat, and drinke of the wine that I haue drawn.

6 For soke thy way, be foolishly, & pe shall lue: and walke in the way of vnderstanding.

7 He that reproveth a scooner, purchaseth to himselfe shame: & he that rebuketh ^h a wicked, getteth himselfe a blot.

8 Rebuke not a scooner, lest he hate thee: but rebuke a wise man, and he will love thee.

9 Gie admonition to the wise, and he will be the wiser: teach a righteous man, and he will increase in learning.

10 The beginning of wisdom is the feare of the Lord, and the knowledge of holy things, is ⁱ vnderstanding.

11 For thy daies shall be multiplied by me, and the yeeres of thy life shall be augmented.

12 If thou be wise, thou shalt be wise for thy selfe, and if thou be a scooner, thou alone shalt suffer.

13 A foolish woman is troublesome: she is ignorant, and knoweth nothing.

14 But she sitteth at the doore of her house on a seat in the hie places of the city,

15 To call them that passe by the way, ^j go right on their way, saying,

16 Who so is simple, let him come hither, and to him that is desitute of wisdom, the faith also,

17 Stollen waters are sweete, and hidde bread is pleasant.

18 But he knoweth not, that the dead are there, and that her ghestes are in ^k depth of hill.

son, nor that the wicked should not be rebuked, but he sheweth their malice, and the smal hope of profit. i He sheweth what true vnderstanding is, to know y will of God in his word, which is ment by holy things. k Thou shalt haue the chiefe profite & commoditie thereof. l By the foolish woman, some vndeistand the wicked preachers, who counterfete the worde of God, as appeareth vers. 16, which were the wordes of the true preachers as vers. 4: but their doctrine is but as stollie waters: meaning that they are but mens traditions, & which are more pleasant to the flesh then the worde of God: and therefore they themselves boast thereof.

CHAP. X.

In this chapter & al that follow vnto the thirtieth, the wise man exhorteth by diuers sentences, which he calleth parables, to follow vertue, & flee vice: & sheweth also what profit cometh of wisdom, & what hinderance proceedeth of foolishnes.

THE PARABLES OF SALOMON.

1 A wise man maketh a glad father: but a foolish sonne is an heauinesse to his mother.

a That is, wickedly gotten.

b Though he suffer the just to want for a tyme, yet he will find him comfort in due season. Or, deceitful.

c When their wickednes shall be discovered, they shall be as dummie, and not know what to say.

d Shall be vile & abhorred both of God and man, contrary to their own expectation, which thinke to make their name immortal. Or, lipps.

e He that beareth a faire countenance, & imagineth mischief in his heart, as Chap. 6. 13.

f For the corruption of his heart is known by his talke.

g That is, God will finde him out to punish him.

h And so maketh him bold to do euil, whereas poeuerie bridelech the poore from many euil things.

i For they speake truth and edifie many by exhortations, admonitions & counsel.

k Meaning f all worldly things being care, and sorrow, whereas they that seele the blessings of God, haue none.

2 The treasures of wickednesse profit nothing : but righteouines deliuereth from death.

3 The Lord wil not famish the soule of the righteous: but he casteth away the substance of the wicked.

4 A slothful hand maketh poore: but p hand of the diligent maketh rich.

5 He p gathereth in sommer, is p soure of wisdom: but he that sleepech in harvest, is the soure of confusion.

6 Blessings are vpon the head of p righteous: but iniquitie shall couer p mouth of the wicked.

7 The memoriaal of the iust shall be blessed: but the name of the wicked shall rotte.

8 The wise in heart wil receive comuments: but the foolish in talke shall be beaten.

9 He that walketh vprighty, walketh boldely: but he that peruerteth his wayes, shall be known.

10 He that winketh with the eye, worketh sorrow, and he that is foolishly in talke, shall be beaten.

11 The mouth of a righteous man is a welsping of life: but iniquitie couereth the mouth of the wicked.

12 Hated stirreth vp contentions: * but soile couereth all trespasses.

13 In the lipps of him that hath vnderstanding wisdom is found, and a rod shall be for the backe of him that is destitute of wisdom.

14 Wise men lay vp knowledge: but the mouth of the foole is a present destruction.

15 The riche mans goodes are his strong city: but the feare of the Lord is their pouerty.

16 The labour of the righteous tendeth to life: but the reuenues of the wicked to sinne.

17 He that regardeth instruction, is in the way of life: but he that refuseth correction, goeth out of the way.

18 He that dissemblieth hated with lying lips, and he that inuenteth slander, is a foole.

19 In many wordes there can not want iniquitie: but he p refrainerh his lips, is wise.

20 The tongue of the iust man is as fined silver: but the heart of the wicked is litle worth.

21 The lips of the righteous do feed man: but foolcs shall die for want of wisdom.

22 The blessing of the Lord, it maketh riche, and he doth adde no sorrowes with it.

23 It is as a pasture to a scale to do wickedly: but wisdom is vnderstanding to a man.

24 That which the wicked feareth, shall come vpon him: but God wil grant the desire of the righteous.

25 As the whirlewind passeth, so is p wicked no more: but the righteous is as an euerslasting foundation.

26 As a bumer is to the reeth, & as smoke to the eyes, so is the slothfull to them that l'end him.

27 The feare of the Lord increaseth the dayes: but the yerres of p wicked shall be diminished.

28 The patient abiding of the righteous shall be gladnes: but the hope of the wicked shall perih.

29 The way of the Lord is strength to the vpright man: but feare shall be for the workers of iniquitie.

30 The righteous shall neuer be removed: but the wicked shall not dwell in the land.

31 The mouth of the iust shall be fruitful in wisdom: but the tongue of the froward shall be cut out.

32 The lips of the righteous know what is acceptable: but the mouth of p wicked speaketh froward things.

CHAP. XI.

1 False balances are an abomination vnto the Lord: but a perfit weight pleaseth him.

2 When pride cometh, then cometh shame: but with the lowly is wisdom.

3 The vprightnes of the iust shall guide them: but the frowardnes of the transgressors shall destroy them.

4 Riches auale not in the daye of wyath: but righteouines deliuereth fro death.

5 The righteouines of the vpright shall direct his way: but the wicked shall fall in his owne wickednes.

6 The righteouines of the iust shall deliuer them: but the transgressors shall be taken in their owne wickednes.

7 When a wicked man dieth, his hope periheth, and the hope of p vniust shall perih.

8 The righteous escapeth out of trouble, & the wicked shall come in his stead.

9 An hypocrite with his mouth hurteth his neighbour: but the righteous shall be deliuered by knowledge.

10 In the prosperitie of the righteous p citie reioiceth, and when the wicked perish, there is ioy.

11 By the blessing of the righteous, the citie is exalted: but it is subuerted by p mouth of the wicked.

12 He that despiseth his neighbour, is destitute of wisdom: but a man of vnderstanding will keepe silence.

13 He that goeth about as a slanderer, dissemblieth a secrete: but he that is of a faithful heart, concealeth a matter.

14 Where no counsell is, the people fall: but where many counsellers are, there is health.

15 He shall be soze hered, that is surety for a stranger, and he that hateth suretyship, is sure.

16 A gracious woman attaineth honoy, and the strong men attain riches.

l He is but a trouble, & grief to him that seeth him about any busines.

m The tyme of their prosperitie shall be short, because of their great fall, though they seeme to liue long.

n They enjoy in this life by fayth and hope, their euerslasting life.

a Vnder this worde he comdemneth all false weights, measures & deceit.

b When man forgetteth himselfe, and thinketh to be exalted, then God bringeth him to confusion.

c That is, shall enter into trouble.

d A dissembler that pretendeth friendship, but is a priuy enemy.

e The country is blessed, where there is godly men, and they ought to reioyce when the wicked are taken away.

f Will not make light report of others.

g Where God giueth store of men of wisdom, and counsell.

h Whose couersation he knoweth not.

i He f doth not without iudgement, & consideration of the circumstances put himself in danger, as Chap. 6. 1. Or, modest.

k Is both good

p That prouideth for the vse of them that are in necessitie.

q The couctous men that spare their riches to the hinderance of their families, shalbe deprived thereof miserably.

r For though the wicked be riche,
yet are they but slaves to the godly, which are the true possessours of the gifts of God.

s That is, bringeth them to the knowledge of God.

t Shalbe punished
as he deserueth, as 1. Pet. 4. 18.

a They are so grounded in the fauour of God,
that their roote continually.

Or, strong, or prouidfull.

b As their conscience is vp-right, so shall they be able to speake for themselves against their accusers.

17 He that is mercifull, ^a rewardeth his owne soule: but he that troubleth his owne ^b fleshy is cruel.

18 The wicked worketh a deceitfull worke: but he that soweth righteousnes, shall receiue a sure reward.

19 His righteousness leadeth to life: so he that followeth euill, seeketh his owne death.

20 They that are of a froward heart, are abomination to the Lord: but they that are vpright in their way, are his de-lite.

21 Though hand ioyne in hand, the wicked shall not be unpunished: but the seede of the righteous shall escape.

22 As a tewel of golde in a swines snout:
so is a faire woman, which ^a lacketh dicretion.

23 The desire of the righteous is onely good: but the hope of the wicked ^a is indignation.

24 Where is that scattereth, ^a and is more increased: but he ^b spareth more ^c then is right, surely commeth to pouertie.

25 The ^a liberall person shall haue plentitie: and he that watereth, shall also haue raine.

26 He that withdraweth the corne, the people will curse him: but blessing shall be vpon the head of him that ^a selleth corne.

27 He that seeketh good things, getteth fauour: but he that seeketh euill, it shall come to him.

28 He that trusteth in his riches, shall fall: but the righteous shall flourish as a leafe.

29 He that troubleth his owne ^a house, shall inherite the widdow, and the foole shalbe ^a seruant to the wise in heart.

30 The fruite of the righteous is as a tree of life, and he that ^a winneth soules, is wise.

31 Behold, the righteous shalbe ^a recompensed in the earth: hoise much more the wicked and the sinner.

CHAP. XII.

HE that loveth instruction, loveth knowledge: but he that hateth correction, is a foole.

2 A good man getteth fauour of ^a Lord:
but the man of wicked imaginations will he condemne.

3 A man cannot be established by wickednes: but the ^a roote of the righteous shall not be moued.

4 A ^a vertuous woman is the crowne of her husband: but she that maketh him ashamed, is as corruption in his bones.

5 The thoughts of the iust are right: but the counsels of the wicked are deceit-
full.

6 The talking of the wicked is to lie in waite for blood: but the mouth of the righteous will ^a deliuer them.

7 God overthroweth the wicked, & they are not: but the house of the righteous shall stand.

8 A man shall be commended for his wis-dome: but the froward of heart shall be despised.

9 He that is despised, ^a and is his owne seruant, is better then he that boasteth himselfe and lacketh heart.

10 A righteous man ^a regardeth the life of his beast: but the mercies of the wicked are cruel.

11 ^a He that tilleth his land, shall be satisfied with bread: but he that followeth the idle, is destitute of ^a vnderstanding.

12 The wicked desireth the ^a net of euils:
but the ^b roote of the righteous groweth fruite.

13 The euil man is snared by the wickednes of his lips, but the iust shall come out of aduersitie.

14 A man shall be satiate with good things by the fruite of his mouth, and the recompence of a mans handes shall God giue vnto him.

15 The way of a foole is ^a right in his owne eyes: but he that heareth counsell, is wise.

16 A foole in a day shall be knowne by his anger: but he ^a that conerth shame, is wise.

17 He that speaketh truth, will shew righte-ousnesse: but a false witness vlieth des-erit.

18 ^a There is that speaketh words like the puckings of ^a sword: but the tongue of wise men is health.

19 The lippe of truthy shalbe stable foreuer: but a lying tongue varieth incontinently.

20 Decree is in ^a heart of them that imagine euill: but to the counsellors of peace shall be top.

21 There shall none iniquitie come to the iust: but the wicked are full of euill.

22 The lying types are an abomination to the Lord: but they that deale truly are his delite.

23 A wise man concealeth knowledge:
but the heart of the foolos publieth foolishnes.

24 ^a The hand of the diligent shall heare rule: but the idle shalbe vnder tribute.

25 Yeannes in the heart of man doeth bing it downe: but a ^a good word re-ioyareth it.

26 The righteous ^a is more excellent then his neighbour: but the way of the wicked will deceiue them.

27 The deceitfull man roseth not, that he ^aooke in hunting: but the riches of the diligent man are precious.

28 Life is in the way of righteousness, and in that pathway there is no death.

CHAP. XIII.

of his father: but a scoyner will his life: but he that openeth his lippes, destruction shall be to him.

4 The sluggard is lusty, but his soule hath nought: but the soule of the diligent shall haue plenty.

5 A righteous man hath lying words: but the wicked causeth slander and shame.

6 Righteousnes preferueth the bynight of life: but wickednesse ouerthroweth the sinner.

7 There is that maketh himselfe rich, and hath nothing, and that maketh himselfe poore, hauing great riches.

8 A man wil giue his riches for the raine: some of his life: but the poore can not heare the repproche.

9 The light of the righteous reioyceth: but the candle of the wicked shall be put out.

10 Onely by pride doth man make contention: but with the well aduised is wisdom.

11 The riches of vanitie shall diminish: but he that gathereth with the hand, shall increase them.

12 The hope that is deferred, is the fainting of the heart: but when the desire cometh, it is as a tree of life.

13 He that despiseth the word, he shall be destroyed: but he that feareth the commandment, he shall be rewarded.

14 The instruction of a wife man is as the wellying of life, to turne away from the inares of death.

15 Good vnderstanding maketh acceptable: but the way of the disobedient is hated.

16 Every wife man wil worke by knowledge: but a foole will spread abysmal follie.

17 A wicked messenger falleth into euill: but a faithfull ambassadour is preferation.

18 Donertie and shame is to him that refuseth instruction: but he that regardeth correction, shall be honoured.

19 A desire accomplished delireth the soule: but it is an abomination to fooles to depart from euill.

20 He that walketh with the wife, shall be wise: but a companion of fooles shall be afflicted.

21 Affliction followeth sinners: but vnto the righteous God will recompense good.

22 The good man shall giue inheritance vnto his childrens children: and the riches of the sinner is laide vp for the iust.

23 Much foode is in the field of the poore: but the field is destroyed without discretion.

24 He that spareth his rodde, hateth his soule: but he that loatheth him, chasteneth him betime.

25 The righteous catcheth to the contentation of his mind: but the belly of the wicked shall want,

1 A Wise woman buildeth her house: but the fool the destruction it with her owne handes.

2 He that walketh in his rightnesse, feareth the Lord: but he that is lewde in his waies, despiseth him.

3 In the mouth of the foolish is the rod of pride: but the lippes of the wise preserue them.

4 Where none open are, there the crib is empty: but much increase cometh by the strength of the oxe.

5 A faithfull witness will not lie: but a false record will speake lies.

6 A scooner seeketh wisdom, and findeth it not: but knowledge is easie to him that will vnderstand.

7 Depart from the foolish man, when thou perceiuest not in him the lippes of knowledge.

8 The wisdom of the prudent is to vnderstand his way: but the foolishnesse of the fool is deceit.

9 The foole maketh a mocke of sinne: but among the righteous there is fauour.

10 The heart knoweth the bitterness of his soule, and the stranger shall not meddle with his ioye.

11 The soule of the wicked shall be destroyed: but the tabernacle of the righteous shall flourish.

12 There is a way that seemeth right to a man: but the issues thereof are the wapes of death.

13 Euen in laughing the heart is sorrowfull, and the ende of that mirth is heauines.

14 The heart that declineth, shall be scate with his owne waies: but a good man shall depart from him.

15 The foolish will beleue every thing: but the prudent will consider his steps.

16 A wise man feareth, and departeth from euill: but a foole rageth, and is careless.

17 He that is foolish to anger, committeth folie, and a brutish body is hated.

18 The foolish doe wherite folie: but the prudent are crowned with knowledge.

19 The euill shall bowe before the good, and the wicked shall be affixed of the righteous.

20 The poore is hated euen of his owne neighbour: but the friends of the riche are many.

21 The sinner despiseth his neighbour: but he that hath mercie on the poore, is blessed.

22 Do not they erre that imagine euill: but to them that thinke on good things, shall be mercie and truth.

23 In all labour there is abundance: but the talke of the lippes bringeth onely want.

24 The crowne of the wife is their riches, and the folie of fooles is foolishnesse.

25 A faithfull witnesseth delinereth soules: but a deceiver speaketh lies.

27 The feare of the Lord is as a wel spring of life, to auoide the snares of deatch.

28 In the multitude of the people is the honour of a king, and for the want of people cometh the destruction of the prince.

29 Hee that is slowe to wraith, is of great wisdom: but hee that is of an halie mind, exalteth folie.

30 A sound heart is the life of the flesh: but enuie is the rotting of the bones.

31 Hee that opposeth the poore, reproacheth him that made him: but he honoureth him, that hath mercy on the poore.

32 The wicked shall be cast away for his malice: but the righteous hath hope in his deatch.

33 Wisdom resteth in the heart of him that hath vnderstanding, & is knowen in the middes of foolles.

34 Iustice exalteth a nation, but sinne is a shame to the people.

35 The pleasure of a King is in a wise seruant: but his wraith shall be toward him that is lewde.

16 Better is a title with the feare of the Lord, then great treasure and trouble therewith.

17 Better is a dinner of greene herbes where lone is, then a stalled oxe and bread therewith.

18 An angrie man stirreth vp strife: but hee that is slowe to wraith, appeaseth strife.

19 The waape of a stouthfull man is as an hedge of thornes: but the waape of the righteous is plaine.

20 A wise sonne reioiceth the father: but a foolish man despiseth his mother.

21 Foolishnes is hope to him that is destitute of vnderstanding: but a man of vnderstanding walketh vpright.

22 Without counsell thoughts come to nought: but in the multitude of counsellers there is stedfastnes.

23 A iop cometh to a man by the answer of his mouth: and how good is a word in due season?

24 The waape of life is on high to the proud: to auoid from hell beneath.

25 The Lord will destroy the house of the proud man: but he will stablish the borders of the widow.

26 The thoughts of the wicked are abomination to the Lord: but the pure haue pleasant words.

27 Hee that is greedie of gaine, troubleth his owne house: but hee that hateth gifts, shall liue.

28 The heart of the righteous studieth to answer: but the wicked maus mouth babbleth euil things.

29 The Lord is fare of from the wicked: but he heareth the prayer of the righteous.

30 The light of the eyes reioiceth the heart, & a good name maketh the bones fat.

31 The care that hearkeneth to the correction of life, shall lodge among the wife.

32 He that refuseth instruction, despiseth his owne soule: but hee that obeyeth correction, getteth vnderstanding.

CHAP. XV.

1 A soft answer putteth away wraith: but gracious words stre vp anger.

2 The tongue of a wise vberth knowledg aright: but the mouth of foolles babbleth out foolishnes.

3 The eyes of the Lord in euery place beholde the euil and the good.

4 A wholesome tongue is as a tree of life: but the frowardnes thereof is the breaking of the minde.

5 A foole despiseth his fathers instruction: but he that regardeth correction, is prudent.

6 The house of the righteous hath much treasure: but in the reuenues of a wicked is trouble.

7 The lips of the wise do spread abroad knowledge: but the heart of the foolish doeth not so.

8 The sacrifice of the wicked is abomination to the Lord: but the prayer of the righteous is acceptable vnto him.

9 The way of the wicked is an abomination vnto the Lord: but he looueth him that followeth righteousness.

10 Instruction is euil to him that forsaketh the way, and he that hateth correction, shall wepe.

11 Hel & destruction are before the Lord: how much more hearts of the sonnes of men?

12 A fouler looueth not him that rebuketh him, neither will he go vnto the wise.

13 A iopfull heart maketh a cheerefull countenance: but by the sorrow of the heart the minde is heauy.

14 The heart of him that hath vnderstanding, seeketh knowledge: but the mouth of the foole is fed with foolishnes.

15 All the daies of a afflicted are euil: but a good conscience is a continual feast.

CHAP. XVI.

1 The preparations of the heart are in man: but the answer of the tongue is of the Lord.

2 All the ways of a man are cleane in his owne eyes: but the Lord pondereth the spirits.

3 Commit thy workes vnto the Lord, and thy thoughts shall be directed.

4 The Lord hath made all things for his owne sake: yea, euen the wicked for the day of euil.

father, * and the contentions of a wife are like a continuall * dropping. 14 House and riches are the inheritance of the fathers: but * a prudent wife cometh of the Lord. 15 Slouthfulness causeth to fall a sleepe, and a deceitfull person shall be afflicted. 16 He that keepeth his commandement, keepeth his owne soule: but he that despiseth his waies, shall die. 17 He that hath mercie vpon the poore, lendeth vnto the Lord: and the Lord will recompense him that which he hath giuen.

f Though for a time he giue place to counsell, yet soone after will he giue place to his raging affections. Mans deuce shall not haue successe, except God gouerne it, whose purpose is vnchangeable. That is, that he be honest: for the poore man that is honest, is to be esteemed about the riche which is not vertuous.

18 Chasten thy sonne while there is hope, and let not thy soule spare for his murmuring. 19 A man of much anger shall suffer punishment: and though thou deliuer him, yet will his anger come againe. 20 Heare counsell, and receiue instruction, that thou maiest be wise in thy later ende. 21 Vanie deuiCES are in a mans heart: but the counsell of the Lord shall stand. 22 That that is to be desired of a man, is his goodnes, and a poore man is better then a liar. 23 The feare of the Lord leadeth to life: and he that is filled therewith, shall continue, and shall not be visited with euil. 24 * The slouthfull hideth his hand in his bosome, & will not put it to his mouth againe. 25 * Smite a scooner, and the foolish will beware: and reprove the prudent, and he will vnderstand knowledge.

a By wine here is meant him that is giuen to wine, and so by strong drinke. Chap. 29. 10. b Putteth his life in danger. c It is hard to finde out: for it is as deepe waters, whose bottom cannot be found: yet the wise man will know a man either by his wordes or maners.

I Wine * is a mocker and strong drinke is raging: and whosoever is deceiued thereby, is not wise. 2 * The feare of the King is like the roaring of a lion: he that prouoketh him vnto anger, b banneth against his owne soule. 3 It is a mans honour to cease from strife: but enery foole will be meddling. 4 The slouthfull will not plowe, because of winter: therefore shall he begge in sommer, but haue nothing. 5 The counsell in the heart of a man is like deepe waters: but a man that hath vnderstanding, will draw it out. 6 Vanie men will boast, enery one of his owne goodnes: but who can finde a faithfull man?

7 He that walketh in his integritie, is iust: and blessed shall his children be after him. 8 A King that sitteth in the throne of iudgement, d chasteth away all euil with his eyes. 9 * Who can say, I haue made mine heart cleane, I am cleane from sinne? 10 Diuers * weightes, and diuers measures, both * these are euil abominations vnto the Lord. 11 A child also is known by his doings, whether his worke be pure and right. 12 The Lord hath made both these, euen the eare to heare, and the eye to see. 13 Loue not sleepe, lest thou come vnto pouertie: open thine eyes, and thou shalt be satisfied with bread.

CHAP. XXI.

The Kings heart is in the hande of the Lord, as the rivers of waters: he turneth it whither soeuer it pleaseth him.

2 Curie * waye of a man is right in his owne eyes: but the Lord pondereth the hearts.

3 * To do iustice and iudgement is more acceptable to the Lord then sacrifice.

4 A hautie looke, & a proude heart, which is the ^blight of the wicked, is Sinne.

5 The thoughtes of the diligent do surely bring abundance: but ^c who soeuer is halfe, cometh surely to pouertie.

6 * The gathering of treasures by a deceitfull tongue is vanitie tolled to and fro of them that seeke death.

7 The ^d robberie of the wicked shall destroy them: for they haue refused to execute iudgement.

8 The waye of some is peruered and strange: but of the pure man, his wozke is right.

9 * It is better to dwell in a corner of the house topper, then with a contentious woman in a ^e wide house.

10 The soule of the wicked wisethen euill: and his neighbour hath no fauour in his eyes.

11 * When the scoomer is punished, ^f foolish is wise: and when one instructeth the wise, he will receive knowledge.

12 The righteous ^g teacheth the house of the wicked: but God ouerthroweth the wicked for their euill.

13 Yee that stoppeth his eare at the crying of the poore, he shall also cry and not be heard.

14 A gift in secret pacifieth anger, and a gift in the bosome great wrath.

15 It is ioye to the iust to doe iudgement: but destruction shall be to the workers of iniquitie.

16 A man that wandereth out of the way of wisdom, shall remaine in the congregation of the dead.

17 He that loneth pastime, shall be a poore man: and he that loneth wine and oyle, shall not be riche.

18 The ^h wicked shall be a ransom for the iust, and the transgressor for the righteous.

19 * It is better to dwell in the wilderness, then with a contentious and angrie woman.

20 In the house of the wife is a pleasant treasure: and ⁱ oyle: but a foolish man deuoroweth it.

21 Yee that followeth after righteousness and merite, shall find life, righteousness, and glorie.

22 A ^j wise man goeth by into the citie of the mightie, and casteth downe the strength of the confidence thereof.

23 He y ^k keepeth his mouth & his tongue, keepeth his soule from afflictions.

24 Proud, hautie & scorneful is his name that worketh in his arrogance wozth.

25 The desire of the stouthfull ^l naueth him: for his hands refuse to wozke.

26 Yee coueteth euermore gracibly, but the righteous giueth, and spareth not.

27 The ^m sacrifice of the wicked is an abomination: how much more when hee bringeth it with a wicked minde?

28 * A false witness shall perish: but he that brareth, ⁿ speaketh continually.

29 A wicked man hardeneth his face: but the iust, he wil direct his way.

30 There is no wisdom, neither understanding, nor counsel against the Lord.

31 The horse is prepared against the day of batrel: but saluation is of the Lord.

CHAP. XXII.

A Good name is to be chosen aboute great riches, and ^o louing fauour is aboute siluer and aboute golde.

2 * The rich and poore ^p meete together: the Lord is the maker of them all.

3 * A prudent man seeth the ^q plague, and hideth himselfe: but the foolish go on stil, and are punished.

4 The reward of humilitie, and the feare of God is riches, and glorie, and life.

5 Thyones and snaires are in the waye of the sroward: but he that regardeth his soule, will depart farre from them.

6 Teach a child ^r in the trade of his way, and when he is olde, he shall not depart from it.

7 The riche ruleth the poore, and the borrower is seruant to the man that lendeth.

8 He that soweth iniquitie, shall reape affliction, and the ^s rod of his anger shall faile.

9 * Yee that hath a good ^t eye, he shall be blessed: for he giueth of his bread unto the poore.

10 Cast out the scoomer, and strife shall go out: so contention and reproche shall cease.

11 He that loneth purues of heart for the grace of his lippes, the King shall be his friend.

12 The eyes of the Lord ^u preferre knowledge: but he ouerthroweth the words of the transgressour.

13 The stouthfull man saith, ^v I wpon is without, I shall be slaine in the streete.

14 The month of strange women is as a deep pit: he wozth whom the Lord is angrie, ^w shall fall therein.

15 Foolishnes is bound ^x in the heart of a child: but the rodde of correction shall bringe it away from him.

16 He that oppyresseth ^y poore to increase himselfe, and giueth into the riche, shall surely come to pouertie.

17 * Incline thine eare, and heare the words of the wise, & applye thine heart unto my knowledge.

18 For it shall be pleasant, if thou keepe them in thy bellie, and if they be directed together in thy lippes.

4 Trauile not to much to be rich: but cease from thy wilddome.

5 Wilt thou cast thine eyes vpon it, which is nothing? for riches taketh her to her wings, as an eagle, and flieth into the heauen.

6 Eat thou not the bread of him that hath an euill eye, neither desire his deintie meates.

7 For as though hee thought it in his heart so will he say vnto thee, Eat and drinke: but his heart is not with thee.

8 Thou shalt domit thy morsels that thou hast eaten, and thou shalt lose thy sweete wordes.

9 Speake not in the eares of a fool: for he will despise the wildome of thy wordes.

10 * Remoue not the ancient boundes, and enter not into the feldes of the fatherles.

11 For he that redcemeth them, is mighty: he will defende their cause against thee.

12 Applye thine heart to instruction, and thine eares to the words of knowledge.

13 * Withholde not correction from the childe: if thou smite him with the rod, he shall not dye.

14 Thou shalt smite him with the rod, and shalt deuiet his soule from hel.

15 Appoyne, if thine heart be wise, mine heart shall reioyce, and I also.

16 And my reimes shall reioyce, when thy lippes speake righteous things.

17 * Let not thine heart be enuious against sinners: but let it be in the feare of the Lord continually.

18 For surely there is an ende, and thy hope shall not be cut of.

19 Thou my sonne, heare, and be wise, and guide thine heart in the way.

20 Keepe not companie with drunkardes, nor with gluttons.

21 For the drunkard & the glutton shall be poore, and the sleeper shall be clothed with ragges.

22 Wher thy father that hath begotten thee, and despise not thy mother when she is olde.

23 Hare the truth, but sell it not: likewise wilddome, and instruction, and vnderstanding.

24 The father of a righteous shall greatly reioyce, and he that begetteth a wise child, shall haue ioy of him.

25 Thy father & thy mother shall be glad, and he that bare thee, shall reioyce.

26 Appoyne, mine heart, and let thine eyes delight in my wayes.

ECCLESIASTES, OR the Preacher.

THE ARGUMENT.

Salomon as a preacher & one that desired to instruct all in the way of saluation, describe th the deceivable vanities of this world, that man should not be addicted to any thing vnder the sunne, but rather inflamed with the desire of the heauenly life: therefore hee consulteth their opinions, which see their felicitie, either in knowledge, or in pleasures, or in dignitie and riches, shewing that mans true felicitie consisteth in that that he is vnited with God & shall inioy his presence: so that all other things must be reiected, false in as much as they further vs to attaine to this heauenly treasure, which is sure and permanent, and cannot be founde in any other false in God alone.

CHAP. I.

All things in this world are full of vanitie, and of none enduring. 13 All mans wisdom is but folly and griefe.

a Salomon is here called a Preacher, or one that assembleth the people, because he teacheth the true knowledge of God, and how men ought to passe their life in this transitorie worlde. b He condemneth the opinions of all men that set felicitie in any thing, but in God alone, seeing y in this worlde all things are as vanitie and nothing. c Salomon doeth not condemne mans labour or diligence, but sheweth that there is no full contentation in any thing vnder the heauen, nor in any creature, forasmuch as all things are transitorie. d One man dieth after another, & the earth remaineth longest, even to the last day, which yer is subiect to corruption. e By the sunne, winde & riuers he sheweth that the greatest labour & longest hath an end, and therefore there can be no felicitie in this world. f The sea which compasseth all the earth, filleth the veines thereof, which poure out springs & riuers into the sea againe. g He speaketh of times and seasons & things done in the which as they haue bene in times past, so come they to passe againe. h He prooueth that if any could haue attained to felicitie in this worlde by labour and studie, he chiefly shoulde haue obtained it, because he had giftes and aydes of God therunto aboue all other. i Man of nature hath a desire to knowe, and yet is not able to come to the perfection of knowledge, which is the punishment of sinne, to humble man, and to teach him to depende onely vpon God. k Man is not able by all his diligence to cause things to go otherwise then they do: neither can he number the faults that are committed, much lesse remedie them.

The wordes of the Preacher, h sonne of Dauid King in Ierusalem. Vanitie of vanities, sayth y Preacher: vanitie of vanities, all is vanitie. What remaineth vnto man in all his ^c trauaile, which he suffreth vnder the sunne? One generation passeth, and another generation succedeth: but the earth remaineth not: for euer. The sunne riseth, and the sunne goeth downe, and draweth to his place, where he riseth. The winde goeth toward the South, and compasseth toward the North: the winde goeth rounde about, & returneth by his circuites. All the riuers goe into the sea, yet the sea is not full: for the riuers go vnto the place, whence they returne, and go. All things are full of labour: man can not bter it: the eye is not satisfied with seeing, nor the eare filled with hearing. What is it, that hath bene? that that shall bee: and what is it that hath bene done? that which shall be done: and there is no new thing vnder the sunne. Is there any thing, whereof one may say, Behold this, it is new: it hath bene already in the olde tyme that was before vs. There is no memorie of the former, neither shall there be a remembrance of the later that shall bee, with them that shall come after. If y the Preacher haue bene King ouer Israel in Ierusalem: And I haue giue mine heart to search and find out wisdom by all things that are done vnder the heauen: (this soe trauaile hath God giuen to the sonnes of men, to humble them thereby) I haue considered all the workes that are done vnder the sunne, & behold, all is vanitie, and vberation of the spirit. That which is crooked, can none make straight: and that which faileth, cannot be nombred. f The sea which compasseth all the earth, filleth the veines thereof, which poure out springs & riuers into the sea againe. g He speaketh of times and seasons & things done in the which as they haue bene in times past, so come they to passe againe. h He prooueth that if any could haue attained to felicitie in this worlde by labour and studie, he chiefly shoulde haue obtained it, because he had giftes and aydes of God therunto aboue all other. i Man of nature hath a desire to knowe, and yet is not able to come to the perfection of knowledge, which is the punishment of sinne, to humble man, and to teach him to depende onely vpon God. k Man is not able by all his diligence to cause things to go otherwise then they do: neither can he number the faults that are committed, much lesse remedie them.

16 I thought in mine heart, & sayde, Behold, I am become great, & excel in wisdom: al them that haue bene before me in Ierusalem: & mine yeare hath bene much wisdom and knowledge. 17 And I gaue mine heart to knowe wisdom: and knowledge, I madnes & foolishnes: I knew also that this is a vberation of the spirit. 18 For in the multitude of wisdom is much griefe: and hee that increaseth knowledge, increaseth sorrow, payne of bodie and minde: for when a man hath attained to the highest, yet is his minde neuer fully content: therefore in this worlde is no true felicitie.

CHAP. II. Pleasures, sumptuous buildings, riches & possessions are but vanitie. 14 The wise & the foole haue both one end, touching the bodily death.

I Said in mine heart, Go to now, I will proue it thee with iope: therefore take thou pleasure in pleasant things: and behold, this also is vanitie. I said of laughter, Thou art mad: and of iop, What is this that thou doest? I fought in mine heart to giue my self to wine, and to lead mine heart in wisdom, and to take holde of follie, tll I might see where is that goodnes of the children of men, which they enjoy vnder the sunne: the whole number of the dayes of their life. I haue made my great works: I haue buyt mee houses: I haue planted mee vineyardes. I haue made me gardens & orchards, and planted in them trees of all fruite. I haue made mee cisternes of water, to water therewith the woods that grow with trees. I haue gotten seruants & maides, and had children borne in the house: also I had great possession of beeries & heepe aboue all that were before me in Ierusalem. I haue gathered vnto mee also siluer & golde, and the chiefe treasures of kings and prouinces: I haue prouided mee men fingers and women fingers, and the delicates of the sonnes of men, as a woman taken captiue, & women taken captiues. And I was great, & increased aboue all that were before me in Ierusalem: also my wisdom remained with me. And what I soeuer mine eyes desired, I withheld it not fro them: I withheld not mine heart from any iope: for mine heart reioiced in all my labour: & this was my portion of all my trauaile. Then I looked on all my workes that mine handes had wrought, and on the trauaile that I had laboured to do: and behold, all is vanitie and vberation of the spirit: and there is no profit vnder the sunne. Take his gift of wisdom from me. g This was the fruite of all my labour, a certaine pleasure mixt with care, which he calleth vanitie in the next verse.

a Salomon maketh this discourse with himselfe, as though he would trie whether there were contentation in ease and pleasures. Ebr. drawe my flesh to wine. b Albeit I gaue my selfe to pleasures, yet I thought to keepe wisdom and the feare of God in myne heart, and gouerne mine affaires by the same. Ebr. do. Ebr. paradises. c Meaning of the seruants or slaves, which he had bought: so the children borne in their seruitude, were the maisters. d That is, whatsoeuer men take pleasure in. e Which were the most beautiful of them that were taken in warre, as Iudges 3. 30. Some vnderstand by these wordes, no women but instruments of musique. f For all this God did not take his gift of wisdom from me. g This was the fruite of all my labour, a certaine pleasure mixt with care, which he calleth vanitie in the next verse.

h I thought I would know my selfe whether it were better to follow wisdom, or mine owne affections and pleasures, which be callech madnes.
* Or, compare with one King.

Proverbs. 17. 24.
He foreseeth things, which y foole cannot for-lack of wisdom.
k For both die
and are forgotten, as vers. 16. or they both alike have profierie or aduerfite.
l Meaning, in this world.
m He wondereth that men forget a wife man, being dead, asfoone as they do a foole.

n That I might seeke the true felicitie which is in God.

o Among other griefes this was not the least to leaueth that which he had gotten
by great trauail, to one that had taken no payne therefore, and whom he knew nor whether he were a wife man or a foole.

p When man
hath all labored,
he can get no
more then food,
and refreshing,
yet he confesseth also that this commeth of Gods blessing, as Chap. 3. 12.

q Meaning, to pleasures.

12 And I turned to beholde wisdom, and madnes and folly: (for who is the man that will come after the King in things which men now haue done?)

13 When I saw that there is profit in wis-dome, more then in folias: the light is more excellent then darkenes.

14 * For the wise mans eyes are in his head, but the fool's walketh in darknes:
yet I know also that the same k condittion falleth to them all.

15 When I thought in mine heart, It bes falleth vnto me, as it befallerh to the foole. Why therefore do I then labour to be more wise? And I said in myne heart, that this also is vanitie.

16 For there shall be no remembrance of þ wise, nor of the fool: for euer: for that that now is, in the dayes to come shall all be forgotten. And m how dieth the wise man, as doth the fool?

17 Therefore I hated life: for the worke that is wrought vnder the sunne is grie-uous vnto me: for all is vanitie, & vexation of the spirit.

18 I hated also all my labour, wherein I had trauailed vnder the sunne, which I shall leaue to the man that shall succeed me.

19 And who knoweth whether he shall be wise or foolish? yet shall he haue rule ou-er all my labour, wherein I haue tra-uailed, and wherein I haue shed my selfe wise vnder the sunne. This is also vanitie.

20 Therefore I went about to make mine heart a^o abhorre all the labour, wherein
I had trauailed vnder the sunne.

21 For there is a man whose trauaile is in wisdom, and in knowledge and in equite: yet to a man that hath not trauailed herin, shall he o giue his portion: this also is vanitie and a great griefe.

22 For what hath man of all his trauaile and griefe of his heart, wherein he hath trauailed vnder the sunne?

23 For all his dayes are sorrowes, & his trauaile griefe: his heart also taketh not rest in the night: which also is vanitie.

24 There is no profite to man: but that he eate, & drinke, and p delight his soule with the profite of his labour: I sawe also this, that it was of the hande of God.

25 For who could eat, & who could haste to 4 outward things more then I?

26 Surely to a man that is good in his sight, God giueth wisdom, and knowledge, and ioy: but to the sinner he giueth payne, to gather, and to heape to giue to him that is good before God:
this is also vanitie, and vexation of the spirite.

CHAP. III.

1 All things haue their tyme. 14 The workes of God are perfect, and cause vs to feare him. 17 God shall iudge both the wise, and vnwise.

1 T O all things there is an a appoynted tyme, and a tyme to euery purpose vnder the heauen.

2 A tyme to be borne, and a tyme to die:
a tyme to plant, and a tyme to plucke vp that which is planted.

3 A tyme to flay, and a tyme to heale: a tyme to breake downe, and a tyme to build.

4 A tyme to weep, and a tyme to laugh: a tyme to mourne, and a tyme to dauce.

5 A tyme to cast away stones, & a tyme to gather stones: a tyme to embrace, and a tyme to be faire from embracing.

6 A tyme to seeke, & a tyme to lose: a tyme to keepe, and a tyme to cast away.

7 A tyme to rent, and a tyme to sowe:
a tyme to keepe silence, and a tyme to speake.

8 A tyme to loue, and a tyme to hate: a tyme of warre, and a tyme of peace.

9 What profit hath he that worketh, of the thing wherein he trauaileth?

10 I haue seene þ trauaile that God hath giuen to the sonnes of men b to humble them thereby.

11 We haue made euery thing beautifull in his tyme: also he hath for the c world in their heart, yet can not man finde out the worke that God hath wrought from the beginning, euen to the ende.

12 I know that there is nothing good in them, but to reioyce, and to do good in his tyme.

13 And also that euery man eateth and drinketh, and seeth the commobitie of all his labour. This is the d gift of God.

14 I know that whatsoeuer God shall do, it shall be for euer: to it can no ma adde, and from it can none diminish: for God hath done it, that they should feare before him.

15 What is that that hath bene: that is now: and that that shall be, hath now bene: for God f requireth that which is past.

16 And moreouer I haue seene vnder the sunne the place of iudgement, where was wickenes, and þ place of iustice where was iniquite.

17 I thought in mine heart, God will iudge the iust and the wicked: for tyme is e there for euery purpose and for eu-ry worke.

18 I considered in mine heart the state of the children of men that God had purged them: yet to see to, they are in their shies as beasts.

19 For the condition of the children of men, and the condition of beasts are euen as one l condition vnto them. All þ one dieth, to dieth the other: for they haue all one breath, and there is no ex-cellencie of man above the beast: for all is vanitie.

20 All go to one place, & all was of þ dust, and all shall returne to the dust.

of tyme for two causes, first to declare that there is nothing
perpetual. next to teach vs not betwene man &

wise of a ma being dead, the of a beast, which is dead yet by the word of God &

sily know y chursire, as veritas.

k Meaning, that reason cannot comprehend y^e which faith be- leueth herein. l By the often repetition of this sentence, as Chap. 2. 2. 4. and 3. 12, 22. and 5. 17. and 8. 15. he declareth that mā by reason can comprehend nothing better in this life then to v^e the giftes of God soberly and comfortably: for to know farther is a speciall gift of God reuicied by his Spirit.

21 Who knoweth whether the spirite of man ascend v^{er}warde, and the spirite of the beast descend downward to the earth? 22 Therefore I see that there is nothing better then that a man should reioice in his affaires, because that is his portion. For who shall bring him to see what shall be after him? 23 And he declareth that mā by reason can comprehend nothing better in this life then to v^e the giftes of God soberly and comfortably: for to know farther is a speciall gift of God reuicied by his Spirit.

CHAP. III.

1 The innocents are oppressed. 4 Mens labours are full of abuse and vanitie. 9 Mans societe is necessurie. 12 A young man poore, and wise, is to be preferred to an olde King that is vsolve.

1 SO I turned, and considered all the suppressions that are wrought vnder the sunne, and behold, the teares of the oppressed, and none comforteth them: and lo, the strength is of the hand of them that oppresseth them, and none comforteth them.

2 Wherefore I praised the dead which now are dead, above the liuing, which are yet aliue.

3 And I count him better then the both, which hath not yet bene: for hee hath not seene the euill woorkes which are wrought vnder the sunne.

4 Also I beheld all traual, and al^d empression of woorkes that t^ris in the enuie of a mā against his neighbour: this also is vanitie and vberation of spirit.

5 The foole soildeth his hands, and casteth by his owne selfe.

6 Better is an handfull of quietnes, then two handfulls with labour and vberation of spirit.

7 Again I returned, and sawe vanitie vnder the sunne.

8 There is one alone, and there is not a second, which hath neither sonne nor brother, yet is there none ende of all his traual, neither can his eye be satisfied with riches: neither doth he thinke, for whom do I traual, and defraude my soule of pleasure? this also is vanitie, & this is an euill traual.

9 Two are better then one: for they haue better wages for their labour.

10 For if they fall, the one will liue by his fellow: but too vnto him that is alone: for he falleth, and there is not a second to lift him vp.

11 Also if two sleepe together, then shall they haue heat: but to one how should there be heat?

12 And if one ouercome him, two shall stand against him: & a threefold coatd is not easily broken.

13 Better is a poore and wise childe, then an olde and foolish King, which will no more be admonished.

14 For out of the prison he commeth forth to reigne: when as he that is in boine in his kingdom, is made poore. 15 I beheld all the liuing, which walke vnder the sunne, & with y^e second child, which shall stand by in his place.

16 There is none i^dende of all the people, nor of all that were before them, & they that come after, shall not reioice in him: surely this is also vanitie and vberation of spirit.

17 Take heed to thy foot when thou entrest into the House of God, and be more nere to heare then to giue the sacrifice of^o foolcs: for they know not y^e they do euill.

greedie desires, they thinke themselves abused, as other haue bene in tyme past, and so care no more for him. m That is, with what affectio thou comest to heare the word of God. n Meaning, of the wicked, which thinke to please God with ceremonies, and haue neither faith nor repentance.

CHAP. V.

1 Not to speake lightly, chiefly in Gods matters. 9 The court vs can neuer haue enough. 11 The labourers sleepe in streete. 14 Man when he dyeth, taketh nothing with him. 18 To liue ioyfully, & with a contented mynde is the gift of God.

1 BE not^a raie to thy mouth, nor let thine hart be haie to vter a thing before God: for God is in the heavens, and thou art on the earth: therefore let thy woordes be few.

2 For as a dreame cometh by the multitude of busines: so the voice of a foole is in the multitude of woordes.

3 Whye thou hast vowed a vow to God, deferre not to pay it: for he delighteth not in foolcs: pay therefore that thou hast vowed.

4 It is better that thou shouldst not vow, then that thou shouldst vow and not pay it.

5 Suffer not thy mouth to make thy selfe to sinne: neither say before the Angel, that this is ignorance: wherefore shall God be angry by thy voyce, and destrope the woorkes of thine handes?

6 For in the multitude of dreames, and vanities are also many woordes: but feare thou God.

7 If in a countrey thou see the oppression of the poore, and the defaulting of iudgement and iustice, be not astounded at the matter: for he that is higher then the highest, regardeth, & there be higher then they.

8 And the abundance of the earth is neuer all: the king also consisteth by the field that is tilled.

9 He that leueth siluer, shall not be satisfied with siluer, and he that leueth riches, shall be without the fruite thereof: this also is vanitie.

10 When gods encrease, they are increased that eat them: and what good cometh to the owners thereof, but the beholding thereof with their eye?

11 When gods encrease, they are increased that eat them: and what good cometh to the owners thereof, but the beholding thereof with their eye? he that is preferred aboue all things, which appertaine to this lyfe, Kings and Princes cannot maintaine their estate without tillage, which thing commendeth the excellencie of tillage.

a He maketh here another discouise with himselfe concerning the tyranny of them that oppressed y^e poore. b Because they are no more subject to these oppressions. c He speaketh according to the iudgement of y^e flesh, which can not abide to feel or see troubles. d The more perfit that y^e woorkes is, the more is it enuied of the wicked. e For idleness he is compelled to destroy himselfe.

f Forasmuch as when man is alone, he can neither helpe him selfe nor others, he sheweth that men ought to liue in mutuall societe, to the intent they may be profitable one to another, and that their things may encrease.

g By this pro- uerbe he decla- reth how neces- sarye it is, that men should liue in societe. h That is, from a poore, & base estate, or out of trouble, and prison, as Ioseph did, Gen. 47. 14.

i Meaning, that is borne a King. k Which follows, & flatter y^e kings sonne, or him y^e shall succede: to enter into credit with them in hope of gayne. l They neuer cease by all means to creepe into fauour: but when they obtaine not their either in pray- ing or in vow- ing: meaning y^e we should v^e all reuerence to Godward. b He heareth thee not for thy many wordes sake or often repetitions, but considereth thy faith, and seruent minde. Deut. 23. 22.

c He speaketh of vowes, which are approved by Gods worde, and serue to his glory.

d Cause not thy selfe to sinne by vowing rashly: as the do which make a vow to liue vnmarried, & such like.

e That is, before Gods messenger, whē he shall examine thy doing: as though thy ignorance should be a iust excuse.

f Meaning, that god will redresse these things, and therefore we must depend v^o him.

g The reuenues of the earth are to this lyfe.

h Kings and Princes cannot maintaine their estate without tillage, which thing commendeth the excellencie of tillage.

i That is, his great abundance of riches, or the surfeiting, which cometh by his great feeding.
 k When covetous men heape up riches, which turne to their destruction.
 l He doth not enjoy his fathers riches.
 Job 1. 21.

 m Meaning, in vaine, and without our profite.
 n In affliction, & griefe of mind.
 o Reade Chap. 3. 22.

p He will take no great thoght for the paines that he hath endured in time past.

a He sheweth y it is the plague of God when the rich mā hath not a liberal heart to vse his riches.
 b If he can neuer haue enough.
 c As we see often times, that the covetous mā either falleth into crimes that deserue death, or is murdered or drowned or hangeth him selfe or such like, and so lacketh the honour of buriall, which is the last office of humanitie.
 d Meaning, the vncleimly fruitie whose life did neither profite or hurt anie.
 e His desire and affection.

11 The sleepe of him that traueleth, is sweete, whether he eate little of much; but the facerie of the rich will not suffer him to sleepe.
 12 There is an euill sickness that I haue seene vnder the sunne: to wit, riches^k reserved to the owners thereof for their euill.
 13 And these riches perissh by euil traucil, and he begereth a sonne, and in his hand is nothing.
 14 As he came forth of his mothers belly, he shall returne naked to goe as he came, and shall heare away nothing of his labour, which he hath caused to passe by his hand.
 15 And this also is an euill sickness that in all pointes as he came, so shall he goe, and what profite hath he that he hath traueiled for the^m winde?
 16 Also all his daies he eateth inⁿ darknes with much griefe, and in his sorrow and anger.
 17 Schole then, what I haue seene good, that it is comely to^o eate, and to drinke, and to take pleasure in all his labour, wherein he traueleth vnder the sunne, the whole number of the daies of his life, which God giueth him: for this is his portion.
 18 Also to euery man to whom God hath giuen riches and treasures, and giueth him power to eate thereof, and to take his part, and to enioy his labour: this is the gift of God.
 19 Surely he will not much remember the daies of his^p life, because God answereth to the top of his heart.

CHAP. VI.

The miserable estate of him to whom God hath giuen riches, and not the grace to vse them.

1 There is an euill, which I sawe vnder the sunne, and it is much among men:
 2 For man to whom God hath giuen riches and treasures and honour, and he wanteth nothing for his soule of all that it desireth: but^c God giueth him not power to eate thereof, but a strange man shall eate it: this is vanitie, and this is an euill sickness.
 3 If a man beget an hundred children and liue many yeeres, and the daies of his yeeres be multiplied, and his soule be not^d satisfied with good things, and he be not^e buried, I say that an vntimely fruite is better then he.
 4 For^f he cometh into vanitie and goeth into darkenes: and his name shall be covered with darkenes.
 5 Also he hath not seene the sunne, nor knowen it: therefore this hath more rest then the other.
 6 And if he had liued a thousand yeeres twice to lde, and had seene no good, shall not all goe to one place?
 7 All the labour of man is for his mouth: yet the^g soule is not filled.
 8 For what hath the wise man: more then the foole? what hath the poore that^f knoweth howe to walke before the liuing?

 9 The^h sight of the eye is better then to walke in the lutes: this also is vanitie, and vocation of spirit.
 10 What is that that hath bene: y name thereof is holue named: and it is known that it is man: & he cannot know with him that isⁱ stronger then he.

CHAP. VII.

Diners precepts so followe that which is good, and so auoide the contrary.

1 Surely there be many things that increase vanitie: and what auaileth it man?
 2 For who knoweth what is^a good for man in the life and in the number of the daies of the life of his vanitie, seeing he maketh them as a^b shadow? For who can shewe vnto man what shall be after him vnder the sunne?
 3 A good name is better then a good ointment, and the day of^b death, then the day that one is borne.
 4 It is better to goe to^c the house of mourning, then to goe to the house of feasting, because this is the end of all men: and the liuing shall lay it to his heart.
 5 Anger is better then laughter: for by a sad looke the heart is made better.
 6 The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning: but the heart of fooles is in the house of mirth.
 7 Better it is to heare the rebuke of a wife man, then that a man should heare the song of fooles.
 8 For like the noyle of the^d thornes vnder the por, so is the laughter of^e the foole: this also is vanitie.
 9 Surely oppression maketh a wife man^f mad: and the reward destroyeth the heart.
 10 The^f end of a thing is better then the beginning thereof, and the patient in spirit is better then the proud in spirit.
 11 Be not thou of an haltp spirit: to be angry: for anger resteth in the bosome of fooles.
 12 Say not thou, Why is it that the former daies were better then these: for thou doest not enquire^g wisely of this thing.
 13 Wisdome is good with an^h inheritance, and excellent to them that see the sunne.
 14 For man shall rest in the shadow of wisdom, and in the shadow of silver: but the excellencie of the knowledge of wisdom giueth life toⁱ the possessors thereof.
 15 Beholde the wisde of God: for who can make^j straight that which he hath made crooked?

to that, to the intent that man shoulde finde ^k nothing after him.

17 I haue seene all things in the daies of my banitie: there is a iust man that yerilyeth in his ^l iustice, and there is a wicked man that continueth long in his malice.

18 Be not thou iust ^m ouermuch, neither make thy selfe ouerwise: wherefore shouldest thou be desolate?

19 Be not thou wicked ⁿ ouermuch, neither be thou foolish: wherefore shouldest thou perish not in thy time?

20 It is god that thou lay hold on ^o this: but pett with draw not thine hand from ^p that: for he that feareth God, shall come forth of them all.

21 Wisdomē shall strengthen the wise man more then ten mightie princes that are in the cite.

22 ^q Surely there is no man iust in the earth, that doeth good and smeth not.

23 Cure not thine ^r heart alio to all the words that men speake, lest thou doe heare thy seruant cursing thee.

25 All this haue I ^t yconed by wisdomē: I thought I will be wise, but it went farre from me.

26 It is rare of, what map ^u it be: and it is a profound deepenes, who can finde it?

27 I haue compassed about, both I and mine heart to know ^v & to enquire and to search wisdomē and reason, and to knowe the wickednesse of folie, and the foolishness of madnes,

28 And I finde more bitter then death the woman whose heart is as nett and snares, and her handes, as hands: he that is good before God, shall be deliuered from her, but the sinner shall be taken by her.

29 Behold, saith the Preacher, this haue I found, seeking one by one to ^w finde the count:

30 And yet my soule seeketh, but I finde it not: I haue sought one man of a thousand: but a woman among them all haue I not found.

31 Onely so, this haue I found, that God hath made man righteous: but they haue sought many ^x inuentions.

CHAP. VII.

3 To obey Princes and Magistrates, 17 The workes of God passe mans knowledge.

W Ho is as the wife man? and who knoweth the interpretation of a thing: the wisdomē of a man doeth make his ^a face to shine: and the ^b strength of his face shall be changed.

2 I aduertise thee to take heede to the ^c mouth of the King, and to the word of the oth of God.

3 ^d Walle not to goe forth of his sight: by no outward thing can man knowe whom God loveth or hateth. 12 No man knoweth his ende.

stand not in an euill thing: for he will do what doeth pleasest him.

4 Where the word of the King is, there is power, and who shall say vnto him, What doest thou?

5 He that keepeth the commandment, shall knowe none euill thing, and the heart of the wise shall knowe ^e the time and iudgement.

6 For to euery purpose there is a time and iudgement because the ^f miserie of man is great, vpon him.

7 For he knoweth not that which shall be: for who can tell him when it shall be?

8 Man is not Lord ^g ouer the spirit to reuente ^h spirit: neither hath he power in the day of death, nor deliuerance in the battell, neither shall wickednesse deliuer the possessers thereof.

9 All this haue I seene, and haue giuen mine heart to euery worke, which is wrought vnder the sunne, and I sawe a time that man ruleth ouer man to his owne ⁱ hurt.

10 And likewise I sawe the wicked buried: and ^j they returned, and they that came from ^k holie ^l place, were yet forgotten in the cite where they had done right: this also is vanitie.

11 Because sentence against an euill worke is not ^m executed speedily, therefore the heart of the children of men is full set in them to doe euill.

12 Though a sinner doe euill an hundred times, and God prolongeth his dayes, yet I know that it shall be well with them that feare the Loyde, and doe reuerence before him.

13 But it shall not be well to the wicked, neither shall he prolong his dayes: he shall be like a shadowe, because he feareth not before God.

14 There is a banitie, which is done by: on the earth, that there be righteous men to whom it cometh according to the ⁿ worke of the wicked: and there be wicked men to whom it cometh according to ^o the worke of ^p iust: I thought also that this is vanitie.

15 And I praysed tope: for there is no goodnes to man vnder the sunne, saue ^q to eate and to drinke and to reioyce: for this is aduoyced to his labour, the dayes of his life that God hath giuen him vnder the sunne.

16 When I applied mine heart to knowe wisdomē, and to beholde the busines that is done on earth, that neither day nor night the eyes of man take sleepe,

17 Then I beheld ^r the whole worke of God, that man can not find out ^s the worke that is wrought vnder ^t the sunne: for ^u the which man laboureth to seeke it, & cannot finde it: yea, and though the wise man thinke to knowe it, he cannot finde it.

CHAP. IX.

1 I haue

e That is, when time is to obey, and howe farre he should obey.
f Man of himselfe is miserable, and therefore ought to do nothing to increase the same, but to worke all things by wisdomē and counsell.
g Man hath no power to saue his owne life, & therefore must not rashly cast himselfe into danger.
h As cometh oft times to tyrants, and wicked rulers.
i That is, others as wicked as they.
k They that feare God, and worshipped him according as he had appointed.

a Meaning, what things he ought to chuse or refuse, or mā knoweth not by these outward things, y is, by prosperitie or aduersitie, whome God doeth fauour or hate: for he sendeth them aswel to the wicked as to the godlie.

b In outward things as riches, & powertie, sicknesses, and health there is no difference betweene the godlie, & the wicked: but the difference is that the godly are assured by faith of Gods fauour and assistance.

c He noteth the Epicures, & carnall men, which made their belly their god, & had no pleasure but in this life, wishing rather to be an abiect, & vile perso in this life, then a man of auctoritie, and so to die, which is met by y dog & lyon.

d They flatter themselves to be in Gods fauour, because they haue al things in abundance.

e Reioyce, be merry, and spare for no cost, thus speake y wicked belly gods.

"Ebr. regard the life.

Chap. i. rs.

f Thus y worldlings say to procure that all things are lawful for them, and attribute that to chāce & fortune, which is done by the prouidence of God.

g That is, he doeth not foresee what shal come.

I haue surely giuen mine heart to all this, and to declare all this, that the iust, and the wise, and their works are in the hand of God: and no man knoweth either loue of hatred of al that is before them.

2 All things come alike to all: and the same condition is to the iust and to the wicked, to the good and to the pure, and to the polluted, and to him that sacrificeth, and to him that sacrificeth not: as is the good, so is the sinner, he that sweareth, as he that feareth an othe.

3 This is euil among al that is done vnder the sunne, that there is one condition to all, & also the heart of the sonnes of men is full of euil, and madness is in their hearts whyles they liue, and after that, they go to the dead.

4 Surely whosoever is toynd to all the liuing, there is hope: for it is better to a liuing dog, then to a dead lyon.

5 For the liuing know that they shal die, but the dead know nothing at all: neyther haue they any more a rewarde: for their remembrance is forgotten.

6 Vnto their loue, and their hatred, and their enuie is now perished, and they haue no more portion for euer, in al that is done vnder the sunne.

7 Go, eat thy bread with ioy, and drinke thy wine with a cheerefull heart: for God now d accepteth thy workes.

8 At al times let thy garments be white, and let not oyle be lacking vpon thine head.

9 Reioyce with the wife whome thou hast loued al the dayes of the life of thy vanitie, which God hath giuen thee vnder the sunne al the dayes of thy banishment: for this is thy portion in the life, and in thy traualle wherem thou labourst vnder the sunne.

10 All that thine hand shal finde to do, do it with al thy power: for there is neither worke nor mentio, nor knowledge, nor wisdom in the graue wipther thou goest.

11 I returned, and I saw vnder the sunne that the race is not to the swift, nor the battel to the strong, nor yet bread to the wise, nor also riches to men of vnderstanding, neither yet fauour to men of knowledge: but time and chance cometh to them all.

12 For neither doth man know his timeste, nor as the fishes which are taken in an euil net, & as the birdes that are caught in the snare: so are the children of men snared in the euill time when it fallith vpon them suddenly.

13 I haue also seene this wisdom vnder the sunne, and it is great vnto me.

14 A little citie and fewe men unit, and a great king came against it, and compassed it about, and builded forties against it.

15 And there was found therein a poore and wise man, and he deliuered the citie by his wisdom: but none remembered this poore man.

16 Then said I, Better is wisdom then strength: yet the wisdom of the poore is despised, and his wordes are not heard.

17 The wordes of the wise are more heard in quietnes, then the cry of him that rusleth among fooles.

18 Better is wisdom then weapons of warre: but one sinner deltroueth much good.

CHAP. X.

The difference of foolishnes and wisdom. as A slanderer is like a serpent that cannot be charmed. 15 Of foolish Kings, and drunken princes, 17 And of good Kings and princes.

Dea dies cause to sinke, and putrie is the ointment of the apocary: so doeth a little follie him that is in estimation for wisdom, and for glosie.

2 The heart of a wise man is at his right hande: but the heart of a foole is at his left hand.

3 And also when the foole goeth by the way, his heart faileth, and he belteeth vnto al that he is a foole.

4 If the spirit of him that ruleth, rise vpon against the, leaue not thy place: for gentlenes pacifieth great sinnes.

5 There is an euil that I haue seene vnder the sunne, as an error that proceedeth from the face of him that ruleth.

6 Follie is set in great excellencie, and the richie set in the low place.

7 I haue seene seruants on horses & princes walking as seruants on y ground.

8 He that diggeth a pit, shal fall into it, and hee that breaketh the hedge, a serpent shal bite him.

9 Hee that remoueth stones, shall hurt himselfe thereby, and hee that cutteth wood, shal be in danger thereby.

10 If the prou be blunt, and one hath not wker the edge, he must then put to more strength: but the excellencie to direct a thing is wisdom.

11 If the serpent bite, wise he is not charmed: no better is a babbler.

12 The wordes of the mouth of a wise man haue grace: but the lips of a foole denoure himselfe.

13 The beginning of the wordes of his mouth is foolishnes, and the latter end of his mouth is wicked madness.

14 For the foole multiplyeth wordes, saying, Man knoweth not what shall be: who can tel him what shalbe after him?

15 The labour of the foolishly doeth weare him: for he knoweth not to goe into the s citie.

16 Vnto thee, O land, when thy king is a childe, and thy princes eat in the morning.

17 Blessed art thou, O lande, when thy king is the sonne of nobles, and thy princes eat in time, for strength and not for drunkennes.

18 By sleuthfulness the rooffe of the house goeth to decay, & by the blindness of the hands the house droppeth through.

a So that he doeth al things well & iustly, whereas the foole doeth the contrary.

b By his doings he bewrayeth himselfe.

c If thy superior be angrie with thee, be thou discrete, and not moued.

CHAP. XL

1 To be liberrall to the poore. 4 Not to doubt of Gods providence. 8 All worldly prosperitie is but vanitie. 6 God will iudge all.

1 Cast thy bread vpon the^a waters: for after many dayes thou shalt find it.

2 Give a portion to seuen, & also to eight: for thou knowest not what euill shall be vpon the earth.

3 If the^b cloudes be full, they will poure forth raine vpon the earth: and if the^c tree doe fall toward the South, or toward the North, in the place that the tree falleth, there it shall be.

4 Ye that obserueth the^d winde, shall not low, and ye that regardeth the cloudes, shall not feare.

5 As thou knowest not which is the way of the spirit, nor how the bones do grow in the wombe of her that is with child: so thou knowest not the worke of God that worketh all.

6 In the morning sow thy seede, and in the evening let not thine hand^e rest: for thou knowest not whether shall prosper, this^f or that, or whether both shall be alike good.

7 Surely the light is a pleasant thing: and it is a good thing to the eyes to see the sunne.

8 Though a man liue many yeeres, and in them all bee rich, yet hee shall remember the dayes of his darkenesse, because they are many, all that commeth is vanitie.

9^h Keiopee, & pong man, in thy youth, and let thine heart chere thee in the dayes of thy youth: and walke in the wayes of thine heart, and in the sight of thine eyes: but know that for all these things, God will bring thee to iudgement.

10 Therefore take alwaieⁱ grieue out of thine heart, and cause euill^k to depart from thy flesh: for childhood and youth are vanitie.

CHAP. XII

1 To thinke on God in youth and not to deferre till age. 7 The soule returneth to God. 11 VVifdom is the gift of God, and consisteth in fearing him and keeping his commandments.

1 Remember now thy Creator in the dayes of thy youth, while the euill dayes come not, nor the yeeres approach, wherein thou shalt say, I haue no pleasure in them:

2 Whiles the sunne is not darke, nor the light, nor the moone, nor the starres, nor the^a cloudes returne after the raine:

3 When the^b keepers of the house shall tremble, and the^c strong men shall bowe them selues, and the^d grinders shall cease, because they are fewe, and they were darke that looke out by the windowes:

4 And the^e doores shall be shut without by the base sound of the^f grinding, and he shall rile by at the voyce of the^g byrd: and all the^h daughters of singing shall be abated.

5 Also thy shall be asprae of theⁱ hie thing, and feare shall be in^j the way, and the^k almonde tree shall^l flourish and the^m grasshopper shall be a burden, and concupiscence shall be byuen away: for man goeth to the house of his age, and the mourners goe about in the strette.

6 Whiles theⁿ silver coarbe is not lengthened, nor the golden^o p ewer broken, nor the^p pitcher broken at the^q well, nor the^r wheele broken at the^s cistern: 7 And dust returne to the earth as it was, and the^t spirit returne to God that gaue it.

8 Vanitie of vanities, sayth the^u Preacher, all is vanitie.

9 And the^v more wise the^w Preacher was, the more hee taught the people knowledge, and caused them to heare, and searched forth, and prepared many parables.

10 The Preacher sought to find out pleasant wordes, and an vpright writing, euen the wordes of truth.

11 The wordes of the wise are like goads, and like as napples^x fastned by the masters of assemblies, which are giuen by one y^y pasture.

12 And of other things besides these, and some, take thou heede: for there is none ende in making many^z bookes, and much reading is a wearines of the flesh.

13 Let vs heare the end of all: feare God and keepe his commandments: for this is the whole dutie of man.

14 For God will bring euery worke vnto iudgement, with euery secret thing, whether it be good or euill.

AN * EXCELLENT SONG

WHICH WAS SALOMONS.

THE ARGUMENT.

IN this Song, Salomon by most sweete and comfortable allegories and parables describeth the perfit loue of Iesus Christ, the true Salomon and King of peace, and the faithfull loue for his Church, which he hath sanctified & appointed to be his spoufe, holy, chaste and without reprehension. So that here is declared the singular loue of the bridegrome toward the bride, and his great and excellent benefites wherewith he doth enriche her of his pure bounty and grace without any of her deseruings. Also the earnest affection of the Church which is inflamed with the loue of Christ desiring to be more and more ioyned to him in loue, and not to be forsaken for any spot or blemish that is in her.

CHAP. I.

1 The familiar talke and myrricall communication of the spiritual loue betwene Iesus Christ and his Church. 2 The domesticall enemies that persecute the Church.

At him kisse me with the kisses of his mouth: for thy loue is better then wine.

Because of the fauour of thy good ointments thy name is as an ointment powred out: therefore the virgines loue thee.

Drawe me: we will runne after thee: the King hath bought me into his chambers: we will reioyce and be glad in thee: we wil remember thy loue more then wine: the righteous doe loue thee.

I am blacke, O daughters of Ierusalem, but comely, as the frutes of a Kedar, and as the curtines of Salomon.

Regard pe me not because I am blacke: for the King hath looked vpon me. The sonnes of my mother were angry against me: they made me the keeper of the vines: but I kept not mine owne vine.

Shew me, O thou, whom my soule loveth, where thou feedest, where thou liest at noone: for why should I be as the that turneth aside to the flockes of thy companions?

If thou know not, O thou the fairest among women, get thee forth by the steps of the flocke, and feede thy kiddes by the tentes of the shepherdes.

I haue compared thee, O my loue, to the troupe of hoes in the charrets of Pharaoh.

Thy cheekes are comely with robes of stones, and thy necke with chaines.

We will make thee borders of golde with studdes of siluer.

Whiles the King was at his repast, my spikenard gave the smell thereof.

My welbeloued is as a bundle of myrrhe vnto me: he shall lie betwene my breasts.

My welbeloued is as a cluster of camphire vnto me in the vines of Engedi.

My loue, beholde, thou art faire: beholde, thou art faire: thine eyes are like the doies.

My welbeloued, beholde, thou art faire and pleasant: also our bed is Greene.

The beames of our house are cedars, our rafters are of fure.

CHAP. II.

3 The Church desireth to rest vnder the shadowe of Christ. 4 She heareth his voice. 5 She is compared to the dove, 6 And the enemies to the foxes.

In the rose of the field, and the lillie of the vallies.

Like a lillie among the thornes, so is my loue among the daughters.

Like the apple tree among the trees of the forest, so is my welbeloued among the sonnes of men: vnder his shadowe had I delite, and late downe: and his fruite was sweete vnto my mouth.

He brought me into the wine celler, and loue was his banner ouer me.

Stay me with flagons, & comfort mee with apples: for I am sicke of loue.

His left hand is vnder mine head, and his right hand border embraceth me.

I charge you, O daughters of Ierusalem, by the roes and by the lillies of the felde, that ye stirre not vpon, nor waken my loue, until he please.

It is the voyce of my welbeloued: beholde, he cometh leaping by the moun- taines, and skipping by the hilles.

My welbeloued is like a roe, or a pong hart: so he standeth behinde our wall, looking forth of the windowes, & beholding himselfe through the grates.

My welbeloued spake and saide vnto me, Arise, my loue, my faire one, & come thy way.

For behold, & winter is past: the raine is changed, and is gone away.

The flowers appeare in the earth: the time of the singing of birdes is come, and the voice of the turtle is heard in our land.

The figtree hath brought forth her d This is spoken of Christ, who tooke vpon him our nature to come to helpe his Church.

1 The Church desireth to be ioyned inseparably to Christ her husband, & her deliuerance out of the wilderness.

1 I my bed by a night I sought him that my soule loued: I sought him, but I found him not.

2 I will rife therefore now, and go about in the cite, by the streetes and by the open places, and will seeke him that my soule loueth: I sought him, but I found him not.

3 The watchmen that went about the cite, found me: to whom I saide, Haue you seene him, whom my soule loueth?

4 Why I had past a litle from them, then I found him whom my soule loued: I tooke hold on him and left him not, till I had brought him vnto my mothers house into the chamber of her that con-ceiued me.

5 I charge you, O daughters of Jerusalem, by the roes and by the hyndes of the fildes, that ye stirre not vp, nor waken my loue until he please.

6 Who is she that cometh vp out of the wildernesse like pillars of smoke perfumed with myrrhe and incense, and with all the spices of the marchant?

7 Beholde his bed, which is Salomons:
these are the strong men are rounde about it, of the valiant men of Israel.

8 They all handle the sword, and are expert in warre, euery one hath his sword vpon his thigh for the feare by night.

9 King Salomon made himselfe a palace of the trees of Lebanon.

10 He made the pillars thereof of siluer, and the pavement thereof of golde, the hangings thereof of purple, whose middles was paved with the loue of the daughters of Jerusalem.

11 Come forth, ye daughters of Zion, and beholde the King Salomon with the crowne, wherewith his mother crowned him in the day of his marriage, and in the day of the gladnes of his heart.

4 Thy necke is as the tower of Dauid built for defence: a thousand shieldes hang therein, and all the targates of the strong men.

5 Thy two breasts are as two pong roes that are twinned, feeding among the lilies.

6 Until the day breake, & the shadowes slee away, I will goe into the moun-taine of myrrhe and to the mountaine of incense.

7 Thou art all faire, my loue, and there is no spot in thee.

8 Come with me from Lebanon, my spouse, euen with me from Lebanon, and looke from the top of Amanah, from the top of Shenir and Hermon, from the denies of the Ipons and from the mountaines of the leopardes.

THE ARGUMENT.

God, according to his promes Deut. 18. 1. 5. that he would neuer leave his Church destitute of a Prophet, hath from time to time accomplished the same: whose office was not only to declare vnto the people things to come, wherof they had a special reuelation, but also to interpret and declare the Law, & to applie particularly the doctrine, contained briefly therein, to the vilitie & profit of those, to whom they thought it chiefly to appertayne, and as the time and state of things required. And principally in the declaration of the Law they had respect to three things, which were the ground of their doctrine: First to the doctrine contained briefly in the two tables: secondly to the promises and threatnings of the Law: and thirdly, to the covenant of grace and reconciliation, grounded vpon our Sauour Iesus Christ, who is the end of the Law. Whereunto they neither added nor diminished, but faithfully expounded the sense & meaning thereof. And according as God gaue them vnderstanding of things, they applied the promises particularly for the comfort of the Church and the members thereof, and also denounced the menaces against the enemies of the same: not for any care or regard to the enemies, but to assure the Church of their safeguard by the destruction of their enemies. And as touching the doctrine of reconciliation, they haue more clerely intreated it then Moses, and set forth more lively Iesus Christ, in whom this covenant of reconciliation was made. In all these things Isaiah did excel all the Prophets, and was most diligent to set out the same, with most vehement admonitions, reprehensions, and consolations: euer applying the doctrine, as he saue that the disease of his people required. He declareth also many notable prophecies which he had receiued of God, as touching the promises of the Messiah, his office, and his kingdom. Also of the fauour of God toward his Church, the vocation of the Gentiles, & their vniou with the Iewes. Which are as most principal points contained in this booke, & a gathering of his sermons that he preached. Which after certaine dayes that they had stand vpon the Temple doore (for the manner of the Prophets was to set vp the summe of their doctrine for certain dayes that the people might better marke it as Isa. 8. 1. & Habak. 2. 2.) his Priests took it downe & referred it among their registers: & so by Gods providence these bookes were preferred as a monument to the Church for euer. As touching his person and time, he was of the kings stocke (for Amos his father was brother to Azariah King of Iudah, as the best writers agree) & prophesied more then then 64. yeeres from the tyme of Vzziah vnto the reigne of Manafieh, whose father in lawe he was (as the Hebrews write) and of whome he was put to death. And in reading of the Prophets this one thing among other is to be obserued, that they speake of things to come as though they were now past, because of the certaintie therof, and that they could not but come to passe, because God had ordeined them in his secret counsell, and so reuealed them to his Prophets.

CHAP. I.

2 Isaiah reuoucheth the Lewes of their ingratitude & stubbornnes, that neither for benefites nor punishment would amende. 11 He sheweth why their sacrifices are rejected, & whom Gods true seruice flourisheth. 21 He prophesieth of the destruction of Ierusalem. 25 And of the restitution therof.

h When God will shewe him selfe mercifull to his Church, he calleth himselfe, The holy one of Itraek: but when he hath to do with his enemies, he is called Mightie, as against whom no power is able to resist.

The Church shall be restored by Christ, and the Gentiles called. 6 The punishment of the rebellious and obstinate.

Michah 4. 1.
a The decree & ordinance of God, touching the restauration of the Church, which is chiefly meant of y^e ryme of Christ.

b In an euident place to be seene and discerned.

of the doctrine. Here also is declared the zeale of the children of God, when they are called. d Alluding to mount Zion, where the visible Church then was. Michah 4. 1. e Meaning the whole doctrine of saluation. f This was accomplished, when the Gospel was first preached in Ierusalem, & from thence went through all the world.

is mixt with water.
23 Thy princes are rebellions & companions of thieves: euery one loueth gifts, & followeth after rewardes: they iudge not the fatherles, neither doeth they wisdomes cause come before them.

24 Therefore saith the Lord God of hostes, the h^o nightie one of Itrael, I will i^o ease me of mine aduersaries, & auenge me of mine enemies.

25 Then I will turne mine haunde vpon thee, and burne out thy bowels, till it^k be pure, and take away all thy sinne.

26 And I will restore thy iudges as at the sick, & thy counsellors as at the beginning: afterwarde shalt thou be called a cite of righteousness, & a faithfull cite.

27 Zion shalbe redeemed in iudgement, & they that returne in her, in i^o iustice.

28 And the destruction of the transgressours & of the sinners shall be together: and they that forsake the Lord, shall be consumed.

29 For they shall bee consumed for the o^okes, which ye haue desired, & ye shall be ashamed of the gardes, that ye haue chosen.

30 For ye shall be as an oke, whose leafe fadeth: and as a garden that hath no water.

31 And the strong shall be as p^oltowe, & the maker thereof, as a sparke: and they shall both burne together, and none shall quene^o them.

32 Therefore shall the faithfull among them shoulde bee overcome with this threatening, he addeth this consolation. l It is onely the worke of God to purifie the heart of man, which thing he doeth because of his promises, made concerning the saluation of his Church. m By iustice is meant Gods faithfull promises, which is the cause of the delinuerance of his Church. n The wicked shall not be partakers of Gods promises, Psal. 92. 9. o That is, the trees and pleasant places, where ye commit idolatrie, which was forbidden, Deut. 16. 22. p The false god, wherein ye put your confidence, shalbe consumed as easily, as a peece of tow.

4 And he shall iudge among the nations, and rebuke many people: they shall i^o breaketh their swoordes also into mattocks, and their speares into sitches: nation shall not lift vp a sword against nation, neyther shall they learne^k to fight any more.

5 O house of Iacob, come ye, and let vs i^o walke in the light of the Loide.

6 Surely thou^m hast forsaken thy people, the house of Iacob, because they areⁿ full of the East maners, and are forcerers as the Philistines, and abound with strange children.

7 Their land also was full of p^oltow and golde, and there was none ende of their treasures: & their lande was full of hoyses, and their charers were infinite.

8 Their land also was full of idoles: they worshipped the worke of their owne handes, which their owne fingers haue made.

9 And a man bowed himselfe, and a man humbled himselfe: therefore^r spare them not.

10 Enter into the rocke, & hide the^s in the dust from before the feare of the Loide, and from the gloie of his maiestie.

11 The hie looke of man shalbe humbled, and the loftinesse of men shalbe abased, and the Loide onely shall bee exalted in that day.

12 For the daye of the Loide of hostes is vpon all the proude and haucie, and vpon all that is exalted: and it shall bee made lowe.

13 Euen vpon all the cedars of Lebanon, that are hie and exalted, and vpon all the okes of Balban,

14 And vpon all the high^t mountaines, & vpon all the hills that are lifted vp,

15 And vpon euery hie tower, and vpon euery strong wall,

16 And vpon^u all the shippes of Tarshish, and vpon all pleasant pictures.

17 And p^o haughtines of me shalbe brought low, & the loftinesse of men shalbe abased, and the Loide shall onely be exalted in that day.

18 And the idoles will bee utterly destrope.

19 Then they shall go^v into the holes of the rocks, & into the caves of the earth, from before the feare of the Loide, and from the gloie of his maiestie, when he shall arise to destrop the earth.

20 At that daye shall man cast away his factions of other nations. p The Prophet first condemned their superstition & idolatrie: next their couetousnes, and thirdly, their vaine trust in worldly meanes. q He noteth the nature of the idolaters, which are neuer satisfied in their superstitions. r Thus the Prophet spake, being inflamed with the zeale of Gods glory, and that he might feare them with Gods iudgement. s Meaning, as soone as God shall beginne to execute his iudgements. t By high trees & mountaines are meant them that are proude, and loftie, and thinke themselves most strong in this worlde. u He condemneth their vayne confidence, which they had in strong holdes, and in their niche marchandise, which brought in vayne pleasures, wherewith mens mindes became effeminate. Hofea 10. 1. Luke. 23. 30. reuel. 6. 16. & 8. 6.

They shall cast them into most vile and filthy places, when they perceiue that they are not able to helpe them
 y Cast of your wayne confidence of man, whose life is so fraille, that if his nose be stopped, he is dead, & consider that you haue to do with God.

Other holes, and his golden holes (which they had made themselves to worship them): to the moulles and to the backes, 21 To go into the holes of the rockes, and into the tops of the ragged rockes fro before the face of the Lorde, and from the glory of his manifest, when he shall rise to despoil the earth.
 22 Caste you from the mid whose ybreath is in his nostrils: for wherein is he to be esteemed?

CHAP. III.

1 For the sinne of the people God will take away the wisdome, and giue them foolish princes. 2 The conceitfullnesse of the gouernours. 3 The pryde of the women.

a Because they trusted in their abundance and prosperitie, he sheweth that they should be taken from the. b The temporall gouernour and the minister. c By these he meaneth that God would take away euery thing that was in any estimation, and wherein they had any occasion to vaunt themselves. d Not onely in age, but in wit, maners, knowledge & strength. e For lacke of good regiment and order. f He sheweth that this plague shalbe so horrible, that contrary to the comon maner of men, which by nature are ambitious, none shall be found able or willing to be their gouernour. g Feare shal rather cause him to forswear himselfe, then to take such a dangerous charge vpon him. h When God shal examine their deeds, whereupon they neuer set an impudent face, he shall finde the marke of their impietie in their forehead. i Be ye that are godly assured that God will defend you in the middes of these troubles.

FOr lo, the Lord God of hostes will take away from Jerusalem & from Iudah the stay & the strength: euen all the stay of bread, and all the stay of water,
 2 The strong man, & the man of warre, the iudge and the Prophet, the iudicet and the aged,
 3 The captaine of fiftie, and the honora- ble, and the counsellor, and the cunning artificer, and the eloquent man.
 4 And I wil appoint 4 childre to be their princes, and babes shal rule ouer them.
 5 The people shall be oppressed one of another, and euery one by his neighbour: the children shal yreime againt the ancient, and the vile againt the honourable.
 6 When euery one shall take holde of his brother of the house of his father, and say, Thou hast clothing: thou shalt be our prince, and let this fall be vnder thine hand.
 7 In that day he shall sweare, saying, I cannot be an helper: for there is no breade in myne house, nor clothing: therefore make me no prince of þ people.
 8 Doubtles Jerusalem is fallen, and Iudah is fallen down, because their tongue and workes are againt the Lorde, to provoke the eyes of his glory.
 9 The trial of their countenance testifieth againt them, yea, they declare their sinnes, as Sodom, they hide them not. Wo be vnto their soules: for they haue rewarded euill vnto themselves.
 10 I say pe, Surely it shall be well with the iust: for they shall eate the fruite of their workes.
 11 Wo be to the wicked, it shall be euil with him: for the reward of his handes shall be giuen him.

12 Children are creationers of myn people, and women haue rule ouer them: O my people, then that lead the, cause the to erre, and despoil the way of thy paths.
 13 The Lorde standeth by to plead, yea, he standeth to iudge the people.
 14 The Lorde shall enter into iudgement with the iudgements of his people & the princes thereof: for ye haue eaten by þ vineyard: the spoile of the poore is in your houses.
 15 What haue ye to do, that ye beate my people to pieces, and guide the faces of the poore, saith the Lorde, euen þ Lorde of hostes?
 16 The Lorde also saith, Because þ daughters of Zion are hautie, and walk with stretched out neckes, and with wandering eyes, walking and musing as they go, and making a tunkling with their feete, 17 Therefore shal þ Lorde make the heads of the daughters of Zion balde, and the Lorde shal discouer their secret partes.
 18 In that day that the Lorde take away the ornament of þ slippers, & the calles, and the round tires,
 19 The sweete balles, and the bracelets, & the bonnets,
 20 The tyres of the head, and the slappes, and the head bandes, and the tablets, & the earrings,
 21 The rings and the mufflers,
 22 The costly apparel and the vailles, and the wimples, and the crisping pinnies,
 23 And the glasses, and the fine linnen, & the hoodes, and the launces.
 24 And in stead of sweete fauour, there shalbe stinke, and in stead of a girde, a rent, and in stead of dyelling of þ heare, baldnes, and in stead of a stomacher, a girthing of sackcloth, & burning in stead of beautie.
 25 Thy men shall fall by the sword, and thy strength in the battel.
 26 Thou shalt her gates mourne and lament, and the being desolate, shall sitte vpon the ground.

or had sile plates sowed vpon the, which tinkled as they went. f In rehearsing all these things particularly, he sheweth the lightnes, and vanitie of such as cannot be content with comely apparell according to their degree. t Meaning, that God will not onely punish the women, but their husbandes, which haue suffered this dishonour, and also the comon weale, which hath not remedied it.

CHAP. IIIII.

1 The small remnant of iudea after the destruction of Ierusalem. 2 The graces of God vpon the that remain.

And in that day shall a seuen woe Amen take hold of one man, saying, We will eate our owne bread, and we will wear our garmentes: our vs be called by thy name, & take away our reproche.
 a When God shal execute this vengeance, there shal not be one man found to be y head to many women, & they contrary to womanly shamefastnes, shall seeke vnto men, and offer themselves to any condition. b Be thou our husband, and let vs be called thy wiues. c For so they thought it to be without an head and husband.

He comforteth the Church in his desolation, which shall spring up like a bud, signifying that Gods graces should be as plentiful toward the faithfull, as though they sprang out of the earth, as Chap. 45. 8. Some by the budde of the Lord meane Christ.

He alludeth to the book of life, whereof read Exod. 32. 32. meaning Gods secret counsell, wherein his elect are predestinate to life everlasting. f That is, the cruelty, extortion, auarice, and all wickednes. g When things shall be redressed, that were amisse. h He alludeth to the pillar of y cloud, Exod. 13. 21: meaning, that Gods fauour and protection should appeare in every place. i The faythfull are called the glory of God, because his image, and tokens of his grace shine in them. k God promisseth to be the defence of his Church agaynst all troubles and dangers.

In that day shall the Lord be beautiful and glorious, & the fruit of the earth shall be excellent and pleasant for them that are escaped of Israel.

Then he that shall be left in Zion, & he that shall remaine in Ierusalem, shall bee called holy, and every one shall bee written among the liuing in Ierusalem.

When the Lord shall wash the filthines of the daughters of Zion, and purge the blood of Ierusalem out of the middes thereof by the spirit of iudgement, and by the spirit of burning.

And the Lord shall create vpon every place of mount Zion, and vpon the assemblies thereof, a cloude and smoke by day, and the shining of a flaming fire by night: for vpon all the glory shall be a defence.

And a covering shall be for a shadow in the day for the heate, and a place of refuge and a covert for the storme, & for the rapine.

Surely the vineyards of the Lord of hostes is the house of Israel, and the men of Iudah are his pleasant plant, & he looked for iudgement, but he holde oppoession: for rightcoulines, but he hold a crying.

Wo vnto them that ioine house to house, & lap field to field, til there be no place, that pe may be placed by your selues in the middes of the earth.

This is in mine yeares, saith the Lord of hostes, Surely many houses shall be solate, euen great, and faire without inhabitant.

For ten acres of vines shall yelde one bath, and the seede of an homer shall yeld an ephah.

Wo vnto them, that rise by early to follow drunkemies, and to them that continue vntil a night, till the wyne do inflame them.

And the harpe and viol, timbrel, and pipe, and wine are in their feastes: but they regarde not the worke of the Lord, neither consider the worke of his handes.

Therefore my people is gone into captiuitie, because they had no knowledge, and the glory thereof are much diminished, and the multitude thereof is dued by with thirst.

Therefore he hath enlarged it selfe, and hath opened his mouth, without measure, and their glory, & their multitude, and their pompe, and he that re- topceeth among them, shall descend into it.

And man shall be brought downe, and man shall be humbled, euen the eyes of the proud shall be humbled.

And the Lord of hostes shall be exalted in iudgement, and the holy God shall be sanctified in iustice.

Then shall the lambs feede after their maner, and the strangers shall eate the desolate places of the fat.

Wo vnto them, that draw iniquitie with y cordes of vanitie, and snue, as with cart ropes:

Which say, let him make speede: let him hasten his worke, that we may see it: and let the counsell of the holy one of Israel draw nere and come, that we may know it.

Wo vnto them that speake good of es uill, and euil of good, which put darknesse for light, and light for darkenesse, that put bitter for sweete, and sweet for soure.

Iudgement & rightcoulines are true fruits of the feare of God, & therefore in the cruel oppressors there is no religion.

Of them that are oppressed, k To wit, for the poore to dwell in.

I have heard the coplaine, and cry of the poore. m Which conteineth about ten pottels: so that every acre should but yeld one pottel.

n Which conteineth an hundred pottels.

o An Ephah conteineth ten pottels, and is in dry thinges as much as bath is in liquors.

p That spare no paine nor diligence to follow their lustes.

q Which are neuer weary of their rioting and excessiue pleasures: but vse all means to provoke to the same.

r They regard not the provided care of God ouer them, nor for what ende he hath created them.

s That is, shall certainly go: for so the Prophetes vse to speake, as though y thing which shall come to passe, were done already.

t Because they would not obey the word of God.

u Meaning, the graue shall swallow them y shall die for hunger and thirst, and yet for all this vgrt destruction it shall neuer be satiate.

x God comforteth the poore lambs of his Church, which had bene strangers in other countreis, promising y they should dwell in those places againe, whereof they had bene deprived by the fat and cruel tyrants. y Which vse all allurements, occasions, & excuses to harden their conscience in sinne. z He sheweth what are the wordes of the wicked, when they are menaced w Gods iudgements. 2. Pet. 3. 4. a Which are not ashamed of sinne, nor care for honesty, but are grown to a desperate impietie.

CHAP. V.

Vnder the similitude of the vine he describeth the state of the people, & Of their auarice. 11 Their drunkennes. 13 Of their captiuitie.

That is, to God.

1. 1. 1.

Meaning, that he had planted his Church in a place most plentiful and abundant.

He spared no diligence nor cost.

In the sequent verse he denounceth what they were.

He maketh them iudges in their own cause, forasmuch as it was euident that they were the cause of their owne ruine. g I will take no more care for it: meaning that he would take from them his worde and ministers, and all other comforts, and sende them contrary plagues.

Now will I sing to my beloued a song of my beloued to his vines parde. My beloued had a vines yard in a very fruitful hill.

And he hedged it, and gathered out the stones of it, and he planted it with the best plants, and he built a towre in the middes thereof, and made a winepresse therein: then he looked that it should bring forth grapes: but it brought forth wilde grapes.

Now therefore, o inhabitantes of Ierusalem and men of Iudah, iudge, I pray you, betwene me, & my vines parde.

What could I haue done any more to my vineyard that I haue not done vnto it? why haue I looked that it should bring forth grapes, & it bringeth forth wilde grapes?

And now I will tell you what I will do to my vineyard: I will take away the hedge thereof, and it shall be eaten vp: I will breake the wall thereof, and it shall be troden downe.

And I will lay it wast: it shall not be cut, nor digged, but buers, & thornes shall grow vp: I will also commaund the flocks p they raine no raine vpon it.

And now I will tell you what I will do to my vineyard: I will take away the hedge thereof, and it shall be eaten vp: I will breake the wall thereof, and it shall be troden downe.

h Counting from the five and twentieth yere of the reigne of Zeziah, at what time Amos prophesied this thing, and now Iſaiah confirmeth that the Iſraelites should be led into perpetuall captiuitie, which thing came to passe within twentie yere after that Iſaiah did this message.

i For the confirmation of this thing, that thine enemies shall be destroyed and thou preferred. k Not to beleue Gods worde without a signe is to tempt God: but to refuse a signe when God offereth it for the ayde and helpe of our infirmitie, is to rebell agaynst him. l You thinke you haue to doe with men, when ye contemne Gods messengers: but it is God, agaynst whome you bende your selues. m. Forasmuch as thou art unworthie, the Lorde for his owne promise wil giue a signe, which shall be that Christ the Saviour of his Church and the effect of all signes and miracles shall be recycled. n Or, God with vs, which name can agree to none, but to him, that uorsh God and man. n Meaning, that Christ is not onely God, but man also, because he shall be nourished as other men, & all the age of discretion,

And in the dayes of ^a Whaz, the sonne of Jorham, the sonne of Dziah king of Judah, Rezin king of ^b Arain came vp, and Dehah the sonne of Kemalah king of Israel, to Jerusalem to fight againt it, but he could not overcome it.

2 And it was tolde the house of ^b Dauid, saying, Arain is topped with ^c Ephraim: therefore his heart was ^d inoned, and the heart of his people, as the trees of the forest are mowed by the winde.

3 ¶ Then sayd the Lorde vnto Iſaiah, Go forth now to meete Whaz (thou ^e Shez ar iah thp sonne) at the ende of the conduit of the upper poole, in the path of the fullers felds,

4 And say vnto him, Take heed, & be still: feare not, neither be faint hearted for the two rales of thele smokinge firebrades, for the furious wrath of Rezin and of Arain, and of Kemalahs sonne:

5 Because Arain hath taken wicked counsel againt thee, and Ephraim, and Kemalahs sonne, saying,

6 Let vs go by againt Judah, and let vs waken them vp, & make a breach there: in for vs, and let a king in the middes thereof, euen the sonne of E Tabeal.

7 Thus saith the Lorde God, It shall not stand, neither shall it be.

8 For the head of Arain is Damaſcus, & the head of Damaſcus is Rezin: & with in five and ^b threſcore yeere, Ephraim shall be destroyed from being a people.

9 And the head of Ephraim is Samaria, and the head of Samaria is Kemalahs sonne. If ye beleue not, surely ye shall not be established.

10 ¶ And the Lorde spake againe vnto Iſaiah, saying,

11 Aske a ſigne for thee of the Lorde thy God: aske it, either in the depth, or in the heighth above.

12 But Whaz sayd, I wil not aske, neither wil I ^a tempt the Lord.

13 Then he sayd, Heare ye now, O house of Dauid, Is it a small thing for you to grieue ^d men, that ye wil also grieue my God?

14 Therefore the Lorde ^m himſelfe will giue you a ſigne. Beholde, the virgine shall conceive and beare a sonne, and she shall call his name ⁿ Jimmam el.

2 The people that walked in darkenes, haue ſeene a great light: they that dwelled in the lande of the ſhadowe of death, vpon them hath the light ſhined.

3 Thou haſt multiplied the nation, and not increaſed their ioye: they haue reioyced before thee according to the ioye in harriet, & as men reioice when they deuide a ſpoyle.

4 For the ſpoke of their burthen, and the ſtaffe of their ſhoulder, and the rod of their oppreſſour haſt thou broken as in the day of Midian.

5 Surely every battel of the warrior is broken, and every ſtrong hold is brought down: the ſtrong hold of the mighty is brought down, and the ſtrong hold of the high fortification is brought down.

6 Therefore ſaith the Lord God, the Lord of hoſtes, the God of Iſrael, concerning the ſtrong hold of the high fortification, which ſaith, I will not be ſubdued, nor will I be brought down: for I will bring down the ſtrong hold of the high fortification, and will bring down the ſtrong hold of the high fortification, and will bring down the ſtrong hold of the high fortification.

p Wickednes as a belloues kind- leth the fire of Gods wrath, which consumeth all his ob- stinate enemies.

with noise, and with tumbling of gar- ments in bloud: but this shall be with burning and demouring of fire.

6 For vnto vs a Child is borne, & vnto vs a Sonne is giuen: and the gouern- ment is vpon his shoulder, and he shal call his name Wonderful, Counsellor, The mighty God, The euertlasting Father, The prince of peace,

7 The increas of his gouernement and peace shall haue none ende: he shall sit vpon the throne of Dauid, and vpon his kingdom, to order it, and to stablish it with iudgement and with iustice, from henceforth, euen for euer: the seale of the Lord of hostes wil performe this.

8 ¶ The Lord hath sent a word into Ja- koh, and it hath lighted vpon Israel.

9 And all the people shal know, euen E- phraim, and the inhabitant of Samaria, that say in the pride and presump- tion of the heart,

10 The briches are fallen, but we will build it with iewen stones: the wilde figge trees are cut downe, but we will change them into cedars.

11 Neuertheless the Lord wil raise by the aduertaries of Rezin against him, and ioyne his enemies together.

12 Trau before and the Philistims be- hind, and they shal deuour Israel with open mouth: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hande is stretched out still.

13 For the people turneth not vnto him that smiteth them, neither do they secke the Lord of hostes.

14 Therefore will the Loyde cut off from Israel head and ruple, branch and rush in one dap.

15 The auuncient and the honozable man, he is the head: and the prophet that teacheth lies, he is the ruple.

16 For the leaders of the people cause the to erre: and they that are led by them, are denoured.

17 Therefore shal the Loyd haue no plea- sure in their pong men, neither will he haue compassion of their fatherles and of their widowes: for eury one is an hypocrite and wicked, & eury mouth speaketh folly: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hande is stretched out still.

18 For wickednes is bunneth as a fire: it demourth the byers and the thornes, and will kinde in the thicke places of the forest: and they shall mount by lyke the lifting by of smoke.

19 By the wrath of the Lord of hostes shall the land be darkened, and the people shal be as the meate of the fire: no man shall spare his brother.

20 And he shal snatch at the right hand, and be hungry: and he shal eate on the left hand, and shall not be satisfied: eury one shal eate the flesh of his owne arme.

21 Danasseth, Ephraim: and Ephraim another. r Their greedines shal be insatiable, so that one brother shal eat vp another, as though he should eate his own flesh.

Danasseth, and they both shal be against Judah: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

15 Shall the ² axe boast it selfe against him that he weth therewith? or shall the sawe exalt it selfe against him that mooueth it? as if the rodde should lift vp it selfe against him that taketh it vp, or the staffe shoulde exalt it selfe, as it were no wood. 16 Therefore shall the Lord God of hostes send among his fat men, leannes, and vnder his glorie he shall kindle a burning, like the burning of fire. 17 And the light of Israel shall be as a flce, and the Holie one thereof as a flame, and it shall burne, and deuoure ² his thornes and his byers in one day: 18 And shall consume the gloyp of his forest, and of his fruitefull fieldes both soule ^o and feirh: and he shall be as the ^o fainting of a staunder bearer. 19 And the rest of the trees of his forest shall be fewe, that a childe may tell them. 20 ¶ And at that day shall the remnant of Israel, and such as are escaped of the house of Iacob, stay no more upon him that linote them, but shall ^o stay upon the Lord, the holp one of Israel in truelh. 21 The remnant shall returne, euen the remnant of Iacob vnto the nightie God. 22 For though thy people, O Israel, be as the sand of the Ier, yet shall the remnant of them returne. The consumption ^o decreed shall ouerflowe with righteousnesse. 23 For the Lord God of hostes shall make the consumption, euen ^o determined, in the mides of all the land. 24 Therefore thus saith the Lord God of hostes, ^o My people, that dwellst in Zion, be not afraid of Asshur: he shall smite thee with a rod, and shall lift vp his staffe against thee after the manner of ^o Egypt: 25 But yet a berie litle time, & the wrath shall be consumed, and mine anger in their destruction. 26 And the Lord of hostes shall raise up a scourge for him, according to the plague of ^o Midian in the rocke Oreb: and as his staffe was vpon the ^o Sea, so he will lift it vp after the manner of ^o Egypt. 27 And at that day shall his burden be taken away from of thy shoulder, and his yoke from of thy necke: & the yoke shall be destroyed because of ² the anointing. 28 He is come ^o to Niath: he is passed in to Migron: at Michmash shall he laye by his armour. 29 They haue gone ouer the fooude: they lodged in the lodging at Geba: Kas-mah is afrate: Sibeah of Dan is fled away. 30 Lift vp thy voyce, O daughter Galun, cause thine eares to heare, O poore Bethoth. 31 Hadimeneh is removed: the inhabitants of Gebim haue gathered themselues together. 32 Yet there is a time that he will stay at Rob: he shall lift vp his hand toward the mount of the daughter Zion, the hill of Ierusalem. 33 Beholde, the Lord God of hostes shall cut of the ² bough with feare, and they of high stature shall be cut of, and the high shall be humbled. 34 And he shall cut away the thicke places of the forest with pylon, and Lebanon shall haue a mightie fall.

g Meaning, that it was a ciy that euer liued in pleasure, and neuer felt sorow.

lence in a night.
2 Hee shall goe vp to the temple, and to

Abebo and for Debeba shall Moab howle: vpon all their heades shalbe ed vp: therefore the grasse is withered, the herbes consumed, and there was no greene herbe.

7 Therefore what euerie man hath left,

CHAP. XVI.

The causes wherefore the Moabites are destroyed.

Send vpe a lambe to the ruler of the world from the rocke of the wilde-nes, vnto an mountain of the daughter Zion.
2 For it shalbe as a bird that flyeth, and a net forsaken: the daughters of Moab shal be at the founnds of Arnon.
3 Gather a counsell, execute iudgement:
make thy shadowe as the night in the midday: froe them that are chased out:
bewayp not him that is fled.
4 Let my banished dwell with thee: Moab be thou thier court from the face of the destroyer: for the extortioner shall ende: the destroyer shalbe consumed, and the oppressour shall cease out of the land.
5 And in mercy shal the thorne be prepared, and hee shall sit vpon it in stedfastnes, in the tabernacle of Dauid, iudging, and seeking iudgement, & halting iustice.
6 Hee haue heard of the pride of Moab, (he is verie proude) euen his pride, and his arrogancie, & his indignation, but his flies shal not be fo.
7 Therefore shal Moab howle vnto Moab: euerie one shal howle for the fundations of kir: barefeth shall ye moune, yet they shalbe striken.
8 For the vineyardes of Heshbon are cut downe, and the vine of Sibmah: the lords of the heathen haue broken the principal vines thereof: they are come vnto Jaazer: they wandied in the wil-dernes: her goodly branches stretched out themselves, and went ouer the sea.
9 Therefore wil I weepe with the weeping of Jaazer, and of the vine of Sibmah, & Heshbon: and Elealeh, I wil make thee drunk with my teares, because vpon thy summer fruites, and vpon thy haruict a howling is fallen.

k Hee sheweth that their plague was so great, that it woulde kne moued any man to lament with them, as Psalme. 141. 5.

and branches, which they did forsake, because of the chidzen of Israel, & there shall be desolation. 10 Because thou hast forgotten the God of thy saluation, and hast not remembered the God of thy strength, therefore shalt thou set pleinant plantes, & shalt graffe strange vine branches: 11 In the day shalt thou make thy plant to grow, and in the morning shalt thou make thy feede to flourish: but the harveste shall be gone in the day of possession, and there shall be desolatee forow. 12 o Ah, the multitude of many people, they shall make a found like the nospe of the sea: for the nospe of the people shall make a found like the nospe of mightie waters. 13 The people shall make a found like the nospe of many waters: but God shall Prebuke them, and they shall see farre of, and shall be chased as the chaffe of the mountaines before the winde, and as a rolling thing before the whirlewinde. 14 And soe, in the evening there is a trouble: but afore the morning it is gone. This is the portion of them that spoile vs, and the lot of them that robbe vs.

As the Canaanites left their cities, when God did place the Israelites there, so the cities of Israel shall no more be able to defend their inhabitants, then bushes, when God shall send the enemy to plague them. m Which are excellent, and brought out of other countreis, n As the Lord threateneth the wicked in his lawe, Leui. 26. 16. o The Prophet lamenteth, considering the horrible plague that was prepared against Israel by the Assyrians, a Reade Chap. 23. 1. b The chiefe cite of Syria. c It was a countrey of Syria by the riuier Arnon. d It seemeth the Prophet would comfort the Church in declaring the destruction of these two Kings of Syria & Israel, when as they had conspired the ouerthrow of Iudah. e The ten tribes gloried in their multitude, and alliance with other nations: therefore he saith that they shall be brought downe and the Syrians also. f Meaning of the ten tribes, which boasted themselves of their nobilitie, prosperitie, strength and multitude. g As the abundance of corne doeth not feare the harvest men that should cut it downe: no more shall the multitude of Israel make the enemies to shrinke, whom God shall appoint to destroy them. h Which valley was plentiful and fertile. i Because God would haue his couenant stable, he prometh to referre some of this people, and to bring them to repentance. k He sheweth that Gods corrections cuer bring forth some fruites, and cause his to turne from their sinnes, and to humble themselves to him.

CHAP. XVII. A Prophecie of the destruction of Damascus and Ephraim. 7 Calamitie moueth to repentance. 1 The burden of b Damascus. Beholde, Damascus is taken away from being a cite, for it shall be a ruinous heape. 2 The cities of c Moor shall be forsaken: they shall be for the flocks: for they shall lie there, and none shall make them as fraide. 3 The munitio also shall cease from d Ephraim, and the kingdome from Damascus, & the remnant of Iream shall be as the e glorie of the chidzen of Israel, saith the Lord of hostes. 4 And in that day the glorie of f Zaakob shall be impouertised, and the fatnes of his flesh shall be made leane. 5 And it shall be as when the harvest man gathereth s the corne, and reapeth the eares with his arme, and he shall be as he that gathereth the eares in the bales of b Iephaam. 6 Yet a gathering of grapes shall be left in it, as the shaking of an oliue tree, two or thre berries are in the top of the vps most boughs, and foure or fise in the bue branches of the fruite thereof, saith the Lord God of Israel. 7 At that day shall a man looke to his maker, and his eyes shall looke to the holp one of Israel. 8 And he shall not looke to the altars, the workes of his owne hands, neither shall he looke to those things, which his owne fingers haue made, as grones and images. 9 In that day shall the cities of their strength be as the forsaking of boughs which were infinite in number, and gathered of many nations, p He addeeth this for the cofolation of the faithfull, which were in Israel. q He compareth the enemies the Assyrians, to a tempest, which riseth ouer night, and in the morning is gone.

CHAP. XVIII.

i Of the enemies of the Church. 7 And of the vocation of the Gentiles. 1 O W, the e laide shadowing with a wings, which is beyond the riuers of Ethiopia, 2 Sending ambassadors by the sea, euen in vessels of b reebes vpon the waters, saying, c Go, ye swift messengers, to a nation that is scattered abroad, and spoyled, vnto a terrible d people from their beginning euen hitherto: a nation vpon hie and litle, euen troden vnder spoyled, 3 All ye the inhabitants of the world and dwellers in the earth, shall see when f he seeth by a signe in the mountaines, and when he bloweth the trumpet, pe thall heare. 4 For so the Lorde saide vnto me, I will e reit and beholde in my tabernacle, as h the heate daryng by the raine, and as a cloude of dewe in the heat of harvest, and to promise them helpe against their enemies, & so the Lord did threaten to take away their strength that the Iewes should not trust therein: or that they did follicite the Egyptians, and promised them ayde to goe against Iudah. d To wit, I Iewes, who because of Gods plagues made al other nations afrade of the like, as God threatened, Deut. 28. 37. e Meaning the Assyrians, as Chap. 8. 7 f When the Lorde prepareth to fight against the Ethiopians, g I will slay a while from punishing the wicked, h Which two seasons are most profitable for the riping of fruites: whereby he meaneth, that he will seeme to fauour them, and giue them abundance for a tyme, but he will suddenly cut them of.

He meanteth that part of Ethiopia, which lieth toward the sea, which was so full of ships, that the sayles (which he compareth to wings) seemed to shadowe the sea. b Which in those countreis were great: in so much as they made shippes of them for swiftnesse. c This may be taken that they sent other to comfort Iewes, & so the Lord did threaten to take away their strength that the Iewes should not trust therein: or that they did follicite the Egyptians, and promised them ayde to goe against Iudah. d To wit, I Iewes, who because of Gods plagues made al other nations afrade of the like, as God threatened, Deut. 28. 37. e Meaning the Assyrians, as Chap. 8. 7 f When the Lorde prepareth to fight against the Ethiopians, g I will slay a while from punishing the wicked, h Which two seasons are most profitable for the riping of fruites: whereby he meaneth, that he will seeme to fauour them, and giue them abundance for a tyme, but he will suddenly cut them of.

5 For afore the harvest when the sower is finished, & the fruit is riping in the sower, then he shall cut downe the branches with hookes, and shall take away, and cut of the boughes:
6 They shall be left together vnto hewles of the mountaines, and to the beastes of the earth: for the foule shall conuener vpon it, & euery beast of the earth shall winter vpon it.
7 At that time shall a bypocrite be brought vnto the Lord of hostes, (a people that is scattered abroad, and spoiled, and of a terrible people from their beginning hitherto, a nation by little and little enen trider vnder foote, whose land the riuers haue spoiled) to the place of the Name of the Lord of hostes, euen the mount Zion.

CHAP. XIX.

The destruction of the Egyptians by the Assyrians. Of their conuersion to the Lord.

a Reade Chap. 13. 1.

b Because the Egyptians trusted in the defence of their country in the multitude of their idoles, & in the valiantnes of their men, the Lord sheweth that he wil come ouer all their munitions in a swift cloude, and that their idoles shall tremble at his comming, & that mens hearts shall faint.

c As he caused the Ammonites, Moabites, and Idumeans to kill one another, when they came to destroy the Church of God, 2. Chro. 20. 12. chap. 49. 25.

d Meaning their policie, and wisdom.

e He sheweth that the sea and Nilus their great riuier, whereby they thought themselves most sure, should not be able to defend them from his anger, but that he would send the Assyrians among them, that should keep them vnder asslaues.

f For Nilus ran into the sea by seuen streames, as though they were so manie riuers. g The Ebrewe word is mouth, whereby they meane the spring, out of the which the water gusheth as out of a mouth. h The scriptures vse to describe the destruction of a country by taking away of the commodities thereof, as by vines, flesh, fish, and such other thinges, whereby countreys are enriched.

The burden of Egypt. Beholde, the Lord^b rideth vpon a swift cloude, and shall come into Egypt, and the idoles of Egypt shall moued at his presence, and the heart of Egypt shall melt in the middes of her.
2 And I will let the Egyptians against the Egyptians: to enery one shall fight against his brother, & euery one against his neighbour, citie against citie, and kingdome against kingdome.
3 And the^d spirit of Egypt shall faile in the middes of her, and I will destroy their counsell, and they shall seeke at the idoles, and at the soycerers, and at them that haue spirits of diuination, and at the southsayers.
4 And I will deliuer the Egyptians into the hand of the cruell lordes, and a mightie king shall rule ouer them, saith the Lord God of hostes.
5 Then the waters of the sea shall^e faile, and the riuier shall be dried vp, & wasted.
6 And the riuers^f shall goe farre awaie: the riuers of defence shall be emptied and dried vp: the reedes and flagges shall be cut downe.
7 The grasse in the riuier, and at the head of the riuers, and all that groweth by the riuier, shall wither, and be dryen away, and be no moie.
8 The fishers also shall^h mourne, and all they that cast angle into the riuier, shall lament, and they that fyre ad their net vpon the waters, shall be weakened.
9 Moreover, they that worke in flaxe of diuers sortes, shall be confounded, and they that weaue nets,

10 For their nettes shall be broken, and all they that make sondes, shall be grieued in heart.

11 Surely the princes of i Zoan are fooles: the counsell of the wise counsellers of Pharaoh is become foolish: y how say they vnto Pharaoh, I am the sonne of the wis: I am the sonne of the anc. ent kings?

12 Where are now thy wise men, that they may tell thee, or may knowe what the Lord of hostes hath determined against Egypt?

13 The princes of Zoan are become foolies: the princes of i Shoph are deceiued, they haue deceiued Egypt, euen the^m coners of the tribes thereof.

14 The Lord hath mingled among them the spirite^o of errorous: and they haue caused Egypt to erre in euery worke thereof, as a drunken man erreth in his vomite.

15 Neither shall there be any worke in Egypt, which the head may^p doe, nor the taile, thebranche nor the rulu.

16 In that day shall Egypt be like vnto women: for it shall be affraide and feare because of the mouing of the hand of the Lord of hostes, which he shaketh ouer it.

17 And the land of Iudah shall be a feare vnto Egypt: euery one that maketh mention of it, shall be affraide thereof, because of the counsell of the Lord of hostes, which he hath determined vpon it.

18 In that day shall fine cities in the land of Egypt^q speake the language of Canaan, and shall^r sweare by the Lord of hostes: one shall be called the citie of destruction.

19 In that day shall the altar of the Lord be in the middes of the land of Egypt, and a pillar by the border thereof vnto the Lord.

20 And it shall be for a signe and for a witness vnto the Lord of hostes in the land of Egypt: for they shall cry vnto the Lord, because of the oppressers, and he shall send them^s a Saviour and a great man, and shall deliuer them.

21 And the Lord shall be knowen of the Egyptians, and the Egyptians shall know the Lord in that day, and do^t sacrifice and oblation, & shall bow bowes vnto the Lord, and performe them.

22 So the Lord shall smite Egypt, he shall smite and heale it: for he shall returne vnto the Lord, and he shall be intreated of them and shall heale them.

i Called also Tanes, a famous citie vpō Nilus. k He noteth the flatterers of Pharaoh: who persuaded the King that he was wise, and noble, and his house was most ancient, & so he flattered himselfe, saying, I am wise.

l Or Memphis, others Alexandria, and now called the great Cairo. m The principall vpholders thereof are the chiefest cause of their destruction.

n For the spirit of wisdom he hath made them drunken & giddie with the spirit of error.

o Neither the great nor the small, the strong nor the weak.

p Considering through their occasion the Iewes made not God their defence, q They shall feare least they like light vpon them.

r Shall make one confession of faith with the people of God: by the speech of Canaan, s An meaning, the language, where in God was then serued.

t Shall renounce their superstitions, & protest to serue God aright. u Meaning, of fixe cities, five should serue God, and the sixt remaine in their wickednesse: & so of the sixt part there should be but one lost. v There shall be euident signes and tokens, that Gods religion is there: which manner of speech is taken of the Patriarkes and ancient times, when God had not as yet appointed the place, and full manner howe he would be worshipped. x This declareth that this propheticke should be accomplished in the time of Christ. y By these ceremonies he comprehendeth the spiritual service vnder Christ,

By these two nations, which were then chiefe enemies of the church, he sheweth that y^e Gentiles, and the Jewes should be joynd together in one faith and religion, and should be all one folde vnder Christ their shepheard.

23 In that day shall there be a path from Egypt to Asshur, & Asshur shall come into Egypt, and Egypt into Asshur: so the Egyptians shall worship Asshur.
 24 In that day shall Israel be the thirde with Egypt and Asshur, euen a blessing in the middes of the land.
 25 For the Lorde of hostes shall blesse it, saying, Blessed be my people Egypt and Asshur, the worke of mine handes, and Israel mine inheritaunce.

was bowled downe when I heard it, and I was amazed when I sawe it.
 4 Mine heart failed: fearefulness troubled me: the night of my pleasures hath he turned into feare vnto me.
 5 Prepare thou the table: watch in the watchtoure: eate, drinke: arise, pe vinces, anoint the shield.
 6 For thus hath the Lord said vnto me, For, let a watchman, to tell what hee seeth.
 7 And he sawe a charret with two hoises men: a charret of an asse, and a charret of a camel: and he hearkened and tooke diligent heed.

g He prophecieth the death of Belshazzar, as Dan. 5. 30, who in the middes of his pleasures was destroyed.
 h Whiles they are eating, and drinking, they shalbe commanded to runne to their weapons.
 i To wit, in a vision by the Spirit of prophetic.

CHAP. XX.

The three yeeres captiuitie of Egypt and Ethiopia described by the three yeeres going naked of Isaiah.

1 Isaiah yerethat a Carian came to Asshur, when Sargan King of Asshur sent him and had fought against Asshur, and taken it,
 2 At the same time spake the Lord by the hand of Isaiah the sonne of Amoz, saying, Go, and loose the lacke cloth from the loynes, and put of thy shooe from thy foote. And he did so, walking naked and barefoote.
 3 And the Lorde said, like as my seruant Isaiah hath walked naked, and bare footethree yeeres, as a signe and wonder vpon Egypt, and Ethiopia,
 4 So shall the King of Asshur take away the captiuitie of Egypt, and the captiuitie of Ethiopia, both yong men and olde men, naked and barefoote, with their buttocks conquered, to the haue of Egypt.
 5 And they shall feare, and be ashamed of Ethiopia their expectation, and of Egypt their glorie.
 6 Then shall the inhabitant of this ple say in that day, Beholde, such is our expectation, whither we fled for helpe to be deliuered from the King of Asshur, and how shall we be deliuered?

8 And he cryed, Upon my lord, I stand continually vpon the watchtoure in the day time, and I am set in my watchtoure night:
 9 And beholde, this mans charret cometh with two hoiseney, and he answered and said, Isabel is fallen: it is fallen, and all the images of her gods hath he broken vnto the ground.
 10 O my threshing, & the coyne of my floor, that which I haue heard of the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, haue I shewed vnto you.
 11 The burden of Dumah. He calleth vnto mee out of Seir, Watchman, what was in the night? Watchman, what was in the night?
 12 The watchman said, The morning cometh, and also the night. If ye will aske, enquire: returne and come.
 13 The burden againe Arabia. In the forest of Arabia shall ye tarie all night, euen in the wapes of Dedanum.
 14 Inhabitants of the lande of Tema, bring forth water to meete the thirstie, and preuent him that seeketh wry his head.
 15 For they see from the drawen sword, euen from the drawen sword, and from the bent bowe, and from the greuousnes of warre, 16 For thus hath the Lord said vnto me, Get a peece according to the peeces of an hireling, and all the glorie of Kedar shall faile.
 17 And the residue of the number of the strong archers of the sonnes of Kedar shall be fewe: for the Lord God of Israel hath spoken it.

k Meaning charretts of men of warre, and others that caried the baggage.
 l Meaning, Darius which ouercame Babylon.
 m The watchman, whome Isaiah set vp, tolde him, who came towarde Babylon, and the Angel declared that it should be destroyed: all this was done in a vision.
 n Meaning, Babylon.
 o Which was a cite of the Ishmaelites, and was so named of Dumah, Gen. 25. 14.
 p A mountaine of the Idumeans.
 q He describeth the vniquities of the people of Dumah, who were night and day in feare of their enemies, and euer ranne to and fro to enquire newes.
 r For feare, the Arabians shall flee into the woods, and he appointeth what way they shall take.
 s Signifying that for feare they shall not tarie to eate or drinke.
 t He appointeth them respit for one yeere onely and then they should be destroyed. v Reade chap. 16. 14. x Which was the name of a people of Arabia: & by the horrible destruction of all these nations, he teacheth the Jewes that there is no place for refuge or to escape Gods wrath, but onely to remaine in his Church, and to liue in his feare.

CHAP. XXI.

Of the destruction of Babylon by the Persians and Medes. 11 The ruine of Idumea, 13 And of Arabia.

1 The burden of the desert sea. As the whirlewindes in the South use to passe from the wilderness, so shall it come from the horrible land.
 2 A greiuous vision was shewed vnto me. The transgressor against a transgressor, and the destroyer against a destroyer. So by Chelam, besige Media: I haue caused all the mourning thereof to cease.
 3 Therefore are my loppes filled with sorrowe: sorrowes haue taken me as the sorrowes of a woman that traileth: I of the people of Dumah, who were night and day in feare of their enemies, and euer ranne to and fro to enquire newes.

 r For feare, the Arabians shall flee into the woods, and he appointeth what way they shall take.
 s Signifying that for feare they shall not tarie to eate or drinke.
 t He appointeth them respit for one yeere onely and then they should be destroyed. v Reade chap. 16. 14. x Which was the name of a people of Arabia: & by the horrible destruction of all these nations, he teacheth the Jewes that there is no place for refuge or to escape Gods wrath, but onely to remaine in his Church, and to liue in his feare.

CHAP. XXII.

He prophecieth of the destruction of Ierusalem by Nebuchad-nezzar. 13 A threatening against Sabeina, 20 To whose office Eliachim is preferred.

Who was a captaine of Saneherib, 2. King. 18. 17.
 b A cite of the Philistines.
 c The Ebrewes write y^e Saneherib was so called.
 d Which signifieth that the Prophet did lament the miserie that he saw prepared, before y^e three yeeres, that he went naked and bare footed.
 e In whose aide they trusted.
 f Of whom they boasted, & gloried.
 g Meaning, Iudea, which was compassed about with their enemies, as an yle with waters.

On the sea side betwene Iudea, and Caldea was a wilderness, whereby he meaneth Caldea.
 b That is, the ruine of Babylon by y^e Medes, and Persians.
 c The Assyrians and Caldeans, which had destroyed other nations, shalbe ouercome of the Medes and Persians - and this hee prophecieth an hundreth yeere before it came to passe.
 d By Elam, he meaneth the Persians.
 e Because they shall finde no succour, they shall mourne no more, or, I haue caused them to cease mourning, whome Babylon had afflicted.
 f This the Prophet speaketh in the person of the Babylonians.

Meaning, Babylon.
 o Which was a cite of the Ishmaelites, and was so named of Dumah, Gen. 25. 14.
 p A mountaine of the Idumeans.
 q He describeth the vniquities of the people of Dumah, who were night and day in feare of their enemies, and euer ranne to and fro to enquire newes.
 r For feare, the Arabians shall flee into the woods, and he appointeth what way they shall take.
 s Signifying that for feare they shall not tarie to eate or drinke.
 t He appointeth them respit for one yeere onely and then they should be destroyed. v Reade chap. 16. 14. x Which was the name of a people of Arabia: & by the horrible destruction of all these nations, he teacheth the Jewes that there is no place for refuge or to escape Gods wrath, but onely to remaine in his Church, and to liue in his feare.

The burden of the valley of vision. What is apleth thee now that thou art wholly gone vnto the house toppes?

2 Thou that art full of noise, a citie full of bryte, a topous citie: thy flaine men shal not be flaine with swoyde, nor dye in battel.

3 All thy princes shall flee together from the bowe: they shal be bound: all that shall be found in thee, shal be bound together, which haue fled from farre.

4 Therefore said I, Turne away from me: I will weepe & biterip: labour not to comfort me for the destruction of the daughter of my people.

5 For it is a day of trouble, and of ruine, and of perplexitie by the Lorde God of hostes in the valley of vision, breaking downe the citie: and a crying vnto the mountaynes.

6 And Elai: bare þ quiet in a mans charert with horsemen, and hit vncouered the shield.

7 And thy chiefe balles were full of charerts, and the horsemen set themselves in aray againt the gate.

8 And hee discovered the covering of Iudah: and thou didest looke in that day to the armour of the house of the forest.

9 And ye haue seene the breaches of the citie of Dauid: for they were many, and ye gathered the waters of þ lower peole.

10 And ye nombred the houses of Ierusalem, and the houses haue ye broken downe to fortifie the wall.

11 And haue also made a ditch betwene the two walles, for the waters of the old poole, and haue not looked vnto the maker: therof, neither had respect vnto him that formed it of old.

12 And in that day did the Lorde God of hostes call vnto weeping and mourning, and to baldnes and girding with sackcloth.

13 And beholde, ioye and gladnes, slaying oren and killing sheepe, eating flesh, and drinking wine, eating and drinking: for to morow we shal dye.

14 And it was declared in the eares of the Lorde of hostes. Surely this iniquitie shal not be purged from you, till ye dye, saith the Lord God of hostes.

15 Thus saith the Lorde God of hostes, Thus saith the Lorde God of hostes, that they might by returning to God, auoid that great plague which they should els suffer by Nebuchad-nezzar. k The secret place where the armour was to wit, in the house of the forest, 1. King. 7. 2. I Ye fortified the ruinous places, which were neglected in time of peace: meaning, the whole citie and the citie of Dauid which was within the compassse of the other. m Either to pull downe such as might hurt, or els to know what men they were able to make. n To provide if neede should be of water. o To God that made Ierusalem: that is, they trusted more in these worldly means then in God. p In stead of repentance ye were ioyful and made great cheere, contemning the admonitions of the Prophets, saying, Let vs eat and drinke: for our Prophets say, that we shal dye to morowe.

Go get thee to that streasurer, to Shebna, the steward of the house, and say, 16 What hast thou to do here? & whome hast thou here? that thou shouldest here heue thee out a sepulchre, as hee that heueth out his sepulchre in an hie place, or that graueth an habitation for himselfe in a rocke?

17 Schoole, the Lord wil carie thee away with a great captiuitie, and wil surely couer thee.

18 He wil surely rolle and turne thee like a ball in a large countrey: there shalt thou dye, and there the charerts of thy glorie shal be the shame of thy lordes house.

19 And I will drine thee from thy station, and out of thy dwelling wil he destrope thee.

20 And in that daye will I call my seruant Chiakim the sonne of Hilkaiah,

21 And with thy garments will I clothe him, and with thy girdle will I strengthen him: thy power also wil I commit into his hand, and he shal be a father of the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and of the house of Iudah.

22 And the key of the house of Dauid wil I lay vpon his shoulder: so he shal open and no man shal shut: and he shal shut, and no man shall open.

23 And I wil fasten him as a nail in a sure place, and he shal be for the thone of glorie to his fathers house.

24 And they shall hang vpon him all the glorie of his fathers house, euen of the nephewes and posteritie: all small vessels, from the vessels of the cups, euen to all the instruments of musique.

25 In that day, saith the Lorde of hostes, shall the nail, that is fastned in the sure place, depart, and shall be broken, and fall: and the burden, that was vpon it, shall be cut of: for the Lorde hath spoken it.

n To be steward againe, out of che which office hee had bene put by the craft of Shebna. x I wil commit vnto him the full charge and gouernement of the kinges house. y I will establish him and confirme him in his office: of this phrase reade Extra 9. 9. z Meaning, that both small and great that shall come of Eliakim, shal haue praise and glorie by this faithful officer. a He meant hee Shebna, who in mans iudgement should neuer haue fallen.

CHAP. XXIII

1 A Prophecie against Tyru. 17 A promise that it shalbe restored.

The burden of Tyru. Howle, ye styppes of Cartibith: for it is destroyed, so that there is none house: none shal come from the land of Chittim: it is reuiled vnto them.

2 We will, ye that dwell in the ples: the merchants of Sidon, and such as passe ouer the sea, haue replenished thee.

3 The seeds of Nilus growing by the Westward from Palestina. e All men know of this destruction. f Haue haunted thee, and enriched thee. g Meaning, the corne of Egypt which was fed by the ouerflowing of Nilus.

q Because the Ebrewes word doeth also signifie one that doth nourish and cherishe, there are of the learned that thinke, that this wicked man did nourish secret friendship with the Assyrians & Egyptians, to betray the Church, and to provide for himselfe againt all dangers: in þ meane season he packt craftily and gate of the best offices into his hand vnder Hezekiah, euer aspiring to the hieft.

r Meaning, that hee was a stranger and came vp of nothing.

s Where as hee thought to make his name immortal by his famous sepulchre, he dyed most miserably among the Assyrians.

t Signifying þ what seuer dignitie the wicked attain vnto, at length it will turne to þ shame of those Princes, by whom they are preferred.

12 And he saide, Thou shalt no more re-spone when thou art oppressed: O Vir-gine daughter of Zidon: rise vp, go ouer vnto Chittim: per there thou shalt haue no rest.

13 Behold the land of the Chaldees: this was no people: 4 Asshur founded it by the inhabitants of the wilderness: they set vp the towres thereof: they rapied the palaces thereof and he brought it to ruine.

14 Howle pee ships of T Arshilij, for your strength is destroyed.

15 And in that day shal Tyrus be forgotten seuentie yeres, (according to the peres of one King) at the end of seuen-tie yeres shal Tyrus sing as an harlot.

16 Take an harpe, and go about the citie:
(thou harlot that hast bene forgotten) make sweete melodie, sing moe songs that thou mayest be remembered.

17 And at the ende of seuentie yeres shall the Lorde visite Tyrus, & she shall returne to her wages, and shall commit fornication with all the kingdomes of the earth, that are in the world.

18 Per her occupying and her wages shal be holy vnto the Lorde: it shall not be laped vp nor kept in store, but her marchandise shalbe for them that dwell before the Lorde, to eate sufficienty, and to haue durable clothing.

He sheweth that God yet by the preaching of the Gospell will call Tyrus to repentance,
and turne her heart
from auaricie & filthie gaines vnto the true worshipping of God and liberalitie towards his Saintes.

CHAP. XXVIII.

A prophesie of the curſe of God for the finnes of the people. 13 A seruant referred, shall praye the Lorde.

1 Behold, the Lorde maketh the earth desert, and he maketh it waste: he trencheth it vpside downe, and scattereth abroad the inhabitants thereof.

2 And there shalbe like people, like byest, and like seruant, like master, like mayd, like mustresse, like byer, like seller, like lender, like boiower, like giuer, like taker to vsurie.

3 The earth shal be cleane emptied, and vnterly spoiled: for the Lorde hath spoken this word.

4 The earth lamenteth & sadeth away:
the world is feeble and decapen: the proude people of earth are weakened.

5 The earth is also decepueth, because of the inhabitants thereof: for they transgressed the lawes: they changed the ordinances, and bryke the euerslasting couenant.

6 Therefore hath the Lorde curſed the earth, and the inhabitants thereof are desolate. Wherefore the inhabitants of the land are burned by, and fewe men are left.

7 The wine faileth, & vine hath no might:
all that were of mery heart, do moune.

8 The mirth of rebets ceaseth: the noise of them that riouce, endeth: the ioye of the harpe ceaseth.

9 They shal not drinke wine with mirth:
strong drinke shalbe bitter to them that drinke it.

10 The citie of b amitie is broken downe:
euery house is shut vp, that no man may come in.

11 There is a crying for wine in streets:
all ioye is darkened: the mirth of the world is gone away.

12 In the citie is left desolation, and the gate is smitten with destruction.

13 Surety thus shal it be in the mids of the earth, among the people, as the shaking of an olive tree, and as the grapes when the vintage is ended.

14 They shal lift vp their voyce: they shal shoute for the magnificence of the Lorde:
they shal reioyce from the sea.

wrath. f Which as it was without order, so nowe shoulde it be brought to desolation & confusion: and this was not only meant of Ierusalem, but of all the other wicked cities. g Because they did not vse God: benefites aright, their pleasures should faile, & they fal to mourning. h He comforteth the faithfull, declaring that in this great desolation the Lord wil assemble his Church, which shal praye his name, as chap. 30. 22. i Fro y vermost coasts of the world, where the Gospell shall be preached, as ver. 16.

k Meaning, to God, who will publish his Gospel through all the world.

l I am comforted with care, considering the affliction of the Church, both by foren enemies, & domestical. Some reade, my secret, my secret: that is, it was recited to the Prophet, that the good should be preferred & the wicked destroyed.

m Meaning, that Gods wrath, and vengeance should be ouer & vnder them: so that they should not escape no more then they did at Noahs flood.

n There is no power so high or mightie, but God will visite him with his rodde.

o Not with his rods, as vers. 21, but shall be comforted.

p When God shall restore his Church, the glorie thereof shall fo shine and his ministers (which are called his ancient men) that the sunne and the moone shall be darke in comparison thereof.

15 Wherefore praise ye the Lord in the battels, euen the name of the Lord God of Israel, in the ples of the sea.

16 From the uttermost part of the earth we haue heard praises, euen glorie to the Lord. Just, & I said, I will leaue, my leane-ness, wo is me: the transgressours haue offended: yea, the transgressours haue grievously offended.

17 Feare, and the pit, & the snare are vnder thee, o inhabitant of the earth.

18 And he that fleeeth from the noise of the feare, shall fall into the pit: & he that cometh by out of the pit, shall be taken in the snare: for the windows from on high are open, and the foundations of the earth do shake.

19 The earth is bitterly broken down: the earth is cleane dissolved: the earth is moued exceedingly.

20 The earth shall reele to and fro like a drunken man, and shall be remoued like a tent, and the iniquitie thereof shall be heauie vpon it: so that it shall fall, and rise no more.

21 And in that day shall the Lord visite the hoste aboue that is on high, euen the kings of the world that are vpon the earth.

22 And they shall be gathered together, as the prisoners in the pit: and they shall be shut by in the prison, and after manie daues shall they be visited.

23 Then the inoone shall be abashed, and the sunne ashamed, when the Lord of hostes shall reigne in mount Zion and in Jerusalem: and glorie shall be before his ancient men.

of the mightie is like a stone against the wall.

5 Thou shalt bring down the noise of the strangers, as the heate in a drie place: hee will bring downe the song of the mightie, as the heate in the shadow of a cloude.

6 And in this mountaine shall the Lord of hosts make vnto all people a feast of fat things, euen a feast of fined wines, and of fat things full of marrow, of wines fined and purified.

7 And he will destroy in this mountaine the couereth that couereth all people, and the vapie that is spread vpon all nations.

8 He will destroy death for euer: and the Lord God will wipe away the teares from all faces, & the rebuke of his people will he take away out of all the earth: for the Lord hath spoken it.

9 And in that day shall men say, Lo, this is our God: wee haue waited for him, and he will saue vs. This is the Lord, we haue waited for him: we will reioyce and be ioyful in his saluation.

10 For in this mountaine shall the hande of the Lord rest, & Moab shall be threshed vnder him, euen as straw is threshed in Madmenah.

11 And he shall stretch out his hand in the middes of them (as he that swimmeth, stretcheth them out to swimme) & with the strength of his handes shall he bring downe their pride.

A thanksgiving to God in that that he sheweth him selfe iudge of the world, by punishing the wicked and maintaining the goodly.

1 Lorde, thou art my God: I will exalt thee, I will praise thy name: for thou hast done wonderfull things, according to the counsels of olde, with a stable truth.

2 For thou hast made of a city an heap, of a strong citie, a ruine: euen the palace of strangers of a citie, it shall neuer be builte.

3 Therefore shall the mighty people giue glorie vnto thee: the citie of the strong nations shall feare thee.

CHAP. XXVII.

A prophetic againſt the kingdome of Satans, & And of the vj of the Church for their deluſion.

I In that day the Lord with his loud and great and mighty voice ſhall ſubiſte Liniathan, that peareng ſer-pent, euen Liniathan, that eoked ſer-pent, and he ſhall ſlay the dragon that is in the ſea.

2 In that day ſing of the vinegarde of red wine.

3 If the Lord do keepe it: I will water it euery moment: leaſt any aſſaile it, I will keepe it night and day.

4 Anger is not in me: who would ſet the thurs and the thornes againſt me in battell? I would go through them, I would burne them together.

5 Who wil he ſeale my ſtrength, & he may make peace with me, & be at one with me?

6 Hereafter, Jaakob ſhall take thee:
Iſrael ſhall ſtoffiſh & grow, & the world
ſhall be filled with fruit.

7 Hath he ſmitten ſ him as hee ſuote thoſe that ſuote him: or is he ſtaine according to the ſlaughter of them that were ſtaine by him?

8 In meature in the branches thereof thou content with it, whe by blowreth with his rough winde in the day of the Eaſt winde.

9 Whis therefore ſhall the iniquitie of Jaakob be purged, and this is all the fruit, the taking away of his ſtūre:
when he ſhall make all the houes of the altars, as ſhalke ſtones, broken in pieces, that the groues and images may not ſtand vp.

10 Yet the defenced cite ſhalbe deſolate,
& the habitation ſhalbe forſaken, & left like a wilderness. There ſhall the calfe ſeete, and there ſhal he lie, and conſume the branches thereof.

11 When the boughes of it are dry, they ſhalbe broken: the women come, & ſet them on fire: for it is a people of none vnderſtanding: therefore he that made them, ſhall not haue compaſſion of the,
and he that formed them, ſhall haue no great aboun-dance, g He ſheweth that God puniſheth his in mercy, and his enemies in iuſtice. h That is, thou wilt not deſtroy the roote of thy Church though the branches thereof ſeeme to periſh by the ſharpe winde of affliction. i He ſheweth that there is no true repentance, nor full reconciliation to God, till the heart be purged from all idolatry, and the monuments thereof deſtroyed.

k Norwithſtanding his fauour that he will heuſe them after, yet Ierusalem ſhalbe deſtroyed, & graſſe for cattell ſhall growe in it, I God ſhal not haue neede of mighty enemies: for the very womē ſhal do it, to their great ſhame. m He ſhall deſtroy all from Euphrates to Nilus: for ſome ſhoulde toward Egypt, thin-n In the tyme of Cyrus, by whom they should be deliuered: but this was chiefly accomplished vnder Christ.

13 In that day also shall the great trumpet be blown, and they that come, which perished in the land of Asshur: and they that were chaied into the lande of Egypt, and they shall worship the Lorde in the holy mount at Jerusalem.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Against the pride and drunkenness of Israel. 9 The untowardnes of them that should learne the word of God. 24 God doth all thinges in tyme and place.

a Meaning, the proud kingdome of the Israelites, which were drunken with worldly prosperitie. b Because the Israelites: for the most part dwelt in plentiful valleys, he meaneth hereby the valley of them, that had abundance of worldly prosperitie, & were, as it were, crowned therewith, as with garlands. c He seemeth to meane the Assyrians, by whom ten Tribes were carried away. d Which is not of long continuance, but is soon ripe, & first eate. e Signifying, that faithful, which put not their trust in any worldly prosperitie, but made God their glory, shall be preferred. f He will giue counsell to the gouernour, and strength to the captaine, to driue the enemies in at their owne gates. g Meaning, the hypocrites, which were among the, & were altogether corrupt in life and doctrine, which is here ment by drunkennes & vomiting. h For there was none that was able to vnderstand any good doctrine: but were foolish, and as vnmette as yong babes. i They must haue one thing of tymes tolde. k Let one teach what he can, yet they shall no more vnderstand him, then if he spake in a strange language. l That is, the Prophet, whome God should send. m This is the doctrine, whereupon ye ought to stay & rest.

1 WD to the crowne of pride, the drunkards of Ephraim: for his glorious beautie shall be a fading floure, which is vpon the head of the valley of them that be fat, & are ouercome with wine.

2 Behold, the Lord hath a mighty and strong hoste, like a tempest of hable, and a whirlewinde that ouerthroweth, like a tempest of mighty waters that ouerflow, which throw to the grounde mightily.

3 They shall be troden vnder foote, euen the crowne and the pride of the drunkards of Ephraim.

4 For his glorious beauty shall be a fading floure, which is vpon the head of the valley of them that be fat, & as the hasty fruit afoze sommer, which when he that looketh vpon it, seeth it, while it is in his hand, he eateth it.

5 In that day shall the Lord of hostes be for a crowne of gloyp, and for a diadem of beautie vnto the residue of his people:

6 And for a spirite of iudgement to him that stretch in iudgement, & for strength vnto them that turue away the battell to the gate.

7 But they haue erred because of wine, and are out of the way by strong drinke: the Priest and the Prophet haue erred by strong drinke: they are swallowed by with wine: they haue gone astray through strong drinke: they faile in vision: they stumbe in iudgement.

8 For all their tables are full of filchy vomiting: no place is cleane.

9 Whom shall he teach knowledge? & whom shall he make to vnderstand the things that he heareth? them that are weined from the milke and drawn fro the breasts.

10 For i precept must be vpon precept, precept vpon precept, line vnto line, line vnto line, there a little, and there a little.

11 For with a stammering tongue and with a strange language shall he speake vnto his people.

12 Vnto whome he said, This is the rest: giue rest to him that is weary: & this is the refreshing, but they would not heare.

13 Therefore shall the word of the Lorde be vnto them precept vpon precept, precept vpon precept, line vnto line, line vnto line, there a little and there a little, that they may go, and fall backward, and be broken and be snared and be taken.

14 Wherefore, heare the word of the Lorde, peleecefull men that rule this people, which is in Jerusalem.

15 Because ye haue said, We haue made a covenant with death, and with hell are we at agreement: though a scourge runne ouer, and passe through, it shall not come at vs: for we haue made vs a hide our refuge, and vnder vauitie are we hid.

16 Therefore thus saith the Lorde God, Beholde, I will lay in Zion a stone, a tryed stone, a precious corner stone, a sure foudation. He that belieueth, shall not make haile.

17 Iudgement also will I lay to the rule, and i righteousness to the balance, and hope shall swaye away the vayne confidence, and the waters shall ouerflow: the secreete place.

18 And your covenant with death shall bee disannulled, and your agreement with hell shall not stand: when a scourge shall runne ouer and passe through, then shall ye be trode downe by it.

19 When it passeth ouer, it shall take you away: for it shall passe through eery morning in the day, and in the night, and there shall be onely feare to make you to vnderstande the hearing.

20 For the bed is a streight that it cannot suffice, and the couering narrow that one cannot wrap himselfe.

21 For the Lorde shall stand as in mount Perazim: he shall be wrath as in the valley of Gibon, that he may do his worke, his strange worke, and bring to passe his acte, his strange acte.

22 Now therefore be no mockers, least your voides increase: for I haue heard of the Lord of hostes a consumption, euen determined vpon whole earth.

23 Hearken ye, and heare my voice: hearken ye, and heare my speech.

24 Woe the plow man plow all the day, to sowe: doth he open, and brake the clottes of his ground?

25 When he hath made it plaine, will he ons and gentlenes could not bring you vnto. 2 Your affliction shall be sore, that you are not able to endure it. a Where David overcame the Philistines, 2 Sam. 5. 20. 1. Chr. 14. 11. b Where Ioshua discosed five kings of the Amorites, Iosh. 10. 12. c As if plow man hath his appointed tyme, & diuers instruments for his labour, so hath the Lord for his vengeance: after one punisheth some at one time, & some at another, some after one sort, & some after another, so that his chosen seede is beaten, and tried, but not broken, as are the wicked.

not then solve the fetches, & solve cuminum, and cast in wheate by measure, and the appoynded barley and rye in their place?

- 26 For his God doeth instruct him to haue discretion, and doeth teach him.
- 27 For fetches shall not be threshed with a threshing instrument, neither shall a cart wheele bee turned about vpon the cuminum: but the fetches are beaten out with a staffe, and cuminum with a rodde.
- 28 Bread come when it is threshed, hee doeth not alway thresh it, neither doeth the wheele of his cart bin make a noise, neither will he breake it with the teeth thereof.
- 29 This also cometh from the Loide of hostes, which is wonderfull in counsell, and excellent in workes.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 A prophetic agaynst ierusalem. 1: The vengeance of God on them that followe the traditions of men.

- 1 Alter, altar of the cite that was build in ierusalem: addre vnto pere: let them kill lambes.
- 2 But I wil bring the altar into distresse, and there shall be heauynesse and sorow, and it shall vnto me like an altar.
- 3 And I will besiege thee as a circle, and will fight against thee on a mount, and will call by ramparts against thee.

4 So shalt thou bee humbled, and shalt speake out of the ground, and thy voyce shall bee as out of the dust: thy voyce also shall bee out of the grounde like him that hath a spirite of diuinitation, and thy talking shall whispe out of the dust.

5 Moreover, the multitude of thy strangers shall be like smal dust, and the multitude of strong men shall bee as chaffe that passeth away, & it shall be in a moment, euen suddenly.

6 Thou shalt bee visited of the Loide of hostes with thunder, and shaking, and a great noise, a whirlewinde, and a tempest, and a flame of a deuouring fire.

7 And the multitude of all the nations that fight agaynst the altar, shall be as a dreame or vision by night: euen all they that make the warre agaynst it, and strong holdes agaynst it, and lape seae vnto it.

8 And it shall be like as an hungrie man dreameth, and beholde, he eateth: and when he awaketh, his soule is empty: or like as a thirstie man dreameth, and loe, hee is drunke, and when hee awaketh, hee is thirstie, and his soule longeth: so shall the multitude of all nations be that fight agaynst mount Zion.

9 I say you felices, and wonder: they are blinde, and make you blinde: they are drunken, but not with wine: they stagger, but not by strong drinke.

10 For the lord hath covered pou with a spirit of slumber, and hath shut vp your eyes: the prophets, & your chiefe Deceiters hath he covered.

11 And the vision of them all is become vnto pou, as the wordes of a booke that is sealed by, which they desire to one that can read, saying, Read this, I pray thee. Then shall he say, I can not: for it is sealed.

12 And the booke is giuen vnto him that cannot read, saying, Reade this, I pray thee. And he shall say, I cannot reade.

13 Therefore the Loide sayde, Because this people come neere vnto mee with their mouth, and honour mee with their lippes, but haue remoued their heart farre from mee, and their feare toward mee was taught by the precept of men,

14 Therefore beholde, I will againe do a maruillous worke in this people, euen a maruillous worke, and a wonder: for the wisdom of their wise men shall increase, and the understanding of their prudent men shall be hid.

15 Vnto them that seeke deepe to hide their counsell from the Loide: for their booke is in darkenesse, and they saye, Who seeth vs? & who knoweth vs?

16 Your turning of deuices shall it not be esteemed? as the potters clay: for shall the worke say of him that made it, Hee made me not: or the thing formed, saye of him that fashioned it, Hee had none vnderstanding.

17 Is it not yet but a litle while, and Lebanon shall bee turned into Carmel: and Carmel shall be counted as a forest?

18 And in that daye shall the deafe heare the wordes of the booke, and the eyes of the blinde shall see out of obscuritie, and out of darkenesse.

19 The meeke in the Lord shall receiue ioy againe, and the poore men shall reioyce in the holy one of Israel.

20 For the cruell man shall cease, and the scornfull shall be consumed: and all that haue turned to iniquitie, shall be cut of.

21 Which made a man to sinne in the wood, and tooke him in a snare: which reioyced them in the gate, & made the iust to fall without cause.

22 Therefore thus saith the Loide vnto the house of Iacob, euen he that reuerenced Abraham, Iacob shall not now be confounded, neither now shall his face be pale.

23 But when hee seeth his children, the worke of mine hands, in the middes of him, they shall sacrifice my name, and finde fault with the Prophets wordes, and would not abide admonitions, but would intangle them and bring them into danger.

11 Misse hereon as long as ye list, yett shall ye finde nothing but occasion to be allotted, for your Prophets are blinde, & therefore cannot direct you.

12 Meaning, that it is all alike, either to reade, or not to reade, except God open the heart to vnderstand.

13 Because they are hypocrites & not sincere in heart, as Mat. 23. 18. That is, their religio was learned by mans doctrine, and not by my word.

14 Meaning, that where as God is not worshipped according to his word, both magistrates, & ministers are but fooles, and without vnderstanding.

15 This is spoken of the which, in heauynesse despised Gods word, and mocked at the admonitions, but outwardly bare a good face.

16 For all your craft, sayth the Lord, you cannot be able to escape mine hands, no more then the clay, that is in the potters handes, hath power to deliuer it selfe.

17 Shal there not be a change of all things? & Carmel, that is a plentiful place in respect of it shall be then, maybe taken as a forest, 18 as Cha. 3. 15. & thus he speaketh to comfort the faithful.

19 They that went about to finde fault with the Prophets wordes, and would not abide admonitions, but would intangle them and bring them into danger.

a The Hebrew word Ariel signifieth a Lion of God, & signifieth the Altar, because the altar seemed to denour sacrifice & was offered to God, as Ezek. 43. 16.

b Your vaine confidence in your sacrifices shall not last long.

c Your cite shall be full of blood, as an altar whereon they sacrifice.

d Thy speache shall be no more so lofty, but abased, & low as the very charmers, which are in low places, & whisper, so that their voyce can scarce be heard.

e Thine hired souldiers, in who thou trustest, shall be destroyed, as dust or chaffe in a whirlewinde.

f The enemies that I will bring to destroy thee, and that which thou makest thy wayne trust, shall come at vnwares, euen as a dreame in the night.

g That is, he thinketh that hee eateth.

r Signifying, that excepte God giue vnderstanding, and knowledge, man cannot but still erre, and murmure against him.

sanctifie the holy one of Iacob, & shall feare the God of Israel.
24 Then they that erred in spirite, shall haue vnderstanding, and they that murmured, shall learne doctrine.

woorde, and trust in violence, and wickednes, and stay thereupon, 13 Therefore this iniquitie shall be vnto you as a breach that falleth, or a swelling in an hye wall, whose breacking cometh suddenly in a moment.

1 Meaning, in their stubbornnes against God & the admonitions of his Prophets.

CHAP. XXX.

1 Hereproueth the Lewes which in their aduersitie vsed their owne counsells, and sought helpe of the Egyptians, to Despispe the Prophets, is Therefore he sheweth what destruction shall come vpon them, is But offereth mercie to the repentant.

a Who contrary to their promes, take not me for their protectour, and contrary to my commandement, seeke helpe at strangers.

1 Wade to the rebellious children, saith the Lord, that take counsell, but not of mee, and couer with a couering, but not by my spirite, that they may lay blame vpon him:
2 Which walke fourth to go downe into Egypt, (I haue not asked at my mouth) to strengthen themselves with the strength of Pharaoh, and trust in the shadow of Egypt.

14 And the breacking thereof is like the breacking of a porters potte, which is broken without pittie, and in the breacking thereof is not founde a heard to take fire out of it heartly, or to take water out of the pit.

m Signifying, that the destruction of the wicked shall be without reuerencie.

b They seeke shiftes to cloke their doinge, and not godly means.

3 But the strength of Pharaoh shall be your shame, & the trust in the shadowe of Egypt your confusion.

15 For thus saith the Lord God, the holie one of Israel, In reit and quietnes shall he be saued: In quietnes and in confidence shall he pour strength, but pee will not.

n Of times by his Prophets he put you in remembrance of this, & you should onely depend on him, o We will trust to escape by our horses.

c The chiefe of Israel went into Egypt in Ambassie to seeke helpe, and shode at these cities.

4 For his princes were at Zoan, & his Ambassadors came vnto Hanes.

16 For ye haue sayde, No, but wee will flee away vpon horses. Therefore shall ye flee. We will ride vpon the swiftest. Therefore shall your persecuters bee swifter.

p Whereas all the trees are cut downe sine two or three to make maltes.

d That is a heauie sentence or prophetic a gainst the beasts that caried their treasures into Egypt, by the wilderness, which was South from Iudah: signifying that if the beasts shoulde not be spared, the men shoulde be punished much more grievously.

5 They shall be all ashamed of the people that cannot profite them, nor helpe nor do them good, but shall be a shame & also a reproche.
6 For the burden of the beasts of the South, in a lande of trouble and anguish, from whence shall come the pong and olde pou, the viper and sicre flying serpent against them that shall beare their riches vpon the shoulders of the colers, and their treasures vpon the bouches of the camels, to a people that cannot profite.
7 For the Egyptians are banitie, & they shall helpe in vayne. Therefore haue I cryed vnto her, Their strength is to sit still.

q He comendeth great mercies of God, whowith patience waiteth to call sinners to repentance.

e To wit, to Ierusalem.

8 Nowe goe, and write it before them in a table, and note it in a booke that it may be for the last day for euer and euer:

18 Per therefore wylt the Lorde wayte, that he may haue a mercie vpon you, and therefore wylt he be exalted, that hee may haue compassion vpon you: for the Lorde is the God of iudgement. Blessed are all they that wayte for him.

r Not onely in punishing, but in vsing moderatio in vs same, as Ier. 10. 24. & 30. 11.

f And not to come to and fro to seeke helpe.

9 That it is a rebellious people, lying children, and children that would not heare the Lawe of the Lord.

19 Surely a people shall dwell in Zion, and in Ierusalem: thou shalt weep no more: he wylt certainly haue mercie vpon thee at the voyce of thy crye: when he heareth thee, he will answer thee.

s Or, in Iudicator.

g That is, this prophetic.

10 Which say vnto the Seers, See not: and to the Prophets, Prophecie not vnto vs right things: but speake flattering things vnto vs: prophetic kers rours.

20 And when the Lorde hath giuen you the bread of aduersitie, and the water of affliction, thy raine shall bee no more kept backe, but thine eyes shall see thy raine.

t God hath direct all thy wayes, & appoynt thee how to goe either hither or thither: Ye shal cast away your idoles, which you haue made of gold, & siluer, with all y belongeth vnto the, as a most filthy thing, and polluted.

h That it may be awtnes against them for all posteritie.

11 Depart out of the war: go aslde out of the path: caule the holy one of Israel to cease from vs.

21 And thine eares shall heare a worde behinde thee, saying, This is the voyce, walke pee in it, when thou turnest to the right hand, and when thou turnest to the left.

u Shewing that there can be no true repentance, except both in heart and deede we shewe our selues enemies to idolatrie.

i He sheweth whoe was the cause of their destruction, and bringeth also miserie to man: to wit, because they would not heare the worde of God, but delited to be flattered, and led in error.

12 Therefore thus saith the holie one of Israel, Because you haue cast of this x By these diuers maners of speach he sheweth that the felicitie of y Church shalbe so great, that none is able sufficiently to expresse it.

22 And ye shall pollute the covering of the images of silver, and the riche ornament of thine images of golde, and call them away as a mensurers cloth, and thou shalt sape vnto it, Get thee hence.

23 Then shall hee giue raine vnto thy seede, when thou shalt sow the ground, and bread of the increase of the earth, and it shall bee fatte and as ople: in that day shall thy cattell be fed in large pastures.

24 The reu also and the pong asses, that till the ground, shal care cleane vpon the der, which is ynowed with the sheeps well and with the fenne.

25 And vpon euery hie mountaine, and vpon euery hie hill shall there be riuers and streames of waters, in the day of the great slaughter, when the towres shall y When the Church shall be restored, y glory thereof shall passe feue times the brightnes of y sunne: for by the sunne and mone, which are two excellēt creatures, he sheweth what shall be the glory of the Children of God in the Kingdom of Christ.

z This threatening is against the Assyrians, the chiefe enemies of the people of God.
a To drue thee to nothing: and thus God confumeth the wicked by that meanes, wherby he cleanseth his.
b Ye shall reioyce at the destruction of your enemies, as they that sing for ioy of the solleinne feast, which began in the evening.

shall fall.
26 Whosoever, the light of the moone shall be as the light of the y sunne, & the light of the sunne shall be tenen foldes, and like the light of finest dayes in the day that the Lorde shall haide by the breach of his people, and heale the stroke of their wounde.

27 Beholde, & the Name of the Lorde cometh from farre, his face is burning, and the burden thereof is heauy: his lippes are full of indignation, and his tongue is as a deuouring fire.

28 And his spirit is as a ruler that ouerfloweth by to the necke: it denideth a funder, to faime the nations with the faime of ^a bannite, and there shall be a bule to cause the erre in ^b chawes of the people.

29 But there shall be a song vnto you as in the ^b night, when a solleinne feast is kept: and gladnesse of heart, as he that cometh with a pipe to goe vnto the mount of the Lorde, to the mighty one of Israel.

30 And the Lorde shall cause his glorious voyce to be heard, and shall declare the lighting downe of his arme with the anger of his countenance, and flame of a deuouring fire, with scattering & tempest, and haile stones.

31 For with the voyce of the Lorde shall ^a Asshur be destroyed, which smore with the ^c rodde.

32 And in euery place that the staffe shall passe, it shall ^d cleaue fast, which the Lorde shall lay vpon him with ^e rarbets and harpes: and with battels, and lifting vp of handes shall he fight ^f against it.

33 For ^a Cophet is prepared of olde: it is euery prepared for the ^b King: he hath made it ^c deepe and large: the burning thereof is fire and much wood: ^d bye ath of the Lorde, like a river of bynnitons, doth kinde it.

b sake vnto the Lorb.
2 But he per is wisst: therefore he will lunge out, & not turne backe his voyde, but he will sit against the house of the wicked, and against the helpe of them that worke banite.
3 Now the Egyptians are men, & not God, and their holes are flesh and not spirit: and when the Lorde shall stretch out his hande, the ^d helper shall fall, and he that is holpen shall fall, and they shall altogether faile.
4 For thus hath the Lorde spoken vnto me, As the lion of lions whelpe roareth vpon his pray, against whom if a multitude of theye herdes be called, he will not be afraid at their voice, ney her will humble himselfe at their nosse: so shall the Lorde of hostes come ^e downe to fight for mount Zion, and for the hill thereof.
5 His birdes that feile, so shall the Lord of hostes defend Ierusalem by defending and deliuering, by passing through and piercing it.
6 Ye children of Israel, turne againe, in as much as ye are ^f sincken deepe in rebellion.
7 For in that day euery man shall cast out his idoles of siluer, and his idols of golde, which your handes haue made you, euen a fime.
8 Then shall ^a Asshur fall by ^b the sword, not of man, ney her shall the sword of man deuour him, and he shall flee from the sword, and his pong men shall faime.
9 And he shall goe for feare to his ^c tower, and his princes shall be afraid of the Randart, sayth the Lord, whose ^d fire is in Zion, and his foyne in Ierusalem.

b Meaning, that they forsake the Lord, y put their trust in worldly things: for they cannot trust in both.
c And knoweth their crafty enterprises and will bring all to nought.
d Meaning, both the Egyptians & the Israhites.
e He sheweth the lesser, that if they would put their trust in him, he is so able, that none can resist his power: and so careful ouer them, as a bird cuer her yong which cuer fieth about the for their defence which similitude the Scripture vseth in diuers places, as Deut. 32.11. mat. 23.37.
f He toucheth their confidence that they might earnestly feele their grieuous finnes, & so truly repent, for as much as now they are almost drowned and past reuouerie.

g By these fruits your repentance shall be known, as Chap. 2.18. h When your repentance appeareth. i This was accomplished soone after when Saneheribs army was difcomfited, and he fled to his castle in Nineuch for succour. k To destroy his enemies.

CHAP. XXXI.

^r He curseth them that forsake God, and seeke for the helpe of men.

a There were two speciall causes, why the Israhelites should not ioyne amitie with the Egyptians: first, because the Lord had commaunded them neuer to returne thither, Deut. 17.16. and 28.68. least they should forget the benefite of their redemption: and secondly, least they should be corrupted with the superstition and idolatry of the Egyptians, & so forsake God, Iere. 2.18.

1 W ^a ad vnto the that ^a goe downe into Egypt for helpe, & stay vpon hogges, and trust in charrets, because they are many, and in hoiemen, because they be very strong: but they looke not vnto ^b help one of Israel, nor

CHAP. XXXII.

The condition of good rulers and officers described by the gouernment of Hezekiah, who was the figure of Christ.

1 Beholde, & a King shall reigne in iustice, and the princes shall ride ^b in iudgement, who was a figure of Christ, and therefore it ought chiefly to be referred to him.
2 And that man shall be as an hynding and place from the winde, and as a refuge for the tempest: as rivers of water in a drye place, and as the shadowe of a great rocke in ^c a weary land.
3 The cres of ^d the seing shall not be slint, and the eares of them that heare, shall hearken.

c Where men are weary with traouling for lacke of water. d He promifeth to giue the true light, which is the pure doctrine of Gods wordes, and vnderstanding, and zeale of the same, contrary to the threatnings against the wicked, Chap. 6 9 & 29.10.

e Vice shall no more be called vertue, nor vertue esteemed by power, and riches.

f He prophecieth of such calamitie to come, that they will not spare the women and children, and therefore willett them to take heele and provide.

g Meaning, that the affliction should continue long, and when one yere were past, yet they should looke for new plagues. h God will take from you the meanes & occasions, which made you to contemne him: to wit, abundance of worldly goods.

i By the teares he meaneth the plentifull fields, whereby men are nourished, as children with the teare: or the mothers for sorrow, and leaneones shall lacke milke.

k That is, when the Church shall be restored: thus the Prophets after they have denounced Gods iudgements against the wicked, vie to comfort the godly, least they should fainte.

l The field which is now fruitfull, shall be but as a barren fereft in comparison of that it shall be then, as Chap. 29. 17. which shall be fulfilled in Christs tyme: for then they that were before as the barren wildernes, beyng regenerate, shall be fruitfull, and they that had some beginning of goodlines, shall bring forth fruits in such abundance, that their former lyfe shall seeme but as a wildernesse where no fruites were. m They shall not neede to builde it in his places for feare of the enemy: for God will defend it, and turne away the stormes from hurting of their commodities.

4 And the heart of the foolish shall be darkened, and the tongue of the flurrers shall be ready to speake disinfectly.

5 The nigard shall no more be called his befall, nor the thurle riche.

6 But the nigard will speake of nigardities, and his heart will worke iniquitie, and do wickedly, and speake falsly against the Lord, to make empty the bishoppes soule, and to cause the drinke of the thurle to faile.

7 For the weapons of the thurle are wicked: he denieth wicked counsels, to vndoe the poore with lying wordes: & to speake against the poore in iudgements.

8 But the liberall man will denise of his befall things, and he will continue his liberality.

9 Make vp, ye women that are at ease: heare my voice, ye careless daughters: hearken to my wordes.

10 Ye women, that are careless, shall be in feare aboute a pere in dayes: for the vintage shall faile, & the gathering shall come no more.

11 Ye women, that are at ease, be astonished: feare, & ye careless women: put off the clothes: make bare, and girde sackcloth vpon the loines.

12 Open shall lament for the teates, euen for the pleasant fields, and for the fruites full vine.

13 Vpon the lande of my people shall growe thornes and briars: pea, vpon all the houles of ioy in the cite of reioycing,

14 Because the palace shall be forsaken, & the noise of the cite shall be left: the tower and fottresse shall be demies for euer, and the delite of wilde asses, and a pasture for flockes, 15 Vntill the Spirit be powdered vpon vs from above, and the wildernes become a fruitfull field, and the plenteous field be counted as a forest.

16 And iudgement shall dwell in the desert, and iustice shall remayne in his fruitfull field.

17 And the worke of iustice shall be peace, euen the worke of iustice and quiemes, and assurance for euer.

18 And my people shall dwell in the tabernacle of peace, and in sure dwellings, and in safe resting places.

19 When it hatherth, it shall fall on the fottresse, and the cite shall be set in the low place. 20 Blessed are ye that sowe vpon all waters, and bringe thicher the seete of the eye and the asse.

boundance: or in places which before were couered with waters, and now made dry for your vses. o The fields shall be so ranke, that they shall sende out their cattell to eate vp the first crosse, which abundance shall be signes of Gods fauour and loue towards them.

CHAP. XXXIII.

The destruction of them, by whome God hath punished his Church.

1 Wad to the that spoylest, and a Meaning, the wast not spoyled: and doest enemies of the wickedly, and they did not Church, as wickedly against thee: when thou shalt were the Caldeans, and Assyrians: but cease to spoyle, thou shalt be spoyled: when thou shalt make an end of doing wickedly, they shall do wickedly against thee.

2 d Lord, haue mercy vpon vs, we haue waited for thee: be thou, which wast their arme in the morning, our help also in tyme of trouble.

3 At the noise of the tumult, the people fled: at thine exalting the nations were scattered.

4 And your people shall be gathered like the gathering of caterpillers: and they shall go against him like the leaping of grasshoppers.

5 The Lorde is exalted: for he dwelleth on high: he hath filled Zion with iudgement and iustice.

6 And there shall be stabilitie of thy trines, strength, saluation, wisdom & knowledge: for his feare of the Lord shall be his treasure.

7 Beholde, their messengers shall cry without, and the ambassadours of peace shall wepe bitterly.

8 The paths are waste: the wayfaring man ceareth: he hath broken the covenant: he hath contemned the cities: he regarded no man.

9 The earth mourneth and sapnteth: Lebanon is ashamed, & heuen downe: Babylon is like a wilderness, and Bathan is shaken and Caruel.

e Which helpedst our fathers so soone as they called vpon thee. f That is, the Assyrians fledde before the army of the Caldeans, or the Caldeans for feare of the Medes and Persians. g When thou, O Lorde, diddest lift vp thine arme to punish thine enemies. h Ye that as caterpillers destroyed with your nomber the whole worlde, shall haue no strength to resist your enemies the Caldeans, but shall be gathered on an heape and destroyed. i Meaning the Medes and Persians against the Caldeans. k That is, in the dayes of Hezekiah.

l Sent from Sancherib. m Whome they of Ierusalem sent to intreate of peace. n These are the wordes of the Ambassadours, when they retourne from Sancherib.

o Which was a plentifull countrey, meaning that Sancherib would destroy all.

CHAP. XXXIII.

To helpe and deliuer my Church.

q This is spoken against the enemies, who thought all was their owne: but he sheweth that their enterprise shalbe in vaine, and that the fire which they had kindled for others, should consume them. r His vengeance shalbe so great, that all y world shall talke thereof.

s Which do not beleue y words of y Prophet & the assurance of their delinēace.

t Meaning, that God will be a sure defence to all them that liue according to his word.

u They shall see Hezekiah deliuered from his enemies and restored to honour and glorie.

x They shalbe no more shure in as they were by Saneherib, but goe where it pleaseth them.

y Before that this liberie com meth, thou shalt thinke that thou art in great danger: for the enemy shal so sharply assaile you, y one shall crye,

Where is the clarke that writeth the names of them that are taxed? another,

Where is the receiuer? another shall crye for him that valueth the riche houses, but God will deliuer you from this feare.

z Let vs be content with this small riuer of Shiloah, and not desire the great streames and riuers, whereby the enemies may bring in shippes and destroy vs. a He derideth the Assyrians and enemies of the Church, declaring their destruction as they that perish by shipwracke. b He comforteth the Church, and sheweth that they shalbe enriched with all benefites both of body and soule.

10 Nowe will I arise, saith the Lorde: nowe will I be exalced, nowe will I lift up my selfe.

11 He shall conceiue chaffe, and bring forth stubble: the fire of your beeah shall deuoure you.

12 And the people shalbe as the burning of linc: and as the thornes cut vp, shal they be burnt in the fire.

13 Heare, pe that are c^e farre of, what I haue done, and pe that are nere, knowe my power.

14 The sinners in Zion are afraid: a feare is come vpon the hypocrites: who among vs shall dwell with the deuouring fire? who among vs shal dwell with the euerlasting burnings?

15 He that dwelleth in iustice, and speaketh righteous things, refusing game of oppression, shaking his hands from taking of giftes, stopping his eares from hearing of blood, and shutting his eyes from seeing euill.

16 He shall dwell on hie: his defence shalbe the munitions of rockes: bread shalbe giuen him, and his waters shalbe sure.

17 Thine eyes shall see the king in his glorie: they shall behold the land a farre of.

18 Thine heart y shall meditate feare, Where is the scribe? where is the receiuer? where is he that counted the towres?

19 Thou shalt not see a fierce people, a people of a darke speech, that thou canst not perceiue, and of a stammering tongue that thou canst not vnderstand.

20 Looke vpon Zion the cite of our solemne feastes: thine eyes shall see Jerusalem a quiet habitation, a tabernacle that can not be remoued: and the stakes thereof can neuer be taken as way, neither shall any of the cordes thereof be broken.

21 For surely there the mightie Lord will be vnto vs, as a place of floods and broad riuers, whereby shall passe no shippe with oares, neither shall great floyde passe thereby.

22 For the Lorde is our iudge, the Lorde is our lawe giuer: the Lord is our king, he will saue vs.

23 Thy cordes are loosed: they coulede not well strengthen their mast, neither coulede they speade the maff: then shall the b^e pray be deuoided for a great spoile: yea, the lame shall take away the pray.

24 And none inhabitant shall say, I am sicke: the people that dwell therein, shal haue their iniquitie forgiven.

z Let vs be content with this small riuer of Shiloah, and not desire the great streames and riuers, whereby the enemies may bring in shippes and destroy vs. a He derideth the Assyrians and enemies of the Church, declaring their destruction as they that perish by shipwracke. b He comforteth the Church, and sheweth that they shalbe enriched with all benefites both of body and soule.

He sheweth that God punisheth the wicked for the loue that he beareth toward his Church.

1 Come nere, pe nations and heare, a He prophesieth and hearken, pe people: let the earth heare and all that is therein, the world and all that proceedeth thereof.

2 For the indignation of the Lorde is vpon all nations, and his wrath vpon all their armies: he hath destroyed them and deliuered them to the slaughter.

3 And their name shalbe cast out, and their smicke shall come vpon out of their bodies, and the monuments shalbe melted with their blood.

4 And all the holte of heauen shall be discouled, and the heauens shalbe folded like a booke: and all their hostes shall fall as the leafe falleth from the vine, and as it falleth from the figge tree.

5 For my sword shalbe drunk in the heauen: beholde, it shall come downe vpon Edom, euen vpon the people of e my curse to iudge ment.

6 The sword of the Lorde is filled with blood: it is made fat with the fat and with the blood of the lamibes and the goates, with the fat of the kidneis of the rammes: for the Lorde hath a sacrifice in Sodom, and a great slaughter in the land of Edom.

7 And the unicornes shal come downe with them, and the heifers with the bulles, and their lands shalbe drunken with blood, and their dust made fat with fatnes.

8 For it is the day of the Lorges vengeance, and the peere of recompense for the iudgement of Zion.

9 And the riuers thereof shalbe turned into pitch, and the dust thereof into burning pitch.

10 It shal not be quenched night nor day: the smoke thereof shall goe vpon euermore: it shall be desolate from generation to generation: none shall passe through it for euer.

11 But the pellicane and the hedges hogge shall possesse it, and the great owle, and the rauen shall dwell in it, and he shall stregele out vpon it the line of vanitie, and the stones of emys time.

12 The nobles thereof shall call to the kingdome, and there shalbe none, and all the princes thereof shalbe as nothing.

13 And it shall bring forth thornes in the and Gomorah. Gene. 19. 24. k Reade Chap. 13. 21. and Zephan. 2. 14. l In vaine shall anie man goe about to builde it againe. m Meaning, there shalbe neither order nor policie, nor state of common weale.

1 Now ^a in the ^b fourthenth yere of King Hezekiah, Saneherib King of Aſſhur came by againſt all the ſtrong cities of Judah, and tooke them. ^c And the King of Aſſhur ſent Rabſhakh from Aſſhur towarde Ieruſalem vnto King Hezekiah, with a great hoſt, and he ſtoode by the conduit of the bypper poole in the path of the fullers field.

3 Then came forth vnto him ^d Eiakim the ſonne of Iukiah the ^e Rewarder of the houſe, and Shebna ^f the chanceler, and Ioah the ſonne of Aſaph the recorder.

4 And ^g Raſhſhakh ſaide vnto them, Tell you Hezekiah, I pray you, Thus ſaith the great King, the King of Aſſhur, What confidence is this, wherein thou truſteſt?

5 ^h I ſay, ⁱ Surely I haue eloquence, but counſell and ſtrength are for the warre: on whom then doeſt thou truſt, that thou rebeleſt againſt me?

6 ^j Hee, thou truſteſt in this broken ſtaffe of reedes on Egypt, whereupon if a man leane, it will goe into his hand, & pearce it: ſo is ^k Pharaoh King of Egypt, vnto all that truſt in him.

7 ^l But if thou ſay to me, We truſt in the Lord our God. Is not that he, whoſe he places and whoſe altars Hezekiah tooke downe, and ſaid to Iudah and to Ieruſalem, He ſhall worſhippe beſore this altar?

8 ^m Nowe therefore giue hoſtages to my lord the King of Aſſhur, and I wil giue thee two thouſand hozes, if thou be able on thy part to ſet riders vpon them.

9 ⁿ For how cauſt thou ^o deſpiſe any captaine of the ^p leaſt of my lords ſervants: and put thy truſt on Egypt for charets and for hoſemen?

10 And am I now come by without the ſon of Hezekiah, falſely charging him, that he put his truſt in his wite and eloquence, whereas his onely confidence was in the Lord. ^q Satan laboured to pull the godly King from one vaine confidence to another. to wit, from truſt in the Egyptians, whoſe power was weak and would deceiue them: to yeeld him ſelſe, to the Aſſyrians and ſo not to hope for any helpe of God. ^r Or, ^s ſonne bakke. ^t He reprocheth to Hezekiah his ſmall power, which is not able to reſiſt one of Saneheribs leaſt captaines.

a This hiſtory is rehearſed, becauſe it is as a ſeale and confirmation of the doctrine afore, both for the threatnings and promiſes: to wit, that God would ſuffer his church to be afflicted, but at length would ſende deliuerance.

b When he had abolithed ſuperſtition, and idolatrie, and reſtored religion, yet God would exerciſe his church to trie their faith and patience.

c For he was now reſtored to his office, as Iſajah had prophesied, Chap. 22. 20.

d This declarereth that there were fewe godlie to be found in the Kings houſe, when he was druen to ſend this wicked man in ſuch a weightie matter.

f He ſpeaketh this in the peri Thus the wicked will pretend to be of the Name of the Lorde: but we mult trie the spirits, whether they be of God or no.

k They were afraid, left by his words he should have stirred the people against y King, and also pretended to growe to some appointment with him.

l Ebr. the water of their feste.

m That is, of Antiochia in Syria, of the which these two other cities also were: whereby we see how cury towne had his peculiar idole, and how y wicked make God an idole, because they do not understand y God maketh then his scourge and punisheth cities for sinne.

n Not that they did not shew by evident signes that they did detest his blasphemie: for they had now rent their clothes, but they knew it was in vaine to vse long reasoning with this infidel, whose rage they should have so much more prouoked.

Loide to this land to destroy it? The Lord said vnto me, I So by against this land and destroy it.

11 ¶ Then said Eshakim, & Shebna and Joah vnto Rabshakeh, ^k Speake, I praye thee, to thy seruants in the Hebrewes language, (for we vnderstand it) and talke not with vs in the Jewes tongue, in the audience of the people that are on the wall.

12 Then saide Rabshakeh, Hath my master sent me to thy master, and to thee to speake these wordes, and not to the men that sit on the wall? that they may see their owne doing, and drinke their owne ^l pisse with you?

13 So Rabshakeh stood, and cryed with a loud voyce in the Jewes language, and said, Heare the wordes of the great king, of the King of Asshur.

14 Thus saith the King, Let not Hezekiah deceiue you: for he shal not be able to deliuer you.

15 Neither let Hezekiah make you to trust in the Lord, saying, The Lord will surely deliue vs: this cite shall not be given ouer into the hand of the King of Asshur.

16 Hearken not to Hezekiah: for thus saith the King of Asshur, Make ^m appointment with mee, and come out to mee, that euery man may eat of his owne vine, and euery man of his owne figtree, and drinke euery man the water of his owne well.

17 Till I come & bring you to a land like your owne land, euen a land of wheat and wine, a land of beards and vines parden.

18 Least Hezekiah deceiue you, saying, The Lord will deliue vs. Hath any of the gods of the nations deliuered his land out of the hand of the King of Asshur?

19 Where is the god of Hamath, and of Arpad? where is the god of Sepharaim? or how haue they deliuered Samaria out of mine hand?

20 Who is he among all the gods of these lands, that hath deliuered their country out of mine hand, that the Lorde should deliue Ierusalem out of mine hand?

21 Then they ⁿ kept silence, and answered him not a word: for the kings commandement was, saying, Answer him not.

22 Then came Eshakim the sonne of Hizkiah the steward of the house, & Shebna the chancelier, and Joah the sonne of Asaph the recorder, vnto Hezekiah with rent clothes, and tolde him the wordes of Rabshakeh.

A ^o ^p When the King Hezekiah heard it, he rent his clothes, and came into the House of the Lord.

2 And he sent Eshakim the steward of the house, and Shebna the chancelier, with the Eiers of the Houses, clothed in sackcloth vnto ^b Iuiah the Prophet, the sonne of Amoz.

3 And they said vnto him, Thus saith Hezekiah, This day is a day of tribulation and of rebuke and blasphemie: for the children are come to the ^c birth, and there is no strength to bring forth.

4 ¶ If to be the Lord thy God hath ^d heard the wordes of Rabshakeh, whome the King of Asshur his master hath sent to taile on the King of Iudah, and to reproche him with wordes which the Lord thy God hath heard, the ^e life thou by thy prayer for the remnant h are left.

5 So the seruants of the King Hezekiah came to Iuiah.

6 And Iuiah said vnto them, Thus say vnto your master, Thus saith the Lord, Be not afraid of the wordes that thou hast heard, wherewith the seruants of the King of Asshur haue blasphemed me.

7 Beholde, I will send a blast vpon him, and he shall heare a ^f noise, and returne to his owne land, and I will cause him to fall by the sword in his owne land.

8 ¶ So Rabshakeh returned, and found the King of Asshur fighting against Libnah: for he had heard that he was departed from Iachin.

9 He heard also me ^g say of Tirhakah, King of Ethiopia, Beholde, he is come out to fight against thee: and when he heard it, he sent other messengers to Hezekiah, saying,

10 Thus shal ye speake to Hezekiah King of Iudah, saying, Let not thy God ^h deceiue thee, in whome thou trustest, saying, Ierusalem shall not be giuen into the hand of the King of Asshur.

11 Beholde, thou hast heard what the Kings of Asshur haue done to al lands in destroying them, and shalt thou be deliuered?

12 Haue the gods of the nations deliuered them, which my fathers haue destroyed? as ⁱ Cosan, and ^j Haran, and ^k Reseph, & the children of Eden, which were at Telassar?

13 Where is the King of Hamath, & the King of Arpad, and the King of the cite of Sepharaim, Hena and Iuah?

14 ¶ So Hezekiah received the letter of the hand of the messengers and read it, and he went vp into the House of the Lorde, and Hezekiah layed it before the Lord.

15 And Hezekiah prayed vnto the Lorde, saying, A deceiver: some gather hereby y Shebna had disclosed vnto Saneherib the answer that Iuiah sent to the King. ^l Which was acity of the Medes. ^k Called also Chare a city in Mesopotamia, whence Al raham came after his father. death.

e Hezekiah, shebth counsellor of Iuiah, who promised him the victorie. fo The blasphemie of Saneherib. io Hezekihs prayer. 30 The armie of Saneherib is slaine of the Angel, 28 And he himselfe of his owne foules.

I He groundeth his prayer on Gods promises, who promised to heare them from betweene the Cherubims.

16 Lord of hostes, God of Israel, which dwelleth betwene Cherubims, thou art verp G D alone over all the kingdomes of the earth: thou hast made the heauen and the earth.

17 Encline thine eare, O Lord, and heare; open thine eyes, O Lord, and see, and heare all the wordes of Saneherib, who hath sent to blaspheme the liuing God.

18 Truely it is, O Loide, that the kings of Asshur haue destroyed all lands, and m their countrey, 19 And haue calt their gods in the fire: for they were no gods, but the worke of mans hands, euen wood of stone: therefore they destroyed them.

20 Now therefore, O Lord our God, saue thou vs out of his hande, that all the kingdomes of the earth maye knowe, that thou onely art the Lord.

21 ¶ Then Isaiah the sonne of Amoz sent vnto Hezekiah, saying, Thus sayth the Lord God of Israel, Because thou hast played vnto mee, concerning Saneherib king of Asshur, 22 This is the word that the Loide hath spoken against him, O virgine, daughter of Zion, hee hath despyed thee, and laughed thee to scorne: O daughter of Ierusalem, he hath shaken his heade at thee.

23 Whome hast thou railed on and blasphemed: and against whome hast thou exalted thy voyce, & lifted vp thine eyes on the? euen against the holie one of Israel.

24 By thy seruantes hast thou railed on the Lord, and said, By the multitude of my chariots I am come vp to the toppes of the mountaines to the sides of Libanon, and will cut downe the hie cedars thereof, and the faire firre trees thereof, and I will go vp to the heightes of his toppes, and to the forest of his fruitfull places.

25 I haue digged & and drunke the waters, & with the plant of my feete haue I dyed all the riuers closed in.

26 Hast thou not hearde how I haue of olde tyme made it, & haue foumed it long agoe? and should I nowe bring it, that it should be destroyed, and layed on ruinous heapes, as cities defended?

27 Whose inhabitants haue sinall poluers, and are afraid and confounded: they are like the grasse of the field and greene herbe, or grasse on the house toppes, or come blasted afore it be growen.

28 But I knowe thy dwelling, and thy going out, and thy coming in, and thy firie against me.

29 Because thou ragest against me, & thy rumult is come vp vnto mine eares, therefore will I put mine hooke in thy nostrils, and my bidle in thy lips, and will bring thee backe againe the same way thou camest.

30 And this shall be a signe vnto thee, O Hezekiah, I know thou shalt eate this peere such as groweth of it selfe: and the second yeere, such things as growe without sowing: and in the third yeere, sowpe and reape, and plant vineyards, and eate the fruit thereof.

31 And the remnant that is escaped of the house of Iudah, shall againe take roote downward and beare fruite vps ward.

32 For out of Ierusalem shall goe a remnant, and they that escape out of mount Zion: the seale of the Lord of hostes shall do this.

33 Therefore thus saith the Lord, concerning the king of Asshur, He shall not enter into this cite, nor shoote an arrowe there, nor come before it with shield, nor cast a mount against it.

34 By the same way that he came, he shall returne, and not come into this cite, saith the Lord.

35 For I will defend this cite to saue it, for mine owne sake, and for my seruants Dauids sake.

36 ¶ Then the Angel of the Loide went out, and smote in the campe of Asshur an hundred, foure score, and fife thousand: so when they arose early in the morning, beholde, they were all dead coples.

37 So Saneherib King of Asshur departed, and went away and returned and dwelt at Nineuech.

38 And as hee was in the temple worshipping of Nisroch his god, Adramelech and Scharzer his sonnes slew him with the sworde, and they ecraved into the land of Ararat: and Sardanapaddon his sonne reigned in his stead.

u Because Saneherib shewed himselfe, as a deuouring fish and furious beast, he vieth these similitudes, to teach how he will take him and guide him. x Thou shalt lofe thy labour.

y God giueth signes after two sortes: some goe before the thing, as the signes that Moies wrought in Egypt, which were for confirmation of their sayth: and some goe after the thing, as the sacrifice, which they were commanded to make three dayes after their departure: and these latter are to keepe the benefices of God in our remembrance, of the which fort this here is.

z He promisseth that for two yeres the ground of it selfe should feede them.

a They whome God had deliuered out of the handes of the Assyrians, shall prosper: and this properly belongeth to the Church. b For my promes sake made to Dauid.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

¶ Hezekiah is sicke. 5 He is restored to health by the Lords, and liueth fiftene yeeres after. 10 He giueth thanks for his benefite.

m Meaning, of the ten tribes.

n He declareth for what cause he prayed, that they might be deliuered: to wit, that God might be glorified thereby through all the world.

o Whome God had chosen to himselfe, as a chaste virgine, and ouer whome he had care to preferue her from the lusts of the tyrant, as a father would haue ouer his daughter.

p Declaring hereby that they that are enemies to Gods church, fight against him whose quarell his Church onely mainteineth.

q Hee boasterh of his policy, in that that he can finde meanes to nourish his army: and of his power, in that that his army is so great, that it is able to dry vp whole riuers, and to desrey the waters, which the fewes had closed in.

r Signifying, that God made not his Church to destroy it, but to preferue it, and therefore he faith that he formed it of olde, euen in his eternal counsell, which cannot be changed. ¶ Ebr. are short in hand. s He sheweth that the state and power of most flourishing cities endureth but a moment in respect of the Church, which shall remaine for euer, because God is the maintainer thereof.

t Meaning, his counsels and enterprises.

I A Bout * that * time was Hezekiah sicke vnto the death, and the Prophet Isaiah sonne of Amoz came vnto him, and saide vnto him, Thus saith the Loide. Vnto this house in an order, for thou shalt die, and not liue.

2. King. 20. 7. 2. chro. 32. 24. a Soone after that the Assyrians were slaine: so that God will haue the exercise of his children continuall, that they maye learne anely to depend vpon God and aspire to the heauens.

b For his heart was touched & feare of Gods iudgement, seeing he had appointed him to die so quickly after his deliuerance from so great calamitie, as one vnworthy to remaine in that estate, and also foreseeing the great change, that should come in the Church, forasmuch as he left no sonne to reigne after him: for as yet Manasseh was not borne: and when he reigned, we see what a tyrant he was. c He doth not onely promise to prolong his life, but to giue him rest and quietnes from the Assyrians, who might haue reduced their armie to reuenge their former discomfort. d For Hezekiah had asked, for confirmation of his faith a signe, as verse 22. and 2. King. 20. 8. whereunto he was moued by y singular motion of Gods Spirit. e Reade 2. King. 15 What shall I say: for he hath laide it to me, & he hath done it: I shall walke fe weakly all my yeeres in the bitterness of my soule.

2 Then Hezekiah turned his face to the wall, and prayed to the Lord,
 3 And said, I beseech thee, Lord, remember now howe I haue walked before thee in truth, and with a perfite heart, and haue done that which is good in thy sight: and Hezekiah wept sore.
 4 Then came the word of the Lord to Isaiah, saying,
 5 So, and say vnto Hezekiah, Thus saith the Lord God of Dauid thy father, I haue heard thy prayer, and seene thy teares: beholde, I will adde vnto thy daies fiftene yeeres.
 6 And I will deliuer thee out of p hand of the King of Asshur, and this cite: for I will defend this cite.
 7 And thus saie shalt thou haue of the Lord, that the Lord will doe this thing that he hath spoken,
 8 Beholde, I will bring againe the shadowe of p degrees (wheteby it is gone downe in p dial of Ahaz by the sunne) ten degrees backward: so the sunne returned by ten degrees, by the which degrees it was gone downe.
 9 The writing of Hezekiah King of Iudah, when he had bene sicke, and was recovered of his sickenes.
 10 I said in the cutting off of my daies, I shall goe to the gates of the graue: I am depnyed of the residue of my yeeres.
 11 I said, I shall not see the Lord, euen the Lord in the land of the liuing: I shall see man no more among the inhabitants of the world.
 12 Mine habitation is departed, and is removed from me, like a shepherds tent: I haue cut of like a weauer my life: he will cut me off from the height: from day to night, thou wilt make an ende of me.
 13 I reckoned to the morning: but he brake all my bones, like a lion: from day to night wilt thou make an ende of me.
 14 Like a crane or a swallowe, so did I chatter: I did mourne as a doue: mine eyes were lift vp on high: O Lord, it hath oppressed me, comfort me.
 15 What shall I say: for he hath laide it to me, & he hath done it: I shall walke fe weakly all my yeeres in the bitterness of my soule.

16 O Lord, I see them that ouerlure thee, and to all that are in them the life of my spirit: shall be knowne, that thou couldst not be to sleepe and halt giuen life to me.
 17 Beholde, for felicitie I had bitter griefe, but it was thy pleasure to deliuer my soule from the pit of corruption: for thou hast cast all my sinnes beynde thy backe.
 18 For the graue cannot confesse thee: death cannot praise thee: they that goe downe into the pit, cannot hope for thy truth.
 19 For the liuing, the liuing, he shall confesse thee, as I doe this day: the father liue to the children shall declare thy truth. f Where as I the Lord was ready to saue me: theres thought to haue foze we will sing my song, all the daies of our life in the house of the Lord.
 21 Then saide Isaiah, Take a lump of drie figges and lay it vpon the boyle, and he shall recover.
 22 Also Hezekiah had said, What is the signe, that I shall goe by into the house of the Lord?

and Gods fauour then a thousand liues. u For as much as God hath placed man in this worlde to glorifie him, the godly take it as a signe of his wrath when their dayes were shortened, eyther because that they seemed vnworthy for their sinnes to liue longer in his seruice, or for their zeale to Gods glorie, seeing that there are so fewe in earth, that doe regard it, as Psal. 6. 5. and 11. 5. 17. x Al posteritie shall acknowledge, and the fathers according to their duectie toward their children shall instill them in thy graces, and mercies toward me. y He sheweth what is the vse of the Congregation & Church: to wit, to giue the Lorde thanks for his benefites. z Reade 2. King. 20. 7. a As verse 7.

CHAP. XXXIX.

Hezekiah vs reproved, because he shewed his treasures vnto the ambassadors of Babylon.
 I A C the same time, Berodach Bazarabab, the sonne of Baladan, King of Babel, sent letters, and a present to Hezekiah: for he had heard that he had bene sicke, and was recovered.
 2 And Hezekiah was glad of them, and shewed them the house of the treasures, of the siluer, and the golde, and the spices, and the precious ointment, and all the house of his armour, and all that was found in his treasures: there was nothing in his house, nor in all his kingdom that Hezekiah shewed them not.
 3 Then came Isaiah the Prophet vnto King Hezekiah, and saide vnto him, What laide these men? & from whence came they to thee? And Hezekiah said, They are come from a faire countrey vnto me, from Babel.
 4 Then saide he, What haue they seene in thine house? And Hezekiah answered, All that is in mine house haue they seene: there is nothing among my treasures, that I haue not shewed them.

 5 And

- 5 And Iſaiah ſaid to Hezekiah, Heare the worde of the Lord of hoſtes, 6 Beholde, the dayes come that all that is in thine houſe, and which thy fathers haue laied vp in ſtore vntill this day, ſhalbe e caried to Babel: nothing ſhal be left, ſaith the Lord.
 7 And of the ſonnes, that ſhall procede out of thee, and which thou haſt beget, ſhall they take away, and they ſhalbe e ememies in the palace of the King of Babel.
 8 Then ſaide Hezekiah to Iſaiah, The worde of the Lord is good, which thou haſt ſpoken: and he ſaid, Per let there be peace, and truth in my dayes.

CHAP. XL.

a Remiſſion of finnes by Chriſt. 3 The coming of Iohn Baptist. 18 The Prophet reproacheth the idolaters and them that truſt not in the Lord.

1 Comfort ye, comfort ye my people, ſaith your God ſay,

2 Speake comfortably to Jeruſalem, and ſay vnto her, that her waerfare is accompliſhed, that her iniquitie is pardoned: for the hath receiued of the Lordes hand e double for all her finnes.

3 A voice crieth in the e wilderneſſe, Prepare ye the way of the Lord: make ſtreight in the deſert a path for our God.

4 Every valley ſhal be exalted, and every e mountaine & hill ſhal be made lowe: and the crooked ſhal be ſtreight, and the rough places plaine.

5 And the glory of the Lord ſhal be reueiled, and all e flesh ſhal ſee it together: for the mouth of the Lord hath ſpoken it.

6 A voice ſaid, Cry. And he ſaide, What ſhall I cry? All flesh is graſſe, and all the e grace thereof is as the flower of p field.

7 The graſſe withereth, the flower fadeeth, becauſe the e Spirit of p Lord bloweth vpon it: ſurely the people is graſſe.

8 The graſſe withereth, the flower fadeeth: but the e word of our God ſhall ſtand for euer.

9 I D Zion, that bringeſt good tidings, get thee vp into the eie mountaine: D Jeruſalem, that bringeſt good tidings, liſt vp thy voice with ſtrength: liſt it vp, be not afraid: ſay vnto the cities of Judah, Behold e your God.

10 Beholde, the Lord God will come with power, and e his arme ſhal rule for him: beholde, his rewarde is with him, and his worke before him.

11 He ſhall fede his ſlocke like a ſhepheard: he ſhall gather the lambes with his arme, e carpe them in his boſome, and ſhall guide them with e young.

12 Who hath measured the waters in his e ſift: and counted heauen with the ſpauie, and comprehended the duſt of the earth in a meature: and weighed the mountaines in a weight, and the hills in a balance?

13 Who hath instructed the Spirit of the Lord? or was e his counſeller, or taught him? or was e his counſeller, or taught him?

14 Of whom tooke he counſell, and who instructed him and taught him in the way of iudgement? or taught him knowledge, and ſhewed vnto him the way of vnderſtanding?

15 Beholde, the nations are as a droppe of a bucket, and are counted as the duſt of the balance: beholde, he taketh away the ples as a litle duſt.

16 And Lebanon is not ſufficient for fire, nor the deales thereof ſufficient for a burnt offering.

17 All nations before him are as e nothing, and they are counted to him, leſſe than nothing, and vanitie.

18 To whom then e will pe liken God? or what ſimilitude will pe ſet vp vnto him?

19 The workeman melteth an image, of the gold ſmith beareth it out in golde, of the gold ſmith maketh ſiluer plates.

20 Doeth not e the poore chule out a tree that will not rot, for an oblation? he ſeeketh alſo vnto him a cunning workeman, to prepare an image, that ſhal not be moued.

21 Know ye nothing? haue ye not heard y it: hath it not bene tolde you from the beginning? haue ye not vnderſtand it by the e foundation of the earth?

22 He ſiteth vpon the circle of the earth, and p inhabitants thereof are as grasshoppers, he ſtretcheth out p heauens, as a curtaine, and byeadeth them out, as a tent to dwell in.

23 He bringeth p princes to nothing, and maketh the iudges of the earth, as vanitie.

24 As though they were not planted, as though they were not ſowen, as though their ſtacke tooke no roote in the earth: for he did euen e blowe vpon them, and they withered, and the whirlewinde will take them away as ſtubble.

25 To whom nowe will pe liken me, that I ſhould be like him, ſaith the Iſrahel e?

26 Liſt vp your eyes on him, and behold, who hath created theſe things, e himſelfe?

2 Can you not learne by the viſible creatures whom God hath made to ſerue your vie, that you ſhould not ſerue them? nor worship them? a So that his power appeareth in every place where ſo euer we turne our eyes.

o He ſheweth ar one worde the perfection of all mans felicitie, which is to haue Gods preſence.

p His power ſhal be ſufficient without helpe of any other, and ſhall haue all means in himſelfe to bring his will to paſſe.

q He ſhall ſerue his care and fauour ouer them that are weak, and tender.

r Declaring that as God onely hath all power, ſo doth he vie the ſame for the defence & maintenance of his Church.

s He ſheweth Gods infinite wiſdome for the ſame ende and purpoſe.

t He ſpeeth al theſe to the intent that they ſhould neither feare man nor put their truſt in any, ſaue onely in God.

v Hereby he armeth them againſt the idolatrie, wherewith they ſhould be tempted in Babylon.

x He ſheweth the rage of the idolaters, ſeeing that the poore that haue not to ſuffice their owne neceſſities, will do.

y Haue ve not the worde of God, which plainly condemneth idolatrie?

z Can you not learne by the viſible creatures whom God hath made to ſerue your vie, that you ſhould not ſerue them?

a So that his power appeareth in every place where ſo euer we turne our eyes.

e By the grieuouſnes of the puniſhment is declared howe greatly God deteſteth ambition & vaine glory.
 f That is officers and ſeruants.
 g Reade 2. King. 20. 19.

a This is a conſolation for the church, aſſuring them that they ſhalbe neuer deſtitute of Prophets, wherby he exhorteth y true miniſters of God that theſe were, and thoſe alſo that ſhould come after him, to comfort the poore afflicted, and to aſſure the of their deliuerance both of body and ſoule.
 b The time of her affliction.
 c Meaning, ſufficient, as chap. 61. 7. and full correction, or double grace, whereas the deſerued double puniſhment.
 d To wit, of the Prophets.
 e That is, in Babylon, and other places where they were kept in captiuitie, and miſerie. f Meaning, Cyrus and Darius which ſhould deliuer Gods people out of captiuitie, and make them a ready way to Jeruſalem: and this was fully accompliſhed, when Iohn the Baptist brought tidings of Ieſus Chriſtes coming, who was the true deliuerer of his Church from ſinne and Satan, Mat. 3. 3. g Whatſoever may let or hinder this deliuerance, ſhalbe remoued. h This miracle ſhalbe ſo great, that it ſhall be known through all the world. i The voyce of God, which ſpake to the Prophet Iſaiah. k Meaning, all mans wiſdome and naturall powers, Iames 1. 10. 1. pet. 1. 24. l The Spirit of God ſhall diſcouer the vanitie in all that ſeeme to haue an excellencie of themſelues. m Though conſidering the frailty of mans nature many of the Iewes ſhould periſh and ſo not be partakers of this deliuerance, yet Gods promes ſhould be fulfilled, and they that remained, ſhould feele the fruit thereof. n To publiſhe this benefite through all the worlde.

b Who hath seen in order the infinite number of the starres.
c He rebuketh the Iewes, because they did not rest on the providence of God, but thought that he had forsaken them in their troubles.
d And therefore alpower is in his hand to deliuer when his time cometh.
e Showing that man must patiently abide, and not curiously seeke out the cause of Gods delay in our afflictions.
f They that trust in their owne vertue, and do not acknowledge that all cometh of God.

geth out their armies by number, and calleth them al by names: by the greatness of his power and mightie strength nothing faileth.
 27 Whip saith thou, O Iacob, and speakest O Irael: Why was I hid from the Lord, and my iudgement is passed ouer of my God?
 28 Knowest thou not? or hast thou not heard, that the euercasting God, O Lord hath created the ends of the earth? he neither fainteth, nor is weary: there is no searching of his vnderstanding.
 29 But he quicketh strength vnto him that fainteth, and vnto him that hath no strength, he encreaseth power.
 30 Euen the pong men shall faint, and be weary, and the pong men shall stumble and fall.
 31 But they that waite vpon the Lorde, shall renew their strength: they shall lift vp the wings as the egles: they shall runne, and not be weary, and they shall walke and not faint.

CHAP. XLII

Gods mercy in chusing his people. 6 Their idolatry. 17 Deliueraunce promised to Zion.

a God, as though he pleaded his cause with al nations, requireth silence that he may be heard in his right.
b This is, gather all their power and supports.
c Who called Abraham (who was the paterne of Gods iustice in deliuering his Church) from the idolatry of the Chaldeans to go to and fro at his commandement, and placed him in the land of Canaan.
d Who hath created man and maintained his succession.
e Though the world let vp neuer so many gods, yet they diminish nothing of my glory: for I am all one, vnchangeable, which haue ener bene, and shalbe for euer.
f Considering mine excellent workes among my people.
g They assembled themselves, & conspired against me to mainteine their idolatry.
h He noteth the obstinacie of the idolaters to mainteine their superstitions.
i And therefore oughtest not to pollute thy selfe with the superstition of the Gentiles.

Keepe silence before me, O plands, and let the people be renewe their strength: let them come neere, and let them speake: let vs come together into iudgement.
 2 Who raised vp iustice from the East, & called him to his foot: & gaue the nations before him, & subdued the kings? he gaue them as but to his sword, and as scattered stubble vnto his bowe.
 3 He pursued them, & passed safely by the way that he had not gone with his feet.
 4 Who hath wrought and done it? hee that calleth the generations from the beginning. O the Lord am the first, and with the last I am the same.
 5 Theples sawe it, and did feare, & the ends of the earth were abashed, & were here, and came.
 6 Euerp man helped his neighbour and said to his brother, Be strong.
 7 So the workman comforted the founder, & he that smote with the hammer, him that smote by course, saying, It is ready for the soldering, and he fastened it with naples: it should not be moued.
 8 O But thou, Irael, art my seruant, & thou Iacob, whom I haue chosen, the seede of Abraham my friend.
 9 For I haue taken thee from the ends of the earth, and called thee before the chiefe thereof, and said vnto thee, Thou art my seruant: I haue chosen thee, and not cast thee away.

 10 Feare thou not, for I am with thee: be not afraid, for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee, and helpe thee, and will susteine thee with the right hande of my iustice.
 11 Behold, al they that prouoke thee, shall be ashamed, and confounded: they shall be as nothing, & they that strue with thee, shall perish.
 12 Thou shalt seeke them & shalt not find them: to wit, O men of thy strife, for they shall be as nothing, & the me that warre against thee, as a thing of nought.
 13 For I the Lord thy God will holde thy right hand, saying vnto thee, Feare not, I will helpe thee.
 14 Feare not, thou wayne, Iacob, and ye men of Irael: I will helpe thee, saith the Lord and thy redeemer the holy one of Irael.
 15 Behold, I will make thee a roller, and a newe threshing instrument hauing teeth: thou shalt thresh O mountains, and bring them to powder, and shalt make the hilles as chaffe.
 16 Thou shalt famie them, and the wilde shall cary them away, and the whirles winde shall scatter them: and thou shalt reioyce in the Lorde, and shalt glorie in the holy one of Irael.
 17 When the poore and the needye seeke water, and there is none (their tongue faileth for thirst: O the Lorde will heare them: O the God of Irael will not forsake them)
 18 I will open riuers in the toppes of the hilles, and fountains in the muddes of the balles: I will make the wilderness as a poble of water, and the waste land as springes of water.
 19 I will let in the wildernesses the cedar, the hittah tree, and the mirr tree and the pine tree, & I will let in the wildernesses the firre tree, the elme and the boxe tree together.
 20 Therefore let them see and know, and let them consider and vnderstand together that the hand of O Lorde hath done this, and the holy one of Irael hath created it.
 21 Stand to your cause, saith the Lorde: bring forth your strong reasons, saith the King of Iacob.
 22 Let them bring them forth, & let them tell vs what shall come: let them shewe the former things: what they be, that we may consider them, and knowe the latter ende of them: either declare vs things for to come.
 23 Shewe the thinges that are to come hereafter, that we may know that you are gods: yea, do good or do euil, that we may declare it, and behold it together.
 24 Beholde, ye are of no value, and your makings is of naught: man hath chosen that is, by the force of my promises, in the performance wherof I will shew my selfe faithful and iust.

 1 Because they shall be destroyed, I thus becallet them because they were contemned of all the world, and that they considering their owne poore estate, should seeke vnto him for helpe.
 n I will make thee able to destroy all thine enemies, be they neuer so mighty: and this chiefly is referred to the kingdom of Christ.
 o That is, they that shall be afflicted in the captivity of Babylon.
 p God will rather change the order of nature, then they should want any thing that crye to him by true fayth in their miseries: declaring to the hereby that they shall lacke nothing by the way, when they returne from Babylon.
 q That is, hath appointed and determined that it shal come to passe.
 r He biddeth the idolaters to prouee their religion, and to bring forth their idoles: y thei may be tried whether they know all things, & can do al things: which if they cannot do, he concludeth that they are no gods, but vile idoles.
 f So that a man can not make an idole, but he must do that, which God decreeth, and abhorreth: for hee chufeth his owne deuires, and forsaketh the Lords.

Meaning, the Chaldeans. u That is, Cyrus, who ſhall do all thing in my Name, and by my direction: whereby he meaneth that both their captiuitie, and deliuerance ſhalbe ordered by Gods prouidence and appointment. x Both of the Chaldeans and others. y Meaning, that none of the Gentiles gods can worke any of theſe things. z That is, the Iſraelites, which returne from the captiuitie. a To wit, a continual ſucceſſion of Prophets and miniſters. b When I looked whether the idoles could do theſe things, I found that they had neither wiſdome nor power to do any thing: therefore I conclude that al are wicked, that truſt in ſuch vanitie.

ſet an abomination by them.
 25 ¶ I haue raiſed by from the North, & he ſhall come: from the Eaſt ſinne ſhal he call vpon my Name, and ſhal come vpon princes as vpon clay, and as the potters treadeth mire vnder the foote.
 26 Who hath declared from the beginning, that we may know: or before time, that we may ſay, He is righteous? Surely there is none that ſheweth: ſurely there is none that declareth: ſurely there is none that heareth your words.
 27 I am firſt, that ſaith to Zion, Behold, behold them: & I wil giue to Ieruſalem a one that ſhal bring good tidings.
 28 But when I beheld, there was none, and when I inquired of them, there was no counſellour, and when I demanded of them, they answered not a worde.
 29 Beholds, they are all vanitie: their worke is of nothing, their images are winde and confulion.

CHAP. XLII.

The obedience and humilitee of Chriſt. 6 VVhy hee was ſent into the world. 11 The vocation of the Gentiles.

a That is, Chriſt, I who in reſpect of his manhode is called here ſeruant. The Prophets vs to make mention of Chriſt after that they haue declared any great promes, becauſe he is the fundation whereupon all the promiſes are made and ratified. b For I haue committed all my power to him, as to a moſt ſauiſh ſteward. Some reade, I will eſtabliſh him: to wit, in his office, by giuing him the fulnes of my Spirit. c He onely is acceptable vnto me and they that come vnto me by him: for there is no other meanes of reconciliation. Matth. 12. 13 eph. 1. 4. d He ſhall declare himſelfe gouernour ouer the Gentiles, and call them by his worde, and rule them by his Spirit. e His coming ſhall not be with pompe and noiſe, as earthly princes, f He wil not hurt the weak and feeble, b support & comfort them. g Meaning the weeke of a lampe, or candle which is almoſt out, but he will cheriſh it and ſuffice it, that it may ſhine brighter. h Although he fauour the weak, yet will he not ſpare the wicked, but wil iudge them according to truth and equitie. i Till he haue ſet all things in good order. k The Gentiles ſhalbe deſirous to receiue his doctrine. l Meaning, vnto a lawfull & iuſt vocation. m To aſſiſt and guide thee. n As him, by whom the promiſe, made to al nations in Abraham, ſhalbe fulfilled.

¶ Behold, & my ſeruant: b I wil ſtaye vpon him: mine elect, in whom my ſoule delighteth: I haue put my Spirit vpon him: he ſhal bring forth iudgements vnto the Gentiles.
 2 Hee ſhall not cry, nor liſt by, nor cauſe his voyce to be heard in the ſtreete.
 3 He ſhal not be diſcomfited, and the ſmoking flax ſhal he not quench: he ſhall bring forth iudgement in truth.
 4 He ſhal not faile nor be diſcouraged till he haue ſet iudgement in the earth: and the iſles ſhal waite for his law.
 5 Thus ſaith God the Lord, he that created the heaucns & ſped them abroad: he that ſtretched forth the earth, & the budde thereof: he that giueth breath vnto the people vpon it, and ſpirit to them that walke therein.
 6 ¶ The Lord haue called thee in righteouſnes, and wil hold thee in right hand, and I wil keepe thee, & giue thee for a conuerſant of the people, & for a light of the Gentiles,

 7 That thou mayeſt open the eyes of the blind, and bring out the priſoners from the priſon: and them that ſit in darkeneſſes, out of the priſon houſe.
 8 ¶ I am the Lord, this is my Name, and my glorie wil I not giue to another, neither my praise to grauen images.
 9 Behold, & former things are past, & new things doe I declare: beſeech thee come forth, I tell you of them.
 10 Sing vnto the Lord a newe ſong, and his praise from the ende of the earth: pe that goe downe to the ſea, and all that is therein: the ſies and the inhabitants thereof.
 11 Let the wildernes and the cities thereof liſt by their voyce, the towneſes that Kedar doeth inhabit: let the inhabitants of the rockes ſing: let them ſhout from the top of the mountaines, 12 Let them giue glory vnto the Lord, and declare his praise in the ſiades.
 13 ¶ The Lord ſhal goe forth as a giant: he ſhall ſtride by his courage like a man of warre: he ſhall ſhout and cry, and ſhall puenale againſt his enemies.
 14 ¶ I haue a long time holden my peace: I haue bene ſtill and reſtrained my ſelf: now wil I cry like a ſcreeching woman: I wil deſtroy and deuoure at once.
 15 ¶ I wil make waſte mountaines, & hills, and drie vp all their herbes, and I wil make the floods ſiades, and I wil drie by the poles.
 16 ¶ And I wil bring the blind by a way, that they know not, and leade them by paths that they haue not known: I wil make darkeneſſes light beſore them, and crooked things ſtraight. ¶ Theſe things wil I doe vnto them, and not forſake them.
 17 ¶ They ſhalbe turned backe: they ſhalbe greatly aſhamed, that truſt in grauen images, and ſay to the melten images, We are our gods.
 18 ¶ ¶ Hear, ye deafe: and ye blind, regard, that ye may ſee.
 19 ¶ Who is blinde but my ſeruant? or deafe as my meſſenger, that I ſent? who is blinde as the verſe, and blinde as the Lords ſeruant?
 20 ¶ Seeing many things, but thou keepeſt them not: opening the eares, but hee heareth not?
 21 ¶ The Lord is willing for his righteousnes ſake that he may magnifie the Law, and exalt it.
 22 ¶ But this people is robbed and ſpoiled, and ſhalbe all ſnarred in dongions, & they ſhalbe hid in priſon houſes: they ſhalbe for a pray, and none ſhal deliuer: a ſpoyle, and none ſhall ſay, Reſtore.
 23 ¶ Who among you ſhal hearken to this, ſeruant of the Lord, who is readie to deliuer them, he ſuffere them to be ſpoyled of their enemies through their owne fauce and incredulitie. a There ſhalbe none to ſuccour them, or to will the enemye to reſtore that, which he hath ſpoyled.

o I wil not ſuffer my glorie to be diminiſhed: which I ſhould doe, if I were not faithfull in performing the ſame, and y idolaters thereby would extoll their idoles aboueme.
 p As in time paſt I haue bene true in my promiſes, ſo will be in time to come.
 q Meaning the Arabians, vnder whom he comprehendeth all the people of the Eaſt.
 r He ſheweth the zeale of the Lord, and his power in y conſeruation of his Church.
 s I will haſte to execute my vengeance, which I haue ſo long deferred, as a woman that deſireth to be deliuered when ſhe is in trouble.
 t That is, my poore people, which are in perplexitie and care.
 u To wit, Iſrael, which ſhould haue moſt light becauſe of my Law.
 x The Prieſt to whom my word is committed, which ſhould not onely heare it himſelfe, but cauſe others to heare it.
 y As the Prieſts and Prophets that ſhould be lights to others?
 z Becauſe they will not acknowledge this benefite of the Lord, who is readie to deliuer them, he ſuffere them to be ſpoyled of their enemies through their owne fauce and incredulitie. a There ſhalbe none to ſuccour them, or to will the enemye to reſtore that, which he hath ſpoyled.

b Meaning, Gods wrath.

an I take heed, & heare for afterwarde:
 24 Who gaue Iacob for a people, & Iſrael to the robbers? Did not the Loide, becauſe wee haue ſinned againſt him? for they would not walke in his waies, neither be obedient vnto his Law.
 25 Therefore he hath poured vpon him his fierce wrath, & thy ſtrength of battel: and it let him on fire couer about, and he knewe not, and it burned him by, yet he conſidered not.

CHAP. XLIII.

The Lord comforteth his people. He promiſeth deliuerance to the Leues. 1 There is no God but one alone a After theſe threatenings he promiſeth deliuerance to his Church, becauſe he hath regenerate the, adopted them, and called them.

b When thou ſeeſt dangers & conſpiracies on all ſides, remember this benefice and the loue of thy God, and it ſhall encourage thee.

c By water and fire, he meaneth all kind of troubles and perils.

d Turned Saneheribs power againſt theſe countries, and made them to ſuffer that affliction which thou ſhouldeſt haue done, & ſo were as the payment of thy ranſome, Chap. 17.9.

e I will not ſpare any man rather then thou ſhouldeſt periſh: for God no more eſteemeth one of his faithfull, then all the wicked in the worlde.

1 Be now thus ſaith the Loide, who created thee, O Iacob, who created thee, O Iacob: & he that formed thee, O Iſrael, & feare not: for I haue redeemed thee: I haue called thee by thy name, thou art mine.
 2 When thou paſſeſt through the waters, I will be with thee, & through the floods, that they do not ouerflowe thee. When thou walkeſt through the very fire, thou ſhalt not be burnt, neither ſhall the flame kinde vpon thee.
 3 For I am the Loide thy God, the hoſie one of Iſrael, thy ſauiour: I gaue Egypt for thy ranſome, & Ethiopia, and Seba for thee.

4 Becauſe thou waſt precious in my fight, & thou waſt honorable, & I loued thee, therefore will I giue a man for thee, and people for thy lake.

5 Feare not, for I am with thee: I will bring thy ſeede from the Eaſt, and gather thee from the Weſt.

6 I will ſay to the North, Giue: & to the South, keepe not back: bring my ſonnes from ſarre, and my daughters from the endes of the earth.

7 Every one ſhall be called by my ſname: for I created him for my glory, formed him and made him.

8 I will bring forth the blind people, and they ſhall haue eyes, and the deafe, and they ſhall haue eares.

9 Let all the nations be gathered together, and let the people be aſſembled: who among them can declare this and ſhew ſome things? let them bring forth their witneſſes, that they may be iuſtified: but let them heare, and ſaye, It is trueſty.

10 You are my witneſſes, ſaith the Lord, & my ſeruant, whom I haue choſen:

therefore ye that knowe and beleue me and ye ſhall vnderſtande that I am: beſo ſome time there was no God formed, neither that there be after me.

11 I, euen I am the Loide, and beſide mee there is no ſauiour.

12 I haue declared, and I haue ſaued, and I haue ſhewed, when there was no ſtrange god among you: therefore you are my witneſſes, ſaith the Lord, that I am God.

13 Oea, before the dawe was, I am, & there is none that can deliuer out of myne hand: I will do it, and who ſhall let it?

14 Thus ſaith the Loide your redeemer, the hoſie one of Iſrael, For your ſake I haue ſent to Babel, and I brought it downe: they are all ſilences, and the Chaldeans cry in the hippes.

15 I ſay the Loide your hoſie one, the creator of Iſrael, your King.

16 Thus ſaith the Loide which maketh a way in the Sea, & a path in the mightie waters.

17 When he bringeth out the ſharet & hoſe, the arnie and the power lie together, and thall not riſe: they are extirped, and quenehed as towne.

18 Remember pee not the former things, neither regard the things of olde.

19 Behold, I do a new thing: now ſhall it come forth: that you nor knowe it: I will cuen make a way in the deſert & floods in the wildeerneſſe.

20 The wild beasts ſhall honour me, the dragons & the oſtriches, becauſe I gaue water in the deſert and floods in the wildeerneſſe to giue drinke to my people, & euen to mine elect.

21 This people haue I formed for my ſelf: they ſhall ſhew forth my praife.

22 And thou haſt not called vpon me, O Iacob, but thou haſt wearied me, O Iſrael.

23 Thou haſt not brought me the thepce of thy burnt offerings, neither haſt thou honored me with thy ſacrifices. I haue not cauſed thee to ſerue in an offering, nor wearied thee with incenſe.

24 Thou boughteſt mee no ſweete ſauour with money, neither haſt thou made mee drinke with the ſarre of thy ſacrifices, but thou haſt made mee to ſerue with thy finnes, and wearied mee with thine iniquities.

25 I, euen I am hee that putteſt awaye thine iniquities for mine own ſake, and will not remember thy finnes.

26 Pur me in remembrance: let vs be indged together: count thou that thou inaneſt be iuſtified.

CHAP. XLIIII.

1 The Lord comfeth comfort and that he will ofsemble his Church of diuers nations, 9 The vanitie of idoles. 17 The beaftines of idolaters.

1 Yet now heare, O Iakob my seruant, and Irael, whome I haue chosen.

2 Thus saith the Lord, that made thee, and formed^e thee from the wombe: he wil helpe thee. feare not, O Iakob, my seruant, and thou righteous, whome I haue chosen.

3 For I wil poure water vpon thee: & thirsie, and floods vpon the drye ground: I wil poure my Spirit vpon thy seede, and my blessing vpon thy budde.

4 And they shall growe as among the grasse, & as the willowes by the riuers of waters.

5 One thal say, I am the Lordes: another shall be called by the name of Iakob: & another shall subscribe with his hand vnto the Lord, and name himself by the name of Irael.

6 Thus saith the Lord the King of Israel and his redeemer, the Lord of hostes, I am the first, and I am the last, and without me is there no God.

7 And who is like me, that shall call, and shall declare it, and let it be in order before me, since I appointed the^e ancient people: and what is at hand, and what things are to come: let them shew vnto them.

8 Feare ye not, neither be afrayde: haue not I tolde thee of olde, and haue declared it? you are euery my witness, whether there be a God beside mee, and that there is no God that I know not.

9 All they that make an image, are vanitie, and their delectable things shall nothing profit: and they are their owne witnesses, that they see not nor know: therefore they shall be confounded.

10 Who hath made a god, or molten an image, that is profitable for noo thing?

f I am alwayes like my selfe, that is, mercifull toward my Church, and most able to maintaine it, as chap. 41. 4. & 48. 12. reuela. 1. 17. & 22. 13. g And appointe them that shall deliuer the Church. h That is, declare vnto mee howe I ought to proceede herein. i God calleth the Israelites ancient, because he preferred them to all other in his eternall election. k Meaning, their idoles. l Reade Chap. 43. 10. m Whatsoeuer they be liouey vpon their idoles to make them to seeme glorious. n That is, the idolaters (seeing their idoles blinde), must needs be witnesses of their owne blindenesse, and feeling that they are not able to helpe them, must confesse that they haue no power. o Meaning, that whatsoeuer is made by the hande of man, if it be esteemed as Gods, is most detestable. p Whereby appeareth their blasphemie, which call images the bookes of the latic, seeing that they are not onely here called vnprofitable, but Chap. 41. 24. abominable: and Ieremie calleth them the worke of errors, Ierem. 10. 15, Habakkuk a lying teacher, 2. 18.

11 Beholde, all that are of the 9 fellowship thereof, that be confounded: for the workmen themselves are mendier them all be gathered together, and stand vpon, yet they shall feare, and be confounded together.

12 The smith taketh an instrument, and worketh in the coles, and facioneth it with hammers, and woofeth it with the strength of his armes: yea, hee is hungry, and his strength faileth: hee drinketh no water, and is faint.

13 The carpenter stretcheth out a line: he facioneth it with a red thred, he planeth it, and hee putteth it with the compass, and maketh it after the figure of a man, and according to the beautie of a man that it may remaine in an house.

14 He wil hew him downe cedars, & take the pine tree & the oke, and taketh courage among the trees of the forest: hee planeth a firre tree, and the raine doeth nourish it.

15 And no man burneth thereof: for hee will take thereof and warme himselfe: hee also kindleth it and baketh bread, yet he maketh a god, and worshippeth it: he maketh it an idole and boweth vnto it.

16 Hee burneth the halfe thereof euery in the fire, & vpon the halfe thereof hee casteth fleshe: hee roasteth the roste and is satisfied: also hee warmeth him selfe and saith, Why, I am warme, I haue bene at the fire.

17 And the residue thereof hee maketh a god, euery his idole: he boweth vnto it and worshippeth and prayeth vnto it, and saith, Deliuer mee: for thou art my god.

18 They haue not knowen, nor vnderstand: for God hath shut their eyes that they can not see, and their heartes, that they can not vnderstand.

19 And none considereth in his heart, neither is there knowlege nor vnderstanding to say, I haue burnt halfe of it, euery in the fire, & haue baked bread al vpon the coles thereof: I haue roasted fleshe, & eaten it, and that I make the residue thereof an abomination: shall I bowe to the stocke of a tree?

20 He feedeth of ashes: a seduced heart hath deceived him, that he cannot deliuer his soule, nor say, Is there not a spe in my right hand?

21 Remember thest (O Iakob and Irael) for thou art my seruant: I haue formed thee: thou art my seruant: O Irael forget me not.

22 I haue put alway thy transgressions like a cloude, & thy sinnes, as a mist: turne vnto me, for I haue redeemed thee.

q That is, which by any way consent either to the making or worshipping. r Signifying, that the multitude shall not then faue the idolaters, when God will take vengeance, although they excuse themselves thereby among men.

f He describeth the raging affection of the idolaters, which forget their owne necessities to see forth their deuotion toward their idoles.

c To place it in some Temple.

u He setteth forth the obstinacie and malice of the idolaters, which though they see by dayly experience that their idoles are no better then the rest of matter, wherof they are made, yet they refuse the one part and make a god of the other, as the papistes make their cake god, and the rest of their idoles.

x That is, hee either maketh a table, or trenchers.

y The Prophet giueth here an answer to all them that wonder howe it is possible that any should be so blinde to commit such abomination, saying, that God hath blinded their eyes & hardened their heartes. z Ebr. warmeth. He is abused as one that would eat ashes, thinking to satisfie his hunger. a Shewing that mans heart is most inclined to idolatrie, and therefore hee warme h his people by these examples, that they should not cleaue to any but to the liuing God when they should be among the idolaters.

b He sheweth that the worke of the Lord toward his people shalbe so great that the insensible creatures shalbe moued therewith.
c He armeth them against the Southayers of Babylon, which would haue borne them in hand, that they knew by the starres that God would not deliuer them, & that Babylon should stand.

d Of Isajah and the rest of his Prophets, which did assure the Church of Gods fauour and deliuerance.
e He sheweth that Gods work should be no lesse notable in this their deliuerance, then when he brought them out of Egypt through the Sea. f To assure them of their deliuerance, he nameth the person, by whom it should be, more then an hundred yere before he was borne.

CHAP. XLV.

1 The deliuerance of the people by Cyrus. 9 God will in all his workes. 20 The calling of the Gentiles.

a To assure the Iewes of their deliuerance against the great tentations that they should abide, he nameth the person and the meanes.
b Because Cyrus should execute the office of a deliuerer, God called him his anointed for a tyme, but after another fort the he called Dauid.
c To guide him in the deliuerance of my people.
d I will take away all impediments and lets.

e Not that Cyrus did know God to worship him aright, but he had a certayne particular knowledge, as profane men may haue, of his power, and so was compelled to deliuer Gods people.
f Not for any thing, that is in thee, or for thy worthines.
g I haue giuen thee strength, power and autoritie,

23 b Reioyce, ye heauens: for the Lord hath done it: shoute, ye lower partes of the earth: blast forth into piarles, ye mountaynes, & forest and euery tree them: for the Lord hath redeemed Jaakob and will be glorified in Israel.

24 Thus saith the Lord thy redeemer and he that formed thee from the wombe, I am the Lord, that made all things, that spred out the heauens alone, and stretched out the earth by my selfe.
25 I destroy the tokens of the south: saies and make them that conecture, fooles, and turne the wise men backward, and make their knowledge foolishnes.

26 I confirme the worde of his seruant and performeth the counsell of his messengers, saying to Jerusalem, Thou shalt be inhabited: and to the cities of Judah, Ye shalbe built up, and I will repaire the decayed places thereof.

27 Ye saith to the depe, Bedye and I will dry vp the fouds.

of the firme and from the West, there is none besides me. I am the Lord, and there is none other.

7 I forme the light and create darkness: I make the peace and create euill: I the Lord do all these things.
8 Ye heauens, send the dew from aboue, and let the cloudes drop down: righteousness: let the earth open, and let saluation and iustice growe forth: let it bring them forth together: I the Lord haue created him.

9 Who he into him that strineth with his maker, the potsher with the potsherdes of the earth: shall the clay say to him that fashioneth it, What makest thou? or thy worke, What hath none handes?

10 Who into him that saith to his father, What hast thou begotten? or to his mother, What hast thou brought forth?
11 Thus saith the Lord, the holy one of Israel, and his maker, What me of things to come concerning my seruants, and concerning the workes of mine handes: commaund you me.

12 I haue made the earth, & created man upon it: I, whose handes haue spreded out the heauens, I haue euen commaunded all their armie.

13 I haue raised him by in righteousness, and I will direct all his wayes: he shall build my cite, a he shall let go my captiues, not for a price nor reward, sayth the Lord of hostes.

14 Thus saith the Lord, The labour of Egypt, and the marchandise of Ethiopia, and of the Sabrans, men of stature shall come into thee, and they shall be thine: they shall follow thee, and shall goe in chaynes: they shall fall downe before thee, and make supplication vnto thee, saying, Surely God is in thee, & there is none other God besides.

15 Woe is thee, O God, & hidest thy selfe, O God, the Saviour of Israel.

16 All they shall bee ashamed and also confounded: they shall go to confusion together, that are the makers of images.

17 But Israel shall be saved in the Lord, with an euerlasting saluation: ye shall not be ashamed nor confounded without end.

18 For thus saith the Lord (that created heauen, God himselfe, that formed the h I send peace and warre: prosperitie and aduersitie, as Amos. 3. 6.

i He comforteth the Iewes, as if he would say, though when ye looke to the heauens & earth for succour, ye see nothing now but signs of gods wrath, yet I will cause them to bring forth some certaine tokens of your deliuerance, and of the performance of my promise, which is ment by righteousness.

k I haue appointed Cyrus to this vse and purpose.

l Hereby he brideth their impaciencie, which in aduersitie and trouble murmure against God and will not tary his pleasure: willing that man should matche with his like and not contend against God.

m That is, it is not perfectly made.

n In stead of murmuring, humble your selues and aske what ye will for the consolation of my children, and you shalbe sure of it, as ye are of these things which are at your commaundement. Some read it with an interrogation, and make it the application of the similitude.

o That is, the starres. p To wit, Cyrus, that I may shew by him the faithfulness of my promise in deliuering my people. q Meaning, freely and without ransom, or any grieuous condition.

r These people were tributaries to the Persians, and so King Arabhastate gaue this money toward the building of the Temple, Ezra 7. 21. f Whereas tofore they were thine enemies, they shall now honour thee, and thou shalt rule them: which was accomplished in the tyme of Christ. t Hereby he exhorteth the Iewes to paciencie, though their deliuerance be deferred for a tyme: shewing that they should not repent their long paciencie, but the wicked and idolaters shalbe destroyed.

x As do the false gods, which giue vncertaine answers.
 y All ye idolaters, which though you seeme to haue neuer so much worldly dignitie, yer in Gods sight you are vile and abiect.
 z He calleth the idolaters to repentance, willing them to looke vnto him with the eye of faith.

 19 I haue not spoken in secret, neither in a place of darkenes in the earth: I said not in vayne vnto the seede of Iacob, Seeke you me: I the Lorde do speake righteoulnesse, and declare righteous things.
 20 Assemble your selues, and come: draw neere together, y pe abiect of the Gentiles: they haue no knowledge, that set vp the woode of their idole, & pray vnto a god, that cannot saue them.
 21 Tell ye and bring them, and let them take counsell together, who hath declared this from the beginning: or hath tolde it of olde? Haue not I the Lorde? and there is none other God beside me, a iust God, & a Saviour: there is none beside me.
 22 Iooke vnto me, and ye shal be saued: al the ends of the earth shalbe saued: for I am God, and there is none other.
 23 I haue sworne by my selfe: the woode is gone out of my mouth in righteoulnesse, and shal not returne, That euery knee shall bowe vnto me, and euery tongue shall swaie by me.
 24 Surety he shal say, In the Lorde haue I righteoulnesse and strength: he shal come vnto him, and all that pouoke him, shalbe ashamed.
 25 The whole seede of Israel shalbe iustified, and glory in the Lorde.

CHAP. XLVI.

1 The destruction of Babylon and of their idoles.
 3 He calleth the Iewes to the consideration of his workes.

1 Bel is bowed downe: A Rebo is fals: their idoles were vpon p^b beasta, and vpon the cattell: they which did beare pou, were laden with a wearp burden.
 2 They are bowed downe, and fallen together: for they could not ridde them of the burden, and their soule is gone into captiuitie.
 3 Heaue ye me, O house of Iacob, & all ye remaine of the house of Israel, which are vnto me from the wounde, and brought vp of me from the birth.
 4 Therefore vnto olde age, I the same, euen I will beare you vntill the hoare heares: I haue made you: I will also beare you, and I will cary you, and I will deliuer you.
 5 I To whom will ye make me like, or make me equal, or compare me, that I should be like him?

 6 They draw gold out of the bagge, and weigh siluer in the balance, and hire a goldsmith to make a god of it, and they bowe downe, and worship it.
 7 They beare it vpon the shoulders: they cary him & set him in his place: so doth he stand, and cannot remouee from his place. Though one cry vnto him, yet can he not answer, nor deliuer him out of his tribulation.
 8 Remember this, and bee ashamed: bring it agayne to minde, O pou traitors & gressers.
 9 Remember the former things of old: for I am God, and there is none other God, and there is nothing like me,
 10 Which declare the last thing from the beginning: and from old, the things that were not done, saying, My counsell shall stand, and I will do what so euer I will.
 11 I call a bird from the East, & the man of my counsell from farre: as I haue spoke, so will I bring it to passe: I haue purposed it, and I will do it.
 12 Heare me, ye stubborne hearted, that are farre from iustice.
 13 I bring neere my iustice: it shall not be farre of, and my saluation shall not tary: for I will giue saluation in Zion, and my glory vnto Israel.
 14 Which shall come, as swift as a bird, and fight against Babylon, k Him by whom I haue appointed to execute that, which I haue determined. I Which by your incredulitie would let the performance of my promise. m He sheweth that mans incredulitie cannot abolish the promise of God, Rom. 3. 3.

CHAP. XLVII.

The destruction of Babylon, and the causes wherefore.

1 Come downe and sit in the dust: A virgine, daughter Babel, sitte on the ground: there is no throne, O daughter of the Chaldeans: for thou shalt no more be called, Tender and delicate.
 2 Take the mill stones, & grind meale: looe thy lockes: make bare the feete: vncouer the legges, & passe through the foudes.
 3 Thy filthinesse shalbe discovered, and thy shame shall be seene: I will take vengeance, and I will not mete thee as a man.
 4 Our Redeemer, the Lorde of hostes, is his name, the holy one of Israel.
 5 Sit still, and get thee into darknes, O daughter of the Chaldeans: for thou shalt no more be called, The ladie of pride shalbe kingdomes.
 6 I was wroth with my people: I haue polluted mine inheritance, and giuen to them into thine had: thou diddest shew them no mercie, but thou diddest humanitie nor pitie toward thee. f The Israelites shal confesse, that the Lord doth this for his Churches sake. g For very shame, and hide thy selfe. h They abused Gods iudgements thinking y he punished the Israelites, because he would vterly cast them of, and therefore in stead of pitying their miserie, thou diddest increase it,

The people of God, seeing their owne calamitie and the flourishing estate of the Babylonians, should be tempted to thinke that their God was not so mighty as the idoles of their enemies: therefore he describeth the original of all the idoles, to make them to be abhorred of all men: shewing that the most that can be spoken in their commendation is but to proue them vile, Bar. 6. 25.

lay thy very heauie yoke vpon the auertant.

7 And thou fudeft, I fhall be a lady for ever, fo that thou dideft not fet thy mind to thefe things, neither didft thou remember the latter end thereof.

8 Therefore now heare, thou that art giuen to pleasures, and dwelleft careleffe, She faith in her heart, I am and none els: I fhall not fit as a widowe, neyther fhall knowe the losse of children.

9 And thefe two things fhall come to thee suddenly on one daye, the losse of children and widowhood: they fhall come vpon thee in their i perfection, for the multitude of thy diminations, and for the great abundance of thine inchanters.

10 For thou haft trusted in thy wickednesse: thou haft faide, none feerth mee. Thy wifedome and thy knowledge, they haue caufed thee to rebel, and thou haft laid in thine heart, I am, and none els.

11 Therefore shall euill come vpon thee, and thou shalt not knowe the morning thereof: destruction fhall fall vpon thee, which thou shalt not bee able to put away: destruction fhall come vpon thee suddenly, or thou beware.

12 Brand now among thine inchanters, and in the multitude of thy sorcerers (with whome thou hast i ueried thy selfe from thy youth) if fo be thou maist haue profite, or if fo be thou maist haue strenght.

13 Thou art weakened in the multitude of thy counsels: let knowe the astrologers, the starr gassers, and ygnosticators stand by, & faue thee from these things, that shal come vpon thee.

14 Behold, they shalbe as stubble: the fire shall burne them: they shall not deliner their owne liues from the power of the flame: there shall be no coles to warne at, nor light to sit by.

15 Thus shal they serue thee, with whom thou hast wearied thee, euen thy magicians from thy youth: euery one shall wander to his owne quarter: none shall saue thee.

CHAP. XLVIII.

The hypocrite of the Iewes is reproued, 11 The Lord alons will be worshipped, 22 Of their deliuerance out of Babylon.

HEAR ye this, O house of Jaakob, which are called by the name of Israel, & are come out of the waters of Iudah: which wereare by the name of the Lord, and make mention of the God of Israel, but not in trueth, nor in righteoussnes.

2 For they are called of the holie citie, and stape themselves vpon the God of Israel, whose name is the Lord of hostes.

3 I haue declared the former things of olde, and they went out of my mouth, &

I shewed them: I did them suddenly, and they came to passe.

4 Because I knew, that thou art obstinate, and thy necke is an iron sinew, & thy bowe braffe,

5 Therefore I haue declared it to thee of olde: before it came to passe, I shewed it thee, least thou shouldest saye, Myne idole hath done them, and my caued image, and my molten image hath commanded them.

6 Thou hast heard, behold all this, & wilt not be as I declare it? I haue shewed thee new things, euen now, and hid things, which thou knewest not.

7 They are created now, and not of olde, & euen before this thou heardest them not, lest thou shouldest say, Beholde, I knew them.

8 Yet thou heardest them not, neyther diddest knowe them, neither yet was thine care opened of olde: for I knewe that thou wouldest grievously transgress: therefore haue I called thee a trasgressour from the wombe.

9 For my flames take wil I beferre my wrath, and for my piast wil I reframe it from thee, that I cut thee not of.

10 Behold, I haue fined thee, but not as a sinner: I haue chosen thee in the furnace of affliction.

11 For mine owne sake, for mine owne sake will I do it: for howe shoulde my name bee polluted? surely I will not giue my glorie vnto another.

12 Heare me, O Jaakob and Israel, my called, I am, I am the first, and I am the last.

13 Surely mine hand hath laid the foundation of the earth, and my right hand hath spained the heauens: when I call them, they stand by together.

14 All you, assempble your selues, & heare: which among them hath declared these things? The Lord hath loued him: he will do his will in Babel, and his arme shalbe against the Chaldeans.

15 I, euen I haue spoken it, & I haue called him: I haue brought him, & his worship shall prosper.

16 Come neere vnto me: heare ye this: I haue not spoken it in secrete from the beginning: frs the time that the thing was, I was there, & now the Lord God, and his Spirit heath sent me.

17 Thus saith the Lord thy redeemer, the Holy one of Israel, I am the Lord thy God, which teache thee to profite, and leade thee by the way, that thou shouldest go.

18 Why that thou haddest hearkened to my

They shall vtterly perish & no parte of them remaine. They shal see euery one to y place, which he thought by his speculations to be most sure: but that shal deceiue them.

He sheweth that they coulde not accuse him in any thing, forasmuch as he had performed whatsoeuer he had promised. I haue done for thee more then I promised, that thy stubbornesse & impudencie might haue bene overcome. How thou shouldest be deliuered out of Babylon. Wil hee not acknowledge this my benefite and declare it vnto others? CHAP. XLIX.

The Lord exhorteth all nations to beleue his promises. 6 Christ vs the saluation of all that beleue, and will deliuer them from the tyrannie of their enemies.

a This is spoken in the person of Christ to assure the faithful, that these promises shoulde cometo passe: for they were all made in him, and in him shoulde be performed.
 b This is meant of the time, that Christ shoulde be manifested to the world, as Psalm 2. 7.
 c By the sword & shaft, he signifieth the vertue, and efficacy of Chrifs doctrine.
 d God hath take me to his protection & defence: this chiefly is meant of Christ, and may also be applied to the ministers of his word.
 e By Israel is meant Christ, & all the bodie of the faithfull, as y members & his head.
 f Thus Christ in his members complayneth, that his labour, & preaching take none effect, yet he is contented that his doings are approved of God. g Though the Iewes refused my doctrine, yet God will approve my ministerie. h To declare my Gospel to the Gentiles, Cha. 42. 6. act. 13. 47. luk. 12. 31.
 i Meaning, the Iewes whome tyrants kept in bondage. k The benefite of their deliuerance shall be so great, that great & small shall acknowledge it, and reuerence God for it.

1 Care ye mee, O ples, and hearken, yee people from farre. The Lorde hath called me from y womb, & made mention of my name from my mothers belly.
 2 And hee hath made my mouth like a sharpe sword: vnder the shadow of his hand hath he hid me, and made me a chosen shaft, and hid me in his quier.
 3 And said vnto me, Thou art my seruāt, O Israel: for I wil be glorious in thee.
 4 And I said, I haue laboured in vaine: I haue spent my strength in vaine & for nothing: but my iudgement is with the Lorde, and my worke with my God.
 5 And now saith the Lorde, that foumed me from the wombe to be his seruāt, y I may bring Jaakob againe to him (though Israel bee not gathered, & yet shall I bee glorious in the eyes of the Lorde: and my God shall be my strength)
 6 And he saide, It is a small thing that thou shouldest be my seruāt, to raise up the tribes of Jaakob, and to restore the desolations of Israel: I will also giue thee for a light of the Gentiles, that thou mayest bee my saluation vnto the ende of the world.
 7 Thus saith the Lorde the redeemer of Israel, and his holie one, to him that is despised in soule, to a nation that is abhorred, to a seruāt of rulers, kings shal see, & arise, and princes shall worship, because of the Lorde, that is faith-

 13 Heiuenes, O heauenes: and be ioyfull, O earth: blast forth into ioyse, O mountaines: for God hath comforted his people, and wil haue mercie vpon his afflicted.
 14 But Zion said, The Lorde hath forgotten me, & my Lorde hath forgotten me.
 15 Can a woman forget her child, and not haue compāssion on the soune of her wombe? though they shoulde forget, yet wil I not forget thee.
 16 Behold, I haue grauen thee vpon the palme of mine hands: thy walles are euer in my sight.
 17 Thy builders make haste: thy destroyers and they that made thee waste, are departed from thee.
 18 Lift up thine eyes toward about & behold: all these gather themselves together, & come to thee: as I liue, saith the Lorde, thou shalt surely put them al by on thee as a garment, and gird thy selfe with them like a byde.
 19 For thy desolations, & thy waste places, & thy land destroyed, shall surely be now narrow for them that shall dwell in it, and they that did deuour thee, shal be farre away.
 20 The children of thy barrenesse shall sape againe in thine eares, The place is strait for me: giue place to mee that I may dwell.
 21 Then shalt thou sape in thine heart, Who hath begotten me these, keeping I am barren and desolate, a captiue and a wanderer to a fro: and who hath nourished them? behold, I was left alone: whence are these?
 22 Thus saith the Lorde God, Beholde, I a Meaning, that he had not forsaken her, but through her owne occasion, as Hosea 2. 2. b Which should declare, that I haue cured her of: meaning, that they could shew none. c Signifying that he sold them not for any debt or powerte, but that they sold themselves to sinnes, and pleasures. d He came by his Prophets and ministers, but they would not beleue their doctrine & conuert. e Am I not as able to helpe you, as I have holpen your fathers of olde, when I dried vp the red Sea, and killed the fishes in the riuers, and also afterward in Iorden: f As I did in Egypt in token of my displeasure, Exod. 10. 21. g The Prophet doth represent here the person and charge of them that are iustly called to the ministerie of Gods worde. h To him that is oppressed by affliction and miseric. i As they that are taught, and made meeare by him.

Thus saith the Lord, Where is that child of your mothers diuorcement, whom I haue cast of? or who is the creditor: to whom I sold you? Behold, for your iniquities are ye sold, & because of your transgressions is your mother forsaken.

2 Wherefore came I, and there was no man? I called, and none answered: is mine hand so? shortcomed, that it can not helpe? or haue I no power to deliuer? Beholde, at my rebuke I drye vp the Sea: I make the floudes desert: their fish rottefy for want of water, and dyeth for thirst.

3 I clothe the heauens with darknes, & make a sacke their covering.

4 The Lorde God hath giuen mee a toungue of the words, that I should know to minister a worde in trauite to him that is: he will raise me vp in the morning: in the morning he will waken mine eare to heare, as the leuied.

5 The Lord God hath opened mine eare and I was not rebellious, neither turnd I backe.

I gave my backe vnto the smiters, & my shakers to the smyers: I hid not my face from shame and spurning.

7 For the Lord God wil helpe me, therefore shall I not be confounded: therefore haue I set my face like a flint, & I know that I shall not be ashamed.

8 He is nere that iustifieth me: who wil contend with me? let vs stande together: who is mine aduersarie? let him come nere to me.

9 Behold, the Lorde God wil helpe me: who is he that can condemne me? lo, they shall waite vpon me as a garment: the moth shall eate them vp.

10 Who is among you that feareth the Lorde? let him heare the voyce of his seruant: he that walketh in darknes, and hath no light, let him trust in the Name of the Lorde, and flap vpon his God.

11 Beholde, all you kinde as a fire, and are compassed about with sparkes: walke in the light of your fire, and in the sparkes that ye haue kinded. This shal ye haue of myne hande: ye shall lie downe in sorow, & refused the light, and consolatio, which God before ye shal remaine in sorow, and not be comforted.

CHAP. 1. 1.

1 To trust in God alone by Abrahams example. 2 Not to feare men. 3 The great affliction of Ierusalem, 22 and her deliuerance.

Hearken me, ye that folleth after righteousnes, & ye that seeke the Lord: looke vnto the brocke, wherco are heuen, and to the voyc of the pit, whence ye are digged.

2 Consider Abraham your father, & Sarah that bare you: for I called him alone, & blessed him, and increased him.

3 Surely the Lord shall comfort Zion: he shall comfort all her desolations, and he shall make her desert like Eden, & her wilderness like the garden of the Lorde: top and gladnes shall be found therein: pyps, and the voyce of singing.

4 Hearken vnto me, my people, and giue eare vnto me, O my people: for a Law shall procede from me, & I will bring forth my iudgement for the light of the people.

5 My righteousnes is nere: my saluatiou goeth forth, & mine armes shall iudge the people: the ples shall waite for me, and shal trust vnto mine arme.

6 Lift vp your eyes to the heauens, and looke vpon the earth beneath: for the heauens shall vanish away like smoke, and the earth shall waite old like a rag, and the earth shall be dwel therein, shall perish in like manner: but my saluatiou shall be for ever, and my righteousnes shall not be abolished.

7 Hearken vnto me, ye that know righteousnes, the people in whose heart is my Lawe. Feare ye not the reuoluce of men, neither be ye afraid of their rebukes.

9 Rise up, rise up, and put on strength, O arme of the Lord: rise up, as in the olde tyme in the generations of the woyme. Art not thou the same, that hath cut ^{the} Rahab, and wounded the dragon?

10 Art not thou the same, which hath dyed the Sea, euen the waters of the great deepe, making the depth of the Sea a wape for the redeemed to passe ouer?

11 Therefore the redeemed of the Loyde shall retreine, and come with ioy vnto Zion, and euertlasting ioy shall be vpon their head: they shall obtaine ioye, and gladnes: and sojow and mourning shall flee away.

12 I, ^{the} Lord, I am he, that comfort you. Why art thou, that thou shouldest feare a mortall man, and the soune of man, which shall be made as grasse?

13 And forgettest the Lord thy maker, that hath spied out the heauens, and layd ^{the} foundations of the earth: and hast feared continually all the day, because of the rage of the oppressour, which is ready to destroy? Where is now the rage of the oppressour?

14 The captiue shalleneth to be loosed, & that he should not die in the pitte, nor that his bread should faile.

15 And I am the Lord thy God that desended the Sea, when his waues royd: the Lord of holles is his Name.

16 And I haue put my wordes in thy ^{owne} mouth, and haue defended thee in the shadow of mine hand, that I may plac the heauens, and lay the foundatio of the earth, and sap vnto Zion, Thou art my people.

17 Awake, awake, and stand up, O Ierusalem, which hath drunke the cuppe of trembling, and wyng them out.

18 There is none to guide her among all the sonnes, whom the hath brought forth: there is none that taketh her by the hand of all the sonnes that she hath brought by.

19 These two things are come vnto thee: who will lament thee? desolation and destruction, and famine, and sword: by whom shall I comfort thee?

20 Thy sonnes haue fainted, and lie at ^{the} head of all the streetes as a wild bull in a net, and are full of the wrath of the Lord, and rebuke of thy God.

21 Therefore heare now this, thou miserable and drunken, but not with wine,

22 Thus saith the Lord God, euen God that pleadeth the cause of his people, Behold, I haue take out of thine hand the cup of trembling, euen the drugges of the cuppe of my wrath: thou shalt drinke it no more.

23 But I will put it into their hand that spoole thee: which haue sayd to thy soule, Bowe downe, that we may go ouer, and thou hast laid thy body as the ground, and as the streete to them that went ouer.

CHAP. LII.

A consolatio to the people of God. 7 Of the messenger thereof.

1 Arise, arise: put on thy strength, O Zion: put on the garments of thy beautie, O Ierusalem, the holy citie: for henceforth there shall no more come into thee the vncircumcised & the uncleane.

2 Shake thy selfe from the dust: arise, and set downe, O Ierusalem: loose the bandes of thy necke, O thou captiue daughter Zion.

3 For thus saith the Lord, Ye were sold for naught: therefore shall ye be redeemed without money.

4 For thus saith the Lord God, My people went downe afoze tyme into Egypt to sojourn there, & Asshur oppressed them without cause.

5 Now therefore what haue I here, saith the Lord, that my people is take away for naught, & they that rule ouer them, make them to howle, saith the Lord: & my Name all the day continually is blasphemed?

6 Therefore my people shall know my Name: therefore they shall know in that day, that I am he that do speake: be hold, it is I.

7 How beautiful vpon the mountains are the feete of him, that declareth and publisheth peace: that declareth good tidings, and publisheth saluation, sayng vnto Zion, Thy God reigneth?

8 But the voyce of thy watchmen shall be heard: they shall lift by their voyce, and shoute together: for they shall see eye to eye, when the Lord shall bring agayne Zion.

9 O ye desolate places of Ierusalem, he glad and reioyce together: for the Lord hath comforted his people: he hath redeemed Ierusalem.

thence and touch he no unclean thing: goe out of the minds of her: be ye cleane, that I beare the vessels of the Lord. 12 For ye shall not goe out ^m with haste, nor depart by fleeing awap: but the Lord will goe before you, and the God of Israel will gather you together. 13 Beholde, my ⁿ servant shall prosper: he shall be exalted and extolled, and be verie high. 14 As manie were astonished at this (his visage was so ^o defoynd of men, and his forme of the formes of men) so ^p that he spake like manie nations: the tongues shall shut their ^q mouthes at him: for that which had not bene tolde them, shall they see, and that which they had not heard, shall they ^r understand.

8 He was taken out from ¹ prison, and from iudgement: ^m and who shall declare his age? for he was cut out of the land of the living: for the transgression of my people was he plagued. 9 And he made his grave with the wicked, and with the rich in his death, though he had done no wickednes, neither was any deceit in his mouth. 10 Yet the Lord would breake him, and make him subject to infirmitie: when ^o he shall make his soule an offering for sinne, he shall see his seed, and shall prolong his daies, and the will of the Lord shall prosper in his hand. 11 He shall see of the trouble of his soule, and shall be satisfied: by his knowledge shall my righteous servant iustifie manie: for he shall beare their iniquities. 12 Therefore will I give him a portion with the great, and he shall divide the spoile with the strong, because he hath powred out his soule unto death: and he was counted with the transgressors, and he bare the sinne ^r of manie, and prayed for the trespassers.

1 An exhortation to come to Christ. 8 Gods counsels are not as mans. 22 The ioye of the faithfull.

H O, eueryone that thirsteth, come hope to the waters, and ye that haue no siluer, come, buye & eate: come, a Christ by proposing his graces and gifts to his Church, ex-empteth the hypocrites which are full with their imagined workes, and the Epicures, which are full with their worldly lustes and so thirst not after these waters. b Signifying, that Gods benefites cannot be bought for money.

- I say, buye wine and milke without siluer and without money.
- 2 Wherefore doe ye lay out siluer and not for bread? and your labour without being satisfied? hearken diligently vnto me, and eate that which is good, and let your soule delight in eames.
- 3 Incline your eares, and come vnto me: heare, and your soule shall liue, and I will make an euermlasting covenant with you, euen the sure mercies of Dauid.
- 4 Beholde, I gave a hun for a witness to the people, for a prince and a master vnto the people.
- 5 Beholde, thou shalt call a nation that thou knowest not, and a nation that knewest not thee, shall runne vnto thee, because of the Lord thy God, and the holy one of Israel: for he hath glorified thee.
- 6 Seeke ye the Lord while he may be found: call ye vpon him while he is nere.
- 7 Let the wicked forsake his wayes, and the vnrightheous his owne imaginations, and returne vnto the Lord, and he will haue mercie vpon him: and to our God, for he is verie ready to forgive.
- 8 For my thoughtes are not your thoughtes, neither are your wayes my wayes, saith the Lord.
- 9 For as the heauens are hier then the earth, so are my wayes hier then your wayes, and my thoughtes aboute your thoughtes.
- 10 Surely as the raine cometh downe and the snowe from heauen, and returneth not thither, but watereth the earth and maketh it to bring forth and bud, that it may giue feede to the sower, and bread vnto him that eateth,
- 11 So shall my word be, that goeth out of my mouth: it shall not returne vnto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I will, and it shall prosper in the thing whereto I sent it.
- 12 Therefore ye shall goe out with ioye, and be led forth with peace: the mountaines and the hilles shall brake forth before you into ioye, and all the trees of the field shall clappe their hands.
- 13 For thornes there shall growe fire trees: for nettles shall growe the myrtle tree, and it shall be to the Lord for a name, and for an euermlasting signe that shall not be taken away.

c By waters, wine, milke and bread, he meaneth all things necessarye to the spirituall life, as these are necessarye to this corporall life.

1 An exhortation to iudgement and iustice. 10 Against shepherdes that despise their flocke.

2 God sheweth what he requireth of them after that he hath deliuered them: to wit, the works of charitie wherby true faith is declared.

b Which I wil declare towarde you and powre into your hearts by my Spirit.

c Vnder the Sabbath he comprehendeth y whole seruice of God and true religiō.

d Let none think himself vnmeete to receiue the graces of y Lord: for the Lord wil take away all impediments, and wil forsake none which wil keepe his true religion and belec in him.

e Meaning, in his Church.

f They shalbe called after my people, and be of the same religion: yea vnder Christ the dignitie of y faithful shalbe greater then the Iewes were at y tyme.

g Hereby he meaneth the spirital seruice of God, to whom y faithful offer continual thanks giuing, yea them selues & al that they haue as a liuely & acceptable sacrifice.

h Not only for the Iewes but for all others, Mat. 21. 13.

Thus saith the Lord, 1 Keepe iudgement and do iustice: for my saluation is at hand to come & my righteousnes to be reuiled.

2 Blessed is the man that doeth this, and the soune of man which layeth hold on it: he that keepeth the Sabbath and pollutech it not, and keepeth his hande from doing any euil.

3 And let not the soune of the stranger, which is open to y Lord, speake and say, The Lord hath surely separate me from his people: neither let the Eunuch say, Schold, I am a drie tree.

4 For thus saith the Lorde vnto the Eunuchs, that keepe my Sabbaths, and chuse the thing that pleaseth mee, and take holde of my covenant,

5 Euen vnto them will I giue in mine House & within my wals, a place and a name better then of the soumes and of the daughters: I wil giue them an euerlasting name, & shall not be put out.

6 Also the strangers that cleaue vnto the Lord, to serue him, & to loue the name of the Lord, and to be his seruants: euer y one that keepeth the Sabbath, and pollutech it not and imbraceth my covenant,

7 Them will I bring also to mine holy mountaine, and make them iopfull in mine House of prayer: for their burnt offerings shall be accepted vpon mine altar: for mine House shall be called an House of prayer for al people.

8 The Lord God saith, which gathereth the scattered of Israel, Yet wil I gather to them those that are to be gathered to them.

9 Will ye beastes of the feilde, come to deuoure, euen all ye beastes of the forest.

10 Their watchmen are all blinde: they haue no knowledge: they are al dumme dogges: they cannot bark: they lie and sleepe and delite in sleeping.

11 And these greedie dogs can neuer haue enough: and these shepherds cannot vnderstand: for they all vnto their owne waie, eueny one for his aduantage, and for his owne purpose.

12 Come, I will bring tyme, and we will fill our selues with strong drinke, and to morowe shall be as this day, and much more abundant.

The righteous perisheth, & no man considereth it in heart: and mercifull men are taken away, and no man vnderstandeth that the righteous is taken away from the euil to come.

2 Peace shall come: they that rest in their beddes, eueny one that walketh without hurt.

3 Upon wretches children, come his ther, the seed of the adulterer and of the whore.

4 By whom haue peested vpon whom haue ye gayed & thrust our pointe: euen are not ye rebellious children, & a false seer?

5 Inflamed with idoles vnder greenetree? and sacrificing the children in the valleys vnder the toppes of the rockes?

6 Thy portion is in the smooth stones of the riuier: they, they are thy lot: euen to them hast thou poured a drinke of strong: y haue offered a sacrifice. Shouldest thou do these?

7 Thou hast made thy bed vpon a very high mountaine: thou wentest by thither, euen thither wentest thou to offer sacrifice.

8 Behind the doores also & postes hast thou set vp thy remembrance: for thou hast discovered thy selfe to another then me, and wentest vp, and didest enlarge thy bed, and make a covenant betwene thee and them, and loudst thou bed in euery place where thou waldest it.

9 Thou wentest to the kings with ople, and didest increase thine ornaments and send thy messengers fare of, and didest humble thy selfe vnto hell.

10 Thou weariedst thy selfe in thy manifold iourneys, yet saidst thou not, There is no hope: thou hast found life by thine hand, therefore thou wast not grieved.

11 And whome didest thou reuerence of fear, seeing thou hast opened vnto me, and hast not remembered me, neither set thy minde thereon? is it not because I hold my peace, and that of long tyme: therefore thou fearest not me.

12 I wil declare thy righteousnes & thy workes, and they shall not profite thee.

From y plague that is at hand, and also because God will punish the wicked.

b The soule of the righteous that be in ioy, & their bodie shall rest in the graue vnto the time of the resurrection, because they walked before the Lord.

c He threeth the wickednes of the hypocrites, who vnder the pretence of y name of Gods people derided Gods worde and his promises: boasting openly that they were the children of Abraham, but because they were not faithful and obedient as Abraham was, he calleth them bastards, and the children of forcerers, which forsooke God and fled to wicked means for succour.

d Read Leuit. 18. 21 King. 23. 10.

e Meaning, euery place was polluted with their idolatrie: or euery faire stone that they found, they made an idole of it.

f In the sacrifices which you, offring before these idoles, thought you did serue God. g To wit, thine altars, in an open place like an impudent harlot that careth not for the sight of her husband. h In stead of setting vp the word of God in the open places on the postes & doores to haue it in remembrance, Deut. 6. 9. & 27. 1, thou hast set vp signes and markes of thine idolatrie in euery place. i That is, didest increase thine idolatrie more and more. k Thou didest seeke the fauour of the Assyrians by gifts and presents, to heipe thee against the Egyptians: & when they fayled, thou soughtest to the Babylonians and more & more didest torment thy selfe. l Although thou wast all thy labours to be in vaine, yet wouldst thou neuer acknowledge thy fault & leaue of. m He derideth thir vnprofitable diligence which thought to haue made all sure, & yet were deceiued. n Broken promises. o Meaning, that the wicked abused Gods lenitie & grew to farther wickednes. p That is, thy naughtynes, idol. tries & impieties: which the wicked call Gods seruice: thus he derideth their obstinacie.

CHAP. LVII.

1 God taketh away the good, that he should not see the horrible plagues to come. 2 Of the wicked idolaters, & And their vaine confidens.

13 When thou reest, let them that thou hast gathered together deliuer thee: but the winde shall v take them all awaye: vanitie shall pull them away: but hee that trusteth in mee, shall inherite the land, & shall possesse mine holie Towne.

14 And he shall say, Cast by, cast by: prepare the way: take by the stumbling blocks out of the way of my people.

15 For thus saith he, that is he and excellent, hee that inhabiteth the eternitie, whose name is the Hoie one, I dwell in the he and holie place: with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit to reuine the spirit of the humble, and to giue life to them that are of a contrite heart.

16 For I wil not contend for euer, neither will I be alwayes wroth, for the spirit should sayle before mee: and I haue made the breath.

17 For his wicked couetousnes I am angrie with him, & haue smitren him: I hid me and was angrie, yet he went as waye, and turned after the waye of his owne heart.

18 I haue seene his wayes, & will heale him: I will leade him also, and restore comfort vnto him, and to those that lament him.

19 I create the fruite of the lippes, to be peace: peace vnto them that are farre of, and to them that are neere, saith the Lord: for I wil heale him.

20 But the wicked are like the raging sea, that can not rest, whose waters cast by myne and dirt.

21 There is no peace, saith my God, to the wicked.

CHAP. LVIII.

The office of Gods ministers. The workes of the hypocrites. The fast of the faithfull. 13 Of the true Sabbath.

1 Come a loude, spare not: lift by thy voice like a trumpet, and shew my people their trasgression, and to the house of Iacob, their finnes.

2 Yet they v seeke me daily, & will knowe my wayes, euen as a nation that did righteously, and had not forsaken the statutes of their God: they aske of mee the ordinances of iustice: they wil draw neere vnto God, saying,

3 Wherefore haue we fasted, & thou seest it not? wee haue punished our selues, and thou regardest it not. Beholde, in the day of your fast you wil seeke your wil, and require all your dettes.

4 Beholde, ye fast to strie and debate, and to sinue with the fit of wickednes: ye shall not fast as ye doe to daue, to make your voyce to be heard aboue.

5 Is it such a fast that I haue chosen, that a man should afflict his soule for a day, and to bowe downe his head, as a bull ruff, and to lie downe in sackcloth and ashes? wilt thou call this a fasting, or an acceptable day to the Lord?

6 Is not this the fasting, that I haue chosen, to loose the bands of wickednes, to take of the heauie burdens, and to let the oppressed goe free, and that ye breake euery yoke?

7 Is it not to deale thy bread to the hungry, and that thou bring the poore that wander, vnto thine house? when thou seest the naked, that thou couer him, & hide not thy selfe from thine owne flesh?

8 Then shall thy light breake forth as the morning, & thine health shall growe speedily: thy righteouines shall go before thee, and the glorie of the Lord shall embrace thee.

9 Then shall thou call, and the Lord shall answer: thou shalt cry, and he shall say, Here I am: if thou take away from the middes of thee the yoke, the putting forth of the finger, and wicked speaking:

10 If thou poure out thy soule to the hungry, and reffre the troubled soule: then shall thy light spring out in the darkenes, and thy darkenes shall be as the noone day.

11 And the Lord shall guide thee continually, and satisfie thy soule in drought, and make fatte thy bones: and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters shall not drye.

12 And thy shall be of thee, that shall build the olde waste places: thou shalt raise by the foundations for many generations, and thou shalt be called the reparer of the breach and the restorer of the paths to dwell in.

13 If thou turne awaye thy foote from the Sabbath, from doing thy will on mine holy day, and call the Sabbath a delite, to consecrate it, as glorious to the Lord, and shalt honour him, not doing thine owne wayes, nor seeking thine owne wil, nor speaking a vaine word,

14 Then shalt thou delite in the Lord, and I wil cause thee to mount vpon the hye places of the earth, and feede thee with the heritage of Iacob thy father: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

CHAP. LIX.

The wicked perish through their owne iniquities. The confession of finnes. 16 God alone will preserve his Church, though all men faile.

1 Behold, the Lords hand is not short, that it cannot saue: neither is his eare heauie, that it cannot heare.

2 But your iniquities haue separated betwene you and your God, and your finnes haue hid his face from you, that he wil not heare.

3 For your handes are defiled with blood, and your fingers with iniquitie: your eyes haue spoken lies, and your tongue hath murmured iniquitie, f That you leaue of all your exortions.

g For in him thou seest thy selfe as in a glasse.

Al men winke at the injuries & oppressions, and none go about to remedie them.

c According to their wicked deuices, they hurt their neighbors.

d Whatsoeuer cometh from them, is payson and bringeth death.

e They are profitable to no purpose.

f That is, Gods vengeance to punish our enemies.

g Gods protection to defend vs.

h We are also greiueous destitute of counsell & can finde no ende of our miseries.

i We expresse our sorowes by outward signes, some more, some lesse.

k This confession is generally to the Church to obtaine remission of finnes, and the Prophets did not except theselues from the same.

l To wit, against our neighbours.

m There is neither iustice nor vprightnes among men.

n The wicked will destroy him.

o Meaning, to do iustice, and to remedie things that were so far out of order.

p That is, his Church: or his arme did helpe it selfe, and did not seeke ayde of any other.

q Signifying, that God hath all meanes at hand to deliuer his Church, and to punish their enemies.

r To wit, your enemies, which dwell in diuers places, and beyond the sea.

4 No man calleth for iustice: no man contendeth for truely: they trust in vanitie, and speake vaine things: they conceale iniquities, and bring forth iniquitie.

5 They hatch cockatrice & egges, and weaue the spiders webbe: he that eateth of their egges, dieth, & that which is trod vpon, breaketh out into a serpent.

6 Their webbes shall be no garment, neither shall they cover them selues with their labours: for their workes are workes of iniquitie, and the worke of crueltie is in their hands.

7 Their fate runne to euill, and they make haste to shed innocent blood: their thoughts are wicked thoughts: desolation and destruction is in their paths.

8 The way of peace they knowe not, and there is none equitie in their goings: they haue made them crooked paths: who soeuer goeth therein, shall not knowe peace.

9 Therefore is iudgement face from vs, neither doeth s iustice come nere vnto vs: we waite for light, but loe, it is darkenesse: for brightnesse, but we walke in darkenesse.

10 We grope for the wall like the blind, and we grope as one without eyes: we stumble at the noone day as in the twilight: we are in solitary places, as dead men.

11 We roare all like beares, and mourne like dones: we looke for equitie, but there is none: for health, but it is farre from vs.

12 For our trespasses are manie before thee, and our finnes testifye against vs: for our trespasses are with vs, and we knowe our iniquities.

13 In trespassing and lying against the Lord, & we haue departed away from our God, and haue spoken of crueltie and rebellion, concerning and vttering out of the heart false matters.

14 Therefore iudgement is turned backward, and iustice standeth farre off: for truely is fallen in p streete, and equitie cannot enter.

15 Pea, truth faileth, and he that refraineth from euill, maketh himselfe a pray: and when the Lord sawe it, it displeaseth him, that there was no iudgement.

16 And when he sawe that there was no man, he wondered that none would offer himselfe. Therefore his arme did r save it, and his righteousnesse it selfe did sustaine it.

17 For he put on righteousnesse, as an habergeon, and an helmet of saluation vpon his head, and he put on the garments of vengeance for clothing, and was clad with zeale as a cloke.

18 As to make recompense, as to requite the furie of the aduersaries with a recompense to his enemies: he will fully repape the plaudes.

19 So shall they feare the name of the Lord from the West, and his glorie from the rising of the sunne: for the enemy shall come like a flood: but the Spirit of the Lord shall chase him away.

20 And the Kedemite shall come vnto Zion, & vnto them that turne from iniquitie in Iacob, saith the Lord.

21 And I will make this my covenant with them, saith the Lord, My Spirit that is vpon thee, & my wordes, which I haue put in thy mouth, shall not depart out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy seede, nor out of p mouth of the seede of thy seede, saith the Lord, from henceforth euen for euer.

He sheweth that there shall be great increase in the Church, but God will euer deliuer his. Whereby he declareth that true deliuerance from sinne & Satan belongeth to none, but to the children of God, whom he iustificieth. Because the doctrine is made profitable by the verue of the spirit, he ioyneth the one with the other, and promisseth to giue them both to his Church for euer.

CHAP. LX.

The Gentiles shall come to the knowledge of the Gospel. & They shall come to the Church in abundance. & They shall haue abundance, though they suffer for a time.

Al ierusalem: be bryght, for thy light is come, and the glorie of the Lord is risen vpon thee.

2 For beholde, darkenesse shall cover the earth, and grosse darkenesse the people: but the Lord shall arise vpon thee, and his glorie shall be seene vpon thee.

3 And the Gentiles shall walke in thy light, and Kings at the brightnesse of thy rising vp.

4 Lift vp thine eyes round about, and beholde: all these are gathered, and come to thee: thy sonnes shall come fro farre, and thy daughters shall be nourished at thy side.

5 Then thou shalt see and shine: thine heart shall be enlarged, and enlarged, because the multitude of the sea shall be conuerted vnto thee, and the riches of the Gentiles shall come vnto thee.

6 The multitude of camels shall cover thee: and the dromedaries of Idibian and of Ephah: all thep of Sheba shall come: they shall bring gold and incense, and they forth the praies of the Lord.

7 All the sheepe of Cedar shall be gathered vnto thee: the rams of Arabia shall serue thee: they shall come vnto be accepted vpon mine altar: and I will beautifie the house of my glorie.

8 Who are these? that shall like a cloude, and as the dones to their windowes?

9 Surely theples of Arabia, as at the beginning, that they may bring thy sonnes from farre, and their silver, and their gold.

f Meaning, that every one shall honour the Lord with that, wherewith he is able: signifying, that it is no true seruing of God, except we offer our selues to serue his glorie, and all that we haue. g That is, the Arabians that haue great abundance of cattell. h Because the altar was a figure of Christ, Hebr. 13. 10. he sheweth that nothing can be acceptable to him, which is not offered to him by this altar, who was both the offering and the altar it selfe. i Shewing what great number shall come to the Church, and with what great diligence and zeale. k The Gentiles that are now enemies, shall become friends and fexters for of the Church.

a The time of thy prosperitie and felicitie: whereas speaking of Babylon he commanded her to goe downe, Chap. 47. 1.

b Signifying, that all men are in darkenesse till God giue them the light of his spirit, and that this light shineth to none but to those that are in his Church.

c Meaning, that Iudea should be as the morning starre, and that the Gentiles should receiue light of her.

d An infinite number from all countries, as Chap. 49. 18.

e Forsoy, as the heart is drawn in for forwe.

golde with them, unto the Name of the Lorde thy God, and to the holy one of Israel, because he hath glorified thee.

10 And the sonnes of strangers shall build by thy walles, and their Kingdome shall minister unto thee: for in my wrath I smote thee, but in my mercie I had compassion on thee.

11 Therefore thy gates shall be open continually: neither day nor night shall they be shut that men may bring unto thee the riches of the Gentiles, & that their Kingdome may be brought.

12 For the nation and the Kingdome, that will not serue thee, shall perish:
and those nations shall be utterly destroyed.

13 The glorie of Lebanon shall come unto thee, the firc tree, the elme and the hore tree together, to beautifie the place of my Sanctuary: for I will glorifie
the place of my feete.

14 The sonnes also of them that afflicted thee, shall come and bow vnto thee: and all they that despised thee, shall fall p downe at the soles of thy feete: and they shall call thee, The Citie of the Lorde, Zion of the holy one of Israel.

15 Where as thou hast bene forsaken and hated: so that no man went by thee, I will make thee an eternal glorie, and I will bring generation to generation.

16 Thou shalt also sucke the milke of the Gentiles, and shalt sucke the y breasts of Kinges: and thou shalt know, that I the Lorde am thy Saviour, and thy Redeemer, the mighty one of Iacob.

17 For brass will I bring golde, and for pion will I bring silver, and for wood brasse, and for stones pion. I will also make thy government peace, & thine eractours righteousnesse.

18 Violence shall no more be heard in thy lande, neither desolation, nor destruction within thy borders: but thou shalt call saluation, thy walles, and praise, thy gates.

19 Thou shalt haue no more sunne to shine by day, neither shall the brightnes of the moone shine vnto thee: for the Lorde shall be thine euershalting light, and thy God, thy glorie.

20 Thy sunne shall neuer goe downe, neither shall thy moone be hid: for the Lorde shall be thine euershalting light, and the dayes of thy sorrowe shall be ended.

21 Thy people also shall be all righteous:
they shall possesse the land for ever, the y graffe of my planting shall be the worke of mine handes, that I may be glorified.

22 A little one shall become as a strong land, and a small one as a strong nation: for the Lorde will hasten it in due time.

Church should be miraculously multiplied.

CHAP. LXI.

He prophesieth that Christ shall be anointed and sent to preach, so The voyc of the faithfull.

1 The Spirit of the Lorde God is upon me, therefore hath the Lorde anointed me: he hath sent me to preache the good tidings vnto the poore, to the Prophets binde by the broken hearted, to preache libertie to the captiues, and to them that are bounde, the opening of the be glorified.

4 And they shall builde the olde waste places, and raise by the foyner desolations, and they shall repaice the cities that were desolate and waste through many generations.

5 And the strangers shall stand & feede your sheepe, & the sonnes of the strangers shall pour plowmen and sowers of your vines.

6 But ye shall be named the Priests of the Lorde, and men shall say vnto you, The ministers of our God, ye shall eate the riches of the Gentiles, and shall be exalted with their glorie.

7 For your shame you shall receiue double, and for confusion they shall receiue in their position: for in their land they shall possesse the double:
euershalting roy shall be vnto them.

8 For the Lorde loue iudgement & hate q robbery for burnt offering, and I will direct their waye in truth, & I will make an euershalting covenant with them.

9 And their seede shall be knowne among the Gentiles, and their buddes among the people. All that see them, shall knowe them, that they are the seede which the Lorde hath blessed.

10 I will greatly reioice in the Lorde, and my soule shall be ioyfull in my God: for he hath clothed me with the garments of saluation, and covered me with the robe of righteousnesse: he hath decked me like a bride with her iuwels, and made Priefts and Kings,

11 For as the earth bringeth forth her bud, and as the garden causeth to growe that which is sowne in it:
so the Lorde God will cause righteousnesse to growe and praise before all the heathen.

The great desire that the Prophets haue had for Christs coming. 6 The diligence of the Pastours to preach.

a The Prophet sayth that he wil neuer cease to declare vnto the people the good tidings of their deliuerance. b Til they haue full deliuerance: & this the Prophet speaketh to encourage all other ministers to the fetching forth of Gods mercies to wanie his Church. c Thou shalt haue a more excellent fame then thou hast had hitherto. d He hath esteem'd thee as deere & precious, as a king doeth his crowne. e Thou shalt no more be commended as a woman forsaken of her husband.

As my delite in her.
f Or, married.
g That it may be replenished with children. h For as much as they colesse one faith & religion with thee, they are in the same bond of marriage with thee: and they are called the children of the Church, inasmuch as Christ maketh her plentifull to bring forth children vnto him.

i Prophets, pastors, and ministers. j He exhorte th the ministers neuer to cease to call vpon God by prayer for the deliuerance of his Church, & to teach others to do the same. k For y restauratio wherof a y world shall praise him. l Signifying the great number that should come to the Church, and what meanes he would prepare for the restitutiō of y same, as chap. 57. 14. m Ye Prophets and ministers shew the people of this their deliuerance which was chiefly met of our saluation by Christ, Zach 9. 9. mat. 21. 5. n He shall haue all power to bring his purpose to passe, as Chap. 40. 10. o That is, one ouer whom God hath had a singular care to recover her when she was lost.

1 Zion's sake I will not hold my tongue, and for Ierusalem's sake I wil not rest, until the righteousnesse thereof breake forth as the light, and saluation thereof as a burning lampe.

2 And gentiles shall see thy righteousnesse, and all kings thy glorie: and thou shalt be called by a newe name, which the mouth of the Lord shall name.

3 Thou shalt also be a crowne of glorie in the hande of the Lord, and a royal diademe in the hand of the God.

4 It shall no more be said vnto thee, Forzaken, neither shall it be said any more to thy land, Desolate, but thou shalt be called Ephzai-bah, and thy land Beulah: for the Lord delighteth in thee, and thy land shall haue an husband.

5 For as a pson man marryeth a virgin, so shall thy sonnes marry thee: and as a bridegome is glad of the bride, so shall thy God reioyce ouer thee.

6 I haue set watchmen vpon thy walles, O Ierusalem, which all the day and all the night continually shall not cease: for that are mindful of the Lord, keepe not silence,

7 And giue him no rest, til he repaire and until he be set by Ierusalem the praise of the world.

8 The Lord hath sworn by his right hand and by his strong arme, Surely I wil no more giue thee come to be meat for thine enemies, & surely the sonnes of the strangers shall not drinke thy wine, for the which thou hast laboured.

9 But they that haue gathered it, shall eate it, and praise the Lord, and the gatherers thereof shall drinke it in the courts of my Sanctuarie.

10 Go through, go through the gates: prepare pou the waye for the people: cast vp, cast vp the way, and gather out the stones, and set vp a standard for the people.

CHAP. LXIII.

God shall destroy his enemies for his Churches sake. 7 Gods benefites towards his Church.

1 Who is this that cometh from Edom, with robes garments from Bozrah? he is glorious in his apparel: & walketh in his great strength: I speake in righteousness, & am mighty to saue.

2 Wherefore is thine apparel red, and thy garments like him that treadeth in the wine presse?

3 I haue troden the wine presse alone, and of all people there was none with me: for I will treade them in mine anger, and treade them under foote in my wrath, and their blood shall be spunked vpon my garments, and I will stampe all my rapin.

4 For the daye of vengeance is in mine heart, and the peece of my redeemed is come.

5 And I looked, and there was none to helpe, and I wondered that there was none to byholde: therefore mine owne arme helped me, and my wrath I selfe sustained me.

6 Therefore I wil treade downe the people in my wrath, and make them drunken in mine indignatiō, and wil bring downe their strength to the earth.

7 I wil remember the mercies of y Lord and the praises of the Lord according vnto all that the Lord hath giuen vs, & for the great goodnes toward the house of Israel, which he hath giuen them according to his tender loue, and according to his great mercies.

8 For he said, Surely they are my people, children that will not lye: so he was their saviour.

9 In all their troubles he was troubled, and the Angel k of his presence saued them: in his loue and in his mercie he redeemed them, and he bare them and caried them alwayes continually.

10 But they rebelled and bered his holy Spirit: therefore was he turned to be their enemye and hee fought against them.

11 Then hee I remembered the olde time of Moses & his people, saying, Where is hee that brought them by our of the Sea with the shepherde of his helpe for the deliuerance of his, and though men refuse to doe their dutie through negligence, & ingratitude, yet he himselfe will deliuer his Church, and punish the enemies, Reade chap. 59. 16. f I will so atonie them, and make them so giddy, that they shall not knowe, which way to goe. g The Prophet speaketh this to moue the people to remember Gods benefites in times past, that they may be confirmed in their troubles.

h For I did chuse them to be mine, that they should be holye, and not deceiue mine expectation. i Hee bare their afflictions and griefes as though they had bene his owne. k Which was a witness of Gods presence: and of this maye be referred to Christ, to whome belongeth the office of saluation. l That is, the people of Israel being afflicted, called to remembrance Gods benefites, which hee had bestowed vpon their fathers in times past. m Meaning, Moses.

a This prophetic is against the Idumeans, and enemies which persecuted the Church, on whom God will take vengeance, and is here set forth all bloody after that he hath destroyed them in Bozrah, the chiefe cite of the Idumeans: for these were their greatest enemies, and vnder the uel of circumcision, and the kinred of Abraham claimed to them selves the chiefe religion, and hated the true worshippers, Psalme 137. 7. b God answered them that asked this question, Who is this? &c. & saith, Ye see now performed in deede the vengeance, which y Prophets threatened. c Another question, to y which the Lord answered. d Shewing, that when God punisheth his enemies, it is for the profit and deliuerance of his Church. e God sheweth that hee hath no neede of mans n That is, in Moses, that he might wel gouerne y people: some referre this giuing of the Spirit to the people.

o Peaceably & gently, as an horse is led to his pasture.

t By taking away thy holy Spirit from vs, by whome we were gouerned, and so for our ingratitude didest deliuer vs vp to our owne cocupiscence, and didest punish sinne by sinne according to thy iust iudgement.

u Meaning, for the couenants sake made to Abraham, Isak and Iaakob his seruants.

x That is, in respect of the promises, which is perpetuall: albeit they had now possessed the lande of Canaan, a thousand and foure hundred yeere: and thus they lament, to moue God rather to remember his couenant then to punish their sinnes.

a The Prophet continueth his prayer, desiring God to declare his loue toward his Church by miracles, and mighty power as he did in Mount Sinai.

b Meaning, the raine, haile, fire, thunder, and lightnings.

sheer? where is he that put his holy Spirit within him?

12 He led them by the right hand of Moses with his owne glorious arme, deuiding the water before them, to make himselfe an euermeking flame.

13 He led them through the deepe, as an horse in his wilderness, that they should not stumble.

14 As the beast goeth downe into the valley, the Spirit of the Lord gaue them rest: so didest thou lead thy people, to make thy selfe a glorious flame.

15 I looke downe from heauen, and behold from the dwelling place of thine holines, and of thy glorie, where is thy zeale and thy strength, the multitude of thy mercies, & of thy compassions: they are restrayned from me.

16 Doubtles thou art our Father: though Abraham be ignorant of vs, and Isaac knowe vs not, yet thou, O Lord, art our Father, and our redeemer: thy name is for euer.

17 O Lord, why hast thou made vs to erre from thy wayes? & hardened our heart from thy feare? Returne for thy seruants sake, and for the tribes of thine inheritance.

18 The people of thine holines haue possessed it, but a litle while: for our aduersaries haue troden downe thy Sanctuary.

19 We haue bene as they, ouer whom thou neuer barest rule, and vpon whome thy name was not called.

CHAP. LXVIII.

1 The Prophet prayeth for the sinnes of the people.

6 Mans righteousness is like a filthy cloth.

1 O, that thou wouldest breake the heauens, and come downe, & that the mountaines might melt at thy presence!

2 As the melting fire burned, as the fire caused the waters to boyle, (that thou mightest declare thy name to thy aduersaries) the people did tremble at thy presence.

3 When thou diddest terrible thinges, which we looked not for, thou camest downe, and the mountaines melted at thy presence.

4 For since the beginning of the worlde they haue not heard nor vnderstande with the eare, neither hath the yee seen another God beside thee, which doeth so to him that waiteth for him.

7 Thou didest meete him, that reioiced in thee, and did iustly: they reioiced in thee in thy wayes: behold, thou art angry, for we haue sinned: yet in their continuance, and we s shall sinned.

8 But we haue all bene as an vncleane thing, and all our righteousness is as filthy cloutes, and we all do fade like a leafe, and our iniquities like the winde haue taken vs away.

9 And there is none that calleth vpon thy name, neither that stretcheth vpon himselfe to take hold of thee: for thou hast hid thy face from vs, and hast consumed vs because of our iniquities.

10 But nowe, O Lord, thou art our Father: we are the clay, and thou art our potter, and we are all the worke of thine hands.

11 We not angry, O Lord, about measure, neither remember iniquitie for euer: so, we beseech thee beholde, we are all thy people.

12 Thine holy cities he wasteth: Zion is a wilderness, and Ierusalem a desert.

13 The House of our Sanctuary and of our glorie, where our fathers praised thee, is burnt vp with fire, and all our pleasant things are wasted.

14 While thou hold thy selfe still at these thinges, O Lord? wilt thou holde thy peace and afflict vs about measure? like thee as vile cloutes, or, (as some read) like the menstruous clothes of a woman. i Albeit, O Lord, by thy iust iudgement thou mayest vterly destroy vs, as the potter may his pot, yet we appeale to thy mercies, whereby it hath pleased thee to adopt vs to be thy children, k For so the flesh iudgeth when God doeth not immediately send succour. l Which were dedicated to thy seruice and to call vpon thy Name. m Wherein we reioiced and worshipped thee. n That is, at the contempt of thine owne glorie: though our sinnes haue deserued this, yet thou wilt not suffer thy glorie thus to be diminished.

7 Pour iniquities and the iniquities of your fathers shall be together (saith the Loide) which haue burnt menslie upon the mountaynes, and blasphemied me upon the hilles: therefore will I measure their olde woike into their bosome.
8 Thus saith the Loide, As the wine is found in the cluster, and one saith, Destroy it not, for a blessing is in it, so will I do for my seruants sakes, that I may not destroy them whole.
9 But I will bring a seede out of Iacob, and out of Iudah, that shall inherite my mountaine, and mine elect shall inherite it, and my seruants shall dwell there.
10 And Sharon shall be a sheepe fold, and the valley of Achor shall be a resting place for the cattell of my people, that haue fought me.
11 But ye are they that haue forsaken the Loide, & forgotten mine holp Mountaine, and haue prepared a table for the multitude, and furnish the drinke of frings vnto the number.
12 Therefore will I number you to the sword, & all you shall bowe down to the slaughter, because I called, & ye did not answer: I spake, & ye heard not, but did euill in my sight, and did chuse that thing which I would not.
13 Therefore thus saith the Loide God, Behold, my seruants shall eat, and ye shall be hungry: behold, my seruants shall drinke, and ye shall be thirstie: behold, my seruants shall reioyce, and ye shall be ashamed.
14 Behold, my seruants shall sing for ioy of heart, & ye shall cry for sorowe of heart, and shall howle for veration of minde.
15 And ye shall leaue your name as a curse vnto my chosen: for the Lord God shall slap you and call his seruants by another name.

CHAP. LXVI.

God dwelleth not in temples made with handes. 3 He despiseth sacrifices done without mercie and faith. 5 God comforteth them that are troubled for his sake. 19 The vocation of the Gentiles. 23 The perpetuall Sabbath. 24 The punishments of the wicked is everlasting.

I Thus saith the Loide, The heauen is my throne, & the earth is my footstool: where is that house that ye will build vnto mee? and where is that place of my rest?
2 For all these things hath mine hande made, & all these things haue bene, cannot be included in a temple to him, that is poore, and of a contrite spirite and trembleth at my wordes.
3 He that killeth a bullock, is as if he slew ye I will foalter and change the state of my Church, that it shall seeme to dwell in a newe world.

z Meaning, in this wonderful reformation of the Church, there should be no weakenesse of youth, nor infirmities of age, but all should be fresh, and flourishing: and this is accomplished in the heauenly Ierusalem when all finnes shall cease, and the teares shall wiped away.
a Whereby he sheweth that the infidels and vnrepentant sinners haue no part of this benediction.
b He propheseth to the faithfull the blessings which are conteinued in the Lawe, and fo vnder temporall c Reade Chap. Act. 7. 48, 49.
a My maiestie is so great that it filleth both heauen & earth, and therefore cannot be included in a temple like an idole: condemning hereby their vaine confidence, b Seeing that both the Temple and the things therein, with y sacrifices, were made and done by his appointment, he sheweth that he hath no neede thereof, and that he can be without them, Psal. 50. 10.
c To him that is humble and pure in heart, which receiveth my doctrine with reuerence and feare. d Because the Iewes thought themselves holy by offering of their sacrifices, and in the meane season had neither faith nor repentance, God sheweth that hee doeth no lesse detest these ceremonies, then he doeth the sacrifices of y heathen, who offered men, dogs & swine to their idoles, which things were expressly forbidden in the Law.

a man: he that sacrificeth a sheepe, as if he cut of a dogges necke: he that offereth an oblation, as if he offered swines blood: hee that remembereth incense, as if hee blessed an idole: yea, they haue chosen their owne waies, & their soule delireth in their abominations.

4 Therefore wil I chule out their delusions, & I wil bring their feare vpon the, because I called, and none woude answer: I spake & they woude not heare: but the y did cul in my sight, and chose the things which I woude nor.

5 Heare the woide of the Lord, all ye that tremble at his woide, Your brethren that hated you, and call you out for my Names sake, said, let the Lord be glorified: but he shall appeare to your ioye, and they shall be ashamed.

6 A voyce soundeth from the citie, euen a voyce from the Temple, the voyce of the Lorde, that recompenseth his enemies full.

7 Before hee hee trauaile, she brought forth: and before her payne came, she was deliuered of a man childe.

8 Who hath heard such a thing? who hath seene such things? that the earth be brought forth in one day? or that a nation be borne at once? for as soon as Zion trauaile, she brought forth her children.

9 Shall I k cause to trauaile, & not bring forth? shall I cause to bring forth and shall be barren, saith the Lord?

10 Reioyce pe with Ierusalem, and bee glad with her, all pee that loue her: reioyce for joy with her, all ye that mourne for her,

11 That ye may sucke! & be satisfied with the breasts of her consolation: that ye may milke out and be delited with the brightnes of her glorie.

12 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, I wil extend my peace ouer her like a flood and the glorie of the Gentiles like a flowing stream: then shall pe sucke, ye shall be borne vpon her sides, and bee ioyfull vpon her knees.

13 As one whom his mother comforteth, so wil I comfort you, and pee shall be comforted in Ierusalem.

14 And when ye see this, your heart shall reioyce, and your bones shall flourish like an herb: and the hand of the Lorde shall be known among his seruants, & his indignation against his enemies.

15 For beholde, the Lorde wil come with fire, and his chariots like a whynwinde, that he may recouere his anger with wath, and his indignation with the flame of fire.

16 For the Lorde wil iudge with fire, and with his sward all flethe, and the flaine of the Lord shall many.

17 They that sanctifie themselves, and purifie themselves in the gardens behinde one tree in d misedeasing swines flethe, and such abomination, euen the moule, shall be confuted together, saith the Lorde.

18 For I wil visite their workes, and their imaginations: for it shall come that I wil gather all nations, and tongues, & they shall come, and see my glory.

19 And I wil let a signe among them, & wil send those that escape of them, vnto the nations of Ty Carthily, z Pul, and Lud, & to them that draw the bow, to Tubal & z Iauan, pies asafre of, that haue not heard my fame, neither haue seene my glory, and they shall declare my glory among the Gentiles.

20 And they shall bring all your brethren for an offering vnto the Lorde out of all nations, vpon s hoyses, and in chariots, and in hoie litters, and vpon mules, & swift beastes, to Ierusalem mine holie Mountaine, saith the Lorde, as the children of Israel, offer in a cleane vessel in the House of the Lord.

21 And I wil take of them for Priests, and for Leuites, saith the Lord.

22 For as the new heauens, & the new earth which I wil make, shall remaine before me, saith the Lorde, so shall your seede and your name continue.

23 And from moneth to moneth, & from Sabbath to Sabbath shall al flesh come to worship before me, saith the Lord.

24 And they shall go forth, and looke vpon the carcasses of the men that haue trauced against mee: for their house I shall not dye, neither shall their fire be quenched, and they shall be an abhorring vnto all flesh.

y That is, Cilicia, z Meaning, Affrica, a To wit, Lydia, or A-gaminor, b Signifying, the Parthians, c Italie, d Grecia.

e Meaning, the Apostles, Disciples, and others which he did first chuse of the Iewes to preache vnto the Gentiles, f That is, the Gentiles, which by faith shall be made the children of Abraham, as you are. g Whereby he meaneth that no necessary meanes shall want when God shall call the Gentiles to the knowledge of the Gospel. h To wit, of the Gentiles, as he did Luke, Timothie and Tite first, and others after to preache his worde. i Hereby he signifieth the kingdoms of Christ, wherein his Church shall be requed, and whereas before there were appointed seasons to sacrifice: in this there shall be one continuall Sabbath so that all times and seasons shall be meete.

k As he hath declared the felicitie that shall be within the Church for the comfort of the godly, so doth he shew what horrible calamitie shall come to the wicked, that are out of the Church. l Meaning, a continual torment of conscience, which shall euer gnawe them and neuer suffer them to be at rest, Mar. 9.44. m This is the iust recompence for the wicked, which contemning God and his word, shall be by Gods iust judgement abhorred of all his creatures.

q This vengeance God began to execute at the destruction of Babylon, & hath euer continued it against the enemies of his church & will do till the last day, which shall be the accomplishment thereof.

r Meaning, the hypocrites.

s Whereby are meant them that did maliciously transgresse the Law, by eating beasts forforbidde, euen to the mouse which abhorreth nature.

t The Gentiles shall be partakers of y glory, which before I shewed to the Iewes.

u I will make these that I chuse, that they perish not with the rest of the infidels: whereby he alludeth to the marking of the postes of his people, whom he preferred,

Exod. 12.7.

x I will scatter the rest of the Iewes, which escape destruction, into diuers nations.

e I wil discover their wickednes and hypocrisie, wherewith they thinke to blinde mine eyes, to all the worlde.

f He incourage the faithful by promising to destroy their enemies which pretended to be as brethren, but were hypocrites and hated them that feared God.

g The enemies shall shortly heare a more terrible voyce, euen fire and slaughter, seeing they would not heare the gentle voyce of the Prophets which called them to repentance.

h Meaning, that the restauration of the Church should be so sudden and contrary to all mens opinion: as when a woman is deliuered before shee looke for it, and that without payne in trauaile.

i This shall passe the capacite of man to see such a multitude that shall come vp at once, meaning vnder the preaching of the Gospel, wherof they that came vp out of Babylon, were a figure.

k Declaring hereby, that as by his power, and prouidence woman trauaileth and is deliuered: so hath he power to bring forth his Church at his time appointed. l. That ye may reioyce for all the benefites that God bestoweth vpon his Church. m I will giue her felicitie, and prosperitie in great abundance. n Reade Chap. 60. 16. o Ye shall be cherished, as her dearly beloued children. p Ye shall haue newe strength and newe beautie.

p I will give the charge & power to execute my vengeance against the idolaters, which have forsaken me for their idoles. q Which declareth that Gods vengeance is prepared against the, which dare not execute their duetie faithfully, either for feare of man, or for any other cause. 1. Cor. 9. 16. r Signifying on the one part, that the more that Satan, and the world rage against Gods ministers, y more present will he be to helpe them. Iosh. 1. 5. Heb. 13. 5. and on the other part, that they are vterly vnmeete to serue God, and his Church, which are afraide, and do not resist wickednes, whatsoeuer danger depend thereon, I sa. 50. 7. Ezek. 3. 8.

r iudgements touching all the wickednes of them that haue forsake me, and haue burnt incense vnto other gods, and worshipped the workes of their owne haanes. 17 Thou therefore truste by thy topnes, and arise and speake vnto them all that I commande thee: be not afraide of their faces, least I q destroy thee before them. 18 For I behold, I this day haue made thee a defenced cite, and an vpon pillar and walles of brass against the whole lande, against the kings of Iudah, & against y princes thereof, against the Priests thereof & against the people of the lande. 19 For they shall fight against thee, but they shall not pueate against thee: for I am with thee to deliuer thee, saith the Lord.

2 God rehearseth his benefices done vnto the Lewes. 3 Against the Priests and false prophetes. 12 The Lewes are destroyed, because they forsake God.

1 M Oroner, the word of the Lorde came vnto me saying, 2 Go, and crie in the eares of Ierusalem, saying, Thus saith the Lorde, I remember thee, with the 2 kindnes of thy youth and the loue of thy marriage, when thou wentest after me in the wilderness b in a land y was not sowe. 3 Israel was as a thing c halowed vnto the Lorde, & his first fruites: all they d that eate it, shall offend: eul shall come vpon them, saith the Lorde. 4 Heare ye the word of the Lord, o house of Iacob, and all the families of the house of Israel. 5 Thus saith the Lorde, What iniquitie haue your fathers founde in mee, that they are gone e farre from mee, & haue walked after vanitie, and are become f vayne? 6 For they said not, Where is the Lorde that brought vs vp out of y land of Egypt: that led vs through the wildernes weste, through a deserte, and waste lande, through a drye lande, and b by the hande of death, by a lande that no man passed through, & where no man dwelt? And I brought you into a plentifull countrey, to eat the fruite thereof, and the commodities of the same: but why ye entered, ye defiled h my land, & made mine heritage an abomination. 8 The Dynests laide not, i Where is the Lorde? & they that should minister the k Lawe, knewe me not: the l pastours also offended against me, and the prophets prophesied in m Baal, and went after things that did not profite. 9 Wherefore I will not p plead with you, saith the Lord, and I will plead with your childrens children. 10 For go ye to the ples of Chittim, and beholde, and send vnto p Kebar, & take diligent heerde, and see whether there be such things. 11 Hath any nation changed their gods, which yet are no gods? but my people haue changed their q glorie, for that which doeth not r profite. 12 O ye heauens, be afflicted at this: be afraide and vterly confounded, saith the Lord. 13 For my people haue committed two euils: they haue forsaken me the fountaine of liuing waters, to digge their pittes, euen brake pittes, that can holde no water. 14 Is Israel a seruant, or is he boyne in the house? why then is he spoiled? 15 The 2 lions roared vpon him and pelted e, & they haue made his land waste: his cities are burnt without r an inhabitant. 16 Also the children of 2 Mooph and Taphanes haue s broken thine head. 17 Hast not thou procured this vnto thy selfe, because thou hast forsaken the Lorde thy God, when he b led thee by the way? 18 And what hast thou now to do in the way of Egypt: to drinke the water of Nilus? or what makest thou in y way of Nihur? to drinke the water of the d Riner? 19 Thine owne wickednes shall c correct thee, and thy turnings backe shall reprove thee: know therefore & beholde, that it is an euill thing, and butter, that thou hast forsaken the Lorde thy God, and that my feare is not in thee, saith the Lord God of hostes. 20 For of olde time I haue broken thy poke, and burst thy bondes, and thou wert their deilest, f I wil no more transgresse, but like an harlot thou runnest about vpon all the hilles, & vnder all greene trees, g I sheweth, that the insensible creatures abhorre this vile ingratitude, and as it were, tremble for feare of Gods great iudgements against the fame. t Signifying, that when men forsake Gods word, which is the fontaine of life, they reiect God him selfe, and so fall to their owne vntentions, and vaine confidence, and procure to them selues destruction, Iona. 2. 8 zach. 10. 2. u Haue I ordered them like seruants, and not like dearly beloved children? 21 Pet I had planted thee, a noble vine, whose plants were all naturall: how then art thou turned vnto mee into the plants of a strange vine?

22 Though thou washest thee with senners, and take thee much loue, yet thine iniquitie is marked before mee, saith the Lord God.

23 How canst thou say, I am not polluted, neither haue I followed Baalim? beholde thy wapes in the valley, and know what thou hast done: thou art like a swift boundarie, that runneth by his wapes.

24 And as a wilde asse, tied to the wildernes, that snuffeth by the wind by occasion at her pleasure: who can turne her backe? all they that seeke her, wil not weary themselves, but will finde her in her month.

25 Keepe thou thy feet from barenesse, and thy thorne from thrist: but thou failest desperately, for, for I haue loued strangers, and them wil I soloue.

26 As the thiefe is ashamed, when hee is founde, so is the house of Israel ashamed, they, their kings, their princes and their Priestes, and their prophets,

27 Saying to a tree, Thou art my father, and to a stone, Thou hast begotten mee: for they haue turned their backe vnto mee, and not their face: but in the time of their trouble they wil say, Write, and helpe vs.

28 But where are thy gods, that thou hast made thee? let them arise, if they can helpe thee in the time of thy trouble: for according to the number of thy cities, are thy gods, in Iudah.

29 Wherefore will ye pleade with mee? ye all haue rebelled against me, saith the Lord.

30 I haue smitten your children in baine, they receiued no correction: your owne sworde hath denounced your Prophets like a destroying Ipon.

31 Degeneration, take heed to the word of the Lord: haue I bin as a wilderness vnto Israel: or a land of darkenes? Where saith my people thee, We are thy gods.

Meaning, that idolaters spoyle God of his honour: & whereas he hath taught to call him father of all flesh, they attribute this title to their idoles.

32 Thou thoughtest that thy gods of blocks & stones could haue holpen thee, because they were many in number & present in euery place: but now let vs see whether either multitude, or their presence can deliuer thee from my plague, Cha. II. 13.

33 As though I did you iniury in punishing you, seeing your faults are so euident. r That is, you haue killed your Prophets, & exhorted you to repenitance, as Zechariah, Isaiah, &c. s Haue I not giuen them abundance of all things? t But will trust in our owne power and policie.

We will come no more vnto thee?

32 Can a made forget her ornament, or a byde her attire? yet my people haue forgotten me, sayes without number.

33 Why doest thou prepare thy way, to seeke amities? euen therfore wil I teach thee, that thy wapes are wickednes.

34 Alho in thy wings is found the blood of the soules of the poore innocents: I haue not found it in holes, but vpon all these places.

35 Pet thou sapest, Because I am gittles, surely his wrath shall turne from mee: beholde, I will enter with thee into iudgement, because thou sapest, I haue not sinned.

36 Why runnest thou about so much to change thy wapes? for thou shalt be founded of Egypt, as thou art founded of Asshur.

37 For thou shalt go forth from thence, & thine hands vpon thyne head, because the Lord hath reiected thy confidence, and thou shalt not prosper thereby.

CHAP. III.

God calleth his people vnto repentance. 14 He promisseth the restitution of his Church. 20 He representeth Iudah & Israel, comparing them to a woman disobedient to her husband.

1 Thy wife, & thee go from him, & become another mans, shall hee returne againe vnto her? shall not this land be polluted? but thou hast played the harlot with many louers: pet d turne as game to me, saith the Lord.

2 Lift vp thine eyes vnto the hie places, and behold, where thou hast not played the harlot: thou hast sit waying for them in the wapes, as the Arabian in the wilderness: and thou hast polluted the lande with thy whoredomes, and with thy malice.

3 Therefore the shewes haue bene restrained, & the later raine came not, & thou haddest a whoredomes forehead: thou wouldest not be ashamed.

4 Wouldest thou not still crye vnto mee, Thou art my father, and the gubde of my mouth?

5 Will hee keepe his anger for euer? will hee referre it to the ende? thus hast thou spoken, but thou doest euill, euen more and more.

6 The Lord said also vnto me, in the daies of Iosiah the King, Hast thou seene what this rebel Israel hath done? for she hath gone by vpon euery high mooraine, and vnder euery greene tree, and there played the harlot.

7 And I sayde, when shee had done all this, Turne thou vnto mee: but shee f As God threatened by his Lawe, Deut. 28. 24.

g Thou wouldest neuer be ashamed of thine aces and repenitance: & this impudencie is common to idolaters, which will not gine of, though they bee neuer so manifestly convicted. h He sheweth that the wicked in their miseries will crye vnto God and vse outward prayer as the godly doe, but because they turne not from their euill, they are not heard, Isa. 58. 3. 4. Meaning, the ten tribes.

returned not, as her rebellious sister Judah saue.

8 When I saue, how that by all occasions rebellious Israel had played the harlot, I cast her away, and gaue her a bit of dimockement: yet her rebellious sister Judah was not afraid, but the woe also, and played the harlot.

9 So that for the wickednesse of her whosedome thee hath enen defiled the land: for she hath committed fornication with stones and stockes.

10 Neuertheless for all this, her rebell-ous sister Judah hath not returned vnto mee wih her whole heart, but fayenedly, saith the Lord,

11 And the Lord said vnto me, The rebel-lous Israel hath mistified her selfe more then the rebellious Judah,

12 Goe and crie these wordes towarde the North and sape, Thou disobediest Israel, returne, sayeth the Lorde, and I will not let my wrath fall vpon you: for I am mercifull, sayeth the Lorde, and I wil not alway keepe mine anger.

13 But knowe thine iniquitie: for thou hast rebelled againt the Lord thy God, and hast scattered thy wayes to the strange gods vnder euery greene tree, but pe would not obey my voyce, saith
the Lord.

14 O pee disobedient children, turne againe, sayeth the Lorde, for I am your Lord, and I will take you one of a citie, and two of a tribe and wil bring you to Zion,

15 And I wil giue you pastors according to mine heart, which shal feed you with knowledge and vnderstanding.

16 Moreover, when pee be increased and multiplied in the lande, in those dayes, sayeth the Lorde, they shall sape no more,
The Marke of the covenant of the Lord:
for it shal come no more to minde, neither shall they remember it; neither shal they visit it, for that shal be no more done.

17 At that tyme they shall call Jerusalem, The throne of the Lorde, and all the nations shall be gathered vnto it, euen to the Name of the Lorde in Jerusalem: and thence forth they shall follow no more the hardnesse of their wicked heart.

18 In those dayes the house of Judah shal walke with the house of Israel, and they shall come together out of the land of the North, into the lande, that I haue giuen for an inheritance vnto your fathers.

19 But I said, Howe did I take thee for children and giue thee a pleasant lande, eue the glorious heritage of the armie of the heathen, and said, Thou shalt call me, saying, My father, & shalt not turne from mee?

20 But as a woman rebelleth againt her husbande: so haue pe rebelled againt me, O house of Israel, saith the Lord.

21 A voyce was heard vpon the hie plasces, weeping and supplications of the children of Israel: for they haue peruerted their waye, and forgotten the Lorde their God.

22 O pee disobedient children, returne and I will heale your rebellions. Beholde, we come vnto thee, for thou art the Lord our God.

23 Truly the hope of the hilles is but vaine, nor the multitude of mountaine:
but in the Lorde our God is the health of Israel.

24 For confusion hath denoured our fathers labour, fro our pouth then theye and their bullockes, their soimes and their daughters.

25 We lye downe in our confusion, & our shame couereth vs: for we haue sinned againt the Lorde our God, we and our fathers from our pouth, euen vnto this daye, and haue not obeyed the voyce of the Lorde our God.

CHAP. IIII.

1 True repentance, 4 He exhortheth to the circumcision of the heart. 5 The destruction of Iudah is prophetic, for the malice of their hearts. 19 The Prophet lamenteth it.

1 O Israel, if thou returne, a returne vnto mee, sayth the Lorde: and if thou put away thine abominations out of my sight, then shalt thou not remoue.

2 And thou shalt sweare, The Lorde is truth in truth, in iudgement, & in righteousnesse, & the nations shall be blessed in him, and shal glory in him.

3 For thus saith the Lorde to the men of Judah, and to Jerusalem,

4 Breake vp your fallowe ground, and sow not among the thornes: be circumcised to the Lorde, and take away the forekinnes of your hartes, ye men of Judah, and inhabitants of Jerusalem, least my wrath come forth like fire, and burne, that none can quench it, because of the wickednesse of your manen-tures.

5 Declare in Judah, and shewe forth in Jerusalem, and say, Blow the trumpet in the lande: cry, and gather together, & say, Assemble your selves, and let vs go into strong citie.

6 Set by the standard in Zion: prepare

truction.

4 Therefore I said, Surely they are poore, they are foolish, for they knowe not the way of the Lorde, nor the iudgement of their God.

5 I wil get me vnto the great men, and wil speake vnto them: for they haue knowne the way of the Lorde, and the iudgement of their God: but these haue altogether broken the yoke, and burst the bonds.

6 Wherefore I alpon out of the forest shall scape them, and a wolfe of the wilderness shall destroy them: a leopard shall watche ouer their cities: euery one that goeth out thence, shall be toyne in pieces, because their trespasses are many, and their rebellions are increased.

7 How should I spare thee for this: thy children haue forsaken me, and sworne by them that are no gods: though I fed them to the full, yet they committed adultery, and assembled themselves by companies in the harlots houses.

8 They rose by in the morning like fedde horses: for euery man neped after his neighbours wife.

9 Shall I not visit for these things, saith the Lord? Shall not my soule be auenged on such a nation as this?

10 Cline by vpon their walles, and destroy them, but make not a full ende: take away their battlements, for they are not the Lords.

11 For the house of Israel, and the house of Iudah haue grievously trespassed against me, saith the Lord.

12 They haue denied the Lord, and said, It is not he, neither shall the plague come vnto vs, neither shall we see sword nor famine.

13 And the Prophets shalbe as lwinde, and the worde is not in them: thus shall it come vnto them.

14 Wherefore thus saith the Lord God of hostes, Because ye speake such wordes, behold, I wil put my words into thy mouth, like a fire, and this people shall be as wood, and it shall deuoure them.

15 Lo, I will bring a nation vpon you from farre, O house of Israel, saith the Lord, which is a mighty nation, and an ancient nation, a nation whose language thou knowest not, nei- ther understandest what they say.

16 Whose quiner is as an open sepulchur: they are all very strong.

17 And they shall eate thyne harvest and thy bread: they shall deuoure thy sonnes and thy daughters: they shall eate vpon thy sheepe and thy bullockes: they shall eate thy vines & thy figtrees: they shall destroy with the sword thy fenced cities, wherein thou didest trust.

18 Nevertheless at those dayes, saith the Lorde, I will not make a full ende of you.

19 And when ye shall see, Wherefore doeth the Lorde our God doe these things vnto vs? then shalt thou answer them, like as ye haue forsaken me and serued strange goddes in your lande, so shall ye serue strangers in a lande that is not yours.

20 Declare this in the house of Iacob, and publish it in Iudah, Sarnum, 21 Heare nowe this, O holily people, & without understanding, which haue eyes and see not, which haue eares & heare not.

22 Feare ye not me, saith the Lorde: for I will ye not be afraide at my presence, which haue placed the land for the bounds of the sea by the perpetuall decree that it can not passe it, & though the waues thereof rage, yet can they not preuaile, though they roare, yet can they not passe ouer it.

23 But this people hath an unfaithfull and rebellious heart: they are departed and gone.

24 For they sape not in their heart, Let vs now feare the Lord our God, that quietly raine both early and late in due season: he reserueth vnto vs the appointed weekes of the harvest.

25 Yet your iniquities haue turned away these things, & your finnes haue hindered good things from you.

26 For among my people are founde wicked persons, that lay waite as hee that setteth snares: they haue made a pit to catch men.

27 As a cage is full of birdes, so are their houses full of deceit: thereby they are become great and warden rich.

28 They are ware of fat and thynning: they doe ouerpasse the debtes of the wicked: they exercise no iudgement, no not the iudgement of the fatherlesse: yet they prosper, though they exercise no iudgement for the poore.

29 Shall I not visite for these things, saith the Lord? or shall not my soule be auenged on such a nation as this?

 4 Prepare warre against her: arise, and let vs goe by towards the South: wo vnto vs: for the day declineth, and the shadowes of the evening are stretched out.
 5 Arise, and let vs goe by by night, and destroy her palaces.
 6 For thus hath the Lord of hostes said, Hewe downe wood, and cast a mount against Ierusalem: this cite must be build: all oppression is in the middes of it.
 7 As the fountaine casteth out her wa- ters, so she casteth out her malice: & crucie and spoile is continually heard in her before me with sorowe and strokes.
 8 As thou instructed, O Ierusalem, lett my soule depart from thee, lest I make thee desolate as a lande, that none inha- bith.
 9 Thus saith the Lorde of hostes, They shall gather as a vine, the residue of Is- rael: turne I backe thine hand as the grape gatherer into the baskets.
 10 Vnto whom shall I speake, and ad- mouise that they may heare? beholde, their eares are ^k uncircumcised, & they cannot hearken: beholde, the worde of the Lorde is vnto them as a reproche: they haue no desire in it.
 11 Therefore I am full of the wrath of the Lorde: I am weary with holding it: I will poure it out vpon the children in the streete, and likewise vpon the as- semble of the young men: for the hus- band shall euen be taken with the wife, and the aged with him that is full of daies.
 12 And their houses with their lands, and wines also shall be turned vnto stran- gers: for I will stretch out mine hand vpon the inhabitants of the land, sayth the Lorde.
 13 For from the least of them, euen vnto the greatest of them, euery one is giuen vnto couetousnesse, and from the pros- per euen vnto the Priest, they al deale falsly.
 14 They haue healed also the hurt of the daughter of my people with sweete wordes, saying, Peace, peace, when there is no peace.
 15 Euen theye ashamed when they had committed abomination: nay, they were not ashamed, no neither coude they haue any shame: therefore they shall fall among the flaine: when I shall visite them, they shall be cast downe, saith the Lorde.
 16 Thus saith the Lorde, Stand in the waies and behold, and aske for the old way, which is the good way and walke therein, and ye shall finde rest for your soules: but they said, We wil not walke therein.

17 Also I let swatchmen ouer you, which fade, Take heed to the founde of the trumpet: but they saide, We wil not take heed.
 18 Yeare therefore, ye Gentiles, and thou Congregation knowe, what is among them.
 19 Heare, O earth, beholde, I will cause a plague to come vpon this people, euen the fruit of their owne imagina- tions: because they haue not taken heed vnto my wordes, nor to my Lawe, but cast it of.
 20 To what purpose bringest thou me incense from Sheba, and sweete cala- mus from a farre countrey? Your burnt offerings are not pleasant, nor your sacrifices sweete vnto me.
 21 Therefore thus saith the Lorde, Be- holde, I will lape stumbling blockes before this people, and the fathers and the sonnes together shall fall vpon them: the neighbour and his friende shall perishe.
 22 Thus saith the Lorde, Beholde, a peo- ple cometh from the North coun- trey, and a great nation shall arise from the sides of the earth.
 23 With bowe and shielde shall they be weaponed: they are cruel and wil haue no compassion: their voyce roareth like the sea, and they ride vpon horses, well appointed, like men of warre against thee, O daughter Zion.
 24 We haue hearde their fame, and our hands were feeble: sorowe is come vpon vs, as the sorowe of a woman in trauaile.
 25 Goe not forth into the field, nor walke by the way: for the sword of the enemy and feare is on euery side.
 26 O daughter of my people, gird thee with sackcloth, and wallowe thy selfe in ashes: make lamentation, and bitter mourning as for thine onely sonne: for the destroyer shall suddenly come vpon vs.
 27 I haue set thee for a defence and fortres among my people, that thou ma- est knowe and trie thy waies.
 28 They are al rebellious traitours, wal- king craftily: they are byasse, and yon, they all are destroyers.

 of Israel, * Amend your wayes and your workes, and I will let you dwell in this place.

4 Trust not in a lying wordes, saying,
 The Temple of the Lord, the Temple of the Lord: this is the Temple of the Lord.

5 For if you amende and redresse your wayes and your workes: if you creeute iudgement betwene a man and his neighbour,

6 And oppress not the stranger, the fatherlesse and the widowe, and shed no innocent blood in this place, neither walke after other gods to your destruction,

7 Then will I let you dwell in this place in the land that I gaue vnto your fathers, for ever and euer.

8 Beholde, you trust in lying wordes, that can not profite.

9 Will you steale, murder, and commit aduerture and sweare falsly and burne incense vnto Baal, and walke after other gods whom ye know not?

10 And come and stand before me in this House, whereupon my Name is called, and saye, We are deliuered, though we haue done all these abominations:

11 Is this House become a den of theenes, whereupon my Name is called before your eyes? Beholde, euen I see it, saith the Lord.

12 But goe ye now vnto my place which was in Shilo, where I set my Name at the beginning, and beholde, what I did to it for the wickednesse of my people Israel.

13 Therefore now because ye haue done all these workes, saith the Lord, (and I rose vp a earely and spake vnto you: but when I spake, ye would not heare me, neither when I called, would ye an-swere)

14 Therefore will I do vnto this House, whereupon my Name is called, wherein also ye trust, euen vnto the place that I gaue to you and to your fathers, as I haue done vnto Shilo.

15 And I will cast y^e out of my sight, as I haue cast out all your brethren, euen the whole seede of Ephraim.

16 Therefore thou shalt not pray for this people, neither lift vp crye or prayer for them: neither intreate me, for I will not heare thee.

17 Sעת thou not what they doe in the cities of Iudah and in the streets of Jerusalem?

18 The children gather wood, and the fathers kinde the fire, and the women kinde the dough to make cakes to the Queene of heauen and to powre but drinke offerings vnto other gods, that they may prouoke me vnto anger.

19 Doe they prouoke me to anger, sayth the Lord, and not themselves to the confusion of their owne faces?

20 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, mine anger and my wrath shall be powred vpon this place, vpon man and vpon beast, and vpon the tree of the felde and vpon the fruite of the ground, and it shall burne and not be quenched.

21 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, But your burnt offerings vnto your sacrifices, and eate the flesh.

22 For I spake not vnto your fathers, nor commanded them, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, concerning burnt offerings and sacrifices.

23 But this thing commanded I them, saying, Obey my voyce, and I will be your God, and ye shall be my people: and walke ye in all the wayes which I haue commanded you, that it may be well vnto you.

24 But they would not obey, nor incline their eare, but went after the counsils and the stubbernesse of their wicked heart, and went backward and not forward.

25 Since the day that your fathers came vp out of the land of Egypt, vnto this day, I haue euen sent vnto you all my seruants the Prophets, m rising v^y early euerly day, and sending them.

26 Yet would they not heare me: neither chide their eare, but hardened their necke and did worse then their fathers.

27 Therefore shalt thou speake all these wordes vnto them, but they will not heare thee: thou shalt also crie vnto the,
 but they will not answer thee.

28 But thou shalt say vnto them, This is a nation that heareth not the voyce of the Lord their God, nor receiue th^e discipline: truth is perished, and is cleane gone out of their mouth.

29 Out of thine heare, O Jerusalem, and call it away, and take vp a complaint

32 Therefore behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that it shall no more be called Topheth, nor the valley of Ben Hinnom, but the valley of slaughter: for they shall bury in Topheth till there be no place.

33 And the carcases of this people shall be meat for the fowls of the heaven and for the beasts of the earth, and none shall fray them away.

34 Then I will cause to cease from the cities of Judah and from the streets of Jerusalem the voice of mirth and the voice of gladness, the voice of the brides gone and the voice of the bride: for the land shall be desolate.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The destruction of the lewes. 4 The Lord moueth the people to amendment. 10 He reprehendeth the heing doctrine and the conceitousness of the prophets and priests.

1 At that time, saith the Lord, they shall bring out the bones of the kings of Judah, and the bones of their princes, and the bones of the priests and the bones of the prophets, and the bones of the inhabitants of Jerusalem out of their graves.

2 And they shall spread them before the sunne and the moone, and all the hoste of heauen, whom they haue loued, and whom they haue serued, and whom they haue followed, and whom they haue sought, and whom they haue worshipped: they shall not be gathered nor be buried, but shall be as dung upon the earth.

3 And death shall be desired rather then life of all the residue that remaineth of this wicked familie, which remaine in all the places where I haue scattered them, saith the Lord of hostes.

4 Thou shalt say vnto them also, Thus saith the Lord, Shall they fall and not arise? shall he turne away and not turne againe?

5 Wherefore is this people of Jerusalem turned backe by a perpetual rebellion? they gaue themselves to deceit, and would not returne.

6 I hearkened and heard, but none spake aright: no man repented him of his wickednes, saying, What haue I done? euerie one turned to their race, as the heuse rusheth into the battel.

7 When the doxke in the aire knoweth her appointed times, & the turtle and the crane & the swallow obserue the time of their coming, but my people knoweth not the iudgement of the Lord.

8 How doe ye say, Wee are wise, and the lawe of the Lord is with vs? Lo, certeinly in vaine made he it, the pen of the scribes is in vaine.

9 The wise men are ashamed: they are afraid and taken, lo, they haue reiected the word of the Lord, & what wisdom is in them?

10 Therefore will I aue their wines vnto others, & their fields to them: I shall possesse them: * for euery one from the least euen vnto the greatest is giuen to conuocousnes, & from the prophet euen vnto a Priest, euery one dealeth falsely.

11 For they haue hated the hurt of the daughter of my people with sweete wordes, saying, Peace, peace, when there is no peace.

12 Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not ashamed, neither coulde they haue any shame: therefore shall they fall among the same: when I shall visit them, they shall be cast downe, saith the Lord.

13 I will surely consume them, saith the Lord: there shall be no grapes on the vine, nor figs on the figtree, & the leafe shall fade, and the things that I haue giuen them, shall depart from them.

14 Why do we stay? assemble your selues, and let vs enter into the strong cities, & let vs be quiet there: for the Lord our God hath put vs to silence and giuen vs water with gall to drinke, because we haue sinned against the Lord.

15 We looked for peace, but no good came, and for a time of health, and behold troubles.

16 The neyng of his horses was heard from Dan, the whole land trembled at the noise of the neyng of his strong horses: for they are come, and haue deuoured the land with all that is in it, the cite, and those that dwell therein.

17 For behold, I will send serpents, and cockatrices among you, which will not be charmed, and they shall sting you, saith the Lord.

18 I would haue comforted my selfe against sorrow, but mine heart is heauie in me.

19 Beholde, the voyce of the cry of the daughter of my people for feare of them of a farre countrey, Is not the Lord in Zion? is not her king in her? Why haue they provoked me to anger with their grauen images, and with the vanities of a strange god?

20 The harvest is past, the summer is ended and we are not holpen.

21 I am sore vexed for the hurt of the daughter of my people: I am heauie, and astonishment hath taken me.

22 Is there no balm in Gilead? is there no Physitian there? Why then is not the health of the daughter of my people recovered? priests who should haue bene the Physitions of their soules, and dwelt at Gilead. Hof 6.8.

CHAP. IX.

1 The complaint of the Prophet for the malice of the people. 24 In the knowledge of God ought we onely to reioyce. 26 The vncircumcision of the heart.

1 O that mine head were full of water, and mine eyes a fontaine of teares, that I might weep day and night for this people, seeing I see could never sufficiently lament the destruction of Ierusalem. Which is a special note to discern the true pastours from the hirelings. Read Chap. 4. 19. & 24.

Exek. 24. 13.

a The enimie for griedines of gaine shall rylle your graues, and lay you before those idoles, which in your life you worshipped, to see if they can helpe you.

b Because of the afflictions y they shal feel through Gods iudgements.

c Is there no hope, that they wil returne?

d They are full of hypocricie, & euery one followeth his owne fantasie without any consideration.

e He accuseth them in y that they are more ignorant of Gods iudgements, then these birds are of their appointed seasons to discern y colde, and heat, as Isa. 1. 3.

f The Law doth not profit you, neither neede it to haue bene written for ought that you haue learned by it.

g They that seeme wise, may be ashamed of their ignorance: for all wisdom consisteth in Gods worde.

i He speaketh in the person of the people, who whie the onmic commeth, will runne about to hide themselves, and acknowledge that it is Gods hand.

k That is, hath brought vs into extreme affliction, & thus they shall not attribute this plague to fortune, but to Gods iust iudgement. Chap. 9. 15. & 23. 15.

n God threatheneth to send the Babylonians among them, who shal vterly destroy them in such sort as by no means they shall escape.

o Thus the Lord speaketh.

p The people wonder that they haue so long time looked for succour in vaine.

q The Prophet speaketh this.

r Meaning, that no mans help or meane could faine them: for in Gilead was precious balm, Chap. 46. 11, or els deriding the vaine confidence of the people who looked for helpe at their

c Vterly turned from God.

d To belie, and slander their neighbours.

e Meaning, that all were corrupt and none could finde an honest man.

f They have so practised deceite that they cannot forsake it.

g They had rather forsake God, then leaue their wicked trade.

h With the fire of affliction.

Psal. 12. 3. & 120. 4.

i Signifying that all the places about Ierusalem should be destroyed.

k Meaning, that they are al without sense, & vnderstanding, and that God hath taken his Spirit from them.

l He sheweth that y children cannot excuse themselves by their fathers: for both father, and child, if they be wicked, shall perish.

n Seing you can not lament your owne finnes, call for those foolish women, whome of a superstition you haue to lament for the dead, that they by their fained teares may provoke you to some sorrowe.

teares, that I might weepe dape and night for the flaine of the daughter of my people.

2 Wh, that I had in the wilderness a broctage of waftaring men, that I might leaue my people, and go from them: for they be al adulterers and an assemblie of rebels,

3 And they bend their tongues like their bowes for lies: but they haue no courage for the truely upon the earth: for they procede from euil to worse, & they haue not knowne me, saith the Lord.

4 Let euery one take hede of his neighbour, & trust pou not in any brother: for euery brother wil bee deceite, and euery friend wil deale deceitfully.

5 And euery one wil deceiue his friend, & wil not speake the truth: for they haue taught their tongues to speake lies, and take great paines to do wickedly.

6 Thine habitation is in the middes of deceiuers: because of their deceite they refuse to know me, saith the Lord.

7 Therefore thus saith y Lord of hostes, Beholde, I wil melt them, and tpe them: for what should I els doe for the daughter of my people?

8 Their tongue is as an arrow shot out, and speakech deceit: one speakech peaceably to his neighbour with his mouth, but in his heart he lapeth wait for him.

9 Shal I not visit them for these things, saith the Lord? or shall not my soule be auenged on such a nation as this?

10 Upon the mountaines wil I take by a weeping and a lamentation, & upon the faire places of the wilderness a mourning, because they are burnt up: so that none can passe through them, neither can men heare the voyce of the flocke: both the soule of the are, and the beast are fled away and gone.

11 And I wil make Ierusalem an heape, and a den of dragons, and I will make the cities of Iudah waste, without an inhabitant.

12 Who is wise, to vnderstand this, and to vnhome the mouth of the Lorde hath spokē, euen he shal declare it. Why doth the lord be the lunde peris, and is burnt up like a wilderness, that none passeth through?

13 And the lord saith, Because they haue forsaken my Lawe, which I set before them, and haue not obeyed my voice, neither walked thereafter, 14 But haue walked after the stubbornnes of their owne heart, & after Baalims, which their fathers taught them.

15 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Behold, I will feede this people with wormewood, and giue them waters of gall to drink:

16 I will scatter them also among y heathen, whome neither they nor their fathers haue knowe, & I will send a sword after them, till I haue consumed them.

17 Thus saith the Lorde of hostes, Take herbe, and call for y mourning women, that they may come, and sende for skillfull women that they may come,

18 And let them make halte, and let them take by a lamentation for vs, that our eyes may cast out teares and our eye liddes giue the out of water.

19 For a lamentable noyse is hearde out of Zion, how are we destroyed, and vterly confounded, for we haue forsaken the land, and our dwellings haue cast vs out.

20 Therefore heare the word of the Lord, O ye women, and let pour eares regard the wordes of his mouth, and p teache pour daughters to mourne, and euery one her neighbour to lament.

21 For y death is come by into our windows, and is entred into our palaces, to destroy the children without, and the pong men in the streetes.

22 Speake, thus saith the Lord, The carkeles of men shall lie, euen as the douing upon the field, and as the handfull after the mower, and none shall gather them.

23 Thus saith the Lord, Let not the wise man gloyp in his wisdom, nor the strong man gloyp in his strength, neither the rich man gloyp in his riches.

24 But let him that gliorieth, gloyp in this, that hee vnderstandeth, and knoweth me: for I am the Lord, which shewe mercie, iudgement, and righteousness in the earth: for in these things I deite, saith the Lord.

25 Behold, the dapes come, saith y Lord, that I wil visit al them, which are circuncised with the burcircumcise:

26 Egypt and Iudah, and Edoim, and the children of Amnon, and Moab, and all the vtmost corners of them that dwell in the wilderness: for all these nations are burcircumcised, and al the house of Israel are burcircumcised in y heart.

o Asthough they were weary of vs, because of our iniquities, Leuit. 18. 28. and 20. 22.

p He derideth the superstition of the women, which made an arte of mourning, & taught to weepe with fained teares.

q Signifying, that there is no means to deliuer the wicked fro Gods iudgements: but when they thinke to be most sure, and most farr off, then are they the soonest taken: For asmuch as none can saue himselfe by his owne labour or any worldly meanes, he sheweth that it is in vaine to put our trust therein, but that we trust in the Lorde, and in the children of Amnon, and Moab, reioyce in him, who onely can deliuer vs, 1. Cor. 1. 31. 2. cor. 10. 17.

r These three points are necessary to know aright: his mercy, wherein consisteth our saluation: his iudgement, which he executeth continually against the wicked, & his iustice, whereby he defendeth, and maintaineth the faithfull.

s Meaning, both Iewes & Gentiles, as in the next verse he sheweth the cause, read chap. 4. 4.

1 The constellations of the starres are not to be feared. 2 The weaknes of idoles, and of the power of God. 3 Their passions are become brut beastes.

1 HEARE ye the word of the Lorde which he speakech vnto pou, O House of Israel.

2 Thus saith the Lorde, Learne not the way of the heathen, and be not afraid of the signes of heaumen, though the heathen be afraid of such.

3 For the customes of the people are vaine: for one curteth a tree out of the forest (which is the worke of the handes of the carpenter) with the axe, gouerned by him, and their secret motions and influences are not known to man, & therefore there can be no certaine iudgement thereof. Deut. 18. 9. b Meaning not onely in the obseruation of the starres, but their Lawes and ceremonies whereby they confirme their idolatrie, which is forbidden, Deut. 12. 30.

k The Prophet willett ° y Lewes to prepare them felues to this captiuitie, shewing that it was now at hand, that they should feele the things, whereof he had told them. l It is my iust plague, & therefore I will take it patiently: whereby he teacheth the people howe to be-haue themselves towards God. m He sheweth howe Ierusalem shall lament. n The gouernours and ministers. o Reade Chap. 4. 1. 5. p He speaketh this, because that Nebuchad-nezzar purposed to haue made war against the Moabites & Ammonites, but hearing of Zedekiahs rebellion, he turned his power to go against Ierusalem, Ezek. 21. 21. therefore the Prophet saith, that this was the Lordes direction. q Considering that God had reuiled vnto him the certitude of their captiuitie, Chap. 7. 16. he onely praiech, that he would punish them with mercie, which I saiah calleth, in measure, Chap. 27. 8. measuring his rods by their infirmities, 1. Cor. 10. 13. for here by iudgement is ment not onely the punishment, but also the mercifull moderation of the same, as Chap. 30. 11. r For as much as God can not onely be known and glorified by his mercie, that he vieth toward his Church, but also by his iustice in punishing his enemies, he praiech that his glorie may fully appeare both in the one and the other, Psal. 79. 6.
