

THE HOLY BIBLE

FAITHFULLY TRANSLATED INTO ENGLISH OUT OF the authentical Latin, diligently conferred with the Hebrew, Greek, & other Editions in diuers languages:

*With Arguments of the Bookes and Chapters, Annotations, Tables, & other helps, for better vnderstanding of the text:
for discouerie of Corruptions in some late translations:
and for clearing Controuersies in Religion.*

By the English Colledge of Dowvay.

Haurietis aquas in gaudio de fontibus Saluatoris. Isaia. 12.

You shal draw waters in ioy out of the Sauours fountaines.

Printed by IOHN COVSTVRIER.

PERMISSV SUPERIORVM.

M. DC. XXXV.

APPROBATIO.

NOS infra scripti, in alma Duacensi vniuersitate Sacrae Theologiae Doctores & Professores, hanc Anglicanam Veteris Testamenti translationem, quam tres diuersi eius nationis eruditissimi Theologi, non solum fidelem, sed propter diuersa quae ei sunt adiuncta, valde vtilem fidei Catholicae propagandae actuendae, & bonis moribus promouendis, sumi testati: quorum testimonia ipsorum syngraphis munita vidimus; cuius item Translationis & Annotationum auctores nobis de fidei integritate, & eruditionis praestantia probe sunt noti: his rebus adducti & nixi, fructuose euulgari posse censuimus. Duaci 8. Nouembris. 1609.

GVILLELMVS ESTIVS Sacrae Theologiae Doctor, & in Academia Duacensi Professor.

BARTHOLOMAEVS PETRVS Sacrae Theologiae Doctor, & in Vniuersitate Duacensi Professor.

GEORGIVS COLVENERIVS S. Theologiae Doctor, & eiusdem in Academia Duacena Professor.

T O
T H E R I G H T
W E L B E L O V E D
 E N G L I S H R E A D E R G R A C E A N D
 G L O R I E I N I E S V S C H R I S T
 E V E R L A S T I N G .

T L A S T through Gods goodnes (most dearely beloued) we send you here the greater part of the Old Testament, as long since you received the New, faithfully translated into English. The residue is in hand to be finished: and your desire thereof shal not now (God prospering our intention) be long frustrate. As for the impediments, which hitherto haue hindred this worke, they al proceeded (as many doe know) of one general cause, our poore estate in banishment. Wherein expecting better meanes, greater difficulties rather ensued. Neuertheles you wil hereby the more perceiue our feruent good wil, euer to serue you, in that we haue brought forth this Tome, in the hardest times, of aboute forty yeares, since this College was most happily begun. Wherefore we nothing doubt, but you our dearett, for whom we haue dedicated our liues, wil both pardon the long delay, which we could not preuent, and accept now this fruit of our labours, with like good affection, as we acknowledge them due, and offer the same vnto you.

The cause of delay in setting forth this English Bible.

If any demand, why it is now allowed to haue the holy Scriptures in vulgar tongs, which generally is not permitted

Why and how it is allowed to haue helie Scriptures in Anno.

1600.

TO THE ENGLISH READER.

vulgar tonges.

Scriptures being hard are not to be read of al. Many take harme by reading holy Scriptures.

Reading of Scriptures moderated.

Scriptures translated into diuers tonges.

but in the three sacred only, for further declaration of this and other like points we remit you to the Preface before the New Testament. Only here, as by an Epitome, we shal repeat the summe of al that is there more largely discussed. To this first question therefore we answer, that both iust reason & highest authority of the Church, iudge it not absolutely necessary, nor alwayes conuenient, that holy Scriptures should be in vulgar tonges. For being as they are, hard to be vnderstood, euen by the learned, reason doth dictate to reasonable men, that they were not writtē nor ordained to be read indifferētly of al men. Experiēce also teacheth, that through ignorāce, ioyned oftē with pride & presumption, many reading Scriptures haue erred grossly by misunderstanding Gods word. Which though it be more pure in it-self, yet the sēse being adulterated is as perilous (saith Tertul.) as the stile corrupted. S. Amb. obserueth, that where the text is true, the Ariāns interpretation hath errours. S. August. also teacheth, that heresies & peruerse doctrines, entāgling soules, & throwing thē downe headlōg into the depth, doe not other wise spring vp but when good (or true) Scriptures are not wel (& truly) vnderstood, & whē that, which in thē is not wel vnderstood, is also rashly & boldly auouced. For the same cause S. Hierome vtterly disallowed, that al sorts of men & womē, old & yong, presumed to read & talke of the Scriptures: wheras no artizen, no trades-man dare presume to teach anie facultie, which he hath not first learned. Seeing therefore that dāgers and hurts happen in manie, the careful chief Pastours in Gods Church haue alwaies moderated the reading of holy Scriptures, according to persōs, times, & other circūstances; prohibiting some, and permitting some, to haue & read thē in their mother tong. So S. Chriſo. trāslated the Psalmes & some other parts of holy Scriptures for the Armeniāns, when he was there in banishment. The Slauoniāns & Goths say they haue the Bible in their languages. It was trāslated into Italiā by an Archbishop of Genua. Into French in the time of King Charls the Fift, especially because the waldensian heretikes had corruptly translated it, to maintaine their errours. We had some parts in English trāslated by Venerable Bede, as Malmesburie witnesseth. And Thomas Arundel, Archbishop of Canturburie, in a Councel holden at Oxford, strictly ordained, that no heretical translation set forth by wicliffe & his cōplices, nor anie other vulgar Edition should be suffered, til it were approued by the Ordinarie of the Diocese

lib. de Prefcrip. lib. 2. ad Gratiā. c. 1. Traſt. 18. in Ioan. Epist. 103. c. 6.

Bibl. Sanct. lib. 4.

lib. 1. Hist. c. 47. Linwed lib. 1.

alledging

TO THE ENGLISH READER.

alleging S. Hieroms iudgement of the difficultie & danger in translating holie Scriptures out of one tong into an other. And therefore it must needs be much more dangerous, when ignorant people read also corrupted translations. Now since Luther and his folowers haue pretended, that the Catholike Romane faith & doctrine should be contrarie to Gods written word, & that the Scriptures were not suffered in vulgar languages lest the people should see the truth, & withal these new Maisters corruptly turning the Scriptures into diuers tongs, as might best serue their owne opinions; against this false suggestion and practise, Catholike Pastours haue, for one especial remedie, set forth true & sincere Traslations in most languages of the Latin Church: But so, that people must read thē with licence of their spiritual Superiour, as in former times they were in like sort limited. Such also of the Laitie, yea and of the meaner learned Clergie, as were permitted to read holy Scriptures, did not presume to interpret hard places, nor high Mysteries, much lesse to dispute and contend, but leauing the discussion therof to the more learned, searched rather & noted the godlie and imitable examples of good life, & so learned more humilitie, obedience, hatred of sinne, feare of God, zeale of Religiō, & other vertues. And thus holy Scriptures may be rightly vsed in anie tong, to teach, to argue, to correct, to instruct in iustice, that the mā of God may be perfect, & (as S. Paul addeth) instructed to euerie good worke, when men labour rather to be doers of Gods wil & word, then readers or hearers only, deceiuing thēselues.

A columnious suggestion of Lutherans.

What part of Scriptures be most conuenient for vulgar readers

2. Tim.
3.
Iac. 2.

But here another question may be proposed: Why we translate the Latin text, rather then the Hebrew; or Greeke, which Protestants preferre, as the fountaine tongs, wherein holie Scriptures were first written? To this we answer, that if indeed those first pure Editions were now extant, or if such as be extant were more pure then the Latin, we would also preferre such fountains before the riuers, in whatsoeuer they should be found to disagree. But the ancient best learned Fathers & Doctours of the Church, doe much complaine, and testifie to vs, that both the Hebrew and Greeke Editions are fouly corrupted by Iewes, and Heretikes, since the Latin was truly translated out of them, whiles they were more pure; and that the same Latin hath been farre better conserued from corruptions. So that the old Vulgate Latin Edition hath been prefer-

Why we translate the old Latin text.

More pure then the Hebrew or Greek now extant.

Tert. li.
3. cons.
Marcio
S. Amb.
li. 3. de Spiri.
Sā. c. 11.
S. Ieron.
li. 1. con.
Iouiniā.

TO THE ENGLISH READER.

red and vied for most authentical about a thousand and three hundred yeares. For by this very terme S. Hierome calleth that Version the vulgate or common, which he conferred with the Hebreu of the old Testament, and with the Greeke of the New; which he also purged from faults committed by writers, rather amending then translating it. Though in regard of this amending, S. Gregorie calleth it the new version of S. Hierome: who neuertheles in another place calleth the self-same, the old Latin Edition, iudging it most worthy to be followed. S. Augustin calleth it the Italian. S. Isidorus witnesseth that S. Hieroms version was receiued and approved by al Christian Churches. Sophronius also a most learned man, seeing S. Hieroms Editiō so much esteeme d, not only of the Latins, but also of the Grecians, returned the Psalter and Prophets out of the same Latin into Greeke. Of latter times what shal we need to recite other most learned men, S. Bede, S. Anselme, S. Bernard, S. Thomas, S. Bonauenture, & the rest? Who al vniformly alledge this only text as authentical. In so much that al other Latin Editions, which S. Hierome saith were in his time almost innumerable, are as it were fallen out of al Diuines hands, and growne out of credit and vse. If moreouer we consider S. Hieromes learning, pietie, diligence, and sincerity, together with the commodities he had of best copies in al languages then extant, and of other learned men with whom he conferred; and if we so compare the same with the best meanes that hath been since, surely no man of indiffent iudgement wil march any other Edition vvith S. Hieroms: but easily acknowvledge vvith the vvhole Church Gods particular prouidence in this great Doctour, as vvell for expounding, as most especially for the true text and Edition of Holy Scriptures. Neither doe vve fly vn-to this old Latin text for more aduantage: For, besides that it is free from partiality, as being most ancient of al Latin copies, and long before the particular Controuersies of these dayes began, the Hebreu also and the Greeke vvhen they are truly translated, yea and Erasmus his Latin, in sundry places proue more plainly the Catholike Roman doctrine, then this vvchich vve rely vpon. So that Beza and his follovers take also exception against the Greeke, vvhen Catholikes alledge it against them. Yea the same Beza preferreth the old Latin Version before al

Receiued by al Churches

Turned into Greeke.

Al others growne out of vse. S. Hierom excelled al other Doctours in translating & expounding holie Scriptures.

His Edition free from partialitie.

Preferred before al other Editions by Beza.

in 49. Isai. 2.

li. 20. c. 24. mor. Epist. dedicat. ad Leandr.

l. 2. Doc. Christ. c. 14. lib. 6. Esimol. c. 5. li. 1. de Diuin. offic. c. 12.

Prefat. in Iosue.

Luc. 12. v. 20. Prefat. Noni. T. flam. Anno. 1556.

Luc. 1. v. 1.

other s

TO THE ENGLISH READER.

others, and freely testifieth, that the old Interpreter translated religiously. What then doe our cuntrymen, that refuse this Latin, but depriue themselves of the best, and yet al this vvhile, haue set forth none, that is allowed by al Protestants for good or sufficient?

None yet in England allowed for sufficient.

Preface before the new Testament.

How wel this is done the learned may iudge, when by mature conference they shal haue made trial thereof. And if any thing be mistaken, we wil (as stil we promise) gladly correct it. Those that translated it about thirty yeares since, were wel knowne to the world, to haue been excellent in the tonges, sincere men, and great Diuines. Only one thing we haue done touching the text, whereof we are especially to giue notice: That whereas heretofore in the best Latin Editions there remained many places differing in vvords, some also in sense, as in long procelle of time the vvriters erred in their copies, now lately by the care and diligence of the Church, those diuers readings vvere maturely and iudiciously examined and conferred vvith sundry the best vvritten and printed books, and so resolved vpon, that al vvwhich before vvere left in the margent, are either restored into the text, or els omitted; so that now none such remaine in the margent. For vvwhich cause we haue againe conferred this English translation, and conformed it to the most perfect Latin Edition. Where yet by the vvay we must giue the vulgar reader to vnderstand, that very fevv or none of the former varieties touched Controuersies of this time. So that this recognition is no vvay suspicious of partiality, but is meerly done for the more secure conseruation of the true text, and more ease and satisfaction of such, as othervvise should haue remained more doubtful.

What is done in this Edition.

Diuers readings resolved vpon, & none left in the margent.

They touched not present controuersies.

Now for the strictnes obserued in trāslating some vvords, or rather the not translating of some, vvwhich is in more danger to be disliked, we doubt not but the discrete learned reader, deeply vvweighing and considering the importance of sacred vvords, and how easily the translatour may misse the sense of the Holy Ghost, vvill hold that vvwhich is here done for reasonable and necessary. We haue also the example of the Latin and Greek, vvhere some vvords are not translated, but left in Hebrevv, as they vvere first spoken and vvritten; vvwhich seeing they could not, or vvere not conuenient to be translated into Latin or Why some words are not translated into vulgar English.

Some Hebrevv words not translated into Latin nor Greeke.

Greeke

TO THE ENGLISH READER.

More authoritie in sacred tonges.

Some words cannot be turned into English.

Protestants leaue some words vntranslated.

Corruptions in Protestants Translations of holy Scriptures, of purpose against Catholike doctrine.

Greeke, how much lesse could they, or vvas it reason to turne them into English? S. Augustin also yealdeth a reason, exemplifying in the words Amen and Alleluia, for the more sacred authoritie thereof. which doubtles is the cause why some names of solemne Feasts, Sacrifices, and other holie things are reserued in sacred tonges, Hebrew, Greeke, or Latin. Againe for necessitie, English not hauing a name, or sufficient terme, we either keep the word as we find it, or only turne it to our English termination, because it would otherwise require manie words in English, to signifie one word of an other tongue. In which cases, we commonly put the explication in the margent. Briefly, our Apologie is easie against English Protestants; because they also reserue some words in the original tongues, not translated into English, as Sabboath, Ephod, Pentecost, Profelyte, and some others. The sense wherof is indeed as soone learned, as if they were turned so neer as is possible into English. And why then may we not say Prepuce, Phase or Pasch, Aximes, Breads of Proposision, Holocaust, and the like? rather then as Protestants translate them, Fore-skinne, Passouer, The feast of sweet breads, Shew breads, Burnt offerings &c. By which termes, whether they be truly translated into English or no, we wil passe ouer. Sure it is an English man is stilo seeke what they meane, as if they remained in Hebrew or Greeke. It more importeth, that nothing be wittingly and falsly translated for aduantage of doctrine in matter of faith. Wherin as we dare boldly auouch the sinceritie of this Translation, and that nothing is here either vntruly or obscurely done of purpose, in fauour of Catholike Roman Religion, so we can not but complaine, and chalenge English Protestants, for corrupting the text, contrarie to the Hebrew and Greeke, which they professe to translate, for the more shew and mainteining of their peculiar opinions against Catholikes: As is proued in the Discouerie of manifold corruptions. For example we shal put the reader in memorie of one or two. Gen. 4. v. 7. whereas (God speaking to Cain) the Hebrew words in Grammatical construction may be translated either thus: Vnto thee also perteyneth the lust THEROF, & thou shalt haue dominion ouer IT: or thus; Also vnto thee HIS desire shal be subiect, and thou shalt rule ouer HIM: though the coherence of the text requireth the former, and in the Bibles printed 1552. and. 1577. Protestants did so translate it: yet in the year 1579. and 1603. they trans-

li. 2.
Doct.
Christ.
cap. 11.

late

TO THE ENGLISH READER.

late it the other way, rather saying, that Abel was subiect to Cain, and that Cain by Gods ordinance had dominion ouer his brother Abel, then that concupiscence or lust of sinne is subiect to mans wil, or that man hath power of free wil to resist (by Gods grace) tentation of sinne. But as we heare, in a new Edition (which we haue not yet seen) they translate it almost as in the first. In like sort Gen. 14. v. 18. the Hebrew particule VAV, vvhich S. Hierō & al Antiquitie translated ENIM (FOR) Protestants vvil by no meanes admit it, because (besides other argumēts) vve proue therby Melchisedechs Sacrifice. And yet themselues translate the same, as S. Hierom doth, Gen. 20. v. 3. saying: FOR she is a mans wife. &c. Againe Gen. 31. v. 19. the English Bibles 1552. and 1577. translate Theraphim, IMAGES. Which the Edition of 1603. correctēg, trāslateth IDOLS. And the marginal Annotation vvel proueth, that it ought to be so translated.

With this then vve vvil conclude most deare (vve speake to you al, that vnderstand our tongue, vvhether you be of contrarie opinions in faith, or of mundane feare participate vwith an other Congregation, or professe vwith vs the same Catholike Religion) to you al vve present this vvorke: daily beseeching God Almighty, the Diuine Wisedom, Eternal Goodnes, to create, illuminate, and replenish your spitts, vwith his Grace, that you may attaine eternal Glorie, euery one in his measure, in those many Mansions, prepared and promised by our Sauour in his Fathers house. Not only to those vvhich first receiued and folloved his Diuine doctrine, but to al that should afterwards belieue in him, and keep the same precepts. For there is one God, one also Mediatour of God and men, Man Christ Iesus, who gaue himself a Redemption for al. Whereby appeareth his vvil, that al should be saued. Why then are not al saued? The Apostle addeth: that they must first come to the knowvledge of the truth. Because vwithout faith it is impossible to please God. This ground-vvorke therefore of our creation in Christ by true faith, S. Paul laboured most seriously by vword and vwriting to establish in the harts of al men. In this he confirmed the Romans by his Epistle, commending their faith, as already receiued and renovvned in the vvhole vworld. He preached the same faith to manie Nations. Amōgst others to the learned Athenians. Where it seemed to some, as Against free wil.

Against Melchisedechs sacrifice.

And against holy Images.

This Edition dedicated to al that vnderstand English

Christ redeemed al, but al are not saued. True faith first necessarie.

TO THE ENGLISH READER.

absurd, as strange; in so much that they scornfully called him a word-sower, and Preacher of new Gods. But S. Augustin alloweth the terme for good, which was reprochfully spoken of the ignorant. And so distinguishing betweene Reapers and Sowers in Gods Church, he teacheth, that whereas the other Apostles reaped in the leaves, that which their Patriarches and Prophets had sowne; S. Paul sowed the seed of Christian Religion in the Gentiles. And so in respect of the Israelites, to whom they were first sent, calleth the other Apostles Messores, Reapers, and S. Paul, being specially sent to the Gentiles, Seminatorem, a Sower, or Seminarie Apostle: which two sorts of Gods workmen are still in the Church, with distinct offices of Pastoral cures and Apostolical missions; the one for perpetual government of Catholike countries, the other for conuersion of such, as either haue not receiued Christian Religion, or are relapsed. As at this time in our country, for the diuers sorts of pretended religions, these diuers spiritual workes are necessary to teach and feed all Britan people. Because some in error of opinions preach another Gospel, whereas in veritie there is no other Gospel. They preach indeed new doctrines, which can not saue. Others follow them, believing falshood. But when the blind lead the blind (not the one only but) both fall into the ditch. Others conforme themselves in external shew, fearing them that can punish and kill the body. But our Lord wil bring such as decline into (vniust) obligations, with them that work iniquity. The Reliques and small flock of Catholiks in our country, haue great sadnesse and sorrow of hart, not so much for our owne affliction, for that is comfortable, but for you our brethren and kinsmen in flesh and blood. Wishing with our owne temporal damage whatioeuer, your saluation. Now is the acceptable time, now are the days of saluation, the time of Grace by Christ, whose dayes many Kings and Prophets desired to see: they saw them (in spirit) and reioyced. But we are made partakers of Christ, and his Mysteries; so that our selues neglect not his heauenly riches: if we receiue and keep the beginning of his substance, firme vnto the end; that is, the true Catholike faith; building thereon good works by his graces, without which we cannot thinke a good thought, by which we can doe all things necessary to saluation. But if we hold

Act. 17.
v. 18.
Ser. 42.
de Sact.

S. Aug.
de vitiis.
cred. 1.
c. Mat.
15.

P salm.
124.

2. Cor.
6.

Luc. 10

The twelve Apostles were first Reapers, before they were Sowers. S. Paul at first a Sower, or Seminary Apostle.

Pastoral cures and Apostolical missions.

New doctrine is falsely called the Gospel. The seduced, & externally conformable are punished with the authors of iniquity.

Grace in the new testament more abundant then in the old.

TO THE ENGLISH READER.

Tit. 1. not fast this ground, al the building fayleth. Or if confessing to know God in words, we denie him in deeds, committing workes of darknes, or omitting workes of mercie, when we may doe them to our distressed neighbours; briefly, Mat. 23. if we haue not charitie, the forme and perfection of al vertues, 1. Cor. 13. al is lost, and nothing worth. But if we build vpon firme ground, gold, siluer, and precious stones, such building shal abide, and make our vocation sure by good workes, as S. Peter speaketh. These (saith S. Paul) are the heyres of God, coheyres of Christ. Neither is the number of Christs blessed children counted, as of the Iewes, an hundred fourtie foure thousand, of euery tribe of Israel twelue thousand signed; but a most great multitude of Catholike Christians, which no man can number, of al nations, and tribes, and peoples, and tongs, standing before the throne of the lamb, clothed in white robes, and palmes (of triumph) in their hands: hauing ouercome tentations in the vertuous race of good life. Much more those which also indure persecution for the truths sake shal receiue most copious great rewards in heauen. For albeit the passions of this time (in themselves) are not * condigne to the glorie to come, that shal be reuealed in vs: yet our tribulation, which presently is momentanie and light, worketh (through grace) aboue measure exceedingly an eternal weight of glorie. What shal we therefore meditate of the special prerogatiue of English Catholikes at this time? For to you it is giuen for Christ, not only that you belieue in him, but also that you suffer for him. A litle now, if you must be made pensue in diuers tentations, that the probation of your faith, much more precious then gold, which is proued by the fire, may be found vnto praise, and glorie, and honour, in the reuelation of Iesus Christ. Manie of you haue susteyned the spoile of your goods with ioy, knowing that you haue a better and a permanent substance. Others haue been deprived of your children, fathers, mothers, brothers, sisters, and neere freinds, in readie resolution also, some with sentence of death, to lose your owne lines. Others haue had trial of reproches, mockeries, and stripes. Others of bands, prisons, and banishments. The innumerable renowned

Both wicked workes, and omission of good works are damnabic.

Innumerable sau'd by Christ.

They are more happy that suffer persecution for the truth.

English Catholikes most happy in this Age.

Tit. 1.

Mat.

23.

1. Cor.

13.

1. Pet. 1.

Apoz.

7.

* 1. Cor.

thy, or comparable in dignity.

2. Cor. 4

1. Pet. 1.

TO THE ENGLISH READER.

The due praise of Martyrs, and other glorious Saints exceedeth mortal tongues.

Patience necessary to the end of mans life.

Persecution profitable

Confession of faith before men necessary to saluation.

late English Martyrs, and Confessours, vvhose happie soules for confessing true faith before men, are novv most glorious in heauen, vve passe here vvith silence; because their due praise, requiring longer discourse, yea rather Angels then English tongues, farre surpasseth the reach of our conceits. And so vve leaue it to your deuout meditation. They novv secure for themselves, & solicitous for vs their dearest clients, incessantly (vve are vvel assured) intercede before Christs Diuine Ma-iestie for our happie consummation, vvith the conuersion of our vvhole countrie. To you therefore (dearest freinds mortal) vve direct this speech: admonishing our selues and you in the Apostles vvords, that for so much as vve haue not yet resisted tentations to (last) bloud (and death) it-self, patience is stil necessarie for vs; that doing the vvil of God, vve may receiue the promise: So vve repine not in tribulatió, but euer loue them that hate vs, pittying their case, and reioycing in our ovvne. For neither can vve see during this life, hovv much good they doe vs; nor know how manie of them shal be (as we hartily desire they al may be) saued: our Lord and Sauour hauing paid the same price by his death for them and for vs. Loue al therefore, pray for al. Doe not lose your confidence, vvich hath a great remuneration. For yet a little, and a very little vvhile, he that is to come, vvil come, and he vvil not slacke. Novv the iust liueth by faith, belieuing vvith hart to iustice, and confessing vvith mouth to saluation. But he that vvithdraweth himself shal not please Christs soule. Attend to your saluation, dearest contriemen. You that are farre off, dravv neer, put on Christ. And you that are vvithin Christs fold, keep your standing, perseuer in him to the end. His grace dvvel and remaine in you, that glorious crovvnes may be giuen you. AMEN.

Rom.
10.
Heb. 10.

From the English College in Doway, the Octaues of AL SAINTS. 1609.

The God of patience and comfort gime you to be of one mind, one towards another in I E S V S Christ; that of one mind, with one mouth you may glorifie God.

THE SVMMME AND PARTITION OF THE H O L Y B I B L E.

With a brief note of the Canonical and Apocryphal Books.

S. Hierō
Epist. ad
Paulin.
de omni.
S. Scrip.
libris.
S. Aug.
prefat. in specul.
li. 2. de
doct.
christ.
ca. 9. li.
1. de Gen cō-tra Ma-nich. ca.
4. li. de
catechif.
rudib. c.
3. & 4.
l. 2. 99.
super
Exod. 9.
7. li. 15.
cont.
Fauft.
Manich
cap. 2. li.
18. ciuit.
ca. 54.
de vera relig. c.
27. li. 4.
cons.
Fauft.
c. 2.

*I*n the vniforme consent of al learned Diuines, the holy Bible, or written Word of God, containeth expressed or implied al things that man is to belieue, to ob-serue, and to auoid, for obtaining of eternal saluation. That is, al matters of faith and manners, by which we may know and serue God, and so be spiritually ioyned with him in this lfe, and in eternity.
For both the old and new Testament propose and restifie vnto vs one and the same God, the same Christ, the same Church, and other Mysteries of our beliese, not differing in substance, but in manners of vetering; the Old more obscurely in figures and prophecies foretelling those things, which the New declareth (in great part) as aone and performed. Whereupon saith S. Augustine: In the Old Testament the New lieth hidden; and in the New the Old lieth open. And touching their names, wherein appeareth difference, the one (saith the same Doctour) is called the old Testament, either because it proposeth promises of temporal things (wherewith our old corruptnesse is allured) or in respect of the New, by which it is fulfilled, and in some part abolished. The other is called the New, because by it man is renewed, and hath promise of eternal life, which shal never waxe old nor decay. Likewise S. Gregory the Great testifieth this conformity and correspondence between the Old and New Testament, asfir-ming that the same is signified by the Prophet Ezechiels vision of a wheele, which had foure faces, or apparēce of foure wheeles. the shape whereof was, as it were, a wheele in the middes of a wheele. VWhat is this, saith he, Nisi quod in Testamenti veteris litera Testamentum nouum latuit per Allegoriam?
but that in the letter of the old Testament, the New lay hidden by an Allegory?

How the holy Scriptures con-taine al knowledge necessary to saluation.
The old and the new Testament shew the same God, Christ, Church and other Mysteries of Religion.
The old more obscurely, & with lesse helpes.
The new more expresly and yealdeth more grace.

Hom. 6 in Ezech. 1.

PROEMIAL ANNOTATIONS.

In both Testaments, are foure sorts of Books.

Legal.
Historical.

Sapiential.

Prophetical.

All these books recited are Canonical, and of infallible truth.

Apocryphal of two sorts.
1. Not declared canonical.
2. Reiected as erroneous.

The Holy-Ghost declareth by the Church which Books are Divine Scriptures

And as the same is the summe and subiect of both Testaments so both are diuided (for the more principal parts thereof) into foure sorts of Books: Legal, Historical, Sapiential, & Prophetical. The Legal books of the old Testament are the five Books of Moyses, Genesis, Exodus, Leuiticus, Numeri, and Deuteronomie; whereto answer in the new Testament the foure Ghospels of Saint Matthew, S. Marke, S. Luke, and S. Iohn. Historical books of the old Testament are the Books of Iosue, Iudges, Ruth, foure books of Kings, two of Paralipomenon, Esdras, with Nehemias, Tobias, Iudith, Hester, Iob, and two of the Machabees; vnto which in the new Testament answer the Actes of the Apostles. Sapiential of the old Testament are the Prouerbs, Ecclesiastes, Canticles, Book of wisdome, and Ecclesiasticus; and of like sort are in the new Testament the Epistles of S. Paul and of other Apostles. Prophetical books are Dauids Psalter (which is also Sapiential, yea likewise Legal and Historical) the Books of Isaias, Ieremias, with Baruch, Ezechiel, Daniel, the twelue lesse Prophets, Osea, Ioel, Amos, Abdias, Ionas, Michæas, Nahum, Abacuc, Sophonias, Aggæus, Zacharias, Malachias. And in the new Testament, the Apocalyps of S. Iohn the Apostle.

All these Books are vndoubtedly Canonical, as the Authours cited in the inner margent testifie. And consequently all, and all the parts thereof, are of infallible truth. For otherwise, as S. Augustin teacheth, if any part were false or doubtful, all were vncertaine. Once admitting falsehood (saith he Epist. 8. ad Hieron.) in such soueraigne authority, no parcel of these books should remaine, which any way should seem hard to manners, or incredible to belieue, but it might by this most pernicious rule be turned to an officious fiction of the authour. That is: If any error could be committed by the authours of Scriptures, either through ignorance, obliuion, or any other humane frailty, what soeuer were produced, exception might be taken, and question made, whether the authour had erred or no. True it is, that some of these books (as we shal particularly discusse in their places) were sometimes doubted of by some Catholiks, and called Apocryphal, in that sense as the word properly signifieth hidden, or not apparent. So S. Hierom (in his prologue before the Latin Bible) calleth diuers books Apocryphal, being not so euident, whether they were Diuine Scripture, because they were not in the Iewes Canon, nor at first in the Churches Canon, but were neuer reiected as false or erroneous. In which sense the Prayers of Manasses, the third book of Esdras, and third of Machabees are yet called Apocryphal. As for the fourth of Esdras, and fourth of Machabees there is more doubt. But diuers others, as the book ascribed to Enoch, the Ghospels of S. Andrew, S. Thomas, S. Bartholmew, and the like recited by S. Gelasius (Decreto de libris Ecclesiasticis dist. 15. Can. Sancta Romana) S. Innocentius the first (Epist. 3.) S. Hierom, Ep. ad Latam, S. Augustin. l. 15. cap. 3. de ciuit. Dei, Origen homi. 2. in Cantica, are in a worse sense called Apocryphal, and are reiected as conteining manifest-errors, or fained by Heretiks Neither can a Christian Catholike be otherwise assured, which Books are Diuine and Canonical Scriptures, but by declaration of the Catholike Church, which without interruption succeedeth the Apostles, to whom our Sauour promised,

Conc. Carth. An. D. 419.
Conc. Laodic. cap. 59.
Flor. ni. Instru Armen. decret. 7
Tridem. Sess. 4.
S. Ath. in Sin. S. Aug. l. 2. doct. Christi. c. 8. I. s. dor. l. 6.
Etymol. c. 1. & alibi.
Nicep. l. 4. cap. 15.
Euseb. l. 5. c. 8.
Mat. 28. Ioan 14. 16.
Act. 2. 20.
1. Tim. 3.

promised,

PROEMIAL ANNOTATIONS.

nished, and sent the Holy-Ghost, to teach al truth. For if any thing more then others, assuredly one chief and most necessary point is, to know and declare which Books are Gods holy word, being of most singular importance.

THE SVMMME OF THE OLD TESTAMENT,
as it is distinguished from the new.

Notwithstanding the subiect, and general argument of both Testaments is one and the same in substance, as is already said, yet they differ in time, in manner of uttering of Mysteries, in variety of precepts and promises, also in meanes to obserue the things exacted, & to attaine to the end proposed. In regard whereof S. Hierom saith: Lex Moyſi & omne vetus instrumentum elementa mundi intelliguntur, quibus quasi elementis & Religionis exordiis Deum discimus. The law of Moyſes and al the old Testament are vnderstood the elements of the world, by which, as by first rudiments and beginnings, we learne to know God. For that in it we haue first the law of nature, and afterwards a law written, with premises of temporal rewards; as long life, land flowing with milke and hony, and the like; but it brought nothing to perfection, as S. Paul saith, when gifts and hostes were offered, which could not according to conscience make the obseruer perfect. For the helps of that time were but infirma & egena elementa: weake & poore elements. Likewise in general, touching the punishments that sometimes happened to the people of the old Testament, when they transgressed, the same Apostle affirmeth, that al the same chanced to them in figure, and are written for our correption, vpon whom the ends of the world are come. So that the old Testament or Law, was but our pedagogue in Christ. Yet it setteth forth to vs the whole course of Gods Church, for the space of foure thousand yeares, that is, from the beginning of the world vntil Christ our Redeemer, which Diuines diuide into six Ages, wherein was variety and change of her state, three vnder the Law of nature, and three others vnder the writien Law. The seuenth and last Age being this time of grace (wherein we now are) from Christ, to the day of general Iudgement: as the world was made in six days, and in the seuenth God is said to haue rested, and therefore sanctified it, in other sort then the former six. The eight wil be after the Resurrection, during for al eternity.

Which six Ages of the ancient Church and old Testament, are thus distributed. The first from the Creation to Noes floud, contained the space of 1656. yeares. The second from the floud to the going of Abraham out of his country, 368. or counting Cainan (Gen. 11. iuxta 72. and Luc. 3) 398. yeares. The third from Abraham his going forth of his country, to the parting of the children of Israel out of Egypt. VVhich some count to haue continued 720. yeares, others (whom we follow) but 430. And thus farre in the law of nature before the writ.

The old and new Testament differ in time. In manner of uttering. Varietie of Precepts. Promises. Meanes.

The old Testament containeth figures of the new. A continual visible Church from the beginning of the world to Christ. The same Mystical bodie, but different in state. Diuided into Ages
The first Age continued 1656. yeares. The second 368. or 398. The third about. 430. The fourth 480.

Tomo. 3
quest.
10. Al.
gasie.

Hebr. 7.
9. 10.
Gal. 4.

1. Cor.
10.

Gal. 3.

2 Gen. 1.
Gen. 8.
Gen. 12
Gene-
brard.
Chro-noleg.
S. Aug.
1. 15. c.
8. c. 11.
Gal. 3.
Exod.
16.

PROEMIAL ANNOTATIONS.

The fifth 430.
The sixth,
were 640.
Al the time from the creation to Christ about 4000.
yeares.

ten law, The fourth age dured, 480. yeares. from the deluery of the children of Israel forth of Aegypt, to the fundation of the Temple in Hierusalem. The fifth Age was from the foundation of the Temple, to the captiuitie and transmigration of the Iewes into Babylon, about 430. yeares. And the sixth Age dured about 640. yeares, from the Captiuitie of Babylon to Christ. In al which times God was acknowledged and rightly serued, by a continual visible Church, with true religion; the same and no other, which now that Church holdeth, that is called and known by the name of Catholike. As we intend, by Gods assistance, to shew by briefe Annotations, concerning diuers particular points now in Controuersie, as the h. ly Text giueth occasion. And especially by way of recapitulation after euery one of the six Ages, when we come to those passages in the History, where the same are ended.

3. Reg. 6.
3. Reg.
7.
1. Es-
dra. 1.

OF MOYSES THE AVTHOR OF THE five first Books.

MOYSES.
signifieth, taken from the water.

Oyses (so called because he was taken from the water, as the name signifieth) was borne in Aegypt, the sonne of Amram, the sonne of Caath, the sonne of Leui the Patriarch, and so of Iacob, Isaac, and Abraham. His maruelous deliery from drowning, his education, excellent forme, singular wisdom, heroncal vertues, rare dexterity in al affaires, and whole life most admirable, are gathered out of holy Scriptures, by S. Gregory Bishop of Nyssc, into a brief Summe, most worthy to be read, but too large for this place. He was borne about the yeare of the world two thousand foure hundred, long before al prophane writers, yea before many of the Paynimes false Gods, as S. Augustin declareth in diuers places of his most excellent book intituled of the City of God. He liued in this world 120. yeares: Of which 40. were in Pharaos Court as the adopted sonne of Pharaos daughter: forty in banishment fro Aegypt in Madian: and forty more he gouerned the people of Israel. His singular praises are also briefly touched in the last chapter of Deuteronomy, added by Iosue, and in the book of Ecclesiasticus. He died in the desert, and was buried in the vale of Moab, so secretly that no mortal man knew his sepulchre, lest the Iewes, who were very prone to Iaolatriy, should haue adored his body with diuine honour, for the greatnesse and multitude of his miracles, and for the singular estimation they had of him for the same.

The excellency of Moyfes

His sepulchre not known to any man.

Exod. 6.
Num.
26.
1 Par.
6. Io-seph. li.
2. An-
tiq. cap.
9. S.
Aug.
ser. 88.
de temp.
S. Greg.
oratio. in Laudem
Bastiij Magni.
S. Aug.
li. 18. ci-
uis. c. 39.
D. ur.
34.
Eccli.
45.
Glos.
ord.

THE

THE ARGUMENT OF THE BOOK OF GENESIS.

His first Book of holy Scripture, called Genesis, which signifieth birth or beginning, was written by Moyses, when he was assigned by God to instruct and rule the children of Israel: As also the other foure books following. The Authour and authority of all which five books were euer acknowledged by the faithfull, both of the old and new Testament: and so accounted and esteemed by tradition, til Christ and his Apostles: who also confirmed them by their testimonies and allegations of the same, as of holy Scriptures. From the creation vntill Moyses writ (which was about two thousand and foure hundred yeares) the Church exercised Religion by recitations made to certaine Patriarchs, and by Traditions from man to man, without any Scriptures or Law written. But the peculiar people of God being more visibly separated from other nations, and many errors abounding in the world, God would for correction and confutation thereof haue his wil made further knowne to his children, and so remaine amongst them in written record, by his faithfull seruant and Prophet Moyses. VVho therefore declareth the Authour and beginning of all things, that is, How all creatures were made by God, and of him haue their being, and by him only are conserued. He teacheth expressly that there is one only God, against those that imagined and brought into the phantasies of men many Gods. That the whole or vniuersal substance of heauen and earth, with their ornaments and accidents, were made in iuxta; against those that thought the first foundation thereof had euer been. That God euer gouerne the same; against those that say, all is ruled by destiny or by the starres, and not by the continual providence of God. That God is a rewarder of the good, and a punisher of euil, which sinners seeme either not to know, or gressly to forget. And that God created all for mans vse and benefit, which should make vs grateful. VVherefore holy Moyses more particularly describeth the beginning of man; what he was at first; how he fel; how all mankind is come of one man: deaunting the Genealogy of Adam, especially to Noe. Then how men being more and more afflicted vpon the earth, with wicked, especially carnal sinnes, were by Gods iust wrath drowned with an vniuersal flood.

Againe, how a few reserved persons multiplied the world anew. But this offspring also falling into many sinnes, especially Iacolatry and spiritual fornication, as those of the first Age did to carnal offences, God still conserued some faithfull and true seruants. Of which Moyses specially pursueth the line of Noe by Sem his first begotten sonne. Then describeth the particular vocations, liues, manners, notable sayings, and noble facts, with sincere religion of Abraham, Isaac, Iacob, Ioseph, and other holy Patriarchs: who liued before the written law. Likewise vpon what occasion, and in what manner Iacob, otherwise called Israel, with all his progeny, descended from the Land of Canaan into Aegypt, and were there entertained. So this booke containeth the history of two thousand three hundred and odde yeares. And it may be diuided into eight parts. The first containeth the Genesis written by Moyses. Always authenticall. So knowne by Tradition, confirmed by Christ, alleaged also by the Apostles. Religio reuealed to special persons and so obserued by traditions.

Why Scripture was written. What Moyses specially sheweth in this booke Man most particularly described. The right line from Adam to Noe.

The principal Patriarchs from Noe to the 12. sonnes of Israel.

This booke divided into eight parts.

Mat. 19.

Heb. 11.
Iacob. 2.
1. Pet. 2
2. Pet. 2

S. Aug. quæst. 1. et noui Testam. cap. 3.

Gen. 10

THE ARGVMENT GF GENESIS

2. Creation of Heauen and Earth , and other Creatures , and lastly of Man chap. 1. and 2. The second part is of the transgression and fal of man , and his casting out of Paradise, of multiplication of men, and of sinne, though stil some were iust, of the general floud, that drowned al except eight persons, & few other liuing creatures
3. of the earth, from the third chap. to the 8. The third part is of the new increase
4. and multiplication of the same , from the 8. chap. to the 11. The fourth , of the
5. confusion of tongs and the diuision of nations , in the 11. chap. The fift relateth
6. Abrabams going forth of his country , Gods promise , that in is seeede al Nations
7. should be blessed, and the commandment of Circumcision , from the 12. chap. to
8. the 21. The sixth part recounteth the progeny, and other blessings , especially the
7. great vertues of Abramam, Isaac, and Iacob, from the 21. chap. to the 37. The se-
8. uenth part reporteth the selling of Ioseph into Aegypt, and his aduancement there,
8. from the 37. chap. to the 46. The eight and last part is of Iacob and his progenies
8. going into Aegypt , their intertainment there , and of Iacobs, and finally of Iosephs death, in the fise last chapters.

THE SIGNIFICATION OF THE MARKS heer vsed , for direction of the reader.

The numbers in the arguments of chapters , point of the verse , where the matter mentioned beginneth.

The numbers in the text , shew the number of verses in the same chapter.

This mark " signifieth that there followeth an Annotation after the chapter , vpon the word, or words, wherto it is adioined. The number also of the same verse is prefixed to the Annotation.

The letters thus enclosed (a) shew that there is an Annotation in the margent, vpon that place. And when many accurre, the first answereth to the first marke, the second to the second, and so forth. In like manner the citations of places in the inner margent, are applied to the authours alleadged

This forme of a starre (*) in the text or annotations , pointeth to the explication of some word or words in the margent.

Sometimes we put the Concordance of other Scriptures in the inner margent of the text.

We haue also noted in the margent , when the books of holy Scripture (or parts thereof) are read in the Churches Seruice , for their sakes, that desire to read the same in order of the Ecclesiastical Office.

THE

THE BOOK OF GENESIS · IN HEBREW BERESITH.

C H A P. I.

God createth heauen and earth, and al things therein; distinguishing and beautifying the same. 26. Last of al, the sixth day he createth man; o whom he subiecteth al corporal things of this inferiour world.

IN the beginning God created heauen and earth. 2. And the earth was void and vacant, and darkenes was vpon the face of the depth: and the Spirit of God moued ouer the waters. 3. And God said: Be light made. And light was made. 4. And God saw the light that it was good: and he diuided the light from the darkenes. 5. And he called the light, Day, and the daakenes, Night: and there was euening & morning, that made one day. 6. God also said: Be (a) a firmament made amidst the waters: and let it diuide between waters and waters. 7. And God made a firmament, and diuided the waters that were vnder the firmament, from those that were aboue the firmament. And it was so done. 8. And God called the firmament, (b) Heauen: and there was euening & morning that made the second day. 9. God also said: Let the waters that are vnder the heauen be gathered together into one place: and let the drie land appeare. And it was so done. 10. And God called the drie land, Earth, and the gathering of waters together, he called Seas. And God saw that it was good. 11. And said: Let the earth shoot forth green herbes, and such as may

The first part. Of the creatiō of al things. The Church readeth this book in her Office frō Septuagesima til Passiō Sunday. Also this first chapter & beginning of the second on Easter: Eue before Masse.

(a) The firmament is al the space from the earth to the highest starres: the lowest part diuideth between the waters on the earth and the waters in the ayer. S. Aug. l. 11 de Gen. ad l. c. 4.

(b) Likewise heauen is al the space aboue the earth; in whose lowest part are birds and waters, in the higher part starres: the highest is the Empyrial heauen. E/a. 66.

AE. 13,
15-17,
24.
Psal. 72,
6 135, 5.
Eccl. 10,
1.
H. b. 11,
3.
Iob. 38.
Ier. 10,
13.

(c) The lights made the first day are disposed the fourth day in their proper courses for more distinction of times. S. Dionys. ca. 4. de diuin. nom. S. Tho. p. 1. q. 67. a. 4. & q. 70. a. 2.

(d) The Sun & Moone: for though the moone be the least visible starre except Mercurie, yet it giueth more light on the earth by reason it is neerer, & so Moyses speaketh according to the vulgar capacity and vse of things. S. Aug. li. 2. de Gen. ad lit. cap. 16.

(e) Euerie creature in nature is good, but al considered together make the whole world perfect, most apt to mans vse and Gods glorie. S. Aug. li. 1. de Gen. cont. Manich. ca. 21.

feed, & fruit-trees yealding fruit after his kind, such as may haue seed in it-selfe vpon the earth. And it was so done. 12. And the earth brought forth green hearb, such as seedeth according to his kind, and tree that beareth fruit, hauing seed each one according to his kind. And God saw that it was good. 13. And there was euening and morning that made the third day. 14. Againe God said: Be there lights made in the firmament of heauen, to diuide the day and the night, and let them be (c) for signes & seasons, and dayes and yeares; 15. to shine in the firmament of heauen, and to giue light vpon the earth. And it was so done. 16. And God made two (d) great lights; a greater light to gouerne the day, and a lesser light to gouerne the night; and starres. 17. And he set them in the firmament of heauen, to shine vpon the earth, 18. and to gouerne the day & the night, and to diuide the light and the darkenes. And God saw that it was good. 19. And there was euening and morning that made the fourth day. 20. God also said: Let the waters bring forth creeping creature hauing life, and fying foule, ouer the earth vnder the firmament of heauen. 21. And God created huge whales, and al liuing and mouing creature, that the waters brought forth according to each sort, and al foule according to their kind. And God saw that it was good. 22. And he blessed them saying: Increase and multiply, and replenish the waters of the sea: and let the birds be multiplied vpon the earth. 23. And there was euening and morning that made the fifth day. 24. God said moreouer: Let the earth bring forth liuing creature in his kind, cattle, and such as creep, and beasts of the earth according to their kinds: and it was so done. 25. And God made the beasts of the earth according to their kinds, and cattle, and al that creepeth on the earth in his kind.

And God saw that it was good, 26. and he said: Let vs make Man to our image & likenes: and let him haue dominion ouer the fishes of the sea, and the foules of the ayre, and the beasts, and the whole earth, and al creeping creature that moueth vpon the earth. 27. And God created man to his owne image: to the image of God he created him, male and female he created them. 28. And God blessed them, and saith: "Increase and multitude, and replenish the earth, and subdew it, and rule ouer the fishes of the sea, and foules of the ayre, & al liuing creatures that moue vpon the earth. 29. And God said: Behold I haue giuen you al manner of hearb that seedeth vpon the earth, and al trees that haue in themselues seed of their owne kind, to be your meate: 30. and to al beasts of the earth, and to euery foule of the ayre, and to al that moue vpon the earth, and wherein there is life, that they may haue to feed vpon. And it was so done. 31. And God saw al things that he had made, and (e) they were very good. And there was euening and morning that made the sixth day.

Col. 3. 10.

Mat. 19. 4.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. I.

1. In the beginning.) Holie Moyses telleth what was done in the beginning of the world, and so forward euen til his owne time, writing about two thousand and foure hundred years after the beginning. Al which being incomprehensible by humane wit or discourse, he knew partly by reuelations from God, for he had the gift of Prophecie in most excellent sort; partly by traditions from his elders, who learned of their fathers. For vntil that time the Church had only traditions of such things as were reuealed to special men, whereby we see the great authority of traditions, before there were Scriptures. And since Scriptures were written they are also necessary, for three special reasons. First, for that we are only assured by tradition of the Church, that these books are indeed holy Scriptures, which are so accounted, and not by the Scripture it-selfe, for that were to proue the same by the same, vntil we be assured of some part, that proueth some other parts. And this made S. Augustin to say plainly, that he could not beliene the Ghospel, excepts the Church told him which is the Ghospel. Secondly, holy Scriptures being once known to be the word of God, & so of most eminent authoritie of al writings in the world, as S. Augustin, S. Hierome, & al other Fathers agree, yet for the true vnderstanding of the same, both the Scripture it-selfe, and the ancient Fathers remit vs to the Church, namely to those in the Church that are appointed by Gods ordinance, in the high place that he hath chosen. Which were the High Priests in the old Testament, as appeareth Deut. 17. Mat. 23. Ioan. 11. And in the new Testament, S. Peter & his Successours, for whom Christ prayed that his faith should not faile: & therefore commanded him to confirme his brethren, Luc. 22. Thirdly, for things not expressed in particular in holy Scripture, the Scripture (a) & Fathers doe likewise remit vs to traditions, and to the iudgement & testimonie of the Church. Christ saying to his Apostles: He that heareth you heareth me. The Apostles doubted not to say: It seemed good to the Holie Ghost and to vs. And S. Paul willed the Thessalonians to hold the traditions, which they had learned, whether it were by word, or by his Epistle.

1. In the beginning God made heauen and earth.) Al writers [b] ancient & later find such difficulties in these first Chapters, that some, otherwise very learned, haue thought it not possible to vnderstand the same according to the proper and vsual signification of the words, as the letter may seem to sound, but expound al allegorically, as that by the waters about the firmament should be vnderstood the blessed Angels, by the waters vnder the firmament wicked spirits, and the like. So did Origen and diuers that follow him therein. Yea S. Augustin in his books vpon Genesis against the Manichees, written shortly after his conuerfion, when he could not find as he desired a good and probable sense agreeable to the words in their proper signification, expounded them mystically, but afterwards in his other books de Genesi ad literam, he gratefully acknowledgeth that God had given him further sight therein, and that now he supposed he could interpret al according to the proper signification of the words: yet so that he durst not nor would not addict himselfe to one sense, but that he was readie to imbrace another, lest by sticking to his owne iudgement he might faile. So likewise S. Basil, S. Chrysostom, S. Ambrose, S. Hierome, S. Bede, and other greatest Doctours found and confessed great difficulties in these first chapters, which they with much studie endeaoured to explicate. And therefore it is a wonder to see our Protestants and Puritans hold this Paradox, that Scriptures are easie to be vnderstood. Whereas both by testimo-

The Church had only traditions and no Scripture about 2400. yeares.

Traditions necessarie for three causes.

1.

2.

Scripture of most eminent authoritie.

3.

Scriptures hard.

nie of

Cont.
Epist.
fund.
c. 5.

(2) Luc.
10, 16.
Act. 15,
28.
2. Thess.
2.

[b] Ori.
super.
Gen. c. 1.
Aug. l.
1. de
Gen. cit.
manich.
ca. 2.
lib. 1. c.
18. &
li. 8. c. 2.
Bas. bo.
9. in Genes.
Chriso.
epist. 44.
Amb. & Beda in examen.
Ierō. Ep.
ad Fuß.

Why Scriptures are hard.

Three spiritual senses besides the Literal, Allegorical,
Moral.
Anagogical.

A figure of Baptisme.

Christians called fishes.

Light being an accidet remayned without a subiect, by the iudgement of some learned Fathers.

The accidents of bread and wine can re-maine by Gods power without their subiects.

Ten prerogatiues of man in his creation.
1. Made like to God.

2. The Mystic-rie of the B.
Trinitie insinuated in his creation.

3. Produced by God himselfe.

nie of those that haue indeed studied & laboured in them, and by a litle due con- sideration the contrarie is most euident. For whosocuer wil looke into the holy Scriptures, shal find that sometimes in shew one place seemeth contra-rie to an- other; sometimes the letter & phraze are obscure & ambiguous; sometimes the sen- tences vnperfect. Againe manie speaches are propheticall, manie parabolical, me- taphotical, and vttered vnder other tropes & figures, and that in the literal sence. Moreouer there are three spiritual senses besides the literal, very frequent in holy Scripture. Allegorical, pertayning to Christ and the Church; Moral, pertayning to manners; and Anagogical, pertayning to the next lite. As this word, Ierusalem, literally signifieth the head citie of Iewrie: Morally the soule of man: Allegori- cally the Church militant: and Anagogically the Church triumphant. And some times this (and the like of others) metaphorically in the literal sence signifieth the Church militant, & not the citie of Iewrie, as in the 12 chapter to the Hebrewes: and sometimes the Church triumphant, as in the 21. of the Apocalyps.

2. The pris of God.) In the Hebrew it is signified, that the Spirit of God was on the waters to make the fertile, for that fishes & birds were to be procreated therof; the word is merabephesch, incubab..., sat vpon, to produce fruit (saith S. Hierom, frō the waters, as a hen by her heate produceth life in the egges. And the same S. Hierom, & before him Tertullian teach, that this was a figure of Baptisme, which consisteth of water & the Holy Ghost. For as water in the beginning of the world receiued a certaine vital vertue of the Holy Ghost to produce liuing creatures; so also Baptisme receiue the vertue of the same Holy Ghost to procreate new men. Wherupō Tertul- lian calleth Christians fishes, becaue they are gotten frō the waters, & thence haue their first spiritual life. Let it not therefore seeme strange (saith he) that in Baptisme Waters giue life.

16. Two great lights, & starres.] Heer occurreth another example of the hardnes of holy Scripture. For if the two great lights (to wit the Sunne & the Moone) & also the starres, were made the fourth day, and not before, as it may seeme by the words in this place, then what was that light, & in what subiect was it, that was made the first day? S. Basil, S. Gregorie Nazianzen, Theodoret, & some others writing vpon this place, doe thinke that the light which was made the first day remained (though an accident) without his subiect til the fourth day. And albeit most other Doctours rather thinke that the substance of the Sunne & Moone, & of other planets & starres were created the first day, & the fourth day set in that order & course which now they keep, with more distinction for signes and seasons, and dayes and yeares; yet it is cleere that the foresaid ancient Doctours iudged it possible, that accidents may remaine without their subiect: which a Sacramentarie wil be loath to grant, lest it might be proued possible, as both these & al other Catholike Doctons believed & taught, that the accidents of bread and wine remaine in the blessed Sacrament of the Eucharist without their subiects, which Protestants denie.

26. Let vs make man to our Image.) For better consideration of Gods bountie towards vs, & stirring our selues to gratitude towards him, we may here note ten prerogatiues bestowed on vs by our Lord & Maker in our creation, about al other earthlie creatures. First, wheras God by an imperial word of commandement made other creatures, Fiat lux, Fiat firmamentum: Be there light, Be there a firmament, intending to make man, he proceedeth familiarly, by way, as we were, of consultation, & as to his owne vse & seruice to make man, saying: Let vs make man to our image and likeness; that is to say, a reasonable creature with vnderstanding and free wil, which beafts haue not. Secondly, in this worke God first insinuateth the high Mysterie of the B. Trinitie, or pluralitie of Persōs in one God (because man is to believe the same) signifying the pluralitie of Persōs by the words Let vs make, & to our: and the vnitie in substance, by the words Images and likenes, the first in the plural number, the later in the singular. Thirdly, other creatures were produced by the waters & earth, Let the waters bring forth (fish & foule) Let the earth bring forth (grasse, & cattie, & other beafts) but God brought forth man, not by the earth, though of the earth, nor by

Gen. 1.
v. 3. & 14.
Exo. 20,
5. & 18.
v. 20.
Ioan. 8,
25.
Rom 8.

Hier. E-pist. 83. ad Ocea.
Tert. de Baptif.

water

water, nor by heauen, nor by Angels, but by himselfe, giuing him a reasonable soule, not sensual only as to beasts, & the same not produced of anie creature, but created immediately of nothing. Fourthly, God gaue man Paradise, a most pleasant place, to dwell in. Fifthly, God gaue man dominion & imperial authoritie ouer all liuing creatures vnder heauen. Sixtly, man was created in that innocencie of life, and integritie of all vertues, that his mind was wholly subiect to God, his sense to reason, his bodie to his spirit, & all other liuing creatures obedient to him: euen the terrible Lions, the cruel Tygres, the huge Elephants, and the wildest birds. Seauenthy, God brought them all to man, as to doe him homage, and to take their names of him. Which by his excellent knowledge he gaue them conformable to their natures. Eightly, God gaue man in some sort an immortal bodie, that if he had kept Gods commandement, he had liued long and pleasantly in this world, & so should haue been translated to eternal life without dying. Ninthly, God did not only adorne man with all natural knowledge and supernatural vertues, but also with the giift of prophetic. Wherby he knew that Eue was a bone of his bones, and flesh of his flesh, though being asleep he knew not when she was made. Tenthly, (which was the chiefe benefit of all) God conuersed familiarly with man, and that in shape of man, which was a token of his meruelous great loue to man, and a singular incitement of him to loue God. Read more, if you please, of the dignitie of man, and the benefits of God towards him in his creation, in S. Bernard vpon the 99. Psalm, and vpon the 61. chapter of Esaie.

28. Increase and multiplie.) Whether this be a commandement or no, at least it is a blessing, for so the words before conuince, God blessed them and said: Increase and multiplie. He said the same also to brute creatures, which are not capable of a precept, but by this were made fertile. Wherby we see that Gods blessing alwayes worketh some real effect: as of fertilitie in this and other places, of multiplication of the loaves & fishes, Ioan 6. And some real effect Christs blessing must needs worke also in the Blessed Sacrament Mat. 26. Which can be no other but changing bread and wine into his bodie & bloud, seeing himselfe expressly sayth: This is my bodie, this is my bloud.

And though Gods blessing in this place be also a precept, yet it is not to all men for euer, but for the propagation of mankind, which being long since abundantly propagated, the obligation of the precept ceaseth the cause ceasing. So S. Cyprian, S. Hierome, S. Augustin, and other Fathers expound this place. And confirme the same by the text, for immediately God signifying to what end he spoke, saith: and replenish the earth. Which being replenished, Gods wil is therein fulfilled.

- 4. placed in Paradise.
- 5. Lord of all earthlie creatures.
- 6. innocencie.
- 7. excellent knowledge.
- 8. power to liue euer.
- 9. giift of prophetic.
- 10. God conuersed familiarly with man.

Gods blessing alwayes effectual. Especially in the holy Eucharist.

Not all men & women commanded to marie.

CHAP. II.

The worke of six dayes being finished, God rested the seuenth day, & blessed it.

8. Then placing man in Paradise (planted with beautiful & sweet trees, & watered with foure riuers) 16. commandeth him not to eate of the tree of knowledge of good & euil. 18. And formed a woman of a ribbe of Adam.

HE heauens therefore & the earth were fully finished, and all the furniture of them. 2. And the seuenth day God ended his worke which he had made; and "rested" the seuenth day, from all worke that he had done. 3. And he blessed the seuenth day & sanctified it: because in it he had ceased from all his worke which God created to make.

God createth not new kindes of creatures, yet still worketh. Io. 5, 17. conseruing & gouerning all things, and createth soules, grace, & glorie of the same kind. S. Aug. l. 4. de Gen. ad lit. c. 12.

Exod. 10, 12.
Deut. 5, 14.
Heb. 4,
4.

(a) Mans soule is immediately created by God, not produced of other substance, as the soules of beastes and plants are.

(b) Whether this Paradise be now extant is vncertaine, though it be certaine that Enoch & Elias are yet liuing in earth.

S Aug. l. 3. cont. Pelagi. c. 23. See Pererius. l. 3. q. 5. & l. 7. q. vltima.

(c) As we say brick is made of earth, and a house is built of bricke: so Adam was made of earth, & Eue built of a ribbe of Adā. And that of one ribbe, as if God should build a house of one bricke, or as indeed he fed 5000. men with fve loaves. Chrif. ho. 15. S. Aug. Tract. 24. in Ioan. S. Tho p. 1. q. 92. 2 3.

(d) Not three, nor foure, nor more, for then two were chāged to another number. S. Ier. l. 1. cont. Ioni.

4. These are the generations of heauen & earth, when they were created in the day, when our Lord God made the heauen, and the earth, 5. and euery plant of the field, before it shot vp in the earth, and euerie hearb of the ground before it sprang. For our Lord God had not rayned vpon the earth; and man was not til the earth: 6. But a spring rose out of the earth, watering al the ouermost part of the earth. 7. Our Lord God therefore formed man of the slyme of the earth: and (a) breathed into his face the breath of life, & man became a liuing soule.

1. Cor. 15, 45.

8. And our Lord God had (b) planted a Paradise of pleasure from the beginning: wherein he placed man whom he had formed. 9. And our Lord God brought forth of the ground al manner of trees, faire to behold, and pleasant to eate of: the tree of life also in the middle of Paradise: and the tree of knowledge of good and euil. 10. And a riuier issued out of the place of pleasure to water Paradise, which from thence is diuided into foure heades. 11. The name of one is Phison: that is it which compasseth al the land of Heuilath, where gold groweth. 12. And the gold of that land is very good: there is found bdellium, and the stone onyx. 13. And the name of the second riuier is Gehon: that is it which compasseth al the land of Ethiopia. 14. And the name of the third riuier is Tygris: that same passeth along by the Assirians. And the fourth riuier, the same is Euphrates.

15. Our Lord God therefore tooke man, & put him in the Paradise of pleasure, to worke, & keepe it. 16. And he commanded him saying: Of euerie tree of Paradise eate thou: 17. But of the tree of knowledge of good & euil eate thou not. For in what day soeuer thou shalt eate of it, thou shalt dye the death. 18. Our Lord God also said: It is not good for man to be alone: let vs make him a help like vnto himselfe. 19. Our Lord God therefore hauing formed of clay al beastes of the earth, and foules of the ayre, brought them to Adam, that he might see what to cal them: for al that Adam called any liuing creature, the same is his name.

20. And Adam called al beastes by their names, and al foules of the ayre, and al cattel of the field: but vnto Adam there was not found an helper like himselfe. 21. Our Lord God therefore cast a dead sleep vpon Adam: and when he was fast asleep, he tooke one of his ribbes, & filled vp flesh for it. 22. And our Lord God (c) built the ribbe which he tooke of Adam into a woman, & brought her to Adam. 23. And Adam said: This now is bene of my bones, and flesh of my flesh: she shal be called woman, because she was taken out of man. 24. Wherefore man shal leaue his father & mother, & shal cleaue to his wife, & they shal be (d) two in one flesh. 25. And they were both naked, to wit Adam and his wife; and were not ashamed.

Mat. 19, 5. Mar. 10, 7. 1. Cor. 6, 16. Eph 5, 31.

ANNOTATIONS.

CHAP. II.

1. The seventh day) All creatures being made in their kinds in six dayes, complete & perfect, God not needing (as men often doe in their workes) to perfect, polish, or amend the same, rested the seventh day: & therefore the natural perfection of Gods workes is attributed to the seventh day, and the supernatural perfecting of men in eternal life, after the Resurrection, is attributed to the eighth day, as S. Angustin and other fathers teach. And for this cause God blessed and sanctified the seventh day: and after we haue in the Decalogue or ten commandements, that this day al should rest and abstaine from workes, yea and keep it festiual, occupying themselves in spiritual exercises, seruice, and special worship of God, as the Iewes did euen til Christs and his Apostles time, praying & hearing the word of God read & expounded in the Sabboath day. Wherby we see that distinction of dayes pertaineth to Religion, the people of God thus obseruing the Sabboth in memorie of the Creation, and diuers other feasts in memorie of other benefits. And we now keep the Sunday holy in memorie of Christs Resurrection, & other feasts in grateful remembrance of other Mysteries of Christs Natiuitie, the coming of the Holy Ghost, & the like. Yea also feasts of his Blessed Mother, & other Saints, for the benefits receiued from Christ by them, & for more honour to Christ in them. So this Catholike obseruation of feasts is neither Iudaical (which also in the Law was good, but now is abrogated) nor heathnish, for we honour not Iupiter, nor Iuno, nor anie false God or Goddette, but our Lord God Creatour & Redeemer, & for his sake his best seruants. Wherof see the Annotations in the English new Testament, 4 chap. to the Galathians. Wherto we here only adde these words of S. Basil, which may serue for a general answer to the most common obiection: Honor fructuum redonans in communem Dominum: The honour of the euangels redoncelth to the common Lord or Master. So, saith he, the honour of Saints is the honour of Christ their Lord and ours.

17. Of the tree of knowledge.] Besides the law of nature, by which Man was bound to direct al his actions according to the rule of reason, & besides the supernatural diuine law, by which he was bound to belieue & trust in God, & to loue him aboue al things, hauing receiued the gifts, of faith, hope, and charitie, God gaue him another particular law, that he should not eate of the tree of knowledge of good and euil. And that for two special reasons, which S. Angustin noteth vpon this place. First, that God might declare himselfe to be Lord of man. Which was absolutely necessarie for man, & nothing at al profitable to God, who needeth not our seruice, but we without his dominion should vtterly fall to nothing. Nec enim ipse non creauit, &c. For he not creating vs, neither could we haue been, nor he not conseruing vs could we reme, nor he not governing vs, could we liue rightly. Wherfore he only is our true Lord, whom not for his, but for our owne profit & saluation we serue. The other reason was, that God might giue man matter wherin to exercise the vertue of obedience, and to shew himselfe a sub. Et of God. Which could not be so properly & effectuallly declared by keeping other lawes, nor the enormitie of disobedience appeare so evidently, as by fulfilling of Gods wil commanding him, or by doing his owne wil, moued to the contrarie, in a thing of it-selfe indifferent, & only made vnlawful, because it was forbid. But let vs heare S. Angustines owne words. Nec pernit n. elius aut diligentijs comendari quantum malum sit sola inobediencia, &c. Neither could it (saith this great Doctour) be better, nor more exactly signified how bad a thing sole disobedience is, than where a man became guiltie of iniquitie because he touched that thing (contrarie to prohibition Observation of holy dayes by Gods institution.

Observation of festiual dayes is religious, not Iudaical, nor heathnish.

Honour of Saints is to the greater honour of Christ

Why a particular positive law, besides the general lawes of God & nature, was giuen to man. First reason.

2. reason.

The sinne of disobedience.

in Psal. 118.

in Heb. 13. 14. in 1. Tim. 2. 3.

in Homi. in 40 Martyres.

lib. 8. de Gen. ad lit. c. 11. Psal. 115.

Joyned with damage to him that disobeyeth.

Joyned with damage of him that for-biddeth.

True obediēce is blind and prompt.

Not meate, but the disobedience hurteth him that transgresseth the precept of abstinence.

Lawes in things indifferent bind in conscience.

Temporal punishment due after sinne is remitted.

Death due to all for Original sinne.

Yea to infants who haue no other sinne.

Also other penalties inflicted vpon infants.

which if he, not forbidden, had touched, he had not sinned at all. For he that saith, for example
f. 100, Touch not this herb. supposeth it is payseful, and doth forwarne one of death, if he touch it, death assuredly falleth on the contemner of the precept: yea though no man had prohibited, & he had touched, for he should die because the same thing bereaueth him of health and life, whether it had been forbidden him or no. Also when one forbiddeth that thing to be touched, which would not indeed prouide him that toucheth, but him that forbiddeth, as if one take anothers money, being forbid by him, whose the money is, it is a sinne in him that is forbidden, because it is an iniurie to him that forbiddeth. But when that thing is touched which neither should hurt him that toucheth, nor any other, if it were not forbid, wherefore is it prohibited, but that the proper goodnes of obedience, and the euil of disobedience might appeare? Thus
S. Augustin sheweth, that disobedience is a sinne because it is against a precept, though otherwise the thing that is done were not euil. And among other good notes, teacheth that true obedience inquireth not wherefore a thing is commanded, but leauing that to the Superiour, promptly doth what is appointed.

17. Of the tree eate thou not.) This example of our first parents transgression sheweth, how friuolous an answer it is to say, that breaking of commanded fastes, or eating meates forbidden can not hurt vs, the meate being good & holsome: for so the fruit of the tree was good, and should haue hurt no man, if it had not been forbidden. Euen so all meates of their owne nature are good, yet the precept of fasting (foretold by our Saviour in general, & determined by his Church in particular) & so of anie other like law, though it be in things otherwise indifferent, proceeding from lawful Superiours, bindeth the subiects in conscience. And the transgression is properly disobedience, what other sinne soeuer may also be mixed therewith.

17. Thou shalt dye the death.) Against the new doctrine, denying that after sinne is remitted, anie temporal punishment remaineth for the same, this place decla-reth that death (whereof God forewarned Adam, if he should eate of the fruit for-bidden) remained due, and was at last inflicted vpon him for his sinne, which was presently remitted vpon his repentance.

Againe, for so much as we are all subiect to death, it proueth that we were all guiltie of this sinne, by which death came vpon all men, as S. Paul teacheth. Els God should punish vs without our fault, which is vnpossible that his goodnes should doe. Especially it appeareth in infants, who dying before they come to vse of reason, can neuer commit other sinne: for though they were circumcised, or had Sacrifice offered, or other remedie vsed for them before Christ, or baptised since Christ, yet they suffer (as S. Augustin noteth) both death and manie other penalties, of sickenes, cold, heate, hunger, and the like, which can neither be to them matter of merit (as to others it may be) nor profit them for auoiding of other sinnes, seeing they dye in their infancie. Yea moreouer, if they dyed without circumcisiō, or other remedie of those former times, their soules perished from their people; & now without Baptisme can neuer enter into the Kingdome of heauen, which could not stand with Gods iustice, if they were not guiltie of sinne.

Mat. 9,
Luc. 10.
S. Epip.
in cōpen
fidei Cat.
S. Aug.
ep. 80.

Caluin
l. 3. inf.
c. 4. par.
31. & 32.

Rom. 8.
Li. 13. de
trinit. c.
6. l. 2. de
rec. mer.
& remi.
c. 34.
Gen. 17.
Ioan. 3.
S. Greg.
l. 4. Moral. c. 2.

CHAP. III.

By the craft of the Diuel speaking in a serpent, our first parents transgressed Gods commandement. 7. Who being ashamed would hide themselves: 9. but are reprov'd by God. 14. And besides other particular punishments (yet with promise of a Redeemer) are cast out of Paradise.

BUT (a) the serpent also was more subtile then al the beasts of the earth, which our Lord God had made. Which said to the woman: " Why hath God commanded you, that you should not cate of euerie tree of Paradise? . To whom the woman answered : Of the fruit of the trees that are in Paradise we doe cate: 3. but of the fruit of the tree which is in the middes of Paradise, God hath commanded vs that we should not cate:and that we should not touch it, lest perhaps we die. 4. And the serpent said to the woman : No, you shal not dye the death. 5. For God doth know that in what day soeuer you shal cate therof, your eyes shal be opened:and you shal be as Gods, knowing good and euil.

6. The woman therefore saw that the tree was good to cate, and faire to the eyes, and delectable to behold:and she tooke of the fruit therof, & did cate, & gaue to her husband, who did cate. 7. And the eyes of them both were opened : and when they (b) perceiued themselves to be naked, they sowed together leaues of a fig-tree, and made themselves aprons.

8. And hearing the voice of our Lord God walking in Paradise at the after-noon ayre, Adam hid himselfe, and so did his wife from the face of our Lord God, amidst the trees of Paradise. 9. And our Lord God called Adam, and said to him : Where art thou? 10. Who said : I heard thy voice in Paradise:and I feared, because I was naked, and I hid me. 11. To whom he said : And who hath told thee that thou wast naked, but that thou hast eaten of the tree, whereof I commanded thee that thou shouldest not cate? 12. And Adam said: The woman which thou gauest me to be my fellow-companion, gaue me of the tree, & I did cate.

13. And our Lord God said to the woman: Why hast thou done this: Who answered : The serpent deceiued me, and I did cate. 14. And our Lord God said to the serpent: Because thou hast done this thing, (c) accursed art thou among al cattle, and beasts of the earth : vpon thy brest shalt thou goe, & (d) earth shalt thou cate al the dayes of thy life. 15. I wil put enmyties between thee & the woman, & thy seed and the seed of her : " she shal bruise thy head in pieces, and thou shalt lye in waite

The second part. Of the fall of man, & propagation of mā & of sinne.

(a) Serpents most craftie to escape harme when they hurt men: so is the diuel.

(b) After sinne they were ashamed, not before. S. Christ.

(c) Al this curse pertaineth to the diuel that spake in the serpent. S. Aug. l. 2. de Gen. ad iii. c. 36. S. Beda in hunc locum.

(d) Earthie or worldlie and carnal men. S. Greg. in Psal.

2. Cor.
11, 3-

Ecl. 25
1. Tim.
2, 14.

(e) Though good me resist tentatiōs at the first assaults: & so bruise the serpents head, yet he endeauou- reth stil to de- ceiuē, especial- ly in the end of mans life, sig- nified by the heele. S. Greg. in cap. 1. Iob.

(f) Al men trael one way or other: & such as suffer weeds to ouergrow (in their souls) shal after this life either fa- staine the fire of Purgatorie, or eternal paine. S. Aug. l. 2. c. 20. Gen. con. Man.

(g) She was life it-selfe, she

(e) of her heele. 16. To the woman also he said: I wil multiplie thy traiaites and thy child-bearings: in trauaile shalt thou bring forth chil- dren, and thou shalt be vnder thy husbands power, and he shal haue do- minion ouer thee. 17. And to Adam he said: Because thou hast heard the voice of thy wife, and hast eaten of the tree whereof I commanded thee that thou shouldest not eate, cursed is the earth in thy worke: with (f) much toyling shalt thou eate thereof al the dayes of thy life. 18. Thornes and thistles shal it bring forth to thee, and thou shalt eate the hearbs of the earth. 19. In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eate bread, til thou returne to earth, of which thou wast taken: because " dust thou art, and into dust thou shalt returne.

20. And Adam called the name of his wife, Eue: for because (g) she was mother of al the liuing. 21. Our Lord God also made for Adam and his wife garments of skinnes, and cloathed them: 22. And said: Loe Adam is become as it were one of vs, knowing good & euil: now therefore " lest perhaps he reach forth his hand, and take also of the tree of life, and eate, and liue for ever. 23. And our Lord God sent him out of the Paradise of pleasure, to worke the earth of which he was taken. 24. And he cast out Adam, and " placed before the Paradiē of pleasure Cherubins, and a flaming and a turning sword, for to keep the way of the tree of life.

mother rather of al the dying: but in figure of our R. Lady who is mother of Christ, is called mother of the liuing. S. 1 p. po. her. 78.

2. Cor. 14.

ANNOTATIONS.

CHAP. III.

Sinne entred among men by the enuie and craft of the diuel, man cōsent- ing to his sug- gestions. Eue first sinned in thought, thē in words, last in deeds.

Bad sequels of sinne.

No sinne can be without freewil.

1. Why hath God? Here we may see how sinne came first among men. For the diuel enuying mans happie state temptred Eue the weaker person, beginning with a question, therby to allure her into conference, and by such a question as might bring her into suspition of Gods affection towards man, saying: Why hath God commanded you, that you should not eate of euerie tree of Paradise? insinuating by these words, and withal internally suggesting, that God dealt hardly with them, abrid- ging their libertie without cause. And when he had got so much of her, that she was displeas'd with the precept, which she shewed by adding of her owne (to make it seeme more grieuous) that they were forbidden to touch the tree, & againe by reporting the punishment as doubtful, saying, Lest perhaps we dye; then the tempter auouched boldly, and falsly, that they should not dye, and charged God to be enuious of the benefit they should get by eating of that tree, saying the. r eyes should be opened, and they should be as Gods, knowing good and euil. Vpon which perswa- sion and liking also she had to the fruit, she did take and eate, and perswaded Adam also to eate. And forthwith they saw that they would not haue seen, knew euil which they had better not to haue knowen, were ashamed, and endeauoured to couer and hide themselues. Euen thus the diuel dealeth with men euer since, assaulting the weaker persons, and weaker part, as the flesh and sensualitie, and by them setteth vpon the stronger and superiour part, to get consent of freewil, without which there is no sinne; according to that famous saying of Augustin: Peccatum adeo est voluntarium, ut nullo modo sit peccatum, si non voluntarium. Sinne is so voluntarie, that in no wise it can be sinne, if it be not voluntarie. Wherefore it was no sinne

cap. 2. 24. Ican. 8, 44. S. Aug. lib. 14. de ciu. c. 11. Rupert. l. de Tri- nit. & operibus eius, c. 4.

Lib. de vera Re- ligione. c. 14. Lib. 1. Retraē. c. 13.

in Eue to be temptred by the serpent, which she could not auoid, nor in Adam to be temptred by Eue, but they sinned when they consented to the euil suggestions. And now in the regenerate, though concupiscence remaine, which is the effect of sinne past, & occasion of sinne in those that yeald againe to tentations, yet is it not sinne, but punishment of sinne, and matter of exercise in the iust, and if we resist, of merit: and therefore S. Paul exhortheth vs, so walke in the spirit, and the lusts of the flesh we shal not accomplish. And in another place sheweth, that he which fighteth lawfully shal be crowned 15 She shal bruiſe.] Protestants wil not admit this reading, ipsa conteret, she shal bruiſe, leit our Blessed Ladie should be said anie way to bruiſe the serpents head. And Remisius amongst others saith, that al ancient Fathers read, ipsum, not, ipsa. But he is conuincid of lying by Claudius Marius Victor, lib. 1. in Gen. Alcimus Auitus lib. 3. carm. c. 6. S. Chriſtoſtom hom. 17. in Genes. S. Ambrose lib. de fuga ſeculi cap. 7. S. Augustin l. 2. de Genesi contra Manichaeos cap. 18. & lib. 11. de Genesi ad literam chap. 26. S. Gregorie lib. 1. Moralium cap. 18. And after them S. Bede, Eucherius, Rabanus, Rupertus, Strabus, and Lyra vpon this place, S. Bernard ser. 2. super Misus est, and manie others, who read ipsa, as the Latin text now hath.

But whether we read, She shal bruiſe, or, her feede, that is her sonne Christ, shal bruiſe the serpents head, we attribute no more nor no lesse to Christ nor to our Ladie by the one reading then by the other: for by the text, I wil put enmitie between thee and the woman, between thy feed and her feed, it is cleere, that this enmitie and battle pertained to the woman & her feed on the one partie, and to this diuel, that spake by the serpent, & al the wicked, on the other partie, & that the victorie should happen to mankind. Which being captiue by Adams sinne, occasioned by a woman, should be redeemed, both sexes, though in farre different sort, concurring therto. And so it is most true, that Christ by his owne proper power, and his Blessed Mother by her most immediate cooperating to his Incarnation (& consequently to other Myſteries) did bruiſe the serpents head, breake & vanquish his power. (a) As manie ancient Fathers doe excellently discourse: namely S. Bernard, writing vpon these wordes in the Apocalyps c. 12. A great signe appeared in heauen, a woman clothed with the sunne: Albeit (saith he) by one man and one woman we were greatly damaged, yet (God be thanked) by one man & one woman al losses are repaired, and that not without great increase of graces. For the benefit doth farre exceed the losse. Our merciful father giuing vs for a terrestrial Adam Christ our Redeemer, & for old Eue Gods owne Mother. Moreouer as the same S. Bernard sheweth, this Blessed Virgin in singular sort bruiſed the serpents head, in that she quite vanquished al manner suggestions of the wicked serpent, neuer yealding to, nor taking delight in anie euil moued by him.

19. Dust thou art.) By these wordes Adam was admonished to humble himselfe, considering the matter wherof his bodie was made, & into which he should be resolu'd againe (c) Wherupon it came to be a ceremonie amongst penitents to cast ashes on their heads, as appeareth in holy Scriptures. For which cause the Church now also vseth this ceremonie the first day of Lent, putting ashes on her childrens heads: willing them to remember, that dust they are, & to dust they shal returne, to moue vs by this meditation to more serious penance.

22. Least perhaps) Notwithstanding Gods eternal decree in disposing al things, and his omnipotencie which nothing can resist, yet he produceth good, and either auoideth or disposeth of euil which he suffereth, by ordinarie meanes, as appeareth Act. 27. v. 31. and that because man hath freewil, with which God concurrerth, & destroyeth not nor forceth, as S. Augustin teacherh.

22. Placed Cherubims.) Man being cast out of Paradise, the same is defended with double gard: with Angels, that are watchful, wise, & potent; and with fire & sword, most terrible armour to man. Wherby againe we see that God vseth ordinarie meanes in his prouidence, as the ministerie of Angels & humane terrour, & would Concupiscence no sinne, but the effect and occasion of sinne. Also occasion of merit.

The Latin text defended against Remisius and other Protestants See Card. Bellarm. li. 2. c. 12. de verbo Dei. Both readings yeald the same sence.

As Adam was the cause, and Eue an occasion of mans captiuitie: so Christ is the true cause and his Mother an occasion of our restauration.

Our B. Ladie resisted al euil suggestions.

The ceremonie of ashes, on Ashwensday.

Gods prouidence concurrerth with mans free wil.

Paradise defended by Angels and by fire & sword.

neither

S Aug. lib. 1. de nupt. & con. c. 23. Gal. 5. 2. Tim. r.

(a) Ircl. 3. c. 33. & l. 5 circa mel.

S. Epip. Her. 78. S. Ieron. cp. 22 ad Eustoch.

S. Aug. (or S.

Fulgens.)

ser. 18. de Sanctis.

de fide & Sym.

de Agone Christi.

(b) Ser. 2. super Misus est.

(c) Job 42.

Esa. 58.

Iere. 6.

Iona 3.

Mat. 11.

de gras. & l. 1. q. 1. c. 6. de corrept. & grat. ad art.

falso im. pos.

God destroyeth not nature.

Good Angels hinder diuels of their desires neither destroy the tree, nor depriue it of the vertue to prolong life, nor because man of freewill, by which he might desire to returne: but conseruing nature in all creatures, preuenteth inconueniences otherwise.

Thes: Angels also hinder the diuel, that he can not enter Paradise, lest he should take of the fruit of the tree, and giue it to men to prolong their liues, and thereby draw them to his seruice.

S. Aug
lib. 11. de
Gen. ad
lit. c. 40.

C H A P. IIII.

Wicked Cain killeth holie Abel: 9. whose bloud cryeth for reuenge. 11. Cain a cursed vagabond, 17. hath much issue. 25. Adam also hath Seth, and Seth Enos.

AND Adam knew Eue his wife, who conceiued and brought forth Cain, saying: I haue gotten a man through God. 2. And againe she brought forth his brother Abel. And Abel was a shephard, & Cain a husbandman. 3. And it befel after manie dayes that Cain

(a) A figure of the Lambe that was slaine fro the beginning of the world.
Apoc. 13, v. 8.

"offred of the fruits of the earth gifts to our Lord. 4. Abel also (a) offred of the first-begotten of his focke, and of their fat: and our Lord" had respect to Abel, & to his gifts. 5. But to Cain, and to his gifts he had not respect: And Cain was exceeding angrie, and his countenance abated. 6. And our Lord said to him: Why art thou angrie? and why is thy countenance fallen?: 7. If thou doe wel, "shalt thou not receiue againe: but if thou dost il, thal not thy sinne forthwith be present at the dore? but the lust therof shal be" vnder thee, and thou shalt haue dominion ouer it.

Heb. 11.

[b] Wilful murder is one of the finnes that crieth to God for reuenge.

8. And Cain said to Abel his brother: Let vs goe forth abroad. And when they were in the field, Cain rose vp against his brother Abel, and slew him. 9. And our Lord said to Cain: Where is Abel thy brother? Who answered: I know not, am I my brothers keeper? 10. And he said to him: what hast thou done? (b) the voice of thy brothers bloud crieth to me out of the earth. 11. Now therefore cursed shalt thou be vpon the earth, which hath opened her mouth, & receiued the bloud of thy brother at thy hand. 12. When thou shalt til it, it shal not yeald to thee her fruit: a roag and vagabond shalt thou be vpon the earth. 13. And Cain said to our Lord: Myne iniquitie is greater then that I may deserue pardon. 14. Loe thou dost cast me out this day from the face of the earth, and from thy face shal I be hid, and I shal be a vagabond and fugitiue on the earth: euerie one therefore that findeth me shal kil me. 15. And our Lord said to him: No, it shal not so be: but whosoever shal kil Cain, shal be punished seauen-fold. And our Lord put a marke on Cain, that whosoever found him should not kil him.

Sap. 10.
1. 10. 3.

16. And" Cain went forth from the face of our Lord, and dwelt as a fugitiue on the earth at the east side of Eden. 17. And Cain knew his wife, who conceived and brought forth Enoch : And (c) he built a citie, and called the name thereof by the name of his sonne, Enoch. 18. Moreouer Enoch begat Irad, and Irad begat Mauiael, and Mauiael begat Mathufael, and Mathufael begat Lamech. 19. Who tooke (d) two wiues, the name of the one was Ada, and the name of the other Sella. 20. And Ada brought forth Iabel, who was the father of them that dwel in tents, and of heardsmen. 21. And his brothers name was Iubal: he was the father of them that sing on harp & organes. 22. Sella also brought forth Tubalcain, who was a hammerer and worker in al worke of brasse and iron. And the sister of Tubalcain was Noema. 23. And Lamech said to his wiues Ada and Sella: Heare my voice ye wiues of Lamech, harken to my talke: for " I haue slaine a man to the wounding of my selfe, and a stripeling to mine owne drie blow bruising. 24. Seauen-fold vengeance shal be taken of Cain: but of Lamech seauentic times seauen-fold.

wife,

25. Adam also knew his wife againe: and she brought forth a sonne, & called his name Seth, saying: God hath giuen me other seed for Abel, whom Cain slew. 26. But to Seth also was borne a sonne, whom he called Enos, this man " began to inuocate the name of our Lord.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. IIII.

1. Offered gifts.) Either God himselfe taught Adam, and he his children, or els they knew by instinct of nature, that Sacrifice must be offered to God, to acknowledge thereby his supreme dominion ouer man, and mans due subiection to his diuine Maiestie. And that not only in internal affection, which (as S. Augustin, and al Catholike Doctours teach) is principally required, but also in external things, because we consist of bodie, and not only of soule, and haue, by Cods goodnes, the vse of corporal things. As here we see example in the law of nature: and the same was ordained by written precept in the law of Moyse: the Prophets also foretold, that external Sacrifice should be offered in the law of grace and new Testament, to wit, the same which Christ instituted, and left in his Church, to continue to the end of the world. Moreouer this homage of offering Sacrifice is so peculiar to God only, that albeit manie other exteriour rites and seruices are vsed both to God & men, as to be bare-head, to bow, to kneel, & the like before them, either of great humilitie (saith S. Augustin) to of pestiferous flatterie, to such as are homines colendi, venerandi, si autem eis multum additur, & adorandi: men to be worshipped, reuerenced, and if much be giuen them, adored; (for this terme of adoring is also applied to men in holie Scriptures, Gen. 23. 7. 7. 27. 7. 29) yet Sacrifice is due to God only, and to no creature how excellent so euer. In so much (saith the same Doctour) that as al nations found it necessarie to offer Sacrifice, so none durst sacrifice to anie, nisi ei quem Deum aut scimus, aut putamus, aut finxit; but to him whom they either knew, or thought, or fained to be God.

(c) By the increase of Abrahams seed (by the line onlie of Isaac & Iacob, besides the issues of Ismael & Esau, in little more then 400. yeares to about six hundred thousand men able to beare armes (Num. 1. it appeareth that Caines progenie in as manie yeares might suffice to people a citie, yea a whole countrie. S. Aug. l. 15. ciuit. c. 8. [d] This Lamech of Cains issue, is the first that is noted in Scripture to haue taken two wiues.

External Sacrifice due to God in euerie Law.

Sacrifice due to God only, and to no creature.

Li. 10. de ciuit. c. 5.

Leuit. 1. Dan. 12. Mal. 1. Luc. 22.

Lib. 10. de ciuit. cap. 4. Aristot. l. 2. Metaphis. Etbic. 9. Polit. 7. c. 8.

Abels Sacrifice declared, acceptable, & not Cains, by some external signe.

Reward and punishment according to our workes.

Freewil in mā also after his fal.

Heretical translation.

The Hebrew also & Greeke text proue freewil in Cain.

Freewil testified by antiquitie, vniuersalitie, and consent of learned & reasonable persons.

Luther abhorred the name of freewil.

4. Had respect to Abel.) Both Cain and Abel did wel in offering external Sacrifice, but they differed much in sinceritie and manner of choosing or diuiding their oblations, touching Gods part and their owne, as S. Iustinus Martyr, S. Hierom, S. Augustin and others teach. For Abel offered of the best things, of the first-begotten of his flock, and of their fat. And therefore God respected & approoued it. But to Cain and to his gifts he had not respect, because he wanted sincere deuotiō. Which difference of Gods acceptance appeared doubles, as S. Hierom and S. Augustin supposed, by some external signe, otherwise Cain had not vnderstood it. Most like it was by fire sent from God, which inflamed and consumed Abels Sacrifice, & not Cains. As we read of diuers other Sacrifices in holy Scriptures.

7. Shalt thou receiue.) Reward of good workes and punishment of euil are cleerly proued by this place, God saying to Cain: If thou dost wel, shalt thou not receiue againe? What els but wel for wel doing, as Abel receiued consolation of his Sacrifice wel offered? But if thou dost ill, shalt not thy sinne be present for thee at the doore, afflicting thy conscience, and not suffering thy mind to be in quiet, for remorse of thy wicked fact, and feare of iust iudgement? For hence it came that Cains countenance fel, and his stomach boyled with angre: punishment so beginning euen in this life, & much more in the next world our Sauour wil render (as himselfe saith) to euery man according to his workes: which the Apostle expresseth more distinctly, eternal life, or wrath & indignation.

7. Under thee.) This Text so plainly sheweth freewil in man, also after his fal, that the English Protestants to auoid so cleer a truth, for these words, the lust thereof [to wit of sinne] shall be under thee, and thou shalt haue dominion ouer it, corruptly translate in some of their Bibles thus: Vnto thee his desire shall be subiect, and thou shalt rule ouer him. As if God had said, that Abel should be vnder Cain. As the phantastical Manichees peruerted the sense, whose absurditie S. Augustin controlleth, maintayning the true construction of the words, Tu dominaberis illi; nunquid fratris? absit. Cuius igitur, nisi peccati? Tuon shalt rule ouer; what, ouer thy brother? Not so. Ouer what then, but sinne? In other English Editions, namely in the last, which we suppose they wil stand to, it is better, but yet obscure, thus, Vnto thee shall be the desire thereof, and thou shalt haue rule of it. Let vs therefore examine the sense, and if S. Hierome, the great scripture Doctour did rightly vnderstand it, God did speake to this effect to Cain: Because thou hast freewil, I warne thee, that sinne haue no dominion ouer thee, but thou ouer sinne. The Hebrew hath thus: ad te appetitus eius, & tu dominaberis in eum, or, ei. Vnto thee the appetite thereof, and thou shalt rule ouer it. Thargum Hierosolymitanum cōcludeth Gods speach to Cain thus: Into thy hand I haue giuen power of thy concupiscence, and haue thou dominion thereof: whether thou wilt to good or to euil. The Greeke hath thus: To thee is the conuersion thereof, and thou shalt beare rule ouer it: to wit, appetite, lust, concupiscence is vnder thy wil. Finally, al antiquitie, vniuersalitie, and vniforme consent of Christian Doctours, and other learned Philosophers, and reasonable men hold it for certaine and an euident truth, that man, yea a sinner, hath freewil. Yet Luther, the father of Protestants, so abhorred this truth, that he could not abide the very word, nor voutsafe (when he writ against it) to title his beastlic booke, Contra liberum arbitrium, Against freewil: but, De seruo arbitrio, Of seruil arbitriement. And denieth that man is in anywise free to choose, to reselue, or determine, but in al things seruil, tyed, constrained, and compelled to what seener he doth, saith, or thinketh. Further, that man in al his actiōs is like to a hackney, that is, forced to goe whither the rider wil haue him. And knowing the whole world against him, shameth not to confesse, that he setteth them at at naught in respect of himselfe, concluding thus: I haue not (saith he) conferred with anie in this booke, but I haue affirmed, and I doe affirme. Neither wil I what anie man iudge hereof, but I counsaile also obey, or yeald to my opinion. Caluin also for his part conspirereth

To. 1. 9.
4 Q. 1. 1.
Hebraic.
Lib. 15.
c. 7.
Mal. 1.
Heb. 11.
Lent. 9.
iudic. 6.
1. Par. 7.
1. Reg.
18.
2. M. ac
1.

Mat. 16.
Rom. 2.

Bible 1579.

lib. 15 c.
7 c. 11.

Quo
1 e r-ic in Can.

S Aug.
1. de vera Rel. c.
14.

li. de seruo arbi-trio.

lib. 2. c. 2. par. 8.

l. 2. a. 10. Iovinian.

1. loz. 2. Tra. de zelo & amore.

1. loz. 3.

l. de Pa-pare. c. 8 & c. 10.

Tom 3. ad. 1. quæst Damasi.

S. Chris- to. 20. in Gen. Lib. 1. Antiq. ca. 2. Origen. in Gen. Luc. 3.

Suidas no. abulo Seth. Ioseph l. 1. Anti. S. Aug. epist. 9. ad Emod.

conspireth in this heretic with Luther, but more faintly, rather wisheth then imagineth that men be so mad as to flye from the name of freewil. I [saith Caluin] neither my selfe would use this word, and would wish others, if they aske me consent, to abstaine from it. But we wil be bold to oppoite S. Hieromes reason against Luther, Caluin, al Maniches, and others that denie freewil. God made us (saith he) with freewil, neither are we drawn by necessitie to vertues nor to vices; otherwise where is necessitie, there is neither damnation nor crowne.

16. Cain went forth.) It is a marke of Heretikes to make breach, and goe forth of the Church. And commonly it comineth of enuie. Some ruine into heresies and schismes (saith S. Cyprian) when they enuie Bishops, whilst one either complaineth that himselfe was not rather ordained, or disdaineth to suffer another aboue him, hereupon he kicketh, hereupon he rebelleth. Enuie moued Cain to kil his brother, because his owne works were wicked and reiected: and his brothers iust, and esteemed. So going forth became obstinate, obdurate, and desperate in his sinne, and being reprobate of God, began a wicked Citie, opposite to the Citie of God. Wherefore Moyse, as S. Augustin noteth, intending to describe and shew the perpetual continuance of Gods Citie, the true Church, from Adam, which he doth by the line of Seth to Noe, & so forward to his owne time, would not omit to tel also the progenie of Cain, euen to the flood, wherein al his offspring was finally drowned & destroyed, that the true Citie of God might appeare more distinct, more conspicuous, and more renowned. And that indeed the same only (and not anie broken and interrupted copanies or cōuenticles) might be knowen to be the true Church of God.

23. I haue slaine.] So hard and obscure is this place, that S. Hierom required by S. Damasus Pope to expound it, dareth not affirme anie one sense for certaine, but proposing diuers which the text may seeme to beare, wisheth the Pope (who was also very learned) to examine al more at large: putting him in mind that Origen writ his twelfth and thirteenth books vpon this onlie place. The most probable exposition seemeth to be gathered out of the Hebrewes Tradition, that this Lamech of the issue of Cain (for there was another Lamech of Seths progenie) much addicted to hunting, & his eyes decaying, vsed in that exercise the direction of a yong man his nephew, the sonne of Tubalcain. Who seeing something moue in the bushes, supposing it to be a wild beast, willed his grād-father to shoot at the same: which he did, & struck the marke with a deadlie wound, & approaching to take the prey, found it to be old Cain. Whereupon fore amazed, afflicted, & moued with great passion, did so beate the young man for his ill directiō, that he also died of the drie blowes. After both which mishaps, & his passiō at last calmed, Lamech lamenteth, as the text saith, that he had killed a man & stripling, to wit, the one with a wound, the other with drie blowes, for which he feared seuenfold punishmēt more thē Cain suffered for killing Abel. Neuertheles S. Hierō & other Fathers thinke it probable, that Lamech killing the one of ignorance, the other in passion, was not so seuerely punished as he feared. And so they vnderstand the rest of this passage, that seuenfold vengeance was taken of Cain, by prolongation of his miserable life til his seuenth generatiō, whē one of his owne issue slew him, & another of the same linage with him. And Lamech was punished seuentie seuenfold when his seuentie seuen children (for so manie he had, as Iosephus writeth) & al their offspring perished in the flood. Mystically by seuentie seuen may be signified, that the sinne of mankind should be punished & expiated in Christ our Redeemer, who was borne in the seuentie seuenth generation from Adam.

26. Began to inuocate.) Seth was a most holie man, and so brought vp his children, that they were called the sonnes of God, Gen. 6. Adam also and Eue were penitent, & became great Confessours, and are now Saints. And so it can not be doubted but amongst other spiritual exercises they prayed & inuocated God. And therefore that which is here said: He (to wit Enos) began or (as the Hebrew hath) thē was begun, to inuocate the name of our Lord, can not be vnderstood of priuare, but of some publike prayer of many meeting together, & obseruing some rites and fet

Caluin also misliketh the word: freewil

Where is necessitie there is neither reward nor punishmēt due. Going forth of the Church a marke of Heretikes.

Scripture hard.

A probable sense according to the Hebrewes Tradition.

Mystical sense.

Publike prayce besides Sacrifice in the Church of God.

forme in peculiar place dedicated to diuine Seruice, the Church being now growne to a competent multitude; and that besides Sacrifice, which was also before, as appeareth both by Cain and Abel.

C H A P. V.

The progenie of Adams, & number of their yeares (with the death of the rest, & translation of Enoch) in the line of Seth, to Noe and his three sonnes.

HIS is the booke of the generation of Adam. In the day, when God created man, to the likenes of God made he him. 2. Male and female created he them; and blessed them: and called their name Adam, in the day when they were created. 3. And Adam liued an hundred and thirtie yeares; & begat to his owne image and likenes, and called his name Seth. 4. And the dayes of Adam, after he begat

Seth, came to eight hundred yeares: and he" begat sonnes and daughters. 5. And al the time that Adam liued, came to nine hundred & thirtie yeares," and he died. 6. Seth also liued an hundred five yeares, and begat Enos. 7. And Seth liued after he begat Enos, eight hundred and seuen yeares, and begat sonnes and daughters. 8. And al the dayes of Seth came to nine hundred & twelue yeares, and he died. 9. And Enos liued nintie yeares, and begat Cainan. 10. After whose birth he liued eight hundred and fifteen yeares, and begat sonnes and daughters. 11. And al the dayes of Enos came to nine hundred and five yeares, and he died. 12. Cainan also liued seuentie yeares, & begat Malaleel. 13. And Cainan liued after he begat Malaleel, eight hundred & fourtie yeares, and begat sonnes and daughters. 14. And al the dayes of Cainan came to nine hundred and ten yeares, and he died. 15. And Malaleel liued sixtie five yeares, and begat Iared. 16. And Malaleel liued after he begat Iared, eight hundred & thirtie yeares, and begat sonnes and daughters. 17. And al the dayes of Malaleel came to eight hundred nyntie five yeares, and he died. 18. And Iared liued an hundred sixtie two yeares, and begat Enoch. 19. And Iared liued after he begat Enoch eight hundred yeares, and begat sonnes and daughters. 20. And al the dayes of Iared came to nine hundred sixtie two yeares, and he died. 21. Moreouer Enoch liued sixtie five yeares, and begat Mathusala. 22. And Enoch (a) walked with God: and liued after he begat Mathusala, three hundred yeares, and begat sonnes and daughters. 23. And al the dayes of Enoch came to three hundred sixtie five yeares. 24. And he walked with God, and" was seen no more: because God (b) tooke him. 25. Muthusala also liued an hundred eightie seuen yeares, and begat Lamech.

Sap. 2, 24.
Eccl. 17,
1.

(a) This Hebrew phrase walked with God, signifieth that he liued wel & pleased God.

(b) The seuētie two Interpreters say, God translated him, and so doth S. Paul Heb. 11.

26. And

26. And Mathufala liued, after he begat Lamech, seuen hundred eightie two yeares, and begat sonnes and daughters. 27. And al the dayes of Mathufala came to (c) nine hundred sixtie nine yeares, and he died. 28. And Lamech liued an hundred eightie two yeares, & begat a sonne: 29. and he called his name Noe, saying: This sonne shal comfort vs from the workes & labours of our hands on the earth, which our Lord cursed. 30. And Lamech liued, after he begat Noe, fise hundred nintie fise yeares, and begat sonnes and daughters. 31. And al the dayes of Lamech came to seuen hundred seuentie seuen yeares, and he died. And (d) Noe when he was fise hundred yeares old, begat Sem, Cham, and Iaphet.

& so subtract 60. yeares fro Mathufala, then Adā liued in mā's state longer then he (d) The second prophecie before Masse on Easter Eue.

(c) This is the longest life of al here recited. But if we cōsider that Adam was as strōg of bodie the first day he was created, as these others were at the age of 60. yeares (before which, none are said to haue begot childrē) by 21. yeares.

ANNOTATIONS.

CHAP. V.

4. Begat sonnes and daughters.) Moyses in this genealogie reciteth not alwayes the first-begotten, nor the whole pegenie by their names for then he should haue repeated Cain and Abel, and haue named many others, but those only by whom the Church of God continued, signifying the rest in general, whose succession was cut off by the flood.

5. And he died) By this Gods word is verified saying, that Adam should dye, if he should eate of the forbidden tree. And the diuel is proued a lyer, saying, they should not dye. It is also most true that Adam dyed that day in which he did eate. For he began that very day to decline to death; and so doth al mankind euer since as truly said the woman of Thecua to King Dauid: we doe al die, and as waters that resourne not, we fal downe on the earth. And what els (sayth S Gregorie) is this daylie decayng of our corruption, but a lingring death? And none of al these that liued longest reaching to a thousand yeares (which with God is as one day) man dyed in that day in which he transgressed.

Morally ancient Fathers here note, that albeit the life of the Patriarks seemeth long to vs, yet if we cōpare the same to eternitie it is nothing. Neither by the iudgement of Philosophers may anie thing be counted long, that hath an end: as Tullie bringing Caro wisely disputing, threweth the longest life to be but a short moment. Whereby againe we may see what losse we sustaine by sinne: seeing if sinne had not been, we should al haue been translated from earth to heauen, and neuer haue dyed.

24. Was seen no more.) That Enoch and Elias are yet alieue is a constant knowne truth in the harts and mouths of the faithful, saith S Augustin in his first booke, de pe. car. merit. & remiss. c. 3. and confirmeth the same in diuers other place. And it is testified by very many both Greeke and Latin Doctours: S Ireneus li. 5. S Iustinus Martyr, q. 85. ad Orthodoxos, S Hippolitus li. de Antichristo, S Damascen. li. 4. de Orthodoxa fide, S Hierom. epist. 61. ad Pamach. c. 11. S Ambrose in Psalm. 45. S Chrysofom. ho. 21. in Gen. ho. 58. in Mar ho. 4. in Epist. 2. ad Theff. ho. 22. in ep. ad Heb. S Greg. li. 14. Moral. c. 11, ho. 12. in Ezech. S Prosp. li. vlt. de promiss. S Bede in c. 9. Marc. Theophilaet and Occumenius in cap. 17. Mat. and others innumerable. Touching Elias it is manifest in Scriptures, that he shal come, and preach, & be slaine with another witnes of Christ, before the terrible day of Iudg-

The continual succession of Gods Church, & interruption of other communities.

How man died the day that he sinned.

All time is short in respect of eternitie.

Enoch & Elias yet liuing in bodie.

Manifest Scripture that Elias yet liueth, & shal be slaine, & another with him.

S. Aug. l. 15. ciu. c. 20.

2. Reg. 14. ho. 37. in Euang. Psal. 89. v. 1. v. 1. cadmer. Hier. Cicero l. de Senec. & q. 1. Tuscul.

l. 20. ciu. c. 20. li. 2. de gratia Christi. 23. in El. 4. in lo.

Mala. 4. Apo. 11.

Likewise that Enoch did not see death.

These Scriptures speake of temporal not of spiritual death.

The fathers proue by the scriptures that Enoch is not dead.

Causes why Enoch & Elias are referued aliue.

1
2

3
See D. Sand. lib. 8. c. 31. de Monarch. Eccl. And F. Pererius in c. 11. Danielis.

ment: Of Enoch Moyses here maketh the matter more then probable, saying of euery one of the rest, he dyed, only of Enoch saith not so, but that he appeared or was se: n no more. For which the seuentie two Interpreters say, And he was not found, for God translated him. Which can not signifie death, but transporting or remouing to an other place. Whereto agreeeth the Authour of Ecclesiasticus, saying: Enoch pleased God, and was translated. But most cleerly S. Paul saith: Enoch was translated, that he should not see death, and he was not found, for God translated him. With what plainner words can any man declare, that a special person were not dead, then to say: He was translated, or conueyed away. that he should not see death? Neither is it a reasonable euasion to interpret this of spiritual death. For so Adam being eternally faued (as S. Ireneus li. 3. c. 34 Epiphani. con. heresim 46. S. Augustin epist. 99. ad Euodium, and others teach, and the whole Church belieueth) was preferred from that death, and so vndoubtedly were Seth and Enos, being most holy; and the rest here recounted, as is most probable. Neuertheles for further confutation of the contrarie opinion of Protestants, the reader may also obserue the iudgement of S. Christostom, who affirmeth that Though it be not a matter of faith, whether Enoch be now in Paradise from whence Adam and Eue were expelled, or in some other pleasant place: Dicunt tamen sacre Scripturæ quod Deus transiulit eum, & quod uiuentem transiulit eum, quod mortem ipse non sit expertus. The holy Scriptures say that God translated him, & that he translated him aliue, that he felt not (or hath not experienced) death. And S. Augustin as expressly saith, Non mortuus, sed uiuus translatus est. He (to wit Enoch) is translat: et, not dead but aliue. Yea he teacheth how his life is sustayned thus many thousand yeares vpon earth. And sheweth moreouer that both Enoch and Elias shal dye. For seeing Enoch and Elias (saith he) are dead in Adam, and carrying the offspring of death in their flesh, to pay that debt, are to returne to this life [of common conuerfation] and to pay this debt which so long is deferred.

Diuers reasons are also alleaged, why God would referue these two aliue. First, to shew by example, that as their mortal bodies are long conserued from corrupting or decaying, in like sort Adam & Eue and al others not sinning, should haue been conserued, and according to Gods promise neuer haue died, but after some good time translated to heauen, and indued with immortallitie. Secondly, to giue vs an argumēt of immortallitie, which is promised after the general Resurrection. For seeing God doth preferue some mortal so long from al infirmitie, we may assuredly belieue that he wil giue immortal and eternal life of body and soule to his Saints, after they haue payed the debt of death, and are risen againe. Thirdly, these two (one of the law of nature, the other of the law of Moyses) are preferred aliue, to come amongst men againe towards the end of the world, to teach, testify, and defend the true faith and doctrin of Christ against Antichrist, when he shal most violently oppugne and persecute the Church. Of Enoch it is said in the booke of Ecclesiasticus, that he was translated, ut dei genibus penitentiam, that he giue repentance to the nations, by his preaching, and reducing the deceived from Antichrist. And of Elias Malachie prophecieth, that he shal come before the great and terrible day of our Lord, and shal turne the hart of the fathers (that is the people of the Iewes) to the sonnes (the Christians) and of the sonnes (the deceived Christians) to the fathers, the ancient true Catholikes.

Καὶ οὐκ ἐβροχκετο ὡτι μὴ τατέον- κεν αὐ- τὸν ὁ Θεός. Eccl. 44. Heb. 11.

ho. 21. in Gen. lib. 1. de pec. mer. c. 2. & 3. l. 9 de Gen. ad ist. c. 6. S. Tho. in c. 11. ad Hebricos. S. Chris. ho. 21. in Gen. & in 2. Theof. 2. Theods. q. 45. in Gen. Arctas. in 11. Apoc. S. Greg. lb. 14. Moral. c. vls. & ho 12. in Exech. ccl 46. u ala. 4. Eccl. 48.

C H A P. V I.

Mans finnes cause of the deluge. 4. Giants were then vpon the earth. 8. Noe being iust was commanded to build the Arke, 18. wherein he with seuen persons more, and the seed of other liuing things were sau'd.

AND after that men began to be multiplied vpon the earth, and had procreation of daughters, 2. the (a) sonnes of God seeing the daughters of men that they were faire, tooke to themselues wiues out of al which they had chosen. 3. And God said: My spirit shal not remaine in man for euer, because he is flesh: and his dayes shal be " an hundred and twentie yeares. 4. And " Giants were vpon the earth in those dayes. For after the sonnes of God did companie with the daughters of men, & they brought forth children, these be the mightie of the old world, famous men. 5. And God seeing the malice of men was much on the earth, & that al the cogitation of their hart was bent to euil at al times, 6. it (b) repented him that he had made man on the earth. And touched inwardly with sorrow of hart, 7. I wil, saith he, cleane take away man, whom I haue created, from the face of the earth, from man euen to beasts, from that which creepeth euen vn- to the foules of the ayre. For it repenteth me that I haue made them.

8. But Noe found grace before our Lord. 9. These are the generations of Noe: " Noe was a iust and perfect man in (c) his generations, he did walke with God. 10. And he begat three sonnes, Sem, Cham, and Iapheth. 11. And the earth was corrupted before God, & was repleniied with iniquitie. 12. And when God had perceiued that the earth was corrupted (for al flesh had corrupted his way vpon the earth) 13. he said to Noe: The end of al flesh is come before me, the earth is replenished with iniquitie from the face of them, and I wil destroy them with the earth. 14. Make thee an arke of timber planke: cabinets shalt thou make in the arke, and shalt pitch it within and without with bitume. 15. And thus shalt thou make it. The length of the Arke shal be three hundred " cubits: fiftie cubits the breadth, and thirtie cubits the height of it. 16. Thou shalt make a window in the arke, & in a cubit finish the top of it: & the dore of the arke thou shalt set at the side below, middle chambers & third lofts shalt thou make in it. 17. Behold I wil bring the waters of a great floud vpon the earth, that I may destroy al flesh wherein there is breath of life vnder heauen. Al things that are in the earth shal be consumed. 18. And I wil establish my couenant with thee: and thou shalt enter into the arke, thou and thy sonnes, and thy wife, and the wiues of thy sonnes with thee. 19. And of al liuing creatures

(a) The professors of true religion were called the sonnes of God; the followers of errors the sonnes of men.

(b) God who is immutable, & subiect to no passion, yet by the enormitie of finnes seemeth prouoked to wrath, and to repent that he had made man. 5.

Amb li. de Noe & arca. c. 4.

(c) In al generatiōs God reserved some iust. Much more in the law of Gracc.

Eecl. 44.
17.

of al flesh, thou shalt bring payres into the arke, that they may liue with thee: of the male sexe and the female. 20. Of foules according to their kind, and of beasts in their kind, and of al that creepeth on the earth according to their kind: payres of al sorts shal enter in with thee, that they may liue. 21. Thou shalt take therefore with thee of al meats, that may be eaten, and thou shalt lay them vp with thee: & they shal be meate for thee and them. 22. Noe therefore (d) did al things which God commanded him.

(d) A right example of a iust man.

Heb. 11.

ANNOTATIONS.

CHAP. VI.

Sonnes of God & sonnes of mē was then such a distinction, as now Catholikes & Heretikes.

2. Sonnes of God:) The progenie of Seth, professing true faith & Religion, were called the sonnes of God; and those of Cains issue and congregation, following erroneous and wicked opinions, were called the sonnes of men. Which were then the distinctiue termes of true and false Religion, as afterwards were the termes of Iewes and Gentiles: after Christ, Christians and Pagans: and lastly true and false Christians are distinguished, by the names of Catholikes and Heretikes, as S. Augustin teacheth in his questions vpon Genesis, & other places. Which is confirmed by the like iudgement of S. Ciril Alexandrinus li. 9. aduers. Iulianum, S. Ambrose li. de Noe & arca. c. 4. S. Pacianus epist. ad Symphorianum, Theodoret, & manie others vpon this place.

Li. 15. c. 23. ciuit. De vera relig. c. 7. con. ep. fund. c. 4. Trac. 22. in Ioan.

This warning & expectation of repentance sheweth free-will in man.

3. An hundred and twentie yeares.) Mans life was not here shortned to an hundred and twentie yeares, as some haue misunderstood this place. For after this diuers liued much longer, as appeareth in the genealogie of Sem to Abram in the 11. chapter of Genesis. And Abraham liued 175. yeares (c. 25.) Isaac 180. (c. 35.) Iacob 147. (c. 47) and Ioiadas borne 1500. yeares after, liued 130. yeares [2. Par. 24.] But 120. yeares were granted before the flood for that generation to repent in, as the Chaldee Edition expresth more plainly: Terminus dabitur ei centum. viginti annorum, si forte conuersatur. The tearme of an hundred and twentie yeares, shal be giuen them, if perhaps they may conuert. And so S. Chrysostom, S. Hierom., and S. Augustin expound this Scripture. Yet whether God out off 20. of these yeares, and brought the flood after a 100 (for Noe had his sonnes when he was 500. yeares old, & the flood came in the 600. yeare of his age) or that this warning was giuen twentie yeares before anie of his sones were borne, is not so easily decided by the holie Doctours, how easie soeuer Protestants say al Scriptures are. Though vnder correction of better iudgement, it seemeth more probable, that Moyses by anticipation ioyneth the birth of Noes sonnes [when he was 500. yeares old] to the rest of the genealogie of the first Patriarkes, in the former chapter, and then telleth of this admonition, giuen 20. yeares before their birth. And so God expected the peoples repentance the whole time of 120. yeares prescribed.

Philo. Iosephus Lactant. Rupert. I. flamm.

Scriptures not easie.

Erroneous opinions concerning these giants.

4. Giants were vpon the earth.) Some haue thought that these giants were not men, nor begotten by men, but that either diuels, which fel at first from heauen, or other Angels allured with concupiscence begat them of the daughters of Cain. Philo Iudeus in his booke de Gigantibus writeth, that those whom Moyses here called Angels, the Philosophers called Gemios. Qui sunt animalia aerea, which are liuing creatures with ayrie bodies: Iosephus (li. 1. Antiq.) saith that Angels begat these giants. Tertullian also (li. de habitu muliebri) holdeth the same errour, and diuers more otherwise good Authours. But S. Ciril of Alexandria ho. 2. in Gen. Tradit. Heb. l. 15. c. 24. ciuit.

(li. 9. aduer. Iulian) S. Chriſtoſtom (homil. 22. in Gen. S. Ambroſe (de Noe & arca. c. 4.) S. Auguſtin (li. 15. c. 23. de ciuit.) S. Hierome (Tradit. Hebraic.) and other moſt principal Doctours teach it to be vntue, yea vnpoſſible, that theſe giants ſhould haue been begotten by anie other creatures then by men. For that Angels & diuels are mere ſpirits without al natural bodies. And if they had ayrie bodies (as they haue not) yet they could not haue ſuch generation. For the power or force to engender belongeth to the vegetatiue ſoule, whoſe proper operations are to turne nutriment into the ſubſtance of the ſubiect wherein it is, & to engender new iſſue or offspring from the ſame, as Ariſtotle ſheweth (li. 2. de anima, textu. 24.) And in what bodies ſoeuer there is vegetatiue ſoule, it muſt needs be, that the ſame was engendered, and muſt ſometimes decay and die, and ſo diuels ſhould be mortal. Moreouer, if they could haue generation together with mankind, then ſuch iſſue ſhould be a diſtinct ſpecies both from man and diuel, as a mule diſfereth both from horſe and aſſe. Againe, if ſpirits had abuſed women in aſſumed bodies, and ſhape of men, yet they did not take them to wiues, as the Scripture ſaith they did who begat theſe giants. Finally, the holy Scripture here expreſſly calleth the giants men: Theſe be the mightie ones, famous men; the modeſtie of Scripture terming them famous, whom our common phraſe would cal infamous, being more monſtrous in wickednes of mind, then in hugenes of bodie. For they were moſt insolent, laſciuious, couetous, cruel, and in al kind of vices moſt impious.

5. Al the cogitation bens to euil.] Luther (in his 21. article condemned by Leo the tenth) would proue by theſe words, and the like following, Al fleſh had corrupted his way vpon earth, that al workes of men are finnes. For (ſaith he) ſeeing the harts of al men are bent alwaies to euil, and al humane actions proceed from the hart, it muſt needs be that the hart as the fountaine being corrupt, the ſtreames alſo iſſuing from the ſame muſt be corrupted. Againe, al fleſh hauing corrupted his way vpon earth, there is not any iuſt man (ſaith he) nor any man without ſinne: and with Proteſtants al finnes are mortal. But Heretikes arguments are like to that the Poets feyne of Sifyphus labouring to carie a great ſtone to the top of an high hil, which when he hath brought almoſt to the hight, it ſtil falleth from him, & tumbleth againe to the bottome. Euen ſo their arguments that make greateſt ſhew of prouing their opinions, are nothing but vaine traueling, when they come to be tried by the true ſenſe of holy Scripture. In this place Moyſes deſcribeth the enormitie of ſinne that reigned in the world before the flood, for which God ſent that deſtruction. For it was haynous indeed, and that eſpecially in foure reſpects. Firſt, the malice and wickednes was general, which is ſignified by thoſe words, al fleſh had corrupted his way vpon earth. Secondly, it was great malice, ſignified by the words much, and, al the cogitations of their harts is bent to euil. For they committed al manner of wickednes, in hautines of pride, in al laſciuiousnes of the fleſh, in al crueltie of robbing, ſacking, and murdering, in al impietic againſt God & man. Thirdly, it was of long continuance, and dayly iterated. For Cain once fallen into damnable ſinne neuer repented, and al his progenie was exceeding wicked, and after that Adam and Seth were dead, and Enoch tranſlated, manie of the faithful fel to the wicked ſort, and became worſe and worſe omni uimpre, alwaies, or euerie day. Fourthly, they were obſtinate and obdurate, not repenting when Noe built the arke, and preached iuſtice (as S. Peter teſtified) & therefore God ſaued him and his familie, bringing in the deluge vpon the world of the impious. Al which maketh nothing at al for Luther. For although the malice of man and corruption of fleſh was then verie general, great, of long continuance, and obſtinate, yet was it not ſo vniuerſal, but that God himſelfe excepted Noe, ſaying to him: I haue found thee iuſt in my ſight in this generation, whereby it is cleere that theſe general termes, al cogitation and al fleſh, haue exceptions. As likewiſe other as general propoſitions in this ſame chapter, concerning the puniſhment threatned, comprehend not abſolutely al and euerie one, but almoſt al, very few excepted. I wil cleane take away, or deſtroy man whom I haue created, from the face of the earth. The end of al fleſh is

The principal Doctours proue that they were mē, and begotten of men. Firſt reason

2

3

4

5

Giants moſt monſtrous in bodie and in mind.

Luthers argument that al mens workes are finnes.

Heretikes like to Sifyphus.

The finnes before the flood very grieuous in foure reſpects.

1

2

3

4

Luthers argument answered.

S. Pet. 2.

come before me. Againe, that I may destroy al flesh wherein is breath of life under heauen. These are very general speeches, that al should be destroyed, and yet eight persons of mankind that had the same natural flesh, and amongst other liuing creatures that had breath, diuers payres were saued aliuē. So that this place (nor anie other in holic Scripture) wil not proue that Protestants paradox, that al mens actions are mortal finnes, or that no man in this life is or can be iust: but manie scriptures tel vs plainly that some men were iust, as Noe, Iob, Daniel, Zacharias, Elizabeth, Simeon, and others. Of Noe see more in the next annotation.

Exec 1.
Luc. 1.
C. 2.
Apoc.
22.

Noe iust and perfect.

Who is perfect in this life.

9. Noe was a iust and perfect man. Here Noe is not only called iust, but also perfect. The hebrew word samim of the verbe samam (which signifieth to finish or accomplish) sheweth that Noe was a perfect or complete man doing al that he was commanded, and performing the offices of al vertues that pertained to him, and that not in a vulgar and meane fort, but in a high degree, & heroical manner, as fundrie ancient Fathers haue gathered vpon this place. We shal cite some few of their sayings for example. S. Hierom (Tradit. Hebraic. in Gen.) distinguishing between consummate iustice (of the next life) & iustice of this generation (or transitorie life) saith: Noe the iust man was perfect in his generations: Noe did walke with God: that is, did follow his steppes. S. August. (li. 15. ciuit. c. 26.) saith the like, that Noe was called iust in his generation, so wit, not as the citizens of Gods citie are so be perfected in that immortalitie, in which they shal be equal to Angels, but as they may be perfect in this pilgrimage. And in his booke de perfectione contra Cælestium, he describeth him to be a perfect man, that runneth without blame so wards perfection, void of damnable finnes, and is not negligent to cleanse venial finnes by almes, prayers, and other good workes. S. Ambrose also testifieth, (li. de Noe & arca c. 4.) that albeit the world was verie wicked, yet some were iust, saying: By the grace (or fauour) which Noe found, is shewed that other mens offence doth not obscure the iust man, who is prayesed, not by the nobilitie of his birth, but by the meris of his iustice & perfection. S. Chrysost. most largely (ho. 23. in Gen.) setteth forth the iustice and perfection of Noe. Where after he hath shewed that Noe deserued indeed the name of a man, because he by flying vices and following vertues conserued the image of man, when others like beasts were led away and ruled by their wicked lusts, proceedeth thus in his commendation: *Behold (saith he) another kind of praise: Noe is called, iust, which denomination comprehendeth al vertue. For this name, iust, we use so pronounce of them, that exercise al manner of vertue. And that you may vnderstand how he arrived to the very top which was then also required of our nature, the Scripture saith, he was iust, being perfect in his generation. He performed what things saener is behouish one to doe that embraceth vertue, for such an one is perfect. He intermitted nothing, he halted in nothing, he did not well in this thing and sinned in that thing, but was perfect in euerie vertue, which was requisite for him to haue. Moreover to make also this iust man more conspicuous to vs in regard of the time, and by comparing him with others, the Scripture saith, he was perfect in his generation: in that time, in that peruerse generation, which declined vnto euil, which would not so much as present anie resemblance of vertue. In that generation therefore, in those times, that iust man not only pretended, but arrived to that height of vertue, that he became perfect, and in al things absolute. And that which I said before, so doe well amongst the enemies of vertue, amongst them that forbid vertue, doth alwaies resist a greater payse of vertue, so by this occasion the iust man got greater prayeses. Neither doth diuine Scripture here make an end of praising him, but further sheweth the excellencie of his vertue, and that he was approued by Gods owne censure, for besides saying, he was perfect in his generation, it addeth, that Noe pleased God. So great was the renowne of his vertue, that he deserued to be prayesed of God. For Noe pleased God, saith the Scripture, that you may know that he was approued of God: He pleased that eye, that can not be deceived, by his good workes. Thus farre S. Chrysostom, and much more to the same effect. S. Gregorie the Great in his fifth booke of Morals, and 36. chapter vpon the third chapter of Iob, recounting certaine principal Patriarchs, among the rest saith: *Noe first that he pleased Gods

Dimino
calculo.

examination was saved alive in the unclean world And after a large catalogue of other iust men in confirmation of this doctrine, that some were iust in the law of nature, concludeth thus: Neither is it to be believed (saith he) that onl so manie were iust before the law was received as Moyses contracteth in his most briefe description

15. Three hundred cubits.] Appelles an old heretike, scholler of Marcian, but after leaving him, and amongst other new coyned heresies, rejecting the Law and the Propnets, would by this place impugne Moyses, saying it was vnpossible that in so smal roome as was the arke by this description, the designed payres of al kinds of beasts, foule, and serpents, should be contained, with the eight persons, and al their prouision of meat for a whole yeare. Whereupon he concludeth that this narration (which he calleth a fable) hath no probabilitie nor possibilitie to be true. To whom and al such calumniatours it may be answered, that Moyses euen in an heretikes owne conceit, if malice obscured not his sense, must needs be thought wise enough, if he had been disposed to fayne fables, to frame them probable, or possible, especially when he pretended not to signifie a miracle in the smalnes of the roome to receiue so much as he reporteth. Origen to answer him, supposeth a cubit here mentioned to haue contained six ordinarie cubits: and so doubtles the arke might easily containe al things that are here spoken of, for so it were like to a great citie. But this opinion neither hath good warrant, that euer the Egyptians (of whom he supposeth Moyses might haue learned it) or any other nation vsed such long cubits, neither can this meature of a cubit be agreeable to Moyses meaning, who no doubt speaketh of the like cubits here, as he doth in other places. And in Exodus he describeth an Altar to be made siue cubits long, siue broad, and three in height. Which would be by Origens measure euerie cubit contayning six ordinarie cubits, that is nine foot at least) in length, & likewise in breadth 45. foot, and 27. foot in height. Againe (Deut. 3.) Moyses telleth of an iron bed of Og King of Basan, that was nine cubits long, and foure broad. Which make according to Origens measure of a cubit, fourescore and one foot in length, and in breadth 36. foot: which indeed haue no probabilitie. And therefore S. Augustin and other Doctours, supposing that Moyses in al these books, written for instruction of the same people, whom he brought forth of Egypt, speaketh of one sort of cubits, doe likewise iudge that he meaneth ordinarie and knowne cubits, which containe a foot and a halfe euerie cubit, as Vitruuius Agricola and others doe proue, or a foot and three quarters of a foot, which is the greatest cubit that seemeth to be mentioned in holy Scripture, called a mans cubit, or cubit of a mans hand. And so the Arke was at least in length 450. foot, in breadth 75. in height 45. or at most in length 525. foot, in breadth 87. and a halfe: in height 52. and a halfe. And either of these capacities was sufficient to receiue al the things here mentioned, considering the lofts and partitions that were in the whole arke.

Appelles an old Heretike, that denied Christ to haue true flesh.

A general answer to al calumniatours of wise & learned men. Origens opinion of long cubits not probable.

Moyses in other places can not be vnderstood to speake of so long cubits.

Gen. 1. in
6. Gen.

Exod.
27.

Leuit. 27.
c. 27.

Deut. 3.

C H A P. VII.

Noe with his familie , and paires of al kinds of beasts and foules , being entred into the arke, 12. it raineth fourtie daies and fourtie nights. 21. Al men and other liuing creatures on the earth, without the arke, are destroyed.

(a) Noe was iust not only by the estimation of men, but indeed and before God.

(b) Obseruatiō of cleane and vnclean beasts by tradition, before the law of Moyses.

(c) The Hēbrew word Thehom signifieth a gulf of water, from whence new fountaines sprang, more abundantly then euer since or before.

(d) Arubbah signifieth great pipes or windows, by which water fel downe in great abundance from the ayre, here called heauen.

S. Hier. quest. Heb. S. Epiph. ad. 10. Hierosolym. S. Chr. h. 25. in Gen.

AND our Lord said to him : Get thee in , thou and al thy house into the arke ; for I haue seen thee iust (a) in my sight in this generation. 2. Of al beasts that are (b) cleane, thou shalt take seauen and seauen, male and female: 3. but of the beasts that are vnclean two and two , male and female. Yea and of the foules also of the ayre seauen and seauen, male and female: that feed may be saued vpon the face of the whole earth. 4. For yet a while , and after seauen dayes I wil rayne vpon the earth fourtie dayes and fourtie nights : and I wil cleane destroy al substance that I haue made , from the face of the earth. 5. Noe therefore did al things which our Lord had commanded him. 6. And he was six hundred yeares old , when the waters of the flood flowed ouer the earth. 7. And Noe entred and his sonnes , his wife and the wiues of his sonnes with him into the arke, because of the waters of the flood. 8. Of beasts also the cleane and the vnclean, and of foules , and of al that moueth vpon the earth, 9. two and two went to Noe into the arke , male and female, as our Lord had commanded Noe. 10. And after the seauen dayes were passed, the waters of the flood flowed ouer the earth. 11. In the six hundred yeare of the life of Noe, in the second month , in the seauenteenth day of the month, al the fountaines of the (c) great depth were broken vp, and (d) the flood-gates of heauen were opened: 12. and the raine fel vpon the earth fourtie dayes and fourtie nights. 13. In the verie point of that day entred Noe, and Sem, and Cham, and Iapheth his sonnes; and his wife, and the three wiues of his sonnes with them into the arke: 14. they and euerie beaſt according to their kind, and al cattle in their kind, and al that moueth vpon the earth according to their kind, and al foule according to their kind , al birds , and al that fly 15. went to Noe into the arke , two and two of al flesh, wherein there was breath of life. 16. And such as entred in, male and female of al flesh did enter in , as God had commanded him : and our Lord shut him in on the out side. 17. And the flood grew fourtie daies vpon the earth: and the waters increased , and lifted vp the arke on high from the earth. 18. For they ouerflowed exceedingly ; and filled al on the face of the earth: moreouer the arke flected vpon the waters. 19. And the waters preuailed out of measure vpon the earth ; and al the high mountaines vnder the whole heauen were couered. 20. Fifteen cubits higher was the water about the mountaines , which it couered. 21. And al flesh was consumed that moued vpon the earth, of foule, of cattle, of beasts, and of al creepers, that creep vpon the earth: al men, 22. and al things, wherein there is breath of life on the earth, died. 23. And he cleane destroyed al substance that was vpon the earth, from man euen to beast, as wel it that creepeth, as the foules of the ayre: and they were destroyed from of the earth: but only Noe remained, and they that were with him in the arke. 24. And the waters held on aboute the earth an hundred fiftie dayes.

Mat. 24. Luc. 17.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. VII.

16. Shut him in.] God who by his only wil could in a moment haue drowned al the rest of the world, sauing whom he pleased, not needing in any thing the help of his creatures, yet would vse both natural and supernatural meanes, as the labour of Noe to build the arke, new fountaines springing, and the heauens pouring downe water fourtie dayes together, afterwards the wind to dry vp the earth, and because the dore being great (for Elephants to enter in) and was to be framed without (as S. Ambrose noteth) for better induring the forcible waters, could not commodiously be closed by Noe, Our Lord by the ministrie of Angels) shut him in on the one side, to teach vs by al this and the like disposition of things, that albeit his Diuine omnipotencie can doe what he wil al alone, yet he wil haue his creatures to concurre and cooperate as secundarie causes, sometimes naturally, sometimes supernaturally, or miraculously, as it pleaseth his goodnes to impart to them power and vertue.

23. But only Noe.) As there is not anie thing in al the old Testament, from the creation of the world til the comming of Christ, more notable, more admirable, or of greater importance, then this historie of the general flood; so was there nothing (though al or most chanced to them in figure) that euer more aptly, more liuely, or more exactly prefigured Christ and his Church, with the rest of al mankind, then did Noe & the arke, & the drowning of the rest of the world in that deluge. Which S. Augustin declareth in many places, but most especially & of purpose in his twelfth booke against Faustus the Manichee, fro the 14. chapter to the 22. and in his fiftenth booke of the citie of God, in the two last chapters: where he sheweth at large both the certantie of the historie, & that as certainly it was a figure of things in the new Testament, & withal the great congruities between the figure & the things figured. The same did Origen explicate (hom. 2. in Gen.) S. Gregorie (hom. 12. in Ezech.) Rupertus (li. 4. comment. in Gen c 71. & sequent.) & diuers other ancient Doctours, confirming their expositions by S. Peters testimonie, saying: In the arke a few, that is eight soules (or persons) were saved (from drowning) by water, wherunto Baptisme being of the like forme now saueh you also. And by our Sauours words saying: As in the dayes of Noe: so shall also the comming of the Sonne of man be. In summe the Doctours teach, that Noe, signifying rest, was a figure of Christ, the very rest of mans soule. Whom whosoever followeth shall find rest for their soules. The arke signifieth the Church, the forme thereof being six times so long as broad, and ten times so long as high, resembleth the proportion of mans bodie, lying prone or prostrate. The dore in the side representeth the wound in Christs side, from whence flowed the holy Sacraments, by which God useth both natural and supernatural meanes, as secundarie causes, in producing, conseruing, gouerning, punishing, & in rewarding his creatures.

Al or most things in the old Testament be in figure of the new, & no figure more exact then the flood of Noe.

How the Doctours apply the figure of the things figured.

Noe signified Christ. The arke the Church.

Sap. 10.

4. Eccl. 39.

1. Pet. 3.

1. de Noe Arca,
c. 15.1. Cor.
19.

Ep. 99. l.

5. de Rap.

c. 28. de

Unitate

1 ccl. 5.

In Psal.

103 &

131. Ser.

69. de

i. p. p. v.

1. Pet. 3.

Mat. 24.

Luc. 17.

Entrance into the Church by Baptisme.

Vertue of Sacraments commeth from Christs Passio.
Doctours and Pastours in the Church.

Varietie of states and orders
in the Church.

Good and euil
in the Church.

Perpetuities of the Church.

Vnitie of the Church.

One chiefe Gouernour in the Church.
No saluation out of the Church.

the faithful enter into the Church, & are sanctified. The timber wherof the arke is made, & the water bearing it vp, signified the Crosse of Christ & Baptisme. For as Noe saith S. Augustin) with his, was deliuered by the water and the wood, so the familie of Christ, by Baptisme signified with Christs Passion on the Crosse. Likewise the squarres of the timber which both sustayned the burden of al contained in the arke, and resisted the boystrous waues of the floud beating without, did signifie such men in the Church, as be constant and stand firmly in al sorts of tentations: especially godly and learned Doctours and Pastours, who by word and example uphold and confirme the faithful people in al afflictions within, and withstand & conuince al Heretikes and other Infidels that oppagne the Church without. Againe, the higher and lower roomes with the middle chambers and third lofts, and other distinctions of cabinets, and partitions, and al sorts of liuing creatures cleane and vn cleane, receiued therein, did signifie the varieties of al states and functions, and diuersitie of manners and merits in the Church, in which are persons of al degrees, Clergie and Laitie, Potentares, Princes, subiects, good and euil. The most strong kind of glew called bitumen, signified the permanent or euerlasting stabilitie, and vnseparabic connexion of the Church, by the grace and continual assistance of the Holie Ghost conseruing the same. The consummation of the arke in one cubit signified the vnitie of the same Church, which is one in al times and places. Neither would God Almighty haue manie arkes for Noe and his sonnes or other creatures, nor manie chiefe Rulers (though he would that of them should come manie Nation:) but one only arke, and one chiefe Gouernour therof, and that al without the same should corporally dye, to signifie that al which dye without the Church doe perish, and are eternally damned. Wherupon S. Hierom amongst other Fathers, sheweth that al within the Church, that communicate with the See Apostolike (wherin S. Damasus fate then Gouernour) are as those in the arke of Noe, and al Schismatikes, Heretikes, and other Infidels are in like case with the rest of the world, that were drowned with the floud.

li. 12. de Baptismo.
41.

Ep. 57.
ad Da-
masum.

The end of the first Age.

A B R I E F F E R E M O N S T R A N C E

OF THE STATE OF THE CHVRCH

and face of Religion in the first Age of the world, from the creation to Noes flood,
the space of 1656. yeares.

H E R E, according to our purpose mentioned before, we wil briefly recite certaine principal points of Religion, taught and obserued in the first Age: In which the foundations of the true manner of seruing God (that should be continued to the end of the world) were laid, and prospered in some, as appeareth in these seuen first chapters of Genesis. But first of al, we shal in two words repeat (as it is cleerly gathered in the same holie Scripture) the state of man before and immediately after his fal, being the subiect to whom al this pertayneth.

After therefore that God had created other things, both in heauen and earth, last of al he made Man, to his owne image and likenes, with vnderstanding & freewil, therein like to Angels, and superiour to al other creatures, and so made him Lord and Master of al earthlie things. Neither were these the greatest benefits which God bestowed on man: for his diuine goodnes indued also this his reasonable creature with innocencie & original iustice, whereby al things were most rightly ordered within him and about him. His mind, wil, and reason were obeient to God; his senses & inferiour part of his soule were subiect to reason; his flesh and bodie obeyed the spirit; and al earthlie creatures obeyed him. God also adorned man with excellent knowledge, both natural and supernatural. And albeit his hodie was of corruptible substance, yet the same, and al his posteritie, if they had not sinned, should haue been conserued, and without dying haue been translated to euerlasting life. Thus man was placed in Paradise, and Eue there made of a ribbe of his side, to be his mate and vnseparable companion, as man and wife ioyned in Mariage, with Gods blessing

Man made to Gods image, and in happie state.

Man obeyed
God, and al earthlie creatures obeyed man.

Man placed in Paradise.

for increase and multiplication. As appeareth in the two first chapters of this booke.

Man fel by yealding to tentations.

But God hauing made man right, he intangled himselfe (as holie Scripture speaketh) with infinit questions. For the diuel enuying mans felicitie inuegled our mother Eue with questions and lies, and then by her, first seduced and deceiued, allured also Adam to the transgression of Gods commandment. And so they lost original iustice, which Adam had receiued for himselfe and al mankind: and al proceeding from them by natural propagation are borne the children of wrath, in original sinne contracted from Adam, slaues of the diuel, not only subiect to temporal death, but also are excluded for euer from heauenly blisse and glorie: except by Christs redemption particularly applied, they be restored to grace and iustice in this life.

Ecc. 7, 30. Saf.
2, 24.

Original sinne.

Adam and Eue were penitent.

And touching Adam and Eue, whose sinne was not original but actual, directly committed by themselues, Gods mercie so reclaimed them by new grace, that they despaired not (as Cain, and some others did afterwards) but with hope of remission were sorie and penitent, and accordingly receiued penance and redemption. For God brought Adam from his sinne (as holie writ testifieth) and the same is collected of Eue, God shewing the like signes of his prouident mercie towards them both, of which we shal by and by note some for example.

S. p. 10.

Faith in one God.

Now let vs see the more principal points of faith and Religion professed and obserued by the Church of God before Noes floud. First, they believed in one Eternal and Omnipotent God, who made the whole world and al things therein of nothing. Which is easily confessed of al that are not plaine Atheists, and may be proued against them by reason. And therefore Adam and other Patriark could not erre in this Article, nor others be ignorans thereof, except they were very wicked.

The Blessed Trinitie.

The Myserie also of the Blessed Trinitie, three Diuine Persons in one God, though farre above the reach of mans reason, yet was believed more exprestly by some, more implied by others, and conserued from Age to Age by tradition, at least amongst the chiefe heads and leaders. Whereupon Moyses afterwards insinuated the same great Myserie by diuers words and phrases, writing of God and his workes. The two wordes God created if they be rightly considered import so much. For the word Elohim, God, in the plural number, signifyeth pluralitie of Persons (for manie Gods it can not signifie, seeing there is but one God) and the verbe bara, created, in the singular number signifyeth one God in nature and substance, albeit three Persons. For whatsoever God doth in creatures, is the worke of the whole Trinitie: though holie Scriptures doe oftentimes appropriate some worke to one Diuine Person, some to an other; which also proueth distinction of Persons in God. So the wordes God created heauen and earth signifie the Father, to whom power is attributed: In the beginning, signifie the Sonne, to whom wisdom is appropriated: and the wordes, The Spirit of God moued ouer the waters, signifie the Holie Ghost, by whose bountifull goodnes, the waters were made fruitful.

Gen. 1.

Though the B. Trinitie worke ioyntly in al creatures, yet diuers workes are attributed to distinct Persons.

Likewise Gods owne wordes: Let vs make man signifie the pluralitie of Persons, and Image and likenes in the singular number, signifie one God.

Men also knew by faith manie things pertyning to themselues. As that the bodie was made of the slime of the earth: the soule not produced of anie thing formerly existing, but created immediately of nothing, and naturally immortal: that the soule of Adam was indued with grace and iustice: that he fel from that happie state by yealding to tentation, and breaking Gods commandment of abstinence: that for the same sinne Adam and Eue were cast forth of Paradise, and al mank ind subiect to death, and other calamities.

For remedie against sinne, & restauration to grace, they believed in Christ promised to be borne of the womans seed, who by his death should conquer the wicked serpent, deliuer man from captiuitie, and restore him to spiritual life. And this is the cause of the perpetual enmities between the woman (especially the most Blessed Virgin-Mother, of whom Christ tooke flesh) and the serpent, and between her seed, the spiritual children of Christ, and the serpents seed, the whole companie of the wicked. Of this battel and conquest Targhum Hierosolimitanum thus speaketh: There shal be remedie and health to the children of women, but to thee, o serpent, there shal be no medicine, yea they shal tread thee vnder their feet, in the latter dayes, by the power of Christ their King. Likewise Gods familiar conuersation with diuers men in mans shape (Gen. 2. 3. 4. 6. and 7.) was a signe of Christs incarnation. And The Sacrifices immolated did prefigure his death, in respect whereof it is said in the Apocalyps, The Lamb was slaine from the beginning of the world. But more expressly S. Paul testifieth, that Abel, Enoch, and Noe believed in Christ, naming them for example of the first Age, and others of other times, and in the end concludeth, that manie more being approued by the same faith, receiued not the promise (so wis in their life-time) God providing that they without others (of the new Law) should not be consummate, that is, not admitted into heauenlie ioyes & fruition of God, vntil the way of eternal glorie were opened by our Lords Passion and Ascension.

Neither did the true seruants of God in those first dayes only believe in hart, but they also professed their faith & Religion by external Rites, namely in offering of Sacrifice (the most special homage & seruice to God) which is cleerly testified, cha. 4. as wel bloudie in figure of Christs Passion, as vnbloudie in figure of the holic Eucharist. Also the accepting of the one rightly offered by Abel, & reiecting the other not done sincerely by Cain, was declared by external signes, which Cain disdainyng and enuying his brothers good worke, knowing his owne to be nought, of mere malice killed his brother.

Besides Sacrifice they had also other Rites in publike Assemblies, praying and inuocating the name of our Lord, in more solemne manner, from Enos time and so forward, according to that is recorded of him in the end of the fourth chapter. For doubtles Adam, Abel, and Seth did also pray and cal vpon God, and therefore it was some addition or increase of solemnitie in the seruice of God, which is referred to Enos.

By faith the state of man past & present was knowne.

Beliefe in Christ to come.

Remedie for men, but none for Angels that fel. Heb. 2. 16.

None admitted into heauen before Christ.

External Sacrifice.

Publike payer with other Rites.

Apo. 13. 8.

Heb. 11.

Ceremonial observations. Feasts. Abstinence. Cleane & vn-cleane. Places dedicated to prayer. Figures of Christs Sacraments.

Baptisme. Mariage.

Penance. Contrition.

Confession.

Satisfaction.

From hence is taken the ceremonie of ashes on Ashwenef-day.

Priesthood.

Priesthood & Law stand & change together.

They had moreover other ceremonies : of the seventh day particularly blessed and sanctified by God, kept holie by Adam and other Patriarchs, as Abuen Ezra witnesseth in his commentaries vpon the ten commandments : of abstaining from meats, for it seemeth the more godlie sort did eate no flesh before the flood, which was after permitted : obseruation of cleane and vn-cleane beasts for Sacrifice : of peculiar places dedicated to religious vses, where people met together to pray. Likewise diuers other things in the first Age were figures of Christs sacraments : the Spirit of God giuing power to the waters (as Tertullian, S. Hierom, and others expound it) and the flood of Noe, by S. Peters testimonie, were figures of Baptisme. Mariage instituted in Parauise, is the very paterne of holie Matrimonie, a Sacrament in the Church of Christ, where one man and one wife are onlie lawfull, and not more at once in anie wise, Christ reforming that which in Moyses law was tolerated (for hardnes of mens hearts, and for auoyding murder, to put away one wife, and take another) to this first institution as it was in the beginning, two in one flesh, not three nor more. The repentance of Adam and Eue was a perfect and exemplar figure of the Sacrament of Pennance. First, they were ashamed, covering their nakednes, and hiding themselues, which shewed their grieife and sorrow for the sinne committed. Secondly, they confessed their fault, and by what meanes it happened. For God examining Adam, he answered truly and simply saying : The woman which thou gauest me to be my companion, gaue me of the tree, and I did eate. Likewise Eue confessed sincerely, saying : The serpent deceiued me, and I did eate. Thirdly, God gaue them pennance (besides death before threatned and other penalties annexed) that Eue should in paine and trauel bring forth her children ; and Adam should eate his bread in the sweat of his face, and withal cast them forth of Paradise, but not forth of his fauour, as appeared by his making them garments of skinnes, granting them & their posteritie the rest of the earth to liue and labour in, especially to serue him & doe pennance, with admonition to remember, that of dust man was made, and into dust he shal returne. Al which were signes of loue, and that finally he would bring them and manie more to eternal saluation.

The first-borne and heads of families were Priests at the time of the law of nature, vntil the law being changed, God tooke Priests only of the stock of Aaron, and the rest of the Leuites to assist them in that function : Aaron & his sonnes thou shalt appoint, saith our Lord, ouer the seruice of Priesthood, for I haue taken the Leuites of the children of Israel for euerie first-borne. And S. Paul teacheth, that changing of Priesthood and changing of the law goe alwayes together, shewing evidently that euerie lawful communitie or common-wealth vnder God, hath external Priesthood. So that if there had been no distinct Order of external Priesthood in the law of nature, or now were none in the Law of grace (as Protestantes say there is not) there were no law at al. See more of this point in the Annot. chap. 7. ad Hebr. Here we only obserue that Abel, Seth, Enos, and other Patriarchs were Priests, & exercised priestlie functions : yea Cain also was a Priest (though a bad one) and offered Sacrifice.

Gen. 2, 3.

Gen. 29, Gen 9.

Gen. 7, 2.

Gen 4, 26.

Gen. 1. 1. Pet. 3.

Mat. 19.

Gen. 2, 24.

Gen. 3.

Num. 3, 10, 12. 45.

Luther lib. de abregã-da Mis-sa.

Gen. 4.

But external offices or ministerie, without a wel disposed mind and sincere vertues producing Good workes, did neuer iustifie anie man. And therefore Cains Sacrifice, offered with a peruerse mind, was not respected by God, as Abels was: wherupon he becomming worse and more maliciouse, God sharply reprov'd his anger and enuie, conceived without iust cause, saying: If thou dost wel, shalt thou not receiue againe: but if thou dost il, shal not thy sinne forthwith be present at the dore? cleerly shewing that euerie one shal receiue according to his workes.

Good workes
necessarie.

This place also evidently sheweth Freewil, yea in a wicked man. For this expostulation had neuer been vttered by our most reasonable Lord and Master, if Cain had been deprived of freewil. For he might haue excused himselfe, and must needs haue been holden excused, if he had been forced to doe as he did. But God charged him as inexcusable, and as one that knew, or ought to know, that he had freewil. And doth further inculcate that he had, and should haue power and freewil ouer his concupiscence, to correct the same if he would, saying: The lust therof shal be vnder thee, and thou shalt haue dominion ouer it. So that no sinner, be he neuer so wicked, much lesse a iust man, lacketh freewil. Yet Luther abhorreth the very word, and Calum wished it out of the world.

Freewil.

Li de
sermo arbit. li.
s. Insuper.
ca. 2.
par. 8.
Gen. 3.

Temporal punishment is proued to be due for sinne remitted, by that both death and other penalties are inflicted by Gods iustice vpon men, after iustification, and by the particular punishments laid vpon Adam and Eue, confessing their faults.

Temporal
paine due for sinne remitted.

Purgatorie is also proued by the same iustice of God. For when anie dieth penitent, and yet haue not made full satisfaction, they must suffer for that remaineth after death, and be purged, before they can enter into re. Which remnant of debt our B. Saviour calleth, The last farthing, and saith, it must be payed. The Iewes also at this day hold the doctrine of Purgatorie by tradition. And consequently they Pray for soules departed, not only to God, but also to the ancient Patriarchs (which likewise sheweth Inuocation of Saints) in these words: Yee fathers which sleep in Hebron, open to him the gates of Eden, that is of Paradise, which was planted in Eden. And Hebron is the place where Adam was buried, and his sepulcher religiously conserued in the time of Iosue, about 1500 yeares after his death. The same is the place which Abraham bought, and there buried Sara: where also himselfe, and Isaac, and Iacob were buried: and to which finally the bodies of the twelue sonnes of Iacob were translated from Sichem, as Iosephus writeth. And Sichem also was specially honoured, because such persons had been buried there, as S. Hierome witnesseth of his owne knowledge in his time.

Purgatorie.

Mat. 5.

Prayer for the dead.
And to Saints.

Officio pro defunctis.
Ios. 14.
Ge. 23.

Sepulchers of Patriarchs religiously conserued.

l. 2. An-tiquit.
I. pist. ad
Pamach

Gen. 5.
Heb. 11.

Againe by religious care of burying the dead in this first Age, Enoch was more certainly known to be Translated aliue, and not to be dead. For the senentie Interpreters and S. Paul say He was not found, which importeth that they sought diligently for him, and that his bodie could not be found, for God translated him.

Enoch translated aliue.

Communion of Saints.
Ministerie of Angels.

Honour of Saints.

General Iudgement.

Iudge of the world.

Resurrection.

Euerlasting
life.

The blessed in ernal ioy.
The wicked in endles
paine.

By al which we see mutual offi es and communion of good workes amongst good men aliue and dead , which is called Communiou of Saints. And herein Angels lacked not their offi.es. For God set Cherubins to keep the gate of Paradise , that neither man should enter , being iustly expelled for sinne , nor diuels , as S. Augustin noteth , lest they should take fruit of the tree of life , and giuing it to men , allure them to more sinne. And now Saints being exalted to Angels glorie , haue like honourable offices towards other men , as Angels haue. Yea the blood of Abel vniustly shed by Cain , and iustly to be reuenged by God , sheweth the peculiar honour , which God bestoweth vpon his saints , for their vertues and merits in this life , & especially in their death. For Precious in the sight of our Lord , is the death of his Saints.

Hence also is proued , that seeing in this life the good are afflicted and the bad oftentimes prosper temporally , there must needs be an other Court of exact Iustice , and an oth r Reaconing day , wherein euerie one shal receiue according as they haue done good or euil. Which was sufficiently intimated by Goas discerning and manifesting Abels and Cains deserts , which were hidden before , and in part rewarding them accordingly , yet reseruing the full reward of the one and punishment of the other to the next world. Of the Iudge and his sentence Enoch (alleged by S. Iude the Apostle) prophicied cleerly , saying: Behold our Lord commeth in his holy thousands , to doe iudgement against al , and to reprove al the impious of al the workes of their impietie , wherby they haue done impiously , and of al the hard things which impious sinners haue spoken against him. Thus holy Enoch preached touching the wicked , which thought there was no Iudgement to come , ner Iudge to be feared.

At this Iudgement al shal appeare in bodie and soule returning to life. For that Al men shal rise from death is proued by the immortalitie of mans soule , which God did not make nor produce of corruptible matter , but immediately breathed into his face the breath of life , and man became a liuing soule. So the soule being immortal , and hauing a natural inclination to the bodie , mans natural perfection requireth the conjunction of bodie and soule. For neither soule nor bodie separated is a man , but both ioyned in one subsistence are a man , in so much that mankin should perish , except the bodies shal rise againe , and liue with the soules. And then shal the bodies be qualified according to the state of the soules , happie or miserable for euer.

Of Eternal life the translation of Enoch is a figure. For seeing God preserueth his corruptible bodie so long from death and infirmitie , it is a token and manifest signe , that by the same power of God the bodies of men shal at the last day , after that al men are once dead , rise againe , and remaine with the soules for euer : The good in Eternal ioy , the wicked in Eternal paine. Both signified by the custodie of the gate of Paradise by Angels ; who for euer keep out those , that are stil defiled with sinne , and so they depart into fire euerlasting , and

Gen. 3.
24.
li. 11. de
Gen. ad
lis. c. 40.
Gen. 4.
Psal.
115.

Epi
Iuda. v.
14.

Ge. 2, 7.

Gen. 5.

Gen. 3, 24.

admit the innocent and iust into the Kingdome of heauen, which is euerlasting ioy and perfect felicitie.

Thus we see the face and brieft summe of Religion in the beginning of the world, til the flood: and the state of the Church, which was alwayes Visible, consisting of men good and bad, with a continuall Succession of Rulers, as wel spiritual as temporal. For the first-borne were both Priests and Princes in euerie familie. And amongst the same one euer chief of al. From which ranke Cain was excluded, or rather excluded himselfe, by Going forth from the face of our Lord. Wherupon holy Moyses reciteth this Monarchical succession of one chiefe and Supreme Head, from Adam by the line of Seth, Enos, Cainan, Malaleel, Jared, Enoch, Mathufala, Lamech, and Noe. Neuertheles he setteth downe also the progenie of Cain, the first beginner of a worldlie, schismatical, and heretical conuenticle, opposite to the Citie of God. He denied Gods providence (as Thargum Hierosolomiticum testifieth) protesting to Abel, That there was no Iustice nor Iudge, nor other world then this, no reward for vertue, nor punishment for sinne, and so desperately he killed Abel. Of these negatiue principles proceeded other like detestable opinions, and most wicked life, sauage and barbarous crueltie, and al kind of impietie. And in processe of time albeit manse remained in true faith and vniue of the Church, yet by conuersation with such miscreants, especially by occasion of Mariages between the faithfull and infidels, almost the whole world was corrupted in manners. But Noe was iust and perfect. In punishment therefore of so great and enormous finnes, God sent the general floud, whereby al Cains progenie, and al other infidels were wholly destroyed and extinguished, and the true Church notably purged; only iust Noe and his familie reserued. By whom the same true Church was continuad, and the world againe replenished with men.

Church euer visible. Succession of Patriarchs.

One supreme head of the Church.

Cains negatiue doctrine.

True faith stil remained in manie.

Some also iust and perfect.

Interruption of heretical Sinagogues.

Continuance of the Church.

Gen. 4, 16.

Gen. 5.

Gen. 4,

17.

S. Aug.

l. de Pa-

stra. c.

8. &

20.

Gen. 6.

C H A P. VIII.

The waters diminishing by litle & litle, 6. Noe sendeth forth a crow, 8. after him a doue, thise: 18. lastly goeth forth with al that were with him in the arke, 20. erecteth an Altar, and offereth Sacrifice.

The second Age of the world.

AND God remembered Noe, and al the beasts, and al the cattle which were with him in the arke, and brought a wind vpon the earth, and the waters decreased. 2. And the fountaines of the depth and the flood-gates of heauen were shut vp: and the rayne from heauen was stayd. 3. And the waters returned from the earth going & comming:

The third part of this book Of the new increase & multiplication of the world.

(a) The crow returned not into the arke, but (as appeareth by the Hebrew text) going and returning rested vpon the arke.

(b) They entred into the arke the 17. day, the secōd month of the other year: so they remained there a whole year & ten dayes.

(c) In the whole year of the flood was no sowing nor reaping, nor pleasant varietie of times, but al desolate and miserable: hence forth God promisseth more seasonable times.
S. Amb. li. de Noe & Arca. c.
33.

and they began to decrease after an hundred fittie dayes. 4. And the arke rested the seauenth month, the seauen and twentieth day of the month, vpon the mountaines of Armenia. 5. But the waters for al that were going and decreasing vntil the tenth month: for in the tenth month, the first day of the month, the tops of the mountaines appeared. 6. And after that fourtie dayes were passed, Noe opening the window of the arke, which he had made, let forth a crow: 7. which went forth, and did (a) not returne, til the waters were dried vpon the earth. 8. He sent forth also a doue after him, to see if the waters were ceased yet vpon the face of the earth. 9. Which finding not where her foot might rest, returned to him into the arke: for the waters were vpon the whole earth: and he stretched forth his hand and caught her, and brought her into the arke. 10. And hauing expected yet seauen moe dayes againe he let forth a doue out of the arke. 11. But she came to him at euentide, carrying a bough of an oliue tree that had green leaues, in her mouth. Noe therefore vnderstood that the waters were ceased vpon the earth. 12. And he expected yet neuertheles other seauen dayes: and he sent forth a doue, which returned not any more vnto him. 13. Therefore in the six hundred and one year, the first month, the first day of the month, the waters were cleane diminished vpon the earth: & Noe opening the roofe of the arke, looked, and saw that the face of the earth was dried. 14. In (b) the second month, the seauen and twentieth day of the month the earth was dried. 15. And God spake to Noe, saying: 16. Goe forth of the arke, thou and thy wife, thy sonnes and the wiues of thy sonnes with thee. 17. Al cattle that are with thee, of al flesh, as wel in foules, as in beasts, and al creepers that creep vpon the earth, bring out with thee, and goe yee vpon the earth: increase and multiplie vpon it. 18. Noe therefore went forth, and his sonnes: his wife, and the wiues of his sonnes with him. 19. Yea and al cattle, beasts, & creepers that creep vpon the earth, according to their kind, went forth out of the arke. 20. And Noe built an Altar to our Lord: and taking of al cattle and foules that were cleane, offered Holocausts vpon the Altar. 21. And our Lord smelled a sweet sauour, and said: I wil no more curse the earth for men: for the sense and cogitation of mans hart are prone to euil from their youth: I wil no more therefore strike euerie liuing soule as I haue done. 22. Al the dayes of the earth, (c) seed-time and haruest, cold and heate, sommer and winter, night and day shal not rest.

ANNOTATIONS.

ANNOTATIONS.

CHAP. VIII.

20. Build an Altar.] Noe without expresse commandment, and without delay, offereth Sacrifice to God, for the benefit receiued in his and his families conseruation, with the other liuing creatures, in that general deluge of the world, Wel knowing (saith S. Ambrose) that so be true thankes-giuing, which is presented, not commanded: therefore he made no delay. For the vertue of a grateful mind excludeth doubtful deliberation, and he that expecteth til the debt of thankes be exacted, is an vngrateful person. For more solemnitie, he dedicated an apt and permanent place, for this peculiar diuine seruice, Building an Altar to our Lord. The Hebrew word Mizbeach (of the verbe Zabach, to kil, or make sacrifice) and the Greeke Thysasterion, signifie an Altar to sacrifice on, not a common table for meate. He offered of the cleane and best things; because pure and deuout Sacrifice is due to God. Moreouer, it was large and bountiful, for he offered of al the kinds of cleane beasts and foules. Finally, he offered them in Holocaustes, where al was burned and consumed in the honour of God. How grateful al this was to God, Moyses signifieth saying: Our Lord smelled a sweet saour: not that either anie sweet corporal faour could of it-selfe delight God, who is the most spiritual substance, or that the burning of flesh, bones, and bowels of beasts could yeald sweet saour; but the deuout mind declared by such external dutie greatly pleased God. For God requireth both, but specially a sincere hart. As not only diuine Scriptures and holie Fathers, but also moral Philosophers teach vs. It were a grieuous thing (saith Plato writing of sacrifices) If God had respect rather to the gifts and sacrifices of men, then to their mind. lib. peri tes profeuches.

Noes sacrifice manie wayes commandable.

1. Voluntarie.
2. Speedie.
3. Solemne.

4. Pure.
 5. Bountiful
 6. Holocaust.
- Sacrifice is pleasant to God: not for the external things but for the sincere mind.

Li. de Noe & Arca 4. 22.

Heb. 13. 10.

Leuit. 1. Psal. 50. I/oy. 1. Amos 5. Mal. 1. Iustm. Mar. li. 3. 9. 4. S. Hiero. Q. Heb.

CHAP. IX.

God reneweth the blessing of multiplication, 3. alloweth the eating of flesh, but not of bloud. 8. promiseth neuer againe to destroy the world by water. 22. Cham saw and reported his fathers nakednes, which Sem and Iapheth covered. 24. For which he his cursed, and they are blessed.

AND God blessed Noe and his sonnes. And he said to them: (1) Increase & multiplie, and replenish the earth. 2. And your terrour and dread be it vpon al the beasts of the earth, and vpon al the foules of the ayre, with al that moue vpon the earth: al the fishes of the sea are deliuered to your hand. 3. And " al that moueth and liueth shal be yours for meat: euen as the green hearbs haue I deliuered al to you. 4. Sauing that " flesh with bloud you shal not eat. 5. For I wil require the bloud of your foules at the hands of al beaſts : and at the hand of man , at the hand of each man , and of his brother , wil I require the ſoule of man. 6. Whoſocuer ſhal ſheed mans bloud , his bloud ſhal be ſhed : for to the image of God man was made. 7. But increaſe you and multiplie , and goe vpon the earth , and fil it.

(a) Of this commandment, or rather blessing see the Annotations chap. i. v. 28.

Leui. 17.

8. Thus alſo ſaid God to Noe , and to his ſonnes with him : 9. Behold I wil eſta bliſh my couenant with you , and with your ſeed after you : 10. and with euerie liuing ſoule that is with you , as wel in al foules as in cattle & beaſts of the earth that are come forth out of the arke , and in al beaſts of the earth. 11. I wil eſta bliſh my couenant with you , and al fleſh ſhal be no more deſtroyed with the waters of a floud , neither ſhal there be from hence-forth a floud to waſt the earth. 12. And God ſaid : This is the ſigne of the couenant which I giue between me and you , and between euerie liuing ſoule , that is with you , for perpetual generations : 13. (b) my bow wil I ſet in the clouds , and it ſhal be the ſigne of a couenant between me and between the earth. 14. And when I ſhal couer the element with clouds , my bow ſhal appeare in the clouds : 15. and I ſhal remember my couenant with you , and with euerie liuing ſoule that beareth fleſh : and there ſhal no more be waters of a floud , to diſtroy al fleſh. 16. And my bow ſhal be in the clouds , and I ſhal ſee it , and I ſhal remember the euerlaſting couenant , that was made between God and euerie liuing ſoule of al fleſh which is vpon the earth. 17. And God ſaid to Noe : This ſhal be the ſigne of the couenant , which I eſta bliſhed between me & al fleſh of the earth. 18. The ſonnes therfore of Noe , that came out of the arke , were Sem , Cham , and Iapheth : and Cham he is the father of Chanaan. 19. Theſe three are the ſonnes of Noe : and (c) of theſe was al mankind ſpred ouer the whole earth.

20. And Noe a husbandman began to til the ground , and planted a vineyard. 21. And drinking of the wine was made drunke , and naked in his tabernacle. 22. Which when Cham the father of Chanaan had ſeen , to wit that his fathers priuities were bare , he told it to his two brethren abroad. 23. But indeed Sem and Iapheth put a cloake vpon their ſhoulders , and going backward , couered the priuities of their father : and their faces were turned away , and they ſaw not their fathers priuities. 24. And Noe awaking from the wine , when he had learned what his yonger ſonne had done to him , 25. he ſaid : Cursed be Chanaan , a ſeruant of ſeruants ſhal he be vnto his brethren. 26. And he ſaith : Blessed be the Lord God of Sem , Chanaan be his ſeruant. 27. " God enlarge Iapheth , and dwel he in the tabernacles of Sem , and Chanaan be his ſeruant. 28. And Noe liued after the floud three hundred fiftie yeares. 29. And al his dayes were in the whole nyne hundred fiftie yeares : and he died.

(b) The rainbow was before , but was not a ſigne , as God ſaith hence forth it ſhould be , for men to remember his promiſe.

Semerianus in Gen. 5. The Quodlib. 3. 2. 30.

(c) By this it is clere that Noe had no more children after the floud. S. Chryſoſt. ho. 29. in Gen.

Apor. 13. 8.

Heb. 11.

ANNOTATIONS.

CHAP. IX.

Ad. 9.
119.
Ho. 27.
m. Gen.

3. At that moueth.) S. Iustinus Martyr, S. Chrysoftom, and other ancient Doctours proue, that flesh was lawful to be eaten before the flood: but being not necessaric, because men were stronger, and other things also of more force, the better sort which were of Seths race abstained from it. But after the flood flesh being more necessaric, God altereth that custome of abstinence, with this limitation and commandment, that they shal not eate blood.

Voluntarie abstinence without commandment.

Lemi. 17.
A. 15.

4. Flesh with blood.) Though this positiue precept, of not eating blood, serued wel to make men more abhorre man-slaughter (which is forbid by the law of nature, and the reuenge thereof here and in other places seuerly threatned) yet it was specially giuen both immediately after the flood, and in the law of Moyse (with manie the like) to exercise men in obedience. And the same was renewed, for a time, by the Apostles, to appease a controuersie in the primitiue Church. For that the Iewes conuerted to Christ, hauing been long accustomed to this obseruation, could not indure to see it broken by themselues or other Christians, and being no great burden for the Gentiles, it was decreed that al should keep it. And so peace was made. Neuertheles it was abolished when the cause ceased, as S. Augustin declareth against Faustus the Manichee. Such is the authoritie of the Church to decree, and againe to disanul an obseruation of a thing of it-selfe indifferent.

Abstinence from blood sometimes commanded, not alwayes.

li. 32. c.
23.

21. Drunke.] Noe sinned not, by the common iudgement of ancient Fathers, in that he was ouercome with wine, because he knew not the force thereof, hauing drunke only water al his life before. But this external rebuke and worldlie disgrace happened to Noe, in figure of Christ naked on the Crosse, as S. Cyprian Epist. 63 ad Cœcilium, S. Augustin li. 16. de ciuit. c. 2. & li. 12. contra Faustum Manicheum. c. 23. & 24. Eucherius, Rupertus, and others vpon this place doe teach. And likewise that Sem and Iapheth were a figure of the Church consisting of Iewes and Gentiles, and Cham of Heretikes, and other Infidels, that deride the infirmities, which our Sauour sustayned. Goe so now (yee Manichees, saith S. Austustine) obiect calumnies to the ancient holie Scriptures, doe so, yee children of Cham, so whom naked flesh seemeth vile, by which your selues were begotten. For neither could yet by anie meanes haue been called Christians, except Christ, as he was foresold by the Prophets, had come into the world, had drunke that cup of his vineyard, which could not passe from him, had slept in his passion as in drunkennes of folie (which is wiser then men) and so the infirmie of mortal flesh (which is stronger then men) had become naked, by the secret counsel of God, which infirmie vnles the W O R D O F G O D had saisen vpon him, the very name Christian, whereof yee also glorie, had not been at al in the earth.

Noe sinned not in drunkennes.

S. Christoff. ho.
29.
S. Theo.
9. 65.
S. Am.
c. 30. de
Noe & Arca.
Li. 12.
c. 24.
contr.
Faust.

Noe a figure of Christ.
Sem & Iapheth a figure of the Church, Cham of Infidels.

q. 57. in
Gen.

25. Cursed be Chanaan.) Why Chanaan the sonne is cursed, and not his father Cham, diuers yeald diuers reasons. S. Theodoretus reporteth out of the Hebrew Doctours, that Chanaan a boy first saw his grand-fathers nakednes, and told the same to his father, and so they both decided that they should haue couered, Chams other sonnes not offending: and therefore not his whole progenie but only Chanaan & his posteritie were here cursed by Noe. S. Chrysoftome supposeth that for so much as God had blessed Noe & his three sonnes comming forth of the Arke, he could not presume to curse anie of those, whom God had blessed, therefore cursed Chanaan who in wickednes was like to his father. S. Gregorie bringeth this for example of wicked men, escaping punish-

Why Chanaan is cursed rather then Cham.

ho. 29.

Sinnes punished in the posteritie.

The effect of blessing and cursing.

Iapheths blessing.

Literal.

Mystical.

How Heretikes serue Catholikes.

ment in this life, and are punished in the next, and in their posteritie following their vices. What meaneth it (saith he) that Cham sinning, Chanaan his sonne had sentence of reuenge, but that the sinnes of the reprobate prosper here in this life unreuenged, and are punished afterwards? And cleere it is that Chanaans most wicked posteritie were subdued in the end, and most of them destroyed by the children of Israel (who were of Sem) vnder the conduct of Iosue, according to Noes propheticall blessing of Sem, and cursing of Chanaan.

17. God enlarge. This blessing of Iapheth was literally fulfilled, when (according to his name, which signifieth latitude or enlargement) his plentiful issue possessed most ample countries, both in the Continent and Ilands. But mystically it had effect (as S. Hierom, S. Augustine, Rupertus, and others expound it) when the Apostles, being Iewes of the race of Sem, first builded the Christian Church, wherein the most part of that nation refused to dwell, contemning Christs Gospel & grace, and the fulnes of Gentiles entred in, and were made inheritors. Finally, Chanaan is seruant to both Sem and Iapheth, in that Heretikes being vnder the Iurisdiction of the Church, gathered of Iewes and Gentiles, serue to stir vp Catholikes' diligence to more exact knowledge of all truth; and their patience to more merit and glorie.

Li. 26.
Moral.
c. 18.

AE. 11.
Rom. 11.
Ephes. 2.
Tradit.
Hebra.
Li. 16. ci-
uis. c. 2.
Li. 12. c.
24. cont.
Fausst.
Li. 4. c.
18. in
Gen.

C H A P. X.

The genealogie of Noes children, by whom the world was increased againe after the floud.

THESE are the generations of the sonnes of Noe, Sem, Cham, and Iapheth: and children were borne to them after the floud.

2. The children of Iapheth: Gomer, & Magog, & Madai, & Iauan, & Tubal, and Mosoch, and Thiras. 3. Moreouer the children of Gomer: Ascenez, and Riphath, and Thogorma. 4. And the sonnes of Iauan: Elifa, and Thartis, the Cetims and the Dodanims.

5. Of these were diuided the Iles of Nations in their countries, each one according to his tong, & their families in their nations. 6. And the sonnes of Cham: Chus, & Mesraim, & Phut, and Chanaan. 7. And the sonnes of Chus: Saba, Heuila, & Sabatha, & Regma, & Sabathaca. The sonnes of Regma: Saba, and Dadan. 8. Moreouer Chus begat Nemrod: he began to be mightie in the earth, 9. and he was a valiant hunter (a) before our Lord. Thereof rose a prouerb: As it were Nemrod the valiant hunter before our Lord. 10. And the beginning of his Kingdome was Babylon, and Arach, and Achad, and Chalanne in the land of Sennaar. 11. Out of that land came forth Assur, & builded Ninieue, & the streets of the citie, and Chale. 12. Resen also between Ninieue & Chale: this is the great citie. 13. But Mesraim also begat the Ludims, & the Anamims, & the Laabims, the Nephthuims, 14. and the

(a) That is, in his sight who can not be deceiued.

Phetru-

Phetrusims, & the Casluims: of whom came forth the Philistims & the Caphtorims. 15. And Canaan begat Sidon his first-begotten, Hethæus, 16. and Iebusæus, and Amorrhæus, and Gergesæus, 17. Heuæus and Aracæus, Sinæus, 18. and Aradius, Samaraus, and Hamathæus: and afterwards were spred the people of the Chananites. 19. And the limits of Chanaan were from Sidon as we come to Gerara euen to Gaza, vntil thou enter to Sodoma and Gomorrha, and Adama, and Seboim euen to Lefa. 20. These are the children of Cham in their kindreds, and tonges, and generations, and lands, and nations. 21. Of Sem also (b) father of al the children of Heber, the elder brother of Iapheth, were borne: 22. The children of Sem: Ælam and Assur, and Arphaxad, and Lud, and Aram. 23. The children of Aram: Vs, and Hul, and Gether, and Mes. 24. And Arphaxad also begat Sale, of whom was borne Heber. 25. And to Heber were borne two sonnes: the name of the one was Phaleg, (c) because that in his dayes was the earth diuided: and his brothers name was Iectan. 26. The which Iectan begat Elmodad, and Saleph, and Asarmoth, Iare; 27. and Aduram, and Vzal, and Decla, 28. and Ebal, and Abimael, Saba, 29. and Ophir, and Heuila, and Iobab. Al these were the children of Iectan. 30. And their dwelling was from Messa as we goe on as farre as Sephar a mountaine in the east. 31. These are the children of Sem according to their kindred, and tonges, and countries in their nations. 32. These are the families of Noe, according to their peoples and nation. Of these were the nations diuided on the earth after the flood.

(b) Hence S. Augustin gathereth that the people of Israel were called Hebrewes of this Heber. l. 16. c. 3. ciuit.
(c) Heber hauing a sonne borne when the tonges were diuided called him Phaleg, which signifieth diuision. S. Aug. l. 16. c. 11. ciuit.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. X.

li. 1. c. 4. Aniq. l. Aniq. Chalda. li. 1. c. 2. in Osee. li. 16. c. 3. 4. & 17. ciuit. Berosus Annian li. 4. c. 5. Eusebius in chron. & alij.

8. Nemrod.) To this Nemrod the sonne of Chus, first builder and King of Babylon, Iosephus, S. Epiphanius, S. Hierom, S. Augustin, and generally al ancient writers ascribe the first tyrannie, and first setting vp of an earthlie citie opposit to the Citie of God after the flood. He was a Valiant, or rather a Violent hunter, a giant hunter (saith S. Augustin, according to the seuentie Interpreters) who by falshood and force brought manie vnder his dominion. For he stirred vp pride (saith Iosephus) and contempt of God in men, auoching that they were not beholding to God for present felicitie, but to their owne vertue; and so supposing men would fall from God to him, if he offered himselfe a leader and helper against a new flood, by litle and litle drew al to tyrannie. He was otherwise called Saturnus, and was at length amongst others accounted a God. After him his sonne Belus Iupiter (as most authours affirme) reigned 65 yeares. And then succeeded Ninus the first King of the Assirians.

11. Assur builded Ninine.) Here is great difficultie and much dispute amongst Nemrod King of Babylon, a fittle & cruel giant. An Arch-heretike.

H writers

Assur, sonne of Sem, or Ninus King of Assirians.

First false Gods.

The common opinion of 72. tongs is not cleere in Scripture.

Yet this number of nations & tongs may be probably gathered in this and other places of Genesis.

The Hebrewes chiefe of these nations.

writers, who this Assur is Briefly, we may either say with (a) Iosephus and S. Augustin, that Assur the sonne of Sem built a citie, which afterwards Ninus of Chams race enlarged, enriched, and changing the name called it Ninum: or els that this word Assur here signifieth (as 4. Keg. 15. Psal. 82. Esaię 10. & 31.) the King of Assirians, to wit Ninus the sonne of Belus, who as al histories greeke and barbarous report (saith S. Hierom) was the first that raigned ouer al Asia, and among the Assirians built Ninum a citie of his owne name, which the Hebrewes call Ninue. He set vp the Monarchie of the Assirians, called the golden Kingdom, which stood 1240. yeares: and made his father Belus to be honoured for a God. To whom the Babylonians, as Plinie testifieth, first erected statuas, altars, and temples. Of this Belus or Bel of Babylon were also deriued other false Gods, as Beial the God of Libertines, or without yoke, Beelphegor God of the Moabites, Beelzebub of the Acharonites, Baal in Samaria, Baalim amongst the Philistims, and the like in other nations.

32. The Nations.] How manie Nations & tongs were in the world immediately after the towre of Babylon, is more commonly supposed then cleerly itew-ed by old or late writers. Only it seemeth certaine and eident, that there were iust as manie tongs as Nations. But to find precisely (as the common opinion holdeth) 72. is hard. For in this chapter (where they would count this number) are not mentioned so manie. Neuertheles, if we adde certaine that began distinct Nations afterwards, til Iacob with his children went into Egypt (in whom only the Hebrew Nation and tong continued to Christs time) the number wil come right. Of Iapheth were borne 7. somes chiefe of Nations. Againe of Gomer (besides his supposed successour, who can not be counted beginner of an other distinct nation) came 2. other heads. Likewise of Iauan (besides his first sonne) rose 3. more nations. Of Cham by his first sonne Chus were 6. nephewes Princes of Nations. Againe of Regma (besides his successour) came one more. And Nemrod, besides his Kidgdom of Babylon, raised vp other 6. By his second sonne Mesraim came 8. nations, Chams third sonne Phut made only one nation. And Chanaan his sonnes made 11. more. Of Sem last mentioned for better connecting the maine Historic and succession of the Church) came the chiefe and principal Nation the Hebrewes, descending from him by Arphaxad, Sale, Heber, and so directly to Iacob. Of Sem also were borne 4. other sonnes beginners of nations. Againe of Aram (besides his first sonne) were 3. fathers of nations. Likewise of Heber (besides the Hebrewes descending by Phaleg) were borne to his other sonne Iectan 13. heads of nations. These are al that are named in this place: to wit, of Iapheth, 2. of Cham 33. and of Sem 21. which make in al 66. wherunto if we adioyne Nachor (Abrahams brother) Moab, and Ammon (Lots sonnes) also Ismael (Abrahams eldest sonne) and his issue by Cetura, and finally Esau (Iacobs brother) who made 6. more distinct nations, the whole number is 72. This probable collection, with the rest, we submit to better iudgement.

(a) li. 1. Aniq. c. 4. Li. 16. c. 3. c. 11. Euseb. in chron.

Iud. 19 Num. 25 4. Reg. 1. 3. Reg. 16

S. Aug. 16. c. 3. c. 11.

Gen. 24 19. 17. 25, 6. 25, 23.

C H A P. X I.

God bindeth the vaine purpose of building a high towre , 7. by confounding mens tonges : 9. wherof it is called Babel. 10. The genealogie of Sem to Abram.

AND the earth was of one tong , and al one speach. 2. And when they remoued from the east, they found a plaine in the land of Sennaar , and dwelt in it. 3. And each one said to his neighbour: Come , let vs make brick , and bake them with fire. And they had brick instead of stone , and bitume instead of morter : 4. and they said , Come , " let vs make vs a citie and a towre , the top wherof may reach to heauen: and let vs renoune our name before we be disperfed into al lands. 5. And our Lord descended to see the citie and the towre , which the children of Adam builded , 6. and he said : Behold , it is one people , and one tong is to al : and they haue begun to doe this, neyther wil they leaue off from their determinations , til they accomplish them indeed. 7. Come yee therefore , " let vs goe downe , and there confound their tong , that none may heare his neighbours voice. 8. And so our Lord disperfed them from that place into al lands , and they ceased to build the citie. 9. And therefore the name therof was called Babel , (a) because there the tong of the whole earth was confounded: and from thence our Lord disperfed them vpon the face of al countries.

10. These are (b) the generations of Sem : Sem was an hundred yeares old when he begat Arphaxad , two yeares after the floud. 11. And Sem liued after he begat Arphaxad , five hundred yeares , and begat sonnes and daughters. 12. Moreouer Arphaxad liued thirtie five yeares , and " begat Sale. 13. And Arphaxad liued after he begat Sale , three hundred three yeares , and begat sonnes and daughters. 14. Sale also liued thirtie yeares , and begat Heber. 15. And Sale liued after he begat Heber , foure hundred three yeares , & begat sonnes & daughters. 16. And Heber liued thirtie foure yeares , and begat Phaleg. 17. And Heber liued after he begat Phaleg , foure hundred thirtie yeares , and begat sonnes and daughters. 18. Phaleg also liued thirtie yeares , and begat Reu. 19. And Phaleg liued after he begat Reu , two hundred nine yeares , and begat sonnes and

The fourth part of this booke. Of the diuision of tonges and nations.

(a) He that speaketh so confusedly that he is not vnderstood is said to be bable.

(b) Moyfes here sheweth the succession of Patriarchs, from Sem to Abraham, as he did before from Adam to Noe. S. Aug. l. 16. c. 10. c. 11.

daughters. 20. And Reu liued thirtie two yeares , and begat Sarug. 21. Reu liued also after he begat Sarug , two hundred seauen yeares , and begat sonnes and daughters. 22. And Sarug liued thirtie yeares , and begat Nachor. 23. And Sarug liued after he begat Nachor , two hundred yeares , and begat sonnes and daughters. 24. And Nachor liued nine and twentie yeares , and begat Thara. 25. And Nachor liuer after he begat Thare , an hundred and ninteen yeares , and begat sonnes and daughters. 46. And Thare liued seuentie yeares , and begat Abram , and Nachor , and Aran. 27. And these are the generations of Thare : Thare begat Abram , Nachor , and Aran. Moreouer Aran begat Lot. 28. And Aran died before Thare his father , in the land of his natiuitie , in (c) Vr of the Chalcees. 29. And Abram and Nachor married wiues : the name of Abram his wife was Sarai : and the name of Nachor his wife , Melcha , the daughter of Aran the father of Melcha , and the father of Iefcha. 30. And Sarai was barren , neither had she children. 31. Thare therefore (d) tooke Abram his sonne , and Lot the sonne of Aran , his sonnes sonne , and Sarai his daughter in law , the wife of Abram his sonne , and brought them out of Vr of the Chalcees , for to goe into the land of Chanaan : and they came as farre as Haran , and dwelled there. 32. And the dayes of Thare came to two hundred fise yeares , and he died in Haran.

(c) Vr a citie, or territorie of Chaldea. 70. Interpret and Iosephus l. 1. Antiq.
(d) Abram was commanded to goe forth of Chaldea, as appeareth Act. 7. v. 4. though this journey is here ascribed to Thare as the principal person.

ANNOTATIONS.

CHAP. XI.

Pride is cause of schisme and heresie. False pretences deceiue the simple.

Heretikes prosper for a time, but are confounded in the end.

Ministerie of Angels;

4. Let vs make.) Here we may see in Nemrod the common causes of heresies , and the manner of Heretikes proceeding. For he hauing a subtile, proud , and aspiring mind , first detracted from God , perswading men (as is noted before) not to depend vpon Gods prouidence , and finding some others of like humour , they conspired together , and drew more followers , by bearing the simpler sort in hand (for it was vnpossible wise men should belieue it) that they would make a towre of defence against a new flood , if God should thinke to drowne the world againe. But their principal intention was to make themselues great and strong for the present , and famous to posteritic. Al which God ouerthrew , neither suffering them to build vp their imagined castle of strength , nor to be praised for their worke , but made them infamous to the worlds end.

7. Let vs confound.) God in dissipating this vaine worke of men , would vse the ministerie of Angels. As not only Philo Iudæus , and Origen , but also S. Augustin. S. Gregorie , and other fathers expound these words , Come , let vs descend,

S. Chri. ho. 30. in Gen. Casb. an. collat. 4. c. 12.

Li. de confus. ling. ho. 11. in

and Numer. li. 16. c. 6

civilt. l. 2.
Moral. in c. 1.
Iob.

Li. 34.
Moral. in c. 41.
Iob. ho. 11. in Gen. li. 16. c. 11.
& li. 28. c. 39. ci.
S. Aug. li. 6. c. 4. civilt.

Ho. 30. in Gen. S. Greg. ho. 30. in Euan.

1. Par. 1. Luc 3. v. 36.
Li. 16. c. 10. civilt.
Mat. 1.

Quest. Hebre.

Editio quedam vaticana.

and confound their tongue. Where they also note Gods singular wisdome, mercie, and iustice, so punishing the offence, that he turneth it to his owne glorie, and the profit of al men: shewing his power and soueraigne Maicstie by two great miracles. First, by so suddainly and vtterly depriuing al those builders of their vsual tongue, that presently they could neither speake it, nor vnderstand it. Secondly, by giuing diuers distinct languages to feveral sorts or families, which they immediately vnderstood, and spoke most promptly, as if they had long before learned and vsed the same. But to no man was giuen more then one language. And so, to the more commoditie of al mankind, they were forced to part into fundrie coasts of the earth, which they inhabited and replenished with distinct Nations, hauing the same Angels their spiritual Patrones and Protectours, which had feuerally changed their language. In particular, it was profitable to the good, who being before oppressed by the vnited power of manie wicked, were relieued (as S. Gregorie teacheth) when their persecutours were diuided. These good were the familie of Heber, as S. Chriostom and S. Augustin proue. For seeing the change of tongues was inflicted for punishment, it appeareth that Heber and his familie were innocent of the vaine attempt, whose tongue was not changed, but remained the same, and of him was called the Hebrew tongue for distinction sake after there were manie tongues, which before had no distinct name, being the only tongue of al men. Againe, touching the offenders (who were punished in their tongues, that they could not be vnderstood commanding one an other, because they would not vnderstand God iustly commanding themal) they also reaped this profit, that they were forced to leaue off that bad worke, and withal to seeke more ample habitations, who If they had there more increased in number and strength, would without doubt (saith S. Chriostom) haue attempted worse things. And infinit man-slaughter would haue been committed amongst so manie, for possession of that one citie & towre. Finally the fathers note, that as God wrought here much good by diuision of tongues, so he wrought much more by communion of tongues giuen to the Apostles, therby inabling them to gather one Church of al tongues and Nations.

24. Begat Sale.] Here is an intricate difficultie: For the Hebrew and Latin text, both here and in Paralipomenon saying Aphaxad begat Sale, the 72. Interpreters and S. Luke place Cainan between them, as sonne of Arphaxad, and father of Sale. Eusebius also in his Chronicle, with most Greeke Doctours, and S. Augustine, count Cainan in this Genealogie of Sem. Wherupon manie doe number him in this ranke, and suppose that Moyfes omitted him for some Mysterie, and yet writeth truly, that Arphaxad begat Sale, not his proper sonne, but his sonnes sonne: as S. Mathew sayth, Ioram begat Ozias, who was his nephewes nephew. But against this solution it is replied, that then Arphaxad should haue been a grandfather at 35. yeares of age: which were strange in those daies, howfoeuer it is now. And a greater difficultie, or rather absurditie must also be granted, that Arphaxad begat both Cainan at the age of 35. yeares, according to the 72. Interpreters, and that Sale was also begotten the same yeare, according to the Hebrew, being both true Which inconuenience is not in the Genealogie written by S. Matthew. Others therefore according to the Hebrew and Latin text, with most Latin Doctours, omit Cainan in this place and Paralipomenon, namely with S. Hierom, who diligently examining and reconciling varieties between the Hebrew and the Greeke, maketh no mention at al of this difference. Which maketh some to coniecture, that in S. Hieroms time Cainan was not in the Greeke copies, at least not in those that he had, and held for the best. And at this day some haue him not. Which may be admitted for a probable answer touching the Hebrew and Greeke of the old Testament. But for so much as al copies, both Greeke & Latin, also S. Hieroms Edition of S. Lukes Gospel haue Cainan, the difficultie still remaineth between Moyfes and S. Luke. How then shal this doubt be solued? We can not God turneth the offence of men to good. Two miracles, in priuation of one tongue, & giuing a new.

Diuision among euil men is profitable.

The member offending is punished. Heber and his familie consented not to the building of Babel.

Gift of tongues most profitable to the Church.

Scriptures hard.

Somethinke Moyfes omitted Cainan for a mysterie.

Refutation.

Others coniecture Cainan should not be in the text of the 70.

But neuer anie Catholike nor heretike before

Beza) put Cainan out of S. Lukes Ghospel.

A memorable sentence of S. Bede,

Beza sacrilegiously proud. The heretical English Editions differ in this point.

solue it. And no maruel. For Venerable Bede could not, whose words are these: S. Luke useth rather the Greeke testimonies then the Hebrew: wherof hapeneth that I much maruel at, and for dulnes of wit, being stricken with great admiration, I can not thoroughly scan, seeing in the Hebrew ueritie are found only ten generations from the flood vnto Abraham, by what meane S. Luke, who (the Holie Ghost governing his pen) could in no sort write false, would rather sit downe eleven generations in the Ghospel, Cainan adioyned according to the seuenie Interpreters. Thus writeth S. Bede, reuerently admiring that he could not vnderstand. For being assured that the Holie Ghost gouerned the pennes both of Moyfes and S. Luke, and that he is not contrarie to himselfe, it must needs be true which each of them writeth, though other learned men can not reach the profoundnes of some difficulties that occur. And therefore Beza was extreme saucie to dash Cainan out of S. Lukes Ghospel, and that wittingly and most impudently, saying in his Annotations: Non dubitauimus expungere, We doubted not to put it out. The former English Editions, otherwise corrupt in manie places, haue Cainan in the text of S. Lukes Ghospel, but their laiter translators are in this point pure Bezites.

Præfat.
cōment.
in Acta Apost.

1552.
1577.

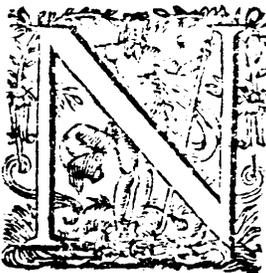

The end of the second Age.

THE CONTINVANCE OF THE CHVRCH AND RELIGION

in the second age of the world. From Noes flood to Abrahams going forth of his countrie. The space of 368. yeares.

NO MAN can wel doubt nor wil denie, that the same Church continued al the second Age which was in the first, consiacting that Noe liued aboue 50. y:ares after the birth of Abraham, and Sem 150. more: and that these thrce, and some others of that time are renowned in holie scripture, for sincere professours of true Religion. But for more manifestation of their faith, and that the Church was then very conspicuus, we shal repeate certaine principal points of Religion professed and practized al that time, by a continual knowne visible compaite vnited in one mystical bodie: though in the meane while the wicked sprong and grew in number and worldlie force, much oppressing yet neuer suppressing the good.

First, iust Noe comming forth of the arke with his familie, professed his religious mind to One God Almightye, supreme Lord of al, by Offering external, voluntarie, specdie, pure, solemne, and bountifull Sacrifice of Holocaustes, as a Pricst, vpon an Altar. After which most grateful office, God making a couenant with him and his seed neuer againe to destroy the world by water, confirmed the same by the signe of the raine-bow, which represented the second Person of the B. Trinitie, the Sonne of God; Christ our Lord, to be borne The Sonne of man, and extended vpon the Crosse: In whom Noe belieuing was instituted heyre of the iustice, which is by faith in our Redeemer.--

We haue here againe Gods operative blessing, with the effect of increase & multiplication, the issue of Noe by his thrce sonnes, in short time making manie Nations. By the way also we haue an example of Fathers solemne Blessing and Curling their children. The effects wherof succeeded afterwards accoringly. Likewise in this Age was giuen a particular precept Not to eate bloud. And Noe obserued distinction of Cleane beasts, offering Sacrifice in thē only, as before the floud he was cōmanded to take moe of thē into the arke thē of the Vncleane.

Counting Cainan this Age continued 398. yeares. Noe and Sem liued in Abrahams time. Articles of Religion professed in the second Age.

One God. External Sacrifice. Priesthood. Altars. Christ. Crosse. The B. Trinitie. Redeemer. Gods blessing operative. Fathers blessing & cursing. Abstinence from bloud. Cleane, and vncleane.

Penance preached and inflicted.

In that so ample mention is made of sinne and wickednes, there is no doubt but Noe, the Preacher of iustice, admonished and exhorted sinners to Repentance: yea he Punished Cham & Chanaan, by his curse in their posteritie. And God himselfe Threatened to exact the blood of man vniuersally shed. In the meane time Inflicted also some punishment vpon the builders of Babel, by confounding their tongues. And that by the Ministerie of Angels.

c. 10, 10.
c. 11.
2. Pet. 2.

Ministerie of Angels. Resurrection. Iudgement. Eternal ioy and paine.

Which punishment in part, and threats of more, import a General Resurrection, and Iudgement, where all things shal be exactly discussed & iudged. And then wil follow Eternal life to the good, and Euerlasting paine to the damned.

c. 9, 5.
c. 11.

Church visible. Good and bad in the Church.

Al these points of Religion (and others mentioned in the former Age, and no doubt taught by Noe & his sonnes) shew cleerly a Visible Church, consisting of good and bad. Noe remaining the same man as before the flood, Sem & Iapheth are commended & blessed for wel doing; Cham blamed & cursed in his posteritie: yet neither he nor anie of his sonnes or daughters fel into heresie or other infidelitie, for anie thing that appeareth in Scripture, or other authentical testimonie. Heber also & his familie are particularly commended by Moyses, as the right followers and the spiritual children of Sem (who had innumerable other carnal children) as those that were innocēt touching the presumptuous blasting of others, who for the same fault lost their old tongue, which the familie of Heber kept: As S. Chrysostom and S. Augustine doe proue. Againe, diuers of this familie falling afterwards by little and little to other nations, the Familie of Thare; saith the same S. Augustine (li. 16. c. 12.) albeit not al, or not alwayes, yet euer some of them, and Abraham continually, with Sem, Heber, Iphaleg, & manie others not mentioned by Moyses in his brieue description (as S. Gregorie doubteth not to suppose) were iust, and kept the true faith and vndefiled Religion.

Cap. 8.
c. 9.
c. 10, 21.

Alwaies some good.

Nemrod an Arch-heretike

But Nemrod Chams nephew, and sonne of Chus, described for a valiant hunter, a violent giant, and tyrant, was an Archheretike, a diuiser and teacher of false doctrine against God and true faith. By subtletie and tyrannie he induced manie of the ignorant or feare to follow him, and so in schisme he maintained heresie: That men were not beholding to God, but to themselves for temporal prosperitie.

Ho 30.
in Gen.
li. 16. c.
li. 1. c. 1.
li. 18. c. 39.
c. 11.
L. 5. c. 35
Moral.
in 3. Job.
Ioseph's l.
li. c. 4.
Antiq.

His proud heresie.

The first Sect of Infidels was Barbarisme before the flood. The second Scythisme. Crueltie.

Wherof began a new & cruel confederacie against the Citie of God, and the second great Sect of Infidels. For Barbarisme being the first, began by Cain and ended by the flood: The second mother of al sectes beginning after the flood (as S. Bysphanus writeth) was Scythisme: so called of the Scythians, a most cruel people. Who according to Nemrod's heresie (not thinking themselves beholding to God for temporal happines, but to their owne forces) tyrannized ouer the weaker, and manie wicked banning together extremely oppressed the more peaceable, especially the Church and true seruants of God. And this was one special cause of building Babylon, besides their ambitious desire of perpetual same, and their bearing the purple in hand of a defence against a new flood, to make it indeed a strong hold for tyrants to offend others, and to defend

L de heresitms.

deſend themſelves. Wherefore God (who before deſtroyed al Infidels by the flood) confounded theſe builders by diuiding their tongues, and ſo forced them to breake and part into manie countries.

Thus mankind being diuided vpon the earth, opinions alſo were multiplied concerning Religion. For ſhortly the perſwaſion of mens truſting in themſelues, and in other mortal men appeared abſurd, euen the ſtrongeſt feeling aduerſities, or ſaying ſometimes of their purpoſes, ſaw there was need of ſupernal help, and that earthly things depended much vpon diuine wil and power. But hauing forſaken God Almighty, the only maker and conſeruer of al, they began to imagine and ſerue ſaſe Gods, both famous dead men, which had prospered in this world, and diuers other things, by which they receiued commoditie or feared damage.

Hence therfore roſe the third principal Sect called Græciſme, beginning alſo in this ſecond Age, as the ſame S. Epiphanius writeth. For Ninus the firſt King of the Aſſirian great Monarchie, brought to paſſe that his father Belus Iupiter was eſteemed and worſhipped for the only great God by the Aſſirians. To him the Babylonians erected firſt Temples, Altars, and Statuas. Nemrod alſo by the name of Saturnus, as the progenitour of Belus, and firſt great King or Tyrant of Babylon, was accounted a God, and the father of Gods. About this time likewiſe began the Dinaſte among the Egyptians, and not ſooner, as they vainly brag to haue been before the flood, yea much longer then indeed the world hath been. Moreouer the Chaldees worſhipped the fire. Others the ſunne, the moone, and innumerable other ſained Gods. Againſt al which (& likewiſe againſt al heresies) are two ſpecial arguments. Firſt, that they were not from the beginning, as the true God, and al truths are knowne and receiued by continual Tradition, but brought in afterwards by men, and commonly by il men. Secondly, they are not accepted and eſteemed for Gods or truths in al places, but with great diuerſitie and diſſention, one ſort allowing that others deſpiſe, as holie Athanaſius notably writeth in his oration againſt Iacſ in theſe words: Quot ſunt gentes totidem Deorum genera conſinguntur &c. How manie nations (ſaith he) ſo manie kinds of Gods are ſained. Alſo the ſame countrie, the ſame citie diſſenteth within it-ſelfe in ſuperſtition of Idols. The Phenicians certes acknowledge not the Egyptians Gods, neither doe the Egyptians adore the ſame Idols with the Phenicians: Nor the Scithians receiue the Gods of the Perſians, nor the Perſians of the Scithians. The Pelasgies reſuſe the Thraſian Gods, the Thraſians know not the Thebians. The Indians are againſt the Arabians, the Arabians againſt the Æthiophians: and in like ſort the Æthiophians differ in their religious affaires from the Arabians. The Syrians worſhip not the Gods of the Cilicians, & the nations of Capadocia beſides al theſe haue Gods of other names. The Bithinians alſo ſained diuers Gods, the Armenians againe diuers from them. What need we manie words? Thoſe that are in the continent honour other Gods from the Iland-people. In briefe, each citie and each village not knowing the Gods of their neighbours, ſetteth forth their owne, and eſteemeth them only in place of Gods. Thus farre S.

Satur
Deorū.

Vntruths are vnconſtant.

The third Sect was Græciſme.

Idolatrie.

Dinaſte were thoſe that raigned in Aegypt by force and politic: & after ere great Gods, & litle Gods.

Idolatrie and Heresie are cōfuted, by that they begin diſ-orderly; & are at diſſention in their imagined Religions.

Luthers progenies differ as much in opinions of Religion, as Paynims doe in their false Gods.

Sects in England diuers from Luther, and each one from the rest.

Proud & contentious spirits are hardly persuaded to the truth.

Vnlearned Catholikes believe the same faith in al points with the learned.

The succession of Patriarchs from Noe to Abraham.

Abraham a principal Patriarch.

Athanasius. Name we like countries, prouinces, cities, and townes in these parts of Europe, where Luthers scholars haue set their feet, consider the forme of Religion and opinions which they hold, and we shal see as vnorderlie beginnings, & as horrible dissensions in heresies (which S. Hierom calleth the Iacobs of the New Testament) as the ancient fathers haue discried in Paganisme. For Lutherans or Protestants hauing no lawfull generation, but proceeding of bastards race, vpstarts of vnknowne progenie, are no lesse at discord among themselves, only agreeing against Catholikes, like syncretisantes against their common enemies, or Herod, Pilate, and the Iewes against Christ. And in England alone are diuers Sects without possible meanes to agree in one. For albeit the ciuil state endeauoreth prudently and seriously to bring al to vniformitie, at least in publike shew, yet they are but like manie faces vnder one hood, euerie sort keeping their owne opinions; yea almost euerie Preacher and meane scholer (to say nothing of artificers and common Ministers) arrogating to be his owne Iudge, contemmeth to stand to Luther or Caluin, to Geneva or Parliament, to Conuocation or Synod of their owne, but to his owne only vnderstanding and interpretation of holie Scripture. Nor yet to that alwayes; for when he is pressed with that he once said, he wil forget it, or eate his owne word, if he haue not written it, or that you haue readie wirtues against him, so hard it is to make a deceived Protestant or Puritan confesse that he is conuincid, except by very pregnant meanes you can first cast out of him, or bind fast the spirit of presumption, dissention, and contention: wheras the simplest Catholike in the world hath the selfe-same faith in al points with the whole Church, in which he remaineth, and vpon whose iudgement he dependeth.

To returne therefore from whence we are not vnecessarily digressed, we conclude with S. Augustine: When Moyses had shewed the beginning and progresse of Nemrods earthlie citie, leauing it in Babylon, that is confusion, as needies to prosecute it further, he returneth to declare the perpetual succession of the Citie of God, the Church, as before the flood from Adam to Noe, by the line of seth, so after the flood from the same Noe, by the line of Sem, Arphaxad, Sale, Heber, Phaleg, Reu, Sarug, Nachor, Thare, and Abraham. The rest of Sems children, and al the progenies of Iapheth and Cham, as not pertaining to this purpose, omitted, so connecting those in order of generations, by whom the succession is directly brought to Abraham, Prince of the elected people, a most special Patriarch, to whom new and great promises are made of multiplication of his seed, and possession of the land of Chanaan, but especially of Christ our Redeemer, and the same manie waies confirmed, as wil appeare in the next Age.

in c. II.
Osee.

li. 16. c.
10. c. III.

C H A P. XII.

Abram commanded by God to leaue his countrie, with promise to be blessed in his Seed, 5. taking his wife sarai, and his nephew Lot, 6. wandreth in the land of Chanaan, 7. erecteth an Altar in Sichem, 8. another in Bethel. 10. Thence by occasion of famine passeth into Ægypt: 14. where his wife (called his sister) is taken into the Kings house, 19. but vtouched is restored to him.

The beginning of the third Age.

The fifth part of this booke. Of Abrahams leauing his countrie, Gods bleiing of his seed, and commandment of Circumciſion.

Heb. 11. AND our Lord ſaid to Abram: Goe forth of thy countrie, and out of thy kindred, and out of thy fathers houſe, and come into a land which I wil ſhew thee. 2. And I wil make thee into a great nation, and I wil bleſſe thee, and magnifie thy name, and thou ſhalt be bleſſed. 3. I wil bleſſe them that bleſſe thee, and curſe them that curſe thee, and (a) IN THIS ſhal al the kindreds of the earth be bleſſed. 4. Abram therefore went out as our Lord had commanded him, and with him went Lot: ſeauentie five yeares old was Abram when he went forth out of Haran. 5. And he tooke Sarai his wife, and Lot his brothers ſonne, and al the ſubſtance which they had poſſeſſed, and the ſoules which they had gotten in Haran: and went forth to goe into the land of Chanaan. And when they were come into it, 6. Abram paſſed through the countrie vnto the place Sichem, as farre as the noble vale: and the Cananite was at that time in the countrie. 7. And our Lord appeared to Abram, and ſaid to him: To thy ſeed wil I giue this land. Who builded there (b) an altar to our Lord, that had appeared to him. 8. And marching on from thence to a mountaine, that was on the caſt ſide of Bethel, there he pitched his tent, hauing Bethel on the weſt, and Hay on the eaſt: he builded there alſo an altar to our Lord, and calied vpon his name. 9. And Abram went forward going, and proceeding on to the ſouth. 10. And there came a famine in the countrie: and Abram deſcended into Ægypt, to be as a pilgrime there: for the famine was very ſore in the land. 11. And when he was neer to enter into Ægypt, he ſaid to Sarai his wife: I know that thou art a fayre woman, 12. and that when the Ægyptians ſhal ſee thee, they wil ſay: She is his wife; and they wil kilyme, and referue thee. 13. Say therefore, I pray thee, that thou art my ſiſter: that I may be wel vſed for thee, and that my ſoule may liue for thy ſake.

14. When Abram therefore was entred into Ægypt, the Ægyptians

(a) In Chriſt borne of Abrahams ſeed al nations are bleſſed. Gal. 3.

(b) Abram dedicated Altars to God eſpecially in thoſe places where he receiued promiſes or benefits. S. Chriſoſt. ho. 31. in Gen.

(c) God by corporal affliction hindered Pharaoh & his men from doing violence to Sarai. S. Chryf. ho. 31. in Gen.

law the woman that she was passing beautiful. 15. And the Princes told Pharaoh, and praised her to him: and the woman was taken into the house of Pharaoh. 16. And they used Abram well for her sake. And he had sheep and oxen and he asses, and men servants, and maid servants, and she asses, and Camels. 17. And our Lord (c) scourged Pharaoh with very sore plagues, and his house, for Sarai Abrams wife. 18. And Pharaoh called Abram, and said to him: What is this that thou hast done to me? Why didst thou not tel me that she was thy wife? 19. For what cause didst thou say she was thy sister, that I might take her to my wife? Now therefore there is thy wife, take her, and go thy wayes. 20. And Pharaoh gaue certaine men commandement in the behalfe of Abram: and they conducted him, and his wife, and al that he had.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. XII.

Men are bound to doe their lawful endeavours, and to commit the rest to God.

13. Say therefore.) Abraham concealed that Sarai was his wife, and lyed not in saying she was his sister; as he also called Lot his brother, being his brothers sonne, and she his brothers daughter. Wherby he prevented danger of his owne life, using such lawful meanes as lay in him, committing his wiues chastitie to Gods protection, which himself could not prouide for. In which case if he had not done his owne endeavour, he had rather tempted God (saith S. Augustin) then trusted in God. And so God preserved her, though she was in Pharaoh his house. v. 17.

Gen. 13.

li. 16. c.
19. cimit.
9. 26.
m. Gen.

C H A P. XIII.

Abram and Lot returne from Egypt into Chanaan, 6. and being rich separate themselves, 10, Lot choosing the countrie about Iordane, Abram dwelleth in Chanaan. 14. Where againe God promiseth him that land, and multiplication of his seed. 18. And he erected another Altar to God.

BRAM therefore ascended out of Egypt, he and his wife, and al that he had, and Lot with him to the south coast. 2. And he was very rich in possession of gold and siluer. 3. And he returned by the way that he came, from the south vnto Bethel, euen to the place where before he had pitched a tabernacle between Bethel and Hay: 4. in the place of the altar which he had made before, and there he called vpon the name of our Lord.

5. But Lot also that was with Abram had flocks of sheep, and herds of beasts, and tents. 6. Neyther was the land able to receiue them for to dwel together: for their substance was much, and they could not dwel together. 7. Wherupon also there arose strife amongst the herdsmen of Abram and of Lot. And that time the Chananite and the Pherisite dwelled in that countrie. 8. Abram therefore said to Lot: Let there be no brawle, I beseech thee, between me and thee, and between my herdsmen, and thy herdsmen: for we be (a) brethren. 9. Behold the whole land is before thee: goe apart from me, I pray thee: if thou wilt goe to the left hand, I wil take the right: if thou choose the right hand, I wil passe to the left.

10. Lot therefore lifting vp his eyes, saw al the countrie about Iordane, which was watered throughout before that our Lord subuerted Sodome and Gomorre, as the Paradise of our Lord, and like as Ægypt as men come vnto Segor. 11. And Lot chose vnto him the countrie about Iordane, and he departed from the East: and they were seperated either brother from the other. 12. Abram dwelt in the land of Chanaan: and Lot aboad in the townes that were about Iordane, and dwelt in Sodome. 13. And the men of Sodome were verie wicked, and sinners before the face of our Lord out of measure. 14. And our Lord said to Abram, after that Lot was separated from him: Lift vp thyne eyes, and looke from the place wherin thou now art, to the north and south, to the east and west. 15. Al the land which thou seeft wil I giue to thee, and to thy seed for euer. 16. And I wil make (b) thy seed as the dust of the earth: if any man be able to number the dust of the earth, thy seed also shal he be able to number. 17. Arise and walke through the land in the length, and in the breath therof: for wil giue it to thee. 18. Abram therefore remouing his tent, came, and dwelt beside the vale of Mambre, which is in Hebron: and he builded there an altar to our Lord.

(a) Foure sorts of brethren in holy writ: german brothers, as Iacob and Esau: of kindred, as Abraham and Lot: of the same nation, as the Iewes & Samaritanes: in Religion as al Catholikes.

(b) Not the children of the flesh, but the children of promise are the seed, Rom. 9. and are innurable. Apoc. 7. v 9.

C H A P. XIII.

The King of Sodom with other foure Kings are ouercome in battaile by foure others, 12. where Lot is taken. 14. But Abram with 318. persons prosecuting and ouercomming the victors, 16. rescued Lot, with al the captives and prey. 18. Melchisedech King and Priest blessed Abram, 20. Abram payed tribute to him, 21. and rendred the spoile to the King of Sodom.

AND it came to passe in that time, that Amraphel the King of Sennaar, and Arioch the King of Pontus, and Chodorlahomor King of the Elamites, and Thadal the King of Nations .2. made warre against Barra the King of Sodome, and against Berfa the King of Gomorra, and against Sennaab the King of Adama, and against Semebar the King of Seboim, and against the King of Bala, the same is Segor. 3. Al these came together into the wood-land vale, which now is the salt sea. 4. For they had serued Chodorlahomor twelue yeares, & the thirteenth yeare they reuolted from him. 5. Therefore in the fourteenth yeare came Chodorlahomor, and the Kings that were with him, and they struck Raphaim in Astarothcarnaim, and Susim with them, and Emim in Sauee of Carimathaim, 6. and the Corrheans in the mountains of Seir, euen to the Champion countrie of Pharan, which is in the wildernes. 7. And they returned, and came as farre as the fountaine of Misphat, the same is Cades: and they struck al the countrie of the Amelechites, and of the Amorheans, that dwel in Asafonthamar. 8. And they went forth the King of Sodome, and the King of Gomorra, and the King of Adama, and the King of Seboim, moreouer also the King of Bala, which is Segor: and they set themselves against them in battaile aray in the wood-land vale: 9. to wit against Chodorlahomor King of the Elamites, and Thadal King of Nations, and Amraphel King of Sennaar, and Arioch King of Pontus: foure Kings against fve. 10. But the wood-land vale had many pits of bitume. Therefore the King of Sodome and of Gomorra turned their backs, and were ouerthrowne there: and they that remained fled to the mountaine. 11. And they tooke al the substance of the Sodomites and Gomorrheans, and tooke al kind of victuals, and went their way: 12. and Lot also and his substance, the sonne of Abrams brother, who dwelled in Sodom. 13. And behold one that had escaped told Abram the Hebrew, that dwelt in the vale of Mambre, the Amorrean, brother of Eschol, and the brother of Aner: for these had made a league with Abram. 14. Which when Abram had heard, to wit, that his brother Lot was taken, he numbered of the seruants borne in his house, wel appointed, three hundred and eighteen: and pursued them vnto Dan. 15. And diuiding his companie, he ranne vpon them in the night, and struck them, and pursued them vnto Hoba, which is on the left hand of Damascus. 16. And he brought backe al the substance, and Lot his brother with his substance, the women also and the people. 17. And the King of Sodom went forth to meet them, after he returned from the slaughter of Chodorlahomor, and of the Kings that were with him in the vale Sauee, which is the Kings vale. 18. But "Melchisedech the King of Salem," bringing forth bread and wine, for he was the Priest of God most High, 19. "blessed him, and said: Blessed be Abram to God the Highest, which created heauen and earth: 20. and blessed be God the Highest, by whose protection the enemyes are in thy hands. And" he gaue him the tyths of al. 21. And the King of Sodom said to Abram: Giue me the soules, and the rest take to thee. 22. Who answered him: I lift vp my hand to my Lord God most High, possessour of heauen and earth, 23. that from the very woofe-thread vnto the shoe latchet, I wil not take of al that are thine, (a) lest thou say, I haue enriched Abram: 24. except such things as the yong men haue eaten, and the shares of the men that came with me, Aner, Eschol, and Mambre: these shal take their shares.

(a) Abraham enriched by God, would take no more of man, but his soldiers sustenance, the proper hire of spiritual workmen.
S. Chrysost. in Gen.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. X I I I I.

18. Melchisedech.) S. Hierom being earnestly requested by Euagrius to give his iudgement touching Melchisedech, whom a namele. Authour had endeauoured to proue to be the Holie Ghost, plainly confureth that error: as also an other error of Origen and Didymus saying, he was an Angel. Likewise S. Epiphanius (heresi 55. and 76.) relateth and condemneth a third error, of some that thought him to be the Sonne of God. These two Fathers, and S. Augustine (li. de heresibus her. 34.) and diuers others whom S. Hierome alleadgeth, proue evidently, that he was a very man, a Priest and a King, yea the high Priest (at least of that countrie) Superiour to Abraham, and a figure of Christ. Besides these heresies, the same S. Hierome relateth two probable opinions. The Iewes Rabins generally hold that Melchisedech was Sem the sonne of Noe, from whom Abraham and al the Hebrewes descended. Which they seeme rather to affirme, as loath to confesse that anie man of an other Nation then their owne, should haue been greater and more excellent then Abraham in spiritual causes, then for anie reason they doe or can alleadge. Yet manie, especially latter writers, as Liranus, Tostatus, Cenebrardus, and others, doe embrace this opinion as most probable. Though S. Hierome seemeth only to haue added the Hebrewes opinion (as he saith) because he would intimate Old heresies concerning Melchisedech.

A probable opinion that Sem and Melchisedech was al one.

Tomo 3.
prope ini-tium,

More probable that Melchise-dech was a Chananite.

Proued by S.
Pauls words.

Christ is a Priest according to the Order of Melchisedech.

Why the Protestants haue Ministers and no Priests.

The state of the cōtrouerfie.

Melchisedech offered sacrifice in bread & wine.

The Latin text iustified by other places, yea by Protestāts trāslatiōs

al to his freind, when he had first cited grauer Authours, S. Ireneus, Hypo-litus, Eusebius Cefariensis, Eusebius Emiffenus, Apolinarius, and Eustathius, al agreably affirming that Melchisedech was a Chananite, King of Salem, which was afterwards called Ierusalem. To this opinion agreeth Philo Iudæus, continually speaking of him as of a stranger to the Iewes Nation. Iosephus also a Iew writeth plainly (li. 7. de bello Iudaico. c. 18.) that he was of Chanaan, and Prince of the Chanaites. Also S. Dionysius Ariopagita (Celest. Hier. c. 9.) S. Epiphanus (her. 55. & 67.) Theodoretus (q. 63. in Gen) and Suidas, are of the same mind, and many other Christian Doctours. Who confirme their assertion by that S. Paul saith to the Hebrewes: He whose generation is not numbred among them, tooke tishes of Abraham. For what els can S. Paul meane, but that Melchise-dechs kindred & people, was diuers from the kindred and people of the Iewes?
Which he could not say of Sem, from whom Abraham & al Iewes descended: as it can not be said, that Adam and Noe are of diuers generation from anie people that now liueth, because we al come of them. Of this difficultie (not pertaining to anie controuersie of our time) the studious may see more in F. Pecirius his commentaries vpon this 14. chap. of Genesis. disp. 3.

18. Bringing forth.] Seeing the Royal Prophet Dauid, and S. Paul say Christ is a Priest for euer according to the Order of Melchisedech, we demand of Protestants, if Christ fulfilled not Melchisedechs figuratiue Sacrifice offered in bread and wine, by offering his owne bodie and bloud at his last supper in formes of bread & wine, and by instituting the same to be offered by his Priests til the end of the world, what other figuratiue sacrifice of Melchisedech they can find performed by Christ, by which it may appeare that he is a Priest for euer according to that Order? Caluia (li. 4. Instit. c. 18. para 2.) Kemnifius (*par. 2. exam. pag.
740. & 747.*) Peter Martyr (in 1. Cor. 5.) and most English Protestants grant that Melchisedech was a Priest, and that the peculiar function of a Priest is to offer Sacrifice; wherfore they hauing no sacrifice wil haue only Ministers and no Priests: but they denie that Melchisedech offered Sacrifice in bread and wine.
Wherupon we ioyne issue with them to proue that he did, and that by this place amongst others of holic Scripture.

Kemnifius complayneth that the Latin text hath Obtulit, for Protulit, Offered, for Brought forth. And to disproue the same, he alleadgeth the Hebrew, Chaldee, Greeke, and S. Cyprian. But Catholikes more iustly complaine of him for lying. For al Latin Editions haue Proferens, bringing forth. The question therfore in controuersie is, to what end and vse Melchisedech brought forth bread and wine? Caluin and Kemnifius say it was only to refresh or feed Abraham and his men, and not for sacrifice. Which their bare saying is without reason, for that there was store of victuals in the prey (v. 11.) and they had eaten therof. More-ouer the Hebrew word Hosif, brought forth, is a word pertayning to Sacrifice, as in the 6. chap. of Iudges. (v. 18. and 19) and importeth that the bread and wine were first offered in Sacrifice, and then doubtles they did participate:
though they wanted not other sufficient corporal food. Againe, the words following For he was the Priest of God most High, can haue no other sense, but that he did the function of a Priest in the bread and wine which he brought, otherwise if the only cause of bringing that prouision had been to relieue the camp with victuals, the reason would rather haue been yealded, because he was a bountiful King, a liberal Prince, a special freind to Abraham, as indeed he was: But none of these reasons or the like fitted this purpose so wel, nor touched the cause of bringing forth bread and wine, as to signifie that he was a Priest, whose office is to offer Sacrifice.

Here againe some Protestants take exception against the Latin text, that the causal conjunction Enim, for, is not agreable to the Hebrew, but should be the copulatiue Et, and, which is a meere wrangling. For the learned know wel enough that the Hebrew particle is better expressed in such places by Enim, or

Heb. 7.
v. 6.

Pf. 109.
Heb. 7.

v. 24.
S. Chris.
ho. 36. in
Gen.

quia, for, or because, then by Et. And so the English Bible printed in the yeare of our Lord 1552. readeth: Melchisedech King of Salem brought forth bread and wine. for he was the Priest of the most highest God. The latter Editions also in like places haue not the copulatiue And, but some other word as the sense requireth Gen. 22. v. 3. Thou art but a dead man, for the womans sake which thou hast taken; for she is a mans wife: Where the Hebrew phrase is, And she is married to a husband. Gen. 30. v. 27. they read thus: For I haue proued it: as the Lord hath blessed me for thy sake, where precisely contruing the Hebrew they should say, I diuined (or coniectured) and the Lord blessed me for thy sake. Likewise Esay 64. v. 5. they read: But Loe, thou hast been angrie, for we offended, the Hebrew is thus: Loe thou art angrie, and we haue sinned. In the same place they translate, Yet shall we be saued, which the Hebrew expresseth by the copulatiue, And we shall be saued. So when they thinke it conuenient, they translate the Hebrew particle, For, that, yet, which strictly signifieth And.

Now let vs also see the original in this place. In the Hebrew it is thus: VMALCHI TSEDEC MELEC CHALEM HOTSI LEHEM VAIAIN. VEHV COHEN LEEL ELION. VAIE VARE CHEHV, &c. In English word for word thus: And Melchisedech King of Salem brought forth bread and wine. And he the Priest to God most High. And he blessed him, &c. Where albeit the causual word, For, is not expressed, yet these wordes, And he the Priest, further declaring that besides the office and dignitie of a King (which was said before) Melchisedech was also a Priest, must needs signifie that he did something about the bread and wine belonging to a Priests office. And what that something was, perhaps the Vniuersitie of Cambridge wil testifie, whose late Professour of Diuinitie teacheth plainly, that Melchisedech offered Sacrifice, and was therein a figure of Christ (Pag 6. Reprehen.) Sacerdotes (saith he) si uere & proprie sunt, qui sacrificia faciunt; qualis fuit Aaron, & Aaronis filii, & Melchisedechus, & quem illi adumbrabant, Christus. Priests truly and properly are they, that offer sacrifices, such as was Aaron, and the sonnes of Aaron, and Melchisedech, and Christ, whom they prefigured. If then both Aaron & Melchisedech were truly & properly Priests, because they offered sacrifices (according to this Professours definition) and both were figures of Christ, it must needs be granted that as Christ fulfilled the figure of Aarons bloudie sacrifices, in offering himselfe vpon the Crosse; so he also fulfilled the figure as wel of vnbloudie sacrifices of Aaron, as especially of Melchisedechs Sacrifice, in some other besides that on the Crosse, seeing the Prophet Daud and S. Paul say, Christ is a Priest (not according to Aarons Order, for that was to haue an end, but) For euer according to the Order of Melchisedech. And what other Sacrifice did our Sauour offer to remaine perpetual, but of his owne bodie & bloud in vnbloudie manner, vnder the formes of bread and wine, with commandment to his Apostles and Priests to doe the same til the end of the world? Let the indifferent Reader weigh it wel: And whosoever is not very proud wil for his better instruction or confirmation, esteeme the vniforme iudgement of manie, ancient, godlie, and learned Fathers, writing vpon this place. We wil only recite their wordes without other deduction, for breuitie sake.

S. Clemens Alexandrinus, li. 4. Strom. versus finem, writeth thus: Melchisedech King of Salem, Priest of God most High, gaue wine & bread sanctified nutriment in type of the Eucharist.

S. Cyprian Epist. 63. ad Cæcilium: Christ is Priest for euer according to the Order of Melchisedech, which Order is this comming from that Sacrifice, and thence descending, that Melchisedech was Priest of God most High, that he offered bread and wine, that he blessed Abraham. For who is more a Priest of God most High, then our Lord Iesus Christ, who offered Sacrifice to God the Father, and offered the same which Melchisedech had offered, bread and wine, to wit, his owne bodie and bloud. And a litle after: That therefore in Genesis,

The Hebrew text sheweth that Melchisedech did the office of a Priest in bread and wine.

The proper office of a Priest isto offer Sacrifice.

Christ stil exercizeth the office of Priest hood according to the Order of Melchisedech by the ministerie of Priests.

The ancient fathers proue that Melchisedech offered Sacrifice in bread & wine, in figure of Gniliel.

whisak contra Gregor.
Marun.

Christ, and of other Priests of the new Testament.

the blessing might be rightly celebrated about Abraham by Melchisedech the Priest, the image of Christs Sacrifice consisting in bread and wine went before, which thing our Lord perfecting and performing, offered bread and the chalice mixt with wine, and he that is the plenitude, fulfilled the veritie of the prefigured image.

Eusebius Cefariensis li. 5. Democst. Euang. c. 3. Euen as he who was Priest of Nations was neuer seen to offer corporal sacrifices, but only bread & wine, when he blessed Abraham; so first our Lord & Sauour himselfe, then Priests that come from him, exercising the spiritual office of Priesthood in al Nations, after the Ecclesiastical ordinances, doe represent the mysteries of his bodie and healthful blood, in bread and wine: which mysteries Melchisedech knew so long before by diuine spirit, and vsed as representations of things to come.

S. Ambrose li. 5. de Sacramen. c. 1. We know the figure of the Sacraments went before, in Abrahams times, when Melchisedech offered Sacrifice.

Idem in cap. 5. Heb. It is cleere that oblations of cattle are vanished, which were in Aarons Order, but Melchisedechs institution remayneth, which is celebrated al the world ouer in administration of the Sacraments.

S. Hierome Epist. ad Marcellam vt migret Bethleem: Haue recourse to Genesis, and you shal find Melchisedech, King of Salem, Prince of this citie, who euen then in figure of Christ offered bread and wine, and dedicated the Christian mysterie in our Sauours bodie and blood. Idem Epist. ad Euagrium: Melchisedech offered not bloudie victims, but dedicated the Sacrament of Christ in bread and wine, a simple and pure sacrifice. Idem Quest. in Gen. c. 14. Our mysterie is signified in the word of Order, not by Aaron in immolating brute victims, but in offering bread and wine, that is, the bodie and blood of our Lord Iesus. Idem in c. 26. Mathei: Melchisedech the Priest of God most High, by offering bread and wine, prefigured the Myserie of the Eucharist.

S. Chrysostom ho. 25. in Gen. Seeing the figure, thinke also I pray thee of the veritie. Ho. 36. After that Melchisedech King of Salem brought bread and wine (for he was Priest of God most High) Abraham receiued his oblations.

S. Augustin Epist. 95. Melchisedech bringing forth the Sacrament (or mysterie) of our Lords table, knew how to figurate his eternal Priesthood. Idem li. 16. c. 22. ciuit. There first appeared that Sacrifice, which is now offered to God by Christians in the whole world. Idem li. 17. c. 17. li. 18. c. 35. and vpon the Psalme 109. li. 1. contra aduarf. Leg. & Prophet. c. 20. Ser. 4. de Sanctis Innocentibus. But it is bootles or needles to cite more places, or more Authours: for whosoeuer wil not submit their iudgements to theie, would not, it is like, belieue, if their owne Maisters should rise againe and warne them, lest they be damned for their incredulitie.

19. Blessed him.] Calvin (in cap. 7. v. 9. Heb.) Musculus (locis com. c. de Missa Papist.) and some other Protestants, to auoid the connexion of Melchisedechs Priesthood and bringing forth of bread and wine, wil needs haue these words, He was a Priest, referred only to that which followeth, he blessed Abraham. And some English translators for this purpose haue corrupted the text, by changing And into Therefore, saying thus: And he was a Priest of the most High God, therefore he blessed him. Which is also a false gloss. For Melchisedech did not blesse Abram because he was a Priest, for Abram was also a Priest, but because he was a greater Priest then Abram; which S. Paul vrgeth saying: Without al contradiction that which is lesse, is blessed of the better, concluding therupon that Melchisedech was greater then Abraham. Againe, other Superiours that are not Priests may blesse their inferiours. As Iosue and Salomon blessed the people, and parents blesse their children.

20. Gave tithes.) This is an other prerogatiue of Melchisedech, that Abram payed tithes to him, which S. Paul likewise explicateth (Heb. 7.) and proueth thereby

Caluin contēneth al the ancient fathers.
in ca. 9. Heb.

Heretical translation.

The greater blesseth the lesse.

Paying of tithes in the law of nature.

Bible
1579.

Heb. 7.
Iosue 8.
22.
3. Reg. 8.

thereby that Christs Priesthood is greater then the Leuitical. Moreouer this paying of tithes by Abraham sheweth the antiquitie of this tradition, being practised in Abrahams time, that the spiritual Superiours received titles of their inferiours.

C H A P. X V.

Abram doubting and lamenting that he should haue no child, God promiseth him much issue, 6. who belieuing is iustified, 9. offereth sacrifice prescribed by God, 13. & is forwarned that his seed shal be in a strange land 400. yeares. 14. shal be deliuered from seruitude, 18. and possesse Chanaan.

W H E N these things therfore were done, the word of our Lord was made to Abram by a vision saying: Feare not Abram, I am thy Protectour, and thy reward exceeding great. 2. And Abram said: Lord God, what wilt thou giue me? I shal goe without children: and the sonne of the steward of my house is this Damascus Eliezer.

3. And Abram added: But to me thou hast not giuen seed: and loe my seruant borne in my house shal be mine heire. 4. And immediately the word of our Lord came to him saying: He shal not be thine heire: but he that shal come out of thy womb him shalt thou haue thine heire. 5. And he brought him forth abroad, and said to him: Looke vp to heauen, and number the starres, if thou canst. And he said to him: So shal thy seed be. 6. Abram belieued God, and it was reputed to him vnto iustice. 7. And he said to him: I am the Lord that brought thee out from Vr of the Chaldees for to giue thee this land, and that thou mightest possesse it. 8. But he said: Lord God, how may I know that I shal possesse it? 9. And our Lord answered, and said: (a) Take me a cow of three yeares old, and a the goat of three yeares, and a ramme of three yeares, a turtle also, and a pigeon. 10. Who taking al these, diuided them by the middes, and laid each two picces arow one against the other: but the birds he diuided not. 11. And the foules lighted vpon the carcasses, and Abram droue them away. 12. And when the sunne was setting, a deep sleep fel vpon Abram, and a great and darke some horroure inuaded him. 13. And it was said vnto him: Know and foreknow that a pilgrime shal thy seed be in a land not their owne (and they shal bring them vnder bondage, and afflict them) (b) foure hundred yeares. 14. But the Nation, whom they shal serue, I wil iudge: and after this they shal goe forth with great substance. 15. And thou shalt goe to thy fathers in peace, buried in a good old age. 16. But in the fourth generation they shal returne hither: for (c) as yet the iniquities of the Amorrheans are not at the ful vntil this present time.

(a) These three kinds of beasts & two of birds signifie that the Israelites should be three generations in a strange land, the fourth in the desert, the fifth in possession of Chanaan.

Throd. 9. 65. in Gen.

(b) Abraham & his seed were in a strange land 400. and odder yeares, but in seruitude & affliction about 140.

(c) God deferreth to punish, either that the wicked may amend, or the good be exercised by them.

S. Aug. Psal 54. or because the iniquity is not come to that great measure which his wisdom foreseeeth, and wil punish in the end, to his owne more glorie, & more good of others. S. Greg. ho. 11. in 3. Ezech.

Ro 4.
Gal. 3.
1. ac. 2.

AB 17.

Exod. 12.

17. Therefore when the sunne was set , there arose a darke mist , and there appeared a fornace smoking , and a flake of fire passing between those diuisions. 18. That day God made a couenant with Abram , saying : To thy seed wil I giue this land from the riuer of Ægypt euen to the great riuer Euphrates , 19. The Cineans, and Cenezites , the Cedmonites, 20. and the Hethits , and the Phe-rezits , the Raphaims also, 21. and the Amorreans and the Cananites, and Gargasites , and the Iebusites.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. XV.

To belieue Gods word without staggering is an act of iustice.

Not workes before faith but ioyned with faith are meritorious.

Only faith doth not iustific.

6. Belieued God.] S. Hilarie (li. 9. de Trin.) and S. Ambrose (li. 1. de Abra- ham. c. 3.) by this example teach vs, what manner of faith is reputed to iustice, to wit, such a faith as without tergiuersation, or requiring of prooffe or reason, doth simply belieue that which God once saith, because he is omnipotent, how farre soeuer the thing that is said surmounteth our vnderstanding For so heroical was the act of Abrahams faith, promptly belieuing Gods word in a matter most hard to his former conceit, that for the same he receiued singular prayse; and for the like afterwards was called The father of manie Nations (c. 17. v. 5.) and by S. Paul The father of al that belieue (Ro. 4. v. 11.) where the Apostle teacheth that Abraham had no iustice, nor estimation of iustice before God, vntil he belieued in Christ (v. 18. 19, 20.) because al workes before that faith are insufficient. Neither was this a sole faith, but had other necessarie vertues of hope, and cha- ritie, humilitie, reuerence, obedience, and the like ioyned with it. Wherefore S. Iames testifieth that Abraham was iustified by workes (that is by workes following faith, not going before faith.) For Faith (saith he) if it haue not workes, is dead in it-self, (c. 2. v. 17.) And by workes Abrahams faith was consummate v. 22. And concludeth thus: Doe yee see, that by workes a man is iustified, and not by faith only. v. 24.

C H A P. XVI.

Sarai giueth her hand-maid Agar as a wife to Abram: 4. who conceiuing despiseth her mistresse, is therefore afflicted, and flyeth away. 7. But is warned by an Angel to returne and humbie her selfe, 15. which she doth, and beareth Ismael

A R A I therefore the wife of Abram had brought forth no children; but hauing an handmaid, an Ægyptian named Agar, 2. she said to her husband: Behold, our Lord hath closed me, that I might not beare; Goe in vnto my handmaid, if happily of her at the least I may haue children. And when he agreed to her in this request, 3. she toke Agar the Ægyptian her handmaid tenne yeares after that they first dwelled in the land of Chanaan, and gaue her vnto her husband to wife. 4. Who did companie with her, but she (a) perceiuing that she was with child, despised her mistresse. 5. And Sarai said to Abram: Thou doest vniustly against me: I gaue my handmaid into thy bosome, who perceiuing her selfe to be with child, despiseth me. Our Lord iudge between me and thee. 6. To whom Abram making answer: Behold, saith he, thy handmaid is in thine owne hand, vse her as it pleaseth thee. When Sarai therefore did afflict her, she ran away. 7. And an Angel of our Lord hauing found her beside a fountaine of water in the wilderness, which is in the way to Sur in the desert, 8. he said to her: Agar, the handmaid of Sarai, whence comest thou? and whither goest thou? who answered: From the face of Sarai my mistresse doe I flye. 9. And the Angel of our Lord said to her: Returne to thy mistresse, and humbie thy selfe vnder her hand. 10. And againe: Multiplying, sayth he, wil I multiplie thy seed, and it shal not be numbered for the multitude therof. 11. And againe after that: Behold, saith he, thou art with child, and thou shalt bring forth a sonne; and thou shalt cal his name Ismael, because the Lord hath heard thine affliction. 12. He shall be a wild man: his hand shall be against al men, and al mens hands against him; and ouer against al his brethren shall he pitch his tents. 13. And she called the name of our Lord that spake vnto her: Thou the God which hast seen me. For she said: verily here haue I seen the backe parts of him that hath seen me. 14. Therefore she called that wel, the wel of him that liueth and seeth me. The same is between Cadesse and Barad. 15. And Agar brought forth a sonne to Abram: who called his name Ismael. 16. Eightie and sixe yeares old was Abram when Agar brought him forth Ismael.

(a) Some obey whilest they are rude, or in low state, but hauing got a litle knowlege or aduancemet disdain their aduancers. S. Gregorie. li. 21. in 1. Reg. 3.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. X V I.

Manichees condemned plu-ralitie of wiues in the Patri-archs.
Luther allo-
weth it in Christians.
Other Protestants in some case.

Two sorts of precepts in the law of nature.

Pluralitie of wiues sometimes allowed.

By the law of Christ in no case lawfull.

3. To wife.) The Manichees did calumniate holie Abraham and other Patriarchs for hauing manie wiues, condemning them of incontinencie and adulte-rie for the same. Luther in the contrarie extreme held it not vnlawful, but indifferent now in the law of grace, for a man to haue more wiues then one at once. And some English Protestants hold, that for adulterie the innocent par-tie may marie another, the first liuing. But the Catholike doctrine distinguishing times and causes, sheweth how pluralitie of wiues was lawful sometimes, and at other times, especially since Christ, altogether vnlawful and vndispensable.
The summe of wh. ch veritie is this. By the first institution of Mariage in the state of innocencie, and law of nature, and by the law of Christ, it is vnlawful for anie man to haue more wiues, and for anie woman to haue more husbands then one. In the one part of which Law notwithstanding God sometimes dispensed.
For there be two kinds of precepts pertaining to the law of nature. One sort are as first principles of the law of nature, in which God neuer dispenseth, much lesse anie man. As that one woman may not haue more husbands then one, because the same would rather hinder procreation, and so were directly against the fruit of mariage. The other sort are as conclusions drawne from the first principles, in which God sometimes dispenseth, but neuer anie man. As in this present example: seeing it is against natural procreation that one woman should haue manie husbands, it is conuenient also, there being ordinarily as manie men as women in the world, that euerie man likewise should be restrained to one wife, for so procreation may rather be increased, then if some men haue manie wiues, and others by that occasion haue none at al, except in some special case. As after the flood, when there was scarcitie of people, God dispensed with such men as indeed were like to make greater procreation by pluralitie of wiues. Which appeareth sufficiently by that Sarai perswaded her owne husband to marie an other wife, and he a true seruant of God agreed thereto, not as a new thing, but as a lawful practise of those times. And Moyses here and in other places stil speaketh of it, as of a custome knowne to the people for lawful. If a man (saith he) haue two wiues, one beloued and the other hated, and they haue children by him, and the sonne of the hated be first-borne, he cannot preferre the sonne of the beloued.
Wherby is cleere that two wiues were then lawful, and the children of both legiti-mate, and that the first-borne must be preferred, without respect of first or last Mariage. Yet this dispensation either ceased before Christs time, the cause ceasing when the world was replenished; or at least our Sauour tooke it away, restoring Matrimonie to the first institution of two in one flesh. Who pleaseth to see the Doctours that vnderstand and expound the Scriptures to this effect, may read S. Augustin li. 22. c. 30. & 47. con. Faust. Manch. li. 16. c. 25. & 38. ciuit. & & li. 1. de adulter. coniugiis. S. Chrysostom. ho. 56. in Gen. S. Amb. li. de Abrah.
c. 4. Also S. Chrysost. S. Hierom. and S. Bede in 19. Matthei.

S. Aug.
l. 22. c.
47. con.
Faust.
Luther
proposit.
62. 65.
& 66.

S. Aug.
de bono coniuga-
li. c. 17.

Deut. 21.

Mat. 19.
Gen. 2.

C H A P. X V I I.

God renewing his promises to Abram 5. changeth his name, 10. and commandeth Circumcision. 15. changeth also his wifes name, promiseth a sonne of her. 20. Likewise that Ismael shal prosper. 23. And the same day Abraham circumcised himselfe, and Ismael, and al the men of his house.

AND after that he began to be nyntie and nyne yeares old, our Lord appeared vnto him, and said vnto him: I am the God Almighty: walke before me, and be
 (a) perfect. 2. And I wil make my couenant between me and thee: and I wil multiplie thee exceedingly. 3. Abram fel flat on his face. 4. And God said to him: I am, and my couenant is with thee, and thou shalt be a father of manie Nations. 5. Neither shal thy name be called any more Abram; but thou shalt be called Abraham: because a father of " many Nations I haue made thee. 6. And I wil make thee encrease exceedingly, and I wil make thee into Nations, and Kings shal come forth of thee. 7. And I wil establish my couenant between me and thee, and between thy seed after thee in their generations by a perpetual couenant: to be thy God, and thy seeds after thee. 8. And I wil giue to thee, and to thy seed the land of thy peregrination, al the land of Chanaan for a perpetual possession, and I wil be their God. 9. Againe God said to Abraham: And thou therefore shalt keep my couenant, and thy seed after thee in their generations. 10. This is my couenant which you shal obserue between me and you, and thy seed after thee: Al the male-kind of you " shal be circumcised: 11. and you shal circumcise the flesh of your prepuce, that it may be for a signe of the couenant between me and you. 12. An infant of (b) eight dayes shal be circumcised among you, al male-kind in your generations: as wel the homebred shal be circumcised, as the bought seruant of whosoeuer he is, not of your stocke: 13. and my couenant shal be in your flesh for a perpetual couenant. 14. The male, whose flesh of his prepuce shal not be circumcised, that soule " shal be destroyed out of his people: because he hath broken my couenant. 15. God said also to Abraham: Sarai thy wife thou shalt not cal Sarai, but Sara. 16. And I wil blesse her, and of her I wil giue thee a sonne, whom I wil blesse, and he shal be into Nations, and Kings of peoples shal spring of him. 17. Abraham fel vpon his face, and (c) laughed, saying in his hart: Shal trowest thou to him that is an hundred yeare old a sonne be borne? and Sara that is nyntie yeares old shal he beare? 18. And he said to God: I would that Ismael may liue before thee. 19. And God said to Abraham: Sara thy wife shal beare thee a sonne,

(a) He is perfect in this life, that sincerely & diligently tēdeth towards perfection of the next life. And this God here commanded to Abraham, & Christ to al Christians. Mat. 5. S. Aug. l. de perfect. cons. Celest. See Gen. 6. v. 9.

(b) Circumcision and name received the eight day signified the association of Saints in heauen after the seven dayes trauel of this world. Ser. de circum. apud S. Cyprian. (c) Abraham laughed not doubting but reioicing. S. Ambro. li. de Abraham c. 4. S. Aug. l. 16. c. 26. de ciuit.

sonne, and thou shalt call his name Isaac, and I will establish my covenant to him for a perpetual covenant, and to his seed after him. 20. Concerning Ismael also I have heard thee. Behold, I will bless him, and increase and multiply him exceedingly: twelve Dukes shall he beget, and I will make him into a great Nation. 21. But my covenant I will establish with (d) Isaac, whom Sara shall bring forth to thee at this time another year. 22. And when he had left off speaking with him, God ascended from Abraham. 23. And Abraham took Ismael his sonne, and all the homebred of his house: and all whom he had bought, all the males of all the men of his house: and he circumcised the flesh of their prepuce forthwith the very same day, as God had commanded him. 24. Abraham was nintie and nyne yeares old, when he circumcised the flesh of his prepuce. 25. And Ismael his sonne was full thirteen yeares old at the time of his circumcision. 26. The self-same day was Abraham circumcised and Ismael his sonne. 27. And (e) all the men of his house, as well the homebred as the bought servants and strangers were circumcised together.

(d) Temporal blessings were common to Ismael, but spiritual pertained properly to Isaac and Israel, & their successours.

(e) Conformitie in Religion conserueth peace in euery familie. Tho. Anglus in hunc locum.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. X V I I.

Changing of names is mystical. S. Aug. li. 16. c. 28. and 39. ciuit. S. Hierom. Tradit. Hebraicis.

Abraham natural father of foure Nations: spiritual father of all that doe believe in Christ. Rom. 4. 11.

The Church of Christ euer consisteth of many Nations.

Circumcision a figure of Baptisme.

5. Manie nations.] Abram signifying High or Noble father, changed into Abraham, which signifieth Father of manie (Nations) and Sara signifying My Princes, changed into Sara, which absolutely signifieth Princesse, import great Mysteries intended by God: For by this changing of names was declared and confirmed, that Abraham by the issue that he should haue of Sara, should be the father of manie Nations, which S. Paul expressly applieth to his spiritual children, those especially that should believe in Christ, of the Gentiles, prefigured by Isaac borne of the freewoman, by the promise, as the Iewes were prefigured by Ismael borne of the bondwoman according to the flesh, concluding with the prophet Esay, that Manie are the children of the desolate, that before was barren. For albeit Abraham was natural father of foure Nations, the Ismaelites, Madianites, Idumeans, and the Israelites, yet he was spiritual father of manie more, to wit, of all Nations that believe in Christ from his owne time to the end of the world, of which some are Iewes, but the greatest part Gentiles, as the same Apostle sheweth Rom. 4. Gal. 4. Ephes. 3. Colos. 1. and in other places. Wherby it is cleer, that the Church of Christ doth alwayes consist of manie Nations, not as Donatistes and Protestants absurdly say, sometimes of few inuisible or vnknown persons, for so Abraham should sometimes be father of few or no Nations, which derogateth either from Gods omnipotencie if he could not, or from his fidelitie if he should not maintaine his promise made to Abraham for euer.

10. Shall be circumcised) The Sacrament of Circumcision here first instituted, about 400. yeares before the Law of Moyse, is a perfect figure of Baptisme, resembling it in foure things First, by both these Sacraments the faithful are distinguished from infidels. Secondly, profession of faith is made in them both, either by those that receiue the same, if they be of discretion, or by others for them, if they be infants. Thirdly, by both these Sacraments entrance is made into the Church and to the participation of other Sacraments and spiritual rites. Fourthly, both these Sacraments in luce subiection to the iurisdiction and lawes of the Church. But Baptisme doth farre excel Circumcision in that it is more easie, or leise painefull, more vniuersal, for it pertaineth to al Nations, and both sexes; and especially in vertue and efficacie, for Baptisme as an instrumental cause remitteth sinne and iustifieth, Circumcision was only a signe that grace was giuen & sinne remitted. Againe, Baptisme imprinteth a character in the soule, the oth r leaueth a marke only in the flesh. Finally, Baptisme openeth the gate of heauen, in vertue of Christs passion now past, which circumcison could not before Christ suffered death. Of which both resemblance and difference S. Augustin treateth in manie places, especially li. 3. de doct. christ. c. 9. Epist. 118. ad Ianuarium. li. 19. c. 13. cont. Faust. and in Psal. 73. where he also maketh like comparison between other Sacraments of the old and new Testament.

either

Gal. 4.

Isa 54.

¶. Shal be destroyed.) Here occurre two difficulties about the true sense of this hard place. First, whether this punishment belonged to them only, by whose fault circumcison was omitted; or to infants also that should be circumcised and were not. Secondly, whether temporal punishment or eternal was here threatned for transgression of this precept. Touching the first doubt, it seemeth probable, that this punishment pertained only to those, by whose negligence themselues, or others of their charge, were not circumcised: for that the reason why such a one is punished is alleadged, Because he hath broken Gods couenant. Which is only in their power to keepe or breake, that are of discretion, and not in the power of infants. The indifferencie also of the Hebrew and Greeke text fauoureth this sense, for where according to the Latin we read, The male whose flesh of prepuce is not circumcised, The Hebrew and Greeke may be translated, The male that doth not circumcise the flesh of his prepuce, which can not be ment of an infant of eight dayes old. This exposition is likewise confirmed by example, Exod. 4. where Moyse was in danger to be slaine by an Angel, because his sonne was not circumcised. Neuertheles S. Augustin (li. 3. c. 18. cont. Iulian. li. 16. c. 27. ciuit. and in other places) proueth that this commination pertained also to infants. Whose iudgement is confirmed by the 70. Interpreters, adding for explication these words, the eight day: which necessarily include infants, as subiect to this punishment; not for that they could transgresse this precept, or commit a new sinne, but for lack of circumcison. The reason wherof is, for that God now determined this only remedie for original sinne, in the male sex of Abrahams seed, in place of sacrifice, or other profession of faith vsed before, and that in case it could conueniently be applied, for otherwise the former remedies were stil auailable.

Concerning the other difficultie manie ancient fathers expound these words, Shal be destroyed out of his people, of only temporal punishment; either death, as the like phrase signifieth, Exod. 12. Whosoever shal ease leuened bread, his soul shal perish out of Israel; or temporal separation from the people of God, as Num. 19. Enuerie one that toucheth the dead corse, shal perish out of Israel. But S. Augustin (li. 3. c. 18. cont. Iulian. li. 5. hypog. & alibi) S. Gregorie (li. 4. Moral. c. 1. & 3.) S. Prosper (li. de promiss. Dei p. 1. c. 14.) S. Beda (li. 2. in Lucam c. 8.) and S. Bernard (ser. 3. de circum.) vnderstand this threatning not only of temporal punishment, but also of eternal separation from God, and the societie of Saints. And that also infants are so seclued only for lack of this remedie, as now children which dye without Baptisme, committing no new fault are deprived of the vision of God, for their original sinne not remitted. Wherupon is gathered that albeit Circumcision was principally instituted to distinguish the people of God, which should come of Abrahams seed, from other Nations, yet it was Baptisme excelleth Circumcision.

Two difficulties.

To whom the punishment pertained whē circumcison was omitted.

What punishment was threatned.

Circumcision instituted to distinguish the people of God and for remedie of original sinne in some persons, but not in al.

also for remission of original sinne : not in al, but in those to whom God appointed this particular remedie.

C H A P. XVIII.

Angels entertained as ghests by Abraham 10. tel when Sara shal beare a sonne, wher at she laughing, they confirme that they had said. 16. They also foretel the destruction of Sodome, 22. for which Abraham prayed six times.

AND God appeared to him in the vale of Mambre as he sat in the dore of his tent, in the verie heat of the day. 2. And when he had lifted vp his eyes, there appeared to him three men standing nere vnto him: whom after he had seen, he ranne to meet them from the dore of his tent, and adored to the ground. 3. And He said (a) Lord, if I haue found grace in thy sight, goe not past thy seruant: 4. but I wil fetch a litle water, and wash ye your feet, and rest ye vnder the tree. 5. And I wil fet a morsel of bread, and strengthen your hart, afterward you shal passe: for therefore are you come aside to your seruant. Who said: Doe as thou hast spoken. 6. Abraham made hast into the tent to Sara, and said to her: Make hast, temper together three measures of floure, and make harth cakes. 7. But himselfe ranne to the heard, and tooke from thence a calfe verie tender and verie good, and gaue it to a yong man: who made hast and boiled it. 8. He tooke also butter and milke, and the calfe which he had boyled, and set before them: but himselfe did stand beside them vnder the tree. 9. And when they had eaten, they said to him: Where is Sara thy wife? He answered: Loe she is in the tent. 10. To whom he said: Returning I wil come to thee at this time, life accompanying, and Sara thy wife shal haue a sonne. Which when Sara heard, she laughed behind the dore of the tent. 11. And they were both aged, and farre entred in yeares, and it ceased to be with Sara after the manner of women. 12. Who laughed secretly saying: After I am waxen old, and my Lord is an old one, shal I giue my selfe to pleasure? 13. And our Lord said to Abraham: Why did Sara laugh, saying: Shal I an old woman beare a child in deed? 14. Is there any thing hard to God? According to appointment I wil returne to thee this verie selfe-same time, life accompanying, & Sara shal haue a sonne. 15. Sara denied, saying: I laughed not; being much afraid. But our Lord: (b) It is not so, saith he, but thou didst laugh. 16. When the men thertore were risen vp from thence, they turned their eyes against Sodome: and Abraham did goe with them, bringing them on the way. 17. And our Lord said: Can I conceale from Abraham the things which I wil doe. 18. wheras he shal be into a Nation great, and very strong, and in him

(a) Abraham saw three, and adored one, professing three diuine Persons and one God. S. Aug. li. 16. c. 29. cinit.

(b) Abraham laughing with admiration for ioy was not reprehended, but Sara laughing of diffidence was reprehended, by him that seeth the hart. S. Aug. 9. 35. in Gen. & li. 25. c. 31. cinit.

Heb. 13.

Rom. 9.

are

are TO BE BLESSED AL THE NATIONS OF THE EARTH?
 19. For I know that he wil command his children , and his house after him that they keep the way of the Lord , & doe iudgement and iustice: that for Abrahams sake the Lord may bring to effect al the things that he hath spoken vnto him.

Therefore said our Lord: 20. The cry of Sodome and Gomorre is multiplied , and their sinne is aggrauated exceedingly. 21. I wil descend , and see whether they haue in acte accomplished the cry that is come to me : or whether it be not so , that I may know. 22. And they turned themselues from thence , and went their way to Sodome : but Abraham as yet stood before our Lord. 23. And approaching he said : What ! wilt thou destroy the iust with the wicked ? 24. (c) If there shal be fittie iust persons in the citie , shal they perish withal ? and wilt thou spare that place for fittie iust , if they be therein ? 25. Be it farre from thee , that thou doe this thing , and that thou kil the iust with the wicked , and that the iust be in like case as the wicked , this is not be-seeming thee , which iudgest al the earth : no , thou wilt not doe this iudgement. 26. And our Lord said to him : If I shal find in Sodome fittie iust persons within the citie , I wil spare the whole place for their sake. 27. And Abraham answered , and said : Because I haue once begun , I wil speake to my Lord , wheras I am dust and ashes. 28. What if there shal be fve lesse then fittie iust persons ? wilt thou for fourtie fve destroy the whole citie ? And he said : I wil not destroy it , if I shal find fve and fourtie. 29. And againe he said vnto him : But if fourtie shal be found there , what wilt thou doe ? He said : I wil not strike it for fourties sake. 30. Lord , saith he be not angrie I beseech thee , if I speake : What if thirtie shal be found there ? He answered : I wil not doe it , if I shal find thirtie there. 31. Because , saith he , I haue once begun , I wil speake to my Lord : What if twentie shal be found there ? He said : I wil not destroy it for twentys sake. 32. I beseech thee , saith he , be not angrie Lord , if I speake yet once more : What if ten shal be found there ? And he said : I wil not destroy it for tennes sake. 33. And our Lord departed after that he ceased to speake vnto Abraham : and Abraham returned into his place.

(c) what a wal
 are iust mento their countrie?
 their faith saueth vs, their iustice defendeth vs from destruction.
 S. Amb. li. 1.
 de Abrah. c. 6.

C H A P. X I X.

Lot receiuing Angels in his house is abused by the Sodomites. 12. He with his wife (26. who for looking back is turned into a statua of salt) and his two daughters, are deliuered. 24. Sodomé and Gomorre are burned. 31. Lot lieth vnwithting with both his daughters, & begat of them Moab and Ammon, of whom came the Moabites and Ammonites.

(a) Abraham and Lot by hospitalitie merited to receiue Angels instead of men. Heb. 13.

AND the two (a) Angels came to Sodom at euen, and Lot sitting in the gates of the citie. Who when he had seen them, rose vp & went to meet them: and adored prostrate vnto the ground, 2. and said: I beseech you, my Lords, turne into the house of your seruant, and lodge there: wash your feet, and in the morning you shal goe forth on your way. Who said: No, but we wil abide in the street. 3. He compelled them earnestly to turne in vnto him: and when they were entred into his house, he made them a banquet, and baked vnleauened bread, and they did eat. 4. And before they went to bed, the men of the citie beset the house from yong to old, al the people together. 5. And they called Lot, and said to him: Where are the men that came in to thee at night? bring the forth hither that we may know them. 6. Lot going forth to them, and shutting the dore after him, said: 7. Doe not so, I beseech you, my brethren, doe not commit this euil. 8. I haue two daughters, which as yet haue not knowen man: I wil bring them forth to you, and abuse you them as it shal please you, so that you doe no euil to these men, because they are entred vnder the shadow of my rooffe. 9. But they said: Get thee backe thither. And againe: Thou camest in, said they, as a stranger, what to be a Iudge? Thy selfe therefore we wil afflict more then these. And they did violence to Lot exceedingly: and it was euen now at the point that they would break the dores. 10. And behold the men put forth their hand, and drew in Lot vnto them, and shut the dore: 11. and them that were without they struck with blindnes from the least to the greater, so that they could not find the dore. 12. And they said to Lot: Hast thou here anie of thine? sonne in law, or sonnes, or daughters, al that are thine, bring them out of this citie: 13. for we wil destroy this place, for that (b) their cry is waxen loud before our Lord, who hath sent vs to destroy them. 14. Therefore Lot went forth, and spake to his sonnes in law that were to take his daughters, and said: Arise, get you forth out of this place, because our Lord wil destroy this citie. And he seemed vnto them to speake as it were in iest. 15. And when it was morning, the Angels vrged him, saying: Arise, take thy wife, and the two daughters daughters which thou hast : least thou also perish withal in the wickednes of the citie. 16. He lingring , they tooke his hand , and the hand of his wife , and of his two daughters , because our Lord spared him. 17. And they led him forth , and set him without the citie ; and there they spake to him , saying : Saue thy life ; looke not backe , neither stay thou in al the countrie about : but saue thy selfe in the mountaine , lest thou also perish withal. 18. And Lot said to them : I beseech thee my Lord , 19. because thy seruant hath found grace before thee , and thou hast magnified thy mercie , which thou hast wrought with me , in that thou wouldest saue my life , and safe I can not be in the mountaine , lest perhaps the euil catch me , and I dye. 20. There is this citie here-by at hand , wherunto I may fly , a little one , and I shal be safe in it : is it not a little one , and my life shal be saued ? 21. And he said to him : Behold also in this point I haue heard thy prayers , not to ouerthrow the citie for which thou hast spoken. 22. Make hast , and be saued there : because I can not doe any thing til thou enter in thither. Therefore the name of that citie was called * Segor. 23. The sunne was risen vpon the earth , and Lot entred into Segor. 24. Therefore our Lord rained vpon Sodome and Gomorre brimstone & fire from our Lord out of heauen: 25. and he subuerted these cities , and al the countrie about , al the inhabitants of the cities , and al things that spring of the earth. 26. And his wife (c) looking behind her , was turned into a statua of salt. 27. And Abraham getting vp early in the morning , there where before he had stood with our Lord , 28. beheld Sodome and Gomorre , and the whole land of that countrie : and he saw the cinders rise vp from the earth as it were the smoke of a fornace. 29. For when God subuerted the citties of that countrie , he (d) remembring Abraham , deliuered Lot out of the subuersion of the cities wherein he had dwelt. 30. And Lot ascended out of Segor , and abode in the mountaine , his two daughters also with him (for he was afraid to abide in Segor) and he abode in a caue himselfe , and his two daughters with him. 31. And the elder said to the yonger : Our father is old , and there is no man left on the earth , that may companie with vs after the manner of the whole earth. 32. Come , let vs make him drunke with wine , and let vs lie with him , that we may preferue seed of our father. 33. They therefore made their father to drinke wine that night : and the elder went in , and lay with her father : but he perceiued not , neyther when his daughter lay downe , nor when she rose vp. 34. The next day also the elder said to the yonger : Behold I lay yesternight with my father , let vs make him drinke wine also this night , and thou shalt lye with him , that we may saue seed of our father. 35. They made their father drinke wine that night also , and the yonger daughter went in , and lay with him : and neyther then truly did he perceiue when she lay downe , or when she rose vp. 36. The two daughters therefore of Lot were with child by their father. 37. And the elder bare a sonne and she called his name Moab :

(b) This sinne crieth to heauen for reuenge.

a little one.

(c) Lots wife turned into salt , admoni-sheth the ser-uants of God to proceed in vertue , & not to looke back to vice.

Luc. 17. 8. Aug.
li. 16. c. 30. ciuit.
(d) Lot neither perfect nor very wicked was deliuered for Abrahams sake. S. Aug.
9. 45. in Gen.

(e) Moabites & Ammonites were two distinct Nations, perhaps of the 72. Sec. p. 41.

he is the (e) father of the Moabites euen to this present day. 38. The yonger also bare a sonne, and she called his name Ammon, that is the sonne of my people: he is the father of the Ammonites euen to this day.

C H A P. X X.

Abraham sciorning in Geraris, his wife is taken into King Abimelechs house, but by Gods commandement in restored vntouched, 14. with great gifts, 17. and Abraham praying Abimelechs house is cured.

BR AHAM remoued from thence into the south countrie, and dwelt between Cades, and Sur: and he liued as a pilgrime in Gerara. 2. And he said of Sara his wife: She is (a) my sister. Abimelech therfore, the King of Gerara, sent and tooke her. 3. And God came to Abimelech in a dreame by night, and said to him: Loe thou shalt dye for the woman that thou hast taken: for she hath a husband. 4. But Abimelech had not touched her, and he said: Lord wilt thou kil a Nation that is ignorant & iust? 5. Did not he say to me: She is my sister? and she say, He is my brother? In simplicitie of my hart and cleanenes of my hands haue I done this. 6. And God said to him: And I doe know that thou didest it with a sincere hart: and therefore I kept thee that thou shouldest not sinne against me, and I permitted not that thou shouldest touch her. 7. Now therfore restore the wife to her husband, because he is a Prophet: and he shall pray for thee, and thou shalt liue. But if thou wilt not restore her, know thou that dying thou shalt dye, thou and al things that are thine. 8. And Abimelech forthwith rising vp in the night, called al his seruants: and he spake al these words to their eares, and al the men were sore afraid. 9. And Abimelech called also for Abraham, & said to him: What hast thou done to vs? what haue we offended against thee, that thou hast brought vpon me and vpon my Kingdome a great sinne: that which thou oughtest not to doe, thou hast done to vs. 10. And againe expostulating, he said: What sawest thou, that thou didest this? 11. Abraham answered: I thought with my selfe, saying: Perhaps there is not the feare of God in this place, & they wil kil me for my wife: 12. howbeit otherwise also in verie deed she is my sister, (b) the daughter of my father, & not the daughter of my mother, & I tooke her to wife. 13. And after that God brought me out of my fathers house, I said to her: This mercie thou shalt doe with me: In cuerie place which we shall come vnto, thou shalt say that I am thy brother. 14. Therfore Abimelech (c) tooke sheep and oxen, and seruants, and handmayds, and gaue to Abraham: and restored to him Sara his wife, 15. and said: The land is before you, dwell wher soeuer it shall please thee. 16. And to Sara he said: Behold I haue giuen thy brother a thousand peeces of siluer, this shall (b) Not his fathers owne daughter, but of his progenie. S. Aug. l. 22. con. Faust. c. 35. & l. 16. c. 19. & 30. de ciuit. (c) Kings of the earth esteeming the Church only for a laudable people of God, seeke to subiect her to themselves: but knowing he to be the inuiolable spouse of Christ, subiect themselves to her, & offer to her most honourable gifts. S. Aug. l. 22. con. Faust. c. 38.

(a) See pag. 50

serue

serue thee for a veile of thine eyes to al that are with thee, and whithersoever thou shalt goe, remember also thou wast taken. 17. And Abraham praying, God healed Abimelech and his wife, and his handmaids, and they bare children: for our Lord had closed vp euerie matrice of the house of Abimelech for Sara Abrahams wife.

C H A P. XXI.

Isaac is borne, 4. circumcised, 8. and weaned. 9. Agar and Ismael are put forth of Abrahams house, 15. but after desolation are nourished, and prosper in the desert. 22. King Abimelech and Abraham make a league confirming it with oath.

AND our Lord visited Sara, as he had promised: and fulfilled the things which he spake. 2. And she conceived & bare a sonne in her old age, at the time that God had foretold her. 3. And Abraham called the name of his sonne, which Sara bare him, ^(a) Isaac: 4. and he circumcised him the eight day, as God had commanded him, 5. when he was an hundred yeares old: for at this age of his father, was Isaac borne. 6. And Sara said: Laughter God hath made to me: whosoever shall heare of it, will laugh with me. 7. And againe she said: Who that shall heare of it would belieue Abraham, that Sara gaue sucke to a sonne, which she bare him now being an old man? 8. The child therefore grew and was weaned: and Abraham made a great feast in the day of his weaning. 9. And when Sara had seen the sonne of Agar the Ægyptian playing with Isaac her sonne, she said to Abraham: 10. Cast out this handmaid, & her sonne: for the sonne of the handmaid shall not be heire with my sonne Isaac. 11. Abrahā tooke this grieuouly for his sonne. 12. To whom God said: "Let it not seem grieuous to thee for the boy, and for thy handmaid: al things that Sara shall say to thee, heare her voice: because ^(b) in Isaac shall seed be called to thee. 13. But the sonne also of the handmaid I will make into a great nation, because he is thy seed. 14. Abraham therefore rose vp in the morning, and taking bread and a bottle of water, put it vpon her shoulder, and deliuered the boy, and dismissed her. Who went away, and wandred in the wilderness of Bersabee. 15. And when the water in the bottle was spent, she cast the boy vnder one of the trees that were there. 16. And she went her way, and fate ouer against a great way off as farre as a bow can cast, for she said: I wil no see the child dying. And sitting ouer against, she lifted vp her voice and wept. 17. And God heard the voice of the boy: and an Angel of God called Agar from heauen, saying: What doest thou Agar? feare not; for God hath heard the voice of the boy, from the place wherin he is. 18. Arise, take vp the boy, & hold his hand; for int

Rom. 9.
Heb. 11.

The sixt part of this booke.

Of the proge-nie and other blesings of Abraham, Isaac, and Iacob.
^(a) Abrahā &
Sara laughed
(he admiring, she doubting) at the ioyful promise of a sonne, & therfore he is called Isaac, which signi-fieri laughter.
S. Aug. li. 16. c.
31. cims.

^(b) See c. 17.
v. 21.

a great natiō wil I make him. 19. And God opened her eyes: who seeing a wel of water, went, and filled the bottle, and gaue the boy to drinke. 20. And God was with him: who grew, and abode in the wildernes, and became a yong man archer. 21. And he dwelt in the wildernes of Pharan, and his mother tooke a wife for him out of the land of Ægypt. 22. The same time said Abimelech, and Phicol the General of his armie, to Abraham: God is with thee in al things which thou doest. 23. Swear therfore by God, not to hurt me, and my posteritie, and my stocke: but according to the mercie, that I haue done thee, thou shalt doe to me, and to the land wherin thou hast liued a stranger. 24. And Abraham said: I wil sweare. 25. And he rebuked Abimelech for the wel of water, which his seruants had taken away by force. 26. And Abimelech answered: I knew not who did this thing: yea and thy selfe didest not tel me, and I heard not of it but to day. 27. Abraham therfore tooke sheep and oxen, and gaue to Abimelech: and both of them made a league. 28. And Abraham set seauen ewe lambs of the flocke apart. 29. To whom Abimelech said: What meane these seauen ewe lambs, which thou hast made to stand apart? 30. But he said: Seauen ewe lambs shalt thou take at my hand: that they may be a testimonie for me, that I digged this wel. 31. Therfore was that place called * Bersabee: because there both did sweare. 32. And they made a league for the wel of oath. 33. And Abimelech arose, and Phicol the General of his armie, and they returned to the land of the Palestines. But Abraham planted a groue in Bersabee, and called there vpon the name of our Lord God eternal. 34. And he was a seiourner in the land of the Palestines manie dayes.

wel of oath

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. X X I.

Separation to be made in families, when iust cause requireth.

Mystical sense.

The true Church doth not persecute but iustly punisheth offenders.

12. Letis nos.] It seemed so hard, inhumane, and vniust to cast Agar and Ismael out of the house, that Abraham would not haue done it, vnles God had commanded him in this to heare the voice of Sara. But when he knew Gods wil therein, not respecting flesh and bloud, nor disputing further of the lawfulness of the fact, sent them both away, commending them to Gods protection: and so by this separation the familie was made quiet. It represented also a notable Myserie of the Synagogue of the Iewes and Church of Christ. As S. Augustin doth excellently expound the same, according to S. Paul (Gal. 4.) That Ismaels playing with Isaac was persecution, because it tended to peruert him, shewing it to be a greater iniurie to delude and deceiue anie, in drawing them to new and particular companies, then corporally to persecute them: and that the Church and Catholike Princes punish heretikes for their good, to make them returne to the truth, or finally to cease from seducing others. Ecce libera afflixit ancillam, & non illam vocat persecutionem Apostolus, Iudis seruus cum domino, & persecutionem vocat. Afflictio ista non vocatur persecutio, & Iusto illa vocatur persecutio.

li. 15. c.
2. c. iiii.

Epi. 84.
& 10.

TraB.
11. in
Ioan.

Behold

Behold the freewoman afflicted the handmaid, and the Apostle calleth it not persecution, the seruant playeth with the Master, and he calleth it persecution. This affliction is not called persecution, and that play is called persecution. Againe, he sayth of Sara, Illusionem vidit in illo lusu, animaduersis feruè superbiam, displicuit illi, eiecit foras. She saw foule play in that play, she noted the seruants pride, it displeased her, she cast him forth of the dores. S. Hierom also teacheth that the spiritual neuer persecuteth the carnal: but spareth him as his rustical brother, knowing that he may in time be profitable.

Heretikes and other infidels doe persecute, when either by word or sword they impugne the truth.

Tract.

12.

in 4. Gal.

C H A P. X X I I.

The faith and obedience of Abraham is proued in his readines to sacrifice his sonne Isaac. 11. He is stayed from the act by an Angel. 16. Former promises are renewed to him. 20. And his brother Nachor hath also much issue.

V HICH things being done, God'' tempted Abraham, and said to him: Abraham, Abraham. But he answered: Here I am. 2. He said to him: (a) Take thy only begotten sonne, whom thou louest, Isaac, and goe into the Land of vision: and there thou shalt offer him for an holocaust vpon one of the mountaines which I wil shew thee. 3. Therefore Abraham rising vp in the night, sadled his asse: taking with him two yong men, and Isaac his sonne: and when he had cut wood for the holocaust, he went his way to the place which God had commanded him. 4. And the third day, lifting vp his eyes, he saw the place a farre off: 5. and he said to his yong men: Tarie you heer with the asse: I and the boy going with speed as farre as yonder, after we haue adored wil returne to you. 6. He tooke also the wood of the holocaust, and laid it vpon Isaac his sonne: and himselfe caried in his hand fire and a sword. And as they went on together, 7. Isaac said to his father: My father. And he answered: What wilt thou sonne? Behold, saith he, fire & wood; where is the victime of the holocaust? 8. And Abraham said: God wil prouide vnto himselfe the victime of the holocaust, my sonne. They went on therefore together: 9. and they came to the place which God had shewed him, wherein he builed an altar, and laid the wood in order vpon it: and when he had bound Isaac his sonne, he laid him on the altar vpon the pile of wood. 10. And he stretched forth his hand, and caught the sword, for to sacrifice his sonne. 11. And behold an Angel of our Lord from heauen cried, saying: Abraham, Abraham. Who answered: Here I am. 12. And he said to him: Stretch not forth thy hand vpon the boy, neither doe thou any thing to him: now haue I knowen that thou fearest God, and hast not spared thine onlie begotten sonne for my sake. 13. Abraham lifted vp his eyes, and saw behind his backe a ramme amongst the briers iticking fast by the hornes, which hetooke

The third propheticie in the Office before Masse on Easter eue. And the first on whitsun-eue. (a) This historie is cleere, and a most notorious example of perfect obedience.

Judith.

8.

Heb. 11.

(b) It is a grateful and religious thing, by naming of places to conferre the memorie of Gods benefits, that posteritie may know the. S. Chriſtoſt. ho. 48. in Gen.

(c) Nachors progenie is here mentioned to shew whence Rebecca came, whom Isaac married.

& offered an holocaust instead of his sonne. 14. And he called the name of that place, (b) Our Lord seeth. Whereupon euen to this day it is said, In the mountaine our Lord wil see. 15. And the Angel of our Lord called Abraham the second time from heauen, saying: 16. By my owne selfe haue I sworne, saith the Lord: because thou hast done this thing, and hast not spared thine onlie begotten sonne for my sake; 17. I wil blesse thee, and I wil multiplie thy seed as the starres of heauen, and as the sand that is by the sea shore: thy seed, shal possesse the gates of his enemies, 18. and IN THY SEEDE SHAL BE BLESSED AL THE NATIONS OF THE EARTH, because thou hast obeyed my voice. 19. Abraham returned to his yong men, and they went to Bersabee together, and he dwelt there. 20. These things so being done, it was (c) told Abraham that Melcha also had borne children to Nachor his brother, 21. Hus the first-begotten, and Buz his brother, and Camuel the father of the Sirians, 22. and Cased, and Azau, Pheldas also and Iedlaph, 23. and Bathuel, of whom was borne Rebecca: these eight did Melcha beare to Nachor Abrahams brother. 24. And his concubine, named Roma, bare Tabee, and Gaham, and Tahas, and Maacha.

ANNOTATIONS.

CHAP. XXII.

God tempteth not to euil, but by experience maketh knowe what vertue is in men. Isaac figured Christs diuinitie, the Ramme his humanitie.

1. Tempted.] God tempteth none to euil (as James teacheth) but by trial and experiment maketh men knowne to the world, as here Abrahams faith and singular obedience were manifested, when he doubted not To offer his only-begotten in Sacrifice, accounting that God is able to raise up euen from the dead. Whereupon he receiued his sonne againe in parable, that is, in figure and myserie of Christ dead and aliue againe. Isaac also in this action signified the diuinitie of Christ which suffered not, and the ramme among the briars figured his humanitie, that should be offered in Sacrifice to God.

Iac. 1. 13. Heb. 11. 19. S. Aug. li. 16. c. 32. c. 1. Theod. 9. 72. in Gen.

CHAP. XXIII.

Sara dying Abraham solemnizeth her funeral: 4. byeth a field with a double caue of Ephron, 15. for foure hundred sicles. 19. and there burieth her.

(a) A cleare example of religious Office in burying the dead. See 2. Reg. 1. and 2. Paral. 35.

AND Sara liued an hundred twentie seauen yeares. 2. And she died in the cite of Arbee which is Hebron, in the land of Chanaan: And Abraham came to mourne and weepe for her. 3. And after that he was risen vp from (a) the funeral obsequies, he spake to the children of Heth, saying: 4. I am a stranger and pilgrime among you: giue me the right of a sepulchre with you , that I may burie my dead. 5. The children of Heth answered , saying : 6. My Lord heare vs , thou art a Prince of God among vs : in our principal sepulchres burie thou thy dead : and no man can let thee but that in his owne monument thou mayst burie thy dead. 7. Abraham rose vp and (b) adored the people of the land , towit the children of Heth ; 8. and he said to them: If it please your soule that I burie my dead , heare me , and be intercessours for me to Ephron the sonne of Seor : 9. that he giue me the double caue , which he hath in the vtermost part of his field : for money to the worth therof let him deliuer it to me before you for possession of a sepulchre. 10. And Ephron dwelt in the midst of the children of Heth. And Ephron made answer to Abraham in the hearing of al that went in at the gate of the citie, saying: 11. No, it shal not be so , my Lord , but thou rather hearken to that which I doe say : The field I deliuer to thee , and the-caue that is therein, in the presence of the children of my people , burie thy dead. 12. Abraham adored before the people of the land. 13. And he spoke to Ephron , his people standing round about : I beseech thee to heare me : I wil giue money for the field : take it , and so I wil burie my dead in it. 14. And Ephron answered : 15. My Lord , heare me. The ground which thou desirest is worth foure hundred sicles of siluer : this is the price between me and thee : but how much is this : burie thy dead. 16. Which when Abraham had heard , he weyghed the money that Ephron had asked , in the hearing of the children of Heth , foure hundred sicles of siluer of common currant money. 17. And the field that before time was Ephrons , wherin was the double caue , looking towards Mambre , as wel it , as the caue , and al the trees therof in al the limits thereof round about , 18. was made sure to Abraham for a possession , in the sight of the children of Heth , and of al that went in at the gate of his citie. 19. And so Abraham buried Sara his wife in the double caue of the field , that looked towards Mambre , this is Hebron in the land of Chanaan. 20. And the field was made sure to Abraham , and the caue that was in it , for a possession to burie in , of the Children of Heth.

(b) Adoration vsed for reuerence done to men. See also c. 27. v. 29. c. 33. v. 3. 7. and 5. Aug. 9. 61. in Gen.

C H A P. X X I I I I.

Abrahams seruant adiured and sent by him into Mesopotomia, to seeke a wife for Isaac, 12. prayeth to God for a signe, findeth Rebecca, 34. and demanding her for this purpose, 50. with her parents, 58. and her owne consent, she goeth with him, 67. is married to Isaac: who thereby is comforted for the death of his mother.

AND Abraham was old, and of manie dayes, and our Lord had blessed him in al things. 2. And he said to the elder seruant of his house, which was ruler ouer al that he had: Put thy hand vnder my thigh, 3. that I may adiure thee by our Lord God of heauen and earth, that thou (a) take not a wife for my sonne of the daughters of the Cananites, among whom I dwel: 4. but that thou goe vnto myne owne countrie and kindred, and thence take a wife for my sonne Isaac. 5. The seruant answered: If the woman wil not come with me into this land, whether must I bring thy sonne backe againe to the place, from whence thou didest come forth? 6. And Abrahā said: Beware thou neuer bring my sonne backe againe thither. 7. Our Lord God of heauen, which tooke me out of my fathers house, and out of my natiue countrie, which spake to me, and sware to me, saying: To thy seed wil I giue this land; he shal send his Angel before thee, and thou shal take from thence a wife for my sonne: 8. but if the woman wil not folow thee, thou shalt not be bound by the oath: only bring not my sonne thither againe. 9. The seruant therefore put his hand vnder the thigh of Abraham his Lord, and sware to him vpon this word. 10. And he tooke ten camels of his Lords heard, and departed, of al his goods carying something with him, and setting forward went on into Mesopotamia to the citie of Nachor. 11. And when he had made the camels lye downe without the towne beside a wel of water at euen, at the time when women are wont to come forth to draw water, he said: 12. O Lord God of my Lord Abraham, meet me to day, I besecch thee, and doe mercifully with my Master Abraham. 13. Behold I stand nigh to the fountaine of water and the daughters of the inhabitants of this citie wil come forth to draw water. 14. Therefore

(a) In choosing a wife a vertuous stock and familie, especially true faith and religion, are before al other things to be considered and preferred. S. Amb. li. 1. c. 9. de Abrah. S. Christi. Ioh. ho. 48. in Gen.

with

with my Master. 15. Neither had he yet ended these words within himselfe, & behold Rebecca came forth, the daughter of Bathuel, the sonne of Melcha, wife to Nachor the brother of Abraham, hauing a tankard on her shoulder; 16. a passing comely maid, & most beautiful virgin, & not knowen to man: and she was gone downe to the fountaine, and had filled her tankard, and came backe. 17. And the seruant ranne to mee her, and said: Giue me a little water to drinke of thy tankard. 18. Who answered: Drinke my Lord. And quickly she let downe the tankard vpon her arme, and gaue him drinke. 19. And when he had drunke, she added: but for thy camels also I wil draw water, til al doe drinke. 20. And powring out the tankard into the troughs, she ranne backe to the wel to draw water: and being drawn gaue it to al the camels. 21. But he musing beheld her with silence, desirous to know whether our Lord had made his iourney prosperous or not. 22. And after that the camels had drunke, the man plucked forth golden earelets, weyghing two sicles, and as manie bracelets of tenne sicles weight. 23. And he said to her: Whose daughter art thou? shew me; is there anie place in thy fathers house to lodge? 24. Who answered: I am the daughter of Bathuel, the sonne of Melcha, whom she bare to Nachor. 25. And she added, saying: Of straw also and hay we haue good store, and a large place to lodge in. 26. The man bowed himselfe, and adored our Lord, 27. saying: Blessed be the Lord God of my Lord Abraham, that hath not taken away his mercie & truth from my Lord, and hath brought me the streight way into the house of my Lords brother. 28. The maid therefore ranne, and reported into (b) her mothers house al things that she had heard. 29. And Rebecca had a brother named Laban, who in al hast went forth to the man, where the fountaine was. 30. And when he had seen the earelets and bracelets in his sisters hands, and had heard al her words reporting: These words spake the man vnto me; he came to the man which stood beside the camels, and nigh to the fountaine of water: 31. and said to him: Come in, thou blessed of our Lord: Why standest thou without? I haue prepared the house, and a place for the camels. 32. And he brought him in into his lodging: and he vnharneſſed the camels, and gaue straw and hay, and water to wash his feet, and of the men that were come with him. 33. And bread was set before him. Who said: I wil not eate til I speake my message. He answered him: Speake. 34. And he said: I am the seruant of Abraham: 35. and our Lord hath blessed my I ord wonderfully, and he is magnified: and he hath giuen him sheep, & oxen, siluer and gold, men seruants & women seruants, camels, and asses. 36. And Sara my Lordes wife hath borne my Lord a sonne in her old age, and he hath giuen him al things that he had. 37. And my Lord adiured me saying: Thou shalt not take a wife for my sonne of the Chananites, in whose land I dwel: 38. but thou shalt goe to my fathers house, and of mine owne kindred shalt thou take a wife for my sonne: 39. but I answered my Lord: What if the woman

(b) Her father hauing perhaps manie wiues & euerie one a feveral house, she went to her mothers house.

wil not come with me? 40. Our Lord, saith he, in whose sight I walke, wil send his Angel with thee, & wil direct thy way: and thou shalt take a wife for my sonne of myne owne kindred, and of my fathers house. 41. Thou shalt be innocent from my curse, when thou shalt come to my kinne, and they wil not giue her thee. 42. I came therefore to day to the wel of water, and said: O Lord God of my Lord Abraham, if thou hast directed my way, wherein I now walke, 43. behold I stand besides the wel of water, and the virgin, that shal come forth to draw water, when she shal heare me say: Giue me a litle water to drinke of thy thankard; 44. and she shal say to me: Drinke both thou and for thy camels I wil draw also; that is the woman, which our Lord hath prepared for my Masters sonne. 45. And whilest I pondered these things secretly with my selfe, Rebecca appeared comming with a tankard, which she caried vpon her shoulder: & she went downe to the fountaine, & drew water. And I said to her: Giue me a litle to drinke. 46. Who speedily let downe the tankard from her shoulder, and said to me: Drinke both thou, and to thy camels I wil giue drinke. I dranke, and she watered the camels. 47. And I asked her, and said: Whose daughter art thou? Who answered: I am the daughter of Bathuel, the sonne of Nachor, whom Melchabare him. I hung therefore carettes to adorne her face, and I put bracelets vpon her hands. 48. And prostrate I adored our Lord, blessing the Lord God of my Lord Abraham, who hath brought me the straight way to take the daughter of my Lords brother for his sonne. 49. Wherefore if you doe according to mercie and truth with my Lord, shew me: but if it please you otherwise, that also tel me, that I may goe to the right hand or to the left. 50. And Laban and Bathuel answered: From our Lord the word hath proceeded: we can not speake any other thing with thee besides his pleasure. 51. Behold Rebecca is before thee, take her and goe thy waies, & let her be the wife of thy Lords sonne, as our Lord hath spoken. 52. Which when Abrahams seruant heard, falling downe he adored our Lord to the ground. 53. And taking forth vessels of siluer, and gold, and garments, gaue them to Rebecca for a present. To her brothers also, and to her mother he offered gifts. 54. A banquet was made, and eating and drinking together they lodged there. And in the morning the seruant arose, and said: Dismiss me, that I may goe to my Lord. 55. And her brother and mother answered: Let the maid tarie at the least tenne dayes with vs, & after she shal depart. 56. Stay me not, said he, because our Lord hath directed my way: dismiss me that I may goe on to my Lord. 57. And they said: Let vs cal the maid, and (c) aske her wil. 58. And being called, when she was come, they asked: Wilt thou goe with this man? Who said: I wil goe. 59. They dismissed her therefore, and her nurce, and Abrahams seruant, and his companie, 60. wishing prosperitie to their sister, and saying: Thou art our sister, encase thou into thousand thousands, and thy seed possesse the gates of their enemies. 61. Therefore Rebecca and her maids being set vpon camels,

(c) As children ought not to ma y without their parents good liking; so the parties owne consent is most necessa-
rie. S. Amb.
Epist. 43.

camels, followed the man: who with speed returned vnto his Lord; and 62. the same time Isaac walked along the way, that leadeth to the well of the Liuing and the seeing, so called; for he dwelt in the south countrie:
 63. and he was gone forth to (d) meditate in the field, the day now being well spent: and when he had cast vp his eyes, he saw camels com-ming a farre off. 64. Rebecca also, when she saw Isaac, lighted off the camel, 65. and said to the seruant: Who is that man which commeth towards vs along the field? And he said to her: The same is my Lord.
 But she quickly taking her cloake, couered her selfe. 66. And the seruant told Isaac al things that he had done. 67. Who brought her into the tent of Sara his mother, & tooke her to wife: and he loued her so much, that it did moderate the sorrow which was chanced of his mothers death.

(d) Suach signifieth to speake considerately with hart or mouth. Here S. Ambrose (li. 1. c. 1. de Isaac) and S. Aug. (9. 69. in Gen.) vnderstand it of mental prayer.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. X X I V.

14. The maid to whom I shal say. Obseruation of speeches called ominous, which are interpreted to signifie good or euil luck, are sometimes superstitious & suggested by euil spirits, who now & then telling or insinuating some truth, get credit, & so allure men to attend to such vaine, vncertaine, and vnlawful signes, as S. Augustin testifieth (li. 2. de Gen. ad lit. c. 17. & li. 12. c. 22.) Neuertheles such signes are sometimes lawfully obserued, & desired from God, as the same Doctour disputeth (li. quest. super Gen. q. 53) & S. Chrysostome teacheth more cleerly (ho. 45. in Gen.) likewise S. Theodoret (q. 73. in Gen.) But whosoeuer wil not erre in particular cases, must follow either expresse Scripture, or the iudgement of the Church, which is alwayes directed by the spirit of truth. And touching this prayer of Abrahams seruant, & his desire of this determinate signe to know the maid, whom God had prouided to be Isaacs wife, the fathers generally hold that it was religious, deuout, and discrete. For he being careful of his Masters busines, and not trusting his owne iudgement, but relying vpon that Abraham had said, Our Lord shal send his Angel before thee, commended so weightie a cause to God by prayer, the Angel suggesting both to him to desire, & to the maid to performe (as the euent sheweth) such qualities and vertues in her, as were most agreable to the great charitie and hospitalitie dayly practized in Abrahams house, most conuenient and necessarie (as he discretely considered) for that familie, and good of manie. The like obseruations were approued in Gedeon, and Ionathas. And to pray for such signes in some case, or for manifest miracles is also approued by the Apostles example praying God To shew by los which of the two he had chosen to the Apostleship, in place of Iudas. And that he would extend his hand to cures, and signes, and wonders, to be done by the name of his holy sonne I E S U S.

Ominous speeches sometimes superstitious.

Sometimes lawful.

Holy scripture & the Church are iudges of doubtful obseruations.

Eliezers praier for a particular signe, was lawful, deuout, & discrete.

Ioan 14.

Iudic. 7.

1. Reg.

14.

Act. 1.

4.

C H A P. XXV.

Abraham hauing manie children by his wife Cetura, died at the age of 175. yeares: 12. Ismael also hauing twelue sonnes Dukcs, died. 19. Isaac praying for his barren wife, she hath Esau and Iacob twinnes. 30. Esau selleth his first birth right to Iacob for a masse of porage.

AND Abraham married another wife named Cetura: which bare him Zamran, and Iecfan, and Madan, and Madian, and Iesboc, and Suc. 2. Iecfan also begat Saba & Dadan. The Children of Dadan were Assurim, and Latufim, and Loomim. 4. But also of Madian was borne Epha, and Opher, and Henoeh, and Abida, and Eldaa: al these were the children of Cetura. 5. And Abraham gaue al his possessions to Isaac: 6. and to the children of his concubines he gaue gifts, and separated them from Isaac his sonne, whilest himselfe yet liued, to the east countrie. 7. And the dayes of Abrahams life were an hundred seuentie and five yeares. 8. And decaying dyed in (a) a good old age, and hauing liued a great time, and being ful of dayes: and was gathered to his people. 9. And there buried him Isaac and Ismael his sonnes in the double caue, which was situated in the field of Ephron the sonne of Seor the Hethite, ouer-against Mambre, 10. which he had bought of the children of Heth: there was he buried, and Sara his wife. 11. And after his death God blessed Isaac his sonne, who dwelled beside the wel of the Liuing & Secing, so named. 12. These are the generations of Ismael the sonne of Abraham, who Agar the Egyptian bare him, Saraes seruant: & 13. these are the names of his children according to their calling and generations. The first begotten of Ismael Nabaioth, then Cedar, and Adbeel, and Mabsam, 14. Masma also, and Duma, and Massa, 15. Hadar, and Thema, and Iethur, and Naphis, and Cedma. 16. These are the sonnes of Ismael: and these are their names by their castles and townes, twelue Princes of their tribes. 17. And the yeares of Ismaels life came to an hundred thirtie seauen, and decaying died, and was put vnto his people. 18. And he dwelt from Heuila euen to Sur, which looketh towards Egypt, as they enter to the Assirians, before the face of al his brethren died he. 19. These also are the generations of Isaac the sonne of Abraham: Abraham begat Isaac: 20. who when he was fourtie yeares old, tooke to wife Rebecca the daughter of Bathuel the Syrian of Mesopotamia, sister to Laban. 21. And Isaac besought our Lord for his wife, because she was barren: who heard him, and made

(a) The life of the iust hath fulnes of dayes though it be otherwise short; the daies of the wicked are void of fruit, be they manie or few.
S. Ambros. li. de Abraham.

Rebecca

Rebecca to conceaue. 22. But the litle ones strugled in her womb; who said: If it should be so with me, what need was there to conceaue? And she (b) went to consult our Lord. 23. Who answering said: Two nations are in thy womb, and two peoples shal be diuided out of thy womb, and one people shal ouercome ther other, and " the elder shal serue the yonger. 24. Now her time was come to be deliuered, and behold twinnes were found in her womb. 25. He that came forth first, was red, and al hairie in manner of a skinned: and his name was called Esau. Immediately the other comming forth, held his brothers plant in his hand: and therefore he called him Iacob. 26. Threescore yeares old was Isaac, when the litle ones were borne vnto him. 27. Who being growne vp, Esau became a man cunning in hunting, & a husband man: but Iacob (c) a plaine mā dwelled in tents. 28. Isaac loued Esau, because he did eate of his hunting: and Rebecca loued Iacob. 29. & Iacob boyled broth: to whom Esau being come faynt out of the field, 30. said: Giue me of this red broth, because I am exceeding faint. For which cause his name was called Edom. 31. To whom Iacob said: " Sel me thy first-birth-right. 32. He answered, Loe I dye, what wil the first-birth-right auaille me? 33. Iacob said: Swear therefore to me. Esau sware to him, and sold his first-birth-right. 34. And so taking bread and the rice broth, did eate, and drinke, and went his way; litle esteeming that he had sold his first-birth-right.

(b) S. Augustin (q. 72. in Gen.) disputeth, but could not decide, whether Rebecca went to some Priest, or Prophet, or Altar, or whether els, or only retyred to priuate prayer. (c) Holie Scripture premonisheth Iacobs sinceritie, lest in the Mysteries following he might be suspected of false dealing. S. Aug. li. 16. c. 37. ciuit.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. X X V.

6. To the children of his concubines.] S. Augustin (li. 16. c. 34. de ciuit.) sheweth that both Agar and Cetura, being Abrahams lawful wiues (for so they are called in holie Scripture) are also called concubines, because they had not like priuiledges to Sara, whose sonne was sole heyre to his father, and the children of the others had only gifts (or moueable goods) not attayning to the promised Kingdom. And al this for mysterie sake. For Ismael signified the carnal people before Christ, the children of Cetura prefigured Heretikes, who suppose themselves to pertaine to the new Testament, but are separated no lesse then the Lewes from Christs Kingdom. And albeit there was also an other particular reason why Agar was called concubine, because she was a second wife the first then liuing, yet this learned father saith, he did not see why Cetura, being married after the death of Sara, should be called concubine, but only for this Mysterie.

21. Heard him.] Notwithstanding Gods assured promise, that Isaac should haue issue (Gen. 21. v. 12.) yet he prayeth instantly for the same. And Moyse here attributeth Rebeccas conceiuing to Isaacs prayer. Wherby we see that Gods foreseeing, predestinating, and promising, exclude not, but indeed include secundarie causes, and ordinarie meanes, by which his eternal wil and pleasure is fulfilled. For as God did foresee that Rebecca should haue children, Why Agar and Cetura being lawful wiues are called concubines. Their children signified Pagans and Heretikes.

Gods predestination & foreseeing include, & not exclude the meanes by which his wil is done.

The couenant made to Abraham pertained only to Iſaac and Iacob, not to the reſt of his iſſue.

Gods mere mercie in electing anie, his iuſtice to the reprobate.

Iacob lawfully bought, but Eſau ſinned in ſelling the firſt-birth-right.

ſo he did foreſee that Iſaac ſhould pray for it, and obtayne it; and the one was as ſure to come to paſſe as the other. And the ſame conſequence is true concerning eternal life as S. Gregorie teacheth li. i. c. 8. Dialog.

23. The elder ſhal ſerue the yonger.] As before (c. 17. v. 21. and c. 21. v. 12.) the couenant and great promiſes made to Abrahams ſeed, are declared to pertaine only to Iſaac, and not to Iſmael, nor to the other brothers; ſo the ſame belong not to Eſau the elder, but only to Iacob the yonger ſonne of Iſaac, the Holie Gholt ſaying, The elder ſhal ſerue the yonger. And withal ſignifieth (ſaith S. Auguſtin) that the elder people of the Iewes ſhal ſerue the yonger Chriſtian people. For although it may be vnderſtood literally to be fulfilled, in that the Idumceans comming of Eſau were ſubdued by King Dauid comming of Iacob; yet it is more conueniently believed, that this prophecie tended to a greater thing. And what is this, but that which is euidently fulfilled in the Iewes and Chriſtians?

An other great document of grace S. Paul gathereth vpon this Myſterie: that the twinnes being not yet borne, nor hauing done any thing good or euil, without anie good merits the yonger is elected, the elder reprobate. For doubtles (ſaith S. Auguſtin) touching original ſinne they were both equal, and concerning proper ſinne, neither of them had anie at al. By which example he ſheweth Gods mere mercie in the elect, and iuſtice in the reprobate, as is more largely noted in the English New Teſtament, vpon the ninth chapter to the Romanes.

31. ſet me ſhy firſt-birth rights.] Iacob inſtructed by his mother, that God had choſen him in place of his brother Eſau (for to her God had reuealed that the elder ſhould ſerue the yonger) did lawfully vſe this oportunitie to get Eſaus grant of the right pertaining to the firſt-borne, but Eſau in ſelling it ſinned, ſhewing himſelfe an intemperate prophane man Heb. 12.

li. 16. c.
35. ciuit.
2. Reg. 8.
Pſal. 59.

Rom. 9.

C H A P. X X V I.

Iſaac by reaſon of famine goeth into Gerara, 3. where God reneweth to him the promiſes made to Abraham. 9. King Abimelech blaimeb him for calling his wife his ſiſter. 15. The people enuying his wealth, quareleth for his wells. 26. At laſt Abimelech maketh league with Iſaac.

(a) God by Abrahams exemplar life inuited the Egyptians to true religion: now commandeth Iſaac to ſtay in Gerara to the like end.
S. Theod. 4. 76.
in Gen.

AND when a famine was riſen in the land, after that ſterilitie that had chanced in the dayes of Abraham, Iſaac went to Abimelech King of the Paleſtines into Gerara. 2. And our Lord appeared to him, and ſaid: (a) Goe not downe into Egypt, but reſt in the land which I ſhal tel thee. 3. And ſciourne in it, and I wil be with thee, and wil bleſſe thee: for to thee and to thy ſeed I wil giue al theſe countries, accompliſhing the oath which I ſware to Abraham thy father. 4. And I wil multiplie thy ſeed as the ſtarres of heauen: and I wil giue to thy poſteritie al theſe countries: and in thy ſeed SHAL BE BLESSED

AL

AL THE NATIONS OF THE EARTH, 5. for because Abraham obeyed my voice, & kept my precepts and commandements, and obserued // my ceremonies and lawes. 6. Therefore Isaac abode in Gerara. 7. Who when he was asked by the men of that place concerning his wife, answered: She is (b) my sister; for he was afraid to confesse that she was married to him, thinking lest peradventure they would kill him because of her beautie. 8. And when verie manie dayes were passed, & he abode there, Abimelech the King of the Palestines looking forth through a window saw him sporting with Rebecca his wife. 9. And calling for him, he said: It is euident that she is thy wife: why didest thou faine her to be thy sister? He answered: I feared lest I should die for her. 10. And Abimelech said: Why hast thou deceaued vs? some man of the people might haue lyen with thy wife, and thou haddest brought vpon vs (c) a great sinne. And he commanded al the people, saying: He that shal touch this mans wife, dying shal dye. 12. And Isaac sowed in that land, and he found that same yeare // an hundred fold: and our Lord blessed him. 13. And the man was made rich, and he went prospering and encreasing, til he was made exceeding great: 14. and he had also possessions of sheep and of heards, and a verie great familie. For this the Palestines enuying him, 15. stopped at that time al the wels, that the seruants of his father Abraham had digged, filling them vp with water: 16. in so much that Abimelech himselfe said to Isaac: Depart from vs, because thou art become mightier then we a great deale. 17. And departing, to come to the Torrent of Gerara, and to dwel there, 18. againe he digged other wels, which the seruants of his father Abrahā had digged, and which after his death the Philistines had stopped vp of old: & he called thē by the same names which his father before had called thē. 19. And they digged in the * Torrent, and found liuing water: 20. but there also the pastors of Gerara made a brawle against the pastors of Isaac, saying: It is our water. For which cause he called the name of the wel, by occasion of that which had hapned, * Calunnie. 21. And they digged also an other; and for that they brawled likewise, and he called the name of it, Enmitie. 22. Going forward from thence he digged an other wel, for which they contended not: therefore he called the name therof, Latitude, saying: Now hath our Lord dilated vs, and made vs to encrease vpon the earth. 23. And he went vp from that place vnto Bersabee, 24. where our Lord appeared to him that same night, saying: I am the God of Abraham thy father, doe not feare, because I am with thee: I wil blesse thee, and multiplie thy seed for my seruant Abrahams sake. 25. Therefore he builded there an altar: and hauing called vpon the name of our Lord, he pitched his tent: & commanded his seruants that they should digge a wel. 26. To the which place when there were come from Gerara Abimelech, and Ocozath his freind, & Phicol chiefe Captaine of his souldiers, 27. Isaac spake to thē: Why are ye come to me a

(b) See pag 50.

(c) Adulterie a great sinne also among Paynims.

*The chanel where sometimes a vehement streame runneth, sometimes none at al.

Wrangling.

d) So nations of the world first enuyed the Church of Christ, but after made peace with it.

e) Esau by marrying against his parents wil, made breach from them.

man whom you hated, and haue thrust out from you? 28. Who answered: We saw that the Lord is with thee, and therefore we said: Let there be an oath between vs, and (d) let vs make a league, 29. that thou doe vs no harme, as we also haue touched nothing of thine, neither haue we done that which might hurt thee: but with peace haue we dismissed thee encreased with the blessing of the Lord. 30. Therefore he made them a feast, and after they had eaten and drunken 31. arising in the morning, they sware one to an other: and Isaac dismissed them peaceably into their place. 32. And behold the same day came the seruants of Isaac telling him of a well, which they had digged, and saying: We haue found water. 33. Wherupon he called it Aboundance: and the name of the citie was giuen Bersabee, euen vnto this present day. 34. But Esau being fourtie yeares old married wiues, Iudith the daughter of Beeri the Hethite, and Basemath the daughter of Elon of the same place: 35. both which had (e) offended the mind of Isaac and Rebecca.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. X X V I.

External ceremonies in the law of nature.

Christian fortitude preuaileth more by suffering, then by forcible resisting.

5. My ceremonies.] These were not the same ceremonies and lawes which were afterwards prescribed by God, and deliuered by Moyses, but other obseruances by which Abraham and other holie Patriarchs before him, serued God with certaine external worship, differing from the rites of the Gentiles, especially from Enos time (Gen. 4.) and so forward.

12. An hundred fold.] For this increase of wealth the King and people at first enuyed Isaac, but afterwards perceiuing that God Almighty, whom he serued, so blessed him, the rest of the land remaining barren, they sought to make league with him (v. 28.) Euen so the Kings and nations of the world, first enuying and persecuting Christs Church, at length seeing it stil prosperous, became with al humilitie children of the same Church, and seruants of Christ, being ouercome not by force of armes but by patience, & peaceable endeauours of those whom they most hated. Wherof excellently saith S. Leo (Ser. 1. in Natali Apost.) Although Rome renowned by manie victories, dilated her Empyre by land and by sea, yet was it lesse that martial trauel subdued, then that which Christian peace hath obtained. The Bishops of Rome hauing larger Iurisdiction spiritual, then euer the Roman Cæsars had temporal Dominion.

C H A P. XXVII.

*Jacob by his mothers counsel getteth his fathers blessing in place of Esau. 42.
And by her is aduised (for auoiding Esaus wrath, who sbreached to kil him) to flie to his vnckle Laban, in Haran of Mesopotamia.*

AND Isaac was old, and his eyes were dimme, and he could not see: and he called Esau his elder sonne, and said to him: My sonne? Who answered: Here I am. 2. To whom his father: Thou seest, quoth he, that I am old, and know not the day of my death. 3. Take thy instruments, thy quiuer, and bow, and goe abroad: and when thou hast taken any thing by hunting, 4. make me broth therof, as thou knowest I like, and bring that I may eate, and my soule may blesse thee before I dye. 5. Which when Rebecca had heard, and he was gone into the field to fulfil his fathers commandement, 6. she said to her sonne Jacob: I heard thy father talking with Esau thy brother, and saying to him: 7. Bring me of thy hunting, and make me meats that I may eate, and blesse thee in the sight of our Lord before I dye. 8. Now therefore, my sonne, assent to my counsel: 9. and goe thy way to the flock, bring me two kids of the best, that I may make of them meat for thy father, such as he gladly eateth: 10. which when thou hast brought in, and he hath eaten, he may blesse thee before he dye. 11. To whom he answered: Thou knowest that Esau my brother is hairie man, and I am smooth: 12. if my father shal feele me, and perceauce it, (a) I feare lest he wil kinke I would haue deluded him, and I shal bring vpon me a curse for a blessing. 13. To whom his mother said: This curse, my sonne, light vpon me, only heare thou my voice, and goe, fetch me the things which I haue said. 14. He went, and brought, and gaue them to his mother. She dressed meats, euen as she knew his father liked. 15. And she did on him the garments of Esau verie good, which she had at home with her: 16. and the litle skinnes of the kids she put about his hands, and couered the bare of his neck. 17. And she gaue him the broth, and deliuered him bread that she had baked. 18. Which when he had caried in, he said: My father? But he answered: I heare. Who art thou my sonne? 19. And Jacob said: "I am thy first begotten Esau: I haue done as thou didest command me: arise, sit, and eate of my hunting, that thy soule may blesse me. 20. And againe Isaac to his sonne: How couldest thou, said he, find it so quickly, my sonne? Who answered: (b) It was the wil of God that that which I would came quickly in my way. 21. And Isaac said: Come hither, that I may feele thee my sonne, and

The Epistle on Saturday the secōd weeke in Lent.

(a) Jacob feare in conscience that the right of first-birth belonged to him, yet feared to giue occasion of offence to his father.

(b) It was truly Gods wil, but not in that iēse as Isaac vnderstood it.

may proue whether thou be my sonne Esau, or no. 22. He came neer to his father, and when he had felt him, Isaac said: The voice verily, is the voice of Jacob: but the hands are the hands of Esau. 23. And he knew him not, because his hairie hands had made him like vnto the elder. Blessing him therefore, 24. he said: Art thou my sonne Esau? He answered: I am. 25. But he said: Bring me the meats of thy hunting, my sonne, that my soule may blesse thee. Which when they were brought and he had eaten, he offered him wine also, which after he had drunke, 26. he said to him: Come neer me, and giue me a kisse, my sonne. 27. He came neer, and kissed him. And immediately as he felt the fragrant sauour of his garments, blessing him, he said: Behold the sauour of my sonne is as the sauour of a plentiful field, which our Lord hath blessed. 28. God giue thee of the dew of heauen, & of the fatnes of the earth abundance of corne and wine. 29. And let peoples serue thee, and tribes adore thee: be thou Lord of thy brethren, and thy mothers children bow they before thee. He that shal curse thee, be he cursed: and he that shal blesse thee, be he replenished with blessings. 30. Isaac had scarce ended his words, and Jacob now gone forth abroad, but Esau came, 31. and brought in to his father meats made of his hunting, saying: Arise my father, and eate of thy sonnes hunting; that thy soule may blesse me. 32. And Isaac said to him: Why! who art thou? Who answered: I am thy first begotten sonne Esau. 33. Isaac was amazed and astonished exceedingly, and marueling more then a man can belieue, said: Who is he then that euen now brought me venison that he had taken, and I did eate of al things before thou camest, and I haue blessed him, (c) and he shal be blessed. 34. Esau hauing heard his fathers words, roared out with a great cry; and being dismaied, said: Blesse me also, my father. 35. Who said: Thy brother came deceitfully and tooke thy blessing. 36. But he said againe: Rightly is his name called Jacob; for he hath supplanted me loe the second time: my first-birth-right he tooke before, and now the second time he hath stollen my blessing. And againe to his father he said: Hast thou not reserued me also a blessing? 37. Isaac answered: I haue appointed him thy Lord, and al his brethren I haue made subiect to his seruice: with corne and wine I haue established him, and for thee, my sonne, what shal I doe more after this? 38. To whom Esau said: Hast thou one only blessing, father? I beseech thee blesse me also. And when he wept that he howled againe, 39. Isaac being moued, said to him: In (d) the fat of the earth, and in the dew of heauen from aboue 40. shal thy blessing be. Thou shalt liue by the sword, and shalt serue thy brother: and (e) the time shal come, when thou shalt shake off and loose his yoak from thy neck. 41. Esau therefore alwaies hated Jacob for the blessing wherewith his father had blessed him; and he said is his hart: The daies wil come of the mourning of my father, and I wil kil Jacob my brother. 42. These things were told to Rebecca:

(c) Isaac now knowing it to be Gods wil, ratified that he had done.

(d) wordings blessing consisteth in transitorie wealth.

(e) The Idumeans being subdued by King Dauid (2. Reg. 8.) reuolted from King Ioram, & had a King of their owne (4. Reg. 3.) they were againe subdued by Hircanus (teste Iosepho. li. 13. Antiq.) but againe Herod an Idumean reigned in Iewrie Math. 2. Luc. 1.

who

who sending and calling Iacob her sonne, said to him : Behold Esau thy brother threatneth to kil thee. 43. Now therefore, my sonne, haire my voice, and get thee vp and fly to Laban my brother into Haran : 44. and thou shalt dwel with him a few dayes, til the furie of thy brother be asswaged, 45. and his indignation cease, and he forget those things which thou hast done to him : afterward I wil send, and bring thee from thence hither. Why shal I be depriued of both sonnes in one day? 46. And Rebecca said to Isaac : I am wearie of my life for the daughters of Heth : if Iacob take a wife of the stock of this land, I list not liue.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. XXVII.

19. I am thy first-begotten Esau. Iacob was not by nature the first-begotten, but by Gods ordinance, & by couenant made with Esau, had right to the preeminence and priuiledges belonging to the first-borne. So he did not lie, but spake a truth, meaning that he was that sonne, to whom by diuine election the first-birth-right was due, which his father supposed to pertaine to Esau.

But because some scornors of Christian doctrine (like to the old Manichees) vse to say, that Catholik Doctours and Schoolmen excuse and condemne whom they list by such glosses, let such reprouers vnderstand, that both moderne & ancient Catholik writers auow this defence of the holie Patriarch Iacob, not by priuate spirit, but by the most true and proper sense of holie Scripture it-selfe. Where it may appeare, if they wil examine the text, that Iacob in al this procurement of his fathers blessing, neither did any thing vniustly nor said anie thing falsly. First, it was reuealed to his mother (chap. 25. v. 27.) That the elder (of her twins) should serue the younger. Secondly, holie Scripture testifieth in the same chapter (v. 27.) That Iacob was a plaine (or sincere) Man, void of vniust dealing. Thirdly, for more quiet enioying that right, which God had ordained for him, he procured his brothers consent and confirmation (v. 33.) Fourthly, though he was secure in conscience that the blessing was due to him yet he feared (v. 12.) lest he might giue occasion of offence to his father, to whom this mystrie was not yet reuealed. Fifthly, Isaac perceiuing at last Gods wil, that Iacob should be preferred, was neither offended with him, nor reuoked his blessing as vnlawfully surprisid, but condescending thereto, ratified that he had done, saying (v. 33.) I haue blessed him, and he shal be blessed. Sixthly, God himselfe from this time forwards often appeared to Iacob, and with great promises and manie temporal and spiritual benefits, declared his singular loue to him. Seuenthly, these three Patriarchs, Abraham, Isaac, & Iacob, are special renowned Saints of the old Testament: yea the Lord and Creatour of al would peculiarly be called (Exodi 3.) the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Iacob. Moyse praying instantly for Gods mercie and clemencie towards the people (Exodi 32.) besought him to remember Abraham, Isaac, and Iacob, his seruants: and so in both old and new Testament these three are often mentioned as chiefe Princes in the Kingdome of Heauen. Al which shew the great vertues and holines of them al.

Iacob did not lie, nor sinne in saying he was Esau &c.

He is proued innocent by the text.

- 1.
- 2.
- 3.
- 4.
- 5.
- 6.
- 7.

And

The Fathers
proue his innocencie in this fact.

Euerie lie is a sinne.

Some deceit good.

It was good that Isaac knew not Ia-cob when he blest him.

Good in respect of Esau.

More to Gods
glorie and Iacobs commendation.

And touching this fact of Iacob, where (if euer any-where) might seeme to be some great sinne, S. Augustin at large proueth that he did not herein sinne at all: That which Iacob did (saith he li. cont. mendacium c. 10.) by his mothers instruction so deceiue his father, if it be diligently considered, was no lie, but a mysterie, and therefore for the familiar counsel of the Holie Ghost, which his mother had receiued, he is excused from sinne. The same he confirmeth q. 74. in Gen. l. 16. c. 32. de ciuit. & l. 22. c. 34 cont. Faust. The same also teach S. Chris. ho. 51. in Gen. S. Hiero. Epist. 125. S. Theodoret. q. 79. & 80. in Gen. S. Gregorie. ho. 6. in Ezechielem, S. Bede, Isidorus, Innocentius 3. Rupertus, & others vpon this place, al agreeing absolutely that euerie lie is a sinne, declare that Iacob lied not, but stil spake the truth, confirming their exposition by other like places of Scripture. As when our Sauour said of S. Iohn Baptist (Math. 11.) He is Elias, meaning that he was Elias in spirit not in person. So Iacob said truly that he was Esau, not meaning in person but in right of the first-borne, by Gods ordinance: Esau also hauing condescended thereto by couenant and oath. In that also he deceiued his father, was no sinne. For it was a lawful and good deceit, such a one (saith S. Chrysostom) as Hieremie speakeh of, Lord thou hast deceiued me, and I am deceiued, to Isaac was deceiued not as we commonly cal deceit, but to his owne and others good, by Gods disposition.

23 Knew him not.] S. Damasus demanding of S. Hierom, what might be the reason why God would suffer his holie seruant Isaac not to know Iacob, but to be deceiued, and through ignorance to blese whom he would not, declareth that it happened not only to Iacob, but also to manie other like holy men, to be ignorant of manie things, and to be deceiued in errour of opinion: and that this errour was profitable to Isaac and his house. For if he had giuen this blessing (which was a spiritual Iurisdiction) to Esau, as he purposed, he had committed a nexious errour indeed, by preferring a bloudie man, one that was readie, if he could, to haue killed his brother (v. 41.) omitting him that was sincere and very vertuous, and had done his owne wil, not Gods wil therein.

But why would not God reuale his wil to Isaac (as he had commanded a farre greater thing to Abraham, to sacrifice the same Isaac) that he might wittingly haue blest Iacob by Gods commandment? The Fathers doe probably alleadge this for one reason, that if Esau, being a fierce and cruel man, had perceiued that his father had wilfully preferred Iacob, he would haue been incensed against his father, conceiued and attempted euil against him. Another reason S. Chrysostom and Theodoret doe yerald, that by this strange manner of imparting this blessing, it might more manifestly appeare to be Gods wil and ordinance, and not to proceed from mans affection, that Iacob should be preferred.

Ho 6. ad
Col.
Hier. 20
Epist.
125.

Ho. 53.
q. 79. in
Gen.

C H A P. X X V I I I.

Iacob with his fathers blessing, and admonition not to take a wife of Chanaan, but of the daughters of his vnclē Laban, goeth into Mesopotamia. 6. Esau in the meane time marieth a third wife, his vnclē Ismaels daughter. 11. Iacob seeth in sleep a ladder reaching to heauen, Angels ascending and descending, and our Lord leaning thereon renewed the promises made to Abraham and Isaac. 16. And he awaking maketh a vow.

ISAAC therefore called Iacob, and blessed him, and commanded him saying: Take not a wife of the stock of Chanaan; 2. but goe and make a iourney into Mesopotamia of Syria; to the house of Bathuel thy mothers father, and take thee a wife thence of the daughters of Laban thine vnclē. 3. And God Almightye blesse thee, and make thee encrease, and multiplie thee: that thou mayest be into multitudes of peoples. 4. And (2) giue he thee the blessings of Abraham, and to thy seed after thee: that thou mayest possesse the land of thy peregrination, which he promised to thy grandfather. 5. And when Isaac had dismissed him, taking his iourney he came to Mesopotamia of Syria to Laban, the sonne of Bathuel the Syrian, brother to Rebecca his mother. 6. And Esau seeing that his father had blessed Iacob, and had sent him into Mesopotamia of Syria, to marry a wife thence; and that after the blessing he had commanded him, saying: Thou shalt not take a wife of the daughters of Chanaan; 7. and that Iacob obeying his parents was gone into Syria: 8. hauing tryal also that his father did not willingly see the daughters of Canaan, 9. he went to Ismael, and tooke to wife besides them which he had before, Maheleth the daughter of Ismael Abrahams sonne, sister to Nabioth. 10. Therefore Iacob being departed from Bersabee, went on to Haran. 11. And when he was come to a certaine place, and would rest in it after sunne set, he tooke one of the stones that lay there, and putting in vnder his head, slept in the same place. 12. And he saw in his sleep a ladder standing vpon the earth, & the top thereof touching heauen: the Angels also of God ascending & descending by it, 13. and our Lord leaning vpon the ladder saying to him: I am the Lord God of Abraham thy father, & the God of Isaac: the Land wherein thou sleepest, I wil giue to thee and to thy seed. 14. And thy seed shall be as the dust of the earth: thou shalt be dilated to the West, and to the East, and to

a) Isaac againe confirmeth the blessings of Abraham to Iacob and his seed, omitting Esau; yea and God repeareth the same v. 13.

The Epistle in a vortue Masse for trauailers.

S. p. 10.

the North , and to the South : and IN THEE AND THY SEED AL THE TRIBES OF THE EARTH SHAL BE BLESSED. 15. And I wil be thy keeper whither ſo-euer thou goeſt , and wil bring thee back into this land : neither wil I leaue thee , til I ſhal haue accompliſhed al things which I haue ſaid. 16. And when Iacob was awaked out of ſleep , he ſaid : Indeed our Lord is in this place , and I wiſt not. 17. And trembling he ſaid : How terrible is this place ! this is none other but the houſe of God , and the gate of heauen. 18. And Iacob ariſing in the morning tooke the ſtone , which he had laid vnder his head , and " erected it for a title , powring oyle vpon the top. 19. And he called the name of the citie * Bethel , which before was called Luza. 20. And he " vowed a vow , ſaying : If God ſhal be with me , and ſhal keep me in the way , by the which I walke , and ſhal giue me (b) bread to eate , and rayment to put on , 21. and I ſhal be returned prosperouſly to my fathers houſe , the Lord ſhal be my God , 22. and this ſtone , which I haue erected for a title , ſhal be called the Houſe of God : and of al things that thou ſhalt giue to me , I wil offer tithes to thee.

House of God.

(b) To whom enough is not enough, to him nothing is enough. Aulus Gell.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. X X V I I I.

Why Iacob trauailed in poore eſtate.

11. Tooke of the ſtones.) Iacob trauiſing into a ſtrange cuntry went in ſuch poore eſtate, the better to hide his departure from Eſau, who otherwiſe might haue killed him by the way. It was alſo thus diſpoſed by God , that Iacobs faith and confidence might , to his greater merit , be exerciſed ; and that Gods prouidence might more manifeſtly appeare , as it did in his returne after twentie yeares , when with moſt grateful mind he recounted Gods benefits ſaying (Gen. 32:) With my ſtaffe I paſſed ouer this Iordan , and now with two troups I doe returne.

A notable example of Gods comfort to the afflicted.

Al nationes belie-uing in Chriſt are bleſſed in him.

12. A ladder.] He that was in temporal diſtreſſe was maruelouſly comforted ſpiritually , by ſeeing a ladder that reached from the earth to heauen ; Angels paſſing vp and downe the ſame , and the Sonne of God leaning vpon it , as he that reigneth both in heauen and earth , who in particular promiſed him and his ſeed that whole land , that he and his ſeed ſhould be bleſſed , yea that in His Seed al nationes ſhould be bleſſed , and that he would keep and protect him where-ſo-euer he went. How al this was performed is briefly reherſed in the booke of wiſdome chap. 10.

Erecting and annointing of Altars is a religious office being done to Gods honour.

18. Erected it, powring oyle.] To erect a ſtone , and powre oyle vpon it , was no wiſe ſuperſtitious in Iacob. Neither did he learne it of Idolaters : for he abhorred and deteſted al idololatrical abſeruances. But as S. Iuſtinus Martyr S. Clement of Alexandria , Origen , Eufebius , and others reſtiſie , idololatrical ſuperſtition did rather imitate true religious ceremonies. For the diuel alwayes affecting that honour which he ſeeth done to God , perſwaded thoſe whom he ſeduced and blinded with errorrs , to ſerue him in ſuch manner of external rites , as God was ſerued , that therby he might either haue like worship with God, as it happened among Paynim Idolaters: or els deprivue God of this kind of honour, as now we see Protestants reiect end pul downe consecrated Altars pretending them to be superstitious. Wherin they shew most grosse ignorance, if indeed they so iudge of ignorance, and not of meer malice. For who is so simple, but he may see that the chiefe difference between Religion and Superstition in external things, consisteth in the persons to whom they are done, and in the intention of the doers, and by the same difference of persons ciuil honours is also distinguished, from both religious & superstitious. As he that kneeleth to God, religiously honoureth God. Kneeling to the sunne, moone, or other false Gods, superstitiously honoureth the diuel, and kneeling to the King ciuilly honoureth the King. Iacob without doubt did al to Gods onlie honour. And that which he did in this place, is now vsed in the Catholike Church. For so Rabanus, a diligent obseruer and writer of Ecclesiastical Rites, Ceremonies, and Customes, touching the vse of holie oyle witnesseth (li. i. c. 45. Institut. cleric.) that the Altar being first sprinkled with water, is annointed with Chrisme, to the example of the Patriarch Iacob, who after that dreadful vision, erected a stone for a title (or monument) powring oyle theton, and calling that place The house of God. S. Cyprian also writing of Chrisme mentioneth the two sorts of holie oyle vsed in the Church; one of simple oyle consecrated by a Bishop, which is vsed for Catechumens before Baptisme, persons possessed, and the sick; the other is made of oyle and balme, also consecrated by a Bishop, and this is vsed in Baptisme, Confirmation, and in consecrating Altars, Kings, and Priests.

worſhip

Gen. 14.

20. Vowed.] It can not be vnderstood that Iacob heer vowed or promised only to serue God, as the Soueraigne Lord of al creatures, for to that he was bound, wheth r he should prosper temporally or no; but that he vowed particular godlie works, to which he was not otherwise obliged. As heer he expresseth two things. Presupposing before al, that the Lord Omnipotent shal be his God, he addeth, First, And this stone, which I haue erected for a title, shal be called the house of God. Wherby he promised the building of a Church, performed at his returne (chap. 35.) Secondly, he added, And of al things which thou shalt giue me I wil offer tithes to thee. And this Likewise was of free deuotion. For tithes also in the law of nature were due to Priests, and by inferiour Priests to the chiefe Priest, as Abraham gaue tithes to Melchisedech. And so al his tithes were due to his father, and after his father himselfe was chiefe: yet he promised them to God, that is, to offer them in Sacrifice, and bestow them in other vses pertaining to Gods seruice.

The Church learneth not rites of Idolaters, but they of the Church.

Difference in religious, superstitious, and ciuil honour, consisteth in the persons, & intentions.

Two sorts of holie oyle.

Vowes are properly of things which are not otherwise commanded.

C H A P. X X I X.

Iacob entertained by Liban, 15. serueeth him seauen yeares for Rachel, 23. but first receiuing Lia, 27. seauen dayes after receiueth also Rachel, and serueeth for her seauen yeares more. 31. She remaining barren, Lia beareth foure sonnes.

I A C O B therefore going on his iourney, came into the East cuntry. 2. And he saw a well in the field, and three flocks of sheep lying beside it: for of it the beasts were watered, and the mouth thereof was closed with a great stone. 3. And the manner was when all the sheep were gathered together they did roll off the stone, and after the sheep were refreshed they put it on the mouth of the well againe. 4. And he said to the sheperds: Brethren, whence are you? Who answered: Of Haran. 5. And he asked them, saying: Know you Laban the sonne of Nachor? They said: We doe know him. 6. Is he in health? quoth he: He is in health, say they: And behold Rachel his daughter commeth with his flock. 7. And Iacob said: There is yet much day remaining, neither is it time to bring the flocks into the folds againe: first giue the sheep drinke, and so bring them back to feed. 8. Who answered: we can not, til all the cattel be gathered together: and we remoue the stone from the wells mouth, that we may water the flocks. They were yet speaking, and behold Rachel came with her fathers sheep: for she fed the flock. 10. Whom whē Iacob had seen, & knew her to be his cosen germane, & that they were the sheep of Laban his vnclē, he remoued the stone, wherwith the well was closed. 11. And hauing watered the flocke, he (a) kissed her: and lifting vp his voice wept, 12. and he told her that he was her fathers brother, and the sonne of Rebecca: but she in hast went & told her father. 13. Who when he heard that Iacob his sisters sōne was come, he ranne forth to meet him, & embracing him & hartily kissing him, brought him into his house. And when he had heard the causes of his iourney, 14. he answered: Thou art my bone and my flesh. And after the dayes of one month were expired, 15. he said to him: because thou art my brother, shalt thou serue me * gratis? Tel me, what wages wilt thou take? 16. He had indeed two daughters, the name of the elder was Lia; & the yonger was called Rachel. 17. But Lya was bleare-eyed, Rachel well faouered, & of a beautiful countenance. 18. Whō Iacob louing, said: I wil serue thee for Rachel thy yonger daughter seauen yeares. 19. Laban answered: It is better that I giue her to thee then to an other

(b) S. Augustine (q. 87. in Gen.) commendeth familiar kissing of kinsfolke and freinds as a laudable custome in some countries. It is no-where more ciuill & modest then in England.

Wish-out wages?

man, tary with me. 20. Iacob therefore serued for Rachel seauen yeares : and they seemed a few dayes because of the greatnes of his loue. 21. And he said to Laban : giue me my wife : because now the time is complete, that I may companie with her. 22. Who hauing bid a great number of his freinds to the feast, made the mariage. 23. And at night (b) he brought in Lia his daughter to him, 24. giuing his daughter a handmaid, named Zelpha. With whom when Iacob had companied after the manner, when morning was come he saw Lia : 25. and he said to his father in law : What is it that thou didest meane to doe? did not I serue thee for Rachel? why hast thou deceiued me? 26. Laban answered : It is not the custome in this place, that we bestow the yonger in mariage first. 27. Make vp the (c) weeke of dayes of this match: and I wil giue thee this same also, for the worke that thou shalt serue me other seauen yeares. 28. He yealded to his pleasure; and after the weeke was past, he married Rachel to wife: 29. to whom her father had deliuered Bala for to be her seruant. 30. And hauing at length obtained the mariage that he wished, he preferred the loue of the later before the former, seruing with him other seauen yeares. 31. And our Lord seeing that he despised Lia, opened her womb, her sister remaining barren. 32. Who conceaued and bare a sonne, and called his name Ruben, saying : Our Lord saw mine affliction : now my husband wil loue me. 33. And againe she conceaued and bare a sonne, and said: For because our Lord heard that I was contemned, he hath giuen this also to me: and she called his name Simeon. 34. And she conceaued the third time, and bare another sonne : and said : Now also my husband wil be ioyned to me, for because I haue borne him three sonnes : and therefore she called his name, Lewi. 35. The fourth time she conceaued and bare a sonne, and said : Now wil I confesse to our Lord. And for this she called him Iuda : And she left bearing.

(b) Laban grieuouly offended, neither could Lia be excused, but Iacob was innocent in this fact. (c) After seauē daies he had Rachel who was his first spouse. S. Hierom. Tradit. Heb. 5. Aug. 9. 89. in Gen.

C H A P. X X X.

Rachel yet barren deliuereth her handmaid to Iacob, who beareth two sonnes.

9. Lia ceasing to beare giueth her handmaid also, and she beareth two more.

17 Then Lia beareth other two sonnes, and one daughter. 22. Rachel beareth Ioseph. 25. Iacob desirous to returne home, is byred to stay for a certaine part of the stockes increaseth. 43. Wherby he becommeth exceeding rich.

AND Rachel seeing she was vnfruitful, (a) enuied her sister, and said to her husband : Giue me children, otherwise I shal dye. 2. With whom Iacob being angrie answered : Am I as God, who hath depriued thee of the fruit of thy womb? 3. But she said : I haue here my seruant Bala : Companie with her, that she may beare vpon my knees,

(a) Not properly enuie, but grieue & lawfull emulation. S. Aug. li. 22. c. 54. cons. Faust.

and

(b) Of pluralitie of wiues see pag. 60.

(c) Holie Scripture (saith S. Augustin) would neuer haue mentioned such womanlike fires, but to admonish vs to seeke great mysteries therein. li. c. 16. cont. Faustum.

and I may haue children of her. 4. And she gaue him Bala vnto (b) marriage: who, 5. when her husband had companied with her, conceaued and bare a sonne. 6. And Rachel said: Our Lord hat iudged for me and hath heard my voice, giuing me a sonne, and therefore she called his name, Dan. 7. And againe Bala conceauing bare another, 8. for whom Rachel said: God hath compared me with my sister, and I haue preuailed: and she called him Nephtali. 9. Lia perceauing that she had left bearing, deliuered Zelpha her handmaid to her husband. 10. Who conceauing and bringing forth a sonne, 11. she said: Happily. And therefore called his name Gad. 12. Zelpha also bare another. 13. And Lia said: This is for my blessednes: for women wil cal me blessed. Therefore she called him Aser. 14. And Ruben going forth in the time of wheat harvest into the field, found mandragores: which he brought to his mother Lia. And Rachel said: Giue me part of thy sonnes (c) mandragores. 15. She answered: Doeft thou thinke it a smal matter that thou hast taken my husband from me, vnlesse thou take also my sonnes mandragores? Rachel said: For thy sonnes mandragores let him sleep with thee this night. 16. And when Iacob returned at euen from the field, Lia went out to meet him, and said: Companie with me, because with wages I haue hired thee for my sonnes mandragores. And he slept with her that night. 17. And God heard her prayers: and she conceaued and bare the fifth sonne, 18. and said: God hath giuen me a reward, because I gaue my handmaid to my husband. And she called his name Issachar. 19. Againe Lia conceauing, bare the sixt sonne, 20. & said: God hath endowed me with a good dowrie: this turne also my husband wil be with me, for because I haue borne him six sonnes, and therefore she called his name, Zabulon. 21. After whom she bare a daughter named Dina. 22. Our Lord also remembering Rachel heard her, and opened her womb. 23. Who conceaued and bare a sonne, saying: God hath taken away my reproach. 24. And she called his name, Ioseph, saying: Our Lord adde to me another sonne. 25. And when Ioseph was borne, Iacob said to his father in law: Dismiss me that I may returne into my countrie, and to my land. 26. Giue me my wiues, and my children, for whom I haue serued thee, that I may depart: thou knowest the seruice that I haue serued thee. 27. Laban said to him: Let me find grace in thy sight: I haue learned by experience that God hath blessed me for thy sake: 28. appoint thee wages which I shal giue thee. 29. But he answered: Thou knowest how I haue serued thee, and how great thy possession hath been in my hands. 30. Thou hadest a smal thing before I came to thee, and now thou art made rich: and our Lord hath blessed thee at my comming in. It is reason therefore that once I prouide also for mine owne house. 31. And Laban said: What shal I giue thee? But he said: I wil nothing: but if thou wilt doe that which I demand, I wil feed and keep thy sheep again. 32. Goe round about al thy flockes, and separate al the theep

of di-

of diuers colours, of speckled flyse: and what-soeuer shal beruffet and spotted, and of diuers colours, as wel in the sheep as in the goats, shal be my wages. 37. And my iustice shal answer for me to morow before thee, when the time of the bargaine, shal come: and al that shal not be of diuers colours, and spotted, and ruffet, as wel in the sheep as in the goats, shal accuse me of theft. 38. And Laban said: I like wel that thou demandest. 39. And he separated the same day the she goats, and the sheep, and the he goats, and the rammes of diuers colours, and spotted: and al the flocke of one colour, that is of white and blacke flyse, he deliuered in the hand of his sonnes. 40. And he put a space of three dayes iourney betwixt him and his sonne in law, who fed the rest of his flock. 41. Iacob therefore (d) taking green rods of the poplar, and of the almond, and of the plane-trees, in part pilled them: and when the barkes were taken off, in the parts that were pilled there appeared whitnes: but the parts that were whole remayned green: and by this meanes the colour was made diuers. 42. And he put them in the troughs, where the water was poured out: that when the flockes should come to driake, they might haue the rods before their eyes, and in the sight of them conceaue. 43. And it came to passe that in the verie heat of the ramming, the sheep beheld the rods, and brought forth spotted, and of diuers colours, and speckled. 44. And Iacob diuided the flock, and put the rods in the troughs before the eyes of the rammes: and al the white and the blacke were Labans, and the rest, Iacobs, when the flockes were separated one from the other. 45. Therefore when the ewes went to ramme, in the prime time Iacob put the rods in the troughs of water before the eyes of the rammes, and of the ewes, that in looking vpon them they might conceaue: 46. but when the later comming was, and the last conceauing, he did not put them. And those that were lateward became Labans: and they of the prime time, Iacobs. 47. And the man was enriched beyond measure, and he had manie flockes, women seruants and men seruants, camels and asses.

(d) Iacob did iustly vse this meanes to recouer that which Laban withheld from him, being due for the dowrie of his wiues, and recompence for his seruice. Rupert. l. 7. c. 39. in Gen.

C H A P. XXXI.

Iacob by Gods commandement parteth secretly with al he hath towards his father. 21. Laban pursueth him. 26. expostulating why he went in secret manner, 30. especially chargeth him with stealing his Gods. 31. Iacob excuseth himselfe, not knowing that Rachel had taken away the Idols. 34. And she deludeth his diligent searching for them. 36. Then Iacob expostulateth with Laban for this unkindnes. 43. Finally, they make a league and depart each to his owne countrie.

AF T E R he heard the words of Labans sonnes saying: Iacob hath taken al that was our fathers, and being enriched of his substance, is become great: 2. and perceauing also Labans countenance, that it was not towards him as yesterday and the other day, 3. especially our Lord saying to him: Returne in the land of thy fathers, and to thy kindred, and I wil be with thee; 4. he sent, and called Rachel and Lia into the field where he fed the flockes, 5. and said to them: I see yours fathers countenance that it is not towards me as yesterday and the other day: and the God of my father hath been with me. 6. And your selues know that I haue serued your father to the vttermost of my power. 7. Yea your father also hath circumvented me, and hath changed my wages ten times: and yet God hath not suffred him to hurt me. 8. If at any time he said: They of diuers colours shal be thy wages; al the sheep brought forth yong of diuers colours. But when he said contrarie: Thou shalt take al the white ones for thy wages; al the flockes brought forth white ones. 9. And God hath taken your fathers substance, and giuen it to me. 10. For after the time came of the ewes conceauing, I lifted vp mine eyes, and saw in my sleep the males ascending vpon the females of diuers colours, and the spotted, and the speckled. 11. And the Angel of God said to me in sleep: Iacob? And I answered: Heer I am. 12. Who said: Lift vp thine eyes, and see al the males ascending vpon the females, them of diuers colours, the spotted and the speckled. For I haue seen al things that Laban hath done to thee. 13. I am the God of Bethel, where thou didest (e) annoint the stone, and didest vow the vow vnto me. Now therefore arise, and goe out of this land, returning into the land of thy natiuitie. 14. And Rachel and Lia answered: Haue we any thing left in the goods and heritage of our fathers house? 15. Hath he not reputed vs as strangers, and sold vs, and eaten vp the price of vs? 16. But God hath taken our fathers riches, and deliuered them to vs, and to our children: wherefore doe al things that God hath commanded thee.

(e) Anointing of Altars, and free vowes are grateful offices to God. See chap. 28.

Tera-phim.

17. Iacob therefore rose vp, and setting his children and wiues vpon camels, went his way: 18. And he tooke al his substance, and flocks, and whatsoeuer he had gotten in Mesopotamia, and went forward to Isaac his father into the land of Chanaan. 19. At that time Laban was gone to sheare his sheep, and Rachel stole the idols of her father. 20. And Iacob would not confesse to his father in law that he fled. 21. And when he was gone as wel himselfe as al things that were his right, & hauing passed the riuer was marching on to Mount Galaad, 22. it was told Laban the third day that Iacob fled. 23. Who, taking his brethren vnto him, pursued him seauen dayes: and he ouertook him in the Mount Galaad. 24. And he saw in his sleep God saying vnto him: Take heed thou speake not roughly anie thing against Iacob. 25. And Iacob had now pitched his tent in the mountaine: and when he with his brethren had ouertaken him, he pitched his tent in the same Mount Galaad. 26. And he said to Iacob: Why didest thou so, that vnwitting to me thou wouldest carie away my daughters as captiues with the sword? 27. Why wouldest thou fly without my knowledge, and not tel me, that I might haue brought thee on the way with ioy, and songs, and timbrels, and cithernes? 28. Thou hast not suffred me to kisse my sonnes and daughters: thou hast done foolishly: now also indeed 29. my hand is able to requite thee euil: but the God of your father said vnto me yesterday: Take heed thou speake not any thing against Iacob roughly. 30. Suppose thou diddest desire to goe to thy freinds, and hadest a longing to thy fathers house, why didest thou steale my Gods? 31. Iacob answered: In that I departed vnwitting to thee, I feared lest thou wouldest take away thy daughters by force. 32. But whereas thou chargest me with theft; with whom soeuer thou shalt find thy Gods, let him be slaine before our brethren: search whatsoever of thy things thou shalt find with me, and take away. Saying this, he knew not that Rachel had stollen the idols. 33. Laban therefore hauing gone into the tent of Iacob, and of Lia, and of both the handmaids, found them not. And when he was entred into Rachels tent, 34. she in hast hid the idols vnder the camels litter, and sat therevpon: and when he had sought al the tent, and found nothing, 35. she said: Let not my Lord be angrie that I can not rise vp before thee, because according to the custome of women it is now chanced to me. So his carefulnes in seeking was deluded. 36. And Iacob being (f) angrie said in chiding manner: For what fault of myne, and for what offence of my part hast thou so chaffed after me, 37. and searched al my household-stuffe? What hast thou found of al the substance of thy house? lay it heer before my brethren, and thy brethren, and let them iudge between me and thee. 38. Haue I therefore been with thee twentie yeares? thy ewes and goats were not barren, the wethers of thy flock I did not eat: 39. neyther that which the beast had caught did I shew to thee, I made good al the damage:

(f) Iacob in this iust expostulation was angrie and sinned not. Psal. 4.

whatsoever perished by theft thou didest exact it of me : 40. day and night was I parched with heat , and with frost , & sleep did fly from myne eyes. 41. And in this sort haue I serued thee in thy house twentie yeares , fourteen for thy daughters , and six for thy flocks : thou hast changed also my wages ten times. 42. Vnles the God of my father Abraham , and the feare of Isaac had holpen me , peradventure now thou haddest sent me away naked : God beheld my affliction and the labour of my hands , and rebuked thee yesterday. 43. Laban answered him : The daughters are mine and the children , and thy flocks , and al things that thou seest are mine : what can I doe to my daughters , and nephews ? 44. Come therefore , let vs enter in league : that it may be for a testimonie between me and thee. 45. Iacob therefore tooke a stone , and erected it for a title : 46. and he said to his brethren: Bring hither stones. Who gathering them together made a heap , and they did eat vpon it : 47. Which Laban called The witnesse-heap : and Iacob called The hillock of testimonie , either of them according to the proprietie of his language. 48. And Laban said : This heap shal be a witnes between me and thee this day , and therefore the name therof was callad Galaad , that is , The witnesse-heap. 49. Our Lord behold and iudge between vs when we shal be departed one from the other , 50. if thou shalt afflict my daughters , and if thou bring in other wiues ouer them ; none is witnes of our talke but God , who is present and beholdeth. 51. And he said againe to Iacob : Behold this heap , and the stone which I haue erected between me and thee , 52. shal be a witnes : this heap , I say , and the stone , be they for a testimonie , if either I shal passe beyond it going towards thee , or thou shalt passe beyond it , thinking harme to me. 53. The God of Abraham , and the God of Nachor iudge between vs , the God of their father. Iacob therefore sware by the feare of his father Isaac : 54. and after he had offered victimes in the mountaine , he called his brethren to eat bread. Who when they had eaten , lodged there. 55. but Laban arising in the night , kissed his sonnes , and daughters , and blessed them : and returned vnto his place.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. X X X I.

1. Reg.
19.
Osee. 3.

19. Idols.) Images of false Gods (as these were) are most properly called idols. And so the hebrew word Teraphim is here rightly translated idols: which in other places signifie h other things. As The statua which Michol put in Dauids bed, covering the head therof with a hairie goates skinne, to deceiue Saules seriants who sought Dauids death, is called Teraphim, and may there be translated a statua, image, or similitude, but not an idol. Againe, Osee the Prophet fortelling the lamentable state of the Israelites, sayth, they shall be long without King, Prince, Sacrifice, Altar, Ephod, and Teraphim, which last word in the Protestants English Bibles remaineth vntranslated. Where if they had translated images (as here they doe) it would proue, that some images pertaine to true religion, the want wherof is lamented among other principal things.

These idols Rachel stole from her father, to withdraw him from idolatrie, as S. Basil (in li. Proueb.) S. Gregorie Nazianzen (orat. de Paschate) and Theodoret (q. 89. in Gen.) expound it. And in this, saith Theodoret, she was a right figure of the Catholike Church, which deprieth idolaters of their idols. It is probable also by her base vsing of them, that she held them not for Gods, when she put them vnder the camels litter, and sate vpon them. Finally, that she reserued them, and did not cast them away, nor burne, nor burie them, argueth that they were perhaps of precious mettal, or other matter, which she might turne to profit: and that lawfully in part of recompence, that she and her sister had no other dowrie, but rather were sold to Iacob. Who also had suffered much iniurie at their fathers hands.

Images of false Gods are idols.

Some images are neither religious nor superstitious. Some are religious.

Rachel tooke away her fathers Idols for his good.

She kept them in recompence of wrongs.

C H A P. X X X I I.

Angels meet Iacob by the way. 3. He sendeth messengers and gifts to pacifie his brother Esau. 24. Wrestling with an Angel is not overcome, in fine the Angel benummed his thigh, blesseth him, and fortelleth that he shall be called Israel.

A C O B also went on his iourney that he had begun: and the Angels of God met him. 2. Whom when he had seen, he said: These are the Camps of God, and he called the name of that place Mahanaim, that is, Camps. 2. And he sent also messengers before him to Esau his brother into the land of Seir, into the countrie of Edom: 4. and he commanded them, saying: Thus speake ye vnto my Lord Esau: This saith thy brother

Iacob : I haue seiourned , and haue been with Laban vntil this present day. 5. I haue oxen , & asses , & sheep , & men seruants : & woman seruants : & now I send a legacie to my Lord , that I may find grace in thy sight. 6. And the messengers returned to Iacob , saying : We came to Esau thy brother , & behold he commeth with speed to meet thee with foure hundred men. 7. Iacob " feared exceedingly : and being sore affraid diuided the people that was with him , the flockes also and the sheep , and the oxen , and the camels , into two troupes , 8. saying : If Esau come to one troupe , and strike it , the other troupe that remaineth shal be saued. 9. And Iacob said : O God of my father Abraham , and God of my father Isaac ; O Lord that didest say to me : Returne into thy land , and into the place of thy natiuitie , and I wil doe thee good : 10. I am inferiour to al thy mercies , and thy truth that thou hast fulfilled to thy seruant. With my staffe I passed ouer this Iordan : and now with two troupes I doe returne. 11. Deliuere me from the hand of my brother Esau , because I am sore affraid of him : lest perhaps he come , and strike the mother with the children. 12. Thou didest say that thou wouldest doe good to me , and dilate my seed as the sand of the sea , which for multitude can not be numbred. 13. And when he had slept there that night , he separated of those things which he had , giufts to his brother Esau , 14. she goats two hundred , he goats twentie , ewes two hundred , and rammes twentie , 15. thirtie milch camels with their colts , fourtie kine , and twentie buls ; twentie she asses , and their soles ten. 16. And he sent by the hands of his seruants euerie flock by it-selfe , and he said to his seruants : Goe before me , and let there be a space between flock and flock. 17. And he commanded the former , saying : If thou meet my brother Esau , and he aske thee , whose art thou ? or whither goest thou ? or whose are these that thou doest follow ? 18. thou shalt answer : Iacobes thy seruant , he hath sent them for giufts to my Lord Esau : himselfe also commeth after vs. 19. In like manner he gaue commandements to the second , and the third , and to al that followed the flocks , saying : With the selfe-same words speake ye to Esau , when you shal find him. 20. And ye shal adde : Iacob also thy seruant himselfe followeth on after vs ; for he said : I wil pacifie him with the giufts that goe before , and afterward I wil see him , perhaps he wil be gracious vnto me. 21. The giufts therefore went before him , but himselfe lodged that night in the campe. 22. And when he was risen early , he tooke his two wiues , and his handmaids as manie , with his eleuen sonnes , and passed ouer the ford Iaboc. 23. And when he had set ouer al things that appertained to him , 24. he taried alone : and behold " a man wraistled with him til morning. 25. Who when he saw that he could not ouercome him , he touched the sinow of his thigh , and forthwith it shranke. 26. And he said to him : Let me goe for it is breake of day. He answered : I wil not let thee goe , vnlesse thou blesse me. 27. He therefore said : What is thy name ? He answered : Iacob. 28. But he , no, thy name , quoth he, (a) shal not be called Iacob, but Israel : for if thou hast been strong against God , how much more shalt thou preuaile against men ? 29. Iacob asked him : Tel me by what name art thou called ? He answered : Why doest thou aske my name ? and blessed him in the same place. 30. And Iacob called the name of the place Phanuel, saying : I haue seen God face to face, and my soule was made safe. 31. And immediately the sunne rose to him, after that he was past Phanuel ; but he halted on his foot. 32. For which cause the children of Israel eate not the sinow , that shrunke in Iacobes thigh, vnto this present day : because he touched the sinow of his thigh, and it shrunke.

(a) The changing of his name heere promised, is preformed chap. 35. S. Hierom Tradit. Heb.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. XXXI.

7. Feared exceedingly.] Iustly may we say meruel, why Iacob, so often assured by Gods promises, confirmed by his manie blessings, protected in al former dangers, accompanied the night before with armies of Angels, indued also with al vertues, and namely with perfect charitie (which expelleth feare] was for al this so vehemently affraid. S. Augustin answereth, that he neither distrusted in God, nor did anie vnlawful thing : but did his owne endeauour wisely and confidently, lest by presuming or despayring he should rather haue tempted God then trusted in him. The causes of his teare were in respect of himselfe and his brother. For considering Gods former promises, benefits, & protections, were not to be presumed as absolute signes of his perpetual loue, but conditional, if himselfe persecuted sincerely in Gods seruice ; and seeing The iust man knoweth not whether he be vvorshie of loue or of hatred, he might doubt, lest by his twentie yeares conuersation among Infidels in Mesopotamia, he had contracted some sinnes, for which God might suffer him to fall into calamitie and affliction. And though he was in deed stil more and more vertuous, and consequently in Gods more fauour and protection; yea so much the more, by how much lesse he presumed of his owne good state and merites : yet by the vehement apprehending of his brothers inclination to reuenge, the greatnes of the occasion by procuring the first-birth-right and his fathers blessing from him, the newes of his speedie comming towards him with foure hundred men, the natural situation of the place, where Esau might easily enuiron him, and (as he humbly thought) his owne vnworthines, he was possessed with natural feare (such as happeneth to constant men) and was fore afflicted for the tender care of his familie. But reflecting vpon Gods goodness, he prudently disposed of his people and flocks, and besought God to protect him and his, by prayer qualified with requisite conditions, to wit, with humilitie, not asking for his owe but for Abraham and Isaacs sake, and for Gods owne promise, acknowledging himselfe to be lesshen Gods mercies towards him, with gratitude recounting great benefits receiued, sayng, With my staffe I passed ouer this Iordan, and now with two troupes I doe returne, with confidence in that God hath said

Iacobs feare was iust, and without fault.

The causes of his feare. The humble conceit of himselfe.

Esau inclination & meanes to reuenge.

Iacobs prayer qualified with Humilitie, Gratitude, Confidence, Meeknes.

he

1. Ioan.
4.

9. 102.
in Gen.

Ecll. 9.

he Would dilate his seed as the sand of the sea, and with meeknes in sending gifts and good words to Esau. Thus finally he pacified him, and so his owne feare was turned into ioy.

Iacob wrestled with an Angel corporally & spiritually.

24. A man wrestled. This wrestling with an Angel assuming a bodie in forme of a man was corporal, as the effect shewed in Iacobs sinow shrunke vp, which made him to halt. v. 25. & 31. It was also spiritual, as appeareth by his earnest prayer, vrging and at last obtayning the Angels blessing. S. Lyonis. c. 4. cel. Hierer. S. Greg. prelat. in Iob. Theodoret q. 91. in Gen.

See 12.

C H A P. X X X I I I.

Iacob seeing Esau come with a great troupe of men, feareth harme, but is most curteously entertained by him. 10. He hardly perswaded Esau to take gifts, 13. and to returne home. 17. So Iacob comming by Socoth to Salem, there buyeth a field, pitcheth his tents, and erecteth an Altar.

AND Iacob lifting vp his eyes, saw Esau comming, and with him foure hundred men: and he diuided the children of Lia, and of Rachel, and of the two handmaids: 2. and he put both the handmaids and their children foremost: and Lia and her children in the second place: and Rachel and Ioseph last. 2. And himselfe going forward adored prostrate to the ground seauen times, vntil his brother came neer. 4. Esau therefore running to meet his brother, embraced him: and clasping him fast about the necke, and kissing him wept. 5. And casting vp his eyes he saw the women and their litle ones, and said: What meane these? And doe they perteyue to thee? He answered: They are the litle ones which God hath giuen to me thy seruant. 6. And the handmaids and their children comming neer bowed themselves. 7. Lia also with her children came neer: and when they had adored in like manner, last Ioseph and Rachel adored. 8. And Esau said: What are the troups that I did meet? He answered: That I might find grace before my Lord. 9. But he said: I haue plentie, my brother, be thy things to thy selfe. 10. And Iacob said: Doe not so, I beseech thee, but if I haue found grace in thine eyes, take a litle present at my hands: for so haue I seen thy face as if I should haue seen (a) the countenance of God: be gracious to me, 11. and take the blessing which I haue brought thee, and which God hath giuen me, who giueth al things. Scarce at his brothers great instance taking it, 12. he said: Let vs march on together, and I wil accompanie thee in thy iourney. 13. And Iacob said: My Lord thou knowest that I haue with me litle ones, and sheep,

(a) Iacob seeing Gods hand in this change of his brothers mind, not of flatterie, but sincerely acknowledged his benignitie, as Gods countenance towards him.

sheep, and kine with yong: which if I cause to ouerlabour themselues in going, in one day al the flocks wil die. 14. It may please my Lord to goe before his seruant : and I wil follow softly after him, as I shal see my litle ones to be able, vntil I come to my Lord in Seir. 15. Esau answered: I beseech thee that of my people at the least wife which is with me, there may remaine some to accompanie thee in the way. It is not needful, said he, this only I haue need of, that I may find grace (my Lord) in thy sight. 16. Esau therefore returned that day the same way that he came, into Seir. 17. And Iacob commeth into Socoth : where hauing built a house, and pitched his tents, he called the name of that place Socoth, that is, Tabernacles. 18. and he passed into Salem a citie of the Sichimites, which is in the land of Chanaan, after he returned from Mesopotamia of Siria : and he dwelt beside the towne. 19. And he bought that part of the field, wherin he had pitched his tents, of the children of Hemor, the father of Sichem, for an hundred lambs. 20. And erecting an altar there, on it he called vpon the most Mightie God of Israel.

C H A P. X X X I V.

For rauishing Dina the Sichimites (being first circumcised) are slaine by Simeon & Leui her brothers. 27. The rest of Iacobs sonnes spoile the citie. 30. Iacob blameth them, fearing harme may come by this fact.

AN D Dina the daughter of Lia went forth to see the women of that countrie. 2. Whom when Sichem had seen, the sonne of Hemor the Heuite, the Prince of that land, he was in loue with her : and he tooke her away, and lay with her, by force rauishing the virgin. 3. And his soule was fast knit vnto her, and wheras she was sad, he comforted her with sweet words. 4. And going to Hemor his father, he said : Take me this wench to be my wife. 5. Which when Iacob had heard, his sonnes being absent and occupied in feeding of the cattle, he held his peace til they returned. 6. And when Hemor Sichems father was come forth to speake vnto Iacob, 7. behold his sonnes came out of the field ; and hearing what had passed, they were passing wrath, because he had done a foule thing in Israel, and committed an vnlawful fact in rauishing Iacobs daughter. 8. Hemor therefore spake to them : The soule of my sonne Sichem is fastned to your daughter : Giue her vnto him to wife : 9. and let vs contract mariages one

O Dina (saith S. Bernard) what need was there to see women of a strange countrie! Tract. de gradib. humili-tatis.

with

(*) They offended by falsly pretending religion, and by excesse in reuenge, & therefore are reproued by theyr father.
v. 30. & cap.
49. v. 5.
Otherwise their zeale was iust to punish so foule a fault Indith. 9.

with an other: giue vs your daughters, and take you our daughters. 10. And dwel with vs: the land is at your commandement, till, occupie, and possesse it. 11. Yea and Sichem also said to her father and to her brethren: Let me find grace in your sight: and what soeuer you shal appoint I wil giue: 12. raise the dowrie, and require guits, and I shal gladly giue what you shal demand: onely giue me this wench to wife. 13. Iacobs sonnes answered Sichem & his father (*) in guile, being wrath for the deflouring of their sister: 14. We can not doe that which you demand, nor giue our sister to an vncircumcised person; which with vs is an vnlawful & abhominable thing. 15. But in this order we may be confederate, if you wil be like to vs, and al the man sex among you be circumcised: 16. then wil we giue and take mutually your daughters, and ours: and we wil dwel with you, and wil be one people: 17. but if you wil not be circumcised, we wil take our daughter, and depart. 18. The offer pleased Hemor and Sichem his sonne: 19. neither did the yong man make delay, but forthwith fulfilled that which was demanded: for he loued the wench exceedingly, and he was the greatest man in al his fathers house. 20. And going into the gate of the citie, they spake to the people: 21. These men are men of peace, and are willing to dwel with vs: let them occupie in the land, and till it, which being large and wide doth lacke men to till it: their daughters we shal take to wife, and ours we wil giue to them. 22. One thing there is for the which so great a good is differred: If we circumcise our man sex, following the rite of the nation. 23. And their substance, and cattle, and al things that they possesse, shal be ours: only in this let vs condescend, and dwelling together we shal make one people. 24. And they al assented, and circumcised al the man sex. 25. And behold the third day, when the griefe of the wounds is most painful: Iacobs two sonnes Simcon and Leui, the brothers of Dina, taking their swords, entred into the citie boldiy: and killing al the man sex, 26. mured withal Hemor and Sichem, taking away Dina their sister out of Sichems house. 27. When they were gone forth, the other sonnes of Iacob ranne in vpon them that were slaine, and spoiled the citie in reuenge of the rape. 28. And waisting al things that were in their houses and fieldes, their sheep and heards, and asses, 29. their little ones also, and their wiues they led away captiue. 30. which things when they had boldly atcheiued, Iacob said to Simeon and Leui: You haue troubled me, and made me odious to the Chananites, and Pherezites, the inhabitants of this land. We are few: they being gathered together wil strike me; and I and my house shal be destroyed. 31. They answered: What? should they abuse our sister as a strumpet?

C H A P. XXXV.

Jacob purging his whole familie of idols, goeth by Gods commandment into Bethel, 7. There buildeth an Altar. 8. Debora dieth. 9. God appearing againe to Jacob blesseth him, and changeth his name into Israel. 16. Rachel bearing Benjamin dieth, and is buried in Bethleem, 22. Ruben lyeth with Bala. 23. Israels twelue sonnes are recited. 28. Isaac dieth at the age of 180. yeares: and his sonnes Esau and Jacob burie him.

IN THE meane time God spake to Jacob: Arise, and goe vp to Bethel, and dwel there, and make an altar to God that appeared to thee when thou diddest flie from Esau thy brother. 1. And Jacob hauing called together al his house, said: " Cast away the strange Gods that are among you, and be clenfed and change your garments. 3. Arise, and let vs goe vp into Bethel, that we may make there an altar vnto God: who heard me in the day of my tribulation, and accompanied me in my iourney. 4. They gaue to him therefore al the strange Gods that they had, and the earclets which were in their cares: but he buried them vnder the * terebinth that is behind the citie of Sichen. 5. And when they were departed (a) the terrour of God inuaded al the cities round about, and they durit not pursue them going away. 6. And Jacob came to Luza, which is in the land of Chanaan, furnamed Bethel: he and al the people that was with him. 7. And he builded there an altar, and called the name of that place, The house of God: for there God appeared to him when he fled from his brother. 8. The same time died Debora the nurse of Rebecca, and was buried at the foot of Bethel vnder an oke: and the name of that place was called The oke of weeping. 9. And God appeared againe to Jacob after he returned from Mesopotamia of Siria, and he blessed him, 10. saying: Thou (b) shalt not be called any more Jacob, but Israel shal be thy name. And he called him Israal, 11. and said to him: I am God Almighty, encrease thou and multiplie: Of thee shal be nations and peoples of nations, Kings shal come forth of thy loynes. 12. And the land which I gaue to Abraham and Isaac, I wil giue to thee, and to thy seed after thee. 13. And he departed from him. 14. But he erected a tittle of stone in the place where God had spoken vnto him: offering vpon it liquid offerings, and powring oile on it, 15. and calling the name of that place, Bethel. 16. And being gone forth from thence, he came in the Spring time to the land which leadeth to crable tree.

An ex-

(a) God (when it pleaseth him) maketh the weake stronger then the mightie, and few more terrible then manie. S. Christi. bo. 59. S. Aug. 7. 112. in Gen.

(b) The name of supplanter not sufficiently expressing his valure he is also called Israel. See the Annotation.

Ephrata: wherein when Rachel was in trauaile, 17. because of difficultie in her trauaile, she began to be in danger, and the midwife said vnto her: Feare not, for thou shalt haue also this a sonne. 18. And her soule departing for paine, and death now at hand, she called the name of her sonne Benoni, that is the sonne of my paine: but his father called him Benjamin, that is the sonne of the right hand. 19. Rachel therfore died, and was buried in the high way that leadeth to Ephrata, this same is Bethleem. 20. And Iacob erected a title ouer her sepulchre: This is the title of Rachels monument, vntil this present day. 21. Departing thence, he pitched his tent beyond the Flocke tower. 22. And when he dwelt in that countrie, Ruben went, and (c) slept with Bala his fathers concubine: which thing he was not ignorant of. And the sonnes of Iacob were twelue. 23. The sonnes of Lia: Ruben the first begotten, and Simeon, and Leui, and Iudas, and Issachar, and Zabulon. 24. The sonnes of Rachel: Ioseph and Benjamin. 25. The sonnes of Bala Rachels handmaid: Dan and Nephthali. 26. The sonnes of Zelpha Lias handmaid: Gad and Aser: these are the sonnes of Iacob, that were borne to him in Mesopotamia of Siria. 27. He came also to Isaac his father in Mambre, the cite of Arbee, this is Hebron: wherein Abraham and Isaac sejournd. 28. And the dayes of Isaac were complete an hundred eyghtie yeares. 29. And spent with age he died, and was put to his people, being old and ful of dayes, and Esau and Iacob his sonnes buried him.

Math 2.

c) For this fact Ruben was excluded from the chiefe dignitie among his brethren, Gen. 49.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. XXXV.

Clenfing from sinne is the first office of the seruants of God.

The name Israel signifieth special prerogatiues in the Patriarch Iacob.

2. Cast away the strange Gods.] Iacob preparing to performe his vow of building a house and altar to God, first extirpateth al Idolatrie from amongst his people; and then by Sacrifice appeaseth Gods wrath, prouoked howsoeuer, and specially by Simeon and Leui killing the Sichemites. Duely considering that what people or person desireth Gods protection and blessings, must first be pure in Religion, and clenfed from finnes: Quibus nulla nocet aauersitas, si nulla ei dominetur iniquitas: because no aduersitie shal hurt him, if no iniquitie haue dominion ouer him. orat. fer. 6. post cineres.

10. Called him Israel.] As the Patriarch now performeth his vow to God, so God fulfilleth his promise, giuing him a new name. For Iacob a supplanter, signifying too smal force and praise for such a champion, God therfore honoured him with the name of Israel. That is, One that seeth and contempleteth God, as most ancient writers expound it. Also A prince, or valient with God, as S. Hierome sheweth Tradit Heb. For Isra in Hebrew signifieth To dominier, or rule ouer, and El signifieth God. And so this name giuen to him testifieth that he, by Gods giuft and grace, was valiant euen against an Angel, representing God, much more against men, and other aduersaries. Others interpret it, The right one of God, as witnesseth the same S. Hierome both heer, and in his commentaries in 44. Isaac. Al doe import a great excellencie in this Patriarch. And the successe of things confirmeth the same. Particularly in that not onlie some one of his sonnes (as in the issue of Abraham and Isaac, the rest being excluded) but his whole progenie of twelue sonnes, making twelue Tribes, were participant of the peculiar blessings, in their offspring possessing the promised land, and exceedingly increasing became the most principal nation in the world, the selected people of God, called by the name and title Of the children of Israel. Of whom not only Moyse, but al the old Testament most specially treateth, and of whom and in whom the promised Meſſias, the Redeemer of mankind, should be borne.

Al his twelue sonnes in their posteritie were heires of the promised land.

C H A P. XXXVI.

Esau with his wiues and children parteth from Iacob. 9. His genealogie is recited, with their habitations.

AND " these are the generations of Esau, the same is Edom. 2. Esau tooke wiues of the daughters of Chanaan: " Ada the daughter of Elon the Hetheite, and Oolibama the daughter of Ana daughter of Sebeon the Hetheite: 3. Basemath also the daughter of Ismael sister of Nabaioth. 4. And Ada bare Eliphaz: Basemath bare Rahuel: 5. Oolibama bare Iehus and Ihelon and Coree, these are the sonnes of Esau, that were borne to him in the land of Chanaan. 6. And (a) Esau tooke his wiues and sonnes and daughters, and euerie soule of his house, and his substance, and cattle, and al that he could haue in the land of Chanaan: and he went into an other countrie, and " departed from his brother Iacob. 7. For they were exceeding rich, and could not dwel together: neither was the land of their peregrination able to beare them, for the multitude of flocks. 8. And Esau " dwelt in Mount Seir, he is Edom. 9. And these are the generations of Esau the father of Edom in mount Seir, 10. and these are the names of his sonnes: Eliphaz the sonne of Ada the wife of Esau: Rahuel also the sonne of Basemath his wife. 11. And Eliphaz had sonnes: Theman, Omar, Sepho, and Gathan, and Cenes. 12. And Thamna was the concubine of Eliphaz the sonne of Esau: which bare to him Amalech. These are the sonnes of Ada the wife of Esau. 13. And the sonnes of Rahuel were Nahath and Zara, Samma and Meza. These were the sonnes of Basemath the wife of Esau. 14. These also were the sonnes of Oolibama, the daughter of Ana, the daughter of Sebeon, the wife of Esau, which she bare to him, Iehus, and Ihelon, and Coree. 15. These were Dukes of the sonnes of Esau: the sonnes of Eliphaz the first-begotten of Esau: Duke Theman, Duke Omar, Duke Sepho, Duke Cenes, 16. Duke Coree, Duke Gathan, Duke Amalech, these are the sonnes of Eliphaz in the land of Edom, & these are the sonnes of Ada. 17. These also were the

(a) The separation of Esau from Iacob.

sonnes of Rahuel, the sonne of Esau: Duke Nahath, Duke Zara, Duke Samma, Duke Meza. And these be the Dukes of Rahuel, in the Land of Edom: these be the sonnes of Basemath the wife of Esau. 18. And these were the sonnes of Oolibama the wife of Esau: Duke Iehus, Duke Ihelon, Duke Core. These be the Dukes of Oolibama, the daughter of Ana, and wife of Esau. 19. These are the sonnes of Esau, and these are the Dukes of them: the same is Edom. 20. These are the sonnes of Seir the horreite, the inhabitants of the land: Lotan, and Sobal, and Sebeon, and Ana, 21. and Dison, and Efer, and Disan. These are Dukes of the Horreite, the sonnes of Seir in the Land of Edom. 22. And Lotan had sonnes: Hori and Heman. And the sister of Lotan was Themna. 23. And these were the sonnes of Sobal: Aluan and Manahat, and Ebal, and Sepho, and Onam. 24. And these were the sonnes of Sebeon: Aia and Ana. This is Ana that found the hot waters in the wildernes, when he fed the asses of Sebeon his father: 25. and he had a sonne Dison, and a daughter Oolibama. 26. And these were the sonnes of Dison: Hamdan, and Efeban, and Iethram, and Charan. 27. These also were the sonnes of Efer: Balaan, and Zauan, and Acan. 28. And Disan had sonnes: Hus, and Aram. 29. These were Dukes of the Horreites: Duke Lotan, Duke Sobal, Duke Sebeon, Duke Ana, 30. Duke Dison, Duke Efer, Duke Disan: these were Dukes of the Horreites that ruled in the Land Seir. 31. And the Kings that ruled in the land of Edom, before that the children of Israel had a King, were these: 32. Bela the sonne of Beor, and the name of his citie Denaba. 33. And Bela died, and (b) Iobab the sonne of Zara of Bosra reigned in his stead. 34. And when Iobab was dead, Hufam of the land of the Themans reigned in his stead. 35. He also being dead, there reigned in his stead Adad the sonne of Badad, that struck Madian in the countrie of Moab: and the name of his citie was Auith. 36. And when Adad was dead, there reigned for him Scmla of Masreca. 37. He also being dead, Saul of the riuer Rohoboth, reigned in his stead. 38. And when he also was dead, Balanan the sonne of Achobor succeeded into the Kingdome. 39. This men also being dead Adar reigned in his place, and the name of his citie was Phau: and his wife was called Mectabel, the daughter of Matred, daughter of Mezaab. 40. These therefore be the names of the Dukes of Esau in their kindreds, and places, and callings: Duke Thamna, Duke Alua, Duke Ietheth, 41. Duke Oolibama, Duke Ela, Duke Phinon, 42. Duke Cenez, Duke Theman, Duke Mabser, 43. Duke Magdiel, Duke Hiram: these are the Dukes of Edom dwelling in the land of their Empire, the same is Esau the father of the Idumeans.

b) By the common opinion of Latin and Greeke fathers this was holie Iob, as we shall discusse when we come to his booke against the hebrew Doctors, who say Iob was of Nachors race.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. X X X V I.

Chap. 4, 10. 22.
25.

11. The generations of Esau.] As before Moyses described the genealogies of Cain, of Iapheth, and Cham, of Nachor, of Ismael, and other sonnes of Abraham; so here he recordeth another collateral progenie of Esau, that the difference and distinction of them and the selected people of God might be more conspicuous, because contraries opposed are seen more cleery. And so the Churches succession and perpetual light, compared with the interrupted and obscure companies, shineth the brighter. For albeit in those other generations there might be manie faithful and iust persons among the infidels and wicked, and of some we are assured (as of Lot and Job) yet faith and religion decayed, and was extinguished in their carnal children, and only continued in the right line from Adam to Iacob, whose twelue sonnes were fathers & beginners of twelue Tribes, and in them the same true Religion was stil conserued and publikly professed, as in the onlie knowne visib.e Church, til the comming of Christ, as S. Augustin clearly sheweth in his excellent worke of the Citie of God, especially in the 15. and 16. bookes, in manie chapters.

2. Ada she daughter of Elon.] In the 16. chap. (v. 34.) Esau's two wiues, which he tooke in Chanaan are called Iudith the daughter of Beer the Hetheite, and Basemath the daughter of Elon of the same place, and here the same two wiues are named Ada the daughter of Elon the Hetheite, and Oolibama the daughter of Sebeon the Hcuite. Which neither agree in names nor countrie. Againe his third wife Ismaels daughter, here named Basemath, in 28. chap. v. 9. is called Mahelath. For reconciliation of which and other like difficulties, or seeming contradictions, albeit learned expositors say, that either these persons had diuers names, or one was true and natural father, another legal, or adoptiue, for there were such also before the law of Moyses, as appeareth in the historie of Thamar: yet it were hard to giue a determinate solution of this difficultie. Which example, with manie others (by vs omitted in these brieve annotations) conuince the Protestants presumptuous errour, holding that Scriptures are easie to be vnderstood.

6. Deparred from his brother. 8. Dwelt in Mouns Seir.) Here is another difficultie (though not so intricate as the former) how Esau now parted into Mount Seir, seeing he dwelled there, when his brother Iacob came from Mesopotamia. chap. 22. v. 4. Which S. Augustin (q. 109. in Gen.) solueth saying: Esau first dwelt in Seir after he was disappointed of his fathers blessing, but dwelt againe with his father after Iacobs returne from Mesopotamia, and now went to Seir againe after his fathers death.

By comparison of interrupted companies the continual succession of the Church is more glorious.

One place of Scripture seemeth contrarie to another but is not.

Holy Scriptures not easie to be vnderstood.

Esau's last parting frō Iacob.

C H A P. XXXVII.

The seventh part of this booke. How Ioseph was sold into Egypt, and there aduanced.

(a) These things following hapned of Iacob, in his generations, that is in his children.

See S. Chriseff. ho. 1. in Gen.

(b) That for ill life they were infamous, the Hebrew word debbs signifieth infamie.

The Epistle on friday, in the second weeke of Lent.

(c) Brothers easily enuie each other: but the parents are glad of their childrens aduancement.

(d) So Christ, & al good Pastours.

Ioseph informing his father of his brethrens faults, 5. and telling his dreames, is by them more hated. 17. being sent to visite them, 18. they first thinke to kill him, 26. but by Iudas counsel sel him to the Ismaelites, 29. vnto Ruben. 33. His father lamenteth supposing him to be slaine by some wild beast. 36. He is sold againe to Putiphar in Egypt.

AND Iacob dwelt in the land of Chanaan, wherein his father seiourned. 2. And (a) these are his generations: Ioseph when he was sixteen yeares old, fed the flock with his brethren being yet a boy: and he was with the sonnes of Bala and Zelpha his fathers wiues: and he accused his brethren to his father of (b) a most wicked crime. 3. And Israel loued Ioseph aboue al his sonnes, because he had begotten him in his old age: and he made him a coate of diuers colours. 4. And his brethren seeing that he was loued of his father more then al his sonnes, they hated him, neither could they speake any thing to him peaceably. 5. It chanced also that he reported to his brethren a dreame that he had seen, which occasion was the seed of greater hatred. 6. And he said to them: Heare my dreame which I haue seen: 7. I thought we bound sheaues in the field: and my sheafe arose as it were, and stood, and your sheaues standing about did adore my sheafe. 8. His brethren answered: What? shalt thou be our King? or shal we be subiect to thy dominion? This occasion of his dreames and words ministred nourishment to the enuie and hatred. 9. He saw also another dreame, which telling his brethren, he said: I saw in a dreame, as it were the sunne, and the moone, and cleuen starres adore me. 10. Which when he had reported to his father and brethren, his father rebuked him, and said: What meaneth this dreame that thou hast seen? Why, shal I and thy mother, and thy brethren adore thee vpon the earth? 11. His brethren therefore enuyed him: but (c) his father considered the thing with himselfe. 12. And when his brethren abode in Sichem feeding their fathers flockes, 13. Israel said to him: Thy brethren feed sheep in Sichem: come, I wil send thee to them. Who answering, 14. I am readie; he said to him: Goe, and see if al things be wel with thy brethren and the sheep, and bring me word againe what they doe. Being sent therefore from the Vale of Hebron, he came to Sichem: 15. and a man found him there wandring in the field, and asked what he sought. 16. But he answered: (d) I seeke my brethren, shew me where they feed the flockes. 17. And the man said to him : They are departed from this place : for I heard them say : Let vs goe into Dothain. Ioseph therefore went forward after his brethren, and found them in Dothain. 18. Who when they had seen him a farre off, before he came nigh them, they deuised to kil him: 19. and spake among themselues : Behold the dreamer commeth, 20. come, let vs kil him, and cast him into an old cesterne : and we wil say a naughtie wild beast hath deuoured him: (e) and then it shal appeare what his dreames doe profite him. 21. And Ruben hearing this, endeauoured to deliuer him out of their hands, and said : 22. Doe not take away his life, neither sheed ye blood : but cast him into this cesterne that is in the wilderneffe, and keep your hands harmeles : and he said this, desirous to deliuer him out of their hands, and to restore him to his father. 23. As sonne therefore as he came vnto his brethren, forthwith they stripped him out of his tide coate, and of diuers colours, 24. and cast him into the old cesterne, that had not water. 25. And sitting to eate bread, they saw Ismaelites wayfaring men comming from Galaad, and their camels carying spices, and rosen, and mirrh into Ægypt. 26. Iudas therefore said to his brethren : What auailleth it vs if we kil our brother, and conceale his blood ? 27. It is better that he be sold to the Ismaelites, and that our hands be not polluted : for he is our brother and our flesh. His brethren assented to his words. 28. And when the Madianite marchants passed by, they drawing him out of the cesterne, sold him to the Ismaelites, for (f) twentie pieces of siluer, who brought him into Ægypt. 29. And Ruben returning to the cesterne, findeth not the boy : 30. and renting his garments went to his brethren, and said : The boy doth not appeare, and whither shal I goe ? 31. And they tooke his coate, and dipped it in the bloud of a kid which they had killed, 32. sending some that should carie it to their father, and should say : This we haue found: see whether it be thy sonnes coate, or no. 33. Which when the father acknowledged, he said : It is my sonnes coate, a naughtie wild beast hath eaten him, a beast hath deuoured Ioseph. 34. And tearing his garments, did on sackcloth, mourning his sonne a great time. 35. And al his children being gathered together to assuage their fathers sorow, he would not take comfort, but said: I wil descend vnto my sonne " into hel, mourning. And whilest he perseuered in weeping, 36. the Madianites sold Ioseph in Ægypt to Putiphar an Eunuch of Pharoes Master of the soldiers.

man

(e) So the Iewes thinking to preuent Christs exaltation cooperated vntwitting thereto. Prosper. l. de promiss. Dei.

(f) Some read shirts : And as the reading is diuers, so Christ whom Ioseph signified is more & lesse esteemed of diuers. S. Aug. Ser. 81. de temp.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. XXXVII.

The least offensie cause is alleaged, why Iacob loued Ioseph aboue his brethren.

God turneth euil to good effect. S. Aug.
l. 14. c. 27. ciuit Graue for hel corruptly translated.

Wilful corruption.

Iacob spake of hel not of graue.

Abrahams bo-some.

3 In his old age.] This being one cause why Iacob loued Ioseph aboue al his other sonnes, for that he was the yongest of the eleuen (for Beniamin the twelfth was yet an infant) it is alleaged in holy Scripture (saith S. Chriostom Epist. ad Olympian) as least offensie to his brethren. For a more special cause was for his mother Rachels sake, but most principal cause of al was, for his great vertues and mature iudgement; for which God also preferred him aboue them al, and now foreshewed the same by visions in sleep. Which they enuying and meaning to preuent, did indeed vnwitting cooperate thereto, Gods prouidence turning their euil worke to infinite good. As the same holy Ioseph truly interpreteth it to them after their fathers death, when they iustly feared reuenge for so great and inhumane iniuries done vnto him, chap. 50. v. 20.

35. Into hel mourning.) Protestants denying more places for soules after this life, then Heauen for the iust, & Hel for the wicked, translate the Hebrew word Sheol, graue, for hel. Because if they should grant that Iacob or other holy fathers of the old Testament descended into hel, they must confesse some other hel, then where the damned are tormented, whither no Christian wil say that those fathers went. If they contended only about the sense and meaning of the text, it were more tolerable, for therein they speake according to their erroneous opinion, as they thinke. But knowing as some of them doe, that Hel is the true word of the text, there is no sinceritie nor moral honestie in putting Graue in place therof. And that they know it, the second table of the Bible, printed at London 1602. witnesseth, noting for a common place, that in the 37. chap. of Genesis. v. 35. Hel is taken for graue, therby confessing, that the true English word of the holy Scripture in that place is Hel, but that they would haue it to signifie graue. Wherupon anie reasonable man would thinke to find the word Hel in the text, with some glosse to shew that graue were to be vnderstood. But in al their Editions, also in that which was printed the yeare next folowing, 1603. wherto the same table is adioyned, they read graue & not hel in that place, though in some * other places, they much disagree in translating the same word.

As for the sense, it can not be that Iacob ment the graue: for when he said he would goe to his sonne, he supposed him to be deuoured by a wild beast, and not buried in a graue. And therefore must necessarily meane, that he would goe where he thought the soule of his sonne to be. Which was neither in heauen, for then he would rather haue ascended thither ioyful, then descended to any place mourning; neither did he meane the hel of the damned, for that had been desperation; but to a low place, where the iust soules then remained in rest, which was called Limbus Patrum, or Abrahams bosome. That is, saith S. Augustin, in his answer to Bishop Euodius (Epist. 99.) secretacium / dnm quietis habitacion The habitation of a certaine secret rest.

See. S.
Hiero.
Ep 119.
S. Aug.
l. 20. c.
15. ciuit
Nu. 16.
2. Reg.
22. Iob.
17. Psal.
15. 17.
85.

C H A P. XXXVIII.

Iudas hauing three sonnes by a Chananite, 6. marieth the first, and after his death, the second to Thamar. 10. who also dying, he delayeth to match the third with her. 15. But himselfe begetteth of her (taking her for a harlot) two sonnes twinnes, Phares and Zara:

HE (a) same time Iudas going downe from his brethren, turned in to a man an Odolamite, named Hiras. 2. And he saw there the daughter of a man of Chanaan, called Sue: and taking her to wife, he did companie with her. 3. Who conceaued, and bare a sonne, and called his name Her. 4. And conceauing a child againe, she called her sonne after he was borne, Onan. 5. She bare also the third, whom she called Sela: after whose birth, she ceased to beare any more. 6. And Iudas gaue a wife to Her his first-begotten, named Thamar. 7. Also Her the first-begotten of Iudas, was wicked in the sight of our Lord, and was ilaine of him. 8. Iudas therefore said to Onan his sonne: Companie with thy brothers wife, and be ioyned to her, that thou mayest raise seed to thy brother. 9. He knowing that the children should not be borne to himselfe, companying with his brothers wife, shed his seed vpon the ground, lest children might be borne in his brothers name. 10. And therefore our Lord struck him, because he did a detestable thing. 11. For the which cause Iudas said to Thamar his daughter in law: Be a widow in thy fathers house, til Sela my sonne grow vp: for he feared lest he also might dye, as his brethren. Who went her way and dwelt in her fathers house. 12. And after many dayes were come and gone, the daughter of Sue the wife of Iudas died. Who after his mourning hauing receiued consolation, went vnto the shearers of his sheep, himselfe and Hiras his shepheard of his flocke, the Odolamite, into Thamnas. 13. And it was told (b) Thamar that her father in law came vp into Thamnas to sheare his sheep. 14. Who putting off the garments of her widowhood, tooke a veile: and changing her habite, sate in the crosse way that leadeth to Thamnas: because Sela was growne, and she had not taken him to her husband. 15. Whom when Iudas had seen, he supposed her to be an harlot: for she had couered her face, lest she should be knowen. 16. And going vnto her, he said: Suffer me to lye with thee: for he knew her not to be his daughter in law. Who answering: What wilt thou giue me that thou maiest enioy my companie? 17. He said: I wil send thee a kid out of the flockes. And when she said againe: I wil suffer that thou wilt, if thou giue me a pledge, til thou

(a) Moyses inserteth here this historie, because Christ should be borne of the genealogie of Iudas and Phares. Mat. 1.

(b) Thamar sinned desiring to be a mother without lawfull marriage: and Iudas sinned lying with a supposed harlot. S. Aug. li. 12. c. 61. 62. & 63. cont. Faust.

send that which thou doest promise; 18. Iudas said: What wilt thou to be giuen thee for a pledge? She answered: Thy ring, and bracelet, and staffe which thou holdest in thy hand. The woman therefore by once accompanying conceaued, 19. and rising she went her way: and putting off the apparel which she had taken, put on the garments of her widowhood. 20. And Iudas sent a kid by his shepheard the Odolamite, that he might receiue the pledge againe, which he had giuen to the woman: who when he had not found her, 21. he asked the men of that place: Where is the woman that sate in the crosse way? Al making answer: There was no harlot in this place, 22. he returned to Iudas, and said to him: I haue not found her: yea the men also of that place said vnto me, that there neuer sate harlot there. 23. Iudas said: Let her take it to her, surely she can not charge vs with a lye, I sent the kid which I promised: and thou didest not find her. 24. And behold after three months they told Iudas, saying: Thamar thy daughter in law hath played the harlot, and her bellie seemeth to swell. And Iudas said: Bring her forth (c) that she may be burnt. 25. Who when she was led to execution, she sent to her father in law, saying: By that man, whose these things are, haue I conceaued: looke whose the ring is, and the bracelet, and the staffe. 26. Who acknowledging the guilts, said: She is iuster then I: because I did not giue her to Sela my sonne. But he knew her no more. 27. And when she was readie to be brought to bed, there appeared twinnes in her bellie: and in the verie deliuerie of the infants, one put forth the hand, wherein the midwife tyed a skarlet string, saying: 28. This shal come forth the former. 29. But he drawing backe his hand, the other came forth: and the woman said: Why is the partition diuided for thee? and for this cause called his name Phares. 30. Afterward his brother came forth, in whose hand was the skarlet string: whom she called Zara.

(c) Adulterie punishable by death, in the law of nature.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. XXXVIII.

How a man might marie his brothers wife in the law of nature. The Churches decree is now our rule.

8. Raise seed to thy brother.] By this it appeareth, that in the law of nature, when a married man died without issue, his brother might lawfully marie the widow; whose first sonne should be counted and called the sonne and heyre of his vnkle dead before. The same was established by the law of Moyses (Deut. 25) Which being now abrogated, it remaineth in the Churches power to constitute a law in this behalf, and consequently to dispence in the same, so farre as is agreeable with the law of nature. Wherof see more Leuit. 18.

C H A P. X X X I X.

Ioseph being in great credite with his Master, hath the whole charge of his house. 7. Contemning his Mystris sollicitation to incontinence, 13. is falsly accused by her to his Master, 20. and cast into prison. 21. Where againe he getteth credite, and hath the charge of al the prisoners.

HERFORE Ioseph was brought into Ægypt, and Putiphar an Eunuch of Pharao, Prince of his armie, a man of Ægypt bought him, at the hand of the Ismaelites, by whom he was brought. 2. And (a) our Lord was with him, and he was a man that in al things did prosperously: and he dwelt in his Masters house, 3. who knew verie wel that our Lord was with him, and that al things which he did were directed by him in his hand. 4. And Ioseph found grace before his Master, and ministred to him: by whom being made ruler ouer al his things, he gouerned the house committed to him, and al things that were deliuered vnto him: 5. and our Lord blessed the house of the Ægyptian for Iosephs sake, and multiplied as wel in houses, as in lands al his substance. 6. Neither knew he any other thing, but the bread which he did eate. And Ioseph was of beautiful countenance, and comely fauoured to behold. 7. After manie dayes therefore his Mistresse cast her eyes on Ioseph, and said: Sleep with me. 8. Who (b) in no wise assenting to that wicked act, said to her: Behold, my Master hauing deliuered al things vnto me, knoweth not what he hath in his owne house: 9. neither is there any thing which is not in my power, or that he hath not deliuered to me, beside thee, that art his wife: (c) how therefore can I doe this wicked thing, and sinne against my God? 10. With these kind of words (d) day by day both the woman was importune vpon the yong man, and he refused the aduoutrie. 11. And it chanced on a certaine day, that Ioseph went into the house, and did some businesse without anie man with him: 12. and she catching the skirt of his garment, said: Sleep with me. Who (e) leauing the cloake in her hand, fled, and went forth abroad. 13. And when the woman saw the garment in her hands, and her selfe to be contemned, 14. she called to her the men of her house, and said to them: See he hath brought in an Hebrew to delude vs: he came vpon me for to lie with me; and when I had cried out, 15. and he heard my voice, he left the cloake that I held, and fled forth. 16. For an argument therefore of her credit she referued the cloake, & shewed it to her husband

(a) Ioseph endowed with al vertues was a special mirror of chastitie. S. Amb. li. de Ioseph. c. 1.

The foure cardinal vertues reigned in him.

(b) Temperance.

(c) Iustice.

(d) Fortitude.

(e) Prudence.

returning home, 17. and said: There came vnto me the Hebrew seruant, whom thou didest bring hither, for to delude me: 18. and when he heard me crie, he left the cloake which I held, and fled forth. 19. His Master hearing these things, and giuing ouer light credit to his wiues words, was very wrath: 20. and deliuered Ioseph into prison, where the Kings prisoners were kept, and he was there shut vp. 21. And (f) our Lord was with Ioseph, and hauing mercie vpon him gaue him grace in the sight of the chiefe of the prison. 22. Who deliuered in his hand al the prisoners that were kept in custodie: and whatsoever was done, was vnder him. 23. Neither did himselve know any thing, hauing committed al things to him: for our Lord was with him, and directed al his workes.

f. God is more specially with his seruants in affliction then in prosperitie. S. Amb. li. de Ioseph. c. 5.

C H A P. X L.

Ioseph interpreteth the dreames of two Eunuchs prisoners, 12. that the one should be restored to his office, 16. the other be hanged. 20. The third day the euent declared the interpretations to be true, but Ioseph is forgotten.

H E S E things being so done, it chanced that two Eunuchs, the cup-bearer of the King of Ægypt, and his baker, offended against their Lord. 2. And Pharao being wrath against them (for the one was chiefe of the cup-bearers, the other chiefe baker) 3. he sent them into the prison of the captaine of the soldiers, in the which Ioseph also was prisoner. 4. But the keeper of the prison deliuered them to Ioseph, who also ministred to them: some litle time was passed, and they were kept in custodie. 5. And they saw each of them both a dreame in one night, according to an interpretation agreeing to themselues: 6. to whom when Ioseph was entred in the morning, and saw them sad, 7. he asked them, saying: Why is your countenance sadder to day then it was wont? 8. Who answered: We haue seen a dreame, and there is no bodie to interprete it to vs. And Ioseph said to them: Why doth not interpretation belong to God? Tel me what you haue seen. 9. The chiefe of the cup-bearers first told his dreame: I saw before me a vine, 10. wherein were three branches, growing by litle and litle into buds, and after the blossomes the grapes waxed ripe: 11. and the cup of Pharao in my hand: and I tooke the grapes, and wrong them into the cup which I held, and I gaue the cup to Pharao. 12. Ioseph answered: This is the interpretation of the dreame: The three branches, are yet three dayes: 13. after the which Pharao wil remeber thy seruice, & wil restore thee to thy old degree: & thou shalt giue him the cup according to thyne office, as before thou haddest wont to doe. 14. Only remember me, when it shal be wel with thee, and doe me this mercie, to put Pharao in mind that he take me out of this prison: 15. because I was taken away by stealth, out of the land of the Hebrewes, and here an innocent was I cast into the lake. 16. The Master of the bakers seeing that he had wisely resolved the dreame, he said: And I also saw a dreame, That I had three baskets of meale vpon my head: 17. and that in one basket that was the higher, I caried al meates that are made by the art of baking, and that the birds did eate out of it. 18. Ioseph answered: This is the interpretation of the dreame: The three baskets, are yet three dayes: 19. after the which Pharao wil take thy head from thee, and hang thee (a) on the crosse, and the foules shal teare thy flesh. 20. The third day after this was the birth-day of Pharao: who making a great feast to his seruants, at the banquet he remembered the Master of the cup-bearers, and the chiefe of the bakers. 21. And he restored the one into his place, to reach him the cup, 22. the other he hanged on a gibbet, that the truth of the interpreter might be approued. 23. And yet notwithstanding the chiefe of the cup-bearers, prosperous things succeeding, forgat his interpreter.

when

(a) Death on the crosse was most cruel, & most ignominious. Cicero 7. Ver. yet suffered by Christ and by him made glorious. Sap. 2. Philup 2.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. X L.

8. Doth not interpretation belong to God?) Dreames doe come of diuers causes: Some of natural complexion or disposition, wherby Philosophers or Phisitians may probably iudge of the state of mans bodie. Some are rather effects of things past, then signes of anie things to come. Of which sort the wise man saith: Dreames doe follow manie eares (Eccle. 5.) Some are suggested by euil spirits, either to flatter worldlings with great pretenses, or to terrifie weake minds with dangers and afflictions, or to vexe and trouble those in sleep, whom they can not easily moue waking, as S. Gregorie discourseth (li. 8. Moral. in cap. 7. Iob.) Some dreames are of God, as in Iacob, Ioseph, these Eunuchs, Pharao, Nabuchodonosor, and others both good and euil men. But to discern and assuredly to iudge of some dreames, whether they be from God, by holie Angels, or illusions of euil spirits, is a special giuft of God, as also the interpretation thereof belongeth to God, as Ioseph here testifieth. Whosoeur therefore wil be secure must relie either vpon expresse Scripture, or iudgement of the Church, as in ominous speeches was noted before (chap. 24.) Otherwise the general rule is, not to obserue dreames, Deut. 18.

Dan. 4.

Some dreames are natural.

Some are illusions of euil spirits.

Some are from God,

Holy Scripture and the Church are iudges of doubtful dreames.

C H A P. X L I.

Pharao dreaming of fat & leane kine: 5. also of ful and thinne eares of corne, 8. no other being able to interprete, 9. Ioseph is remembered. 25. Who interpreting the same, 38. is made ruler ouer al Ægypt, 50. marieth, and hath two sonnes, Manasses and Ephraim.

(a) Pharao his dreames, and his Eunuches were propheticall. For by them God shewed things to come v. 25. yet they were no Prophets, but Ioseph: who had the gift to interpret them. S. Aug. l. 12. c. 9. de Gen. ad lit. S. Greg. l. 11. Moral. in c. 13. Job.

AFTER two yeares (a) Pharao saw a dreame. He thought he stood vpon a riuer, 2. out of the which came vp seuen kine, faire and fat exceedingly: and they fed in marsh places. 3. Other seuen also came vp out of the riuer, foule, and caryan leane: and they fed on the very banke of the riuer, in green places: 4. and they deuoured them that had the merueylous beautie and good state of bodies. Pharao after he waked, 5. slept againe, and saw another dreame: Seuen eares of corne grew forth vpon one stalke ful and faire: 6. there sprang also other eares as many, thinne and blasted with adustion, 7. deuouring al the beautie of the former. Pharao awaking vp after his rest, 8. and when morning was come being frighted with feare, he sent to al the interpreters of Ægypt, and to al the wise men: and they being called for, told them his dreame, neither was there anie that could interprete it. 9. Then at length the Master of the cup-bearers remembreing himselfe, said: I confesse my sinne: 10. The King being angrie with his seruants, commanded me and the chiefe of the bakers to be cast into the prison of the Captaine of the soldiers: 11. where in one night both of vs. saw a dreame portending things to come. 12. There was there a yong man an Hebrew, seruant to the same Captaine of the soldiers, to whom telling our dreames, 13. we heard whatsoeuer afterward the euent of the thing proued to be so. For I was restored to my office, and he was hanged vpon a gibbet. 14. Forthwith at the Kings commandement, Ioseph being brought out of the prison they polled him: and changing his apparel, brought him vnto him. 15. To whom he said: I haue seen dreames, and there is not anie that can expound them; which I haue heard, thou doest most wisely interprete. 16. Ioseph answered: Without me, God shal answer prosperous things to Pharao. 17. Pharao therefore told that he had seen: Me thought I stood vpon the banke of the riuer, 18. and seuen kine came vp out of the banke of the riuer, exceeding faire, and ful of flesh: which grazed on green places in a marsh pasture. 19. And behold there followed these other seuen kine, so passing ill fauoured and leane, that I neuer saw the like in the land of Ægypt; 20. which hauing deuoured and consumed the former, 21. gaue no token of their fulnes: but with the like leaunenes & deformitic looked

looked beaully. Awaking, and fallen againe into a deep sleep, 22. I saw a dreame: Seuen eares of corne grew forth vpon one stalke, ful and verie faire. 23. Other seuen also thinne and blasted with aduotion, sprang of the stalke, 24. which deuoured the beautie of the former: I told the dreame to the coniecturers, and there is no man that can declare it. 25. Ioseph answered: The Kings dreame is one: God hath shewed to Pharao (b) the things that he wil doe. 26. The seuen faire kine, and the seuen ful eares, be seuen yeares of plentifulnes: and both containe the selfe-same meaning of the dreame. 27. Also the seuen leane and thinne kine, that came vp after them, and the seuen thinne eares, and blasted with the burning wind, are seuen yeares of famine to come. 28. Which shal be fulfilled in this order. 29. Behold there shal come seuen yeares of great fertilitie in the whole Land of Ægypt: 30. after which shal folow other seuen yeares of so great sterilitie, that al the aboundance before shal be forgotten: for the famine shal consume al the land, 31. and the greatnes of the scarcitie shal destroy the greatnes of the plentie. 32. And in that thou didest see the second time a dreame perteing to the same thing, it is a token of the certeintie, for that the word of God shal come to passe, and be fulfilled speedily. 33. Now therfore let the King prouide a wise man and industrious, & make him Ruler ouer the Land of Ægypt: 34. that he may appoint ouerseers ouer al countries: and gather into barnes the fifth part of the fruits, during the seuen yeares of the fertilitie, 35. that now presently shal ensue: and let al the corne be laid vp vnder Pharaocs hands, and let it be reserued in the cities. 36. And let it be in a readines against the famine of seuen yeares to come, which shal oppresse Ægypt, and the land shal not be consumed with scarcitie. 37. The counsel pleased Pharao, and al his seruants: 38. and he spake to them: Can we find such an other man, that is ful of the spirit of God? 39. He said therfore to Ioseph: Because God hath shewed thee al things that thou hast spoken, can I find a wiser and one like vnto thee? 40. Thou shalt be ouer my house, & at the commandement of thy mouth al the people shal obey: only in the throne of the Kingdome I wil goe before thee. 41. And againe Pharao said to Ioseph: Behold, I haue appointed thee ouer the whole land of Ægypt. 42. And he tooke his ring from his owne hand, and gaue it into his hand: and he put vpon him a silke robe, and put a chaine of gold about his necke. 43. And he made him goe vp into his second chariot, the cryer proclayming that al should bow their knee before him, and that they should know he was made Gouvernour ouer the whole Land of Ægypt. 44. And the King said to Ioseph: I am Pharao: without thy commandment no man shal moue hand or foot in al the land of Ægypt. 45. And he turned his name, & called him in the Ægyptian tongue the Saviour of the world. And he gaue him to wife Aseneth the daughter of Putiphar (c) Priest of Heliopolis. Ioseph therfore went forth to the land of Ægypt (46. and he was thirtie yeares old when he stood in the fight of King Pharao) and did circuit al the countries of Ægypt. 47. And the fertilitie of the seuen yeares came : and the corne being bound vp into sheaues was gathered together into the barnes of Ægypt. 48. Al the aboundance also of graine was laid vp in euerie citie. 49. And there was so great aboundance of wheat , that it became equal to the sand of the sea , and the plentie exceeded measure. 50. And there were borne vnto Ioseph two sonnes before the famine came : whom Afeneth the daughter of Putiphar Priest of Heliopolis bare him. 51. And he called the name of the first-begotten * Manasses , saying : God made me to forget al my labours , and my fathers house. 52. The name also of the second he called * Ephraim , saying : God hath made me to encrease in the land of my pouertie. 53. Therefore when the seuen yeares of the plentifulnes , that had been in Ægypt were passed : 54. the seuen yeares of scarcitie began to come , which Ioseph foretold : and in the whole world the famine preuailed , but in al the land of Ægypt there was bread. 55. The which being in hunger , the pcole cried to Pharao , desiring food. To whom he answered: Goe ye to Ioseph : & whatsoeuer he shal say to you , that doe ye. 56. And the famine dayly encreased in al the land : and Ioseph opened al the barnes , and sold to the Ægyptians : for them also the famine had oppressed. 57. And al Prouinces came into Ægypt , to buy victuals , and to moderate the miserie of the scarcitie.

(b) These things came to passe by Gods particular providence. Psal. 4. God called (or caused) a famine upon the Land.

(c) Cohen signifieth Priest; as not only the latin, but also the 70. & Philo and Iosephus here translate; though sometimes it signifieth Prince, as the Chaldey paraphrasis interpreteth, wherby it is probable that this Putiphar was both a Priest and a Prince.

* Oblivion.
* Fruitful or Growing.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. X L I.

Holy Ioseph suddenly advanced.

43; Made Gouverneur.] It is easie in the eyes of God suddenly to enrich the poore. For who would haue thought (saith Philo) that in one day a bondman should be made a Lord, a poore prisoner the chiefe of the nobilitie, an vnder-gaolor the Viceroy or Kings deputie, for a common prison to haue a Kinglie court of his owne, from extreme ignominie, to ascend into so high a roome of dignitie?

Eecl. 11.
li. de Ioseph.

Ioseph truly called the reuealer of secrets.

But more honourably, the Sauiour of the world.

Therein a figure of Christ.

45. Sauiour of the world) In the original text the new name and title giuen by Pharao to Ioseph is expressed by these two wordes, Saphnath pahanaach: the former saphnath in Hebrew signifieth a secret or hidden thing, of saphan to hide: but the signification of the other word pahanaach, is more vncertaine, being found nowhere els in the holy Bible. The Rabins doe commonly interpret them both together, The man to whom secrets are reuealed, or The reuealer of secrets: and so this name agreeth wel to Ioseph, in respect of the giift of interpreting dreames. But besides his interpreting, he also gaue most wise counsel, that tended to the saftie of manie, which, it is like, Pharao ment to expresse by this new name. And S Hierom, who doubtles with great diligence, and no lesse iudgement, searched the true signification therof, saith, that albeit this name in Hebrew soundeth The finder out of secrets, yet seeing it was imposed by an Ægyptian (who knew no Hebrew) the reason therof must be had of the same tong; and these two wordes in the Ægyptian language are intetpreted The Sauiour of the world; for that he deliuered the world frō the imminent ruine of famine. Thus saith S. Hierom. And so most aptly the figure answereth to Christ, the true Sauiour of the world.

C H A P. X L I I.

Iacob sendeth ten of his sonnes to buy corne in Ægypt. 7. where Ioseph knowing them, they not knowing him, with hard speeches putteeth them in prison. 18. At last Simeon remayning in custodie, til Benjamin be brought, the rest are dismissed, 25. with their money, vnknownen to them, in their sakes.

AND Iacob hearing that victuals were sold in Ægypt, he said to his sonnes: Why neglect ye? 2. I haue heard that wheat is sold in Ægypt: Goe ye downe and buy vs necessaries, that we may liue and not be consumed with lacke. 3. Therefore the ten brethren of Ioseph going downe to buy corne in Ægypt, 4. Benjamin being kept at home by Iacob, who said to his brethren: Lest perhaps he take any harme in the iourney: 5. entred into the land of Ægypt with others that went to buy. For the famine was in the land of Chanaan. 6. And Ioseph was Prince in the land of Ægypt, and at his pleasure corne was sold to the people. And when his brethren had adored him, 7. and he knew them, he spake as it were to strangers " somewhat roughly, asking them: From whence came you? Who answered: From the Land of Chanaan, that we may buy necessaries to liue. 8. And yet himselve knowing his brethren, was not knownen of them. 9. And remembering the dreames, which sometimes he had seen, he said to them: " You are spies: to view the weaker parts of the land you are come. 10. Who said: It is not so, my Lord, but thy seruantes are come to buy victuals. 11. We are al the sones of one man: we are come as men of peace, neither doe thy seruantes goe about anie eul. 12. To whom he answered: It is otherwise: you came to consider the vndefensed parts of this land. 13. But they: We thy seruantes, say they, are twelue brethren, the sonnes of one man in the Land of Chanaan: the yongest is with our father, the other is not liuing. 14. This is it, quoth he, that I said: You are spies. 15. Now presently I wil take a trial of you: " by the health of Pharao you shal not depart hence, vntil your yongest brother doe come. 16. Send you one of you to bring him: and you shal be in prison til the things be proued which you haue said, whether they be true or false: (a) otherwise by the health of Pharao you are spies. 17. Therefore he put them in prison three dayes. 18. And the thirdd day bringing them out of prison, he said: Doe as I haue said, and you shal liue: for I feare God. 19. If you be men of peace, let one of your brethren be bound in prison: and goe ye your wayes, and carie the corne that you haue bought vnto your houses, 20. and bring your yongest brother to me, that I may

(a) If these things which ye say be proued false, ye are to be held as spies for your lying.
S Aug. 9. 139.
super Gen.

proue your sayings to be true , and that you die not. They did as he had said , 21. and they talked one to an other : Worthily doe we suffer these things , because we haue sinned against our brother , seeing the distresse of his soule whilest he besought vs , and we heard not : therefore is this tribulation come vpon vs. 22. Among whom Ruben one of them , said : Why , did not I say to you : Sinne not against the boy ; and you heard me not : Loe his bloud is required. 23. And they knew not that Ioseph vnderstood : because he spake to them by an interpreter. 24. And he turned away himselfe a litle while , and wept : and returning he spake to them. 25. And taking Simeon , and binding him in their presence , he commanded his seruants that they should fil vp their sackes with wheat , and put euerie mans money againe in their bags , giuing them besides for to eate on the way : who did so. 26. But they carying their corne vpon their asses , tooke their iourney. 27. And one of them opening his sacke to giue his beast prouender in the Inne , beholding the money in the sackes mouth , 28. he said to his brethren: My money is giuen me againe , behold it is in the sacke. And being astonished and troubled amongst themselues , they said : What is this , that God hath done vnto vs ? 29. And they came to Iacob their father into the land of Chanaan , & they told him al things that had chanced vnto them , saying : 30. The Lord of the land spake to vs roughly , & thought vs to be spies of the prouince , 31. to whom we answered : We are men of peace , neither doe we attempt any treachery. 32. We are twelue brethren borne of one father : one is not liuing , the yongest is with our father in the Land of Chanaan. 33. Who said to vs: Thus shal I trie that you be men of peace : Leauē one of your brethren with me , and take ye prouision necessarie for your houses , and goe your wayes , 34. and bring your yongest brother to me , that I may know you are not spies : and you may receiue this felow againe , that is kept in prison : and afterwards my haue licence to buy what things you wil. 35. This being said , when they powred out their corne , euerie man found his money tied in the mouth of the sackes : and al being astonished together , 36. their father Iacob said : You haue made me to be without children , Ioseph is not liuing , Simeon is kept in bonds , and Benjamin you wil take away : al these euils are fallen vpon me. 37. To whom Ruben answered : Kill my two sonnes , if I bring him not againe to thee : deliuer him into my hand , and I wil restore him vnto thee. 38. But he said : My sonne shal not goe downe with you : his brother is dead , and he alone is remayning : if any aduersitie shal chance to him in the land to the which you goe , you shal bring downe (b) my hoare haire with sorow " vnto hel.

(b) Myne old age, or, me an old man.

S. Aug. 9. 142.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. X L I I.

7. Somewhat roughly.] Ioseph afflicted his brethren to bring them into consideration of their former faults, and to true contrition. Without which, though iniuries be remitted by men, yet the offenders are not absolved before God. Therefore he louing them and hating their sinne, by affliction brought them to vnderstanding. Who being at last truly penitent, he acknowledged and most louingly embraced them, and prouided for them in their necessitie. S. Aug. ser. 82. de temp. And this example S. Gregorie (ho. 22. in Ezech.) applieth to the instruction of Pastours of soules: that they procure true repentance before absolution of sinnes: Ne si inordinate culpa dimittitur, is cui est culpabilis, in reatu grauius astringatur: Left, if a fault be disorderly remitted, he that is faultie be more grievously intangled in guilt of conscience: therefore with much discretie seueritie in shew, and clemencie in mind are required.

9. You are spies.] To the same purpose he called them spies. After the manner of examiners calling suspected persons, as they may seeme to be; therby to trie what they would answer. Al for their holisome penance, and withal to procure them afterwards more compassion among the Aegyptians. S. Aug. q. 139. super Gen.

15. By the health of Pharao.] Ioseph in swearing by Pharaos health, honoured God, the giuer and conseruer of health, life, power, dignitie, and al that was in Pharao. Wherby we see that this manner of swearing was lawful. As now likewise Christians lawfully swear not only by God, but also by his creatures, saying: As God shal help them, and his holie Ghospels: so it be with due circumstances and requisite conditions, namely with those which the Prophet Hieremie mentioneth, in truth, in iudgement, and in iustice: not false, rash, nor of an vnjust thing: nor infrequent and common talke (a most bad custome) for so thou must neither swear by God himself, nor (as our Sauour teacheth) by heauen, nor by the earth, nor by Hierusalem, nor by thy head, nor anie thing els: signifying that in some case, and due manner we may sw care by any of these. And in this particular Ioseph did rather name Pharao in his oath then God, as wel to conceale himself as yet from his brethren, as to strike more terrour in their hearts by naming his Master the King, in whom he had mere interest then they.

38. Vnto hel) To that place where soules remaine, as before chap. 37. v. 35. For this phrase, of bringing vnto hel, and descending into hel, vsually spoken in the old Testament, of al sorts of soules both iust and wicked, signifieth that al went that time to hel, that is, to a low place, farre distant from heauen: But some to rest, and some to paine. Wherupon S. Hierome saith: Hel is a place wherein soules are included, either in rest, or in paines, according to the qualitie of their deserts.

Contrition necessary for the remission of sinnes.

Disorderly remission is hurtful.

Ioseph calleth his brothers spies for their good.

It is lawful to swear by creatures.

In some case more conuenient then to name God expressly.

Diuers mansions in hel.

Hier. 4.

Mat. 5.

C H A P. X L I I I.

The famine pressing the land, Iacob willth his sonnes to goe againe into Ægypt to buy more corne: 3. Who refusing to goe without Benjamin, 11. he is sent with them, and presents and double money, lest the former were brought back by errour. 16. Ioseph seeing Benjamin, 23. deliuereth Simeon, and entertaineth them al at dinner.

IN THE meane time the famine did oppresse al the land very fore. 2. And the provision being spent, which they had brought out of Ægypt, Iacob said to his sonnes: Goe againe, and buy vs a little victual. . . Iudas answered: That same man denounced vnto vs vnder attestation of an oath, saying: You shal not see my face, vnlesse you bring your yongest brother with you. 4. If therfore thou wilt send him with vs, we wil goe forward together, and wil buy necessaries for thee: 5. but if thou wilt not, we wil not goe: for the man, as we haue often said, denounced vnto vs saying: You shal not see my face without your yongest brother. 6. Israel said to them: You haue done this to my miserie, in that you told him that you had an other brother also. 7. But they answered: The man asked vs in order our progenie: if our father liued; if we had a brother: and we answered him consequently to that which he demanded: could we know that he would say: Bring hither your brother with you? 8. Iudas also said to his father: Send the boy with me, that we may set forward, and may liue: lest we and our litle ones die. 9. I take vpon me the boy: require him of my hand, vnlesse I bring him againe, and restore him to thee; I wil be (a) guiltie of sinne against thee for euer. 10. If delay had not been made, we had been come now the second time. 11. Therfore Israel their father said to them: If it must needs be so, doe that you wil: take of the best fruits of the land in your vessels, and carie to the man for presents, a courtesie of rosen, & of hony, & of incense, of mirthe, of terebinth, and of almonds. 12. Double mency also carie with you: and recarie that you found in your sackes, lest perhaps it was done by an errour: 13. but take also your brother, and goe to the man. 14. And my God Almighty make him fauourable vnto you; and send backe with you your brother, whom he keepeth, and this Benjamin: as for me I shal be desolate without children. 15. The men therfore tooke the presents, & the double mency, & Benjamin; & went downe into Ægypt, & stood before Ioseph. 16. Whō when he had seen, & Benjamin withal, he comanded the steward of his house, saying: Bring in the men into the house, and kil victimes, and prepare a feast; because they shal eate with me at noone. 17. He did that which was commanded him, and brought the men into the house. 18. And there beeing sore afraid, they said one to another: because of the money which we caried backe the first time in our sackes, we are brought in: that he may turne vpon vs * a false accusation, and forcibly bring both vs and our asses into bondage. 19. Wherefore in the verie dore stepping to the steward of the house, 20. they spake: Sir, we desire thee to heare vs. Now once before we came downe to buy prouision: 21. which being bought, when we were come to the Inne, we opened our sackes, and found our money in the mouths of the sackes: which we haue now brought againe in the same weight. 22. But we haue brought other money besides, to buy the things that are necessarie for vs: our conscience is not priuie, who put it in our bags. 23. But he answered: Peace be with you, teare you not: your God, and the God of your father hath giuen you treasures in your sackes. For the money, which you gaue me, I haue for good. And he brought forth Simcon vnto them. 24. And being brought into the house, he fetched water, and they washed their feet, and he gaue prouender to their asses. 25. But they made readie the presents, til Ioseph should come in at noone: for they had heard that they should eate bread there. 26. Therefore Ioseph came in to his house, and they offered him presents holding them in their hands, and (b) they adored prostrate to the ground. 27. But he curteously resaluting them, asked them saying: Is the old man your father in health, of whom you told me? Is he yet liuing? 28. Who answered: Thy seruant our father is in health, he is yet liuing. And bowing themselues they adored him. 29. And Ioseph lifting vp his eyes, saw Benjamin his brother of the same mother, and said: Is this your yong brother, of whom you told me? And againe: God, saith he, be merciful vnto thee my sonne. 30. And he made hast because his hart was moued vpon his brother, and teares brake forth: and entring into his chamber he wept. 31. And when he had washed his face, comming forth againe, he restrained himselfe, and said: Set bread on the table. 32. Which being set downe, to Ioseph apart, and to his brethren apart, to the Aegyptians also that did eate with him apart (for it is vnlawful for the Aegyptians to eate with the Hebrewes, and (c) they thinke such a feast prophane) 33. they sate before him, the first begotten according to his first-birth, and the yongest according to his age. And they maruailed out of measure, 34. taking the portions that they receiued of him: and the greater portion came to Benjamin, so that it exceeded (d) by five partes. And they dranke and were in ebriated with him.

(a) Guilt of sinne is a greater bond then the life of Rubens sonnes, which he offered, and Iacob yealded not therto; & yet granted to this offer of Iudas

Calumnism.

(b) They now adore him, whom they sold, lest they should adore him. S. Greg. 10. 22. in Ezech.

(c) See Exodi 8. v. 26.

(d) Euerie one hauing five portions, Benjamin had double. e. Iosephus l. 1. 214.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. X L I I I.

Moderation to be used in feasting.

34. [Inebriated.] Not that they did eate or drinke too much, or fel into excess, but competently. As the earth is said to be inebriated with raine (Psal. 64.) being sufficiently watered, and so made fruitful, not drowned, nor ouerflowed, for so it is vnfruitful. S. Hierome Tradit. Heb. S. Aug. q 144. super Gen.

C H A P. X L I I I.

Ioseph causeth their sackes to be filled with corne, and their money to be put againe therein, and in Beniamins sack also a siluer cuppe, 4. and when they were parted, sending after them, chargeth them with theft. 12. And the cuppe being found in Beniamins sack, they at much afflicted returne to Ioseph. 17. who threatening to keepe Benjamin, 18. Iudas intreateth, 32. & finally offereth himselfe to seruitude for him.

AND Ioseph commanded the steward of his house, saying: Fill their sackes with corne, as much as they can hold: and put the money of euerie one in the top of his sack. 2. And in the sackes mouth (a) of the younger put my siluer cup, and the price which he gaue for the wheat. And it was so done. 3. And when the morning rose, they were dismiss with their asses. 4. And they were now departed out of the citie, and had gone forward a little way: then Ioseph sending for the steward of his house, said: Arise, quoth he, and pursue the men: and ouertaking them say to them: Why haue you rendred euil for good? 5. The cup which you haue stollen is that wherin my Lord doth drinke, and wherin he is wout to diuine: you haue done a verie euil thing. 6. He did as he had comanded. And hauing ouertaken them, he spake to them in the same order. 7. Who answered: Why doth our Lord speake so, as though thy seruants had committed so haynous a fact? 8. The money that we found in the top of our sackes, we recarred to thee from the land of Chanaan: & how followeth it, that we haue stollen out of thy Lordes house gold or siluer? 9. With whom soeuer of thy seruants that shal be found which thou seekest, let him die, and we will be the bondmen of our Lord. 10. Who said to them: Be it done according to your sentence: with whom soeuer it shal be found, be he my bondmen, and you shal be guiltles. 11. Therefore in hast taking downe their sackes vpon the ground, euerie mā opened. 12. Which when he had searched,

(a) By this Ioseph tried his brethrens affection, whether they would intreat for Benjamin, or suffer him to be captiue: as they had before sold himselfe to captiui- tie. The end of 10, in Gen.

searched, beginning from the elder euen to the yongest, he found the cup in Beniamins sack. 13. But they (b) renting their garments, and loading their asses againe, returned into the towne. 14. And Iudas foremost with his brethren entred in to Ioseph (for he was not yet gone out of the place) and they fel together before him on the ground. 15. To whom he said : Why would you doe so ? know you not that there is not the like to me in the science (c) of diuining. 16. To whom Iudas said: What shal we answer, my Lord? or what shal we speake, or be able iustly to pretend? God hath found the iniquitie of thy seruants : loe we are al bondmen to my Lord, both we, & he with whom the cup was found. 17. Ioseph answered : God forbid that I should so doe : he that stole the cup, the same be my bondman: and goe you free vnto your father. 18. And Iudas approaching neerer said boldly : I beseech thee my Lord, let thy seruant speake a word in thine eares, and be not angrie with thy seruant : for after Pharao thou art 19. my Lord. Thou didest aske thy seruantes the first time : Haue you a father or a brother ? 20. and we answered thee my Lord: We haue a father an old man, and a little boy, that was borne in his old age ; whose brother by the mother is dead : and his mother hath him only, and his father loueth him tenderly. 21. And thou saidst to thy seruants : Bring him hither to me, and I wil set mine eyes on him. 22. We suggested to my Lord : The boy can not leaue his father : for if he leaue him, he wil die. 23. And thou saidest to thy seruants: Vnlesse your yongest brother come with you, you shal no more see my face. 24. Therefore when we were gone vp to thy seruant our father, we told him al things that my Lord did speake. 25. And our father said : Goe againe, and buy vs a litle wheat. 26. To whom we said : We can not goe : if our yongest brother shal goe downe with vs, we wil set forward together: otherwise he being absent, we dare not see the mans face. 27. Wherunto he answered : You know that my wife bare me two. 28. One went forth, and you said : A beast did deuour him: and hitherto he appeareth not. 29. If you take this also, and ought befall him in the way, you shal bring downe (d) my hoare hayres with sorow vnto hel. 30. Therefore if I shal enter to thy seruant our father, and the boy be wanting (wheras his life dependeth vpon the life of him) 31. and he shal see that he is not with vs, he wil dye, and thy seruants shal bring downe his hoare hayres with sorow vnto hel. 32. Let me be thy proper seruant that did take him into my protection and promised, saying: Vnlesse I bring him againe I wil be guilty of sinne against my father for euer. 33. I therefore thy seruant wil tary instead of the child in the seruice of my Lord, and let the child goe vp with his brethren. 34. For I can not returne to my father, the child being absent ; lest I staue by a witnes of the calamitie that shal oppresse my father.

(b) O torments of mercie ! he vexeth whom he loueth. S.

Greg. ho. 22. in Ezech.

(c) Ioseph being indeed a Prophet, knowing more then al soothsayers in Ægypt spoke of himselfe as he was esteemed in that place. S.

Aug. 145. super Gen.

(d) See Gen. 42. v. 38.

C H A P. X L V.

Ioseph manifesteth himself to his brethren. Who being much terrified he comforteth them, and weeping embraceth euerie one. 16. The bruit wherof comming to Pharao, he congratulating commandeth Ioseph to cal his father with al his familie into A Egypt. 21. So the eleuen brothers are sent away with gifts & prouision for Iacobs iourney. 26. Al which the father vnderstanding is reuined in spirit.

IOSEPH could no longer refrayne manie standi^{ng} by in pres^{en}ce: wherupon he commanded that al should goe forth, and no stranger should be present at their acknowledging one of another. 2. And he lifted vp his voice with weeping, which the AEgyptians heard, and al the house of Pharao. 3. And he said to his Brethren: I am Ioseph: is my father yet liuing? His brethren could not answer him being terribly astonished out of measure. 4. To whom gently he said: Come hither to me. And when they were come neer him, I am, quoth he, Ioseph your brother, whom you sold into AEgypt. 5. Be not affraid, neither let it seeme to you a hard case that you did sell me into these countries: for (a) God sent me before you into AEgypt for your preseruation. 6. For it is two yeares sincc the famine began to be vpon the earth, and yet fise yeares remaine, wherin there can be neither earing not reaping. 7. And God sent me before, that you may be preserued vpon the earth, and may haue victuals to liue. 8. Not by your counsaile, but by the wil of God was I sent hither: who hath made me as it were a father to Pharao, and Lord of his whole house, and Prince in al the land of AEgypt. 9. Make hast and get ye vp to my father, and you shal say to him: Thy sonne Ioseph willeth thus: God hath made me Lord of the whole land of AEgypt: come downe to me, tary not. 10. And thou shalt dwel in the land of Gessen: and thou shalt be neer me thou and thy sonnes, and thy sonnes children, thy sheep, and thy heards, and al things that thou dost possesse. 11. And there I wil feed thee (for yet there are fise yeares of famine remayning) lest both thou perish, and thy house, and al things that thou dost possesse. 12. Behold, your eyes, and the eyes of my brother Benjamin doe see, that it is my mouth that speaketh vnto you. 13. Report to my father my whole glorie & al things that you haue seen in AEgypt: make hast, and bring him to me. 14. And falling vpon the neck of his brother Benjamin, embracing him he wept: he also in like manner weeping vpon his neck. 15. And Ioseph kissed al his brethren, and wept vpon cuerie one: after which things they were

(a) Gods prouidence turned their euil dealing to the good of the whole familie, chap. 50. v. 20.

bold

bold to speake vnto him. 16. And it was heard of , and very famously reported abroad in the Kings Court: The brethren of Ioseph are come: and (b) Pharao was glad , and al his familie. 17. And he spake to Ioseph that he should command his brethren , saying : Loading your beasts goe into the Land of Chanaan , 18. and take thence your father and kinne , and come to me : and I wil giue you al the good things of Ægypt , that you may eate the marow of the land. 19. Giue commandment also that they take waynes out of the land of Ægypt , for the cariage of their litle ones and wiues : and say : Take vp your father , and make hast to come with al speed. 20. Neither doe you leaue any thing of your houthold stufte : for al the riches of Ægypt shal be yours. 21. And the sonnes of Israel did as it was commanded them. To whom Ioseph gaue waynes according to Pharaos commandment , and victuals for the way. 22. He bad also to be brought vp for euery one two robes : but to Benjamin he gaue three hundred picces of siluer with five robes of the best : 23. sending to his father as much money & rayment , adding besides them he asses that should carie of al the riches of Ægypt , and as many she asses , carying wheat for the iourney and bread. 24. Therefore he dismissed his brethren , and when they were departing he said to them : " Be not angrie in the way. 25. Who going vp out of Ægypt , came into the land of Chanaan to their father Iacob. 26. And they told him saying : Ioseph thy sonne is liuing : and he ruleth in al the Land of Ægypt. Which when Iacob heard , awaking as it were out of a heauie sleep , notwithstanding did not belieue them. 27. They on the contrarie side reported the whole order of the thing. And when he saw the waynes and al things that he had sent , his spirit reuiued , 28. and he said : It sufficeth me if Ioseph my sonne be liuing yet : I wil goe , and see him before I dye.

(b) Iosephs prudent proceeding before he made himselfe knowne to his brethren and them to Pharao, procured al this ioy and fauour towards them in Ægypt.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. X L V.

24. Be not angrie in the way.] Trauelers in iourney are easily prouoked to anger and brawling : especially if they auoid not probable occasions. Therefore Ioseph admonisheth his brothers to beware therof , lest in talking of him , and how they had sold him to strangers , some of them might accuse others , and excuse themselves , and so fall into new offences. S. Chris. ho. 64. in Gen.

Occasion of sinne to be auoided.

C H A P. X L V I.

The eight and last part of this booke.

Of Iacob and his progenies going into AEgypt. Of his and Iosephs death.

Israel warranted in a vision from God, goeth into AEgypt with al his familie, 8. who are here recited. 28. Ioseph meeting him in Gessen, aduiseb him to tel Pharao that they are shepheards by their trade of life.

AND Israel taking his iourney with al things that he had¹ came to the wel of the oath, and killing there victimes to the God of his father Isaac, 2. he heard him by a vision of the night calling him, and saying vnto him: Iacob, Iacob. To whom he answered: Loe here I am. 3. God said to him: I am the most Mightie God of thy father: feare not, goe downe into AEgypt, for into a great nation wil I make thee there. 4. I wil goe downe with thee thither, and thence wil I bring thee returning: Ioseph also shal put his handes vpon thine eyes. 5. And Iacob rose vp from the wel of the oath: and his sonnes tooke him vp, with their little ones and wiues in the waynes, which Pharao had sent to carie the old man, 6. and al that he had possessed in the Land of Chanaan: and he came into AEgypt with al his seed, 7. his sonnes, and nephewes, daughters, and al his progenie together. 8. And these are the names of the children of Israel, that entered into AEgypt, himselve with his children. His first-begotten Ruben. 9. The sonnes of Ruben: Henoeh and Phallu and Hefron and Charmi. 10. The sonnes of Simeon: Iamuel and Iamin and Ahod, and Iachin and Sohar, and Saul the sonne of Chananitess. 11. The sonnes of Leui: Gerson and Caath and Merari. 12. The sonnes of Iuda: Her & Onan and Sela and Phares and Zara. And Her and Onan died in the land of Chanaan. And there were sonnes borne to Phares: Hefron and Hamul. 13. The sonnes of Issachar: Thola and Phua and Iob and Semron. 14. The sonnes of Zabulon: Sared and Elon and Iahel. 15. These are the sonnes of Lia, which she bare (a) in Mesopotamia of Syria with Dina his daughter. Al the soules of his sonnes and daughters are thirtie three. 16. The sonnes of Gad: Sephion and Haggi and Siuni & Efebon and Heri and Arodi and Areli. 17. The sonnes of Aser: Iamne and Iesua and Iessui and Beria, Sara also their sister. The sonnes of Beria: Heber and Melchiel, 18. these be the sonnes of Zelpha, whom Laban gaue to Lia his daughter. and these she bare to Iacob sixteen soules. 19. The sonnes of Rachel Iacobs wife: Ioseph and Benjamin. 20. And there were sonnes borne to Ioseph in the Land of AEgypt, which Aseneth the daughter of Putiphar Priest of Heliopolis bare to him: Manasses and Ephraim. 21. The sonnes of Benjamin: Bela and Bechor and Asbel and Gera and Naaman and Echi and Ros and Mophin and Ophim and Ared. 22. these be the sonnes of Rachel, which she bare to Iacob: al the soules, fourteen. 23. The sonnes of Dan: Hufim. 24. The sonnes of Nephthali: Iaziel and Guni and Ieser and Sallem. 25. These be the sonnes of Bala, whom Laban gaue to Rachel his daughter: and these she bare to Iacob; al the soules, seuen. 26. Al the soules, that entred with Iacob into A Egypt, and that came out of his thigh, besides his sonnes wiues, " sixtie six. 27. And the sonnes of Ioseph, that were borne to him in the land of A Egypt, two soules. Al the soules of the house of Iacob, that entred into A Egypt, were " seuentie. 28. And he sent Iudas before him to Ioseph, that he should tel him, and he should come into Gessen to meet him. 29. Whither when he was come, Ioseph addressing his chariot went vp to meet his father, vnto the same place: and seeing him fel vpon his neck, and as they embraced he wept. 30. And his father said to Ioseph: Now wil I die with ioy, because I haue seen thy face, and doe leauc thee aliu. 31. But he spake to his brethren, and to al his fathers house: I wil goe vp, & wil tel Pharao, and wil say to him: My brethren, and my fathers house that were in the Land of Chanaan, are come to me: 32. and the men are pastours of sheep, & their trade is to feed flockes: their cattel, & heards, and al that they could haue, they haue brought with them. 33. And when he shal cal you, & shal say: What is your trade? 34. You shal answer: We thy seruants are pastours, from our infancie vntil this present, both we and our fathers. And this you shal say, that you may dwel in the Land of Gessen, because the A Egyptians (v) detest al pastours of sheep.

(a) That is, She bare their fathers in Mesopotamia. S. Aug. 9. 131. in Gen.

b) A Egyptians honouring sheep, goats, and kyne for Gods, detested them that did gouerne, kil, or eate those cattel.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. XLVI.

I. Came to the wel of oath.] In this holie place (called Bersebee, that is, wel of oath) where Abraham and Isaac had confirmed by oath their league with the Kings of the countrie, and erected Altars, Iacob also consulted God about his going into A Egypt, and was commanded to goe with al that he had.

26. Sixtie six. 27. Seuentie.] The difficultie in these two verses, concerning the number of Israelites that were at first in A Egypt with Iacob, is easily explicated, that iust sixtie six, of his owne issue came in with him; and himselfe being counted maketh sixtie seuen, adding also Ioseph (who was there before) and his two sonnes Manasses and Ephraim (borne there) they were in al seuentie. But a farre greater difficultie remaineth: for besides these seuentie persons, the Septuagint Greeke Interpreters number and name fve more; to wit, a sonne and a nephew of Manasses (the first called Machir, the other Galaad,) and two sonnes of Ephraim (called Sutalaam, and Taam,) and one

God reuealeth his wil in holie places.

A difficultie how manie Israelites came at first into A Egypt.

Numbers mystical, sometimes not explicable in the literal sense.

nephew (named Edem) which number of seuentie five S. Steuen also citeth, folowing the vulgar known Scripture of the Septuagint, rather then the Hebrew text. Now in what sense these five could be said to haue entred into AEGYPT with Iacob, being not then borne, nay some of them not borne during Iacobs life, for Iacob liued but seenteen yeares in AEGYPT (chap. 47. v. 28.) and Ioseph being married but nine yeares before (for this was the second deare yeare after the seuen plentiful yeares) his sonnes could not exceed seuen or eight yeares, when Iacob came to AEGYPT; and so being but 14. or 25. yeares old at his death, could not then be grand fathers: how therefore these five named by the Septuagint, and some others, not then borne, of the lines of Phares and Benjamin, recited here by Moyse, could be sayd to come with Iacob into AEGYPT, S. Augustin findeth so insoluble, that he doubteth not to affirme, some great hidden mysterie to be vnderstood by the Septuagint Interpreters, in these numbers, not otherwise perhaps explicable according to the letter.

C H A P. X L V I I.

Iacob with his sonnes being come into Gessen, Pharao granteth them the same place to dwell in. 13. The famine forceth the AEgyptians to sel al their goods, landes, and possessions to the King, 22. except the Priests part, to whom the King alloweth necessarie food, without paying for it. 27. After seenteen yeares Iacob aduereeth Ioseph to burie him amongst his Ancesters.

IOSEPH therefore going in told Pharao, saying: My father and brethren, their sheep and heards, and al things that they possesse, are come out of the Land of Chanaan; and behold they stay in the Land of Gessen. 2. The vniuersall also of his brethren five persons he presented before the King: 3. whom he asked: What trade haue you? They answered: We thy seruants are pastours of sheep, both we, and our fathers. 4. We are come to seiourn in the land, because there is no grasse for thy seruants flocks, the famine being very fore in the land of Chanaan: and we desire thee to command that we thy seruants may be in the Land of Gessen. 5. And the King therefore said to Ioseph: Thy father and thy brethren are come to thee. 6. The Land of AEGYPT is in thy sight: make them to dwell in the best place, & deliuer them the Land of Gessen. And if so be thou know that there are industrious men among them, appoint them Masters of my cattel. 7. After this Ioseph brought in his father to the King, and set him before him: who blessing him, 8. and being asked of him: How manie be the dayes of the yeares of thy life? 9. He answered: The dayes of the pilgrimage of my life are an hundred thirtie yeares, (4) few and euil, and they are not come to the dayes of my fathers, in which they were' pilgrimes. 10. And blessing the King, he went forth.

4) Euerie mans life is short, & replenished
with manie mi-series. Job. 14.

11. But Ioseph gaue possession to his father and his brethren in Ægypt, in the best place of the land, in Rhamesses, as Pharao had commanded. 12. And he nourished them, and al his fathers house, allowing victuals to euerie one. 13. For in the whole world there wanted bread, & famine oppressed the land, especially of Ægypt and Chanaan. 14. Out of which he gathered together al the money for the selling of corne, & brought it in vnto the Kings treasure. 15. And when the buyers wanted money, al Ægypt came to Ioseph, saying: Giue vs bread: why die we before thee, our money failing? 16. To whom he answered: Briug your cattel, and for them I wil giue you victuals, if you haue not to pay. 17. Which when they had brought, he gaue them sustenance for horses, & sheep, and oxen, and asses: and he sustained them that yeare for the exchange of the cattel. 18. And they came the second yeare, and said to him: We wil not conceale from our Lord, that our money fayling, our cattel withal haue fayled: neither art thou ignorant, that we haue nothing besides our bodies and land. 19. Why therefore shal we die in thy sight? both we and our land wil be thine: buy vs to be the Kings bōdmen, & giue vs seed, lest for default of tillers the lād be turned into a wildernes. 20. Ioseph therefore bought al the Lād of Ægypt, euery mā selling his possessions for the greatnes of the famine. And he brought it vnder Pharaos hands, 21. and al the people therof from the fardest ends of Ægypt, euen to the vtermost coasts therof, 22. "sauing the land of the " Priests, which the King had deliuered them: (b) to whom also a certaine allowance of victuals was giuen out of the common barnes, and therefore they were not driuen to sel their possessions. 23. Ioseph therefore said to the people: Behold as you see, Pharao possesseth both you and your land: take seed, and sow the fields, 24. that you may haue corne. The fifth part you shal giue to the King: the other foure I am content you shal haue for seed, & for food to your families & your children. 25. Who answered our life is in thy hand: only let our Lord haue a respect vnto vs, and we wil gladly serue the King. 26. From that time vntil this present day in the whole land of Ægypt, the fifth part is paid to the Kings, and it became as it were a law, sauing the land of the Priests, which was free from this condition. 27. Israel therefore dwelt in Ægypt, that is, in the Land of Gessen, and possessed it: and was increased, & multiplied exceedingly. 28. And he liued in it seuenteen yeares: and al the dayes of his life came to an hundred fourtic seuen yeares. 29. And when he saw that the day of his death approached, he called his sonne Ioseph, and said to him: If I haue found grace in thy sight, put thy hand vnder my thigh: and thou shalt doe me this mercie and truth, not to bury me in Ægypt: 30. but " I wil sleep with my fathers, and take me away out of this land, & burie me in the sepulchre of my Ancetters. To whom Ioseph answered: I wil doe that thou halt commanded. 31. And he said: Swear then to me. Who swearing, Israël adored God, turning " to the beds head.

(b) The Priests of Ægypt being not forced to labour for their liuing, found out the Mathematickes as witnesseth Aristotle in princ. Metaph.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. X L V I I.

The immunitie and care of Priests in the law of nature. Yea amongst Infidels. Much more amongst Christians Priests ought to be respected.

Cohen in some places signifieth Prince, but is here translated Priest, in all the English Bibles. Special place of burial lawfully desired, & spiritually profitable.

But pompe anaileth not the dead.

21. Sauing the Lind of the Priests.) Let them heare which now liue (saith S. Chrysofom) what great care men had in times past of the Priests of idols; & let them learne at least to yeald like honour to true Priests, to whom the ministerie of al diuine offices is committed. For if the AEgyptians in their errours had so great care of Idols, thinking them to be more honoured if their Ministers were respected, how great condemnation doe they deserue, that now diuinish that which pertaineth to the prouision of Priests? Doe yee not know that the honour pertaineth to God himself? Regard not therefore him to whom the honour is exhibited. For it is not for his cause to whom thou doest it, but for his sake whose Priest he is, that of him thou maicst abundantly receiue rewards. Wherefore he said: He that shal doe it to one of these, hath done it for me; & he that receiueth a Prophet in the name of a Trophet, shal receiue the reward of a Prophet. Wil our Lord reward thee according to the worthines or meannes of his Ministers? According to thine owne alacritie he either crowneth or condemneth &c. I say not this for the Priests sakes, but for yours, desiring to gaine you in al things. For in lieu of that litle you giue, you shal receiue immortal rewards, and vnspeakable good. Let vs consider these things, & hast to serue them, not looking vpon the cost, but vpon the gaine and increase that riseth therof &c. For whatsoeuer you bestow vpon Gods Priests, he accounteth it as bestowed on himself. And he that so bestoweth, shal not only receiue like retribution, but manifold greater; our merciful God alwayes of the abundance of his mercie exceeding the things which are done by vs. Let vs not therefore be worse then infidels, who for the error of idols gaue so much to their seruants; for how much error and truth doe differ, so much difference is there between theirs and Gods Priests. Thus much & something more writeth S. Chrysofom vpon this place.

22. Priests.) The Hebrew word Cohenim is here vniuersally translated Priests in al languages and Editions: which (chap. 40. v. 25.) some translate Prince: and more probably (2. Reg. 8. v. vlt.) where Dauids sonnes are called Cohenim: who were indeed Princes, and not properly Priests. But in this present place it signifieth those, to whom Pharao allowed particular prouision in the time of dearth, which al vnderstand of Priests, and not of Princes.

3. I wil sleepe with my fathers.) Albeit neither the lack of burial, nor anie crueltie nor contumelie vsed against dead bodies, can annoy the iust, for those that kill mens bodies, can afterward doe them no more harme: yet it is both a lawful natural desire, and a spiritual comfort and profit, to be buried in special places, where their owne freinds, or holic persons are buried, or where God is more specially serued, Sacrifice and other prayers offered. And so both Iacob and Ioseph desired to rest in the land of Chanaan, where their parents were buried, and where Christ should be borne and redeeme mankind. But wordlie pompe and honour of funerals are rather the comort of the liuing, then the reliefe of the departed, as S. Augustin teacheth in Psal. 115. For in the sight of men, the troupe of seruants (saith the same S. Augustin lib. 1. c. 13. de ciuit.) made solemne & glorious exequies to the rich glutton, that was cloathed in silke, & fared delicately in his life, but in the sight of God, the Angels ministerie made farre more excellent to

Ho. 65.
in Gen.

Math.
25 &
10.

poore Lazarus, though they caried not his bodie into a marble tombe, but his soule into Abrahamis bosome.

Heb. 11.

31. To the beds head.) S. Paul alleadging this place saith: Iacob adored the top of (Ioseph) his rod, folowing the Septuagint, who for the same Hebrew word (being without points, that is, without vowels) in this place say, rod, and in the next chapter (v 2.) interpret bed. For Masseh signifieth a rod, and Missah, a bed. The Latin therefore translating bed, as the Hebrew is pointed, and the Septuagint, and S. Paule reading rod, both are true, and both together expresse the whole action, that Iacob taking Iosephs rod into his hand, and turning to the beds head, leaned on the top of the rod, and adored not only God, the Lord and giuer of al good, but also his sonne Ioseph now the chiefe ruler and Prince of Aegypt, as S. Augustin expoundeth q. 16. in Gen. And herein saith S. Chrysostom (ho. 66.) Iosephs dreame was fulfilled, that the sunne and moone should adore him. The like saith Theodoret (q. 108. in Gen.) And Procopius addeth that Iacob adoring Iosephs rod, adored also Christs Kingdome, prefigured by the same rod. But how adoration of creatures redoundeth to the honour of God, more is noted vpon the said place of S. Paul Heb. 11.

The Septuagint are not contrarie to the Hebrew & Latin text, but supplie that was omitted.

Adoration of God and creatures is not repugnant.

C H A P. XLVIII.

Ioseph visiteth his father being sick. 5. Who adopteth his two sonne Manasses and Ephraim, 13. and bleisseth them, preferring the yonger before the elder, contrarie to Iosephs mind. 22. And giueth a portion of land to Ioseph, about his brethren.

THESE things being so done, it was told Ioseph that this father was sicke: who, taking his two sonnes Manasses and Ephraim, went forward. 2. And it was told the old man: Behold thy sonne Ioseph commeth to thee. Who being strengthened sate on his bed. 3. And Ioseph being entred in to him, he said: God Almighty appeared to me in Luza, which is in the Land of Chanaan: and he blessed me, 4. and sayd: I wil increase, and multiplie thee, and make thee into multitudes of peoples: and I wil giue thee this land, and to thy seed after thee for an euerlasting possession. 5. Thy two sonnes therefore which were borne to thee in the Land of Aegypt before I came hither to thee, shal be myne: Ephraim and Manasses, as Ruben and Simeon shal be reputed to me. 6. But the rest begotten of thee after them, shal be thyne, and shal be called by the name of their brethren in their possessions. 7. For vnto me, when I came out of Mesopotamia, Rachal dyed in the land of Chanaan in the very iourney, and it was spring time: and I entred into Ephrata, and buried her by the way side to Ephrata, which by another name is called Bethlem. 8. And seeing his sonnes he said to him: Who are these? 9. He answered: They are my sonnes, whom God hath giuen me in this place. Bring them, quoth he, to me, that I may blesse them. 10. For Israels eyes were

Mat. 2.

dimme

dimme by reason of very great age, and he could not see clearly. And when they were set beside him, kissing and embracing them, 11. he said to his sonne: I am not defrauded of thy sight: moreouer God hath shewed me thy seed. 12. And when Ioseph had taken them from his fathers lap, he adored prostrate vnto the ground. 13. And he set Ephraim on his right hand, that is, on the left hand of Israel: but Manasses on his owne left hand, to wit, on his fathers right hand, and put them neer to him. 14. Who " stretching forth his right hand, put it vpon the head of Ephraim the yonger brother: and (a) the left vpon the head of Manasses, that was the elder, " changing hands. 15. And Iacob blessed the sonnes of Ioseph, and said: God, in whose sight my fathers Abraham & Isaac haue walked, God that feedeth me from my youth vntil this present day: 16. " The Angel that deliuereth me from al euils, blesse these children: and be my name called vpon them, the names also of my fathers Abraham, and Isaac, and grow they into a multitude vpon the earth. 17. And Ioseph seeing that his father had put his right hand vpon the head of Ephraim, tooke it heauily: and taking his fathers hand he went about to lift it from Ephraims head & to remoue it vpon the head of Manasses. 18. And he said to his father: It is not conuenient father so to be: because this is the first-begotten put thy right hand vpon his head. 19. Who refusing, said: I know my sonne, I know: and this same indeed shal be into peoples, and shal be multiplied: but his yonger brother shal be greater then he: and his seed shal grow into nations. 20. And he blessed them at that time, saying: In thee shal Israel be blessed, and it shal be said: God doe vnto thee as vnto Ephraim, & as vnto Manasses. And he set Ephraim before Manasses. 21. And he said to Ioseph his sonne: Behold I dye, & God wil be with you, and wil bring you backe into the land of your fathers. 22. I doe giue thee one portion about thy brethren, which I tooke out of the hand of the Amorrhean with my sword and bow.

(a) By this he made a crosse prefiguring the Crosse of Christ. Isidor in hunc locum.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. XLVIII.

The right hand also in spiritual things, preferred before the left.

The yonger brother preferred signified the Gentiles before the Iewes.

14. Stretching forth his right hand.) As nature hath made the right hand readier to moue, stronger to worke and resist, and apter to frame and fashioe anie thing, so generally we vse it more then the left. And when we vse both hands at once, we ordinarily applie the right hand to the greater and more excellent effect, both in spiritual and corporal things. As in confirmation of fidelitie or freinds-ship, in blessing, writing, fighting, playing, and in most others things, we vse the right hand, either only or chiefly. So the Patriarch Iacob laid his right hand vpon Ephraim, knowing by propheticall spirit, that he should be preferred before his elder brother Manasses. Literally fulfilled in Iosue, Ieroboam, and other chief Princes of Ephraims issue. And mystically in the Gentils, being later called of God, and yet preferred before the Iewes. S. Cypri. li. 1. c. 21. admir.

Ar. p. 7.
2. de ca-
lo. xxvii.
8. de ince. am-
mal. c. 4.

Iudeos. S. Amb. li. de Benedict. Patriarch. c. 1. S. Aug. li. 16. c. 42. de civit. &c.

14. Changing hands.] The mysterie, of the Gentils excelling the Iewes in time of grace, often prefigured by preferring the yonger brother before the elder (Abel before Cain; Abraham before Nachor; Isaac before Ismael; Jacob himself before Esau; and now Ephraim before Manasses) is here further represented by Jacobs forming of a crosse, with his armes layd one ouer the other, whé he blessed his two nephewes: who otherw ise might haue layd his right hand first vpon one, and then vpon the other; or haue cauled them to change places; but he wittingly crossed his armes, and changed his hands; or according to the Hebrew, made his hands vnderstand, that is, by his hands made it to be vnderstood, not only that the yonger should be in place of the elder, Ephraim before Manasses, and much more the Gentiles before the Iewes, but also that this greater Mysterie should be effected by Christ dying on a Crosse. For what els could the verie crossing of his armes, so wittingly and purposely done, signifie, but the forme and figure of Christs Crosse? As els where the wood, which yong Isaac caried on his back vnto the mountaine, prefigured the matter or substance of the same Crosse. All accomplished when Christ was crucified: wherby the Iewes were scandalized, and the Gentiles called and saued. Our Sauour himselfe foretelling, that he being exalted (to wit vpon the Crosse) would draw al vnto himself. And S. Paul teaching that Christ fastned the hand writing, that was against vs, vpon the Crosse.

16. The Angel that deliuereth me.] It is euident by this plaine text, that Iacob was deliuered from euils by an Angel, and that he inuocated the same Angel to blesse his nephewes, S. Basil (li. 3. cont. Eunom. initio) sheweth by this place among others, that an Angel is present with euerie one, as a pedagogue, and pastor, directing his life. S. Chrysostom also (ho. 7. in laud. S. Pauli) citeth this place in testimonie that proper Angels are deputed to protect men. Yet Protestants say, that this Angel must be vnderstood of Christ: remitting their glorie to the 31. ch. v. 13. and 32. v. 1. of Genesis, where it can not be proued. But the ancient Fathers teach the patronage & Inuocation of Angels grounded in holic Scripture. Namely in this place, and manie other places in the old Testament. Also Mat. 18. Act. 12. 1. Cor. 11. and the like. For example, S. Iustinus Martyr in explic. qq. necess. q. 30. affirming it for a knowen truth, declareth that those Angels which receiue the charge of guarding men, continue the same office either to both soule and bodie, or to the soule after it is parted from the bodie. S. Cyril of Alexandria (lib. 4. cont. Iulian. prop. init.) shewing how God vseth the ministerie of holic Angels for mens saluation, saith: His noxias a nobis abigunt feras, &c. These (Angels) driue away noysome wild beasts from vs, and rescue those that are caught, from their crueltie, and teach what soeuer is laudable, to make our passage free, and not pestred, when with vs they glorifie one soeueraigne God. S. Chrysostom (ho. 60. in Math. 18.) S. Hierome vpon the same place, S. Ambrose in Psal. 38. S. Augustin li. 83. qq. q. 79. and li. Soliloq. c. 27. S. Gregorie li. 4. c. 31. in 3. Iob, S. Bernard ser. 5. Dedicat. Eccles. and ser. 12. in Psal. 90. and others, so vniuersally teach the same, that Calvin (li. Instit. c. 14. sect. 38.) dare not denie it, and yet wil needs doubt of it.

16. Be my name called vpon them.] This place hath two good literal senses. For first it importeth that Ephraim and Manasses were made participant among the Tribes, of the blessings of Abraham, Isaac, and Iacob. Secondly, that God would blesse them, for Abraham, Isaac, and Jacobs sake: So Moyses praying for the whole people (Exodi. 32.) besought God to remember Abraham, Isaac, and Israell, and God was therewith pacified.

The forme of the Crosse prefigured by Iacob crossing his armes.

Protection & Inuocation of Angels.

Proued by ancient Fathers.

God for his Saints sake sheweth fauour to their friends.

Procop.
Isidor.
in G.n.

Ioan. 12.
Colof. 2.

C H A P. X L I X.

Iacob replenished with the spirit of prophecie, a litle before his death, foretelleth his sonnes manie things that shal happen to their posteritie. Chargeth some of them with faulrs past, blesseth euerie one. 29. Appointeth where to burie him, 32. and dyeth.

(a) These are predictions, not al blessings. S. Amb. li. de Benedic. Patriar.

(b) A prophecie not an imprecation. S. Aug. li. 12. c. 33. com. Faust.

That these are most profound Mysteries, is easie to conceiue, but most hard to vnderstand them. In some the Patriarch recounteth things past in his life, foretelling the effects therof to come. Other things he foresheweth pertaining to the diuision of the Land of Chanaan, others to the times of the Iudges, of the Kings, of the Captiuitie, of Deliuerie from thence, of Christ, of Antichrist, and of the end of this world. Of

AND Iacob called his sonnes, and said to them: Come together, that I (a) may shew you the things that shal come to you in the last dayes. 2. Come together, and heare you sonnes of Iacob, heare ye Israel your father.

3. Ruben my first-begotten, thou art my strength, & the beginning of my sorow: former in gifts, greater in Emphyre. 4. Thou art powred out as water, (b) encrease thou not: "because thou diddest ascend thy fathers bed, and diddest defile his couch.

5. Simeon and Leui brethren: "vessels of iniquitie warring. 6. Into their counsel come not my soule, and in their congregation be not my glorie: because in their furie they slew a man, and in their wilfulnes they vndermined a wal. 7. Cursed be their furie, because it is stubborn; and their indignation, because it is hard: I wil diuide them in Iacob, and wil disperse them in Israel.

8. Iudas, thee thy brethren shal praise: thy hand shal be in the neck of thine enemies: thy fathers children shal adore thee. 9. A lions whelp Iudas: to the prey my sonne thou didst ascend: taking thy rest thou didst lye as a lion, and as it were a lionesse, who thal raise him vp?

10. "THE SCEPTER SHAL NOT BE TAKEN AWAY FROM IVDAS, AND A DVKE OVT OF HIS THIGH, TIL HE DOE COME THAT IS TO BE SENT, AND THE SAME SHAL BE THE EXPECTATION OF THE GENTILES. 11. Tying to the vineyard his colt, and to the vine, o my sonne, his she asse. "He shal walch his stole in wine, and in the bloud of the grape his cloke. 12. His eyes are more beautiful then wine, and his teeth whiter then milke.

13. Zabulon shal dwel in the shore of the sea, and in the road of ships reaching as farre as Sidon.

14. Issachar a strong asse lying at rest between the borders. 15. He saw rest that it was good; and the earth that is was very good: and he put vnder his shoulder to cary, and became seruing vnder tributes.

16. Dan shal iudge his owne people, as also an other tribe in Israel. 17. Be Dan "a snake in the way, a serpent in the path, byting the hooffes of the horse, that his rider may fal backward. 18. I wil expect THY SALVATION o Lord.

19. Gad,

19. Gad , the girded shal fight before him : and himself shal be gyrded backward.

20. Aser , his bread is fat , and he shal giue daynties to Kings. 21. Nephthali , a hart let forth , and giuing speaches of beautie.

22. Ioseph a child encreasing , encreasing and comelic to behold : the daughters coursed to and fro vpon the wal. 23. But the dart men did exasperate him , and brawled , and enuied him. 24. His bow sate vpon the strong , and the bands of his armes and his hands were dissolved , by the hands of the Mightie of Iacob : thence came forth a pasture , the stone of Israel. 25. The God of thy father shal be thy helper , and the Almighty shal blesse thee with the blessings of heauen from aboue , with the blessings of the depth that lieth beneath , with the blessings of the paps and of the womb. 26. The blessings of thy father were strengthened with the blessings of his fathers : vntil the desire of the eternal hills came : be they vpon the head of Ioseph , and vpon the crowne of the Nazarite among his brethren.

27. Benjamin (c) a reuening wolfe , in the morning shal eate the prey , and in the euening shal diuide the spoile.

28. Al these in the tribes of Israel twelue : these things spake their father to them , and he blessed euerie one , with their proper blessings.

29. And he commanded them , saying : I am gathered vnto my people : burie you me with my fathers in the double caue , which is in the field of Ephron the Hethite , 30. against Manbre in the Land of Chanaan , which Abraham bought with the field of Ephron the Hethite for a possession to burie in. 31. There they buried him , and Sara his wife : there was Isaac buried with Rebecca his wife : there also Lia doth lie buried. 32. And when he had finished the precepts wherwith he instructed his sonnes , he plucked vp his feet vpon the bed , and died ; and he was put vnto his people.

al which diuers ancient fathors haue written large cōmentaries , and godlie treatises.

(c) This propheticie S. Augustin vnderstandeth of S. Paul , of the tribe of Benjamin , who was first a persecutor , and after an Apostle of Christ. Ser. 14. de Sanctis.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. X L I X.

4. Because thou didst ascend thy fathers bed.) For this crime of incest Ruben was depriued of his first-birth-right. Who being by order of birth former in gifts , wherby he should haue had double portion ; and greater in empire , wherby he should haue been Prince or Lord ouer his brethren , the former prerogative was giuen to Ioseph , whose two sonnes were heads of two Tribes , the other was giuen to the Tribe of Iuda , in Dauid and his posteritie. He was also depriued of his prerogative in Priesthood , which was after annexed to the Tribe of Leui , wherupon the Chaldee paraphraisis speaketh thus to Ruben : It belonged to thee to haue receaued three better letters then thy brethren,

Ruben for his sinne was put from the prerogatives of the first-borne.

Priesthood, Best-portion, and the Kingdome: But because thou hast sinned, the double portion is giuen to Ioseph, the Kingdome to Iudas, and Priesthood to Leui.

The zeale of Simeon and Leui was commendable: but their manner of reuēge, was manie wayes faultie.

The Priests & Scribes furie, obstinacie, and hard harts against Christ.

Taking away of the regal scepter from the Iewes a signe of Christs comming.

Our Lords real presence in the B. Sacrament prophecied.

Ancient Fathers suppose that Antichrist shall be of the tribe of Dan.

5. Vessels of iniquitie.] Albeit Simeon and Leui were moued with iust zeale to punish the foule crime committed by Sichem against their sister and whole familie; yet in their manner of reuenging were manie sinnes worthily condemned by Iacob, both immediately after the fact, and here at his death. For before the slaughter they committed three great sinnes; in that they rashly did it vnknowne to their father, therby putting him and themselues in extreme danger, if God had not maruelously protected them; in fasly pretending agreement and league with the Sichamites, which they ment not to performe; and in sacrilegiously abusing the Sacrament of Circumcision, making it a cloke to deceiue their enemies. In the fact also they committed other foure grosse crimes: cruelly killing those that offered other abundant satisfactiō; murdering others that were altogether innocent; sacking and destroying the citie, and carying away women and children captiue. Mystically S. Ambrose, Ruffinus, Isidorus, and others vnderstand this prophecie of the Scribes and the Priests, descending of Simeon and Leui, who were most eagre against our Sauour, as himself more plainly foretold, saying: The sonne of man shall be betrayed to the chiefe Priests, and to the Scribes, and they shall condemne him to death. Their furie was cursed aboute al furie, Because (as Iacob here saith) it was stubborne, or obstinate, for they did not only condemne Christ to death in their wicked Councel, but also vrged and pressed Pilat, endeauouring to saue him, and stirred vp the people to cry: Take him away, Crucifie him. Yea their indignation was so hard, that they preferred Barabbas before Christ.

10. The scepter shall not be taken away.] Here the Patriarch Iacob foretelleth the time, when the promised Messias should come into the world, by this signe that the scepter should not be taken from Iuda, til the saine Redeemer of mankind were at hand. Not that the regal scepter should remaine in the Tribe of Iuda from Iacobs death til Christs comming: for that Kingdome began first in Dauid, aboue six hundred yeares after Iacobs death, and after the captiuitie of Babylon the high Priests of the Tribe of Leui did gouerne also the state, and not only the Church, other six hundred yeares. But the sense is, that of the Tribe of Iuda should rise most glorious Kings, whose crowne and Kindome should remaine with the Iewish Nation, vntil their expected Messias should draw nere, and then be taken from them by the Gentiles. Which was done by Herod, whose father was an Idumean, his mother an Arabike. Thus the Ancient fathers with one accord vnderstood this Prophecie. S. Iustinus Martyr Ser. cum Triphone. Eusebius Cesarien. lib. Hist. Eccles. cap. 6. S. Athanasius. lib. de Incarnas. S. Ambrose lib. de Benedic. Patriarch. c. 4. S. Chrysostom. Ho. 67. in Gen. S. Augustin lib. 18. c. 45. de ciuit. Theodoretus q. vlt. in Gen.

11. He shall wash his stole in wyne.] By wine, and bloud of the grape, what other thing is shewed (saith S. Cyprian Epist. ad Cœcil. 63.) but the wine of the Chalice of our Lordes bloud? Likewise Tertullian (lib. 4. contra Marcionem) expoundeth the stole to signifie Christs flesh, and the wine his bloud. In al which booke his drift is to shew that Christ did not destroy the old Testament, but fulfilled the figures and prophecie therof. And not that Christ gaue his bodie in figure only, as our aduersaries alleadge him.

17. Be Dan a snake in the way.] This prophecie most ancient Fathers vnderstood of Anti-Christ, namely S. Irenæus, lib. 5. aduers. Hæres. S. Hyppolitus Martyr Oras. de consummas. sacul. S. Ambrose. c. 7. de Benedic. Patriarch. S. Augustin. q. 12. in Iosue. Prosper. lib. de promiss. & predict. Dei. P. 4. Theodoret. q. vlt. in Gen. S. Gregorie, lib. 30. Moral. c. 18. and many others vpon the 7. chap. of the Judish.

9.

Mat. 20
Ioan. 11

Ioan. 18

li. 2. Ep.
3.

Ioan. 5.

Apocalyps. Where they suppose S. Iohn did omit Dan from amongst the Eleſt of the Iſraelitical Tribes, in detestation of Antichriſt, to be borne of that Tribe. And certaine it is, that the Iewes wil receiue and folow him for their Meſſias, as our Sauour himſelfe ſaith: Which maketh it very probable, that he ſhal be a Iew borne, elſe they would not ſo eaſily admit him.

22. Ioseph a child encreasing.) Ioseph was in manie respects a figure of Chriſt, eſpecially in that he was loued of his father before al his brethren, ſold by his brethren to the Gentiles of enuie and for money, aduanced to dignitie and authoritie, the deliuerer of Ægypt from famine, and called Sauour of the world; al performed in Chriſt, the true Child encreasing.

Ioseph in manie things pre-figured Chriſt.

C H A P. L.

Ioseph cauſeth his fathers bodie to be embaulmed; 3. the dayes of mourning being expired, 9. with Pharaos leaue, Ioseph with the ancients of Ægypt, al his brethren, and elder ſort of Iſraelites, goe and ſolemnly burie the bodie in Chanaan. 14. After their returne, his brethren fearing leſt Ioseph wol now reuenge former iniuries, he freely forgiueth al. 22. At the age of 110. yeares, adiuuring the poſteritie to carie his bones into Chanaan he dieth, and is put in a coffin.

WHICH Ioseph ſeeing fel vpon his fathers face weeping and kiſſing him. 2. And he commanded his ſeruants the phyſitians, that they ſhould embaulme his father with ſpices. 3. Who fulfilling his commandements, there paſſed fourtie dayes; for this was the manner of corſes embaulmed, and Ægypt mourned him ſeuentie daies. 4. And the mourning time being expired, Ioseph ſpake to the familie of Pharao: If I haue found grace in your ſight, ſpeake in the eares of Pharao: 5. for ſo much as my father did adiuure me, ſaying: Behold I die, in my ſepulchre (a) which I digged for my ſelfe in the land of Chanaan, thou ſhalt burie me. I wil goe vp therfore, and burie my father, and returne. 6. And Pharao ſaid to him: Goe vp and burie thy father as thou waſt adiuured. 7. Who going vp, there went with him al the ancients of Pharaos houſe, and al the elders of the Land of Ægypt: 8. the houſe of Ioseph with his brethren, ſauing their little ones, and the flockes and heards, which they had left in the Land of Geſſen. 9. He had alſo in his traine chariots and horſemen: and it became no ſmal multitude. 10. And they came to the floore of Atad, which is ſituate beyond Iordane: where celebrating the exequies with great and vehement mourning, they ſpent ſeu ſeu ſeu dayes. 11. Which when the Inhabiters of the Land of Chanaan had ſeen, they ſaid: This is a great mourning vnto the Ægyptians. And therfore the name of that place was called, The mourning of Ægypt. 12. Therfore the ſonnes of Iacob did as he commanded them:

(a) Iacob digged a ſepulcher for himſelfe, though it be not hertofore mentioned when he did it. S. Aug. 9. 170. in Gen.

13. and carying him into the Land of Chanaan, they buried him in the double caue, which Abraham had bought with the field for a possession to burie in of Ephron the Hethite against Mambre. 14. And Ioseph returned into A Egypt with his brethren, and with al the traine, his father being buried. 15. After whose death his brethren fearing, & talking one with another : Left perhaps he be mindful of the iniurie which he suffered, and requite vs al the euil that we haue done; 16. they aduertised him saying : Thy father commanded vs before he died, 17. that we should say thus much to thee in his words : I beseech that thou forget the wicked fact of thy brethren, and the sinne and malice which they haue exercized against thee : we also desire thee, that to the seruants of the God of thy father thou remit this iniquitie. Whom when Ioseph had heard he wept. 18. And his brethren came to him; and (b) adoring prostrate on the ground they said : We are thy seruants. 19. To whom he answered : Feare not; can we resist the wil of God? 20. " You thought euil against me, but God turned that into good, that he might exalt me, as presently you see, and might saue many peoples. 21. Feare not : I wil feed you and your litle ones, and he comforted them, and spake gently & mildly. 22. And he dwelt in A Egypt, with al his fathers house : and liued an hundred and ten yeares. And he saw the children of Ephraim vnto the third generation. Also the children of Machir the sonne of Manasses were borne in Iosephs knees. 23. Which things being done he spake to his brethren : After my death God wil visit you, and wil make you goe vp out of this land, to the land which he sware to Abraham, Isaac, and Iacob. 24. And when he had adiuured them and said " God wil visit you " carie my bones with you out of this place: 25. he died, being an hundred and ten yeares old. And being embaulmed with spices, was put in a coffin in A Egypt.

(b) This word adoring often in holy Scripture signifieth ciuil honour; as here it can haue no other sense.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. L.

Mans wil, not God the cause of sinne.

20. You thoughts euil.) This plaine distinction sheweth, that sinne is wholly of the sinner; and that God hath no part therein, but turneth it to good. For those things which Iosephs brethren did against him, were occasions of his aduancement in A Egypt, through the omnipotent wisdom of God. Whose propertie is, out of euerie euil to draw good. S. Chrift. ho. 67. in Gen. S. Aug. Enchirid. c. 11. li. 14. c. 27. de ciuis.

Ioseph, for his brethrens sake, differred his desired burial in Chanaan.

25. Carie my bones with you.] For the same reasons Ioseph would be finally buried in Chanaan, for which Iacob desired to be there buried (chap. 47.) but Ioseph would not presently be caried thither, lest it might haue giuen offence to the A Egyptians, or at least haue diminished their fauour towards his brethren: & withal he would confirme his brethren in their hope of returning, seeing he was content, that his bodie should expect in A Egypt, til the whole Nation should returne into Chanaan.

THE ARGUMENT OF THE BOOK OF EXODVS.

MOYSES hauing prosecuted in Genesis the sacred historie of the Church vnto Iosephs death, containing the space of 2310. yeares, continueth the same in Exodus for 145. yeares more. Where he first briefly recounteth, how a smal number of Israelites, especially after the death of Ioseph, being much increased, a new King (risen in the meane time, who knew not Ioseph) together with other Ægyptiās, enuying their better parts, both of bodie & mind, and more fortunate progresse in wealth; fearing also lest they stil multiplying, either by their owne forces, or ioyning with other foreners, might spoile Ægypt. & returne into Chanaan; and hating their Religion, because they acknowledged One onlie Eternal Omnipotent God, denying and detesting the new imaginarie Gods of the Ægyptians; resolued and publikely decreed, by oppression to hinder their increasing, & to keep them in bondage and seruitude. But God Almighty, who had chos-n them for his peculiar people, did not only so conserue and multiply them, that of seuentie persons which came into Ægypt, in the space of two hundred and fiftene yeares, there were six hundred thousand men able to beare armes, besides women, children, and old men, which by estimation might be three millions in al, but amongst other most strange and miraculous workes, especially deliuered one Hebrew infant from a trowning. Whom afterwaris he made the Guide and supreme Governour of the same people; by him admonished the King to cease persecuting, and diuers waies plagued him & his people for their obdurate and obstinate cruiltie. In fine called away, and mightily deliuered his owne people; drowned that King and al his armie in the red sea, the Israelites wonderfullly passing through, as in a drie chanel, the waters standing on both sides, like two wals. In the desert fed them miraculously with Manna, and gaue them al necessaries, defending them also from enemies. Then God, hauing thus selected and seuered his people from al other nations, gaue the a written law as wel of Moral, as Ceremonial & Iudicial precepts, with the māner of making the Tabernacle, erecting Altars, cōsecrating Priests, with the institution of daylie sacrifice, & of al vestures, vessels, & other holy things belonging to the seruice of God. So this book may be diuided into three parts. First is declared the Israelites seruite affliction in Ægypt, with their deliuerie from thence, in the fiftene first chapters. Then how they were maintained in the desert, and prepared to receiue a law, in the foure next chapters. In the other 21. chapters, the law is prescribed, instructing them how to liue towards God and al men.

Gen.
50.

Exod. 1.

Exod. 2.
Num. 1.

Exod. 2.

3.

5.

7.

12.

14.

16.

17.

20.

26.

27.

30.

& seq.

The continuation of this booke with Genesis.

The increase of the Israelites was enuyed, feared, and their religion hated.

Their persecution.

Their greater multiplicatiō.

The persecutour admonished, and punished.

Gods people mightily deliuered.

Miraculously sustained in the desert.

Instructed with Lawes Moral, ceremonial, and Iudicial.

THE
BOOK OF EXODVS, IN HEBREW
VEELLE SEMOTH.

C H A P. I.

The final number of Israelites much increasing in Egypt, 6. especially after the death of Ioseph & his brethren, 8. a new King, that knew not Ioseph, in vaine strueth to hinder their multiplication, 11. by imposing workes vpon them, 15. and by commanding to kil 22. and to drowne al the male-children of them. God in the meane time rewardeth the midwives, that fearing him killed not the children.

The first part of this book. Of the Israelites seruile affliction in Aegypt, and their deliuerie from thence.

(a) Enuie, vaine feare, (v. 10.) & hatred of true religion (v 13.) are the causes why Infidels persecute the faithful.

(b) The first persecutiō was in temporal

H E S E be the names of the children of Israel, that entered into Aegypt with Iacob: they did enter in euerie one with their houses, 2. Ruben, Simeon, Leui, Iudas, 3. Issachar, Zabulon, & Benjamin, 4. Dan, and Nepthali, Gad, and Aser. 5. Therefore al the soules that came out of Iacobs thigh were seuentie: and Ioseph was in Aegypt. 6. Who being dead, and al his brethren, and al that generation, 7. the children of Israel increased, and as it were springing vp did multiplie, and growing strong exceedingly, filled the land. 8. In the meane time there arose a new King ouer Aegypt, that knew not Ioseph: 9. and he said to his people: Behold (a) the people of the children of Israel is much, and stronger then we. 10. Come, let vs wisely oppresse the same, (a) lest perhaps it multiplie: and if there shal be anie warre against vs, it ioyne with our enemies, and we being ouerthrowne, they depart out of the land. 11. Therefore (b) he set ouer them Masters of the workes, to afflict them with burdens: and they built vnto Pharao cities of tabernacles, Phithom,

Phithom, and Rameffes. 12. And the more they did oppresse them, so much the more they multiplied and increased: and the Aegyptians (a) hated the children of Israel, and deriding afflicted them: 14. and they brought their life into bitternes with the hard workes of clay and bricke, & with alseruice, wherewith they were pressed in the workes of the earth. 15. And the King of Aegypt said to the midwiues of the Hebrewes, of whom one was called Sephora, the other Phua, 16. commanding them: (c) When you shal be midwiues to the Hebrew women, and the time of deliuerie is come, if it be a man-child, kil it: if a woman, reserue her. 17. " But the midwiues feared God, and did not according to the commandement of the King of Aegypt, but preserued the men-children. 18. To whom being called vnto him, the King said: What is this that you ment to doe, that you would saue the men-children: 19. Who answered: The " Hebrew women are not as the Aegyptian women: for they haue the knowledge to play the midwife themselues, and before we come to them, they are deliuered. 20. God therefore did wel to the midwiues: and the people increased, and became strong exceedingly. 21. And " because the midwiues feared God, he built them houses. 22. Pharao therefore commanded al his people, saying: Whatsoeuer shal be borne of the male-sex (a) cast it into the riucr: whatsoeuer of the female, reserue it.

losses and bodilic paines, by pressing the with workes.

c) The second was secret murder.

d) The third was open murder.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. I.

17: But she midwiues feared God.) In commendation of the midwiues not obeying the Kings commandement, Moyfes opposeth the feare of God, to the feare of Princes; shewing thereby that when their commandments are contrarie, the tubiects must feare God, and not doe that the Prince commandeth. So did our Sauour himself teach, and that for feare of damnation, saying: Feare him who hath power to cast into hel. And so his Apostles indowed with the Holie-Ghost practized, answering in this case, that they must heare God rather then men. Againe, God must be obeyed rather then men: Alwayes vnderstood, when they are contrarie. For otherwise both S. Peter and S. Paul teach vs, that Princes, yea Infidels, of whom they especially speake, must be obeyed.

19. Hebrew women are not.] Herein the midwiues sinned. For it is neuer lawfull to lye. Because the law of God is truth, whereby S. Augustin proueth (li. cont. mend. c. 10.) that whatsoeuer varieth from truth is vnlawful. When therefore (faith he) examples of lying are proposed to vs out of holie Scripture, either they are not lies, but are thought to be whiles they are not vnderstood, or if they be lies, they are not to be imitated, because they are vnlawful. S. Gregorie teacheth the same (ii. 18. Moral. c. 26.) Quia profecto ab equitate discrepat, omne quid a veritate discordat. Because assuredly what soeuer disagreeeth from veritie, differeth from equitie. Ye: these fathers hold such an officious lye, as this was, to be a lettie sinne, and more easily pardoned, and purged by good workes following.

God must be feared before Princes commanding contrarie things.

Princes must be obeved in lawful things.

All lies are finnes and vnlawful.

Venial finnes

Mat. 10.
Luc. 12.
Mt. 4.
C. 1.
1. Pet. 2.
Rom. 13.
Ps. 118.
v. 142.

Fcare of God
meritorious.

Temporal rewardes promised in the old Testamēt, eternal in the new.

21. Because the midwives feared God.] Feare of God as it is properly taken in holic Scripture, is that holic feare, by which the children of God refraine from sinne, and that with temporal danger, lest they should offend the diuine Maicstie. So these midwives endangering their owne liues, by not fulfilling Pharaos commandment, had the true feare of God, and for the same were rewarded, as is most probable, eternally: though mention be here made only of temporal reward, after the manner of the old Testament. Where such promises were made to Abraham, and other most godlie Patriarchs, for an essay only and tast of euerlasting life, which is more expresly promised in the Ghospel of Christ, as S. Hierom teacheth, Epist. ad Dardanum.

C H A P. I I.

A child of the Hebrewes, and Tribe of Leui, being exposed to the water, 5. is taken from thence by Pharaos daughter, 8. who committeth him to be nursed, vnwitting to his owne mother, adopteth him, and calleth him Moyfes, 11. He afterwarde visiting his brethren, killeth an AEgyptian: 15. flieth into Madian: 21. marrieth a wife, and hath two sonnes.

AFTER these things there came forth a man of the house of Leui, and he tooke a wife of his owne stocke. 2. Who conceaued, and bare a sonne: & seeing him a goodlie one, hid him three months. 3. And when now she could not conceale him, she tooke a basket made of bulrushes, and dawbed it with * bitume and pitch: and put within it the litle infant, and laid him in a sedge place by the riuers brinke, 4. his sister standing a farre off, and considering the euent of the thing. 5. And behold the daughter of Pharaos came downe to be washed in the riuer, and her maids walked by the riuers brinke. Who when she saw the basket in the sedges, she sent one of her handmaids: and when it was brought 6. opening it, and seeing within it an infant crying, hauiing pittie on it, said: This is one of the infants of the Hebrewes. 7. To whom the childe's sister said: Wilt thou that I goe, and cal to thee an Hebrew woman, that may nurse the litle infant? 8. She answered: Goe. The maid went and called her mother. 9. To whom Pharaos daughter speaking: Take, quoth she, this child, and nurse him for me: I wil giue thee thy hyre. The woman rooke and nursed the child: and when he was growen, deliuered him to Pharaos daughter. 10. Whom she adopted into the place of a sonne, and called him (a) Moyfes, saying: Because from the water I did take him. 11. In those dayes after that Moyfes was growen, he went forth to his brethren: and he saw their affliction, and a man that was an AEgyptian striking one of the Hebrewes

a kind of glew, so called.

(a) Mos, in the AEgyptian tongue signifi-eth water, and Isas, saued. *Io-seph. lib. 2. An-
tiq. & Clemens.
Alexand. li. 1.
Sstromas.*

Hebrewes his brethren. 12. And when he had looked about hither and thither, and saw no man present, he stricke the AEgyptian, and hid him in the sand. 13. And going forth an other day, he saw two Hebrewes brawling; and he said to him that did the wrong: Why strikest thou thy neighbour? 14. Who answered: (b) Who hath appointed thee Prince and Iudge ouer vs? Wilt thou kil me, as yester day thou didest the AEgyptian? Moyfes (c) feared, and said: How is this thing come abroad? 15. And Pharao heard of this talke, and sought to kil Moyfes: who flying from his sight, abode in the Land of Madian, and sate beside a well. 16. And the Priest of Madian had seven daughters, which were come to draw water: and when the troughs were filled, they desired to water their fathers flocks. 17. The shepheards came vpon them, and droue them away: and Moyfes arose, and defending the maids, watered their sheep. 18. Who being returned to Raguel their father, he said to them: Why are you come sooner then you were wont? 19. They answered: A certaine man an AEgyptian deliuered vs from the hand of the shepheards: morcouer also he drew water with vs, and gaue the sheep to drinke. 20. But he said: Where is he? Why haue you let the man goe? cal him that he may eate bread. 21. Therefore Moyfes sware that he would dwel with him. And he tooke Sephora his daughter to wife: 22. who bare him a sonne, whom he called Gersam, saying: I haue been a stranger in a forren cuntry. And she bare another, whom he called Eliezer, saying: for the God of my father my helper hath deliuered me out of the hand of Pharao. 23. But after much time the King of AEgypt died: and the children of Israel groning, cried out because of the workes: and (d) their crie ascended vnto God from the workes. 24. And he heard their groning, and remembered the couenant which he made with Abraham, Isaac, and Iacob. 25. And our Lord looked vpon the children of Israel and knew them.

(b) The guiltie person reiects Moyfes for lack of knowne authoritie, but God contrimed his commission. Act. 7. So the Iewes reiected Christ, Iudge of the world. (c) He feared to tempt God by staying, but not sine fierceres of the King. Heb. 11.

(d) Oppression of innocents crieth to heauen for reuenge.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. I I.

3. When she could not conceale him.] These godlie and prudent parents, considering that when the AEgyptians should perceiue such an infant to be borne, and not drowned according to the Kings Edict, they would destroy both the child and whole familie; to auoid the greater danger, chose the lesse: To bring him to the water side, not omitting their owne industrie, as wel by closing him in a basket, that would draw no water, as by setting his sister to watch what became of him: that if better successe happened not the first day, the mother might at euening giue him suck, and minister other necessaries; and so expect an other day, or many dayes Gods prouidence, til his diuine pleasure should more appeare.

Moyfes parents did prudently expose him to some danger, to auoid greater.

Reuelations and Gods determinations doe not exclude but include mans endeaour.

Though Moyfes iustly killed the AEgyptiā, yet others may not imitate his example.

Iosephus writeth that Anram Moyfes father, being solicitous, when his wife was great, how to saue the infant if it were a man-child, God reuealed to him, that she had conceived a sonne, who should not only be saued from Pharaos furie, but also be the deliuerer of the whole Hebrew nation from thraldome and seruitude of the AEgyptians. Wherupon they assuredly trusted that God would protect and prosper him, yet so, if they did their owne endeaour, which S. Augustin teacheth to be alwayes necessariē.

12. He stricke the AEgyptian.) Moyfes not of carnal loue towards his brethren, nor of priuate passion, but by diuine inspiration killed the AEgyptian, as S. Augustin proueth (li. qq. in Exod. q. 2.) by the testimonie of S. Steuen saying: Moyfes thought his brethren had understood, that God by his hand would saue them. Wherby appeareth that Moyfes himselfe knew it was Gods pleasure he should kil that AEgyptian inuading an Hebrew. Yet others may not imitate such particular examples. Catech. Rom. p. 3. c. 6. q. 5.

li. 2.
Amiq.

li. 16. c.
9 ac-
cimis.

AE. 7.

C H A P. III.

God appeareth to Moyfes in a bush burning but not consuming, 7. designeth him the Governour of the children of Israel, 10. with commission to tel them, that they shal be beliuered from AEgypt: 21. and shal spoile the AEgyptians.

The three first lessons on the 4. sunday in Lent.

(a) See what manner of reuerence & deuotion is prescribed, to goe bare-foot to holie places. (b) Of holie places, and of christian deuotion in going to them, S. Hier. writeth largely Epist. 17. 18. and 27.

ND Moyfes fed the sheep of Iethro his father in law the Priest of Madian: and hauing driuen the flock to the inner parts of the desert, he came to the mountaine of God, Horeb. 2. And our Lord appeared to him in a flame of fire out of the middes of a bush: and he saw that the bush was on fire and was not burnt. 3. Moyfes therefore said: I wil goe, and see this great vision, why the bush is not burnt. 4. And our Lord seeing that he went forward to see, he called him out of the middes of the bush, and said: Moyfes, Moyfes. Who answered: Here I am. 5. But he said: Approach not hither, (a) loose of thy shoe from thy feet: for the place wherin thou standest is (b) holie ground. 6. And he said: I am the God of thy father, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Iacob. Moyfes hid his face; for he durst not looke against God. 7. To whom our Lord said: I haue seen the affliction of my people in AEgypt, and I haue heard their crye because of their rigour that ouersec the workes: 8. and knowing their sorrow, I am descended to deliuer them out of the hands of the AEgyptians, and to bring them out of that land into a land good and large, into a land that floweth with milke and honic, to the place of the Chananeite, and Hetheite, and Amorrhite, and Pherezeite, and Heucite, & Iebuseite. 9. Therefore the cry of the children of Israel is come vnto me: and I haue seen their affliction wherwith they are oppressed by the Ægyptians. 10. But come, and I wil send thee to Pharao, that thou mayst bring forth my people the children of Israel out of Ægypt. 11. And Moyfes said to God: Who am I that I shal goe to Pharao, and bring forth the children of Israel out of Ægypt? 12. Who said to him: I wil be with thee; and this thou shalt haue for a signe that I haue sent thee: When thou shalt haue brought my people out of Ægypt, thou shalt sacrifice to God vpon this mountaine. 13. Moyfes said to God: Loe I shal goe to the children of Israel, and say to them: The God of your fathers hath sent me to you. If they shal say to me: What is his name: What shal I say to them? 14. God said to Moyfes: " I AM WHICH AM. He said: Thus shalt thou say to the children of Israel: HE WHICH IS, hath sent me to you. 15. And God said againe to Moyfes: These things shalt thou say to the children of Israel: The Lord God of your fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Iacob hath sent me to you (c) this is my name for euer, and this is my memorial into generation & to generation. 16. Goe, and gather together the Ancients of Israel, and thou shalt say to them: The Lord God of your fathers hath appeared to me, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Iacob, saying: Visiting I haue visited you: and I haue seen al things that haue chanced to you in Ægypt: 17. and I haue said the word to bring you forth out of the affliction of Ægypt, into the land of the Chanancite, and Hetheite, and Amorrheite, and Pherezeite, and Heueite, and Iebuseite, to a Land that floweth with milke and honie. 18. And they shal heare thy voice: and thou shalt enter in, thou and the ancients of Israel to the King of Ægypt, and thou shalt say to him: The Lord God of the Hebrewes hath called vs: We wil goe three dayes journey into the wildernes to sacrifice vnto the Lord our God.

secn

19. But I know that the King of Ægypt wil not dismisse you to goe but by mightie hand. 20. For I wil stretch forth my hand, and wil strike Ægypt in al my maruells, which I wil doe in the middes of them: after these he wil dismisse you. 21. And I wil giue grace to this people in the sight of the Ægyptians: and when you shal goe forth, you shal not depart emptie: 22. but each woman shal aske of her neighbour and of her that is in house with her vessels of siluer and of gold, and rayment: and you shal lay it vpon your sonnes and daughters, and (d) shal spoyle Ægypt.

(c) This is the most proper name, but the most common is God, deriued in manie languages of Good. Mat. 19. v. 17.

(d) Al that any man possesseth in this world is but lent by God. And therefore he iustly taketh away, and lendeth to others; disposing of al as pleaseth him.

ANNOTATIONS.

CHAP. III.

All apparitions to the Patriarchs and Prophets were made by Angels, though sometimes attributed to God. Proued by holy Scriptures & Fathers.

Examples.

God executeth his wil by Angels.

The most proper name of God is, HE WHICH IS.

2. Our Lord appeared.] S. Steuen reciting this vision saith, an Angel appeared to Moyſes: and so it is in the Hebrew text, in the Chaldee Paraphrasis, and in the Septuagint Interpreters. Neither is the Latin Edition (reading Lord), contrarie to the other which read Angel, no more then one place of holy Scripture is contrarie to another in the same language, but very consonant in sense, sometimes attributing the same apparitions and other workes to God, as the author and principal Agent, and sometimes to Angels, the next and immediate ministers of God. For so not only S. Steuen in the place alleadged, but also S. Paul saith plainly (Gal. 3.) that the Law was deliuered by Angels. And in his Epistle to the Hebrewes, proueth the excellencie of Christs Law about the old law, by the difference of the persons by whom both were giuen: affirming that the former was spoken by Angels, the other declared by our Lord Iesus Christ. Wherof S. Cyril of Alexandria discourseth largely (li. 8. c. 2. Thesau.) shewing that indeed Angels deliuered the law, yet not by their owne authoritie, but as seruants and legates of God. And before him S. Dionysie of Ariopagite (li. cœlest. Hierar. c. 4.) taught the very same, the law (sayth he) as holy writts testifie, was giuen to vs by Angels: yea all apparitions made to the ancient fathers before the law, and after it, were made by Angels. A litle after obiecting to himselfe, that diuine Scriptures also testifie, that the law was giuen and granted to Moyſes by God, to teach vs that indeed it hath the forme of sacred and diuine law, answereth, eam Angelorum ad nos opera peruenisse, that it came to vs (from God) by the meanes of Angels. In like manner S. Iustinus Martyr (in explic. 99. necess. q. 142.) sayth, all those Angels, which haue appeared in Gods place, or haue spoken with men, haue also been called by the name of God; as he that spoke with Iob, and with Moyſes. S. Augustin after a large discourse of this matter, in his second, third, and fourth books de Trinitate, hath these words (li. 1. c. vlti.) If it be demanded of me how either the voices, or sensible fornes, & shewes were made before the incarnation of the Word of God, which prefigured the same, I answer that God wrought them by Angels, which also I suppose I haue sufficiently shewed by testimonies of holy Scriptures. Likewise S. Greg. (Prefz. in Iob. c. 1.) saith plainly, that an Angel appeared to Moyſes in the fire bush, yet is called God, because he was the legate of God, & therefore spoke, as if God himselfe had spoke in diuine Person, explicating the same by two examples: Dauid sayd, My people ascend my law, yet neither the people nor law was Dauids, but Gods. And the reader dayly amidst the people proclameth: I am the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Iacob. Neither doth he truly say, that he is God, nor by that he sayth, doth he goe from the rule of truth. He also confirmeth the same doctrine li. 28. Moral. c. 5. And further teacheth that Angels protect men, and prouinces, & execute Gods wil in this inferiour world. And so doe the other Doctours of the Church S. Gregorie Nazianzen, orat. ad 150. Episcop. & orat. 2. de Theologia, in fine vtriusque. S. Basil. li. 5. cons. Eunom. S. Athanasius ser. 4. cons. Arian. longius a prin & Epist. de senten. Dionysij. Alexan. in fine. S. Ambrose ser. 1. in Psal. 118. S. Chrylost. ho. 6. and S. Hierom. li. 3. comment. in Mas. 18.

14. I am which am.) All other things, besides God, once were not; and being are limited in nature; neither could persist vnles God conserued them; manie things also haue lost, or shal lose their proper essence & being, and whiles they remaine haue continual alterations. Only God eternally is without beginning, ending, limitation, dependance, or mutation; consisting only of himselfe, & all other things are of him. Therefore this name, QVI EST, HE WHICH IS, is most proper to God, not determining anie manner, but indeterminately signifying all manners of being, for so it importeth the very infinit immensitie of Gods substance, S. Damascen. li. 1. c. 12. Orthodoxæ fidei. S. Tho. p. 1. q. 13. a. 11.

Act. 7.

Heb. 2.

Exod. 19.
20.

Psal. 77

Exod. 3.

C H A P. IIII.

Moyfes receiuing power to worke miracles in confirmation of his miffion, 14. & his brother Aaron being designed to affift him, 20. goeth with wife and children towards Egypt, 25. is in danger to be flaine for not fooner circumcifing his fonne. 27. Aaron meeteth him, 29. fo they goe together, and declare to the people, that God wil deliuer them.

MOYSES. answering said: " They wil not belieue me, nor heare my voice, but they wil say: Our Lord hath not appeared to thee. 2. Therefore he sayd to him: What is that thou holdest in thy hand? He answered: A rod. 3. And our Lord sayd: Cast it vpon the ground. He did cast it, and it was turned into a serpent, so that Moyfes fled. 4. And our Lord sayd: Stretch thy hand, & catch the taylor therof. He stretched it forth, & tooke hold of it, and it was turned into a rod. 5. That they may belieue, quoth he, that the Lord God of their fathers hath appeared to thee, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, & the God of Iacob. 6. And our Lord sayd agayne: Put thy hand into thy bosome. Which when he had put into his bosome, he brought it forth ful of leprosie like snow. 7. Draw backe, quoth he, thy hand into thy bosome. He drew it backe, and brought it forth agayne, & it was like the other flesh. 8. If they wil not belieue thee, quoth he, nor heare the word of the former signe, they wil belieue the word of the signe folowing. 9. And if so be they wil belieue neither of these two signes, nor heare thy voice, take water of the riuer, & powre it out vpon the drie land, and whatsoever thou drawest of the riuer shal be turned into bloud. 10. Moyfes sayd: I beseech thee, Lord, I am not eloquent from yesterday and the day before: and since thou hast spoken to thy seruant, I haue more impediment & slownes of tongue. 11. Our Lord sayd to him: Who made the mouth of man; or who framed the dumme and deafe, the seeing and the blind? did not I? 12. Goe on therefore, and I wil be in thy mouth; & wil teach thee what thou shalt speake. 13. But he sayd: I beseech thee, Lord, send whom thou wilt send. 14. Our Lord being angrie at Moyfes, sayd: Aaron thy brother the Leuite, I know that he is eloquent: behold he commeth forth to meet thee, & seeing thee shal be glad at the hart. 15. Speake to him, and put my words in his mouth; & I wil be in thy mouth, and in his mouth, and wil shew you what yee must doe. 16. He shal speake in thy stead to the people, and shal be thy mouth: but thou shalt be to him in those things that pertaine to God. 17. (*) This rod also take in thy hand, wherewith thou shalt doe the signes. 18. Moyfes went his way, & returned to Iethro his father

(*) God designed a rod for an instrument to worke miracles.

father in law, and sayd to him: I wil goe and returne to my brethren into Ægypt, that I may see if they be yet aliue. To whom Iethro said: Goe in peace: 19. Therefore our Lord sayd to Moyfes in Madian: Goe, and returne into Ægypt: for they are al dead that sought thy life. 20. Moyfes therefore tooke his wife, and his children, and set them vpon an asse: and returned into Ægypt, carying the rod of God in his hand. 21. And our Lord said to him returning into Ægypt: See that thou doe al the wonders which I haue put in thy hand, before Pharao: (b) I wil indurate his hart, and he wil not dismisse the people. 22. And thou shalt say to him: This saith the Lord: My first-begotten sonne is Israell. 23. I said to thee: dismisse my sonne that he may serue me, and thou wouldest not dismisse him: behold I wil kil thy first-begotten sonne. 24. And when he was in his iourney, in the Inne, our Lord met him, and would haue killed him. 25. Sephora by and by tooke a very sharp stone, and circumcised the prepuce of her sonne, and (c) touched his feet, and said: (c) A bloudie spouse thou art to me. 26. And (c) he let him goe after she had said, A bloudie spouse thou art to me, because of the circumcision. 27. And our Lord said to Aaron: Goe to Moyfes into the desert. Who went forth to meet him vnto the Mountaine of God, and kissed him. 28. And Moyfes told Aron al the words of our Lord, by which he had sent him, and the signes that he had commanded. 29. And they came together, and gathered together al the ancients of the children of Israell. 30. And Aaron spake al the words which our Lord had said to Moyfes: and he wrought the signes before the people, 31. and (d) the people belieued. And they heard that our Lord had visited the children of Israell, and that he had looked vpon their affliction; and they adored prostrate.

(b) See Annotations c. 7. v. 5.

(c) Sephora cast the prepuce a Moyfes feet, & said: (c) I had lost thee my spouse except I had redeemed thee with the blood of my child. And (c) the Angel let Moyfes goe. 5. Aug. 9. 11. in Exod. iuxta 7.

(d) Miracles a motiue to true believe.

ANNOTATIONS.

CHAP. III.

I. They wil not believe me.) Moyfes wisely considering that the children of Israell, much lesse Pharao, would hardly belieue his bare word, affirming that he was sent to them by God, proposed this difficultie before he tooke the Embacie vpon him. For without good prooffe both the Israelites and Ægyptians might haue reiected him, as seeming to come of his owne priuate spirit, being no ordinarie superiour, neither of the whole people, nor of his owne tribe, nor first of his familie; for Aaron was his elder brother. Therefore God gaue him power of working miracles to proue his extraordinarie mission true and lawfull. Which sufficed to make euen Pharao himselfe to know, that he was sent from God Almighty, though it mollified not his stubborne hart, to obey Gods commandment: and it fully satisfied the children of Israell touching al things which he denounced, belieuing him that God mercifully looked vpon their affliction and would

Miracles necessary & sufficient to proue extraordinary vocatio of new Preachers.

Ioan. 10. would deliuer them. Whereupon they adored prostrate, as the last words of this chapter testifie. Where we see both the necessitie, and sufficiencie of miracles to proue the extraordinarie vocation of such as preach otherwise then was taught before. For this cause our Sauour himselfe confirming his doctrine by miracles, Ioan. 15. sayd to the Iewes: If you wil not belicue me, Mat. 9. Mat. 16. belicue by works. Again he said of them: If I had not done among them works that no other man hath done, they should not haue sinne. And conformably sending his Apostles to preach the Ghospel, gaue them power to worke miracles in his name. So did S. Peter and S. Iohn heale the lame. Act. 3. And S. Paul auouched miracles for the signes of his Apostleship. 2. Cor. 12.

C H A P. V.

Moyfes and Aaron require of Pharao in the behalfe of God, to let his people the Hebrewes goe and sacrifice in the desert. Which he concerning 5. oppresseth them more, denying them straw, and yet exacting the accustomed number of bricke. 20. The people oppressed impute their miserie to Moyfes and Aaron. 22. But Moyfes prayeth to God for them.

AFTER these things Moyfes and Aaron went in, and said to Pharao: This saith the Lord God of Israel: dis-misse my people that they may sacrifice to me in the desert. 2. But he answered: Who is the Lord, that I should heare his voice, & dismisse Israel? I know not the Lord, and Israel I wil not dismisse. 3. And they said: The God of the He-brewes hath called vs to goe three dayes iourney into the wildernesse, & to sacrifice to the Lord our God: lest perhaps there chance to vs pestilence or sword. 4. The King of Aegypt said to them: Why doe you Moyfes and Aaron solicite the people from their workes? Goe you to your burdens. 5. And Pharao said: The people of the land is much:
 you see that the multitude is secretly increased: (a) how much more if you giue them rest from their workes? 6. Therefore he commanded in that day the ouerseers of the workes and the exactours of the people, saying: 7. You shal no more giue straw to the people for to make bricke, as before; but let themselues goe and gather straw. 8. And the taske of bricke, which they did before, you shal put vpon them, neither shal you diminish any thing: for they are idle, and therefore they crie, saying: Let vs goe, and sacrifice to our God. 9. Let them be oppressed with workes, and let them accomplish them: that they hearken not to lying words. 10. Therefore the ouerseers of the workes and the exactours going forth said vnto the people: Thus saith Pharao: I allow you no straw: 11. goe, and gather if you can find any-where: neither shal anie thing of your worke be diminished. 12. And the people was dispersed through al the Land of Aegypt to gather straw. 13. And the

(a) Wordlie men thinke Gods people increase most by rest, but indeed they multiplie more when they are oppressed. S. Cyprian de exhort. Mart. c. 10.

(b) The craftie diuel knowing that weake men afflicted are easely moued to murmur, stirred this people against their owne leaders. S. Greg. i. 29. c. 14. Moral.
 (c) Gods providence suffereth his children to be most afflicted, when reliefe is nere at hand. Theod. 9. 13. in Exod.

ouerseers of the workes were instant, saying: Finish your worke euerie day, as before you were wont to doe when straw was giuen vnto you. 14. And the ouerseers of the workes of the children of Israel were scourged of Pharaos exactours, saying: Why doe you not make vp the task of bricke as before, neither yesterday, nor to day? 15. And the ouerseers of the children of Israel came, and cried out to Pharao, saying: Why dealest thou so against thy seruants? 16. Straw is not giuen vs, and bricke are commanded vs in like sort: behold we thy seruants are beaten with whips, and thy people is vniufully dealt withal. 17. Who said: You are idle, and therefore you say: Let vs goe and sacrifice to our Lord. 18. Goe therefore, and worke: straw shal not be giuen you, and you shal giue vp the accustomed number of bricke. 19. And the ouerseers of the children of Israel saw themselues in hard case, because it was said vnto them: There shal not a whit be diminished of the bricke for euerie day. 20. And they met Moyfes and Aaron, who stood ouer-against them, comming forth from Pharao. 21. and they said to them: Our Lord see and iudge, because (b) you haue made our saueur to stinke before Pharao and his seruants, and you haue giuen him a sword for to kil vs. 22. And Moyfes returned to our Lord, and said: Lord (c) why hast thou afflicted this people? vherfore hast thou sent me? 23. For since the time that I entred in to Pharao to speake in thy name, he hath afflicted thy people: and thou hast not deliuered them.

C H A P. VI.

God reuealing himselfe more to Moyfes then he had done to former Patriarchs, 6. commandeth him to tel the children of Israel, that he seeing their miseries wil deliuer them from A Egypt, and giue them possession of Chanaan. 14. The genealogies of Ruben, Simeon, and especially of Leui are recited, 26. to shew the origin of Moyfes and Aaron.

(d) Adonai is not the name here vttered to Moyfes, but is read in place of the vnknewen name.

AND our Lord said to Moyfes: Now thou shalt see what things I wil doe to Pharao: for by a mightie hand shal he dismisse them, and in a strong hand shal he cast them out of his land. 2. And our Lord spake to Moyfes, saying: I am the Lord 3. that appeared to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Iacob, in God Almighty: and myname (d) A D O N A I I did not shew them. 4. And I made a couenant with them, to giue them the Land of Chanaan, the land of their pilgrimage, wherein they were strangers. 5. And I haue heard the groning of the children of Israel, wherwith the AEgyptians haue oppressed them: & I haue remembered my couenant. 6. Therefore say to the children of Israel: I the I ord who wil bring you forth out of the worke-prison of the AEgyptians, and wil deliuer you from seruitude: and redeeme you in a high arme, and great iudgements. 7. And I will take you to me for my people, and I will be your God: and you shall know that I am the Lord your God, that brought you forth out of the worke-prison of the AEgyptians: 8. and brought you into the land, ouer which I lifted vp my hand to giue it to Abraham, Isaac, and Iacob: and I will giue it you to possesse: I the Lord. 9. Moyfes then told al to the children of Israel: who did not hearken vnto him, for anguish of spirit, and most painefull worke. 10. And our Lord spake to Moyfes, saying: 11. Goe in, and speake to Pharao the King of AEgypt, that he dismisse the children of Israel out of his land. 12. And Moyfes answered before our Lord: Behold the children of Israel heare me not: and how wil Pharao heare, especially wheras I am of vncircumcised lips? 13. And our Lord spake to Moyfes and Aaron, and he gaue them commandement vnto the children of Israel, and vnto Pharao the King of AEgypt, that they should bring forth the children of Israel out of the land of AEgypt. 14. These are Princes of their houses by their families. The sonnes of Ruben the first-begotten of Israel: Henoeh and Phallu, Hefron and Charmi. 15. These are the kindreds of Ruben. The sonnes of Simeon: Iamuel and Iamin, and Ahod, and Iachin, and Soar, and Saul the sonnes of the Chananitess, these are the progenies of Simeon. 16. And these are the names of the sonnes of Leui by their kindreds: Gerson and Caath and Merari. And (i) the yeares of the life of Leui were an hundred thirtie seuen. 17. The sonnes of Gerson: Lobni and Semi, by their kindreds. 18. The sonnes of Caath: Amram, and Isaar, and Hebron and Oziel. the yeares also of Caaths life, were an hundred thirtie three. 19. The sonnes of Merari: Moholi and Muli, these be the kindreds of Leui by their families. 20. And Amram tooke to wife Iocabed (f) his * aunt by the fathers side: who bare him Aaron & Moyfes. And the yeares of Amrams life were an hundred thirtie seuen. 21. The sonnes also of Isaar: Coree, & Nepheg, & Zechri. 22. The sonnes also of Oziel: Mizael, & Elizaphan, & Sethi. 23. And Aaron tooke to wife Elizabeth the daughter of Aminadab, sister of Nahason, who bare him Nadab, & Abiu, & Eleazar, & Ithamar. 24. The sonnes also of Core: Afer, & Elcana, & Abiasaph, these be the kindreds of the Corites. 25. But Eleazar the sonne of Aaron tooke a wife of the daughters of Phutiel: who bare him Phinees. (g) these are the heads of the Leuitical families by their kindreds. 26. This is Aaron and Moyfes, whom our Lord commanded that they should bring forth the children of Israel out of the land of AEgypt by their troups. 27. These are they that spake to Pharao the King of AEgypt, that they might bring forth the children of Israel out of AEgypt: this is Moyfes, & Aaron, 28. in the day when our Lord spake to Moyfes in the land of AEgypt. 29. And our Lord spake to Moyfes, saying: I the Lord: speake to Pharao the King of AEgypt, al things which I speake to thee. 30. And Moyfes said before our Lord: Loe I am of vncircumcised lips, how wil Pharao heare me?

great

*patric-
lem pro patris, que Latine non dicuntur.

(e) The yeares of Ioseph dying first of Iacobs sonnes Gen. 50. and of Leui liuing longest, and none of the rest, are not without mystery recorded in holie Scriptures. Chronol. Hebr. -
f) See Num. 26. v. 59.

g) It pertained not to Moyfes present purpose, to prosecute the genealogies of Iacobs other sonnes, being come to the origin of the Priestly tribe in Leui the third sonne. S. Aug. 4. 15. in Exod.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. VI.

3. My name Adnai.] Here and in manie other places of holie Scripture in the Hebrew text is that name of God of foure letters, which the Iewes say is ineffable. Yet sure it is that Moyfes heard it pronounced, and afterwards writ it as he did the rest in Hebrew letters (which are al consonants) without vowels. But the Rabbins that long after put points or vowels to al other words, put none to this For al then read Adonai in place therof. And to the Latin, and al vulgar Catholike versions, keep the same word vntranslated. The Septuagint in Greeke translate ΚΥΡΙΟΣ, which in Latin is Dominus, in English Lord. So also al ancient Fathers, and (which is most of al) our Sauour, and his Apostles, al leading sentences of the old Testament, where this name is contained, stil expresse it by words that signifie Lord. Only certaine late writers haue framed a new word, by putting the points of Adonai, to the proper letters of this vnknown name, which are, Iod, He, Paus He, and to sound it Iehouah: which was scarce heard of before an hundred yeares. As Bishop Genebrard, Cardinal Bellarmin, and F. Pererius proue, for that neither ancient Fathers, writing whole Treatises de Diuinis nominibus, nor the elder Rabbins, nor later most learned Hebricians, as Rabbi Moyfes, Aben Ezram, Lira, Paulus Burgensis, and others, neuer mention Iehouah amongst the Names or titles of God.

In place of the name of God counted ineffable, is commonly read Adonai.

Iehouah is not the right name of God.

Matth.
v. 7. 10.
Ro. 15.
v. 11.

S. Dionyse. S. Hiero. Theodor. Damascen.

C H A P. VII.

Moyfes being constituted as God of Pharao, and Aaron as the Prophet of Moyfes they declare Gods commandment to Pharao; 10. turne the rod into a serpent; 17. and the water into bloud, which is the first plague. 22. The Magicians doe the like by incantments, and Pharaos hart is inaurate.

AND our Lord said to Moyfes: Behold I haue appointed thee " the God of Pharao: and Aaron thy brother shal be (a) thy Prophet. 2. Thou shalt speake to him al things that I command thee: and he shal speake to Pharao that he dismisse the children of Israel out of his land. 3. But " I wil indurate his hart, and wil multiplie my signes and wonders in the Land of AEGYPT, 4. and he wil not heare you: and I wil put in my hand vpon AEGYPT, and wil bring forth my armie and people the children of Israel out of the Land of AEGYPT, by very great iudgements. 5. And the AEGYPTIANS shal know that I am the Lord, which haue stretched forth my hand

(a) Aaron also was the Prophet of God, but subordinate vnder Moyfes, and ouer Pharao. S. Aug. q. 17. in Exod.

vpon Ægypt, and haue brought forth the children of Israel out of the middes of them. 6. Therefore Moyfes and Aaron did as our Lord had commanded: so did they. 7. And Moyfes was eightie yeares old, and Aaron eightie three, when they spake to Pharao. 8. And our Lord said to Moyfes and Aaron: 9. When Pharao shal say vnto you, Shew signes, thou shalt say to Aaron: Take thy rod, and cast it before Pharao, and it shal be turned into a serpent. 10. Therefore Moyfes and Aaron going in vnto Pharao, did as our Lord had commanded. And Aaron tooke the rod before Pharao and his seruants, the which was turned into a serpent. 11. And Pharao called (b) the wise men and the enchanters: and they also by Ægyptian enchantments and certaine secrecies did in like manner. 12. And euery one did cast forth their rods, the which were turned into dragons: but Aarons rod deuoured their rods. 13. And Pharaos hart was indurate, and he heard them not, as our Lord had commanded. 14. And our Lord said to Moyfes: Pharaoes hart is aggrauated, he wil not dismisse the people. 15. Goe to him in the morning, behold he wil goe forth to the waters: and thou shalt stand to meet him vpon the banke of the riuier: and the rod that was turned into a dragon, thou shalt take in thy hand. 16. And thou shalt say to him: The Lord God of the Hebrewes sent me to thee, saying: Dismisse my people to sacrifice vnto me in the desert: and vntil this present (c) thou wouldest not heare. 17. This therfore saith our Lord: In this thou shalt know that I am the Lord: behold I wil strike with the rod that is in my hand, the water of the riuier, and it shal be turned into blood. 18. The fishes also, that are in the riuier, shal dye, and the waters shal putrifie, and the Ægyptians shal be afflicted drinking the water of the riuier. 19. Our Lord also said to Moyfes: Say vnto Aaron, Take thy rod, and stretch forth thy hand vpon the waters of Ægypt, and vpon their fouds, and riuers, and pooles, and al the lakes of waters, that they may be turned into blood: and be there blood in al the Land of Ægypt, as wel in the vessels of wood as of stone. 20. And Moyfes and Aaron did as our Lord had commanded: and lifting vp the rod he stricke the water of the riuier before Pharao and his seruants: (d) which was turned into blood. 21. And the fishes that were in the riuier died, and the riuier putrified, and the Ægyptians could not drinke the water of the riuier, and there was blood in the whole Land of Ægypt. 22. And the enchanters of the Ægyptians with their enchantments did in like manner: and Pharaoes hart was indurate, neither did he heare them, as our Lord had commanded. 23. And he turned away himselfe, and went into his house, neither did he yet set his hart to it this time also. 24. And al the Ægyptians digged round about the riuier for water to drinke: for they could not drinke of the water of the riuier. 25. And seuen dayes were fully ended, after that our Lord stricke the riuier.

b) Iannes and Membres 2. Tim. 3. known by tradition.

c) Induration of hart (saith S. Bernard) is neither cut with remorse, nor softened with pittie, nor moued with prayers, nor yealdeth to threats: yea is more hardened by punishment. li. i. de consid. ad Eugen. d) The first plague in water, in which the Ægyptians drowned the Hebrewes infants. Theodos. vet. q. 19. in exod. the like. Ap. 16. Because the wicked spil the blood of Gods Saints, he wil giue them blood to drinke.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. VII.

The name of God attributed to men.

Judges called Gods.

Moyfes the God of Pharao.

Priests called Gods.
Other titles of God giuen to men.

Moyfes a Ho-lie Prophet, Priest, and Prince.

Protestants hold God to be the cause that men doe sinne, yet not the cause of sinne.

Zuinglius doctrine.

Caluins doctrine.

1. The God of Pharao.] The name of God, which essentially is proper only to the three Diuine Persons of the B. Trinitie, and incommunicable to anie creature (Sap. 14.) is neuertheless by similitude attributed in holie Scripture to other persons. As (Exod. 12. v. 8.) Judges, or Princes, are called Gods, for the eminent authoritie and power which they haue from God. So Moyfes was constituted the Iudge and God of Pharao; not only to punish him for his obstinacie, and finally to compel him to dismiss the Israelites out of Aegypt, but also to terrifie him: so in the meane time, that he being otherwise a mighty King, and extremely and often afflicted by Moyfes, yet durst neuer lay violent hands vpon him, lest himselfe and all his nation should presently haue been destroyed. As S. Hilarie (lib. 7. de Trinitate.) & S. Gregorie (ho. 8. in Ezech.) note vpon this place. Likewise Priests are called Gods (Exod. 22. v. 28.) for their sacred function, pertaining to Religion and Seruice of God. Prophets also are called videntes, Seers (1. Reg. 9.) because by participation of diuine knowledge, they see sometimes the secrets of other mens hearts, things supernatural, and future contingent, though properly and naturally onlie God Almighty is Scrutator cordis, the searcher of the heart, and knoweth all things (Sap. 1.) Againe S. Peter sayth (2. Epist. c. 1.) that rust men are made partakers of diuine nature. Which is rather more then to participate in name. Al which titles rightly pertained to Moyfes, being in life Holie, in knowledge a Prophet, in function a Priest, and in power a Prince. In the same sense of participation Saints are called our Mediatours, Aduocates, Redeemers, Deliuerers, and the like.

3. In illudurate.] According to our purpose mentioned in the Annotations vpon the 9. chap. to the Romanes, we shal here recite the summe of S. Augustins doctrine (Ser. 88. de tempore) touching the hard question: How God did indurate Pharaos hart. And withal we shal briefly explicate, according to the doctrine of the same, & other most learned Fathers of the Church, the true sense of this and like places, by which Zuinglius, Caluin, Beza, and other Sectaries, would proue that God not only permitreth, but also commandeth, inclineth, inforceth, and compelleth men to doe that which is sinne: yea that God is the author, internal mouer, & inforcer, that man transgresseth; though they denie that God sinneth, or is cause of the malice of sinne. For example, Zuinglius (Ser. de prouidentia Dei, ca. 5) sayth: Num. en ipsum auctor est eius, quod nobis est iniustitia, illi vero nullatenus est. The diuine power it-selfe is author of that thing, which to vs is iniustice, but to him in no wise. And a litle after, Cum igitur Angelum transgressorem facit, & hominem, i se solum transgressor non constituitur. When therefore God maketh Angel, and man transgressor, yet him selfe is not made a transgressor. Cha. 6. Vnum igitur atque idem factum, puta adulterium aut homicidium, quantum Dei est auctoris, maioris impulsus opus est; crimen non est: quantum hominis est crimen actus eius est. Therefore the selfe same act, as adulterie or manslaughter, as it is of God the author, mouer, inforcer, is aworke; is not a crime: but as it is of man, is a crime, & a wicked act. Caluin (li. 8. Instit. c. 17. para. 11.) affirmeth that the diuel & the whole band of the wicked can not conceiue, nor endeavour, nor doe anie mischief, nisi quantum Deus permiserit, imo nisi quantum ille mandarit. But so farre as God permitreth (which all Catholikes firmly believe) nay but so far as he commandeth : which al Catholikes abhorre and detest. Likewise (li. 2 c. 4. para. 4.) alleading Gods words, saying he had aggravated and hardened Pharaoes hart, affirmeth, that which God did more, besides not mollifying his hart, was, quod obstinatione peccatus eius obfirmandum Satane mandatus, that he committed his hart to Satan to be obdurat d with obstinacie : making God the authour, and Satan only the minister of hardning Pharaos hart. Beza folowing this race (in Respon. ad Casta lionem, Aphorismo 22.) sayth, God so worketh by euil instruments, that he doth not only suffer them to worke, nor only moderateth the euent, sed etiam ut excitet, impellat, moueat, regat, atque adeo (quod omnium est maximum) euam creet, ut per illa agat quod constituit : but also stirreth them vp driueth them forward, moueth them, ruleth them, and (which is most of al) euen createth them, that by them he may worke that which he appointed. Al which (saith he) God doth rightly, and without anie iniustice. So indeed these men say, when they are pressed with the blasphemous absurditie, that they make God authour and cause of sinne, which necessarily and evidently followeth of their doct. ine. For by the very light of nature it is cleere, that the commander or inforcer is authour of that euil which another doth by his commandement or inforcement, and by al law of nature and nations, diuine and humane, is condemned as culpable and guiltie of the fault, which the other committeth : but these Ministers say (in the places aboue cited) God commandeth, inforceth and worketh al that a sinner doth: Ergo, God by this doctrine must be authour, culpable, and guiltie of sinne. Which is so blasphemous and horrible to Christian eares, that they dare not say it in expresse termes.

Psal.
98. v. 6.

.Seeing then God is sayd to haue indurated Pharaoes hart, and al confesse that induration of hart is a most grieuous sinne, the controuerfic is : Whether God commanded, inforced, and wrought the induration in Pharaoes hart, or only permitted it ? or What els God did to Pharao, wherby his hart was indurate ? and finally, by whom it was properly indurate, by God, or by Pharao himselfe ? Al which S. Augustine explicateth, laying first this ground (which euerie one is faithfully and firmly to belieue) that God neuer forsaketh any man, before he be first forsaken by the same man : yea God also long expecteth, that a sinner which much and often offendeth, conuers and liue. But when the sinner abideth long in his wickednes, of the multitude of sinnes riseth desperation, of desperation is ingendred obduration. For when the impious is come to the depth of sinnes, he contemneth. Obduration therfore commeth not of Gods power compelling, but is ingendred by Gods renisnes or indulgence, and so not diuine power, but diuine patience did harden Pharaoes hart. How often soeuer therefore our Lord sayth : I wil indurate the hart of Pharao, he would nothing els to be vnderstood, but I wil suspend my plagues and punishments, wherby I wil permit him through mine indulgence to be obdurate against me. Perhaps some wil aske, why did God by spariug him let him be indurate ? why did God take from him his wholsome punishment ? I answer securely : this was done, because Pharao, for the huge heap of his sinnes, deserued not as a child to be corrected vnto amendment, but as an enemy was suffered to be indurate. For of them, whom Gods mercie suffereth not to be indurate, it is written : God scourgeth eu rie child whom he receiveth. And in another place : Whom I loue I correct and chastise. Againe : Whom God loueth he chastiseth. Let no man therefore with Paganes & Manichees presume to reprehend or blame Gods iustice, but certainly belieue, that not Gods violence made Pharao indurate, but his owne wickednes, and his vntamed pride against Gods precepts. Againe, what els is it to say, I wil indurate his hart, but when my grace is absent from him, his owne wickednes wil obdurate him ?

To know this by examples : water is congealed with vehement cold, but the heat of the sunne comming vpon it, is resolued, & the sunne departing, it freezeth

againc

Bezars doctrine.

By their doctrine it necessarily followeth, that God should be authour of sinne.

The state of the controuerfic.

S. Augustins doctrine ser. 88. de temp. God forsake not, til he be forsaken.

God by not punishing permitted Pharao to indurate himself. And that for his former sinnes.

In absence of grace sinne obdurateth.

Eze. 33.

Pro. 18.

Heb. 12.

Apoc. 3.

Prou. 8

Gods grace in the obstinate, like the heat of the sunne in cold water.

As a father for not punishing is sayd to spoile, so God to indurate.

Al the wicked may iustly be dained: but some are iustificed & saued.

God neuer willeth but only suffereth sinne.

Pharao abusing Gods benefits hardned his owne hart. And wilfully perished.

Other places of S. Augustine.

Gods iustice made eident when finnes are more notorious.

Gods patience of it-self profitable, by euil harts made vprofitable.

again. In like manner by the lasines of sinners charitie waxeth cold, & they are hardned as yse: but when the heat of Gods mercie commeth vpon them, they are againe softened. So Pharao without pittie or compassion afflicting the Hebrewes, became as hard as yse, but Gods hand touching him with afflictions, he made humble supplication, that Moyfes and Aaron would pray to God for him, promising what they demanded: againe, when the plagues were renoued, he was more indurate against God & his people, then before. Whereby we see, Gods gentlenes, indulgence, and sparing of Pharao, not his rigour, nor his wil or set purpose, but his permission, and Pharaoes owne wilful malice hardned his hart, and brought him to obstinate contempt of Gods commandements. And therefore God did only indurate him, in that common phraze of speaking, as a father or a Maister hauing brought vp his child or seruant delicately, and not sufficiently punished his frequent faults, whereby he becommeth worse & worse, desperate & obdurate, at last the father or Maister sayth: I haue made thee thus bad as thou art, I by sparing thee & suffering thee to haue thine owne pleasure haue nourished thy peruerfnes & carelesnes: yet he sayth not this, as though by his wil and intention, but by his goodnes and gentlenes the man became so wicked. It may here be demanded againe, why did not our Lord so mercifully punish Pharao, as wholly to reclaim him? for it seeme h that had been greatest mercie; and God dealeth so with some, why doth he not with al, that al might be saued? First, it is most iustly and rightly ascribed to their iniquitie, which deserue to be indurate: againe, why this sinner is reclaimed, and not another of the same il deserts, is to be referred to Gods inscrutable iudgements, which are often secret, neuer vniust. Let it therefore suffice piously and humbly to belieue, that as Moyfes testifieth, God is faithful: Land without ante iniquitie iust and right: and as the Royal Prophet also professeth, I haue art not a God that will iniquitie, and as the Apostle teacheth, there is no iniquitie with God. By al which and some more to the same effect (which we omit) S. Augustine concludeth againe, that propely Pharao hardned his owne hart, God only by bestowing benefits vpon him, which he abused, and not plaguing him so much as he deserued, but letting him liue, and reigne, and persecute the Church for the time, vntil he and al his armie were in the middes of the sea. Whither (as the same learned father noteth ser. 89.) their owne desperate boldnes drew them, vaine turie through their owne madnes prouoking them to goe so farre, where God not working, but only ceasing to continue his miracle the waters returning to their owne nature, and meeting together inuolued and drowned them al.

Other like expositions the same learned father hath in other places. As q. 18. super Exodum, he teacheth that Pharao being already so wicked through his owne fault, other things were done to him and his people, which partly were to the correction of others, and might haue been to his, but he abusing al, became worse and worse, by Gods suffering and dispensation, not only for his iust, but evidently iust punishments. Li. 5. cons. Julian. c. 3. touching the ground of tentation he alleadgeth the Apostle saying: Emerit one is tempted of his owne concupiscence, abstracted and allured: but touching one kind of Gods punishing some, that are ouerwhelmed in obstinate finnes, he alleadgeth the saying of another Apostle: God hath deliuered them into passages of ignomine, and into a reprobate sense, to doe those things that are not conuenient, for God deliuereth them (saith he) conueniently: that the same finnes are made both punishments of sinners past, and are deserts of punishments to come. Yet he maketh not the wils euil, but vscth the euil as he wil, who can not wil anie thing vniustly. Againe q. 24. It appeareth (saith he) that the causes of induration of Pharaoes hart, were not only for that his Inchanters did like things (to those which Moyfes and Aaron did) but the very patience of God, by which he spared him. Gods patience according to mens harts is profitable to some to repentance, to some vnprofitable to resist God, & persist in euil; yet not of it-selfe vnprofitable, but through the euil hart.

Deu. 32.
Psal. 5.
Rom. 9.

Iaco 1.
Rom. 5.

Briefly

Mira-ulorum verbera crebra dena-bas.

Briefly q. 36. I have hardened Pharaoes hart, that is, I haue been patient ouer him and his seruants. Epist. 105. God doth not indurate by imparting malice, but by not imparting mercie (or grace.) Li. de Predest. & Grat. c. 4 God is sayd to indurate him, whom he wil not mollifie. So, to make him blind whom he wil not illuminate So also to repel him, whom he wil not cal. And c. 6. what is that to say: I wil indurate his hart, but I wil not mollifie it? Cap. 14. It ought to haue auailed Phraeo to saluation; that Gods patience deferring his iust and deserued punishment, multiplied vpon him frequent stripes of miracles, or miraculouſ punishments. Cap. 15. Did not Nabucodonosor repent being punished after innumerable impieties, and recouered the kingdome which he had lost? But Pharaeo by punishment became more obdurate, and perished. Both were men, both Kings, both persecutors of Gods people, both gently admonished by punishments. What then made their ends diuers, but that the one feeling Gods hand mourned in remembrance of his owne iniquitie, the other by his freewil fought against Gods most merciful veritie?

Neither is this the doctrine of S. Augustin alone, but of other Doctours also. Origen (li. 3. Periach c. de Libert. arbutu) saith: The Scripture sheweth manifestly, that Pharaeo was indurate by his owne wil. For so God sayd to him: Thou wouldest not: If thou wilt not dismisſe Israel.

Exo. 4-
8.

S. Basil (Orat. quod Dens non fit auctor malorum) sayth, God beginning with lesse scourges, proceeded with greater and greater to plague Pharaeo, but did not mollifie him being obstinate, neither yet did punish him with death, vntil he drowned himselfe, when he presumed through pride to passe the same way, by which the iust went, supposing the red sea would be passable to him, as it was to the people of God. S. Chrysostom (ho. 67. in Ioan) God is sayd in holie Scripture to haue indurate some, and deliuered some into reprobate sense, not for that these things are done by God (conning indeed of mans owne proper malice) but because God iustly leauing men, these things happen to them. And (in cap 1. Rom.) He deliuered (into reprobate sense) is nothing els, but he permitted. S. Damascen (li. 4. ca. 20. de fide orthodoxa) It is the manner of holie Scripture to cal the permission of God his act As, He hath giuen them the spirit of compunction; eyes, that they may not see, and eares that they may not heare, and the like; al which are to be vnderstood not as proceeding of Gods action, but as of Gods permission, to wit, for mans free power of working. S. Hierome (Epist. 150. resp. ad q. 10.) Not Gods patience is to be accused, but their hardnes who abuse Gods goodnes to their owne perdition. Theodoret (q. 17. in Exod.) It is to be noted, that if Pharaeo had been euil by nature, he had neuer changed his mind. And (after diuers mutations recited, how sometimes he would dismisſe Israel, other time he would not) al these, saith he, Moyses recorded to teach vs, that neither Pharaeo was of peruerſe nature, neither did our Lord God make his mind hard and rebellious. For he that now inclineth to this part, now to that, plainly sheweth freewil of the mind.

Ha. 6.
Rom. 11.
v. 8.

S. Gregorie (li. 21. ca. 8. Moral.) God is sayd to indurate by his iustice, when he doth not mollifie a reprobate hart. And (li. 31. c. 11.) Our Lord is sayd to haue indurated Pharaoes hart, not that he brought the hardnes it-felse, but for that his deserts so requiring, he did not mollifie it with sensibilitie of feare infused from aboue. S. Isidorus (li. 2. ca. 19. de summo bono) Sinne is permitted for punishment of sinne, when a sinner for his desert forsaken of God, goeth into an other worse sinne.

Finally, conference of holie Scriptures, as in other hard places, so in this, giueth light for better vnderstanding thereof. For diuers places doe not only shew that in al these resistances, mutations of mind, and obstinacie of hart, Pharaeo was neuer deprived of freewil, as the Doctours before cited doe note, but also expressly attribute the act of induration to himself. Chz. 8. v. 15. 7 harao seeing that rest was giuen, he hardened his owne hart. V. 32. where the latin readeth in the

Not doing called sometimes doing the contrarie.

Freewil the cause of diuers ends in Pharaeo and Nabuco-donosor.

Other ancient Doctours teach the same, Origen,
S. Basil.

Chrysostome.

Damascene.

Hierome.

Theodoret,

Gregorie the Great.

Isidorus.

The act of in-duration attributed to Pharaeo himself in diuers places.

How it is said, God cast Pharaoh into the sea, when himselfe ranne in wilfully.

Not God but man the cause of sinne: proued by other scriptures.

True miracles doe certainly prouethe truth. Some strange things done by sleight, by deceit of senses, and by course of nature, especially by diuels.

Manie things about the diuels natural power. The diuels power is much restrained.

False Prophets euer faile, whē they pretend by miracles to prouetheir doctrine. Simon Magus confounded.

passiue voice, ingratum est cor Pharaonis, Pharaos hart was hardened, which is more obscure, the Hebrew sayth actiuelly, and the Protestants so translate, Pharao hardened his hart this time also. Likewise cha. 9. v. 7. the Hebrew sayth, Pharaos hart hardened it-selfe. Also v. 35. He hardened his owne hart, he and his seruants. Chā. 13. v. 15. When Pharao had indurated himselfe And 1. Reg. 6. v. 6. Why doe you harden your harts, as Aegypt and Pharao hardened their hart? Al which are reconciled with the other texts, that say God indurated Pharaos hart, vnderstanding that phrase in like sense to this (cha. 15. v. 4.) God hath cast Pharao his chariots and his armie into the sea. Where God only permitted, and no way forced Pharao and his armie to follow the Hebrewes between the walles of water. As before is here noted out of S. Basil, and S. Augustin, and the text it selfe maketh it euident. Againe, manie other places confirme, that not God, but the sinners owne wilfulness, is the proper cause of his sinne. Iob. 24. v. 23. God hath giuen him place for penance, and he abuseth it vnto pride. Eccle. 8. v. 11. Because sentence is not quickly pronounced against the euil, the children of men commit euils without al feare. Osee. 13. v. 9. Perdition is thine, o Israel, only in me thy help. Rom. 2. v. 4. The benignitie of God bringeth thee to penance: but according to thy hardnes, and impenitent hart, thou heapest to thy selfe wrath. Ephes. 4. v. 19. Gentiles haue giuen vp themselves to in-pudicitie (or wantonnes.) And manie like places shew, that God is not the mouer, author, nor forcer of anie thing, as it is sinne: but man himselfe is the author by wilfully consenting to tentations of the diuel, the flesh, and the world, and by abusing Gods benefits, and resisting his grace.

11. They also.] True miracles being about the course of al created nature, can not be wrought but by the power of God; who is truth it-selfe, and can not giue testimonie to vntruth, and therefore they certainly prouethe true, for which they are done. Other strange things done by enchanters, false Prophets, and diuels, are not indeed true miracles; but either sleights, by quicknes and nimblesnes of hand, called legier-demain, conueying one thing away and bringing another; or false representations deceiuing the senses and imaginations of men, by making things seeme to be that they are not; or els are wrought by applying natural causes knowen to some, especially to diuels; who also by their natural force can doe great things, when God permitteth them. And so by enchantments and certaine secreties, these forcerers either conueyed away the rods and water, and brought dragons and bloud in their place, and more frogs from other places, or els by the diuels vsing natural agents turned rods into serpents, water into bloud, and other matter into frogs: al which might be done naturally in longer time, and by the diuel in short time. But manie things are wholly about the diuels power: as to destroy the world: to change the general order thereof: to create of nothing: to raise the dead to life: to giue sight to the borne blind; and the like, which are only in Gods power. In things also diuels naturally can doe, they are much restrained by Gods goodnes, lest they should deceiue or hurt mankind at their pleasure. So these Enchanters fayled in the fourth attempt, not able to make more sciniphes, nor anie more such prodigies; and were only permitted to produce such serpents as were deuoured by Aarons serpent; and to change water into bloud; and to increase the number of frogs, for the greater plague, and no profite of the Aegyptians. Neither could they remoue anie plague. Nay themselves were so plagued with boyles, that for paine, or for shame, they could not stand before Moyses.

It is further to be obserued, that whensoever anie haue attempted to worke miracles to prouethe false doctrine, they haue failed, and by Gods prouidence been confounded. As when Baals false Prophets, crying to their false Gods from morning til noone, could not bring fire for their sacrifice: and yet the diuel brought fire to burne Iobs sheep and seruants: God permitting the one, and not the other. God also for a time suffered Simon Magus to make shew of miracles, and at last (as Egesippus li. 3. de excid. Hierosol. c. 2. and manie others testifie)

Bible.
1552.
1577.
1603.

Ser. 89.

Mar. 16
v. 20.
Heb. 2.
v. 4.
S. Aug.
li. 18. c.
18. c. iiii.

3. Reg.
19.
Iob. 1.

to flie into the ayer, as though he would haue ascended into heauen, but S. Peter praying to God, the Magician, notwithstanding his wings wherwith he presumed to flie, fel downe and broke his legs, that he could not goe. To omit manie examples, Gregorius Turonensis li. 2. hist. franc. c. 3. witnesseth, that one Cyrola an Arian Patriarch, pretending to obtaine of God sight to a man, that feyned himselfe blind, the man was presently blind indeed, and exclaiming cryed: Take here thy money which thou gauest me to deceiue the world, restore me my sight which I had euen now, and by thy perswasion, and for this money, I feyned to want. It happened worse to one Bruley a poore man in Geneua, whom Caluin with words and money perswaded to fayne himselfe dead, and so pretending to raise him to life, the man was found dead indeed, and not he but his wife (hauing consented to the deuise) lamented in earnest, enueihing against that false Apostle, calling him a secret theefe, and a wicked murderer, that had killed her husband. So writeth M. Ierome Bolseck in vita Caluini. And besides the womans vnexpected out-crie, and asseueration that her husband was not dead before, but that through Caluins perswasions and promises to relieue them with almes, they so feyned, al Genena did know that Caluin endeauoured to raise the man, and could not. These and manie others haue attempted and could doe nothing, but against themselves.

Al the danger is when indeed wonders are done that may seeme to be miracles. Against such therefore Gods prouidence more particulatly assisteth his seruants diuers wayes. First, he warneeth al to stand fast when such tentations happen Deut. 13. If there rise among you a Prophet, or one that sayth he hath seen a dreame, and foretelleth a signe, and a wonder, and it commeth to passe which he spake, and he say to thee: Let vs goe & folow strange Gods, whom thou knowest not, and let vs serue them, thou shalt not heare the words of that Prophet, or dreamer. In like manner our Sauour foretelling that false Christes, & false Prophets, shal by great signes & wonders seduce many, warneth al saying: Loe I haue foretold you. If therefore they shal say vnto you: He is in the desert, goe not out. Behold in the closets, belieue it not. Secondly, God suffered not the Enchanters of AEgypt, nor Simon Magus long: and for the elect, the dayes of Antichrists dangerous persecution shal be shortned. Thirdly, holy Scripture so describeth Antichrist, and his actes, as when he commeth he may be sooner knowne. Our Sauour sayth: The Iewes wil receiue him. S. Paul calleth him the man of sinne, importing one singular man, and the same replete with al wickednes, exalted above al that is called God, or is worshipp'd. Neither worshipping true God, nor other false God about himselfe. He shal be deadly wounded and cured. Not only he shal shew strange wonders, but also one of his Prophets shal bring fire from the firmament, & his image shal speake. Fourthly, as our Lord gaue power and authoritie to his great Prophet Moyses against the AEgyptian Enchanters, in the end of the law of nature, before the written law, and to his first chief Vicar S. Peter, in the beginning of the law of grace, to controle & confound Simon Magus: so he wil send his two reserued great Prophets Enoch and Elias neer the end of the world, to resist Antichrist, and to teach, testifie, and confirme with their blood the doctrine of Christ. For they shal be slaine, and rise againe after three dayes, and ascend into heauen. Then Antichrist holding himselfe most secure, shal sudainly be destroyed. 2. Thes. 2.

Ma. 24

Ioan 8.

2. Thes.

2.

Apo. 13

Apo.

11.

Apo.

20.

Cyrola an Arian Bishop detected. Caluins attempt misproued and he defamed.

Gods prouidence in most danger.

1. His special warning not to credit preachers of a new Religion, though they pretend to be Prophets, or to worke wonders.

2. Most dangerous seducers reigne but short time.

3. Notes to know Antichrist.

4. Against most dangerous assaults God sendeth most forcible resistance.

Sec Annor. Gen. 5.

C H A P. VIII.

The second plague is of frogs. 7. The enchanters make the like. 8. Pharao promifeth to let the Ifraelites goe and sacrifice, fo the frogs be taken away. 13. Which being done he breaketh promise. 16. The third plague is of sciniphes, 18. which the enchanters can not make. 21. The fourth is of flies. 29. Pharao againe promifeth to difmiffe the people of God, but doth it not.

VR Lord also said to Moyfes: Goe in to Pharao, and thou shalt say vnto him: This faith the Lord: Dimiffe my people for to sacrifice vnto me. 2. but (a) if thou wilt not dimiffe them, behold I wil strike al thy coasts with frogs. 3. And the riuer shal bubble with frogs, which shal come vp, and enter into thy house, and thy bed-chamber, and vpon thy bed, and into the houses of thy seruants, and vnto thy people, and into thy ouens, and into the remaines of thy meates: 4. and vnto thee, and to thy people, and to al thy seruants shal the frogs enter. 5. And our Lord said to Moyfes: Say vnto Aaron, Stretch forth thy hand vpon the fouds, and vpon the riuers and the pooles, and bring forth (b) frogs vpon the Land of Ægypt. 6. And Aaron stretched forth his hand vpon the waters of Ægypt, and the frogs came vp, and couered the Land of Ægypt. 7. And the enchanters also by their enchantments did in like manner, and they brought forth frogs vpon the Land of Ægypt. 8. And Pharao called Moyfes and Aaron, and said to them: (c) Pray ye to the Lord to take away the frogs from me & frō my people: and I wil dimiffe the people to sacrifice vnto the Lord. 9. And Moyfes said to Pharao: Appoint me when I shal pray for thee, and for thy seruants, and for thy people, that the frogs may be driuen away from thee and from thy house, and from thy seruants, and from thy people, and may remaine only in the riuer. 10. Who answered: To morow. But he said: According to thy word wil I doe; that thou maist know that there is not the like to the Lord our God. 11. And the frogs shal depart from thee, and from thy house, and from thy seruants, and from thy people: and shal remaine only in the riuer. 12. And Moyfes and Aaron went forth from Pharao: and Moyfes cried to our Lord for the promise, concerning the frogs, which he had agreed to Pharao. 13. And our Lord did according to the word of Moyfes: and the frogs dyed out of the houses, and out of the villages, and out of the fields: 14. and they gathered them together into huge heapes, and the earth did rot. 15. And Pharao seeing that rest was giuen (d) he hardned his owne hart; and heard them not, as

(a) If Pharao had not free-wil threatning of punishment were vniust. Origen. li. 1. Periar. c. de lib. arbit.

He that cannot doe otherwise doth not sinne, as both learned and vnlearned confesse. S.

Aug. de vera Relig. c. 14.

b) The 2. plague, Multitude of frogs.

c) The Enchanters could bring more frogs, but not take these away.

(d) Pharaos induratiō ascribed to himselfe.

our Lord had commanded. 16. And our Lord said to Moyfes: Speake to Aaron: Stretch forth thy rod, and strike the dust of the earth: and be there (e) sciniphes in the whole Land of A Egypt. 17. And they did so. And Aaron stretched forth his hand, holding the rod: and he strucke the dust of the earth, and there were made sciniphes on men and on beasts: al the dust of the earth was turned into sciniphes through the whole Land of A Egypt. 18. And the enchanters with their enchantments practized in like manner to bring forth sciniphes, and (f) they could not: and there were sciniphes as wel on men as on beasts. 19. And the enchanters said to Pharao: (g) This is the finger of God. And Pharaoes hart was indurate, and he heard them not as our Lord had commanded. 20. Our Lord also said to Moyfes: Arise early, and stand before Pharao: for he wil goe forth to the waters: & thou shalt say to him: This saith our Lord: Dismiss my people to sacrifice vnto me 21. And if thou wilt not dismiss thē, behold I wil sed in vpo thee & vpo thy seruants, & vpon thy people, and vpon thy houses al kind of (h) flies: and the houses of A Egypt shal be filled with flies of diuers kinds, and the whole land wherein they shal be. 22. And I wil make the Land of Gessen merueilous in that day, wherin my people is, so that flies shal not be there: & thou shalt know that I am the Lord in the middes of the earth. 23. And I wil put a diuision between my people & thy people: to morow shal this signe be. 24. And Our Lord did so. And there came a very grievous fie into the houses of Pharao & of his seruants, & into al the Land of A Egypt: & the Land was corrupted by such kind of flies. 25. And Pharao called Moyfes & Aaron, and said to them. Goe and sacrifice to your God in this land. 26. And Moyfes said: It can not so be done: for if we shal offer the abominations of the A Egyptians to the Lord our God, and (i) we kil those things which the A Egyptians doe worship before them, they wil beate vs downe with stones. 27. We wil goe forth three dayes iourney into the wildernes: and we wil sacrifice vnto the Lord our God, as he hath commanded vs. 28. And Pharao said: I wil dismiss you to sacrifice to the Lord your God in the desert: but goe no farder: pray for me. 29. And Moyfes said: Being gone forth from thee, I wil pray to our Lord: and the fie shal depart from Pharao, and from his seruants, and from his people to morow: but deceiue no more so, that thou wilt not dismiss the people to sacrifice vnto our Lord. 30. And Moyfes being gone forth from Pharao prayed our Lord. 31. Who did according to his word: and he tooke away the flies from Pharao, and from his seruants, and from his people: there was left not so much as one. 32. And Pharaoes hart (k) was hardned, so that neither this time would he dismiss the people.

(e) The 3. plague sciniphes, smale flying beasts, especially molesting mēs eyes. Philo. l. 1. de visa Moyfi.

(f) The diuels power limited by God. Iob 1. 2.

(g) The enchāters conuined in their vnderstanding, confessed the power of God, but not chāged in affection, persisted in malice against the truth.

(h) The 4. plague, Abundance of al sorts of flies.

(i) A Egyptian worshipping beasts thought it intolerable abomination to kil, or eate, or burne them in sacrifice.

Gen. 43. v. 32. 46. v. 34.

(k) In the Hebrew: Pharao hardned his owne hart, also this time.

C H A P. I X.

The fifth plague is pestilence amongst the Aegyptians cattle. 8. The sixt boyles in men and beastes 18. The seventh, haile. 27. Pharao confessing God to be iust, and himselfe and his people impious, promiseth againe to dismisse the people, 34. but faileth to doe it.

AND our Lord said to Moyfes: Goe in to Pharao, and speake to him: This saith our Lord, the God of the Hebrewes: dismisse my people to sacrifice vnto me. 2. And if thou refuse, and holdest them, 3. behold my hand shal be vpon thy fields: and vpon thy horses, and asses, and camels, and oxen, and sheep, (a) a verie sore pestilence. 4. And our Lord wil make a merucile between the possessions of Israel and the possessions of the Aegyptians, that nothing at al perish of those things that pertaine to the children of Israel. 5. And our Lord hath appointed a time, saying: To morow wil our Lord doe this thing in the land. 6. Our Lord therefore did this thing the next day: and (b) al the beastes of the Aegyptians dyed, but of the beastes of the children of Israel nothing at al perished. 7. And Pharao sent to see: neither was there any thing dead of that which Israel possessed. And Pharaoes hart (c) was hardned, & he did not dismisse the people. 8. And our Lord said to Moyfes and Aaron: Take your hands ful of ashes out of the chimney, & let Moyfes sprinkle it into the ayre before Pharao. 9. And he there dust vpon al the Land of Aegypt: for there shal be in men, and beaists (d) boyles, and swelling bladders in the whole land of Aegypt. 10. And they tooke ashes out of the chimney, and stood before Pharao, and Moyfes sprinkled it into the aire: and there were made boyles of swelling bladders in men and beaists. 11. (e) Neither could the enchanters stand before Moyfes for boyles that were vpon them, and in al the Land of Aegypt. 12. And our Lord did indurate Pharaoes hart, and he heard them not, as our Lord spake to Moyfes. 13. And our Lord said to Moyfes: In the morning arise, and stand before Pharao, and thou shalt say to him: This saith the Lord, the God of the Hebrewes: Dismisse my people to sacrifice vnto me. 14. Because this time I wil send al my plagues vpon thy hart, and vpon thy seruants, and vpon thy people: that thou mayest know there is not the like to me in al the earth. 15. For now stretching forth my hand I wil strike thee, and thy people with pestilence, and thou shalt perish from the earth. 16. And therefore (f) haue I set thee, that in thee I may shew my might, & my name may be told in al the earth. 17. Doeft thou yet hold backe my people, and wilt thou not dismisse them? 18. Behold I wil raine to morow this very houre (g) haile exceeding

(a) The 5. plague, Pestilence amongst cattel.

(b) Not al the beaists died, for some died in the 7. & 10. plagues, but al that died pertained to the Aegyptians.

(c) In Hebr. Vajchbad leb Parhaoh. Pharaoes hart hardned in selfe.

(d) The 6. plague Boyles in men and beaists.

(e) Poore Enchanters, that could neither escape nor cure this plague.

(f) In Hebrew I haue made thee stand, in the 10. and chaldee paraphrasis I haue kept thee alive. In the Latin I haue put or set thee, that in thee, through thyne owne malice much

Rem. 9.

much: such as was not in A Egypt from the day that it was founded, vntil this present time. 19. Send therefore now presently, and gather together thy cattle, and al things that thou hast in the field: for men and beasts, and al things that shal be found abroad, and not gathered together out of the fields, and the haile fal vpon them, shal die. 20. He that feared the word of our Lord of Pharaos seruants, made his seruants to flie, and his beasts into houses: 21. but he that neglected the word of our Lord, let alone his seruants, and his beasts in the fields. 22. And our Lord said to Moyfes: Stretch forth thy hand towards heauen, that there may be haile in the whole Land of A Egypt vpon men, and vpon beasts, and vpon euerie herbe of the field in the Land of A Egypt. 23. And Moyfes stretched forth his rod toward heauen, and our Lord gaue thunders, and haile, and running lightnings on the land: and our Lord rained haile vpon the Land of A Egypt. 24. And the haile and fire mixt together did driue: and it was of so great bignes as neuer before appeared in the whole Land of A Egypt since that nation was made. 25. And the haile smote in al the Land of A Egypt al things that were in the fields, from man euen vnto beast: and euerie herbe of the field did the haile strike, and euerie tree of the countrie it did breake. 26. Only in the Land of Gessen, where the children of Israel were, the haile fel not. 27. And Pharao sent, and called Moyfes and Aaron, saying to them: I haue sinned now also, the Lord is iust: I and my people, impious. 28. Pray ye the Lord that the thunders may cease, and the haile: that I may dismisse you, and ye tarie not here any longer. 29. Moyfes said: When I shal be gone forth out of the citie, I wil stretch forth my hands to our Lord, and the thunders shal cease, and the haile shal not be: that thou maist know that the earth is our Lords: 30. but I know that neither thou, nor thy seruants doe yet feare the Lord God. 31. The flaxe therefore, and the barley were hurt, because the barley came vp green, & the flaxe now was boled: 32. but the wheat, and other winter corne were not hurt, because they were lateward. 33. And Moyfes going forth from Pharao out of the citie, stretched forth his hands to our Lord: and the thunders and haile ceased, neither did there drop raine any more vpon the earth. 34. And Pharao seeing that the raine and the haile and thunders were ceased, he increased his sinne: 35. (b) and his hart was aggrauated, and the hart of his seruants, & indurate exceedingly: neither did he dismisse the children of Israel, as our Lord had commanded by the hand of Moyfes.

indurate, I may make knowne my power to man-kind. S. Aug. de Predest. & Grat. c. 6.
g) The 7. plague Terrible haile, thunders and lightnings.

(b) In Hebrew Vaiach bed libbe hu vahabadaf. And he hardened his owne hart, he & his seruants.

C H A P. X.

The eighth plague, of locustes. 21. The ninth darknes. Pharao yealdeth that al men and children should goe to the desert, but not the cattlc. 28. At last commaundeth Moyses to come not more in his sight, which Moyses foreselieth shal so be.

AND our Lord said to Moyses : Goe in to Pharao: for (a) I haue indurate his hart, and the hart of his seruants: that I may worke these my signes in him, 2. and thou maist tel in the eares of thy sonne, and of thy nephewes, how often I haue broken the Ægyptians, & wrought my signes in them: and you may know that I am the Lord. 3. Moyses therefore and Aaron went in to Pharao, and said to him: Thus saith the Lord the God of the Hebrewes: Til when wilt thou not be subiect to me? dismiss my people, to sacrifice vnto me. 4. But if thou resist, and wilt not dismiss them: behold I wil bring in to morow (b) the locust into thy coasts: 5. which may couer the face of the earth, that nothing therof appeare, but that which the haile hath left may be eaten: for it shal gnaw al trees that spring in the fields. 6. And they shal fil thy houses, and the houses of thy seruants, and of al the Ægyptians: such a number as thy fathers haue not seen, nor grand-fathers, since they arose vpon the earth, vntil this present day. And he turned himselfe away, and went forth from Pharao. 7. And Pharaoes seruants said to him: How long shal we endure this scandal? Dismiss the men to sacrifice to the Lord their God. Doeſt thou not see that Ægypt is vndone? 8. And they called back Moyses & Aaron vnto Pharao: who said to thē: Goe, sacrifice to the Lord your God: who are they that shal goe? 9. Moyses said: With our yong and old we wil goe, with our sonnes and daughters, with our sheep and heards: for it is the solemnitie of the Lord our God. 10. And Pharao answered: So be the Lord with you, as I shal dismiss you, and your litle ones: who doubteth but that (c) you intend very wickedly? 11. It shal not so be: but goe ye men only, and sacrifice to the Lord: for this your selues also desired. And immediately they were cast out from Pharaoes sight. 12. And our Lord said to Moyses: Strech forth thy hād vpon the Land of Ægypt vnto the locust, that it come vpon it, and deuour euerie herbe that remained after the haile. 13. And Moyses stretcheth forth his rod vpon the Land of Ægypt: and our Lord brought in a burning wind al that day & night: and when it was morning, the burning wind raised the locuts:

a) By Gods patience ouer Pharao & his seruants, in not destroying them, their wicked mind became more obstinate. S.

Aug. 9. 30. & 30. in Exod.

b) The 8. plague, Innumerable locustes, litle flying beasts, with long hinder legges, that destroy graine, grasse, & fruit. Plinius li 11. c. 29. S. Greg. li. 31. c. 20. Moral.

c) Because Gods seruants may not temporize in religion, politikes vniustly charge them to haue bad intentions.

14. which came vpon the whole Land of Ægypt: and fate in al the coasts of the Ægyptians innumerable, the like as had not been before that time, nor shal be afterward. 15. And they couered the whole face of the earth, wasting al things. Therefore the grasse of the earth was deuoured, and what fruits soeuer on the trees, which the haile had left: there was also nothing at al left that was green in the trees, and in the herbes of the earth, in al Ægypt. 16. For the which cause Pharao in hast called Moyfes and Aaron, and said to them: I haue sinned against the Lord your God, and against you. 17. But now forgie me my sinne this time also, and pray to the Lord your God, that he take away from me this death. 18. And Moyfes going forth from Pharaoes sight, prayed to our Lord: 19. who made a very vehement wind to blow from the west, and taking the locusts it threw them into the Red sea: there remained not so much as one in al the coasts of Ægypt. 20. And our Lord did indurate Pharaoes hart, neither did he dismisse the children of Israel. 21. And our Lord said to Moyfes: Stretch for thy hand toward heauen: and be there (d) darknesse vpon the Land of Ægypt so thicke, that it be palpable. 22. And Moyfes stretched forth his hand toward heauen: and there was made horrible darknesse in the whole Land of Ægypt three dayes. 23. No man saw his brother, nor moued himselfe out of the place where he was: but wheresoeuer the children of Israel dwelt, there was light. 24. And Pharao called Moyfes and Aaron, and said to them: Goe sacrifice to the Lord: let your sheep only and heards remaine, let your litle ones goe with you. 25. Moyfes said: Hostes also & holocausts thou shalt giue to vs, which we may offer to the Lord our God. 26. Al the flockes shal goe with vs: there shal (e) not a hoofe remaine of them; the which are necessarie vnto the seruice of the Lord our God: especially wheras we know not what must be offered til we come to the very place. 27. And our Lord did indurate Pharaoes hart, and he would not dismisse them. 28. And Pharao said to Moyfes: Get thee from me, and beware thou see not my face any more: in what day soeuer thou shalt come in my sight, thou shalt dye. 29. Moyfes answered: So shal it be as thou hast spoken, I wil not see thy face any more.

d) The 9. plague, Horrible darknes three dayes together.

e) Gods people must be resolute in Religion.

CHAP. XI.

God biddeth Moyses cause the people of Israel to borrow siluer and gold vessels of the Ægyptians. 4. Foretelleth one other plague, the death of the first-borne, 9. and that Pharaο wil stil be obdurate.

AND our Lord said to Moyses : Yet with one plague more wil I touch Pharaο and Ægypt, and after this he shal dismisse you, and compel you to goe forth. 2. Thou shalt say therefore to al the people, that euerie man aske of his freind & euerie woman of her neighbour vessels of siluer and of gold. 3. And the Lord wil giue grace to his people in the sight of the Ægyptians. And Moyses was a very great man in the Land of Ægypt, in the sight of Pharaοes seruants, and of al the people. 4. And he said : This faith our Lord : At midnight I wil enter into Ægypt : 5. and (a) euerie first-begotten in the Land of the Ægyptians shal dye, from the first-begotten of Pharaο who sitteth in his throne, euen to the first-begotten of the handmaid that is at the mil, and al the first-begotten of beasts. 6. And there shal be a great crie in the whole Land of Ægypt, such as neither hath been before, nor shal be afterward. 7. But with al the children of Israel there shal not a dog mutter, from man euen to beast : that you may know with how great a miracle our Lord doth diuide the Ægyptians and Israel. 8. And al these thy seruants shal come downe to me, and shal adore me, saying : Goe forth thou, and al the people that is vnder thee : after this we shal goe forth. 9. And he departed from Pharaο exceeding angrie. And our Lord said to Moyses : Pharaο wil not heare you, that manie signes may be done in the Land of Ægypt. 10. And Moyses and Aaron did al the wonders that are written, before Pharaο. And our Lord (b) hardned Pharaοes hart, neither did he dismisse the children of Israel out of his Land.

a) The 10. plague, Death of the first-borne in men and beastes of the Ægyptians.

b) As before c. 7. v. 3. c. 9. v. 16. c. 10. v. 1.

C H A P. X I I.

The manner of preparing and eating the Paschal lambe , sprinkling the dore-postes with bloud therof: 15. eating no leauened bread seuen dayes together. 29. The first-borne of men and beasts among the Aegyptians are slaine. 35. The Israelites goe away spoyling Aegypt. 43. Incircumcised men may not eate the Phase.

AN D our Lord said to Moyfes and Aaron in the Land of Aegypt : 2. This month shal be to you the beginning of months : it shal be the first in the months of the yeare. 3. Speake yee to the whole assemblie of the children of Israel , and say to them : The tenth day of this month let euerie man take a lambe by their families and houses. 4. But if the number be lesse then may suffice to eate the lambe , he shal take vnto him his neighbour that ioyneth to his house , according to the number of soules which may suffice to the eating of the lambe. 5. And it shal be a lambe without spote, a male, of a yeare old : according also to which rite you shal take (a) a kid. 6. And you shal keep him vntil the fourteenth day of this month : and the whole multitude of the children of Israel shal (b) sacrifice him at euen. 7. And they shal take of the bloud therof , and put vpon both the postes , and on the vpper dore-postes of the houses , wherin they shal eate him. 8. And they shal eate the flesh that night roasted at the fire , and vnleauened bread with wilde lettice. 9. You shal not eate therof any thing raw , nor boyled in water , but only roasted at the fire : the head with the feet and entrailes therof you shal deuour. 10. Neither shal there remaine any thing of him vntil morning. If there be any thing left , you shal burne it with fire. 11. And thus you shal eate him : You shal gird your reynes , and you shal haue shoes on your feet , holding staues in your hands , and you shal eate speedily : for it is the (c) Phase (that is the Passage) of the Lord. 12. And I wil passe through the Land of Aegypt that night , and wil strike euerie first-begotten in the Land of Aegypt from man euen vnto beast : & (d) in al the Gods of Aegypt I wil doe iudgements , I the Lord. 13. And the bloud shal be vnto you for a signe in the houses where you shal be : & I shal see the bloud , & shal passe ouer you : neither shal there be among you a destroying plague when I shal strike the Land of Aegypt. 14. And you shal haue this day for a moniment : & you shal celebrate it soleine to the Lord in your generations with an euerlasting obseruation. 15. Seuen dayes shal you eate azimes : in the first day there shal be no leauen in your houses : whosoever shal eate leauen , that soule shal perish out a) Such as had not meanes to take a lambe, tooke a kid, vsing al the same Rites. b) Shachatu, immolabunt, shal offer or sacrifice: not only kid, as Protestants translate.

The Epistle in the office on good friday. And the 9. propheticie before Masse on Easter eue.

c) Passage in killing the first-borne of Aegypt , and not of Israel. S. Hiero in Mat. 26. d) The idols of Aegypt were ouertrowne, as Dagon was in Azotum. 1. Reg. 5. S. Hier. Ep. ad Fabioli xiradii, Hebr.

of Israel, from the first day vntil the seuenth day. 16. The first day shal be holie and solemne, and the seuenth day with the like festiuitie shal be venerable: no worke shal you doe in them, except those things that pertaine to eating. 17. And you shal obserue the azymes: for in the selfe-same day I wil bring forth your armie out of the Land of Aegypt, and you shal keep this day vnto your generations with a perpetual rite. 18. The first month, the fourteenth day of the month at euen you shal eat (e) azymes vntil the one and twentieth day of the same month at euen. 19. Seuen dayes there shal not be found leauened in your houses: he that shal eat leauened, his soule shal perish out of the assemblie of Israel, as wel of strangers as of them that are borne in the land. 20. Nothing leauened shal you eat: in al your habitations you shal eat azymes. 21. And Moyses called al the Ancients of the children of Israel and said to them: Goe take a lambe by your families, and sacrifice the Phase. 22. And (f) dip a bunch of hyssop in the blood that is at the doore, and sprinkle the vpper transome of the doore therwith, and both the doore checkes: let none of you goe out of the doore of his house til morning. 23. For our Lord wil passe striking the Aegyptians: and when he shal see the blood on the vpper sil, and on both the postes, he wil passe ouer the doore of the house, & not suffer the striker to enter your houses and to hurt. 24. Keep this thing as a law to thee and thy children for euer. 25. And when you are entred into the Land which our Lord wil giue you as he hath promised, you shal obserue these ceremonies. 26. And when your children shal say to you: What is this religion? 27. you shal say to them: It is the victime of our Lords passage, when he passed ouer the houses of the children of Israel in Aegypt striking the Aegyptians, and deliuering our houses. And the people bowing themselves adored. 28. And the children of Israel going forth did as our Lord had comanded Moyses & Aaron. 29. And it came to passe at midnight, our Lord stricke (g) euerie first-begotten in the Land of Aegypt, from the first-begotten of Pharao, who sate in his throne, vnto the first-begotten of the captiue woman that was in the prison, and euerie first-begotten of beasts. 30. And Pharao arose in the night, & al his seruants, & al Aegypt: & there arose a great crie in Aegypt: for neither was there a house wherin there lay nota dead one. 31. And Pharao calling Moyses & Aaron in the night, said: Arise & goe forth from my people, you and the children of Israel: goe, sacrifice to the Lord as you say. 32. Your sheep & herds take you as you demanded, and departing blesse me. 33. And the Aegyptians vrged the people to goe forth out of the lād quickly, saying: We shal al die. 34. The people therefore tooke dough before it was leauened: and tying it in their clokes, put it vpon their shoulders. 35. And the children of Israel did as Moyses had commanded: & they asked of the Aegyptians vessels of siluer and gold, and very much rayment. 36. And our Lord gaue grace to the people before the Aegyptians that they did lend them: & (b) they spoyled the Aegyptians. 37. And the

e) Christ obseruing this precept, had no leauened bread at his last supper: and so instituted the Eucharist in vnleauened.

f) Sprinkling of blood with hyssop here & Leuit. 14. Num. 19. prescribed, signifieth mans deliuerie by Christs blood working in Baptisme and other Sacraments. Heb. 9.

g) Punishment conforme to their sinne, for persecuting Gods first-begotten sonne Israel. Exod. 4. v. 21. Theodor. 9. 22. in Exod.

b) Lawful spoile by the warrant of God, Lord of al.

children

children of Israel set forward from Ramesse into Socoth, almost six hundred thousand of foot men, beside litle ones. 38. But also the common people of al sorts innumerable went vp with them, sheep and heards and beasts of diuerse kinds exceeding manie. 39. And they baked the meale, which a litle before they had taken out of A Egypt tempered: and made hearth cakes vnleauened: for it could not be leauened, the A Egyptians vrging them to depart, & not suffering them to make any tarriance: neither did they thinke vpon preparing any meate. 40. And the dwelling of the children of Israel that they abode (1) in A Egypt, was foure hundred thirty yeares. 41. The which being expired, the same day al the armie of our Lord went forth out of the Land of A Egypt. 42. This is the obseruable night of our Lord, when he brought them forth out of the Land of A Egypt: this night al the children of Israel must obserue in their generations. 43. And our Lord said to Moyse and Aaron: This is the religion of the Phafe: No alien shal eate of it. 44. And euerie bought seruant shal be circumcised, and so shal eate. 45. The stranger and the hireling shal not eate therof. 46. In one house shal it be eaten, neither shal you carrie forth of the fleih therof out of the house, neither shal you breake a bone therof. 47. Al the assemblie of the children of Israel shal make it. 48. And if any of the sojourners be willing to dwel among you, and make the Phafe of the Lord, first al the male that he hath shal be circumcised, and then shal he celebrate it according to the rite: & he shal be as he that is borne in the land: but if there be any man vncircumcised, he shal not eate therof. 49. Al one law shal be to him that is borne in the land and to the Profelyte that sojourneth with you. 50. And al the children of Israel did as our Lord had commanded Moyse and Aaron. 51. And the same day our Lord brought forth the children of Israel out of the Land of A Egypt by their troupes.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. I I.

3 The tenth day.] Our Sauour Christ instituting the Sacrament of the Eucharist after the celebration of the Paschal lambe, whiles they were at supper, the night before his death, therby sufficiently declared, that this old Pasch was a figure, not only of his Passion and Sacrifice on the Crosse, but also of that he then did so solemnly with his Apostles; whom also in that action he made Priests commanding them and their successours to doe the same in commemoration of him, til the end of the world. Other circumstances likewise, and conference of the one with the other make it more clere, that as in some respects it more resembled Christs Passion and Sacrifice on the Crosse, so in others it more expressed the Eucharist and mystical commemoration of his death, though also in manie it prefigured Christ in both places. For example, The preparing of the lambe the tenth day signified our Sauours comming into Hierusalem, the same tenth day of the first moone, now represented in the Church on Palme-sunday. Also the choise

1) From the promise made to Abraham (Gen. 12. v. 7.) and his first going into Aegypt (v. 10) to this time, were 430. yeares Gal. 3 of which they were in great persecution about 80. yeares, before that in seruitude about 60. more, before that also they were strangers partly in Aegypt, partly in Chanaan the rest of this time. See Gen. 15. v. 13. The 70. read in Aegypt and in Chanaan, for explication, as S. Augustin noteth l. 16. c. 10. cims.

Christs action sheweth that the Paschal lambe was a figure of the Eucharist.

Some things in the Paschal lambe prefigured Christ both on the Crosse & at his last supper.

qualities

Some more expressly signified his Passion.

Others immediately the Eucharist.

Ancient writers expound this figure of the Eucharist.

Tertullian proueth by this figure, fulfilled in the Eucharist, that Christ hath a true and not a phantastical bodie.

The same Sacrifice offered by Priests.

qualities of the lambe, without spot, & male, of the first yeare, foreshewed in general the puritie, fortitude, meeknes, and al perfection of the true Lambe of God, that taketh away the sinnes of the world. More particularly the killing & bereaving the Paschal Lambe of natural life, the sprinkling of his blood on the dove postes, the resting at the fire, & not breking anie bone thereof, most specially expressed; Christs death on the Crosse. But the fourteenth day, & the evening agree only with the Eucharist, instituted the night before our Lords Passiō, which he suffered the fifteenth (being the full moone) and at midday, as ancient S. Dionyse of Ariopagite (in two Epistles, to Policarpus, & to Appollophanes) testifieth, admiring the miracle of the sunnes eclipse, that hapned the same time. Neither did the eating of the Lambe directly prefigure the oblation on the Crosse, for Christ was not crucified to be eaten: but the Sacrament in formes of bread and wine was expressly figured by eating the lambe with unblessened bread, & drinking the cup thereto adioyned (Luc. 22. v. 17.) In like sort the Lambe immolated in commemoration of the deliuerie of Israel from death, & from seruitude, when the first-borne of Aegypt were slaine, most aptly prefigured the Eucharist, which is a perpetual commemoration of mans redemption & deliuerie from eternal death, and from bondage of the diuel & sinne, by Christs death on the Crosse, which death indeed was the very redemption & deliuerie of mankind, & not a cōmemoration thereof. Finally, the immolating of the Lambe within the house with precise commandmēt to carie nothing thereof forth, pertained particularly to the Eucharist, which our Lord celebrated within the house, wherby S. Cyprian (lib. de unit. Eccles.) proueth, that the B. Sacrament inuist not be giuen to anie out of the Catholike Church, though Christs Passion be extended to al the world, as wel to bring such as are without into the Church, as to saue those that are already entred in. In this sort the most ancient and best expolitours of holie Scripture, explicate this special figure of the Paschal Lambe. As we shal here produce some witnesses in confirmation of this truth.

Tertullian lib. 4. contra Marcionem, expounding our Sauours words: Wish desire I haue desired to eat this Pasch with you before I suffer, sayth, Christ coueted not veruenicium Indeoru, the mutton of the Iewes, but professing that with desire he desired to eat the Pasch, as his owne (for it was vnmeet that God should couer anie thing not his owne) the bread which he took, & gaue to his disciples, he made his owne bodie saying: This is my bodie, that is, a figure of my bodie. Figura autem non suisset, nisi veritatis esset corpus: But it had not been a figure (saith he) unlesse it were a bodie of veritie, or, a verie bodie, to wit, not phantastical as the heretike Marcion imagined; because the figures in the old Testament were not figures, except a true bodie answered vnto them. So the Sacramentaries sence, that Tertullian should call the Eucharist a figure, is quite against his meaning, and maketh him conclude nothing against Marcion; whereas his whole drift is, by the figures of the old Testament to proue, that in the Eucharist is the true & real bodie of Christ, & that consequently Christ hath a true and real bodie. Origen (in 26. Mat.) teacheth that in the great parlar (where Christ did eat the Paschal Lambe) he also made his new Pasch.

S. Cyprian (de Cena Dom.) sayth: In the supper of sacramental banquets, old & new Institutions met together. The lambe being consumed, which old traditiō proposed, the Master setteth inconsumptible meate to his disciples. S. Gregorie Nazianzen (Oras. 2. de Pascha) sayth God commanded the Paschal Lambe should be eaten in the euening, because Christ in the euening gaue the Sacramēt of his owne bodie to his disciples. S. Hierom (in 26. Mat.) After that the figuratiue Pasch was complete, & Christ had eaten the flesh of the lambe with his Apostles, he taketh bread, which confirmeth the hart of man, and passeth ouer to the true Sacrament of Pasch. Likewise S. Chrysostom (Ho. de produs. Iudæ) sayth: In the same table both the Paschs, of the figure, & of the veritie were celebrated. S. Ambrose (in Luca. 1.) expressly applieth this figuratiue lambe to the Eucharist, as it is celebrated in the Church, by himself & other Priests, saying: When we sacrifice, Christ is present, Christ is sacrificed: for Christ our Pasch is immolated. The like affirmeth S. Augustin

Ioan 1.

Ioan. 19.

Luc. 22.

Hier.

11. v. 15.

Tf. 103.

1. Cor. 5.

(li. 2. con. li. Paul. c. 27.) It is an other Pasch that the Iewes celebrated of a sheep, an other which we receiue in the bodie & blood of our Lord. S. Leo (ser. 7. de Pass.) To the end shadowes might giue place to the bodie, & figures might cease in presence of the veritie, the old obseruation is taken away by the new Sacrament, hoste passeth into hoste, blood excludeth blood, and when the legal festiuitie is changed, it is fulfilled.

S. Gregorie (ho. 22. in Euang.) proueth by these wordes, You shal not eate thereof anie thing raw, that besides the letter there is a spiritual sence. Behold (saith he) the verie wordes of the historic driue vs from the historical vnderstanding. For did the Israelitical people in AEGYPT vse to eate a lamb raw, that the law should need to say: you shal not eate it raw? And so in that homilie this great Doctour explicateth how we ought to celebrate & receiue the Sacrament of the Eucharist, by the figure of this Paschal lambe. This blood (saith he) is sprinkled on both postes, when the Sacrament of his Passion is receiued with mouth, to redemption, and meditated with intensiu mind to imitation, & in the transome ouer the dore, when pure intention directeth the exterior act, also when we carie the Crosse of his Passion in our forehead. The flesh of the lambe is eaten at night, because we now receiue our Lords bodie in the Sacrament, when yet we see no: each others consciences: rosted as the fire, when we ioyne to our beliefe good workes of seruent charitie: with vnalesened bread & with lesse. that is, in sinceritie, without corruption of vaine glorie, and with bitter penance for sinnes: not raw, nor sod in water, to wit, neither esteeming Christ a mere man, nor considering of him, with humane wisdom or priuate spirit of heretikes, called stolen water (Prou. 9) To deuour the head with the feet and entrails, is by faith to belieue the Diuinitie of Christ, and to imitate by loue the steps of his humanitie, & greedily to learne al Christian mysteries. Nothing is left in morning, when we endeauour in this life before the resurrection to know euerie point of Christian doctrine, so farre as to vs pertaineth. But if anie thing be left, it must be burned in the fire, because those hard & highest mysteries, which we can not vnderstand, we must remitt to the Hoie Ghost, lest anie proudly presume either to contemne, or to proclaime that he vnderstandeth not. He further describeth also what manner of persons are to eate this new Pasch. Their loynes must be gyrded, that is, al carnal pleasures tamed. They must haue shoes on their feet, by the good examples of former Saints dead before, must strengthen their steps, to flie from vice, and follow vertue: holding staves in their handes, to rule and stay themselues and others from sliding, by the staffe of authoritie. They must eate the Pasch speedily, that is without delay or procrastination must learne the mysteries of mans redemption, and heauenlie life, and so performe Gods wil & precepts, in this life with speed. To this effect S. Gregorie discourseth at large in the moral sence, which we haue abridged, and otherwise (though holy Scripture be full hereof) seldome touch.

Returning therefore to our particular purpose, in al these testimonies we specially vrge, that the paschal lambe was a figure, not only of Christs Passion, but also of the Eucharist. Whereupon, besides the often expresse mention of our B. Sauours bodie and blood in the same, which Protestants would wrest (as they doe also the same termes in holie Scripture) to figuratiue sence, it necessarily followeth, that there be farre more excellent contents in the Sacrament of the Eucharist, then natural bread and wine. For S. Paul teacheth (colle. 2.) that as the bodie excellith the shadow, so the veritie, or thing figured excellet the figure. Whereas the substance of bread and wine doth not excel, much lesse so farre excel the Paschal Lambe, as by S. Pauls doctrine is required. Againe, seeing the Paschal lambe was a Sacrifice, as appeareth in this Chap. v. 6. & 27. also Num. 9. v. 7. & 13. and Mar. 14. v. 14. and as it was immolated was a figure of the Eucharist, as before appeareth by conference of the one with the other, in respect of the time, place, manner of offering, and eating it, and by testimonie of the Doctours aboue cited, it followeth also that the Holie Eucharist is a Sacrifice farre excelling the figure.

S. Gregories moralization of this figure, applied to the B. Sacrament.

What persons are to receiue the B. Sacrament.

The thing figured farre excellet the figure.

The Eucharist is also a Sacrifice.

C H A P. XIII.

God commandeth to remember their deliuerie from Ægypt by the solemnitie of Pasch, 2. and by consecrating to him the first-borne. 17. And so leadeth them through the desert towards the red sea (Moyses taking with him Iosephs bones) by a pillar of fire in the night, and a cloud in the day.

The first lesson at Mattins on Candlemasse day.

AND our Lord pake to Moyses, saying : 2. Sanctifie vnto me euerie first-borne that openeth the matrice in the children of Israel, as wel of men as of beasts; for they are al mine. 3. And Moyses said to the people: Remember this day in the which you went forth out of Ægypt, & out of the house of seruitude, because with a strong hand hath our Lord brought you forth out of this place; that you eate not leauened bread. 4. This day you goe forth in the month of new corne. 5. And when our Lord shal haue brought thee into the Land of Chanancite and Hetheite & Amorrheite & Heuceite & Iebuseite, which he sware to thy fathers that he would giue thee, a land that (a) floweth with milke and honie, thou shalt celebrate this manner of sacred rites in this month. 6. Seuen daies shalt thou eate azimes: and in the seuenth day shal be the solemnitie of our Lord. 7. Azimes shal you eate seuen dayes: there shal not be seen anie leauened thing with thee, nor in al thy coasts. 8. And thou shalt tel thy sonne in that day, saying: This is that which our Lord did to me when I came forth out of Ægypt. 9. And it shal be as a signe in thy hand, and as a moniment before thine eyes: and that the law of our Lord be alwayes in the mouth, for in a strong hand our Lord hath brought thee out of Ægypt. 10. Thou shalt keep this obseruation at the set time from dayes to dayes. 11. And when our Lord shal haue brought thee into the Land of the Chanancite, as he sware to thee and thy fathers, and shal giue it thee, 12. thou shalt separate al that openeth the matrice vnto our Lord, and al that is brought forth in thy cattel: whatsoeuer thou shalt haue of male sexe thou shalt consecrate to our Lord. 13. The first-borne of an asse thou shal change for a sheep: and if thou doe not redeeme it, thou shalt kil it. And euerie first-borne of men among thy children, thou shalt redeem with a price. 14. And when thy sonne shal aske thee to morow saying: What is this? thou shalt answer him: With a strong hand did our Lord bring vs forth out of the land of Ægypt, out of the house of seruitude. 15. For (b) when Pharaocs hart was indurate, and would not dismiss vs, our Lord slew euerie first-borne in the Land of Ægypt, from the first-borne of man to the first-borne of beasts: therefore I sacrifice to our Lord al that

a) The old Testament proposed commonly temporal rewards. S. Hierom. p. ad Dardanum.

b) In the Hebrew, when Pharaoc had indurated himselfe.

openeth

openeth the matrice of the male sexe, and al the first-borne of my sonnes I doe redeeme. 16. It shal be therefore as a signe in thy hand, and as a thing hanged before thine eyes, for a remembrance: because our Lord by a strong hand hath brought vs forth out of A Egypt. 17. Therefore when Pharao had sent forth the people, our Lord led them not by the way of the Philisthiins countrie which is neer: thinking (c) lest perhaps it would repent them, if they should see warres arise against them, and would returne into A Egypt. 18. But he led them about by the way of the desert, which is besides the Red-sea: and the children of Israel went vp out of the Land of A Egypt armed. 19. Moyfes also (d) tooke Iosephs bones with him: because he had adiured the children of Israel, saying: God shal visite you, carrie out my bones from hence with you. 20. And marching frō Socoth they camped in Etham in the vtmost coasts of the wildernesse. 21. And our Lord went before them to shew the way by day in a pillar of a cloud, and by night in a pillar of fire: that he might be the guide of their iourney both times. 22. There neuer failed the pillar of the cloud by day, nor the pillar of fire by night, before the people.

c) Gods pre-uention to a-uoid tentatiōs sheweth free-will in man.
d) By this ap-peareth how much Moyfes esteemed Io-sephs charge concerning translarion of his bones. Also
S. Paul com-mendeth it
Heb. 11.

C H A P. XIII.

Pharao persecuting the children of Israel with a great armie 10. they murmur against Moyfes, 13. but are encouraged by him, and passe through the red sea aric-joor. 23. Pharao and his hoste wilfully following are drowned.

AND our Lord spake to Moyfes, saying: 2. Speake to the children of Israel: Let them returne and campe ouer against Phihahiroth which is between Magdal and the sea against Beelsephon: in the fight therof you shal campe vpon the sea. 3. And Pharao wil say concerning the children of Israel: They are straitned in the land, the desert hath shut them in. 4. And I wil indurate his hart, (a) and he wil pursue you: and I wil be glorified in Pharao, and in al his armie: and the AEgyptians shal know that I am the Lord. And they did so. 5. And it was told the King of AEgyptians that the people was fled: and the hart of Pharao and of his seruants was changed toward the people, & they said: What meant we to doe, that we dismissed Israel from seruing vs? 6. Therefore he made readie his chariot, and tooke al his people with him. 7. And he tooke six hundred chosē chariots, and al the chariots that were in AEgypt, and Captaines of the whole armie. 8. And our Lord hardned Pharaoes hart the King of AEgypt, & he pursued the children of Israel: but they went forth in a mightie hand. 9. And when the AEgyptians pur-

a) Although the Hebrew, Greeke, and Latin haue, And he, yet Protestants corruptly thrust in the text, that he shal, to make it sound to their sense, that God did not only permit, but worke Pharaoes induration.

ſued their ſteps going before, they found the encamped at the ſea ſide: al Pharaoes horſe and chariots, & the whole armie were in Pihahiroth againſt Beelſepion. 10. And when Pharao approached, the children of Iſrael liſting vp their cies, ſaw the AEgyptians behind them: and they feared exceedingly, and cried to our Lord. 11. and ſaid to Moyſes: Perhaps there were no graues in AEgypt, therefore thou haſt taken vs thence to die in the wildernes: why wouldeſt thou doe this, in bringing vs out of AEgypt? 12. Is not this the word that we ſpake to thee in AEgypt, ſaying: Depart from vs, that we may ſerue the AEgyptians: for it was much better to ſerue them, then to die in the wildernes. 13. And Moyſes ſayd to the people: Feare not; ſtand, and ſee the great wonders of our Lord that he wil doe this day: for the AEgyptians, whom now you ſee, you ſhal no more ſee for euer. 14. Our Lord wil fight for you and you ſhal hold your peace. 15. And our Lord ſaid to Moyſes: (b) Why criefft thou to me? ſpeake to the children of Iſrael that they goe forward. 16. But thou liſt vp thy rod, and ſtretch forth thy hand vpon the ſea, and diuide it: that the children of Iſrael may goe in the middes of the ſea by drie ground. 17. And I wil indurate the hart of the AEgyptians to purſue you: and I wil be glorified in Pharao, and in al his hoſte, and in his chariots, and in his horſemen. 18. And the AEgyptians ſhal know that I am the Lord when I ſhal be glorified in Pharao, and in his chariots and in his horſemen. 19. And (c) the Angel of God that went before the campe of Iſrael, remouing himſelfe, went behind them: & together with him the pillar of the cloud, leauing the foreward, 20. ſtood behind, between the AEgyptians campe & the campe of Iſrael: & it was a drake cloud, & lightning the night, ſo that they could not come to each other the whole night time. 21. And when Moyſes had ſtretched forth his hand vpon the ſea, our Lord tooke it away, a vehement and burning wind blowing al the night, and turned it into drie ground: and the water was diuided. 22. And the children of Iſrael went through the middes of the drie ſea: for the water was as it were a wal on their right hand and their left. 23. And the AEgyptians purſuing went in after them, and al Pharaoes horſes, his chariots and horſemen through the middes of the ſea. 24. And now the morning watch was come, and behold our Lord looking vpon the AEgyptians campe through the pillar of fire and the cloud, ſlew their armie: 25. and ouerthrew the wheels of the chariots, and they were borne into the depth. The AEgyptians therefore ſaid: Let vs fly from Iſrael: for the Lord fighteth for them againſt vs. 26. And our Lord ſaid to Moyſes: Stretch forth thy hand vpon the ſea, that the waters may returne to the AEgyptians vpon their chariots and horſinen. 27. And when Moyſes had ſtretched forth his hand againſt the ſea, it returned in the firſt breake of day to the former place: and the AEgyptians flying away, the waters came vpon them, and our Lord enwrapt them in the middes of the waues. 28. And the waters returned, and ouerwhelmed the chariots &

b) A ſorowful hart, lamentably mourning for the people is called crying to God. S. Hierom. in Gal. 4.

c) Protection of Angels.

The fourth prophecie in the office before Maſſe on Eaſter eue. And the ſecond on whitſun-eue.

1. Reg. 6.

the

the horsemen of al Pharaoes armie , who folowing were entred into the sea , (d) neither did there so much as one of them remaine. 29. But the children of Israel marched through the middes of the drie sea , and the waters were vnto them as in stead of a wal on the right hand and on the left: 30. & our Lord deliuered Israel in that day out of the hand of the Ægyptiās. 31. And they saw the Ægyptians dead vpō the sea shore , & the mightie hād that our Lord had exercised against thē: & the people feared our Lord , and they belieued our Lord , (e) and Moyfes his seruant.

C H A P. X V.

Moyfes with the people sing a Canticle of thank-giving for their delinerie. 22. The people being three daies in the desert without water , then finding that is bitter, doe murmure. 25. It is made sweet. 27. Comming to Elim they find twelue fountaines and scientie palme-trees.

HEN (a) sang Moyfes and the children of Israel this song to our Lord , and said :

Let vs sing to our Lord: for he is glouriously magnified, the horse and the rider he hath throwen into the sea.

2. My strength , and my praise is our Lord , and he is made vnto me a saluation : this is my God , and I wil glorifie him : the God of my father , and I wil exalt him.

3. Our Lord is a man of warre, Omnipotent is his name.

4. Pharaoes chariots and his armie (b) he hatb cast into the sea : his chosen Princes are drowned in the red sea. 5. The depths haue ouerwhelmed them, they are funke into the botome like a stone.

6. Thy right hand, o Lord , is magnified in strength : thy right hand, o Lord , hath strucken the enimie.

7. And in the multitude of thy glorie thou hast put downe thy aduersaries: thou hast sent thy wrath , which hath deuoured thē like stuble.

8. And in the spirit of thy furie were the waters gathered together : the flowing water stood , the depths were gathered together in the middes of the sea.

9. The enimie said : I wil pursue and ouertake , I wil diuide the spoiles , my soule shal haue his fil : I wil draw forth my sword , my hand shal kil them.

10. The spirit blew and the sea ouerwhelmed them : they sanke as lead in the vehement waters.

11. Who is like to thee among the strong , o Lord ? who is like to thee, magnifical in sanctitie , terrible and laudable, doing meruailes?

12. Thou didst stretch forth thy hand , and the earth deuoured them.

13. Thou hast in thy mercie been a guide to the people which thou hast redeemed: & in thy strēgth thou hast caried thē vnto thy holic habitatiō.

14. Nations rose vp , and were angrie : forowes possessed the inhabitants of Philisthiim.

d) So in Baptisme al sinnes are destroyed. S. Cyp. Ep. 76. in sine S. Aug. Tract. 11. & 13. in Ioan.

e) The same credit is giuen to God speaking by Moyfes, as if he had spoken immediately by himself. S. Hiero. in Epist. ad Philem.

a) The first of al Canticles, sacred or prophane. Origen. ho. 6. in Exod.

b) God only suffered them to goe into the sea. For they went of their owne accord, supposing they might folow where the Israelites went before. S. Aug. ser. 89. de semp.

15. Then were the Princes of Edom troubled, trembling ceazed on the sturdie of Moab: al the inhabiters of Chanaan were starke.

16. Let feare and dread fal vpon them, in the greatnes of thy arme: let them become vnmoueable as a stoue, vntil thy people, o Lord, shal passe, vntil thy people shal passe, this which thou hast possessed.

17. Thou shalt bring them in, and plant them in the mountaine of thy inheritance, in thy most firme habitation, which thou hast wrought, o Lord: thy sanctuarie Lord, which thy hands haue confirmed.

18. Our Lord shal reigne for euer and euermore.

19. For Pharao on horsebacke entred in with his chariots & horsemen into the sea: and our Lord brought backe vpon them the waters of the sea: but the children of Israel walked on drie ground in the middes therof.

20. Marie therefore the Prophetesse, Aarons sister, took^e (c) a tymbrel in her hand: and al the women went forth after her with tymbrels and dances, 21. to whom she began the song, saying: Let vs sing to our Lord, for he is gloriously magnified, the horse and his rider he hath cast into the sea.

22. And Moyses remoued Israel from (d) the red sea, and they went forth into the desert Sur: and they walked three dayes through the wildernesse, and found not water. 23. And they came into Mara, neither could they drinke the waters of Mara, because they were bitter: wherupon he gaue a name also agreable to the place, calling it Mara, that is, bitternesse. 24. And the people murmured against Moyses, saying: What shal we drinke? 25. But he cried to our Lord. Who did shew him (e) a piece of wood: which when he had cast into the waters, they were turned into sweetnesse. There he appoynted him precepts, and iudgements, and there he proued him, 26. saying: If thou wilt heare the voice of the Lord thy God, and doe that is right before him, and obey his commandements, and keep al his precepts, none of the maladies, that I layd vpon Ægypt, wil I bring vpon thee: for I am the Lord God thy curer. 27. And the children of Israel came into Elim, where there were twelue fountaines of water, and seuentie palme-trees: and they camped beside the waters.

c) Musical instruments vsed before the law of Moyses in the seruice of God.

d) These things chanced to the in figure.
1. Cor. 10.

e) The wholesome wood of the Crosse made the bitter sea of Gentiles sweet.
Theodoret. 9.
26. in Exod.

The end of the third age.

THE CONTINVANCE OF THE CHVRCH and Religion in the third age, from Abrahams going forth of Chaldea, to the parting of Israel out of Ægypt.
The space of 430. yeares.

NE and the same Church and Religion begun in the first age of the world, and continued in the second, became more and more conspicuous in the third. For in this age not only the same principal and particular points of faith were believed and professed, but also the number of professours encreased, and partly by separation of place and abode, and specially by diuersitie of manners, outward rites, and conuersation, were more distinct from infidels then before: as we shal now shew by the sacrea historie of that time. Which beginnech with Abrahams going forth of his countrey of Chaldea, about 2024. yeares from the beginning of the world, in the 75. yeare of his age.

From which time forward God often appeared to him, and after him to Isaac and Iacob, in the title of EL SADDAI, that is, God Almighty, Creatour of al things, Lord, God, most high, Possessour of heauen and earth (Gen. 14.) To Moyses more familiarly (Exod. 3.) in his most proper name, HE WHICH IS. In the name of foure letters, which the Iewes count infefable. And in diuers other names, as shewing One, Eternal, Omnipotent, Infinite Maiestie: Of whom al other things depend and haue their being, himselfe independent of any other thing.

This one diuine nature, and indiuisible substance is (aboue al reach of reason) three in Persons: represented to Abraham (Gen. 18.) by three Angels, in forme of men, whom, by special instinct of God, he adored as one, and first spake vnto them as to one: Lord if I haue found grace in thy sight, goe not past thy seruant; & by & by as to manie: Wash yec your feet. In like manner Moyses sometimes speaketh plurally as of manie: There appeared to him three men, they sayd, Where is Sara? sometimes singularly: He said, I wil come. So Lot (Gen. 19.) spake to two Angels representing the Sonne of God, and the Holie Ghost, one God with the Father, first as to manie: I beseech you my Lords, turne into the house of your seruant; after as to one: I beseech thee my Lord, because thy seruant hath found grace before thee. Who likewise answered as one only: I haue heard thy prayer. Againe Moyses sheweth distinction of Persons in God, saying (v. 24.) Our Lord rained from our Lord. Iob also (who liued in this age) and his freindes professed and serued the same one God, auouching him to be the onlie God and Lord, that giueth and taketh away

The same Church & Religion in this age as in the former.

Beliefe in one God.

Three diuine Persons.

Strength (or power) the Father, wisdom the Sonne, Spirit the Holy Ghost.

Christ promised to Abraham.

To Isaac. And to Jacob.

Christ prefigured by Abraham

By Melchisedech.

By Isaac.

Jacob.

Ioseph.

Iob. Moyfes.

And manie other things.

(Chap. 1. 2.) He the Maker and peculiar Keeper of men. He that taketh away sinne, and iniquitie (c. 7.) He that doth great things, incomprehensible, and meruelous, wherof there is no number (c. 9.) And that with termes appropriated to the three diuine Persons (c. 26.) In his strength sodainly the seas are gathered together, & with his wisdom he strucke the proud man. His Spirit hath adorned the heauens. The same Myserie of pluratie of Persons in one God is more cleere by the Hebrew text chap. 30. v. 11. and 3; v. 10. where the same actions are ascribed to God, as to one, and as to manie.

But most euidens are the promises, figures, and prophecies of Christ our Redeemer. For besides present aboundance of riches, promise of great progenie, and that the same should possesse the fruitful Land of Chanaan (three special blessings of the old Testament) God promised Abraham a farre greater thing (Gen. 12.) that in his seed AL NATIONS AND KINDREDS OF THE EARTH SHOULD BE BLESSED. In confirmation whereof, God also changed his name Abram (high or noble father) into Abraham (Father of manie nations, Gen. 17. And so he was natural father of foure great Kingdomes, Ismaelites, Madianites, Idumeans, and Isralites: but spiritual father of manie more, to wit, of al that belieue in Christ, Iewes and Gentils, from that time to the worlds end. The same promises of possessing Chanaan and of Christ were renewed and confirmed to Isaac (Gen. 26.) in like sort to Jacob (28.) for they pertained not to Ismael, nor to the other sonnes of Abraham, nor to Esau. Moreouer Christ, our Redeemer & deliuerer from sinne and captiuitie of the diuel, was prefigured by Abraham, at last deliuering those from captiuitie, who otherwise endeauouring to shake of the yoke of Codorlahemor, sel further into subiection and bondage (Gen. 14.) Also Melchisedech, King and Priest, of vnknewen generation, extraordinarie vocation, without predecessour, or successour, prefigured Christ, King and Priest for euer, who not by successours, but by Priests his Vicars, perpetually exerciseth al Priestlie functions. Likewise Isaac borne aboute the common course of nature (Gen. 21.) singularly beloued of his father, carrying wood on his back for the sacrificing of himselfe (22.) Iacob flying his brother Esau (27) hardly treated by Ladan (31.) yet alwayes inuincible against his aduersaries (32.) Ioseph hated of his brethren, sold and deliuered to Gentiles (37.) by them also persecuted (39.) but afterwarde aduanced, and called the Saviour of the world, (41.) Iust Iob vehemently afflicted: Moyfes bidden for a while, then exposed to danger, and thence deliuered; afterwards manifesting himselfe to his brethren, by them reiected, bewrayed, and flying from Pharao (Exo. 2.) returning againe (Exod. 3. 4. & c.) and at last deliuering the Isralites from bondage of Aegypt (Exo. 14.) and manie other things, as the ramme sacrificed in place of Isaac (Gen. 22.) the ladder of Iacob (Gen. 28.) Iosephs septer (47.) Aarons rod (Exo. 7.) Paschal lambe (12.) prefigured Christ, borne of a Virgin, the onlie Sonne of God: sometimes hidden, other times conuersant with men, hated, persecuted, sold, betrayed; who carried his owne crosse, was sacrificed, vanquished at his enemies, aduanced, and acknowledged the true Saviour of the world, Redeemer & deliuerer of mankind, from seruitude, flauerie, thraldome, and bondage of sinne, death, and the diuel. Againe, Abraham prophesied that of his seed Christ our Saviour should be borne, when he sayd to his seruant (Gen. 24) Put thy hand vnder my thigh, that I may adiure thee by our Lord God of heauen & earth, that is, by Christ, who should come of his loynes, as S. Hierom (Tradit. Heb. in Gen. et explic. Psal. 44.) S. Ambrose (li. 1. c. 9. de Abraham) and S. Augustin (q. 62. in Gen. et li. 16. c. 33 ciuit.) expound it. More evidently Iacob (Gen. 49.) THE SCEPTER SHAL NOT BE TAKEN AWAY FROM IVDAS, AND A DVKE OF HIS THIGH, TIL HE DOE COME THAT IS TO BE SENT, AND THE SAME SHAL BE THE EXPECTATION OF THE GENTILES. Iob as planely : I know that my Redemer liueth. Moyses foreknowing that Christ the true Redeemer & chiefe Law-giuer should be sent, praised God to hasten his mission, saying : I beseech thee Lord, send whom thou wilt send (Exod. 4.)

Rom. 9.

Prophecie of Christ.

External Sacrifice was frequent and solemne, as the soueraigne homage to God : And manie Altars erected by Abraham for that purpose (Gen. 12. 13. 15. 22.) Vnbloudie, in bread and wine by Melchisedech (Gen. 14.) other liquid sacrifices (Gen. 35. v. 14.) offered by Iacob, with dedication of the place called Bethel, the house of God: which he also before-hand promised by vow (Gen. 28.) Diuers other Sacrifices offered by Isaac, and Iacob (Gen. 26. 31. 33. 36.) By Iob and his freinas (Iob. 1. & 42.) by Moyses, Aaron, and other ancients of Israel (Exod. 17.) At which consequently shew Priesthood, whose proper office is to offer Sacrifice, though among al the aboue named, onlie Melchisedech was called a Priest. And among the Gentiles we find that Putiphar (Gen. 41.) and Iethro (Ex. 3.) whose daughters Ioseph and Moyses married (were called Priests, or as the word Cohenim doth also signifie, Princes, for they were great and eminent men in their countries. At least those that by special priuiledge were exempted from selling their landes to Pharao, and had notwithstanding provision of maintenance in time of dearth) Gen. 47. were properly called Priests, for such function as they had in seruing their idols. For where was true and right Sacrifice, there were also right Priests, and where Idolatrical sacrifice there were like Priests, and where no external sacrifice at al (as amongst Protestants) there are no Priests, but Ministers only.

Sacrifice. Altars. Churches dedicated.

Vowes.

Priesthood.

Priuilege of Priests.

Where is no sacrifice no Priest is required.

Circumcision.

In this age also (long before Moyses) the Sacrament of Circumcision was giuen to Abraham, for distinction of Gods selected and peculiar people, and for remedy of original sinne, in the male sexe of Abrahams seed, and others of his communitie. In the other sexe, and other generations, former remedies of sacrifice, or other profession of faith were available. For other sinnes, not only internal repentance was necessarie, which was euer principally required (& therefore Ioseph dealt so seuerely with his brethren, til they had barrie sorrow and contrition for their sinnes) but also certaine external purifications, as washing and changing garments, were ordained (Gen. 35) Mariage though not then a Sacrament, yet was religiously regarded, with special care of faith and religion in the choise of persons (Gen. 24. 27. v. 46. c. 28. v. 1.) and of Penance.

Mariage.

Degrees of consanguinitie.

Iob. 19.

Gen. 44.

Pluratic of wiues lawful sometime, neuer of husbands.

certaine degrees of consanguinitie and affinitie. Adulterie was punishable by death (Gen. 38) and in no wise counted lawful, no nor among the heathen (Gen. 12. 20. 24. 26. 29. 34. 39.) Pluratic of wiues in some persons and cases lawful in the law of nature (Gen. 16. 25. 29.) as also afterwards in the law of Moyses, not in the law of grace, nor euer pluratic of husbands.

Blessings.

Spiritual blessing, a preeminence of greater persons: so Melchisedech blessed Abraham (Gen. 14.) Isaac blessed Jacob (1. 27.) and Jacob his sonnes (c. 49) and the sonnes of Ioseph, with imposition of hands, and framing the forme of a crosse (48.) Other Ceremonies of oyle and wine (Gen. 28. 35.) sprinkling the blood of the Paschal lambe, eating the lambe standing, with their loyges grided, shoes on their feet, staues in their hands, and with speed (Exo. 12.) Musical instruments in Diuine seruice (Exo. 15.)

Signe of the Crosse.
Ceremonies.
Musica' instruments.

Baptisme prefigured.

Christes Baptisme prefigured by Circumcision (Gen. 17.) for Christians are circumcised (saith S. Paul) in the Circumcision of Christ, buried with him in Baptisme. Also by the cloud which stood between the Aegyptians and Israelites, lightning the night on the one side (towards Gods people) dark on the other (towards their enemies) and by the red sea, which saued the children of Israel, and drowned the Aegyptians (Exo. 14.) Al were baptised in the cloud, and in the sea. so the bread and wine offered by Melchisedech, the Paschal lambe, and vnicauened bread prefigured the B. Sacrament, and sacrifice of Christs bodie and blood, in formes of bread and wine. Iacob also prophesied of this most excellent Mysterie (Gen. 49.) He shal wash his stole in wine, and his cloke in the blood of the grape. In like sort Melchisedechs Priesthood was a plaine figure of Christs Priesthood, who first by himself consecrated and offered his owne boodie and blood, and stit doth the same by his Priests hands of the new Testament.

The B. Sacrament.

1. Cor.
10.

Priesthood of
the new Testament.

Traditions.
Tythes.

Diuers other Rites were knowne and obserued by Tradition. So Abraham paid Tythes to his spiritual Superior (Gen. 14.) taught his children and familie to keep the way of our Lord, and doe iudgement and iustice (Gen. 18. v. 19.) Isaac and Iacob kept and taught the Ord nances, Precepts, and Ceremonies of their anecesters, without Lawes or precepts written (Gen. 26.) Iudas commanded his second sonne to take the widow of his brother deceased without children (Gen. 38.) The children of Israel abstained from eating the sinew of the thigh, in remembrance that the sinew of Iacobs thigh was shrunke (Gen. 32.)

Forme of iustice.
Precepts.
Raising seed to the brother.
Abstinence.

Freewil.

Freewil in man proued, by that Iosephs brethren in selling him thought euil, not moued nor inclined thereto by God, who had no part in their euil thought, but turned it to good (Gen. 50.) By Gods threatening Pharao (Exo 8.) If thou wilt not dismiss Israel: Which were vniust if Pharao could not doe otherwise. Likewise by that Pharao often changed his mind, sometimes promising to dismiss the Hebrewes, and againe refusing to doe it, which sheweth (saith Theodoret) freewil of the mind: and by Gods pre- uention of tentations, leading the Israelites not the neereft way, but by the desert, lest perhaps it would repent them; and they would re- turne into Aegypt (Exod. 13.) Mans consent therefore is free notwithstanding Gods wil, direction, and commaundement. And so his industry is required

Mans industry
necessarie.

in his dailie affaires, and then to relie on Gods prouidence, otherwise only to expect Gods wil, operation, or protection, man himself endeauouring nothing is to tempt God. Therefore Abraham (Gen. 12.) Isaac (c. 26.) Iacob (ca. 32.) and the parents of Moyses (Exo. 2.) being in feare and distresse vsed al prudence to auoid imminent dangers, albeit they had special reuelations of safetie and happie successe. Neither doth God euer tempt anie man to sinne, but proueth his seruants and maketh them knowne to the world for example of others, and their owne merit, Gen. 22. Iob. 1. 2. &c.

Onlie faith doth not iustifie, nor workes without faith, but both together doe iustifie, and are meritorious: so Abraham belieued God because he is omnipotent and truth it-selfe, and it was reputed to him vnto iustice (Gen. 15.) but this faith was not sole, for it had hope, loue, obedience, and other vertues adioyned, and so his belieuing was an act of iustice. In like manner Abraham was iustified by workes, offering Isaac his sonne vpon the Altar (Gen. 22.) but this worke presupposed faith, that God is able to raise euen from the dead. So by workes faith is consummate. By hospitalitie Abraham and Lot vnawares receiued Angels to harbour (Gen. 18. 19.) Abraham was perfect according to perfection of this life (Gen. 17) most highly commended for ioure more notorious actes proceeding of two special vertues, faith and obedience. The first was his prompt obedience, in leauing his countrie and kindred, going he knew not whither, nor how farre, simply and cheerfully expecting Gods further direction, when to goe, and where to abide (Gen. 12.) The second was his excellent faith, presently belieuing Gods promise (which by al humane reason seemed vnpossible) that he should haue innumerable progenie (Gen. 15.) The third was, that he did not only most sincerely and religiously serue God, but also taught his posteritie so to doe, as God himself testifieth of him, saying: I know that he wil command his children, and his house after him, that they keep the way of the Lord, and doe iudgement and iustice (Gen. 18.) The fourth was that most heroical act of obedience, admirable to all ages, being readie to kil and sacrifice his owne most dearly beloued sonne Isaac. For which God sware by himself, that he would manie waies blesse him, because (saith God) thou hast obeyed my voice (Gen. 22.) He prayed for Sodom, and had preuailed, if ten iust persons had been found in that citie (Gen. 18.) And Lot was deliuered from thence for Abrahams sake (Gen. 19.) Isaac was also of most sincere mind, deuout to God, exercised himself in meditation or mental prayer (Gen. 24.) obtained by prayer his desire of issue (Gen. 25.) Likewise Iacob is described in the holie text a plaine (or sincere and innocent) man (Gen. 25. v. 27.) patient and constant in tribulations (Gen. 29. 31. 32. 33.) He lawfully purchased Esaus consent of the first-birth-right (Gen. 25. v. 31.) He neither lurd, nor otherwise sinned, when he answered his father that he was Esau his first-begotten sonne (Gen. 27.) but spake truth in mystical sense, agreeable to Gods wil and ordinance, who so transposed Isaacs blessing from Esau to Iacob. Which Isaac at length vnderstanding, conformed himself thereto, and confirmed the same (v. 33. & ch. 28.) giuing Esau such contentment as he could of temporal blessings. Ioseph is God tempteth not to euil.

Faith & good workes together iustifie, & are meritorious, but neither of them alone.

Perfection in this life.
 Foure principal merits of Abraham.
 1. Prompt obedience.
 2. Faith without staggering.
 3. Propagation of faith and religion.

4. Perfect obedience.

Other iust men.

Isaac.

Iacob.

He spake truth in mystical sense.

Iac. 8.

Heb. 11.

Heb. 13.

Ioseph.
Iob.

renowned for al vertues, euen from his youth to his death (Gen. 37. 39. 50.) Iob was simple and right, fearing God & departing from euil, a iust and innocent man both before and in his tribulations, not sinning with his lips: neither spake he anie foolish thing against God (ch. 1.) yea more afflicted retained innocencie (chap. 2.) and finally, God receiued his prayer for others, and restored al his losses double (chap. 42.) Moyses a most special selected Prophet, the meekest man on the earth, of singular zeale seuerely punished sinne, but withal most charitably prayed God to forgieue the people and conserue his Church.

Nu. 12.
Luc 32.

Moyfes.

Election is of Gods mercie. Predestination excludeth not ordinary means. Sinne is the cause of reprobation.

God of his mere mercie electeth al those, whom he wil iustifie and saue, offering al sufficient grace, iustly leauech some obstinate sinners in state of damnation, (Gen. 25. Exod. 7.) His predestination, foreknowledge, and promise, doe not exclude but include the meanes, wherby his wil is done in the iust (Gen. 25. 37. 45. 50.) Neither is Gods reprobation the cause of anie mans damnation, but mans owne sinne the proper cause, both of reprobation and damnation. For example, Pharao & his people enuying, vainly fearing, and for their religion hating, and persecuting the children of Israel, by oppressing them with vsupportable labours, by commanding secretly to ksl their infants, and that not succeeding, by a new decree to drowne them (Exod. 1.) were mercifully after long conuence admonished by Gods Legats in his name quietly to permit his people to serue him, but they wilfully contemned this gentle admonition, Pharao proudly and insolently answering: Who is the Lord, that I should heare his voice, and dismisse Israel? I know not the Lord, and Israel I wil not dismisse (Exo. 5.) so they hardened their owne harts, and more grieuously afflicted the faithfull, God permitting the wicked to liue & prosper for a time in this world, not punishing them so much as they deserued, nor mollifying their harts, nor illuminating their vnderstanding vnto effectual conuersion, but iustly permitting them to persist in obstinacie (Exo. 7. 8. 9. 10. & c.)

Pharao and other Egyptians hardened their owne harts. God did only permit them to obdurate themselves.

Protection & Inuocation of Angels and Patriarchs. Adoration of creatures. Swearing by creatures. Ominous speech. Dreames. Images. Relikes.

Protection of Angels and inuocation is proued (Gen. 24. 32. 48.) Patriarchs names also inuocated (c. 48. v. 16.) Isaac was blessed and prospered for Abrahams sake, because Abraham obeyed Gods voice, kept his precepts and commandements, obserued his ceremonies & his lawes (Gen. 26.) Iosephs rod adored by Iacob (Gen. 47.) Moyses commanded to put of his shoes, because the place was holie (Exod. 3.) Swearing by creatures lawful, and sometimes more conuenient, then immediately by God himselfe (Gen. 42.) Likewise Ominous speach (Gen. 24.) and Dreames (Gen. 37. 40. 41.) are sometimes lawfully obserued, and are from God. Idols alwaies vnlawful, but not al Images (Gen. 31. 35.) Relikes to be reuerently vsed, as Iosephs bodie conserued in a coffin in Egypt (Gen. vlt.) translated by Moyses (Exod. 1.) and so brought into Chanaan, and layd with other Patriarchs in Sichem. Going bare-foot to holie places an act of religious reuerence and deuotion (Exod. 3.) The signe of the Crosse vsed by Iacob (Gen. 48.) a figure of Christs Crosse. The wood cast by Moyses into the bitter water, and making it sweet (Exod. 15.) an other figure therof.

S. Aug. l. 16. c. 36. ciuit.

Deuotion to holie places. Figure of Christs crosse.

Iofue 24.

Funeral offices

Funeral obsequies were obserued by Abraham for his wife Sara

(Gen.)

(Gen. 23) with mourning and weeping for her , according to the qualitie of so holie a person , who it is like needed not other satisfactorie workes, as Saul and Iona:has , and others slaine in battel, for whom David and his court did not only mourne and weep, but also fasted sil euen. He also bought a field with a double caue , where he buried her , dedicating it for this peculiar use , and both himself, and Isaac , Iacob , Rebecca , and Lia , were there buried (Gen. 49. v. 31.) Ioseph with al his brethren mourned for their s^{ar}ther Iacob, first fourtie dayes in Ægypt, then carrying him into Chanaan, celebrated the exequies other seuen dayes (Gen. 50.) His particular digging of his owne graue (v. 5.) and both his and Iosephs special charge to be burn'd amongst their ancestors, and the translation of al the twelue sonnes of Iacob into Sechem, confirme the desire of burial in one place rather then in an other , to be agreeable to nature and holie Scriptures.

Touching the soules departed, euen the most perfect went into the lower parts, generally called Hel. But some were in rest , other in paines , according to their deserts, none in heauen before Christ, as S. Hierome (comment. in Osee. 13. et Eccles. 3.) proueth by Iacobs wordes (Gen. 37.) I wil descend vnto my sonne into hel; by Iobs lamentation (ch. 7. et 17.) that al (good and bad) were retained in hel, saying: If I shal expect, hel is my house, and in darknes I haue made my bed. Which place or receptacle of such Saints , as Iacob and Iob , was doubtles farre distant from hel of the damned, for between Lazarus in Abrahams bosome and the glutton in torments, is a great chaos (or large space) and yet the highest of these places is called hel.

In respect of Resurrection, the same Iacob called his life in this world a pilgrimage (Gen. 47.) and Iob. (ch. 7.) a warfare vpon earth: professing expressly (ch. 19.) In the last day I shal rise out of the earth. And I shal be compassed againe with my skin , and in my flesh I shal see God. Our B. sauour also proueth the Resurrection, because the God of Abraham, Isaac , and Iacob (Exo. 3.) is God of them , not as they are dead, but as they are liuing, and to retarne againe to life in bodie and soule together. Of general iudgement Iob saith (ch. 31.) What shal I doe when God shal rise to iudge? and when he shal aske , what shal I answer him? And Elin (ch. 34.) saith : The omnipotent wil render a man his worke , and according to the waies of euerie one, he wil recompence them. Sodum and Gomorra (Gen. 19.) were example (saith S. Peter and S. Iude) of eternal punishment in hel fire.

Of eternal life Iacob professed his hope (Gen. 49.) saying : I wil expect thy saluation , o Lord. And Moyfes (as S. Paul testifieth) denied himselfe to be the sonne of Pharaoes daughter , esteeming the reproach of Christ greater riches , then the treasure of the Ægyptians. For he looked vnto the reward. Thus much touching particular points of Religion. It resteth to see the visible known members of the Church, with the heads and gouernours therof, succeeding without interruption in the same age, notwithstanding some brake and departed from them, and other innumerable sects of infidels stil multiplied in the world.

1. Reg. 10.

Act. 7. v. 16.

Luc. 16.

Mat. 22.

2. Pet. 2. Ep. Iud.

Heb. 11.

Place dedicated for burial

Mourning 40. dayes. Exequies of seuen dayes. Speccial place of burial rightly desired.

No soule before Christ entred into heauen. Diuers places in hel.

Resurrection

General Iudgement.

Eternal punishment of the wicked: and ioy of the blessed.

Continuance of the Church notwithstanding breache from it.

Abraham
neuer conta-minate in Religion.

Thare and Nachor reduced from ido-latrie.

Abraham pub-likly professed his faith.

Sem.
Sale.
Heber.

Melchisedech.

Manie professors of true Religion.

Breaches from the Church.

Moabites and Ammonites.
Nachors pro-
genie.

Ismaelites.

To begin therefore with Abraham, before the former age was ended, (as which time he was 75. yeares old) holie Scriptures stil speake of him, as alwaies vndefiled, and a true seruant of God, though his father Thare, and his brother Nachor sometimes serued strange Gods (Iosue 24.) but were reclaimed, and the whole familie (as S. Augustine proueth lib. 16. c. 13. de ciuit.) was persecuted by the Chaldees. Wherupon Thare leauing Chaldea brought Abraham, Lot, and Sarai, so farre as Haran in Mesopotamia (Gen. 11.) whither also Nachor repaired afterwards, and there made his habitation, as appeareth (Gen. 24.) But Abraham was sooner, and more specially persecuted in Chaldea, as Iosephus testifieth (li. 1. Antiq.) for his cleere and publike profession of one God, Creatour of al things, and that by his only goodnes, and not by mens owne power, happines is attained. Further suidas (vocab. Ahraham) writeth, that at the age of 14. yeares, he admonished his father, not for lucre sake to seduce men by worshipping images of false Gods, auouching that there is no other, but the celestial God, maker of the whole world. In which sincere profession how he alwaies perseuered is often testified, and needles here to be repeated. Also Sem, Sale, and Heber his proper ancestors (the ninth, seuenth, and sixth in right line before him) were al holie men, and liued al Abrahams time, much of Isaacs, and part of Iacobs dayes. Likewise Melchisedech King and Priest (a distinct person, of another lineage, as we suppose, from Sem) liued in the beginning of this age. Al which being renowned men had great troups, or rather countreys, which with them serued the only true God. Wherof we haue example, in that Abraham (being but a stranger in Chanaan) vpon a suddaine exploit (Gen. 14.) made readie of the seruants borne in his house, three hundred and eighteen wel appointed, men of armes, al of the same religion; for shortly after they were al circumcised (Gen. 17.) yet was King Melchisedech of more power and authority then he. And the other here mentioned, except his elder brother Nachor, and his nephew Lot, were his owne direct progenitours, and by likelihood more potent. Againe, fro Abraham the succession held on right to Aaron & Moyfes, & the whole people of Israel, which with the passed out of Ægypt through the red sea.

But in the meane time, diuers also of Abrahams kindred and seed, brake off from the communitie, and fel to idolatrie. For albeit Lot, his brothers sonne, perseuered in the true seruice of God, yet Lots sonnes, Moab and Ammon, at least the Moabites and Ammonites, two nations that came of them (Gen. 19.) were infidels and idolaters. Likewise though Nachor, and Bathuel (Nachors sonne) continued henceforth in true faith and religion, yet Laban (the same Bathuels sonne) had false Gods, which Rachel tooke away (Gen. 31.) But true religion being not wholly extinguished in these families, both Isaacs wife Rebecca, and Iacobs wiues Lia and Rachel, with their handmaids Bala and Zelpha, either believed rightly, or were more easily brought to true beliefe and seruice of God. Ismael, Abrahams first sonne, was in his youth euil disposed (Gen. 21.) and for endeauouring to corrupt Isaac (which S. Paul calleth persecution) was together with his mother Agar, cast out of Abrahams house, yet prospered together

Gal. 4.

2. Paral.
12. 16.
Or. 28.

Heb. 12.

together with Isaac buried him (Gen. 25.) And at the age of 137. yeares died and was put to his people, that is, to others like himself good or euil. Abraham also separated his other sonnes begotten of Cetura (v. 6.) from Isaac, to whom only and not to any other, the promised land of Chanaan, and other more special blessings pertained. Of these last sonnes came the people of Madianites, who kept some resemblance with the people of God in religion, and therein prefigured heretikes, that descend from Catholike race, but falling to schisme and heresie, doe not participate eternal inheritance with the spiritual children of God as S. Augustin teacheth (q. 70. in Gen.) In like sort of the two sonnes of Isaac, onlie Iacob had the spiritual blessing, and inheritance thereto belonging (Gen. 27.) Esau though prophane in manners selling his birth-right (Gen. 25. v. 32.) which was a spiritual iurisdiction wherein he was a figure of the reprobate, yet it seemeth he kept the true faith (Gen. 35. v. vlt.) But whether he did or no, sure it is, Iob, who is probably thought to be of his race (Gen. 36.) was a most holie man, and a rare example of vertue. But the posterities of them both, and al the progenies of Ismael, and of Abrahams other sonnes by Cetura, soone or later fel to infidelitie and idolatrie. In other nations of the world, stil new Gods and Goddeses were multiplied vpon euerie occasion, as S. Augustin (li. 18. de ciuit.) recounteth diuers. At which notwithstanding, the true Church and citie of God continued most visible and notorious, yea with maruelous increase, especially after they were more hated and afflicted in Ægypt (Exo. 1.) Whither they were brought by the strange and special prouidence of God, more strangely preserved, and most miraculously deliuered from thence.

Much more the Church of Christ (wherof this was a shadow and figure) hath been and shal be euer most visible, from the first foundation therof to the worlds end. For besides the promises and predictions in the new Testament, al the Scriptures also of the old, which foretel Christ, doe withal foreshew his Church. Totum quod annuaciatur de Christo (sayth S. Augustin de vnitate Eccles. 6. 2.) caput & corpus est: At that is spoken of Christ is (of) the head and the bodie. The head is the onlie-begotten Iesus Christ, the Sonne of the liuing God: he the Sauour of the bodie. His bodie the Church. Againe (i. 4.) Totus Christus caput & corpus est. Whole Christ is the head & the bodie. The head, the onlie-begotten Sonne of God, & the bodie his Church: the bridegroom and bride, two in one flesh. Yea for no other cause (saith he li. de catech. rud. c. 3.) were al those things written, before the comming of our Lord, which we read in holie Scriptures, but that his comming might be commended, and the future Church prefigured, that is, the people of God throughout al nations, which is his bodie. The same doth S. Paul teach vs, not only saying (Gal. 3.) The law was our pedagogue (or conductor) to Christ, but al, o (1. Cor. 12.) that as the (natural) bodie is one & hath manie members & al the members of the bodie, wheras they be manie, yet are one bodie; so also Christ. Anna (Coloss. 1.) that Christs bodie is the Church. as therfore the great blessing of redēption & saluatio was promised in Christ (Gen. 12. & c.) so it was withal expressed that al nations and kindreds of the earth should be partakers therof, yea so innumerable as the duit of the earth, the starrs of Madianites.

Idumeans.

Idolatrie stil increasing yet the Church continued, yea also increased.

The Church of Christ in the new Testament alwayes visible and great.

The same Scriptures foreshew Christ & his Church.

Multitude of progenie promised to Abraham pertaineth to the Church of Christ.

Gen. 13.
15. 17.
Or. 22.

Very absurd to say, the Church of Christ was at anie time obscure.

Succession of spiritual Governors during the law of nature.

Priest-hood of Moyfes law established in Aarons seed.

Moyfes chiefe in spiritual & temporal gouernement.

heauen. and sands of the sea. Which S. Paul sayth (Rom. 9.) is not ment of Abrahams natural children, but of the children of promise, such as the Roman Christians, and others, Iewes and Gentiles. So S. Iohn saw in a vision as a certaine number of twelue thousand signed of euerie tribe of Israel, but after these a great multitude which no man could number, of al nations, tribes, peoples, and tongs. To say therefore, as some old and new heretikes doe, that the Church of Christ sometimes consisteth of few, or inuisible persons, were to say God kept not promise with Abraham (Gen. 17.) and to make the bodie and thing figured, more obscure then the shadow and figure; seeing in the whole time of the Law of nature, that is in these three first ages of the world, the Church being but a figure of that which is now, yet was alwayes visible and notorious, as hath been declared. And that with perpetual succession of supreme heads, rulers, and gouerners. As is before noted in the first age from Adam to Noe: in the second from Noe to Abraham: so in this third, by the right line of Abraham, Isaac, Iacob, Leui, Caath, and Amram, to Aaron and Moyfes (Exo. 6.) the Holie Ghost not there reciting more genealogies being come to the origin of the Priestlie Tribe, that is to these two whom his diuine goodnes selected and ordained, as wel to speake to Pharao in behalf of the children of Israel, and to bring them out of the Land of Ægypt, as afterwards by one of them to giue his people a written Law, and in the other a perpetual prouision of spiritual Pastours. For in Aaron the elder brother God established an ordinarie succession of Priesthood, from that time to Christ, which before pertained to the first-borne in euerie familie: adioyning the rest of Leuites-tribe to assist them, in administration of sacred things. But Moyfes the yonger brother was extraordinarily called (which God therefore shewed and confirmed by special miracles) not onlie to Priest-hood, but also to be as the God of Pharao, Superiour of Aaron, chiefe Mediatour between God and his people, as wel in deliuering them from the seruitude of Ægypt, and in receiuing the Law, and deliuering it to them, as in al other supreme gouernements spiritual and temporal during his life.

Gen. 13.
15. 17.
22.
Apo. 7.

Ex. 28.
No. 3.

C H A P. XVI.

The people murmuring for meate, & that they had left the flesh-pots of Ægypt. 4. God giueth them quails and Manna. 16. Wherof they are commanded to gather for euerie day, 22. but the sixt day double for the Sabbath, 32. and so keep a measure of it in the tabernacle for a memorie.

AND they set forward from Elim, and al the multitude of the children of Israel came into the desert Sin, which is between Elim and Sinai: the fifteenth day of the second month, after they came forth out of the Land of Ægypt. 2. And al the assemblie of the children of Israel murmured against Moyses & Aaron in the wildernesse. 3. And the children of Israel said to them: Would to God we had died by the hand of our Lord in the Land of Ægypt, when we sate ouer the flesh pots, and did eate bread our fill: why haue you brought vs into this desert, that you might kil al the multitude with famine? 4. And our Lord said to Moyses: Behold I wil raine you bread from heauen: let the people goe forth, and gather that sufficeth for euerie day: (a) that I may proue them whether they wil walke in my law, or no. 5. But the sixt day let them prouide for to bring in: and let it be double to that they were wont to gather euerie day. 6. And Moyses and Aaron said to al the children of Israel: At euen you shal know that our Lord hath brought you forth out of the land of Ægypt; 7. and in the morning you shal see the glorie of our Lord: for he hath heard your murmuring against our Lord. But as for vs, what are we, that you mutter against vs? 8. And Moyses said: At euen our Lord wil giue you flesh to eate, and in the morning bread your fill: for he hath heard your murmurings, which you haue murmured against him, for what are we? neither is your murmuring against vs, but against our Lord. 9. Moyses also said to Aaron: Say to the whole assemblie of the children of Israel: Approach you before our Lord: for he hath heard your murmuring. 10. And when Aaron spake to al the assemblie of the children of Israel, they looked toward the wildernesse: and behold the glorie of our Lord appeared in a cloud. 11. And our Lord spake to Moyses, saying: 12. I haue heard the murmurings of the children of Israel, say to them: At euen you shal eate flesh, and in the morning you shal haue your fill of bread: and you shal know that I am the Lord your God. 13. Therefore it came to passe at euen, & (b) the quail rose, and couered the campe: in the morning also a dew lay round about the campe. 14. And when it had couered the face of the earth, it appeared in the wildernesse smal, and as it were beaten with a pestil like vnto the hoare frost on the ground. 15. Which when the children of Israel had seen, they said one to an other:

The beginning of the fourth age.

The second part of this book. How the Israelites were sustained in the desert, and prepared to receive the Law.

(a) God left it in their wil to be content with enough, or to couer more, yet suffered them not to haue more, when it came to measuring. v. 18. and 2. Cor. 8.

(b) These birds by Gods prouidence came from other places to the children of Israel. Num. 11. v. 31.

other : " Man-hu ! which signifieth : What is this ! for they knew not what it was. To whom Moyfes said : This is the bread, which our Lord hath giuen you to eate. 16. This is the word, that our Lord hath commanded: Let euerie one gather of it so much as sufficeth to eate: a gomor euerie man, according to the number of your soules that dwel in a tent so shal you take vp. 17. And the children of Israel did so : and they gathered, one more, an other lesse. 18. And they measured by the measure of a gomor : neither he that gathered more, had aboue : nor he that prouided lesse, found vnder : but euerie one gathered according to that which they were able to eate. 19. And Moyfes said to them : Let no man leaue therof til the morning. 20. Who heard him not, but certaine of them left vntil the morning, and it began to be ful of wormes, and it putrified. And Moyfes was angrie against them. 21. And euerie one of them gathered in the morning so much as might suffice to eate: and after the sunne waxed hot, it melted. 22. But in the sixt day they gathered double portions, that is, two gomors euerie man : and al the Princes of the multitude (c) came, and told Moyfes. 23. Who said to them : This is it which our Lord hath spoken : The Sabbaths rest is sanctified vnto our Lord to morow. Whatsoeuer is to be wrought, doe it : and the meates that are to be made readie, make them readie : and whatsoeuer shal remaine, lay it vp vntil the morning. 24. And they did so as Moyfes had commanded, and it putrified not, neither was there worme found in it. 25. And Moyfes said : Eate it to day, because it is the Sabbath of our Lord: to day it shal not be found in the field. 26. Gather it six dayes : but in the seuenth day is the Sabbath of our Lord, therfore it shal not be found. 27. And the seuenth day came : and some of the people going forth to gather, found not. 28. And our Lord said to Moyfes : How long wil you not keep my commandementes, and my law ? 29. See that our Lord hath giuen you a Sabbath, and for this cause on the sixt day he giueth you double portions : let each man tarie with himselfe, and let none goe forth out of his place the seuenth day. 30. And the people kept the Sabbath on the seuenth day. 31. And the house of Israel called the name therof Manna: which was as it were coriander seed white, and the tast therof like to flowre with honie. 32. And Moyfes sayd: This is the word, which our Lord hath commanded : (d) Fil a gomor of it, and let it be kept vnto the generations to come hereafter ; that they may know the bread, wherwith I fed you in the wilderness, when you were brought forth out of the Land of Egypt. 33. And Moyfes sayd to Aaron: Take (e) one vessel, and put Manna into it, so much as a gomor can hold : and lay it vp before our Lord to keep vnto your generations: 34. as our Lord commanded Moyfes. And Aaron put it in the tabernacie to be reserued. 35. And the children of Israel did eate Manna fourtie yeares, til they came into the habitable land : with this meate were they fed, vntil they touched the borders of the land of Chanaan. 36. And a gomor is the tenth part an ephi.

(c) By their wondering at the double quantitie, it appeareth they intended not to gather so much.

(d) By anticipation Moyfes writeth here the commandment giuen when the Tabernacle and Arke were finished Exo. vi.
 (e) This Relike was put in a golden vessel Heb. 9. though it was infinitely inferiour to Christs flesh Io. 6. yea inferiour to the flesh of anie glorified Saint.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. X V I.

15. Man hu! what is this! When the people of Israel in the desert had spent their provision of meate brought from AEgypt, and according to Gods promise had receiued store of quailles; going forth in the morning they saw a strange thing lye vpon the ground like to hoare frost, wherat merueiling they said one to another What is this! in their language Man hu! Wherupon saith Theodoret (q. 30. in Exod.) their demand was turned in. o the name, and it was called Manna. Which as the same and other ancient Doctours gather by the holy Scriptures, was a wonderful and miraculous meate, and withal a figure of a more excellent thing, long after promised, and giuen by our B. Sauour, in the holy Sacrament of the Eucharist. As witnesse S Gregorie Nyssen (Enar. vitę Moysi, circa medium, S. Ambrose [li. de ijs qui Myst. inisian. cap. 8.]) S. Cyril Alexandrinus, S. Chrystostom, S. Augustin, Theophilact and others, vpon the sixt of S. Iohn. Where also the text of our Sauours long discourse with the Capharnaites, sheweth evidently that he promised to giue a farre better meate then Manna, to those that believed in him. I am, (saith our Lord) the bread of life, which descended from heauen; your fathers did eate Manna in the desert, and died. The bread which I wil giue is my flesh, for the life of the world. My flesh is meate indeed, and my blood is drinke indeed &c. S. Paul likewise teacheth (1. Cor. 10.) that this Manna, and the water issuing out of the rocke, were figures of the same B. Sacrament, as is noted in those places.

Here only we commend to the Christian readers remembrance that the thing figured doth euer exceed the figure according to S. Pauls doctrine (Collos. 2.) wishing him therefore to consider, that in Manna were at least twelue cleere miracles. First, it was made by Angels wherof it is called, the bread of Angels. Secondly, it was not produced from the earth, nor water, as ordinarie meates are, but came from the ayre. Thirdly, how fast or slowly soeuer any man did gather it, in the end each one had the same measure full, called a gomor, and no more nor lesse. Fourthly, the sixth day which was next before the Sabbath, that which they gathered, was found to be double portions to other dayes, that is, two gomors for euerie one. Fifthly, there sel none at al on the Sabbath day. Sixtly, if in the rest of the weeke any part was left al night, it putrified and was corrupt in the morning, but the night before the Sabbath day, it remained sound and good. Seuenthly, notwithstanding diu. rsitie of stomakes in so great a multitude, the same measure was sufficient and no more, to euerie one, yong and old and of middle age. Eightly, the heate of the sunne melted and consumed that which remained in the field, though otherwise it endured heate of the fire, seething in water, grinding in milles, and beating in morters. Ninthly, it tasted to euerie one, what they desired. Tenthly, it seemed neuerthelesse to the euil minded, loathsome and light meate, but pleasant to the good. Eleuethly, part of it was kept in the Arke by Gods commandement, and was not corrupted in manie hundred yeares. Twelfthly, this strange and extraordinarie provision continued fourtie yeares, that is, til the children of Israel came to the promised land, and then ceased.

You see then so miraculou a figure farre excelled Zuinglius or Caluins communion bread, which containeth no miracle at al, only signifying Christs bodie. But, as our Sauours owne wordes import, and ancient fathers teach vs, by Manna was prefigured Christs verie bodie and blood, with his soule and Diuinitie vnder the forme of bread.

Manna so called of Mā-hu.

It was a figure of the Eucharist.

Twelue miracles in Manna

1. 2.

3.

4.

5. 6.

7.

8.

9.

10.

11.

12.

No miracle in Protestants Communion

l. 3. c. 37.
Ho. 45.
Trac. 26
Ioan 6.
v. 25. 41.
49. 52.
55.

Tsa. 77.
v. 25.
Roffen.
l. 1. c. 12.
cons. Decolamp.
D. Hesik.
l. 3. c. 12.
parlam.

All the said miracles are more eminent in the R. Sacrament.

1. 2. 3.

4.

5.

6.

7.

8.

9.

10.

11.

12.

For this indeed infinitely excelleth Manna, containing all the foresaid, or rather much more eminent miracles. For first, it was consecrated by the maruelous power of Christs word, and euer since the same is done, by the like power communicated to Priests, [2] in his Church militant, [3] one and the verie same, and not manie, in innumerable places, and in euerie lesse or greater forme, yea in the least particle of the accidents that may be, Christ is whole and entire. (4) It giueth abundance of grace in this life, signified by the day before the Sabbath, for the glorie of the next life in eternal rest, (5) where is no more vse of Sacraments, but euerlasting fruition of glorie. (6) Whosoeuer therefore would make temporal commoditie of this heauenlie food, as it were reseruing Manna for other dayes of the weeke, it perisheth to him, and turneth to his ignominie, but being reserued in the faithful soule, for the life to come, which is the true Sabbath, it remaineth an heauenlie treasure. (7) And so it auaieth to euerie one, as their soule, which is the spiritual stomake of supernatural meate, is lesse or more disposed. (8) Though heate of persecution, and other aduerse power take away this Sacrament and Sacrifice abroad in the field of this world, yet no power extinguieth it within the Church, where it is in due manner prepared & ministred to the children of God, (9.) where it yealdeth all comfort, strength & contentment to good spiritual desires, (10.) but to the incredulous Capharnaites seemeth vnpossible, and to carnal conceits loathsome. (11.) Being worthily receiued into our mortal bodies, our arke or temporal tabernacle, it remaineth in incorruptible effect, wherby the bodie shal be raised againe from death, and together with the soule be eternally glorified. (12.) In the meane time of this pilgrimage of mankind, it is our way-faring special prouision, dailie and super substantial bread, til we shal possesse the promised land, the Kingdome of heauen in eternal blisse.

CHAP. XVII.

The people murmuring againe in Raphidim for want of drinke, our Lord giveth them water out of a rock. 8. Amalech fighteth with them. And Moyse lifting vp his hand in prayer, Israel ouercometh, otherwise Amalech preuaileth.

HEREFORE all the multitude of the children of Israel setting forward from the desert Sin, by their mansions, according to the word of our Lord, camped in Raphidim, where there was no water for the people to drinke. 2. Who chiding against Moyse, said: Giue vs water, that we may drinke. To whom Moyse answered: Why chide you against me? Wherefore doe you tempt our Lord? 3. The people therefore was thirstie there for lacke of water, & murmured against Moyse, saying: Why didst thou make vs goe forth out of Ægypt to kil vs, and our children, & our beasts with thirst: 4. And Moyse cried to our Lord, saying: What shal I doe to this people? Yet a litle while, and they wil itone me. 5. And our Lord said to Moyse: Goe before the people, and take with thee of the ancients of Israe: and the rod wherwith thou didst strike

strike the riuer, take in thy hand, and goe. 6. Behold I wil stand there before thee, vpon the rocke Horeb: and thou shalt strike the rocke, & water shal goe out therof, that the people may drinke. Moyfes did so before the ancients of Israel: 7. and he called the name of that place, Temptation, because of the chiding of the children of Israel, and for that they tempted our Lord, saying: Is the Lord among vs or not? 8. And Amalec came, and fought against Israel in Raphidim. 9. And Moyfes sayd to Iosue: Choose out men, and goe forth & fight against Amalec: to morow I wil stand in the top of the hil hauing the rod of God in my hand. 10. Iosue did as Moyfes had spoken, and he fought against Amalec: but Moyfes and Aaron and Hur went vp vpon the top of the hil. 11. And when Moyfes lifted vp his hands, Israel ouercame: but (a) if he did let them downe a litle, Amalec ouercame. 12. And the hands of Moyfes were heauie: therefore they tooke a stone, and put vnder him, wherupon he sate: and Aaron and Hur staied vp his hands on both sides. And it came to passe that his hands were not wearie vntil sunne set. 13. And Iosue put Amalec to flight, & his people by the edge of the sword. 14. And our Lord said to Moyfes: Write this for a monument in a booke, & deliuer it to the eares of Iosue: for I wil destroy the memorie of Amalec from vnder heauen. 15. And Moyfes builded an Altar, and called the name therof, Our Lord my exaltation, saying: 16. Because the hand of our Lords throne, and the warre of our Lord shal be against Amalec, from generation vnto generation.

[a] If this ceremonie of holding vp his hands was of such importance in the law of nature, why doe Heretikes deride the same, and the like in the Catholike Church? Wheras also our Saniour lifting vp his hands blessed his disciples. Luc. 24. S. Damascé also teacheth (l. 4. c. 12. Ortho.) that this extension of his hands prefigured the Crosse of Christ. And now it representeth the same.

C H A P. XVIII.

Iethro Moyfes father in law bringeth to him his wife and children. 8. And hearing the great workes of God, 12. offereth sacrifice: 13. and wisely aduised Moyfes to appoint subordinate officers to iudge lesse causes, reseruing the greater to himselfe.

AND when Iethro the (a) Priest of Madian, the allied of Moyfes, had heard al the things, that God had done to Moyfes, and to Israel his people, and that our Lord had brought forth Israel out of Ægypt; 2. he tooke Sephora the wife of Moyfes whom he had sent backe: 3. and her two sonnes, of which one was called Gersam, his father saying: I haue been a stranger in a forren cuntry; 4. And the other Eliezer: for the God of my father, quoth he, is my helper, and hath deliuered me from Pharaocs sword. 5. Iethro therefore the allied of Moyfes came and his sonnes, and his wife to Moyfes into the desert, where he was camped beside the mountayne of God. 6. And he sent word to Moyfes, saying:

[a] Cohen in Hebrew signifieth Prince or Priest; which offic. s. in the law of nature were often ioyned in one person.

Iethro thy allied come to thee , and thy wife , and thy two children with her. 7. Who going forth to meet his allied , adored , and kissed him : and they saluted one an other with words of peace. And when he was entred into the tent , 8. Moyſes told his allied al things that our Lord had done to Pharao , and the Ægyptians for Israel : and the whole trouaile which had chanced to them in the iourney , and that our Lord had deliuered them. 9. And Iethro reioyced for al the good things , that our Lord had done to Israel , becauſe he had deliuered them out of the hands of the Ægyptians , 10. and he ſaid : Blessed is the Lord , that hath deliuered you out of the hand of the Ægyptians , and out of the hand of Pharao , that hath deliuered his people out of the hand of Ægypt. 11. Now doe I know , that the Lord is great aboute al Gods: for becauſe they dealt proudly againſt them. 12. Iethro therefore the allied of Moyſes offered holocausts and hoſts to God : and Aaron and al the ancients of Israel came , to eate bread with him before God. 13. And the next day Moyſes ſate to iudge the people , who ſtood by Moyſes from morning vntil night. 14. Which thing when his allied had ſeen , to wit , al things that he did in the people , he ſaid : What is this that thou doeſt in the people ? Why ſitteſt thou alone , and al the people attendeth from morning vntil night ? 15. To whom Moyſes answered : The people commeth to me ſeeking the ſentence of God. 16. And when anie controuerieſie chanceth among them , they come vnto me to iudge between them , and to ſhew the precepts of God , and his lawes. 17. But he ſaid : Thou doeſt not wel : 18. thou art tyred with fooliſh labour , both thou , and this people that is with thee , the buſines is aboute thy ſtrength , thou alone canſt not ſuſteyne-it. 19. But (b) heare my words and counſails , and God ſhal be with thee. Be thou to the people in thoſe things that pertaine to God , to report their words vnto him: 20. & to ſhew to the people the ceremonies & rite of worſhipping , and the way wherein they ought to walke , and the worke that they ought to doe. 21. And prouide out of al the people men that are wiſe , & doe feare God , in whom there is truth , and that doe hate auarice , and appoint of them tribunes , and centurions , and quinquagenarians , and deanes , 22. which may iudge the people at al tymes : and what great matter ſoever ſhal fal out , let the referre it to thee , & let them iudge the leſſe matters only : & ſo it may be lighter for thee , the burden being imparted vnto others. 23. If thou doeſt this , thou ſhalt fulfil the cōmandement of God , & ſhalt be able to beare his precepts: al this people ſhal returne to their places with peace. 24. Which things when Moyſes heard (c) he did al things that he had ſuſteined vnto him. 25. And chooſing ſubſtantial men out of al Israel , he appointed them Princes of the people , tribunes , and centurions , and quinquagenarians , and deanes. 26. Who iudged the people at al time : and whatſoever was of greater difficultie they referred to him , themſelues iudging the eaſier caſes only. 27. And he diſmiſſed his allied : who returning went into his countrie.

b) Manifold wiſdome , wherof Daniel prophecieth (c. 12. v. 4.) in Chriſtian Gentils , was here prefigured in Iethro a Gētil.
 c) To whom Moyſes willingly yealded. Origen. in hunc locum.
 Morally , Superiours are admoniſhed by Moyſes example to learne of anie man , that which is good. S. Chryſoſtom. ho. de ſerendis reprehentionibus.

C H A P. XIX.

Nere to mount Sinai, with commemoration of their deliuerie from Ægypt, the people are commanded to be sanctified: 16. and so our Lord comming in thunders and lightnings speaketh with Moyses.

IN the third month of the departure of Israel out of the Land of Ægypt, " this day they came into (a) the wildernesse of Sinai. 2. For departing out of Raphidim , and comming to the desert of Sinai , they camped in the same place , & there Israel pitched their tents ouer against the mountaine. 3. And Moyses went vp to God : and our Lord called him from the mountaine , and said : (b) This shalt thou say to the house of Iacob , and shalt tel the children of Israel : 4. Your selues haue seen what I haue done to the Ægyptians , how I haue carried you vpon the wings of eagles , and haue taken you vnto me. 5. If therefore you wil heare my voice , and keep my couenant , you shal be (c) my peculiar of al peoples : for al the earth is myne. 6. And you shal be vnto me (d) a Priestlie Kingdome , and a holie nation : these are the words that thou shalt speake to the chidren of Israel. 7. Moyses came : and calling together the nations of the people , he declared al the words which our Lord had commanded him. 8. And al the people answered together (e) Al things that our Lord hath spoken , we wil doc. And when Moyses had reported the peoples words to our Lord , 9. our Lord said to him : Now presently wil I come to thee in the darkenesse of a cloud , that the people may heare me speaking to thee , and may belieue thee for euer. Moyses therefore (f) told the peoples words to our Lord. 10. Who said to him : Goe to the people , and sanctifie them to day , and to morow , and let them wash their garments. 11. And let them be readie against the third day : for in the third day the Lord wil descend in the sight of al the people vpon the mount Sinai. 12. And thou shalt appoynt certaine limites to the people in circuit , and shalt say to them : Beware ye ascend not into the mount , & that you touch not the ends thereof : euerie one that toucheth the mount , dying shal dye. 13. Hands shal not touch him , but he shal be stoned to death , or shal be shot through with arrowes : whether it be beast , or man , it shal not liue. When the trumpet shal begin to sound , then let them ascend into the mount. 14. And Moyses came downe from the mount to the people , and sanctified them. And when they had washed their garments 15. he said to them : Be readie against the third day , and come not neer your wiues. 16. And now

(a) To this place (which was their mansion) they came the 47 day after they parted from Ægypt. And the third day following which was the 50. he law was giuen in mount Sinai.

S. Hierom. Epist. I. ad Fabiolam.

(b) God would haue their free consent , els it were not a perfect couenant. Theodoret 9. 35 in Exod.

(c) In this couenant God promifeth particular loue ; Priestlie function , wherby they might better serue him ; and effectual grace and sanctitie.

(d) The people promise loyaltie to God ; and to keep his commandments.

(e) So Angels & Saints offer our prayers & other good workes to God , though he know al things beforehand.

now the third day was come, and the morning appeared : and behold thunders began to be heard, and lightnings to flash, and a verie thicke cloud to couer the mount, & the noyse of the trumpet sounded exceedingly: and the people, that was in the campe, feared. 17. And when Moyfes had brought them forth to meete with God from the place of the campe, they stood at the botome of the mount. 18. And al the mount Sinai smoked : for because our Lord was descended vpon it in fire, and the smoke arose from it as out of a fornace: and al the mount was terrible. 19. And the sound of the trumpet grew lowder by litle and litle, and was drawn out a length : Moyfes spake, and God answered him. 20. And our Lord descended vpon the mount Sinai in the very top of the mount, and he called Moyfes into the top therof. Whither when he was ascended, 21. he said vnto him : Goe downe, and charge the people, lest perhaps they wil passe their limits to see the Lord, and a very great multitude of them perish. 22. The Priests also that come to the Lord, let them be sanctified, lest he strike them. 23. And Moyfes said to our Lord : The common people can not ascend into the mount Sinai : for thou didst charge, and command, saying : Put limits about the mount, and sanctifie it. 24. To whom our Lord said : Goe, get thee downe, and thou shalt come vp, and Aaron with thee : but (f) the Priests and the people let them not passe the limits nor ascend to the Lord, lest perhaps he kil them. 25. And Moyfes went downe to the people, and told them al.

f] The people & al inferiour Clergie also, are to keepe their limits & to learne Gods wil of their Superiours.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. XIX.

1. This day.) The first day of the third month the children of Israel came into the desert of Sinai. So counting 16. dayes remaining of the first month when they parted from A Egypt, al the second month of 30. dayes, this first day of the third month, and three dayes more, in which they were sanctified by washing and other ceremonies (v. 10.) the Law was giuen the fiftieth day, in figure of the Law of Christ, promulgated on whitfunday, the fiftieth day after our Redemption. Whereby wee see meruelous correspondence of diuine Mysteries in the old and new Testament. S. Augustin. Epist. 119. c. 16.

Agreement of old and new mysteries.

C H A P. X X.

*Moyſes receiueth the Decologue or ten commandments of God, for al the people
23. with repetition that they ſhal not make falſe Gods, nor make Altars but of earth or vnherwed ſtone, and without ſteps.*

AND our Lord ſpake al theſe words. 2. I am the Lord thy God, which brought thee ſotth out of the Land of Ægypt, out of the houſe of ſeruitude. 3. Thou ſhalt not haue " ſtrange Gods before me. 4. Thou ſhalt not make to the " a (a) grauen thing, nor any ſimilitude that is in heauen aboue, & that is in the earth beneath, neither of thoſe things that are in the waters vnder the earth. 5. Thou ſhalt not adore them, nor ſerue them: I am the Lord thy God mightie, ielous, (b) viſiting the iniquitie of the fathers vpon the children, vpon the third and fourth generation of them that hate me: 6. and doing mercie vpon thouſands to them that loue me, and keep my precepts. 7. Thou ſhalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vaine. For the Lord wil not hold him innocent that ſhal take the name of the Lord his God vainely. 8. Remember that thou ſanctifie the ſabbath day. 9. Six dayes ſhalt thou worke, and ſhalt doe al thy workes. 10. But on the ſeauenth day is the ſabbath of the Lord thy God: thou ſhalt doe no worke in it, thou and thy ſonne, and thy daughter, thy man ſeruant, and thy woman ſeruant, thy beaſt, and the ſtranger that is within thy gates. 11. For ſix dayes the Lord made heauen and earth, and the ſea, and al things that are in them, and reſted in the ſeuenth day, therefore the Lord bleſſed the ſabbath day, and ſanctified it. 12. Honour thy father and thy mother, that thou mayſt be long liued vpon the earth, which the Lord thy God wil giue thee. 13. Thou ſhalt not murder. 14. Thou ſhalt not commit aduoutrie. 15. Thou ſhalt not ſteale. 16. Thou ſhalt not ſpeake againit thy neighbour falſe teſtimonie. 17. Thou ſhalt not couet thy neighbours houſe: neither ſhalt thou deſire his wiſe, nor ſeruant, nor handmaid, nor oxe, nor aſſe, nor any thing that is his. 18. And al the people ſaw the voices, and the flames, and the ſound of the trumpet, and the mount ſmoking: and being frighted and ſtrucken with feare they ſtood a farre off, 19. ſaying to Moyſes: Speake thou to vs, and we wil heare: let not our Lord ſpeake to vs, leiſt perhaps we die. 20. And Moyſes ſaid to the people: Feare not: for God came to proue you, and that his terrour might be in you, and you ſhould not ſinne. 21. And the people ſtood a farre off. But Moyſes went vnto the darke cloud wherein God was. 22. -Our Lord ſaid

The third part of this book, containing Diuine Lawes, Moral, Ceremonial, & Iudicial.

a) In Hebrew Peſel, in Greek ειδωλον in Latin ſculptile, in Engliſh a grauen thing.

b) This commination and promiſe annexed to the firſt commandment perteyneth to euerie one of the nine following. Catech. Ro. p. 3. q. 9.

The Epiſtle on wedneſday in the third weeke of Lent.

(c) This and other ceremonial precepts are determinate lawes, for obseruing the commandmets of the first table pertaining to God.

moreouer to Moyse: This shalt thou say to the children of Israel: You haue seen that from heauen I haue spoken to you. 23. You shal not make Gods of siluer, nor Gods of gold that you make to you. 24. An Altar (c) of earth you shal make to me, and you shal offer vpon it your holocausts and pacifikes, your sheep and oxen in euerie place where the memorie of my name shal be: I wil come to thee, and wil blesse thee, 25. And if thou make an Altar of stone vnto me, thou shalt not build it of hewed stones: for if thou lift vp thy knife ouer it, it shal be polluted. 26. Thou shalt not goe vp by griefes vnto myne Altar, lest thy turpitude be discovered.

ANNOTATIONS.

H A P. X X.

Protestants charge al Catholikes to be Idolaters. They abuse their followers.

They belie the Church militant.

Blaspheme the triumphant.

3 Strang Gods.] Protestants pretend here to proue, that al Catholikes are Idolaters, for honoring Saints, and their Relikes and Images. And they haue so detamed Catholike Religion in this behalfe, that the vulgar sort of deceiued people, otherwise knowing Catholikes to be ordinarily of moderate conuersation in life, of iust dealing towards their neighbours, addicted to prayer, fasting, almes, and manie good works, more wanting among themselues: yet supposing them, notwithstanding these laudable qualities, to be Idolaters, are therby auerted from Catholike Religion. And surely it were a iust cause, if it were true. As wel therefore to purge our selues of so haynous an imputed crime, as to remoue this dangerous block of erroneous conceit, we shal here note some of the Protestants egregious lies against the whole Church militant, and blasphemous reproches against the glorious Saints: then briefly declare the true and sincere doctrine and practise of the Catholike Church in this point. Luther in his postil vpon the Gospell of our Lordes Incarnation, sayth: Papista Virginem Mariam Deum constitunt: Omnipotentiam ei in caelo et in terra tribuunt. The Papists (saith he) make the Virgin Marie God: they attribute to her omnipotencie in heauen and in earth. In Papistrieal expected more fauour and grace from her, then from Christ himself. His scholar Melancton (in locis communib.) postilling the first Precept, saith: Papistes inuocate Saints, and worship Images in heathnish manner. Calvin (li. de necess. refor. Ecclies.) saith: those of the Emperors religion (meaning al Catholikes) so diuide Gods offices among Saints, that they ioyne them to the Soueraigne God, as colleagues; in which multitude God lieth hidden. Against the most glorious virgin mother the same Luther (ser. de nascit. virg. Mar.) feared not to say, that he esteemed no more of the prayer of S. Marie, then of anie one of the people. And his reason is worse then his wicked assertion, for that (saith he) al that belieue in Christ are as iust, & as holie as the virgin Marie, or anie other Saint how great soeuer. The Magdeburgian Centuriators (li. 1. Cent. 1.) affirme that the virgin Marie sinned grieuouly, yea compare her imagined faults with the sinne of Eue in paradise. (li. 2.) They charge S. Peter and S. Paul (also after their conuersions) with diuers great crimes. Calvin (li. 3. Inst. c. 2. parag. 11.) condemneth Sara and Rebecca of great finnes (c. 4.) reprehendeth Iudas Machabeus for superstitious and preposterous zeale, in causing Sacrifice to be offered for the dead. In his commentarie (in 32. Exodi) he accuseth most

holie

holie and meeke Moyfes of atrogancie and pride. And (li. 3. Inſtit. c. 20. p. 27.) he ſcuruily ſcoffeth at al Saints in general, ſaying : If they heare mortal mens prayers, they muſt haue eares ſo long, as from heauen to earth. And calleth them not only homines mortuos, dead men, (which S. Hierom reproveth in Vigilantius) but alſo umbras, laruas, collunem : ſhadows, night goblins, ſtinking filth : yet more, (li. de vera reſor. Eccleſ. ras.) he calleth them Monſtra, carniſices, beſtias, monſters, hanzmen, beaſts. Theſe and like blaſphemies modeſt men can not but abhorre and deſpiſe. Their lies alſo are conuincid by S. Hierom, handling this matter of purpoſe againſt Vigilantius, by S. Auguſtin touching it by occaſion (li. 20. c. 21.) againſt Fauſtus the Manichee, Thomas Waldenſis (To. 3. ſe. 13. de ſacramentalibus) againſt Wiclif, by al Catechiſmes and Chriſtian Inſtructions, teaching nothing like, but quite contrarie to theſe mens reports. In ſumme they al teach, that Saints are to be honoured with religious honour, which is greater then ciuil, but infinitely inferiour to diuine, as the excellencie of God ſurmouteth al excellencie created.

For better declaration wherof, it is to be conſidered, that ſeeing by the law of God and nature honour is due to excellencie, there muſt be ſo manie diſtinct kinds of honour, as there be general kinds of excellencie, which are three. The firſt of God, infinite, and incomparably aboue al : the ſecond is ſupernatural, but created, as of grace and glorie : the third is humane or natural, conſiſting in natural gifts, or worldlie power and dignitie, al three as diſtinct as God, heauen, and earth. To theſe three general kinds of excellencie pertaineth therefore other three as diſtinct kinds of honour, to wit, Diuine due to God only, called by uſe and appropriation of a Greeke word Latria : the ſecond Dulia, belonging to Saints, and other holie things, eleuated by God aboue the courſe of nature, in diuers degrees, but within the ranke of creatures : the third is ciuil honour, due to humane and worldlie excellencie, according to diuers ſtates and qualities of men. The firſt of theſe, which is diuine, may in no caſe be giuen to anie creature, how excellent ſoener. The third which is ciuil, as both Catholikes and Proteſtants hold for certaine, is not competent nor agreeable to Saints, but to mortal worldlie men in reſpect of temporal excellencie. At the controuerſie therefore is about the ſecond. Which Caluin (li. 1. Inſtit. c. 11. & 12.) and al Proteſtant writers denie & reiect, and ſo would haue no honour at al giuen to Saints. Obiecting as old heretikes did, that Catholikes doe al the ſame external actes, as ſtanding bare-head, bowing, kneeling, praying, and the like to Saints, as to God himſelf. We anſwer, that the diſtinction of honour conſiſteth not alwayes in the external action, but in the intention of the mind. For when we doe ſuch external actes of honour to God, we intend therby to honour the Creator and Lord of al, and ſo it is diuine honour ; but doing the ſame external actes to a Saint, we conceiue of him, as a glorious ſeruant of God, and ſo we honour him as a ſanctified and glorified creature, Gods ſubiect and ſeruant. Without this diuerſitie of intentions in your mind, you can not ſhew difference between the honour you doe to God, and that you doe to the King, by bowing, kneeling, and the like. For it is the ſame external action : yet no Chriſtian doubteth but he honoreth God with diuine honour, & the King with ciuil. Againe we anſwer, that we doe not al the external actions of honour to Saints, which we doe to God. For Sacrifice is done only to God, and to no Saint ; and becauſe Altars pertaine to Sacrifice, they are erected to God only, though oftentimes in memorie of Saints.

Both which answers S. Auguſtin gaue long ſince to Fauſtus the Manichee arguing that Catholikes by doing the ſame external actes, worſhipped Martyrs with diuine honour, and ſo turned them into Idols, as that heretike inferred. Wherenpon S. Auguſtin declareth, that Chriſtian people celebrate together the memories of Martyrs with Religioſus ſolemnitie, to ſtir vp imitation, to be partakers of their merites, and to be holpen by their prayers. Yet ſo that we erect not Altars (becauſe they are for Sacrifice) to anie Martyr, though in memorie of Mar-

Al modeſt men wil condemne theſe blaſphemies. Catholike doctrine & practice conuince their lies. The true Catholike doctrine.

Honour due to excellencie. Three kindes of excellencie.

Therefore three kindes of honour.

Proteſtants denie anie honour to be due to Saints. Their obiection. Firſt anſwer.

Example of this neceſſary diſtinction.

Second anſwer.

S. Auguſtin declareth this doctrine : and giueth both the former anſwers.

li. 22.

c. 21.

33

33

Three causes of celebrating Saints memories.

Latria is honour proper
to God.
Sacrifice only
to God.

Protestants cō-fesse that the ancient Fathers honoured Saints, and their Relikes.

Manna was put in a golden vessel.
Heb. 9.
How saucie are heretikes to scoffe at so renowned a Doctōr!

Protestants
haue corrupted the text in al their English Bibles.

tyrs, but to God of Martyrs. For who euer standing at the Altar, in places of Saints bodies, said: We offer to thee Peter, or Paul, or Cyprian, but that which is offered, is offered to God, who crowned the Martyrs, at their memories, whom he crowned, that by commonition of the very places, greater affection may arise, to enkindle charitie, both towards them, whom we may imitate, and towards him, by whose help we may. We honour Martyrs with that worship of loue and societie, wherwith holie men are worshipped in this life. Whose hart we perceiue is prepared to like sufferance for the Euangelical veritie: but Martyrs more deuoutly, by how much more securely, after al vn certainties are ouercome, and with how much more confident praise, we preach them now victours in a more happie life, then others yet fighting in this. But with that worship, which in Greeke is called Latria, a seruice properly due to God, which in Latin can not be expressed by one word, we neither worship, nor teach to be worshipped but one God. And for so much as offering of Sacrifice pertaineth to this worship (wherof they are called Idolaters, that offer sacrifice to anie Idols) we by no meanes offer anie such thing, nor teach to be offered, either to anie Martyr, or blessed soule, or holie Angel. Thus farre S. Augustin. The same teacheth Theodoret (li. 8. ad Gracos) Our Lord hath depriued false Gods of the honour, they had in Temples, and in place of them caused his Martyrs to be honoured: yet not in the same manner, for we neither bring hostes, nor libaments to Martyrs, but honour them, as holie men, and most deare freinds of God. It would be too long to cite manie ancient Fathers, testifying and teaching that Saints are to be honoured.

More compendiously we wil take our aduersaries confession, the Magdeburgian Centuriators. Who (Pref. Cent. 6.) holding that the Church was only pure from idolatrie the first hundred yeares of Christ, and that it began to faile in the second and third age, more in the fourth and fifth, and was vtterly perished in the sixth, impute the cause of her ruine, that the very chiefe men taught and practised the honour of Saints. First of al (say they) these horrible and pernicious darknes, as certaine black clouds couering the whole firmament, rose vp in the verie assemblie of teachers. For that partly the very Doctors of the Church, partly other superstitious men, augmented ceremonies and humane worships in the Temples. For sacred houses began to be built in al places, with great coste, altogether in heathnish manner: not principally to the end Gods word might there be taught, but that some honour might be exhibited to the Relikes of Saints, and that foolish people might there worship dead men. And how pleasantly eloquent is that Gregorie, called the Great, how feruent, when as from his three footed stoole, he preached the manner of consecrating these houses? And a litle after. By this occasion dead creatures, and bloudles half wormeaten bones began to be honoured, inuocated, and worshipped with diuine honour. Al which The Doctors of the Church not only winked at, but also set forward. Thus the reader seeth, notwithstanding their lies, scoffes, and blasphemies, Protestants doe confesse, that the Church and her chiefe pillars, streight after the first hundred yeares of Christ, siue hundred next folowing, honoured Saints and their Relikes. Neither want there authentical examples of holie Scriptures, wherby the same is proued. As Gen. 32. 48. Exodi. 3. 32. Num. 12. Iosue 5. 3. Reg. 18. 4. Reg. 2. Psalm. 98. and els where.

4. A grauen thing.) Here the same falsifiers of Christian doctrine doe not only peruert the sense of holie Scripture, wresting that against Images, which is spoken against Idols, but also shamefully corrupt the text, by translating grauen image, neither folowing the Hebrew, Greek, nor Latin. For the Hebrew word, pesel, is the verie same that sculptura in Latin, that is a grauen or carued thing. The Greeke hath ειδωλον, an idol. So al Protestants English Bibles are false.

In the meane time til they correct their books, they may please to remember, that God shortly after this (Exod. 25.) commanded to make Images of Angels,

gels, to wit Cherubins. Likewise a brazen serpent (Num. 21.) Also oxen and Lions (Reg. 6. & 7.) Neither are Puritanes so precise, but that they engraue, carue print, paint, cast, sow, embroider, and otherwise make and keepe Images, portraits, and pictures of men, and other things. As for worshipping of sacred Images the second Council of Nice (Act. 4.) The Council of Trent (sess. 25.) S. Gregorie the Great (li. 7. ep. 5. & 53.) S. Damascen in diuers whole books, and manie others, and al Catholike Catechisimes and Christian Instructions teach, that the honour is not done to the Image for it self, but at the presence of the Image, to Christ, or Saint, whose Image it is.

An other controuersie Caluin here maketh, who from these words, Thou shalt not make, beginneth the second precept, so counting foure precepts in the first table, and six in the second. But being no matter of faith, how they are diuided, so al the words, and the number of ten commandments be acknowledged (for holie Scripture calleth them ten Exo. 34. v. 28. Deut. 4. v. 13. & 10. v. 4.) we wil not contend: but only as more reasonable we follow the common manner of diuiding the first table into three precepts directing vs to God, the second into seuen belonging to our neighbour, approued for the better by S. Augustin (q. 71. in Exodum) and generally receiued of al Catholikes; grounded vpon this reason, among others, because to make or haue a picture, or similitude of anie creature, to the end to adore it as God, were indeed to haue a strange God, which is forbid in the first words: and so al that foloweth to the commination and promise, forbiddeth false Gods, and appeareth to be but one precept in substance. But the desire and internal consent to adulterie, and to theft, differ altogether as much, as the external actes of the same finnes; and therefore seeing adulterie and theft are forbidden to be committed by two distinct precepts, the prohibition of the internal desire, with mental consent to the same, doth also require two precepts.

God commanded to make Images.

Christ and Saints are honoured in their Images.

The first table containeth three precepts, the second seuen.

The first cannot wel be diuided

The ninth and tenth are as distinct, as the sixth and seuenth.

C H A P. XXI.

Judicial precepts concerning bondmen and bondwomen, 12. Manslaughter and striking: killing and cursing of parents. 23. The law of like paine for a hurt, 28. of an ox striking with his horne.

TH E S E are the (a) iudgements which thou shalt propose to them. 2. If thou buy an Hebrew seruant, six yeares shall he serue thee: in the seauenth he shall goe out free * gratis. 3. With what rayment he entred in, with the like let him goe out: if hauing a wife, his wife also shall goe out with him. 4. But if his Lord giue him a wife, and he beare sonnes & daughters, the woman and her children shall be her Lords; but himselfe shall goe out with his rayment. 5. And if the seruant say: I loue my Lord and wife & children, I wil not goe out free: 6. his Lord shall present him to (b) the Gods, and he shall be set to the dore and the postes, and he shall bore his eare through with an awle: and he shall be his bond man for euer. 7. If any man sel his daughter to be a seruant,

* Paying washing.

(a) Iudicial lawes doe instruct in particular, how to keep the commandments of the second table, pertaining to our neighbours.

(b) The Iudges authorized by God.

she shal not goe out, as bondwomen are wont to goe out. 8. If she mislike the eyes of her Master to whom she was deliuered, he shal dismis her: but he shal not haue authoritie to sel her vnto a strange people, if he despise her. 9. But if he despouse her to his sonne, he shal doe to her after the manner of daughters. 10. And if he take an other wife for him, he shal prouide her a mariage, and rayment, and the price of her chastitie he shal not denie. 11. If he doe not these three things, she shal goe out gratis without moaie. 12. He that striketh a man wilfully to kil him, dying let him die. 13. But he that did not lye in wait for him, but God deliuered him into his hands, I wil appoint thee a place wherunto he ought to fly. 14. If a man of set purpose kil his neighbour, and by lying in wait for him, thou shalt plucke him out from mine Altar, that he may die. 15. He that striketh his father or mother, dying let him die. 16. He that shal steale a man, and sel him, being conuicted of the trespeffe, dying let him die. 17. He that curseth his father, or mother, dying let him die. 18. If men fal at words, and the one strike his neighbour with a stone or with his fist, and he die not, but lye in his bed: 19. if he rise, and walke abroad vpon his stafe, he that did strike shal be quit, yet so that he make restitution for his worke, and for his expenses vpon the phisicians. 20. He that striketh his man or mayd-seruant with a rod, and they die in his hands, he shal be guiltie of the crime. 21. But if the partie remayne aliue a day or two, he shal not be subiect to punishment, because it is his money. 22. If certaine fal at words, and one strike a woman with chid, and she indeed abort, but her selfe liue; he shal be subiect to so much damage as the womans husband shal require, and as arbiters shal award. 23. But if her death doe ensue thereupon, he shal render life for life, 24. eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot, 25. adustiō for adustiō, wound for wound, stripe for stripe. 26. If any man strike the eye of his mā-seruāt or maid-seruāt, and leaue them but one eye, he shal make them free for the eye which he put out. 27. Also if he strike out a tooth of his man-seruant or mayd-seruant, he shal in like manner make them free. 28. If an oxe with his horne strike a man or a woman, and they die, he shal be stoned: and his flesh shal not be eaten, the owner also of the oxe shal be quit. 29. But if the oxe were wont to strike from yesterday and the day before, and they warned his Master, neither did he shut him vp, and he kil a man or a woman; both the oxe shal be stoned, & they shal put to death his owner also. 30. And if they set a price vpon him, he shal giue for his life whatsoever he is asked. 31. Also if with his horne he strike a sonne, or a daughter, he shal be subiect to the like sentence. 32. If he inuade a bondman or bondwoman, he shal giue thirtie sicles of siluer to their Master, but the oxe shal be stoned. 33. If a man open a cesterne, & dig one, & doe not couer it, and an oxe or an asse fal into it, 34. the owner of the cesterne shal pay the price of the beafts: and that which died shal be his owne. 35. If one mā's oxe gore an other mā's oxe, & he die, they shal sel the oxe that liucth,

liueth, and shal diuide the price, and the carcasse of that which died they shal part between them. 36. But if he knew that his ox was wont to strike from yesterday and the day before, and his Master did not keep him in, he shal render ox for ox, and shal take the carcasse whole.

C H A P. XXII.

The punishment of these 5. and other trespasses, 7. if a thing committed to custodie or lent doth perish. 16. of deflowring a virgin, 18. of inchanting, bestialitie, and idolatrie, 21. of hurting strangers, widowes, and orphanes. 25. The law of lending without vsurie, 26. of taking pledge, 28. of reuerence to superiours, and of paying tithes.

IF any man steale an ox or a sheep, and kil or sel it: he shal restore (a) fise oxen for one ox, and (a) foure sheep for one sheep. 2. If the theefe be found breaking vp the house or vndermining it, and taking a wound die; the striker shal not be guiltie of bloud. 3. But if he doe this when the sunne is risen, he hath committed manslaughter, and himself shal die. If he haue not wherwith to make restitution for the theft, himselfe shal be sold. 4. If that which he stole be found with him aliue, either ox, or asse, or sheep; he shal restore double. 5. If anie man hurt a field or a vineyard, and let goe his beast to feed vpon that which is other mens; the best of whatsoeuer he hath in his owne field, or in his vineyard, he shal restore, according to the estimation of the damage. 6. If fire breaking forth light vpon the thornes, and catch stackes of corne, or corne standing in the fieldes, he shal render the damage that kindled the fire. 7. If a man commit money, or a vessel vnto his freind to keep, & they be stolen away from him that receaued them; if the theefe be found, he shal restore double: 8. If the theefe be not knowen, the Master of the house shal be brought to (b) the Gods, and shal sweare that he did not extend his hand vpon his neighbours good, 9. to doe any fraud, as wel in ox as in asse, and sheep and rayment, and whatsoeuer may bring damage: the cause of both parties shal come to the Gods: and if they giue iudgement, he shal restore double to his neighbour. 10. If a man commit asse, ox, sheep, or any beast, to his neighbours custodie, and it die, or be hurt, or be taken of enemies, and no man saw; 11. there shal be an oath between them, that he did not put forth his hand to his neighbours good: and the owner shal admit the oath, and he shal not be compelled to make resti-

a) Where great faults are committed, punishment is inflicted according to the enormitie of the sinne, aboue the proportion of the iniurie. Theodore. q. 50. in Exod. Dent. 25. Mystically, He that taketh from the Church a daylie labourer in Gods field, sinneth more grieuously and deserueth more punishment, then he that taketh a private man of Christs flock. Rabanus. (b) Iudges called Gods for their eminent authoritie. Exo. 7. v. 1.

tution. 12. But if it were taken away by stelth, he shal restore the damage to the owner. 13. If it were eaten of a bealt, let him bring vnto him that which was slaine, and he shal not make restitution. 14. He that asketh of his neighbour to borow any of these things, and it be hurt or dead, the owner being not present, he shal be compelled to make restitution. 15. But if the owner be present, he shal not make restitution, especially if it were hired and came for the hire of the same. 16. If a man seduce a virgin being not yet despoused, and lie with her; he shal endow her, and haue her to wife. 17. If the virgins father wil not giue her, he shal giue money according to the manner of the dowrie, which virgins are wont to receaue. 18. Inchanters thou shalt not suffer to liue. 19. He that lieth with a brute beast, dying let him die. 20. He that sacrificeth to Gods, shal be put to death, but to the Lord only. 21. Thou shalt not molest a stranger, nor afflict him: (c) for your selues also were strangers in the Land of Egypt. 22. A widow and an orphan you shall not hurt. 23. If you hurt them, they wil crie out to me, and I wil heare their crie: 24. and my furie shal take indignation, and I wil strike you with the sword, and your wiues shal be widowes, and your children orphans. 25. If thou lend money to my people being poore, that dwelleth with thee, thou shalt not vrge them as an exactour, nor oppresse them with vsuries. 26. If thou take of thy neighbour a garmēt in pledge, thou shalt giue it him againe before sunne set. 27. For that same is the onlie thing wherwith he is couered, the clothing of his bodie, neither hath he other to sleep in: if he (d) crie to me, I wil heare him, because I am merciful. 28. Thou shalt not detract from (e) the Gods, and the Prince of thy people thou shalt not curse. 29. Thy tithes and thy first fruits thou shalt not slacke to pay, the first-borne of thy sōnes thou shalt giue me. 30. Of thy oxen also & sheep thou shalt doe in like manner: seuen dayes let it be with the damme, the eight day thou shalt render it to me. 31. Holie men you shal be to me: the flesh that beasts haue tasted of before, you shal not eate, but shal cast it to the dogs.

C H A P. XXIII.

Laves are appointed to Iudges (the enemies ox or asse to be saued) 8. namely not to take bribes. 10. The seuenth yeare and day al must rest. 14. Three principal feasts must be solemnized euerie yeare. 20. Conduccion and protection of an Angel is promised. 24. The people is againe commanded to destroy Iaals. 29. Why their enemies shal be destroyed by litle and litle.

How shalt not admit a lying voice: neither shalt thou ioyne thy hand to say false testimonie for a wicked person. 2. Thou shalt not folow the multitude to doe euil: neither shalt thou in iudgement agree to the sentence of the most part, to stray from the truth. 3. The (4) poore man also thou shalt

c) The law of nature requireth to doe to others as we would they should doe to vs. For which cause (besides others) God suffered his people to be strangers in Agypt, to moue them to compassion towards others in like case.

Rabanns.

d) Oppression of the poore crieth to God for reuenge.

e) Priests called Gods for their sacred function. See pag. 156.

4) Al vertues being founded in iustice cease not

not pitie iniudgement. 4. If thou meete thy enemies ox or asse going astray, bring it backe to him. 5. If thou see the asse of him that hateth thee lye vnderneath his burden, thou shalt not passe by, but shalt lift him vp with the same. 6. Thou shalt not decline the poore mans iudgement. 7. A lye thou shalt auoid. The innocent and iust person thou shalt not put to death: because I abhorre the impious man. 8. Neither shalt thou take bribes, which doe blind also the wise, and peruert the wordes of the iust. 9. The stranger thou shalt not molest, for you know the harts of strangers: because your selues also were strangers in the Land of Ægypt. 10. Six yeares thou shalt sow thy ground, and shalt gather the corne therof. 11. But the seuenth year thou shalt let it alone, and make it to rest, that the poore of thy people may eat, and whatsoever shal be left, let the beasts of the field eat it: so shalt thou doe in thy vineyard and thy oliuete. 12. Six dayes thou shalt worke: the seuenth day thou shalt cease, that thy ox may rest and thine asse: and the sonne of thy handmaid may be refreshed, and the stranger. 13. Keep al things that I haue said to you. And by the name of foren Gods you shal not sweare, neither shal it be heard out of your mouth. 14. Three times euerie yeare you shal celebrate feasts to me. 15. Thou shalt keep (a) the solemnitie of Azymes. Seuen dayes shalt thou eat azymes, as I commanded thee, in time of the month of new corne, when thou didst come forth out of Ægypt: thou shal not appeare in my sight empty. 16. And the solemnitie of the haruest (c) of the first fruits of thy worke, whatsoever thou didst sow in the field. The solemnitie also in the end of the yeare, (d) when thou hast gathered al thy corne out of the field. 17. Thrise a yeare shal al thy male sexe appeare before the Lord thy God. 18. Thou shalt not sacrifice the bloud of my victime vpon leauen, neither shal the fat of my solemnitie remaine vntil the morning. 19. The first fruits of the corne of thy ground thou shalt carrie into the house of the Lord thy God. Thou shalt not boyle a kid in the milke of his damme. 20. Behold I wil send myne Angel, which shal goe before thee, and keep thee in thy iourney, and bring thee into the place that I haue prepared. 21. Obserue him, and heare his voice, neither doe thou thinke him one to be contemned: for he wil not forgiue when thou hast sinned, and my name is in him. 22. But if thou wilt heare his voice, and doe al that I speake, I wil beemie to thine enemies, & wil afflict them that afflict thee. 23. And myne Angel shal goe before thee, and shal bring thee in vnto the Amorrhite, and Hethite, & Pherezeite, and Chananeite, and Heueite, & Iebuzeite, whom I wil destroy. 24. Thou shalt not adore their Gods, nor serue them. Thou shalt not doe their workes, but shalt destroy them, and breake their statues. 25. And you shal serue the Lord your God, that I may blesse your bread & waters, and may take away infirmitie from the middes of thee. 26. There shal not be a fruitlesse nor barren bodie in thy land: I wil fill the number of thy dayes. 27. I wil send my terrour to runne before thee, to be true vertues, when iustice is not first obserued. S. Hierom. in Psal. 52. et in Prou. 21.

Three principal feasts besides the Sabbath, & some others.

(b) Pasch in memorie of their deliuerie from Ægypt.

(c) Pentecost, when they receiued the Law.

(d) Tabernacles in memorie of Gods protection fourtie yeares in the desert.

and wil kil al people, to whom thou shalt enter : and wil turne the backes of al thyne enemies before thee : 28. sending forth hornets before , that shal chase away the Heueite , and Chananeite , & Hethcite , before thou enter. 29. I wil not cast them out from thy face in one yeare : lest the land be brought into a wilder nesse , and beasts encrease against thee. 30. By litle and litle I wil expel them from thy sight , til thou be increased , and dost possesse the Land. 31. And I wil set thy bounds from the Red sea vnto the sea of the Palestines , and from the desert vnto the riuer : I wil deliuer the inhabitantes of the Land in your hands , and wil cast them out from your sight. 32. Thou shalt (e) not enter league with them, nor with their Gods. 33. Let them not dwel in thy land , lest perhaps they make thee to sinne against me , if thou serue their Gods : which vndoubtedly wil be a scandal to thee.

e) Peace with infidels forbidden to Gods people.

C H A P. XXIII.

Moyse with others are commanded to ascend, he to the Lord, the rest a farre off. 4. They offer sacrifice. 8. Moyse sprinkleth the blood of the Testament vpon the people. 15. Then ascending to the mountaine, God couereth it with a fire cloud.

O Moyse also he said : Goe vp to the Lord , thou , and Aaron , Nadab and Abiu, and seuentie Ancients of Israel, and you shal adore a farre off. 2. And Moyse onlie shal ascend to the Lord , and they shal not approach : neither that the people ascend with him. 3. Moyse therefore came and told the people al the words of our Lord, & the iudgements : and al the people answered with one voice : Al the words of our Lord , which he hath spoken, we wil doe. 4. And Moyse wrote al the words of our Lord : and rising in the morning he (a) builded an Altar at the foot of the mount, & twelue titles according the twelue tribes of Israel. 5. And he sent yong men of the children of Israel, & they offered holocausts, & sacrificed pacifike victimes to our Lord , calues. 6. Moyse therefore tooke the halfe part of the blood , and put it into bowles : and the residue he poured vpon the Altar. 7. And taking the volume of the couenant, he read the people hearing it : Who said, Al things that our Lord hath spoken, we wil doe , and we wil be obedient. 8. And he tooke the blood , and (b) sprinkled it vpon the people , and said : " This is the blood of the Couenant which our Lord hath made with you vpon al these words. 9. And there went vp Moyse and Aaron , Nadab and Abiu , and seuentie of the Ancients of Israel : 10. and they saw the God of Israel : and vnder his feet as it were a worke of sapphir stone, and as the heauen, when it is cleere. 11. Neither did he set his hand vpon those

a) As when Moyse had brought the Israclites from bondage, and receiued the law for them he built an Altar for Sacrifice : so Christ hauing redeemed vs, and giuen vs a Law, for application of the fruit therof Altars are erected, & Sacrifice offered.
b) This was done corporally to the Iewes. In Christians Christs blood of the children of Israel, that retired farre off, and they saw God, and did eate, and drinke. 12. And our Lord said to Moyfes: Come vp to me into the mount, and be there: and I wil giue thee tables of itone, and the law, and the commandements which I haue written: that thou maist teach them. 13. Moyfes rose vp, and his Minister Iosue: and Moyfes ascending into the mount of God, 14. said to the Ancients: Expect here til we returne to you, you haue Aaron and Hur with you: If anie question shal rise, you shal referre it to them. 15. And when Moyfes was ascended, a cloud couered the mount, 16. and the glorie of our Lord dwelt vpon Sinai, couering it with a cloud six dayes, and the seuenth day he called him out of the middes of the darkenesse. 17. And the forme of the glorie of our Lord, was as it were fire burning vpon the top of the mount, in the sight of the children of Israel. 18. And Moyfes entring into the middes of the cloud, ascended into the mount: and he was there fourtie dayes and fourtie nights.

applied by Sacrifice and Sacraments san-ctified their soules. Heb 9.
The lesson in Masse on Im-ber wednesday in Lent

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. XXIII.

8. This is the blood of the conemant.] Our Sauour in the institution of the Eucharist, by vsing the same words, applying them to himselfe, This is my blood of the new Testament, signifieth that he fulfilled this figure at his last supper. Which proueth both a Sacrifice of blood then offered by him, as this blood of the old Testament was already shed, when Moyfes pronounced those words; and the real presence of Christs blood. For els, if it were but wine, it were not better in substance then the figure, which was real blood. Isychius. li. 1. c. 4. in Lent.

A figure of Christs blood in the B. Sacrament.

C H A P. XXV.

Oblations of first fruits, and free-guifts for making the Tabernacle, and things pertyning therto. 10. The Arke. 17. The Propitiatorie, and Cherubims. 23. A table, and thereon the Loanes of proposition. 31. A candlestick, 37. and seven lamps, with snuffers of gold.

AND our Lord spake to Moyfes, saying: 2. Speake to the children of Israel, that they take first fruits for me, of euerie man that offereth of his owne accord, you shal take them. 3. And these are the things which you must take: (a) Gold, and siluer, and brasse, 4. hyacinth and purple, and scarlet twice died, and silke, and the haire of goats, &c. and

a) As the Israelites were prompt to offer these external things in the old law, so Christians must offer the like for Gods seruice: but specially al sorts of ver-tues, Faith, hope, charitie, penance, deuotion, prayer,

almes, fasting,
&c.

(b) If Images were vnlawful, God would not haue commanded to make Chera-bims. cō. Nic. 2.

(c) For the perpetual vse and sanctitie of these loaves, which none might eate but such as were pure (1. Reg.
21.) they prefigured the holie Eucharist. S. Hier. in Tit. 1. S. Damascen de ortho.
li. 4. c. 14. S.
Cyri. cashec. 4.
And consequently Christ is really present in the B.
Sacrament.
For if there were bread in substance, it should not excel the figure, which is required in euerie thing prefigu-
red. Collof. 2.

rammes skinned red, and ianthin skinned, and the wood setim: 6. oyle to make lights: spices for oyntement, and for incense of good fauour: 7. Onyx stones, and pretious stones to adorne the ephod, and rationale. 8. And they shall make me a sanctuarie, and I wil dwell in the middes of the: 9. according to al the similitude of the tabernacle which I wil shew thee, & of al the vessel to the seruice therof: and thus you shall make it: 10. Frame an arke of the wood setim, the length wherof shall haue two cubites & an halfe: the bredth, a cubite & an halfe: the hight, likewise a cubite & an halfe. 11. And thou shalt plate it with most pure gold within and without: and ouer it thou shalt make a golden crowne round about: 12. & foure golden rings, which thou shalt put at the foure corners of the arke: let two rings be on the one side, & two on the other. 13. Thou shalt make barres also of the wood setim, & shalt couer them with gold. 14. And thou shalt put them in through the rings that are in the sides of the arke, that it may be caried on them: 15. the which shall be alwayes in the rings, neither shall they at anie time be drawn out of the. 16. And thou shalt put in the arke the testification which I wil giue thee. 17. Thou shalt make a Propitiatorie of most pure gold: the length therof shall hold two cubites and an halfe, and the bredth a cubite & an halfe. 18. Two (b) Cherubims also thou shalt make of beaten gold, on both sides of the oracle. 19. Let one Cherub be on the one side, and the other on the other. 20. Let them couer both sides of the Propitiatorie spreading their wings, and couering the oracle, and let them looke one towards the other, their faces turned vnto the Propitiatorie wherwith the arke is to be couered, 21. wherein thou shalt put the testimony that I wil giue thee. 22. Thence wil I command, and wil speake to thee ouer the propitiatorie & from the middes of the two Cherubims which shall be vpon the arke of testimonie, al things which I wil command the children of Israel by thee. 23. Thou shalt make a table also of the wood setim, hauing two cubites in length, and in bredth a cubite, & in hight a cubite and an halfe. 24. And thou shalt plate it with most pure gold: and thou shalt make to it a golden ledge round about, 25. and to the ledge it-self a crowne enterpolished, foure fingers high: and vpon the same, an other golden crowne. 26. Thou shalt prepare also foure golden rings, and shalt put them in the foure corners of the same table at euerie foot. 27. Vnder the crowne shall the golden rings be, that the barres may be put through them, and the table may be carried. 28. The barres also themselues thou shalt make of the wood setim, & shalt compass them with gold to beare vp the table. 29. Thou shalt prepare also sawcers, and phials, censers, & goblets, wherein the libaments are to be offered, of most pure gold. 30. And thou shalt set vpon the table (c) loaves of proposition in my sight alwayes. 31. Thou shalt make also a candlestick beaten of most pure gold, the shaft thereof, & branches, cups, and boules, and lilies proceeding from the same. 32. Six branches shall goe forth of the sides, three out of one side, and three out of the other. 33. Three cups as it were in manner of a nut on euerie branch, and a boule withal, and a lillie: and three-cups likewise of the fashion of a nut in an other branch, and a boule withal, and a lillie. This shal be the worke of the six branches, that are to be drawen forth from the shaft: 34. and in the candlesticke it-selfe shal be foure cups in manner of a nut, and at euerie one boules and lillies. 35. Boules vnder two brāches in three places, which together make six comming forth out of one shaft. 36. Both the boules therfore and the branches shal be out of it, al the whole beaten of most pure gold. 37. Thou shalt make also seuen lamps, and shalt set them vpon the candlesticke, for to giue light ouer-against. 38. The snuffers also and where the snuffings shal be put out, let them be made of most pure gold. 39. The whole weight of the candlesticke with al the furniture therof shal haue a talent of most pure gold. 40. Looke, and make it according to the paterne, that was shewed thee in the mount.

C H A P. X X V I.

The forme of the Tabernacle, with the appertinances, and of what matter, number, and qualiti. s. al things shal be.

AND the tabernacle thou shalt make thus: Ten curtines shalt thou make of twisted silke, and hyacinth, and purple, and scarlet twice died, varied with imbroidered worke. 2. The length of one curtine shal haue twentie eight cubites: the bredth shal be of foure cubites. Al the curtines shal be of one measure. 3. Fiue curtines shal be (a)ioyned one to an other, & the other fiue shal hang together with the connexion. 4. Loupes of hyacinth thou shalt make in the sides & tops of the curtines, that they may be compled one to another. 5. Fiftie loupes shal euerie curtine haue on both sides, so set on, that one loupe may be against another loupe, and one may be fitted to the other. 6. Thou shalt make also fiftie circles of gold wherwith the veiles of the curtines are to be ioyned, that it may be made one tabernacle. 7. Thou shalt make also eleuen curtines of haire, to couer the top of the tabernacle. 8. The length of one haire curtine shal haue thirtie cubites: and the bredth, foure: the measure of al the curtines shal be equal. 9. Of the which, fiue thou shalt ioyne apart, and the six thou shalt couple one to an other, so that the sixt curtine in the front of the roote thou shalt double. 10. Thou shalt make also fiftie loupes in the edge of one curtine, that it may be ioyned with the other: and fiftie loupes in the edge of the other curtine, that it may be compled with his fellow. 11. Thou shalt make also fiftie buckles of brasse, wherwith the loupes may be ioyned, that of al there may be made one couering. 12. And that which shal remaine in the curtines, that are prepared for the rooffe, to wit, one curtine that is ouerplus, with the halfe therof thou shalt couer the backside of the tabernacle. 13. And there shal hang downe a cubite on the one side, and another on the other side, which is the ouerplus in the length of the curtines, fensing both sides of the tabernacle. 14. Thou shalt make also another couer to the rooffe of rammes skinned red: & ouer that againe another couer of ianthine skins. 15. Thou shalt make also the bordes of the tabernacle standing vpright of the wood setim, 16. of the which let euerie one haue ten cubites in length, and in bredth one and a halfe a-piece. 17. In the sides of the borde, shal be made two mortises, wherby one borde may be ioyned to another borde: and after this manner shal al the bordes be prepared. 18. Of the which twentie shal be in the south side that tendeth Southward. 19. For the which thou shalt cast fourtie feet of siluer, that there may two feet be put vnder euerie borde at the two corners. 20. In the second side also of the tabernacle that looketh to the North, there shal be twentie bordes, 21. hauing fourtie feete of siluer, two feete shal be put vnder euerie borde. 22. But on the west quarter of the tabernacle thou shalt make six bordes, 23. and againe other two which shal be erected in the corners at the backe of the tabernacle. 24. And they shal be ioyned together from beneath vnto the top, & one ioynture shal hold them al. The like ioynture shal be kept for the two bordes also that are to be put in the corners. 25. And they shal be in al eight bordes, their siluer feet sixteen, two feet accounted for euerie borde. 26. Thou shalt make also five barres of the wood setim, to hold together the bordes on the one side of the tabernacle, 27. and five others on the other side, & as manie at the west side: 28. which shal be put along by the middes of the bordes from one end to the other. 29. The bordes also themselues thou shalt plate with gold, & shalt cast rings of gold to be set vpon them, through which the barres may hold together the bordeworke: the which thou shalt couer with plates of gold. 30. And thou shalt erect the tabernacle according to the paterne that was shewed thee in the Mount. 31. Thou shalt make also a veile of hyacinth, and purple, and scarlet twice died, and twilted silke, wrought with imbrodered worke & goodlie varietie: 32. which thou shalt hang before foure pillars of the wood setim, the which themselues also shal be plated with gold, & shal haue foure heads of gold, but feet of siluer. 33. And the veile shal be hanged on with rings, within the which thou shalt put the arke of testimonie, with the which also the Sanctuarie, and the sanctuaries of the Sanctuarie, shal be diuided. 34. Thou shalt set also the Propitiatorie vpon the arke of testimonie in the (b) Sancta sanctorum: 35. and the table without the veile: and ouer-against the table the candlesticke in the south side of the tabernacle: for the table shal stand in the north side. 36. Thou shalt make also a hanging in the entring of the tabernacle of hyacinth, and purple, and scarlet twice died, and twilted like,

(a) Christs members by their vnion & communitie assist each other, and adorne his tabernacle, the Church.

(b) The chiefest part of the Tabernacle, called Sancta sanctorum Holie of holies.

silke with imbrodered worke. 37. And five pillars of the wood setim thou shalt plate with gold, before the which the hanging shall be drawn: whose heades shall be of gold, and feet of brasse.

C H A P. XXVII.

An Altar must be made with things belonging thereto. 9. Also the court of the tabernacle with hangings and pillars. 20. And prouision of oyle for lampes.

How shalt make also an Altar of the wood setim, which shall haue five cubites in length, and as manie in bredth, that is, foure-square, and three cubites in hight. 2. And there shall be at the foure corners hornes of the same: and thou shalt couer it with brasse. 3. And thou shalt make for the vses therof pannes for to take the ashes, and tongues, and flesh-hooks, and fire pannes. al the vessel thou shalt make of brasse. 4. And a grate in manner of a net of brasse: at the foure corners wherof shall be foure rings of brasse, 5. which thou shalt put vnder the hearth of the Altar: and the grates shall be vnto the middes of the Altar. 6. Thou shalt make also two barres for the Altar of the wood setim, which thou shalt couer with plates of brasse: 7. and thou shalt draw them through rings, & they shall be on both sides of the Altar to carrie it. 8. Not massie, but emptie & hollow in the inside shalt thou make it, as it was shewed thee in the Mount. 9. Thou shalt make also the court of the tabernacle, in the south part wherof against the south there shall be hangings of twisted silke: one side shall hold in length an hundred cubites. 10. And twentie pillers with as manie feete of brasse, which shall haue heades with their engrauiings of siluer. 11. In like manner also on the north side there shall be in length hangings of an hundred cubites, twentie pillers, and feete of brasse as manie, and their heades with their engrauiings of siluer. 12. But in the bredth of the court, that looketh to the west, there shall be hangings of fiftie cubites, and ten pillars, and as manie feete. 13. In that bredth also of the court, which looketh to the east, there shall be fiftie cubites. 14. in the which there shall be deputed to one side hangings of fifteen cubites, and three pillars and as manie feete: 15. and in the other side there shall be hangings conteyning fifteen cubites, three pillers, and as manie feete. 16. And in the entring of the court there shall be made an hanging of twentie cubites of hyacinth and purple, and scarlet twice died, and twisted silke, with embrodered worke: it shall haue foure pillers, with as manie feete. 17. Al the pillers of the court round about shall be garnished with plates of siluer, siluer heades, and feete of brasse. 18. In length the court shall occupie and hundred cubites, in bredth fiftie, the hight shal be of five cubites, and it shal be made of twisted silke, and shal haue feete of brasse. 19. Al the vessel of the tabernacle for al vses and ceremonies, the pinnes as wel of it as of the court, thou shalt make of brasse. 20. Command the children of Israel that they bring thee oyle of the oliue-trees the purest, and beaten with a pestil: that a lampe may burne (c) alwayes 21. in the tabernacle of the testimonie, without the veile that is drawn before the testimonie. And Aaron and his sonnes shal place it, that it may giue light before the Lord vntil the morning. 22. It shal be a perpetual obseruance throughout their successions before the children of Israel.

(c) God would not haue darknes in this tabernacle by day nor night, signifying that his people ought alwayes to shine in good workes. S. Beda li. 3 c. 1. de tabernac.

C H A P. XXVIII.

God commandeth Moyses to make diuers sorts of vestures for Aaron and his sonnes, prescribing the matter, manner, and ornaments therof.

(a) Vocation necessarie to spiritual function. Heb. 5.

AR E vnto thee also Aaron thy brother with his sonnes, from among the children of Israel (a) that they may doe the function of priesthoode vnto me: Aaron, Nadab, and Abiu, Eleazar, and Ithamar. 2. And thou shalt make an holic vesture to Aaron thy brother for glorie and beautie. 3. And thou shalt speake to al the wise of hart, whom I haue replenished with the spirit of wisdom, that they make Aarons vestures, wherin he being sanctified may minister to me. 4. And (b) these shal be the vestements that they shal make: Rationale and an Ephod, a tunique and a strait linnen garment, a mitre and a girdle. They shal make the holic vestements for thy brother Aaron and his sonnes, that they may doe the function of priesthoode vnto me. 5. And they shal take gold, and hyacinth, and purple, and scarlet twice died, and silke. 6. And they shal make the Ephod of gold and hyacinth and purple, and scarlet twice died, and twisted silke, embrodered with diuers colours. 7. It shal haue two edges ioyned in the top on both sides, that they may be closed together. 8. The verie workemanship also and al the varietie of the wotke shal be of gold and hyacinth, and purple, and scarlet twice died, and twisted silke. 9. And thou shalt take two Onyx stones, and shalt graue in them the names of the children of Israel: 10. six names in one stone, and the other six in the other, according to the order of their natiuitie. 11. After the worke of a grauer and the grauing of a lapidarie, thou shalt graue them with the names of the children of Israel, set in gold and compassed about: 12. and thou shalt put them in both sides the Ephod, a memorial for the children of Israel. And Aaron shal beare their names before the Lord vpon both shoulders, for a remembrance. 13.

(b) These vestments signifie that Bishops and Priests must haue special vertues, discretion, puritie of life, sincere intention, contemplation of God, supportation of the peoples infirmitie, sollicitude of their good, exemplar life, sound doctrine, and band of vnion. S. Hiero. ad Fabiol. de vestim. Sacerdotum, 16. 3.

Thou

Thou shalt make also hooks of gold, 14. and two litle cheynes of most pure gold linked one to an other, which thou shalt put into the hookes. 15. The Rationale of iudgement also thou shalt make with embroidered worke of diuers colours, according to the workmanship of the Ephod of gold, hyacinth, and purple, and scarlet twice died, and twisted silke. 16. It shal be foure square and double: it shal haue the measure of a palme as wel in length as in brcdth. 17. And thou shalt set in it foure rewes of stones: In the first rew shal be the stone sardius, and topazius, and the emeraud: 18. in the second the carbuncle, the sapphire, & the iasper: 19. in the third a ligurius, an achates, an amethyft: 20. in the fourth a chrysolith, an onyx, and beryllus. they shal be set in gold by their rewes. 21. And they shal haue the names of the children of Israel: with twelue names shal they be grauen, euerie stone with the names of euerie one according to the twelue tribes. 22. Thou shalt make in the Rationale cheynes linked one to an other of the purest gold: 23. and two rings of gold, which thou shalt put in both the tops of the Rationale: 24. and the golden cheynes thou walt ioyne to the rings, that are in the edges therof: 25. and the ends of the chaynes themselues thou shalt couple with two hooks on both sides of the Ephod, which is toward the Rationale. 26. Thou shalt make also two rings of gold which thou shalt put in the tops of the Rationale, in the brimmes, that are ouer against the Ephod, & looke toward the backe parts therof. 27. Moreouer also other two rings of gold, which are to be set on both sides of the Ephod beneath, that looketh toward the nether ioyning, that the Rationale may be fitted with the Ephod, 28. and may be fastned by the rings therof vnto the rings of the Ephod with a lace of hyacinth, that the ioyning artificially wrought may continue, & the Rationale & Ephod may not be separated one frō the other. 29. And Aaron shal beare the names of the children of Israel in the Rationale of iudgement vpon his brest, when he shal enter into the Sanctuarie, a memorial before the Lord for euer. 30. And thou shalt put in the Rationale of iudgement (c) Doctrine, and Veritie, which shal be on Aarons brest, when he shal goe in before the Lord: and he shal beare the iudgement of the children of Israel on his brest, in the sight of the Lord alwayes. 31. And thou shalt make the tunicke of the Ephod al of hyacinth, 32. in the middes wherof aboute shal be a hole for the head, and a border round about it wouen, as is wont to be made in the vtmost parts of garments, that it may not easily be broken. 33. And beneath at the feete of the same tunicke, round about, thou shalt make as it were pomegranates, of hyacinth, and purple, and scarlet twice died, litle belles interposed between, 34. so that there be a bel of gold and a pomegranate; and againe an other bel of gold & a pomegranate. 35. And Aaron shal be vested with it in the office of his ministerie, that the sound may be heard, whē he goeth in & cōmeth out of the Sāctuarie, in the sight of the Lord, & that he die not. 36. Thou shalt make also a plate of the purest gold: wherin thou shalt graue after the worke of a grauer, Holie to the Lord. 37. And thou shalt tie it with a lace of hyacinth, and it shal be vpon the mitre, 38. hanging ouer the forehead of the High-Priest. And Aaron shal carie the iniquities of those things, which the children of Israel haue offered and sanctified, in al their giufts and donaries. And the plate shal be alwayes in his forehead, that the Lord may be wel pleased with them. 39. And thou shalt gird the tunike with silke, and thou shalt make a silken mitre, and a bawdrike of embrodered worke. 40. Moreouer for the sonnes of Aaron thou shalt prepare linnen tunikes, and bawdrikes, and mitres for glorie and beautie: 41. And with al these things thou shalt vest Aaron thy brother, and his sonnes with him. And thou shalt consecrate the hands of them al, and shalt sanctifie them, that they may doe the function of priesthood vnto me. 42. Thou shalt make also linnen breeches, to couer the flesh of their turpitude frō the reynes vnto the thighs: 43. and Aaron and his sonnes shal vse them when they shal enter into the tabernacle of testimonie, or when they approach to the Altar to minister in the Sanctuarie, lest guiltie of iniquitie they die. It shal be a law for euer to Aaron and to his seed after him.

(c) Knowledge of the cause, and sincere proceeding therein, are the two keyes of right iudgement.

C H A P. XXIX.

The manner of consecrating Aaron and other Priests: with burnt offerings, 26. and pacifikes, wherof Aaron and his sonnes shal participate. 38. The institution of the daylie Sacrifice of two lambes, one in the morning, the other at euen.

(a) Special preparation before Bishops and Priests be consecrated.

(b) The first preparation in the partie to be consecrated is cleansing from sinne: then to be adorned with the vertues aboue mentioned. Exod. 8.v. 4.

BV T this also shalt thou doe, (a) that they may be consecrated to me in priesthood. Take a calfe from the heard, and two rammes without spot, 2. and vnleauened bread, and a cake without leauen, tempered with oile, wafers also vnleauened anoynted with oile: of wheaten flowre thou shalt make al. 3. And: being put in a basket thou shalt offer them: and the calfe and the two rammes. 4. And thou shalt bring Aaron and his sonnes to the doore of the tabernacle of testimonie: And (b) when thou hast washed the father with his sonnes in water, 5. thou shalt vest Aaron with his vestements, that is, with the linnen garment and the tunicke, and the Ephod and the Rationale, which thou shalt gird with the bawdrike. 6. And thou shalt put the mitre vpon his head, and the holie plate vpon the mitre, 7. and thou shalt powre the oile of vnction vpon his head: and by this rite shal he be consecrated. 8. His sonnes also thou shalt bring, and shalt inuest them with the linnen tunicks, and gird them with a bawdrike, 9. to wit, Aaron and his children, and thou shalt put mitres vpon them: and they shal be Priestes to me by a perpetual religion. After that thou shalt haue consecrated their hands, 10. thou shalt present also the calfe before the tabernacle of testimonie. And Aaron and his sonnes shal lay their hands vpon his head, 11. and thou shalt kil him in the sight of the Lord, beside the doore of the tabernacle of testimonie. 12. And that which thou takest of the blood of the calfe, thou shalt put vpon the hornes of the Altar with thy finger, and the rest of the blood thou shalt powre at the botome therof. 13. Thou shalt take also the whole fat that couereth the entrailes, and the caule of the liuer, and the two kidneys, and the fat that is vpon them, and shalt offer a burnt sacrifice vpon the Altar: 14. but the flesh of the calfe and the hide and the dung, thou shalt burne abroad without the campe, because it is for sinne. 15. Thou shalt take also one ramme, vpon the head wherof Aaron and his sonnes shal lay their hands. 16. Which when thou hast killed, thou shalt take of the blood therof, and powre round about the Altar. 17. And the ramme it-selfe thou shalt cut into pieces, and his entrailles and fecte being washed, thou shalt put vpon the flesh cut in pieces, and vpon his head. 18. And thou shalt offer the whole ramme for a burnt sacrifice vpon the Altar: it is an oblation to the Lord, a most sweet fauour of the victime of the Lord. 19. Thou shalt take also the other ramme, vpon whose head Aaron and his sonnes shal lay their hands. 20. Which when thou hast immolated, thou shalt take of his blood, and put vpon the tip of the right eare of Aaron and of his sonnes, and vpon the thumbs and great toes of their right hand and foot, and thou shalt powre the blood vpon the Altar round about. 21. And when thou hast taken of the blood that is vpon the Altar, and of the oile of vnction, thou shalt sprinkle Aaron and his vesture, his sonnes and their vestments. And after they and their vestments are consecrated, 22. thou shalt take the fat of the ramme, and the tayle and the talow, that couereth the lungs, and the caule of the liuer, and the two kidneies, and the fat, that is vpon them, and the right shoulder, because it is the ramme of consecration: 23. and a piece of one loafe, a cake tempered with oile, a wafer out of the basket of azymes, which is set in the sight of the Lord: 24. and thou shalt put al vpon the hands of Aaron and of his sonnes, and shalt sanctifie them eleuating before the Lord. 25. And thou shalt take al from their hands: and shalt burne them vpon the Altar for an holocaust, a most sweet fauour in the sight of the Lord, because it is his oblation. 26. Thou shalt take also the brest of the ramme, wherwith Aaron was consecrated, and eleuating it thou shalt sanctifie it before the Lord, and it shal fal to thy part. 27. And thou shalt sanctifie both the consecrated brest, and the shoulder that thou didst separate of the ramme, 28. wherwith Aaron was consecrated and his sonnes, and they shal fal to Aarons part and his sonnes by a perpetual right from the children of Israel: because they are the primitiues and beginnings of their pacifike victimes which they offer to the Lord. 29. And the holie vesture, which Aaron shal vse, his sonnes shal haue after him, that they may be anoynted, and their hands consecrated in it. 30. He of his sonnes that shal be appoynted High-Priest in his stead, and that shal enter into the tabernacle of testimonie to minister in the Sanctuarie, shal weare it seuen dayes. 31. And thou shalt take the ramme of the consecration, & shalt boyle the flesh therof in a holie place; 32. which Aaron shal eat and his sonnes. The loaves also, that are in the basket, they shal eat in the entrie of the tabernacle of testimonie, 33. that it may be a placable sacrifice, & the hands of the offerers may be sanctified. A stranger shal not eat of the, because they are holie. 34. And if there remaine of the consecrated flesh, or of the bread til the morning, thou shalt burne the remaynes with fire: they shal not be eaten, because they are sanctified. 35. Al that I haue commanded thee thou shalt doe vpon Aaron and his sonnes. Seuen dayes shalt thou consecrate their hands: 36. & thou shalt offer a calfe for sinne euerie day for expiation. And thou shalt cleanse the Altar when thou hast offered the hoste of expiation, and shalt anoynt it vnto sanctification. 37. Seuen dayes shalt thou expiate the altar and sanctifie it, and it shal be most Holie, euerie one, that shal touch it, shal be sanctified.

38. This is it which thou shalt doe vpon the Altar: Two lambes of a yeare old (c) euerie day continually, 39. one lambe in the morning, and an other at euen, 40. the tenth part of flowre tempered with oile beaten, which shal haue in measure the fourth part of an hin, and wine for libation of the same measure to one lambe. 41. And the other lambe thou shalt offer at euen, according to the rite of the morning oblation, and according to that which we haue said, for a fauour of sweetnesse: 42. it is a sacrifice to the Lord, by perpetual oblation vnto your generations, at the doore of the tabernacle of testimonie before the Lord, where I wil appoint to speake vnto thee. 43. And there wil I command the children of Israel, and the Altar shal be sanctified in my glorie. 44. I wil sanctifie also the tabernacle of testimonie with the Altar, & Aarō with his sonnes, to doe the function of priesthood vnto me. 45. And I wil dwel in the middes of the children of Israel. & wil be their God, 46. & they shal know that I am the Lord their God, that haue brought them out of the Land of Ægypt, that I might abide among them, I the Lord their God.

(c) Diuers things were offered at diuers times, and al signified Christs Sacrifice in his Church. S. Aug. li. 1. c. 18. cont. aduers. leg. & Prophet, yet none daylie but a lambe: more particularly signifying the daylie offering of the lambe of God, and perpetual effect therof. Origen. in Ioan. 1.

C H A P. XXX.

How, and of what matter, the Altar of incense shal be made: 12. VVhat money shal be gathered for the vse of the Tabernacle. 18. A brazen lauer is also to be made, 25. and holie oile of vnction.

HOV shalt make also an Altar to burne incense, of the wood setim, 2. hauing a cubite of length, and an other of bredth, that is, foure square, and two cubits in hight. The hornes shal proceed out of the same. 3. And thou shalt plate it with the purest gold, as wel the grate therof, as the walles round about, and the hornes. And thou shalt make to it a crowne of gold round about, 4. and two golden rings vnder the crowne on either side, that the barres may be put into them, and the Altar may be caried. 5. The barres also themselues thou shalt make of the wood setim, and shalt plate them with gold. 6. And thou shalt set the Altar against the veile, that hangeth before the arke of testimonie before the propitiatorie wherwith the testimonie is couered, where I wil speake to thee. 7. And Aaron shal burne incense vpon it, sweetly fragrant, in the morning. When he shal dresse the lampes, he shal burne it: 8. and when he shal place them at euening, he shal burne incense euerlasting before the Lord through your generations. 9. You shal not offer vpon it incense of an other composition, nor oblation, and victime, neither shal you offer libaments. 10. And Aaron shal pray vpon the hornes therof once a yeare, with the blood of that which was offered for sinne, & shal pacifie upon it in your generations. It shal be most Holie to the Lord. 11. And our Lord spake to Moyses, saying: 12. When thou shalt take the summe of the children of Israel according to their number, euerie one of them shal giue a price for their soules to the Lord, & there shal be no scourge among them, when they shal be reckned. 13. And this shal euerie one giue that passeth to the naming, (a) halfe a sicle according to the measure of the temple. A sicle hath twentie (b) oboles. The halfe part of a sicle shal be offered to the Lord. 14. He that is accounted in the number, for twentie yeares and vpward, shal giue price. 15. The rich man shal not adde to halfe a sicle, & the poore mā shal diminish nothing. 16. And the money being receiued, which was contributed of the children of Israel, thou shalt deliuer vnto the vses of the tabernacle of testimonie, that it may be a monumēt of them before the Lord, & he may be propitious to their soules. 17. And our Lord spake to Moyses, saying: 18. Thou shalt make also a lauer with his foot of brasie, to wash in: and thou shalt set it between the tabernacle of the testimonie and the Altar.

(a) That is, 7.
d ob. English.
For a sicle of the Sanctuarie is about 15. d.
(b) Obolus, 3.
farthings.

And water being put into it, 19. Aaron and his sonnes shal wash therein their hands and feete, 20. when they are going into the tabernacle of testimonie, and when they are to come vnto the Altar, to offer on it incense to the Lord, 21. lest perhaps they die. it shal be an euerlasting law to him, and to his seed by succession. 22. And our Lord spake to Moyles, 23. saying: Take spices, of principal and chosen myrrh five hundred sicles, and of cinnamon halfe so much, that is, two hundred fiftie sicles, of calamus in like manner two hundred fiftie, 24. and of casia five hundred sicles after the weight of the Sanctuarie, of oile of oliues the measure him: 25. and thou shalt make the holie oile of vnction, an ointment compounded by the art of an vnguentarie, 26. and therof thou shalt anoynt the tabernacle of testimonie, and the arke of the testament, 27. and the table with the vessel therof, the candlesticke, and the furniture therof, the Altars of incense, 28. and of holocaust, and al the furniture that perteyneth to the seruice of them. 29. And thou shalt sanctifie al, and they shal be most Holie: he that shal, touch them, shal be sanctified. 30. Thou shalt anoynt Aaron and his sonnes, and shalt sanctifie them, that they may doe the function of priesthood vnto me. 31. To the children of Israel also thou shalt say: This oile of vnction shal be holie vnto me through your generations. 32. The flesh of man shal not be anoynted therewith, and you shal make none other after the composition of it, because it is sanctified, and shal be holie vnto you. 33. What man soeuer shal compound such, and shal giue therof to a stranger, shal be abandoned out of his people. 34. And our Lord said to Moyles: Take vnto thee spices. stactee, and onycha, galbanum of sweet fauour, and the clearest frankincense, al shal be of equal weight: 35. and thou shalt make incense compounded by the worke of an vnguentarie, exactly tempered, and pure, and most worthie of sanctification. 36. And when thou hast beaten al into verie smal powder, thou shalt set of it before the tabernacle of testimonie, in the place where I wil appeare to thee. Most Holie shal the incense be vnto you. 37. Such confection you shal not make vnto your owne vses, because it is holie to the Lord. 38. What man soeuer shal make the like, to enioy the smel therof, shal prish out of his people.

C H A P. XXXI.

Beseleel and Ooliab are deputed by our Lord to make the Tabernacle, and the things belonging there. 9. 12. The obseruation of the sabbath day is againe commanded. 18. And our Lord deliuereth to Moyfes two tables written with the finger of God.

AN D our Lord spake to Moyfes, saying: 2. Behold, I haue called by name Beseleel the sonne of Uri the sonne of Hur of the tribe of Iuda, 3. and I haue replenished him with the spirit of God, with wisdome, & vnderstanding, and knowledge in al worke, 4. to deuise whatsoever may be artificially made of gold, and siluer, and brasse, 5. of marbte, and precious stones, and diuersitie of wood. 6. And I haue giuen him for his fellow Ooliab the sonne of Achisamech of the tribe of Dan. And in the hart of euerie skilful man haue I put wisdome: that they may make al things which I haue commanded thee, 7. the tabernacle of couenant, and the arke of testimonie, and the propitiatorie, that is ouer it, and al the vessel of the tabernacle, 8. and the table and the vessel therof, the candlesticke most pure with the vessel therof, and the Altars of incense, 9. and of holocaust, and al their vessel, the lauer with his foot, 10. the holie vestements in the ministerie for Aaron the Priest, and for his sonnes, that they may execute their office, about the sacred things: 11. the oile of vnction, and the incense of spices in the Sanctuarie, al things which I haue commanded thee, shal they make. 12. And our Lord spake to Moyfes, saying: 13. Speake to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them: See that you keep my sabbath: because it is a signe between me and you in your generations: that you may know that I am the Lord, which sanctifie you. 14. Keep you my sabbath: for it is holie vnto you: he that shal pollute it, dying shal die: he that shal doe worke in it, his soule shal perish out of the middes of his people. 15. Six dayes shal you doe worke: in the seuenth day is the sabbath, the holie rest to the Lord. Euerie one that shal doe any worke in this day, shal die. 16. Let the children of Israel keep the Sabbath, and celebrae it in their generations. It is an cuerlasting couenant 17. between me and the children of Israel, and a signe perpetual. for in six dayes the Lord made heauen and earth, and in the seuenth he ceased from worke. 18. And our Lord, when he had ended such speeches in mount Sinai, gaue vnto Moyfes two stone tables of testimonie, written (a) with the finger of God.

(a) Not by Moyfes, but by an Angel, at Gods appointment. Gal. 3. v. 19.

C H A P. XXXII.

The people (Aaron consenting) make & adore the image of a calfe. 7. Which God revealing to Moyses, 11. he praieth our Lord, for Abraham, Isaac, and Jacobs sake to spare the people, and performe his promise. 14. Wherewith God is pacified. 15. Yet Moyses coming from the Mount, and seeing the calfe, and idolatrie, throweth downe the tables and breaketh them, 20. destroyeth the idol, 21. blameth Aaron, 27. causeth manie Idolaters to be slaine, 31. and againe prayeth for the people.

(a) Aaron knew what Gods they ment, to wit, such as they had seen worshipped in Ægypt, and therefore he made them a molten calfe.

v. 4.

(b) Excesse in play called foolish mirth, is the daughter of gluttonic, and mother of Idolatrie. S. Greg. li 31. c. 31.

Moral.

(c) To the molten calfe, which they had made.

(d) God saying, Suffer me, signifieth that he could be hindred. S. Hierom. in Ion. 1.

(e) Not only Gods promise, but also his seruants merits. are here proposed for procuring mercie to the people. See the Annotation.

AND the people seeing that Moyses made variance ere he came downe from the mount, being assembled against Aaron, they sayd: Arise, make vs (a) Gods, that may goe before vs: for what hath chanced to this Moyses the man that brought vs out of the Land of Ægypt, we know not. 2. And Aaron sayd to them: Take the golden earlets from the eares of your wiues, and sonnes, and daughters, & bring them to me. 3. And the people did that he had commanded, bringing the earlets to Aaron. 4. Which when he had receiued, he formed them by founders worke, and made of them " a molten calfe. And they sayd: These are thy Gods Israel, that haue brought thee out of the land of Ægypt. 5. Which when Aaron had seen, he builded an altar before it, and by a cryers voice proclaimed saying: To morow is the solemnitie of the Lord. 6. And rising in the morning, they offered holocausts, and pacifike hosts, and the people sat downe to eate, and to drinke, and they rose vp (b) to play. 7. And our Lord spake to Moyses, saying: Goe, get thee downe: thy people, which thou hast brought out of the Land of Ægypt, hath sinned. 8. They haue quickly reuolted from the way that thou didst shew them: and they haue made to themselves a molten calfe, and haue adored, and immolating hosts vnto (c) it, haue sayd: These are thy Gods Israel, that haue brought thee out of the Land of Ægypt. 9. And againe our Lord said to Moyses: I see that this people is stiffe-necked: 10. (d) suffer me, that my furie may be angrie against them, & that I may destroy them, and I wil make thee into a great nation. 11. But " Moyses besought the Lord his God, saying: Why Lord, is thy furie angrie against thy people, whom thou hast brought forth of the Land of Ægypt, in great power, and in a strong hand? 12. Let not the Ægyptians say I beseech thee: He hath craftily brought them forth, that he might kil them in the mountaynes, and destroy them from the earth: let thine anger cease, and be pacified vpon the wickednes of thy people. 13. " Remember Abraham, Isaac, and Israel (e) thy seruants, to whom thou swarest by thine owne seif, saying: I wil multiplie your seed as the starrs of heauen: and this whole land, whereof I haue spoken, I wil giue to your seed,

and

& you shal possesse it alwayes. 14. And our Lord was pacified frō doing the euil which he had spoken against his people. 15. And Moyses returned from the mount, carying the two tables of testimonie in his hand, written on both sides, 16. and made by the worke of God: the writing also of God was grauen in the tables. 17. And Iosue hearing the tumult of the people crying out, said to Moyses: The noyse of battaile is heard in the campe. 18. Who answered: It is not the crie of men encouraging of fight, nor the shout of men compelling to fly: but I doe heare the voice of singers. 19. And when he approached to the campe, he saw the calfe, and the daunces: and being (e) very wrath, he threw the tables out of his hand, and brake them at the foot of the mount. 20. And catching the calfe which they had made, he burnt it, & beat it into powder, which he strowed into water, and gaue thereof drinke to the children of Israel. 21. And he said to Aaron: What hath this people done to thee, that thou shouldest bring vpon them an heinous sinne? 22. To whom he answered: Let not my Lord be offended: for thou knowest this people, that it is prone to euil: 23. they said to me: Make vs Gods, that may goe before vs: for vnto this same Moyses, that brought vs forth out of the Land of Ægypt, we know not what is chanced. 24. To whō I said: Which of you hath gold? They tooke, & brought to me: & I cast it into the fire, and (j) this calfe came forth. 25. Moyses therefore seeing the people that they were made naked (for Aaron had spoiled the for the ignominie of filth, & had set them naked among their enemies) 26. & standing in the gate of the campe, he said: If any man be our Lords, let him ioyne to me. And there gathered vnto him all the sonnes of Leui: 27. to whom he said: This saith the Lord God of Israel: Put euerie man his sword vpon his thigh: goe, and returne from gate to gate through the middes of the campe, and euerie man kil his brother, and freind, and neighbour. 28. And (g) the sonnes of Leui did according to the saying of Moyses, and there were slaine in that day about three thousand men. 29. And Moyses said: You haue consecrated your hands this day to our Lord, euerie man in his sonne & in his brother, that blessing may be giuen to you. 30. And when the next day was come, Moyses spake to the people: You haue sinned a verie great sinne: I wil goe vp to our Lord, if by anie means I may be able to intreate him for your sinful fact. 31. And returning to our Lord, he said: I beseech thee, this people hath sinned a heinous sinne, and they haue made to themselues Gods of gold; either forgiue them this trespassse, 32. or if thou doe not, (h) strike me out of the booke that thou hast written. 33. To whom our Lord answered: He that hath sinned to me, him wil I strike out of my booke: 34. but goe thou, and lead this people whither I haue told thee: myne Angel shal goe before thee. And I in the day of reuenge wil visite this sinne also of theirs. 35. Our Lord therefore smote the people for the fault concerning the calfe, which Aaron had made.

[e] Moyses the meekest man on earth (Nu. 12.) in Gods cause was most zelous against sinne. S. Aug. q. 144. in Exod.

(f) Aaron confessed the fault briefly, nor intending a friuolous excuse: for he could not thinke, but Moyses knew the truth. S. Aug. q. 145. in Exod.

(g) Their zeale vsed with authoritie and order is here rewarded: which otherwise wanting, when Simeon and Leui slew the Sichemites, was blamed by Iacob.

Gen. 34. & 49.

(h) Moyses not content with his owne saluation, would rather perish with the people, then they should al be destroyed: and therefore at his instance God pardoned them. S. Hiero. Ep. 12. ad Gaud. & in Ion. 1. S. Aug. q. 147. in Exod.

ANNOTATIONS.

CHAP. XXXII.

This people thought the calfe to be the true God.

They adored that which the image represented.

Caluin chargeth Moyſes with arrogancie: Moyſes charitie concur red with Gods providence.

God ſheweth mercie for the merits of his ſeruants.

Grace goeth before merits.

4. Molsem calfe.] No other reason can be imagined, why the people falling to Idolatrie, required the image of a calfe, rather then of anie other thing, but for that they thought the blacke calfe with white ſpots, called Apis or Serapis, whom they ſaw the Egyptians eſteemed moſt of al their Gods, to be the chiefe, or onlie God. And therefore to this famous Idol they aſcribed the benefit of their deliuerie from bondage, ſaying: These are thy Gods, O Iſrael, ſhas haue brought thee out of the land of Egypt. So they went not to worſhip our Lord, the true God, in that image, as Caluin would haue it, but the very calfe whoſe image it was, for adoring immediately the calues image, and immolating hoſts to it (v. 2.) they proteſted that to be their God, which the image represented. This appeareth alſo Deut. 32. v. 18. God ſhas begat thee thou haſt forſaken: and haſt forgotten our Lord thy creator. And Pſal. 105. v. 21. They forgot God, which ſaued them.

11. Moyſes beſought.] Albeit Moyſes with moſt humble ſubmiſſion prayed for the people, which God ſo accepted, that he was therby pacified (v. 14.) yet Caluin here condemneth him of arrogancie, and pride, as though he imperiouſly preſcribed law to God, ſpoyling him of his iuſtice. Much otherwiſe S. Hierom. (Epist. 12. ad Gaudens.) commending his frequent charitie, doubteth not to ſay: Dei potentiam ſerui preces impediunt. The ſeruants prayers hinder Gods power, becauſe God himſelf ſaying. suffer me, ſhas my furie may be angry againſt them, and ſhas I may deſtroy them, ſheweth his diuine providence to be ſuch, as he might be ſtaied from doing ſhas which he threatned.

13. Remember Abraham.] It much troubled Caluin, that for obtaining pardon for the people, the Patriarchs are mentioned, for whoſe ſake and merits, mercie and protection was promiſed by God (Gen. 18. 22. 26.) prophecied by Iacob (Gen. 48.) performed here, and in manie other places. And it is a vaine euation to ſay: God ſhewed his mercie for his promiſe ſake only; for he promiſed the ſame for their merits; as appeareth in the places alleaged: Though al merits proceed from Gods grace, firſt giuen without merits. 1. Cor. 4. v. 7. S. Aug. de grat. lib. 1. c. 6.

S. Aug.
li. 18. c.
5. ciuis.

li. 1. c. 11.
para. 9.
Inſtit.

In hunc
locum.

S. Aug.
9. 149.
in Exod.
S. Chryſ.
ho. 42 in
Gen.
Theod.
9. 67. in Exo.

C H A P. XXXIII.

Gods wrath being mitigated by Moyſes, the people mourne for their ſinne. 7. Moyſes pitcheth the tabernacle without the campe, and therein conuerſeth familiarly with God, 18. deſiring to ſee his glorie.

AND our Lord ſpake to Moyſes, ſaying: Goe, get thee vp from this place, thou and thy people which thou haſt brought out of the Land of Ægypt, into the land wherof I ſware to Abraham, Iſaac, and Iacob; ſaying: To thy ſeed I wil giue it: 2. and I wil ſend an Angel thy precursor, that I may caſt out the Chananeite, and Amorrheite, and He-theite, and Pherezeite, and Heueite, and Iebuſeite, 3. and thou maielt enter into the land that floweth with milke and honey: for (a) I wil not goe vp with thee, becauſe thou art a ſtiſſe-necked people: leſt perhaps I deſtroie thee in the way. 4. And the people hearing this verie il ſaying, mourned: and no man put on his ornaments after the cuſtome. 5. And our Lord ſayd to Moyſes: Speake to the children of Iſrael: Thou art a ſtiſſe-necked people, once I ſhal goe vp in the middes of thee, and ſhal deſtroy thee. Now preſently lay away thy ornaments, that I may know what to doe vnto thee. 6. Therefore the children of Iſrael layd away their ornaments from mount Horeb.

7. Moyſes alſo taking the tabernacle, pitched it without the campe a farre off, and called the name thereof, The Tabernacle of couenant. And al the people, that had anie queſtion, went forth to the Tabernacle of couenant, without the campe. 8. And when Moyſes went forth to the tabernacle, al the people roſe vp, and euerie one ſtood in the dore of his paulion, and they beheld the backe of Moyſes, til he entred into the tabernacle. 9. And when he was entred into the Tabernacle of couenant, the pillar of the cloud came downe, and ſtood at the doore, & he ſpake with Moyſes, 10. al they beholding that the pillar of the cloud ſtood at the doore of the Tabernacle. And they ſtood, & adored at the doores of their tabernacles. 11. And our Lord ſpake vnto Moyſes face to face, as a man is wont to ſpeake to his freind. And when he returned into the campe, his miniſter Iofue the ſonne of Nun, a yong man, departed not frō the Tabernacle. 12. And Moyſes ſaid to our Lord: Thou commandeſt me to lead forth this people, & doeſt not ſhew me whom thou wilt ſend with me, eſpecially wheras thou haſt ſaid: I know thee by name, and thou haſt found grace in my ſight. 13. If therefore I haue found grace in thy ſight, ſhew me thy face, that I may know thee, and may find grace before thine eyes, looke vpon thy people this nation. 14. And our Lord ſaid: My face ſhal goe before thee, & I wil giue thee

a) God would not in this paſſage worke ſuch miracles, as he did, bringing the forth of Ægypt. So it is a commination becauſe they were ſtubborne and ſtiſſe-necked.

(b) The vision of God in glorie is al good.
 (c) God by his grace maketh his seruants to cal vpon his name. S. Aug. 9. 154. in Exod.
 (d) None in th's life can see God as Saints doe in glorie. 1. Ioan.

3.
 (e) Moyfes saw more glorious workes and effects of God, the other Prophets, yet not his substance and diuine nature. Theodoret 9. 68. in Exod. S. Hier. de verb. Isa. vidi Dom. S. Chrysoſt. ho. 4. de inco. Dei natura.

(a) The first tables being broken, yet others are made: so though the first grace giuen in Baptisme be lost, yet there remaineth patience, as the second table of fastie after shipwrake. S. Hiero. Epif. ad Demetriad.

rest. 15. And Moyfes sayd: If thy selfe doest not goe before, bring vs not out of this place. 16. For whereby shal we be able to know I and thy people, that we haue found grace in thy sight, vnles thou walke with vs that we may be glorified of al peoples, that dwel vpon the earth? 17. And our Lord said to Moyfes: This word also, which thou hast spoken, wil I doe: for thou hast found grace before me, and thy selfe I haue knowen by name. 18. Who said: Shew me thy glorie. 19. He answered: I wil shew thee (b) al good, and (c) wil cal in the name of the Lord before thee: and I wil haue mercie on whom I wil, and I wil be merciful to whom it shal please me. 20. And againe he sayd: Thou canst not see my face: (d) for man shal not see me, & liue. 21. And againe: Behold, quoth he, there is a place with me, and thou shalt stand vpon the rocke. 22. And when my glorie shal passe, I wil set thee in a hole of the rocke, & protect thee with my right hand, vntil I passe: 23. and I wil take away my hand, and thou shalt see (e) my backe-parts: but my face thou canst not see.

C H A P. XXXIIII.

Moyfes goeth againe into Mount Sinai, with new tables, praying for the people: 10. to whom God promiſeth to giue possession of the Land. 12. Prohibiſteth al association with the Gentiles, for feare of Idolatrie, 18. giueth precepts concerning the first-borne, the Sabbath, and other feasts. 28. After fourtie dayes fast, Moyfes returneth to the people with the commandements, and his face appearing horned, he couereth it whenſoeuer he ſpeaketh to the people.

AND after this he said: (a) Cut thee two tables of stone like vnto the former, and I wil write vpon them the words, which the tables had which thou hast broken. 2. Be readie in the morning, that thou maieſt forthwith goe vp into the mount Sinai, and thou shalt stand with me vpon the top of the mount. 3. Let no man goe vp with thee, neither let anie man be seen throughout the whole mount: the oxen also and the sheep let them not feed ouer-againſt. 4. He cut out therfore two tables of stone, such as had been before: and riſing very early he went vp into mount Sinai, as our Lord had commanded him, carying with him the tables. 5. And when our Lord was deſcended in a cloud, Moyfes ſtood with him, calling vpon the name of our Lord. 6. Who paſſing before him ſaid: * Dominatour Lord God, merciful and clement, patient and of much compaſſion, and true, 7. which keepeſt mercie vnto thouſands: which takeſt away iniquitie, and wicked facts, and finnes, and no man of himſelte is innocent before thee. Which doeſt render the iniquitie of the fathers to the children, and to the nephewes vnto the third and

* chief ruler.

fourth

fourth generation. 8. And Moyses making hast, bowed flat vnto the earth, & adoring. 9 he said: If I haue found grace in thy sight, o Lord, I beseech thee that thou wilt goe with vs (for it is a stiffe-necked people) and take away our iniquities & sinnes, & possesse vs. 10. Our Lord answered: (b) I wil make a couenant in the sight of al, I wil doe signes that were neuer seen vpon the earth, nor in anie nations: that this people may see, in the middes of whō thou art, the terrible worke of the Lord, which I wil doe. 11. Obserue al things which this day I command thee: I my self wil cast out before thy face the Amorrhite, & Chananeite, & Herheite, the Pherezite also, and Heueite, and Iebuseite. 12. Beware thou neuer ioyne amitie with the inhabitants of that land, which may be thy ruine: 13. but destroy their altars, breake their statues, and cut downe their groues: 14. adore not a strange God. The Lord his name is Ieloufe, God is an emulatour. 15. Enter no traffick with the men of those regions: lest when they haue fornicated with their Gods, & haue adored their idols, some mā cal thee to eat of the things immolated. 16. Neither shalt thou take a wife for thy sonnes of their daughters: lest after themselves haue fornicated they make thy sonnes also to fornicate with their Gods. 17. Molten Gods thou shalt not make to thee. 18. Thou shalt keepe the solemnitie of the azymes. Seuen dayes shalt thou eat azymes, as I haue commanded thee, in the time of the month of new corne: for in the month of spring time thou didst goe out of Egypt. 19. Al of the male kind, that openeth the matrice, shal be mine. Of al beasts, as wcl oxen as of sheep, it shal be mine. 20. The first-borne of an asse thou shalt redeeme with a sheep: but if thou wilt not giue a price for it, it shal be slaine. The first-borne of thy sonnes thou shalt redeeme: neither shalt thou appeare emptie in my sight. 21. Six dayes shalt thou worke, the seuenth day thou shalt cease to eare & reape. 22. The solemnitie of weekes thou shalt make to thee, in the first fruits of corne of thy wheate haruest, and the solemnitie, when the time of the yeare returneth that al things are laid vp. 23. Three tymes of the yeare al thy male shal appeare in the sight of the omnipotent Lord God of Israel. 24. For when I shal haue taken away the nations from thy face, and shal haue dilated thy borders, no man shal lie in wayte against thy land, when thou doest goe vp, and appeare in the sight of the Lord thy God thrice in a yeare. 25. Thou shalt not immolate the bloud of my hoite vpon leauen: neither shal there remaine in the morning of the victime of the solemnitie of the Phase. 26. The first of the fruits of thy ground thou shalt offer in the house of the Lord thy God. Thou shalt not boile a kid in the milke of his damme. 27. And our Lord said to Moyses: write thee these words, in which I haue made a couenant both with thee and with Israel. 28. Therefore he was there with our Lord fourtie dayes & fourtie nights: he did not eate bread, and he drunke no water, & (c) he wrote in the tables the wordes of the couenant (d) ten. 29. And when Moyses came downe from the mount Sinai, he held the two tables of testimo-

(b) Notwithstanding his former condemnation chap. 33. v. 3. God here promiseth new benefits.

(c) God by an Angel not Moyses. supra 2. 1. & Deus. 10. v. 1. & 4.

(d) Howsoeuer the commandments are diuided in both tables, here it is certaine, that there be no more nor fewer then ten in al.

(e) So his face appeared to the beholders, by reason of the glistering beames of his countenance shining gloriously, after his conuersation with God fourtie dayes: which signifieth that much more than which abideth (in al eternitie) is in glorie. 2. Cor. 3. (f) The same veile (saith S. Paul) remaineth vpon the hart of the Iewes, that they can not see Christ, til by his special grace they shal be illuminated: 2. Cor. 3. The like is vpon the hart of Heretikes that can not see the Church. S. Aug. in Psal. 30. con. 2.

nie, and he knew not that his face was (e) horned by the conuersation of the talke of our Lord. 30. And Aaron & the children of Israel seeing the face of Moyses horned, they were afraid to come neer. 31. And being called of him, they returned as wel Aaron as the Princes of the Synagogue. And after that he spake to them, 32. al the children of Israel also came to him: whom he commanded al things that he had heard of our Lord in mount Sinai. 33. And hauing ended his talke, he put (f) a veile vpon his face. 34. Which going in to our Lord, and speaking with him, he tooke away vntil he went forth, and then he spake to the children of Israel al things that had been commanded him, who saw that the face of Moyses comming forth was horned, but he couered his face againe, if at anie time he spake to them.

C H A P. XXXV.

(a) After the fal of the people to Idolatry, their punishment, and repentance, their reconciliation to God, and new tables of the commandments made and written, Moyses repeareth the former precept of keeping the Sabbath, and prouideth al necessaries to the making of the Tabernacle, wherto the Princes and people most promptly and liberally contribute. S. Aug. 9. 172. in Exo.

The precept of the Sabbath is yet renewed. 4. First fruits, and other gifts are required, and duely offered, for the making of the tabernacle and other things therto belonging, which are here recited. 30. Beseleel and Ooliab are appointed workmen for this purpose.

HERFORE (a) al the multitude of the children of Israel being gathered together, he said to them: These are the things which our Lord hath commanded to be done. 2. Six dayes you shal doe worke: the seuenth day shal be holie vnto you, the sabbath, and rest of our Lord: he that shal doe anie worke in it, shal be slaine. 3. You shal not kindle fire in al your habitations on the sabbath day. 4. And Moyses said to al the assemblie of the children of Israel: This is the word that our Lord hath commanded, saying: 5. Separate with you first fruits to the Lord. Let euerie one that is willing & hath a readie hart, offer them to the Lord: gold and siluer, and brasse, 6. hyacinth and purple, and scarlet twice died, and silke, the haire of goats, 7. and rammes skinnes died red, and ianthin shinnes, the wood setim, 8. and oile to mainteine lights, and to make ointment, and most sweet incense, 9. Onyx stones, and pretious stones, for the adorning of the Ephod and the Rationale. 10. Whosoever of you is wise, let him come, and make that which our Lord hath commanded: 11. to wit, the Tabernacle, and the rooffe therof, and the couer, the rings, and the bordeworke with the barres, the pinnes & the feet: 12. the Arke and the staues, the propitiatorie, and the veile, that is drawen before it: 13. the Table with the barres and the vessel, and the loaves of proposition: 14. the Candlesticke to beare vp the lights, the vessel therof and the lamps, and the oile to the nourishing of fires: 15. the Altar of incense, and the barres, and the oile of vnction and the incense of spices: the Hanging at the doore of the tabernacle: 16. the Altar of holocaust, and his grate of brasse, with the barres and vessel therof: the Lauer and his feet: 17. the Curtines of the court with the pillers and the feet, the hanging in the doores of the entrie, 18. the pinnes of the tabernacle and of the court with their litle cordes: 19. the Vestmentes, that are to be vsed in the ministerie of the sanctuarie, the vesture of Aaron the high-Priest, and of his sonnes, to doe the function of Priesthood vnto me. 20. And al the multitude of the children of Israel going forth from the sight of Moyfes, 21. offered first fruits to our Lord with a most prompt and deuout mind, to make the worke of the tabernacle of the testimonie. Whatsoeuer was necessarie to the seruice therof and to the holie veitments, 22. both men and women did giue, tablets and earlets, rings and bracelets: euerie vessel of gold was separated for the donaries of our Lord. 23. If anie man had hyacinth, and purple, and scarlet twice died red, and ianthin skinnes, 24. metal of siluer and brasse, they offered to our Lord, and the wood setun for diuers vses. 25. But the skilful women also gaue such things as they had sponne, hyacinth, purple, and scarlet, and silke, 26. and goates haire, giuing al of their owne accord. 27. But the Princes offered onyx stones, and pretious stones, for the Ephod and the Rationale, 28. and spices and oile to maintaine the lights, and for the preparing of ointment, and to make the incense of most sweet sauour. 29. Al men and women with deuout mind offered donaries, that the workes might be made which our Lord had commanded by the hand of Moyfes. Al the children of Israel did dedicate voluntarie things to our Lord.

Arke

30. And Moyfes said to the children of Israel: Behold, our Lord hath (b) called by name Beseleel the sonne of Uri the sonne of Hur of the tribe of Iuda. 31. And hath filled him with the spirit of God, with wisdome and intelligence, and science and al learning, 32. to deuise and to make worke in gold and siluer, and brasse, 33. and in grauing stones, and in carpenters worke. Whatsoeuer can be deuised artificially, 34. he hath giuen in his hart: Ooliab also the sonne of Achisamech of the tribe of Dan: 35. both hath he instructed with wisdome, to make the workes of a carpenter, a tapelter, an embroiderer of hyacinth and purple, and scarlet twice died, and silke, and to weaue al things, and to inuent al new things.

(b) As matter alone is not sufficient for a building without artificers, to whom God giueth special skil: so for expounding holie Scripture God giueth particular knowledge to Pastors and Doctours, so the consummation of Saints, so the worke of the ministerie, so the edifying of the bodie of Christ (the Church) Ephes. 4.

C H A P. XXXVI.

More being giuen then was needful. 6. Moyses made to be proclaimed that no more should be offered. 8. So the curtines, 13. rings, 18. buckies, 19. the couer, 20. bordes, 21. barres, 35. a veile, 36. pillers, and a hanging are made readie.

BESELEEL therefore, and Ooliab, and euerie wise man, to whom our Lord gaue wisdom and vnderstanding, to know how to worke artificially, made the things that are necessarie for the vses of the Sanctuarie, and which our Lord did command. 2. And when Moyses had called them, and euerie cunning man, to whom our Lord had giuen wisdom, and such as of their owne accord had offered themselves to the making of the worke, 3. he deliuered al the donaries of the children of Israel vnto them. Who being earnest about the worke, the people daily in the morning did offer their vows. 4. Whereupon (a) the artificers being constrained to come, 5. said to Moyses: The people offereth more then is necessarie. 6. Moyses therefore commanded proclamation to be made by the criers voice: Let neither man nor woman offer anie more in the worke of the Sanctuarie. And so they ceased from offering gifts, 7. because the things that were offered did suffice and were ouer-much. 8. And al the wise barded men, to accomplish the worke of the tabernacle, made ten curtines of twisted silke, and hyacinth, and purple, and scarlet twice died, with varied worke, and the art of embrodering: 9. of which one had in length twentie eight cubits, and in bredth foure: there was one measure of al the curtines. 10. And he ioyned fve curtines, one to an other, and the other fve he coupled to themselves one with an other. 11. He made also loupes of hyacinth in the edge of one curtine on either side, and in the edge of the other curtine in like manner, 12. that the loupes might meet one against an other, and might be ioyned each with other. 13. Whereupon also he did cast fiftie rings of gold, that might catch the loupes of the curtines, and might be made one tabernacle. 14. He made also cleuen curtines of goates haire to couer the rooffe of the tabernacle. 15. one curtine in length had thirtie cubits, & in bredth foure cubits: al the curtines were of one measure: 16. of which fve he ioyned apart, & the other six apart. 17. And he made fiftie loupes in the edge of one curtine, and fiftie in the edge of an other curtine, that they might be ioyned one to an other. 18. And fiftie buckles of brass wherwith the rooffe might be knit together, that of al the curtines there might be made one couering. 19. He made

(a) As the people abounded in deuotion, so the workmen of modestie and religion would haue no more then the necessarie. S. Augustin. 9. 171. in Exod.

also

also a couer for the tabernacle of rammes skinned red: & an other couer ouer that of ianthin skinned. 20. He made also the bords of the tabernacle of the wood setim standing. 21. The length of one bord was ten cubits: and the bredth contained one cubite & an halfe. 22. There were two mortises throughout euerie bord, that one might be ioyned to the other. So made he in al the bords of the tabernacle. 23. Of the which twentie were at the south side against the south, 24. with fourtie feet of siluer. Two feet were put vnder one borde on either side of the corners, where the mortises of the sides end in the corners. 25. At that side also of the tabernacle, that looked toward the north, he made twentie bords, 26. with fourty feet of siluer, two feet for euerie bord. 27. But against the west, to wit, at that side of the tabernacle, which looketh to the sea, he made six bords, 28. and two other at each corner of the tabernacle behind: 29. which were also ioyned frō beneath vnto the top, & they grew together into one connexion. So he made on either side at the corners: 30. that there were in al eight bords, and had sixteen feet of siluer, to wit, two feet vnder euerie bord. 31. He made also barres of the wood setim, five to hold together the bords of one side of the tabernacle, 32. and five other to ioyne together the bords of the other side: and besides these, five other barres at the west side of the tabernacle against the sea. 33. He made also an other barre, that might come by the middes of the bords from corner vnto corner. 34. And the bordworke it-selfe he plated with gold. And their rings he made of gold, through which the barres might be drawen: the which also themselves he couered with plates of gold. 35. He made also a veile of hyacinth, and purple, scarlet, and twisted silke, with embrodered worke, varied and distinguished: 36. and foure pillers of the wood setim, which with their heads he plated with gold, casting their feet of siluer. 37. He made also a hanging in the entrie of the tabernacle of hyacinth, purple, scarlet, and twisted silke, with the worke of an embroderer: 38. and five pillers with their heads, which he couered with gold, and their feet he did cast of brasse.

C H A P. XXXVII.

Beseleel maketh the Arke. 6. the Propitiatorie, with Cherubims, 10. the Table, with vessel belonging thereto, 17. the Candlestick with bowles and branches: 23. seven lampes with snuffers, 25. the Altar of incense, 29. and compoundeth the incense.

AND Beseleel made also the arke of the wood setim, hauing two cubits & an halfe in length, and a cubite and an halfe in bredth, the height also was of one cubite and an halfe: and he plated it with the purest gold within & without. 2. And he made to it a crowne of gold round about, 3. casting foure rings of gold at the foure corners thereof:

(4) The Cherubins covering al vpon and within the arke signifie (saith S. Gregorie Nyssen) that the Scriptures haue a higher sense then the literal. de vita Moyses post medium.

thereof: two rings in the one side, and two in the other. 4. Barres also he made of the wood setim, which he plated with gold, 5. and which he put into the rings, that were at the sides of the arke to carie it. 6. He made also the Propitiatorie, that is, the Oracle, of the purest gold, two cubits & an halfe in length, and a cubite & an halfe in bredth. 7. Two Cherubins also of beaten gold, which he set on either side of the Propitiatorie: 8. One Cherub in the toppe of one side, and the other Cherub in the top of the other side: two Cherubins in each toppe of the Propitiatorie, 9. spreading their wings, and (4) couering the Propitiatorie, and looking one toward the other and toward it. 10. He made also the table of the wood setim in length two cubits, and in bredth one cubite, which had in hight a cubite and an halfe. 11. And he did compasse it with the finest gold, and he made to it a golden ledge round about, 12. and to the ledge it-selfe a golden crowne enterpolished of foure fingers, & vpon the same an other golden crowne. 13. And he cast foure rings of gold, which he put in the foure corners at euerie foote of the table 14. against the crowne: & he put the barres into them, that the table might be caried. 15. The barres also themselues he made of the wood setim, and compassed them with gold. 16. And the vessel for the diuers vses of the table, sawcers, phials, and goblets, & censers, of pure gold, wherein the libametes are to be offered. 17. He made also the candlestick of the finest gold. From the shaft wherof the branches, cups, & boules & lilies did proceed: 18. six on both sides, three branches on one side, & three on the other: 19. three cups in maner of a nut on euerie branch, and boules withal and lilies, and three cups of the fashion of a nut in an other branch, and boules withal and lilies. The worke of the six brāches, that proceeded from the shaft of the candlestick, equal. 20. And in the shaft it-selfe were foure cups, after the manner of a nut, and boules withal at euerie one and lilies: 21. and boules vnder two branches in three places, which together make six branches proceeding from one shaft. 22. Both the boules therefore, & the branches were out of it, al beaten of the purest gold. 23. He made also the seuen lamps with their snuffers, and the vessel, where the snuffings should be put out, of most pure gold. 24. The candlestick withal the vessel therof did weigh a talent of gold. 25. He made also the altar of incense of the wood setim, hauing a cubite euerie way foure square, and in hight two: from the corners wherof the hornes did proceed. 26. And he plated it with the purest gold, with the grate and the walles and the hornes. 27. And he made to it a crowne of gold round about, and two golden rings vnder the crowne at either side, that the barres may be put into them, and the altar may be caried. 28. And the barres themselues he made also of the wood setim, and couered them with plates of gold. 29. He compounded also oile for the ointment of sanctification, and incense of the purest spices with the worke of a pigmentarie.

C H A P. XXXVIII.

The same Beseleel maketh the Altar of Holocauste. 8. the brasen lauer. 9. the court with pillers and hangings. 21. The gifts that were offered are recited.

HE made also the Altar of Holocauste of the wood setim, five cubits four square, and three in height: 2. the hornes wherof did proceed from the corners, and he couered it with plates of brasse. 3. And for the vses therof he prepared of brasse diuers vessels, cauldrons, tongs, flesh-hooks, pot-hooks, and fire-pannes. 4. And the grate therof in manner of a net he made of brasse, and vnder it in the middes of the altar an hearth, 5. casting foure rings at as manie tops of the net, to put in barres to carie it: 6. the which themselues also he made of the wood setim, and couered them with plates of brasse: 7. and he drew them through the rings, that stood out in the sides of the altar. And the altar it-selfe was not massie, but holow of bords, and within emptie. 8. He made also the lauer of brasse, with the foote therof, of womens glasses, (a) that watched in the doore of the tabernacle. 9. He made also the court, in the south side wherof were hangings of twisted silke, of an hundred cubits, 10. twentie pillers of brasse with their feete, the heads of the pillers, and the whole grauing of the worke, of siluer. 11. In like manner at the north side the hangings, pillers, and feete & the heads of the pillers were of the same measure and worke & metal. 12. But on that side that looketh to the west, there were hangings of fiftie cubits, ten brasen pillers with their feete, and the heads of the pillers, and al the grauing of the worke, of siluer. 13. Moreouer against the east he prepared hangings of fiftie cubits: 14. of the which, one side conteyned fifteen cubits of three pillers, with their feete: 15. & on the other side (because between both he made the entrie of the tabernacle) there were hangings equally of fifteen cubits, & three pillers, & feete as manie. 16. Al the hangings of the court were wouen of twisted silke. 17. The feete of the pillers were of brasse, & their heads with al their grauings of siluer: but the pillers also of the court themselues he plated with siluer. 18. And in the entrie therof he made with embrodered worke a hanging of hyacinth, purple, scarlet, and twisted silke, that had twentie cubits in length, but the height was five cubits, according to the measure which al the hangings of the court had. 19. And the pillers in the entrie were foure with feete of brasse, and their heads and gra-uings of siluer. 20. The pinnes also of the tabernacle and of the court round about he made of brasse. 21. These are the instruments of the tabernacle of testimonie, which were numbred according to the precept of Moyses, in the ceremonies of the Leuites by the hand of Ithamar the sonne of Aaron the Priest: 22. which Beseleel the sonne of Uri, the sonne of Hur, of the tribe of Iuda had accomplished, as our Lord commanded by Moyses, 23. hauing ioyned to himselfe for his companion Ooliab the sonne of Achisamech of the tribe of Dan: who was himself also an egregious artificer in wood, and a tapister, and embroiderer of hyacinth, purple, scarlet, and silke. 24. Al the gold that was spent in the worke of the Sanctuarie, and that was offered in donaries, was nine and twentie talentes, and seuen hundred thirtie sicles according to the measure of the Sanctuarie. 25. And it was offered of them that passed to the number, from twentie yeares and vpward, of six hundred three thousand, & siue hundred fiftie able men to beare armes. 26. There were morcouer an hundred talents of siluer, wherof were cast the feete of the Sanctuarie, and of the entrie where the veile hangeth. 27. An hundred feete were made of an hundred talents, one talent being accounted for eucric foot. 28. And of the thousand seuen hundred, and seuentie siue he made the heads of the pillers, which themselues he also plated with siluer. 29. Of brasse also there were offered seuentie two thousand talents, and foure hundred sicles besides, 30. of the which were cast the feete in the entrie of the tabernacle of testimonie, and the altar of brasse with the grate therof, and al the vessels, that pertayne to the vse therof, 31. and the feete of the court as wel in the circuite as in the entrie therof, and the pinnes of the tabernacle and of the court round about.

(a) These women watched there for deuotion, and it seemeth the same custome continued til Christs time. For Anna the widow obserued this state of life. Luc. 2.

C H A P. XXXIX.

Al the ornaments of Aaron and his sonnes are made. 31. and the whole worke of the Tabernacle is perfited.

MOREOVER of hyacinth and purple, scarlet and silke he made the vestures, that Aaron should weare when he ministred in the holie places, as our Lord commanded Moyses. 2. He made therefore an Ephod of gold, hyacinth, and purple, and scarlet twice died, and twisted silke, 3. with embrodered worke, and he did cut thinne plates of gold, and drew them smal into threeds, that they might be twisted with the woufe the former colours, 4. and two edges coupled one to the other in the top on either side, 5. and a bawdrike of the same colours, as our Lord had commanded Moyses. 6. He prepared also two Onyx stones, fast set and closed in gold, & grauen by the art of a lapidarie, with the names of the children of Israel: 7. & he set them in the sides of the Ephod for a monimēt of the children of Israel, as our Lord had commanded Moyses. 8. He made also a Rationale with embrodered worke according to the worke of the Ephod, of gold, hyacinth, purple, and scarlet twice died, & twisted silke: 9. foure square, double, of the measure of a palme. 10. And he set foure rewes of precious stones. In the first row was sardius, topazius, an emeraud. 11. In the second, a carbuncle, a saphire, and a iasper. 12. In the third, a ligurius, an achates, and an amethist. 13. In the fourth a chrysolith, an onyx, and berillus, cōpassed & enclosed in gold by their rewes. 14. And the twelue stones themselves were grauen with the names of the twelue tribes of Israel, euerie one with his seueral name. 15. They made also in the rationale litle cheynes linked one to an other of the purest gold, 16. and two hooks, and as manie rings of gold. Moreouer the rings they set on either side of the Rationale, 17. on the which the two golden cheynes should hang, which they put into the hooks, that stood out in the corners of the Ephod, 18. These both before and behind did so agree with themselves, that the Ephod and the Rationale might be knit one to the other, 19. tyed to the bawdrike & with rings strongly coupled, which a lace of hyacinth ioyned, lest they should slag loosely, and be moued one from the other, as our Lord commanded Moyses. 20. They made also the tunike of the Ephod al of hyacinth, 21. and a hole for the head in the vpper part against the middes, and the border of the hole round about wouen: 22. and beneath at the feete pomegranats of hyacinth, purple, scarlet, and twisted silke: 23. and litle belles of the purest gold, which they did put between the pomegranats in the vtmost part of the tunike round about: 24. to wit, a bel of gold, & a pomegranate, wherewith the high-Priest went adorned, when he executed his ministerie, as our Lord had cōmanded Moyses. 25. They made also silken tunikes with wouen worke for Aaron and his sonnes: 26. and mitres with their litle crownes of silke: 27. linnen breeches also, of fine line: 28. & a girdle of twisted silke, hyacinth, purple, & scarlet twice died, with the art of embrodering, as our Lord had commāded Moyses. 29. They made also the plate of (a) sacred veneration of most pure gold, & they wrote in it with the worke of a lapidaries The Holie of our Lord: 30. and they tyed it to the mitre with a lace of hyacinth, as our Lord had cōmanded Moyses. 31. Therefore al the worke of the tabernacle & of the roose of testimonie was perfited: & the children of Israel did al things which our Lord had commāded Moyses. 32. And they offered the tabernacle & the roose & the whole furniture, rings, bords, barres, pillers and their feete, 33. the couer of rammes skimes died red, and the other couer of ianthin skines, 34. the veile, the arke, the barres, the propitiatorie, 35. the table with the vessel therof and the loaves of proposition: 36. the candlesticke, the lamps, and the furniture of them with the oyle: 37. the altar of gold, and the ointment, and the incense of spices: 38. and the hanging in the entrie of the tabernacle: 39. the altar of brass, the grate, the barres, and al the vessel therof: the lauer with the foote therof: the hangings of the court, and the pillers with their feete: 40. the hanging in the entrie of the court, and the litle cords, and the pinnes therof. Nothing wanted of the vessel, that was commanded to be made for the ministerie of the tabernacle, and for the roofe of conuenant. 41. The vestments also, which the Priestes vse in the Sanctuarie, to wit, Aaron and his sonnes, 42. the children of Israel offered, as our Lord had commanded. 43. Which things after that Moyse saw al finished, he blessed them.

(a) Alexander the Great seeing Iaddus the high-Priest, bearing this venerable plate on his forehead, with great reuerence went vnto him, and adured the name of God written in the plate. Iosephus. lib. 11. c. 8. Ansiq.

C H A P. XL.

According to Gods commandment Moyse erecteth the Tabernacle, with al things appertayning, the first day of the second yeare after their deliuerie from Ægypt. 32. God replenisheth the same with his Ma:estie, a cloud remaining ouer it by day, and a pillar of fire by night, but when they shal march, the same passeth before them.

(a) The Tabernacle, prepared in the first yeare and erected the first day of the second yeare, signifieth the Church of Christ, prepared in the old Testament, & established, exalted, and confirmed in the new.

(b) More holie then anie thing without the Sanctuarie, but the Sancta Sanctorum it selfe was then most holie of al places in this world.

AND our Lord spake to Moyse, saying: 2. The (a) first month, the first day of the month, thou shalt erect the tabernacle of the testimonie, 3. & shalt put in it the arke, and shalt let downe before it the veile: 4. & bringing in the table, thou shalt set vpon it the things that are commanded after the rite. The candlesticke shal stand with the lamps therof, 5. and the altar of gold whereon the incense is burned, before the arke of testimonie. Thou shalt put the hanging in the entrie of the tabernacle, 6. and before it the altar of holocauste: 7. the lauer between the altar and the tabernacle, which thou shalt fil with water. 8. And thou shalt compasse about the court with hangings, & the entrie therof. 9. And taking the oile of vnction thou shalt anoynt the tabernacle with the vessel therof, that they may be sanctified: 10. the altar of holocauste and al the vessel therof: 11. the lauer with the foote therof; al shalt thou consecrate with the oile of vnctiō, that they may be (b) most Holie. 12. And thou shalt bring Aaron and his sonnes to the doore of the tabernacle of testimonie, and hauing washed them with water, 13. thou shalt reueit them with the sacred vestments, that they may minister to me, and the vnction of them may prosper to an cuerlasting priesthood. 14. And Moyse did al things which our Lord had commaded. 15. Therefore

fore the first month of the second year, the first day of the month, the tabernacle was placed. 16. And Moyses erected it, and put the bords and feete and barres, and reared the pillers, 17. and spread the rooffe ouer the tabernacle, putting ouer it a couer, as our Lord had commanded. 18. He put also the testimonie in (b) the arke, thrusting barres vnderneath, and the oracle about. 19. And when he had brought the arke into the tabernacle, he drew before it the veile to fulfil the commandement of our Lord. 20. He set the table also in the tabernacle of testimonie at the north side without the veile, 21. ordering the bread of proposition before it, as our Lord had commanded Moyses. 22. He set the candlestick also in the tabernacle of testimonie ouer against the table on the south side, 23. placing the lamps in order, according to the precept of our Lord. 24. He set also the altar of gold vnder the rooffe of testimonie against the veile, 25. and burned vpon it the incense of spices, as our Lord had commanded Moyses. 26. He put also the hanging in the entrie of the tabernacle of testimonie, 27. and the altar of holocaust in the entrie of the testimonie, offering on it the holocauste, and the sacrifices, as our Lord had commanded. 28. The lauer also he set between the tabernacle of testimonie and the altar, filling it with water. 29. And Moyses and Aaron, and his sonnes washed their hands and feete, 30. when they entred the rooffe of couenant, and went to the altar, as our Lord had commanded Moyses. 31. He erected also the court, round about the tabernacle and the altar, drawing the hanging in the entrie therof. After al things were perfited, 32. the colud covered the tabernacle of testimonie, and the glorie of our Lord filled it. 33. (c) Neither could Moyses enter the rooffe of couenant, the colud covering al things, and the maiestie of our Lord shining, because the cloud had covered al things. 34. If at anie time the cloud did leaue the tabernacle, the children of Israel went forward by their troupes: 35. If it hong ouer, they remained in the same place. 36. For the cloud of our Lord hong ouer the tabernacle by day, and fire by night, in the sight of al the children of Israel throughout al their mansions.

(b) A gomor of Manna was now put in the arke mentioned before. chap. 16.

(c) Without al doubt, saith S. Augustin. q. 173. in Exod. Moyses prefigured other persons when he entred into the cloud on mount Sinai, and others now when he could not enter into the tabernacle replenished with the glorie of God. In Sinai he signified those that penetrate the profound mysteries of Christ, here the Iewes who vnderstand not the same.

THE ARGUMENT OF LEVITICVS.

So soone as the Tabernacle was erected, God declared the offices of the Levites, written in this book: wherof it is called Leviticus.

The contents of this book.

Diuided into six parts.

WHEN the Tabernacle was erected, nere to Mount Sinai, the first day of the second yeare, after the children of Israel parted from Egypt, and was so replenished with Gods Maiestie, that none, no not Moyses himself could enter in, our Lord speaking from thence, called Moyses, and declared to him the offices of the Levites; whom only, and no others, he deputed for the administration, and charge of sacred things: wherof this booke (wherin they are written) is called Leviticus. In which, saith S. Hierom, al and euerie Sacrifice, yea almost euerie fillable, and Aarons vestments, and the whole Leuical order breath forth heauenlie sacraments, or mysteries. For first, God here prescribeth what sacrifices he wil haue, in what manner, and to what purposes. Then what parts and qualities he requireth in Priests; how they shal be vested and consecrated, seuerely punishing some that transgressed: with commandement neither to offer in sacrifice, nor to eat things reputed vncleane, and the manner of purifying such things, and persons, as by diuers occasions were polluted: Interposing also some moral and iudicial precepts, appointeth certaine solemane feasts, times of rest, and Iubilie yeare. Finally, promiseth rewards and threatneth punishments to those that keepe or breake his commandements: with particular admonition touching vovves and tithes. So this booke may be deuided into six special partes. The first, of diuers sortes of Sacrifices: in the seven first chapters. The second, of consecrating Priests, and their vestments, with punishment for offering strange fire, in the three next chapters. The third, of distinction between cleane and vncleane, with the manner of purifying certaine legal vn-cleannes, and other precepts moral and iudicial, from the 11. chap. to the 23. The fourth, of feasts, times of rest, and Iubilie, with priuiledges, rewards, and punishments, from the 23. chap. to the 27. The fifth, of vovves, and tithes, in the last chapter.

Exod. vi.

Nu. 1.

Epist. ad Paulinum. Leuit.

1.

8.

II.

12.

18.

23.

26.

27.

THE BOOK LEVITICVS, IN HEBREW VAICRA.

CHAP. I.

Diuers rites in offering holocausts, as wel of cattle, 14. as of brids.

AND our Lord called Moyſes, and ſpake to him out of the tabernacle of testimony, ſaying : 2. Speake to the children of Iſrael, & thou ſhalt ſay to them : " The man of you, that ſhal offer an hoſte to our Lord, of beaſts, that is of oxen & ſheep, offering viſtimes 3. if his oblation be " an holocauſte, and of the heard, he ſhal offer (a) a male, without ſpot, at the dore of the tabernacle of teſtimonic, to propitiate our Lord vnto him : 4. and he ſhal put his hands vpon the head of the hoſte, and it ſhal be acceptable, and profitable to his expiation. 5. And he ſhal immolate the calfe before our Lord, and the children of Aaron the Priests ſhal offer the blood thereof, powring it in the circuit of the altar, which is before the dore of the tabernacle. 6. And the ſkinne of the hoſte being plucked off, the ioynts they ſhal cut into peeces, 7. and ſhal put fire vnderneath in the altar, hauing before laid a pyle of wood in order : 8. and the ioynts that are cut out, laying in order thereupon, to wit, the head, & al things that cleaue to the liuer, 9. the entrailes and feete being waſhed with water, and the Priest ſhal burne them vpon the altar for an holocauſte, and " ſweet ſauour to our Lord. 10. And if the oblation be of flocks, an holocauſte of ſheep or of goats, a lambe of 2 yeare old without ſpot ſhal he offer: 11. and he ſhal immolate it at the ſide of the altar that looketh to the North, before our Lord : but the blood thereof the

The firſt part
of this booke.
Of diuers ſorts of Sacrifices.

(a) The beſt and perfectest of cuerie kind is to be offered to God, not the blind, lame, or
weake. *Gen. 4.
Malach. 1.*

of Aaron shal powre vpon the Altar round about : 12. And they shal diuide the ioynts , the head , and al that cleaue to the liuer : and shal lay them vpon the wood , vnder which the fire is to be put : 13. but the entrailles & the feete they shal wash with water. And the whole the Priest shal offer , and burne vpon the altar for an holocaust , and most sweet sauour to our Lord. 14. But if the oblation of holocaust to our Lord be of birds , of turtles and yong pigeons , 15. the Priest shal offer it at the altar : and writhing the head to the necke , and breaking the place of the wound , he shal make the blood to runne downe vpon the brimme of the altar : 16. but the crop of the throat , and the fethers he shal cast nigh to the altar at the east side , in the place where the ashes are wont to be powred out , 17. & he shal breake the pinnions therof , and shal not cut nor diuide it with a knife , and shal burne it vpon the altar , putting fire vnder the wood. It is an holocaust and oblation of most sweete sauour to our Lord.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. I.

Sacrifice presupposed to be necessary, God prescribeth the rites to be obserued therein.

2. The man that shal offer.] Sacrifice being the most special external seruice, whereby man acknowledgeth the supreme dominion of God, & his owne subiection and homage to his diuine Maiestie, was so wel knowne to be necessarie (as being in most frequent vse in the law of nature , and in al nations) that here needed not anie new precept in general , that the people of God should offer sacrifice , though for special purposes , certaine particular sacrifices were sometimes appointed , but this dutie & obligation presupposed, our Lord first admonishing to offer the best & perfectest things in euerie kind, prescribeth with what rites & ceremonies it shal be done. As in offering an holocaust of the heard , it must be a male without spot ; and be offered at the dore of the tabernacle , the offerer putting his hands vpon the head of the holfe; the Priests must offer the blood , powring it in the circums of the altar; plucke of the skinne; cut the ioynts in peeces ; lay them in order ; the entrailles and feete being washed, burne at vpon the Altar: And the like in other sacrifices , al for iust and reasonable causes , without which the wisdom of God doth nothing. Sap. 7. & Psal. 103. v. 24.

Three kinds of Sacrifice. Holocauste.

Sacrifice for sinne.

Pacificke Sacrifice.

For benefits receiued , or desired.

3. An holocaust.) In respect of diuers things offered , the diuers manner , and causes of offering , there were manie sorts of Sacrifices : but al are rednced to three kinds. The first was Holocaust , in which al was burned in the honour of God , and resolued into vapour , which ascendeth vwards in signe that al we haue is of God. The second was Sacrifice for sinne , & that of diuers sorts , for the varietie of finnes and persons , and part of this sacrifice was burned , the other part belonged to the Priests. The third was Pacificke sacrifice , wherof one part was burnt , an other pertayned to the Priests , and an other to them , that gaue the oblation. And of this kind there were two sorts , one of thanksgiuing for benefits receiued : the other to procure sauour in anie good enterprise , or desire. Al the which did prefigure and foreshew one only Sacrifice of Christs bodie and blood , offered by him in two manners ; bloudie on the Crosse once for euer , wherof S. Paul expressly speaketh [Heb. 9.] vnbloudie in formes of bread and wine , wherof the same S. Paul speaketh [Heb. 13, v. 10.] shewing that Christians habe an Altar, and consequently a Sacrifice farre excelling those of the Tabernacle; and our Sauour himselfe (Math. 26. v. 28.) speaking of the contents in the chalice, said it was his blood of the new Testament; which he then instituted and dedicated, as is there noted. And the ancient Fathers (by Caluins confession in Heb. 9.) generally vse this distinction of the same Sacrifice offered in bloudie & in vnbloudie manner. They likewise teach that al lawful Sacrifices of the Law of nature, and of Moyses did end, and were complete in this one, which is our daylie Sacrifice, our immaculate lambe, our manna, our libament, our holocaust, our Sacrifice for sinne, our Pacifike Sacrifice for al purposes, and instead of al old Sacrifice. So S. Augustin lib. 8. c. 27. lib. 17. c. 20. de ciuit. lib. 3. de Bap. c. 19. lib. 1. cont. aduers. leg. & prophet. c. 12. & 20. S. Chrysoft. in Psal. 95. S. Leo. ser. 8. de Pass. and other fathers teach.

9. weet saucur] Not that the saucour of corporal things (though it were sweeter then of burnt flesh and bones) delighteth Gods most pure substance: but for that mans frailtie in some good sort performing his dutie, is very acceptable to his diuine goodnes. For otherwise he required not these Sacrifices, nor other external Rites for himself, but he would haue his people for their owne good to be exercised therein: especially for three causes. First, to keepe them from Idolatrie, wherto they were very prone, as appeareth by their often falling, notwithstanding continual admonitions to the contrarie. For being a. it were burdened with manie ceremonies pertaining to Gods true seruice, they might haue lesse mind, leysure, and occasion to serue Idols. Secondly, for so much as man consisteth of soule and bodie, as the soule must interiourly worship God in spirit and veritie; so the bodie must also honour him exteriorly, seruing iustice vnto sanctification: that is by external good works to increase iustice, and sanctitie, when by them the mind is instructed and inuited to know and honour God. For otherwise saith S. Dionyse (c. 1. celest. hierer.) vnles mans vnderstanding vse the help of corporal things, diuine veritie can not be attained. And S. Augustin (lib. 10. c. 5. ciuit.) teacheth that God commanded external Sacrifices, thereby to lead his seruants vnto mortified spirits, contrite and humbled hearts, to mercie and compassion towards others. In brieft (c. 3. Enchir.) to the true and perfect seruing of his Diuine power by faith, hope, and charitie. Thirdly, that these external Sacrifices and Rites might prefigure and signifie greater, more excellent, and more effectual Mysteries of the new Testament. For as S. Paul speaketh (Heb. 10.) the law (of Moyses) hauing a shadow of good things to come, not the verie image of the things, brought not to perfection: nor took away sinnes by the blood of oxen or goats, but being (as is said) a shadow, rather shaded then perfectly shewed the great benefits, which the new law as a perfect image liuely representeth: especially Christs passion, which is the verie fountaine of graee and mercie. And whereas the old law could not iustifie (Gal. 3.) the law of Christ doth indeed iustifie, as the Ghospel witnesseth, saying (Ioan. 1. v. 17.) The law was giuen by Moyses, grace and veritie was made by Iesus Christ.

Al sacrifices of the old Testament prefigured Christs Sacrifice on the Crosse, and in the Eucharist.

Not the external worke for it-selfe but sincere deuotion pleaseth God. External sacrifices were ordained:

1. To keepe the people from Idolatrie.
2. To induce them to internal vertues.

3. To signifie greater Mysteries of the new Testament.

Io. 4. v.
24.
Rom. 6.
v. 19.

Psa. 50.

C H A P. I I.

How to offer flowre, 4. loaves, wafers, with oyle and incense, without leauen or honie, 12. also first fruits. 13. And salt in euerie oblation.

WHEN a soule shal offer an oblation of sacrifice to our Lord, (a) fine flowre shal be his oblation, and he shal powre oyle vpon it, and put frankincense, 2. and shal carie it to the sonnes of Aaron the Priests: of whom one shal take a handful of the flowre, and the oyle, and al the frankincense, and shal put it a memorial vpon the Altar for a most sweet sauour to our Lord. 3. And that which shal be left of the sacrifice, shal be Aarons, & his sonnes, Holie of holies among the oblations of our Lord. 4. But when thou offerest a sacrifice baked in the ouen: of flowre, to wit, loaves without leauen, tempered with oyle, and wafers vnleauened layd ouer with oyle. 5. If thine oblation be of the frying panne, of flowre tempered with oyle, and without leauen, 6. thou shalt diuide it into litle pieces, and shalt powre oyle vpon it. 7. And if the sacrifice be from the gridiron, in like manner the flowre shal be tempered with oyle, 8. which offering to our Lord, thou shalt deliuer to the hands of the Priest. 9. Who hauing offered it shal take a memorie of the sacrifice, and burne it vpon the altar for a sweet sauour to our Lord, 10. and whatsoeuer is left, shal be Aarons, and his sonnes, Holie of holies among the oblations of our Lord. 11. Euerie oblation that is offered to our Lord, shal be made (b) without leauen, neyther shal any leauen and (b) honie be burned in the sacrifice of our Lord. 12. The first fruits only of them and the giifts you shal offer: but vpon the altar they shal not be put, or a sauour of sweetnes. 13. What sacrifice soeuer thou offerest, thou shalt season it with salt, neither shalt thou take away the salt of the couenāt of thy God from thy sacrifice. In euerie oblation thou shalt offer (c) salt. 14. But if thou offer a giift of the first fruits of thy corne to our Lord, of the eares being yet green, thou shalt drie it at the fire, and bruisse it in manner of meale, and so shalt thou offer thy first fruits to our Lord, 15. powring oyle vpon it, and putting on frankincense, because it is the oblation of our Lord. 16. Wherof the Priest shal burne for memorie of the giift, part of the meale bruised, and of the oyle, and al the frankincense.

a) These oblations were specially for the poorest sort. So God tempered his law to the abilitie of euerie one. Theod. 9. 1. in Lewis,

b) As literally no leauen nor honey might be offered in sacrifice: so al sinne and carnal delectatiō must be excluded in Christian life.

(c) That salt signifieth discretion, appeareth by S. Paul exhorting to season al our talke with salt. Collos. 4. v. 6,

C H A P . I I I .

How the pacifike hostes must be offered of beeves, 6. sheep, 7. lambes, 12. and goates.

AN D if his oblation be an hoste of pacifikes, and he wil offer of beeves, male or (a) female, without spot shal he offer them before our Lord. 2. And shal lay his hand vpon the head of his victime, which shal be immolated in the entrie of the tabernacle of testimonie, & the sonnes of Aaron the Priest shal poure the blood in the circuit of the alar. 3. And they shal offer of the host of pacifikes, for an oblation to our Lord, the fat that couered the entrailes, and whatsoeuer fat is within: 4. the two kidneys with the fat wherwith the guts are couered, and the caule of the liuer with the two little kydneyes. 5. And they shal burne them vpon the altar, for an (b) holocaust, putting fire vnder the wood: for an oblation of most sweet sauour to our Lord. 6. But if his oblation, and the hoste of pacifikes be of flocks, whether he offer male, or female, they shal be without spot. 7. If he offer a lambe before our Lord, 8. he shal put his hand vpon the head of his victime; which shal be immolated in the entrie of the tabernacle of testimonie: and the sonnes of Aaron shal powre the blood therof in the circuit of the altar. 9. And they shal offer of the host of pacifikes, a sacrifice to our Lord: the fat and the whole rump, 10. with the kidneys, and the fat that couereth the bellie and al the vital parts, and both little kydneyes, with the fat that is about the guts, and the caule of the liuer with the two little kidneys. 11. And the Priest shal burne them vpon the altar, to the food of the fire, and of the oblation of our Lord. 12. If his oblation be a goat, and he offer it to our Lord, 13. he shal put his hand vpon the head therof: and shal immolate it in the entrie of the tabernacle of testimonie. And the sonnes of Aaron shal poure the blood therof in the circuit of the altar. 14. And they shal take of it to the food of our Lords fire, the fat that couereth the bellie, and that couereth al the vital parts: 15. the two little kydneyes with the caule, that is vpon them about the guts, and the tallow of the liuer with the little kidneys: 16. and the Priest shal burne them vpon the altar, to the food of the fire, and of a most sweet sauour. Al the fat shal be our Lordes 17. by a perpetual right in your generations, and in al your habitations: you shal eate no blood nor fat at al.

(a) In holocaust onlie the male was offered, chap. 1. in other sacrifices both sexes were acceptable.

(b) These parts and the fat were burned as an Holocaust, the rest of the oblation being pacifike.

C H A P. IIII.

How a Priest, 13. the multitude, 22. a Prince, 27. or anie one of the people, sinning of ignorance, must offer hostes.

(a) Ignorance of that we are bound to know is sinne: and more in Priests then in others.

(b) We see here and in manie other places that numbers are mystical, not alwayes superfluous.

(c) A Priest, and the whole multitude offered the same sacrifice of a calfe, for their sinnes: the Prince offered a male goate, a priuate person a femal. See Theodoret q. 1. in Lewis. uersus finem.

AND our Lord spake to Moyfes, saying: 2. Speake to the children of Israel: The soule that sinneth by (a) ignorance, & doth anie thing of al the commandments of our Lord, which he commanded not to be done: 3. If the Priest that is anointed sinne, making the people to offend, he shal offer for his sinne a calfe without spot to our Lord, 4. and he shal bring it to the dore of testimonie before our Lord, and shal put his hand vpon the head therof, and shal immolate it to our Lord. 5. He shal draw also of the blood of the calfe, carying it into the tabernacle of testimonie. 6. And when he hath dipped his finger in the blood he shal sprinkle it (b) seuen times before our Lord, against the veile of the Sanctuarie. 7. and of the same blood he shal put vpon the hornes of the altar of incense most acceptable to our Lord, which is in the tabernacle of testimonie. And al the rest of the blood he shal powre at the foot of the altar of holocaust in the centre of the tabernacle. 8. And the fat of the calfe he shal take away for the sinne, as wel that which couereth the entrailes, as al the parts that are within. 9. The two litle kidneys, and the caule that is vpon them beside the guttes, & the fat of the liuer with the two litle kidneys, 10. as is taken away from the calfe which is an host of pacifikes, and he shal burne them vpon the altar of holocaust. 11. But the skinne and al the flesh with the head and feet and bowels and dung, 12. and the rest of the bodie he shal carie forth without the camp into a cleane place, where the aines are wont to be powred out: and he shal burne them vpon a pyle of wood, which shal be burnt in the place where the ashes are powred out. 13. And if al the multitude of Israel be ignorant, and through ignorance doe that which is against the commandement of our Lord, 14. and afterward vnderstand their sinne, they shal offer for their sinne (c) a calfe, and shal bring it to the doore of the tabernacle. 15. And the ancients of the people shal put their hands vpon the head therof before our Lord. And the calfe being immolated in the sight of our Lord, 16. the Priest that is anointed shal carie of the blood into the tabernacle of testimonie, 17. dipping his finger, & sprinkling seuen times against the veile. 18. and he shal put of the same blood on the hornes of the altar, that is before our Lord, in the tabernacle of testimonie: and the rest of the blood, he shal poure at the foot of the altar of holocauste, which is at the dore of the tabernacle of testimonie.

testimonie. 19. And al the fat therof he shal take vp, & shal burne it vpon the altar: 20. doing so with this calfe, as he did also before: & the Priest praying for them, our Lord wil be propitious vnto them. 21. But the calfe it-selfe he shal carie forth without the campe, and shal burne it like as the former calfe: (d) because it is for the sinne of the multitude. 22. If a Prince sinne, and by ignorance doe of manie things one, that by the law of our Lord is forbidden: 23. and afterward vnderstandeth his sinne, he shal offer an hoste to our Lord, a bucke of the goates without spot. 24. And he shal put his hand vpon the head therof: and when he hath immolated it in the place where holocaust is wont to be slaine before our Lord, because it is for sinne, 25. the Priest shal dip his finger in the blood of the hoste for sinne, touching the hornes of the altar of holocauste, and the rest powring at the foote therof. 26. But the fat he shal burne vpon it, as is wont to be done in the vittimes of pacifikes: and the Priest shal pray for him, and for his sinne, and it shal be forgiuen him. 27. And if a soule of the people of the land shal sinne through ignorance, doing anie of those things that by the law of our Lord are forbidden, and offending, 28. and knoweth his sinne, he shal offer a she goate without spot. 29. And he shal put his hand vpon the head of the host that is for sinne, and shal immolate it in the place of holocaust. 30. And the Priest shal take vp of the blood with his finger: and touching the hornes of the altar of holocaust, the rest he shal powre out at the foote therof. 31. But taking away al the fat, as is wont to be taken away of the vittimes of pacifikes, he shal burne it vpon the altar, for a sweet sauour to our Lord; and he shal pray for him, and it shal be forgiuen him. 32. But if he offer of the stocke a vittime for his sinne, to wit, an ewe without spot, 33. he shal put his hand vpon the head therof, and shal immolate it in the place where the hostes of holocausts are wont to be slayne. 34. And the Priest shal take of the blood therof with his finger, and touching the hornes of the altar of holocaust, the rest he shal powre at the foote therof. 35. Al the fat also he shal take away, as the fat of the ramme, that is offered for pacifikes, is wont to be taken away: and shal burne it vpon the altar, a burnt sacrifice of our Lord: and he shal pray for him, and for his sinne, and it shal be forgiuen him.

(d) Though in ordinarie sacrifices for sinne, one part was allotted to the Priests (by whose ministratione God remitted sinnes) yet of the sacrifice for a Priests sinnes, or for the sinnes of the multitude, the Priests had no part, lest they should saue cost, or reape commoditie by sacrifice for their owne or the whole peoples sinnes, but al was burned as in a holocaust. Theodoret q. 5. in Leuit. 5. Tho. 1. 2. q. 101. 2. 3. ad 8.

CHAP. V.

Of hostes, for the sinne of concealing an others periurie. 2. for vncleannes 4. for vaine swearing, 14. for error in exercising holic rites, 17. & for anie sinne committed by ignorance.

(a) When periurie doth prejudice an others cause, he that knoweth the truth is bōd to reueale it to the Iudges but with discretion to auoid scandal. (b) Swearing to doe that is euil, or not doing that is lawfully sworn, is sinne.

IF a soule sinne, and heare the voice of one swearing, and be witnes, because either he himsele saw, or is priue to it: (a) vnlesse he vtter it, he shal beare his iniquitie. 2. The soule that toucheth anie vncleane thing, either that which was killed of a beast, or died of it-lesse, or anie other thing that creepereth: and forgeteth his vncleannes, is guiltie, and hath offended: 3. and if he touch anie thing of the vncleānesse of man, according to anie impuritie wherwith he is wont to be polluted, & hauing forgotten, doe know it afterward, he shal be guiltie of an offence. 4. The soule that sweareth, and vttereth with his lips that he would doe (b) either il or wel, and bindeth the same with an oath, and his word, & hauing forgotten afterward vnderstandeth his offence, 5. let him doe penance for his sinne, 6. and offer of the flockes an ewe lambe, or a shee goat, and the Priest shal pray for him and for his sinne: 7. but if he be not able to offer a beast, let him offer two turtles, or two yong pigions to our Lord, one for sinne, and the other for an holocaust, 8. and he shal giue them to the Priest: who offering the first for sinne, shal wryth backe the head therof to the litle pinions, so that it sticke to the necke, and be not altogether broken off. 9. And of the blood therof he shal sprinckle the wai of the altar, and whatsoeuer is left, he shal make it distil to the bottome therof, because it is for sinne. 10. And the other he shal burne for an holocauste, as is wont to be done: and the Priest shal pray for him, and for his sinne, and it shal be forgiven him. 11. And if his hand be not able to offer two turtles, or two yong pigions, he shal offer for his sinne of floure the tenth part of an ephi. He shal not put oyle vpon it, nor cast anie frankincense thereon, because it is for sinne, 12. and he shal deliuer it to the Priest: who taking therof a ful handful, shal burne it vpon the altar for a moniment of him that did offer it, 13. praying for him & making expiation: but the part that is left, himsele shal haue for a giift. 14. And our Lord spake to Moyse, saying: 15. If a soule transgressing the ceremonies, by error shal sinne in those things that are sanctined to our Lord, he shal offer for his offence a ramme without spot out of the flockes, that may be bought for two sicles, according to the weight of the Sanctuarie:

16. and (c) the damage it-selfe which he did, he shal restore, and the fift part he shal adde besides, deliuering it to the Priest, who shal pray for him, (d) offering the ramme, and it shal be forgiuen him. 17. If a soule sinne by ignorance, and doe one of those things which by the law of the Lord are forbidden, and being guiltie of sinne, vnderstand his iniquitie, 18. he shal offer a ramme without spot of the flockes to the Priest, according to the measure and estimation of the sinne: who shal pray for him, because he did it vnwitting: and it shal be forgiuen him, 19. because by errorr he offended against the Lord.

(c) For remission of sinne restitution is first required if iniurie was done.

(d) Besides restitution satisfaction is also necessarie for the offence to God Theodoret. q. 1. in Leuitic.

C H A P. V I.

Oblation for sinne wittingly committed. 8. The manner of offering holocaust. 12. Continual fire to be kept in the Altar. 14. The sacrifices which Priests shal offer at their Consecration. 24. In general of hostes for sinne, and who shal ease of the same, and where.

V R Lord spake to Moyfes, saying: 2. The soule that shal sinne, and contemning the Lord, shal denie vnto his neighbour the thing deliuered to his custodie, which was committed to his credit, or shal by force extort anie thing, or doe oppression, 3. or shal find a thing lost, and denying it, be also forsworne, and shal doe anie other thing of manie, wherein men are went to sinne, 4. being conuicted of the offence, 5. he shal render al things which by fraud he would haue obteyned, whole, and the fift part besides to the owner vnto whom he did the damage. 6. But (a) for his sinne he shal offer a ramme without spot out of the flocke, and shal giue it to the Priest, according to the estimation and measure of the offence: 7. who shal pray for him before the Lord, and he shal haue forgiuenes for euerie thing that in doing he sinned. 8. And our Lord spake to Moyfes, saying: 9. Command Aaron and his sonnes: This is the Law of an holocaust: It shal be burnt vpon the altar, al night vntil morning: the fire shal be vpon the same altar. 10. The Priest shal be reuested with the tunike and the linnen femorals: and he shal take vp the ashes, which the deuouring fire burned, and putting them besides the altar, 11. shal be vnuested of his former vestments, and being clothed with others, shal carie them forth, without the campe, and in a most cleane place shal cause them to be consumed vnto dust. 12. And the fire on the altar (b) shal alwaies burne, which the Priest shal nourish, putting wood vnderneath, in the morning euerie

(a) Such examples of penance of satisfaction for sinne besides restitution of that was wrongfully taken, are frequent in Moyfes Law.

(b) This fire was first sent miraculously from God (infra. c. 9 v. 24.) and according to this commandment, was perpetually conserued: from which al fire was to be taken that was vsed in the tabernacle.

day

*S. Aug. q. 31.
& Theod. q. 9.
in Leviticum.*
Mystically it signified, that the fire of charitie being first kindled in mans hart by Gods grace, must be continually nourished and kept burning, from which al other good workes are deriued.

[c) By flesh of penance is vnderstood, fasting, watching, hair-cloth, teares, prayers, almes, which whose-euer duly toucheth shall be sanctified.
Hesychius Hie-rogl. li 2. in Leuis. c. 6.

day, and laying on the holocaust, therupon shall burne the fat of the pacifikes. 13. This fire is continual which shall neuer faile on the altar. 14. This is the Law of the sacrifice and libaments, which the children of Aaron shall offer before the Lord, and before the altar. 15. The Priest shall take vp a handful of the floure, that is tempered with oyle, and al the frankincense, that is put vpon the floure: and he shall burne it on the altar for a monument of most sweet odour to the Lord: 16. and the part of the floure that is left, shall Aaron eat with his sonnes, without leauen: and he shall eat it in the Holie place of the court of the tabernacle. 17. And therefore it shall not be leauened, because part therof is offered for the burnt sacrifice of the Lord. It shall be most Holie, as that for sinne, and for offence. 18. The males onlie of Aarons stocke shall eat it. It shall be an ordinance and euerlasting in your generations of the sacrifices of the Lord. Euerie one that toucheth them, shall be sanctified. 19. And our Lord spake to Moyfes, saying: 20. This is the oblation of Aaron, and of his sonnes, which they must offer to the Lord, in the day of their vnction. The tenth part of an ephi of floure shall they offer in a sacrifice for euer, halfe therof in the morning, and halfe therof at euen: 21. which being tempered with oile shall be fried in a frying panne. 22. And the Priest that by right succeedeth his father, shall offer it hote, for a most sweet odour to the Lord, and it shall wholly be burnt on the altar. 23. For euerie sacrifice of the Priest shall be consumed with fire, neither shall anie man eat therof. 24. And our Lord spake to Moyfes, saying: 25. Speake to Aaron and his sonnes: This is the law of the holte for sinne. In the place where the holocaust is offered, shall it be immolated before our Lord. It is Holie of holies. 26. The Priest that doth offer it, shall eat it in a holie place, in the court of the tabernacle. 27. Whatsoeuer shall touch (c) the flesh therof, shall be sanctified. If of the blood therof a garment be sprinkled, it shall be washed in a holie place. 28. And the earthen vessel, wherin it was sodden, shall be broken, but if the vessel be of brasse, it shall be scoured, and washed with water. 29. Euerie male of the priestlie race shall eat of the flesh therof, because it is Holie of holies. 30. For the holte that is slaine for sinne, whose blood is caried into the tabernacle of testimonie to make expiation in the Sanctuarie, shall not be eaten, but shall be burnt with fire.

C H A P. VII.

The manner of offering hostes for offences, 11. and of pacifike victims, for thanks-giuing. 22. No fat, 26. nor bloud is to be eaten.

HIS also is the law of an hoste for an offence, the most Holie: 2. therefore where the holocaust is immolated, the victime also for an offence shal be slaine: the bloud therof shal be poured round about the altar. 3. They shal offer therof the rump and the fat that couereth the entrails: 4. the two little kidneys, and the fat that is beside the guttes, and the caule of the liuer with the two litle kydneyes. 5. And the Priest shal burne them vpon the altar: it is the burnt sacrifice of our Lord for an offence. 6. Euerie male of the Priests stocke, in a holie place shal eat this flesh, because it is most Holie. 7. As the hoste for (a) sinne is offered, so also that for an (a) offence: the law of both hostes shal be one: to the Priest that offereth it, it shal pertaine. 8. The Priest that offereth the victime of holocaust, shal haue the skinne therof. 9. And euerie sacrifice of flowre, that is baked in the one, & whatsoeuer is prepared vpon the grediron, or in the frying panne, it shal be that Priestes by who it is offered. 10. Whether they be tempered with oyle, or drie, to al the sonnes of Aaron equal measure shal be diuided to euerie one. 11. This is the law of the hoste of pacifikes that is offered to our Lord. 12. If the oblation be for thanks-giuing, they shal offer loaves without leauen tempered with oyle, and wafers vnleauened laid ouer with oyle, and fryed flour, and manchets tempered with the mingling of oyle: 13. loaves also leauened with the hoste of thanks, which is offered for pacifikes: 14. wherof one for first fruits shal be (b) offered to our Lord, and shal be the Priests that shal poure out the bloud of the hoste. 15. the flesh wherof shal be eaten the same day, neither shal anie of it remaine vntil morning. 16. If anie man by vow, or of his owne accord offer an hoste, it shal in like manner be eaten the same day: but if ought remaine vntil the morrow, it is lawful to eat it: 17. but whatsoeuer the third day shal find, fire shal consume it. 18. If anie man eate of the flesh of the victime of pacifikes the third day, the oblation shal be of none effect, neither shal it profite the offerer: yea rather whatsoeuer soule shal defile it-selfe with such meate, shal be guiltie of preuarication. 19. The flesh that hath touched any vncleane thing, shal not be eaten, but shal be burnt with fire: he that is cleane, shal eat therof. 20. A soule being polluted that eateth of the flesh of the hoste of pacifikes, which is offered to our Lord, shal perish from his people. 21. And that which hath touched the vncleannes of man , or of beast , or of anie thing that can pollute , & eateth of such kind of flesh , shal perish from his people. 22. And our Lord spake to Moyfes , saying : 23. Speake to the children of Israel : The fat of a sheep , and of an ox , and of a goate you shal not eate. 24. The fat of the carcasse of carraine , & of the beast that was caught of an other beast , you shal haue for diuers vses. 25. If anie man eate the fat that should be offered for the burnt sacrifice of our Lord , he shal perish out of his people. 26. The bloud also of whatsoever beast you shal not take in meate , aswel of birds as of cattel. 27. Euerie soule that eateth bloud , shal perish out of his people. 28. And our Lord spake to Moyfes , saying : 29. Speake to the children of Israel , saying : He that offereth a victime of pacifikes to our Lord , let him offer therwith a sacrifice also , that is , the libaments therof. 30. He shal hold in his hands the fat of the hoste , and the brest : & when he hath offered and consecrated both to our Lord , he shal deliuer them to the Priest , 31. who shal burne the fat vpon the altar , but the brest shal be Aarons , and his sonnes. 32. The right shoulder also of the pacifike hostes shal fal for first fruits of the Priest. 33. He of the sonnes of Aaron , that offereth the bloud , and the fat , himselfe shal haue the right shoulder also for his portuon. 34. For the brest of eleuation and the shoulder of separation I haue taken of the children of Israel , from their pacifike hostes , and haue giuen them to Aaron the Priest , and to his sonnes , by a law for euer , of al the people of Israel. 35. This is the anoynting of Aaron and his sonnes , in the ceremonies of our Lord , in the day when Moyfes offered them , that they might doe the function of pricthood , 36. and the things that our Lord commanded to be giuen them of the children of Israel , by a perpetual religion in their generations. 37. This is the law of holocauste , and of the sacrifice for siane , and for an offence , and for consecration , and the victimes of pacifikes : 38. Which our Lord appointed to Moyfes in mount Synai when he commanded the children of Israel , that they should offer their oblations to our Lord in the desert of Synai.

(a) This text sheweth there is difference in the nature of a fault committed, commonly called sinne, & of dutie omitted here called offence, in latin peccatum and delictum. Yet both are alike offensive to God, in matter of equal importance. As appeareth, for that the same sacrifice was offered for both. S. Aug. 9. 20. in LEUIS. (b) Given or presented to our Lord, not offered vpon the Altar, for no leaue could be offered in sacrifice, cap. 2. v. 11.

C H A P. VIII.

Moyfes consecrath Aaron high-Priest , 13. and his sonnes Priests , 33. continuing in the tabernacle seven dayes and nights.

The second part. Of consecrating Priests , & their vestments : with punishment of some that transgressed.

AN D Our Lord spake to Moyfes , saying : 2. Take Aaron with his sonnes , their vestments , and the oyle of vnction , a calfe for sinne , two Rammes , a basket with azymes , 3. and thou shalt gather al the assemblie to the dore of the tabernacle. 4. And Moyfes did as our Lord had commanded. And al the multitude being gathered before the dore

dore of the tabernacle, 5. he said: This is the word, that our Lord hath commanded to be done. 6. And immediately he offered Aaron & his sonnes: and when he had (a) washed them, 7. he (b) reuested the high-Priest with the strait linnen garment, girding him with a bawdrike, & reuesting him with the tunicke of hyacinth, and ouer it he put the Ephod, 8. which he straitning with the girdle, fitted it to the Rationale, wherein was (c) Doctrine and Veritie. 9. with the mitre also he couered his head: and vpon it, against the forehead, he put the plate of gold consecrated in sanctification, as our Lord had commanded him. 10. He took also the oyle of vnction, wherewith he anoynted the tabernacle, with all the furniture therof. 11. And sanctifying them, and hauing sprinkled the altar seuen times, he anoynted it, and all the vessel therof, and the lauer with the foote therof he sanctified with the oyle. 12. The which pouring vpon Aarons head, he anoynted, & consecrated him: 13. his sonnes also after he had offered them, he reuested with linnen tunikes and girded them with bawdrikes, and put mitres on them, as our Lord had commanded. 14. He offered also the calfe for sinne: and when Aaron and his sonnes had put their hands vpon the head therof, 15. he did immolate it: drawing the blood, & dipping his finger, touched the hornes of the altar round about. Which being expiated, and sanctified, he poured the rest of the blood at the botome therof. 16. But the fat that was vpon the entrailes, and the caule of the liuer, & the two little kidneys, with their little tallow he burnt vpon the altar: 17. the calfe with the skinned, and the flesh, and the dung, he burnt without the campe, as our Lord had commanded. 18. He offered also a ramme for an holocaust: vpon the head wherof when Aaron and his sonnes had put their hands, 19. he did immolate it, and poured the blood therof in the circuite of the altar. 20. And cutting the ramme it-selfe into pieces, the head therof, and the ioyns, and the fat he burnt with fire, 21. hauing first washed the entrailes, & the fecte, & the whole ramme together he burnt vpon the altar, because it was an holocaust of most sweet odour to our Lord, as he had commanded him. 22. He offered also the second ramme, for the consecration of Priestes: and Aaron and his sonnes did put their hands vpon the head therof: 23. which when (a) Moyses had immolated, taking of the blood therof, he touched the tip of Aarons right eare, and the thumb of his right hand, in like manner also of his foote. 24. He offered also the sonnes of Aaron: and when of the blood of the ramme, being immolated, he had touched the tip of the right eare of euery one, and the thumbs of the right hand and foote, the rest he poured on the altar, round about: 25. but the fat, and the rump, and all the fat that couereth the entrailes, and the caule of the liuer, and the two kidneies with their fat, and with the right shoulder, he seperated. 26. And taking out of the basket of azymes, which was before our Lord, a loafe without leauen, and a manchet tempered with oyle, and a wafer, he put them vpon the fat, and the right shoulder, 27. deliuering

(a) Washing signified puritie required in Priestes.

(b) Precious vestemets their dignitie: and holie oyle their authoritie.

(c) When the high-Priest at any time put the Ephod to the Rationale, God gaue answers to his demands, in matters of doctrine & veritie: which King David willed Abiathar to doe 1. Reg. 23. v. 9. Neuer could anie woman weaue doctrine & veritie, but diuine wisdom did make such garments. S. Cyril. lib. 6. in Leuit.

(d) As wel by the function of consecrating Priestes, as of offering Sacrifice, it appeareth that Moyses was a Priest. Yea the chiefe and highest Priest (Iacob S. Aug.) for his more excellent ministerie and extraordinarie calling: Aaron was high-Priest for his Pötical inuesture, & creinarie vocation, which should continue in his successors. q. 25. in Leuit.

al to Aaron, and to his sonnes. Who hauing lifted them vp before our Lord, 28. he tooke them againe of their hands, and burnt them vpon the altar of holocaust, because it was the oblation of consecration, for a sweet odour, of the sacrifice to our Lord. 29. And he tooke of the rāme of consecration, the brest for his portion, eleuating it before our Lord, as our Lord had commanded him. 30. And taking the oyntment, and the bloud that was vpon the altar, he sprinkled it vpon Aaron, and his vestiments, & vpon his sonnes and their vestiments. 31. And when he had sanctified them in their vestiments, he commanded them, saying: Boile the flesh before the dore of the tabernacle, and there eate it. Eate ye also the loaves of consecration, that are laid in the basket, as our Lord commanded me, saying: Aaron and his sonnes shal eate them: 32. and whatsoever shal be left of the flesh, and the loaves, fire shal consume. 33. Out of the dore also of the tabernacle you shal not goe forth seuen daies, vntil the day wherin the time of your consecration shal be expired, for in seuen dayes the consecration is finished: 34. as at this present it hath been done, that the rite of the sacrifice might be accomplished. 35. Day & night shal you tarie in the tabernacle obseruing the watches of our Lord, lest you die: for so it hath been commanded me. 36. And Aaron, and his sonnes did al things which our Lord spake by the hand of Moyfes.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. I.

Particular calling and consecration necessarie to priestlie offices, & authoritie in spiritual causes.

Ordering of Priests was a Sacrament in the law of Moyfes.

6. Offered Aaron] By this manner of saking, offering, and consecrating Aaron High-Priest, S. Paul sheweth that none may challenge to themselves, nor presume to exercise priestlie offices, or anie authoritie in spiritual causes, but such as be orderly called therto. Yea that Christ himself would not haue exercised this function. but that he was also called of God vnto it, saying: Euerie High-Priest taken from among men, is appointed for men, in those things that pertaine to God. Neither doth anie man take the honour to himself, but he that is called of God, as Aaron. So Christ also did not glorifie himself, that he might be made a High-Priest: but he that spake to him: Thou art a Priest for euer, according to the order of Melchisedech Aarons sonnes were also called, but to lower offices, dignitie, and authoritie. And both he and they were ordained and consecrated by a peculier Sacrament, to wit, by certaine determinate external ceremonies and rites, signifying grace giuen them by God, for the due performing of their function. For first, they were taken from the common state of men, wherby is designed their ordinarie vocation; then purified by certaine washings and sacrifice for sinne, signifying special puritie required in them; afterwards inuested with holie and precious garments, which signified their sacred function, and great dignitie, excelling al temporal dominion and principallitie; finally, consecrated in solemne manner with holie ointment,

Heb. 5.

Psal. 109.

and

and bloud of pacifike sacrifice offered for this purpose, other sacrifice of holocaust also offered in the same solemnitie.

7. Requested.) The high-Priest had seuen special ornaments in his vesture. First, a strait linnen white garment; signifying puritie of life most specially required in Priestes. Secondly, a girdle or Bawdrike of twisted silke and gold, of embrodered worke, in colours yellow, blew, purple, and scarlet; signifying discrete moderation of his aetes, to the spiritual profite of al sorts of people. Thirdly, a Tunike or long robe downe to the foote, of hyacinth, or blew silke, at the skirt therot like pomegranates wrought of twisted silke, blew, purple and scarlet, and litle belles of purest (yellow) gold interposed one by the other rownd about, of each sort fenentie two; signifying heauenlie conuersation vpon earth, also vnion and concord in faith and manners, with edification by good workes. Fourthly, an ornament vpon his shoulders, called an Ephod, of gold and twisted silke, embrodered of the former colours, reaching before to the girdle, with two precious Onyx stones closed in gold, one hauing engrauen six names of the tribes of Israel, set on one shoulder, the other hauing the other six names on the other shoulder, for a remembrance that he must support and meekly beare the infirmities of the people. Fifthly, a breast-plate called Rationale, of the same precious matter, the measure of a palme, foure square, embrodered with the same foure colours, with foure rewes of twelue precious stones, and therein engrauen the names of the twelue tribes. Besides which were engrauen also V R I M and T H V M M I M, Illuminations and Perfections, or Doctrine and Veritie, because the high-Priest must haue knowledge of the truth, and sincere intention. Likewise in the Ephod and Rationale were rings, hooks, and chaines of purest gold, to ioyne them fast together. Al signifying the perpetual sollicitude and care which he ought to haue in his hart, to know and teach the truth, that the people may truly serue God, to his honour and their owne saluation. Sixthly, a Mitre of twisted silke, with litle crownes of embrodered worke, set on his head, to signifie that he must direct al his actions to Gods glorie, that sitteth about al. Seuenthly, A plate of sacred veneration, made of the finest gold, with the most holie name of God engrauen, set on his forehead; to put him stil in remembrance to contemplate God and his workes.

13. His sonnes.) The other Priestes had three special ornaments: a Linnen white garment, a Bawdrike, and a Mitre, for glorie and beautie; to signifie the qualities about mentioned, puritie, discretion, and direct intension also required in them.

10. Tooke oile.) A third thing that Moyses was bid to take, besides the men and vestiments, was the holie oile of vnction, which he poured only vpon the high-Priests head, not on other Priestes; to signifie that power descended from him to the rest. But both he and they, and their holie vestiments were sprinkled with this oile, and with bloud taken from the altar; their right eares also were touched with the bloud of a ramme, sacrificed, and their right thumbs, and great toes of their right hands, and feete; to signifie prompt obedience, and right intention, in offering sacrifice, according to Gods ordiance, and not after the manner of infidels, or humane inuention, nor to anie sinister intent or purpose.

14. He offered the case.) Other things which Moyses was here commanded to take, at the consecration of Priestes, were a calic, to be offered in sacrifice for sinne; two rammes, the one in holocaust, the other in pacifike sacrifice, for the consecration of Priestes; and a basket of vnleauened bread, to be offered with the two rammes. Al for the greater solemnitie of this Sacrament of Orders. By which Aaron and his sonnes were made the lawful and ordinarie Priestes of the law newly deliuered by Moyses. And so Priesthood was changed from the first borne of euerie familie, and established only in Aaron and his sonnes, and their issue male, to be in like sort consecrated. And the rest of the Leuites to assist them. By this also was prefigured the Sacrament of holie Orders in the Church of Christ, with an other change of Priesthood from the familie & order of Aaron,

Seuen precious vestments for the high-Priest signifying:

1. Puritie.
2. Discretion.
3. Good workes of edification.

4. Toleration of others infirmities.

5. Knowledge and sinceritie.

6. Intention directed to God.

7. Contemplation of God & his workes.

Other Priestes had also three ornaments.

Aaron annointed high-Priest

His sonnes also consecrated.

Al three kinds of sacrifice offered at the consecration of Priestes.

Priesthood and Law changed together.

S. Hieron.
Epist ad Fabiol.

Numb. 3.

The Sacramēt of holie Orders prefigured and the new Law.

to Priests of the new Testament, of what familie or nation soeuer. And withal an other change of the law. For the Priesthood being translated, is is necessarie (saith S. Paul) that a transfusion of the Law be also made. And this Sacrament indeed giueth grace (as by the other it was only signified) to those that are rightly ordered. As the same Apostle testifieth, willing Timothie to resuscitate the grace giuen him by imposition of hands. 2. Timor. 1. S. Ambrose in 1. Timor. 4. S. August. lib. de bono coniugali c. 24. & lib. 2. contra Epist. Parmen. Theodoret q. 48. in lib. 1. num.

Heb. 7

CHAP. IX.

Sacrifices for sinne, 12. and of holocauste, 18. and pacifikes are offered: 22. and Aaron stretching forth his hand blesteth the people.

(a) The people before worshipped a calfe for God,
Exod. 32.
Now therefore they offer a calfe in sacrifice to God,
for their sinne, and to keep them from idoltrie. S.
Hieron. in Hie-
rem. 7.

(b) God appeared in his worke by sending fire to burne the sacrifice, without mans in-dustrie. v. 24.

AND when the eight day was come, Moyfes called Aaron and his sonnes, and the ancients of Israel, and said to Aaron: 2. Take of the heard (a) a calfe for sinne, and a ramme for an holocaust, both without spot, and offer them before our Lord. 3. And to the children of Israel thou shalt speake: Take ye a buck goat for sinne, and a calfe, and a lambe, of a yeare old, & without spot for an holocaust, 4. an ox and a ramme for pacifikes: and immolate them before our Lord, offering in the sacrifice of cuerie one flowre tempered with oile; for to day our Lord wil appeare to you. 5. They tooke therefore al things that Moyfes had commanded before the dore of the tabernacle: where when al the multitude stood, 6. Moyfes said: This is the word, which our Lord hath commanded: doe it, (b) and his glorie wil appeare to you. 7. And he said to Aaron: Approch to the altar, & immolate for thy sinne: offer the holocaust, and pray for thy self and for the people, and when thou hast slaine the peoples hoste, pray for them, as our Lord hath commanded. 8. And forthwith Aaron approching to the altar, immolated the calfe for his sinne: 9. the bloud wherof his sonnes brought to him: wherin dipping his finger, he touched the hornes of the altar, and poured the rest at the foote therof. 10. And the fat, and the litle kidneys, and the caule of the liuer, which are for sinne, he burnt vpon the altar, as our Lord had commanded Moyfes: 11. but the flesh and skinne therof he burnt with fire without the campe. 12. He immolated also the victime of holocaust: and his sonnes brought him the bloud therof, which he poured in the circuite of the altar. 13. The hoste also it-selfe being cut into pieces, they brought with the head and cuerie member. Al which he burnt with fire vpon the altar, 14. hauing first washed the entrailes and the feete with water. 15. And offering for the sinne of the people, he slew the bucke goat: and expiating

expiating the altar: 16. he made the holocaust, 17. adding in the sacrifice the libaments, which are offered withal, and burning them vpon the altar, beside the ceremonies of the morning holocaust. 18. He immolated also the ox, and the ramme, the pacifike hostes of the people: and his sonnes brought him the bloud, which he poured vpon the altar round about. 19. The fat also of the ox, and the rump of the ramme, and the two little kindneys with their fat, and the caule of the liuer, 20. they put vpon the breasts, & after the fat was burnt vpon the altar, 21. their breasts, & the right shoulders, Aaron did sperate, eleuating them before our Lord, as Moyses had commanded. 22. And (c) stretching forth his hand to the people, he blessed them. And so the hostes for sinne, and the holocaustes, and the pacifikes being finished, he descended. 23. And Moyses and Aaron going into the tabernacle of testimonie, & afterward coming forth, blessed the people. And the glorie of our Lord appeared to al the multitude: 24. & behold (d) a fire coming forth from our Lord, deuoured the holocaust, and the fat that was vpon the altar: Which thing, when the multitude had seen, they praised our Lord, falling on their faces.

(c) This did signifie that Christ, in whom all nations are blessed, should be stretched on the Grosse where he redeemed vs, in memorie whereof we now make the signe of the Crosse (d) The Priests were commanded to nourish and keepe this fire perpetually that it should not be extinguished. ch. 6. v. 12.

C H A P. X.

Nadab and Abiu the sonnes of Aaron, for offering strange fire, are burnt to death, and cast out of the campe: 6. for whom the people mourne, but not the Priests. 8. Priests are forbid to drinke wine, when they enter into the tabernacle, 12. and are commanded to eate the residue of oblations in the holie place, 16. which this time in part they omitted, and are excused, being sorrowful for that which happened to Nadab and Abiu.

AND Nadab and Abiu the sonnes of Aaron catching censors, did put in fire, and incense therupon, offering before our Lord strange fire, which was not commāded them. 2. And fire coming forth from our Lord, (a) deuoured thē, & they dyed before our Lord. 3. And Moyses said to Aaron: This is it which our Lord hath spokē: I will be sanctified in them, that approach to me, and in the sight of al the people I will be glorified. Which Aaron hearing held his peace. 4. And Moyses calling Misael and Elisaphan, the sonnes of Oziel, the vnckle of Aaron, said to them: Goe and take away your brethren from the sight of the Sanctuarie, and carie them without the campe. 5. And going forth with they tooke them as they lay, reuested with linnen tuniks, and did cast them forth, as it had been commanded them. 6. And Moyses spake to Aaron, & to Eleazar, and Ithamar his sonnes:

(a) Such as receiued more at Gods hand, are more seuerely punished if they transgress. S. Aug. 9. 21. in Lemis. By this also al are warned to be content with the doctrine of the Holie Ghost, to abhorre heresies, the fautors whereof adde falsehood to Gods word, & preferre their owne wicked inuentions before the true sense of holie Scripture. Theod. 4. 5. in Lemis.

(b) Abstinence from wine commanded to Priests when they serued in the tabernacle, not at other times: for the serued at certaine times by turnes. Theod. 9. 10. in Levit. As for drunkennes it is forbid to al men, and at al times.

(c) Natural grieffe of mind made Aaron both vnwilling to eate & lesse apt to cōplete al the ceremonies: so without sinne he omitted that pertained to his commoditie, offering it to God.

Vncouer not your heads, and rent not your vestiments, lest perhaps you die, & indignation come vpon al the assemblie. Let your brethren, & al the house of Israel, lament the burning that our Lord hath raised, 7. and your selues shal not goe out of the dore of the tabernacle, otherwise you shal perish: for the oyle of holie vnction is vpon you. Who did al things according to the precept of Moyfes. 8. Our Lord also said to Aaron: 9. Wine, and anie thing that may make drunke, you shal not drinke, thou and thy sonnes, (b) when you enter into the tabernacle of testimonie, lest you die: because it is an euerlasting precept through your generations. 10. And that you may haue knowledge to discerne between the holie and prophane, between the polluted and cleane: 11. and may teach the children of Israel al my ordinances, which the Lord hath spoken to them by the hand of Moyfes. 12. And Moyfes spake to Aaron and to Eleazar, and Ithamar his sonnes, that were left: Take the sacrifice, that is remayning of the oblation of our Lord, and eate it without leauen beside the altar, because it is Holie of holies. 13. And you shal eate it in a holie place: which is giuen to thee and thy sonnes of the oblations of our Lord, as it hath been commanded me. 14. The brest also that is offered, and the shoulder that is seperated, you shal eate in a most cleane place, thou and thy sonnes, and thy daughters with thee. For they are laid apart for thee and thy children, of the healthful hosts of the children of Israel: 15. because the shoulder and the brest, and the fat that is burnt on the altar, they haue eleuated before our Lord, and they pertaine to thee, and to thy sonnes by a perpetuallaw, as our Lord hath commanded. 16. Among these things, when Moyfes sought for the bucke goate, that had been offered for sinne, he found it burnt: and being angrie against Eleazar, and Ithamar the sonnes of Aaron that remained, he said: 17. Why did you not eate the hoste for sinne, in a holie place, which is most Holie, and giuen to you, that you may beare the iniquitie of the multitude, and may pray for it in the sight of our Lord, 18. especially wheras of the bloud therof, there hath not been caried within the holie places, and you ought to haue eaten it in the Sanctuarie, as it was commanded me? 19. Aaron answered: This day hath been offered the victime for sinne, and the holocaust before our Lord: and to me that is chanced which thou seest, how could I eate it, or please our Lord in ceremonies hauing (c) a sorowful hart? 20. Which when Moyfes had heard, he was satisfied with his answer.

C H A P. XI.

*The distinction of cleane and vncleane in beastes, fish, birdes, and other things.
43. with commandment to be holie ana impolluted.*

AND our Lord spake to Moyfes & (a) Aaron, saying: 2. Say to the children of Israel: These are the beastes which you ought to eat of al the liuing things of the earth. 3. Euerie one that hath the hooft diuided, and cheweth the cud among the cattel, you shal eat. 4. But whatsoeuer indeed cheweth the cud, and hath an hooft, but diuideth it not, as the camel, and others, that you shal not eat, and among the vncleane you shal repute it. 5. Cherogryl which cheweth the cud, and diuideth not the hooft, is vncleane. 6. The hare also: for that also cheweth the cud, but diuideth not the hooft. 7. And the swine: which though it diuideth the hooft, cheweth not the cud. 8. The flesh of these you shal not eat, nor touch their carcasses, because they are vncleane to you. 9. These are the things that breed in the waters, and which it is lawful to eat. Al that hath finnes, and scales, aswel in the sea, as in the riuers, and the pooles, you shal eat. 10. But whatsoeuer hath not finnes and scales, of those that moue and liue in the waters, shal be vnto you abhominable, 11. and execrable, their flesh you shal not eat, and their carcasses you shal avoid. 12. Al that haue not finnes and scales in the waters, shal be polluted. 13. Of birds these are they which you must not eat, and are to be auoided of you: The Eagle, and the griffon, and the osprey, 14. and the kite, and the vulture according to his kind, 15. and euerie one of the rauens kind, according to their similitude, 16. the ostrich, and the owle, and the sterne, and the harke according to his kind, 17. the scritchowle, & the diuer, and the storke, 18. and the swanne, and the onocratal, and the porphirion, 19. the herodian, & the charadriion according to his kind, the lapwing also, and the bat. 20. Of foules euerie one that goeth vpon foure feete, shal be abhominable to you. 21. And whatsoeuer walketh vpon foure feete, but hath the legs behind longer, wherwith he hoppeth vpon the earth, 22. that you shal eat, as is the bruke in his kind, the attake, and the ophiomach, and the locust, cuerie one according to their kind. 23. But of foule whatsoeuer hath foure feete onlie, shal be execrable to you: 24. and whatsoeuer shal touch the carcasses of them, shal be polluted, and shal be vncleane (b) vntill euen: 25. and if it be necessarie that he carie any of these that be dead, he shal wash his cloths, and shal be vncleane vntill sunne set. 26. Euerie beast that hath a hooft, but diuideth it not, neither cheweth the cud, shal be vn-

The third part. Of things cleane and vncleane, with the manner of purifying: & other precepts moral and iudicial. (a) Hitherto God reuealed his Law to Moyfes onelie, and by him to the people. Now also to Aaron after he was consecrated high-Priest: yet not alwayes, for Moyfes was stil superior, chap. 12. 14. 16. 17. &c.

(b) If indeed this vncleane were a sinne, it should be cleansed by contrition, & neither necessarily remaine all night, nor then be taken away without other means:

cleane: and whatsoever toucheth it, shal be defiled. 27. That which walketh vpon hands of al beasts, which goe on foure feete, shal be vnclane: he that toucheth their carcasses shal be polluted vntil euen. 28. And he that carieth such carcasses, shal wash his clothes, and shal be vnclane vntil euen: because al these things are vnclane to you. 29. These also shal be reputed among polluted things, of al that moue vpon the earth, the weefel and the mouse and the crocodile, euerie one according to their kinde, 30. the migale, and the camelan, and the steilion, and the lizard, and the moule: 31. al these are vnclane. He that toucheth their carcasses, shal be vnclane vntil euen: 32. and that wherupon anie thing of their carcasses falleth, shal be polluted, as wel vessel of wood and rayment, as skinnes and haire-clothes: and in whatsoever vessel anie worke is done, thy shal be dipped in water, and shal be polluted vntil euen, and so afterward shal be cleane. 33. But the earthen vessel, wherinto anie of these falleth within it, shal be polluted, and therefore is to be broken. 34. Al meate, which you shal eat, if the water be poured vpon it, shal be vnclane; and al liquor that is drunke of al vessel, shal be vnclane. 35. And vpon whatsoever ought of such carcasses falleth, it shal be vnclane: whether ouens, or pots with feete, they shal be destroyed, and shal be vnclane. 36. But the fountaines and the cesterne, and al collection of waters shal be cleane. He that toucheth their carcasse, shal be polluted. 37. If it fal vpon seede corne it shal not pollute it. 38. But if any man poure water vpon the seed, and afterward it be touched with the carcasses, it shal be forthwith polluted. 39. If a beast be dead, of which it is lawful for you to eat, he that toucheth the carcasse therof, shal be vnclane vntil euen: 40. and he that eateth or carieth anie thing therof shal wash his clothes, & shal be vnclane vntil euen. 41. Al that creepeth vpon the earth, shal be abhominable, neither shal it be taken for meate. 42. Whatsoever goeth vpon the breast on foure feete, & hath manie feete, or traileth on the earth, you shal not eat, because it is abhominable. 43. Doe not contaminate your soules, nor touch ought therof, lest you be vnclane. 44. For I am the Lord your God: be holie, because I am holie. Pollute not your soules in anie creeping beast, that moueth vpon the earth. 45. For I am the Lord, that brought you out of the Land of Ægypt, that I might be your God. You shal be holie because I am holie. 46. This is the law of beasts and fowls, and of euerie liuing soule, that moueth in the waters, and creepeth on the earth, 47. that you may know the differences of the cleane, and the vnclane, and know what you ought to eat, and what to refuse.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. X I.

Gen. 7.
et. 8.
1. Tim.
4.

Rom. 5.
2. Mach.
6. & 7.

4. Vncleane you shal repute it.] In the first age of the world, before Noes flood, and so forward by tradition; and after by the written Law, some-living creatures were reputed vncleane, and forbid to be eaten or offered in sacrifice. Not as euil of themselves, for euerie creature of God is good, by nature and creation: but this distinction and prohibition was made in the old Testament, for iust causes, as the ancient fathers note specially three. First, for instruction of the people much inclined to idolatrie, God distinguished al beasts, birds, and fishes into cleane and vncleane, wherby al men might know, that none of them is God. For how can aie man of reason (saith learned Theodoret 9. 11. in Leuit.) think that to be God, which either he abhorreth as vncleane, or offereth in sacrifice to the true God, and eateth thereof himself? Secondly, God commanded this obseruance to exercise his people in obedience, with precepts not otherwise necessarie, but because he so commanded. As at first he commanded Adam not to eate of the tree of knowledge of good and euil. The transgression wherof brought al mankind into miserie. From which againe Christ by his obedience redeemed vs For obseruation of this law old Eleazarus, and the seuen brethren with their mother, did giue their liues, rather then they would eate swines flesh, and for the same are glorious Martyrs, as testifie S. Cyprian Epist. 56. ad Thibaritanos, & li. de exhort. Mart. c. 11. Gregorie Nazianzen orat. 20. de Machab. S. Chrysostom de nauinitate septem Machab. S. Ambrose li. 1. de officijs. c. 4. & li. 2. de Iacob. c. 10. & 11. and the whole Church celebrating their feast the first day of August. Thirdly, and most specially these obseruations were commanded for signification of vertues to be embraced, and of vices or sinnes to be auoided. Such beasts therefore were holden for cleane, and allowed for mans food, as diuide the hoofe, and ruminare, or chew the cud, signifying discretion betwixt good and euil; and diligent consideration, or meditation of Gods law: and the beasts which lack those two properties of diuiding the hoofe, and chewing the cud, or either of them, were reputed vncleane, signifying such men as care not whether they doe wel or euil, or doe not ruminare, and meditate good things, which they heare or read, forgetting or neglecting what is taught them. Likewise, the fishes that haue finnes and scales, which signifie eleuating of the mind, and austeritie of life, were counted cleane: but those that want either of the same were vncleane and prohibited. Also certaine birds were esteemed cleane and allowed to be eaten: others vncleane and forbid. As the Eagle, signifying pride; the griffon, tyrannie; the osprey, opprision; the kite, fraud; the vultar, sedition; al kinds of rauens, carnal voluptuosnes; the ostrich, worldlie cares; the owle, slouth, or dulnes in spiritual things; the sterne, double dealing; al kinds of haukes, crueltie; the schrich-owle, luxurie; the diuer, gluttonie; the storke, enuie; the swanne, hypocrisie; the onocratal, auarice; the porphirion, selfewil; the herodian, a bloudie mind; the caladrion, much babling; the lapwing, desolation of mind, or desperation; the bar, earthlie policie; and the like in other birds, beasts, and fishes. Al agreeable to that time, in which (saith S. Augustin. li. 6. c. 7. cons. Fam. i.) those things were to be foreshewed, not only in words, but also in facts, which should be reuealed in latter tme; and

Some things counted vncleane in the law of nature & of Moyses. Three causes of this obseruance.
1. For instruction.
2. For exercise of obedience.

1. For signification.

The things holden for cleane signified vertues.
The vncleane signified vices.

Christians are not bound to the obseruances of the old law, but to that which they signified.

being now reuealed by Christ, and in Christ, the burdenous obseruances are not imposed to the faithful gentiles, to whom yet the authoritie of the prophetic is commended. To the same effect li. cont. Adamant. c. 15. & li. 50. homil. ho. 43. S. Hierome, in Mass. 15. Origenes, ho 7. S. Cyril, li. 7. in Leuit. S. Gregorie, in Cant. 7. Procopius in Leuit. 11. Out of whom and others S. Thomas explicateth at large, that which we haue here briesly noted, 1. 2. q. 101. 2. 6.

CHAP. XII.

The law of womens purification that beare children.

The second & third Lessons on Chandlemas day.

(a) The most pure VIRGIN MOTHER, was not subiect to this law. For she conceiued not by the seed of man, yet obserued the custome of other women Luc. 2. 25 Christ also would be baptized by S. Iohn Baptist Mat. 3. to giue example of humilitie S. Cyril. i. 8. in Leuit. S. Bernard. Ser. 3. de Purific.

AND our Lord spake to Moyse, saying: 2. Speake to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them: A woman if (a) receauing seed she beare a man child, shall be vnclane seuen daies, according to the daies of the separation of her flowers. 3. And the eight day the litle infant shall be circumcised: 4. but her self shall remaine three & thirtie daies in the blood of her purification: No holie thing shall she touch, neither shall she enter into the Sanctuarie, vntil the daies of her purification be expired. 5. But if she beare a woman child, she shall be vnclane two weeks, according to the custome of the fluxe of her flowers, and sixtie six daies she shall remaine in the blood of her purification. 6. And when the daies of her purification are expired, for a sonne, or for a daughter, she shall bring a lambe of a yeare old for an holocaust, and a yong pigeon or a turtle for sinne, to the dore of the tabernacle of testimonie, and shall deliuer them to the Priest, 7. who shall offer them before our Lord, and shall pray for her, and so she shall be cleansed from the fluxe of her blood, this is the law for her that beareth a man child or woman child. 8. And if her hand find not, neither is able to offer a lambe, she shall take two turtles, or two yong pigeons, one for an holocaust, & an other for sinne, and the Priest shall pray for her, and so she shall be cleansed.

CHAP. XIII.

The law concerning leprosie in men, 47. and in garments.

(a) It pertained to the Priests to discern of leprosie, in figure of Priestes authoritie to bind and loose sinnes in the new Testament. S. Chrysost. li. 3. de Sacerdotio.

AND our Lord spake to Moyse and Aaron, saying: 2. The man, in whose shinne and flesh shall arise a diuers colour or a blister, or any thing as it were, shining, that is to say the plague of the leprosie, shall be brought (a) to Aaron the Priest, or any one of his sonnes. 3. Who seeing the leprosie in his skinne, & the haire turned into a white colour, and the forme it-self of the leprosie lower then the skinne,

and

and the other flesh : it is the plague of the leprosie , and at his arbitrement he shal be separated. 4. But if there be a shining whitnesse in the skinne , and not lower then the other flesh , and the haire of the old colour , the Priest shal shut him vp seuen dayes , 5. and the seuenth day he shal vew him : and if the leprosie be growne no farder , nor hath passed the former limites in the skinne , againe he shal shut him vp other seuen daies. 6. And the seuenth day he shal behold : if the leprosie be somewhat obscure , and not growne in the skinne , he shal cleanse him , because it is a scab : and the man shal wash his clothes , and shal be cleane. 7. And if the leprosie grow againe , after that he was seen of the Priest and restored to cleanness , he shal be brought vnto him , 8. and shal be condemned of vncleanness. 9. If the plague of the leprosie be in a man , he shal be brought to the Priest , 10. and he shal view him. And when there is (b) a white colour in the skinne , and hath changed the looke of the haire , and the flesh also it-selfe appeare quicke : 11. it shal be iudged a verie old leprosie , and growne into the skinne. The Priest therefore shal contaminate him , and shal not shut him vp , because he is vncleane evidently. 12. But if the leprosie spring forth running about in the skinne , and couer al the flesh from the head to the feete , whatsoeuer falleth vnder the sight of the eies , 13. the Priest shal vew him , and shal iudge that he is taken with a (c) most cleane leprosie : for that it is al turned into whitnesse , and therefore the man shal be cleane. 14. But when there shal appeare in him quicke flesh , 15. then by the iudgement of the Priest he shal be polluted , and shal be reputed among the vncleane , for quick flesh if it be spotted with leprosie , is vncleane. 16. And if againe it be turned into whitnesse , and couer al the man , 17. the Priest shal vew him , and shal iudge him to be cleane. 18. And the flesh and the skinne wherin a boile is risen , and healed , 19. and in the place of the boile there appeare a white scarre , or somewhat red , the man shal be brought to the Priest : 20. and when he shal see the place of the leprosie lower then the other flesh ; and the haire turned into whitnes , he shal contaminate him : for the plague of leprosie is risen in the boile. 21. But if the haire be of the old colour , and the scarre somewhat obscure , & be not lower then next flesh , he shal shut him vp seuen dayes. 22. And if it be growne farder ; he shal iudge him to haue the leprosie : 23. but if it stay in his place , it is the scarre of a boile , and the man shal be cleane. 24. And the flesh and skinne , that fire hath burnt , and being healed hath a white or a red scarre , 25. the Priest shal consider it , and loe it is turned into whitnesse , and the place therof is lower then the other skinne : he shal contaminate him , because the plague of leprosie is risen in the scarre. 26. But if the colour of the haire be not changed , nor the blemish lower then the other flesh , and the forme it-selfe of the leprosie be somewhat obscure , he shal shut him vp seuen daies , 27. & the seuenth day he shal behold him : if the leprosie be growne farder in the skinne , he shal contaminate him , 28. but if the

(b) Leprosie making spots in the skinne of an other colour , signifieth heresie , that mixeth falshood with truth. S. Aug. li. 2. question. Euangel. c. 40.
 (c) Sometimes that seemeth leprosie , or heresie , which is not : wherof the Priests is to iudge. Deut. 17.

whitenes stay in his place, not very cleare, it is the plague of a burning, and therefore he shal be cleansed, because it is the scarre of a burning. 29. Man, or woman, in whose head or beard the leprosie riseth, the Priest shal see them. 30. and if the place be lower then the other flesh, and the haire yelow, and thinner then it was wont; he shal contaminate them, because it is the leprosie of the head and the beard. 31. But if he perceiue the place of the spot equal with the flesh neer vnto it, and the haire blacke: he shal shut him vp seuen daies, 32. and in the seuenth day he shal looke vpon it. If the spot be not growne, and the haire be of his owne colour, and the place of the plague euen with the other flesh: 33. the man shal be shauen sauing the place of the spot, and shal be shut vp other seuen daies. 34. If the seuenth day the plague seeme to haue stayd in his place, & not lower then the other flesh, he shal cleanse him, and his clothes being washed he shal be cleane. 35. But if after his cleansing the spot be growne againe in the skinne, 36. he shal no more seeke whether the haire be changed into a yelow colour, because he is evidently vncklean. 37. Moreouer if the spot be staid, & the haire be blacke, let him know that the man is healed, and let him boldly pronounce him cleane. 38. Man, or woman, in whose skinne appeareth whitnesse, 39. the Priest shal vew them. If he find that whitnesse somewhat obscure shineth in the skinne, let him know that it is not the leprosie, but a spot of white colour and that the man is cleane. 40. The man whose haire falleth of from his head, is bald and cleane: 41. and if the haire fal from his forehead, he is bald before and cleane. 42. But if in the baldnesse or in the baldnesse before there be risen a white or reddish colour, 43. and the Priest perceiue this, he shal condemne him vndoubtedly of leprosie, which is risen in the baldnesse. 44. Whosocuer therefore shal be defiled with leprosie & is separated at the arbitrement of the Priest, 45. shal haue his clothes hanging loose, his head bare, his mouth couered with a cloth, he shal crie himself polluted and vncklean. 46. Al the time that he is a lepre & vncklean, he shal dwel alone without the campe. 47. A wollen or linnen garment, that shal haue the leprosie 48. in the warpe, and the woufe, or els a skinne, or whatsoeuer is made of a skinne, 49. if it be a white or reddish spot, it shal be reputed infected with leprosie, and shal be shewed to the Priest. 50. Who hauing considered it shal shut it vp seuen daies: 51. and the seuenth day againe beholding it, if he find that it is growne, it is a leprosie that continueth: he shal iudge the garment polluted, and euerie thing wherein it shal be found, 52. and therefore it shal be burnt with fire. 53. But if he see that it is not growne, 54. he shal command, and they shal wash that, wherein the leprosie is, and he shal shut it vp other seuen daies. 55. And when he shal see that the old shape is not returned, neither yet that the leprosie is grown farder, he shal iudge it vncklean, and burne it with fire, for that the leprosie is spred in the outside of the garment or through the whole. 56. But if the place of the leprosie be somewhat obscure, after that the garment is washed, he shall breake it off, and diuide it from that which is sound. 57. And if besides in those places, that before were without spot, there appeare a flying and wandring leprosie: it must be burnt with fire: 58. if it be ceased, he shall wash with water the parts that be pure, the second time, and they shall be cleane. 59. This is the law of the leprosie of a wollen and linnen garment, of the warpe and the woufe, and of al stufte of skinned, how it ought to be cleansed or contaminated.

C H A P. XIII.

sacrifices for cleansing leprosie in men, 23. the manner of viewing whether leprosie be in a house or no, 40. and of cleansing it.

AND our Lord spake to Moyse, saying: 2. This is the rite of a lepre, when he is to be cleansed. 3. He shall be brought to the Priest: who going out of the campe, when he shall find that the leprosie is cleansed, 4. he shall command him that is purified, that he (a) offer for himselfe two liue sparowes, which it is lawful to eate, and cedar-wood, and scarlet & hyssop. 5. and he shall command that one of the sparowes be immolated in an earthen vessel ouer * liuing water: 6. but the other being aliue, with the cedar-wood, and scarlet and the hyssop, he shall dip in the bloud of the sparow that is immolated, 7. wherwith he shall sprinkle him, that is to be cleansed, seuen times, that he may be rightly purged: and he shall let goe the liue sparow, that it flie into the field. 8. And when the mā hath washed his clothes, he shall shaue al the haire of his bodie, and shall be waished with water: & being purified he shall enter into the campe, yet so for al that, that he tarie without his owne tent seuen daies, 9. & the seuenth day he shall shaue the haire of his head, & his beard & eye-browes, and the haire of his whole bodie. And hauing washed againe his clothes, and his bodie, 10. the eight day he shall take two lambes without spot, and an ewe of a yeare old without spot, and three tenths of floure tempered with oyle for a sacrifice, and a sextarie of oyle apart. 11. And when the Priest that purifieth the man, hath set him and al these things before the Lord in the dore of the tabernacle of testimonie, 12. he shall take a lambe, and offer it for offence, & the sextarie of oyle, and hauing offered al before the Lord, 13. he shall immolate the lambe, where the hoste for sinne is wont to be immolated, and the holocaust, that is, in a holie place. For as for sinne, so also the hoste for offence pertaineth to the Priest: it is Holie of holies. 14. And the Priest taking of the bloud of the hoste, that was immolated for offence, shall put it vpon the tip of the right eare of him that is cleansed, and vpon the thumbs of his right hand and foot:

* of well or riser, nor of a cesserne, poole, or marri. h.

(a) This gift & sacrifice were commanded (saith S.
Augustin) because the Sacrifice of Christs bodie was not yet ordained, which now serueth for al other sacrifices.
li. 1. ca. 19. & 20. cons. aduers. leg. &
Prophet.

15. and of the sextarie of oile he shal poure into his owne left hand , 16. and shal dip his right finger in it and shal sprinkle before the Lord seuen times. 17. and the residue of the oile in his left hand , he shal poure vpon the tip of the right eare of him that is cleansed , and vpon the thumbs of his right hand and foote, and vpon the bloud that was shed for offence , 18. and vpon his head. 19. And he shal pray for him before the Lord , and shal make the sacrifice for sinne , then shal he immolate the holocaust , 20. and put it on the altar with the libaments therof , and the man shal orderly be cleansed. 21. But if he be poore , and his hand can not find the things aforesaid , for offence he shal take a lambe for an oblation, that the Priest may pray for him, and a tenth part of floure tempered with oile for a sacrifice , and of oile a sextarie , 22. and two turtles or two yong pigeons, of the which let one be for sinne, & the other for an holocaust: 23. & he shal offer the eight day of his purification to the Priest , at the dore of the tabernacle of testimonie before the Lord: 24. who receiuing the lambe for offence, and the sextarie of oile , shal eleuate them together: 25. and the lambe being immolated , of the bloud therof he shal put vpon the tip of the right eare of him that is cleansed, and vpon the thumbs of his right hand and foote : 26. but part of the oile he shal poure into his owne left hand , 27. wherin dipping the finger of his right hand , he shal sprinkle it seuen times before the Lord : 28. and he shal touch the tip of the right eare of him that is cleansed, and the thumbs of his right hand & foote, in the place of the bloud that was shed for offence: 29. & the other part of the oyle, that is in his left hand, he shal poure vpon the head of the purified persō, that he may propitiate the Lord for him, 30. & a turtle, or yong pigeon he shal offer, 31. one for offence, & the other for an holocaust, with their libaments. 32. This is the sacrifice of a lepre, that is not able to haue al things for the cleāsing of himself. 33. And our Lord spake to Moyses and Aaron, saying: 34. When you shal be entred into the Land of Chanaan , which I wil giue you in possession , if there be the plague of leprosie in a house , 35. he whose house it is, shal goe and tel the Priest, saying : It seemeth to me , that there is as it were the plague of leprosie in my house. 36. But he shal command that they carie forth al things out of the house , before he goe into it , and see whether it haue the leprosie, lest al things become vncleane that are in the house. And afterward he shal goe in to consider the leprosie of the house: 37. & if he see in the walles therof as it were litle dintes, disfigured with palenesse or rednesse , and lower then al the rest , 38. he shal goe out at the dore of the house, and forthwith shut it seuen daies. 39.
 And returning the seuen day , he shal consider it. If he find that the leprosie is growne, 40. he shal command the stones wherein the leprosie is to be pucked out , and to be thrown without the citie into an vncleane place : 41. and the house it-self to be scraped on the inside round about, and the dust of the scraping to be disperfed without the citie into an vncleane place, 42. and other stones to be laid in their places, that were taken away, and the house to be playstered with other mortar. 43. But if after the stones be plucked out, and the dust scraped off, & it playstered with other earth, 44. the Priest going in perceiue that the leprosie is returned, and the walles ful of spottes, it is a lasting leprosie, and the house vncleane: 45. the which forthwith they shal destroy, and the stones and timber therof, and al the dust they shal cast without the towne into an vncleane place. 46. He that entreth into the house when it is shut, shal be vncleane vntil euen: 47. and he that sleeperh in it, & eateth any thing, shal wash his clothes. 48. But if the Priest going in perceiue that the leprosie is not growne farder in the house, after it was playstred againe, he shal purifie it being made whole againe: 49. and for the purification therof he shal take two sparowes, and ceder-wood, and scarlet, and hyssop: 50. and when one sparow is immolated in an earthen vessel ouer liuing waters, 51. he shal take the ceder-wood, and the hyssop, and the scarlet, and the liue sparow, and shal dippe al in the blood of the sparow that is immolated, and in the liuing water, and he shal sprinkle the house seuen times, 52. and shal purifie it as wel with the blood of the sparow as with the liuing water and with the liue sparow, and with the ceder-wood and the hyssop and the scarlet. 53. And when he hath let goe the sparow to flie freely away into the field, he shal pray for the house, & it shal be rightly cleansed. 54. This is the law of al leprosie and percussion, 55. of the leprosie of garments and houses, 56. of a scarre and of blisters breaking forth, of a shining spot, and when the colours are changed into diuers kindes, 57. that it may be knowen at what time anie thing is cleane or vncleane.

C H A P. X V.

The law of vncleane issues in men, 19. and in women.

AND our Lord spake to Moyfes and Aaron, saying: 2. Speake to the children of Israel, and say to them: The man that hath a fluxe of seed, shal be (a) vncleane. 3. And then he shal be iudged subiect to this fault, when the filthie humour at euerie moment cleaueth to his flesh, and is congealed. 4. Euerie bed wheron he sleeperh shal be vncleane, and wheresocuer he sitteth. 5. If anie man touch his bed, he shal wash his clothes: and himself being washed with water, shal be vncleane vntil euen. 6. If he sit where that man had sitten, he also shal wash his clothes: and being washed with water, shal be vncleane vntil euen. 7. he that toucheth his flesh, shal wash his clothes: and himself being washed with water shal be vncleane vntil euen. 8. If such a man cast his spittle vpon him that is cleane, he shal wash his clothes: and being

(a) If natural infirmities brought vncleane, much more laicifines of the mind. Theod. 9. 15. & 20. in Leuit.

(b) To make, offer, and sacrifician holte, is al one.

and being washed with water he shal be vncleane vntil euen. 9. The padde wherupon he sitteth shal be vncleane: 10. and whatsoever hath been vnder him, that hath the fluxe of seed, shal be polluted vntil euen. He that carieth any of these things, shal wash his clothes: and himself being washed with water, shal be vncleane vntil euen. 11. Euerie one, whom he toucheth that is such an one, hauing not washed his hands before, shal wash his clothes, and being washed with water, shal be vncleane vntil euen. 12. The earthen vessel that he toucheth shal be broken: but the wodden vessel shal be washed with water. 13. If he be healed that hath such a disease, he shal number seuen daies after his cleansing, and hauing washed his clothes and al his bodie in liuing water, he shal be cleane. 14. And the eight day he shal take two turtles, or two yong pigeons, and he shal come into the sight of our Lord, to the dore of the tabernacle of testimonie, & shal giue them to the Priest, 15. who shal (b) make one for sinne, and the other for an holocaust, & he shal pray for him before our Lord, that he may be cleansed of the fluxe of his seed. 16. The man from whó issueth the seed of copulation, shal wash with water al his bodie: and he shal be vncleane vntil euen. 17. The garment & skinne that he weareth, he shal wash with water, and it shal be vncleane vntil euen. 18. The woman with whom he companieth shal be washed with water and shal be vncleane vntil euen. 19. The woman that monthly hath the fluxe of blood, shal be separated seuen daies. 20. Euerie one that toucheth her, shal be vncleane vntil euen: 21. and that whereon she sleepeth or sitteth in the daies of her separation shal be polluted. 22. He that toucheth her bed shal wash his clothes: & himself being washed with water, shal be vncleane vntil euen. 23. Whosoever shal touch any vessel wherupon she sitteth, he shal wash his clothes: and himself being washed with water shal be polluted vntil euen. 24. If a man cōpanie with her in the time of her menstrual blood, he shal be vncleane seuen daies: and cuerie bed wheron he sleepeth shal be polluted. 25. The woman that hath a fluxe of blood many daies not in her menstrual time, or that ceaseth not to haue a fluxe after the menstrual blood, as long as she is subiect to this disease, she shal be vncleane, as if she were in her menstrual time. 26. Euerie bedde, wherupon she sleepeth, and vessel wheron she sitteth, shal be polluted. 27. Whosoever toucheth the shal wash his clothes: and himself being washed with water, shal be vncleane vntil euen. 28. If the blood stay and cease to runne, she shal count the seuen daies of her purification: 29. and the eight day she shal offer for her selfe to the Priest, two turtles, or two yong pigeons, at the dore of the tabernacle of testimonie: 30. who shal make one for sinne, and the other for an holocaust, and he shal pray for her before our Lord, and for the fluxe of her vncleanness. 31. You shal teach therefore the children of Israel, that they take heed of (c) vncleanness, and die not in their filthinesse, when thy shal pollute my tabernacle that is among them. 32. This is the law of him that

(c) S. Hierome (in cap. 5. ad Galas.) vnderstandeth this place of the abominable ones that may not be named.

that hath the fluxe of seed and that is polluted by copulation, 33. and the woman that is separated in her menstrual times, or that hath a continual fluxe of blood, and of the man that sleepeth with her.

C H A P. XVI.

When and how the high-Priest must enter into the Sanctuarie. 14. How he shall expiate (or reconcile) the same, 16. and the Tabernacle, 18. and the Altar. 20. How he shall offer a blue goate, and send him into the wilderness. 29. And al must celebrate the feast of expiation or cleansing from finnes.

AND our Lord spake to Moyles, after the death of the two sonnes of Aaron, when they were slaine offering strange fire: 2. and he commanded him, saying: Speake to Aaron thy brother, that he (a) enter not at al times into the Sanctuarie, that is within the veile before the propitiatorie, wherwith the arke is couered, lest he die (for in a cloud wil I appeare ouer the oracle); 3. vnlesse he doe these things before: He shall offer a calfe for sinne, and a ramme for an holocaust. 4. He shall be reuested with a linnen tunike, he shall hide his priuities with linnen femorals: he shall be girded with a linnen girdle, a linnen mitre shall he put vpon his head: for these are holie vestments: with al which, when he is washed, he shall be reuested. 5. And he shall receiue of the whole multitude of the children of Israel two bucke goats for sinne, and one ramme for an holocaust. 6. And when he hath offered the calfe, and praied for himself, and for his owne house, 7. he shall make the two bucke goats to stand before the Lord in the dore of the tabernacle of testimonie: 8. and casting lottes vpon both, one for the Lord, & an other for the goate of dismissal: 9. that, whose lot fel to the Lord, he shall offer for sinne: 10. but that, whose lotte was to be the goate of dismissal, he shall set aliue before the Lord that he may (b) poure out prayer vpon him, and dismisse him into the wilderness. 11. After that these things be duly celebrated, he shall offer the calfe, & praying for himself and for his house, he shall immolate it: 12. and taking the thurible, which he hath filled of the burning coales of the altar, and taking vp with his hand of the compounded perfume for incense, he shall goe in beyond the veile into the Holie place: 13. that when the incense is put vpon the fire, the cloude therof and the vapour may couer the oracle, which is ouer the testimonie, and he die not. 14. He shall take also of the blood of the calfe, and sprinkle with his finger seuen times against the propitiatorie to the east. 15. And when he hath killed the bucke goate for the sinne of the people, he shall carie in the blood therof within the veile, as hath been

(a) Only once in the yeare the high-Priest, and no other, entred into Sanc̄ta Sanctorum, v. 24. signifying that heauen was not open to anie Saint, before Christs passion. Heb. 9. v. 8.

(b) Praying that al their finnes may be remitted.

(b) Sinnes doe so defile the soule that the very holiest of al places is accounted as contaminated therby Theod. 9. 22. in Lucis. in fine.

(d) God so remitteth sinnes to those that are truly penitent, as that which is carried into a wilderness and neuer returneth.

(e) Besides particular sacrifices for euery ones sinnes, once in the yeare was instituted a general expiation of al.

commanded of the blood of the calfe, that he may sprinkle it against the oracle, 16. and (c) expiate the Sanctuarie from the vncleanesse of the children of Israel, and from their preuarications, and al their sinnes. According to this rite shal he doe to the tabernacle of testimonie, which is fixed among them in the midst of the filth of their habitation. 17. Let no man be in the tabernacle whē the high-Priest goeth into the Sanctuarie, to pray for himself and for his house, & for the whole assemblie of Israel, vntil he come forth. 18. And when he is come forth to the altar that is before the Lord, let him pray for himself; and taking the blood of the calfe, and of the bucke goate, let him poure it vpon the hornes therof round about: 19. and sprinkling with his finger seuen times, let him expiate, and sanctifie it from the vncleanesse of the children of Israel. 20. After he hath cleansed the Sanctuarie, and the tabernacle, and the altar, then let him offer the liue goate: 21. and putting both hands vpon his head; let him confesse al the iniquities of the children of Israel, and al their offences and sinnes: which praying to light on his head, he shal send him forth by a man ready therto, into the desert. 22. And (d) whē the goat hath caried al their iniquities into the solitarie ground, and shal be let goe into the desert, 23. Aaron shal returne into the tabernacle of testimonie, and putting off the vestiments, which he had on him before when he entred into the Sanctuarie, and leauing them there, 24. he shal wash his flesh in a holie place, and shal be clothed with his owne garmets. And after that he hath gone forth & offered his owne holocaust, and the peoples, he shal pray as wel for himself, as for the people: 25. and the fat, that is offered for sinnes, he shal burne vpon the altar, 26. but he that hath let goe the goate of dismissal, shal wash his clothes and bodie with water, and so shal enter into the campe. 27. But the calfe & the bucke goate, that were immolated for sinne, and whose blood was caried into the Sanctuarie, to accomplish the expiation, they shal carie forth without the campe, and shal burne with fire as wel the skinnes as their flesh, and the dung: 28. and whosoever burneth them shal wash his clothes and his flesh with water, & so shal enter into the campe. 29. And this shal be to you an euerlasting ordinance: The (e) seuenth month, the tenth day of the month you shal afflict your soules, and no worke shal you doe, whether he be of the same countrie, or a stranger that seiourneth amōg you. 30. Vpon this day shal be the expiation of you, and cleansing from al your sinnes: before the Lord you shal be cleansed. 31. for it is a sabbath of rest, & you shal afflict your soules by a perpetual religion. 32. And the Priest shal expiate, that is annoynted, & whose hands are consecrated to doe the functiō of priesthoed for his father: & he shal be requested with the linnē stole & the holie vestments, 33. & he shal expiate the Sāctuarie & the tabernacle of testimonie & the altar; the Priests also & al the people. 34. And this shal be an ordinace for euer, that you pray for the children of Israel, and for al their sinnes once in a yeare. He did therefore as our Lord had commanded Moyse.

C H A P. XVII.

All Sacrifices must be offered at the doore of the Tabernacle. 7. with special prohibition of Idolatrie. 10. None must eate blood. 15. Whosoever eateth carraine flesh is contaminate, and must be washed.

AND our Lord spake to Moyfes , saying : 2. Speake to Aaron and his sonnes , and to al the children of Israel, saying to them : This is the word which our Lord hath commanded , saying : 3. Anie man whosoever of the house of Israel, if he (a) kil an ox or a sheep, or a goate in the campe or without the campe, 4. and offer it not at the doore of the tabernacle an oblation to the Lord, shal be guiltie of blood : as if he had shed blood, so shal he perish out of the middes of his people. 5. Therefore shal the children of Israel bring to the Priest their hosts, which they kil in the field, that they may be sanctified to our Lord before the doore of the tabernacle of testimonie, & they may immolate them pacifike hostes to our Lord. 6. And the Priest shal poure the blood vpon the altar of our Lord, at the dore of the tabernacle of testimonie, and shal burne the fat for a sweet odour to our Lord : 7. and they shal no more immolate the ir hosts to diuels, with whom they haue committed fornication. It shal be an ordinance for euer to them and to their posteritie. 8. And to them thou shalt say : The man of the house of Israel, and of the strangers, which seioune with you, that offereth an holocaust or victime, 9. and bringeth it not to the doore of the tabernacle of testimonie, that it may be offered to our Lord, shal perish out of his people. 10. Anie man whosoever of the house of Israel, and of the strangers that seioune among them, if he eate blood, I wil set my face against his life, and wil destroy it out of his people, 11. because the life of the flesh is in the blood : and I haue giuen it to you, that vpon the altar you may make expiation with it for your soules, and the blood may be for an expiation of the soule. 12. Therefore haue I said to the children of Israel : No soule of you shal eate blood, nor of the strangers, that seioune with you. 13. Anie man whosoever of the children of Israel, and of the strangers that seioune with you, if by hunting or fouling he take wild beast or foule, which it is lawful to eate, let him poure out the blood therof, and couer it with earth. 14. For the life of al flesh is in the blood : wherupon I said to the children of Israel : The blood of no flesh shal you eate, because the life of the flesh is in the blood : and whosoever eateth it shal die. 15. The soule that eateth carraine, or that which is taken of a beast, aswel of them of the same countrie as of strangers, that wash his clothes, and himself with water, and

(a) If anie killed for sacrifice, he must offer it at the doore of the the tabernacle, that a Priest might offer it on the Altar, for no other man, nor place was allowed, without special dispensation of God. And so Samuel offered sacrifice in an other place, 1. Reg. 7. Elias 1. Reg. 18. and Dauid also being no Priest. 2. Reg. 14. So S. Aug. explicateth this text. q. 56. in Leuit.

shal be contaminated vntil euen : and in this order he shal be made cleane. 16. And if he doe not wash his clothes , and his bodie , he shal beare his iniquitie.

C H A P. XVIII.

Marriage prohibited in certaine degrees of consanguinitie and affinitie. 18. And diuers carnal and execrable finnes committed in other nations , are strictly forbidden.

AND our Lord spake to Moyfes, saying: 2. Speake to the children of Israel , and thou shalt say to them : I the Lord your God , 3. according to the custome of the Land of Egypt, wherein you haue dwelt, you shal not doe : and according to the manner of the Countrie of Chanaan, into the which I wil bring you , you shal not doe , nor walke in their ordinances. 4. You shal doe my iudgements , and shal obserue my precepts, and shal walke in them. I the Lord your God. 5. Keepe my lawes and iudgements , which a man doing , shal liue in them. I the Lord. 6. No man shal approach to her that is next of his blood , to reueale her (a) turpitude. I the Lord. 7. The turpitude of thy father, and the turpitude of thy mother thou shalt not discover: she is thy mother, thou shalt not reueale her turpitude. 8. The turpitude of thy fathers wife thou shalt not discover : for it is the turpitude of thy father: 9. The turpitude of thy sister by father, or by mother, which was borne at home or abroad, thou shalt not reueale. 10. The turpitude of thy sonnes daughter or of thy niece by thy daughter, thou shalt not reueale: because it is thy turpitude. 11. The turpitude of thy fathers wiues daughter, which she bare to thy father, and is thy sister, thou shalt not reueale. 12. The turpitude of (b) thy fathers sister thou shalt not discover : because she is the flesh of thy father. 13. The turpitude of thy mothers sister thou shalt not reueale , because she is of the flesh of thy mother. 14. The turpitude of thy fathers brother thou shalt not reueale, neither shalt thou approach to his wife, who is ioyned to thee by affinitie. 15. The turpitude of thy daughter in law thou shalt not reueale , because she is thy sonnes wife, neither shalt thou discover her ignominie. 16. The turpitude of thy brothers wife thou shalt not reueale : because it is the turpitude of thy brother. 17. The turpitude of thy wife, and her daughter thou shalt not reueale. Her sonnes daughter , and her daughters daughter , thou shalt not take , to reueale her ignominie : because they are her flesh , and such copulation is incest. 18. Thou shalt not take thy wiues sister for an harlote , to vex her withal , neither shalt thou reueale her

(a) It is then turpitude when the act is vnlawful.

But honest in lawful Marriage. S. Aug. li. 3. De nuptiis, & li. de bono coniugali.

(b) See chap. 20. the difference of punishments, for violating these lawes in the first and second degree.

Also between consanguinitie & affinitie, in the same collateral degree.

turpitude

turpitude, whiles she is yet liuing. 19. To a woman, hauing her flowers, thou shalt not approach, neither shalt thou reueale her turpitude. 20. With thy neighbours wife thou shalt not companie, nor be polluted with commixtion of feede. 21. Of thy feede thou shalt not giue to be consecrated to the idol Moloch, nor pollute the name of thy God: I the Lord. 22. Companie not with mankind, as with womankind, because it is abomination. 23. With no beast shalt thou companie, neither shalt thou be polluted with it. A woman shall not lie downe to a beast, nor companie with it: because it is an hainous fact. 24. Neither be ye polluted in anie of the things wherwith al the nations haue been contaminated, which I wil cast out before your sight, 25. and wherwith the land is polluted: whose abominations I wil visite, that it vomite out the inhabitants therof. 26. Keepe my ordinances and iudgements, and doe not any of these abominations, as wel the same councitman as the stranger that seiourneth with you. 27. For al these execrable things did the inhabitants of the land, that haue been before you, and haue polluted it. 28. Beware therefore lest in like manner it vomite out you also, when you shall doe the like things, as it vomited out the nation that was before you. 29. Euerie soule, that shall doe anie of these abominations, shall perish from the middes of his people, 30. Keepe my commandements. Doe not the things which they haue done, that haue been before you, and be not polluted in them: I the Lord your God.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. XVIII.

6. Next of his blood.) Mariage is forbid first and most strictly by the law of nature, in al degrees in the right line ascending and decending, both in consanguinitie and affinitie. S. Paul testifying that among the heathen, no man could haue his fathers wife. And in the right line God himselfe (who onlic can) neuer dispensed. Secundarily, the first collateral degree in consanguinitie, that is, between brother and sister, by one parent, or by both, is also vnlawful by the law of nature, except in the beginning of the world, when Adams children must needs marie together, God so ordaining that al mankind should be propagated by one man (for of him also the first woman was made) but after this beginning it was neuer allowed, nor perhaps can be dispensed withal, at least neuer was by anie man. Though Beza [li. de repudijs & diuorij] and some English Bezites charge Pope Martin the fifth, to haue dispensed with one, that had married his owne natural sister: which is a false report. For it was with one, who hauing committed fornication with one sister, afterwards married the other, from whom he could not be separated without great scandal, the pretended mariage being publike, and the impedimēt secret: as S. Antoninus writeth par. 3. sum. Theol. ii. 1. c. 11. But besides the right line, & the first collateral degree in consanguinitie, no other collateral degrees are prohibited by the law of nature, but by positie only. So this presēt law, writtē

Mariage forbid in al degrees in the right line, by the law of nature. Secundarily in the first collateral degree of consanguinitie.

Beza belieeth Pope Martin.

1. Cor.
5. 2. 1.

AE 17.
v. 25. S.
Aug de bono cōiug c. 1.

Al other degrees depend on positive lawes: which haue been & may be altered Proued by Scriptures, and reasons.

First prooffe.

2. prooffe.

3. prooffe.

4. prooffe.

5. prooffe.

Ceremonial & iudicial lawes of Moyfes are abrogated by Christ.

And new are established.

by Moyfes, forbid to marie in the first collateral degree of affinitie, but the same law commanded (Deut. 25.) that in case a married man died without issue, his brother should marie the widow. Wherby is cleare that this degree, and others more remote, were not prohibited by the law of nature. For then God would not haue made a contrarie general law in anie case, for the whole nation of the Iewes, his people; and that vnder penaltie to be obserued, which is contrarie to the qualitie of indulgence or dispensation, and no such necessitie, as in the beginning of the world. Wherfore al Protestants that say, the whole law written by Moyfes concerning degrees of consanguinitie and affinitie is the law of nature, and so pertaineth to Christians, must necessarily say also, that if now a married man die without issue, his brother must marie his wife. Which specially they denie. It is also proued that this and some other degrees expressed in this place, were not against the law of nature (which is common to all nations commonly, or easely knowne to all men by discourse of reason) because no common-wealth among the Gentiles did punish, nor modest men forbear, or reprehend such mariages: as appeareth by Laban, who after he had deceiued Iacob by giuing him one sister for an other, offered him also the former promised, whom without difficultie of conscience he accepted (Gen. 29.) neither did that holie Patriarch thinke it vnlawful to keepe them both. And when Iudas matched his second sonne, and promised the third to the wife of his first sonne, he did it according to the custome of that place & time, Gen. 38. And Noemi spoke according to the same custome, Ruth 1. v. 11. Againe, where this law forbiddeth a man to marie, or companie with his wifes sister, it addeth, whiles she is liuing, not prohibiting mariage, when his first wife is dead. Yet his wifes sister is as nere in affinitie, as his brothers wife. Likewise, the diuersitie of punishments (chap. 20.) for transgression of this law, either in the right line, or in the first collateral degree of consanguinitie, who were punished by death; and for transgressing in the first collateral degree of affinitie, or in the second either of consanguinitie or affinitie, who had lesse punishments, sheweth that the former degrees are prohibited by the law of nature, and not the other: for then the violation should be like sinne, and punished alike. Finally, it is euident, that certaine of these degrees are not against the law of nature, by the example of holie Abraham, who in, and according to the law of nature, married his brothers daughter called Sarai, other wise Iescha, Gen. 11. which mariage God approued by manie blessings. Also Iacob married two sisters together. Two sonnes of Iudas married the same woman successiuelly. And Amram (Moyfes father) married his aunt, his fathers sister, Exo 6. v. 20 Num 26. v. 59. Wherfore seeing neither the first collateral degree in affinitie, nor the second collateral in consanguinitie or affinitie, is forbid by the law of nature but by positive only, and that both ceremonial & iudicial lawes of the old Testament ceased in the New, and are abrogated by Christ, it resteth proued that the same bind not Christians, but as they are renewed and established by the Church, or Christian common-wealths. And as this is done in temporal causes by temporal States, partly by renewing and establishing the same, which was in the law of Moyfes, as by punishing wilful murder by death, Exo. 21. v. 12. partly with alteration, as by punishing theft in some countries with death, but not adulterie, which were contrarie in the old Testament, Gen. 38 v. 24 4. 17. Exod. 22. v. 10. Leuit. 20 v. 10: in like sort the Church of Christ ordaineth lawes, altereth, & vpon iust occasions dispenseth, in all degrees of consanguinitie and affinitie, not forbid by the law of nature.

Arif. l. 2. Pol

S. Hi ro. quest. heb. in Gen.

CHAP. XIX.

Diuers Moral, Ceremonial, and Iudicial precepts are briefly recited.

VR Lord spake to Moyfes, saying : 2. Speake to al the assemblie of the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them : Be ye holie, because I the Lord your God am holie. 3. Let euerie one feare his father, and mother. Keepe my Sabbaths. I the Lord your God. 4. Turne not your selues to idols, neither make you to your selues molten Gods. I the Lord your God. 5. If ye immolate an hoste of pacifikes to the Lord, that it may be placable, 6. that day wherin it is immolated, shal you eate it, and the next day : and whatsoeuer shal be left vntil the third day, you shal burne with fire. 7. If after two daies anie man eate therof, he shal be profane, and guiltie of impietie : 8. and shal beare his iniquitie, because he hath polluted the holie of the Lord, and that soule shal perish out of his people. 9. And when thou reapest the corne of thy land, thou shalt not sheare the face of the earth to the verie ground : neither shalt thou gather the eares that remaine. 10. Neither in thy vineyard shalt thou gather the clusters and grapes that fal downe, but shalt leaue them to the poore, and the strangers to take. I the Lord your God. 11. You shal not commit theft. You shal not lie, neither shal anie man deceaue his neighbour. 12. Thou shalt not forswear thy self in my name, nor pollute the name of thy God. I the Lord. 13. Thou shalt not caluminate thy neighbour, nor oppresse him by violence. The worke of thy hircling shal not abide with thee vntil morning. 14. Thou shalt not speake euil of the deafe man, nor put a stumbling block before the blind : but thou shalt feare the Lord thy God, because I am the Lord. 15. Thou shalt not doe that which is vniust, nor iudge vniustly. Consider not the person of a poore man, neither honour thou the countenance of him that is mightie. Iudge iustly to thy neighbour. 16. Thou shalt not be a criminatour, nor a whisperer among the people. Thou shalt not stand against the bloud of thy neighbour. I the Lord. 17. Thou shalt not hate thy brother in thy hart, but controle him openly, lest thou incurre sinne through him. 18. Seeke not reuenge, nor be mindeful of the iniurie of thy citizens. Thou shalt loue thy freind as thy self. I the Lord. 19. Keepe ye my lawes. Thou shalt not make thy cattel to gender with the beasts of an other kind. Thy field thou shalt not sow with diuers seede. A garment (a) that is wouen of two forts, thou shalt not put on. 20. If a man lie with a woman by carnal copulation, that is a bondwoman also mariable, & yet not redeemed with a price, nor made

The Epistle on Wednesday in Passion weeke.

(a) These diu-ersities are not prohibited for themselues for the ornaments of the tabernacle and of Priests were made of diuers things; but schisme, and al participatiō with heretikes and other infidels is forbid.

2. Cor. 6.
Draw not in yoke with infidels. Theodorēt 9. 27. in Leuit.

free, both shal be beaten, and they shal not die, because she was not free. 21. And for his offence he shal offer to the Lord, at the dore of the tabernacle of testimonie a ramme: 22. and the Priest shal pray for him, and for his sinne before the Lord, and he shal become propitious to him againe, and the sinne shal be forgiuen. 23. When you shal be entred into the land, and haue planted in it fruit trees, you shal take away the prepuces of them: the fruits that come forth shal be vncleane to you, neither shal you eate of them. 24. But in the fourth yeare, al their fruit shal be sanctified, laudable to the Lord. 25. And the fifth yeare you shal eate the fruits, gathering the offspring that they bring forth. I the Lord your God. 26. You shal not eate with bloud. You shal not diuine, (b) nor obserue dreames. 27. Neither shal you cut your haire roundwise: nor shaue your beard. 28. And for the dead you shal not cut your flesh, neither shal you make in your selues any figures or markes. I the Lord. 29. Make not thy daughter a common strumpet, lest the land be contaminated and filled with wickednesse. 30. Keepe ye my Sabbaths, & feare my Sanctuarie. I the Lord. 31. Decline not to magicians, neither aske any thing of soothsayers, to be polluted by them. I the Lord your God. 32. Before the hoare head rise vp, and honour the person of an old man: and feare the Lord thy God. I am the Lord. 33. If a stranger dwel in your land, and abide among you, doe not vpbraid him: 34. but let him be among you as the same countrie man: and you shal loue him as your selues: for you also haue been strangers in the Land of Ægypt. I the Lord your God. 35. Doe not anie vniust thing in iudgement, in rule, in weight, or measure. 36. Let the balance be iust, and the weights equal, the bushel iust, and the sextarie equal. I the Lord your God, that brought you out of the Land of Ægypt. 37. Keepe al my precepts, and al my iudgements, and doe them. I the Lord.

(b) See Gen.
40. 7. 8.

C H A P. X X.

Whofoeuer giueth of his seed to Moloch must be stoned to death. 6. Al that decline to Magicke, 9. curse their parents, 10. commit aduterie, certaine incest, or bestiaitie, shal die. 19. Other incest is deprived of children. 22. The Israelites also shal be cast out of the Land, if they commit such sinnes.

AND our Lord spake to Moyfes, saying: 2. These things thou shalt speake to the children of Israel: If anie man of the children of Israel, & of the strangers, that dwel in Israel, giue of his seede to the idol Moloch, dying let him dye: the people of the land shal stone him. 3. And I wil set my face against him: and wil cut him off from the middes of his people.

people, because he hath giuen of his seed to Moloch, and hath contaminated my Sanctuarie, and polluted my holy name. 4. And if the people of the land neglecting, and as it were litle esteeming my commandment, let alone the man that hath giuen of his seed to Moloch, and wil not kil him: 5. I wil set my face vpon that man, & his kinred, and wil cut off both him, and al that consented with him, to commit fornication with Moloch, out of the middes of their people. 6. The soule that shal decline to Magicians and southsavers, and shal commit fornication with them, I wil set my face against it, and destroy it out of the middes of his people. 7. Sanctifie your selues, and be holic, because I am the Lord your God. 8. Keepe my precepts, & doe them. I the Lord that sanctifie you. 9. He that curseth his father, or mother, dying let him die: he hath cursed father, and mother, his bloud be vpon him. 10. If any man commit adulterie with an other mans wife, and commit aduoutrie with his neighbours wife, dying let them dye, both the adulterer and the aduoutrisse. 11. He that lieth with his stepmother, and reuealeth the ignominie of his father, dying let both die: their bloud be vpon them. 12. If anie man lie with his daughter in law, let both die, because they haue done an hainous fact: their bloud be vpon them. 13. He that lieth with man as if he should companie with woman, both haue committed abomination, dying let them die: their bloud be vpon them. 14. He that besides his wife the daughter, (a) marieth her mother, hath done wickednes: he shal burne alieue with them, neither shal there so great abomination remaine in the middes of you. 15. He that shal companie with beast & cattel, dying let him die: the beast also doe ye kil. 16. The woman that shal lie vnder anie beast, shal be killed together with the same: their bloud be vpon the. 17. He that taketh his sister the daughter of his father, or the daughter of his mother, & seeth her turpitude, & she beholdeth her brothers ignominie, they haue committed a shameful thing: they shal be slaine in the sight of their people, because they haue reuealed one anothers turpitude, & they shal beare their iniquitie. 18. He that companyeth with a woman in her menstrual fluxe, & reuealeth her turpitude, & she openeth the fountaine of her bloud, both shal be destroyed out of the middes of their people. 19. The turpitude of thy aunt by thy mother, and of thy aunt by thy father, thou shalt not discouer: he that doth this, hath disclosed the ignominie of his flesh, both shal beare their iniquitie. 20. He that companyeth with the wife of his vncler by the father, or of his vncler by the mother, & reuealeth the ignominie of his kinred, both shal beare their sinne: without children they shal die. 21. He that marieth his brothers wife, doth an vnlawful thing, he hath reuealed his brothers turpitude: they shal be without children. 22. Keepe my lawes, and iudgements, and doe them: lest the land which you shal enter into and inhabite, vomite out you also. 23. Walke not in the ordinances of the nations, which I wil expel before you. For (b) al these things haue they done, and I haue abhorred them. 24. But to you I speake:

(a) Violating this law in anie degree in the right line, either of consanguinitie, or affinitie, or in the first collateral degree of consanguinitie was punished with death; but in the first collateral of affinitie, and in the second collateral degree as well of consanguinitie, as affinitie, with lesse punishment.

Which sheweth greater obligation, & grater sinne, concerning the right line, then the collateral; also in the first degree of consanguinitie then in the second; and more in consanguinitie then in affinitie.

(b) Not for euerie kind of sinne (though euerie one is punishable) but for the more hainous, & for al together the Chanaanites were cast out of their land.

Posseſſe their land, which I wil giue you for an inheritance, a land flowing with milke and honie. I the Lord your God, that haue ſeperated you from other peoples. 25. Therefore doe you alſo ſeparate the cleane beaſt, from the vncleane, and the cleane foule from the vncleane: pollute not your foules in beaſts, and birds, and al things that moue on the earth, and which I haue ſhewed vnto you to be polluted. 26. You ſhal be holie vnto me, becauſe I the Lord am holie, and I haue ſeperated you from other peoples, that you ſhould be mine. 27. Man, or woman, in whom is a pythonical or diuining ſpirit, dying let them die: they ſhal ſtone them: their bloud be vpon them.

C H A P. XXI.

At what funerals Priests may not be preſent. 7. What women they may not marie. 9. A Priests daughter committing fornication muſt be burned. 10. The high-Prieſt ſhal not vncover his head, nor rent his garment, nor be preſent at anie funeral, nor at al goe forth of the holie place. 13. When he marieth he muſt take a virgin. 16. None that hath a blemish in his bodie (though he be of Aarons ſtock) ſhal miniſter in the Sanctuarie, nor approach to the Altar.

VR Lord ſaid alſo to Moyſes: Speake to the Priests the ſonnes of Aaron, and thou ſhalt ſay to them: Let not a Prieſt be contaminated in the deaths of his citizens, 2. but onlie in his kinne, and nigh of bloud, that is to ſay, vpon his father and mother, and ſonne, and daughter, brother alſo, 3. and ſiſter, being a virgin which hath not been maried to a huſband: 4. but neither in (a) the Prince of his people ſhal he be contaminated. 5. Neither ſhal they ſhaue their head nor beard, nor make incisions in their fleſh. 6. They ſhal be holie to their God, and ſhal not pollute his name: for the burnt ſacrifice of the Lord, and breads of their God doe they offer, and therefore they ſhal be holie. 7. A whore and a vile ſtrumpet he ſhal not take to wife, nor her, that is put away from her huſband: becauſe they are conſecrated to their God, 8. and offer the breads of propoſition. Be they holie therefore, becauſe I alſo am holie, the Lord, that ſanctifie them. 9. The daughter of a Prieſt, if ſhe be taken in whordome, & diſhonour the name of her father, ſhal be burnt with fire. 10. The Grand Biſhop, that is to ſay the Prieſt that is greateſt among his brethren, vpon whoſe head hath been poured the oyle of vnction, and whoſe hands were conſecrated in prieſthood, and who was reuſted with the holie veſtiments, ſhal not vncover his head, he ſhal (b) not rent his garments: 11. and to no dead perſon ſhal

(a) By the Prince S. Paul vnderſtood the high-Prieſt. A.C. 23.

(b) Caiphas rent his garments (Mar. 16.) contrarie to this law, malice making him neglect his owne dignitie.

he enter in at al. vpon his father also, and mother that he not be contaminated. 12. Neither shall he goe forth out of the holie places, lest he pollute the Sanctuarie of the Lord, because the oyle of the holie vnction of his God is vpon him. I the Lord. 13. He shall take a virgin vnto his wife: 14. but a widow and her that is put away, and a filth, and a whore he shall not take, but a maid of his owne people: 15. that he mingle not the stocke of his kinred with the common people of his nation: because I am the Lord that sanctifie him. 16. And our Lord spake to Moyses, saying: 17. Speake to Aaron: The man of thy seed throughout their families, that hath (c) a blemish, shall nor offer breads to his God, 18. neither shall he approach to his ministerie: If he be blinde, if lame, if he haue a litle, or a great, or a crooked nose, 19. if his foote be broken, if his hand, 20. if he be crook backed, or blere-eyed, or haue a pearle in his eye, or a continual scabbe, or drie scurffe in his bodie, or be burnt. 21. Euerie one that hath a blemish of the seed of Aaron the Priest, shall not approach to offer the hosts to the Lord, nor the breads to his God. 22. He shall eat notwithstanding of the breads that are offered in the Sanctuarie, 23. yet so that he enter not within the veile, or approach to the altar, because he hath a blemish, and he must not contaminate my Sanctuarie. I the Lord that sanctifie them. 24. Moyses therefore spake to Aaron, and to his sonnes, and to al Israel, al things that had been commanded him.

(c) If such deformities and defects made men irregular, and vnmeet to exercise Priestlie function in the old testament, how much more in the Church of Christ?

C H A P. XXII.

Who may eate of sanctified things. 17. And what things may be offered.

VR Lord also spake to Moyses, saying: 2. Speake to Aaron and to his sonnes, that they beware of those that are the consecrated things of the children of Israel, and contaminate not the name of the things sanctified to me, which they offer. I the Lord. 3. Say to them, and to their posteritic: Euerie man of your stocke, that approacheth to those things that are consecrated, & which the children of Israel haue offered to the Lord, in whom there is vncleanness, shall perish before the Lord. I am the Lord. 4. The man of the seed of Aaron that is a lepre, or hath a fluxe of seed (d) shall not eate of those things that are sanctified to me vntil he be healed. He that toucheth a thing vncleane by occasion of that is dead, and he from whom issueth seed as it were of copulation, 5. and he that toucheth a creeping beast, and whatsoever vncleane thing the touching wherof is filthie, 6. shall be vncleane vntil euen, and shall not eate those things that are sanctified: but when he hath washed his flesh with water, 7. and the sunne is downe, then being cleansed he shall eate of the sanctified things , because it is his meate. 8. Carrien and that which was taken of a beast , they shal not eate , nor be polluted in them. I am the Lord. 9. Let them keep my precepts, that they be not subiect to sinne , and die in the Sanctuarie, when they shal haue polluted it. I the Lord that sanctifie them. 10. No stranger shal eate of the sanctified things, the Priests guest and hireling shal not eate of them. 11. But whom the Priest hath bought, and he that is his seruant borne in his house, these shal eate of them. 12. If the daughter of a Priest be married to anie of the people: of those things that are sanctified, and of the first fruits she shal not eate. 13. But if she be a widow, or put away, and without children returne to her fathers house : as she was wont being a maid , she shal be fed with her fathers meats. No strāger hath power to eate of them. 14. He that eateth of the sanctified things by ignorance, shal adde the fifth part with that which he did eate, and shal giue it to the Priest into the Sanctuarie. 15. Neither shal they contaminate the sanctified things of the children of Israel, which they offer to the Lord : 16. lest perhaps they sustaine the iniquitie of their offence, when they shal haue eaten the sanctified things. I the Lord that sanctifie them. 17. And our Lord spake to Moyfes, saying: 18. Speake to Aaron, and to his sonnes , and to al the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them : The man of the house of Israel, and of the strangers which dwel with you , that offereth his oblation, either paying his vowes , or offering of his owne accord, whatsoever that be which he presenteth for an holocaust of the Lord, 19. to be offered by you, it shal be a male without spot, of beefes, & muttons, & of goats. 20. If it haue a blemih, you shal not offer it, neither shal it be acceptable. 21. The man that offereth a victime of pacifikes to the Lord, either paying his vowes, or offering of his owne accord , as wel of beefes as of muttons, shal offer it without blemish, that it may be acceptable : there shal be no blemish in it. 22. If it be blind , if it be broken, if it haue a scarre, if bliisters, or a scab, or a drie scurfe: you shal not offer them to the Lord, nor burne of them vpon the Lordes altar. 23. An ox and a sheep , hauing the eare and the taile cut off, thou maist offer voluntarily, but a vow can not be paid of them. 24. No beast that hath the stones bruised , or cruied, or cut and taken away, shal you offer to the Lord, & in your land make not this at al. 25. Of the hand of a stranger you shal not offer breads to your God , and what other thing soeuer he would giue: because they are al corrupted, & blemihed: you shal not receiue thē. 26. And our Lord spake to Moyfes, saying : 27. An ox, a sheep, and a goat, when they are brought forth, shal be seuen dayes vnder the vdder of their damme : but the eight day and so for ward they may be offered to the Lord. 28. Whether it be a beefe , or a sheep, they shal not be immolated in one day with their yong ones. 29. If you immolate an hoste for thanks-giuing to the Lord, that he may be placable, 30. the same day you shal eate it, there shal not ought remaine vntil the morning of the next day. I the Lord. 31. Keep my cōmandments, & doe them. I the Lord. 32. Pollute not my holie name that I may be sanctified in the middes of the children of Israel. I the Lord that sanctifie you, 33. and brought you out of the Land of Ægypt, that I might be your God. I the Lord.

(d) By these accidental vncleannes was prefigured the censure of suspension in clergie men.

C H A P. XXIII.

The solemnities of the Sabbath, 5. of Pasch and first fruits, 15. of Pentecost, 23. of Trumpets, 26. of Expiations, 33. of Tabernacles; and with what rites the same shal be celebrated.

AND our Lord spake to Moyses, saying: 2. Speake to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them: These are the festiuities of our Lord, which you shal cal holie. 3. Six dayes ye shal doe worke: (a) the seuenth day, because it is the rest of the sabbath, shal be called holie. No worke shal you doe in it: it is (b) the Sabbath of the Lord in al your habitations. 4. These therefore are the holie festiuities of the Lord, which you must celebrate in their times. 5. The first month, the fourteenth day of the month at euen, is the (c) Phase of the Lord: 6. and the fifteenth day of this month is the solemnitie of the Azymes of the Lord. Seuen daies shal you eate azymes. 7. The first day shal be most solemne vnto you, & holie: no seruile worke shal you doe in it: 8. but you shal offer sacrifice in fire to the Lord seuen daies, but the seuenth day shal be more solēne, & more holie: and you shal doe no seruile worke in it. 9. And our Lord spake to Moyses, saying: 10. Speake to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them. When you shal be entred into the land, which I wil giue you, and shal reape your corne, you shal bring sheaues of cares, the first fruits of your haruest to the Priest: 11. who shal eleuate the bundle before the Lord, the next day after the Sabbath, that it may be acceptable for you, and shal sanctifie it. 12. And in the self-same day that the sheafe is consecrated, shal be killed a lambe without spot of a yeare old for an holocaust of the Lord. 13. And the libaments shal be offered with it, two tenths of floure tempered with oile, for a burnt sacrifice of the Lord, and a most sweete odour: libaments also of wine, the fourth part of an hin. 14. Bread, and fried barlie, & frumentie, you shal not eate of the corne, vntil the day that you offer therof to your God. It is a precept for euer in your generations, and al your habitations. 15. You shal number therefore from the morow after the Sabbath, wherein you did offer the sheafe of the first fruits, seuen ful weekes, 16. vnto the morow after the seuenth weeke be expired, that is to say (d) listie daies, and so you shal offer a new sacrifice to the Lord, 17. out of al your

The fourth part.

Of feasts, times of rest, & Iubilee, with priuiledges, rewards & punishments.

(a) There were eight seueral, feasts commanded by this law (besides the dailie sacrifice) mentioned Num. 28. & 29. of which only seuen are here expressed.

1. (b) The Sabbath in memorie that God created al things in six daies & rested the seuenth.

2. (c) Pasch in memorie of their deliuerie from Ægypt.

(d) Pentecost in remembrance of receiuing the law.

(e) See chap.
7. v. 14.

4
(e) Feast of trumpets, in memorie that a ramme sticking by the hornes was offered by Abraham in stead of Isaac.

5.
(f) Feast of Expiation on in memorie of the sinne in worshipping the calfe, and for al sinnes forgotten, or vnknown

6.
(g) Feast of Tabernacles, to remember Gods protection in the wilderness, where they dwelled in tabernacles 40. yeares.

7.
(h) Feast of Assemblie and collection, in memorie of peace giuen in the land of promise.

habitations, two loaves of first fruits, of two tenths of flour (e) leavened, the which you shall bake for the first fruits of the Lord. 18. And you shall offer with the breads seven lambs without spot of a yeare old, and one calfe from the heard, & two rammes, and they shall be for an holocaust with their libaments, for a most sweet odour to the Lord. 19. You shall make a buck goat also for sinne, and two lambs of a yeare old for hosts of pacifikes. 20. And when the Priest hath eleuated them with the breads of the first fruits before the Lord, they shall turne to his vse. 21. And you shall call this day most solemne, and most holie: no seruile worke shall you doe in it. It shall be an euerlasting ordinance in al your habitations, and generations. 22. And after you reape the corne of your land, you shall not cut it to the verie ground: neither shall you gather the eares that remaine, but you shall let them alone for the poore & for strangers. I am the Lord your God. 23. And our Lord spake to Moyse, saying: 24. Speake to the children of Israel: The seventh month on (e) the first day of the month, shall be a Sabbath, a memorial, by sounding of trumpets, and shall be called holie: 25. no seruile worke shall you doe in it, and you shall offer holocaust to the Lord. 26. And our Lord spake to Moyse, saying: 27. vpon the tenth day of this seventh month shall be the day of (j) expiations most solemne, and it shall be called holie: and you shall afflict your soules in it, and shall offer holocaust to the Lord. 28. No seruile worke shall you doe the time of this day: because it is a day of propitiation, that the Lord your God may become propitious vnto you. 29. Euerie soule, that is not afflicted this day, shall perish out of his people: 30. and which shall doe anie worke, the same wil I destroy out of his people. 31. No worke therefore shall you doe in it: it shall be an euerlasting ordinance vnto you in al your generations, and habitations. 32. It is a Sabbath of reiting, and you shall afflict your soules the ninth day of the month: from euen vntil euen you shall celebrate your sabbaths. 33. And our Lord spake to Moyse, saying: 34. Speake to the children of Israel: From the fifteenth day of this seventh month, shall be the festiuitie of (g) tabernacles seven daies to the Lord. 35. The first day shall be called most solemne and most holie: no seruile worke shall you doe in it. And seven daies you shall offer holocausts to the Lord. 36. The eight day also shall be most solemne and most holie, and you shall offer holocausts to the Lord: for it is of (h) assemblie and collection: no seruile worke shall you doe in it. 37. These are the festiuities of the Lord, which you shall call most solemne and most holie, and shall offer in them oblations to the Lord, holocausts and libaments according to the rite of euerie day: 38. beside the sabbaths of the Lord, and your giuts and those that you shall offer by vow, or which you shall giue to the Lord voluntarily. 39. Therefore from the fifteenth day of the seventh month, when you shall haue gathered al the fruits of your land, you shall celebrate the festiuitie of the Lord seven daies, on the first day and the eight shall be a sabbath, that is rest. 40. And you shall take to you the

to you the first day the fruits of a moit faire tree, and the branches of palmes, and boughs of the tree with thicke leaues, and willowes of the brook, and you shal reioice before the Lord your God. 41. And you shal celebrate the solemnitie therof seuen daies in the yeare. It shal be an (1) euerlasting ordinance in your generations. The seuenth month shal you celebrate the festiuitie, 42. and shal dwel in bowers seuen daies, euerie one that is of the stocke of Israel shal abide in tabernacles: 43. that your posteritie may learne that I made the children of Israel to dwel in tabernacles, when I brought them out of the Land of Ægypt. I the Lord your God. 44. And Moyfes spake concerning the solemnities of our Lord to the children of Israel.

1) These feasts were euerlasting to the Iewes in their generations that is, neuer to be altered by them, nor during their state. S. Aug. 9. 43. in Exod.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. XXIII.

2. The festiuities.] As other lawes written by Moyfes concerning Saerifices, Sacraments, Degrees hindring mariage, punishments of sinnes, and the like, are partly moral, pertaining to the law of nature, partly ceremonial, or iudicial, which may be altered: so this law of festiuities is partly maral, for that al men are bound to keep some festiual dayes in honour of God, partly ceremonial, and so the Sabbath day was kept holie in the old Testament, the seuenth day of the weeke, and other feasts, the dayes here prescribed. But these particular feasts and times are abogated by Christ, whom they prefigured. In so much that now it is not lawfull to keep them, for it would signifie that Christ were not come, as S. Paul teacheth (Rom. 14. Galat 4. Coloss. 2. and in other places) and it were plaine Iudaisme, and Heresie condemned by the Council of Laodicia cap. 19. accusing them that Iudaize abstayning that day from works. S. Gregorie also refuteth this heresie, li. 11. Epist. 2. shewing that Antichrist wil embarce it fauouring the Iewes: In places wherof the next day (which we cal sunday) is made a perpetual holie day, by authoritie of the Church, and called dies Dominica, our Lords day (Apo. 1.) And this change the Protestants confesse to be lawfull and necessarie, though we haue no other expresse scripture, when, or by whom it was done, but only that S. John had his reuelation in our Lords day, but by perpetual tradition al Christians know, that the day after the sabbath is our weeklie holie day, in memorie of Christs Resurrection the same day, and in figure of the general resurrection of al men, and of lite euerlasting to the blessed. S. Aug. li. 22. c. 30. ciuit. & Epist. 119. c. 15. and S. Hierome Epist. ad Hedib. The same reason and authoritie doe also warrant the change of other feasts, and institution of new, in honour of God, our Sauour Iesus Christ, his Mother, and other Saints, and in memorie of benefits receiued, as here we see in the old Testament diuers were commanded by God, some also instituted long after Moyfes, as by Mardocheus and other Iewes, Efter 9. and the restauration with new dedication of the altar. 1. Machab. 4. obserued by our Sauour Ioan. 10. v. 22.

Festiual daies pertaine to the seruice of God.

It is heresse to keepe the Sabbath holie day.

In place therof we keep Sunday.

Other feasts also changed, and new instituted by the same authoritie.

C H A P. XXIIII.

Provision of oile for lamps in the Tabernacle. 5. The making, and disposing the loaves of proposition. 10. The punishment of blasphemie, and manslaughter. 18. And the paine of equal reuenge.

AND our Lord spake to Moyfes, saying: 2. Command the children of Israel, that they bring vnto thee oyle of oliues most pure, and cleare, to furnish the lamps continually, 3. without the veile of the testimonie in the tabernacle of couenant. And Aaron shal set them from euen vntil morning before the Lord, by a perpetual seruice and rite in your generations. 4. Vpon the candlestick most cleane shal they be put alwaies in the sight of the Lord. 5. Thou shalt take also floure, & shalt bake therof twelue breads, which shal haue euerie one (a) two tenths: 6. which thou shalt set six one against an other vpon the most cleane table before the Lord, 7. and thou shalt put vpon them the clearest frankincense, that the bread may be for a monument of the oblation of the Lord. 8. Euerie sabbath they shal be changed before the Lord, receiued of the children of Israel by an euerlasting couenant: 9. and they shal be Aarons and his sonnes, that they may eat them in a holie place: because it is most Holie of the sacrifices of the Lord by a perpetual right. 10. And behold there went forth the sonne of a woman of Israel, whom she had borne of an Egyptian among the children of Israel, and fel at words in the campe with a man of Israel. 11. And when he had blasphemed the name, and had cursed it, he was brought to Moyfes: (And his mother was called Salmuth, the daughter of Dabri of the tribe of Dan.) 12. And they did cast him into prison, til they might know what our Lord would command. 13. Who spake to Moyfes, 14. saying: Bring forth the blasphemer without the campe, and let al that heard him put their hands vpon his head, and let al the people stone him. 15. And to the children of Israel thou shalt speake: The man that curseth his God shal beare his sinne: 16. and he that blasphemeth the name of the Lord, dying let him dye: al the multitude of the people shal stone him, whether he be a natural, or stranger. He that blasphemeth the name of the Lord, dying let him dye. 17. He that striketh, and killeth a man, dying let him dye. 18. He that striketh a beast, shal render one for it, that is to say, soule for soule. 19. He that giueth anie of his neighbours a blemish, (b) as he did, so shal it be done to him: 20. fracture for fracture, eye for eye, tooth for tooth he shal restore. What blemish he gaue, the like shal he

(a) Two tenths of an ephi, that is, two gomors. A gomor of Manna, which is the tenth part of an ephi, sufficed one man for a day. Exo. 16. v. 16. & 36. so that one of these loaves was as much as al the meate which two doe ordinarily eate in one day.

(b) This Law designing equalitie, was to put a limit, not to enforce to reuenge, for the partie damaged, if he would, might remit al or part. S. Aug. l. 19. c. 25. cons. Faustum.

be con-

be compelled to sustaine. 21. He that striketh a beast, shall render an other. He that striketh a man, shall be punished. 22. Let there be equal judgement among you, whether a stranger, or a natural sinne: because I am the Lord your God. 23. And Moyses spake to the children of Israel: and they brought him forth that had blasphemed, without the camp, and they stoned him. And the children of Israel did as our Lord had commanded Moyses.

C H A P. XXV.

The law of the seventh year, 8. and fiftieth year, which is the Iubilie, 13. when al inheritaunce sold returneth to the former owner (24. as also it may in the meane time be redeemed.) 35. Vsurie prohibited, 39. and seruitude among the Israelites, only they may be hyred til the Iubilie year, 47. and may be reaceemed from seruitude of strangers: 54. at least they shal be free in the yeare of Iubilie.

AND our Lord spake to Moyses in the mount Sinai, saying: 2. Speake to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them: When you shall be entred to the land which I wil giue you, thou shalt sabbatize the sabbath to the Lord. 3. Six yeares thou shalt sow thy field, and six yeares thou shalt cut thy vineyard, and shalt gather the fruits thereof: 4. but in the seventh yeare a sabbath shall be to the earth, of the resting of the Lord: the field thou shalt not sow, and the vineyard thou shalt not cut. 5. The things that the ground shall bring forth of it-self, thou shalt not reap: & the grapes of thy first fruits thou shalt not gather as a vintage: for it is a yeare of the resting of the earth: 6. but they shall be vnto you for meate, to thee & thy man-seruant, to thy woman-seruant and hyreling, and to the stranger that seiourneth with thee: 7. to thy beasts & cattel al things that grow shall giue meate. 8. Thou shalt number thee also seven weeks of yeares, that is to say, seven times seven, which together make fourtie nine, yeares: 9. & thou (a) shalt sound with the trumpet the seventh month, the tenth day of the month, in the time of propitiation in al your land. 10. Thou shalt sanctifie the fiftieth yeare, and shalt proclaime remission to al the inhabitants of thy land: for it is the yeare of Iubilie. Euerie man shall returne to his possession, & euerie one shall goe back to his old familie: 11. because it is the Iubilie & the fiftieth yeare. You shall not sow nor reape the things that grow in the field of their owne accord, & the first fruits of vintage you shall not gather, 12. because of the sanctification of the Iubilie, but forthwith as they grow you shall cate them. 13. In the yeare of Iubilie al shall returne to their possessions. 14. When thou shalt sel anie thing to thy neighbour, or shalt buy of him, presse not thy brother, but according to the number of the yeares of

(a) Of sounding with trumpets, which is pleasant & ioyful, cometh the name of Iubilie: the effect of it is remission of al bonds, restoration of former libertie, and recovery of inheritaunce. In the old Testament of temporal things, in the new of spiritual, prafigured thereby: as remission of sinne, deliuerie from bondage thereof, recovery of grace, and preparation to eternal glorie.

Iubilee thou shalt buy of him, 15. and according to the supputation of the fruits he shall sell to thee. 16. The more yeares remaine after the Iubilee, so much more shall the price increase: and the lesse time that thou shalt account, so much the lesse shall the purchase be valued, for the time of the fruits he shall sell to thee. 17. Doe not afflict your countrymen, but let euery one feare his God, because I the Lord your God. 18. Doe my precepts; and keep my iudgements, and fulfil them: that you may dwell in the land without any feare, 19. and the ground may yeald you her fruits, which you may eat vnto your fil, feareing no mans inuasion. 20. But if you say: What shall we eat the seuenth yeare, if we sowe not, nor gather our fruits? 21. I will giue you my benediction the sixt yeare, and it shall yeald the fruits of three yeares: 22. and the eighth yeare you shall sowe, and shall eat of the old fruits, vntil the ninth yeare: til new be growne; you shall eat the old. 23. The land also shall not be sold for euer: because it is mine, and you are my strangers & se-iourners. 24. For the which cause al the countrie of your possession shall be sold vnder the condition of redemption. 25. If thy brother impou-erished sell his litle possession, & his kinsman wil, he may redeeme that which he had sold. 26. But if he haue no kinsman, and himself can find the price to redeeme it: 27. the fruits shall be accounted from that time when he sold it, and the residue he shall restore to the buier, and so he shall receiue his possession againe. 28. but if his hand find not to repay the price, the buier shall haue that he bought, vntil the yeare of Iubilee. For in it al sale shall returne to the owner, & to the old possessor. 29. He that selleth a house within the walles of a citie, shall haue licence to redeeme it, vntil one yeare be expired. 30. If he redeeme it not, and the compasse of the yeare be fully out, the buier shall possesse it, & his posteritie for euer, & it can not be redeemed, no not in the Iubilee. 31. But if the house be in a village that hath not walles, it shall be sold according to the law of fields, if it be not redeemed before, in the Iubilee it shall returne to the owner. 32. The houses of Leuites, which are in cities, may alwaies be redeemed: 33. if they be not redeemed, in the Iubilee they shall returne to the owners, because the houses of the cities of the Leuites are for possessions among the children of Israel. 34. But let not their suburbs be sold, because it is a perpetual possession. 35. If thy brother be empou-erished, and weake of hand, & thou receiue him as a stranger and se-iourner, and he liue with thee, 36. take not vsuries (b) of him, nor more then thou gauest: feare thy God, that thy brother may liue with thee. 37. Thou shalt not giue him thy money to vsurie, and an ouerplus of the fruits thou shalt not exact of him. 38. I the Lord your God, that brought you out of the Land of Ægypt, that I might giue you the Land of Chanaan, & might be your God. 39. If thy brother constrained by pouertie sell himself to thee, thou shalt not oppresse him with the seruitude of seruants, 40. but he shall be as an hireling and a se-iourner, vntil the yeare of Iubilee he shall worke with thee, 41. and afterward he shall goe out

(b) Jewes for their aduantage hold it lawfull to take vsurie of strangers, not obseruing that it is also commanded often in scripture, not so afflict, but to loue strangers. Exod. 22. 23. Lem. 19.

with

with his children, & ſhal returne to his kinred & to the poſſeſſion of his fathers. 42. for they are my ſeruants, & I brought them out of the Land of Ægypt. let them not be ſold by the condition of ſeruants: 43. afflict him not by might, but feare thy God. 44. Let your man ſeruāt, & woman ſeruāt, be of the nations that are round about you. 45. And of the ſtrangers, that ſeourne with you, or that were borne of them in your land, theſe you ſhal haue for ſeruants: 46. and by right of inheritance ſhal leaue them to your poſteritie, & ſhal poſſeſſe them for euer, but your brethren the children of Iſrael doe ye not oppreſſe by might. 47. If the hand of a ſtranger or ſeourner grow ſtrong among you, and thy brother empouerihed ſel himſelf to him, or to any of his ſtocke: 48. after the ſale he may be redeemed. He that wil of his brethren ſhal redeeme him, 49. both the vncle by father, and the vncles ſonne, and the kinsman, and the allied. But and if himſelf be able alſo, he ſhal redeeme himſelfe, 50. accounting onlie the yeares from the time of his ſelling vnto the yeare of Iubilee: and accounting the money, that he was ſold for, according to the number of the yeares and the reckning of an hireling. 51. If they be more yeares that remaine vntil the Iubilee, according to theſe alſo ſhal he repay the price. 52. if few, he ſhal make the reckning with him according to the number of the yeares, and ſhal repay to the buyer for that which remaineth of the yeares 53. his wages being allowed for the which he ſerued before: he ſhal not afflict him violently in thy ſight. 54. And if by theſe meanes he can not be redeemed, in the yeare of Iubilee he ſhal goe out with his children. 55. For the children of Iſrael are my ſeruants, whom I brought forth out of the Land of Ægypt.

C H A P. XXVI.

With new prohibition of Idolatrie, and commandement to keepe the Sabbath 3. rewards are promiſed to al that obſerue Gods precepts. 14. And manie miſerable puniſhments are threatned to al tranſgreſſours.

ITHE Lord your God: you ſhal not make to your ſelues an idol and (a) thing grauen, neither ſhal you erect titles, nor ſet a notorious ſtone in your land, for to adore it, for I am the Lord your God. 2. Keep my ſabbaths, and dread my Sanctuarie. I the Lord. 3. If you walke in my precepts, and keepe my commandments, and doe them, I wil giue you raine in their ſeaſons, 4. and the earth ſhal bring forth her ſpring, and the trees ſhal be replenished with fruits. 5. The threſhing of your harueit ſhal reach vnto vintage, and the vintage ſhal reach vnto ſowing time: and you ſhal eate your bread to your fil, and without feare ſhal you dwel in your land. 6. I wil giue peace in your coaſts: you ſhal ſleepe, and there ſhal be none to make you

(a) Herctikes holding their corrupt courſe wil needs haue image of Chriſt, or Saint, to be the grauen thing, which is forbidden in holie Scriptures: & therefore falſly trãſlate Peſel, a grauen image, where indeed it ſignifieth an image,

afraid. I wil take away euil beasts: and the sword thal not passe through your quarters, 7. You shal pursue your enemies, and they thal fal before you. 8. Fiue of yours thal pursue an hundred strangers, and an hundred of you ten thousand: your enemies shal fal by the sword in your sight. 9. I wil respect you, and make you increase: you shal be multiplied, & I wil establiish my couenant with you. 10. You thal eate the eldest of the old store, & new cōming vpon it you shal cast forth the old. 11. I wil set my tabernacle in the middes of you, and my soule thal not cast you off. 12. I wil walke among you, & wil be your God, & you shal be my people. 13. I the Lord your God, that haue brought you out of the Land of the Ægyptians, that you should not serue them, and that haue broken the chaines of your necks, that you might goe vpright. 14. But if you wil not heare me, nor doe al my commandemēt, 15. if you dispise my lawes, and contemne my iudgements that you doe not those things which are appointed by me, and bring my couenant to nothing worth, 16. I also wil doe these things to you: I thal quickly visite you with pouertie, and burning heat, which shal wast your eies, & consume your liues, you shal sow your seed in vaine, which shal be deuoured of the enemies. 17. I wil set my face against you, and you thal fal downe before your enemies, and thal be made subicct to them that hate you. You shal fly, when no man pursueth you. 18. But if you wil not obey me so neither, I wil increase your chastisements seuen-fold for your sinnes, 19. and wil breake the pride of your stubburnesse. And I wil make to you the heauen from aboue as iron, and the earth as brasfe. 20. Your labour thal be spent in vaine, the earth thal not bring forth her spring, nor the trees yeald their fruits. 21. If you walke contrarie to me, & wil not heare me, I wil increase your pīagues vntil seuen-fold for your sinnes: 22. & I wil send in vpon you the beasts of the field, which may consume you, & your cattel, and may bring al things to a smal number, and that your waies may be made desert. 23. And if you wil neither so receiue discipline, but walke rather contrarie to me: 24. I also wil goe opposite against you, and wil strike you seuen times for your sinnes. 25. and I wil bring in vpon you the sword a reuenger of my couenant. And when you shal fly into the cities, I wil send the pestilence in the middelt of you, and you shal be deliuered in the hands of the enemies, 26. after I thal haue broken the staffe of your bread: so that ten women shal bake your breads in one ouen, and shal render them by weight: and you shal eate, and shal not be filled. 27. But if you wil neither by these meanes heare me, but walke against me, 28. I also wil goe against you in contrarie furie, and wil chastice you with seuen pīagues for your sinnes, 29. so that you shal (b) eate the flesh of your sōnes & of your daughters. 30. I wil destroy your excelses, & breake your idols. You thal fal amōg the ruines of your idols, & my soule thal abhorre you, 31. in so much that I wil bring your cities into a wildernesse, and I wil make your Sanctuaries desert, neither wil I receiue any more the most sweet odour. 32. And I wil destroy your land, and your enemies shal be astonished vpon it, when they shal be inhabitants therof. 33. And you I wil disperse into the Gentiles, and wil draw out the sword after you, and your land shal be desert, and your cities destroyed. 34. Then shal the land take pleasure in her sabbaths al the daies of her desolation: when you shal be 35. in the enemies land, she shal sabbatize, and rest in the sabbaths of her desolation, because she did not rest in your sabbaths when you dwelt in it. 36. And they that shal remaine of you, I wil put feare in their harts in the countries of their enemies, the sound of a flying leafe shal terrifie them, and they shal flie it as it were a sword: they shal fall when no man pursueth, 37. and they shal euerie one fall vpon their brethren, as flying from warres, none of you shal be so hardie as to resist your enemies. 38. You shal perish among the Gentiles, and the enemies land shal consume you. 39. And if of them also some remaine, they shal pine away in their iniquities in the land of their enemies, and for the finnes of their fathers and their owne they shal be afflicted: 40. vntil they confesse their owne & their ancestours iniquities, wherby they haue preuaricated against me, and walked contrarie vnto me. 41. I also therefore wil walke against them, & bring them into their enemies land, vntil their vncircumcised mind be ashamed: then shal they pray for their impieties. 42. And I wil remember my couenant, that I made with (c) Iacob, and Isaac, and Abraham. Of the land also I wil be mindful: 43. which when it shal be left of them, shal take pleasure in her sabbaths, being desolate for them. But they shal pray for their finnes, for that they reiected my iudgements, and despised my lawes. 44. Howbeit euen when they were in the land of their enemies (a) I did not cast them off altogether, neither did I so despise them, that they should be consumed, and I should make my couenant with them frustrate. For I am the Lord their God, 45. and I wil remember mine old couenant, when I brought them out of the Land of Ægypt, in the sight of the Gentiles, for to be their God. I the Lord. These are the iudgements, and precepts, and lawes, which our Lord gaue between himself and the children of Israel in Monnt Sinai by the hand of Moyfes.

(b) This extreme famine fel vpon some of them in Samaria, 4. Reg. 6. vpon others in Hierusalem 4. Reg. 25. most specially when they were besieged by Titus Iosephus li. 7. c. 6. de bello Iudaico.

c) Iacob is first here named, because he had no other children but this people, for Isaac was also father of the Idumeans, and Abraham moreover of the Ismaelites and Madianites, and because the great promises made to Abraham and Isaac pertained only to the Israelites. Theodores. q. 16. in Leuit.
d) The Church neuer wholly decayeth.

C H A P. XXVII.

How some vowes of diuers persones may be redeemed, but some may not be changed. 28. Al, one way or other, must be discharged. 30. Tithes also must be payed, either the same that are due or more.

AND our Lord spake to Moyfes, saying: 2. Speake to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them: The man that shal haue made a vow, and (a) bound his soule to God, by estimation he shal giue the price. 3. If it be a man

The fifth part. Of vowes and Tithes.

(a) Because no other but the tribe of Leui could serue about the tabernacle, and yet others might desire

from

to serue there, they might in stead thereof
giue a price, & haue the reward of their good wil.

(d) The thing that is vowed, if it may be pe-formed, pleaseth God better then a change.

(e) A sicle was about 18. d. obolus three farthings.

from the twentieth yeare vntil three score, he shal giue fiftie sicles of siluer, after the measure of the Sanctuarie: 4. if a woman, thirtie. 5. But from the fift yeare vntil the twentieth, a man shal giue twentie sicles: a woman ten. 6. From one month vntil the fift yeare, for a man shal be giuen fise sicles: for a woman thre. 7. One that is three score & aboue, a man shal giue fifteen sicles, a woman ten. 8. If he be poore, and not able to pay the estimation, he shal stand before the Priest: and as much as he shal esteeme, and see him able to pay, so much shal he giue. 9. But the beast, that may be immolated to the Lord, if a man doe vow it, shal be holie, 10. and can not be changed, that is to say, (b) neither a better for a bad, nor a worse for a good, and if he change it, both it self that was changed, and that for the which it was changed, shal be consecrated to the Lord. 11. The vnclene beast, which can not be immolated to the Lord, if anie man vow it shal be brought before the Priest. 12. Who iudgeing whether it be good or euil, shal set the price: 13. which if he that offereth wil giue, he shal adde aboue the estimation the fift part. 14. If a man vow his house, and sanctifie it to the Lord, the Priest shal consider it, whether it be good or bad, and according to the price which he shal appoint, it shal be sold. 15. But if he that had vowed wil redeeme it, he shal giue the fift part of the estimation besides, and shal haue the house. 16. And if he vow the field of his possession, and consecrate it to the Lord, the price shal be esteemed according to the measure of the seed. If the ground be sowed with thirtie bushels of barley, let it be sold for fiftie sicles of siluer. 17. If he vow his field immediately from the yeare of Iubilee, that is beginning, how much it can be worth, at so much it shal be esteemed: 18. but if some time after, the Priest shal account the money according to the number of yeares that remaine vntil the Iubilee, and there shal be diminished of the price. 19. And if he that had vowed wil redeeme his field, he shal adde the fift part of the esteemed money, and shal possesse it. 20. And if he wil not redeeme it, but it be sold to any other man, he that had vowed it can redeeme it no more: 21. for when the day of Iubilee commeth, it shal be sanctified to the Lord, and the possession consecrated pertaineth to the right of the Priests. 22. If the field be bought, and being not of his ancestors possession be sanctified to the Lord, 23. the Priest shal account the price according to the number of yeares, vnto the iubilee: and he that had vowed shal giue that to the Lord. 24. but in the Iubilee, it shal returne to the former owner that sold it and had it in the lot of his possession. 25. Al estimation shal be weighed by the (c) sicle of the sanctuarie. A sicle hath twentie oboles. 26. The first borne, which pertaine to the Lord, no man may sanctifie and vow: whether it be oxe, or sheep, they are the Lordes. 27. And if it be an vnclene beast, he that offereth it shal redeeme it, according to thy estimation, and shal adde the fift part of the price. If he wil not redeeme it, it shal be sold to an other for how much soeuer it was esteemed by thee.

thee. 28. Anie thing that is (e) consecrated to the Lord, whether it be man, or beast, or field, shal not be sold, neither can it be redeemed. Whatsoeuer is once cōsecrated, shal be holie of holies to the Lord. 29. And any consecration, that is offered of a man, shal not be redeemed, but dying shal die. 30. Al tithes of the land, whether of corne, or of the fruits of trees, are the Lordes, and are sanctified to him. 31. And if anie man wil redeeme his tiths, he shal adde the fift part of them. 32. Of al the tithes of oxen, and sheep, and goats, that passe vnder the shepherds rod, euerie tenth that commeth shal be sanctified to the Lord. 33. It shal not be chosen neither good nor bad, neither shal it be changed for an other. If anie man change it, both that which was changed, and that for the which it was changed, shal be sanctified to the Lord, and shal not be redeemed. 34. These are the precepts, which our Lord commanded Moyfes vnto the children of Israel in the mount Sinai.

e) A vow made approued and consecrated to God, can not be changed by anie man.

Theodores 9. vlt. in Levit.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. XXVII.

25. The first-borne.] God here forbiddeth to vow the first-borne, and giueth the reason, for that they are the Lordes, shewing that those things wherto we are already bound, are not properly matter of vow. But a vow properly is a religious promise voluntarily made to God, of a good thing, vnto which we were not bound. And that the same is verie grateful to God, appeareth not only in this chapter, and in manie other places of Moyfes law, but also in the law of nature. Gen. 28. Iacob vowed, and God accepted thereof, Gen. 31. 7. 13. And the royal Prophet in diuers Psalmes pertaining to the new Testament commendeth vows. It is certaine also and manifest. 1. Tim. 5. that widowes did lawfully vow chasticitie in the primitive Church: and such as did afterward breake the same, did violate their promise to God. Innumerable also most learned and most godlie fathers, haue euer from Christs time both taught and practised religious vows, of obedience to superiors, who otherwise had no authoritie ouer them, and of perpetual chasticitie, and voluntarie pouertie. It is likewise, and continually hath been, a most common practise in the Church, to vow other good workes of pietie, as to visite holie places, to build Churches, Colledges, Hospitals, and the like, being no way bound therto but of mere deuotion. See Annotations 1. Tim. 5.

Vowes are properly of things not commanded. And are grateful to God also in the new Testament.

Num.
6. 50.
Deu. 23.
Psa. 21.
49. 75.
115. 131.

* * * * *

THE ARGUMENT OF NUMERI.

Mysteries contained in these histories.

The contents according to the letter.

Wicked life draweth to Idolatry.

Three parts of this book.

In this book called Numeri are contained (saith S. Hierom) the Mysteries of al Arithmetike, or numbring, of the Prophecie of Balaam, & of the fourtie two Mansions of the Israelites, in the desert. Which mystical sense the same Great Doctor, as also S. Augustine & other Fathers doe gather of the literal, written by Moyses. Who here prosecuteth the sacred historie after Genesis & Exodus (Leuiticus also containing one month) from the second month of the second year, after the deliuerie of the Israelites out of Egypt, neer 39. yeares, to the last of Moyses life. First therefore he reporteth how al the men of twelue tribes, of the age of twentie yeares and vpward, were numbred. Likewise the tribe of Leui was numbred & employed partly in priestlie function, the rest to assist the Priests. He describeth also the order of marching & encamping, the Leuites alwayes next & round about the Tabernacle: the other twelue tribes in circuite of them on al sides. He moreouer recordeth certaine notable murmurings, tumults, schismes, and rebellions with the euent therof, and miserable ends of chief seducers. Whose great iniuries Moyses meekely sustained with singular patience, stil executing his owne function with heroical fortitude. Among which, diuers precepts and Lawes are partly repeated partly added, as wel concerning Religion and Gods seruice, as godlie policie and ciuil gouernment of the people, with chastisement of offenders. How also their enemies endeauoured to annoy them, Balac King of Moab procuring Balaam the forcerer, so much as in him lay, to curse them, but al in vaine. Yet by carnal fornication manie were drawn to spiritual. Both which being punished God againe prospered his people, in diuers encounters and battailes against Infidels. Finally, the promised Land of Chanaan on both sides Iordane is described by limits, which they shal part amongst them by lot, the Leuites mingled in euerie tribe, with their appointed cities and commodities for habitation, and the tithes, first-fruits, oblations, and abundant prouision for their maintenance. Cities also of refuge are designed for casual manslayers: and a law established that al shal manie within their owne tribes, to avoid confusion of inheritances. So this booke may be diuided into three parts. In the first the principal and most perfect sort of the people are numbred, and disposed in order according to diuers states and offices, before they depart from the desert of Sinai. in the nine first chapters. Then are related sundrie things, which happened vnto them in the rest of their iourney, especially manie and great impediments, through al which God punishing some, brought the residue to enioy the promised land. fr. the 10. chap. to the end of the 33. Lastly the countrie of Chanaan is againe promised, with order for to possesse and enioy it, that euerie tribe may haue and keepe their several parts. in the three last chapters.

Epist. ad Paulin.

qq. in Num.

THE BOOK
 N V M E R I (OR NUMBERS) IN HEBREW VAIEDABBER.

C H A P. I.

At the men of twelue tribes of Israel, of the Age of twentieth yeares and vpwards (but not vnder, nor women,) are numbred: 20. and are found in al six hundred thirrie thousand five hundred fiftie. The Leuites not yet numbred, are designed to serue about the Tabernacle.

AND our Lord spake to Moyfes in the desert of Sinai in the tabernacle of couenant, the first day of the second month, the second yeare of their going out of Ægypt, saying: 1. Take the summe of the whole assemblie of the children of Israel by their kinreds, & houses, and the names of euerie one, whatsoeuer of the male sexe, 2. from the twentieth yeare and vpward, of al the strong men of Israel, and you shal number them by their troupes, thou and Aaron. 3. And there shal be with you the Princes of the tribes, and of the houses in their kinreds, 4. whose names are these: Of Ruben, Elizur the sonne of Seduc. 5. Of Simeon, Salamiel the sonne of Surifaddai. 6. Of Iuda, Nathasson, the sonne of Aminadab. 7. Of Issachar, Nathanael the sonne of Suar. 8. Of Zabulon, Eliab the sonne of Helon. 9. And of the sonnes of Ioseph, of Ephraim, Elisama the sonne of Ammiud. Of Manasses, Gama-liel, the sonne of Phadassur. 10. Of Benjamin, Abidan the sonne of Gedeon. 11. Of Dã, Ahiezer the sonne of Ammifaddai. 12. Of Aser, Phegiel the sonne

The first part. Of those which are numbred of the 12. Tribes fit for warre, & of the Leuites designed to serue the Tabernacle.

of Ochra. 14. Of Gad, Eliazaph the sonne of Duel, 15. Of Nephthali, Ahira the sonne of Enan. 16. These are the most noble Princes of the multitude by their tribes & kinreds, and the heads of the hoste of Israel: 17. whom Moyses and Aaron tooke with al the multitude of the common people: 18. and assembled them the first day of the second month, reckning them by the kinred, and houses, and families, and heads, and names of euerie one from the twentieth yeare and vpward, 19. as our Lord had commanded Moyses. And they were numbred in the desert of Sinai. 20. Of Ruben the first begotten of Israel, by their generations and families and houses, and names of euerie head, al that is of the male sexe, from the twentieth yeare & vpward, of thē that goe forth to warre, 21. fourtie six thousand five hundred. 22. Of the sonnes of Simeon by the generations, and families, and houses of their kinreds, were reckned by the names & heads of euerie one, al that is of the male sexe from the twentieth yeare and vpward, of them that goe forth to warre, 23. fiftie nine thousand three hundred. 24. Of the sonnes of Gad, by the generations and families and houses of their kinreds were reckned by the names of euerie one from twentie yeares and vpward, al that went forth to warre, 25. fourtie five thousand six hundred fiftie. 26. Of the sonnes to Iuda by the generations and families and houses of their kinreds, by the names of euerie one from the twentieth yeare and vpward, al that could goe forth to warre, 27. were reckned seuentie four thousand six hundred. 28. Of the sonnes of Issachar, by the generations and families and houses of their kinreds, by the names of euerie one from the twentieth yeare & vpward, al that went forth to warre, 29. were reckned fiftie four thousand four hundred. 30. Of the sonnes of Zabulō, by the generations & families and houses of their kinreds, were reckned by names of euerie one from the twentieth yeare and vpward, al that could goe forth to warre, 31. fiftie seuen thousand four hundred. 32. Of the sonnes of Ioseph, namely of the sonnes of Ephraim by the generatiōs families and houses of their kinreds were reckned by the names of euerie one, frō the twentieth yeare & vpward, al that could goe forth to warre, 33. fourtie thousand five hundred. 34. Moreouer of the sonnes of Manasses, by the generations and families and houses of their kinreds, were reckned by the names of euerie one from twentie yeares and vpward, al that could goe forth to warre, 35. thirtie two thousand two hundred. 36. Of the sonnes of Benjamin by the generations & families and houses of their kinreds, were reckned by names of euerie one from the twentieth yeare and vpward, al that could goe forth to warre, 37. thirtie five thousand four hundred. 38. Of the sonnes of Dan, by the generations and families and houses of their kinreds, were reckned by the names of euerie one from twentie yeares and vpward, al that could goe forth to warre, 39. sixtie two thousand seuen hundred. 40. Of the sonnes of Aser, by the generations and families and houses of their kinreds, were reckned by the names of euerie

one from the twentieth yeare and vpward, al that could goe forth to warre, 41. fourtie thousand and a thousand five hundred. 42. Of the sonnes of Nephthali, by the generations, and families, and houses of their kinreds were reckened by the names of euerie one from the twentieth yeare and vpward, al that could goe forth to warre, 43. fiftie three thousand foure hundred. 44. These are they, whom Moyfes and Aaron numbred, and the twelue Princes of Israel, euerie one by the houses of their kinreds. 45. And the whole number of the children of Israel by their houses and families, from the twentieth yeare and vpward, that could goe to warre, 46. were (a) six hundred three thousand men five hundred fiftie. 47. But the Leuites in the tribe of their families were not numbred with them. 48. And our Lord spake to Moyfes, saying: 49. Number not the tribe of Leui, neither shalt thou put the summe of them with the children of Israel: 50. but appoint them ouer the tabernacle of testimonie, and al the vessel therof, and whatsoever pertaineth to the ceremonies. They shal carie the tabernacle and al the furniture therof: and they shal be in the ministerie, and shal pitch round about the tabernacle. § 1. When you are to goe forward, the Leuites shal take downe the tabernacle: when you are to campe, they shal set it vp. What (b) stranger soeuer commeth to it, he shal be slaine. 52. And the children of Israel shal campe euerie man by his troups and bands and hoste. 53. Moreouer the Leuites shal pitch their tents round about the tabernacle, lest there come indignation vpon the multitude of the children of Israel, and they shal watch in the custodies of the tabernacle of testimonie. 54. The children of Israel therefore did according to al things which our Lord had commanded Moyfes.

(a) Coming into Ægypt they were but 70. Exo. 1. increased in 216. yeares vnto 603550. not counting the tribe of Leui, nor women, nor anie vnder 20. yeares, nor old men vnable to goe to warre.
(b) Al other tribes were in respect of seruing about the tabernacle called strangers. S. Aug. 9. 3. in Num.

C H A P. II.

At the east side of the Tabernacle the tribe of Iuda, as chiefe, with Issachar and Zabulon doe pitch their tents, and march first: 10. on the south Ruben, with Simeon and Gad (17. The Tabernacle is caried, & erected by the Leuites, who lodge & march round about it.) 18. On the weast side, Ephraim with Manasses and Benjamin: 25. on the north, Dan with Aser and Nephthali.

ND our Lord spake to Moyfes and Aaron saying: 2. Euerie one of the children of Israel by the troups, ensignes, and standerts, and houses of their kinreds shal campe round about the tabernacle of couenant. 3. On the east Iudas shal pitch his tents by the troups of his bande: and the Priace of his sonnes shal be Nahasson the sonne of Aminadab. 4. And the whole summe of the warriors of his stocke, seuentie foure thousand six hundred. 5. Betide him camped they of the tribe of Issachar, whose Prince was Nathanael the sonne of Suar: 6. and al the number of his warriors fiftie foure thousand foure hundred. 7. In the tribe of Zabulon the Prince was Eliab the sonne of Helon. 8. and al the hoste of warriors of his stock, fiftie seuen thousand foure hundred. 9. Al that were numbred in the cāpe of Iudas, were an hundred eightie six thousand foure hundred: and they by their troupes shal march first. 10. In the campe of the sonnes of Ruben on the south side the Prince shal be Elisur the sonne of Seducur: 11. and the whole hoste of his warriors, that were numbred, fourtie six thousand five hundred. 12. Beside him camped they of the tribe of Simeon: whose Prince was Saiaiel the sonne of Surifaddai. 13. and the whole hoste of his warriors, that were numbred, fiftie nine thousand three hundred. 14. In the tribe of Gad, the Prince was Eliasaph the sonne of Ducl. 15. and the whole hoste of his warriors, that were numbred, fourtie five thousand six hundred fiftie. 16. Al that were reckned in the campe of Ruben, an hundred fiftie thousand and a thousand foure hundred fiftie by their troupes: they shal march in the second place. 17. But the tabernacle of testimonie shal be lifted vp by the offices of the Leuites and their troupes. As it shal be set vp, so shal it be taken downe. Euerie one shal march by their places, and orders. 18. On the west side shal be the campe of the sonnes of Ephraim, whose Prince was Elisama the sonne of Ammiud. 19. the whole hoste of his warriors, that were numbred, fourtie thousand five hundred. 20. And with them the tribes of the sonnes of Manasses, whose Prince was Gamaliel the sonne of Phadassur. 21. and the whole hoste of his warriors, that were numbred, thirtie two thousand two hundred. 22. In the tribe of the sonnes of Benjamin the Prince was Abidan the sonne of Gedeon. 23. and the whole hoste of his warriors, that were reckned, thirtie five thousand foure hundred. 24. Al that were numbred in the campe of Ephraim, an hundred eight thousand one hundred by their troupes: they shal march the third. 25. On the north part camped the sonnes of Dan: whose Prince was Abiezar the sonne of Ammifaddai. 26. the whole hoste of his warriors, that were numbred, sixtie two thousand seuen hundred. 27. Besides him they of the tribe of Aser pitched their tents: whose Prince was Phegiel the sonne of Ochran: 28. the whole hoste of his warriors, that were numbred, fourtie thousand and a thousand five hundred. 29. Of the tribe of the sonnes of Nephthali the Prince was Ahira the sonne of Euan. 30. the whole hoste of his warriors, fiftie three thousand foure hundred. 31. Al that were numbred in the campe of Dan, were an hundred fiftie seuen thousand six hundred: and they shal march last. 32. This is the number of the children of Israel, by the houses of their kinreds and troupes of the hoste being deuicid, six hundred three thousand five hundred fiftie. 33. And the Leuites were not numbred among the children of Israel: for so our Lord had commanded Moyfes. 34. And the children of Israel did according to al things that our Lord had comanded. They camped by their troups, and marched by their families and houses of their fathers.

things

CHAP. III.

The Leuites are assumed to the seruice of the Tabernacle, 14. numbred by their feueral families, and their offices distinguished, 45. They are taken to God in place of the first-borne of the children of Israel. The residue of the first-borne about the number of Leuites, are redeemed with price.

THESE are the generations of Aaron and Moyfes in the day that our Lord spake to Moyfes in Mount Sinai. 2. And these be the names of the sonnes of Aaron: his first begotten Nadab, then Abiu, and Eleazar, and Ithamar. 3. These are the names of the sonnes of Aaron the Priests that were anointed, and whose hands were filled and consecrated, to doe the function of priesthood. 4. For Nadab and Abiu died, when they offered the strange fire in the sight of our Lord, in the desert of Sinai, without children: and Eleazar and Ithamar did the function of priesthood in the presence of Aaron their father. 5. And our Lord spake to Moyfes, saying: 6. Bring the tribe of Leui, & make them stand in the sight of Aaron the Priest to minister vnto him, and let them watch, 7. and obserue whatsoever pertaineth to the seruice of the multitude before the tabernacle of testimonie, 8. and let them keep the vessel of the tabernacle, seruing in the ministerie therof. 9. And thou shalt giue the Leuites for a gift 10. to Aaron and to his sonnes, to whom they are deluered of the children of Israel. But Aaron and his sonnes thou shalt appoint ouer the seruice of priesthood. (a) The stranger, that approacheth to minister, shal die. 11. And our Lord spake to Moyfes, saying: 12. I haue taken the Leuites from the children of Israel, for euerie first borne, that openeth the matrice among the children of Israel, and the Leuites shal be mine. 13. For the first borne is mine: since I stricke the first borne in the Land of Ægypt: I haue sanctified to me what soeuer is first borne in Israel from man vnto beast, they are mine: I the Lord. 14. And our Lord spake to Moyfes in the desert of Sinai, saying: 15. Number the sonnes of Leui by the houses of their fathers and their families, euerie male from one month & vpward. 16. Moyfes numbred, as our Lord had comanded, 17. & there were found the sonnes of Leui by their names, Gerson & Caath and Merari. 18. The sonnes of Gerson: Lebni & Semei. 19. The sonnes of Caath: Amram, and Iesaar, Hebron, & Oziel. 20. The sonnes of Merari: Moholi & Musi. 21. Of Gerson were two families, the Lebnitical, & Semeitical: 22. of whō were numbred the people of male sexe frō one month & vpward, seuen thousand fise hundred. 23. These shal pitch behind the tabernacle on the West, 24. vnder their Prince Heliasaph, the sonne of Lael. 25. And their charge shal be in the tabernacle of couenant, 26. the tabernacle it-selfe and the couer therof,

(a) As none but Leuites might serue in the tabernacle: so none but of Aarons stock might doe the office of Priesthood.

(b) One chiefe Monarch in the Church to whom al other Superiors are subordinate.
 (c) Moyfes is stil counted, & hath chiefe place and office among the Priests, which were absurd, saith S. Angustin. in Psal. 98. if he were not a Priest.
 (d) The sonnes of Moyfes were with him so long as he liued, but after his death they serued the Priests, as other Leuites did, and were numbered with the Caathites. 1. Paral. 23. v. 12.
 (e) This number exceedeth the other by reason that 300. Leuites are omitted in the general summe, otherwise the number of Israelites should exceed the first borne by 27. See the Assomation.

the hanging that is drawne before the dores of the rooffe of couenant, and the curtines of the court : the hanging also that is hanged in the entrie of the court of the tabernacle, and whatsoever pertaineth to the rite of the altar, the cords of the tabernacle, and al the furniture therof. 27. The kinred of Caath shal haue the peoples of the Amramites, and Iesaarites, and Hebronites, and Ozielites. These are the families of the Caathites reckned by their names: 28. al of the male sexe from one month and vpward, eight thousand six hundred, they shal haue the gard of the Sanctuarie, 29. and shal campe on the south side. 30. And their Prince shal be Elizaphan the sonne of Oziel: 31. and they shal keep the arke, and table, and the candlestucke, the altars, and the vessel of the Sanctuarie, wherein the ministracion is, and the veile, and al such kind of implements. 32. And (b) the Prince of the Princes of the Leuites, Eliazar, the sonne of Aaron the Priest, shal be ouer them that watch for the custodie of the Sanctuarie. 33. But of Merari shal be the peoples of the Moholites, and Musites, reckned by their names: 34. al of the male kind frō one month & vpward, six thousand two hundred. 35. Their Prince Suriel the sonne of Abihaiel: they shal campe on the north side. 36. Vnder their custodie shal be the bords of the tabernacle, and the barres, and the pillers and their feete, and al things that pertaine to his kind of seruice: 37. and the pillers of the court round about with their feete, and the pinnes with the cords. 38. Before the tabernacle of couenant, that is to say, on the east side, shal (c) Moyfes and Aaron campe, with (d) their sonnes, hauing the custodie of the Sanctuarie, in the middes of the children of Israel. What stranger soeuer commeth therto, shal die. 39. Al the Leuites, that Moyfes and Aaron numbred, according to the precept of our Lord by their families in the male kind from one month and vpward, were twentie two thousand. 40. And our Lord said to Moyfes: Number the first-borne of the male sex of the children of Israel, from one month and vpward, and thou shalt haue the summe of them. 41. And thou shalt take the Leuites vnto me for al the first-borne of the childre of Israel, I am the Lord: & their cattel for al the first-borne of the cattel of the children of Israel. 42. Moyfes reckned, as our Lord had commanded, the first-borne of the children of Israel. 43. And the males by their names, from one month & vpward, were twentie two thousand two hundred seuentie three. 44. And our Lord spake to Moyfes, saying: 45. Take the Leuites for the first-borne of the children of Israel, and the cattel of the Leuites for their cattel, & the Leuites shal be mine. I am the Lord. 46. But for the price of two hundred seuentie three of the first-borne of the children of Israel, (e) that exceed the number of the Leuites, 47. thou shalt take fīue sicles for euerie head, after the measure of the Sanctuarie. A sicle hath twentie oboles. 48. And thou shalt giue the money to Aaron and to his sonnes the price of them that are aboue. 49. Moyfes therefore tooke their money, that were aboue, & whom he redeemed of the Leuites, 50. for the first borne of the children of Israel, a thousand three hundred sixtie five sicles, according to the weight of the Sanctuarie, & 1. and gaue it to Aaron & his sonnes, according to the word that our Lord had commanded him.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. I I I.

39. Twentie two thousand.] Immediately before were numbered of Gersonites (v. 22.) 7500. of Caathites (v. 28.) 8600. and of Merarites (v. 34.) 6200. which make in al 22300. Why then are 300. left out of the total summe? especially seeing by and by (v. 43.) a smaller, and other odde numbers of 273. are expressed, and thereupon inferred (v. 46.) that the first borne of the Israelites did so much exceed the Leuites. Whereas if the whole number of Leuites had been also expressed in the general summe, as it is contained in the three particular summes, the Leuites should exceed the first borne of Israelites by the number of 27. For answer to this difficultie, some suppose that the first borne of the Leuites were iust 300. and therefore so manie supplying only their owne places, there remained iust twentie two thousand to supplie the places of the first borne of other Israelites, and so the Leuites were fewer then those for whom they were taken vnto Gods seruice, by the number of 273. But that the first borne of Leuites were neither more nor fewer then 300. is not euident by the text. How soeuer therefore this doubt be solued, sure it is, by S. Hieroms iudgement (cited in the argument) that these numbers are mystical. And the iust number of 22. thousand Leuites may signifie (saith Origen homil. 4. in Num.) perfection, required in those that are designed to the particular seruice of God; as there be also iust 22. Hebrew letters, and 22. Patriarchs from Adam to Iacob, from whom the Israelites descended.

Why 300. are omitted in the total summe of the Leuites.

Perfect numbers signifie perfection.

C H A P. I I I I.

Distinct offices are assigned to the families of Aaron, 15. of the other sonnes of Caath, 21. of Gerson, 29. and of Merari. 34. Who are al numbred from the age of thirtie yeares to fiftie, and so employed to their offices and burdens.

AND our Lord spake to Moyfes and Aaron, saying: 2. Take the summe of the sones of Caath out of the middes of the Leuites, by their houses and families, 3. from the thirtieth yeare and vpward, vnto the fiftith yeare, of al that goe in to stand and to minister in the tabernacle of couenāt. 4. This is the seruice of the sonnes of Caath: 5. when the campes remoue, Aaron and his sonnes shal enter into the tabernacle of couenant, and (4) Sanctum Sanctorum, and shal take downe the veile that hangeth before the dore, and shal wrap in it the arke of testimonie, *) In this case it was necessarie for the Priests to enter in, where otherwise none entered but the high-Priest, and that but once in the yeare. And al being folded vp, others also entered to carie it away. v. 15.

6. and shal couer it agayne with a couer of ianthine skianes , and shal spread ouer it a cloth al of hyacinth , and shal draw in the barres. 7. The tabel also of proposition they shal wrap in a cloth of hyacinth, and shal put with it the censers and litle morters , the goblets and cups to powre the libaments : the breads shal be alwayes on it : 8. and they shal spread ouer it a cloth of scarlet , which againe they shal couer with a veile of ianthine skianes , and shal put in the barres. 9. They shal take also a cloth of hiacinth wherwith they shal couer the candlestick with the lamps and tongs therof and snuffers and al the vessels of oyle , which are necessarie for the dressing of the lamps : 10. and ouer al they shal put a couer of ianthine skianes , and put in the barres. 11. Moreouer the golden altar also they shal wrap in a cloth of hyacinth , and shal spread ouer it a couer of ianthine skianes , and put in the barres. 12. Al the vessels wherwith the ministracion is done in the Sanctuarie , they shal wrap in a cloth of hiacinth and shal spread ouer it a couer of ianthine skianes , and put in barres. 13. But the altar also they shal make cleane from the ashes, & shal wrap it in a purple cloth, 14. and shal put with it al the vessels , that they vse in the ministerie therof, that is to say, fire pannes, flein hooks & forkes , pot-hooks and shouels. Al the vessels of the altar together they shal couer with a veile of ianthine skianes, and shal put in the barres. 15. And when Aaron and his sonnes haue wrapped vp the Sanctuarie & the vessels therof in the removing of the campe , then shal the sonnes of Caath enter in to carie the things wrapped vp: and they shal not touch the vessels of the Sanctuarie, lest they die. These are the burdeus of the sonnes of Caath in the tabernacle of couenant : 16. ouer whom shal be Eleazar the sonne of Aaron the Priest, to whose charge perteyneth the oyle to dresse the lamps , and the incense of compotion , and the sacrifice , that is alwayes offered , and the oyle of vntion , and whatsoever perteyneth to the seruice of the tabernacle , and of al the vessels , that are in the Sanctuarie. 17. And our Lord spake vnto Moyse and Aaron , saying : 18. (a) Destroy not the people of Caath out of the middes of the Leuites : 19. but doe this to them, that they may liue , and not die , if they touch Sancta Sanctorum. Aaron and his sonnes shal enter , and they shal dispose the charges of euerie one , and shal diuide what euerie one must carie. 20. Let others by no curiositie see the things that are in the Sanctuarie before they be wrapped vp, otherwise they shal die. 21. And our Lord spake to Moyse, saying : 22. Take the summe of the sonnes of Gerson also by their houses and families & kinreds, 23. from thirtie yeares & vpward , vnto fiftie yeares. Number them al that goe in & minister in the tabernacle of couenant. 24. This is the office of the familie of the Gersonites, 25. for to carie the curtines of the tabernacle , & the rooffe of the couenant the other couer , and ouer al the ianthine couer, and the hanging that hangeth in the entrie of the tabernacle of couenant, 26. the curtines of the court , and the veile in the entrie that is be-

(a) See that by your negligence those that are next vnto you incurre not offence, for so none shall be excused.

fore the tabernacle. Al things that pertayne to the altar , the cords, and vessels of the ministerie, 27. shal the sonnes of Gerson carie, by the commandement of Aaron and his sonnes : and euerie one shal know to what burden they must be assigned. 28. This is the seruice of the familie of the Gersonites in the tabernacle of couenant, and they shal be vnder the hand of Ithamar the sonne of Aaron the Priest. 29. The sonnes of Merari also by the families and houses of their fathers thou shalt reckon, 30. from thirtie yeares and vpward, vntil fiftie yeares, al that enter in to the office of their ministerie , & to the seruice of the couenant of testimonie. 31. These are their burdens: They shal carie the bords of the tabernacle and the barres therof , the pillers and the feete of them, 32. the pillers also of the court round about, with their feete and pinnes and cords. Al the vessels and implements they shal receiue by account, and so shal carie them. 33. This is the office of the familie of the Merarites , and their ministerie in the tabernacle of couenant : and they shal be vnder the hand of Ithamar the sonne of Aaron the Priest. 34. Moyse therefore and Aaron and the Princes of the synagogue reckned the sonnes of Caath, by their kinreds and houses of their fathers, 35. from thirtie yeares and vpward, vnto the fiftith yeare, al that enter in to the ministerie of the tabernacle of couenant : 36. and they were found two thousand seuen hundred fiftie. 37. This is the number of the people of Caath that enter into the tabernacle of couenant : these did Moyse and Aaron number according to the word of our Lord by the hand of Moyse. 38. The sonnes of Gerson also were numbred by the kinreds and houses of their fathers , 39. from thirtie yeares and vpward , vnto the fiftith yeare , al that enter in to minister in the tabernacle of couenant: 40. and they were found two thousand six hundred thirtie. 41. This is the people of the Gersonites , whom Moyse and Aaron numbred according to the the word of our Lord. 42. The sonnes of Merari also were numbred by the kinreds & houses of their fathers, 43. frō thirtie yeares and vpward, vnto the fiftith yeare , al that enter in to accomplish the rites of the tabernacle of couenant : 44. and they were found three thousand two hundred. 45. this is the number of the sonnes of Merari, whom Moyse and Aaron reckned according to the commandment of our Lord by the hand of Moyse. 46. Al that were reckned of the Leuites , and whom Moyse and Aaron and the Princes of Israel tooke by name, by the kinreds and houses of their fathers, 47. from thirtie yeares and vpward, vnto the fiftith yeare, entring in to the ministerie of the tabernacle, and to carie the burdens, 48, were in al eight thousand fise hundred eightie. 49. According to the word of our Lord did Moyse reckon them, euerie one according to their office and burdens , as our Lord had commanded him.

C H A P. V.

Lepers and al polluted persons must be cast out of the campe. 5. Confession of sinne, and satisfaction for trespassse. 9. First fruits and oblations pertaine to the Priests. 11. The law of ielousie.

(a) Still by the lesse faith Theodoret) God instructeth in the greater, q. in Num. If therefore lepers were cast out of the campe, how much more iustly are heretikes cast out of the Church?

(b) God ordained this law and miraculously concurred therein, to auoid wite-slaughter, vpon vehement ielousie. Theod. q. 10. in Num. (c) Water sanctified by special rites is called holie water, and serueth to holie vses. chap. 3. v. 7. c. 19. v. 9.

AND our Lord spake to Moyfes, saying: 2. Command the children of Israel, that they cast out of the campe (a) euerie leper, and whosocuer hath a fluxe of seed, & is polluted vpon the dead: 3. as wel man as woman cast yee out of the campe, lest whē they shal dwel with you, they contaminate it. 4. And the children of Israel did so, and they did cast them forth without the campe, as our Lord had spoken to Moyfes. 5. And our Lord spake to Moyfes, saying: 6. Speake to the children of Israel: man, or woman, when they shal doe any of al the sinnes, that are wont to chauce to men, and by negligence heue transgressed the commandement of the Lord, and haue offended, 7. they shal confesse their sinne, & restore the principal it self, & the fifth part ouer to him, against whom they sinned. 8. But if there be none to receiue it, they shal giue it to the Lord, and it shal be the Priests, the ramme excepted, that is offered for expiation, to be a placable hoste. 9. Al the first fruits also, which the children of Israel doe offer, pertaine to the Priest: 10. and whatsoever is offered into the Sanctuarie of euerie one, and is deliuered to the hands of the Priest, it shal be his. 11. And our Lord spake to Moyfes, saying: 12. Speake to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them: The man, whose wife erreth, and contemning her husband 13. hath slept with an other man, and her husband could not find it, but the adulterie is secret, and can not be proued by witnesses, because she was not found in the adulterous fact: 14. (b) if the spirit of ielousie stir vp the husband against his wife, which either is polluted or is charged with false suspicion, 15. he shal bring her to the Priest, and shal offer an oblation for her, the * tenth part of a satum of barley meale: he shal not powre oile thereon, nor put frankincense vpon it: because it is a sacrifice of ielousie, and an oblation searching out adulterie. 16. The Priest therefore shal offer it, & set it before the Lord. 17. And he shal take (c) holie water in an earthen vessel, and he shal cast a little grauel of the pauement of the tabernacle into it. 18. And when the woman shal stand in the sight of the Lord, he shal vncouer her head, and shal put vpon her hands the sacrifice of recordaion, and the oblation of ielousie: and himselfe shal hold the most bitter waters, wheron he heaped curses with execration, 19. and he shal adiure her, and shal say: If an other man hath not slept

* above she eight part of our peck.

with

with thee, and if thou be not polluted by forſaking thy husbands bed, theſe moſt bitter waters ſhal not hurt thee, wherupon I haue heaped curſes. 20. But if thou haſt declined from thy husband, & art polluted, and haſt lien with an other man, 21. thou ſhalt be ſubiect to theſe maledictions: Our Lord giue thee for a malediction, and an example of al among his people: make he thy thigh to rot, and bellie ſwelling burſt aſunder. 22. The (d) curſed water enter into thy bellie, and thy wombe being ſwolne let thy thigh rot. And the woman ſhal answer, Amen, amen. 23. And the Prielt ſhal write theſe curſes in a booke, and ſhal waſh them out with the moſt bitter waters, wherupon he heaped the curſes, 24. and he ſhal giue them her to drinke. Which when ſhe hath drunke vp, 25. the Prielt ſhal take of her hand the ſacrifice of ielouſie, and ſhal eleuate it before the Lord, and ſhal put it vpon the altar: yet ſo notwithstanding that firſt 26. he take a handful of the ſacrifice of that which is offered, & burne it vpon the altar: and ſo giue the moſt bitter waters to the woman to drinke. 27. Which when ſhe hath drunke, if ſhe be polluted, and by contempt of her husband guiltie of adulterie, the waters of malediction ſhal goe through her, and her bellie being puſt vp her thigh ſhal rot withal: and the woman ſhal be for a malediction, and an example to al the people. 28. But if ſhe be not polluted, ſhe ſhal be blameleſſe, and ſhal beare children. 29. This is the law of ielouſie. If the woman decline from her husband, and if ſhe be polluted, 30. and the husband ſtirred with the ſpirit of ielouſie brought her in the ſight of the Lord, and the Prielt haue done to her according to al things that are written: 31. the husband ſhal be wirhout fault, and ſhe ſhal beare her iniquitie.

(d) The water wheron the Prielt laid curſes to light on the woman if ſhe were guiltie.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. V.

7. Shal confeſſe their ſinne.) General confeſſion (ſuch as Proteſtants make) ſufficed not here for purging ſinnes; but whoſoeuer tranſgreſſed anie of Gods commandements, were bound by this diuine poſitiue law, to confeſſe expreſly and diſtinctly their ſinne, which in particular they had committed. Alſo to make reſtitution, if wrong were done to anie other, with a fifth part about the principal. And for further ſatiſfaction to God they muſt offer ſacrifice. Al which did plainly prefigure & foreſhew the neceſſitie of particular confeſſion of ſinnes, and ſatiſfaction, in the Sacrement of Penance, intituted by Chriſt Ioan. 20.

Particular confeſſion of ſinnes, & ſatiſfaction, required by the law of God.

C H A P. VI.

Consecration, 14. and oblation of Nazareites. 22. A set forme how the Priest shal blesse the people.

AND our Lord spake vnto Moyfes, saying: 2. Speake to the children of Israel, and thou shal say to them: Man, or woman, when they shal make a vow to be sanctified, and wil consecrate themselues to the Lord: 3. they shal absteyne from wine, & euerie thing that can make one drunke, vineger of wine, and of any other potion, and whatsoever is pressed out of the grape, they shal not drinke: new grapes and drie they shal not eate 4. al the daies wherin they are by vow consecrated to the Lord: whatsoever may be of the vineyard, from the reisen to the kernel they shal not eate. 5. Al the time of his separation a rasour shal not passe ouer his head, vntil the day be expired, that he is consecrated to the Lord. He shal be holie (a) whiles the bush of haire on his head doth grow. 6. Al the time of his consecration he shal not enter in to the dead, 7. neither shal he be contaminated, no not on his fathers and mothers and brothers and sisters corps, because the consecration of his God is vpon his head. 8. Al the daies of his separation he shal be holie to the Lord. 9. But if anie man die sodenly before him, the head of his consecration shal be polluted: which he shal shauie forthwith in the same day of his purgation, and againe the seuenth day: 10. and in the eight day he shal bring two turtles, or two yong pigeons to the Priest in the entrie of the couenant of testimonie. 11. And the Priest shal offer one for sinne, and the other for an holocaust, and shal pray for him, because he hath sinned by occasion of the dead: and he shal sanctifie his head that day: 12. and shal consecrate to the Lord the daies of his separation; offering a lambe of a yeare old for sinne: yet so that the former daies be made frustrate, because his sanctification was polluted. 13. This is the law of consecration. When the daies, that by vow he had determined, shal be expired: he shal bring him to the doore of the tabernacle of couenant, 14. and shal offer his oblation to the Lord, a male lambe of a yeare old without spot for an holocaust, and an ewe lambe of a yeare old without spot for sinne, and a ramme without spot, for a pacifike hoste, 15. a basket also of vncleued breads that are tempered with oile, and waters without leuen anointed with oile, and the libaments of euerie one: 16. which the Priest shal offer before the Lord, and shal offer as wel for sinne, as for an holocaust. 17. But the ramme he shal immolate for a pacifike hoste to the Lord, offering withal the basket of azymes, and the libaments that by custome are due. 18. Then shal the Nazareite be shauen before the dore of the tabernacle of couenant, from the bush of the haire of his consecration: and he shal take his haire, and lay them vpon the fire, that is put vnder the sacrifice of pacifikes. 19. And a shoulder of the ramme boyled, and one cake without leuen out of the basket, and one wafer vnleuened, and he shal deliuer them into the hands of the Nazareite, after that his head be shauen. 20. And receiuing them againe from him, he shal eleuate them in the sight of the Lord: and being sanctified they shal be the Priests, as the breast, which was commanded to be separated, and the shoulder. After these things the Nazareite may drinke wine. 21. This is the law of the Nazareite, when he shal vow his oblation to the Lord in the time of his consecration, besides those things which his hand shal find, according to that which he had vowed in his mind, so shal he doe to the fulfilling of his sanctification. 22. And our Lord spake to Moyse, saying: 23. Speake to Aaron and his sonnes: (b) Thus shal you blesse the children of Israel, and you shal say to them: 24. Our Lord blesse thee, and keep thee. 25. Our Lord shew his face to thee, and haue mercie vpon thee. 26. Our Lord turne his countenance vnto thee, and giue thee peace. 27. And (c) they shal inuocate my name vpon the children of Israel, and I wil blesse them.

(a) When Samson was depriued of these haire he lost his strength. Judic. 16.

(b) A special and determinate forme of blessing
(c) When the Priest vttereth the words God giueth the effect.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. VI.

2. Wil consecrate themselves.) To such as of their owne accord would bind themselves by vow to certaine things not commanded, God prescribeth a Rule containing three special obseruations; not to drinke wine, or anie thing that may make drunk; not to cut their haire; and not to touch a dead corps. He appointeth likewise rites in making this profession. & calleth the professed Nazareite, that is segregated or separated from the ordinarie state of people; though it was, for most part but for a time, to be limited by the parties themselves, and in some perpetual, as in Samson. Iudic. 13. Now what doe Nazareites signifie, saith S. Gregorie (li. 33. c. 23. Moral.) but those that abstaine and conserue voluntarily from things otherwise lawful? As from eating flesh, either for certaine daies and times, or altogether; from Mariage; from proprietic in worldlie goods, and the like.

God prescribed the rule of Nazareites, & the rites of their consecration. The same was a figure of vows both temporal and

S. Aug.
q. 52. in
li. Iudic.

C H A P. VII.

In dedication of the Tabernacle the Princes of the twelue tribes offer iointly six waines, and twelue oxen. 11. Then euerie Prince seueral daies make other oblations. 39. And God speaketh to Moyfes from the Propitiatorie.

AND it came to passe in the day that Moyfes finished the tabernacle and erected it, he anoynted also and sanctified it with al the vessel therof, the altar likewise and al the vessel therof. 2. The Princes of Isracl and the heads of the families, that were in euerie tribe, and the Rulers of them, that had been numbred, offered 3. guifts before our Lord, six waines couered, with twelue oxen. Two Princes offered one waine, and euerie man one ox, and they offered them before the tabernacle. 4. And our Lord said to Moyfes: 5. Take them of their hands to serue in the ministerie of the tabernacle, and thou shalt deliuer them to the Leuites according to the order of their ministerie. 6. When Moyfes therfore had taken the waines and the oxen, he deliuered them to the Leuites. 7. Two waines & foure oxen he gaue to the sonnes of Gerson, according to that which was necessarie for them. 8. The other foure waines, and the eight oxen he gaue to the sonnes of Merari according to their offices and seruice, vnder the hand of Ithamar the sonne of Aaron the Priest. 9. But to the sonnes of Caath he gaue not waines and oxen: because they serue in the sanctuarie, and carie their burdens (a) vpon their owne shoulders. 10. The Princes therfore offered vnto the dedication of the altar, the daie wherein it was anoynted, their oblation before the altar. 11. And our Lord said to Moyfes: Let the Princes one and one euerie day offer their guifts vnto the dedication of the altar. 12. The first day Nahasson the sonne of Aminadab of the tribe of Iuda offered his oblation: 13. and there were in it a siluer plate of an hundred and thirtie sicles weight, a phial of siluer hauing seuentie sicles according to the weight of the Sanctuarie, both ful of flower tempered with oyle for a sacrifice: 14. a little mortar of ten sicles of gold ful of incense: 15. an ox out of the heard, and a ramme, and a lambe of a yeare old for and holocaust: 16. and a bucke goat for sinne: 17. and for a sacrifice of pacifikes, two oxen, five rammes, five bucke goates, five lambes of a yeare old. This is the oblation of Nahasson the sonne of Aminadab. 18. The second day offered Nathanael the sonne of Suar, Prince of the tribe of Issachar, 19. a plate of siluer weighing an hundred thirtie sicles, a phial of siluer hauing seuentie sicles, according to the weight of the Sanctuarie, both ful of flower tempered with oyle for a sacrifice: 20. a litle mortar of gold hauing ten sicles ful of incense : 21. an oxe out of the heard, and a ramme, and a lambe of a yeare old for an holocaust, 22. and a bucke goate for sinne : 23. and for a sacrifice of pacifikes two oxen, five rammes, five bucke goats, five lambes of a yeare old this was the oblation of Nathanael the sonne of Suar. 24. The third day the Prince of the sonnes of Zabulon Eliab the sonne of Helon, 25. offered a plate of siluer weighing an hundred thirtie sicles, a phial of siluer hauing seuentie sicles after the weight of the Sanctuarie, both ful of flowre tempered with oyle for a sacrifice : 26. a litle mortar of gold weighing ten sicles ful of incense : 27. an oxe out of the heard, and a ramme, and a lambe of a yeare old for an holocaust : 28. and a bucke-goate for sinne, 29. and for a sacrifice of pacifikes, two oxen, five rammes, five bucke-goats, five lambes of a yeare old. this is the oblation of Eliab the sonne of Helon. 30. The fourth day the Prince of the sonnes of Ruben, Elisur the sonne of Seducur, 31. offered a plate of siluer weighing an hundred thirtie sicles, a phial of siluer hauing seuentie sicles after the weight of the Sanctuarie, both ful of flowre tempered with oyle for a sacrifice : 32. a litle mortar of gold weighing ten sicles ful of incense : 33. an oxe out of the heard, and a ramme, and a lambe of a yeare old, for an holocaust : 34. and a bucke-goate for sinne : 35. and for pacifike hosts two oxen, five rammes, five bucke-goats, five lambs of a yeare old. this was the oblation of Elisur the sonne of Seducur. 36. The fifth day the Prince of the sonnes of Simeon Salamiel the sonne of Surisaddai. 37. offered a plate of siluer weighing an hundred thirtie sicles, a phial of siluer hauing seuentie sicles after the weight of the Sanctuarie, both ful of flowre tempered with oyle for a sacrifice : 38. a litle mortar of gold weighing ten sicles ful of incense : 39. an oxe out of the heard, and a ramme, and a lambe of a yeare old for an holocauste : 40. and a bucke-goate for sinne : 41. & for pacifike hostes, two oxen, five rammes, five bucke goats, five lambes of a yeare old. this was the oblation of Salamiel the sonne of Surisaddai. 42. The sixt day the Prince of the sonnes of Gad, Eliasaph the sonne of Ducl 43. offered a plate of siluer weighing an hundred thirtie sicles, a phial of siluer hauing seuentie sicles after the weight of the Sanctuarie, both ful of flowre tempered with oyle for a sacrifice : 44. a litle morrer of gold weighing ten sicles ful of incense: 45. an oxe out of the heard, and a ramme, and a lambe of a yeare old for an holocaust : 46. and a bucke-goate for sinne : 47. and for pacifike hosts, two oxen, five rammes, five bucke-goats, five lambs of a yeare old. this was the oblation of Eliasaph the sonne of Ducl. 48. The seuenth day the Prince of the sonnes of Ephraim, Elisama the sonne of Anmiud 49. offered a plate of siluer weighing an hundred thirtie sicles, a phial of siluer hauing seuentie sicles after the weight of the Sanctuarie, both ful of flowre tempered with oyle for a sacrifice : 50. a litle mortar of gold weighing ten sicles ful of incense: 51. an ox out of the heard, and a ramme, and a lambe of a yeare old for an holocaust: 52. and a bucke-goate for sinne: 53. and for pacifike hostis, two oxen, five rammes, five bucke-goats, five lambes of a yeare old. this was the oblation of Elifama the sonne of Ammiud. 54. The eight day the Prince of the sonnes of Manasses, Gamaliel the sonne of Phadassur, 55. offered a plate of siluer weighing an hundred thirtie sicles, a phial of siluer hauing seuentie sicles after the weight of the Sanctuarie, both ful of flowre tempered with oile for a sacrifice: 56. a litle mortar of gold weighing ten sicles, ful of incense: 57. an ox out of the heard, and a ramme, & a lambe of a yeare old for an holocaust: 58. and a bucke-goate for sinne: 59. and for pacifike hostis, two oxen, five rammes, five bucke-goats, five lambes of a yeare old. this was the oblation of Gamaliel the sonne of Phadassur. 60. The ninth day the Prince of the sonnes of Benjamin, Abidan the sonne of Gedeon 61. offered a plate of siluer weighing an hundred thirtie sicles, a phial of siluer hauing seuentie sicles after the weight of the sanctuarie, both ful of flower tempered with oile for a sacrifice: 62. a litle mortar of gold weighing ten sicles ful of incense: 63. an ox out of the heard, and a ramme, and a lambe of a yeare old for an holocaust: 64. and a bucke-goate for sinne: 65. and for pacifike hostis, two oxen, five rammes, five bucke-goats, five lambes of a yeare old. this was the oblation of Abidan the sonne of Gedeon. 66. The tenth day the Prince of the sonnes of Dan, Ahiezer the sonne of Ammisaddai 67. offered a plate of siluer weighing an hundred thirtie sicles, a phial of siluer hauing seuentie sicles, after the weight of the Sanctuarie, both ful of flowre tempered with oile for a sacrifice: 68. a litle mortar of gold weighing ten sicles ful of incense: 69. an ox out of the heard, & a ramme, and a lambe of a yeare old for an holocaust: 70. and a bucke-goate for sinne: 71. & for pacifike hostis two oxen, five rammes, five bucke-goats, five lambes of a yeare old. this was the oblation of Ahiezer the sonne of Ammisaddai. 72. The eleuenth day the Prince of the sonnes of Aser, Phegiel the sonne of Ochran 73. offered a plate of siluer weighing an hundred thirtie sicles, a phial of siluer hauing seuentie sicles after the weight of the Sanctuarie, both ful of flowre tempered with oile for a sacrifice: 74. a litle mortar of gold weighing ten sicles ful of incense. 75. an ox out of the heard, & a ramme, and a lambe of a yeare old for an holocaust, 76. and a bucke goate for sinne: 77. & for pacifike hostis, two oxen, five rames, five bucke goats, five lambes of a yeare old. this was the oblation of Phegiel the sonne of Ochran. 78. The twelfth day the Prince of the sonnes of Nephthali, Ahira the sonne of Enan 79. offered a plate of siluer weighing an hundred thirtie sicles, a phial of siluer hauing seuentie sicles after the weight of the Sanctuarie, both ful of flowre tempered with oile for a sacrifice: 80. a litle mortar of gold weighing ten sicles, ful of incense: 81. an ox out of the heard, & a ramme, & a lambe of a yeare old for an holocaust: 82. and a bucke goat for sinne: 83. and for pacifike hostis, two oxen, five rāmes, five bucke goats, five lābes of a yeare old. this was the oblation of Ahira the sonne of Enan. 84. These things were offered of the Princes of Israel in the dedication of the altar, in the day wherein it was cōsecrated: plates of siluer twelue: phials of siluer twelue: litle morters of gold twelue: 85. so that one plate had an hundred and thirtie sicles of siluer, & one phial had seuentie sicles: that is, in the whole of al the vessels of siluer two thousand foure hundred sicles, by the weight of the Sanctuarie: 86. litle morters of gold twelue ful of incense weighing ten sicles a peece, by the weight of the Sanctuarie: that is, in the whole an hundred twentie sicles of gold: 87. oxen out of the heard for an holocaust, twelue, rammes twelue, lambes of a yeare old twelue, and their libaments: twelue bucke goats for sinne. 88. For pacifike holts, oxen twentie foure, rammes sixtie, bucke goats sixtie, lambes of a yeare old sixtie. These things were offered in the dedication of the altar, when it was anointed. 89. And when Moyfes entred into the tabernacle of couenant, to consult the oracle, he heard the voice of him that spake to him from the propitiatorie, that was ouer the arke between the two Cherubs, from whence also he spake to him.

(a) Of great reuerence they carried the arke, and propitiatorie, and the holie vessel ordinarily vpon their shoulders, yet the same were sometimes carried on waines. 1. Reg. 6.

C H A P. VIII.

Seuen lamps are so placed on the golden candlesticke, that they may shine towards the breads of proposition. 5. The ordination of the Leuites. 24. And at what age they shal serue in the tabernacle.

AND our Lord spake to Moyfes, saying: 2. Speake to Aaron, and thou shalt say to him: When thou shalt place the seuen lamps, let the candlesticke be set vp in the south part ouer against the north, toward the table of the breads of proposition, ouer against that part toward which the candlesticke looketh, thal they shine. 3. And Aaron did so, and he put the lampes vpon the candlesticke, as our Lord had commanded Moyfes. 4. This was the making of the candlesticke, of beaten gold, as wel the middle shaft, as al things that arose out of both sides of the branches: according to the example which our Lord shewed to Moyfes, so wrought he the candlesticke. 5. And our Lord spake to Moyfes saying: 6. Take the Leuites out of middes of the children of Israel, and thou shalt purifie them, 7. according to this rite: Let them be sprinkled with (4) the water of lustration, and shauc al the haire of their flesh. And when they haue washed their garments, & are cleansed, 8. they thal take an oxe out of the heards, & his libamēt flowre tēpered with oyle: & an other oxe out of the heard thou shalt take for sinne: 9. & thou shalt bring the Leuites before the tabernacle of couenant, calling together al the multitude of the children of Israel. 10. And when the Leuites are before the Lord, the children of Israel shal put their hands vpon them. 11. and Aaron shal offer the Leuites, a giift in the sight of the Lord from the children of Israel, that they may serue in his ministerie. 12. The Leuites also shal put their hands vpon the heades of the oxen, of the which thou shalt make one for sinne, and the other for holocaust of the Lord, to pray for them. 13. And thou shalt set the Leuites in the sight of Aaron and of his sonnes, and being offered shal consecrate them to the Lord, 14. and shal separate them from the middes of the children of Israel, to be mine. 15. And afterward they shal enter into the tabernacle of couenant, to serue me. And thou shalt so purifie and consecrate them for an oblation of the Lord: because they were giuen me for a giift of the children of Israel. 16. For the first borne that open euerie matrice in Israel, I haue taken them. 17. For mine are al the first borne of the children of Israel, as wel of men as of beasts. From the day that I smote euerie first borne in the Land of Ægypt, haue I sanctified them to me: 18. and I haue taken the Leuites for al the first borne of the children of Israel: 19. and haue deliuered them for a giift to Aaron and his sonnes out of the middes of the people, to serue me for Israel in the tabernacle of couenant, & to pray for them, that there be no plague among the people, if they should presume to approach vnto my Sanctuarie. 20. And Moyfes & Aaron and al the multitude of the children of Israel did concerning the Leuites the things that our Lord had commanded Moyfes: 21. and they were purified, and washed their garments. And Aaron (b) eleuated them in the sight of our Lord, and prayed for them, 22. that being purified they might enter to their offices into the tabernacle of couenant before Aaron and his sonnes. Euen as our Lord had commanded Moyfes touching the Leuites, so was it done. 23. And our Lord spake to Moyfes, saying: 24. This is the law of the Leuites: From twentie five yeares and vpwrd, they shal enter in to miniter in the tabernacle of couenant. 25. And when they shal haue accompliseth the fiftith yeare of their age, they shal cease to serue: 26. and shal be the ministers of their brethren in the tabernacle of couenant, to keepe the things that are commanded to them, but not to doe the uerie workes. Thus shalt thou dispose to the Leuites in their custodies.

(4) This water was mixed with ashes of a red cow sacrificed without the campe, chap. 19.

(b) Aaron ha-
uing receiued the Leuites, presented them to God, and so addicted them to their designed offices.

C H A P. IX.

The precept of Pasch to be made the fourteēth day of the first moone, is renewed. 6. But the vncleane, and trauelers in iourney the fourteenth day of the second month. 15. The campe must rest or march, as the cloud or pillar of fire remaineth ouer the tabernacle, or departeth.

AND our Lord spake to Moyſes in the deſert of Sinai, the ſecond yeare, after they went out of the land of Ægypt, the firſt month, ſaying: 2. Let the children of Iſrael make the Phaſe in his time, 3. the fourteenth day of this month at euen, according to al the ceremonies and iuſtifications therof. 4. And Moyſes commanded the children of Iſrael that they ſhould make the Phaſe. 5. Who made it in his time: the fourteenth day of the month at euen in mount Sinai. According to al things that our Lord had commanded Moyſes the children of Iſrael did. 6. But behold certaine vncleane (c) vpon the ſoule of man, which could not make the Phaſe on that day, coming to Moyſes and Aaron, 7. ſaid to them: We are vncleane vpon the ſoule of man: why are we defrauded that we cannot offer the oblation to our Lord in the due time among the children of Iſrael? 8. To whom Moyſes answered: Stand that I may aſke counſel what our Lord wil command concerning you. 9. And our Lord (d) ſpake to Moyſes, ſaying: 10. Speake to the children of Iſrael: The man that ſhal be vncleane vpon a ſoule, or in his iourney farre off in your nation, let him make the Phaſe to the Lord 11. in the ſecond month, the fourteenth day of the month at euen: with azymes and wild lettice that they eate it: 12. they ſhal not leaue anie thing therof vntil morning, and a bone therof they ſhal not breake, al the rite of the Phaſe they ſhal obſerue. 13. But if anie man both be cleane, and was not in his iourney, and yet did not make the Phaſe, that ſoule ſhal be deſtroyed out from among his peoples, becauſe he offered not ſacrifice to the Lord in his due time: he ſhal beare his ſinne. 14. The ſejourner alſo and ſtranger if they be with you, ſhal make the Phaſe to the Lord, according to the ceremonies and iuſtifications therof. The ſelſe-ſame precept ſhal be among you aſwel to the ſtranger, as to him that is borne in the countrie. 15. Therefore the day that the tabernacle was erected, a cloud couered it. And from euening ouer the tabernacle there was as it were the likenefſe of fire vntil morning. 16. So was it done alwaies: by day the cloud couered it, and by night as it were the likenefſe of fire. 17. And when the cloud that protected the tabernacle had been taken away, then the children of Iſrael marched: and in the place where the cloud had ſtood, there they camped. 18. At the commandment of

(c) By touching the dead. S. Aug. q. 15. in Num.

(d) God answered by a voice framed by an Angel from the propitiatorie, chap. 7. v. 89.

our Lord they marched, and at his commandment they pitched the tabernacle. Al the daies that the cloud stood ouer the tabernacle, they remained in the same place: 19. and if it chanced that it did continue ouer it a long time, the children of Israel were in the watches of our Lord, and marched not. 20. for as manie daies soeuer as the cloud had been ouer the tabernacle. At the commandment of our Lord they pitched their tents, and at his commandment they tooke them downe. 21. If the cloud had been from euen vntil morning, and immediately at day breake had forsaken the tabernacle, they marched: & if it had departed after a day and a night, they tooke downe their tents. 22. But if for two daies or one month or a longer time it had been ouer the tabernacle, the children of Israel remained in the same place, and marched not: but immediately as it had departed, they remoued the campe. 23. By the word of the Lord they pitched their tents, and by his word they marched: and were in the watches of our Lord according to his commandment by the hand of Moyse.

C H A P. X.

Trumpets are sounded by the Priests, diuersly for diuerse purposes. 11. The campe marcheth from the desert of Sinai. 29. Moyse intreateth Hobab the Madianite to remaine with them. 35. His prayer when the arke is taken vp, and set downe.

The second part. Of diuers impediments which happened to the Israelites, and renouation of sundrie precepts in their journey from the desert of Sinai to the campe of Moab.

[a] Before the whole multitude, plaine and necessarie points of doctrine must only be vttered, but before the learned & wiser sort higher mysteries may be treated and taught. Theod. 9. 15. in Num.

AND our Lord spake to Moyse, saying: 2. Make thee two trumpets of beaten siluer, wherwith thou maist call together the multitude when the campe is to be remoued. 3. And when thou shalt sound with the trumpets, al the multitude shal gather vnto thee to the doore of the tabernacle of couenant. 4. If thou sound but once, the Princes shal come to thee, and the heades of the multitude of Israel. 5. But if the trumpeting sound in length and with a broken tune, they shal moue their campe first that are on the east side. 6. And at the second sound and the like noyse of the trumpet, they shal take vp their tents that dwel toward the south. and after this manner shal the rest doe, when the trumpets shal sound to the marching. 7. But when the people is to be gathered together, the sound of the trumpet shal be plaine, and they (a) shal not make a broken sound. 8. And the sonnes of Aaron the Priestes shal sound with the trumpets: and this shal be an ordinance for euer in your generations. 9. If you goe forth to warre out of your land against the enemies that fight against you, you shal sound with trumpets in length, and there shal be remembrance of you before the Lord your God, that you may be deliuered. out of the hands of your enemies. 10. If at anie time you shal haue a banquet, & festiual daies, and Calendes, you shal found with trumpets ouer the holocaultes, & pacifike viçtimes, that they may be vnto you for a remembrance of your God. I the Lord your God. 11. The second yeare, in the second month, the twentieth day of the month was the cloud lifted vp from the tabernacle of couenant: 12. & the children of Israel marched by their troupes from the desert of Sinai, and the cloud rested in the wildernesse of Pharan. 13. And the first moued their campe according to the commandement of our Lord by the hand of Moyfes. 14. The sonnes of Iudas by their troupes: whose Prince was Nahasson the sonne of Aminadab. 15. In the tribe of the sonnes of Issachar, the Prince was Nathanael the sonne of Suar. 16. In the tribe of Zabulon, the Prince was Eliab the sonne of Helon. 17. And the tabernacle was taken downe, which the sonnes of Gerson and Merari carying, marched. 18. And the sonnes of Ruben also marched, by their troupes and order, whose Prince was Helifur the sonne of Seducur. 19. And in the tribe of Simeon, the Prince was Salmiel the sonne of Surifaddai. 20. Moreouer in the tribe of Gad, the Prince was Eliasaph the sonne of Duel. 21. And the Caathites also marched carying the Sanctuarie. So long was the tabernacle caried, til they came to the place of erecting it. 22. The sonnes of Ephraim also moued their campe by their troupes, in whose hoste the Prince was Eüsama the sonne of Amniud. 23. And in the tribe of the sonnes of Manasses, the Prince was Gamaliel the sonne of Phadaßur. 24. And in the tribe of Benjamin the Prince was Abidan the sonne of Gedeon. 25. The last of all the campe marched the sonnes of Dan by their troupes, in whose hoste the Prince was Ahiezer the sonne of Ammisaddai. 26. And in the tribe of the sonnes of Aser, the Prince was Phegiel the sonne of Ochran. 27. And in the tribe of the sonnes of Nephthali the Prince was Ahira the sonne of Enan. 28. These are the camps, and the marchings of the children of Israel by their troupes when they marched. 29. And Moyfes said to Hobab the sonne of Raguel the Madianite, (a) his * allied: We march toward the place, which our Lord wil giue vs: come with vs, that we may doe thee good: for our Lord hath promised good things to Israel. 30. To whom he answered: I wil not goe with thee, but I wil returne to my countrie, wherein I was borne. 31. And he said: Doe not forsake vs: for thou knowest in what places through the desert we may campe, and (b) thou shalt be our guide. 32. And when thou comest with vs, whatsoever shal be best of the riches, which our Lord shal deliuer vs, we wil giue thee. 33. They marched therefore from the Mount of our Lord three daies iourney, and the arke of the couenant of our Lord went before them, for three daies prouiding a place for the campe. 34. The cloud also of our Lord was ouer them by day when they marched. 35. And when the arke was lifted vp, Moyfes said: (c) Arise Lord, and be thine enemies disperfed, and let them fly that hate thee, from thy face. 36. And when it was set downe, he said: Returne Lord to the multitude of the hoste of Israel.

(a) Either this Hobab was otherwise called Raguel Exo. 2. and also Iet hro Exo. 3. and was father in law to Moyfes, or els he was sonne of the same Raguel, and brother in law to Moyfes.

(b) Moyfes meaneth, that when by the cloud and pillar of fire (their special guides) the people should come to new places, this Madianite his allied might direct them, where to find best pasture, water, and like commodities, neer to them.

(c) Besides general prayers for all purposes, some are composed, and applied for special times and occasions.

*cognatio vel affini.

C H A P. X I.

The people murmuring are punished with fire. 7. Manna is againe described. 10. Moyfes being afflicted with solicitude of troublesome people, 16. God adioyneth seuentie Ancients to sustaine part of his burden. 18. Promiseth to giue al the people flesh. 25. The Ancients doe prophetic. 31. The people haue their fil of flesh, 33. but forthwith manie die of the plague, wherof the place is called, The sepulchres of concupiscence.

N the meane time there arose a murmuring of the people, as it were repynning for labour, against our Lord. Which when our Lord had heard, he was angrie. And the fire of our Lord being kindled against them, deuoured the vttermost part of the campe. 2. And when the people had cried to Moyfes, Moyfes prayed to our Lord, and the fire was quenched. 3. And he called the name of that place, Kindling: for that the fire of our Lord had been kindled against them. 4. For (a) the common vūlgar people that came vp with them, burned with desire, sitting and weepieg, the children of Israel being ioyned together with them, and said: Who shal giue vs flesh to eate? 5. We remember the fishes that we did eate in Ægypt gratis: the cucumbers come vnto our mind, and the melons, and leeks and onions and garlike. 6. Our soule is drie, our eies behold nothing els but Manna. 7. And the Manna was as it were the seed of Coriander, of the colour of bdellion. 8. And the people went about, & gathering it, ground it in a milne, or braied it in a mortar, boyling it in a pot, and making cakes therof of the tast as it were of oyled bread. 9. And when the dew fel in the night vpon the campe, the Manna also fel withal. 10. Moyfes therfore heard the people weeping by their families, euerie one at the doores of his tent. And the furie of our Lord was exceeding wrath: but to Moyfes also it seemed an intolerable thing. 11. And he said to our Lord: Why hast thou afflicted thy seruant? wherfore doe I not find grace before thee? and why hast thou laid the weight of al this people vpon me? 12. Haue I conceaued al this multitude, or begotten them, that thou shouldest say to me: Carie them in thy bosome as the nource is wont to carie the litle infant, and beare them into the land, for the which thou hast sworne to their fathers? 13. Whence shal I haue flesh to giue to so great a multitude? they whine against me, saying: Giue vs flesh that we may eate. 14. I alone can not suitaine al this people, because it is heauie for me. 15. But (c) if it seeme vnto thee otherwise, I beseech thee to kil me, and let me find grace in thine eies, that I be not molested with so great euils. 16. And our Lord said to Moyſes: Gather me ſeuentie men of the ancients of Israel, whom thou knowest to be the ancients of the people and maisters: and thou shalt bring them to the doore of the tabernacle of couenant, and shalt make them to stand there with thee, 17. that I may descend & speake to thee: and (c) I wil take of thy spirit, and wil deliuer to them, that they may sustaine with thee the burden of the people, and thou onlie be not burdened. 18. To the people also thou shalt say: Be sanctified: to morrow you shall eate flesh: for I haue heard you say: Who shall giue vs meates of flesh? it was wel with vs in Ægypt. That the Lord may giue you flesh, and you may eate: 19. not one day, nor two, or five, or ten, no nor twentie, 20. but euen to a month of daies, til it goe out at your noſethrils, & be turned to lothsomenes, because you haue reiected the Lord, who is in the middes of you, and haue whyned before him, saying: Wherefore came we out of Ægypt? 21. And Moyſes said: There are six hundred thousand footemen of this people, and sayest thou: I wil giue them flesh to eate a whole month? 22. Why, shall a multitude of sheep and oxen be killed, that it may suffice for meate? or shall al the fishes of the sea be gathered together, for to fil them? 23. To whom our Lord answered: Why, is the hand of the Lord vnable? Now presently thou shalt see whether my word shall be accomplished in deed. 24. Moyſes therefore came, and told the people the words of our Lord, assembling ſeuentie men of the ancients of Israel, whom he caused to stand about the tabernacle. 25. And our Lord descended in a cloud, and spake to him, taking away of the spirit that was in Moyſes, and giuing to the ſeuentie men. And when the spirit had rested on them, they prophecied, neither ceased they any more. 26. And there had remained in the campe two men, of the which one was called Eldad, and the other Medad, vpon whom the spirit rested. (d) for they also had been enroled, & were not gone forth to the tabernacle. 27. And when they prophecied in the campe, there ran a boy, and told Moyſes, saying: Eldad and Medad doe prophecie in the campe. 28. Forthwith Iosue the sonne of Nun, the minister of Moyſes, and chosen of manie, said: My Lord Moyſes forbid them. 29. But he said: Why haist thou emulation for me? O that al the people might prophecie, and that our Lord would giue them his spirit! 30. And Moyſes returned, and the ancients of Israel into the campe. 31. And a wind comming forth from our Lord, taking quails ouer the sea brought them, and let them fall into the campe the space of one daies iourney, on euerie side of the campe round about, and they did flie in the ayre two cubits high ouer the earth. 32. The people therefore rising yp al that day, and the night, and the next day, gathered together a multitude of quails, he that did least, ten cores: and they dried them round about the campe. 33. As yet the flesh was in their teeth,

(a) These were Ægyptians that parted out of their countrie with the Israelites, and now murmuring draw others by example to the same. flane.

(b) Prayers of holie men are with submission of their willes to Gods wil, either exprefsed or implied. (c) God imparted of the same spirit to these Ancients, whereof he had giue to Moyſes, that they might haue so much help of grace as pleased God and Moyſes haue neuer the lesse. S. Aug. 9. 18. in Num.

(d) Gods grace sometimes preuenteth the ordinarie meanes. Theodores. 9. 21. in Num.

(e) By this example and figure S. Paul sheweth that alshal not be faued which are baptised, and communicate in the same faith and Sacraments, but those only which also please God in their workes. 1. Cor. 10.

(a) Madianites were also called Ethiopias. S. Aug. 9. 10. in Num.

(b) The Holie Ghost forced Moyfes to vtter his owne praise, which of himself he desired not.

(c) Aaron was not publikely punished, lest therby he had been made contemptible to the people, but was otherwise chastised.

neither had that kind of meate failed : & behold the furie of our Lord being prouoked against the people , stricke them with an exceeding great plague. 34. And that place was called (e) The Sepulchres of concupiscence : for there they buried the people that had lusted. And departing from the Sepulchres of concupiscence , they came vnto Hase-roth , and taried there.

C H A P. X I I.

Marie and Aaron murmur against Moyfes. 6. Whom God praiseth aboute other Prophets. 10. Marie being stricken with leprosie , Aaron confesseth his fault. 13. Moyfes prayeth for her, and after seuen daies separation from the campe, she is restored.

AND Marie and Aaron spake against Moyfes , for his wife the (a) Æthiopian, 2. and they said: hath our Lord spoken by Moyfes onlie ? hath he not spoken to vs also in like manner ? Which when our Lord had heard , (3. (b) For Moyfes was the mildest man aboute al men that dwelt vpon the earth) 4. immediately he spake to him , and to Aaron and Marie : Goe forth you three onlie to the tabernacle of couenant. And when they were come forth , 5. our Lord descended in the pillar of a cloud, and stood in the entrie of the tabernacle calling Aaron & Marie. Who going vnto him, 6. he said to them : Heare my words: If there shal be among you a Prophet of the Lord , in vision wil I appeare to him, or in sleepe I wil speake to him. 7. But my seruant Moyfes is not such an one , who in al my house is most faythful : 8. for mouth to mouth I speake to him : and plainely , and not by riddels and figures doth he see the Lord. Why therefore did you not feare to detract from my seruant Moyfes ? 9. And being wrath against them , he went away : 10. the cloud also departed that was ouer the tabernacie : and behold Marie appeared white with leprosie as it were snow. And (c) when Aaron had looked on her , and saw her wholly couered with leprosie, 11. he said to Moyfes : I beseech thee my Lord, lay not vpon vs this sinne which we haue foolishly committed , 12. let not this woman be as it were dead, and as an abortiue that is cast forth of the mothers wombe. Loe now the one halfe of her flesh is deuoured with the leprosie. 13. And Moyfes cried to our Lord, saying : God , I beseech thee , heale her. 14. To whom our Lord answered : If her father had spit vpon her face, ought she not to haue been ashamed seuen dayes at the least ? Let her be separated seuen daies without the campe , and afterwards she shal be called againe. 15. Marie therefore was shut forth without the campe seuen daies : and the people moued not from that place , vntil Marie was called againe.

Exod. 2.

C H A P. XIII.

From the desert of Pharan Moyfes sendeth twelue men (of euerie tribe one) to view the Land of Chanaan: 17. changeth Osee his name into Iosue, 18. instructeth them which way to goe, and what to note in the land: 22. which they performe: 26. and after fourtie dayes returne, bringing with them fruits, in token of the landes fertilitie. 29. But in other respects (the rest besides Caleb and Iosue) discouraging the people make them to murmur.

AN D the people marched from Haseroth pitching their tents in the desert of Pharan. 2. And there our Lord spake to Moyfes, saying: 3. Send men that may view the Land of Chanaan, which I wil giue to the children of Israel, one of euerie tribe, of the Princes. 4. Moyfes did that which our Lord had commanded, from the desert of Pharan sending principal men, whose names be these. 5. Of the tribe of Ruben, Samua the sonne of Zechur. 6. Of the tribe of Simeon, Saphat the sonne of Huri. 7. Of the tribe of Iuda, Caleb the sonne of Iephone. 8. Of the tribe of Issachar, Igal the sonne of Ioseph. 9. Of the tribe of Ephraim, Osee the sonne of Nun. 10. Of the tribe of Benjamin, Phalti the sonne of Raphu. 11. Of the tribe of Zabulón, Geddiel the sonne of Sodi. 12. Of the tribe of Ioseph, of the scepter of Manasses, Gaddi, the sonne of Suli. 13. Of the tribe of Dan, Ammiel the sonne of Gemalli. 14. Of the tribe of Aser, Sthur the sonne of Michael. 15. Of the tribe of Nephthali, Nahabi the sonne of Vapli. 16. Of the tribe of Gad, Guel the sonne of Machi. 17. These are the names of the men, whom Moyfes sent to view the Land: and he called Osee the sonne of Nun, (a) Iosue. 18. Moyfes therfore sent them to view the Land of Chanaan, and said to them: Goe vp by the south side. And when you shal come to the mountaines, 19. view the Land, what it is: and the people that are the inhabitants therof, whether they be strong or weake: few in number or manie: 20. the land it-self, whether it be good or bad: what manner of citics, walled or without walles: 21. the ground, fat or barren, wooddie or without trees. Be of good courage, and bring vs of the fruits of the Land. And it was the time whē now the first ripe grapes are to be eaten. 22. And when they were gone vp, they viewed the Land from the desert of Sin, vnto Rohob as you enter to Emath. 23. And they went vp at the south side, & came to Hebron, where were Achiman and Sifai & Tholmai the sonnes of Enac. for Hebron was built seuen yeares before Tanis the citie of Ægypt. 24. And going forward as farre as the Tor-

a) Changing of his name literally imported the great office of chiefe Duke vnto which he was designed, mystically prefigured our Lord Iesus, for it is the same name in Hebrew, and signifieth SAVIOUR. Theod. q. 25. in Num.

(b) Pretending falsly that the Land had an vnwholsome ayre, denouing
the inhabitants, & not possible to be obtained by reaso of the gyants, couertly they detracted fro Gods power, or his good wil towards them, who had promised the same. And therfore he gaue it to their children, but not to these sedu-cers and mur-murers, chap.
14. v. 23, 29.

rent of cluster, they cut off a branch with the grapes therof, which two men carried vpon a leauer. They tooke of the pomegranates also & of the figges of that place: 25. which was called Nehelecol, that is to say, the Torrent of cluster, for that thence the children of Israel had caried a cluster. 26. And the discouersers of the Land returning after fourtie daies, hauing circuiteed al the countrie, 27. came to Moyfes & Aaron and to al the assemblie of the children of Israel into the desert of Pharan; which is in Cades. And speaking to them and to al the multitude they shewed the fruits of the Land: 28. and reported, saying: We came into the Land to which thou didst send vs, which in very deed floweth with milke and honie, as by these fruits may be knowen: 29. but it hath very strong inhabitants, and cities great and walled. The stocke of Enac we saw there. 30. Amalec dwelleth in the south, the Hetheite and the Iebuseite and the Amorrhite in the mountaines: but the Chananeite abideth beside the sea and about the streames of Iordan. 31. Among these things Caleb appeasing the murmuring of the people that rose against Moyfes, said: Let vs goe vp and possesse the Land, because we may obtaine it. 32. But the others, that had been with him, said: No, we are not able to goe vp to this people, because it is stronger then we. 33. And they detracted from the Land, which they had viewed, before the children of Israel, saying: The Land, which we haue viewed, (b) deuoureth her inhabitants: the people, that we beheld, is of a tall stature. 34. There we saw certaine monsters of the sonnes of Enac, of the gyants kind: to whom being compared, we seemed as it were locusts.

C H A P. XIII.

The mutinous murmuring people being vnplacable, 11. God expostulateth their ingratitude, threatneth to destroy them. 13. Yet Moyfes pacifieth his wrath, 22. but so that al which were numbred coming from Ægypt, except Caleb and Iosue, shal die in the wildernes. 31. And their children shal possesse the promised land. 40. Then fighting contrarie to Moyfes admonition are beaten, and manie slaine by their enemies.

a) These mur-murers had their wish, to their owne punishment. Cha.
14. v. 29. 26. v.
64.

b) It is so absolutely necessarie in euerie

HERFORE al the multitude crying out wept that night, 2. and al the children of Israel murmured against Moyfes and Aaron, saying: 3. Would God we had died in Ægypt: and (a) in this vaste wildernesse would God we might die, and that our Lord would not bring vs into this Land, lest we fal by the sword, and our wiues and children be led captiue. Is it not better to returne into Ægypt? 4. And one said to an other:

(b) Let

(4) Let vs appoint a captaine, & let vs returne into Ægypt. 5. Which Moyſes & Aaron hearing ſel flat vpō the ground before al the multitude of the children of Iſrael. 6. But Iofue the ſonne of Nun, and Caleb the ſonne of Iephone, who theſelues alſo had viewed the lād, rent their garméts, 7. and ſpake to al the multitude of the children of Iſrael: The Land, which we haue circuited, is very good. 8. If our Lord be propitious, he ſhal bring vs into it, and deliuer vs a ground flowing with milke and honie. 9. Be not rebellious againſt our Lord: neither teare ye the people of this land, for euen as bread ſo we may deuour them, al aid is gone from them: our Lord is with vs, feare ye not. 10. And when al the multitude cried, and would haue ſtoned them, the glorie of our Lord appeared ouer the rooſe of couenant in the ſight of al the children of Iſrael. 11. And our Lord ſaid to Moyſes: How long wil this people detract me? How long wil they not belieue me in al the ſignes that I haue done before them? 12. I wil ſtrike them therefore with peſtilence, and wil conſume them: but thee I wil make Prince ouer a great nation and a ſtronger then this is. 13. And Moyſes ſaid to our Lord: That the Ægyptians, from the middes of whom thou haſt brought forth this people, 14. and the inhabitants of this Land, which haue heard that thou Lord art among this people, and art ſeen face to face, and thy cloud protecteth them, and in a piller of a cloud thou goeſt before them by day, and in a piller of fire by night, 15. may heare that thou haſt killed ſo great a multitude as it were one man, and may ſay: 16. He could not bring in the people into the Land, for which he had ſworne, therefore did he kil them in the wilderneſſe. 17. Let therefore the ſtrength of our Lord be magnified as thou haſt ſworne, ſaying: 18. The Lord is patient and ful of mercie, taking away iniquitie and wicked deeds, and leauing no man innocent, which viſiteſt the ſinnes of the fathers vpon the children vnto the third and fourth generation. 19. Forgiue, I beſeech thee, the ſinne of this thy people, according to the greatnes of thy mercie, as thou haſt been propitious to them ſince their going out of Ægypt vnto this place. 20. And our Lord ſaid: I haue forgiven it according to thy word. 21. Liue I: and the whole earth ſhal be replenished with the glorie of the Lord. 22. (c) But yet al the men that haue ſeen my maicé, and the ſignes that I haue done in Ægypt, and in the wilderneſſe, and haue tempted me now ten times, neither haue obeyed my voice, 23. they ſhal not ſee the Land for the which I ſware to their fathers, neither ſhal any of them that hath detracted me, behold it. 24. My ſeruant Caleb, who (d) being ful of an other ſpirit hath ſolowed me, wil I bring in vnto this Land which he hath circuited: and his ſeed ſhal poſſeſſe it. 25. Becauſe the Amalecite and the Cananeite dwel in the valleys. To morrow remoue the campe, and returne into the wilderneſſe by the way of the Red ſea. 26. And our Lord ſpake to Moyſes and Aaron, ſaying: 27. How long doth this vngracious multitude murmur againſt me? I haue heard the complaints of the children of Iſrael.

communitie to haue one Superior of al, that verie mu-tiners themſelues doe euer chooſe ſuch a one, & cal him the Electo.

(c) After the ſinne is forgiuen, yet puniſhment remaineth to be inſlicted.

(d) Although grace be firſt giuen without deſert: yet good workes done by grace doe merit reward. S. Aug
de Grat. & lib.
arb. c. 6.

(e) Temporal punishment laid vpon the children for their fathers sinnes, is for their owne spiritual good.
*S. Aug. Epist.
75. ad Animum.*

28. Say therefore to them: liue I, sayth our Lord : According as you haue spoken I hearing it , so wil I doe to you. 29. In this wildernesse shal your carcasses lie. Al you that are numbred from twentie yeares & vpward, and haue murmured against me, 30. you shal not enter into the Land, ouer the which I haue lifted vp my hand to make you inhabite it, except Caleb the sonne of Iephone, and Iosue the sonne of Nun. 31. But your litle ones, of whom you said, that they should be a prey to the enemies, wil I bring in: that they may see the Land that hath misliked you. 32. Your carcasses shal lie in the wildernesse. 33. Your children shal wander in the desert fourtie yeares, and (e) shal beare your fornication, vntil the carcasses of their fathers be consumed in the desert , 34. according to the number of the fourtie daies , wherein you viewed the Land : a yeare shal be reputed for a day. And fourtie yeares you shal receiue your iniquities, and shal know my reuenge: 35. for as I haue spoken, so wil I doe to al this wicked multitude , that hath risen together against me : in this wildernesse shal it faile and die. 36. Therefore al the men, whom Moyses had sent to view the Land , and which returning had made al the multitude to murmur against him , detracting from the Land that it was nought, 37. died and were stricken in the light of our Lord. 38. But Iosue the sonne of Nun, and Caleb the sonne of Iephone liued of al them, that had gone to view the Land. 39. And Moyses spake al these words to al the children of Israel , and the people mourned exceedingly. 40. And behold very early in the morning rising they went vp to the top of the mountaine, and said: We are readie to goe vp to the place, wherof our Lord hath spoken : for we haue sinned. 41. To whom Moyses said: Why transgresse you the word of our Lord, which shal not succeed prosperously with you? 42. Goe not vp , for our Lord is not with you : lest you fal before your enemies. 43. The Amalecite and the Chananeite are before you , by whose sword you shal fal , for that you would not consent to our Lord , neither wil our Lord be with you. 44. But they being blinded went vp to the top of the mountaine. But the arke of the testament of our Lord & Moyses departed not from the campe. 45. And the Amalecite came downe and the Cananeite , that dwelt in the mountaine : and striking and hewing them , pursued them as farre as Horma.

C H A P. X V.

Certaine precepts concerning Sacrifices 17. and first fruits, are repeated, 22. also touching different punishment of sinne committed by ignorance and by set wilfulnes: 32. and accordingly one is stoned to death for gathering sticks on the Sabbath day. 37. Al are commanded to carie a signe in their garments, therby to remember the commandments of God.

AND our Lord spake to Moyfes, saying: 2. Speake to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them: When you shal be entred into the Land of your habitation, which I wil giue you, 3. and shal make oblation to the Lord for an holocaust, or victime, paying vowes, or voluntarily offering gifts, or in your solemnities burning a sweet saour vnto the Lord, of oxen or of sheep: 4. whosoever immolateth the victime, shal offer a sacrifice of flowre, the tenth part of an ephi tempered with oyle, which shal haue in measure the fourth part of an hin: 5. and wine of the same measure to powre the libaments in al he giue for the holocaust or for the victime. For euerie lambe 6. and ramme there shal be a sacrifice of flowre of two tenths, which shal be tempered with oile the third part of an hin: 7. and wine for the libament, the third part of the same measure, shal he offer for a sweet saour to the Lord. 8. But when thou makest an holocaust or hoste of oxen, to fulfil thy vow, or for pacifike victimes, 9. thou shalt giue for euerie ox three tenths of flowre tempered with oile, which shal haue halfe the measure of a hin: 10. and wine to powre libaments of the same measure for an oblation of most sweet saour to the Lord. 11. So shalt thou doe 12. for euerie ox and ramme and lambe & buck goat. 13. As wel they that are borne in the countrie as the strangers 14. after one rite shal offer sacrifices. 15. There shal be al one precept & iudgement as wel to your selues as to the strangers of the land. 16. Our Lord spake to Moyfes, saying: 17. Speake to the children of Israel, & thou shalt say to them: 18. When you are come into the land, which I wil giue you, 19. and shal eat of the breads of that countrie, you shal separate first fruits to the Lord 20. of your meats. As of your barne floores you separate first fruits, 21. so of your pasts shal you giue first fruits to the Lord. 22. And if through ignorance you omit any of these things, which the Lord hath spoken to Moyfes, 23. and by him hath commanded you, from the day that he began to command and so forward, 24. and the multitude haue forgotten to doe it: they shal offer a calfe out of the heard, an holocaust for a most sweet saour to the Lord, and the sacrifice and libaments therof, as the ceremonies require, and a buck goat ments thereof, as the ceremonies require, and a buck-goat for sinne: 25. and the Priest shall pray for al the multitude of the children of Israel: and it shall be forgiven them, because they sinned not wittingly, offering notwithstanding burnt sacrifice to the Lord for themselves and for their sinne and error: 26. and it shall be forgiven al the people of the children of Israel, and the strangers, that sejourne among them: because it is the fault of al the people through ignorance. 27. But if one soule shall sinne vnwitting, he shall offer a she goate of a yeare old for his sinne: 28. and the Priest shall pray for him, because he sinned vnwitting before the Lord: and he shall obtaine him pardon, and it shall be forgiven him. 29. As wel to them that are borne in the countrie as to the strangers one law shall be for al, that sinne by ignorance. 30. But the soule, that (a) through pride committeth any thing, whether he be borne in the countrie, or a stranger, (because he hath been rebellious against the Lord) shall perish out of his people: 31. for he hath contemned the word of the Lord, and made his precept of no effect: therefore shall he be destroyed, and shall beare his iniquitie. 32. And it came to passe, when the children of Israel were in the wildernesse, and had found a man gathering stickes on the Sabbath day, 33. they presented him to Moyses and Aaron and the whole multitude. 34. Who thrust him into prison, not knowing what they should doe with him. 35. And our Lord said to Moyses, (b) dying let this man die, let al the multitude stone him without the campe. 36. And when they had brought him out, they stoned him, and he died as our Lord had commanded. 37. Our Lord also said to Moyses: 38. Speake to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, That they make themselves (c) fringes in the corners of their garments, putting in them ribands of hyacinth: 39. which when they shall see, they may remember al the commandements of the Lord, and not follow their owne cogitations and eies fornicating after diuers things, 40. but rather mindful of the precepts of the Lord may doe them, and be holie to their God. 41. I the Lord your God, that brought you out of the Land of Ægypt, that I might be your God.

(a) Though sinnes wittingly committed, proceeding of pride and contempt of Gods commandment, could not be pardoned by the law: yet such may also be remitted through true repentance. S.

Aug. 9. 25. in Num.

(b) Seueritie is vsed towards those that knowing Gods wil doe contrary. Luc. 12. v. 47.

(c) The Iewes in Christs time hypocritically enlarged these fringes, for vaine shew of holines.

Mat. 23.

C H A P. X V I.

Core and his complices, making schisme against Moyses and Aaron, 31. some are swallowed in the earth, with their families and substance; 35. either two hundred and fiftie offering incense, 41. and fourteyn thousand seuen hundred of the common people, murmuring in behalfe of the sedicious, are consumed with fire from heauen.

AND behold Core the sonne of Isaac, the sonne of Caath, the sonne of Leui, and Dathan and Abiron the sonnes of Eliab, Hon also the sonne of Pheleth of the children of Ruben, 2. rose against Moyses, & other of the children of Israel, two hundred fiftie men Princes of the synagogue, and which in the time of assemblie were called by name. 3. And when they had stood vp against Moyses and Aaron, they said: Let it suffice you, that (4) al the multitude consisteth of holie ones, and our Lord is among them: Why lift you vp your selues aboute the people of our Lord? 4. Which when Moyses had heard, he fel flat on his face: 5. and speaking to Core and al the multitude, he said: In the morning our Lord wil make it knowne who pertaine to him, and the holie he wil ioyne to himselfe: and whom he shal choose, they shal approach to him. 6. This doe therefore: Take euerie man their censars, thou Core, and al thy Councel: 7. and taking fire in them to morrow, put vpon it incense before our Lord: and whom soeuer he shal choose, the same shal be holie: you doe much exait your selues ye sonnes of Leui. 8. And he said againe to Core: Heare ye sonnes of Leui: 9. Is it a smal thing vnto you, that the God of Israel hath separated you from al the people, and ioyned you to himselfe, that you should serue him in the seruice of the tabernacle, and should stand before the ful assemblie of the people, & should minister to him? 10. did he therefore make thee and al thy brethren the sonnes of Leui to approach vnto him, that you should challenge vnto you the Priesthood also, 11. & al thy companie should stand against our Lord? for what is Aaron that you murmur against him? 12. Moyses therefore sent to cal Dathan and Abiron the sonnes of Eliab. Who answered: We come not. 13. Why, is it a smal matter to thee that thou hast brought vs out of a land, that flowed with milke and honie, to kil vs in the desert, vnles thou rule also like a Lord ouer vs: 14. Indeed hast thou brought vs into a lād, that flowerth with riuers of milke and honie, and hast thou giuen vs possessions of fields and vineyards? What, wilt thou pluck out our eies also? We come not. 15. Moyses therefore being very wrath, said to our Lord: Respect not their sacrifices: thou knowest that I haue not taken of them so much as. a little

(*) So Luther (li. de abrog. Missa) & other enemies of Ecclesiastical Hierarchy, wil haue no proper Priesthood in the Church of Christ, because al Christians are called a holie Priesthood, 1. Pet. 2. & Priests, Apoc. 1.

(a) Those that touch things pertaining to impietie, or depart not from the tabernacles of schismatikes are inwrapped in their sinnes: much more to goe vnto heretical Synagogues is cōdemned. See S. Cyprian l. de lapsis Parag. 5.

(b) Moyfes proued before by miracles (Exod. 4.) that he was sent of God, & now he proueth againe by miracle, that he and Aaron, and not these schismatikes were called & sent by God to gouerne his people.

(c) Aaron being already established high-Priest, God againe confirmeth in Eleazar the progenie of Priestlie succession, in Aarōs stock, & not in other. Leuites. S. Aug. q. 30. in Num.

asse at anie time, neither haue afflicted anie of them. 16. And he said to Core: Thou, and al thy congregation stand ye apart before our Lord, and Aaron to morrow apart. 17. Take euerie one your censars, and put incense vpon them, offering to our Lord two hundred fiftie censars: Let Aaron also hold his censar. 18. Which when they had done, Moyfes and Aaron standing, 19. & had heaped together al the multitude against them to the dore of the tabernacle, the glorie of our Lord appeared to them al. 20. And our Lord speaking to Moyfes and Aaron, said: 21. Separate your selues from the middes of this congregation, that I may sodenly destroy them. 22. Who fel flat on their face, and said: Most mightie God of the spirits of al flesh, when one sinneth, shal thy wrath rage against al? 23. And our Lord said to Moyfes: 24. Command the whole people that they separate themselues from the tabernacles of Core and Dathan and Abiron. 25. And Moyfes arose, and went to Dathan and Abiron: and the ancients of Israel following him, 26. he said to the multitude: Depart from the tabernacles of the impious men, and touch not the things that pertaine to them, (a) lest you be wrapped in their sinnes. 27. And when they were departed from their tents round about, Dathan and Abiron comming forth stood in the entrie of their pavilions with their wiues and children, and al the multitude. 28. And Moyfes said: (b) In this you shal know that our Lord hath sent me to doe al things that you see, and that I haue not forged them of my owne mind: 29. If they die the accustomed death of men, and if the plague, wherewith others also are wont to be visited, doe visite them, our Lord did not send me: 30. but if our Lord doe a new thing, that the earth opening her mouth swallow them downe, and al things that pertaine to them, and they descend quicke into hel, you shal know that they haue blasphemed our Lord. 31. Immediately therfore as he ceased to speake, the earth brake a-flunder vnder their feet: 32. and opening her mouth, deuoured them with their tabernacles & al their substance. 33. and they went downe into hel quicke couered with the ground, and perished out of the middes of the multitude. 34. But al Israel, that stood round about, fled at the crie of them that perished, saying: Lest perhaps the earth swallow vs also. 35. But a fire also comming forth from our Lord, slew the two hundred fiftie men, that offered the incense. 36. And our Lord spake to Moyfes, saying: 37. Command (c) Eleazar the sonne of Aaron the Priest that he take vp the censars that lie in the burning fire, and that he sprinkle the fire hither and thither: because they be sanctified 38. in the deaths of the sinners: and let him beate them into plates, and fasten them to the altar, because there hath been offered incense in them to the Lord, and they are sanctified, that the children of Israel may see them for a signe and a monument. 39. Eleazar therfore the Priest tooke the brasen censars, wherin they had offered, whom the burning fire deuoured, and beat them into plates, fastning them to the altar: 40. that the children of Israel afterward

afterward might haue, wherewith to be admonished, that no stranger approach, and he that is not of the seed of Aaron, to offer incense to our Lord, lest he suffer as Core hath suffered, & al his congregation, according as our Lord spake to Moyfes. 41. And al the multitude of the child é of Israel murmured the day following against Moyfes & Aaron, saying: You haue killed the people of our Lord. 42. And when there rose a sedition, and the tumult grew farder, 43. Moyfes and Aaron fled to the tabernacle of couenant. Which after they were entred the clond couered it, and the glorie of our Lord appeared. 44. And our Lord said to Moyfes: 45. Depart from the middes of this multitude, (u) euen now wil I destroy them. And as they lay vpon the ground, 46. Moyfes said to Aaron: Take the censar, and drawing fire from the altar, put incense vpon it, going quickly to the people to pray for them: for euen now is the wrath come forth from our Lord, & the plague rageth. 47. Which when Aaron had done, and had runne to the middes of the multitude, which now the burning fire did wast, he offered the incense: 48. and standing between the dead and the liuing, he prayed for the people, and the plague ceased. 49. And there were that were stricken, fourteen thousand and seuen hundred men, beside them that had perished in the sedition of Core. 50. And Aaron returned to Moyfes vnto the doore of the tabernacle of couenant after that the destruction was ceased.

d) This multitude did only in words fauour schismatikes, what iudgeinēt then remaineth to those which in external acts participate with heretikes?

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. XVI.

2. Rose against Moyfes.] By this most famous Schisme and terrible punishment therof, al are warned to keepe order, vnitie, and peace within the Church of God; and in no wise to communicate with heretikes or schismatikes in the act of heresie or schisme. A necessarie admonition, especially in such times and places as we liue in, and see greater breaches made from ordinarie and lawful Pastors then this was. For as S. Ignatius wel noteth (Epist. 3 ad Magnatianos), Core Dathan and Abiron impugned not directly the law, but resisted Moyfes and Aaron: Yet were they and manie thousands with them, seuerely punished for their conspiracie. S. Cyprian (lib. 1. Epist. 6.) obserueth the same, saying: Core Dathan and Abiron acknowledged the same God with Aaron and Moyfes, liuing vnder the same law and religion, and inuocated one true God, yet because, passing the appointed ministerie of their owne place, opposite to Aaron (who by Gods fauour and ordinance had receiued lawful Priesthood) they tooke vpon them to sacrifice, they were forthwith punished by God for their vnlawful attempts: neither could their sacrifices irreligiously and vnlawfully offered against Gods ordinance be ratified, nor profite them at al. thus teacheth S. Cyprian the glorious Martyr. And the text is cleare, that they were neither Idolaters nor Heretikes, but the chiefe of them being Leuites, of the familie of Caath (who were neereft in kinred and in office to the Priests) and

This historie & others were writtē for our admonition. 1. Cor 10. Core and his cōplices were not heretikes, but only schismatikes.

God accepteth not sacrifice done against his ordinance.

God by speepie punishmēt preuenteth he-resie, wherto al schisme tendeth.

Not only the authours of wickednes, but al that consene, much more that cooperate, are worthe of death. Rom. I.

other principal men of diuers tribes, enuying the superioritie of Moyse and Aaron, and that priesthood was established only in Aarons progenie, arrogated to themselues the office of Priests and offered incense, further pretending, for vpholding their schisme, that there should be no Superiour at al aboute the holie people of God, which albeit they did not belieue, yet therby they drew the multitude to fauour and folow them. But God deciding this debate, to take away the contradiction, made the earth to open, & swallow vp those that first refused to obey Moyse, with their tabernacles and substance; and fire from heauen to consume two hundred & fiftie which offered incense; & fourteen thousand seuen hundred of the common people, for imputing to their Superiours the destruction of the sedicious, were also consumed with fire, raging amongst the whole multitude, til Aaron sent by Moyse, and offering incense appeased Gods wrath, and saued the rest. And wil-anie Christians (that know they haue immortal soules, and that God is a iust Iudge) thinke to escape with lesse damnation, who for anie worldlie gaine, fauour, or feare, yeald their bodilie and personal presence at seruice or sermon of heretikes, or anie way communicate with heretikes in practise of heresie?

C H A P. XVII.

Moyse taking of the Princes of twelue tribes twelue rods, and one of Aaron for the tribe of Leui, layeth them al in the tabernacle al night, 8. where Aarons rod (and none of the rest) buadeth, bloometh, and bringeth forth fruit. 9. And al being shewed to the people, Aarons is caried back, and kept for a monument in the tabernacle.

(a) For more satisfaction to the whole people God con-firmeth Aarons authoritie by a new miracle.
v. 10.

(b) The rod
signified the B.
Virgin mother and the (c) almonds Christ, to wit, the vtter pil his humanitie, the shel his crosse, the kernel his di-uinitie: Who pacified by the bloud of his crosse, al things in earth & in hea-
uen. Coloss. 1. 5.
Aug. de tēp. ser. 3

AND our Lord spake to Moyse, saying: 2. Speake to the children of Israel, and (a) take a rod of euerie one of their kinreds, of al the Princes of their tribes, twelue rods, and the name of euerie one thou shalt write vpon his rod. 3. And the name of Aaron shall be in the tribe of Leui, and one rod shall containe al their families: 4. and thou shalt lay them in the tabernacle of couenant before the testimonie, where I wil speake to thee. 5. Whomsoeuer of these I shall choose, his rod shall blossom: and I shall stay from me the grudgings of the children of Israel, wherwith they murmur against you. 6. And Moyse spake to the children of Israel: and al the Princes gaue him rods by euerie tribe: and they were twelue rods besides Aarons rod. 7. Which when Moyse had laid before our Lord in the tabernacle of testimonie: 8. returning the day folowing he found that Aarons (b) rod in the house of Leui was buded: and the buds thereof swelling, the blossomes were shot forth, which spreading the leaues, were * fashioned into (c) almonds. 9. Moyse therefore brought forth al the rods from the sight of our Lord to al the children of Israel, and

* defor-masi, fully formed.

they

and they saw and euerie one receiued their rods. 10. And our Lord said to Moyfes: Carie backe Aarons rod into the tabernacle of testimonie, that it may be kept there for a signe of the rebellious children of Israel, and let their complaints cease from me, lest they die. 11. And Moyfes did as our Lord had commanded. 12. And the children of Israel said to Moyfes: Behold we are consumed, we are al perished. 13. Whosoever approacheth to the tabernacle of our Lord, he dieth. Are we al to be deitroyed vnto vtter consumption?

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. XVII.

8. Aarons rod.) This rod without root, neither it-seife planted, nor anie liue branch ingrafted therin, al drie without iuyce or moisture, bringing forth buds, flowers, & fruit, was a figure that our B. Ladie should beare a sonne, and remaine a Virgin. And this example euidently demoustrateth that she could so doe, it being no more contrarie to nature, that a virgin should conceiue, and beare child without losse of virginitie, then that the drie rod should bud and beare fruit, without ordinarie concourse of nature. S. Aug. ser. 3. de temp. S. Greg. Nissen. de uisitat. Dom. S. Bernard. ho. 2. in Euang. Missus est.

Example of one miracle proueth the possibilitie of another.

C H A P. XVIII.

The charge and burden of Priests within the Tabernacle, and of Leuites about the same. 8. First fruits, and oblations are due to the Priests; 21. the tithes to the Leuites; 26. who of the same pay tithes to the Priests.

AND our Lord said to Aaron: Thou, and thy sonnes, and the house of thy father with thee shal beare the iniquitie of the Sanctuarie: both thou & thy sonnes together shal beare the sinnes of your priefthood. 2. But thy brethren also of the tribe of Leui, and the scepter of thy father take with thee, and let them be readie at hand, and minister to thee: but thou and thy sonnes shal minister in the tabernacle of testimonie. 3. And the Leuites shal watch vpon thy precepts, and vpon al the workes of the tabernacle: so notwithstanding, that they approach not to the vessels of the Sanctuarie and to the altar, lest both they die, and you perish withal. 4. but let them be with thee, and watch in the custodies of the tabernacle, and in al the ceremonies therof. A stranger shal not ioync with you. 5. Watch in the custodie

(a) Oza was slaine for touching the arke
1. Reg. 6.

of the Sanctuarie, and in the ministerie of the altar: lest indignation rise vpon the children of Israel. 6. I haue giuen you your brethren the Leuites out of the middes of the children of Israel, and haue deliuered them a giust to the Lord, to serue in the ministeries of his tabernacle. 7. And thou and thy sonnes looke to your priesthood: and al things that pertyne to the seruice of the altar, and that are within the veile, shal be executed by the Priests. If anie stranger approach, (a) he shal be slaine. 8. And our Lord spake to Aaron, behold I haue giuen thee the custodie of my first fruits. Al things that are sanctified of the children of Israel, haue I deliuered to thee and to thy sonnes for the priestlie office, as euerlasting ordinances. 9. These things therefore shalt thou take of those, that are sanctified, and are offered to the Lord. Al oblation, and sacrifice, and whatsoeuer is rendred to me for sinne and offence, & becommeth Holie of holies, shal be thine, and thy sonnes. 10. In the Sanctuarie shalt thou eat it: males onlie shal eat therof, because it is to thee a consecrated thing. 11. But the first fruits, which the children of Israel shal vow and offer, I haue giuen thee, and thy sonnes, and thy daughters for a perpetual right. he that is cleane in thy house, shal eat them. 12. Al the best of oile, and wine, and corne, whatsoeuer first fruits they offer to the Lord, I haue giuen them to thee. 13. Of fruits al the first, that the ground bringeth forth, and are brought to the Lord, shal turne to thy vses: he that is cleane in thy house, shal eat them. 14. Euerie thing that the children of Israel render by vow, shal be thine. 15. Whatsoeuer first breaketh forth from the matrice of al flesh, which they offer to the Lord, whether it be of men, or of beasts, shal be thy right: yet so, that for the first borne of man thou take a price, and euerie beast that is vncleane thou cause to be redeemed, : 6. whose redemption shal be after one month, for siue sicles of siluer, by the weight of the Sanctuarie. A sicle hath twentie oboles. 17. But the first-borne of beefe and sheep and goate thou shalt not cause to be redeemed, because they are sanctified to the Lord. onlie the blood of them thou shalt powre vpon the altar, and the fat thou shalt burne for a most sweet odour to the Lord. 18. But the flesh shal turne to thy vse, as the consecrated brest, and the right shoulder, shal be thine. 19. Al the first fruits of the Sanctuarie which the children of Israel offer to the Lord, haue I giuen thee and thy sonnes, and daughters for a perpetual right. (b) A couenant of salt is it for euer before the Lord, to thee and to thy sonnes. 20. And our Lord said to Aaron: In their land you shal possesse nothing, neither shal you haue a portion among them: I am thy portion and inheritance in the middes of the children of Israel. 21. And to the sonnes of Leui I haue giuen al the tithes of Israel in possession for the ministerie wherewith they serue me in the tabernacle of couenant: 22. that the children of Israel approach not any more to the tabernacle, nor commit (c) deadlie sinne, 23. onlie the sonnes of Leui seruing me in the tabernacle, and bearing the finnes of the people. it shal be an euerlasting ordinance in

(b) This couenant of firstfruits & other rights giuen to the Priests shal be perpetual, as salt is in euerie sacrifice, Leuit.

2.
(c) Punishable with death.

your your generations. No other thing shal they possesse, 24. being content with the oblation of tithes, which I haue separated for their vses and necessaries. 25. And our Lord spake to Moyse, saying: 26. Command the Leuites, and denounce vnto them: When you shal receiue of the children of Israel the tithes, which I haue giuen you, offer first fruits of them to the Lord, that is to say, the tenth part of the tenth: 27. that it may be reputed to you for an oblation of first fruits, as wel of the barne floores as of the presses, 28. and of al things wherof you receiue tithes, the first fruits offer to the Lord, and giue them to Aaron the Priest. 29. Al things that you shal offer of the tithes, and shal separate for the gifts of the Lord, they shal be the best and chosē things. 30. And thou shalt say to them: If you offer al the goodlie and the better things of the tithes, it shal be reputed to you as if you had giuen first fruits of the barne floore and the presse: 31. and you shal eat them in al your places, as wel you as your families: because it is the reward for the ministerie, wherwith you serue in the tabernacle of testimonie. 32. And you shal not sinne in this point, refering the principal and fat things to your selues, lest you pollute the oblations of the children of Israel, and die.

C H A P. XIX.

A red cow is offered in burnt victime for sinne: 9. whose ashes are mingled in water for expiation of diuers legal vncleannes, 11. as by touching the dead, 14. by entring into the tent of the dead, also the vessel that is therein, and the vessel that lacketh a couer, 22. and what soeuer the vncleane toucheth.

AND our Lord spake to Moyse and Aaron, saying: 2. This is the religion of * the victime, which the Lord hath appointed. Command the children of Israel, that they bring vnto thee (a) a red cow of (b) ful age, wherin is (c) no blemish, and that hath (d) not caried yoke: 3. and you shal deliuer her to Eleazar the Priest, who bringing her forth (e) without the campe, shal immolate her in the sight of al: 4. and dipping his finger in her (f) blood, shal sprinkie it against the doores of the tabernacle seuentimes, 5. and shal burne her in the sight of al, committing (g) aswel her skinnē and the fleish, as the blood, and the dung to the fire. 6. (h) Wood also of the cedar, and (i) hyssop, and scarlet (k) twice died shal the Priest cast into the flame, that wasteth the cow. 7. And then at length washing his garments, and his bodie, he shal enter into the campe, and (l) shal be polluted vntil euen. 8. But he also

* The same things, saith S. Aug. (9. 33.) and Theodo. (9. 36. in Num.) which were shadowed & prefigured in the old Testament, are reuealed & manifested in the New. And this special sacrifice prefigured diuers particular things in Christs Passion.

a) His bodie of Adā signifying red earth.

b) At the age of 33. yeares. [c] Alwayes most pure frō sinne.

d) Free from al bondage. (e) Crucified without the gate of Hierusalem.

f) Al Sacramēts haue their vertue of Christs blood.

(g) Frō the sole of his feet to the top of his head al wounded, with the whip, crowne, nails, &c.

h) Wood of the crosse brought life to the world.

i) Lively heate of so infinite charitie dissolueth the coldnes of scath.

k) Christs suffering an example that we must also sustain afflictions
 (l) Those that procured or cooperated to Christs death were polluted with sinne.
 (m) Ioseph and Nicodemus buried Christ.
 (n) His sepulchre was glorious.
 (o) Those also that buried him, need cleansing by his Passion, not for that work, but for their sinnes.
 p) The old law did not remit sinnes but the new.
 q) Baptisme in the name of the B Trinitie.
 (r) Without which no other Sacrament auaieth.

also that burneth her, shal wash his garments and his bodie, and shal be vncleane vntil euen. 9. And (m) a man that is cleane shal gather the ashes of the cow, and shal powre them out without the campe in (n) a most cleane place, that they may be reserued for the multitude of the children of Israel, and for water of aspersion: because the cow was burnt for sinne. 10. And when he that caried the ashes of the cow hath washed his garments, (o) he shal be vncleane (p) vntil euen. The children of Israel, and the strangers that dwel among them, shal haue this for a holie thing by a perpetual ordinance. 11. He that toucheth the dead corps of a man, and is vncleane therfore seuen daies, 12. shal be sprinkled of (q) this water the third day, and the seuenth, and so shal be cleansed. If he were not sprinkled the third day, (r) the seuenth day he can not be cleansed. 13. Euerie one that toucheth the dead corps of mans soule, and is not sprinkled with this commision, shal pollute the tabernacle of the Lord, and shal perih out of Israel: because he was not sprinkled with the water of expiation, he shal be vncleane, and his filthinesse shal remaine vpon him. 14. This is the law of the man that dieth in a tabernacle: Al that enter into his tent, and al the vessels that are there, shal be polluted seuen daies. 15. The vessel, that hath no couer, nor bynding ouer it, shal be vncleane. 16. If any man in the field touch the corps of a man that was slaine, or that died of himself, or his bone, or graue, he shal be vncleane seuen daies. 17. And they shal take of the ashes of combustion & of sinne, & shal powre liuing water vpon them into a vessel: 18. in the which when a man that is cleane hath dipped hyssop, he shal sprinkle therwith al the tent, and al the implements, and the men polluted with such contagion, 19. and in this manner he that is cleane shal purge the vncleane the third and seuenth day. And being expiated the seuenth day, he shal wash both himself and his garments, and be vncleane vntil euen. 20. If anie man be not expiated after this rite, his soule shal perih out of the middes of the Church: because he hath polluted the Lordes Sanctuarie, and is not sprinkled with water of lustration. 21. This precept shal be an ordinance for euer. He also that sprinkleth the waters, shal wash his garments: Euerie one that toucheth the waters of expiation, shal be vncleane vntil euen. 22. Whatsoeuer he toucheth that is vncleane, he shal make it vncleane: and the soule that toucheth anie of these things, shal be vncleane vntil euen.

C H A P. XX.

Marie the sister of Moyses dieth. 2. The people murmur for lack of water. 7. Moyses and Aaron being commanded to draw some out of a rock, doe it doubtfully: 12. and for the same are foretold that they shal die in the desert. 14. Not obtaining licence to passe through Edom, 22. they come into Mount Hor, where Eleazar is ordained High-Priest, Aaron dieth, and is mourned by the people thirtie daies.

AND the children of Israel, and al the multitude came in to the desert Sin, the first month: and the people abode in Cades. And Marie died there; and was buried in the same place. 2. And when the people lacked water, they came together against Moyses and Aaron: 3. and being turned into sedition, said: Would God we had perished among our brethren before our Lord. 4. Why haue you brought forth the Church of our Lord into the wiidernesse, that both we and our cattel should die? 5. Why did you make vs ascend out of Egypt, and haue brought vs into this exceeding naughtie place, which can not be sowed, which bringeth forth neither fig, nor vines, nor pomegranates, mercouer also hath no water for to drinke? 6. And Moyses and Aaron, the multitude being dismissed, entring into the tabernacle of couenant, fel flat vpon the ground, and cried to our Lord, and said: Lord God heare the crie of this people, and open vnto them thy treasure the fountaine of liuing water, that being satisfied, their murmuring may cease. And the glorie of our Lord appeared ouer them. 7. And our Lord spake to Moyses, saying: 8. Take the rod, and assemble the people together, thou and Aaron thy brother, and speake to (a) the rocke before them, and it shal giue waters. And when thou hast brought forth water out of the rocke, al the multitude shal drinke and their cattel. 9. Moyses therefore tooke the rod, which was in the sight of our Lord, as he commanded him, 10. the multitude being assembled before the rocke, and he said to them: Heare ye rebellious & incredulous: Can we out of this rocke bring you forth water? 11. And when Moyses had lifted vp his hand striking the rocke (b) twice with the rod, there came forth great plentie of water, so that the people drunke and their cattel. 12. And our Lord said to Moyses and Aaron: Because (c) you haue not believed me, to sanctifie me before the children of Israel, you shal not bring in these peoples into the land, which I wil giue them. 13. This is the water of contradiçtion, where the children of Israel quarelled against our Lord, and he was sanctified in them. 14. In the meane time Moyses sent messengers from Cades to

The Epistle on
on friday in the third week of Lent.

(a) The rock signified Christ, the rod his Crosse. S. Aug.
9.35. in Num.

(b) By this the crosse is more evidently signified, which was made of two pieces of wood.
S. Aug. ibidem.

(c) Not doubting of Gods
powre, but supposing it vnmeet, that God should stil worke miracles for so stubborn a people, they did not speake to the rock, as they were commanded, but chiding the incredulous multitude, spake to them ambiguously, & so by occasion of others sinne, also offended, & for the same were punished.

See Deut. 1, v. 7.
37. 16. & 4, v.
21. S. Aug. 9. 9.
Theod. 9. 38. in
Num.

the King of Edom, which should say : Thus thy brother Israel bid-deth vs to say : Thou knowest al the labour, that hath taken vs, 15. in what manner our fathers went downe into Ægypt, and there we dwelt a great time, and the Ægyptians afflicted vs, and our fathers : 16. and in what manner we cried to our Lord, and he heard vs, and sent an Angel, that hath brought vs out of Ægypt. Loe being presently in the citic of Cades, which is in thy vttermost borders, 17. we beseech thee that we may haue licence to passe through thy cuntry. We wil not goe through the fields, nor through the vineyards, we wil not drinke the waters of thy welles, but we wil goe the common high way, declining neither to the right hand, nor to the left, til we be past thy borders. 18. To whom Edom answered : Thou shalt not passe by me, otherwise I wil come armed against thee. 19. And the children of Israel said : We wil goe by the beaten way : and if we and the cattel drinke thy waters, we wil giue thee that which is iust : there shal be no difficultie in the price, only let vs passe speedily. 20. But he answered : Thou shalt not passe : And immediately he came forth to meet them with an infinite multitude, and a strong hand, 21. neither would he condescend to them desiring to grant them passage through his borders. For the which cause Israel turned an other way from him. 22. And when they had remoued the campe from Cades, they came into the mountaine Hor, which is in the borders of the land of Edom : 23. Where our Lord spake to Moyse : 24. Let Aaron, sayth he, goe to his people : for he shal not enter to the Land, which I haue giuen the children of Israel, for that he was incredulous to my mouth, at the Waters of contradiction. 25. Take Aaron and his sonne with him, and thou shalt bring them into the mountaine Hor. 26. And when thou hast vneasted the father of his vesture, thou shalt reuest therewith Eleazar his sonne :
Aaron shal be gathered, and die there. 27. Moyse did as our Lord had commanded : and they went vp into the mountaine Hor before al the multitude. 28. And when he had spoyled Aaron of his vestiments, he reuested Eleazar his sonne with them. 29. After that he was dead in the top of the mountaine, he went downe with Eleazar. 30. And al the multitude seeing that Aaron was dead, mourned vpon him thirtie daies throughout al their families.

C H A P. XXI.

Israelites at the first encounter with the Cananeites hauing the worse, after their vow kil the King of Arad, and destroy his cities. 4. The people againe murmuring are stricken with fire serpents, 7. but confessing their fault, Moyses by Gods commandment setteth vp a brasen serpent for a remedie. 10. They march through diuers places, 17. and sing a Canticle at a well which God gaue them. 21. They kil Schon King of the Amorreites, and conquer his land. 33. Likwise Og King of Basan.

WHICH when the Chanancite King of Arad, who dwelt toward the south, had heard, to wit, that Israel was come by the way of the spics, he fought against them, and being victour, he tooke the prey of them. 2. But Israel binding himself by vow to our Lord, said: If thou wilt deliuer this people into my hand, I wil destroy their cities. 3. And our Lord heard the prayers of Israel, and deliuered the Chanancite, whom they slew ouerthrowing his cities: and they called the name of that place Horma, that is to say, Anathema. 4. And they marched also frō the mountaine Hor, by the way that leadeth to the Red sea, that they might compasse the land of Edom. And the people began to be wearie of the journey and labour: 5. and speaking against God and Moyses, they said: Why didst thou bring vs out of Ægypt, to die in the wüderness? There wanteth bread, waters there are none: our soule now loatheth at this most light meate. 6. Wherefore our Lord sent vpon the people fire serpents, at whose plagues and the deaths of verie manie, 7. they came to Moyses, and said: We haue sinned, because we haue spoken against our Lord and thee: Pray that he take from vs the serpents. And Moyses prayed for the people, 8. and our Lord spake to him: (a) Make a brasen serpent, and set it for a signe: he that being stricken looketh on it, shall liue. 9. Moyses therfore made (e) A BRASEN SERPENT, and set it for a signe: whom when they that were stricken looked on, they were healed. 10. And the children of Israel marching camped in Oboth. 11. Whence departing they pitched their tents in Ieaberim, in the wilder-ness, that looketh toward Moab against the east part. 12. And remouing from thence, they came to the Torrent Zared. 13. Which they forsaking camped against Arrō, which is in the desert, & standeth out in the borders of the Amorrhite. For Arnon is the border of Moab, diuiding the Moabites & the Amorrhites. 14. Wherof it is said in the booke of

(d) God forbidding images of idols, yet com-mandeth to make an image for a good purpose.
(e) Christ expoundeth this erecting of the brasen serpēt, of himself to be crucified.

(f) As the Egyptians were drowned in the sea, so the Amorrhites were oppressed by the rocks falling upon them, & the waters carried their carcases into the valley of Moab.

the warres of our Lord: (f) As he did in the Red sea, so wil he doe in the streames of Arnon. 15. The rockes of the torrents were bowled, that they might rest in Ar, and lie in the borders of the Moabites. 16. From that place appeared the wel, wherof our Lord spake to Moyses: Gather the people together, and I wil giue them water. 17. Then Israel sang this verse: Arise the wel. They sang therto: 18. The wel, which the Princes digged, & the Captaines of the multitude prepared in the lawgiuer, and in their staues. And they marched from the wildernesse to Mathana. 19. From Mathana vnto Nahaliel: from Nahaliel vnto Bamoth. 20. From Bamoth is a valley in the countrie of Moab, in the top of Phasga, which looketh toward the desert. 21. And Israel sent messengers to Schon King of the Amorrhites, saying: 22. I beseech thee that I may haue licence to passe through thy land: we wil not goe aside into the fields and the vineyards, we wil not drinke waters of the welles, we wil goe the Kings high way, til we be past thy borders. 23. Who would not grant that Israel should passe by his borders: but rather gathering an armie, went forth to meet them in the desert, and came vnto Iasa, and fought against them. 24. Of whom he was stricken in the edge of the sword, and his land was possessed from Arnon vnto Ieboc, and to the children of Ammon: for the borders of the Ammonites were kept with a strong garrison. 25. Israel therefore tooke al his cities, and dwelt in the cities of the Amorrhite, to wit, in Hesebon, and the villages therof. 26. The citie Hesebon was Schon the King of the Amorrhite, who fought against the King of Moab: and tooke al the land, that had been of his dominion, as farre as Arnon. 27. Therefore it is said in the prouerbe: Come into Hesebon, let the citie of Schon be built and erected: 28. A fire went forth from Hesebon, a flame from the towne of Schon, & deuoured Ar of the Moabites, and the inhabitants of the high places of Arnon. 29. Woe to thee Moab, thou art vndone people of Chamos. He hath giuen his sonnes into flight, and his daughters into captiuitie to Schon the King of the Amorrhites. 30. Their yoke is perished from Hesebon vnto Dibon, they came wearie into Nophe, and vnto Medaba. 31. Israel therefore dwelt in the Land of the Amorrhite. 32. And Moyses sent some to take a view of Iazer: Whose villages they tooke, and possessed the inhabitants. 33. And they turned themselues, and went vp by the way of Basan, and Og the King of Basan came against them with al his people, to fight in Edrai. 34. And our Lord said to Moyses: Feare him not, for into thy hand I haue deliuered him, and al his people, and land: and thou shalt doe to him as thou didst to Schon the King of the Amorrhites, the inhabiter of Hesebon. 35. They therefore smote him him also with his sonnes, and al his people vnto vtter destruction, and they possessed his land.

C H A P. XXII.

Balac King of Moab fearing the Israelites, sendeth for Balaam a Southsayer to curse them. 8. Who consulting his false God, is forbid by God Almighty to goe, and so excuseth himself. 15. Balac sendeth againe offering greater reward, 19. he againe consulteth, and God biddeth him goe. 22. But sendeth an Angel to meet him in the way, whom his asse seeing, hunned three times, and so often he beatech her, 28. then she speaketh, expostulating his hard vsage: 31. he also seeth the Angel, 35. and is charged to speake nothing but that the Angel shal suggest.

AND marching forward they camped in the champion cuntry of Moab, where Iericho is situated beyond Jordan. 2. And Balac the sonne of Sephor seeing al things that Israel had done to the Amorrhite, 3. and that the Moabites were in great feare of him, and could not susteyne his assault, 4. he said to the elders of Madian: So wil this people destroy al that dwel in our coasts, as the ox is wont to eate the grasse vnto the verie roots. And he was at the same time King in Moab. 5. He sent therefore messengers to Balaam the sonne of Beor a Southsayer, who dwelt vpon the riuer of the land of the children of Ammon, to cal him, and to say: Behold a people is come out of Ægypt, that hath couered the face of the earth, sitting against me. 6. Come therefore, and curse this people, because it is mightier then I: if by any meanes I may strike them and cast them out of my land. for I know that he is blessed whom thou shalt blesse, and cursed vpon whom thou shalt heape curses. 7. And the ancients of Moab went, and the elders of Madian, hauing the price of diuination in their hands. And when they were come to Balaam, and had told him al the words of Balac: 8. he answered: Tarie here this night, and I wil answer whatsoeuer (a) the Lord shal say to me. And whiles they staid with Balaam, (b) God came, and said to him: 9. What would these men that are with thee? 10. He answered: Balac the sonne of Sephor King of the Moabites hath sent to me, 11. saying: Behold a people that is come out of Ægypt, hath couered the face of the land: come, and curse them, if by any meanes fighting I may driue them away. 12. And God said to Balaam: Goe not with them, neither doe thou curse the people: because it is blessed. 13. Who in the morning arising said to the Princes: Goe into your cuntry, because the Lord hath forbid me to come with you. 14. The Princes returning, said to Balac: Balaam would not come with vs. 15. Againe he sent many moe and more noble, then he had sent before. 16. Who when they were come to Balaam, said: Thus sayth Balac the sonne of

(a) He consulted his false, God whom he serued, and called him the Lord, not knowing our Lord God Almighty.

Theoderet. 9. 40. Procopius. in Num.

(b) God our Lord answered him, not suffering the diuel to speake in this case.

(c) Being sufficiently informed before, for worldlie lucre he demandeth againe, & God for his punishment letteth him goe: but suffereth him not to curse, nor speake euill of the Israelites, but contrariwise to propheticke much good which should come vnto them.

(d) Nothing is here to be more merited (saith S. Aug.) then that he was not a raide when he heard his asse speake vnto him. But being accustomed to such monstrous things he replied familiarly, nothing therewith astonished.

(e) Yet seeing an Angel, he telldowne terrified, & adored him. 7. 48. in N.

(f) Balaam knowing him to be an Angel that appeared, neither adored him with diuine honour as God, nor with ciuill as a mortal man, but with religious honour, lesse then diuine, & more then ciuill. See Exod. 20.

(g) God some-

Sephor: Slacke not to come to me: 17. for I am readie to honour thee, and whatsoeuer thou wilt I wil giue thee: Come, and curse this people. 18. Balaam answered: If Balac would giue me his house full of siluer and gold, I can not change the word of the Lord my God, to speake either more, or lesse. 19. I beseech you that you wil also tarie here this night, and I may know what the Lord wil answer me (c) once more. 20. God therefore came to Balaam in the night, and said to him: If these men be come to cal thee, arise and goe with them: yet so, that thou doe that which I shall command thee. 21. Balaam arose in the morning, and saddling his asse went with them. 22. And God was angrie. And an Angel of our Lord stood in the way against Balaam, who satte vpon the asse, and had two seruants with him. 23. The asse seeing the Angel standing in the way, with a drawen sword, turned her self out of the way, and went by the field. Whom when Balaam had beat, and had brought her againe to the beaten way, 24. the Angel stood in the streits of two walles, wherwith vineyards were inclosed. 25. Whom the asse seeing, ioyned her selfe close to the wal, and brused the foot of him that rid. But he beat her againe: 26. and neuerthlesse the Angel passing to a narrow place, where there could be no going aside neither to the right hand nor to the left, stood to meet him. 27. And when the asse had seen the Angel standing, she fel vnder the feet of the rider. Who being angrie, beat her sides with a staffe more vehemently. 28. And our Lord opened the mouth of the asse, and she spake: What haue I done to thee? why strikest thou me, loe now the third time? 29. Balaam (d) answered: Because thou hast deserued, and hast abused me: I would I had a sword, that I might kil thee. 30. The asse said: Am not I thy beast, on which thou hast been alwayes accustomed to ride vntil this present day? tel me what like thing did I euer to thee. But he said: Neuer. 31. Forthwith our Lord opened the eyes of Balaam, and he (e) saw the Angel standing in the way with a drawen sword, and he (f) adored him flat to the ground. 32. To whom the Angel said: Why beatest thou thy asse the third time? I am come to withstand thee, because thy way is peruerse, and contrarie to me: 33. and vnlesse the asse had turned out of the way, giuing place to me resisting thee, I had slaine thee, and she should haue liued. 34. Balaam said: I haue sinned, not knowing that thou didst stand against me: and now if it displease thee that I goe, I wil returne. 35. The Angel said: (g) Goe with these men, and see thou speake no other thing then I shall command thee. He went therefore with the Princes. 36. Which when Balac heard, he came forth to meet him in a towne of the Moabites, that is situated in the vtermost borders of Arnon. 37. And he said to Balaam: I sent messengers to cal thee, why didst thou not come immediately vnto me? was it because I can not reward thy coming? 38. To whom he answered: Loe here I am: Shall I be able to speake any other thing, but that which God shall put in my mouth. 39. They therefore went on together, and came into a citie, that was in the vttermost borders of his Kingdome. 40. And when Balac had killed oxen, and sheep, he sent therof to Balaam, and to the Princes that were with him, presents. 31. And when morning was come, he brought him to the excelses of Baal, and he beheld the vttermost part of the people.

C H A P. XXIII.

Balaam endeauoureth to curse Israel, but God forceth him to blesse them. 11. Againe he vrgeth him to curse them, but he stil prophecieth good things of them. 26. Yet Balac insisteth willing him to curse, or not to blesse them.

AND Balaam said to Balac: (a) Build me here seuen altars, and prepare as manie calues, and rammes of the same number. 2. And when he had done according to the word of Balaam, they together laid a calfe and a ramme vpon an altar. 3. And Balaam said to Balac: Stand a while beside thy holocaust, vntil I goe, if happely the Lord wil meet me, and whatsoeuer he shal command, I wil speake to thee. 4. And when he was gone in hast, God met him. And Balaam speaking to him, said: I haue created seuen altars, and haue laid thereon a calfe and a ramme. 5. And our Lord put a word in his mouth, and said: Returne to Balac, and thus shalt thou speake. 6. Returning he found Balac standing beside his holocaust, and al the Princes of the Moabites: 7. and taking vp his parable, he said: From Aram hath Balac King of the Moabites brought me, from the mountaines of the East: Come, quoth he, and curse Iacob: make hast, and detest Israel. 8. How shal I curse, whom God hath not cursed? By what meanes may I detest, whom the Lord detesteth not? 9. From the highest flints shal I see him, and from the hills shal I view him. The people shal dwel alone, and among the Gentiles shal not be accounted. 10. Who may be able the number the dust of Iacob, and to know the number of the stock of Israel? (b) My soule die the death of the iust, and my last ends be made like to them. 11. And Balac said to Balaam: What is this that thou doest? That thou shouldest curse mine enemies I called thee: and thou contrarie wise blessest them. 12. To whom he answered: Can I speake ought els, but that which the Lord commandeth? 13. Balac therefore said: Come with me into an other place whence thou mayest see part of Israel, and canst not see the whole, from thence curse them. 14. And when he had brought him into a high place, vpon the top of the mountaine Phasga, Balaam builded seuen altars, and laying thereon calues and rammes, 15. he said to Balac: Stand here beside thy holocaust, whiles times maketh false Prophets to vtter a truth, because preiudicate minds doe rather giue care to such, than to true Prophets. Theodo. q. 45. in Num.

(a) Before the diuel would curse Gods people he required sacrifice which being offered yet he could not worke his malice. For by Gods commandemēt (saith S. Hierom de mans. 42.) Israel is blesed, cursing turned into praise, & Gods voice is heard sounding from a profane mouth.

(b) Heretikes, & other infidels desire sometimes to die in state of Catholikes, though they wil not liue as they doe. S. Greg. l. 13. c. 27. Moral.

I goe to meete him. 16. Whom when our Lord had met, and had put the word in his mouth, he said: Returne to Balac and thus thou shalt speake to him. 17. Returning he found him standing beside his holocaust, and the Princes of the Moabites with him. To whom Balac said: What hath the Lord spoken? 18. But he taking vp his parable, said: Stand Balac, and hearken, heare thou sonne of Sephor: 19. God is not as man, that he may lie, nor as the sonne of man, that he may be changed. Hath he said then, and wil he not doe? hath he spoken, and wil he not fulfil? 20. I was brought to blesse, the blessing I am not able to stay. 21. There is no Idol in Iacob, neither is there * simulachre to be seen in Israel. The Lord his God is with him, and the sound of the victorie of the King in him. 22. God hath brought him out of Ægypt, whose strength is like to the vnicorne. 23. There is no Southsaying in Iacob, nor diuination in Israel. In their times it shal be said to Iacob and Israel what God hath wrought. 24. Behold the people shal rise vp as a lionesse and as a lion shal raise it self: It shal not lie downe til it deuour the prey, and drinke the blood of the slaine. 25. And Balac said to Balaam: (c) neither curse, nor blesse him. 26. And he said: Did I not tel thee, that whatsoeuer God should command me, that would I doe? 27. And Balac said to him: Come, and I wil bring thee to an other place: if happily it please God that thence thou mayst curse them. 28. And when he had brought him vpon the top of the mountaine Phogor, which looketh to the wildernesse, 29. Balaam said to him: Build me here seuen altars, and prepare as manie calues, and rammes of the same number. 30. Balac did as Balaam had said: and he laid the calues and the rammes on euerie altar.

* Likenes of Idol.

(c) When Infidels can not draw others to false worship, or cursing, they are content that men professe no God nor religion at al.

C H A P. XXIIII.

Balaam forced by the euidence of truth (though not conuerted in wil to serue God, whom he confesseth to be omnipotent) prophesieth stil more good of Israel: 10. wherfore Balac interrupteth him, and he answereth plainly that God Almighty wil haue it so. 15. And so proceeding he prophesieth of CHRIST. 20. Also of Amalachettes, Cineites, and Itahans.

AND when Balaam had seen that it pleased our Lord that he should blesse Israel, he went not as before he had gone, to seeke Southsaying: but directing his countenance against the desert, 2. and lifting vp his eyes, he saw Israel abiding in their tents by their tribes: and the spirit of God coming (a) vehemently vpon him, 3. taking vp his parable he said: Balaam the sonne of Beor hath said: The man hath said whose eye is stopped: 4. The hearer of the words of God hath said, he that hath beholden the vision of the Omnipotent, he that falleth, and so his eyes are opened: 5. How beautiful are thy tabernacles, o Jacob, and thy tents, o Israel! 6. As wood-die valleyes, as watered gardens beside the riuers, as tabernacles which the Lord hath pitched, as cedres by the waters side. 7. Water shal flow out of his bucket, and his seed shal be into manie waters. For Agag shal his King be taken away, and his Kingdom shal be taken away. 8. God hath brought him out of Ægypt, whose strength is like to the Rhinocerot. They shal deuour nations his enimies, and breake their bones, and pearce them with arrowes. 9. Lying he hath slept as a lion, and as a lionesse, whom none shal be bold to rayse vp. He that blesseth thee, himself also shal be blessed: he that curseth thee, shal be reputed accurst. 10. And Balac being angrie against Balaam, clapping his hands together said: To curse mine enemies I called thee, whom thou contrariwise hast blessed the third time: 11. returne to thy place. I was determined verily to honour thee magnifically, but the Lord hath depriued thee of the honour appointed. 12. Balaam made answer to Balac: did I not say to thy messengers, whom thou didst send to me: 13. If Balac would giue me his house ful of siluer and gold, I can not passe the word of the Lord my God, to vtter of my owne mind either any good, or euil: but whatsoeuer the Lord shal say, that wil I speake: 14. But yet going to my people, I wil giue thee counsel, what thy people shal doe to this people in the last time. 15. Therefore taking vp his parable, againe he said: Balaam the sonne of Beor hath said: The man whose eye is stopped, hath said: 16. the hearer of the words of God hath said, who knoweth the doctrine of the Highest, and seeth the visions of the Omnipotent, who falling hath his eyes opened: 17. I shal see him, but not now: I shal behold him but not neer. (b) A S T A R R E S H A L R I S E out of Iacob, and a rod shal arise from Israel: and shal strike the Dukes of Moab, and shal waist al the children of Seth. 18. And Idumea shal be his possession: the inheritance of Scir shal come to their enemies: but Israel shal doe manfully. 19. Of Iacob shal he be that shal rule, and shal destroy the remaines of the citie. 20. And when he had seen Amalec, taking vp his parable, he said: Amalec the beginning of Gentiles, whose later ends shal be destroyed. 21. He saw also the Cincite: and taking vp his parable, he said: Thy habitation indeed is strong: but if thou build thy nest in a rock, 22. and thou be chosen of the stock of Cin, how long shalt thou be able to conteneue: For Assur shal take thee. 23. And taking vp his parable againe he spake: Alas, who shal liue, when God shal doe these things: 24. They shal come in galleies from Italie, they shal ouercome the Assyrians, and shal waist the Hebrewes, and at the last themselues also shal perishi. 25. And Balaam rose, and returned into (c) his place: Balac also returned the way that he came.

(a) The spirit of prophetic came more words

upon him, but not grace iustifying: Manie doe prophesie, & cast out diuels, and worke other miracles, and yet be dāned. Mat. 7. v. 22.

(b) In some sort this prophesie was fulfilled in King David. 2. Reg. 5. 8. & seq. but perfectly in Christ the bright & morning starre.

Apoc. 22. To whom not anie one, or manie, but in general al nations are giuen for inheritance, & the end of the world in possession. Psal. 2. Act. 1. v. 8.

(c) Not to his cuntry, but to his place of abode among the Madianites: for there he was slaine shortly after. chap. 31 v. 8.

C H A P. XXV.

By carnal fornication manie are drawn to spiritual. For which twentie foure thousand are slaine. 10. Phinees his zeale in stabbing to death two fornicatours is commended by God, and rewarded.

a) Balaam gaue this diuelliſh counſel to allure men by belli-chere & lecherie vnto idolatrie. chap. 31. v. 16. And euen ſo Heretikes draw manie in theſe daies to heretic. See Apoc. 2. v. 14.
 (b) By aſſiſtance of the Princes hang the idolaters. v. 5.
 (c) Either Phinees was one of the Iudges, and ſo an example for ſuch Magiſtrates to doe iuſtice; or he had a particular inſpiration, which is no warrant for priuate men to doe the like. For by Catholike doctrine, killing of men is neither allowed, nor excuſed, but when it is done by publike authoritie, or by mere caſualitie, againſt the killers wil. Caſechiſ. Rom. p. 1. c. 6. q. 5. D. Tho. 2. 2. q. 60. a. 6.

AND Israel at that time abode in Setim, and the people (a) fornicated with the daughters of Moab, 2. who called them to their sacrifices. And they did eate and adore their Gods. 3. And Israel was professed to Beelphegor, and our Lord being angrie, 4. said to Moyſes: Take al the Princes of the people, and hang (b) them vp against the sunne on gibbets: that my furie may be auerted from Israel. 5. And Moyſes said to the Iudges of Israel: Kill euerie man his neighbours, that are professed to Beelphegor. 6. And behold one of the children of Israel entred in before the face of his brethren to a whore a Madianite in the sight of Moyſes, and of al the multitude of the children of Israel, who wept before the doores of the tabernacle. 7. Which thing when Phinees had seen the sonne of Eleazar the sonne of Aaron the Priest, he arose out of the middes of the multitude, and catching a dagger 8. went in after the man of Israel into the brothel house, and thrust them through both together, to wit, the man and the woman in the genitals. And the plague ceased from the children of Israel, 9. and there were slaine foure and twentie thousand men. 10. And our Lord said to Moyſes: 11. Phinees the sonne of Eleazar the sonne of Aaron the Priest (c) hath auerted my wrath from the children of Israel: because he was moued with my zeale against them, that my self might not destroy the children of Israel in mine owne zeale. 12. Therefore speake to him: Behold I giue him the peace of my couenant, 13. and there ſhal be as wel to him as to his seed the couenant of priesthood for euer, because he hath been zelous for his God, and hath expiated the wicked fact of the children of Israel. 14. And the name of the man of Israel, that was slaine with the woman of Madian, was Zambri the sonne of Salu, a Prince of the kindred and tribe of Simeon. 15. Moreouer the Madianesse that was slaine with him, was called Cozbi the daughter of Sur a most noble Prince of the Madianites. 16. And our Lord spake to Moyſes, saying: 17. Let the Madianites find you their enemies, and strike you them: 18. Because they also haue done like enemies against you, and haue guilefully deceiued you by the Idol Phogor and Cozbi the daughter of the Duke of Madian their sister, who was stricken in the day of the plague for the sacrifice of Phogor.

C H A P.

C H A P. XXVI.

At the men of twelue tribes being againe numbred, from the age of twentie yeares and vpward, are found to be six hundred one thousand seven hundred and thirtie. 57. Of the tribe of Leui also, numbred of the male sex from the age of one month and vpward, are found twentie three thousand: 64. al being dead in the desert, which were numbred before, except Caleb and Iosue.

AFTER (a) the bloud of the offenders was shed, our Lord said to Moyfes and Eleazar the sonne of Aaron, the Priest: 2. Number the whole summe of the children of Israel from twentie yeares and vpward, by their houses and kinreds, al that can goe forth to warres. 3. Moyfes therefore & Eleazar the Priest spake, in the champion cuntry of Moab vpon Jordan against Iericho, to them that were 4. from twentie yeares and vpward, as our Lord had commanded, of whom this is the number: 5. Ruben the first borne of Israel, his sonne, Henoeh, of whom is the familie of the Henoehites: and Phallu, of whom is the familie of the Phalluites: 6. and Hefron, of whom is the familie of the Hefronites: and Charmi, of whom is the familie of the Charmites. 7. These are the families of the stocke of Ruben: whose number was found fourtie three thousand, and seven hundred thirtie 8. The sonne of Phallu, Eliab: 9. his sonnes, Namuel and Dathan and Abiron. These are Dathan and Abiron the Princes of the people, that rose against Moyfes and Aaron in the sedition of Core, when they rebelled against our Lord: 10. and the earth opening her mouth deuoured Core, verie manie dying, when the fire burnt two hundred fiftie men. And there was a great miracle done, 11. that Core perishing, (b) his sonnes perilled not. 12. The sonnes of Simeon by their kinreds: Namuel, of him is the familie of the Namuelites: Iamin, of him is the familie of the Iaminites: Iachin, of him is the familie of Iachinites: 13. Zare, of him is the familie of the Zareites: Saul, of him is the familie of the Saulites. 14. these are the families of the stocke of Simeon, of which the whole number was two and twentie thousand two hundred. 15. The sonnes of Gad by their kinreds: Sephon, of him is the familie of the Sephonites: Aggi, of him is the familie of the Aggites: Suni, of him is the familie of the Sunites: 16. Ozni, of him is the familie of the Oznites: Her, of him is the familie of the Herites: 17. Arod, of him is the familie of the Arodites: Ariel, of him is the familie of the Arielites. 18. These are the families of Gad, of which the whole number was fourtie thousand five

a) Gods wrath being pacified by extirpation of the old bad people, the new progenie is numbered which shall possesse the promised land. S. Hierom de Mans. 42. 20. 3.

(b) They were retained in the ayre, til the earth broken vnder them was closed againe.

hundred. 19. The sonnes of Iudas, Her, and Onan, who died both in the land of Chanaan. 20. And the sonnes of Iudas by their kinreds were: Sela, of whom is the familie of the Selaïtes: Phares, of whom is the familie of the Pharesïtes: Zare, of whom is the familie of the Zareïtes. 21. Moreouer the sonnes of Phares: Hefron, of whom is the familie of the Hefronïtes: and Hamul, of whom is the familie of the Hamulïtes. 22. these are the families of Iudas, of which the whole number was seueñtie six thousand five hundred. 23. The sonnes of Issacar, by their kinreds: Thola, of whom is the familie of the Tholaïtes: Phua, of whom is the familie of the Phuaïtes: 24. Iasub, of whom is the familie of the Iasubïtes: Samran, of whom is the familie of the Samranïtes. 25. these are the kinreds of Issachar, whose number was sixtie foure thousand three hundred. 26. The sonnes of Zabulon by their kinreds: Sared, of whom is the familie of the Saredïtes: Elon of whom is the familie of the Elonïtes: Ialel of whom is the familie of Ialelïtes. 27. These are the kinreds of Zabulon, whose number was sixtie thousand five hundred: 28. The sonnes of Ioseph by their kinreds, Manasses & Ephraim. 29. Of Manasses was borne Machir, of whom is the familie of the Machirïtes. Machir begat Galaad, of whom is the familie of the Galaadïtes. 30. Galaad had sonnes: Iezer, of whom is the familie of the Iezerïtes: & Helec, of whom is the familie of the Helecïtes: 31. and Asriel, of whom is the familie of the Asrielïtes: and Sechem, of whom is the familie of the Sechemïtes: 32. & Semida, of whom is the familie of the Semidaïtes: and Hopher, of whom is the familie of the Hopherïtes. 33. And Hopher was the father of Salphaad, who had no sonnes, but onlic daughters, whose names are these: Maala, and Noa, and Hegla, and Malcha, and Tersa. 34. these are the families of Manasses, & the number of them is fiftie two thousand seuen hundred. 35. And the sonnes of Ephraim by their kinreds were these: Suthala, of whom is the familie of the Suthalaïtes: Becher, of whom is the familie of the Becherïtes: Thehen, of whom is the familie of the Thehenïtes. 36. Moreouer the sone of Suthala was Heran, of whom is the familie of the Heranïtes. 37. these are the kinreds of the sonnes of Ephraim: whose number was thirtie two thousand five hundred. 38. These are the sones of Ioseph by their families. The sonnes of Benjamin in their kinreds: Bela, of whom is the familie of the Belaïtes: Asbel, of whom is the familie of the Asbelïtes: Ahiram, of whom is the familie of the Ahiramïtes: 39. Supham, of whom is the familie of the Suphamïtes: Hupham, of whom is the familie of the Huphamïtes. 40. The sonnes of Bela: Hered, and Noeman. Of Hered, the familie of the Heredïtes: of Noeman, the familie of the Noemanïtes. 41. These are the sonnes of Benjamin by their kinreds, whose number was fourtie five thousand six hundred. 42. The sonnes of Dan by their kinreds: Suham, of whom is the familie of the Suhamïtes: these are the kinreds of Dan by their families. 43. al were Suhamïtes, whose number was sixtie foure thousand foure hundred. 44. The sonnes of Afer by their kinreds : Iemna, of whom is the familie of the Iemnaïtes : Iessui, of whom is the familie of the Iessuites : Brie, of whom is the familie of the Bricites. 45. The sonnes of Brie : Heber, of whom is the familie of the Heberites : and Melchiel, of whom is the familie of the Melchielites. 46. And the name of the daughter of Afer, was Sara. 47. these are the kinreds of the sonnes of Afer, and their number fiftie three thousand foure hundred. 48. The sonnes of Nephthali by their kinreds : Iesiel, of whom is the familie of the Iesielites : Guni, of whom is the familie of the Gunites : 49. Ieser, of whom is the familie of the Ieserites : Sellem, of whom is the familie of the Sellemites. 50. these are kinreds of the sonnes of Nephthali by their families: whose number was fourtie five thousand foure hundred. 51. This is the summe of the children of Israel, that were reckned, six hundred thousand, and a thousand seuen hundred thirtie. 52. And our Lord spake to Moyse saying : 53. To these shal the land be diuided according to the number of names for their possessions. 54. To the greater number thou shalt giue a greater portion, and to the fewer a lesse : to euerie one, as they haue now been reckned, shal possession be deliuered : 55. yet so that lot doe diuide the Land to the tribes and the families. 56. Whatsoeuer shal chance by lot, that let either the more take, or the fewer. 57. This also is the number of the sonnes of Leui by their families : Gerson, of whom the familie of the Gersonites : Caath, of whom the familie of the Caathites : Merari, of whom the familie of the Merarites. 58. These are the families of Leui: The familie of Lobni, the familie of Hebroni, the familie of Moholi, the familie of Musi, the familie of Core. Howbeit Caath begat Amram : 59. who had to wife Iochabed (c) the daughter of Leui, who was borne to him in Ægypt. She bare to Amram her husband sonnes, Aaron and Moyse, and Marie their sister. 60. Of Aaron were borne Nadab and Abiu, and Eleazar and Ithamar: 61. of the which Nadab and Abiu died, when they had offered the strange fire before our Lord. 62. And al that were numbred were twentie three thousand of the male kind from one month and vpward : who were not reckned among the children of Israel, neither was their possession giuen with the rest. 63. This is the number of the children of Israel, that were enroled by Moyse and Eleazar the Priest, in the champion countrie of Moab vpon Iordan against Iericho. 64. Among whom there was none of them that were numbred before by Moyse and Aaron in the desert of Sinai. 65. For our Lord had foretold that al should die in the wildernesse. And none remained of them, but Caleb the sonne of Iephone, and Iosue the sonne of Nun.

(c) Amram married his aunt: which sheweth that the second degree in consanguinitie is not forbid by the law of nature; though it was after prohibited by a positie law. Leuit. 18.

C H A P. XXVII.

Salphaads daughters succeed to their fathers inheritance. 8. And the law is established that for lack of sonnes daughters shal inherite, and for lack also of daughters the next of kinne. 12. God commandeth Moyses to ascend into Mount Abarim, and thence view the promised Land, but fortelleth him that he shal die, and not goe into it. 15. He then prayeth God to prouide an other to lead the people, 18. and Iosue is designed in presence of Eleazar and the people.

AND there came the daughters of Salphaad, the sonne of Hopher, the sonne of Galaad, the sonne of Machir, the sonne of Manasses, who was the sonne of Ioseph: whose names are, Malaa, and Noa, and Hegla, and Melcha, and Therfa. 2. And they stood before Moyses and Eleazar the Priest, and al the Princes of the people at the doore of the tabernacle of couenant, and said: 3. Our father died in the desert, neither was he in the seditiō, that was raised against our Lord vnder Core, but he died in (a) his owne sinne: he had no men children. Why is his name taken away out of his familie, because he hath not a sonne? Giue vs possession among the kinne of our father. 4. And Moyses referred their cause to the iudgement of our Lord. 5. Who said to him: 6. The Daughters of Salphaad require a iust thing: giue them possession among their fathers kinne, and let them succeed him in the inheritance. 7. And to the children of Israel thou shalt speake these things: 8. When a man dieth without a sonne, his inheritance shal passe to his daughter. 9. If he haue no daughter, he shal haue his brethren his successours. 10. And if he haue no brethren neither, you shal giue the inheritance to his fathers brethren. 11. But if he haue no such vnclcs by the father neither, the inheritance shal be giuen to them that are the next of kinne: and this shal be to the children of Israel a holie ordinance by a perpetual law, as the Lord hath commanded Moyses. 12. Our Lord also said to Moyses: Goe vp into this mountaine Abarim, and view from thence the Land which I wil giue to the children of Israel: 13. and when thou shal haue seen it, thou also shalt goe to thy people, as thy brother Aaron is gone: 14. because you did offend me in the desert Sin in the contradiction of the multitude, neither would you sanctifie me before them vpon the waters. these are the waters of contradiction in Cades of the desert Sin. 15. To whom Moyses answered: 16. Our Lord, the God of the spirits of al flesh, prouide a man that may be ouer this multitude: 17. and may goe out and enter in before them, and bring them out, or bring them in: lest the people our Lord be as sheep without a (b) Pastour. 18. And our Lord said to him : Take Iosue the sonne of Nun, a man in whom is the Spirit, and put thy hand vpon him. 19. Who shal stand before Eleazar the Priest and al the multitude : 20. and thou shalt giue him precepts in the sight of al, and part of thy glorie, that al the synagogue of the children of Israel may heare him. 21. For him, if anie thing be to be done, Eleazar the Priest shal consult the Lord. At his word shal he goe out and shal goe in, and al the children of Israel with him, and the rest of the multitude. 22. Moyfes did as our Lord had commanded. And when he had taken Iosue, he set him before Eleazar the Priest, and al the assemblie of the people. 23. And imposing his hands on his head, he repeated al things that our Lord had commanded.

(a) For the general murmuring, wherof al the people, were guiltie. chap. 14. v. 29.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Special sacrifices are appointed for euerie day in the morning and euening. Likewise for euerie Sabbath day, 21. for the first day of euerie month, for Pasch, 26. and for Pentecost.

VR Lord also said to Moyfes : 2. Command the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them : My oblation and breads, and burnt sacrifice of most sweet odour offer ye (a) in their times. 3. These are the sacrifices which you must offer : Two lambes of a yeare old without blemish daily for (b) the euerlasting holocaust : 4. one you shal offer in the morning, and the other at euen : 5. the tenth part of an ephi of floure, which shal be tempered with the purest oile, and shal haue the fourth part of an hin. 6. It is the continual holocaust which you offered in Mount Sinai for a most sweet odour of the burnt sacrifice of the Lord. 7. and for a libament you shal offer of wine the fourth part of an hin for euerie lambe in the Sanctuarie of the Lord. 8. And the other lambe in like manner you shal offer at euen according to al the rite of the morning sacrifice, and of the libaments therof, an oblation of most sweet odour to the Lord. 9. And on the day of (c) the Sabbath, you shal offer two lambes of a yeare old without blemish, and two tenths of flowre tempered with oile in sacrifice, & the libaments, 10. which are ritely powdered euerie Sabbath for an euerlasting holocaust. 11. And in (d) the Caléds you shal offer an holocaust to the Lord, two calues of the heard, one ramme, seuen lambes of a yeare old without blemish, 12. and three tenths of flowre tempered with oile in sacrifice for euerie calfe : and two tenths of flowre tempered with oile to euerie ramme : 13. and the tenth part of a tenth of flowre tempered with oile in sacrifice to

(b) Temporal Princes are also Pastours, or shepherds of the people: but this made not Iosue supreme in spiritual causes. For it is cleare in the next lines that he had but part of Moyfes his glorie, or office: and that was to be temporal Prince, Eleazar being chief in causes spiritual, before whom and the multitude he was ordained Duke, but Eleazar consulted God for him, and directed his principal actions, called here his going out, & going in.

(a) Varietie of Sacrifices for diuers times.

1.
(b) Euerie day twice.

2.
(c) On the Sabbath day.

3.
(d) The Neomenia, or new moone.

4.
(e) Pasch, or Phase.

euerie lambe, it is an holocaust of most sweet odour and burnt sacrifice to the Lord. 14. And the libaments of wine, that are to be powred for euerie victime, shal be these: The halfe part of an hin for euerie calfe, the third to a ramme, the fourth to a lambe. this shal be the holocaust through al months that succeed one an other as the yeare turneth about. 15. A buck goate also shal be offered to the Lord for sinnes an euerlasting holocaust with his libaments. 16. And in the first month (e) the fourteenth day of the month shal be the Phase of the Lord, 17. and the fiftenth day the solemnitie: seuen daies shal they eate azymes. 18. Of the which the first day shal be venerable & holie: no seruile worke shal you doe therein. 19. And you shal offer burnt sacrifice an holocaust to the Lord, two calues of the heard, one ramme, seuen lambes of a yeare old without blemish: 20. and the sacrifice of euerie one of flowre which shal be tempered with oile, three tenths to euerie calfe, & two tenths to euerie ramme, 21. and the tenth part of a tenth to euerie lambe, that is to say, to the seuen lambs. 22. And one bucke goate for sinne, that expiatiō may be made for you, 23. beside the morning holocaust which you shal alwaies offer. 24. So shal you doe euerie day of the seuen daies for a food of the fire, & for a most sweet odour to the Lord, which shal rise of the holocaust, and of the libaments of euerie one. 25. The seuenth day also shal be most solemne and holie vnto you; no seruile worke shal you doe therein. 26. The day also of (f) first fruits when you shal offer new fruits to the Lord, after that the weeks be accomplished, shal be venerable and holie: no seruile worke shal you doe therein. 27. And you shal offer an holocaust for a most sweet odour to the Lord, two calues of the heard, one ramme, and seuen Lambs of a yeare old without blemish: 28. and in the sacrifices of them three tenths of flowre tempered with oile to euerie calfe, to euerie ramme two, 29. euerie lambe the tenth part of a tenth, which together are seuen lambs. a goate also 30. which is same for expiation: beside the euerlasting holocaust & the libaments therof. 31. Al inal you offer without blemish with their libaments.

5.
(f) Pentecost.

CHAP. XXIX.

In the seuenth month are celebrated with particular sacrifices the feasts of Trumpets, 7. of expiation, 12. of Tabernacles, 35. and of Assemble and Collection.

6.
(a) Feast of Trumpets,

HE (a) first day also of the seuenth month shal be venerable and holie vnto you, no seruile worke shal you doe therein, because it is the day of sounding and of trumpets. 2. And you shal offer an holocaust for a most sweet odour to the Lord, one calfe of the heard, one ramme, and seuen lambs of a yeare old without blemish: 3. and in their sacrifices

sices of floure tempered with oile three tenths to euerie calfe, two tenths to a ramme, 4. one tenth to a lambe, which together are seuen lambs: 5. and a bucke goate for sinne, which is offered for the expiation of the people, 6. besides the holocaust of the Calends with the sacrifices therof, and the euerlasting holocaust with the accustomed libaments. With the same ceremonies shal you offer burnt sacrifice for a most sweet odour to the Lord. 7. The (b) tenth day also of this seuenth month shal be holie and venerable vnto you, & you shal (c) afflict your soules: no seruile worke shal you doe therein. 8. And you shal offer an holocaust to the Lord for a most sweet odour, one calfe of the heard, one ramme, seuen Lambs of a yeare old without blemish: 9. and in their sacrifices of floure tempered with oile three tenths to euerie calfe, two tenths to the ramme, 10. the tenth part of a tenth to euerie lambe, which are in al seuen lambs: 11. and a bucke goate for sinne, besides these things that are wont to be offered for offence vnto expiation, and for the euerlasting holocaust with their sacrifice and libaments. 12. But the (d) fifteenth day of the seuenth month, which shal be vnto you holie and venerable, no seruile worke shal you doe therein, but you shal celebrate the solemnitie to the Lord seuen daies. 13. and you shal offer an holocaust for a most sweet odour to the Lord, calues of the heard thirteen, rammes two, lambs of a yeare old without blemish fourteen: 14. & in their libaments of flowre tempered with oile three tenths to euerie calfe, which are together thirteen calues: & two tenths to euerie ramme, that is, together to two rammes, 15. And the tenth part of a tenth to euerie lambe, which are together fourteen lambs: 16. and a buck goate for sinne, beside the euerlasting holocaust, & the sacrifice & the libament therof. 17. The next day you shal offer calues of the heard twelue, two rammes, lambs a yeare old without blemish fourteen: 18. and the sacrifices and libaments of euerie one to the calues and the rammes and the lambs you shal ritely celebrate: 19. and a bucke goate for sinne, beside the euerlasting holocaust, and the sacrifice and libament therof. 20. The third day you shal offer eleuen calues, two rammes, lambs of a yeare old without blemish fourteen: 21. and the sacrifices and the libaments of euerie one to the calues & the rammes and the lambs you shal ritely celebrate: 22. and a buck-goat for sinne, beside the euerlasting holocaust, and the sacrifice, and libament therof. 23. The fourth day you shal offer ten calues, two rammes, lambs a yeare old without blemish fourteen: 24. and the sacrifices and the libaments of euerie one to the calues and the rammes and the lambs you shal ritely celebrate: 25. and a buck-goat for sinne, beside the euerlasting holocaust, and the sacrifice therof and libament. 26. The fifth day you shal offer nine calues, two rammes, lambs of a yeare old without blemish fourteen: 27. and the sacrifices and the libaments of euerie one to the calues and the rammes and the lambs you shal ritely celebrate: 28. and a buck-goat for sinne, beside the euerlasting holocaust, and the sacrifices

7.
 (b) Feast of Expiation.
 (c) For remission of sinnes. the penitents did cooperate by penal workes of fasting & abstinēce, from euen vntil euen. Leuit. 23. u. 32. S. Aug. 9. 57. in Num: Theod. 2. 32. in Leuit. 3.
 (d) Feast of Tabernacles.

(e) Feast or Assembly and Collection.

therof and libament. 29. The sixt day you shal offer eight calues, two rammes, lambes of a yeare old without blemish fourteen: 30. & the sacrifices and the libaments of euerie one to the calues and the rammes & the lambes you shal ritely celebrate: 31. and a buck-goat for sinne, beside the euerlasting holocaust, and the sacrifice therof and libament. 32. The seuenth day you shal offer seuen calues, and two rammes, lambes of a yeare old without blemish fourteen: 33. and the sacrifices and the libaments of euerie one to the calues and the rammes and the lambes you shal ritely celebrate: 34. and a buke-goat for sinne, beside the euerlasting holocaust and the sacrifice therof and libament. 35. The (e) eight day, which is most solemne, no seruile worke you doe therein, 36. offering an holocaust for a most sweet odour to the Lord: one calfe, one ramme, lambes of a yeare old with out blemish seuen. 37. And the sacrifices and the libaments of euerie one to the calues and the rammes and the lambes you shal ritely celebrate: 38. and a buck-goat for sinne, besides the euerlasting holocaust, & the sacrifice therof and libament. 39. These things shal you offer to the Lord in your solemnities: besides your vowes and voluntarie oblations in holocaust, in sacrifice, in libament, and in pacifike hostes.

C H A P. X X X.

Voluntarie vowes or oathes of men; 14. of maides in their fathers houses, 7. or newly married; 10. of widowes, or wimes diuorced, 11. and of wimes in their husbands houses: and how they bind, or are made frustrate.

AND Moyses told the children of Israel all things that our Lord had commanded him: 2. and he spake to the Princes of the tribes of the children of Israel: This is the word that our Lord hath commanded: 3. If any man (a) make a vow to our Lord, or bind himself by an oath: he shal not make his word frustrate, but all that he promised he shal fulfil. 4. If a woman vow any thing, and bind her self with an oath, she that is in her fathers house, & as yet in maydens age: if her father know the vow that she promised, and the oath wherwith she bound her soule, and hold his peace, she shal be bound to the vow: 5. Whatsoeuer she promised and sware, she shal fulfil in deed. 6. But if immediately as he heareth it, her father doe gainsay it, both her vowes & her othes shal be frustrate, neither shal she be bound to the promise, for that her father hath gainsaid it. 7. If she haue a husband, and vow any thing, and the word once going out of her mouth bind her soule by an oath, 8. the day that her husband heareth it, and doth not gainsay it, she

(a) He that voweth abstinence from a thing lawfull, maketh it unlawful to himselfe by his vow. S. Aug. 9. 56. in Num.

she shall be bound to the vow, and shall render whatsoever she promised. 9. But if as soon as he heareth he gainsay it, and make her promises frustrate, and the words wherewith she had bound her soule, our Lord will be (b) propitious to her. 10. The widow, and she that is divorced, whatsoever they vow they shall render. 11. The wife in the house of her husband, when she hath bound her self by vow and by oath, 12. if her husband heare, and hold his peace, neither doe gainsay the promise, she shall render whatsoever she had promised. 13. But if forthwith he gainsay it, she shall not be holden bound to the promise: because her husband gainsaid it, and our Lord will be propitious to her. 14. If she vow and bind her selfe by oath, to (c) afflict her selfe by fasting, or abstinence from other things, it shall be in the arbitrement of her husband, whether she shall doe it, or not doe it. 15. And if the husband hearing it hold his peace, and differre sentence til an other day: whatsoever she had vowed and promised, she shall render: because immediately as he heard it, he held his peace, 16. but if he gainsay it after that he knew it, (d) himselfe shall beare her iniquitie. 17. These are the lawes, which our Lord appointed to Moyses between the husband and the wife, between the father and the daughter, that is as yet in maidens age, or that abideth in her fathers house.

(b) In this case God will not impute it to her for a sinne. S. Aug. 9. 58.

(c) By afflicting of the soule is here understood, restraining sensual delectation.

S. Aug. 9. 57. in Num.

(d) The husband reuoking his consent, once giuen by word or by silence to his wifes vow, sinned, but the wife was bound to obey him, & so was excused.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. XXX.

S. Aug.
9. 57. in
Num.

6. Shall be frustrate.] Vowes, which fathers and husbands could frustrate in their daughters and wifes, must needs be ment of things not commanded by God. For it was not in their power to dispence in Gods precepts. As for example, touching the feast of Expiation, it was not in the arbitrement of fathers and husbands (as here it was v. 14) whether their daughters and wifes should fast or no: but was absolutely said (Leuit. 23. v. 29.) Every soule that is not afflicted (that is, which fasteth not) this day, shall perish out of his people. And so in other precepts were necessarie obligations. Besides which it is grateful also to God, that his seruants bind themselues to other good workes, wherto they are not otherwise bound.

Vowes of things not commanded.

C H A P. XXXL

The Madianites are slaine in battle, for that they had drawne the people of israel to sinne. 11. The prey is brought to Moyfes, 14. who being angrie that the women (which were the occasion of sinne) are saued aloue, commandeth to kil al the male children, and al the women sauing only virgins. 19. The soldiers are purified, as also the prey, 26. & then diuided among the victours, and other people, taking out portions for the Leuites. 48. The Princes of the hoste giue free offerings to our Lord.

AND our Lord spake to Moyfes, saying: 2. Reuenge first the children of Israel on the Madianites, and so thou shalt be gathered to thy people. 3. And Moyfes forthwith said: Arme of you men to fight, which may take the reuenge of our Lord on the Madianites. 4. Let a thousand men of euerie tribe be chosen of Israel to be sent to the warre. 5. And they gaue a thousand of euerie tribe, that is to say, twelue thousand wel appointed to fight: 6. whom Moyfes sent with Phinees the sonne of Eleazar the Priest, and the holic vessels, and the trumpets to sound he deliuered to him. 7. And when they had fought against the Madianites and had ouercome, al the men they slew, 8. and their Kings Eui, and Recem, and Sur, and Hur, and Rebe, fise Princes of the Nation: (a) Belaam also the sonne of Beor they killed with the sword. 9. And they tooke their wiues, and litle ones, and al their goods: whatsoeuer they had been able to make, they spoiled: 10. as wel cities as townes and castels the fire did consume. 11. And they tooke the prey, and al things that they had taken as wel of men as of beasts, 12. and they brought them to Moyfes, and Eleazar the Priest, and to al the multitude of the children of Israel. but the rest of the implements they caried to the campe in the champion countries of Moab, beside Iordan against Iericho. 13. And Moyfes and Eleazar the Priest wēt forth, & al the Princes of the synagogue to meete them without the campe. 14. And Moyfes being angrie with the Princes of the hoste, the tribunes, and the centurions that were come from the battle, 15. said: Why haue you reserued the women? 16. Are not these they, that deceiued the children of Israel at the suggestion of Balaam, and made you preuaricate against our Lord vpon (b) the sinne of Phogor, whereupon also the people was stricken? 17. Therefore kil al whatsoeuer is of the male sexe, among (c) the litle ones also: & the women, that haue knowne men in carnal copulation, slea ye: 18. but the gyrls and al the women that are virgins reserue to you: 19. and tarry without the campe seuen daies.

(a) With who he sinned, with them he was also iustly punished.

(b) These women bringing images of Beelphegor, caused the Israelites to offer sacrifice to him, before they should commit fornication with them.

(c) In more detestation of the parents sinne, God commanded to kil these children. & so they were prevented, frō committing the like crimes. But ordinarily women & children ought not to be slaine after the victorie. Deut. 20. v.

He that hath killed a man , or touched him that is killed , shal be expiated the third day and the seuenth. 20. And of al the prey , whether it be garment , or vessel , and some thing prepared for implements , of goats skinned , and haire , and wood shal be expiated. 21. Eleazar also the Priest spake to the hoste , that had fought in this maner : This is the precept of the law , which our Lord hath commanded Moyse : 22. Gold , and siluer , and brasse , and yron , and leade , 23. and al that may passe through the fire , shal be purged by fire , but whatsoever can not abide the fire , shal be sanctified with the water of expiation : 24. and you shal wash your garments the seuenth day , and being purified , afterward you shal enter into the campe. 25. And our Lord said to Moyse : 26. Take the summe of those things that were taken , from man vnto beast , thou and Eleazar the Priest and the Princes of the multitude : 27. and thou shalt diuide the prey equally between them , that fought & went forth to the warre , and between the rest of the multitude : 28. and thou shalt separate a portion to the Lord from them that fought and were in the battle , one soule of five hundred as wel of mankind as of oxen and asses and sheep , 29. and thou shalt giue it to Eleazar the Priest , because they are the first fruits of the Lord. 30. Out of the halfe part also of the children of Israel thou shalt take the fiftith head of mankind , and of oxen , and asses , and sheep , and of al beasts , and thou shalt giue them to the Leuites , that watch in the custodies of the tabernacle of the Lord. 31. And Moyse and Eleazar did , as our Lord commanded. 32. And the prey which the hoste had taken , was of sheep six hundred seuentie five thousand , 33. of oxen seuentie two thousand , 34. of asses sixtie one thousand. 35. The soules of the folkes of the female sexe , that had not knowen men , thirtie two thousand. 36. And the halfe part was giuen to them , that had been in the battle , of sheep three hundred thirtie seuen thousand five hundred : 37. of the which for the portion of our Lord were reckned sheep six hundred seuentie five. 38. And of the thirtie six thousand oxen , oxen seuentie and two : 39. of the thirtie thousand five hundred asses , asses sixtie one : 40. of the soules of mankind sixteen thousand , there fel to the portion of our Lord thirtie two soules. 41. And Moyse deliuered the number of the first fruits of our Lord to Eleazar the Priest , as it had been commanded him , 42. of the halfe part of the children of Israel , which he had separated to them , that had been in the battle. 43. But of the halfe part that had chanced to the rest of the multitude , that is to say , of the three hundred thirtie seuen thousand five hundred sheep , 44. and of the thirtie six thousand oxen , 45. and of the thirtie thousand five hundred asses , 46. and of the sixteen thousand of mankind , 47. Moyse tooke the fiftith head , and gaue it to the Leuites , that watched in the tabernacle of our Lord , as our Lord had commanded. 48. And when the Princes of the hoste were come to Moyse , and the tribunes , and centurions , they said : 49. We thy seruants haue reckned the number of the warryers, which we had vnder our hand: and not so much as one verily was lacking. 50. For this cause we offer in the donaries of our Lord euerie one that which we could find in the prey of gold, garters and tablets, rings and bracelets, and cheynes, that thou maiest pray to our Lord for vs. 51. And Moyse and Eleazar the Priest receiued al the gold in diuerse formes, 52. in weight sixteen thousand seuen hundred fiftie sicles of the tribunes and of the centurions. 53. For that which euerie one had spoiled in the prey, was his owne. 54. And that which was receiued they brought into the tabernacle of testimonie, for a monument of the children of Israel before our Lord.

C H A P. XXXII.

The children of Ruben and Gad, demanding to haue inheritance on that side Iordan, where they yet are, 7. Moyse iustly rebuketh them; 16. yet vpon condition that they wil march first ouer Iordan, and remaine the first in battle, til the land be subdued to the children of Israel, 28. he granteth to them, and the halfe tribe of Manasses, that which they request.

AND the children of Ruben and Gad had much cattel, and they had in beasts an infinit substance. And when they had seen Iazer and Galaad fit countries for to feed cattel, 2. they came to Moyse and Eleazar the Priest, and the Princes of the multitude, and said: 3. Ataroth, and Dibon, and Iazer, and Nemra, Hefebon, and Eleale, and Sabam, and Nebo, and Beon, 4. the land, which our Lord smote in the sight of the children of Israel, is of a verie plentiful soile for the feeding of beasts: and we thy seruants haue very much cattel: 5. and we pray thee if we haue found grace before thee, that thou giue vs thy seruants the same in possession, and (a) make vs not passe ouer Iordan. 6. To whom Moyse answered: Why shal your brethren goe to fight, and wil you sit here? 7. Why subuert you the minds of the children of Israel, that they may not be bold to passe into the place, which our Lord wil giue them? 8. Did not your fathers so, when I sent from Cadesbarne to view the Land? 9. And when they were come as farre as the Valley of cluster, hauing viewed al the countrie, they subuerted the hart of the children of Israel, that they should not enter the coasts, which our Lord gaue them. 10. Who being wrath sware, saying: 11. If these men, that came vp out of Egypt, from twentie yeares and vpward, shal see the land, which vnder othe I promised to Abraham, Isaac, and Iacob: and they would not folow me, 12. except Caleb the sonne of Iephone the Cenezeite, and Iosue the sonne of Nun: these

(a) A right figure of those that would possesse heauē without labour or danger. But none shal be crowned unless he strine lawfully. 2: Tim. 2.

haue

haue fulfilled my wil. 13. And our Lord being wrath agaynst Israel, led him about through the desert fourtie yeares, vntil the whole generation was consumed, that had done euil in his sight. 14. And behold, quoth he, you are risen vp in stead of your fathers, the offspring and disciples of sinneful men, to augment the furie of our Lord agaynst Israel. 15. But if you wil not folow him, he wil leaue the people in the wildernesse, and you shal be the cause of the death of al. 16. But they comming neer, said: We wil make sheepcotes, and italles for our cattel, for our litle ones also fenced cities: 17. and we our selues armed and girded wil march on to battle before the children of Israel, vntil we bring them in vnto their places. Our litle ones and whatsoeuer we can haue, shal be in walled cities, because of the lying of wayt of the inhabitants. 18. We wil not returne into our houses, vntil the children of Israel possesse their inheritance: 19. neither wil we secke any thing beyond Iordan, because already we haue our possession on the east side therof. 20. To whō Moyses said: If you doe that you promise, march on wel appointed before our Lord to fight: 21. and let euerie man of warre passe ouer Iordan, vntil our Lord subuert his enemies, 22. and al the Land be subdued to him: then shal you be blamelesse before our Lord & before Israel, & you shal obeyne the countries that you would in the sight of our Lord. 23. But if you doe not that which you say, no man can doubt but you sinne against God: and know ye that your liene shal apprehend you. 24. Build therfore cities for your litle ones, and sheepcotes and italles for your sheep and cattel: and accompliish that which you haue promised. 25. And the children of Gad and Ruben said to Moyses: We are thy seruants, we wil doe that which our Lord cōmandeth. 26. We wil leaue our litle ones, and our wiues, and sheep, and cattel in the cities of Galaad: 27. and we thy seruants al wel appoynted wil march on to the warre, as thou my Lord speakest. 28. Moyses therfore commanded Eleazar the Priest, & Iosue the sonne of Nun, and the Princes of the families by the tribes of Israel, and he said to them: 29. If the children of Gad, and the children of Ruben passe with you ouer Iordan al armed to the warre before our Lord, and the Land be subdued to you: giue them Galaad in possession. 30. But if they wil not passe armed with you into the Land of Chanaan, let them take places to dwel in among you. 31. And the children of Gad, and the children of Ruben answered: As our Lord hath spoken to his seruants, so wil we doe: 32. our selues armed wil march before our Lord into the Land of Chanaan, and we confesse that we haue already receiued our possession beyond Iordan. 33. Moyses therfore gaue to the children of Gad and Ruben, and to the halfe tribe of Manasses the sonne of Ioseph, the Kingdome of Sehon King of the Amorrheite, and the Kingdome of Og King of Basan, and their land and the cities therof round about. 34. Therfore the sonnes of Gad built Dibon, and Ataroth, and Aroer, 35. and Etroth, and Sophan, and Iazar, and Iegbaa, 36. and Bethnemra, and Betharas, cities fenced, and sheepcotes for their sheep. 37. But the children of Ruben builded Hesebon, and Eleale, & Cariathaim, 38. and Nabo, and Baalmeon changing their names, Sabama also: giuing names to the cities, which they had built. 39. Moreover the children of Machir, the sonne of Manasses, went into Galaad, and wasted it killing the Amorrhite the inhabiter therof. 40. Moyfes therefore gaue the land of Galaad to Machir the sonne of Manasses, who dwelt in it. 41. And Iair the sonne of Manasses went, and tooke the villages therof, which he called Hauoth Iair, that is to say, the Villages of Iair. 42. Nobe also went, and tooke Canath with the villages therof: and he called it by his owne name Nobe.

C H A P. XXXIII.

The 42. mansions of the children of Israel between Ægypt & the Land of promise are recited. 50. They are commanded to kil all the inhabitants, to purge the land of idolatrie, and diuide it among them.

THESE are (a) the mansions of the children of Israel, that went out of Ægypt by their troupes in the hand of "Moyfes and Aaron, 2. which Moyfes described according to the places of the campe, which by our Lords commādmēt they changed. 3. The children of Israel therefore departing from Rameffes the first month, the fifteenth day of the first month, the morow after they made the Phase, in a mightie hand, al the Ægyptians seeing them, 4. & burying their first borne, which our Lord had stricken (yea and on their Gods also he had exercised vengeance) 5. they camped in Soccoth. 6. And from Soccoth they came into Etham, which is in the vttermost borders of the wildernesse. 7. Departing thence they came ouer against Phihahiroth, which looketh toward Beelsephon, and camped before Magdal. 8. And departing from Phihahiroth, they passed through the middes of the sea into the wildernesse: and walking three dayes through the desert Etham, they camped in Mara. 9. And departing from Mara, they came into Elim, where there were the twelue fountaines of waters, and the seuentie palme trees: and there they camped. 10. But departing thence also, they pitched their tentes vpon the Red sea. And departing from the Red sea, 11. they camped in the desert Sin. 12. From whence departing, they came into Daphca. 13. And departing from Daphca, they camped in Alus. 14. And departing from Alus, they pitched their tentes in Raphidim, where the people wanted water to drinke. 15. And departing from Raphidim, they camped in the desert of Sinai. 16. But departing also

(a) These remouings and camping places signifie by what degrees christians leauing sinnes & folowing Christ (our guide) may come to perfect pictie. S. Hierom de mans. 42. ad Fabiol.

from

from the desert Sinai, they came to the Sepulchres of concupiscence. 17. And departing from the Sepulchres of concupiscence, they camped in Haseeroth. 18. And from Haseeroth they came into Rethma. 19. And departing from Rethma, they camped in Remmonphares. 20. Whence departing they came into Lebna. 21. From Lebna they camped in Ressa. 22. And departing from Ressa, they came into Ceelathia. 23. Whence departing, they camped in the mountayne Sepher. 24. Departing from the mountayne Sepher, they came into Harada. 25. Thence departing, they camped in Maceloth. 26. And departing from Maceloth, they came into Thahath. 27. From Thahath they camped in Thare. 28. Whence departing, they pitched their tentes in Methca. 29. And from Methca they camped in Hefmona. 30. And departing from Hefmona, they came into Moseroth. 31. And from Moseroth they camped in Beneiaacan. 32. And departing from Beneiaacan, they came into the mount Gadgad. 33. Whence departing, they camped in Ietebatha. 34. And from Ietebatha they came into Hebrona. 35. And departing from Hebrona, they camped in Afiogaber. 36. Thence departing, they came into the desert Sin, this is Cades. 37. And departing from Cades, they camped in the mount Hor, in the vtermost borders of the Land of Edom. 38. And Aaron the Priest went vp into the mountayne Hor at the commandement of our Lord: and there he died the fourth year of the coming forth of the children of Israel out of Ægypt, the fifth month, the first day of the month, 39. when he was an hundred three and twentie yeares old. 40. And the Chananeite King of Arad, who dwelt toward the south, heard that the children of Israel were come into the Land of Chanaan. 41. And departing from the mountayne Hor, they camped in Salmona. 42. Whence departing, they came into Phunon. 43. And departing from Phunon, they camped in Oboth. 44. And from Oboth they came into Iieabarim, which is in the borders of the Moabites. 45. And departing from Iieabarim they pitched their tentes in Dibongad. 46. Whence departing, they camped in Helmondeblathaim. 47. And departing from Helmondeblathaim, they came to the mountaynes Abarim against Nabo. 48. And departing from the mountaynes Abarim, they passed to the champion countries of Moab, vpon Iordan, against Iericho. 49. And there they camped from Bethsimoth vnto Abeliatim in the plainer places of the Moabites, 50. where our Lord spake to Moyses: 51. Command the children of Israel, and say to them: When you shall haue passed Iordan, entring the Land of Chanaan, 52. destroy al the inhabitants of that Land: breake their titles, and burst to fitters their statues, and wast al their excises, 53. cleaning the Land, and dwelling in it. for I haue giuen it you in possession, 54. which you shall diuide among you by lot. To the more you shall giue the larger, and to the fewer the smaller. To euerie one as the lot shall fall, so shall the inheritance be giuen. By the tribes and the families the possession shall be diuided. 55. But (b) if you wil not kil the inhabitants of the Land : they that remaine , ihal be vnto you as it were nailes in your eyes , and speares in your sides , and they ihal be your aduerfaries in the Land of your habitation : 56. and whatfoeuer I had thought to doe to them , I wil doe to you.

(b) Danger to those that destroy not idolatry, and al enormous sinnes, which dwell in their soules before their conversion.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. XXXIII.

1. Moyfes and Aaron.) Moyfes by whom the Law was giuen , and Aaron in whom Priesthood was established , signified good workes , and the right worship of God. Of which (saith S. Hierom) each one needeth the other. For neither doth it profite thee to exercise vertues vnles thou knowest thy Creatour: nor the worshiping of God auaieth thee to saluation , vnles thou fulfil the precepts of thy Maker. By these two hands , as with two Seraphims we breake out into confession of the holie Trinitie , saying : holic , holic , holic , Lord God of hoasts. Epist. ad Fabiol. de 42. Mans.

C H A P. XXXIII.

The situation and limits of Chanaan , towards the South , the West , the North , and the East , 13. which must be diuided by lot among nine tribes and a halfe (the other two and a halfe hauing their parts ouer Iordan) 16. with the names of the persons that shal make the diuision.

AND our Lord spake to Moyfes , saying : 2. Command the children of Israel , and thou shalt say to them : When you are entred into the Land of Chanaan , and it shal be fallen vnto you by lot in possession , it shal be limited by these borders : 3. The south side shal begin from the wilderness Sin , which is beside Edom : and it shal haue toward the East (a) the most salt sea for the limits. 4. The which shal compasse the south side by the ascending of (b) the Scorpion , so that they inall passe into Senna , and reach toward the South as farre as Cadesbarne , from whence the frontiers shal goe forth to the towne named Adar , and shal reach as farre as Asemona. 5. And the border shal goe round about from Asemona to the Torrent of Ægypt , and shal end in the shore of the (c) great sea. 6. And the west side shal begin from the great sea , and the same shal be the limite therof. 7. Moreouer toward the North part the borders shal begin from the greate sea , reaching vnto

Two hands which worke saluation.

(a) Otherwise called the dead sea , where Sodom and Gomorre had stood.

(b) A mountaine so called of the multitude of scorpions which were in it.

(c) Mediterranean sea , called great in respect of the lakes in the holie Lād.

the

the (d) most high mountaine, 8. from the which they shal come vnto Einath as farre as the borders of Sedada: 9. and the frontiers shal goe as farre as Sephorna, and the towne Enan. These shal be the borders in the North part. 10. From thence they shal marke out the boundes toward the East side from the village Enan vnto Sephama, 11. and from Sephama the boundes shal goe downe vnto Rebla against the fountaine Daphnim: from thence they shal come eastward to the sea Cenereth, 12. and shal reach as farre as Jordan, and at the last shal be closed in by the most salt sea. This you shal haue for your Land by the bounds therof round about. 13. And Moyses commanded the children of Israel, saying: This shal be the Land, which you shal possesse by lot, and which our Lord hath commanded to be giuen to the nine tribes, and to the halfe tribe. 14. For the tribe of the children of Ruben by their families, and the tribe of the children of Gad according to the number of their kindreds, the halfe also of the tribe of Manasses, 15. that is, two tribes and an halfe, haue taken their portion beyond Jordan against Iericho at the east side. 16. And our Lord said to Moyses: 17. These are the names of the men, that shal diuide the Land vnto you: Eleazar the Priest, and Iosue the sonne of Nun, 18. and one Prince of euerie tribe, 19. whose names are these: Of the tribe of Iuda, Caleb the sonne of Iephone. 20. Of the tribe of Simeon, Samuel the sonne of Ammiud. 21. Of the tribe of Benjamin Elidad the sonne of Chafelon. 22. Of the tribe of the children of Dan, Bocci the sonne of Iogli. 23. Of the children of Ioseph of the tribe of Manasses, Haniel the sonne of Ephod. 24. Of the tribe of Ephraim, Camuel the sonne of Sephtan. 25. Of the tribe of Zabulon, Elisaphan the sonne of Pharnach. 26. Of the tribe of Issachar, Duke Phaltiel the sonne of Ozan. 27. Of the tribe of Aser, Ahiud the sonne of Salomi. 28. Of the tribe of Nephthali: Phedael the sonne of Ammiud. 29. These are they whom our Lord commanded to diuide the Land of Chanaan to the children of Israel.

(d) Mount of Libanus.

C H A P. XXXV.

Cities and suburbs are appointed for the Levites, among the other tribes. 6. Of which six shal be for refuge of such as vnwittingly kill anie man, 22. where keeping themselves til the death of the high-Priest, they shal be safe. 30. Wilful murderers conuict (so it be by more then one witness) must see forthwith.

THESE things also spake our Lord to Moyses in the champion countries of Moab vpon Jordan, against Iericho: 2. Command the children of Israel that they giue vnto the Levites of their possessions 3. cities to dwell in, and their suburbs round about: that themselves may abide in the townes, and the suburbs may be for their cattel and bealts.

4. which from the wals of the cities outward, round about, shal reach the space of a thousand paces. 5. Toward the East shal be two thousand cubits: and toward the South in like manner shal be two thousand: toward the sea also, which looketh to the West, shal be the same measure: and the North part shal be limited with equal boundes. And the cities shal be in the middes, and the suburbs without. 6. And of the same townes, which you shal giue to the Leuites, six shal be separated for the ayd of fugitiues, that he may fly to them which hath shed blood: and beside these other fourtie two townes, 7. that is, in al fourtie eight with their suburbs. 8. And those cities, that shal be giuen of the possessions of the children of Israel, from them that haue more, moe shal be taken away: and that haue lesse, fewer. Each shal giue townes to the Leuites according to the measure of their inheritance. 9. Our Lord said to Moyse: 10. Speake to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them: When you shal haue passed ouer Iordan into the Land of Chanaan, 11. determine what cities shal be for the succour of fugitiues, that haue not voluntarily shed blood: 12. in which when the fugitiue shal be, the kinsman of him that is killed can not kil him, vntil he stand in the sight of the multitude, and his cause be iudged. 13. And of those cities, that are separated for refuge of the fugitiues, 14. three shal be beyond Iordan, and three in the Land of Chanaan, 15. as wel for the children of Israel as for strangers and sciourners, that he may fly to them, which hath not voluntarily shed blood. 16. If any man strike with yron, and he die that was stricken, he shal be guiltie of murder, and himself shal die. 17. If he cast a stone, and he that is stricken die: he shal be punished in like manner. 18. If he that is stricken with wood die, he shal be reuenged by the strikers blood. 19. The kinsman of him that is slaine, shal kil the murderer, (a) as soone as he apprehendeth him, he shal kil him. 20. If through hatred one push a man, or cast any thing at him by stratageme, 21. or being his enemie, strike him with his hand, and he die: the striker shal be guiltie of murder. the kinsman of him that is slaine as soone as he findeth him, shal kil him. 22. But if by chance-medlie and without hatred 23. and enemie, he doe any of these things, 24. and this be proued in the hearing of the people, and the question debated between him that stricke, and the next of blood: 25. the innocent shal be deliuered from the hand of the reuenger, & by sentence shal be brought backe into the citie, to which he had fled, and he shal tarie there, (b) vntil the High-priest, that is anointed with the holie oile, doe die. 26. If the murderer be found without the limits of the cities, that are deputed to the banished, 27. and be stricken of him that is the reuenger of blood: he shal be guiltles that killed him. 28. For the fugitiue ought to haue stayed in the citie vntil the death of the High-priest. And after he is dead, then shal the murderer returne into his countrie. 29. These things shal be perpetual, and for an ordinarie in al your habitations. 30. The

(a) Yet not before sentence of death. v. 12. 24. S. Aug. 9. 65. in Num.

(b) Mystically this signified, that the way to true life was not open before Christs death. Theod. q. 51. in Num. 5. Greg. ho. 6. in Ezechielm.

murderer

murderer that be punished by witnesses : none that be condemned , at the testimonie of one man. 31. You shal not take a price of him, that is guiltie of blood, he also shal die forthwith. 32. The banished and fugitives before the death of the High-Priest may by no meanes returne into their owne cities. 33. Pollute not the land of your habitation, which is polluted with the blood of innocents: neither can it otherwise be expiated, but by his blood, that sheddeth an other mans blood. 34. And so shal your possession be cleansed my self abyding with you. For I am the Lord that dwel among the children of Israel.

C H A P. XXXVI.

That the inheritances may not be alienated from one tribe to an other , al must marie within their owne tribes.

AND the Princes also of the families of Galaad , the sonne of Machir, the sonne of Manasses of the stocke of the children of Ioseph came , and spake to Moyfes before the Princes of Israel, and said: 2. Our Lord hath commanded thee our Lord that thou shouidest by lot diuide the Land to the children of Israel, and that to the daughters of Salphaad our brother thou shouldest giue the possession due to their father: 3. Whom if men of an other tribe take to wiues, their possession shal folow, and being translated to an other tribe, it shal be a diminishing of our inheritance. 4. And so it shal come to passe, that when the Iubilee, that is the fiftith yeare of remission is come, the distribution of the lots shal be confounded , and the possession of one shal passe to others. 5. Moyfes answered the children of Israel, and as our Lord commanded , said : The tribe of the children of Ioseph hath spoken rightly. 6. And this law is promulgated of our Lord touching the daughters of Salphaad : Let them marrie to whom they wil, onlic that it be to the men of their owne tribe: 7. lest the possession of the children of Israel be mingled from tribe into tribe. For (a) al men shal marrie wiues of their owne tribe and kinred: 8. and al women shal take husbands of the same tribe : that the inheritance may remaine in the families, 9. and that the tribes be not mingled among themselues, but remaine so 10. as they were separated by our Lord. And the daughters of Salphaad did as it had been comanded: 11. and Maala, and Therfa, and Hegla , and Melcha , and Noa were married to the sonnes of their vncl by their father, 12. of the familie of Manasses, who was the sonne of Ioseph : and the possession, that had been allotted to them, remained in the tribe and familie of their father. 13. These are the commande.

(a) Al were not bound by this law to marie; but al that would marrie must contract within their owne tribe.

ments and iudgements, which our Lord commanded by the hand of Moyses to the children of Israel, in the champion countries of Moab vpon Iordan againit Iericho.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. XXXVI.

Restraint in Mariages also for a temporal cause.

4. Distribution of lots.) By reason of two former lawes, the one (Leuit. 25.) prouiding that inheritance of landes should not be sold, nor otherwise alienated, but vntil the Iubilee yeare, and then returne to him, or his heyres, to whom it pertained before; the other (Num. 27.) ordaining that for lack of a sonne, daughters should enherite; this difficultie did rise, in case an enheritrix did marrie a man of an other tribe, her lands by that meanes should passe from tribe to tribe, and not be restored in the Iubilee yeare. For auoiding of which inconuenience a further law is made, that none shal marrie out of their owne tribe.

Tradition.

Christ a King and a Priest.

Neuerthlesse the tribe of Leui made marriage with the tribe of Iuda: as appeareth by that Zacharie the Priest married Elizabeth cosin to our B. Ladie of the tribe of Iuda; though in the old Testament there is no such expresse dispensation, nor explication of the law, but by tradition was holden for lawful and practised by so holic a man as Zacharie. And not without mysterie (as S. Augustin noteth li. 2. c. 2. de consen. Euang.) for that Christ the Anointed of God, was prefigured by the anointing of Kings and Priests, and borne of the royal and priestlie tribes, being both a King and a Priest.

1 M C I. V.
36.

THE ARGUMENT OF DEUTERONOMIE.

DEUTERONOMIE, in English The second law, so called, not that there be two lawes of Moyses, but because the same which was first giuen in Mount Sinai, fiftie dayes after the children of Israel parted from Ægypt, is here repeated, in the eleuenth month of the fourth yeare of their abode in the desert. In which repetition albeit Moyses explicateth the same law, adding also diuers things not expressed before: yet is it but an Abbridgement conceiued and vttered in fewer words. Whereupon S. Bede (in princ. Leuit.) compareth this booke with the foure precedent, as one made of them al. For whereas the former foure prefigured the foure Ghospels, this signified the whole Ghospel, contained in al foure. Likewise S. Hierome calleth it A prefiguration of the Euangelical law: so iterating former things, that al become new of old. (Epist. ad Paulin. ca. 7. & de Mans. 42.) But touching the literal sense, Moyses here compriseth foure general things: vnto which after his death the fift is added; and so the whole containeth fve parts. First, he briefly reciteth Gods special benefits bestowed on this people, and their ingrati- tute, incredulitie, murmurings, and punishments. in the three first chapters. Secondly, he repeateth and explicateth Gods precepts, moral, ceremonial, and iudicial, with the functions and offices of Priests, and Leuites. from the 4. chap. to the 27. Thirdly, he denounceth Gods promises of manie blessings, and threats of punishments, for keeping or breaking his commandements. from the 27. chap. to 31. Fourthly, he exhorteth them to serue and loue God, but withal foretelleth, that they wil often fal to great finnes, and for the same shal be punished, and at last forsaking Christ, shal be forsaken: yet finally blesseth their tribes, in figure of the Gentiles, that shal be called in their place. cap. 31. 32. & 33. Fiftly, in the last chapter, Iosue writeth the death, burial, and singular commen- dation of Moyses.

S. Aug.
q. 49. in Deut.

et princ.
Deuter.

Mans.
vit.

This booke is a repetition, ex- plication, and suplement of the Law.

It prefigured the Ghospel.

Conteineth fve parts.

THE BOOK OF DEUTERONOMIE, IN HEBREW ELLE HADDEBARIM.

CHAP. I.

Moyſes beginneth, the firſt day of the eleuenth month and fourth yeare after the children of Iſrael parted from Egypt, to repeate and explicate the Law; 6. firſt putting them in mind of Gods munificence, his owne and other ſuperiours care ouer them, their ingratitude, incredulitie, murmuring, 24. and puniſhment for the ſame.

The firſt part.
A repetition of Gods benefits, the peoples ingratitude, and puniſhment.

THESE are the words, which Moyſes ſpake to al Iſrael beyond Iordan, in the champion wilderneſſe, againſt the Red ſea, between Pharan and Tophel and Laban and Haſeroth, where there is verie much gold: 2. eleuen daies from Horeb by the way of mount Seir to Cadesbarne. 3. The fourth yeare, the eleuenth month, the firſt day of the month Moyſes ſpake to the children of Iſrael al things that our Lord had commanded him to ſay vnto them: 4. after that he had ſtrucked Schon King of the Amorrheites, which dwelt in Heſebon: and Og the King of Baſan which abode in Aſeroth, and in Edrai, 5. beyond Iordan in the Land of Moab. And Moyſes began to expound the law, and to ſay: 6. The Lord our God ſpake to vs in Horeb, ſaying: It is ſufficient for you that you haue ſtayed in this mountaine: 7. returne and come to the mountaine of the Amorrheites, and to the reſt that are next to it champion and hillie and lower places againſt the South, and beſide the shore of the sea, the Land of the Chananeites, and of Libanus vnto the great riuer Euphrates. 8. Behold (quoth he) I haue deliuered it to you : enter in and possesse it, vpon the which our Lord sware to your fathers Abraham, Isaac, and Iacob, that he would giue it to them, & to their seed after them. 9. And I said to you at that time : 10. I alone can not susteyne you, because the Lord your God hath multiplied you, and you are this day as the starres of heauen, verie manie. 11. (The Lord God of your fathers adde to this number manie thousands, and blesse you as he hath spoken.) 12. I alone am not able to susteyne your businesse, and the charge of you and your quarels. 13. Giue from among you wise and skillful men, and such whose conuersation is approued in your tribes, that I may appoint them your Princes. 14. Then you answered me : The thing is good which thou meaneest to doe. 15. And I tooke of your tribes men wise and noble, and appointed them Princes, tribunes, and centurions, and quinquagenarians, and deanes, that might teach you all things. 16. And I commanded them, saying : Heare them, and iudge that which is iust : whether he be the same countrie man, or a stranger. 17. There shal be no difference of persons, so that you heare the litle as the great: neither shal you accept any mans person, because it is the iudgement of God. And if any thing seem hard to you, referre it to me, and I wil heare it. 18. And I commanded all things that you ought to doe. 19. And departing from Horeb, we passed through the terrible and huge wilderneise, which you saw, by the way of the mountaine of the Amorrhite, as the Lord our God had commanded vs. And when we were come in to Cadeisbarne, 20. I said to you : You are come to the mountaine of the Amorrhite, which the Lord our God wil giue to vs. 21. See the Land which the Lord thy God giueth thee : goe vp and possesse it, as the Lord our God hath spoken to thy fathers : feare not, neither dread you any thing. 22. And you came all vnto me, and said : Let vs send men that may view the Land, and may bring vs word what way we shal ascend, and to what cities to goe. 23. And because the saying pleased me, I sent of you twelue men, one of euerie tribe. 24. Who when they had gone, and were ascended into the mountaines, they came as farre as the Valley of cluster : and the Land being viewed, 25. taking of the fruits thereof, to shew the fruitfulness, they brought vnto vs, and said : The Land is good, which the Lord our God wil giue vs. 16. And you would not goe vp, but being incredulous at the word of the Lord our God, 27. you murmured in your tabernacles, and said : Our Lord hateth vs, and therefore hath brought vs out of the Land of Ægypt, that he might deliuer vs into the hand of the Amorrhite, and destroy vs. 28. Whither shal we goe vp : the messengers haue feared our hart, saying : The multitude is verie great, and taller of stature then we : the cities great, and fenced euen vnto heauen, the sonnes of the Enacims we haue seen there. 29. And I said to you : (a) Feare not, neither be ye afraid of them : 30. Our

ſhore

(a) God so helpeth his seruantes, that they also must cooperate. S. Aug. 9. 1. in Dem.

Lord God , which is your conductour , himself wil fight for you , as he did in Ægypt in the sight of al. 31. And in the wildernesse (thy selfe hast seen) the Lord thy God hath caried thee , as a man is wont to beare his litle sonne , al the way that you haue walked , vntil you came to this place. 32. And neither so did you belieue the Lord your God , 33. who went before you in the way , and marked out the place wherein you should pitch your tentes , in the night shewing you the way by fyre , and in the day by the pillar of a cloud. 34. And when our Lord had heard the voice of your words , being wrath he sware and said : 35. There shal not any of the men of this wicked generation see the good Land , which by oath I promised to your fathers : 36. beside Caleb the sonne of Iephone. For he shal see it , and to him I wil giue the Land , that he hath troden , and to his children , because he hath folowed the Lord. 37. Neither is (b) his indignation against the people to be merueiled at , wheras our Lord being (c) angrie with me also for you , said : Neither shalt thou enter in thither. 38. But Iosue the sonne of Nun thy minister , he shal enter for thee : exhort and strengthen him , and he shal by lot diuide the Land to Israel. 39. Your litle ones , of whom you said that they should be led captiues , and your sonnes that this day know not the difference of good and euil , they shal enter in : and to them I wil giue the Land , and they shal possesse it. 40. But returne you and goe into the wildernesse by the way of the Red sea. 41. And you answered me : We haue sinned to our Lord : we wil goe vp and fight , as the Lord our God hath commanded. And when you readie armed went vnto the mountaine , 42. our Lord said to me : Say to them : Goe not vp , and fight not , for I am not with you : lest you fal before your enemies. 43. I spake , and you heard not : but resisting the commandement of our Lord , and swelling with pride you went vp into the mountaine. 44. Therefore the Amorrhite that dwelt in the mountaines issuing forth , and comming to meet you , pursued you , as bees are wont to pursue : and smote you from Seir as farre as Horma. 45. And when returning you wept before our Lord , he heard you not , neither would he condescend to your voice. 46. You abodetherefore in Cadesbarne a great time.

(b) Difference of finnes.

(c) God is also angrie with his good seruants , & punisheth them temporally for smal finnes. S. Aug. q. 1. in Iosue.

C H A P. II.

With commemoration of Gods continual protection of the Israelites, they are forbid to fight against the Idumians. 9. the Moabites, or Ammonites. 24. But against Sihon King of Hesebon they should fight, kil him and al his, and possesse his land.

AND departing thence we came into the wildernesse, that leadeth to the Red sea, as our Lord had said to me: and we compassed the mountaine Seir a long time. 2. And our Lord said to me: 3. It is sufficient for you to haue compassed this mountaine: goe toward the North. 4. And command thou the people, saying: You shal passe by the borders of your brethren the children of Esau, which dwel in Seir, and they will be affraid of you. 5. Looke diligently therefore that you stirre not against them. For I wil not giue you of their land so much as the step of one foote can tread, because I haue giuen the mountaine Seir to be the possession of Esau. 6. Meates you shal buie of them with money, and shal eate: bought water shal you draw, and drinke. 7. The Lord thy God hath blessed thee in euerie worke of thy hands: he knoweth thy journey; how thou hast passed this great wildernesse, for fourtie yeares the Lord thy God dwelling with thee, and thou hast wanted nothing. 8. And when we had passed by our brethren the children of Esau, that dwelt in Seir, by the champion way from Elath and from Aliongaber, we came to the way, that leadeth into the desert of Moab. 9. And our Lord said to me: Fight not against the Moabites, neither make battel against them: for I wil not giue thee any of their land, because I haue giuen Ar to the children of Lot in possession. 10. Emin first were the inhabitors therof, a great people, and valiant, and so tall that (a) they were thought, 11. as it were giants, of the Enacims stock, and were like the children of the Enacims. Moreouer the Moabites cal them Emin. 12. But in Seir before dwelt the Horrins: who being expelled and destroyed, the children of Esau did inhabite it, as Israel did in the land of his possession, which our Lord gaue him. 13. Rying vp therefore to paise the Torrent Zared, we came to it. 14. And the time, that we walked from Cadisbarne vnto the passage of the torrent Zared, was thirtie and eight yeares: vntil al the generation of the men that were warriors was consumed out of the campe, as our Lord had sworne: 15. whose hand was against them, that they should perissh from among the campe. 16. And after al the warrayers were dead, 17. our Lord spake to me, saying: 18. Thou shalt paise this day the borders of Moab, the citie named Ar:

(a) These were men of very great stature, but not equal to the giants. before the flood.

19. and approaching vnto the frontiers of the children of Ammon, beware thou fight not against them, neither once moue to battel: for I wil not giue thee of the land of the children of Ammon, becauic I haue giuen it to the children of Lot in possession. 20. It was reputed the land of giants: and giants in old time dwelt in it, whom the Ammonites cal Zomzommim, 21. a great and huge people, & of long stature, as the Enacims whom our Lord destroyed before their face: and he made them to dwel in their stead, 22. as he had done to the children of Esau, that dwelt in Seir, destroying the Horrheites, and deliuering their land to them, which they possesse vntil this present. 23. The Heucites also, that dwelt in Haserim as farre as Gaza, the Capadocians expelled: who issuing out of Capadocia, destroyed them, and dwelt in their stead. 24. Arise ye; and passe the torrent Arnon: behold I haue deliuered in thy hand Schon King of Hesebon the Amorrhite, and begin to possesse his land, and (b) make waire against him. 25. This day wil I begin to send thy terror and feare vpon the peoples, that dwel vnder the whole heauen: that hearing thy name they may quake, and tremble after the manner of women in trauel, and be pinched with sorow. 26. I sent therefore messengers from the wildernes of Cademoth to Schon the King of Hesebon with peaceable words, saying: 27. We wil passe through thy land, we wil goe the common high way: we wil not decline neither to the right hand, nor to the left. 28. Sel vs meates for money, that we may eate: Giue vs water for money, and so we wil drinke. Onlie this, that thou wilt grant vs passage, 29. as (c) the children of Esau haue done, that dwel in Seir, and the Moabites, that abide in Ar: vntil we come to Iordan, and passe to the Land, which the Lord our God wil giue vs. 30. And Schon the King of Hesebon would not giue vs passage: becauic the Lord thy God had (a) indurated his spirit, and hardened his hart, that he might be deliuered into thy hands, as now thou seest. 31. And our Lord said to me: Behold I haue begun to deliuer Schon vnto thee, and his land, begin to possesse it. 32. And Schon came forth to meet vs with al his people to battel in Iasa. 33. And the Lord our God deliuered him to vs: and we smote him with his sonnes and al his people. 34. And al his cities we tooke at that time, killing the inhabitants therof, men and women and litle ones. we left nothing among them. 35. Except the catel, which came to their portion that tooke preyes: and the spoyles of the cities, which we tooke 36. from Aroer, which is vpon the banke of the torrent Arnon, a towne that is situated in a valley, as farre as Galaad. There was not a village or citie, that escaped our hands: the Lord our God deliuered al vnto vs. 37. Except the land of the children of Ammon, to the which we approached not: and al that adioyne to the torrent Ieboc, and the cities on the mountaine, and al the places, from which the Lord our God prohibited vs.

(b) By this we are instructed to fight against infidels, but not without special cause against christiās, signified by the children of Lot & Esau.

(c) The Idumeans once denied them passage. Num. 20. v. 20. but afterwards granted therto.

(d) God permitted him for his former finnes, to indurate himselfe. See Exod. 7. v. 3.

C H A P. III.

The victorie against Of King of Basan of the giants stock is repeated, 12. Ruben Gad and halfe tribe of Manasses haue possession on the other side Iordan from their brethren. 23. Moyse praying that he may goe ouer Iordan, for the sinnes of the people is denied.

HERFORE turning we went vp by the way of Basan: and Og the King of Basan came forth to meet vs with his people to fight in Edrai. 2. And our Lord said to me: Feare him not: because he is deliuered into thy hand with al his people and his land: and thou shalt doe to him as thou hast done to Sehon King of the Amorrheites, that dwelt in Hesebon. 3. Therefore the Lord our God deliuered into our hands Og also the King of Basan, and al his people: and we stricke them to vtter destruction, 4. waisting al his cities at one time. there was not a towne that escaped vs: sixtie cities, al the countrie of Argob the Kingdome of Og in Basan. 5. Al the cities were fensed with verie high wals, and with gates and barres, beside innumerable townes that had no wals. 6. And we destroyed them, as we had done to Sehon the King of Hesebon, destroying euerie citie, and men and women and children: 7. but the cattel, and the spoyles of the cities we tooke for our prey. 8. And we tooke at that time the land out of the hand of two Kings of the Amorrheites, that were beyond Iordan: from the torrent Arnon vnto the mountaine Hermon, 9. which the Sidonians cal Sarion, and the Amorrheites Sanir: 10. al the cities, that are situated in the plaine, and al the Land of Galaad and Basan as farre as Seicha, and Edrai, cities of the Kingdome of Og in Basan. 11. For onlie Og the King of Basan remayned of the stock of giants. his bed of yron is shewed, which is in Rab-bath of the children of Ammon, hauing nine cubits in length, and foure in breadth after the measure of (e) the cubite of a mans hand. 12. And we possessed the Land at that time from Aroer, which is vpon the banke of the torrent Arnon, vnto the halfe part of mount Galaad: and the cities therof I gaue to Ruben and Gad. 13. And the other part of Galaad, and al Basan of the Kingdome of Og, I deliuered to the halfe tribe of Manasses, al the countrie of Argob: and al Basan is called the Land of giants. 14. Iair the sonne of Manasses possessed al the countrie of Argob vnto the borders of Gessuri, and Machati. And he called Basan by his owne name, Hauoth Iair, that is to say, the townes of Iair, (f) vntil this present day. 15. To Machir also I gaue Galaad. 16. And to the tribes of Ruben and Gad I gaue of the Land of Galaad as farre as the Torrent Arnon, halfe of the torrent, and the confines vnto the torrent Ieboc, which is the border of the children of Ammon : 17. and the plaine of the wildernesse, and Iordan, and the borders of Cenereth vnto the sea of the desert, which is most salt, at the foot of mount Phasga against the east. 18. And I commanded you at that time, saying: The Lord your God giueth you this land for an inheritance, goe wel appointed before your brethren the children of Israel al you strong men: 19. except your viues, and litle ones, and your cattel. For I know you haue much cattel, & they must remaine in the cities, which I haue deliuered you; 20. vntil our Lord giue rest to your brethren, as he hath giuea to you: and they also possesse the Land, which he wil giue them beyond Iordan: then shal euerie man returne to his possession, which I haue giuen you. 21. Iosue also at that time I comanded, saying: Thyne eyes haue seen what the Lord your God hath done to these two Kings: so wil he doe to al the Kingdomes, to the which thou shalt passe. 22. Feare them not: for the Lord your God wil fight for you. 23. And I prayed our Lord at that time, saying: 24. Lord God thou hast begun to shew vnto thy seruant thy greatnes, and most mightie hand, for neither is there other God either in heauen, or in earth, that is able to doe thy workes, and to be compared to thy strength. 25. I wil passe ouer therefore, and wil see this excellent Land beyond Iordan, and this godlie mountaine, and Libanus. 26: And our Lord was angrie with me (g) for you, and heard me not, but said to me: It sufficeth thee: speake no more to me of this matter. 27. Goe vp to the top of Phasga, and cast thine eies round about to the west, and to the north, and the south, and the east, and behold it. for thou shalt not passe this Iordan. 28. Command Iosue, and encourage and strengthen him: for he shal goe before this people, and shal diuide vnto them the Land, which thou shalt see. 29. And we abode in the valley against the temple of Phogor.

(e) Longer sort of cubits are a foot and 9. inches: so this bed was 15. foot and nine inches long, and 4. foot broad.

Vitruuius Agricola.

(f) Esdras adding these words, & often times the like, did not against the law, because such additions are agreable & not contrarie to that which was written before.

(g) See Num.
20. v. 12.

CHAP. III.

Moses exhorteth the people to keep Gods commandements. 15. Namely that they make no similitude nor image of man, nor of beast, bird, fish, sunne, moone, nor of anie creature to serue the same for the Creatour. He forfeiteth his owne death, 23. threatneth them if they forsake God 41. and appointeth three cities of refuge, on the same side Iordan.

The second part.
A repetition & explication of the law.

AND now Israel heare the precepts and iudgements, which I teach thee: that doing them, thou mayest liue, and entring in mayest possesse the Land, which the Lord the God of your fathers wil giue you. 2. You shal not adde to the word, that I speake to you, neither shal you take away from it: keep the commandment of the Lord your God

which

which I command you. 3. Your eyes haue seen al things that our Lord hath done against Beelphegor, how he hath destroyed al his worshippers out of the middes of you. 4. But you that cleaue to the Lord your God, liue al vntil this present day. 5. You know that I haue taught you precepts, and iustices, as the Lord my God hath commanded me: so shal you doe them in the Land, which you shal possesse: 6. and you shal obserue, and fulfil them in worke. For (a) this is your wisdom, and vnderstanding before peoples, that hearing al these precepts, may say: Behold a people ful of wisdom and vnderstanding, a great nation. 7. Neither is there other nation so great, that hath Gods approaching vnto them, as our God is present at al our petitions. 8. For what other nation is there so renowned that hath the ceremonies, and iust iudgements, and the whole law, which I wil set forth this day before your eyes. 9. Keepe thy selfe therefore, and thy soule carefully. Forget not the words, that thine eyes haue seen, and let them not fal out of thy hart al the daies of thy life. Thou shalt teach them thy sonnes and thy nephewes, 10. the day wherein thou didst stand before the Lord thy God in Horeb, when our Lord spake to me, saying; Assemble vnto me the people, that they may heare my words, and may learne to feare me al the time that they liue on the earth, and may teach their children. 11. And you came to the foote of the mount, which burned euen vnto heauen: and there was in it darkenes, and a cloud and mist. 12. And our Lord spake to you from the middes of the fyre. The voice of his words you heard, and forme you saw not at al. 13. And he shewed you his couenant, which he commanded you to doe, and the (b) ten words, that he wrote in two table of stone. 14. And he commanded me at that time that I should teach you the ceremonies and iudgements, which you should doe in the Land, that you shal possesse. 15. Keepe therefore your soules carefully. You saw not any similitude in the day, that our Lord spake to you in Horeb from the middes of the fire: 16. lest perhaps deceued you might make you a grauen similitude, or image of male or female, 17. the similitude of al cartel, that are vpon the earth, or of birds, that flie vnder heauen, 18. and of creeping beaists, that moue on the earth, or of fishes, that vnder the earth abide in the waters: 19. lest perhaps lifting vp thine eies to heauen, thou see the Sunne and the Moone, and al the starres of heauen, and deceued by errour thou adore and serue them, which the Lord thy God created to serue al nations, that are vnder heauen. 20. But you our Lord hath taken, and brought out of the yron furnace of Ægypt, to haue you his people by inheritance, as it is this present day. 21. And our Lord was angrie with me for your wordes, and he sware (c) that I should not passe ouer Iordan, nor enter into the excellent Land, which he wil giue you. 22. Behold I die (d) in this ground, I shal not passe ouer Iordan: you shall passe, and possesse the goodlie Land. 23. Beware lest at any time thou forget the couenant of the Lord thy God, which he hath made with

(a) To keepe Gods comandments is counted by al nations the most excellent wisdom.

(b) Here and in other places it is manifest that the comandments, called the Decalogue, are iust ten.

(c) Venial and least sinnes passe not without temporal punishment.

(d) This was also a Mysterie, that the old law, signified by Moyse, could not bring to heauen: the true land of promise, but the law of Christ, signified by Iosue. Theod. 9. + 3. in Deut.

thee : and make to thee a grauen similitude of those things , which our Lord hath prohibited to be made : 24. because the Lord thy God is a consuming fyre, ielouse God. 25. If you shal beget sonnes & nephewes and abide in the Land , & being deceiued make to you some similitude, committing euil before the Lord your God , to prouoke him to wrath: 26. I cal this day heauen and earth witnessess , that you shal quickly perissh from out of the Land , which being passed ouer Iordan you shal possesse. You shal not dwel therein long time , but our Lord wil destroy you , 27. and disperse you into al nations , and you shalt remaine a few among the nations, to the which our Lord wil lead you. 28. and there you shal serue Gods , that were framed with mens hand , wood and stone, that see not, nor heare , nor eat, nor smel. 29. And when thou shalt seeke there the Lord thy God, thou shalt find him , yet so , if thou seeke him with al thy hart, & al tribulation of thy soule. 30. After that al the things afore said shal find thee , & in (e) the latter time thou shalt returne to the Lord thy God , and shalt heare his voice. 31. Because the Lord thy God is a merciful God : he wil not leaue thee , nor altogether destroy thee; nor forget the couenant , wherein he sware to thy fathers. 32. Aske of the dayes of oid , that haue been before thy time from the day that God created man vpon the earth , from one end of heauen to the other end therof, if euer there was done the like thing , or it hath been knowen at any time, 33. that a people should heare the voice of God speaking out of the middes of fyre, as thou hast heard , and liued: 34. if God so did that he went in , and tooke vnto him a Nation out of the middes of nations , by temptations , signes , and wonders , by fight and strong hand, and stretched out arme, and horrible visions according to al things , that the Lord your God did for you in Ægypt , thine eies seeing it : 35. that thou mightest know that our Lord , he is God , and there is none other beside him, 36. from heauen he made thee to heare his voice , that he might teach thee. And in earth he shewed thee his fire , verie great , and thou didst heare his words out of the middes of the fire , 37. because he loued thy fathers , and chose their seed after them. And he brought thee out of Ægypt, going before thee in his great power, 38. to destroy verie great nations and stronger then thou at thy entring in , and to bring thee in , and giue thee their land in possession, as thou seeest this present day. 39. Know therefore this day , and thinke in thy hart that our Lord he is God in heauen aboue , and in the earth beneath, and there is none other. 40. Keepe his precepts and commandments , which I command thee : that it may be wel with thee , and thy children after thee, and thou mayest remayne a long time vpon the Land, which the Lord thy God wil giue thee. 41. Then Moyfes separted three cities beyond Iordan at the east side, 42. that he might riy to them which should kil his neighbour not voluntarily , nei. her was his enemye a day or two before , and he might scape to some of these cities : 43. Bosor in the wildernesse , which is situated in the champion countrie

(e) Conuerfion of the Iewes in the end of the world.

countreie of the tribe of Ruben : and Ramoth in Galaad , which is in the tribe of Gad : and Golan in Basan, which is in the tribe of manasses. 44. This is the law that Moyses set before the children of Israel, 45. and these are the testimonies and ceremonies and iudgements, which he spake to the children of Israel , when they came out of Ægypt, 46. beyond Iordan in the valley against the temple of Phogor in the land of Sehon King of the Amorrhite, that dwelt in Hesebon, whom Moyses stricke. The children of Israel also coming out of Ægypt 47. possessed his land , and the land of Og the King of Basan , the two Kings of the Amorrhites , which were beyond Iordan toward the rising of the sunne : 48. from Aroer , which is situated vpon the banke of the torrent Arnon , vnto the mountaine Sion , which is also Hermon , 49. al the plaine beyond Iordan at the east side , vnto the sea of the wildernesse , and vnto the foote of mount Phasga.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. IIII.

1. You shall not abide.] Moyses can not meane, that no more should be written, nor commanded; for then the last chapter of this book, and the rest of the bible should not haue been written after his death; neither ought the Priests or Prophets to haue commanded anie thing not expressed in the law. And whereas Protestants say that al other Scriptures are included in the law, or pertaine to the explication or performance thereof: we also answer that vnwritten Traditions both in the old and new Testament are likewise implied, included, or pertaine to the explication or performance of the law. For euen as the written doctrine of the Prophets, yea and of Christ, and his Apostles, in general is contained in the law of Moyses, so also are certaine facts, feasts, rites, ceremonies, and other traditions proued and confirmed by general speeches and axiomes written in holie Scriptures, as by our Sauours words to his Apostles Luc. 10. He that heareth you, heareth me. S. Paul's to other Christians (1. Cor. 10.) other things when I come I wil dispose (2. Thess 2.) Hold the traditions which you haue learned; and the like. Whereupon S. Augustin in Li. 1. cont. Crescon. c. 33. giueth this rule, that albeit an euident example can not be produced of holie Scripture, yet the truth of the same Scriptures is holden by vs, when we doe that please the whole Church, which the Authoritie of Scriptures commendeth. The same he teacheth Epist. 80. and in manie other places. So doe S. Epiphanius in compend. fidei Cathol. S. Hierom Dialog. cont. Lucifer. c. 4. S. Chrysoſt. ho. 4. in 1. Theſſal. 4. S. Basil. de Spiritu Sancto, c. 39. S. Ireneus li. 3. c. 4.

As other Scriptures are included in the law, so also Traditions are contained in the Scriptures.

The Church, commanded by Scriptures, approveth Traditions.

C H A P. V.

The ten commandements are repeated and explained, 23. with commemoration of their dread and feare, when they heard the voice from the cloud, and saw the mountaine burne.

(a) It is not enough to believe only, or to know the commandments, but necessarie also to fulfil them in worke.

(b) The title of Mediatour lawfully ascribed to Gods lieutenant in earth.

AND Moyses called al Israel, and said to them: Heare Israel the ceremonies and iudgements, which I speake in your eares this day: learne them, and (a) fulfil them in worke. 2. The Lord our God made a couenant with vs in Horeb. 3. Not with our fathers did he make the couenant, but with vs at this present, and doe liue. 4. Face to face did he speake to vs in the mount out of the middes of the fyre. 5. I was arbiter and (b) Mediatour betwixt our Lord and you at that time, to shew you his words, for you feared the fire, and went not vp into the mount, and he said: 6. I the Lord thy God, that brought thee out of the Land of Ægypt out of the house of seruitude. 7. Thou shalt not haue strange Gods in my sight. 8. " Thou shalt not make to thee a thing grauen, nor the similitude of any things, that are in heauen aboue, and that are in the earth beneath, and that abide in the waters vnder the earth. 9. Thou shalt not adore them, and thou shalt not serue them. For I am the Lord thy God, a Icalouse God, rendering the iniquitie of the fathers vpon the children vnto the third and fourth generation to them that hate me, 10. and doing mercie vpon manie thousands to them that loue me, and keep my precepts. 11. Thou shalt not vsurpe the name of the Lord thy God in vaine: for he shal not be vnpunished that taketh his name vpon a vaine thing. 12. Obserue the day of the Sabbath, to sanctifie it, as the Lord thy God hath commanded thee. 13. Six dayes shalt thou worke, and shalt doe al thy workes. 14. The seuenth is the day of the Sabbath, that is the rest of the Lord thy God. Thou shalt not doe any worke therein, thou, and thy sonne and daughter, man seruant and woman seruant, and oxe, and asse, and al thy cattel, and the stranger that is within thy gates: that thy man seruant may rest, and thy woman seruant, euen as thy selfe. 15. Remember that thou also didest serue in Ægypt, and the Lord thy God brought thee out from thence in a strong hand, and stretched out arme. Therefore hath he commanded thee that thou shouldest obserue the Sabbath. 16. Honour thy father and mother, as our Lord thy God hath commanded thee, that thou mayst liue a long time, and it may be wel with thee in the Land, which the Lord thy God wil giue thee. 17. Thou shalt not murder. 18. Neither shalt thou commit aduoutrie. 19. And thou shalt not steale. 20. Neither shalt

thalt thou speake against thy neighbour false testimonie. 21. Thou shalt not couet thy neighbours wife: (c) Nor house, nor field, nor man seruant, nor woman seruant, nor ox, nor asse, and al things that are his. 22. These words spake our Lord to al your multitude in the mount, out of the middes of the fire and the cloud, and the darkenes, with a loud voice, adding nothing more: and he wrote them in the two tables of stone, which he deliuered vnto me. 23. And you after you heard the voice out of the middes of the darkenes, and saw the mount burne, came to me al the Princes of the tribes and the elders, and you said: 24. Behold the Lord our God hath shewed vs his maicstie and greatnes for we haue heard his voice out of the middes of the fire, & haue proued this day that God speaking with man, man hath liued. 25. Why shal we die therefore, and this exceeding great fire deuour vs? For if we heare the voice of the Lord our God any more, we shal die. 26. What is al flesh, that it should heare the voice of the liuing God, who speaketh out of the middes of the fire as we haue heard, and may liue? 27. Approach thou rather: and heare al things that the Lord our God shal say to thee: and thou shalt speake to vs, and we hearing wil doe them. 28. Which when our Lord had heard, he said to me: I haue heard the voice of the words of this people, which they spake to thee: they haue spoken al things wel. 29. Who shal giue them to haue such a minde, that they would feare me, and keepe al my commandments at al time, that it may be wel with them and with their children for euer? 30. Goe and say to them: Returne into your tents. 31. But thou stand here with me, and I wil speake to thee al my commandments, and ceremonies, and iudgements: which thou shalt teach them, that they may doe them in the Land, which I wil giue them in possession. 32. Keepe therefore and doe the things which our Lord God hath commanded you: you shal not decline neither to the right hand, nor to the left: 33. but the way that the Lord your God hath commanded shal you walke, that you may liue and it may be wel with you, and your daies may be prolonged in the land of your possession.

(c) Coueting an other mans wife, & coueting his goods, differ as much, as the exterior actes of adultery and of theft. And so these two commandments are as distinct as the former two.

ANNOTATIONS.

CHAP. V.

3. Thou shalt not make.) If our aduersaries would quietly consider the coherence of the holy text, they might easely see, that this prohibition of making and worshipping the similitude of anie creature, pertaineth to the former sentence: Thou shalt not haue strange Gods: more particularly forbidding either to make Idoles, or to worship such as others make; and that with cōmination, because our Lord is a ielous God, and wil not suffer his honour to be giuen to anie creature. But other Images were made in the old Testament, by Gods commandment, and likewise Images of Christ and his Saints are lawful and profitable among Christians, as before is noted. Exod. 20.

Images of Idols forbid, but not of other things.

C H A P. VI.

God is diligently to be serued, and loued with thy whole hart, thy whole soule, and whole strength: At his precepts, ceremonies, and iudgements must be carefully kept, and commended to posteritie.

TH E S E are the precepts, and ceremonies, and iudgements; which the Lord your God commanded that I should teach you, and you should doe them in the Land, whereunto you passe ouer to possess it: 2. that thou mayst feare the Lord thy God, and keep his commandments and precepts, which I command thee, and thy sonnes, and nephewes, all the dayes of thy life, that thy dayes may be prolonged. 3. Heare Israel, and obserue that thou doe the things which our Lord hath commanded thee, and it may be wel with thee, and thou mayest be greatly multiplied, as the Lord God of thy fathers hath promised thee a land flowing with milke & honie. 4. Heare Israel, The Lord our God, is one Lord. 5. Thou shalt loue the Lord thy God with thy whole hart, and with thy whole soule, and with thy whole strength. 6. And these words, which I command thee this day, shal be in thy hart: 7. and thou shalt tel them to thy children, and thou shalt meditate sitting in thy house, and walking on thy iourney, sleeping, and ryng. 8. And thou shalt bind them as a signe on thy hand, and they shal be and shal moue between thine eyes, 9. and thou shalt write them in the entrie, and on the doores of thy house. 10. And when the Lord thy God shal haue brought thee into the Land, for the which he sware to thy fathers Abraham, Isaac, and Iacob: and shal haue giuen thee great and goodlie cities, which thou didst not build, 11. houses full of al riches, which thou didst not erect, cisternes which thou didst not dig, vineyards and oliueyards, which thou didst not plant, 12. and thou shalt haue eaten and be full: 13. take heed diligently lest thou forget our Lord, that brought thee out of the Land of Ægypt, out of the house of seritude. Thou shalt feare the Lord thy God, and (*) him onelie shalt thou serue, and by his name shalt thou swear. 14. You shal not goe after the strange Gods of al Nations, that are round about you: 15. because the Lord thy God is a Iealouse God in the middes of thee: lest sometime the furie of the Lord thy God be wrath againe thee, & take the away from the face of the earth. 16. Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God, as thou didst tempt him in the place of tentation. 17. Keep the precepts of the Lord thy God, and the testimones & ceremonies, which he hath commanded thee: 18. And doe that which is pleasant and good in the sight of our Lord, that it may be wel with thee: and entring in thou mayest possesse the goodlie Land, wherof our Lord sware to thy fathers, 19. that he would destroy al thy enemies before thee, as he hath spoken. 20. And when thy sonne thal aske thee to morrow, saying: What meane these testimonies, and ceremonies, and iudgements, which the Lord our God hath commanded vs? 21. thou shalt say to him: We were the bondmen of Pharao in Ægypt, and our Lord brought vs out of Ægypt in a strong hand: 22. and he did signes & wonders great and verie fore in Ægypt against Pharao, and al his house, in our sight, 23. and he brought vs out from thence, that being brought in he might giue vs the Land, wherupon he sware to our fathers. 24. And our Lord commanded that we should doe al these ordinances, and should feare the Lord our God, that it might be wel with vs al the daies of our life, as it is at this day. 25. And he wil be merciful to vs, if we keepe and doe al his precepts before the Lord our God, as he commanded vs.

(*) Some adoration agreeth to creatures, but seruice of Latria to God onlie. S. Aug. 9. 61. in Gen-

C H A P. VII.

No league nor felowship to be had with the Gentiles: 3. but their altars, groues, and al their idols to be destroyea. 17. God promisetli victories to his people, willing them to trust in him, and serue him.

WHEN the Lord thy God shal haue brought thee into the land, which thou doest enter in to possesse; and thal haue destroyed manie Nations before thee, the Hetheite, and the Gergezeite, and the Amorreite, and the Chananeite, and the Pherezeite, and the Heueite, and the Iebuseite, seuen nations of much greater number then thou art, and stronger then thou: 2. and the Lord thy God shal haue deliuered them to thee, thou shalt strike them vnto vtter destruction. Thou shalt not make league with them, nor pitie them, 3. nor make marriages with them. Thy daughter thou shalt not giue to his sonne, nor take his daughter for thy sonne: 4. for he wil seduce thy sonne, that he folow not me, and that he rather serue strange Gods, and the furie of our Lord wil be wrath, and thal quickly destroy thee. 5. But these things rather you thal doe to them: Ouerthrow their altars, and breake their statues, and cut downe their groues, and burne their sculptiles. 6. Because thou art a holy people to the Lord thy God. The Lord thy God hath chosen thee, to be his peculiar people of al peoples, that are vpon the earth. 7. Not because you paised al nations in number, is our Lord ioyned vnto you, & hath chosen you, wheras you are fewer then al peoples: 8. but because

(a) Notwithstanding this commination, God oftentimes differreth punishment, expecting the sinners repentance.

(b) Gods promises conditional, if his people serue him.

our Lord hath loued you, and hath kept the oath, which he sware to your fathers: and hath brought you forth in a strong hand, and redeemed you from the house of seruitude, out of the hand of Pharao the King of Ægypt. 9. And thou shalt know that the Lord thy God, he is a strong and faithful God, keeping his couenant and mercie to them that loue him, and to them that keepe his precepts, vnto a thousand generations: 10. and rendring forthwith to them that hate him, so that he destroyeth them, and differreth no longer, (a) immediately rendring to them that they deserue. 11. Keepe therefore the precepts and ceremonies and iudgements, which I command thee this day to doe them. 12. (b) If after thou hast heard these iudgements, thou keepe and doe them, the Lord also thy God wil keepe the couenant vnto thee, and the mercie which he sware to thy fathers: 13. and he wil loue and multiplie thee, and wil blesse the fruit of thy wombe, and the fruit of thy land, thy corne, and vintage, oile, and heards, the flockes of thy sheep vpon the Land, for the which he sware to thy fathers that he would giue it thee. 14. Blessed shalt thou be among al peoples. There shal be none barren with thee of neither sexe, as wel in men as in thy flockes. 15. Our Lord wil take away from thee al disease: and the sore infirmities of Ægypt, which thou knowest, he wil not bring vpon thee, but vpon al thyne enemies. 16. Thou shalt deuour al the peoples, which the Lord thy God wil giue thee. Thyne eye shal not spare them, neither shalt thou serue their Gods, lest they be the ruine of thee. 17. If thou say in thy hart: These nations are moe then I, how shal I be able to destroy them? 18. Feare not, but remember what the Lord thy God did to Pharao & to al the Ægyptians, 19. the exceeding great plagues, which thyne eies saw, and the signes and wonders, and the strong hand, and the stretched out arme, that the Lord thy God might bring thee forth: so wil he doe to al peoples, whom thou fearest. 20. Moreouer hornets also wil the Lord thy God send vpon them, vntil he destroy and consume al that escaped thee, & can hide themselues. 21. Thou shalt not feare them, because the Lord thy God is in the middes of thee, a mightie God & terrible: 22. he wil consume these nations in thy sight by litle & litle and by parts. Thou mayest not destroy them al together: lest perhaps the beasts of the earth multiplie against thee. 23. And the Lord thy God wil giue them in thy sight: and wil kil them vntil they be vtterly destroyed. 24. And he wil deliuer their Kings into thy hands, and thou shalt destroy their names vnder heauen: no man shal be able to resist thee, vntil thou destroy them. 25. Their sculptiles thou shalt burne with fire: thou shalt not couet the siluer and gold, wherof they were made, neither shalt thou take to thee any thing therof, lest thou offend, because it is the abomination of the Lord thy God. 26. Neither shalt thou bring in ought of the Idol into thy house, lest thou become anathema, as also that is. As filthines thou shalt detest it, and as vncleannes and filth thou shalt account it abominable, because it is anathema.

C H A P. VIII.

The people is put in mind of afflictions which happened in the desert, and of benefits as wel past, as promised, 11. to the end they loue and serue God more affectually.

EUERIE commandement, that I command thee this day, take diligent heed that thou doe it: that you may liue, and be multiplied, and entring in may possesse the Land, for the which our Lord sware to your fathers. 2. And thou shalt remember al the iourney, through the which the Lord thy God hath brought thee fourtie yeares by the desert, that he might afflict & proue thee, & that the things that were in thy hart might be made knowen, whether thou wouldest keepe his commandments or not. 3. He afflicted thee with penurie, and gaue thee for meate Manna, which thou knewest not nor thy fathers: for to shew vnto thee that (4) not in bread onlie a man liue, but in euerie word that procedeth from the mouth of God. 4. Thy rayment, wherwith thou wast couered hath not decayed for age, and thy foot is not worne, loe this is the fourtith yeare. 5. That thou mayest recount in thy hart, that as a man disciplineth his sonne, so the Lord thy God hath disciplined thee, 6. that thou shouldest keep the commandments of the Lord thy God, and walke in his wayes, and feare him. 7. For the Lord thy God wil bring thee in vnto a good land, a land of riuers and waters and of fountaines: in the plaines wherof and mountaynes deep fouds guth out: 8. a land of wheat, of barley, and vineyards, wherin fig trees and pomegranates, and oliueyards doe grow: a land of oyle and honic. 9. Where without any penurie thou shalt eate thy bread, and enioy aboundance of al things: whose stons are yron, and out of the mountaynes therof are digged metals of brasse: 10. that when thou hast eaten, and art ful, thou mayest blesse the Lord thy God for the excellent land, which he hath giuen thee. 11. Obserue, and beware lest at any time thou forget the Lord thy God, and neglect his commandments, and iudgements and ceremonies, which I command thee this day: 12. lest after thou hast eaten and art filled, hast built goodlie houses, and dwelled in them, 13. and shalt haue heards of oxen and flocks of sheep, of gold and siluer, and of al things plentie, 14. thy hart be lifted vp, and thou remember not the Lord thy God, that brought thee out of the Land of Ægypt, out of the house of seruitude: 15. and was thy conductour in the huge and terrible wilderneise, wherin was the serpent burning with his breath, and the scorpion and (b) the dipsas, and no waters at all: who brought forth riuers out of the hardest rocke, 16. and fed thee with Manna in the wilderness, which thy fathers knew not. And after he had afflicted and proued thee, at the last he had mercie vpon thee, 17. lest thou shouldest say in thy hart: Myne owne force, & the strength of myne owne hand, haue atchieued all these things for me. 18. But remember the Lord thy God, that he hath giuen thee strength, that he might fulfil his couenant, concerning which he sware to thy fathers, as this present day sheweth. 19. But if forgetting the Lord thy God, thou shalt follow strange Gods, and shalt serue and adore them: behold now I foretel thee that thou shalt perish vtterly. 20. As the Nations, which our Lord destroyed at thyne entrie, so shalt thou also perish, if you be disobedient to the voice of the Lord your God.

(4) God is able to make food of what he please, or to sustaine men without meate.

(b) A serpent lesse then a scorpion, making those whom he byteth to die of thirst. Solinus in polyhist. cap. de Africa.

C H A P. IX.

Lest they should impute the victories (which they shal haue) to themselues, 6. they are put in mind of their often prouoking Gods wrath, 12. by idolatry, 22. by murmuring, by concupiscence, by contempt, and other finnes, 25. for which they should haue been destroyed, but God spared them for his promise made to Abraham Isaac and Iacob.

(a) Holie Scripture vseth the figure Hyperbole, following the vulgar manner of speaking, as wel to helpe the vnderstanding, as to moue affectio in great & extraordinary things.

HE ARE Israel: Thou shalt goe ouer Jordan this day to possess verie greate nations and stronger then thy selfe, huge cities, and walled (b) euen vnto heauen, 2. a great people and tall, the sonnes of the Enacims, whom thou hast seen, and heard, against whom no man is able to resist. 3. Thou shalt know therefore this day that the Lord thy God himselfe wil passe ouer before thee, a deuouring and consuming fire, who shal destroy and abolish and bring them to nothing before thy face quickly, as he hath spoken to thee. 4. Say not in thy hart, when the Lord thy God shal haue destroyed them in thy sight: For my iustice hath our Lord brought me in to possess this land, whereas these nations were destroyed for their impieties. 5. For not because of thy iustices and equitie of thy hart doest thou enter in to possess their lands: but because they haue done impiously, at thy entring in they are destroyed: and that our Lord might accomplish his word, which by oath he promised to thy fathers Abraham, Isaac, and Iacob. 6. Know therefore that not for thy iustices hath the Lord thy God giuen thee this excellent land in possession, whereas thou art a verie stiffe necked people. 7. Remember, and forget not how thou didst prouoke the Lord thy God to wrath in the wilderness. From the same day that thou camest out of Ægypt, vnto this place, thou hast alwayes contended against our Lord. 8. For in Horeb also thou didst prouoke him, and being wrath he would haue destroyed thee, 9. when I went vp into the mount, to receiue the tables of stone, of the couenant which our Lord made with you: and I continued in the mount fourtie daies and nights, not eating bread, nor drinking water. 10. And our Lord gaue me two tables of stone written with the finger of God, and conteyning al the words that he spake to you in the mount from the middes of the fyre, when the assemblie of the people was gathered. 11. And when fourtie dayes were passed, and as manie nights, our Lord gaue me the two tables of stone, the tables of couenant, 12. and he said to me: Arise, and goe downe from hence quickly: for thy people which thou didst bring out of Ægypt, haue quickly forsaken the way, that thou hast shewed them, and haue made them (b) a molten idol. 13. And againe our Lord said to me: I see that this people is stiffe necked: 14. suffer me that I may destroy them, and abolish their name from vnder heauen, and may set thee ouer a Nation, that is greater and stronger then this. 15. And when I came downe from the burning mount, and held the two tables of couenant with both hands, 16. and saw that you had sinned to the Lord your God, and had made you a molten calfe, and had quickly forsaken his way which he had shewed you, 17. I cast the tables out of my hands, and brake them in your sight. 18. And I fel downe before our Lord as before, fourtie dayes and nights not eating bread, nor drinking water, for al your finnes, which you committed against our Lord, and prouoked him to wrath: 19. for I feared his indignation and anger, wherwith being moued against you, he would haue destroyed you. And our Lord heard me this time also. 20. Against Aaron also being exceeding angrie, he would haue destroyed him, and for him in like manner did I pray. 21. And your sinne that you had committed, that is, the calfe, I tooke, and burnt it with fyre, and breaking it into pieces, and bringing it wholly into dust, I threw it into the torrent that descendeth from the mount. 22. In the burning also and in the tentation, and in the Sepulchres of concupiscence you prouoked our Lord: 23. and when he sent you from Cadesbarne, saying: Goe vp, and possesse the Land that I haue giuen you, and you contemned the commandement of your Lord God, and did not belieue him, neither would you heare his voice, 24. but were alwaies rebellious from the day that I began to know you. 25. And I lay before our Lord fourtie dayes and nights, in the which I humbly besought him, that he would not destroy you as he had threatned: 26. and praying I said: Lord God, destroy not thy people, and thine inheritance, which thou hast redeemed in thy greatness, whom thou didst bring out of Ægypt in a strong hand. 27. Remember thy seruants Abraham, Isaac, and Iacob: regard not the stubbornes of this people, and his impietie and sinne: 28. lest perhaps the inhabitants or the land, out. of which thou hast brought vs, say: The Lord could not bring them in vnto the Land, that he promised them, and he hated them: therefore did he bring them forth, that he might kil them in the wildernes. 29. Which are thy people and thyne inheritance, whom thou didst bring forth in thy great strength, and in thy stretched out arme.

(b) The similitude of a calfe, and called it their God. Exod. 32.

C H A P. X.

Moyse receiuing the second tables of the ten commandments, and making an arke, put them therein. 6. With mention of certaine places where the children of Israel had camped, of Aarons death, and of the Leuites offices, and possessions, 12. he inculcath the feare and loue of God, ana the keeping of his precepts. 16. Namely to circumcise the hart, 19. to loue strangers, 20. and not to serue, nor sweare by false Gods.

At that time our Lord said to me: Hew thee two tables of stone, as the former were, & come vp to me into the mount: & thou shalt make an arke of wood, 2. & I wil write in the tables the words that were in the, which before thou didst breake, & thou shalt put the in the arke. 3. I made therefore an arke of the wood Setim. And when I had hewed two tables of stone like to the former, I wēt vp into the mount, hauing them in my hands. 4. And he wrote in the tables, according as he had written before, the ten words, which our Lord spake to you in the mount from the middes of the fyre, when the people was gathered: and he gaue them to me. 5. And returning from the mount, I came downe, and put the tables into the arke, that I had made, which are there til this present, as our Lord commanded me. 6. And the children of Israel remoued their campe from Beroth of the children of Iacan into (a) Mosera, where Aaron died and was buried, for whom Eleazar his soone did the function of priesthood. 7. Thence they came into Gadgad: from the which place departing, they camped in Ietebatha, in a Land of waters and torrents. 8. At that time he separated the tribe of Leui, to carie the arke of the couenant of our Lord, and to stand before him in the ministerie, and to blesse in his name vntil this present day. 9. For the which cause Leui had no part nor possession with his brethren: because our Lord himself is his possession, as the Lord thy God promised him. 10. And I stood in the mount, as before, fourtie daies and nights: and our Lord heard me this time also, and would not destroy thee. 11. And he said to me: Goe, and march before the people, that they may enter, and possesse the Land,

(a) This Mosera where Aaron died, is more cōmonly called Hor. Num. 20. 23.

which

which I sware to their fathers that I would de iuer to them. 12. And now Iſrael, what doth the Lord thy God require of thee, but that thou feare the Lord thy God, and walke in his wayes, and loue him, and ſerue the Lord thy God with al thy hart, and with al thy ſoule: 13. and keep the commandments of our Lord, and his ceremonies, which I command thee this day, that it may be wel with thee: 14. Behold heauen is the Lords thy God, and the heauen of heauen, the earth and al things that are in it. 15. And yet to thy fathers was our Lord ioyned, and he loued them, and choſe their ſced after them, that is to ſay you, from al Nations, as this day it is proued. 16. Circumciſe therfore the prepuce of your hart, and your necke indurate no more: 17. becauſe the Lord your God he is the God of Gods, and the Lord of Lords, a great God and mightie, and terrible, that accepteth not perſon nor gifts. 18. He doth iudgement to the pupil and the widow, loueth the ſtranger, and giuerh him victual and rayment. 19. And doe you therfore loue ſtrangers becauſe you alſo were ſtrangers in the Land of Ægypt. 20. Thou ſhalt feare the Lord thy God, and ſerue him only: to him thou ſhalt cleaue, and (b) ſhalt ſweare in his name. 21. He is thy praiſe, and thy God, that hath done for thee theſe great and terrible things, which thyn eies haue ſeen. 22. In ſeuentie ſoules did thy fathers goe downe into Ægypt: and behold now the Lord thy God hath multiplied thee as the ſtarres of heauen.

(b) When iuſt
cauſe requireth an oath, it muſt be made in the name of God, not of falſe
Gods.

C H A P. XI.

For the benefits of God (wherof ſome are repeated, and others promiſed) the Iſraelites are bound to loue him. 16. But if they forſake him he threatneth puniſhments, 26. propoſing benediction and malediction as they ſhal deſerue.

OVE therfore the Lord thy God, and obſerue his precepts & ceremonies, his iudgements and commandments at al time. 2. Know this day the things that your children know not, who ſaw not the diſcipline of the Lord your God, his great doings and ſtrong hand and ſtretched out arme, 3. the ſignes and works which he did in the middeſ of Ægypt to Pharao the King, and to al his land, 4. and to al the hoſte of the Ægyptians, and to their horſes and charriots: how the waters of the red ſea covered them, when they perſued you, and how our Lord deſtroyed them vntil this preſent day: 5. and to you what things he hath done in the wildernes, til you came to this place: and to Dathan and Abiron the sonnes of Eliab, which was the sonne of Ruben: whom the earth opening her mouth swallowed vp with their houses and tabernacles, and al their substance, which they had in the middes of Israel. 7. Your eies haue seen al the great workes of our Lord, that he hath done, 8. that you may keepe al his commandements, which I command you this day, and may enter in, and possesse the Land, to the which you enter, 9. and may liue in it a great time: which our Lord by oath promised to your fathers, and to their seede, flowing with milke and honie. 10. For the Land, which thou goest to possesse, is not as the Land of Ægypt, which thou camest out of, where when the seed is sown, waters are brought in to water it after the manner of gardens: 11. but it is hilly and champion, expecting raine from heauen, 12. which the Lord thy God doth alwaies visite, and his eies are on it from the beginning of the yeare vnto the end therof. 13. If then you obey my commandments, which I command you this day, that you loue the Lord your God, and serue him with al your hart, and with al your soule, 14. he wil giue raine to your Land: (c) the timely and the lateward, that you may gather your corne, and wine, and oile, 15. and haye out of the fields to feed your cattel, and that your selues may eat and be filled. 16. Beware lest perhaps your hart be deceived, and you depart from our Lord, and serue strange Gods, & adore them: 17. and our Lord being wrath shut vp heauen, and the raine come not downe, nor the earth giue her spring, and you perish quickly from the excellent Land, which our Lord wil giue you. 18. Put these my wordes in your harts and mindes, and hang them for a signe on your hands, and place them between your eies. 19. Teach your children that they meditate them, when thou sittest in thy houie, and walkest on the way, and liest downe and ryfest vp. 20. Thou shalt write them vpon the posts and gates of thy house: 21. that thy dayes may be multiplied, and the dayes of thy children in the Land, which our Lord sware to thy fathers, that he would giue it them as long as the heauen hangeth ouer the earth. 22. For if you keepe the commandments which I command you, and doe them, that you loue the Lord your God, & walke in al his wayes, cleauing to him, 23. our Lord wil destroy al these nations before your face, and you shal possesse them, which are greater and stronger then you. 24. Euerie place that your foote shal tread, shal be yours. From the desert, and from Libanus, from the great riuer Euphrates vnto the west sea shal be your borders. 25. None shal stand against you: your terrour & feare shal the Lord your God giue vpon al the land that you shal treade, as he hath spoken to you. 26. Behold I set forth in your sight this day (d) benediction and malediction: 27. benediction, if you obey the comandments of the Lord your God, which I command you this day: 28. malediction, if you obey not the commandments of the Lord your God, but reuolt from the way, which now I doe shew you, and walke after strange Gods,

which

(c) Raine after sending and before harvest, signifieth Gods grace first stirring vp the soule, and assisting the same to the end.

The second lesson in Masse on Imber Saturday in Lent.

(d) God worketh, and we cooperate, for he taketh not away, but helpeth freewil. S. Aug. q. 15. in Dem.

which you know not. 29. And when the Lord thy God shall haue brought thee into the Land, to the which thou goest to inhabite, thou shalt put the benediction vpon mount Garizim, the malediction vpon mount Hebal: 30. which are beyond Iordan behind the way that bendeth to the going downe of the sunne in the Land of the Chanaanite, which dwelleth in the champion countrie against Galgala, which is beside the valle that reacheth and entreth farre. 31. For you shall passe ouer Iordan, to possesse the Land which the Lord your God wil giue you, that you may haue and possesse it. 32. See therefore that you fulfil the ceremonies and iudgements, which I shall set this day in your sight.

C H A P. XII.

Al idolacrie, and whatsoeuer apperteineth therto must be destroyed. 5. Sacrifices, tithes, and donaries must be offered in the special place. 15. Eating flesh they must not eate the blood. 29. In no case to imitate the idolacrie of gentiles.

H E S E are the precepts and iudgements, that you must doe in the Land, which the Lord God of thy fathers wil giue thee, to possesse it al the daies, that thou shalt goe vpon the earth. 2. Subuert al places, wherin the nations, which you shall possesse, worshipped their Gods vpon the high mountaines, and hils, and vnder euerie tree ful of leaues. 3. Ouerthrow their altars, and breake their statues, their groues burne with fire, and their Idols hew al to pieces: destroy their names out of those places. 4. You shall not doe so to the Lord your God: . but (a) to the place, which the Lord your God hath chosen of al your tribes, to put his name there and to dwel in it, that you come: 6. and shall offer in that place your holocausts and victimes, the tithes and first fruits of your hands, and your vowes and donaries, the first borne of your oxen and sheep. 7. And you shall eate there in the sight of the Lord your God: and you shall reioyce in al things, whereunto you shall put your hand, you and your house, wherin the Lord your God hath blessed you. 8. You shall not doe there the things, that we doe here this day (b) euerie man that which seemeth good to himself. 9. For vntil this present time you are not come to rest, and to the possession, which the Lord your God wil giue you. 10. You shall passe ouer Iordan, and shall dwel in the Land which the Lord your God wil giue you, that you may haue rest from al enemies round about: and may dwel without al feare, 11. in the place, which the Lord your God shall choose, that his name may be therein. Thither shall you bring al the things, that I command you, holocausts,

(a) Peculiar place appropriate to Gods seruice.

(b) In the desert they could not obserue the ceremonies of the Law: but comming to rest they were bound to keepe al one yet forme of holie rites.

and hosts, and tithes, and the first fruits of your hands : and whatsoever is the principal in the gifts , that you shall vow to our Lord. 12. There shall you feast before the Lord your God , you and your sonnes and daughters, men seruants and women seruants, and the Leuite that dwelleth in your cities. for he hath no other part and possession among you. 13. Beware thou offer not thy holocausts in euerie place, that thou shalt see : 14. but in that which our Lord shall choose, in one of thy tribes shalt thou offer hosts, and shalt doe what things soeuer I command thee. 15. But if thou wilt eat, and the eating of flesh delight thee , kil, and eat according to the blessing of the Lord thy God , which he hath giuen thee in thy cities : whether it be vncleane, that is to say, blemished and feeble: or cleane , that is to say, sound and without blemish , such as is lawful to be offered, as the doa and the hart, shalt thou eat it, 16. only without eating of the blood, which thou shalt power out vpon the earth as water. 17. Thou canst not eat in thy townes the tithes of thy corne, and wine, and oyle , the first borne of thy heards and cattel, and al things that thou vowest, and that thou wilt offer voluntarily, and the first fruits of thy hands : 18. but before the Lord thy God shalt thou eat them in the place, which the Lord thy God shall choose, thou and thy soune and thy daughter, and man seruant, and woman seruant, and the Leuite that dwelleth in thy cities : and thou shalt reioyce and be refreshed before the Lord thy God in al things , whereunto thou shalt extend thy hand. 19. Take heed thou forsake not the Leuite al the time that thou liuest in the land. 20. When the Lord thy God shall haue dilated thy borders , as he hath spoken to thee, and thou wilt eat the flesh, that thy soule desireth : 21. and if the place be farre off, which the Lord thy God shall choose, that his name may be there , thou shalt kil of the heards and cattel, which thou hast , as I haue commanded thee , and shalt eat in thy townes, as it pleaseth thee. 22. As the doa is eaten and the hart, so shalt thou eat them: both the cleane and vncleane shall eat in common. 23. This onlie beware , that thou eat not the blood , for their blood is for the soule : and therefore thou must not eat the soule with the flesh : 24. but vpon the earth thou shalt power it as water, 25. that it may be wel with thee and thy children after thee, when thou shalt doe that which pleaseth in the sight of our Lord. 26. But the things which thou hast sanctified, and vowed to our Lord , thou shalt take vp, and shalt come to the place, which our Lord shall choose: 27. and shalt offer thy oblations the flesh and the blood vpon the altar of the Lord thy God : the blood of thy hosts thou shalt power on the altar : and the flesh thy self shalt eat. 28. Obserue and heare al things that I command thee, that it may be wel with thee & thy children after thee for euer , when thou shalt doe that which is good & pleasing in the sight of the Lord thy God. 29. When the Lord thy God shall haue destroyed before thy face the nations, that thou entrest in to possesse, & thou shalt possesse the, & dwel in their land: 30. beware lest thou imitate the,

after

after they be subuerted at thy entring in , and thou require their ceremonies, saying : As these nations haue worshipped their Gods , so wil I also worship. 31. Thou shalt not doe in like manner to the Lord thy God. For al the abominations , that our Lord doeth abhorre , haue they done to their Gods , offering their sonnes and daughters , and burning them with fyre. 32. What I command thee, " that onlie doe to our Lord : neither adde any thing , nor diminish.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. XII.

32. That only to our Lord.] Whereas the Gentiles offered their sonnes and daughters (v. 31.) and other abominable sacrifices to Idols , God commandeth his people to offer those things only , which are prescribed by the law , and neither to immolate anie other thing, nor exclude anie thing appointed by the same law for sacrifice. As for other precepts , it is likewise forbid to adde or diminish anie thing that may corrupt the law: but was euer lawful for Superiours, to adde more precepts agreeable , and not contrarie to the former. So King Dauid established a new law that such as stayed with the baggage , should haue like portion of the prey , with those that fought in battel. 1. Reg. 30. And our Sauour by his presence (Ioan 10.) approued the feast of dedication , instituted long after Moyse's law. 1. Machab. 4.

No hostes lawful in sacrifice but such as the law appointed.

New precepts may be added, not contrarie to the former.

C H A P. XIII.

False Prophets must be slaine , 6. how nere soeuer they be in kinned , or freindschip. 12. The whole citie that shal permit false doctrine must be utterly destroyed, men, beast, and al moucables, and neuer be built againe.

I f there rise in the middes of thee a Prophet, or one that saith he hath seen a dreame , and foretel a signe and a wonder, 2. and it come to passe which he spake, and he say to thee : (a) Let vs goe , and folow strange Gods , which thou knowest not , and let vs serue them : 3. thou shalt not heare the words of that Prophet or dreamer : for the Lord your God tempteth you, that it may appeare whether you loue him or no, with al your hart, and with al your soule. 4. Folow the Lord your God, and feare him, and keep his commandments , and heare his voice : him you shal serue , and to him

(a) Noueltie in Religion is a marke of idolatrie or heretic.

you shal cleaue. 5. And that Prophet or forger of dreames shal be slaine: because he spake that he might auert you from the Lord your God, which brought you out of the Land of Ægypt, and redced you from the house of seruitude: that he might make thee to erre from the way, that the Lord thy God commanded thee: and thou shalt take away the euil out of the middes of thee. 6. If thy brother the sonne of thy mother, or thy sonne or daughter, or thy wife that is in thy bosome, or thy freind, whom thou louest as thy soule, wil perswade thee secretly, saying: Let vs goe, and serue strange Gods, which thou knowest not, nor thy fathers, 7. of al nations round about, that be nigh or farre, from the beginning vnto the end of the earth, 8. consent not to him, nor heare him, neither let thine eie spare him to pitie and hide him, 9. but (b) forthwith thou shalt kil him. Let thy hand be first vpon him, and after thee al the people lay hand on him. 10. With stoues shal he be stoned to death: because he would haue withdrawn thee from the Lord thy God, which brought thee out of the Land of Ægypt, from the house of seruitude: 11. that al Israel hearing may feare, and may doe no more any thing like to this. 12. If in one of thy cities, which the Lord thy God shal giue thee to inhabite, thou heare some say: 13. There are gone forth (c) children of Belial out of the middes of thee, and haue auerted the inhabitants of their citie, and haue said: Let vs goe, and serue strange Gods which you know not: 14. inquire carefully, and diligently, the truth of the thing being looked into, if thou find it certaine that is said, and that this abomination is in act committed, 15. thou shalt forthwith strike the inhabitants of that citie in the edge of the sword, and shalt destroy it and al things that are in it, vnto the very beasts. 16. What stuffe also soeuer there is, thou shalt gather together in the middes of the streets therof, and shalt burne it with the citie it-seife, so that thou consume al things to the Lord thy God, and it be a heap for euer: it shal be built no more, 17. and there shal nothing sticke in thy hand of that anathema: that our Lord may be turned from the wrath of his furie, and may haue mercie on thee, and multiplie thee as he sware to thy fathers, 18. when thou shalt heare the voice of the Lord thy God, keeping al his precepts, which I command thee this day, that thou mayest doe that which is pleasing in the sight of the Lord thy God.

(b) Euerie priuate mā is not commanded nor warrented by this to kil: but euerie one is bound to informe the Magistrate, and so by order of iustice to proceed against the wicked.

(c) Such as wil not indure discipline are called children of Belial, that is without yoke.

CHAP. XIII.

Gentiles manner of mourning for the dead is prohibited. 3. Likewise to cate things vncleane, with mention of certaine cleane and vncleane beasts, 9. fishes, 11. and birds. 21. Also precepts of pietie, clemencie, paying riches, first fruits, 27. nourishing of Leuites, strangers, orphanes, and widowes.

BE ye the children of the Lord your God : you shal not cut your selues, nor make bauldnes for the dead. 2. because thou art a holie people to the Lord thy God : and he chose thee to be his peculiar people of al nations that are vpon the earth. 3. Eat not the things that are vncleane. 4. This is the beast, that you ought to eat : The ox, and the sheep, and the goat, 5. the hart and the doe, the buffle, the chamois, the pygargue, the wild beefe, the camelopard. 6. Euerie beast, that diuideth the hoofe in tve parts, and cheweth the cud, shal you eat. 7. But of them that chew the cud, and diuide not the hoofe, these you shal not eat, as the camel, the hare, the cherogril : because they chew the cud, & diuide not the hoofe, they shal be vncleane to you. 8. The swine also, because it diuideth the hoof, and cheweth not the cud, shal be vncleane. their flesh you shal not eat, and their carcasses you shal not touch. 9. These shal you eat of al that abide in the waters: Such as haue finnes and scales, eat : 10. them that are without finnes & scales, eat not, because they are vncleane. 11. Al birdes that are cleane eat. 12. The vncleane eat not : to wit, the eagle, and the grype, & the osprey, 13. the ringtaile, and the vultur and kite according to their kinde : 14. and al of the rauens kind, 15. and the ostrich, and the owle, and the sterne, and the hawke according to his kind : 16. the herodian and the swanne, and the storke, 17. and the diuer, the prophyrion, and nightcrow, 18. the onocratal, and the charadrion, euerie one in their kind : the lapwing also and the bat. 19. And al that crepeth and hath litle wings, shal be vncleane, and shal not be eaten. 20. Al that is cleane, eat. 21. But whatfoeuer is dead of it-selfe, eat not therof. (a) To the stranger, that is within thy gates, giue it to eat, or sel it to him: because thou art the holie people of our Lord thy God. Thou shalt (b) not boyle a kid in the milke of his damme. 22. The tenth part thou shalt seperate of al thy fruits that spring in the earth euerie yeare, 23. and thou shalt eat in the sight of our Lord thy God in the place, which he shal choofe, that his name may be inuocated therein, the tithe of thy corne,

a) If these things were vncleane by nature, they were not lawful for anie nation to eat, but being only forbid to the Iewes, sheweth that this prohibition was ceremonial, only for that time & people.

(b) Al shew of crueltie to be avoided. Mytically this prefigured, that Christ (for the similitude of sinful flesh signified by a kid) should not be slaine in his intancie. S. 7/10. 1. 2. 9. 102. 2. 6. ad 4.

and wine, and oile, and the first borne of thy heards and sheep: that thou mayst learne to feare our Lord thy God at al time. 24. But when the way, and the place which our Lord thy God shal choofe, are farre, and he hath blessed thee, and thou canst not carie al these things thither, 25. thou shalt sel, and bring al into a price, and shalt carie it in thy hand, and shalt goe to the place, which our Lord thy God shal choofe: 26. and thou shalt buy with the same money whatsoever pleaseth thee, either of heards, or of sheep, wine also and licere, and al that thy soule desireth: and thou shalt eate before our Lord thy God, and shalt feast, thou and thy house: 27. and the Leuite that is within thy gates, beware thou forsake him not, because he hath no other part in thy possession. 28. The third yeare thou shalt separate an other tenth of al things, that grow to thee at that time: and shalt lay it vp within thy gates. 29. And the Leuite shal come that hath no other part nor possession with thee, and the stranger and pupil and widow, that are within thy gates, and shal eate and be filled: that our Lord thy God may blesse thee in al the workes of thy hands that thou shalt doe.

 C H A P. XV.

Remission of debts in the seventh yeare to the Israelites, but not to strangers. 4. Albeit there wil alwayes be some poore, yet they must so lend to their needie brethren, that none be forced to beg. 12. A bought seruant that is an Hebrew must be set free in the seventh yeare, 16. except he desire to serue stil. 19. The first-borne in al cattel must be consecrated to God, without making priuate profite therof.

IN the seventh yeare thou shalt make a remission, 2. which shal be celebrated in this order. He to whom any thing is owing of his freind or neighbour and brother, can not aske it againe, because it is the yeare of remission of our Lord. 3. Of the sciouner and stranger thou shalt exact: of thy countrie man & neighbour thou shalt not haue power to require it. 4. And (4) needie person and begger there shal be none among you: that our Lord thy God may blesse thee in the land, which he wil giue thee in possession. 5. Yet so if thou heare the voice of our Lord thy God, & keep al things that he hath bid, and which I command thee this day, he wil blesse thee, as he hath promised. 6. Thou shalt lend to manie nations, & thy selfe shalt barrow of

4) The Israelites were bound to doe their endeaour that none should be needie among them: notwithstanding for exercise of loue and charitie, Gods providence suffered some to be poore. v. 7.

no man. Thou shalt haue dominion ouer verie manie nations, and no man shall haue dominion ouer thee. 7. If one of thy brethren that abideth within the gates of thy citie in the land, which our Lord thy God wil giue thee, come to pouertie: thou shalt not harden thy hart, nor close thy hand, 8. but shalt open it to the poore man, and shalt lend him, that which thou perceiuest he hath need of. 9. Beware lest perhaps an impious cogitation steale in vpon thee, and thou say in thy hart: The seuenth yeare of remission draweth nigh: & turne away thy eies from thy poore brother denying to lend him that which he asketh: lest he crie against thee to our Lord, and (b) it become a sinne vnto thee. 10. But thou shalt giue to him: neither shalt thou doe any thing craftily in releasing his necessities: that our Lord thy God may blesse thee at all times, and in all things whereunto thou shalt put thy hand. 11. There shall not want poore in the land of thy habitation: therefore I command thee that thou open thy hand to thy needie and poore bother, that liueth in the Land. 12. When thy brother an Hebrew man, or Hebrew woman is sold to thee, and hath serued thee six yeares, in the seuenth yeare thou shalt let him goe free: 13. and to whom thou giuest freedom, thou shalt in no case suffer him to depart emptie: 14. but giue him his wayfare of thy flocks, and of thy barne floore, and thy presse, wherewith our Lord thy God shall blesse thee. 15. Remember that thy self also didst serue in the Land of Egypt, and our Lord thy God made thee free, and therefore doe I now command thee. 16. But if he say: I wil not depart; because he loueth thee, and thy house, and feeleth that he is wel with thee: 17. thou shalt take an awle, and bore through his eare in the dore of thy house, & he shall serue thee for euer. To thy woman seruant also thou shalt doe in like manner. 18. Turne not away thine eies from them, when thou makest them free: because he hath serued thee six yeares after the wages of an hireling: that our Lord thy God may blesse thee in all the workes that thou doest. 19. Of the first borne, that come forth in thy herds and sheep, whatsoeuer is of the male sexe, thou shalt sanctifie to our Lord thy God. Thou shalt not worke with the first borne of an oxe, and thou shalt not sheare the first borne of thy sheep. 20. In the sight of our Lord thy God shalt thou eate them euerie yeare in the place, that our Lord shall choose, thou and thy house. 21. But if it haue blemish, and be either lame, or blind, or in any part disfigured or feete, it shall not be immolated to our Lord thy God: 22. but within the gates of thy citie shalt thou eate it: as wel the cleane as the vncleane in like manner shall eate them, as the doo and thee hart. 23. This onie shalt thou obserue, that their blood thou eate not, but power it out on the earth as water.

(b) He that can and wil not feede his neighbour in extremities, killeth him.
S. Ambrosii. 2. de
Offic. c. 7.

C H A P. XVI.

Three more solemne feasts to be kept euerie yeare, Pasch, 9. Pentecost, 13. and the feast of tabernacles. 18. Iust Iudges to be appointed in euerie citie. 21. Al occasions of Idolatrie to be auoyed.

The rest of the feasts are mentioned Leuit. 23. Num. 28. & 29.
(*) Here onely three of the principal.

1.
Pasch.

BSERVE the month of new corne, and (2) the first of the spring time, that thou mayest make the Phase to our Lord thy God: because in this month our Lord thy God brought thee out of Ægypt by night. 2. And thou shalt immolate the Phase to our Lord thy God, of sheep, and of oxen in the place which our Lord thy God shal choose, that his name may dwel there.

3. Thou shalt not eat in it leauened bread: Seuen daies shalt thou eat without leauen, the bread of affliction, because in feare didst thou come out of Ægypt: that thou mayest remember the day of thy coming out of Ægypt al the dayes of thy life. 4. Leauened shal not appeare in al thy coasts for seueu daies, and there shal not remayne of the flesh of that which was immolated at euen the first day vntil morning. 5. Thou canst not immolate the Phase in euerie one of thy cities, which our Lord thy God wil giue thee; 6. but in the place which our Lord thy God shal choose, that his name may dwel there: thou shalt immolate the Phase at euen at the going downe of the sunne, when thou camest out of Ægypt. 7. And thou shalt boyle, and eat it in the place, which our Lord thy God shal choose, and in the morning ryling vp thou shalt goe into thy tents. 8. Six daies shalt thou eat azymes: and in the seuenth day, because it is the collection of our Lord thy God, thou shalt doe no worke. 9. Seuen weekes shalt thou number thee from that day wherein thou didst put the sicke to the corne, 10. and thou shalt celebrate the festiual day of weekes to our Lord thy God, a voluntarie oblation of thy hand, which thou shalt offer according to the blessing of our Lord thy God: 11. and thou shalt feast before our Lord thy God, thou, and thy sonne, and thy daughter, and thy man seruant, and thy woman seruant, and the Leuite that is within thy gates, and the stranger and pupil and widow, which abide with you: in the place which our Lord thy God shal choose, that his name may dwel there: 12. and thou shalt remember that thou wast a seruant in Ægypt: and thou shalt keep and doe the things that are commanded. 13. The solemnitie also of Tabernacles thou shalt celebrate seuen daies, when thou hast gathered thy fruit of the barne floore and the prisse: and thou shalt feast in the festiuitie, thou, thy sonne, and thy daughter,

2.
Pentecost.

3.
Feast of Tabernacles.

thy

thy man seruant and woman seruant, the Leuite also and stranger, and pupil and widow that are within thy gates. 15. Seuen daies shalt thou celebrate the feasts to our Lord thy God in the place which our Lord shall choose: and our Lord thy God wil blesse thee in al thy fruits, and in euerie worke of thy hands, and thou shalt be in ioy. 16. Three times in a yeare shall al thy male appeare in the sight of our Lord thy God in the place which he shall choose: in the solemnitie of Azymes, in the solemnitie of weeks, and in the solemnitie of Tabernacles. There shall not appeare before our Lord any emptie: 17. but euerie one shall offer according to that he hath, according to the blessing of our Lord his God, which he shall giue him. 18. Iudges and maisters shalt thou appoynt in al thy gates, which our Lord thy God shall giue thee, in euerie of thy tribes: that they may iudge the people with iust iudgement, 19. and not decline to either part. Thou shalt not accept person, nor gifts: because that gifts blind the eies of the wise, and change the words of the iust. (b) 20. Iustly shalt thou pursue that which is iust: that thou mayest liue and possesse the Land, which our Lord thy God shall giue thee. 21. Thou shalt plant no groue, nor any tree neer the altar of our Lord thy God. 22. Neither shalt thou make nor set to thy self a statue: which thing our Lord thy God hateth.

(b) It is not enough to doe that is iust, except it be done iustly, to a good end, for loue of iustice.

C H A P. XVII.

Perfect hostes, not maimed nor defectiue, must be offered to God, Idolaters stoned to death. 3. When inferiour iudges differ, the cause must be accided by the High Priest in cōsistorie, who is warranted not to erre therein, & al are bound to obey his sentence. 14. The dutie also of a King (whom in future time God wil condescend to giue them) is described, with special charge to receiue the law of God at the Priestes hands.

H O V shalt not immolate to our Lord thy God a sheep and an ox, wherein there is blemish, or any fault: because it is abomination to our Lord thy God. 2. When there shall be found with thee within one of thy gates, which our Lord thy God shall giue thee, man or woman that doe euil in the sight of our Lord thy God, and transgresse his conuenant, 3. that they goe and serue strange Gods, and adore them, the sunne and the moone, and al the hoiste of heauen, which things I commanded not, 4. and this is told thee, and hearing it thou shalt inquired diligently, and found it to be true, and the abomination is committed in Israel: 5. thou shalt bring forth the man and the woman, that haue committed that most heynous thing, to the gates of thy citie, and they shal be stoned. 6. At the mouth of two or three witnesses shal he perish that is to be slaine. Let no man be killed, one onlie giuing testimonie against him. 7. The hand of the witnesses shal be first to kil him, and the hand of the rest of the people shal be layd on last: that thou mayest take away the euil out of the middes of thee. 8. " If thou perceiue that the iudgement with thee be hard and doubtful between bloud and bloud, cause and cause, leprosie and not leprosie: and thou see that the words of the iudges within thy gates doe vary: arise, and goe vp to the place, which our Lord thy God shal choose. 9. And thou shalt come to the Priests of the Leuitical stocke, and to (a) the iudge, that shal be at that time: and thou shalt aske of them, " who shal shew thee the truth of the iudgement. 10. And thou shalt doe whatsoever they, that are (b) Presidents of the place which our Lord shal choose, shal say and teach thee, 11. according to his law; and thou shalt folow their sentence: neither shalt thou decline to the right hand nor to the left hand. 12. But " he that shal be proud, refusing to obey the commandement of the Priest, which at that time ministreth to our Lord thy God, and the decree of the iudge, that man shal die, and thou shalt take away the euil out of Israel: 13. and the whole people hearing shal feare, that none afterward swel in pride. 14. When thou art entred the Land, which our Lord thy God wil giue thee, and doest possesse it, and dwellest in it, and sayest: I wil set a King ouer me, as al nations haue round about: 15. him shalt thou set, whom our Lord thy God shal choose of the number of thy brethren. A man of an other nation that is not thy brother, thou canst not make King. 16. And when he is made, he shal not multiplie to himselfe horses, nor lead backe the people into Ægypt, taking high courage for the number of his horsemen, especially whereas our Lord hath commanded you that in no case you returne any more the same way. 17. He (c) shal not haue manie wiues, that may allure his mind, nor huge weights of siluer & gold. 18. And after he shal sit in the throne of his Kingdome, he shal copie to himselfe the Deuteronomie of this Law in a volume, (d) taking the copie of the Priests of the Leuitical tribe, 19. & he shal haue it with him, & shal reade it al the dayes of his life, that he may learne to feare our Lord his God, and keep his words and ceremonies, that are commanded in the law. 20. And that his hart be not lifted vp into pride ouer his brethren, nor decline to the right side or the left side, that he may reigne a long time, and his sonnes ouer Israel.

(a) In the Council of Priests one supreme Iudge, which was the High-Priest. v. 12.

(b) There were not manie Presidents at once, but in succession, one after an other.

(c) Pluralitie of wiues is not here forbid; for King Dauid transgressed not this precept hauing more then one or two: but Salomon offended in multiplying manie wiues. S. Aug. 9. 27. in Deut.

(d) Temporal good Princes take the law, and word of God, at the Priests hands.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. XVII.

8. If the iudgements be heard.] For a full and assured decision of all controuersies, God here instituted to his people a supreme Tribunal, that in case inferiour Iudges varied in iudgement, recourse might be had to the Council of Priests, where one chiefe Iudge, the High-Priest, was appointed to giue sentence, and all others commanded to receiue and obey the same.

9. Who sh. l. shew the truth.] God so assisted this Consistorie with his spirit of truth, that their sentence was infallible: though otherwise they might erre, either in life, or in priuate opinion. Wherefore, our Saviour distinguishing between their publike doctrine, and their workes, taught the people, that for so much as the Scribes and Pharisees sate in Moyses chaire, and yet transgressed Gods commandements, euery one should observe and doe as they said: but not doe according to their workes. Mat. 23. And S. Iohn ascribeth the true sentence giuen by Caiphias in the Council, to his office of High-Priest, saying: (Ioan. 11.) He said not this of himselfe, but being the high-priest of that yeare, he prophesied that Iesus should die for the nation, & to gather into one the children of God. Where the high-Priest by vertue and priuiledge of his office, vttered the truth, which himselfe neither meant nor vnderstood. And this happened when the Law and Priesthood of the Iewes was to decline and giue place to Christs new ordinance, and therefore no doubt God euer directed the sentence of the high-Priest: and most specially now Christ preferueth the Apostolike See from errour in faith, and in general decrees touching manners: yea though the chiefe visible Iudge were as wicked as Caiphias. And therefore the Protestants euasion is friuolous, limiting the Priests sentence to bind the subiects, so long as he is the true minister of God, and pronounceth according to his word. For except God assisted him, that he should pronounce according to his word, and so all men rest satisfied, submitting themselves to his sentence, the controuersie should be endless, and this Consistorie nothing worth: but stil be new examinations, and new iudgements, whether the former were according to Gods word or no.

12. He that shall be proud.] This also conuinceth, that all were bound to accept of the high-Priests sentence, the law condemning him of pride, that refused to obey the commandment of the Priest, which at that time ministered to our Lord; and for his disobedience punishing him with death.

Supreme Iudge of controuersies.

Sentence of the Iewes Consistorie infallible.

The high-Priest was chief Iudge.

Protestants friuolous euasion.

Pride in priuate opinion punished with death.

English Bible. 1603.

C H A P. X V I I I.

In stead of other inheritance Priests and Leuites haue prouision by Sacrifices and oblations. 9. Al superstition to be auoided. 15. Perpetuie of Prophets, and finally one special P R O P H E T (to wit C H R I S T) is promised. 20. False Prophets must be slaine.

THE Priests and Leuites, and al that are of the same tribe, shal haue no part nor inheritance with the rest of Israel, because they shal eat the sacrifices of our Lord, and his oblations, 2. and nothing els shal they receiue of the possession of their brethren: for our Lord himselfe is their inheritance, as he hath spoken to them. 3. This shal be the right of the Priests from the people, and from them that offer victimes: whether they immolate oxen, or sheep, they shal giue to the Priest the shoulder and the maw: 4. the first fruits of corne, of wine, and oyle, and a part of the wool of their sheep-shearing. 5. For him hath our Lord chosen of al thy tribes, that he might stand and minister to our Lord, he and his sonnes for euer. 6. If a Leuite goe out of one of thy cities of al Israel in the which he dwelleth, and would come desiring the place which our Lord shal choose, 7. he shal minister in the name of our Lord his God, as al his brethren the Leuites, that shal stand at that time before our Lord. 8. He shal receiue the same portion of meates that the rest doe: beside that, which in his owne cite is due to him by succession from his fathers. 9. When thou art entred the Land, which our Lord thy God shal giue thee, beware thou be not willing to imitate the abominations of those nations. 10. Neither let there be found in thee any that shal expiate his sonne, or daughter, making them to passe through the fire: or that demandeth of southerners, and obserueth dreames and diuinations, neither let there be a forcerer, 11. nor inchanter, nor that consulteth with pithone, or diuiners, and seeketh the truth of the dead. 12. For al these things our Lord abhorreth, and for these abominations wil he destroy them at thy entring in. 13. Thou shalt be perfect & without spot with our Lord thy God. 14. These nations, whose land thou shalt possesse, heare southerners and diuiners: but thou art otherwise instructed of our Lord thy God." 15. A P R O P H E T of thy nation & of thy brethren like vnto me, wil our Lord thy God raise vp to thee: him thou shalt heare, 16. as thou didst request of our Lord thy God in Horeb, when the assemblee was gathered, and saidst: I wil no more heare the voice of our Lord my God, and this exceeding great fire I wil see no more, lest I die. 17. And our Lord said to me: They haue spoken al

things

things wel. 18. A Prophet wil I rayse vpto them out of the middes of their brethren like to thee : and I wil put my words in his mouth, and he shal speake al things that I shal command him. 19. But he that wil not heare his words, which he shal speake in my name, I wil be the reuenger. 20. And the Prophet that being depraued with arrogancie wil speake in my name, the things (a) that I did not command him to say, (b) or in the name of strange Gods, shal be slaine. 21. And if in secret cogitation thou answer : How shal I vnderstand the word, that our Lord spake not? 22. This signe thou shalt haue : That which the same Prophet foretelleth, in the name of the Lord, & commeth not to passe : that our Lord hath not spoken, but by the arrogancie of his mind the Prophet hath forged it : and therefore thou shalt not feare him.

(a) This sort of false Prophets signified Heretikes, that preach false things in Christs name. (b) These prefigured Apostates, which renouncing Christ, expressly professe false Gods.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. XVIII.

15. A PROPHEET of thy nation.) Amongst other places this plainly pro- ueth that the same words in holie Scripture may haue diuers literal senses. For first the coherence of the text sheweth, that God here promised to giue his people another extraordinarie Prophet, after Moyses death, of their owne nation; as wel to take away occasion of seeking to southsayers, diuiners, and other prophane prophets of false Gods, strictly forbidden in the words going immediately before; as in approbation of their conuenient desire, mentioned in the words folowing, to heare Gods wil, not by himself, nor by an Angel, but by Moyses, who was now shortly to be taken from them. And so this promise was first performed in Iosue, succeeding next after Moyses in gouernment. And as neede required God ceased not to send more Prophets besides their ordinarie Priests. Againe this place is also vnderstood of Christ our Sauour, chief Prophet, and master of al Prophets, S. Peter so expounding it. Act. 3. v. 22. & 23.

The same words may haue diuers literal senses.

C H A P. X I X.

Certaine cities of refuge must be assigned for casual manslaughter. 11. Wilful murder punished by death without remission, 15. so it be conuincd by two or three witnesses. 16. False witnesses punished with the pain, which the crime objected deserueth.

(a) The way to the cities of refuge were paued, and markes set for direction, that he which fled might not erre in his way.

(b) This was sayd to the whole people, who must not intreat for the murderers pardon: but the kinsmen of him that was slaine, might remit the punisshment.

WHEN our Lord thy God hath destroyed the nations, whose land he wil deliuer to thee, and thou doest possesse it, and dwellest in the cities and houses therof: 2. three cities shalt thou separate to thee in the middes of the Land, which our Lord thy God wil giue thee in possession, 3. (a) preparing diligently the way: and thou shalt diuide the whole prouince of thy Land equally into three parts: that he which for murder is a fugitiue, may haue neere at hand, whither to escape. 4. This shall be the law of the murderer that flyeth, whose life is to be saued: He that striketh his neighbour vnwitting, & that is proued yesterday & the day before to haue had no hatred against him, 5. but to haue gone with him simply vnto the wood to cut wood, and in cutting of wood the axe slipped out of his hand, & the yron falling from the handle strucke his freind, and killed him: he shall fly to one of the cities aforesaid, and liue: 6. lest perhaps the next kinsman of him, whose bloud was shed, pricked with sorow, pursue, and apprehend him if the way be too long, and strike his life that is not guiltie of death, because he is proued to haue had no hatred before, against him that was slaine. 7. Therefore I command thee, that thou separate three cities of equal distance one from an other. 8. And when our Lord thy God shall haue dilated thy borders, as he sware to thy fathers, and shall giue thee all the Land that he promised them (9. yet so, if thou keep his commandements, & doe the things which I command thee this day, that thou loue our Lord thy God, and walke in his wayes at all time) thou shalt adde to thee other three cities, and shalt double the number of the three cities aforesaid: 10. that innocent bloud be not shed in the middes of the Land, which our Lord thy God wil giue thee to possesse, lest thou be guiltie of bloud. 11. But if any man hating his neighbour, lie in wayte for his life, and rise and strike him, and he die, and he fly to one of the cities aforesaid, 12. the ancients of his citie shall send, and take him out of the place of refuge, and shall deliuer him into the hand of the kinsman of him, whose bloud was shed, & he shall die. 13. (b) Thou shalt not pitie him, & thou shalt take away the guiltie bloud out of Israell, that it may be wel with thee. 14. Thou shalt not take, and transerre thy neighbours bounds, which thy predeceffours did set in thy possession, which our Lord thy God wil giue thee in the Land, that thou shalt receiue to possesse. 15. One witnesse shal not stand against any man, whatsoeuer sinne, or wickednesse it be: but in the mouth of two or three witnessies shal euerie word stand. 16. If a lying witnesse stand against a man, accusing him of preuarication, 17. both of them, whose the cause is, shal stand before our Lord in the sight of the Priests and the iudges that shal be in those daies. 18. And when searching most diligently, they shal find that the false witnes hath said a lie against his brother: 19. they shal render to him as he meant to doe to this brother, and thou shalt take away the euil out of the middes of thee: 20. that others hearing may haue feare, and may not be bold to doe such things. 21. (c) Thou shalt not pitie him, but life for life, eie for eie, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foote for foote shalt thou exact.

(c) This pertained to the Iudge, who without partialitie must doe iustice.

CHAP. XX.

Lawful warras are to be vndertaken with courage and confidence. 5. Such as for special causes may be discouraged, must be dismissed from the field, 10. What to be obserued towards the enemy. 19. What trees may not be cut downe, and what sorte may be, for the vse of warras.

IF thou goe forth to warre against thine enemies, and see the horse men and chariots, and the multitude of the aduersaries hoste greater then thou hast, thou shalt not feare them: because the Lord thy God is with thee, which brought thee out of the Land of Ægypt. 2. And when the battel is now at hand, the Priest shal stand before the armie, and shal speake to the people thus: 3. Heare Israel, you this day ioyne battel against your enemies, let not your hart feare, be not afraid, retire not, neither dread them: 4. because our Lord your God is in the middes of you, & wil fight for you against your aduersaries, to deliuer you from danger. 5. The Captaines also through euerie band in the hearing of the hoste shal proclaime: (d) What man is there that hath built a new house, & hath not dedicated it? let him goe, & returne into his house, lest perhaps he die in the battel, & an other dedicate it. 6. What man is there that hath planted a vineyard, and hath not as yet made it to be common, wherof al men may lawfully eate? let him goe, and returne into his house: lest perhaps he die in the battel, and an other man execute his office. 7. What man is there, that hath depouised a wife, and not taken her? let him goe, and returne into his house, lest perhaps he die in the warre, and an other take her. 8. These things being said they shal adde the rest, and shal speake to the people: What man is there feareful, and faint-hearted? let him goe, and returne into his house, lest he make the harts of his brethren to feare, as himselfe is frighted with feare. 9. And when the Captaines of the host shal hold their peace, and make an end of speaking, euerie man shal prepare their bands to fight. 10. If at anie time thou come to winne a citie, thou shalt first offer peace. 11. If they receiue it, and open the gates to thee, al the people that is therein shal be sau'd, and shal serue thee vnder tribute. 12. But if they wil not make peace, and shal begin battel against thee, thou shalt assalt it. 13. And when our Lord thy God shal deliuer it into thy hand, thou shalt strike al that is therein of the male sexe, in the edge of the sword, 14. excepting women and children, the cattel and other things, that are in the citie. Al the prey thou shalt diuide to the armie, and thou shalt eat of the spoiles of thine enemies, which our Lord thy God shal giue thee. 15. So shalt thou doe to al cities, that be verie farre from thee, and be not of these cities, which thou shalt receiue in possession. 16. But of those cities that shal be giuen thee, thou shalt suffer none at al to liue: 17. but shalt kil them in the edge of the sword, to wit, the Hetheite, & Amorrheite, & Chananeite, the Pherzeite, and Heueite, and Iebuseite, as our Lord thy God hath commanded thee: 18. lest perhaps they teach you to doe al the abominations, which themselues did worke to their Gods: & you siane against our Lord your God. 19. When thou hast besieged a citie a long time, and hast compassed it with munition to winne it, thou shalt not cut downe the trees, that may be eaten off, neither shalt thou spoile the countrie round about with axes: because it is a tree, and not a man, neither can it increase the number of warryers against thee. 20. But if there be any trees not fruitfull, but wilde, and apt for other vses, cut them downe, and make engines, vntil thou take the citie, which fighteth against thee.

(d) Men possessed with such desires haue not like valure to good soldiers: And by wordor example often discourage others So in spiritual warfare, we must not be addicted to worldie profits, or pleasures.

C H A P. XXI.

How to seeke out a secret murderer. 10. Women taken in battel may be married: and afterwards can not be sold nor made bond women. 15. The eldest sonne may not be deprived of his birthright for hatred of his mother. 18. A stubborne sonne must be stoned to death. 22. When one is hanged on a gibbet, he must be taken aowne the same day, and buried.

V H E N there shal be found in the Land, which our Lord thy God wil giue thee, the corps of a man slaine, and he that is guiltie of the murder is not knowne, 2. thy ancients and iudges shal goe forth, and measure from the place of the corps the distance of euerie citie round about: 3. and which they shal perceiue to be ncerer then the rest,

the

the ancients of that citie ſhal take an heifer out of the heard , that hath not drawn yoke, nor ploughed the ground, 4. and ſhal bring her to a rough and ſtonie valley, that neuer was ploughed, nor receiued feed: and in it they ſhal ſtrike off the neck of the heifer: 5. and the Priests the ſonnes of Leui ſhal come , whom our Lord thy God hath choſen to miniſter to him , and to bleſſe in his name , and at their word euerie matter dependeth, and whatſoeuer is cleane or vncleane muſt be iudged. 6. And the ancients of that citie ſhal come to the ſlaine perſon , and ſhal waſh their hands ouer the heifer , that was ſtrucken in the valley, 7. and ſhal ſay: Our hands did not ſheed this blood (a) nor our eies ſee it. 8. be merciful to thy people Iſrael, whom thou haſt redeemed, o Lord, & impute not innocent blood in the middes of thy people Iſrael. And the guilt of blood ſhal be taken from them: 9. and thou ſhalt be free from the innocents blood , that was ſhed, when thou ſhalt haue done that which our Lord hath commanded thee. 10. If thou goe forth to fight againſt thyne enemies, and our Lord thy God deliuer them in thy hand and thou lead them away captiue , 11. and ſecſt in the number of the captiues a beautiful woman , and loueſt her, and wilt haue her to wife, 12. thou ſhalt bring her into thy houſe: who ſhal ſhaue of her haire, and payre her nailles, 13. and put of the rayment wherin ſhe was taken: and ſitting in thy houſe , ſhal mourne her father and mother one month: and afterward thou ſhalt enter vnto her , and ſhalt ſleep with her , and ſhe ſhal be thy wife. 14. But if afterward ſhe content not thy mind, thou ſhal let her goe free , neither canſt thou ſel her for money , nor oppreſſe her by might: becauſe thou haſt humbled her. 15. If a man haue two wiues, one beloved, and the other hated, and they haue begotten children by him, & the ſonne of the hated be the firſt-borne, 16. and he meaneth to diuide his ſubſtance among his ſonnes : he can not make the ſonne of the beloved the firſt-borne, and preferre him before the ſonne of the hated, 17. but the ſonne of the hated he ſhal acknowledge for the firſt-borne, and ſhal giue to him of thoſe things which he hath, al double: for this is the beginning of his children , & to this are due the firſt brith rights. 18. If a man beget a ſtubborne and froward ſonne, that wil not heare the commandments of his father and mother, and being chaſtened, contemneth to be obedient: 19. they ſhal take him, and bring him to the ancients of his citie, and to the gate of iudgement, 20. and ſhal ſay to them: This our ſonne is froward and ſtubborne , he contemneth to heare our admonitions , he giueth himſelf to comeſſation , and to ryot and banquetings: 21. the people of the citie ſhal ſtone him : and he ſhal die, that you may take away the cuil out of the middes of you , and al Iſrael hearing it may be afrayd. 22. When a man hath offended ſo that he is to be puniſhed by death, & being cōdemned to die is hanged on a gibbet: 23. his bodie ſhal not remaine vpon the tree, but the ſame day ſhal be buried: becauſe he is (:) accuſed of God that hangeth on a tree: and thou ſhalt not cōtamine thy Land, which our Lord thy God giueth thee in poſſeſſion.

(a) By this ceremony & abjuration they purged themſelues , that they were not negligent in doing iuſtice.

(b) Myſtically, he is curſed that perſiſteth in ſinne, as it were hanging on the tree, by which our firſt parents ſinned.

C H A P. XXII.

Pietie towards neighbours. 5. Neither sexe may vse the apparel of the other. 6. Crueltie to be auoided euen towards birdes. 8. Batlement about the roofe of a house. 9. Things of diuers kinds not to be mixed. 12. cordes in the hemmes of a cloke. 13. Trial and punishment of adulterie and of deflawring virgins. 30. The sonne may not marie his step mother.

HO V shalt not see thy brothers oxen or sheep straying, and passe by: but shalt bring it backe to thy brother, 2. although thy brother be not nigh, and thou know him not: thou shalt bring them vnto thy house, and they shall be with thee vntill thy brother seeke them, and receiue them. 3. In like manner shalt thou doe with his asse, and with his rayment, and with euerie thing of thy brothers, that shall be lost: if thou find it, neglect it not as perteyning to another. 4. If thou see thy brothers asse or oxen to be fallen in the way, thou shalt not contemne it, but shalt lift it vp with him. 5. A woman shall not be clothed with mans apparel, neither shall a man vse womans apparel: for he is abominable before God that doeth these things. 6. If walking by the way thou find a birds nest in a tree or on the ground, and the damme sitting vpon the yong or the egges: thou shalt not hold her with her yong, 7. but shalt let her goe, taking the yong and holding them: that it may be wel with thee, and thou mayest liue a long time. 8. When thou buildest a new house, thou shalt make (a) a batlement to the roofe round about: lest bloud be shed in thy house, and thou be guiltie, another slipping, and falling headlong. 9. Thou shalt not sow thy vineyard with diuerse seed: lest both the seed which thou didst sow, and the things that grow of the vineyard (b) be sanctified together. 10. Thou shalt not plough with an oxen and asse together. 11. Thou shalt not weare a garment that is wouen of wol and lianen. 12. Thou shalt make litle cordes in the hemme at the foure corners of thy cloke, wherewith thou shalt be couered. 13. If a man marrie a wife, and afterward hate her, 14. and seeke occasions to put her away, obiecting vnto her a verie il name, and say: I tooke this wife, and companying with her: I found her not a virgin: 15. her father and mother shall take her, and shall carie with them the signes of her virginitie to the ancients of the citie that are in the gate: 16. and the father shall say: I gaue my daughter vnto this man to wife: whom because he hateth, 17. he layeth vnto her a verie il name, so that he sayth: I found not thy daughter a virgin: and behold these are the signes of my daughters virginitie. they shall spread the vesture

(a) Their houses had flat roofs as manie of our churches pallses, and castles, where batlements are necessarie for danger of falling, when anie walke thereon.

(b) For correction of so couetous a mind the whole fruit must be offered to pious vses Theod. 9. 23. in Deus.

before

before the ancients of the citie : 18. and the ancients of that citie shal take the man, and beate him, 19. condemning him besides in an hundred sicles of siluer, which he shal giue to the wenchs father, because he hath infamously spred a verie il name vpon a virgin of Israel : and he shal haue her to wife, and can not put her away al the daies of his life. 20. But if it be true which he obiected, and virginitie be not found in the wench, 21. they shal cast her forth without the doores of her fathers house, and the men of her citie shal stone her to death, & she shal die : because she hath done wickednes in Israel, to fornicate in her fathers house : and thou shalt take away the euil out of the middes of thee. 22. If a man lie with an others man wife, both shal die, that is to say, the aduouterer and the aduouteresse : and thou shalt take away the euil out of Israel. 23. If a man haue despoused a maid that is a virgin, and some man find her in the citie, & lie with her, 24. thou shalt bring forth both of them to the gate of that citie, & they shal be stoned : the maid, because she cried not, being in the citie: the man, because he hath humbled his neighbours wife, and thou shalt take away the euil from the middes of thee. 25. But if the man find the maid that is despoused in the field, and taking her lie with her, he alone shal die : 26. the maid shal suffer nothing, neither is she guiltie of death : for as a theefe ryseth against his brother, and taketh away his life, so also did the maid suffer. 27. She was alone in the field: she cried, and there was no man to deliuer her. 28. If a man find a maid that is a virgin, which hath not a spouse, and taking her lie with her, and the matter come into iudgement, 29. he that lay with her, shal giue to the father of the maid fittie sicles of siluer, and shal haue her to wife, because he hath humbled her: he can not put her away al the daies of his life. 30. No man shal take his fathers wite, nor reueale his couering.

C H A P. XXIII.

Eunaches, bastards, Moabites, & Ammonites, may not enter into the Church. 7. Idumeans and Ægyptians may be admitted. 9. Obseruation of spiritual and corporal cleannes. 15. Other precepts concerning fugitiues, 17. fornication, 19. v. iurie, 21. voves, 24. and eating other mens grapes or corne.

AN (a) Eunuch that hath his stones broken, or cut off, and his yard cut away, shal not enter into the Church of our Lord. 2. Mamzer, that is to say, one borne of a common woman, shal not enter into the Church of our Lord, vntil the tenth generation. 3. The (b) Ammonite and the Moabite yea after the tenth generation shal not enter into (a) Such as are barré in good workes can not enter into Gods house. Th. i. c. 9. 25. in Deut.

b) These nations not able to

the

hurt the children of Israel, neither by denying ordinarie curses, nor by force, nor by hyring Balaam to curse them, yet inuegling them with carnal finnes, signified obstinate peruerse sinners, that neuer amending can neuer be rightly receiued into the Church of God.

(c) Only lawful enemies are here called straggers: where therefore is iust cause of warre, there only it is lawful to exercise vsurie S. Amb. li. de Tobia. c. 15.
d) Vowes binde where otherwise was no obligation.

the church of our Lord, for euer: 4. because they would not meet you with bread & water in the way, when you came out of Ægypt: and because they hyred against thee Balaam, the sonne of Beor of Mesopotamia in Syria, to curse thee: 5. & our Lord thy God would not heare Balaam, and he turned his cursing into thy blessing, for that he loued thee. 6. Thou shalt not make peace with them, neither doe thou seeke their good al the dayes of thy life for euer. 7. Thou shalt not abhorre the Idumeite, because he is thy brother: nor the Ægyptian, because thou wast a stranger in his land. 8. They that are borne of them, in the third generation shall enter into the church of our Lord. 9. When thou goest forth against thine enemies to battel, thou shalt keepe thy self from al euil thing. 10. If there be among you a man, that is polluted in a dreame by night, he shall goe forth without the campe, 11. and shall not returne, before he be washed with water at euen: and after sunne set he shall returne into the campe. 12. Thou shalt haue a place without the campe, whither thou mayest goe to the necessities of nature, 13. carying on thy girdle a piked instrument. And when thou sittest downe, thou shalt dig round about, & with the earth that is digged vp shall couer 14. that which thou art eased of (for our Lord thy God walketh in the middes of thy campe, to deliuer thee and to giue thine enemy vnto thee) and let thy campe be holie, & let no filthines appeare therein, lest he forsake thee. 15. Thou shalt not deliuer the seruant to his Maister, that is fled to thee. 16. he shall dwel with thee in the place, that shall please him, and in one of thy cities shall he rest: vexe him not. 17. There shall be no whoore of the daughters of Israel, nor whooremonger of the sonnes of Israel. 18. Thou shalt not offer the hire of a strumpet, nor the price of a dog, in the house of our Lord thy God, whatsoever it be that thou hast vowed: because both is abominatiõ before our Lord thy God. 19. Thou shalt not lend to thy brother money to vsurie, nor corne, nor any other thing: 20. (c) but to the strager. And to thy brother thou shalt lend that which he needeth, without vsurie: that our Lord thy God may blesse thee in al thy worke in the Land, which thou shalt enter to possesse. 21. When thou hast vowed a vow to our Lord thy God, thou shalt not slacke to pay it: because our Lord thy God wil require it. And if thou delay, it shall be reputed to thee for sinne. 22. (d) If thou wilt not promise, thou shalt be without sinne. 23. But that which is once gone out of thy lippes, thou shalt obserue, & shalt doe as thou hast promised to our Lord thy God, & hast spoken with thy proper wil and thine owne mouth. 24. Entering into thy neighbours vineyard, eate grapes as much as shall please thee: but carrie none out with thee. 25. If thou enter into thy freinds corne, thou shalt breake the eares, and rub them in thy hand: but with a sickle thou shalt not reap.

C H A P. XXIIII.

Diuorce permitted to auoide greater euil. 5. The newly married must not goe to warre. 7. He that trayterously selleth a man must be staine. 8. Disobedience to Priests incurreth leprosie. 10. Such things may not be taken to pledge, as can not be wel spared. 14. Poore labourers must be presently payed. 16. Not one punished for an others fault, but right iudgement to al, 18. and liberal almes to the poore.

IF a man take a wife, and haue her, and she finde not grace before his eyes for some lothfomenes: he shal write a bil of diuorce, and shal giue it in her hand, and " dismisse her out of his house. And being departed, when she shal haue married an other husband, 3. and he also hateth her, and hath giuen her a bil of diuorce, and hath dismissed her out of his house, or is dead: 4. the former husband can not take her againe to wife: because she is poiluted, and is made abominable before our Lord: lest thou make thy Land to sinne, which our Lord thy God shal deliuer thee to possesse. 5. When a man hath lately taken a wife, he shal not goe forth to battel, neither shal any publike necessitie be inioyned him, but he shal attend to his owne house without fault, that one yeare he may reioyce with his wife. 6. Thou shalt not take for a pledge the nether or the vpper millstone: because (a) he hath pledged his life to thee. 7. If any man be taken soliciting his brother of the children of Israel, & selling him take a price, he shal be staine, and thou shalt take away the euil from the middes of thee. 8. Obserue diligently that thou incurre not the plague of leprosie, but thou shalt doe whatsoeuer the Priests of the Leuitical stocke shal teach thee, according to that, which I haue commanded them, and fulfil thou it carefully. 9. Remember what our Lord your God did to Marie, in the way when you came out of Ægypt. 10. When thou shalt require of thy neighbour any thing that he oweth thee, thou shalt not enter into his house to take away a pledge: 11. but thou shalt stand without, and he shal bring forth to thee that which he hath. 12. But if he be poore, the pledge shal not lodge with thee that night, 13. but forthwith thou shalt restore it to him before the going downe of the sunne: that sleeping in his rayment, he may blasse thee, and thou mayest haue iustice before our Lord thy God. 14. Thou shalt not denie the hyre of the needie, and poore man thy brother, or the stranger, that

(a) This Hebrew phrase signifieth, that pledging the thing wherin the meanes of life consisteth is as if he pledged his life.

(b) In case the labourer susteineth his life by his dailie wages, then not to pay him is in effect to kill him: and such sinne crieth to God for reuenge.

dwelleth with thee in the land, and is within thy gates: 15. but the same day thou shalt pay him the price of his labour, before the going downe of the sunne (b) because he is poore, and there-withal susteineth his life: lest he crie against thee to our Lord, and it be reputed to thee for a sinne. 16. The fathers shall not be slaine for the children, nor the children for the fathers, but euery one shall die for his owne sinne. 17. Thou shalt not peruert the iudgement of the stranger and the pupil, neither shalt thou take away the widowes rayment for a pledge. 18. Remember that thou didst serue in Ægypt, & our Lord thy God deliuered thee from thence. Therefore I command thee that thou doe this thing: 19. When thou hast reaped the corne in thy field, and forgetting hast left a sheafe, thou shalt not returne to take it away: but thou shalt suffer the stranger, and the pupil, and the widow to take it away, that our Lord thy God may blesse thee in al the worke of thy hands. 20. If thou haue gathered the fruits of thy oliue trees, whatsoever remaineth on the trees, thou shalt not returne to gather it: but shalt leaue it to the stranger, the pupil, and the widow. 21. If thou make vintage of thy vineyard, thou shalt not gather the clusters that remaine, but they shall goe to the vses of the stranger, the pupil, & the widow. 22. Remember that thou also didst serue in Ægypt, and therefore I command thee that thou doe this thing.

ANNOTATIONS.

CHAP. XXIII.

Whether the band of marriage could be loosed or no in the old law, amongst Christians it can not be dissolued.

No not for adulteric.

1. Dismiss her.] Whether this diuorce was tolerated as a lesse sinne, to auoide a greater, as S. Hierome (li. 1. in Mat. c. 5. & li. 3. in c. 19) S. Chrysostome (ho. 17. in Mat. 5.) and others teach; or dispensed withal, and so made lawfull to the Iewes, which is also probable, for that none of the holie Prophets did euer reprehend it; sure it is, that Christ either by correcting a fault, or by recalling a former dispensation, restored the insolubilitie of marriage to the first institution, saying: (Mat. 19.) That which God hath ioyned together, let not man separate. Further answering the Pharesees, concerning this law, that Moses for the hardnes of your hart permitted you to dismiss your wives: but from the beginning it was not so. And albeit he alloweth separation of man and wife for fornication, yet for no cause neither of them can marie againe, so long as the other liueth. As S. Augustine (li. 1. de adulter. coniugij. c. 11. & 12.) by conference of three Euangelistes words touching this point, plainly sheweth, concluding That for so much as holie Scripture callith him (that taketh a woman so dismissed) not a husband, but an adulterer, she is still his wife, by whom for fornication she was dismissed. Likewise he proueth by S. Pauls doctrine (Rom. 7. & 1. Cor. 7.) that though diuorce be made for adulteric, yet neither the guiltie nor innocent partie can marie another, for the Apostle saith: A woman is vnder the law of her husband, so long as he liueth. If her husband be dead, she is loosed from his law. Therefore her husband liuing, she shall be called an aduouresse, if she be with an other man. If she part, let her remaine unmarried, or be reconciled to her husband. A woman is bound to the law so long time as her husband liueth, &c. These words of the Apostle (sayth he li. 2. c. 4.) so often repeated, so often inculcated, are true, are liuely, are found,

found, are plaine. A woman beginneth not to be the wife of a later husband except she cease to be the wife of the former. And she ceaseth to be the wife of the former, if he die, not if he or she commit adulterie. Therefore a wife is lawfully dismissed for fornication, but the bond of the former remaineth, for which cause he is guiltie of adulterie, that marieth her that is dismissed, yea though it be for fornication. Thus and much more sayth S. Augustine in the same, and in other books. And al the ancient fathers, and learned schoolmen teach vniformely, that nothing but bodilie death can loose the band of Marriage consummate; nor of vnconsummate, but death, or solemne vow in an approued rule of religion.

cc
cc
cc
cc
Only before consummation Mariage is dissolved by solemne vow in Religion.

C H A P. XXV.

Punishment afflicted according to the fault, but so that he which is beaten haue not above fourtie stripes. 4. The oxes mouth not be moosed that treadeth corne. 5. A married man dying without issue, his brother must marie the widow. 11. The wife that taketh her husbands aduersarie by his priuities must lose her hand. 13. No false weights nor measures to be kept. 17. Amelitates must be vtterly destroyed.

LF there be a controuersie between some, & they cal vpon the iudges: whom they shal perceiue to be iust, to him they shal giue the price of iustice: whom impious, him they shal condemne of impietie. 2. And if they see that the offender be worthie of stripes, they shal cast him downe; & shal cause him to be beaten before them. According to the measure of the sinne shal the measure also of the stripes be: 3. yet so, that they exceed not the number of fourtie: lest thy brother depart fowly to me before thyne eies. 4. Thou shalt (a) not moose the mouth of the ox that treadeth out thy corne in the floore. 5. When brethren shal dwel together, and one of them die without children, the wife of the deceased shal not marie to an other: But if his brother shal take her, & rayse vp the seede of his brother: 6. & the first borne sonne of her he shal cal by his name, that his name be not abolished out of Israel. 7. But if he wil not take his brothers wife, that by law is due to him, the womā shal goe to the gate of the citie, and cal vpon the ancients, and say: My husbandes brother wil not rayse vp his brothers seed in Israel: nor take me to his wife. 8. And forthwith they shal cause him to be sent for, and shal aske him. If he answer: I wil not take her to wife: 9. the woman shal come to him before the ancients, and shal take of his shoe from his foote, and (b) spit in his face, and say: So shal it be done to the man, that buildeth not his brothers house. 10. And his name shal be called in Israel (c) The house of the vnthod. 11. If two men fal at words betwixt themselues, and one begin to brawle against the other, and the wife of the one willing to deliuer her husband out of the hand of the

(a) S. Paul expoundeth this of the spiritual labourer in Gods Church: that he must haue his maintenance for his trauel. 1. Cor. 9. & 1. Tim. 5. It was also ment of oxen, so it hath two literal senses. Theo. 9. 31. in Dem. b) He that disdaineth to honour his brother is iustly despised. c) A lasie familie & vnprofitable to the commonwealth. Misticall, labour must beget spiritual children to Christ, not to themselves; & so they are called Christians, not Paulians, whom S. Paul conuerted. And he that is elected by the Church to spiri- tual functiō, & neglecteth his dutie, is wor- thie of reproach and infamie. S. Aug. li. 31. c. 10. cont. Faust. Manich. d) Amalec first impugned Is- rael after they had passed the red sea. Exod. 17.

Marriage with the brothers wife, he dying without issue.

The third les- son in Masse on Imber Sa- turday in whit- sunweeke, stronger, put forth her hand, and take his priuities: 14. thou shalt cut of her hand, neither shalt thou be moued with any pitie vpon her. 13. Thou shalt not haue diuerse weights in thy bag, a greater and a lesse: 14. neither shal there be in thy house a greater bnihel and a lesse. 15. Thou shalt haue a weight iust and true, and thy bushel shal be equal and true: that thou mayest liue a long time vpon the Land, which our Lord thy God shal giue thee. 16. For thy Lord abhorreth him, that doth these things, and detesteth al iniustice. 17. Remember what (a) Amalec did to thee in the way when thou camest out of Ægypt: 18. how he met thee, & stricke the hindmost of thy armie, which being wearie rested them- selues, when thou wast spent with famine and labour, and he feared not God. 19. Therefore when our Lord thy God shal giue thee rest, and sub- due al nations round about in the Land, which he hath promised thee, thou shalt destroy his name vnder heauen. Beware thou forget it not.

ANNOTATIONS.

CHAP. XXV.

5. His brother shal sake her.] This proueth euidently that the prohibition, not to marie the brothers wife (Leuit. 18.) was a positiue law, binding only when the first brother dying left issue. For dying without issue, his brother was bound by this law to marie the widow. In default of the brother, the next of kinne was to marie her: and for default of neerer, the more remote. so Booz maried Ruth. Neither was it contrarie, but agreable to the law of nature, to marie the brothers wife when he was dead without issue, as is before noted Gen. 38.

*Ruth. 3.
4.*

CHAP. XXVI.

First fruits must be offered in special place assigned to Gods seruice, professing of gratitude for the land possessed according to Gods promise. 12. Likewise riches of the third yeare, 16. with conclusion, that the people promise to obserue al the preceptes of God, and so doing he wil protect and prosper them.

AND when thou art entred into the Land, which our Lord thy God wil giue thee to possesse, and hast obeyed it, and dwellest in it: 2. thou shalt take first of al thy fruits, and put them in a maund, and shalt goe to the place, which our Lord thy God shal choose, that his name may be inuocated there: 3. and thou shalt goe to the Priest, that shal

be in

be in those daies, and say to him: I professe this day before our Lord thy God, that I am entred into the Land, for the which he sware to our fathers, that he would giue it vs. 4. And the Priest taking the maund at his hand, shal set it before the altar of our Lord thy God: 5. and thou shalt speake in the sight of our Lord God: (a) The Syrian persecuted my father, who descended into Ægypt, and seiourned there in a verie smale number, and grew into a nation great and strong and of an infinit multitude. 6. And the the Ægyptians afflicted vs, and persecuted vs, laying on most grieuous burdens: 7. and we cried to our Lord the God of our fathers: who heard vs, and respected our affliction, and labour, and distresse: 8. and brought vs out of Ægypt in a strong hand, a stretched out arme, in great terrour, in signes and wonders: 9. and brought vs into this place, and deliuered to vs this Land flowing with milke and honie. 10. And therefore now I offer first fruits of the Land, which our Lord hath giuen me. And thou shalt leaue them in the sight of our Lord thy God, adoring our Lord thy God. 11. And thou shalt feast in al the good things, which our Lord thy God hath giuen to thee, and thy house, thou and the Leuite, and the stranger that is with thee. 12. When thou hast finished the tith of al thy fruits, in (b) the third yeare of tithes thou shalt giue to the Leuite, & the stranger, & the pupil, & the widow, that they may eate within thy gates, and be filled: 13. & thou shalt speake in the sight of our Lord thy God: I haue brought that which is sanctified out of my house, & haue giuen it to the Leuite, and the stranger, and the pupil, and the widow, as thou hast commanded me: I haue not transgressed thy commandements nor forgotten thy precepts. 14. I haue not eaten of them in my mourning, nor separated them in any vncleannes, nor spent of them any thing in tunerals. I haue obeyed the voice of our Lord my God, and haue done al things as thou didst command me. 15. Looke from thy sanctuarie, and thy high habitation of heauen, and blesse thy people Isracl, and the Land, which thou hast giuen vs, as thou swarest to our fathers, a land flowing with milke & honie. 16. This day our Lord thy God hath commanded thee to doe these commandments and iudgements: that thou keep and fulfil them with al thy hart, and with al thy soule. (c) 17. Thou hast chosen our Lord this day to be thy God, and to walke in his waies, and keep his ceremonies, and precepts, and iudgements, & obey his commandement. 18. And our Lord hath chosen thee this day, that thou shouldest be his peculiar people, as he hath spoken to thee, and thou shouldest keepe al his commandements: 19. and make thee higher then al nations which he created, to his prayse, and name, and glorie: that thou mayst be a holie people of our Lord thy God, as he hath spoken.

(a) Laban pursued Iacob, whē he parted from Mesopotamia of Syria. Gen. 27.

The first lesson in Masse on Imber Saturday in Lent.
(b) The people payed euerie yeare two tithes: the first to the Leuites: the second for entertaining trauelers to & from Ierusalē: & euerie third yeare a third tith for relief of the poore inhabitants.

(c) Mutual pact between God & his people; that they seruing him, he wil reward them.

C H A P. XXVII.

Gods commandements must be written in plasted stones. An Altar erected, and Sacrifices offered. 12. Obseruers of the commandements must be blessed, and transgressours cursed. 14. With the forme of cursing of idolaters, and diuers other enormous sinners.

The third part.
Gods promises & threats, for keeping or breaking his cōmandments.

(d) The anciēts of euerie tribe.
(e) The Leuites proper office was to blesse.
(f) But by occasion of sinne their office was also to pronounce curses.
(g) Though the sinnes were secret, yet the offenders were cursed: publike sinnes were also publikely punished.

AND Moyses and the ancients of Israel commanded the people, saying: Keep euerie commandment that I command you this day. 2. And when you are passed ouer Iordan into the Land, which our Lord thy God wil giue thee, thou shalt erect great stones, and shalt poliish them with plaster, 3. that thou mayst write on them al the words of this law, when thou hast passed ouer Iordan: that thou mayst enter into the Land, which our Lord thy God wil giue thee, a land flowing with milke and honie, as he sware to thy fathers. 4. When therefore you are passed Iordan, erect the stones, which I command you this day, in mount Hebal, and thou shalt poliish them with plaster: 5. and thou shalt build there an altar to our Lord thy God of stones, which yron hath not touched, 6. and of stones not fashioned nor polished: and thou shalt put vpon it holocausts to our Lord thy God, 7. and shalt immolate pacifike hosts, and eate there, and feast before our Lord thy God. 8. And thou shalt write vpon the stones al the words of this law plainly and cleerly. 9. And Moyses and the Priests of the Leuitical stocke said to al Israel: Attend, and heare Isracl: This day thou art made the people of our Lord thy God: 10. thou shalt heare his voice, and doe the commandements and iustices, which I command thee. 11. And Moyses commanded the people in that day, saying: 12. (d) These shal stand to blesse the people, vpon mount Garizim, when you are past Iordan: Simeon, (e) Leui, Iudas, Issachar, Ioseph, & Benjamin. 13. And ouer against them these shal stand to curse on mount Hebal: Ruben, Gad, and Aser, and Zabulon, Dan and Nephthali. 14. And the (f) Leuites shal pronounce, and say to al the men of Isracl with a high voice: 15. Cursed be the man that maketh a grauen and molten thing, the abominatiō of our Lord, the worke of the hands of artificers, & shal put it (g) in secret, and al the people shal answer, and say: Amen. 16. Cursed be he that honoureth not his father and mother. and al the people shal say: Amen. 17. Cursed be he that remoueth his neighbours bounds. and al the people shal say: Amen. 18. Cursed be he that maketh the blind to goe amisse in his iourney. and al the people shal say: Amen. 19. Cursed be he that peruerteth the iudgement of the stranger, of the pupil and the widow. and al the people shal say : Amen. 20. Cursed be he that sleepeth with his fathers wife , and reuealeth the couer of his bed. and al the people shal say : Amen. 21. Cursed be he that lyeth with any beast. and al the people shal say : Amen. 22. Cursed be he that sleepeth with his sister, the daughter of his father, or of his mother. and al the people shal say : Amen. 23. Cursed be he that sleepeth with his mother in law. and al the people shal say : Amen. 24. Cursed be he that secretly striketh his neighbour. and al the people shal say : Amen. 25. Cursed be he that taketh gifts, to kil the soule of innocent bloud. and al the people shal say : Amen. 26. Cursed be he that abydeth not in the words of this law , and fulfilleth them not in worke. and al the people shal say : Amen.

C H A P. XXVIII.

Diuers blessings are promised to the obseruers of Gods commandments, 15. and curses threatned to transgressours.

BV T if thou wilt heare the voice of our Lord thy God, that thou doe and keepe al his commandements , which I command thee this day, our Lord thy God wil make thee higher then al nations , that be on the earth. 2. And (a) al these blessings shal come vpon thee, and ouertake thee : yet so if thou heare his precepts. 3. Blessed shalt thou be in the citie , and blessed in the field. 4. Blessed shalt be the fruit of thy wombe , and the fruit of thy ground , and the fruit of thy cattel, the troups of thy heards , & the folds of thy sheep. 5. Blessed shalt thy barnes be , and blessed (b) thy remains: 6. Blessed shalt thou be coming in and going out. 7. Our Lord wil giue thync enemies , that rise vp against thee , to fal downe in thy sight : one way they shal come against thee, and seuen wayes they shal fly from thy face. 8. Our Lord wil send forth blessing vpon thy cellars, and vpon al the workes of thy hands : and wil blesse thee in the land, that thou shalt receiue. 9. Our Lord wil rayse thee vp vnto himself to be a holie people, as he sware to thee: If thou keep the commandments of our Lord thy God, and walke in his waies. 10. And al the people of the earth shal see that the name of our Lord is inuocated vpon thee, and they shal feare thee. 11. Our Lord wil make thee abound with al goods, with the fruit of thy wombe, & the fruit of thy cattel, with the fruit of thy lād, which our Lord sware to thy fathers that he would giue thee. 12. Our Lord wil open his most excel-

(a) Temporal blessings belonged to sensual people of the old testament: now the poore in spirit are blessed, that mourne, and suffer persecution for truth and iustice.

(b) The poore being relieued of thy superfluitie shal blesse thee.

(c) Thou shalt rule ouer others & none ouer thee.
 (b) Yet alwaies with this condition: if thou serue God.
 (e) Thus most commonly sinners were cursed in the old Testament, but such as now serue not God rightly, and yet prosper in this world, shal in a moment descend into hel. Ioh. 21.

lent treasure, the heauen, that it may giue rayne to thy land in due season: and wil blesse al the workes of thy hands. And thou shalt lend to many nations, and thy self shalt take lone of no man. 13. And our Lord shal make thee (c) the head, and not the taile: and thou shalt be alwaies aboute, and not vnder: (d) yet so, if thou wilt heare the commandments of our Lord thy God which I command thee this day, and keep & doe them, 14. & decline not frō them, neither to the right hand, nor to the left, nor folow strange Gods, nor serue thē. 15. But if thou wilt not heare the voice of our Lord thy God, to keepe & doe al his cōmādmēts & ceremonies which I cōmand thee this day, (e) al these curses shal come vpon thee, and ouertake thee. 16. Cursed shalt thou be in the citie, cursed in the field. 17. Cursed shalt thy barne be, and cursed thy remaines. 18. Cursed shalt be the fruit of thy wombe, and the fruit of thy ground, the heards of thy oxen, and the flockes of thy sheep. 19. Cursed shalt thou be comming in, and cursed going out. 20. Our Lord shal send vpon thee famine and hunger, & rebuke vpon al the workes which thou shalt doe: vntil he consume and destroy thee quickly, for thy most wicked inuentions, wherein thou hast forsaken me. 21. Our Lord set the pestilence vpon thee, vntil he consume thee out of the land, which thou shalt enter in to possesse. 22. Our Lord strike thee with pouertie, with the feuer and cold, with burning and heate, & with corrupt ayre and blasting, and pursue thee til thou perish. 23. Be the heauen that is ouer thee of brasse, & the ground that thou treadest of yron. 24. Our Lord giue dust for rayne vpon thy land, and ashes descend from heauen vpon thee, til thou be consumed. 25. Our Lord deliuer thee to fall downe before thyne enemies. One way goe thou forth against them, & fly ieuē, and be thou disperfed throughout al the Kingdomes of the earth. 26. And be thy carcasse meate to al the fowles of the ayre, & beasts of the earth, and be there none to driue them away. 27. Our Lord strike thee with the boile of Ægypt, and the part of thy bodie, by the which dung is cast out, with scab also and itch, so that thou canst not be cured. 28. Our Lord strike thee with madnes and blindnes and furie of minde, 29. & grope thou at midday as the blinde is wont to grope in the darke, and direct not thy wayes. And at al times susteyne thou wrong, and be thou oppressed with violence, neither haue thou any to deliuer thee. 30. Take thou a wife, and an other sleepe with her. Build thou a house, and dwel not therein. Plant thou a vineyard, and take not the vintage thereof. 31. Be thy oxe immolated before thee, and thou not eate thereof. Be thy asse taken away in thy sight, and not restored to thee. Be thy sheep giuen to thyne enemies, and be there none to helpe thee. 32. Be thy sonnes and thy daughters deliuered to another people, thyne eyes seeing, and deseling at the sight of them al the day, and be there no strength in thy hand. 33. The fruits of thy land, and al thy labours let a people eate, which thou knowest not: and be thou alwaies susteyning calumnie, and oppressed al dayes, 34. and astonished at the terrour of those things,

things, which thine eyes shall see. 35. Our Lord strike thee with a verie sore borch in the knees and shankes, and be thou incurable from the sole of the foote vnto the top of thy head. 36. Our Lord shall bring thee, and thy King whom thou shalt appoint ouer thee, vnto a nation, which thou and thy fathers know not: & there thou shalt serue strange Gods, wood and stone. 37. And thou shalt be destroyed for a prouerbe and fable to al peoples, vnto whom our Lord shall bring thee in. 38. Thou shalt cast much seed into the ground, and gather litle: because the locustes shall deuour al things. 39. Thou shalt plant a vineyard, and dig, and the wine thou shalt not drinke, nor gather any thing therof: because it shall be wasted with wormes. 40. Thou shalt haue oliues in al thy borders, and shalt not be anointed with the oyle: because they shall drop away, and perish. 41. Thou shalt beget sonnes and daughters, and shalt not enioy them: because they shall be led into captiuitie. 42. Al thy trees and the fruits of thy ground the blasting shall consume. 43. (e) The stranger that liueth with thee in the Land, shall ascend ouer thee, and shall be higher: and thou shalt descend downward, and be inferiour. 44. He shall lend thee, and thou shalt not lend him. He shall be as the head, and thou shalt be the tayle. 45. And al these curses shall come vpon thee, and pursuing shall ouertake thee, til thou perish: because thou heard not the voice of our Lord thy God, nor kept his commandments and ceremonies which he commanded thee. 46. And they shall be in thee as signes & wonders, and in thy seed for euer: 47. because thou didst not serue our Lord thy God in ioy and gladnes of hart, for the aboundance of al things. 48. Thou shalt serue thine enemy, whom our Lord wil send vpon thee, in hunger, and thirst, and nakednes, and al penurie, and he shall put an yron yoke vpon thy neck, til he consume thee. 49. Our Lord wil bring vpon thee a Nation from a farre, and from the vtermost ends of the earth, in likenes of an eagle that flieth with vehemencie: whose tongue thou canst not vnderstand: 50. a verie malapert Nation, that wil attribute nothing to the ancient, nor haue pitie on the litle one, 51. and wil deuour the fruit of thy cattel, and the fruits of thy Land: vntil thou perish, and wil not leaue thee wheate, wine, and oyle, heards of oxen, and flockes of sheep: vntil it destroy thee, 52. and consume thee in al thy cities, and thy strong and high wals be destroyed, wherein thou hadst confidence in al thy Land. Thou shalt be belieged within thy gates in al thy Land, which our Lord thy God wil giue thee: 53. and thou shalt eat the fruit of thy wombe, and the flesh of thy sonnes & of thy daughters, which our Lord thy God shall giue thee, in the distresse and valtation wherwith thine enemy shall oppresse thee. 54. The man that is delicate in thee & very riotous, shall much enuie his owne brother, and his wife that lieth in his bosome, 55. so that he shall not giue them of the flesh of his children, which he wil eat: because he hath nothing els in the siege and penurie, wherwith thine enemies shall waste thee

e) After manie other plagues and punishments, at last the Jewes refusing and persecuting Christ were reiected, and Gentiles called into the Church, and aduanced about them. 7 heod. 9. 34. in Deut.

within al thy gates. 56. The tender and delicate woman, that could not goe vpon the ground; nor set downe her foote for ouer-much nicenes and tendernes, wil enuie her husband, that lyeth in her boosome, vpon the flesh of her sonne and daughter: 57. and the filthines of the after births, that come forth from the miiddes of her thighes, and vpon the children that are borne the same howre. for they thal eat them secretly, because of the penurie of al things, in the siege and vastation, wherwith thine enemie thal oppresse thee within thy gates. 58. Vnlesse thou keep and doe al the words of this law, that be written in this volume, and feare his name glorious and terrible, that is, Our Lord thy God: 59. our Lord thal increase thy plagues, and the plagues of thy seed, great plagues and continuing, sore infirmities and perpetual. 60. And he thal turne vpon thee al the afflictions of Ægypt, which thou didst feare, and they thal cleaue to thee. 61. Moreouer also al the diseases, and plagues, that be not written in the volume of this law, our Lord wil bring vpon thee, til he consume thee: 62. & you thal remaine few in number, which before was as the starres of heauen for multitude, because thou heardst not the voice of our Lord thy God. 63. And as before our Lord reioyced vpon you, doing good to you, & multiplying you: so he thal reioyce destroying and subuerting you, so that you may be taken away from the Land, which thou thalt enter to possesse. 64. Our Lord thal disperse thee into al peoples, from the farthest parts of the earth to the ends therof: and there thou thalt serue strange Gods, which thou art ignorant of and thy fathers, wood and stone. 65. In those nations also thou thalt not be quiet, neither thal there be resting for the step of thy foote. For our Lord wil giue thee a feareful hart, and dafeling eies, & a soule consumed with penituenes: 66. and thy life thal be as it were hanging before thee. Thou thalt feare night and day, and thou thalt not trust in thy life. 67. In the morning, thou thalt say: Who wil grant me euening: and at euening: Who wil grant me morning: for the fearefulnes of thy hart, wherwith thou thalt be terrified, and for those things which thou shal see with thine eies. 68. Our Lord thal bring thee againe with ships into Ægypt by the way, wherof he said to thee that thou shouldest see it no more. There thalt thou be sold to thine enemies for bondmen and bondwomen, and no man shal buy you.

C H A P. XXIX.

A couenant and oath is made between God and his people (with commemoration of sumarie benefites by them receiued) that keeping his law they shal be more blessed: and breaking the same shal susteine the threatned punishments.

H E S E are the words of the couenant which our Lord commanded Moyfes to make with the children of Israel in the Land of Moab: beside that couenant which he made with them in Horeb. 2. And Moyfes called al Israel, and said to them: you saw al things, that our Lord did before you in the Land of Ægypt to Pharao, and to al his seruants, and to his whole land, 3. the great tentations, which thine eies haue seen, those mightie signes, and wonders, 4. and our Lord (a) hath not giuen you a hart to vnderstand, and eies to see, and eares that can heare, vnto this present day. 5. He hath brought you fourtie yeaes by the desert: your garments are not worne out, neither are the shoes of your feet consumed with age. 6. Bread you haue not eaten, wine and sicere you haue not drunke: that you might know that I am the Lord your God. 7. And you came to this place: and there came forth Schon the King of Hesebon, and Og the King of Basan, meeting vs to fight. And we stricke them, 8. and tooke their land, and deliuered it in possession to Ruben and Gad, and the half tribe of Manasses. 9. Keep therefore the words of this couenant, and fulfil them: that you may vnderstand al things that you doe. 10. You stand this day. al before our Lord your God, your Princes, and tribes, and ancients, and doctours, al the people of Israel, 11. your children and your wiues, and the strangers that that abide with thee in the campe, besides the cutters of wood, and them, that carie water: 12. that thou mayest passe in the couenant of our Lord thy God, and in the oath which in this day our Lord thy God maketh with thee: 13. that he may raise thee vp a people to himselfe, and he be thy God as he hath spoken to thee, and as he sware to thy fathers, Abraham, Isaac, and Iacob. 14. Neither with you onlie doe I make this couenant, and confirme these oathes, 15. but with al that be present & absēt. 16. For you know how we dwelt in the Lād of Ægypt, and how we haue passed through the middes of nations, which passing through 17. you haue seen their abominatiōs & filth, that is to say, their Idols, wood and stone, siluer and gold, which they worshipped. 18. Lest perhaps there be among you man or womā, familie or tribe, whose hart is turned away this day from our Lord God, to goe and serue the Gods

(a) For sinnes past God letteth some runne into reprobare sense, permitting them to their owne freewil, who being void of grace wilfully obdurate themselves. Theod. q. 37. in Deum.

(b) A mind secretly infected with idolatry.

(c) The appetite drunken with pleasures thirsteth still more.

(d) Secret things are knowne to God, manifest things to men. Theod. 4. 38. in Deut.

of those Nations : and there be among you (b) a root bringing forth gal & bitternes. 19. And when he shal heare the words of this oath, he blesse himselfe in his hart, saying : I shal haue peace, and walke in the prauitie of my hart : and the (c) drunken take to her the thirstie, 20. & our Lord forgiue him not : but then his furie most specially fume, and his zeale against that man, and al the curses sit vpon him, that be written in this volume : & our Lord abolish his name vnder heauen, 21. and consume him vnto perdition out of al the tribes of Israel, according to the curses that are conteyned in the Booke of this law & couenant, 22. And the generation folowing shal say, and the children that shal be borne from thence-forth, and the strangers that shal come from a farre, seeing the plagues of that Land, & the infirmitie, wherwith our Lord hath afflicted it, 23. burning it with brimstone, and heate of the salt, so that it can no more be sowed, nor any green thing spring therof, after the example of the subuersion of Sodom and Gomorrha, Adama, and Seboim, which our Lord subuerted in his wrath & furie. 24. And al the Nations shal say : Why hath the Lord done thus to this Land ? what is this exceeding wrath of his furie ? 25. And they shal answer : Because they forooke the couenant of the Lord, which he made with their fathers, when he brought them out of the Land of Ægypt : 26. and they haue serued strange Gods, and adored them, whom they knew not, and to whom they had not been designed : 27. therefore the furie of the Lord was wrath against this Land, to bring vpon it al the curses that are written in this volume : 28. and he hath cast them out of their land, in wrath and furie, and in verie great indignation, and hath throwen them into a strange land, as this day it is proued. 29. Things hidden (d) to our Lord God, which are manifest, to vs and to our children for euer, that we may doe al the words of this Law.

C H A P. XXX.

If the children of Israel, offending and falling into the foresaid curses shal repent, God wil restore them to his blessings againe: 11. leauing it in their power to to serue him if they wil, 17. and therefore warneth them that the impenitent shal assuredly perish, because hauing life and death, blessing and cursing proposed, they choose the worse.

HERFORE when al these words shal be come vpon thee, the blessing or cursing, which I haue set forth before thee : and thou be touched with repentance of thy hart in al nations, into which our Lord thy God disperfed thee, 2. and thalt returne to him, and obey his commandments, as I this day command thee, with thy children, in al thy hart,

and

& in al thy soule: 3. our Lord thy God wil bring thee againe from thy captiuitie, and haue mercie vpon thee, and gather thee againe out of al the peoples, into which he disperfed thee before. 4. If thou be disperfed as farre as the poles of heauen, thence wil our Lord thy God draw thee backe, 5. and wil take thee to him, and bring thee into the Land, which thy fathers possessed, and thou shalt obteyne it: and blessing thee wil make thee to be (a) of a greater number, then were thy fathers. 6. Our Lord thy " God wil circumsife thy hart, and the hart of thy seed: that thou mayest loue our Lord thy God in al thy hart, and in al thy soule, that thou mayest liue. 7. And al these curses he wil turne vpon thine enemies, & them that hate and persecute thee. 8. But thou shalt returne, and heare the voice of our Lord thy God, & shalt doe al the commandments which I command thee this day: 9. and our Lord wil make thee abound in al the workes of thy hands, in the issue of thy wombe, and in the fruit of thy cattel, in the fertillie of thy ground, and in the plentie of al things. For our Lord wil returne to reioyce vpon thee in al riches, as he reioyced in thy fathers: 10. yet so, if thou heare the voice of our Lord thy God, and keepe his precepts and ceremonies, which are written in this law: and returne to our Lord thy God in al thy hart, and in al thy soule. 11. This commandment, that I command thee this daie, " is not about thee, nor so farre off, 12. nor situated in heauen that thou mayest say: Which of vs is able to ascend vnto heauen to bring it to vs, that we may heare and fulfil it in worke? 13. nor placed beyond the sea: that thou mayest pretend, and say: Which of vs can passe ouer the sea and bring it euen vnto vs, that we may heare, & doe that which is commanded? 14. But the word is very neere thee, in thy mouth and in thy hart, to doe it. 15. Consider that I haue " set before thee this day life and good, and contrariwise death and euil: 16. that thou mayest loue our Lord thy God, and walke in his waies, and keepe his commandments and ceremonies and iudgements: and thou mayest liue, and he multiplie thee, and blesse thee in the Land which thou shalt enter to possesse. 17. But if thy hart be auerted, and thou wilt not heare, and deceaued with errour thou adore strange Gods, and serue them: 18. I foretel thee this day that thou shalt perish, & abide a litle time in the Land, which passing ouer Iordā, thou shalt enter to possesse. " 19. I cal for witnesses this day heauen & earth, that I haue proposed to you life and death, blessing and cursing. (i) Choose therefore life, that both thou mayest liue, and thy seede: 20. and mayest loue our Lord thy God, and obey his voice, and cleaue to him (for he is thy life, and the length of thy daies) that thou mayest liue in the Land, for the which our Lord sware to thy fathers, Abraham, Isaac, and Iacob, that he would giue it them.

(a) Some sinners through great repentance become more vertuous, & are more rewarded then some that offended lesse.

(b) God gaue man libertie to chooſe what he would follow. S. Am. in Psal. 40. v. 10.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. XXX.

By grace men are made able to keepe Gods
cōmandments.

So the commandments are not impossible.

Free-wil.

6. God wil circumcise thy hart.) Most true it is, that of our selues, without Gods grace, none can keepe or fulfil the commandments. But he, whose hart God doth circumcise, is thereby made able to loue God with al his hart, and with al his soule. And except some harts were thus circumcised, and so made able to loue God aboue al, and consequently their neighbours, God should not performe his promise, that he wil circumcise the hart of some.

11. Is not aboue thee.] When thou art stirred vp, assisted, and indued with Gods grace, the commandment of God is not (then) aboue thee, nor farre off from thee, but very neer thee, in thy mouth (to confesse God, and his truth) and in thy hart, to doe it: But you wil aske: How then commeth it to passe, that manie hauing receiued sufficient grace, yet doe not keepe Gods commandments? God himself answereth:

15. That he hath set before thee life and good, and contrariwise death and euil; he inuiteth and helpeth, yet forceth thee not: he giueth thee power & abilitie, helping and not destroying thy freewil, that thou maist loue our Lord thy God, walke in his wayes, and keepe his commandments. But if thy hart be auerted and (v. 17.) thou wilt not heare, thou shalt perish. Againe, God inculcateth:

19. I cal for witnesses heauen and earth, that I haue propesed to you life and death, blebng and cursing! Choose therefore life &c. What Doctour can teach more plaine-ly the possibilitie of keeping Gods commandments and freewil in man, then this text of holic Scripture?

S. Aug.
de nat. et grat. c.
69. et q.
54. in Deus.
Theod.
q. 38 in
Deus.
S. Cyr.
l. 3. c. 52.
ad Quir.
S. Amb.
in Psal.
40.

C H A P. XXXI.

Moyse substituteth Iosue his successour in temporal gouernment 9. deliuereth the law to the Priests. 16. God foretelieth that the people wil often forsake him. and that he wil punish them, 19. commandeth Moyse to write a canticle (an abridgement of the Law) easie to be remembred. 25. And in further testimonie against them, the Leuites must put this booke in the arke of couenant.

MOYSES therefore went, and spake al these words to al Israel, 2. and said to them: I am this day an hundred and twentie yeares old, I can not (a) goe out & come in any longer, especially wheras our Lord also hath said to me: Thou shalt not passe ouer this Iordan: 3. Our Lord therefore thy God wil passe ouer before thee: he wil destroy al these nations in thy sight, and thou shalt possesse them: and this

The fourth part.
An exhortatiō to serue God, with prediction o' their often finnes & punishments

He mea-neth that he cā not exercise the office of a captaine general, and bring the people into the promised land.

this Iosue shal passe ouer before thee, as our Lord hath spoken. 4. And our Lord shal doe to them as he did to Schon and Og the Kings of the Ammorheites, and to their land, and shal destroy them. 5. Therefore when our Lord shal haue deliuered these also to you, you shal doe in like manner to them as I haue commanded you. 6. Doe manfully, & be strengthened: feare not, neither tremble ye at their sight: because our Lord thy God himselfe is thy conductour, & wil not leaue nor forsake thee. 7. And Moyfes called Iosue, & said to him before al Israel: Take courage, & be strong: for thou shalt bring in this people into the Land, which our Lord sware that he would giue to their fathers, and thou shalt diuide it by lot. 8. And our Lord that is your conductour, himselfe wil be with thee: he wil not leaue, nor forsake thee: feare not, neither dread thou. 9. Moyfes therefore wrote this law, & deliuered it to the Priests the sonnes of Leui, which caried the arke of the couenant of our Lord, & to al the ancients of Israel. 10. And he cōmanded them saying: After seuen yeares, in the yeare of remission, in the solemnitie of tabernacles, 11. when al come together out of Israel, to appeare in the sight of our Lord thy God, in the place which our Lord shal choose, thou shalt read the words of this law before al Israel, they hearing, 12. and the people being assembled together, as wel men as women, children, & strangers, that are within thy gates: that hearing they may learne, and feare our Lord your God, and keep, and fulfil al the words of this law. 13. Their children also who now are ignorant; that they may heare, and feare our Lord their God, at the daies that they liue in the Land, which passing ouer Jordan you goe to obreyne. 14. And our Lord said to Moyfes: Behold the daies of thy death are nigh: cal Iosue, & stand ye in the tabernacle of testimonie, that I may cōmand him. Moyfes therefore and Iosue went, & stode in the tabernacle of testimonie, 15. and our Lord appeared there in the pillar of a cloud, which stood in the entring of the tabernacle. 16. And our Lord said to Moyfes: Behold thou shalt sleep with thy fathers, and this people ryng vp wil fornicate after strange Gods in the Land, to the which it entreth to dwel therein: there wil they forsake me, and wil make the couenant, which I haue made with them, of none effect. 17. And my furie shal be wrath against them in that day, & I wil forsake them, and wil hide my face from them, and they shal be deuoured: al euils and afflictions shal find them, so that they shal say in that day: In truth because God is not with me, these euils haue found me. 18. But I wil hide, and keep close my face in that day, for al the euils which they haue done, because they haue folowed strange Gods. 19. Now therefore write vnto you ^(b) this canticle, & teach the children of Israel: that they know it by hart, and sing at by mouth, & this song be vnto me for ^(c) a testimonie among the children of Israel. 20. For I wil bring them into the Land, for the which I sware to their fathers, flowing with milke and honic: And when they haue eaten, and are ful, and fat, they wil turne away to strange Gods, and serue them: and wil detract

(b) Meeter is more easily kept in memorie then prose.
(c) And so by this Canticle they are conuincd that they were abundantly fore warned, not to breake couenant with God.

from

The eleuenth prophecie in the office before Masse on Easter eue.
And the third on whitsun-eue.

from me, and make my couenant of none effect. 21. After that manie euils and afflictions shal haue found them, this canticle shal answer them for a testimonie, which no obliuion shal take away out of the mouth of their seed. For I know their cogitations, what things they are about to doe this day, before that I bring them into the Land which I haue promised them. 22. Moyses therefore wrote the canticle, and taught it the children of Israel. 23. And our Lord commanded Iosue the sonne of Nun, and said: Take courage, and be strong: for thou shalt bring the children of Israel into the Land which I haue promised, and I wil be with thee. 24. Therefore after that Moyses wrote the words of this law in a volume, and finished it, 25. he commanded the Leuites, that caried the arke of the couenant of our Lord, saying: 26. Take this book, and put it in the side of the arke of the couenant of our Lord your God: that it may be for a testimonie against thee. 27. For I know thy contention, and thy most stiffe necke. Whiles I yet liue and goe in with you, you haue done alwayes contentiously against our Lord: how much more when I shal be dead? 28. Gather to me al the ancients by your tribes, and your Doctours, and I wil speake these words in their hearing, and wil inuocate against them heauen and earth. 29. For I know that after my death you wil doe wickedly, and wil decline quickly from the way, that I haue comanded you: and euils shal come vpon you in the later times, when you shal doe euil in the sight of our Lord, to prouoke him by the workes of your hands. 30. Moyses therefore spake in the hearing of the whole assemblie of Israel the words of this song, and finished it euen to the end.

C H A P. XXXII.

The Canticle at Lauds on Saturday.

A Canticle of the Law, wherein the people are exhorted to serue God, for his perfect goodnes, for his singular benefits, for their former ingratitude, and for his mercie stil mixed with his punishments. 44. Al which being earnestly commended to them to remember and teach their children, 48. Moyses is commended to goe into a mountaine, whence he shal see the promised land, but not enter into it.

(a) All things in heauen and in earth testifie that God deal-eth wel with his people.
(b) Doctrines both fructifie in good soules as raine & dew in the ground.
c. Mans first dutie is to praise God.

HE A R E ye (a) heuens what things I speake, the earth heare the words of my mouth.

2. My (b) doctrine grow together as raine, my speach flow as the dew, as it were a showre vpon the herbe, and as it were drops vpon the grasse.

3. Because I wil inuocate the name of our Lord: giue magnificence to our God. (c)

4. The workes of God be perfect, and al his waies iudgements:
God is faithful, and without any iniquitie, iust and right.

5. They

5. They (d) haue sinned to him, and not his children in filthines: a froward and peruerse generation.

6. These things doest thou render to our Lord, thou foolish and vn-wife people? Is not he thy father, that hath possessed thee, and made, and created thee?

7. Remember the old daies, thinke vpon euerie generation: aske thy father, and he wil declare to thee: thy eiders, and they wil tel thee.

8. When the highest (e) diuided the nations: when he separated the sonnes of Adam, he appointed the limits of people according to (f) the number of the children of Israel.

9. But our Lords part is his people: Iacob the corde of his inheritance.

10. He (g) found him in a desert land, and a place of horreur, and of vast wildernes: he led him about, and taught him: and kept him as the apple of his eye.

11. As the eagle prouoking her yong to flie, and houering ouer them hath he spread his wings, and he hath taken him, and caried him on his shoulders.

12. Our Lord onlie was his guide: and there was not with him a strange God.

13. He placed him ouer an high land: that he might cate the fruits of the fields, that he might sucke (h) honie out of the rocke, and (i) oile out of the hardest stone.

14. Butter from the heard, and milke of the sheep, with the fat of lambes, & of rammes of the sonnes of Basan: and buck-goats with the marow of wheate, and might drinke the bloud of the grape most pure.

15. The (k) beloued was made grosse, and spurned: made grosse, fatted, dilated, he left God his Maker, and departed from God his saluation.

16. They prouoked him in strange Gods, and in abominations stirred him to anger.

17. They immolated to diuels and not to God, to Gods, which they knew not: there came (l) new and fresh ones, whom their fathers whipped not.

18. God that begat thee thou hast forsaken, and hast // forgotten our Lord thy Creatour.

19. Our Lord saw, and was moued to wrath: because his sonnes and daughters prouoked him.

20. And he said: (m) I wil hide my face from them, and wil consider their last: for it is a peruerse generation, and vnfaithful children.

21. They (n) haue prouoked me in that which was no God, and haue angered me in their vanities: & I wil prouoke them in that which is no people, and in (o) a foolish nation wil I anger them.

d) The next, to acknowledge his owne finnes & defects.

e) At the towre of Babel.

f) Israel being but one people possessed the inheritance of seuen other nations.

g) God chose Israel to be his peculiar people of mere grace, and protected them.

h) Bees without mens industrie made honie in the rockes.

i) Oliue trees prospered in stonie places.

k) Temporal prosperitie occasion of the Iewes reuolting frō God.

l) Noueltie allureth carnal people to idolatrie and heresie.

m) For their peruerse God withdrew his help from them.

n) God first loueth, before anie man loueth him, but men first forsake God, before he forsake them.

o) The Iewes reputed most Gentiles foolish yet now they are inferior to al.

22. A fyre is kindled in my wrath, and shal burne euen to the lowest parts of hel: and shal deuour the earth with her spring, and shal burne the foundations of mountaines.

23. I wil heape euils vpon them, and myne arrowes I wil spend in them.

24. They shal be consumed with famine, & birds shal deuour them with most bitter biting: the teeth of beasts wil I send vpon them, with the furie of those that traile vpon the ground and creep.

25. Without thal the sword deuour them, and within fearefulness, the yong man and the virgin together, the sucking child with the old man.

26. I said: Where are they? I wil make their memorie to cease from among man.

27. But (p) for the wrath of the enemies I haue differred: lest perhaps their enemies might be proud, & would say: Our mightie hand, and not the Lord, hath done al these things.

28. A nation without counsel is it, and without wisedome.

29. O that they were (q) wise, and vnderstood, and would prouide for their last!

30. How should one pursue a thousand, and two put ten thousand to flight? was it not therefore, because their God sold them, and our Lord inclosed them?

31. For our Lord is not as their Gods: (r) our enemies also are iudges.

32. Of the vineyard of Sodom, is their vineyard, and of the suburbs of Gomorrha: their grape the grape of gal, and the clusters most bitter.

33. The gal of dragons their wine, and the venime of Aspes vncurable.

34. Are not these things laid vp with me, and signed in my treasures?

35. Reuenge is myne, and I wil repay them in time, that their foote may slide: the day of perdition is at hand, and the times make hast to be present.

36. Our Lord wil iudge his people, and wil haue mercie on his seruants: he shal see that their hand is weakned, & (j) the shut-up also haue fayled, and the residue be consumed.

37. And he thal say: Where are their Gods, in whom they had confidence.

38. Of whose vittimes they did eate fat, and dranke the wine of their libaments: (t) Let them arise, and help you, and protect you in necessitie.

39. See ye that I am onlie, and there is no other God besides me: I wil kil, and I wil make to liue: I wil strike, and I wil heale, and there is none that can deliuer out of my hand.

(p) For iust causes God sometimes differreth punishment.

(q) True wisedome considereth things past, vnderstandeth things present, and prouideth for things to come.

(r) Al infidels confesse more Maiesy in the true God and in his Religiō, then in their owne.

(s) Euen such offenders as thinke themselves secure, escape not.

(t) It is vnpossible that false Gods should help their followers in necessitie.

40. I wil lift vp my hand to heauen, and wil say : I liue for euer.

41. If I ihal whet my sword as the lightning, & my hand take iudgement : I wil repay vengeance to myne enemies, and them that hate me wil I requite.

42. I wil embrew my arrowes with bloud, and my sword shal deuour flesh, of the bloud of the slaine and of captiuitie, of (v) the bare head of the enemies.

43. You gentiles^h prayse his people, because he wil reuenge the bloud of his seruants : and wil repay vengeance vpon their enemies, and wil be propitious to the land of his people.

44. Moyfes therefore came and spake al the words of this canticle in the eares of the people, he and Iosue the sonne of Nun. 45. And he finished al these words, speaking to the children of Israel, 46. & he said to them : Set your harts on al the words, which I testifie to you this day : that you command them to your children to keep and to doe, and to fulfil al things of this law that are written : 47. for not in vaine are they commanded you, but that euerie one should liue in them : which doing you may continue a long time in the Land, which passing ouer Iordan you enter to possesse. 48. And our Lord spake to Moyfes in the same day, saying : 49. Goe vp into this mount Abarim, that is to say, of passages, into mount Nebo, which is in the Land of Moab against Iericho : and see the Land of Chanaan, which I wil deliuer to the children of Israel to obteyne, and die thou in the mount. 50. Which going vp vnto thou shalt be ioyned to thy peoples, as Aaron thy brother died in mount Hor, and was layd to his people : 51. because you did preuaricate against me in the middes of the children of Israel at the Waters of contradiction in Cades of the desert of Sin : and you did not sanctifie me among the children of Israel. 52. Ouer-against shalt thou see the Land, and shalt not enter into it, which I wil giue to the children of Israel.

(v) The vaine counsel of the wicked being detected shal be punished.

ANNOTATIONS.

CHAP. XXXIII.

18. Forgotten our Lord.] Calvin (li. 1. Instit. c. 11. parag. 9.) contending that it is idolatrie to worship Christ in his picture, saith the idolatrie committed about the molten calfe (Exod. 32.) consisted in worshipping the true God in that image of a calfe: affirming that the Iewes were not so inconsiderate, as not to remember, that it was God which had brought them out of the Land of Egypt. Quite contrarie to this text, which saith : God that begat thee thou hast forsaken, and hast forgotten

Calvin contradicteth the holic Scripture.

Alwaies some good in the Church of the old Testament.

our Lord thy Creatour. Caluin therefore was either ignorant or forgetful, that the Holie Ghost here chargeth them to haue forsaken and forgotten God the Creatour; or els (which is worse) knowing and remembring it, he was most impudent in auouching the contrarie.

43. Praise his people.] In the people of the Iewes were alwayes some good, and worthie of praise, that serued God; and sometimes suffered persecution for iustice; whose bloud God promised here to reuenge, and for their sakes to be merciful to others. Al which we see was performed, in that God reduced them from captiuitie, and conserued them after in their countrie til Christs time, for so he was propitious to the land of his people.

C H A P. XXXIII.

Moyse blessing the tribes of Israel (Simeon omittea) prophesyeth particularly of euerie one. 26. Againe exhorteth them, that as God hath chosen them his peculiar people, so they loue and honour him their onlie God.

a) The ancient fathers expound these blessings rather of the Church of Christ, then of the Iewes Synagogue.
S. Aug. 9. 56. Theod. 9. 44. in Deus.

HIS is (a) the blessing, wherwith Moyse the man of God blessed the children of Israel before his death.

2. And he said: Our Lord " came from Sinai, and from Seir is he risen to vs: he hath appeared from mount Pharan, and with him thousands of Saints. In his right hand a firie law.

3. He hath loued the peoples, al the Saints are in his hand: and they that approach to his feete shal receiue of his doctrine.

4. Moyse commanded vs a law, the inheritance of the multitude of Iacob.

5. He shal be King with the most right, the Princes of the people being assembled with the tribes of Israel.

6. Liue Ruben, and die he not, and be he li:lc in number.

7. This is the blessing of Iudas: Heare Lord the voice of Iudas, and bring him in vnto his people: his hands shal fight for him, and he shal be his helper against his aduersaries.

8. To Leui also he said: Thy perfection, and thy doctrine be to thy holie man, whom thou hast proued in tentation, and iudged at the Waters of contradiction. 9. He that (b) said to his father and to his mother: I know you not; and to his brethren: I know you not: and they knew not their children. These kept thy word, and obserued thy couenant,

10. thy iudgements, o Iacob, and thy law, o Israel: they shal put incense in thy furie, and holocaust vpon thyne altar. 11. Blesse Lord his strength, and receiue the workes of his hands. Strike the backes of his enemies, and they that hate him, let them not rise vp.

12. And to Benjamin he said: The best beloued of our Lord (c) shal dwel confidently in him: as in a bride-chamber al the day shal he abide, and bewen his shoulders shal he rest.

b) The Priestlie tribe must especially preferre Gods seruice before their neerest kinred.

(c) The Téple was built in the tribe of Benjamin, which God more specially protected, and so they dwelt more securely.
Theod. 9. 45. in Deus.

13. To Ioseph also he said : Of the blessing of our Lord be his land, of the fruits of heauen, and the dew, & the depth lying vaderneath. 14. Of the pomes of the fruits of the sunne and moone, 15. of the tops of the old mountaynes, of the pomes of the eternal hills : 16. and of the fruits of the earth, and of the fulnes therof. The blessing of him, that appeared in the bulsh, come vpon the head of Ioseph, and vpon the crowne of the Nazarite among his brethren. 17. His beautie as of the first borne of an ox, his hornes the hornes of an vnicorne : in them shal he winow the Nations euen to the ends of the earth. these are the multitudes of (d) Ephraim, and these the thousands of Manasses.

18. And to Zabulon he said : Reioyce Zabulon in thy going out, and Issachar in thy tabernacles. 19. They shal cal the peoples to the mountaine : there shal they immolate the victimes of iustice. Who shal sucke the inundation of the sea as milke, and the hidden treasures of the sands.

20. And to Gad he said : Blessed be Gad in breadth : as a lion hath he rested, and taken the arme and the top of the head. 21. And he saw his principalitie, that in his part the Doctour was reposed : which was with the Princes of the people, and did the iustices of our Lord, and his iudgement with Israel.

22. To Dan also he said : Dan a lions whelp, he shal flow largely from Basan.

23. And to Nephthali he said : Nephthali shal enioy aboundance, and shal be ful of the blessings of our Lord : the sea and the south he shal possesse.

24. To Aser also he said : Blessed be Aser in children, be he acceptable to his brethren, and dip he in oile his foote. 25. His shoe yron and brasse. As the daies of thy youth, so also thy old age.

26. There is no other God as the God of the rightest : the mounter of heauen is thy helper. By his magnificence the clouds runne hither and thither, 27. his habitation is aboue, and vnder the euerlasting armes : he shal cast out the enemy from thy face, and shal say : Be destroyed.

28. (e) Israel shal dwel confidently, and alone. The eye of Iacob in the land of corne and wine, and the heauens shal be mistie with dew.

29. Blessed art thou Israel : who is like to thee, o people that art faued in our Lord, the shield of thy helpe, and the sword of thy glorie : thy enemies shal denie thee, and thou shalt treade their necks, which God more specially protected, and so they dwelt more securely. Theod. q. 45. in Deut.

(d) Ephraim is preferred before his elder brother, agreeable to their grandfathers propheticall blessing. Gen 48.

(e) The sinne of Zambri a Prince of Simcons tribe, in fresh memorie (Nu. 25.) seemeth to be the cause, why this tribe is not particularly blessed, but only in general with all Israel.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. XXXIII.

The propheticall ſenſe of theſe bleſſings is more certaine, & more euident then the hiftorial.

2. Came from Sinai.) According to the hiftorie Moyſes recounteth here three benefits. Firſt, that God gaue the Law in Sinai, (Exod. 20.) Secondly, he cured thoſe which were bitten with ſerpents nere to Seir, (Num. 21.) Thirdly, in mount Pharan he appointed ſeuentic ancients to aſſiſt Moyſes in iudgements, (Num. 11.) But according to the Myſterie, which ſpecially is intended, S. Auguſtin (q. 16. in Dem.) ſaith this propheticall is not to be negligently paſſed ouer. For it euidently appeareth that this benediction pertaineth to a new people, whom Chriſt our Lord hath ſanctified, in whoſe perſon Moyſes ſpake and not in his owne. So in this propheticall and proper ſenſe (ſaith this Doctour) our Lord and Sauour commeth from Sinai, which is interpreted temptation, when he paſſed the temptation of his paſſion and death, Heb. 2. v. 18. Chriſt riſeth from Seir, interpreted hairie, for that in the ſimilitude of the fleſh of Sinne, euen of Sinne, he damned Sinne in the fleſh. Rom. 8. v. 3 He appeareth from mount Pharan, interpreted fruitfull mountaine in that he giueth abundance of grace in his Church of the new Teſtament, which is a citie ſet vpon a hill. Mat. 5.

C H A P. XXXIII.

The fifth part. The death, buriall, and ſingular praiſe of Moyſes.

Moyſes ſeeth the promiſed land, but is not ſuffered to goe into it. 5. He dieth at the age of 120. yeares. God burieth his bodie ſecretly, and al Iſrael mourne for him thirtie dayes. 9. Iofue replenished (by impoſition of Moyſes hands) with the ſpirit of God, ſucceedeth. 10. But Moyſes for his ſpecial familiaritie with God, and for moſt wonderful miracles is commended aboue al other Prophets.

(*) God eleuated his viſiue power aboue nature to ſee ſo farre.

MOYSES therefore went vp from the champion of Moab vpon mount Nebo, into the top of Phasga againſt Iericho: and our Lord ſhewed him (*) al the iard of Galaad as farre as Dan, 2. and al Nephthali, and the land of Ephraim and Manaffes, and al the Land of Iuda vnto the vtmoſt ſea, 3. and the ſouth part, and the breadth of the plaine of Iericho a citie of palme-trees as farre as Segor. 4. And our Lord ſaid to him: This is the Land, for the which I ſware to Abraham, Iſaac, and Iacob, ſaying: To thy ſeed wil I giue it. Thou haſt ſeen it with thyne eies, and ſhalt not paſſe ouer to it. 5. And Moyſes the ſeruant of our Lord died there, in the land of Moab, our Lord commanding it: 6. and he buried him in the valley

valley of the Land of Moab againſt Phogor : and (b) no man hath knowne his ſepulchre vntil this preſent day.

7. Moyſes was an hundred and twentie yeares old when he died : his eie was not dimme , neither were his teeth moued. 8. And the children of Iſrael mourned him in the champion countrie of Moab thirtie daies : & the daies of their mourning that mourned for Moyſes were accompliſhed. 9. And Iofue the ſonne of Nun was replenished with the ſpirit of wiſedome , becauſe Moyſes did put his hands vpon him. And the children of Iſrael obeyed him , and did as our Lord commanded Moyſes. 10. And there roſe no more a Prophet in Iſrael as Moyſes , whom our Lord had knowen face to face , 11. in al ſignes and wonders , which he ſent by him , to doe in the Land of Ægypt to Pharao , and to al his ſeruants , and to his whole Land, 12. and al the ſtrong hand , and great meruailes , which Moyſes did before al Iſrael.

(b) Only Angels (whoſe miniſterie God vſed herein) knew the place of his burial : left the Iewes prone to idolatrie might haue honoured him for God.

The end of the five bookes of Moyſes, containing the Law.

THE SECOND PART
OF THE OLD TESTAMENT: CONTAINING HISTORICAL BOOKES.

THE ARGUMENT OF THE BOOK OF IOSVE.

Whofocuer was Authour, the authoritie of this book is certaine.

Books of ho-lie Scripture principally treating of feueral arguments, yet in the fame participate each sort with others.

The contents
of this book.

Diuided into four parts.

VHETHER Iosue himself writ this booke (which is the common opinion) or some other, it was euer held vndoubtedly by al for Canonical Scripture: and according to the distribution of the whole Bible into Legal, Historical, Sapiential, and Prophetical Books, this is the first of the historical sort. But as the firste precedent called Legal, besides the Law, comprehend also the historie of the Church, from the beginning of the world neer 2500. yeares, and withal conteine much diuine Wisdome, & Prediction of things to come: so these books now following, called Historical, and likewise the Sapiential and Prophetical ensuing after, participate each with others in their seueral arguments: euerie one more or lesse inducing Gods seruants to keepe his Law; recoraing things done; reaching what is most meete to be done; and foreshewing beforehand things done afterward, or which yet shal come to passe. So this booke doth not only set forth the Actes of Iosue, who succeeded Moyses in temporal government of Gods people, commanding and directing them by law and wisdom; but also the same things done by him, and his verie name (as S. Hierome & other Fathers teach) prefigure our Lord IESVS Christ. For in Hebrew IEHOSVA is the name both of this Captaine General, the leader of the Israelites ouer Iordan into the Land of promise, and of our Lord and SAVIOVR, who by his Baptisme and other Sacraments bringeth his people of al Nations into the true Land of the liuing, where is life and felicitie euerlasting. Touching therefore the historie, these foure special things are here described. First, the passage of the Israelites ouer Iordan, in the firste chapters. Secondly, their conquest of the promised Land, in the seuen chapters following. Thirdly, the partition of the same Land among nine Tribes and a half, from the 13. chap. to the 22. Fourthly, in the three last chapters, the returne of the other two Tribes and a half to their possessions, on the east side of Iordan; with Iosues last admonition to them al, to serue God sincerely, and his and Eleazars death.

Histor.
Scho-
last.

S. Hier.
Epist. ad
Paulin.
S. Amb.
in Psal.
47. S.
Aug. li.
12. c. 31.
& li. 76.
c. 19.
contra
I. I. I.
I. I. I.

THE BOOK OF IOSVE, IN HEBREW IEHOSVA.

CHAP. I.

Iosue encouraged by our Lord 10. admonisheeth the people to prepare themselves to passe ouer Iordan, 12. and al the able men of the tribes of Ruben, Gad, and halfe Manasses, to march armed before the rest. 16. Al promise to doe whatsoeuer he commandeth.

AND it came to passe after the death of Moyse the seruant of our Lord, that our Lord spake to Iosue the sonne of Nun, the minister of Moyse, and said to him : 2. Moyse my seruant is dead : arise, and passe ouer this Iordan thou and al the people with thee into the Land, which I wil giue to the children of Israell. 3. Euerie place the step of your foot shal tread, wil I deliuer to you, as I haue spoken to Moyse. 4. From the desert and Libanus vnto the great riuer Euphrates, al the land of the Hethcites vnto the great sea against the going downe of the sunne, shal be your border. 5. No man shal be able to resist you al the daies of thy life : as I haue been with Moyse, so wil I be with thee : I wil not leaue nor forsake thee. 6. Take courage, and be strong : for thou shalt by lot diuide to this people the Land, for the which I sware to their fathers, that I would deliuer it to them. 7. Take courage therefore, and be very strong : that thou keep and doe al the Law, which Moyse my seruant hath commanded thee : decline not from it to the right hand or to the left, that thou mayest vnderstand al things which thou doest. 8. Let

The first part.
Of the passage of Israell ouer Iordan.

(a) Besides Manna, which yet ceased not, they might if they would prouide other meate: prefiguring that in the primitiue Church, it should be lawful to vse legal ceremonies with euangelical rites for a time, til the old law were buried with honour.

not the volume of this law depart from thy mouth: but thou shalt meditate in it daies and nights, that thou maiest keep and doe al things that be written in it: then shalt thou direct thy way, and vnderstand it. 9. Behold I command thee, take courage, and be strong. Feare not, and dread not: because the Lord thy God is with thee in al the things to whatsoeuer thou shalt goe. 10. And Iosue commanded the Princes of the people, saying: Passe through the middes of the campe, and command the people, and say: 11. Prepare for your selues (a) victuals: for after the third day you shal passe ouer Iordan, and shal enter to possesse the Land which our Lord your God wil giue you. 12. To the Rubenites also & Gaddites, & half tribe of Manasses he said: 13. Remember the word which Moyse the seruant of our Lord commanded you, saying: Our Lord your God hath giuen you rest, and al this Land. 14. Your wiues, and children, and cattel shal tarie in the Land, which Moyse deliuered to you beyōd Iordā: but passe you ouer armed before your brethren, al that are strong of hand, and fight for them, 15. vntil our Lord giue rest to your brethren, as to you also he hath giuen, and they also possesse the Land which our Lord your God wil giue them: and so returne into the Land of your possession, & you shal dwel in it, which Moyse the seruant of our Lord gaue you beyond Iordan, against the ryding of the sunne. 16. And they made answer to Iosue, & said: Al things that thou hast commanded vs we wil doe: and whither soeuer thou shalt send vs, we wil goe. 17. As we obeyed Moyse in al things, so wil we obey thee also: only be our Lord thy God with thee, as he was with Moyse. 18. He that shal gaine say thy mouth, and not obey al thy words that thou shalt command him, let him die. thou only take courage; and doe manfully.

C H A P. II.

Two discouerers sent into Hiericho are hid and concealed by Rahab: 8. and vpon promise of like safette to her whole familie, 21. she helpeth them secretly away.

HERFORE Iosue the sonne of Nun sent from Setim two men, to spie in secret, and said to them: Goe, and view the Land, & the citie of Iericho. Who going entred into the house of a woman, a harlot, named Rahab, and rested with her. 2. And it was told the King of Iericho, & said: Behold there are men come in hither by night of the children of Israel, to spie the Land. 3. And the King of Iericho sent to Rahab, saying: Bring forth the men that came to thee, and are entred into thy house, for they be spies, and are came to view al the Land. 4. And the woman taking the men, hid them, & said: I confesse they came to me, but

but (b) I knew not whence they were : 5. and when the gate was a shutting in the darke , and they withal went out , I know not whither they be gone : pursue quickly , and you shall ouertake them . 6. But she made the men to goe vp into the rooſe of her houſe , and couered them with the ſtalke of flaxe , which was there . 7. And they that were ſent followed them , the way that leadeth to the ford of Iordan : and they being gone out , the gate forwith was ſhut . 8. Neither were they yet aſleep that lay hid , and behold the woman went vp to them , and ſaid : 9. I know that the Lord hath giuen this Land to you : for your terrour is fallen vp vs , & al the inhabitants of the Land are become faint . 10. We haue heard that the Lord dried vp the water of the Red ſea at your entering , when you came out of Egypt : and what things you did to the two Kings of the Amorrhaites , that were beyond Iordan , Sehon and Og , whom you ſlew . 11. And hearing theſe things we greatly feared , and our hart fainted , neither did there remaine ſpirit in vs at your entering in : for the Lord your God he is God in heauen aboue , and in the earth beneath . 12. Now therefore ſwear to me by the Lord , that as I haue done mercie with you , ſo you alſo doe with my fathers houſe : and you giue me a true ſigne , 13. that you ſaue my father and mother , my brethren and ſiſters , and al things that be theirs , and deliuer our ſoules from death . 14. Who answered her : Be our liues for you vnto death , only if thou betray vs not . And when our Lord ſhall haue deliuered vs the land , we wil doe in thee mercie and truth . 15. She therefore did let them downe by a corde out of a window : for her houſe ioyned faſt to the wal . 16. And ſhe ſaid to them : Goe vp to the mountaines , leſt perhaps they meeete you returning : and there lie hid three daies , til they returne , and ſo you ſhall goe on your way . 17. Who ſaid to her : We ſhall be quit from this oath wherewith thou haſt ſworne vs , 18 if we entering the Land , there be this purple corde a ſigne , and thou tie it in the window , by the which thou haſt let vs downe : & gather thy father and mother , & brethren , & al thy kindred into thy houſe . 19. He that ſhall goe forth of the doore of thy houſe , his blood ſhall be vpon his head , & we ſhall be quit . But the blood of al that ſhall be with thee in the houſe , ſhall redound vpon our head , if any man touch them . 20. But if thou wilt betray vs , and vtter this talke abroad , we ſhall be quit from this oath , wherewith thou haſt adiuured vs . 21. And ſhe answered : As you haue ſpoken , ſo be it done , and diſmiſſing them to goe , ſhe hung the purple corde in the window . 22. But they walking came to the mountaines , and tarried there three daies , til they returned that purſued them : for ſeeking euerie way , they found them not . 23. Who being entred into the citie , the diſcouerers returned , and came downe from the mountaine : and paſſing ouer Iordan , they came to Iofue the ſonne of Nun , and told him al things that had chanced to them , 24. and ſaid : Our Lord hath deliuered al this land into our hands , and al the inhabitants therof are ouerthrowen with feare .

(b) Notwithſtanding this officious lie , (which is a venial ſinne) S. Paul , Heb. 11. and S. James (c. 2.) teſtifie , that ſhe was iuſtified by her faith in God , and by good works towards theſe men . S. Aug. cont. Mendac. c. 17. See Annot. Lac. 2. v. 25.

C H A P. III.

After three dayes abode by the bankes of Iordan, 3. the Priests with the Arke of God entring first into the riuer, 15. the vpper part miraculously standeth and swelleth, the lower running away, they goe into the middle chanel, and there stay, whiles al the people passe ouer drie foote.

(a) In place of the cloud and pillar of fire, the arke is now caried for their guide & direction.

b) It pertained to the Leuites office to carie the arke, Num. 4. but in this special seruice & miraculous passage the Priests did carie it: so the greater may doe the office of the lesse, not contrariwise.

(c) God shewed by this miracle, that Iosue had special commission from him, & that vnder his gouernment the people should prosper.

I O S U E therefore rising vp in the night, removed the campe: and departing from Se-tim, they came to Iordan, he and al the children of Israel, & abode there for three dayes.
 2. Which being passed, the heraulds went through the middes of the campe, 3. and began to proclaime: (a) When you shal see the arke of couenant of our Lord your God, and (b) the Priests of the Leuitical stock carrying it, ryse you also, & folow them going before: 4. & let there be between you & the arke the space of two thousand cubits: that you may see it a farre off, & know which way you may goe: because you haue not walked by it before: & beware you approach not to the arke. 5. And Iosue said to the people: Be sanctified, for to morrow our Lord wil doe among you meruelous things. 6. And he said to the Priests: Take vp the arke of the couenant, & goe before the people. Who fulfilling his commandments, tooke it, and walked before them. 7. And our Lord said to Iosue: This day wil I begin to exalt thee before al Israel: (c) that they may know as I was with Moyses, so am I with thee also. 8. And doe thou command the Priests, that carie the arke of the testament, and say to them: When you shal be entred into part of the water of Iordan, stand in it. 9. And Iosue said to the children of Israel: Come hither, and heare the word of our Lord your God. 10. And againe he said: In this you shal know that our Lord the liuing God is in the middes of you, and shal destroy in your sight the Chananeite and Hetheite, the Heueite and Pherezeite, the Gergeseite also and the Iebuseite, and the Amorrhite. 11. Behoid the arke of the couenant of the Lord of al the earth shal goe before you into Iordan. 12. Prepare twelue men of the tribes of Israel, one of euerie tribe. 13. And when the Priests that carie the arke of the Lord of the whole earth shal set the steps of their feet in the waters of Iordan, the waters that are beneath shal run downe and decay: and those that come from aboue, shal stand together in one heap. 14. Therefore the people went out of their tabernacles to passe ouer Iordan: and the Priests that caried the arke of the couenant, went on before them.

15. And

15. And they being entered into Iordan, and their feet dipped in part of the water (and Iordan in the harvest time had filled the bankes of his chanel) 16. the waters that came downeward stood in one place, and like a mountaine swelling vp appeared farre from the citie, that is called Adom, to the place of Sarthan: but those that were beneath ranne downe into the Sea of the wildernes (which now is called the dead sea) until they wholly decayed. 17. And the people went against Iericho: and the Priests that caried the arke of the couenant of our Lord, stood girded vpon the drie ground in the middes of Iordan, and al the people passed ouer through the drie chanel.

ANNOTATIONS.

CHAP. III.

3. Command the Priests.) Because Iosue commanded the Priests to take the arke, and stand with it in Iordan, for that also (chap. 5.) he ministred, or appointed others to minister, the Sacrament of Circumcision; likewise (chap. 8.) blessed the people, and (chap.) 24. renewed Gods couenant with them, English Protestants inferre, that he was chief superiour in spiritual causes; and therefore lay Princes are supreme heads & gouerners of the Church immediately vnder God. But none of these actions, nor al put together doe proue their purpose. For notwithstanding he very lawfully did these, and other like things, yet he had a spiritual superiour in earth, which was Eleazar the high-Priest. For Moyse being extraordinarie superiour of al, both in spiritual and temporal causes, the ordinarie priethood and spiritual supremacie was established in Aaron and his sonnes, as appeareth Leuit. 8. Num. 10. and other places: and the temporal gouernement after Moyse was giuen to Iosue, succeeding to him (Num. 27.) not in al, but in part of his glorie (or authoritie) his whole honour (or power) being distributed between the high-Priest, and the temporal Prince, as learned Theodoret (q. 48. in Num.) noteth vpon the sacred text, exprely distinguishing their offices (v. 21.) that Eleazar the Priest should consult our Lord for him (and so receiue answer in doctrine and veritie, Exod. 28. Leuit. 8.) and that Iosue should goe out and goe in, and al the children of Israel with him (that is, lead and gouerne the people) at Eleazars word. Where it is manifest that Iosue was not set ouer Eleazar, but Eleazar ouer him. That therefore which Iosue did in spiritual affaires, was in subordination to the high-Priest, by whose direction, approbation, or ratihabition, he commanded some of the Priests to carie the arke, and with it to goe into Iordaa, and comming into the midde chanel to stand there, whiles al the armie and people passed ouer: also gaue order that al should be circumcised, blessed the people, read the law, and after godlie exhortations, renewed the couenant between God and them, al in way of execution of Gods wil & commandements, not by anie pretended iurisdiction in spiritual things.

In like sorte manie other good temporal Princes, as wel in the old as the new Testament, haue disposed and executed diuers things pretcining to Gods seruice: their office requiring that they should set forward, maintaine & defend true faith and religion. Especially Christian Princes, of whom Esay Prophecied (chap. 49.) that Kings should be foster fathers, and Queenes the nources of the Church.

An obiection for lay-headship of the Church.

Answer.

Moyse chief both in spiritual and temporal authoritie, which was after diuided between the high-Priest & temporal Prince.

The high-Priest superiour.

Iosue executed Gods wil, not by spiritual iurisdiction, but with subordination to the high-Priest.

Other good Princes haue also much aduanced religio but not taken

*Exod. 4.
5.6. &c.
Deus. 17.*

Supremacie in spiritual causes.

For maintaining Catho-like Religion against heretikes, the Kings of Spaine haue the title Catho-like: The Fréch Kings, most Christian:
Kings of England Defenders of the faith.

Conformably where: S. Augustine teacheth (l. 3. c. 51. cont. Crescon.) that Kings, in that they are Kings, serue God by commanding good things, and forbidding euil, not only pertaining to humane societie, but also belonging to Gods religion. To this effect Constantine the Great did manie religious actes: yea euen those things which our aduersaries wrest to their owne sense, shew euidently his due submission to his spiritual pastour. As when vrged by the Donatists peruerse importunitie, and being desirous (as S. Augustine testifieth Epist. 116.) to bridle so great impudencie, he heard and iudged Bishop Cecilians cause, after other Bishops sentence for him against the heretikes, where he both gaue iudgement agreable to the Bishops, and yet pleading pardon, excused himself for this fact. Which had not needed, if he had been the ordinarie or competent iudge. Optatus also writeth (li. 1. cont. Parmen.) that the same Emperour Constantine exclaimed against the appellants in these words: O rabida furoris audacia! scus in causis Gentilium fieri solet, appellationem interposuerunt. O outrageous boldnes of furie! like as in causes of Gentiles is wont, they haue interposed an appeal. The like good offices die Iustinian, and Charles the Great, and manie other Christian Emperours and Kings, for which they are much renowned in the whole Church, and some haue been honoured for their religious zeale with glorious titles giuen to them and their successors. To the Kings of Spaine, from the time of Alonsus King of Castil, about eight hundred yeares agone, for expelling the Arians, was giuen the title of Catholike, as Michael Ritus a Neapolitan writeth. To the French Kings the title of most Christian, from the time of Philip the Emperour, about 400. yeares since, for expelling the Albigenes, as recordeth Nicolaus Gillius. To our King Henrie the Eight of England, for his booke of the Sacraments against Luther, Pope Leo the tenth gaue the title Defender of the faith.

Veniam-pessurus.

*An De.
1521.*

C H A P. IIII.

In memorie of their miraculous passage, twelue chief men, of the twelue tribes, take so manie great stones from the middes of Iordan, 9. and put other twelue, where the Priests stood with the arke. 13. The waters returne to their former course. And the twelue stones are erected for a monument.

(4) Is not the forme of a crosse as conueniēt a signe, to put Christians in mind, how our Saviour redeemed vs, as these stones were to the Iewes, how God brought their fathers ouer Iordan?

HO being passed ouer, our Lord said to Iosue: 2. Choose twelue men, one in euerie tribe: 3. & command them that they take vp out of the middes of the chanel of Iordan, where the feet of the Priests stood, twelue most hard stones, which you shal put in the place of the campe, where you shal pitch tentes this night. 4. And Iosue called twelue men, whom he had chosen out of the children of Israel, one of euerie tribe, 5. and he said to them: Goe before the arke of our Lord your God to the middes of Iordan, and carrie from thence euerie man a stone on your shoulders, according to the number of the children of Israel, 6. that it may be (4) a signe among you: and when your children shal aske you to morrow, saying: What meane these stones? 7. You shal answer them:

them : The waters of Iordan decayed before the arke of the couenant of our Lord , when it passed ouer the same : therefore were these stones set for a monument of the children of Israel for euer. 8. The children of Israel therefore did as Iosue commanded them , carying out of the chanel of Iordan twelue stones , as our Lord had commanded him, according to the number of the children of Israel , vnto the place, wherein they camped , and there they set them. 9. Other twelue stones also Iosue put in the middes of the chanel of Iordan , where the Priests stood , that caried the arke of the couenant : and they be there vntil this present day. 10. But the Priests that caried the arke , stood in the middes of Iordan , til al things were accomplished which our Lord had commanded Iosue to speake to the people , and Moyfes had said to him. And the pleople made hast , and passed ouer. 11. And when they had al passed ouer , the arke also of our Lord passed ouer , the Priests also went before the people. 12. The children of Ruben also and Gad , & the half tribe of Manasses , went armed before the children of Israel , as Moyfes had commanded them : 13. and fourtie thousand fighting men by , troups and bands marched through the plaine and champion countrie of the citie of Iericho. 14. In that day our Lord magnified Iosue before al Israel , that they should feare him , as they had feared Moyfes , whiles he yet liued. 15. And he said to him : 16. Command the Priests that carie the arke of the couenant , that they come vp out of Iordan. 17. Who commanded them , saying : Come ye vp out of Iordan. 18. And whē they that caried the arke of the couenant of our Lord were come vp , & began to tread on the drie ground , the waters returned into their chanel , and ran as they were wont before. 19. And the people came vp out of Iordan the tenth day of the first month , and camped in Galgal against the East side of the citie of Iericho. 20. The twelue stones also , which they had taken out of the chanel of Iordan , Iosue set in Galgal , 21. and said to the children of Israel : When your children shal aske their fathers to morrow , and shal say to them : What meane these stones ? 22. You shal teach them , and say : By the drie chanel did Israel passe ouer this Iordan , 23. your Lord God drying the waters therof in your sight , vntil you passed ouer : 24. as he had done before in the red sea , which he dried til we passed through : 25. that al the people of the earth may learne the molt itrong hand of our Lord , that you also may feare our Lord your God.

C H A P. V.

The Kings of Chanaan are sore afrighted with the newes of Israels passage ouer Jordan. 2. Circumcision is againe commanded, and obserued, which had been omitted in the desert fourtie yeares. 10. They make their Pasch. 12. Manna ceaseth. 13. And an Angel appeareth to Iosue.

HERFORE after that al the Kings of the Ammorheites, which dwelt beyond Iordan at the west side, and al the Kings of Chanaan, which possessed the places nigh to the great sea, had heard that our Lord had dried the streames of Iordan before the children of Israel, til they passed ouer, their hart failed, and there remained no spirit in them, fearing the entring of the children of Israel. 2. At that time our Lord said (a) to Iosue: Make thee kniues of stone, and circumeise (b) the second time the children of Israel. 3. He did that which our Lord had commanded, and he circumcised the children of Israel in the hil of the prepuces. 4. And this is the cause of the second circumcision: Al the people, that came out of Ægypt of the malekind, al the fighting men died in the desert by the long circuits of the way, 5. who were al circumcised. But the people that was borne in the desert, 6. during the fourtie yeares of the iourney in the wide wildernes was incircumcised: til they were consumed that had not heard the voice of our Lord, and to whom he had sworne before, that he would not shew them a land flowing with milke and honie. 7. The children of these succeeded in the place of the fathers, and were circumcised of Iosue: for they were in the prepuce euen as they were borne, neither had any circumcised them in the way. 8. And after that they were al circumcised, they abode in the same place of the campe, vntil they were whole. 9. And our Lord said to Iosue: This day haue I taken away the reproach of Ægypt from you. And the name of that place was called Galgal, vntil this present day. 10. And the children of Israel abode in Galgal, & they made the Phase, the fourteenth day of the month at euen, in the champion of Iericho: 11. and they did care of the corne of the Land the next day, azyme loaves and * polent of the same yeare. 12. And Manna failed after they did eate of the corne of the Lād, neither did the children of Israel vse that meate any more, but they did eate of the corne of the present Land of Chanaan. 13. And when Iosue was in the field of the citie of Iericho, he lifted vp his eyes, and saw a man standing against him, holding a drawen sword, and he went to him, and said: Art thou ours, or our aduersaries? 14. Who answered: No: but I am a (b) Prince of the host of our Lord, and now I come. 15. Iosue fel μενσιε.

* Γυρ-

(a) See annotations c. 3. v. 8.
(b) Circumcision had been omitted fourtie yeares, while they were in the desert, alwayes vncertaine when to march, & so it is now commanded the second time.

(b) Not God, but of Gods hoite.

flat

flat on the ground. And^r adoring he said : What speaketh my Lord to his seruant ? 16. " Loose , sayth he , thy shoe from thy feet : for the place wherein thou dost stand , is holie . And Iosue did as it was commanded him .

A N N O T A T I O N S .

C H A P . V .

15. Adoring.] Iosue knowing that the person which appeared, was an Angel, and not God, nor a man, neither adored him with godlic honour, for that had been idolatrie, nor with ciuill, for that pertaineth to wordlic and temporal excellencie, and is not competent to sacred things, especially to immortal and glorious spirits; and therefore the honour he did to this Angel, was religious honour infinitely inferiour to diuine, and yet much greater then ciuill.

16. Loose thy shoe.) The Angel did not only accept of the honour done vnto him, but also required more, shewing that the verie place was holie for his presence, being otherwise the common field of Iericho.

Religious honour due to Angels.

Holie places.

See Annotations. Exo. 20.

C H A P . VI .

Some Priests carrying the arke, others sounding Iubilee trumpets, armed men going before, and the rest of the people following, goe euerie day once, six daies together, and the seuenth day seuen times, round about Iericho. 16. At last al making a great shout, the wals fal downe, and they entring in kil and destroy ai (22. sauing Rahab and her kindred.) The gold, siluer, brasse, and iron are brought into the treasure. 26. And he is cursid that shal build the citie againe.

The second part. Of conquering the Land of promise.

AND Iericho was shut and fenced, for feare of the children of Israel, and no man durst goe out or come in. 2. And our Lord said to Iosue: Behold I haue giuen into thy hands Iericho, & the King therof, & al the valiant men. 3. (a) Goe round about the citie al you that be men of warre once a day: so shal you doe six daies. 4. And the seuenth day the Priests shal take vp the seuen trumpets, which are vsed in the Iubilee, and shal goe before the arke of the couenant: and you shal goe about the citie seuen times, and the Priests shal sound with trumpets. 5. And when the voice of the trumpet shal sound in length and with a broken tune, and shal sound in your eares, al the people shal crie together with a verie great shout, and the wals of the citie shal fal to the ground, and they shal enter in euerie one at the place against which they shal stand.

(a) God appointed this long and solemne procession, to the end it might appeare that the wals of Iericho fel not by chance, nor by force of mans industrie, but by the mightie hand of God.

6. Iofue therefore the ſonne of Nun called the Priests, and ſaid to them: Take vp the arke of the couenant: and let ſeuē other Priests take vp the ſeuē trumpets of the Iubilees, and march before the arke of our Lord. 7. To the people alſo he ſaid: Goe and compaſſe the citie, the armed going before the arke of our Lord. 8. And when Iofue had ended his words, and the ſeuē Priests ſounded with ſeuē trumpets before the arke of the couenant of our Lord, 9. and al the armed hoſte went before, the reſt of the common people folowed the arke, and al places ſounded with the trumpets. 10. But Iofue had commanded the people, ſaying: You ſhal not crie, neither ſhal your voice be heard, nor any word goe out of your mouth, vntil the day come wherein I ſhal ſay to you: Crie, and ſhout. 11. Therefore the arke of our Lord went about the citie once a day, & returning into the campe, abode there. 12. Iofue therefore ryſing in the night, the Priests tooke the arke of our Lord, 13. and ſeuē of them ſeuē trumpets, which are vſed in the iubilce: and they went before the arke of our Lord walking and ſounding: and the armed people went before them, and the reſt of the common people folowed the arke, and they ſounded with trumpets. 14. And they went round about the citie the ſecond day once, and returned into the campe. So did they ſix daies. 15. But the ſeuēth day, ryſing vp early they went about the citie, as it was ordained, ſeuē times. 16. And when in the ſeuēth going about the Priests ſounded with the trumpets, Iofue ſaid to al Iſrael: Make a ſhout, for our Lord hath deliuered to you the citie: 17. and let this citie be anathema: and al things that are in it, to our Lord. onlie Rahab the harlot let her liue, with al that be with her in the houſe: for ſhe hid the meſſengers whom we ſent. 18. But you, beware you touch not ought of theſe things, that are commanded, and be guiltie of preuarication, and (b) al the campe of Iſrael be vnder ſinne, and be troubled. 19. But whatſoeuer gold or ſiluer there ſhal be, and of braſen veſſels and yron, let it be conſecrated to our Lord, layd vp in his treasures. 20. Therefore al the people making a ſhout, and the trumpets ſounding, after that the voice and the ſound thundred in the eares of the multitude, the wals forthwith fel: and euerie man went vp by the place that was againſt him, and they tooke the citie, 21. and killed al things that were in it, from man to woman, from the infant to the old man. The oxen alſo and ſheep, and the aſſes they ſtruck in the edge of the ſword. 22. But to the two men that had been ſent for ſpies, Iofue ſaid: Goe into the houſe of the woman the harlot, and bring her forth, and al things that be hers, as you aſſured her by oath. 23. And the yong men going in, brought out Rahab, and her parents, her brethren alſo, and al her ſtuffe and kinred, and made them to tarie without the campe. 24. But the citie, and al things that were found therein they burnt; except the gold and ſiluer, and braſen veſſels, and yron, which they conſecrated vnto the treaſurie of our Lord. 25. But Rahab the

(b) Manie are held guiltie of ſinne, and are juſtly puniſhed for the fact of one or few, either becauſe they conſented or concealed, or neglected to puniſh the offenders: or els they ſuffer temporal affliction for their warning to abhorre ſinne, & for increaſe of their merite. S. Aug. 9. 8. & 9. in Iofue.

harlot

harlot and the house of her father, and al that she had, Iosue caused to liue, and they dwelt in the middes of Israel vntil this present day: for that she hid the messengers, which he had sent to view Iericho. At that time Iosue pronounced a curse, saying: 26. (c) Cursed be the man before our Lord, that shal rayse vp and build the cite of Iericho. In his first borne lay he the foundations therof, and in the last of his children set he vp the gates therof. 27. Our Lord therefore was with Iosue, and his name was bruited in al the earth.

(c) Hiel fell into this curse for repairing Iericho. 3. Reg. 16. v. 34.

CHAP. VII.

For the sinne of Achan, reseruing secretly to himself certaine money, and other precious things, the Israelites are beaten in battel. 13. But the offender being found out, and stoned to death, Gods wrath is turned from them.

BV T the children of Israel transgressed the commandment, and vsurped of the anathema: For Achan the sonne of Carimi, the sonne of Zabdi, the sonne of Zare of the tribe of Iuda, tooke somewhat of the anathema: and our Lord was angrie against the children of Israel. 2. And when Iosue sent from Iericho men against Hai, which is beside Bethauen, at the East side of the towne of Bethel, he said to them: Goe vp, and view the Land: who accomplishing his commandments, viewed Hai. 3. And returning they said to him: Let not al the people goe vp, but let two or three thousand men goe, and destroy the cite: why shal al the people be vexed in vaine against verie few enemies? 4. There went vp therefore three thousand fighting men. Who immediately turning their backes, 5. were stricken of the men of the cite of Hai, and there fel of them (d) six and thirtie men: and the aduersaries pursued them from the gate as farre as Sabarim, and they stricke them flying away by the descent: and the hart of the people was much arayd, and melted like vnto water. 6. But Iosue rent his garments, and fel flat on the ground before the arke of our Lord vntil euening, as wel he as al the ancients of Israel: and they cast dust vpon their heads, 7. and Iosue said: Alas, o Lord God, why wouldest thou bring this people over the riuer of Iordan, to deliuer vs into the hãds of the Amorrhite, & to destroy vs? Would God as we began, we had taried beyond Iordan. 8. My Lord God what shal I say, seeing Israel turning their backes to their enemies? 9. The Chananeites shal heare of it, & al the inhabitants of the Land, and being gathered together in a plump shal compasse vs about, & shal destroy our name from the earth:

(d) So God tempered his punishment that but few were slaine, & afterwards gaue the towne to the Israelites without losse of any of their men.

(b) Prayer will not availe til iustice be first done.

and what wilt thou doe to thy great name? 10. And our Lord said to Iosue: Arise (b) why liest thou flat on the ground? 11. Israel hath sinned, and transgressed my covenant: and they haue taken of the anathema, and haue stolen and lied, and haue hid it among their vessels. 12. Neither can Israel stand before his enemies, and he shal fly them: because he is polluted with the anathema. I wil be no more with you, til you dispatch him, that is guiltie of this wicked fact. 13. Arise, sanctifie the people, and say to them: Be sanctified against to morrow, for thus saith our Lord God of Israel: There is anathema in the middes of thee, o Israel: thou canst not stand before thyne enemies, til he be destroyed out of thee that is contaminated with this wicked fact. 14. And you shal come in the morning euerie one by your tribes: and what tribe soeuer the lot shal find, it shal come by the kinreds therof, the kinred by the houses, & the house by the men. 15. And whosoever he be that shal be taken in this fact, he shal be burnt in the fyre with al his substance, because he hath transgressed the conuenant of our Lord, & hath done abomination in Israel. 16. Iosue therefore rising in the morning, made Israel to come by their tribes, and it was found the tribe of Iuda. 17. Which being presented by the families therof, it was found the familie of Zare. Presenting that also by the houses, he found it Zabdi: 18. whose house diuiding into euerie man, he fōne Achan the sonne of Charini, the sonne of Zabdi, the sonne of Zare of the tribe of Iuda. 19. And Iosue said to Achan: My sonne, giue glorie to our Lord God of Israel, and confesse, and tel me what thou hast done, hide it not. 20. And Achan answered Iosue, & said to him: Indeed I haue sinned to our Lord the God of Israel, and thus and thus haue I done. 21. For I saw among the spoiles a cloke of scarlet verie good, and two hundred sicles of siluer, and a golden rule of fittie sicles: and coueting I tooke it away, and hid it in the ground against the middes of my tabernacle, and the siluer I couered with the earth digged vp. 22. Iosue therefore sent ministers: who running to his tabernacle found al things hid in the same place, and the siluer withal. 23. And taking it away out of the tent, brought it to Iosue, and to al the children of Israel, and threw it before our Lord. 24. Iosue therefore taking Achan the sonne of Zare, and the siluer and the cloke, and the golden rule, his sonnes also and daughters, his oxen, and asses, and sheep, and the tabernacle it-self, and al the stuffe: (and al Israel with him) they brought them to the valley of Achor: 25. where Iosue said: Because thou hast disturbed vs, our Lord disturbe thee in this day. And al Israel stoned him: and al things that were his were consumed with tyre. 26. And they gathered together vpon him a great heap of stones, which remaineth vntil this present day. And the turie of our Lord was auerted from them. And the name of that place was called, The valley of Achor, vntil this day.

C H A P. V I I I.

By stratageme of an ambushment the citie of Hai is taken and burned, and al the inhabitants slaine. 29. The King hanged. 30. An Altar built, Sacrifice offered, 32. the law written in stones, the people blessed, and the blessings and cursings read before them al.

AN D our Lord said to Iosue : Feare not, neither doe thou dread : take with thee al the multitude of fighting men, and ryling goe vp vnto the towne of Hai. be old I haue deliuered into thy hand the King therof, & the people, and the citie and the land. 2. And thou shalt doe to the citie of Hai, and to the King therof, as thou hast done to Iericho, and to the King therof: but the prey and al the cattel you shal spoyle for your selues: (a) lay ambushments to the citie behind it. 3. And Iosue arose, and al the hoste of the men of warre with him, to goe vp into Hai: and thirtie thousand chosen valiant men he sent in the night, 4. and commanded them, saying: Lay ambushments behind the citie: neither retyre you farre off: and you shal al be readie. 5. But I and the rest of the multitude, which is with me, wil goe vp on the contrarie side against the citie. And when they shal issue out against vs, as we did before, we wil fly, and turne our backes: 6. til pursuing they be drawen forward farre from the citie: for they wil thinke that we fly as before. 7. We therefore flying, and they pursuing, you shal rise out of the ambushments, and shal wast the citie: and our Lord your God wil deliuer it into your hands. 8. And when you shal take it, burne it, and you shal doe al things so as I haue commanded. 9. And he dismissed them away, and they went on to the place of the ambushments, and sate between Bethel and Hai, at the West side of the citie of Hai. But Iosue that night stayed in the middes of the people, 10. and ryling early he mustered his soldiers, and went vp with the ancients in the front of the hoste, enuironed with the ayd of the fighting men. 11. And when they were come, and were gone vp directly against the citie, they stood on the North side of the citie, between which and them was a valley in the middes. 12. And (b) five thousand men had he chosen, and set in the ambushments between Bethel and Hai, on the West side of the same citie: 13. but al the rest of the hoste went in battel aray on the North side, so that the last of the multitude did reach to the West side of the citie. Iosue therefore went that night, and stood in the middes of the valley. 14. Which when the King of Hai had seen, he made hast in the morning, and issued forth with al the hoit of the citie, and bent his armie toward

(a) Deceipts & stratagemes are lawful in iust warre; but not falshood, nor breach of promise. S. Aug. 9. 10. in Iosue.

(b) These five thousand were of the thirtie thousand, which were first sent. v. 3. The other 25000. ioyned with Iosues troupe, & entered into the citie.

(c) Not one fit to beare armes was left.

d He lifted his shield vpon a long pike or lance, that it might be seene farre off.

the desert, being ignorant that there lay embushments secretly behind his backe. 15. But Iosue and al Israel gaue backe, feyning feare, and flying by the way of the wildernes. 16. But they cried aloud together, & encouraging one an other, pursued them. And when they were gone from the citie, 17. and (c) not one remained in the citie of Hai and Bethel that pursued not Israel (euen as they had rushed out leauing the townes open) 18. our Lord said to Iosue: (d) Lift vp the shield, that is in thy hand, against the citie of Hai, for I wil deliuer it to thee. 19. And when he had lifted vp his shield against the citie, the embushments, that lay hid, rose vp immediately: and going to the citie, tooke and burnt it. 20. And the men of the citie, that pursued Iosue, looking backe & seeing the smoke of the citie rise vp euen to heauen, they could no more fly hither and thither: especially whereas they, that had feyned running away, and went toward the wildernes, most valiantly resisted against the pursuers. 21. And Iosue and al Israel seeing that the citie was taken, and the smoke of the citie rose vp, returning he strucke the men of Hai. 22. For they also that had taken and burnt the citie, issuing out of the citie against their owne men, began to strike the enemies in the middes of them. When the aduersaries therefore were slaine on both sides, so that none of so great a multitude was saued, 23. they tooke the King of the citie of Hai aliue, and presented him to Iosue. 24. Therefore al being slaine, that had pursued Israel flying to the deserts, and falling by the sword in the same place, the children of Israel returning struck the citie. 25. And there were that fel that same day from man vnto woman, twelue thousand men, al of the citie of Hai. 26. But Iosue plucked not in his hand, which he had stretched forth on high, holding the shield til al the inhabitants of Hai were slaine. 27. And the cattel and the prey of the citie the children of Israel diuided among them, as our Lord had commanded Iosue. 28. Who burnt the citie, and made it a heap for euer: 29. the King also therof he hung on a gibbet vntil euening and the going downe of the sunne. And he commanded, and they tooke downe his corps from the gibbet: and threw it in the verie entring of the citie, heaping vpon it a great heap of stones, which remaineth vntil this present day. 30. Then Iosue built an altar to our Lord the God of Israel in mount Hebal, 31. as Moyfes the seruant of our Lord had commaded the children of Israel, and it is written in the volume of the law of Moyfes: an Altar of vnheued stones which yron hath not touched; and he offered vpon it holocausts to our Lord, and immolated pacifike vicrimes. 32. And he wrote vpon stones the Deuteronomie of the law of Moyfes, which he had ordered before the children of Israel. 33. And al the people, and the ancients, and the Princes and iudges stood on both sides of the arke, in the sight of the Priests that caried the arke of the couenant of our Lord, as wel the stranger as also the man of the same countrie. the half part of them beside mount Garizim, and halfe beside mount Hebal, as Moyfes the seruant of our Lord had comanded.

Deut. 27

And

And first indeed he (e) blessed the people of Israel. 34. After this he read al the words of the blessing and the cursing, and al things that were written in the volume of the law. 35. Nothing of those things, which Moyses had commanded, did he leaue vntouched, but he repeated al things before al the multitude of Israel, the women and children and strangers, that dwelt among them.

(e) Al superiours may blesse their subiects, Princes their people, & parents their children.

C H A P. I X.

Other nations fearing Israel ioyne their forces to fight against them, 3. but the Gabaonites send Embassadors, seyning craftily to come farre off, 14. with whom Iosue and the ancients of Israel make league binding it by oath. 16. Within three dayes they are detected to be neere inhabitants. Whereupon the people murmur against their Princes. Who yet for their oath, let the Gabaonites liue, 20. onely making them and their progenie perpetual seruants, to cut wood, and carie water.

WHICH things being heard, al the Kings beyond Jordan, that dwelt in the mountaines and champion countries, in the piaces by the sea side and the inore of the great sea, they also that dwelt beside Libanus, the Hetheite and Amorreite, the Chanaanite, the Pherezeite, and the Heueite, and the Iebuseite, 2. were gathered to fight against Iosue and Israel, with one mind and one sentence. 3. But they that dwelt in Gabaon, hearing al things that Iosue had done to Iericho and Hai: 4. subtelly deuising tooke prouision for themselues, laying old sackes vpon their asses, & bottels of wine rent and sowed againe, 5. and shoes very old which for a shew of oldnesse were clouted with specks, putting on them old garments: the loaues also, which they caried for prouision by the way, were hard, and broken into pieces: 6. and they went on to Iosue, who then abode in the campe at Galgal, and said to him, and withal to al Israel: We are come from a farre countrie, desirous to make peace with you. And the children of Israel answered them, and said: 7. Lest perhaps you dwel in the Land which is due to vs by lot, and we can not enter a league with you. 8. But they said to Iosue: We are thy seruants. To whom Iosue said: Who are you? & whence came you? 9. They answered: From a very farre countrie are thy seruants come, in the name of the Lord thy God. For we haue heard the fame of his might, al things that he did in Ægypt, 10. and to the two Kings of the Amorrhcites that were beyond Jordan, Schon the King of Hesebon, and Og the King of Basan, that were in Astaroth,

(a) In such a case they ought to haue consulted God, to wit, the high-Priest putting on the Ephod & Rationale, should haue prayed at the dore of the tabernacle, where our Lord appointed to speake vnto him. Exo. 29 v. 42. It was also ordained. Num. 27 v. 21. that Elcazar should consult our Lord, when any thing was to be done by Iosue, which omitting to doe they were deceiued by these Gabaonites.

(b) In these Gabaonites of Chanaans race was fulfilled Noes propheticie Gen. 9 that Chanaan should be a seruant to his brethren.

11. and our ancients, and al the inhabitants of our Land said to vs: Take in your hands victuals for a very long way, and goe meet them, and say: We are your seruants, enter a league with vs. 12. Behold, these loaves we tooke hot, when we departed from our houses to come to you, now they are become drie, and broken for ouer-much oldnesse. 13. The bottels of wine we filled being new, now they are burst and dissolued. The garments and shoes that we haue vpon vs, & which we haue on our feet, for the length of the long way are worne, and almost consumed. 14. They tooke therefore of their victuals, & (a) asked not the mouth of our Lord. 15. And Iosue made peace with them, and entring a league promised that they should not be slaine: the Princes also of the multitude sware to them. 16. But three daies after that the league was made, they heard that they dwelt nigh, and they should be among them. 17. And the children of Israel remoued the campe, and came into their cities the third day, whose names are these, Gabaon, and Chaphira, and Beroth, and Chariathiarim. 18. And they stricke them not, because the Princes of the multitude had sworne in the name of our Lord the God of Israel. Therefore al the common people murmured against the Princes. 19. Who answered them: We haue sworne to them in the name of our Lord the God of Israel, and therefore we may not touch them. 20. But this we wil doe to them: Let them be reserued indeed aliue, lest the wrath of God be stirred against vs, if we shal be forsworne: 21. but so let them liue, that for the vies of the whole multitude they hew wood, and carie in water. Who speaking these things, 22. Iosue called the Gabaonites, and said to them: Why would you deceiue vs by fraud to say: We dwel very farre off from you, whereas you are in the middes of vs? 23. Therefore you shal be vnder a curse, and there shal not faile of your stocke a hewer of wood, and a carier of water into the house of my God. 24. Who answered: It was told vs thy seruants, that the Lord thy God had promised Moyse his seruant, that he would deliuer you al the Land, and would destroy al the inhabitants therof. Therefore we feared exceedingly and prouided for our liues, compelled by your terrour, and we tooke this counsel. 25. And now we are in thy hand: that which seemeth vnto thee good and right, doe to vs. 26. Iosue therefore did as he had said, and deliuered them from the hand of the children of Israel, that they should not be slaine. 27. And he decreed in that day, that (b) they should be in the ministerie of al the people, and of the altar of our Lord, hewing wood, and carying water, vntil this present time, in the place which our Lord had chosen.

C H A P. X.

Five Kings of the Amorrhaites besieging Gabaon, because it is confederate with Israel, 6. Iosue with his armie defeateth theirs, killing and pursuing them. 11. Manie also are slaine with haile stones. 12. At the prayer of Iosue the sunne and moone stand stil the space of one day. 22. The five Kings are hanged on gibbets. 28. He taketh also and subdueth diuers cities 40. and countries.

WHICH things when Adonisedec King of Ierusalem had heard, to wit, that Iosue had taken Hai, and had subuerted it (for as he had done to Iericho and the King therof, so did he to Hai and their King) and that the Gabaonites were fled to Israel, and were their confederates, 2. he was fore afrayd. For Gabaon was a great citie, and one of the kinglie cities, and greater then the towne of Hai, and al their men of warre most valiant. 3. Therefore Adonisedec King of Ierusalem sent to Oham King of Hebron, and to Pharam King of Ierimoth, to Iaphia also King of Lachis, and to Dabir King of Eglon, saying: 4. Come vp to me, and bring ayd, that we may ouercome Gabaon, because it reuolted to Iosue, and to the children of Israel. 5. Therefore the five Kings of the Amorrhaites being assembled went vp: the King of Ierusalem, the King of Hebron, the King of Ierimoth, the King of Lachis, the King of Eglon, together with their hosts, & camped about Gabaon, assaulting it. 6. But the inhabitants of the citie Gabaon which was besieged, sent to Iosue, who then abode in the campe at Galgal, and said to him: withdraw not thy hands from the help of thy seruants: come vp quickly & deliuer vs, and bring ayd: for there are assembled against vs al the Kings of the Amorrhaites, which dwel in the mountaines. 7. And Iosue went vp fro Galgal, & al the hoste of the men of warre with him most valiant men. 8. And our Lord said to Iosue: Feare them not: for I haue deliuered them into thy hands: none of them shal be able to resist thee. 9. Iosue therefore came in vpon the sodainly, going vp al the night from Galgal. 10. And our Lord troubled them at the sight of Israel: and destroyed them with a great slaughter in Gabaon, & pursued them by the way of the ascent to Beth-horon, & strucke them vnto Azeca & Maccda. 11. And when they fled the children of Israel, and were in the descent of Beth-horon, our Lord sent vpon them great stones from heauen as farre as Azeca: and there died farre more with the stones of haile, then they whom the children of Israel had strucken with the sword. 12. Then spake Iosue to our Lord in the day, that he deliuered the Amorrhaites in the sight of Israel, & said before them: Thou Sunne

(a) Iosue did thinke if the moone moued the sunne also must necessarily moue, so he obtained the stay of both.

(b) Til after the time this book was written.

(c) God condescending to worke so great a miracle at the instance of his seruant.

(d) God so disposed, that they should not conquer al in one yeare: lest the land had been brought into a wilderness, and beasts increased against them.

Exod. 23. v. 29. Morally it signifieth, that the children of God must be exercised in tribulations & mortification lest vices grow in them. Procop. in Exod.

against Gabaon moue not, and thou (a) Moone against the valley of Aialon. 13. And the Sunne & Moone stood stil, til the people reuenged themselues of their enemies. Is not this written in the book of the iust? The Sunne therefore stood stil in the middes of heauen, & hastned not to goe downe the space of one day. 14. There was not before nor (b) after so long a day, our Lord (c) obeying the voice of a man, and fighting for Israel. 15. And Iosue returned with al Israel into the campe of Galgal. 16. For the five Kings were fled, and had hid themselues in a caue of the citie of Maceda. 17. And it was told Iosue that the five Kings were found lying hid in a caue of the citie of Maceda. 18. Who commanded them saying: Role great stones into the mouth of the caue, and set industrious men, which may keep them shut in: 19. and stand not you stil, but pursue the enemies, and kil al the hindermost of them that fly, neither let them enter into the forts of their cities, whom our Lord God hath deliuered into your hands. 20. The aduersaries therefore being slaine with a great slaughter, and almost consumed to vtter destruction, they that could escape from Israel (d) entred into fenced cities. 21. And al the hoste returned to Iosue in Maceda, where then the campe was, safe and the ful number: and no man durst once mutter against the children of Israel. 22. And Iosue commanded, saying: Open the mouth of the caue, & bring forth to me the five Kings, that lie hid therein. 23. And the ministers did as it was commanded them: and they brought to him the five kings out of the caue, the King of Ierusalem, the King of Hebron, the King of Ierimoth, the King of Lachis, the King of Eglon. 24. And when they were brought forth to him, he called al the men of Israel, and said to the Princes of the hoste that were with him: Goe, and set your feet vpon the necks of these Kings. Who when they had gone, & troden with their feet the necks of them lying vnder, 25. againe he said to them: Feare ye not, neither dread, take courage and be strong: for so wil our Lord doe to al your enemies, against whom you fight. 26. And Iosue struck, and slew them, and hanged them vpon five gibbets: and they hung vntil euening. 27. And when the sunne was downe, he commanded the soldiers to take them downe from the gibbets. Who cast them being taken downe into the caue, wherin they had lyen hid, and put on the mouth therof great stones, which continue vntil this present. 28. The same day Iosue tooke Maceda and struck it in the edge of the sword, and killed the King and al the inhabitants therof: he left not in it so much as smal relikes. And he did to the King of Maceda, as he had done to the King of Iericho. 29. and he passed with al Israel from Maceda vnto Lebna, & fought against it: 30. which our Lord deliuered with the King therof into the hands of Israel: & they struck the citie in the edge of the sword, & al the inhabitants therof. they left not in it anie remaines. And they did to the King of Lebna, as they had done to the King of Iericho. 31. Fro Lebna he passed vnto Lachis with al Israel: & placing the hoste round about assaulted it.

32. And our Lord deliuered Lachis into the hands of Israel, and he tooke it the day folowing, and struck it in the edge of the sword, and cuerie soule that was in it, as he had done to Lebna. 33. At that time went vp Horam the King of Gazar, to ayd Lachis: whom Iosue struck with al his people to vtter destruction. 34. And he passed from Lachis vnto Egion, & compassed it, 35. and wonne it the same day: and struck in the edge of the sword al the soules that were in it, according to al things that he had done to Lachis. 36. He went vp also with al Israel from Egion vnto Hebron, and fought against it: 37. tooke it, & struck it in the edge of the sword, the King also therof, and al townes of that countrie, & al the soules that remained in it: he left not therein anie remaines: as he had done to Egion, so did he also to Hebron, al things that he found in it consuming with the sword. 38. Thence returning vnto Dabir, 39. he tooke it, and wasted it: the King also therof and al townes round about he struck in the edge of the sword: he left not in it anie remains: as he had done to Hebron & Lebna and to their Kings, so did he to Dabir and the King therof. 40. Iosue therefore struck al the hillie countrie & south and champaine, and Asedoth with their Kings: he left not in it anie relikes, but cuerie thing that could breath he slew, as our Lord the God of Israel had commanded him, 41. from Cadefbarne vnto Gaza. Al the Land of Gosen vnto Gabaon, 42. and al their Kings and countries he tooke and wasted at one assault: for our Lord the God of Israel fought for him. 43. And he returned with al Israel to the place of the campe in Galgal.

C H A P. XI.

Iabin a more principal King somoneth other Kings to ioyne with him against Israel. 6. Iosue animated with Gods promise of victorie, 7. ouerthroweth them al, 16. subdueth their countrie: 12. killeth also manie of the giants stocke.

WHICH things when Iabin the King of Asor had heard, he sent to Iobab the King of Madon, and to the King of Semeron, and to the King of Achsaph: 2. to the Kings also of the North, that dwelt in the mountaines and in the plaine against the south side of Ceneroth, in the chāpaine also and countries of Dor by the sea side: 3. the Chananeite also on the East and West, and the Amorrheite and Hetheite and Pherezeite and Iebuseite in the mountaines: the Heueite also which dwelt at the foote of Hermon in the Land of Maspha. 4. And they issued forth al with their troupes, a people exceeding manie as the sand that is in the shore of the sea, their horses also and chariots of passing great multitude. 5. And al these Kings assembled together in one at the Waters of Merom, to fight against Israel. 6. And our Lord said to Iosue: Feare them not: for to morrow this selfe-same houre wil I deliuer al these to be wounded in the sight of Israel: their horses thou shalt hoghsnew, and their chariots thou shalt burne with fire. 7. And Iosue came, & al the hoste with him against them to the Waters of Merom sodai ly, & ran in vpon them, 8. and our Lord deliuered them into the hands of Israel. Who strucke them, and pursued them as farre as great Sidon, and the Waters of Maserephoth, and the field of Masphe, which is on the East side therof. Therefore he strucke al, so that he left no relikes of them: 9. and he did as our Lord had commanded him, their horses he hoghsnewed, and their chariots he burnt. 10. And returning immediately he tooke Asor: and the King therof he strucke with the sword. For Asor in old time among al these Kingdomes held the principallitie. 11. And he strucke al the soules, that abode there: he left not in it anie remains, but to vtter destruction he wasted al things, and the citie it-selfe he destroyed with fyre. 12. And al the cities round about, their Kings also he tooke, strucke & destroyed, as Moyse the seruant of God had commanded him. 13. Except the cities that were situated on hils and higher ground, the rest Israel burnt: one onlie Asor verie well fenced he consumed with fyre. 14. And al the prey of these cities and the cattel the children of Israel diuided among themselues, al the men being slaine. 15. As our Lord had commanded Moyse his seruant, so did Moyse command Iosue, and he accomplished al things: he omitted not of al the commadments, not so much as one word, which our Lord had commanded Moyse. 16. Iosue therefore tooke al the hillie countrie, & south, & the land of Gosen, and the plaine, and the West quarter, and the mountaine of Israel, and the champaine countrie therof: 17. and the part of the mountaine, that goeth vp to Seir as farre as Baalgad by the plaine of Libanus vnder mount Hermon: al their Kings he tooke, strucke, & slew. 18. (a) A great time did Iosue fight against these kings. 19. There was not a citie that did deliuer it-selfe to the children of Israel, except the Heucite, which dwelt in Gabaon: for he tooke al by fight. 20. For it was (b) the sentence of our Lord, that their harts should be indurate and they should fight against Israel, and fal, and should not deserue anie clemencie, and should perish, as our Lord had commanded Moyse. 21. At that time Iosue came, and slew the Enacims of the mountaines, of Hebron, and Dabir, and Anab, and from al the mountaine of Iuda and Israel, and destroyed their cities. 22. He left not any of the stocke of the Enacims, in the Land of the children of Israel: sauing the cities of Gaza, and Geth, and Azotus, in the which onlie they were left. 23. Iosue therefore tooke al the Land, as our Lord spake to Moyse, and deliuered it in possession to the children of Israel, according to their parts and tribes: and (c) the Land rested from battels.

(a) These warres continued neere seuen yeares, as appeareth chap. 14. v. 10.

(b) For their enormous finnes God left them in their owne reprobate sense, not imposing necessitie of sinning, but permitting them to indurate their owne harts. See Annotations. Exod. 7.

(c) Hence-forth they had not general warres, but diuers tribes had particular, as appeareth cap. 15. &c.

C H A P. XII.

Besides Sehon and Og Kings of Hesebon and Basan slaine by Moyses , 7. are reckned thirtie one Kings slaine by Iosue.

THESE are the Kings , which the children of Israel stricke, and possessed their Land beyond Iordan toward the rising of the sunne , from the torrent Arnon vnto mount Hermon, and al the East part, that looked toward the wildernes. 2. Sehon the king of the Amorrheites, which dwelt in Hesebon, had dominion from Aroer, which is situated vpo the banke of the torrent Arnon, & of the middle part in the valley, and of halfe Galaad, as farre as the torrent Iaboc, which is the border of the children of Ammon : 3. and from the wildernes vnto the sea of Ceneroth against the East, and vnto the Sea of the wildernes, which is the most fait sea, on the East side by the way that leadeth to Belimoth, & on the South side, which lyeth vnder Asedoth, as farre as Phasga. 4. The border of Og the King of Basan, of the remnant of the Raphaims who dwelt in Astaroth, and in Edrai, and had douinion in mount Hermon, and in Salecha, and in al Basan, vnto the borders 5. of Gessuri, and Machati, and of the halfe part of Galaad : the borders of Sehon the King of Hesebon. 6. Moyses the seruant of our Lord, and the children of Israel stricke them, and Moyses deliuered their Land in possession to the Rubenites, and Gadites, and the half tribe of Manasses. 7. These are the Kings of the Land, whom Iosue stricke and the children of Israel beyond Iordan on the West side, from Balaalgad in the field of Libanus, vnto the mount, part wherof goeth vp into Seir: and Iosue deliuered it in possession to the tribes of Israel, to euerie one their portions, 8. as wel in the mountaines as in the plaine and champaine countries. In Asedoth, and in the wildernes, and in the south was the Hetheite & the Amorrheite, the Chananeite, and the Pherezeite, the Heueite, and the Iebuseite. 9. The King of Iericho one: the King of Hai, which is on the side of Bethel, one : 10. the King of Ierusalem one, the King of Hebron one, 11. the King of Ierimoth one, the King of Lachis one, 12. the King of Eglon one, the King of Gazer one, 13. the King of Dabir one, the King of Gader one, 14. the King of Herma one, the King of Hered one, 15. the King of Lebna one, the King of Adullam one, 16. the King of Maceda one, the King of Bethel one, 17. the King of Taphua one, the King of Opher one, 18. the King of Aphec one, the King of Saron one, 19. the King of Madon one, the King of Asor one, 20. the King of Semeron one, the King of Achsaph one, 21. the King of Thenac one, the King of Mageddo one, 22. the King of Cades one, the King of Iachanan one,

Num. 21
Deut. 3.

4) Moyses slew two Kings, and Iosue thirtie one.

23. the King of Carmel one, the King of Dor, and of the prouince of Dor one, the King of the Nations of Galgal one, 24. the King of Therfa one: al the Kings (4) thirtie one.

CHAP. XIII.

God commandeth Iosue to diuide the land (describing the limits thereof) amongst nine tribes and a half, 8. with a recapitulation of the parts already giuen, on the other side Iordan to the other two tribes and a half. The tribe of Leui (v. 14. & 33.) hath their prouision in other manner.

The third part. Partition of the land among nine tribes and a half.

IOSUE was old, and striken in age, and our Lord said to him: Thou art old, and of a great age, and there is a verie large countrie left, which is not yet diuided by lot: 2. to wit, al Gailee, Philisthiim, and al Gessuri. 3. From the troubled riuer that watereth Ægypt, vnto the borders of Accaron against the North: the Land of Chanaan, which is diuided vnto fise Lords of the Philisthiims, the Gazeites, the Azotians, the Ascalonites, the Getheites, and the Accaronites. 4. But on the South side are the Heueites, al the Land of Chanaan, and Maara of the Sidonians as farre as Apeca, and the borders of the Amorrheite, 5. and his confines. The countrie also of Libanus against the East from Baalgad vnder mount Hermon, til thou enter into Emath. 6. Of al that dwel in the mountaine from Libanus, vnto the Waters Maserephoth, and al the Sidonians. I am he that wil destroy them from the face of the children of Israel. (4) Let it come therefore into a portion of the inheritance of Israel, as I haue commanded thee. 7. And now diuide the Land in possession to the nine tribes, and to the half tribe of Manasses, 8. with the which Ruben & Gad haue possessed the Land, which Moyses the seruant of our Lord deliuered to them beyond the streames of Iordan, on the east side. 9. From Aroer, which is situate on the banke of the torrent Arnon, and in the middes of the valley, and al the champaine of Medaba, as farre as Dibon: 10. and al the cities of Cehon, the King of the Amorrheite, which reigned in Hesebon, vnto the borders of the children of Ammon. 11. And Galaad, and the border of Gessuri and Machati, and al mount Hermon, and al Basan, as farre as Salecha, 12. al the Kingdome of Og in Basan, which reigned in Astaroth and Edrai, he was of the relikes of the Raphaims: and Moyses struck, and destroyed them. 13. And the children of Israel would not destroy Gessuri and Machati: and they haue dwelt in the middes of Israel vntil this present day. 14. But to the tribe of Leui he gaue no possession: but the sacrifices and victimes of our Lord the God of Israel, that is his inheritance, as he spake to him. 15. Moyses therefore gave possession to the children of Ruben according to their kinreds. 16. And their border was from Aroer, which is situate on the banke of the torrent Arnon, and in the middes of the valley of the same torrent: al the plaine, that leadeth to Medaba, 17. and Hesebon, and al their villages, which are in the champaine. Dibon also, and Bamothbaal, and the towne Baalmaon, 18. and Ialsa, and Cedimoth, & Mephaath, 19. and Cariathaim, and Sabama, and Sarathasar in the mountaine of the Valley. 20. Bethphogor and Asedoth, Phafga and Bethiesimoth, 21. and al the champaine cities, and al the Kingdoms of Sehon the King of the Amorreite, that reigned in Hesebon, whom Moyfes struck with the Princes of Madian: the Heucite, and Recem, and Sur, and Hur, and Rebe Dukes of Sehon inhabitants of the Land. 22. And Balaam the sonne of Beor the soothfayer, did the children of Israel kil by the sword, with the rest that were slayne. 23. And the riuer of Iordan was made the border of the children of Ruben. This is the possession of the Rubenites by their kinreds of cities and villages. 24. And Moyfes gave to the tribe of Gad & to his children possession by their kinreds, the diuision wherof is this: 25. The border of Iaser, and al the cities of Galaad, and the half part of the Land of (b) the children of Ammon: as farre as Aroer, which is against Rabba: 26. and from Hesebon vnto Ramoth, Masphe and Betonim: and from Manaim vnto the borders of Dabir. 27. In the valley also Bethhara, and Bethnemra, and Socoth, and Saphon the other part of the Kingdome of Sehon the King of Hesebon: the end of this also is Iordan, vnto the vttermost part of the sea Cenereth beyond Iordan on the east side. 28. This is the possession of the children of Gad by their families, their cities, and villages. 29. He gave also to the half tribe of Manasses and their children possession according to their kinreds, 30. the beginning wherof is this: From Manaim al Basan, and al the Kingdoms of Og the King of Basan, and al the villages of Iair, which are in Basan, threescore townes. 31. And the half part of Galaad, and Attaroth, and Edrai, cities of the Kingdome of Og in Basan: to the children of Machir, the sonne of Manasses, to the half part of the children of Machir according to their kinreds. 32. This possession diuided Moyfes in the champaine countries of Moab, beyond Iordan, against Iericho on the East side. 33. But to the tribe of Leui he gave no possession: because our Lord the God of Israel himself is their possession, as he spake to them.

(4) These parts are designed though not yet conquered.

(b) This part the Amorrites had taken and possessed; otherwise the Israelites were prohibited to take any thing from the Ammonites.

Deut. 2.

C H A P. XIII.

Caleb of the tribe of Iuda (seeing some knew their lots already, and that the whole Land was now to be diuided) 6. demandeth, according to Gods promise made by Moyfes (for his true and good report of the same Land, when he with others viewed it) that Hebron be giuen him ana his seed to inherite, 13. which Iosue confirmeth vnto him.

(c) The Leuites hauing their portions in other manner, yet there were twelue tribes to receiue portions, by reason that Iacob adopted Iosephs two sonnes.

Gen. 48.

(d) After the viewing of the land Num. 13. the Israelites remained in the desert 38. yeares: so they were neere seuen yeares in warres.

(e) Gods promise is euer sure on his part, but because it is conditional, if we serue him sincerely, our wil being free, he saith: If perhaps our Lord be with me.

(f) Onlie the countrie of Hebron was giue to Caleb, for the citie itself and suburbs belöged to the Priests. c. 11. v. 11.

HIS is it, which the children of Israel possessed in the Land of Chanaan, which Eleazar the Priest, and Iosue the sonne of Nun, and the Princes of the families by the tribes of Israel gaue to them: 2. diuiding al things by lot, as our Lord had commanded in the hand of Moyfes, to the nine tribes, and the half tribe. 3. For to two tribes and a half Moyfes had giuen possession beyond Iordan: besides the Leuites, which receiued no land among their brethren: 4. but (c) into their place succeeded the children of Ioseph diuided into two tribes, of Manasses and Ephraim: neither did the Leuites receiue other portion in the Land, but cities to inhabite, and their suburbs to feed their beasts and cattel. 5. As our Lord had commanded Moyfes, so did the children of Israel, and they diuided the Land. 6. Therefore the children of Iuda came to Iosue in Galgal, and Caleb the sonne of Iephone the Cenezite spake to him: Thou knowest what our Lord spake to Moyfes the man of God concerning me and thee in Cadesbarne. 7. Fourtie yeares old was I when Moyfes the seruant of our Lord sent me from Cadesbarne, to view the Land, & I reported to him that which to me seemed true. 8. But my brethren, that had gone vp with me, discouraged the hart of the people: and I neuertheles folowed our Lord my God. 9. And Moyfes sware in that day, saying: The Land, which thy foot hath troden, shal be thy possession, and thy childrens for euer, because thou hast folowed our Lord my God. 10. Our Lord therefore hath granted me life, as he promised vntil this present day. It is (d) fourtie and fve yeares, since our Lord spake this word to Moyfes, when Israel walked through the wildernes: this day am I eightie and fve yeares old, 11. so lustie, as I was at that time when I was sent to view: the strength of that time continueth in me vntil this day, as wel to fight as to goe. 12. Giue me therefore this mountaine, which our Lord promised, thy selfe also hearing it, wherein are the Enacims, and great cities and fenced: (e) if perhaps our Lord be with me, and I shal be able to destroy them, as he promised me. 13. And Iosue blessed him, and deliuered to him Hebron in possession. 14. And frö thêce-forth (f) Hebron belonged to Caleb the sonne of Iephone the Cenezite, vntil this present day: because he folowed our Lord the God of Israel. 15. The name of Hebron before was called Cariath Arbe : Adam the greatest among the Enacims was layd there: and (g) the Land ceased from battels.

Lord

(g) See before
chap. 11. v. 23.

C H A P. XV.

The borders of the lot of Iuda, 13. including Calebs particular inheritance (16. out of which he giueth Cariath sepher, and his daughter to Othoniel, for winning it :) 21. with the names of the cities thereof, 63. the Iebuseite yet dwelling with Iuda in Hierusalem.

HERFORE the lot of the children of Iudas by their kinreds was this: From the border of Edom, vnto the desert of Sin against the South, and vnto the vttermost part of the south coast. 2. the beginning therof was from the top of the most salt sea, and from the brinke therof, that looketh to the South. 3. And it goeth forth against the Ascent of the Scorpion, & passeth through into Sina: and ryseth vp into Cadelbarne, and reacheth into Efron, ascending to Addar, and compassing Carcaa, 4. and thence passing through into Asmona, & reaching to the Torrent of Ægypt: and the borders therof shal be the great sea. this shal be the end of the south coast. 5. But on the East side the beginning shal be the most salt sea vnto the vtmost parts of Iordan: & those places that looke to the North from the brinke of the sea vnto the same riuer of Iordan. 6. And the border goeth vp into Beth Hagla, and passeth from the north into Beth Araba: ascending to the stone of Bohen the sonne of Ruben. 7. And reaching as farre as the borders of Debera from the Valley of Achor, against the North looking toward Galgal, which is opposite to the Ascent of Adomnim, on the south side of the torrent: and passeth the waters, that are called The Fountayne of the sunne: and the ends therof shal be to the Fountayne rogel. 8. And it ascendeth by the Vailey of the sunne of Ennom on the side of the Iebuseite toward the South, this is Ierusalem: and thence rearing it-self to the top of the mountayne, which is against Geennom toward the West in the top of the Valley of Raphaim against the North. 9. And it passeth through from the top of the mountaine to the fountaine of the water Nephtoa: and reacheth to the townes of mount Ephron: and bendeth into Baala, which is Cariatharim, that is to say, a citie of woods. 10. And it compasseth from Baala against the West, vnto mount Scir: and passeth by the side of mount Iarim toward the North into Cheilon: and goeth downe into Bethfames, and passeth into Thamma. 11. And it reacheth toward the North coast of a part of Accaron at the side: and bendeth to Sechrona, and passeth mount Baala: and commeth into Ieb-neel, and is shut vp with the end of the great sea toward the West. 12. These are the borders of the children of Iudas in circuite in their kinreds. 13. But to Caleb the sonne of Iephone he gaue a portion in the middes of the children of Iudas, as our Lord had commanded him: Cariath Arbe the father of Enac, that is Hebron. 14. And Caleb destroyed out of it the three sonnes of Enac, Sefai and Ahiman and Tholmai of the stocke of Enac. 15. And from thence going vp he came to the inhabitants of Dabir, which before was called Cariath Sepher, that is to say, a citie of letters. 16. And Caleb said: He that shal strike Cariath-sepher, and take it, I wil giue him Axa my daughter to wife. 17. And Othoniel the sonne of Cenez, the yonger brother of Caleb tooke it: & he gaue him (a) Axa his daughter to wife. 18. Who going together, she was moued by her husband to aske a field of her father, and she sighed as she sate on her asse. To whom Caleb said: What aileth thee? 19. But she answered: Giue me a blessing: (b) A South and drie Land thou hast giuen me, ioyne also a waterie. Caleb therefore gaue her a waterie ground aboue & beneath. 20. This is the possession of the tribe of the children of Iudas by their kinreds. 21. And the cities from the vttermost parts of the children of Iudas by the borders of Edom on the South were Gabseel and Eder and Iagur, 22. & Cina and Dimona and Adada, 23. and Cades, and Asor, and Iethnan, 24. Ziph and Telem and Baloth, 25. Asor the new and Carioth, Hefron, this is Asor. 26. Amam, Sama, and Molada, 27. and Afergadda and Haffemon and Bethpheler, 28. and Haferfual and Bersabee and Baziothia 29. and Baala and Iim & Efem, 30. and Eltholad and Cesil and Harma 31. and Siceleg, and Medemena and Sensenna, 32. Labaoth and Selim & Aen and Remon. al the cities twentie nine, and their villages. 33. But in the champayne countries: Estaol and Sarea and Asena, 34. and Sanoë and Engannith and Taphua and Enaim, 35. and Ierimoth, and Adullam, Socho & Azeca, 36. & Saraim and Adithaim and Gedera and Gederothaim: fourteen cities, and their villages. 37. Sanan and Hadasta and Magdalgad, 38. Delean and Masepha and Ieethel, 39. Lachis and Bascath and Eglon, 40. Chebbon and Leheman and Cethlis 41. and Gideroth and Bethdagon and Naama & Maceda: sixteen cities, and their villages. 42. Labana and Ether and Afan, 43. Iephtha and Esna and Nesib, 44. and Ceila and Achzib and Mareza: nine cities, and their villages. 45. Accaron with the townes and villages therof. 46. From Accaron vnto the sea: al places that bend toward Azorus & the villages therof. 47. Azorus with the townes & villages therof. Gaza with the townes & villages therof, vnto the torrent of Ægypt, & the great sea is the border therof. 48. And in the mountayne: Sanir & Iether & Socoth 49. & Danna & Cariath senna, this is Dabir: 50. Anab & Istemo & Anim, 51. Gosen & Olon & Gilo: eleuen cities & their villages. 52. Arab & Ruma & Esaan, 53. & Ianum & Beth thaphua & Apheca, 54. Athmatha and Cariath-arbe, this is Hebron, and Sior:

(a) Though it was prohibited that the nephew should marie his aunt, yet the vnclē was not expressly forbid to marie his niece by Moyses law. Leuit. 18 And albeit there is the same degree of consanguinitie, yet not the same inconueniēcie, by reason the same person remaineth subiect, that was inferiour before marriage.

(b) Because ordinarily the south part of the world is more drie and barren then other parts, a barren place is called a south land, in respect of more fertile ground.

nine cities and their villages. 55. Maon and Carmel and Ziph and Iota, 56. Iezrael & Iucadam and Zanoë, 57. Accain, Gabaa and Thamna: ten cities and their villages. 38. Halhul, and Bethsur, and Gedor, 59. Mareth, and Beth-anoth, and Eltecon: six cities and their villages. 60. Cariathbaal, this is Cariathiarim the citie of woods, and Arebba: two cities and their villages. 61. In the desert Beth-araba, Meddin, and Sachacha, 62. and Nebfan, and the citie of salt, and Engaddi: six cities, and their villages. 63. But the Iebuscite the inhabitant of Ierusalem the children of Iudas (c) could not destroy: and the Iebuscite dwelt with the children of Iudas in Ierusalem vntil this present day.

(c) The Iebuscites kept a strong castle in Ierusalem, til King Dauid tooke it from them. 2. Reg. 5.

CHAP. XVI.

The tribe of Ephraim (yonger sonne of Ioseph) receiue their lot. 10. The Chananeite yet dwelleth with them paying tribute.

HE lot also of (a) the children of Ioseph fel from Iordan against Iericho and the Waters therof, on the east: the wildernes which goeth vp from Iericho to the mountaine of Bethel: 2. and goeth out from Bethel to Luza: and passeth the border of Archia, to Atharoth. 3. And descended Westward, by the border of Iephleri, vnto the borders of Beth horon the lower, and to Gazer: and their countries are ended by the great sea: 4. and Manasses and Ephraim the children of Ioseph possessed it. 5. And the border of the children of Ephraim was made according to their kinreds: and their possession toward the East was Ataroth addar vnto Beth-horon the higher. 6. And the confines goe out vnto the sea: but Machinethath looketh to the North, and it compasseth the borders against the East into Thanath-selo: and passeth through on the East side to Ianoe. 7. and it goeth downe from Ianoe into Ataroth and Naaratha: and it commeth into Iericho, & goeth out to Iordan. 8. From Taphua it passeth through against the sea into the Valley of reeds, and the issues therof are into the most salt sea. this is the possession of the tribe of the children of Ephraim by their families. 9. And cities with their villages were separated to the children of Ephraim in the middes of the possession of the children of Manasses, 10. and the children of Ephraim slew not the Chananeite, which dwelt in Gazer: and the Chananeite dwelt in the middes of Ephraim vntil this day tributarie.

(a) Ruben for the sinne of incest loosing the priuiledges of birth-right (Gen. 49) Priesthood was giuen to Leui, the Kingdome to Iuda. and double portion to Ioseph. Paraph. Chald.

C H A P. XVII.

The half tribe of Manasses (eldest sonne of Ioseph) receiue their lot , 3. including the daughters of Salphaad: 14. with an enlargement of inheritance to the same tribes of Ephraim and Manasses.

AND this lot fel to the tribe of Manasses (for he is the first borne of Ioseph:) To Machir the first borne of Manasses the father of Galaad, who was a warlike mā, and had for possession Galaad and Basan: 2. and to the rest of the children of Manasses according to their families, to the children of Abiezer, & to the children of Helec, & to the children of Esriel, & to the children of Sechem, & to the children of Hopher, and to the children of Semida. these are the children of Manasses the sonne of Ioseph, males by their kiareds. 3. But Salphaad the sonne of Hopher the sonne of Galaad the sonne of Machir the sonne of Manasses had no sonnes, but onlie daughters: whose names be these, Maala & Noa and Hegla and Melcha and Therfa. 4. And they came in the presence of Eleazar the Priest, and of Iosue the sonne of Nun, and of the Princes, saying: Our Lord commanded by the hand of Moyses, that a possession should be giuen vs in the middes of our brethren. And he gaue them according to the commandement of our Lord a possession in the middes of their fathers brethren. 5. And the cords fel to Manasses, ten, beside the Land of Galaad and Basan beyond Iordan. 6. For the daughters of Manasses possessed inheritāce in the middes of his sonnes. And the Land of Galaad fel to the lot of the children of Manasses that remayned. 7. And the border of Manasses from Aser, was Machmethath which looketh to Sichern: and goeth out on the right hand beside the inhabitants of the Fountaine of Taphua. 8. For in the lot of Manasses was fallen the Land of Taphua, () which is beside the borders of Manasses, the childrens of Ephraim. 9. And the border of the Reed valley went downe into the south of the torrent of the cities of Ephraim, which are in the middes of the cities of Manasses: the border of Manasses on the North of the torrent, and the issue thereof goeth to the sea: 10. so that the possession of Ephraim is on the South, and on the North of Manasses, and the sea incloseth both, and they be ioyned one to another in the tribe of Aser on the North, and in the tribe of Issachar on the East. 11. And the inheritance of Manasses in Issachar and in Aser was Bethsan and the villages thereof, and Ieblaam with the villages thereof, and the inhabitants of Dor with the townes thereof, the inhabitants also of Endor with the townes thereof, and in like manner the inhabitants of Thenac with the townes thereof, and the inhabitants of () The land or territorie of Taphua falling to the lot of Manasses, yet Taphua (that is the citie itselfe) was the childrens of Ephraim.

Mageddo with the townes therof, and the third part of the cite of Nopheth. 12. Neither could the children of Manasses ouerthrow the cities, but the Chananeite began to dwel in (b) his Land. 13. But after that the children of Israel grew to be strong, they subdued the Chananeites, and made them their tributaries, neither did they kil them. 14. And the children of Ioseph spake to Iosue, and said: Why hast thou giuen me the possession of one lot and corde, wheras I am of so great a multitude, & our Lord hath blessed me? 15. To whom Iosue said: If thou be a great people, goe vp into the wood, and cut thee roome in the Land of the Pherezeite and Raphaims: because the possession of mount Ephraim is narrow for thee. 16. To whom the children of Ioseph answered: We cā not goe vp to the mountaines, wheras the Chananeites that dwel in the champaine countrie, wherin are situated Bethsan with the townes therof and Iezrael possessing the middes of the valley, vse yron chariots. 17. And Iosue said to the house of Ioseph, of Ephraim, and Manasses: Thou art a great people, and of great strength, thou shalt not haue one lot, 18. but thou shalt passe to the mountaine, and shalt cut and make glades for thee to inhabite: and mayest proceed farder, when thou hast subuerted the Chananeite, whom thou sayest to haue yron chariots, and to be very strong.

(b) The Chananeite remained in the Land of Manasses for a time.

C H A P. XVIII.

From the campe of Israel in Silo surueyers are sent to diuide the rest of the Land into seuen parts, for the seuen tribes yet without portions. 10. Which being done, Iosue casteth lots for them, 11. and the first lot falleth to Benjamin, 12. whose part is described by the limits, 21. with the names of the principal cities.

AND al the children of Israel were assembled in Silo, and there they pitched the tabernacle of the testimony, & the Land was subdued to them. 2. But there remained seuen tribes of the children of Israel, which as yet had not receiued their possessions. 3. To whom Iosue said: How long are you slack with cowardnes, and enter not to possesse the Land, which our Lord the God of your fathers hath giuen you? 4. Choose of euerie tribe three men, that I may send them, and they may goe and circuite the Land, and marke it out according to the number (a) of euerie multitude: and report vnto me that which they haue marked out. 5. Diuide vnto you the Land into seuen parts: let Iudas be in his bounds on the south quarter, and the house of Ioseph on the North. 6. The Land in the middes between these marke out into seuen parts: and you shal come

(a) Not equal but proportionable parts were alligned, for so it was commanded, Num. 26. v 54. To the greater number to giue a greater portion, and to the fewer a lesse.

(b) After the portions were appointed by mens industrie & discretion, God confirmed the same by lot, to take away al occasion of discontentment.

hither to me, that (b) before our Lord your God I may cast the lot for you: 7. for the Leuites part is not among you, but the priesthood of our Lord is their inheritance. And Gad and Ruben, and the half tribe of Manasses had now receiued their possessions beyond Iordan at the East side: which Moyfes the seruant of our Lord gaue them. 8. And when the men were risen vp, that they might goe to marke out the land, Iosue commanded them, saying: Circuite the Land and marke it out, and returne to me: that here before our Lord; in Silo I may cast the lot for you. 9. They therefore went on: and going ouer it, diuided it into seuen parts, writing it in a volume. And they returned to Iosue into the campe in Silo. 10. Who did cast lots before our Lord in Silo, and diuided the Land to the children of Israel into seuen parts. 11. And first came vp the lot of the children of Benjamin. by their families, to possesse the Land between the children of Iudas and the children of Ioseph. 12. And their border was against the North from Iordan: going forward by the side of Iericho on the North quarter, and thence Westward rying vp vnto the mountaines, and reaching to the wildernes of Bethauen. 13. and passing through by Luza to the South, the same is Bethel: and goeth downe into Ataroth addar vnto the mountaine, that is on the South of Beth-horon the lower. 14. And it benderth compassing against the sea, Southward of the mountaine that looketh to Beth-horon against the South: and the issues therof are into Cariath baal, which is called also Cariathiarim, a citie of the children of Iudas. This is their coast against the sea, toward the West. 15. But on the South from part of Cariathiarim the border is sueth forth against the sea, and commeth to the fountaine of the waters of Nephtoa. 16. And it goeth downe into part of the mountaine that looketh toward the Valley of the children of Ennom: and is against the North quarter in the vtermoost part of the Valley raphaim. And it goeth downe into Gehennom (that is, the valley of Ennom) by the side of the Iebuseite to the South: and commeth to the Fountaine of Rogel, 17. passing to the North, and going forth to Ensemes, that is to say, the fountaine of the sunne: 18. and it passeth vnto the litle hilles, that are against the ascent of Adommim: and goeth downe to Abenboen, that is, the stone of Boen the sonne of Ruben: and it passeth on the North side to the champaine countries: and goeth downe into the playne, 19. and passeth by against the North of Bethagla: and the issues therof are against the brinke of the most salt sea on the North in the end of Iordan to the South quarter; 20. which is the border therof on the East. This is the possession of the children of Benjamin by their borders round about, and their families. 21. And their cities were, Iericho and Beth hagla and Vallis Calis, 22. Beth Araba and Samaraim and Bethel, 23. and Auim and Aphara and Ophera, 24. Towne Emona and Ophni and Gabee: twelue cities, & their townes. 25. Gabaon and Rama and Beroth, 26. and Mesphe, and Caphara, and Amosa, 27. and Recein, Iarephel and Tha-rela, 28. and Sela, Eleph, and Iebus, which is Ierusalem, Gabaath and Cariath: fourteen cities, and their townes. This is the possession of the children of Benjamin by their families.

CHAP. XIX.

The second lot falleth to the tribe of Simeon, the situation of whose inheritance is described, with the names of their principal cities. 10. The third in like sort to Zabulon. 17. The fourth to Issachar. 24. The fifth to Aser. 32. The sixt to Nephthali. 40. And the seventh to Dan. 49. At the Land being distributed among the tribes, with common consent they giue a special citie to Iosue, in the middes of them.

AND the second lot came forth of the children of Simeon by their kinreds: and their inheritance was 2. in the middes of the possession of the children of Iudas: Bersabee and Sabee and Molada, 3. and Haferfual, Bala and Asem, 4. and Eltholad, Bethul and Harma, 5. and Siceleg and Betmarchaboth and Haferfusa, 6. and Bethlebaoth & Sarohen: thirteen cities, and their townes. 7. Ain and Remmon and Athor and Asan: foure cities, and their townes: 8. al the litle townes round about these cities vnto Baalath Beer Ramath against the south quarter. This is the inheritance of the children of Simeon according to their kinreds, 9. in the possession and corde of the children of Iudas: because it was greater. and therefore the children of Simeon possessed in the middes of their inheritance. 10. And the third lot fel of the children of Zabulon by their kinreds: and the border of their possession was made as farre as Sarid. 11. And it went vp from the sea and Merala, and came into Debbaseth: as farre as the torrent, which is against Ieconam. 12. And it returneth from Sared against the East into the ends of Ceseleth thabor: and it goeth out to Daberech, and ryseth vp against Iaphie. 13. And thence it passeth along to the east side of Geth hepher and Thacasim: and goeth out into Remmon, Amthar and Noa. 14. And it cōpasseth to the North of Hanathō: & the issues therof are the valley Iephtahel, 15. & Cateth & Naalol & Semeron & Ierala & Bethlehem: twelue cities, & their townes. 16. This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Zabulon by their kinreds, the cities and their litle townes. 17. The fourth lot came forth to Issachar by their kinreds. 18. And his inheritance was Iezrael and Cafaloth and Sunem, 19. and Hapharaim and Selon, and Anaharath 20. and Rabboth & Cesion, Abes, 21. & Rameth, and Engannim, and Enhadda and Bethpheses. 22. And the border therof commeth to Thabor & Sehesema and Bethfames: and their issues were Iordan: sixteen cities, and their townes. 23. This is the possession of Issachar by their kinreds, the cities, and their litle townes. 24. And the fifth lot fell to the tribe of the children of Aser by their kinreds: 25. and their border was Halcath and Chali and Beten and Axaph, 26. and Elmelec and Amaad and Messal: and it reacheth to Carmel of the sea and Sihor and Labanath. 27. And it returneth against the east of Bethdagon: and passeth along to Zabuion and the Valley Iepthael against the North into Bethemec and Nehiel. And it goeth out to the left side of Cabul, 28. and Abran and Rohob and Hamon and Cana, as farre as great Sidon. 29. And it returneth into Horma vnto the verie wel fenced citie Tyre, & vnto Hofa: and the issues therof shal be into the sea from the corde of Achziba: 30. and Amma and Aphec & Rohob. cities twentie two, and their townes. 31. This is the possession of the children of Aser by their kinreds, and the cities and their townes. 32. Of the sonnes of Nephthali fel the sixt lot by their families: 33. and the border began from Heleph and Elon into Saanaim, and Adami, which is Neceb, and Iebnael vnto Lecum: and their issues vnto Jordan: 34. and the border returneth against the West into Azanotthabor, and thence goeth out into Hucuca, and passeth along into Zabulon against the South, and into Azer against the West, and into Iuda vnto Jordan against the rising of the sunne. 35. cities very wel fenced, Affedim, Ser, and Emath, and Reccath and Cenereth, 36. and Edema and Arama, Afor: 37. and Cedec and Edrai, Enhafor 38. and Ieron and Magdalel, Horem and Bethanath and Bathfames: nineteen cities and their townes. 39. This is the possession of the tribe of the children of Nephthali by their kinreds, the cities and their townes. 40. To the tribe of the children of Dan by their families came forth the seventh lot: 41. and the border of their possession was Sara and Esthaol, & Hirsemes, that is the citie of the sunne. 42. Selebin & Aialon and Iethela, 43. Elon and Themna and Acron, 44. Elthece, Gebbethon and Balaath, 45. and Iud and Bane and Barac and Gethremmon: 46. and Meiarcon & Arecon, with the border that looketh toward Ioppe, 47. and is shut vp with the same end. And the children of Dan went vp, & fought against Lesem, and they took it: and they struck it in the edge of the sword, and possessed, and dwelt in it, calling the name of it Lesem Dan, by the name of Dan the father thereof. 48. This is the possession of the tribe of the sonnes of Dan, by their kinreds, the cities and their townes: 49. And when he had made an end of diuiding the Land by lot to euerie one by their tribes, (4) the children of Israel gaue possession to Iosue the sonne of Nun in the middes of them, 50. according to the commandment of our Lord, the citie which he requested, Thamnath Sara in mount Ephraim: and he built the citie, and dwelt in it. 51. These are the possessions, which Eleazar the Priest, and Iosue the sonne of Nun, and the Princes of the families and of the tribes of the children of Israel, divided by lot in Silo, before our Lord at the doore of the tabernacle of testimonie, and they parted the Land.

(4) Of moderate Iosue would not assigne to himselfe anie place, but the whole people freely granted his request.

C H A P. X X.

Six cities of refuge for such as commit casual manslaughter are named. 6. In which remainning til the death of the high Priest, they may then returne to their proper dwelling place, and be safe.

AND our Lord spake to Iosue, saying : Speake to the children of Israel, and say to them: 2. Separate the cities of the fugitiues, of the which I spake to you by the hand of Moyfes ; 3. that he may fly to them who-soeuer shal strike a soule vnwitting, and may escape the wrath of the righ kinsman, which is the reuenger of blood. 4. When he shal be fled to one of these cities, he shal stand before the gate of the citie & shal speake to the ancients of that citie^(a) those things that may proue him selfe innocent : & so they shal receiue him, and giue him place to inhabit. 5. And when the reuenger of the blood shal pursue him, they shal not deliuer him into his hands: because he struck his neighbour by ignorance, neither is he proued to be his enemie two or thre dayes before. 6. And he shal dwel in that citie til he stand before iudgement rendring a cause of his fact, and the High-Priest die, which shal be at that time : then shal the manslaer returne, & enter into the citie and his house out of the which he had fled. 7. And they appointed Cedes in Galilee of the mount of Nepthali, and Sichem in the mount of Ephraim, and Cariatharbee, the same is Hebron, in the mount of Iuda. 8. And beyond Iordan against the East quarter of Iericho, they appointed Bosor, which is situated in the champaine wilderness of the tribe of Ruben, and Ramoth in Galaad of the tribe of Gad, and Gaulon in Basan of the tribe of Manasses. 9. These cities were appointed to al the children of Israel, and to the strangers, that dwelt among them : that he might fly to them which vnwittingly had strucken a soule, and might not die in the hand of the kinsman, co-ucting to reuenge the blood shed, vntil he might stand before the people to declare his cause.

(a) At first entering it sufficed to alleadge in general his innocencie, but after he must be tried in particular.

C H A P. XXI.

Cities with suburbs are assigned to the tribe of Leui. 4. To the sonnes of Caath by the line of Aaron being Priests, thirteen. 5. To the rest of Caathis progenie, being Leuites, ten. 6. To the sonnes of Gerson Leuites, thirteen. 7. To the sonnes of Merari Leuites (34. of a lower degree) twelue; 9. with the names of al the cities: 39. in al fourtie eght. 41. So Gods promise is fully performed hauing giuen the whole Land to Israel in peaceable possession.

AND the Princes of the families of Leui came to Eleazar the Priest, and Iosue the sonne of Nun, and to the chief of the kinreds in euerie tribe of the children of Israel: 2. and they spake to them in Silo of the Land of Chanaan, and said: Our Lord commanded by the hand of Moyse, that cities should be giuen vs to inhabite, and their suburbs to feed cattel. 3. And the children of Israel gaue of their possessions according to the commandement of our Lord, cities and their suburbs. 4. And the lot came forth vnto the familie of Caath of the children of Aaron the Priest out of the tribe of Iudas, and Simeon, and Benjamin, thirteen cities. 5. And to the rest of the children of Caath, that is to the Leuites which remayned, out of the tribes of Ephraim, and Dan, and the halfe tribe of Manasses, ten cities. 6. Moreouer to the children of Gerso came forth a lot, that they should take of the tribes of Issachar & Aser & Nephthali, & the halfe tribe of Manasses in Basan, cities in number thirteen. 7. And to the sonnes of Merari by their kinreds, of the tribe of Ruben and Gad & Zabulon, twelue cities. 8. and the children of Israel gaue to the Leuites cities and their suburbs, as our Lord commanded by the hand of Moyse, giuing to euerie one by lot. 9. Of the tribes of the children of Iudas & Simeon Iosue gaue cities: whose names be these, 10. to the children of Aaron by the families of Caath of the Leuitical stocke (for the first lot came forth to them) 11. Cariatharbe the father of Enac, which is called Hebron, in the mountaine of Iudas, & the suburbs therof round about. 12. But the fields and the townes therof he had giuen to Caleb the sonne of Iephone to possesse. 13. He gaue therefore to the children of Aaron the Priest Hebron a citie of refuge, & the suburbs therof: and Lobna with the suburbs therof: 14. and Iether and Estemo, 15. & Holon, & Dabir, 16. and Ain, & Ieta, and Bethsames, with the suburbs therof: nine cities of two tribes, as hath been said. 17. And of the tribe of the children of Benjamin, Gabaon, & Gabac, 18. and Anathoth and Almon, with their suburbs: foure cities. 19. Al the cities together of the children of Aaron the Priest, thirteen, with their suburbs.

suburbs. 20. But to the rest by the families of the children of Caath of the Levitical stocke was giuen this possessiō. 21. Of the tribe of Ephraim the cities of refuge, Sichern with the suburbs therof in the mountayne of Ephraim, and Gazer 22. and Cibsam, and Beth horon, with the suburbs therof, foure cities. 23. Of the tribe of Dan also, Eltheco and Gabathon, 24. & Aralon and Gethremmon, with the suburbs therof, foure cities. 25. Moreouer of the half tribe of Manasses, Thanac and Gethremmon, with their suburbs, two cities. 26. Al the cities ten, and their suburbs, were giuen to the children of Caath of the inferiour degree. 27. To the childre of Gerson also of the Levitical stocke he gaue of the half tribe of Manasses the cities of refuge, Gaulon in Basan, and Bosram, with their suburbs, two cities. 28. Moreouer of the tribe of Issachar, Cesion, and Dabereth, 29. and Iaramoth, & Engannam, with their suburbs, foure cities. 30. And of the tribe of Aser, Masal and Abdon, 31. and Helcath, & Rohob, with their suburbs, foure cities. 32. Of the tribe also of Nephthali the cities of refuge, Cedec in Galilee: and Hammoth Dor, and Carthan, with their suburbs, three cities. 33. Al the cities of the families of Gerson, thirteen, with their suburbs. 34. And to the children of Merari Levites of the inferiour degree by their families was giuen of the tribe of Zabulon, Iecnam and Cartha 35. and Damna and Naalol, foure cities with their suburbs. 36. Of the tribe of Ruben beyond Iordan against Iericho the cities of refuge, Bosor in the wildernes, Misor and Iaser and Iethson and Mephaath, foure cities with their suburbs. 37. Of the tribe of Gad the cities of refuge, Ramoth in Galaad, and Manaim & Hesebon & Iaser, foure cities with their suburbs. 38. Al the cities of the children of Merari by their families and kinreds, twelue. 39. Therefore al the cities of the Levites in the middes of the possession of the children of Israel were fourtie eight, 40. with their suburbs, euerie one distributed by the families. 41. And our Lord God gaue to Israel (a) al the Land, that he had sworne he would giue to their fathers: and they possessed it, and dwelt in it. 42. And peace was giuen by him on al nations round about: and none of their enemies durst resist them, but al were brought into their dominion. 43. Not so much certes as one word, which he had promised, that he would performe vnto them, was frustrate, but al things were accomplished in deeds.

(a) God gaue al the Land in due time, but not al at once, for the causes expressed Exo. 23. v. 29. Deut. 7. v. 22.

C H A P. XXII.

The fourth part.

Two tribes & a halfe returne to their possessions; Iosues godly admonitions; and his, and Eleazars death.

The tribes of Ruben and Gad, and half Manasses returne to their possessions.

10. Who building an altar by the side of Iordan, the other tribes suspect that they wil make a schisme, and therefore purpose to fight against them. 13. But first sending an ambassage to admonish them, 21. they answer that they made not an altar for sacrifice, but only for a monument, that notwithstanding they dwell on the other side of Iordan, yet they are of the same people of God 30. wherewith al Israel is satisfied.

HE same time Iosue called the Rubenites, and Gadites, and the halfe tribe of Manasses, 2. and said to them: You haue done al things that Moyſes the ſeruant of our Lord commanded you: me alſo haue you obeyed in al things, 3. neither haue you left your brethren a long time, vntil this preſent day, keeping the commandment of our Lord your God. 4. Therefore becauſe our Lord your God hath giuen your brethren quietnes and peace, as he promiſed: returne, and goe into your tabernacles, and to the land of your poſſeſſion, which Moyſes the ſeruant of our Lord deliuered to you beyond Iordan: 5. (a) alwayes ſo that you keepe attentiuely, and in worke fulfil the commandment, and the law which Moyſes the ſeruant of our Lord commanded you, that you loue our Lord your God, and walke in al his wayes, and obſerue al his commandments, and cleaue to him, and ſerue him in al your hart, and in al your ſoule. 6. And Iosue (b) bleſſed them, and diſmiſſed them. Who returned into their tabernacles. 7. And to the halfe tribe of Manasses Moyſes had giuen poſſion in Baſan: and therefore to the halfe that remayned Iosue gaue a lot among the reſt of their brethren, beyond Iordan at the Weſt ſide. And when he diſmiſſed them into their tabernacles, and had bleſſed them, 8. he ſaid to them: In much ſubſtance & riches returne to your ſeats, with ſiluer and gold, braſſe and yron, and varietie of rayment: diuide the prey of your enemies with your brethren. 9. And the children of Ruben, and the children of Gad, and the halfe tribe of Manasses returned, and went from the children of Iſrael in Silo, which is ſituated in Chanaan, to enter into Galaad the Land of their poſſeſſion, which they had obteyned according to the commandment of our Lord in the hand of Moyſes. 10. And when they were come to the litle bankes of Iordan, into the Land of Chanaan, they built beſide Iordan an altar of an infinite greatnes. 11. (a) Which thing when the children of Iſrael had heard, and certaine meſſengers had reported to them that the children of Ruben, and Gad, and the halfe tribe of Manasses had builded an altar in the Land of Chanaan, vpon the litle bankes of Iordan, againſt the

a) It pertaineth to al magiſtrates and other ſuperiours, to admoniſh their ſubiects of their dutie towards God, before al other things.

b) Al ſuperiours may impart bleſſing to their ſubiects.

a) So it beho- ueth al the ſer- uants of God to ſee in time, that no ſchiſ- me be made, and therefore orderly to in- quire of euerie ſhe- w of cuil
r. Theſ. 5.

children

children of Israel : 12. they assembled al in Silo, that they might goe vp, and fight against them. 13. And in the meane time they sent to them into the Land of Galaad, Phinees the sonne of Eleazar the Priest, 14. and ten Princes with him, one of euerie tribe. 15. Who came to the children of Ruben, and Gad, and the halfe tribe of Manasses into the Land of Galaad, and said to them: 16. This message doth al the people of our Lord send to you: What is this transgression? Why haue you forsaken our Lord the God of Israel, building a sacrilegious altar, and reuolting from the worship of him? 17. Is it a final thing to you that (b) you sinned in Beelphegor, and vntil this present day the spot of this abomination abideth in vs? and many of the people fel dead. 18. And you to day haue forsaken our Lord, and to morow his wrath wil rage (c) against al Israel. 19. But if you thinke the land of your possession to be vncleane, passe to the Land wherein is the tabernacle of our Lord, and, dwell among vs: only that you depart not from our Lord, and from our companie, an altar being built beside the altar of our Lord God. 20. Did not Achan the sonne of Zare transgresse the commandment of our Lord, and his wrath lay vpon al the people of Israel? And he was one man, & I would he alone had perished in his wicked fact. 21. And the children of Ruben, and Gad, and of the halfe tribe of Manasses answered the Princes of the legacie of Israel: 22. The most mightie God our Lord, The most mightie God our Lord, himselte knoweth, and Israel together thal vnderstand: If with the mind of preuatication we haue erected this altar, let him not keep vs, but punish vs presently: 23. and if we did it with that mind, that we might lay vpon it holocausts, and sacrifice, and paciſlike victimes, let himselte examine it and iudge: 24. and not rather with that meaning and deliberation, that we said: To morrow your children wil say to our children: What haue you to doe with our Lord the God of Israel? 25. Our Lord hath put a border between vs and you, O ye children of Ruben, and children of Gad, the riuer Iordan: and therefore you haue no part in our Lord. And by this occasion your children thal auert our children from the feare of our Lord. We therefore thought it better, 26. and said: Let vs build vs an altar, (d) not for holocausts, nor to offer victimes, 27. but for a testimonie between vs and you, and our issue and your progenie, that we may serue our Lord, and it may be our right to offer both holocausts, and victimes, and paciſlike hoites: and that your children to morrow say not to our children: You haue no part in our Lord. 28. And if they wil say so, they thal answer them: Behold the altar of our Lord, which our fathers made, not for holocausts, nor for sacrifice, but for our testimonie and yours. 29. God saue vs from this abomination that we should reuolt from our Lord, & leaue his steps, erecting an altar to offer holocausts, and sacrifices, and victimes, beside the altar of our Lord God, which is erected before his tabernacle. 30. Which things being heard, Phinees the Priest, and the Princes of the legacie, which were with him, were paciſed: and they

(b) Sinnes past are imputed to such as fall againe as aggravating their new sinnes by reason of more ingratitude.

(c) As before chap. 7. so if these had been culpable al Israel might feare to be punished, except iustice were done vpon the offenders.

(d) In the law of Moyses was one only altar for sacrifice, for the whole people of God, to auoid schisme and idolatrie. Now in the Church (being in al nations) are manie altars, & but one only Sacrifice pre- gured by al the former. as S. Angustine teacheth li. 17. c. 20. de ciuit. S. Leo. Ser. 8 de P. 1. 1. one.

admitted most willingly the words of the children of Ruben, and Gad, and of the halfe tribe of Manases. 31. And Phinees the Priest the sonne of Eleazar said to them: Now we know that our Lord is with vs., because you are not culpable of this preuarication, and haue deliuered the children of Israel from the hand of our Lord. 32. And he returned with the Princes from the children of Ruben and Gad, out of the Land of Galaad, into the Land of Chanaan, to the children of Israel, and reported to them. 33. And the saying pleased al that heard it. And the children of Israel prayesd God, and they did no more say, that they would goe vp against them, and fight, and destroy the Land of their possession. 34. And the children of Ruben, & the children of Gad called the altar which they had built, Our testimonie, that our Lord he is God.

*) God fought for the Israelites three maner of wayes: sometimes alone they not fighting at al; as when the Egyptians were drowned in the red sea: sometimes they doing his commandments he apparently assisted them, as in the siege of Iericho, the walles miraculously fel downe (c. 6.) & haile stones killed their enimies (c. 10.) but most times inuisibly, as wel by giuing them courage, as by striking their enimies with terrour. And al these wayes God also fighteth for his seruants in spiritual warres against the diuel, the flesh, and the world.

C H A P. XXIII.

Iosue being old admonisheth the people to keep Gods commandments, 12. And to auoid mariages, and al societie with gentiles, lest falling to idolatrie God as certainly punish them, as he hath been beneficial and bountifull to them.

AND when much time passed, after that our Lord had giuen peace to Israel, al the nations being subdued round about, and Iosue now verie ancient, and of a great age: 2. Iosue called al Israel, and the elders, and the Princes, and the iudges, and the maisters, and said to them: I am old, and farre gone in age: 3. and you see al things, that our Lord your God hath done to al the nations round about, (4) how himselfe hath fought for you: 4. and now because he hath by lot diuided to you al the Land, from the East part of Jordan vnto the great sea, and manie nations yet remaine: 5. Our Lord your God wil destroy them, and take them away from your face, and you shal possefse the Land, as he hath promised you. 6. Onlie take courage, and be careful that you keep al things which be written in the volume of the law of Moyses: and decline not from them neither to the right hand nor to the left: 7. lest after that you are entred in to the Gentiles, which shal be among you, you sweare in the name of their Gods, and serue them, and adore them: 8. but cleaue to our Lord your God: which you haue done vntil this day. 9. And then our Lord God wil take away in your sight the great nations and very strong, and no man shal be able to resist you. 10. One of you shal pursue a thousand men of the enemies: because our Lord your God himself wil fight for you, as he hath promised. 11. This onlie beware very diligently beforehand, that you loue our Lord your God. 12. But if you wii cleaue to the error of these nations that dwel among you, and make mariages with them, and ioyne amitie: 13. euen now know ye that our Lord your God wil not destroy them before your face , but they shal be a pitte and a snare for you , and a stumbling blocke at your side , and stakes in your eies , til he take you away and destroy you from this excellent Land , which he hath deliuered to you. 14. Behold I this day enter into the way of al flesh , and you shal know with al your minde , that al the words which our Lord promised that he would performe to you , one is not escaped without effect. 15. Therefore as he hath fulfilled in deed that which he promised , and al things prosperous haue come : so wil he bring vpon you what euils soeuer he hath threatned , til he take you away and destroy you from this excellent Land , which he hath deliuered to you , 16. because you haue transgressed the covenant of our Lord your God , which he hath made with you , and haue serued strange Gods , and adored them : quickly and in haist shal the furie of our Lord ryse against you , and you shal be taken away from this excellent Land , which he hath deliuered to you.

CHAP. XXIII.

In consideration of diuers principal benefites here recited, 14. Iosue exorteth the people to serue God sincerely, seeing it is in their choise to doe wel or euil. 16. They promise al true seruice and obedience to God. 25. Wherupon he reneweth the pact between God and them , writing it in the volume of the law , and erecting a great stone in testimonie. 29. He dieth and is buried in mount Ephraim. 32. Iosephs bones are buried in Sichem. 33. Eliazar the high-Priest also dieth and is buried in Ephraim.

AND Iosue gathered together al the tribes of Israel into Sichem , and called the ancients , and Princes , and iudges , and maiiters : and they stood in the sight of our Lord : 2. and to the people he spake in this manner : Thus saith our Lord the God of Israel : Beyond the riuer did your fathers dwel from the beginning , Thare the father of Abraham , and (a) of Nachor : and they serued strange Gods. 3. I tooke therefore your father Abraham from the coasts of Mesopotamia , and brought him into the Land of Chanaan , and multiplied his seed , 4. and gaue him Isaac : & againe to him I gaue Iacob and Esau. Of whom , to Esau I gaue mount Seir to possesse : but Iacob & his childre went downe into Ægypt. 5. And I sent Moyse & Aaró , & strucke Ægypt with many signes and wonders. 6. And I brought you and your rathers out of Ægypt , and you came to the sea : and the Ægyptians purliued your fathers with chariots and horsemen , as farre as the Red sea. 7. And the children of Israel cried to the Lord : who did put darkenes between you and the Ægyptians , and brought the sea vpon them , & ouerwhelmed

(a) The Israelites descended also of Nachor , by Rebecca , his sonnes daughter , the wife of Isaac. Gen. 24.

them. Your eyes saw al things that I did in Ægypt, and you dwelt in the wildernes a great time: 8. & I brought you into the Land of the Amorrheite, which dwelt beyond Iordan. And when they fought against you, I deliuered them into your hands, and you possessed their Land, and slew them. 9. And there rose Balac the sonne of Sephor King of Moab, and fought against Israel. And he sent and called Balaam the sonne of Beor, that he might curse you: 10. & I would not heare him, but contrariwise by him I blessed you, and deliuered you out of his hand. 11. And you passed Iordan, and came to Iericho. And the men of that citie fought against you, the Amorrheite, and Pherezeite, and Chanancite, & the Hetheite, and Gergeseite, and the Heueite, and Iebuſeite: & I deliuered them into your hands. 12. And I sent before you hornets: and I cast them forth out of their places, the two Kings of the Amorrheites, not in thy sword and bow. 13. And I gaue you the Land, wherein you laboured not, and the cities which you built not, to dwel in them: vineyards and oliue trees, which you planted not. 14. Now therefore feare our Lord and serue him with a perfect and verie true hart: and (a) take away the Gods, which your fathers serued in Mesopotamia and in Ægypt, and serue our Lord. 15. But if it like you not to serue our Lord, choise is giuen you: choise this day that which pleaseth you, whom you ought especially to serue, whether the Gods, which your fathers serued in Mesopotamia, or the Gods of the Amorrheites, in whose Land you dwel: but I and my house wil serue our Lord. 16. And the people answered, and said: God forbid we should leaue our Lord, and serue strange Gods. 17. Our Lord God he brought vs and our fathers out of the Land of Ægypt, out of the house of seruitude: and did in our sight great signes, & kept vs in al the way by the which we walked, & among al the peoples, through which we passed. 18. And he hath cast out al the nations, the Amorrheite inhabiter of the Land, which we haue entred. We therefore wil serue our Lord, because he is our God. 19. And Iosue said to the people: You can not serue our Lord: for God is holie, and a mightie emulator, neither wil he pardon your wickednes & sinnes. 20. If you leaue our Lord, and serue strange Gods, he wil turne himself; and wil afflict you, & ouerthrow you after he hath giuen you good things. 21. And the people said to Iosue: No, it shal not be so as thou speakest, but we wil serue our Lord. 22. And Iosue said to the people: You are witnesses, that your selues haue chosen to you our Lord for to serue him. And they answered: Witnesses. 23. Now therefore, quoth he, take away strange Gods out of the middes of you, and incline your harts to our Lord the God of Israel. 24. And the people said to Iosue: We wil serue our Lord God, and wil be obedient to his precepts. 25. Iosue therefore in that day (b) made a couenant, and proposed to the people precepts and iudgements in Sichem. 26. He wrote also al these words in the volume of the law of our Lord: and he tooke a very great stone, and put it vnder the oke, that was in the Sanctuarie of our Lord:

(a) Iosue being a Prophet saw some of their harts inclined to idols, though exteriorly they then had none among them.
S. Aug. 9. 29.
in Iosue.

(b) This renouation of the same couenant prefigureth the law of the new Testament.
S. Aug. 9. 30. in Iosue.

27. and said to al the people : Behold this stone shall be a testimonie for you , that (c) it hath heard al the words of our Lord , which he hath spoken to you : lest perhaps hereafter you wil denie , and lye to our Lord your God. 28. And he dismissed the people , euerie one into their possession. 29. (d) And after these things Iosue the sonne of Nun the seruant of our Lord died, being an hundred and ten yeares old : 30. and they buried him in the coasts of his possession in Thamnathare , which is situated in the mountaine of Ephraim , on the North part of mount Gaas. 31. And Israel serued our Lord al the daies of Iosue , and of the ancients , that liued a long time after Iosue , & that had knowen al the workes of our Lord which he had done in Israel. 32. The (e) bones also of Ioseph which the children of Israel had taken out of Ægypt , they buried in Sichem , in part of the field , which Iacob had bought of the sonnes of Hemor the father of Sichem , for a hundred yong ewes , and it was in the possession of the sonnes of Ioseph. 33. Eleazar also the sonne of Aaron died : and they buried him in Gabaath of Phinees his sonne , which was giuen him in mount Ephraim.

Gen. 50.
Exo. 13.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. XXIIII.

1. They serued false God. It is euident by this place, that Thare, and some other progenitours of Israel sometimes serued false Gods , from which they were reduced : but Abraham was euer preferred in true religion ; and the whole familie of Thare was therefore persecuted in Chaldea, as S. Augustine sheweth li. 16. c. 13. de ciuis. Likewise Theodoret q. 18. in Iosue, and other both ancient and late writers teach the same, as is already noted pag. 186.

30. They buried. In that no mention is made of mourning for Iosue , S. Hierome noterh a mysterie , and a special point of Christian doctrine : It seemeth to me (saith he Epist. de 42. Maus. mans. 33.) that in Marie prophetic is dead, in Moyse and Aaron , an end is put to the law and priesthood of the Iewes. For so much as they could neither passe into the land of promise , nor bring the believing people out of the wildernes of this world. And (Mans. 34.) Aaron (sayth he) was mourned (and so was Moyse) Iesus is not mourned ; that is , in the law was descent into hel (called limbus) in the Ghospel is passage to Paradise.

(c) To the more confusion of reasonable creatures willfully offending, vn sensible things are made witnesses, because they euer obey Gods wil, which is the best manner of hearing Theod. q. 19. in Iosue.

(d) If Iosue writ the rest of this booke, then Samuel added these last verses. H. B. Schol.

(e) Iosephs Mausoleum (or famous sepulchre) remained in Sichem in S. Hieroms time as he witnesseth. Tra. li. Hebra. in Gen. prope sinem.

Thare sometime serued false Gods but Abraham neuer.

Before Christ none entred into heauen.

THE ARGUMENT OF THE BOOK OF IUDGES.

A rule for reading historical books.

The Iudges of Israel figures of Christs Apostles.

They were all finally holic men.

The Contents of this book.

Diuided into three parts.

*S*AINTE Hierome giuing this general rule (Epist. ad Eustach. viii.) that in reading historical books of holic Scripture, the historie, as fundation of veritie, is to be loued, but the spiritual vnderstanding rather to be folowed: agreatly ihertoseacherh (Epist. ad Paulin.) that in this book of Iudges there be as manie figures, as Princes of the people. Neither darth he meane that there were no more, but for example sake affirmeth that these Iudges, raised vp after Iosue, and sent of God to deliuer the people fallen for their sinnes into afflictions, were types and figures of the Apostles and Apostolical men, sent by Christ to propagate & defend his Church of the new Testament. For albeit diuers of these Iudges were sometimes great offenders, yet they were reclaimed by Gods special grace, and so amending their errours did great things, to the singular honour of God: and are renowned among the holic Patriarchs and Prophets, particularly praised in holic Scripture, saying: And the Iudges, euerie one by his name, whose hart was not corrupt: Who were not auerted from our Lord, that their memorie may be blessed, & their bones spring out from their place, & their name remaine for euer, the glorie of holic men remaining to their children. After Iosue therefore, who is seemeth guided & ruled the people 32. yeares, this book, written (as is most probable) by Samuel, shewing the famous Actes of these Iudges of Israel, professeth the historie of the Church the space of 228. yeares more. And may be diuided into three parts. First, is described in general the state of the people. sometimes wel and sincerely seruing God, other times falling to great sinnes. in the two first chapters. Secondly, their offences, afflictions, repentance, and deliuerie from their enemies are more particularly reported. from the third chap. to the 17. Thirdly, other special accidents, which happened within the same, are recorded. in the last five chapters.

Eccl. 46.

THE BOOK OF JUDGES IN HEBREW
SOPHETIM.

CHAP. I.

Under a general captaine of the tribe of Iuda, assisted by the tribe of Simoon, Israel subueth diuers citiez of the gentiles. (12. Othoniel taking Cariath sepher possesseth it, and marieth Calebs daughter, obtaining also addition of her dowrie.) 21. Iebuseites yet dwel in Hierusalem with Benjamin, 27. and the Chananeites with diuers of the tribes.

The first part. A general recapitulation of the peoples state.

AFTER the death of Iosue the childre of Israel (a) consulted our Lord, saying: Who shal goe vp before vs against the Chananeite, & shal be captaine of the warre? 2. And our Lord said: (b) Iudas shal goe vp: behold I haue deliuered the Land into his hands. 3. And Iudas said to Simeon his brother: Come vp with me into my lot, and fight against the Chananeite, that I also may goe forward with thee into thy lot. And Simeon went with him. 4. And Iudas went vp, and our Lord deliuered the Chananeite, and the Pherzeite into their hands: and they struck in Bezec ten thousand men. 5. And they found Adonibezec in Bezec, and fought against him, and strucke the Chananeite, and the Pherzeite. 6. And Adonibezec fled: whom pursuing they tooke, cutting of the extreme parts of his hands and feete. 7. And Adonibezec said: Seuentie Kings hauing the extreme parts of their hands and feete cut off, gathered vp the relikes of meates vnder my table: as I haue dore, so hath God repayed me. And they brought him into Ierusalem, and there he died. 8. Therefore the children of Iudas assailing Ierusalem, tooke it, and strucke it in the edge of the sword, setting the whole citie on fyre. 9. And afterward going downe they fought against the Chananeite, which dwelled in the mountaines, and south-

(a) The maner of consulting our Lord was by the High-Priest praying in the tabernacle. Exod, 29.

(b) The first general captaine was Iosue, and diuers of the Iudges, were of the tribe of Iuda, but not all as appeareth in this book.

ward, & in the chāpaine countries. 10. And Iudas going forward, against the Chananeite, that dwelled in Hebron (the name wherof was before time Cariatharbe) stricke Sefai, and Ahiman, and Tholmai: 11. and departing thence went to the inhabitants of Dabir, the old name wherof was Cariath Sepher, that is a citie of letters. 12. And Caleb said: He that shal strike Cariath Sepher, and spoile it, I wil geue him Axa my daughter to wife. 13. And when Othoniel the sonne of Cenez, the younger brother of Caleb had taken it, he gaue him Axa his daughter to wife. 14. Whom going on her way her husband admonished to aske a field of her father. To whom, when she had sighed sitting on her asse, Caleb said: What aileth thee? 15. But she answered. Giue me a blessing, for a drie land thou hast giuen me: giue me also a waterie. Caleb therefore gaue her a waterie ground aboue, and waterie beneath. 16. And the children of the Cineite the cosin of Moyse went vp from the citie of palmes, with the children of Iudas into the desert of his lot, which is at the south side of Arad, & dwelt with him. 17. But Iudas went with Simeon his brother, & together they stricke the Chananeite that dwelt in Sephaath, and slew him. And the name of the citie was called, Horma, that is, Anathema. 18. And Iudas tooke Gaza with the coastes therof, & Ascaló, & Accaron with their bounds. 19. And our Lord was with Iudas, & he possessed the mountaines: neither could he destroy the inhabitants of the vally, because they had manie (1) hooked chariots. 20. And they gaue to Caleb Hebron, as Moyse had said, who destroyed out of it the three sonnes of Enac. 21. But the Iebuseite the inhabiter of Ierusalem the children of Benjamin destroyed not: and the Iebuseite dwelt with the children of Benjamin in Ierusalé vntil this present day. 22. The house also of Ioseph went vp into Bethel, and our Lord was with them. 23. For when they besieged the citie, which before was called Luza, 24. they saw a man coming out of the citie, and said to him: Shew vs the entrance of the citie, and we wil shew thee mercie. 25. Who when he had shewed them, they stricke the citie in the edge of the sword: but that man, & al his kinred they dismissed. 26. Who being dismist, went into the Land of the Herthims, & built there a citie, & called it Luza: which is so called vntil this present day. 27. Manasses also destroyed not Bethsan, and Thanach with their litle townes, and the inhabitants of Dor, and Ieblaam, and Maggeddo with their litle townes. And the Chananeite began to dwel with them. 28. But after that Israel was waxen strong he made them tributaries, and would not destroy them. 29. Ephraim also killed not the Chananeite, that dwelt in Gazer, but dwelt with him. 30. Zabulon destroyed not the inhabitants of Cetron, and Naalol: but the Chananeite dwelt in the middes of him, & was made tributarie to him. 31. Afer also destroyed not the inhabitants of Accho, & of Sidon, of Ahalab, and Achazib, & Helba, & Aphec, & Rohob: 32. and he dwelt in the middes of the Chananeite the inhabiter of that Land, neither did he kil them. 33. Nephthali also destroyed not the inhabitants of Bethfames, & Bethanath: and

1) Strong weapons crooked like sickles, made fast to the chariots which cut in pieces, men, horses, and other chariots that came in their way.

he dwelt

he dwelt in the middes of the Chananeite the inhabiter of the Land, and Bethsamites & Bethanites were tributaries to him. 34. And the Amorrheite strayned the children of Dan in the mountaine, and gaue them not place to goe downe to the playne: 35. and he dwelt in mount Hares which is interpreted shelles, in Aialon and Salebim. And the hand of the house of Ioseph was aggrauated, and he became tributarie to him. 36. And the border of the Amorrheite was from the Ascent of the Scorpion, the rocke, and the higher places.

C H A P. II.

An Angel reciting manie benefits of God towards Israel, and their ingratitude, 4. they weep for their fautes. 10. After the death of Iosue and other ancients of his time, the people often fal, and repenting are deliuered from afflictions: 19. but stil fal againe worse and worse.

ND the (a) Angel of our Lord went vp from Galgal to the place of weepers, and said: I brought you out of Ægypt, and haue brought you into the Land, for the which I sware to your fathers: and I promised that I would not make frustrate my couenant with you for euer: 2. onlie so that you should not make a league with the inhabitants of this Land, but should ouerthrow their altars: and you would not heare my voice. Why haue you done this? 3. For the which cause I would not destroy them from before your face: that you may haue enemies, and their Gods may be a ruine vnto you. 4. And when the Angel of our Lord spake these words to al the children of Israel, they lifted vp their voice, and wept. 5. And the name of that place was called, the place of weepers, or of teares: and (b) there they immolated hosts to our Lord. 6. Iosue therefore dismissed the people, and the children of Israel went euerie one into his possession, to obtayne it: 7. and they serued our Lord al his daies, and the daies of the ancients, of them that liued a long time after him, and knew al the workes of our Lord, which he had done with Israel. 8. And Iosue the sonne of Nun, the seruant of our Lord, died, being an hundred and ten yeares old, 9. and they buried him in the borders of his possession in Thamnathfare in the mount of Ephraim, on the North side of mount Gaas. 10. And al that generation was gathered to their fathers: and there rose others, that knew not our Lord, and the workes which he had done with Israel. 11. And the children of Israel did euil in the sight of our Lord, and serued Baalim. 12. And they left our Lord the God of their fathers, that had brought them out of the Land of Ægypt: and folowed strange Gods, and the Gods of the peoples, that dwelt round about them,

[a] An Angel taking the forme a man, as before to Iosue (6. 5.) so now appearing to the people, spake to them in the name of God, whose messenger he was.

[b] By special dispensation sacrifice was sometimes lawfully offered in other places, though the Tabernacle (and afterward the Temple) was the onlie place commanded. Deut. 12. Iosue. 12. S Aug. 9. 36. in. nuc.

(c) These Iudges were extraordinarily raised vp to deliuer the people: repenting, when they were fallen into afflictions for their sinnes.

and adored them: and they prouoked our Lord to anger, 13. leaving him, and seruing Baal and Astaroth. 14. And our Lord being wrath against Israel, deliuered them into the hands of ransackers: who tooke them and sold them to the enemies, that dwelt round about: neither could they resist their aduersaries: 15. but whither soeuer they had meant to goe, the hand of our Lord was vpon them, as he spake, and sware to them: and they were vehemently afflicted. 16. And our Lord (c) rayfed vp Iudges, that should deliuer them from the hands of the wasters: but neither would they heare them, 17. fornicating with strange Gods, and adoring them. They did quickly forsake the way, in the which their fathers had gone: and hearing the commandements of our Lord, they did al things contrarie. 18. And when our Lord rayfed vp Iudges, in their daies he was moued with mercie, and heard the gronings of the afflicted, and deliuered them from the slaughter of the wasters. 19. But after the Iudge was dead, they returned, and did much worse things then their fathers had done, folowing strange Gods, seruing them, and adoring them. They left not their inuentions, and the verie hard way, by which they were accustomed to walke. 20. And the furie of our Lord was angrie against Israel, & said: Because this nation hath made my couenant frustrate, which I had made with their fathers, and hath contemned my voice: 21. I also wil not destroy the nations which Iosue did let alone, and died: 22. that in them I may trie Israel, whether they wil keep the way of the Lord, and walke in it, as their fathers kept it, or no. 23. Our Lord therefore left al these nations, and would not quickly ouerthrow them, neither deliuered them into the hands of Iosue.

C H A P. III.

The people associating themselues with Gentiles, against whom they ought to fight, 8. are inuaded by forraine Kings: 9. but repēing are deliuered by Othomiel 12. Falling againe, afflicted, and repenting, 15. are deliuered by Aod, 21. secretly killing Eglon their enemy. 31. After him Samgar defendeth Israel against the Philisthims.

The second part. Of the commō peoples often falling to idolatry, their repentance; & deliuerie.

H E S E are the Nations, which our Lord left, that in them he might instruct Israel, and al that had not known the warres of the Chananeites: 2. that afterward their children might learne to fight with their enemies, and to be accustomed to warre: 3. the five Princes of the Philisthims, and the Chaneite, and Sidonian, and Heueite, that dwelt in mount Libanus, from mount Baal Hermon to the entring into Emath. 4. And he left them, that in them he might trie Israel, whether they would heare the commandements of our Lord, which he had commanded their fathers by the hand of Moyses, or not. 5. Therefore the children of Israel dwelt in the middes of the Chananeite, and Hetheite, and Amorrhite, and Pherezite, and Heueite, and Iebuseite: 6. and they tooke their daughters to wiues, and themselues gaue their owne daughters to their sonnes, and serued their Gods. 7. And they did euil in the sight of our Lord, and forgat their God, seruing Baalim and Altaroth. 8. And our Lord being wrath against Israel, deliuered them into the hãds of Chusan Rasathaim the King of Mesopotamia, and they serued him eight yeares. 9. And they cried to our Lord: who rayfed them vp (1) a sauour, & deliuered them, to wit, Othoniel the sonne of Cenez, the yonger brother of Caleb: 10. and the Spirit of our Lord was in him, and he iudged Israel. And he went forth to fight, and our Lord deliuered into his hands Chusan Rasathaim the King of Syria, and oppressed him. 11. And the land rested (2) fourtie yeares, and Othoniel the sonne of Cenez died. 12. And the children of Israel added to doe euil in the sight of our Lord: who strengthened against them Eglon the King of Moab: because they did euil in his sight. 13. And he ioyned to him the children of Ammon, and Amalec: and he went and strucke Israel, and possessed the Citie of palmes. 14. And the children of Israel serued Eglô the King of Moab eighteen yeares: 15. and afterward they cried to our Lord: who rayfed vp vnto them a sauour called Aod, the sonne of Gera, the sonne of Iemai, who vsed both hands for the right. And the children of Israel sent by him presents to Eglon the King of Moab. 16. Who made himself a two edged sword, hauing in the middes a haft in length the palme of a hand, and was girded therwith vnder his cassocke on the right thigh. 17. And he presented the guists to Eglon the King of Moab. And Eglon was exceeding grosse. 18. And when he had presented the guists vnto him, he brought his felowes on the way that came with him. 19. And returning from Galgal, where the Idols were, he said to the King: I haue a secret message to thee, o King. And he cõmanded silence: & al being gone forth that were about him, 20. Aod went in to him: and he sate in a sommer chamber alone, and he said: (3) A word from God I haue to thee. Who forthwith rose out of his throne. 21. And Aod put forth his left hand, & tooke the dagger from his right thigh, and fastned it into his bellie 22. so mightily that the haft folowed the blade in the wound, & was closed vp fast with the most fat grease. Neither did he plucke out the dagger, but as he had stricken so left it in the bodie: and forthwith by the secret parts of nature the ordure of the bellie came forth. 23. But Aod shutting the doores of the chamber very diligētly, & locking them sure, 24. went out by a posterne doore. And the Kings seruants going in, saw the doores of the chamber shut, and they said: Peraduenture he purgeth his bellie in the sommer chamber. 25. And expecting lōg til they were atained, & seeing that no man did open, they tooke a key: and opening they found their Lord on the earth lying dead. 26. But Aod, whiles they were troubled, escaped,

(a) In manie places we see the word sauiour, and like titles giued to men, as the seruants & officers of God, who is the proper and principal Sauiour of al. S. Aug. 9. 18. in Iudic.

(b) In these 40. yeares are included the eight yeares of their seruitude, v. 8. & so in the rest of this historie, otherwise the number of yeares agreeth not with the count. 3. Reg. 6. v. 1.

(c) Aod hauing special inspiration from God to doe this fact (as S. Augustine noteth vpon these words 9. 20. in Iudic.) is not to be imitated by priuat men. See Num 25. 7.

and passed by the Place of Idols, whence he had returned. And he came into Seirath : 27. and forthwith the trumpet sounded in the mount of Ephraim : and the children of Israel went downe with him, himself going in the front. 28. Who said to them : Folow me : for our Lord hath deliuered our enemies the Moabites into our hands. And they went downe after him, and occupied the fords of Iordan, which bring ouer into Moab:& they suffered no man to passe : 29. but they strucke the Moabites at that time, about ten thousand, al stout and strong men, none of them could escape. 30. And Moab was humbled that day vnder the hand of Israel : and the Land rested eightie yeares. 31. After him was Samgar the sonne of Anath, who strucke of the Philisthimes six hundred men with the coulter of a plough : and he also defended Israel.

C H A P. IIII.

Againe the people sinning are oppressed, and crying to God, 4. by direction of Debbora a Prophetesse, Barac fighteth against Sisara their enemy. 15. Who stricken with feare, and flying away, 17. Label pretending his fastie killeth him in her house.

AND the children of Israel added to doe euil in the sight of our Lord after the death of Aod, 2. and our Lord deliuered them into the hands of Iabin the King of Chanaan, which reigned in Asor : and he had a captaine of his armie named Sisara, and he dwelt in Haroseth of the gentiles. 3. And the children of Israel cried to our Lord, for he had nine hundred yron hooked chariots, and for twentie yeares had vehemently oppressed them. 4. And there was one Debbora a Prophetesse, the wife of Lapidoth, which (4) iudged the people at that time. 5. And she sate vnder a palme tree, which was called by her name, between Rama and Berhei in the mount of Ephraim : and the children of Israel went vp to her for al iudgement. 6. Who sent, and called Barac the sonne of Abinoem of Cedes in Nephthali, and she said to him : Our Lord God of Israel hath commanded thee: Goe, and lead an armie into mount Thabor, and thou shalt take with thee ten thousand fighting men of the children of Nephthali, & of the children of Zabulon: 7. and I wil bring vnto thee in the place of the Torrent Cison, Sisara the Prince of the hoste of Iabin, and his chariots, and al the multitude, and wil deliuer them in thy hand. 8. And Barac said to her: If thou come with me, I wil goe: If thou wilt not come with me, I wil not goe. 9. Who said to him: I wil goe indeed with thee, but at this time the victorie shal not be imputed to thee, because Sisara shal be deliuered into the hand of a woman.

(4) Being a Prophetesse she resolved hard and obscure things, but exercised no iurisdiction in any causes, for that belonged to the Council of Priests and of seuentie assistants, where the high-Priest was the chief Iudge. Num 11. Deut. 17. Spiritually Debbora signified the Church, & Barac Christian Princes, who Debbora therefore arose, and went with Barac into Cedec. 10. Who calling vnto him Zabulon and Nephthali, went vp with ten thousand fighting men, hauing Debbora in his companie. 11. And Haber the Cineite was in time past departed from the rest of the Cineites his brethren of Hobab, the cosin of Moyfes: and had pitched his tents vnto the valley, which is called Sennim, and was neere Cedec. 12. And it was told Sisara, that Barac the sonne of Abinoem was gone vp into mount Thabor: 13. and he gathered nine hundred yron hooked chariots, and al his armie from Haroseth of the gentiles to the torrent Cison. 14. And Debbora said to Barac: Arise, for this is the day wherin our Lord hath deliuered Sisara into thy hands: behold he is thy leader. And Barac went downe from mount Thabor, and ten thousand fighting men with him. 15. And our Lord terrified Sisara, and al his chariots, & al the multitude in the edge of the sword at the sight of Barac: in so much, that Sisara leaping downe from his chariot, fled a-foot, 16. & Barac pursued the chariots flying, and the armie vnto Haroseth of the gentiles, and al the multitude of the enemies was vterly destroyed. 17. But Sisara flying came to the tent of Iahel the wife of Haber the Cineite, for there was peace betwixt Iabin the King of Asor, and the house of Haber the Cineite. 18. Iahel therefore going forth to meet Sisara, said to him: Come in to me, my Lord, come in, feare not. Who being entred into her tabernacle, and couered of her with a cloke, 19. said to her: Giue me, I beseech thee, a little water, for I am very thirskie. Who opened a bottle of milke, and gaue him to drinke, and couered him. 20. And Sisara said to her: Stand before the doore of the tabernacle, and when any shal come asking thee, and saying: Is there any man here? Thou shalt say: There is none. 21. (b) Iahel therefore the wife of Haber tooke a nayle of the tabernacle, taking withal a hammer also: and going in secretly, and with silerce she put the nayle vpon the temple of his head, and striking it with the hammer, fastned it into his braine euen to the ground: who ioyning deepe sleepe & death together, faynted, and died. 22. And behold Barac folowing Sisara came: and Iahel going forth to meet him, said to him: Come, and I wil shew thee the man whom thou seekest. Who when he was entred in vnto her, saw Sisara lying dead, and the nayle fastned in his temples. 23. Therefore God that day humbled Iabin the King of Chanaan before the children of Israel: 24. which incrested daily, and with strong hand oppressed Iabin the King of Chanaan, til they destroyed him.

are directed in their warres, & other actions by spiritual superiours, as Origen, and other ancient writers expound this historie.

(b) Who is this woman full of confidence, piercing the enemies head with a nail, but the faith of the Church, destroying the diuels Kingdomes with the Crosse of Christ? S. Aug. li. 12. c. 32. contra Faust. Manich. Iahel also prefigured our B. Ladie who crushed the serpens head.

C H A P. V.

The Canticle of Debbora and Barac giuing thanks after their victorie.

ND Debbora and Barac the sonne of Abinoem sang in that day, saying:

2. You that of Israel haue voluntarily offered your liues to peril (a) blesse our Lord.

3. Heare you Kings, and giue eare ye Princes: I am, (b) I am she, that wil sing to our Lord, I wil chaunt to our Lord the God of Israel.

4. Lord when thou wentst out of Seir, and didst passe by the countries of Edom, the earth was moued, and the heauens and clouds distilled waters.

5. The mountaines melted before the face of our Lord, and Sinai before the face of our Lord God of Israel.

6. In the daies of Samgar the sonne of Anath, in the daies of Iahel the pathes rested: and they that went by them, walked by by-waies.

7. The valiants in Israel ceased, and rested: vntil Debbora arose, a mother rose in Israel.

8. Our Lord chose new warres, and the gates of the enemies himselfe subuerted: shield and speare if there appeared among fourtie thousand of Israel.

9. My hart loueth the Princes of Israel: you that of your owne good wil offered your selues to danger, blesse our Lord.

10. You that ride vpon your (c) faire asses, and sitte in iudgement, and walke in the way, speake.

11. Where the chariots were crushed together, and the armie of the enemy was suffocated, there let the iustices of our Lord be told, and his clemenciè toward the valiants of Israel: then did the people of our Lord goe downe to the gates, and obteyned the principallitie.

12. Arise, arise Debbora, arise, arise, and speake a canticle: Arise Barac, and apprehend thy captiues thou sonne of Abinoem.

13. The remnant of the people is sauèd, our Lord hath fought in the valiants.

14. Out from Ephraim he destroyed them into Amalec, and after him out from Benjamin into thy peoples O Amalec: Out from Machir there descended Princes, and out from Zabulon they that led the armie to fight.

15. The Captaines of Issachar were with Debbora, and folowed

(a) The greater blesse the lesse by imparting spiritual benefits, so God & superiours blesse their subiects. Men blesse God, & the lesse their betters, by giuing thanks, & prayfes.

(b) She inculcath that she must so much more praise God for this victorie, because he forshewed it by her, & by her directed the general captaine Barac, lest it might be ascribed either to wisdom or valure of any man.

(c) Those that subdue their bodies to the spirite ride vpon fayre asses. Origen hom. 6. in c. 5. Indic.

the

the steps of Barac, who as it were into a headlong and bottomeles pit gaue himself to danger: Ruben being diuided against it-self, there was found contention of couragious persons.

16. Why dwellest thou between the two bounds, that thou mayest heare the whistlings of the flockes? Ruben being diuided against it-self, there was found contention of couragious men.

17. Galaad rested beyond Iordan, and Dan gaue himself to ships: Afer dwelt in the sea shore, and abode in hauens.

18. But Zabulon and Nephthali offered their liues to death in their countrie of Merome.

19. The Kings came & fought, the Kings of Chanaan fought in Thannac besides the waters of Mageddo, and yet going a preying they tooke nothing.

20. From heauen they fought against them: the starres remaying in their order and course, fought against Sisara.

21. The torrent of Cison drew their carcasses, the torrent of Cadumim, the torrent of Cison: my soule tread downe the strong ones.

22. The hoofe of the horses fel off, the strongest of the enemies flying violently, and falling downe headlong.

23. Curse ye the land of Meroz, said the Angel of our Lord: Curse the inhabitants therof, because they came not to help our Lord, to aid his most mightie ones.

24. (4) Blessed among women be Iahel the wife of Haber the Cinite, and blessed be she in her tabernacle.

25. To him that asked water she gaue milke, and in the phial of Princess she offered butter.

26. Her left hand she put to the naile, and her right hand to the smithes hammer, and strucke Sisara, seeking in his head a place for the wound, and piercing valiantly through his temple.

27. Between her feete he fel: he failed, and died: he was roled before her feete, and he lay without life and miserable.

28. Looking through a window, his mother howled: and she spake out of a higher chamber: Why lingereth his chariote to come backe? Wherefore are the feete of his waggans slow?

29. One wiser then the rest of his wiues answered these words to her mother in law:

30. Peradventure now he diuideth the spoiles, and the fayrest of the women is chosen for him: garments of sundrie colours are deliuered to Sisara for a prey, and diuerse furniture is laid together to adorne the uecks.

31. So perish al thine enemies, O Lord: but they that loue thee, as the Sunne shineth in his rying, so let them glitter.

32. And the Land rested for fourtie years.

4) Iahel the figure was blessed amongst women: much more the most Holie Virgin Mother of God is blessed about al women.

C H A P. VI.

The people falling againe to sinne, are oppressed by the Madianites. 21. An Angel appearing to Gedeon, sendeth him to deliuer Israel, 17. confirming his mission by miracle. 25. So he first destroyeth Baals altar, 34. then gathereth an armie against Idolaters. 36. And is assured againe of Gods protection by two miracles in a fleece of wool.

AND the children of Israel did euil in the sight of our Lord: who deliuered them into the hand of Madian seven yeares, 2. and they were sore oppressed of them. And they made themselues denes and caues in the mountaines, and very wel fenced places to resist. 3. And when Israel had sown, Madian came vp and Amalec, and the rest of the East nations: 4. and pitching their tents by them waited al things as they were in the blade vnto the entring of Gaza: & they left nothing at al in Israel that perteyned to mā's life, not sheep, not oxen, not aises. 5. For they and al their flocks came with their tabernacles, and like vnto locusts filled al places, an innumerable multitude of men, & of camels, wasting whatsoeuer they touched. 6. And Israel was sore humbled in the sight of Madiā. 7. And he cried to our Lord desiring helpe against the Madianites. 8. Who sent vnto them (4) a man that was a Prophet, and he spake: Thus sayth our Lord the God of Israel: I made you to come vp out of Ægypt, and brought you out of the house of seruitude, 9. & deliuered you out of the hands of the Ægyptians, and of al the enemies, that afflicted you: and I cast them out at your entring, and deliuered you their Land. 10. And I said: I the Lord your God, feare not the Gods of the Amorrhaites, in whose land you dwel. And you would not heare my voice. 11. And an Angel of our Lord came, and fate vnder an oke, that was in Ephra, and perteyned to Ioas the father of the familie of Ezri. And when Gedeon his sonne did threth and purge wheate in a winepresse; to fly Madian, 12. the Angel of our Lord appeared to him, and said: Our Lord be with thee, o most valiant of men. 13. And Gedeon said to him: I beseech thee my Lord, if our Lord be with vs, why haue these euils apprehended vs? where are his meruelous workes, which our fathers haue told vs, and said: Out of Ægypt did our Lord bring vs? but now our Lord hath forsaken vs, and deliuered vs into the hand of Madian. 14. And our Lord looked toward him, and said: Goe in this thy strength, and thou shalt deliuer Israel out of the hand of Madian: know that I haue sent thee. 15. Who answering said: I beseech thee, my Lord, wherein shal I deliuer Israel? behold my familie is the meaneft in Manasses, & I the least in my rathers house. 16. And our Lord

4. S. Angustine (9. 31. in Iudic.) supposeth that this messenger sent from God called a man and a Prophet (for the forme wherin he appeared) was the same Angel which fate vnder the oke, and sent Gedeon to deli-uer Israel v.
11. 12. &c.

said

said to him: I wil be with thee : and thou shalt strike Madian as it were one man. 17. And he said : If I haue found , quoth he , grace before thee , giue me a signe that it is thou which speakest to me. 18. Neither depart thou hence , til I returne to thee, bringing a sacrifice , and offering (b) to thee. Who answered : I wil tarie thy comming. 19. Gedeon therefore went in , and boyled a kid , and of a bulhel of flowre baked vnleuened loaves : and putting the flesh in a basket , and the broth of the flesh into a potte , he carried al vnder the oke , and offered to him. 20. To whom the Angel of our Lord said : Take the flesh and the vnleuened loaves , and put them vpon that rocke , and powre out the broth thereon. And when he had done , 21. the Angel of our Lord stretched forth the tippe of the rodde , which he held in his hand , and touched the flesh and the vnleuened loaves: and there arose a fire from the rocke , and consumed the flesh, and the vnleuened loaves: and the Angel of our Lord vanished from his eies. 22. And Gedeon seeing that it was the Angel of our Lord, said: Alas my Lord God: that I haue seen the Angel of our Lord face to face. 23. And our Lord said to him: Peace be with thee: feare not, thou shalt not die. 24. And Gedeon built there (c) an altar to our Lord, & called it, our Lords peace, vntil this present day. And when he was yet in Ephra, which is of the familie of Ezri, 25. that night our Lord said to him: Take a bullocke of thy fathers, and an other bullocke of seuen yeares , and thou shalt destroy the altar of Baal , which is thy fathers : and cut downe the groue, that is about the altar : 26. and thou shalt build an altar to the Lord thy God in the top of this rocke, whereupon thou didst lay the sacrifice before : and thou shalt take the second bullocke , and shalt offer an holocauste vpon a pile of the wood, which thou shalt cut downe out of the groue. 27. Gedeon therefore taking to him ten men of his seruants , did as our Lord had commanded him. But fearing his fathers house , and the men of that citie , he would not doe it by day, but accomplished al things by night. 28. And when the men of that towne were risen in the morning , they saw the altar of Baal destroyed, and the groue cut downe , and the other bullocke laid vpon the altar, which then was built. 29. They said one to an other: Who hath done this? And whē they inquired for the authour of the fact, it was said : Gedeon the sonne of Ioas did al these things. 30. And they said to Ioas: Bring forth thy sonne hither, that he may die : because he hath destroyed the altar of Baal, and hath cut downe his groue. 31. To whom he answered: Why are you reuengers of Baal, that you fight for him: he that is his aduersarie, let him die before to morrow light appeare : if he be God, reuenge he himself, on him that hath raysed his altar. 32. From that day Gedcon was called (d) Ierobaal, because Ioas had said: Let Baal reuenge himself on him, that hath raysed his altar. 33. Therefore al Madian, and Amalec, and the east peoples were gathered together, and passing ouer Iordan, cāped in the vaile Iezrael. 34. But the spirit of our Lord reuested Gedeon, who sounding with a trumpet called together the house

(b) He meant not to offer sacrifice to the Angel, but that either the Angel, or himself in presence of the Angel, should offer it to God: and so indeed the Angel partly directed him what to doe, partly executed the office himselfe, by touching the oblation with his rod; and miraculously bringing fire to consume the sacrifice.
(c) An altar for a monument, not for sacrifice.

(d) The strength of Baal, or stronger then Baal.

(e) Dew first in the fleece and after on the ground, signified grace and true religion first in one people, after in al nations. Sains
Amb. Ser. 13. de
Natal. Dom.
Vener. Beda 99.
in Indic. . . 4,
Also Christs
Incarnation
without detriment of his Mothers virginitie, of whose grace al are replenished.
S. Bernard ho. 2.
in Missus est.

of Abiezer, to folow him. 35. And he sent messengers into al Manasses, which it-selfe also did folow him: and other messengers into Aser and Zabulon and Nephthali, which met him. 36. And Gedeon said to God: If thou saue Israel by my hand, as thou hast spoken, 37. I wil put this fleece of wool on the floore: if there shal be (e) dew in the fleece onlie, and on al the ground drienes, I shal know that by my hand, as thou hast spoken, thou wilt deliuer Israel. 38. And it came so to passe. And rysing in the night wringing the fleece, he filled a vessel with the dew. 39. And he said againe to God: Let not thy furie be angry against me if I tempt once againe, seeking a signe in the fleece. I desire that the fleece onlie may be drie, and al the ground wet with dew. 40. And God did that night as he had requested: and there was drienes in the fleece onlie, and dew on al the ground.

C H A P. VII.

Gedeon marching with thirtie two thousand men, al that are feareful, and that drinke water kneeling are dimised, & onlie three hundred that drinke litle remaine. 9. By a Madianites dreame Gedeon is encouraged. 16. By a stratageme the enemy is frighted & overthrowne. 24. The Ephraites kil Ored & Zeb.

HERFORE Ierobaal, which is also Gedeon, rysing in the night, and al the people with him, came to the fountaine that is called Harad, and the campe of Madian was in the valley on the North side of the high hil. 2. And our Lord said to Gedeon: There is much people with thee, neither shal Madian be deliuered into their hand: lest Israel glorie against me, and say: By myne owne force I am deliuered. 3. Speake to the people, and proclaime in al their hearing: He that is feareful and timorous, let him returne. And they departed from mount Galaad, and there returned two and twentie thousand men, and onlie ten thousand remained. 4. And our Lord said to Gedeon: Yet there is a great multitude, lead them to the waters, and there I wil proue them: and of whom I shal rel thee that he goe with thee, let him goe: whom I shal forbid to goe, let him returne. 5. And when the people were come downe to the waters, our Lord said to Gedeon: They that shal lappe the water with their tongues, as dogs are wont to lappe, thou shalt separate them apart: but they that shal drinke bowing downe their knees, shal be on the other part. 6. The number therefore of them that had lapped water, their hand casting it to their mouth, was three hundred men: and al the rest of the multitude had drunke kneeling. 7. And our Lord said to Gedeon: In the three hundred men, that lapped water, I wil deliuer you, and giue Madian in thy hand: but let al the rest of the multitude returne into their place. 8. Taking therefore victuals and trumpets

according

according to the number, al the rest of the multitude he commanded to depart to their tabernacles : and himselfe with the three hundred gaue himselfe to the battel. And the campe of Madian was beneath in the valley. 9. The same night our Lord said to him: Arise, & goe downe into the campe : because I haue deliuered them into thy hand. 10. But if thou be afraid to goe alone, let Phara thy seruant goe downe with thee. 11. And when thou shalt heare what they speake, then shalt thy hands be strengthened, & thou shalt goe downe more secure to the enemies campe. He therefore went downe and Phara his seruant into part of the campe, where the watch was of men in armes. 12. But Madian and Amalec, & al the East peoples lay scattered in the valley, as a multitude of locusts: their camels also were innumerable, as the sand that lieth in the sea shore. 13. And whē Gedeō was come, one told his neighbour (a) a dreame & in this manner he reported that which he had seen: I saw a dreame, & there seemed to me as it were a harth loafe of barlie to role, & to come into the campe of Madian: and when it was come to the tabernacle, it stricke it, and ouerthrew it, & beate it al flatte with the earth. 14. He to whom he spake, answered: This is no other thing, but the sword of Gedeon the soane of Ioas the man of Israel. For the Lord hath deliuered Madian into his hands, and al their campe. 15. And when Gedeon had heard the dreame, and the interpretation therof, he adored: and turned to the campe of Israel, and said: Arise ye, for our Lord hath deliuered the campe of Madian into our hands. 16. And he diuided the hundred men into three parts, and gaue them trumpets in their hands, and (b) emptie pitchers, and lampes in the middes of their pitchers, 17. And he said to them: What you shall see me doe, that doe ye: I wil enter into part of the campe, & that which I shall doe follow you. 18. When the trumpet shall sound in my hand, doe you also sound and crie together round about the campe: To our Lord (c) & to Gedeon. 19. And Gedeon went in, & the three hundred that were with him, into part of the campe, the watch of midnight beginning, and rayling vp the watch men they began to sound with their (d) trumpets, and to clap the pitchers one against an other. 20. And when they sounded in three places round about the campe, and had broken the pitchers, they held the lampes in the left hands, and with the right they sounded the trumpets, and cried: The sword of our Lord and of Gedeon: 21. standing euerie one in his place round about the enemies campe. Therefore the whole campe was troubled, and crying out and howling they fled: 22. and the three hundred men neuertheles persisted sounding with the trumpets. And our Lord sent in the sword in al the campe, and they murdered one an other, 23. flying as farre as Bethsetta, and the brinke of Abelmehula in Tebbath. But the men of Israel of Nephthali, and Aser thouting together, & al Manasses pursued Madian. 24. And Gedeon sent messengers into al mount Ephraim, saying: Come downe to meet Madian, and take the waters before them to Bethbera and Jordan. And al Ephraim thou-

(a) Obseruation of dreames is generally forbid. Leuit. 19. v. 26. Deut. 18. v. 10. 10. yet here, and in other places, it is euident, God would haue some obserued. See Annot. Gen. 40.

(b) These things were ridiculous (saith Venerab. Beda c. 97. in Indic.) if they had not been terrible to the enemies.

(c) It is no derogation to God, that honour is also giuen to his seruants.

(d) Trumpe's signified Preachers of Christ, pitchers the bodies of Martyrs, & lampes their vertues & miracles. Bedas q̄q̄m̄ Indis c. 7.

ted, and tooke the waters before them and Jordan vnto Bethbera. 25. And two men that were apprehended of Madian, Oreb and Zeb, Oreb he slew in the Rocke of Oreb, Zeb in the Presse of Zeb. And they pursued Madian, carying the heads of Oreb and Zeb to Gedeon beyond the streames of Jordan.

C H A P. VIII.

The Ephraimites quareling because they were not called to the warres, are pacified by Gedeon. 4. The men of Soccoth and Phanael denying victuals for the campe, Gedeon (in the meane time 10. ouerthrowing the enemy) 15. reuengeth their reproachful contempt, 18. killeth Zebec and Salmana, 22. refuseth dominion, 24. but receiueh as a giift, the reuels taken in the prey: 27. maketh therof an Ephod, which turneth to the ruine of his familie. 30. Hauing seuentie sonnes by his wiues, and one by a concubine, dieth in good old age. 33. And the people fall againe to idolatrie.

AND the men of Ephraim said to him: What is this that thou didst meane to doe, that thou wouldest not call vs when thou didst goe to fight against Madian? chiding bitterly and almost offering violence. 2. To whom he answered: (1) What could I haue done like to that, which you haue done? Is not the cluster of Ephraim better then the vintages of Abiezer? 3. Into your hands hath our Lord deliuered the Princes of Madian, Oreb and Zeb, what could I haue done the like as you haue done? Which when he had spoken, their spirit reited, wherwith they did swel against him. 4. And when Gedeon was come to Jordan, he passed ouer it with the three hundred men that were with him: and for wearines, they could not pursue them that fled. 5. And he said to the men of Soccoth: Giue, I beseech you, bread to the people that is with me, because they are verie faint: that we may pursue Zebec and Salmana the Kings of Madian. 6. The Princes of Soccoth answered: Peraduenture the palmes of the hands of Zebec and Salmana are in thy hand, & therefore thou requirest that we giue bread to thy armie. 7. To whom he said: When our Lord therefore shal haue deliuered Zebec and Salmana into my hands, I wil teare your flesh with the thornes and briers of the desert. 8. And going vp from thence, he came into Phanael: & he spake to the men of that place the like things. To whō they also answered, as the men of Soccoth had answered. 9. He said therefore to thē also: When I shal be returned conquerour in peace, I wil destroy this towre. 10. But Zebec and Salmana reited with al their armie. For fifteen thousand men were remaying of al the troups of the East peoples, an hundred and twentie thousand fighting men and those that drew sword, being

(4) A. soft answer breaketh anger: hard speech stirreth vp furie Prov. 15.

being slayne. 11. And Gedeon going vp by the way of them, that dwelt in tabernacles, on the East side of Nobe, & Iegbaa, struck the campe of the enemies which were secure, and suspected no mischance. 12. And Zebee and Salmana fled, whom Gedeon pursuing apprehended, al their hoste being put out of aray. 13. And returning from the battel before sunne ryling, 14. he tooke a boy of the men of Soccoth: and he asked him the names of the Princes and ancients of Soccoth, and he described seuentie seuen men. 15. And he came to Soccoth, and said to them: Behold Zebee and Salmana, concerning whom you vpbraided me, saying: Peradventure the hands of Zebee and Salmana are in thy hands, and therefore thou desirest that we giue bread to the men that be wearie, and are fainte. 16. He tooke therefore the ancients of the citie, and thornes and briers of the desert, and tore them with the same, and cut the men of Soccoth into pieces. 17. The tower also of Phanuel he ouerthrew, killing the inhabitants of the citie. 18. And he said to Zebee and Salmana: What manner of men were they, whom you slew in Thabor? Who answered: Like vnto thee, and one of them as it were the sonne of a King. 19. To whom he answered: They were my brethren, the sonnes of my mother. Our Lord liuerh, that if you had saued them (b) I would not kil you. 20. And he said to Iether his eldest sonne: Arise, and kil them. Who drew not out his sword: for he was afraid, because he was yet a boy. 21. And Zebee and Salmana said: Doest thou rise and runne vpon vs: because according to his age is the strength of a man. Gedeon rose vp, and slew Zebee and Salmana: and he tooke the ornaments and bosses, wherewith the necks of Kings camels are wont to be adorned. 22. And al the men of Israel said to Gedeon: (c) Rule thou ouer vs, and thy sonne, and thy sonnes sonne: because thou hast deliuered vs from the hand of Madian. 23. To whom he said: I wil not rule ouer you, neither shal my sonne rule ouer you, but our Lord shal rule ouer you. 24. And he said to them: One petition I request of you: Giue me the earlets of your prey. For the Hmalites were accustomed to haue golden earlets. 25. Who answered: we wil giue them most willingly. And spreading a mantel on the ground, they cast on it the earlets of the prey: 26. and the weight of the earlets that he desired, was a thousand fiue hundred sicles of gold, besides the ornaments, and iewels, and purple vesture, which the Kings of Madian were wont to vse, & besides the golden chaines of the camels. 27. And Gedeon made therof an Ephod, and put it in his citie Ephra. And al Israel did fornicate in it, and it became a ruine to Gedeon and to al his house. 28. But Madian was humbled before the children of Israel, neither could they any more lift vp their necks: but the land rested for fourtie yeares, wherin Gedeon ruled. 29. Ierobaal therefore the sonne of Ioas went, and dwelt in his owne house: 30. and he had seuentie sonnes, which came out of his thigh, because he had manie wiues. 31. And his (d) concubine, which he had in Sichem, bare him a sonne named Abimelec. 32. And

(b) Zebee and Salmana were not of any of the seuen nations whom God commanded to destroy, and therefore Gedeon might haue spared their liues, if he would.

(c) Kings may doe any thing not contrarie to the law: but Iudges and Dukes may only doe according to the law. See 1. Reg. 8.

(d) His handmaide or seruant, not a harlot: to wit, such a one as had not the priuledge of a wife, as Gen. 25. v. 6.

Gedeon the sonne of Ioas died in a good old age, and was buried in the sepulchre of his father in Ephra of the familie of Ezri. 33. But after that Gedeon was dead, the children of Israel were auerted, and did fornicate with Baalim. And they made a couenant with Baal, that he should be their God: 34. neither did they remember our Lord their God, which deliuered them out of the hands of al their enemies round about: 35. neither did they mercie with the house of Ierobaal Gedeon, according to al the benefits that he had done to Israel.

C H A P. I X.

Abimelech Gedeons concubins sonne killeth his brethren, 7. onlie the youngest escapeth, and by a parable expostulateth the iniurie done to his fathers house. 23. Shortly the Sichemites detest Abimelech. 26. Gaal conspireth against h.m., but is overcome. 50. Finally Abimelech is wounded to death by a woman.

(a) This sonne of Gedeon by his seruant prefigured Antichrist, who wil persecute the Church & reigne for a while: but in the end shal be destroyed. S. Beda c. 6. qq. in Iudic.

(b) True Pa-stours in the time of Antichrist wil stil auouch the truth and the right of the Church.

(c) Oyle spiri-tually signi-fiech the grace of the Holy Ghost, making peace of con-science in mens soules towards God.

(d) The sweetnes of Gods law producing good workes.

(e) Contétable in outward shew, but brin-

ND (a) Abimelech the sonne of Ierobaal went into Sichechem to his mothers brethren and spake to them, & to al the kintred of the house of his mothers father, saying:
2. Speake to al the men of Siche-m: whether is better for you, that seuentie men haue dominion ouer you, al the sonnes of Ierobaal, or that one man haue dominion ouer you? & withal consider that I am your bone, and your flesh. 3. And his mothers brethren spake of him to al the men of Siche-m al these words, & inclined their harts after Abimelech, saying: He is our brother. 4. And they gaue him seuentie weight of siluer out of the temple of Baalberit. Who hyred therewith vnto himself needie men and vagabounds, and they followed him. 5. And he came into his fathers house in Ephra, and murdered his brethren the sonnes of Ierobaal, seuentie men, vpon one stone:
& there remayned loatham the youngest sonne of Ierobaal, & was hid.
6. And al the men of Siche-m assembled together al the families of the citic of Mello: & they went and made Abimelech King, beside the oke that stood in Siche-
m. 7. Which being told to loatham, he went, (b) & stooode in the top of inount Garizim: & lifting vp his voice, he cried, & said: Heare me ye men of Siche-m, so as God may heare you. 8. " The trees went to anoint a King ouer them: & they said to the (c) oliue tree: Reigne ouer vs. 9. Which answered: Can I forsake my fatnes, which both Gods doe vse, and men, and come to be promoted among the trees? 10. And the trees said to the (d) fig tree: Come, and take the Kingdome ouer vs. 11. Which answered thē: Can I forsake my sweet-nes, and my most sweet fruits, & goe to be promoted among the other trees? 12. And the trees spake to the (e) vine: Come, and reigne ouer

* briere bramble or thistle

vs. 13. Which answered them : Can I forsake my wine , that cheerech God and men, & be promoted among the other trees? 14. And the trees said to (f) the * rhamnus: Come , and reigne ouer vs. 15. Who answered the: If indeed you make me your King, Come, and rest vnder my shadow : but if you meane it not, let there fyre issue forth of the rhamnus, & deuour the ceders of Libanus. 16. Now therefore, if you haue wel and without sinne appointed Abimelech King ouer you, and haue dealt wel with Ierobaal, and with his house, & haue requited him the like for his benefits, who fought for you, 17. & put his life in dangers, that he might deliuer you from the hand of Madian , 18. who now are risen against my fathers house , and haue killed his sonnes seuentie men vpon one stone, & haue made Abimelech the sonne of his handmaid King ouer the inhabitants of Sichem , because he is your brother: 19. If therefore you haue dealt wel, and without fault with Ierobaal, and his house, reioyce this day in Abimelech, & reioyce he in you. 20. But if vniustly, let there fyre issue forth from him, and consume the inhabitants of Sichem, and towne of Mello : and let there fire goe forth from the men of Sichem, and from the towne of Mello , & deuour Abimelech. 21. Which things when he had said, he fled, and went into Bera : and dwelt there for feare of Abimelech his brother. 22. Abimelech therefore reigned ouer Israel three yeares. 23. And our Lord sent (g) a verie euil spirit between Abimelech and the inhabitants of Sichem : Who began to detest him, 24. & to lay the wickednes of the murdering of the seuentie sonnes of Ierobaal, & the shading of their bloud vpon Abimelech their brother, and vpon the rest of the Princes of the Sichemites, that had holpen him. 25. And they set an ambusement against him on the top of the mountaines: & whiles they taryed for his coming, they committed robberies, taking preyes of them that passed by: and it was told Abimelech. 26. And Gaal the sonne of Obed came with his brethren, & passed into Sichem. At whose coming the inhabitants of Sichem taking courage, 27. issued forth into the fields, watering the vineyards, & treading the grapes : and gathering companies of musicians went into the temple of their God , and in their bankets and cups cursed Abimelech, 28. Gaal the sonne of Obed crying : Who is Abimelech , and what is Sichem , that we should serue him? Is he not the sonne of Ierobaal , and hath made Zebul his seruant Prince ouer the men of Emor the father of Sichem? Why then shal we serue him? 29. would God that some man would giue this people vnder my had, that I might take Abimelech out of the way. And some said to Abimelech: Gather together a multitude of an armie, and come. 30. For Zebul the Prince of the citie, hearing the words of Gaal the sonne of Obed, was very wrath, 31. & set messengers secretly to Abimelech , saying: Behold, Gaal the sonne of Obed is come into Sichem with his brethren, & rayseth the citie against thee. 32. Arise therefore in the night with the people, that is with thee, and lie hidde in the field : 33. and betimes in the morning at sunne rising, sette vpon the citie. And when he issueth forth ging forth liquor of meruelous force; which sort of workes God is most delighted withal: and men most admire. Psal. 85 (f) The rhamnus signifieth base and ambitious men. (g) God doth suggest only good cogitations, as remorse of conscience in the Sichemites, for their ingratitude towards Ge-deon, and for so wicked and cruel a murder of his sonnes. Wherupō they began to detest Abimelech, and, so hatred grew between him & them, which is a most euil spirit, but their former sinne, not God, was the cause thereof. S Aug. 9. 45. in Iudic.

againtt thee with his people, doe to him what thou shalt be able. 34. Abimelech therefore arose with al his armie in the night, and laide ambushments neere to Sichem in foure places. 35. And Gaal the sonne of Obed went forth, & stood in the entrance of the gate of the citie. And Abimelech rose, & al his armie with him from the place of the ambushments. 36. And when Gaal had seen the people, he said to Zebul: Behold a multitude commeth downe from the mountaines. To whom he answered: Thou seest the shadowes of the mountaines as it were heads of men, & with this error thou art deceiued. 37. Againe Gaal said: Behold there cometh downe people from the nauel of the land, & one troupe cometh by the way that looketh to the oke. 38. To whom Zebul said: Where is now thy mouth, wherwith thou didst speake? Who is Abimelech that we should serue him? Is not this the people, which thou didst despise? Goe forth, and fight againtt him. 39. Gaal therefore went, the people of the Sichimites looking on, and fought againtt Abimelech, 40. who pursued him flying, and driue him into the citie: and there were slaine of his part manie, vnto the gate of the citie. 41. Abimelech sate in Runa: but Zebul expelled Gaal and his companions out of the citie, neither did he suffer them to abide in it. 42. Therefore the day folowing the people went forth into the field. Which being told to Abimelech, 43. he tooke his armie, and diuided it into three troupes, setting ambushments in the fields. And seeing that the people came out of the citie, he arose, and set vpon them 44. with his owne troupe, oppugning and besieging the citie: and two troupes scattered through the field pursue the aduersaries. 45. Moreouer Abimelech al that day oppugned the citie: which he tooke, & killed the inhabitants therof, and destroyed it, so that he (4) sowed salt in it. 46. Which when they heard that dwelt in the towre of Sichem, they entred into the temple of their God Berith, where they had made a couenant with him, & therof the place had taken his name, which was exceeding wel fenced. 47. Abimelech also hearing that the men of the towre of Sichem were gathered together, 48. he went vp into mount Selmon with al his people: and taking an axe, he cut off the bough of a tree, and laying it on his shoulder & carying it, he said to his companions: That which you see me doe, doe ye out of hand. 49. They thertore cutting off boughs frō the trees, euerie mā as fast as he could, folowed their Captaine. Who compassing the forte burnt it: and so it came to passe, that with the smoke and the tyre a thousand persons were slaine, men and women together, of the inhabitants of the towre of Sichem. 50. And Abimelech departing thence came to the towne of Thebes, which compassing he besieged with his armie. 51. And there was in the middes of the citie an high towre, to the which were fled both men and women together, and al the Princes of the citie, the gate being shut very strongly, and they standing vpon the battlements of the towre by the buiwarks. 52. And Abimelech comming neere the towre, fought manfully: & approching to the doore, endeauoured to put fire vnder it:

(4) For more revenge he sowed the ci-tie with salte, which maketh ground barren
*Theod. 9. 17. in
lib. Iudic.*

53. and behold one woman casting from aboue a piece of a millstone,
 (b) dashed it against the head of Abimelech, and brake his brayne. 34.
 Who called by and by his esquire, and said to him: Draw out thy sword, and strike me: lest perhaps it be said that I was slaine of a woman. Who doing as he was commanded slew him. 55. And when he was dead, al that were with him of Israel returned into their seats: 56. and God repayed the euil, that Abimelech had done against his father, killing his seuentie brethren. 57. The Sichemites were also rewarded for that which they had wrought, and the curse of Ioatham the sonne of Iero-baal came vpon them.

(b) Euils shal betide the vniust man to destruction. Psal.
 139.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. IX.

P. The trees went to annoint a King.) According to the historie Ioatham Gedeons yongest sonne, by a parable iustly expostulateth the iniurie done by the Siche-mites to his fathers house, in preferring a base bond-womans-sonne, and cruelly murdering the rest of his sonnes: who with much trauel, and manie dangers of his owne life, had deliuered them from seruitude. ¶ In the spiritual sense, which (as the ancient fathers note) is chiefly intended, Idolaters and Heretikes are reprobued, who rather accept of vniust vsurpers, that wil serue their licentious appetites, and mantaine vice and wickednes, then to be ruled by iust and lawful Superiours, appointed by Gods ordinance, indued with grace of the Holie Ghost (signified by the olive tree ;) such as bring forth wholsome sweet vertues signified by the figge tree ;) and are replenished with admirable fortitude (signified by the vine tree ;) and in their places set vp base, ambitious, cruel, and crabbed spirits, signified by the bramble, or brier. Thus Nemrod, Abimelech, Mahomet, and innumerable other tyrants haue been aduanced, & especially Antichrist shal be extolled aboue al that is called God, or is worshipped, and shal most cruelly persecute al Catholikes, that wil not conforme themselves to his proceedings. But in fine (as here is prefigured in Abimelech, si e shal rise against this bramble Antichrist, and shal deuour him and al his together. S. Beda. qq. in lib. Iudic. c. 6.

Vngrateful people render iniuries for benefits.

Infidels promote wicked men to autho-ritie.

Abimelech a figure of Antichrist.

2. Thes.
 2.

C H A P. X.

*Thola ruleth in Israel twentie three yeares. 3. Lair twentie two. 6. The people fal againe to idolatrie, are afflicted by the Philisthimes and Ammonites. 10.
They crie to God for help, who biddeth them cal for help to the Gods whom they haue serued. 16. But crying still to God, and throwing away their idols, he hath compassion of them.*

AFTER Abimelech there arose Ruler in Israel Thola the sonne of Phua the vncle of Abimelech, a man of Issachar, which dwelt in Samir of mount Ephraim: 2. and iudged Israel three and twentie yeares, and died and was buried in Samir. 3. After him succeeded Lair the Galaadite, who iudged Israel for two and twentie yeares, 4. hauing thirtie sonnes sitting vpon thirtie asse colts, & Princes of thirtie cities, which of his name were called Hauoth Lair, that is, the townes of Lair, vntil this present day, in the Land of Galaad. 5. And Lair died, and was buried in the place, which is called Camon. 6. But the children of Israel ioyning new finnes to their old, and euil in the sight of our Lord, & serued the Idols, Baalim and Astaroth, & the Gods of Syria and of Sidon and of Moab and of the children of Ammon and of the Philisthiims: and they left our Lord, and did not serue him. 7. Against whom our Lord being wrath, deliuered them into the hands of the Philisthiims and of the children of Ammon. 8. And they were afflicted and sore opressed for eighteen yeares, al that dwelt beyond Iordan in the Land of the Amorrheite, which is in Galaad: 9. in so much, that the children of Ammon passing ouer Iordan, wasted Iudas and Benjamin and Ephraim: and Israel was afflicted exceedingly. 10. And crying to our Lord, they said: We haue sinned to thee, because we haue forsaken our Lord God & haue serued Baalim. 11. To whom our Lord spake: Haue not the Ægyptians and the Amorrheites, and the children of Ammon and the Philisthiims, 12. the Sidonians also and Amalech and Chanaan opressed you, & you cried to me, and I deliuered you out of their hand: 13. And yet you haue forsaken me, and haue worshipped strange Gods: therefore I wil not adde to deliuer you any more: 14. goe and inuocate the Gods which you haue chosē: let them deliuer you in the time of distresse. 15. And the children of Israel said to our Lord: We haue sinned, render to vs whatsoever pleaseth thee: only now deliuer vs. 16. In saying which things, (a) they threw away out of their coats al the idols of strange Gods, and serued our Lord God: who sorowed for their miseries. 17. Therefore the children of Ammon crying together pitcht their tents in Galaad: against whom the children of Israel being assembled camped in

(a) Not euerie one that sayth: Lord, Lord, but he that doth the wil of God &c. Mat. 7.

Maspha. 18. And the Princes of Galaad said euerie one to their neighbours: Who of vs shal first begin to fight against the children of Ammon, shal be the Duke of the people of Galaad.

C H A P. X I.

Iephte reiected by his brethren, is intreated by the ancients of Galaad to returne and fight for them against the Ammonites: 12. with whom he first pleadeth the cause of Israel by iust reasons 26. and long prescription. But they persisting obstinate, he (30. inconsiderately vowing) 32. ouerthroweth them, 34. and sacrificeth his onlie daughter.

HERE was at that time Iephte the Galaadite, a most valiant man & a warrier, the sonne of a woman that was (a) an harlot, who was borne of Galaad. 2. And Galaad had a wife of whō he had sonnes: who after they were growen, cast out Iephte, saying: Thou canst not be heyre in the house of our father, because thou art borne of another mother. 3. Whom he flying & auoyding, dwelt in the Land of Tob: and there were gathered to him needie men, & theeuiſh, & folowed him as their Prince. 4. In those dayes the children of Ammō fought against Israel: 5. who pressing fore vpon them, the ancients of Galaad went to take Iephte out of the Lād of Tob to helpe thē: 6. & they sayd to him: Come & be our Prince, & fight against the children of Ammon. 7. To whom he answered: Are not you they that hated me, & cast me out of my fathers house, and now are come to me forced by necessitie. 8. And the Princes of Galaad said to Iephte: For this cause be we now (b) come to thee, that thou goe forth with vs, & fight against the children of Ammon, and be the Captaine of al that dwel in Galaad. 9. Iephte also said to them: If you be come to me sincerely, that I should fight for you against the children of Ammon, and if our Lord deliuer them into my hands, shal I be your Prince? 10. Who answered him: Our Lord which heareth these things, himſelfe is mediatur and witnes that we wil doe as we haue promised. 11. Iephte therfore went with the Princes of Galaad, and al the people made him their Prince. And Iephte spake al his words before our Lord in Maspha. 12. And he sent messengers to the King of the children of Ammon, which should say in his person: What is between me and thee, that thou art come against me, to wait my Land? 13. To whom he answered: Because Israel tooke my land, when he ascended out of Ægypt, from the coasts of Arnon vnto Iaboc and Iordā: now therfore with peace restore the same to me. 14. By whom Iephte againe sent word, and commanded them that they should say to the King of Ammō: 15. Thus saith Iephte: Israel did not take the Land of Moab, nor the Land of the childrē of Am-

(a) The Hebrew word zonah signifieth also an In:ceptor.

(b) If they had not concurred to his expulsion, it might haue sufficed to haue sent for him, but in this case the ancients iudged it meete to goe in person, & to intreat him. So Christ was reiected by the Iewes, & returneth not to the world they shal seeke vnto him. S. Aug. 49. in Iuatic. pef. medium.

(c) In the opinion of infidels, it seemed that thy possessed countries by the helpe of false Gods, & so they thought themselves to haue iust title. Much more iust is the title, when God Almighty giueth victorie of conquest.

S. Aug. 9. 48. in Iudic.

(d) He argueth vpon prescription of 300. yeares, being nere so much, for there wanted sca. cethirtie: being from the conquest made by Moses (Num. 21.) til the time of Iephthe about 270 yeares.

(d) This vow was vnlawful, for the law forbiddeth to offer man or woman in sacrifice. Exo. 34. v. 10. Deut. 12. v. 31.

mon: 16. but when they ascended out of Ægypt, he walked through the desert vnto the Red sea, and came into Cades. 17. And he sent messengers to the King of Edom, saying: Suffer me that I may passe through thy land. Who would not condescend to his requests. He sent also to the King of Moab; who also himself contemned to giue passage. He abode therefore in Cades, 18. and compassed the Land of Edom at the side, and the land of Moab: & came against the East quarter of the Land of Moab, & camped beyond Arnon: neither would he enter the bounds of Moab: for Arnon is the border of the Land of Moab. 19. Israel therefore sent messengers to Sehon the King of the Amorrheites, who dwelt in Hesebon, & they said to him: Suffer me to passe through thy land vnto the riuier. 20. Who also himself despising the words of Israel, suffered him not to passe through his borders: but gathering an infinite multitude went forth against him into Iasa, & resisted strongly. 21. And our Lord deliuered him into the hands of Israel with al his armie, & he struck him, & possessed al the Land of the Amorrheite the inhabiter of that countrie, 22. and al the coasts therof from Arnon vnto Iaboc, and from the wilderness vnto Iordan. 23. Our Lord therefore the God of Israel subuerted the Amorrheite, his people of Israel fighting against him, and wilt thou now possesse his land? 24. Are not those things which (c) Chamos thy God possessed, due to thee by right? But the things that our Lord God hath obteyned conquerour, shal come to our possessio: 25. vniesse perhaps thou be better thē Balac the sonne of Sephor the King of Moab: or canst thou shew, that he wrangled against Israel, and fought against him, 26. when he dwelt in Hesebon, & the litle townes therof, & in Aroer, & the townes therof, or in al the cities nere Iordan, for (a) three hundred yeares. Wherefore haue you so long attempted nothing for reclaime? 27. Therefore I doe not sinne against thee, but thou doest euil against me, donouncing me vniust warres. Our Lord be iudge the arbitcr of this day between Israel, and between the children of Ammon. 28. And the King of the children of Ammon would not harken to the words of Iephthe, which he sent him by the messengers. 29. Therefore the spirit of our Lord came vpon Iephthe, and circuiting Galaad, and Manasses, Maspha also of Galaad, and thence passing to the children of Ammon, 30. he vowed a vow to our Lord, saying: If thou wilt deliuer the children of Ammon into my hands, 31. (u) whosoeuer shal first come forth out of the doores of my house, and thal meet me returning with peace from the children of Ammon, him wil I offer an holocauste to our Lord. 32. And Iephthe passed to the children of Ammon, to fight against them: whom our Lord deliuered into his hands. 33. And he strucke from Aroer til thou come to Mcnith, twentie cities, and as farre as Abel, which is sette with vineyards, with a very great pleague. and the children of Ammon were humbled by the children of Israel. 34. But Iephthe returning into Maspha to his house, his onlie begotten daughter mette him with tymbrels and daunces. for he had not other children. 35. Whom when he saw, he rent his garments, and said: Woe is me my daughter, thou hast deceiued me, and thy self art deceiued: for I haue opened my mouth to our Lord, and I can doe no other thing. 36. To whom she answered: My father, if thou hast opened thy mouth to our Lord, doe vnto me whatsoeuer thou hast promised, the reuenge & victorie of thine enemies being granted to thee. 37. And she said to her father: This only grant me which I desire: Suffer me that two months I may goe about the mountaines, & (e) bewaile my virginie with my felowes. 38. To whom he answered: Goe. And he dismissed her two months. And when she was gone with her folowes and companions, she mourned her virginie in the mountaines. 39. And the two months being expired, she returned to her father, and he did to her as he had vowed, who knew not man. Thence-forth a fashion in Israel, and a custome was kept: 40. that after the compasse of a yeare the daughters of Israel assemble together, and moune the daughter of Iephte the Galaadite foure dayes.

(e) In the old testamēt marriage was ordinarily preferred before single life, but in the new it is better to keep virginity. 1. Cor. 7. v. 38.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. XI.

39. Did to her as he had vowed. Whether Iephte did wel or no in sacrificing his daughter, hauing vowed to offer in sacrifice whosoever (or whatsoeuer) should first meet him returning with victorie, as it hapned she did, is a great and hard question, saith S. Augustine (q. 49. in lib. Indic.) and not easily decided, the holie scripture neiher approving nor reprobuing his fact. Neuertheles by conference of other scriptures and discourse of reason, he iudgeth it most probable that Iephte offended in vowing without special warrant from God, to sacrifice, that which by the law was not sacrificable; yet sinned not in performing his vow, but rather pacified God therby, whose wil it seemed to be, that for punishment of his sinne he should sacrifice his daughter, because by his diuine prouidence she first met him: and the omission might rather haue been for his natural loue towards his onlie child, then for the vnlawfulness of the sacrifice: seeing it once pleased God to command Abraham to immolate his sonne Isaac, though when in came to execution, he forbade the same, appointing an other hoste in place of the child, which here he did not. Neither was it iniurious to the daughter, seeing she, as all mankinde, must once die when God appointeth. Yea further she offered her self freely (which seemed to be by Gods instinct) willing her father to doe to her whatsoeuer he had promised to God. This is the summe of S. Augustins large discourse. Likewise S. Ambrose (li. 3. de Officiis c. 12.) supposeth assuredly that this Prince Iephte offended in vowing vnaduisedly, for it also repented him, when his daughter first met him: yet that with goodlie feare and dread he performed to his owne bitter paine that which he had promised: instituting an anniuersarie lamentation of his daughter, for a warning to posteritie of more circumspection in making voves. S. Hierome also (li. 1. aduers. Iouinian.) approveth their opinion that say: It was Gods ordinance Iephte should feele the error of his vnaduised vow, by the death of his daughter, for a document to others. The very same teacheth S. Chrysostome (ho. 14. ad pop. Antioch.) that Iephte offended in vowing vndiscreetly but not in performing his vow, as ancient fathers thinke more probable.

S. Augustine.
S. Ambrose.

S. Hierome.

S. Chrysostome.

S. Gregorie
Nazianzen.

Theodoret.

Protestants
censure.

God would have this errour to be thus punished, that others might be warned from vowing the like. S. Gregorie Nazianzen (orat. de Machabeis) preferring the martyrdom of the seven brothers and their mother, before this sacrifice of Iephte as more advised and more honourable, yet condemneth not this, but recounteth it amongst other commendable actes. Theodoret (q. 19. in Iudic.) and all the aforesaid fathers doe highly commend the daughters promptnes in offering her self to be sacrificed, which either much extenuated her fathers fault, or wholly justified his fact. Thus the ancient fathers moderate their censures. Yet a new glosser of the English Bible without scruple sayth, that by his rash vow, and wicked performance, his vicorie was defaced: and againe, that he was overcome with blind zeale, not considering whether the vow was lawful or no.

Bible
1603.

C H A P. XII.

Ephraites rising against Iephte, fourtie thousand of them are slaine. 8. Abesan is Iudge. 11. After him Ahialon. 13. Then Abdon.

(a) That is, exposed my self to danger trusting to Gods helpe & myne owne hands, when others would not assist me.

(b) Iephte being of Manasses tribe, the Ephraites envied his glorie and calumniously objected that he & his followers were fugitives, so raised a tumult to their owne loue.

VT behold in Ephraim there arose a sedition. For they passing against the North, said to Iephte: Going to fight against the children of Ammon, why wouldst thou not call vs, that we might goe with thee? Therefore we will burne thy house. 2. To whom he answered: I and my people were at great strife against the children of Ammon: & I called you, that you should ayde me, and you would not doe it. 3. When I being (a) put my life in myne owne hands, and passed to the children of Ammon, and our Lord deliuered them into my hands. What haue I deserued, that you rise against me in battel. 4. Therefore all the men of Galaad being called to him, he fought against Ephraim: and the men of Galaad struck Ephraim, because he had said: (b) Galaad is a fugitiue of Ephraim, & dwelleth in the middes of Ephraim & Manasses. 5. And the Galaadites tooke the fords of Iordan, by the which Ephraim was to returne. And when there had come to the same one of the number of Ephraim, flying, and had said: I beseech you let me passe: The Galaadites said to him: Art thou not an Ephraite? Who saying: I am not: 6. they asked him: Say then Schibboleth, which is interpreted an eare of corne. Who answered, Sibboleth, not being able by the same letter to expresse, an eare of corne. And immediately being apprehended they killed him in the very passage of Iordan. And there fel at that time of Ephraim two and fourtie thousand. 7. Therefore Iephte the Galaadite iudged Israel six yeares: and he died, and was buried in his cite of Galaad. 8. After him Abesan of Betlehem iudged Israel: 9. who had thirtie sonnes, and as manie daughters, which he sending abrode,

abrode, gaue to husbands, and tooke wiues for his sonnes of the same number, bringing them into his house. Who iudged Israel seuen yeares: 10. and died and was buried in Bethlechem. 11. To whom succeeded Ahialon a Zabulonite: and he iudged Israel ten yeares: 12. and he died and was buried in Zabulon. 13. After him Abdon iudged Israel, the sonne of Illel a Pharathonite: 14. who had fourtie sonnes, and of them thirtie nephewes, mounting vpon seuentie asse coltes, and he iudged Israel eight yeares: 15. and he died, and was buried in Pharathon of the Land of Ephraim, in the mount of Amalec.

C H A P. XIII.

The people fall againe to idolatrie & are afflicted by the Philistines. 3. An Angel foretelleth Manue his wife, that she shall haue a sonne, & that he shall be a Nazareite from his birth. 11. Confirmeth the same to Manue. 16. They offer sacrifice to God. 24. The child is borne, called Samson, and blessed of God.

AND againe the children of Israel did euil in the sight of our Lord: who deliuered them into the hands of the Philistines fourtie yeares. 2. And there was a certaine man of Saraa, and of the stocke of Dan, named Manue, hauing a wife barren. 3. To whom an Angel of our Lord appeared, and said to her: Thou art barren and without children: but thou shalt conceive & beare a sonne: 4. beware therefore that thou ^(a) drinke not wine & sicer, nor eate any vncleane thing: 5. beause thou shalt cōceiue & beare a sonne, whose head the raser shall not touch: for he shall be a Nazareite of God, ^(b) from his infancie, and from his mothers wombe, and he shall beginne to deliuer Israel frō the hāds of the Philistines. 6. Who when he was come to her husband, said to him: A man of God came to me, hauing & Angelical countenance, exceeding terrible. Whom when I had asked, who he was, and whence he came, and by what name he was called, he would not tel me: 7. but this he answered: Behold thou shalt conceive and beare a sonne: beware thou drinke not wine nor sicer, and that thou eate not any vncleane thing: for the child shall be the Nazareite of God from his infancie, and from his mothers wombe vntil the day of his death. 8. Manue therefore prayed to our Lord, and said: I beseech thee, o Lord, that the man of God, whom thou didst send, may come againe, and teach vs what we ought to doe concerning the child that shall be borne. 9. And our Lord heard Manue praying, and the Angel of our Lord appeared againe to his wife sitting in the field, but Manue her husband was not with her. Who when she had seen the Angel, 10. hastned, and ranne to her husband: and she told him, saying:

^(a) Abstinence not only from things vncleane by the law, but also from wine and sicer, was a preparation to the child, who should abstaine from them all his life.

^(b) Other Nazareites obserued a prescript rule of abstinence for a time only. Num. 6 but Samson all his life: as a more perfect figure of Christ.

(a) Manue taking the Angel for a holie Prophet iustly thought he would not admit, nor command anie thing but that was lawfull. And so did as the Angel appointed him, though he was no Priest, nor the place proper to sacrifice, but by extraordinary dispensation. a) Though Manue saw not God in his owne person, yet seeing him in his messenger feared death. S. Aug. 9. 54. in Iudic.

Behold^u the man hath appeared to me, whom I saw before. 11. Who rose, and folowed his wife: and coming to the man, said to him: Art thou he that didst speake to the woman? And he answered: I am. 12. To whom Manue, when, sayd he, thy word shal be fulfilled, what wilt thou that the child doe? or from what shal he keepe himself? 13. And the Angel of our Lord said to Manue: From al things, which I haue spoken to thy wife, let him refraine himself: 14. and whatsoeuer groweth of the vineyard, let him not eate: wine and sicer let him not drinke, let him not eate any vncleane thing: and whatsoeuer I haue commanded her, let him fulfil and keepe. 15. And Manue said to the Angel of our Lord: I beseech thee that thou condescend to my petitions, and let vs (c) make to thee a kiddie of goats. 16. To whom the Angel answered: If thou constrain me, I wil not eate thy bread: but if thou wilt make holocaust, offer it to our Lord. And Manue knew not that it was an Angel of our Lord. 17. And he said to him: What is thy name, that, if thy word shal be fulfilled, we may honour thee? 18. To whom he answered: Why askest thou my name, which is meruelous? 19. Manue therefore took a kid of the goats: and the libaments, & put them vpon a rock, offering to our Lord, who doth meruelous things: & he and his wife looked on. 20. And when the flame of the altar ascended into heauen, the Angel of our Lord ascended together in the flame. Which when Manue and his wife had seen, they fel flat on the ground, 21. & the Angel of our Lord appeared to them no more. And forthwith Manue vnderstood that it was an Angel of our Lord, 22. and he said to his wife: Dying we shal die, because we haue seen (a) God. 23. To whom his wife answered: If our Lord would haue killed vs, he would not haue taken of our hands holocausts and libaments, neither would he haue shewed vs al these things, nor haue told vs these things that are to come. 24. She therefore bare a sonne, and called his name Samfon. And the child grew, and our Lord blessed him. 25. And the Spirit of our Lord began to be with him in the campe of Dan betwixt Saraa and Elthaol.

ANNOTATIONS.

CHAP. XIII.

Protestants either contradict them selves, or teach Arianisme.

10. The man hath appeared. Al ancient fathers and Catholike writers say, this was an Angel, which appeared in the forme of a man, and it is plaine by the text. Yet some Protestants wil haue this person to be Christ, the eternal word of God. Who afterwards became man. And neuertheles where by and by (v 16.) he admonisheth Manue to offer sacrifice to God, they note that he sought not his owne honour but Gods, whose messenger he was: either plainly contradicting themselves, or els teaching Arianisme, as though the Sonne of God were not God; or inferiour to God the Father.

Bible
1603.

C H A P. XIII.

Samfon desirous to marrie a Philisthime woman, 5. by the way killeth a lion. 8. In whose mouth after few dayes, finding honey, 12. he proposeth therof a riddle to the Philisthiims for a wager: 15. which reuealing to his wife, she telleth it to his aduersaries. 19. He killeth and spoyleth thirtie men, so payeth the wager: and his wife taketh an other man.

SAMSON therefore went downe into Thamnatha, and seeing there a woman of the daughters of the Philisthiims, 2. he went vp, and told his father and his mother, saying: I saw a woman in Thamnatha of the daughters of the Philisthiims: which I beseech you take for me to wife. 3. To whom his father and mother said: (a) Is there not a womā among the daughters of thy brethren, and in al my people, that thou wilt take a wife of the Philisthiims, which are vncircumcised? And Samfon said to his father: Take this for me: because the hath pleased mine eyes. 4. But his parents knew not that the thing was done of our Lord, & he sought an occasion against the Philisthiims, for at that time the Philisthiims had dominion ouer Israel. 5. Samfon therefore went downe with his father and mother into Thamnatha. And when they were come to the vineyards of the towne, there appeared a lions whelp cruel, and roaring, and met him. 6. And the Spirit of our Lord came vpon Samfon, and he tore the lion, as if he should teare a kid into pieces, hauing nothing at al in his hand: and this thing he would not tel to his father and mother. 7. And he went downe and spake to the woman, that had pleased his eies. 8. And after some dayes returning to take her, he went aside to see the carcasse of the lion, and behold there was a swarme of bees in the mouth of the lion, and a honie combe. 9. Which when he had taken in his hands, he did eate in the way: and comming to his father and mother, he gaue them part, who also themselues did eate: neither would he for al that tel them, that he had taken the honie from the bodie of the lion. 10. His father therefore went downe to the woman, and made his sonne Samfon a feast, for so yong men were accustomed to doe. 11. When the citizens therefore of that place had seen him, they gaue him thirtie companions to be with him. 12. To whom Samfon spake: I wil propose you a riddle, which if you thal solue me within the seuen dayes of the feast, I wil giue you thirtie iindones, and as many coats: 13. but if you thal not be able to solue it, you thal giue me thirtie iindones, and coats of the same number. Who answered him: Propound the riddle, that we may heare it. 14. And he said to them: Out of the eater came forth meat, and out of the strong issued forth sweetnes. neither could they for three dayes solue the proposition. 15. And when the seuenth day was come, they said to the wife of Samson: Speake to thy husband, and vse perswasion to him, that he tel thee what the riddle signifieth. Which thing (b) if thou wilt not doe, we wil burne thee, and thy fathers house: haue you therefore called vs to the bridal that you might spoyle vs? 16. Who shed teares before Samson, and complained saying: Thou hatest me, and louest me not: therefore the probleme, which thou hast propounded to the sonnes of my people, thou wilt not expound to me. But he answered: I would not tel it to my father and mother, and can I tel it to thee? 17. The seuen daies therefore of the feast she wept before him: and at the length the seuenth day for that she molested him he expounded it. Who immediately told her cuntry men. 18. And they told it him the seuenth day before the going downe of the sunne: What is sweeter then honie, and what stronger then a lyon? Who said to them: If you had not ploughed with my hayter, you had not found out my proposition. 19. The Spirit therefore of our Lord came vpon him, and he went downe to Ascalon, and stricke there thirtie men, whose garments being takē away he gaue to them, that had solued the probleme. And being exceeding wrath he went vp into his fathers house: 20. but his wife tooke a husband one of his friends and bridal companions.

(a) It was prohibited (Deut. 7. v. 3.) to make mariage with the Gentiles, but God sometimes dispensed: as here it appeareth he did. v. 4.

(a) By threats. they made her betray her husband: and neuertheless destroyed both her & her father. c. 15. v. 6. so persecutours of the Church deale with such, as traitorously or of frailtie serue their turne.

C H A P. X V.

Samson tying firebands to foxes tayles burneth the Philisthims corne. 6. They burne his wife and her father. 8. He beateth them and hideth himselfe. 10. His owne countrimen to get peace with the Philisthimes, take and bind him, so meaning to deliuer him. 14. But he breaketh the cordes, and with the iaw bone of an asse killeth a thousand of his enemies. 18. Being exceeding drie, is refreshed with water, from the tooth of the same iaw.

AND after a certaine time, when the dayes of wheate haruest were at hand, Samson came, meaning to visite his wife, and he brought her a kid of goats. And when he would enter into her chamber as he was wont, her father prohibited him, saying: 2. I thought that thou hadst hated her, and therefore I deliuered her to thy freind: but she hath a sister, which is yonger & fayrer then she, let this be thy wife in stead of her. 3. To whō Samson answered: From this day there shal be no fault in me against the Philisthims: for I wil doe you euils. 4. And he went, and (a) caught three hundred foxes, & he coupled them tayle to tayle, and tyed

(a) Being Iudge of the people he had helpe

firebrands

fyrebrands in the middes: 5. which kindling with fyre, he let them goe, that they might runne abroad hither and thither. Who immediately went on into the corne of the Philisthiims. Which being set on fire, both the corne now caried together, and that which yet stood in the stalke, was al burnt, in so much that the flame consumed the vineyards also & the oliuetes. 6. And the Philisthiims said: Who hath done this thing? To whom it was said: Samson the sonne in law of the Thamnatheite: because he tooke his wife, and gaue her to an other, he hath wrought these things. And the Philisthiims went vp, and burnt both the woman and her father. 7. To whom Samson said: Although you haue done these things, notwithstanding yet wil I require reuenge of you, & then I wil rest. 8. And he strucke them with a great plague, so that astonied they laid the calfe of the leg vpon the thigh. And going downe he dwelt in the caue of the rocke Etam. 9. Therefore the Philisthiims going vp into the Land of Iuda cāped in the place, which afterward was called Lechi, that is, the iaw bone, where their armie was spred abrode. 10. And they of the tribe of Iuda said to them: Why are you come vp against vs? Who answered: That we may bind Sāson, we are come, & may repay him the things that he hath wrought against vs. 11. There went downe therefore three thousand men of Iuda, to the caue of the flint Etam, & said to Sāson: knowest not thou that the Philisthiims reigne ouer vs? Why woudest thou doe this thing? To whom he said. As they did to me so haue I done to them. 12. To bind thee, quoth they, we are come, and to deliuer thee into the hands of thee Philisthiims. To whom Samson: Swear, quoth he, and promise me that you kil me not. 13. They said: We wil not kil thee, but wil deliuer thee bound. And they bound him with two new cordes, and took him from the rock Etam. 14. Who when he was come to the place of the Iaw-bone and the Philisthiims shouting were come against him, the Spirit of our Lord fel vpon him: and as flax is wont to be consumed at the saueur of fyre, so the bands wherwith he was bound were dissipated and loosed. 15. And finding a iawe bone, to wit, the iawe bone of an asse, which lay there, catching it (i) he slew therewith a thousand men, 16. and said: In the iaw bone of an asse, in the iaw of the colt of the asses haue I destroyed them, and haue strucke a thousand men. 17. And when he had ended these words singing he threw the iaw bone out of his hand, and called the name of that place Ramathlechi, which is interpreted the lifting vp of the iaw-bone. 18. And being very thirtie he cried to our Lord, & said: Thou hast giuen in the hand of thy seruant this very great saluation and victorie: and behold I die for thirst, and shal fal into the hands of the vncircumcised. 19. Our Lord therefore (i) opened a great tooth in the iawe of the asse, & there issued out of it waters. which being drunke, he refreshed his spirit, & receiued strength againe. Therefore the name of that place was called: The fountaine of him that inuocated from the iawbone, vntill this present day. 20. And he iudged Israel in the daies of the Philisthiims twentic years.

of others to take so manie foxes with nettes, or otherwise, being great store in that countrie.

b) A notorious miracle to kil so manie with so meane a weapon without other helpe of man: And by common reason as vncredibile, as the great mysteries of Catholike Religion.

(c) It was a greater miracle to draw water out of a drie bone, then out of the earth or stones: but all things are possible to God, which he pleaseth to doe.

C H A P. XVI.

Samfon enuironed in a citie taketh away the gates , and carieth them on his shoulders into a mountaine. 4. Is at last deceiued by Dalila , 21. his eyes put out , and scornefully abused. 26. But finally God restoring his strength , he striking two pillars, the house falleth , and with himself killeth three thousand Philisthims.

HE went also into Gaza , and saw there a woman that was * an harlot , and went in vnto her. 2. Which when the Philisthims had heard, and it was bruted among them , that Samfon was entred into the citie, they cōpassed him , keepers being fet in the gate of the citie:& there al the night wayting with silēce, that in the morning they might kil him going out. 3. But Samfon slept vntil midnight, and then arising

* or an Inkeeper.

(4) For such admirable strength the heathnish people thought Samfon to be Hercules. 5. Aug. li. 18. c. 19. cinis. But he was indeed farre stronger then they feyned of Hercules, who they said was not able to fight against two: whereas Samfon alone killed a thousand with the iaw bone of an asse. c. 15. v. 15.

he (4) tooke both the leaues of the gate, with their postes and locke, and laying them on his shoulders, caried them to the top of the mountaine, which looketh toward Hebron. 4. After these things he loued a woman, which dwelt in Valley Sorec, and she was called Dalila. 5. And the Princes of the Philisthims came to her, and said: Deceiue him, and learne of him, wherein he hath so great strength, and how we may be able to ouercome him, and being bound to afflict him: which if thou shalt doe, we wil giue thee euerie one a thousand and an hundred peces of siluer. 6. Dalila therefore spake to Samfon: Tel me, I beseech thee, wherein thy greatest strength is, and what it is wherewith being bound thou canst not breake forth. 7. To whom Samfon answered: It I shal be bound with seuen cords of sinewes not yet drie, and moyste as yet, I shal be weake as other men. 8. And the Princes of the Philisthimes brought vnto her seuen cords, as he had said: with the which she bound him, 9. ambushments lying secretly in wayte neer her, and in the chamber expecting the end of the thing, and she cried to him: The Philisthims vpon thee Samfon. Who brake the bands, as if a man should breake a thread of toe twyned with spittle, when it hath taken the fauour of fire: and it was not knowen wherein his strength was. 10. And Dalila said to him: Behold thou hast deluded me, and hast spoken false: now at the least tel me wherewith thou mayest be bound. 11. To whom he answered: If I shal be bound with new cords, that were neuer occupied, I shal be weake and like to other men. 12. With the which Dalila againe bound him, and cried: The Philisthimes vpon thee Samfon, ambushments being prepared in the chamber. Who did so breake the bands as threads of linnen cloth. 13. And Dalila said to him againe : How long deceiuest thou me , and speakest false ? Shew wherewith thou mayest be bound. To whom Samfon answered : If thou plat seuen haire of my head with a haire lase, & fasten a nayle tyed round about with them in the ground, I shal be weake. 14. Which when Dalila had done , she said to him : The Philisthiims vpon thee Samfon. Who ryng vp from sleepe drew out the nayle with the haire and the haire lase. 15. And Dalila said to him : How doest thou say that thou louest me , whereas thy mind is not with me ? These three times thou hast lied to me , and wouldest not tel wherein thy greatest strength is. 16. And when she molested him , and continually hong vpon him for many daies , not giuing him space to rest , his soule faynted , and was wearied euen vnto death. 17. Then opening the truth of the thing , he said to her : There neuer came yron vpon my head , because I am a Nazareite , that is to say , consecrated to God from my mothers womb : if my head shal be shauen, (b) my strength shal depart from me, and I shal fayle, and shal be as other men. 18. And she seeing that he had confessed to her al his minde, sent to the Princes of the Philisthiims and willed them : Come vp yet once more, for now he hath opened his hart to me. Who went vp taking with them the money which they had promised. 19. But she made him to sleep vpon her knees , and to lay his head in her bosome. And she called a barber , and shaued his seuen haire , and began to driue him away , and thrust him from her : for immediately the strength departed from him : 20. and she said : The Philisthiims vpon thee Samfon. Who aryng from sleepe , said in his mind : I wil goe forth as I did before , and wil thake my self, not knowing that our Lord was departed from him. 21. Whom when the Philisthiims had apprehended , forthwith they plucked forth his eies , and led him to Gaza bound with chaynes , and being shut vp in prison they made him grinde. 22. And now his haire had begun to grow againe , 23. and the Princes of the Philisthiims assembled in one, that they might immolate magnifical hostes to Dagon their God , and might feast , saying : Our God hath deliuered our enemie Samfon into our hands. 24. Which thing the people also seeing , prayed their God, & said the same things: Our God hath deliuered our aduersarie into our hands , who destroyed our countrie , and killed verie manie. 25. And reioycing throughout their bankets , when they had now taken their good cheere , they commanded that Samfon should be called , and should play before them. Who being brought out of prison played before them , and they made him to stand between two pillers. 26. Who said to the seruant that gouerned his steps : Suffer me to touch the pillers , on which al the house stayeth , and let me leane vpon them , and rest a litle. 27. And the house was ful of men and women , and there were al the Princes of the Philisthiims , also from the rooffe and higher part , about three thousand of both sexe beholding Samfon playing. 28. But he inuocating our Lord, said : Lord God remember me , and reitore now to me myne old

him

(b) Supernatural strength or grace departeth when any leaue the rule of their profession.

(c) He desired to be reuēged, not of rancour of mind but of zeale of iustice: And so al the elect and glorified Saints desire reuenge. Luc 18. v. 8. Apoc. 6. v. 10.

Strength my God, that I may (c) reuenge me of myne enemies, and for the losse of two eyes may receiue one reuenge. 29. And taking both the pillers, on which the house rested, and holding the one in his right hand, and the other in his left, 30. he said: " Let me die with the Philisthims. And the pillers being strongly shaken, the house fel vpon al the Princes, and the rest of the multitude that was there: and he killed manie moe dying, then before he had killed liuing. 31. And his brethren going downe and al his kindred, they tooke his bodie, and buried it betwixt Saraa and Esthaol in the sepulchre of his father Manue. and he iudged Israel twentie yeares.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. XVI.

Samson excused in killing himselfe with his enemies.

30. Let me die with the Philisthims.) Manie things doe iustifie Samsons fact in killing himselfe with the Philisthims. First, it appeareth by the miracle, that God directly and extraordinarily concurred by restoring in that moment his admirable strength, that he could pul downe two such pillers. And conformably we may gather, that God inspired his mind to attempt this fact, and so he erred not, but obeyed God herein, as S Augustine noteth li. 1. c. 21. & 26. de ciuit. Dei. Secondly, he was moued with zeale of Gods honour, hearing the Idolaters praise their false God Dagon. Thirdly, he had a good and pure intention to reuenge himselfe for Gods more glorie, praying to him for restauration of strength. Fourthly, he did not directly desire to kil himselfe, but to kil the Philisthims; though himselfe must also die with them. And in this act especially he was a figure of Christ, who chiefly by his death conquered his enemies.

Samso a figure of Christ.

C H A P. XVII.

Michas and his mother cause a grauen and molten idol to be made of siluer. 5. He maketh one of his sonnes Priest for the idol, 10. and for the same purpose hires also a Leuite.

The third part. Of certaine accidents which happened in the time of the Iudges.

(a) In Hebrew pesel umasselah. in Latin sculpibile & conflagabile, a grauen & molten thing, an image or forme made in mettles for a God, & so

HERE was at that time a certaine man of mount Ephraim named Michas, 2. who said to his mother: The thousand and hundred siluer pieces, which thou hadst separated to thy selfe, and concerning the which thou didst sweare in my hearing, behold I haue, and they are with me. To whom she said: Blessed be my sonne to the Lord. 3. He therefore rendred them to his mother, who had said to him: I haue consecrated and vowed this siluer to the Lord, that my sonne may receiue it of my hand, & make a grauen and (a) a molten (God) & now I deliuer that to thee. 4. He rendred thē therefore to his mother: who tooke two hundred siluer peces and gaue them to the siluersmith, that he might make of them a grauen and a molten (God) which was in the house of Michas. 5. Who separated also therein a litle house to the God, and made an Ephod, and Theraphim, that is to say, a Priestlie vestiment, and idols: and he (b) filled the hand of one of his sonnes, and he became his Priest. 6. In those daies there was not a King in Israel, but euerie one did that which seemed right to himself. 7. There was also an other yong man of Bethlehem Iuda, of the kinred therof: & he was a Leuite, and dwelt there. 8. And going forth out of the citie of Bethlehem, he would seiourne wherefoeuer he should find it commodious for him. And when he was come into mount Ephraim, making his journey, and had turned aside a litle into the house of Michas, 9. he was demanded of him whence he came. Who answered: I am a Leuite of Bethlehem Iuda, and I goe to dwel where I shal be able, and thal percciue it to be profitable for me. 10. And Michas said: Abide with me, and be to me a father and a Priest, and I wil giue thee euerie yeare ten siluer pieces, and a double liuerie, and the things that be necessarie for victual. 11. He was content, and abode with the man, and was vnto him as one of his sonnes. 12. And Michas filled his hand, and had the yong man for a Priest with him, saying: 13. Now I know that God wil doe me good (c) hauing a Priest of the Leuitical kind.

C H A P. XVIII.

First sending spies to discouer, 11. six hundred armed men of the tribe of Dan goe to seeke possessions. 14. By the way they take the idol and idolatrical Priest from Michas, 27. surprise the towne of Lais, 30. and there set vp idolatrie.

N those dayes there was not a King in Israel, and the tribe of Dan sought possession for it-selfe, that it might dwel therein: for vntil that day it had (a) not receiued a lot among the other tribes. 2. Therefore the children of Dan sent fise men of their stocke and familie most valiant from Saraa and Esthaol, that they might view the land, and diligently behold it, and they said to them: Goe, and consider the land. Who going forward when they ware come into mount Ephraim, and had entred into the house of Michas, they rested there: 3. and knowing the voice of the yong man the Leuite, and vsing his lodging, they said to him: Who brought thee hither? What doest thou here? For what cause wouldest thou come hither? 4. Who answered them: These, and these things hath Michas done to me, & hath hyred me for wages to be his Priest. 5. And called v. 5. was indeed an idol of Gentilitie, and nothing at all against sacred Images of Christ and his Saints in the Church. whereof more is noted Gen. 31.

Exod. 20.

(b) Anointed his hands with oyle, as was prescribed

Exo. 29. Leu. 8.

But such an apostish imitation was of no value, where was neither true vocation in the annointed

(for he descended not of Aaron, but of Moyfes, chap. 18. v. 30.) nor authoritie in him that vsed this ceremony.

(c) An Apostata Leuite was accounted more sufficient then an idolatrical Priest to serue an idol: so he that is a Priest or a Deacon once catholically consecrated, is a sufficient

(yea too sufficient) minister with Protestants.

(d) Their whole portio was assigned (Ios. 17.)

but through their owne slooth they possessed litle of it, so that hitherto the greatest part was not received.

(b) They ment the false God which the Apostata Leuite serued.

(c) The diuel answered, as his manner is, obscurely, sometimes truly and sometimes falsely.

they desired him that he would consult (b) the Lord, that they might know whether they should goe on a prosperous iourney, and the thing should haue effect. 6. (c) Who answered them: Goe in peace: The Lord regardeth your way, and the iourney that you goe. 7. The five men therefore going came to Lais, & they saw the people dwelling in it without any feare, according to the custome of the Sidoniās, secure and quiet, no man at al resisting them, & of great riches, & separated farre frō Sidon & frō al men. 8. And returning to their brethren in Saraa & Estaol, and asking what they had done, they answered them: 9. Arise, & let vs goe vp to thē: for we haue seen the Lād exceeding rich & plentiful: neglect not, slacke not: let vs goe, & possesse it, it wil be no labour. 10. We thal enter vnto them being secure, into a most large cuntry, & our Lord wil deliuer to vs the place, wherein is penurie of nothing of those things that grow on the earth. 11. There departed therefore from the kindred of Dan, that is to say, from Saraa and Estaol six hundred men, furnished with warlike armour, 12. and going vp they taried in Cariathiarim of Iuda: which place frō that time tooke the name of the Tentcs of Dan, and it is at the backe of Cariathiarim: 13. Thēce they passed into mount Ephraim. And when they were come to the house of Michas, 14. the five men, that before had been sent to view the Land of Lais, said to the rest of their brethren: You know that in these houses there is an Ephod, and Theraphim, and a grauen, and molten God: See what pleaseth you. 15. And when they had turned a litle aside, they entred into the house of the yong man the Leuite, which was in the house of Michas: and saluted him with peaceable words. 16. And the six hundred men so as they were armed, stode before the doore. 17. But they, that were entred the house of the yong man, endeauoured to take away the grauen, the Ephod, and the idols, and molten God, and the Priest stood before the doore, the six hundred most valiant men expecting not farre off. 18. They therefore that were entred tooke the grauen, the Ephod, the theraphim and molten God. To whom the Priest said: What doe you? 19. To whom they answered: Hold thy peace, and put thy finger vpon thy mouth and come with vs, that we may haue thee for a father, and a Priest. Whether is better for thee, that thou be a Priest in the house of one man, or in one tribe and familie in Israel? 20. Which when he had heard, he agreed to their words, and tooke the Ephod, and idols, and grauen God, & departed with them. 21. Who when they went forward, & had made the children and the cattel to goe before them, and al that was precious, 22. and were nōw farre from the house of Michas, the men that dwelit in the house of Michas crying out together folowed, 23. and at their backe began to shout. Who looking backe, said to Michas: What meanest thou? Why doest thou crie? 24. Who answered: My Gods, which I made me, you haue taken away, & the Priest, and al that I haue, and doe you say: What aileth thee? 25. And the children of Dan said to him: Beware thou speake no more vnto vs, and there come vnto thee men prouoked in mind, and thou with al thy house peri. n. 26. And so they went on their iourney begun. But Michas seeing that they were stronger then he, returned into his house. 27. And the six hundred men tooke the Priest, and the things which we spake of before, and came into Lais to a people that was quiet and secure, and stricke them in the edge of the sword: and the citie they deliuered to fire, 28. no man at al bringing them succour, for that they dwelt farre from Sidon, and had with no men anie societie and affayres. And the citie was situated in the countrie of Rohob: which building agayne they dwelt in it, 29. calling the name of the citie Dan, according to the name of their father, whom Israel had begotten, which before was called Lais. 30. And they set vp to themselues the (d) grauen idol, and Jonathan the sonne of Gersam the sonne of Moyses, and his sonnes Priests in the tribe of Dan, vntil the day of their captiuitie. 31. And the idol of Michas remayned with them al the time that the house of God was in Silo. In those daies there was not a King in Israel.

d) Pesel, idolom, sculpture, the grauen thing, falsly called God, e. 17. v. 5.

C H A P. XIX.

A Leuite bringing homeward his reconciled wife, 15. at Gabaa in the tribe of Benjamin hardly getteth lodging. 25. His wife is there vilanously abused by wicked men, and in the morning found dead. 29. Whereupon her husband curreth her bodie, and sendeth pieces to euerie tribe of Israel, requiring them to reuenge the wicked fact.

HERE was a certaine man a Leuite, dwelling on the side of mount Ephraim, who tooke a wife of Bethlechem Iuda: 2. which left him, and returned vnto her fathers house into Bethlechem, & abode with him foure months. 3. And her husband folowed her, willing to be reconciled vnto her, & to speake her fayre, & to bring her backe with him, hauing in his companie a seruant and two asses: who receiued him, & brought him into her fathers house. Which when his father in law had heard, and had seen him, he met him ioyful, 4. and embraced the man. And the sonne in law taried in the house of his father in law three daies, eating with him and drinking familiarly. 5. But the fourth day arying before day, he would depart. Whom his father in law held, and said to him: Tast first a litle bread, & strengthen thy stomacke, and so thou shalt depart. 6. And they sate together, & did eate & drinke. And the father of the yong woman said to his sonne in law: I beseech thee that thou tarie here to day, and let vs make merie together. 7. But he rying vp, began as if he would depart. And neuertheles with much adoe his father in law stayed him, and made him to tarie with him. 8. But when morning was come, the Leuite prepared to goe his iourney. To whom his father in law againe: I beseech thee, quoth he, that thou take a litle meate, and making thy self strong, til the day be farther spent, afterward thou mayest depart. They did eate therefore together. 9. And the yong man arose, that he might set forward with his wife and his seruant. To whom his father in law spake againe: Consider that the day is more declining to the west, and draweth nigh to euening: tarie with me to day also, and spend the day in mirth, and to morrow thou shalt depart that thou mayst goe into thy house. 10. His sonne in law would not condescend to his words: but forthwith went forward, and came ouer against Iebus, which by an other name is called Ierusalem, leading with him two asses laden, and his (4) concubine. 11. And now they were come nigh to Iebus & the day changed into night: & the seruant said to his master: Come, I beseech thee, let vs turne into the citie of the Iebuseites, and tarie in it. 12. To whom his master answered: I wil not enter into the towne of a strange nation, which is not of the children of Israel, but I wil passe as farre as Gabaa: 13. and when I shal come thither, we wil lodge in it, or at the least in the citie of Rama. 14. They passed therefore by Iebus, and went on their iourney begun, and the sonne went downe to them beside Gabaa, which is in the tribe of Benjamin: 15. and they turned into it, that they might lodge there. Whither when they were entred, they sate in the street of the citie, and no man would receiue them to lodge. 16. And behold there appeared an old man, returning out of the field and from his worke in the euening, who himself also was of mount Ephraim, and dwelt as a stranger in Gabaa; but the men of that countrie were the children of Iemini. 17. And lifting vp his eies, the old man saw the man sitting with his fardels in that street of the citie, and said to him: Whence comest thou? and whither goest thou? 18. Who answered him: We departed from Bethlehem Iuda, and we goe to our place, which is on the side of mount Ephraim, from whence we went into Bethlehem: and now we goe to the house of God, and none wil receiue vs vnder his rooffe, 19. hauing straw and hay for prouender of the asses, and bread and wine for the vse of my self and of thy handmaid, and of the seruant that is with me: we lacke nothing but lodging. 20. To whom the old man answered: Peace be with thee, I wil giue al things that are necessarie: only, I beseech thee, tarie not in the street. 21. And he brought him into his house, and gaue prouender to his asses: and after they had washed their feet, he receiued them to a banquet. 22. They making merie, and after the labour of their iourney refreshing their bodie with meate & drinke, there came men of that citie, the children of Belial (that is to say, without yoke) and besetting the old mans house, began to knock at the doores, crying to the master of the house, & saying: Bring forth the mā, that entred into thy house, that we may abuse him. 23. And the old man wēt out to them, and said: Doe not so brethré, doe not this

(4) She was his lawful wife and so called v. 1. & 9. yet also is called concubine because she had no dawrie, nor as yet enjoyed the priuiledges of a mitris in her husbands house.

euil : because this man is entred to my lodging , and cease from this folie : 24. I haue a daughter that is a virgin , & this man hath a concubine , I wil bring them forth to you , that you may humble them , and fulfil your lust : only , I beseech you , worke not this wickednes against nature on the man. 25. They would not agree to his wordes. Which the man seeing , he brought forth his concubine to them , and he deliuered her to them to be illuded : whom when they had abused al the night , they let her goe in the morning. 26. But the woman , when the darkenes departed , came to the doore of the house , where her Lord lodged , & there fel downe. 27. Morning being come , the man arose , & opened the doore , that he might finish his iourney begun : & behold his concubine lay before the doore , her hands spred on the threshold. 28. To whom he , thinking that she tooke her rest , spake : Arise , and let vs walke. Who answering nothing , perceiuing hat she was dead , he tooke her , & laid her vpon his asse , & returned into his house. 29. Which whē he was entred vnto , he tooke af word , and cutting the carcasse of his wife with her bones into twelue parts and pieces , he sent them into al the borders of Israel. 30. Which when euerie one had seen , they cried together : There was neuer such a thing done in Israel from that day , when our fathers ascended out of Ægypt , vntil this present time : giue sentence , and decree in common what is needful to be done.

 C H A P. XX.

Al the other tribes fighting against Benjamin , 13. because they wil not punish the malefactours , 21. haue the worse , 25. also the second time. 29. But the third time the Beniamites are al slaine sauing six hundred men.

THEREFORE al the children of Israel went forth , and were gathered together , as it were one man , from Dan to Bersabee , and the Land of Galaad , to our Lord in Maspha : 2. and al the corners of the people , and al the tribes of Israel assembled into the Church of the people of God foure hundred thousand footmē warriors. 3. (Neither were the children of Benjamin ignorāt that the childrē of Israel were come vp into Maspha.) And the Leuite the husband of the woman that was killed being asked , how so great wickednes had been cōmitted , 4. answered : I came into Gabaa of Benjamin with my wife , & there I tooke my lodging : 5. & behold the men of that citie by night beset the house wherein I tarried , meaning to kil me , and vexing my wife with incredible furie of lust , finally she died. 6. Whom being taken I did cut into pieces , and sent the parts into al the borders of your possession : because neuer was there so heinous an offense , and so great an abomination done in Israel. 7. You are al present the children of Israel , determine what you ought to doe. 8. And al the people standing, answered as it were by the word of one man: we wil not depart into our tabernacles, neither shal any man enter into his house: 9. but this wil we doe in common against Gabaa. 10. Let ten men be chosen of an hundred out of al the tribes of Israel, and an hundred of a thousand, and a thousand of ten thousand, to bring victuals for the armie, and that we may fight against Gabaa of Benjamin, and render to it for the wicked fact, which it deserueth. 11. And al Israel assembled to the citie, as it were one man with one minde, and one counsel: 12. and they sent messengers to al the tribe of Benjamin, which should say: Why is there so great abomination found in you? 13. Deliuer the men of Gabaa, that haue committed this heinous fact, (a) that they may die, and the euil may be taken away out of Israel. Who would not heare the cōmandment of their brethren the children of Israel: 14. but out of al cities, which were of their lot, they assembled into Gabaa, to ayde them, and to fight against al the people of Israel. 15. And there were found five and twentie thousand of Benjamin of them that drew sword, beside the inhabitants of Gabaa, 16. which were seuen hundred most valiant men, so fighting with the left hand as with the right: and so directly casting stones with slings, that they could strike a haire also, and the stroke of the stone should not be carried awry on either part. 17. Of the men of Israel also, beside the children of Benjamin, were found foure hundred thousande of them that drew swords, and were prepared to fight. 18. Who rising came into the house of God, that is, into Silo: and they consulted God, and said: Who shal be in our armie General of the battel against the children of Benjamin? To whom our Lord answered: Let (v) Iudas be your captaine. 19. And forthwith the children of Israel arysing in the morning, camped beside Gabaa: 20. and thence proceeding to fight against Benjamin, began to assault the citie. 21. And the children of Benjamin issuing out of Gabaa, slew of the children of Israel that day two and twentie thousand men. 22. Agayne Israel hauing confidence (u) in their strength and number, set the armie in aray in the same place, wherein they had fought before: 23. yet so that they did first goe vp and weep before our Lord vntil night: and consulted him, and said: Shal I proceed any more to fight against the children of Benjamin my brethren, or not? To whom he answered: (d) Goe vp to them, and enter battel. 24. And when the children of Israel the next day had proceeded against the children of Benjamin to battel, 25. the children of Benjamin brake forth out of the gates of Gabaa: and meeting them they raged with so great a slaughter against them, that they ouerthrew eighteen thousand men that drew sword. 26. For the which thing al the children of Israel came into the house of God, and sitting wept before our Lord: and they fasted that day vntil euening, and offered to him holocaults, and pacifike victims, 27. and asked him concerning their state. At that time the arke of the couenant of our Lord was there, 28. and (e) Phinees the sonne of

(a) Omission & contempt to punish hainous crimes is a iust cause to make warre against any people.

(b) One of the tribe of Iuda.

(c) Being farre more in number, and hauing the iust cause, yet had the worse, because they trusted in their owne strength.

(d) God also punished al Israel by this ciuil warre, for suffering idolatrie in the tribe of Dan. Chap. 18. v. 30. which they ought to haue punished. Deut. 13. v. 12.

(e) By this it appeareth that this historie happened not long after the death of Eleazarus. Ios. 24. v. 13. to whom his sonne Phinees succeeded in the spiritual Supremacie of the Church.

Eleazarus the sonne of Aaron prouost of the house. They therefore consulted our Lord, and said: Shal we goe forth any more to fight against the children of Benjamin our brethren, or rest? To whom our Lord said: Goe vp, for to morrow I wil deliuer the into your hands. 29. And the children of Israel set ambushments round about the citie of Gabaa: 30. & the third time, as once & twice, they brought forth their armie against Benjamin. 31. But the childre of Benjamin also issued forth boldly out of the citie, & pursued a long way the aduersaries flying, so that they wounded of the, as the first day & the second, & slew them turning their backs by two wayes, wherof the one wēt into Bethel, & the other into Gabaa, and ouerthrew about thirtie men: 32. for they thought to kil them after their accustomed manner. Who feyning artificially as though they fled, tooke aduise to draw them away frō the citie, & as it were flying to bring them to the pathes afore sayd. 33. Therefore al the children of Israel ryling out of their seats, set their armie in battel aray, in the place which is called Baalthamar. The ambushments also, which were about the citie, began by litle & litle to open themselues, 34. & to proceed from the West part of the citie. Yea and other ten thousand men of al Israel prouoked the inhabitants of the citie to skirmishes. And the battel grew sore against the children of Benjamin: & they vnderstood not that on euerie side destruction hang ouer them. 35. And our Lord struck them in the sight of the children of Israel, & they slew of them in that day five and twestie thousand, and an hundred men, al warryers and that drew sword. 36. But the children of Benjamin when they saw themselues to be inferiour, began to flye. Which the children of Israel seeing, gaue them place to fly, that they might come to the ambushments prepared, which they had set neere the citie. 37. Who when they had sodenly risen out of their dennes, and Benjamin turned their backs to the sleaers, they entered the citie, and strucke it in the edge of the sword. 38. And the children of Israel had giuen a signe to them, whom they had laid in the ambushments, that after they had taken the citie, they should kindle a fire: that the smoke ascending on high, they might shew that the citie was taken. 39. Which when the children of Israel saw being in the verie fight (for the children of Benjamin thought that they fled, and pursued more instantly, hauing slaine thirtie men of their armie) 40. and they saw as it were a pillar of smoke to rise vp from the citie: Benjamin also looking backe, when he saw the citie taken, and the flames caried on high: 41. they that before had feyned as if they fled, turning their face resisted more manfully. Which when the children of Benjamin had seen, they were turned into flight, 42. and began to goe the way of the desert, the aduersaries pursuing them thither also. But they also that had fyred the citie, met them. 43. And so it came to passe, that on both sides they were slaine of the enemies, neither was there any rest of men dying. They fel, & were ouerthrowen on the east side of the citie of Gabaa. 44. And there were that were slaine in the same place, eighteen thousand men al most valiant warrÿers. 45. Which when they had seen, that were remaying of Benjamin, they fled into the wildernes, and went on to the rocke, the name wherof is Remmon. In that flight also stragling, and going diuers waies, they slew fïue thousand men. And whereas they went farder, they pursued them, and slew also other two thousand. 46. And so it came to passe, that al which were slaine of Benjamin in diuerse places, were fïue and twentie thousand one hundred fighting men, most prompt to warres. 47. There remayned therfore of al the number of Benjamin that could escape, and fly into the wildernes, six hundred men: and they abode in the Rocke Remmon foure months. 48. But the children of Israel retyring, struck al the remains of the citie with the sword, from men euen to beasts, and al the cities and villages of Benjamin the deuouring flame did consume.

C H A P. XXI.

The tribe of Benjamin is repayed 8. by foure hundred virgins reserued in the slaughter of Iabes Galaad: 19. and by other virgins taken, that come forth of Silo to daunce.

THE children of Israel sware also in Maspha, and said: None of vs shal giue of his daughters to the children of Benjamin to wife. 2. And they came al to the house of God in Silo, and sitting in his sight vntil euening, lifted vp their voice, & with great wayling began to weep saying: 3. Wherefore, o Lord God of Israel, is this euil done in thy people, that this day one tribe should be taken away out of vs? 4. And on the morrow rising early, they built an altar: and offered there holocausts, and pacifike victimes, and said: 5. Who hath not ascended in the hoste of our Lord of al the tribes of Israel? For they had bound themselues with a great othe, when they were in Maspha, they should be slayne which had been wanting. 6. And the children of Israel being (a) moued with repentance vpon their brother Benjamin, began to say: One tribe is taken away out of Israel, 7. whence shal they take wiues? For we haue al sworne in common, that we wil not giue our daughters to them. 8. Therefore they said: Who is there of al the tribes of Israel, that went not vp to our Lord into Maspha? And behold the inhabitants of Iabes Galaad were found not to haue been in that armie. (9. At that time also when they were in Silo, none of them was found there.) 10. They sent therfore ten thousand the strongest men, and commanded them: Goe, and strike the inhabitants of Iabes Galaad in the edge of the sword, as wel their wiues as their litle ones. 11. And this shal be it which you shal obserue : Al of the male kinde , and women that haue knowen men , kil ye , but the virgins reserue. 12. And there were found of Iabes Galaad foure hundred virgins, that knew not mans bed, and they brought them to the campe in Silo, into the Land of Chanaan. 13. And they sent messengers to the children of Beniamin , that were in the Rocke Remmon, & cōmāded them that they should receiue them in peace. 14. And the children of Beniamin came at that time, and there were giuen vnto them wiues of the daughters of Iabes Galaad : but others they found not , which they might giue them in like manner. 15. And al Israel was very sorie , and repented for the killing of one tribe out of Israel. 16. And the ancients said : What shal we doe to the rest , that haue not taken wiues ? For al the women in Beniamin are dead. 17. And we must very carefully , and with great studie prouide, that one tribe be not destroyed out of Israel. 18. For our owne daughters we can not giue them, being bound with an oath & a curse, wherby we said: Cursed be he that shal giue to Beniamin any of his daughters to wife. 19. And they tooke counsaile, and said : Behold there is an anniuersarie solemnitie of our Lord in Silo , which is situate on the North of the citie of Bethel, on the East side of the way , that goeth frō Bethel to Sichē, & on the South of the towne of Lebona. 20. And they cōmāded the children of Beniamin and said : Goe, and lie hidde in the vineyards. 21. And when you shal see the daughters of Silo come forth after the māner to lead daunces, issue forth sodainly out of the vineyards, & catch of them euerie one his wife, and goe into the Land of Beniamin. 22. And when their fathers shal come , and their brethren , and shal begin to complaine against you , and to chide, we wil say to them : Haue pitie on them : for they tooke them not away by the right of warryers and conquerours , but when they desired to receiue them , you gaue them not, and on your part the fault was committed. 23. And the children of Beniamin did as it had been commanded them : and according to their number they tooke away to themselues of those that ledde the daunces, euerie one his wife : and they went into their possession , building cities , and dwelling in them. 24. The children of Israel also returned by their tribes and families into their tabernacles. In those daies there was not a King in Israel: but euerie one did that (b) which seemed right to himselfe.

(a) Lest either iustice be ouer sharpe, or mercie too relaxe, with great art of discretion gouernours must obserue mercie iustly admising, and discipline piously chastising. S. Greg. li. 1. Epist. 24.

(b) In the time of the Iudges the people presumed more to doe that seemed to themselves right, or good, though it was nought; which afterwards the Kings more restrained and punished.

THE ARGUMENT OF THE BOOK OF RUTH.

The historie of Ruth is registred in holic Scripture, for the genealogie of Dauid, and especially of our Sauour Christ.

AMONGST other things that happened to the people of Israel, in the time of the Iudges, this historie of Ruth, to wit, her coming from Moab, her conuersion to true Religion, godlie conuersation, and marriage with Booz of the tribe of Iuda, is recorded, as a more principal matter. For that not onlie King Dauid, but consequently also our SAVIOUR, the Redeemer of mankind descended from her. Wherby was foresignified, that as saluation thus proceeded from the Gentiles together with the Iewes: so the Gentiles are made partakers of the same grace. More cleerly prophesied, as S. Hierome noteth, by Isaie (cap. 16.) saying: SEND FORTH, O LORD, THE LAMBE, THE RULER OF THE EARTH, FROM THE ROCK OF THE DESERT TO THE MOVNT OF THE DAUGHTER OF SION: That is, from Ruth the gentile, to Hierusalem, or rather to the Church. This marriage of Ruth came to passe about the time of Abesau Iudge. The booke was written, as is most probable, by Samuel: and is diuided into foure chapters; whose contents folow in their places.

Iudic.
12.

THE BOOK OF RUTH.

CHAP. I.

By occasion of famine Elimelech of Bethleem going with his wife Noemi, and two sonnes, into the Land of Moab, there dieth. 4. His sonnes marrie wiues of that countrie, and die without issue. 6. Noemi returning homewards hardly perswadeth one of her daughters in law to part from her. 15. The other, called Ruth, wil needs goe with her, professing the same God and Religion. 19. So these two arrive in Bethleem.

N the dayes of one Iudge, when the Iudges ruled, there came a famine in the Land. And there went a man of Bethleem Iuda to seiourne in the land of Moab, with his wife and two children. 2. Himself was called Elimelech, and his wife Noemi: and his two sonnes, the one Mahalon, and the other Chelion, Ephraites of Bethleem Iuda. And entring into the countrie of Moab, they abode there. 3. And Elimelech the husband of Noemi died: and she remained with her sonnes. 4. Who tooke wiues of the Moabites, of the which one was called Orpha, and the other Ruth. And they abode there ten yeares, 5. and both died, to wit, Mahalon and Chelion: and the woman remayned destitute of her two children & her husband. 6. And she arose to goe into her countrie with both her daughters in law from the countrie of Moab: for she had heard that our Lord had respected his people, & had giuen them victuals. 7. She therefore went forth from the place of her peregrination, with both her daughters in law : and being now set in the way to returne into the Land of Iuda,

 8. she said to them : Goe into your mothers house, our Lord doe mercie with you, as you haue done with the dead and with me. 9. Grant he vnto you to find rest in the houses of your husbands, which you shal take. And she kissed them. Who lifting vp their voice began to weepe, 10. & to say : We wil goe on with thee to thy people. 11. To whom she answered: Returne my daughters, why come you with me? shal I haue sonnes any more in my wombe, that you may hope for husbands of me? 12. Returne my daughters, and goe your wayes: for I am now spent with old age, and not fit for wedlocke. Although I might conceiue this night, and beare children, 13. if you would expect til they grow, and be of mans age, you shal be old women before you marrie. Doe not so my daughters, I beseech you: for your distresse doth the more grieue me, & the hand of our Lord is come forth against me. 14. Therefore lifting vp their voice they began to weep agayne : Orpha kissed her mother in law, and returned : Ruth cleaued to her mother in law, 15. to whom Noemi said: Behold thy kinswoman is returned to her people, and (a) to her Gods, goe with her. 16. Who answered: Be not against me, to the end that I should leaue thee and depart : for whither soeuer thou shalt goe, I wil goe: and where thou shalt abide, I also wil abide. Thy people my people, and thy God my God. 17. The land that shal receiue thee dying, in the same wil I die : and there wil I take a place for my burial. These things doe God to me, & these things adde he, if death onlie shal not separate me and thee. 18. Noemi therefore seeing that Ruth with a steadfast mind had determined to goe forward with her, would not be against it, nor persuaide her any more to returne to her freinds: 19. and they went forth together, and came into Bethlehem. Who being entred into the citie, a brute was quickly spread among them : and the women said: This is that Noemi. 20. To whom she said: Cal me not Noemi (that it to say, beautiful) but cal me Mara (that is to say, bitter) because with bitterness hath the Almighty very much replenished me. 21. I went forth (b) full, and our Lord hath brought me backe empty. Why therefore doe you cal me Noemi whom our Lord hath humbled, and the Almighty hath afflicted? 22. Noemi therefore came with Ruth the Moabite her daughter in law, from the Land of her peregrination : and returned into Bethlehem, when barley was first reaped.

(a) Noemi perswaded not to idolatry, but insinuated that if Ruth would not returne to her countrie, she must also leaue the false Gods. And so she answered, that she would serue the same true God of Israel.

(b) She had a husband and two sonnes, & sufficient provision, but now was bereaued of them all.

C H A P. I I.

Ruth gathering eares of corne in Booz field, 8. he kindly biddeth her tarie with his seruants. 17. At night she returneth carrying good quantitie of corne, and part of the meate, which they gaue her, to her mother in law.

AND Elimelech her husband had a cosin, a mightie man and of great riches, named Booz. 2. And Ruth the Moabite said to her mother in law: If thou command, I wil goe into the field, and gather the eares of corne, that shal escape the hands of the reapers, where soeuer I shal find the grace of the father of the house fauourable towards me. To whom she answered: Goe my daughter. 3. She went therefore & gathered the eares of corne after the backes of the reapers. And it chanced that the owner of the same field was Booz, who was of the kinred of Elimelech. 4. And behold, he came out of Bethlehem, and said to the reapers: (a) Our Lord be with you. Who answered him: Our Lord blesse thee. 5. And Booz said to the yong man that was ouerseer of the reapers: Whose maide is this? 6. To whō he answered: This is that Moabite, which came with Noemi frō the countric of Moab, 7. and she desired that she might gather the eares of corne that remayne, following the steppes of the reapers: and from morning vntil now she stayeth in the field, and not so much as for a very moment hath she returned home. 8. And Booz said to Ruth: Heare me daughter, goe not into an other field to gather, neither depart thou from this place: but ioyne thy selfe to my maids, 9. & where they haue reaped, follow. For I haue commanded my seruants, that no man molest thee: but if thou shalt thirst also, goe to the fardels, and drinke the waters, wherof the seruants also doe drinke. 10. Who falling on her face and adoring vpon the ground, said to him: Whence cometh this to me, that I should find grace before thine eies, and that thou wouldest vouchsafe to know me a strange woman? 11. To whom he answered: Al things haue been told me, which thou hast done to thy mother in law after the death of thy husband: and that thou left thy parents, and the land wherin thou wast borne, and art come to a people, which before thou knewest not. 12. Our Lord (b) render vnto thee for thy worke, and God grant thou mayest receiue (c) a ful reward of our Lord the God of Israel, to whom thou art come, & vnder whose wings thou art fled. 13. Who said: I haue found grace in thine eies my Lord, which hast comforted me, and hast spoken to the hart of thy handmaid, which am not like to one of thy maids. 14. And Booz said to her: When the houre shal come to eate, come hither, and eate bread, and dip thy morsel in the vinegre. She therefore sate at the side of the

(a) The Church vseth this salutation in the holie sacrifice & other diuine office,

(b) Booz doubted not but reward was due to good workes.

(c) Yea a ful reward, answerable to Ruths pietie: Which must be spiritual & eternal.

reapers,

reapers, and she heaped to her selfe polent, and did eate and was filled, & tooke the leauings. 15. And from thence she arose to glean the eares of corne after her manner. And Booz commanded his seruants, saying: Yea & if she wil reape with you, forbid her not: 16. and of your owne handfuls also cast forth of purpose, and let them remaine, that she may gather them without bashfulness, and gathering let no man controle her. 17. She gleaned therefore in the field vntil euening: and that which she had gathered beating with a rod and threshing she found of barley as it were the measure of an ephi, that is, three bushels. 18. Which carrying she returned into the citie, and shewed to her mother in law: moreouer she brought forth, & gaue her of the remaines of her meate, wherwith she had been filled. 19. And her mother in law said to her: Where hast thou gathered to day, & where hast thou wrought? blessed be he that hath had mercie on thee. And she told her with whom she had wrought: and she told the mans name, that he was called Booz. 20. To whom Noemi answered: Be he blessed of our Lord: because the same grace, which he had shewed to the liuing, he hath kept also to the dead. And againe she said: The man is our nigh cosin. 21. And Ruth: This also, quoth she, he commanded me, that so long I should ioyne my self to the reapers, til al the corne were reaped. 22. To whom her mother in law said: It is better my daughter, that thou goe forth with his maids to reape, lest in an other mans field some may resist thee. She therefore ioyned her self to the maids of Booz: and so long reaped with them, til the barley and the wheate were layd vp in the barnes.

C H A P. III.

Ruth instructed by her mother in law sleepech at Booz feete, 8. and signifying that she perteyneth to him by the law of affinitie, receiueth a good answer, 14. and six measures of barley.

V T after that she was returned to her mother in law, she heard of her: My daughter, I wil seek thee rest, and wil prouide that it may be wel with thee. 2. This Booz, to whose maids thou art ioyned in the field, is our nigh kinsman, and this night he winoweth the barne floore of the barley. 3. Wash therefore and annoynt thy self, and put on thy better garments, and goe downe into the barne floore, let no man see thee, till he shall haue ended eating & drinking. 4. And when he shall goe to sleep, marke the place wherein he sleepech: and thou shalt come, and discouer the mantel wherwith he is couered toward his feet, and thal cast thy self downe and lie there: (a) and he wil tel thee what thou must doe. 5. Who answered: Whatsoeuer thou shalt command, that wil I doe. 6. And she went downe into the barne floore, and did al the things which her mother in law had comanded her. 7. And when Booz had eaten, and drunken, and was made pleasant, and was gone to sleep by the heap of sheaves, she came closely, and discouering the mantel at his feet, layd her self downe. 8. And behold, when it was now midnight the man was afrayd, and troubled: and he saw a woman lying at his feet, 9. and said to her: Who art thou? And she answered: I am Ruth thy handmaide: spread thy mantel vpon thy seruant, because thou art nigh of kinne. 10. And he said: Blessed art thou of our Lord my daughter, and the former mercie thou hast passed with the later: because thou hast (b) not folowed yong men either poore or rich. 11. Feare not therefore, but whatsoeuer thou shalt say to me, I wil doe to thee. For al the people that dwelleth within the gates of my citie know, that thou art a woman of vertue. 12. Neither doe I denie my self nigh of kinne, but there is an other neerer then I. 13. Rest this night: and when morning is come, if he wil retayne thee by the right of nigh of kindred, the thing is wel done, but if he wil not, I wil take thee without al doubt, our Lord liueth, sleep vntil morning. 14. She slept therefore at his feet til the night was gone. Therefore she arose before men could know one an other, and Booz said: Beware lest any men know that thou camest hither. 15. And agayne, Spread, quoth he, thy mantel, wherwith thou art couered, and hold it with both hands. Who spreading and holding it, he measured six measures of barley, and put it vpon her. Who carying it entred into the citie, 16. and came to her mother in law. Who said to her: What hast thou done daughter? And she told her al things, that the man had done to her. 17. And she said: Behold six measures of barley hath he giuen me, and he said: I wil not haue thee returne emptie to thy mother in law. 18. And Noemi said: Expect daughter til we see what end the thing wil haue. For the man wil not cease vntil he haue accomplished that which he hath spoken.

thalt

(a) The euent shewed that Noemi was inspired by God to giue such direction to Ruth, and to foretel what Booz would doe.

(b) It was very commendable that she loued her first husband & mother in law: but more vertue in flying occasion of sinne with yong men, and seeking to marrie according to the law of God with her former husbands kinsma. Deut. 25.

C H A P. IIII.

Booz before the ancients of the citie (the neerer kinsman refusing) possesseth the inheritance of Elimelech, 10. and marieth Ruth. 13. Hath by her a sonne, the grandfather of Dauid. 18. Whose genealogie by this occasion is recited, from Phares the sonne of Iudas the Patriarch.

(a) Booz cal-his kinsman brother, as Abraham called Lot his brother Gen.
13. being his Nephew.

(b) See Deut.
25. noting here withal, that the penaltie was lesse, when an other kinsman vn-dertaking the marriage, the woman was preuened from complayning before the iudge.

BO O Z therefore went vp to the gate, and sate there. And when he had seen the nigh kinsman passe by, of whom the talke was had before, he said to him: Turne in a litle while, and sit here: calling him by his name. Who turned in, and sate. 2. And Booz taking ten men of the citie, said to them: Sit ye here. 3. Who sitting downe, he spake to the nigh kinsman: Noemi, who is returned from the countrie of Moab, wil tel tne part of the field belonging to (a) our bro:her Elimelech. 4. Which I would thee to vnderstand, and would tel thee before al that sit, and the ancients of my people. If thou wilt possesse it by the right of nigh kindred, buy, and possesse it. but if it please thee not, tel me the same, that I may know what I ought to doe. For there is no nigh kinsman sauing thee, which art first, and me, who am second. But he answered: I wil buy the field. 5. To whom Booz said: When thou shalt buy the field at the womans hand, thou must take also Ruth the Moabite, which was the wife of the deceased: that thou mayest rayse vp the name of thy kinsman in his inheritance. 6. Who answered: I yeald my right of nigh kindred: for I may not abolish the posteritie of myne owne familie. Doe thou vse my priuiledge, which I professe that I doe willingly forgoe. 7. And (b) this in old time was the manner in Israel between kinsmen, that if at any time one yealded to an other his right: that the grant might be sure, the man put off his shoe, & gaue it to his neighbour. this was a testimonie of yealding in Israel. 8. Booz therefore said to his kinsman: Take off thy shoe. Which immediately he loosed from his foot. 9. But to the ancients, & the whole people he said: You are witnesses this day, that I haue purchased al things which were Elimelechs, and Chelions and Mahalons, Noemi deliuering them: 10. & haue taken in marriage Ruth the Moabite, the wife of Mahalon, that I may rayse vp the name of the deceased in his inheritance, lest his name be abolished out of his familie and brethren and people. You, I say, are witnesses of this thing. 11. Al the people that was in the gate answered, & the ancients: We are witnesses: Our Lord make this woman, which entreth into thy house, as Rachel, and Lia, which builed

buildd the house of Israel: that the may be an example of vertue in Ephrata, and may haue a famous name in Bethlehem: and that thy house may be, as the house of Phares, whom Thamar bare to Iudas, of the seede which our Lord shal giue thee of this vong woman. 13. Booz therefore tooke Ruth, and had her to wife: and went in vnto her, and our Lord gaue her to conceiue, and to beare a sonne. 14. And the women said to Noemi: Blessed be our Lord, which hath not suffered that there should fayle a successour of thy familie: that his name should be called in Israel. 5. And thou shouldest haue one that may comfort thy soule, and cherish thy old age. For of thy daughter in law is he borne, which wil loue thee: and much better is she to thee, then if thou dadst seuen sonnes. 16. And Noemi taking the child put it in her bosome, & did the office of a nource & of one that should carie him. 17. And the women her neighbours congratulating her, & saying: There is a sonne borne to Noemi, called his name Obed: this is (i) the father of Isai, the father Dauid. 18. These are the generations of Phares: Phares begat Efron, 19. Efron begat Aram: Aram begat Aminadab, 20. Aminadab begat Nahasson, Nahasson begat Salmon, 21. Salmon begat Booz, Booz begat Obed, 22. Obed begat Isai, Isai begat Dauid.

Here appeareth the final cause of writing this historie, to shew the Genealogie of King Dauid from Iudas the Patriarch, of whom Christ should descend, so prophecied, Gen. 49. and shewed to be performed, Mat. 1.

THE ARGUMENT OF THE BOOK OF KINGS AND PARALIPPOMENON IN GENERAL.

AFTER the booke of Iudges (wherunto Ruth is annexed) rightly follow the booke of Kings: signifying that after the general Iudgement cometh the euerlasting Kindome. As Venerable Bede expoundeth this connexion of booke, wherin he also explicateth manie other Mysteries of Christ and the Church prafigured in these histories. Likewise S. Gregorie teacheth that besides the historical and moral sense expressed in the simplicitie of the letter, another mystical vnderstanding is to be sought in the height of the Allegorie. In confirmation wherof he citeth S. Augustine and S. Hierome; who say, that Elcana his two wiues signified the Synagogue of the Iewes, and the Church of Christ: and that the death of Heli and Saul, with translation of Priesthood to Samuel and Saaob, and of the Kingdome to Dauid and his Successours, prafigured the new Priesthood, and new Kingdome of Christ, the old ceasing, which were shadowes therof. So these two great Doctors S. Gregorie and S. Bede, insisting in the stepe of other learned holie Fathers that had gone before them, expound these histories not only historically but also These histories are also expounded mystically by the ancient Fathers.

qq. in 1.
Reg. c. 1.

Prologo.
in 1. Reg.

li. 17. c.
A. ciuit.
Ep. ad
Paulin.

The general contents of all the books of Kings & Paralippomenon.

Samuel writ the first part, but vncertaine who writ the rest.

mystically. The historie first setteth forth the changing of the forme of gouernment from iudges to Kings : and then at large what Kings did reigne ouer the Hebrew people , as wel in one intire Realme , as ouer the same people diuided into two Kingdomes ; their more principal Actes ; their good and euil behauiour ; also the prosperitie , declinations , and final captiuities of both the Kingdomes. At which is contained in foure books of Kings , with other two partly repeating that was sayd before , but especially supplying things omitted in the whole sacred historie from the beginning of the world, called Paralippomenon. The two first are also called the Books of Samuel, though he writ not one of them wholly , for he died before the historie of the former ended ; but they goe both vnder his name, because he annointed the two first Kings, and writ a great part of their Actes: wherto the rest was added either by Dauid and Salomon , as some thinke , or by Nathan and Gad, as is probably gathered 1. Paralip. 29. v. 29. The authours also of the third and fourth books of Kings , and of the two of Paralippomenon are vncertaine : yet al haue euer been receiued and held for Canonical Scripture.

THE ARGUMENT OF THE FIRST BOOK OF KINGS.

Contéts of the first booke, diuided into foure parts.

HIS first book may be diuided into foure parts. First are recorded the governments of Heli and Samuel, with the occasions of changing the state of that common wealth into a Kingdome. in the eight first Chapters. Secondly, the election and gouernment of Saul their first King. from the 9. chap. to the 16. Thirdly, Dauids annointing, his vertues, troubles, and persecutions. from the 16. chap. to the 28. Fourthly, the ruine of Saul and exaltation of Dauid. in the foure last Chapters.

T H E
FIRST BOOK OF SAMUEL, WHICH WE CAL THE FIRST OF KINGS.

C H A P. I.

Elcana hauing two wiues , the one called Anna, is barren , and for the same is reproached by the other, called Phenenna. 9. Anna voweth, and prayeth for a man child, 19. conceiueth and beareth a sonne, calleth him Samuel: 24. and presenteth him to the seruice of God in Silo.

HERE was a man of Ramathaimfophim, of mount Ephraim, & his name Elcana, the sonne of Ieroham, the sonne of Eliu, the sonne of Thohu, the sonne of Suph, an Ephraite: 2. and he had two wiues, the name of one was Anna, and the name of the second Phenenna. Phenenna had children: but Anna had not children. 3. And that man went vp from his citie vpon ordinarie dayes, to adore and sacrifice vnto the Lord of hostes in Silo. And there were the two sonnes of Heli, Ophni and Phinees, Priests of our Lord. 4. The day came therefore, & Elcana immolated, and gaue to Phenenna his wife, & to al her sonnes and daughters parts: 5. but to Anna he gaue one part with heauie cheere, because he loued Anna. And our Lord had thut her matrice. 6. Her aduersarie also afflicted her, and vexed her sore, in so much

These books are read at Mattins from the feast of the B. Trinitie vntil the first Sunday of August. The first part. Of the governments of Heli and Samuel, and of changing the state into a Kingdome.

(a) This child being of the tribe of Leui, though not of Aarons stock, was lawfully vowed to the seruice of the tabernacle, by his parents, during his childhood, but coming to yeares of discretion he was at his owne election to continue or to depart. If he had been of anie other tribe, he must haue been redeemed, Leuit. 27.

that she vpbrayded her, that our Lord had thut her matrice: 7. and so did she euerie yeare, when the time returned, that they went vp to the temple of our Lord: and so she prouoked her: moreouer she wept, and tooke not meate. 8. Elcana therefore her husband said to her: Anna, why weepest thou? and why doest thou not eate? and wherfore doest thou afflict thy hart? Am not I better to thee, then ten children? 9. And Anna arose after she had eaten and drunke in Silo. And Heli the Priest sitting vpon a Stoole before the postes of the house of our Lord, 10. wheras Anna had a heauie hart, she praied to our Lord, weeping abundantly, 11. and she vowed a vow, saying: O Lord of hosts, if regarding thou wilt behold the affliction of thy seruant, and wilt be mindful of me, and not forget thy handmaid, and wilt giue vnto thy seruant a man child: I (a) wil giue him to our Lord al the daies of his life, & the rasour shal not come vpon his head. 12. And it came to passe, when she multiplied praiers before our Lord, that Heli obserued her mouth. 13. Moreouer Anna spake in her hart, and onlic her lips moued, and voice there was not heard at al. Heli therefore thought her to be drunke, 14. and sayd to her: How long wilt thou be drunke? drgest a litle the wyne, wherwith thou art wet. 15. Anna answering, Not so, quoth she, my Lord: for I am an exceeding vnhappie woman, and wine and whatsoeuer may inebriate, I haue not drunke, but I haue powred out my soule in the sight of our Lord. 16. Account not thy handmaid as one of the daughters of Belial: for of the multitude of my sorrow and heauines haue I spoken vntil this present. 17. Then Heli said to her: Goe in peace: and the God of Israel giue thee thy petition, which thou hast asked him. 18. But she sayd: Would God thy handmaid may find grace in thyne eyes. And the wowan went on her way, and did eate, and her countenance was no more changed otherwise. 19. And they rose in the morning, and adored before our Lord: and they returned, & came into their house to Ramatha. And Elcana knew Anna his wife: and our Lord remembered her. 20. And it came to passe after a certaine compasse of dayes, Anna conceiued & bare a sonne, and called his name Samuel: because she asked him of our Lord. 21. And Elcana her husband went vp, and al her house, to immolate vnto our Lord the solenne hoste, and his vow, 22. and Anna went not vp: for she sayd to her husband: I wil not goe til the infant be weaned, and til I may bring him, that he may appeare before the sight of our Lord, and may remayne there continually. 23. And Elcana her husband sayd to her: Doe that which seemeth good to thee, and tarie til thou weane him: and I pray that our Lord fulfil his word. The woman therefore taried, and gaue her soone sucke, til she remoued him from the milke. 24. And she brought him with her, after she had weaned him, with three calues, & three bushels of meale, and a flagon of wine, and she brought him to the house of our Lord in Silo. But the childe was yet a litle infant: 25. and they immolated a calfe, and offered the childe to Heli. 26. And Anna said: I beseech thee my

Lord,

Lord, thy soule liueth my Lord : I am that woman , which stode before thee here praying our Lord. 27. For this childe did I pray, and our Lord hath giuen me my petition , which I asked him, 28. Therefore I also haue giuen him to our Lord al the daies , which he shal liue, that he may be applied to our Lord. And they adored our Lord there. And Anna prayed , and sayd:

C H A P. II.

Anna giueth thanks in a Canticle. 11. The sonnes of Heli grievously sinning are reprehended , but not duly corrected by their father. 21. Anna beareth three sonnes more , and two daughters. 27. Heli is threatened, 34. and the death of his two sonnes foretold.

Y hart hath reioyced in our Lord, and my horne is exalted in my God : my mouth is dilated vpon myne enemies : because I haue ioyed in thy saluation.

2. There is none holie as our Lord is : for neither is there an other beside thee , and there is none so strong as our God.

3. Doe not multiplie to speake high things boasting , (a) let old matters depart from your mouth : because our Lord is a God of al knowledge, and to him cogitations are prepared.

4. The bow of the strong men is ouercome , and the weake are girded with strength.

5. They that before were filled haue hyred out themselues for bread: and the hungrie are filled, vntil (b) the barren woman bare verie manie: and (c) she that had manie children was weakned.

6. Our Lord mortifieth and quickneth , bringeth downe to hel and fetcheth backe agayne.

7. Our Lord maketh poore and enricheth, humbleth and listeth vp.

8. He rayseth the needie man from the dust , and from the dung he listeth vp the poore : that he may sit with Princes, and hold the throne of glorie. For the poles of the earth are our Lords , and vpon them he hath set the world.

9. The feet of his Saints he wil keep , and the impious shal be silent in darknes : because in his owne force man shal not be strengthened.

10. Our Lord shal his aduersaries feare: & vpon them shal he thunder in the heauens: our Lord shal iudge the ends of (d) the earth, & shal giue empire to his King, and shal exalt the horne of his Christ.

11. And Elcana went into Ramatha , vnto his house : but the child ministred in the sight of our Lord before the face of Heli the Priest. 12. Moreouer the sonnes of Heli , were the sonnes of Belial , not knowing

The Canticle at Laudes on wenesday.

a) Leauē off to praise idoles, as ye haue accustomed to doe.

b) The Church of Gentiles.
c) The Synagogue of the Iewes. S. Aug. li. 17. 5. 4. c. 11.

d) Neither Dauid nor Salomon, much lesse anie other King, possessed or iuged the ends of the earth: but Christs enheritance reacheth to the ends of the earth. Psal. 2. v 18.

our Lord, 13. nor the office of Priests to the people: but whosoever had immolated a victime, the seruant of the Priest came, whiles the flesh was in boyling, and had a flesh hooke with three teeth in his hand, 14. and thrust it into the kettie, or into the caudron, or into the pot, or into the panne: and al that the flesh hooke brought vp, the Priest tooke to himselfe. so did they toal Israel that came into Silo. 15. Yea before they burnt the fat, the seruant of the Priest came, and sayd to him that immolated: Giue me flesh, that I may boyle it for the Priest: for I wil not take flesh of thee sod, but raw. 16. And he that immolated sayd to him: Let the fat first be burnt to day according to the manner, and take vnto thee how much soeuer thy soule desireth. Who answering said to him: Not so: for thou shalt giue it now, or els I wil take it away by force. 17. Therefore the sinne of the yong men was exceeding great before our Lord: because men detracted frō the sacrifice of our Lord. 18. But Samuel ministred before the face of our Lord: a child, girded with an ephod of linnen. 19. And his mother made him a litle tunike, which she brought vpon the ordinarie daies, going vp with her husband to immolate the solemne host. 20. And Heli blessed Elicana and his wife: & he said to him: Our Lord render thee seed of this woman, for the vsurie that thou hast giuen our Lord. And they went into their place. 21. Our Lord therefore visited Anna, and she conceiued, and bare three sonnes, and two daughters: and the childe Samuel was magnified before our Lord. 22. And Heli was very old, and heard al things which his sonnes did to al Israel: & how they slept with the women that wayted at the doore of the tabernacle: 23. and he sayd to them: Why doe you these kinde of things, which I heare, very naughtie things, of al the people? 24. Doe not so my sonnes: for it is not a good report, which I doe heare, that you make the people of our Lord to transgresse. 25. If man shal sinne against man, God may be pacified toward him: but if a mā shal sinne against our Lord (e) who shal pray for him? And they heard not the voice of their father, (f) because our Lord would kil them. 26. But the childe Samuel prospered, and grew, and pleased both our Lord and men. 27. And there came a man of God to Heli, and said to him: Thus sayth our Lord: Was not I openly reuealed to thy fathers house, when they were in Ægypt in the house of Pharao? 28. and I chose him of al the tribes of Israel for my Priest, that he might ascend to my altar, and burne to me incense, and might carie the ephod before me: and I gaue to thy fathers house al things of the sacrifices of the children of Israel. 29. Why haue you with your heel reiected my victime, and my gifts which I commanded to be offered in the temple: and hast rather honoured thy sonnes then me, that you would eate the first fruits of euerie sacrifice of Israel my people? 30. Therefore sayth our Lord the God of Israel: Speaking I spake that thy house, and the house of thy father should minister in my sight for euer. But now sayth our Lord: Be this farre from me: but whosoever shal glorifie me I wil glorifie him:

(e) Sinnes directly against God, and that hinder his seruice, are more hardly remitted: but none at al are irremissible before death, because during life euerie one may truly repent, if he wil: & to al true penitents God promisseth remission of sinnes Ezech. 33.
 (f) Gods determination to punish tooke not away their freewil, but for their obstinacie he left them to themselves, without his grace, & so iustly punished them. See S. Aug. l. 5. com. Julian. c. 3.

and they that contemne me, shall be base. 31. Behold the daies come: and I wil cut off thy arme, and the arme of thy fathers house, that there may not be an old man in thy house. 32. And thou shalt see (g) whom thou enuiest in the temple, in al prosperities of Israel, and there shall not be an old man in thy house for euer. 33. Notwithstanding I wil not altogether take away a man of thee from myne altar: but that thyne eyes may fayle, and thy soule melt: and a great part of thy house shall die when it is come to mans age. 34. And this shall be a signe to thee, which shall come vpon thy two sonnes, Ophni, and Phinees: In one day they shall both die. 35. And I wil raise vp vnto me a faithful Priest, which shall doe according to my hart, and my soule: and I wil build him a faythful house and the same shall walke before my Christ al daies. 36. And it shall come to passe, that whosoever shall remayne in thy house, shall come that he may be prayed for, and shall offer a peece of siluer, and a manchet of bread, and shall say: Leau me I beseech thee to one priestly part, that I may eate a morcel of bread.

(g) This was fulfilled as in the figure in Samuel, not wholly, for priesthood still remained in the line of Aaron, as appeareth in Achias, Abiathar, & Sadoe. ch. 14. 22. & 2. Reg. 8. but perfectly in Christ. S. Beda. 99. in 1. Reg. c. 2.

C H A P. III.

Samuel thrise called vpon in sleep by vision from God, repaireth to Heli, 10. the fourth time our Lord reuealeth to him the euil, that shall fall to Heli and his house. 16. Which he, being requested, declareth to Heli.

AND the childe Samuel ministred to our Lord before Heli, and the word of our Lord was (a) precious in those daies, there was no visiou manifest. 2. It came to passe therefore on a certayne day Heli lay in his place, & his eies were become dimme, neither could he see: 3. (b) before the lanpe of God was extinguished, Samuel slept in the temple of our Lord, where the arke of God was. 4. And our Lord called Samuel. Who answering, said: Loe here I am. 5. And he ranne to Heli and said: Loe here I am: for thou didst cal me. Who sayd: I did not cal thee: returne and sleep. And he went & slept. 6. And our Lord added againe to cal Samuel. And Samuel ryling vp wēt to Heli, & said: Loe here I am: because thou didst cal me. Who answered: I did not cal thee my sonne, returne & sleep. 7. Moreover Samuel did not yet know our Lord, neither had the word of our Lord been reuealed to him. 8. And our Lord added, & called Samuel yet the third time. Who ryling vp wēt to Heli, 9. & said: Loe here I am: because thou didst cal me. Heli therefore vnderstood that our Lord called the child & said to Samuel: Goe, & sleep: and if he shall cal thee hereafter, thou shalt saie: Speake Lord, for thy seruant heareth. Samuel therefore went and slept in his place. 10. And our Lord came, and stood: and he called, as he had called twise, Samuel, Samuel. And Samuel sayd: Speake Lord, for thy seruant heareth. 11. And our Lord said to Samuel:

(a) Rare things are called precious, and so the gift of prophetic is here termed, which was then granted to few.

(b) This vision happened early in the morning, before the time of dressing the lamps, when some were put out and others light.

Behold I do a thing in Israel: which whosoever shall heare, both his eares shall tingle. 12. In that day wil I rayse vp against Heli al things which I haue spoken touching his house: I wil begin, and accomplish it. 13. For I haue foretold him that I would iudge his house for euer, because of iniquitie, for that he knewe that his sonnes did wickedly, and hath not corrected them. 14. Therefore haue I sworne to the house of Heli that the iniquitie of his house can not be expiated with victimes and gifts for euer. 15. And Samuel slept vntil morning, and opened the doores of the house of our Lord. And Samuel feared to tel the vision vnto Heli. 16. Heli therefore called Samuel, and said: Samuel my sonne. Who answering, said: Here I am. 17. And he asked him: What is the word, that our Lord hath spoken to thee? I beseech thee conceale it not from me. These things doe God to thee, and these doe he adde, if thou shalt hide from me a word of al the words, which were said to thee. 18. Samuel therefore told him al the words, and did not hide them from him. And he answered: It is our Lord: let him doe that which is good in his eyes. 19. And Samuel grew, and our Lord was with him, and there fel not of his words vpon the ground. 20. And al Israel knew from Dan to Bersabee, that faithful Samuel was the Prophet of our Lord. 21. And our Lord added to appeare in Silo, because our Lord had been reuealed to Samuel in Silo, according to the word of our Lord. And the word of Samuel came to passe to al Israel.

CHAP. III.

The Israelites are beaten in battle by the Philisthims. 3. Who for their better protection and comfort, fetch the Arke of God into the campe: 10. but are beaten againe, the Arke taken, and with manie others the two sonnes of Heli are slaine. 13. At which Heli vnderstanding falleth from his seat, and breaketh his neck: 19. also his daughter in law presently traueling of childe is deliuered of a sonne.

(a) Their confidence of helpe from God, by presence of the arke, was good & commendable, but their sinnes deserued to be punished.

AND it came to passe in those daies, the Philisthims assembled together to fight: and Israel went forth to meet the Philisthims into battle, & camped beside the Stone of helpe. Moreouer the Philisthims came into Aphec, 2. & put their armie in aray against Israel. And after they had ioyned battle, Israel turned their backs to the Philisthims: and there were slaine in the fight here & there through the fields, as it were foure thousand men. 3. And the people returned to the campe: & the ancients of Israel said: Why hath our Lord strucke vs to day before the Philisthims?

(a) Let vs fetch vnto vs the arke of the couenant of our Lord from Silo, and let it come into the middes of vs, that it may saue vs from the hand of our enemies. 4. The people therefore sent into Silo, and they tooke from thence the arke of the couenant of the Lord of hosts sitting vpon the Cherubims : and the two sonnes of Heli were with the arke of the couenant of God , Ophni and Phinees. 5. And when the arke of the couenant of our Lord was come into the campe , al Israel made a shout with a great crie, and the earth sounded. 6. And the Philisthiims heard the voice of the crie, & said : What is this voice of a great crie in the campe of the Hebrewes ? And they knew that the arke of our Lord was come into the campe 7. And the Philisthiims were afrayd, saying: God is come into the campe. And they mourned, saying: 8. Woe to vs: for there was not so great reioycing yesterdai and the day before : woe to vs. Who ihal keepe vs from the hand of these high Gods ? these be the Gods that stricke Ægypt with al plague, in the desert. 9. Take courage, & be men , ve Philisthiims : lest you be seruants to the Hebrewes, as they also haue serued you : take courage & fight. 10. The Philisthiims therfore fought , and Israel was slaine, and euerie man fled into his tabernacle : and there was made an exceeding great plague : and there fel of Israel thirtie thousand footemē. 11. And the arke of God was taken: the two sonnes also of Heli died, Opheni and Phinees. 12. And a man of Benjamin running out of the battle aray , came into Silo that day , his garment rent, and sprinkled on his head with dust. 13. And when he was come, Heli sare vpon a stoole ouer against the way looking. For his hart was feareful for the arke of God. And that man after he was entred in, told it to the citie: and al the citie howled. 14. And Heli heard the sound of the crie, and said: What is this sound of this same tumult ? But he hastned , and came , and told Heli. 15. And Heli was nintie and eight yeares old, & his eyes were dimme, and he could not see. 16. And he said to Heli : I am he that came from the battle, & I he that fled out of the field this day. To whom he said: What is done my sonne? 17. And he brought the newes answering: Israel, quoth he, is fled before the Philisthiims, and a great ruine is made in the people : moreouer also thy two sonnes are dead , Ophni & Phinees : & the arke of God is taken. 18. And when he had (a) named the arke of God, he fel from his stoole backward beside the doore, & his necke being broken he died. For he was an old man, & of a great age: & he iudged Israel fourtie yeares. 19. And his daughter in law, the wife of Phinees, was great with childe, & nigh to be deliuered: & hearing the report that the arke of God was taken, & her father in law was dead, & her husband, she bowed her self & was deliuered : for sudder paynes were fallen vpon her. 20. And in the very moment of her death, they said to her that stood about her : Feare not, because thou hast borne a sonne. Who answered them not, nor gaue heede to it. 21. And she called the childe Ichabod , saying: The glorie is translated from Israel , because the arke of God is taken , and for her father in law , and for her husband ; 22. and she said : The glorie is translated from Israel , for that the arke of God was taken.

(a) This zeale of religion in Heli towards the arke, is a great signe, that he died in good state, though he was tempo ally punished for not correcting his sonnes.

CHAP. V.

Dagon falleth downe twice in presence of the Arke, his head and hands broken off. 6. The Philistiims being sore plagued in al their cities where the arke commeth, 11. determine to send it backe to the Israelites.

AND the Philistiims tooke the arke of God, and carried it from the Stone of helpe into Azotus. 2. And the Philistiims tooke the arke of God, and brought it into the temple of Dagon, and sette it beside Dagon. 3. And when the Azotians had risen early the next day, behold (4) Dagon, lay flat on the ground before the arke of our Lord: and they tooke Dagon, and restored him into his place. 4. And agayne early the next day rising vp, they found Dagon lying vpon his face on the earth before the arke of our Lord: & the head of Dagon, & the two palmes of his hands were cutte off vpon the threshold: 5. moreouer the bodie only of Dagon was remainyng in his place. For this cause the Priests of Dagon, and al that enter into his temple, tread not vpon the threihold of Dagon in Azotus vntil this day. 6. And the hand of our Lord was heauie vpon the Azotians, and he plagued them, and struck Azotus and the coastes thereof in the secret part of the fundament. And the townes and fields bubbled forth in the middes of that country, and there came forth mise, and there was confusion of great death in the citie. 7. And the men of Azotus seeing this manner of plague, said: Let not the arke of the God of Israel tarie with vs: because his hand is sore vpon vs, and (-) vpon Dagon our God. 8. And sending they gathered together al the Pri. ces of the Philistiims to them, and said: What shal we doe with the arke of the God of Israel: And the Getheites answered: Let the arke of the God of Israel be caried about, and they caried about the arke of the God of Israel. 9. And they caryng it about, the hand of our Lord was made through euerie citie by an exceeding great slaughter: and it struck the men of euerie city, from litle vnto great, and they had emeroids in their secret parts. And the Getheites tooke counsel, and made themselues stools of skinnes. 10. They sent therefore the arke of God into Accaron. And when the arke of God was come into Accaron, the Accaronites cryed out, saying: They haue brought vnto vs the arke of the God of Israel, to kil vs and our people. 11. They sent therefore and gathered together al the Princes of the Philistiims, who sayd: Dismiss the arke of the God of Israel, & let it returne into his place, and not kil vs with our people. 12. For there was made the feare of death in euerie citie, and the hand of God exceeding grieuous. the men also that had not died, were stricken in the secret part of the buttocks: and the howling of euerie citie went vp into heauen.

(4) So soone as Christs Ghospel or Testament came among the Gentiles, al false Gods and idolatry fel downe. S. Beda 9. in 1. Reg. c. 1.

b) The arke being a holie thing, as Relikes are, was terrible to their false God, the diuel, so the Relikes of S. Babilas ouerthrew the false God Apollo. as S. Chrysoft. testifieth at large, li. com. Gentiles, 40. 5.

C H A P. VI.

The Arke is sent backe with five emeroids and five mise of gold, vpon a new wayne drawne by two milch kyne: 13. which comming directly to Bethsames are sacrificed, the wayne seruing for fire, the Leuites keep the Arke. 19. Many others are slaine looking of curiositie into it.

THERFORE the arke of God was in the country of the Philisthiims seuen months. 2. And the Philisthiims called the Priests and soothsaiers, saying: What shal we doe with the arke of the Lord? tel vs how we may send it backe into his place. Who said: 3. If you send back the arke of the God of Israel, send it not away emptie, but that which you owe render vnto it for sinne, and then you shal be cured: and you shal know why his hand departeth not from you. 4. Who answered: What is that which we ought to render vnto it for sinne? And they answered: 5. According to the number of the prouinces of the Philisthiims you shal make five golden emeroids, and five golden mise: because there hath been one plague to you, and to your Princes. And you shal make the similitudes of your emeroids, and the similitudes of the mise that haue destroyed the land, and you shal giue glorie to the God of Israel: if perhaps he wil lighten his hand from you, and from your Gods and from your land. 6. Why doe you harden your harts, as (a) Ægypt and Pharao did harden their hart? did not he after he was stricken then dimisse them, and they departed? 7. Now therefore take and make one new wayne: and two kine hauing calued, on which there hath no yoke been put, couple in the wayne, & shut vp their calues at home. 8. And you shal take the arke of the Lord, and put it in the wayne, and the vessels of gold, which you haue payed him for sinne, you shal put into a litle casket at the side therof: and dismisse it that it may goe. 9. And you shal looke: and if so be that it shal goe vp by the way of his coasts against Bethsames, he hath done vs this great euil: but if not, we shal know that his hand hath not touched vs, but it hath happened by chance. 10. They therefore did in this manner: and taking two kine, that had sucking calues, yoked them to the wayne, and shut vp their calues at home. 11. And they layd the arke of God vpon the wayne, and the litle casket, that had the golden mise and the similitudes of emeroids. 12. And the kine went directly by the way that leadeth to Bethsames, and they went one way, going forward and lowing: and they declined not neither to the right hand nor to the left: but the Princes also of the Philisthiims folowed vnto the borders of Bethsames. 13. Moreover the Bethsamites reaped wheat in the valley: and lifting vp their eies, they saw the arke, &

[a] Obsolete sinners doe harden their owne harts, not God, but by suffering them so to doe.
See Annot.
Exod. 7.

were gladde when they had seen it. 14. And the wayne came into the field of Iosue the Bethsamite, and stood there. And there was a great stone, and they did cut the wood of the wayne, and layed the kine vpon it an holocaust to our Lord. 15. And the Leuites tooke downe the arke of God, and the litle casket, that was at the side of it, wherin were the vessels of gold, and they put it vpon the great stone. The men also of Bethsames offered holocausts, and immolated victimes that day to our Lord. 16. And the five Princes of the Philisthiims saw, and returned into Accaron that day. 17. And these are the golden emeroids, which the Philistiims rendred for sinne to our Lord: Azotus one, Gaza one, Ascalon one, Geth one, Accaron one: 18. and the golden mise according to the number of the cities of the Philistiims, of the five prouinces, from walled citie vnto towne that was without wal, and vnto Abel the great, wherupon they put the arke of our Lord, which was vntil that day in the field of Iosue the Bethsamite. 19. But he stricke of the men of Bethsames, for that they had (b) seen the arke of our Lord: and he stricke of the people seuentie men, and fiftie thousand of the common people. And the people mourned, because our Lord had stricken the common people with a great plague. 20. And the men of Bethsames sayd: Who shal be able to stand in the sight of our Lord God this holie one: and to whom shal he goe vp from us? 21. And they sent messengers to the inhabirantes of Cariathiarim, saying: The Philistiims haue brought backe the arke of our Lord, come & fetch it backe vnto you.

(b) As the arke was terrible to the infidels [chap. .] so also to those that believed right, but vsed it not reuerently.

CHAP. VII.

The Arke is brought to the house of Abinadab in Gabaa, 3. By Samuels exhortation, the people cast away the idols and serue only God. 12. Samuel offering sacrifice and praying, Israel preuaileth against the Philistiims.

(a) These men knowing that the preence of the arke was good for them (though the Bethsamites had been punished for their irreuerence towards it) feared not to receiue and keep it.

HERFORE the men of Cariathiarim came, and (a) brought backe the arke of our Lord, and caried it into the house of Abinadab in Gabaa: and Eleazar his sonne they sanctified, that he might keep the arke of our Lord. 2. And it came to passe, from the day that the arke of our Lord abode in Cariathiarim, the dayes were multiplied (for it was now the twentieth yeare) and al the house of Israel rested after our Lord. 3. And Samuel spake to al the house of Israel, saying: If you turne to our Lord in al your hart, take away the strange Gods out of the middes of you, Baalim and Astaroth: and prepare your harts to our Lord, & serue him only, and he wil deliuer you from the hand of the Philisthiims. 4. Therefore the children of Israel tooke away Baalim and Astaroth, and serued our Lord only. 5. And Samuel sayd: Gather together al

Israel into Masphath , that I may pray our Lord for you. 6. And they assembled into Masphath : and they drew water , and powred it out in the sight of our Lord , and they fasted that day , and layd there : We haue sinned to our Lord. And Samuel iudged the children of Israel in Masphath. 7. And the Philisthiims heard that the children of Israel were gathered together into Masphath , and the Priuces of the Philisthiims went vp to Israel. Which when the children of Israel had heard, they were afrayd at the face of the Philisthiims. 8. And they said to Samuel : cease not to crie to our Lord God for vs, that he saue vs from the hand of the Philisthiims. 9. And Samuel tooke one sucking lambe, and offered it a whole holocauste to our Lord : and Samuel cried to our Lord for Israel, & our Lord heard him. 10. And it came to passe, whē Samuel offered the holocaust, the Philisthiims began battel against Israel : but our Lord thundred with a great noice in that day vpon the Philisthiims, & terrified thé, & they were slaine before the face of Israel. 11. And the men of Israel issuing out of Masphath pursued the Philisthiims, & stricke them vnto the place, that was vnder Bethchar. 12. And Samuel tooke one stone , and layd it between Masphath and Sen: and he called the name of that place, The stone of helpe. And he sayd: Thus farre hath our Lord holpen vs. 13. And the Philisthiims were humbled, neither added they any more to come into the border of Israel. Therefore the hand of our Lord was made vpon the Philisthiims, al the dayes of Samuel. 14. And the cities, which the Philisthiims had taken from Israel, were rendred to Israel, from Accaron vnto Geth, and their borders : and he deliuered Israel from the hand of the Philisthiims , and there was peace between Israel and the (b) Amorrheite. 15. Samuel also iudged Israel al the daies of his life : 16. and he went euerie yeare circuiting Bethel and Galgala and Masphath, and iudged Israel in the fore-said places. 17. And he returned into Ramatha : for there was his house, and there he iudged Israel : he built also there an altar to our Lord.

(b) That is to say, the Philisthiims, who were one of the seven nations of Chanaan, which God commanded his people to destroy, commonly called the Amorrhites.

C H A P. VIII.

Samuel growing old, and his sonnes for bribes peruerting iudgement, the people require to haue a King. 7. To whom by Gods commandement, Samuel foresheweth the law of a King, so make them cease from their aemand; 19. but they persist therein.

AND it came to passe when Samuel waxed old , he appointed his sonnes iudges ouer Israel. 2. And the name of his first begotten sonne was Ioel : and the name of the second Abia , iudges in Bersabee. 3. And his sonnes walked not in his waies: but they declined after auarice, & tooke bribes , and peruerted iudgement. 4. (a) Therefore al the ancients of

(a) Heli his sonnes grievously offending in their office before (chap. 2.) and now Samuels sonnes also peruer-ting iudgement gaue occasion to the people to demand a King, to iudge their temporal causes rightly, not declining to wrong for bribes.

Israel

(b) Misphar signifieth manner, fashion, or proceeding.

(c) God alwaies heareth those that truly repent for their finnes, but doth not alwayes deliuer them from afflictions, which are due for offences, or profitable for probation and merite of his children.

Israel being assembled, came to Samuel into Ramath. 5. And they sayd to him: Behold thou art old, and thy sonnes walke not in thy wayes: appoynt vs a King, that he may iudge vs, as also al nations haue. 6. And the word was misliked in the eyes of Samuel, because they had sayd: Giue vs a King, that he may iudge vs. And Samuel prayed to our Lord. 7. And our Lord sayd to Samuel: Heare the voice of the people in al things which they speake to thee. for they haue not reiected thee, but me, that I should not reigne ouer them. 8. According to al their workes, which they haue done from the day that I brought them out of Ægypt vntil this day: as they haue forsaken me, and serued strange Gods, so doe they also vnto thee. 9. Now therefore heare their voice: but yet testifie to them, and foretel them the (b) right of the King, that shal reigne ouer the. 10. Samuel therefore spake al the words of our Lord to the people which had desired a King of him, 11. and sayd: This shal be the right of the king, that shal reigne ouer you: Your sonnes he wil take, & put in his chariots, and wil make them vnto him the horsemen, and running footmen before his chariots, 12. & wil appoynt them his tribunes, & centurions, & the plowers of his fields, & mowers of his corne, & makers of his armour and of his chariots. 13. Your daughters also wil he take to make ointments, and to be cookes, and bakers. 14. Your fields also, and vineyards, and the best oliuets he wil take away, and giue to his seruants. 15. Yea and your corne also, and the reuenewes of your vineyards he wil tithe, to giue his eunuchs & seruants. 16. Your seruants also and handmaids, and goodliest yong men, and asses he wil take away and put in his worke. 17. Your flocks also wil he tithe, you shal be his seruants. 18. And you shal crie in that day from the face of the King, which you haue chofen you: and our Lord (c) wil not heare you in that day, because you desired vnto your selues a King. 19. But the people would not heare the voice of Samuel, but sayd: Not so: for there shal be a King ouer vs, 20. and we also wil be as al nations: and our King shal iudge vs, and shal goe forth before vs, and shal fight our battels for vs. 21. And Samuel heard al the words of the people, and spake them in the eares of our Lord. 22. And our Lord said to Samuel: Heare their voice, and appoynt a King ouer them. And Samuel sayd to the men of Israel: Let euerie man goe into his citie.

A N N O T A T I O N S.

C H A P. VIII.

E. od. 19
Deu. 17.
Iudic. 2.
v. 16.

7. Reiected me.] For so much as God had chosen Israel a peculiar people to himself, and hitherto ruled the same by his Priests established among them, and by Iudges extraordinarily raised vp, and sent by him, to deliuer them in their distrelles, their demand now to haue a King, who (after the manner of other nations) should be their Lord, and haue more dignitie and authoritie ouer them, then Dukes or Iudges had, is interpreted, as in effect to reiect God: in that they disliked, & sought to change his forme of gouernment. And therefore this request of the people iustly displeas'd both Samuel and God himself.

Why the peoples demand to haue a King is disliked.

S. Cyp.
li. 1. ep.
9. sue
65.
S. Hier.
in Osee 8.
S. Greg.
l. 4. c. 2.
in 1.
Reg. 3.

11. The right of the King.] Samuel here by Gods appointment, to diswade the people from their desire of a King, at least to admonish them before hand, what they are like to find by experience, reciteth such things, as Kings abusing their power doe oftentimes practise, by reason of their high dignitie, and litle feare of contrölement, but vniustly and vlawfully; according to the doctrine of ancient Fathers. Amongst others, S. Cyprian calleth the exactions of Kings here recited, griuous iniuries. S. Hierome dura imperia, & seruicium: rigorous or cruel gouernments, and seruitude. S. Gregorie proueth the same by two contrarie examples. Seeing (sayth he) that which is here foretold, was punished in Achab and Iesabel (3. Reg. 21.) it sheweth, that it was not right by diuine iudgement, which they exacted. And when the elect King Dauid was to build an altar to our Lord (1. Paral. 21.) he would not take part of Ornans field, except he payed a iust price for it. Moreouer the law prescribing the dutie of Kings (Deu. 17. v. 16. &c.) commandeth them not to multiplie horses, not to heape riches, not to take high courage, that their hearts be not lifted vp into pride ouer their breshren. Neuertheles Kings haue great prerogatiues (more then Dukes and Iuges) besides, and aboue, but neuer contrarie to the law; that albeit they can not take their subiects lands or goods, neither for themselues, nor to giue to their seruants at their pleasure: yet in diuers cases subiects are bound to contribute of their priuate goods, to supplie the necessitie of the King, or of the commonwealth, as by nature euerie part must suffer damage or danger in defence of the principal member, or whole bodie. And if any refuse so to doe, they may iustly be compelled.

Kings sometimes oppresse their subiects by Gods sufferance, but vniustly.

Concil.
L-teran
c. 3. de heres.

Furthermore in case Kings or other Princes commit excesses, and opprassé their subiects, yet are they not by & by to be deposed by the people, nor commonwealth, but must be tolerated with patience, peace, and meeknes, til God by his soueraigne authoritie, left in his Church, dispose of them: which his diuine wisdom and goodnes often differreth to doe, as here he expressely forewarneth, saying: (v. 18.) You shal crye in that day from the face of your King, and our Lord wil not heare you. And the reason is, because he wil punish the sinnes of the people, by suffering euil Princes to reigne. Job. 34. v. 30.

Kings haue prerogatiues aboue, but not contrarie to the lawes.

Euil Princes may be deposed by God &
the Church:
but not by the people only.

Of which important difficultie, falling sometimes between Princes and their subiects, who so desireth, may search the iudgement of ancient Fathers, and see S. Thomas, and other schole Doctours, 2. 2. q. 12. a. 2. Here only for better vnderstanding of this present text, these brief points may be obserued. First, the people of their owne wil desired to haue a King. Secondly, they requested the same at

Points obse-ued in the constitution and deposition of King Saul.

the hands of Samuel their present Superiour. Thirdly, this demand displeas'd both Samuel and God himself. Fourthly, yet God condescended to grant their suite, but with an admonition, and forewarning of the inconueniences, which they should finde and feele. Fifthly, God himself designed the person that should be King, reuealed him by vision, and commanded Samuel to annoint him. Sixthly, God neuertheles by guiding the lot, more manifestly declared; and confirmed his election. Seuenthly, God deposed the same King, for transgressing his law, chap. 13. v. 13; and disobeying his commandment, chap. 15. v. 13. appointing another, by the ministerie of Samuel, chap. 16. Eightly, notwithstanding his depolition, he remained in his dignitie til his death, which happened by other meanes, chap. 31. By al which it appeareth, that God constituted Saul the first King of the Iewes, the people suing to haue a King; but deposed him for euil behauiour, the people desiring no such thing, and Samuel the Prophet much lamenting the same. Yet was he not actually bereaued of the crowne and Kingdome during his life.

C H A P. I X.

Saul by occasion of seeking his fathers asses commeth to Samuel. 15. Who had a reuelation of his comming, and a commandment to annoint him. 22. He is entertained and lodged with Samuel.

The second part.
The election, annointing, and gouernment of King Saul.

AND there was a man of Benjamin named Cis, the sonne of Abiel, the sonne of Seor, the sonne of Bechorath, the sonne of Aphia, the sonne of a man of Iemini, valiant in strength. 2. And he had a sonne called Saul, chosen and good: and there was not a man of the children of Israel better then he: from the shoulder and vpward he appeared aboue al the people. 3. And the asses of Cis the father of Saul were lost: and Cis said to Saul his sonne: Take one of the seruants with thee, and rising goe, & seeke the asses. Who when they had passed by mount Ephraim, 4. & by the land of Salifa, & had not found, they passed also through the land of Salim, and they were not: yea and by the Land of Iemini, and found them not. 5. And when they were come into the Land of Sush, Saul said to the seruant that was with him: Come let vs returne, lest perhaps my father hath let alone the asses, and be careful for vs. 6. Who sayd to him: Behold a man of God is in this citie, a famous man: al that he speaketh, commeth to passe without doubtr. now therefore let vs goe thither, if perhaps he may tel vs of our way; for which we are come. 7. And Saul said to his seruant: Loe we wil goe: what shall we carie to the man of God? The bread is spent in our males: and present we haue none to giue vnto the man of God, nor any thing els. 8. Agayne the seruant answered saul and sayd : Behold there is found in my hand the fourth part of a sicke of siluer , let vs giue it to the man of God , that he may tel vs our way. 9. (For in time past in Israel so euery man spake , going to consult God, Come, and let vs goe to the Seer. For he that at this day is called a Prophet, in time past was called (a) a Seer.) 10. And Saul sayd to his seruant : Thy word is very good , come let vs goe. And they went into the citie, wherein the man of God was. 11. And when they went vp the ascent of the citie, they found maids coming forth to draw water , and sayd to them : Is the seer here ? 12. Who answering sayd to them : Here he is. Loe before thee , make halt now . for this day he came into the citie , because this day there is a sacrifice of the people in the excelse. 13. Enting into the citie immediately you shal find him, before he goe vp into the excelse to eat. for the people wil not eat til he come : because he wil blesse the Hoste, and afterward they shal eat that are inuited. Now therefore goe vp, because this day you shal finde him. 14. And they went vp into the citie. And when they walked in the middes of the citie, Samuel appeared coming forth against them, to goe vp into the excelse. 15. And our Lord had reuealed the eare of Samuel one day before Saul came, saying : 16. This very houre, that now is, to morrow wil I send to thee a man of the Land of Beniamin , and thou shalt annoint him ruler ouer my people of Isrrel : & he shal saue my people from the had of the Philistiims : because I haue respected my people, for (b) their crie is come to me. 17. And when Samuel had beheld Saul, our Lord sayd to him : Behold the man , of whom I told thee, this man shal rule ouer my people. 18. And Saul came to Samuel in the middes of the gate, & sayd : Shew me, I pray thee, where is the house of the Seer? 19. And Samuel answered Saul, saying : I am the Seer, goe vp before me into the excelse, that you may eat with me to day, & I wil dimisse thee in the morning : and al things that are in thy hart , wil I tel thee. 20. And concerning the asses, which thou didst lose three dayes agoe , be not careful, because they are found. And whose shal be al the best things of Israel ? not to thee and to al thy fathers house ? 21. And Saul answering, sayd : Am not I the sonne of Lemini of the least tribe of Israel , and my kindred the last among al the families of the tribe of Beniamin ? Why therefore halt thou spoken this word to me ? 22. Samuel therefore taking Saul & his seruant, brought them into the parour, & gaue them a place in the chiefe roome of them that were inuited. for there were about thirtie men. 23. And Samuel sayd to the cooke : Giue the portion, which I gaue thee, and comanded that thou shouldest lay it vp apart with thee. 24. And the cooke lifted vp a shoulder, & set it before saul. And Samuel said : Behold that which hath remayned, set it before thee, & eate : because of purpose it was kept for thee , when I called the people. And saul did eate with Samuel that day. 25. And they descended from the excelse i. to the towne, & he spake with Saul in the top of the house : & he prepared a bed for Saul in the highest roome, & he slept. 26. And when they were

Saul

(a) One that by diuine inspiration foreseeeth things to come.

(b) Oppression of innocents crieth to heauen.

rifen in the morning, and it began now to be light, Samuel called Saul in the high chamber, saying: Arise that I may dismisse thee. And Saul arose; and they went both forth, to wit, he and Samuel. 27. And when they came downe in the vttermost part of the citie, Samuel said to Saul: Speake to the seruant that he goe before vs, and passe: but stay thou a litle while, that I may tel thee the word of our Lord.

C H A P. X.

Saul is annoited King, and confirmed by signes that his ordinance is of God. 10. He prophesieth, which the people doth admire. 17. Samuel calleth the people together, for appointing a King, the lot falleth on Saul. 25. And the law of the King is againe mentioned.

a) S. Gregorie here noteth, that such as are placed in height of gouernment are annoited with oyle, which signifieth mercie, light, and curing of others. (b) But the litle vessel fore-shewed that Saul not persevering in grace, should be deposed from his Kingdome. li. 4. c. 5. in 1. Reg. 10

(c) Samuel enioyneth obedience to Saul to trie his humilitie. S. Greg. li. 4. c. 5. in 1. Reg. 10.

(d) God gaue him peculiar grace for executing the office of a King.

AND Samuel tooke (a) a litle vessel of (b) oyle, and powred vpon his head, and kissed him, and sayd: Behold, our Lord hath annoited thee vpon his inheritance to be Prince, and thou shalt deliuer his people out of the hands of their enemies, that are round about them. And this shall be a signe vnto thee, that God hath annoited thee to be Prince. 2. When thou shalt be departed from me this day, thou shalt finde two men beside the sepulchre of Rachel in the borders of Benjamin, in the South, and they shall say to thee: The asses are found, which thou didst goe to seeke: and thy father letting goe the asses, is careful for you, and sayth: What shall I doe concerning my sonne? 3. And when thou shalt depart thence, and passe farder, and shalt come to the oke Thabor, three men going vp to God into Bethel shall finde thee there, one carying three kiddes, and an other three manchets of bread, and an other carying a flagon of wine. 4. And when they haue saluted thee, they will giue thee two loaves, and thou shalt take them of their hand. 5. After these things thou shalt come into the hill of God, where the garrison of the Philisthims is: and when thou shalt be entred there into the citie, thou shalt meete there a flocke of Prophets comming downe from the excelse, and before them psaltarie and tymbrel, and shalme, and harpe, and themselues prophecying. 6. And the Spirit of our Lord shall seaze vpon thee, and thou shalt prophecie with them, and shalt be changed into an other man. 7. Therefore when al these signes shall chance to thee, doe what soeuer thy hand shall finde, because our Lord is with thee. 8. And thou shalt goe downe before me into Galgala (for I wil come downe to thee) that thou mayest offer oblation, and immolate pacifike victimes: (c) ieuē daies shalt thou expect, til I come to thee, & I wil shew thee what thou must doe. 9. Therefore when he had turned away his shoulder to depart from Samuel, God (d) changed vnto

him

him another hart, and al these things came in that day. 10. And they came to the foresaid hil, and behold a troupe of Prophets meeting him: & the (e) Spirit of our Lord seazed vpon him, and he prophesied in the middes of them. 11. And al that had knowen him yesterday and the day before, seeing that he was with the Prophets, & did prophesie, said to each other: What thing hath happened to the sonne of Cis? what is Saul also among the Prophets? 12. And one answered an other, saying: And who is (f) their father? therefore it was turned into a prouerbe: What is Saul also among the Prophets? 13. And he ceased to prophesie, and came to the excelse. 14. And Sauls vncler sayd to him, and to his seruant: Whither went you? who answered: To seeke the asses: which when we had not found, we came to Samuel. 15. And his vncler sayd to him: Tel me what Samuel sayd to thee. 16. And Saul sayd to his vncler: He told vs that the asses were found. But concerning the word of the Kingdom which Samuel had spoken to him, he told him not. 17. And Samuel called together the people to our Lord in Maspha: 18. And sayd to the children of Israel: Thus sayth our Lord the God of Israel: I brought Israel out of Ægypt, and deliuered you from the hand of the Ægyptians, and from the hand of al the Kings which afflicted you. 19. But you this day haue reiected your God, who only hath saued you out of al youre euils and tribulations: and you haue said: Not so: but appoint a King ouer vs. Now therefore stand before our Lord by your tribes, and by your families. 20. And Samuel brought al the tribes of Israel, and the (g) lot fel on the tribe of Benjamin. 21. And he brought the tribe of Benjamin and the kinreds thereof, & it fel vpon the kindred of Metri, and it came vnto Saul the sonne of Cis. They therefore sought him, and he was not found. 22. And after these things they consulted our Lord whether he would come thither. And our Lord answered: Behold he is hid at home. 23. They ranne therefore and tooke him from thence: and he stood in the middes of the people, and he was higher then al the people from the shoulder and vpward. 24. And Samuel said to al the people: Certes you see whom our Lord hath chosen, that there is not the like to him in al the people. And al the people cried, and sayd: God saue the King. 25. And Samuel spake to the people the law of the Kingdome, and wrote it in a booke, and layd it vp before our Lord: and Samuel dismissed al the people, euerie one into his owne house. 26. But Saul also departed vnto his house into Gabaa: & there went with him part of the armie, they whose harts God had touched. 27. But the children of Beial sayd: What, that this fellow be able to saue vs? and they despised him, & brought him not presents: but he dissembled as though he heard not.

(e) By and by also the giuft of prophesie.

(f) Their superiour.

(g) By lot the people were assured that the election was of God. 5. Greg: ibidem.

C H A P. X I.

Ammonites fighting against Iabes Galaad, and the citie readie to yeald, 5. Saul gathereth an armie, 11. ouerthroweth the enimie, 14. and is established King.

AND it came to passe as it were a month after, Naas the Ammonite ascended, and began to fight against Iabes of Galaad. And al the men of Iabes sayd to Naas: Make a league with vs, and we wil serue thee. 2. And Naas the Ammonite answered them: In this wil I make a league with you, that I may plucke out the right eyes of you al, and may make you a reproch in al Israel. 3. And the ancients of Iabes sayd to him: Grant vnto vs seuen daies, that we may send messengers vnto al the coasts of Israel: & if there shal not be that may defend vs, we wil come forth to thee. 4. The messengers therefore came into Gabaa of Saul: and they spake these words, in the hearing of the people: and al the people lifted vp their voice, and wept. 5. And behold Saul came, folowing oxen out of the field, and sayd: What ayleth the people that they weep? And they told him the words of the men of Iabes. 6. And the Spirit of our Lord seized on Saul, when he had heard these words, and his furie was exceeding wrath. 7. And taking both the oxen, he cut them into pieces, & sent them into al the coasts of Israel by messengers, saying: Whofocuer shal not goe forth, and folow Saul and Samuel, so shal it be done to his oxen. Therefore the feare of our Lord inuaged the people, and they went forth as it were one man. 8. And he numbred them in Bezec: and there were of the children of Israel three hundred thousand: and of the men of Iuda thirtie thousand. 9. And they sayd to the messengers that came: Thus shal you say to the men, that are in Iabes Galaad: To morow, whē the sunne shal waxe hot, you shal haue reliefe. The messengers therefore came, & told the men of Iabes: Who were glad. 10. And they said: In the morning (A) we wil come forth to you: & you shal doe to vs whatsoeuer shal please you. 11. And it came to passe, when the morow was come, Saul set the people into thre parts: & entred into the middles of the campe in the morning watch, and strucke Ammon vntil the day waxed hot, & the rest were disperfed, so that there were not left amōg thē two together. 12. And the people sayd to samuel: Who is this that said: what, shal saul reigne ouer vs: Giue vs the men and we wil kil thē. 13. and saul sayd: No man shal be killed this day, because our Lord this day hath relieued Israel. 14. And samuel said to the people: Come and let vs goe into Galgal, and let vs renew there a Kingdome. 15. And al the people went into Galgal, and there they made Saul

(A) As the men of Iabes deluded their enimies by equivocation, so speaking that they were otherwise vnderstood then they ment: so the seruants of God being tempted with concupiscence of gloutonic (signified by Naas) must deceiue their carnal appetite, by promising to satise the desire of the flesh, but in deed keep such temperance, as they may kil the concupiscence, and not be killed by it. S. Reg. 11. c. 1. in 1. Reg. 11.

King

King before our Lord in Galgal, and they immolated there pacifike victimes before our Lord. And Saul reioyced there, and al the men of Israel exceedingly.

C H A P. XII.

Samuel being iustified by the people for his good behauiour, 6. chargeth them with ingratitude towards God, 14. aamonishing them, and shewing by a signe, that they offended in demauning a King. 20. Exorteth them now to serue God, promiset to pray for them, and forewarneth that they shal re- ceue as they deserue.

AND Samuel sayd to al Israel: Behold I haue heard your voice according to al things which you haue spoken to me, and I haue appointed a King ouer you. 2. And now the King goeth before you: and I am waxen old and haue gray haire: moreouer my sonnes are with you: therefore hauing conuersed with you from my youth vntil this day, loe I am readie. 3. Speake of me before our Lord, and before his Christ, whether I haue taken any mans oxe, or asse: If I haue calumniated any man, if I haue oppressed any man, if I haue taken guift of any mans hand: and I wil contemne that same this day, and wil restore it to you. 4. And they said thou hast not calumniated vs, nor oppressed vs, nor taken ought of any mans hand. 5. And he sayd to them: Witnes is our Lord against you, and witnes is his (a) Christ in this day, that you haue not found any thing in my hand. And they said: Witnes. 6. And Samuel said to the people: Our Lord who made Moyfes & Aaron, & brought our fathers out of the Land of Ægypt is present. 7. Now therefore stand, that I may contend in iudgement against you before our Lord, concerning al the mercies of our Lord, which he hath done with you, and with your fathers: 8. how Iacob entred into Ægypt, and your fathers cried to our Lord: and our Lord sent Moyfes and Aaron, and brought your fathers out of Ægypt: and placed them in this place. 9. Who forgat our Lord their God, and he deliuered them in the hand of Sisara maiter of the hoste of Hasor, and in the hand of the Philiithiims, and in the hand of the King of Moab, and they fought against them. 10. But afterward they cried to our Lord, & said: We haue sinned, because we haue forsakē our Lord, & haue serued Baalim & Astaroth: now therefore deliuer vs frō the hād of our enemies. & we wil serue thee. 11. And our Lord sēt Icrobaal, & * Badan, & Iepte, & Samuel, and deliuered you from the nad of your enemies round about, & you dwelt securely. 12. But you seeing that Naas, King of the children of Ammon was come against you, you said to me:

a] The annointed King.

mightie
Samson

(b) Not

(b) They ment that they would not be ruled & protected as hitherto they had been, by Dukes & Iudges ordained & sent immediately by God, but would haue a King to reigne ouer them: imagining that so they should be better protected, and defended from forraine enemies: wherein they preferred their owne conceit & iudgement before Gods disposition, and therefore this sinne is often here inculcated, and much reprehēded S. Greg. l. 1. c. 2. in 1. Reg. 12.

(c) They feared God so much Gods face were their presumption, So Marie Magdalē with feare & hope approached & taried at Christs back. Luc 7. S. Greg. loco citato.

(b) Not so, but a King shal reigne ouer vs : whereas our Lord your God did reigne among you. 13. Now therefore your King is readie, whom you haue chofen and desired : behold our Lord hath giuen you a King. 14. If you shal feare our Lord, and serue him, & heare his voice, and not exasperate the mouth of our Lord : both you, & the King which reigneth our you, shal be folowers of our Lord your God: 15. but if you wil not heare the voice of our Lord, but shal exasperate his words, the hand of our Lord shal be vpon you, & vpon your * fathers. 16. But now also stād, & see this great thing which our Lord wil doe in your sight. 17. Is it not wheate haruest to day? I wil cal vpon our Lord, & he wil giue* noyses & rayne: and you shal know, & see that you haue done great euil to your selues in the sight of our Lord, desiring a King ouer you. 18. And Samuel cried to our Lord, & our Lord gaue noyses & rayne in that day 19. And al the people feared exceedingly our Lord and (c) Samuel. And al the people said to Samuel: Pray for thy seruants to our Lord thy God, that we die not. for we haue added euil to al our sinnes, that we desired vnto vs a King. 20. And Samuel said to the people: Feare not, you haue done al this euil: but yet depart not from the (d) backe of our Lord, but serue our Lord in al your hart. 21. And decline not after vaine things, which shal not profite you, nor deliuer you, because they are vaine. 22. And our Lord wil not forsake his people for his great name : because our Lord hath sworne to make you a people to himself. 23. And farre from me be this sinne in our Lord, that I should cease to pray for you, and I wil teach you the good and right way. 24. Therefore feare our Lord, and serue him in truth and from your whole hart. for you haue seen the great workes which he hath done among you. 25. But if you shal perseuer in malice, both you and your King shal perish together. the more, because they feared also his seruant. (d) For sinners to come before presumption, not to come to his back, or to depart from thence, were desperation. Magdalē with feare & hope approached & taried at Christs back. Luc 7. S. Greg.

power-
nomes.
S. Greg.
thunder.

CHAP. XIII.

Saul and Ionathas preuaile in battel against the Philisthims. 5. Who increasing their forces, the Israelites for feare fly away and hiee themselves. 8. Samuel not coming to the campe, Saul presumeth to offer sacrifice, 11. for which Samuel reproveth him, and declareth that his Kingdome shal be translated to another. 17. The Philisthims oppresse the Israelites, and depriue them of arm. 17.

(a) Saul beginning to reigne was innocent & humble as a child of one year.

(b) And in that state reigned the first two yeares. S. Greg. in hunc locum.

CHILD of (a) one year was Saul when he began to reigne, and (b) two yeares he reigned ouer Israel. 2. And Saul chose to himselfe three thousand of Israel: and there were with Saul two thousand in Machmas, and in the mount of bethel: and a thousand with Ionathas in Gabaa of Benjamin. Moreouer the rest of the people he sent backe euerie

man

man into their tabernacles: 2. And Ionathas struck the garrison of the Philisthims, which was in Gabaa. Which when the Philisthims had heard, Saul sounded with the trumpet in al the land, saying: Let the Hebrewes heare. 4. And al Israel heard this manner of bruit: Saul hath strucke the garrison of the Philisthims: & Israel tooke courage against the Philisthims. The people therefore cried after Saul in Galgal. 5. And the Philisthims were gathered together to fight against Israel, thirtie thousand chariots, and six thousand horsemen, and the rest of the common people, as the sand which is in the sea shore very much. And going vp they camped in Machmas at the East of Bethauen. 6. Which when the men of Israel had seen themselves put in a streit (for the people was afflicted) they hid themselves in caues, and in secret places, in rocks also, and in dennes, and in cesteracs. 7. And the Hebrewes passed Jordan into the Land of Gad and Galaad. And when Saul was yet in Galgal, al the people was fore afrayd, which folowed him. 8. And he expected seuen daies according to the appointment of Samuel, and Samuel came not into Galgal, and the people slipt away from him. 9. Saul therefore said: Bring me the holocauste, and the pacifikes. And he offered the holocauste. 10. And when he had finished offering the holocauste, behold semuel came: and Saul went forth to meet him & salute him. 11. And Samuel spake to him. What hast thou done? Saul answered: Because I saw that the people slipt from me, and thou wast not come according to the dayes appointed, moreover the Philisthims were gathered together into Machmas, 12. I said: Now wil the Philisthims come downe to me into Galgal, and I haue not pacified the face of our Lord. Compelled by necessitie, I offered the holocauste. 13. And Samuel said to saul: Thou hast (c) done foolishly, neither hast thou kept the cōmandments of our Lord thy God, which he cōmanded thee. Which (d) if thou hadst not done, euen now had our Lord prepared thy Kingdom ouer Israel for euer, 14. but thy Kingdō shal no tarder arise. Our Lord hath sought him a man according to his hart: and him hath our Lord commanded to be Prince ouer his people, because thou hast not obserued the things which our Lord comanded. 15. And Samuel arose & went vp frō Galgal into Gabaa of Benjamin. And numbered the people, which were found with him, as it were six hundred mē. 16. And Saul and Ionathas his sonne, and the people that were found with thē, was in Gabaa of Benjamin: moreover the Philisthims had pitched in Machmas. 17. And there issued forth to prey from the of Philisthians three companies. One companie went on against the way of Ephra to the Land of Saul. 18. Moreover an other went by the way of Bethoron, and the third had turned it-self to the way of the border, in the valley Seboim against the desert. 19. Moreover there was not found an yrō smith in al the Lād of Israel, for the Philisthims had so prouided, lest perhaps the Hebrewes should make sword or speare. 20. Al Israel therefore went downe to the Philisthims, that enerie man might

(c) He offended in offering sacrifice, being neither a Priest, nor extraordinarily allowed to doe that office, and for this & other faults was deposed.

(d) Gods foresight of sinne, & preordination to punish it, takerh not away free will, nor possibilitie of wel doing, nor of reward. S. Aug. li. 3. c. 4. de lib. arbit.

whet his plough culter, and spade, and axe, and rake. 21. Therefore the edges of the shares, and spades, and forks with three teeth, and axes were blunt, euen to the godeprick, which was to be mended. 22. And when the day was come to fight, there was not found sword and speare in the hand of al the people, that was with Saul and Ionathas, except Saul and Ionathas his sonne. 23. And the station of the Philisthiims went forth, to passe vp into Machmas.

C H A P. XIII.

Ionathas trusting in God, accompanied with one man, his father not knowing, goeth into the Philisthiims campe, killeth twentie men, and troubleth their whole armie. 16. Saul vnderstanding the same, approcheth with his armie, and they get a great victorie. 24. But Saul hauing commanded vnder paine of death, that none should eat til night, Ionathas for tasting a litle bonie (though ignorant of the prohibition) is iudged to die. 45. But the people oppose themselues, and deliuer him from death. 47. Saul prospereth in his Kingdome, with his familie.

AND it chanced on a certaine day, that Ionathas the sonne of Saul sayd to the yong man that bare his armour: Come and let vs passe to the garison of the Philisthiims, which is beyond yonder place. But to his father he told not this same thing. 2. Morcouer Saul abode in the vtmost part of Gabaa vnder the pomegranate tree, which was in Magron: and the people with him was about six hundred men. 3. And Achias the sonne of Achitob the brother of Ichabod the sonne of Phinees, which was borne of Heli the Priest of our Lord in Silo, bare the ephod. But the people also was ignorant whither Ionathas was gone. 4. And there were between the ascents, by the which Ionathas endeauoured to passe vnto the garison of the Philisthiims, rockes standing vp on both sides, and as it were in manner of teeth stiepe broken rockes on either side, the name of one Boses, and the name of the other Sene: 5. one rocke standing out toward the North ouer-against Machmas, and the other to the South, against Gabaa. 6. And Ionathas sayd to the yong man that bare his armour: Come, let vs passe to the station of these vncircumcised, if happily our Lord wil make for vs: because it is not hard for our Lord to saue either in manie or in few. 7. And his esquier sayd to him: Doe al things which please thy mind: goe whither thou desirest, and I wil be with thee wheresoeuer thou wilt. 8. And Ionathas sayd: Behold we passe to these men. And when we shal appeare to them, 9. if they shal speake to vs in this manner: Tarie til we come to you: let vs stand in our place, & not goe vp to them. 10. But if they shal say: Come vp to vs: let vs goe vp, because our Lord hath deliuered them in our hands, (u) this thal be a signe vnto vs. 11. Both of them therefore appeared to the station of the Philisthiims: and the Philisthiims sayd: Behold the Hebrewes come out of the caues, wherein they were hid. 12. And the men of the garrison spake to Ionathas and to his esquier, and sayd: Come vp to vs, and we wil shew you a thing. And Ionathas sayd to his esquier: Let vs goe vp, folow me: for our Lord hath deliuered them into the hands of Israel. 13. And Ionathas went vp on his hands and feete creeping, and his esquier after him. Therefore some fel before Ionathas, other some his esquier folowing slew. 14. And the first slaughter, which Ionathas and his esquier made, was as it were of twentie men, in the halfe part of an aker, which a yoke of oxen is wont to plough in a day. 15. And there was made a miracle in the campe, through the fields: yea and al the people of their garison which had gone to take preyes, was astonished, and the land was troubled: and it happened as a miracle from God. 16. And the watchmen of Saul, which were in Gabaa of Benjamin, looked, and loe a multitude ouerthrowen, and flying hither and thither. 17. And Saul sayd to the people, which was with him: Enquire, and see who is gone from vs. And when they had fought, it was found that Ionathas was not present and his esquier. 18. And Saul sayd to Achias: Bring the arke of our Lord. (for the arke of God was there that day with the children of Israel.) 19. And whē Saul spake to the Priest, there arose a great tumult in the campe of the Philisthiims: and it grew by litle and litle, and sounded more cleerly. And saul sayd to the Priest: (v) Draw together thy hand. 20. Saul therefore and al the people that was with him shoued together, and they came to the place of the fight: and behold cuerie mans sword had been turned to his neighbour, and a slaughter exceeding great. 21. But the Hebrewes also which had been with the Philisthiims yesterday and the day before, and went vp with them in the campe, returned to be with Israel, which were with Saul and Ionathas. 22. Al the Israelites also which had hid themselues in mount Ephraim, hearing that the Philisthiims were fled, ioyned themselues with their fellowes in battel. And there were with Saul as it were ten thousand men. 23. And our Lord in that day saued Israel, and the fight reached as farre as Bethauen. 24. And the men of Israel were ioyned among themselues in that day: and Saul adiured the people, saying: Cursed be the man that thal eate bread vntil eueing, til I be reuēged of myne enemies. And the whole people did eate no bread. 25. and al the common people of the land came into a forest, wherein was honie vpō the face of the field. 26. The people therefore entred into the forest, and there appeared dropping honie, and no man put his hand to his mouth, for the people feared the oath. 27. But Ionathas had not heard when his father adiured the people: & he put forth the tip of the rod which he had in his hand, ana dipped it into a honie combe: and he turned his hand to his mouth, and his eies were illuminated. 28. And

(a) Ominous speeches are proued by this and some other examples to be sometimes of God, though sometimes this kind of obseruation is superstitious. As before is noted, Gen. 24.

(b) Pray no more nor expect no longer: so they proceeded to battel without further warrant.

c) Ionathas was excused by ignorance, & by necessitie; and therefore was iustly deliuered by the people; and his father offended, in not excepting the case of necessitie, & through more eage zeale of reuenge, then he had warrant from God, whose answer he would not expect. v. 19.

(d) Wherof followed also another sinne, that the people fainting for lacke of meate did eat flesh with the blood, contrarie to the law.

(e) Before, v. 29 Saul would not expect Gods answer: now therefore God wil not answer him.

(f) Ionathas was found to haue transgressed the vnadvised commandment, but Saul himself was in a greater fault of rash proceeding, & vndiscreet commanding.

one of the people answering, sayd: Thy father hath bound the people with an oath, saying: Cursed be the man that shal eat bread this day. (and the people was faynt.) 29. And Ionathas sayd: (c) My father hath troubled the land: your selues haue seen that myne eies are illuminated, because I haue tasted a litle of this honie: 30. how much more if the people had eaten of the prey of their enemies, which they found: had there not been made a greater plague in the Philisthiims? 31. They strucke therefore in that day the Philisthiims frō Machmas vnto Aialon. And the people was wearied exceedingly: 32. and being turned to the prey tooke sheep, and oxen, and calues., and slew them on the ground: and the people did eat (d) with blood. 33. And they told Saul saying that the people had sinned to our Lord, eating with blood. Who sayd: You haue transgressed: Role to me euen now a great stone. 34. And Saul sayd: Disperse your selues among the common people, and tel them that euerie man bring me his ox and ramme, and kil ye them vpon this same, and eat, and you shal not sinne to our Lord eating with blood. Al the people therefore brought euerie man his ox in his hand vntil night: and slew them there. 35. And Saul built an altar to our Lord; and then first did he begin to build an altar to our Lord. 36. And Saul sayd: Let vs fal vpon the Philisthiims by night, and let vs spoyle them til it waxe light in the morning, neither let vs leaue a man of them. And the people sayd: Doe al that seemeth good in thye eies. And the Priest sayd: Let vs approach hither to God. 37. And Saul consulted our Lord: Shal I pursue the Philisthiims? wilt thou deliuer them into the hands of Israei? And (e) he answered him not in that day. 38. And Saul sayd: Bring hither al the corners of the people: and know, and see by whom this siane hath chanced to day. 9. Our Lord the Sauour of Israel liueth, that if it were done by Ionathas my sonne, he shal die without reuoking. Whereunto none of the people gaynesayd him. 40. And he sayd to al Israei: Be you separated into one side, and I with Ionathas my sonne wil be on the other side. And the people answered Saul: Doe what seemeth good in thyne eies. 41. And Saul sayd to our Lord: Lord God of Israel, giue a signe: and Ionathas was caught and Saul, and the people went forth. 42. And Saul sayd: Cast ye lot between me, and Ionathas my sonne. And (f) Ionathas was taken. 43. And Saul sayd to Ionathas: Tel me what thou hast done. And Ionathas told him, and sayd: Tasting I tasted in the tippe of the rod which was in myne hand a litle honie, & behold I die. 44. And Saul sayd: These things doe God to me, & these things adde he, that dying thou shalt die Ionathas. 45. And the people said to Saul: Shal Ionathas then die, which hath made this great saluation in Israel? this is vnlawful: our Lord liueth, if there shal fal a haire from his head vpon the ground, because with God hath he wrought to day. The people therefore deliuered Ionathas, that he should not die. 46. And Saul retyred, neither did he pursue the Philisthiims: moreouer the Philisthiims departed into their places.

47. And Saul, his Kingdome being established ouer Israel, fought round about against al his enemies, against Moab, & the children of Ammon, and Edom, and the Kings of Soba, and the Philisthians: and whither foeuer he turned himself, he ouercame. 48. And gathering together an armie, he strucke Amalec, and deliuered Israel from the hand of the spoylers thereof. 49. And the sonnes of Saul, were Ionathas and Iesui, and Melchisam: and the names of his two daughters, the name of the first borne Merob, and the name of the yonger Michol. 50. And the name of Sauls wife, Achinoam the daughter of Achimaas: and the name of the Prince of his host Abner, the sonne of Ner, the cofin german of Saul by the father. 51. Moreover Cis was the father of Saul, and Ner the father of Abner, the sonne of Abiel. 52. And there was mightie battel against the Philisthians al the dayes of Saul. For whomfoeuer Saul had seen a valiant man, and fit for battel, he ioyned him to himselfe.

C H A P. XV.

Saul is commanded utterly to destroy the Amalecites, 8. but he taking Agag their King spareth his life, & chiefe of the prey. 10. For which disobedience (20. though pretending that the best things were reserved for sacrifice) he is deposea from his Kingdome. 24. Then acknowledgeth his fault. 32. Samuel catcheth Agag in picas, 3. and mourneth for Saul.

AND Samuel said to Saul: Our Lord sent me to annoint thee King ouer his people Israel; now therefore heare the voice of our Lord: 2. Thus sayth the Lord of hosts: I haue recounted whatfoeuer Amalec hath done to Israel: how he resisted them in the way when they came vp out of Ægypt. 3. Now therefore goe, and (a) strike Amalec, and (b) destroy al that he hath: spare him not, and couet not ought of his things: but kil from man vnto woman, both child & suckling, oxe and sheep, camel and asse. 4. Saul therefore commanded the people, and numbred them as it were lambes: two hundred thousand footmē, & tē thousand of the mē of Iuda. 5. And whē Saul was come vnto the citie of Amalec, he laid ambushmēt in the torrent. 6. And Saul said to the Cineite: Goe ye, retyre & depart frō Amalec: lest perhaps I wrap thee in with him, for thou hast done mercie with al the children of Israel, when they descended out of Ægypt. And the Cineite departed out of the middes of Amalec. 7. And Saul strucke Amalec frō Heuila, vntil thou come to Sur, which is ouer-against Ægypt. 8. And he apprehended Agag the King of Amalec aliue: but al the common people he slew in the edge of the sword. 9. And Saul and the people spared Agag, & the best flocks of sheep & heards, & the garments & rainnes, & al things,

(a) Amalec is stricken when the flesh is chasticed by abstinence.

(b) Destroyed when the mind is restrained frō vnclane cogitations. S Greg. li. 6. c. 1. in 1. Reg. 15.

that were fayre, neither would they destroy them: but whatsoeuer was vile and refuse, that they destroyed. 10. And the word of our Lord was made to Samuel, saying: 11. It repenteth me that I haue made Saul King: because he hath forsaken me, & hath not fulfilled my words in worke. And Samuel was stricken sad, and cried to our Lord at the night. 12. And when Samuel had risen in the night, to goe to Saul in the morning, it was told Samuel, that Saul was come into Carmelus, and had crected to himselfe a triumphant arch, and returning was passed, & gone into Galgal. Samuel therefore came to Saul, and Saul offered an holocaust to our Lord of the first of the preyes, which he had brought from Amalec. 13. And when Samuel was come to Saul, Saul said to him: Blessed be thou to our Lord, I haue fulfilled the word of our Lord. 14. And Samuel sayd: And what is this voice of flocks, which soundeth in myne eares, and of heards, which I heare? 15. And Saul said: They haue brought them from Amalec: for the people hath spared the better sheep and heards that they might be immolated to our Lord thy God, but the rest we haue slaine. 16. And Samuel said to Saul: Suffer me, and I wil shew thee what our Lord hath spoken to me this night. And he sayd to him: Speake. 17. And Samuel said: When thou wast a little one in thyne owne eyes, (c) was thou not made chief in the tribes of Israel? And our Lord annointed thee to be King ouer Israel, 18. and our Lord sent thee on the way, and sayd: Goe, and kil the sinners of Amalec, and thou shalt fight against them vntil the vtter destructiō of them. 19. Why therefore hast thou not heard the voice of our Lord: but art turned to the prey, & hast done euil in the eies of our Lord? 20. And Saul said to Samuel: Yea I haue heard the voice of our Lord, & haue walked in the way by which our Lord sent me, & haue brought Agag the King of Amalec, & Amalec I haue slaine. 21. But the people took of the prey sheep and oxen, the principal of those things which were slaine, to immolate to our Lord their God in Galgal. 22. And Samuel said: Why? wil our Lord haue holocausts and victimes, and not rather that the voice of our Lord be obeyed? For (d) BETTER IS OBEDIENCE THEN VICTIMES: and to harken rather then to offer the fat of rammes. 23. Because it is as it were the sinne of inchantment, to resist, & as it were the wickednes of idolatrie, to refuse to obey. For as much therefore as thou hast reiected the word of our Lord, our Lord hath reiected thee, that thou shalt not be King. 24. And Saul said to Samuel: I haue sinned, because I haue transgressed the saying of our Lord, and thy words, fearing the people, and obeying their voice. 25. But now beare I beseech thee my sinne, and returne with me, that I may adore our Lord. 26. And Samuel sayd to Saul: I wil not returne with thee, because thou hast reiected the word of our Lord, and our Lord hath reiected thee that thou shalt not be King ouer Israel. 27. And Samuel turned himselfe to depart: but he caught the hemme of his cloke, which also did rend. 28. And Samuel said to him: Our Lord hath rent the Kingdome of Israel from thee this day, and hath deliuered it

(c) When Saul was humble he was exalted, now being proud he is reiected.

(d) By ordinarie sacrifices, we giue our external goods to God, by obedience we giue our selues. S. Greg. l. 6. c. 2. in 1. Reg. 15.

to thy neighbour better then thou. 29. Moreouer the Triumpher in Israel wil not spare , and he wil not be turned with repentance : for neither is he a man that he may repent. 30. But he said : I haue sinned : howbeit now honour me before the ancients of my people , and before Israel, & returne with me , that I may adore our Lord thy God. 31. Samuel therefore returning folowed Saul: & Saul adored our Lord. 32. And Samuel said : Bring vnto me Agag the King of Amalec. And Agag was presented to him very fat, trembling. And Agag sayd : Doth bitter death thus separate ? 33. And Samuel said : As thy sword hath made women without children , so shal thy mother among women be without children. And Samuel hewed him into pieces before our Lord in Galgal. 34. And Samuel departed into Ramatha : but Saul ascended vnto his house into Gabaa. 35. And Samuel saw Saul no more vnto the day of his death : but yet Samuel lamented Saul because it (e) repented our Lord that he had appointed him King ouer Israel.

(e) God is said improperly to repent, when he altereth the thing that he did before. S. Amb. li. de Noe c. 4.

C H A P. X V I.

Samuel by Gods commandment annointeth Dauid King. 14. Gods spirite parteth from Saul, and a wicked spirite vexeth him. 16. The vexation is mitigated by Dauids playing on a harpe.

AND our Lord said to Samuel : How long dost thou mourne Saul , whom I haue reiected that he rule not ouer Israel ? fill thy horne with oile , and come , that I may send thee to Isai the Bethlehemite : for I haue prouided me a King among his sonnes. 2. And Samuel said : How shal I goe ? for Saul wil heare of it , and wil kil me. And our Lord said : A calfe of the heard shalt thou take in thy hand , and shalt say : I am come to immolate vnto our Lord. 3. And thou shalt cal Isai to the victime , and I wil shew thee what thou must doe , and thou shalt annoint whomsoever I inal shew to thee. 4. Samuel therefore did as our Lord spake to him. And he came into Bethlehem, and the ancients of the citie marueled meeting him, and they said : Is thy entrance peaceable? 5. And he said : Peaceable : I am come to immolate vnto our Lord , be ye sanctified and come with me that I may immolate. He therefore sanctified Isai and his sonnes , and called them to the sacrifice. 6. And when they were entred in, he saw Eliab , and said : Is there before our Lord his Christ? 7. And our Lord said to Samuel : Respect not his countenance , nor the talnes of his stature : because I haue reiected him , neither doe I iudge according to the looke of man : for man seeth those things which appeare , but our Lord beholdeth the hart. 8. And Isai called Aminadab , and brought him before Samuel. Who said:

The third part. Dauids anointing, his vertues, & persecution.

Neither

Neither this hath our Lord chosen. 9. And Isai brought Samma; of whom he said: This also hath not our Lord chosen. 10. Isai therefore brought his seauen sonnes before Samuel: & Samuel sayd to Isai: Our Lord hath not chosen of these. 11. And Samuel sayd to Isai: Are al thy sonnes now fully come? Who answered: Yet there is left a litle one, & he feedeth sheep. And Samuel sayd to Isai: Send, and bring him: for neither wil we sit downe til he come hither. 12. He sent therefore, and brought him. And he was red and beautiful to behold, and of a comelie face. And our Lord said: Arise, and annoint him, for he it is. 13. Samuel therefore tooke the horne of oile, & annointed him in the middes of his brethren: and the Spirit of our Lord from that day & so forward was directed vpon Dauid: & Samuel rising went into Ramatha. 14. And the Spirit of our Lord departed from Saul, and a wicked spirit vexed him (a) from our Lord. 15. And the seruants of Saul said to him: Behold an euil spirit of God vexeth thee. 16. Let our Lord command, and thy seruants which are before thee wil seeke a man skilful to (b) play on the harpe, that when the euil spirit of our Lord shal take thee, he may play with his hand, and thou beare it more easily. 17. And Saul sayd to his seruants: Prouide me therefore some man that playeth wel, and bring him to me. 18. And one of the seruants answering, sayd: Behold I haue seen the sonne of Isai the Bethlehemite skilful to play, and very valiant in strength, and a warlike man, and wise in his words, & a beautiful man: and our Lord is with him. 19. Saul therefore sent messengers to Isai saying: Send vnto me Dauid thy sonne, which is in the pastures. 20. Isai therefore tooke an asse loaden with loaves, and a flagon of wine, and one kid of the goats, and sent it by the hand of Dauid his sonne to Saul. 21. And Dauid came to Saul, and stood before him: but he loued him exceedingly, and was made his esquier. 22. And Saul sent to Isai, saying: Let Dauid stand in my sight: for he hath found grace in myne eies. 23. Therefore whensoever the euil spirit of our Lord caught Saul, Dauid tooke his harpe, & stricke with his hand, & Saul was refreshed, and waxed better, for the euil spirit departed from him.

(a) By Gods permission. S. Aug. li. 2. q. 1. ad Simplician. S. Beda. qq. in 1. Reg. . 5.
 (b) Naturally (as these men truly iudged) musike helpeth some disposition of humours, & draweth also the mind from so vehement apprehension of afflictions: but here it seemeth more probable that God supernaturally relieved Saul by Davids playing on the harpe, rogether with his sincere deuotio, for more manifest condemnation of the one, and iustification of the other. Glos. ordin. S. Greg.

ANNOTATIONS.

CHAP. XVI.

7. Beholdeth the hart.] It is proper to God to see the secret cogitations of mens harts, of himselfe and by his owne power. And glorified Saints know our cogitations by seeing God, in whom al things appeare, that pertaine to their state, and for the profit of others. S. Aug. li. de cura pro mortuis, c. 25. S. Greg. li. 12. c. 13. Moral. Prophets being yet mortal, by inspirations doe also see secret cogitations. 1. Reg. 9. 5. Reg. 14. &c.

How Saints & Prophets know mens thoughts.

C H A P. XVII.

Goliath a Philistian challengeth anie one of Israel to combate. 12. David being sent by his father to visit his brethren, 23. and hearing at Israel so reprochfully prouoked, offereth to vndertake the challenge: 34. shewing by former actes that he daare accept it. 37. And so by Gods special helpe wherein he trusteth, 49. ouerthroweth the chalenger with a stone of his sling, and curreth off his head with his owne sword. 51. the Philistims flying are slaine, and David bringeth the mans head to Saul.

AND the Philisthiims gathering together their companies vnto battel, assembled into Socho of Iuda: and camped between Socho and Azeca in the borders of Dommim. 2. Moreouer Saul and the children of Israel being gathered together came into the Valley of terebinth, and they put the armie in aray to fight against the Philisthiims. 3. And the Philisthiims stood vpon the mountaine on this side, and Israel stood vpon the mountaine on the other side: and the valley was between them. 4. And there came forth a man that was a bastard from the campe of the Philistians, named, (a) Goliath, of Geth, in height six cubits and a palme: 5. and a helmet of brasse vpon his head, & he was clothed with a cote of mayle linked, moreouer the weight of his cote of mayle was fise thousand sicles of brasse: 6. and he had brassen boots on his thighs, and a target of brasse couered his shoulders. 7. And the shaft of his speare was as it were a weauers beame, and the verie yton of his speare had six hundred sicles of yron: and his esquier went before him. 8. And standing he cried against the bands of Israel, & sayd to them: Why came you prepared to fight? Am not I a Philistian, and you the seruants of Saul? Choose out a man of you, and let him descend to fight hand to hand. 9. If he shal be able to fight with me, & strike me, we will be seruants to you: but if I shal preuaile, & shal beate him, you shal be seruants, & shal serue vs. 10. And the Philistian sayd: I haue defyed the bands of Israel this day: Giue me a man, and let him fight with me hand to hand. 11. And saul and al the Israelites hearing such words of the Philistian, were astonished, and feared exceedingly. 12. And there was David the sonne of a man that was an Ephrathite, of whom there was mention before, of Bethlehem Iuda, whose name was Isai, who had eight sonnes, and he was in the dayes of Saul an old man, and aged among men. 13. And his three eider sonnes went after Saul into battel: and the names of his three sonnes, which went to battel, were Eliab the first begotten, and the second Abinadab, the third also

(a) This bold & impudent challenger signifieth the diuel, or anie arch-heretike, that prouoketh the Church of God: but is ouercome by the humble of hart and confident in God, & slain with his owne weapon.

Samma: 14. and Dauid was the yongest. The three elder therefore hauing folowed Saul, 15. Dauid went, and returned from Saul, to feed his fathers flocke in Bethlehen. 16. But the Philistian came forth morning and euening, and stood fourtie dayes. 17. And Ifai sayd to Dauid his sonne: Take for thy brethren an ephi of polent, & these ten loaves, and runne into the campe to thy brethren, 18. and these ten litle cheeses thou shalt carie to the tribune: and shalt visite thy brethren, if they doe wel: and learne with whom they are placed. 19. And Saul, and they, and al the children of Israel fought in the Valley of terebinth against the Philisthiims. 20. Dauid therefore arose in the morning, & commended the flocke to the keeper: and he went loaded as Ifai had comanded him. And he came to the place Magala, and to the host, which issuing out to fight had made a shout in the battel. 21. For Israel had put themselues in aray, and the Philisthiims on the contrarie side were prepared.
 22. Dauid therefore leauing the vessels which he had brought, vnder the hand of him that was keeper at the begage, ranne to the place of the battel, and asked if al things went wel with his brethren. 23. And when he yet spake to them, that man the bastard appeared comming vp, named Goliath, the Philistian of Geth, comming vp from the campe of the Philistians: and he speaking these self-same words, Dauid heard them. 24. And al the Israelites when they had seen the man, fled from his face, fearing him exceedingly. 25. And some one of Israel sayd: Haue you seen this man that came vp, to defye Israel he came vp? The man therefore (b) that shal strike him, the King wil giue him his daughter, and he wil make his fathers house without tribute in Israel. 26. And Dauid spake to the men that stood with him, saying: What may be giuen to the man that shal beate this Philistian, and shal take away the reproch from Israel? For who is this vncircumcised Philistian, which hath vpbraided the armies of the liuing God? 27. And the people reported vnto him the self-same word, saying: These things shal be giuen to the man, that shal strike him. 28. Which when Eliab his eldest brother had heard, when he spake with others, he was angrie against Dauid, and sayd: Wherefore camest thou? and why hast thou left those few sheep in the desert? I know thy pride, and the wickednes of thy hart: that to see the battel thou art come downe. 29. And Dauid sayd: What haue I done? is there not cause to speake? 30. And he went a litle aside fr him to an other, and sayd the self-same word. And the people answered him as before. 31. And the words which Dauid spake were heard, and told in the sight of Saul. 32. To whom when he was brought, he spake vnto him: Let not any mans hart be discouraged in him: I thy seruant wil goe, and wil fight against the Philistian. 33. And Saul said to Da-uid: Thou are not able to resist this Philitian, nor to fight against him, because thou art a childe, but he is a man of warre from his youth. 34. And Dauid sayd to Saul: Thy seruant did feed his fathers flock, and there came a lyon, * or a beare, and tooke a ramme out of

(b) Christ ouer-coming the diuel receiued the Church to his spouse. S.
 Greg.

* or, for
 and. v.
 36. 36.

the

the middes of the flocke : 35. and I pursued them, and strucke them, & plucked them out of their mouth, and they arose vp against me, and I caught their chinne, & I strangled and slew thē. 36. For (c) both the lyon and the beare did I thy seruant kil : therefore this vncircumcised Philistian also shal be as it were one of thē. Now wil I goe & take away the reproch of the people : for who is this vncircumcised Philistian, which hath been so hardie to curse the host of the liuuing God ? 37. And Dauid sayd : Our Lord which hath deliuered me from the hand of the lion, and of the beare, he wil deliuer me from the hand of this Philistian. And Saul sayd to Dauid : Goe, & our Lord be with thee. 38. And Saul clothed Dauid with his rayments, & put an helmet of brasse vpon his head, and vested him with a coate of maile. 39. Dauid therefore being girded with his sword ouer his rayment, began to proue if he could goe armed : for he was not accustomed. And Dauid sayd to Saul : I can not goe so, because I am not vsed, & he layd thē off. 40. And he tooke his staffe, which he had alwaies in his hands, & he chose him siue most bright stones out of the torrent, and cast them into the shepherds skrip, which he had with him, & he tooke a sling in his hand, & went forth against the Philistian. 41. And the Philistian went, going, & approching against Dauid, and his esquier before him. 42. And when the Philistian had seen and beheld Dauid, he despised him. And he was a yong man red and beautiful to behold. 43. And the Philistian sayd to Dauid : Why am I a dogge, that thou comest to me with a staffe ? And the Philitian cursed Dauid in his Gods, 44. and sayd to Dauid : Come to me, & I wil giue thy fleish to the foules of the ayre and the beasts of the earth. 45. And Dauid sayd to the Philistian : Thou comest to me with a sword, & speare, & sheeld, but I come to thee in the name of the Lord of hosts, the God of the bands of Israel, whom thou hast defied 46. this day, and our Lord shal giue thee in my hand, & I shal strike thee, and take away thy head from thee : and I shal giue the carcasses of the campe of the Philisthiims this day to the foules of the ayre, and to the beasts of the earth : that al the earth may know that there is a God in Israel. 47. And al this assēblie shal know, that not in sword, nor in speare, doth our Lord saue, for it is his battel, & he wil deliuer you into our hands. 48. When the Philistian therefore was risen vp, & came & approched against Dauid, Dauid made hast, & ran to the battel against the Philistian. 49. And he put his hand into his skrip, and tooke one stone, and cast it with the sling, and fetching it about strucke the Philistian in (d) the forehead, and he fel on his face vpon the earth. 50. And Dauid preuailed against the Philistian with sling and stone, and he strucke, and slew the Philistian. And whereas Dauid had no sword in his hand, 51. he ran, and stood vpon the Philistian, and tooke his sword, and drew it out of the scabard, and slew him, & cut off his head. And the Philisthiims seeing that the strongest of thē was dead, did flye. 52. And the men of Israel & Iuda rising vp shouted, & pursued the Philistiās til they came into a valley to the gates

(c) He that hath overcome the spirit of pride & of carnalitie (signified by a lion & a beare) is able also to overcome the diuel.

d) Pride hauing impudencie of the forehead, is overthrowne by humilitie of Christs crosse : whose signe therefore we carie in our fort. ead. 5. Aug li. 50. homil. 10. 31.

(e) Saul knew not Dauid, being perhaps in a shepwards habite: though he had not long before serued & pleased him
wel. Ch. 16. v. 21

of Accaron, and there fel wounded of the Philisthims in the way of Saraim, as farre as Geth, and as farre as Accaron. 53. And the children of Israel returning, after they had pursued the Philistians, inuaded their campe. 54. And Dauid taking the head of the Philistian brought it into Ierusalem: but his armour he layd in his tabernacle. 55. And at the same time that Saul saw Dauid going forth against the Philistian, he sayd to Abner the Prince of the armie: (e) Of what stocke is this yong man descended, Abner? And Abner sayd: Thy soule liueth, o King, if I know. 56. And the King sayd: Aske thou whose sonne this yong man is. 57. And when Dauid was returned, after the Philistian was slaine, Abner tooke him, and brought him in before Saul, hauing the head of the Philistian in his hand. 58. And Saul sayd to him: O yong man, of what progenie art thou? And Dauid sayd: I am the sonne of thy seruant Isai the Bethlehemite.

CHAP. XVIII.

Dauid and Ionathas enter league of freindship. 6. Saul hearing Dauid praised aboue himself is offended, 10. and vexed with an euil spirit attempteth twice to kil him: 17. Promiseth to giue him his eldest daughter in marriage; but giueth her to an other, 20. and giueth him the yonger, thereby to ouerthrow him: 25. putting him also in more danger, by requiring of him an hundred prepuces of Philisthims. 27. Dauid bringeth him two hundred, and his fame increaseth.

(a) This hapned not immediately after the victorie against Goliath, but when Dauid had dwelt some time in Sauls house, & was very grateful to him, & to al the court & people.

(b) When the praises of one import diminishing of another, he that is proud, as Saul now was, is moued to enuie & malice, more & more as the vertues of the other & his praises doe increase.

AND it came to passe, when he had finished to speake vnto Saul, the soule of Ionathas was ioyned fast to the soule of Dauid, and Ionathas loued him as his soule. 2. And Saul tooke him in that day, and did not grant vnto him to returne into his fathers house. 3. And Dauid and Ionathas entred a league, for he loued him as his soule. 4. For Ionathas stripped himself of the cote wherwith he was clothed, and gaue it to Dauid, and the rest of his garments, vnto his sword, and bow, and vnto his belt. 5. Dauid also went forth to al things wheretoeuer Saul sent him, & he behaued himself wisely: and Saul placed him ouer the men of warre, & he was accepted in the eies of al the people, & specially in the eies of Saules seruants. 6. Moreouer (a) when Dauid returned, after he strucke the Philistiā, the women came forth from al the tribes of Israel, singing & dācing to Saul the King, in timbrels of ioy, & in cornets. 7. And the women sang, playing and saying: Saul strucke a thousand, and Dauid ten thousand. 8. And Saul was (b) exceeding angrie, & this word was displeasent in his eies, and he sayd: They haue giuen Dauid ten thousand,

and to

& to me they haue giuen a thousand: what remayneth for him but only the Kingdome?.. Therefore Saul did not looke vpon Dauid with right eyes from that day and afterward. 10. And a day after, the euil spirit of God inuaded Saul, and he prophecied in the middes of his house. And Dauid played with his hand as euery day. And Saul held a speare, 11. and threw it, thinking that he could naile Dauid to the wal, and Dauid declined from his face the second time. 12. And Saul feared Dauid because our Lord was with him, and was departed from himself. 13. Saul therefore remoued him from him, and made him a tribune ouer a thousand men, and he went out and came in before al the people. 14. Also in al his wayes Dauid delt wisely, and our Lord was with him. 15. Saul therefore sayd that he was exceeding wise, and he began to beware of him. 16. But al Israel and Iuda loued Dauid, for he came in and went out before them. 17. And Saul sayd to Dauid: Behold my elder daughter Merob, her wil I giue thee to wife, only be thou a valyant man, and fight the battels of our Lord. And Saul thought saying: Be not my hand vpon him, but let the hãds of the Philistians be vpon him. 18. And Dauid sayd to Saul: What am I, or what is my life, or the kindred of my father in Israel, that I should be made the sonne in law of the King? 19. And it came to passe, at what time Merob the daughter of Saul should haue beë giuē to Dauid, she was giuen to Hadriel the Molathite to wife. 20. But Dauid loued Michol the other daughter of Saul. And it was told Saul, and it pleased him. 21. And Saul sayd: I wil giue her to him, that she may be a scandal vnto him, & that the hãd of the Philistians may be vpon him. And Saul sayd to Dauid: In two things thou shalt be my sonne in law this day. 22. And Saul commanded his seruants: Speake to Dauid secretly out of my presence, saying: Behold thou pleasest the King, and al his seruants loue thee. Now therefore be thou the Kings sonne in law. 23. And the seruants of Saul spake al these words in the eares of Dauid. And Dauid sayd: Doth it seeme vnto you a smal matter to be the sonne in law of a King? But I am a poore man, and of smal ability. 24. And the seruants of Saul reported, saying: These manner of words hath Dauid spoken. 25. And Saul said: Speake thus to Dauid: The King needeth no dowrie, but only an hundred prepuces of the Philistians, that reuenge may be made of the Kings enemies. Moreouer Saul thought to deliuer Dauid into the hands of the Philistians. 26. And when nis seruants had reported to Dauid the words that Saul had sayd, the word was liked in the eies of Dauid, to be made the Kings sonne in law. 27. And after few dayes Dauid rising vp, went with the men that were vnder him, and he strucke of the Philisthims two hundred men, and brought their prepuces, and numbred them to the King, that he might be his sonne in law. Saul therefore gaue him Michol his daughter to wife. 28. And Saul saw, and vnderstood that our Lord was with Dauid. And Michol the daughter of Saul loued him. 29. And Saul began more to teare Dauid: and Saul became enemy to Dauid al daies. 30. And the Princes of the Philistians went forth : and from the beginning of their going forth, Dauid behaved himself more wisely, then al the seruants of Saul, and his name was made renoumed exceedingly.

C H A P. XIX.

Saul intending to kil Dauid is pacified by Ionathas. 9. Neuerthles attempteth agayne to kil him, and missing his purpose, 11. sendeth soldiers to take and bring him backe that he may be slaine, but Michol his wife helpeth him away, and excuseth her self to her father, as if she had done it for feare. 18. Dauid and Samuel fly into Naiorb. 20. Againe Saul sendeth soldiers after them three times, and they al doe propheticie. 22. Then himself pursueth Dauid, and also propheticth.

AND Saul spake to Ionathas his sonne, and to al his seruants, that they should kil Dauid. Moreouer Ionathas the sonne of Saul loued Dauid exceedingly. 2. And Ionathas told Dauid, saying: Saul my father seeketh to kil thee: wherefore looke to thy self I beseech thee in the morning, and thou shalt abide secretly, and shalt be hid. 3. But I going forth wil stand beside my father, in the field wheresoeuer he shal be: and I wil speake of thee to my father, and whatsoeuer I shal see, I wil tel thee. 4. Ionathas therefore spake good words of Dauid to Saul his father, and sayd to him: Sinne not, o King, against thy seruant Dauid, because he hath not sinned toward thee, and his workes are very good for thee. 5. And he put his life in his hand, and strucke the Philistia, and our Lord made great saluation to al Israel. Thou hast seen & didst reioice, why therefore sinnest thou in innocent blood killing Dauid, who is without fault? 6. Which when Saul had heard, being pacified with the voice of Ionathas, he sware: Our Lord liueth, he shal not be slaine. 7. Ionathas herefore called Dauid and shewed him al these words, and Ionathas brought in Dauid to Saul, and the was before him, as he had been yesterday and the day before. 8. And there was battel rayfed againe, and Dauid going forth, fought against the Philistims, and strucke them with a great slaughter, and they fled from his face. 9. And the euil spirit of our Lord came vpon Saul, and he fate in his house, and held a speare: moreouer Dauid played with his had. 10. And Saul endeauoured to naile Dauid to the wal with his speare. And Dauid declined from the face of Saul: and the speare without making wound pearced the wal, & Dauid fled, and was saued that night. 11. Saul therefore set of his guard into Dauids house, that they should keep him, & that he might be killed in the morning: Which when Michol his wife had told Dauid, saying:

Vnles thou saue thy self this night, to morow thou shalt die: 12. the le him downe through a window, moreouer he went and fled away, and was saued. 13. And Michol tooke (a) a statua, and put it vpon the bed, and a hairie skin of goats she layd at the head thereof, and couered it with garments. 14. And Saul sent sericants, that should take away Dauid by force, and it was answered that he was sicke. 15. And againe Saul sent messengers to see Dauid, saying: Bring him to me in the bed, that he may be slaine. 16. And when the messengers were come, there was found a statua vpon the bed, & skinnes of goats at the head thereof. 17. And Saul sayd to Michol: Why hast thou mocked me, and let goe myneemie that he might fly? And Michol answered Saul: Because he sayd to me: Let me goe, otherwise I wil kil thee. 18. But Dauid flying was saued, and came to Samuel in Ramatha, & told him al things that Saul had done to him: and he and Samuel went and abode in Naioth. 19. And it was told Saul by some saying: Behold Dauid is in Naioth in Ramatha. 20. Saul therefore sent sericants to take away Dauid: who when they had seen a troupe of Prophets prophecying, and Samuel standing ouer them, the spirit of our Lord came also on them, and they also began to prophecie. 21. Which when it was told Saul, he sent other messengers: but they also did prophecie. And againe Saul sent the third messengers: who also prophecied. And Saul being wrath for anger, 22. went also himselfe into Ramatha, and came as farre as the great cesterne, which is in Socho, and asked, and said: In what place are Samuel and Dauid? And it was told him: Loe they are in Naioth in Ramatha. 23. And he went into Naioth in Ramatha, and the Spirit of our Lord came vpon him, and he walked going, and he (b) prophecied til he came into Naioth in Ramatha. 24. And he stripped himselfe of his garments, and prophecied with the rest before Samuel, and sang naked al that day and night. Wherupon there went out also a prouerb: What is Saul also among the Prophets.

C H A P. XX.

Ionathas comforteth Dauid, 3. confirmeth their former league. 18. By an appointed signe (24. endeavouring first, but in vaine, to pacifie his father) 35. certifieth Dauid of his fathers malice against him. 41. They meet againe secretly, and sorrowfully part each from other.

V T Dauid also fled from Naioth, which is in Ramatha, and comming spake before Ionathas: What haue I done? what is myne iniquitie, and what sinne of myne against thy father, that he seeketh my life? 2. Who sayd to him: God forbid, thou shalt not die: for neither wil my father doe any thing great or litle, vnles he first tel me: this word therefore only hath my father concealed from me? no, this shal not be. 3. And he

(a) This statua or image can not import an idol, as the same word statuam doth Gen. 31. for here no idolatric act was committed, but a right office done by the wife towards her husband. The same word also signifieth religious things belonging to Gods seruice. Osee 3.
 (b) Saul and his messengers had not the giift of prophecie, as godlie Prophetes had by an inherēt habite, but transitorie, as Baalams asse had facultie to speake at one time, but did not afterward speake any more. S. Aug. 1. 2. q. 1. ad Simplician.

fware againe to Dauid. And Dauid said : Thy father surely knoweth that I haue found grace in thy sight, & wil say : Let not Ionathas know this, lest perhaps he be sad. Yea more, our Lord liueth, and thy soule liueth, by one degree only (as I may so say) I and death are diuided. 4. And Ionathas said to Dauid : Whatsoeuer thy soule shal say to me, I wil doe for thee. 5. And Dauid sayd to Ionathas : Behold the calendes are to morow, and I after the manner am wont to sit beside the King to eate : dismisse me therefore that I may be hid in the field vntil the euening of the third day. 6. If thy father looking inquire for me, thou shalt answer him : Dauid desired me, that he might goe quickly into Bethlehem his citie : because there be solemne victimes to al of his tribe, 7. If he shal say : Wel; peace shal be to thy seruant : but if he be angrie, know that his malice is complete. 8. Doe mercie therefore toward thy seruant : because thou hast caused me thy seruant to enter the league of our Lord with thee. but if there be any iniquitie in me, doe thou kil me, and bring me not in to thy father. 9. And Ionathas sayd : Be this farre from thee, for neither can it be, that I should not tel thee, if I shal certainly know that my fathers malice is complete against thee. 10. And Dauid answered Ionathas : Who shal bring me word, if thy father answer thee perhaps any thing sharply of me? 11. And Ionathas sayd to Dauid : Come, let vs goe forth abroad into the field : and when they were both gone forth into the field, 12. Ionathas said to Dauid : Lord God of Israel, if I shal search out my fathers meaning, to morow or the day after, and some good thing be vpon Dauid, and I send not immediately vnto thee, and make thee know thereof, 13. these things doe our Lord to Ionathas, and these things adde he. But if my fathers malice shal perseuer against thee, I wil reueale thyne eare, and wil dismisse thee, that thou mayst goe in peace, and our Lord be with thee, as he hath been with my father. 14. And if I liue, thou shalt doe me the mercie of our Lord, but if I die, 15. thou shalt not take away thy mercie from my house for euer, when our Lord shal haue rooted out the enemies of Dauid, euerie one out of the land : take he away Ionathas from his house, and our Lord require it of the hands of Dauids enemies. 16. Ionathas therefore made a league with the house of Dauid : & our Lord required it of the hãds of Dauids enemies. 17. And Ionathas added to sweare vnto Dauid, because he loued him, for as his owne soule, so he loued him. 18. And Ionathas sayd to him : To morow are the calendes, and thou shalt be asked for : 19. for thy sitting wil be inquired of til after to morow. Thou shalt therefore goe downe in hast, and shalt come to the place, where thou must be hid in the day, when it is lawfull to worke, and thou shalt sit beside the stone which is named Ezcl. 20. And I wil shoot three arrowes nere it, and wil shoot as it were exercizing my self at a marke. 21. I wil send also a boy saying to him : Goe, and fetch me the arrowes. 22. If I shal say to the boy : Loe, the arrowes are on this side thee, take them vp : come thou to me, because there is peace to thee, and there is no euil, our Lord liueth. But if I shal speake thus to the boy: Loe the arrowes are beyond thee. Goe in peace, because our Lord hath dimissed thee. 23. And concerning the word which I and thou haue spoken, our Lord be between thee and me for euer. 24. Dauid therefore was hidde in the felde, and the calends came, and the King sate downe to eate bread. 25. And when the King was set vpon his chaire (according to the custome) which was beside the wal, Ionathas arose, and Abner sate at the side of Saul, and Dauids place appeared voide. 26. And Saul said nothing that day, for he thought it had chanced perhaps vnto him, that he was not cleane, nor purified. 27. And when the second day was come after the calendes, againe Dauids place appeared emptie. And Saul said to Ionathas his sonne: Why came not the sonne of Isai neither yesterday nor to day to eate? 28. Ionathas answered Saul: He desired me instantly, that he might goe into Bethlehem, 29. and he said: Let me goe, because there is a solemne sacrifice in the citie, one of my brethren hath sent for me: now therefore if I haue found grace in thy sight, I wil goe quickly, & see my brethren. For this cause he came not to the Kings table. 30. But Saul being wrath against Ionathas, said to him: Thou sonne of a woman which of her owne accord rauisheth a mā, am I ignorant that thou louest the sonne of Isai vnto thyne owne confusion, & to the confusion of thyne ignominious mother? 31. For al the dayes, that the sonne of Isai shal liue vpon the earth, thou shalt not be established, nor thy Kingdom. Therefore now presently send, and bring him to me: because he is the sonne of death. 32. And Ionathas answering Saul his father, said: Why shal he dye: what hath he done? 33. And Saul caught a speare to strike him. And Ionathas vnderstood that it was determined of his father, that he would kil Dauid. 34. Ionathas therefore rose from the table in anger of furie, and did not eate bread the second day of the calends. For he was stricken heaue vpon Dauid, because his father had confounded him. 35. And when the morning appeared, Ionathas came into the field according to the appointment with Dauid, and a litle boy with him, 36. and said to his boy: Goe, & fetch me the arrowes, which I shoot. And when the boy had runne, he shot an other arrow beyond the boy. 37. The boy therefore came to the place of the arrowe, which Ionathas had shot: and Ionathas cried behind the back of the boy, and said: Loe the arrowe is there further beyond thee. 38. And Ionathas cried againe behind the back of the boy, saying: Make hast speedily, stand not. And Ionathas his boy gathered vp his arrowes, and brought them to his master: 39. and he was altogether ignorant, what was done: for only Ionathas and Dauid knew the matter. 40. Ionathas therefore gaue his armour to the boy, and said to him: Goe, and cary them into the citie. 41. And when the boy was gone, Dauid rose out of the place, which did bend to the South, and falling flat on the ground, adored thrise: & kissing one an other, they wept together, but Dauid more. 42. Ionathas therefore said to Dauid : Goe in peace : whatsoeuer we haue sworne both of vs in the name of our Lord, saying : Our Lord be between me and thee, and between my seed and thy seed for euer. 43. And Dauid arose, and departed : but Ionathas also entred into the Citie.

CHAP. XXI.

In case of necessitie Achimelech the Priest giueth halowed bread to Dauid, 8. also the sword which he had taken from Goliath. 10. Then Dauid going to Achis King of Geth, is forced to saine himself madde.

AND Dauid came into Nobe to Achimelech the Priest : and Achimelech was astonished, because Dauid was come. And he said to him : Why art thou alone, and none is with thee? 2. And Dauid said to Achimelech the Priest: The King hath comanded me a word and said : Let no man know the thing, for which thou art sent by me, & what manner of precepts I haue giuen thee, for my seruants also I haue appointed into such and such a place. 3. Now therefore if thou haue any thing at hand, yea if but fise loaves, giue me, or whatsoeuer thou shalt finde. 4. And the Priest answered Dauid, saying : I haue no (*) lay breads at hand, but only holy bread, if the seruants be cleane, especially from women? 5. And Dauid answered the Priest, and said to him : And truly, if the matter be concerning women, we haue refrained our selues from yester day and the day before, when we came forth, and the vessels of the seruants were holie. Moreouer this way is polluted, but it also shal be sanctified this day in the vessels. 6. The Priest therefore gaue him halowed bread ; for neither was anie bread there, but only the loaves of proposition, which had been taken away from the face of our Lord, that hoate loaves might be set downe. 7. And there was there a certaine man of the seruants of Saul that day, within the tabernacle of our Lord, & his name was Doeg an Idumeite, the mightiest of Saules pastours. 8. And Dauid said to Achimelech : Hast thou here at hand a speare, or a sword? because myne owne sword, and myne owne weapons I tooke not with me. for the Kings word hastned forward. 9. And the Priest said : Loe here the sword of Goliath the Philistian, whom thou slewest in the Valley of terebinth, is wrapped vp in a mantel behind the Ephod : if thou wilt take this, take it. for neither is here any other beside that. And Dauid said : There is none other like to that, giue me it. 10. Dauid therefore arose, and fled that day from the face of Saul : and came to Achis the King of Geth, 11. & the seruants of Achis said to him, when they had seen Dauid : Is not this Dauid the King of the land? Did they not sing in dances to this man saying : Saul struck a thousand, and Dauid ten thousand? 12. But Dauid put these words in his hart, and feared exceedingly at the face of Achis the King of Geth. 13. And he (b) changed his countenance before them, and slipt downe between their hands: and he stumbled at the doores of the gate, and his spittle ranne downe vpon his beard. 14. And Achis said to his seruants: You haue seen the man madde: why haue you brought him to me? 15. Doe we lack madde men, that you haue brought in this fellow, to play the madde man in my presence? shal this man enter into my house?

(*) Distinction of common & holie bread. Also an example of dispensation in case of necessitie.

(b) Dauid most wisely in such distresse fained himself to be a foole. By which the Holy Ghost mystically signified that Christ should doe such things not of feare but of diuine wisdom, as he should be counted a foole. Mar. 3. v. 21. Luc. 24. v. 11. 1. Cor. 1. v. 23. S. Beda Quæst. in 1. Reg. 6. 14.

C H A P. XXII.

Dauid with a great retinue goeth to King of Moab, 5. but by aduise of Gad the Prophet returneth into Iuda. 6. Saul lamenting that many conspire against him, 9. Doeg accuseth Achimelech, 14. who iustificeth both Dauid and himself, 16. He and al the Priests with much people in Nobe are slaine by Sauls commandment, 20. onlie Abiathar escaping flyeth to Dauid.

DAUID therefore went from thence, and fled to the caue of Odellam. Which when his brethren had heard, and al his fathers house, they went downe to him thither. 2. And there were gathered vnto him al that were in distresse, and oppressed with debt, and of a penitue hart, and he was made their Prince, and there were with him about foure hundred men. 3. And Dauid departed from thence into Maspha which is Moab: and he said to the King of Moab: Let my father and my mother tary with you, I besecch thee, til I know what God wil doe to me. 4. And he left them before the face of the King of Moab, and they abode with him al the dayes that Dauid was in garrison. 5. And Gad the Prophet said to Dauid: Tary not in garrison, departe, and goe into the Land of Iuda. And Dauid departed, and came into the forest of Haret. 6. And Saul heard that Dauid had appeared, and the men that were with him. And Saul when he abode in Gabaa, and was in the wood which is in Rama, holding a speare in his hand, and al his seruants that stood about him, 7. he sayd to his seruants that stood about him: Heare me now ye children of Iemini: wil the sonne of Isai giue to al you fields, and vineyards, and make al you tribunes, and centurions: 8. because you haue al conspired against me, and there is none that telleth me, especially where my sonne also hath entred league with the sonne of Isai? There is none of you that pitieth my case, neither is there that telleth me: for that my sonne hath raised vp my seruant against me, lying in waite for me vntil this day. 9. And Doeg the Idumeite which stood by, and was the chief among the seruants of Saul, answering, I saw, quoth he, the sonne of Isai, in Nobe with Achimelech the sone of Achitob the Priest. 10. Who consulted our Lord for him, and gaue him victuals, yea and the sword of Goliath the Philistian he gaue to him. 11. The King therefore sent to call for Achimelech the Priest the sonne of Achitob & al his fathers house, the Priests that were in Nobe, who came al to the King. 12. And Saul said to Achimelech: Heare thou sonne of Achitob. Who answered: I am readie, my Lord. 13. And Saul said to him: Why haue you conspired against me, thou, and the sonne of Isai, and hast giuen him bread and a sword, & hast consulted our Lord for him, that he might rise vp against me, continuing a traitour vntil this day? 14. And Achimelech answering the King, said: And who amongst al thy seruants faithful as Dauid, and the Kings sonne in-law, and going fourth at thy commandment, & glorious in thy house? 15. Did I begin this day to consult our Lord for him? farre be this from me: let not the King suspect such a thing against his seruant, in al the house of my father: for thy seruant knew not any thing concerning this busines, either litle or great. 16. And the King said: Dying thou shalt dye Achimelech, thou, and al thy fathers house. 17. And the King said to the curriers, that stood about him. Turne your selues, and kil the Priests of our Lord, (c) for their hand is with Dauid, knowing that he was fled, and they told me not. And (d) the Kings seruants would not extend their hands vpon the Priests of our Lord. 18. And the King said to Doeg: Turnethou, and runne vpon the Priests. And Doeg the Idumeite being turned, ranne vpon the Priests, and murdered in that day eightie fve men reuested with an ephod of linnen. 19. And Nobe the citie of the Priests he stricke in the edge of the sword, men and women, and children, and sucklings, and ox and asse and sheep in the edge of the sword. 20. But one sonne of Achimelech the sonne of Achitob, escaping, whose name was Abiathar, fled to Dauid, 21. and told him that Saul had slaine the Priests of our Lord. 22. And Dauid said to Abiathar: I knew in that day when Doeg the Idumeite was there, without doubt he would tel Saul, I am giltye of al the soules of thy father. 23. Abide with me, feare not: if any man shal seeke my life, he shal seeke thy life also, and with me thou shal be preferued.

(c) Saul vniustly condemning Dauid, cōdem-ned also al those that iustified him.
(d) Seeing so manifest iniu-stice & crueltie, they obeyed God rather then man.

C H A P. XXIII.

The citie of Ceila oppugned by the Philiftiims is relieued by Dauid. 7. Who fearing to be there betrayed, 12. flyeth into the desert of Ziph. 16. Ionathas repayreth secretly to him, and they confirme againe their former league. 19. The Ziphians promise to betray Dauid: 27. but Saul leaueth for a while to persecute him, being forced to defend the land from the Philiftians inuading it.

AND they told Dauid, saying: Behold the Philiftiims oppugne Ceila, and spoyle the barnes. 2. Dauid therefore consulted our Lord, saying: Shal I goe, and strike these Philiftians? And our Lord sayd to Dauid: Goe, and thou shalt strike the Philiftians, and shalt saue Ceila. 3. And the men that were with Dauid, sayd to him: Behold we resting here in Iurie are afrayd, how much more if we shal goe into Ceila against the bands of the Philiftians? 4. Againe therefore Dauid consulted our Lord. Who answering sayd to him: Arise, and goe into Ceila: for I wil deliuer the Philiftians in thy hand. 5. Dauid therefore and his men went into Ceila, and fought against the Philiftians, and droue away their beasts, and stricke them with a great slaughter, and Dauid saued the inhabitants of Ceila. 6. Moreouer at that time, when Abiathar the sonne of Achimelech fled to Dauid into Ceila, he went downe hauing with him an ephod. 7. And it was told Saul that Dauid was come into Ceila: and Saul sayd: Our Lord hath deliuered him into my hands, & he is thut vp being entred the citie, wherein are gates and lockes. 8. And Saul commanded al the people, that they should goe downe into Ceila to fight, and besiege Dauid and his men. 9. Which when Dauid vnderstood, that Saul secretly prepared euil against him, he sayd to Abiathar the Priest: (a) Applie the Ephod. 10. And Dauid sayd: Lord God of Israel, thy seruant hath heard a bruit, that Saul determineth to come into Ceila, to destroy the citie for me: 11. Wil the men of Ceila deliuer me into his hands? and wil Saul come downe, as thy seruant hath heard? Lord God of Israel tel thy seruant. And our Lord sayd: He wil come downe. 12. And Dauid said: Wil the men of Ceila deliuer me, and the men that are with me, into the hands of Saul? And our sayd: (b) They wil deliuer thee. 13. Dauid therefore arose and his men, about six hundred, and going out of Ceila, wandered hither and thither vncertaine: and it was told Saul that Dauid was fled from Ceila, and was saued: for which cause he dissembled to goe forth. 14. But Dauid abode in the desert in most strong places, & he taried in the mount of the desert Ziph, in a thadowed hill. Saul notwithstanding sought him alwayes: and our Lord deliuered him not

(a) By this it appeareth that Dauid consulted God by the high Priest: and the high Priest for this purpose ioyned the priestlic ornament called Ephod, to the Rationale, & so had reuelation from God. Exo. 28. Leuit. 8
(b) Conditionally: If thou talie here.

into his hands. 15. And Dauid saw that Saul was gone forth to seek his life. Moreouer Dauid was in the desert Ziph, in a wood. 16. And Ionathas the sonne of Saul arose, and went to Dauid into the wood, and strengthened his hands in God, and sayd to him: 17. Feare not; for neither shal the hand of Saul my father find thee, and thou shalt reigne ouer Isracl; & I shal be second to thee, yea and my father knoweth this. 18. Both therefore made a league before our Lord: and Dauid abode in the wood: but Ionathas returned into his house. 19. And the Zipheites went vp vnto Saul in Gabaa, saying: Loe, doth not Dauid lye hid with vs in the most safe places of the wood, in the hil Hachila, which is on the right hand of the desert? 20. Now therefore, as thy soule hath desired, come downe, & it shal be our charge to deliuer him into the Kings hands. 21. And Saul sayd: Blessed be ye of our Lord, because you haue piried my case. 22. Goe therefore I pray you, and prepare diligently, and deale curiously, and consider the place, where his foot is, and who hath seen him there, for he thinketh of me, that I craftily lye in waite for him. 23. Consider and see al his lurking holes, wherein he is hid, and returne to me with the certaintie of the thing, that I may goe with you. Yea and if he shal stop vp himselfe into the earth, I wil search him out among al the thousands of Iuda. 24. But they rising went into Ziph before Saul: and Dauid and his men were in the desert Maon, in the champaine country at the right hand of Iesimon. 25. Saul therefore and his companie went to seek him: and it was told Dauid, and forthwith he went downe to the rocke, and abode in the desert Maon, which when Saul had heard, he pursued Dauid in the desert Maon. 26. And Saul went at the side of the mountaine on the one part: and Dauid and his men were in the side of the mountaine on the other part: moreouer Dauid despayred that he could escape from the face of Saul: Saul therefore & his men in manner of a ring compassed Dauid & his men, to take them. 27. And a messenger came to Saul, saying: Make hast, and come, because the Philistims haue powred in themselues vpon the land. 28. Saul therefore returned leauing off to pursue Dauid, and he went to meet the Philistians. for this cause they called that place, The Rocke diuiding.

C H A P. X X I I I I .

Saul chancing to come into a caue, David being hid with others in the same place, only cutteth the skire of his cloake, 5. which after shewing, Saul acknowledgeth his fault, and ceaseth for a time to persecute him.

DAVID therefore went vp from thence, and dwelt in the safest places of Engaddi. 2. And when Saul was returned, after he pursued the Philistians, they told him, saying: Behold, David is in the desert Engaddi. 3. Saul therefore taking vnto him three thousand chosen men of al Israel, went forth to search out David & his men, yea ouer the steep broken rockes, which are accessible only to wilde goats. 4. And he came to the shep-cotes, which fel in his way as he went, and there was a caue, which Saul entred into, to doe his easement: moreouer David and his men lay hid in the inner part of the caue. 5. And the seruants of David sayd to him: Behold the day, whereof our Lord sayd to thee: I wil deliuer thee thyne enemy, that thou mayest doe to him as it shal seem good in thyne eyes. David therefore arose, and cut off the hemme of Saules cloke softly. 6. After this (a) Davids hart stricke him, for that he had cut off the hemme of Saules cloke. 7. And he sayd to his men: Our Lord be merciful vnto me, (b) that I doe not this thing to my Master the annointed of our Lord, that I should lay my had vpon him, because he is the annointed of our Lord. 8. And David perswaded his men with words, and permitted them not to rise against Saul: moreouer Saul rising out of the caue, went on his iourney begun. 9. And David rose vp after him: and going out of the caue; cried behind Saules backe, saying: My Lord King. And Saul looked backe behind him: and David bowing himself flat toward the ground adored, 10. and sayd to Saul: Why doest thou heare the words of men that say: David seeketh euil against thee? 11. Loe this day thyne eyes haue seen, that our Lord deliuered thee in my hand, in the caue, and I had a cogitation to kil thee, but myne eye hath spared thee. For I sayd: I wil not extend myne hand vpon my Lord, because he is the annointed of our Lord. 12. But rather see and know, o my father, the hemme of thy cloke in my hand, that when I did cut off the hemme of thy cloke, I would not extend my hand vpon thee. Marke, and see, that there is no euil in my hand, nor iniquitie, neither haue I sinnea against thee: but thou lyeest in waite for my life, to take it away. 13. Our Lord iudge between me and thee, and our Lord reuenge me of thee, but be not my hand vpon thee. 14. As also it is sayd in the old

(a) A tender conscience had scruple of a sinfull doubt which was no sinne: a large conscience ticketh at nothing.

(b) Saul being annointed King by Gods appointment, could not lawfully be slaine by his subjects without like ordinance from God. For though David was also already annointed, yet that was not to reigne presently, but when Saul should die, or other wise be taken away.

prouerbe:

prouerbe: FROM THE IMPIOVS thal impietie proceed: be not therefore my hand vpon thee: Whom doest thou persecute, o King of Israel? 15. Whom doest thou persecute? thou persecutest a dead dog, and a flea. 16. Our Lord be iudge, and iudge between me and thee, and he see, and iudge my cause, and deliuer me out of thy hand. 17. And when Dauid had fully ended speaking such words to Saul, Saul said: Is this thy voice my sonne Dauid? and Saul lifted vp his voice, and wept: 18. and said to Dauid: Thou art iuster then I: for thou hast done me good turnes, and I haue rendred thee euil. 19. And thou hast shewed this day what good things thou hast done to me: how our Lord deliuered me into thy hand, and thou hast not killed me. 20. For who when he hath found hisemie, wil let him goe in a good way? But our Lord render thee this good turne, for that which thou hast wrought toward me this day. 21. And now because I know that thou most certainly shalt reigne, and haue the Kingdome of Israel in thy hand: 22. swear to me in our Lord, not to destroy my seede after me, nor to take away my name from the house of my father. 23. And Dauid sware to Saul. Saul therefore went into his house: and Dauid and his men went vp into safer places.

C H P. XXV.

Samuel dieth & is mourned. 3. Dauid requesting, 10. and not obtaining victuals of Nabal, 13. threatneth to kil him. 14. But his wife Abigail prudently preuenteth the reuenge, 18. by sending victuals, 23. and giuing good words. 37. At which when Nabal vnderstandeth, he fainteth, and after ten dayes dieth. 39. Dauid marieth Abigail: also Achinoam: 44. and his wife Michol is giuen to an other.

AND Samuel died, and al Israel was gathered together, and they mourned for him, and buried him in his house in Ramatha. And Dauid rising went downe into the desert of Pharan. 2. And there was a certaine man in the wildernes of Maon, & his possession in Carmel, & that man was exceeding great: and he had three thousand sheep, & a thousand goats: and it chanced that his flocke was shorne in Carmel. 3. And the name of that mā was Nabal: & the name of his wife Abigail. and that woman was very wise and beautiful: morcouer her husband hard, and very il, and malicious: and he was of the kindred of Caleb. 4. When Dauid therefore heard in the desert, that Nabal sheared his flocke, 5. he sent ten yong men, and sayd to them: Goe vp into Carmel, & you shal come to Nabal, and shal salute him in my name peaceably. 6. And you shal say: Peace be to my brethren, and to thee, and peace to thy house, and to al whatfoeuer thou hast be peace. 7. I haue heard,

heard, that thy shephards which were with vs in the desert did theare: we haue neuer molested the, neither hath ought been wanting to them at any time of the flocke, al the time that they were with vs in Carmel. 8. Aske thy seruants, and they wil tel thee. Now therefore let thy seruants find grace in thyne eies: for we are come in a good day, what-focuer thy hand shal find, giue thy seruants, and thy sonne David. 9. And when Dauids seruants were come, they spake to Nabal at these words in Dauids name: and so held their peace. 10. But Nabal answering the seruants of David, said: Who is David? and what is the sonne of Isai? There are seruants multiplied now adayes which fly from their Masters. 11. Shal I then take my breads, and my waters, and the flesh of my cattel, which I haue killed for my shearers, and giue to men whom I know not whence they are? 12. Therefore the seruants of David returned by their way, and returning came & told him al the words that he had said. 13. Then sayd David to his seruants: Euery man gird him with his sword. And they were euery one girded with their swords. And David also was girded with his sword: and there folowed David about foure hundred men: moreouer two hundred remayned at the baggage. 14. But to Abigail the wife of Nabal one of their seruants told, saying: Behold David hath sent messengers from the desert, to blesse our Master, and he disdayned them: 15. these men were good enough to vs, & not troublesome: neither did euer any thing perish al the time, that we haue couerft with them in the desert: 16. they were in stead of a wal to vs both in the day and in the night, al the dayes that we fed the flockes with them. 17. Wherefore consider, and think what thou hast to doe, for (a) malice is accomplished against thy husband, & against thy house, and he is the sonne of Belial, so that no man can speake to him. 18. Abigail therefore made hast, and rooke two hundred loaves, and two bottels of wine, and fise muttons ready drest, and fise measures of polent, and an hundred branches of raysens, and two hundred mases of drie figges, and laid them vpon asses, 19. and said to her seruants: Goe before me; loe, I wil folow you at your backe: but she told not her husband Nabal. 20. When she therefore had gotten vpon an asse, and came downe to the foot of the mountaine, David and his men came downe meeting her, whom she also met. 21. And David said: In vaine verily haue I preserued al things that were this mans in the desert, and there perished nothing of al that pertained to him, & he hath rendred me (b) euil for good. 22. These things doe God to the enemies of David, & these things adde he, if I shal leaue of al things that pertaine to him: vntil morning, any thing pissing against the wal. 23. And when Abigail had seen David, she made hast, & light from her asse, & fel downe before David vpon her face, & adored vpon the earth, 24. and fel at his feet, & sayd: In me my Lord be this inquitie: let thy hand-mayd speake I beseech thee in thine eares: and heare the words of thy seruant. 25. Let not my Lord the King I pray thee, set his hart vpon

(a) Not a malicious mind, such as Saul bore vniustly against David, but punishment is decreed against Nabal, for not only denying a reasonable request, but also for so reproachful an answer.

(b) Evil words for curteous vsage heretofore, and for late gentle intreating by messengers.

this naughty man Nabal : because according to his name, he is a foole, and follie is with him : but I thy handmaid saw not thy seruants my Lord, whom thou didst send. 26. Now therefore my Lord, our Lord liueth, and thy soule liueth, who hath stayed thee that thou shouldest not come vnto blood, and hath saued thy hand to thee : and now be thine enemies as Nabal, & they that seeke euil to my Lord. 27. Wherefore receiue this benediction, which thy handmaid hath brought to thee my Lord : and giue to thy seruants that folow thee my Lord. 28. Take away the iniquitie of thy handmaid : for our Lord making wil make to my Lord a faithful house, because thou my Lord dost fight the battels of our Lord : let not malice therefore be found in thee al the dayes of thy life. 29. For if a man shal rise, persecuting thee, & seeking thy life, the life of my Lord shal be kept, as in the (c) bundel of the liuing, with our Lord thy God: Moreouer the life of thine enemies shal be whurled, as in the violence, and whurle of a sling. 30. When our Lord therefore shal doe to thee, my Lord, al good things, which he hath spoken concerning thee, and shal constitute thee Prince ouer Israel, 31. this shal not be an occasion of sobbing to thee, and a scruple of hart to my Lord, that thou hast shed innocent bloud, or thy self hast reuenged thy self : and when our Lord hath bestowed these benefits vpon my Lord, thou shalt remember thy handmaid. 32. And Dauid sayd to Abigail : Blessed be our Lord the God of Israel, who hath sent thee this day to meet me, and blessed be thy speach, 33. and blessed be thou, which hast stayed me to day, that I might not goe to bloud, and reuenge me with myne owne hand. 34. Otherwise our Lord liueth, the God of Israel, who hath staid me that I should not doe thee any euil, vnles thou hadst quickly come to meet me, there had not remained to Nabal vntil morning light, any pissing against a wal. 35. And Dauid tooke of her hand al things which she had brought him, and said to her : Goe peaceably into thy house, behold I haue heard thy voice, and haue honoured thy face. 36. And Abigail came to Nabal : and behold he had a feast in his house, as it were the feast of a King, and Nabals hart was pleasant : for he was drunke exceedingly : and she told him not a word litle or great vntil morning. 37. But early when Nabal had digested his wine, his wife told him these words, & his hart was dead inwardly, & he became as a stone. 38. And when ten dayes had passed, our Lord stricke Nabal, & he died. 39. Which when Dauid had heard that Nabal was dead, he sayd: Blessed be our Lord, who hath iudged the cause of my reproach at the hand of Nabal, and hath kept his seruant from euil, and the malice of Nabal hath our Lord rendred vpon his head. Dauid therefore sent, and spake to Abigail, that he might take her to himself to wife. 40. And Dauids seruants came to Abigail into Carmel, and spake to her, saying : Dauid hath sent vs vnto thee, to take thee to his wife. 41. Who arising adored flat toward the earth, and sayd : Loe let thy seruant be as an handmaid, to wash the feet of the seruants of my Lord. 42. And

(c) Thingstye in bundels are stronger and more secure,
then single and loose.

Abigail arose, and made hast, and gat vpon an asse, and five women went with her waiting maids, and folowed the messengers of Dauid, and became his wife. 43. Yea and Achinoam also did Dauid take of Iezrahel: and both were his wiues. 44. But Saul gaue Michol his daughter Dauids wife to Phalti, the sonne of Laïs, who was of Gailim.

C H A P. XXVI.

The Ziphians bewraying the place, Saul besiegeth Dauid: who by night going where Saul and his men are asleepe, 9. hurteth him not: 12. but taketh from him his speare and bottle of water 14. & sheweth what he hath done. 21. Saul againe confesseth his fault, and promiseth peace.

AND there came Zipheites vnto Saul in Gabaa, saying: Behold Dauid is hid in the hill Hachila, which is ouer-against the wildernes. 2. And Saul arose, and went downe into the desert Ziph, and with him three thousand men of the chosen of Israel, to seeke Dauid in the desert Ziph. 3. And Saul camped in Gabaa Hachila, which was ouer-against the wildernes in the way: and Dauid dwelt in the desert. And seeing that Saul was come after him into the desert, 4. he sent discouersers, and learned that he was come thither most certainly. 5. And Dauid arose secretly, and came to the place where Saul was: and when he had seen the place wherein Saul slept, and Abner the sonne of Ner, the Prince of his warre, and Saul sleeping in the tent, and the rest of the multitude round about him, 6. Dauid spake to Achimelech the Hethite, and Abisai the sonne of Saruia the brother of Ioab, saying: Who wil goe downe with me to Saul into the campe: And Abisai said: I wil goe with thee. 7. Dauid therefore and Abisai came to the people by night, and found Saul lying and sleeping in the tent, & his speare fixed in the ground at his head: and Abner, & the people sleeping round about him. 8. And Abisai said to Dauid: God hath that vp thine enemy this day into thy hands: now therefore I wil thrust him through with my speare in the earth once, and twice shal not neede. 9. And Dauid said to Abisai: Kill him not: for (a) who shal extend his hand vpon the annointed of our Lord, & shal be innocent? 10. And Dauid said: Our Lord liueth, vnlesse our Lord shal strike him, or his day come to die, or descending into battel he perish: 11. Our Lord be merciful vnto me, that I extend not my hand vpon the annointed of our Lord, now therefore take the speare which is at his head, and cup of water, & let vs goe. 12. Dauid therefore tooke the speare, and cup of water, which was at Saules head, and they went away: and there was none that saw, or vnderstood, or awaked, but all slept, because the dead sleep (a) of our Lord had fallen vpon them. 13. And when Dauid had passed ouer

(a) Dauid is resolute, and often repeateth, that it is not lawful for priuate subjects to kill their Prince, no although himselfe was annointed to succede.

b) Gods providence sent this extraordinary sleep, and inspired Dauid to doe this fact, for more iustification of his innocencie.

against, and stood in the top of the mountaine farre off, & a good space between them, 14. Dauid cried to the people, and to Abner the sonne of Ner, saying: Wilt thou not answer, Abner? And Abner answering sayd: Who art thou, that criest & disquietest the King? 15. And Dauid sayd to Abner: Art not thou a man? And who is like thee in Israel? why therefore hast thou not kept thy Lord the King? for one of the multitude hath entered in to kil the King thy Lord. 16. This thing is not good, which you haue done: Our Lord liueth, you are the children of death, which haue not kept your Lord, the annointed of our Lord. Now therefore behold where the Kings speare is, & where the cup of water is, which was at his head. 17. And Saul knew Dauids voice, & sayd: Is this thy voice, my sone Dauid? And Dauid sayd: My voice, my Lord King, 18. and he said: For what cause doth my Lord persecute his seruant? What haue I done? or what euil is there in my had? 19. Now therefore heare, I pray, my Lord King, the words of thy seruant: If our Lord stirre thee vp against me, let there be odour of sacrifice: but if the sones of men, they are cursed in the sight of our Lord, which haue cast me out this day, that I should not dwell in the inheritance of our Lord, saying: Goe, serue strange Gods. 20. And now let not my bloud be shed vpon the earth before our Lord, for the King of Israel is come forth to seeke one flea, as the perdix is pursued in the mountaines. 21. And Saul sayd: I haue sinned, returne my sonne Dauid, for I wil no more doe thee euil, for that my life hath been precious in thyne eies to day: for it appeareth that I haue done foolishly, & haue been ignorant of very many things. 22. And Dauid answering, sayd: Behold the Kings speare, let one of the Kings seruants passe, and take it. 23. And our Lord wil reward euerie one according to his iustice and fidelitie, for our Lord hath deliuered thee this day into my hand, and I would not extend my hand vpon the annointed of our Lord. 24. And as thy life hath been magnified to day in myne eies, so be my life magnified in the eies of our Lord, and deliuer he me from al distresse. 25. Saul therefore sayd to Dauid: Blessed art thou my sonne Dauid: and truly doing thou shalt doe, and preuayling thou shalt preuaile. And Dauid went into his way, and Saul returned into his place.

C H A P. XXVII.

David for more securitie goeth againe to Achis King of Geth, 5. obtineth of him the citie of Siceleg (6. by which meanes it becommeth subiect to the Kings of Iuda) 8. and maketh preyes vpon the enemies of King Achis.

AND David sayd in his hart : at length I shal fal one day into the hands of Saul : is it not better that I fly, and be saued in the Land of the Philistians, that Saul may despaire, and cease to seek me in al the coasts of Israel ? I wil fly therefore his hands. 2. And David arose, and went himselſe, and the six hundred men with him, to Achis the sonne of Maach, the King of Geth. 3. And David dwelt with Achis in Geth, he & his men; euerie man & his house: & David & his two wiues, Achinoã the Iezrahelite, & Abigail the wife of Nabal of Carmel. 4. And it was told Saul that David was fled into Geth, and he added no more to seek him. 5. And David sayd to Achis: If I haue grace in thy sight, let there a place be giuen me in one of thy cities of this countrie, that I may dwel there: for why abideth thy seruant in the citie of the King with thee? 6. Achis therefore gaue him in that day Siceleg: for which cause Siceleg became the Kings of Iuda vntil this day. 7. And the number of the daies that David dwelt in the country of the Philistians, was foure months. 8. And David went vp, and his men, and draue preyes out of (a) Gessuri, and Gerzi, and from the Amalecites: for these villages were inhabited in the land in old time, as men goe to Sur, as farre as the Land of Ægypt. 9. And David strucke al the land, neither left he anie man or woman: and taking the sheep, & oxen, and asses, & cameis, and garments, he returned & came to Achis. 10. And Achis sayd to him: Whom hast thou set vpon to day? David answered: Against the south of Iuda, and against the south of Ieramiel, & against the south of Ceni. 11. David gaue life neither to man nor woman, neither brought them into Geth, saying: Lest perhaps they speak against vs. These things did David, and this was decreed of him al the daies that he dwelt in the countrie of the Philistians. 12. Achis therefore did credite David, saying: Manie euils hath he wrought against his people Israel: Therefore he shal be my seruant for euer.

(a) These countries were neither subiect to the Philistines nor to the Israelites, and were also of those nations whom God had commanded to destroy, dwelling within the land of Chanaan. Deut. 25.

CHAP. XXVIII.

The Philistians fighting against Saul, David promiseth fidelitie to Achis. 3. Saul destroyeth magicians, 6. but God not answering him, 7. seeketh a woman that hath a Pythonical spirite, 12. & willet her to raise vp Samuel. 15. Who appearing foretelleth him, that he, and his sonnes shal die the next day.

AND it came to passe that in those daies the Philisthiims gathered together their companies, that they might be prepared to battel against Israel: and Achis said to David: Knowing know thou now, that thou shalt goe forth with me in the campe, thou, and thy men. 2. And David said to Achis: Now thou shalt know what thy seruant wil doe. And Achis said to David: And I wil appoint thee keeper of my heard al daies. 3. And Samuel was dead, and al Israel mourned for him, and buried him in Ramatha his citie. And Saul tooke al the magicians & soothsayers out of the land. 4. And the Philisthiims were gathered together, & came & camped in Sunam: and Saul also gathered together al Israel, & came into Gelboe. 5. And Saul saw the campe of the Philisthiims, and feared, and his hart was afrayd exceedi gly. 6. And he consulted our Lord, and he answered him not, neither by dreames, nor by Priests nor by Prophets. 7. And Saul said to his seruants: Seeke me a woman that hath a pitroni-spirite, and I wil goe to her, and wil aske by her. And his seruants said to him: There is a woman that hath a pythonical spirite in Endor. 8. He therefore changed his habite and was clothed with other garments, and he went himselfe, and two men with him, and they came to the woman in the night, and sayd to her: Deuine vnto me in the pythonical spirite, and raise me vp whom I thaltel thee. 9. And the woman said to him: Loe, thou knowest what great things Saul hath done, and how he hath razed the magicians and sothfayers out of the land: why therefore doest thou lye in waite for my life, that I may be slaine? 10. And Saul sware vnto her in our Lord, saying: Our Lord liueth, there shal no euil happen vnto thee for this thing. 11. And the woman said to him: Whom shal I rayse vp to thee? Who said: Raise me vp Samuel. 12. And when the woman had seen Samuel, she cried out with a loud voice, and sayd to Saul: Why hast thou deceiued me? for thou art Saul. 13. And the King said to her: Feare not: what sawest thou? And the woman sayd to Saul: I saw (a) Gods comming out of the earth. 14. And he said to her: What manner of forme hath he? who said: An old man is come vp, and he is clothed with a mantel. And Saul * vnderstood that it was Samuel, and he bowed himselfe vpon his face on the earth, and (b) adored.

The fourth part. Of the ruine of Saul, and exaltation of David.

(a) Not manie but one excellent person, an old man comelie in apparel. (b) Saul adored not Samuel with diuine honour, but with dulia, reuerence due to a blessed soule.

* i. adagh, cognous knew.

15. And

15. And Samuel sayd to Saul : why hast thou disquieted me, that I should be raised vp? And Saul sayd, I am in great distresse : for the Philisthians fight against me, and God is departed from me, and would not heare me, neither in the hand of Prophets, nor by dreames : therefore I haue called thee, that thou shouldest shew me what I shal doe. 16. And Samuel sayd: Why askest thou, whereas our Lord is departed from thee, and is passed to thine aduerfarie? 17. For our Lord wil doe to thee as he spake in my hand, and he wil cut thy Kingdome out of thy hand, & wil giue it to thy neighbour Dauid: 18. because thou hast not obeyed the voice of our Lord, neither didst thou the wrath of his furie in Amalec. Therefore that which thou sufferest hath our Lord done to thee this day. 19. And our Lord wil giue Israel also with thee into the hands of the Philisthians : and to morow thou and thy sonnes shal be (c) with me : yea the campe also of Israel wil our Lord deliuer into the hands of the Philisthians. 20. And forthwith Saul fel stretched forth on the ground, for he feared much the words of Samuel, and there was no strength in him, because he had not eaten bread al that day. 21. That women therefore went vnto Saul (for he was very much troubled) and sayd to him : Behold thy handmaid hath obeyed thy voice, and I haue put my life in my hand : and I heard the words, which thou spakest to me. 22. Now therefore heare thou also the voice of thy handmaid, and I wil set before thee a morsel of bread, that eating thou mayest recouer strength, and be able to goe on thy iourney. 23. Who refused, and sayd: I wil not eat. But his seruants and the woman forced him, & at length hearing their voice, he arose from the ground, and sate vpon the bed. 24. And that woman had a pasture fed calfe in the house, and she made hast, and killed him : and taking meale kneded it, and baked azimes, 25. and set before Saul, and before his seruants, who when they had eaten rose vp, and walked al that night.

(c) In state of the dead in another world, not in the same particular state.

A N N O T A T I O N S .

C H A P. XXVIII.

14. Saul understood that it was Samuel.) It is not defined nor certaine, whether the soule of Samuel appeared, or an euil spirit tooke his shape, and spake to Saul. S. Augustine (lib. 2. q. ad Simplician.) proposeth both the opinions as probable. Where first he sheweth, that Samuels soule might appeare; either brought thither by the euil spirit, which is not so much to be merued at, as that our Lord and Sauour suffered himself to be set vpon the pinnacle of the temple, and to be caried into a high mountaine by the diuel; yea to be taken prisoner, bound, whipped, and crucified, by the diuels ministers: or els that the spirit of the holy Prophet, was not raised by force of the enchantment, or anie power of the diuel, but by Gods secrete ordinance, vnknewen to the pythonical woman and to Saul, and so appeared in the Kings presence, and strucke him with diuine sentence. Againe he answereth, that there may be a more easie

S. Augustins opinion whether Samuels soule appeared, or no.

More probable that his verie soule appeared, not compelled by the euil spirit, but obeying Gods secret ordinance. First prooffe.

and readie sense of this place, to wit, that Samuels spirite (or soule) was not indeed raised, but an imaginarie illusion made by the diuels enchantment, which seemed to be Samuel, and which the Scripture calleth by the name of Samuel, as pictures or images are commonly called those persons or things, which they represent. So when we behold pictures in a table, or on a wal, we say, this is Cicero, that is Salust, that Achilles, that is Rome. To this effect S. Augustin discourseth more at large in the place before cited. But in another worke written after (de cura pro mortuis gerendis, c. 15.) teaching that soules of the dead appeare sometimes to the liuing, he sayth expressly, Samuel the Prophet being dead, foretold future things to King Saul yet liuing. Though some be of opinion (sayth he) that Samuel himself appeared not, but some euil spirit tooke his similitude.

- 1.
- 2.
- 3.
- 4.
- 5.

And this last iudgement of S. Augustin is much confirmed; first, by the words of this text, literally and plainly affirming that Samuel appeared, and spake to Saul, and Saul to him, and that Saul understood (or knew, not only thought, imagined, or supposed) that it was Samuel. Secondly, this apparition came sooner, preventing the enchantment, & in better order, then the pithonical woman expected, as appeareth by her answer, saying she saw God (or an excellent person) ascending in comelic manner and attyre: whereas euil spirits vsed to appeare (as the Rabbins testifie) in vglie bodies, with the heeles into the ayer, and head downward. Thirdly, the Authour of Ecclesiasticus (ch. 46.) amongst the praises of Samuel the Prophet, sayth: He slept (or died) and certified the King, and shewed to him the end of his life. Where it seemeth cleare, that the same person that died, denounced Gods wil and sentence to Saul. Moreouer if it had been an illusion of an euil spirit, it would hardly seeme any praise at al. Fourthly, the diuel could not naturally foretel that Saul and his sonnes, with manie of the people, should be slaine the next day, and Dauid reigne after him: neither is it probable that God reuealed such secrets to euil spirits, wherby men might take more occasion to folow nigromancie. Fifthly, most Fathers and Doctours are of the same iudgement. S. Iustinus Martyr, Dialogo cum Triphone. S. Basil, Epist. 80. ad Eustachium. S. Ambrose, l. 1. in Luc. 1. S. Hieronim Isaie. 7. Iosephus li. 6. c. 15. Antiq. and manie other old and late writers. The chiefeft argument for the other opinion is the authoritie of Tertullian, li. de animis, Procopius, & Eucherius vpon this place, and the vncertaine authours, Questionum apud Iustinum, q. 52. lib. de mirabil. Sac. Script. and Quist. ver. Testamenti, q. 27. apud Augustinum, tomo. 3. c. 4. As for the Protestants denying, that soules once parted from their bodies, can appeare to any aliue, S. Augustine confuteth them, both by this example of Samuel, supposing the book of Ecclesiasticus to be Canonical Scripture, and of Moyfes being dead, and Elias yet liuing (whom they hold also to be dead) both appearing with Christ in his transfiguration. Mat. 17.

Soules sometimes appeare after death.

10. 2.
pag.
210.

loc o ci-tato.

C H A P. XXIX.

Dauid going with the Philisthiims towards the warre, the Princes vrge and force the King to send him back.

HEREFOR E al the companies of the Philisthiims were gathered together into Aphec : and Israel also camped vpon the fountaine , which was in Iezrahel. 2. And the Princes indeed of the Philisthiims marched in hundreds and thousands : but Dauid and his men were in the last companie with Achis. 3. And the Princes of the Philisthiims sayd to Achis : What meane these Hebrewes? And Achis sayd to the Princes of the Philisthiims : Doe you not know Dauid , which was the seruant of Saul the King of Israel , and is with me manie daies , or (4) yeares , and I haue not found any thing in him , since the day that he fled to me , vntil this day? 4. But the Princes of the Philisthiims were angrie against him , and sayd to him : Let this man returne , and abide in his place , wherein thou hast appointed him , & let him not goe downe with vs into battel , lest he become an aduerfarie to vs , when we shal begin to fight : for how can he otherwise pacifie his Lord , but in our heads : 5. Is not this Dauid , to whom they sang in dances , saying : Saul hath struck his thousands , and Dauid his ten thousands? 6. Achis therefore called Dauid , and sayd to him : The Lord liueth , thou art iust , and good in my sight : and thy going out , and thy coming in is with me in the campe : and I haue not found in thee anie euil , since the day that thou camest to me vntil this day : but thou pleasest not the nobles. 7. Returne therefore , and goe in peace , and offend not the eies of the Princes of the Philisthiims. 8. And Dauid sayd to Achis : For what haue I done , and what hast thou found in me thy seruant , since the day that I haue been in thy sight , vntil this day , that I may not come , and fight against the enemies of my Lord the King? 9. And Achis answering spake to Dauid : I know that thou art good in my sight , as an Angel of God : but the Princes of the Philisthiims haue sayd : He shal not goe vp with vs into battel. 10. Therefore arise in the morning , thou , and the seruants of thy Lord , which came with thee : and when you are risen in the night , and it shal begin to waxe light , goe forward. 11. Dauid therefore arose in the night , he and his men , that they might set forward in the morning , and returne to the land of the Philisthiims : and the Philisthiims went vp into Iezrahel.

a) He speaketh by amplification, to make his fact seeme more reasonable : whereas the time of Dauids abode with him was but foure months. ch. 27. v. 7.

C H A P. XXX.

Dauid returning to Siceleg, findeth it burned and spoiled, and himself in danger of the people : 7. By our Lords warrant he pursueth the enemy, II. taketh a guide : 17. recouereth all that was taken away : 22. and rewardeth the souldiers, also those that stayed with the baggage, 25. making it a law for the time to come, that the keepers of the baggage shal haue like share with those that fight in battel.

AND when Dauid & his men were come to Siceleg the third day, the Amalecites had made an inuasion on the south side into Siceleg, & had stricken Siceleg, & burnt it with fire. 2. And had led away women captiue out of it, from the lesse vnto the great : and had not killed any man, but had led them with them, & went on their iourney. 3. When Dauid therefore and his men were come to the citie, and had found it burnt with fire, and their wiues and their sonnes, and their daughters to be led away captiue, 4. Dauid and the people that was with him, lifted vp their voices, and mourned til teares fayled them. 5. For the two wiues also of Dauid were led away captiue, Achinoam the Iezraelite, and Abigail the wife of Nabal of Carmel. 6. And Dauid was stricken very sad : for the people would haue stoned him, because the soule of euerie man was bitterly affected vpon their sonnes, and daughters : but Dauid was strengthened in our Lord his God. 7. And he sayd to Abiathar the Priest the ionne of Achimelech : Applie (a) vnto me the Ephod. And Abiathar applied the Ephod to Dauid, 8. and Dauid consulted our Lord, saying : Shal I pursue these theeues, and shal I take them or no? And our Lord sayd to him : Pursue them : for thou shalt take them without doubt, & take from them the prey. 9. Dauid therefore went himselfe, and the six hundred men that were with him, and they came vnto the Torrent Besor : & some being wearie stayed. 10. But Dauid himself, and foure hundred men pursued : for two hundred stayed, who being wearie could not passe the Torrent Besor. 11. And they found an Egyptian in the field, and brought him to Dauid : and they gaue him bread to eat, and water to drink, 12. and also a piece of a mase of drie figges, and two bunches of retins. Who when he had eaten, his spirite returned, and he was refreshed : for he had not eaten bread, nor drunken water three daies and three nights. 13. Dauid therefore sayd to him. Whose art thou? or whence? and whither goest thou? who sayd: I am a yong man of Egypt, the seruant of an Amalecite : and my master hath lett me, because I began to be sicke three daies agoe. 14. For we brake forth at the south side of Cereithi, and against Iuda, and at the south of Caleb, and burnt Siceleg with

(a) Consult our Lord for me : so Dauid by the Priests mediation, was instructed what to doe.

with fire. 15. And David sayd to him : Canst thou bring me to this companie ? Who sayd : Swear to me by God , that thou wilt not kil me, nor deliuer me into the hands of my Lord , and I wil bring thee to this companie. And David sware to him. 16. Who when he had brought them , behold they sate vpon the face of al the earth , eating & drinking, and as it were keeping a festiual day , for al the prey and spoiles which they had taken out of the Land of the Philisthims, and out of the Land of Iuda. 17. And David stricke them from euening vntil the euening of the next day , and there escaped not anie of them , but foure hundred yong men , which had gotten vpon camels , and were fled. 18. David therefore rescued al things that the Amalecites had taken, and he rescued his two wiues. 19. Neither was there anie wanting from litle to great, as wel of their sonnes as of their daughters , and of the spoiles, and what things soeuer they had taken , David brought al againe. 20. And he tooke al the flocks and heards, and draue them before his face: and they sayd: This is the prey of David. 21. And David came to the two hundred men , which being wearie had staied, neither were able to follow David , and he had bidden them to rest in the Torrent Befor : who came forth to meete David , and the people that were with him. And David comming to the people , saluted them peaceably. 22. And euerie naughtie, and wicked fellow of the men, that had gone with David, answering , sayd : Because they came not with vs , we wil not giue them anie thing of the prey, which we haue recouered : but let their wife and children suffice euerie man, whom when they haue receiued , let them depart. 23. But David sayd : You shal not doe so my brethren , of these things, which our Lord hath deliuered to vs, and hath kept vs, and hath giuen the thecues , that were broken out against vs , into our hands : 24. neither shal anie man heare you vpon this talke. For thereshal be equal portion of him that went downe into battel , and of him that abode at the baggage, and they shal diuide alike. 25. And this hath been done from that day, and ever after (b) it was decreed, and ordained as a law in Israel. 26. David therefore came into Siceleg, and sent guirts of the prey to the ancients of Iuda his neighbours , saying : Take a benediction of the prey of our Lords enemies. 27. To them that were in Bethel , and that were in Ramoth toward the South , and them that were in Gether , 28. and them in Aroer , and them in Sephamoth , and them in Esthano, 29. and them in Rachal, and them in the cities of Ierameel , and them in the cities of semi , 30. and them in Harama , and them in the lake of Asan, and them in Athach, 31. and them in Hebron, and to the rest that were in those places, in the which David had tarried , and his men.

(b) It is not against Gods commandment, Deut. 4. & 12. to make new lawes, so they be conformable & not contrarie to Gods former lawes.

C H A P. XXXI.

Saul with his sonnes are slaine in battel. 7. The Philisthiims possesse the place, and hang the dead bodies on a wal, 11. but valiant men of Iabes Galaad take them a way, and burne them, burie their bones, and fast seuen dayes.

AND the Philisthiims fought against Israel, and the men of Israel fled before the face of the Philisthiims, and fel being slaine in mount Gelboe. 2. And the Philisthiims fel vpon Saul, and vpon his sonnes, and they stricke Ionathas, and Abinadab, and Melchisua the sonnes of Saul, 3. and the whole weight of the battel was turned vpon Saul: and the archers ouertooke him, and he was fore wounded of the archers. 4. And Saul sayd to his esquier: Draw out thy sword, and strike me: lest perhaps these vncircumcised come, and kil me, mocking me. And his esquier would no: for he was frightened with exceeding feare. (a) Saul therefore caught his sword, and fel vpon it. 5. Which when his esquier had seen, to wit, that Saul was dead, himselfe also fel vpon his sword and died with him. 6. Saul therefore died, and his three sonnes, and his esquier, and al his men in that day together. 7. And the children of Israel, that were beyond the vally, and beyond Iordan, seeing that the men of Israel were fled, and that Saul was dead, and his sonnes, they left their cities, and fled: and the Philisthiims came, and dwelt there. 8. And when the next day was come, the Philisthiims came to spoile them that were slaine, and they found Saul and his three sonnes, lying in mount Gelboe. 9. And they did cut off Saules head, and spoiled him of his armour, and sent into the land of the Philistians round about, that it should be declared in the temple of their Idols, and among their people. 10. And they did put his armour in the temple of Astaroth, but his bodie they hung on the wal of Bethsam. 11. Which when (b) the inhabitants of Iabes Galaad had heard whatsoeuer the Philisthiims had done to Saul, 12. al the most valiant men arose, and walked al the night, and tooke the bodie of Saul, and the bodies of his sonnes, from the wal of Bethsam: and they came to Iabes Galaad, and burnt them there: 13. and they tooke their bones, and buried them in the wood of Iabes, and fasted seuen daies.

(a) Saul killing himself after that he was wounded by his enimies, signifieth those that being overcome by tentations desperately perfit, & wilfully die in their sinne. S. Greg. ho. 10.

(b) These men are comendable for gratitude towards Saul, who had deliuered them, ch. 11. for a worke of mercie in burying the dead: for pietie towards their King & Princes, and for fortitude in achieving to heroicall an act.

THE ARGUMENT

OF THE SECOND BOOK

OF KINGS.

BESIDES a great part of the first booke, and beginning of the third, this second booke is wholly of King Dauid. Whose manie laudable Actes, as also his faulces (which were fewer) with his true repentance, and punishment, are related, not in such method, as may easily be diuided into distinct parts, in order of the chapters; but according to the distinction of things conteined, his succession to the royal crowne, first in Iuda, and after in al Israel, with the acclination and death of his competitor Isboseth, are recorded in the 2. 3. 4. and 5. chapters. His vertues, and praises, to wit, his solenne mourning for Saul and that familie, his deuotion, fortitude, pietie, and gratitude are specially touched in the 1. 6: 7. 8. 9. and 10. chapters. His sinnes of adulterie with Bethsabee, of killing her husband Vrias, of pride in numbring his people, with his hartie repentance, and temporal punishment for the same, are written from the 11. chapter to the 21. together with the 24. The 22. and 23. chapters conteyne his thanks giuing to God for benefites receiued, and prophetic of things to come, with a catalogue of valiant men.

This book is wholly of Dauid.

His succession to the Kingdome.

His vertues.

Faults:

Thanks, and Prophecie.

THE SECOND
 B O O K O F
 SAMVEL, WHICH WE CAL THE SECOND OF KINGS.

CH P. I.

Dauid hearing that Saul and Ionathas are slaine, 11. mourneth with al his familie, weeping and fasting. 13. Causeth him to be slaine who affirmed that he had killed King Saul. 18. He traineth vp archers: 19. and wuisech also al Israel to mourne.

AND it came to passe, after that Saul was dead, that Dauid returned from the slaughter of Amalec, and taryed in Siceleg twe dayes. 2. And in the third day there appeared a man comming out of Sauls campe, his garments torne, and sprinkled on the head with dust, and as he came to Dauid, he fel vpon his face, and adored. 3. And Dauid said vnto him: Whence comcest thou? Who said to him: I fled out of the campe of Israel. 4. And Dauid said vnto him: What is the matter that is done? tel me. Who said: The people is fled out of the battel, and many of the people are ouerthrowen & dead: yea Saul also and Ionathas his sonne are dead. 5. And Dauid said to the yong man that told him: How knowest thou that Saul is dead, and Ionathas his sonne? 6. And the yong man that told him, sayd: (a) By chance I came into mount Gelboe, and Saul leaped vpon his speare: moreouer the chariots and horsemen approched vnto him, 7. and turning backward, and seeing me he called. To whom when I had answered, Here I am, 8. he said to me: Who art thou? And

(a) He fained al this, thinking to get fauour (for Saul killed himself, 1. 1. c. 11.) but Dauid punished him, as such a crime deserued. v. 25.

I said to him : I am an Amalecite. 9. And he said to me : Stand vpon me and kil me, because anguishes hold me, and as yet al my life is in me. 10. And standing vpon him, I killed him : for I knew that he could not liue after the fal : and I tooke the Diademe that was on his head, & the bracelet from his arme, & haue brought to thee my Lord hither. 11. And Dauid taking his garments rent them, and al the men that were with him, 12. and they (b) mourned, & wept, & fasted vntil euening vpon Saul & vpon Ionathas his sonne, and vpon the people of our Lord, & vpon the house of Israel, because they were fallen by the sword. 13. And Dauid said to the yong man that had told him : Whence art thou? Who answered : I am the sonne of a man a stranger of Amalec. 14. Dauid said to him : Why didst thou not feare to put to thy hand to kil the annointed of our Lord? 15. And Dauid calling one of his seruants, said : Goe runne vpon him. Who strucke him, & he died. 16. And Dauid said to him : Thy bloud be vpon thine owne head : for thyne owne mouth hath spoken against thee, saying : I haue slaine the annointed of our Lord. 17. And Dauid mourned this kind of mourning vpon Saul, and vpon Ionathas his sonne. (18. And he commanded that they should (c) teach the children of Iuda the bow, as it is written in the Book of the iust.) And he said: Consider, O Israel, for them that be dead wounded vpon thy high places. 19. The Nobles, O Israel, are slayne vpon thy mountaynes: how are the valiant fallen? 20. Tel it not in Geth, neither tel ye it in the high waies of Ascaion : lest perhaps the daughters of the Philisthiims be glad, lest the daughters of the vncircumcised reioice. 21. Mountaines of Gelboe, let neither dew nor rayne come vpon you, neither be they fields of the firist fruits : because there was the shield of the valiats cast away, the shield of Saul, as though he were not annointed with oyle. 22. From the bloud of the slaine, from the fat of the valiants, the arrow of Ionathas neuer returned backward, and the sword of Saul did not returne emptie. 23. Saul and Ionathas amiable, and comely in their life, in death also were not diuided : swifter then eagles, stronger then Lyons. 24. Yee daughters of Israel weep vpon Saul, who clothed you with scarlet in delicacies, who gaue golden ornaments to your attyre. 25. How haue the valiats fallen in battel? Ionathas been slayne in thy high places? 26. I am sorie for thee, my brother Ionathas, exceeding beautiful and amiable about the loue of women. As the mother loueth her onlie sonne, so did I loue thee. 27. How haue the strong fallen, and the weapons of warre perished:

(b) Exequies of Saul obserued with mourning weeping and fasting.

(c) The Philisthiims were strong & cunning archers, therefore Dauid commanded that his subjects should learne & exercise the same manner of fight.

C H A P. II.

David is receiued and annoiuted King of Iuda. 5. He commendeth those of Iabes Galaad, which buried Saul. 8. Isboseth the sonne of Saul reigneth ouer the rest of Israel. 12. Whereby riseth sharpe warre between Abner and Ioab, chiefe Captaines of the two Kings. 30. Manie more are slaine of Abners partia then of Ioabs.

HEREFOR E after these things Dauid consulted our Lord, saying: Shal I goe vp into one of the cities of Iuda? And our Lord said to him: Goe vp. And Dauid said: Whither shal I goe vp? And he answered him: Into Hebron. 2. Dauid therefore went vp, and his two wiues, Achinoam the Iezrahelite, and Abigail the wife of Nabal of Carmel: 3. yea and the men also that were with him, Dauid brought euery one with his household: and they abode in the townes of Hebron. 4. And the men of Iuda came, and (a) annoiuted Dauid there, to reigne ouer the house of Iuda. And it was told Dauid, that the men of Iabes Galaad had buried Saul. 5. Dauid therefore sent messengers vnto the men of Iabes Galaad, and sayd vnto them: Blessed be you to our Lord, which haue done this mercie with your Lord Saul, and haue buried him. 6. And now our Lord certes wil render you mercie and truth: but I also wil requite you the good turne, for that you haue done this thing. 7. Let your hands be strengthened, and be yee stout men: for although your Lord Saul be dead, yet the house of Iuda hath annoiuted me to be their King. 8. But Abner the sonne of Ner Prince of Sauls armie, tooke Isboseth the sonne of Saul, and led him about through the campe, 9. and ordained him King ouer Galaad, & ouer Gessuri, & ouer Iezrahel, & ouer Ephraim, and ouer Benjamin, and ouer al Israel. 10. Fourtie yeares old was Isboseth the sonne of Saul when he began to reigne ouer Israel, and he reigned (b) two yeares: and only the house of Iuda folowed Dauid. 11. And the number of the daies, that Dauid abode, reigning in Hebron ouer the house of Iuda, was seuen yeares and six months. 12. And Abner the sonne of Ner went forth, and the seruants of Isboseth the sonne of Saul, out of the campe into Gabaon. 13. Moreouer Ioab the sonne of Saruia, and the seruants of Dauid went forth, and met them beside the people of Gabaon, and when they were come together into one place, they fate one ouer-against an other: these on the one side of the poole, and they on the other. 14. And Abner said to Ioab: Let the yong men rise, and (c) play before vs. And Ioab answered: Let them rise. 15. There rose therefore and passed twelue in number, of Benjamin, of Isboseths part the sonne of Saul, and twelue of the seruants of

(a) This second annoiuting, as also the third, (ch. 5.) was in confirmation, & to put him in possession of the first, made long before.
1. Reg. 16.

(b) He reigned two yeares before he began much to decline, but in al seuen yeares & a half, for so long Dauid reigned only in Iuda.
v. 11.

(c) Hence perhaps commeth the phrase, that one armie playeth vpon another with small and great arti-

Dauid. 16. And euery one taking the head of his mate , sticke his sword into the side of his aduersarie , and they fel together : and the name of the place was called : The field of the valiants , in Gabaon. 17. And there rose a very sore battel in that day : & Abner was put to flight, and the men of Israel , by the seruants of Dauid. 18. And there were there the three sonnes of Saruia , Ioab, and Abisai, & Asael : moreouer Asael was a most swift runner , as it were one of the roes , that abide in the woods. 19. And Asael pursued Abner , and declined not to the right hand nor to the left omitting to pursue Abner. 20. Abner therefore looked backe behind him, and said : Art thou Asael? Who answered : I am. 21. And Abner said to him : Goe to the right hand , or to the left , and apprehend one of the yong men , and take to thee his spoyles. But Asael would not leauc but vrged him. 22. And againe Abner said to Asael : Retyre , and doe not folow me , lest I be compelled to sticke thee to the ground , and I thal not be able to lift vp my face to Ioab thy brother. 23. Who contemned to heare , and would not goe aside : Abner therefore stricke him with his speare turned backe in the priuy parts, and thrust him through , and he dyed in the same place : and al that passed by that place , wherein Asael fel & dyed, did stay. 24. But whiles Ioab and Abisai pursued Abner flying , the sunne went downe : & they came as farre as the hil of the water conluit , that is ouer-against the valley the way of the desert in Gabaon. 25. And the children of Benjamin were assembled together to Abner : and being gathered in a plump into one troupe , they stood in the toppe of one hil. 26. And Abner cried out to Ioab , and said : Shal thy sword rage vnto vtter destruction : knowest thou not that desperation is dangerous : how long differrest thou to say to the people , that they leaue to pursue their brethren? 27. And Ioab said : Our Lord liueth , if thou hadest spoken, in the morning had the people retyred from pursuing their brethren. 28. Ioab therefore sounded the trumpeter , and al the armie stood , neither did they pursue Israel any further , nor enter into fight. 29. And Abner and his men went through the champ:ine country , al that night : and they passed Jordan , and hauing viewed al Beth-horon , came to the campe. 30. Moreouer Ioab returning , after he had left Abner , assembled al the people : and there wanted of Dauids seruants ninteen men , beside Asael. 31. But the seruants of Dauid stricke of Benjamin , and of the men that were with Abner, three hundred three score , who also died. 32. And they tooke Asael, and buried him in the sepulchre of his father in Bethlehem : and Ioab , and the men that were with him , waiked al the night , and in the very twilight they came into Hebron.

lerie, that is, strike and kil their enemies with al sorts of gunnes. Iosephus li. 7. c. 1. Aniq.

C H A P. III.

Isboseths forces daily decay, Dauid increaseth in power, and hath manie sonnes.
 7. Abner vpon occasion of a slander breaketh from Isboseth, and serueth Dauid, bringing Michol to him, and much people of Israel. 23. Ioab of emulation and reuenge killeth Abner. 28. For which Dauid is offenaed with Ioab, 31. and mourneth for Abner.

HERE was made therefore long strife between the house of Saul, & between the house of Dauid: Dauid prospering & alwaies stronger then himself, but the house of Saul decreasing daily. 2. And there were sonnes borne to Dauid in Hebron: & his first begotten was Amnon of Achinoam the Iezrahelite. 3. And after him Chelcab of Abigail the wife of Nabal of Carmel: moreouer the third Absalom, the sonne of Maacha the daughter of Tolmai King of Gessur. 4. And the fourth Adonias, the sonne of Haggith: and the fifth Saphathia, the sonne of Abital. 5. The sixt also Iethraam of Eglia the wife of Dauid. these were borne to Dauid in Hebron. 6. Therefore when there was battei between the house of Saul & house of Dauid, Abner the sonne of Ner ruled the house of Saul. 7. And Saul had a concubine named Respha, the daughter of Aia. And Isboseth said to Abner: 8. Why diddest thou goe in to my fathers concubine? Who being wrath exceedingly for the words of Isboseth, said: What (a) am I a dogges head against Iuda this day, which haue done mercie vpon the house of Saul thy father, and vpon his brethren and neereft freinds, and haue not deliuered thee into the hands of Dauid, and hast thou sought against me that thou mightest charge me for a woman to day? 9. These things doe God to Abner, and these things adde he to him, vnlesse as our Lord hath sworne to Dauid, so I doe truth to him. 10. That the Kingdome be transferred from the house of Saul, and the throne of Dauid be exalted ouer Israel, and ouer Iuda, from Dan to Bersabee. 11. And he could not answer him any thing, because he feared him. 12. Abner therefore sent messengers to Dauid for himself saying: Whose is the land? And that they should say: Make amitie with me, and my hand shall be with thee: and I will reduce vnto thee al Israel. 13. Who said: Very wel; I wil make amitie with thee: but one thing I desire of thee, saying: Thou shalt not see my face before thou bring Michol the daughter of Saul: and so thou shalt come, and see me. 14. And Dauid sent messengers to Isboseth the sonne of Saul, saying: Restore my wife Michol, which I betrothed to me for an hundred prepuces of the Philisthiins. 15. Isboseth therefore sent, and tooke her from her husband Phaltiel, the sonne of Lais.

(a) Am I contemptible in thy sight, and yet head of the that oppose against Dauid? I that haue done so much for thee, wil not indure to be reprehended, for a smal fault. So God suffereth the maintainers of an euil quarel to fal out among themselues, wherby the right cause is aduanced.

16. And her husband folowed her weeping as farre as Behurim: and Abner said to him: Goe, and returne. Who returned. 17. Abner also spake to the ancients of Israel, saying: Both yester day and the day before your fought Dauid that he might reigne ouer you. 18. Now therefore doe so: because our Lord hath spoken to Dauid, saying: In the hand of my seruant Dauid I wil saue my people Israel from the hands of the Philisthims, and of al their enemies. 19. And Abner spake also to Benjamin. And he went to speake vnto Dauid in Hebron al things which pleased Israel, and al Benjamin. 20. And he came to Dauid into Hebron with twentie men: and Dauid made a feast to Abner, and to his men that came with him. 21. And Abner sayd to Dauid: I wil rise, that I may gather vnto thee my Lord King al Israel, and may enter a league with thee, & thou mayst reigne ouer al, as thy soule desireth. When Dauid therefore had brought Abner on the way, and he was gone in peace, 22. forthwith Dauids seruants and Ioab came, hauing slayne the robbers, with a prey exceeding great: and Abner was not with Dauid in Hebron, because he had now dismissed him, and he was departed in peace. 23. And Ioab, and al the arnie which were with him, came afterward: it was therefore told Ioab, that Abner the sonne of Ner came to the King, and he dismissed him, and he departed in peace. 24. And Ioab went in to the King, & said: What hast thou done? Behold Abner came to thee: why didst thou dismisse him & he is gone & departed? 25. Knowest thou not Abner the sonne of Ner, that to this end he came to thee, that he might deceiue thee, & might know thy going out, & thy coming in, & vnderstand al things that thou doest? 26. Ioab therefore being gone from Dauid, sent messengers after Abner, and brought him backe from the cesterne sira, Dauid being ignorat thereof. 27. And when Abner was returned into Hebron, Ioab brought him aside to the middes of the gate, to speake vnto him in guile: and stricke him there in the priuie parts, & he died, in reuenge of the bleud of Asael his brother. 28. Which when Dauid had heard, that the thing was now done, he said: I am innocent, and my Kingdome before God for euer from the blood of Abner the sonne of Ner, 29. & come it vpon the head of Ioab, & vpon al his fathers house: neither let there rayle of the house of Ioab one hauing a fluxe of seed, & a l. per, and holding the distaffe, and talking by the sword, & lacking bread. 30. Ioab therefore & Abisai his brother slew abner, because he had killed Asael their brother in Gabaon in the batel. 31. and Dauid said to Ioab, and to al the people, that were with him: Rent your garments, and be girded with sacke clothes, & mourne before the funeral of Abner. Moreouer King Dauid folowed the beere. 32. And when they had buried Abner in Hebron, King Dauid lifted vp his voice, and wept vpon the graue of Abner: and al the people also wept. 33. And the King mourning and lamenting abner, sayd: Ner as cowards are wont to die, hath abner died. 34. Thy hands were not bound, and thy feete were not loden with fetters: but as men are wont

(b) Weake, being newly receiued King, & not able to punish strong offenders But Ioab & others were afterwards punished. 3. Reg. 2.

to fall before the children of iniquitie, so art thou fallen. And al the people doubling it wept vpon him. 35. And when al the multitude was come to take meate with Dauid, when it was yet cleare day, Dauid sware, saying: These things doe God to me, and these adde he, if before sunne set I thal tast bread or any thing els. 36. And al the people heard, and al things pleased them which the King did in the sight of al the people. 37. And al the people knew, and al Israel in that day, that it was not the Kings doing, that Abner the sonne of Ner was slayne. 38. The King also said to his seruants: Are you ignorant that a Prince, and the greatest is slayne this day in Israel? 39. But I as yet (b) delicate, & annointed King: moreouer the sonnes of Saruia are hard to me: our Lord reward him that doeth euil according to his malice.

C H A P. IIII.

Baana and Rechab secretly kil Isboseth: 8. bring his head to Dauid. 9. Who condemning their fact, putteth them to death.

AND Isboseth the sonne of Saul heard that Abner was slaine in Hebron: and his hands were weakned, and al Israel was troubled. 2. And the sone of Saul had two men captaynes of robbers, the name of one Baana, & the name of the other Rechab, the sones of Rhemmō the Berothite of the sonnes of Benjamin: for Beroth also was accounted in Benjamin. 3. And the Berothites fled into Gethaim, and were there strangers vntil that time. 4. And Ionathas the sone of Saul had a sone lame in his feete: for he was five yeares old, when the tydings came of saul and Ionathas from Iezrahel. his nurse therefore taking him, fled: and when she made hast to flye, he fel, & was made lame: and he was called Miphiboseth. 5. Therefore the sonnes of Rhemmion the Berothite, Rechab and Baana coming, entred into the house of Isboseth in the heat of the day: who slept vpon his bed at noone. And the Portresse of the house that winnowed wheat, was alleep. 6. And they entred into the house secretly taking eares of corn, and Rechab and Baana his brother siruck him in priuy parts and fled. 7. And when they were entred into the house, he slept vpon his bed in a parler, and striking they killed him: and taking away his head they went by the way of the desert al night. 8. And brought the head of Isboseth to Dauid into Hebron: & they said to the King: Behold the head of Isboseth the sonne of Saul thine enemy, who sought thy life: and our Lord hath giuen my Lord the King this day reuenge of Saul, and of his seede. 9. But Dauid answering Rechab and Baana his brother, the sonnes of Rhemmion the Berothite, sayd to the: Our Lord liueth, which hath deliuered my soule out of al distresse, 10. for so much as him that told me, and said: Saul is dead, who thought that he told prosperous things, I apprehended, and slew him in Siceleg, to whom I should haue giuen a reward for his tydings. 11. How much more now when wicked men haue slaine an innocent man in his owne house, vpon his bed, shal I not require his blood of your hand, and take you away from the earth? 12. Dauid therefore commanded his seruants, and they slew them, and cutting off their hands and feet, hanged them ouer the poole in Hebron: but the head of Isboseth they tooke, and buried in the sepulcher of Abner in Hebron.

that

C H A P . V .

With general consent Dauid is annoiued King of al Israel. 7. He taketh the towre of Sion in Ierusalem, destroying the Iebuseites. 9. Buildeth there a new house: 13. marieth more wiues, and hath more children. 17. The Philistines rising against him are ouerthrowen, 22. also the second time.

AND al the tribes of Israel came to Dauid in Hebron, saying: Behold we are thy bone and thy flesh. 2. Yea and yetterday also & the day before when Saul was King ouer vs, thou wast he that didst lead vs forth & bring backe Israel: & our Lord sayd to thee: Thou shalt feed my people Israel, and thou shalt be Prince ouer Israel. 3. The ancients also of Israel came to the King into Hebron, & King Dauid made a league with them in Hebron before our Lord: and they (a) annoiued Dauid to be King ouer Israel. 4. Thirtie yeares old was Dauid when he began to reigne, and he reigned fourtie yeares. 5. In Hebron he reigned ouer Iuda seuen yeares and six months: and in Ierusalem he reigned three and thirtie yeares ouer al Israel & Iuda. 6. And the King went, & al the men that were with him, into Ierusalem, to the Iebuseite the inhabiter of the land, & they said to Dauid: Thou shalt not come in hither, vnlesse thou take away the blind & the lame, saying: Dauid shall not come in hither. 7. But (b) Dauid tooke the towre of Sion, this is the citie of Dauid. 8. For Dauid had proposed in that day a reward to whosoeuer should strike the Iebuseite, and touch the gutters of the house tops, and take away the blind and the lame that hated the soule of Dauid: therefore it is sayd in the prouerbe: (c) The blind and the lame shall not enter into the temple. 9. And Dauid dwelt in the towre, and called it, The citie of Dauid: & built round about from Meilo and inwards. 10. And he went prospering and growing vp, and our Lord the God of hostes was with him. 11. Hiram also the King of Tyre sent messengers to Dauid, and cedar trees, and carpenters, and masons for walles: and they built a house for Dauid. 12. And Dauid knew that our Lord had confirmed him King ouer Israel, and that he had exalted his Kingdome ouer his people Israel. 13. Dauid therefore tooke yet concubines and wiues of

(a) They annoiue him againe in confirmation of their consent (as Iuda had done c. 2.) acknowledging Gods ordinance. 1. Reg. 10.

(b) King Dauid now atchieued that the tribe of Iuda could not in the time of Iosue. Iosue 15.

(c) Idols that haue eyes and can not see, feete and can not goe, & al not enter into the Church of Christ.

Ierusalem, after he was come from Hebron: and there were borne to Dauid other sonnes also and daughters: 14. And these be the names of them, that were borne to him in Ierusalem, Samua, and Sobab, and Nathan, and Salomon, 15. and Iebahar, and Elisua, and Nepheg, 16. and Iaphia; and Elisama, and Elioda, and Eliphaleth. 17. The Philistiims therefore heard that they had annointed Dauid to be King ouer Israel: and they went vp ai to seek Dauid: which when Dauid had heard, he went downe into a hold. 18. And the Philistiims coming were spred in the Vale Raphaim. 19. And Dauid consulted our Lord, saying: Shal I goe vp to the Philistiims? and wilt thou giue them into my hand? And our Lord sayd to Dauid: Goe vp, because deliuering I wil giue the Philistiims in thy hand. 20. Dauid therefore came into Baal Pharasim: and strucke them there, and said: Our Lord hath diuided mine enemies before me, as waters are diuided; therefore the name of the place was called Baal Pharasim. 21. And they left there their * grauen Gods: which Dauid, and his men tooke. 22. And the Philistians added yet to goe vp, and spred themselues in the Vale Raphaim. 23. And Dauid consulted our Lord: Shal I goe vp against the Philistiims, and wilt thou deliuer them into my hands? Who answered: Goe not vp against them, but fetch a compasse behind their backe, & thou shalt come to them ouer against the peare trees. 24. And when thou shalt heare the sound of one going in the top of the peare-trees, then shalt thou enter battel: because then wil our Lord goe forth before thy face, to strike the campe of the Philistiims. 25. Dauid therefore did as our Lord had commanded him, and he strucke the Philistiims from Gabaa, vntil thou come to Gezer.

* sculpsilia.

C H A P. VI.

With great solemnitie Dauid bringeth the Arke of God from Abinadabs house.

6. Oza for touching it is sodainly slaine. 9. Whereupon Dauid feareing to bring it to his owne house, leaueth it in the house of Obedeud three months, 12. then fetcheth it, dancing before it, though Michol scorne his deuotion. 17. He offereth sacrifices, distributeth gifts, blesteth the people. 23. And Michol is barren.

AND Dauid againe gathered together al the chosen of Israel, thirtie thousand, 2. And Dauid arose, and went, and al the people that was with him of the men of Iuda, to bring the arke of God, vpon which was inuocated the name of the Lord of hostes, which sitteth in the Cherubins vpon it. 3. And they layd the arke of God vpon a new wayne: and tooke it out of the house of Abinadab, who was in Gabaa: and Oza and Ahio the sonnes of Abinadab, did driue the new wayne.

4. And

4. And when they had taken it out of the house of Abinadab, who was in Gabaa, Ahio keeping the arke of God went before the arke. 5. But David, and al Israel played before our Lord in al wrought wood, both on harpes and lutes and timbrels & sitters and cymbals. 6. And after they came to the Floore of Nachon, Oza put forth his hand to the arke of God, and held it: because the oxen spurned, and made it leane aside. 7. And our Lord was wrath with indignation against Oza, and itrucke him for the (*) raihnes: who died there before the arke of God. 8. And David was stricken sad, for that our Lord had strucken Oza, & the name of that place was called: The striking of Oza vntil this day. 9. And David feared our Lord in that day, saying: How shal the arke of our Lord come vnto me? 10. And he would not haue the arke of our Lord turne in to himself into the citie of David: but he caused it to turne in vnto the house of Obededom the Getheite. 11. And the arke of our Lord dwelt in the house of Obededom the Getheite three months: & our Lord blessed Obededom, & al his house. 12. And it was told King David, that our Lord had blessed Obededom, & al that he had for the arke of God. David therefore wēt, & brought away the arke of God out of the house of Obededom, into the citie of David with ioy. 13. And when they had passed, that caried the arke of our Lord, six passes, he immolated an oxe and a ramme. 14. And David danced with al his might before our Lord. moreouer David was girded with a linnen ephod. 15. And David, & al the house of Israel brought the arke of testament of our Lord in iubilation, & in sound of trumpet. 16. And when the arke of our Lord was entred into the citie of David, Michol the daughter of Saul looking forth through a window, saw King David leaping, & dancing (b) before our Lord: and she despised him in her hart. 17. And they brought in the arke of our Lord, & set it in his place in the middes of the tabernacle, which David had pitched for it: & David offered holocaustes, & pacifikes before our Lord. 18. And when he had accomplished offering holocausts and pacifikes, he blessed the people in the name of the Lord of holts. 19. And he distributed to al the multitude of Israel as wel man as woman, to euerie one one cake of bread, and one roasted piece of beefe, and flowre fryed with oyle: and al the people went, euerie man into his house. 20. And David returned to blesse his owne house: and Michol the daughter of Saul comming forth to meet David, sayd: How glorious was the King of Israel to day vncouering himself before the handmayds of his seruants, and was naked, as if one of the ribbalds should be naked. 21. And David sayd vnto Michol: Before our Lord, which hath chosē me rather then thy father, and then al his house, and commanded me that I should be duke ouer the people of our Lord in Israel, 22. both wil I play, & wil become more vile then I haue been: and I wil be humble in myne eyes, and with the handmayds, of whom thou speakest, I wil appeare more glorious. 23. I therefore vnto Michol the daughter of Saul was there no child borne vnto the day of her death.

(*) Either there was no probable danger, and so without cause Oza touched the arke, that he might seeine to be very careful; or els he vsed not so much reuerēce as he ought to haue done. l. 2. c. 12. de mirabil. S. Scrip. apud S. Aug. tom. 3.

(b) To dance before the arke is to dance before our Lord.

(g) The tabernacle made by Moyses was a goodlie thing, but being couered with skinnes and in manie respects insufficient for Gods seruice, Dauid desired to build a glorious Temple. But was not permitted to doe it for myserie sake, to signifie that Christ the true Salomō should build his Church, that farre excelleth the Synagogue of the Iewes, & old Testament.

S. Aug. l. 17. c. 1. de ciuit.

(a) He that supposeth this great promise to be fulfilled in Salomon, erreth much, saith S. Augustin ibidem.

(b) S. Paul expoundeth this of Christ. Hab. 1. 2. 5.

(c) This can not be said of Christ, but of Salomon, & of any Christian, so this place hath manie literal senses.

(d) The See Apostolike, & Priestly power in the Church of Christ, is this perpetual Kingdome S. Epiphanius Heresis 29.

CHAP. VII.

Dauids good purpose to build a Temple is differred by Gods appointment. 12. with promise that his sonne shal performe it, and be established in the Kingdome. 18. For al which he rendreth thanks to God.

AND it came to passe when the King sate in his house, and our Lord had giuen him rest on euery side from al his enemies, 2. he sayd to Nathan the Prophet: Doest thou see that I dwel in a house of cedar, & the arke of God is set (g) in the middes of skins? 3. And Nathan said to the King: Al that is in thy hart, goe doe, because our Lord is with thee. 4. And it came to passe in that night: and behold the word of our Lord to Nathan, saying: 5. Goe, and speake to my seruant Dauid: Thus sayth our Lord: Shalt thou build me a house to dwel in? 6. For neither haue I dwelt in house from the day that I brought the children of Israel out of the Land of Ægypt, vntil this day: but I walked in tabernacle, and in tent. 7. Throughout al the piaces, that I haue passed with al the children of Israel, speaking did I speake to one of the tribes of Israel, which I commanded to feede my people Israel, saying: Why did you not build me a house of cedar? 8. And now these things shalt thou say to my seruant Dauid: Thus sayth the Lord of hosts: I tooke thee out of the pastures folowing the flocks, that thou shouldest be Prince ouer my people Israel: 9. and I haue been with thee wherefoeuer thou hast walked, and haue slayne al thine enemies from thy face: and haue made thee a great name, according to the name of the great ones, that are in the earth. 10. And I wil appoint a place for my people Israel, and wil plant it, and they shal dwel vnder it, and shal be troubled no more: neither shal the children of iniquitie adde to afflict them as before. 11. From the day that I appointed Iudges ouer my people Israel: and I wil giue thee rest from al thine enemies. and our Lord foretelleth thee, that our Lord wil make thee a house. 12. And when thy daies shal be accomplished, and thou shalt sleep with thy fathers, I wil rayse vp thy seed after thee, which shal come forth of thy wombe, and (a) I wil establish his Kingdome. 13. He shal build a house to my name, and I wil establish the throne of his Kingdome for euer. 14. (b) I wil be to him for a father, and he shal be to me for a sonne: who if (c) he shal doe any thing vniustly, I wil rebuke him in the rod of men, and in the plagues of the sonnes of men. 15. But my mercie I wil not take away from him, as I tooke from Saul, whom I remoued from thy face. 16. And thy house shal be faithful, and (d) thy Kingdome for euer before thy face, and thy throne shal be firme continually. 17. According

according to al these words, & according to al this vision, so did Nathan speake to David. 18. And David went in, & sat before our Lord, & said: Who am I, o Lord God, & what is my house, that thou hast brought me thus farre? 19. But this also hath seemed litle in thy sight, o Lord God, vnles thou didst speake also of the house of thy seruant for a long time: for this is the law of Adam, Lord God. 20. What can David therefore adde yet, to speake vnto thee? for thou knowest thy seruant, o Lord God. 21. For thy word, and according to thy hart thou hast done al these great things, so that thou wouldest notifie it to thy seruant. 22. Therefore art thou magnified, o Lord God, because there is none like to thee, neither is there a God besides thee, in al things that we haue heard with our eares. 23. And what nation is there in the earth as thy people Israel, for the which (e) God hath gone, that he might (f) redeeme it to be his people, & might make himself a name, & doe for them great wonders, and horrible things vpon the earth, before the face of thy people, whom thou redeemedst to thy self out of Ægypt, from the nations & from their Gods. 24. For thou hast confirmed the people Israel to be an euerlasting people: and thou Lord God art become their God. 25. Now therefore, o Lord God, raise vp for euer the word, that thou hast spoken vpon thy seruant & vpon his house: & doe as thou hast spoken, 26. that thy name may be magnified for euer, and it may be said: The Lord of hostes is God ouer Israel. And the house of thy seruant David shal be established before our Lord, 27. because thou, o Lord of hostes God of Israel, hast reuealed the eare of thy seruant, saying: A house I build thee: therefore hath thy seruant found his hart to pray thee with this prayer. 28. Now therefore, o Lord God, thou art God, & thy words shal be true: for thou hast spoken to thy seruant these good things. 29. Begin therefore, & blesse the house of thy seruant, that it may be for euer before thee: because thou Lord God hast spoken, by thy blessing that the house of thy seruant be blessed for euer.

(e) Here and in manie other places the Hebrew word is of the plural number, Elohim, Gods, signifying more diuine Persons.

(f) The worke of mans Redemption is appropriated to God the Sonne.

C H A P. VIII.

Diuers nations and countries to which Israel payed tribute, are subdued by David, and pay tribute to Israel. 16. Chief officers are mentioned.

AND it came to passe, after these things David stricke the Philisthims, and humbled them, & David tooke the bridle of tribute out of the had of the Philisthims. 2. And he stricke Moab, & measured them with (a) a corde, making them euen with the earth: & he measured two cords, one to kil, & one to saue aliuie: & Moab became seruing David vnder tribute. 3. And David stricke Adarezer the sonne of Rohob King of Soba, when he went forth to haue dominion ouer the riuer Euphrates. 4. And David hauing taken of his part a thousand seuē hundred horsemen, & twentie thousand footemen, hoghsinewed al the chariot horses: & he left of the a hundred chariots. 5. There came also Syria of Damascus to bring ayde vnto Adarezer the King of Soba: and Dauid stricke of Syria two & twentie thousand men. 6. And Dauid put a garrison in Syria of Damascus: & Syria became seruing Dauid vnder tribute: and our Lord preserued Dauid in al things to whatsoeuer he went forth. 7. And Dauid tooke the golden armour, which the seruants of Adarezer had, and brought them into Ierusalem. 8. And out of Bete, and out of Beroth the cities of Adarezer King Dauid tooke brasse exceeding much. 9. And Tou the King of Emath heard that Dauid had stricken al the force of Adarezer, 10. And Tou sent Ioram his sonne to King Dauid, to salute him congratulating, and to giue thanks: for that he had ouerthrowen Adarezer, and stricken him. For Tou was enemie to Adarezer, and in his hand were vessels of gold, & vessels of siluer, & vessels of brasse: 11. which also King Dauid sanctified to our Lord with the siluer and gold, that he had sanctified of al the nations, which he had subdued 12. of Syria, & Moab, and the children of Ammon, and the Philisthiims, and Amalec, & of the spoiles of Adarezer the sonne of Rohob King of Soba. 13. Dauid also (b) made himself a name when he returned hauing taken Syria in the Vale of Salt-pittes, eighteen thousand being slayne: 14. & he put souldiers in Idumea, and piaced a garrison: and al Idumea was made to serue Dauid: & our Lord preserued Dauid in al things to whatsoeuer he proceeded. 15. And Dauid reigned ouer al Israel: Dauid also did iudgement and iustice to al his people. 16. And Ioab the sonne of Saruia was ouer the armie: moreouer Iosaphat the sonne of Ahilud was * recorder: 17. and Sadoc the sonne of Achitob, and Achimelech the sonne of Abiathar, were Priests: and Saraias, scribe: 18. And Banaias the sonne of Ioiada was ouer (c) the Cerethi and Phelethi: and the sonnes of Dauid (d) Princes.

(a) For more reproch David compassing them with cords, as cat-tel are enuironed, cast them on the ground, and by lot killed some, and spared some aliuie.

(b) Set vp an Arch in memorie of triumph.

(c) These were archers and sling throwers of the guard.
Paraphras Chald.

(d) Or Priests, or chief rulers. See the annotation Gen. 47. v. 23. 1 Paral. 18. v. 17.

* or chancelor.

C H A P. I X.

Miphiboseh a lame sonne of Ionathas is piously relieued by Dauid: 9. giuing to his vse the particular inheritance of Saul.

AND Dauid sayd: Is there any thinke you that is remaining of the house of Saul, that I may doe mercie with him for Ionathas sake? 2. And there was of the house of Saul a seruant named Siba, whom when the King had called vnto him, he said to him: Art thou Siba? And he answered: I am so thy seruant. 3. And the King said: Is there anie remaining of the house of Saul, that I may doe with him the mercie of God?

God? And Siba said to the King: There is yet liuing a sonne of Ionathas, lame of his feete. 4. Where is he? quoth he. And Siba sayd to the King: Behold he is in the house of Machir the sonne of Ammiel in Lodabar. 5. King Dauid therefore sent, and tooke him out of the house of Machir the sonne of Ammiel of Lodabar. 6. And when Miphiboseth the sonne of Ionathas the sonne of Saul was come to Dauid, he fel on his face, and adored. And Dauid said: Miphiboseth: Who answered: Here I am thy seruant. 7. And Dauid said to him: Feare not, because doing I wil doe mercie on thee for Ionathas thy father, and I wil restore (a) the lands of Saul thy father, and thou shalt eate bread vpon my table alwaies. 8. Who adoring him, said: Who am I thy seruant, that thou hast respect vpon a dead dog like vnto me? 9. The King therefore called Siba the seruant of Saul, and said to him: Al things whatsoever were Sauls, and al his house, I haue giuen to thy matters sonne. 10. Til for him therefore the land, thou and thy sonnes, and thy seruants: and thou shalt bring in meates for thy masters sonne, that he may be maintained: and Miphiboseth the sonne of thy Lord shal eate alwaies bread (b) vpon my table. And Siba had fifteen sonnes, and twentie seruants. 11. And siba said to the King: As thou my Lord King hast commanded thy seruant, so wil thy seruant doe: and Miphiboseth shal eate vpon my table, as one of the sonnes of the King. 12. And Miphiboseth had a little sonne called Micha: and al the kinred of the house of Siba serued Miphiboseth. 13. Moreouer Miphiboseth dwelt in Ierusalem: because he did eate alwaies of the Kings table: and he was lame on both feete.

(a) The particular inheritance that pertained to Sauls familie.

(b) Not fitte at table with the King, but haue his diet of the Kings prouision, besides the forside inheritance.

C H A P. X.

Hanon King of Ammon for euil entreating Dauids men, sent vnto him of curtesie, .7. is iustly plagued, with his confederates. 15. Also the second time they are ouerthrowen by Dauid.

AND it came to passe after these things, that the King of the children of Ammon died, and Hanon his sonne reigned for him. 2. And Dauid said: I wil doe mercie with Hanon the sonne of Naas, as (a) his father hath done mercie with me. Dauid therefore sent, comforting him by his seruants vpon his fathers death. But when the seruants of Dauid were come into the land of the children of Ammon, 3. the Princes of the children of Ammon said to Hanon their Lord: Thinkest thou that for the honour of thy father, Dauid hath sent comforters vnto thee, and not rather that he might search and spy into the citie, and overthrow it, hath Dauid sent his seruants vnto thee? 4. Hanon therefore tooke the seruants of Dauid, and shaued the one half of their beard,

(a) This Naas King of Ammon curteously entertained Dauids freindes which escaped from the King of Meab, killing most of them that were commended to him, because Dauid had left his countrie, and was returned into Iuda. 1. Reg. 22. Eij. or. Lcdes.

and cut away halfe their garments vnto the buttockes , and sent them zway. 5. Which when it was told Dauid, he sent to meete them : for the men were confounded very fouly, and Dauid commanded them : Tary in Iericho, til your beard be growen, and then returne. 6. And the children of Ammon seeing that they had done iniurie to Dauid, sent , and hyred for wages the Syrian of Rohob, and the Syrian of Soba , twentie thousand footemen, and of the King Maacha a thousand men, and of Istob twelue thousand men. 7. Which when Dauid had heard , he sent Ioab and the whole armie of warryers. 8. The children therefore of Ammon issued forth, and set their men in aray before the verie entrance of the gate : but the Syrian of Soba, and Rohob , and Istob , and Maacha were by themselves in the fielde. 9. Ioab therefore seeing that there was battel prepared against him , both before him and behind him, he picked out of al the chosen of Israel, and directed his armie agaynst the Syrian : 10. and the rest of the people he deliuered to Abisai his brother, who directed his armie against the children of Ammon. 11. And Ioab sayd : If the Syrian shal preuayle against me , thou shalt ayde me: and if the children of Ammon shal preuayle agaynst thee, I wil ayde thee. 12. Play the man , and let vs fight for our people , and the citie of our God : and our Lord wil doe that which is good in his sight. 13. Ioab therefore and the people that were with him, began to fight against the Syrians : Who immediately fled from his face. 14. And the children of Ammon seeing that the Syrians were fled , they also fled from the face of Abisai, and entred into the citie : and Ioab returned from the children of Ammon, and came to Ierusalem. 15. Therefore the Syrians seeing that they were fallen before Israel, they gathered themselves together. 16. And Adarezer sent , and fetched out the Syrians , that were beyond the riuer , and brought their armie : and Sobach the maister of Adarezers warre, was their chiet captaine. 17. Which when it was told Dauid , he gathered together al Israel , and passed ouer Iordan, and came into Helam : and the Syrians put themselves in aray against Dauid, & fought against him. 18. And thy Syrians fled from the face of Israel, and Dauid slew of the Syrians seuen hundred chariots, and fourtie thousand horsemen : and Sobach the Prince of the warre he stricke: who forthwith died. 19. And al the Kings that were to ayde Adarezer, seeing themselves ouercome of Israel, were afrayd and fled, eight and fiftie thousand before Israel. And they made peace with Israel : and serued them , and the Syrians were afrayd any more to ayde the children of Ammon.

C H A P . X I .

Dauid ouercome with concupiscence committeth adulterie with Bethsabee: 6. not finding other meanes to bide the crime, causeth her husband Vrias to be slaine. 27. Then marieth her, she beareth a sonne, and God is offended.

AND it came to passe the yeare turning about , at such time when Kings are wont to proceed to battels, Dauid sent Ioab , and his seruants with him, and al Israel, and they spoyled the children of Ammon , and besieged Rabba: but Dauid remayned in Ierusalem. 1. Whiles these things were ⁱⁿ doing , it chanced that Dauid arose from his bed after noone, and walked in the top of the Kings house : and he saw a woman washing her self , ouer-against the rooffe of his house : and the woman was very beautiful. 3. The King therefore sent , and inquired what woman it was. And it was told him, that she was Bethsabee the daughter of Eliam , the wife of Vrias the Hertheite. 4. Dauid therefore sending messengers (4) tooke her , who when she was entred in to him, he slept with her: and forthwith she was sanctified from her vncleannes: 5. and she returned into her house hauing conceived a childe. And sending she told Dauid , and sayd : I haue conceiued. 6. And Dauid sent to Ioab, saying : Send me Vrias the Hertheite. And Ioab sent Vrias to Dauid. 7. And Vrias came to Dauid. And Dauid asked how wel Ioab did , & the people , and how the warre was ordered. 8. And Dauid sayd to Vrias: Goe into thy house, and wash thy feet. And Vrias went forth out of the Kings house, & the Kings meate folowed him. 9. But Vrias slept before the gate of the Kings house, with the other seruants of his Lord, and went not downe to his owne house. 10. And it was told Dauid of them that sayd: Vrias went not into his house. And Dauid sayd to Vrias: didst thou not come from thy iourney ? Why didst thou not goe downe into thy house? 11. And Vrias sayd to Dauid : The Arke of God and Israel & Iuda dwel in pauillions , & my Lord Ioab and the seruants of my Lord abide vpon the face of the earth : and shal I enter into my house , to eate and to drinke, and sleep with my wife ? by thy health, and by the health of thy soule I wil not doe this thing. 12. Dauid therefore sayd to Vrias: Tarie here also this day, and to morow I wil dismisse thee. Vrias taried in Ierusalem that day and the next : 13. and Dauid called him to eate before him and to drinke , and he made him drunke : who going out at euening, slept on his couch with the seruants of his Lord , and went not downe into his house. 14. The morning therefore was come, and Dauid wrote a letter to Ioab : and sent it by the hand of Vrias , 15. writing in the letter : Set ye Vrias in the front of the battel , where the fight is strongest : and leaue him, that being strucken he may die. 16. Therefore when Ioab besieged the citie, he put Vrias in the place where he knew ~~the strongest men were~~ 17. And the men issuing out of the citie, fought against Ioab, and there fel of the people of the seruants of Dauid, and Vrias also the Hetheite died. 18. Ioab therefore sent, and told Dauid al the story of the battel: 19. and he commanded the messenger, saying: When thou hast told al the story of the battel to the King, 20. if thou see him to be angrie, and he say: Why approached you to the wal, to fight? Knew you not that manie weapons are throwen from aboue of the wal? 21. Who strucke Abimelec the sonne of Ierobaal? did not a woman cast vpon him a piece of a milstone from the wal, and slew him in Thebes? Why approached you neer the wal? Thou shalt say: Also thy seruant Vrias the Hetheite is slayne. 22. The messenger therefore departed, and came, and told Dauid al things that Ioab had commanded him. 23. And the messenger sayd to Dauid: The me haue preuailed against vs, and they issued forth to vs into the field: and we violently pursued them euen to the gate of the citie. 24. And the archers shot arrowes at thy seruants from of the wal aboue: and there died of the Kings seruants, yea, and thy seruant Vrias the Hetheite is dead. 25. And Dauid sayd to the messenger: Thus shalt thou say to Ioab: Let not this thing discomfourt thee: for the euent of warre is diuerse: now this man, and now that man the sword consumeth: encourage thy warryers against the citie, that thou mayst destroy it, and exhort them. 26. Also the wife of Vrias heard, that Vrias her husband was dead, & she mourned for him. 27. And the mourning being past, Dauid sent and brought her in into his house, & she became his wife, and she bare him a sonne: and this thing which Dauid had done, was displeasent before our Lord.

(4) Theodosius the Emperour pretending to be excused from punishment for his finnes , because King Dauid also was an adulterer & a manslayer, S. S. Ambrose replied, saying: Thou that hast folowed King Dauid erring, follow him repenning. After which admonition the Emperour most humbly did publike penance inioved him by the Bishop. In vita 7 heou.

C H P. XII.

Nathan the Prophet by a parable induceth Dauid to condemne himself of great sinne, 7. blameth and threatneth him for the same. 13. But vpon his confession denounceth remission of his sinne, with reseruatiō of temporal punishment, 15. the death of the child. 24. Bethsabee beareth an other sonne, who is called Salomon. 26. The citie of Rabbath is taken, and a rich crowne with other prey.

VR Lord therefore sent Nathan to Dauid: Who when he was come to him, he sayd vnto him: There were two men in one citie, one rich, and the other poore. 2. The rich man had sheep, and oxen exceeding manie. 3. But the poore man had nothing at al, beside one litle ewe, which he had bought and nourished, and which had growen in his house together with his children, eating of his bread, and drinking of his cup, & sleeping in his bosome: & it was to him as a daughter.

4. And when a certayne stranger was come to the rich man , he sparing to take of his owne sheep and oxen , to make a feast for that stranger , which was come to him , tooke the poore mans ewe , & made meates therof for the man that was come to him. 5. And Dauid being exceedingly wrath with indignation against that man , sayd to Nathan : Our Lord liueth , the man that hath done this is the childe of death. 6. He shal render the ewe fourefold , because he hath done this thing , & hath not spared. 7. And Nathan sayd to Dauid : Thou art that man. Thus sayth our Lord the God of Israel : I annointed thee to be King ouer Israel , & I deliuered thee from the hand of Saul , 8. and gaue thee the house of thy Lord , & the wiues of thy Lord in thy bosome , and haue giuen thee the house of Israel and Iuda : & if these things be litle , I wil adde farre greater things vnto thee. 9. Why therefore hast thou contemned the word of the Lord , that thou wouldest doe euil in my sight? Vrias the Hetheite thou hast smitten with the sword , and his wife thou hast taken to thy wife , and hast slayne him with the sword of the children of Ammon. 10. For which thing the sword shal not depart from thy house (1) for euer , because thou hast despised me , and hast taken the wife of Vrias the Hetheite , to be thy wife. 11. Therefore thus sayth our Lord : Behold , I wil rayse vpon thee euil out of thine owne house , and wil take thy wiues before thine eies , and giue them to thy neighbour , and he shal sleep with thy wiues in the sight of this Sunne. 12. For thou hast done it secretly : bot I wil doe this word in the sight of al Israel , and in the sight of the Sunne. 13. And Dauid sayd to Nathan : I haue sinned to our Lord. And Nathan said to Dauid : Our Lord also hath taken away thy sinne : thou shalt not die. 14. Neuertheles , because thou hast made the enemies of our Lord to blaspheme , for this thing , the sonne that is borne to thee dying shal dye. 15. And Nathan returned into his house. Our Lord also strucke the child , which the wife of Vrias had borne to Dauid , and he was past hope. 16. And Dauid besought our Lord for the child : and Dauid fasted a fast , and going in aside , lay vpon the ground. 17. And the ancients of his house came , being earnest with him , that he would rise from the ground : who would not , neither did he eate meate with them. 18. And it chanced the seuenth day that the infant died : and the seruants of Dauid feared to tel him , that the child was dead. For they sayd : Behold when the child yet liued , we spake to him , and he heard not our voice : how much more if we shal say , The child is dead , wil he afflict himself? 19. When Dauid therefore saw his seruants muttering , he vnderstood that the infant was dead : and he sayd to his seruants : Is the child dead? Who answered him : He is dead. 20. Dauid therefore rose from the ground ; and was washed and annoynted : and when he had changed his garment , he entred into the house of our Lord : and adored , and came into his owne house , and he called for bread , and he did eate. 21. And his seruants sayd vnto him : What thing is this,

1) Now & then some of thy seed shal be violently slaine : so were slaine three of his owne sonnes , Amnon , chap. 13. Absalom chap. 18. Adonias , 3 Reg. 2. six sonnes of Iosaphat , and al Iorams sonnes saue one , 2 Par. 21. also Ochozias , Amnias , Iosias , 2 Par. 24. 25. 35. and the sonnes of Sedechias , himselfe hauing his eyes put out and so brought into Babylon. 4. Reg. 25.

that thou hast done? for the infant, when he yet liued, thou didst fast and weep: but the child being dead, thou didst rise vp, and hast eaten bread. 22. Who sayd: For the infant, whiles he yet liued, I fasted and wept; for I sayd: Who knoweth if perhaps our Lord wil giue him to me, and the infant may liue? 23. But now because he is dead, why doe I fast? Shal I be able to cal him againe any more? I shal goe to him rather: but he shal not returne to me. 24. And Dauid comforted Bethsabee his wife, & going in vnto her, slept with her: Who bare a sonne, & he called his name Salomon, & our Lord loued him. 25. And he sent by the hand of Nathã the Prophet, & called his name, Amiable to our Lord, because our Lord loued him. 26. Ioab therefore fought against Rabbath of the children of Ammon, & won the Kings citie. 27. And Ioab sent messengers to Dauid, saying: I haue fought against Rabbath, & the Citie of waters is to be taken. 28. Now therefore gather the rest of the people, & besiege the citie, & take it: lest when the citie shal be wasted of me, the victorie be ascribed to my name. 29. Dauid therefore gathered al the people, and went forth against Rabbath, and when he had fought, he tooke it. 30. And he tooke the crowne of their King from his head, in weight a talent of gold, hauing most pretious stones, and it was put vpon Dauids head. Yea & the prey of the citie he caryed away exceeding much: 31. bringing forth also the people therof sawed them, and drew round about ouer them chariots mad with yron: and he diuided them with kniues, and drew them through in forme of brikes: so did he to al the cities of the children of Ammon: and Dauid returned, and al the armie into Ierusalem.

C H A P. XIII.

Amnon ravisheth Thamar. 20. For which Absalon killeth him, 37. and flyeth into Gessur.

AND it came to passe after these things, that Amnon the sonne of Dauid loued the sister of Absalom the sonne of Dauid, being very beautiful, called Thamar, 2. & was fond on her exceedingly, so that for the loue of her he was sicke: because wheras she was a virgin, it seemed vnto him hard to doe any thing vnjustly with her. 3. But Amnon had a freind, named Ionadab, the sonne of Sēmaa Dauids brother, a very wise man: 4. Who sayd to him: Why art thou so worne away with leanenes the Kings sonne, day by day? Why doest thou not tel me? And Amnon sayd to him: I loue Thamar the sister of my brother Absalom. 5. To whom Ionadab answered: Lye vpon thy bed, and fayne sickenes: and when thy father shal come to visite thee, say to him: Let my sister Thamar, I pray, come to me, to giue me meate, and to make me broth, that I may eate of her hād. 6. Amnon therefore lay downe & began as it were to be sicke: & when the King came to visite him, Amnō sayd to the King: Let Thamar my sifter come, I beseech you, that she may make in my sight two litie suppings, & I may take meat of her hand. 7. David therefore sent home to Thamar, saying: Come into the house of Amnon thy brother, & make him broth. 8. And Thamar came into the house of Amnon her brother, & he lay: who taking meale tempered it, & resolving it in his sight she made suppings. 9. And taking that which she had boyled, she powred it out, and set it before him, & he would not eate: and Amnon sayd: Put forth al from me. And when they had put forth al, 10. Amnon sayd to Thamar: Bring in the meate into the parler, that I may eate of thy hand. Thamar therefore tooke the suppings, which she had made, and caryed it in to Amnon her brother in the parler. 11. And when she had offered him the meate, he caught her, and sayd: Come, lie with me my sifter. 12. Who answered him: Doe not so my brother, doe not rauish me: for this is not lawful in Israel. Doe not this folie. 13. For I shal not be able to beare my reproch, and thou shalt be as one of the foolish in Israel: but rather speake to the King, & he wil not denie me to thee. 14. But he would not rest at her peticōs, but preuayling by force rauished her, & lay with her. 15. And Amnō hated her with exceeding great hatred so that the hatred was greater wherewith he hated her, then the loue with the which before he loued her. And Amnon said to her: Arise, & goe. 16. Who answered him: This euil, which now thou doest against me expelling me, is greater then that which thou didst before. And he would not heare her: 17. but calling the seruant, that ministred to him, he said: Thrust this woman out from me, and shut the doore after her. 18. Who was clothed with a garment downe to the foote; for the Kings daughters that were virgins, vsed such kind of garments. His seruant therefore thrust her out, and shut the doore after her. 19. Who sprinkling ashes on her head, renting her long garment, and her hands vpon her head, went going on, and crying. 20. And Absalom her brother sayd to her: hath Amnon thy brother lyen with thee? but now sifter hold thy peace, he is thy brother: neither afflict thou thy hart for this thing. Thamar therefore tarried pyning in the house of Absalom her brother. 21. And when David the King had heard these words, he was grieued exceedingly. 22. Moreouer Absalom spake not to Amnon neither good nor euil: for Absalom hated Amnon because he had rauished Thamar his sifter. 23. And it came to passe after the space of two yeares, that the sheep of Absalom were thorne in Baalhazor, which is beside Ephraim: and Absalom called al the Kings sonnes, 24. and he came to the King, & said to him: Behold thy seruants sheep are to be thorne: Let the King, I pray, with his seruants come to his seruant. 25. And the King said to Absalom: Doe not so my soane, request not that we come al, & charge thee. And when he was earnest with him, and he would not goe, ne blessed him. 26. And Absalom said: If thou wilt not come, at the least let Amnon my brother, I beseech thee, come with vs. And the King said to him: It is not necessary that he goe with thee. 27. Absalom therefore was earnest with him, and he let Amnon and al the Kings sonnes goe with him. And Absalom made a feast as it were the feast of a King. 28. And Absalom had commanded his seruants, saying: Marke when Amnon shal be drunke with wine, and I thal say to you: Strike him, and kil him, feare not: for it is I that command you: take courage, and play the valiant men. 29. Therefore the seruants of Absalom did against Amnon, as Absalom had commanded them. And al the Kings sonnes ryding gat vp euery one vpon their mules, and fled. 30. And when they yet went on in their way, a rumour came to Dauid, saying: Absalom hath stricken al the Kings sonnes, and there is not left of them so much as one. 31. The King therefore rose vp, and rent his garments: and fel vpon the ground, and al his seruants, that stood about him, rent their garments. 32. But Ionadab the sonne of Semmaa Dauids brother answering, sayd: Let not my Lord the King thinke, that al the Kings sonnes be slayne: Amnon only is dead, because he was put in the mouth of Absalom since the day that he rauished Thamar his sister. 33. Now therefore let not my Lord the King put this word vpon his hart, saying: Al the Kings sonnes are slayne: because Amnon only is dead. 34. And Absalom fled: and the seruant that was the scout-watch, lifted vp his eyes, and looked: and behold much people came by a by-way on the side of the mountayne. 35. And Ionadab sayd to the King: Loe the Kings sonnes be come: according to the words of thy seruant so is it done. 36. And when he had ceased to speake, the Kings sonnes also appeared: and entring in they lifted vp their voice, and wept: yea the King also and al his seruants bewailed with an exceeding great weeping. 37. Moreouer Absalom flying, went to Tholomai the sonne of Ammiud the King of Gessur, Dauid therefore mourned for his sonne al daies. 38. And Absalom when he was fled, and come into Gessur, was there three yeares. 39. And King Dauid ceased to pursue Absalom, because he was comforted vpon the death of Amnon.

C H A P . X I I I .

Ioab suborning a woman first to propose the suite by a parable, 21. obtayneth pardon for Absalom. 24. but so that he appeareth not in the Kings presence. 25. He is exceeding fayne, hath three sonnes and one daughter, 29. Ioab refusing to deale further for his free release, Absalom burneth his corne. 31. Then Ioab procureth his accessse to the King.

AND Ioab the sonne of Saruia, vnderstanding that the Kings hart was turned to Absalom, 2. he sent to Thecua, and tooke thence a prudent woman: and he sayd to her: Feyne that thou mournest, & put on a mourning garment, & be not annoited with oyle, that thou mayst be as a woman now a long tyme mourning for one dead. 3. And thou shalt goe in vnto the King, & shalt speake to him these māner of words. And Ioab put the words in her mouth. 4. Therefore when the woman of Thecua was gone in to the King, she fel before him vpo the ground and adored, & said: Saue me, o King. 5. And the king sayd to her: What matter hast thou? Who answered: Alas, I am a widow woman: for my husband is dead. 6. And thy handmaid had two sonnes: who fel at words against ecan other in the field, & there was none to stay them: & the one stricke the other, & flew him. 7. And behold the whole kinred ryting against thy handmaid, saith: Deliuer him that hath stricken his brother, that we may kil him for the life of his brother, whom he hath slayne, & may cleane destroy the heire: and they seeke to extingnish my sparkle, which is left, that there may no name remaine to my husband, nor reliques vpon the earth. 8. And the King said to the woman: Goe into thy house, and I wil giue commandment for thee. 9. And the woman of Thecua said to the king: Vpon me, my Lord, be the iniquitie, and vpon the house of my father: but be the King & his throne innocent. 10. And the king said: He that shal gaynesay thee bring him to me, and he shal adde no more to touch thee. 11. Who sayd: Let the king remember our Lord his God, that the next of blood be not multiplied to reuenge, and that they kil not my sonne. Who sayd: Our Lord liueth, there shal not fal of the haire of thy sonne vpon the earth. 12. The woman therefore sayd: Let thy handmayde speake to my Lord the king a word. And he sayd: Speake. 13. And the woman sayd: Why hast thou thought such a thing agaynst the people of God, and why hath the king spoken this word, that he would sitte, and not bring againe his banished one? 14. We doe al dye, and as waters that returne not, we fall downe on the earth: neither wil God haue a soule to perish, but reuoketh, meaning that he perish not altogether that is cast off. 15. Now therefore I come, that I may speake to my Lord the King this word, the people being present. And thy handmayd sayd: I wil speake to the King, if by any meanes the King may doe the word of his handmaide. 16. And the King hath heard, to deliuer his handmaide out of the hand of al, that would destroy me out of the inheritance of our Lord, and my sonne together. 17. Let thy handmaid therefore say, that the word of my Lord the King be made as a sacrifice. For euen as an Angel of God, so is my Lord the King, that he is moued neither with blessing nor cursing: Wherefore our Lord also thy God is with thee. 18. And the King answering, sayd to the woman: Hide not from me the thing that I aske thee. And the woman sayd to him: Speake my Lord King. 19. And the King sayd: Is the hand of Ioab with thee in al these things? The woman answered, & sayd: By the health of thy soule, my Lord King, it is neither on the left hand, nor on the right of al these things, which my Lord the King hath spoken: for thy seruant Ioab, he commanded me, and he put al these words into the mouth of thy handmayd. 20. That I should change the forme of this speach, thy seruant Ioab commanded this: and thou my Lord King, art wise, as an Angel of God hath wisdom, that thou vnderstandest al things vpon the earth. 21. And the King sayd to Ioab: Behold I being pacified haue done thy word: Goe therefore, & cal agayne the boy Absalom. 22. And Ioab falling vpon his face vnto the earth, adored, and (a) blessed the King; and Ioab sayd: This day thy seruant hath vnderstood, that I haue found grace in thy sight my Lord King: for thou hast done the word of thy seruant. 23. Ioab therefore arose and went into Gessur, and brought Absalom into Ierusalem. 24. But the King sayd: Let him returne into his house, and not see my face. Absalom therefore returned into his house, & the Kings face he saw not. 25. Moreouer like as Absalō, there was not a man in al Israel so beautiful, & exceeding comelie: fro the sole of the foote to the crowne there was no blemish in him. 26. And when he poled his haire (once a yeare he was poled, because his bush did burden him) he weighed the haire of his head at two hundred sictes, of the common weight. 27. And there were borne to Absalom (b) three sonnes: and one daughter, named Thamar, of a goodly beautie. 28. And Absalom abode in Ierusalem two yeares, and saw not the Kings face. 29. He therefore set to Ioab, to sed him to the King: who would not come to him. And when he had sent the second time, and he would not come to him, 30. he sayd to his seruants: You know the felde of Ioab beside my felde, that hath barley haruett: goe therefore and burne it with fyre. The seruants therefore of Absalom burnt the corne with fyre. And Iobas seruants comming, renting their garments, sayd: The seruants of Absalō haue burnt part of the felde with fyre. 31. And Ioab arose, & came to Absalom in his house, & sayd: Why haue thy seruants burnt my corne with fire? 32. And Absalom answered Ioab: I sent to thee be-

(a) Praised and thanked the King.

(b) These children died before him, as appeareth cha. 18.

seeching thee that thou wouldest come vnto me, & I might send thee to the King, & thou shouldest say to him: Wherefore came I out of Gessur? It was better for me to be there: I beseech thee therefore that I may see the face of the King: & if he be mindful of mine iniquitie, let him kil me. 33. Ioab therefore entring in to the King, told him al things: and Absalom was called, and he entred in to the King: and adored vpon the face of the earth before him: and the King kissed Absalom.

C H A P. X V.

Abfalom getteth fauour of the people, 7. and conspireth in Hebron against his father. 14. Who flying, 19. with difficultie permittech Ehas a stranger to goe with him. 24. But sendeth Sadoc, and other Priests and leuites with the arke back into the citie. 31. Sendeth Chusai to defeat Achitophels counsel.

THEREFORE after these things Absalom made him self chariots, and horsemen, and fiftie men, that should goe before him. 2. And Absalom rising early, stood beside the entrance of the gate, and euerie man that had busines to the Kings iudgement, did Absalom cal to him, and sayd: Of what citie art thou? Who answering sayd: Of such a tribe of Israel am I thy seruant. 3. And Absalom answered him: Thy words seeme vnto me good and iust. But there is none to heare thee appointed of the King. And Absalom sayd: 4. Oh who would appoint me iudge ouer the land, that al might come to me which haue busines, and I might iudge iustly! 5. Yea and when a man came vnto him to salute him, he put forth his hand, and taking him, kissed him. 6. And this did he to al Israel comming for iudgement, to be heard of the King, and he incited the harts of the men of Israel. 7. And after fourtie yeares, Absalom sayd to King Dauid: Let me goe, and pay my vowes which I haue vowed to our Lord in Hebron. 8. For thy seruant vowing did vow, when he was in Gessur of Syria, saying: If our Lord wil bring me againe into Ierusalem, I wil sacrifice to our Lord. 9. And King Dauid sayd to him: Goe in peace. And he arose, and went into Hebron. 10. And Absalom sent spies into al the tribes of Israel, saying: forthwith as you shal heare the sound of the trumpet, say ye: Absalom reigneth in Hebron. 11. Moreouer with Absalom there went two hundred men out of Ierusalem being called, going with a simple hart, and vtterly ignorant of the cause. 12. Absalom also sent for Achitophel the Gilonite, Dauids counseler, from his citie Gilo. And when he immolated victimes, there was made a strong conspiracie, & the people running together increased

a) Concubines were lawfully married, but had not all privileges as other wives. See Gen. 25. 1 Ind. 19.

b) He covered his head that he might not be seen to weep, lest he should discourage the people; nevertheless the people also wept, and likewise covered their heads.

with Absalom. 13. A messenger therefore came to David, saying: Al Israel with al their hart foloweth Absalom. 14. And David said to his seruants, that were with him in Ierusalem: Arise let vs fly: for there wil be no escape for vs from the face of Absalom: make hast to goe out, lest coming perhaps he ouertake vs, and force ruine vpon vs, and strike the citie in the edge of the sword. 15. And the Kings seruants said to him: al things whatsoever our Lord the King thal command, we thy seruants wil gladly execute. 16. The King therefore went forth, and al his house on foot: & the King left ten women his (a) concubines to keep the house. 17. And the king going forth & al Israel on their feet, stood farre from the house: 18. and al his seruants walked by him, and the legions Cerethi and Phelethi, and al the Gethcites, valiant warriors, six hundred men which had folowed him from Geth footmen, went before the King. 19. And the king said to Ethai the Gethcite: Why comest thou with vs? returne and dwel with the King, because thou art a stranger, and art come forth out of thy place. 20. Yesterday thou camest, and to day shalt thou be forced to goe forth with vs? but I wil goe whither I thal goe: returne, and lead backe thy brethren with thee, and our Lord wil doe with thee mercie and veritie, because thou hast shewed grace and fidelitie. 21. And Ethai answered the King, saying: The Lord liueth, and my Lord the King liueth: for that in what place soeuer thou shalt be, my Lord King, either in death, or in life, there wil thy seruant be. 22. And David said to Ethai: Come, and passe. And Ethai the Gethcite passed, and al the men that were with him, and the rest of the multitude. 23. And they al wept with a lowd voice, and al the people passed: the King also went ouer the Torrent Cedron, and al the people marched against the way, that looketh to the desert. 24. And Sadoc also the Priest came, and al the Leuites with him carying the arke of the couenant of God, and they set downe the arke of God: & Abiathar ascended, til al the people was fully passed, which was come forth of the citie. 25. And the King sayd to Sadoc: Cary backe the Arke of God into the citie: if I thal find grace in the sight of my Lord, he wil bring me agayne, and wil shew me it, and his tabernacle. 26. But if he thal say to me: Thou pleasest me not: I am readie, let him doe that which is good before him. 27. And the king sayd to Sadoc the Priest: O seer returne into the citie in peace: and Achimaas thy sonne, and Ionathas the sonne of Abiathar, your two sonnes let them be with you. 28. Behold I wil be hid in the champayne of the desert, til there come word from you aduertising me. 29. Sadoc therefore and Abiathar caryed backe the Arke of God into Ierusalem: and they taried there. 30. Moreouer David went vp mount Oliuet, climbing & weeping, going bare foot, & his head (b) couered, yea & al the people which was with him, their head couered w^et vp weeping. 31. And it was told David that Achitophel also was in the conspiracie with Absalom, & David sayd: Infatuate, o Lord I beseech thee, the counsel of Achitophel.

32. And when Dauid went vp to the top of the mount, wherein he would adore our Lord, behold there mette him Chufai the Arachite, his garment rent & his head full of earth. 33. And Dauid sayd to him: If thou come with me, thou shalt be a burden to me: 34. but if thou returne into the citie, and wilt say to Absalom: I am thy seruant, o King: as I haue been thy fathers seruant, so I wil be thy seruant: thou shalt defeat the counsel of Achitophel. 35. And thou hast with thee Sadoc and Abiathar the Priests, and euery word whatsoever thou shalt heare from out of the Kings house, thou shalt tel Sadoc and Abiathar the Priests. 36. And there are with them their two sonnes Achimaas the sonne of Sadoc, and Ionathas the sonne of Abiathar: and you shall send by them vnto me euery word whatsoever you shall heare. 37. Chufai therefore the freind of Dauid comming into the citie, Absalom also entred into Ierusalem.

C H A P. X V I.

Siba bringing victuals obtaineth (by false suggestion) his maister Miphiboseths enheritance. 5. Semei curseth, and throweth stones at the King, who neuertheless forbiddeth to kill him. 15. Absalom entresh into Hierusalem, 16. intertayneth Chufai, 20. and by chitophels aduise lieth with his fathers concubines.

AND when Dauid had passed a litle the top of the Mount, Siba the seruant of Miphiboseth appeared comming to meete him, with two asses, which were loden with two hundred loaves, and an hundred bunches of rayfens, an hundred masses of figges, & a bottel of wine. 2. And the King said to Siba: What meane these things? And Siba answered: The asses are for the Kings houihold to sit on: and the loaves and the figs to cate for thy seruants, and the wine to drinke if any man shall faint in the desert. 3. And the King said: Where is thy masters sonne? And Siba answered the King: He hath remained in Ierusalem, saying: This day wil the house of Irael restore me the Kingdom of my father. 4. And the King said to Siba: (4) Let al things be thine that were Miphiboseths. And Siba said: I beseech thee let me find grace before thee, my Lord King. 5. King Dauid therefore came as farre as Bahurim: & behold there came forth thence a man of the kinred of the house of Saul named Semei, the sonne of Gera, & he proceeded going forth, & cursed. 6. And he threw stones against Dauid, & against al the seruants of King Dauid: & the whole people & al the warriors went on the right, & the left side of the King. 7. And thus spake Semei whē he cursed the King: Come forth, come forth thou mā of bloud, & mā of Belial. 8. Our Lord hath repayed thee al the bloud of the house of Saul: because thou hast inuaded the

a) King Dauid was here abused by false information: to which he ought not so easily to haue giuen credite. chap. 19. v. 24.

(b) God suffered Semei, being of his owne freewill malicious, for punishment of Dauid finnes, to curse him: but was not the authour of his malice, for so Semei had committed no fault therein, & then he could not lawfully haue been punished for it, as he was 3. Reg. 2.

(b) The people doubting lest Absalom might be reconciled to his father, were not assured vnto him, til they saw such a crime committed as seemed to make reconciliation impossible. So al rebellers and vsurpers of others right, seek by some enormous fact to make their adherers and followers sure vnto them: but God plagueth them in the end; as he did both Achitophel and Absalom.

Kingdome for him, and our Lord hath giuen the Kingdome into the hand of Absalom thy sonne: and behold thyne euils presse thee, because thou art a man of bloud. 9. And Abisai the sonne of Saruia said to the King: Why curseth this dead dogge my Lord the King? I wil goe, and strike off his head. 10. And the King said: What is it to me and you, ye sonnes of Saruia? Let him alone that he may curse: for our Lord hath (b) commanded him to curse Dauid: and who is he that dare say, why hath he so done? 11. And the King said to Abisai, and to al his seruants: Behold my sonne, that came out of my womb, seeketh my life: how much more the sonne of Iemini? let him alone that he may curse according to the precept of our Lord: 12. if perhaps our Lord may respect mine affliction, and our Lord may render me good for this dayes cursing. 13. Dauid therefore walked and his companie in the way with him. And Semei by the banke on the hils side, went ouer-against him, cursing, and casting stones against him, and sprinkling earth. 14. The King therefore came, and al the people with him wearie, and they were refreshed there. 15. But Absalom and al his people entred into Ierusalem, yea and Achitophel with him. 16. And when Chusai the Arachite Dauids freind was come to Absalom, he said to him: God saue thee, o King, God saue thee, o King. 17. To whom Absalom, is this, quoth he, thy kindnes toward thy freind? why wentest thou not with thy freind? 18. And Chusai answered Absalom: Not so: because I wil be his, whom our Lord hath chosen, and al this people, and al Israel, and with him wil tatie. 19. Yea that I may adde this also, whom shal I serue? not the Kings sonne? as I haue serued thy father, so wil I serue thee also. 20. And Absalom said to Achitophel: Consult what we ought to doe. 21. And Achitophel said to Absalom: Goe in to the concubines of thy father, which he hath left to keep the house: (a) that when al Israel shal heare that thou hast defiled thy father, their hands may be strengthened with thee. 22. They pitched therefore a tent for Absalom in the house top, and he went in to his fathers concubines before al Israel. 23. And the counsel of Achitophel, which he gaue in those dayes, as if a man should consult God: so was al the counsel of Achitophel, both when he was with Dauid, and when he was with Absalom.

C H A P . X V I I .

Achitophel counselleth Absalom presently to assault his father with forces, 7. Chusai perswadeth contrarie, 15. and secretly aduertiseth the King thereof. 23. Achitophel hangeth himself. 25. Absalom appointeth Amasa General of his armie. 27. Other freinds bring victuals to the Kings campe.

CHITOPHEL therefore said to Absalom : I wil choose me twelue thousand men; & rising I wil pursue Dauid this night. 2. And falling vpon him (for as much as he is weary, & of weakned hands) I wil strike him : and when al the people is fled, that is with him, I thal strike the King being desolate. 3. And I thal reduce al the people, as one man is wont to returne : for thou seekest one man : & al the people thal be in peace. 4. And his saying pleased Absalom, & al the ancients of Israel. 5. But Absalom sayd : Cal Chusai the Arachite, & let vs heare what he also sayth. 6. And when Chusai was come to Absalom, Absalom sayd to him : This manner of speech spake Achitophel; thal we doe it or no? What counsel giuest thou? 7. And Chusai sayd to Absalom : It is not good counsel, that Achitophel hath giuen this time. 8. And againe Chusai inferred : Thou knowest thy father, and the men that are with him, to be verie valiant, and of fel courage, as if a beare in the wood her wheips being taken away thould rage : yea and thy father is a man of warre, neither wil he abyde with the people. 9. Perhaps he lyeth now hid secretly in caues, or in some one place waere he list : and when any one thal fal in the beginning, there thal one heare whosoever thal heare it, and say : There is made a slaughter in the people that foiewed Absalom. 10. And euerie one of the most valiant whose hart is as it were a Lyons, thal faist for feare : for al the people of Israel know thy father to be a valiant man, and that al be strong which are with him. 11. But this seemeth vnto me to be good counsel : Let al Israel be gathered to thee, from Dan to Bersabee, as the sand of the sea innumerable : and thou thalt be in the middes of them. 12. And we thal set vpon them in what place soeuer they thal be found : and we thal couer them, as dew is wont to fal vpon the earth : and we thal not leaue of the men, that are with him, nor so much as one. 13. And if he thal enter into any citie, al Israel thal cast ropes vpon that citie round about, and we wil draw it into the terrors, that there be not found thereof not so much as a litle stone. 14. And Absalom sayd, and al the children of Israel : The counsel of Chusai the Arachite is better then the counsel of Achitophel : and by the wil of our Lord was the profitable counsel of Achitophel defeated, that our Lord might bring in euil vpon Abfalom. 15. And Chufai sayd to Sadoc and Abiathar the Priests : In this and this manner gaue Achitophel counfel to Abfalom , and to the Ancients of Israel : and I gaue fuch and fuch counfel. 16. Now therfore fend quickly, and tel Dauid, faying : Tarie not this night in the champayne of the defert , but without delay paffe ouer : left perhaps the King be fwalowed vp , and al the people that is with him. 17. And Ionathas and Achimaas ftood by the Fountayne rogel : there went a maid and told them : and they went forward , to report the message to King Dauid : for they could not be feen , nor enter into the citie. 18. And a certayne boy faw them , and told Abfalom : but they making haft entred into the houfe of a certayne man in Bahurim , who had a wel in his court, and they went downe into it. 19. And a woman tooke and fprede a couering ouer the mouth of the wel , as it were drying fodde barley : and fo the thing was not knowen. 20. And when Abfaloms feruants were come into the houfe, they fayd to the woman : Where is Achimaas and Ionathas ? And the woman answered them : They paffed in haft , hauing taffed a litle water. But they that fought , when they had not found , returned into Ierufalem. 21. And when thefe were gone , they went vp out of the wel , and going on told King Dauid , and fayd : Aryfe ye , and paffe quickly the riuer : becaufe this manner of counfel hath Achitophel giuen againft you. 22. Dauid therfore arofe , and al the people that was with him , and they paffed ouer Iordan , vntil it waxed light , and not one at al was remayning , which did not paffe the riuer. 23. Moreouer Achitophel feeing that his counfel was not executed , fadied his affe, and rofe and went into his houfe and into his citie : and taking order with his houfe (†) hanged himself , and was buried in the fepulchre of his father. 24. But Dauid came into the Campe , and Abfalom paffed ouer Iordan , he and al the men of Israel with him. 25. But Abfalom appoynted Amasa for Ioab ouer the armie : and Amasa was the fonne of a man, which was called Iethra of Iezrael, who went in to Abigail the daughter of Naas , the fiftter of Saruia which was the mother of Ioab. 26. And Israel camped with Abfalom in the Land of Galaad. 27. And when Dauid was come into the Campe , Sobi the fonne of Naas of Rabbath the fonnes of Ammon, and Machir the fonne of Ammiel of Lodabar , and Berzellai the Galaadite of Rogelim , 28. prefented vnto him hangings , and tapeftrie , and earthen veffels , wheate , and barley , and meale , and polent , and beanes , and rife , and fryed peafe , 29. and honie , and butter , fheep , and fat calues , and they gaue to Dauid & the people that was with him , to eate : for thy fufpected that the people with hunger and thirft was faynte in the defert.

(†) Bad counfai often falleth worft to the counfeller.

C H A P . X V I I I .

King Dauid dispoſeth his armie in three parts, giuing ſpecial charge to ſaue Abſalom aliuē. 9. Whom neuertheles (hanging by the haire of his head in an oke) Ioab killeth : 16. and ſaureth the common people. 19. Which Dauid vnderſtanding greatly bewayleth Abſalom.

DAVID therefore hauing viewed his people, appointed ouer them tribunes & centurions, 2. and gaue the third part of the people vnder the hand of Ioab, and the third part vnder the hand of Abifai the ſonne of ſarua the brother of Ioab, and the third part vnder the hand of Ethai, who was of Geth:& the King ſaid to the people: I alſo wil goe forth with you. 3. And the people answered: Thou ſhalt not goe forth: for whether we ſhal fly, it wil be no great importance to the of vs: or whether the halfe part of vs ſhal fal, they wil not greatly care: becauſe thou alone art accounted for ten thouſands: it is better therefore that thou be in the citie to ayde vs. 4. To whom the king ſaid: What ſeemeth good to you, that wil I doe. The King therefore ſtood beſide the gate: and al the people went forth by their troups, by hundreds and by thouſands. 5. And the King commanded Ioab, & Abifai, and Ethai, ſaying: (b) Saue me the child Abſalom. And al the people heard the King commanding al the Princes for Abſalom. 6. The people therefore went out into the field againſt Iſrael, & the battel was fought in the foreſt of Ephraim. 7. And the people of Iſrael was ilayne there of Dauids armie, and there was made a great ſlaughter in that day, of twentie thouſand. 8. And the battel there was diſperſed vpon the face of al the earth, and there were manie moe, whom the foreſt had conſumed of the people, then they whom the ſword deuoured in that day. 9. And it chanced that Abſalom mette the ſeruants of Dauid, ſitting on a mule: and when the mule was gone in vnder a thicke oke and a great, his head ſtucke to the oke:& he hanging between heauen & earth, the mule that he rode vpon paſſed through. 10. And one ſaw this & told Ioab: ſaying: I ſaw Abſalom hanging vpon an oke. 11. And Ioab ſayd to the man that told him: If thou ſaweſt him, why didſt thou not naye him to the earth, & I had giuen thee ten ſicles of ſiluer, and one belt? 12. Who ſayd to Ioab: If thou wouldeſt pay downe in my hands a thouſand pieces of ſiluer, I would not lay my hands vpon the Kings ſonne: for in our hearing the King commanded thee, & Abifai, and Ethai, ſaying: Keep me the child Abſalom. 13. Yea and if I had done agaynſt my life boldly, this could not haue been hid from the King, and thou wouldest stand agaynst it? 14. And Ioab sayd: Not as thou wilt, but I wil set vpō him before thee. He tooke therefore three lances in his hand, and thrust them in the hart of Absalom: and when as yet he panted for life sticking on the oke, 15. there ranne ten yong men the squyers of Ioab, and striking they killed him. 16. And Ioab sounded the trumpet, and stayed the people, that they should not pursue Israel flying, willing to spare the multitude. 17. And they tooke Absalom, and cast him in the Forrest into a great pitte, and they heaped vpon him an exceeding great heape of stones: but al Israel fled into their tabernacles. 18. Moreouer Absalom had erected to himself, whiles he yet liued, a title which is in the Kings Valley: for he said: I haue (c) no sonne, and this shal be a monument of my name. And he called the title by his name, and it is called The hand of Absalom, vntil this present day. 19. And Achimaas the sonne of Sadoc said: I wil runne, and tel the King, that our Lord hath done him iudgement of the hand of his enemies. 20. To whom Ioab said: Thou shalt not be messenger this day, but thou shalt carie the message an other day: to day I wil not haue thee carie the message, for the Kings sonne is dead. 21. And Ioab said to Chusai: Goe, and tel the King what thou hast seen. Chusai adored Ioab, and ranne. 22. And againe Achimaas the sonne of Sadoc said to Ioab: What letteth if I also runne after Chusai? And Ioab sayd to him: Why wilt thou runne my sonne? thou shalt not be carier of good tydings. 23. Who answered: But what if I runne? And he said to him: Runne. Achimaas therefore running a neere way out went Chusai. 24. And Dauid sate between the two gates: and the watchman that was in the top of the gate vpon the wal, lifting vp his eies, saw a man running alone. 25. And crying out he told the King: and the King said: If he be alone, there are good tydings in his mouth. And he making hast, and comming neerer, 26. the watchman saw an other man running, and crying alowd in the top, he said: There appeareth vnto me an other man running alone. And the King said: And this is a good messenger. 27. And the watchman, I behold, said he, the running of the former, as it were the running of Achimaas the sonne of Sadoc. And the King said: He is a good man, & cometh bringing good newes. 28. And Achimaas crying, sayd to the King: God saue thee, o King. And adoring the King before him flat to the eart, he said: Blessed be our Lord thy God, who hath put vp the men that haue lifted vp their hands against my Lord the King. 29. And the king said: Is the child dmbalom safe? And Achimaas sayd: I saw a great tumult, when thy seruant Ioab sent, o King, me thy seruant: other thing I know not. 30. To whō the King: Passe, sayd he, & stand here. 31. And when he had passed, & stood, 32. Chusai appeared, and comming he sayd: I bring good tydings my Lord King: for our Lord hath iudged for thee this day of the hand of al that haue rysen against thee. 32. And the king sayd to Chusai: Is the child Absalom safe? To whom Chusai answering, sayd:

(b) Dauid moued with compaſſion towards his ſonne Abſalom, being in actual rebellion againſt him, prefigured Chriſts compaſſion towards his perſecuters, being his creatures, praying for them in his paſſion. See Ambroſe in Pſal. 118. v 10.

(c) Al his sonnes being dead, for he had once three sonnes & a daughter. Chap. 14. v. 27.

Let the enemies of my Lord the King become as the child, and al that ryse against him vnto euil. 3. The King therfore being made sorie, went vp into the high chamber of the gate, and wept. And thus he spake, going: My sonne Absalom, Absalom my sonne: who would graunt me that I might die for thee, Absalom my sonne, my sonne Absalom:

C H A P. X I X.

David moued by Iobbs admonition 8. ceaseth mourning for Absalom, and reconcileth the rebels. 19. Semei is pardoned. 24. Miphibosech uttereth himself of his seruants false accusation, yet recouereth not his whole right. 32. Bezellai is courteously intreated. 40. The other tribes contend with Iuda for their affliction to the King.

AND it was told Iob, that the King wept, and mourned for his sonne: 2. And the victorie was turned into mourning that day to al the people: for the people heard it sayd in that day: The King foroweth vpon his sonne. 3. And the people shunned that day to enter into the citie, as a people turned, & flying out of battel is wont to shrinke aside. 4. Moreouer the King couered his head, and cried with a lowd voice: O my sonne Absalom, o Absalom my sonne, o my sonne. 5. Iob therfore entring in to the King, into his house, sayd: Thou hast confounded this day the countenāces of al thy seruants, that haue saued thy life, and the life of thy sonnes, and thy daughters, and the life of thy wiues, and the life of thy concubines. 6. Thou louest them that hate thee, and thou hatest them that loue thee: and thou hast shewed this day that thou carest not for thy nobles, and for thy seruants: and indeed I know now, that if Absalom liued, and al we had been slayne, then it would please thee. 7. Now therfore arise, and come forth, and speaking vnto them satifie thy seruants: for I sweare to thee by our Lord, that if thou wilt not goe forth, not one verily wil remayne with thee this night: and this shal be worse for thee, then al the euils which haue come vpon thee from thy youth vntil this present. 8. The King therfore arose and sate in the gate: and it was told al the people that the King sate in the gate: and al the multitude came forth before the King, but Israel fled into their tabernacles. 9. Al the people also stroue in al the tribes of Israel, saying: The King hath deliured vs out of the hand of our enemies, he hath saued vs from the head of the Philistians: and now he fled out of the land for Absalom. 10. But Absalom whom he annoynted ouer vs, is dead in the battel: how long are you stil, and reduce not the King? 11. But King David sent to Sadoc and Abiathar the Priests, saying: Speake to the Ancients of Iuda, saying: Why come to you last to bring backe the King into his house? (And the saying of al Israel was come to the King in his house. 12.) You are my brethren, you my bone, and my flesh, why doe you last bring backe the King? 13. And say ye to Amasa: Art not thou my bone, and my flesh? These things doe God to me, and these adde he; if thou be not the chiefe captayne of warfare before me alwayes for Ioab. 14. And he inclined the hart of al the men of Iuda, as it were of one man: and they sent to the King, saying: Returne thou, and al thy seruants. 15. And the King returned, and came as far as Iordan, and al Iuda came as far as Galgal to meet the King, and to bring him ouer Iordan. 16. And Semei the sonne of Gera the sonne of Iemini of Bahurim made hast, and went downe with the men of Iuda to meet King Dauid, 17. with a thousand men of Benjamin, and Siba the seruant of the house of Saul: and his fifteen sonnes, & twentie seruants were with him; & rushing into Iordan, 18. passed the fordes before the King, that they might help ouer the Kings household, and doe according to his commandment. And Semei the sonne of Gera prostrate before the King, when he had now passed Iordan, 19. sayd to him: Impute not to me my Lord the iniquitie, nor remember the iniuries of thy seruant in the day that thou my Lord King wentest out of Ierusalem, nor put it in thy hart o King. 20. For I thy seruant acknowledge my sinne: and therefore this day I am first come of al (a) the house of Ioseph, and am descended to meet my Lord the King. 21. But Abisai the sonne of Saruia answering, sayd: What shall Semei for these words not be slayne, because he reuiled the annoynted of our Lord? 22. And Dauid sayd: What is to me and you ye sonnes of Saruia? Why are you made this day as satan to me? Shal there a man be killed in Israel to day? Doe I not know that this day I am made King ouer Israel? 23. And the King sayd to Semei: Thou shalt not die. And he sware to him. 24. Miphiboseth also the sonne of Saul came downe to meet the King, his feet vnwashed, and his beard not pouled: and he had not waished his garments from the day that the King went forth, vntil the day of his returne in peace. 25. And when he had mette the King at Ierusalem, the King sayd to him: Why camest thou not with me Miphiboseth? 26. And he answering, sayd: My Lord King, my seruant contemned me: and I thy seruant spake to him that he should fadle me an asse, that geuing on I might goe with the King: for I thy seruant am lame. 27. Moreouer he hath also accused me thy seruant to thee my Lord King: but thou my Lord King art as an Angel of God, doe what pleaseth thee. 28. For neither was my fathers house ought els, but guiltie of death to my Lord King: and thou hast put me thy seruant among the guests of thy table? What iust complaynt therefore haue I? or what can I further crie out to the King? 29. The King therefore sayd to him: What speakest thou any more? That is determined which I haue spoken: Thou and Siba diuide the possessions. 30. And Miphiboseth answered the King: Yea let him take al, for so much as my Lord

(a) Al the eleven tribes are called by the name of Ioseph, being chiefe after Iuda. So Semei not of the proper tribe of Ioseph, but of Benjamin, pleading for pardon of his former fault, alleadgeth that he came first of the eleven tribes, to submitte himself and serue the King.

King is returned peaceably into his house. 31. Berzellai also the Galaadite, coming downe from Rogelim, brought the King ouer Iordan, being readie also to attend on him beyond the riuer. 32. And Berzellai the Galaadite was verie old, that is to say, of foure score yeares, and he gaue the King victuals, when he abode in the field: for he was an exceeding rich man. 33. The King therefore sayd to Berzellai: Come with me, that thou mayst rest secure with me in Ierusalem. 34. And Berzellai sayd to the King: How manie are the daies of the yeares of my life, that I should goe vp with the King into Ierusalem? 35. I am this day foure score yeares old, are my senses quicke to discerne sweete or sowre? or can meate or drinke delight thy seruant? or can I heare more the voyce of singing men and singing women? Why should thy seruant be a burden to my Lord the King? 36. I thy seruant wil goe forward a litle from Iordan with thee: I need not this recompense, 37. but I beseech thee that I thy seruant may returne, and die in my citie, and be buried by the spulchre of my father, and my mother. But there is thy seruant Chamaam, let him goe with thee, my Lord King, and doe to him whatsoeuer seemeth good to thee. 38. The King therefore said to him: Let Chamaam passe on with me, and I wil doe for him whatsoeuer shall please thee, and al that thou shalt aske of me, thou shalt obtayne. 39. And when al the people and the King had passed Iordan, the King kissed Berzellai, and blessed him: and he returned into his place. 40. The King therefore passed into Galgal, and Chamaam with him, and al the people of Iuda had brought ouer the King, and the halfe part onlie of the people of Israel were present. 41. Therefore al the men of Israel concurring to the King, sayd to him: Why haue our brethren the men of Iuda stolen thee, and brought the King and his household ouer Iordan, and al the men of Dauid with him? 42. And euerie man of Iuda answered the men of Israel: Because the King is neerer to me: why art thou angrie for this matter? haue we eaten any thing of the Kings, or were there guifts giuen vs? 43. And a certayne man of Israel answered the men of Iuda, and sayd: I am greater by ten parts with the King, and to me pertayneth Dauid more then to thee: Why hast thou done me wrong, and it was not told me first, that I might bring backe my King? And the men of Iuda answered more sharply then the men of Israel.

C H A P. XX.

Seba raiseth rebellion, is pursued by Iobab, (10. Who in the way treacherously killeth Amasa.) 13. Abela is besieged, because Seba saueth himself there. 20. But his head being cut off and cast ouer the wal to Iobab, the armie. departeth 23. Chief men in office are mentioned.

IT chanced also that there was there a man of Belial, named Seba, the sonne of Bochri, a man of Iemini : and he sounded the trumpet, and sayd : We haue no part in Dauid, nor inheritance in the sonne of Isai : Returne into thy tabernacles Israel. 2. And al Israel was separated from Dauid, and folowed Seba the sonne of Bochri : but the men of Iuda stucke to their King from Iordan vnto Ierusalem. . . And when the King was come into his house to Ierusalem, he tooke the ten women his concubines, which he had left to keepe the house, and he deliuered them into custodie, allowing them victuals : and he went not in vnto them, but they were shut vp vntil the day of their death liuing in widowhood. And the King sayd to Amasa: 4. Cal me together al the men of Iuda agaynst the third day, and be thou present. 5. Amasa therefore went to cal together Iuda, and taryed beyond the time appoynted which the King had assigned him. 6. And Dauid sayd to Abisai: Now wil Seba the sonne of Bochri more afflict vs, then Absalom: take therefore the seruants of thy Lord, and pursue him, lest perhaps he find fenced cities, and escape vs. 7. Therewent forth therefore with him Iobabs men, Cerethi also and Phelethi : and al the strong men yssued forth of Ierusalem to pursue Seba the sonne of Bochri. 8. And when they were beside the great stone, which is in Gabaon, Amasa comming met them. Moreouer Iobab was clothed with a straye cote according to the measure of his stature, and vpon it girded with a sword hanging downe to the flanke, in a scabbard, which being made for the purpose could with light mouing come forth and strike. 9. Iobab therefore sayd to Amasa: God saue thee my brother. And he held with his right hand the chinne of Amasa, as it were kissing him. 10. But Amasa marked not the sword, which Iobab had, who struck him in the side, & powred out his bowels on the ground, neither added he the second wound, and he dyed. And Iobab, and Abisai his brother pursued Seba the sonne of Bochri. 11. In the meane time certayne men, when they stood by the carcass of Amasa, of Iobabs company, sayd : Loe he that would haue been for Iobab the companion of Dauid. 12. And Amasa embrewed with blood, lay in the middes of the way. A certayne man saw this, that al the people stayed to see him, and he remoued Amasa out of the way into the field, and couered him with a garment, that they which passed might not stay because of him. 13. He therefore being remoued out of the way, euery man passed folowing Ioab to pursue Seba the soane of Bochri. 14. Moreouer he had passed through al the tribes of Israel vnto Abela, & Bethmaaca: and al the chosen men were gathered together vnto him. 15. They therefore came, and assaulted him in Abela, and in Bethmaaca, & they compassed the citie with munitions, & the citie was besieged: and al the multitude, that was with Ioab, laboured to destroy the walles. 16. And a wise woman cryed out from the citie: Heare ye, heare ye, tel Ioab: Approach hither, and I wil speake with thee. 17. Who when he was come to her, she sayd to him: Art thou Ioab: And he answered, I am. To whom she spake thus: Heare the words of thy handmayd. Who answered: I doe heare. 18. And she agayne sayd: A saying was vsed in the old prouerbe: They that aske, let them aske in Abela: and so they prospered. 19. Am not I she that answer truth in Israel, and thou seekest to subuert the citie, and to ouerthrow a mother citie in Israel? Why throwest thou downe headlong the inheritance of our Lord? 20. And Ioab answering, sayd: God forbid, God forbid that I should, I doe not throw downe, nor destroy. 21. The matter is not so, but a man of mount Ephraim, Seba the sonne of Bochri by name, hath lifted vp his hand agaynst King Dauid: Deliuer him ouer, and we wil depert from the citie. And the woman sayd to Ioab: Behold his head shal be throwen to thee off the wal. 22. She therefore went to al the people, and spake to them wisely: who threw the head of Seba the sonne of Bochri being cut off, to Ioab. And he sounded the trumpet, and they departed from the citie, euery one into their tabernacles: and Ioab returned to Ierusalem vnto the King. 23. Ioab therefore was ouer al the armie of Israel: and Banaias the sonne of Ioiada ouer the Ceretheites and Pheletheites. 24. But Aduram ouer the tributes: moreouer Iosaphat the sonne of Ahilud, was regilter. 25. And Siua, a scribe: and Sadoc and Abiathar, Priests. 26. And Ira the Iairite was the (a) Priest of Dauid.

(a) Chiefe or great in familiaritie.

C H A P. XXI.

Famine oppressing Israel three yeares, for the sinne of Saul against the Gabaonites, 6. seuen of Sauls race (7. Miphiboseth saued) are crucified. 12. Their bones wih Sauls and Ionathas are buried in the Land of Benjamin. 15. Dauid hath foure great battels and victories against the Philistians.

AND there came a famine in the daies of Dauid three yeares continually: and Dauid consulted the oracle of our Lord. And our Lord sayd: For Saul, and his bloody house, because he slew the Gabaonites. 2. The King therefore calling the Gabaonites, sayd to them. (Moreouer the Gabaonites were not of the children of Israel, but the reliques of the Amorrhaites: For the children of Israel had sworne to them, and Saul would strike them of zeale, as it were for the children of Israel & Iuda.) 3. Dauid therefore sayd to the Gabaonites: What shal I doe for you? And what shal be the expiation for you, that you may blesse the inheritance of our Lord? 4. And the Gabaonites sayd to him: We haue no question vpon siluer and gold, but against Saul, and against his house: neither wil we that a man be slayne of Israel. To whom the King sayd: What wil you then that I doe for you? 5. Who sayd to the King? The man, that hath wasted vs and oppressed vs vniually, we must so destroy, that there be not so much as one left of his stocke in al the coasts of Israel. 6. Let there be giuen vs seuen men of his children, that we may crucifie them to our Lord in Gabaa of Saul, once the chosē of our Lord. And the King sayd: I wil giue them. 7. And the King spared Miphiboseth the sonne of Ionathas the sonne of Saul, for the oth of our Lord, that had been between Dauid, and between Ionathas the sonne of Saul. 8. The King therefore tooke the two sonnes of Respha the daughter of Aia, whom she bare to Saul, Armoni, and Miphiboseth: and the five sonnes of Michol the daughter of Saul, which she bare to Hadriel the sonne of Berzellai, that was of Molathi, 9. and gaue them into the hands of the Gabaonites: who crucified them on a hil before our Lord: and these seuen dyed together in the first dayes of haruest, when the reaping of barley began. 10. And Respha the daughter of Aia taking a haire-cloth, spred it vnder her vpon the rock from the beginning of haruest, til water dropped vpon them from heauen: and she suffered not the birds to teare them by day, nor the beasts by night. 11. And the things were told Dauid, which Respha had done, the daughter of Aia, the concubine of Saul. 12. And Dauid went, and tooke the bones of Saul, and the bones of Ionathas his sonne from the men of Iabes Gaiaad, who had

Iofue 9.

had stolen them out of the streete of Bethsan , in the which the Philisthiims hanged them when they had killed Saul in Gelboe. 13. And he caried thence the bones of Saul , and the bones of Ionathas his sonne : and gathering the bones of them that were crucified , 14. they buried them with the bones of Saul and of Ionathas his sonne in the Land of Benjamin , in the side , in the sepulchre of Cis his father : and they did al things that the King had commanded , and God was made propitious agayne to the land after these things. 15. And there was a battel made agayne of the Philistians against Israel , and Dauid went downe , and his seruants with him , and fought agaynst the Philisthiims. And Dauid faynting , 16. Iesbibenob , which was of the kindred of Arapha , the yron of whose speare weyghed three hundred ounces , & he was girded with a new sword , assayed to strike Dauid. 17. And Abisai the sonne of Saruia rescued him , and striking the Philistian killed him. Then sware Dauids men , saying : Thou shalt no more goe forth with vs into battel , lest thou put out the lampe of Israel. 18. There was also a second battel in Gob against the Philistians : then strucke Sobochai of Hufathi , Saph of the stoেকে of Arapha of the kindred of the gyants. 19. There was also a third battel in Gob against the Philistians , in the which Adeodatus the sonne of the Forest a broderer the Bethlehemite strucke Goliath the Getheite , the shaft of whose speare was as it were a weauers beame. 20. The fourth battel was in Geth : in the which was a tal man , that had six fingers and six toes on each hand and foot , that is foure and twentie , and he was of the race of Arapha. 21. And he blasphemed Israel : and Ionathan the sonne of Sanna the brother of Dauid strucke him. 22. These foure were borne of Arapha in Geth , and they fel by the hand of Dauid , and of his seruants.

C H A P . XXII.

*King Davids Canticle of thanksgiving , for his deliuerie from al enemies :
44. With a Prophecie of the reuiction of the Iewes , and vocation of the Gentiles.*

AND Dauid spake to our Lord the words of this song , in () the day that our Lord deliuered him out of the hand of al his enemies , and out of the hand of () Saul. 2. And he sayd:

Our Lord is my rocke , and my strength , and my Sauour.

3. God is my strong one , I wil hope in him : my shield , and the horne of my saluation : my litter vp , and my refuge : my Sauour , from iniquitie thou wilt deliuer me.

(*) After that Dauid was de-liuered from the hands of Saul (who first and longest & most dangerously of al men persecued him , and therefore is here ſpecially name. I. & from al his enimies, corporal and ſpiritual, when he had good reſpoſe of mind his viſible enimies being ſubuerted, and his finnes remitted, acknowledging Gods infinite goodnes, by inſpiration of the Holie Ghoſt, made this Canticle of thanks-gi-uing, & praiſe of God.

It is inferred amongſt the Pſalmes the 17. in order, al one in ſenſe, ſo differing in ſome words that the one explicateth
the other.

4. Our Lord prayſe-worthie will I inuocate: and from mine enemies I ſhal be ſaued.

5. Becauſe the pangues of death haue compaſſed me: the ſtreames of Belial haue terrified me.

6. The ropes of hel haue compaſſed me: the ſnares of death haue preuented me.

7. In my tribulation I wil inuocate our Lord, & I wil crie to my God: and he wil heare my voice out of his holie temple, and my crie ſhal come to his eares.

8. The earth quaked and trembled, the fundations of the mountaynes were ſtrucken, and ſhaken, becauſe he was angrie with them.

9. A ſmoke aroſe out of his noſethrels, and a fyre from his mouth ſhal deuour: coles were kindled from him.

10. And he bowed the heauens, and deſcended: and miſte vnder his feet.

11. And he aſcended vpon the Cherubias, and flew: and ſlidde ouer the wings of the winde.

12. He put darkenes round about him a couer: ſtilling waters out of the clouds of heauen:

13. By the ſhyning in his preſence: the coles of fire were kindled.

14. Our Lord wil thunder from heauen: and the high one wil giue his voice.

15. He ſhot his arrowes and diſperſed them: lightning, and conſumed them.

16. And the ouerflowings of the ſea appeared, and the fundations of the world were diſcouered at the rebuking of our Lord, at the breathing of the ſpirit of his furie.

17. He ſent from high heauen, and tooke me, and drew me out of manie waters.

18. He deliuered me from my moſt mightie enemy, and from them that hated me: becauſe they were ſtronger then I.

19. He preuented me in the day of my affliction, and our Lord became my ſtay.

20. And he brought me forth into latitude, he deliuered me, becauſe I wel pleaſed him.

21. Our Lord wil reward me according to my iuſtice: and according to the cleannes of my hands wil he render to me.

22. Becauſe I haue kept the wayes of our Lord, and haue not done impioſily, from my God.

23. For al his iudgements are in my ſight: and his precepts I haue not remoued from me.

24. And I ſhal be perfect with him; and ſhal keep my ſelf from myne iniquitie.

25. And our Lord wil reſtore vnto me according to my iuſtice: and according to the cleannes of my hands in the ſight of his eyes.

26. With the holie one thou shalt be holie : and with the strong perfect.

27. With the elect thou shalt be elect : and with the peruerse thou shalt be peruerred.

28. And the poore people thou wilt saue : and the haurie in thyn cities thou wilt humble.

29. Because thou art my lampe , o Lord : and thou wilt illuminate my darkenes.

30. For in thee I wil runne girded : in my God I wil leap ouer the wal.

31. God , his way immaculate, the word of our Lord is examined by fire: he is the shield of al that trust in him.

32. Who is God beside our Lord : and who is strong beside our God?

33. God who hath girded me with strength : and made euen my perfect way.

34. Making my feet equal with the Harts , and setting me vpon my high places.

35. Teaching my hands vnto battel : and framing myne armes as it were a brafen bow.

36. Thou hast giuen me the shield of thy saluation: and thy mildenes hath multiplied me.

37. Thou shalt ealarge my steps vnder me : and myne ankles shal not fayle.

38. I wil pursue myne enemies, and bruisse them: and wil not returne til I consume them.

39. I wil consume and breake them , that they rise not: they shal fall vnder my feet.

40. Thou hast girded me with strength to battel : thou hast bowed vnder me them that resist me.

41. Myne enemies thou hast made to turne to me the backe: them that hated me, and Iihal destroy them.

42. They shal crie , and there shal not be to saue, to our Lord, and he wil not heare them.

43. I wil destroy them as the dust of the earth : as the myre of the streets wil I bruisse and breake them.

44. Thou wilt saue me from the contradictions of my people : thou wilt keep me to be (b) the head of the Gentiles : the people which I know not, wil serue me.

45. The children aliens wil resist me , with the hearing of the care they wil obey me.

46. The children aliens are fallen away , and shal be straytned in their distresses.

47. Our Lord lueth, and my God is blessed : and the strong God of my saluation shal be exaltea.

(b) Though some few Gentiles were subdued by David, and some were conuerted to true religion in the old Testamēt: yet the ful con-uerſion of Gentiles per-teineth to the Church of Chriſt, which is here fore-ſhewed and deſcribed to haue perpettual ſeed for euer.

48. God which giueſt me reuenges., and throweſt downe peoples vnder me.

49. Which bringeſt me out from myne enemies , and from them that reſiſt me doſt liſt me vp : from the wicked man thou ſhalt deliuer me.

50. Therefore wil I confeſſe vnto thee , o Lord, among the Gentiles, and wil ſing to thy name.

51. Magnifying the ſaluations of his King, and doing mercie to his Chriſt Dauid, and to his ſeed for euer.

C H A P. X X I I I.

The laſt wordes of Dauid concerning reward of the good 6. and puniſhment of the bad. 8. A Catalogue of Dauids valiant men.

AND theſe are Dauides laſt words. Dauid the ſonne of Iſai ſayd : The man ſayd , to whom it was appointed concerning the Chriſt of the God of Iacob, the excellent Pſalmiſt of Iſrael: 2. The Spirit of our Lord hath ſpoken by me, and his words by my tongue. 3. The God of Iſrael ſayd to me , the Strong one of Iſrael hath ſpoken , the Domiatour of men , the iuſt ruler in the feare of God. 4. As the light of the morning when the ſunne ryſeth , early without clouds gliſtereth, and as by rayne graſſe ſpringeth out of the earth. 5. (A) Neither is my houſe ſo great with God ; that he ſhould enter with me. an eternal couenant firme in al things & aſſured. For al my ſaluatiō, & al my wil: neither is there ought therof that ſpringeth not. 6. And tranſgreſſours ſhal be plucked vp as thornes euery one : which are not taken with hands. 7. And if a man wil touch them , he ſhal be armed with yron and a lanced ſtaffe , and kindled with fire they ſhal be burnt vnto nothing. 8. Theſe be the names of the valiants of Dauid. Sitting in his chaire the wiſeſt Prince amongſt three, he is as it were the moſt tender litle worme of the wood , which killed eight hundred at one brunt. 9. After him, Eleazar the ſonne of his vncler the Ahohite among the three valiants , that were with Dauid when they deſyed the Philiftiims , and were gathered thither into battel. 10. And when the men of Iſrael were gone vp , he ſtood and ſtrucked the Philiftians til his hand faynted , and waxed ſtiſſe with the ſword: and our Lord made a great victorie that day: and the people that was fled, returned to take away of the ſpoyles of them that were ſlayne. 11. And after him Semma the ſonne of Age of Arari. And the Philiftiims were gathered together in their ward : for there was there a ſilde full of rice. And when the people was fled from the face of the Philiftiims, 12. he ſtood in the middes of the ſilde , and defended it , and King Dauid in this laſt prophetic plainly diſtinguiſheth betwē the couenant & promiſe made to him touching his earthly Kingdome and the Kingdome of Chriſt, who ſhould be borne of his ſeed. In both which he foretelleth the reward of the good and puniſhment of the bad.

ſtrucke

strucke the Philisthians: and our Lord gaue great saluation. 13. Moreouer also before there went downe three which were Princes among thirtie, & came to Dauid in the haruest time into the caue of Odollam: and the campe of the Philistians was placed in the Vale of the giants. 14. And Dauid was in a hold: moreouer the ward of the Philisthians was then in Bethlehem. 15. Dauid (b) therefore desired, & sayd: O that some man would giue me drinke of the water of the cesterne, that is in Bethlehem beside the gate. 16. Three valiants therefore brake into the campe of the Philistians, and drew water out of the cesterne of Bethlehem, that was beside the gate, and brought it to Dauid: but he would not drinke, but (c) offered it to our Lord, 17. saying: Our Lord be merciful to me, that I doe not this thing: shal I drinke the blood of these men that went, & the peril of their liues? Therefore he would not drinke. These things did the three strongest. 18. Abisai also the brother of Ioab the sonne of Saruia, was Prince of three, it is he that lifted vp his speare against three hundred, whom he slew, renowned among three, 19. and the noblest of three, and he was the chiefe of them, but to the three first he raught not. 20. And Banaias the sonne of Ioiada the most valiant man, of great workes, of Cabseel: he strucke the two lions of Moab, and he went downe, and strucke the lyon in the middes of the cesterne in the dayes of snow. 21. He also strucke the Ægyptian, a man worthie to be a spectacle, hauing in his hand a speare: therefore when he came downe to him with a rod, by force he wrested the speare out of the hand of the Ægyptian, and slew him with his owne speare. 22. These things did Banaias the sonne of Ioiada. 23. And he renowned among the three valiants, which were the nobler among thirtie: but vnto the three he raught not: and Dauid made him of his secret counsel. 24. Afael the brother of Ioab among the thirtie, Elahanan the sonne of his vncke of Bethlehem. 25. Semma of Harodi, Elica of Harori, 26. Heles of Phalti, Hira the sonne of Acces of Thecua, 27. Abiezer of Anathoth, Mobonnai of Hufati, 28. Selmon the Ahohite, Maharai the Netophathite, 29. Heled the sonne of Baana, he also a Netophathite, Ithai the sonne of Ribai of Gabaath of the children of Benjamin, 30. Banaia the Pharaathonite, Heddai of the Torrent Gaas, 31. Abialbon the Arbathite, Azmaueth of Beromi, 32. Eliaba of Salaboni: The sonnes of Iassen, Jonathan, 33. Semma of Orori, Ahiam the sonne of Sarar the Ararite, 34. Eliphel the sonne of Aasbai the sonne of Machati, Eliam the sonne of Achitophel the Gelonite, 35. Hefrai of Carmel, Pharai of Arbi, 36. Igaal the sonne of Nathan of Soba, Bonni of Gadi, 37. Selec of Ammoni, Naharai the Berothite the squyer of Ioab the sonne of Saruia, 38. Ira the Iethrite, Gareb he also a Iethrite, 39. Vrias the Hetheite. Al thirtie seuen.

(b) The King proposed not this for desire of that water, but to trie and exercise his mens fortitude.

(c) Precious things are most meet to be offered to God.

C H A P. XXIIII.

For Dauids sinne in numbring the people, .11. three sorts of punishments are proposed to his election: 14. of which he chooseth the plague, and seuentie thousand die in three dayes. 16. God sheweth mercie. 17. Dauid prayeth. 18. buildeth an altar, 25. and the plague ceaseth.

ND (a) the furie of our Lord added to be angrie agaynst Israel, & stirred vp Dauid among them saying: Goe, number Israel and Iuda. 2. And the King sayd to Ioab the General of his armie: Walke through al the tribes of Israel from Dan to Bersabee, and number ye the people, that I may know the number thereof. 3. And Ioab sayd to the King: Our Lord thy God increase thy people, as much more as now it is, and agayne multiplie it an hundred fold in the sight of my Lord the King: but what meaneth my Lord the King by this kind of thing? 4. Howbeit the Kings word more preuailed then the words of Ioab, and of the chiefe of the armie: and Ioab went forth, and the captaynes of the soldiers from the face of the King, to number the people of Israel. 5. And when they had passed Iordan, they came into Aroer to the right hand of the cite, which is in the Vale of Gad. 6. And by Iazer they passed into Galaad, and into the lower countrie of Hodsi, and they came into the wooddie countrie of Dan. And going about neere Sidon, 7. they passed nigh to the wallis of Tyre, and al the land of the Heueite, and the Chananeite, and they came to the south of Iuda into Bersabee: 8. and hauing viewed the whole land, after nine months and twentie dayes, they were come to Ierusalem. 9. Ioab therefore gaue the number of the description of the people to the King, and there were found of Israel eight hundred thousand strong men, that could draw sword: and of Iuda five hundred thousand fighting men. 10. But Dauids (b) hart strucke him, after the people was numbered: and Dauid sayd to our Lord: (c) I haue sinned very much in this fact: but I pray thee Lord to transierre the iniquitie of thy seruant, because I haue done exceeding foolishly. 11. Dauid therefore arose in the morning, and the word of our Lord was made to Gad the Prophet and Seer of Dauid, saying: 12. Goe, and speake to Dauid: Thus sayth our Lord: (a) Choyse is giuen thee of three things, choose one of them which thou wilt, that I may doe it to thee. 13. And when Gad was come to Dauid, he told him, saying: Either famine shal come to thee seuen yeares in thy land: or three months thou shalt fly thy aduersaries, and they shal pursue thee: or certes three dayes the pettilence shal be in thy land. Now therefore deliberate, and see what word I

(a) This sinne & punishment happened before, when Dauid had health and strength of bodie.

(a) The furie of our Lord, that is Satan (a furious spirite, yet Gods creature) not our Lord himselfe, but by permission only. 1. Par. 2. 1. Satan arose against Israel, & moued Dauid.

(b) Contrition.

(c) Confession.

(d) Satisfaction.

that answer to him that sent me. 14. And Dauid sayd to Gad : I am distressed exceedingly : but it is better that I fall into the hands of our Lord (for his mercies be manie) then into the hands of men. 15. And our Lord sent the pestilence in Israel , from morning vnto the time appointed, and there died of the people from Dan to Bersabee seuentie thousand men. 16. And when the Angel of our Lord had stretched forth his hand ouer Ierusalem to destroy it , our Lord had pitie vpon the affliction, and sayd to the Angel that stricke the people : (e) It is sufficient : now hold thy hand : and the Angel of our Lord was beside the floore of Areuna the Iebuseite. 17. And Dauid sayd to our Lord when he saw the Angel striking the people : I am he that haue sinned , I haue done wickedly : these that are the sheep , what haue they done ? let thy hand, I beseech thee, be turned against my fathers house. 18. And Gad came to Dauid in that day , and sayd to him : Goe vp , and build an altar to our Lord in the floore of Areuna the Iebuseite. 19. And Dauid went vp according to the word of Gad , which our Lord had commanded him. 20. And Areuna looking , perceiued the King and his seruants to come towards him. 21. And going forth he adored the King with his face bowing to the earth , and sayd : What is the cause that my Lord the King cometh to his seruant ? To whom Dauid said : That I may buy of thee the floore, and build an altar to our Lord , & the slaughter may cease which rageth among the people. 22. And Areuna sayd to Dauid : Let my Lord the King take , and offer , as it pleaseth him : thou hast the oxen for holocaust , and the wayne , and the yokes of the oxen for prouision of wood. 23. Areuna gaue al things to the King : and Areuna sayd to the King : The Lord thy God receiue thy vow. 24. To whom the King answering , said : Not so as thou wilt , but I wil bye it of thee at a price , and I wil not offer to our Lord my God holocausts (f) giuen gratis. Dauid therefore bought the floore, and the oxen , for fittie sicles of siluer : 25. and Dauid built there an altar to our Lord , and offered holocausts and pacifikes : and our Lord became merciful to the land , and the plague was stayed from Israel.

The Epistle in a vntime Manie in tyme of plague or mortalitie.

(e) Temporal punishment inflicted after the guilt of sinne was remitted.

(f) If subiects had not proprietie in their goods, but that the right and dominion of al perteyned to the Prince, then could nothing at al in any case be giuen gratis by the subiect, but only yealded as due to his soueraigne.

THE ARGUMENT OF THE THIRD BOOK OF KINGS.

The contents
of this book,
diuided into three parts.

WITH commemoration of King Dauids old age, of his appointing a successour, and of his death, in the first and part of the second chapters, this book conteyneth two other principal parts: the former is of King Salomon; of his entrance to the Kingdome; his deuotion; wisdome; magnificence; riches; great familie; building of the Temple, and other sumptuous palaces; of his fall also into luxurie, and idolatrie; in the rest of the second chapter to the end of the eleuenth. The other part sheweth the diuision of the Kingdome; onlie two tribes remainyng to Roboam, Salomons sonne, with tittle of King of Iuda; and tenne passyng to Ieroboam his seruant, called King of Israel. So folow the seueral reignes of Abias, Asa, and Iosaphat Kings of Iuda: and of Madab, Baasa, Ela, Zambri, Amri, Achab with Iezabel, and Ochostias Kings of Israel: with the preaching, miracles, and other actes of Abias, Elias, Eliseus, and other Prophets, in the other eleuen chapters.

THE THIRD
 B O O K O F
 KINGS, ACCORDING TO THE HEBREWES THE FIRST OF MALACHIM.

C H A P. I.

King Dauid waxing old, Abisag a Sunamite is brought to him. 5. Adonias pretending to reigne, 11. Nathan and Bethsabee obtaine 28. that Salomon is declared and annointed King. 41. Wherupon Adonias (his folowers parting to their houses) 50. flyeth to the altar in the tabernacle: but vpon promise of safeite doth homage to Salomon.

AN D King Dauid was old, and had manie daies of age: & when he was couered with clothes, he was not warmed. 2. His seruants therefore sayd to him: Let vs seeke for our Lord the King a yong woman a virgin, and let her stand before the King, and cherish him, and sleepe in his bosome; and warme our Lord the King. 3. They sought therefore a beautiful yong woman in al the costes of Israel, and they found Abisag a Sunamite, & brought her to the King. 4. And the damsel was exceeding beautiful, and she slept with the King, and serued him, but the King did not know her. 5. And Adonias the sonne of Haggith was elcuated, saying: I wil reigne. And he made himself chariots & horsemen, & fiftie men, that should runne before him. 6. Neither did his father controule him at any time, saying: Why didst thou this? And he also was very beautiful, the second borne after Absalom. 7. And he had talke with Ioab the sonne of Saruia, and with (u) Abiathar the Priest, who furthered Ado-

The first part
 King Dauids admonitions to his sonne:
 and his death.

a) For this conspiracie Abiathar was deposed. ch. 2.
v. 27.

niās side. 8. But Sadoc the Priest, and Banaias the sonne of Ioiada, and Nathan the Prophet, and Semei, and Rei, and the strength of Dauids armie was not with Adonias. 9. Adonias therfore hauing immolated rammes and calves, and al fat beasts beside the Stone zoheloth, which was nigh to the Fountaine Rogel, called al his brethren the sonnes of the King, and al the men of Iuda the seruants of the King: 10. But Nathan the Prophet, and Banaias, and al the strong ones, and Salomon his brother he called not. 11. Nathan therfore said to Bethsabee the mother of Salomon: Hast thou not heard that Adonias the sonne of Haggith hath reigned, & our Lord Dauid is ignorant therof? 12. Now therfore come, take counsell of me, & saue thy life, & thy sonne Salomōs. 13. Goe, & enter into King Dauid, & say to him: Didst not thou my Lord King swear to me thy handmayd, saying: Salomon thy sonne shal reigne after me, and he shal sit in my throne? Why then reigneth Adonias? 14. And whiles thou art yet speaking there with the King, I wil come after thee, & make vpon thy words. 15. Bethsabee therfore went in to the King in the chamber: and the King was exceeding old, and Abisag the Sunamite ministred to him. 16. Bethsabee bowed herself, and adored the King. To whom the King said: What is thy wil? quoth he. 17. Who answering sayd: My Lord, thou didst swear to thy handmayd by our Lord thy God, That Salomon thy sonne shal reigne after me, and he shal sit in my throne. 18. And behold now Adonias reigneth, thou my Lord the King not knowing therof. 19. He hath killed oxen, and al fat things, and manie rammes, and called al the Kings sonnes. Abiathar also the Priest, and Ioab the General of the warfarre: but Salomon thy seruant he called not. 20. Notwithstanding my Lord King, the eyes of al Israel looke vpon thee, that thou wouldest shew them, who shal sit in thy throne my Lord King after thee. 21. And it shal be when my Lord King sleepeth with his fathers, I & my sonne Salomō shal be (b) sinners. 22. As she was yet spaking with the King, Nathan the Prophet came. 23. And they told the King, saying: Nathan the Prophet is here. And when he was gone in to the King, and had adored bowing to the earth, 24. Nathan sayd: My Lord King, didst thou say: Let Adonias reigne after me, and let him sit vpon my throne? 25. Because he is gone downe to day, and hath immolated oxen, and fattelings, and manie rammes, and called al the Kings sonnes, and the captaynes of the armie, Abiathar also the Priest: and they eating and drinking before him, and saying: God saue the King Adonias: 26. me thy seruant, and Sadoc the Priest, and Banaias the sonne of Ioiada, and Salomon thy seruant he called not. 27. Is this word proceeded from my Lord the King, and hast thou not told me thy seruant who should sit vpon the throne of my Lord the King after him? 28. And King Dauid answered, saying: Cal vnto me Bethsabee. Who whē she was entred in to the King, and stood before him, 29. the King swate, and sayd: Our Lord liueth, which hath deliuered my soule frō al distresse, 30. that as I sware

b) Basely esteemed, or punished as offenders vpon sus-pition or iclo-sic.

to thee

to thee by our Lord the God of Israel, saying: Salomon thy sonne shall reigne after me, and he shall sit vpon my throne for me, so wil I doe this day. 31. And Bethsabee bowing her countenance vnto the earth adored the King, saying: God saue my Lord for euer. 32. King Dauid also said: Cal me Sadoc the Priest, and Nathan the Prophet, & Banaias the sonne of Ioiada. Who when they were entred in before the King, 33. he said to them: Take with you the seruants of your Lord, and set Salomon my sonne vpon my mule: and bring him into Gihon. 34. And let Sadoc the Priest annoint him there, and Nathan the Prophet to be King ouer Israel: and you shall sound the trumpet, and shall say: God saue King Salomon. 35. And you shall goe vp after him, and he shall come, and shall sit vpon my throne, and he shall reigne for me: and I wil ordaine him that he be Prince ouer Israel, and ouer Iuda. 36. And Banaias the sonne of Ioiada answered the King, saying: Amen. so speak our Lord the God of my Lord the King. 37. As our Lord hath been with my Lord the King, so be he with Salomon, and make his throne higher then the throne of my Lord King Dauid. 38. Sadoc therefore the Priest, and Nathan the Prophet went downe, and Banaias the sonne of Ioiada, and Cerethi, and Phelethi: and they set Salomon vpon the mule of King Dauid, and brought him into Gihon. 39. And Sadoc the Priest tooke a horne of oile out of the tabernacle, and annointed Salomon: and they sounded the trumpet, and al the people said: God saue King Salomon. 40. And al the multitude went vp after him, and the people singing on haulms, and reioycing with great gladnes, and the earth sounded of their crie. 41. And Adonias heard, and al that were inuited of him, and the feast was ended: yea & Ioab hearing the voice of the trumpet, said: What meaneth the crie of the citie making a tumult? 42. As he yet spake, came Ionathas the sonne of Abiathar the Priest: to whom Adonias said: Come in, because thou art a stout man, and bringest good newes. 43. And Ionathas answered Adonias: Not so: for our Lord King Dauid hath appointed Salomon King, 44. and hath sent with him Sadoc the Priest, and Nathan the Prophet, and Banaias the sonne of Ioiada, and Cerethi, and Pherethi, and they haue set him vpon the Kings mule. 45. And Sadoc the Priest, and Nathan the Prophet haue annointed him King in Gihon: & they are gone vp thence reioycing, and the citie sounded: this is the voice that you heard. 46. Yea and Salomon sitteth vpon the throne of the Kingdome. 47. And the Kings seruants entring in, haue blessed our Lord King Dauid, saying: God amplify the name of Salomon about thy name, and magnifie his throne about thy throne. And the King (1) adored in his bed: 48. and he hath thus spoken: Blessed be our Lord the God of Israel, who hath giuen this day one sitting in my throne, mine eies seeing it. 49. They therefore were terrified, and they all arose, that had been inuited of Adonias, and euery man went his way. 50. And Adonias tearing Salomon arose, & went, & held the horne of the altar. 1. And they told Salomon,

(c) King Dauid did not adore his sonne as a subiect adored his Prince, but adored God, giuing thanks for this benefite of a succellour. as it foloweth in the next verse.

faying: Behold Adonias fearing King Salomon, hath taken hold of the horne of the altar, faying: Let King Salomō ſweare to me this day, that he wil not kil his ſeruant with the ſword. 52. And Salomō ſayd: If he be a good man, there ſhal not ſo much as one haire of his fall vpon the ground: but if euil ſhal be found in him, he ſhal die. 53. King Salomon therfore ſent, and brought him out from the altar: and going in he adored King Salomon: and Salomon ſayd to him: Goe to thy houſe.

C H A P. II.

Dauid giueth godlie precepts to Salomon. 5. Willeth him to puniſh certaine offenders: 10, and dieth. 12. Salomon reigneth. 13. Adonias, by interceſſion of Beſhabee requeſteth to haue Abiſag to wiſe: 22. but is put to death for demanding her. 26. Abiathar the Prieſt is baniſhed, and depoſed, for conſpiring with Adonias. 28. Ioab alſo for the ſame cauſe, and former crimes is ſlaine. 35. Semei is confined in Ieruſalem, 40. & for tranſgreſſing his limites, together with old faults is likewiſe ſlaine.

AND the dayes of Dauid approached that he ſhould die, and he commanded his ſonne Salomon, faying: 2. I enter into the way of al fleth: take courage, and play the man. 3. And obſerue the watches of our Lord thy God, that thou walke in his waies, and keep his ceremonies, and his precepts, & iudgements, and teſtimonies as is written in the law of Moyſes: that thou mayſt vnderſtand al things which thou doeſt, and whitherſoeuer thou ſhalt turne thy ſelfe: 4. that our Lord may confirme his words, which he hath ſpoken of me, faying: If thy children ſhal keep their waies, and ſhal walke before me in truth, in al their hart, and in al their ſoul, there ſhal not altogether be taken from thee a man out of the throne of Iſrael. 5. Thou knoweſt alſo what Ioab the ſonne of Saruia hath done to me, what he did to the two Princes of the armie of Iſrael, to Abner the ſonne of Ner, & Amaſa the ſonne of Iether: whom he ſlew, & ſhed the bloud of warre in peace, and put the bloud of battel in his belt, which was about his loynes, and in his ſhoe, which was on his feet. 6. Thou ſhalt doe therfore according to thy wiſdome, and ſhalt not bring his hoare head peaceably vnto hel. 7. But to the ſonnes alſo of Berzellai the Galaadite thou ſhalt render kindnes, and they ſhal eate on thy table: for they mette me when I fled from the face of Abſalom thy brother. 8. Thou haſt alſo with thee Semei the ſonne of Gerā the ſonne of Iemini of Bahurim, who curſed me with a wicked curſe, when I went to the Campe; but becauſe he came downe to meet me when I paſſed Iordau, and I ſware to him by our Lord, faying: I wil not kil thee with the ſword; 9. doe not thou ſuffer

him

him to be guiltles. But thou art a wise man, so that thou knowest what thou shalt doe to him, and thou shalt bring his hoare haire with blood vnto hel. 10. Dauid therefore slept with his fathers, & was buried in the citie of Dauid. 11. And the daies that Dauid reigned in Israel, are fourtie yeares: in Hebron he reigned seuen yeares, in Ierusalem thirtie three. 12. And Salomon sate vpon the throne of Dauid his father, & his Kingdome was confirmed exceedingly. 13. And Adonias the sonne of Haggith entred in to Bethsabee the mother of Salomon. Who said to him: Is thy coming peaceable? Who answered: Peaceable. 14. And he added: I haue a word to speake with thee. To whō she said: Speake. And he: 15. Thou knowest, quoth he, that the Kingdome was mine, & al Israel had purposed to make me ouer thē to be their King: but the Kindome is trāspōsed, & is made my brothers: for it was appointed him of our Lord. 16. Now therefore I desire one petitiō of thee; Confound not my face. Who said to him: Speake. 17. And he said: I pray speake to Salomon the King (for he cā not denie thee any thing) that he giue me Abisag the Sunamite to wife. 18. And Bethsabee saied: wel, I wil speake for thee to the King. 19. Bethsabee therefore came to King Salomon, to spake vnto him for Adonias: & the King arose to meete her, & adored her, & sate downe vpon his throne: & a throne was set for the Kings mother, who sate on his right hād. 20. And she said to him: One litle petitiō I desire of thee, cōfound not my face. And the King said to her: My mother aske: for (d) it behoueth not that I turne away thy face. 21. Who said: Let Abisag the Sunamite be giuē to Adonias thy brother to wife. 22. And King Salomō answered, and said to his mother: Why doest thou aske Abisag the Sunamite for Adonias? aske for him also the Kingdom: for he is my brother elder thē I, & hath Abiathar the Priest, & Ioab the sonne of Saruia. 23. Therefore King Salomon sware by our Lord, saying: These things doe God to me, & these adde he, because Adonias hath spokē this word against his life. 24. And now, our Lord liueth which hath establihed me, & placed me vpon the throne of Dauid my father, and which hath made me a house, as he spake, this day shal Adonias be slaine. 25. And King Salomon sent by the hand of Banaias the sonne of Ioiada, who slew him, & he died. 26. To Abiathar also the Priest the King said: Goe into Anathoth to thy field, and thou indeed art a man of death: but to day I wil not kilthee, because thou didst carie the arke of our Lord God before Dauid my father, & hast susteyned labour in al things, wherin my father laboured. 27. Salomon therefore (e) cast out Abiathar, that he should not be the Priest of our Lord, that the word of our Lord might be fulfilled, which he spake concerning the house of Heli in silo. 28. And then a messenger came to Ioab, for that Ioab had turned after Adonias, and after Salomon had not turned: Ioab therefore fled into the tabernacle of our Lord, & caught the horne of the altar. 29. And it was told King Salomon, that Ioab was fled into the tabernacle of our Lord, and was beside the altar: and Salomon sent Banaias the sonne of Ioiada, saying:

The second part. Of Salomons reigne, and actes good and bad.

d) In al conuenient suits it behoueth the sonne to heare his mother.

e) By special instinct Salomō did this extraordinarie fact as a Prophet & minister of God, executing his sentence giuen before against the house of Heli for the sinnes of his children, 1. Reg. 2. v. 11. and for Abiathars proper fault ioyning with Adonias against Salomon. 3. Reg. 1.

Goe, kil him. 30. And Banaias came to the tabernacle of our Lord, and said to him: Thus sayth the King: Come forth. Who said: I wil not come forth, but here wil I die. Banaias reported his word to the King, saying: Thus spake Ioab, and thus he answered me. 31. And the King said to him: Doe as he hath spoken: and kil him, and burie him, and thou shalt remoue the innocent blood, which hath been shed of Ioab, from me, and from the house of my father. 32. And our Lord. shall render his blood vpon his head, because he murdered two iust men, and better then himself: and slew them with his sword, my father Dauid not knowing, Abner the sonne of Ner General of the warfare of Israel, and Amasa the sonne of Iether General of the armie of Iuda: 33. and their blood shall returne vpon the head of Ioab, and vpon the head of his seed for euer. But to Dauid & his seed & his house, & to his throne be peace for euer from our Lord. 34. Banaias therefore the sonne of Ioiada went vp, and setting vpon him slew him: and he was buried in his house in the desert. 35. And the King appointed Banaias the sonne of Ioiada for him ouer the armie, and Sadoc the Priest he placed for Abiathar. 36. The King also sent, and called Semei, and said to him: Build thee a house in Ierusalem, and dwel there: and thou shalt not goe out thence hither and thither. 37. But what day soeuer thou shalt goe out, and shalt passe the Torrent Cedron, know that thou art to be slaine: thy blood shall be vpon thy head. 38. And Semei said to the King: The saying is good: as my Lord the King hath spoken, so wil thy seruant doe. Semei therefore dwelt in Ierusalem manie dayes. 39. And it came to passe after three yeares, that the seruants of Semei fled to Achis the sonne of Maacha the King of Geth: and it was told Semei that his seruants were gone into Geth. 40. And Semei arose, and saddled his asse, & went to Achis into Geth to require his seruants, & he brought them out of Geth. 41. And it was told Salomon that Semei went into Geth out of Ierusalem, & was returned. 42. And sending he called him, & said to him: Did I not testifie to thee by our Lord, & told thee before: What day soeuer thou going out shalt passe hither and thither, know that thou shalt die? And thou didst answer me: The saying is good, which I haue heard. 43. Why then hast thou not kept the oath of our Lord, and the precept that I commanded thee? 44. And the King said to Semei: Thou knowest al the euil, wherof thy hart is priuy to thy selfe, which thou didst to Dauid my father: our Lord hath reared thy malice vpon thy head. 45. And King Salomon be blessed, and the throne of Dauid shall be stable before our Lord for euer. 46. The King therefore commanded Banaias the sonne of Ioiada: who going out, stricke him, and he died.

f] Salomon was not only a King but also a Prophet. Moreouer some secular Princes doe nominate spiritual superiours, and install them in their seates, yet their jurisdiction is not depending on the Prince, but the Prince to be directed by them. Num. 27. v. 21.

C H A P. III.

King Salomon marieth Pharaos sister. 3. Offereth victims in high places. 5. Admonished by God in his sleep to demand what he wil, he asketh wisdom to gouerne his people. 10. Which God granteth him with much riches also and glorie. 16. He decideth a controuersie betweene two women contending about a liuing child and a dead.

TH E Kingdome therefore was established in the hand of Salomon, and he was ioyned in affinitie to Pharao the King of Ægypt: for he tooke his daughter, and brought her into the citie of Dauid, vntil he accomplished building his owne house, and the house of our Lord, and the wal of Ierusalem round about. 2. But yet the people immolated in the excelses: for there was no temple built to the name of our Lord vntil that day. 3. And Salomon ioued our Lord, walking in the precepts of Dauid his father, sauing that he immolated in the excelses, and burnt incense. 4. He went therefore into Gabaon, to immolate there: for that was a verie great excelse: a thousand hostes for holocaust did Salomon offer vpon that altar in Gabaon. 5. And our Lord appeared to Salomon in a dreame by night, saying: Aske what thou wilt that I may giue it thee. 6. And Salomon said: Thou hast done great mercie with thy seruant Dauid my father, euen as he walked in thy sight in truth, and iustice, and a right hart with thee: for thou hast kept thy great mercie, and hast giuen him a sonne sitting vpon his throne, as it is this day. 7. And now Lord God, thou hast made thy seruant to reigne for Dauid my father, but I am a litle child, and ignorant of my going out and coming in. 8. And thy seruant is in the middes of the people, which thou hast chosen, a people infinite, which can not be numbred and counted for the multitude. 9. Thou shalt therefore giue to thy seruant a docible hart, that he may iudge the people, and discern between good & euil. For who shall be able to iudge this people, this thy people great in number? 10. The word therefore was liked before our Lord, that Salomon had asked such a thing. 11. And our Lord said to Salomon: Because thou hast asked this thing, and hast not desired for thy self manie dayes, nor riches, nor the liues of thine enemies, but hast desired wisdom for thy self to discern iudgement: 12. behold I haue done vnto thee according to thy words, and haue giuen thee a wise hart and intelligent, in so much that none before thee hath been like thee, nor shall arise after thee. 13. Yea and these things, which thou didst not aske, I haue giuen thee: to wit, riches, and glorie, so that none hath been like thee among the Kings al dayes heretofore. 14. And if thou wilt wa ke in munday in the 4. weeke

The Epistle on
of Lent.

my wayes, and I keep my precepts, & my cen mandements, as thy father walked, I wil make thy dayes long. 15. Therefore Salomon awaked, and perceiued that it was a dreame: and when he was come to Ierusalem, he stood before the arke of couenant of our Lord, and offered holocausts, and made pacifike victimes, and a great feast to al his seruants. 16. Then came there two women harlots to the King, and stood before him: 17. of the which one said: I beseech thee, my Lord, I and this woman dwelt in one house, and I was deliuered of a childe beside her in the chamber. 18. And the third day, after that I was deliuered, she also was deliuered, and we were together, and no other person with vs in the house, except we two. 19. And this womans childe died in the night. For sleeping she oppressed him. 20. And ryfing in the dead tyme of the night, she tooke my childe from the side of me thy hand-mayd being asleep, and layd it in her bosome: and her childe that was dead, she put in my bosome. 21. And when I was ryfen in the morning to giue my childe milke, he appeared dead: whom more diligently beholding when it was cleere day, I found that it was not mine which I bare. 22. And the other woman answered: It is not so as thou sayst, but thy childe is dead, and mine liueth. On the contrarie part she sayd: I thou liest: for my childe liueth, and thy childe is dead. And in this manner they stroue before the King. 23. Then sayd the King: This woman faith: My childe liueth, and thy childe is dead. And this hath answered, No, but thy childe is dead, and mine liueth. 24. The King therefore said: Bring me a sword. And when they had brought a sword before the King, 25. Diuide, quoth he, the liuing child into two parts, and giue the halfe part to onc, and halfe to the other. 26. But, the woman, whose childe was aliue, said to the King (for her boweis were moued vpon her childe) I beseech thee my Lord, giue her the childe aliue, and kil it not. On the contrarie part she sayd: (a) be it neither mine, nor thine, but let it be diuided. 27. The King answered, and said: Giue vnto this woman the infant aliue, and let it not be killed, for this is the mother therof. 28. Al Israel therefore heard the iudgement that the King had iudged, and they feared the King, seeing the wisdom of God to be in him to doe iudgement.

*) So heretikes not being able to proue that their synagogue is the true & permanent Church, would destroy the Catholike and so haue none at al.

C H H P. I I I I.

Chief men of Salomons Kingdom are recited by their names, and offices. 22. likewise the prouision of victuals for his house, 26. and number of his horses. 27. His wisdom excelleth al others. 32. He writ manie parables and verses, and learnedly discoursed of al things.

AND King Salomon was reigning ouer al Israel: 2. and these were the Princes which he had: Azarias the sonne of Sadoc the Priest: 3. Elihoreph, and Ahia the sonnes of Sifa Scribes: Iosaphat the sonne of Ahilud, register: 4. Banaias the sonne of Ioiada, ouer the armie: and Sadoc, and Abiathar Priests. 5. Azarias the sonne of Nathan, ouer them that assisted the King: Zabud the sonne of Nathan Priest, the Kings freind: 6. and Ahizar gouernour of the house: and Adoniram the sonne of Abda ouer the tributes. 7. And Salomon had twelue gouernours ouer al Israel, which serued out victuals for the King and for his house: for euerie one ministred necessaries, each man his month in the yeare. 8. And these are their names: Benhur in mount Ephraim. 9. Bendecar, in Macces, and in Salebim, and in Bethfames, and in Elon, and in Bethhanan. 10. Benhesed in Aruboth: his was Socho, and al the land Epher. 11. Benabina-dab, whose was al Nepha Dor, had Tapheth the daughter of Salomon to wife. 12. Bana the sonne of Ahilud gouerned Thanach and Mageddo, and al Bethsan, which is beside Sarthana vnder Iezrahel, from Bethsan vnto Abelmehula ouer against Iecmaan. 13. Bengaber in Ramoth Galaad: had Auothair the sonne of Manasses in Galaad, he was chiefe in al the countrie of Argob, which is in Bafan, three score cities great and walled, which had brazen lockes. 14. Ahinadab the sonne of Addo was chiefe in Manaim. 15. Achimaas in Nephthali: yea he also had Basemath the daughter of Salomon in marriage. 16. Baana the sonne of Hufi, in Afer, and in Baloth. 17. Iosaphat the sonne of Pharue, in Issacar. 18. Semei the sonne of Ela, in Benjamin. 19. Gaber the sonne of Vri, in the land of Galaad in the land of Sehon the King of the Amorrhete, & of Og the King of Basā, ouer al things that were in that land. 20. Iuda and Israel innumerable, as the sand of the sea in multitude: eating, and drinking, and reioycing. 21. And Salomon was in his dominion, hauing al the Kingdomes with him frō the riuer of the land of the Philisthims vnto the border of Ægypt: of them that offered him presents, & serued him al the dayes of his life. 22. And the prouisiō of Salomon was euerie day thirtie measures of floure, & three score measures of meale, 23. tene fat oxen and twentie pasture-fed, & an hundred rammes, beside the veniōn of goats, roes, and buffles, and fatted foule. 24. For he possessed al the countrie, which was beyond the riuer, from Thapfa vnto Goza, and al the Kings of those countries : and he had peace on euerie side round about. 25. And Iuda and Israel dwelt without anie feare, euerie one vnder his vine, and vnder his figtree, from Dan vnto Bersabee al the dayes of Salomon. 26. And Salomon had fourtie thousand stalles of chariot-horses, and twelue thousand for the saddle. 27. And the foresaid gouernours of the King fed them : yea and the necessaries of King salomons table they gaue forth with great care in their time. 28. Barley also and strow for the horses, and bealts, they brought to the place, where the King was, according as it was appointed them. 29. God also gaue wisdom to Salomon and prudence exceeding much, and latitude of hart as the sand that is in the sea shore. 30. And the wisdom of Salomon passed the wisdom of al them in the east, and of the Ægyptians, 31. and he was wiser then al men : wiser then Ethan the Ezralite, and Heman, and Chalcol, & Dorda the sonnes of Mahol, and he was renowned in al nations round about. 32. Salomon also spake (a) three thousand parables : and his songs were a thousand & fiue. 33. And he disputed of trees from the cedar that is in Libanus, vnto the hyssop which cometh out of the wal : & he discoursed of bealts, and foules, and creeping wormes, and fishes. 34. And there came from al people to heare the wisdom of Salomon, and from al the Kings of the earth, which heard his wisdom.

(a) These books are not extant.

C H A P. V.

Hiram King of Tyre granteth timber and workmen for buildeng the Temple: Salomon allowing victuals, and payng wages. 13. the number of workmen and overseers.

HIRAM also the King of Tyre sent his seruants to Salomon: for he heard that they had annointed him King for his father: because Hiram had been Dauids treind at al time. 2. And Salomon sent to Hiram, saying: 3. Thou knowest the wil of Dauid my father, and that he could not build a house to the name of our Lord his God, because of warres imminēt round about, vntil our Lord put them vnder the sole of his feete. 4. But now our Lord my God hath giuen me rest round about: and there is no satan, nor il rencounter. 5. Wherfore I purpose to build a temple to the name of our Lord my God, as our Lord hath spoken to Dauid my father, saying: Thy sōne, whom I wil giue for thee vpon thy throne, he shal build a house to my name. 6. Cōmand therefore that thy seruants

seruants cut me downe cedres out of Libanus , and let my seruants be with thy seruants : and I wil giue thee the hire of thy seruants whatsoever thou wilt aske, for thou knowest how there is not in my people a man that hath skil to hew wood as the Sidonians. 7. When Hiram therfore had heard the words of Salomon, he reioyced exceedingly, and said : Blessed be the Lord God this day , who hath giuen vnto Dauid a sonne most wise ouer this people so great in number. 8. And Hiram sent to Salomon, saying: I haue heard whatsoever thou hast willed me: I wil doe al thy wil in cedre trees, and firre trees. 9. My seruants that bring them downe from Libanus to the sea: and I wil put them in boates in the sea, vnto the place which thou shalt signifie to me; & wil land them there, and thou shalt take them : and thou shalt allow me necessaries, that there be meate giuen for my house. 10. Therefore Hiram gaue Salomon cedre trees, and firre trees, according to al his wil. 11. And Salomon allowed Hiram twentie thousand cores of wheate, for prouision for his house , and twentie cores of most pure oile : these things did Salomon giue to Hiram euerie yeare. 12. Our Lord also gaue wisdom to Salomon, as he spake to him : & there was peace between Hiram & Salomon; and both made a league. 13. And King Salomon chose workmen out of al Israel, and the taxed number was of thirtie thousand men. 14. And he sent them into Libanus , ten thousand euerie month by course, so that two months they were in their houses : and Adoniram was ouer this taxing. 15. And Salomon had seuentie thousand of them that caried burdens, and eightie thousand hewers of stonnes in the mountaines: 16. besides the ouerseers which were ouer euerie worke , in number three thousand, and three hundred that commanded the people, & them that did the worke. 17. And the King commanded , that they mould take great stonnes, chosen stonnes for the foundation of the temple, and should square them : 18. which the masons of Salomon, and masons of Hiram hewed: moreouer the Giblians prepared timber and stonnes , to build the house.

CHAP. VI.

In the yeare foure hundred and foure score, after the Israelites came from Ægypt, Salomon, the fourth yeare of his reigne, beyneth to build the Temple. 2. The principal parts with the greatnes , forme , and ornaments thereof are described. 3 & 4. It is in building seuen yeares.

AND it came to passe in the foure hundred and foure score yeare of the coming forth of the children of Israel out of the Land of Ægypt, in the fourth yeare, the month Zio (that is the second month) of the reigne of Salomon ouer Israel, he began to build a house to our Lord. 2. And the house , which King

Salomon built to our Lord, had three score cubits in length, & twentie cubits in bredth, and thirtie cubits in height. 3. And there was a porch before the temple of twentie cubits of length, according to the measure of the bredth of the temple: and it had ten cubits of bredth before the face of the temple. 4. And he made in the temple * oblike windowes. 5. And he built vpon the wal of the temple loftes round about, in the walles of the house round about the temple and the oracle, and he made sides round about. 6. The loft that was vnderneath, had five cubits of bredth, & the middle loft was of six cubits in bredth, and the third loft had seven cubits of bredth. And he put beames in the house round about on the outside, that they might not cleave to the walles of the temple. 7. And the house when it was built, was built of stones hewed and perfected: and hammer, and hachet, and al the tooles of yron were (a) not heard in the house when it was built. 8. The doore of the middle side was in the wal of the house on the right hand: and by wynding staires they went vp into the middle rowne, and from the middle into the third. 9. And he built the house, and finished it: he couered also the house with feelings of cedre trees. 10. And he built a loft ouer al the house five cubits of height, and he couered the house with cedre timber. 11. And the word of our Lord came to Salomon, saying: 12. This house, which thou buildest, if thou wilt walke in my precepts, and doe my iudgements, and keep al my commandements, going in them, I wil establiish my word to thee, which I spake to Dauid thy father. 13. And I wil dwel in the middes of the children of Israell, and wil not forsake my people Israel. 14. Salomon therefore built the house, and finished it. 15. And he built the walles of the house on the inside, with cedre loftes, from the pauement of the house to the top of the walles, and to the roofes, he couered it with cedre trees on the inside: and he couered the floore of the house with boords of firre. 16. And he built loftes of cedre timber of twentie cubits at the hinder part of the temple, from the pauement to the higher parts: and he made the inner house of the oracle to be (b) Sanctum Sanctorum. 17. Moreouer the temple it self was fourtie cubits before the doores of the oracle. 18. And al the house was couered within with cedre, hauing roundels, and the joynts thereof cunningly wrought, and the engrauiings standing out: al things were couered with bordes: (c) neither could there a stone appeare in the wal at al. 19. And he made the oracle in the middes of the house, in the inner part, that he might put the arke of covenant of our Lord there. 20. Moreouer the oracle had twentie cubits in length, and twentie cubits of bredth, and twentie cubits in height. And he couered and seeled it with most pure gold, and the altar also he decked with cedre. 21. The house also before the oracle he couered with most pure gold, and fastened on plates with nailes of gold. 22. And there was nothing in the temple that was not couered with gold: yea and al the altar of the oracle he couered with gold. 23. And he made in the oracle

Narrow without & broad within.

(a) In perfect people is neither noise of murmur in aduersitie, nor of boasting in prosperitie, but patience and humilitie with silence.

(b) Holie of holies or most holie place.
The Stones in buildings, and bones in living bodies represent the state of religious performances: who being hidde in their Monasteries and celles, so much the more fortifie the Church, by how much lesse they appeare abroad because their face is not so much, as: so murmur. S. Bernard Ser. 64.

two Cherubs of oliue trees, of ten cubits in height. 24. One wing of a cherub of five cubits, and the other wing of a cherub five cubites: that is, hauing tē cubits, frō the end of one wing vnto the end of the other wing. 25. Of ten cubites also was the second cherub: in like measure, and the worke was one in both cherubs, 26. that is to say, one cherub had the height of ten cubites, and in like manner the second cherub. 27. And he put the cherubs in the middes of the inner temple: and the cherubs extended their wings, and the one wing touched the wal, and the wing of the second cherub touched the other wal: and the other wings in the middle part of the temple touched each other. 28. He couered also the cherubs with gold. 29. And al the walles of the temple round about he graued with diuerse engrauiings and caruing: & he made in them cherubs, and palme trees, and (d) diuerse pictures, as it were standing out of the wal, and comming forth. 30. Yea the pauement also of the house he couered with gold within and without. 31. And in the entrance of the oracle he made litle doores of the timber of oliuetrees, and five corner postes. 32. And two doores of oliuetimber: and he graued in the pictures of Cherubs, and figures of Palme trees, and grauen workes standing out very much; and he couered them with gold: and he couered as wel the Cherubs as the palmetrees, and the other things with gold. 33. And he made in the entrance of the temple posts of oliuetimber foure square: 34. and two doores of firre trees, one agaynst an other: and either doore was double, & so opened with folding leaues. 35. And he graued Cherubs, and palmetrees, and engrauiings appearing very much: and he couered al with golden plates in square worke by rule. 36. And he built the inner court with three rowes of stones polished, & one row of ceder timber. 37. In the fourth yeare was the house of our Lord founded in the month of Zio: 38. and in the eleuenth yeare in the month Bul (that is the eight month) the house was perfected in al the workes therof, and in al the implements therof: and he was building it seuen yeares.

d) It is a cleer case, that al carued and grauen pictures, or images were not vnlawful, but were religiously made & set in the holie Temple, for the more honour of God.

The end of the fourth age.

THE CONTINVANCE OF THE CHVRCH AND RELIGION IN THE FOVRTH AGE:

from the parting of Israel out of Ægypt, to the foundation of the Temple. The space of 480. yeares.

Articles of faith, other points of religion, & state of the Church more expressed in this fourth age
 then before.

WE H A V E seen already in the three first ages, or distinct times of the world, the beginning, increase, and continuance of the Church and Religion of God, without interruption. Now in this fourth age, in which God gaue his people a written Law, it is yet more eident, that the same faith and religion, not only continued but also was more expressed, and explicated; and the Church had more varietie of Sacrifices, Sacraments, and other holie Rites, and Obseruāces: & the two states Ecclesiastical & Themporal more distinguished, and ech of them, especially the Priestlie and Leuitical Hierarchie, more disposed in subordination: the ciuil gouernment also vnder Dukes, Iudges, and Kings, more distributed among superiour and inferiour officers then before.

Belese in one
 God.

For first the principal point and ground of al religion, the beleefe in one God, and his proper diuine worship, is aboue almost strictly commanded, often repeated, diligently obserued by the good; and seuerely punished in transgressours. To which end and purpose, after that God had singularly selected three more renowned Patriarches, Abraham, Isaac, and Iacob, preserving them by his special grace from idolatrie, and from wicked wayes of most peoples and nations, blessed their seede, not in the whole progenie of the two former, but in Iacob onlie, whom he otherwise named Israel, multiplying his children exceedingly, yea most of al (which was most marvelous) in hot persecution: then bringing them forth of the fornace of Ægypt, in his strong hand, as is recorded in the former age, at last his Diuine Maiestie deliuered to them his perfect and eternal Law, conteyned in two tables, distributed into ten precepts, teaching them their proper duties, first towards him selfe their God and Lord, then towards each other. Adding moreover for the practize and execution therof, other particular precepts of two sortes, to witte, Ceremonial prescribing certaine determinate manners and rites, in obseruing the commandements of the first table pertaining to God: and Iudicial lawes directing in particular how to fulfil the commandements of the second table, concerning our duties towards our neighbours. So we see the whole law is nothing els, but to loue God aboue al, and our neighbours as our selues. The manner of performing al, is to belieue and hope in one onlie Lord God, honour and serue him alone, who made al

Diuines lawes.

Moral.

Ceremonial.

Iudicial.

of nothing , conserueth al , wil iudge al , and render to al men as they deserue , and therefore fully to confirme this point , he beginneth his commandments with expresse prohibition of al false and imaginarie Gods , saying (Exod. 20. v. 3.) Thou shalt not haue strange Gods , and after threats to the transgressours , and recital of the other nine commandments , he concludeth (v. 23.) with repetition of the first , saying : You shal not make Gods of iiuer , nor Gods of gold ihal you make to you. The same is repeated and explained (Deut. 5.) And in the next chapter Moyses exhorting the people saith : Heare Israel , the Lord our God is one Lord. And God himself speaking againe saith : (Exod. 23.) See ye that I am onlie , and there is no other God besides me. The royal Prophet Dauid (2. Reg. 22. and Psalm. 17.) who is God but our God : and in sundrie other places the same doctrine of one God is grounded , confirm'd , and established.

Onely God to be serued with diuine
honour.

The Myserie of the B. Trinitie , or of three Diuine Persons , is no lesse true and certaine , then that there is but one God , though not so manifest to reason , nor so expressely taught in the old Testament , yet beueued then also , and often insinuated , where God is expressed by names of the plural number : as Elohim , Ehim , Elohe , Saddai , Adonai , Tsebaoth : which import pluralitie of Persons in God , who is but one nature and substance. Distinction also of Persons in God is deduced (Exod. 33.) God saying : I wil cal in the name of the Lord. That is (as S. Augustine and other fathers expound it) the second Person by his grace maketh his seruants to cal vpon God. More distinctly (Psalm. 2.) The Lord said to me : Thou art my Sonne , I this day haue begotten thee. (Psalm. 109) The Lord said to my Lord : that is , God the Father to God the Sonne : who according to his diuinitie is the Lord of Dauid , according to his humanitie the sonne of Dauid. The same King Dauid maketh mention also of the third Person , the Holie Ghost , praying (Psalm. 50.) Thy Holie Spirit take not from me. In the forme of blessing the people (Num. 6.) al three Persons seeme to be vnderstood in the name of our Lord triuise repeated ; our Lord (the Father) blesse thee and keep thee. Our Lord (the Sonne) shew his face to thee , and haue mercie vpon thee Our Lord (the Holie Ghost) turne his countenance vnto thee , and giue thee peace.

The B. Tri-nitie.

Of the Incarnation of the Sonne of God , we haue in this age manie prophecies and figures. Moyses evidently (Deut. 18.) fore sheweth that after other Prophets Christ the Sonne of God should come in flesh , and redeeme mankind , as S. Peter teacheth (Act. 3.) Likewise in his Canticle , and Blessing of the tribes (Deut. 32. & 33.) he speaketh more expressely of Christ and his Church , then of the Iewes and their Synagogue. The starre prophecied by Balaam (Num. 24.) forshewed both to Iewes and Gentiles , that Christ should subdue al nations. Iosue both in name and office was a manifest figure of IESVS CHRIST. Also the Iudges , and Kings , some in one thing , some in another , most especially King Dauid & Salomon , were figures of our Lord & Saviour Iesus Christ. The brasen serpent (Num. 21.) signified Christ to be crucified , as himselfe expoundeth it (Ioan. 3.) Briefly the whole Law was a Pedagogue , or conuictour to bring men of Christ.

Incarnation

9 154. in
Exod.

Mat. 22.

to Christ (Galat. 3.) and by him to know God and themselves: to wit, God omnipotent, al perfect, Creator of al, our Father, Redeemer, and Sanctifier: and man his chief earthlie creature; though of himself weak and impotent, yea through sinne miserable, yet in nature of free condition, indued with vnderstanding, to conceiue, and discourse; and with freewil, to choose or refuse what liketh or displeaseth him.

Freewil in Angels and men.

For God appointing al creatures their offices, ingrafted in al other things inu-variable inclinations to performe the same, so that they could neither by vertue nor sinne make their state better nor worse then it was created, but ordaining Angels and men to a higher end of eternal felicitie, left their wils free to agree vnto, or to resist his precepts, and counsels. Wherupon Angels cooperating with Gods grace were confirmed in glorie, and some reuolting were eternally damned.
Man also offending fel into damnable state, but through penance may be saued, if he cooperate with new grace of our Redeemer, which is in his choise to doe, or omisse. As when God gaue his people meate in the desert (Exod. 16.) he so instructed them, how to receiue it and vse it, without force or compulsion, that he might proue them (as himself speaketh) whether they would walke in his law or no. And after making couenant with them (Exod. 19. Deut. 26.) required and accepted their voluntarie consent: entring into formal contract or bargaine between himself and them: he promising on the one partie to make them his peculiar people, a priestlie Kingdome, and a holie nation: they on the other partie promising loyalty, obedience and obseruation of his commandments, saying: Al things that our Lord hath spoken we wil doe.
For which cause Gods promises are conditional (Deut. 7.) if thou keep his iudgements, God wil keep his couenant to thee. Againe most plainely (Deut. 11.) Behold I set before your sight this day benediction and malediction, and (Deut. 30.) I cal for witnesses this day heauen and earth, that I haue proposed to you life and death, blessing and cursing. Choose therefore life that thou mayest liue. In al which is is certaine that Gods promise beeing firme, mans wil is variable, and so the euent not necessarie: which made Caleb hoping of victorie to say (Iosue. 14.)
if perhaps our Lord be with me. Neither doth Gods foreknowledge make the euent necessarie, for he seeth the effect in the cause, as it is voluntarie or casual: yea God knoweth al before, and sometimes foretelleth things, which conditionally would happen, and in deed (the condition fayling) come not to passe, as (1. Reg. 23.) God answered, that the men of Ceila would betray Dauid (meaning if he staid there) which they did not; for he parted from thence.

Obiection of Gods fore knowledge answered.

Grace neces-sarie.

Yet is not man able by this his freedome, nor otherwise of himself, to doe, nor so much as to thinke anie good thing, but through Gods mere mercie, and grace giuen him without his deseruing, sufficient to al, and effectual to those that accept it. God also giueth particular grace for special functions; as (Leuit. 8.) to Priests (Num. 11.) to seuentie ancients, and (1. Reg. 10.)
to King Saul.

2. Cor. 3.

By which diuine assistance the commandments of God are possible , as himself auoucheth , saying : (Deut. 30.) This commandment that I command thee this day is not about thee. Againe : I haue set before thee life and good , death and euil , that thou mayest loue God , walke in his wayes , and keep his commandments.

Gods commandments possible to be kept.

Workes done by grace and freewil are good and commendable , Moyse so testifying (Deut. 14.) This is your wisdome and vnderstanding before peoples. Tea are meritorious : and rewards are promised for the same (Leuit. 26.) and contrawise punishments threatned to the transgressours. And Booz knowing reward to be due for wel doing , prayed God to render to Ruth (1h. 2.) a ful reward for her wel deseruing. The royal Propbet affirmeth (Psal. 18.) that in keeping Gods precepts is much reward and (Psal. 118.) professeth that he inclined his hart to keep them for reward.

Good works. Meritorious.

Amongst other seruices of God , and meanes of mens saluation , external Sacrifice is of the greatest. And therefore the manner of offering al sorts is at large prescribed in the Law , especially in the seuen first Chapters of Leuiticus. The first and principal was Holocaust , wherin al the oblation was burned and consumed in the honour of God our Soueraigne Lord. The second was Sacrifice for sinne , according to the diuersitie of offences and persons , wherof part was burned , the other part remained to the Priests , except it were for the sinnes of Priests , or of the whole multitude (Leuit. 4.) for then the Priests had no portion , but al was offered to God. The third was pacifike sacrifice , either of thanksgiuing for benefits receiued , or to obtaine Gods fauour in al occurrent necessities , and good desires. And of both these sorts one part was consumed in Gods honour , an other part was the Priests , the third was theirs that gaue the oblation. In confirmation of these sacrifices God at first miraculously sent fire to burne them (Leuit. 9.) wherof he had giuen commandment before (Leuit. 6.) that it should be conserued , and neuer extinguished ; to teach vs especially of the new Testament , that haue the real Sacrifice , and verie bodie of the former shadowes and figures , to nourish and keep the fire of charitie , not procured by our owne power , but giuen by God , that it neuer cease , nor be extinguished in our harts.

Diuers sorts of Sacrifices.

Holocaust. For sinne.

Pacifike.

Fire sent from God signifieth charitie.

Likewise in the same law of Moyse , besides Circumcision instituted before (Gen. 17.) and here confirmed and continued (Leuit. 12. Iosue. 5.) al hostes and sacrifices for sinne (Leuit. 4. 5. 6. and 7.) consecration of Priests , (Leuit. 8.) and the sacrifices adioyned therunto , also diuers other washings and purifications of legal vncleannes (Leuit. 14. 15. 16. & 17.) were al Sacraments ; signifying either first iustification and remission of sinne , or increase of grace , and puritie ; of which sort it is also probable that the Paschal lambe , and Loaves of proposition were sacraments (Exod. 12. 25.) Which multitude S. Augustine comparing with ours of the new Testament , sayth : The people bound with feare in the old law , was burdened with manie Sacraments. For this was profitable to such men (sayth he) to make them desire the grace , foretold by the Prophets , which Sacraments.

Manie more in the old establisment then in the new.

Alanus de Sacramentis c. 9.

li. de vera Religione c. 17.

Christ's Sacraments more excellent.

Most of Christ's Sacraments prefigured in the old law but not al.

Some like impediments in use of holie Rites.

Tabernacle. Propitiatorie, with appertinances.

being come frō the wisdom of God becomming Man, by whom we are called into freedome, a few most wholesome Sacraments are instituted, which hold the societie of christiā people vnder one God of a free multitude. But as Christ's Sacraments are fewer in number, so they are more excellent in vertue. And to most of these new, the former doe answer as figures and shadowes. So to our Baptisme answereth Circumcision, as S. Paul teacheth (Coloss. 1.) that Christians are circumcised in the circumcision of Christ, buried with him in Baptisme. To our holie Eucharist, as it is a Sacrament, did answer the Paschal lambe, and Loaves of propesition, as also Manna, and blisua of the Testament. It was prophesied Psal. 18. Adore his foot stoole: as holie Fathers expound it. And as the same Eucharist is a Sacrifice, it was prefigured by al the old sacrifices of the law of nature, ana of Moyse: as S. Augustin, and S. Leo doe proue; and prophesied (Psal. 19.) Be he mindful of al thy sacrifice &c. To the sacrament of holie Orders answered consecration of Priests. Al the ablutions, purifications, cleansings, and oblations for sinne, which in grea part were both Sacraments and Sacrifices, answered to our Sacrament of Penance, which was also prefigured by the second tables of the decalogue (Exod. 34.) More plainly foreshewed by example of particular confession of sinnes and satisfaction (Num. 5. 14. and 29.) Contrition also was no lesse required, as appeareth by the example of King David. 2. Reg. 24. Marriage in the old Testament, though not a sacrament yet signified the Sacrament of Mariage among Christians. But the Sacrament of Confirmation had not antie so answerable a figure in th. old law, which brought not to perfection. Neither Extreme vnction, because the law gaue not immediate entrance into the kingdome of heauen, which defects were signified by the high Priests entring only once in the yeare into Sancta Sanctorum, Leuit. 16.

Likewise touching practise of holie Rites; diuers vncleannes hindering participation of sacrifices, and conuersation with other men (Leuit. 14.) Degrees of consanguinitie and affinitie, hindering mariage (Leuit. 18.) and sundrie Irregularities excluding from the office of Priests (Leuit. 21.) were figuratiue resemblances of sinnes and censures, ana of impediments to holie Orders, and to Mariage, in the new Testament.

To the peculiar seruice of God perteyned also the Tabernacle, with the Propitiatorie, Arke, Cherubims, Table for loaves of propesitio, Cādiessticke, Lāpes, Altars for Holocausts, & Incense, Vestmētts for Priests, a brasen lauer, & other vessels described Exod. 25. & seq. Al which were kept & carried by the Leuites, resting or marching in the midde of the cape. Nu. 2. 3. And whē the Land of Chanaan was coquered, the same were fixed in Silo, 1. sue 18. whither the people resorted at certaine set times, and vpon sundrie occasions. From thence long after they took the Arke, and often vpon ciuers occasions remouing it, made Oratories, or Chappels, where soeuer it rested, deuotion increasing, and religious estimation of it in al Israel. 1. Reg. 4. 7. 10. Ica the insidel Philisthims in Azorū being and feeling the vertue therof, euerthrowing their God Dagon, and themselues sore plagued, found it best for them to send the Arke home to the

S. Aug. in hunc Psalm. ser. de verbis Domini. li. 17. ciuit. c. 20. li. 1. con. aduers. leg. c. 18. S. Cyril. li. 3. in Ioan. S. Leo ser. 2. de passione.

Israelites, not without costly and precious oblations (1. Reg. 5. & 6. King David must specially honouring it (2. Reg. 6.) Who further considering that himself dwelt in a house of cedar, and the Arke of God remained in the tabernacle covered with skinned, intended to build a more excellent house for God. 2. Reg. 7. But his godlie purpose was differred by Gods appointment, and his sonne King Salomon builded the famous Temple in Hierusalem. 3. Reg. 6.

Which succeeding in place of the Tabernacle, each of them (one after the other) was the only ordinarie place of Sacrifice. The Law commanding (Leuit. 17.) If anie man of the house of Israel kill an ox, or a sheep, or a goate (so wit for Sacrifice, as S. Augustine, and other fathers expound it) and offer it not at the dore of the tabernacle, (afterwards at the dore of the Temple) he shal be guiltie of blood, as if he had shed blood, and so shal he perill out of the middes of his people. Neuertheles vpon occasions, and by special reuelation sacrifice was lawfully offered in other places. For so in the time of the tabernacle, Samuel the Prophet, offered Sacrifice in Maiphath. 1. Reg. 7. And the Prophet Elias offered Sacrifice without the Temple, when he conuinced the false Prophets of Baal, 3. Reg. 18. whose fact (as S. Augustin noteth) the miracle sufficiently sheweth to be done by Gods assistance.

And as peculiar places were dedicated, so also special times were sanctified, and diuers feasts and festiuities, partly ordained before (as the Sabbath Gen. 2. and Pasch Exod. 12.) were confirmed by the Law (Exod. 29. 23.) and others likewise instituted (Exod. 23. Leuit. 23. Num. 28. 29. and Deut. 16.) with proper sacrifices for euerie sort. First and most general was the dailie sacrifice of a lambe euerie day twice, at morning and euening (Exod. 29.) which was not properly a feast, but a sacred perpetual office in the tabernacle, and after in the temple. At the rest were festiual dayes, in which it was not lawful ordinarily to doe seruile worke. The first of these was the Sabbath, that is the seventh and last day of euerie weeke, which is our saturday: Kept still solemnly by the Iewes, euen at this time, in all places where they dwell; but not by Christians, because the old Law is abrogated; and we keep the next day, which is Sunday, holie, by institution and tradition of the Church. The second, Neomenia, or new moone, in which day they alwaies began the month; and twelue such months made a yeare, by the course of the moone; for by the course of the sunne, the yeare containeth eleuen dayes more, which in three yeares make aboue a month. And so euerie third yeare, and sometimes the second (for it happened seuen times in nineteene yeares) had thirteene months: and was called Annus embolismalis, being increased by meanes of those eleuen dayes. The third feast was Pasch, or Phase, first instituted at the parting of the children of Israel out of Ægypt, in the full moone of the first month in the spring, in which the Paschal lambe was eaten, as is prescribed Exod. 12. The fourth feast was Pentecost, or first fruits, the fiftieth day after Pasch, when Moyses receiued the Law in mount Synai. The fifth, the feast of Trumpets, the first day of the seventh month, in grateful memorie that a ramme sucking by the hornes, was offered in sacrifice by Abraham in place of Isaac. The sixth was the feast of Expiation, the tenth

The Tabernacle, and afterwards the Temple, the onlie place for Sacrifice.

Yet God sometimes dispensed therein.

Feasts of the old law.

Eight sorts of feasts, besides the dailie sacrifice.

Quest. 56. in Leuit.

Ibidem.

S. Bedæ de Embolismo. 60. 1.

Prescribed fast from euen to euen.

day of the seuenth month; wherein solemne fast was also prescribed from euening of the ninth day to euening of the tenth, for remission of sinnes in general, besides particular sacrifices and satisfaction for euerie sinne, wherof anie man found himself guiltie. The seuenth was the feast of Tabernacles, seuen dayes together, beginning the fiftenth of the seuenth month, in memorie of Gods special protection, when they remained in tabernacles, fourtie yeares in the desert. The eight feast was of Assemblie and Collection, the next day after the foresaid seuen, in commemoration of vnion in the people, and peaceable possession in the promised land. In this day general collection was made for necessarie expences in the publike seruice of God.

Seuenth yeare of rest: and Iubilee yeare.

Moreouer the seuenth yeare was as a Sabbath of rest (Leuit. 25.) in which no land was plowed, no vines pruned, nor those fruits gathered that sprong without mans industrie of the earth. Againe, the fiftith yeare was peculiarly made holie, and called the Iubilee, or ioyful yeare. In it al bondmen were set free; al inheritances amongst the Israelites, being for the time sold or otherwise alienated, returned to the former owners.

Other ceremonial obseruan-ces.

Besides Sacrifices, Sacraments, holie places, holie times, and manie other sacred things belonging therto; there were yet more Ceremonial Obseruances, commanded by Moyses law, as wel pertyning to the seruice of God in that time, as signifying christian life and manners. So certaine beasts, birdes, and fishes were reputed vncleane (Leuit. 11.) and Gods people forbid to eat them; as also that they should not eat anie bloud at al, nor fat. Leuit. 3. The reason of al which was not, as though anie creature were il in nature, but partly to auoide idolatrie, partly to exercise them in obedience, and temperance, and partly for that the same things signified vices and corruptions, from which Christians especially ought to refraine. Likewise Leuit. 19. they were commanded not to sow their fields with two sorts of seede, nor to weare garments woven of two sorts of stufte, that they might be more distinguished from Infidels by external signes, and not only by Circumcision, but especially to teach christians to practise simple innocencie, and to auoid double and deceiptful dealing.

Cleane and vncleane.
No bloud to be eaten, nor fat.

Not diuers seede in one field.
No cloth of diuers matter.

Strict commandment to keep al the Law.
The obseruers blesse and rewarded Transgressours cursed and punished.

Al which, and other precepts, as wel moral, as ceremonial and iudicial, were most strictly commanded; the obseruers blessed and rewarded; and transgressours seuerely threatned with great curses (Leuit. 20. 26. Deut. 4. 27. 28.) and diuers actually punished, Exod. 32. three thousand slaine for committing idolatrie. Manie swallowed vp in the earth. (Num. 16.) descending quicke into hel, and manie more burned with fire from heauen, for making and fauouring Schisme. Yea by one meanes and other, al that were aboute twentie yeares of age, comming forth of Egypt, except two onlie (Iosue and Caleb) died in the desert, for the general murmur of the people. Num. 11. 14. 25. and 26. Al Israel beaten in battle til one malefactor Achan was discovered and punished. Ios. 7. Al the tribes were punished for suffering publike idolatrie in Dan: and Benjamin almost extirpate, for not punishing certaine malefactours. Iudic. 20. And the whole people verie ofren inuaded and sore afflicted for their sinnes; as appeareth in the book of Iudges. In particullar also diuers were aduanced and prospered for their vertue;

as Iosue, Caleb, Phinees, samuel, Daudi and others. Contrariwise Nadab and Abiu Priests were miraculously burnt for offering strange fire, Leuit. 10. One stoned to death for gathering sticks on the sabbath day, Num. 15. King Saul deposed, for presuming to offer sacrifice, and not destroying Infidels (1. Reg. 13. 15.) and Oza, 2. Reg. 6. sodainly slaine for touching the Arke of God, the Law forbidding vnder paine of death, Num. 17. 51. & 18. 7. that none should approach to holie office being not therto orderly called.

Of workes also of Supererogation (called counseils not precepts) we haue examples in voves, voluntarily made of things not commanded; the Law prescribing what voves might be made, and by whom. Num. 30. And Num. 6. a particular rule was proposed to such as of their owne accord, would embrace it, and a distinct name giuen them, to be called Nazarites, that is, Separate or Sanctified. In which state they were to remaine either for a time, limited by themselves or their parents, or perpetually, if they so promised. Iudic. 13. 1. Reg. 1. For so farre as their promise extended, they were strictly obliged to performe. Deut. 23. When thou hast vowed a vow to our Lord thy God, thou shalt not slacke to pay it: because our Lord thy God wil require it: and if thou delay, it shal be reputed to thee for sinne. If thou wilt not promise, thou shalt be without (this) sinne. Pay thy voves vnto the Highest, Psal. 75. Vow ye, and render (your voves) to our Lord your God, Psal. 49. The Rechabites, afterwards had a like rule to the Nazarites; and the same perpetual (Hierem. 35.) neuer to drinke wine, nor to build nor dwel in houses, but in tabernacles, nor sow corne, nor plant vineyards. Which rule though instituted by a man, yet the obseruation thereof was much commended and rewarded by God. v. 19. Such distinct state of religious persons, with other states of the Church of Christ, were also prefigured (Leuit. 11.) by the cleane fishes, of three distinct waters, as some holie Fathers doe mystically expound that place. To wit, the cleane fishes of the sea are the multitude of lay persons, which are drawen out of the sea of this world, and happily found good fishes in our Lords nette. Math. 13. The cleane fishes of the riuers, are the good and fruitfull Clergie men, that water the whole earth, by teaching Christian doctrine, and ministring holie Sacraments, with other Rites, and Gouerning the whole Church. And the cleane fishes of standing pooles, are the Monastical persons, liuing perpetually in Cloysters, where good soules are alwayes readie for our Lords table, as S. Bernard teacheth. Much more the ancient fathers, Saint Beda, Saint Gregoric, Saint Augustin, and others explicate innumerable places of holie Scripture mystically; relying therein vpon example of the new Testament so expounding the old. Namely Saint Paul teaching (as before is noted) that the whole law was a pedagogue guiding men to Christ, and affirming that all things happened to the people of the old Testament in figure of the new.

Leauing therefore to prosecute the same further, which would require a verie great worke, it may here suffice to giue according to the literal sense, a briefe view of certaine other points of Religion, practised in this fourth age.

Works of supererogation, Voves.

Nazarites.

Rechabites.

Three sorts of Christians prefigured. Laitie.

Clergie.

Monks.

Holie scriptures expliated mystically.

S. Ber. Ser. 1. de S. Andrea. S. Beda. co. 4. S. Aug. cons. Faust. S. Greg. in li. 1. Reg. et Job.

Inuocation of Patriarches.

Obiections answered by holie Scriptures.

How Saints know mens prayers.

Titles giuen to men in office, and to Saints.

Angels adored.

Reliques.

Images.

Where it is cleere, that as Iacob the Patriarch had foretold (Gen. 28.) that Abrahams, Isaacs, and his owne name should be inuocated, so Moyses prayed God for his promise made to them, and for their sake, to pardon the people, saying Exod. 32. Remember, o Lord, Abraham, Isaac, and Israel. And our Lord was pacified, from doing the euil which he had spoken against his people. His diuine providence so disposing, that he could be hindred, by such prayers, from that which he threatned. And whereas Moyses did not directly inuocate the holie Patriarchs, as Christians now call vpon glorified Saints, to pray for them, the cause of differance is, for that now Saints seeing God, know in him, whatsoever pertaineth to their glorie, which state none before Christ attained vnto. Num. 25. v. 25. Deut. 4. v. 12. Againe Protestants object, that for so much as God knoweth al our necessities, desires, dispositions, and whatsoever is in man, it is needles (say they) superfluous, and in vaine, that Saints should commend our causes. To this we answer, that not only glorious Saints, but also mortal men by Gods ordinance (by which nothing is done vainely) doe such offices, as mediators between God and other men; for so Moyses told the words of the people to our Lord (Exod. 19.) notwithstanding Gods omniscience, or knowledge of al things. Also God expressly commanded Iobs friends to goe to Iob, promising to beare his prayer for them. As for Saints bearing or knowing our prayers made to them, though onlie God of himself and by his owne power, seeth mens secret cogitations, and therefore is properly called the searcher of harts (1. Reg. 16.) yet God communicateth this power to Prophets, to see the secret thoughts of others; so Samuel knew the cogitations of Saul (1. Reg. 9. v. 20.) And Ahias, saw by reuelation the coming of Ieroboams wise to him in silo (3. Reg. 14.) Much more God reuealeth our present state and actes to glorified soules; who are as Angels in heauen (Matth. 22.) and being secure of their owne glorie, are careful (sayth S. Cyprian) of our Saluation. Neither is it derogation to God that Saints are honoured, and titles ascribed to them, of intercessours, mediators, and the like; for such titles are giuen to them not as to God, but by way of participation only. So Iudges are called Gods and Saviours (Exod. 21. Iudic. 3.) and Priests called Gods (Exod. 21.) Praise giuen to God and Gedeon. Iudic. 7. Protection and adoration of Angels is very frequent, Exod. 23. 31. Num. 22. Iosue. 5. Iudic. 2. 6. 13. The names of the twelue sonnes of Israel were grauen in the two chiefe ornaments of the high Priest, in the Ephod and Rationale (Exod. 28.) Manna was not only reserued as a memorie of Gods singular benefite, but also honourably reposed as a Relique in a golden vessel, and kept in the Arke of God (Exod. 16. Heb. 9.) Iosephs bones reserued and remoued (Iosue. 24.) Images of holie Cherubims were made and set vp together with the Arke and Propitiatorie in the chiefe place of the Tabernacle, called Sancta Sanctorum (Exod. 25.) An image also of a serpent was made in brasse for the health of those that were stricken by serpents (Num. 21.) Images also of lyons and oxen were made, and set vnder the foot of the lauer (called a sea) in the Temple (3. Reg. 7.) The honour

S. Hiero.
Ep. 12.
ad Gal-
laen.

Iob. 42.

lib. de mor alitate.

done to anie holie thing, namely to the Arke (2. Reg. 6.) redounded to Gods more honour, and al this so farre from idolatrie, that quite contrarie, in presence of the Arke the idol Dagon fel to the ground, and broke in pieces. 1. Reg. 5.

Exequies for the dead with weeping and fasting were then practised in the Church, as appeareth by the peoples mourning for Aaron thirtie dayes. Nu. 20. Also for Moyse (Deut. 34.) By the Gabaonites fasting seuen dayes for Saul and his sonnes lately slaine. 1. Reg. 31. Likewise King Dauid with al his court mourning weeping and fasting for them. 2. Reg. 1. Al which were to no purpose, if soules departed could not be relieved by such meanes. It moreover appeareth that the same royal Prophet believed diuers places to be in hel, when he said (Psal. 85.) Thou hast deliuered my soule from the lower hel, signifying plainly that there is a lower and a higher hel: which higher the Church calleth Purgatorie: where soules suffer that paine in satisfaction for their sinnes, which remaineth not satisfied before death, and is due after the guilt of sinne is remitted, the law prescribing that besides restitution of damage, sacrifice should also be offered (Leuit. 5. 6. 16.) And Dauid was punished by the death of his child, 2. Reg. 12. and by the plague sent amongst his people, 2. Reg. 24. after his sinnes were remitted. He feared also punishment in the other world, yea two sorts, and therefore prayed to be deliuered from both, saying: (Psal. 6.) Lord rebuke me not in thy furie, nor chastice me in thy wrath. That is (saith S. Gregorie) Strike me not with the reprobate, nor afflict me with those, that are purged by the punishing flames. And most expressly signifieth also a higher place called hel, saying (Psal. 15.) in the person of Christ to his Father: Thou shalt not leaue my soule in hel. From whence Christ deliuered the holie Patriarches, Prophets and other perfect soules, rising without sensible paine, and brought them into heauen, whither before him none could enter. Which was also signified by the cities of refuge, whence none might depart to their proper countrie, till the death of the high Priest (Num. 35.) and by Moyse dying in the desert, and not entring into the promised land ouer Iordan, Deut. 4. 31. & 34.

Presupposing the general Resurrection of al men (as a truth known by former traditions) King Dauid sheweth the difference of the wicked, and godlie in that time, saying (Psal. 1.) The impious shal not rise againe in iudgement: nor sinners in the Councel of the iust. That is, the wicked shal not rise to ioy and glorie, as the iust and godlie shal doe.

